DUTCH BARTGIS IS VICTIM OF FREAK MISHAP

NECK IS FRACTURED AS HE IS BLOWN OFF SHIP'S WING

ACCIDENT IS IN HANGAR

PLANE TOTAL LOSS IN FIRE—BURIAL TO BE IN FORT WORTH

Death concealed in the cruel shock of a gasoline explosion overtook R. W. (Dutch) Bartgis in a hangar at the local airport yesterday morning after the veteran pilot had eluded the grim reaper during 12 years of careful flying and amazingly perfect three-point landings.

A master of the atmosphere which he had taught himself to traverse with infinite care, he became a victim of fatal circumstances that had nothing to do with the hazards of flying.

Mr. Bartgis was applying "dope" to the wings of his Ryan B-7 passenger ship in the hangar when a mystery explosion set fire to the wings and ignited gasoline in the tanks under the wings. Mr. Bartgis was on a wing when the explosion took place. He was hurled to the floor.

Son Removes Body A block away, Raymond Bartgis, 17-year-old son of the pilot, at the Bartgis residence heard the muffled blast and ran to the airport. He carried his father from the blazing interior of the hangar, and in a few seconds Mr. Bartgis was dead. His last words, spoken as he was being carried out of the hangar by his son, were "My son!" Death was caused by a broken neck. The flier also suffered critical bruises and cuts on the face.

Mr. Bartgis was lying on the ground face down when his son reached him. The boy believed that the explosion hurled his father against some metal part of the plane. About 10 o'clock an hour before the fatal explosion, Raymond was at the hangar, and said his father was painting the wings. The father told his son that he expected to finish in an hour.

Veteran Of Air Mr. Bartgis was known as one of the most careful of fliers. In his 10 years of flying he had had only four crack-ups. Three of these occurred within three weeks in East Texas where the pilot was baffled

England Not to Follow America in Manchurian Case

By the Associated Press Great Britain refused yesterday to follow the lead of the United States in invoking the nine-power treaty in the Manchurian conflict.

The British foreign office announced that there appeared to be no need for sending a note to Japan similar to the one sent by Secretary of State Stimson, because the Japanese government has given assurances of its intention of continuing the open door policy in Manchuria.

The Stimson note resulted in an authoritative statement in Tokyo that Japan might try to revise the nine-power pact through the conference method. The purpose of the revision would be to define the "administrative integrity" guaranteed by the treaty to China.

At the urgent command of the emperor, the Japanese cabinet, which had resigned on Monday because of the bombing attempt Friday on the emperor's life, decided to remain in office.

AFTER ANDY

Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, top, and James V. McClintic of Oklahoma, jumped into the spotlight at Washington when they asked the removal of two members of the Hoover cabinet in speeches from the floor. Patman asked the impeachment of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, since the Harding administration, and McClintic suggested that Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy, resign.

Profanely Declares He Will Not Seek Office But Rumors Are Flying.

DAWES CAN'T DOWN GOSSIP

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Charles D. Dawes dismissed all this presidential talk with brusque Dawestian explication today and went home for a family reunion.

His "morning after" discussion of plans to retire from the diplomatic service and become, once more, a Chicago banker was brief than last night's statement from Washington, released after the ambassador had entrained.

"It's all damn nonsense," said Dawes of the presidential rumors. "There is nothing to it and I won't even discuss it."

Consequently, the stock in that bank which had hovered around 81 to 84 per share throughout the week jumped to 110 today, with little offered at that price.

But Dawes' blunt and unelaborate statements flouted utterly to quit a quietus on the conjectures as to his presidential availability in 1932.

DEPUTY IS WOUNDED

WAXAHACHIE, Jan. 9 (AP)—A charge of assault to murder was filed today against Alvin Breeland of Ennis. The charge was an aftermath of a pistol fight last night at Ennis, Jack Gathings, 35, deputy sheriff, was shot three times and wounded probably fatally.

PREDICTION OF HOOVER VETO FOR OIL TARIFF IS HEARD IN HOUSE AS MEASURE PRESENTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The prediction was made in the house today that President Hoover would veto any oil tariff congress might see fit to enact now.

The question of a levy on oil imports was brought up by Representative McGugin, republican, Kansas. He said he would vote for the pending democratic tariff bill even though it would not make possible a duty on oil.

RECONSTRUCTION BILL DUE FOR PASSAGE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The house tonight passed the democratic tariff bill and the senate had gone home with the reconstruction corporation measure still unpassed.

The measure designed to revitalize business is certain of passage Monday. Widely ranging debate and action on two amendments consumed so much time the senate decided to defer a vote.

Both amendments were beaten, Vice President Curtis casting the deciding vote on the first after a vote of 24 to 27. It would have permitted loans to drainage, irrigation and reclamation districts. The second was for loans to shipping concerns.

The future for the tariff bill was uncertain despite house approval by a vote of 214 to 192.

Veto Seems Assured The senate probably will pass it but a White House veto seems certain. One of its most important provisions is to take away the presidential power of raising or lowering tariff.

Senate debate during the day reflected a committee hearing where beer bills were being considered and President Hoover's appeal to congress yesterday for more economy in government.

Senator McKellar, Tennessee democrat, charged the administration itself with extravagance and said appropriations recommended

Justice Todd Is After His Second Term of Office

Seeking a second term as justice of the peace of this precinct, place No. 1 of the city, James Todd Jr. has authorized THE NEWS to announce his candidacy, subject to the action of the democratic primary in July.

In announcing, Justice Todd has the support of hundreds of citizens who have commended him for his conscientious administration of his duties and for his studious regard for the social service possibilities involved. Long a minister, he has carried his ideals to the office and is making a detailed case study which later probably will be in demand by students of social psychology.

While sympathetic because of his broad understanding of human nature, the justice of the peace is firm with offenders and on occasion has delivered scathing lectures. He is in demand as a public speaker, both because of his persuasive ability and his wide acquaintanceship in this section.

City Pays Doctor Bills Asserted To Belong To County

The city of Pampa spent $99 on doctor bills during December that should have been paid by the county, according to city officials. The money was paid for treatment to indigent sick whose families are being cared for by the Welfare board.

The board has not enough money to pay doctor bills, being obliged to use the money to keep the poor in food and clothing.

"The law clearly states that the indigent sick are to be cared for by the county," it was said yesterday after another bill for $45 for medical services this month was presented him.

"We tried to get the county to pay even half but were unsuccessful. Yet, we cannot afford to let a citizen die to make the county see that it is responsible, so we have to set aside city money to pay for county work," it was said.

Paul Young Under Auto Theft Charge

HOUSTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Paul Young, brother of Henry and Jennings Young, who killed themselves when they were trapped by police in a residence here Tuesday, this afternoon was charged before Justice Campbell Overstreet with automobile theft.

LEFORS MAN'S TALE CHECKED IN OKLAHOMA

CLAIMS HIS CRIME IS STILL MYSTERY IN HENRIETTA

STORY PARTLY VERIFIED

THE NEWS LEARNS OF SLAYING TWENTY YEARS AGO

Confession of a LeFors resident that a murder he claimed to have committed 20 years ago near Henrietta, Okla., was "preying on his mind" caused local officers and THE NEWS to roll back the years late last night.

Early today (Sunday) THE NEWS, Sheriff Lon Blansett, and District Attorney Raymond Allred had verified most of the names and facts surrounding the alleged slaying, and had obtained information that there was such a slaying.

The investigation, started somewhat skeptically, was based on a signed statement that the man had, about 20 years ago, killed George Walters, 18, about six miles south of Henrietta during a drunken brawl. The confessor said he shot Walters when the latter quarreled with him over a girl.

Tied Horse to Body "I shot him off his horse," the confessor said, "and left the horse tied to his body, where officers found him." The man was held in jail here last

Roosevelt Given Philippine Post as Davis Retires

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Gov. Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico was promoted today by President Hoover to America's highest colonial office upon the resignation of Dwight F. Davis as governor general of the Philippine Islands. Davis presented his resignation to the chief executive at the White House.

The announcement of Davis' resignation was followed immediately by one naming the son of the late president to govern the millions of people his father fought to free from Spanish rule.

Davis was sent to the Philippines from the position of secretary of war.

Personal reasons were given by Davis in resigning. He will sail immediately for Paris to visit his wife and daughter Alice. Mrs. Davis has been in ill health ever since he assumed the governor-generalship and she was not able to join him at Manila.

John Roosevelt will succeed immediately to the position, thus leaving the San Juan post open for an appointment.

MAN BLEEDS TO DEATH AS DRIVERS REFUSE TO STOP

Companion Tries in Vain to Halt Motorists—Was Mangled by Train.

EL PASO, Jan. 9 (AP)—A story of how a man mangled by a train lay for two hours on the outskirts of El Paso today while his companion vainly tried to stop passing motorists for help was told here tonight.

The injured man, Homer Berryhill, 28, of Valleyview, Texas, died from loss of blood after he was taken to a hospital here. His leg was amputated before he died. His companion, Dalby Martin, also of Valleyview, said automobiles and street cars passed him by despite his efforts to stop them. Finally a police scout car happened by and took the pair to a hospital.

The two men had been picking cotton in the El Paso valley. Their former employer gave a pint of blood for a transfusion in an effort to save Berryhill's life.

HARMONY HAS ENVELOPED AN UNEASY PARTY

REFERENDUM ISSUE IS SENT TO CONVENTION GROUP

TO INCREASE DELEGATES

TEXAS GETS SIX MORE VOTES—NO STATES GIVEN CUT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Democrats today chose Chicago for their convention city and in a session as harmonious as their last gathering was turbulent referred the prohibition issue to the national meeting.

Chairman Raskob and Vice Chairman Byrd of Virginia, representing conflicting groups which clashed in the March session, put through a smooth working program without a hitch. June 27—two weeks after the republicans meet in the same city—was chosen for the convention date.

The mild-mannered and soft spoken Raskob unloosed an opening blast against "propaganda" that "Smith-Raskob-Shouse" machine was working in opposition to the forces favoring Governor Roosevelt New York for president. Mr. Raskob heartily denied any "obligatory" of this kind or of any other kind.

To Highest Bidder Chairman Raskob upset some calculations when he opened the convention city contest to the "highest bidder." New Jersey promptly followed with a $200,000 bid for Atlantic City, presented by Mayor Harry "Scarach," a republican.

San Francisco, Chicago, and Kansas City followed in turn with $150,000 offers but just as the bidding drew to a close, Chicago jumped her offer, presented by Mayor Cermak and Edward N. Hurley, to $200,000.

