The SDN COLUMN

A growing number of Texas cities and towns are sampling the sales tax as a means of increasing their revenue, and many others are standing on the sidelines awaiting elections to determine whether they will join the parade.

The last legislature gave cities and towns authority to assess a sales tax of one per cent. However, each city or town must approve its sales tax in a local election before it can be assessed.

Snyder city officials have indicated no inclination to leap into the city sale tax stream, but they are watching trends in other West Texas towns. In many cases, "clusters" of towns have scheduled simultaneous elections on sales tax proposals, their objective being a simultaneous levy which would not give one town a tax-less shopping situation while a neighboring town was saddled with the tax.

The limited discussion here concerning a city sales tax has for the most part involved speculation on the possibility of lowering the city's ad valorem tax take and compensating for it with a sales tax.

For some time now, cities and towns have been looking for something to replace, or reduce the ad valorem tax. In the case of Snyder, the ad valorem tax rate has been $1.65 per $100 valuation for approximately a decade, and changes in over-all valuations have been somewhat insignificant. There has been some discussion (mostly outside city government circles) on the possibility of proposing a city sales tax and if it should be approved, then lower ad valorem taxes some, but not in the full amount of the sales tax revenue. This would provide the city with some needed additional revenue and still allow a cut in ad valorem taxes.

There will be a lot more study before any definite proposal emerges, however. Actually, many cities have indicated that they would prefer abandoning the ad valorem tax completely. A one per cent sales tax would not be enough to allow this.

BIG EXPLOSION — Gas collecting in a vacant house at 202 Thirty-first Street exploded about 2 p.m. Thursday, causing extensive damage. The blast knocked out this partition between duplex apartments, shattered doors and windows in the house, and ripped off part of the roof. Flying debris fractured two legs of a cat next door. Mrs. C. L. Woolsey, 200 Thirty-first Street, had just left the house after checking the mailbox for former residents prior to the explosion. Fire Chief Alfred Kohl (in background) peers into a small room where a faulty valve was found.

HEAVY DAMAGE — Thousands of dollars of damage resulted from a gas explosion in this vacant house owned by Charles Duran. Gas escaping from a faulty valve is believed to have been touched off by the pilot light from the hot water heater. The blast knocked off the Austin stone blocks on the east side. The interior was in shambles.

Job Outlook Bright In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Employment Commission said today the state's job outlook this fall is bright despite sluggishness in factory and nonfactory hiring.

The commission reported that the state's civilian labor force dropped, unemployment was reduced and state government, retail and wholesale jobs gained in September.

Nonfarm employment in November is expected to increase 34,000 over September's record of 3,849,300 jobholders, the commission said.

"The heavy demand for clean-up and repair labor in the wake of Hurricane Beulah reduced insured unemployment beyond an expected normal seasonal drop triggered by the return to work of auto workers after a model change layoff," the commission said.

Recalls in transportation equipment manufacturing in September added 11,300 jobs.

The commission said the number of jobless workers covered by unemployment compensation insurance fell to 17,008 at mid-September, the lowest total since November 1956.

Texas civilian labor force declined seasonally by 29,300 from August to September, reaching 4,269,700. The drop was due to a decrease of about 20,300 farm jobholders and withdrawal of summer jobseekers from the labor market, the commission said.

Unemployment dropped by 13,500 at mid-September from the mid-August figure and was 3,000 below September 1966, for a seasonally adjusted rate of 2.7 per cent. The estimated national seasonally adjusted jobless rate was 4.1 per cent of the civilian labor force at mid-September.

Texas Chilled By Blustery Norther

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An old-fashioned "Blue norther" whistled across Texas and into the Gulf of Mexico today, chilling all sections of the state sharply but bringing less snow and rain than had been forecast.

Even colder weather was in prospect tonight and Saturday as skies cleared in its wake.

State police reported glazing made highways treacherous at some spots in the Texas Panhandle but conditions were far from serious.

The mercury plunged to 17 degrees at Dumas.

Dalhart reported 18 degrees and Perryton 20. Friona and Hereford had lows of 22. Amarillo had 23, Plainview 24, and Tulia and Littlefield 25.

Other subfreezing level temperatures included Locketville 28, Plains 29, Seminole and Tahoka 30, Childress, PPost and Spur had lows of 32.

Enough snow to whiten the ground accumulated around Dumas and there were patches of white in the Perryton vicinity, both in the north edge of the Panhandle.

Occasional snow flurries mixed with light rain in scattered areas as far south as Amarillo, Wichita Falls and eastward along the Red River.

Most other sections of the state received only a little moisture or none at all as the wintry front swept past.

Winds gusting at 40 to 50 miles per hour whipped the arctic air all the way to the Upper Texas Coast before daylight.

At 5 a.m. it had advanced as far as a line linking the Houston, Alice and Laredo areas and continued to rush southward.

Weather Bureau observers said the big Canadian front simply traveled too fast and and there wasn't enough upper air moisture to yield as much snow or rain as some had expected.

Scattered showers moved toward the southeast through most areas to mark the cold front's advance and occasional light rain fell in places behind it.

Skies cleared by early today, however, in the upper Texas Panhandle.

Readings at other points included Amarillo 25 degrees, Pampa 26, Lubbock 30, Childress 34, Midland 37, Abilene and El Paso 38, Wichita Falls 40, Dallas and San Angelo 42, Fort Worth 43, Tyler 44, Waco 46, Austin 47, San Antonio 48, College Station and Del Rio 49, Texarkana 50, Lufkin 55, Beaumont-Port Arthur and Laredo 57, Victoria 58, Houston 61, Brownsville and Corpus Christi 63 and Galveston 68.

Cold wave warnings for tonight or early Saturday were posted for part or all of Northeast, South Central and Southwest Texas, and freeze warnings for the northwest and north central sections.

Forecasts promised clear skies throughout the state by Saturday and overnight temperatures down to 20 in West Texas, 25 in the north central and northeast sections, 28 in the south central part of the state and 35 in the southeast.

Reds Using Live Shields

SAIGON (AP)—A battalion of U.S. infantrymen newly assigned to reinforce embattled Loc Ninh hurled back Viet Cong troops who, field officers said, dragooned civilians to march ahead of them as human shields in darkness early today.

There was no immediate word as to how many noncombatants were involuntarily involved, but the officers said the Communist tactic—used before on many occasions in the Vietnam war—naturally restricted the Americans, a battalion of the 25th Infantry Division.

Nevertheless, the total number of the enemy reported killed in six days of fighting for the pass 850.

Under cover of a mortar barrage, the Viet Cong made a ground assault on newly arrived U.S. infantry reinforcements shortly after midnight, and sporadic action was reported still going more than 12 hours later.

Reports from the fighting today said three Americans and 28 Communists were killed and 34 Americans wounded. The defenders of Loc Ninh, grown to about 5,000 with arrival of a battalion from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, have reported a total of 11 Americans and 23 South Vietnamese killed and 66 Americans and 74 South Vietnamese wounded in the six-day battle.

