Bevin Arrives For Big Four Talks In Paris

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager INS

PARIS, May 20.—British Foreign Secretary Bevin arrived in Paris tonight for the opening Monday of the foreign ministers' meeting on Germany in which the West hopes at least to get a "compromise economic" plan.

Bevin accompanied by most members of the British delegation, told newsmen:

"I have nothing to say—better see me when I am going away."

When he left London he said the prospects of a German question settlement is "in the lap of the gods; I hope the gods are kind."

Conferences Held

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who left Washington by plane today, is expected to arrive tomorrow in time for a preliminary "common front" strategy conference with Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

The first four-power session is expected to be at 4 p.m. Monday. London informants said Bevin is likely to urge that June 11 be the target date for completion.

Nearly a week of preliminary talks among Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States, Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick of Britain, and Alexandre Parodi of France preceded Bevin's arrival.

Compromise Studied

Authoritative informants said their report contains recommendations for a possible compromise plan providing increased trade between eastern and western Germany should a full settlement be impossible.

Western diplomats see little hope of a full agreement. There is not even too much optimism on the chance of getting a compromise economic agreement.

A major recommendation is that the West should insist on the Bonn constitution for western Germany being made a basis for discussing political unity in Germany.

Western experts still find it almost impossible to believe Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky will accept the stiff western demands.

Basic Rights Sought

They see a possibility Vishinsky will propose a trick formula for a single German government based on a combination of Bonn law with provisions offered by an East German Communist regime.

The West is determined to reject any unity plan unless the east zone is given basic human rights contained in the Bonn constitution.

Therefore an alternative is the economic compromise plan which could involve establishing central German administrative agencies for transport, communications and internal trade. Such agencies

Acheson Leaves For Conference

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—With a friendly "good luck" from President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson took off for Paris today to find out whether Russia is willing to settle the future of Germany on western terms.

As he departed, officials here were unsure whether the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening Monday, would:

(1) Turn into another East-West propaganda battle or (2) open a new and unprecedented period of agreement between the Soviet Union and the West.

Hope Encouraged

There was some hopeful speculation that Russia, having run into powerful resistance to Communism on the part of the western nations, might be prepared to make a general diplomatic retreat and thus ease tensions in the cold war.

This speculation appeared to have been strengthened somewhat by disclosures last night that the United States and Britain have been secretly talking with the Soviet Union about ending the civil war in Greece.

But later information indicated that the Greek talks had closed with neither side giving ground.

Acheson Determined

Acheson had disclosed his general approach to the Paris conference some hours earlier. He was going in a determined frame of mind, willing to explore, as he said, "all possibilities" to settle the German problem but ready

OKLAHOMA BATTERED BY WEATHER—Oklahoma as well as Texas has been battered in almost unprecedented manner the past few days by the elements and there was no letup last night as tornadoes continued to skip over the state. Shown above, the Washita river, swollen by rains of more than nine inches, was out of its banks in southwest Oklahoma and had washed out a section of the Rock Island railroad tracks between Carnegie and Anadarko. Constitution Is Adopted

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 20 (AP)—West Germany's new constitution, uniting 11 states in a federal republic, was ratified tonight.

The deciding vote was cast by the state parliament of North Rhine-Westphalia, which approved the constitution 153 to 38 in Ruesseldorf after a day-long debate interrupted frequently by Communist demonstrations in the gallery.

North Rhine-Westphalia was the eighth of the 11 states, which make up the occupation zones of the United States, Britain and France, to endorse the charter. Approval by two-thirds of the states was required to make the constitution effective.

To Proclaim Adoption

Only one state, traditionally independent Bavaria, voted against the charter, and its legislators agreed Bavaria would join the republic if the other 10 states decided to do so.

A ninth vote of endorsement came tonight from the legislature of the American-occupied area of Bremen. The count was 77 to nine, with Communists and deputies of the rightist German party in opposition.

The only state yet to vote is Wuerttenberg-Hohenzollern, in the French zone. Its approval is expected tomorrow.

The convention which wrote the constitution will reassemble at Bonn next Monday and proclaim its adoption.

Adoption of the constitution, opposed from the first by the Communists of both western Germany and the Soviet zone, strengthens the hands of the western foreign ministers for the four-power conference on Germany to open in Paris Monday. The rival Soviet zone regime is a people's congress which purports to speak for all Germany.

The new government is to be modeled along British and Ameri-

U. S. Official Suspends Death Sentences Of Eight Germans

WASHINGTON, May 20 (INS)—Acting Army Secretary Gray tonight ordered the American command in Germany to suspend the death sentences of all persons convicted of war crimes at Dachau.

Gray said the order suspends the death penalties of eight Germans, and reaffirms the suspensions previously granted six men condemned for the Malmedy massacre of 80 American soldiers.

The acting secretary said he issued the order because the United States Senate is investigating the Malmedy cases, and may investigate the entire conduct of the Dachau trials.

AEC Claimed Hiding 'Loyalty Suspects'

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 20—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) accused the Atomic Energy commission today of keeping loyalty suspects "under cover" on AEC payrolls for over 10 months.

Ferguson fired the accusations point-blank at AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal at a stormy hearing of a Senate Appropriations sub-committee.

The Senate investigation was touched off by a disclosure that a Communist, Hans Friestadt, had been granted a fellowship under the AEC's multi-million-dollar student aid program.

Medical Student Named

Lilienthal, whose own appointment to head the nation's atomic development program was bitterly attacked in the Senate before he finally was confirmed, acknowledged that questions have been raised about the loyalty of "maybe as many as three" of the 500 persons who have been awarded AEC scholarships.

Lilienthal has been answering senators' pointed questions for two days. He was called in connection with the atomic commission's request for $1,090,000,000 operating money next year.

Under questioning by Senator Wherry (R-Neb), the AEC chairman confirmed that a young Boston medical student researcher, Dr. Isador S. Edelman, holds a $3,750-a-year atomic fellowship although he has been denied clearance for secret work on security grounds.

Investigations Underway

The committee promptly announced it will call Edelman to testify Tuesday.

Lilienthal said Edelman is not working on atomic secrets, and has denied that he is a Communist.

Meantime, there were these other developments in the capital today:

1. Attorney General Clark disclosed that the Justice department

Duel Between Fish And Angler Ends In Tie; Both Get Away

(By The Associated Press)

FORT PIERCE, Fla., May 20 — A fish caught a man. The man got away.

O. G. Hill hooked a big jewfish while angling from a bridge. The fish pulled hard on the line, then let up for a moment. But it was a fishy trick, for he came back with a mighty jerk.

Hill went over the rail into the water. He clung to a part of the bridge structure until other fishermen helped him to safety.

The fish also got away.

Five Persons Die In Plane Crash

BURR OAK, Kan., May 20. (INS)—Five persons were killed today in the crash of a twin-engined Cessna airplane five miles northwest of Burr Oak, Kan.

There were no witnesses to the accident. The plane was found burned in a field and the bodies were charred beyond recognition. Authorities said a leather jacket found near the wreckage bore the name of Forrest Gore, of Hiawatha, Kan.

(At Hiawatha, authorities said a Forrest Gore operated a flying service and had departed for St. Francis, Kan., with four Hiawatha business and civic leaders to attend a businessmen's meeting.

ONE DEAD SIX HURT

COALVILLE, Utah, May 20 (INS)—One person was killed and six others were slightly injured today when the rear car of the westbound Union Pacific Los Angeles limited derailed about nine miles east of Coalville in northern Utah. The dead woman was Mrs. George Jensen, 63 of Minneapolis, Minn.

Russian Proposal For Talks On Greek Civil War Rejected

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 20.—A Russian feeler for a big power conference to settle the Greek civil war was firmly rejected today by the United States and Britain.

Moscow was told in effect: Call off your Balkan satellites which have been helping the Greek guerrillas and we'll talk business—within the United Nations.

The U.S. State department coldly charged that Russia has been "lending encouragement to the illegal operations which have disturbed the peace."

Britain told the Soviets there won't be any negotiations "behind the back of the Greek government."

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, set off a flurry about possible peace in Greece by announcing that Russia had presented a conditional settlement plan to the U.S. and Britain.

London, followed quickly by Washington, put out the western versions of the informal and somewhat vague talks on which the Tass account was founded.

Reds Cut Last Aerial Link For Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Saturday, May 21—Shanghai's last air link to the outside world was snapped today and even the sea lane was menaced by besieging Chinese Communist troops.

Lungwha airport, five miles to the south, suspended operations because of the threat of Red artillery. Chinese officials said, however, flights might be resumed later in the day.

Great fires raged east of the Whangpoo river in the Pootung water front district of Shanghai.

A tower of black smoke rose from the Standard Oil dock about three miles north of downtown Shanghai. The fire was blamed on a high explosive shell. It was the first known large-scale damage to any U.S company during the Shanghai siege.

Casualties Reported

While the Woosung river, Shanghai's avenue to the sea, is still open, ships risked small arms fire from the shore.

There have been no reports that anyone on ships going out to sea have been injured, but junks and sampans moving along the Whangpoo have been taking occasional casualties and damage.

The latest communique from the Shanghai garrison said the Reds had withdrawn from some Pootung positions. Pootung is just across the Whangpoo from Shanghai proper.

Many Fires Seen

The communique asserted the Reds were in retreat along the railway which runs from Pootung to Changsha, which is 12 miles east of Shanghai's waterfront. This communique, however, was several hours old.

War devastation was becoming more and more evident in the Pootung waterfront district.

Apparently set by shelling and Nationalist defense demolitions, the fearsome chain of fires—this correspondent counted 26—stretched about five miles.

Otherwise Shanghai was comparatively quiet. A little shellfire and some machine gun bursts were audible. Small arms fire rattled sporadically.

What had looked like signs of Nationalist withdrawal last night appeared less so tonight.

Nationalist troops who had abandoned the elaborate defenses on the southwest were replaced.

Police commissioner Mao Sen was quoted by the official Central News agency as saying heavy troop reinforcements were coming into Shanghai.

Unconfirmable rumors said

Contract Issues Snag Ford Talks

(By The Associated Press)

Peace talks in the Ford strike were diverted Friday into a wrangle over when the company will discuss a new contract with the CIO United Automobile Workers union.

Meanwhile, efforts to settle the walkout which has made 102,000 production workers idle, were stalled. In addition, the union president, Walter Reuther, threatened to walk out of the strike talks and take his negotiators with him.

Friday's heated session was the first in which the government has participated directly. However, Federal Mediator Arthur C. Viat didn't get a real opportunity to get the ruffled company and union men into a discussion of strike settlement.

Charge Threatened

Reuther demanded that the Ford officials begin talks on a new contract next Monday. The present contract expires July 15.

John S. Bugas, vice-president of Ford, said there would be no contract talks during the strike, and specifically not before June 1.

Later Reuther said in a statement that the union would file charges of unfair labor practices against the company if contract negotiations don't start Monday.

The strike began May 5 when 65,000 workers left two Detroit area plants in a dispute over the union's charge of assembly line speedups.

Defense Rests In Murder Trial Of Former Hospital Attendant

WICHITA FALLS, May 20 (AP)—The defense rested abruptly tonight in the murder trial of T. C. Saucier, former state hospital attendant accused of stomping and beating an inmate to death. Not a defense witness was presented.

The state rested earlier after Dr. J. I. Goforth of Dallas told of an autopsy on the body of Thomas Houston Gibbons, Sulphur Springs produce man.

The state is demanding death for Saucier, accusing him of beating, choking, kicking and stomping Gibbons to death within 20 minutes after he was admitted as a patient. Gibbons died March 4.

Judge Frank Ikard of 30th district court said arguments will start tomorrow at 11 a.m.

Old Law Keeps Three Men In Vermont Jail

RUTLAND, Vt., May 20. (AP)—Three ex-soldiers who helped make V-E day a reality languished in Vermont jails tonight—under a law as old as the war of 1812—because they are unable to meet judgments in civil actions.

All three cases are based on automobile accidents. Two of the combat veterans were not arrested or charged with criminal offense. The third paid a $25 fine, on a ples of guilty to careless and negligent driving, before he was jailed in a damage action.

The latter, Frederick L. Lapan, 34, of Marshfield, was jailed May 2 when unable to pay a $450 judgment. His wife and three children are receiving public support.

The two other veterans are Bernard J. Smith, 23, of Fair Haven, and Ralph J. Fugatt, former Springfield, Mass., newspaperman, both of whom were jailed in lieu of judgments exceeding $2,000 each.

Fugatt's attorney, Edward J. Shea, said his client's wife and infant son were subsisting largely on an allowance he receives for 40 percent wartime disability.

ONE DEAD IN BLAST

SENECA, Ill., May 20. (AP)—Building containing 8,000 to 10,000 pounds of nitroglycerine at the Du Pont plant near here blew up tonight killing one man. Most of the 325 employes of the plant had left their jobs for the day when the blast occurred. The dead man, Wayne T. Fordyce, 30, of Verona, was alone in the building which served as a storehouse for the nitroglycerine.