The first roll call gave Chicago 59 votes; San Francisco, 20; Kansas City, 19; and Atlantic City, 4. As delegates began shifting their votes to the winning city, the selection of Chicago was made unanimous.

The motion of Vice Chairman Byrd, referring to the convention the democratic platform recommendations including prohibition submitted to the committee by C. Airman Raskob at the March meeting,

Tenth of Month Means Payments Are Due Promptly

Today is the tenth day of the month.

To Pampa merchants this date means payment of their accounts. Their credit rating, and indeed that of the city as a whole, depends upon their ability to pay their bills promptly.

This means that citizens should cooperate by paying the merchants promptly. One account past due delays many others depending upon it. Safeguard your credit and that of your city by observing the monthly payment

Unless Gray county voters assume an attitude different from the one they have been exhibiting in the last 10 days, Feb. 1 is not going to find half as many qualified voters in the county as they were last year. Yesterday only 636 voters had paid poll taxes at the tax collector's office.

Last year this time almost twice as many permits to vote had been issued. A total of 3,200 taxes were paid before the deadline, Jan. 31, in transferring the library to municipal control. While here she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler. Mrs. Buckler is the new president of the library board.

Authorization of his announcement for re-election to the office of Gray county tax collector was given THE NEWS today by T. W. (Tom) Barnes. His candidacy is subject to the action of the democratic primary in July.

In offering for a second term, Mr. Barnes stated that his first term has given him a thorough understanding of the duties of the office. He has organized the new department so that the public is served with a minimum of delay.

Mr. Barnes is well known to both new and old residents of Gray county. To his wide circle of friends he owes much of his popularity, and he has a ready smile for newcomers. He is appreciative of the support given him in the past.

GERMANY CLAIMS SHE CAN NOT PAY REPARATIONS NOW

Chancellor Will Urge That They Be Discontinued for Indefinite Time.

BERLIN, Jan. 9. (AP)—Chancellor Heinrich Brüning declared today that the continuation of reparations payments is impossible for Germany but for the whole world.

This declaration was included in an interview with the chief editor of the semi-official Wolff News agency. The chancellor said that at the impending Lausanne conference Germany would urge the abandonment of reparations.

In the interview, which apparently was prompted by the fact that the list of the chancellor's statement to the British ambassador yesterday had leaked out, Dr. Brüning avoided anything that might look like an ultimatum. He had told Sir Horace Rumbold, the British envoy, that for the present an indefinite time to come Germany would be unable to pay. Berlin first learned of this statement to the British representative through reports from other capitals.

Carcasses Float By Upon Flood

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 9. (AP)—Carcasses of horses, mules, cows and hogs floated out of the Tippecanoe basin of the Tallahatchie river flood ravaged valley on the east as Red Cross workers set out today by boat on the western side to determine relief measures.

Dogs barked from the hill crests as three feet of water continued to swirl past their havens from the nearly 200 foot crevasse still swirling in the Eastern Tallahatchie river levee near Sharkey.

Cotton sheds were torn down in Glendon, Phillips, Charleston, and surrounding plantations to build flatboats and skiffs with which to carry aid to many small tenants still marooned from the break of two days ago.

"Mercy" Murder Is Claimed By Father

MILLERSBURG, Ohio, Jan. 9. (AP)—A father tonight stood as the self accused slayer of his two-year-old son in a "mercy" murder.

Charles S. Stanhouse, a quarry worker, told Sheriff John A. Stevens he killed his son David Oscar, two years ago because the child suffered with an incurable brain infection.

Advised by a Cleveland specialist his son could not get well, Stanhouse, the sheriff said, bought chloroform and administered it to his son in September, 1929.

Newspaper Raid Results In Shooting

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 9. (AP)—Charles Pearce tonight confessed, police said, to participation in the holdup of the Arkansas Gazette business office today during which the cashier, J. E. Chapple, was shot and critically wounded.

Pearce, who was employed by the newspaper as a linotype operator, said his brother, Don Pearce of Pine Bluff, committed the robbery and that he drove the car in which Don escaped. He led police to a spot in a suburb where an unopened sack containing $5,000 was found hidden under a rock.

Claim Hoover Not Economical

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. (AP)—A democratic reply today to President Hoover's latest call for governmental economy was, in effect, that Mr. Hoover should practice what he preaches.

Ber Is Urged To Put Men To Work

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. (AP)—Legislation of four per cent beer was urged before the senate and one of its committees today as a means of helping the farmer, the unemployed and government finances.

Senator Blumhagen, republican, Connecticut, author of a bill designed to bring this about presented what was called a "prosperity chart," prepared by the Crusaders, an anti-prohibition organization.

Adoption of the bill, he said, "would create close to a billion dollar industry raise at least $40,000,000 in taxes, employ thousands of men," and increase grain prices.

"SONS" FOR ROOSEVELT

DALLAS, Jan. 9. (AP)—T. Whit Davidson, president of the Texas Roosevelt clubs, said today that in his opinion favorite son booms for John N. Garner and Melvin Traynor would not prejudice the presidential candidacy of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Traylor and Garner are both friendly to Roosevelt," said the former lieutenant governor, "and in the Texas delegation to the democratic national convention there will be Roosevelt delegates friendly to Garner and Traylor and men and women supporting each of these favorite sons who are friendly to the New Yorker."

Upchurch Advises That Oil Operators Assemble At Once

AUSTIN, Jan. 9. (AP)—Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general, attached to the railroad commission, today advised the commission to call a hearing at once of operators in the East Texas oil field, with a view to promulgating conservation rules.

The hearing would be held to gather data so that orders governing production in the area could be issued immediately should the commission be called upon to take over the field, which has been operating since August 17 under martial law and the personal control of Governor R. S. Sterling, as commander in chief of the militia.

Upchurch said his advice was given to the commission in view of the attitude of the federal court at Houston in which the court indicated it had serious doubts concerning the authority of the governor to maintain control over the field through martial law.

Despite improvements making for added comfort and safety, prices in many instances lower than last year were offered as an inducement to increase orders.

LOCAL MEN SOLVE PROBLEM IN BRIDGE WHILE MANY DESPAIR

The bridge problem submitted for solution here Jan. 1 was correctly solved Friday by L. J. Bellanger of the Skelly Oil company, famed as one of the best bridge players in this section.

Mr. Bellanger's solution was announced in a statement by P. O. Sanders, also noted as an excellent and heady bridge player. Several purported solutions were submitted in the last few days, but Mr. Sanders and Mr. Bellanger's was the first correct one to be received by Dr. V. E. von Brunow, who submitted the puzzle.

Among those who claimed they had solved the problem were Ernest T. Elder, 1249 Wilcox; Ben Tucker, Thompson Hardware company; Ivy E. Duncan, Mrs. W. H. Johns, Sam Fenberg, Frank Soodhalter, R. S. Carter, R. M. Willingham, and H. C. Blake, the last three of LeFors. Dr. Brunow is checking these solutions. Inquiries received by Dr. Brunow and The NEWS indicated that several hundred people have attempted to solve the problem in the last week.

Many Interested
Both Mr. Tucker and Mrs. Johns were of the opinion that the eight exposed tricks of the double-dummy could not be taken against any possible defense, but that if the hands were played as any good bridge player would play them, according to the rules of bridge, they could be taken. Many people are still of the opinion that the eight tricks cannot be taken against any possible defense, and the "doubting Thomases" were requested to notify Dr. Brunow if they find any flaw in Mr. Bellanger's solution.

Mr. Sanders wrote:
"The writer and other local bridge enthusiasts had worked upon this problem until he had to come to the conclusion that seven tricks were all that could be gained by the North and South hands in the play against the best possible defense... and until Mr. Bellanger conclusively disproved that eight tricks could not be made by the north and south hands, this morning, we were all under the impression that if eight tricks could be made that it would be only in the event the player of the east and west hands should fall asleep."

"We are all agreed now that your problem is the best we have ever attempted to solve, and we wish to thank you for the diversion we had in our futile efforts to arrive at the correct solution. We are, of course, also appreciative to Dr. Bellanger for showing us how we had erroneously played the hand."

"Here is Mr. Bellanger's solution: 'The first lead is a small heart from the south hand which is trumped in the north hand.'

"Then lead a trump from the north hand. If east discards a heart on this lead then south's hearts can be set up. If east discards a club on this lead then a club should also be discarded from the south hand. If east should discard a diamond on this lead then a diamond should also be discarded from the south hand.

Key in Discard

"Presume that east discards a club on the second lead, then south should also discard a club, then lead a club from the north hand to the south ace; then lead south's king of hearts, discarding a diamond in the north hand, leaving two trumps, one diamond, and one club in the north hand. Then lead a heart from the south hand which is trumped in the north hand. Then lead the last trump from the north hand. After this last trump is led and played upon by all hands it will be readily seen that a club will be set up in the north or a heart set up in the south hand or that the last diamond will be 'squeezed' from the east and west hands."

"Presume that east discards a diamond on the second lead, then south should also discard a diamond. Then lead a diamond from the north hand to the south ace. Then lead south's king of hearts, discarding a club in the north hand, leaving two trumps, one diamond and one club in the north hand. Then lead a heart from the south hand which is trumped in the north hand. Then lead the last trump from the north hand. After this trick is turned it will be readily seen that the eight tricks are made for north and south.

"Presume that east discards a heart on the second lead then it is evident that one heart can be set up in the south hand for the necessary discard.

"The eight tricks can be made against any possible defense by the proper 'squeeze' play and the key to the entire problem lies in the discard made by the east hand upon the second lead."

Here is the problem:
Play double dummy; south leads; spades are trumps. North and south must take all eight tricks against any possible defense. Five tricks have already been played.

HARVESTERS FAIL TO CLICK AS SANDIES WIN, 30 TO 14

LABARGE DOES SPEEDY WORK FOR AMARILLO

FORMER STUDENTS ARE BEATEN BY GIRLS' SEXTET

A Golden Sandstorm from Amarillo blew into Pampa and had little difficulty defeating the Harvester basketball team 30 to 14 last night. The Sandies, playing the best game they have exhibited this season, outclassed the Harvesters in every department excepting the defense, wall of W. Kelly and Fullingim.

The Harvesters having an off night, fumbled nearly every time they received the ball. Marbaugh, center, had his worst night. The other forwards failed to get started, although Coach Odus Mitchell used three combinations. Even the steady Enloe had lost his aim.

