Big Spending Bill Okayed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—Overriding Republican cries of "socialism," the Democratic-controlled House overwhelmingly voted approval today on the first big money bill of 1949.

The vote was 367 to 19.

The measure calls for the appropriation of $471,895,177 to run 35 federal agencies and offices until the end of the current fiscal year, June 30. It now goes to the Senate.

GOP protests that the bill would foster socialistic trends in the federal government centered on a $2,500,000 item to begin construction of a Tennessee Valley Authority steam power plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn.

The Republican-controlled 80th Congress batted down the steam plant proposal when it came up last year. The Democratic plaint then was that the Republicans were siding with the big-money private power interests.

House passage was on a roll call, after a motion to send the bill back to committee for revision lost 237 to 148.

Democratic floor managers of the bill beat off a succession of Republican-sponsored amendments which would have trimmed several millions of dollars out of the bill. They accepted a Democratic-sponsored amendment adding more than $5,000,000 to it.

Having lost out on the crucial test vote over the steam plant, some of the Republicans who angrily opposed it then turned and voted for the over-all appropriation bill.

Their protests over what they termed the "socialism" aspects of the TVA plant were loud and long.

Democrats countered that the plant is needed to make up for power shortages in the area.

The house wrote in $5,013,000 more than the committee had recommended for grants to states to meet unemployment compensation costs. An amendment by Rep. Rabauut (D-Mich.) boosted the total for this purpose to $10,000,000.

These are the main money items in the bill:

Secretary Of State Answers Criticism Aimed At Treaty

Acheson Sees Agreement On Objectives Of Atlantic Pact

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Secretary of State Acheson declared today that Western Europe, the United States, and congressional leaders agree that the North Atlantic security pact shall express joint determination to resist attack from any quarter.

He told a news conference that there are "no real differences" among the three factions on the objectives the United States seeks to accomplish.

He referred newsmen to President Truman's inaugural address on Jan. 20. The Chief Executive declared that the objective of the North Atlantic pact and other regional arrangements "is to provide unmistakable proof of the joint determination of the free countries to resist armed attack from any quarter."

Replies to Criticism

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) disclosed that Acheson would appear before a closed session of his group on Friday, presumably to discuss the North Atlantic pact.

Acheson's statements came in reply to what he frankly recognized as criticism of the proposed agreement in Europe and the United States.

In recent days, Senate foreign policy leaders have expressed opposition to any commitment in the pact which would "automatically" take the United States into war in the event one of the signatory countries is attacked.

Resolution Cited

This expression has stirred fears in the press of some European capitals that the U. S. is receding from the strong alliance which was contemplated when the pact came under negotiation.

Acheson declared that "we have been proceeding on the basis of policies which have been clearly defined and which, I think, are well understood."

In addition to President Truman's words, Acheson said that "clear expression" of this policy is to be found in the Vandenberg resolution which the Senate adopted last June and in the unanimous report of the House Foreign Affairs committee in the 80th Congress. Acheson continued:

"In conducting our discussions with other countries, we have taken as our guide these clear expressions of policy.

Public Discussion Favored

"I have been in regular consultation with senior members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee and intend to continue this course.

"In the near future at the convenience of the committee I hope to discuss the matter with the full committee.

"Discussions are still proceeding with the ambassadors of other countries concerned. I cannot go into further detail.

"I hope and expect that it will soon be possible to have public discussions on the basis of an actual text."

In alluding to recent criticisms, Acheson declared that one of the great difficulties in conducting such negotiations in a democracy is the public demand for information combined with the need for secrecy.

The secretary of state smilingly pointed out that he once lectured on this problem, which he called "the bureaucrat's dilemma, or why diplomats become maniacs."

He declined to discuss his recent talks with Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard Lange on that country's possible role in the North Atlantic pact.

Official Sees No Recession

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Treasury Secretary Snyder told Congress today that it must levy additional taxes or take the responsibility for unbalancing the President's $41,900,000,000 budget.

Testifying in support of the administration's drive for $4 billion in additional levies, Snyder said "I think we are going to have to have an increase in taxes if we are to stay within the budget." He added:

"As long as I am secretary of the treasury, I will use every method—regardless of how unpopular it is—to balance the budget and retire the debt."

Congress Bluntly Warned

Snyder's testimony, given before the Senate Foreign Relations committee which sought his views on the Marshall plan and international currency control, clashed with a current congressional move to shelve the tax increase pending clarification of the business outlook.

Presidential Economic Adviser Leon Keyserling has stated that the administration's tax policy is "reversible"—to be eased in case of a business recession.

Snyder, however, refused to concede any possibility of a real recession. He bluntly warned that if Congress increases expenditures above the President's budget, it will have to provide still more new taxes.

Business Outlook "Good"

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) suggested that the President might increase expenditures above his proposed budget.

Snyder replied that the President could recommend, but that only Congress could authorize an increase in spending.

Later in the day in an address before Washington's Federal Bar association, Snyder reiterated his opinion that the business outlook is good. He said:

"They (slumps in some businesses, commodity price drops, and increased unemployment) are part of the essential process of re-establishing the economy on a sound basis for further advance.

Opportunities Seen

"This is part of the inevitable process of getting back to normal. It paves the way for promising developments in many kinds of consumer goods which have been

SOME RIVERS ALREADY RISING

Floods Loom In Northwest As Result Of Heavy Snows

(By The Associated Press)

SNOW AND WIND still held the stage today in winter's grim drama of the northwest. But a third villain, flood, stood in the wings.

Rising temperatures and a rain storm moved across Washington into Idaho, bringing a series of snow avalanches in the Cascades.

Snowslides in the eastern Washington range set up the winter's worst blockade there, closing all three rail lines and the three most important highway passes.

Melting snow poured into the streams of Washington and northern Oregon where the Willamette river approached flood stage at Jefferson in the farming area normally first affected by floods.

An inch of rain along the coast line of the two states added to the run-off problem. And there was new snow and the prospect of rain in Idaho.

Across the Continental divide where road breaking crews still worked in frigid temperatures to re-open snow-choked roads in North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Wyoming, flood talk arose.

In Omaha, Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, head of the regional snow-fighting operation, said "I don't think it's possible to get out of this situation without some floods." The north plains area where snow conditions have been most severe covers much of the drainage basins of the Platte and Missouri rivers, both of which empty into the Mississippi. A sudden change to warm weather would overload these streams and their tributaries.

Mercury Rises

Elsewhere, weather conditions held less menacing portents. The Atlantic seaboard which basked in unusually mild weather Tuesday, had a decided change for cooler north of Washington. It was still mild south of there, however. There were a few light showers in Virginia and North Carolina.

Much of the nation had fair skies and near normal temperatures. The mercury rose above zero in much of the northern plains and upper Mississippi area where it dipped Tuesday night as low as —18 at Pembina, N. D.

Maj. Gen. Stephen J. Chamberlin, Fifth Army commander, announced at Chicago that he would make a personal survey of conditions in the plains blizzard area, starting Thursday.

Passes Are Blocked

A Fifth Army spokesman said that wind had abated as a drift-piling factor Wednesday in all of the blizzard emergency area except southern Wyoming. Excellent progress in clearing roads was reported in the Dakotas and northwestern Nebraska.

In the Cascade mountains, mountainside snow mantles 16 to 18 feet thick slipped into Snoqualmie, Blewett and Stevens passes,

RESEARCH BEGINS ON ROCKET POWER PLANT

U.S. Space Ship Planned

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The government is conducting secret research into a rocket power plant to propel "space ships" at 10,000-mile-an-hour speeds beyond the earth's atmosphere.

The research, described as being in the "mathematical problem" stage, was disclosed today by a chart issued by the Curtiss-Wright Corp. showing the evolution of airplane power plants.

Defense Secretary Forrestal hinted at such research in a single paragraph labeled "earth satellite vehicle program" in the recent annual report of the Defense department.

Research Underway

But the Curtiss-Wright chart revealed for the first time that the initial phase of research on such a project actually is under way.

Curtiss-Wright and government officials emphasized that the "space ship" is strictly in the drawing-board stage and could not be expected to become a reality, even if studies prove its feasibility, for a "long time."

Some high government aeronautical scientists feel the technical problems to be met, such as tremendous size and expense, may make the task at least unfeasible, if not impossible.

Scientists have long toyed with the idea of rocketing a missile out beyond the pull of the Earth's gravity, where it would circle endlessly, like a tiny moon.

Such a missile could be used as a direction-finder for long-range war rockets, guiding their flight by radio and other signals relayed from Earth back to a chosen target on the surface.

The military services have already shot a German V-2 rocket to an altitude of 114 miles, about 100 miles short of the area where the gravitation pull ceases.

One of the greatest obstacles to production of a "space ship" is lack of a fuel powerful enough to propel it at the tremendous speed necessary to drive it through the resisting atmospheres.

Such a huge load of presently-available fuels would be needed that the ship would become prohibitive in size.

In peacetime the "space ships" could be used as a navigation aid, to relay television and radar waves, and for interplanetary travel experiments.

The chart, released by Curtiss-Wright with the approval of military authorities, also reveals that government scientists are attempting to develop rocket airplanes with speeds in excess of 4,000 miles per hour.

The Curtiss-Wright chart reported that the government seeks a top speed of 1,500 miles per hour

Sucker's Visions Of Blowing Buck Into $2,048 Are Fading

By SUCKER No. 25,349
(Written Especially For The Avalanche)

Old P. T. Barnum certainly would liked to have seen me walk into his big-top, because I'm a first-class sucker—one of those "fall guys" born every minute, on the minute.

Yep, I joined a Pyramid Friendship club. Blushing with shame, empty of pocket, I admit it.

It all looked so easy, the way a "pal" of mine explained it. Just contribute a dollar, drop in on four meetings, collect $2,048—all in 12 days flat. Nothing to it.

Still Waiting

Well, I gave the buck. I went to the parties—all four of 'em—where I drank punch that tasted like anti-freeze and ate cookies that should have been used for slingshot ammunition. I even held the last meeting at my place (as required by club procedure), and had a $4.98 kitchen chair totally demolished when an oversize guest sat on it.

But I'm still waiting for that $2,048. For that matter, I'm still waiting for the return of my original $1 investment. The 12-day time limit is up, but my bank account is down.

Canadian River Project Pushed

By SARAH McCLENDON
(Avalanche Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — Plans for pushing through Congress at this session a bill to authorize a dam on the Canadian river near Amarillo to supply Amarillo, Lubbock and other cities will be made Friday at a luncheon in the Capitol with Interior Secretary J. A. Krug and Reclamation Commissioner Michael Strauss, Rep. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, announced today.

Rep. George Mahon, of Colorado City and Lubbock, will jointly sponsor the project with Cong. Worley.

Top Officials Invited

Mayor L. R. Hagey of Amarillo has been here for several days working on the project. A representative for Lubbock also is expected to attend the session.

Cong. Worley will have as his other guests for the luncheon Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, Chief Justice Marvin Jones of the Court of Claims, former Amarillo congressman, and Howard Robbins, Thomas R. Cantine and Harry P. Burleigh of the Bureau, and Col. Jay Taylor of Amarillo.

Floydada Man's Appeal Is Heard

AUSTIN, Feb. 16. (AP)—The second appeal of W. Fred Jones from his death sentence on conviction of murder was submitted on oral arguments to the Court of Criminal appeals today.

Jones was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the shotgun slaying of H. C. Love, a clerk in his Floydada grocery store.

Jones originally was convicted in Hale county. The second trial was held in Crosby county on a change of venue. His attorney, B. A. Simpson, asked for a second reversal of the trial court's sentence.

Griffin Defends Trial

Mead Griffin of Plainview, co-counsel for the state, argued that there was no reason for reversal.

"That was the best tried murder case I was ever in," he told the court. "All rights of the defendant were protected."

Simpson asked the appeals court to consider that both trials were held within 28 miles of where the killing took place.

There was never really a change of venue because the counties are so close together," he argued.

State Answers Exceptions

Simpson contended that "the jury convicted Jones and assessed him the death sentence without having the court's charge to the High Court Upholds Oil Field Shutdown

AUSTIN, Feb. 16. (AP)—A Railroad commission order shutting in the Heyser oil field until operators halt wasteful flaring of gas was upheld by the State Supreme court today.

The court divided, 7 to 2. The majority opinion dissolved an injunction granted by 98th District Court Judge Charles O. Betts restraining the commission from enforcing the close-down order in the field. The field is in Calhoun and Victoria counties.

In Corpus Christi, Attorney General Price Daniel said he was gratified by the decision. He said he would "proceed immediately to trial in 15 other similar cases which are now pending."

The Supreme court's ruling was no assurance that the state will be as successful in remaining suits as it was in the Heyser case. The attorney general previously has acknowledged that he considered the Heyser case as his strongest.

U.S. Plans To Defend Japan, Official Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Secretary of the Army Royall said today the United States is "prepared to meet all comers" in the event of an attack on Japan.

Royall denied he told newsmen in Tokyo that the Army would abandon Japan if attacked by Russia or that the United States considers Japan to be indefensible.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson said American policy on the occupation and defense of Japan is still the same and no change is planned.

Acheson declined, however, to define U.S. official policy on Japan in exact terms.

Man Caught In Chase Is Fined

Investigation of several thefts and assessment of a $75 fine against a Lubbock man who attempted to outrun traffic patrolmen in a wild chase through the city held the spotlight on the local law enforcement front Wednesday.

Clyde Frederick Ward, 27, of Lubbock, who was charged Wednesday with drunk driving, was assessed a fine of $75 and court costs in county court.

Police who made the arrest, made the following report on events leading to Ward's apprehension.

Woman Is Charged

C. D. Barnes and Robert W. Brasher discovered Ward driving eastward on Nineteenth at "a high rate of speed" a few minutes before 5 a.m. Wednesday. They turned and began chasing him.

Ward turned north on Texas, then drove to Broadway and out East Broadway, running caution and stop lights, passing a car on the wrong side and almost hitting the center section of the east Broadway underpass. The chase hit 70 miles an hour at one point. The suspect stopped at a service station on U. S. 62 across the canyon and was caught when he attempted to drive away.

Loila Johnson, 28, of Lubbock, charged with desertion of a minor child, was arrested Wednesday night by deputies of the sheriff's department.

Bill Stewart of Stewart Motor company told police that a man had attempted to pass him a bad check for $2,275 in payment for a used car. Stewart became

Clay Orders Inquiry Into Secret Trial

MUNICH, Germany, Feb. 16 (AP)—Secrecy imposed for reasons unknown even to Gen. Lucius D. Clay masked the opening of a spy trial before a U. S. military commission here today.

Gen. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, ordered an investigation from his headquarters in Frankfurt. He said he would order an open trial unless the court convinces him the secrecy is necessary.

He will have to be shown, he said, that an open trial would involve "real and actual" danger to the United States, or imperil the lives of innocent persons.

(In Washington Secretary of the Army Royall said he had called for a report on the trial. "Only the most important security consideration could justify such secrecy," he said. "I would not approve such a course without the strongest showing.")

Officers Probe Mutilation Slaying Of Dallas Plastics Plant Worker

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 16—Ray Adair Moore, 33, of Dallas, his throat cut and his body mutilated, was found dead in a roadside ditch early today.

Officers were running down a number of possible clues, one a list of names of a pyramid club which Moore apparently had joined.

Dallas county Sheriff Bill Decker said, however, he believed Moore's apparent pyramid club membership had nothing to do with his slaying.

Decker said he thought it was a grudge slaying, and called it one of the most brutal killings he had ever seen.

Moore's head had been bashed in and his throat cut. He had been shot near the heart and had been stabbed in the back.

The list of names was found in Moore's pocket. Officers called several of those on the list today.

Pyramid clubs blossomed actively here recently. They operate on lines similar to the old chain letter fad.

Communists Gained Strong Foothold In Hollywood Before Committee Started Sensational Hearings

By ROBERT STRIPLING
(Chief Investigator, House Un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1948; Edited by Bob Considine.)

No. 13

IF the Communist Party could seize the motion picture industry as completely as it has seized a number of supposedly impregnable U.S. unions and other organizations, it could hasten by many years its long-range plan to communize the country.

About 75,000,000 Americans attend movies each week. Most of the patrons believe what they see.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities inquired into Communism in Hollywood because our investigators were able within a short period to unearth 33 card-bearing Communist writers, directors, actors and actresses and to compile thick dossiers on the Communist activities of 75 other influential persons in the film industry.

Were Using Arts

There were indications that there were easily more, and that they were operating efficiently toward making an early bit of Lenin's dogma come true. "Communism," Lenin wrote, "must always consider that of all the arts the motion picture is the most important."

They were guided, too, by the words of Willie Muenzenburg, one-time member of the Communist International in charge of cultural affairs. Muenzenburg wrote:

"We must develop the tremendous cultural possibilities (of motion pictures) in a revolutionary sense. One of the most pressing

NEW CABINET IS ANNOUNCED

Jap Minister Urges Nation To Reach Economic Independence

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Feb. 16 — Japan's Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida called upon his people today to lift themselves by their own bootstraps to a position of economic independence.

He made his plea in an announcement of the new Japanese cabinet which revealed a sharp split in the ranks of Japan's second largest conservative party, the Democrats.

Yoshida's extreme rightist party, the Democratic Liberals, won a smashing victory in last months elections which also gave the Communists startling advances.

In his announcement, Yoshida reminded the Japanese that they "cannot rely solely on allied munificence" to achieve postwar reconstruction.

The prime minister spoke at a solemn ceremony before Emperor Hirohito in Tokyo's imperial palace where the full "conservative front" cabinet was officially sworn into office.

Yoshida urged the Japanese to gain their economic freedom "by dint of a fervent spirit of self-reliance, your own exertion and the practice of austerity."

The conservative leader pledged full support of the nine-point economic program devised by the American State department to stabilize the nation's financial and industrial existence.

Pledges Fight On Reds

He also promised a continuing fight against the resurgent Communists who have begun a campaign designed to weaken the effects of the stabilization program.

Yoshida's new cabinet represents a coalition including two members of the sharply-split Democratic party headed by Ken Inukai.

Inukai antagonized many of his followers when he made a deal with Yoshida to form a "conservative front" coalition. Such a cabinet was promised by Yoshida following his election when he promised smaller parties a larger voice in the Diet (parliament).

However, many of Inukai's adherents have flatly turned down the deal. In the Diet's house of representatives 35 of the 70 Democratic legislators voted against participation in such a "solid front." Opposition in the upper house of councilors was even stronger, 31 of its 48 members voting against the coalition deal.

Rep. Clifton Levels Blast At Senator Who Belittled War Hero

AUSTIN, Feb. 16. (AP)—Rep. Davis Clifton of Farmersville Wednesday verbally lashed Senator Jim Taylor of Kerens for "belittling" the heroism of Audie Murphy, the most decorated American soldier of World War II.