Flood Waters Lapping Near Tops Of Trinity Levees Below Dallas

(By The Associated Press)

ROSSER, May 20 — Muddy flood waters of the Trinity river crept inch by inch higher tonight on straining levees, shielding some of the finest farm land in Texas.

The Ellis and Kaufman county dikes were holding. The men who patrolled them day and night expressed new hope when the levees showed no sign of cracking even as the flood crept up to 37.9 feet here at 7:30 p.m. CST.

The highest water from this mightiest Trinity flood since 1908 is expected at 4 p.m. Saturday. Although in theory the levees were built only to withstand a 38-foot flood, experienced watchers along the river said they were hopeful because the water was coursing rapidly draining orderly and rising only about a tenth of a foot an hour. Six levee breaks up river in Dallas county also eased the strain.

At 12:45 p.m., the Trinity at this critical confluence of the main river and its east fork stood at 37.44 feet.

Dikes on the west, or Ellis county side, are supposed to

One Is Killed, Several Hurt

(By The Associated Press)

NEARLY a dozen tornadoes slashed viciously at Oklahoma, Kansas, Tennessee and Colorado Friday and Friday night.

At least one person was killed.

Charlie Sykes 55, was killed at Yewed in northwestern Oklahoma. A twister knocked a tile building down on top of him.

The Oklahoma highway patrol earlier reported the death of Mrs. Kathryn Haight at Catesby, in Oklahoma near the northeast corner of the Texas Panhandle. Later, however, the patrol said the death was not confirmed. Her husband, Ed Haight, was taken to Woodward hospital with serious injuries. A search for Mrs. Haight was under way.

Many other ugly funnels were sighted swirling above the ground without causing damage.

Several persons were reported missing and at least 18 persons were injured.

In Oklahoma twisters struck at Balko, Shattuck, Waynoka, Beaver, Gage and near Woodward.

Kansas Hard Hit

In Kansas tornadoes struck southeast of Garden City, near Scott City, Wilmore, Rozel, Chase, Gorham, and near Salina.

In Tennessee a twister hit Goin and the Barn Creek community.

Several persons were unaccounted for at Rozel, 30 miles southwest of Great Bend in Central Kansas, where about half a dozen business buildings were ripped apart.

Another twister slashed through the main street of Chase, about 20 miles southwest of Emporia, flipping over the boxcar home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Simmons and their four children. Mrs. Simmons was taken to the Lyons hospital suffering from shock, and lacerations.

At Wilmore, in southwestern Kansas, six business buildings were reported flattened.

About 10 miles east of Salina another twister picked up an automobile containing five softball player and flipped it over four

District VFW Meeting To Get Underway In Lubbock Today

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

JAMES H. MORRIS says he gave up a business that was netting him $2,000 a week to go back into the Air Force because he thought civilian life was "too confining" for him.

As an Air Force captain, he should find the service not at all confining. He has flown about as far as anybody can fly — around the world non-stop.

This native Texan, who was born and raised at Brady but has called San Antonio home for 15 years, will be principal speaker at a District 7 VFW convention here Saturday and Sunday. He flew to Lubbock from Tucson, Ariz., Friday morning.

Hurtled Into Fame

He has the gift of feeling at home anywhere. He's been to Lubbock several times over a long period and said from childhood he says he has considered the town with its beautiful homes, trees and grass as an oasis in the great plains.

As co-pilot of Luck Lady II, the B-50 bomber which made the first globe-girdling non-stop flight, he and the other 13 members of the crew were hurtled into international prominence without prior notice.

He remarks that the feat has affected their individual lives very little. As a crew, they were the subject of universal admiration, but it was an accomplishment of teamwork and not individuals.

Capt. Morris has made a number of talks to luncheon clubs and the like in various cities. The crew has been honored at dinners and other events.

He will describe the experience in detail when he makes the speech before 300 to 500 foreign service veterans Sunday.

Bawling Calf Puts Waco Sheriff On Cow Thief's Trail

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, May 20 — This is the story of the bawling calf, the cow thief and the mama cow.

Not so long ago, Roy Long, McLennan county farmer, bought a cow. The cow not long afterward had a calf. They were contented in a green pasture.

Roy went to a Waco cattle auction sale today.

A cow was run into the ring. He liked the looks of the cow. It reminded him of the little calf's mother at home. He bought the cow and took it home.

Heard Calf Bawling

When Roy arrived home he heard the little calf bawling.

"What's the matter with the little calf?" he asked one of his men.

"Must have lost his mother," the man said.

Roy turned the new cow loose in the pasture. The cow ran to the calf. The calf ran to the cow. The cow nuzzled the calf. The calf nuzzled the cow.

This made Roy suspicious.

Yes sir, it was the little calf's mother which had been stolen from the pasture and taken to the auction ring. Roy, unknowingly, had bought her twice.

Where does the cow thief come in?

He will—just as soon as McLennan county sheriff C. C. Maxey can lay hands on him.

First Wheat Of 1949 Harvest Reported In Wichita Falls Area

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, May 20 — Wichita and Young county farmers vied for the honor of starting the nation's 1949 wheat harvest today.

First loads were combined by M. L. Hartmangruber, 47, on his Wichita county farm, and Johnny Dunagan, 43, of Olney, Young county, on a 206 acre farm he owns at the northeast edge of Throckmorton county.

Both were at work early in the afternoon. Dunagan brought his load to the Olney Gin company elevator, for temporary storage at 1:55 p. m. It was early Blackhill variety. Elevator manager Joe Dunagan reported its moisture content at 14.5 percent.

Hartmangruber's first load went to the L. Southard Elevator company, at Iowa Park, at 3:30 p.m. It tested 18 percent moisture content. He brought another to General Mills elevator and went back to take a third load to the K. K. Grain company at Electra, his home town.

Hartmangruber harvested the first load from a nine-acre field 12 miles west of Wichita Falls.

High Wind, Dust Hit South Plains

Things look mighty good from a weather standpoint this weekend.

That was the Lubbock Weather station's report last night for the South Plains. Emphasizing it appeared that May's stormy season was at least at a temporary end, the weatherman said today would be fair and slightly cooler with only moderate winds expected over the area.

Sunday also will be mostly fair with little change in temperature, he reported.

Visibility Is Cut

After a near "perfect" day Thursday, South Plains' weather took a turn for the worse again yesterday as winds ranging from 25 to 30 miles an hour from 9:30 a. m. until 7:30 p. m. whipped clouds of fine "silt" from rain washed fields high into the air.

Visibility at one time was cut to two miles at the Weather station, and in numerous sections of the Plains was reduced even further by the dust. Despite the high winds, the temperature climbed to 91 degrees to tie the previous high mark of the year.

FUEL PRICES CUT

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Esso Standard Oil Co. today announced a 15 cent a barrel reduction in the price of No. 6 heavy fuel oil at all terminals and for all methods of delivery. Heavy fuel oils No. 4 and 5 were adjusted "appropriately," the company said, and kerosene prices were trimmed .4 to .8 of a cent a gallon.

Fines Assessed In Cases Here

A 38-year-old O'Donnell woman, Gladys Taylor Nelson, pleaded guilty Friday in county court of a charge of drunk driving, and County Judge Walter Davies assessed her fine at $75 and court costs and revoked her license to drive a car for six months.

Fines of $25 and county court costs were assessed against two persons who pleaded guilty of aggravated assault: Robert H. Speakman, 36, and Willie Jones, 54, a negro.

Bike Is Stolen

Speakman was charged upon complaint of Thelma Jones, officials said.

Jones, booked by arresting police as "Rip" Jones, allegedly gained admittance to the room of a negro woman by saying he was "James" after she had answered his knock on the door. Her husband's name is James, she said. She ran Jones from the room with an ice pick after he struck her, police said she told them.

Tennessee Man Killed When Struck By Train In Louisiana

SULPHUR, La., May 20. (AP)—A man identified as John W. Andrews, believed to be from Memphis, Tenn., was fatally injured at 4:05 a.m. today when struck by a Southern Pacific passenger train here.

Andrews, who sustained injuries to his head, right side and right foot, was taken to a Lake Charles hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The engineer of the westbound train which hit Andrews told Deputy Marshal Milton Abshireof, of Sulphur that the man was sitting on the track and apparently on hearing the train jumped up and attempted to cross the track.

The cow catcher struck Andrews and knocked him about ten feet to one side.

Five new members were received into VFW Auxiliary when the group met Thursday night at the VFW home. All committees reported at the meeting, and plans were laid for memorial services in Lubbock Memorial cemetery May 30.

Delegates were also elected to attend the state convention in El Paso in June.

All Auxiliary members were invited to attend a Sunday morning breakfast in the home of Mrs. W. H. McDonald, 1905 Twenty-fifth, honoring out-of-town guests who attended the district meeting this weekend.

Forty members attended the meeting. New members are Mesdames Rubye M. Pledger, Lillie Mae Collins, Evelyn Stribling, B. R. Yandell and Laura Rampy.

Blue Bird Groups Make Lapel Pins

Members of Early Blue Birds and a newly organized Blue Bird group made lapel pins under direction of Mrs. E. N. Jones, president of the local Camp Fire council, when they met with Mrs. W. V. Maddox, Early Blue Bird group leader, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Donald McDonald is leader of the new Blue Bird group.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jones and her daughter, Elaine Jones.

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!

RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!

Chlorinate With SURECLOR

RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentary, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.

INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.

LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action of chlorine and water.

With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½c per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The amount of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.

DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test set with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

Hubs Pound Clovis

Reichelt Hurls 12 To 6 Victory

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

No sooner did the Hubbers acquire Ray Reichelt, a pitcher on option from Greenville, than they started winning, along with some generosity from Clovis, the Lubbock club pounding Rookie Bill Rosen for 12 hits and a 12 to 6 victory at Rosenthal Field last night.

The Hubbers thereby walked off with the three-game series and gird for the invasion of the Borger Gassers tonight. Borger will be here for three games and they can be expected to look at Don Hensiek tonight, Chris Haskins Sunday afternoon and probably John Myers Monday night.

Revert To Type

Manager Paul Dean's anemic Pioneer crew, flushed with one victory, promptly reverted to type last night. The Hubbers earned one run in the second, yielded two to the visitors in the top of the third as a come-on and proceeded to drive the Pioneers wild in the third.

Nine men batted for the Hubbers in the third frame, three of them reaching first safely on clean hits, one of them via the walk route and two of them on two of the four errors Clovis committed. The big blow of the inning, in which five runs were unearned, came when Mike Dooley finally straightened one out and over the Avalanche-Journal scoreboard to drive in two runs.

Dooley was pretty potent last night. He banged out three hits in four trips, scored a pair of runs and drove in four. It raised his average considerably.

Brilliant Fielding

There was some more brilliant fielding by the Hubbers last night. Nelson Davis made a nice catch of a wind-blown fly in the sixth, followed it with a great pick up and throw to first on Wiley Moore's topped grounder toward short and Al Duarte completed the same inning with a one-handed running stab of a long fly to center by Red Sollars.

The 2,100 crowd, most of which were women and children, also saw other fine plays, not the least of which was Jim Prince's stab of Moore's hot liner in the third.

Abilene Blue Sox Beat Amarillo, 6-4

ABILENE, May 20 (AP) — Abilene's Blue Sox rallied behind the relief pitching of lefty Joe Nakamura to drill out a 6-4 victory over Amarillo in a nerve-wracking West Texas-New Mexico league game here tonight.

The win gave Abilene the four-game series, three to one, and brought a measure of revenge over Amarillo's big righthander, Luke Hamilton, who took the beating. He had defeated Abilene twice before.

The Gold Sox pecked away at Abilene's new lefthander, Rafael Sangil, for a dozen hits, got five more off Rudy Lorona and Nakamura, but airtight fielding, including three snappy double plays, nipped nearly every Amarillo threat. A home run by Dick Gentzkow in the third, successive doubles by Jerry Folkman and Morris Cowser in the fifth for two runs, after the Gold Sox had scored on two singles in the second, constituted Amarillo's scoring punch.

PAMPA'S OILERS DEFEAT BORGER CLUB, 6 TO 5

PAMPA, May 20 (AP)—The Pampa Oilers swept a two game series from the Borger Gassers here tonight, downing the carbon black boys 6 to 5 in a tight ball game. Charley Ridgeway scored the winning run, scooting in from second base on a wild pitch by Clayton Fries in the seventh inning.

Roy Parker, Pampa lefthander, went all the way to notch his third win of the year. Virgil Richardson hit the lone home run of the night in the first inning for the first run of the game.

Gasser Catcher Ken Sears was bounced out of the park in the sixth inning by Umpire Cran for arguing too vociferously over a called third strike his third strike-out of the night.

Washington Defeats St. Louis, 5 To 3

WASHINGTON, May 20. (INS)—Sid Hudson pitched and batted Washington to a 5-3 win over St. Louis tonight.

