State Redistricting Decision Awaited

HOUSTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice John Marshal Harlan was expected to consider today a motion to set aside a congressional redistricting postponement ordered last week by a three-judge federal court.

The same motion was denied Tuesday by Associate Justice Hugo Black of the Supreme Court.

Tom Higgins, an Austin attorney, then took the motion to Justice Harlan.

Higgins said from Washington he would go before other members of the Washington court if Harlan denies the motion.

Bob Looney, a Houston attorney who also is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congressman - at - large, joined with Higgins in filing the petition.

Last Wednesday the Houston court stayed execution of its Oct. 19 order until Jan. 11 but gave attorneys until 11 a.m. Tuesday to appeal.

The three judges voted 2-1 last Oct. 19 the Texas statute on congressional districting was unconstitutional in that it favored rural areas over urban areas.

The majority opinion said "population and nothing else" should determine the size of a congressional district.

The Supreme Court upheld the order but gave state officials until April 1 to seek relief from the Houston court.

The Oct. 19 order said Texas must not elect any more congressmen under the invalid statute. It directed the state redistrict immediately or elect all 23 congressmen this year on an at-large basis.

Last Wednesday's order set an Aug. 1, 1965, deadline for the state legislature to redistrict.

Johnson Takes Steps To Avert Walkout

(AP Wirephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson directed Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to set up a labor - management conference tonight in an effort to avert a threatened nationwide rail strike.

Wirtz, after a midday White House meeting with Johnson, called a conference for 8 p.m.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, announced the decision. He said he did not know whether the evening session would take place at the White House or at the Labor Department.

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads said today they will put into effect Friday new work rules and labor leaders predicted a nationwide tieup of rail transportation.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the national railway labor conference, said in Washington that the rules changes, center of a five-year controversy, were being enforced in response to a strike begun early today by four operating unions against the Illinois Central Railroad.

His statement said:

"The operating unions' assault on the public, launched without warning in the dark of night against the Illinois Central and its customers, is typical of the unions' continued irresponsibility in the featherbedding dispute. As neither the public nor the industry can tolerate this guerrilla warfare, the railroads plan to post their revised rules, as affirmed by the U.S. Supreme Court, at 12:01 a.m. Friday, April 10."

Informed of the announcement, A. F. Zimmerman, spokesman for the unions, said, "This would amount to a national lockout and we have only one defense — to cease working.

"The employes won't work under these rules."

Zimmerman is assistant grand chief engineer, vice president, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He said he was speaking for his union and the three other labor organizations of on-train personnel: the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The dispute centers around what the railroads call "featherbedding"—work rules that rail officials contend cost them $600 million annually.

A similar strike was threatened last summer, but Congress passed the first compulsory arbitration law in the nation's history and created a special arbitration panel directed to solve two central issues in the dispute — whether firemen are needed on freight and yard engines and the makeup of train crews.

The panel said the railroads could eliminate gradually up to 90 per cent of firemen on diesel engines in freight and yard service, and set up procedures for local, binding arbitration on the question of makeup of train crews.

The unions appealed this award to the courts, but the railroads were upheld last March 4 unanimously by the Supreme Court.

In Buffalo, N.Y., Neil P. Speirs, president of the 18,000-member Switchmen's Union of North America, said chief executives of the railroad unions undoubtedly would meet before Friday to determine what action they will take.

"It would be our position that the carriers by promulgating these rules are themselves precipitating the possibility of a nationwide strike," he said.

MINISTER DIES IN DEMONSTRATION

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland faced its second racial crisis in less than three months today in the wake of a civil rights demonstration that left a Presbyterian minister dead and touched off an all-night wave of rioting and violence.

Civil rights leaders, whose demonstration Tuesday halted construction at an East Side school site, scheduled a noon demonstration at the Board of Education's downtown office building.

The Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, 27-year-old white minister, was crushed to death under a bulldozer during the demonstration at the school site in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Fifteen other persons, 10 of them policemen, were injured. Car and store windows were smashed. Police arrested 26 persons, including four juveniles accused of throwing rocks.

Police and civil rights leaders appealed without success to the crowd, which swelled to more than 3,000 to disperse.

Time and again during the afternoon and early evening, mounted police charged into groups that gathered to hurl taunts and missiles, sending demonstrators scurrying behind buildings along Lakeview Road.

A few hours before he threw himself into the mud behind the bulldozer, the Rev. Mr. Klunder had told another minister he was prepared to risk his life for civil rights.

The bulldozer driver, John White, 33, of Mentor, told police he saw three people "throw themselves down in front of me. There were two girls and a man.

"I kept my shovel up because I didn't want to hit anybody with it," White said. "The shovel was hanging over those people so I backed up. I didn't know another man was lying behind me.

"I backed up all the way over him, and that was the first I knew I had run over anybody." The tread of the bulldozer passed over the minister's shoulders.

Storm Cleanup And Aid Pushed For Victims

Clean-up operations in the wake of Friday's fatal tornado lapsed into routine here Wednesday as machinery for administering to the twister's victims meshed smoothly.

Contributions to a Red Cross disaster fund amounted to about $1,300 Wednesday as donations from as far away as Canyon, Brownwood and Denton arrived with those from throughout the immediate Wichita Falls area. Money from this fund will be used to give financial aid to the 585 families affected by the tornado. Contributions to either the Red Cross disaster fund or a similar one by the Salvation Army may be made by addressing donations to the Red Cross, disaster headquarters, Seventh and Scott, or the Salvation Army, 810 Seventh.

Red Cross assistance is given as an outright gift. The Small Business Administration has opened an office in the second floor of the disaster headquarters at Seventh and Scott to help victims and officials of the Internal Revenue Service here have offered personal help in filing tax returns or adjustments at the IRS office in Parker Square Bank Building.

Twenty-year loans bearing 3 per cent interest are available to some of the storm's victims through the Small Business Administration.

No complete estimated of the damage left in the wake of Friday's tornado was available. The National Board of Fire Underwriters has estimated an insured civilian loss of $2.4 million.

City Elects Five Officials

By CARROLL COPELIN

In one of the closest municipal elections in recent years, 10,521 Wichitans turned out Tuesday to select Winston Wallander as mayor and Kenneth Hill, Leroy Daniel, Pete Claytor and Cletus Schenk as aldermen.

The results of Tuesday's election shattered the hopes of a five-man slate which had campaigned for the available Council posts. Wallander, Daniel and Claytor were the three members of the slate elected while Harry Campsey and A. J. Otte were defeated by independent candidates.

Wallander, whom unofficial returns showed defeating veteran municipal candidate K. C. Spell by 575 votes — 5,548 to 4,973, carried 14 of the city's 33 boxes while Spell, a veteran of three previous terms on the Council, carried the remaining 19.

Daniel, unopposed in his bid for the year remaining of the Council's Place 1 seat, vacated by Wallander, received 9,804 votes.

Claytor, the only Council incumbent seeking re-election, scored the largest victory margin of all the candidates as he piled up a 1,673 margin over his Place 5 opponent, Mrs. Joyce McDowell, the only woman in the city election. Claytor received 5,992 votes while Mrs. McDowell garnered a respectable 4,319.

Cletus Schenk, a Wichita Falls lawyer making his initial bid at municipal politics, emerged victorious in a close four - man race for Place 6 on the Council as he won by 233 votes over his nearest opponent, Edwin (Ed) Baggett.

Schenk received 2,934 votes to Baggett's 2,701. Trailing these

U.S. Fires Gemini Rocket Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —An unmanned project Gemini capsule rocketed into orbit today, scoring a resounding success for the United States on the opening shot of its second man-in-space program.

The flight marked a major milestone in the program, and bolstered hopes that the first team of two Gemini astronauts will ride side by side into orbit late this year.

A second, more sophisticated unmanned shot scheduled in the summer will be a determining factor in reaching that goal.

The nation's 29 astronauts and many key space officials observed today's critical firing.

A powerful Titan 2 rocket, which, until today, was fired only in military weapons tests, provided the thrust to hurl the two-seat spacecraft into orbit.

It blasted away from its launching pad, after a perfect countdown, at 11 a.m. on the 430,000-pounds of thrust generated by its first-stage engine, and pitched over gradually on a southeast heading.

Its hypergolic fuels emitted a rose-colored glow of hot gases, instead of the tail of bright flame characteristic of most rockets.

Because of the test nature of the shot, the burned out second stage was not to separate and the entire assembly, weighing 11,500 pounds, was to orbit the earth.

Officials expect the payload to orbit the earth for anywhere from several hours to several weeks.

The flight was to tell engineers about structural integrity of the spacecraft, temperatures, pressures, vibration and noise which will affect it; ability of the Titan 2 to steer the craft into a precise orbit, and aerodynamic compatibility of the rocket-capsule combination.

A major concern was whether modification of the rocket had eliminated vibration in the powered-flight stage that did effect it as a military weapon booster but might interfere with human activity at a crucial point.

Cancer Claims Baseball Star

HOUSTON (AP) — Jim Umbricht, big Houston colt right-handed pitcher who last year made a remarkable comeback after having a malignant tumor removed, died today of cancer.

Umbricht, 33, last entered a hospital March 16. Attendants at the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute had declined comment on his condition.

A high official of the National League Colts said there had been an agreement the Colts, the doctors and the family would say nothing about Umbricht's condition. It was known, however, that death was expected within hours or days.

Slippery Runways Plague Airliners

NEW YORK (AP) — An airliner skidded off a wet runway today in the third such mishap in little more than 12 hours at New York City airports.

There were no fatalities among the 228 persons aboard the planes, but about 40 were injured in the first mishap shortly before midnight.

An El Al Israel Boeing 707 jet liner on a ferry flight from Philadelphia went off the far end of a runway at the John F. Kennedy International Airport at 11:36 a.m. Only five persons were aboard, all crew members.

Only about two hours earlier, a plane with 78 persons aboard similarly went off the end of a runway at neighboring LaGuardia Airport.

A jet airliner carrying 136 passengers and crew of nine bounded into a swamp Tuesday night at Kennedy Airport injuring 40 persons.

The plane at La Guardia was an American Airlines craft, Flight 400, inbound from Buffalo, N.Y., at 9:45 a.m. with 73 passengers and a crew of five.

Airport authorities said the plane apparently skidded on the wet runway. The weather was hazy.

All aboard escaped injury, but a construction worker on the ground was hit by flying debris, Capt. Thomas Coffey of the Port Authority police reported.

The passengers were removed and the plane taken to a hangar.

Calm Spring Day Predicted Here

Forecasters at the U.S. Weather Bureau were happy to be able to predict Wednesday that calm spring weather will prevail for the next few days.

The temperatures Wednesday were expected to climb to around 70 degrees from a chilly morning minimum of 35. Winds were mild and southerly and skies were generally fair.

These conditions will prevail at least through Thursday. The expected low Thursday is 42 and the high should be in the 70s.

The five-day outlook calls for a slow warming trend with the possibility of some occasional rain this weekend.

The body of MacArthur, who helped make history in two world wars and Korea, will lie in state today and Thursday in the rotunda of the Capitol in Washington. Then it will be flown to Norfolk, Va., for final services and burial Saturday.

President Johnson will meet the funeral train in Washington. Government workers in Washington were given time off to watch the procession to the Capitol.

Wholesalers Plan Drive

"Have a cup of coffee on me" is the theme of planned customer contact literature discussed Wednesday morning by the wholesale trade development group at their regular monthly meeting at Action Hall.

The literature discussed would be in the form of a greeting card with a message reading, "Would like to have a cup of coffee with you, but since I can't make it, here's a new dime. Have a cup on me."

These cards would be sent to customers and potential customers in the Wichita Falls trade area.

Ray King reported to the group on a seminar to be held in Wichita Falls on business insurance and tax problems. Specialist in these fields will conduct the seminar.

Another matter brought before the group was the possibility of a Wichita Ralls trade show. This idea was discussed at length and then tabled for further discussion at the next meeting.

In cooperation with Southwestern Bell Telphone Company, the action group distributed some 700 telephone directories to wholesalers, who in turn passed them out to their customers in the trade area. The directories had special stickers urging out-of-town buyers to shop Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls Businessmen Make Visit To Burkburnett

By LARRY GRAUERHOLZ

The downtown section of Burkburnett was visited Wednesday morning by a group of Wichita Falls businessmen, the chamber of commerce area relations group. The visit to "Boomtown" was one of a series of monthly trips planned to cities in the Wichita Falls wholesale area.

The group was met at the office of Texas Electric Service Company in Burkburnett by Jerry L. Thomas, president of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce, and other members of the organization.

First stop for the contingent of visitors and members of the host chamber of commerce was the Gun Shop, operated by F. Reid McCandless and his wife at 219 E. Main in Burkburnett.

McCandless, an instructor at Sheppard Air Force Base, has been a collector and dealer for several years and has an extensive stock of new, used and antique guns, Indian relics and coins.

Thomas described the Gun Shop as a business rarity in a city the size of Burkburnett.

Bank Visited

The delegation than visited the First National Bank of Burkburnett where Thomas, vice president and cashier of the institution, provided the group with a tour of the building, remodeled in 1962. At the beginning of this year, the bank had deposits of more than $6,625,000; it has shown a firm growth since it was organized in 1907. A. R. Hill is president of the bank and James E. Frye, mayor of Burkburnett, is vice president.

The First Savings & Loan Association, which moved into a new building in 1960, was visited next. Albert Dillard, executive vice president, conducted an inspection.

The group circled the block to visit the office and plant of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Floyd Marten, Burkburnett manager, conducted a tour of the installation which was doubled in size during the past year.

Burkburnett telephone directories were distributed to members of the group. Cover of the directory depicts the city during its boomtown era in the early 1920's. Burkburnett's boom began with the discovery wildcat, the Fowler Well, in 1919 and there were more than 1,500 oil wells within the original townsite during the peak period. The city was founded in 1907.

After a tour of the telephone plant, the group visited the office of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce, where Manager Buddy Byars explained the function of the chamber and explained the services available. The Burkburnett C-C has as its slogan, "Burkburnett, Geared for Growth."

Other Projects

From the chamber office, the group returned to the Reddy Room of Texas Electric for doughnuts and coffee. Thomas described other projects the city is proud of—such as the $3 million high school system, a new clinic, and a rest home under construction. He expressed the belief that completion of the new expressway would aid both Burkburnett and Wichita Falls by providing a means of easy and safer transportation.

Wichita Falls citizens who made the trip included Howard Morgan, C-C area relations chairman; Bill Bass, project chairman; Bill Dennis, Ham Vance, Charles Rippy, John Kosanke, Glenn W. Dixon, N. A. Moore Jr., Keith Summers, Bob McCathren, and representatives of news media.

Burkburnett businessmen who entertained the visitors included Thomas, Frye, Marten, Joe Salter, chairman of the Burkburnett industrial foundation; Virgil Mills, Joe Wolf, Winston Freeman and Bill Donnell.

Teachers Threaten Walkout At Detroit

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP)—A three-way dispute involving Detroit's Board of Education and rival schoolteacher organizations is threatening to explode into picket lines and the mass firing of teachers.

At issue is the question of collective bargaining methods and rights for some 10,000 public school teachers.

The struggle pits the AFL-CIO Detroit Federation of Teachers against the Detroit Education Association, an affiliate of the National Education Association. It parallels similar disputes in other cities, including Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and New York.

Showdown Vote

In Milwaukee, a showdown vote in a collective bargaining election recently brought victory for the Teachers Education Association over the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers.

The 605-vote defeat for the federation was a blow to Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, who headed the AFL-CIO drive to unionize the teachers in the basic philosophical clash with the National Education Association.

Reuther contends the association — which considers itself a professional organization rather than a union—neglects the economic well-being of the teacher and concentrates on school administration problems.

NEA Stand

National Education Association spokesmen, however, say their organization is interested in both but believes in taking what they call "sanctions" rather than strike action to gain improved standards for teachers. Sanctions can include refusal to sign annual contracts.

A Michigan law bans strikes by public employes and until recently it was interpreted as prohibiting the naming of any one bargaining agent for them.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley reaffirmed the strike ban in a new opinion issued last month but said the board could, in its discretion, deal with a single organization representing the teachers.

