Rev. Hershel L. Thurston, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Perryton, will do the preaching in the community revival at the McMillen schoolhouse. The meeting opens Sunday, Sept. 1, and continues through Sunday, Sept. 8. Services will be held each evening at eight o'clock. The people of

The riches of Ochiltree and other counties of the northern line of the Texas Panhandle were decades from development when the first serious effort at organized news-gathering was attempted. Buffalo roamed the prairies on which Perryton and other bustling communities were to be built. Tiny patches of grain were scratched into the landscape by the Indians. Billowing sections of golden wheat—one day to turn the area into one of the world's richest granaries—were undreamed of. Attorney General William B. Ochiltree of the Republic of Texas, for whom Ochiltree County was to be named, and fellow patriots had just put the affairs of the republic in shape for annexation. The United States and Mexico—destined to become good neighbors and allies in arms against world dictators—were at war. The population of the United States concentrated in the East was hungry for war news, hungry for news from the Texas country north of the Rio Grande. That news came in dribbles, uncertain reports that traveled via pony express, rickety railroad or by

Sugar Stamp 49 Good Next Month

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—OPA announced today that spare ration stamp 49 will be good for five pounds of sugar through Sept. 30, instead of expiring Aug. 31 as originally scheduled. The extension was granted, OPA said, because of local shortages which have prevented housewives in some areas from using the stamp. The agency said spare stamp 51 will be good for five pounds of sugar during the October-December quarter.

JUST HERE and THERE

Well folks, Perryton did it again! The 27th anniversary party was "bigger and better" than ever before. We believe that it was the biggest crowd ever in Perryton and what would it have been if the weather hadn't been threatening during both days of the big party?

A real old two-gun salute with one big whoopee to the Perryton Jaycees for their wonderful work in handling the celebration. As president of the senior Chamber of Commerce we want to express our heartfelt thanks to the Jaycees for the responsibility they accepted and carried on to successful execution.

We have always reproached ourselves for not being able to get the younger business men of Perryton interested in civic work. We knew that we older fuddies had failed . . . we knew that it was not the fault of the younger group. Now we realize See No. 4, Page 6

Voting Light In Run-off August 24

Voting was light in Ochiltree County in the run-off election Saturday, August 24. Approximately 400 qualified voters went to the courthouse to cast their vote; it was the only polling place open in the county for the balloting.

In the returns for the county Beauford Jester polled 298 votes for governor as compared to 106 votes cast for Dr. Homer P. Rainey. In the race for lieutenant governor, Boyce House had 213 votes and his opponent, Allan Shivers, 182; however, state returns reveal a victory for Shivers. J. E. McDonald, incumbent, led his opponent, R. E. McDonald with 223 votes as compared to 154 votes. Tom L. Beauchamp, incumbent, polled 180 votes for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals and Jesse Owens received 193 votes in the county.

There were no county or district offices contested in Saturday's election.

the sparse new telegraph lines. Real systematic newsgathering was yet to come, but the momentous Mexican war and the aggressiveness of James Gordon Bennett, publisher of the New York Herald, in reporting it played a vital part in its development.

A few years before—while Texas struggled for independence—was reaching its climax—Prof. Samuel F. B. Morse had successfully operated the first telegraph line between Washington and Baltimore. Another three years saw wires extended to New York and run westward to Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis along the line of the rapidly increasing westward migration.

Bennett with characteristic vigor, lost no time in taking advantage of this new means of communication to further increase the pace of his newsgathering activities, already famous in the newspaper world of the day. He hired "telegraph reporters" along the ever lengthening line of the telegraph. As soon as the situation with Mexico became serious, he established a courier system between New York and New Orleans, center of news coverage for activities along the Rio Grande. This began in 1845 and Bennett's express beat the United States mails by from one to four days. Soon after the war broke out in the spring of 1846 Bennett lengthened the express service with the aid of the Philadelphia Ledger and the Baltimore Sun. The telegraph line between Philadelphia and New York served to speed the news over its last few miles and saved many hours otherwise needed to bring the news by train-messenger.

Bennett was the first with the news of the fall of the City of Mexico in 1847 and he not only gave the news to the other papers but to the government at Washington as a matter of public service.

Not long after that David Hale, publisher of the New York Journal of Commerce, proposed to Bennett that The Herald and the Journal of Commerce join forces in the collection of their news. Bennett agreed.

The following year Hale made the proposal that four other New York City newspapers join The Journal of Commerce and The Herald in the formation of The Associated Press.

Bennett's aggressive tactics in pursuit of telegraphed news forced the other New York papers to follow suit or be left in the lurch. It was not long before the scant telegraph lines were jammed with an overload of copy. Costs for each paper soared. Newspaper editors found each paper was paying six or seven times the amount necessary to get the telegraphed story into New York because each paper was paying full rates for each item. Since many of the items were virtually the same, there was considerable waste of money. A practical solution was necessary if these newspapers were to continue in business. Hale proposed the formation of The Associated Press in 1848 to carry out this aim. His plan was accepted and he was named first president.

The young association represented the first noteworthy attempt to systematic gathering of news for newspapers, and newspaper owners throughout the United States turned to this privately owned enterprise as a means of getting their news.

As the list of subscribers increased they gathered together in loosely formed geographical groups to make business dealings with the New York Associated Press and to collect and transmit news to papers within each group. Among these were the Southern Associated Press, the Western Associated Press and the New York State Associated Press.

The Civil War came and before it ended—disturbing developments were taking place on the newsgathering front that were to change the whole basis of systematic newsgathering in the nation.

While the Civil War was still being fought, members of the Western Associated Press began a struggle for equality with the New York organization, a struggle for an equal voice in the management of the newsgathering work and an equal share in the expense. This struggle went on for many years until an impossible stage was reached in 1892. The New York organization, privately owned, threatened to have complete control of all news gathering and to be in a position to force all papers to pay heavy tribute for their news service.

The Western Associated Press led a revolt. It sought and obtained the support of the Southern Associated Press, the New York State Associated Press and kindred groups. Together they formed the modern Associated Press under the laws of the State of Illinois. The plan was for each paper to pay a fair share of the total cost of collecting and distributing the news and for each paper to have a voice in the management of the organization's affairs.

The first president was Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, and the first general manager, Melville E. Stone, Lawson's partner. They laid down the rule that the association's news should be written upon verified facts without bias or partisan color. This has become the accepted principle for news writing by all American newspapers.

In 1900 The Associated Press re-incorporated under New York law which better protected the non-profit, cooperative plan on which it was based. One of the incorporators was the late Col. A. H. Belo of Dallas. In that year the organization had 612 newspapers on its membership list and approximately 30,000 miles of telegraph wires were under lease for the distribution of news.

By 1920, after the close of the World War the association pointed to a membership roll of 1,181 and to a total of 65,000 miles of leased wires for news dissemination. In that decade the automatic high speed teletype printers began to supplant the older Morse Telegraph circuits in most cities, increasing the ever-quickenening pace of news distribution.

The Associated Press continued its growth until now, operating on a budget of more than $1,000,000 monthly, it serves more than 2,500 newspapers and radio stations the world over.

The first AP dispatch to a Texas newspaper trickled in over a tottering telegraph wire shortly before the turn of the century. This abbreviated service continued for more than a decade. In 1910 the first Texas bureau was established in Dallas, and the association's Texas system rapidly expanded to the State's four boundaries.

The Ochiltree County Herald joins 80 other Texas newspapers in maintaining the most extensive state service in the association. Bureaus are maintained in Dallas and Austin. The personnel is made up of experienced reporters and editors, some drawn from member newspapers.

In addition to the news supplied by the Texas membership and gathered by staff reporters, about 300 correspondents have been appointed to file by telegraph and telephone news from all of the small communities.

One of the officers of The Associated Press is Houston Harte, publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times. A former director, he is now vice president.

Thousands of newspaper reporters the world over work for the Ochiltree County Herald because the Herald is a member of The Associated Press.

Through its association an impartial and accurate account of world happenings, in words and pictures, is brought to readers in the Perryton area by the Ochiltree County Herald.

In the United States, in Europe, in South America—wherever news breaks—there are reporters for The Associated Press who will start the news on its way to the readers of the Ochiltree County Herald.

Through its membership in The Associated Press The Ochiltree County Herald is able to "cover" state, national and international news of general interest or importance in a manner similar to that in which it "covers" the news of its immediate territory.

