Hardeman Explains Why He Opposes Proposed Amendment To Constitution

(Editor's note: The following is a discussion of a proposed amendment to the Constitution to the State of Texas by State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo. We are glad to see the Senator make this statement and feel about the same as he does concerning this proposal. It should be defeated at the polls on Nov. 4th, at the General Election.)

The constitutional amendment (H.J.R. 1) proposing annual sessions of the Legislature, annual salaries of $7,500, plus an unlimited per diem and unlimited "expenses of office", for each member, and authorizing living quarters in the Capitol building for the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, and their respective families, should be carefully considered in view of the following:

1. It would permit continuous sessions of the legislature, which would not be good for either the members or the State.

2. It authorizes an unlimited per diem, in amount, to each member, in addition to the annual salary.

3. It authorizes unlimited "expenses of office", which might well include board and washing, transportation, publications, secretarial help, rent, clerk hire, stationery and supplies, telephone and telegraph, postage, etc., "in amount and manner as determined" by the Legislature, itself. (It is not likely that it would deal generously with itself—the only restraint being the "next election", provided there is a record vote.)

4. It is wholly unnecessary from the standpoint of either results contemplated or expenses involved.

5. It includes a provision relating to the occupancy of living quarters in the Capitol building, by certain officials, now determined by statute.

6. It appears to be in conflict with other provisions of the Constitution.

7. It is poorly written and, if adopted, will likely entail extensive litigation and require judicial interpretation.

I opposed the submission of the resolution in the 1957 session of the Legislature, and subsequent study has confirmed the soundness of my action.

Annual sessions neither assure a more accurate financial picture nor greater economy. The results of the Congress attest to this.

The absence of deficits, generally, in State spending, since appropriations in excess of cash and anticipated revenue have been prohibited, except in case of emergency, is ample justification of the present system. The loose language of the proposal leaves it doubtful whether this restraint would be applicable to appropriations made by the "Second Regular Session." Also, it is doubtful whether appropriations at such sessions, for other than "the general operation of the State government", would be valid.

The "freezing" into the organic law of a provision authorizing the occupancy of a portion of the Capitol building as living quarters by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, and their respective families, is highly undesirable as to practice, as well as procedure. There is no more compelling reason for furnishing elaborately equipped, and expensively decorated, residence apartments in the Capitol building for these two officials, and their families, than for any member of others. The Capitol building was dedicated by Temple Houston to be "the habitation of the Government of Texas". Obviously, this did not include bedroom and kitchen privileges.

Since its provisions may not be voted upon separately, however desirable one or more features might be, which is rather doubtful, the amendment should be rejected.

Respectfully submitted,
DORSEY B. HARDEMAN
State Senator, 25th District
San Angelo, Texas

Bank Statement Shows Increase In Deposits, Assets

The statement of condition of the Santa Anna National Bank, published elsewhere in this issue of The News, shows the assets of the bank to be more than $2 million, an amount that has not been reached by the local bank in a long time, if ever.

The increase in assets over the previous statement on June 23 amounts to $167,822 with an increase in deposits amounting to $151,255.

PTA Carnival To Be Held At Gym Saturday Night

The PTA Fun Carnival will be held at the school gym Saturday night, beginning at 5:30 p. m. and continuing for several hours. Kiddie rides will be the first item on the program and all youngsters are invited to participate.

Mothers belonging to the organization are baking pies and cakes to be served with hot dogs, sandwiches, french fries and soft drinks during the supper hour. Everyone is urged to enjoy their evening meal Saturday with the Parent-Teacher organization at the gym.

Grandmothers are sponsoring a booth for the babies, and will have plenty of toys to play with, along with beds for the sleepy ones.

There will be plenty of activities for all, young and old, to enjoy the evening. This is the only money raising program the PTA plans to hold this year. It is hoped that a large number of persons will be out for the evening and help the organization raise their needed funds.

An interesting exhibit that everyone will want to see will be the decorated tables. There will be ten tables each decorated in a different holiday theme. The Garden Club will decorate some of them and individuals will decorate others. This will be a good opportunity to pick up some ideas for your decorations at home.