Kelly and Fullingim guarded strongly during their stay on the floor, but it was the only green and gold combination that would work. Labarge, former Berger Bulldogs, was the man who defeated the Harvesters. He lacked one point of making as many scores as the entire Harvester team. He got the tipoff at center practically every time and the Sandie forwards swooped in fast to take the ball. Coach Davis Hill used his first string until late in the last quarter, when he sent in a new quintet.

Nard Cassell was second high scorer with seven points. Snodgrass followed with six points.

Enloe and Marbaugh each scored four for the Harvesters. Wayne Kelly gathered three, one on a pretty long shot.

QUIMET WILL CAPTAIN GOLF TEAM OF U. S.

Veteran Who Came Back to Regain Big Title Is Chosen for Honor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (AP)—Francis Ouimet, the bespectacled Boston veteran who came back after 17 years to recapture the national amateur golf crown in 1913, will captain the United States forces against Great Britain's best in the Walker cup matches next summer, providing the matches are held.

England, however, has not yet notified the United States Golf association whether it will send over a team this year, it developed at the association's annual meeting here today.

Bobby Jones led America's victorious invasion of England in 1930, shortly before his retirement from amateur ranks. Los Angeles, former national champion, was named to represent this country in a series of international team matches against England in May.

Miss Helen Hicks, New York, national champion, heads a squad that includes Mrs. Glenna Collet Vare, Philadelphia, five times champion and runner-up in 1931. Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, Maureen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., and Mrs. Leona Pressler, Cheney, San Gabriel, Calif.

Marian Hollins, Los Angeles, former national champion, was named non-playing captain. She was named an alternate, however, along with Mrs. Harley Elgie, Detroit, in case a substitution is necessary.

The break between Pampa and Amarillo came when Amarillo again asked that Pampa play both Lubbock and Amarillo before those teams played each other, thus practically assuring one of them the district title. Pampa is willing to meet Lubbock first but her spokesmen declared that Amarillo and Lubbock must play before the Harvesters play Amarillo.

"It apparently is Amarillo's desire to play Pampa early in the season and then sit back and take things easy until the end of the schedule, when they meet Lubbock," Coach Odus Mitchell said. "The Sandies were hit the least of any team by graduation this year and if they could beat Pampa while we are developing, they most certainly could beat Lubbock toward the close of the season just after Pampa and Lubbock had met."

Coach Mitchell said he would be willing to play Amarillo Nov. 19, but Amarillo offered Pampa only the following dates: October 1, October 8, October 22, November 5, and November 12. The November dates are regarded as unjust, since Pampa is scheduled to meet Lubbock November 11. Amarillo will not agree to November 19 because she plays Lubbock Nov. 24 and thus the situation hangs in the balance.

The Berger Bulldogs were automatically advanced to Class A competition when the school went to 524 scholastics. Slaton decided to remain in the conference and expects to present a dark horse team. The Bulldogs are coached by Noble Atkins, All-Southwest conference center and captain of the T. C. U. Horned Frogs in 1930.

The Harvester conference schedule follows:

Oct. 1—Plainview at Pampa.
Oct. 8—Pampa at Berger.
Nov. 11—Lubbock at Pampa.
Nov. 24—Slaton at Pampa (Thanksgiving day).

Lubbock and Plainview will play all games at home at night.

Big Track Meet Date Announced

FORT WORTH, Jan. 9. (AP)—The tenth annual southwestern exposition track and field meet will be held at the Texas Christian university stadium here March 12, it was announced today.

The event is one of the biggest of its kind in the country. Last year, there were 928 entries from all sections of the southwest. Universities, colleges, prep schools, junior colleges, high schools, and pentathlon stars will compete again this season.

Buffaloes Beat Oklahoma Team

CANYON, Jan. 9. (AP)—The West Texas Buffaloes won their second straight basketball game here tonight from the Southwestern Teachers of Weatherford, Oklahoma, 23 to 15.

The visitors presented a hard-fighting ball club that held the towering Buffs at bay for 32 minutes, at then end of which the score was 11-11. The Buffs' offense then began to function and in six minutes scored 12 points to put the game on ice.

AMARILLO-PAMPA GRID DATE IS UNCERTAIN AS TWO TEAMS JOCKEY FOR INSIDE TRACK

LOCALS THINK THEY'RE ABOUT DUE FOR BREAK

Pampa and Amarillo school officials were unable to agree at Plainview Friday afternoon on principles of making dates for football games, and as a result there is no Harvester-Sandie date in the records.

"We have allowed the other teams to take the lead in the past because of newness in the conference, but in this, our third season, we are going to have a say in how the schedule should be arranged," Supt. R. B. Fisher declared yesterday upon his return from Plainview. "We think it only fair that Pampa should play a Thanksgiving day game with one of the stronger teams in the district and not let Amarillo and Lubbock have things all their own way."

The break between Pampa and Amarillo came when Amarillo again asked that Pampa play both Lubbock and Amarillo before those teams played each other, thus practically assuring one of them the district title. Cats Will Meet Many Big Teams

FORT WORTH, Jan. 9. (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats have arranged for 10 exhibition games during the spring training period which will open between March 7-15. Two more games have been tentatively scheduled. In addition there will be one all-major league game.

Following is the schedule as announced today by Business Manager Roy Meehan:

March 25 and 26—Chicago White Sox vs. Cats.
March 27 and 28—Des Moines vs. Cats, tentative.
March 30 and 31—Columbus vs. Cats.
April 1—St. Paul vs. Cats.

Smith Forges Into Golf Lead

HILLCREST COUNTRY CLUB, Los Angeles, Jan. 9. (AP)—MacDonald Smith, a silent Scot from Carnoustie by way of New York and San Francisco, stepped out in front of 131 of his fellows today to lead the first round of the Los Angeles open golf championship with a sparkling 69.

The veteran, who tied for the open championship of the United States more than 21 years ago, gave no suggestion early in the day he was about to take the Hillcrest Country club's golf course apart later on. He was out in 37 strokes, two over par and good enough for an ordinary performer, but nothing to grow enthusiastic about.

Coming back, however, he took an amazing 32, four under par. Just behind the great Scot, Abe Espinosa, Chicago, Ky. Laffoon, Denver, Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles, formerly of Texas, Dallas Jeffers, Santa Ana, Calif., and Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J., were bunched at 70, a stroke better than par.

GOLF RECEIPTS DROP SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (AP)—Whether it was due to Bobby Jones' retirement from competition or merely the fact that fewer fans could afford the price of admission, receipts for the country's three major golf meets suffered a slump in 1931.

Figures released by the United States Golf association today reveal there was a fall-off of more than 60 per cent from the previous year, when Jones packed 'em in during his spectacular rush to the world's championship.

The Supply boys and the Texas company each won three straight games in the city bowling league Friday night. C. L. Stine of the fire department rolled high game of the night and season when he toppled 244 pins in the opening game. Lawson of the Supply boys was second high with 210 pins and Perry of the Texas company followed with 201 pins.

Class "D" Loops to Be Considered

PARIS, Jan. 9. (AP)—Organization of a Class "D" baseball league will be considered at Paris this afternoon of Jan. 17, when representatives of cities in the region meet.

The league plan is sponsored by W. E. Rutherford, Paris sportsman. He has proposed a salary limit of $1,200 monthly and a player limit of 14 men.

CHAMPIONS MATCHED

DALLAS, Jan. 9. (AP)—It was announced here tonight that the Golden Cyclones of Dallas, 1931 Girls' National A. U. basketball champions, will play the Wichita Kansas Thurston's here Jan. 22 and 23. Thurston was runner-up to the Cyclones in last year's national tournament. Both will be outstanding contenders for the 1932 National tournament here March 21 to 26.

LAWYERS ARE BUSY IN RING DELIBERATIONS

CHAMPION'S MANAGER IS BESET NOW WITH RED TAPE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (AP)—Sooner or later, half a dozen attorneys are going to stop arguing, get down to signatures, and Max Schmeling's 15-round title defense against Mickey Walker in Miami Feb. 25 will be something more than a topic of conversation.

It has got so now, what with the tremendous monetary value of the heavyweight championship, that the owners, before taking it into the ring, needs more lawyers to keep him free from entangling alliances than he does trainers and sparring partners to condition him for the battle itself.

The complicated situation, as far as Miami is concerned, has one enough to guarantee that the lawyers, who seem to be holding more of a filibuster than a series of conferences, will have talked themselves out by Monday.

The attorneys for Madison Square Garden of Florida have drawn up one set of contracts, Walker's legal advisers another, and the representatives of Schmeling, the champion, still a third.

Most of the variances seem to lie in the delicate shades of alliance between the Madison Square Garden of New York and its extensive system in Ohio, Illinois and Florida. The match will be prompted under direction of the Madison Square Garden corporation of Florida, but both warriors must be bound for future fights, in which the Florida garden may not have a hand.

TO STOP AT WELLS

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. (AP)—Chicago's White Sox will spend a week at Mineral Wells, Texas, before proceeding to their spring training camp at San Antonio this year.

The team will leave Chicago Feb. 24 and open its intensive baseball drill at San Antonio, March 3.

Texas Cagers in Arkansas Victory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Jan. 9. (AP)—Staging a bewildering passing and scoring attack in the final minutes, the University of Texas cagers beat the University of Arkansas tonight 27-25. Arkansas had won the first game of the series last night 24-21.

The Longhorns tonight overcame an eight-point lead late in the last half primarily as a result of the accurate shooting of Kubricht, lanky Texas center.

Arkansas wiped out a five-point lead to hold a 15-13 margin at the half-way mark. Clifton sank a couple of long ones and Sexton connected with the basket to increase the lead. Kubricht scored two field goals and five free throws in the last 10 minutes. He took scoring honors with 11 points. Sexton, Razorback center, left the game on personal fouls but not until he had accounted for 10 points.

The Forkers scored one more field goal than Texas, making 10 to nine for the Longhorns, but failed to make free shots count. Their floor work was erratic.

Frogs Are Beaten By Baylor Bears

WACO, Jan. 9. (AP)—The Baylor university Bears defeated the champion Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, 32-24, in a Southwest conference basketball game here tonight.

Some observers called it the greatest court contest ever played in Waco. Certainly for thrills it had seldom been equalled here.

In early Boston an unmarried woman of 30 was called a "thorn-back."

BAT BATTALINO GETS ANOTHER SCALE CHANGE

INJURIES KEEPING HIM DOWN

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. (AP)—Bat Battalino can grow into another Primo Carnera, if he wants to, but he will be recognized as world's featherweight champion by the National Boxing association for another four months at least.

If by the end of that time he cannot make the class limit of 126 pounds, something will have to be done about it.

