Cotton Growers Vote On Quota Referendum December 13

Cotton growers have an important decision to make on Tuesday, December 13, Odis Bradley, Chairman of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds farmers.

On that day, growers will vote in a referendum to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for their 1956 upland cotton crop.

"If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas," Mr. Bradley explains, "marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1956, penalties will apply on 'excess' cotton, and price supports to those growers who comply with their cotton acreage allotments will be available at the full level of effective supports. Under current legislation, this support will be between 75 and 90 percent of parity, the level depending upon the supply situation at the time the determination is made.

"If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but price supports to eligible growers (who comply with their allotmens) will be available at 50 percent of parity.

"In either case, acreage allotments will continue in effect for the 1956 cotton crop."

The Chairman pointed out that the Secretary of Agriculture is directed to proclaim marketing quotas for the next upland cotton crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal. Quotas are not put into operation, however, unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a national referendum on the question.

Arangements for the establishment of polling places in all of the County's 6 cotton-growing communities have been completed. Notices have been mailed to each farmer who has a cotton acreage allotment, advising him of the place where he may vote in the referendum. All persons who, as landlord, tenant, or sharecropper, had an interest in growing upland cotton in 1955 are eligible to vote in the upland referendum. If there is any question about eligibility, farmers are asked to check with their county ASC office.

The community polling places and the referendum committeemen serving in the December 13 balloting are as follows:

Community, "A" North Wellington; Place of Voting, County Court Room; Committeemen, J. C. Harman, Jr., Shelton Nunnelley and W. R. Adams

Proceeds Applied on New School

Boys Ranch Sells Martin Farm to Fred Braxton

Cal Farley of Boys Ranch, Amarillo, said in Wellington Thursday, December 1, that the farm near Lela which the late R. R. Martin gave the ranch has been sold and the proceeds will be applied on the new school now under construction.

The quarter section, located a mile north of Lela, was sold to Fred Braxton, who lives in the north part of this county. The sale price was $5,600, Mr. Farley said. The sale contract was signed here Thursday.

The land was deeded to Boys Ranch by Mr. Martin before his death.

Mr. Farley said the new school is of brick and rock, costing approximately $221,000.

"We are sorry that Mr. Martin is not alive to visit the school and see what his contribution has helped build," Mr. Farley added.

All grades through high school are taught at Boys Ranch, and each boy there is promised a college education if he has the desire to continue his studies.

Classss are now taught in the old court house and the basement of the gymnasium.

The boys themselves have done approximately 50 per cent of the work--and their grades have been at least 15 per cent better, Farley said.

An effort will be made to have the school paid for by March 1.

Next building on schedule is a dining hall.

Calvin Lindsey, Boys Ranch Auditor, accompanied Farley here.

Two-Way Radio Installed In City, Fire Trucks

Two way radio communications equipment is being installed in Fire Department and city trucks and cars, Bura Handley, city manager, has reported.

Units have been put in two fire trucks, one the rural unit and the other a city truck. The system was used for the first time Tuesday afternoon when the rural truck answered a call.

Units also will be put in three service vehicles belonging to the city, those operated by Mr. Handley; Russell Yates, water works superintendent; and Jake Leach.

There is also one walkie-talkie set.

The base station is set up in the city hall with outlets in the city office and upstairs in the firemen's apartments.

This equipment was secured through the Civil Defense set-up, with that unit defraying half the cost and the city the other half.

Two County Men Hurt In Gun Accidents

Two county men, County Agent J. W. Thomas of Wellington and Glen McGill of Quail, were injured in gun accidents last week, one while hunting, the other while handling a gun in his home.

Mr. Thomas was out for the opening of the quail season with two Borger men, Jimmy Baldwin, who comes here each year, and Jack Ward. The accident happened on the Horton-Kutch farm near Kelley, as Thomas and Baldwin were seperated from Ward about 50 yards. Several quail flew up between them, Mrs. Thomas reported, and Ward fired.

The blast hit Thomas in the face, left shoulder, chest and arm. One lower tooth was knocked out, one shot went through an ear, and more than 30 others struck him.

He was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital for emergency treatment, then returned to his home. Mr. Thomas returned to his work in the county agent's office Saturday.

McGill lost his left hand in the accident that occured at his home early last week. He reported that he was putting the gun on a rack when he dropped it. The gun discharge as he started to pick it up.

