City of Loraine passes budget

The Loraine City Council met last Thursday, October 11th, and passed a budget for the 2018-19 fiscal year. This is the first time in three years a budget has been approved, according to former city manager Brenda Hammond.

Hammond has been consulting with the City of Loraine to help new personnel come up with a budget. During the September meeting, the council approved a budget for last year, as there was not one in place.

Before passing the $433,992.76 budget, Hammond told the council it was a difficult task to stretch the finite amount of money to make the budget balance. Council member Pat White moved to approve the budget, Miguel Acevedo seconded and the measure passed unanimously.

After some discussion, the council agreed to hire Jeff Wooddell as the Animal Control Officer for the city. Mayor Dearl Messick told the council Wooddell is already certified and is the only person to apply for the part-time position.

Not every council member agreed with the hiring. White said Wooddell doesn't have a "good track record with the city," citing his former service on the council and as the mayor. When pushed for more information, White said Wooddell served in both capacities only for a short time before quitting.

"Well, we have to get somebody to do it," Messick said.

Acevedo asked where any confiscated animals would be taken. Messick said

Early voting begins Monday for election

Early voting for the upcoming General Election gets underway on Monday, October 22nd. Election Day is Tuesday, November 6th, and there are a couple of local options for voters to decide.

An important decision facing voters who live inside the city limits of Colorado City is a proposition made by the Economic Development Corporation. The EDC board is asking voters to fund future endeavors of the new development group.

The city council called for the election recently to ask voters to approve using 1/8th of 1% of the sales tax rebates currently being sent to the city. Sales tax rebates have been increasing throughout 2018, and if the voters approve the measure, the State Comptroller Glenn Hegar would begin sending the amount directly to the EDC.

The measure would not affect taxpayers, as the money

Samaritan House to celebrate 15 years of serving and caring

The Samaritan House in Colorado City has been open for 15 years, and volunteers who support the non-profit will celebrate the occasion with an open house this Sunday, October 21st from 2 to 4 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend and learn a few things about the worthy cause.

On Monday, June Kimmel, one of the founders of the Samaritan House, gave a tour of the facility and talked about all the volunteers that came together to make the house what it is today. The Samaritan House started as a way to provide shelter for families visiting offenders at the Wallace and then-Ware prisons.

While teaching at the prison in the early 1990s, Kimmel said that many of the men there often suggested the need for a place for visitors to stay. They spoke of family members sleeping in cars because they could not afford hotel rooms.

Seeing the apparent need, Kimmel started praying and looking into the purchase of old houses to buy, but each time the deal would fall through. Oddly enough, the charity's future home had already been built by Kimmel himself.

He played on the tennis team and was very active in the Boy Scouts and received the Eagle Scout Award.

After graduating from CHS, Bill enrolled in West Texas State University in Canyon where he earned a degree in business administration. While in college, he married his high school sweetheart, Fay Wistrand in 1974. They moved to Amarillo after they married, and they would call Amarillo home for the next 30 years. Buddy Compton

Buddy was born in 1943 to Ina Bess and Leldon Winsted "Buddy" Compton. Named Clinton Edward, he became "Little Buddy" to all family members which eventually became just Buddy.

Buddy is a 1961 graduate of Colorado High School. His family moved to Colorado City when he was in 2nd grade. His mother took him to school on the first day and dropped him off at the Coleman Building (which was where the bus barn is today). Not wanting to stay at school, he ran back home beating his mother there. He attended school in Colorado City for most of his school years. In 1957, while Buddy was in 8th grade, his mother passed away which made for a tough year. There were four children in the family ranging from two years old to 15 years old. Although their grandmother stayed with them for a while, his older sister Mary Beth took the reins and got them through some very tough times. Buddy's dad was a long-haul truck driver and was not home much during the week.

While at CHS, Buddy was involved in sports with football being his passion. Upon graduation from CHS, he went to the University of Arkansas on a football scholarship. Not feeling this was the right place for him, Buddy transferred to Sul Ross State University also on a football scholarship. It was here that he met the love of his life, Carol, and they married in 1963. Buddy went on to graduate from Southwest Texas State University in 1966 with a degree in Education.

He began his career in education as a teacher and a coach in Alvarado. He would go on to teach and coach in Sweetwater, Athens, Carrollton and San Antonio. San Antonio would be where he spent most of his career. In 1973, he was the head coach at Oliver Wendell Holmes High School. He took a brief hiatus from education in the early 1980s to sell life insurance.