This was the attitude of Gen. John F. Ciminin, president of the National Boxing association today in refusing to recognize the action of the New York State Athletic commission in stripping the rugged Hartford, Conn., Italian of his crown because of his failure to make the weight in his title bout with Lew Feldman in New York yesterday. Battalino, when he showed up to weigh-in, astonished everybody by scaling 135 3-4 pounds, nearly 10 pounds over the featherweight limit. The bout was called off.

General Ciminin understands Battalino was unable to train properly due to injuries, and therefore was unable to go through the grind of making weight. However, General Ciminin wrote Battalino's manager, asking if Battalino contemplated continuing in the featherweight ranks, or stepping into the lightweight division.

The New DODGE 6 and 8

With FLOATING POWER AUTOMATIC CLUTCH SILENT GEAR SELECTION and FREE WHEELING

A new achievement in silent, effortless motion and easy, positive control ..

DODGE proudly presents two new cars which give results so astonishing that no possible description can quite prepare you for the sensation you will get at the wheel.

Floating Power as applied to the new Dodge six- and eight-cylinder engines, produces a power flow so liquid, smooth that comparing it to electricity only partly does it justice.

The Dodge Automatic Clutch co-ordinated with the entirely separate Dodge Free Wheeling mechanism, enables you to drive without ever touching the clutch pedal.

You simply drive as though there were no clutch. You can shift to low, to second, to high—or back down again—at any speed, standing still, or under any circumstances whatever. Nor do you have to touch the clutch to reverse... the whole operation is completely automatic.

There are no extra things to learn. No extra pedals or buttons to push. No way to make a mistake. Driving is not complicated, it is simplified—to a point that engineers have often dreamed of, but never before achieved.

Nor is that all. Shifting is completely effortless with the Silent Gear Selector. You can move the shifting lever as easily and silently as you turn the page of a book. And Weatherproof Hydraulic Brakes of greatly increased size with new cast drums give braking control that is unequalled for ease of operation and equalized positive action.

A single control on the dash enables you to lock out both the Automatic Clutch and Free Wheeling—effecting instant to conventional drive.

Dodge is proud of these cars. Proud that they offer engineering progress that goes beyond everything that has previously been known. Proud of their beauty. Proud of their size and comfort. Proud of their already-proved factors of body and chassis design which give them highly advanced stability and safety.

Dodge is proud to invite you to drive these cars. Confident that their buoyant responsiveness, their silent, pulse-quicking pace will give you the most delightful experience you have ever had in a motor car.

Dodge commends them to you as a great forward stride in engineering—and more. With all of their advancements with all of their flashing speed, smoothness and lightning-quick responsiveness, they are true Dodge cars—economical to buy, economical to drive—typical products of Dodge Dependability.

For Dodge continues to believe that the most important thing about a motor car is that it be a good motor car.

There is only one way to appreciate what these cars are, what they can do, what they mean in terms of what the dollar can buy today. Take the wheel—the cars themselves will tell you.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE

BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANNIE, CECILY and MARY-FRANCES DENBROCK live with their grandparents, once wealthy, now so impoverished that Annie and Cecily's earnings support the household. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandmothers are known respectively as "ROSALIE" and "GRAND" and they insist on keeping up pretenses of their former wealth.

Anne, 25, and Cecily, 22, do secretarial work and Mary-Frances, 15, is still in school. When the story opens Anne has been engaged to PHILIP SCRIBNER, a young lawyer, for eight years.

Cecily brings HARRY MCKEEL home to dinner. She has known him only a short time but is falling in love with him. Mary-Frances and her friend, ERMINTRUDE, are excited about the arrival of a stock company near known as EARLE DE ARMOND. They meet him on the street next day and he speaks to them. Mary-Frances is thrilled, agrees to meet him that night after the performance.

Phil telephones Anne, asking her to go on a picnic. She refuses because it is her night to cook at home. Phil, angry, tells her that he is going to see her at the picnic.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIII

THREE more thrilled affirmatively before Mary-Frances turned from the telephone to Ann. "Mayn't I please go over to Ermintrude's for just half an hour? Please—"

"No," said Ann firmly. "You were there last night. I told you that I wanted you to help me this evening."

"But what in the world," asked Rosalie, though indignantly, "is this notion of yours about cleaning the hall tonight, Ann? Such an odd time to choose."

"May I?" whined Mary-Frances.

"No, dear," said Ann. "You may not."

"Darling," said Rosalie, the peace-maker perpetual, "ask your little friend to come here and visit you this evening."

"No," said Ann. "Mary-Frances must help me this evening."

Mary-Frances at the telephone wilted and drooped; desire for living went from her; she was abused, martyred, and this she gave to Rosalie, along with a quivering lower lip and a knuckle close to her eye ready to wipe away the tears that even her courage could not forestall.

Rosalie, sorrowful too with sympathy, said, "Dearest, tell your little friend that you will call her again in a few minutes, and we'll see." And Mary-Frances said, "Listen, Ermintrude, I'll call you back in a sec—I've not to hang on now," and replaced the receiver on its hook and looked malignantly at Ann.

"Ann, dear," Rosalie began, "don't you think it is just a bit selfish that because you have no engagements for this evening you should insist that Mary-Frances make none?"

"No," Ann said. "The hall must be cleaned, and I think Mary-Frances should be willing to help. It takes hours for one person to dust the grille work on the stairs, and—"

Rosalie inserted, "But why tonight? Isn't evening rather a strange time to begin house cleaning?"

"It is the only time I have."

"Now, now, Ann!" Rosalie shook a playful finger. "Don't you recall a little story or—um—something about the early bird?"

Ann did not answer that. She spoke, instead, to Mary-Frances. "I'm tired tonight, honey, and the hall must be cleaned. It has been needing it for weeks now, you know. If you really don't wish to help me, you needn't. Only—I sort of thought you'd rather help me than to have me do it alone."

"I guess I'd just as soon," said Mary-Frances. "All right, Ann, angel. I'll tell Ermintrude I can't."

GRAND cleared his throat and gestured detainingly toward Mary-Frances. "One moment, my darling," he said. "I fear that I have fallen far behind in this discussion and have, in consequence, failed of its conclusion. I do not question your motives, Ann—dear Ann—but I do question your decision. To clean the front hall at a late hour on a spring evening! The front hall. Suppose that guests should arrive in the midst of this process of cleaning. Suppose . . ."

He went on and on; but presently he asked a question with Mary-Frances' name in it and paused for an answer.

Ann had not been actually listening for some time. She had formed, forced, perhaps, a habit of looking attentive and of paying no more attention to him than she paid to other extraneous sounds. It saved trouble with her temper, and she rarely got caught, because she knew him and his speeches so well. She ventured, now, "Yes, Grand. Still, I do think that Mary-Frances is old enough to have some duties and some responsibilities."

"You are right in that. There can be no discussion of that. But I note that you evade my question. I shall put it differently. Who is to decide what these duties and responsibilities shall be? Of what they shall consist? In other words, do you little girls not forget, sometimes at least, that your Rosalie and Grand are still able to take their places—able and willing—as heads of this household? I am not criticizing. I understand only too well how this—I shall not call it thoughtlessness nor carelessness—on your part comes about. A desire to spare Rosalie and me is its source. I know. That I know. But our shoulders are still broad, and we are here with you children for but one purpose.

"Shift the burden, little Ann. Shift the burden. And now, Mary-Frances, with my full and free consent, and I trust with Ann's, you may telephone to your little friend and invite her here to your home to spend the evening with you."

Ann nodded and said, "All right, dear," to Mary-Frances, and Rosalie commented concerning how easy it was to have life flow along like a song. "It is only a matter," said Rosalie, "of our all singing together the same sweet little loving tune."

LETTY tossed away her cigarette, and Philip stopped being informative about birds and rose from the blanket spread over the wet grass to put his heel on the smoldering stub.

She said, "Oh, that's the third one I've made you stand up to put out, all in a row, isn't it?" and giggled a little. "I just don't seem to remember about forest fires and things."

"Quite all right," Philip answered, and sat down again opposite her with the same yard and a half of brown and red Indian blanket spaced between them.

Letty sighed, almost imperceptibly. She was coming to fear that, in spite of Mr. Eroy's good looks, she had made a mistake when she cut her date with Ken Smith to come out with him. So far he had been absolutely a flat tire, talking unaskedly of piston rods and scenery and birds. If she hurried, perhaps she could head him off before he got started again on mountain robins.

"Memory is kind of a funny thing, isn't it?" she offered. "Now, with me, I really have a wonderful memory—everybody says so—but I just don't remember anything that I don't think is important. Anything important I always remember. Like when I file a card—it is just like I filed it in my mind at the same time. I never forget it. And I'm the same way with names, and faces, and prices, and things I'm to buy, and all like that. Anything important I can always remember."

"And you don't consider forest fires important?" Philip smiled, though, as he questioned.

"Well, of course I do. But I know perfectly well that a fire wouldn't start out here now when everything is so wet. I'll bet anything you couldn't start one if you tried."

"It is the principle of the thing, isn't it?" Philip rebuked gently. "If one gets into the habit of throwing lighted cigarettes about when they aren't dangerous, one might easily forget at some time when they would constitute a real hazard."

LETTY sighed again, less imperceptibly. "I'm not much for forming habits myself," she said.

"Good!" Philip responded heartily, and added, "No—I'm sure you aren't," and looked again at her small neat head, with its red-gold hair that seemed to sparkle even in the shadows, and wondered again whether or not it smelled of soap. During the past half hour, since she had taken off her beret, he had been speculating about that gleaming young hair. It should not be perfumed; it should smell, cleanly, of soap.

She smiled at him engagingly. She had no notion why her remark about habits had pleased him, but his sudden enthusiasm was complimentary. He was the best-looking man she knew. He was positively better looking than Gary Cooper, and so distinguished. She'd bet he would be grand with necking—those firm lips under that handsome mustache.

"Tell me," he said half teasingly, "what are you much for?"

"I don't get you," she said, and went on to say quickly, "Do you know you are just terribly good-looking?"

"Thank you," he said. "It is very kind of you to say so. Do you know that you are extremely pretty? Now, then, you say that you aren't much for habits; tell me, what are you much for?"

His teasing brought the note of intimacy that had been so stupidly lacking until now. Her curiosities were acute, and her impulses were undisciplined. Two scurrying, jerking movements across the blanket brought her beside him, snuggled just under his shoulder.

"This?" she questioned. "How about you?"

Her lip paste was perfumed. Her hair smelled, disappointingly, of smoke.

