ICKES WARNS MAJOR PRODUCERS

SUSPECT HELD IN THE DEATH OF ANDERSON

Charged with Having Slain Brother of a
Midland Man

ODESSA, Nov. 14.—G. E. Frazier was arrested Sunday on a murder charge following the death Saturday night at Hobbs, N. M., of Wendel Anderson.

Frazier, who is charged with stabbing Anderson on the night of Nov. 3 with an ice pick inflicting wounds from which Anderson later died, waived examining trial and was placed under $5,000 bond to await action of the grand jury later this month.

He made bond immediately. The asserted stabbing is said to have taken place during an altercation between Frazier and Anderson, who ran a concession in a carnival show. It was said to have been witnessed by few beside the carnival force.

Frazier is a beer distributor here and distributes ice at Pennwell.

Anderson is a brother of "Cowboy" Anderson of Midland.

Minter Leaves for Annual Conference

The Rev. Kenneth G. Minter, pastor of the First Methodist church of Midland, expects to leave Thursday for the annual session of the Northwest Texas conference, to be held at Abilene.

The minister has been pastor here for two years.

Appointments of ministers likely will be read Sunday night.

Twenty-Eight Seek Amarillo JP Office

AMARILLO (AP)—The business of selecting a justice of the peace in Amarillo has become complicated notwithstanding that 28 men sought the place and 45 persons were voted for in the general election.

A district court judge presided over the election, shifting the burden of selecting the justice to Commissioners Court. With that verdict settled applications have begun to flow in and more spirited competition apparently is ahead.

The late Justice J. V. Pottinger, who was the democratic nominee, died after his name alone was printed on the ballot. Twenty-eight men announced as candidates, ranging up to what is thought to be an all-time record for a justice of the peace office. A lot of aspirants asked friends to write in their names. Forty-five men, including John Dillinger who was killed by department of justice agents in Chicago, received votes. Dillinger got one.

Lubbock Man Is Mahon Secretary

LUBBOCK (AP)—Lloyd Croslin, Lubbock, will be private secretary to Congressman George Mahon, Colorado, the first congressman from the new 19th district of Texas, Mr. Mahon has announced.

Croslin, a teacher in the Colorado schools the past two years, graduated from Texas Tech in 1930 with a B. A. degree and obtained an A. M. in 1932. After graduation he taught two years in the Post high school and then went to Colorado. During the summer he was associated with Mr. Mahon in his primary campaign.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the birth of a baby son, Marvin Leon, to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leon Welch of Lubbock was received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spaulding, great-grandparents of the baby. The child was born November 10. Mrs. Welch, the former Miss Annie Bird Spaulding, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Spaulding and also a grand daughter of Mrs. Buck Cowden of Abilene, with relatives here.

Paul Osborne To Handle Oil For Newspaper

Paul Osborne, who returned to Midland in March of this year to become associated with Frank Gilpin in independent oil operation, has assumed the writing of Permian basin oil developments for The Reporter-Telegram.

Osborne, who was graduated from Colorado university, majored in geology, was in Midland as an oil company geologist in 1929-30, left in 1931 to return to his university to become an instructor in the department of geology and to do graduate work in that subject; was a ranger naturalist who lectured on geology and other natural sciences in Yellowstone National park in 1932.

He was married in 1932, after completing his graduate courses, to Miss Nancy Lou Morris of Boulder. He plans building the oil news of the basin to the fullest coverage commensurate with its value.

50,000 Watch Minnesotan Win Corn Husking Title

Fifty thousand spectators followed the 14 contestants for the national corn husking championship, as shown in the striking air view at the left, when Ted Balko, right, won the crown. Balko, 29, of Redwood Falls, Minn., husked 25.7 bushels in 80 minutes to annex the honors. The field near Fairmont, Minn., resembled the scene of a major football game, the allotment of rows carefully marked off for each competitor, with each being followed by a large gallery.

