Wine and Beer Men Plan Campaign

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Turned down so far by the house, the unofficial committee for modification of the Volstead act in the lower body of congress will begin an investigation of its own into prohibition. March 31 was set as the date.

SHOWERS OVER WHOLE SECTION BREAK DROUGHT

A slow rain, in some places a steady all-day drizzle and in others half an inch or more, yesterday fell over the South Plains within a radius of 75 miles of Lubbock, breaking the long drought, and sending a wave of optimism sweeping over the land where farmers have been plowing in hard ground, praying for moisture to aid in the development of the thousands of acres of new land that are going under the plow this season.

SLOW DRIZZLE ALL DAY REACHES THIRD OF AN INCH IN LUBBOCK

The rain reached Snyder on the southeast, according to traveling men, and to Amarillo to the north. Tahoka reported a half inch. Abernathy placed the same estimate on the rain there. Littlefield, Balls and Lanessa all experienced steady drizzles. Brownfield reported a good rain. At Lubbock, starting with a steady drizzle in the morning, the rain fell more heavily during the afternoon, the official rain gauge reading at nightfall being .35 of an inch. Rain falling late last night.

Small Grain Helped

County Agent David F. Eaton stated last night that while the small grain acreage in Lubbock county amounts to not more than 6,000 acres at this season, this crop has been helped and if rain continued will be given such good start as to mean greater progress in this section the crop passes through its most hazardous stage at this season, and of good moisture is given now the crop may be looked upon as having good possibilities of bumper production. It was pointed out.

Half Inch Rainfall Reported at Floydada

FLOYDADA, Ark. 3.—Rain began falling here early today and at four o'clock it appears to be getting heavier. The precipitation here is about half an inch. Grain crops have been greatly benefited and it appears that the long drought has at last been broken. Roads are very slick and many autoists have been stopped here until fair weather.

Miss Johnson Given "Wonderland" Shower

An "Alice in Wonderland" party and shower was given at the Lubbock Country Club Wednesday afternoon complimenting Miss Alice Johnson who is to be married March 23.

Mr. Frank Jones, a charming trio of girls were hostesses, Misses Lula Mae Cravens, Kathryn Atkins and Margaret Smith.

The color motif of orchid and green was used for decorations, score pads and favors. The pencils represented orchid tulips with green stems. The score cards were bewitching little Alice in Wonderland dressed in green and orchid aprons.

In the bridge games Mrs. D. K. Bondurant won high score, receiving a growing orchid colored tulip in a hand painted green jardiniere, which she presented to the honoree. The refreshments consisted of green ice frozen in the form of tulips, individual cakes with orchid icing and salted nuts in tulip cups. The favors were orchid tulips in green flower pots with the name of the honoree inscribed.

Before the arrival of the guests a fairy like scene representing wonderland had been arranged in one of the drawing rooms. The entrance to Wonderland was entwined with orchid and green and at the precise moment out popped the White Rabbit (Miss Betty Jean Jones) and presented "Alice" with a mysterious letter instructing her the most direct day to enter Wonderland.

Following him through the rabbit hole Alice found a world of beautiful and exquisite gifts, which the guests were allowed to watch her open and her examination.

Those who enjoyed this most delightful affair were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. J. S. Johnson, and Mesdames W. B. Powell.

School Luncheon of Child Important as Breakfast or Supper

Planning a luncheon for the school child is just as essential as planning his breakfast or his dinner. The modern mother knows that the lunch in one of three meals, which the boy or girl needs and not merely a bite or sip of something.

School luncheons should be planned in relation to the whole day's menu, taking into consideration the child's caloric needs. Otherwise the boy or girl's health must inevitably suffer.

The following menu and recipe which have been carefully prepared with an eye to dietetic values, are suggested as an aid in preparing the child's noontime luncheon:

Menu No. 1
Orange Soup
Cream of Tomato Soup
Baked Potato
Prune Whip
Peach Salad
Cocoa

Cream of Tomato Soup
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
2 cups parsley
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup celery
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup salt

12 cups corn
4 slices
1 slice onion
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup thin white sauce

Roll the tomato with all the seasonings for five minutes and strain through a sieve. There should be two cups of pulp. Pour the tomato pulp slowly into the white sauce. Serve immediately.

White Sauce
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup salt

Melt the fat in the top of the double boiler, add the salt, flour and pepper and mix thoroughly. Do not let the flour brown. Add the diluted milk and stir constantly until smooth and thick. Place over a pan of hot water and continue cooking for ten minutes. This makes 1 1/2 cups of white sauce.

Baked Potato
Select good-sized, smooth-skinned potatoes for baking. Wash and score a cap on top of potato. Bake in a 45° F. oven until tender. Remove cap and scoop out inside, add butter, salt, pepper and enough evaporated milk that has been diluted with an equal quantity of water to moisten. Effil shell and sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika. Brown in oven. Chopped nuts may be added to the mashed potato mixture.

Prune Whip
1 1/2 cups prunes
2 cups water
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup vanilla

Sugar to sweeten
1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup salt

Soak prunes over night in cold water. Cook five minutes, add sugar to suit taste and cook two minutes longer. Remove prunes from their liquid and pit. Chop, add lemon juice and let cool. Combine evaporated milk and cream and chill. Whip until stiff. Fold prunes lightly into the whipped cream. Pipe lightly in serving dishes and keep chilled until ready to serve.

Cocoa
1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water

1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water

1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup water

NO CANDIDATES ANNOUNCED FOR CITY ELECTION

PRESENT OFFICIALS ARE NONCOMMITTAL WITH NEW MATERIAL NOT NAMED

The best information available yesterday concerning the city election that will be held here next month showed little or no plans for an election as yet formulated, with the present members of the city commission including Mayor Friend non-committal about their plans.

It has been stated by close friends to the mayor that he could not be induced to again make the race for Mayor, with some of those who have taken for granted that he will not make the race showing a great deal of favor toward Pink L. Parrish at the next holder of that important office.

Parrish, according to his close friends, has repeatedly refused to make any statements about his holding the office and in the event he cannot find it possible to give time to the office some other material must be looked to fill the office in the event Mayor Friend remains firm in his decision not to make the race.

A number of inquiries have been received at the Avalanche about the possibility of there being some changes in the city commission this year, but with those now holding those offices refusing to make any statements about their plans—with intimations that the work demands too much of their time to retain their offices, it looks as though speedy selection of candidates will have to be made if any special interest is to be taken in the race.

The April election is but a few days away, and a number of Lubbock people, especially those eager to have the present incumbents of the offices retained, are restless about the situation.

Street Commissioner R. W. Blair stated yesterday that he has not given the impending election any serious thought, and when interviewed by a member of the Avalanche force had a great deal to say about the heavy demands that are made by the office, intimating that he will not again be a candidate for that place.

In the meantime a change in the board of city development, chamber of commerce and city management, will naturally occur, as Manager A. R. Davis, who is now at the head of these three offices, has promised to serve at the head of all of these institutions only until in April, when his entire time will probably be devoted to the city management or to the management of the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Dohoney Hostess At Two Lovely Parties

Mrs. E. L. Dohoney was hostess at two delightful parties Wednesday, the first a bridge luncheon, entering the club to which she belongs, and in the evening she was hostess to another group of friends.

Sweet peas in all the delicate shades were used in decoration and a particularly delicious luncheon of crab baken in the shell, tiny peas, hot rolls, nut bread, tomato salad, salted nuts, candied orange peel and coffee, was served. Mrs. Dohoney was assisted by Mrs. Charles Mahoney.

Among the members of the Wednesday Luncheon Bridge Club in the afternoon Mrs. Homer L. Pharr won high score and Mrs. Thomas Stone was lucky in the cut. Both received dainty embroidered towels.

The afternoon guests were Mesdames Thomas Stone, J. H. Jenkins, Homer L. Pharr, Louis Moore, Sproule, H. D. Chipley, Murray Jones, Garland Woodward, Robert Higgins, E. T. Adair, Frank Clarke, W. H. Meador.

The guests who played in the evening were Misses Johnnie McCrea, Frances Whatley, Elizabeth Stafford, Senator and Mrs. Bledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Freeland, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Leitigh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Mahoney.

D. A. R. MEETING TO BE HELD TODAY

The women who are members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and those who are eligible will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Gus L. Ford, 201 E. Main St. A Lubbock chapter of D. A. R. will be organized and all who are eligible to join are cordially invited to the meeting.

19TH STREET CHURCH SOCIETY

The women of the 19th street Methodist church met Monday, Mar. 1st at 2:30 p. m. and held a very interesting business meeting.

The ladies all seemed enthusiastic about the work.

Mr. Bonds took the chair in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Ross led the devotional.