Prairie Suit Is to Open Monday

Zella Reddick's suit for damages against the Prairie Oil & Gas company will be called for trial tomorrow morning in 114th district court. It is the first jury case on the docket.

The chief occupation of Judge E. F. Ritchey last week was to transfer cases from 114th district court to 31st district court. The court said that many cases have been transferred from one court to the other, back and forth, as many as four times. At the beginning of the week Judge Ritchey called the docket and set cases for the remaining seven weeks.

The judges of both 114th and 31st district courts live in Miami. Judge Ritchey was elected temporary judge of 114th district court last Monday. He will serve during the absence of Judge Clifford Braly, who has been ill for several months.

Mrs. Reddick in her petition alleges that her husband suffered injuries which proved fatal when he was struck by a motor vehicle belonging to the Prairie Oil & Gas company. The firm of Willis, Studer & Studer is representing her.

Jurors for the week are as follows:

W. W. Boyd, M. H. Washburn, N. S. Stelbrinck, G. S. Witt, W. J. Baird, C. E. Griffin, C. P. Powell, W. S. Sill, C. S. Meers, I. D. Hill, J. B. Green, H. M. Roth, C. O. Seeds, J. A. Ashby, H. G. New Pontiac Wins Public's Admiration At Pampa Agency

High public interest in the new Pontiac Six and V-Eight is reported by Marvin Lewis of the Pampa Motor company, where the 1932 models were placed on display Thursday.

Mr. Lewis asserts that the number of persons visiting his showroom during the day was the largest that has attended a new car showing in the history of his firm.

Several who had been waiting to see what Pontiac would offer this year placed orders for immediate delivery. Mr. Lewis said, while a number of others indicated that they intended to take delivery upon either the six or the v-eight before spring.

"The new stream lining and smart appearance of the new cars drew much favorable comment," said Mr. Lewis, "but I believe that they are making just as strong an appeal from a mechanical standpoint. Many people appreciate the economy that has been engineered into the high-powered motors of both cars, and they like, too, the ride control feature and the protection against shocks and sound that is provided by the rubber cushioning at 47 points in the chassis."

DEFINITION OF DRUNKENNESS VARIES IN LOCAL COURTS, AND OFFICERS USUALLY BELIEVED

How much liquor does a person have to drink before he or she is legally drunk?

A clever versifier once wrote, "he is not drunk who from the floor can rise again and drink once more, but he is drunk who prostrate lies and cannot either drink nor rise."

Temple Houston, son of Sam Houston and a famed lawyer in the Panhandle during the early days, in defending a man charged with intoxication once told a jury that a person is not drunk "until he is compelled to hold on to the grass to keep from falling off the ground."

More than ever before, that question has popped up in city and justice of the peace courts since the holidays. When times were better and pockets were well-stuffed with money, devotees of Bacchus when arrested by police or constables or officers of the sheriff's department pleaded guilty and paid fines.

But things are different now. Every pocket has a Hoover lining. Still, people will drink. Even when they spend all their money for liquor. Then they don't have enough money to pay the fine, and if they plead guilty they have to lie out their fine in jail.

"Only Two Drinks"

In the last 10 days, a dozen persons pleaded not guilty to charges of drunkenness and intoxication. If they were not able to make bonds they stayed in jail. During the holidays, a man pleaded not guilty, declaring that he had only two drinks. The judge interpreted this information as an admission of level.

McLean Citizens Protest Gas Bills

McLEAN, Jan. 9. (Special) — A mass meeting protesting high gas bills during December was held at the city hall Friday afternoon with Mayor D. N. Massay in charge.

A. J. Tillery, local manager of the McLean Gas company, was present and answered all questions asked by dissatisfied customers.

The city council, upon advice of the city attorneys, Calhoun and Thompson of Amarillo, passed an ordinance lowering the rate from 50 cents to 30 cents, but the company filed a bond with the state railroad commission and is charging the old rate.

Efforts are being made to secure an early decision from the commission.

Office of Tax Collector

PAMPA, TEXAS

January 9, 1932.

Mr. John R. Smith, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dear Friend:

Have you seen the new Pontiac?—If not it would pay you to look this car over. I was in the Pampa Motor Company where they now have the 1932 models on display and after carefully looking these cars over I can truthfully say that their motto is true—"Chief of Values."

Mr. Lewis tells me that the number of persons visiting his show room to see this new Pontiac were the largest that had attended a new car showing in the history of the Pampa Motor Company.

He also said several who had been waiting to see what Pontiac would offer this year placed orders for immediate delivery, while a number of others indicated that they intended to take delivery upon either the six or the V eight before spring.

And say Smith, speaking of style, the new stream lining and smart appearance of the new cars drew much favorable comment from many of the onlookers while I was in the show room. But I believe that they are making just as strong appeal from a mechanical standpoint.

If you want the surprise of your life by all means see the new Pontiac Six and V eight. With best regards to the wife and kiddies, I am,

Sincerely yours,
TOM W. BARNES.

MARKETS TODAY

Advance Of Grains Is Largely Lost

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. (P)—Steering almost parallel with the New York stock market, gains at first advanced today and then receded, with moderate losses the net result.

Contributing to late setbacks in wheat values, were indications of immediate heavy shipments from the southern hemisphere with Argentine offering wheat to Europe much cheaper than North America. Price upturns earlier received impetus from reports that Greece was negotiating for 18,000,000 bushels of United States farm board wheat, and that France might soon relax her wheat import restrictions.

Wheat closed unrestricted 1/2 to 3/4 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/4 to 1/2 down, oats 1/4 to 1/2 off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to 10 cents gain.

Predictions that corn receipts would be augmented by colder weather tended to minimize purchases of corn and oats.

Provisions averaged lower with hog values. January lard was offered at 4.97, the bottommost price since 1899.

Closing indemics: Wheat, May 55 1/2 to 55 3/4; July 55, 55 1/2, 56 1/4; Sept. 56 1/4, bids. Corn—May, 39 1/2, 40, 40 1/2, July 40, 42.

Domestic Bonds Show Net Rise

NEW YORK, Jan. 9. (P)—The stock market's rise was halted by profit-taking today, but domestic corporation bonds plugged away at the advance.

Week-end realizing sales affected shares rather generally, as was probably to have been expected after the three-day rally, although the market did not sell off until further gains had been made in the first hour. Net losses for leaders ranged from a fraction to two points, and brokers went home well satisfied with the week's result.

Germany's decision to notify the powers of her inability to continue reparations payments caused little or no surprise in banking circles here, for such a step has been regarded as inevitable.

Declines in stocks amounted to roughly a point for Bethlehem, General Electric, American Can, Westinghouse, North American, Consolidated Gas and International Telephone. U. S. Steel, as is usual when the tonnage report is hanging fire, was hesitant, up a point net at the best and off half a point net at the close. American Telephone and Allied Chemical each lost 2. Rails were quiet. Sales totaled 1,154,230 shares.

Foreign currency fluctuations were uninteresting. The pound was very steady, likewise the Reichsmark. French banks eased a trifle but the Yen and Canadian dollar firmed.

Gandhi Followers Best at Patience

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 9. (P)—Jubulore's nationalists won their "patience contest" with the police today but lost their position on the main street of the city, where they had been squatting since last Tuesday.

The contest started when police forbade a parade that had been scheduled by the Mahatma Gandhi followers, whereupon they settled in the middle of the road and refused to budge.

Police, working in shifts, kept guard over them night and day. Today the local magistrate decided the contest had gone far enough and gave the nationalists five minutes in which to clear out. They remained in their places until the police charged them with lathis (staves) and then, offering no resistance, they dispersed. Three leaders were arrested.

Rich Men Needed To Be Diplomats

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9. (P)—Night names became prominent tonight in widespread speculation on whom President Hoover might select to fill two vacancies in important ambassadorial posts.

Ambassador Dawes has announced his intention of resigning his post in London and the resignation of W. Cameron Forbes as ambassador to Japan is imminent.

Both positions require men of more than ordinary wealth, but the salaries are $17,500 annually, but the personal expenses involved in maintaining such a post run as high as $50,000 to $100,000 annually.

Among those who have been mentioned for the London post are Dwight F. Davis, who resigned today as governor general of the Philippines and William M. Butler of Massachusetts. Davis has been mentioned frequently in the past when there were rumors of Dawes' resignation. Davis has denied reports he might be selected. Butler is a former senator and chairman of the republican national committee.

went through without a ripple. There was no discussion.

Up to Committee

But the resolution committee at the next democratic national convention will have before it Raskob's proposal that the party pledge its members of congress to vote for a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people, the questionnaire giving the states the right to control liquor.

The committee approved a resolution by Byrd proposing that those states which gain representation in congress by the 1930 census receive proportionate increase in delegates to the convention, but that no state, losing under the new census, would lose delegates.

This added 54 delegates to the 1932 convention roll call. The increases were as follows: California 18; Connecticut 2; Florida 2; Michigan 2; New Jersey 4; New York 4; North Carolina 2; Ohio 4; Oklahoma 2; Texas 6; and Washington 2.

already by Mr. Hoover totaled more than seven billion dollars.

Speaker Garner of the house also referred to "big statements" on economy from the administration in urging consolidation of army and navy activities under a single head.

While Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, told a senate committee his measure to permit manufacture of four per cent beer would create a billion dollar industry.

Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, praised the economic result of such a move in the senate.

CONFESSION--

night, but not charged pending further investigation by Okmulgee county officers. An Okmulgee newspaper early today predicted enough evidence would be found to justify a grand jury investigation.

Witnesses at Henrietta, including Don Stormount, brother of the present sheriff; O. W. Meacham, first postmaster; and S. C. Boaz, first fire chief, told a representative of THE NEWS last night that they remembered the slaying of Walters, an Indian, and could not remember that the crime was ever solved. They also remembered the LeFors man who now claims to have killed Walters.

Brother Is Living

Walters is believed to have a brother living near Dewar, Okla., and he will be interviewed today by Oklahoma officers.

Of the witnesses named in the confession, one was killed in France and one lives in California. Two others are being sought. The confession grew out of a telephone call to Sheriff Blansett, who was asked to go to LeFors to hear the story. The document, bearing the signatures of the man, arrested by the sheriff and district attorney, was brief but frank.

If the man can be connected with the crime, there is reason to believe that he will have to stand trial, though the killing is dimly remembered.

by the height of the woods forest. "Dutch" began flying at Fort Worth in 1922. Over a year ago, Mr. Bartgis said that long ago he had quit counting the hours he spent in the air. However, as near as he could estimate at that time, he had about 4,500 hours to his credit. He held transport, mechanic, and private licenses. He was pilot of the Cree & Hoover plane for two years before taking it over for commercial purposes.