U.S. officers said the Communist tactic of sending civilians ahead of the attack forces "naturally restricted" the defenders' answering fire in the first stages of fighting today around the town, 72 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

But the defenders hit the enemy with artillery, air strikes and twin-engine C47 planes armed with rapid-firing gatling guns.

In the air war against North Vietnam, poor weather persisted for the third day over the Hanoi-Haiphong area Thursday, limiting U.S. pilots mostly to the southern panhandle. But Marine pilots attacked the Yen Bai airfield, now used as a storage area, 65 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Loc Ninh, hub of a rubber-producing area on the main route from Saigon to Cambodia, has some military and economic value, said Col. Frederick Krause of Fullerton, Calif., chief of staff of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division. But he said the Communists' "seemingly blind determination" to take the town stems more from the political, psychological and propaganda value such a victory would have.

13 Below At Laramie

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The autumn's first major outbreak of cold sent temperatures plunging from the Rockies to the Midwest today.

The mercury shrank to 13 below zero in Laramie, Wyo., and to 5 below in Douglas, Wyo.

The big mid-fall chill followed heavy snow in some areas. The snowfall measured 13 inches in Lander, Wyo., and 9 inches in Sheridan, Wyo.

Freezing weather extended south to Lubbock, Tex.

Cold wave warnings went out to parts of Southwest Texas, freezing warnings were posted for tonight for sections of North Texas and Oklahoma.

As the cold air rolled eastward, light rain changed to light snow in some parts of the Midwest, which was soggy from days of showers.

Quiet Restored In Winston-Salem

By ROB WOOD
Associated Press Writer

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Peace returned to downtown Winston-Salem this morning following a night of racial violence blamed on "hoodlums who have taken advantage of a situation. During the night, 34 persons, including seven policemen, were injured and 51 were arrested. Three Negroes were treated for gunshot wounds.

City officials said it might be several days before an accurate estimate could be made of damage caused by looting and fires. Fire Chief C. L. Williams said damage from about 55 fires alone probably would run "into the tens of thousands of dollars."

The violence began late Thursday following the burial of a Negro man who died after being struck by a policeman.

Mayor W. C. Benton said the trouble was started by "a bunch of hoodlums who have taken advantage of a situation. This is the excuse they have been waiting for."

Negro leaders had urged that the rioting stop.

About dawn this morning some 400 National Guardsmen and helmeted police encircled eight blocks in the downtown section of the city, widely known for its major cigarette factories. All persons entering the area were screened before being admitted.

Most officers were withdrawn later as businessmen and employes began going to work. By 8 a.m. the area was open to normal traffic.

Fire bombings and reports of sniper fire kept police and firemen busy in various sections of the city before daybreak. There was looting downtown and at two shopping centers.

UN INTERVENTION ASKED

Congo Reports Invasion From Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The government of the Congo has asked for a U.N. Security Council meeting to deal with an invasion by white and African soldiers from neighboring Portuguese Angola. Some U.N. diplomats expect the council to meet today.

Government sources in Kinshasa, the Congolese capital, said the invaders seized a train and some trucks and were bearing down on Lubumashi, formerly Elisabethville and the capital of Katanga Province.

Unconfirmed reports said the troops had taken Jadotville, a fortified copper mining town about 100 miles from Lubumbashi.

Congolese troops were ordered to intercept the invading force, which diplomatic dispatches reaching the State Department said was made up of about 150 soldiers of fortune mustered in Angola.

In Washington, Deputy Undersecretary of State Foy D. Kohler called in the Portuguese ambassador to express alarm and a U.S. spokesman said his government took a "grave view" of the developments.

Some observers believed the invasion's purpose was to relieve pressure on the force of about 130 white mercenaries, led by Col. Jean Schramme, and 950 Katangan soldiers allied with them who are besieged by 2,000 government troops at Bukavu, 600 miles north of Lubumbashi.

The mercenaries were reported to have suffered losses in a Congolese attack on their stronghold.

Schramme led revolt in July against their employer, the Congo government, after Moise Tshombe, exiled former Congo premier and Katanga leader, was kidnaped from a plane and jailed in Algeria.

Reports of the invasion caused a stir among Asian and African delegates at the United Nations. They have repeatedly accused Portugal, which still rules three colonies in Africa, and other white governments of supporting Schramme's mercenaries.

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago I did a foolish thing and confided to my husband's boss how depressed my husband was because he thought he was next in line for a promotion, but was passed over in favor of a new man they brought into the company who didn't know a thing about the business.

It seems my confidence was betrayed, and it got back to my husband.

I am most concerned for my husband's state of mind as he says he has done all that he can to get a promotion, and he is terribly hurt.

I have him practically talked into leaving the company and going with a competing firm to help him get over the disappointment. He hestitates because he's been with his present firm a long time and will lose all his benefits if he leaves. But I feel that his happiness is more important than the money.

Abby, do you think perhaps I am meddling too much? Or should I tell my husband to forget everything I said about changing jobs, and to stay where he is?

UPSET WIFE

DEAR UPSET: Yes, I think you are meddling too much. It's good for a man to have the kind of wife he can talk TO — but she shouldn't try to talk him INTO anything. Let your husband make his own decisions. And don't "confide" his feelings to anyone else.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old homosexual boy who will be taking my physical for the draft soon. I understand that there is a routine question on the form asking if you are a homosexual.

If I answer "yes," I am told they will reject me, but it will be on my record, which will follow me around for the rest of my life.

If I say "no," I will be lying, and I understand if I am caught, there are severe consequences for that. What should I do?

PATRIOTIC BUT GAY

DEAR PATRIOTIC: The question asked is, "Are you a practicing homosexual?" If one answers "yes," he is classified either 4-F or 1-Y, depending on his local draft board. These records are strictly confidential, and no one, not even the boys parents, have access to these records.

The classifications 4-F and 1-Y include men who are physically, mentally, and morally unfit for the service. This includes everything from flat feet to homosexuality, so that classification reveals nothing.

One cannot be assured of staying out of the service by simple answering "yes" to such a question, because he must then see the army psychiatrist for further questioning, and he is hard to fool.

If the man answers "no," and it is discovered that he lied, he will have committed perjury which, of course, carries a penalty.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I usually do not write to newspaper columnists, but I am irked and wish to be heard.

Please tell mothers that a ladies' restroom is no place for boys! If a father were to take a little daughter into a public building to visit a doctor or dentist and she had to use the restroom, he wouldn't think of taking her into the men's room, would he? He would ask one of the nurses or lady secretarie's to please take the child, and I'm sure she would be glad to do it for a client. So why are women so stupid?

I'm not talking about little boys aged 2 and 3, who can't manage themselves, and might not wish to go with a stranger. But, Abby, one mother started to bring a boy into a ladies' room when I was there, and I halted her, but fast. So help me the "boy" looked to be about 12 and was taller than I was.

Sign me . . .

Father Of Dead Tots Is Charged

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — James Richardson was charged on a coroner's warrant Thursday night with first degree murder in the parathion poisoning of his seven small children.