Bureaus are maintained in the great news centers across the nation. Besides the AP's own staff of hundreds of trained newspapermen and women, there are the staffs of member newspapers also contributing to the great task of reporting the news of the day because each member paper as part of its membership privilege provides the news of its area to the association.

Main trunk wires radiate the United States, touching the larger cities. From bureau points in each state, other news wires connect the smaller cities. Through this system by which news is transmitted is miraculous.

In recent years the development of photography and the perfection of methods by which pictures could be printed made newspaper readers and editors alike picture-conscious.

When Kent Cooper became general manager of the AP in 1925 he saw that pictures had become as much a matter of routine as written words in the field of news. The Associated Press quickly set up a photo service to collect and distribute news pictures just as the organization had been collecting and distributing news stories. As pictures became more popular newspaper readers wanted to see pictures of news events at the same time they read the written accounts. Telegraphic speed of news transmission made this impossible, however, and The Associated Press sought means to speed delivery of pictures, to make it possible to publish pictures along with the news.

The problem was solved in 1935 when The Associated Press began operation of its Wirephoto network and became the first news organization to send pictures by wire parallel with the news. Transmitting equipment was placed in two dozen newspaper offices located strategically across the country. Others received news pictures by train or plane from the nearest Wirephoto station. The system operated so successfully that in less than five years more than 100 newspapers adopted it as a means of presenting pictures with the news, the most modern of newspaper services.

As a further function The Associated Press supplies its members with a complete feature service comprising news photo, news feature stories with illustrations, comic strips and news cartoons.

Robert McLean, publisher of the Philadelphia Bulletin, is president of The Associated Press. He succeeded Frank B. Noyes, publisher of the Washington Star, who retired a few years ago after serving 38 years as head of the association.

The general headquarters of The AP are located in The Associated Press Building, Rockefeller Center, New York City—the most modern press association plant in the world.

The news rooms of the New York office and other bureaus operate 24 hours a day, pouring a volume of more than 250,000 words daily into newspaper offices from coast to coast—items of state, national and international importance, politics, sport news, human interest bits of universal appeal, a daily cross-section of world's activities.

Miss Selma Payne, Oklahoma City, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buhner, Johnson, Kans. were visitors during the celebration in the homes of their sisters, Miss Hallie Payne and Mrs. Cleo Tuley, and their brother, Morris M. Payne. Over the week-end Miss Selma Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Buhner and Morris Payne were in Raton, N. Mex. J. W. Payne joined them there Saturday to attend the races.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris M. Payne and Martha Ziegenbein left Tuesday for Hooper, Nebraska, to make their home. Mr. Payne's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buhner of Johnson, Kans. took their truck to help with the move.

J. C. Jones and Keith Bray were Amarillo visitors from Sunday until Tuesday.

Mrs. Jack Woodward, Judy and Tommy are spending this week in Amarillo with Mrs. Woodward's mother.

Jaycees Request Presentation of Celebration Bills

Jerome Woods, general chairman of the Perryton, Aug. 21-22 celebration, requests that all parties holding charges against the Perryton Junior Chamber of Commerce for services or materials for the celebration to present same at once to Treasurer Dean McCutcheon for payment. The Jaycees desire to close all celebration expense accounts promptly.

Many Visitors at Free Barbecue

An estimated 5,000 celebration visitors were on hand Thursday, August 22 at noon for the free barbecue staged in observance of Perryton's 27th birthday. Jack Woodward, chairman of the barbecue committee, states that 15 beavers were donated by local people.

Other members on the committee who planned and staged the barbecue were Lloyd Phillips, G. R. Weis, Nelson Smith, Bill Wilson, Shorty McClung and O. C. Watson. Members of the Lion's and Rotary Clubs assisted with the serving, and Bill Wilson and the Ochiltree county road maintenance crew prepared the grounds in the county park where the feed was spread.

Donating beavers or parts of beavers were Phillip Carroll, Ray Batman, John Luthi, Charley Kent, Fred Turner, Roy Hoghland, W. C. Herndon, Carl Ellis, Parnell Bros., Ideal Food Store, V. W. and John Richardson, Perryton Roping Club.

LET

PROPANE OR BUTANE

Do the 4 Big Jobs

Taken From Circular of The National Bureau of Standards C420

COOKING

The U. S. Government points the way to economical cooking on the farm. Read the facts from the Bureau of Standards book. There is no guesswork!

You can do as much cooking with 5 cylinders of bottled gas (costing $25.00 or $30.00) — or with 110 gallons of tank gas (costing $8.00 or $10.00) as you can with 1,680 KWH of electricity required for one year's cooking (and costing over $50.00) according to the U. S. Government's own REA rate card.

Not only is gas cooking economical, it has other advantages that make it the desired range in 16 million city homes where both gas and electricity have been available for years.

FAST. You get full heat INSTANTLY on a gas range. No waiting for elements to heat. No loss of efficiency as elements wear out.

NO WEAR. Modern gas burners are guaranteed the life of the range. No replacing expensive electric elements ($30 to $35 per set) which wear out every 3 or 4 years — just as the tubes in your radio do!

BETTER COOKING. The fresh-air ovens of the modern gas range prevent "soggy" cakes and pastries.

Modern gas ranges have separate broilers. You can broil and bake at the same time.

DEPENDABLE. You are not dependent on high-line service that can be interrupted by storms or floods. You have your gas supply in your own back yard — not at a central plant miles away!

REFRIGERATION

Automatic refrigeration is probably the greatest boon to the rural home, farm, ranch or small town for certainly the problem of food preservation and the saving on quantity buying of perishable food stuffs at bargain prices are equally important to every householder, regardless of where he might live.

There are only two kinds of refrigerators — electric refrigerators that have moving parts to wear out, grow noisy and gradually increase the operating cost; and the gas refrigerator that has no moving parts.

Only the gas refrigerator has a freezing system without a single moving part to ever wear out! Think what that means in future repair bills and uninterrupted service — because you don't have a service man "just around the corner" as city folks do. Your gas refrigerator won't depend upon electricity from high-lines that can be blown down by storms! The gas refrigerator is thoroughly tested and approved by Underwriters Laboratories.

The REA rate card gives the operating cost of an electric refrigerator as 45 KWH per month — a total of 540 KWH yearly — but a gas refrigerator (5 or 6 cubic foot) operates for only 110 to 145 gallons of tank gas a year!

Thousands of city folks are trading their worn-out electric refrigerators for gas-operated ones. Ask your local dealer for a list of such people and talk with them. They will give you the answer to economical refrigeration! Many will tell you:

"It's more economical to BUY a gas refrigerator than to have any other refrigerator given to you."

You don't have to guess about economical refrigeration — ask the man who has owned BOTH kinds!

WATER HEATING

The U. S. Bureau of Standards has taken all the guesswork out of the economical way to water heating on the farm.

Their figures clearly show that tank gas could sell for 60c to 70c a gallon (20 times the 3c or 3½c electric rate) and still heat water as cheaply as with electricity. But tank gas sells for only 8c or 10c a gallon — and bottled gas sells for only 20c or 30c a gallon!

Thus, you save from 55% to 85% by using gas instead of electricity.

GAS IS 5 TIMES FASTER!

In addition, modern gas water heaters will heat a given amount of water exactly 5 or 6 times as fast as the modern electric water heater. That means you can get a smaller, less expensive gas water heater and still have city-hotel hot water service at all hours of the day or night. No interruptions from high-line breakdowns . . . gas is the dependable fuel. Modern gas water heaters are fully insulated to minimize heat loss. They have a thermostat that holds the water at any temperature you desire. They are completely automatic and have 100% safety shut-off valves on the pilot light.

CITY HOTEL WATER SERVICE

You have wanted hot water service all your life. Now gas brings it to you — cheaply, too!

House and Brooder HEATING

House heating in rural homes, farms, ranches and small towns has always been one of the biggest chores, like a ball and chain on the neck of one or more of the family — hauling and chopping wood, or carrying coal, building fires, tending fires, for if you forget them for only a little while the house gets cold and you must start all over again — carrying out ashes, sweeping, wiping and dusting endlessly. But NOW with butane fuel you can have house heating in the rural home; clean, comfortable, convenient, healthful and economically without any attention or work, except to strike a match and turn a gas valve, for house heating is the biggest of the "4 Big Jobs" that gas does best.

GAS Floor Furnaces provide an even temperature throughout the rooms which they heat, a heat that does not sweat the windows, mold draperies and carpets or loosen wall paper. Floor furnace heat adds nothing to the air in the room, and takes nothing away. It keeps the floors warm for the protection of little babies. Gas heat gives you even temperature 24 hours a day that protects the health of the entire family.