Hudson kept the Browns' seven hits scattered over five innings, while he and his mates collected six of their eight off Al Papai in the first three innings. The six hits, plus three walks, enabled the Senators to score their five runs before Bill Kennedy came to Papai's rescue.

With the bases filled, Hudson drove over the winning runs in the third.

Eddie Stewart led the Senators' attack with three safeties.

Lamesa Defeats Dukes, 7 To 4

LAMESA, May 20 (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes came from behind to beat the Albuquerque Dukes, 7-4, in the finale of a three-game series and break their three-game losing streak behind superlative pitching by Righthander Eulis Rosson. Rosson allowed only seven hits, all singles, struck out eight, walked only two, and all the Duke tallies were unearned. Three Lamesa errors, two of them bad throws by Rosson helped the Dukes to three runs in the third and one in the fourth.

Lamesa counted two runs in the third and knotted the score in the fifth with two runs on a walk to Manager Jay Haney and consecutive doubles by Catcher Frank Calo and First Baseman Glenn Selbo.

Manager Haney singled Leo Rheingans home from second with the winning run in the sixth after Rheingans had walked and stolen second. The Loboes added two more gift markers in the seventh on a pair of Duke miscues and a triple by Dan Pinto, centerfielder.

Rosson gained his second win of the season while Nino Barnese, last of four Duke hurlers, suffered the loss. The Loboes were outhit, 7-5, but took advantage of 10 bases on balls.

Frank Okrie, Duke shortstop, was the game's batting leader with three singles in four trips.

The Amarilloians open a three-game series at Lobo park Saturday night at 8:15 p. m. Manager Haney, a righthander, will make his professional mound debut as starting pitcher. He has won one and lost none in two relief appearances, allowing only nine hits and one run in 12 2/3 innings. Outfielder D. C. Miller, recently purchased from Texarkana, is expected to replace Haney in left field.

Pygmy Loop Indians Trounce White Sox

Two games were unreeled at Lubbock Boys Club baseball diamond Friday afternoon, with the Indians trouncing the White Sox, 18 to 5, in the Pygmy league and the White Sox edging the Indians in the Pee Wee league, 5 to 4.

In the Pygmy game, Leon Ligon hit a homer and single in two times up and drove in five runs for the winning Indians. Robert Seal hit a triple that drove in three runs for the losers.

Bill Nicholson aided the Pee Wee Indians in their attack with a single that drove in two runs. Roy Thurmond slammed out a homer with one man on to spark the drive for the White Sox.

Loop play will be resumed again on Monday.

PLAYERS ARE FINED

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—Two members of the Tyler club of the East Texas league were fined $25 each today by league president Walter Morris for "challenging umpires to fights." They are Joe Winfield, pitcher, and Tommy Fox, third baseman.

Plainview Softball Teams Here Tonight

Two softball teams from Plainview invade Lubbock tonight for a doubleheader against the Cloverlake Dairy team of this city tonight at 8 at Jumbo Webster Field.

The Murrell Furniture and Anthony company teams will oppose the Cloverlake nine in the first exhibition games of the season.

Admission for the games will be 25 cents for adults, with children admitted free.

Cloverlake Dairy has a strong team this year, with many of the players from last season back again. Smoky Hale, one of the better hurlers last year, will be on the mound in one of the games, while Ralph Garrett, Cloverlake owner, will have a pair of hurlers to choose from in the second tilt.

Hardin College Nine Drops Stephen F. Austin, 12 To 1

GREENVILLE, May 20 (AP)—Hardin college defeated Stephen F. Austin 12 to 1 today, knocking the Lumberjacks out of undisputed hold of the Lone Star Baseball conference title. It was the last game of the season.

Stephen F. Austin must share the title with Sam Houston State because of the loss.

Hardin used two innings to score all its runs. Right hander Kenneth Faulkner was tapped for only six hits. He struck out five, walked two and hit a three run homer.

Kid Gavilan Will Fight Ray Robinson At Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—The new Madison Square Garden boxing corporation said tonight the managers of Kid Gavilan of Cuba and welterweight king Ray Robinson have agreed to a title fight, probably on June 17 at New York's Polo Grounds.

Harry Markson, a spokesman for the new group, said no contracts had been signed but everything has been agreed.

Robinson outpointed Gavilan in a non-title 10-round bout last summer.

The glamour of city life is blamed for a native labor shortage on Rhodesian farms.

Frick Will Banish Users Of Bean Ball

ST LOUIS, May 20 (UP)—Life banishment from baseball threatens any National league pitcher found guilty of using a bean ball, league President Ford Frick said today.

Frick said the same fate awaits any manager who orders such a pitch.

He issued the warning after Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, charged that "Rival pitchers are deliberately throwing the dangerous and outlawed bean ball."

Frick said the penalty for players guilty of using the bean ball would range from a season to life banishment from baseball.

"I'd be just as tough on any manager who ordered such a pitch," Frick said. "But in my 15 years as head of the National league, I've never had to make such a decision."

Michigan State Is Voted In Big Nine

EVANSTON, Ill., May 20 (AP)—The Western Conference (Big Nine) today voted that Michigan State college be accepted as a tenth member and that it begin conference competition in the academic year 1950-51, excepting in football.

The acceptance of the East Lansing school was announced by Prof. Kenneth Little of Wisconsin, chairman of a special investigating committee. The group reported on a survey of Michigan State athletic policies to the current conference business meeting.

Conference competition by Michigan State will not begin before the academic year 1950-51, and, in the case of football, at the expiration of schedules heretofore drawn.

Lubbock Meets Wichita Falls

Schoolboy Roundup

(By The Associated Press)

Bowie of El Paso defeated Lamesa 8-0 Friday to advance to the Texas schoolboy tournament at Austin June 6, 7 and 8.

Bowie was the third team to qualify for the state meet. Denison, winner of District 5, and Waco, champion of District 9, will go to Austin direct, having drawn byes in the bi-district round.

Meet Wichita Falls

Bowie, champion of District 4, eliminated Lamesa, title team of District 3, in two straight games.

Lubbock downed Amarillo 8-6 Friday to win the District 1 championship and will play Wichita Falls, champion of District 2, in the bi-district round.

Austin swamped Robstown 23-0 in the first of a three-game series between the champions of Districts 13 and 14 respectively. The teams play in Austin Monday.

Beaumont, winner of District 11, opens a series with Baytown, champion of District 12, at Baytown Saturday night.

Stephenville Wins

Highland Park (Dallas), champion of District 6, and Stephenville, champion of District 7, meet at Stephenville next Thursday in the second game of their first playoff series. Stephenville beat Highland Park 9-8 in the first one.

Marshall, champion of District 8, holds a decision over Jacksonville, titlist of District 10. The teams meet in the second game at Jacksonville Monday night.

Westerners Win, 8-6

Lubbock Takes District 1-AA

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

GOLD SOX PARK, Amarillo, May 20—The Lubbock Westerners struck first and then put down repeated Amarillo threats to win a hard-fought, 8-6, victory over the Golden Sandstorm here today.

The defeat marked the second in a row for the Sandies on home soil and gave Lubbock the District 1-AA baseball championship and the right to meet Wichita Falls in bi-district competition next week.

Quick action in the pinches gave Lubbock the victory, and they repeatedly set Amarillo down with men on base, leaving three stranded in the seventh and two in the fourth and sixth frames. Ten Sandies were left on base to five for the Westerners. In the fourth frame Amarillo loaded the bases with one out and failed to score.

A double play in the fifth after E. G. Sanders led off with a walk helped to hold down the score. The next man grounded to Lubbock's Bob Brown at shortstop, who tossed the ball to Charles Galey at second for the first out, Galey relaying to Jessie Fullerton at first for the second.

Winning pitcher was Jimmy Richards, and he kept Amarillo well in check until the sixth when they scored four runs after making one in the third. He was relieved in the sixth with no outs and two on by Lefty Bennie Day. Loser for Amarillo was starter Joe Knight, relieved by Tony Roberson in the sixth.

Although giving up one run in a relief role, Day struck out five men, allowed three walks, one hit, and hit one batter with a pitched ball. He left three men stranded after walking in one run, striking out Sanders with the tying run on second base and the count at 3-2.

The Westerners outhit the Sandies, 10-8, and five of the blows were for extra-bases.

Leading the Lubbock hitting attack were Brown, Hinson and Fullerton, with a single and a double in three trips each, and Galey with a triple and a double in four trips.

Morris Turner turned in a fine job at catcher, picking three men off base and recovering a wild pitch in time to throw to Richards to catch a man attempting to come home.

Lubbock broke the ice in the second inning, scoring once on successive doubles by Galey and Fullerton, and in the third another run was pushed across. Brown doubled to lead off, and Powell Hinson, third base, singled him home. Amarillo also scored one tally in the third.

In the Lubbock half of the sixth six runs were scored on four hits, three walks, and one error. Eleven batters came to bat.

Hinson walked and went to second when Turner singled. Galey got his second extra-base blow, a triple to right, to drive in Hinson and Turner, and Reeves singled Galey home after Fullerton walked. Fullerton scored when James Burgess, left fielder, grounded out, and Reeves went to third, scoring on an error by Bob Braden on Dean White's ground ball. Richards struck out and Brown was intentionally walked, moving White to second from which point he scored the final Lubbock run on Hinson's long double to center field.

Amarillo came back in their half to score four runs and added their final tally in the seventh in a serious threat.

Giants Gain 5 To 0 Triumph Over Reds

CINCINNATI, May 20 (AP)—Montia Kennedy pitched near perfect ball today as he hurled the New York Giants to a 5-0 two-hit triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

The lanky lefthander faced only 29 batters, two above the minimum in fashioning his fourth victory and second shutout of the season.

Ted Kluszewski scratched a hit to the mound in the third inning and Jimmy Bloodworth singled to left in the fifth for the only Red Leg safeties.

Fox finally departed in the eighth after Whitey Lockman doubled and Gordon walked to start the frame. Jess Dobernic, recently purchased from the Chicago Cubs, relieved Fox.

Rigney injured his left knee sliding into second in the seventh inning and was replaced at short stop by Buddy Kerr. The injury was believed to be slight.

ENOS SLAUGHTER
A Big Blow For The Redbirds

Ilseng, Blank Tie In Trapshoot

HOUSTON, May 20 (AP)—Big Grant Ilseng of Houston and Dean Blank of Perryton, Tex., each smashed 99 targets out of a possible 100 to tie for top honors in the preliminary 16-yard event of the Texas State Trapshoot now in progress here.

Ilseng when he went on to pulverize 50 straight targets in the shoot-off, while Blank dropped two for a score of 48 and runner-up laurels.

Sol Freundlich, Fort Worth, took Class A bracket with 97. Class B went to Chester Schneider, Fort Worth, with a score of 98. C. D. Crouch of Miami, Fla., annexed Class C with 93, and D. W. Caldwell of Amarillo won Class D with 91.

A. M. Weldin, Shreveport, and H. C. Hanks, Houston, each broke 49 out of 50 targets from the 20-yard line in the pioneer handicap race. Weldin went on to break 24 out of a possible 25 in the shoot-off. Hanks dropped three targets.

The preliminary doubles race went to John Doran, Shreveport, with 47 targets out of a possible 25 pair.

Ilseng's 99 singles, 46 handicap and 45 doubles gave him a high overall score of 190 and the lead in this race. He was closely followed by Weldin with 96 singles, 49 handicap and 43 doubles for a total of 188.

No titles were at stake today. The scramble for the Texas 16-yard championship, to be fired at 200 targets, opens the program tomorrow.

PENSIVE DIES IN STALL

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 20. (UP)—Pensive, 1944 Kentucky Derby winner which also sired Ponder, 1949 Derby winner, died today in his stall at Calumet Farms of an intertinal strangulation. Pensive, eight years old, had been ill for several days and his death was not entirely unexpected.

Bowie Bears Win Playoff

LAMESA, May 20. (Special) — The Bears of El Paso's Bowie High school clinched the bi-district baseball playoff with Lamesa High school here in Lobo Park this afternoon, whipping the Golden Tornadoes, 8 to 0, before some 200 fans.

The Bruins won the right to represent Districts 3-AA and 4-AA at the State tournament with two straight triumphs, dropping Lamesa here in the opener yesterday, 9 to 1.

Righthander Trini Guillen tossed a six-hit shutout for the Bears, whiffing five and walking only one. His mates gave him fine support, including two double plays.

The Bear nine bagged 10 safeties off righthander Jerry Phillips, including a double and a single by leftfielder Jose Corona and a triple by third baseman Joe Galarza.

Loose fielding Lamesa made five errors, running their two-game total to 13. Bowie counted one run in the first, two in the second and five runs in the fourth, but only one Bear score was earned.

Lamesa's best scoring threat came in the first frame when singles by Larry Lattimore, Frank Rose and Walter Massengale loaded the bases. Rose collected two hits for the losers.

Coach Nemo Herrera's Bears made only two errors in two games and pilfered 10 bases.

