Burnett Has Great Faith in Cotton on the Plains—Lives at Dumas

O. B. Burnett of Dumas was here Friday attending the judging contest. Mr. Burnett may be called the father of cotton in the Panhandle as he started in the business in 1893 and raised the first bale in Hall county, which is one of the largest cotton producing counties in this section now.

Mr. Burnett is now living at Dumas and has introduced cotton in that section. He states that cotton is very satisfactory around Dumas and believes that it will be a great thing for Randall county.

DUMPED TRASH ALONG ROAD

A big load of trash was dumped on the road south of the high school building during the past few nights. The dumping was within the city limits, which is a fine offense, and also along a public road which is another fine offense.

The city maintains a dumping lot north of town, and people are expected to take their trash to this ground or have the city wagon take the trash out there.

ED SHAMBAUGH MARRIED

Ed Shambaugh was married Feb. 3 at Nara Vista, N. M., to Miss Regan, who has been a teacher of domestic science in the high school of that place. The bride and groom visited last week in the city at the home of J. B. Gamble.

Ed has been associated with Mr. Gamble in the cattle business for the past few years and is well known to many Canyon people who extend most hearty congratulations.

NEFF SIGNS SCHOOL BILL.

Governor Neff has signed the appropriation bill of $3,000,000 which was passed by the legislature to supplement the $10 apportionment made last fall for this school year. This will bring the apportionment up to about $18 for the year.

More Water Wasted Than Used by Average Family in the City

T. C. Thompson stated Monday that he believed many families in Canyon allowed more water to be wasted than they used during the year through small leaks in the plumbing.

Mr. Thompson has a chart showing the vast amount of water that may escape through different kinds of leaks in the pipe.

A drop per second from a hydrant is equal to more than 2,000 gallons per month.

A hole the size of a pin will allow more than 6,000 gallons of water to escape.

A 1-16th inch hole will allow more than 24,000 gallons of water to escape during the month.

Of course the larger the opening, the faster the water escapes, and the greater is the cost in dollars and cents.

Mr. Thompson suggests that should your water bill be larger than you anticipated to have your plumbing very carefully examined. Several cases of this kind have been investigated in Canyon during the past few months and leakages have been discovered which were costing the consumers $2 to $3 per month. The cost for fixing the leakage did not amount to more than $3.

Baptist Likely to Get Aid Next Year on a New Church in City

Rev. D. R. Graham, treasurer of the State Baptist Mission Board, was in Canyon last Thursday and spent the day in going into the needs of the local Baptist church. Rev. Graham was called here with a view of getting aid for the local congregation in the building of a new church to assist the local congregation in caring for the large number of Baptist students who are attending the Normal.

Rev. Graham was highly impressed with the needs of the churches of Canyon and stated that his board would take up the matter of aid next year when money would be available.

RAILS DEFEAT SANDIES.

The Amarillo high school Sandies were defeated in basketball at Plainview Saturday in the bi-district championship tournament. Amarillo was the winning in the district meet in Canyon last week, and Ralls in the district meet held at Lubbock.

Ralls will now go to the state meet at Austin.

W. E. Lockhart of the Normal was the referee for the three games.

VESTER NAMED JANITOR.

J. C. Vester was elected janitor at the public school building Saturday afternoon to take the place of W. D. Whiddon, who is moving to Donley county.

Joe Gamble Get 1070 Head of Cows from Famous Dana Herd

J. B. Gamble has just trailed in from Union county, N. M., 1070 head of high grade Hereford cows bought of Holway & Norward. These cattle originally came from the Dana herd of cattle out of Wyoming where Mr. Dana used to supply bulls for the northwest trade. They were brought to New Mexico a few years ago for grass on account of the drought, and have never been returned to Wyoming.

Mr. Gamble intends to hold these cows here as a breeding herd to supply feeder calves for his Iowa and Illinois customers.

Buffaloes Will End Season With Two Games With Roswell Cadets

The Buffalo eagles will wind up the basketball season Friday and Saturday nights with two games with the New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell. The Cadets are on a trip to Wayland, Canyon and Clarendon. The Cadets have already lost two games to Wayland.

The boys and girls from Ft. Sumner high school will be here Friday afternoon for games with the Normal girls and with the Yearling boys.

SERIES OF MEETING COUNTY SCHOOLS PLANS OF PHILLIPS

DAIRY, POULTRY AND HOG WILL BE THE FEATURE.

Meetings Will be Held at All School Houses Where Requests Are Made by Agriculture Dept. of Normal.

Frank R. Phillips, head of the agricultural department of the Normal, announced yesterday that a series of meetings over Randall county was being planned by his department to start within two or three weeks.

The meetings will consist of a demonstration in various ways of dairying, hog raising and poultry raising. The meetings will be practical in every way.

Mr. Phillips states that this campaign is the result of the special farmers meeting that are being held at the court house very Wednesday afternoon, and the desire to take to the farmers who cannot attend these meetings the good information that has been given in these farmers' meetings.

Large charts have been procured to cover statistics upon the questions of dairying, hog raising and poultry raising.

Incubators and brooders will be taken on the trip, as well as a Babcock tester and other things for demonstration. Farmers will be asked to bring milk for testing.

It will likely be impossible to cover all of the county in this trip, and those schools and communities which desire this work should write to or see Mr. Phillips for dates.

Pouring Concrete for School Building Foundation Starts Today

Material of all kinds is coming for the new high school building.

Practically all of the work on the foundation trenches was completed Tuesday and the reinforcement rods placed yesterday.

