58 Believed Dead After Plane Crash

HONOLULU, T. H., July 14-UP - The Navy reported Tuesday all 58 persons aboard the Transocean airliner "Royal Hawaiian," which crashed in the Pacific 300 miles east of Wake, apparently died in a violent sudden death.

Navy rescue teams, fighting off sharks, had already retrieved 14 badly mangled bodies, the troopship USS Barrett radioed the Hawaiian Sea Frontier headquarters here.

Clothing was stripped from all bodies "probably from the force of the impact when the plane hit the water," the Barrett reported. Nine bodies were of male adults, three of women, one a male child and one a female child.

The Barrett's radio report said from a check of debris spread over a 30-mile area it was apparent that the plane hit the water hard and the persons aboard apparently met a "violent sudden death."

Barrett crewmen, riding choppy seas in lifeboats, fished out considerable personal effects and bits of plane wreckage.

Rescuers in small boats from the Navy transport Barrett had recovered 11 bodies when darkness closed in Monday night. Three other bodies had been sighted but thrashing sharks kept rescuers from hauling them aboard immediately.

There was scant hope that any of the 58 persons aboard the Transocean Air Lines DC-6B which crashed late Saturday night would be found alive. It was the worst commercial plane crash in the history of Pacific flight.

After nightfall the Barrett used searchlights in an effort to find more bodies. Two planes circled overhead in a remote hope of sighting flares from any survivors.

Also joining in the search were six other Navy Coast Guard and civilian vessels, including the tanker Tomahawk, the cargo vessel Sunsex, the Coast Guard cutters Klamath and Finch, the destroyer Brown and the Standard Oil tanker M. E. Lombard.

Seamen in the rescue boats were sickened by their task. Some of the bodies pulled from the choppy waters had been chewed beyond identification by the ravenous sharks.

Doctors aboard the Barrett, who were performing autopsies on the bodies recovered, said skin of the victims showed evidence of flash burns. This would indicate the airliner exploded when it hit the water.

All five of the rubber life rafts carried aboard the plane were found inflated but empty in the crash area. They were equipped with gas cylinders to inflate them automatically when thrown out of the plane.

Gun Victim Loses Arms

FORT WORTH, July 14-P-A Fort Worth police character was minus both his arms Tuesday, after losing his right arm in a shotgun blast Monday night.

Howard Bigham Davis, 29, was reported resting in good condition in St. Joseph's hospital Tuesday, after surgeons removed his shattered arm from between the shoulder and elbow Monday night. Davis also lost the top of his right ear in the blast.

A shooting during a four-hour drinking party in a Mansfield high-way tavern resulted in the shotgun blast. Davis was with three companions.

Davis began his criminal career when he was 15. He lost his left arm Dec. 4, 1952, when he was shot as he rode down Main Street in a car.

Charles W. Russell, 33, tavern owner, told detectives that the four entered the tavern Monday night and drank for three hours. One of the men returned and fired once at Davis. His name was unknown.

The other two companions said they didn't know the man who shot Davis. The pair, Billy Norman Fortwood, 25, and Dean K. Portwood, 25, brothers, were quizzed by detectives. They are still being questioned by sheriff's officers.

Davis is free under $7,500 bond.

Rhee Reported Ready To Speed Armistice

GETTING SET for their arguments in support of their proposed gas rate income, officials of the gas company were snatched in at a last minute strategy conference before the public hearing this morning by the City Commission. Pictured, left to right, are Erwin Thompson, local manager of Empire Southern Gas Co.; James A. Davis, center, president of the company; and Harold G. Gray, secretary-treasurer of the company.

Gas Rate Hike Plan Gets Cool Reception

The proposed gas rate increase was given more than cold reception by Pampa citizens today during a public hearing held by the City Commission.

The feelings of citizens ranged all the way from refusing the rate increase to making the Empire Southern Gas Co. take a reduction in current rates.

A hint that a move could be undertaken to call an election on the city purchasing the gas company was brought out by Paul Crossman when he asked if there is a recapture clause in the franchise stalling the city can buy out the gas utility. City Atty. Bob Gordon said such a clause does exist.

Although the city will not make an immediate decision on the rate increase, Mayor Tom Rose said when the time comes for a decision to be made "the good of the citizens and the good of the company will be gone over thoroughly."

James Davis, president of the company from Fort Worth, told citizens he is not interested in competitive gas rate prices with those in effect in other cities.

"We are interested only in the town in which we operate. We have no way of knowing what conditions exist in other towns as to investment, condition of distributing and transmission systems and other conditions. He told him it was his idea the gas rates here should be as cheap as they are in neighboring cities and towns.

Frank Carter asked Davis what reasons they "based the increase on; what changes have taken place since the new company has taken over to justify the increase." Davis said the rate increase is based on the amount of investment in relation to the return on that investment. He added the company paid $1,303,062 for the physical property and has spent an additional $192,588 on improving, strengthening and expansion since it took over in February, 1952. The investment now stands at $1,495,650, Davis said.

Should the increase be granted, Davis later told Atty. Jimmy Thompson, the company's return on the investment would be increased from its present 2.01 percent to approximately 5.90 percent. Hill and Carter (it was Carter who asked for reduced rates) brought up the assessed tax valuation, pointing out it was on the

Derby Contestants Feted At Luncheon

Fifty-two Pampa youngsters aged 11 to 15, were guests of honor today at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All of them entrants in the 1953 Pampa Soap Box Derby, they were on hand to receive their prizes for planning their races, building them and racing them Sunday afternoon at Derby Downs.

Winner of the 11th running of the Derby, Leon Cox, 13, son of Mrs. Paul Lefebvre, was presented the T. H. Keating Plaque by official of Chamber of Commerce.

Runner-up Eldon Stephens, 12, son of M. B. Stephens, 544 S. Tignor, was given a bicycle, also a gift of Chamber's. He crossed over the finish line some three lengths behind Cox and led him at the start of the final heat.

Every other entrant in the Pampa Soap Box Derby received a prize, whether it was a radio, a suit of clothes, a drill set, a tool set, a lifetime pen and pencil set or one of the 45 other gifts.

All prizes awarded today were from local merchants, many of whom actually sponsored a racer. All during the preparatory weeks Derby registrar, kept emphasizing that each and every boy in the race "would get a prize."

This was the day that the Jaycees paid off their promise. And it was, the day that brought the 1953 Pampa Soap Box Derby

Rumors Give Plan To Halt Boycott

SEOUL, July 14-UP-Reports that Syngman Rhee plans to end his boycott of the Panmunjon truce talks circulated Tuesday as South Korean troops withdrew from the central front under heavy Red attack.

