Points On Juices Lowered. Some Soups Cut From List

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP) — Dried or dehydrated soups come off the ration list, most fruit and tomato juices get lower point values and several other changes in processed fruit-vegetable rationing go into effect Sunday morning.

The changes were announced tonight by the Office of Price Administration. Removal of dry soups from the ration list was decided on so late that OPA had distributed sample charts showing a one point per package value for dry soups in packages up to four ounces. These will have to be corrected by storekeepers.

Authorities acted from alarm over reports that wholesale stocks of dry soups had increased 80 per cent in March, due to a spurt in production, and much of stock was in danger of spoiling due to warm weather. In the fall, these soups are expected to be rationed again.

The cuts in juice points, also due to slow sales, affect all popular fruit juices and tomato juices, except pineapple juice, which went up from 13 to 17 points on the popular No. 2 1-2 size can. Other can sizes of pineapple juice remained unchanged.

Grape juice came down from 4 to 2 points for a pint and from 8 to 3 for a quart. Grapefruit and other citrus juices were trimmed in the No. 2 size can from 4 to 3 points, and in the 46 ounce can from 9 to 4 points. Tomato juice was reduced in the No. 2 can size from 12 to 6 points and in the 46 ounce can size from 22 to 11 points. In connection with vegetable juices, OPA removed rationing from all types except tomato juice and vegetable combinations containing 70 per cent or more tomato juice. This freed carrot, sauerkraut, beet and similar juices.

Frozen Products Unchanged

No changes were made in frozen fruits and vegetables, whose values were cut about in half April 22. Baby foods, dry beans and peas also were unaffected.

Among canned fruits, reductions were made on certain can sizes of apples, berries, cherries, peaches, pears, plums and prunes. Increases hit certain sizes of canned apricots, fruit cocktail or salad, and pineapple.

Among vegetables, decreases were ordered on certain sizes of catsup, canned carrots, leafy greens, sauerkraut, spinach, but high points were assigned "vacuum packed corn" (not ordinarily canned corn), and tomato paste. Canned corn on the cob was taken off the ration list, and also freed were canned green turtle soup, clam juice, clam broth and clam juice cocktail, all formerly on the canned soup list.

On G, H and J Coupons

The new values will be applicable to G, H and J coupons in ration Book No. 2, which are valid until the end of May. Officials said they expect no further revisions in point values until then.

New values for red stamps on meat also go into effect Sunday. They generally increase by a point per pound the coupon cost of round steak and center pork chops, leave most other steaks and roasts unchanged, and make one-point per pound reductions for spareribs, brains, tongues and most other variety meats.

A former student at Lamesa High School, where he was a football letterman, Cpl. Everheart was a feed and grain store employee in civilian life. He is married, his wife residing at Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gambill spent Sunday in Lubbock visiting with relatives and friends.

Dailey Brothers Circus Coming Saturday, May 8

The first circus of the season, and probably the last one until after the duration, will exhibit in Lamesa Saturday May 8th. Dailey Bros. Three Ring Circus is the attraction.

Not boasting of its magnitude, the Dailey Circus does insist it is offering an exceptionally good two hour circus entertainment, much of it entirely new. Like most circuses this season the Dailey Circus is showing stands closer together on account of the gas rationing and during the year many towns that have not had a circus for many years, will be entertained by one.

The Dailey Circus is the heaviest and largest and most complete three ring circus moving by truck. Every day hundreds of people come to the show grounds early to see how the big elephants are handled in trucks, horses, camels, zebras, and the balance of the equipment.

The Dailey Circus is absolutely 100 per cent circus, not a carnival in any sense. Its two hour performance is given in three rings, on the hippodrome track and in mid-air, introducing several absolutely new features.

INVASION FRONTS—1:

ITALY—She'd Like To Hide But Can't

(This is the first of two articles on invasion fronts).

By LEWIS HAWKINS
AP Features

LONDON — The question mark that is Italy looms large in invasion talk today though most of the answers have already been given.