BROODER HEATING

You can install a gas conversion burner in your present brooder for $15.00. Burns a clear, blue, odorless, hot flame. A thermostat keeps the heat at any desired temperature, regardless of outside weather. Uses only 2 or 3 gallons of fuel per hundred chicks raised.

Here Is How You Can Save $133 Yearly

Because a gallon of Butane or propane contains 100,000 heat units it is a lot cheaper to use than electricity which contains only 3,415 heat units per kilowatt-hour. No figures are given on house heating since the cost of heating with electricity is out of the question, but heating your house with tank gas is clean, odorless and cheap. You use only 25 to 75 gallons monthly, depending on weather — a lot cheaper than other fuels. In each case, the electric usage figures supplied by REA and the gas figures for corresponding amount of use have been taken.

Miss Ruth Osborne Is Bride of Melvin Coffey of Sudan at Lubbock, August 18

In a simple ceremony at St. John's Methodist church, Lubbock, Texas, on Sunday 18, Miss Ruth Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Osborne of Perryton, became the bride of Melvin Coffey son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Coffey of Sudan, Texas.

Rev. C. E. Pike, retired minister and former pastor of the Perryton Methodist church, officiated for the double ring ceremony read at three o'clock in the afternoon.

Baskets of gladioli of pastel hue and arrangements of fern were at the altar. Groups of tiered cathedral tapers completed the chancel setting for the exchange of vows.

Nuptial music was by Mrs. Carl Rogers, organist, and her son, Bob Rogers, organist, both of Lubbock. Included in the organ prelude before the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner announced the arrival of the wedding party was "I Love You Truly" by Mrs. Rogers sang "Because" and at the close of the ceremony "Prayer Perfect." The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her two piece rayon satin broadened ensemble of street length. She wore a shoulder length white veil; her "something old" was a diamond set pin which was presented her mother by her paternal grandmother in years past, and for "something borrowed" she wore a strand of pearls belonging to Miss Edna Phelan, Lubbock. She carried a white Bishop-topped with a floral arrangement of gardenias and white split carnations while white streamers showered downward.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Dorothy Osborne. She was attired in a dress of autumn hue, and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations.

Jack Osborne was best man; Marion Osborne served as usher and lit the tapers preceding the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Osborne (those an aqua fall print crepe dress and her sash) was of peach gladness.

A reception for the couple was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. G. C. Cooper, 1617 10th St., Lubbock. The floral decorations included gladioli and other seasonal flowers placed at vantage points throughout the entertaining rooms.

The lace covered table held the traditional wedding cake; there was an arrangement of candelabra on the buffet, Miss Christine Pillingim of Plains, Texas and Miss Geraldine Ramsey of Clarendon were at the punch bowl.

Miss Billie Lee Griffin, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. Among those registering from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson, Hale Center; Miss Jean Price, Lamesa; Miss Pillingim of Plains and Miss Ramsey of Clarendon.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Burk Burnett, Ft. Worth, and other Texas points the bride was wearing a dress of gold chambray with contrasting trim of checked taffeta. Her corsage was gardenias.

Mrs. Coffey graduated from Perryton high school with the class of 1942, and attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock. At present she is employed by the College Extension Service.

Mr. Coffey has recently received his discharge after serving four years with the medical corps; his previous service was in England. He is now acting as manager of the electrical appliance and hardware department of Ward's Lubbock.

The couple are at home at 2221 14th St., Lubbock, Texas.

For the first time since the beginning of World War II all departments will be functioning with complete teaching staffs.

The date for the first homecom- ing since before the war has been set for October 12.

New courses, including vocational subjects, have been added to the curriculum. A normal extracur- ricular program has been planned with the resumption of sports and club activities.

The fall schedule will include a complete academic program lead- ing to bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degrees in the fields of agriculture, home economics, in- dustrial arts, commerce, education and arts and science. Bachelor of fine arts degrees will also be given.

Courses will be offered to satisfy requirements for teaching certi- ficates. Courses in religious education are a feature of the curriculum. New courses added include refrig- eration, sheet metal work, air con- ditioning and upholstery.

Teaching staffs and classroom facilities are more than ample for the student body that can be housed. Housing units will be available to families of veterans.

All major sports will be resumed, with full programs in football, bas- ketball, baseball, track and tennis. Campus clubs, inactive or limited by the war, will be reorganized and are expected to resume their pre-war activities.

BAUMANN'S 15th Anniversary in Cleaning Business

Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Baumann are observing the 15th anniversary of the Baumann Cleaners this week. It has been 15 years since Lester and Violet entered the cleaning business in Perryton with the purchase of a small cleaning shop located in a rented frame structure.

Year by year has seen improve- ments added until the Baumann Cleaners is known as one of the most modern cleaning establish- ments in the entire Panhandle. They are now housed in their own fireproof building located on South Main.

The Baumanns have kept abreast of the times by adding new equip- ment for better cleaning and press- ing. They operate a "call for and deliver" service, having recently purchased a new panel delivery truck.

Assisting Lester and Violet in the operation of the plant are the fol- lowing experienced operators: Hel- en Koehn, Roy McCartney, Lou Rae Jennings, Dick Gagliotti, Jack Herndon and Addie Galey.

BEWARE OF

Octopus Outlets

—a sign of INADEQUATE WIRING

Look around your home right now. Do you have any of these "octopus out- lets" in use? If you have, it's a sign that your home wiring is out of date... too small for its job.

Don't blame your appliances if they fail to give you the service you expect. When too many appliances and lamps are plugged into a single outlet, lights go dim, heating appliances come up to temperature slowly and fuses sometimes blow, because the average house- hold wiring circuit simply can't carry enough electricity for all.

Eliminate the "octopus outlet" bottle- necks from your home by installing adequate wiring now. Put in addition- al circuits... larger wire... and more outlets... so that you'll always have full-strength current and plenty of plug-in space for all of your lights and appliances.

What adequate wiring means

Adequate wiring simply means a service entrance large enough to bring in as much electricity as your home may need at any time... enough branch circuits of large enough wire to conduct a full measure of electrical energy to all of your lights and appliances... and plenty of outlets and switches, conveniently located. Before you build, buy or remodel, discuss adequate wiring thoroughly with your electrical contractor. It's the key to better electrical living.

Showers and Near Cloudbursts Over The Perryton Area

Main varying from fractions of an inch to near cloudburst proportions have been falling over the Perryton area for the past week. The ever threatening clouds and sprinkles during Perryton's celebration on Aug. 21-22 turned into real rain at the end of the festivities.

Precipitation Aug. 23 was 1.9 in. The rainfall to the southwest on the head of Wolf Creek was a torrential downpour Tuesday, putting Wolf Creek out of its banks.

Wednesday was cloudy with misty weather and the same condition exists in Perryton Thursday morning.

Linda Kay New Arrival Werner Lehman Home

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Lehman, Amherst, Colo., announce the birth of a daughter, Linda Kay, born Tuesday morning, August 20, at Holyoke, Colo.

The following notation was at the bottom of the announcement: "Would like to have been there for the Perryton Celebration, but is impossible. Better luck next year. Best regards to all. (signed) Werner and Elda."

L. L. Lance and son, Wilfred Lance, were business visitors in Amarillo, Wednesday.

that we of the older group did not turn the younger men loose, we wanted them to do the work and we still wanted to run the show. So now, we kick ourselves in the rear and say that at last we've seen the light.

The Jaycees have established themselves, through the great success of this celebration, as a vital and important force in the civic life of the Perryton community. They have the know-how and the spirit and vigor to carry through.

Alton Boxwell, president of the Jaycees, asks us to express special appreciation to the following for their splendid aid and cooperation during the celebration: Bill Wilson, Judge Dave Shanks and the Commissioners' Court, Sheriff Lance and his official family, to those ranchers and farmers who donated beets for the barbecue, Rotary and Lions for serving the barbecue, the Texas Co. for their public address system, Glenn McGibbon for the free Phillips "66" gasoline to visiting airmen, Harold Gibson and his Chuck Wagon Gang, Roy Read of Liberal for supervising the barbecue, Pampa school for loan of temporary bleachers, and the wholehearted cooperation of those many citizens of the Perryton area who assisted during the celebration.