The South Korean president was expected to send Major Gen. Choi Duk Shin, his truce delegate, back to the negotiating table in a move to speed signing of the armistice. Choi was not present at the secret 30-minute meeting held by the negotiators Tuesday. However, it was believed he might show up at the 11 a. m. meeting Wednesday (10 p. m. est. Tuesday).

Almost Wrecked Truce Rhee almost wrecked the truce last month by releasing 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners.

There were three explanations for Rhee's reported desire to end the truce boycott which began last May 27 when Choi claimed the UN had sold out to the Communists: 1. The greatest Chinese war offensive in two years, involving up to 72,000 enemy troops, was inflicting heavy casualties on South Korean troops on the central front.

2. Rhee feels he owes assistance to the UN after having blundered in revealing he would abide by a truce only six months after the armistice is signed.

Wants to Give Proof 3. Rhee wants to give the Communist proof he is willing to respect the armistice.

A Communist correspondent at Panmunjon said in his "personal" opinion there were only two possibilities - Rhee is in on the truce or he is not. If not, the Communist said the UN must make "sufficient" guarantees that Rhee will respect an armistice.

Neither Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator, nor North Korean Gen. Nam Il, Communist delegate, would disclose the topic of Tuesday's discussions.

WASHINGTON, July 14-UP- President Eisenhower gave congressional leaders an optimistic report on truce prospects in Korea at a White House meeting Tuesday. Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) told newsmen:

"Bridges, a participant in the President's regular weekly conferences with congressional leaders, said Mr. Eisenhower personally briefed the group on Korean truce prospects."

Bridges said the President's report indicated administration leaders are "more encouraged than they had been about the ability to get together with (South Korean President Syngman) Rhee and the imminence of the armistice."

Earlier in the get-together, the schoolmen approved a contract with the city for $2.70 worth of sewer and water connections into the new Lamar School area.

Subject to the okay of Arthur Teed, the board's attorney, the decision means that the board will put out the money, then get it back as residents in the area tie up the line, according to Knox Kinard, school superintendent. Two-thirds of that amount will be for the water lines.

In other activity, board members decided to go along with the city in moving Wall Street, a caliche road that runs through the middle of the area where school buses park, south to the edge of the school property; renewed a contract with Citizens Bank and Trust company for two more years whereby they get a two-per-cent rate on borrowed money; talked some more on the proposed Carver School wading pool; and paid the bills for the month.

Neighbors Uncertain Whether Dead Man's Chair Is 'Spooky'

GOREVILLE, Ill., July 14-UP-Uncle Toby's old rocking chair has Goreville awitwer. Some people think it moves.

Neighbors claimed that the chair turns swiftly when motorists pass the Lannom farm on busy Highway 37 as though Uncle Toby still were rocking there.

Uncle Toby - Tapley W. Lannom - died June 4, 1952 at the age of 99. He had spent most of the waking hours of the last five years of his life in the old rocker on the porch of his son's home, four miles north of here.

The slender old man with handlebar mustaches became a familiar figure to truckers and salesmen who regularly drove past the farm.

After he died, neighbors reported the chair was "spooky." They told Uncle Toby's son, Tom, the chair turned every time a car went by.

"I told them there was nothing wrong with the chair, maybe there was something wrong with their heads," Tom said. "Then one day I walked up the hill and down the road past the house. Sure enough the old chair turned just like they say it did, and I got to thinking that maybe it was spooky."

Skeptics said the chair doesn't turn at all, that it appears to the passerby to move because of a curve in the highway and the angle at which the chair sits.

THAT'S A START - Six-year-old Billy Ragsdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ragsdale, 1709 Coffee, gazes critically at the bit o' gold that he and his father panned while on vacation last week in Rapid City, S. D. Not that they don't want to lose it, but the two Bills figure it's best that they keep the treasure in this small bottle which is full of water. Besides, non-believers can see it that way. Next year the father-son team is going back for more gold. (News Photo)

Father-Son Team Gets Gold Fever

By ED NASH Pampa News Staff Writer Pampa has a couple of gold prospectors who expect to keep at it for the next 10 or 12 years - and, perhaps, clear $35 worth.

Bill Ragsdale, 1709 Coffee, and his son, Billy, 6, just returned from a vacation in Rapid City S. D., today were eagerly awaiting their next trip into the country where they think of gold as "we do of oil."

"We've got a spot all picked out," said Bill as he looked over a very, very small bottle that contained water and a few small particles of honest-to-goodness gold. "Gold that WE panned ourselves."

Partners in this venture, father and son met an old-time prospector while they were visiting Mrs. Ragsdale's parents. "Trouble was, we didn't do any real prospecting ourselves till the day before we left," the father said.

JOHN KOOPMAN, Rockerville, S. D., some 10 miles west of Rapid City, was the man who got the father-son team interested in the project - so much so that when they would go fishing (for fish) they would take along a shovel and pan (for gold).

And it's quite a system they used to get their gold: First, dig up gravel out of an old stream-bed "where there's been 'gold wash'" and run it through a sluice-box where the water rolls the lighter stones on through while the heavier ones (iron, gold) go to the bottom.

The sluice-box is nothing but flatboards on the bottom and

County Postpones Precinct Redash

Redistricting county voting precincts to conform with city wards was again put off by the county commissioners late Monday afternoon.

The problem of revamping Pampa polling places to conform with the four wards looked easy at first, but when the question of where to send voters living just outside the city limits to the north and east came up, the job didn't look so easy.

Revising the voting set up had been discussed by the commissioners several weeks ago and was brought up again Monday on strength of the resolution passed last week by the City Commission and forwarded to the county commissioner.

The city asked that the precincts be redistricted to conform with the four wards because it was impossible to ascertain who was qualified by residence to vote in municipal elections.

County Clerk Charlie Thut-sided with the city's petition saying it would be easier for city officials in holding city elections, but added it wouldn't make the job of holding county wide elections easier or more difficult. It would create the necessity, he advised, of finding a polling place or places for those immediately outside the city limits.

Whether it was necessary to have two voting precincts (numbers 5 and 17) in McLean was also brought up. It was suggested McLean be placed in one precinct and another precinct be set up in the north end of the city.

Commissioners Arlie Carpenter and Paul Bowers indicated approval of the change at first, but drew off as the complications arose one after the other.

Judge J. B. Maguire said a meeting of the precinct chairman, both Democrat and Republican - should be held to consult with them on how to change the precinct boundary lines.