Clifton told the House:

"I am taking this mike on personal privilege for the first time because a distinguished guest we invited to the legislature has been needlessly and ruthlessly insulted.

"Any of you who have looked at the morning papers saw Senator Taylor's statement that he has 'seen men buried who deserved more medals than Audie Murphy ever got.'

"Yesterday, the senator from the Texas Manufacturing association, Colonel James E. Taylor, belittled the heroism of Audie Murphy of Farmersville."

Shouts of "pour it on" came from representatives as Clifton continued:

"I have no intention of comparing the battle records of the Army infantry, where Audie Murphy served, with that of the field artillery where Col. Taylor served."

Water Test Fails To Hit 'Pay' Formation

Another disappointment in the city's deep water test northeast of the city limits was reported Wednesday.

Members of the city commission had hoped the test would reveal a formation bearing good water at about 1,400 feet.

A sand was found but it is only 31 inches thick and did not contain enough fluid to provide a sample for testing, Mayor W. H. Rodgers was advised.

Drilling To Continue

Drilling is to continue to a minimum depth of 2,000 feet. The Layne-Texas Co., of Houston is the contractor.

A report still was being awaited on a laboratory analysis of fluid samples taken from a formation more than 60 feet thick beginning at approximately 942 feet. Taste tests indicated the water to be too salty to be of value in solving Lubock and South Plains water problems.

The exploration was authorized as a long-shot bet that good water might be found below the shallow sands from which Lubbock and the South Plains now obtain practically all their supplies.

GEN. CLAY SETS DEADLINE

Army Orders Red Repatriation Group Out Of U.S. German Zone

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 16. (AP)—The U.S. Army tonight ordered a Soviet repatriation mission to get out of the American zone of Germany by March 1.

Disaccreditation of the mission was announced after the Soviet commander in Germany, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky asserted it was indispensable and that a withdrawal would have to be worked out between Moscow and Washington.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U.S. commander, cancelled the accreditation of the mission members, four officers and hour soldiers.

The mission ostensibly has been handling the moving of Russian displaced persons wanting to go back to Russia.

Requests Decline

Gen. Clay said: "Because the voluntary repatriation of displaced persons who are Soviet citizens has virtually ceased, the Russian repatriation mission in the U.S. zone will not operate after March 1."

The Army said it is felt the accredited Soviet military mission in the U.S. zone could take over the job.

The repatriation mission's task is to contact Soviet citizens who want to go home. The Army said the number of volunteer repatriates had shrunk to "negligible" proportions.

Gen. Clay wrote Marshal Sokolovsky that enough time has elapsed to complete its job and "I must, therefore, advise you that, effective March 1, the repatriation mission will no longer be accredited, and request that you withdraw its personnel by that date."

Withdrawal of the Russian mission would leave only the Polish repatriation mission in the American zone. The Czechoslovak mission was recalled in July, 1947; the Swedish in September, 1947; Venezuelan in February, 1948, and Yugoslav last month.

The French also were reported planning to ask a Russian repatriation mission to leave their zone.

Connally Asks Study Of U.S. Oil Imports

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (Special)—Senator Tom Connally of Texas has demanded that the oil and gas division of the Interior department study Texas Governor Beauford Jester's presentation of facts about how foreign imports are hurting the domestic oil industry, and present him with a report.

Connally is now pressing the Interior department to hasten the compilation of data on this situation.

As soon as the report is received, Connally promises to make it public.

Governor Jester and the governor of Oklahoma have both informed senators and congressmen in Washington recently that the foreign imports are forcing cutbacks in their states that the state's revenue from taxation is being greatly reduced.

Jester said the Texas Railroad commission has had to curtail production to the point already where the state's revenue from gross production taxes has been reduced more than 12 months per year.

The income of independent producers and royalty owners has been reduced milions of dollars, and the incentive for development and discovery of new domestic reserve has been seriously curtailed.

Dr. C. H. Gilliam, Local Couple's Son-in-Law, Dies in Galveston

Dr. C. H. Gilliam, about 38, Galveston physician, and son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Laney, of 2208 Ninth, died in his sleep at his residence Wednesday morning, according to information received here by the family Wednesday.

Funeral services are to be conducted in Haskell at 10 a.m. Saturday. Burial will be in a Haskell cemetery.

Dr. Gilliam completed his premedical work at Texas Tech and was graduated from the University of Texas medical school at Galveston. He had practiced in Galveston for about 15 years. His wife is the former Jewel Laney. The couple has three sons, Hugh, jr., David, and Bill.

Dr. Gilliam's father, Leon Gilliam, resides at Haskell. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Annie Bess Clifton, and two brothers, Bob Gilliam and Fred Gilliam, all of Haskell.

Mrs. Gilliam's family resides here, and includes, in addition to her parents, two sisters, Mrs. George Box and Mrs. W. A. Miller; and two brothers, J. A. Laney, jr., and John B. Laney.

Tech Vice President Speaks To Wayland College Students

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 16. (Special) Four things for which he said students in Wayland college here should be grateful were outlined in an address to students today by Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Tech college at Lubbock.

First of these as listed by the speaker was that "you should be grateful that you are you, that you have your own opportunities and that you cannot be anyone else."

Another he listed as good environment, which he said should bring gratitude to parents, adding that "you should appreciate your parents and express that appreciation."

As a third cause, Dr. Jones said students "should be grateful for the small college and opportunities it offers," and in what he called the last but probably not least of the causes for gratitude, the speaker urged students to "be grateful for the religious influence you have and take advantage of it to develop your moral character."

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. F. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

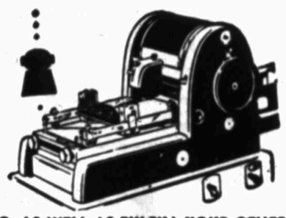

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

WHEN IN THE COURSE of a city's growth it becomes necessary for the members of the woman's department of a newspaper to dissolve the small town social bands which have so long encompassed their readers allowing them to assume a place in the realms of CITY social life and to escape from the narrowness of community conventionalities, a decent respect for the opinions of femininity requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the action.

This, dear women of Lubbock and vicinity, is YOUR "Declaration of Independence."

With all sincerity and the desire to serve you better in the field of women's news, we ask that once and for all you break loose from the last confining bonds of provincial pettiness and play the role in which the present day theater has cast you—the role of broad-minded, logical women of a city.

Recently one of your main criticisms of us has been that our women's pages do not contain enough news of real society; and paradoxically, the bane of our porfessional existence has been that in too many cases you refuse to allow us to write up the purely social entertainments which make for interesting reading.

Henceforth, there will be no reason to offer the trivial excuses of the past and we ask that you accept as dead and outmoded the following reasons for not allowing us to report the news as it should be reported:

1. "I just can't give you a story on my little tea. I only invited 300 guests and so many of my other intimate friends would be offended because they didn't receive an invitation." (We are still wondering if the hostess believed that 300 women could attend a party without telling 300 more about it.)

2. "Well, Mrs. M— and Mrs. W— are hostesses with me, and although I don't mind having the story in the paper myself, the others don't want it in." (Nine times out of ten, when we check with the other hostesses, they tell the same tale.)

3. "Oh I never have my parties put in the paper!" (This poor phrase is really threadbare from over use, and invariably the intonation of the speaker's voice adds the unspoken words: "Are you suggesting that my name and the names of my friends be printed parallel to others!")

4. "If it were any other kind of party, I wouldn't mind, but it's a" (carefully cultivated musical laughter floats in here) "cocktail party, and, my dear, you know how that is!" (No we don't.)

5. "If you don't mind, I wish you would just forget about my little luncheon. I do hate for everyone to think I'm a publicity seeker." (Our timid friends, your parties are as important as anyone else's, and if we hadn't felt your story to be newsworthy, we wouldn't have called you.)

6. "Well, I only asked a few of the girls in for bridge, and I didn't want anyone else to know about it, because there were some others I should have invited. I'm giving a series of parties, but some people might not understand about being left out." (This is similar to reasons one and five, but too frequently used to be omitted.)

Some careful individuals don't even bother to make an excuse for not letting us have information on their party. They simply say, "Could I call you back in a few minutes and give you the story," with little or no intention of doing so.

Without any further explanation, please let us ask that you declare all such practices useless, inadequate, invalid and ancient history. Please, please forget their existence and never clutter up the telephone wires with them again! Please, please, please free both yourselves and us of the trouble they cause!

We offer this declaration with affection and gratitude to you, our readers, with the knowledge that your past cooperation has enabled us to enlarge our department in the last few years, and that a greater coordination of our news sources in the future will make it possible for the Avalanche-Journal women's pages to become both what those who read them and those who write them want them to be.

Yours sincerely,
The Woman's Department

Bank Bandit Escapes With $8,000 In British Columbia Robbery

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 16 (INS) — A gun-toting bandit fired three shots into the ceiling of Victoria's Bay street branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, cowed employees and fled with $8000 in cash today.

After terrifying the bank employees with his gun fire, the bandit herded them all into a rear room before making off with his loot.

City Manager To Report Monday

Steve Mathews, originally scheduled to begin yesterday as Lubbock city manager, will instead take up his new duties Monday.

Mathews asked for, and was granted, additional time in which to wind up his duties as Pampa city manager and to move his possessions to Lubbock.

City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., who has resigned, will continue in the position until Mathews takes over.

Smith announced he will resume a partnership with G. W. Parkhill and S. C. Cooper as consulting engineers with offices at 1006½ Fourteenth street. The firm will be known as Parkhill, Smith and Cooper.

Smith To Cooperate

Smith resigned as city manager in 1943 to join in forming the partnership. He withdrew from the firm when he accepted reappointment as city manager March 1, 1948.

The retiring city manager has assured the city commission he will cooperate in every way possible with Mathews. The two may work together for whatever period Mathews wishes under authority given by the commission.

Mathews has been negotiating for the purchase of a home here, but Mayor W. H. Rodgers said he had not been advised whether a deal actually had been closed.

Mrs. Mathews, a native of Clarendon, and their son, Stephen, 2, are expected to accompany him to Lubbock when he arrives to begin his duties.

Oklahoma Legislators Probe Red Activities Among Professors

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 16.— The House committee investigating rumors of Communists among college professors will visit the University of Oklahoma next week, Chairman D. C. Cantrell said today.

Cantrell said he has contacted the Federal Bureau of Investigation here for leads but hasn't talked to the "high authority."

Asked whether he received any important information, Cantrell said, "They don't give out anything publicly."

The hearings will be delayed until next week because of the Oklahoma Education association state convention here this week, he added.

The five-man committee was established yesterday by the House of Representatives after the lawmakers expanded the scope of Cantrell's resolution to include all colleges and universities in Oklahoma, instead of the University of Oklahoma by itself.

The House action was taken while a Senate committee, meeting elsewhere in the statehouse, was killing a House-approved measure which would have required all state college students and all public school and college teachers to take anti-Communist oaths. The Education committee voted to draft a substitute bill requiring college professors to take the oath of allegiance to the U.S.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Badley of 2205 Twenty-fifth, have been notified by the Army department that the body of their son, Pfc. Herbert Raymond Badley, who was killed June 16, 1945, on Okinawa, is being returned to this country aboard an Army transport. Pfc. Badley lived in Lubbock for nine years before moving to Long Beach, Calif., a short time before entering the Army. Reburial arrangements are to be announced at a later date.

An examination for the position of substitute clerk in the post office at Lorenzo is to be held March 19 at Ralls, according to an announcement Wednesday. Applicants must reside within the delivery area of the post office or be patrons of that office, the announcement said. The examination is to begin at 8:30 o'clock the morning of March 19.

Last rites for Mrs. J. D. Railsback, 74, who died Tuesday in her home at Acuff, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Acuff Baptist church, with Rev. George W. Thomas, pastor, officiating, and Rev. J. Wright of Levelland, assisting. Sanders Funeral home directed burial in Lubbock cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Oscar Nelson, 51, of 2511 Twenty-seventh, who died Tuesday in her residence, were held at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the Shepherd King American Lutheran church, with Rev. David V. Sieberg, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Lubbock Memorial park under directions of Plains Funeral home.

Rev. R. L. Carrington, pastor of the Church of God in Christ No. 2 has issued an appeal for aid to needy negro families in Lubbock. Rev. Carrington said that food, money and clothing were urgently needed. The church is at present caring for over 50 needy colored families. Donations should be brought to 2611 Ave. B, or if the donor will call 2-9205 his contribution will be picked up.

Harold Saddler, 28, of 1707-B Seventeenth, a student at Texas Technological college, who entered Lubbock Memorial hospital Tuesday seriously ill, was reported unchanged in condition Wednesday night. Attendants at the hospital said that his ailment had not been completely and positively diagnosed last night.

Associate Professor L. M. Hargrave of the Agriculture Education department at Tech will be one of the judges in the annual livestock show to be held in Kress Saturday.

The Parliamentary Law class meeting which was scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Monday night at 7:30 p.m. according to Mrs. H. F. Godeke, teacher of the class. The group will meet in the classroom at the Lubbock Memorial Hospital as planned.

A standard first aid course will open at 7:30 o'clock Monday night in the offices of the Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross, 1513 Ave. K, it was announced Wednesday. Fifteen members of the class will be supervisors and other personnel of Western Electric Co. Five additional persons may enroll in the class and reservations may be made by telephoning 8534, Red Cross headquarters. The class is to be taught by Richard Crandall and John Lockerd, Red Cross first aid instructors.

Redistricting Plan In New Mexico Loses

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 16 (INS) — Redistricting of the New Mexico legislature, the hottest issue to reach the floor during this session, met defeat in the House today.

Rep. Virgil O. McCollum's plan to enlarge the Senate to 31 members and the House to 64 representatives failed 22-27.

However, the fight is apparently not yet ended. Both the Carlsbad representative and other members announced their intention of bringing in similar proposals within the next few days. Some representatives said they voted against McCollum's bill, although they favored reapportionment in principle.

McCollum charged that state administration forces had tried to thwart all his efforts at reapportionment "at least that's the way it seems to me."

Democratic floor leader F. C. Gonzales denied that Gov. T. J. Mabry, Democratic state chairman Bryan Johnson or state revenue Commissioner Victor Salazar were opposed to the idea "in principle." However, he added that he didn't like the representative's scheme.

Westerners Draw Bye In District 1-AA Cage Playoff

Pampa And Amarillo Will Tangle At Canyon Tonight

The Lubbock Westerners will sit out the first game in the District 1-AA playoff, but Pampa and Amarillo play tonight at 8:15 in Burton gym at Canyon. The winner of this game plays Lubbock at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Canyon for the district championship.

Luck was with the Westerners Wednesday, when Supt. R. W. Matthews, representing Lubbock, drew the number "3" from a hat which meant a bye into the finals against the winner of the first game.

Coach Ray Morris said yesterday afternoon that he hoped "our luck can continue to hold out. We are very happy over the decision."

But the Westerners will spend the next two days practicing looking forward to the Saturday game, which could mean a bi-district playoff and a trip to the state meet in Austin if they win. Wednesday afternoon Coach Morris drilled his boys on defensive work, and then concentrated heavily on offensive manuevers and team play. Another hard workout is scheduled for today, an dthen the team will taper off Friday with a lighter drill.

Tickets for the game Saturday can be obtained at the athletic office at Lubbock High school. Some 500 ducats have been received for Westerner rooters, 200 adult tickets and 300 for students. Price of admission for adults is $1 and 50 cents for s tts.

The three-way tie first place resulted after each of the teams had been beaten twice in district competition. Lubbock defeated Plainview last Saturday to enter the select circle on the same night that Amarillo handed Pampa its second defeat. Pampa bounced back to trounce Plainview Monday night, and Amarillo finished its schedule with an overtime game against Borger.

Dropped Sandies Twice

During the season, the three teams defeated each other with some degree of regularity. Lubbock defeated Amarillo twice, and the Sandies stopped Pampa cold in a pair of games. Pampa heaped two defeats on Lubbock to keep the pot boiling. If this circle continues, Amarillo should win tonight over Pampa and be defeated Saturday by the Westerners. Only time will tell.

The choice of officials was unanimous, and the representatives selected Charlie Tucker of Phillips, and Cowan of Panhandle to referee both contests.

Attending the meeting from Lubbock were Matthews, C. R. Pattison, and Coach Morris.

Monte LaDue Retains Title

Texas' Junior Heavyweight title still is safely held by Monte LaDue, who defended it successfully last night against the onslaughts of Billy Hickson in Sled Allen's arena, while a near capacity crowd cheered the loser.

The main feature, however, didn't put to shame the two preceding matches. The card opened with Vic Weber and George Overhauls wrestling to a 20-minute draw and the bouts continued with Pat O'Dowdy taking a bloody encounter from Billy Goelz.

O'Dowdy dropped the first fall to Goelz after 22 minutes of action, when the winner used a standing short arm scissors to gain the victory.

Then came the fun. Goelz had O'Dowdy on the verge of defeat but lost his senses and tried to jam the Big Spring promoter out of the ring. Both grapplers flopped to the concrete floor and O'Dowdy recovered first. He picked up Goelz slammed him onto the concrete and climbed back into the ring.

O'Dowdy won the fall after eight minutes and a doctor was called to attend to the unconscious Goelz, whose failure to return to the ring for the third fall gave the match to O'Dowdy.

The main go was a rough affair, with Hickson attempting to fight his unruly foe through scientific methods. They didn't work. LaDue won the first fall with a reverse toehold in 11 minutes, but dropped the second to Hickson on a series of flying tackles and a body smother after seven minutes of torture.

LaDue almost lost the final round through the same series of ring antics. But Hickson came off the ropes once too often. He apparently hit his head and LaDue fell on the unconscious wrestler for the match.

Levelland Refiners Win City Cage Title

Levelland's Refiners won the Lubbock city basketball championship last night in Chapman Fieldhouse, turning back Sanders Motors 36-32, even though the victors had only four men on the court during the final seven minutes of play.

Two of Levelland's top stars fouled out and two other players joined them with seven minutes left to play. The Refiners had a 34-30 lead at the time and it seemed as though Sanders might even the series at one game apiece.

But the losers didn't know how to take advantage of the opportunity and each team scored only one field goal in the final minutes.

Levelland thus concluded the best two out of three series for the city championship by winning two games in a row. Eugene McKee paced the winners with 15 points, while Leon Holly had 13 for Sanders.

Gold watch charms will be given to members of the winning team, while silver charms will be presented each member of the losing quintet. Trophies will be awarded to each team for finishing first and second respectively.

Cooper Cage Teams Win Two Encounters With Idalou Fives

COOPER, Feb. 16 (Special)—Cooper tangled with Idalou here Wednesday in three basketball games, and came out on top in two of the contests.

The Idalou B team turned in a winning performance by downing Cooper, 38-33. Weldon Howell led the scoring for Cooper with 14 markers, and Cocanoughur made 10 for Idalou.