Hutchinson Act

Under the law, known as the Hutchinson Act, any government employe who engages in a walkout "shall thereby abandon and terminate his appointment or employment and shall no longer hold such position."

The dismissed employe could be rehired, but only with the loss of pension and seniority rights, with no pay raise for one year and with probationary status for two years.

Despite the penalties, the Detroit Federation of Teachers voted 2,109-387 to strike if the Board of Education does not back down in its refusal to hold a collective bargaining election. It set April 15 as the strike date.

The union presented the board with petitions last May requesting the election. Nearly 7,000 teachers had signed.

Not Idle Threat

"We want an election and a contract, and unless we gain these fundamental rights, a strike appears inevitable," says Mrs. Mary Ellen Riordan, federation president. "This strike isn't just talk—we'll go through with it if we have to."

The strike vote was deplored by the rival Detroit Education Association, which challenges the federation's claim that its membership represents a majority of the Detroit teachers.

The Board of Education has a plan it says may solve the dispute. Under the proposal, teachers would be represented jointly by delegates from the two organizations on an 11-member bargaining panel to be called the Teachers Representative Committee.

Deadlock

In case of a deadlock, a conference committee would be appointed. If that failed, a special mediation committee would take over.

The plan is similar to one which has been in effect for about a year in the Detroit suburb of Dearborn.

Spokesmen for both sides have some criticism of the Dearborn system but are continuing to go along with it in what, in effect, is a truce between the rival groups.

In both the Dearborn plan and the Detroit proposal there is a stipulation that individual teachers have the right to process or handle their own disputes individually. No teacher is to be required to become a member of either organization.

Public Opinion

77 Pct. Of Public Approve Of Way Johnson Is Handling Job

GALLUP

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J. — With the election only seven months away, President Johnson maintains the high level of popularity with which he began his term of office.

In the latest survey, 77 per cent say they approve of the way Johnson is handling his job as President, compared with 73 per cent in March and 75 per cent in February.

An important factor behind the President's high rating nationwide is his popularity in all regions of the country, including the South, where 75 per cent approve.

To date, the Civil Rights issue has had little effect on the President's popularity. By way of comparison, in June 1963, at the height of racial tensions in the South, only 33 per cent of Southerners approved of the job being done by President Kennedy.

The Gallup Poll assigned its staff of interviewers to repeat a question which has been asked at regular intervals since early New Deal days:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the way Johnson is handling his job as President?"

The latest nationwide findings and the trend since December:

	Today	Mar.	Feb.	Jan.	Dec.
	Per cent
Approve	77	73	75	80	79
Disapprove	9	9	8	5	3
No opin.	14	18	17	15	18

The results by section of the country:

MIDWEST	Per cent

SOUTH	Per cent

Not Same As Vote

The proportion of persons who approve of the job being done by the President should not be confused with the vote he would likely get if an election were held at the time of the survey. While a large majority of Republicans, as today's report shows, say they believe Johnson is doing a good job, this does not necessarily mean they would vote for him instead of their own party's candidate.

Eisenhower In 1956

At exactly the same point before the election of 1956, President Eisenhower's popularity was equaly high (76 per cent). Eisenhower went on to win 58 per cent of the popular vote in his landslide victory that November.

Truman In 1948

Seven months before the election of 1948, President Truman's popularity was at 36 per cent. In the election, he received approximately 50 per cent of all the popular votes cast.

Today's vote by political affiliation:

Various biographies give Miss Dietrich's age between 54 and 62.

Dallas' Love Field Wins Crucial Round

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Love Field, a $40 million airport that served 1.7 million enplaning passengers last year, got a crucial green light Tuesday when a Civil Aeronautics Board examiner ruled against a single regional air facility for the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The CAB had under investigation the possibility of designating the Greater Southwest International Airport (formerly Fort Worth's Amon Carter field) as the commercial air center for north central Texas.

Such a move would have sounded the death knell for Love Field.

Examiner Ross I. Newmann's finding may be accepted or reviewed by the board.

Greater Southwest International, valued unofficially at some $20 million, lies about midway between Dallas and Fort Worth. Love Field, inside the Dallas city limits, is only 15 minutes from downtown Dallas.

Dallas City Manager Elgin Crull said the examiner's decision "justified the faith of the people of Dallas in our airport."

But Fort Worth City Manager J. L. Brownlee said he was disappointed with the ruling.

"The examiner recognized that Dallas and Fort Worth must have a more adequate airport to meet their future needs," Brownlee said. "This has been Fort Worth's basic contention." He added:

"Fort Worth continues to stand ready to cooperate with Dallas in solving the problem... until it is solved, we can expect that the Fort Worth-Dallas area will lose in its transportation capabilities to Houston and other air centers in the mid-continent area."

Of the 3.6 million passengers that enplaned last year at commercial airports in Texas, nearly half of them boarded planes at Love Field.

CAB and Federal Aviation Agency figures show that the Fort Worth airport served 77,000 enplaning passengers last year.

The second busiest Texas airport is at Houston, with 777,000 —almost a million behind Love Field—enplaning in fiscal 1963. Next come San Antonio with 260,000 and El Paso with 206,000.

Examiner Newmann said the entire Dallas-Fort Worth area must be carefully scrutinized so that a regional airport can possibly be established at an agreed-on site in the future.

Wallace Scores 'Moral Victory' In Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who said he would "shake the eye teeth" of both parties' leaders if he attracted more than 25,000 Wisconsin votes in his campaign against the civil rights bill, won 10 times that many in Tuesday's presidential primary.

"In final unofficial returns, with 3,489 of the state's 3,552 precincts reporting, the vote was:

Reynolds (D) 508,597
Wallace (D) 261,148
Byrnes (R) 294,724

But Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, who headed a favorite - son delegation as the personal choice of President Johnson, won all of the state's 46 Democratic National Convention votes. In the process, Reynolds topped the late President John F. Kennedy's record for the most votes ever won by a Democrat in the primary test.

The Southern segregationist's triumphant assertion that winning nearly one-fourth of the total vote cast in the traditionally progressive Badger state constituted a grass roots referendum that "will send a good message both to the Congress and to the two national parties" was immediately challenged by the other principals.

Four years ago, Kennedy won a majority of the delegates and a head start on the road to the White House when he whipped Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in a similar primary, 476,024 to 366,753. Richard M. Nixon, unopposed in 1960 as Byrnes was Tuesday, trailed with 339,383, but carried the state in the general election, 895,175 to 830,805.

Tuesday's vote total, however, was short of the 1960 record of 1.2 million.

Johnson Speaks At Labor Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told a labor meeting Tuesday night that "the government has but one purpose —the greates good for the greatest number."

Johnson made the comment in a surprise appearance before a dinner meeting of the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO. Earlier, he turned up at a National Press Club reception where newsmen were saluting White House press secretary George Reedy.

In brief remarks, Johnson told the union meeting: "We have much to protect and much to preserve and we are going to do that through the free collective bargaining system."

The labor meeting was called by Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Reuther is president of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department and Carey is secretary-treasurer.

Johnson had not been scheduled as a speaker. Just before he made his appearance, it was announced that there was a quorum call in the Senate and senators who were attending the dinner immediately left.

The assistant Senate Democratic leader, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, was to have been one of the main speakers.

Driver's Appeal Motion Overruled

A motion for a rehearing before the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin was overruled Wednesday in the case of Gene Ray Ritchie.

Found guilty by a Wichita County jury June 11, 1963, of driving while intoxicated, Ritchie filed, through his lawyer, Gene Richie (no relation), an appeal with the high court. A transcript of the trial here was mailed to the court in Austin, Dec. 23, 1963.

Action by the Court of Criminal Appeals thus upholds the conviction by the Wichita County jury, that set his punishment at three days in the county jail and $50 plus costs.

The charge against Ritchie was first filed Dec. 27, 1962.

CITY ELECTION—

two were A. J. Otte, with 2,544; and James Williams, the second Negro in the city's history to be a serious Council candidate, with 2,158.

Voting in Tuesday's election got off to a slow start with just over 2,200 votes cast by 1 p.m. — six hours after polls had opened. Thousands of Wichitans crowded into the polling sites after 5 p.m. to boost the total turnout to 10,521 before voting ceased at 7 p.m.

Claytor, in emerging victorious, carried 20 of 33 boxes. Schenk carried 19 boxes and tied in another in notching his victory.

Winners in Tuesday's election will be sworn in at Monday's 7:30 p.m. session of the Council at Memorial Auditorium. Prior to being given their oaths of office, the present Council will make an official canvass of the vote and certify the victors.

Then Don Wade will turn over the Place 6 seat he has held for two years to Schenk; Hill will be seated at the Place 1 position; Wallander will be seated by outgoing Mayor John Gavin; Dr. Al T. Witcher, mayor protem, will offer his Place 4 seat to Dahiel; and Claytor will continue to sit.

Following the announcement of the complete returns Tuesday night, Wallander said, "I am both proud and humble that the people of Wichita Falls elected me as mayor. I feel good about two independents winning in the Council races, and know that the election reflects the wishes of the people and democracy at work.

"I know all the candidates who were elected will be working for good government and the best efficient, progressive government in Wichita Falls."

Hill, virtually unknown in municipal circles until his victory Tuesday night, said, "I feel highly honored that the people of Wichita Falls have chosen me to represent them and I intend to do my best to represent all citizens in my efforts for honest, fair and efficient municipal government."

Daniel voiced optimism about the city's future growth Tuesday night, saying, "It's a privilege to be able to serve the citizens of Wichita Falls and I'm certain we can work together to enable Wichita Falls to grow and prosper in the future.

"I'm certain Winston Wallander as mayor will carry out his duties as capably as John Gavin did during the past two years he has held that post."

Claytor thanked those who voted for his re-election and pledged to continue working toward fulfillment of aims established and promised his cooperation with the new members of the Council.

Schenk promised to seriously work at the city's problems, saying, "I want to express my sincere thanks to the voters of Wichita Falls who expressed their confidence in me and I will work hard to live up to their expectations.

"There are many complex problems facing the city but no problem is impossible if we have the desire to work. I will work hard to carry out principals on which my candidacy was based."

"New rules and regulations concerning the Internal Revenue Department" will be the featured subject presented by Flynn Stewart.

"Stewart is a local rancher and a Certified Public Accountant," pointed out Berend. He continued, "With his background and experience with problems in the Wichita Falls area, Stewart's talk will be of interest to local residents."

Following the featured talk, Stewart will conduct a question and answer session. Berend urged all members to make a note of any questions that they would like to have answered and bring them to the meeting with them.

CLEANUP—

the total damage of the storm, excluding that done to Sheppard Air Force Base, would be between $3-$5 million. The Air Force has yet to make an official estimate although unofficial guesses at the damage to the big base run from $10-$15 million.

Around Town

At the height of Friday's tornado, a first grade student at Lamar School, who with the rest of his terrified classmates was huddled in a corner with the teacher, posed the question: "Do you think it would be all right if we prayed?"

Parking meters in downtown Wichita Falls will be covered with white paper sacks lettered "Park free, courtesy of the City of Wichita Falls." The sacks will be placed on the meters after 1 p.m. every Saturday, and will be removed Saturday nights. This was announced at meeting of the Downtown Merchants Association. Details of Downtown Days April 16-18 were discussed.

Olivia Smith, Whitewright, Tex., told police a man hit her over the head and knocked her down in the 400 block of Flood about 5:09 p.m. Tuesday and took $52 from her purse.

Floyd Garcia, 603 Lee, was treated for a .22 caliber gunshot wound in his upper left arm at Wichita General Hospital early Wednesday morning. Police are holding a woman for aggravated assault in connection with the shooting.

Strong winds caused smoke from the First Wichita National Bank's incincerator to back up, flooding a stairwell in the rear of the bank with smoke and pungent fumes about 3 p.m. Tuesday. Fire trucks from Station Four, Six and Central Fire Station answered the call. No damage was reported.

A fire which destroyed a building containing building materials at 500 Ohio Thursday afternoon broke out again Sunday and still smouldering Wednesday morning, received a fourth drenching by the Wichita Falls Fire Department. Damage to the building and its contents leased by Builders Supply Co. for storage was estimated at $50,000.

Miss Ann Vandiver, 704 Van Buren and Mrs. Marlin Mann, 4826 Alamo, reported the loss of two plastic garment bags from the trunk of their car about 8 a.m. Wednesday somewhere on the Jacksboro Highway in Wichita Falls. The two women, on their way to attend a nurses convention in Corpus Christi, discovered the trunk lid of their automobile open. The two bags, a red and black plastic bag and a blue plastic bag, apparently blew out of the trunk. After returning to their homes for more clothes, the women continued on their journey. Anyone finding the bags is asked to call 723-9157.

Sheriff's deputies Carl Taylor and Willis Bartley took six prisoners to the penitentiary at Huntsville Tuesday. Assisting in the move were Virgil Stephens and Bobby Tippit, liquor control board agents. The six prisoners included Marvin L. Perry, recently convicted of murder.

A political rally is being planned for April 30 in Parker Square for all county candidates. The rally, which will include music by an area band, is currently planned from 7 to 9 p.m. on that date. All candidates will be invited to speak in a roped-off area of Parker Square.

Teacher Group Nominates

Mrs. Ethel Parker, 2403 Clarinda, was nominated for a second term Wednesday as president of the Wichita Falls retired teachers association during a meeting at her home.

Other nominations recommended by the group's nominating committee included Mrs. Sam (Minerva) Queen, vice president; Miss Ellen Parker, treasurer; Miss Edra Robinson, secretary; Mrs. Vera Smith, parliamentarian; and Miss Auda Doughty, reporter.

Speaker at Wednesday's meeting was Mrs. Katherine Pearce, national vice president of the association's Area 7 from Fort Worth, who spoke on the new image of aging and stressed continued service.

Mrs. Queen and Mrs. Dorothy Westmoreland reported on recent association meetings they had attended at Fort Worth and Sweetwater.

Retired teachers of the Wichita Falls area interested in tutoring private pupils were urged to contact Miss Alma McNeill.

Visitors at Wednesday's meeting included Dr. Madge Davis, former head of the Midwestern University English and journalism departments, and Mrs. Dorothy Farr, representative of World Books.

Americans Saving Record Amounts

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are salting away a record amount in various types of savings. They are seeing the market value of some forms of their past savings increase markedly.

But personal debts also are soaring. Yet their total savings after subtraction of the record debts is riding around the trillion-dollar mark.

Much of this thousand billion dollars of savings, however, is not liquid — that is, it isn't readily available to pay debts or meet emergencies.

Personal Debts

Personal debts are rising at a faster rate now than are liquid savings. This causes some fretting about what might happen if the anticipated business boom proved to be short-lived. Would falling personal income make some debt loads unbearable?

Instalment debt jumped in February by the greatest amount in more than four years. Many consumers are supposed to have reasoned they could take on monthly payments because of the foreshadowed windfall of the cut in their federal income taxes. The rise in take home pay didn't show up until March. And this may have encouraged still others to increase their instalment debt.

On-the-cuff credit rose by $579 million in February to a total of $53.6 billion. This was $5.7 billion higher than February 1963. The noninstalment type of credit — single-payment loans, charge accounts, service credit—rose by $146 million to $15.2 billion. So the total of all forms of consumer debt outstanding came to $68.8 billion.

Finance companies point out that defaults on monthly payments hold at the same relatively small percentage figure. From this they argue that rising personal incomes make Americans able to take on more debt comfortably.

Mortgage debt is the largest item of all, and it has been moving up fairly steadily for years, in good times or bad. The total is now over $175 billion. Some regions have reported increasing defaults and foreclosures. But lenders say the over-all tone is still good.

Stock Credit

Stock market credit also has been rising, up about $2 billion in 1963. If the return of the public to the stock market picks up any speed, this form of debt also should rise more this year.

To meet payments on their instalment debt and mortgage debt, individuals are putting aside more and more dollars of their after-tax income in almost every year. This trend has risen sharply since the last dip in mid-1962. Merchants have to reckon with the fact that much of the rise in personal incomes may be absorbed by repayments, leaving less new money to be spent in the stores.