BUSINESS, GOV'T MOVE IN CONCERT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Increasing evidence was seen today that business and the administration were moving towards a common front in an effort to cash in on recovery gains and to forestall the opening of the national conference on business leaders believed the election proves that President Roosevelt would be elected another term.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS GREATER EFFECTIVENESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A move to inject greater effectiveness into the government's lending activities was undertaken by President Roosevelt today, coincident with the opening of the national conference on the New Deal's program for economic security for America's workers.

Roosevelt appointed a committee headed by secretary of the treasury Morgenthau to coordinate the activities of the federal agencies engaged in handling loans.

Old Fort Duncan Will Be Leased

EAGLE PASS, (AP)—Old Fort Duncan, or Camp Eagle Pass as it was known in the world war period, is to be leased to the highest bidder, the Eighth Corps Headquarters has advised municipal authorities here. The 200-acre, weed covered tract on the south-central side of the city contains twelve rock buildings, the remnants of a powerful fort in the days of General Zachary Taylor and General Robert E. Lee.

Leasing of the post will terminate a two-year fight of the city to get the property for a municipal park. The movement began in 1932 with the introduction by Speaker John Garner of a bill to give or sell the post for a nominal sum. The bill remained in the House military affairs committee during that session but received an adverse report when revived in 1933. Introduced in a different form by Representative Milton H. West in 1934, the bill was passed by Congress but was vetoed by President Roosevelt on the score that it was not "in proper form."

Eagle Pass people view the post property as both a detriment and an opportunity. Situated in the center of the city it is a barrier to progress, an unsightly area which cannot be screened nor improved because it is federal territory. Five of the down-town business thoroughfares end at its barbed-wire fence. Traffic from the southeast side of the city must detour four blocks northward in order to get around the mesquite pasture and its crumbling buildings.

If it were turned over to the city it would be divided into blocks and part of it sold for home and business sites, in accordance with plans of the city commission. The remainder would be laid off for a park and a golf course in connection with the city park on the south side where there is a municipal swimming pool and baseball field.

The city and county jointly have offered to exchange a 300-acre undeveloped airport two miles east of the city for the Post land but have received no action. They fear that leasing may result in a dump yard or factory being placed near the heart of the city.

OLD-TIMER DIES

J. D. Chessler, long time resident of Stanton, died Sunday afternoon at Lockhart where he had gone for treatment.

Mr. Chessler, who had been in ill health for sometime, is survived by his wife and several children.

Rites for Dr. Calloway To Be Read at 4:30 Today

Funeral and commitment rites will be read this afternoon over Dr. Ed Calloway, 65, pioneer Midland surgeon and hospital owner, who died early Tuesday. The Rev. Kenneth C. Minter will officiate. The first service will be held at 4:40 in the chapel of the Barrow mortuary. Interment will be at Fairview cemetery.

A special choir will sing at both services. Mrs. Margaret Rhinehart of Dallas, only child of the surgeon, arrived here last night, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. S. Griffith, formerly Miss Irene Crowley, also of Dallas.

The Rev. J. E. Evans, former pastor of the First Christian church of Midland, and Mrs. Evans, a niece of Dr. Calloway, were expected here early this afternoon from Galveston, their home. Other relatives surviving Dr. Calloway are three brothers and a sister, the nearest of whom lives in Colorado. A nephew, S. D. Wright of Ector county, and four nieces, Mrs. Ben F. Jenkins of Odessa, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. J. Wallace and Mrs. J. R. Reiser of Lake Charles, La.

Dr. Calloway was born in California on Nov. 6, 65 years ago, son of Rev. and Mrs. James Calloway. The family was noted for its church activities, the minister being one of the most influential powers of the denomination on the west coast.

Dr. Calloway came to the Midland country when he was about 12. After becoming a regular "hand" on the range, he was influenced by his college and developed natural and educated educational traits. He came out of school a graduate of the California university school of medicine and set up his well-known hospital 35 years ago. His skill as a surgeon grew and his patients, many of them unable to pay, increased through the years.

Dr. Calloway's popularity was based on other qualities, as well. He was a student of languages and of the classics. He was known as a man's man who felt equally at home with the literati and with the laboring man, in the operating room or in the saddle.

Escorts are: Bill Gates, Harry Nebbett, Charlie Allen, John Castberry, E. H. Castleberry, Hughie Wood, Addison Wadley, and Buddy Hutchins.