Youngsters on saddle horses are pretty cute as long as they ride where they're supposed to, but they can also get to be pretty much of a blasted nuisance. If you want to find out how high some of you young horsemen rank with some people, then check up with some of the owners of freshly watered lawns that have been ruined and marked by horses' hoofs during the summer months. Thoughtless youths can destroy a whole summer's work by riding their horses on water soaked lawns. We've had numerous reports as to such damages. Saddle horses are all right in the streets and alleys but they have no part on lawns, be they water soaked or not.

It has come to our attention that some salesmen selling newspaper advertising services to Perryton merchants leave the impression that they are working with the Herald. Such is not the case. We wish to state here and now that any time we send out a strange representative in any advertising or selling capacity that we will have a regular Herald employee to introduce them. If in doubt just call us and we will give you the correct dope.

Much credit is due to the superintendent and the board of education: Aldon Bell, president; Virgil Castle, Harlan A. Hawk, George Dietrich, L. D. Stinson, Emil Hearn and Stanley D. SUNDAY LESSON

Knowing Right Way To Use Property One Key to Peace

The International Sunday School
Lesson for September 1
Scripture: Exodus 20:15; Proverbs 30:7-9; Matthew 6:25-33

NO issue is more vital today than that concerning the proper use of property. It underlies many disputes and contentions between individuals, it is at the bottom of most phases of the conflict between capital and labor, and it has been one of the major causes of war between nations.

The prospect for both industrial peace and international peace depends, in the final analysis, upon the apprehension of the right use of property.

We are a long way from that apprehension at present, though we have made more progress toward it than the world's current strife would seem to indicate.

Not so long ago, the dominant feeling about property was, "It's mine, and I shall do what I please with it." That feeling no longer prevails. Apart from any consideration of the rising tax-rate, the acquisition and use of wealth are subject to social challenges as never before.

We have still a long way to go,
however. The commandment
"Thou shalt not steal" must become socialized.

But the teaching of Jesus concerning the right use of property goes beyond fundamental honesty. It relates one's possessions to character, ideals.

There is a progression in the three passages associated with today's lesson. Exodus 20:15 is on the basic plane; one must not take what doesn't belong to him.
In Proverbs 30:7-9 one discovers that the selfish use of possessions is self-injuring, and that there is a corrupting danger in possessing more wealth than one needs.

But the Master's words, in Matthew 6:25-33, go beyond this pointing to the higher and better riches of the Kingdom of God.

The world is indeed a long way from the true Christian concept of property's value and proper use. But many individuals have discovered that in that concept is the true secret of happiness and satisfaction.

Christian Science

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 1.

The Golden Text is: "The Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son;
that all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father (John 5:22, 23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world" (1 John 4:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If we wish to follow Christ, Truth, it must be in the way of God's appointing, Jesus said, 'He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also' " (page 326).

Washington Letter

By EUGENE WORLEY
Congressman, 18th District

We left for Guam shortly after our return to Kwajalein—a distance of nearly 1600 miles. Nothing of consequence happened on that trip except that our No. 1 engine developed carburetor trouble when we were halfway to Guam and had to be "feathered" which is flight practice for stopping the engine and turning the propeller thru-side into the wind to prevent drag. The loss of one engine reduced our speed from about 185 miles an hour to about 160. In addition, we had the misfortune to hit some rather strong headwinds but arrived in Guam without further mishap. The island of Guam itself is about 30 miles long with an average width of 8 to 10 miles and is one of the most strategic bases we have in the Pacific. While our plans called for a day there inspecting our military and naval set-up it took an additional night and part of another day to repair the engine.

The Guam natives were very friendly to us during the war and still are. Nearly all of them opposed the Japanese occupation every way they could from guerrilla warfare to sabotage and welcomed the returning American forces with everything they had.

Leaving Guam about dark of the next night, we headed for Nichols Field at Manila. This is also a 1600 mile flight with an estimated time of arrival between 8 and 9 hours. By now, we had gotten used to sleeping on the seats or on the floor or standing up or any other position. No further engine trouble developed but when we left Manila we encountered another rainstorm over the field which was ten times worse than the Kwajalein shower. As a matter of fact, we stayed in the air for an hour and 53 minutes before we were told to land. When we did land, it was in about six inches of water which covered the field. I must add that the pilot who made that landing was Colonel Frank Korta who had been in Manila when the Japs were on the move and who was at that time flying one of the few B-17s we had left. You might recall the book, "Queers Don't Proudly," which is one of the best and most accurate stories written of the early day warfare in the Pacific. Korta was one of the principals in that story.

As you will recall, the United States acquired sovereignty over the Philippines as a result of the Treaty of Peace with Spain, Dec. 10, 1898, and obtained such sovereignty and exercised jurisdiction and control over said Islands and people for 48 years. In March of 1934, the Philippines Independence Act was approved by Congress by which we should relinquish sovereignty except for the retention of certain naval and military bases which were deemed necessary to our future protection.

It was July 2 at Manila with the independence. Day celebrated and scheduled for the same day as our two Independence Day July 4. I spoke at the downtown, we were met by Commissioner Paul McNair, who has spent many years in the Islands. Driving through the darkness into downtown Manila, we could see the shambles left of buildings by the Japanese when our forces returned. As you will recall MacArthur had declared Manila a open city when our forces retired to Batuan and Corregidor but the Japanese had elected to fight it out in the return engagement. Consequently, most of Manila was built shot up. In the Manila hotel, for example, our forces had to eliminate the Japs from floor to floor and room to room with the result that bullet holes are still heavily scattered all over the place and one wing virtually demolished. A good part of downtown Manila is in similar state although little or no damage seems to have been done to the residential sections outside the actual city limits. The port facilities are in pretty bad shape and ship were lying at anchor in the harbor waiting to be unloaded but with few docks to handle them.

Self-Employment

Approximately 360,000 veterans have received more than $118,000,000 in readjustment allowances for self-employment under provisions of the G.I. bill as of the end of the fiscal year June 30, the Veterans administration has announced.

These self-employed veterans were engaged in farming, independent businesses or in trades or professions. The vast majority of such veterans are engaged in agricultural activities and the remaining enterprises vary from operation of a shoe repair establishment to the practice of medicine or law.

These allowances are available to veterans engaged in full-time self-employment for profit, and if their net earnings for a given month are less than $100, they are paid the difference between the net earnings and $100. The period for which a veteran is entitled to allowances depends upon his length of service in the armed forces, the maximum being 10% months if the veteran has over 9 1/2 months of service to his credit.

Questions and Answers

Q. My son has been in the army almost 4 years, spending 31 months overseas. He came back to the states in February, 1946, suffering from a bad mental condition. He is now in jail charged with burglary. Military authorities won't act on the civil laws. He has employed a lawyer and asked for a doctor to check him over. He pled guilty at the preliminary hearing. He has enlisted back in the army for three more years. His bond is $750, but he is unable to furnish bond and must remain in jail until superior court meets in August. He is my sole support. My father is 113 years old. I am 36 and in poor health unable to work. He made an allotment for support. Will it stop while he is in prison? Where can I apply for help for my son? — H. N., Columbus, Ga.

A. I am afraid I cannot give you much help. Your son's attorney should know what is best for him to do. The army says that while a serviceman is in the hands of the civil authorities he is considered away without leave. After three months all allowances are cancelled. Should he be convicted, he will be discharged from the army.

Q. I was in the army 19 months and want to get some information about my discharge, since it is a Section 8. How can I go about getting the $30 a week as I have been out of employment most of the time and the discharge keeps me from getting any decent jobs? — J. F. W., Harrisburg, Mo.

A. Section 8 of the basic army regulations covers a multitude of sins, and discharged under that section is neither honorable nor dishonorable. If you received a "blue" discharge would suggest that you write to the office of the adjutant general, war department, Washington 25, D. C., and ask for a review of your discharge. Or you may apply to the nearest office of the Veterans administration and explain to them under what conditions you were discharged and they might waive the discharge since it was made at the convenience of the government.

Q. I am a World War II veteran discharged with service-connected disability and am drawing 100 per cent compensation. I am receiving medical care from my local doctor. Are my wife and daughter also entitled to medical care? — C. K. B., Arab, Ala.

A. No.

Q. How may one go about getting alimony from a veteran who is on retirement pay when she is not sure of his whereabouts? Must she have an attorney and take it to court or can it be settled out of court? — Mrs. L. P., Chattanooga, Tenn.

A. This man is a civilian, out of the army, if he is a veteran and this is a legal case, so advise you consult an attorney.