He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment, and it was necessary to amputate his hand. He remained in the hospital until Saturday.

He is doing fine this week, Dr. D. V. Watkins reported.

County Cotton Allotment Set At 66,759 Acres

Colingsworth County's cotton acreage allotment for 1956 has been set at 66,759 acres, Millard Brown, ASC secretary, has been notified by the state ASC office.

This is a cut of 2,789 acres under last year, when the county's cotton allotment was 69,548 acres.

"This is a little less than a four per cent cut, and is considerably smaller than the cut taken by most of the counties around us," Mr. Brown pointed out.

Mr. Brown also explained the reserve acreage, which has been somwhat misunderstood.

"The state must hold as a reserve 10 per cent of the state acreage allotment, to be added onto the county allotment for small farms and hardships and inequities."

"Our actual allotment was 64,594 acres, but the state added 2165 acres from its reserve, bringing the total to the 66,759 figure. Of the acres from the state farm reserve, 396 acres was to be alloted to small farms and 1769 acres to take care of inequities and hardship cases," Mr. Brown explained.

"The county must also hold a certain per cent of its allotment as a reserve. This can vary from 5 to 15 per cent and the county ASC committee chose to hold the minimum, five per cent. This county reserve amounted to 3,259 .9 acres. Three hundred acres was set aside to be alloted to new growers and an additional 300 acres to take care of correcting any errors. The remaining 2,659.9 acres was used in making adjustments in cases of inequity and hardship."

These adjustments are made before the individual acreage allotments are mailed out, and not held unused, as some have believed Mr. Brown pointed out.

"In other words, our reserve acreage is already allotted out," he commented.

A small additional acreage may become available from one other source. Growers who will not use all of their acreage allotments may return thhe unused part to the ASC committee, to be apportioned to other growers. Returning unused cotton acres will not effect the alloment on that farm provided cotton has been grown on it at least one year out of the last three.

The county allotment is determined on the average acres planted for the preceeding three years, and the state allotment on the acres planted for the 5 perceeding years. The actual acreage allotment for a county is determined by this average and a factor set up for each county in the state ASC office.

Jason Young, Former County Officer, Dies

Jason Young, 58, prominent farmer and store owner in the Lutie community for many years, and a county commissioner from Precinct 2 for two terms in the 1930s died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home in Arlington Wednesday, November 23. He had moved from here some years ago and at the time of his death was a desk deputy on the staff of the sheriff of Tarrant County.

Mr. Young had had a heart ailment about six months, and was on leave from his work, but he was considered to be improving. On the Saturday preceding his death, he and Mrs. Young had returned from six weeks in California. His death came as he was setting in a chair talking with his wife.

Funeral services were held Saturday, November 26, at Moore's Funeral Home, Arlington. Officiating was Dr. Henry Kinkeade of Irving, former pastor of the First Baptist Church here, assisted by the pastor of an Arlington Church. Burial was at Arlington.

Voters Will Decide On 30¢ Tax and Office Separation Saturday Dec. 10

Collingsworth county voters will decide two issues in the special election Saturday, December 10, Judge R. L. Templeton reminded today.

The first of these issues is whether the county shall be authorized to assess and collect an ad valorem tax of 30c per $100 valuation on all taxable property to be used for the construction and maintenance of farm to market and lateral roads.

The second issue is whether the office of sheriff and tax assessor-collector shall be separated or continued as it now is.

Little interest has been shown in either issue.

The ad valorem tax asked for by the county formerly was collected by the state, but it was abolished by the 51st Legislature and the counties given the option of collecting it if they desire.

Residental homesteads up to $3,000 valuation are exempted from the tax.

Judge Templeton pointed out that in order to vote in this election, the voter must have rendered taxes or have paid current taxes. He must have paid his current poll tax or be an over or under.

Anyone who has paid a current poll tax or who is exempt can vote in the election to determine dividing the sheriff-tax offices.

It is pointed out that from about 1930 to 1950, the two offices were separate. When the federal census of 1950 showed that the population of Collingsworth County had fallen below 10,000, it became mandatory under law that the two offices be combined. By a constitutional amendment approved last fall, counties with less than 10,000 population can separate the offices if the people by local option election decide to have them separated.