Record Crops for Las Cruces Valley

Record crops in the Las Cruces valley are making farmers of that section realize the approach of Santa Claus weeks ahead of time, says A. C. Caswell, who with his family and Mrs. S. H. Hart of Colorado and her son Homer returned Tuesday from a two-day visit there with Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Drake.

One irrigated field, for instance, produced 71 bales from 27 acres and still has an estimated 20 bales to be gathered. Alfalfa is cutting at the rate of 150 to the acre.

The Caswells said they saw a former Midland man, Herbert Allen Royle, who is a salesman for an El Paso motor company. He formerly was associated with The Reporter-Telegram, as circulation manager.

Deer Are in Good Condition, Report

MASON, Tex. (AP)—Deer are reported to be in good condition in the "Hill Country" this year, despite dry weather. A good crop of persimmons, along with "pear apples" and some acorns, have provided feed.

Ranchmen are said to have "leased out" their hunting preserves in most parts, particularly for the first week of the deer season, opening Nov. 16.

John O'Donnell, Mason county game warden, said more deer were killed in this county the last hunting season than in any other two counties of the "Hill Country."

TROPIC REPTILE TO TEXAS

MASON, (AP)—A live boa constrictor journeyed to West Texas in a bunch of bananas.

John Richeau, owner of a Mason grocery store, discovered the reptile when, in cutting some bananas from a bunch, he clipped off half an inch of its tail.

The snake, measuring two and a half feet in length, was placed in a glass jar and sent to San Antonio, where zoologists at Brackenridge Park identified it as a young boa constrictor.

ROTARY ANNS TO LUNCH

The Rotary Anns will hold their first monthly luncheon at 12 o'clock noon, Thursday in the Scharbauer hotel.

TRAMMEL NEW LLANO MANAGER

C. E. Trammell has acquired the management of the Llano hotel and assumed charge this week. It has been announced. Trammell succeeds Fletcher Currie, manager for several years, who will devote his time to his farm interests south of Warfield.

The new hotel manager has operated the Llano coffee shop since the latter part of last year. He has been a resident of Midland for 27 years, having been one of the early cafe proprietors of the city. He and Mrs. Trammell will give their personal attention to management of both the hotel and the coffee shop henceforth, it was announced.

The hotel was bought in at a title sale several weeks ago by John and Clarence Scharbauer and Dr. John B. Thomas of Midland from a South Texas life insurance firm.

N. C. Bear Hunt No Sport for Sissies

BRYSON CITY, N. C. (AP)—The old wiscrack, "that's bars in them thar hills" has come to life with a new significance for the southern mountaineers.

Once it meant a feeble laugh except to the mountaineers who knew about hunting but now that the hills are pierced by paved roads and dotted by comfortable lodges it means visits—and money from the harder type of sportsman.

There are bears in those hills and folks who like their sports with a dash of bobtail boots and wool shirts are hunting them.

It's no sport for sissies. The fall is the bear season and mountain temperatures have a way of sliding down to the twenties at night and in the early morning and then climbing back into the seventies producing zone about high noon.

It means following a pack of tough dogs over tough country for hours, perhaps days, and maybe a night or so under the stars with the morning task of scraping frost off your blankets. But it's a pretty sport with the mountains clothed in the scarlet, yellows and browns of autumn and it's plenty of exercise.

A half dozen or so hunters usually follow the dogs and divide the kill—if any.

Basin Oil Developments

By PAUL OSBORNE

Encountering another small fishing job, Honolulu-Llano No. 1, J. E. Parker was delayed during the day yesterday after drilling to a depth of 4,735 feet. Corrosive action of the 4,000 feet of oil in the hole was blamed for a break in the line and the consequent loss of tools which were being hoisted. Operators were cutting off the remainder of the bad line and installing additional storage tanks yesterday afternoon before drilling ahead. With an increase in the amount of oil, registered as coming from 4,722 to 4,731 feet, the bottom hole sample showed a light tan, somewhat porous lime. Location is 1,320 feet from the south line and 1,470 feet from the west line of section 6, block A-44, public school land, Andrews County.