Q. I was a widow of a Spanish war veteran and I remarried. Could I receive my pension back again if I were to divorce the man I am married to? — R. P., East Peoria, Ill.

A. No. The law says that the pension right of a widow is terminated upon her remarriage and such right may not be revived.

Q. My son, a captain, was killed in action. He was a fighter pilot and was our main support and alotted part of his pay to us. I want to inquire if we would be eligible for a pension? — M. K., Wheatland, Wyo.

A. Both you and your husband are surely entitled to a pension if you were dependent upon your son. Suggest that you apply immediately to the Veterans administration sub-regional office at 1720 Carey avenue, Cheyenne, Wyo., and am sure that you would be entitled to $25 each per month.

American Doctors Lecture in Poland

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 26—(AP)—Spearheaded by Dr. Ludwick Angstein, tall broad-shouldered, sturdy "adopted son of Texas," nine top-flight professors of specialized medicine in American universities are on a lecture tour in Poland, bringing polish doctors up-to-date on the cardinal things they missed during nearly six years of war and a long Nazi occupation.

Dr. Angstein, 55, a native of Warsaw and a specialist on communicable diseases, loaned by the University of Texas to UNRRA, said in an interview that "Polish doctors are as hungry for information on advances in medical science the last six years as many people are hungry for food."

Angstein, whose home is at 1011 Nineteenth Street, Galveston, Tex., was the first of the nine physicians to arrive in Warsaw. He emphasized that himself and the other professors of medicine, in lectures to Polish physicians, were concentrating particularly upon practical phases applicable to conditions in Poland and ways and means of preventing or fighting disease.

While Polish health sources estimate that the number of venereal diseases in Poland may be as high as 2,000,000 cases, Dr. Angstein said there recently had been a marked increase in typhoid fever and malaria. Polish health officials have reported as much as 300 to 400 new cases of typhoid weekly, while in Lacedon (Bettin) alone the visiting doctors found 2,000 cases of malaria. It was emphasized that faulty reporting services on disease made difficult any accurate estimate.

Angstein expressed himself as deeply impressed by the "misery and ruins" of Warsaw and said "if more Americans could come abroad and see the other side of the picture, they'd fall in love all over again with their own country."

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bohn Wednesday and Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Drum, Keith Drum and "K." all of Beaver, Okla.

Miss Dorothy Woods and Vera Rogers of Amarillo visited last week in the home of Miss Wood's mother, Mrs. Frank Moon.

Mrs. Ed Merriman and daughters, Mrs. Keith Bohn, two sons and Frank Bohn, Perryton, Okla., have been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Bohn and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bohn, men, Okla., left Sunday to visit their home after spending the week with her parents, Mrs. L. K. Bohn and other relatives here.

What It Means

INFLATION IS SOMETHING that the professors and the bankers talk about—but what does it mean to the average man? The government constantly borrows money to pay its bills for you to pay later. This abundance of money, in combination with shortages of goods, creates the real danger of inflation. THIS FINANCING by deficits creates money, credit, and purchasing power without creating the goods which alone can validate that money. The resulting inflation is not only something to talk about in billions of dollars owed by the nation, it is also something to talk about in billions of dollars owed by the people who pay for the nation's government. THE PEOPLE CAN'T pass the debt along. They are the end of the line.

On Freedom

OUR EDIFICE OF LIBERTY is supported by a tripod of representative constitutional government, civil and religious freedom, and the right of every individual to as much as he could earn by honest toil and effort — through private competitive business. DESTROY ANY LEG of this tripod and you destroy personal freedom. If there is anything the history of man's struggle for liberty proves, it is that to enjoy the blessings of political, intellectual and religious liberty he must assume a very large portion of the responsibility for his own economic well-being. IF HE PLACES the burden on the shoulders of government, he will soon find that he has reared a political monster whose appetite for control is literally insatiable and which sooner or later will devour all his freedom in the process of expanding its power.

BABSON DISCUSSES WHEN TO BUY

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

Gloucester, Mass., August 23—Many businesses are still feeling the effects of the strikes in the steel and coal industries. Shortages of raw materials, plus increased costs of production due to wage increases and OPA regulations on sales do not give incentive to mass production of goods. Some companies have preferred to remain out of the active market rather than risk getting into trouble with the OPA. Typical of this kind have been the big meat packers. Recently, with OPA restrictions off, some of the packers, after several months absence from the market, were again bidding for livestock.

The price rises which have come in the wake of higher wages have not yet proved discouraging to those who have war savings to scarce goods helps make the situation worse. Although one big company, close to 1941 production, is turning out thousands of washing machines and refrigerators daily and the production of other commodities is steadily rising, the demand for most things is still greater than the supply.

Insist on Good Quality
It may be some time before prices can be adjusted into better balance with wages and the old law of supply and demand can again operate. In the meantime, there are bound to be some compromises with quality. Higher wages and costs, plus price ceilings, have encouraged these compromises. Wise housewives will object to paying the same old price, or a higher one, for poorer materials. Although department store sales have increased greatly over a year ago, a tendency to by-pass shoddy merchandise has begun to be apparent. In many lines, as in the furniture business where there is a shortage of seasoned lumber, the output will probably be designed to fill the demand and not necessarily for enduring satisfaction.

Have Patience to Wait
How long must we wait to buy? The United States Department of Agriculture says food commodity price rises may be stopped with a bumper crop this coming harvest. It claims that if the good weather continues, the U. S. should have a 28% greater corn supply than in the normal year. Corn syrup and starch are, for example, now up 25% in price. These prices should come down. With good crops in other countries, our harvest should be a large factor in easing the world food situation. Then the grains and all their products, including bread, should begin to be less expensive.

Patience to wait was rewarded recently in Florida where the public's antipathy to a high price for butter caused a rivalry between two stores. This made their price of butter fall from seventy seven to nineteen cents a pound in one day! Some food retailers are trying hard to "hold the line", and are in certain cases urging customers not to buy. Of course buyers' strikes in any degree, can not last long against foods, or we go hungry. But on all the non-food commodities, those of us who have the patience to wait will sometime be rewarded by cheaper, or at least, better goods.

The Revived OPA

The 18% food price rise after the original OPA was made invalid brought resistance all over the country in the form of buyers' strikes. Labor gave every indication of planning more strikes for more wage increases and used the buyers' strikes as a deliberate weapon to encourage a revived OPA. Perhaps this modified form of price control will prove a deterrent to further labor demands.

It is estimated that, in any case the cost of living must continue to go up if wages are again increased. No OPA can stop it. With OPA prices would still rise. This, therefore, is a period in which to buy only what we need unless we are sure there will be no more strikes. The time to buy is when the supply of goods is ample and businesses are competing in improving their products with an eye to enticing the public. This ideal state of affairs may not come before 1948 although remember what I wrote last week about FISH!

Veteran Forum

Q Is it possible for me to complete a four year course in three years if I go to school during the summer as well as during the regular school year?

A Under the accelerated program, in some schools, it is possible to complete the four-year course in three years or less.

Q In event a veteran is employed, can he meet all requirements for a degree by attending late afternoon and evening classes?

A Some colleges and universities have served the needs of employed workers for many years by offering a complete program of instruction in the late afternoon and during the evening. With the exception of medicine, the requirements for a degree in any curriculum may be met while the student is employed full-time during the day. Since it takes proportionately longer to complete the college work on a part-time basis, approximately 60 per cent of the veterans in the past two years have preferred to obtain subsistence benefits from Veterans Administration and attend college full-time.

Q May I transfer from one college to another under the provisions of the Service-man's Readjustment Act or the Rehabilitation Act?

A Yes. Under the regulations of the Veterans Administration, the veteran may change his school, but he must have the approval of Veterans Administration in advance.

Q If I get out of service just before school opens and do not have time to make formal application and wait for official determination of my eligibility and entitlement before the beginning of the term, may I attend classes?

A Yes. You may make application, formal or informal, directly to the approved school that you desire to attend. You should, however, make a formal application Form 1050 at the nearest Veterans Administration office. This formal application should be submitted to Veterans Administration through the school.

Mrs. Melvin Fleck and daughter, LaJuria, Colo. are visiting home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bryan.

A WANT-AD
Did it

Are You Starting An.... ORPHAN'S HOME?

That would be a commendable enterprise under some conditions, but it is a 24-karat headache if you go into it the way we mean.

You know, of course that there are 15 to 20 million families in the U. S. A. with a lot of hot money in their pockets... a lot of good U. S. Bonds hidden away... a lot of folding money stuck in to the vase on the pantry shelf.