E. F. Rittenberry, architect, was here Tuesday evening and inspected the foundation trenches. He will come down this morning to inspect the reinforcement irons and will remain on the job while the concrete is being run for the foundations.

Brick is now in transit, and will arrive by the time the foundation is ready for the wall construction.

MCCANNE TRADES LAND

O. E. McCanne has traded the 298 acre farm south of the city on a deal for 2000 acres in Donley county, and the family left this week for their new home. H. T. Whiddon and family are going with Mr. McCanne to the Donley county land.

The McCanne family came here last year from Dumas. They are among the most enterprising in Randall county, and the people generally regret very much to see them leave.

Jas. L. Smith of Donley county gets the Foster place from Mr. McCanne and is moving his family here this week.

Rain Yesterday and Last Night Breaks the Long Dry Spell

Rain started to fall yesterday morning and continued throughout the afternoon and night, with a slow steady fall.

Snow fell during the early part of last night, but was melted by the rain this morning.

Rain still continues to fall this morning and everything looks favorable for a general rain.

PAVING WILL START.

Everything is in readiness to start laying brick on East Houston street. The natural foundation was worked up during the past week, and the steam roller is here ready to start on the job as soon as the weather clears.

More brick is on the way, and the contractors believe that the work will not be halted by further delays.

INCOME TAX MAN COMING

Founders Day Observed Saturday at Chapel Period of the Normal

The thirteenth anniversary of breaking ground for the first Normal building was observed Saturday morning at the chapel exercises. Prof. B. A. Stafford paid a tribute to the founding of the institution. He traced the development of the school and the influences that it had in this section of the state.

Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell discussed the need for a closer relationship between the city and rural life. His address was a part of the program that was prepared for the stockmen and farmers who had gathered for the stock judging contest.

Proposals Will be Asked to Transport Children to the City School

At the meeting of the trustees of the Canyon City Independent School District Saturday afternoon it was decided to ask for proposals for the transportation of the children in districts No. 2 and 18 to the city schools next year. These districts were consolidated with the independent school district last year, and the schools have been run this year as ward schools.

Proposals will be asked from men to furnish two trucks suitable for conveyance to the city schools and to furnish drivers for the two trucks.

On investigating the question, it has been found that this arrangement is used in many districts, and to greater satisfaction than in cases where the districts own the trucks and employ the drivers.

Buffalo Baseball Team Prospects Are Being Lined Up

The batterymen who expect to try for places on the West Texas State Normal College Buffalo baseball squad started working out Thursday afternoon limbering up their arms. Only light practice work will be done for the next two weeks. So far only two likely catchers have reported. Johnson, veteran of two years, and Gordon, a member of the Yearling string last year, both look to be in good form for the work. About eight pitchers have reported but among them are only two veterans. Graves and Whitacre will probably be the mainstays of Coach Burton's pitching staff, unless some of the new material proves to be of real worth.

Coach Burton states that a very hard schedule is being planned for the Buffaloes. However, he has only one road trip planned, but it is a hard one. The trip will take the herd over several hundred miles and includes games with some of the best Texas schools.

The games so far scheduled: May 7-8, Simmons College at Abilene; May 9-10, John Tarleton at Stephenville; May 11-12, East Texas State Normal at Commerce; May 14-15, Trinity University at Waxahatchie; May 16-17, Austin College at Sherman.

PANHANDLE-PLAINS HISTORICAL SOCIETY IN ANNUAL MEETING HEARS STORIES FROM THE EARLY SETTLERS

STORIES OF INDIAN FIGHT, BUFFALO HUNTERS, EARLY RANCH LIFE ON T-ANCHOR AND EARLY DAYS IN THIS CITY ARE TOLD.

Forty members of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society gathered Thursday afternoon in business session at the Normal, and at six o'clock enjoyed a banquet given by the home economics department.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

T. F. Turner, of Amarillo, president. T. M. Clark, Canyon, first vice pres. Mrs. Olive E. Dixon, Miami, second vice president. Miss Margaret Boulware, Canyon, recording secretary. Miss Hattie M. Anderson, Canyon, corresponding secretary. C. R. Burrow, Canyon, treasurer. Miss Tennessee Malone, Canyon, custodian.

After the business session the banquet was served in the home economics dining room. Music was furnished by the college orchestra.

Prof. T. M. Clark presided at the banquet, and introduced the first speaker, Judge L. Gough, former of Hereford, but now of Amarillo. Mr. Gough explained that it was not his intention to make a set speech on the early days, by merely to recite incidents of the early day as they came to him.

Ranching on T-Anchor

Mr. Gough spoke on the subject "Ranching on the T-Anchor." This ranch was located in Randall and surrounding counties, and the old headquarters is now the J. L. Prichard home north of the city. Mr. Gough stated that when he came in 1882, this was the only house in Randall and Deaf Smith counties. There were only half a dozen headquarters spread over the entire Panhandle. There was a dugout in Deaf Smith county, east of the present location of Hereford, and another dugout about ten miles east of where Tulsa now stands. The only settlement was about 25 miles south of Ft. Dodge, Kansas, where there were possibly ten families. Henrietta was the farthest town west. Ft. Dodge was the closest town and shipping point.

First Child Born

The old ranch headquarters were built in 1878 by Dyer Bros., brothers of Mrs. Chas. Goodnight. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Truby were in charge of the headquarters in 1882 when Mr. Gough came here. Truby was an early buffalo hunter. In 1876 he had a camp dugout just above the site of the headquarters, at a point below the bridge on the highway in Spring Branch. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Truby in this dugout, and he was named Hank after Hank Smith of Crosbyton. In the summer of 1882 a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Truby, which died and was buried near the old ranch house by the side of a boy who had been killed when a cutting horse fell with him. This boy was Jimmie Graves. Mr. Gough thinks these graves ought to be dug out and marked as being the first known white people to have died in Randall county.