His return to public education landed him in a new role as Vice Principal at Robert G. Cole Jr/Sr High School in San Antonio and he was elevated to principal the following year, where he would serve for the next 12 years. Buddy was selected as the Texas Association of Secondary Schools Outstanding High School Principal from Region 20 in 1991. During his tenure at Cole, the school was selected by the U.S. Department of Education as a Blue Ribbon Exemplary School in 1987 and 1991. The award brought with it trips to Washington D.C. and special meetings with President Reagan in 1987 and President George HW Bush in 1991. An added highlight to his time at Cole High School was a student by the name of Shaquille O'Neal.

In 1996, Buddy made his way back to Colorado City to serve as principal of Colorado High School. He served as principal for three years and then moved into the position of superintendent for an additional three years.

Buddy retired in 2002 after a 33-year career in public education. He became enamored with woodturning and became involved with the SouthWest Association of Turners.

Buddy and Carol have been married and remained a team for 55 years. He says Carol has been his guiding light through the years. They were blessed with two daughters, Ann and Kaci. They also have five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Friends of the Library elect 2018-19 officers

The Friends of the Mitchell County Library met September 24th with secretary Susan Farr, treasurer Nelda Hill, library director Maggie Bootman and members, Bobbie Thompson, Bob Mace and Michelle Fox present. Several items of business were covered.

New officers were elected for the 2018-19 year. They are: Bob Mace, president; Bobbie Thompson, vice president; Susan Farr, secretary; and Nelda Hill, treasurer.

A routine business meeting was held. It was noted some new DVDs were needed, and the group agreed to purchase some.

A discussion was also held about the First Friday Book Sales. Mace suggested the theme for October be mysteries and thrillers, and everyone agreed. Unfortunately, the October book sale had to be canceled due to damage to the library from the leaking roof. A roofing company is currently putting on a new roof.

The director's report was given by Bootman. She identified needs of the library, including a new bench for the children's section. The friends group agreed to the purchases.

Bootman talked about the Area Agency on Aging visit to the library on September 27th. The experts were present to help people with open enrollment for Medicare.

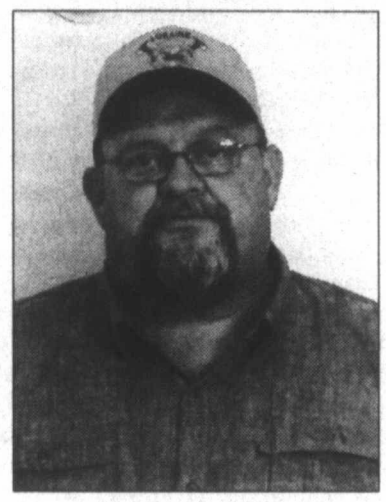

Details for the next meeting of the Friends of the Mitchell County Public Library will change, as work continues on the roof and inside the facility.

WHY IS THE LIBRARY CLOSED? The Mitchell County Public Library has been closed for more than a week, as torrential rains caused a lot of damage to the facility. Re-roofing of the library was underway when Colorado City received four to six inches of rain early last week, causing extensive damage.

GETTING INTO THE SEASON – Several Westbrook students traveled to Colorado City to decorate a few doors for Halloween at Mitchell County Nursing & Rehab. Administrator Jessica Whitesides said they look festive and the residents love them.

The Milky Way over Fort Davis

If you've been to For Davis on a night when the moon is barely visible, you know that when you look skyward you see the Milky Way in all its radiance. Fort Davis is one of the darkest spots in the United States, so you get a good glimpse of the stars at night. They really are big and bright.

The darkness is one reason the McDonald Observatory is located just outside of Fort Davis. Scientists from all over the world go there to do research. Residents of Fort Davis are mindful of the need to keep the area dark and seldom use their bright lights while driving at night. All lighted areas in the town have covers on them to make sure the light goes down, not up.

The observatory is one of the main tourist attractions in Fort Davis. On Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights, visitors go there for star parties where they peer through strong telescopes and listen to informal lectures about the stars. Marc Wetzel is an education specialist at McDonald. "We're a little bit higher than Denver, Colorado. Here our elevation is about 6,500 feet. We're at a high altitude in a remote area. If you looked at a map of nowhere, we're right in the middle of that map.