Mr. Bartgis is survived by his wife, son Raymond, both of Pampa, a daughter, Miss Duse Bartgis of Wichita Falls; his parents and two brothers at Cedar Vale, Kans., and another brother in the Hawaiian Islands. One year and three months ago, Cliff Bartgis, 14-year-old son of Mr. Bartgis was fatally injured in an automobile accident at Fort Worth.

The body of the veteran pilot is at the G. C. Malone funeral home. It will be sent to Fort Worth today for burial probably Monday.

Was Accommodating

Hundreds of Pampans have flown with "Dutch," as he was familiarly known here. He made emergency trips to Fort Worth for the Board of City Development. Mr. Bartgis advocated establishment of a permanent airport here. Many times he asserted that if Pampa had an airport, the Western Air Express planes would stop here for mail.

"Dutch" moved to Borge about four years ago. He had lived with his family in Pampa for three years. Not only was he known in aviation circles but all the oilmen in the country knew "Dutch." He was interested in oil development in Gray county with Graham, Cree and Hoover. Last Sunday he flew to Central Gray county to get some aerial pictures.

MARCH ON WASHINGTON IS SHOWN

Led by two flags to show that they were not Communists, these jobless men headed by Rev. James E. Cox, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church, Pittsburgh, D. C., to appeal to the federal government for aid. The view above shows the beginning of their parade in Pittsburgh. Rev. Cox said that many would be "marchers" were left behind because no transportation was available. Most of the marchers rode in automobiles, trucks and buses "loaned" to the movement.

Gravity Basis As Taken By Magnolia Encouraging Sign

No statement accompanied the Magnolia Petroleum's revised price schedule, which became effective Friday in the Mid-Continent and abolished the flat rate schedule set up last summer.

The flat rate schedule was agreed upon in an effort to cut down office expenses. The Magnolia met all increase prices made by other companies and sometimes went above posted prices. The new gravity price schedule posted made little difference in Gray county but did affect other sections of the area.

The highest gravity oil in this county will continue to bring 73 cents a barrel.

Home of Tomorrow To Be Of Steel

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. (P)—The home of tomorrow may be all metal and have conditioned air, flat roofs featuring elaborate sun bathing rooms, electric heating, and rugless, carpetless floors of rich design.

These were characteristics brought out by programs of research and experiment conducted by organizations interested in raising the efficiency of luxury and home living.

Growing out of these and other changes, but particularly the use of steel in house construction, may be drastic revisions in architectural styles for dwellings, the National Association of Real Estate boards indicates in a summarization of home-improvement trends.

The revival of the ceremony of bathing to the important niche it occupied in the Rome of Julius Caesar's day is seen in the increasing demand for bathrooms of palatial elegance, equipped with lounges, closets, and side rooms. Bath rooms in circular form are becoming more popular.

Truckers Opposed To Rate Increases

AUSTIN, Jan. 9. (P)—Declarations that any increase in transportation rates on commodities in less than carload lots would prove detrimental to both the rail and common carrier motor truck lines were made before the Texas railroad commission by truck operators today at the commission's hearing on the application of rail lines for a general increase in the tariff schedule on small shipments.

Truck operators declared an increase in rates would force shippers to purchase their own trucks and haul their own commodities, resulting in a loss of this business both to the railroads and common carrier truck lines.

OUTSIDERS GIVEN WORK

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 9. (P)—Delegates to the Mid-west Deep Waterway Labor conference here today denounced labor policies prevailing on federal construction projects.

The delegates charged that contractors on many federal projects, especially river development work, were employing "outsiders" rather than men living in the neighborhood of the work.

DRIVES ORGANIZED

AMARILLO, Jan. 9. (P)—One hundred of the 101 cities affiliated with the West Texas chamber of commerce have organized for the annual membership campaign of the regional organization, which opens January 18, it was announced here today by Maury Hopkins, assistant manager.

Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the Amarillo News-Globe and chairman of the affiliated towns' campaign committee, will leave Sunday for Sweetwater to attend a directors' meeting opening there next Monday.

Speaking of the Weather--

by Charles Fitzhugh Tolman of the U.S. Weather Bureau

WRITTEN EXCLUSIVELY FOR NINE SERVICE

DON'T SEE YOUR DOCTOR IF YOU FIND RED SNOW—IT REALLY OCCURS IN MANY PARTS OF THE U. S. AND EUROPE

The discovery of red snow is reported from time to time and is a subject of unending popular interest. Such snow occurs chiefly in the polar regions and among the snowfields of high mountains, though it has been observed occasionally at low levels.

De Saussure, in the 18th century, described its occurrence in the Alps. In 1818 Sir John Ross discovered the Crimson Cliffs on the northwest coast of Greenland near Cape York. The dark red snow of the cliffs, was many feet deep. Specimens of the melted snow that he brought home were found to owe their color to a minute organism.

Several other lowly species of animal and plant life impart to snow different shades of red, as well as green and yellow. Broad stretches of yellow snow were found on the ice of the Kara Sea by the Arctic expedition of the Duc d'Orleans; green and blue varieties have been encountered elsewhere.

Snow colored by dust is another story. Showers of reddish dust, to which southern Europe is much subject, are shown from the Sahara, and explain some cases of red snow in the Alps.

Patches of red snow sometimes occur in the mountains of Washington and Oregon. In July, 1911, vast fields of it were found in the Yosemite national park. The snow looked as if carmine ink had been spilled over it. Elsewhere in the same region a white snowfield was reddened, as if with blood, wherever the hoofs of the pack mules broke through the crust.

Apart from the various coloring organisms, snow is known to have extensive flora and fauna. Among its most remarkable inhabitants are the so-called "snow worms" that are sometimes strewn by the millions over the snowfields and glaciers of high mountain regions.

They dislike warm sunshine and burrow deep in the snow in the middle of the day. Tiny insects known as springtails may be seen by anybody who looks closely for them on the surface of melting snowfields in any part of the northern United States.

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 10, 1932.

NEW OFFICERS WILL BE ELECTED BY PAMPA STUDY CLUBS

FEMININE FANCIES

Girls, watch your step this leap year. Pampa bachelors do not object to proposals, but they reserve the right to say no. Also, some of them have fixed ideas about the kind of girl they would consent to marry.

Would Admire Her
"If any girl wanted to marry me, I would admire her for proposing," said one local bachelor. "Too many women conceal their attitude toward men. If one proposed, I would know definitely that she really loved me."

"Of course," he said, "I would say no if I didn't want to marry the girl—just as girls say no when that don't feel inclined to accept proposals. That is, I would if she didn't cry. Tears are my weakness. Ordinarily, I don't think a man can be trapped into marriage. He will not marry the girl he does not care for, whether it is leap year or not. For a man who is too timid to propose, leap year is a blessing."

Likes Pretty Teeth
The bachelor has a definite picture in his mind of the girl to whom he would be willing to say yes. "I would want the girl to be about 5 feet 6 inches tall and to have blue eyes—I simply couldn't fall in love with a brown-eyed girl. Her hair would not matter. Anything except platinum would be all right. I would not want her to be skinny. I prefer regular features, and I would like her to have regular teeth."

No Movie Pictures!
"I would not marry a girl who kept pictures of Gary Cooper or Robert Montgomery or any other movie star in her boudoir. There are some married women who do that. Imagine a husband having to look at such pictures all time!"

Must Have Intelligence
"Neither movies nor bridge will be the major interest of the girl I marry. I should want her to be cultured. Especially should I want her to appreciate music and literature without being a fanatic on these subjects. The girl I marry must have fixed opinions on some things. She must believe in something. She must appreciate the things I am interested in and must have some interests outside of mine. I'm not particular what these interests are—just so they are not bridge or the movies. Whether or not she was a lover of sports would make no difference to me."

"I would not marry a girl who laughed at me, no matter how laughable my actions might be. That is one of the most important things of all. The girl to whom I could say yes would be the one who would appreciate any creative effort I might undertake."

"I want the girl I marry to love children. My expectations would not be too much in regard to her knowledge of sewing, cooking, and other phases of home management, however. Most girls do not have time to learn these things before marriage."

A Single Standard!
"I expect the girl I marry to be of the same moral status as myself. If I drank one-fourth of a glass of wine, I would want her to drink just that much and no more. I prefer that the girl I marry does not smoke, although I would not be too strict about that. Certainly I would not want my wife to be of the 'flaming youth' type."

"I would appreciate also for my wife to like my friends, and if she did not like them I would not want her to try to separate me from those friends. Friends are invaluable. Without them, a couple will 'stiffen, like jello.'"

THIS DISTRICT TO HAVE BOARD MEETING SOON

WISE ECONOMY IS AIM OF PANHANDLE WOMEN

CANYON, Jan. 9.—The great January event for Texas club women is the laying of the cornerstone for headquarters permanent, which is to take place at Austin Jan. 11.

The Honorable Pat Neff, former governor of Texas, will deliver the principal address of the occasion. Mrs. J. W. Fincher, the new state president, will preside, while Mrs. R. F. Lindsay the recent past president under whose administration the building plans were perfected and the actual building begun will give an inspirational address.

Others who appear on the program that day are Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, P. W. McFadden, mayor of Austin, Mrs. James F. Welder chairman of the state headquarters committee and past president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

The laying of the cornerstone has been planned as a part of the mid-year meeting of the State Board and women representing clubs from every part of Texas will be present. A number are going from the seventh district.

When the beautiful headquarters is completed it will become the center of club life in Texas and will at the same time support itself through the income which it will produce.

On Jan. 21, when the seventh district board holds its mid-year meeting at Canyon, plans will be carefully drawn for a careful study of club activities in the district. It is the president's idea that the three and one-half months which intervenes before the district meeting can well be spent getting acquainted with the district, the remaining year and three-quarters of the administration to carry out the work found to be essential by the study.

The seventh district is so large that mid-year meetings have not always been very successful, but this year it is hoped that members of the board living near each other will plan to attend together, thus saving expense. Some entertainment will be furnished for them while they are in Canyon.

One of the aims of the seventh district for 1932 is "wise economy." Clubs all over the district are being urged to send their delegates to the meeting at Canadian. The district meeting is the place where unity is secured for the whole group, by the information which is given, and by the contacts that are made. Every club needs the broadening and encouragement which comes from contact with other clubs working with the same materials and the same difficulties.