We urge all the ladies of the church to come and be with us next time.—Reporter.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT GEO. M. HUNT BUSINESS MEETING

The Geo. M. Hunt P. T. A. will meet in business session this afternoon at 8:30.

The beautiful program that was to have been given by Miss Pryor's pupils at the club's last social meeting and that was postponed on account of sickness will be given this afternoon.

We gladly welcome the mothers of this school and especially do we desire the presence of those mothers whose children are assisting in the entertainment.

CLUB COMMITTEES TO MEET FRIDAY

Committees from the women's clubs of Lubbock will meet at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the Baptist Church for the purpose of discussing the proposed club house.

PERSONALS

C. H. Burrus and little daughter, Ruth, of Abilene, are in Lubbock visiting Mr. Burrus' brothers, Claude and Jim Burrus. They are also visiting Mr. Burrus' daughter, Mrs. Elmo Caudle of Hale Center.

Mr. and Mrs. George Atkins of Cisco are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Atkins of Lubbock. Mr. Atkins is with the Dean Drug Co. of Cisco.

Dr. Kate Castleman is very ill, being confined to her home with pneumonia.

NO ANNOUNCEMENT ON HOFFMAN SETTING

AUSTIN, March 3.—Attorney General Dan Moody, Assistant Attorney Ernest May and representatives of the Hoffman Construction company were in conference here today in another effort to come to an agreement in the suit brought by Moody against the Hoffman company in which he seeks to recover approximately $421,000 of alleged excess payments on road contracts.

No announcement was made at the end of the conference.

Find Girl's Body San Antonio River

By United News
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 3.—The body of Miss Wilma Stevens, 17, who has been missing since Tuesday night, was found in the river here today.

The girl disappeared from a parking lot shortly after she had quarreled with a man and woman, and two children whom she had been with.

ANY DEVELOPMENTS CONTEMPLATED BY THE SANTA FE MUST OF NECESSITY GO OUT OF SLATON DOPSTER DECLARES

Special to The Avalanche.

SLATON, March 3.—The Santa Fe railroad is carrying on its building program rapidly here. At the present time a crew is beginning the building of three one hundred car tracks that are to be used as an addition to the divisional switch track. A huge ditcher is at work cutting down an embankment on the side of the track, and the ties for the new track, along with a part of the rails already been laid. The rest of the rails are to be laid as rapidly as the ground can be put into condition.

Another work of the Santa Fe has been that of building a 1,000 foot delivery track up the center of the city. The track is laid so that cars may be loaded and unloaded from either side. Since this track runs very close to the business section of the city and since loading may be accomplished with such ease, it is a decided advantage to the town, and a great step forward in the part of the Santa Fe in developing their interests in Slaton.

Railroad men who are in touch with the situation, take this building on the part of the Santa Fe as an omen of future good, for the city of Slaton and the entire Slaton division. It is well known that not long since a survey was run out of Post toward Fort Worth, in the interest of the new Santa Fe line that is soon to be constructed. Although no official information has been given out by the railroad, it is the general consensus of opinion that the results from that survey were very favorable.

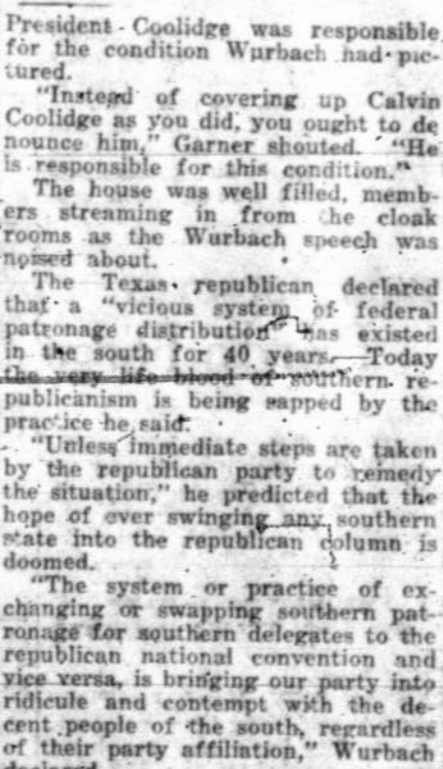

A study of the Santa Fe system of the South Plains plainly shows that a railroad built from the Pallas to Fort Worth and Dallas, must necessarily go through Slaton and must branch from some point South of the division point. A line built from any other location on the Santa Fe's Plains line would mean that a long and expensive haul would be necessary. The back haul would vary if the Fort Worth line was built from any one of the two or three other proposed routes but in every case it is apparent.

Another thing which the Santa Fe is known to have taken seriously into consideration, is that of the location of the divisional offices, shops, and round house at Slaton. The divisional point was named first and Slaton was built afterwards; the divisional point was placed where it was, according to the Santa Fe, due to the exact location with regard to the spot between Clevis, Amarillo and Sweetwater. So long as these three cities remain at their present geographic location, the divisional point must remain the same, so the new line to accommodate and be accommodated by the Slaton division facilities, which represent millions of dollars in investment, must be constructed South of the city of Slaton.

Further building which is now rumored in Slaton, is believed to be an established fact; but as the railroad has not confirmed its construction officially, no newspaper report can authentically be given on its details.

Pretty Accessories to Make at Home in Leisure Hours

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

WURZBACH

President Coolidge was responsible for the condition Wurzbach had pictured.

"Instead of covering up Calvin Coolidge as you did, you ought to denounce him," Garner shouted. "He is responsible for this condition."

The house was well filled, members streaming in from the cloak rooms as the Wurzbach speech was noised about.

The Texas republican declared that a "vicious system of federal patronage distribution" was existing in the south for 40 years. "Today the very life blood of southern republicanism is being sapped by the practice he said.

"Unless immediate steps are taken by the republican party to remedy the situation," he predicted that the hope of ever swinging any southern state into the republican column is doomed.

"The system or practice of exchanging or swapping southern patronage for southern delegates to the republican national convention and vice versa, is bringing our party into ridicule and contempt with the decent people of the south, regardless of their party affiliation," Wurzbach declared.

Wurzbach said Daugherty and Cregar had aided in the defense of P. W. Reeves, his own former private secretary, who said, had sold to political enemies "hogus" leader in which Wurzbach was represented as attacking President Harding.

Dead "Wolf" Gets Returns on Kindness

By United News
ATLANTA, GA., March 3.—John W. Worthington, the "wolf of La Salle street," will be saved from an obscure grave in the prison cemetery here by a man he befriended in his days of affluence.

Warden Snook of the federal penitentiary, where Worthington died Tuesday after a paralytic stroke, said late Wednesday afternoon that the "wolf's" body would be sent to Montgomery, Alabama, tomorrow morning.

"A friend there has asked to be permitted to bury Mr. Worthington," said Warden Snook.

Snook refused to disclose the friend's name but volunteered the information that it was one whom the famous speculator befriended while heading a string of banks in Alabama.

Neither of Worthington's two daughters claimed the body.

Floydada People Planting Large Number of Trees

Special to The Avalanche.

FLOYDADA, March 3.—Floydada did not have a tree planting week this year, but a surprising number of trees have been planted by individuals and different organizations. An estimate of the number of trees sold here would reach above one thousand. One firm was unable to furnish all the Ash Trees that were ordered.

By sponsoring a tree planting movement, the Parent-Teachers association, under the leadership of Mrs. G. V. Smith, have had eighty trees planted on the South Ward school ground. These trees were contributed by Mrs. P. M. Smith, of Floydada. The school board made arrangements for water lines to be laid where the trees and bermuda roots, which are to be planted later can be taken care of.

On the High School Campus, the school board had one hundred twenty five trees planted and water lines laid so that they might be easily watered.

A huge ditcher is at work cutting down an embankment on the side of the track, and the ties for the new track, along with a part of the rails already been laid. The rest of the rails are to be laid as rapidly as the ground can be put into condition.

Another work of the Santa Fe has been that of building a 1,000 foot delivery track up the center of the city. The track is laid so that cars may be loaded and unloaded from either side. Since this track runs very close to the business section of the city and since loading may be accomplished with such ease, it is a decided advantage to the town, and a great step forward in the part of the Santa Fe in developing their interests in Slaton.

Railroad men who are in touch with the situation, take this building on the part of the Santa Fe as an omen of future good, for the city of Slaton and the entire Slaton division. It is well known that not long since a survey was run out of Post toward Fort Worth, in the interest of the new Santa Fe line that is soon to be constructed. Although no official information has been given out by the railroad, it is the general consensus of opinion that the results from that survey were very favorable.

A study of the Santa Fe system of the South Plains plainly shows that a railroad built from the Pallas to Fort Worth and Dallas, must necessarily go through Slaton and must branch from some point South of the division point. A line built from any other location on the Santa Fe's Plains line would mean that a long and expensive haul would be necessary. The back haul would vary if the Fort Worth line was built from any one of the two or three other proposed routes but in every case it is apparent.