We say "hot" money and by that we mean money that is anxious to be spent (in fact, over 150 billion dollars of it) for cars, furniture, electric appliances, radios, pianos and new homes, etc.

"Well," you say, "what has that got to do with the orphans?"

Here's the answer to THAT one.

Out of 75 manufacturers who started to make refrigerators, only 35 were in business before the war and 8 brands did 80% of the business.

Did you get one of those orphans?

742 out of 886 radio manufacturing companies folded up and went out of business between 1925 and 1940, leaving "orphan" owners high and dry.

Were you lucky enough to have one of the few surviving makes?

Fifty six washer manufacturers out of 116 gave up the ghost, leaving 60 still operating, but 80% of the business done by 10% of the survivors. There are more orphans in the offing in this picture. Watch out you don't spend YOUR good money for one of them.

Is it Hard for You To Get Repairs for Your Orphan?

We could go on quoting orphan facts. But what's the use. It's just common sense for you to spend your perfectly good money for safe, sound, known-name, nationally advertised and amply financed makes of appliances.

You will find that the only "easy to get" merchandise today is merchandise that has little public acceptance, no particular consumer demand, few dealers, small financial backing, and all the other earmarks of a potential orphan.

We don't care how much service a dealer promises, he cannot give service unless he can get parts, and you can't get parts for orphan merchandise.

What To Do?

Well, you've waited this long. So why not wait a little longer, until you can get exactly what you want, instead of a potential orphan substitute?

Remember that what you buy is going to be yours for a long time and is going to give you service and satisfaction through the years, unless it turns out to be an orphan.

So, we say, DON'T START AN ORPHAN'S HOME if you want to be happy, because real, top-flight merchandise will soon be on the market, in spite of all the strikes, shortages, and general bad news of the past few months.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of a new Section to be known as Section 49-b, creating a Veteran's Land Board and establishing a Veteran's Land Fund; providing for the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 49-b which shall read as follows:

"Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veteran's Land Board, which shall be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Legislature shall provide by law for the issuance by said Board of not to exceed Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veteran's Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as shall be prescribed by law, provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum.

"In the sale of any such bonds a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various teacher retirement funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent Free School funds, such bonds to be issued only as needed, in the opinion of the Veteran's Land Board under legislative authorization.

"The Veteran's Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing land, suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated situated in this State, owned by the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, to be owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or to be owned by any person, firm, or corporation.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veteran's Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veteran's Land Fund shall be sold by the State to Texas Veterans of the present war or war, commonly known as World War II, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and such rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, however, that any such lands remaining unsold at the expiration of eight (8) years after the effective date of this Amendment may be sold to anyone as shall be prescribed by law.

"All moneys received and which have been received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of lands and interest on deferred payments or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any such moneys not so needed shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law.

"Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Thursday in November, 1946, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

FOR THE AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE III OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF TEXAS BY ADDING SECTION 49-B CREATING A VETERAN'S LAND BOARD FOR THE PURCHASE OF LANDS IN TEXAS TO BE SOLD TO TEXAS VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II."

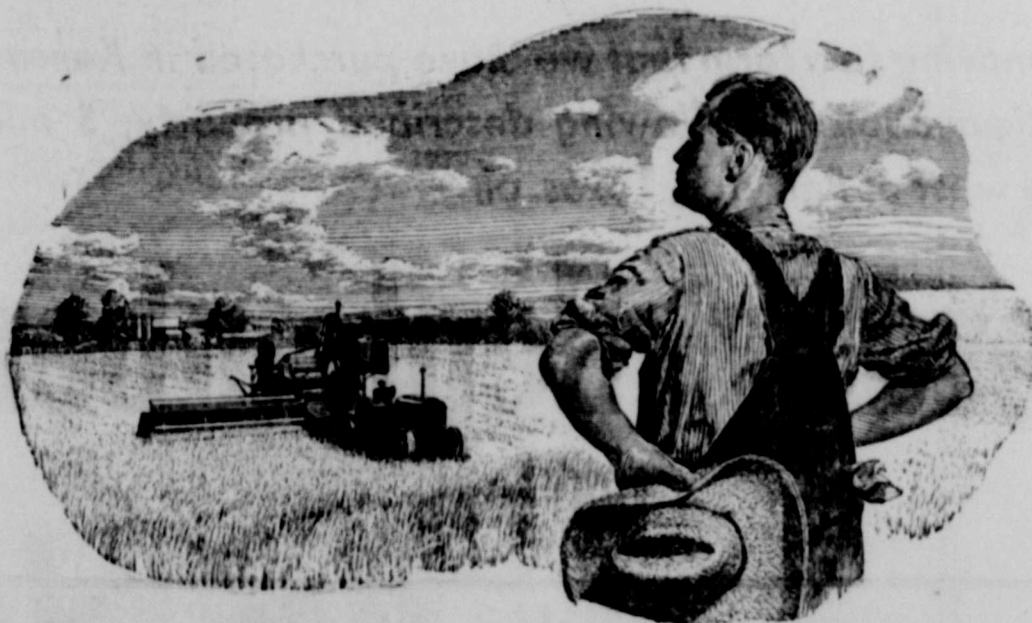

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

AGAINST THE AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE III OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF TEXAS BY ADDING SECTION 49-B CREATING A VETERAN'S LAND BOARD FOR THE PURCHASE OF LANDS IN TEXAS TO BE SOLD TO TEXAS VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of the determination of such result, and the Governor's proclamation thereof.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

His Farm Fields Are Factories

U. S. FARMERS have made our fields into factories.

We live better than people in other countries because our farmers get more out of the soil.

The steel industry takes pride in the way it has helped bring about this improvement in farm practice. Tools of steel—from the plowshare to the giant combine—have multiplied in number and increased vastly in quality.

Fifty years ago the typical farm in America used about 3 tons of steel. Today the figure is nearer 17½ tons.

That is a measure of the modernization of agriculture and an indication of the interdependence of steel and farming.

We no longer have separate "farm production problems" or "industrial production problems."

lens." We have but one set of problems for everybody.

If strikes, for instance, restrict the supply of farm implements and supplies through work stoppages, or make their cost prohibitive, America is out of gear.

Anything which tends in this direction is bad for the farmer—and finally for everybody. Farmers know it. Everybody else should know it.

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. The shortage is serious. Farmers can get extra dollars and help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

ACTS ON THE KIDNEYS

To increase flow of urine and relieve irritation of the bladder from excess acidity in the urine

Are you suffering unnecessary distress, backache, run-down feeling and discomfort from excess acidity in the urine? Are you disturbed nights by a frequent desire to pass water? Then you should know about the famous doctor's discovery — DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT — that thousands say gives blessed relief. Swamp Root is a carefully blended combination of 18 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams. Dr. Kilmer's is not harsh or habit-forming in any way. Many say its remarkable effect is amazing. Veterans' NEWS

Pay ceilings set by Congress for veterans training or studying under the GI Bill do not apply to disabled veterans, the Veterans Administration has announced.

Maximums of $200 for married veterans and $175 for single men were prescribed by Congress for veterans training on-the-job or studying under benefits of Public Law 346.

Disabled veterans, VA said, are enrolled for training or study under Public Law 16, a separate act, and are not affected by the new legislation.

Patients in VA hospitals in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi will be entertained by one of the best professional billiard players in the world late in November.

Erwin Rudolph, a trick shot specialist, is making a tour of Southwestern VA hospitals through the courtesy of the Billiard Association of America, VA announced.

Blind veterans who have the grit to try and who get proper aid can get fun and benefit from many sports heretofore believed impossible for sightless people, the Veterans Administration believes.

In Houston, Texas, VA, with the cooperation of a local bowling alley, has inaugurated a class in bowling for blind veterans.

The fundamentals of bowling have been successfully taught to the blind in several cities, VA said. The Houston classes are being directed by R. L. Springfield, advancement officer for blind veterans.

Two more guidance centers to help veterans with their vocational and educational problems have been established in Texas, by the Veterans Administration.

The centers will be operated by Lamar College of Beaumont and North Texas State Teachers College in Denton.

VA guidance centers are now operating in all sections of the Southwest. Psychologists and vocational experts are available in all the centers to help veterans.

New Silvertowns "Meet Taxi Requirements"

"Rain or shine, year in and out, 24 hours of the day, taxi serve the public," says Mr. Thomas A. Ballantine, President of Yellow Cab, Louisville, Ky. "Safety, dependability, and economy are the watchwords of successful taxi operation. B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns meet these requirements."