Richardson, 31, was charged after a six-member coroner's jury ruled he and "other persons unknown" administered the parathion "feloniously, willfully and of his malice aforethought and with premeditated design."

"I just say I'm not guilty," the 5-foot-9 fruit picker said after Sheriff Frank Cline read the charge to him.

Richardson, who had been in jail since Tuesday night on a technical charge of child neglect, was accused of putting the parathion—a deadly agricultural pesticide that affects the nervous system—on food eaten by his children Oct. 29.

The children—ranging in age from 2 to 8—became violently ill within minutes. Six of them died that afternoon, and the seventh died the next morning.

Testimony at the inquest indicated Richardson had attempted to purchase $1,000 double indemnity insurance policies on each of the children the night before they were stricken. The insurance agent, Gerald Purvis of Palmetto, testified Richardson may have interpreted his remarks to mean the insurance was effective at once although the initial $3.20 premium had not been paid.

The children's mother, Annie Mae, 29, remained in jail on a child neglect charge filed Tuesday. She and her husband were arrested after they submitted to lie detector tests.

TALENTED APES HONORED

Zoo's Exhibit Successful

By DEL MILLER
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The exhibition was a success but a great ape tore art in action into shreds Thursday at San Francisco Zoo.

It was the first showing of the paintings by the zoo's two most talented chimpanzees. Their pictures at the fence of the ape grotto drew a large crowd.

Tallulah, an 8-year-old who had painted three blue abstracts which could almost pass for Paul Klee art—at 50 feet or farther—was the first to enter the "studio," barking like a dog. Keeper Dong Farrington carried her brush and easel.

She stopped short when she saw the crowd—put a hand over her mouth and hooted. She threw a kiss and then became intent on her canvas, which had been given a thick starter line of paint. She smelled it, licked it, and then began to eat the nontoxic paint.

Later, she went into her sleeping quarters and came back with Candy, a much larger 11-year-old chimpanzee. Both apes carried their own easels. Candy had a paint roller. With it she daubed brown abstracts which had been entitled "Suffering Succotash" and "Paint by Numbers."

Tallulah began brushing her teeth and tongue white and blue. Candy examined her easel, twirled her roller, grimaced at the crowd, and then tore her canvas to shreds.

Tallulah stole Candy's roller and went out on a limb. Cameras clicked and whirred. The show was over.

Dr. Robert Glaser, a University of California animal behaviorist who has collected more than 200 ape paintings, explained the scene.

Apes, he said, have full color vision and are discriminating. Some are talented and like to paint—each with its own individuality.

He said one theory is that apes are attracted to different colors because of association with foods.

Farrington told how he started Tallulah and Candy painting. First the apes were given blank canvas. Then they were given pieces that had been spotted lightly with nontoxic paint. Then they were given a brush to play with. They started doodling, and gradually the doddling improved.

"They turn out about two paintings a day," Farrington said. "We take away the brushes when they lose interest and start painting the floors and ceiling."

SOMETHING NEW and tasty that will delight the family is this version of old fashioned pound cake and apples.

Apple Crown Pound Cake

During the early nineteenth century the land between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi River was home for one of our most colorful and well-loved Americans — Johnny Appleseed. Wearing a flour sack for a shirt and walking barefoot much of the time, he moved westward across the land, leaving a living legacy of flourishing orchards for those who were to follow him.

In the pioneer kitchen apples were a basic ingredient. Their versatility made them a frequent ingredient in many foods — including desserts. Apple Crown Pound Cake is a delicious example of an old-fashioned dessert. The cake is a traditional pound cake — rich and hearty just like the pound cakes made in pioneer kitchens. But unlike those cakes, this one can be made without fuss or bother with an exciting mix — Golden Pound Cake Mix. Apple jelly, candied red and green pineapple and whole cloves are topped with a quick and easy glaze to complete this very elegant pound cake. It's been a long time since the days of Johnny Appleseed, but with a dessert as tempting as this Apple Crown Pound Cake, you'll enjoy a delightful "history" lesson the easy way!

Here is the recipe.

Apple Crown Pound Cake

2 packages pound cake mix
4 eggs
1 cup water
1-3 cup apple jelly
Candied red and green pineapple slices
Whole cloves
Thin Glaze (below)

Turns In Gun — Takes Up Sword

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)— He tuned in his six-shooter and took up the sword. The "sword" being the Holy Writ.

This, in short, is the story of Lt. D. M. "Hoss" Grayson, for 15 years a member of the Midland Police Department and a lay preacher since 1963.

Grayson resigned from the Police Department to become a full-time minister. He has accepted the pastorate of the Corinth Baptist Church here.

DELECTABLE HORS D'OEUVRE — Cheese trifles are creamy on the inside and have a deliciously crisp exterior.

Cheese Trifles Have Big Flavor

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IT'S A CREAMY trifle, cheese-flavored and crisp on the outside. A wonderful tidbit to serve when you're giving a party.

We call this hors d'oeuvre by an American name, Cheese Trifles, but it stems from the French cuisine.

Should you try this recipe, prepare yourself for a two-step operation. One day you make up the cheese mixture and refrigerate overnight. The next day you turn it out, cut it up, coat and fry. And serve to applause.

We've given you directions for frying these Cheese Trifles right after their overnight refrigerator stay. We've also told you how to freeze this hors d'oeuvre in its fried or unfried state. You may want to try all these methods and decide which one you like best.

CHEESE TRIFLES

¼ cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups milk
¾ cup sifted freshly grated Parmesan cheese
2 egg yolks, beaten slightly in a small bowl
1 egg
2-3 cup fine dry breadcrumbs
Corn oil (about 1 quart) for frying

Cover the bottom of a 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan with a strip of aluminum foil that extends up and over the narrow sides of the pan so that the foil can be used to remove the chilled mixture.

In a 2-quart saucepan over low heat, melt the butter; stir in the cornstarch and salt; remove from heat. Gradually stir in 1½ cups of the milk, keeping smooth. Over medium heat, cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens and boils 1 minute. Gradually stir in cheese until melted. Remove from heat and at once blend a little of the hot sauce into the 2 beaten egg yolks, then stir back into remaining hot mixture. At once return to medium heat and cook and stir constantly until very thick — like mayonnaise (this takes a minute or so). Into the prepared pan, pour the cheese mixture, cover top tightly with plastic wrap. Chill overnight. Remove plastic wrap. Using extended foil ends, lift out mixture then turn out on a floured board or pastry cloth; remove foil. Using a floured knife, cut into ¾ inch (about) squares. Roll squares in flour, coating well.

In a small bowl, beat together the egg and the remaining ¼ cup milk. Dip squares into mixture, one at a time, then into breadcrumbs.

Pour corn oil into sturdy, flat bottomed kettle or deep fryer, filling utensil 1-3 full. Heat over medium heat to 375 degrees or until 1-inch cube of bread turns brown in 40 seconds. Fry squares in hot oil until coating is brown and crisp — about 30 seconds. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes about 60.