The junior boys defeated Idalou, 17-14, as Dallas Brewer and Joe Bob Hoyle accounted for six points each. High scorer in the match was Roye of Idalou with seven points.

In the B team girls game, Cooper won, 36-29. Scoring honors were even with 18 points chalked up by Wynelle Baldwin of Cooper and Lawson of Idalou.

Leroy Goldworthy, coach of the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League, is the golf pro at the Jasper, Alberta, summer resort.

Europeans Expected To Cop Long Runs

Tight Competition Seen In AAU Track

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (INS) — Europe's galaxy of distance runners, who have stampeded American competition all winter, may have to move over and share the spotlight at the National A.A.U. track and field championships Saturday night.

A whale of a race shaped up today in the 600-yard run. That race, over a distance not even included on most outdoor programs, has attracted a bumper crop of entries.

Foremost among the prospective competitors are Herb McKenley, the Jamaica flash who has been barnstorming in Australia, and Villanova's George Guida, who set a world's indoor record for 500 yards last weekend.

Those two, with proper goading from each other and from the field, threaten the recognized indoor record of 1:10.2.

The longer runs virtually without exception have been written off as the sole property of the invading Europeans.

Gaston Reiff, the tireless Belgian, and his shadow, Eric Ahlden of Sweden, dominate the three-mile distance. In the one-mile, Holland's Willy Slykhuis is the favorite with Sweden's Ingvar Bengtsson the No. 2 choice.

Bentgsson made an abrupt switch today from the over-populated 1,000-yard run to the mile. Even so, Marcel Hansenne of France is the standout in the 1,000.

Meanwhile, entries in the sprints and hurdles are preoccupied with the announcement that they must start Saturday from the newfangled Ogden starting gate.

The tubular steel device, operated on a principle similar to that of racehorse barriers, was used last month at the Philadelphia Inquirer games. It met with almost universal objections from the runners.

The gate employs two padded shoulder bars for each contestant. Gates are released simultaneously by the starter.

Ed Connell, 60-yard dash favorite, claims he still has a sore shoulder from the Philadelphia meet.

25 Lettermen Will Report To Jones Stadium

Spring Football Practice At Texas Tech Will Open March 7

Spring football training at Texas Tech will open March 7, only two weeks from now, Head Coach Dell Morgan announced yesterday.

A host of gridiron hopefuls, including 25 lettermen, will report to Jones Stadium for initial drills, which will cover a 30-day period. An inter-squad game will conclude the usual spring grind.

Eight lettermen have indicated that they will not be back, either because of graduation in June or through completion of eligibility. But their places should be filled by a large group of freshmen gridders, along with transfer students, former ineligible players and the return of men with eligibility who haven't been in college.

Losses on the Tech squad include Ends Billy Kelley, J. L. Gulley and Frank Ottmers, Guards Don Orr and Dorrell McCurry and Backs Zac Henderson, Glenn Lewis and Charley Reynolds. Of this group, five were regulars and the other three saw heavy action.

The Border Conference champions will attempt to lay the groundwork for quick adaptability in the fall, when they face an opening date Sept. 17 against Texas at Austin. They follow this with a game against Texas A & M at San Antonio, then swing into eight more games on nine week ends.

Women's National Amateur Golf To Be Run On Match Play Basis

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—The women's National Amateur golf championship will be conducted hereafter entirely on a match play basis after qualifying rounds in approximately 26 cities, the U.S. G. A. announced Wednesday.

By unanimous vote of its sectional associations, the ruling body of golf was asked to abandon its long-time policy of holding a qualifying test at the scene of the women's title event.

Friday Deadline Set For Texas Athletic Federation Tournament

Friday will be the deadline for entries in the Texas Athletic Federation basketball tournament, which will get under way in Chapman Fieldhouse next Monday.

Curtis Barrett, District 2 chairman, announced yesterday that all entries must be in by that time. Not more than 32 teams will be accepted and each entry must be accompanied by the $25 entry fee.

Winner of the tourney will have an all-expense trip paid to the state tournament in San Angelo starting March 11, while various trophies will be awarded. Single elimination rules will prevail.

So far 11 teams have entered, including Blue Flame Gas, Levelland Refiners, Plains Gas of Shallowater, Matador Independents, Sisco Grocery of Denver City, Derrick's Service of Idalou, Hawkins Service of Lubbock, Primm Drug of Brownfield, Thomas Tinkers, Texas Lumber Bin and Cloverlake Dairy.

Tournament play will be held here Feb. 21 until completed, depending on the number of teams entered. Other quintets have indicated that they will enter, but time is growing short and Barrett urged interested teams to waste no time.

CUBS SIGN CATCHER

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (INS)—The Chicago Cubs announced Wednesday they have signed John Dress, 20-year-old catcher from Farley, Iowa, to play for their Janesville, Wis., farm team in the Wisconsin State league.

New Mexico Will Meet Tech Friday

University of New Mexico's basketball squad, scheduled to meet Texas Tech Friday night in Tech gym, stopped off here yesterday afternoon for a workout in Chapman Fieldhouse.

Tonight the Lobos face Hardin-Simmons in Abilene and come here the following day for an important Border Conference game against Texas Tech's Red Raiders.

Although the New Mexico crew virtually is out of the conference race, its showing against the Raiders could play a big part in the final standings. A defeat of Tech would all but eliminate the Techsans from the loop struggle.

Beat Lobos Earlier

Coach Polk Robison's team turned in a 58-50 victory over the Lobos in Albuquerque earlier in the season, but the New Mexico quintet has improved since then. Thep currently are in a fourth-place tie with Texas Mines, each team having won six and lost five.

The Raiders went back to the court yesterday for a rough session with Coach Robison, who wasn't entirely satisfied with the Raiders in their victory over New Mexico A&M. The Lubbock cagers showed flashes of their former brilliant form, but they also had too many rough spots. It was the flagrant weakness at times, on which a good team would seize to score points, that bothered Robison.

Three Games Remain

Only three games remain on the Raider schedule and the college cagers must win all of them, if they are to keep alive a chance to at least tie Arizona. The Wildcats still are a game and a half ahead of Tech, but have six games to play. Should they lose two, while Tech won its remaining three, the teams would deadlock.

Each team has two games this week. Arizona entertains Texas Mines tonight and Tempe Saturday night. Tech's Raiders would be in a better position should the Wildcats drop either of these contests.

Featherweights Now Outshine Heavyweights

Another Pep-Saddler Bout Will Outdraw Louis' Title Encounter

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—Don't be surprised if a third featherweight fight between champion Willie Pep and challenger Sandy Saddler outdraws Joe Louis' heavyweight title shot this summer.

Never in the history of the ring has a featherweight champion outdrawn a heavyweight king. But it is quite likely to happen this time.

Our authority for this is Mike Jacobs' box office where Rivington Bisland and Herman Lewin have held sway for many years. You may have noticed over the years that the gate forecasts for New York fights have been remarkably accurate. The answer is the aforesaid ticket men.

They figure that Pep and Saddler could draw at least $300,000 with a $20 top in Yankee Stadium this summer. This pair sold out the Garden last Friday for an $85,000 gate at a $10 top. And thousands of prospective customers were turned away.

Fans Soured On Louis

As for a Louis fight, either with Ezzard Charles or Lee Savold, even Mike Jacobs hardly would have crust to charge more than $25 tops. And even at that figure, the heavyweights would be lucky to gross $250,000.

Incidentally, the fight fans are turning a little sour on Louis for his off-again on-again talk about fighting. Joe apparently is being poorly advised in making contradictory statements wherever he goes. The statements, of course, are merely to help build up the gates on his exhibition tour.

Now for the first time in his career Louis finds that his title fight needs a strong build-up to assure any sort of a worthwhile gate.

Pep and Saddler, however, need no build-up. Both their previous fights had the customers standing on their chairs and a third meeting figures to be equally exciting.

They gave the fight racket a much-needed shot in the arm. So much so, that the Garden now figures on several lucrative fights both indoors and out.

A Saddler bout with the California lightweight, Enrique Bolanos, is just as good now as it was before Saddler lost his title.

Another good prospective battle will find the same Bolanos taking a crack at Ike Williams' lightweight crown. We like Williams above all other fighters because he is willing to fight anybody and never hesitates to lay his title on the line.

Witness Ike's signing to take on Kid Gavilan, the world's second ranking welterweight, for a third over-the-weight meeting in the Garden March 18—that also figures to be a sell-out.

The Garden in addition is figuring on a welterweight title fight between champion Ray Robinson and Gavilan. This one probably will go outdoors.

BULLDOGS DOWN FLOYDADA, 51-47

Spur Five Wins Opening Game Of Tournament To Decide 3-A Title

ABERNATHY, Feb. 16. (Special)—Spur Bulldogs turned in a tight 51-47 victory over Floydada here tonight in the opening game of a single round robin tournament to decide the basketball championship of District 3-A.

The race ended in a three-way tie between Spur, Floydada and Abernathy and the single round robin tourney was decided on as the best way to play off the tie.

It was a stern chase all the way for the Whirlwinds, who almost came from behind in the closing moments to trip the winners. But the desperate players, taking shots from all over the court, weren't able to connect.

Spur started off in command of the game and kept it all the way. The Bulldogs held a narrow 12-11 margin at the end of the first period, increased their lead to 35-20 at the half for their greatest margin and still were out in front by 44-31 at the end of the third period.

At this point Floydada began to find the range, hooking shots from all over the floor. They began to cut the Spur lead rapidly until, with two and a half minutes to play, the Bulldogs were clinging to a 49-47 lead.

But Floydada wasn't able to hit at this point and Spur managed to survive the threat.

Durham pitched 23 points through the nets to lead Spur to victory, while Bob Finley had 16 for the losers.

Thursday night Abernathy will play Floydada in the second game of the tournament and the following night the Antelopes will meet Spur. The District 3-A championship will go to the team able to win two games.

Petersburg Dropped By Derrick Service

Three games were played in the Ralls independent basketball tournament Wednesday night.

Petersburg was defeated by Derrick Service, 49-30, as Bob Galey hit the bucket for 20 points. Milford Deudy, Jasper Hood, and Bob Scarbrough made eight points each for the losers.

Matador took the measure of Thomas Tinkers, 41-33. Glenn Brotherton made 13 points for scoring honors for Matador.

In the final game, Lumber Bin outscored Lorenzo, 51-30, with Harold Roades doing most of the damage with 16 markers. Wilbur Gray made 12 for Lorenzo.

Thursday night Shallowater meets Littrells at 7 o'clock, and Levelland plays Plainview at 8 in the first round games. In a second round match at 9 o'clock, Ralls is matched against Primm Drug.

Mangrum Picked In Houston Open

HOUSTON, Feb. 16. (AP)—Two Texans were favorites today as the nation's top golfers tuned up for the $10,000 Houston Open at new and difficult Pine Forest country club course.

Jimmie Demaret, formerly of Houston, who plays out of Ojai, Calif., and Lloyd Mangrum, another Texan who registers from Chicago, are expected to continue their close battle for top spot among money winners on the professionals' winter tour.

A field of 150 players will begin teeing off at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow for the four-day tournament at the 6710-yard par 72 course. Only the 60 low scorers will continue Saturday and Sunday.

Most of the players, including all participants in the winter tour except injured Ben Hogan, have been taking test shots over the tree studded course since Monday.

The trees and the numerous rough spots, traps and water hazards dotting the course have marked Mangrum, returning to action after a week's vacation, as the top favorite.

Houston pros thoroughly familiar with the year-old layout believe Mangrum's steady, down-the-middle style of play gives him an edge over Demaret and the remainder of the field.

Demaret, currently the top money winner, undoubtedly will be the crowd favorite as a hometown boy but there is fear his many well wishers won't permit full concentration on his play.

The colorful Demaret edged ahead of Mangrum in money collections last Sunday at the Texas Open in San Antonio. His winnings now total $5,862.50, Mangrum's $5,755.

ARMED ENTERS RACE

MIAMI, Feb. 16. (INS)—Calumet Farm's "Golden Gelding—Armed—will fire the second shot in his comeback campaign Thursday when he runs in the seven-furlong fifth race at Hialeah as an entry with Beau Dandy. Armed, third largest money-winning horse of all time, made his first turf appearance in nearly a year last week and finished a strong third in a six-furlong sprint race.

BASEBALL DOUBLE PLAY—Dick Kryhoski will tryout at first base with the New York Yankees this spring, after hitting .294 for Kansas City in the American Association last year. Here he's shown with Alice Renner, a fellow student at Bergen (NJ) Junior college. The initials in the tree merely follow an ageless practice.

Boys Club, Amarillo Teams Meet Saturday

The Lubbock Boys club will journey to Amarillo Saturday morning at 8 for four basketball games with the teams of Amarillo's Boys club.

For four years the two clubs have been playing on a home and home basis, and Amarillo was here February 11. Accompanying the boys will be Jerry Starkey, Glen White, and John W. Wilson, executive director of the local organization. The teams will return to Lubbock Saturday night, making the trip by chartered bus.

The senior players are Dan Adkisson, Billy Bohner, Roger Van Cleave, Jackie Cook, J. B. Elliott, Billy Everheart, Davis Hopper, Mackie Lawrence, Hubert Maxwell, and Jack McLarty.

Playing for the juniors are Sammie Adams, Jimmy Johnston, Ray McLarty, Bobby Naylor, Charles Rand, Allen Rosen, Gene Seward, Sawnie Spinks, John Terry, and Donnie Washington.

The Midget team is composed of Glen Akin, James Beck, Dennis Calvert, Henry Huneke, Billy Long, Jerry Martin, Ira Owens, Jerry Shipp, Don Tucker, and Eugene Ward.

Twelve boys are on the Pee Wee roster. They are Tinker Carlen, Roy Day, Jack Easterwood, Jerome Henderson, Wendell Hester, Jay Ledbetter, Paul Sikes, Nelson Starr, Kenneth Stevenson, Charles Stogner, Roy Lee Tunnell, and Wade Wolfe.

Mrs. Schroeder Cards Low Net Score At Country Club

At the weekly meeting of the Ladies Golf association at the Lubbock Country club Wednesday, Mrs. H. W. Schroeder had the low net score for the 18 hole round.

In putting over 18 holes, Mrs. O. D. McCoy was low, and Mrs. George Soash made the low score in putting in competition over 9 holes. Low net for the 9 hole layout was carded by Mrs. E. S. Hall.

Boys Club Midgets Outfast Shallowater Eighth Graders

In two basketball games at the Boys Club gym, Boys Club teams won a game and lost one to Shallowater Wednesday.

The Midgets outscored Shallowater's eighth graders, 21-11, as Glenn Akin hit the basket for six points. Lawrence Roberts and Travis Walker tied with four points for Shallowater.

The Pee Wees lost to Shallowater sixth and seventh graders, 12-8, Roy Tunnell of the Pee Wees and Dale Westbrook of Shallowater tallied four markers.

Communists Gained Foothold In Hollywood, Investigator Shows

tasks confronting the Communist Party in the field of propaganda is the conquest of this supremely important propaganda until now the monopoly of the ruling class. We must wrest it from them and turn it against them."

HOW far they had gone was not especially essential in the Committee's mind, but the potential influence they could bring to bear certainly was.

The scripts of the writers involved established a writing trend which was roughly this: the rich were grasping, greedy exploiters of the poor, who were always honest and downtrodden. Bankers were generally despotic; landlords cruel, and tenants noble. Judges and political figures were either crooked or fatuous fools.

They had successfully infiltrated the Screen Writers Guild and other organizations. During the Hitler-Stalin pact they were called upon to join in such neighboring activities as the strike at the North American Aviation Corp., a strike which President Roosevelt denounced as Communist-inspired. When Russia became our ally, they made the routine switch and wrote glowingly of Allied bravery. When the war was over they switched again, to continue their pre-destined tasks of destroying—as best and as subtly as they could—the public's confidence in its leaders, laws and institutions.

To combat them and the willing hams who went along with them for the publicity involved, a few patriotic Americans in the industry formed the Motion Picture Alliance for the Preservation of American Ideals. It came in for considerable organized abuse, which continues to this day. The Committee, by calling the Hollywood hearings, came in for much of the same.

Faced Major Task

Examining any Hollywood failing is not an easy task. The defendants, if that is the word, can easily throw up a smokescreen which would indicate that freedom of speech and expression is being assailed. The defendants are usually famous, even beloved, and their fans are aroused. They are certainly more able to present their best side to the public than is a Congressional committee.

There was still further difficulty: the group of men who built the motion picture industry into one of America's largest, were frightened lest the expose of Communists in their midst give their industry a black eye.

Chairman Thomas, Rep. McDowell, investigator Louis Russell and I went to Hollywood in the Spring of 1947. Our primary task was to uncover and subpena Hanns Eisler, the Communist composer then working at RKO.

WITH Eisler served and heard in a short executive hearing, we began calling in key Hollywood figures to hear their stories.

True to his word, Thomas remained in the Biltmore Hotel throughout our stay, and we obtained enough preliminary testimony to make a public hearing imperative.

Back in Washington, we began to be visited by representatives of Eric Johnston, who promised hearty cooperation.

The industry retained such figures as former Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes and Paul McNutt to represent it.

Before the hectic hearing was over, we were hearing from three camps instead of two: the moguls, the alliance which wanted the Reds dug out, and the Reds.

Top Performers Testify

The "friendly" witnesses, as they were called, were L. B. Mayer, Jack Warner, Sam Wood, Rupert Hughes, Adolphe Menjou, Morrie Ryskind, Robert Montgomery, Robert Taylor, George Murphy, Gary Cooper, Ronald Reagan, Leo McCarey, Walt Disney, James H. McGuinness and Lela Rogers.

When they had been heard the sum of their testimony amounted to this: there were indications (with a few concrete cases) that the industry had been infiltrated, but that most of the Communist venom had been absorbed by the loyal and overwhelming majority.

There was considerable jubilation in the ranks of the so-called "unfriendly" witnesses when the others had presented their case. Johnston, who wished to confine our inquiry to an inspection of actual films, asked to be heard. Over a weekend recess he demanded that such public hearings be curbed.

Something called the Committee of the First Amendment had been organized in Hollywood, with such figures as John Garfield, Danny Kaye, Humphrey Bogart and his wife; Marsha Hunt, Paul Henreid, Paul Draper and others. Twenty-five of them flew in to Washington and our caucus room began to take on the fruitless and disarming aura that pervaded earlier hearings where little or nothing was accomplished.

I believe all concerned, except a few members of the alliance, believed that the case against Communism in Hollywood would collapse as soon as Johnston was heard.

But when Monday's hearings opened I called first on John Howard Lawson, and placed him under oath. He asked that a written statement, highly vituperative, be read into the record. Thomas declined. Then I asked him:

"Are you a member of the Screen Writers Guild?"

"The raising of any question here," he said, "in regard to membership, political beliefs, or affiliation is absolutely beyond the powers of this committee." Thereafter he answered most of our questions by speeches, which grew in indignation.