Jamboree Scouts Swarming Camp

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif., July 14-UP-Jamboree City's 3,000-acre camp grounds sprouted tents and flags by the hundreds Tuesday as more youths arrived for the third National Boy Scout jamboree.

More than 10,000 boys arrived Monday on trains and buses from the Midwest, South and New England States. The entire contingent of some 50,000 Boy Scouts is expected to be encamped by Thursday night.

Three of Monday's arrivals faced immediate disappointment. They were hospitalized with mumps. They probably will recover just as the jamboree ends, July 23.

The three victims, all from Beaumont, Tex., were discovered to be sick while on route here and were isolated aboard their special train. An ambulance met them on arrival and took them to Orange County Medical hospital in nearby Santa Ana. Their parents were notified.

AMERICA'S NEW RAILROAD

15 of these big icing machines are in operation at ice-servicing points along the Santa Fe

Ever see so much fuss just to chill an orange?

It's the best way there is today to refrigerate a "reefer"—but Santa Fe is developing an even newer and better way to do the job

In 60 seconds flat, the giant ice-crushing machines Santa Fe recently installed can fill the bunkers of a refrigerator car with five tons of ice! They are the newest and fastest machines for icing cars yet devised.

These refrigerator cars and these icing machines have carried the technique of refrigeration with ice to the ultimate of present-day knowledge.

Each of these new cars has its own thermostatically-controlled diesel-driven compressor-type refrigerator unit. It carries 400 gallons of fuel (almost the exact amount Lindbergh used to fly the Atlantic). It can maintain sub-zero temperatures all the way from California to New York.

And Santa Fe "reefers" are the most efficient type of refrigerator cars now on the rails.

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW?
We can't be sure, BUT—
Santa Fe is now experimenting with a newer way to refrigerate cars automatically for hauling foods which may require temperatures as low as 25° below zero.

BENEFITS FELT ALONG THE LINE
All along the line, people and communities feel the benefits of this building new wherever it actually occurs on the Santa Fe—and day-after-day, something new is done to make "America's New Railroad" a little better.

Red Chinese Open Withering Drive

SEOUL, July 14 — "Human sea" assaults by up to 72,000 Chinese drove South Korean forces back along a 20-mile sector of the central front Tuesday, but the ROKs were counter-attacking and their artillery was taking a fearful toll of Reds.

The Chinese, advancing over their own dead and through "daisy cutter" artillery fire exploding at low level, made three main penetrations of the ROK line with gains of two to three miles.

It was the heaviest Red offensive since April, 1951.

Eighth Army commander Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor described it as an attack "in great strength," but said "the attack was not unexpected" and the defense is "exacting a very heavy toll of casualties from the Communists." Taylor paid a personal visit to the front.

Six or more Chinese divisions composed of 10,000 to 12,000 men each stormed into the attack.

A high-ranking American officer said two to three infiltrated South Korean divisions east of Inje Ridge withdrew to a position below the Kumsoong River on Eighth Army orders.

"We have had three serious penetrations," the officer told United Press correspondent Al Kaff at the front. "We have found it advantageous to withdraw below the Kumsoong River."

The Reds paid heavily for their advance in the carefully planned offensive, believed to be a political maneuver to persuade the South Korean government to honor the forthcoming truce.

They surged like robots into the face of heavy Allied tank fire and the anti-personnel air bursts known as "daisy cutters" because they explode at low levels.

His Four Divisions

The Chinese concentrated their mammoth assault on four ROK divisions, including one which had been chewed up in earlier fighting in this blazing sector.

South Korea's crack Capital Division absorbed the brunt of the Red attack with two divisions hitting it. An American general estimated between four and six other Red divisions smashed into the ROK Third, Sixth and Eighth Divisions.

The ROK Sixth and Eighth Divisions were digging in on a new defense line some distance south of their old line late Tuesday. An American officer said he thought "this is about as far as the Chinese will go."

DAV Sends Out Key Ring Tags

Pampa motorists will receive this month from the Disabled American Veterans their 1953 identification tags for key rings carrying their individual license numbers.

The tags, which provide key-loss insurance in addition to an opportunity to assist disabled veterans, will be distributed from the organization's national headquarters in Cincinnati where disabled veterans make and assemble the tags in a plant owned and operated by the DAV.

The local organization, commanded by Clarence Arnold, could draw on the national fund should the need arise, the commander stated. However, he said, local contributions in the annual forget-me-not drive have cared for rehabilitation needs of Gray County's 138 DAV members thus far.

GAS RATE

rolls at $311.550. Mayor Rose attempted to throttle any tax argument by adding it is the board of equalization which sets the tax valuation, not the city commission.

The hearing lasted one hour and 20 minutes. At the close Mayor Rose informed the group attending and the company officials Davis, Erwin Thompson, local manager, and Harold Gray, company secretary, the commission must center its judgment around provisions of state statutes governing setting of rates and that the investment held by the company and its current return will be considered.

The company is asking for a minimum of $2 with a penalty clause for delinquent payments of 10 percent. The present rate is a minimum of $1.63 with a discount of 15 cents if paid before the 10th of the month.

The commission this morning also passed the livestock, fowl and dog ordinances on their first reading; awarded the contract for a new motorcycle to the Amarillo Harley-Davidson Co.; and named Clyde Carruth, A. B. Carruth, Fred Thompson, Irvin Cole and W. B. Weathered to the joint city-county committee to study construction of a proposed combination county barn and show arena at Recreation Park.

Freighters Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14 — Two freighters collided in a dense water-freight fog in the Pacific Ocean 11 miles outside the Golden Gate early Tuesday and one of the ships sank within two hours.

The SS Hawaiian Pilot rammed the Jacob Luckenbach amidships and sent her beneath the surface.

Daugherty Granted Airport Land Lease

Leon Daugherty, second high bidder, will have another two-year lease on the approximate 400 acres of tillable land at the Ferry Air Force Field by action of the county commissioners.

Daugherty, who has held lease for four years bid a rental of $1,400 for the two-year period beginning July 15, 1953 and ending July 15, 1955.

The $1,800 bid of R. W. Lane, high bidder, was rejected on the grounds of a stipulation in his bid which asked for a refund should federal controls prohibit him from cultivating the entire area. This was not included in the bids called for by the county. Other bidders were Orvil Thornburg, $1,320 for the two years and N. W. Green at $61.59 for one year. Rental money is due in two payments — the first on execution of the lease and the second on July 15, 1954.