In the Means area, Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 R. M. Means, 1,890 feet from the south line and 1,487 feet from the west line of section 6, block A-49, public school land, was having trouble with the newly installed pump-jacks yesterday afternoon before drilling equipment and so was unable to make a scheduled production test yesterday. The same company's No. 1 J. S. Means, south offset to the discovery, 1,980 feet from the north line and 660 feet from the east line of section 2, block A-35, public school land, had drilled to 4,127 feet where the sample was lime. A show of gas was reported between 4,166 feet and 4,174 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Walker, west of the Honolulu 415 feet, is now plugged back to 4,115 feet. The well still averages about 40 barrels of oil a day.

The reported total depth of 3,650 feet in Wahlenmaier Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Boyd in Glasscock County was corrected yesterday afternoon to 3,677 feet when the line was strung into the hole before plugging and abandoning the hole. Some 300 feet of sulphur water was encountered at this depth Monday to mark the well a failure. Location is 990 feet from the north and west lines of section 2, block 36, township 5 south, T. & P. Railway survey.

Texas, Mecca for Horsemen, Is Seen

HOUSTON (AP)—Stable applications for the Epsom Downs fall meeting, Nov. 17 through Dec. 15, will reach 4,000, Ed J. Hussion, of Houston, president of the Texas Breeders and Racing Association, estimated.

Hussion said the meeting was expected to be the best ever held in Texas. During the 25-day meet the track will distribute $141,000 in stakes and purses.

Present equipment at the track will care for only 1,000 horses. It was planned to have ready additional stables to accommodate some 500 more horses.

Selection of horses will be made by Racing Secretary Jim Mouton. Texas soon will become the mecca for horsemen and horse players all over the country, Hussion declared. "The Lone Star State now has a classy circuit in Fair Park, Arlington Downs, Epsom Downs and Alamogordo and may well take the play from Florida as the winter playground of the country."

Texas Oddities

CLEBURNE (AP)—A violin which the father of Mrs. A. B. Self, Cleburne, bought eight years ago at an auction sale in Dallas, is now believed to be a genuine Strad.

Mrs. Self's father paid $35 for the "fiddle" at the auction and later gave it to his daughter.

Not long ago Sam Peacock, owner of a barber shop and one of the best fiddlers in town, saw the violin and offered to swap his shop for it. He was convinced it was a Strad.

Mrs. Self became interested and had a Fort Worth violin dealer look at it. He said it was a fine violin and if not actually a Strad was a very good imitation of one.

Mrs. Self has refused all offers for the instrument and has locked it up in a vault until she can find out its true value.

FORT WORTH (AP)—A pet mink named "Bonnie" escaped from her cage in the zoo here recently and now the zoo keeper is after her with a shot gun.

The trouble is that Bonnie wasn't such a pet after all. She dug a deep hole under the zoo chicken coop and made nightly raids on the chicken roost.

Zookeeper Hamilton Hitterson couldn't drown or smoke her out, so he is laying for her with a shot gun.

SHREVEPORT (AP)—Next time B. B. Wall, Shreveport, is out driving, he won't be so considerate of the farmers' livestock.

While driving recently Wall swerved his car to avoid hitting some hogs. He missed the hogs but smashed into a car driven by Laurence Graves, Keatchie.

Graves and a negro riding in the car with him, were taken to a hospital suffering with severe injuries.

AUSTIN (AP)—Coach Jack Cheyney of the University of Texas isn't superstitious—he just believes in playing safe.

Anyway, no Texas football player has been issued No. 13 jersey.

Is Wed Today

Ginger Rogers, above, beautiful and blonde siren of the screen, said yes today to Lew Ayres, well known cinema actor. They were married after an engagement of several months. Ginger, ex-Central high school girl of Ft. Worth attained to stardom through dancing and singing roles after a stage engagement of several years in New York.

Four marriage ventures have failed and Gloria Swanson again is a free woman. The cinema star is shown here as she appeared in Los Angeles court, where she was granted a divorce after testifying to extreme cruelty on the part of her Irish sportsman mate, Michael Farmer.