For Safety, Economy, and Mileage choose the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

One of the taxi fleets that tested the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown before it was offered for public sale was Yellow Cab, Louisville, Ky. In addition, it was tested on police cars and the B.F. Goodrich test fleet over millions of miles in all kinds of weather under severest conditions, and even at high speeds. All these tests supported Mr. Ballantine's findings that: "... their wider, flatter tread gives our cabs better traction and surer, safer stopping. The stronger cord body means fewer interruptions and service stoppages. And in actual mileage, tests on our fleet prove they OUTWEAR PREWAR TIRES. Because Silvertown tires cover more ground, our cabs can, too, without interruption."

We know you'll want these tires for your car. So be on the safe side, see us today.

XB-36 Makes B-29 Look Like a Midget

Army's new XB-36, world's biggest bomber, makes the B-29 beside it look like a midget on the tarmac at Fort Worth, Tex., where it was flown recently for the first time. The B-29 has a 230-foot wingspread to the B-29's 141. It can carry more than 30 tons of bombs, range 5,000 miles. Work on the giant craft was started during the war when fall of England was a possibility, and bombers that could fly to Europe and back were believed necessary.

No Open Season
Prairie Chicken

Austin, Tex., Aug. 28—There will be no open season on prairie chicken in Texas this year.

This was announced today by Howard Dodgen, Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, in commenting upon reports circulating in several West Texas counties that all restrictions on hunting prairie chickens will be lifted on September 1.

Dodgen pointed out that the 47th Legislature in making it unlawful to hunt prairie chickens until September 1, 1946, repealed all existing laws pertaining to the hunting of prairie chickens, including a law which would provide for an open season. Hence, Dodgen said, the prairie chicken on September 1 passes into the category of a game bird on which no open season is provided.

Guests in the L. R. Conner home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Childs and children and Mrs. Velma Buckalew of Kingsville, Tex.

First American supplies to reach Korea from the Church World Service, representing the major Protestant relief agencies of the U. S. A. includes medicines and surgical instruments to rehabilitate seven hospitals set up by C. W. S. within the zone occupied by the American army. Besides several hundred bales of clothing the shipment contained 19 cases of ether, one million vitamin tablets, 275 cases of hospital instruments and dressings, and 18 cases of chaulmoogra oil for the treatment of leprosy.

Many churches across the country are seeking ways and means of putting returned GIs back into church and community service. In St. Alban's Protestant Episcopal Church, Highland Park, Michigan, the veterans have organized a Young People's Fellowship for single persons and married couples eighteen to thirty-five years of age.

Jap Photos Just Released Show Horrors of Nagasaki 20 Hours After A-Bomb Hit

Red Cross worker treats burn case on spot. Almost every living thing within 2 miles of burst died.

Woman air warden stands near burned body. Flash burns caused third of deaths; radiation, a fifth.

This was Nagasaki's main street 20 hours after blast. First official U. S. damage report, made public last month, concluded that most of our cities could not stand up to atomic bomb much better than Nagasaki.

Nagasaki mother, with bad wound on face, nurses dying child. Casualties totaled 80,000.

Walter R. Allen and son, Nelson of Berger, were in Perryton to attend the birthday celebration and to visit his mother, Mrs. S. J. Allen and other relatives.

One of the groups first jobs was to soundproof a parish house room as a kindergarten, and to hold kindergarten classes there during the regular morning church hour. The Fellowship has secured and trained teachers for the lower grades in the church school, provides a choir from their numbers for the early-morning communion service, and has taken charge of some of the regular church suppers. The Fellowship has sixty members.

The interdenominational "heifer project," initiated by the Church of the Brethren, and designed to help in relief and rehabilitation in Europe (especially in furnishing milk to children), is now being supported from a wide variety of sources. The Catholic Rural Life Association and relief agencies of the Methodist Church, the Mennonite Church, the Baptist Church and the Evangelical and Reformed Church are joining with the Brethren in furnishing heifers to ship overseas. Information may be obtained concerning the project from the Heifer Project Committee, New Windsor, Maryland. A recent shipment of 350 young heifers went to Italy, and another carload soon will be sent to Poland. Experienced cattlemen from the several churches are being recruited to care for the animals on the trip to Europe.

At Lakeside, Ohio, from Sept. 3 to 6, "younger churchmen" from thirty-eight Protestant denominations will meet under the auspices of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America to "mobilize and train young men in the local churches over the country for more effective Christian leadership." The International Council of Religious Education and the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. will cooperate with the Federal Council in the program. Almost all the delegates will be laymen, and

The $2500 Question

Rep. John Coffee (D.) of Washington has denied one of the Senate War Profits Investigating Committee's many startling bits of testimony—that he received $2500 from Elvind Anderson, Tacoma contractor, for help in obtaining a war contract. Coffee claims it was a campaign contribution, although he omitted reporting it.

most of them will be ex GIs. The Rev. Reuben W. Coleman is director of the conference. Speakers listed include: Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Missionary Secretary Ralph E. Diefendorfer, Dr. Kirtley F. Mahter of Harvard, Prof. Wilhelm Pauck of Chicago, Federal Council Secretary Rowell P. Barnes, motion picture executive Francis Harmon, Dr. Channing Tobias of the Phelps-Stokes Fund.

Since early this year, Santa Mission of the Methodist Church in Liberia has been participating in public health work in its vicinity by keeping a team of locally trained technicians travelling through the country vaccinating the residents. Because a certain number of cases of smallpox had been reported, the District Commissioner appealed for help in handling the situation. Dr. George W. Harney of Asheville, N. C., Methodist missionary physician, in his capacity as Officer of Health took the necessary steps. Special runners were sent to Monrovia at intervals to secure fresh vaccine, and the vaccinators were sent out through the towns and villages. More than 30,000 were inoculated during the first months of the year.

Among celebration visitors were Miss Elaine Devers, Harry and Donald Devers and I. W. Rogers, Jr. of Daihart.

Sgt. and Mrs. Fred Kuhn left Sunday to return to their home in Albuquerque, N. Mex., after spending a few days at the bedside of his father, Wm. Kuhn, who has been critically ill.

Vet Insurance Benefits Are Liberalized

Insurance benefits to veterans were materially extended when the President signed a liberalized GI insurance bill last Friday, Robert W. Sisson, Lubbock Veterans administration regional manager, said today.

Discussing the amendments to the National Service Life Insurance Act which became law yesterday, Sisson said GI insurance benefits are now in line with those of commercial insurance companies at a great saving to the veteran.

"As originally enacted, National Service Life Insurance was designed to meet the needs of men and women at war," Sisson explained. "The new amendments provide for liberalization to make it more attractive in peace time."

Principal changes in the amended act include:

1. Lump sum payments to beneficiaries if desired.

2. Total disability protection upon payment of a slight additional premium.

3. Entitlement of all persons who served in the armed forces between October 8, 1940, and Sept. 2, 1945, to apply for National Service life policies or to increase the amount of policies already in force.

4. More endowment types of policies offered.

5. Removal of many restrictions in the naming of beneficiaries.

"Holders of about six million NSLI policies now in force are eligible for the many new benefits provided by these amendments," Sisson pointed out.

"In addition, those veterans who formerly held some ten million policies that have lapsed may still be entitled to reinstate them and take advantage of the low cost protection provided for their families by GI insurance."

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth U. Sharpe Pollett, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Sharpe one day this week.

New VA Hospital To Be Built In Dallas

Purchase of twenty-four acres in the heart of the proposed medical center site, on Harry Hines Boulevard for location of a 500-bed Veterans Administration Hospital was approved last week by President Truman.

The land is part of the Southwestern Medical Foundation property acquired through a 62-acre donation by the Karl Hobbie Foundation last December in memory of the late Mrs. Esther Thomas Hobbie.

The site adjoins 40 acres owned by the city and used by for location of the new $7,000,000 City-County Memorial Hospital.

The VA Hospital was originally planned as an addition to the existing hospital at Lisbon, and Congress appropriated $2,850,000 for it. Additional funds will be required for the separate hospital, the VA said.

Total cost of the VA Hospital will be around $8,500,000, it was reported by the Veterans Administration.

Construction of this hospital adjoining the proposed location of the Southwestern Medical College is in keeping with the new policy of the VA to build close to medical schools so that their facilities may be used to supply and supervise the professional staff of the VA Hospitals. Already Southwestern Medical College has supplied 71 physicians to the VA Hospitals at McKinney and Lisbon.