Another thing which the Santa Fe is known to have taken seriously into consideration, is that of the location of the divisional offices, shops, and round house at Slaton. The divisional point was named first and Slaton was built afterwards; the divisional point was placed where it was, according to the Santa Fe, due to the exact location with regard to the spot between Clevis, Amarillo and Sweetwater. So long as these three cities remain at their present geographic location, the divisional point must remain the same, so the new line to accommodate and be accommodated by the Slaton division facilities, which represent millions of dollars in investment, must be constructed South of the city of Slaton.

Further building which is now rumored in Slaton, is believed to be an established fact; but as the railroad has not confirmed its construction officially, no newspaper report can authentically be given on its details.

FORMER TECH STUDENT TO PLAY IN NEW YORK

Harold Gordon, son of Dean Gordon of the School of Liberal Arts, wrote his father that he would play at the Varsity Show of Columbia University of New York City. He is a member of the Columbia University orchestra. The show will be given in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, one of the largest hotels in the city.

Harold was a student here during fall term, taking a few courses and working in the office of the business manager. He played in the Tech orchestra under Prof. Washburne also. He is a connoisseur of note and his friends here are glad to hear of his achievements.

TECH RECEIVES PUBLICITY IN SCHOOL MAGAZINE

In the March issue of the Texas Outlook, Texas Tech received the major part of publicity among the schools of the state. The officials of the college ran a full page advertisement for the summer session and the total enrollment for the first half year of school. A beautiful cut of the Administration building occupied the center of the page.

Besides this ad the editor has a two-page write-up of the college giving a complete description of the buildings and grounds. Cuts of the different buildings are also given. The list of the faculty completes the write-up. This magazine is the official publication of the Texas State Teachers association and is read by over 1,700 teachers over the state. This is one of the best means of advertising the school and gives the people a definite idea of the work of the State's newest institution of learning.

W. A. A. MEETING TONIGHT

work run true to form. The students of the sophomore class of Textile Engineering witnessed the work.

Some more cotton was then run through the wolen system of cards of the Whelan Machine Works. These cards were installed by Mr. Magill. The wolen cards also did fine work. Another carload of machinery is expected to arrive soon and the bulk of the machines will be erected. Students of the Sophomore class have been leveling up the looms in the weave room getting them ready for the wiring. It is thought that some real work will be done in the mill sometime during the Spring term.

TECH WILL LEAD IN TEXAS SCHOOLS, SAYS WALTHAL

The whole-hearted manner in which the people of Lubbock have aligned themselves back of every proposition for the betterment of the Texas Technological College is one of the elements that will enter into making that the largest institution of education in the Lone Star State, Rotarian Dick Walthal, a member of the board of control of the State of Texas, told the Lubbock Rotary Club yesterday. Walthal, who has been in conference with Dr. Horn and other college officials here during the past several days, pointed out that he had heard much of the manner in which the people of Lubbock and all other sections of the state had supported the college, but that he could not realize the extent of this loyalty to the institution until after meeting face to face with it in Lubbock.

He was the last of several speakers to address the clubmen at their weekly luncheon meeting at the basement of the Leader building, where a campaign to raise $1000 to swell the treasury of the club's students loan fund was launched.

Lieutenant H. B. Killee, head of the military department of the college, made a short talk about student loan fund help, pointing to the value of such fund to students not having means to supply all of their needs while attending college.

A similar address was delivered by Alton Hutson, a graduate of Lubbock High School who is now attending the Tech college and who has been in college during the past three years.

Hutson expressed an ambition to render some service to his state that will compensate those who have contributed in any manner to the Rotary Club's loan fund.

Woody Bowen was chairman of the program, and in introducing Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of the college, failed to ask him for some of his experiences.

"I suppose he thinks I have never had any experience," Dr. Horn said, then entered into a discussion of occurrences during his college days when small amounts of aid from friends, composed the source from which inspiration to get the very best from school entered into his work.

"Money invested in human life and human character is probably of more good than if handled through any other channel," Dr. Horn said.

Walter Posey, president of the club, called the names of seven Rotarians appointed as members of a committee to raise the needed one thousand dollars for the students loan fund, each of these committees in turn reading aloud names of Rotarians composing the groups expected to raise the amount.

D. G. Hunnewell, director of the John Tarleton College Band, will arrive here today to attend the annual concert to be rendered at the High School auditorium this evening by the Lubbock High School Band, of which J. W. Crowley, who for four years was captain of the John Tarleton College Band, is director.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND YEARLY CONCERT TONIGHT

The annual concert of the Lubbock High School band will be given at the high school auditorium this evening with Director Crowley in charge.

Tickets for reserved seats have been distributed among friends of the band, and it is believed that if weather conditions are favorable the auditorium will be filled to capacity.

The concert, for which no admission charge will be made, will be dedicated to the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the Business Men of Lubbock who have contributed so much to the success of the organization, Mr. Crowley said.

BERLENBACH GETS FIRST WHACK AT TIGER

NEW YORK, March 3.—Paul Berlenbach, world's light-heavy weight champion, instead of Harry Greb, will get the first crack at Tiger Flowers, new middleweight champion, it was intimated Wednesday by a member of Tex Rickard's staff.

Greb and Flowers were signed to meet in a return bout for the championship on May 21, but plans were changed providing that Greb would get the chance to win back his title after the negro deacon had faced Berlenbach.

WILLS DEFEATS GERMAN NET CHAMP

MENTONE, France, March 3.—Miss Helen Wills completed her defeat of the leading tennis players of Europe, with the exception of Miss Suzanne Lenglen, when she emerged victorious Wednesday from her match with Frau Nelly Neppach, champion of Germany. Miss Wills defeated Frau Neppach 6-0, 6-3.

Miss Wills and J. H. Van Alen of Brooklyn defeated Miss Edith Harvey and Mr. Hodges of England, 6-4, 6-2, in the quarter finals of the mixed doubles, thus qualifying for the semi-finals.

MAY BE SUSPENDED FOR PLAYING GERMAN

MENTONE, France, March 3.—Helen Wills, Suzanne Lenglen and other tennis stars may be liable to suspension for playing against Frau Nelly Neppach of Germany.

A telegram from the Deutscher Tennis Bund of Berlin was received here Wednesday night demanding that Frau Neppach discontinue her play on the Riviera. It brought out the fact that the controlling German tennis organization recognizes her as a German player, and not an Austrian, under which nationality she registered when she entered the niches. It pointed out that German tennis players are forbidden to play against those of allied countries which have not yet resumed their pre-war tennis relationship with Germany.

PENN STATE PITCHER LOOKS GOOD TO YANKS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3.—Officials of the New York Yankees have been encouraged greatly by the showing of Myles Thomas, former Pennsylvania state college pitcher, in his early work. Thomas was farmed out with the Toronto International league club last season, where he won 25 out of 36 games. Miller Huggins, manager of the club, thinks he is a sure regular.

PAUL VS JOHNNY, MARCH 19

NEW YORK, March 3.—Johnny Rizzo of Cleveland will meet Paul Berlenbach on March 19 at Madison Square Garden, it was announced at the garden Wednesday.

It was announced also that the Stripling-Slatery match would take place at the garden on March 26.

MARANVILLE AT SHORT

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 3.—Rabbit Maranville, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, who was secured late last season by the Brooklyn Robins, will be used permanently at shortstop, according to the plans of Wilbert Robinson, president-manager of the club.

Johnny Butler, high priced rookie from the American association will be tried at third base, with the veteran Milton Stock at second.

LEAGUE DISPUTE QUIETS DOWN IN EUROPE

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United News Staff Correspondent
LONDON, March 3.—In all European capitals the tenacity of the dispute over enlargement of the League of Nations council appears to be easing.

A solution of the predicted fight at Geneva by the admittance of Germany alone and the postponement of action on other applicants for permanent council seats until September seems to be gaining favor throughout Europe and authorities on the league here believe that a fight on the floor of the council will be avoided when the session opens Monday.

If such a solution is followed it is likely that a special commission will be named at Geneva to consider the problem on the basis of granting Spain a new permanent seat and ejecting Poland to one of the temporary seats which will be vacant in September. The question of South American representation, in that event would be left open until Argentina, Brazil, Chile and the other South American members could agree on their representation.

BRIDGES QUITS AS COACH AT BAYTOR

WACO, TEXAS, March 3.—Frank Bridges, athletic director of Baylor University sent his letter of resignation to President E. P. Brooks, Wednesday and asked that he be relieved of his duties effective September 1.

The resignation of Bridges came as a direct result of a disagreement between the coach and President Brooks over the amount of profits that have been made in athletics in the college.