Last week the posters made by the students of the elementary school were picked up and judged. The judges had quite a task in making their selections because all the posters were exceptionally good. First place was awarded to Mrs. Harris' Second Grade; Second place went to Mrs. Sparkman's 7th Grade; Third place went to Miss Odom's Fourth and Fifth Grades.orable mention went to Mrs. Davenport's 6th B Grade, Mrs. Crews' 3rd Grade; Mrs. Harris' 5th Grade; Mr. Donham's 8th A Grade; Mrs. Martin's 6th A Grade; Mrs. Parker's 4th and 5th Grades; and Mrs. Dodson's 7th B Grade. The posters have been placed around town to advertise the Carnival on Saturday night.

Son-In-Law Of Ben P. Vinsons Killed In Accident Mon.

William D. Cardenas, 19, of Coleman, was crushed to death about 5:30 p. m. Monday in Sweetwater by a 4,000-pound blast of air while testing an oil field pipe. The terrific blast of air knocked his body about 15 feet, authorities said.

Cardenas and the former Miss Betty Ann Vinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Vinson of Santa Anna, were married in August, 1957. They have a three-month-old daughter, Debbie Jean.

Cardenas, an employee of an Odessa pipe company, was pumping air into a 7½-inch casing, which was being tested under 4,000 pounds of pressure. Authorities said the end of the pipe split, releasing the terrific blast of air which crushed Cardenas' chest. Another worker, Charles B. Durham of Odessa, was not injured in the accident. The crew had been testing pipe at the Sweetwater wrecking yard for three days. Cardenas had been employed by the concern for about two weeks.

Funeral services were held at the Concho Baptist Church in Coleman at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 8th.

Besides his wife and small daughter, Cardenas is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Cardenas and two sisters, of Coleman.

Mrs. N. Hightower, sister of Mrs. F. A. Parsons, visited with her at the weekend. On Saturday Doyle Wright and sons, Darrell and Lynn, took Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Hightower to Limestone County, where they spent the night with Mrs. Parsons' son, Emmitt Williamson. On Sunday all of them attended a reunion of Mrs. Parson's people at Fort Parker. Some 26 persons were present for the occasion.

Mrs. K. G. Gore and Mrs. Rosie Matthen visited in Gouldbusk last week.

Postmaster At Rockwood Retires After 29 Years

BY MRS. JOHN C. HUNTER
Mrs. W. G. Williams retired as the Rockwood Postmaster Oct. 1, after 29 years of service. Mrs. Williams became acting Postmaster on the death of her father, B. F. Sullivan, in 1929, and received her commission in 1930.

It is interesting to note the tradition of postal service of her family. Mrs. Williams was practically raised in a post office. She recalls family history that her father moved his family to Camp Colorado sometime in the late eighties. Her father followed Henry Sackett as postmaster, continuing until 1902, when the Post Office was discontinued. Mrs. Williams was born at Camp Colorado during this time. When he moved to Wadage as Postmaster, Mrs. Williams recalls helping in the office — so from the age of 14 she has been very closely associated with the postal service.

Mr. Sullivan resigned in 1907 at Wadage. He moved to Rockwood in 1909, to become Postmaster and served until his death in 1929. B. F. Sullivan III, is now Postmaster at Bangs.

Mrs. Williams, better known as Miss Eula, and her family, Dr. W. G. Williams and Barney moved to their new home in Brownwood Monday, October 6.

It is with deep regret we see one of our most loved families leave our community. Barney Williams has served as assistant Postmaster since 1933.

A. N. McSwane Buried Sunday At Rockwood

A. N. McSwane, 83, passed away at his home in Rockwood Friday, Oct. 3, at 3:00 p. m. after a long illness. Mr. McSwane was born at Standly, Ind. He and Ella Grimm were married at Standly, Ind. August 7, 1898, 60 years ago. To this union 10 children were born, two of whom preceded him in death, Lee and Bill McSwane.

Funeral services were held at the Rockwood Methodist Church Sunday, Oct. 5, at 2:00 p. m. The Rev. C. A. Miller and Rev. J. W. Tickner officiated. Burial was in the Rockwood Cemetery.

Pallbearers were grandsons: Douglas McSwane, Garland McSwane, Ray McSwane, Don Parks, Elgean Harris and Winifred Williams.

Survivors include his wife, of Rockwood; five daughters, Mrs. Blanche Harris of Santa Anna, Mrs. Mildred Trotter of Aztec, N. M., Mrs. Alma Williams of Barstow, Mrs. Veoma Jackson of Rockwood, Mrs. Dorothy Mills of Lockhart; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dora Belle McSwane of San Angelo; three sons, B. A. McSwane of Brownwood, Aubrey and Jack McSwane of Rockwood. Twenty-three grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren also survive.