Literary Genius

Judge Gough told many interesting experiences of the early day and the men of the early day and recalled the

Revival Meeting Closed Sunday Night With 400 Men in Attendance

The revival meeting at the Methodist church closed Sunday night with a great meeting for the men of the town and community. Practically every seat in the church was taken for this service by men. The women attended church at the Baptist church.

Rev. J. W. Hunt left Sunday night for his home at Abilene. He is one of the best preachers who has ever held a service in Canyon. He does not use the common practices of the professional evangelist, and the results of his meeting here will be permanent and highly beneficial to the churches of Canyon.

From present indications the business of the term will not be very heavy.

MEETING OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY

story of Bud Wallace in 1883 when it was reported he was going into the Indian country. Bud had a girl who was more or less interested in his welfare and wrote him to be very careful and not get killed by the Indians as he was "the perk and beans of my soul, and the roasting ears of my heart."

The first political convention held in Randall county was in 1882. The county was attached to Montague county. Important laws were coming up in the legislature. Jewell Gunter was interested in electing A. L. Matlock to the senate. Gunter was chairman of the convention, and Vas Stickley was secretary. Stickley is now of Canadian. Matlock was elected.

Buffalo Captured

In the summer of 1882 Jeff Thompson in the L.N. roundup struck some Buffalo on the canyons east of Tula and managed to rope two of them, which were brought to the T-Anchor headquarters and traded to Gunter for a pair of boots. Gunter gave them to Mrs. Goodnight. Mr. Gough asked those interested in tracing ancestry to find the relation of these two Buffaloes of 1882 to the two mascots the Normal now possesses.

Mr. Gough recalled the incident of the summer of 1882 when there was a great roundup to cut out the beef cattle from the stock cattle as it was very dry and Gunter wanted to move the beef cattle to save the grass for the stock cattle. Sixteen men with 125 horses made the roundup near the Tule canyon. The cattle were rounded up and it took just one hour to ride around the herd. Starting the herd to the ranch headquarters, there was a gate 18 miles from the canyon where the roundup was made. When the first of the cows reached the gate, the last were leaving the roundup headquarters.

10,652 Cattle in Herd

Gunter and Stickley counted the herd as it passed through the gate. They started in at two o'clock and the last animal went through at sundown on the summer afternoon. The men counted 10,652 head of cattle. It was the biggest herd ever driven over the plains, or any place else so far as Mr. Gough has been able to ascertain.

When the herd reached the present site of Canyon, 2,050 head of beef cattle were cut out and started to market at Dodge City in charge of eight men, two pointers, leading the way, two each on the swing, flank and to keep up the drags. Mr. Gough told of his experience in a sampede on that trip during an electrical storm, when the electricity played over the horns of the cattle and on the horses; of the bitter cold from the early autumn rain.

Known as "Parson"

Mr. Gough, known as "the Parson" was not lucky enough to get to Dodge City. He had to stay at Crooked Creek with the extra horses when a little way from the city, and he told of his experience in accompanying a young lady to her ranch home after she had been to Dodge City to market. She had two valises, one of which the Parson had to carry. His horse became unmanageable and spilled the contents. Mr. Gough stated that it was the first time he ever knew so many things could be packed into one of these old fashioned valises, and it was the first time he ever knew a woman possessed so many different kinds of clothing. He had to repack the valise. This young woman was the cause of making some more Randall county history. Mr. Gough had given her one of the well known mounts of the outfit which went by the name of Old Guts. The young woman insisted in knowing the name of the horse. In his great confusion, the young "Parson" admitted that he thought the boys called him Old Bowels. The horse went by that name the rest of his life, and Mr. Gough is the target of many a joke from the old cow punchers whenever they get together.

18-inch Snow

On the 18th of November, 1882, there was an 18 inch snow. A bunch of men had gone to the canyons to get out posts of a "little 25,000 acre horse pasture." Provisions were taken to make the trip. The wagons were loaded with posts and the horses hitched ready for the return. The snow fell and the men stayed a week until horse feed and provisions were about to run out, when they decided that they must start back to headquarters. By the time the wagons pulled in, each had only about twenty-five posts.

Mr. Gough stated that the men did not think of the many hardships they were called upon to endure. There was no such a thing as an eight-hour day. They kept on the job until they were through.

Foresaw Great Possibilities

Mr. Gough stated that in 1883 the men were all gathered in camp and were discussing the possibilities of this country. Naturally most of them thought it would always remain a cow country. T. S. McClelland made the prophecy that one day this section would be the granary of the whole United States. There was at that time not a single wheat field within 300 miles. Kaffir had not been introduced. Milo maize had just been introduced.

McClelland and another man soon after left the outfit and started into the work of capturing mustangs and driving them east for sale. They built a large corral near the canyons. They would follow the herd of mustangs for days until the animals were forced to water and feed and were not so cautious of the corral. At one time a herd of 300 was captured, after the men had followed them for 21 days and nights.

Judge Gough gave the steps of evolution of the Plains: The Indians; the buffalo hunters; the cow boys; civilization—if we chose to called present society civilization.

Mr. Gough stated that he was very highly interested in the Historical Society, and was glad to contribute whatever he can to the upbuilding of the Society, and to the gathering of early historical data.

Mrs. Olive Dixon Speaks.