WEST TEXAS BANDS INVITED TO JOIN IN CONTEST

SPUR, March 3.—G. C. Collum, President of the Texas Band Teachers association, is sending out a special communication to all bands in West Texas, inviting them to participate in the band contest to be held at the 8th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Amarillo, Texas, June 21, 22 and 23. Mr. Collum states that he expects a minimum of fifty bands to attend this convention or the largest number that has ever attended any of the regional conventions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Texas Rail Board Backs Galveston

DALLAS, Texas, March 3.—The Texas railroad commission today supported the plea of the Texas Gulf ports and freight rates should be lower to Texas ports than to the New Orleans port, from all points where the difference of 100 miles or more is in favor of the Texas ports. The commission today made a formal appearance before representatives of the I. C. C. in the hearing being conducted here over differences of freight rates of the Texas and Louisiana ports. C. V. Terrell said that the Texas ports were the convenient and logical gateways in the interchange of commodities produced in the southwest and consumed in other lands.

IMPORTANT RATE HEARING WILL BE HELD MARCH 6TH

STAMFORD, Texas, March 3.—Announcement was made here today by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce that U. S. Pawlett, traffic manager, San Antonio, will represent the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the hearing to be held in Fort Worth March 6 before the interstate commerce commission in the case of the Long Bell Lumber Company against the present freight rates between Texas points on posts, piling and poles. The position of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is that if the complainant is sustained and the interstate commerce commission rate made applicable to Texas, it will mean a very substantial increase in freight rates to the cost of every user of a telephone post every stick of piling, and every fence post shipping into west Texas. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has intervened in the case.

LOCKNEY HUNTING PARTY OFF TO OLD MEXICO

LOCKNEY, Texas, March 3.—Black bear, wolves, quail and other wild animals is the game a party of South Plains hunters will seek when they reach the interior of Old Mexico next week. The party is to be composed of David Bates, Carl McAdam and Jim Harper, Lockney; C. W. Mitchell, E. B. Masland and Dr. Geo. Smith, Floydada; Joe Watson, Bob Echols, Fred Bourland and Frank Irving, Matador.

The men are due to reach El Paso at noon Monday and will leave on the evening train for Chihuahua city. From this city they will go to Minors, where they will join H. E. Smith, colonization agent for the Mexico & Northwestern railway, former Floydada citizen, for the big hunt.

TRAIN LOAD OF PACKARDS ENROUTE TO CALIFORNIA

An eighty-four car train, containing 255 Packard six and eight cylinder automobiles, is moving across the continent over the Santa Fe railway this week. This train, enroute from Detroit to Los Angeles, was received by the Santa Fe railway at Joliet Sunday and is expected to reach Los Angeles by Saturday or earlier.

This shipment is valued at approximately one million dollars and is one of the largest ever handled by the Santa Fe railway. The train is made up of Santa Fe fifty-foot automobile cars, is nearly a mile long, and is hauled by one locomotive. It presents a handsome, uniform appearance in freight train make-up.

This train passed Kansas City Monday noon, Wellington Tuesday morning, Amarillo Tuesday evening and Clovis Wednesday morning on across the continent.

Its two thousand mile journey across the continent.

FANNING WITH FARRELL
By HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, March 3. (U-P)—Jack Dempsey puts a fancy price on his services when he asks for $100,000 down and a guarantee of $500,000 more for defending his heavy-weight championship against Harry Wills.

You will hear repeated the old protests that such a sum is such and such times what the president of the United States gets for a year in one of the most responsible positions in the world.

Perhaps that rate of pay is out of all proportion with the time involved but you can't shoot a fellow for trying and it can't be denied that Dempsey is entitled to a fair percentage of what his appearance would draw at the gate.

Tex Rickard made an estimate recently that the Dempsey-Wills match if it could be staged under favorable conditions without interference might draw as much as $2,000,000.

Some critics claim that it would be a bad fight and the public would not be interested but that isn't logical. The public always will be interested in a heavyweight championship fight and the attendance would be restricted only by the number of seats that would be available.

He Suzanne Englen, the French tennis player, announced recently that she had been offered $20,000 by an American promoter to engage in a professional match in this country.

In the largest tennis stadium in this country, at Forest Hills, N.Y., Englen could not draw more than $75,000 at $5 a head and if she is worth $20,000 of any promoter's money, Dempsey is worth just what he is asking.

It would sound much better, however, if Dempsey wouldn't mention flat guarantees. If he talked about percentages it would make him much more popular and would amount to the same thing in the long run.

Rickard said not long ago that he was through offering flat guarantees to any fighters and that in the future boxers working for him would have to abide by the section of the rules requiring that percentages only can be paid in New York.

Dempsey's demands, to those who think them exorbitant, will be taken as an indication that he is hiding from Wills behind the U. S. mint but the facts do not bear out any such belief.

The champion knows that a fight with the negro challenger would not be arranged without a whole lot of controversy and trouble and he, being a business man, does not want to bind himself to any agreement that might find him holding the bag at the end of another year.

No one should expect Dempsey to take the big risk for the benefit of a promoter and if a shrewd judge like Rickard estimates that Dempsey could draw $2,000,000 for fighting Wills, he is entitled to just as much as he has demanded.

GOLF

By BERT M. DEMBEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, March 3 (U-P)—No substitutes will be carried on the United States Walker Cup team, which will leave New York, May 5, according to Robert A. Gardner, captain of the team, who announced that all of the regulars chosen have consented to play.

Besides Gardner the other regulars are Bobby Jones, and Wally Gunn of Atlanta; Francis Ouimet and Jess Gullford of Boston; George Von Elm of Los Angeles; Jess Sweetser of New York; and Roland Mackenzie of Washington, D. C.

In case something prevents any of the regulars from going, alternates selected are Max Marston and D. Clark of Britain; Ed Delaplaine, George Rotan of San Antonio; H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., and Harrison R. Johnston of St. Paul.

The team which leaves here will not play until May 24, when the British tournament starts at Muirfield. This will give the American players time to brush up on their games on English links, before the tournament play starts.

Gardner said matches have also been arranged with teams from Oxford and Cambridge universities and that the Americans will also compete in the St. George's vase tourney. Francis Ouimet was a leg on this cup three years ago.

Gardner said he had not been informed whether or not any of the members of the team will remain in England for the British open, the qualifying rounds of which are scheduled for June 16 and 17, and the tournament proper for June 21 and 22.

AUTOMOBILE ENGINEERS STUDY WINTER STARTING

DETROIT, March 3 (U-P)—Automobile manufacturers here are studying their motors into refrigerators to investigate means of taking the labor out of starting an automobile on cold, wintry mornings.

As a result, engineers have concluded that if fuel characteristics could be changed gradually as cold weather approaches it might be possible to obtain nearly the same engine starting performance in winter as in summer.

SILVERTON AWAITS THE ARRIVAL OF RAILROADS BEFORE STARTING A REAL BUILDING BOOM—SOME HISTORY

By RAY B. McCORKLE
Staff Correspondent

SILVERTON, MARCH 3.—Any railroad news today? What about the Denver—suppose it will ever build through here?

In Silvertown the above and similar questions are on the lips of every man, woman and child, for Silvertown people above all others on the South Plains are interested in the new railroad. It means the world to them.

Situated as it is, 31 miles from a railroad, the town's growth has naturally been retarded, though for almost 34 years it has made a slow but steady advancement. Today there are something like a thousand people in the city, and residents claim to have the largest infant town in all the great Southland. Whether this be true or not the writer can not say. Yet it is a settled fact Silvertown is a good town and one of considerable size.

Being the county seat of Briscoe it is quite naturally the chief trading point in the county, and people for 20 miles around depend upon Silvertown dealers for their merchandise. Almost any article that can be purchased in any South Plains city will be found here, and prices are very reasonable.

The town of Silvertown was organized on March 15, 1892. At that time there were 188 qualified voters in the county, though today the county has a voting strength of approximately 1,500. The first officers of the county follow:

Minor Crawford, sheriff; J. M. Stalbird, judge; T. L. Anderson, district and county clerk; R. J. Hanna, treasurer; O. T. Reeves, assessor; and W. D. Fisher, county attorney. All these men are still living except Mr. Reeves, some of them still residing in Silvertown.

Until a few months ago people of this city merely had idle dreams concerning a railroad, but once the Denver began surveying the country they forgot their pipe dreams and began making arrangements to locate a depot. They want the railroad and want it bad, and a majority of the people here feel that it will only be a matter of months until they hear the whistle of the puffing locomotive.

Business is on a stand-still. People have forgotten farms, stores and shops. They think of nothing other than the proposed new railroad. A high-powered salesman couldn't sell ten dollar bills for five dollars unless he offered to guarantee a railroad and that in the very near future.