Hosch Funeral Home of Santa Anna was in charge of arrangements.

Juniors Win Over Jim Ned 32-0 Tuesday Night

Two breaks for the Junior Mountaineers at the beginning of the game were apparently deciding factors in the 32-0 defeat handed the Junior Jim Ned Indians Tuesday night on the local field.

The local boys kick to Jim Ned to begin the game. They fumbled and Santa Anna recovered. Then on the first play from scrimmage, the local boys made their first touchdown. The same thing happened again on the next kick off, except it took three plays to score — enough to take the "spunk out of any team."

We do not mean to take anything away from the local boys, as they are good, and played a good game all the way through. However, the Jim Ned boys are good also, and played a good game. They just got off to a bad start and could not get back in the game.

Coach A. D. Donham said the Jim Ned boys were good competition and they had a big backfield that made lots of yards through his line. However, the local boys managed to keep them from scoring.

Next Week Game

Coach Donham said the annual Pee Wee Game would be played on the local field next Tuesday night, between the Bangs and Santa Anna boys that weigh less than 100 pounds. Donham said the Bangs coach told him he may not be able to field a team of boys under 100 pounds this year, but that he would try to. This game is looked forward to by the smaller boys each year and every effort will be made to play the game.

If the game is played it will begin at 7:10 p. m. They will play four 4-minute quarters. The regular game between Santa Anna and Bangs will follow immediately.

The game with Bangs next week begins the second round of the double round-robin series. Thus far the local boys have gone undefeated in the season.

Those of you who enjoy good football by the small boys, are invited to attend each of their games.

Garden Club Gets Cemetery Roads Hard Surfaced

The Mountain City Garden Club would like to call attention to all cemetery lot owners and other citizens of Santa Anna to the work that has been done in the Santa Anna Cemetery in recent months.

The Garden Club's principal project is the beautification of the cemetery. During recent months they have got a lot of the streets hard surfaced. Garden Club funds have been used for this project, which has amounted to several hundred dollars. Much more work needs to be done, and the Garden Club is continuing this as their project for another year.

The club asks that anyone who would like to help in a financial way, to the beautification of the cemetery, to please leave your contributions at the Santa Anna National Bank or with Mrs. D. R. Hill, treasurer of the club. The work being done is a benefit to everyone who uses the cemetery. The club's funds have almost completely been used up on the project and they would appreciate any help given.

The club would also like to express their appreciation to Walter Holt, Precinct No. 2 Commissioner, and his employees, who have spread the gravel on the streets at no cost to the club.

Second Sunday Singing To Be Held Sunday Afternoon

The regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at the North Side Baptist Church Sunday, Oct. 12, beginning at 2:00 p. m. All singers of the area are invited to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. David Brock and Lisa and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Griffith and Gary of Fort Worth were visitors over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Price and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Campbell and Donnie.

Community Chest Drive Falling Short of Goal

Reports from the Precinct No. 2 Community Chest Wednesday morning indicate the drive has possibilities of falling short of the $3,000 goal set by the directors. Reports that have been turned in show only one rural area to have reached their goal.

There has been only four rural areas reported in, Mayo is the only one to reach the quota assigned them. Lester Newman, chairman of the Mayo drive, reported his area raised a total of $58.00. Their quota was $50.00. Other rural areas reporting are: Cleveland, $38.50; Red Bank, $20.10; and Shields, $152.06. All these areas are not complete reports as yet.

In Santa Anna the drive is also falling short of the intended goal. The drive is about $500 short on Wednesday morning. However all the Zones have not made complete reports yet, and one zone had not made any report. There is a possibility that Santa Anna will get close to the intended amount of $2,010.

Kenneth Bowker, general chairman of Santa Anna, wishes to express his appreciation to all the workers and to all those who contributed money to the drive. Bowker said the cooperation was excellent and he appreciated the opportunity to work with such a fine group.

A complete report on the drive will be carried next week.

AMERICANA Cities to See Baton Rouge—The Red Stick

Aerial View—Baton Rouge, La.

A TALL red cypress stripped of its bark once stood on the present site of Louisiana's Old State Capitol marking the boundary line between hunting grounds for the Houma and Bayou Goula Indians. Early French explorers gave the tree a name, "le baton rouge" (The Red Stick).