While liquid assets — cash, government securities, bank and similar savings accounts—top consumer, mortgage and stock market debts by a comfort..ble margin, many note that debt has been growing faster since 1959 than have liquid assets, now put at around $400 billion.

Total Savings

Americans' total savings at the end of 1963 are broken down this way: Cash and demand depositis $91 billion, securities holdings valued at $653 billion in today's market, $136 billion in savings deposits; $112 billion in life insurance; $98 billion in savings and loan shares. Also included as savings are unincorporated business, trust funds, nonprofit institutions and pension reserves.

Increases in most of these have been scored in the first months of this year. That is why the total, including all the types, is now put at around a trillion dollars—or the figure 1 and 12 zeros.

British Election May Be Called

LONDON (AP) — Within the next week, Sir Alec Douglas-Home is expected to fire the starting gun for Britain's long-awaited general election.

If Douglas-Home's mind isn't already made up, one big political event this week could do it for him—a series of county council polls in scattered parts of Britain. If these civic elections go well for his Conservative party, the prime minister is expected to call for an election soon, maybe in June.

If they go badly, political observers think he will wait until October, hoping for an improvement in the party's fortunes and favor.

The election must be held by Nov. 5.

"ASTRO-GUIDE" By Ceean

For Thursday, April 9

Present—For You and Yours... Emotional life is adversely affected. Self-confidence takes a nose dive, so this is not an advantageous time to try to impress others. Get down to business early, as problems may arise which require prompt attention. Some relief from adverse aspects is felt in early evening, so don't despair.

Past... In 1919, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell built a large hydrofoil boat, which made a world speedboat record of 70.86 m.p.h. Despite this success, the hydrofoil was slow to develop and it is only now that its possibilities are being appreciated.

Future... Your life will be eased by a silent servant which can wash dishes, mow lawns, tenderize meat—and make nylons that will cool your legs in summer, warm them in winter. This will be accomplished through ultrasound.

The Day Under Your Sign

ARIES (Born March 21 to April 19) Show others that you think your time is valuable by treating it that way.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your impressions will prove helpful in eliminating barriers to your progress.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Encourage others who can benefit from your interest and past experiences.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) If you try to make life too simple you wind up making it only sterile.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You'll be tempted to shirk your duties in favor of some sort of recreation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't try to change the inevitable. You'll only wind up in a dilemma.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't be afraid to roll up your sleeves and work—you won't lose your shirt.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't let a setback deter you as your idea is essentially sound and will work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Exert an effort to see things clearly if you want to overcome frustration.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't think you have a dynamic personality just because you sometimes explode.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Keep personal and social matters separate from those pertaining to your career.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You may meet with resistance if you divulge your plans prematurely.

Junior Editors Quiz on ETIQUETTE

QUESTION: Why do we need etiquette?

ANSWER: Etiquette simply makes living with other people more comfortable. The word etiquette comes from an old French word meaning ticket. It later came to mean a particular routine of behavior, especially at the courts of kings. Charles I and II of England copied the rules from the French and these rules then spread to the rest of the world.

Most rules of etiquette have good reasons behind them, but in some cases the reason has disappeared, such as in shaking hands. In the Middle Ages, when two men met, they extended their right hands and shook hands to show they would not use their swords. Today the handshake remains as a gesture of courtesy. Etiquette between men and women is also based on good reasons, some of which also disappeared with time. When women wore long flowing skirts, it was difficult for them to get out of a carriage. Today it is polite for a man to be ready to help a woman out of a car, even though she doesn't have a long skirt. Other rules are based on so-called "good taste." These are things which we do not do because they would offend other people. Many table manners are based on good taste—we don't talk with our mouths full or eat with our fingers.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Give the idea of looking out for the other fellow's interests a try and see if your friends don't like you even better than before.

Controversial Farm Legislation Pending

"Government farm programs have always been controversial, and they are largely misunderstood by those who do not live on the farm," commented Congressman Purcell in a recent news letter to his constituents in the 13th Congressional District.

"As the number of farmers in our nation decreases while the population increases, farm programs have had an increasingly difficult time in Congress," he added. "The situation today is no different to this. The House will vote this week, probably on Wednesday, on a bill providing commodity programs for both wheat and cotton. About the only prediction one can make at this time is that the vote will be close. I am only hesitantly optimistic about the outcome.

"I believe this legislation is vital. In the absence of legislation now, the wheat farmers alone will lose an estimated $600 million in income this year. In the absence of legislation now, the cotton farmers of America will find that the synthetic fibres will make even further inroads into their markets and the eventual monetary loss the cotton industry will suffer is incalculable.

"Both cotton and wheat are very important crops in Texas," Rep. Purcell added. "Our state produces 40 per cent of the cotton produced in this country and Texas farmers produce large amounts of wheat.

"As chairman of the wheat subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture I held extensive hearings on wheat program proposals over a period of many months. We started hearings soon after the wheat farmer referendum last summer and concluded them early this year. Our subcommittee, and subsequently the full Committee on Agriculture, adopted the program contained in this bill. This was done after we gave careful consideration to all the proposals submitted. We determined that this voluntary certificate wheat program would best meet the proper objectives of such legislation, which are:

"1. It should increase farmer income over what it would be in the absence of further legislation.

"2. It should not add to the cost of the program for the taxpayers.

"3. It should reduce the huge government - owned surplus of wheat.

"4. It should not increase the cost of wheat to the miller or the cost of the finished product, primarily bread, to the consumer.

"5. It should be a voluntary program.

"The bill before the House meets all these objectives."

U.S.-RED CHINA ENVOY TALKS AT TURNING POINT

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The secret ambassadorial talks between the United States and Communist China reach a turning point today in Warsaw, nine years after they began in Geneva.

Wang Ping-nan, the veteran Chinese diplomat who began the meetings in Geneva, is leaving his post as Peking's ambassador to Poland.

His meeting today will be his last in Warsaw with U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot.

There are three possibilities—that the U.S.-Chinese talks will be moved to some other capital, that they will continue in Warsaw with a new Chinese envoy, or that they will be discontinued.

Some diplomats speculated that the transition might be used as a pretext for ending the talks—particularly if the Red Chinese feel no need for a channel to Washington now that they have opened diplomatic relations with France.

U.S. policy is to keep the talks going despite their modest results so far. U.S. diplomats feel a Washington-Peking pipeline is useful in preventing policy miscalculations and could become important in event of a final break between Communist China and the Soviet Union, or if the Chinese get nuclear weapons.

Both sides are noncommittal about what is said over the green-covered table in Warsaw's Mysliwiecki Palace. The explanation is that complete secrecy encourages frankness and increases the usefulness of the meetings.

It is obvious, however, that the meetings played a part in easing the 1958 and 1962 crises in the Formosa Strait and in repatriating some of the many Americans once detained on the Chinese mainland.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

LSD, 'Mood Drug' Is Very Powerful

By W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

For many unstable persons, there is a certain fascination about taking drugs that pep you up, knock you out, or cause hallucinations or a dream state.

Since time began, man has used such drugs as alcohol, morphine derivatives, hashish, ether, marijuana and loco weed for such purposes.

In recent years, science has added amphetamine (Benzedrine), tranquilizers and, most recent of all, lysergic acid dimethylamide (LSD). None of these have solved man's fundamental problem — failure to appreciate being alive, alert and able to take nourishment.

It is not uncommon, therefore, to find that the type of person who experiments with one kind of jag will be a willing candidate for one or more of the others listed. Some of these cause true addiction with punishing withdrawal symptoms. Others merely cause habituation or emotional dependence.

Thus a person with neurotic tendencies may take a pep pill on arising to get him started, a tranquilizer as the pressures of the day begin to bear in on him and a sleeping pill on retiring so that he can get some rest.

Since LSD is the latest, most powerful, and least understood of the so-called mood drugs, let's see what it can do for those who use it. The effects are so unreliable that one can't predict what effect will be produced — except that it will be weird. Users have described the experience as a combination of heaven and hell. They sometimes remember that it made them aware of the secrets of the universe. But the details escape them when they return to normal.

One user started sobbing a few minutes after taking the drug and couldn't stop for several hours. A truly wonderful experience but he later admitted that for him at least there was more of hell than heaven in his dreams. No one knows what a safe dose is, but it must be extremely small. Several students who decided to find out for themselves about LSD were hospitalized for several weeks after they took "an infinitesimal dose."

Another user was kept in a mental institution for six months before making what may or may not be a complete recovery. The drug cannot be obtained legally except for experimental use. However, a vast black market has already sprung up in the larger cities to cater to those who want their kicks from drugs and who have not yet learned of the great potential dangers involved in using LSD.

PART TWO:

Few People Really Knew General Douglas MacArthur

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a four-part series on Gen. Douglas MacArthur by Relman Morin, Pulitzer Prize-winner. It describes MacArthur the man, what "The Old Man" was like.

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Writer

Gen. Douglas MacArthur was a strong man and he stirred strong feelings, pro and con, about himself.

"Very few people really know Douglas MacArthur," wrote Gen. George C. Kenney, his Air Force commander in the Pacific war. "Those who do, or think they do, either admire him or dislike him."

MacArthur's close associates were fiercely loyal, intensely partisan. Their affection for MacArthur often bordered on idolatry. They may have disagreed with him in private. But outside the star chamber, they would tolerate no criticism of "The Old Man."

His critics were equally positive.

'Show-Off'

They called him a megalomaniac and a show-off. They said he was consumed with ambition and aiming at nothing less than the office of president of the United States. They seldom questioned his genius as a soldier. But they seriously questioned some of his political judgments. Toward the end of his career, the feeling about him in Washington was a mixture of worry, bewilderment and fury.

About the only neutrals were newsmen who generally tend to look at the great and near-great with a slightly sardonic eye.

Sitting in a room with MacArthur, this is what you saw—

Even when he was 70, he was still a handsome man. He looked much younger. Little or no gray streaked his jet black hair. He had a chiseled profile, with a high forehead, a large aquiline nose and a square, firm chin. His eyes were large and dark. On the battlefield, or pondering a problem, he often squinted until they became slits.

Athlete

In his youth, he had been an athlete and all his life he walked with a smooth, swinging stride. He held himself erect and seemed taller than he was.

Sometimes, in his office, he would sit with one leg dangling over the arm of a chair as he talked. But when he became unusually interested in the discussion, he often would pace the floor, emphasizing his points by jabbing the air with the stem of a corncob pipe.

A tray of smoked-out corncobs usually was near his desk. Less frequently, he smoked cigars and cigarettes.

His voice was deep and in making a public speech he would pitch it to an even lower key. Then he often sounded like the old-fashioned, voice-of-doom orator. He was more effective in a small room than on the public platform.

Language

MacArthur had an astonishing command of language. He talked fluently, seldom stumbling or pausing to reach for a word. He would analyze a complicated political or military situation in clear, simple language, moving logically from point to point as though he were reading.

However, not all his statements were couched in simple language.

For example, when his name was advanced as a possible candidate for president, MacArthur said he would not actively seek the nomination.

Then he added: "I would be recreant to all my concepts of good citizenship were I to shrink, because of the hazards and responsibilities involved, from accepting any public duty to which I might be called by the American people."

Religion

Of the troops lost in the defense of Bataan, he said:

"To the weeping mothers of its dead, I only say that the sacrifice and halo of Jesus of Nazareth has descended upon their sons and that God will take them unto Himself."

The famous broadcast to the Filipinos when MacArthur set foot on Philippine soil for the first time said:

"I have returned. By the grace of Almighty God, our forces stand again on Philippine soil."

And in another passage—

"Let no heart be faint. Let every arm be steeled. The guidance of Divine God points the way. Follow in His name to the Holy Grail of righteous victory."

'Caesar'

On another occasion, he said, "Though I am a Caesar, I rendered unto God that which was His."

One of MacArthur's confidantes, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said MacArthur was a deeply religious man, a practicing Episcopalian.

MacArthur worked every Sunday and did not attend church, but Whitney wrote:

"Eight a.m. was the time for family prayers. They were led by Mrs. Phyllis Gibbons. She conducted the service from the Anglican book of common prayer, with MacArthur reading the Bible passage."

On reaching his office in the morning, Whitney reported, MacArthur first read he messages that had come from the United States during the night —and the first of these invariably were those bringing baseball or football scores!

Earl Blaik

Whitney said the former head football coach at West Point, Earl Blaik, wrote MacArthur regularly about the team and frequently consulted him about tactics. MacArthur remarked to Whitney on one occasion:

"I see Army started its second string backs yesterday. That's good generalship."

Apparently it never cracked.

For example, during the first months of the Korean War, news from the front was consistently gloomy. American and South Korean troops kept falling back until only a tiny corner of southeastern Korea still was in non-Communist hands, the Pusan perimeter.

Months before that, however, MacArthur coolly announced that the Reds had lost their opportunity to win the war. He spoke in a quiet, matter-of-fact manner.

Correspondent

"Maybe the Old Man knows what he's talking about," said a correspondent. "But it looks as though he's 180 degrees off the beam this time."

Yet the perimeter held. Then, with the Inchon landings in September, the tide turned. The war in fact was won until the Chinese Reds intervened. Even that news seemed to leave MacArthur unmoved.

The thunderbolt from Washington—when President Harry S. Truman fired MacArthur—came without warning. Whitney said MacArthur was having a luncheon party. The announcement was whispered to him privately. He said MacArthur's face froze and the general quietly remarked to his wife:

"Jeannie, we're going home."

Next: "Home by Christmas" and dashed hopes.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

Jesus Delivers 'Captive' Peoples

QUESTION: I am what you might call a captive of unfortunate circumstances. I am partially paralyzed from polio. I live with my mother who thinks I should go nowhere, and mingle with no one. I want to break out of my shell and get in touch with the world. What advice can you give me? — I. M.

ANSWER. When Jesus preached His first sermon at Nazareth He said: "I am come to bring deliverance to the captives." He didn't mean only those who were behind prison bars, but He meant people like you, who, as you say, are captives of unfortunate circumstances.

Experience of others has proven that one need not be enslaved and chained by circumstances. The Apostle Paul was a man with an incurable "infirmity," but he did not let it thwart him in being a triumphant spirit. He sang: "We are more than overcomers through Him that loved us." His letters are classics of praise and joy. Few men have made a greater impact upon the world. He used his handicap creatively, and through daily and intimate contact with the Giver of life, brought encouragement to the discouraged.

Turn your life over to Him who "came to bring deliverance to the captives." He is no Respector of persons, and you are His special concern.

I know a woman in your same condition who is an inspiration to her entire city by the works of charity that she does. She was recently voted the most popular "girl" in town. She gets her strength from God!

Alaskans Utilize Makeshift Homes

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Thirty-five refugees from the village of Portage, 40 miles southeast of here, are staying in a log lodge called "Diamond Jim's."

Thirty-eight villagers from Chenega are living in a church at Cordova.

Disaster workers call it one of the most unusual and difficult relief operations of recent times. Faced with poor communications and great distances, relief forces have relief on helicopters, planes, trucks, autos and foot travel to bring aid.

Money and other contributions have poured in from around the country. A 7-year-old New Jersey boy offered an Easter basket. Portland lumbermen donated a shipload of lumber and longshoremen offered to load it without pay. The Japanese government and Pope Paul Vi each sent $10,000. The Methodist Council of Bishops declared April 5 Alaska Earthquake Appeal Sunday.

Red Cross and Salvation Army spokesmen said further shipments of food and clothing right now would only cause transportation, storage and handling problems. Instead, they said, Alaskans need cash with which to repair, rebuild and refurnish their homes and buy food and clothing.

Senior-Junior Forum Has Guest Day Coffee

A piano recital, a report on forthcoming social events and a summary of activities at the Northside Girls' Club highlighted the Senior-Junior Forum guest day coffee held Tuesday at the Woman's Forum. Mrs. Enos Burt was guest artist. Mrs. Warren Silver presided.