To freeze: Place squares (fried or ready-to-fry) on baking sheet and freeze until firm. Wrap and return to freezer.

To serve frozen fried squares: Partially thaw; unwrap and place on baking sheet; heat in hot (400 degrees) oven until thoroughly heated — about 6 minutes. Or heat in a small amount of oil in a skillet over medium heat until lightly browned — about 2 minutes.

To serve frozen ready-to-fry squares: Thaw at room temperature for 15 minutes, then unwrap and fry as directed in recipe.

New Hobby Has Dad Cooking On Four Burners

Husbands are giving up their traditional right to "A Weekly Night Out With The Fellows!"

To the confusion of American economic experts, men are merrily finding a challenge and creative satisfaction in the kitchen. Men claim cooking is "the greatest." They admit early kitchen ventures are a bit "testy" but after a survey of kitchen tools and where staples live, it becomes a thrilling experience.

The fascination of cooking is highly contagious among husbands and dads, wives say. Just let one member of the old Thursday night gang get infected with the cooking bug and in a very short time the entire groups interest has swung from talk of games to swapping recipes and discussing culinary challenges.

"My man swears judging the exact amount of this ingredient or that one is more challenging than any decision he ever made on the golf course," one wife told an interviewer.

"He would rather see the amazed expressions on 'the gangs faces' when they try his Chicken Supreme than win the poker pot," said another young married.

"Creating cooking shortcuts and new recipes takes more skill than bowling," another cooking addict proclaimed.

Dad's kitchen trek in no way diminishes his importance on the family scene. It affirms his ability to meet the changing American family pattern. Daily more wives will be going out to work, thus a new distribution of domestic responsibilities is in the near future, especially for young couples. Women, according to the researchers, may no longer be controlling the spending of such a large part of the family income.

According to the latest government figures working wives have boosted the average family's earning power, and by 1970, 34 per cent of American families will have an income of over $10,000.

Economists alert wives this new affluence won't be all velvet. Home chores start and end each day of a homemaker's life. The more encouragement wives generate in husbands taking an active place in the kitchen and in making decisions and purchases of everything from food to furnishings, the easier her tasks will be.

The force that fired hundreds of thousands of adult males into the kitchen - without even a parting sigh for forsaken buddies and games - is the Men's National Cooking Championships.

The panel of women food experts who judge the recipes have picked simple and elaborate main dishes as top winners, as the following state champion's recipe demonstrates:

THE JOLLY CASSEROLE

3 lbs. cubed stew meat
¼ C. flour
¼ C. crushed potato chips
1 pkg. dehydrated onion soup
1 can consomme (about 11 oz.)
2 Cups water
Red wine in amount to your taste
8-oz. can of mushrooms, drained

Mix ingredients in casserole and cook for 3 hours in 325-350 degree oven, stirring occasionally and adding extra liquid if needed. Add mushrooms during the last few minutes of cooking. Serve with heated potato chips. (Note: Meat does not have to be cooked or browned before adding ingredients. The recipe calls for no salt or pepper.) Serves 4-6.

You can cook a 3-minute egg faster with gas than with electricity.
Here's why. With a modern gas range there's no slow warm-up period. You turn the burner on and get the desired amount of heat — instantly! Burner with a Brain holds that precise temperature until cooking is done. No waiting, no watching, no wondering with flame fast gas. You can see the flame go to work the instant you turn the burner on.
(Of course, faster cooking means less gas used and more economy for you!) Only modern gas cooking gives you this much control, flexibility and speed. See the wide variety of modern gas ranges at your local gas appliance dealer or LONE STAR GAS.

Johnson-Once The Master-Is Now Just A Petitioner

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has traveled a long road from master to petitioner.

When he was Democratic leader in the Senate in the 1950s, he had a detiled knowledge of every senator from both parties: His strong points, his weak ones and his special interests.

He made it his business to know, which is one of the reasons why he was probably the most effective Senate leader in American history.

In the Senate cloakroom, on the telephone or in his office Johnson twisted the arms of senators who objected to legislation he was shepherding.

Even before Johnson went to work on him an individual senator was more than likely already indebted to him for past favor, like Johnson's help in getting through some legislation the senator wanted.

If he couldn't get full agreement, Johnson was willing to compromise. He took special pride in this. It was one of his favorite tactics, perhaps his most important one.

His philosophy about getting legislation through the Senate was simple: He was realistic. He didn't operate on Cloud 9, insisting that a majority of the Senate had to give him exactly what he wanted as he wanted it.

If necessary, he was willing to settle for less than all he wanted in order to get some of it, believing that in time he could get the rest of it.

An outstanding example is the 1957 Civil Rights Act, the first such legislation approved in this century. Nobody before Johnson had been able to do it.

It was the product of compromise, winding up being a lot less forceful than the civil rights measure the Senate started out to consider. Negroes were unhappy about it, and some were intensely angry at Johnson.

But Southern resistance, which had been able to block every other civil rights bill in this century, was broken and could never be the same again. Thus the 1957 act, less than perfect, was a foot in the door. Other civil rights acts followed.

In those Senate years Johnson, completely on top of domestic problems, was never noted as a foreign affairs authority. He didn't have to be, since foreign affairs bills had been worked over in detail by specialized committees before reaching the Senate for a vote.

Then Johnson moved out of the Senate and into the vice presidency and finally into the presidency where the problems were quite different, as Johnson learned in a hurry, particularly with Vietnam.

For a while time was on his side, letting him still run Congress—now from the White House. The proof was what happened in 1965 after the year-earlier elections gave Democrats overwhelming control of both House and Senate.

In 1965 Congress achieved its most productive year, ramming through a miracle of legislation under Johnson's prodding and maneuvering. He still had time for that. Vietnam was only just beginning to boil over.

Congress tapered off in 1966, mainly perhaps because by then Johnson had become so deeply involved in Vietnam. His difficulties were compounded by the 1966 elections in which Republicans regained 47 seats from the Democrats.

His lack of experience in foreign affairs was one of the biggest monkeys on his back at the very moment expertness was needed in handling the Vietnam war.

Instead of being a master, as he was in Congress, he had to depend on government experts to advise him. Like President John F. Kennedy before him, he was sometimes far from graceful with foreign problems.

And bit by bit, as he got more deeply soaked in foreign affairs, his grip on Congress diminished. He has confessed it without saying it in so many words.

'Think You'd Like To Write Novels?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — So maybe you'd like to write novels and become rich and famous?

Well, listen to this warning from Leon Uris, whose most recent best-seller is "Topaz," and who turned himself from a high school dropout into one of the world's most successful novelists:

"I don't know of any other profession that has the casualty rate that novel writing has. That life in the lonely room gets them.

"Novel writing is a real death trap. It kills off major writers. It burns them out.

"The novelist, in a way, is like a garbage can. He has to expose himself to the filthy, the leprous, the ugly, as part of life. He can't take his eyes away from truth.

"He has to feel these things. And in time they break him down."