The town of Baton Rouge was incorporated in 1817. France, England, Spain, Louisiana, the Florida Republic, the Confederate States and the United States represent governments which once held sway over Baton Rouge.

Located on the first bluff north of the Gulf of Mexico, this Mississippi River city is today some 30 square miles in size and boasts 156,900 people.

Baton Rouge is the center of the chemical industry in the South. The original production of rubber from petroleum was started in Baton Rouge in the 30's and major industrial development has been interrelated with petroleum and chemicals. There are 150 industries in the city, giving employment to 19,000 persons.

Natural gas is used almost extensively as fuel for all purposes, there being seven gas fields in the vicinity. Baton Rouge is one of the important oil centers of the South, situated near some 20 oil fields. Chief among points of interest is the State Capitol. Rising majestically 450 feet on 27 acres of beautifully landscaped grounds, it is the tallest building and one of the most outstanding attractions in the South.

Baton Rouge is the home of Louisiana State University, which has an enrollment of 9,600 students and is located on a 300 acre campus with a $40,000,000 plant. A complete sugar refinery, which attracts students from all over the world, is among its facilities.

Baton Rouge is the farthest inland deep-water port on the Mississippi River, located 235 miles inland from the Gulf of Mexico. It is the second largest port in Louisiana and fast becoming one of the major ports of the nation. In 1956, the port handled 18,947,105 tons showing a 15 per cent increase over the previous year.

The Texas-Oklahoma game will be broadcast from Dallas by Kern Tips and Alec Chesser. Radio time will be 1:45 p. m. (CST) over KFJZ, Fort Worth-1270; WRR, Dallas-1310; KPRC, Houston-950; KRBC, Abilene-1470; KGKL, San Angelo-960; and several other stations.

The TCU-Texas Tech game will be broadcast from Fort Worth by Jim Wiggins and Jack Dale. Radio time will be 7:45 p.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I will be 65 in October, 1958, and should be eligible for social security benefits at that time. My wife, whom I married last year, will be 63 in the same month that I reach 65. Will she also be eligible for benefits?

A. She will have reached an eligible age, but the marriage must meet the three-year time requirement. For a wife to be eligible for benefits based on her husband's wage record, she must be age 62 or over, and have been married to her husband at least three years, unless a child is born of the marriage. In addition, the husband must be entitled to social security benefits.

Q. I have recently received disability benefit checks for July and August. I have been offered a job which I plan to accept, as the work is very light. Will I forfeit my entitlement to these checks if I return to work?

A. Not necessarily, but every person entitled to disability benefits under social security is required by law to report to the Social Security Administration if he returns to work, or if his physical condition improves. A determination is then made as to whether the person is still disabled.

Q. I am past 72 years of age and am receiving social security checks each month. A friend of mine tells me I must continue to pay self-employment tax for any year in which I have at least $400 net earnings from my farm. I think he is wrong, since I am past 72. Who is right?

A. Your friend is right, and you are wrong. The fact that you are past 72, or the fact that you are receiving social security benefit checks, does not affect in any way the requirement in the law that you must pay self-employment tax for any year in which your net earnings are $400 or more.

Central Colorado Soil Conservation District News

Progress in making final surveys on Mukewater watershed floodwater retaining structures has been stepped up recently. Heavy rains in other water sheds where construction is underway has made it possible to move in other survey crews. Field work is complete on sites 5, 6, 3 and 10 and is underway on sites 1, 2, 3, 7, and 9.

Excellent moisture conditions resulting from recent additional rainfall has caused numerous comments about the fine opportunity that exists to do some real soil improving with winter cover crops. Winter peas (Dixie Wonder or Austrian varieties) are in season from now until Nov. 30. Hal Martin, Triekham dairyman, reports he obtained a very profitable increase in oats yield following winter peas.