Mrs. Tom E. Rose of Pampa, the program chairman is already at work to make the program this year fully worth the sacrifices necessary to attend the convention.

Clubs throughout the seventh district are invited to write the West Texas State Teachers college when they are seeking subjects for their study programs for the coming year. The service is free, except that when more than one copy of a given course is requested, the additional courses cost ten cents each—this price to take care of mimeographing costs.

This service was begun years ago through the request of a district campaign committee which was headed by Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude. Last year hundreds of copies of a course called "Texas" were supplied to clubs all over the state. The service is not limited to this district.

Mrs. C. W. Warwick of Canyon is secretary-treasurer of the seventh district. She brings long experience in club work to the duties of her office, having been a member of Canyon's oldest study club. The Woman's Book club, for many years. She has frequently attended district meetings. She is also well acquainted with problems of state government which are so closely related to club objectives, having been in Austin during the regular sessions of the legislature.

NEEDY AIDED

A good report on holiday charity work has just been made by Horace Mann school. The school sent 12 large boxes to families in this district. The boxes contained clothing, food, and toys that had been repaired by the pupils. Each box contained fruit. It was with the aid of parents and teachers that the contributions were possible.

THE midwinter holidays brought merry times for the Hollywood film colony with the gaiety reaching its height at the Mayfair club New Year's party. Here are some of the movie players at the party caught by the camera when they weren't acting. Above is Betty Compton with a noisemaker and a broad smile.

Washington Daybook (By Herbert Plummer)

WASHINGTON—When the democrats organized the cause the youthful Wright Patman of Texas had not as much cause for rejoicing as did some of the other gentlemen from the one Star State who sit with him.

It didn't mean the speakership for him as it did for Jack Garner. It didn't mean that at last he could take over the chairmanship of a powerful committee as it did for Sam Rayburn, Hatton Summers, Marvin Jones, and Joseph Mansfield—all Texans.

Patman had not been "in" long enough even to think of such things. A congressman must sit much longer than one term before big plums fall his way.

But democratic control of the house did mean one thing to this one-time farm boy from the sand hills of East Texas.

He could now speak "as one with authority" on that subject closest his legislative heart—full cash payment of bonus to ex-soldiers.

And young Mr. Patman is doing that very thing these days. Every time he can slip away from his office he has done so. Since the convening of congress he has managed to appear in as two widely separated cities as Boston, Mass., and Columbus, Ohio.

He doesn't flick an eyelash when he tells his listeners that it is possible for the government to pay at this time an estimated two billion dollars or more to world war veterans.

He seems firm in the belief that Secretary Mellon, as he says, "deliberately and wilfully created a deficit in the treasury" to defeat legislation authorizing payments to veterans. And he charges that Mellon did so by making payments on the national debt in excess of what the law required.

Patman is perhaps the champion "panner" of "Uncle Andy" Mellon in the house.

Jack Garner used to be, but since his elevation to the speakership he'll probably not be as outspoken. Perhaps he is satisfied with the way his fellow Texan is doing the job.

At any rate he has gotten as far as threatening to bring impeachment proceedings against "Uncle Andy."

ABOUT NEW YORK (By William Gaines)

NEW YORK—That hollowed-out stretch of earth immediately north of Grand Central station is frequently in a tremor.

Low rumbles emit from the maze of railroad trackage under foot and the thundering horde of motors on Park avenue contributes to the shakiness.

That judge who held nudism an innocuous practice overlooked one evil consequence of the cult rites getting wide publicity. A thousand slightly dissimilar jokes were hatched over night, all of them having to do with the cult being a haven for victims of the times who lose their shirts.

A rather obscure Wall Streeter asked me to drop in and hear him expound his ideas about post-election prosperity. He gave a regular stump speech for me, all by myself, as an audience. I managed to stay awake long enough to get in the question, "Yes, but suppose your party doesn't win?"

"What?" he screamed. "You ask if the party can't win with all these ideas I've involved?"

But that's nothing. You can find several fellows down on the street who've worried so much they're about ready for the asylum's Napoleon colony.

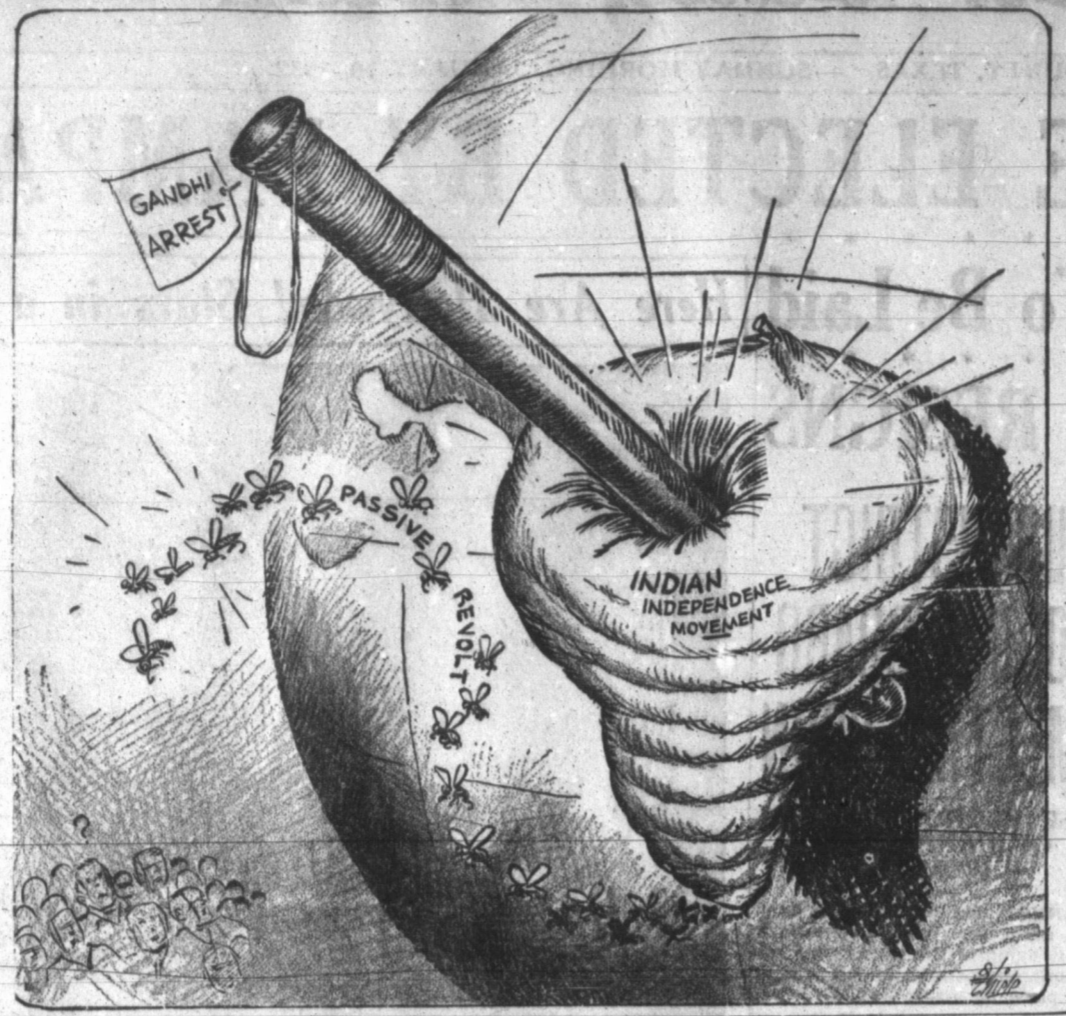

Unknown New York You hear tell that New York is only a village after all. But it's doubtful if there's another village—or city—any place where so many people live for a long time and gain only the faintest conception of places prominently known by name.

Persons live in, work in, and become familiar with a limited sphere. The rest of the five vast boroughs is as foreign to them as Delaware or Denmark.

The average Manhattanite only goes to Brooklyn under compulsion and afterwards tries to forget the experience. As he dimly remembers it, Brooklyn Bridge is somewhere south of Wall street. Well, it isn't, but that's just an example.

A writer says Poland is rattling the saber. So is Japan, and if India starts, it's likely to become a racket.

A HORNET'S NEST

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY By O.E.H.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS THINK

HERE'S THE SILVER LINING!

As the year of 1931—a crackerjack cotton production year as far as the South Plains is concerned—draws to a close, the folks in this neck of the woods would get a chuckle out of a recent comment in Collier's magazine. Sent The Morning AVALANCHE by a subscriber, the comment runs as follows:

"Mr. Dudley V. Haddock, of Little Rock, Ark., reports by air mail that a farmer with a wagon-load of cotton struck a match on the back of his seat, lit his pipe, smote his mules and drove a mile before discovering that he had ignited his cotton.

"However," sighs Mr. Haddock, 'the fire was extinguished before it could do much good. Only half of the load was destroyed!'"

Mr. Haddock and Collier's are dolorous over the cotton situation, and well they may be. But we see just an edge in the silver lining as it peeps out of the clouds of depression.

The Arkansas farmer was driving mules—which indicates that he is raising his own transportation fuel—and that's something in this day of chequered agriculture!—AVALANCHE, Lubbock.

THE WAYS OF CROOKS

An interesting sidelight on the ways of professional criminals is given in a magazine article which declares that cities where these gentry habitually congregate to spend their loot are seldom the scene of their banditry.

The writer cites the case of Toledo, long known as being unusually free from underworld crime, yet all the time the rendezvous for safecrackers, hold-up men and other desperate crooks. It was an unwritten law among them that no "jobs" were to be pulled off in Toledo, and although the police knew of their presence, they were not molested, because, as the chief said: "We never bother them, because they never bother us."

Finally a new public commissioner was appointed, and when he learned of the situation, he ordered a cleanup. Then, to quote the article: "There were immediate retaliations. Safes began to explode like firecrackers on the Fourth. Hold-ups became as common as measles. Cops shot crooks and crooks shot cops. Today Toledo is no longer immune."

One difficulty said to be experienced in catching present-day criminals of the professional class is that many of their old underworld haunts which were formerly well-known to the police have been broken up. The crooks are scattered throughout the cities, often living in comparative security in high-class neighborhoods. Thus a new and serious complication of the criminal problem has arisen, for which no solution appears to be forthcoming.—LEADER, Wellington.

A TRIUMPH FOR PEACE

The naming of Mary Erma Woolley to American delegation to the arms conference at Geneva is hailed throughout the country as a triumph of feminism. We believe it very probably can be heralded as something immeasurably more, another victory for the forces of peace.