Plans for a "butterfly ball" to be held April 25 at Maskat Temple were announced by Mrs. Allen Sharp, social chairman. She also announced the installation luncheon for new officers, to be held May 5 at the Woman's Forum.

Mrs. Sinclair Balch, co-chairman for the Girls' Club, said that members of the club have had a successful rummage sale. Easter activities included a tea, a film on Easter, an egg hunt and Easter party. A candy tree was taken to the county farm.

Nineteen of 37 girls whose eyes were tested in the annual eye checkup have been fitted with glasses, Mrs. Blach said.

Mrs. Lloyd Bloodworth of the Wichita Falls Story League recently conducted a story hour with 35 girls attending. The Explorers Club hiked to Scotland Park for a picnic lunch.

Pianist Mrs. Enos Burt, introduced by Mrs. Bob Walker, program chairman, played selections from the "romantic era" which included Hungarian Rhapsody No. 12 and Concert Etude in D flat Major, "Un Saspiro" by Liszt. She also included two Preludes and Etude No. 3 by Chopin in this group.

From the "modern era" she played "At the Fountain of the Aqua Paola" by Charles T. Griffes; "Tango Gizgone" by Gade and "Malaguena" by Lecouna. For her finale she was joined by Mrs. Aurora Bolin. They played "Concert Transcription of the Blue Danube by Strauss-Chasins for Two Pianos."

The coffee table was covered with a pale green cloth and centered with a spring bouquet of jonquils, Dutch iris and snapdragons in a china urn. Special guests were Mrs. Melvin Roberts and Mrs. George Singleton. Hostesses were Mmes. James W. Cole, John L. Swanner Jr., Jay M. Norwood, Phillip Listen, W. L. McAdams, Jimmie Pappan, Robert W. Cole and Misses Corinne Karrenbrock and Fae Marie Featherston.

Learning Disorders Group To Hear Meeting Report

If your child isn't doing well at all in school but if you and your child's teacher feel that he has a good mind, you may want to attend a meeting Friday at 10 a.m. in Room Ten of the First Christian Church.

There will be many parents there to hear what Mrs. George B. Cox has to say after attending the national meeting of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities in Chicago.

The meeting Friday will show the goals of the national group and its possible effect on state and local levels.

Mrs. Cox is president of the Council for Children with Language Disorders here. The national association is seeking to unite people who are concerned, either as parents or as individuals, with children who have speech inabilities, reading problems, writing disorders or arithmetic problems.

Such children require special education — nine are enrolled in such a class now at Austin School. But there probably are many, many more in regular school classes. Children who repeat grades and then are "socially promoted" so they will not be several years older than their classmates quite often may suffer from a perceptual problem that hampers their ability to learn. Sometimes they are thought to be dull or retarded when actually their intelligence may be quite high.

Alert teachers and observing parents have noticed that these slow learners are remarkably able in some areas of learning. These fortunate children — fortunate because their disability has been suspected or discovered — are those who need the training to help them learn despite their language or learning disability.

The meeting Friday will show the goals of the national group and its possible effect on state and local levels.

YWCA Luncheon Thursday Begins Membership Drive

An unusual program will be presented Thursday noon for the YWCA members and prospective members. Models from nine classes offered, as well as three "bonus" classes, will demonstrate and give a brief sketch of what the classes have to offer.

Mrs. George Turner is representative of the "powder puff mechanic" class. This class, to begin at 10 a.m. April 16, will be a one-time only course as "bonus" course. Ralph Watkins, instructor, will give pointers on what to do in emergencies.

Mrs. Frank Hood made the evening gown she is wearing. She was one of many students in a sewing class taught by Mrs. Gordon Sawdy. A new class in sewing will begin April 16 at 9 a.m. Eight lessons will be included in the course.

Mrs. Joe Musgrave has on a judo suit which she wore in a course just completed.

The YWCA offers a program of personal development designed to fit the needs of both adults and teenagers. Full information about classes and other benefits of the Y will be revealed at the luncheon, which will be a kickoff for the annual membership drive.

"We hope to get 500 new members in the YWCA," Mrs. Albert H. Owen, membership chairman, said. "The Y belongs to this community and its has a great deal to offer everyone. We invite all women interested to join us for the luncheon Thursday. Reservations may be made by telephoning the YWCA office."

FRIBERG-COOPER COMMUNITY HAS MEETING, SOCIAL

Members of the Friberg-Cooper community organization held a business meeting and game party Monday evening at the school, and set May 4 as their next meeting date.

Ralph Swinford, vice president, conducted the business meeting. The organization voted to participate in the 1964 Bridwell Soil Builders Award program, and Lee Cooper was elected to serve as commissioner of agriculture for the organization.

Mrs. Lee Cooper, social chairman, had charge of the social hour during which time games of 42 were played. Mrs. Ella Gill and Mrs. Olen Bailey Sr. won prizes for the women and Ralph Swinford and Pete Rogers won for the men.

Refreshments were served to 33.

STUDY GROUP MAKES BUS TRIP TO WEATHERFORD

Members of the Modern Study Club left Wichita Falls by chartered Continental Bus Wednesday morning for an all-day outing in Weatherford, Tex.

Box lunches in hand, the women boarded the bus at 9 a.m. at the apartment of Miss Jeannette Moore who with Mrs. Roy Riner was hostess and in charge of arrangements. Highlights included a tour of the famed Chandor Gardens and a visit to a newly established doll museum in Weatherford.

Equipped to furnish their own entertainment to and from their sight-seeing jaunt were the following: Mmes. Jack Staley, Anna Ruth Anderson, Dale Shappell, Jack Maxfield, Eugene Sherrod, Milburn Nutt, Jack Broday, C. E. Mangum, Richard Nelson, D. C. Norwood, Fern Page, R. E. APRIL IN PARIS IS DANCE THEME FOR AUXILIARY

"April In Paris" was the theme for the dance given Saturday night in the Wichita Falls Country Club for members and guests of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Wichita County Medical Society.

April blossoms, real and simulated, predominated the decor of the entranceway, ballroom and adjoining rooms.

A large yellow wisteria tree surrounded by large tissue paper peonies in varigated shades of bright lavender and pink stood in the foyer and from the ballroom ceiling were suspended myriad white enameled birdcages holding colorful flowers and featuring a central silver basket of blossoms. Forming a backdrop was royal blue paper on which was painted typical French scenes.

Grocery Stores Are Alert To Shoplifting Dangers

(No. 3 in a series on shoplifting in Wichita Falls.)

By MARTHA B. STEIMEL

Grocery store managers are more alert to shoplifters than any other merchants. That's what detective Capt. Baker Lawrence at the Wichita Falls Police Department thinks.

One food store manager said thievery in his store had doubled since the first of February. Perhaps that is why food stores file charges more than any other merchants do, as Lawrence noted.

He too thinks that only a fraction of shoplifters is caught and an even smaller fraction is charged with the theft.

"Store owners want to keep good will and I don't blame them," Lawrence said.

No separate records of shoplifting arrests are kept at the police station—they all are listed under thefts, Lawrence said. In the juvenile department, Sgt. Charles Trainham, has kept a tabulation. One month, only 3 of the 191 juvenile arrests were for shoplifting, a definite bright spot in the shoplifting picture, Sgt. Trainham feels.

Under the Texas shoplifting law, a suspect may be stopped inside the store if the merchant actually saw the crime committed. That means taking and concealing a bottle of hand lotion, for example.

Even when the store clerk actually sees merchandise bein, stolen, some merchants hesitate to nab the thief until he is at the door of the store although the law says they may. While chances of their being sued for false arrest are much less under the law enacted in 1959, it still is a ticklish, delicate situation and one which must be handled as tactfully as possible.

Usually a question such as, "Do you want to pay for that hand lotion now?" is enough.

If a merchant is very sure, he takes the suspect into his office for a talk and, if necessary, the authorities are called.

The penalties for shoplifting are stiffer now, too. For a first offense, a $500 fine and a jail term may be imposed. Second offenders can draw $1,000 fine and six months in jail and a third offense carries an automatic one to five years in the state penitentiary. These penalties apply to theft under $50 value—that means wholesale value to the store, not the retail price.

Capt. Lawrence thinks that if more complaints were filed, shoplifting would be reduced. He also thinks that each individual theft should be charged separately. That is up to the store owner, though, not to the police.

"All kinds of people shoplift. Some get a thrill out of stealing—the kleptomaniacs. We had one woman in here who never washed her underwear or her stockings after she wore them—she just threw them away and stole new ones," Lawrence said.

Thefts of over $5 are filed on in the county court—under $5, records are kept in the city court, Lawrence explained. All recovered stolen merchandise is returned to the owner as quickly as possible because police headquarters doesn't have enough room or enough manpower to maintain a property room, Lawrence said.

"I just don't know what the solution to shoplifting would be. Nothing would stop all of it," he said.

PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Dear Abby

Father Was Right But Should Have Gone Farther

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Several days ago a letter came to our home addressed to a 15-year-old boy our daughter knows. It was sent in care of our daughter. My husband saw it and started to question her. He wanted to know what right the boy had to instruct someone to send him mail in her care. She said she didn't know anything about it, and didn't see where it was any of her father's business. I sided with my daughter. Her father allowed her to give the letter to the boy, but he instructed her to tell him that it was not to happen again. What is your opinion on this? We can't judge the boy as we hardly know him. — MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I think your husband was right. But he didn't go far enough. He should have asked his daughter to bring the boy around so he could become acquainted with him, gain his confidence and learn why the boy can't receive mail at home. Fifteen-year-olds need all the help and understanding they can get.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the person asking what you thought about folks whose Christmas cards arrived after Christmas, I was pleased with your reply: "Better late than never. Who counts?"

Bravo, Abby! What has happened to the spirit of Christmas? I shall never forget a Christmas gift I once received. It was a bottle of home-made perfume that smelled strangely like vanilla extract. It was crudely wrapped in Christmas paper that had obviously been used on another gift, and tied with a second-hand red ribbon. But there was so much love in its manner of presentation I almost wept. It was from a ten-year-old girl whose family was on relief. How I cherished the thought! — A SCHOOL TEACHER'S MEMORY

DEAR ABBY: I want to get married. Should I ask the girl first, or should I ask her father Some say I should ask the girl first, and if she says yes, I should then ask her father. It seems to me that I should ask the father first, because if he says no, it wouldn't make any sense to ask the girl. Will you kindly advise me? I thank you. — ABOUT TO

DEAR ABOUT: Ask the girl first. If she says no, you've had it, boy!

Confidential to "her teacher": I want to write to the little blind girl who wrote me a sweet letter in Braille. Please send me her name and address.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Furniture Legs May Be Obsolete In Few Years

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The influence of some of the home furnishings displays at the World's Fair will not hit home immediately.

Making a charming and comfortable family abode in the icy Antarctic, or the barren desert, or underground with sunshine piped in, for example, may have to be left to the great-grandchildren to do.

Tips for cozy living in a rain forest may come in handy, should the plumber fail to arrive. But only then.

Still, the vast majority of the decorating concepts here, conceived and executed at a cost of more than $12 million, are ones you could probably adapt for your own house today . . . and for a lot less money.

Hang It

You could saw the legs off your furniture, for example. According to the exhibitors in the Pavilion of American Interiors, legs are as passe as the dinosaur, except on people.

Instead, for easy dusting and retrieving the kids' marbles, hang your furniture on the wall, or better yet, from the ceiling. International Silver shows its wares on a huge moon room dinning table suspended from above by slender metal struts.

Should objections be raised by the tenants in the apartment above or next door, you can at least minimize the sin of furniture legs by making one serve for two adjacent furniture pieces. The lock-leg theory, a device said to have been used in building the pyramids, is demonstrated at the Ward furniture exhibit.

But if the house is yours alone, you might try floating your ceiling as a better way to circulate fresh air. Study the wood conversion exhibit very carefully, though, or you may have too much air, as well as rain and snow.

Rattan Used

Things will be afloat in nurseries, too. In the Child Craft exhibit, for instance, the crib seemingly floats on architectural frames, and that beats rocking chairs any day. Moreover, the crib is oval, as tumbleproof as an egg and a lot more substantial.

Other home furnishings innovations include:

Furniture pieces with electric outlets and plastic tops so that the coffee pot and chafing dish can be plugged in anywhere.

Sofas and chairs finished in back as well as their fronts so that they may serve as dividers in large rooms.

Formica paneled walls with patterns like wall paper or simulated woods that wipe clean and last forever.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Expansion of a Kansas City ordinance forbidding racial discrimination for nearly all types of business establishments apparently was approved by about 1,000 votes in a public referendum Tuesday.

The unofficial count from all 240 precincts was 45,245 for, 44,043 against, a margin of 1,202. Still to be counted are an estimated 500 to 700 absentee ballots.

WE THE WOMEN

These Things Go Unsaid If You Value Friendship

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Never tell a woman —

That she is looking very well. (A woman interprets this as a not-too-subtle hint you think she has gained weight since you saw her last.)

She thinks like a man. (Some men consider this a high compliment for a career woman, but the woman doesn't.)

She looks so much like some other woman. (Women don't want to be look-alikes, with the possible exception of a teen-ager when told she looks like a movie star.)

She looks 100 per cent better with her new hairdo or hair color. (She'll wonder just how awful you thought she looked before she made the change.)

You love her LITTLE house. (All she will hear is the word "little.")

You would do such - and - such if you were in her place. (Unless she asks for your advice—it's a safe bet she doesn't want it.)

You feel it is your duty to tell her something unpleasant. (She will suspect you are secretly enjoying doing your duty.)

You already know the important news she phones to tell you. (Why spoil her fun?)

You've often wondered why she didn't do something she has finally gotten around to doing. (Why not make her feel smart for doing something, instead of stupid for not having done it sooner?)

You knew exactly what her reaction to something was going to be. (When a man tells a woman that, it always makes her furious. Don't ask me why—just take my word for it.)

SOCIETY HOLDS CHILDREN'S AID BUSINESS SESSION

Sam Gose directed the business session held Tuesday by the board of directors of the Children's Aid Society of West Texas. The luncheon meeting was held at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

Reports of the case, house and yard committees were given by Mrs. Ray Arnhold, W. H. McDonald and J. H. Allison. Mrs. Madge Whitney, executive secretary, reported activities for the month and said 30 children were in the Fowler Home April 1, 14 of whom were recovering from German measles.

Jack H. Martin gave the financial report.

The next meeting will be May 5.

TRIAL OF SWEDEN'S MOST DANGEROUS SPY TO START

By BRACK CURRY

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Col. Stig Wennerstrom goes on trial Saturday as a master spy accused of betraying Sweden's top defense secrets to the Soviet Union over a 15-year period.

A jury of nine, including five women, will decide his fate.

The prosecution calls him Sweden's most dangerous spy in modern times.

It says he has confessed he sold Sweden's top defense secrets to the Soviets from 1948 until his arrest last June. He knew a lot about the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defenses and weapons and presumably passed this on to Moscow but will be tried only for betrayal of Sweden.

Spy School

The story that will unfold includes attendance at a Soviet spy school in Moscow while he served as Swedish air attache there; a secret room in his lavish villa where he received radioed instructions from the Russians; and exchanges of microfilm rolls during handshakes with Russians at diplomatic receptions in Stockholm.

Wennerstrom moved from one key position to another. Each gave him access to all the information on Sweden's defense plans and its defense forces—and to some on NATO—that he wanted to see.

Although neutral Sweden is not a member of NATO he visited NATO military installations. He was friendly with many top Western diplomats here. From 1952 to 1957 he served as Swedish air attache in Washington. The United States honored him with its Legion of Merit when he left.

Confession

Interrogators took a month to break down Wennerstrom's pleas of innocence. They say he confessed only when confronted with irrefutable evidence, including films of classified information which Wennerstrom's maid had found in his villa.

The trial is expected to last four weeks. The maximum sentence that he can draw is life imprisonment.

The 57-year-old colonel is confined in a special cell in Stockholm's police headquarters. He is under 24-hour watch by alternating teams of two guards in an adjacent room. The lights never are turned out in his cell.