Mrs. Olive Dixon of Miami was a very interesting speaker at the banquet. She told of the visit of three of the men who had fought with her husband, Billy Dixon, at Adobe Walls, of the 28 men in that fight, there were only six alive when Mr. Dixon died a few years ago. Three of these men, Tom Stauch, Andy Johnson and Brick Bond of Dodge City made a visit to Adobe Walls last fall and came to visit Mrs. Dixon at her home in Miami.

These men had returned to visit the spot of this famous fight after these long years. The battle was in 1872. Stauch and Johnson were in the fight; Bond was a buffalo skinner and was not there at the time.

Relics From Adobe

After the fight these men gathered up a large number of relics and took them to Dodge City where they disposed of them. They kept but little to recalled the famous experience.

Stauch has been greatly interested in the Kansas Historical Society and has given all his relics to this Society. Mr. Johnson brought with him three relics of the battle. Mrs. Dixon very carefully explained to him the aims of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, and the way the relics were cared for at the Normal. After he had heard Mrs. Dixon explain this society, Johnson stated that since she had treated the visitors so nicely he would give the society these three relics. The first is the handle of an Indian spear; the second, is a solid silver arm band taken from a dead Indian; piece of a scarf taken from a dead Indian.

The members of the society by vote extended to Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Dixon a vote of thanks for the gift of the relics and the interest shown in the Historical Society.

50th Anniversary of Fight.

Mrs. Dixon stated that June 24, 1924, would be the 50th anniversary of the Adobe Wall battle. She is interested in seeing the event commemorated on that date. The Historical Society voted to give every assistance possible to make a great event of this day. The anniversary will be observed upon the scene of the battle. A move was started during the past year to have the body of Billy Dixon which now lies at Texline, to be removed to Adobe Wall, by the side of the five who were killed during the Indian raids—the two Shalder boys, Tyler, Olds and Huffman. Adobe is in Hutchinson county. It has been the purpose to get a highway established to the spot and a tourists camp.

ing ground established that this place, Miami, Panhandle and Canadian are the cities discussing the proposition. It will be necessary to build a bridge over the Canadian before the project will be a success.

C. R. Burrow Tells of Canyon.

C. R. Burrow was on the program to tell of the early days in Canyon. He stated that he felt like a tender foot after listening to Judge Gough and Mrs. Dixon. He has lived here for 24 years.

Mr. Burrow first rode into Canyon from Amarillo on a beer wagon in 1890. He didn't like the looks of things and returned to Amarillo, but came back to make his home later in the same year.

Facts Regarding Canyon

Mr. Burrow related a number of the early settlers of Randall County. R. E. Baird is the oldest settler now in the county coming in 1883. W. F. Heller was the first farmer in the county. The cattle men did not like to see the farmer coming, and tried to run Mr. Heller off, but he didn't run, and is now one of our most respected citizens.

Coming of the Church.

The court house was the social center of that time, and was used for all purposes, including church and Sunday School. There were 300 people in the town, 5 saloons and a few grocery stores.

Mr. Burrow stated that his first experience with the early preachers was with the Methodist circuit rider. He recalled the coming of the first preacher to the old T-Anchor headquarters. The cowboys were not especially fond of the idea of religion. The preacher showed up while the men were out, and reported to the cook. The cook conveyed the news of his visitor to the first man to come in. The man was not well pleased and threatened to get rid of the preacher. He entered the building and started a rough house, cursing everything the cook sat on the table before himself and the preacher. He threw the spoons on the floor and whipped out his .45 and stirred his coffee. The preacher had sat quietly taking in the show. As the cow puncher laid his gun on the table, the parson drawled out: "Well, pad, loan me your spoon," and proceeded to stir his coffee calmly with the .45. The parson became a fast friend with every man in the outfit.

Railroad Due to Hutson

The county was organized in 1887. The railroad came nine years later. It was more by accident than design that the railroad came. The Santa Fe intended to go from Amarillo to U-marger. John Hutson was manager of the Cedar Valley Land and Cattle Company and a friend of a construction engineer, whom he influenced to bring the survey through Canyon. The engineer was fired for his trouble. Canyon owes the railroad to the influence of John Hutson.

Mr. Burrow states that Canyon had more business at that time than it has now, as this was the wholesale point for the entire south Plains. Freight wagon ran from Tulsa; Plainview, Lubbock, Crosbyton and all other towns to the south. Canyon at this time was the largest cattle shipping point in the world.

Coming of the Normal

Mr. Burrow explained the social life of the time as rather "dry grazing." The life was not all pleasure.

The coming of the Normal saw a great difference in the life of the town. Business is not so brisk as in the freighting days, but it is highly more satisfactory. Mr. Burrow expressed himself as highly pleased with the influence made by the school. Very few citizens realize what the school means to the town and the influence it has had.

Dave Thomas and T. V. Reeves were introduced as being among the early settlers of the county.

President Hill's Offer

President J. A. Hill stated that he was highly pleased with the results that had been accomplished by the Historical Society, but it appeared to him that money was the thing most needed right now that the work could be pushed. This kind of work cannot wait ten years. The old pioneers must be seen at once as they are rapidly passing. Mr. Hill stated that the College would match every dollar raised by the members, in an effort to raise $1000 this year.

Mr. Hill wants every pioneer to have a chance to tell the story of his early life. Twenty-five years from now historians will fight for this manuscript.

Mrs. Dixon was appointed a few months ago to get some of these interviews and reported upon her great pleasure in going to the home of Col. Chas. Goodnight last fall and the story she got from his lips, which was taken by a stenographer.