Indian Field Service Reorganized as Fifty-seven Varieties of Redman Send Delegations Clamoring to Washington

By THOMAS L. STOKES
United News Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Songs are sung and tales told—often in a blabbed red tone—of the vanishing red men, but officials and members of congress here find that they are very much alive and are becoming more insistent upon their rights as they learn the habits of the white man.

It took exactly a week for congress to settle a dispute over an item in the efficiency appropriation bill taking $100,000 from Navajo Indian tribal funds for the creation of a bridge on the reservation, the Lees Ferry, in Arizona. Several of the senators and representatives from the southwest urged that the Indians did not want the bridge and never would use it, and blocked the bill. The senate passed it finally over the objection Tuesday 43 to 29.

Those who favored appropriating tribal funds for the purpose contended that the bridge was necessary to develop the territory, in which there are valuable oil deposits. Civilization was demanding its toll.

"The Indians are becoming more contentious as they are becoming educated and learn the habits of the white man, and are demanding their rights," Senator Harrell, Oklahoma, republican, said Tuesday.

Harrell is chairman of the Indian and has dealt with the Indians in his state for many years.

"The Indian affairs committee is one of the busiest in the senate. Last year there were delegations here before the committee from at least half of the fifty-seven tribes in the United States."

An indication of the growing importance of Indian affairs was given Tuesday in an announcement by the interior department of a wide reorganization of the Indian field service for the purpose of centralizing education, agricultural and industrial activities. All Indian reservations and agencies are being organized into districts with a district superintendent in charge. Harvey B. Peairs formerly chief supervisor of Indian education, has been placed in charge as general superintendent of Indian affairs, a newly created position.

One of the problems which will be brought to congress soon for settlement, regards disposition of lands. Indians now claiming vast stretches of so-called "executive order" land which has been set aside by presidential proclamation in the past.

UNGUIDED MOTORCYCLE CAREERS IN WILD RACE

MENOMINEE, Mich., Mar. 2.—During the height of winter here, a motorcycle and side-car struck off alone across the ice of Green Bay with hot-racing results.

Ten minutes after taking affairs into its own hands—when its driver was dismounted by a bump—the unguided vehicle prescribed a huge arc on the ice of the bay, mounted at a rate of 35 miles an hour up the bank, shattered across an adjacent bank and came to incriminate grief against a tree.

STATE PRESS WRITES FOR THE DALLAS NEWS ABOUT SOME OF THE THINGS HE NOTICED WHILE ON THE SOUTH PLAINS

Editor's Note:—In presenting the following from the pen of that gifted writer, Mr. Joe Taylor, who holds the attention of possibly more readers every day than any other writer we will state that his reason for calling attention to the Lubbock County Jail was because he had given in a previous issue considerable space to the description of the Hale County "lock-up". Mr. Taylor says about Lubbock:

"The Lubbock County jail is different from the Hale County bastille in respect to size. The Lubbock institution is somewhat larger. Also it is built of red brick with light trimmings, while the Plainview prison is all gray. Both establishments have nice trees about them and look domestic and serene, but the Lubbock jail is surrounded by a neat board fence, to keep tourists from mistaking it for a rest room.

"Also the public plaza at Lubbock is somewhat larger than that at Plainview. Everything is on a large scale here. The Lubbock citizen—any Lubbock citizen. And public square is a place in point. I started out to walk around it, to negotiate all its four sides. By great persistence and industry I accomplished my purpose, for I am a good walker and very industrious. But the Lubbock people, who jump into an automobile every time they have a chance, in the next block, seldom undertake to circumnavigate their public square. If they have to make the complete circuit they call a taxi.

"The city fathers, or the pioneer town builders or who ever it was, were very wise in laying out Lubbock. They didn't stint themselves on room. They made their central plaza, which is as restful as a park, large enough to accommodate the county buildings, wide stretches of lawn, a fine setting of trees and numerous seats for those who wear themselves out trying to walk around the square. In the summer time, when the grass is out and the trees in leaf, it is a lovely center.

Build on Big Scale
"Having all the plains they wanted, the city fathers were smart enough to use all the land necessary to build a big-scale town. In this automobile age, wide streets are not only a modern convenience, but a gracious sight for space-loving eyes.

"It is inconvenient to refer to the terrain of the Lubbock region without calling it plains. But the plains no longer exist. Not in Texas, at least. The plow has bitten the plains and scared them away. Last seen of them were rolling under the barb wire fences into New Mexico. A farming country is no longer a plains country. When the crops come, the plains are transformed into farms, the farms into homes. The cow camps are gone, and the dwelling houses have superseded them. The cowboy is gone, and the cowboy has usurped his old stamping grounds.

"It might be said also that the surveyors have departed and the statisticians are now governing the country. The first surveyors who penetrated the Lubbock sector gave one or two long looks, called it a part of the great American desert, and then rode away to report their findings to the geographers. Now that which was called desert has millions of dollars worth of agricultural produce to exhibit annually, and in Lubbock there is a statistician in every business house to reel off the statistics.

He's Champion Statistician
"While he has numerous fellow-citizens almost as good as himself, A. B. Davis is the champion statistician. He knows statistics backward and forward and all across the board. And no wonder—for he is not only director of the Retail Merchant's Association, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, City manager and busy citizen but he is a born and bred Fannin county man. To live in Fannin county is not to be without statistics, but Fannin is the kind of county where statistics, however rich are pent up, confined, Fannin county's statistics are like the Bonham's Favorite's circulation—something to be proud of but not mentioned.

"Anyhow, since leave Fannin county, A. B. Davis has become a statistician. He spent several years in Oklahoma where the statistical bug bit him to the bone. Let us to him a moment, while he addresses himself to Lubbock town and Lubbock County:

"Poll tax receipts for Lubbock County in 1920 numbered 1,952; in 1925, 6,397. Postal receipts for Lubbock town in 1924 were $58, 684; in 1925 they were $77,182. Building permits for Lubbock town in 1924 were $1,212,100; for 1925 they were $2,307,091. Scholastic enrollment for the town, not counting the state school, is now larger than the total population in 1920, according to the Federal census.

Knows a Lot More
"The above are mere samples. They are not half the statistics which A. B. Davis knows by heart and soul and body. But other Lubbock citizens are very good statisticians, too. A member of the Chamber of Commerce who failed to learn big statistics would be expelled and required to qualify for membership under rigid examination, before admitted again. It is not that I am condemning. On the contrary, I commend. When you've got a growing town, when you are proud of it and want to keep on growing, the right thing to do is to absorb the figures and exhale them at every suitable opportunity. Towns don't attract attention by concealing their incandescence under a bushel.

"Consider Dr. P. W. Horn, president of Texas Technological College. Dr. Horn was superintendent of the Houston public schools for years on years. He became a foremost educator and a valued administrator. But he had to move to Lubbock before he got a real, fundamental, scholarly grasp of statistics. He had been there six or seven months and they have educated him to where he can statisticate with the best of them. It's in the air.

"Texas Technological College has had much said about it and deserves more. It is destined to do a work along the lines it was designed for all that permeate for good the social, intellectual and industrial life in Texas, more particularly, perhaps, the great area called Western Texas. Foundations at this important State school are being laid broad and deep. Dr. Horn has surrounded himself with a faculty, numbering about fifty, of men and women who are proud of their ambitions to make the new school a power in Texas education. Too much already has been invested to allow of niggardly appropriations for future expansion and equipment. The school has 2,008 acres of land in a body just back of its campus. It is admirable farming ground and the portions not required for the agricultural department of the school are rented to tenants. Dr. John C. Granberry, formerly State geologist, is head of the department of history at the Tech. He is delighted with his work and with the West, but it seems to have been hard on his hair.

"All I saw in and about the Tech interested and instructed me. But I always visit an educational institution with some timidity. I fear is that some time I will visit a big fine school and somebody in authority there will call the faculty and student body together for the purpose of examining into my scholarship. Always I have feared and avoided school examinations—feared them in the distance and fled from them on the approach. Never heless, I was bold enough to attend a meeting of the Faculty Club. Dr. Horn being kind enough to invite me, and delighted to discover that college professors of both sexes, and as wives, sisters and daughters, can be so debonair and classroomy. They served ice cream.

One Statistic That Stuck
Lubbock has two newspapers, both good, both daily, one morning, the other evening. This is about the only statistic I got firmly wedged into my mind. Whenever there is a growing town that didn't have a newspaper or two, or three newspapers to proclaim its advances to the outside world, the pagan world, without the fold? A good newspaper is a better advertisement for an aspiring town than a tourist party. Is yet some men in a town will spend more to keep the tourist park sweep and polished than to keep the printing press wheels turning. Lubbock isn't that way—it has the tourist park well enough or very well indeed, but the big ads in the Lubbock newspapers prove that the editors have not been orphaned.