Among major novelists Uris feels were burned out by the inexorable requirements of their craft he listed Jack London, Sinclair Lewis, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway and William Faulkner. The key to a novelist's personal survival is balance, he said, adding with a smile: "I never let work interfere with my pleasure."

In actuality, however, the athletically built writer—he's 43, blue-eyed, has iron-gray hair, a sensitive face that breaks into a ready grin when he thinks he has said something too serious—is a man of intense self discipline.

Beginning at the age of six, when he composed an operetta about the death of his dog, a work that never managed to reach Broadway, the Baltimore-born writer turned out hundreds of thousands of unpublished words.

He quit school at 17 to join the U.S. Marines and serve in the Pacific combat theater. After the war he spent eight frustrating years before his first novel," Battle Cry," based on his Marine experiences, found its way into print.

Turned down previously by seven publishers, it has since sold seven million copies and been made into a film. Altogether the six novels by Uris—they include "Exodus" and "Armageddon"—have sold between 1.7 and 20 million copies.

"It took me all my life to become an overnight success," Uris said wryly. "I had a lot of trouble breaking the doors down."

A fluent writer who can zip 100 words a minute out of his typewriter, Lee rewrites each page several times. He likes to ski most of the day in the mountains surrounding his hillside home at Aspen, Colo., then concentrate on his writing between 4 and 7 p.m. in a workshop over his garage.

"Most writers are morning writers," he said. Being a twilight writer has its advantages: I don't have to play parlor games with the kids or help them with their homework."

Uris likes to spend two full years in researching the background of his novels, then writes them in from seven months to a year.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEGENDS

QUESTION: Was there really a battle of Troy?

* * * *

ANSWER: Troy was an actual city, situated, as our map shows, across the Aegean Sea from Greece. Archaeologists, however, have found ruins, not of one city of Troy, but of nine separate Troys. Each new Troy was built on top of one which had been destroyed. As the first Troy was built about 3,000 B.C., it is obvious that there were many battles fought for the control of this important city, which was on the trade route between the Mediterranean ports and rich wheat-growing regions. The most famous battle for Troy was described by the blind Greek poet, Homer, in his epic poems, the "Iliad" and the "Odyssey." These poems combined actual facts and picturesque legends. In Greek mythology, Paris, son of a Trojan king, carried off Helen, the wife of the king of Grecian Sparta. In the war that followed the Greeks tricked the Trojans by constructing a gigantic horse which the Trojans pulled into their city. The horse, however, was actually filled with Greek warriors who swarmed out to conquer the city.

Rugged Cubs Invade Tiger Stadium Tonight

Brownfield's tough Cubs invade Tiger Stadium tonight with high hopes for spoiling Snyder's title chances in the District 3-AAA football race. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

The host Bengals of Coach Wayne Tyrone are 4-0 in district warfare after losing three non-conference games. Brownfield is virtually eliminated from title considerations after dropping decisions to Dunbar (10-17) and to Sweetwater (7-13).

Although the Cubs are 3-5 for the season, they have a better team than the won-loss record indicates. Both loop losses were to teams that are still very much in the thick of the fight for the 3-AAA crown, and neither Sweetwater nor Dunbar could score more than a touchdown victory over Brownfield.

Three common opponents afford a basis for comparison. Andrews blanked the Tigers 28-0 while Brownfield looked a little better, losing 7-20. The Cubs were real impressive with a 24-0 decision over Littlefield while Snyder had to settle for a 7-6 triumph. Snyder was more impressive in its 33-14 waxing of Lake View. The Cubs beat the same team 12-7.

Each team lost three non-district affrays, but both were impressive in losing. Snyder gave Big Spring all it wanted before falling 7-3, and the Cubs held Denver City to a 13-6 decision and lost to Seminole by a 6-14 count.

The Tigers have momentum going for them and the home-field advantage and will be favored slightly on that basis only. Both teams are about equal in returning lettermen.

While Snyder can field a senior line, the Cubs can start letterman at every position in the backfield. Junior quarterback Bobby Craig is a smooth passer, and he makes the Cubs dangerous on option plays. He'll be guiding Coach Charles Keese's slot-T attack.

Perhaps the best runner in the Cub backfield is junior letterman Randel Rogers, a fine halfback, who can also throw the running pass. Senior slot back Randy Douglas, a 174-pounder, is a good blocker and one of the best receivers on the team. Fullback Mike Allen, a hefty 180-pounder, can blast well for short yardage.

Leading the Cub line is Gary Baccus, 177-pound tackle. He has plenty of help from numeral-winning guards Gary Paddock (165) and Lynn Goldston (165) and center John Hare (188). Goldston has been shifted to a tackle position.

Due to a shortage of experience at end, Coach Keese has moved letterman back Gary Jones to one of the flanker positions. The other wingman — Barry Morris — has good size at 190 pounds.

Six of the Cubs double on defense. Another backfield letterman — Calvin Steele (151) contributes experience to one of the cornerback posts.

The Tigers have developed a strong running attack while gaining momentum, although all of the backfield men are juniors.

Raymond Rios (171), the Tiger fullback, has no peer in the league when it comes to digging for that extra yard. He has gained about a 100 yards or more in each district contest. Mitch Rambin, who will open at halfback tonight in place of Efrain Cervantez, won a letter last year but missed most of the action this season due to a back injury. At Littlefield last week, however, he seemed to regain his old form. He gained 94 yards on 14 runs and demonstrated that he is a good aerial target.

Cervantez has a bruised foot and probably will see only limited action, if any. Returning to the flanker back spot after recovering from a wrist fracture is Joe Greer. This will enable Merce Hernandez, 151-pound sophomore, to concentrate on defense at cornerback.

The Tigers also have begun to click in the aerial department with David McGinnis (162) and Steve Holder (155) dividing the quarterback chores. Steve was weakened with a touch of the flu last wek, but played well under the circumstances. McGinnis looked especially good sweeping the ends in the last half at Littlefield. Both boys also are capable defenders — David at cornerback, and Steve at half.

Favorite target for the passes is senior end Frankie Grimmett. Frankie doesn't care how crowded it gets — he can go high to spear a pass.

Good trap blocking by the senior linemen has been an important part in the success of the Bengal running attack. Experience and ability also have made the Tigers extremely difficult to run against.

Such stalwart trench men as Jack Greene, Larry Wadzeck, Bobby Clayton, Tim Mebane, Craig Bell and Grimmett will be ready to open holes again tonight.

Clayton, Grimmett and Mebane are in the front four on defense along with senior Drake Snyder. Linebackers include Bell, Jerry Rains and Ronnie Shields. Joining Holder at halfback is Mike Flynn, another senior.

An outstanding sophomore, Eddie Ray McClain, a tough 165-pounder, also is a rugged defender. O. L. Cooper, who often appears in a starting role at end, and Ricky Glasscock, 165-pound linebacker, also will be ready for battle.