LUBBOCK WINS STOCK JUDGING

Interestingly discussed the three Holstein and three Jersey cows which were judged during the day, and told the boys his reasons for the placings that he made on the cows. He highly complimented the boys upon their work in judging. He believed that this section was destined to be one of the greatest in the United States. Great feed crops are possible in the Panhandle. A machine was needed to convert this feed into something that can be profitably sold at a profit to the farmer. The dairy cow was the answer.

S. C. Evans of A. M. College, in charge of the boys' club work, was judge of the hogs in the show, and discussed with the boys the three classes shown, Durocs, Poland Chinas and the fat barrows. He stated that the boys had little trouble with the first six hogs, but fell down upon the three in the fat barrow class. Mr. Evans encouraged the boys to go home and work hard for the Ft. Worth stock show, and to come back to the judging contest in Canyon next year.

John Burns, secretary of the Texas Hereford Breeders Association believes that cattle are to stage a come-back as to price, and will be stronger than ever. He believes that the Panhandle can produce as good cattle as any part of the world. All that is needed is a little cooperation, organization and publicity and the breeders of Texas will buy in Texas rather than send away for something not so good.

He complimented the boys on their work in judging. He stated that two things were necessary to be a good judge: First, to see straight; to see the thing as it really exists, and second, after seeing, being able to balance up the points and rate the findings. There is always a difference of opinion, even among good judges. The best judge pleases himself with his findings.

Mr. Burns talked to the boys about the future of the Panhandle country. He believes in it. The boys of today will be the men in the saddle tomorrow. He urged that judging be practiced upon every animal the boys met.

President J. A. Hill was introduced and stated his great appreciation in having the 57 boys as guests of the College through the two days. Of the boys present, 44 were in the high school grades, thirteen towns being represented.

President Hill pointed out to the boys that the more brains that were mixed with agriculture, the greater would be the results. The boys who are in school will have an edge upon the fellows who do not take the kind of work taken by these boys.

Mr. Hill plead that the citizens of Texas enlighten themselves upon the business of the state. People are apparently indifferent as to the business of the state.

Mr. Hill called attention to the wide spread movement in Texas of protest against taxes. That is one side. On the other side is the fact that hundreds and hundreds of schools in Texas today are closed for lack of funds. Fifty percent of the children of Texas are in rural schools. Too large a percent of these rural schools have incompetent teachers. Mr. Hill was glad to say the Panhandle had the best rural schools in Texas. The effect of lowering taxes, and hence salaries, will be the loss to the teaching profession of the best teachers. Many of the remaining will be wholly incompetent.

Mr. Hill stated that the University of Texas needed $5,000,000 for permanent buildings. The University is great in spite of its shacks. The A. & M. College has better buildings, and is one of the best colleges in the United States. C. I. A. is well equipped, but needs more. The Normals of Texas get only the crumbs. The West Texas State Normal College now needs a half million dollars in buildings to care for the students.

Yet in face of these conditions every club in Texas is protesting against taxes. Schools cannot be built and revenues cut off. Mr. Hill believes that fully three-fifths of the wealth of Texas is paying no taxes. If all property was taxed alike there would be no need of increasing taxes, and the rates could possibly be decreased. Selfish interests are protesting. Every farmer and producer should be interested in seeing a just revision of taxes. Austin is flooded with lobbyists against tax reforms and new sources of taxation. The people should interest themselves in this matter and see that all property is justly and equitably taxed. No country has ever taxed itself to death for education.

Saturday was spent in visiting the various departments of the Normal, and sectional meetings were held, which were largely attended by the visiting boys and farmers who came to join in the meeting for the last day.

YOU DON'T AGREE? WHY NOT?

The man who sets out to please everybody will end by pleasing no one, least of all himself. The newspaper or magazine that sets out to chronicle the neglected truth will discover as much partisanship among those who are demanding "the truth" as among any other class. Most people want to hear and read the things they agree with; the thing that does not fit into their system is "a betrayal of the truth." It is a good rule to read something you are not likely to agree with, that is opposed to the system you hold; its benefits is like that of the wind to the trees—tossing the mind by a contrary opinion will root it more deeply. It is scarcely possible to know why you hold a present opinion until you know why you reject its opposite. —Dearborn Independent.

Buck: Can you give the definition of an orator?

Private: Sure. He's the fellow that's always ready to lay down your life for his country. —American Legion Weekly.

Try a new stunt. Take an hour off some day and spend it in wandering around town. Go in every direction, on every street, through all of the alleys and byways. If an hour will not suffice, take two, or a half a dozen. Take a note book and pencil along, and when you see something that is not as it should be, jot it down. Then follow the criticism in each case, note what you consider to be the proper corrective measures. Then go home, study your notes carefully, and be amazed at what others have failed to do. And to be perfectly consistent, give your own property the once-over—and then again. You may even be chagrined at what your own eyes have failed to see. We seldom see our own faults and defects until others have seen and commented upon them.—Paducah Post.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR PRINTING
Radio is about fifteen years old; the telephone is about forty years old; the telegraph is about sixty. All are methods of instantaneous communication, but none of them has shown any signs of displacing Printing.

The typewriter is just fifty years old; the multigraph is much younger. Both are methods of communication on paper, but instead of displacing real Printing, they have simply increased the demand for it.

The railroad displaced the ox-cart; the automobile has already made a big dent in the railroad; perhaps the flying machine will do something to the automobile. But Printing, which is older than any of the things just mentioned, goes on better than ever because it is fundamental to every business and to almost every human pursuit. Art, science and industry depend upon it, literature could not exist without it, and advertising, which is the literature of business was created by it.