"Cotton is a favorite crop in Lubbock County. The altitude of the county seat is above 3,200 feet, therefore, the nights are cool, but those who assume that hot nights are essential to the prosperity of growing cotton must be mistaken. The fact probably is that the cool nights give the cotton stalks a good rest and fix them for energetic humping when the warm sun shines out next day. Anyhow, they raise cotton by the bale full. I saw a large cotton field with forty or fifty pickers in it near Lubbock. But, there weren't picking the cotton—they were snapping it, which is a dreadful way to treat cotton when it's ripe.

Chicken Statistics
"The deposits of our three banks were well over $3,000,000 at the last report," said O. L. Slaton, financier and president of the Chamber of Commerce. "Of course, the October freeze cut us down much lower than otherwise would have been, but, even so, our deposits show that we have something to sell. This part of the country is best adapted to sorghum grains and cotton. These can be raised with relatively little rain, and the grains, being almost sure in any year, afford all necessary stock and poultry feed for the farmers. Ours is an ideal poultry country, and that industry is developing."

"Poultry does well. I saw lots of chickens on the streets and not a featherier in the whole category. They are mostly high-steppers, having little to cumber their limbs. Bewailing that that reminds me that skirts out here are as fashionably brief as in New York, and the wearers better looking than the Fifth Avenue stylists. There is less rouge per capita in Lubbock than farther East, because the Western winds—I mean the prairie zephyrs—give a roseate glow to cheeks which would be pallid in Philadelphia or Baltimore.

"A philosopher declares that any country is good where the men are industrious and the women cheerful. That describes Lubbock."

Eaton Talks at County Schools

County Agent David F. Eaton accompanied by the Lubbock County School Board on visits to Canyon, Acuff and McClung schools Wednesday, and was one of the speakers at the programs rendered at each of the places.

Miss Lela DuBose, county home demonstration agent, was with the board on their visits to Canyon and Acuff. P. F. Brown, county superintendent of public instruction, stated that he was well pleased with the work that had been carried out in all of the schools of the county that have been visited by the board this week, and that visits to all of the schools will be completed at once.

Lubbock county's rural schools are above par as compared with the other leading rural schools of the county in the opinion of those who have been working with the school board during the past two weeks.

DEVELOPMENT PUBLIC UTILITIES IN TEXAS SHOWS INCREASE AS SURVEY DATA IS COMPILED

A careful survey of the development of public utility services in Texas during 1925 has just been completed by the Texas Public Service Information Bureau. This survey shows noteworthy increase in service and in the number of people served by each of the essential public utilities in Texas.

In 1925 Texas made remarkable strides forward in industry and commerce. This impetus to business called for increased power, communication, transportation, and fuels. The demands were met, as is shown by the remarkable growth of the public services supplying these necessary factors in development of resources.

Power and Light Extends
In the use of electric service for power and light Texas advanced from fifteenth place among the states in 1924 to thirteenth in 1925. While the power resources of Texas are developing very fast the 1925 figures are small as compared with the showing to be made this year when the new power projects that will begin operations in 1926 are completed. Among these are gigantic generating stations of the Texas Public Utilities Company at Trinidad in the lignite coal fields; the Eastern Texas Electric Company near Beaumont, and the Comal Power Company at New Braunfels. There are also large generating units under consideration by the Texas Central Power Company and the West Texas Utilities Company that will take shape during 1926.

Interconnection of electric transmission lines accomplished during 1926 have been so numerous and far reaching in their effect that 1925 will no doubt see three-fourths of the generating capacity of the state linked together through connecting transmission lines thus enabling the customers of all the connected companies to enjoy uninterrupted economical service under any imaginable local conditions.

On January 1, 1926, there were 588,720 electric power and light customers in Texas as compared with 511,172 a year previously. The 1925 increase in users amounted to five percent in cities of 25,000 population and more, and to 8.7 percent in cities and communities under 25,000. Texas stood thirteenth in the list of states in 1925 in kilowatt hour output with a total production of 1,252,000,000 kilowatt hours.

Electric public utility companies in Texas in 1925 built 927.88 miles of transmission line. They installed new generating capacity of 60,355 kilowatts, gained 77,548 meters as compared with the preceding year, and ended the year with 685,720 meters in use.

Electric Railway Transportation
In the electric railway services the number of passengers carried was 3,767,918 in excess of the number carried in 1924. And this gain was made in spite of an increasing number of persons who traveled by motor cars. The astounding number of passengers carried by electric railways in 1925 in Texas—436,608,533—is equal to four times the total population of the United States.

The total mileage of electric railways at the close of 1925 in Texas was 969.26 miles, only four miles of new track having been constructed during the year.

Seven electric railway companies were operating 58 buses at the end of the year. The buses being used as auxiliaries to the electric cars.

Telephone Extends Service
Texas people at the end of 1925 were using approximately 550,000 telephones. The gain last year as compared with 1924 was around 24,700. The service of communication through the agency of the telephone in Texas has come to be one of the most essential and generally used services in the state. During the year in addition to the increase in telephone stations in Texas there has been great extensions of the long distance lines especially in West Texas and in the matter of transcontinental lines. The growth of West Texas has called for numerous and extensive building programs on the part of the telephone companies.

The Bell system shows a gain of 24,680 telephones during the year, statistics for the Independent companies being incomplete. At the close of 1925 the Bell system had in use in Texas the enormous total of 1,200,086 miles of wire. New wire placed during the year by this company amounted to 121,074 miles. This 1925 addition to the plant in Texas was enough wire to go around the earth almost five times.

Gas Industry Grows
Texas is one of the largest users of gas for fuel among the states. In 1925 the enormous total of 82,255,902,930 cubic feet of gas has been used in Texas. More than twelve hundred miles of gas pipeline was laid in Texas in 1925 and more than 20,000 customers were added to the total of 1924 during the past year. At this time every considerable city in Texas except three, is being served or in line soon to be served with natural gas.

The increase over the preceding year in amount of gas used is about fifteen percent. The number of gas meters in use in Texas at the end of 1925 was 236,532, an increase of 20,771 over the preceding year.

BANKS OF HEREFORD IN SCOUTS READING FACILITIES

HEREFORD, March 3.—The three banks of Hereford are co-operating with the Reading Committee of the local Boy Scout Council in an effort to furnish clean and interesting reading for the Boy Scouts of this place. The three local institutions have purchased 100 six-month subscriptions of the Joy's Life, the official magazine for the Boy Scout movement of America and these will be given to the local Scouts.

According to plans one troop will go to a certain bank one month for the magazine, and to another bank the next month. In this way each Boy Scout of Hereford will visit each bank at least twice during the six months period.

The Reading Committee of the local council, composed of Rev. W. R. Hill, Judge Earl W. Wilson and Arthur Manjert, completed this project a few days ago and the first issue of the magazines will be received early this month.

NATIONAL BOARD OF NEAR EAST RELIEF WILL MEET

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—The National Board of Trustees of the Near East Relief will hold its annual meeting at the Pennsylvania Hotel here on March 4. Those present will include, beside the 59 members of the Board, delegates from state committees in all parts of the United States.

Elections will be held to replace twenty trustees whose term expires. Trustees whose reelection is expected include Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Secretary of the Navy Ray Lyman Wilbur, Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, Elihu Root, Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, and Dr. John H. Finley of the New York Times.

The convention will receive an authoritative report on every phase of the economic, political and humanitarian situation in Near Eastern countries, together with summaries of work being done by similar organizations representing England, France and other European countries.

Discussion of the financial affairs of the organization will include the preparation of a budget authorizing the expenditure of nearly $5,000,000 during the coming year for educational, medical, and orphanage work in the Near East. More than a million Americans contributed $1,750,000 for this purpose last year.

PRE-ESTER SERVICES TO BE FOSTERED BY HEREFORD CHURCHES

HEREFORD, March 3.—A Pre-Easter religious campaign is being planned by the churches of Hereford, and is to be more extensive than any that has ever been carried on here before. Every church is planning to stage a revival lasting from one to two weeks just before Easter.

The plans are being formulated and will be announced early next week. This is right in line with the Panhandle area movement that is being fostered by most of the churches in this section.

Waltonians Will Stage Big Party For All Members

A great mass meeting of all members of the Isank Walton League from throughout the South Plains, at which time the members of the local organization will stage a "loyalty program," is to be held here in the near future, according to Robert A. Sowder, secretary.

Sowder stated that while the meetings of the league have not been as well attended as had been expected, there is a splendid loyalty to the ideals of the organization existing with the members throughout this territory, and that the purposes of the league are being accomplished in many instances in his opinion.