Big Three Okay Power Conference

WASHINGTON, July 14 — The Big Three foreign ministers set wheels in motion Tuesday for possible showdown talks with Moscow on two of the biggest issues in the cold war — Germany and Austria.

They agreed tentatively to call for a four-power conference of foreign ministers this fall to put Russia's self-styled peace campaign to the acid test.

Word of the understanding on Big Four talks came as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, acting British Foreign Secretary Lord Salisbury, and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault put finishing touches on their five-day strategy conference with a final session Tuesday afternoon.

They planned a final communique summing up their effort to work out ways to exploit the unrest behind the Iron Curtain and with Allied troubles in Europe, the Middle East, and the Far East.

Five Men Asked On Joint Panel

Letters to five county men, asking them to serve on the joint city-county committee to study feasibility of constructing a county barn and show arena at Recreation Park were being written today by County Judge J. B. Maguire.

The five men are Hubert Kenney, Bill Kinzer, W. R. Combs, John Haggard, and Cliff Vincent.

Location of the proposed $22,000 structure will be one of the main topics of discussion when the joint committee meets. The five named to the board were named today by the City Commission after their appointments were read by City Manager B. H. Cruce. All members of the Board of City Development.

Leaders Selected On Education Day

Jimmy McCune, chairman of the goodwill and reception committee of the chamber of commerce, will serve as general chairman over the education day activities for Business Education Day scheduled for Oct. 12 in Pampa.

Committees named to work with McCune on the project include a steering committee, hostess committee and teacher assignment committee.

The steering group includes Gene Green, co-chairman with McCune, Knox Kinard, Gordon Lyons, John Frick, Nolan McKeon, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Roy Smith, Loyal Davies, A. A. Schuneman, George Newberry, Lynn Boyd and Floyd Watson.

On the host firms committee are Watson, chairman, Clifford Whittney, Reno Stinson, Ray Evans and W. B. Weathered, Aubrey Steele, Ed Myatt, Clinton Evans, Jim Finnell, and Fred Thompson. This group will obtain names of firms who will serve as hosts to local school teachers on that day to explain the business or industry, its practices and problems.

Teacher assignments will be made by Kinard, superintendent of schools and committee chairman, McHenry Lane, J. A. Meek, Homer Craig, Sam Begert, H. A. Yoder, Miss Melbie Bird Richey, John Evans, J. C. Randall and Father Myles Moynihan.

The first observation of its type to be held in Pampa, the day is set up to promote better understanding between teachers and the business and industrial firms.

A handbook for the use of host firms is being prepared by the chamber of commerce office.

Shake it back and forth, letting the aggregate slide back and forth in the crease of the pan — that works the gold to the bottom.

Then comes the "ticklish part." Hold the pan with the aggregate on slightly higher side, slosh water with circular motion to carry away small portions of sand near the center each time water goes by and leave the gold in the crease of the pan.

THAT'S HOW the elder and younger Bills got the 50-cent worth that they're so proud of.

"I guess a fellow never gets rich at it; but it's not harder than digging a ditch, that doesn't pay any more," Bill commented.

At least one female member of the family doesn't seem to share the male enthusiasm, though. Billy's five-year-old sister, Peggy, is more concerned with a "coon the Ragdolls brought back. She calls it "Minnie." And completely ignores that small bottle.

Brewery Strike Talks Resumed

MILWAUKEE, July 14 — Negotiations in the 60-day-old brewery workers strike will be resumed here Wednesday.

Union and company representatives discussed talks Monday and Federal Mediator Clement Murphy said there was no progress on a union demand for a 35-hour week.

Mayor Frank Zeidler had requested that Local 9 of the CIO United Brewery Workers Union make a counter proposal on wages and other contract terms after they rejected a 56-a-week plus welfare benefits offer.

The companies involved are the Blatz, Gettelman, Miller, Pabst, Schlitz and independent firms.

Temperature Rising After Brief Relief

In the face of clear skies and no promise of relief from a sustained drought in the area, the mercury was climbing up the ladder to a warm 82 degrees at 11 a.m. today. Monday's maximum reading was 94 degrees following the weekend rain teases and temporary relief from 100-degree temperatures between June and July.

County Eyes Relocation Of Offices

A simple request made by County Judge J. B. Maguire of the county commissioners was granted setting off a chain reaction which will be felt throughout the court house.

The judge asked the commissioners to amend the budget to allow him a secretary instead of having to share the county attorney's secretary. But long before the commissioner authorized hiring the secretary, the problem came up — where to put her.

The judge said he wants her in the present office used as a waiting room by the county attorney and county judge. This would displace the attorney's secretary. But the county treasurer's office now occupies the little waiting room intended for the county attorney.

County Atty. Bill Waters' secretary will have to have that office space and the treasurer will have to be moved elsewhere.

The office changing broadened as it moved along. Judge Maguire suggested moving the office into the county agent and Production and Marketing Offices to the first and third floors.

"Brother, this has developed into a chain reaction," Judge Maguire observed.

Petty crimes, mostly hot checks, increased paperwork in both the county judge's office and the county attorney's office have thrown both offices far behind, Judge Maguire told the court.

The commissioners toured the court house looking over offices and more offices in an effort to determine what to do with the moving. A meeting with office holders will be held Aug. 1 by the commissioners to make definite arrangements for shifting of office space. Under recent legislation Judge Maguire will be able to pay his secretary a salary of not less than $1,000 nor more than $3,000 per year.

Taft's Political Stock Said To Be Developing Steadily

WASHINGTON (NEA)—While much attention has been paid to reviewing the accomplishments of President Eisenhower's first month in the White House, it is equally profitable now to take stock of Sen. Robert A. Taft's half of the administration. Mr. Republican has not been Senate majority leader for five months.

It is true that no later than April 9, Senator Taft told the Republican National Committee that President Eisenhower would be re-elected in 1956. Furthermore, after the Chicago convention last year, Senator Taft said that he had made his last bid for the White House.

Senator Taft is a year older than President Eisenhower. Taft will be 64 on Sept. 8. By election day 1956, he would be 67. Only one President, William Henry Harrison, at 68, was older on inauguration day. And he died a month after taking office.

But if President Eisenhower decided not to run in 1956—or if Senator Taft did not like the way the Eisenhower crowd had been running things—

Well, politicians, like women, claim a divine right to change their minds. And some of the people to whom the senator has been talking recently have come out of his office saying that he still had ideas about the White House and how it should be run.

Certainly, everything that Senator Taft has said and done in the five months since the Republicans took over has indicated that he has a program of his own—whether Eisenhower has or not. And Taft does not bother to clear his statements with the White House.