It seems obvious that, at least in preliminary stages of the second front, Italy will be a main objective.

It is equally clear, according to assorted military and diplomatic observers, that the great mass of Italy's people and a goodly share of her leaders have one really strong urge in life now — to get out of the war as quickly as possible with a minimum of further bloodshed and destruction.

But the time and exact manner of her going provoke speculations as numerous and varied as the kinds of spaghetti which the Italian loves.

Predictions divide into two main types: (a) that Germany will fight and will make Italy fight for herself, in which case the Mediterranean struggle presumably would be long and hard; (b) that Germany will be inclined to cut Italy away as a liability and then Italy would find some way out with nothing more than perfunctory fighting.

Italy's dependence upon the Nazis for any sort of effective fight is illustrated particularly in air strength and armor.

Integrated With Luftwaffe

According to the best information available, the Italian air force could not currently muster more than 2,000 operational planes and the great majority of these are hopelessly outpied and outgunned by Allied types. Only the Reggiane 2001, a fighter, is regarded as good. The Italians are believed to have not more than a hundred or two of these in service.

In addition, the Italian air force has been integrated so closely with the Luftwaffe in operations and command that it would be almost impossible to separate the Italian units and rework them into an independent fighting force, airmen believe.

In her peak strength army of 60 to 70 divisions Italy never had more than three armored divisions — and the remains of all these are in Tunisia where it seems certain that all heavy equipment ultimately will be lost even if any personnel can be evacuated.

In the naval department, Italy does have men and equipment to put up an effective fight without great German aid.

Unofficial figures set the present Italian fleet at four battleships, 20 cruisers including six carrying eight-inch guns or heavier, 60 destroyers and between 60 and one hundred submarines.

These forces must protect a peninsula with a coastline of about 2,000 miles, and face the almost equally imperative necessity of holding Sicily with its 600 mile coast.

Nature has provided defenses along much of the Italian and Sicilian coasts where mountains rise sheer and menacing almost from the water's edge and harbors for a determined invader to gain footholds.

From one foreign diplomatic source with good contacts inside the Axis comes the report that the Germans are using thousands of workers to build a network of defense positions across the Italian peninsula from the naval base of Spezia on the Mediterranean, through Bologna to Ravenna on the Adriatic, about 150 miles.

This would indicate the German high command is prepared to abandon southern Italy quickly under pressure.

Mediterranean Blockade

When it is suggested that Germany's bitter resistance in Tunisia doesn't indicate any readiness to withdraw into Hitler's European fortress, this source agrees the Tunisian campaign is being fought primarily to hold the Mediterranean blockade lines as long as possible and that when Tunisia is lost the blockade is broken even though Sicily remains in Axis hands.

Even those who believe the Germans are prepared to fall back to the Bologna line across Italy think a series of delaying actions will be fought on Sicily, along the Italian coasts and on Sardinia and Corsica.

Men who know Italy from long residence and keep in touch with her respite war's barriers believe that when war comes to their homeland Italians will fight only as long as German pressure makes surrender more dangerous than continued battle.

This belief based on the generally accepted fact that the war never was a popular one in Italy and that she already has suffered heavily.

Her losses in manpower cannot be estimated with greater accuracy but the British know they have captured 300,000 of her soldiers — including a hundred generals — and killed and wounded 200,000 more in the African campaigns. Russian estimates are that 175,000 Fascists have been killed or captured on the Soviet front.

One official describes Italians, insofar as this war is concerned, as "sentimental pragmatists." They are pragmatic in the sense that they want a practical means out of the war with a minimum of damage and they are sentimentalists about their ancient cities, particularly Rome, and would rather see them temporarily under a foreign conqueror than smashed by modern warfare.

Those who feel this way are believed to include many near Mussolini, and would be willing to re-

30 MEN DO ONE'S WORK; SPEEDS WAR PRODUCTION

TOLEDO (AP) — Putting 30 men to work on a job that one man could do doesn't sound like modern production economy in these days of manpower shortage, but the experience of a motor company here was an exception that proved the rule.