"We will have to stage a big party, lots of noise and a good program in order to get the fellows interested in attending," Sowder said.

Summer School Catalog Now Ready for Public

AUSTIN, Texas, March 3.—The summer catalogue of the University of Texas has come from the press and is ready for distribution, according to an announcement from the office of the University registrar.

JOURNALISM STUDES VISIT SAN ANTONIO PLANTS

AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 3.—A visit to the large engraving plants and newspaper offices of San Antonio was made recently by members of the journalism class at the University of Texas engaged in the study of the business management of newspapers. About twenty students made the trip under the direction of Paul J. Thompson, associate professor of journalism.

See the Book of Job at the High School auditorium on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission 25c, 35c and 50c.

COUNTY HEALTH NURSE OF CROSBY DOES GOOD WORK

CROSBYTON, Texas, March 3.—That the work of County Health Nurse and County Nurse is rapidly and substantially progressing, was thoroughly evidenced here in meeting of the County Health Board held here Saturday.

The county health nurse, Miss Barth, gave her report which covered three months' work and showed a wonderful improvement in all schools both of the city and rural class. Many corrections and improvements in the various schools were reported and the recent re-survey of the situation showed a creditable gain in general physical condition of the children in the schools.

Mrs. W. P. Fulling, chairman of the board is directing the work relative to her office in a wonderful manner and has the finest of co-operation. Reports of the health committees of Lorenzo, Ralls and Crosbyton were given by their respective chairmen, Mrs. Rube Bowman, Mrs. Dick Hyatt and Mrs. Percy Lamar. The major item of business for immediate attention of the board was the handling of the spring clean-up campaign. Committees were instructed to proceed with arrangements and ask that the chambers of commerce of the various towns of the county with all other organizations take active part in the work. Secretaries W. B. Winters, of Ralls, and S. W. Cooper of Crosbyton pledged the support of their chambers of commerce and representatives of Lorenzo reported that their secretary was unavoidably detained but would heartily co-operate in the work. The next meeting will be at Ralls the 27th.

RARE VIOLIN

PITTSBURGH, March 3.—A rare violin, reputed to have been made by the Tyrolean, Gaspard Diurfo-Pruggar for King Francis I of France in 1516, has found its way to a Pittsburgh shop to be repaired.

The unique instrument, valued by its owner—Oscar Lieblich, of Crafton, Pa., at $12,000, has been cunningly repaired during its long existence and today maintains the mellow tones given to it by a master craftsman.

Girls! Your Health!

San Antonio, Texas.—My daughter Dovie Lee suffered with a pain in her back and in the back of her head. She would be very nervous when she had those headaches. She often got sick at her stomach and had no appetite. I tried everything for her, sometimes she felt a little better and was soon sick again. Then I put her on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets and sure enough she was better right away. Her appetite improved, she looked better and slept better and her nerves were much better.—Mrs. I. M. Jones, 1702 W. Laurel. Write Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. All dealers. The Carleton band and community have spoken for the entire right half of the balcony for the band concert to be held in the high school Thursday evening, March 4. The concert is dedicated to the business men, the chamber of commerce, and school faculty. This is the first concert of its kind ever given by the band and the members will appreciate your attendance. Complimentary tickets are being distributed. Let's make the boys and Mr. Crowley know that we appreciate them by giving them a full attendance.

The Charleston Club has taken in some new members. Since this is a very exclusive club only the best all around boys and girls are being initiated. The new members are usually good. We understand that the Baptist pastor witnessed the practice of the girls a few days back. For further information see Helen Law.

"Mule" Davis called a meeting of his baseball prospects Tuesday afternoon. Ameral Payne was elected captain for the season, and suits were issued to the following men: Payne, Sullivan, Bynum, Wright, Chas. Ing, Scason, Smith, Curtis Allen, Manly, Alkinson and Brothers. Some of the men who will receive suits later are: Raymond Aker, E. C. Connets and Homer Hard-lurger.

The Lubbock High School is certainly putting Texas Tech in the shade! Just compare our papers, teams, teachers and students! Ain't life grand.

We, the students of Lubbock Hi, are right behind our advertisers. The Westerner is the best school paper in Lubbock county, and we want the merchants association to back us.

The Westerners will meet Post and Slaton in a duel track meet, on the Tech track Friday afternoon at 3:30. The teams have been practicing for some time and are all in fair condition for a contest. Much rivalry will be shown for each team has some strong men, as has been shown in previous contests this year.

Cheskamay Camp Fire
The members of the Cheskamay Camp will meet at the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 4:30. All members are asked to please be present, and bring the camp fire money of each head you have earned. We are planning to adjourn after this meeting until summer, owing to the spirit of some of the members. Money that is already paid for dues, will go to pay for your heads. Be there.

Just look at this! The Senior class had some kind of an entertainment Tuesday night. If you are curious as to details ask Mr. Noles or better yet read it in the Westerner. If you hear anything new, please hand it into one of the reporters of the Hi Life Column.

The concert to be given by the Lubbock high school band Thursday, March 4, is to be attended by Mr. D. E. Henneswell, director of the John Carleton band and Mr. Wright Armstrong, the former director of the famous Old Grey Mare band of Brownwood. These men are two of the most prominent band men in Texas today. A few balcony tickets are left and those wishing entrance and a reserve seat please secure them as soon as possible.

Miss Price, teacher of Home Economics, is back at her post again after her absence of yesterday.

Up to the present date it has been a well known fact that the Sophomores are the peepiest bunch in the school. But we begin to fear that they are losing out! It seems almost impossible to make them report; Rally round, ye scribes, and make up for lost time! Send all that time you've been keeping to yourselves to the reporters, and retain your last position as first in everything!

Edwin Summers, popular Sophomore, was absent from school Monday. We hope he isn't succumbing to the flu.

It is reported that the Sophomores aren't done after all! It seems they are something big up their sleeves, and are only waiting for the right time to spring it on an unsuspecting world! We admit a mad curiosity—what is it?

Lon Alice Watson, a former student of Lubbock High, is back in Lubbock on account of the sickness of her father.

Mildred Harris visited relatives in Abilene Sunday.

Hobby Davis is absent from school today.

Margaret Halsell is absent from school today.

It has been noticed that "Jerry" Smith and Roy Ingram have a pretty hard time with their civics. "Two heads are better than one," it seems, and that's why they study together in 6th period today.

Some of the teachers aren't really intolerable tyrants after all! Some history exams they've been giving are right down easy! Some of those who have won the hearts of all pupils are Miss Atwood and Ed Noles. Thank you!

Bill Tatum was going down the hall with LOST written on his back when he was interrupted by a girl saying "Bill, I've something written on your back."

A giggling club has been organized in Room 211. Any one wishing to join see Frances Stale of Miss Atwood.

Why did Bernice Dean want "kiss proof lip stick" before going on the Junior picnic?

The Economic class is going to have a debate Friday on "Whether women should receive the same amount of pay as men." One of the boys said "Why the women do not have as much sense as the men." A good example is the governor of Texas. Boys, is she a woman? Some one said the reason more boys did not finish their education was because they got married and had to support a wife. Well, who's to blame for marrying anyway? Does the boy or girl buy the license?

Now boys you will notice there aren't as many girls with curly hair this morning. Maybe the rain yesterday washed it out.

House cleaning is taking place in Lubbock high band. They are cleaning up instruments for concert tonight.

Thirty-five boys reported for baseball yesterday. Ameral Payne was elected captain. We are planning on a good baseball team this year.

I often wonder why Fredda Lee is so pale. Maybe some one has left her.

It was reported that some boys used soda pop for breath perfume at the Junior Picnic.

Thelma Scott: Dorothy, who was that, who just passed the door? Dorothy Knipp (blushing): Oh, don't you remember, he is Joe Partain in our seventh period study hall.

Lola Rogers and Estelle Carruth were requested by Miss Atwood to deposit their gum in waste paper basket until after school.

Edith Moore is back in school after a case of flu last week.

Did you know there was a fifth period history class? No, what about it?

Miss McAfee, who has been absent from school on account of illness, left for Dallas yesterday.

Bill Tatum is absent from school on account of sickness.

Vain Harkey took Cyrus Leband to the picture show last night. Hurrah for Vain!

Miss McCorkle has been absent from school for several days. We hope she will soon be with us again.

Something surely happened to Mrs. Matthews, she came into Room 205 yesterday, with a grin from ear to ear, which is very unusual for her. We even got to take a five minute snooze toward the last of the period without her waking us up.

The Sophomore book reports in English are due very soon, and almost every Sopho is buying a book. If you have a book from the library and have finished it, please return it, for some of us are in great need of these books.

It is reported that Joel Snyder and Doyle Kuykendall did not sleep very well Tuesday night. If you crave further information please see Wilbur Parkey.