Just as Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, recently divorced, were assenting to the marriage of their daughter Ellen to Rafael Lopez in Onate, Spanish movie actor, they learned that the senator's son was to be divorced by Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., shown above. She charges incompetency.

PUBLIC UTILITY OF OIL BUSINESS HELD AS THREAT

Hot Oil Running Has To Stop, Asserts
At Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—Harold L. Ickes warned major oil producers that the government might declare the oil industry a public utility unless there was an immediate solution of disturbing oil problems.

"Unless this whole question is solved without undue loss of time on a basis that will commend itself to the sound judgment of the people, the government may conclude that it is its duty to consider declaring the industry a public utility," he said.

The secretary of the interior, in a talk before the American Petroleum Institute, declared that unless oil men stop wasting oil and get rid of uneconomic practices, an aroused public opinion will take their business from them.

He said the government is ready to help straighten out "their mess" if the oil men are willing.

Ickes said he was content to let the achievements of the oil administration speak for themselves and launch into a sarcastic exposition about waste in indiscriminate building of filling stations and in gas and oil.

He berated hot oil merchants and the Texas state government for failing to control petroleum bootleggers.

"The people had known about the profligacy with which oil has been produced, I am convinced they could have stopped it long ago. They would have stopped it even if someone had been hurt in the process," he said.

He called upon Texans to acquiesce themselves with conditions of the industry so they might protect their heritage from that natural resource.

To Shave or Not To Shave Is Question— Russians Ponder

MOSCOW. (AP)—"Shave every day" is the advice of Izvetia to workers.

"Give us better razors," some of the newspaper's letter writers replied.

Izvetia exhorted the workers also to give up their seats in street cars to women and "not eat with your knife."

Proletarian Russia rapidly is drifting away from the rough-and-ready manners of the leather-coated men and women who delighted in the early days of the soviet regime to show their contempt for reforms.

Unshaven men may not be permitted to ride in the new Moscow subway. That threat is expected to create a new demand for razors and shaving soap. Residents are more interested in the subway than anything else at the moment.

A tale is related of one commissar who refused to grant an audience to an unshaven and unkempt engineer.

Professor Otto Schmidt's requirement that all men of the Chelmskin party shave every day while they were in Moscow on the ice of Bering Strait, has gone into the copy-books and the humor of the requirement from the Arctic explorer who has one of the most luxuriant beards in the soviet union has not escaped the cartoonists. He is caricatured in connection with the anti-whiskers campaign.

All members of the red army shave daily.

Some of the citizens who wrote their reactions to the press said they would rather have an enemy in the trenches than shave every day with Russian blades.

POLITICAL PUZZLE

The profound public interest in France, which found violent expression in the riots of a few months ago, evidently still exists. It is hardly going too far to say that the republic right now is meeting one of the severest tests in its history.

The Doumergue cabinet, seeking to revise the French constitution so as to end the notorious instability of governments, has fallen. In recent years the average life of a French cabinet has been nine months. A government which must fall every time it attempts to handle any really controversial measure cannot provide the leadership which the nation needs.

So Premier Doumergue tried to change things, putting more power in the hands of the premier, clipping the wings of Parliament and shearing the innumerable blocs of their power to precipitate a cabinet crisis whenever the mood seizes them. Against this plan the cry of dictatorship was raised. It is not yet clear whether the French democracy will be able to preserve and strengthen itself in this time of confusion and trial.

'The Man Behind The Man Behind The Gun'

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything with taking a stand on anything.)

But every time we call on him he's out.

We do not insist that a certain man is weak-minded. But every time there is a circus in town he remains for the "concert."

We're scared. Last night, at 2 o'clock in the morning, we sneaked into the house, after having been away all afternoon.