"At the McDonald Observatory we are studying amazing things. We can measure distances to galaxies and can even find planets around other stars. We can determine the expansion rate of the entire universe here. It's truly a gem. We have one of the largest telescopes in the entire world and one of the biggest efforts to study the universe and address some of the most fundamentally amazing questions that we've had for the length of time humans have been on earth. If you've never seen the Milky Way before, you can see it plainly here in all its glory without using any amplified device.

"I convey the night sky and all the amazing things about it to young children. Try to explain a black hole to a third grader. I train elementary, middle and high school teachers how to teach astronomy in the classroom. We have great evening programs that are really popular, and we just try to have the best time looking at the night sky and interpreting what people are seeing.

"There are so many opportunities to make a connection with nature here and understand what we see when we look at the dark sky."

Nearly 100 people work at the observatory. There are residences in the complex and some employees live in Fort Davis. Nighttime is not the only time people can go to the observatory. It also studies the sun and offers information programs about the ball of fire.

The observatory, located on Mount Locke 16 miles from Fort Davis, is owned by the University of Texas. It was made possible by the bequest of William Johnson McDonald, a Paris, Texas banker in hopes that astronomers would find ways to forecast weather, thus helping farmers far ahead of planting time. Mount Locke is named for the rancher who donated land for the observatory.

ANNIVERSARY

Kimmel constructed the building that houses the Samaritan House for Sun Oil Company many years ago, and it served as the district office in Colorado City for 15 to 20 years. There were 45 rooms which were offices for various managers.

While Sun Oil had paid Kimmel $145,000 to construct the office, he only had about $1,000 to spend. He submitted the bid thinking he would never hear a word.

One day, Kimmel got a call from the city, and the official on the other end of the phone said, "You bought yourself a building." He had been the only bidder, and the city cashed his $1,000 check and gave him the title.

Now he had a building but no money for renovations. He said, "I thanked God and told him that I didn't have money to fix it up for people to stay." Pretty soon, Kimmel received a $10,000 check to begin the renovations necessary to turn the office building into a house of sorts.

Some of the congregation members from First Baptist Church in Westbrook contacted Kimmel saying they would like to "do a room". He said, "OK, but I don't have any money to furnish it." They said that they weren't asking for money, only permission to do the work. Kimmel said that the church brought in several people who volunteered their time and worked to totally furnish the room, carpet, paint and all.

As the word began to spread, Kimmel started hearing from churches all over the area. Various church groups came in and renovated 30 rooms, at no cost to Kimmel. Each room bears a plaque with the name of a church, individual, couple or family who decorated and furnished it.

A few of the names on plaques include: Aguillion and Reynolds families, Shiloh Terrace Baptist Church – Dallas, Larry & Dena Azlin, Warren & Leola Anderson, Woody & Susan Anderson, Virgil Stone's grandchildren, Calvary Baptist Church, First Christian Church, First Assembly of God, Truman Davis Family – Maryneal, J.D. & Pam Guess family, Riddle Family – Tahoka, Joe & Charlene Killgore – Maryneal, Maryneal Baptist Church, First Methodist Church, Bob & June Kimmel family, Ann Nobles & CHS Homemaking Class, First Baptist Church, Oak Street Baptist Church, Ramage family, Smiley-Crockett Church of Christ – Loraine, First Presbyterian Church, Joy Class of First Baptist Church, First Baptist Church – Loraine, Christian Fellowship, First Baptist Church – Westbrook, Tex Blankenship family, Truman & Margaret Bodine, and Elbert & Leora Spann.

Throughout the last 15 years, the Samaritan House has hosted thousands of visitors. June said on one particularly busy Father's Day weekend, the house provided shelter for 115 visitors.

Each weekend, a volunteer host comes in to oversee the weekend's activities. The host cooks breakfast on Friday and Saturday, a light lunch on Saturday and dinner Saturday night. Those staying in the house can also cook for themselves, as long as they cleanup too.

Every dime it has taken to operate the house has come from donations. The house's pantry is stocked with some food bank items, and volunteers buy fresh items locally. All paper goods come from donations.

After the weekend, the Monday Angels, as they are called, descend on the house to put it all back in order. There's laundry to do, cleaning needed and basic organization chores to perform, and the Monday Angels do it all for free.

The home is equipped with one television in the front parlor. It also has four washers, five dryers, three refrigerators and a freezer. Each bed has an extra set of sheets, so no one has to wait for all the laundry to finish.

Volunteers come in on Saturday evenings to hold a devotional service, and those staying can come take part but it's not required.