He eats with a spoon. He is not permitted to use a knife or fork for fear of a suicide attempt. He is not allowed a belt or suspenders for the same reason.

Exercises

He exercises on a rooftop that is covered by a net to prevent anything being thrown to him from adjoining buildings.

Prosecutor Werner Ryhninger says Wennerstrom is unrepentent, saying: "I am only angry with myself that I was clumsy enough to get caught."

His physician last autumn prescribed sleeping pills when Wennerstrom complained of depressive periods and of an inability to sleep. Wennerstrom hid the pills. He attempted suicide Oct. 23.

Some of his remarks have led his guards to believe that he plans to plead insanity. He talks of feeling "like two different people," of having wild dreams and of hearing mysterious knocks on the wall of his cell.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♡	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 ♡	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Three of ◇

Observe the bidding technique employed by South to present his partner with an accurate picture of his distribution. His initial response was two clubs. He followed this up by bidding and rebidding his hearts, which indicated a five card suit. If his holding had consisted of five hearts and five clubs, however, he would have shown the hearts first—since this is the higher ranking suit. The inference to be drawn from South's actual sequence of calls is that his club suit is longer. In other words, he is at least six-five.

Since North had three hearts, he was content to accept that suit as the final trump.

West opened the three of diamonds. The ace was played from the dummy, followed by the ace of spades on which declarer discarded his remaining diamond. A club was led to the ace and a small club ruffed with the deuce of hearts.

South reëntered his hand by trumping a spade in order to ruff another club with the seven of hearts. East overruffed with the eight and returned a trump. Declarer played the ace and then drove out West's king of clubs. A diamond return brought South down to two trumps, but a heart lead bumped the king and queen together. Declarer ruffed the return with the only remaining trump and ran his established club suit.

East erred when he overruffed the dummy on the third round of clubs. Since South's hand is revealed after the first two tricks to be all hearts and clubs, it is vital for East to preserve his trump holding intact to prevent the declarer from making profitable use of his side suit.

Observe the effect if East takes a discard on the second club ruff. South will presumably ruff himself in once more in order to trump out the king of clubs. East may now overruff the nine of hearts with his queen in order to force South again by leading the king of spades. Declarer is down to the ace-jack of hearts and two high clubs. With each of his opponents retaining two trumps, however, there is no way for South to utilize his clubs. No matter what he does, he can take only the ace of hearts and must in the end fall one trick short of his goal.

Vinegar For Diapers

Dear Mommies: That is, those of you who are fortunate enough to have little babies in diapers . . .

We get so many letters about diapers . . . clean diapers, stiff diapers, grey diapers, etc., that I am going to try to answer your questions all in one column.

My method of washing diapers has been approved by doctors, institutes, etc. Even laundromats have written that for the first time people are getting beautiful "results" with my diaper method.

It has been established by the above sources that some diaper rashes are caused by "ammonia," an after product of wet diapers. This can be neutralized by rinsing your diapers in vinegar water after washing them! There goes my old vinegar again . . .

Here's how:

AFTER running your diapers through the complete washing machine cycle . . . turn your washing machine on rinse AGAIN, fill the machine only half full of hot water, and add one cup full of vinegar (color of vinegar seems to make no difference). Then let the machine go through the rinse and spin cycle and DO NOT RINSE AGAIN! Leave the vinegar solution in the diapers. The vinegar odor will leave when the diapers are dried in the dryer or on your clothes line.

I say (and will stand by it 'til my dyin' day) . . . that after proper washing, a rinsing in vinegar - water solution can't be beat.

Vinegar, in my estimation (and many manufacturers, chemists and laundry people have written that they agree with me), is about the best there is for rinsing. Take my word for it: Vinegar neutralizes the ammonia in diapers.

Vinegar also helps to keep the rest of your laundry sweet and clean . . .

Do you have a favorite blouse or housedress which you wash and iron each week and yet it never really smells fresh and clean? This problem is especially bad in navy blues and blacks.

This (in my short and understandable words . . . I hope!) is caused by perspiration which has accumulated and has not been neutralized enough by deodorants or by proper rinsing, etc. Wash the garment and rinse it well, then soak it in some strong vinegar water if applicable to your material, THEN take your hands and rub briskly. DO NOT rinse this vinegar solution out. Let dry and proceed as usual . . .

See what happens!

After a few times you will be quite pleased. Then you will be back to good, clean, sweet-smelling clothes.

Many women have written that their ironing is easier after using the above method in their entire laundry on wash days.

So if you have these problems, do try a rinse in vinegar.

Tell you what. Take only half of your diapers and try this method on them for a few weeks and just feel and see the difference yourself between your present washing method and the Heloise method. Do your own testing . . .

Bet you will be mighty surprised!

I love all your babies, so if you have diaper problems try rinsing them in a vinegar solution with water and see how soft they are!

Write to Heloise in care of the Wichita Falls Times any time. I am here to help YOU. — Love, Heloise.

Reds Experiment With Air Makeup

MOSCOW (AP)—Yuri Gagarin said today he and other cosmonauts are training for new voyages into space.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced Soviet scientists have made important experiments with a new type of air for spaceships.

The news conference was called in connection with the "day of the cosmonauts"—April 12—the third anniversary of the historic flight of Gagarin, the first man to orbit the earth.

Soviet space scientists also were on hand but they were mum.

Tass said that nitrogen was taken out of the air and replaced by helium. Normally, nitrogen constitutes 78 per cent of the air a person breaths.

The new mixture has been tested, Tass said, on men who remained in pressure cabins for periods from 10 to 25 days.

Tass reported the helium produced a surprising result, that "a man with a bass voice began to speak tenor."

"This is not hazard to health, but it does create additional difficulties," Tass said.

THE WORRY CLINIC

Single Tax Is Proposed

By GEORGE W. CRANE, M.D.

CASE S-433: John Phillips is a shrewd newspaperman at Allentown, Pa.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "you recently urged simplifying your tax system.

"And you recommended that this could be done by picking out one item that everybody would use, and then putting the full tax on it.

"For example, you suggested fuel as this basic item. But wouldn't the gasoline price need to run at least $5 per gallon?

"And wouldn't inventors then try to develop a more efficient fuel?

"Besides, wouldn't your plan favor those who owned no automobiles?"

Simplify Taxes

Last year the total federal, state and county tax bill of the U.S.A. came to about $150 billions.

The federal tax took about $100 billions, leaving $50 billions for state and county spending.

Actually, we wouldn't need such staggering taxes if somebody at the top would have the guts to fire a million unnecessary bureaucrats and inject the other efficient measures urged by the Hoover Commission and Senator Harry Byrd.

You may recall that I compared our present stupid tax system to the medical example of donating a pint of blood to the Red Cross.

Wouldn't it be foolish to ask 100 doctors to puncture you in 100 different places, when one needle stab can do the trick?

But we taxpayers are also fettered by a hidden "time tax." Business leaders waste their creative brains for long hours on quadruplicate tax reports.

All that could be abolished instantly! How? By levying our total tax on one basic raw material at its source, such as fuel.

Actually, a tax of $2.30 per gallon on gasoline alone would raise the entire tax for federal, state and county governments!

But I did not restrict the tax to gasoline alone, for "fuel" also includes coal, electricity, fuel oil and natural gas.

Thus, if a person owned no car, he would still pay his share of the tax bill via his buying of bread or shoes or even chewing gum.

For trucks and trains would use fuel to transport such merchandise and the tax on fuel would thus be buried in the retail price of all those items.

No Deadlines

So we'd still pay taxes but without the nuisance value of hunting for 2 or 3 cents for a retail sales tax at the counter, or making out gross income tax forms, plus complicated income tax reports, etc!

The heavy users of fuels and electricity would obviously be the factories, trucking companies, railroads, etc., but the tax would simply be buried by them at the source so we'd not have worried folks before income tax deadlines.

For there'd be no income tax deadlines any more!

And if the fuel tax stimulated inventors to come up with superior new fuels, so much the better.

For now our stifling tax system strangles all such creative efforts, wastes millions of man hours of brilliant brains and even encourages cheating!

So send for my booklet, "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It injects efficiency engineering into government!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Group Tours Olney Plant

Plant facilities of Snow Aircraft Co. in Olney were toured last week by members of the Red River Valley Industrial Arts Association following its monthly meeting at Olney High School.

The Olney plant manufactures crop dusting and fertilizing planes which are sold nationally and internationally.

Snow employs approximately 50 persons who complete one plane every 40 hours, and officials told the visitors that present plans call for a production increase of 50 per cent upon completion of additional facilities which are now under construction.

Those making the tour from Wichita Falls were Royce Thomas and Robert Neal, Zundelowitz Junior High School; Joe Slack, Wichita Falls High School; Scott Williamson and Kirby Kellogg, Rider; and Lee Roy Piatt and James Larimore, Hirschi.

During the Olney meeting the group made plans for an industrial arts fair to be held during the 1964-65 school year. In other business, Scott Williamson of Rider and David Williams of Graham High were appointed to serve on a state committee which is to write a woodworking monograph for industrial arts.

Liberal Response

Emergency disaster work such as has been performed in the areas of Wichita Falls struck by last Friday's tornado is a costly undertaking.

To meet the temporary needs of 585 families affected by the disaster is only a part of the expenditure involved. The aftermath of the tornado is now entering the relief and rehabilitation phase in which the gap between available resources and the financial requirements necessary to restore families to their pre-disaster status must be closed.

Two organizations have had a major share in the disaster program to date, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. Both have now issued appeals to the public for funds.

The Red Cross will use the finances received to supplement local and national funds disbursed in the emergency program that has provided food, clothing shelter and medical care for victim sof the storm and in rehabilitation. Several hundred thousand dollars will have been spent by the Red Cross before its job is finished and all of its assistance is an outright gift to the recipients.

The Salvation Army also is in need of supplemental funds to cover the expenses of their participation in the disaster operation.

The two organizations have performed here in a manner deserving of the highest praise and commendation. They are worthy of all the financial assistance which the public will funnel to them.

The response to the funds appeals should be liberal, not only because of the basic human needs they will help meet but also as an expression of public appreciation for the fine job the Red Cross and the Salvation Army have been doing in the name of all who were fortunate not to have been victims of the storm.

Uncle's Paper Curtain

Can't Break The Bank

If the bank at Monte Carlo has ever been broken, we're not aware of the fact. The odds are that it is possible to do so based merely on the law of averages.

For years the dream of gambling habitues has been to devise a system that works, one that will overcome the natural odds against winning that exist in all games of chance, and to employ that system to advantage at the gaming tables.

A New Mexico college professor, 31-year-old Edward O. Thorp, apparently found a way to beat the odds of blackjack. He studied the game as a mathematical challenge and devised a system to win, putting the information in a book, "Beat the dealer."

By Thorp's system, odds favoring the house by 5 per cent were reversed to favor the players by 4 per cent, and enough people were finding out about the professor's book to flock to Las Vegas, Nev., and stem the flow of money to the blackjack dealer.

Professor Thorp's book, however, should tempt no one to run to Las Vegas by the quickest means—and en route learn the professor's system. It's too late.

What happens when a winning system is devised to thwart the gambling odds?

The blackjack bank doesn't go broke. Oh no! It's much simpler to change the rules to meet the challenge of the system, and that's exactly what has been done.

Perhaps there s a moral to the story. It could be that if anyone else comes up with a perfect system to beat the gambling odds, he'll keep it out of print.

In More Than Name

Centuries-old traditions of the British Navy and Army and the relatively new Royal Air Force will be subjected to change under the unification of Britain's three armed services which was put into effect a week ago.

The far-flung British Empire of past eras and the importance of the Navy to a nation that covers an island have emphasized down through the years the role of the men who sail the seas, but there apparently is no preferential treatment for the Navy in the merger of the armed services.

There used to be nine Lords Commissioners of the British Admiralty but no longer is the office of Lord High Admiral in existence as a powerful functionary. Only one of them became a member of the new seven-man Defense Council.

The new system that the British have adopted has an immediate effect of making the minister of defense, who currently is Peter Thorneycroft, one of the most powerful men in the British cabinet. It will be too soon months from now to gauge the results of the change-over, but the very fact that military traditions hundreds of years old have been revised in a unified system is an indication the merger exists in more than name.

We Can Be Thankful

At a meeting in which reports were being given on the progress that had been made in overcoming the aftermath of the tornado here, reference was made time and again to those instances of good fortune which come out of any disaster.

From Ft. Sill, Okla., were sent 200 cots for temporary shelters. "We only asked for a hundred, and actually set up only 50," one of the volunteer workers said. "Thank God we didn't even need them."

A large supply of litters was dispatched from Sheppard Aifr Force Base to one of the civilian hospitals in Wichita Falls. At SAFB, first estimates were that the base hospital there "might have to handle a minimum of 300 casualties, but thank God we didn't," another spokesman reported.

And a school administrator pointed out that six public schools filled with students were in the approximate path of the tornado but, "thank God, none of them was touched."

"Thank God," all of them said.

Amen.

WASHINGTON IN SHORT

Diplomacy Surfaces

By VERNON LOUVIERE
Times Washington Bureau

When French Ambassador Herve Alphand appeared recently on a radio interview program with Sen. Kenneth Keating, Republican, New York, the discussion roamed all over the international scene — Cuba, Viet Nam, Berlin. But Keating is not one to miss an opportunity to put in a plug for a home state product. His final question to Alphand: "I want to ask you one other question, in a little lighter vein. Do you serve American wines or specifically, New York State wines, at your Embassy and if you do or don't, how would you compare them with French wines?" The diplomat in Alphand emerged to the surface when he replied: "The French Embassy is, technically, a part of French territory and we serve French wines there because we think that each nation has its own culinary specialty. I would tell you frankly that I prefer American hotdogs to French hotdogs."

Blind Faith

Mrs. Esther Peterson, special assistant to the President for consumer affairs, recalls the consumer was not always the popular fellow he is today. Back in the early New Deal days Gen. Hugh Johnson, President Roosevelt's crusty NRA administrator, bellowed at his assistant, Mary Harriman Rumsey, "What is a consumer! Show me a consumer!" Mrs. Peterson doesn't know how Mrs. Rumsey, who headed up the NRA Consumer Advisory Council, answered the general but she could have handled the situation by telling him about the old Irish lady who was asked if she really — actually — believed in fairies. "No, I do not, Madame," the lady replied, "but they're there all the same!"

Presence, Nothing Else

Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois got the floor during one of the many endless civil rights debates and commented: "I would like to stay and listen, but I would like to know if I must deliver our quota of warm bodies required in the chamber." The senator referred, of course, to the need for rounding up Republican members for a quorum call. Senate Democrat Whip Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota replied. "The senator has placed a rather high standard on those to be delivered. They do not have to be warm; merely present."

Job Seekers

Perhaps it's the proximity to Washington but in nearby Maryland 70 eager candidates are seeking election to Maryland's eight seats in the House of Representatives. Many of them currently are legislators in the Maryland House of Delegates and, with the legislature now in session, it is possible on any given afternoon in Anapolis to raise a full quorum of congressional hopefuls. At a recent lunch hour at the Red Coach Inn in Annapolis, Delegate Hervey Machen, one of the candidates for the House, was seated at a table when an acquaintance came in and cheerfully said to Machen, "Good afternoon, Mr. Congressman." At least 10 other men in the room turned around.

Economy Kick

The Chamber of Commerce in St. Paul, Minn., at one of its recent luncheons passed out some surprise presents to businessmen and one federal official, Lloyd B. Johnson of the Veterans Administration. In making the awards the master of ceremonies noted that the chamber always was thrilled when the government economized and that President Johnson's plan to save on White House electricity was just wonderful. He also pointed out that Lloyd B. Johnson had the same initials as the President and that, being a government official, he no doubt would be pleased to have a light bulb that need not be turned out. He then gave Johnson a large, but burnt-out, light bulb.

BOOKS OF THE TIMES

West's Decay Outlined

SUICIDE OF THE WEST, by James Burnham. John Day, $5.95.