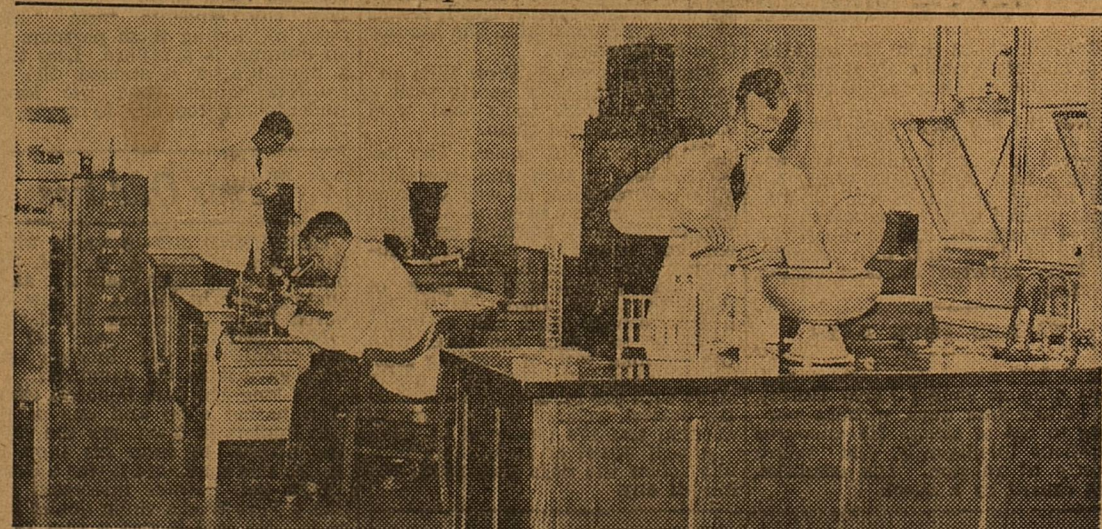

And the missus yelled: "I don't know whether you are my husband or a burglar, but I'm going to be on the safe side and shoot!"

Our chief regret: Our old friends are gone, and there are no people here today to testify how handsome we were when we were young.

Ever since civilization came, people have been arguing the question, Is Civilization a Failure?

Miss Brunson, Bride-Elect, Honored With Miscellaneous Shower Given by Miss Klapproth and Mrs. B. Golladay

Complimenting Miss Lois Brunson whose marriage to Mr. Charles Blalock is set for Saturday, Miss Klapproth and Mrs. B. Golladay entertained with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night at the home of Miss Klapproth, 402 S. Marfield.

A Thanksgiving color motif of orange and white was used in appointments for the evening. In an appropriate contest of terms used at weddings, Miss Cordelia Taylor won the prize which she presented to the honoree.

Guests were each asked to write a note of advice for Miss Brunson and also a recipe for some dish. When these were collected, the advice was read aloud and the recipes together with a recipe cabinet, were presented to the bride-to-be.

The honoree was then led to a miniature sand table set with cactus and flowers. There she was presented with a toy shovel and pail, and, in an original poem, Miss Klapproth made her dig up the cactus and find the treasure hidden in the sand. The treasure proved to be various gifts. When those in the sand pile had been uncovered, a table heaped with gifts was brought in and placed before the honoree.

After an hour spent in inspection of the large collection of gifts, refreshments were served. The plates which carried out the seasonal color idea, bore Thanksgiving cutouts with the announcement "Lois and Charles, Nov. 17, 1934."

Mr. Charles W. Blalock and Mr. J. B. Hoskins called at the close of the hour. Registered in the bride's book were: Miss Velma Winborne, Mrs. J. B. Hoskins, Miss Lois Brunson, Mrs. Fred J. Middleton, Miss Cordelia Taylor, Mrs. W. W. Brunson, Mrs. M. H. Crawford, Mrs. Brooks Pemberton, Mrs. D. M. Ellis, Mrs. Addison Wadley, Miss Juliette Wolcott, Mrs. Lulu C. Buffet Supper for Faculty, Picnic In H. E. Department

FOODS CLASS SERVES BUFFET SUPPER

Joan Arnett and Betty Minter acting as hostesses for the Foods III class served members of the high school faculty with a buffet supper in the dining room of the home economics department, last Wednesday evening, November 7.

Favors and decorations typified one of the leading industries of the Midland area. Invitations were written with silver ink and a tiny oil derrick sketched with silver decorated each. The table was decorated in an unusual manner. A snow and oil field scene of miniature oil derricks made of silver paper and effectively lighted with colored bulbs formed the center piece. Silver oil derricks contained nut cups which were given as favors to each guest. Napkins were hand decorated in silver.