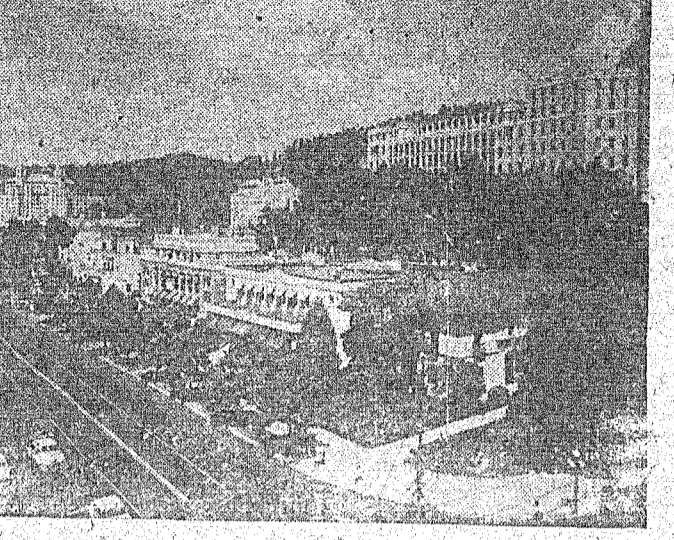

Winter peas fit into many combinations of use to benefit other crops. A few of these uses include (1) drilling broadcast in condition land where grass mixture will be seeded next spring; (2) planting in rows where cash row crops will follow and (3) drilling with oats as a mixture. The peas afford some grazing which will more than pay the planting cost. Planting rates are 10 to 12 pounds in rows and 20 to 25 pounds drilled broadcast. Inoculation immediately prior to planting is essential.

Additional fire protection for rural areas was recently made available through a four-way cooperative effort between the Central Colorado Soil Conservation District, Coleman County, Mrs. Clovis Taylor of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Russell of Ballinger, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Maness of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cozart of Whon, were other Sunday guests with Mrs. Johnson.

AMERICANA Cities to See

Hot Springs is 'America's Own Spa'

BATH HOUSE ROW—HOT SPRINGS, ARK.

Neglected in the Ouachitas, where lakes and mountains, forests and streams unite to form a vacation wonderland, is Hot Springs, Arkansas—'America's Own Spa.'

Hot Springs is truly America's own, for it belongs to the people. It is the only health resort in the nation where the natural hot waters which flow from the earth are owned, controlled and endorsed by the United States Government.

Located in the Ouachita Mountains of Southwestern Arkansas, Hot Springs is actually four resorts in one. It is a spa, a national park, a lakeside playground, and a mountain retreat.

Historically, the Hot Springs region was visited by Hernando De Soto in 1541; the area was included in land claimed for France by La Salle, 1682; included in region given Spain by France, 1762; became part of the United States with the Louisiana Purchase. The first spa treatment institution was erected in 1839 (previously hillside pools were used) and in 1832 President Andrew Jackson signed the bill that set aside the famous thermal springs.

The city and park are named for natural hot springs, from which flow one million gallons of steaming water each day at average temperature of 143 degrees Fahrenheit. The National Park Service of the United States Department of the Interior regulates the park and bath houses. There are hydrotherapy facilities in 18 pay bath houses. Eight are in the park at the base of Hot Springs Mountain, constituting what is known as 'Bath House Row,' and ten are located at various points in the city. Population-wise, the Chamber of Commerce says that Hot Springs has 49,811 in its resident area; but over three million visitors annually flock into the area.

Contrary to some opinion, Hot Springs National Park is not in the foothills of the Ozarks; it is in the Ouachita region. Arkansas has two major resort areas—the Ouachitas and the Ozarks and the Arkansas River divides the two. The Ouachita range is unique in being one of the few mountain ranges in America with ridges running east and west. All others run north and south. Highest range between the Rockies and Alleghenies.

Be Friendly and you'll Be Popular, Too

This teenage girl has a problem not unusual among the members of the younger set. She writes: "My real friends tell me I have the reputation of being a 'snob,' and I can't understand it. I am not 'uptight' at all. In fact, I am a bit shy and do not always know what to say and do when I am with people that I do not know very well."

Some teenagers who are shy and reserved look the part. Others cover it so well that their lack of "outward-ness" is taken by others to represent an attitude of indifference and unfriendliness.

Somewhere along the road of life, nearly all of us are "shy" at one time or another. A few go through life that way, always worrying and wondering, forever hesitant to put the best foot forward and get into the "thick of things." The short, snappy manner of some members of the older generation is actually a cover-up for a shy personality, something along the order of that old idea that "the best defense is a good offense."

Yet, life is never more fun for those who race along with their chin stuck out than it is for those who live too much in a shell. The smoother course lies somewhere in the middle ground.

The best asset for any occasion, whether among friends or total strangers, is a friendly smile. Wear a smile as regularly as you wear your shoes and you'll soon find that it becomes increasingly less difficult to "be yourself" on any given occasion.