In four and a half centuries the methods, and technique and the auxiliaries of Printing have been improved and elaborated, but the base of the craft—type and presses—still hold to the original ideas. You may look and wait, but as yet there is no sign of a substitute for real Printing.—Ward's Words.

AT THE CHURCH OF CHRIST
Evangelist John Straiton of Fort Worth is now in Amarillo on business and the Church of Canyon has taken advantage of the opportunity of having him preach for us. Next Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock Bro. Straiton will preach at the Church of Christ, just north of the Episcopal Church. Bro. Straiton has proven himself a very capable man in the ministry, having had many years of experience in mission work both in the States and abroad. He comes to us well recommended by the Amarillo church and also by those who heard him when he preached here once before. Do not make a mistake by failing to hear him.

ACCREDITED HERDS IN TUBERCULAR WORK

Dr. R. H. Harrison, representing the State Live Stock Sanitary Board of Texas, and Dr. F. H. Moore, representing the U. S. D. A., are spending this week in Randall county testing the herds which have been signed up for tubercular elimination. Fourteen herds in this county are under the process of accreditation. This is co-operative testing carried on between the federal government and the state. The work is financed by the two agencies until the herd is accredited. For a herd to become accredited it is necessary for the herd to pass two annual tests or three semi-annual tests.

In speaking about the work in this county, Dr. Harrison and Dr. Moore said that they were well pleased with the co-operation they have received from the herd owners and that all the owners have been anxious to clean their herds of tuberculosis and are using every possible method to assist in this important work. They further state that the county agent in this county has a larger per cent of his breeders interested in this work than any other agent in this part of the state. Any one interested in this work should make application to the Live Stock Sanitary Commission at Fort Worth.

A new form of life belt which supports the head of the wearer clear of the water is a great improvement over the old form of belt. Women of hysterical tendencies and old people sometimes collapse the minute they find themselves in the water. In the case the head falls forward or backward, the mouth is open, and they drown at once. The new type of belt would prevent their drowning while unconscious.

God give us men! A time like this demands

Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands;

Men whom the lust of office does not kill;

Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;

Men who possess opinions and a will;

Men who have honor—men who will not lie;

Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog

In public duty, and in private thinking;

Their large professions, and their little deeds,

Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps!

HUGE INCUBATOR STARTS FIRST HATCH LAST WEEK

Floydada is keeping to the front in the advancement of poultry raising which is rapidly becoming one of the most-valued industries on the plains. Several large incubators and brooders have been installed here during the past few months.

One of the largest incubators in Floydada and the south plains was completed by L. A. Marshall and put into operation the latter part of last week.

The incubator is home made and has a capacity for 16,120 eggs. The hatcher has several original features. The air and moisture are controlled by special apparatus that makes a certain desired temperature that is said to be very favorable for hatching strong chicks. The moisture is controlled by a thermometer which indicates the exact amount of moisture in the hatcher.

Hot water is used in the heat generation and is controlled by a device that is of home invention.

Another noteworthy feature is the fact that new settings can be placed in the hatcher at any time desired, thus making one continuous hatching.

Oil and electricity are used in the heat generating and distributing systems. The plant is located in the basement of his residence.

Mr. Marshall stated that he planned to have a community hatchery that would be of value and service to every poultry raiser in the county.

J. L. Landrum also has a large incubator of several thousand egg capacity in operation.

AGRICULTURAL TRAIN COMING HERE, FEATURING COW AND HOG

The agricultural department of the Santa Fe railway expects good results from the livestock demonstration train which will be in Canyon, Thursday, March 29 at 2:35 p. m. for a meeting with farmers and town folks who are interested in dairying, hog raising, poultry raising, according to The Earth, the company's agricultural and industrial paper.

"In the enterprise described," says The Earth, "the Santa Fe is co-operating with the Texas A. & M. College which has several important messages for everybody who gives thought to the development of the important farming business of this great commonwealth. The college is sending its best men to present three big subjects. Professor Evans, dairying; Professor Ward, hog raising; Professor Edison, poultry raising; and others of the extension service, who will discuss the three subjects generally. These men will be disappointed if farmers fail to ask questions. They urge farmers to bring their problems to the meeting. Women are especially invited.

"In addition to the lectures mentioned, there will be a meeting for boys and girls, conducted by T. B. Wood and J. R. Edmonds, district agents of the college extension service. A number of Santa Fe officials will accompany the party.

"The train will stand at the Santa Fe station, and the meeting will start immediately on arrival.

"The Santa Fe has run a number of trains similar to the one now organizing for Texas, and satisfactory results have followed in every instance. Everything points to success for the project under way. Farmers are invited to help make it a success by attending the meeting."

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1820, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Follow these tips out. You stop being a calamity-prone. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a weak, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

Electric railways in many sections of the country are turning to the motor bus as an economical means for extending their service and better serving the public. They use the buses for use as feeder lines and experiments have proved successful. A commuter may now step from his door into a waiting motor bus and be taken to the nearest transfer-point on the electric line. It is hoped this will relieve the congested housing conditions in cities.

THREE GREAT SCHOOLS

The three greatest educators are Work, Society, and Books. Our work is an essential part of our life, and can be made a drudgery or a delight according to our mental attitude. We can make it yield us great mental riches, or we can hate it and make it a poison that will kill success.

Not only is a man judged by the company he keeps, but he becomes like the company he keeps. We may seek out companions who are rich physically, mentally, and spiritually; or we may loaf with those whose lives breathe failure and all that militates against growth. Inspirational, intellectual, aspiring companions will stir the best in us into life. Their society will make us desire to do a man's work in a man's way for a man's reward.

And no one can estimate the power of good books and good magazines and good papers. They bring us the riches of the richest minds of this and past ages.