This election will be the first since the re-distributing of the voting precincts. The precincters, along with the place of voting and the election judges are:

No. 1-S, Wellington, county court room, E. M. Hunter, presiding judge.

1-N, Wellington, Commissioners court room, court house, V. E. Warrick presiding judge.

No. 3, Buck Creek, L. W. Hartman home, Mr. Hartman presiding judge.

No. 4, Samnorwood, school house, Cecil Brown presiding judge.

No. 5, Quail, school house, Z. J. Neeley presiding judge.

No. 7, Dodson, school house, Lee White, presiding judge.

No. 8, Dozier, Church of Christ, James Murry presiding judge.

No. 11, Estelline, Pettitt's Store, O. L. Hartman, presiding judge.

No. 12, Lutie, gin office, Jack Lowry presiding judge.

No. 16, Rolla, Gin office, Wallace O'Rear, presiding judge.

A special canvassing board was set up by the Commissioners Court to include Joe Terry, Durant McInnis and V. E. Warrick.

More Funds Given ASC For Conservation Work

The Collingsworth County ASC Office has been authorized to over issue the original 1955 county allocation of ACP funds by 25 percent, which amounts to approximately $18,000.00. This is being done because of the fact that a large number of counties over the state are not earning their original allocation due to unfavorable weather conditions throughout the 1955 program year, Millard Brown, secretary, said.

In view of this arrangement, the ASC county committee would like to encourage all farmers who are planning on doing terracing, deep plowing, listing or chiseling for wind erosion control and any other ACP practice that can be carried out between now and December 31, 1955, to make application and at their approvals as soon as possible so we can take the advantage of these additional funds. The more we can get done before January 1, will relieve our 1956 ACP budget just that much, Odis Bradley, Chairman of the Collingsworh Cotunty ASC Committee, said.

The county committee at its meeting December 2, decided to allow up to $600.00 to any one individual on approvals to be issued between now and December 3, 1955. This limit would be in addition to any other payment already earned by the producer.

Seal Coat on County Highways in 1956

The Texas Highway Department has announced from Austin that the first step has been taken that will set up a new program of highway work for the calendar year of 1956. This new program is especially designed to protect the investment already made in the State System of roads.

Palmer Massey, District Engineer of the Texas Highway Deparment at Childress, has stated that the following State Highways and roads in his area are scheduled for work under this program:

A seal coat is to be applied to the asphalt shoulders along US 83 across Collingsworth County and to the pavement on Farm to Market Road No. 338 from Wellington to the Oklahoma line, No. 1642 from Dodson south to US Highway No. 62. A seal coat will also be applied to US Highway No. 62 in the northeast part of Childress County.

Massey stated that the Highway Commission has authorized the development of this program for the purpose of protecting the investment of the public in the State Highway System.

It was announced that work will begin on these projects just as soon as final planning is completed. Resident Engineer Clyde Drake will be in charge of the work in this area.

Molasses Feed Tests Compared

COLLEGE STATION — Tests conducted to obtain a comparative evaluation of five different kinds of mollasses being fed to livestock have been completed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The tests were supervised by J. K. Riggs and A. Y. Blakenship.

Blackstrap, citrus, corn, dried, and wood molasses were compared as substitutes for the ground sorghum grain fed as the only carbohydrate concentrate in the control ration.

Average daily gains for all calves fed molasses was 2.32 pounds, as compared with 2.41 pounds for the controls.

Forty-eight short-age Hereford steer yearlings averaging 586 pounds were fed, individually, six concentrate rations for a 140-day period. Ground sorghum grain was used as the carbohydrate concentrate in the control ration. In other five rations, a different type of molasses was substituted for sorghum grain on a pound-for-pound level. They were substituted on a basis of 13 and 26 percent of the concentrate mix.

Calves fed 13 percent molasses gained 2.40 pounds per head daily; those fed 26 percent gained 2.24 pounds. Except in the test using dried molasses, all calves fed 26 percent molasses gained less than those fed 13 percent. This diffenrence was most noticeable for corn and wood molasses, which appeared less palatable than the others.

Wood molasses appeared to be the least palatable of the five types tested and also produced the lowest gain with the highest feed requirements per hundred pounds of gain.

Ground sorghum grain produced the best results as the carbohydrate concentrate, followed in order by dried molasses, blackstrap, corn, citrus and wood molasses.