The line score:

Sunbeamers Will Play Crane Again

Last week's futile struggle between the Crane Oilers and the Lubbock Bluebonnet - Sunbeamers softball teams failing to decide first place in the Texas Softball league, the two teams meet again this week to try and break the deadlock existing now.

Each team entered the doubleheader last week without defeat, each team winning a pair of games from the same opponents. And after the firing had finished Saturday night at Jumbo Webster Field, the two teams each had lost a game and had won one more.

Crane Took First

Crane took the initial tilt behind the hurling of the Texas Softball league's outstanding pitcher, Red Denham. Sunbeamer bats beat the Oilers in the second game behind the hurling of G. W. Warden to send the two teams back into a tie.

Tonight Crane and Lubbock meet in Crane with the same pitchers slated to do the hurling. Denham probably will oppose Warren "Stringbean" Pope and Warden probably will fling against J. W. Teague.

Sunbeamers Ready

The Sunbeamers are in good shape for the game, but will have to reckon with the big bat of Joe Goodwin, Crane fielder, who tops the league in hitting with a gaudy .529 average. Byron Clark of the Sunbeamers follows with .455 and Roy Butler is fourth with .375. Wally Fowler, who had a bad night last week, is the only other Sunbeamer hitting over .300. Fowler is clubbing at .357.

Clark is tied with four other players in the most doubles, two, and Fowler is tied with two other players in triples with three. David Williams, a .333 hitter, is leading in home runs with two, while James Abbott, Willis James and Don Allen of the Sunbeamers all have one each.

Tornadoes Strike Four-State Area

times.

The occupants were treated at the Abilene hospital and released.

(At least a dozen persons were reported injured in the Tennessee twister, according to the International News Service.)

Three others were hurt at the Woodward, Okla., airport. At Gage, Okla., administration buildings, a laundry and radio tower were damaged.

The black tunnels swept along what the Weather bureau called a low-pressure trough stretching from the Texas Panhandle, across northwest Oklahoma and its panhandle, through Kansas and on to southwestern Nebraska.

This is prime tornado country. Woodward itself suffered the worst tornado in Oklahoma history on April 9, 1947, with 106 killed. Not far away Leedy, Okla., only 40 miles south, had another bad one the same year.

A twister began to wind up near little Balko in the Oklahoma panhandle, and continued 15 miles northeast — the usual tornado track—to hit the outskirts of Beaver. It tore up several barns and damaged farmsteads in the southeast edge of town. Beaver is a wheat center and county seat of 2,500 in the eastern panhandle.

Woodward Threatened

The second storm track was more extended.

Twister struck at Shattuck and also headed northeast. In rapid succession it jumped eight miles to Gage, 20 miles to the Woodward airport, and 20 more miles to Waynoka.

At Gage it hit administration buildings at the airport, demolished a laundry, knocked down radio towers and tore up an unknown number of homes. At the airport, a hangar was demolished with at least four airplanes.

Woodward itself, gripped with fear, escaped when its airport was hit six miles northwest of town. Several buildings and planes were smashed at the airport, roofs were blown off and power lines knocked down.

Redio station KSIW, which manned lookout stations and broadcast the warnings, said three men were injured at the airport, none seriously.

There was no damage report from Waynoka, the twister's next stop.

An extraordinary hail hit Woodward along with a severe electrical storm.

The whole Texas-Oklahoma-Kansas-Nebraska area has been turbulent for the last week, with twisters darting out of the black thunderheads for the last four days.

More than a dozen farm buildings and at least 150 telephone poles were leveled Wednesday by a tornado that smashed across northeastern Colorado into Nebraska.

Sheriff Bruce Wilson of Wray said he had received no reports of injuries to persons.

The storm was first reported at Black Wolf canyon, 17 miles south of Wray, about 4 p. m., Wilson said.

The sheriff said it swung into Nebraska and was last seen near Laird, which is seven miles east of Wray.

Acheson Leaves

to accept a failure rather than "barter away" basic western safeguards against the spread of Soviet Communism.

Acheson's statement that he would refrain from swapping away the gains thus far made in Europe for Russian promises that might not be kept was couched in general terms.

However, it appeared certain that he is not prepared to accept any Russian proposals to withdraw occupation troops, rush into a German peace treaty, give the Soviet Union a hand in the Ruhr or give in to heavy Soviet reparations demands.

On the contrary, the United States, Britain and France will go into the meeting solidly agreed to organize western Germany into a federal democracy based on guarantees of individual freedom and full civil rights and to go through with that program regardless of the manner in which the Paris meeting develops.

Two Accused In Gold Smuggling Case Draw Suspended Sentences

BROWNSVILLE, May 20. (AP)—Two New Yorkers accused of smuggling $15,190 in gold bullion and coins from Mexico into the United States were given suspended two-year sentences today and fined $1,000 each.

They are Kurt Charles Wajnryb, 23, formerly of Wiesbaden, Germany, and Jacques Bodner, 28, formerly of Vienna, Austria.

Sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay. The two were indicted last December along with Felix Klarberg, Tel Aviv, Palestine, after being arrested at Hidalgo, July 10, 1948.

Klarberg forfeited $8,500 bond by failure to appear here for trial.

Senate Economy Bloc Defeated As Flood Control Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP) — The Senate economy bloc suffered its fourth smashing defeat in a row today as the chamber passed a $751,440,690 flood control and waterways bill despite cries of "pork."

The bill, which now contains $158,000,000 more than the House voted, goes back to the latter chamber. A joint Senate-House conference probably will determine the final figure.

It was a stiff blow to a Republican-Democratic coalition which has demanded slashes in federal spending so as to avoid a deficit or a big tax increase. Efforts to slash from 5 to 40 percent off the total were batted down.

NEWS BRIEFS

City firemen answered three alarms within a period of seven minutes late Friday afternoon, but damage in all instances was negligible, they said. At 5:15 p.m., they were called to the 1620 Seventeenth residence of Buna Lofland where a refrigerator motor had overheated. At 5:20 p.m., they answered an alarm from the Lubbock Country club where a car was afire. The third call, at 5:22 o'clock, was to Sunbeam Laundry at 1511 Ave. Q. Electric wiring had shorted and was burning, reports indicated.

Southwestern Public Service company officials said early today that a changeover in a substation serving the southwestern part of Lubbock had caused a planned "blackout" from 45 minutes to two hours on electrical service to the area. Southwestern officials said that the voltage of a substation serving the section was being stepped up to give better service to the area and that power would be restored momentarily.

Flier Arrives Here

October, 1942 and saw service in the European theater. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with five clusters. He flew B-17's mostly during the war. He began flying B-50's about a year ago.

Upon being released in May, 1945, he established a gasoline distributing business in San Antonio. It was successful, but he longed for the numerous advantages he saw in the Air Force, he says.

He came back in with his former rank of first lieutenant and later made captain.

Crew Not Hand Picked

The historic flight around the world was made without advance fanfare. The crew was not handpicked, Morris asserts, but was made up of men who happened to be available. The crew was told the flight was to be a globe-girdler the day before it started.

The Lucky Lady II took off from Fort Worth Feb. 28 and landed March 2 after a 94-hour non-stop flight around the world. The "Lady" and her crew are from the 43rd Bomb wing (M) stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force base, Tucson, Ariz., an Eighth Air Force Strategic Air command unit.

The convention will draw out-of-the-district delegates from Amarillo, Dumas, Abilene, Plainview, Odessa and Wichita Falls. District posts which are expected to have representation are Tahoka, Denver City, Levelland, Lamesa, Lorenzo, Morton, Slaton, Brownfield, Post and Spur.

The convention opens at 10 a. m. today with registration in the post home.

A caucus of district post commanders will be conducted at 2 p. m. today. The resolutions committee and nominating committee will meet in the Pine room of Lubbock hotel from 3 until 6 p. m. today.

Dance Is Scheduled

From 6:30 until 7:30 p. m. the ladies auxiliary will hold a tea and reception in the lounge of the post home. A dance in the main ballroom there will feature music by Burl Hubbard and his orchestra from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Sunday registration will continue at 9:30 a. m. The program will open with invocation by Tommy Harrell of Lubbock. W. E. Creel, commander of the Lubbock post, will extend a welcome to visitors.

At 10 a. m. Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of First Baptist church, will speak at a memorial service, accompanied by music selections.

Capt. Morris will speak and his talk will be broadcast from 11 to 11:30 p. m.

S. A. Childress of Waco, state department commander of Waco, and Mrs. Violet Kenney, state department president of the ladies auxiliary, of Borger, will give addresses.

H. B. Virgil Crawford of Brownfield, commander of district 7, will preside at the session.

Barbecue Planned Sunday

Miss Sarah Westcoat of Amarillo, who won a $1,000 high school essay contest sponsored by the ladies auxiliary, will recite her essay, "Key to World Peace."

A barbecue will be held at noon Sunday in the post home, followed by a business meeting at 2 p. m. Election of district officers for the next year will be an important part of the business.

Committees completing arrangements for the convention include Jim Crook, James Dallas, Leete Jackson, Jimmy Sillman and Roger Hively, publicity committee; Jim B. Clark, Sgt. J. L. Green and Carl Moyers, entertainment committee. Earl Jones, Tillman McGouirk and W. R. Gilmore, food committee, and Mrs. Jean Stevenson, Mrs. Sybil Bryant, Mrs. Lola Mae Creel, Mrs. Bertha Ray Clark, Mrs. Warita Coffey, Mrs. Louisa Everheart, Mrs. Bernice McDonald and Mrs. Alene Myers, ladies entertainment committee.

Legion Commander Asks Cut In Cost Of National Defense

DALLAS, May 20. (AP)—The national commander of the American Legion today criticized the high cost of national defense and bluntly called for a better program with less expense to the taxpayers.

In Dallas on an official visit, Perry Brown of Beaumont called for a larger civilian reserve program and a reduction of the regular military establishment setup.

Through a co-ordinated training program for young men in civilian institutions and colleges, the military might of the nation can be well preserved and perpetuated at much less expense than the present program, said Brown in an interview.

Brown advocated that upon completion of high school, youths should be trained for a period of four months in the fundamentals of military organization and routine. From this group should be selected leaders to attend colleges, universities and work with private industry at government expense for further training.

$1,415 Is Presented To Boys' Club Fund

The Lubbock Boys' Club fund was boosted by $1,415 Friday when Wayne Henly presented American Business Club President George Dale with a check for that amount.

Henly president of the Lubbock Lions club, explained that the contribution was the balance of concession profits made at last year's rodeo. The Lions handled the concessions then as they will do again this year at the rodeo, June 8-11.

Last week ABC members were warned they would have to wear all or part of a cowboy outfit at club luncheons, pay a fine or suffer the consequences. Friday a dozen members paid fines of one dollar each. Two members elected to take the consequences.

They were ducked head first into a large can of cold water.

The two ducking victims were Verne Waldron and Earl Burnett.

Various committees reported on progress of rodeo ticket sales. Program advertising has passed the $4,000 mark as the club strives to raise the $15,000 necessary to complete the Boys' Club building program.

Teams will begin tours of Plains and Panhandle cities next week to invite every community and club in the Lubbock trade area to the show.

is investigating 833 "suspected subversive aliens" in this country.

2. Arnold Johnson, secretary of the Communist party's national legislative committee, told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that the party "will go underground" if Congress passes Communist-control legislation. A proposed Senate bill would require all Communists to register.

Aliens Said Defiant

3. Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala) told a House Judiciary subcommittee that thousands of aliens have been ordered out of the country but "they tell us to go to hell and there is nothing we can do about it." Hobbs has introduced a bill which would authorize the Justice department to jail deportable aliens such as Gerhart Eisler, the fugitive Red leader, and keep them in jail until deported.

4. The Justice department notified the Supreme court that Eisler, 52, who fled to England as a stowaway aboard the Polish liner Batory, is a fugitive and asked that his appeal from a contempt of Congress conviction be dismissed. Attorney General Clark said Eisler had forfeited his right to any further review of the case.

Eisler was convicted of contempt—and sentenced to a year in prison and a $1,000 fine—for refusing to testify before the House un-American Activities committee. He is now in jail in England, held by British authorities pending a hearing on this country's request for extradition.

5. Carl A. Marzani, former State department employe convicted of concealing Communist party applications, lost an appeal to have his one to three-year prison sentence reduced.

Britain Makes Reply

"We would, however, welcome a bona fide effort by the Soviet Union to remove the threat to the peace and security of the Greek people," the State department said.

The British foreign office said that during Russia's informal feeler talks in New York, Hector McNeil, the British minister of state, had told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that "the hostilities would soon cease if the northern neighbors of Greece stopped giving aid and shelter to the rebels."

Trinity Laps At Tops Of Levees

withstand only 38 feet of floods The Weather bureau has forecast a crest of between 40 and 41 feet tomorrow.

Planters Patrol Levees

Planters and sharecroppers alike, with thousands of lush acres of cotton, grain, grass and onions at stake, are by no means giving up The fields stand vacant an.' waiting. The men are on the levees, constantly patrolling piling sand bags here, plugging up gopher holes and weakened spots there.