Air Taft's Views

President Eisenhower has a press conference only two or three times a month. Reporters on Capitol Hill see Senator Taft two or three times a day. Taft's ideas today are therefore better known than the President's and there are more of them.

On domestic policies, Senator Taft has in general gone along with the Eisenhower leadership. This has caused many Washington observers to comment that widely predicted split between President and the senator simply isn't going to come off.

On foreign policy the harmony hasn't been so close. The most recent incident over the senator's

Abdullah's Sister Weds Band Leader

CHICAGO, July 13—UP—Patricia King, the 19-year-old sister of Houston, Tex., playboy Sheppard (Abdullah) King, was married to band leader Eddie O'Neal Sunday.

O'Neal's band is currently playing in the empire room of the Palmer House in Chicago. The wedding was held at St. James Episcopal church and a reception was held at the Palmer House.

Miss King, a blonde, had been in Chicago for several days. However, it wasn't known until late Saturday night that the couple had planned to marry.

Miss King met O'Neal last February when he was playing an engagement at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

King embraced the Moslem faith and adopted the name Abdullah when he married Samia Gamal, an Egyptian belly dancer.

Seaman Drowns In Tug Mishap

HOUSTON, July 13—UP—The Coast Guard searched Monday for the body of a 45-year-old Shreveport, La., seaman who fell from a tug into the Houston ship channel and drowned late Sunday night.

Alton B. Jacobson, the seaman, was seen lighting a cigarette and walking along the deck of the tug San Saba, owned by J. S. Gissel Co., as it pushed a barge in the channel about 10:30 p. m.

"A second later I heard a splash and saw him in the water," Tug Capt. Lewis Knepper of Houston told Officers J. E. Subberry and J. J. Jones.

"I threw him a life preserver. He grabbed for it but missed. He sank and never came up again."

The Foreign Relations Committee to soft-pedal such demands, Taft served that much more aid could be given Asia by reducing the amount given to Europe.

On April 20, Taft expressed the hope that all the problems of Asia could be settled "at one bite" and saw him in the water. Five weeks later he was to advocate declared the U.S. was already "at full war" with Communist China.

He said a blockade of the China coast was desirable, if it could be worked out by the U.S. and the Secretary of State John Foster Dulles went before the Sen-

Goettling Earns Place In History

By PHIL NEWSOM

United Press Foreign Analyst

Willi Goettling didn't know it at the time, but on the morning of June 17 he was on his way to destiny and to a peculiar place in world history.

In Moscow, Lavrenti P. Beria seemed secure in his position as head of Russia's secret police and No. 2 man in the government. It seems probable now that Beria also had no inkling of things to come. Certainly he knew nothing of Willi Goettling.

Willi was 35, unemployed and by trade a house painter.

Willi is dead now, a martyr.

But Before Firing Squad

What happened to Willi between the time he left his home his wife and his two children in West Berlin on the morning of June 17 until he returned during the day of June 18 probably never will be known in detail.

He was going to collect his unemployment insurance. He had a coat and he was coming straight back home.

Willi was a quiet man, and his wife said he never joined anything but alone a riot.

But an announcement on June 18 from the Soviet sector of Berlin said that Willi had been put before a firing squad and shot as one of the instigators of the East German uprising.

By crossing the unnatural boundary between East and West in the divided city, Willi arrived at the precise moment when an oppressed and hungry people elected to revolt.

They were short of vegetables, butter, margarine, sugar, fats, peas and potatoes.

More Work. No Food

Workers had been ordered to increase their output another 10 percent without even being allowed to buy the things they theoretically were allowed on their ration list.

Willi's and Beria's paths of destiny crossed the morning of June 17. Whatever may have been the real reason for Beria's downfall—whether he plotted to seize the government or was a victim of civil warfare within the Kremlin—the East German uprising apparently set the stage.

It now appears that on or before

Job Situation Unchanged Here

Pampa's employment situation this morning "was about the same" it has been for the last two weeks. Though there was a "little spurt" of short-time jobs early today—some three or four—"there was nothing" with any stability," according to A. B. McAfee, acting head of the local Texas Employment Commission office.

Some 11 jobs were on tap at mid-morning, he said, mostly in the life insurance "salesman and appliance salesman" line.

An estimated 20-25 positions were processed in the past week, McAfee continued, adding that several of them were in the agricultural field. "But those who took those jobs were back here this morning," he commented.

"We don't look for much change in the job picture," he concluded, "until this drought business settles."

Cook's Nook

A cookie suffices as the "something sweet" to end many a meal. A grand nominee for a cookie dessert—or more properly perhaps, a simple cake dessert—is a butter-sweet milk pudding or custard, crunchy with pecans. These chewy cake-like squares are good in themselves. They are good, too, as a partner for a simple and not-too-sweet milk pudding or custard, or with a dish of tart applesauce, or chilled canned or fresh fruit.

Noteworthy in this recipe is the ease of preparation. The batter is mixed right in the same saucepan in which the butter is melted. After baking, the cake is left in the pan and cooled—and can be left in the pan and cut as needed. Between times, the pan should be covered tightly with aluminum foil of course. Or the squares should be tucked in the cookie jar.

BUTTERSCOTCH SQUARES
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Remove from heat, add milk, sugar, egg and salt and beat until well blended. Sift flour with bak-

RUTH MILLETT
Writes a wife:
"My husband recently made a poor business deal. It turned out exactly as I knew it would. But even though I told him ahead of time what a mistake he was making he went right ahead with it. How can a wife be a partner to a man who is too stubborn to ever listen to her?"

Could he have more business judgment than tact? No matter how smart a woman is she still has to use tact in selling her ideas to a man. Particularly if the man happens to be her husband.

It sounds as though you may have ripped his scheme to shreds, pointing out everything wrong with it in a way that made your husband feel that you thought you knew more than he did.

If you did, no wonder he went right ahead with his plans. That would just be a typical masculine reaction.

No man wants to admit that a woman might have better business sense than he has. You didn't expect him to say: "You're probably right, my dear. Your judgment is usually more sound than mine."

If you did, you know far more about business than about men. But it's too late to do anything about the situation now except this: Forget it!

Don't remind him of the way the deal turned out. And above all, don't say those provoking words, "I told you so."

And next time you want to sell your husband an idea use all the tact you can muster. In fact, be so tactful that by the time you've finished your selling job he thinks your idea was his idea.

A wife doesn't have to be a silent partner. But she has to be a tactful partner if she wants to put her own ideas across.