The molasses was mixed with the protein supplement, ground grain, cotton-seed hulls, minerals, and Vitamin A concentrate. Atlas sargo was fed as balance of the roughage.

Surplus Commodities Shipment Arrives

Collingsworth County has received 10,000 pounds of surplus commodities to be distributed among those needing assistance, County Judge R. L. Templeton announced Tuesday.

These are the first surplus commodities received since September, when the new year's program began. The county had been unable to qualify for commodities under new regulations.

Only 25 counties in the state are drawing surplus commodities, and need and hardship must be shown.

Collingsworth has been receiving surplus commodities for a year and a half.

Received in the current shipment were butter, cheese, shortening, dried milk, beans, rice, corn meal, flour, and others.

A new regulation is that only those who have received less than $60 income per month from any source is eligible to receive surplus commodities.

Applications for food may be made to the veteran's service officer, John Bevers, on the second floor of the court house, and the food is picked up at the Gilmore Locker plant.

The Wellington Rotary Club is again sponsoring the repair of old toys to be given needy children at Christmas, M. L. Burks announced.

Helping this year will be the vocational agriculture boys of Wellington high school and the Boy Scouts of Troop 32.

The Scouts will pick up toys Monday night, December 12, and anyone with toys to give is asked to leave the porch light on as a signal to the boys.

The Band Parents Club will meet Monday night, December 12, at 7:30 in the band hall. All parents are urged to be there.

Miss Jo Helen White and James Cabbell Wed in Early Winter Ceremony

By Mrs. G. T. Stephens

A wedding to open the winter season was that of Miss Jo Helen White and James (Jim) Cabbell solemnized Tuesday, November 22, at six-thirty o'clock in the evening in Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel in Canyon.

Parents of these students of West Texas State College are Mr. and Mrs. Obie White of Quail and Mrs. Clara Cabbell of Borger.

The couple recited their vows before an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladiola, cadelabra holding lighted tapers and wedding bells, tied with satin streamers. A prelude of nuptial selections was played by Mrs. Katherine Hunt of Portales, N. M., while the vocalist was Mrs. Cherrie Coffman, singing "Bless This House" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Minister Bob Wear of the Church of Chirst, Canyon, officated at the double ring ceremony.

The candles were lighted by Jan Cabbell, Borger, sister of the groom, who wore a dress of pink crystaline, accented by her headband of pink satin leaves.

The bride chose for her wedding a suit of white brocade faille, designed with a scalloped bodice and white satin collar and cuffs. She carried a bouquet of gardenias surrounded by stephanotis, centered on a white Bible.

Miss Geneva White of Quail, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of ice blue crystaline, and her headband was of blue velveteen leaves. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Dale Farris of Dumas was best man, while Howard Lee of Pampa and Richard Hall of Canyon were ushers.

Mrs. White chose for her daughter's wedding a charcoal silk suit-dress with white accessories, while the groom's mother wore a tailored suit of rust and brown with rust accessories. Both had corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

The wedding reception was held in the reception room of Cousins Hall. The serving table was centered with the maid of honor's bouquet, fanked by lighted candles. The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Mitzi Wilson of Dimmitt, while Miss Bonnie Watters of Silverton was at the punch service. Miss Elizabeth Wilson of Memphis registered the guests.

The bride is a graduate of Quail high school and now attends West Texas State College, where she is a junior majoring in home economics. She is vice-president of the Home Economics Club; recording secretary of Kappa Omicron Phi, national honorary fraternity; and vice president of Pi Omega, social sorority.

Mr. Cabbell graduated from Borger high school and attended Texas Tech before serving in the Air Force. He is now a student in West Texas State College, where he is a business major. He is a member of Tri Tau fraternity.

The couple has established their home at 2114 First Avenue, Canyon, and they will continue their studies at West Texas State.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Duncan Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Duncan Sr., observed their golden wedding anniversary with a quiet family gathering Saturday, December 3, that brought together all their children, their daughters-in-law, and grandchildren.

The evening was spent visiting and taking pictures. The tiered anniversary cake on a crystal holder centered the refreshment table, flanked by lighted tapers in crystal candle sticks. This was served with punch.

This was the first time the family had been together in five years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Duncan were born at Bowie. She was the former Edna Mae Pirtle. They were married at Bowie December 3, 1905, by the Rev. W. A. Both became members of the Methodist Church 53 years ago at Bowie and are active in church work.