Marcella Wyatt and Leslie Pearl Spires served the following menu: Creamed Chicken in Timbale Cases, Scalloped Potatoes, Marshmallow Cranberry Salad, Clover Leaf Rolls, Graham Cracker Pudding, Teed Tea.

The following guests were served: Superintendent W. W. Lackey, D. D. Shifflett, Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Shrader, Mr. and Mrs. Delo Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, Misses Zola, Kathleen Mullins, Elizabeth Lomax, Vera Hetner, Marion Cartwright, Theresa Klapproth, Helen Miley, Tammie Burton, Vada Crawley and Mr. Bear-den.

FOODS CLASSES GO PICNICING

Having concluded their study of school lunches in Foods I classes, the girls, working in groups of two, prepared and packed menus suitable for a school girls' luncheon. Last Monday, November 5, at 4:00 o'clock the two classes hiked to Cloverdale for a picnic and after varied frolicking games, gathered around a bonfire to serve the luncheons.

The meal packed by the first period class included: Pimento Cheese Sandwich, Potato Chips, Apples, Hot Cocoa, Brownies.

McCAMEY—Local fight fans will be glad to learn that the main bout on next Thursday night's card at the TP Tavern arena will again bring together Kid Ivey of McCamey and Jack Irvin of Midland in a ten round bout, which will be a winner-take-all affair. Irvin will weigh around 150 while Ivey will hit around 146 pounds.

The two fighters were scheduled in a semi-final event at the arena some three weeks ago with Ivey winning on a judges decision which met with the disapproval of most of the fans in attendance. Since then the fans have been clamoring for a return engagement and Matchmaker Bargesser has decided to get the boys together as a feature attraction. The fans really booed and howled when the judges gave the first fight to Ivey and many think Irvin will take the next scrap with comparative ease, while others are of a different opinion. Anyway, the Midlander will have to be on his toes in the bout and a large attendance will likely be on hand to see the fight which should be one of the best yet staged here.

In the first fight between the two, Ivey took four of the five first rounds, but in the sixth, Irvin opened up and from there on it was a real battle, with Irvin perhaps having the upper hand in three or four of the last five rounds. Perhaps the scrap should have ended in a draw, but it didn't and now the two scrappers are being thrown together again to see which is the better.

Neither was Irvin satisfied with the first decision and immediately after it was handed down, he was on his feet challenging Ivey to a return bout on a winner take all basis. Ivey accepted.

So Thursday night's main bout will be more or less of a grudge tilt with each fighter anxious for a win over the other. The winner of the match will likely be matched with Doc Kitchens on a later card. Each wants a crack at the popular Ghost.

Kid Ivey is expecting a real scrap and is training harder right now than he has ever trained in order to be in the best of condition when he meets the young man who has supposedly fought on several occasions in Madison Square Garden. Ivey told this column Wednesday that he thought he could lick Irvin but that he greatly respects the Midlander and will have to be on his toes continually. Irvin did look mighty good in the last five rounds of his initial fight here, and the boys seemed to like his style of boxing. He has an uppercut which is plenty dangerous.

New Winter Service
Magnolia's Offering

"Every fall shows an increasing number of people preparing their cars for winter driving, according to information coming through our dealers and service stations," said E. P. Angus, vice president in charge of sales of the Magnolia Petroleum company.

"These people," Angus explained, "know that much of the pleasure and economy of winter driving is lost with a car lubricated for summer driving." With the first chill mornings comes hard starting. Motors warm up slowly. Batteries get their hardest use.

It was for the purpose of making cold weather driving more economical and more pleasant that Magnolia's winter-proof service was first offered.

"This seven-point winter-proof service," Angus explained, "thoroughly prepares the car against the hazards of cold weather driving. The crankcase is flushed and filled with quick flowing winter Mobiloil. The chassis is lubricated with Mobilgrease for winter performance. The differential and transmission are cleaned out and freshly lubricated with Mobilgear lubricants that do not harden in cold weather. The radiator is cleaned and flushed and if necessary the correct amount of anti-freeze put in. The battery is examined and refilled for the heavier load it must pull in cold weather. The tank is filled with winter grade Mobilgas. Autoists in the Southwest are rapidly being educated to Mobilize for winter."