The cake baker who is always looking for more efficient ways to turn out her favorite delicacy can speed things up by putting the baked cake on a Lazy Susan for decorating and frosting it. It turns easier and the work is smoother.

A new cake frosting comes ready to be spread with the simple operation of squeezing a piffilm envelope. Made in several flavors, the package contains enough to ice an eight-inch, two-layer cake.

A manufacturer has designed a chest of drawers made of transparent plastic so that the family members can see what's on the bottom of the pile without pulling everything out of every drawer.

If a fruit pie begins to run over, catch the juice in your meat baster. Return the juice to the pie through the steam vent when its done. This keeps the pie from drying out.

To wash a vase in which flowers have been kept, make sure lots of hot soapsuds are used. Follow the sudsing with a hot rinse.

Oilers Overcome Gassers in Ninth To Triumph, 17-14

The Pampa Daily News, SPORTS

PAMPA NEWS, TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1953 Page 9

Sad Sam Wins 17th As Relief Pitcher

BORGER, July 14 (Special) — A gallant comeback combined with a superb relief performance by Sad Sam Williams gave the Pampa Oilers a 17-14 victory over the Borger Gassers in the opening game of a 2-game series here Monday night.

The Oilers came up with four runs in the ninth inning to erase a one-run Borger lead and then Williams, who hurled three-shutout innings, retired the side in order in the ninth.

For Sad Sam it was his 17th victory over the season as compared to four losses. Williams was the fourth Pampa pitcher to see action.

The Gassers also used four moundmen. Gus Rodriguez, the third Borger hurler, was charged with the loss.

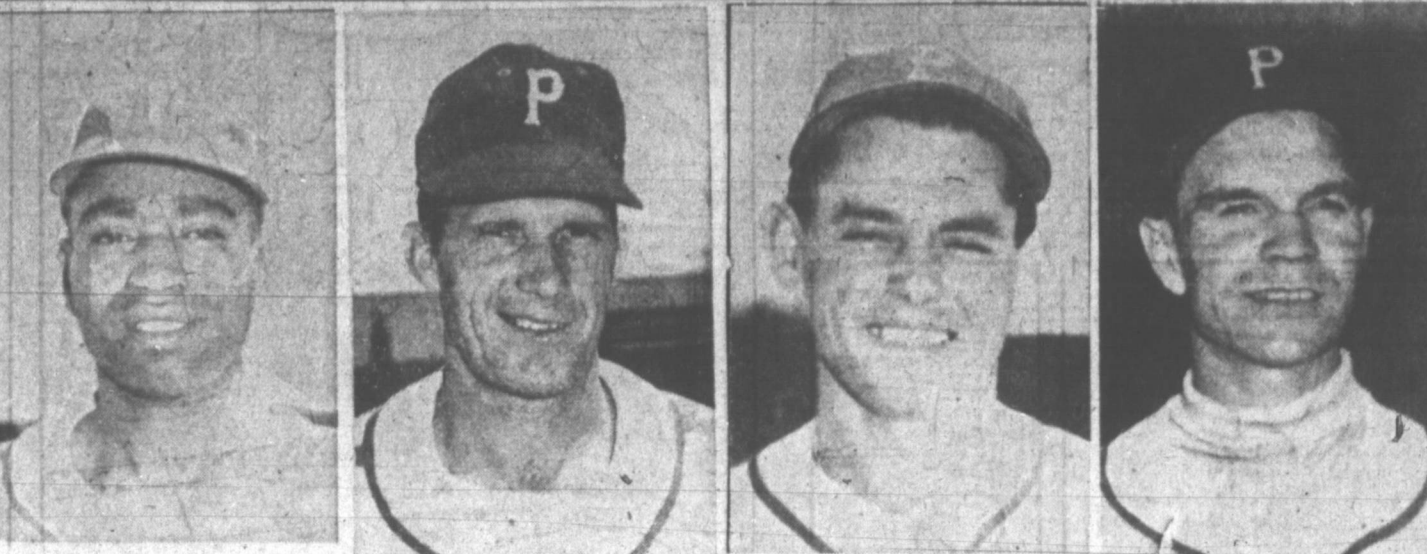

Many Tames drove in the tying and winning runs in the ninth when he singled with the bases loaded. The Oilers added two insurance runs before being retired.

The lead changed hands six times during the 2:50 minute battle and the Gassers seemed on the way to a sure victory when they built up a 14-10 lead through six innings of play. But the Oilers got going again in the seventh to score five times to pull within one run of the Borgerans and then after being held scoreless in the eighth, they came up with their 4-run rally in the ninth to ice the decision.

Doug Lewis led the Oilers' 19-hit attack with four hits that included a double, his 40th two-bagger of the season. Lewis and Tames each had four runs-batted-in to share the honors in the run-producing department.

Borger's Stan Becker hit for the cycle in his first four times up with a single, double, triple and home run — then struck out in his next two appearances in the 7-inning class.

It was an otherwise dreary game, and a disappointing one for

OILER ALL-STARS — Shown above are the four Pampa Oilers who have been named on the South All-Star team of the West Texas-New Mexico circuit. The team, selected by the team managers, sports writers and announcers of the league, has five Lubbock Hubbers, four Plainview Ponies and two Abilene Blue Sox in addition to the four Oilers. Named on the team from Pampa are, left to right, Sad Sam Williams, pitcher; Doug Lewis, first base; Manny Tames, second base; and Deck Woldt, centerfielder. Woldt is the only repeater from last year from the Oilers on the team. (News Photos)

Player Files Racial Suit In Cotton States

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., July 14 — UP — Cotton States League President Al Haraway refused comment Tuesday on a $50,000 racial discrimination suit brought by Negro pitcher Jim Tugerson against Haraway and the eight clubs in the league.

The suit was filed Monday by James W. Chestnut, a white lawyer, in U. S. District Court in Hot Springs. Tugerson alleges he was not allowed to play for the Hot Springs Bathers because he is a Negro.

The Bathers hired Tugerson and his brother, Leander, before the season started. They were farmed, however, to Knoxville of the Class D Mountain States League before the season opened.

When Jim Tugerson was recalled and named to pitch against Jackson, Miss., last May 23, Haraway ordered the game forfeited to Jackson. Tugerson was taking his pre-game warm-up pitches when the order came through and fans at the game were refunded their money.

When Hot Springs refused to release the two brothers, the Bathers were ousted from the league. They were reinstated on orders from minor league President George Trantman.

Haraway, in his forfeiture order, ruled there had been no Negro players in the 50-year history of the Class C league and he said it would break up the league if the Tugerson brothers were allowed to play.