They came to Collingsworth County in 1919, and Mr. Duncan has farmed during the time they have been here.

There are five children who were here for the anniversary, and who with their families include: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Duncan and children, Jerry and Jackie of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Duncan of Abilene; Miss Mary Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Duncan and sons, Herbert Jr. and Sidney of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Duncan and sons, John of Wellington and Doug of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Duncan Jr., and children Skippy and Ann of Lubbock.

Rockets-Rockettes Win Over Hedley

Wellington's Rockets and Rockettes went on a winning spree to take doubleheaders from both Lacasa, Oklahoma, and Hedley during the past week.

The Rocket-Lacasa game Tuesday, Nov. 15, also marked the first time the Wellington boys have met colored players on the court here, since Harmon County Schools de-segregated with the beginning of the school year.

One of these youths, J. Sanders, was high scorer for Lacasa, with 9 points.

The Rockets took the game 55 to 23, making all but 16 points during the last half.

Randall Raburn and James Lee tied for high point, with 10 each. Pat Wilkins got 8, Maxie Tarver 6, Ernest McNabb 6, Regie Smith 4, R. W. Warren and Athan Lowrie, three each, and Larry Johnson and Farris Woods. two each.

The Rockets hit 28 per cent of their field goals, considered fairly good for the early part of the season, but they made only 28 per cent of their free shots. They turned in some good work on defense and rebounding, however.

Team members were Raburn, McNabb, Warren, Lowrie, Johnson, Jerry Elbert, Lee, Wood, Smith, Tarver and Wilkins.

The Rockettes kept the game entirely their way and closed it out with a 56 to 21 score.

Sally Murphy was high scorer with 17 points; Cecilia Cartwright was second with 14; Adell Jerman Sherry Bounds, Dorothy Ray, Sherrie Smith, Donna Lowry and Joan Crane two each.

Davidson was high for LaCasa.

Guards played an alert game, and the girls adeptness at stealing the ball paid off. Forwards were hitting fairly accurately, and all of them did a good job on rebounding.

Playing were Sherry Bounds, Dorothy Ray, Sherrie Smith, Sally Murphy, Cecilia Cartwright, Adelle Jerman, Katherine Sanders, Donna Lowrie, Joan Crane, Myra Jones Rachel Carter, Carolyn Scott, Sandra Smith, Kay Hubbard, Pada Bell, Pat Tompkins and Mary Sanders.

The Hedley game was played there Saturday and the Wellington teams came through with tighter squeezes.

The Rockettes won 39 to 27, with Sally Murphy again high scorer, making 18 points. Katherine Sanders got 11; Sherry Bounds 8. Cecilia Cartwright 3. The girls hit 22 per cent of their field goals and 48 per cent of their free shots, according to Coach E. W. Clement.

Wynn was high for Hedley with 12 and Sims got 11.

The Rockets took a 4-point victory, 53 to 49. Raburn was high scorer with 11 points, Tarver got 9; Smith 8; Wilkins 6; McNabb and Elbert 4; Johnson, Lee and Lowrie 3 each and Wood 2.

Reeves, with 24 points, was high scorer for the Hedley team.

Pointing out the narrow margin by which the Wellington teams won, Coach Clement remarked, "Hedley hustled."

Salt Fork Dam Interest Revived

City Council To Water Meeting Thursday

The Greenbelt Industrial and Municipal Water Authority plans for a dam across Salt Fork River near the Donley county line came to the front this week with the announcement of a meeting of city councils from the towns in the program.

This meeting will be held in Childress Thursday evening, December 8.

Representing Wellington will be Mayor J. B. Castleberry, City Manager Bura Handley, City Attorney Paul Spillman and members of the city council.

This is not a general meeting of directors, but is confined to city councils from Wellington, Childress, Clarendon, Hedley, Memphis, McLean, Shamrock, Paducah and Quanah.

It was pointed out in Childress that only Quanah, Memphis, Childress and the West Texas Utilities had shown definite interest in the project which has been termed the "only abundant supply of good water" left in this section of the state.

Dr. S. H. Townsend, chairman of the Water Resources committee, said that the dam could be built for a total cost of $5,300,000 and provide water for these towns, a reduction from the original estimated cost of $8,000,000 because less pipe would be needed.