WHEN I asked if he were a Communist, he replied, "The question of Communism is in no way related to this inquiry, which is an attempt to get control of the screen and, to invade the basic rights of American citizens in all fields."

Speaking above the clatter of Thomas' gavel, Lawson added, "You are using the old technique, which was used in Hitler Germany, in order to create a scare here . . . in order that you can then smear the motion-picture industry, and you can proceed to the press, to any form of communication in this country."

Lawson had been what amounted to the top-sergeant of the Communist conspiracy in Hollywood. What he said thereafter set the pattern for those who followed him to the stand: Dalton Trumbo, Samuel Ortniz, Lester Cole, Herbert Biberman, Ring Lardner, Jr., Albert Maltz, Alvah Bessie, Edward Dmytryk, Adrian Scott and others we heard, or attempted to hear.

Ten were cited for contempt. Lawson and Trumbo have been convicted in Federal court of that charge and their attorneys have appealed. The others will stand by whatever decision the higher courts hand down.

Fans Back Committee

The Committee of the First Amendment developed some inner discord when, during a press conference (we provided our caucus room for it), some of its members were a bit vague as to what the First Amendment of the Constitution was. Then Bogart, out of the blue, issued a mimeographed statement stating that he was no Communist, but one chronically given to doing odd things.

However, there was still a feeling in Hollywood that the Committee had been soundly whipped. Then the "Hollywood Reporter" announced that it was Hollywood which had been hurt, and showed box office figures to prove the contention. The Committee, incidentally, received thousands of letters from moviegoers supporting the hearing.

As a result, heads of studios met in New York at the Waldorf and agreed to discharge the "unfriendly" witnesses, most of whom are suing their studios and one of whom, Cole, has received a judgment in a lower court.

WHY did we stop the hearing? I believe I was responsible for that, just before the Committee was prepared to hear Larry Parks.

I had every reason to believe that New York Communist circles were about to mass-picket the House Office Building and pack the caucus rooms.

Thomas was taken ill immediately after the hearing, and was reluctant to have any other member of the Committee sit in as chairman on a case he had opened and for which he felt great responsibility.

The hearings should be continued and, I believe, someday will. And it should be made abundantly clear that Congress doesn't want to control the films. Little can be gained by hearing from ten Hollywood figures and turning their truculence or reluctance into contempt citations. The other Hollywood Reds on whom there are extensive findings must be exposed, or they (and the ones we know nothing about) can operate at will in one of our largest and most vulnerable industries.

mid club fans. Dallas county district attorney Will Wilson has declared such clubs illegal.

Moore's car was about 160 feet from where his body was found. Near the body was a woman's lipstick. His purse was gone, but Decker discounted robbery as a motive. False teeth Moore had acquired recently were near his body.

Reported Afraid Of Dark

Decker said Moore had apparently been dead several hours when he was found by a passerby. The sheriff said an autopsy would be performed to learn which wounds caused death.

Working with Decker was a detail of the Texas Highway patrol. Officers said Moore was a hard worker of excellent habits. They said he had been married twice and that they talked to his two former wives.

Moore owned the home where he lived and kept a room. Officers said the rest of the house was rented to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bratcher. The couple said Moore was afraid of the dark.

"When he had to stay home at night alone while we were gone he would take the doorknobs off the doors," Bratcher said.

But the couple said they had never heard Moore say he was afraid of anybody.

L. A. Hinsch, office manager of the Plastics Manufacturing company of Dallas, said Moore was employed by the company and worked from 3 p. m. yesterday until 11 p. m. His body was found about 7 a. m. today.

State highway patrolman H. M. Parks said there were strong indications Moore put up a desperate struggle for his life.

blocking those avenues to highway traffic. The only three railroads through the mountains were also cut off by snow slides. They are the Milwaukee, Great Northern and Northern Pacific lines.

The body of Wayne G. Gardner, 49, a Utah sheepman missing for more than a month, was found Wednesday buried in snow near the Utah-Arizona line.

Presbyterian Church Conducts Program

Members of Westminster Presbyterian church last night celebrated the first anniversary of the organization of their church with a service held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hester, 1918 Twenty-eighth. About 50 persons attended.

The meeting was in combination with the regular midweek worship service, and was opened with singing led by C. C. Galbraith, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Members Give Views

Following, a number of church members commented informally on the church in its first year of existence and what the year has meant to their families.

The central theme of the meeting was an admonition that members not look back on the past year's accomplishments and rest on their laurels, but look to the future and strive for even greater service and growth.

The worship service was led by Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor whose topic was "China—Twilight or Dawn?"

A social hour followed, with refreshments served by Mrs. Zacharias, Mrs. Sam Hodges, and Mrs. Galbraith.

The one birthday candle on the large cake was blown out by the three youngest church members present, including Carl Hodge Freeman, Avonlee Fentress, and Shannon Golding, thus symbolizing the church's outlook into the future.

suspicious, he said, and called the Littlefield bank on which the check was drawn, finding that the man had no account there. The man left while Stewart was checking, police were told.

A negro residence at 1604 Ave. B was burglarized by cutting a screen from a window, police said, and an inexpensive watch removed from the premises. A 10-year-old negro boy, found with the stolen property, was released to custody of his mother to appear this morning, police indicated.

Police said a trap they had laid for an alleged cigaret thief was sprung early Wednesday with arrest of a 26-year-old suspect.

They said they had been informed of suspicion of regular theft from stock at the Jack-o-Lantern cafe, at 1106 Ave. L, and sale of cigarets by the suspect to an individual at another cafe.

Watch Was Set

Managers of both cafes cooperated with police in telling their suspicions, police said, and Sgt. L. D. Blakney was informed that the suspect had been seen to leave the Jack-O-Lantern, his place of employment, briefly in the night.

Blakney set up watch at a parking lot. When the defendant left his work he went, according to Blakney's official report, to the parking lot, reached down between two parked cars and took two cartons of cigarets.

Earlier in the night the cafe inventory showed 61 cartons of cigarets, but after the defendant had been arrested a check showed only 59, police said, writing into their report that no cigarets from the inventory had been sold during the night.

Auto Is Recovered

Further investigation was planned to determine how much cigaret stock had been missed over the past and how many cartons the suspect had sold, if he did.

The sheriff's department said probably "five or six" burglaries reported about Christmastime in the Idalou section may be broken by Tuesday's arrest of Henry Mojica, 18, Idalou Mexican farmhand. The youth has promised to lead officials on his backtrail and show them places he admittedly broke and entered, it was said. Some property has been recovered, and a search will be made for more.

Mojica was charged with burglary of the Glen Underwood residence near Idalou. A .22 rifle he admitted taking had been recovered. An electric clock also was removed from the residence, officials said.

Bond of $1,000 was set in the case Wednesday, by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace.

Robertson set bond of $5,000 for Andy Tipton, 38, arrested Feb. 9 on a rape complaint. The case was carried over for further investigation to the next grand jury, it had been announced after a grand jury Tuesday afternoon had reported 27 bills of indictment.

A bike valued at $35 was reported stolen from James Mullenix of 717 Wolfforth.

Two fender skirts valued at about $30 were stolen from Bo England of Plainview, police said.

Police said they had been informed of fears of foul play in connection with the missing since Monday afternoon of a 36-year-old Lubbock man. He had not been heard from since talking over the phone with his wife, they said. He said at that time he would be home "right away" for dinner.

Other theft reports included: A $7 raincoat from H. A. Peacock of Lubbock Compress company; two packages of cigarets from the car or H. K. Marvin of Plaza apartments; two checks, one for $5 and the other for 98 cents, from a store at 1925 Ave. H; a $35 bike from Bobby Lamb of 2104 Ave. L.

Two Texas Aggie Backfield Men Are Injured During Practice

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Two Texas A&M key backfield men were in the college hospital today with back injuries while their teammates went into their fifth day of spring football drills.

The injured players were Houston's Bob Smith, ineligible last year but expected to be the first string fullback on the 1949 squad, and Jim Dobbyn of Abilene, also slated for a fullback slot.

Both were confined at the hospital for an indefinite period, although x-rays revealed no broken bones.

Decline In Meat Animals Halted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Record high feed supplies have checked a five-year decline in the number of meat animals on American farms, the Agriculture Department reported Wednesday.

The department said, however, that total livestock and poultry declined slightly during the past year to the lowest level since 1939.

But it added that the downward trend "was reversed" in late 1948 thanks to the record corn crop. And the decline for the year in livestock and poultry was only one per cent, the smallest for any 12 months since totals began to drop from the all-time peak of five years ago.

Animal Inventory Compiled

Its anual inventory of livestock, as of Jan. 1, showed:

Cattle—78,495,000, an increase of 369,000 over the previous year. This halted the continuous decline which began in 1945.

Milk cows declined two per cent, but this was more than offset by an increase in beef cattle. For nearly four years consumers have been eating beef animals faster than they were born. High prices had encouraged heavy marketing.

Hogs—57,139,000, an increase of four per cent over last year, and the largest supply since 1946.

Sheep Continue Decline

Sheep—31,963,000, a drop of about nine per cent. Stock sheep numbers have declined for more than seven years and are now at the lowest point in 81 years. Farmers have found other farming operations more profitable than sheep raising. The Texas drought was a big factor in the heavy reduction of sheep totals in 1948.

Horses—5,921,000, as compared to 6,579,000 a year earlier. Mules also were down. Increased mechanization was blamed for the down trend which began in 1915 for horses and in 1925 for mules.

call 'em. Hunh! The only friendly gent I met at all four meetings was the guy who took my buck. The rest of 'em were all just like me—"Glad to see you, and when do I start getting the dough?"

Not Enough People

But there were some delightful conversations. Money? Oh, boy!

And California — what a paradise that must be! That's where the Pyramid club idea started, you know, and from what I heard at our meetings, I can see Californians pushing around wheelbarrows full of crisp, new $1 bills from Texas.

Actually, I've decided, there's just one thing wrong with this Pyramid club scheme. There just ain't enough people. Now, if they'd take my advice and start some clubs among rabbits, then the increase in population might be rapid enough to keep up with the mushrooming Pyramid plan.

But even though I'm $1 in the red, I haven't given up hope. No, sir—I'm a dyed-in-the-wool sucker.

Canadian River Dam

dam between Tascosa and the Canadian river bridge north of Amarillo has hopes of getting the measure passed at this session of Congress. The dam would provide water for municipal use first, as required under Texas law, and if there is any left, it might go for irrigation and reclamation as needed.

Size and costs of the dam have not been computed yet. One reason is that it is not determined how many cities in the area would like to be served by it. Both Amarillo and Lubbock officials have been active in promoting the project.

Bureau of reclamation officials said today that several sites are presently under consideration and that the one requiring the least cost outlay will be chosen.

for turbo-jet propelled planes and 3,000 miles per hour for ram-jet aircraft.

Top speed projected for conventional propelled aircraft was listed at about 550 miles per hour.

The company also reported that preliminary tests are being conducted with a new series of rocket engines, described as "completely integrated rocket power plants." The chart added:

"One of these highly secret rocket engines is being built to power the Air Force's supersonic X-2, to explore flight beyond the speeds already reached by the spectacular X-1, the first airplane to fly faster than sound.

Russian Group Walks Out Of UN World Health Organization

GENEVA, Switzerland, Feb. 16. (AP)—A surprise decision of the Russians to cut one of their ties to the United Nations was disclosed today. The Soviet Union, White Russia and the Ukraine have walked out of the World Health Organization (WHO), a specialized UN agency.

The WHO director-general refused to accept their withdrawal.

He proposed to the Russians instead that he visit Moscow to answer Russian arguments that the WHO is ineffective and too expensive.

"I await your invitation," the WHO chief, Dr. Brock Shisholm of Canada, told the Russians.

News Briefs

Dr. J. T. Krueger, president and chief surgeon of Lubbock Memorial hospital, Tuesday was returned to his home at 2703 Nineteenth from the hospital, where he has been a patient since suffering a mild heart attack Jan. 6. His condition Wednesday was described as "quite satisfactory."

J. O. Jones, 80, pioneer Lubbock cattleman who resides at 1710 Twenty-ninth, last night was reported by a Lubbock Memorial hospital attendant as "in fair condition." He entered the hospital Jan. 8 after suffering a relapse after an attack of pneumonia. The nurse said last night that he was in better condition than he had been the day before.

The men of First Presbyterian church met Wednesday night in the church Fellowship hall for a regular dinner meeting. Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, principal speaker, spoke on "Stewardshhip of Life." Ed Hambright was in charge of the stewardship program, and Lt. Thurston Mallard, president of the organization, presided. Approximately 35 men attended.

Manuscript Reveals King George IV Once Had To Rent Crown

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 16. (AP)—In the long ago coronation of King George IV of Britain the peers of the realm blinked in wonderment at the flaming glitter of the jewels in his new crown.

One eye, reportedly, didn't blink.

That eye belonged to a jeweler who was busy watching the crown because he knew he had to take it back after the party was over.

Seems the king had only rented it.

That story of the uneasy head came to light Wednesday in the gift to the Harvard business school library of an unpublished manuscript telling the affairs of a firm of noted London jewelers which existed from 1750 to 1843.

Written By Jeweler

The gift of Mrs. Lydia Burgess Brownson of Buzzard's Bay, the history was written by her great grandfather, George Fox, a member of the firm of Rundell, Bridge & Rundell for 37 years.

"The king's ministers were worried about their treasury and the king's unpopularity with his subjects. So they didn't dare let him buy the dazzling new crown.

The best they could do was rent it at 10 per cent of its value until the coronation rites ended. Then the crown went back to Rundell's where it was broken up as individual ornaments.

It wasn't the only time Mr. Fox kept an eye on things. He also watched the silver which Rundell's loaned for the state dinner celebrating Britain's victory over Napoleon at Waterloo.

Fox added a note on the noisy diplomacy of the era.

He told about a state dinner where the Duke of Kent sang at the top of his voice and practically into the ears of Prussian princes seated next to him the challenge from "Rule Britainia" which goes—"for Britons never shall be slaves."

jury in their hands. He said the charge was read to the jury, but through a misunderstanding the charge and forms for a verdict were not sent into the jury room until after it announced it had reached a verdict.

The state offered a brief answering the 19 bills of exception filed by the appellant.

The state held that the defendant agreed to the change of venue for the second trial and that the jury did have a copy of the written charge to the jury.

It was explained that before the jury recessed for supper, the jury had a copy of the charge. After the recess the charge was not sent in the jury room until after a verdict was reached.

'Basic Science' Proposal Is Okayed By State Senate Group

AUSTIN, Feb. 16. (AP)—The Senate Public Health committee tonight approved the so-called "basic science" or "minimum standards" bill by a 6-to-4 vote.

This action sent the measure to the Senate calendar with a recommendation for passage.

The decision came quickly after doctors and chiropractors had tangled again in their continuing fight over the bill.

In a repeat performance that has been heard by veteran legislators for many years, the doctors urged the Senate Public Health committee to approve the measure.

By Senator Walter Tynan of San Antonio, the measure would require all who want a license to practice any of the healing arts to pass an examination on anatomy, physiology, chemistry, bacteriology, pathology, hygiene and public health.

NO CAUSE FOR SLASH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (AP) — ECA Chief Paul Hoffman said today that lower food prices "do not justify" any large cut in the $5,580,000,000 European recovery program. Hoffman told the Senate Foreign Relations committee that a review of the ECA program on the basis of falling food prices in the United States does not show there can be a "significant" cut.

awaiting return to fully competitive conditions.

"There is every reason to believe that the economic situation remains basically strong. I see great opportunities for business in the years immediately ahead."

The same opinion was expressed by Federal Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe after a conference with President Truman at the White House.

Emerging from the President's office, McCabe declared that he and Mr. Truman had discussed "several matters relating to the reserve system" and that he was unworried about recent price breaks. McCabe said:

"It is a good, healthy readjustment. There is no cause whatever for alarm."

other things of value, its distribution by chance and payment, either directly or indirectly, of a valuable consideration for the chance to win the prize."

A raffle is a "game of perfect chance in which every participant is equal with every other in the proportion of his risk and prospect of gain. The prize is a common fund, or that which is purchased by a common fund. Each is an equal actor in developing the chances, in proportion to his risk. Whether they be developed with dice or some other instrument is not material. The successful party takes the whole prize, and all the rest lose."

Public Warned

"Our primary concern," the county and district attorneys said, "is to inform the public that the scheme, as related to us, is in violation of the law, notwithstanding there is no use of the mails, and as such persons participating are subject to prosecution."

Carr said that cases would be prosecuted, if they go to court, as misdemeanors, although there is a possibility that persons who hold meetings in connection with the scheme may infringe felony statutes.

After a conference of Carr and Croslin Wednesday afternoon, Carr announced that it had been agreed that his office would handle the cases "unless the situation gets so out of hand that a grand jury investigation might be required." District attorneys take over such cases only in counties where there are no county attorneys.

As to the origin and extent of the Pyramid clubs locally, rumors and reports vary considerably. One thing, however, appeared certain Wednesday: That a considerable number of persons have "joined" such clubs by paying a $1 fee.

Forms Are Distributed

One self-admitted new member of such a club said Wednesday that he had been informed by another member that approximately 46 persons met in a local residence Tuesday night and that at the gathering it was stated that 2,000 mimeographed pyramid forms had been distributed in Lubbock and that 2,000 additional had been mimeographed.

(Another self-admitted member last night said that all these mimeographed forms had been used up, and that members now were "making their own.")

For the uninitiated, here, briefly, is how the Pyramid scheme works:

New members, eight or 16, depending on whether single or double pyramids are used, meet for the first time and pay their $1 fees. A new member brings two other new members to the next meeting, each of whom pays $1, although he himself pays no more. Then, the next meeting, the first member sees that the couple he brought brings two additional members (naturally, with their "membership fee" in their pockets). This third meeting is held at the home of the first member.

Host Collects Money

This host member collects the money (either $8 or $16, depending on whether a single or double pyramid scheme is used) and turns it over to the person in whose home he first attended a meeting, and who is six meetings away from being in the "payoff" spot.

The member in the number 6 position then turns the money over to the person who is number one on the current list.

It might be well to say here that Pyramid club members themselves seemingly do not follow a standard system. Several different systems which apparently are being used seem to leave many of the club members as confused as the uninformed "outsider."

One club member explained that the success of the Pyramid club, aside from the fact that it is a long shot for "getting rich in a hurry," is due to paying the money which has been collected to a person in whose home he has attended a meeting. For the intermediate position (the person who is six meetings away from being in the payoff spot), that person pays the total collection to the winner for the night, this winner being a person of his acquaintance.

144 Parties Reported Held

The club member pointed out that since the money is collected and transferred "among friends," (at least people who have been around each other at the meetings, if not actual friends) the chances are are smaller that racketeers will move into the game.