"We have 20 days to answer the suit," Haraway said, "and I will have a statement within that time." He refused further comment.

Oilers Land Four Players On South All-Star Team

ABILENE, July 14 (Special) — The league leading Lubbock Hubbers placed five men on the West Texas-New Mexico circuit's South All-Star team which meets the North at Lubbock on the night of July 23.

Plainview and Pampa each placed four on the squad and Abilene got the other two spots.

The North team, which will be made up of players from Albuquerque, Clovis, Amarillo and Borger, is to be announced Wednesday.

Only unanimous choice of the South club was Don Stokes, heavy hitting Plainview outfielder.

The selections were: Sam Williams of Pampa, Bob Galey of Lubbock, Charles Garmon of Lubbock, and Mike Casella of Abilene pitchers; Jim Schindler of Lubbock and John Warren of Plainview, catchers; Doug Lewis of Pampa, first base; Joe Valdivieso of Lubbock, short stop; Freddy Kennedy of Plainview, utility infielder; Bobby Fernandez of Lubbock, left field; Deck Woldt of Pampa, center field; Don Stokes of Plainview, right field; Jim Calahan of Plainview, utility outfielder.

Voting on the all-star team were managers, sports writers and radio announcers from the four clubs.

League president Hal Sayles said the managers of the two teams will be selected by a vote of the players picked to participate in the game.

The managers are not eligible to compete in the game as a player.

Williams To Be All-Star Fan

CINCINNATI, July 14 — Ted Williams, a 407-hitter in nine All-Star games, was present at Crosley Field for Tuesday's 20th mid-season classic — but only as a spectator.

Recently returned from Korea where he flew 37 missions as a Marine pilot, was to occupy a guest-of-honor box seat as his one-time American League teammates faced the favored National League.

True the Oilers are in a terrific slump but it must be said "Lady Luck" hasn't been with the team lately, especially during the home stand that ended Sunday. Time and agains the opposing basemen got bad-hop hits that resulted in big rallies. Several even got bat-handle and half-swing hits which always hurt. Let's not get the idea we can't win weren't too happy over the situation.

Even Manager Pawelek isn't having any luck on his intentional walks or other bits of percentage baseball strategy. In two cases in one game against Plainview, Pawelek had the dangerous hitting Froxy Kennedy purposely passed twice to get to the weak-hitting Johnny Warren and Warren crossed him both times with a base hit.

Like one fellow told us the other night, when the percentages finally catch up with Pawelek, Porky is going to come out on top.

Lubbock manager Bill Metz got away with a much more dangerous move Saturday night than the one related above. He had Don Stokes intentionally walked to load the bases and get to Kennedy who had hit in 40 straight games and was batting around .400. Kennedy flew out to end the rally.

These strategy moves are going to start paying off for Porky and when they do, look for the Oilers to start climbing.

ALL OF THE ABOVE was written prior to last night's game and now the Oilers are back on the victory path after that uphill win over the Borger Gassers last night.

The games proved one thing — the Oilers' spirits aren't down so they give up before the final bell has sounded.

Trailing 14-8 after six innings would just about kill any team's spirits of catching up. But the Oilers were not to be denied and they rallied in the final three innings for the victory.

It was good that Sad Sam was able to notch his 17th win of the year. He had pitched a good game the night before but was handed the loss because of Abilene. His relief performance last night was one of the finest relief stunts seen in the WT-NM this season — allowing two hits and no runs in the last three innings to a team that had garnered 21 hits in the first six innings.

The Oilers are now back in the .500 bracket with a 40-40 won-lost record. We sincerely hope they don't ever fall below the .500 circle again.

As to who will try to keep the Oilers above this mark in tonight's game is anybody's guess. We'd guess Jake Henson will get another try at the Gassers. He hurled less than two innings last night and didn't have it. Maybe he'll have it tonight if he gets another chance.

In tonight's game at Borger a new Plymouth is being given away so if any of you Oilers fans need a new car, you might go over to Borger tonight and see about picking that car up.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS to the four Oilers named on the South All-Star team of the WT-NM. The all-star team may be found in a story elsewhere on this page.

How To Play Par Golf

Tenth of a series by JULIUS BOROS U.S. Open Champion

Some professionals advocate a forward pass — a slight movement forward at the start of the backswing to relax the muscles for the uncoupling.

That is purely the choice of the individual. If it is natural to do so, fine. If it doesn't feel natural, forget it.

As the club moves back, the body will turn naturally as the arms are extended.

The left knee will bend slightly as the weight starts to shift from left to right.

The wrists will start to cock or bend about half way in the backswing.

Don't make any deliberate effort to cock your wrists. That will come automatically. By the time you have reached the top of the backswing, the wrists will be fully cocked. The left shoulder is under the chin.

The head has remained in almost the same position as at the address.

At the top of the backswing, the right hip should be turned completely out of the way so the club can be swung all the way to the top without restriction by the body.

The hands should be under the shaft at this point, with firm control of the club.

The shaft should be parallel to the ground; the right elbow tucked in close to the body to insure an inside-out swing, the weight shifted to the right foot.

Don't attempt to learn everyone of these points now. If your swing is properly executed, these fundamentals will come — mechanically.

Only practice can tell you when you have reached the top of your swing.

NEXT: The downswing.

Lubbock Lead Dwindles To 1-Half Game

The Lubbock Hubbers' West Texas-New Mexico League lead thinned to one-half game Monday night, the combination of a Lubbock defeat by Amarillo and a win by second-place Albuquerque.

Amarillo's Bill Lubbock pitched a five-hitter as the Gold Sox whipped Lubbock 7 to 2. Albuquerque scored three runs in the eighth inning to tie its game with Abilene, 7-6.

In other games, Pampa outslugged Borger 17 to 14, scoring four runs in the ninth inning to come from behind, and Plainview trounced Clovis 15 to 2, handing Clovis pitcher Carroll (Bob) Dial one of his infrequent defeats.

Scores by innings:

Play Begins In Tri-State Golf

AMARILLO, July 14 — UP — A record-breaking field of more than 250 golfers was expected Tuesday for opening qualifying play in the 19th annual Tri-State Senior Golf tournament — open to players 50 years of age or older.

Frank Day, 55-year-old Plainview attorney, was on hand to defend his championship, but it looked like a wide-open scramble over the Amarillo County Club course.

Among the leading contenders were John Marston and Ray Allen, both of Dallas, George Hale of Albuquerque, N. M., Dr. H. C. Johnson of Altus, Okla., Ed Brady of San Benito, Tex., Roy Lester of Tulsa, Okla., and Al Warner of Wichita, Kan.