Mayor Preslar told the group that the Burlington or Fort Worth and Denver would provide the right-of-way for pipe wherever possible.

R. Wright Armstrong, FWD vice-president, made the offer some time back, Preslar reported.

Townsend told the group that the cost of the dam and pipe to the three towns and utility would cost $5,8000,000 if a filtering plant was placed at the dam site large enough to filter all water used.

"Cities are looking everywhere for water," Townsend said.

"We have one year from November 10 to do something about this supply and something should be done now to learn just how much interest there is in the project, what towns want to join in, what towns that don't and then either go ahead or drop it entirely," he added.

The capacity of the proposed lake has been estimated 25,000,000 gallons of water a day.

"The siltation of the lake will be slow," Townsend said that engineers had told him. "At the end of 40 years the dam can be raised five feet and the lake will hold as much water as it did at the beginning."

Boys Admit Burglary Here

Three Oklahoma boys, the oldest 15, have admitted to officers they burglarized Ralph Ball's filling station and attemped to break in the Brewster station and grocery last week, Sheriff John Rainey has been notified by Mangum officers.

The boys, who are from Mountain View, Oklahoma, were picked up in Santa Rosa, N. M., in a 1951 Pontiac they admitted stealing in Mangum, Sheriff Rainey said. They drove here, pried off the lock on the front door of the Ball's station, took several cartons of cigarettes, candy, cold drinks, oil, and an undertermined amount of other merchandise, then went to the Brewster Station. They attempted to enter by breaking the glass on the front door, but found it double locked with bars across the glass portion. Several cases of empty pop bottles were taken.

Santa Rosa officials turned the boys over to the Sheriff's department in Mangum. Although they are juveniles, they will face federal charges under the Mann Act, for transporting a stolen car across state lines. Two of the boys were 14, the other 15.

Wellington Asked To Fat Stock Show

Wellington has been extended an invitation to have a special day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

President-Manager W. R. Watt, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, expressed appreciation for the cooperation extended in past seasons.

"Last year," the letter stated, "almost 100 cities and organizations had 'days' and their organized delegations, cow-girl sweethearts, band and - in many instances - riding clubs gained recognition for their communities and organizations, added 'color' and contributed greatly to the success of the exposition.

"We hope that you will have a 'day' which we will be happy to publicize; and we are sure that your delegation will have a fine time and, at the same time, will be helping the Stock Show as it serves the great livestock industry of our Southwest."

Dates of the show are Friday, Jan. 27 through Sunday, Feb. 5.

REAL ESTATE TITLE SAFEGUARDS OUTLINED

How can you determine whether the title you are receiving in a real estate transaction is good, bad or indifferent? Although at first glance there may appear to be more than one alternative method, purchasers usually find that all roads of complete title security lead to a lawyer chosen by the prospective buyer to represent his interests.

In the first place, the Contract of Sale should state the QUALITY OF TITLE to be conveyed to the purchaser. If the contract does not so state, then the seller may be obligated to sell--and the purchaser bound to buy--only whatever title the seller happens to possess, which may actually be quite defective. This may be true in spite of the fact that the seller is in possession, has a deed to the property, has been paying taxes, etc.

A real estate title is a claim of ownership or right to land and to the improvements, such houses and other structures, located thereon. It may be partial or complete, as determined by the numerous facts in each case. If it is complete and superior to any other person's claim--if you can prove your right thereto against all the world, it is a GOOD TITLE. If, in addition, the evidence of your claim of ownership is contained in the proper public records, it is a GOOD RECORD TITLE. Ordinarily, only a GOOD RECORD TITLE is considered salable, being sometimes referred to as a GOOD MARKETABLE TITLE.

When you buy a house, you want a title which is good, so that you and your heirs will not be troubled while enjoying the use of the premises. You also want that title to be marketable, in order that it can be sold when you are ready to sell--without the expense of perfecting title before yuor buyer will complete his purchase.

Having made certain that your contract of sale indicates the exact nature of the title to be conveyed to you by the seller, how do you go about assuring yourself that you will receive the specified quality of title? People have varied ideas about this matter.

Some consider themselves safe when they gain possession of an Abstract of Title or a General Warranty Deed. But an Abstract is merely an outline of public records on the tract of land--a history of the title--which anyone may purchase, regardless of ownership.