In talking with June, she shared several stories about visitors who came and were so surprised anyone would provide safe, clean shelter, food and even some fellowship.

"I overheard somebody say that this place really prepares you for that place, referring to the prison," June said. "Some come for financial reasons, some come for spiritual reasons, and some come for emotional support. We always try to fill their need."

Volunteers and donations are always needed and appreciated. Make plans to go out to the Samaritan House Sunday afternoon, enjoy some refreshments and see what the wonderful charity does every week.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

In response to Troy Powell's ideas on Agnosticism, I present:

The only evidence that Lyell, Darwin, science or anyone else could discover with any proof is from the primitive form of Adam (male) and Eve (female) mating and making babies. This is verified by their descendants who wrote it down (the proof of their existence) which was not only witnessed, but also written. There are only 6000 years of recorded history! Science, Darwin or Lyell at best can only speculate as to how life happened because no one then or now or before was there to witness the happening – only speculation without any actual proof. Studying the past written or spoken word is all we have to consider. It takes tons more faith to believe in Darwin with his animals and bugs. What we do know and believe is that Jesus was born of a virgin, lived 33 years, died on a cross and rose again the third day... that event was not only written but witnessed by over 500 people at that date. This very date of 10-14-2018 bears witness that Jesus did what was said and watched! This date and today's date bears witness that the event happened and is true. There is more proof of the written Bible, consisting of 66 books, written by 40 named people over centuries and 6,000 of years apart without any communication with each other, that it is mathematically impossible for it not to be true.

the city will have to build pens to hold the animals until an owner could be found. If no owner is found after seven days, the animals will be taken to Mitchell County Vet Clinic to be euthanized. Cost for that service is up to $30.

Wooddell was ultimately hired by the council in a 3-2 vote. White and Acevedo voted against the hiring. After the meeting, Acevedo clarified he had abstained from the vote.

Water Department Head David Johnson received an increase in his salary after the council came out of closed session. A unanimous decision was made to increase Johnson's pay to $16 per hour. In his report to the council, Johnson said he's repaired at least six water leaks in the last 30 days. He urged all Loraine citizens to check around their properties for leaks and asked for their patience

In other business, City Secretary Tracy Mallion was added to the signatory cards at Western Bank. Messick explained that she needed access, as she is the city's Chief Financial Officer.

The centennial committee recently disbanded, and funds were donated by the committee to the city for the upkeep of the Loraine Cemetery. Messick also gave a report on the work TDCJ offenders have done at the cemetery.

"They did a lot of good in two days," Messick said.

Messick said auditor Gayla Fullerton of Abilene has been conducting an audit on the City of Loraine.

The audit is ongoing, but Messick hopes a report will be available to the council at next month's meeting.

Larry and Sherry Chaney have wanted to open a spot like The Gathering Grounds for about three years. Now that they're both retired, they have the time. Building owner Brenda Hammond opened the campus for walkers, and it got the Chaneys talking about the opportunity to use a classroom for their idea.

"It's more about a place to go, a place to study, and an opportunity for the community to gather," Larry said Monday.

Anyone interested in reserving the larger room can contact Larry by calling 325-242-0397.

The only local contested race will be decided by voters in Pcts. 4 and 046. Republican candidate Ricky Bailey is challenging Democratic candidate DeLynn Hackfeld for the position of County Commissioner.

Early voting ballots can be cast in the lobby of the Mitchell County Courthouse, 349 Oak, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday, November 2nd.

The board was able to identify goals for this year by discussing the important topics surrounding CISD and almost all of education today. Student safety was one of the top subjects addressed in the discussion.

Spencer said student safety was at the top of the list in board training conferences this summer, and CISD is taking some important steps to harden targets and make attending school safer. Staff members of CISD are armed and have passed tactical training to prepare themselves to use their weapons as needed.

The board made the decision to make high school more secure by putting up an iron fence around all the back and side entrances. A check-in kiosk is also being constructed in the commons area of CHS so traffic can be better controlled at the front entrances which will remain locked once the kiosk is built.

Spencer said there have been 212 school shootings in the U.S. in the last five years. In other countries, that number is five incidents in five years. CISD personnel will also be looking into grants to provide better mental health support.

Spencer said the district pays for a school resource officer to have a presence at Colorado Elementary and Middle School, and the Texas Department of Public Safety has a meeting room inside Colorado High. Last week, many members of the DPS used the room for a meeting, which a lieutenant and captain also attended. They commented to Spencer how they appreciated the use of the room and plan to keep using it. State Trooper presence at the campus should be a further deterrent.