Dwaine Boydstun, senior cornerback, will be back in uniform but probably will see only limited action. Other competent reserves ready for the affray include center Robert Sadler, guards Tommy McDorman and Valvin Garcia, and tackles Vincent Loyola, Chris Headstream and Richard Fredrick.

We think Snyder will keep up its momentum and roll to a 27-13 triumph. But it won't be easy.

Jr. Varsity Closes Out Home Slate

The talented Snyder High School junior varsity football team closes out its home schedule Saturday night in Tiger Stadium. Lamesa will be the foe, and kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Coached by Roy Carter and Jerry McLeod, the Snyder Kittens are 4-4 for the season. They won their last two outings in impressive performances against Stamford.

Injuries to key personnel hampered the Kittens in some earlier games against tougher opponents.

Lamesa holds an earlier 8-0 verdict over the local lads, and the Snyder boys would like to win the rematch. The Kittens close out the season next week at Midland on Thursday night.

Probable starters for Snyder:

Offense: Ends — Jay Thomas and Mike Elkins; tackles — Dennis Carlton and Ray Ellis; guards — Delbert Hirst and Steve Ray; center — Rocky Land; quarterback — Randy Levens; halfbacks — Willis Harrison and Otis Archie; and, fullback — Cliff Voss.

Defense: Ends — Voss and Thomas; tackles — Carlton and Ted Floyd; guards — Jerry McKinney and Phillip Hill; linebackers — Larry Greene and Hirst; halfbacks — Mark Gilstrap and Brent Beall; safety — Harrison.

Whirlwinds Upset Lamar 9th 30-0

LAMESA — Lamesa's freshman football team was a rude host here Thursday night as it scored a stunning 30-0 upset over Lamar's previously undefeated Texans.

The Whirlwinds, with a strong wind to their backs, swept the ends three times for their first score. The last sweep covered 25 years with the runner laterally off to another back.

Lamesa drove in following a short Texan punt later in the period, and the Whirlwinds ran over on the first two extra point trys to take a 16-0 lead in the first period.

The hosts generated a long drive in the second quarter and tallied on a quarterback keeper from the one. The run for bonus points was stopped short as the lead remained at 22-0.

A long drive in the third quarter, capped by a fullback plunge, accounted for the final Lamesa tally. A quarterback sneak gave them the extra points after the last touchdown.

Lamar hit well on defense in the middle two periods, but Lamesa dominated the game. Overall, it was a "below par" performance by the Texans.

Defensively, Kenneth Keller was outstanding for Lamar.

Brahmas Blank Travis 9th, 38-0

BIG SPRING — The Brahmas chalked up three first period tallies and coasted to a 38-0 verdict over Travis 9th grade here Thursday night.

A 19-yard blast over right tackle following a Blue Devil fumble accounted for the first TD. An interception and a 37-yard drive in six plays accounted for the second one. The run for extra points following the first touchdown was stopped short, but another run following the second TD was good as the count went to 14-0.

The Brahamas drove in from 45 yards out for their third touchdown of the initial quarter after the Blue Devils punted three yards into the wind. The successful run for bonus points came on the last play of the quarter.

Midway of the second period, the Big Springers dinted the scoreboard again on a 28 yard run. Another successful bid for bonus points hiked the count to 29-0 at halftime.

The Brahmas netted their final points on a modest third quarter drive and a field goal in the fourth period.

Johnny Mata almost broke loose on a punt return from his 10 to the Brahma 40 in the third quarter, and Travis mounted a long drive to the host one late in the last period.

Mata played well both offensively and defensively. Other defensive standouts included Barry Welsh, Jesse Rios and Billy Guynes.

When Michigan State opened football practice this fall 78 players, including 25 lettermen, were invited to practice.

Lamar 8th Gains Tie With Lamesa

LAMESA — The Lamar 8th grade battled Lamesa 8th grade to a 12-12 tie here Thursday night despite losing the ball eight times on fumbles.

"The game ball was smaller than the one our boys were used to handling, and they had trouble holding onto it," explained Coach Ken McAllister.

The young Texans fumbled the first three times they had possession.

Lamesa's Green Hornets took advantage of a fumble on the Texan 30 early in the first quarter and drove in from that point. The payoff was an end sweep from the 20.

Later in the first quarter, on Lamar's fourth possession, the Texans evened the count on a 55 yard dive play to the left by Terry Arnold.

The second quarter was a defensive battle, but Lamesa cracked the barricade on a dive play to the left that went for 50 yards and gave the hosts a 12-6 halftime advantage.

Snyder held the upper hand in the third quarter and took possession on the Green Hornet 35 when Mike Line turned in a fine defensive play blocking a punt. The Texans drove in from there with Steve Norred slicing over right tackle from the five for the tally early in the fourth quarter.

Neither team could collect extra points, and both of the Lamar attempts were wiped out by fumbles.

A stout Texan defense stalled the Lamesans at the 30 after the Green Hornets came into possession in Lamar territory late in the fourth quarter following another fumble.

Asked who looked good for the Texans on defense, McAllister said: "All of our boys." Arnold was outstanding on offense.

The contest was held on a cold turf with 30 mile-per-hour winds whipping across the field.

Bill Curbs Financing Of Arms Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees have agreed on a $2.67 billion foreign aid authorization that would curb the administration's authority to finance arms sales to foreign nations.

The total authorization for foreign aid this fiscal year would be $730 million below the amount asked by President Johnson if the conference version wins final approval. No action is expected in either house before next week.

Conferees approved alimination next June 30 of the Defense Department's authority to guarantee repayment of Export-Import Bank loans to underdeveloped nations for arms purchases.

Administration officials had argued strenuously before Congress for authority to continue such financing, terming it an intregal part of U.S. foreign policy. They contended U.S. failure to provide such loans would leave the arms supply field to Communist nations.

Runnels, Devils In 14-14 Draw

BIG SPRING — The Travis 8th grade Blue Devils of Snyder, and the Runnels Junior High Yearlings battled to a 14-14 draw here Thursday night in a junior high football game.

The first and fourth quarters of the contest belonged mostly to Runnels, while Travis took charge in the second and third periods. Travis was on the one-foot line when the first half ended, and Runnels was in a similar position when the second half came to a close.

Runnels leaped out to a 14-0 lead, scoring on a 25-yard pass play and returning a punt 80 yards for another six-pointer.

Billy Clayton scored both Travis touchdowns, going over from the six in the second period and from the two in the third quarter. The Travis scores climaxed drives of 62 yards and 63 yards, respectively. Jackie Murray passed to Sammy Harrison for the two bonus points following the first Travis TD, but the try for extra points failed on the second score.

Punting was erratic because of extremely high winds. However, Murray who has had a sensational punting average this year got one that netted some 85 yards while he had the wind going with him. He, Harrison and Clayton were cited for the offensive play in the game, while Nehemiah Guzman looked to advantage receiving punts and kicks under tricky conditions.

Mike Glasscock, who returned to the Blue Devil lineup following an injury, figured in 12 tackles to lead the Blue Devil defense. Albert Hernandez and Gary Durst had 7 tackles each, while Kent Horsley, Lewis Lloyd, Don Durst and Jerry Hardin had 5 each.