A series of six breaks up river from here in Dallas county relieved pressure greatly in this area.

About 5,000 acres lay under water in southern Dallas county, and about half of this had been in cultivation. Fred Cox, who owns land near Ferris where the good earth was inundated, estimated crop damage there alone at $100,000.

Water Laps Over

Five breaks occurred in Dallas levee district No. 2 and a single break was reported in district one. The ruptures were close enough together to approximate one great gash in the dikes.

All levees in Ellis county were reported intact at 4 p. m. (CST), although water had lapped over at a few low spots. Sand bags had repaired the damage.

The floods resulted from torrential rains which flooded Fort Worth Sunday and drenched Dallas. A street here and there near the river in Dallas still was under water.

Fort Worth pushed its city water supply back a long way toward normal. The arrival early today of a new electric pump and its installation sent water at the rate of 28,000,000 gallons a day into the paralyzed city mains.

All parts of Fort Worth were expected to have water by night.

Flood At Trinidad Seen

The U. S. Weather bureau in Dallas reported severe flood conditions could be expected next week at Trinidad in Henderson county, 13 miles southwest of Athens. The bureau said the flood is expected to be well over 40 feet there by Monday. Flood stage is 28 feet. The noon reading today was 25.5 feet.

E. T. Peck, vice president in charge of engineering and power for the Texas Power and Light company, said he considered the town of Trinidad and the company's large plant there "very safe." Both are on high ground.

Farmers and stockmen in this fertile section call the Trinity river bottoms the Texas valley of the Nile. It is that rich.

There is a saying too that Trinity bottom farms have broken everyone who has farmed them.

Walls Built Higher

Men of all colors and creeds bent to the common task of saving the levees and the thousands of dollars they have at stake in the thriving cotton, ripening wheat and oats and tender young grasses that spring through the soil to fatten their cattle.

They walked by day and by night along the levees; at places the water was so close they could stoop and cup it in their hands.

Threats appeared early in the day one mile south of Highway 34, the road between Ennis and Kaufman. Water at 8 a. m. was a scant 16 inches from the top in two low spots. Workers brought up sandbags and built the protecting wall higher.

The Ellis county side was in greater danger than the Kaufman county stretch on the east side, where the levee was stronger and a little higher.

The land is so flat that a break anywhere would swiftly put thousands of acres under water and in a short time put to death the crops which look better than in years.

About 300 to 400 acres on the Ellis county side below here actually are under water. This was overflow from what is called the Trinity cutoff — a slough that drains into and from the main river.

One thing that was not a rumor was that the Reds crossed the Yangtze one month ago and that Shanghai was still holding out.

Poultry Course Will Open At Texas Tech On Tuesday

A field poultry short course, under the general chairmanship of D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, will be held at Texas Tech College, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 24 and 25.

The first day of the course is planned to benefit anyone interested in learning the latest practical poultry production methods appliable to Texas. Especially invited are the V. A. agriculture teachers and their classes, hatchery and feed men, and farmers in general.

The second day will be devoted to flock selectors and pullorum testers. Those who wish to requalify in these two categories, in accordance with the National Poultry Improvement plan, will be required to attend the two day course and pass all of the examinations, Sherrill said.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. Talks on poultry subjects will be given by W. J. Moore, T. A. Hensarling, J. C. Williams, Bernie B. Bailey, James R. Grubbs, Dr. W. C. Banks, W. L. Braddy and F. Z. Beanblossom.

New Star Plays Feminine Lead In 'Ambush;' Michael O'Shea To Do Film Series In Utah

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Louella O. Parsons is on special assignment in Europe and will be away for a few weeks. During her absence, the column will be conducted by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD, May 20 — The girl Bob Taylor and John Hodiak make love to in "Ambush" is Jean Hagen, so new to the screen the fresh paint hasn't yet dried on her dressing room door. Who says new faces aren't getting the breaks?

To brief you on the Hagen girl: She is blonde, the sophisticated type, and is one good actress. She was clicking on the New York stage in "The Traitors" when Sam Zimbalist spotted her and tested her for MGM.

Quick like, she has played brief roles in "Side Street" and "Adam's Rib." The Taylor picture is her first big role. Bob, director Sam Wood and Armand Deutsch, the producer, say she is star stuff.

Film Series Scheduled

Michael O'Shea has signed for a series of movies that will take him away from his wife, Virginia Mayo, for stretches at a time. Mike will do eight features for the newly-formed Mid-Continent Pictures company which has constructed a two - stage studio just outside Salt Lake City and will film its pictures there.

The movies will be based on the activities of the American Patrol service, the government agency protecting the nation's natural resources. The financial angles are prominent Salt Lake bankers and business men.

O'Shea starts the first one July 1.

Pascal Travels East

Gabriel Pascal is in New York, one of the reasons for his trip being to try to sign Jose Ferrer for George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles And The Lion," which will be filmed in London.

If Ferrer agrees to go there, he wants his wife, Phyllis Hill, as his co-star.

But, first, the Ferrers are due in Hollywood, Jose to start "Whirlpool" with Gene Tierney at 20th within the next two weeks.

Wheat Harvest Starts

Altogether he farms 400 acres in partnership with his son, Paul.

The loads were harvested about 10 days to two weeks before full activity is expected in this section. Rains delayed the first loads this year. Last year the first load came in May 12. The record is May 8, set by L. D. West of Olney in 1946.

Crop Near Record

Rivalry among farmers in this area of Texas to start the annual harvest is keen. This year, according to Department of Agriculture figure, it begins work on a national winter wheat crop of 1,021,476,000 bushels.

The largest winter wheat crop on record was 1,367,186,000 bushels in 1947. Last year's crop was 1,288,406,000 bushels.

Texas' crop this year is estimated at 123,216,000 bushels—not far behind its 1947 record of 124,270,000 bushels.

Hartmangruber said he began harvesting at 1:30 p. m. He said he reached Iowa Park with a load at 3:30 p. m. He halted operations once during his harvesting.

Dunagan said he took his wheat to Olney at 1:55 p. m.

The big harvest began as the Southwest Shippers Advisory board — meeting at Dallas — was told today that railroads are ready to handle it. But, said R. E. Clark the problem is storage "and I don't know what's going to happen." He is manager of the American Association of Railroads' Car Service division.

RAINS TO DELAY WHEAT HARVEST OVER SECTION

Recent rains will delay the harvest in the Lubbock area on the fringe of the wheat belt.

Hail in Floyd county during the past week assessed damage as high as 90 per cent in cases to the ripening grain.

Reapers and combines are expected to get started about June 1, or perhaps a week later. Full harvest is expected by June 15. The first truckload of wheat appeared in the Lubbock area last June 10.

Pioneer Wichita County Oil Man, Rancher, Dies In Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, May 20 (AP)—C. H. Clark, 80, identified with oil development in Wichita county since the discovery of oil at Electra in 1911, died here today.

Interested in many activities besides oil, Clark early saw the commercial possibilities of building levees along the Trinity river in the Dallas section. For many years he was president of the Trinity Farm company and the Trinity Farm Construction company.

He served for 20 years as a member of the board of the Wichita Falls Independent school district.

One of a number of oil companies with which he was identified—the Red River Oil company—later became a part of the Magnolia interests.

Clark owned a 25-section ranch in Robert county northeast of Pampa.

Born at College Grove, Tenn., Clark was the son of a college professor at Union university and came to Texas in 1890, settling at Iowa Park. He taught school and farmed before entering the implement business. He married in 1902 and moved to Wichita Falls.

His widow and eight children are among survivors. A brother, M. C. Clark, lives in Fort Worth.

Ford Strike Talks

Bendex Aviation Corp. broke off indefinitely.

Federal mediators were busy in the east trying to stave off a threatened strike of some 25,000 CIO textile workers at carpet mills in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania. The dispute involves pay rates, pensions and vacations.

Deadlocks in contract talks between Chicago's Associated Milk dealers and two AFL unions threatened a strike which would cut out that city's milk supply.

Dangerous Georgia Convicts Overpower Guards And Escape

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., May 20 (AP)—Six armed and dangerous convicts overpowered their guards here today and escaped in a blaze of gunfire.

One guard was shot and wounded. Four others were trussed up by the prisoners, who fled the scene in a pickup truck after taking the guards' automatic shotguns and revolvers.

The convicts quickly abandoned the truck and seized a car driven by the Rev. J. F. McCluny, a Baptist minister. Five of the convicts sped from Milledgeville in the preacher's car. A sixth was being pursued on foot in the vicinity.

The men all were serving long terms.

Prison officials and police rounded up a posse of about 50 men. The state patrol ordered all available officers and men on duty, and threw up roadblocks on all highways and roads leading out of Milledgeville.

Fighting Reported Between Reds, Workers In Berlin Rail Strike

BERLIN, May 21. (Saturday) (INS)—Fighting broke out early today between Communists and West Berlin workers on strike from the Soviet-controlled rail system.

A total of 18,000 workers are involved in the walkout, which began at midnight. The strike is certain to tie up all main Soviet zone traffic which is routed through West Berlin.

Police broke up the fighting after the strikers began a "sit-down" in the trains and eastern sector police occupied stations in western Berlin.

Prominent Wichita Falls Oil Operator Dies Of Heart Attack

WICHITA FALLS, May 20 (AP)—C. E. (Heavy) Rodgers, Wichita Falls oil operator since 1915, died yesterday afternoon following a heart attack. Services will be held tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. Rodgers was active in oil, church, civic and political affairs here for many years.

He is survived by his wife, a son, C. E. Rodgers, jr.; and a granddaughter, all of Wichita Falls; three brothers, V. E. Rodgers of Houston, J. G. Rodgers of Corsicana, and A. C. Rodgers of Atlanta, Texas; and four sisters.

Old San Antonio Beer Boomed As Disease Preventative In 1902

SAN ANTONIO, May 20 (INS)—San Antonio beer, world famous in 1902, was declared valuable as a preventative of disease and a tonic for convalescents.

The virtues of "Charles Degan" beer, produced where a hotel now stands in San Antonio, were sung far and wide.

In 1902, the U. S. Health Bulletin announced:

"The result of laboratory investigation has proven the proper beer to drink and the purest and best to be the beer from the Charles Degan brewery in San Antonio, Texas."

Brewer Born In Germany

Degan was born in Germany in 1825 and came to the United States as a penniless immigrant. He drove cattle to California, fought Indians, and kept his beer formula to himself.

He came to San Antonio and for 24 years quietly built up a strong beer-drinking trade. A hotel grew up around his bar as folks were stranded overnight by bad weather.

Degan refused to give up his private method of making beer.

Fame Spreads To Africa

One soldier claimed he heard of Degan's own bar, which he established later, while the soldier was in Africa during the Boer war.

Degan had no waiters. If the purchasers couldn't walk to the bar he believed, they shouldn't have any more beer, anyway.

Any who became objectionably intoxicated were barred from the bar, the expression may be pardoned.

He died in 1912, leaving his formula for his son. And before he died he went on record on the issue of prohibition.

"If prohibition comes," Degan once said, "Germans in this state will have to form a trust and drink up all the water."

Unification Of Presbyterian Churches Urged At Convention

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—The Presbyterian church in the U.S.A. today approved a recommendation for unification of "all churches of the Presbyterian family."

The action was taken by an almost unanimous rising vote shortly after its general assembly came under guidance of a southerner for the first time since 1834.

The new moderator, Dr. Clifford Edward Barbour of Knoxville, Tenn., declared the vote "practically unanimous."

Head Of Houston Placement Bureau For Teachers Dies

HOUSTON, May 20. (AP)—C. Evett Jackson, owner of a placement bureau for teachers in Austin, died in a hospital here today after a brief illness. He was 60.

Jackson had served as superintendent of schools in Rice, Frost, Madisonville and Paducah before beginning his service bureau 14 years ago.

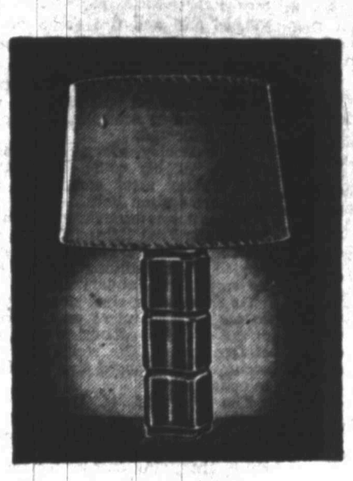

Burial will be in Austin Sunday. Surviving are his wife, two sons, Alden, and Lynn, an employe on the copy desk of the Houston Press, and a grandson.

Baptist Group Votes To Meet In Chicago

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20 (AP) The Southern Baptist convention voted today to go to Chicago—in the rim of Northern Baptist territory—for its 1950 meeting.

But the convention president, Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., was quick to scotch the idea that the Southern Baptists' purpose is to invade the north.