Another goal of the board this year is to improve student performance. CISD received an overall B rating missing the A by just one point. All school leaders can agree the score was good, but Spencer and the board would like to see student performances continue to improve.

So, goal #2 is to see student performance to increase over the 2017-18 school year.

Goal #3 is full of obstacles, as grant money is running out. The board would like to continue the Colorado Career Academy, even if that means CISD funding it.

Last year, 122 CHS students were enrolled in college dual-credit courses, each semester totaling 860 college hours earned toward graduation. Of all courses taken, students passed at a rate of 95% and 85% of those students made a B or higher.

Three seniors graduated with the Child Development Education Certificate in May for completing 18 dual-credit hours. Two CHS seniors graduated from Western Texas College in Snyder with an Associate Degree on May 8th.

At Texas State Technical College, 39 students got on seven technical career pathways, including automotive, welding, health information management, computer aided drafting, culinary arts, digital media design and database and web programming.

Of those technical classes, CHS students passed at a rate of 90%. There were 226 technical dual-credit hours earned toward graduation, and 16 graduating seniors received a Mastery Skills Award.

Board member Sheila Plagens said, "CCA is important for our kids. The great stories make the academy worth it."

The four-year grant from the U.S. Department of Labor was extended one year, but funds are set to run out on the grant at the end of the 2018-19 school year. Spencer said he and the staff will keep looking for grants to help fund the program.

Goal #3 was set by the board and is good news for CHS students coming up: Continue the CCA, even if the district has to fund the academy without grant money.

ELECT DELYNN HACKFELD
MITCHELL COUNTY COMMISSIONER

YOUR VOTE COUNTS!

EARLY VOTING BEGINS OCTOBER 22ND AND RUNS THROUGH NOVEMBER 2ND

ELECTION DAY IS TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH

Working for the future of Mitchell County is a full time job and that requires a full time Commissioner. Mitchell County deserves to have individuals working hard to utilize resources that will maintain the foundation and further the growth of this strong and proud community.

I, Delynn Hackfeld, am ready, willing, and able to be that individual to lead Mitchell County towards achieving these goals that will benefit residents and promote unity throughout the county. My years of experience in working closely with the County Commissioners, City Council, and TXDOT have provided me with valuable insight as to what is working for our community and what needs improvement as we address the issues currently facing Mitchell County. During my time working with Hillcrest Subdivision, I worked closely with the engineers and TXDOT to build better roads, provide utilities, and construct foundations for future homes.

For 17 years, I was employed by Lone Wolf Resources, handling confidential results, verifying all work was conducted properly and according to code, and maintaining the accounting records of the company. As a community advocate for Mitchell County, I served on the hospital board from 2002-2012, serving my community and ensuring all of those who live, work, and worship in our county were provided proper and adequate medical treatment.

I encourage each of you to get out and vote this election year. Take an active stand in making Mitchell County the best it can be. My name is Delynn Hackfeld and I am running for County Commissioner Pct 4-046. A vote for me, is a vote for a conservative, full time Commissioner that Loraine and Mitchell County deserves!

LORAINE WALL OF HONOR – Three individuals were honored during Loraine's homecoming festivities recently as they were inducted to the Loraine ISD Wall of Honor. (l-r) Gloria Lucas, Rick Lucas and Krystal Barrera were recognized at the halftime of the football game and again at the reunion on Saturday.

Loraine Wall of Honor has three new members

Loraine ISD inducted three individuals onto the Wall of Honor during homecoming festivities the first week in October. Each inductee was recognized at the football game Friday and again at the reunion Saturday.

Krystal Butler

Krystal Lea Butler was born on December 1, 1976 to Danny and Pam Butler. She was raised with her sister, Dawn and brother, Brian on a farm and ranch north of Loraine. She attended kindergarten through high school in Loraine, graduating as Valedictorian in 1995. In high school, Krystal participated in basketball, golf, track, and was the first girl to play football for the Bulldogs.

After graduation, Krystal attended Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Biology and minored in Spanish. While at HSU, she played basketball with the Cowgirls and took a Spanish summer course in Spain.

Krystal completed her master's degree in Physical Therapy in December of 2000. She worked in Laredo as head of a rehab unit. While there she met and married her husband, David Barrera.