Smile and you will earn the reputation for being friendly. Keep a cheery "hello" on the tip of your tongue and don't be hesitant to use it. Be interested in other people; what they do and the things they like—and you'll have no room in your thoughts for personal doubts or misgivings. You'll soon find that "being yourself" can be fun—if you are a friendly and cheerful person.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

Echoes From The Capitol City

BY MRS. A. L. ODER

Several Santa Anna women have written me, saying they want to know more about Austin and requesting me to keep up these articles about our Capitol City. I am getting about a lot and I think this is a most beautiful city. One of the things now being built is a very large municipal auditorium. Made round and entirely of glass, I don't know about the roof, it will seat several thousand people and will cost several million dollars. It will be great for big gatherings, maybe national and international.

A letter from my son, Paul, of Corpus Christi, who has been on the Highway Patrol for 22 years, writes he will be in Austin this week in connection with his work, and he will come to see me. He says he has been teaching accident investigation in two schools at the Corpus Christi office, for other department personnel. Accidents seem to increase regardless.

A nice letter from Mrs. Hardy Blue tells of her and Mrs. Norval Wylie's attending a Safety Conference here on Tuesday of last week, and they had planned to visit with me at least briefly. It was noon when they got here and a heavy rail fell in the early afternoon. So I didn't get to see them. Both are active and efficient members of the Santa Anna Self Culture Club and Mrs. Blue is a member of the Policy Committee of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Safety certainly fits in as a good policy.

The State of Texas is building a number of fine large buildings to house different units of the State Department. Naturally, these buildings are wanted near the Capitol building. One is now being built where a million dollar church stood. All the rock used in the fine old church came from the Sundberg Farm near Austin, and they are still selling rock from the farm. Their son and wife took the Herrings and me out to see the elder Sundbergs on Sunday afternoon. On their big farm, they have a big house and interesting things they brought from Sweden when they were young. He is now 91 and she 83, and both very alert. She had made apple and chocolate pies on Saturday and these were served us on Sunday afternoon, with coffee. I admire the Sundbergs.

Mrs. Blue writes me several new families have moved to Santa Anna and there is an increase in school enrollment. In mentioning some of our advantages last week, I left out our good churches and I left out our nice telephone exchange and our fine bank. Not many places can boast of fine mountains like ours. The fine silica sand obtained from the mountain adjoining Santa Anna on the north and being manufactured into usable products, furnishes a good pay roll. Our mountains are historical. We were told during the Texas Centennial that much of Texas was surveyed from the Santa Anna Mountains. I think that was parts west.

The Austin Statesman mentioned the victory on Friday night of the Santa Anna Mountaineers over the Cross Plains Buffaloes, when the game was played in the Buffalo Stadium.

I am getting a lot of very interesting cards and letters, which I very much appreciate. I am also writing a lot of cards and letters which may not be so interesting. I began writing for papers about 63 or 64 years ago, as a student in the Atlanta Female Seminary in East Texas.

I reported the weekly meetings of a club. The Athenian Society. The school authorities separated the boys and girls something like the sheep and the goats, thinking they would learn more. The experiment didn't last many years. Now they are back together.

MOMENTS OF REFLECTION

By Fran Pachter

THE house held a lonely neglected feeling for Tom Wayne upon his re-entry into it after leaving Ellie at the station. With Ellie gone it no longer gave off the air of being lived in and its cold immaculate condition irked him; he was surprised to find himself wishing for some visible sign of her presence.

Ellie was a take off and leave lay type of person, a habit that had fostered many a spat between them for the personified neatness both in appearance and habits. Ellie tried hard to live up to his desires but often fell short of satisfying. Funny, he thought, she had knocked herself out to leave their home to his liking before taking off to visit her mother, and here he was wishing for a sign of her untidiness that would bring a feeling of her being near. She smiled down at him from her picture on the mantel and her dark eyes held that special loving look that she reserved for him alone. The picture taken early in their marriage showed a girl glowing with happy anticipation at life itself, eager to meet it.

With a start he realized Ellie no longer smiled that way. A wry puzzled look lay about her mouth now and the eyes questioned. What have I done wrong now? Will Tom be pleased? The many incidents of criticism he had handed her returned to him. He had risen rapidly in position reaching a "keep up with the Jones" status.