It will be the first time in 104 years of Southern Baptist history that the Dixie denomination has traveled farther north than St. Louis for its annual convention.

"This Southern Baptist convention is not meeting in Chicago to flirt with any Northern Baptist convention church or Baptist body with the purpose to get their affiliation with the Southern Baptist convention," Dr. Lee said.

"We go only to do our work and glorify the Lord Jesus Christ."

Some churchmen attributed the decision to a trend toward expansion of Southern Baptist influence through the United States.

Others dismissed it as nothing more than a solution to the problem of housing the 12,000 persons who annually attend the convention. Chicago guaranteed 6,500 hotel rooms.

Houston, the other bidder, promised 1,500 hotel rooms—and southern hospitality.

The decision was made by secret ballot in place of a 4-1 committee report favoring Houston.

Houston also lost out in the race for 1951. San Francisco was chose, 875 to 838.

Insurance Firm Asks Authority To Refuse Payment To Church

A suit, in which the Hardware Dealers Mutual Fire Insurance company of Wisconsin seeks authority for refusing payment on an $18,000 hail and fire policy on a Lockney church, has been taken under advisement by Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley, and arguments of counsel will be heard at a later date in Amarillo, court officials indicated.

Judge Dooley, along with other officials of his court, left Lubbock Friday after completion of the court sesison here.

The suit was brought after trustees of the First Baptist Church of Lockney sought to collect for damage to their building during an ice storm last January 12.

On that date a sleet storm caused ice to accumulate on the roof of the church structure to a depth of five inches. The weight of the accumulation caused the building to collapse.

The argument of the church trustees, defendant in the suit, is that sleet and hail are the same thing and that the insurance policy in specifying hail protection is in reality including sleet. The defense attorneys stated that the majority of Lockney citizens considered hail and sleet as being the same thing.

Difference Claimed

Attorneys for the insurance firm contend that hail is entirely different from sleet. Hail, they say, usually falls in warm weather and melts quickly. It is of such nature that it cannot accumulate to any great weight and therefore become a peril in that respect.

The insurance company says sleet is freezing rain that clings to where it falls. As it piles up it becomes ice and continues to add weight as long as the sleet is falling.

Judge Dooley has indicated some of his views in the case by stating that according to meterological terms there is a distinction between hail and sleet and that the chances are that the people of Lockney and others know the difference. Judge Dooley further indicated that in most respects hail and sleet are synonymous. Both were ice, the judge said. One is large pellets and the other small.

Fort Worth Digs Out From Flood

Health Measures Are Underway

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 20—Water was running out of faucets in some sections of Fort Worth for the first time in four days tonight as machinery pumped water into mains at the rate of 33,500,000 gallons a day.

The rate was expected to fall to about 20,000,000 gallons a day when the mains are filled and pumped water meets some resistance.

Another pump motor, being dried in Dallas, is expected back sometime tomorrow. When it returns to service water supply is expected to return to normal.

The death toll stood today at ten. Five persons are missing.

Only two streets remained closed to all but emergency traffic. They are W. Seventh from Penn to University Drive and White Settlement Road from Henderson to University Drive.

Several hundred trucks manned by city employes and volunteers spread out in the affected areas to start the Herculean cleanup task. City police, Carswell Air Force base military police and specially deputized citizens patrolled the areas to keep curious —and sporadic looters—out of the way of the cleanup crews.

The step-up in water distribution was made possible by the arrival—after a dramatic 1,009-mile dash caross country—of a new electric water pump.

Vaccine Sent In

Independent trucker Victor Brown, 40, of Indianapolis, Ind., brought the pump in 32 hours. He climbed in his cab in Indianapolis at 4 p.m. Wednesday; reached here early today after a sleepless trip.

Meanwhile, the State Health department at Austin said the U.S. public health service had furnished $5,000 for disease prevention in Fort Worth. Money will be spent for DDT, oil and sprays.

The State department said it also had sent in two extra nurses to Fort Worth, four food and drug inspectors and four engineers.

Dr. George Cox, state health officer, said a Texas Highway patrol car was to arrive in Fort Worth tonight with an additional 40,000 units of typhoid vaccine, 40 dozen needles, syringes and supplies of cotton and alcohol.

He said he expected the cleanup campaign would require at least two weeks.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Saturday, May 21, 1949

Three Injured In Traffic Accident

Two of three persons injured at 11 a.m. Friday when two automobiles collided at Thirteenth and Ave. W remained under observation in a local hospital last night, but hospital attendants said their conditions were not considered serious.

R. O. Christesson, police radio car patrolman, said a car driven by O. B. Nichols, 32, an oil field worker of 2305 Thirteenth, proceeding eastward on Thirteenth rammed one driven southward on Ave. W by Raymond A. Coker, 44, of Lubbock route 3 in the right side.

Car Flipped Over

The Coker car was "flipped completely over on its top," Christesson said, adding that "a charge of negligent collision by excessive speed" will be filed against Nichols.

Nichols, Coker and J. C. Green, about 23, of 617 Ave. N, were taken to hospitals for examination and treatment—Nichols and Green by Bryan McDonald and Son ambulance to St. Mary's, Coker by Rix ambulance to West Texas hospital.

Coker, suffering only minor lacerations of the scalp and a sprained right ankle, was released after examination.

Both Nichols and Green suffered head injuries caused by ramming the windshield of their car, and both were treated for bruises and abrasions of the face and head, hospital attendants said. Moreover, Nichols suffered bruises of the chest and stomach, presumably from contact with the steering wheel of his car.

Estimated 12,500,000 Chicks Produced In State During April

Production during April by commercial hatcheries in Texas is estimated to be 12,500,000. This figure represents an increase of 14 percent over April of last year. It is, however, five percent less than the five-year average 1943-1947.

According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, there have been substantial increases in both commercial broiler and farm flock replacement chicks.

Total production for the first four months of this year was 34,700,000 chicks. For the same period last year the total was only 29,260,000.

Number Of Wells Condemned East Of City

Typhoid Vaccination Program Continues

The first big scale typhoid immunization project ever conducted in Lubbock county, resulting directly from recent flood conditions—continued Friday in additions east of Lubbock having no piped-water and which depend upon wells for their supply.

More than 700 children and adults of Morrow, Whitehead, Puckett and Avinger additions have been immunized against typhoid in the last two weeks, said Gerald Jarvis, director of the City County Department of Public Health. Established here a few months ago, the department is now undertaking its biggest program to date in guarding public health.

Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county health officer, and director of the immunization program, said if proper precautions are taken there need be no danger to persons in water contaminated areas.

Many Wells Polluted

Many of the wells were polluted when flood water got into the wells. In some areas, outdoor toilets were in use and a pronounced danger resulted.

The city-county department has condemned an estimated 75 to 100 wells, said Jarvis. In cases of private wells used only by the owners the families were told they could use the wells only "at danger to their own lives."

In case of wells serving more than one family and classified as public, a state penalty is provided for use of the well, if condemned.

Most well owners have been able to treat the wells and get good samples following treatment. Others are getting water from unpolluted sources.

Water Still Standing

Water still stands in two residential areas east of the city.

Friday, representatives of various organizations were cooperating in giving typhoid vaccine to students of East Broadway school.

Jarvis said purpose of the program is not to take over the work of other agencies, but to bring the groups together in a closer program in interest of public health.

Those working in the immunization program include: Dr. Kallina; Jarvis, Mrs. Tom Cannon, visiting nurse of the First Methodist church; Mrs. Roy Sanford, school nurse; Mrs. Grace Garrett, supervising nurse of the city-county department, and Miss Ouida Adams and Miss June Raymond, nurses of the department; Mrs. Nancy Green, assistant executive secretary of the City-County Welfare association; Mrs. Jean Feiden, city-county health department; and Mrs. L. H. Martin, Junior Welfare league nurse.

Remains Of Ralls Airman Reach U.S.

The body of F/O Reece F. Davis, jr., of Ralls, is among the remains of 2,554 Americans who lost their lives during World War II which have been returned to this country from the Mediterranean area aboard the United States Army transport John L. McCarley, the Army department has announced.

F/O Reece, whose next of kin as listed by the Army is Reece F. Davis, sr., of Ralls, was a member of the Air Force. His body is one of 108 which have been returned upon request of next of kin residing in Texas.

Armed forces dead from the Panhandle area aboard the transport are:

Pfc. Albert G. Martin, jr., Army, next of kin, Mrs. Laura E. Martin, Clarendon.

Presbyterian Church Group To Move Into New Building May 29

Sunday, May 29, has been set as the day on which the Westminster Presbyterian church congregation will move into the first unit of its building at Thirty-third and Tyler Ave., Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor, said yesterday.

Members of the 16-month-old church originally had expected to occupy the new structure two weeks ago, but heavy rains caused damage inside and delayed completion of outside work.

Formal dedication of the new building the first of several to be erected at the Thirty-third and Tyler site, will be announced at a later date. Plans call for officials of the El Paso Presbytery to participate in the program.

Services Conducted In Artesia For Former Lubbock Resident

ARTESIA, May 20 (Special) — Funeral services for Albert Burdine Cockerham, 60, former Lubbock resident, were held Wednesday in the Paulin Funeral home chapel. Rev. Robert Hudson officiated.

Burial was in Woodbine cemetery of Artesia.

Cockerham, who moved to Eddy county in 1945, was a property owner in Lubbock during the preceding 20 years. Since moving to Artesia, he had been farming. He was a member of the Baptist church.

He died Monday evening in his home here.

Survivors include the wife, the former Maud Bray of Floydada; four daughters, Mrs. A. M. Hughes and Miss Gwynetta Fay Cockerham, both of Artesia, and Mrs. M. Turner and Mrs. W. A. Bishop, both of Lubbock; a son, Leonard, of Artesia; three sisters; four brothers and nine grandchildren.

GAINES VENTURE STRIKES WATER

Test Is Completed On Andrews Well; New Locations Staked

News of recent oil developments in the vicinity was made known Friday. The new developments concerned fields in Andrews, Scurry, and Gaines counties.

A potential test has been completed at the Texas company No. 1-W State of Texas, wildcat one mile north of the West Parker-Devonian field in west-central Andrews county.

From the open hole zone at 8,437-8,450 feet in the Devonian, the venture pumped 24 hours to make an initial production of 24.92 barrels of oil and 23.53 barrels of water. Gas-oil ratio was 539-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 38.3 degrees.

Drillsite Staked

The pay formation previously had been treated with 21,999 gallons of acid.

This development is 665 feet from east and 662.8 feet from south lines of the north half of section 35, block 12, University survey.

South outpost to the Diamond M field of west-central Scurry county has been staked by Hiawatha Oil and Gas company as its No. 2 L. M. Wilson.

The drillsite is 610 feet from west and 690 feet from south lines of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey, about 12 miles west and a little south of Snyder.

It is projected to 6,700 feet to attempt production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian. Drilling with rotary tools is starting immediately.

The new venture is 1,320 feet due south of Hiawatha No. 1 Wilson, Diamond M pool extension now testing prior to completion. It already has shown for commercial production from the Canyon.

Tide Water Associated Oil company has made location for its No. 1 R. H. House as a 6,800-foot rotary exploration in the North Snyder area of north-central Scurry county.

It will be located 467 feet from west and 567 feet from south lines of section 384, block 97, H&TC survey, about six and one-half miles north of the town of Snyder.

It is to test into the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian, pay of the North Snyder pool. Operations are starting immediately.

Intermediate casing has been set at George P. Livermore and Deep Rock Oil corporation No. 1 A. L. Mayhew, wildcat projected to 12,000 feet in west-central Andrews county, 30 miles west of the town of Andrews and 1,980 feet from south, 660 feet from east lines of section 20, block A-51, psl survey.

Operator cemented a string of 9 5/8-inch casing at 4,080 feet with 4,000 sacks. Drilling was continuing under 4,085 feet in lime.

The Devonian has made water for Stanolind Oil and Gas company No. 15 American Warehouse, deep wildcat in the Cedar Lake area of northeast Gaines county, 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

Test Strikes Water

The venture drilled to 13,186 feet in barren Ellenburger and reduced hole to the Devonian, which showed possibilities of production when drilled through.

On plug-back depth of 12,354 feet, operator drillstem tested the Devonian with backer at 12,295 feet. The tool was open four hours, using a 750-foot water blanket.

Recovery was the water blanket followed by 270 feet of drilling mud, 3,913 feet of sulphur water, and 1,460 feet of heavy mud.

The exploration was waiting on further orders. It is due to be plugged and abandoned.

Lubbock County Soil Ready For Planting

Most of the top soil in Lubbock county has dried sufficiently to start planting, a report released by county agent D. W. Sherrill, indicated yesterday. Soil moisture is excellent and in most areas well above average for this time of the year.

The condition of small grains is considered "very good" by Sherrill. He says there are a few small spots where there has been some hail and wind damage but it is of minor consequence.

Winds Aid Drying

The planting of milo began this week and pastures are in excellent growth. The permanent pastures are especially well developed.