Those of us who love our work and seek to better it daily, who associate with inspirational companions, and who read only those books that are rich in ideals that make for upward growth, have no need to worry because our parents did not send us to college. —Builders.

FEDERATION OF METHODIST STUDENTS FORMED

Elmer G. Marshall and Miss Mary Moss Richardson, college representatives to the gathering of Methodist students and teachers at Georgetown, Texas, returned last week after taking part in the organization of a Methodist Student Federation. Miss Richardson was elected to the executive board, composed of seven students and five college representatives from the church. The attendance of one hundred and three delegates was made up of students, college pastors, teachers, and "Y" representatives from practically every college in the state. Every Normal was represented except Sul Ross Normal at Alpine. "The church schools and their representatives," said Miss Richardson, "were especially delighted with the number and the enthusiasm of the students from the state schools."

An annual conference and a summer encampment were provided for by the convention. The executive committee will select appropriate sites and announce the locations agreed upon. Little was attempted in a legislative way, but the speakers stressed the point that the name of the new organization is the Methodist Student Federation. They asked that it not be referred to by the initials.

Although the chief purpose of the conference was to effect the organization of a student federation, the general theme was "The Possibilities and Responsibilities of a Present Day Christian Student." Saturday morning, February 3, the general subject was, "The Present World Challenge." Powerful messages were delivered on "The Orient," "Europe," "Latin America," "Our Neighbor, the Negro," "The Modern City," and "My College and My Church." In a series of pointed addresses Saturday afternoon, the subject "Hurdles or Student Sins," was developed. The following list of speeches is suggestive:

"Indolence, or The Idle Mind"—Rev. King Vivian.

"Indifference, or The Callous Heart"—Dr. K. B. Barton.

"Indiscretion, or The Unrestrained Appetite"—Rev. S. S. McKenney.

"Insincerity, or The Double Face"—Geo. F. Winfield.

"Insubordination, or The Untamed Will"—Dr. P. W. Horn, Southwestern University.

A number of students volunteered for special Christian service at the close of these addresses.

Mr. Marshall was entertained in Mood Hall, Miss Richardson in the women's annex. Both characterized the conference as very inspiring, and praised the spirit of earnestness and good-fellowship which prevailed the gathering.—The Prairie.

The swastika symbol, according to a writer in the Journal of the Asiatic Society, Bengal, is a modification of the mode of expressing the ancient Hindu syllable om, which is used in religious rites. The earliest example known is on a spindle whorl from the third city of Troy, about 1800 B. C. It has been found in the ancient Swiss lake dwellings, in Japan, Korea, China, Italy, France, Germany, Russia, Great Britain and in the mounds of North America and South America.

French Militarism's Menace No New Thing

(Chicago Herald and Examiner)

One of the principle grounds upon which we opposed participation in Europe's war was that it was supremely silly to believe any of the high-flown declarations of the belligerent European governments; that they were all tarred with the same stick; all alike guilty of the greed, the intrigues, the imperialism and the militarism that brought on the war; that not one of them would pay the slightest attention to their idealistic promises and declarations; that not one of them would show the slightest gratitude for any help we gave; and, finally, that if we did not aid either of the belligerent groups to defeat the other, the only result would be a scramble for the loot, ending in the almost certain falling out of the victors and the most probable destruction of what was left of Europe under the guns and marching feet of a new imperialism and a worse militarism.

That has happened, has it not?

Also, we repeatedly said that the adulation heaped upon France and French love of peace and liberty and French devotion to America and American ideals were tommyrot, without any justification at all in the historical relations of France with the rest of Europe or in the relations of France with our United States in the past one hundred and thirty years.

As a matter of fact, France has been the constant disturber of Europe's peace for four hundred years; she has always been imperialistic and militaristic; she has been unfriendly to the United States at every opportunity ever since 1796; she compelled Washington to come from his retirement at Mount Vernon to head the army called together by Congress to resist French depredations; she conspired with England during the great war for the life of the Union to destroy our merchant marine and to place a great army in Mexico to break down the Monroe doctrine; in 1898 her government moved heaven and earth to form a European combination to go to the aid of Spain against us; and instead of being the century-old friend sentimentalists declare her to be, France, both as a monarchy and a republic, has usually been, secretly or openly, a hostile neutral or an active foe.

Unfortunately, only a small number of people know history. So they swallow and sentimental tale which propagandists tell them.

We find a great many well-meaning people repeating the fantastic assertion that France is justified in its design to beat down and enslave the disarmed German people and rob Germany of her resources and territory and populations on the ground that Germany has over and over attacked France, and has invaded France twice in less than fifty years.

Yet the actual truth is—as every schoolboy ought to know—that the war between Prussia and France in 1870 was deliberately forced upon Prussia by France without any justification whatever and that the French government, through its ambassador, Benedetti, had previously offered Bismarck, in writing, a proposal that France would refrain from war if the Prussian government would aid France in seizing Belgium and Luxemburg, destroying their independence and annexing them to France.

The written draft of this proposal was retained by Bismarck and after the declaration of war by France in 1870, was given by him to the London Times for publication. As the draft was indisputably in the French ambassador's own handwriting, denial was impossible and the French government never attempted to deny this infamous proposal for the assassination of Belgium's independence, without even a pretext of invasion and war upon that small country.

Only a little while before the war of 1870 the French government took advantage of the desperate plight of Italy, fighting for liberation from the Austrian yoke, and compelled King Emmanuel and Premier Cavour to yield Savoy and Nice to France—and these Italian provinces are still held by France as the result of the treachery and robbery.