A. G. Stalnaker: "Mary Lois what would you say if I throw you a kiss?"
Mary Lois Gamel: "I'd say as always before, that you are very lazy."

Roy Sanford and Edna Mae Ingram are absent today.

A large number of "Sophos" are absent on account of sickness.

We are getting wiser every day. Archie Corley on a History test, said that the Andes river was in Africa. (He did not know before, that there even was an Andes river. Must be small like Archie.

Washer pitching practice was well attended today. With the present outlook we think Lubbock High should easily carry off the honors in washer pitching this year.

Why does Arthur Waghorne stop by a certain desk the sixth period each day? We might find out by consulting Haven Sawyer.

The cup which was won at Canyon last year by the "Stoek Judging boys" came in yesterday afternoon. It is reported to be prettier than any previous cup won by our boys.

There is a certain girl going to Lubbock Hi who is reported as looking for a new sweetheart. She is very pretty having red hair and very red cheeks. Boys here's your chance.

Haven Sawyer has declared that she always cared more for the sons of college professors than for other boys. She claims they are more artistic.

It is reported that Eddie Adkison is getting entirely too friendly with a certain girl who hails from Room 210. Stay right in there Eddie, let 'em talk.

Mark Cummins almost stepped on Miss Lomax the other day. Watch your step, all you boys with big feet. That includes Watson Wilson, too.

We heard that a certain teacher in our school would like to know who is putting all this nonsense in the paper. Of course we have not the remotest idea.

WANTED—A sweetheart, must be very small and good looking. Apply to Roland Lewis, Room 210.

Roy Sanford is absent today.

Maxine Levitt asks to read our report each day. She says it takes so much time to study her English that she doesn't have time to read the Avalanche. She might learn some very good English by reading "Lubbock Hi Life," each day.

The other day a strange man knocked on the door of room 210. When Miss Lomax opened the door, he said, "Hello little girl! I would like to talk to your teacher."

$4200 RECOMMENDED FOR RURAL SCHOOLS OF CROSBY COUNTY

CROSBYTON, March 3.—County School Superintendent Hicks has just completed a survey of the rural schools with State Inspector and reports that state aid has been authorized for ten schools. $4200 was recommended. Mr. Hicks says that the State Inspector made very favorable comment upon the class and status of the school situation in Crosby County and said that the standing was a very high average.

FIRE AT CROSBYTON DESTROYS 35 BALES

CROSBYTON, March 3.—Fire originating in local cotton yard here Sunday night destroyed thirty-five bales of the staple. The fire which was being fanned by strong north wind was discovered at 2:30 a. m. But for the prompt action of the fire department, the entire contents of the yard would have been destroyed. The loss was only partially covered by insurance. Origin of the fire has not been determined.

James F. Robinson jumped into Lake Michian to commit suicide, but called for help and was rescued when he found the water too cold.

NEW YORK FINANCE

BY E. WALTER MOCKLER, Financial Editor United News NEW YORK, March 3.—Stock selling records went by the boards in Wednesday's market, a total of 3,867,000 shares taxing trading facilities to the limit.

The ticker was only 37 minutes behind the general market, however, as against 55 minutes on the previous day. This was explained by the fact that on Tuesday the heaviest selling came in the last hour, where as Wednesday's tremendous pressure was exerted evenly all through the day.

At the outset the rail stocks, particularly the stocks of railroads figuring in the Nickel Plate merger, were called to account for the failure of the L. C. G. to authorize the plan and the other "Van Sweringen stocks" was sharply lower after the first few minutes of trading.

On the other hand Chesapeake & Ohio signaled the break down of the plan with a sharp rally which was impressive, even though it failed to hold throughout the day. It was the minority group in Chesapeake & Ohio which fought the plan.

At the close of the market the showed 25 representative rail stocks of 2.76 points; 25 representative industrial stocks down 1.99 points and 50 miscellaneous stocks off 2.37 points.

WHEAT

wheat is a purchase on all sharp recessions. HULBURD WARREN & GRANDLER—After this severe break few buyers of a few cents should take place in wheat before selling is resumed. Look for lower prices in corn.

BARTLETT FRAZIER—On any further decline in wheat expect broader buying power to appear.

CORPUS CHRISTI—40 to 50 per cent cotton Neuces County planted raised would hurt but it not needed. Wonderful prospect of local stocks being made, likely show reduction of 50,000 bales.

Fertilizer sales to end of February 1,430,779 tons vs 1,017,309 last year.

NEW ORLEANS—Liverpool due 12 to 15 down by New Orleans and 12 to 14 down by New York.

Market showed a disposition to rally early yesterday but turned reactionary again in the late trading and heavy selling and liquidation brought on by break in stocks and weakness in other commodities.

Sentiment is strongly bearish and further pressure expected. Market is getting in a condition where rallies are likely to occur any time the trend still seems lower.

Weekly review today is likely to be bearish. Mr. Hester's fertilizer sales were delayed yesterday and ought to come today. They are likely to be constructed bearish.

Spot sales 11,242 against 17,560 Monday. Prices 10 up to 35 lower.

Buenos Aires close wheat quarter to 3-4 lower; Corn 1-4 lower; oats quarter lower. Weather cloudy.

GRAIN LETTER—Furnished by Fenner & Beane

CHICAGO—Wheat—It is conventional for all markets to have minor swings without immediate news, such as has been the case in wheat today, reactionary tendency being due to the extent of recent decline and not to any change in fundamentals.

Steadiness in Liverpool was attributed to the small visible supply in Australia, to less pressure from Argentine sorts to drought in India, none of the cables tell of an improved demand for actual wheat.

Some seaboard exporters reiterate better inquiry from United Kingdom and continent for both wheat and rye, but the amount of business reported closed not large enough to be of importance.

Crop news items all of an optimistic character, however, there has been some buying of July and selling of May on the belief that the discount for the new crop months is too severe.

As yet there have been no developments in the way of crop news to suggest a permanent upward in prices. It is our belief that the decline must extend further.

COARSE GRAINS—Some realizing sales have occurred in both corn and oats, with the demand confined to prevailing sellers.

The matter of immediate supplies in sight and existing demand do not provide reasons for higher prices, but the possibility of legislation in Washington may possibly temporarily upset the legitimate commercial situation.

NEW YORK, MARCH 3.—(United News) Wall street breathed a bit easier when the market closed Wednesday, as the frantic trading of the last two days wound up in the last hour. The downward trend in many issues has not halted but brokers were inclined to see in the slight closing bill an indication that the decline Thursday would be more gradual, with the banker's firmly in the saddle and no serious collapse of issues threatened.

The last hour, with trading in 1,076,700 shares, was no period of tranquility in the hours before the trading was over more spectacular, breaking all records in a well scrambled that created the biggest market of all time. Prices of virtually every stock sagged as demoralized speculators threw in their holdings to save what they could.

The day saw a trading volume of 8,897,700 shares which topped the previous record of 3,427,100 shares on November 10, 1925.

It was trading on a scale never before witnessed on the stock exchange. A second day of disaster. Declines plunged Wall street into a ferment of excitement. Every brokerage office in the city was who stormed the tickers to watch the value of stocks they owned or held on margin, melt away.

Sales in the first three hours were in excess of 2,150,000 shares. The 3,000,000,000 mark had been passed at 2:20. As was the case in the week and planting was begun in southern Louisiana—but in Texas seeding is still confined to southern portion of the State.

COTTON

stockholders who fought consolidation with the Van Sweringens and their victory created a strong demand for the stock. It was bid up from a previous closing level of 112 1-2 to 122 3-8.

Industrials in the main, were steady but fresh distress came in the afternoon when American Can broke below the 300 mark to 297, a loss of 17 points.

The board clerks, those smooth haired, usually so confident individuals, who shout out the quotations to the brokerage house clients, found themselves for once announcing their own doom. For rapidly declining market had wiped them out, too, and with hands that trembled they hung up the list of quotations.

Brokers were frantically trying to keep up with the deluge of orders. Wires clicked madly from small towns and busy industrial centers throughout the country. Although the orders, or at least the very great majority of them, were to sell, "sell fast and then faster" clients, found themselves for once announcing their own doom. For rapidly declining market had wiped them out, too, and with hands that trembled they hung up the list of quotations.

Wall street insists that the current bear market is not being engineered by pools nor are there one or two large operators behind the downward movement. It is but the natural result, it is said, of the bull market of the last two years with the market prices inflated out of all proportion to actual value of the stocks.

Fort Worth Livestock FT. WORTH, March 3.—Cattle receipts 2,500, calves receipts 500; heaves 550 @ 850; stockers 450 @ 825; cows 400 @ 575; cutters 350 @ 850; canners 300 @ 3