Potential Champs
Deadlock Meeting

By BILL COLLYNS

FORT STOCKTON, Nov. 14—In a very bitter and extremely hard-fought football game, which had a distinct bearing on the championship of the southern half of District 16-B, Clyde Park's Fort Stockton High School Panthers and V. E. Gosch's Iraan High Braves battled to a 13 to 13 tie on Rooney field here this afternoon before a record-breaking crowd of some 3,500 enthusiastic fans assembled from all over this far-flung trans-Pecos country.

Stockton got the jump on Iraan by scoring one touchdown in the second and one early in the third, but a bit later in the third period, the Braves uncorked a passing attack that bewildered the Panthers and which was responsible for Iraan's two counters late in the third quarter.

The Brave aerial attack, with Scott on the heaving end and Holder on the receiving end, was far superior to that of the Panthers. Iraan, making 240 yards from the line of scrimmage against 116 yards for the Panthers, had the better ball club this afternoon, but a scrapping Fort Stockton club held the visitors fairly well in check in the pinches.

Scott, hefty Iraan quarterback, accounted for 106 yards of Iraan's 240 yards gained during the afternoon.

The first downs were 13 to 7 in favor of Iraan. The Panthers attempted six passes, completing one, while the Braves completed seven out of 15 attempts.

TONIGHT IS BANK NITE
COME EARLY

Home Brewed

BY R. C. HANKINS

The fallability of the sports desk is matched for the moment by that of two directors of teams in the center of the 12-B grid tangle.

Buddy Withers and Lee Johnson, grid mentors respectively of Pecos and Wink, told this department following the Midland-Pecos game the game between their squads would fall on Nov. 19. Placards announcing the game have been received, and the date is Nov. 17. The most casual glance at the calendar would have showed Nov. 19 as falling on Monday—but this department evidently did not feel casual.

The hope Wink holds of laying a championship egg in the Pecos backyard appears doomed to be a fruitless squawk. The Winkler team's showing against Odessa may be cited as one indication. Odessa ran through the Wildcats to chalk up twice as many first downs as the Broncos, even if the Ector county lads were beaten out in the last two minutes by a lone touchdown. Pecos, on the other hand, showed enough versatility to score 20 points on Odessa while being held to a 16-14 margin of first downs. Comparative scores, as usual, hold little upon which to base predictions, but the rabid fan who sits on the 50-yard line can tell readily that Pecos has something that Wink hasn't and wishes it had. For one thing, Pecos gets off on the offense with a nicely counted timing that allows for better and more powerful blocking for its sterling backs. In the air its game is far superior to that of Wink. On defense nothing need be said. Pecos showed near-perfect form in that department against Midland. Much superior to that of Wink. It appears on more than paper that Wink has slight chance to throw the standings into the confusion of a three-way tie—no matter how hard Midland hopes for the miracle that would give the game locals a chance to meet again the clubs that earlier helped set off the fireworks here.

Little can be said about the Marfa game of Friday night. The visitors will bring a heavy club, it is understood, and one that was nosed out by Pecos, 7-6. Marfa has sent no further information, but this afternoon likely will find the high school in touch with the coach. Midland must win the game if the club figures on being cocked and primed for Pecos and Wink in case of a Wink win Nov. 17.

From the other end of the district comes information Fort Stockton's crouching Panthers have played another draw, this time with the Iraan Braves. We still have to speculate on the club that will meet the northern district winners. Whoever they will be.

WANTED—CHRISTMAS TREE

McALLEN, (A.P.)—One of America's most verdant cities is worried again this year over where to find a Christmas tree. This problem comes up every year in McAllen, called the "Palm City", as December draws near.

The soil is too rich to grow cedars and the climate too mild to grow fir or spruce and the distance too great to ship these accepted types of Christmas trees except at heavy cost.

To save this expense this year the municipal Christmas tree will be a living ebony or mesquite in a downtown park.