A record entry list of 231 was set last year, but 194 golfers had already registered Monday and the entry deadline was 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Colt Lead Whittled In Longhorn Chase

The San Angelo Colts' lead in the Longhorn League was cut to two games over second-place Artesia Monday night as Big Spring beat the Colts 5 to 4 while Artesia slammed Carlsbad 10 to 5.

In the third game, Midland overcame Odessa 11 to 10.

Although Big Spring is the last place team, Monday's win gave it seven wins against six losses against the first place Colts. The winning pitcher was Tommy Herrera.

In All-Star Tilt NL Due To Be Too Much For AL Today

By CARL LUNDQUIST

CINCINNATI, July 14 — UP — The greatest array of home run hitters since the heyday of Babe Ruth has favored to make it four victories in a row for the National League Tuesday in baseball's annual all-star classic.

Rugged Robin Roberts of the Phillies, who has 14 victories, more than any other hurler in the big leagues, was slated to be the starting pitcher for the Nationals, opposed by 10-game winner Billy Pierce of the White Sox for the American League.

The Nationals' "muscle brigade" was a 13 to 10 favorite in the game scheduled to start at 12:30 p. m. east at Crosley field under sunny skies.

They really picked me a lulu of a ball club.

That club has hit a total of 127 home runs so far this season.

It contains the top four home run sluggers in the majors today.

Third baseman Ed Matthews of Milwaukee with 27, first baseman Ted Kuszewski of Cincinnati with 25, and catcher Roy Campanella of Brooklyn and center fielder Gus Bell of Cincinnati with 22 each.

All this the Nationals have — and Stan Musial, too.

Musial might be the most formidable man in the lineup since he is a seasoned all-star performer and is moving up fast in the hitting ranks after one of the worst slumps of his career.

Manager Casey Stengel of the American Leaguers, still without a victory in three years at the helm, said he would wait until he gets to the park before deciding who will relieve starter Pierce after the first three innings, but he will have to be a right hander because Pierce was the only southpaw he picked.

Stengel made a strong case for the incomparable old Satchel Paige of the Browns, who has called "the greatest relief pitcher in baseball."

"I might finish up with him," he said.

Dressen said he would use either Warren Spahn of Milwaukee or Curt Simmons of the Phils, both left-handers, in relief of Roberts and that it probably would be Spahn because "I don't like to use up two pitchers from one team unless we have to win it and then, of course, I'd use everybody in sight."

Body Turn Natural In Backswing

At the top of the backswing, the right hip should be turned completely out of the way so the club can be swung all the way to the top without restriction by the body.

The hands should be under the shaft at this point, with firm control of the club.

The shaft should be parallel to the ground; the right elbow tucked in close to the body to insure an inside-out swing, the weight shifted to the right foot.

Don't attempt to learn everyone of these points now. If your swing is properly executed, these fundamentals will come — mechanically.

Only practice can tell you when you have reached the top of your swing.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD
By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: The knowledge that surgeons may have to amputate her leg — to keep a bone tumor from spreading — hasn't dimmed the shine in Susan Ball's eyes or shadowed her smile. "There are worse things than the amputation of a leg," the U-street starlet told me gravely. "Look at the hundreds of G.I.'s who get along with one leg. Sarah Bernhardt lost a leg and went on with her acting career. "I feel confident that my career as an actress will go on. I can still sing and paint and write. So I won't be able to do chesses or dance. I never had legs like Betty Grable's in the first place." Susan injured her knee six months ago during filming of a picture and unless heat treatments are successful doctors say amputation will be necessary.

Esperanza Wayne, who blames her bad press on John Wayne's press agents, is shopping for a publicity man who will present her to the public in a kinder light.

Milton Berle's 77-year-old mother, Sandra, broke a leg bone in an accident and Uncle Milton is worried about his favorite applause starter.

Remake Movie
Walt Disney's colorful "The Sword and the Rose" with Glynis Johns and Richard Todd, turns out to be a remake of Marion Davies' old silent hit, "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

It's on again with Maureen O'Hara and her mysterious Mexican adorer. The star, her daughter and brother are south of the border now with Senor Question Mark.

Muppet in Columbia's Judy Holiday starrer, "A Name for Herself," told Director George Cukor: "I've heard of you before, Mr. Cukor. Aren't you in television with Fran and Ollie?"

It's supposed to be a secret, but Marie Wilson's duds on "My Friend Irma" have been whipped up for the past season by RKO designer Michael Wolfe. His studio contract forbids a credit on the TV show, but Marie's shouting to the world: "He made me sexy, but not censorable on television."

Jeff Chandler and his wife, Marjorie, were being lovey-dovey in a movie theater, of all places, the night before the new flood of separation rumors broke. Both deny a rift.

"So Sorry"
The Zsa Zsa Gabor-George Sanders reconciliation is only for as long as Miss Double Z's "I feel so sorry for him" mood lasts. Nobody was more surprised than Zsa Zsa when Sanders met her on her arrival in Hollywood after weeks of play-girling it around Europe.

It's Marge and Gower Champion for sure as the stars of Jesse L. Lasky's million-dollar movie, "The Big Brass Band," an upcoming new musical with a high school and college background.

Very quietly, without any of the press catching on, John Agar's wife, Loretta, has been working as a fashion model to help pay the bills that mounted while he was on the county farm.

Fernando Lamas is getting a nitery act together for Las Vegas and points east after he finishes "Lost Treasure of the Amazon" for Pine-Thomas Artists. D a h l won't be in it — a switch from an earlier decision to co-star on night club floors, too. Hmmm!

Found Dead on Tracks
BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 13 —UP—Jose Francisco de la Garza, 27, San Benito, was found dead Sunday on the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, a mile and a half south of Lozano.

Levine's Observes 33rd Anniversary

Levine's Department Store, 101 S. Cuyler, Wednesday will join the 24 other stores of the three-state organization in celebrating the 33rd anniversary of the first Levine's store, founded in Wichita Falls by William and Morris Levine. Pampa's store will kick off its part in the celebration with an Anniversary Sale, slated to get underway at 9 a.m. Wednesday, according to Ben Brookner, local manager.

Founded in 1920, the Pampa store (fourth oldest in the group) "has always contributed to the community as a whole and intends to continue doing so in the future," Brookner said today, adding that the local outlet employs a total of 25 Pampans.

Echoing some of Levine's policies, the manager stated that "the main policy is that the customer be satisfied on purchase price re funded—whatever is good enough to sell is good enough to take back."