It came about this way: Willys-Overland Motors received an order to produce gun parts for the Army. Studies indicated that after machine operations, it would take about 30 hours of an expert toolmaker's time to do the hand-announce the form of Fascism for an opportunity to set up a transitional government to secure peace. Dino Grandi is one such man, it is thought; Galeazzo Ciano might be another.

It is believed that in return for a chance to participate in such a peace, many Fascist leaders would even facilitate passage of United Nations forces through the Adriatic and into Dalmatia from where they could strike at the vulnerable Balkan flank of Germany.

finish filing job required on each gun.

Because of the difficulties of obtaining expert tool-makers and the fact that five years are required to train one, Willys engineers broke the operation down and trained thirty men to do a small part of the total filing in an hour.

Since it was always the same part he was trained to file, each of the workers became very proficient on the operation in 30 days, and the problem was licked.

Ration Book No. 3 Will Be Mailed During May-June

Forms to be used in applying for war ration book No. 3, will be placed in every mail box by postmen between May 20 and June 5, according to information received by Lubbock OPA office.

One form may be used by an individual or an entire family. The forms are to be pre-addressed to OPA mailing centers, which are to be set up in 35 strategic locations in the country.

Forms are to be mailed to the centers between June 1 and 10 and books are to be distributed beginning in late June and ending July 21.

School house registrations were conducted for ration book No. 1, used for sugar, coffee and shoes, and book 2, used for processed foods and meats and fats.

Replacement Book

The OPA said the new book would be a replacement book containing stamps to take the place of those now being used. The book will contain both "unit" stamps of the type in book No. 1 and point stamps like those in book No. 2. The "unit" stamps will be used for coffee, sugar and shoes when stamps in book No. 1 have been used in the fall.

Although book No. 4, now being drafted, will contain red and blue point stamps for use in processed foods and meats and fats rationing, the point stamps in book No. 3 will "tide consumers over" in event of delay in distribution of Book 4, the announcement said.

Short Course May 24-28 For Oil Mill Operators

The 15th annual Short Course for Cottonseed Oil Mill Operators will be held at College Station, May 24-28, according to F. F. Bishop, professor in the Chemical Engineering Department of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and director of the short course.

These short courses are designed mainly for superintendents of cotton oil mills. An attendance of 100 is expected for 1943 event. While the majority of these will be from Texas mills, registration at the 1942 short course showed participants from eight additional states.

Due to the critical shortage that has existed for several months in protein concentrates for feeding livestock and poultry, and other changes from the normal due to the war emergency, Mr. Bishop states the past season has brought many new problems for oil mill operators.

The 1943 meeting will be streamlined throughout. According to the tentative program, the forenoon session of May 24 will carry an open forum on peanut and soybean crushing. That afternoon and through May 25, the time will be given to milling operations of peanuts and soybeans. Scheduled for May 26-28 are the delinting and crushing of cottonseed. In the crushing operations, special attention will be given to meal cooking methods developed by Dr. Carl Lyman of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The annual dinner is scheduled for the evening of May 27, to be

Motorists Urged To Endorse All Gasoline Coupons

Motorists in Dawson County are urged by the War Price and Rationing Board to endorse their gasoline coupons in advance and thus avoid the inconvenience and delay, both to them and to their dealers, of having to do so at the filling station when they buy gasoline.

Failure to make the proper notations on the back of coupons before gasoline is delivered constitutes a violation of the mileage rationing regulations.

License numbers and the abbreviation of the state should be written on the backs of all coupons before going to the station, or when the book is issued. This will save the time of the motorists and the attendants who must otherwise take the time to do this for each transaction. Without this endorsement, the filling stations are not to accept coupons.

While this write-in requirement may seem burdensome, it is a valuable weapon in the hands of the Office of Price Administration in combating black market gasoline transactions. The endorsement is our only check on dealer practices.