We do not know the attitude of the woman delegate toward international politics, toward war, or toward disarmament, but we do believe that the advent of women into international affairs holds the promise of progress toward peace.

At least there need be no fear that anything is to be lost. Men have accomplished little in the improvement of international relations during the last decade. We thought we had when the League of Nations, World Court and the Kellogg pact seemingly were gaining support, but now that they have failed to settle amicably, or even retard, the progress of an aggressor nation through a country at its mercy, we begin to realize that we have been deceiving ourselves.

Perhaps a woman's sympathy for all humanity, her instinctive recognition that it is her function to give life rather than take it, and her delicacy of touch will bring to international conferences a viewpoint long needed in the interests of humanity.—RECORD, Vernon.

Pep Squads Under Rules GRADES MUST BE KEPT HIGH

Supt. Fisher Is Re-Elected Secretary of District 1 in Plainview Meeting.

Pep squad members in high schools must hereafter meet the same scholastic requirements as athletic contestants, it was reported by Supt. R. B. Fisher yesterday after his return from the Plainview Interscholastic League meeting.

The girls must pass in three subjects the preceding semester and be passing in at least three subjects seven days preceding any given contest at which they perform.

In the future, grade teachers will be allowed to purchase football tickets at student prices. The district will close the time for reduction in amounts paid football officials, excepting holidays and crucial games. Hereafter, entertaining teams will pay expenses of 25 visiting players. The dismissal bell at the close of school Friday afternoon will be the time for considering eligibility of a player for the following week.

Complimentary tickets will be limited to school board members, their wives, active board members, team physicians, football squad, members of the home junior high, senior high squads who are members of Class A district 1 teams, home college teams including coaches, ministers and their wives, press reporters, and uniformed pep squad members of participating schools.

All games resulting from ties will be played strictly according to Interscholastic League rules. In case of a three-corner tie, the "round robin" system will be used and will not affect interchange of games. A trophy will be awarded the district winner.

Borger was automatically admitted to Class A by reason of having more than 500 persons in high school. Coaches Chapman, Mitchell and Cherry were appointed to investigate methods of lettering athletics. Supt. M. H. Duncan of Lubbock was re-elected secretary of the district. Supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa was re-elected secretary. The next meeting will be early in September.

New Members in Hearts Tourney

Otto Studer and Siler Paulkner were initiated as contenders for the trophy in the hearts tournament that has been in progress in the Cook-Adams addition for several months. The session was held this week at the home of Clarence Barrett. Ivy E. Duncan won the trophy again.

The man who wins the trophy twice in succession will gain permanent possession of it. The trophy is an ash tray surmounted by a statue of Venus (with the arms). Several weeks ago, John Sturgeon robbed the nude statue with a grass skirt of his making after Mrs. John B. Ressey refused to let the men folks bring the trophy in the house.

CITY WILL BE REPRESENTED IN SANTA FE BOOK

Pampa will be placed before the eyes of thousands of people during the next few months. The Pampa Board of City Development will use space in a Santa Fe book to be printed in March. Ralph Purcell, representing the Santa Fe, was in Pampa yesterday. George W. Briggs manager of the B. C. D., is preparing the data.

The railway company will print 350,000 copies of the book. They will be placed on every pullman and chair car operated by the company. Copies also will be placed in every depot and information stand along the entire line. Thousands of copies will be placed in exhibits at the World Fair in Chicago. Every organization that ships over the Santa Fe will receive copies.

The book will be leather bound and beautifully printed. It will contain information about all the important cities along the routes. Pampa's data will tell about buildings and industries. It will carry a picture of the "million dollar row."

Yearbook Plan Is Evolved By Pupils

Pupils in room 70 of the Junior high school are always doing something different. Week before last they issued a newspaper.

Last week, they completed a yearbook of room 70 English club. The students solved the problem of distributing the single yearbook in a unique and tender manner. It was decided that Audie Mae Myatt, president of the class, shall be custodian of the book for the next five years. During that period of time, the pupils will keep in touch with her. At the end of five years, the yearbook will be sent to each member of the class that is living. Every member may keep it for several days before sending it to the next one.

The yearbook is filled with pictures, a record of events, and the usual departments in an annual.

Glen Gatlin of the Triangle ranch who suffered the loss of the first finger on his right hand while he was handling pipe at a water well on Jan. 2, was discharged from the Worley hospital yesterday.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

(Editor's Note: The following editorial appeared last week in the Pine Bluff (Ark.) Commercial and because of its vital and timely application to Pampa and other cities of the smaller class in population in the Panhandle we reproduce it in The NEWS)

The city of Pine Bluff before January 1 will lose approximately $100,000.

If some public official should appropriate a like sum of your tax money to his own benefit, pleasure and enjoyment, or if some concern, in which the public has invested hard earned money, should fold up and quit business, the rumblings of protest would be heard at Mars.

Neither of these things are going to happen in the way I have mentioned here. But the city of Pine Bluff, which is you, your neighbor, your doctor, your merchant, your grocer, is going to lose approximately this amount, not through the dishonesty of some public official, not because of bad investments, but because this amount or more will be taken from your city and spent with merchants in Little Rock before the first of the year.

Now wait a minute ladies—I'm not going to tell you to trade at home and I know what's on the tip of your tongue this very minute. You are going to say, 'I can't get what I want in Pine Bluff, and anyway I have a right to spend my money where I please.'

First I'm going to concede that Little Rock merchants provide a wider variety of merchandise. But the Kansas City STAR, New York TIMES, and thousands of other papers are conceded to be better papers than the Pine Bluff COMMERCIAL.

These papers have many more advantages, including hundreds of thousands more potential subscribers, etc. However, living in Pine Bluff, maybe unfortunately for you, you must read local papers instead of the Daily Kansas City STAR or The New York TIMES.

This is a challenge to the women of Pine Bluff... and it is not in any way an effort to place the blame on them. For the enormous amount of money, and it is around the million dollar mark, that goes to Little Rock merchants annually from Pine Bluff, we are all to blame.

There have been merchants in Pine Bluff whose wives have bought shoes in Little Rock.

There have been public officials, living on your tax money, whose children have bought shoes in Little Rock.

There have been merchants in Pine Bluff, who have bought automobiles in Little Rock. But this is not an attempt to act as a tribunal, sitting in on a hearing to determine the guilt or innocence of any one. It is merely a humble effort to bring the potential buyer and local merchants together for the mutual good of all.

We are going to ask the people of Pine Bluff, who earn their living here to make every honest effort to spend their money with local merchants. We are going to ask the merchants to make every effort to give the best possible service.

To the merchants, we want to say there is plenty of room for improvement. Just as an illustration, a local woman searched the town high and low for a zipper suit for a small boy. She not only failed to find one but no effort was made to secure one for her. The clerk merely informed her that they did not have it and ended the negotiations with a half-hearted "thank you, call again."

Maybe I'm wrong, but a zipper suit is not an uncommon piece of merchandise. If it is, then some offer should have been made to get one for the customer. That nine or ten dollars will have to be sent to Little Rock, lost forever to Pine Bluff.

Three years ago it didn't make much difference where we traded. But today, we are faced with a crisis. The money you spend in Little Rock would help keep your husband at work. And that's something else to think about.

Money is worthless except as it flows through the channels and arteries of trade. It has no value, except as a medium of exchange. A city or town is identically the same as a professional poker game. As long as the money remains around the table, every player has an equal opportunity to acquire it. But the money taken out by the man running the game is lost to the players. For years Little Rock has been cutting our game. Every dollar it takes out of the game, leaves every man and woman in Pine Bluff that much poorer. I don't care what your business or occupation may be, as long as you earn your living in Pine Bluff you have that much less chance of acquiring that dollar that is gone forever.

I have heard it said, and so have you, that Pine Bluff never will be a city because it is too close to Little Rock. That's not what Fort Worth, Texas, said. That city is just about 30 miles from Dallas on a smooth hard-surfaced highway, but Fort Worth is growing by leaps and bounds. Fort Worth people believe in Fort Worth. They won't concede Dallas one thing.

I'm sure that people who make their living in Pine Bluff are interested in the town's welfare. They must be if they are interested in their town. Let's give it a trial. If you can't get exactly what you want in Pine Bluff accept the next best thing offered. That is what you are doing with your papers, your shows. You can't get a meal cooked by the greatest chef in the United States, so you eat beefsteak, soubelby, pot-likker, cornbread and butter-milk and enjoy it.

Now that it's Leap Year, women can propose. After the last couple of years, men will be glad to have them propose almost anything.

And then, of course, in the years to come the men who accept Leap Year proposals can always say they were sweet and young and that worldly women talked them into it.

Half Day's Good Weather Is Needed In Highway Paving

Give workman on the LeFors road one-half day of pretty weather after the snow has melted, and they'll finish paving the 2.1 mile stretch, County Engineer A. H. Doucette said yesterday. Te Stuckey Construction company lacks only 300 feet of having the stretch paved, Mr. Doucette said.

The paving is now opened to the Combs-Worley pasture. On Monday, Mr. Doucette will submit plans and specifications for grading and draining a little less than four miles on the McLean-LeFors road, to the county commissioners at their regular session. Plans are for the strip of road from the McClelland creek bridge north of the Back filling station and west, connecting with road that has already been graded. This will be the last stretch on the LeFors-McLean road to be prepared for paving.

International bankers deserve censure for their high-pressure methods of encouraging huge loans which take American dollars abroad (with little security behind them). An example is a $100,000,000 loan to Peru. A New York banking house paid the son of a former Peruvian president $415,000 as a commission for promoting the huge loan. Now the loan payments are in default. No wonder the farmer howls when cancellation of war debts is mentioned.

Bring Him West
Somebody ought to invite Raskob west of the Mississippi. He is convinced that only an anti-prohibition (or referendum, which is similarly interpreted) stand will save the democratic party—this despite its annihilation at the last general election. The wealthy contributors to, and creditors to, the party are not the proper ones to decide its issues. They do not properly represent the territory from which the party draws its major voting support.

Dancer-Producer Will Open School

Leslie Nurnie, dancer and producer, who appeared at the La Nora theater in a New Year's show, will open a school of dancing at the ball room of the Schneider hotel Wednesday. Classes will be conducted each Wednesday and Saturday.
He was with Fanchon and Marco, Hollywood producers, with Harley Sadler, and has produced choruses in the Russian Village night club, Denver. He also created the Tulsa Follies.
Instruction will be given both in classes and in private.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Parker at Pampa hospital on Friday.