While David attended medical school in Guadalajara, Mexico, Krystal continued to work as a Physical Therapist in Laredo, flying back and forth from Guadalajara to Texas. Krystal completed her Doctor of Physical Therapy degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 2010 while living in New York City and Roswell, New Mexico.

Krystal and David speak only Spanish at home and are raising three daughters Raeli, Kamri and Evi to be bilingual. They also foster children. Krystal recently started the Las Cruces Isaiah 1:17 Foster Adoption Ministry, a support program for foster and adopted children.

Krystal is very involved in her church and always looking for a mission opportunity. She is also involved in her daughters' school as president of the Parent Teacher Organization and on occasion coaches her daughters' sports programs in Las Cruces, New Mexico, where the family currently lives.

Rick & Gloria Lucas

Rick and Gloria Lucas have been instrumental in keeping the Loraine school and community together. Both were born and raised in Loraine, and although Gloria didn't really care for Rick growing up, somehow, they married and became lifetime partners in 1981. Together they raised two children, Heather Mathys and Ryan Lucas, in Loraine and have been blessed with a grandson, Beckett Mathys.

Leroy "Top" and Modess Lucas, along with their son, Joey, welcomed Rick into their family in 1955 in Loraine. Rick attended school in Loraine, graduating in 1974. After graduation, he decided to start a career in farming. He farmed up until he began his career with Loraine ISD in 1993.

Throughout the years, Rick held various titles in the school, including kindergarten aide, special education aide, assistant baseball coach, assistant softball coach, head junior high football and basketball coach, head junior varsity coach, head varsity girls basketball coach, assistant high school boys basketball coach, head girls softball coach, and bus driver.

Throughout his years of coaching, Rick brought home several UIL awards for Loraine ISD, including a 3rd place state baseball trophy in 1995. He was the announcer for the junior high and high school football games for 10 years and was president of the Loraine Ex-Students Association from 1992-2000. Not only has Rick worked for Loraine school, he has worked for the City of Loraine for several years during the summer months.

In 2018, Rick received the LISD Educator of the Year award, presented at the Colorado City Area Chamber Banquet. In accepting the award, he said that his job has been a privilege and a blessing.

Gloria Lucas was born in 1962 to Tanis and Julia Moreno in Loraine. She was number 10 of 12 children. She attended school in Loraine and graduated in 1980. After graduation, she started working as an aide at Loraine Manor, then later became the activity director.

In 1993, Gloria began working as an aide at Loraine ISD. Like Rick, she too has held numerous titles at the school, including cheerleading sponsor, special education aide, high school boys and girls cross country coach, junior high and junior varsity girls basketball coach, junior high boys and girls tennis coach, and junior high boys and girls track coach. Gloria's teams received several honors through the years as well. She also supervised the after-school program for over 10 years.

Many years of dedication and hard work by the Lucases for Loraine's community and school district have often been overlooked, but the couple's love of the school and hometown is never-ending.

RUN FOR THE WALL – Sam and Roger Mead (right), representatives of the Run for the Wall Southern Route, came to Colorado Middle School Tuesday to present a $4,000 donation to Colorado ISD for hosting the luncheon and program for the riders each May. RFTW organizer Mark Merrell and CMS Principal Robby Russell were on hand to accept the donation.

CONSERVATIVES UNITE!

Conservatives across America, including Texas and Mitchell County, are outraged by the mob-like Democratic agenda in Washington!

The liberal agenda in Washington includes high taxes, weak borders, socialized medicine and continued attacks on Christianity. Along with that, the liberal news media continues to hammer our president. It's time to fight back!

Rural Texas will play an important role in the upcoming election. Our voices need to be heard. Make your voice heard by casting your vote! It is important to be informed on the issues important to West Texans. It's time to vote for those candidates that support our values and stand up for what we believe.

We need to protect our second amendment rights, continue to confirm conservative judges on the courts, build up our military and support better trade deals and above all -- support our law enforcement.

IF THERE HAS EVER BEEN A TIME IN OUR NATION'S HISTORY WHEN CONSERVATIVES MUST STAND UNITED AND VOTE, IT IS NOW!

Conservatives must unite!

House candidate Drew Landry speaks to Lions Club

PUBLIC EDUCATION CHAMPION - Drew Landry visited the Colorado City Lions Club last week to talk about his political platform and where he stands on the issues of rural representation and public education. He was invited by Marianne Stevenson.