It was said that one branch of the local Pyramid club plan decided to turn over one-eighth of its money to the polio fund, and that they have asked a Lubbock woman to deliver the money to the polio organization. It was also reported that a total of $16 has been taken by her home, most of it delivered one dollar at a time, some of it while she was not at home.

Rumor had it Wednesday that 144 parties were held in Lubbock Monday night and that one man received about $1,000.

Another report was to the effect that $32 had been delivered as a result of Pyramid parties, but that the money had been sent outside of Lubbock to someone who had started the club.

A Tech faculty member said that "it started about 10 days ago, and it has already reached the saturation point."

As to the instigator of the Pyramid scheme in Lubbock, several persons queried Wednesday said that a woman who formerly lived in Lubbock sent the plan to a friend here. Another said that a local resident brought the idea back from California, while still another report was that a California woman personally had visited Lubbock to start the plan, then had taken it to another South Plains town.

But regardless of the way the scheme got here, one thing holds as true in Lubbock as in Long Beach: You can't get "something for nothing."

More than 1,300 ships have been delivered from the depths of the Rhine river since the war's end.

Filmland Couple Collaborates On Scenarios; Dennis Day Plans Visit With Irish Relatives

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16—If you look the world over you will not find two happier people than Mary Anita Loos and Richard Sale. They are happy both in their home life and in their work. They just sold Darryl Zanuck "A Ticket To Tomahawk," a comedy about a railroad train operating in the west.

While I was talking to Mary Anita, she told me that their baby, which was born three months too early, now weighs 13 pounds.

She and Dick do an enormous amount of work. They are working on "Father Is A Fullback" for Fred Kohlmar, and "Rise And Shine" for Dan Dailey at the same time.

Singer To Visit Ireland

When I talked with Dennis Day the last time I saw him, he told me he, his wife and baby were going to Ireland as soon as he is off the air for the summer. But before he meets his relatives in the old country he will go to Universal-International to make a musical comedy for Leonard Goldstein called "Sing Your Way Out"—and that is exactly what he will do. It is a prison story with Dennis giving with song.

Dennis is wonderfully talented, both as an imitator and when he plays the goofy kid parts on the Jack Benny show. He will get a chance to do all this, plus his wonderful singing voice.

Nathan Writes For MGM

Robert Nathan, who wrote the delicate "Portrait Of Jennie," is whipping up an original south sea island idyll, "Tahiti" for MGM.

I don't have to pretend to be a fortune teller to predict that the next "cycle" will be island movies. With "Tales Of The South Pacific" ready for Broadway debut before going before the cameras, and several others coming up, we are in for some grass skirts and sarongs.

Tillie Losch, who was much in the headlines when she divorced the Earl of Carnavon during the war, because she said she didn't want to live in England, has a new romantic interest. He is Dr. Frederick Hacker, a prominent psychiatrist.

Tillie has been making her home part of the time in Hollywood, and came here for "Duel In The Sun."

West Texas Lutheran Group Opens Pastoral Conference Here

The opening service of the Lubbock Pastoral conference of the American Lutheran Pastors of West Texas was held last night at Shepherd King American Lutheran church, with Rev. David V. Sieberg, pastor of the church and president of the area pastoral group, officiating.

Highlighting the gathering was a showing of the Lutheran world action film, "Answer for Anne," with comments and explanations by Rev. Carl Schulte, pastor of the Posey - Southland American Lutheran church, and Rev. L. D. Braun, pastor of the Winters American Lutheran church.

The sessions will continue this morning at 9:30 o'clock with a panel discussion on church finances. Rev. C. N. Roth of Seguin, president of the Texas district of American Lutheran churches, will discuss matters of interest and importance in the district.

A worship service is to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight, with Rev. Schulte delivering the sermon. Rev. Sieberg will be in charge of Holy Communion.

The conference is to continue through Friday morning.

Wage Negotiations Broken Off In Philadelphia Transit Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16 (AP)—Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO-Transport Workers union, said tonight that negotiations in the Philadelphia transit strike have broken off.

Quill told reporters "we have met with mediators and management all day and a few minutes ago decided that negotiations have broken off."

The transport union head's statement came after an authoritative source reported the two factions were closer together.

Earlier in the day, an authoritative source said the two factions were only 10 cents apart.

Meantime there was no indication of settlement of the strike of 3,500 Yellow Cab drivers, who walked out yesterday.

Oklahoma Aggies Lead In Defense

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Rhode Island State's "firehouse" basketballers lead the nation's major college teams in scoring average with a mark of 70.5 points in 13 games, closely followed by Yale with 69.5, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau reported today.

Following in order are Loyola (Md), 68.3; Bowling Green, 68.2; Illinois, 68.1; Colgate, 68; Western Kentucky, 67.9; New York U., 67.8; Cincinnati, 67.3; and Bradley, 67.2. The figures include games of last Saturday night.

The Oklahoma Aggies, third ranking team in the Associated Press national poll, continue to hog all the defensive honors. Coach Hank Iba's close guarders have permitted 18 opposing teams an average of only 34.4 points.

Sectional offense leaders include:

Skyline and Southwest—Wyoming 43.1, Baylor 45.4, Texas 47.0.

Big Four Invites Yugoslavs To State Austrian Demands

LONDON, Feb. 16. (INS)—The Big Four foreign ministers' deputies today approved a letter inviting Yugoslavia to state her claims against Austria under a projected peace treaty.

The French supported Russian Delegate Georgi N. Zarubin who insisted the Austrians can be heard only if Ales Bebler, Yugoslav deputy foreign minister now in London, also appears.

The Americans finally agreed after previously insisting there was no point in hearing Bebler unless he indicated he has new proposals to make.

Yugoslavia has claimed Austrian Carinthia and $150 million in reparations.

House Group Studies Plan To Lift Ceiling On Texas Pensions

AUSTIN, Feb. 16 (AP)—A House committee wrangle today tumbled a proposal to lift the $35,000,000 constitutional ceiling on old age pensions into subcommittee for one week's study.

Pleas at a public hearing for "food and clothes" for Texas' aged coupled with a challenge that the legislature should rid old folks of "chiselers" taking their nickels and dimes preceded the committee action.

The squabble broke in the Constitutional Amendments committee after suggestions that a state lien taken against property owned by pensioners to be settled at death would reduce the pension rolls, better assure assistance to the worthy and help chase "chiselers" away from the aged.

'BLACK FLY' BILL APPROVED

Amarillo Solon Asks Funds To Pay Off Palo Duro Park Debt

AUSTIN, Feb. 16 (AP) — The beauty of Palo Duro canyon in the Panhandle and the danger of the black fly among the citrus groves of the Rio Grande valley came before the Senate Finance committee today.

The committee approved a bill providing an emergency fund of $40,000 for inspectors from Brownsville to Laredo to guard against entry of the black fly pest from Mexico.

They took no action on a request from a Panhandle delegation for money to pay off a $300,000 indebtedness against Palo Duro state park about 30 miles southeast of Amarillo and left the bill in a subcommittee for further study.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester had sent a message to the legislature asking for the emergency black fly appropriation. Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, author of the bill, explained that it would take five or six months to get the aid from the federal government. His bill, he said, would pay the salaries of 29 inspectors for five months.

Jack Gray, Valley Chamber of Commerce man, said the black fly was known to be only 292 airline miles south of Brownsville and added: "This is more than an emergency; we're scared to death."

Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, author of the bill to retire the indebtedness of Palo Duro park, explained that the debt was supposed to be paid from gate receipts. However, he said, because the park charged a toll for admission, the highway department said it could not maintain the road inside the park.

Gene Klein, Amarillo, spokesman for the Panhandle delegation, said it was "unfair to the people of the Panhandle" to have to pay a toll on the recreation spot.

"The road was built in the 30's by the CCC," he said, "and hasn't been repaired since then. If we want to attract more tourists, we've got to have a road they can travel on."

Senator Hazlewood said if the indebtedness were paid off, the tolls could be removed and then the highway department could fix the road.

The committee also approved an emergency appropriation of $156,000 from the highway fund to pay expenses of the highway patrol from March 15 to the beginning of the next fiscal year, Sept. 1, 1949.

Four Awards To Be Presented To Outstanding Tech ROTC Men

Four awards will be given to the most outstanding men in the Texas Tech Reserve Officers Training corps at the end of the school year according to Lt. Col. L. C. Adams, head of the Military Science department.

A military excellence ribbon will be given to the basic cadet who is voted the most outstanding in classroom work and on the drill field. The basic cadet who has no demerits and who has been neither absent nor tardy at the end of the year will receive a good conduct ribbon.

An award which will be presented to the outstanding first year cadet will be selected and purchased by the staff of the Military Science department.

An engraved saber will be given to the second year student who is voted top honors among the advanced class. The saber will be presented by the South Plains chapter of the R.O.T.C. association.

Lubbock Senior High Choir Gives Program At Rotary Luncheon

The 95-voice a cappella choir of Lubbock Senior High school entertained the Rotary club at the Hilton hotel Wednesday, presenting a program of numbers varying from sacred to modern popular airs.

Directed by J. H. Penn, director of choral music in the high school, the choir sang among the numbers Tchaikowsky's Cherubim (Opus 40) which is to be used in choral competition at West Texas State Teachers college in the spring. Gerre Hancock was at the piano as accompanist on some of the numbers.

Numbers Listed

The program included Bless the Lord, O My Soul, Vesper Hymn, Allelujah chorus, Fred Waring's arrangement of Onward Christain Soldiers, and two spirituals, Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho, and My Lord, My Lord.

Another group included America the Beautiful, and the popular I Dream of You, and as concluding numbers the choir rendered The Desert Song, and the Sleighing song.

Solo and obligato parts were taken on several of the numbers by Joan McMillan, Mickey Willis, Travis Hammer, and Donna Key.

Floyd Honey, high school principal, in presenting the group, announced the departmental open house is to be held at the high school Thursday night, Feb. 24, and all school patrons are invited to attend.

Importance Stressed

Dr. Bill Gordon stressed importance of public participation in American Heart week now nuder way, saying funds derived will be used for research, education, and service in an effort to halt the increasing ravages of heart disease in America.

Visiting Rotarians included Andy Bills and Gene Holmes of Littlefieid, Lewis Hollingsworth and Abe Kessel of Slaton, Fred McGinty of Tahoka, H. C. Fancook of Fort Worth, Mike Wicks of Ralls, C. W. Hutchcroft of Sweetwater, and Geo. P. Baxter of Melrose, N. M.

Club President Irving Jones was in the chair.

U. S. Doubles Chrome Imports From Russia During December

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. (INS) The Commerce department announced today that Russia nearly doubled chrome and manganese exports to the United States in December.

Trade officials noted that the trend was contrary to widely-published reports that Russia might discontinue exports of manganese —vital in making steel.

Court Declares Mistrial In Suit

A mistrial was declared at 5:10 p. m. Wednesday in the 99th district court damages action of C. W. Hudgens against Hemphill-Wells Co., and others. Judgment of $25,000 was sought.

The jury reported to Judge G. V. Pardue, after it had been out three hours, that it had not arrived at answers to any of the 24 special fact issues submitted to it, nor was there much likelihood any could be answered.

The jury stood "three to nine," it reported to the court, after having been advised not to state for whom the preponderance had voted.

Other Case to Resume

Newsmen, speaking with an individual member of the jury later, were informed that the preponent number sought to answer favorably toward some recovery for Hudgens. Judge Pardue ordered the jury to return at 9 a. m. today.

In the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair, the $11,026 damage action of John Francis Brown and others against the City of Lubbock will be resumed this morning.

The plaintiff and one defendant, William P. Stephenson, had rested. The City will continue with testimony today. Judge Blair ordered court reconvened at 9 a. m.

The 99th court action resulted from a fall Hudgens suffered in the Hemphill-Wells store when it was under construction.

The 72nd court case stems from a truck-motor scooter mishap in 1947 in southwest Lubbock. The plaintiff claims his scooter was struck by a truck operated by Stephenson, who, it sought to prove, was an agent of the City.

Scurry Wildcat Drills Ahead After Taking Drillstem Test

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1-B B. A. Moore, north-central Scurry county wildcat, four and one-half miles northwest of the initial producer in the North Snyder field, and 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 97, H&TC survey, took a one and one half-hour drillstem test in a Pennsylvanian lime at 7,366-95 feet.

Recovery was 100 feet of salt water, slightly cut with oil and gas. The venture is drilling ahead below 7,446 feet in lime and shale.

Test Is Run

It ran a one-hour drillstem test at 7,341-70 feet. There was a weak blow of air for 10 minutes. Recovery was 35 feet of drilling fluid, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Head, south-central Gaines county wildcat, which is a southeast outpost to the recent discovery by Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, from the Ellenburger, had reached 4,497 feet in Permian lime and was drilling ahead.

This exploration, located 631 feet north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, psl survey, is reported to have topped the anhydrite at 1,840 feet. Top of the Grayburg-Permian was picked at 4,090 feet. Elevation is 3,335 feet.

This prospector is slated to go to around 12,500 feet, to test into the Ellenburger, and all other possible pays above that formation.

Project Abandoned

Cooper-Hemphill Oil company No. 1 Alley, central Hale county wildcat, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block A-3, EL & RR survey, drilled to a bottom of 8,200 feet in black Pennsylvanian shale.

It found no possibilities of oil or gas production in any zone penetrated. The project has been temporarily abandoned.

DeKalb Agricultural association, Inc., No. 1 J. R. Jameson, Jr., in south-central Lamb county, three and-one half miles southwest of Littlefield, and 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 22, league 674, Abner Taylor sub-division of State Capital Lands, drilled to 4,172 feet in Permian lime, and found no indications of production.

It swabbed salt water at the rate of seven barrels per hour at the total depth. The venture has been plugged and abandoned.

Three Men Not Indicted By Grand Jury Are Released

Three persons who were indicted by a 72nd district grand jury that reported Tuesday afternoon to 72nd District Judge Dan Blair were released from charges, records at the county jail showed this morning.

They were Everitt Lester Fitzgerald, 30, of Lubbock, who had been charged with murder when operating a motor vehicle when under influence of intoxicating liquor: William T. Culbert, 25, of Alvarado, theft over $50; and Thomas A. Greenwood, 34, of Lubbock, felony theft.

Evidence was considered insufficient to support voting of indictments, it was understood.

Mrs. L. S. Thorne, former Lubbock resident, died Wednesday morning in Austin after a long illness, according to information received by friends here. The Thornes moved to Austin two years ago. Funeral arrangements were not known here.

Miss Wynona Swepston, home demonstration agent at Carlsbad, N. M., and Miss Aldine Swepston, who is in the insurance business in Portland, Ore., both former Lubbock residents, left Tuesday after visiting aunts and uncles here, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Porter of 2305 Seventeenth, and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Temple of 2424 Fifteenth. They came here from Tulia, after attending funeral services there last Thursday for their father, J. E. Swepston, former county judge of Swisher county, who died Feb. 8.

Rev. Vester Wolber, Baptist Bible chair teacher at Texas Technological college, is teaching a Bible course, at 7:30 o'clock each Thursday night. The classes are being held at the Baptist Student center at 2401 Thirteenth. The public is invited to attend, it was announced Wednesday.

Mrs. Cecil White, of 2618 Twenty-first, is recuperating in her home after undergoing an operation in Lubbock Memorial hospital about 10 days ago.

A dry grass fire on the lawn in front of the Agriculture building at Tech yesterday afternoon damaged shrubs and burned approximately half of the lawn. Several students brought a hose from the building and the fire was extinguished before it could do any great damage.

Peace Parley Offer Gets Greek Response

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Feb. 16. (U.P.)—James W. Stobaugh, Western Union telegrapher who offered his modest bungalow as a meeting place for President Truman and Premier Stalin of Russia, sighed today, "I have about given up of hearing from Joe or Harry."

The Stobaugh household was thrown into a furor yesterday when a letter arrived. It came in the regular mail, but was written in a foreign tongue. Stobaugh thought it might be from Russia in response to his offer.

Finally a college professor was found who could translate the letter. He said it was from Panos Kouzayotis of Amfyali Piraeus, Greece.

"I am a family man with a wife and five children," the letter said. "I am unemployed because of the situation. We have no bread. Could you send some old clothing for four boys and a girl. I have no friends outside of Greece. I did not want to write, but my niece insisted I do."

The only reference to Stobaugh's gesture for a Truman-Stalin session in Independence:

"I read of your grand idea in a newspaper and I hope they will listen to you."

Scores of women, many working with young girls, are pickpockets and drug and liquor sellers in Durham, South Africa, according to police, who say they operate at the docks, aboard ships, and in beer halls and hotels.

Jack Proctor Named Editor Of Cleburne Daily Times-Review

CLEBURNE, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Jack Proctor, former Dallas and Galveston newspaperman, was appointed editor of the Cleburne Daily Times Review today.

The Times-Review had been without an editor since Herman Brown resigned a year ago. Proctor began his newspaper career as police reporter for the old Dallas Dispatch in 1929. He also covered police beats for the Dallas News and the now-defunct Dallas Journal. Formerly sports editor of the Galveston News, Proctor has been Times-Review sports editor for the past two years.

Senate Foes Of School Plan Concede Defeat As Filibuster Fails

Proposal Passed To Final Reading

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Feb. 16—Senate opponents of the public school reorganization bills indicated today they have shot their wad, at least for a while.

The first of the measures—the central education agency bill by Jim Taylor of Kerens—weathered a deluge of words in the 51st legislature's first filibuster early today. It was passed to third and final reading by a 16 to 6 vote in the Senate.

Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg who stormed and stalled against the bill for seven and a half hours of the 11-hour filibuster, said today further delaying action is not contemplated.

Passage Conceded

The bill will be number two on the calendar when the Senate goes back into session at 10 a. m. tomorrow. It will be up for final Senate action and opponents conceded its passage.

The Senate, groggy from the longest filibuster since 1943, had no session but concentrated on committee work today. The night hearing on the so-called "basic science" of "minimum standards" act for all who practice the healing arts again brought medical doctors and chiropractors into conflict over legislation. The M. D.'s are backing the bill and the chiropractors are fighting it.

The House adjourned until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow after passing six resolutions and nine bills. It heard Senator Taylor attacked and defended for a Senate floor crack yesterday over halting debate on the school revamping bill to hear Audie Murphy of Farmersville, much-decorated World War II veteran.

Sen. Taylor Scored

Rep. Davis Clifton of Farmersville said Taylor had "belittled" and "insulted" Murphy and Rep. Jack Cox of Breckenridge countered that Taylor had meant "no disrespect." Cox said he was sure Taylor's objection to halting Senate debate to hear Murphy was prompted by his thought that legislative matters should be given precedence.

The House also argued over a resolution permitting the Texas Dirt Farmers congress to use the House chamber for a meeting Friday. Those opposing said they thought the House should stay in session Friday.

The resolution was adopted, paving the way for weekend adjournment from tomorrow to Monday.