We must remember the reason for gasoline rationing—to conserve our tires by controlling mileage, to make them last until new ones can be produced. We must not overlook any means of safeguarding the mileage available in our tires for those who need car transportation in doing essential war jobs."

Write S. S. Board For Numbers, Not Post Office

"Social security account numbers are assigned by the Social Security Board only—not by the Post Office Department," Elliott W. Adams, manager of the Big Spring office of the Social Security Board said today.

"Postmaster Owen Taylor of Lamesa, during a conversation with me a day or two ago said that considerable time was consumed daily by members of his staff remailing to the Social Security Board applications for account numbers that had been erroneously sent to the Post Office," Adams explained.

Applicants for account numbers are urged to forward their applications directly to the Social Security Board in the Petroleum Building at Big Spring, and thus save time consumed in the issuance of their numbers and also, by avoiding manpower waste, help the Post Office maintain its splendid services during these trying war days.

Adams also pointed out that, "Applications for original or duplicate Social Security account numbers should not be sent to the Bureau of Internal Revenue." Although instructions at the bottom of the application specifically direct that it be mailed to the nearest Social Security Board office, a large number of them are being sent to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, resulting in delay in the issuance of the cards and extra handling of the applications.

Employers were warned not to hold applications completed by their employees until time for filing the quarterly informational return, but to mail them to the Social Security Board at once so the cards may be issued and returned to the employees.

A Soldier Speaks

Editors Note: The following poem was included in a recent letter received by Mrs. A. S. Riddle, Rt. B Lamesa, from her son, Pfc. Lester L. Riddle, at Camp Barkeley, Texas. The author is unknown. We thought it worthy of publication and pass it on to you.

So you're sick of the way the country's run,
And you're sick of the way the rationing's done,
And you're sick of standing around in a line,
You're sick, you say, that's just fine
So am I sick of the sun and the heat,
And I'm sick of the feel of my aching feet,
And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies,
And I'm sick of the trench when the night mist rise
And I'm sick of the siren's wailing shriek,
And I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak,
And I'm sick of the sound of the bombers dive,
And I'm sick of seeing the dead alive
I'm sick of the roar and the noise of the din,
I'm sick of the taste of food from a tin,
And I'm sick of the slaughter—I'm sick to my soul,
I'm sick of playing a killer's role,
And I'm sick of blood and of death and the smell,
And I'm even sick of myself as well,
But I'm sicker still of a tyrant's rule,
And conquered lands where the wild beasts drool,
And I'm cured dam quick when I think of the day,
When all this hell will be out of the way,
And none of this mess will have been in vain,
And the lights of the world will blaze again,
And things will be as they were before,

HUNTER'S HOBBY IS COYOTES

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Vernon Lammin, 22, whose hobby is stalking predatory coyotes on western rangelands, has killed more than 200 of them in four years.

That's a high score for a veteran hunter; still better for a fellow who started when he was 18 years old.

Recently Lammin shot 14 coyotes in 14 days. He uses a .270 caliber rifle with telescopic sight, a pair of binoculars and a hunting knife. Unlike many other hunters who spot their prey by airplane or from an automobile, Lammin stalks his coyotes on foot. It's much more difficult to get within shooting range on foot.

Besides the fun he has had from his hobby, Lammin says he has sold each of the pelts for an average of $10.

And kids will laugh in the street once more.
And the Axis flag's will be dipped and furled,
And God looks down on a peaceful world once more.

'THIS,' SAID SOLDIER 'IS JUST TOO SUDDEN'

AN ALASKAN ARMY BASE (AP) — Don't send Sergeant Wilbur Jones (that isn't his name) any more fixed-text telegraphic messages, because he doesn't trust them. Sergeant Jones 17 months in Alaska, recently received army fixed-text message number 85 from his wife. After 36 hours, a correction was made. What Mrs. Jones had sent was message number 35.

The texts: No. 85—"son born"; No. 35—"All my love, darling."