Democratic candidate for Texas House District 83 Drew Landry was the guest speaker at the Colorado City Lions Club last Friday. He talked about public education and the need to improve infrastructure in the rural areas of the state.

Landry said he has been traveling around House District 83, which includes Mitchell County and six others, for about 17 months. He said he's enjoyed meeting the nice people of the district.

Landry got down to business when he said, "Education is a big deal. It's not partisan, it's our future."

The professor at South Plains College said it is imperative that Texas maintain its public education system. He told fellow Lions that teachers teach more than just curriculum, and they see potential in kids every day.

"Let's face it, teachers do God's work every day," Landry said.

Landry grew up in Indiana. The candidate said he teaches government at South Plains College in Levelland, and he had no intention of running for office.

"I just wanted to do my job, but then I started to see a pattern with my students," Landry said, adding that college students expected him to tell them what they would see on the tests. He said it's a symptom of teachers teaching for the STAAR exam, and students now expect that.

Landry doesn't blame teachers, because their livelihoods depend on students' passing the STAAR test. He said that teachers used to spend four years educating themselves, spend months working on their classrooms and come up with creative ways to teach kids. But, now they have to prepare students for the STAAR exam.

The candidate said the state spends approximately $3 million a year on the STAAR test. While Landry's for accountability through the local school boards, he thinks the STAAR should be abolished.

Landry also spoke about the struggles of being a student in rural Texas, especially for those who are taking classes online. He said he knows the internet service isn't good in most rural areas of the state, and it affects students who want to remain in small towns while taking college classes.

He said expanding broadband, fast internet is not only an educational issue, it's a safety issue (home security), it's an economic issue (banking services) and it's a healthcare issue (hospital internet).

Lion Gordon Tatro asked Landry about the Texas Lottery money and why it's not being used to fund public education. Landry said he doesn't have an answer to why, but only about 30% of lottery funds goes to education, while the other 70% goes into the general fund.

Landry said property taxes have continued to rise, partly because the state's portion of public education funding has been shrinking over the past several years.

The whole operation begins this week, as businesses have the opportunity to show their support for 4-H with a green lights display. If you or your business want to have green lights put up, call the 4-H office at 728-3111 by Friday, October 19th.

On Thursday, October 25th, club members will provide community service from 3:30 to 6 p.m. at the new location of Pets Needing Parents. Davila named ASU queen

Colorado City's own Nadia Davila was named 2018 Homecoming Queen at Angelo State University over the weekend. She was nominated by the Catholic Newman Center.

Davila is the daughter of Marty and Mary Anne Davila of Colorado City. She is the granddaughter of Alice Davila and the late Joe Davila and Thomas DeLoera and the late Virginia DeLoera.

A junior at ASU, Davila is majoring in Health Science Professions with a double minor in biology and chemistry. Her ultimate goal after graduating in 2020 is to attend graduate school at Texas Tech University and become a Physician's Assistant.

Davila is currently involved on campus as the Vice President of Communication for Sigma Kappa Sorority, a member of the Catholic Rams, Lector at the Catholic Newman Center and Student Assistant for the Biology Department.

In her spare time, Davila enjoys spending time with family and friends, going fishing and playing with her puppy, Olive.

The thing she loves most about ASU is how the Ram Fam makes San Angelo feel like home because the community is so welcoming and kind. She couldn't be more proud to be a Ram and wants to give thanks to God and to everyone who has always supported her.

"I wouldn't be who I am today without these amazing people in my life and I couldn't be more honored to be ASU's 2018 Homecoming Queen," Davila said.

Wolves' defense crushes Lubbock Roosevelt

LUBBOCK – It seems reasonable that the Roosevelt Eagles might want to record their loss to the Colorado High School Wolves on Friday night. If nothing else except to show their own players how defense and hustle can make a team dominant.

They see exactly that from the Wolves in every replay.

Colorado City improved to 6-0 on Friday night with a resounding 45-6 victory over winless Roosevelt in front of a large crowd. More importantly, the team moved to 1-0 in District 3-2A play and moved into a tie with Idalou and Abernathy for the top spot in the race for the district championship.

Just how dominant was the Wolf defense against Roosevelt? Consider this: Colorado City limited the Eagles to an average of 2.3 yards per carry over 47 offensive plays. For the record, that means Roosevelt managed just 109 yards in the contest.

And did we mention C-City returned a pair of fumbles for touchdowns?