By JOHN BARKHAM

"Suicide of the West" — the title tolls like a knell. Can the West really be about to destroy itself? Yes, declares Professor Burnham emphatically, adding that the process of decay is already far advanced. And what is responsible? Liberalism, which our angry spokesman for the Right calls "the ideology of Western suicide."

This is viewing - with - alarm with a vengeance. To outward appearance the West has never before been as militarily powerful, as economically affluent or as technologically advanced as today. The Western way of life is aped by other nations large and small, its technology envied by older civilizations such as China and India. Its standard of living is the dream of those who do not possess it. Nevertheless, proclaims Professor Burnham, we are far gone in our decline.

Logic Difficult

This Cassandra - ish thesis is the burden of Professor Burnham's polemic, and it is propounded for 300 pages with vigor and urgency. But the logic is sometimes difficult to fathom. The author begins by looking at the map and noting with regret how the tide of imperial power has ebbed in our time. The process of "political and geographic disintegration," as he terms it, began with the Russian Revolution. Since then China has shaken off the West, Europe's overseas empires have been virtually liquidated, and the West has lost "an abundance of strategic positions" because we have "lost the will to survive." This despite the fact that the West "has possessed the material means to maintain and even to extend still further its overwhelming predominance, and to beat off any challenger."

This brief summary indicates the author's rightist position. He lays this retreat from power to an attitude of mind he lumps under the name of liberalism. Having filed his bill of particulars, Professor Burnham explains who the liberals are, naming names and citing reasons for same. He tabulates what he says are liberal axioms (e.g., "The obstacles to progress and the achievement of the good society are ignorance and faulty social institutions"), contrasting these with opposing viewpoints — which, however, he does not necessarily espouse.

Curious Combination

This curious combination of assault and caution characterizes much of the book. Time and again the author mounts an assault, only to draw back from the ultimate conclusion. He laments the passing of imperial power, for example, but declines to say flatly that Europe was wrong in liberating its colonies. After all, wasn't Gen. de Gaulle, a conservative if ever there were one, the prime mover in this direction?

One observes a similar ambivalence in the discussion on "the guilt of the liberal." It is this "guilt," the author argues, which leads liberals to rehabilitate chronically depressed regions and aid poor or backward nations. Should we then stop giving this aid? The professor pauses. "I do not raise the question," he continues lamely, "whether the liberal solution is or is not valid, but merely that it doesn't really make any difference." Most people would argue that it does.

Aggressive Note

The author strikes his most aggressive note in discussing our strategic retreats since Yalta. Communism has admittedly survived and expanded, but how could the West have stopped it short of war? True, NATO is not as monolithic as once it was, but isn't that because America's economic aid and military protection have restored Europe's vitality to the point where it can now assert its independence? Yes, the West has given up its worldwide strategic bases (which the author deeply deplores), but should the colonial powers have clung to them by force?

Professor Burnham yearns for a world of privilege that was and can never be again. Dominance by one nation over another is not a measure of superiority. Guns made this possible in the past, but the bomb has now rendered war obsolete. Though the future is hidden in the mists of time, the world would seem to be moving in the direction of a new era of egalitarianism not based on force. Whatever form it takes the West will lead the way.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Hip Hypnotist Adds N. Y. To Conquests

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Miss Pat Collins, the blonde, willowy "hip hypnotist" from Los Angeles, has added New York to her conquests . . . she's practicing her magic these nights upon a dozen subjects she entices on stage at Basin St. E. Whether "legit" or done with friends and props, it's well . . . hypnotic.

WILSON

Beautiful Paula Stewart, wife of Comedian Jack Carter, better known as Jack Carson or Johnny Carson, was another alleged subject who thought that everybody out there was nude. She wobbled and floundered on her chair and then let them stretch her out stiffly so you could walk on her but who would dare:

Ordered Another

"It's legit?" screamed my B.W. . . . Completely hypnotized, she ordered another bourbon . . . "What about those 'repeaters' from the first show? Who was the little girl on the end who forgot she was supposed to keep threading that needle?" . . . Shucks, it's Show Biz, and excellent. One woman customer hypnotized at the first show tried to sell peanuts and popcorn (and a guy I know tried to buy some) but there weren't any.

Pretty Jill Haworth, hypnotized onstage, was told to go into the audience and kiss Sal Mineo. She started but said she couldn't as there was a wall or picket fence or something around him.

Wall Removed

Miss Collins' hypnotized the Basin St. management into a $5,000-a-week contract and will hypnotize the public into packing the joint. That's quite an advance for hypnosis in Our Town.

Hal March and others rode out to the opening of Danny's Hideaway of Long Island near Shea Stadium in a 1932 Graham Paige landyacht which some folks now hold dinner parties in. Hal, set to sell his home in N.Y. for a tv chore in Hollywood, meanwhile got a B'way show, "The Wayward Stork," a farce about insemination . . . Rudy Vallee's landed a big tv job . . . Xavier Cugat's now talking about quitting Show Biz altogether since Abbe Lane quit speaking to him . . . My B.W.'s evidently opened that new place in Long Island: "Nags Head Inn."

Reserved For Millionaires

"You can't be elected president today if you're not yourself a millionaire (or don't belong to a millionaire or to several)," says Gore Vidal, the controversialist whose film "The Best Man" premiered Sunday. "The cost of tv broadcasts, the expense of operating that private plane," he says, "have in the last 20 years about made it impossible for a poor boy to get into the White House."

"Hider," the one-man disc jockey on WINS, refers to Robert Goulet as "Robert Gullet," which you have to admit is a good name for a singer, and Terry-Thomas calls him "Robert Gooley" . . . Sign in a teenage music library: "NOISE, PLEASE!" . . . Jane Morgan, who believes in ghosts but is otherwise fairly normal, hopes that the 200-year-old house she and husband Larry Stith have acquired near Janeiro, N.C., on the Neuse River, is haunted. She would then be the owner of three haunted houses, which is two more than practically everybody else has. Jan's goal is: "Two ghosts in every garage."

The Midnight Earl

Comic Marty ("Hello, Dere") Allen, at "Hello, Dolly," sent a kidding note to Carol Channing: "I'll give $1,000 to charity if you say 'Hello, dere, Dolly' next act." (She didn't) . . . Liz Ashley and Kurt Kasznar of "Barefoot in the Park" attended "In the Summer House" together Sunday—it stars their ex-mates, James Farentino and Leora Dana . . . Liberace danced The Megillah at Trude Heller's; he arrived in his custom-built Caddy—only Presley and LBJ have duplicates . . . At Shepheard's: Suzy Parker with her husband Brad Dillman and her sister, model Dorian Leigh.

The curtain went up late the other night at "What Makes Sammy Run?"—there was a minor backstage hassle and someone called the cops . . . Jimmy Dean's negotiating to bring a country & western music show to Paris and Rome this summer . . . Leslie Uggams called off a $2,500 one-nighter to sing for free at a White House photographers' dinner (with LBJ the main guest) . . . Sophia Loren and Carlo Ponti will build a home on land they bought in Corsica . . . BBardot's ex, Roger Vadim, directed a picture so enthusiastically in Paris he busted a collarbone.

Composer-arranger Joe Sherman spent $417 for dinner at Joe Sardi's Cinta II—and that includes a painting he bought off the wall . . . Xavier Cugat was at the Chateau Madrid. (To scout a Latin-type singer?) . . . Edith Piaf's widower, Theo Sarapo, has been dating French actress Francine Berge.

MACARTHUR'S JAPANESE POLICIES REMEMBERED

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—In wartime he was a feared but unknown enemy. But the Japanese today remember Gen. Douglas MacArthur chiefly for his postwar years as the American proconsul whose decisions remolded their lives.

As supreme commander of Allied powers, representing 13 victor nations including the Soviet Union, MacArthur ruled more people and exerted more influence on them than did any of ancient Rome's governors or proconsuls.

As proconsul—a term he himself used to describe his occupation role—the general maintained his distance from the Japanese people and put on the trappings and solemn show they had learned to expect over the centuries from their shoguns, the awesome military rulers.

Supremacy

He established his supremacy early in 1945, when Emperor Hirohito left his moated palace to pay a personal call on Allied headquarters. The Japanese, who had been taught to regard Hirohito as akin to a god, never forgot this gesture.

Hungry, their cities in ruins, their industries stumbling along at 20 per cent efficiency, the Japanese were a dispirited people. MacArthur undertook to instill in them "the two great concepts of human history—the Christian idea of the dignity of the individual and the Democratic principles of human freedom."

He also had to establish his personal authority over the bickering Allies.

The Russians had proposed that Tokyo be turned into a divided city, as Berlin had been, that the Soviet Union occupy the northern main island of Hokkaido and that the Japanese army be split up and sent to the Soviet Union, the United States and other allied nations as slave labor.

Turned Down

MacArthur coldly turned thumbs down on all these and refused to accept the interference of the 13-nation Allied Commission.

His first series of directives freed political prisoners, established freedom of the press, disbanded the "thought police."

MacArthur's next big step was to draw up a constitution which made the emperor a vague "symbol of state" and outlawed war as an instrument of national policy.

In the years that followed, he instituted a sweeping land reform program, gave women the vote, revised the ultra-conservative educational system and obtained financial assistance from the United States which permitted Japan to rebuild its shattered industry and finally embark on the road to its present prosperity.

MacArthur's land reform program, which strengthened the conservative farming class, was credited with preventing Japan from swinging to the left. At the same time, he was criticized for permitting Communists to resume legal activity.

Many of his occupation policies were attacked from one quarter or another. Most of them have survived intact. It is one of the ironies of history that the chief supporters of his no-war constitution are the Socialists and Communists who today are the chief Japanese critics of the United States. It is this constitution which gives them the right to criticize as they do.

Foiled By A Hare

GORNJI MILANOVAC, Yugoslavia (AP) — Hunting has been so good this year that the Pranjanja Hunters' Association decided to hold a celebration. They promised a big dinner with a main dish of hares caught by the hunters themselves. Then the hunters went out to catch the hares. They trudged home at nightfall wearily and called off the whole thing.

Burl Ives' Diet Paying Off

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Burl Ives, who used to be as wide as a forest, has slimmed down so much that now he can hide behind a single full-grown redwood tree.

"I've lost 75 pounds in the last four months, and I expect to drop another 75 pounds by the end of the year," said the big genial actor and folk singer.

After completing his latest film, a fantasy in which he plays a fat Arabian nights genie, Burl decided to peel off some of his 300-plus poundage. He went to Duke University in North Carolina to try its famous rice diet treatment.

Fat Melted

According to Ives, the fat melted from him magically.

"For 10 or 15 years I was on a high protein diet—and I kept gaining weight," he said.

"I can walk 10 miles a day now and never get tired. Before that I'd puff like a steam engine when I went a hundred yards."

"I used to have hot pipes"—his term for stomach upsets—"and colds before I went on this diet. Since then I haven't had hot pipes or a cold," Ives said.

"I used to have to put down a pound of steak before I went to make a recording. Now I can eat a few grains of boiled rice and sing like a bird."

Ives started plucking out tunes on a guitar, as a 5-year-old farmboy. Becoming bored on a summer day during his junior year in college, he walked out of an English class on a sudden impulse to see the world. All he took along was his guitar and 15 cents in cash.

Seven Plays

In the years since then Burl has appeared in seven Broadway plays, given hundreds of concerts, recorded 32 albums of songs, made 15 films and written four books.

He is one of the most famous "pack rats" in show business. His nine-room, old - fashioned apartment on the upper West Side here is crowded with souvenirs of his travels — everything from battleship flags to African battle spears.

"I think I'm happier now than I've ever been—and I'm 54. When I was younger I didn't have enough sense to be happy" Ives said.

"I recommend nothing to anybody, but life is pretty complicated and I think it helps to try to simplify it. That's what I did with my food problem by going on the rice diet.

Day By Day

"I do as I always have: I play life by ear, and live it day by day.

"If something comes along and I want to do it, I do it. If not, I go sailing and spit in the water.

"What keeps us from joy is mostly ourselves. We have too many cobwebs in our minds.

"At this point in my life my feeling is to follow my instincts, to move as things happen rather than according to plan or to achieve any set goal.

"I have found that you have to move pretty much as life presents situations to you. I'm pretty happy-go-lucky. I'm not a worrier."

Vern Gets A Lesson In Law

Pittsburgh Hurler Can't Toss Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pittsburgh right-hander Vern Law, a respected elder in the Mormon Church, has run afoul of baseball law.

Continuing his impressive pitching in a comeback bid, the Deacon hurled six innings of perfect ball Tuesday in the Pirates' 3-2 10-inning exhibition loss to St. Louis, an effort that should have thrown Law into the spotlight for one of the game's biggest plums—an open-day assignment.

But the big book of baseball law has thrown him a curve.

The one-time 20-game winner and hero of the Pirates' 1960 World Series triumph decided last year to retire—temporarily at least. In accordance with that decision, Law was placed on the voluntary retired list.

That move made him ineligible for reinstatement to the active roster until six days after the 1964 season opens.

The six days, however, are little compared to the three years the 34-year-old pitcher has spent trying to regain his form, stolen on a bus ride by a prank-playing teammate the day the Pirates clinched the 1960 pennant.

There was some spirited by-play on the bus, and Law was avoiding it. He was grabbed by one of the players, who tried to remove Law's shoe without untying the laces. Law went on to finish out a 20-9 season and won two Series games against the New York Yankees.

But he had been pitching with an unnatural motion, injuring his arm. And then one injury was followed by another. Last year he even went to the minors to try and solve his problems, but finally gave up. Now, however, he may have found the answer, possible in his self-enforced layoff.

"There's just no comparison with a year ago," he said recently. "A year ago I really couldn't throw without my arm aching but now it doesn't hurt at all."

Besides Law, Kansas City's Diego Segui and Detroit's Mickey Lolich turned in solid pitching performances.

Segui hurled shutout ball in his eight-inning stint, allowing only six hits, but the A's had to hold on once he left before nailing an 8-5 victory over the New York Mets. Lolich scattered nine hits, striking out 11, as he went the route in the Tigers' 4-1 victory over Houston.

Are you a 'bug' owner?

That is, do you possess a small foreign car? If you do, you are a member of the 'watchful eye' club.

Did you notice after the first day of driving how 'big' car drivers seem to disregard your presence. They show no respect whatso-ever for the 'bugs.' They will pull in front of you, even if there isn't a car behind you for miles, rather than wait.

Have you noticed at stop lights, 'big' car owners pull beside you and gun their fuel - burners around you rather than follow?

On the highway, when you're going 70, a 'big' car driver will risk a ticket just to pass you. The idea of following a 'bug' must be too humiliating.

'Bug' owners also discover problems 'big' car owners never have to contend with — for example — big dogs with bad vision.

For these reasons, whenever I see a 'bug' driver I know here's a man with thick skin. Here's a man with strong pride. And, here is a man who has added more words to the English vocabulary than all writers, authors and lecturers, combined.

I know, because I'm a member of this elite group. Beep, beep!

Williams Cops Decision Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Cleveland Williams, the world's fifth-ranked heavyweight, boxed his way to a unanimous 10-round decision Tuesday night over Tommy Fields of Los Angeles. Williams weighed 213½, Fields 192½.

Williams outpointed his lighter unranked foe, but the crowd of 4,000 greeted the end with mixed emotions.

They are accustomed to seeing Williams' foes stretched flat on their backs. There have been 49 of those, but Fields refused to make it an even half-hundred.

"Williams was too strong," Fields said afterward. "I planned to stay close and look for an opening, but he threw me this way and that way and I never could get anything started.

"He's the strongest I ever fought. As far as I'm concerned he's the tops."

Judge James Mason carded the fight 100-89, judge Earl Keel 99-90 and referee Jimmy Webb 100-95.

Williams said he never stopped trying for a KO, but he admitted Fields was a hard man to nail. "I knew after the first round," Williams said, "he was an in-fighter, so I had to shorten my punches."

Williams has a career record of 58 victories, five losses an a draw.

Faul Leads Bevy Of Cuts To Minors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit pitcher Bill Faul, who was ordered out of his trance this spring, now has been ordered to the minors.

Faul was one of some three dozen players cut Tuesday as major league baseball clubs began to trim their rosters heavily in order to get down to the opening day limit of 28.