The high winds this week have contributed to the rapid drying of the top soil and the delayed cotton planting is well underway. The truck crops that were damaged by hail have been making progress. Onions and lettuce have made a quick comeback and will be delayed only a few days in getting to the early markets, the report concludes.

Los Angeles Man Killed By Stranger Irritated By Whiskers

LOS ANGELES, May 20. (U.P.)—An unemployed machinist shot and killed a man he never had seen before because "I don't like his chin whiskers," police said today.

Sylvester E. Eaton, 45, killed the bearded stranger with a .38 caliber pistol.

The victim, musician William G. Whatley, 37, was on the way to a grocery store when he was shot in front of Eaton's rooming house, officers said. He was the divorced father of four children.

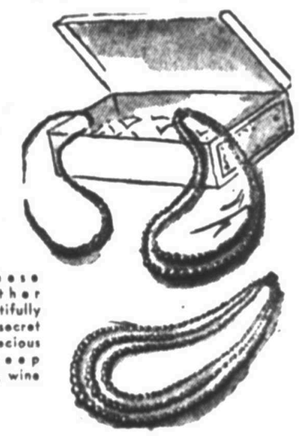

As Whatley pitched into the gutter, Eaton calmly went back into his rooming house and told his landlady to call the police and a doctor.

When police came, Eaton was sitting in a chair, his head in his hands.

"Yes, I shot him," he said. "I didn't like his chin whiskers."

ON FREE SPEECH:

A Dangerous View

UNEASINESS that the danger of curbs upon free speech may be greater than most Americans realize is aroused by a recent procedure in the U. S. Supreme court in a case involving Arthur Terminiello, of Chicago.

Terminiello was convicted of violating a Chicago law forbidding "inflammatory utterances" which might incite public disturbances. The Supreme court upheld his contention that his arrest and conviction violated constitutional guarantees of free speech. But it may disturb thoughtful Americans that four of the nine members of the nation's highest court favored punishing Terminiello because of what he said in an open, public meeting.

The case was important solely because of the principle at issue. Considerations of Terminiello as an individual were inconsequential. But every American is concerned when any law anywhere can be used, or abused, to restrict the right of free expressions of opinion. The case is important, not because Terminiello was arrested, but because anyone in Chicago might have been jailed under the same law for any utterance to which the authorities objected on the pretext that the declarations were "inflammatory." The application of such a law could be stretched to forbid anything that suggested criticism of anyone who happened to be in political power at the time.

Fortunately, the Supreme court majority still appears to hold to the principle that it is better to let radicals and crackpots rave than to approve a muzzle which could be used to silence honest criticisms.

But it borders upon the alarming to consider that one more vote would have put the highest court on record as approving a law under which any Americans would dare to speak freely only in the manner and upon subjects pleasing to those in positions of official authority.

Another Roosevelt

NO VISION is involved in the forecast that the election of young Franklin Roosevelt to Congress from the 20th New York district this week marked the entry upon the political stage of a personality to be reckoned with in party and national affairs.

True enough, the fact that he is the son of the original FDR has its handicaps. He inherits his father's enemies. In anything he attempts, he is sure to be charged with attempting to trade upon his father's name.

But the results of the New York election demonstrated conclusively that his heritage thus far is a greater political asset than liability. Had he been anyone other than FDR's son, he probably could not have been elected. If he had been elected, his victory would have rated scant attention instead of arousing national interest.

Young Roosevelt goes into politics with one of the most valuable of assets —the name of the most phenomenal vote-getter in the nation's history. If he keeps his nose reasonably clean, the probabilities border upon certainty that party politicians will attempt, sooner or later, to capitalize upon his name. The first consideration of any party leadership is to pick candidates to win —and no party ever has possessed anyone who could win as consistently and overwhelmingly as FDR, sr.

If they are realists, even the most prejudiced will have to acknowledge that young Roosevelt has personality and at least average ability. He has ambition. These plus his name are not positive guarantees of anything politically. But they give him a good running start toward the realization of any ambition—and it is a safe assumption that his aspirations encompass the White House.

Out Of The Woods

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: A violent death upsets the routine on Henry Gough Harding's Speare Island where he seeks to found a "New Eden." The victim, Lilly Warren, was one of four women each of whom seek to become Harding's wife. An inquest is in progress, at which Harding presides and Bea Cosgrove, who admits only to herself that she came to the Island for vengeance and not to marry Harding, is court reporter. The others do not know that the gun that killed Lilly was one which was smuggled onto the Island by Bea.)

XV

GEORGE opened his mouth. Fred nudged him sharply. "Let him handle it, George. Shut up."

Harding decided to be appeased. "We'll start with you, Mr. Sillwell."

Fred licked his lips. "All right. As near as I can remember, George, Nona and I were left at the table when Miss Firth, Miss Cosgrove and Mrs. Jones went out to begin their day's work. We sat around the table for a while, wishing we had some cigarets. Then Nona offered to clean up the outhouse we live in, so we went there. George and I watched her work, and when we came back Nona went to the garden to join Miss Firth. George and I sat around the main room. Miss Cosgrove came down from upstairs, went into the kitchen. She poked her head through the doorway a few minutes later and asked if we wanted coffee. We didn't. Then you came in from outside and went to the tower room to change the dressing on Miss Stark's leg. George and I sat on the veranda a while and then I went to the shack to take a nap. I was still asleep when George woke me up with the news."

Henry Harding smiled. "Thank you for a very clear report. Now Mrs. Jones."

Miss Cosgrove heard the soft sound of Fred's exhalation. She saw him relax, knew the others too were no longer in doubt as to the course they should follow.

"I went right out to the sheepfold," Mabel said. "I took them up to North Knob and stayed with them until Miss Firth came to tell me what happened. I brought the sheep back with me and penned them up again."

Fred started the ball rolling. "I saw her on the hill when I went to take my nap."

"I saw her too," Nona followed. "George was with me. We spoke about how her orange dress stood out so clearly."

"You saw her at intervals during the specified time? She was on the Knob whenever you looked that way?"

"That's right." Sillwell elected himself spokesman.

"GOOD," Harding said. "Now Miss Cosgrove. Did you go at once to the storeroom after you left the table?"

"No," she admitted. "I went upstairs first to straighten up the rooms. I knew Mrs. Warren wouldn't feel like it."

Harding frowned. "How long did it take?"

"I don't know. Mr. Sillwell and Mr. Bascombe were in the main room. They told you about my asking them if they wanted coffee. After than I went down to the storeroom and brought up what I thought we'd need. Miss Firth came from the garden and she and I had some coffee. Then we both went back to our work and I saw Miss McGuire join Miss Firth." Bea paused and looked at the two green-clad women sitting side by side. They both nodded their heads in confirmation. "After that I made two more trips to the storeroom when you came, as you know."

"Very good, Very clear," Harding said. "You corroborate, Miss Firth."

Agnes put a hand to her throat. "Oh yes. Yes. And I was working in plain sight in the garden before I joined Miss Cosgrove."

"That's right." Sillwell cut in. "I saw you bending over working. Then you straightened up and I waved, remember?"

Agnes looked at the toe of one of her shoes. She nodded slowly. "I remember. You waved."

"Was that before or after Miss McGuire joined you?"

Agnes hesitated.

"It must have been before," Nona said. "I guess it's clear where I was during the time. And I was with Agnes every minute after I met her until we heard of —of Lilly's death." At Harding's request she confirmed Sillwell's story.

"I think you'll all agree," he said, "that a clear picture is emerging from the testimony. For myself, you will recall I was changing the dressing on Miss Stark's wound. She had tossed around during the night and pulled one of the stitches. It took some time to repair the damage and make her comfortable."

"We saw you go in," Sillwell said. "You were still there when I left."

"You didn't come out while I was sitting on the veranda," Bascombe testified.

"Very well then. That accounts for everyone. Let us proceed to the matter of the gun. How did it come into the possession of that unfortunate woman? I personally searched the belongings of Mrs. Jones, Miss Firth, Mrs. Warren and Miss Cosgrove when they first came ashore on Speare Island. You four later arrivals had no means, no ah—covering to conceal even so compact an automatic. Furthermore, it was not one of mine. It

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

A LITTLE while ago I told you about a weekend visit by our three-year-old niece.

BRANDEIS

I also told you about the sweet little thing breaking my television set, gumming up my desk, getting all the door keys mixed up, and sundry other delightful annoyances she performed while at our house.

I ended the column with "God bless all children and pity the mothers who have three or four of them."

You should have seen the letters I got

As usual, quite a few of the people who disagree with a columnist don't just write "I disagree with you" and give the reason why.

They call you a skunk, an orge, a heartless monster, a criminal or a wild beast for whom shooting would be too good But one lady capped the climax.

"I insist that you print a public apology," she wrote. "You have insulted all mothers and the sacred state of motherhood."

I hereby refuse to apologize, and I'll tell you why.

It is true that my wife and I have no children and we have often regretted the fact.

But, on the other hand, I was a child once, believe it or not.

There were three of us, three little imps that deviled the life out of our mother who unquestionably would have lived much longer than her 81 years if it had not been for us three.

Naturally, having been a child, I also had a mother, as I mentioned above. My wife also had a mother, a delightful person save for the fact that, later on, she was also my mother-in-law.

Consequently, although not being a mother myself, I do know a little something about children and about mothers.

I admit that most mothers fulfill the duties of motherhood gladly and would not exchange their children for all the gold in Fort Knox.

But, on the other hand, there is an old saying, "I wouldn't take a million for any of them, but I wouldn't give a nickel for another one."

Mind you, I am not referring to your children. They are undoubtedly paragons of everything that is fine and beautiful and exemplary.

I am talking only about my own mother and other mothers I have observed.

I am talking about mothers who are working themselves to the bone for their kids, only to see those kids leave them in old-age, in want and lonesomeness. I am talking about mothers who deny themselves everything so that their children may have everything. I am talking about mothers who lose their looks and their health slaving away for their children

So I repeat: "God bless all children and pity the mothers who have three or four of them." But I make one change. For the word "pity" I substitute: "Give strength to."

P.S. My wife just called me into the guest room which we had not used since my niece's departure.

"The alarm clock and the radio are broken," my wife said. "I think the baby did it."

Isn't she a darling?

SPANISH POLICY HIT

Acheson Under Fire

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The earlier friendly relationship between Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Chairman Tom Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations committee has become strained at the very moment when Capitol Hill Republicans have dared to question the Administration's conduct of foreign policy more violently than at any time since V-J day.

Mr. Acheson's hostile attitude toward Generalissimo Franco and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek—Spain and China—is largely responsible for this changing attitude, especially as his current behavior recalls the days when he was avowedly pro-Stalin. His critics begin to wonder whether he is not permitting radical elements in State to influence his major decisions.

TUCKER

The recall of Ambassadors from Madrid in 1946 was an American concession to Stalin in the hope that it would appease and placate him. In view of the "cold war" and the present European lineup, the Connally-Vandenberg group sees no reason for continuing the feud. Likewise, they believe that our indifference toward the fate of the Nationalist Government in China plays into Moscow's hands.

EVASIVE: Another factor in the growing coolness is the Cabinet member's handling of the problem of rearming Western Europe under the North Atlantic Pact.

At times he seems to agree with Chief of Staff Omar N. Bradley and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt that our defensive frontier against Russia should lie across the heart of Europe, at least along the Rhine.

At other moments he appears to share the Connally-Vandenberg belief that the United States cannot afford, in men or money, to make such a commitment to other members of the alliance.

Indeed, so difficult has it been for the Senators to obtain a definite statement that Mr. Acheson has been described as "evasive" and "obstinate" and "a reluctant witness," on and off the Senate floor, with respect to his testimony on the treaty and its implementation by American arms.

CONCESSION: Senator Connally makes no bones of the fact that the Washington-Madrid controversy has hurt expansion of markets for Texas cotton. Although a veteran statesman, "Old Tawm" never forgets that his first duty is to his home constituents.

Spain once took a large portion of the product from Texas, according to the Senator. Now Franco buys his cotton from Egypt, which is an indirect beneficiary under the Marshall Plan. Meanwhile, ECA is shipping a large amount of the crop to European countries at the expense of the American taxpayers.

Mr. Acheson has made one concession to the chairman of the committee which must pass on the proposed N. A. Pact. Originally the Secretary of State extended his political ban to an economic embargo against Madrid.

In an apparent effort to calm down Mr. Connally, he says now that he does not object if the Export-Import bank advances funds to the dictator, adding, however, that Franco does not seem to be a "good risk."

UNFORTUNATE: Other Senators dislike our anti-Madrid policy because they insist that it means a loss of trade to Britain and France. They suspect that Mr. Acheson's efforts to appease London and Paris rival his earlier attempt to remain on good terms with Stalin.

One reason for not calling off the feud with Franco is the opposition of England and France. Prime Minister Attlee complains that it would offend members of his Labor party. Premier Schumann says that it would antagonize French Socialists.