The Wolf defense gave Roosevelt fits from the start. The Eagles' first two possessions of the contest resulted in just 17 yards and a pair of punts. Their third possession, which spanned the end of the first quarter and the start of the second, also resulted in a punt.

By the time Roosevelt punted for the third time, Colorado City was well on its way to an 18th victory in their last 20 outings.

After Zeke Randall and the CHS defense had forced the Eagles to punt for the second time midway through the first quarter, the Wolf offense hit stride. C-City took the early lead when Bubba Williams capped an 8-play 51-yard march by breaking off a nine-yard scoring romp with just 12 seconds left in the opening stanza.

Williams, who rushed for a season-high four touchdowns in the win, kicked off C-City's second drive of the game with a short 3-yard run. Two plays later, he reeled off a 12-yard scamper around the left side for a first down at the Roosevelt 36. Bracken Hargrave added fuel to the CHS fire from there, catching a 16-yard strike on the ensuing play from Markis Monroe.

Hargrave's reception moved the Wolves to the Eagles' 20.

Following a six-yard run by Zack Thompson, Williams took the offense onto his shoulders. He finished off the series with runs of five and nine yards to stake the Wolves to a 7-0 lead.

Colorado City didn't wait long to put Roosevelt on its heels again. After forcing the Eagles to punt again on the third play of the second quarter, Monroe and the CHS offense pieced together a 10-play, 58-yard drive that put C-City up 13-0 and all but put a fork in the Eagles' hopes.

In the game, Monroe completed seven of his 13 passing attempts for 138 yards.

Williams, who rushed for 78 yards on just 12 attempts in the affair, carried the brunt of the Wolves' offensive load during their second scoring march. In the series, he carried the ball three times, including a 1-yard touchdown plunge that upped the CHS lead to two scores with 6:53 left in the opening half.

The rout Williams started, Tracy Smith and the CHS defense put into high gear from there. Keyed by a pair of fumbles, the Wolves scored on the next two series and took a 25-0 at the half.

The first of the Wolves' final two touchdowns of the first half came via the normal route. After the Wolf defense had stripped the ball free and forced the game's first turnover, the CHS offense struck quickly. One play after the fumble, Monroe took the snap from center and rifled a 45-yard scoring strike to Smith.

Smith finished the game with three receptions for a team-high 62 yards.

Smith got into the scoring act again moments later. On the Eagles' ensuing series, he scooped up a Roosevelt fumble at the 43 and returned it the distance for a touchdown.

C-City, which rolled up 358 total yards in the affair, added to its lead again in the third quarter. Williams and Akimas Clarrett both reeled off rushing touchdowns in the first 12 minutes of the second half and ballooned the CHS lead to 38-0.

Williams' third TD of the contest came via a 5-yard run. Clarrett's score was a 14-yard romp.

Williams closed out the scoring onslaught in the fourth with a 22-yard TD run.

As a team, the Wolves used eight rushers to generate 220 yards on the ground.

C-City will return to action on Friday when they host Idalou at Wolf Stadium.

Idalou enters the game at 5-1 following its 35-0 rout of Coahoma on Friday. The Wildcats have won five straight games since opening the 2018 season on Aug. 31 with a 21-8 loss to Shallowater.

Idalou has recorded shutouts in three of their last four contests. In that span, Idalou has outscored its opponents by a 162-14 clip.

Wolves face tough Idalou Friday night

The Colorado Wolves took care of business last Friday in Lubbock, knocking off Roosevelt 45-6. That now sets up a show-down Friday night at Wolf Stadium when Idalou comes to town.

The Wildcats are 5-1 (1-0) and coming off a convincing 35-0 victory over Coahoma. A senior-heavy roster provides experienced offensive and defensive linemen that has allowed the Wildcats to dictate the pace of play this year. Experience from 14 seniors has contriubuted to their success this season.

Last season Idalou was 4-7 (2-2) and was a bi-district finalist while losing to the Wolves 25-0.

The Wildcats' defense has been stingy, giving up only 34 points in six games while recording three shut-outs.

Idalou's only loss was a 21-8 loss to Shallowater to open the season and has since beat Muleshoe 62-0, Seminole 21-12, Littlefield 45-0, Denver City 20-14 and last week's district opener, Coahoma 35-0.

The weather is supposed to be nice, a big crowd is expected and the Wolves could take a big leap forward in the 2018 district race.

Kick-off is at 7:30 p.m. for the pivotal game.