The contrast between their early life and now presented quite a comparison. Their seven room colonial home expertly decorated and furnished, serviced by outside help was a far cry from the tiny cottage they had begun their marriage in. Recall of the crazy lamps they had bid on at an auction along with the odd pieces of furniture, cracked dishes, and appliances that wouldn't work seemed to belong to another world and other people. Quick on the heels of that came the thought that he and Ellie were no longer as they used to be.

Impelled by some inner desire, his feet led him upstairs to the attic and he stopped short in surprise to see that it held all their old things. Rummaging among the many items he felt separated from himself, drawn back into the past unwillingly. It was an odd feeling to experience sensations that belonged to the Tom of old. Spying the old tape recorder of ancient vintage, he plugged it in and heard the sound of Ellie's infectious laughter that had always held a contagion of cheer regardless of crisis. Ellie hadn't laughed like that in years and he felt a sick shame creep over him at the vivid reminder of why she no longer did. He had said bluntly, "Cut out that insane giggle and for heavens sake act a bit sophisticated. As my wife you are under careful scrutiny from my friends."

Ellie had obeyed alright. She had turned into a composite picture of a society woman, losing all traces of the girl he'd loved and married.

At that moment the telephone rang and he bounded downstairs to answer it. A cool businesslike stranger told him, "There has been a train accident and we think your wife might be one of the victims."

The phone slipped from his hands and he stood numbed trying to digest what he had heard. A key turned in the lock and the sound reached him. Ellie walked in. "Ellie!" His voice rose in a shrill scream.

"I had to come back and get the gift I was taking along," she said calmly.

"Ellie, you're safe. I do have a chance to make amends. Thank God for that." He looked down at her and said very humbly, "Can we recapture what I so carelessly threw away?"

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Colossians 3:14-17. For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office; so we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. (Romans 12:4-5.)

Last year Japanese youths were among those who attended the East Asian Journalism Seminary in Manila. One Sunday morning we went to church together. The language used was Pamango, one of the many dialects spoken in the Philippines.

At the worship service later on, the guests were requested to say a few words of greeting to the congregation.

One of the young men stood up and spoke in English. He said, "We have not understood much that has been spoken or sung here this morning, except two words: Christo and Amen. But those words have made us feel a deep sense of belonging. We have caught the message that we are all one body in Christ, and our hearts have echoed 'Amen'."

How wonderful that Christ binds together in the spirit of brotherhood all men who love Him! Difference of race, culture, and social class fall away; there is oneness in Christ!

PRAYER
Our Father, we thank Thee for the gift of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. We thank Thee that through Him all men can be one. Will Thou help us to feel that deep sense of belonging to Thee and to one another in Jesus' name? We ask it: Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
In Christ true hearts everywhere find fellowship.

Choose Friends You're Proud To Be With

DO parents have the right to be always concerned about the company their teenage children are keeping?

Indeed they do! And it is the unwise parent who does not concern himself with the type of friends that his son or daughter chooses.

Teenagers are not as impressed as are their elders about the importance of keeping good company. But, it is important. It is as important as eating good food. A proper diet is essential for the development of a sound, healthy body. The wrong kind of food, or not enough of the right kind, usually leads to trouble. By the same token, the type of company one keeps usually decides how that person gets along in life. Good companions will assure good, happy times. Bad companions are certain, sooner or later, to lead the way to the wrong kind of activities. Teenagers, for the most part, are intensely loyal. Loyalty is an excellent trait, but sometimes that teenager's fail to see the bad things that others see in their chosen friends; and oftentimes, when these faults are pointed out, they choose to ignore them, saying "I don't care what they say about Jack, he's never done anything to me, or anything like that when he's with me." It is commendable to stand up for a friend against the world. It is even courageous... but when the world is right, and the friend is wrong, it is a gesture of foolishness, not friendship.

There are few teenagers who do not know it when they keep the wrong kind of company. But the thing that they often do not realize is that there is much truth in the old saying about "how the twig is bent" and what "one bad apple" can do in a barrel of good ones.

Our bright, alert teenagers are not like apples, it's true. But, despite the fact that association with the "right" teenagers can often turn a boy or girl headed in the wrong direction back to the road that will lead to a healthy, useful life, the choosing of friends and the exercising of "loyalty" to a friend gone wrong should always be considered most serious matters.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

for extra point was missed as Vaughn went wide around left end. On the Kickoff, Ray had his hands on the ball two times but couldn't hold it. The Buffs recovered the fumble on the Mountaineer 11-yard line. One play gained 2 yards, another failed to gain, the next lost two yards and their fourth down try gained back the two lost yards, with the Mountaineers taking the ball on their 9-yard line. The Mountaineers punted to their 42-yard line with a 5-yard runback. On the next play the Mountaineers received another 15-yard penalty that put the Buffs on their 21-yard line. They gained 6 yards, to the Mountaineer 25-yard line as the quarter ended.