A General Warranty Deed from a responsible seller is comforting to have, but is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. True, it entitles you to sue the seller for damages caused by defects in the title. But serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt.

Safer procedure include your attorney's examination of the Abstract tendered by the seller, and the purchase of a Title Insurance Policy indemnifying you as the insured for the full amount of your investment. In any event you will want your attorney's advice when closing a real estate transaction.

CHRISTMAS MAILING INCREASES IN WELLINGTON POST OFFICE

Postmaster R. T. Savage announced today that there has been a steady increase in the flow of Christmas cards and packages through the Post Office the past few days. He said he was glad to see that many people are getting their Christmas gifts for distant points into the mail this week pointing out that packages addressed to folks living in other states should all be mailed before December 5th and those for nearby points before December 10th.

Stressing the need for everyone to cooperate on his 1955 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, Postmaster Savage says that by following these three simple rules, you're certain to have your gifts delivered Day: WRAP THEM SECURLEY, ADDRESS THEM CORRECTLY, AND MAIL THEM EARLY.

They also stated that everyone please put all local Christmas cards together-all face up-and tie together-do the out-of-town the same way-they will go much faster and will be much easier on the postman.

He went on to say, "Of course early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is a big factor in getting everything delivered before Christmas. Keep in mind that careful packing and corect addressing is equally important. Every year many poorly wrapped packages break open despite careful handling and we often have to puzzle over addresses which are incomplete or simply cannot be read at all."

Advance care in preparing gift packages for the mail and making sure that all addresses are legible and complete will prevent disceiver alike.

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmaster warns. "The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package from."

It is always better to use corrugated cartons for shipping your gifts especially where there are a number of various sized objects. Use plenty of wadded tissue or newspaper in the cartons for extra protection against shock. Complete each package by wrapping in heavy paper and tying it with strong cord.

As extra precaution against loss, Postmaster Savage advised placing both your return address and the recipient's address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

Don't seal your parcel unless you include a notice reading "Contents merchandise--may be opened for postal inspection" along with your return address and the recipient's address on the mailing label. If you use Christmas stickers or seals put them on the back of your Christmas cards and packages so that they will not conflice with the address on the front.

Post Office Offers Special Christmas Service

With the peak of Christmas mailing season just around the corner, Postmaster R. T. Savage today called attenion to a new combination mail service which he said many patrons o the Wellington Post Office should be interested in. The new service, he explained, allows the presence of a first class letter or other written messages inside a peckage. All that's necessary is to note on the outside of the package that a letter is enclosed and put an additional stamp on the package.

Under the new service letters or other single pieces of First or Third Class mail may be placed inside Fourth Class parcels or inside copies of publications mailed under Second Class mail entry. Letters or other single pieces of First Class mail may also be placed inside Third Class packages.

This means the familiar phrase, "we are sending under seperate cover," is no longer necessary, the Postmaster said. In the past it has been possible to send a letter along with a package only by pasting on the outside of the package and affixing the necessary postage.

This new combination service, which went into effect November 28, meets a genuine need, the Postmaster said. "It is one more improvement to add to the list of more than seventy procedural changes that the present postal management has adopted for the convenience of the public and for the improvement of the postal service."

Postmaster Savage said the new combination mail service is on a 60-day trial basis. During this will be welcomed.

Mr. Savage quoted Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield as saying he felt certain most mailers will welcome this more convenient system for mailing different classes fo mail together.

"We are here to serve the public," the Postmaster General said, "and we are especially pleased that we can introduce combination mailings before the Christmas season when so many Americans depend upon the Department for delivery of their gifts and personal messages."

Among the postal patrons needing to send two classes of mail together, the Postmaster also cited business firms sending substitute products and wanting to explain why that was done; magazine publishers sending gift certificates naming the donor with first copies of their publications to new subscribers; manufacturers sending operational, maintenance, and repair instructions with household appliances; and companies including sales letters with samples of merchandise.

Of the 23 wheat varieties designated by the USDA as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities, seven are reported as grown in Texas. They are Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kanking, Chiefkan, Eary Blackhull, New Chief and Yogo. Under the 1956 price-support program, they will draw a 20 cents a bushel discount. The discount is to discourag their use by growers.