But in 1948, according to foreign trade figures, Britain sold $400,000,000 worth of goods to Spain, while France disposed of $100,000,000 of her products in the same market.

The unfortunate aspect of this outburst of criticism, as all parties realize, is that it may tend to lessen Achesonian prestige at the very moment when he will be trying to drive a hard bargain with the Russians in conferences over the German problem.

NATIONALIZATION: The big moguls of railroad labor unions have just done a sharp right-about-face on the question of nationalization of the "iron horse." They refuse to discuss the matter in such frank terms, but official documents prove that they have turned thumbs down on government ownership.

When Uncle Sam threatened to take over the railroads on the eve of a strike last year, the leaders seemed favorable to that action. Recalling the excellent deal John L. Lewis made with Interior Secretary Ickes under the same circumstances several years ago, their attitude was that they might prefer Uncle Sam as a permanent employer. In fact, they issued a press release to that effect.

FEAR: In a document filed with the Interstate Commerce commission, they now warn against any action which might throw the rails into bankruptcy and force the government to take over, more or less permanently. The I.C.C. has begun hearings on Controller General Lindsay Warren's charges that the roads overcharged the government on freight rates during the war.

If Warren's indictment can be sustained at these hearings, the next step would be to bring suit for recovery. Enforced payment of $2,000,000,000 would undoubtedly bankrupt many lines. Hence, the labor leader's fear.

ECONOMY: "I read that the Veterans Administration plans to discharge 8,000 employees throughout the country," complains an ex-G.I. in Albuquerque, N. M. "Why? And will the loss of so many people hold up distribution of the insurance dividend to men who have paid excess premiums?"

Answer: Those 8,000 must be fired because the Budget Bureau cut VA's requests for funds and Congress accepted Budget's economy plan so deeply that the money is not available for their salaries.

HANDICAP: VA officials tell me that their discharge will not interfere with the time schedule for distribution of the insurance dividends. Congress has appropriated separate money for that work.

However, the loss of so many employees will handicap the general servicing of such problems as pensions, insurance, hospitalization etc. for veterans. But the present post-war load should begin to drop soon, as the educational and loan programs terminate, and VA officials expect to be able to carry on.

Following the introduction of the seven-hour day in underground coal mines in New Zealand last April production of the mines has increased 15 percent.

Of 350 exhibitors who applied for space at the recent International Automobile Exposition of Italy, held in Turin, 70 had to be rejected because of lack of space.

FDR JR. VICTORY HAS 'LESSON'

U. S. Political Tradition Shaken

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON— As well as catapulting another Roosevelt suddenly into national politics, the triumphant election of Franklin D., Jr. as a member of the House of Representatives here has a lesson for the orthodox, old line politicians which some of them seem slow to learn.

They might well sit up and take notice now before they get punch drunk, for this is the second blow at their legends and traditions in the space of a week. The uprising in New York's Twentieth district, another of a series of jolts to that political shell—and shell game—known as Tammany Hall, followed the downfall just over the line in Jersey of Boss Frank Hague's Jersey City machine that was for so long impregnable.

Other Machines Beaten

That this is not just accidental, but is full and clinching proof of a mild revolution in American politics, is shown by the fact that it is the conclusion of a series which, in the last two years, also has included the crack-up of the machines of Boss Ed Kelly in Chicago and Boss Ed Crump in Memphis and, before that, of Boss Tom Pendergast in Kansas City.

The day of the "machine-delivered vote" appears to be passing. The story was told very plainly in Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.'s victory. It is just as simple as this: When you get a candidate with progressive ideas and platform who is willing to work 18 hours a day, and a lot of precinct workers of organized labor and enthusiastic and alert young people who will ring door-bells, organize political meetings and get out the vote, then it's not too hard to defeat even the apparently most secure political machine.

It was one of Tammany's strongholds that was stormed and taken in New York by this sort of operation in mass politics It was similar machine strongholds in Jersey City and other places that have been successfully challenged in recent months and years.

It is significant of something new, fresh and hopeful that is happening all over the country in our politics, and it should serve to encourage progressives everywhere.

There was a somewhat similar pattern on a national scale, mass rally, in last November's election wher President Truman was able to win despite weakness and apathy in regular Democratic organizations and open desertions. His own tireless "whistle stop" forays into the byways and hedges, his plain speaking about issues, and the energetic campaign put on by "amateurs"—organized labor, farmers and just plain voluntary citizen workers—did the job.

Ironically enough, despite that demonstration, the New York congressional election found the National Democratic chairman, Senator Howard J. McGrath (R.I.), and by proxy President Truman, himself playing along with Tammany in the old formula. Tammany utilized an old alliance of convenience in this election, its tie-up with the left-wing American Labor party machine of Rep. Vito Marcantonio, which obviously fooled few voters. It is a tribute to labor that it is educating its voters to follow the path of real progressivism.

Labor Given Boost

Young Franklin Roosevelt was, in this election, the stone that the builders rejected. Tammany exhibited the blindness common to long-entrenched machines by refusing to back the FDR heir. This suggests the moral that political organization leaders, if they want to win elections, had better find out what the people want and look around for rising young men with modern ideas as candidates. Some of them in both parties have lost step with the times.

The Roosevelt victory gave a tremendous lift to progressives here in Congress and to organized labor. This demonstration of vitality among voters on the city streets the grass roots of our great urban areas, came just at the right time, for it found progressives and labor in a back-to-the-wall fight with an old alliance of convenience here—the Southern Democrat-Republican coalition.

Progressivism made some gains in congress in the last election, but not enough. Progressive leaders recognize now that the fight is not won in one election. The Roosevelt victory encourages them for the same sort of battles they are planning, district by district, in the congressional elections next year. Both AFL and CIO now have come to look upon the Southern Democrat - Republican coalition as a party in itself, outside of traditional party lines, and their campaign to defeat it in the next election will be outside of party lines.

PROJECT IS STARTED

COULEE DAM, Wash., May 20, —A red light flashed atop a giant generator at 11 a. m. today and Coulee dam became the world's greatest producer of hydroelectric power. The shining shaft of the generator whirled into action as President Truman pressed a gold telegraph key in Washington.

Two salads youngsters like: shredded carrots, raisins, and coconut mixed with a mild cooked dressing; green cabbage shredded and mixed with a creamy dressing and peanuts.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—The fourth decline in a row today forced stock prices to the lowest average level of the month.

Individual losses ranged from fractions to around 2 points.

Selling appeared to be a carryover from yesterday, when an abrupt increase in offerings during the final hour gave the market its biggest setback in nearly a month.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .3 of one point to 82.9, lowest figure since April 29. The utility group held up well but industrials and rails declined.

Sixty stocks established new lows for the year during the day although not all closed at the lows. The steel group was well represented, with 1949 lows touched by Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet, Wheeling, and Jones and Laughlin. A mere shadow separted U. S. Steel from its low.

Closing lower included American Telephone at 148⅜, Goodrich at 69¼, Montgomery Ward 52¾, Douglas Aircraft 56¾, Curtiss-Wright 8⅛, United Fruit 47¼, Consolidated Natural Gas 41¾, General Electric 36¾, Johns-Manville 34¾, U. S. Gypsum 94½, Santa Fe 86⅞, Standard Oil (NJ) 66¾, Phillips Petroleum 57⅝, and Pan American Airways 9⅜.

Striking against the trend of small gains were General Motors, Lockheed, American Power and Light, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, J. C. Penney, and Union Pacific.

Corporate bonds were lower, notably issues in the rail income group. U. S. governments barely moved in over-the-counter dealings.

In the curb an extra dividend gave automatic steel products a fractional boost and higher prices were paid for Bunker Hill Mining, Fansteel Metallurgical, Kaiser-Fraser, Pancoastal Oil, and Rome Cable. Lower were Humble Oil, Pantepec Oil, Creole Petroleum, Cities Service, and American Gas and Electric.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) — Cotton futures turned steady today, following early easiness, as trade buying for mill and export account met only scale-up offerings.

But increased short covering and trade buying rallied futures into new high ground for the day in closing trading.

Futures closed 35 to 50 cents higher than the previous close.

ASPEN WOOD COOLER PADS
Manufactured from odorless, high altitude, young aspen. Each perfect fibre efficiently maintains its fluffy, spring type resiliency, its water absorption and cooling qualities even under the most severe summer conditions. When the wood fibre in a pad becomes clogged with dirt, your cooler loses its efficiency very fast. Get the maximum efficiency from your evaporative cooler, change your pads at least once a year and more often if they become clogged and fail to cool as they should. Remember, YOUR AIR IS COOLED IN THE PAD, NO WHERE ELSE! Truman Breaks Ice On Southern Appointments By Naming Judge

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Truman today appeared to have broken the ice on southern appointments with his nomination of Abraham Benjamin Conger as federal judge in Georgia.

Conger was recommended by Senator George (D-Ga.), vigorous foe of the President's civil rights program and one of the Democrats who has refused to go along with Mr. Truman's request for $4,000,000,000 in new taxes.

Demo Leader 'Pleased'

The President's action in sending the nomination to the Senate yesterday was widely interpreted as a victory for those in the Democratic party who have counseled against trying to punish Dixie lawmakers who didn't get out and root for the President in last year's campaign.

Democratic national chairman J. Howard McGrath, as leader of this group, has been trying his best to patch up the breach which the civil rights issue caused between the Southerners and the main body of the party.

McGrath, who went to bat at the White House for George on the nomination, told a reporter he was "very pleased" at the President's decision to appoint Conger.

No Iron-Clad Rule

The action also made it seem that Mr. Truman wasn't laying down an iron-clad rule when he said recently that those who don't support his program in Congress can't expect a voice in patronage, or job dispensing, matters.

At that time, the President hinted that House members who didn't vote for the administration's substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor law would find themselves out in the cold as far as patronage is concerned.

But Mr. Truman hardly can expect George, who voted to override the presidential veto of the T-H act in the first place, to go along now with all of the substantial changes the administration wants in the act. George has indicated he has no such intention.

To Back Trade Pact

While he thus opposes the administration on these major issues and has voted consistently to cut the President's spending program, the Georgia senator plans to take a leading part in attempts to win Senate approval of the House bill restoring the reciprocal trade agreements program as it was before the GOP-80th Congress took a lusty swing at it last year.

McGrath is known to have insisted in party conferences there should be no attempt by the adminstration to slap at Dixie lawmakers such as George. Those so classified obviously didn't want Mr. Truman as the party standard bearer but made no open fight against him after he was nominated.

The big test of how far Mr. Truman is willing to go in letting bygones be bygones in such political situations, however, is likely to come in action on a Mississippi appointment.

Senator Stennis (D-Miss.), who says he voted for the Thurmond-Wright States' Rights ticket, has urged the appointment of J. P. Coleman as federal attorney in the northern Mississippi district.

McGrath, who went to the White House with Stennis to plead Coleman's case, still has his fingers crossed on that one.

State Permit For Combines Now Available At Office Here

A 30-day permit under which a combine can be hauled over state highways now can be issued, according to the State Highway department.

The permit, officials said, will simplify the movement of such machines. They cost $5.

Permits are obtainable at 105 Broadway, in Lubbock, and in highway department offices in Amarillo, Borger, Perryton and Pampa.

Contempt Ruled In Child Support Case

Unless J. G. Nall, 33, can rake up some cash—and a not inconsiderable sum, at that—his address is likely to be Lubbock county jail for quite a while.

That was the observation Friday of Judge G. V. Pardue, who adjudged Nall in contempt of a June 3, 1946, child support order of his 99th District court and ordered the defendant to jail until he has:

1. Spent three days of imprisonment.
2. Paid a fine of $100.
3. Paid the court costs.
4. Paid $1,294.70 in delinquent child support.

Moreover, Judge Pardue warned the defendant, "if you ever get all this done and get out of jail, you must pay $45 a month toward support of those four children, just as you've been ordered to do heretofore."

To top today's action, Nall faces indictment for child desertion, court officials said.

He was arrested May 3 at Anson, the sheriff's department said, after letters "had been sent out to various Texas officials asking for his arrest on the indictment."

One of the children must be kept in bed almost every hour of the day, a sheriff's deputy said.

Nall has been delinquent in payments since May 28, 1947, the court's order said.

APPOINTMENTS ARE OKAYED

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—The Senate today confirmed the appointments of Gordon Dean of California and Henry Dewolf Smyth of New Jersey as members of the Atomic Energy commission.

Former Amarillo Man Buys Interest In Tulia Newspaper

TULIA, May 20. (AP)—Cal Brumley, formerly of Hereford and Amarillo, today announced purchase of the interest of R. V. Miller in the Tulia Herald, Swisher county weekly newspaper.

Willis Reynolds, who has been with the Tulia Herald the past 20 years, retains his interest in the paper and will be co-publisher with Brumley.

Brumley, 25, was with the Texas bureau of the Associated Press in Dallas when he resigned to come here. Previously, he was a reporter for the Amarillo Globe-News.