The Travis 8th record is now six won, none lost and one tied. They close out their season next Thursday evening in Tiger Stadium when they face the Lamar Texans.

AT LUBBOCK CONVENTION

Baptists Endorse Proposals

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Baptists have endorsed nearly all the proposals advanced by their church's Committee of 100, whose recommendations for organizational reforms stirred long and lively discussion.

This was done Thursday as messengers (delegates) voted to extend the life of the half-preacher, half layman committee for another year.

The Baptist General Convention of Texas likewise adopted a resolution urging national prayers for President Johnson in his responsibility of decision making."

Members of the committee of 100 have been reviewing BGCT agencies, institutions, boards and commissions for the past year. Their chairman is Dr. E. Hermond Westmoreland of South Main Baptist Church in Houston.

Recommendations from this group winning approval seek to:

1. Strengthen the Christian Life commission by enlarging its membership from 12 to 15 persons and expanding its staff.

2. Broaden the work of the convention's public relations department to include guiding churches and associations in area workshops.

3. Induce the executive board to lead in clarifying church soliciations for Baptist colleges.

4. Strengthen the work of the Human Welfare Commission by considering a chaplain program at Texas Medical Center in Houston, the possibility of hiring a clinically trained Spanish-speaking chaplain at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, and urging that Baptist physicians be given staff priority at Baptist hospitals.

5. Step up work of the State Missions Commission along the Rio Grande and expand the program of its evangelism division, particularly in work with military personnel and Baptist laymen.

At the suggestion of the Rev. Travis Berry of San Antonio, the churchmen voted to encourage participation by Negro Baptist churches in work of the denomination at the convention level, rather than the association level proposed by the Committee of 100.

W. J. McDuffee of El Paso, a member of a committee investigating what were described as "Controversial investments" by the BGCT church loan board, said Texas Baptists may show up to $1 million profit from selling properties in California.

Some critics of the board's procedures have held that its transactions should be limited to property intended for eventual use for church development or expansion.

Dr. Westmoreland deplored the remarks from McDuffee "at this time." He said a full report from the loan board was not being made at the current meeting and it was unfortunate that the transactions were brought up now.

"Then cometh shame." Proverbs 11:2.

The seeds of Cain have scattered far,
And so often they spawn war on war
Until most peoples, small or great,
Sometime meet conflict as a fate.
But wherever the nations — or the blame—
With every strife there follows shame.

Near Win For Second W. Churchill

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The second Winston Churchill lost in his political debut Thursday, but gave Britain's Labor government a good scare.

In other special elections for the House of Commons, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's forces suffered stunning defeats in districts previously theirs by large majorities. And 27-year-old Winston Spencer Churchill II came within several hundred votes of making it a clean sweep against the Laborites.

The loss of two seats will have no effect on the government's control of the House of Commons, where the Laborites have a majority of nearly 100 seats. But the unrelieved picture of Labor setbacks showed that disenchantment with the government is strong, chiefly because of wage restraints and the unemployment that has resulted from its austerity program.

The freckle-faced journalist grandson of Britain's wartime leader, who campaigned on charges of broken government promises, increased the Conservative vote in the predominantly working class Manchester district of Gorton from 16,418 last year to 18,682, while the Labor vote dropped from 24,726 to 19,259.

Kenneth Marks, a 46-year-old schoolmaster, defeated Churchill for the seat which had been held since 1954 by Konni Zilliacus, an extreme leftist who died in July. The total vote was unusually heavy for a special election, and Labor's percentage dropped from 60 per cent last year to 46.

Committee Approves Pollution Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persons who spill or discharge oil into water will have to clear up the pollution under a bill approved unanimously Thursday by the Senate Public Works Committee.

The combination water pollution control projects. It also authorizes $15 million for demonstration programs to eliminate acid and alkaline pollution from mining operations.

The provisions affecting oilmen specify that responsibility for cleaning up oil-polluted waters will rest on the persons who discharged the oil. Natural disasters would be an exception.

Women Heard In Diplomatic World

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — When Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt began her career with the United Nations years ago, women were just beginning to be heard in world diplomatic councils. Today they threaten to drown out the men.

Sixty-three women delegates are sitting in the main committees of the General Assembly this year and perhaps two dozen more will speak up in debates on human rights, social welfare and other issues of feminine interest.

The Western world has the larger proportion. There are 30 female envoys from Latin America, Western Europe and the British Commonwealth.

The African group ranks next with 13. The Communist bloc, which has always made a thing of sex equality, is third with 10.

The new influx has not so far produced such famous figures as Mrs. Roosevelt or Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India, the General Assembly's only woman president, in 1953.

The group, however, includes a number of women who have attained note, either as experts in some field or purely as personalities.

Among the best known is Alva Myrdal, wife of the Swedish economist Gunnar Myrdal. She is head of the Swedish delegation to the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva and has made a name in other branches of diplomacy.

An energetic, fresh-looking woman in her mid 60s, Mrs. Myrdal has played a prominent role in U.N. arms debates. She has also been an able negotiator in the East-West fencing over a nuclear test ban. She served five years as Sweden's ambassador to India.

"Disarmament," she said recently, "is my main preoccupation for the foreseeable future."

Most women delegates serve on the assembly's Social Committee which specializes in humanitarian and cultural matters.

"Such issues as political rights or women, discrimination in education and consent to marriage evoke plenty of comments in the debates from our lady delegates," said a veteran ambassador who happens to be a bachelor.

Representing the United States in both the social and legal committees is Patricia Roberts Harris, who had served for two years as ambassador to Luxembourg.

On the permanent delegation of the United States is Eugenie M. Anderson, trim former envoy to Denmark.