Faul created quite a stir last season—boldly defying superstition by wearing No. 13 on his uniform and just as boldly revealing that he was pitching with the aid of hypnosis. The stir grew and the criticism mounted.

Mandrake

He was labeled a Mandrake by opponents and subjected to public criticism.

"A lot of the criticism was unwarranted," said Faul, "and although it was unwarranted it reflected badly on the ball club. People thought it was some kind of witchcraft—a supernatural power."

That, coupled with orders from Manager Chuck Dressen and Faul's own doubts about his ability to get along without a crutch, persuaded him to give up hypnosis, despite what Faul felt were its advantages.

"When you're under hypnosis you're real vividly alive," he explained. "You're alert and your reflexes are quick and when you make a mental error it's brought home sharply because your subconscious is reacting against errors.

"It helped me mentally, but it fatigued me."

In its place, Faul, who had a 5-6 record last season, developed two new pitches.

Apparently they were not enough—at least not yet.

Other Cuts

The Tigers cut nine other players—Pitchers Pete Craig, Denny McLain, Jack Hamilton, Willie Smith, Doug Gallagher and Bob Dustal; first baseman Bill Roman, shortstop Ray Oyler and outfielder Purnal Goldy.

Let The Kids Play It Alone

As of this week, one of the more favorite hobbies of former baseball players and current baseball players is to spout off about the game and its faults.

Stan Musial, a legend in his own time, rapped the Cardinals for making bad trades which resulted, in Musial's opinion, of costing the Gashousers several pennants.

Ken Boyer, Card third baseman who is regarded as the finest in the game today, has delved even deeper into baseball and come forth with the opinion that kids today are "over coached."

The strange thing is that both Musial and Boyer are probably right.

In this opinion Boyer is certainly right.

Take the kid leagues for example. Some of the coaches or managers if you prefer are completely in the dark about baseball and the molding of players.

For some, the closest they came to a baseball field was when they chased the hot dog vendor down the third base side of the stands on a July 4th doubleheader.

Qualifications

Boyer told one reporter, "When I was in high school they provided us with a field to play on and the equipment to play with.

"We had a coach. He looked after us and had charge of us on trips but he didn't do much coaching."

Boyer continued, "Give boys a ball—they'll learn what to do with it.

"They learn by playing. If one does something better than the rest of them the others know it. They figure things out themselves if you give them a chance.

Kid Baseball

This has proved especially true in kid baseball circles. Some managers have even tried to make a switch hitter out of a natural lefty.

Results: he ends up striking out both ways and loses all of his natural swing and power.

Others allow the 12-year-old to sling a natural whip delivery only a short time and then "coach" him to change and put more stuff on the ball.

Results: "little leaguer elbow" and ruined arm.

Just give 'em a ball and let 'em play. Contain yourself to strategy, not changing the natural form of a kid.

For all you know you might be working with another Roger Hornsby, Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth or Walter Johnson.

Abel Is Fined But Wings Stay Alive With Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sid Abel, Detroit's outspoken hockey coach, is $500 poorer and a lot happier today after the Red Wings' 7-2 "stay alive" victory over Chicago in Tuesday night's Stanley Cup action.

The Wings' decision squared their semifinal series with the Black Hawks at 3-3, same count as the other set between Toronto and Montreal. The Maple Leafs pulled even Tuesday night when goalie Johnny Bower blanked the Canadiens 3-0.

The deciding games in the best-of-seven sets will be played at Chicago and Montreal Thursday night.

Blast

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, docked Abel for the Detroit skipper's blast at referee Frank Udvari after last Sunday's fifth game, won by Chicago 3-2.

Abel read the announcement of the fine to his players just before Tuesday night's game. "I no sooner began to read it than I realized these guys were hot enough to melt the ice," Abel said after the Wings had turned their wrath on Chicago goalies Glenn Hall and Denis DeJordy.

Hall turned over the pads to DeJordy after being clipped for five Detroit goals in two periods. DeJordy gave up the last two goals, including Norm Ullman's third of the game.

Sawchuk

Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk, out of a hospital for the second time since injuring his left shoulder in the series opener, had 26 saves. Ken Wharram and Stan Mikita scored the Hawks' goals.

Abel called Udvari "gutless" for allowing a disputed Chicago goal in Sunday's game. The Red Wings' coach said the referee "blew the call and knew it."

Robertson And Lucas Finally Hit The Bucket; Royals Win!

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's one-two punch of Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas powered the Royals to a do-or-die fourth game victory over the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division playoff finals of the National Basketball Association Tuesday night.

Boston, winner of the first three in the best-of-seven set, was in position to take its eighth straight division title Tuesday night but ended up on the short end of the score, 192-83.

The series moves to Boston for the fifth game Thursday night.

Pressure

"The pressure was on us and I told the team to just relax and play their normal game," said Royals' Coach Jack McMahon.

"We only made some small adjustments on both offense and defense."

But those adjustments just about bottled up Boston's Bill Russell. The big center, who led the Celtics in the first three games, got only one field goal and seven free throws for nine points. He grabbed 24 rebounds, but Lucas pulled down 25 for the Royals.

In the NBA's Western Division finals, St. Louis and San Francisco tangle in a fourth game tonight at St. Louis. The Hawks lead that series 2-1.

Celtics' Coach Red Auerbach said the Royals played better. "They're not a punk ball club that you can beat four times in a row. They have a lot of pride and didn't want to lose four straight," Auerbach added.

Robertson

McMahon credited Robertson's second half performance and Lucas' rebounding as the big factors in the Royals' win. "At the half, I saw that Oscar had only eight points. I felt this was a good sign because he's too good a player. We needed the big second half and got it."

Robertson got 25 points in the last half and ended up with 33 to share scoring honors with the Celtics' Sam Jones. Jones had a torrid first half, scoring 24 points in 18 minutes. But he cooled considerably in the second half and found himself unable to shake Jay Arnette.

Leaders Hold At ABC Tourney

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The leaders in all divisions of the American Bowling Congress Tournament survived the 46th day of the tournament Tuesday without a challenge.

Pagnotti Coal, a delegation of veterans from Old Forge, Pa., led scoring in the regular team division with a 2,920 series. The Pagnottis, who finished fourth in last year's ABC at Buffalo, N.Y., failed to penetrate the top ten. George Billick, who has rolled a record 17 perfect games in ABC sanctioned competition, turned in a disappointing 517 for the Pagnottis.

Cards, Fort Knox To Win

Yanks Superior To Rest Of AL In Every Dept.

NEW YORK (AP) — As impregnable as Fort Knox and almost as rich, the New York Yankees are so far superior to the rest of the American League it is conceivable they could wrap up their fifth consecutive pennant in record time.

The big battle figures to be for second place. Four teams—Minnesota, Baltimore, Chicago and Detroit — will probably knock each other's brains out for the runner-up spot.

Of the others, only Cleveland appears to have a chance to sneak into the first division. The immediate future bodes ill for Boston, Los Angeles, Washington and Kasas City.

How can the other clubs stop the Yankees with a healthy Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris? Even without them for half a season, the Yankees ran off with the 1963 championship by 10 games.

Order

The possible order of finish:

1. New York
2. Minnesota
3. Baltimore
4. Detroit
5. Chicago
6. Cleveland
7. Boston
8. Los Angeles
9. Washington
10. Kansas City

Yogi Berra, the new manager, claims the Yankees are stronger than last year. His argument is simple and direct.

"Our outfield is the best, our infield is the best and our catching is the best," he said. "And our pitching is better than it was last year."

The Yankee outfield trio of Mantle, Maris and Tommy Tresh, and the infield of Joe Pepitone, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Clete Boyer rank tops in the league.

The Twins compare favorably with the Yankees in power. They have good, if not outstanding pitching, but lack the tight defense so vital to a pennant winner. They were eighth in fielding last year and the switch at first from Vic Power to Bob Allison doesn't figure to eliminate that weakness.

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY—Augusta, Ga.—Jack Nicklaus, defending champion, is all business as he gets set to stroke a putt during practice sessions for the upcoming Masters Golf Tournament. (AP Wirephoto)

Casper Puts Heavy Swingers On Spot

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "On a dry course we spot them six strokes. When it's wet, it's eight."

So estimated Billy Casper, former Open champion and one of the golfers rated a chance to cut down long-hitting Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the 28th Masters Golf Tournament beginning Thursday.

Casper finished his first practice round over the Augusta National Course Tuesday and said:

"If ever a golf course was built for Nicklaus and Palmer, this is it. And when it's wet it's more so."

The course was soaked Monday. A muggy, overcast Tuesday didn't do much to put any roll back in the fairways. More showers were expected today.

Anything can happen for the tournament, since the locals say "we usually get one day of rain, one day of sun, one day of wind and one nice one, but not necessarily in that order."

Under the best of conditions the course, which is just a short chip shot under 7,000 yards, is a hacker's nightmare and a short hitter's Hades. When it's wet, the bunters might as well stay home.

Little Jerry Barber, former PGA champion who hits more fairway woods in a round than Nicklaus does in a year, said "this is the kind of course that if you aren't good, you can expect to go down under and play every day when you die."

The tees are usually placed so that drives must carry uphill. On a dry day, the short hitters hit, and hope the ball will roll to the top. On a wet day they just hope.

The big, straight hitters—meaning Nicklaus and Palmer—can paste the ball to the top of the hill on the fly. And they get extra roll when they get there.

An invited field of about 90 players will tee off Thursday in pursuit of Nicklaus, the defending champion. The big, blonde Ohio Golden Bear is aiming to be the first player ever to repeat.

He was the youngest player ever to win the Masters last year. If he repeats at the age of 24 he will be the second youngest, too.

For the first time in many years, all the living past champions are on hand. Ralph Guldahl, the 1939 winner and one-time undisputed king of golf, is on hand for the first time since 1947.

Old Sam Snead, 51, runner-up to Guldahl in 1939 and winner in 1949 and 1952, is rated a genuine chance. He shot a 69 in a Tuesday practice round.

Palmer had a 72, and admitted he hit some drives farther than any he ever hit before. Nicklaus had a 71, as did Casper.

Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who is a possible title threat, also had a 69.

Musial Is Gone But Balance Is Key To Pennant

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been 18 long, dry years since the St. Louis Cardinals won a National League pennant. The drought is over. Despite the retirement of Stan Musial, they will scramble home first this season in another typical cutthroat struggle.

The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers will be in it. So will San Francisco, Philadelphia and Milwaukee. Cincinnati could be a factor. Even Pittsburgh and Chicago are possibilities. Only Houston and the poor old New York Mets appear outclassed.

Nobody has repeated in this well-balanced league since Milwaukee in 1957-58. Four different teams have won in the last four years starting with Pittsburgh in 1960. With the exception of the Colts and Mets, only the Cardinals, Phils and Cubs have failed to make the grade in the last six years.

It is about time for another pennant for the Red Birds who haven't been in a World Series since 1946 when Enos Slaughter made his famous dash home from first base while Johnny Pesky of the Boston Sox hesitated.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. St. Louis
2. Los Angeles
3. San Francisco
4. Philadelphia
5. Milwaukee
6. Cincinnati
7. Chicago
8. Pittsburgh
9. Houston
10. New York

In the American League you start with New York and work down. In the National you open with New York on the bottom and work up. Not even the plush Shea Stadium can rescue the Mets from a third straight year in the cellar. Houston may be a bit better but not enough to catch the rest.

St. Louis has the league's all-star infield, a top young catcher in Tim McCarver and added pitching strength in Roger Craig to help Bob Gibson, Ernie Broglio and Curt Simmons. Much depends on a comeback by pitcher Ray Washburn and the ability of Charlie James and rookie Johnny Lewis or Carl Warwick to make the grade as regulars in the outfield with Curt Flood.

Baylor Shares SWC Ball Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baylor moved into a tie for the lead and Texas A&M hung in there close in the Southwest Conference baseball race Monday.

Baylor nipped Texas Christian 3-2 in 11 innings while the Aggies beat Southern Methodist by the same score in makeup games. They were playoffs of contests postponed because of rain.

Baylor brought its season record to 10-3—best in the league—and its conference mark to 3-1, which tied Texas.

½ Out

The Aggies became 3-2 and were only a half-game out of first place.

Southern Methodist was losing its second conference game and had a 1-2 record.

John Tatum singled in the winning run in the 11th inning as Baylor nosed out Texas Christian Monday. Meanwhile Henry Perkins was going the distance and notching his fifth victory with a six-hitter.

Frank Stark and George Hargett hit back-to-back doubles in the ninth to give Texas A&M its triumph over Southern Methodist. Between them the two batted in all the Aggie runs. Sophomore lefthander Steve Hillhouse worked a seven-hitter to bring his conference record to 2-1.

Parseghian The Outsider Taking Aim At New Image

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's first nonalumnus football coach since 1917, starts the task Wednesday of trying to return the Fighting Irish to long-lost football glory.

Parseghian, former Northwestern University coach with a four-year Irish contract, opened spring football practice for Notre Dame's 76th grid season with guarded optimism.

"I hope to restore the once proud football image of Notre Dame, but I have no idea how long that will take," said the 40-year-old Parseghian, first Irish "outsider" regular coach since Jesse Harper in 1913-17.

Parseghian, eight-season Big Ten coaching veteran at Northwestern, inherits 17 lettermen and a big weakness at quarterback and ends from interim Coach Hugh Devore.

Attacks

"We'll install two types of attack—the option and pro style quarterback offense this spring, and go next fall with what develops best," said Parseghian.

"We'll try to find our best football players and make them fit into the positions where they will help this team most," he said. "Right now, I really can't evaluate my personnel. At the end of spring practice I should be able to say who should play at what position."

Critical Eye

Parseghian said he would keep a "critical eye" on his Irish quarterbacking crew.

They include lone letterman Alex Bonvechio and holdovers John Huarte, Denis Szot, Dan McGinn and Bill Zloch. Only one letterman, Dave Pivec, returns at end.

Notre Dame has not had an undefeated season in a decade, last scoring a 9-0-1 record in 1953 under Frank Leahy. Since then—under Terry Brennan, Joe Kuharich and Devore—the Irish have had a 51-48 record.

Next fall the Irish meet, in order, Wisconsin, Purdue, Air Force, UCLA, Stanford, Navy, Pittsburgh, Michigan State, Iowa and Southern California.

City's Boys Clubs Celebrate Week

Emphasis is being placed on family social activities, with a scheduled swim night Wednesday at the Central Boys Club. A "lad and dad" swim, under water swim, polo and penny scramble will be offered during the meet.

Monday and Tuesday saw family movies, treasure hunts in the afternoon, and free ice cream enjoyed by Wichita Falls youths and families.

Tuesday, emphasis was put on intelligence and research with an essay contest, speech contest and a spelling bee.

Few Recall Master Killer Ralph Guldahl

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The tall, stoop-shouldered man with the receding hair line stood on the practice tee, pelting iron shots toward an overalled Negro caddy.

"Who is that?" a spectator asked.

"Search me," another replied. "Looks kinda familiar."

There were other whispered inquiries. The replies were almost invariably the same. "Don't know—never saw him before."

It's a short step from "who's who" to "who's he" in this fickle sport.

A quarter of a century ago, Ralph Guldahl was the Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer of his day, the recognized king of golf.

He won the National Open twice, in 1937 and 1938. He captured the Masters in 1939.

He won a few tournaments in 1940. In 1941, he hit upon lean times. His game suddenly went sour and he found it hard to break 80.

Distressed, Guldahl quit the tour, retired to his home in San Diego, Calif. and dropped into oblivion. Today, even most of the pros don't recognized him on sight.

"This is a very humbling game," the 6-2 Californian said sadly today as he tuned his game for the 28th Masters Tournament, his first appearance here in 15 years.

"No one is supreme. There are a lot of factors that keep a man up there — concentration, unbending nerves, courage. When these things go, the game goes, and the public soon forgets you.

"It happens to us all. Arnold Palmer is going through a period of crisis. If he doesn't start winning soon, his army will desert him. Nicklaus is younger, but some day it will happen to him. It happens to us all."