Also adopted in the House was

Pianist Plays To Capacity Crowd

By MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Eugene List, a personable American pianist, whose technique is of startling clarity, assurance and bravura, was presented in concert to a capacity auditorium at Senior High school Wednesday night by the Tech Artists course.

List, a light-haired, serious faced and rather stockily built young man, played exciting music and held the audience made up mainly of college students under the spell of skillful fingers racing over the keys like flexible steel.

Opens With Prelude

The program was opened with the sensitive and fine rendition of the Bach-Hess chorale prelude: "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

The artist's approach to the Bach number, "Toccata, C Minor" would have delighted the composer's ear.

Stepping to the footlights, List explained when Brahms wrote his "Variations on a Theme of Paganini," he meant to make it tough on the pianist," but the composition which opened with variations in sixths, played first in the left and then in the right hand, and ending in octave crescendo was brilliant and lyrical and not too tough for List.

Presents Ravel Numbers

After intermission, the program was opened with three rather unfamiliar Ravel numbers, "Ondine," "Forlane" and "Toccata," which were played with an imaginative touch and List's talented fingers showed authority and fine tone in the Chopin compositions: "Scherzo, B Minor, " "Three Ecossaises" and "Waltz, A-Flat, Op. 42.".

The printed program was closed with the beautiful "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6" by Liszt. Encores included Chopin's "Waltz in C Sharp Minor," Gershwin preludes, Schumann's "F Minor Musicale" and a medley of Strauss waltzes.

Judging from the burst of applause that greeted each of List's offerings, it was understandable that his graceful interpretations of the masters was one item at which Churchill, Stalin and Truman were in full accord at Potsdam.

Mexico City heavily fined a "first run" movie theater for billing a very old picture as brand new and charging full first run admission prices.

County Prepares To Collect Past Due Taxes

Tax Suits Slated On 'Forgotten' Property

Owners of Lubbock county property, or their heirs, apparently have "forgotten" many thousands of dollars worth of real estate, an announcement Wednesday disclosed.

Almost $100,000 in delinquent taxes dating back to 1919 is on the books of J. B. Johnston, tax assessor, and filing of numerous suits to collect the taxes or, in lieu, to sell the property for taxes, will begin soon, George Bond, Lubbock attorney, said.

Contract Was Made

The county commissioners court entered into a contract with Bond Jan. 4 for a two-year period, for that purpose.

Bond said tax office records show delinquencies in 46,019 written lines—over 11,073 pages.

The state tax due on the properties amounts to $43,196.99, Bond said, plus a $30 assessment for poll taxes.

The county tax owed amounts to $50,500.75, plus an item of $10.20 due a former common school district.

Total delinquent taxes are $93,737.94, it was announced.

The records end as of the close of the 1947 taxing year.

Never Filed Deeds

What explains the virtual abandonment of property that has risen astronomically in values in recent years?

"Simply this, primarily," Bond said. "Some persons who bought properties way back never filed deeds of record. Some of them moved away and forgot their investment. Others put deeds away and said nothing about them. When they died their wives or children failed to find the deeds, or else didn't know what they were—or did what the parent had done, just didn't record them.

"There's no telling what the properties are worth now."

Such suits will be filed in the district courts. Judgment may be taken at expiration of about a month and a half.

Don't Know Values

"It isn't likely that more than a handful of the suits will be filed against persons living in Lubbock county," Bond said. "Most of them will name non-residents. Many of those persons, if they recall owning property here, probably think of values as they were before the days of spiraling prices, and haven't busied themselves in keeping up with what present day values are."

Many titles will be traced only with difficulty. Citation by publication will be resorted to in efforts

Jacksonville Legs Get Eye As Nylons Continue To Vanish

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Legs never were so looked-at before as Jacksonville entered its third day of the era of vanishing nylons.

Female as well as male eyes were cast below skirt level to note the latest victims of the airborne menace. Motes probably bearing acids moved faster than the eye to attack stockings and turn them within seconds to mere shreds of their gleaming glory.

Science also was interested, to say nothing of business. Department stores were faced with a demand to replace stockings attacked by the "mystery gas," but until the air clears the girls weren't having any.

The worst of it appeared to be in a two-block stretch on the edge of the downtown district. Girls walking to work or shopping would feel runs begin and their hose give way. Some reported gnat-like stings, and exhibited (discreetly) tiny red welts on legs, face and arms.

CHEMICAL FIRM BEGINS 'VANISHING NYLON' PROBE

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 16. (U.P.)—The E. I. DuPont De Nemours Co. said today that "under certain atmospheric conditions" tiny particles of acid bearing soot could cause runs in nylon fabric.

The DuPont nylon division said it began investigating the shredding of nylon hose, now reported in Jacksonville, Fla., when it first was reported in Washington in 1940. The same trouble later occurred at Chicago, Minneapolis, Minn., Nashville, Tenn., and even on shipboard.

Highway Group Has Meeting In Levelland

LEVELLAND, Feb. 16. (Special)—Representatives from commissioners courts, Chambers of Commerce, and mayors from a number of towns from 14 area counties attended a meeting of the Texas division of the International Parks Highway association held here today.

An executive committee was named, including Judge O. F. Dent of Littlefield, chairman; Judge L. M. West of Channing, J. W. Witherspoon of Hereford, Raymond L. Thompson of Vega, and Judge LaVern I. McCann of Levelland. The committee will collect and compile information which is to be taken before the Texas Highway commission to establish need for a bridge across the Canadian river between Vega and Channing.

To Name Committees

At today's meeting, it was also decided that a number of committees would be named, with membership composed of representatives from two or three adjacent counties along Texas highway 51. The committees, it was further decided, would attend each meeting of the Texas Highway commission during the year, and at least one meeting of the highway commission would be attended by at least one representative from each of the 16 area counties traversed by State Highway 51.

The executive committee is to have a meeting in Hereford Feb. 28. The entire Texas division will have a meeting at Seminole sometime in March, the exact date to be decided and announced by officials of the organization.

A luncheon held at noon today for those attending the meeting was given jointly by the Hockley County Commissioners court and the Levelland Chamber of Commerce.

FORGERIES LEAD INDICTMENTS

Progress In Local Fight Against Crime Cited By County Attorney

Waggoner Carr, Lubbock county attorney, gave Exchange club members a condensed review of the local crime picture Wednesday in an address at the weekly club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Carr's talk highlighted the local observance of National Crime Prevention Week, which is under sponsorship of the National Exchange club. In the speech he touched briefly upon numerous phases of the local law enforcement situation.

Regarding the juvenile problem here, Carr pointed out that there still is occasional trouble—particularly in passage of bad checks by minors—but added that, overall the outlook is encouraging. He cited the Boys club, Boy Scouts, and the Community center in the negro section as praiseworthy activities which are helping to reduce juvenile delinquency in Lubbock.

Cites New Problem

After opening his speech with a fleeting reference to the "problem of the week" here—the spread of Pyramid clubs—Carr cited statistics concerning crime punishment in Lubbock county. These figures included:

(1) In 1948, 6,240 persons were committed to the local city and county jails—an average of more than 500 per month. In January of this year, 188 persons were committed to the city jail, and 145 to the county jail. All these figures, Carr explained, included the number of federal prisoners jailed here.

(2) In the county court, principal sources of difficulty this year have been driving-while-intoxicated cases, with 17 convictions to date, and check law violations, 16 convictions this year.

(3) In the district attorney's office, 44 indictments have been returned since Jan. 1. Forgery is the leading charge in this list, with 12 indictments, while eight indictments for theft over $50 have been returned.

Regarding recent numerous cases of check law violations, the county attorney warned against taking checks from strangers, particularly juveniles. He also explained that many persons, because of incomplete understanding of the matter, have thought the "$1 plus costs" fine meted out in many check law violation cases was insufficient punishment. The "costs" in such a case, Carr said, total $22.40, which means that the convicted person must pay $23.40, and often the amount of the bad check in addition.

Outlines Punishment Scale

Outlining the scale of punishment for various violations, Carr said he personally favored jail sentences in preference to cash fines for liquor law violaters. Cash fines, he said, amount to little more than "licenses" to sell liquor, and for that reason often are unsatisfactory.

Carr was introduced by Glenn

Morton Lions Club To Observe Anniversary

MORTON, Feb. 16 (Special) — Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, member of the faculty of Texas Technological college and Lion district deputy governor, will be featured speaker at the Morton Lions club's 10th anniversary celebration, to be held here Friday night in Veteran's hall. The occasion will also be Lions Ladies night.

At the anniversary celebration, Mrs. Edith Hall of Morton, formerly of New Orleans, will appear as guest soloist. W. B. Rutherford, district Lion governor and publisher of The Moore County News at Dumas, and Marlowe C. Fisher of Austin, state secretary of Lions clubs, also are to attend.

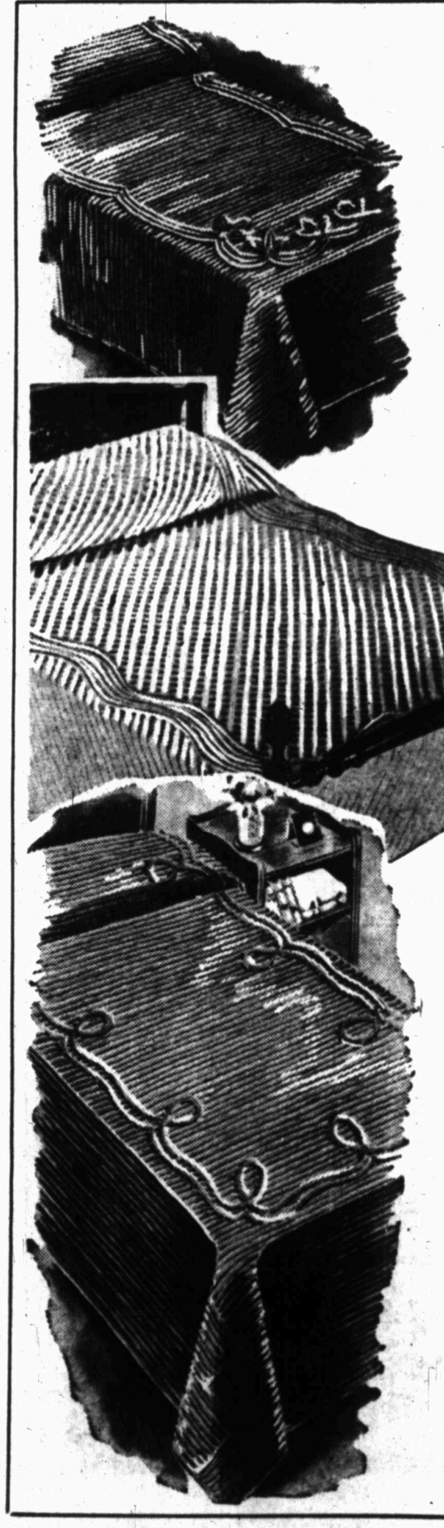

Organized In 1938

The Morton Lions club was organized in October, 1938, under the direct sponsorship of the Lubbock Lions club. First officers of the club here included J. B. Nicewarner, president; and J. B. Knox, secretary.

All charter members have been invited to attend. Paul Goodman is general chairman for the gathering. Dr. V. L. Lawson and Ermon A. Miller are program chairmen. Other committees and committeemen include Carl England and Van Greene, advertising and publicity; E. H. Timmian, Murray Crone, Tom Arnn, jr., Lloyd Allsup, and Charles Bell, decorating.

Mrs. Hall, the soloist, has sung in numerous church choirs in New Orleans. She also had a 15-minute daily radio program over a New Orleans station until she moved to Morton recently. Her piano accompanist at the Lions dinner will be Mrs. David Todd.

STRONG AMERICA FIRST URGED

Most U. S. Leaders Favor Pact With West Europe, Survey Shows

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (INS)—The Council on Foreign Relations reported tonight that an overwhelming majority of 540 leading citizens favors United States military cooperation with Western Europe—but only after the U.S. insures its own economic and military strength.

The majority polled went on record in favor of a "formal legal arrangement" with the Brussels treaty powers — Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—something like the North Atlantic pact now being discussed in Washington and abroad. The majority favored mutual "fighting support."

The council said the views reported are of members of the council's affiliated committees on foreign relations. The 540 men polled include business, college and labor union executives; newspaper editors and radio commentators, engineers, farmers and other professional leaders in the following 22 areas.

Boston, Providence, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, St. Paul-Minneapolis, Des Moines, St. Louis, Omaha, Louisville, Nashville, Birmingham, Ala., Tulsa, Houston, Albuquerque, Denver, Salt Lake City, Boise, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The majority, according to the council, sizes up the present situation this way:

Seek Balance of Power

The present Soviet policy threatens the peace of Europe; some effective means of balancing the "Soviet preponderance of power" in Europe is needed; balance in some degree can be achieved by an organization of the free nations of western Europe; a strong organization would diminish the threat of war.

But, the majority added, establishment of such an organization with power is unlikely without the moral and material backing of the U. S.

The council said the majority feels it is in the interest of the U.S. to provide such backing but that "the first obligation of the United States . . . is to maintain its own strength unimpaired."

The U.S., the majority told the council, should be associated with regional and other collective arrangements that are based on continuous effective self-help and mutual aid and affect the U.S. national security.

The majority specified that the arrangements should be made "by constitutional process" and under the United Nations charter.

It said that American military assistance to the free western European powers should include material, staff planning "and such other forms of assistance as might be required to insure maximum effectiveness."

HST Expects White House Repair To Cost Less Than $5 Million

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (INS)—President Truman predicted Wednesday that rebuilding the interior of the White House will cost considerably less than the $5 million he requested.

The President who is residing temporarily at Blair House made his forecast at a White House conference attended by members of the Senate and House Public Works subcommittees.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.), chairman of the Senate group, said that the President explained that, while he had asked $5 million for the job, he did not expect it to cost anywhere near that figure.

Holland declared that the plan calls for tearing out the interior of the White House and rebuilding the historic rooms just as they have always been. The exterior walls are not to be touched.

County Officials Visit Monahans Building

County Judge Walter Davies and the clerk and members of the county commissioners court went to Monahans Wednesday to inspect the Ward county courthouse.

Members of the court are R. O. Short, George G. Green, Ottis Isom and Pat Corley. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, is ex-officio clerk of the court.

The trip, like that to Midland recently and to other counties last year, was to acquaint the officials with materials and finish work that may be of assistance to them in determining what can be used to best advantage in a proposed new courthouse for Lubbock county.

Bonds were voted in 1946 for a new courthouse here, and additions to county jail. Plans and specifications from the architect are promised for delivery to the court this month. It is expected that bids will be asked then, to determine whether construction can be commenced this year.

EXPERT'S SUIT FAILS

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Frank Schraeder, a luggage expert who sued the estate of a wealthy recluse for $25,000 for finding $468,500 in one of her trunks, will receive only a fee of $10; a state supreme court ruled. Prior to his suit, administrators of the estate had offered Schraeder a bonus of $500.

District Judges Approve Two Compromise Settlements Here

Judgments approving two compromise settlements, totaling recoveries of $6,200, were filed Wednesday in district courts.

G. V. Pardue of the 99th district approved an agreed settlement of $5,500 in a lump sum for John D. Mincey and against Texas Employers' Insurance association, in compensation, setting aside an award formerly entered by the industrial accident board.

The amount was apportioned thus: $4,900 to Mincey and $600 to his attorneys, the firm of Boling, Smith and Allen. A $25 guardian ad litem fee also was approved by the court.

A jury was waived. Costs were adjudged against the insurance company.

A judgment filed by Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd district showed that he had approved a $700 recovery for W. C. Roberts as against Bob Robinson. The agreed settlement when announced earlier in the week to the court terminated trial of an action styled Robinson against Roberts. The litigants had sought to determine in court their financial interests in a hog business they jointly had entered. Judge Blair adjudged that court costs should be taxed against each, equally.

Gordon Treadaway represented Roberts.

Oklahoma Governor Gets Steak Cut From T. Royal Rupert 99th

DES MOINES, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma will dine on portions of T. Royal Rupert 99th, his $38,000 frustrated bull.

Joe McCarthy, manager of the meat market which bought the blue-blooded Hereford, said today he sent Rupert steaks to Turner and to Gov. William Beardsley of Iowa.

Rupert hamburger is on its way to the lieutenant governor of each state, and the rest of the bull is destined for bologna, McCarthy said.

Convict Who Left Prison Farm Detail Caught Near Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—An escaped convict, who locked a stolen truck when he abandoned it because he "didn't want anybody to swipe it," today faced prosecution for burglary and car theft charges.

He is Ralph Bowers, 31, Ada, Okla., who was turned over by Fort Worth officers to Greenville, authorities for prosecution.

Bowers was brought here after his arrest Monday by state patrolmen in Grapevine, near Fort Worth. Authorities said he signed a confession admitting two Denison, burglaries and another breakin and two car thefts at Greenville.

He admitted walking off from a prison work party at Stringtown, Okla., last Wednesday, authorities said.

EX POW DENOUNCES MILDRED GILLARS DURING TRIAL

U. S. Completes Treason Case Against 'Axis Sally;' Jury Hears Records Assailing Roosevelt, Jews

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — The United States completed today its treason case against Mildred Gillars, "Axis Sally" of wartime German propaganda broadcasts, after three and one-half weeks of testimony.

Prosecutor John M. Kelley rested the government's case against the greying defendant after playing Nazi "hate" records in which a voice identified as that of Miss Gillars assailed President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. The voice shouted:

"Damn Roosevelt and damn Churchill and damn all of their Jews who have made this war possible."

The government charges that 48-year-old, American-born Miss Gillars committed treason by aiding German psychological warfare through radio broadcasts aimed at breaking down U. S. morale.

Defense Seeks Mistrial

Defense attorney James Laughlin unsuccessfully sought a mistrial, declaring that a denunciation of Miss Gillars by Ex-GI Eugene S. McCarthy, of Chicago, made it impossible for his client to get a fair trial. Laughlin will begin presenting defense testimony tomorrow.

On the same records in which the voice assailed Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill, the jury heard these words:

"I as an American girl, will stay over here on this side of the fence, on Germany's side, because it is the right side, as I've told you many, many times before.

The records contained wartime German "Midge at the Mike" programs, with which the Nazi sought to weaken America's will to fight.

Assumed Title of 'Midge'

The government charges that Miss Gillars assumed the radio title "Midge" during some of her broadcasts.

An Ex-Army counterspy told the jury that the records, seven in number were found among Miss Gillars' possessions in her Berlin apartment cellar.

The records were played following the testimony of McCarthy and James P. Caparell, of Queens, N. Y., a wartime prison buddy.

McCarthy ripped into "Sally" after testifying that he and fellow prisoners declined to give recorded interviews for her broadcasts.