The Foundation has also offered land of the medical center for location of a proposed cancer and pellagra hospital and a psychopathic hospital. The state legislation in 1929 and 1932 approved of the establishment of the hospitals and it was provided that they should be administered as a single institution known as the Dallas State Hospital.

Dental Decay Can Happen to You

Austin, Texas—The fact that dental decay is likely to occur in the mouth of the average person, despite proper home care given the teeth, does not lessen the importance of brushing the teeth and massaging the gums daily, nor does it minimize the need for a cleaning and inspection of the teeth twice a year by the family dentist Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that the lack of these measures gives added power to germs that attack the enamel of the teeth and gum tissues.

"If, despite the proper application of such procedures, decay is suspected or teeth are injured in any way, the thoughtful person will seek the dentist's office promptly for the necessary corrective work," Dr. Cox said.

"It is surprising, though, even in these days of comparatively painless dentistry, that so many persons neglect to make good their dental defects, inevitable or otherwise, because they foolishly fear the discomfort they might experience in the dentist's chair," said the State Health Officer. "There are others who having lost a tooth or several teeth make no effort to obtain replacements. Apparently they believe they can get along without them. Reduce masticating power, the annoyance and sometimes actual discomfort of chewing hard substances on the exposed gums, and crooked teeth are some of the possible consequences of gaps in the teeth."

Dr. Cox advised those who are interested in experiencing the best dental and bodily health possible to give daily attention to their mouth and visit the dentist twice each year, and promptly seek the dentist's services should decay or other suspicious conditions arise between the periodic visits.

"In short," Dr. Cox declared, "successful mouth hygiene means not only intelligent personal daily application of prophylaxis but complete and timely cooperation with the family dentist as well."

Newsprint Prices Boosted $7 a Ton

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The ceiling price on newsprint is up $7 a ton today, and it may be boosted further soon.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see another increase before long," an OPA official told a reporter.

In announcing the immediate $7 hike yesterday OPA cited these reasons:

1. "To help assure an adequate supply of newsprint for United States publishers by attempting to prevent a diversion to other markets of foreign newsprint."

2. To "check any tendency on the part of domestic producers to divert newsprint production to other more profitable lines of paper."

3. To offset manufacturers' higher cost of raw materials, labor and freight.

In its announcement, OPA made no mention of the recent 10 percent upward revision of the Canadian dollar, although this reportedly was a major factor in the decision to allow a higher ceiling.

Misses Phyllis Schmitt and Helen Campbell, Alva, Okla. were hosts of Miss Dorothy Jean Crisp during the celebration. The Alva girls are classmates of Miss Crisp at N. S. C.

Lassie Gets Chance To Redeem Himself

In case Lassie's fans had any doubts when they saw him fail to pass war dog tests in "Son of Lassie," their faith will be restored in "Courage of Lassie," new M-G-M Technicolor outdoor drama showing Sunday and Monday at the Ellis Theatre.

In the former picture the collie "wonder dog" ducked under barriers instead of leaping them, and ran from the shot of a gun instead of attacking the man behind the weapon. He later turned out to be a hero, but as far as the Army went he was a 4-F.

In "Courage of Lassie," however, Lassie runs the gamut of war dog tests, clearing hurdles, attacking the foe and running through mine-laden fields. In short, the dog star gets a chance to vindicate himself with his public.

Elizabeth Taylor, Frank Morgan and Tom Drake head the cast of the new picture, directed by Fred M. Wilcox.

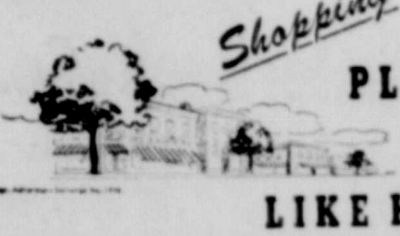

W. Arthur Gray of the Gray, Okla. community returned Friday from a trip to El Paso where he attended a family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bolin were in Beaver, Okla. Sunday to help their grandson, "K" Drum, observe his sixth birthday.

A DOG'S BEST FRIENDS... In this instance, are Tom Drake, Frank Morgan and Elizabeth Taylor, appearing with M-G-M's "wonder dog," Lassie, in "Courage of Lassie," showing at the Ellis, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 1-2. Drama of a young girl's devotion to her collie pal, the new picture is filmed in Technicolor.

Two New Melodies In "Cuban Pete"

Two melodic new tunes are introduced in Universal's "Cuban Pete," showing Saturday night preview at the Ellis Theatre, featuring comedy with music starring Desi Arnaz and his Orchestra.

The Latin rhythm king warbles "After Tonight," ballad by lyricist Jack Brooks and Composer Milton Schwarzwald.

Also heard for the first time is "A Decade's Lullaby," vocalized by the King Sisters, for whom the song was written by their younger brother, Billy Driggs. They also sing "Cielito Lindo."

For rhumba fans, three separate numbers in this tempo are offered. They are "El Cumbanchero," composed by Rafael Hernandez; "Rhumba Matumba," by Bobby Colanzo; and the Arnaz standard, "Cuban Pete."

Rounding out this tuneful banquet is a specialty by Ethel Smith, swing genius of the electric organ; and a dance routine by Igor and Yvette. Jean Yarbrough directed the picture.

"North West Mounted Police" Shows at Ellis

Madeleine Carroll received a prize compliment from Cecil B. DeMille, famed producer of the mighty Technicolor epic, "North West Mounted Police," which co-stars Madeleine with Gary Cooper. "She's the most beautiful person I have ever seen on the screen," quoth Mr. DeMille who has seen many a film beauty. So acclaimed was the producer's spectacular story of the Mounties' gallant loyalty to the Canadian government during the Metis rebellion that the Ellis Theatre shows on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 3-4 in reviving "North West Mounted Police."

While Madeleine admits beauty has done much to further her career, she'd much rather be known as a capable actress. One of Hollywood's most restless players, Miss Carroll doesn't linger long in the movie capital after a picture is completed. Intensely interested in international affairs, she is one of the best informed women in the

Don Farnsworth Returns To Germany for Year

Don Farnsworth, who spent 30 days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth, left Sunday for New York, where he will sail for Germany. He received his discharge from the army about six months ago, and signed for work in Germany as a civilian. He is doing the same work as a civilian that he was as an army sergeant.

At the expiration of the six months Don was given 30 days time in the States. He has been overseas over two years. He is now with the 72nd Headquarters Base Depot, the same outfit that he was with while in the army.

His mother and father took him to Canadian to catch the train.

world. She has visited every capital in Europe and, since the start of the war, has been unusually active in war activities.

Though born in England, Madeleine considers herself more French than anything else. Her mother is French, her father Irish, and she was educated in France at the famous Sorbonne. In fact, Miss Carroll is the only ex-school marm to become an important star.

Sunday-Monday, September 1-2

Elizabeth Taylor, Frank Morgan, Tom Drake, Selena Rayle and Lassie in—

"Courage of Lassie"

This new M-G-M thriller is Hollywood's first picture dealing with the rehabilitation of a soldier. An important phase of the outdoor story is the return of a war hero suffering from shell shock and the misunderstanding that greets him with his return to civil life. The "war hero" in the picture is not a human soldier but a collie dog that had been instrumental in saving a unit of American soldiers while in battle with the Japs. Lassie, Hollywood's canine star, plays the role of the dog who returns mean and vicious from his war experience.

Tuesday-Wednesday September 3-4

Perryton Vet Buys Surplus Motor Vehicle at Ft. Worth

Port Worth (Special) — Among the successful purchasers in the first "mail order" catalog sale of surplus used motor vehicles conducted by the Veterans' Division of the War Assets Administration office in Fort Worth was Robert C. Schuster of Perryton, Texas.

Schuster, who is a veteran of World War II, was awarded a 1940 International Pickup truck for $362.

The sale was unique in that it offered in excess of 12,000 certified veterans an opportunity to inspect the vehicles at any of the 16 Army Camp locations through North and West Texas and make their choice by mail, with alternate methods given, since the oldest and most efficient holders sending in requests were awarded their choice in chronological order. The sale resulted in the disposal of 4,000 surplus passenger cars, 1,000 trucks, trailers, and truck trailers. WAA officials announced.

Elmer Kuhn, Daltart, is in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kuhn.

John Slavin, Cookson, Okla., is an early-day resident of the tree County, came in last Thursday for a few days visit with his family and friends.