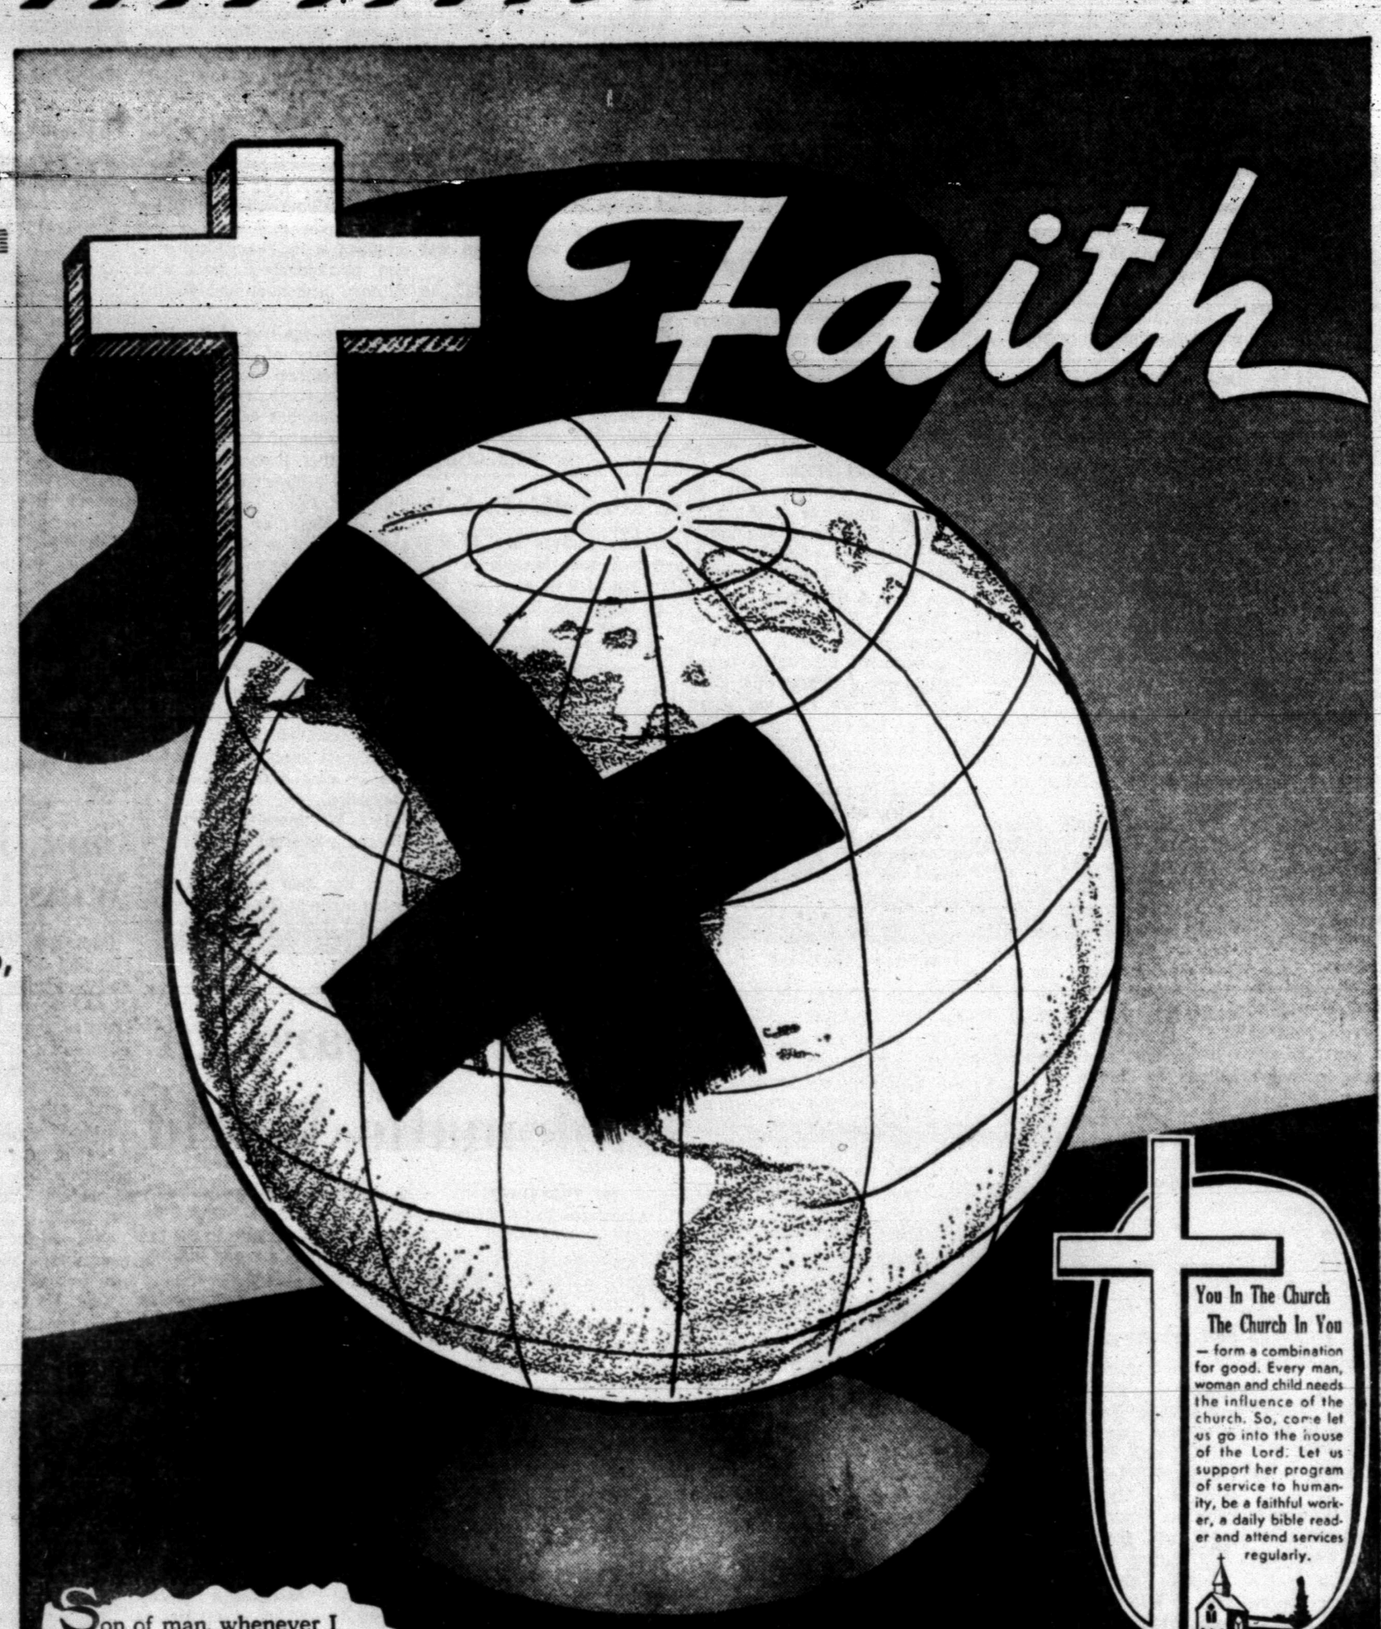
Whosoever Will may come to Church may come to God...



Son of man, whenever I doubt of life I think of Thee." So wrote George Matheson in his blindness.

Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus. His cross is a symbol of what God is and what we may become. The proud Roman at the foot of the cross said, "This man was the son of God."

Jesus was supremely a man of faith. He had great faith in both God and man. We have faith in God largely because we must have Him. We are not sufficient unto ourselves. Do you have faith? Life becomes a radiant thing for people of faith, since they see so much deeper into the secrets of life. The universe opens its heart to eyes of faith; closed doors swing ajar when faithful steps approach; loving spirits smile their welcome to trustworthy souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity; young children and wise old age give themselves with abandon to those who offer confidence. God waits to share His blessings on men who can be trusted. Of the Pilgrims of yesterday, guided by the Divine, it was said, "They were men of faith and very sure of God." Are you sure of God?