Laughlin inquired of McCarthy whether he was prejudiced against the defendant, and the stocky witness answered "Yes, and no." McCarthy added:

"After you put 18 months in a prison camp . . . and see your buddies shot one a month—I was there 18 months and 18 men were shot—and you see the way you're treated . . . and . . an American person . . . working for them (the Nazis), do you think I can love a person who would sell out her country? No Sir!"

Laughlin asked McCarthy whether Miss Gillars' activities "undermined" his morale, the grim-faced veteran shot back:

"Just by seeing her work for the Germans she undermined my morale, seeing her at a time when we Americans stuck tighter and tighter together every time another boy was shot."

HEALTH NEWS

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the entire line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Mitchum Assigned Honor Farm Work; Prefers Jail Cell

CASTAIC, Cal., Feb. 16 (INS) — Film actor Robert Mitchum checked in at the sheriff's honor farm today and was immediately assigned to work in the "concrete block house" for the remainder of his jail term on a narcotics charge.

Wardens at the honor farm took one look at Mitchum's husky, 6-foot frame and tabbed him for the job of mixing concrete and making blocks for jail buildings for the next 53 days.

Prefers Jail Cell

When the movie star was put aboard a sheriff's van along with a dozen other prisoners he said that he wished they had let him remain in his Los Angeles county jail cell. Said the actor:

"I have a feeling that it may not be good for me out there with 600 or 700 men. Some of them might resent the fact that I work in the movies.

"In the tank at the jail we have plenty of supervision. I felt as safe as if I was in church."

He said that since he was made a "tank trusty," he was perfectly happy in his jail cell. He continued:

"In fact, I'd rather be in the tank right now than I would out on the street. There'd be a terrific hue and cry if I suddenly showed up outside."

Mitchum declared that his first week behind bars had cured his insomnia. "I haven't had as much peace for two years," the actor said.

Erath Grand Jury Enters Murder Indictments For Youth, Uncle

STEPHENVILLE, Feb. 16. (AP) Murder indictments against a youth and his uncle are on the records here Wednesday while the pair are in Erath county jail.

The indictments were returned by the grand jury Tuesday against Robert Bagwill, 17, and his uncle, Dan White, 47. White is also charged as an accomplice to "the offense of murder."

The slaying resulting in the indictments is that of Crockett Ross, service station operator, who was killed here Jan. 28. Officers believe Ross was killed during a hijacking of his station.

Bagwill and White were arrested in Vernon. Officers there have quoted Bagwill as admitting the slaying.

Grace Mathis, 35-year-old common-law wife of White, was indicted by the grand jury for "receiving and concealing stolen property of over $50 value." She is in jail at Vernon.

White is also indicted for "robbery with firearms and accomplice to robbery with firearms."

Value Of Mexican Peso Drops; Banks Enter Exchange Market

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 16. (AP)—Mexico's uneasiness over her money brought a further drop in the peso Wednesday.

Mexican banks bought dollars at 7.15 pesos and sold them at 7.30. The National City bank bought at 7.15 but took a profit of only two centavos.

The 7.15 rate contrasts with the 6.89 of Monday.

Banks said the Bank of Mexico probably would enter the market later, offering dollars to forestall any general lack of confidence that might start a real panic.

The peso closed at 7.10 to the dollar Tuesday after opening at 6.9025. For months before it had not moved more than a centavo or two from 6.89.

A scramble for gold coins, touched off by the higher price for South African newly-mined gold, led to the sharp change in the peso-dollar rate.

Peace Terms Rift May Bring Shakeup In Nationalist Ranks

By PETER LIU
INS Staff Correspondent

NANKING, Feb. 16 — A reported rift in the Nationalist leadership of China over what kind of peace to make with the Communists was believed today to be the forerunner of a possible government shakeup.

Nanking and Shanghai were stirred by reports that Premier Sun Fo may resign his office because he does not see eye-to-eye with acting President Li Tsung-Jen.

Reports that he already had resigned were unconfirmed.

(A Reuters dispatch to London from Canton said Dr. Sun denied he had resigned.)

Favors 'Honorable Peace'

Dr. Sun, the son of the founder of the Chinese republic, Sun Yat Sen, has advocated what he describes as an "honorable peace."

The premier, who moved from the capital to Canton recently with the legislative Yuan, is believed to be opposed to Nationalist acceptance of the Communist eight-point surrender demand.

He has reportedly been attempting to organize a resistance movement in South China in the event the Reds insist on full acceptance of their ultimatum.

Acting President Li, on the other hand, has already told the Communists that their terms were suitable as a "basis" for peace negotiations.

Ho Arrives In Nanking

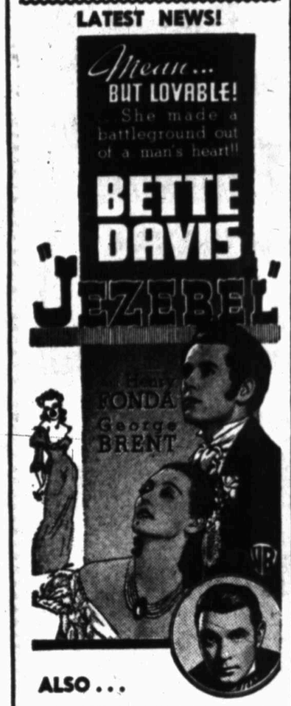

Semi-official sources in Nanking reported that Dr. Sun's most likely successor, in the event he has actually resigned, will be Ho Ying-Chin, frequently termed a "strong man" in Chinese politics.

Ho Ying-Chin has arrived in Nanking from Shanghai and is understood to be staying in close touch with Acting President Li.

Informed quarters said Ho, a former war minister, might prove acceptable to the Reds as a key peace delegate in the event he assumes the premiership.

As war minister during the anti-Japanese campaigns, Ho was nominally in charge of Communist as well as Nationalist armies.

The same sources named Huang Shao-Hsung, a military commander in Kwangsi province, as a possible vice premier in any cabinet headed by Ho.

Cattle Disease Threat Serious, Official Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (Special)—The foot and mouth disease in Mexico although kept from spreading northward by the vaccine program still presents a tremendous threat to the U. S. livestock industry, Harry G. Johnson of Houston, former major general and now co-director of the joint foot-mouth eradication program, told the House Agriculture subcommittee Wednesday.

He said the vast sum which the U. S. had spent so far to curb the spread of the disease was cheap when one realized the worth of the livestock industry. Rep. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, subcommittee chairman, said considering the allied industries and other fields dependent upon the livestock industry the vast expenditure was money well spent.

The exact sum spent to date was not announced but Johnson said the program is today costing $2,250,00 monthly.

He said after four to five months, all cattle known to have been infected will have either been vaccinated or slaughtered. Then work of vaccinating cattle for the second time will start. If, when the men go back over the area, they find the disease is still prevalent following the first vaccination, Johnson said: "We will be ready to quit this system of preventing the disease and we will go back to the scientists in the Bureau of Animal Industry and others and ask them what to do next. I have already told Secretary of Agriculture Brannan if this plan does not work, then I am pulling out."

Johnson said so far however results looked good, except that his men couldn't account for one small area where recently it had been found necessary to slaughter the cattle after vaccination failed.

Rep. Walter Granger, Utah, said the disease prevention work in Mexico, if successful, should rate a medal. "This is the biggest animal disease control project ever undertaken in the world," he said.

to locate owners. Attorneys ad litem will have to be appointed for unknown heirs in many cases.

All this is not new to Bond. He represents the state and county in collection of delinquent taxes in Lubbock, Lynn, Lamb, Ward and Reeves counties, as well as 21 cities and school districts in those counties.

He has collected $160,000 for Reeves county alone in the last three years, and filed approximately 1,200 tax suits in 1948. Moreover, he conducted 850 sales of property in that period.

Block And Bridle Club Discusses Plans For Tech All-College Rodeo

Plans for the annual Texas Tech all-college rodeo to be held April 1 and 2 were discussed at a meeting of the Block and Bridle club Tuesday night according to J. H. (Red) Heath, rodeo manager.

This will be the first year the event has been held in Jones stadium. Planned events will be discussed at the next meeting. Prof. J. H. Baumgardner of the Animal Husbandry department is the new sponsor of the organization. He succeeds Prof. Ray C. Mowery.

Engineers Plan Area Meet Here

Plans have been started here for a regional meeting of the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, to be held at Texas Tech college April 1 and 2, and expected to bring engineering students here from major Texas schools, and from several colleges and universities throughout the southwest.

Among out of state schools being invited to participate in the two-day discussion of various phases of that branch of engineering are University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma A&M, Tulane, New Mexico U., Louisiana State, and others.

Schools To Enter Delegates

Each school is asked to enter two official delegates, who will talk on engineering subjects and answer questions from the audience. Participants are judged and cash prizes are awarded.

The meeting will be the first held here since 1940, according to Everist L. Bednorz, chairman of the publicity committee. Representatives from Tech have participated in similar meetings at other schools in the meantime.

The 1947 meeting was held at Oklahoma U. at Norman, and last year's session was with Texas A&M at College Station, where Tech men won first and second places.

Edwin Locke won first place and a cash award for his discussion of "Effects of water injection in gasoline engines." Tom Hassell took second with a discussion of "Fuel reservoirs of the U. S." They had been coached by L. J. Powers, assistant in the mechanical engineering department at the college, who also was honorary chairman of the meeting.

Program for the session here had not been completed, but it was to include a couple of luncheons, a banquet and a dance, Bednorz said.

A number of local law enforcement officials were introduced at the luncheon by James Kimmel. They included Sheriff Grady Harrist; Carr; Judge Daniel A. Blair of the 72nd District court; John Wilson, juvenile officer; Capt. Bob Crowder of the Texas Rangers; Charley Fuller of the Texas Liquor Control board; and District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and his two assistants, E. G. Pharr and A. W. Salyars.

One other guest, H. D. Phillips, was introduced.

M. B. Hilburn, jr., presided at the luncheon, with invocation by Dr. James Reynolds. Approximately 40 members and guests were present.

a bill by Rep. W. R. Chambers of May, validating creation of school districts and school bond and tax elections—except those involved in the courts—since the last session of the legislature. This was routine procedure.

Highway Patrol Funds Asked

Gov. Beauford H. Jester asked the legislature for an emergency appropriation of $156,000 for the State Highway patrol. He said it would be out of operating funds March 15 because rising costs have virtually wiped out last session's appropriation.

Jester also asked the legislature to give emergency attention to enactment of an anti-lynching bill by Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso. The House Criminal Jurisprudence committee last night sent the bill to subcommittee for further study before taking final action on it.

Eight local game or fish bills received final approval in the House and were sent to the Senate. The measures would do the following things:

Establish open season on wild foxes in Robertson county.

Prohibit commercial seining of minnows in Wise county.

Set up a minnow conservation district and prohibit the transporting of minnows out of Wise county for commercial sale.

Close the season on deer for five years in Newton, Jasper, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby and Panola counties.

Establish an open season on deer, turkey and quail in McMullen county.

Add Starr, Webb and Zapata to those counties allowing the use of dogs to trail wounded deer.

Close the season on deer for two years in Nolan county.

Prohibit commercial seining of minnows in Washington county.

Wet shoes should never be dried close to a stove. Fast drying of leather makes it shrink, harden or crack open.

Baruch 'Ready Market' Plan Is Linked To World Aid Proposal

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

A proposal first offered a year ago by Bernard Baruch, that the United States stand ready to buy any surplus non-perishable raw materials offered at world prices is being discussed again as one means of effecting President Truman's world development program.

The idea is that the mere existence of a ready market would offer a tremendous stimulus for production in all countries, and that as production increased local living conditions would offer less and less invitation to Communist infiltration.

Before the end of the war Baruch and one of his associates, John M. Hancock, had predicted a five-to-seven year business boom. Baruch told the Senate Foreign Relations committee last year that this boom period could be doubled by his "ready market" plan.

Many observers have long played with the idea that if greater economic comfort could be attained in underdeveloped Russia, then there would be a chance for voluntary revision of the Communist-Imperialist dogma which has brought her into such a clash with the rest of the world.

From the standpoint of the cold war alone, however, the proposal develops several angles.

Many Problems Exist

The United States would be getting a stockpile of materials in return for money which would be going into just the kind of local-benefit development which President Truman suggested.

But a prerequisite is removal of the many barriers which still restrict the international movement of enterprises and capital. If France will not lift her restrictions on movement of American money in and out of the Congo, then Americans cannot be expected to launch developments there.

That's the type of problem which must be solved before any sort of real world development program can be produced.

New York City has about 2,000,000 Jews, more than there are in Palestine.

Braniff Airways To Inaugurate U.S.-Brazil Sleeper Service

DALLAS, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Braniff International airways will open the fastest air hop from the United States to Brazil March 18, when it will extend its present service from Lima, Peru to Rio De Janeiro.

Braniff said sleeper-type DC-6's would take off from Houston and arrive 26 hours and 20 minutes later at Rio.

The airline also said it would become the first company to offer transcontinental nonstop service connecting the East and West coasts of South America across the widest portion.

It will take only nine and one-half hours for completion of the flight between Lima and Rio, Braniff said.

The airline announced two round-trip schedules would be flown weekly, leaving the United States on Sundays and Tuesdays and returning on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Matador High School Chooses Three Act Farce For Senior Play

MATADOR, Feb. 16. (Special) "Cheerio My Dearie," a farce in three acts by Joy Tobias, has been selected as the Senior High school senior play to be presented March 31, it was announced today by T. E. Ernest, director.

Rehearsals for the play, which are to start next week, will be daily at 3:15 p. m., it was announced.

The story is set in Mountain View inn, a summer resort in North Carolina. If Cherry Holt (Sarah Springer) and Sue Grahame (Dorothy Traweek) cannot make a success of managing the hotel, Cherry will be obliged to marry her philandering fiance, Tomym (Don Watson), and Sue to return to her jealous husband, Dick (Billy Joe Whitaker).

The play continues from there, with other players being: Lord Cuthbert Twillingham, played by Uorman Seigler; a French maid, Rosemary Bloodworth; a scheming widow, Frances Casey; her sullen daughter, Ann Harp; a repressed spinster, Patti Pipkin; a Cockney valet, Lewis Blevins; and two comical negro servants, Truman Groves and Geraldine Waybourn.

"The story portrays great comedy and offers a wonderful opportunity for acting, and shouldn't be a difficult job to produce," Ernest said.

Soviet Arctic Dwellers Find Preserved Carcass Of Mammoth

MOSCOW, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Soviet Arctic dwellers have discovered the frozen and well-preserved carcass of a giant tusked mammoth in the Taimyr peninsula. It was reported today by the Soviet administration for the northern sea route.

The report said the tusks were found sticking above the surface of the permafrost, the eternally frozen topsoil of the Arctic region. Excavation revealed the rest of the body.

OUR TREATIES:

Congress On Guard

TOO obvious for question is American support for a proposed North Atlantic Defense alliance which might strengthen and unify securities against Russian attack and subjugation.

But U. S. Senate discussions this week have emphasized the necessity for caution in shaping a treaty which does not get Uncle Sam too far out on a limb in behalf of Europe's colonial empires.

Since the alliance first was proposed, one clear fact has been that some of the European powers want a treaty which would go considerably further than give them protection against Russia. They have been fishing for something which might cause the U. S. to feel under moral obligation to spring to their support, regardless of the difficulty they might face.

Under reported treaty provisions urged by France, a rebellion in French Indo-China would be classified as an "aggression" which the United States would be morally obligated to help suppress. Other colonial empires like Great Britain, France and Belgium undoubtedly would like to have similar assurances. They want aid given instantly and automatically, as a "moral obligation," by order of the U. S. political administration in power without consultation with Congress.

The Senate naturally isn't going to ratify such a treaty. The assurances by bi-partisan leaders that they do not propose to restrict in any way the sole power of Congress to declare war were not needed. Congress is too jealous of its powers to do anything like that.

But the discussions have drawn into tighter focus one fact which cannot be emphasized too strongly. The American people are ready to go to whatever limits are necessary to avert, or repel, the menace represented by Soviet Russia. Any treaty which attempted to go further would face virtually certain rejection in Congress and repudiation by the American people.

There's No Hurry

THE Federal Reserve board has chosen an inopportune time to begin lobbying for further tightening of credit controls when present restrictions expire on June 30.

The whole purpose of the controls was to help check rising prices by reducing demand for many scarce commodities ordinarily sold on the installment plan. The requirement of higher down payments and larger installments did reduce such buying.

But, with supplies increasing and prices apparently on the decline, further tightening of controls are difficult to justify. Indeed, if present trends continue, relaxation, or removal, of present controls will be in order as a means of stimulating retail business which has been falling off during recent weeks.

However, the best action as to controls—whether they are to be removed, modified or tightened—can be judged better during the few weeks before present laws expire. Any attempt to do any guessing as to what will be best three or four months from now would be premature. That would gain nothing and might do a good deal of harm. Delay is the obvious course which should and almost certainly will be followed.

Beware Of Romance

By ROBERTA COURTLAND

XXVIII

THEY reached Cielito Lindo just at dusk. Merry stood for a moment beside the car, savoring the mildness of the weather the glory of the green lawns and shrubbery, the budding azaleas and the mounds of feathery yellow forsythia, already in full bloom. Back in New York, it had been cold and snow had still covered the park and such side streets as were not important enough to be kept open by snow plows. Here it was the very heart of spring.

Carter Bagby came out of the house and greeted her courteously, but with a hint of reproach in his manner, and more than a hint in his words. "Well, Merry, for your mother's sake, I'm mighty glad you could tear yourself away from all your fun and good times. I'm afraid she has missed you badly."

Merry felt the usual twinge of dislike that she had always experienced in his presence but made herself say quietly, "I'm sorry. I've missed her, too. I'll go right into her. Where is she?"

"Lying down in her room," said Carter, and while his tone was mild it was completely lacking in any warmth.

"I just don't like the man—he doesn't mean to be offensive," she tried to tell herself as she ran into the house and to the door of her mother's room.

Susan was lying on the chaise longue in a dainty, too youthful negligee, a handkerchief dampened with lilac cologne on her forehead. It was an atmosphere to which Merry had become unhappily accustomed in the months immediately preceding the breakup.

"Who is it?" asked Susan fretfully. And then Merry was beside her, kneeling, her arms about Susan holding her close. There was an exchange of murmured endearments and greetings and then Susan raised herself on the chaise lounge and pushed Merry away from her and said eagerly, "Let me look at you, darling. Why, you're thinner and your lovely tan is gone."

MERRY laughed and stood up, turning swiftly before her mother, deliberately making her voice gay and vivacious.

"Darling, of course my tan is gone. New York blizzards aren't supposed to give one a nice tan. And I'm not thin—I've just maybe grown a little taller."

Susan sitting up now, peering at Merry, taking in the beautifully tailored beige suit, the brown alligator pumps the matching brown hat, the suede gloves and bag. The mink coat Merry had dropped on a chair.