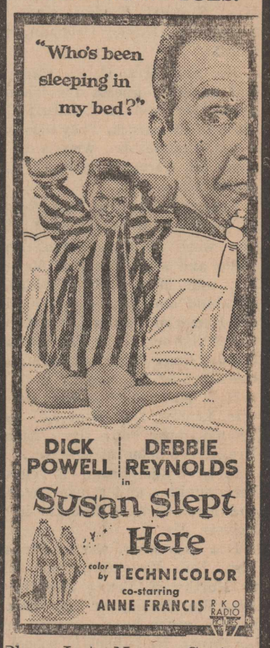

Seed of new varieties of spinach and onions, Early Hybrid 7 and Early Crystal 281, will be available in limited quanities for commercial planting this fall. Both have advantages over varieties now commonly grown.

Weeds, generally, do more harm than good on the range. They reduce grass production by taking moisture, shading the grass plants and crowding out more desirable plants. Chemical or mechanical control is recommended.

FORRESTAL's keel was laid at Newport News, Virginia, July 14, 1952. The ship will be commissioned on October 1, 1955.

Crossroads Report

December 6, 1955

Dear Editor:

I see where experts in the UN Food and Agriculture Organization figured out here a while back that the world's hungry people could get more food if they had more money.

A neighbor at coffee this morning said a groceryman told him that, years ago.

But I claim that this bunch of master minds are entitled to considerable credit, on account of this is one of the few findings by experts which some other expert is not apt to come along and explode.

Hunters Asked to Give Deer Hides To TB Association

AUSTIN,-Like many Texas hunters, Governor Allan Shivers gives the hides of deer he kills to state tuberculosis hospitals. Patients use the tanned leather for moccasins, purses, and other articles they are taught to make in the hospitals' occupational therapy program.

Commenting on this program the Governor said, "I am told scientific methods of treating tuberculosis include the effective use of drugs, surgery, and social and vocational rehabilitation. This rehabilitation includes occupational therapy and job training.

"Anyone who previously could enjoy the outdoor activties of hunting, fishing, and other such recreation has difficulty in adjusting to hospital life. I am glad patients in our state tuberculosis hospitals have, in addition to modern medical and surgical treatment, the benefit of services which help to brighten the long months of inactivity necessary for many of them to regain their health."

Governor Shivers commended the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affilated local units for their contributions from the Christmas Seal Sale which have made possible the employment of registered occupational therapists in state TB hospitals.

Mrs. Bill Saunders and daughter, Marry Ann returned to their home in North Carolina after staying here with her mother, Mrs. H. C. Harrell, who has been seriously ill for about three months.

Tenure a Factor In Machine Harvest Of Plains Cotton

COLLEGE STATION — High Plains farmers in 1952 were in a position to weigh the economics of stripping versus handharvesting and to select the method that would yield the highest return. The early killing frost made machine-harvest practical. Their decision was neither to handharvest their entire crop nor to harvest it all by machine.

Instead, says a study just released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, most farmers chose to first go over their good acreage by hand and then complete the harvest by machine. Low yielding arceages were stripped by machine the first time over.

Tenancy, report W. G. Adkins and W. H. Metzler, appeared in both the 1951 and '52 surveys as an obstacle to the use of mechanized harvesting. Landlords object to machine-harvesting on the basis of grade losses and lower returns while the tenant profits from lower harvesting costs. Recent studies, say the economists, indicate that grade losses are a matter of harvest time rather than of the method used. The earliness of a killing frost was also found to be an important factor in determining which method of harvest would be used.

For the 1951 and 1952 seasons, 40 percent against 42 percent of all bales were machine harvested on the High Plains. Only 8 percent of the farm operators handpulled all their cotton in both 1951 and '52, but 16 percent stripped all their cotton in 1952 against 8 percent in 1951. The combination of hand and machine harvesting was used by 84 percent of the farmers in 1951 and by 76 percent in 1952.

Full owners cut back on machine-harvesting while tenants increased their use of machines. In 1952 owners machine-harvested 45 percent of their cotton compared with 68 percent the year before. Tenants on the other hand jumped their use of machines from 26 percent in 1951 to 41 percent in 1952.

The research workers report that apparently little effort is made to use strippers to their potential. Strippers were used by most farmers for cleanup work rather than for harvesting the bulk of their crop.

The complete study is given in B-813, "Tenure and Mechanization of the Cotton Harvest, Texas High Plains" and is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.