The Buffaloes made a first down and then gained to the Mountaineer 8-yard line before the Mountaineer defense finally got to working. On their 4th down attempt, the Buffs had lost back to the Mountaineer 13-yard line. The Mountaineers gained to their 18-yard line in 3 tries and punted to their 39-yard line. A 5-yard penalty put the Buffs back on the Mountaineer 44-yard line, then they gained to the 34-yard line, then lost back to the 40, then gained a first down and on down to the Mountaineer 24-yard line. A 15-yard penalty for the Buffs set them back to the Mountaineer 39-yard line. Using up their 4 downs, the Buffs gained back to the Mountaineer 24-yard line. The Mountaineers picked up 9 yards, lost 5, then picked up a first down on their 34-yard line, two plays gained to their 42-yard line then a 15-yard penalty for the Buffs put the ball on the Buffalo 40-yard line. On the last play of the game the Mountaineers lost two yards.

Final score was 8 to 6 for the Mountaineers in one of the most exciting games played this year by the Mountaineers.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Travel and transportation expenses have been a big subject of conversation between tax men and business travelers during the past year. The Internal Revenue Service has always made thousands of audits of traveling men's expenses each year. The Service takes a dim view of personal vacations and non-business travel being charged off of the taxpayer's income tax as a business expense. If you should keep a careful record of your expenses. This record may come in handy for discussion purposes when the Internal Revenue Agent calls.

Adventures in ADVERTISING

THE FANTASTIC STORY of MUSA-SHIYA THE SHIRTMAKER

(Also Sometimes Drygoods Selling)

If the shipping department of a factory had not made an error, the world would never have known of Musa-shiya the Shirtmaker and the most astounding advertising campaign in history would never have been launched.

Following World War I an English textile factory was getting back on a peacetime basis. In error it sent a full five year backorder of shirting material to Musa-shiya, a Japanese shirtmaker who operated a small shop in Honolulu. Business was poor and Musa-shiya was near bankruptcy, when the customs office informed him that certain bales of cloth and a fat bill for duties awaited his pleasure at the port of Honolulu.

When the little shirtmaker realized what had descended upon him, he asked for time and went into the silence for purpose of mental refreshment. Remembering a friend in a big mercantile establishment, he hid himself there and sought counsel. How in the name of the horned prophet of evil was he ever to get rid of all that English shirting? And in the meantime where was he to put it? His little box of a shop wouldn't hold one bale.

"You'll have to advertise," advised his friend. "Leave it to me. I'll have our advertising agents help you out."

This merely compounded the little Japanese shirtmaker's troubles. Advertising to him was an uncharted sea. The advertising agent called on Musa-shiya and suggested $300 as a modest starter. "Too-o-o much. Maybe I think thirty dollar plenty," said the shirtmaker. He was told that wouldn't even get him in print. The agent explained the costs of various advertisements and finally Musa-shiya agreed to try the plan and what was destined to be the most astounding and far reaching campaign in the history of advertising was launched.

Two column by five inch ads then started appearing regularly in the Saturday Honolulu Star-Bulletin. The ads were written just the way Musa-shiya talked—in colorful pidgin English which is used throughout the Orient. Here is an example of one of Musa-shiya's ads:

"Well here come storek again—but Musa-shiya, the shirtmaker, is able prepare. Wonderful accumulation of baby things in dry goods selling corner of Musa shop. Everything for the baby—especially diaper. Exclusive of storek, which find most easily, many persons not finding little shop of Musa-shiya the shirtmaker in King Street, Makai side, between fish market and river."

Tourists started sending copies of Musa-shiya's ads to their friends in many countries. Soon Musa-shiya was receiving orders from all over the world as well as doing a thriving business in Hawaii.

And that is the story of how a well planned, small advertising campaign made an unknown Japanese shirtmaker not only wealthy but world famous.

Your local newspaper doesn't promise to duplicate this story for its advertisers, but it does take your sales message into the homes of your customers where full and careful consideration is given your suggestions. Who knows, perhaps you too can be a Musa-shiya.