"My dear! That suit is much too old for you! And a mink coat—most unsuitable! Your father must be making a fortune." There was a thin, unpleasant edge to Susan's voice.

"The coat, angel, was a gift from Lissa."

"Oh, indeed? And did she think we were so poverty stricken that we were objects of charity to be taken out and outfitted like slum children? Or is it that her conscience is bothering her for breaking up a home?" Susan's voice was shaking and ugly splotches of color stained her thin cheeks.

Merry was startled at the sight of so much animosity.

"Mother dear, Lissa's not like that at all! Why, she's a grand person."

"She must be, to have taken you from your mother for so long!"

Merry stared at her, shocked. "But, Mother, that's very unfair!" she burst out without thinking. "Surely you want Dad to be happy, as you and Carter are!"

Susan set her thin lips in a stubborn line and Merry heard herself saying something she had never dreamed of saying to her mother: "You are happy, aren't you, Mother?"

Susan's eyes flashed.

"Of course I'm happy. Why wouldn't I be, with a husband who is devoted to me and who thinks of nothing except my wishes? It's only that I resent this creature stealing my husband and now trying to take my daughter!"

"MUM, dear," Merry spoke in the gentle tone one would use to an unreasonable child, "you've got it all wrong. I like Lissa, and she was grand to me, and she and Dad seem to be perfectly happy."

Susan flung off the pastel-colored afghan which was across her feet and swung herself up.

"I don't care to discuss that creature with you, or anyone else, Merry." Susan's tone was cold and cutting. "It's time to get dressed for dinner. You'll want to change, of course. Carter and I always dress for dinner nowadays."

Merry almost said "So do Dad and Lissa," but caught the childish spitefulness back and bent instead to kiss her mother's cheek before she went, subdued, to her own room.

The room was in exquisite order, and there was a low crystal bowl on her dressing table filled with fragrant stocks, creamy white, soft blue and rosy pink. Merry bent her head and sniffed appreciatively of the cool, frail fragrance and then straightened. Susan had remembered that stocks were Merry's favorite spring blossoms and had probably the best the garden afforded to welcome her home.

Andrew had put down her baggage but she didn't take time to unpack. Instead she showered and changed to one of the simple frocks she had left behind when she had flown to New York, a golden yellow pique that was vastly becoming and very girlish-looking. And after she brushed out the shining, burnished mane of her curls, she left her hair loose to frame her face and merely tied a ribbon through it to hold it in place.

She grinned wryly at her reflection in the mirror.

"You look young and childish enough now, heaven knows," she told herself, and went out to join her mother and Carter in the living room.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

NOTICE: Isia Isabella having proved unfaithful to me I shall no longer be responsible for her actions.

I had intended to insert this notice as a classified ad in every one of the newspapers that publishes my column. But why pay for it when this way I can get it in for nothing?

BRANDEIS

Some time ago I gave Isia some nice publicity in this column.

I told you that if the brown stripes on her back were wider than the black ones it would be a mild winter. When she came to our house late last fall, Isia's brown stripes were decidedly wider than the black ones, and I not only told you that it would be a mild winter but I, myself, prepared for that kind.

Well, you know what happened in California and Montana and Nevada and other places.

But there was an exeuse. Perhaps Isia does not go to those states.

But she did come to my place and to many other places in the East.

Oh, before I forget it, Isia Isabella is not a girl, but the caterpillar of the tiger moth, popularly called the Wooly Bear.

I used to call her Wooly Bear, too, but since she has let me down I am hereafter going to be strictly formal and call her only by her professional Latin name.

Here is what this Isabella person has done to me:

My wife and I had a letter from Charlie Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

He and his wife, Grace, were going to the Truman shindig in Washington and they would like to see us when they came to New York after the Inauguration.

I have told you how royally the Guys entertained me when I visited them in Lubbock two years ago, and how anxious I was to return some of their hospitality.

SO, replying on Isia Isabella's brown stripes I wrote them "Come on. Stay with us a while. We are having a wonderful winter. We will drive you around and show you New England. Our state isn't as big as Texas, but it is a gosh darn nice little state."

So what happened?

The morning of the day the Guys were due, it started to snow. It snowed and snowed and it blew and it blew. By the time their train arrived it was almost a blizzard.

We had to put chains on our car. We had to lend the Guys some galoshes just to be able to get around.

And instead of showing them New England, all we could do was to show them Arthur Godfrey, and a terrible prizefight, on television.

I want to tell Grace and Charlie Guy right now that the whole thing wasn't a frame-up and that, any time they care to, they are welcome to come back and stay a month.

But Isia Isabella—I'm off her for life.

SOLONS FACE THREATS

Labor Lobbyists Busy

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Labor lobbyists' browbeating of members of the House and Senate since the election has reached unprecedented proportions.

The AFL-CIO belief that they elected President Truman and a Democratic Congress against anti-Democratic odds has given them the idea that they have the run of Capitol Hill.

Veteran and newcomer members of both houses say they have never been so badgered by any group of lobbyists. They are threatened with defeat in daily interviews unless they enact a Taft-Hartley substitute satisfactory to the labor unions.

TUCKER

They have, as a labor spokesman openly testified at a Senate committee hearing, marked Senator Taft for defeat when he runs again. But they have made the same threat against at least a hundred men in House and Senate, unless they vote for measures demanded by the unions.

The reaction to labor's political blitzkrieg, however, may be unfavorable. The average voter may cast his ballot for members who have the courage to resist the unions' lobby.

Senator Taft, as well as other legislators threatened with labor opposition, are collecting evidence of the unions' enmity. They think that these denunciations will help to elect them in 1950.

BAD: ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman, being a business man instead of a politician, has gotten himself in bad with the boys on Capitol Hill. Unless he can placate them, they may make a severe cut in his appropriations for 1950 financing of the Marshall Plan.

Administrator Hoffman has sent a letter to key members criticizing the loyalty plan requirements. According to his protests, many business and economic experts he would like to employ were once connected with co-called communist front organizations denounced by Attorney General Clark. So, he wants these outfits removed from the government blacklist.

PERSUADED: Administrator Hoffman could have obtained his objective if he had been more politically discreet. It is a fact that many members and contributors to these so-called "front" groups had no sympathy with communistic aims.

They "joined" because friends persuaded them to sign up, and the names of these organizations had a high-sounding title. Many conservative business men, industrialists and financiers were draw ninto these movements.

Instead of writing a letter that seemed to criticize the House Committee on un-American Activities, which exposed red outfits, Mr. Hoffman should have explained his problem in a quiet, personal and confidential talk with the appropriate committees on Capitol Hill.

CANDIDATE: Republican leaders who listened to Governor Thomas E. Dewey's Lincoln Day speech and talked with him privately gathered the impression that he is a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1952.

Their conclusion is based on his off-the-record conversation with Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. Mrs. Smith, in recent speeches, has been almost as critical of the eightieth, Republican Congress as President Truman was in his 1948 campaign speeches. She has said that the G.O.P. must "go liberal" if it expects to elect a President.

She elaborated on that idea when she addressed the Lincoln Day dinner at which Mr. Dewey was the main speaker. Meeting her afterward, he said:

"Senator Smith, your recent speeches have been wonderful. They help me in my attempt to liberalize the Republican Party."

If Governor Dewey wants to remake the G.O.P., he must do it as a real boss and a possible 1952 candidate. Therefore, the politicians still think that he is ambitious for a third try.

PLEDGES: President Truman has not followed through on many of the pledges he made in his campaign speeches last fall. House and Senate "liberals," who took his promises seriously, are more critical of him than the Taft-Wherry-Martin-Halleck faction.

Mr. Truman has submitted a liberal program to Congress in his various messages—on labor, agriculture, social welfare etc.—but he has not put the pressure on his Capitol Hill friends to enact a single one of these measures.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt wanted passage of legislation, he forced "Jim" Farley into telephoning and buttonholing Democrats in House and Senate, and "Jim" usually delivered. Of course, F.D.R. and his Postmaster General were fortunate in that they had more jobs at their disposal than President Truman has at the present moment.

But the fact is that President Truman has so far failed to use his available powers to keep the extravagant pledges which won him the support of labor, agriculture and white-collar groups.

RULES: "How is the change in the House rules procedure working out?," inquires D.F. of Charlotte, N. C. "Has the new system under which a majority vote can force a committee to report a measure to the floor for debate and decision made for democratic government?"

Answer: It is too early to give a complete reply to that question because the revised procedure has not yet been applied to a major measure. The first test will probably come toward the close of the current session, in May or June.

Rules Committee members, however, who naturally resent the weakening of their power, argue that the change may have extremely bad legislative results.

They point out that the Rules committee, when it had authority to hold up legislation, killed or pocketed measures appropriating more than ten billion dollars last year. Most of them provided generous grants to veterans of both global wars and to their dependents.

Under the present arrangements, all these bills may be submitted to the House and Senate. And the political gentlemen have always been generous to the veterans. Incidentally, the same procedure will apply to President Truman's labor and social welfare proposals, with their tremendous financial burden on employees and employers.

It seems the best politicians sit around drug stores and the best base ball umpires sit in the bleachers.

Atlas couldn't hold the world on his shoulders nowadays. Rusia would throw the darn thing off balance.

Another good way to lose your money is to bet on a sure thing.

Two can live as cheaply as one, if the old folks will pay daughter's bills.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

MILITARY PRESSURE FEARED

Secrecy On Proposed Pact Hit

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—It's getting to be a habit around here, when some new foreign policy is contemplated, to drape about it the coat of a military hero with five stars on his shoulder as a means of impressing Congress and the American people.

One purpose of calling General Dwight D. Eisenhower back to active service here, it now turns out is to help promote the projected Atlantic Security alliance with Congress where the general's prestige is high and naturally and properly so.

This is a pattern that was first worked out in the troublous post-war era when General George C. Marshall was "drafted" as Secretary of State to succeed James F. Byrnes. It was a time when our relations with Russia were becoming a primary problem. Thus a civilian of long public service that included both branches of Congress, the Supreme court, and the top civilian command in the White House during the war, was swapped for a military man to direct our foreign policy.

STOKES

Also Hits U. S.

This is a form of psychological warfare we have developed that seems to be directed at our own people as well as at Russia and her allies. There were indications that the emphasis was to be transferred from the military to the civilian when General Marshall was replaced as Secretary of State by Dean Acheson, but the recall of General Eisenhower does not seem to be in that direction.

The Atlantic security alliance has been described as involving one of the greatest decisions ever to be made by the American people. It calls for some sort of commitment to go to the defense of Canada and Western European nations in case of attack, though just what the commitment is has not become clear and apparently is not too well understood in Congress where debate is just beginning to break out. As a preliminary in carrying out the general policy, and in keeping with it, we are to supply arms to Western European nations, though in just what amount has not been made clear, either. It is estimated variously at between one and two billion dollars.

This latter involves a military judgment as to what would be required to defend Western Europe. General Eisenhower has come here to help in that judgment and to try to compromise the diverse views among the various services as to just what would be needed, and just what could be supplied in view of our own defense requirements and our economic aid commitments under the European recovery program.

But the major decision as to whether such military aid should be sent to Western European nations and as to the alliance, itself, is a political decision for the American people, in the broad meaning of that term. For it envisages a change in our national policy. Because of that it should be presented clearly and calmly as a lawyer would present a case, and not be mixed up emotionally by using General Eisenhower, his popularity and prestige, to influence Congress and the American people in deciding the fundamental issue involved. Exploitation of the "hero" technique is a reflection on the common sense and intelligence of our people.

Secrecy Is Assailed

Though negotiations on the Atlantic security alliance are well along, and the administration apparently already has espoused the principle, very little has been told the American people.

It is another example of top-level privacy about matters of intimate concern to every citizen, of which there has been too much in the field of foreign affairs. It was a subject that might very well have been introduced into the last presidential campaign, for it was under consideration then and before that. But foreign policy was virtually kept a secret under the so-called bipartisan foreign policy understanding between the two political parties.

The Atlantic alliance is justified by its sponsors on the basis of past experience. The argument is that if such a thing had existed previously, Germany would not have dared attack England and France to start the two world wars in which we eventually had to participate to protect our own security and interests. It is then, it is argued, a peace move. It is defended as another alliance within the United Nations similar to the western hemisphere alliance in which we have committed ourselves to go to the assistance of any nation in Latin America that is attacked by an aggressor. We are supplying military aid to Latin America in keeping with the general policy.

This proposed new policy is so vital a matter that it deserves to be considered carefully and coolly, with full enlightenment by President Truman and the State department, and not shoved through hastily on the say-so of generals who are public heroes.

EXTRA SPECIAL FARM
We sold the 320 acres we advertised last week but have another dandy 320 acres. It has 265 acres of pretty wheat that all goes to purchaser. This farm is also in the cotton belt, only 2 miles from the State highway and near a good small town. The improvements are fair, the price is only $70 per acre on this. Better hurry, it won't last long at this price.

BARGAIN!
BARGAIN!!
BARGAIN!!!
IT'S HARD for a used car shopper to tell the difference between the various bawls of "Bargain! Bargain!" But it's just as hard to tell any difference in the "bargain" merchandise. Womble Olds company has built a big business on ignoring the "bargain" competition and offering its customers VALUE instead. Our sales volume proves there are a lot of intelligent people buying GOOD used cars.

Striking Texas City Union Makes Counter Offer In Wage Dispute

TEXAS CITY, Feb. 16. (U.P.)—Union representatives and officials of the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corp. plant here discussed a reported "counter offer" by the union today in a wage dispute that started the three-week-old strike.

Talks were continuing this afternoon, and a settlement would mean the 1400 plant employes and some 2,000 construction workers would return immediately to the $15,000,000 installation, completely idled since the walkout.

Main points still to be settled are back pay and assignment of work. The striking workers, members of the Maintenance and Operators union (AFL) accepted the company offer of a pay boost of 14 cents hourly for maintenance men and 18 cents for operators, but their demands for a sliding scale were not agreed upon.

Assistant Plant Superintendent E. J. Fox said the chemical firm had agreed to make the pay raises retroactive.

Contracts Signed With RCA To Record Album Of Tech Songs

Contracts have been signed with the RCA recording company to make an album of eight Texas Tech school songs, according to W. C. Cole, manager of the Tech book store.

The Tech band and Glee club will make the recordings. The songs to be used will be selected by Dr. Julian P. Blitz, head of the Music department. He will also make one of the recordings.

Campus scenes, school colors and pictures of the band and Glee club will be on both the inside and outside covers of the album.

AFL Chief Raps Injunction Rule

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor warned Congress today "you're not going to settle labor disputes by injunctions."

The 75-year-old veteran leader of eight million workers told the Senate labor committee that the 1948 injunction against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers "didn't mine a pound of coal." He asserted:

"They stayed on strike after the injunction and if Lewis had been put in jail they would have stood like the Rock of Gibraltar and never moved."

Green Gives Warning

Green testified for the second day on the AFL-endorsed administration labor substitute for the Taft-Hartley act. The bill drops the injunction provision against strikes contained in the T-H statute.

The AFL president said national emergency strikes should be avoided and pledged his full efforts to prevent them, but he warned:

"If you've got a strong union and a group of men willing to walk through fire to support the union, you're not going to settle labor disputes by injunctions.

"There are not enough jails in the country to hold all the workers if organized labor ever decides to martyr itself against government by injunction."

Compromise Seen

Other developments:

1. Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) proposed the Taft-Hartley non-Communist affidavit be replaced with "a generally stated loyalty pledge," by both union officers and employers.

2. Compromises shaped up on three of the five issues of "great conflict" in writing a new labor law, leaving only the anti-strike injunction and ban on secondary boycotts to be ironed out.

Three Students File Petitions To Fill Tech Council Vacancies

Three Tech students have filed petitions to fill three vacancies which exist on the Student Council at the college. In a special election to be held Feb. 21 one representative each from Engineering, Business Administration and Arts and Science will be chosen.

Marshall Gettys, junior from Amarillo, is the only candidate from Engineering division. Bill J. Gillespie, Lubbock junior, and Billy McCasland, junior from Lamesa will oppose each other in the race for the representative from the Business Administration department. As yet there have been no petitions filed for the Arts and Science seat.

The empty seats were left by students who graduated at the close of the last term. The deadline for filing petitions is 5 p.m. this afternoon.

Wall Street

MARKET REMAINS STEADY

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—A slow dribble of buying orders kept stock prices fairly steady today.

Final quotations generally were ahead by fractions to around 2 points. At the same time the stock list was salted with a fair number of losses, mostly a point or less. Steels and motors found the going rougher than most other groups.

The advance was shaky and often ground to a full stop. An absence of any kind of substantial selling, rather than any real increase in buying interest, was rated as a favorable factor.

Turnover expanded to 900,000 shares from 810,000 Tuesday, which was the smallest in months.

News from the capital didn't have a great effect on trading strategy, possibly because many in Wall Street figure that President Truman's legislative program will not go on the law books without a lot of congressional editing.

American Telephone staged a mild fling for itself. Just before announcement that directors had voted the traditional $2.25 quarterly dividend, and planned a new issue of debentures, the price moved up 1⅛.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. (AP)—Cotton futures turned irregular today, with evening-up operations in nearby March and switching to later months a feature in the trading. There was a good deal of switching from March to later months, with the March open interest still substantial and first notice day coming up next Wednesday.

Late afternoon prices were 35 cents a bale higher to 30 cents lower than the previous close. March 32.43, May 32.28 and July 31.23.

Futures closed unchanged to 55 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. (AP)—Grains moved ahead in active dealings on the board of trade today, recovering all ground lost early and adding a few cents to yesterday's closing values.

Aggressive buying developed for the small supplies of corn which arrived today. No. 2 yellow sold at $1.30 compared with $1.24½ to $1.26 yesterday.

Also helpful were reports in the premium the government will pay for cash wheat at Kansas City and announcement the government would buy flour overnight.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to 1 cent higher, May $2.17¾-2.17⅞, corn was ¾ lower to ⅜ higher, May $1.28⅜-1.28⅝, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 69¼, and lard 10 to 30 cents hundred pounds higher, March $13.50.

Reclamation Bureau Officials To Interview Tech Job-Seekers

Harry F. Kirby of the regional office of the Bureau of Reclamation service will be at Tech Wednesday and Thursday to interview students for jobs with the service, according to Mrs. Jean Jenkins, head of the Tech Placement service.

Kirby will speak to all Engineering students Wednesday afternoon. Thursday he will interview senior and undergraduate students who are seeking a job with the service. A new program has been set up whereby sophomores and juniors may, by taking a job in the summer with the Bureau, become Engineering trainees. Students who take advantage of this program will be granted leave to go to school in the fall and spring. When they graduate they will go into regular full time positions. Kirby will also talk with graduating seniors about full time jobs.

Students wishing interviews should go by the Placement office before Thursday and make an appointment.

India should leave the British Commonwealth and "assume an independent role in world politics," says the All-India Forward Bloc, in Nagpur.