Guldahl, at 212, is 15 pounds over his regular playing weight. He has developed a paunch. His shoulders sag. His eyes are tired, without fire.

OLD TITANS TURN INTO CASH TITANS

KANSAS CITY (AP) — New York, which went broke during the 1962 season, is the one American Football League club that believes it can beat Kansas City in season ticket sales, Commissioner Joe Foss said Tuesday.

"The 36-million-dollar television contract for five years stopped all the idle chatter and proves the AFL is here to stay," Foss said.

"I have to chuckle when I stop and think of the way things have developed," Foss told Chiefs' ticket sellers. The commissioner said the "people waiting for us to die said 'this is it" when the old New York Titans went bankrupt during the '62 season.

New Story

"The situation tested the owners and they came through," Foss said. "They said they'd get their money back. Now it's a completely different story in New York. The new owner, Sonny Werblin, is promoting the club night and day.

"New York definitely will play in 60,000-seat Shea Stadium this fall. Buffalo has voted to add 7,500 seats between the goal lines for its club. Houston and Oakland definitely will be in the new stadiums for the 1965 season.

"I was tickled when Kansas City got the Dallas franchise, because I knew the enthusiasm and the type of fans here."

New York has sold more than 10,000 season tickets so far. Kansas City, which set an AFL record of just over 15,000 last season, has sold almost 10,000 with a goal of 20,000. The ticket drive opened officially Tuesday.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the Chiefs, praised Kansas City fan support. Hunt said it was significant that 16 players have bought homes here and feel they are part of the city.

Willie Won't Cry Friday Either Way

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—In an era of alibing losers, Willie Pastrano appears as odd as a teenager driving 30 miles per hour on a speedway.

The light heavyweight champion lost a non-title 10-rounder to Argentina's Gregorio Peralta last Sept. 20 and never once did he give out with the standard "We wuz robbed" excuse.

"He beat me, no question about it," said Pastrano again today. "He's an awkward type fighter who surprised me with his style. I was in good shape physically but not up mentally. I guess I was too over-confident.

Wild Punchers

"I never heard of him. I thought he was just another one of those wild swingers from Argentina like Jorge Fernandez and Rocky Rivero. But he's cute and knows what he's doing. He shifts from a right-handed to left-handed stance and he had me baffled. This time I'll be ready for him."

Pastrano gets his return crack at the Argentine Friday in a 15-round title fight at the Municipal Auditorium. It will be televised nationally, ABC, 10 p.m. EST.

"I watched Peralta beat Wayne Thorton in those two television fights after he won from me and he fought the same way," said Willie. "He likes to take charge in a fight. I don't think he'll like it if it's the other way around. I think he'll get flustered.

"So that's what I'm going to do. I'm going to get inside and see if I can mess him up."

That would be a switch from fleet-footed Willie's usual dancing style. The 28-year-old champion, a pro since he was 15, normally flits about the ring, jabbing and moving.

Ready

"I can't afford to lose this one," said Pastrano, "and I'm not going to."

Pastrano has been guaranteed $50,000 for his first defense of the 175-pound division crown he won on a close decision over Harold Johnson at Las Vegas last June 1.

Without the title, Pastrano would be lucky to get a $5,000 television shot every now and then.

Pack Tosses Away Sixth

By TED LEACH

The Wichita Falls Coyotes kept their record perfect Tuesday as they lost to the Duncan Demons, 5-2, and aided the visitor's cause with numerous errors.

The setback was the sixth of the season against no wins.

The feat was accomplished despite a masterful five-hit, 14-strikeout performance by Louis McKown. The Coyote walked two, gave up only two earned runs but was a victim of the error, synonymous with Wichita Falls teams of the present and past.

Sophomore Jimmy Boyd led a Coyote hitting attack that would have been enough under most conditions. Boyd slammed a double and triple down the right field line, drove in a run and made things uncomfortable for the Demons until fielding lapses caught up with the Pack. John Runge joined the assault with a pair of singles and the losers managed to collect another safety before bowing.

Duncan took the lead in the top of first when Gary Smith scored from second after two were out on a two-base error by Runge. Smith walked to open the inning, went to second on a wild pitch, but appeared to be stranded there as McKown fanned the next two Demons. Cleanup batter Terry Due slapped an easy grounder toward first and Runge, on his knees, let the ball get away from him. Due went to second but a strikeout moments later stopped any further Duncan threat.

The Coyotes tied the count in their half of the frame. Jerry Phillips led off with a single. Boyd doubled him around, taking third on an error by the right fielder. A fly ball in the infield, a grounder to short and another fly in the infield killed the Pack's first rally after one run.

In the last of the third, Boyd tripled with one out and scored on a sacrifice fly by Mickey Pemberton, giving the Coyotes a 2-1 lead. At this stage, McKown had struck out eight of 12 batters and Duncan hadn't gotten the ball out of the infield.

The Demons broke up the lefty's no-hitter in the fourth when Darrell Sadler lined one sharply past the outstretched glove of third baseman Mike McBride, but it wasn't until the fifth that the Demons were able to score again. McKown struck out the first two in the stanza, then walked Gary Smith. Dee King, in the lineup replacing Lamar Howell, ripped the first pitch to center for a double, with Smith scoring.

Although there was no error on the play, second baseman Al Syverson held the relay throw too long and was apparently unaware that a run was scoring. A quick decision to throw on his part would probably have presented the tally. The next batter grounded out to end the inning.

Due opened the top of the sixth with a Texas League single. Joe Holloday bunted behind him and got credit for a single when Syverson failed to cover first base in time to take the throw from first sacker Runge. Then somebody failed to hold the runner close at second and Due stole third to move into scoring position. Sadler struck out but Jim Pennington singled and Duncan took a 3-2 lead.

McKown got James Howell on strikes, but, with two away, Gene Smith's easy grounder was bobbled by Syverson at second and two more runs scored. That was it.

The Pack managed a hit in the sixth that was nullified by a quick double play. Both sides went out in order in the seventh to wrap it up.

Duncan is now 6-4 for the season. The Coyotes, who have one game remaining with Rider next Tuesday before opening district, are working on a six-game losing streak. They are winless.

Pack Netters Sweep Lawton

LAWTON, Okla. — Wichita Falls High School's tennis team won its first dual match of the season here Tuesday by ripping Lawton's Wolverines, 14-4, in girls and boys play.

The matches, held at the Fort Sill Officers Club, had the Coyote netters winning all but two boys matches and all but two girls matches.

Both losses in the nine boys matches came in singles. The Pack's doubles entrants swept their three matches. The same was true for the girls as they won four singles and lost two, then iced things by winning all three doubles.

It was the first dual match of the season for the Coyotes. They have seen plenty of action, however, winning four of six tournaments so far this season.

President Gives 'Well Done' To Physical Fitness Heads

Scheduled to receive $1,000 special awards at a luncheon climaxing the first year of the Jaycees' physical fitness leadership awards program were:

Bill Bowerman, 52, of Eugene, Ore., University of Oregon track coach, who helped establish "jogging," a run not much faster than a walk, as an aid to physical fitness.

Frank J. Manley, 60, of Flint, Mich., who opened Flint school doors for night and weekend recreation activities that now attract 70,000 persons each week. He is assistant superintendent of schools in Flint.

Ralph Stanphill, 48, of Muskogee, Okla., physical educator, who directed and coordinated a pilot physical fitness program in the Muskogee school system used as a model by the President's Council for Physical Fitness.

These men, along with nine other regional winners, are being honored in a two-day visit to the nation's capital.

Tonight, the 12 physical fitness leaders will attend a buffet supper given by Stan Musial, head of the President's Council for Physical Fitness.

Rail Stocks Drop On Active Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails, faced with renewal of a strike threat, declined as the stock market worked generally lower early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

The carrier shares gave ground on news that the railroads plan to put into effect on Friday work rules changes opposed by the unions which, it was predicted, would strike if the rails carry out their plan.

Steels seemed to be recovering in early trading from the effect of the price-fixing indictment which triggered their decline of Tuesday, but as rails headed lower steels also backtracked.

The trend was generally lower also among motors, aerospace issues, farm implements and electronics. Coppers held fairly firm.

Airlines held gains made in a rebound from a spate of recent profit taking on their large previous advance. Cigarette stocks were slightly lower, oils and electrical equipments mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 304.3 with industrials up .6; rails unchanged and utilities up .1. Gains by key stocks were clipped after the average was compiled.

IBM erased a small early gain and slid more than a point. Polaroid was up 4 while Control Data and Xerox gained a couple of points each.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds improved.

Fast Payment Of Claims Seen

J. W. Martin, president of the Independent Insurance Agents Association of Wichita Falls, said Thursday that the city's local agents are geared to speed payment to persons who are insured and who had damage from Friday's tornado.

"As quickly as notice of losses is received by Wichita Falls agents, they are assigned to insurance adjusters," Martin said.

"Persons insured through out-of-town insurance agents can get aid and assistance from any of the members of the Wichita Falls Independent Insurance Agents Association," he said.

Frank Jones, catastrophe committee chairman of the association, said that claims of hardship cases, or persons having the most severe damage, would be handled first. He added that because of the severity of the storm, however, almost all claims would be handled on an emergency basis.

B. P. L. Carden, general adjuster, NBFU, New York, said Monday that on the basis of close investigation insured damage to homes, their contents, trailers, autos, and business buildings should approximate $2.4 million.

Martin emphasized that this figure does not include government - insured losses at Sheppard AFB, self - insured, or non-insured properties.

"This is important. Policyholders should keep their local insurance agent informed of their temporary address. In the event they have failed to do so, they should immediately report damage to their local agent," Martin said.

Trading Stamp Aid Scheduled

Wichita Falls merchants who give Gold Bond Stamps are contributing to the Salvation Army disaster fund for use by that agency as needed in caring for tornado victims.

n order to expedite the fund, the Gold Bond Stamp Company has advanced 450,000 stamps to the Salvation Army to be spent on needed merchandise under direction of Brig. William T. Johnson, Army commander.

An advertisement in Wednesday's Wichita Falls Times includes five coupons for 50 free Gold Bond Stamps each. When the customer presents the coupon the merchant in turn gives the 50 stamps to the disaster fund.

Edward F. Didier, assistant division manager, Gold Bond Stamp Company, Dallas, was in Wichita Falls Tuesday and Wednesday to assist in setting up the program.

Mrs. Myrna Talbott, Dallas, group project coordinator for the Dallas division, also is in the Wichita Falls area this week helping Gold Bond group projects in their work on the disaster relief.

Mrs. Talbott said merchandise which the Salvation Army needs for storm victims and which cannot be found in the center here will be obtained, on a 24-hour service schedule, from the Denver, Colo., warehouse.

Didier and Mrs. Talbott said it is their company's hope that through the 450,000 stamp pool set up for the Salvation Army to purchase immediately needed items, storm victims may receive new and useful merchandise.

Fateful MacArthur Letter Released By Joseph Martin

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. once made public a letter that ended the military career of a friend. The friend never mentioned the letter again, and neither did Martin, and the two remained close to the end.

The friend was General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, who died Sunday. In a reminiscent interview, Martin reviewed the events that swirled about the historic letter.

"I had wanted some ammunition to answer some of the Democratic arguments about the war in Korea," said Martin, "and so I wrote a letter to MacArthur asking for his views."

Martin, a Republican congressman from Massachusetts who was House minority leader then, received a reply from MacArthur. In the reply, MacArthur wrote Martin, "There is no substitute for victory," and he disagreed with President Harry S. Truman's decision to limit the war to Korea itself and to leave enemy bases in Communist China alone.

"I had asked him for his views, and his reply did not say that his views were confidential, but I was not sure what to do," Martin said. "I walked around the block several times before I finally made up my mind. I decided that if he did not want his views known he would have said so."

Martin, in the midst of a House debate on the Korean war in April 1951, released the letter.

Two days after the letter was made public, Truman dismissed MacArthur as the American commander in the Far East, and the long military career of the general came to an end.

"I never had any regrets about making that letter public," Martin said. "I always figured that Truman wanted to fire MacArthur anyway. He did it all too quickly. He fired him two days after I released the letter. If it had not been the letter, Truman would have found some other excuse."

"It is funny," the 79-year-old congressman continued. "MacArthur never mentioned that letter to me at all. And I never said a word about it, either. I always felt, let sleeping dogs lie."

Martin said he first met MacArthur when the general was Army chief of staff during the early 1930s. The late Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, then a Republican congressman brought them together.

"Mayor La Guardia had this apartment, and he liked to make chowder, and one day, he said to me, 'Come on over and have some chowder with General MacArthur,'" Martin recalled.

"We saw each other from time to time. I would not say we were intimates. But we were friends. In 1952, I went to see him and suggested that he become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

"'No,' he replied to me, 'I can't become a candidate. Bob Taft has earned the nomination.' I have always felt that MacArthur might have announced as a candidate if Taft had withdrawn from the race, but Taft, of course, had no intention of withdrawing, because he thought he would win the nomination, and he almost did."

Martin, who said he always called on MacArthur when visiting New York in the last few years, walked to the other end of his office to point to a framed document.

It was a copy of a speech by a Roman general, Lucius Clemilus Paulus, replying to his military critics in 168 B.C.

The speech said, in part:

"If therefore, anyone thinks himself qualified to give advice respecting the war which I am conducting, which may prove advantageous to the public, let him not refuse his assistance to the state, but let him come with me to Macedonia.

"He shall be furnished with a ship, a horse, a tent; even his traveling charges shall be defrayed.

"But if he thinks this too much trouble and prefers the repose of a city life to the tools of war, let him not, on land, assume the office of a pilot."

Underneath was the inked inscription "Amen!" and the signature, "Douglas MacArthur."

"He sent this to me two years ago," Martin said. "It sort of touches the whole point of everything, doesn't it?"

Lauritz Melchior Tells Of Marriage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I have lived alone for a year and I have not liked it. So I thought I should have a companion for my sunset years."

Lauritz Melchior was talking at his mountaintop chalet about his marriage May 23 to Mary Markham, 40-year-old television producer who was once his secretary. A pretty, personable blonde, she was at his side beaming at her future husband, once again helping answer his mail.

Melchior at 74 seems a long way from sunset. His girth is still Wagnerian — both he and his future bride agree he'll be dieting—and his rich tenor can still ring to the rafters.

Evidence

Further evidence of his youthfulness was offered by Miss Markham with mock complaint: "We'll have a week's honeymoon in Hawaii and then he's going to leave me to hunt ice bear in Norway and Greenland."

Melchior added: "After hunting ice bear, I look forward to coming back to a warm home."

He is now involved in plans to refurbish his Mulholland Drive home, a showplace which features his hunting trophies, so it will fit his new family. His bride-to-be has a 3-year-old son by a previous marriage, also named Lauritz.

"The boy and I get along fine," said Melchior, himself a grandfather, "but then, I have always liked children."

Slowed Down

Melchior's singing activity has slowed down in recent years and he has earned his rest. He began singing opera in 1913 and his work load has matched the size of his voice and build. At the Metropolitan Opera House alone he performed 512 times, missing only three engagements.

"Actually I started singing at 9 in the choir of my church in Denmark," he said. "But I didn't sing professionally until I was full-grown, and I am glad of that. I think it is wrong for young people to start singing before audiences at too early an age. They usually burn themselves out.

Matured

"It is better for a singer to wait until he has matured, both in body and mind and personality. Ah, that is the key: personality. In our business success is 10 per cent voice and 90 per cent personality. Anyone can have a voice. But if he cannot communicate it to others, it is worthless."

"I have always said you should live your life so that on your dying day you can look back with no regrets—not even about your mistakes," he commented. "The important things to have are a sense of humor, and love, and friendship.

"We know our marriage won't last for 38 years. But we're going to enjoy it as long as we can."

Want Nationalization

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Labor officials say they will demand nationalization or Mexicanization of the $100-million chemical-pharmaceutical industry, now almost all foreign owned. Under nationalization, Mexico would buy the 437 firms involved. Mexicanization means 51 per cent of a company must be Mexican-owned and operated.