We sometimes wonder if the various senators and publicists who foam at the mouth with indignation over the reannexation in 1871 of Alsace-Lorraine by Germany have ever heard of the far more indefensible and treacherous seizure of Italian Nice and Savoy by France.

The French government today is defying the common sense and the public opinion of mankind not because they are carrying out the constant policy of imperialism, militarism and international robbery which has so frequently marked the steps of France in Europe since the days of Louis XIV. until this very present time.

France has always striven to obtain the hegemony of Europe by any means at her command—by alliances with the barbarous czars and the fanatical Moslem Turks, by faithless diplomacy, by military invasions and by ruthless occupation and robbery.

These are the plain, unvarnished and undeniable facts of history and it is a shame that so many people who hold themselves up as representatives and teachers of the people either do not know these historical facts or else deliberately substitute their own falsehood for the truth.

All these truths were told you from the first day in 1914 that the cannon began to resound, and they were just as true in that time of hysteria and fury as they are now in these better days when reason has returned to our people.

We paid twelve thousand million dollars and a hundred thousand young American lives for that expedition into Europe, and it may be that the price was not after all too high if it teaches us to avoid any such folly in the future and makes us all determined to mind our own national business in the future and hereafter to go to war only when foes attack us and our motherland calls her sons to defend her against invasion by sea and by land.

The policy formulated by our great Washington is as wise and as sound as it was when it fell from his living lips.

And after the adherence to that policy in those times has been justified by events and has helped our people to regain the true American viewpoint, then we feel that we have fulfilled a great and important obligation of public service, and that we continue to discharge that obligation by speaking the truth about these intriguing and lying diplomacies of Europe and about the wicked, senseless and ultimately suicidal policy of imperialism and militarism upon which France, true to her traditions and habit, has again embarked.

That these French madmen pull down the pillars of society and government to their own destruction is self evident, and it is the part of simple common sense for us all to prepare for the inevitable reaction upon our own country.

Because any man of sense can see that if France goes on her insane gay the Red Flag will fly over every capital of Europe—from Madrid to Moscow—before the world is five years older.

The Farmers' Co-Operative Creamery, of Payette, Idaho, not only paid all expenses and wiped out its debt, but in addition paid its farmer patrons a dividend on last year's business amounting to $11,428. The creamery pays the farmers nearly 20 per cent more for butter fat than most of the Idaho farmers receive. It also distributed a five per cent bonus to all employees except the manager.

The president of Harvard University, A. Lawrence Lowell, said in his annual report: "The aim of the American college should be, not to give its students the technical training and tools of their future occupation, but rather to fit them to be citizens to develop those qualities that lead to the better life, both for themselves and for the community." The report made no reference to requirements for admission to Harvard. He urged students to enter colleges at an earlier age.

They were discussing the origin of the bagpipe and all were eagerly disclaiming it for their nation.

"I'll tell you the truth about it," said Pat. "We Irish invented it and sold it to the Scotch as a joke, and be-gorra, they haven't seen the joke yet."

Nelson's Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia, with its patented loose-leaf binding device, is the only Encyclopaedia, that can discard the old and out-of-date and substitute the new and living in its place. IT IS THE ONLY PRACTICAL PLAN FOR RELIABLE INFORMATION.

Many Questions Discussed at Swine Breeders' Meeting

The weather being cold and dreary did not prevent the regular weekly meeting of the Randall County Swine Breeders' Association yesterday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. One number was off the program but the meeting was held just the same. John Knight discussed farrowing houses for hogs and the members present entered into the subject with much interest.

The question of several little houses or one large farrowing house came up during Mr. Knight's talk and Mr. Knight said that he liked both; however, he wanted a house large enough to put a stove inside and keep the house comfortable for the little pigs.

He told of going to his house the coldest weather of last year and sleeping with them in the building that he might properly heat the building and care for the litters. Mr. Knight said that cement floors were essential; that their days of trial were over and that they had proved their value beyond a doubt. He thinks that one should not have less than eight feet square for the sow and pigs. When asked about the size of the alleys, Mr. Knight said that he would recommend that they be large enough to keep barrels, feed boxes and various other things.

Building Small Farrowing Houses
Mr. Redfern, Mr. Bellah and Mr. Fox stated that they were building small "A" shaped houses for farrowing purposes. It was pointed out that the houses should not be too large; that small houses would be warmer for the litters.

To Join Ton Litter Contest
The members present instructed the president and secretary of the Swine Breeders' Association to sign the agreements to both the Ton Litter and Scrub boar contests. The State and National Swine Associations are offering several hundred dollars for premium money for these two campaigns.

Dairying and Hogs Next Week
It was decided to take up dairying next week. John Vetesk was placed on the program for dairy farming and D. N. Redburn was asked to discuss the care of the sow at farrowing time.

Meetings at School Houses
It was decided that the Swine Breeders would back up the Agricultural Department at the Normal in holding live stock meetings at various community centers throughout Randall county. These meetings will likely be arranged for farmers' wives as well as for the men. Members of the association decided to report at the next meeting what schools would be included in the list.

High School Notes

The Sophomores are going to snap into it from now on. We may be down but we're never out. Class spirit is being stirred up in the few live coals that are left and we hope soon to have the warm fire of class cooperation burning brightly. Most of us are doing our best for the annual and our annual salesmen are at work. A class party was enjoyed at the home of Wright Campbell on last Monday night. After a round of games, delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served. At a late hour the guests after congratulating the generous hosts on their ability to throw a good party, adjourned to their various places of abode.

The parent teachers' association is going to conduct a woman's exchange in the court house on Saturday the 24th. There will be many useful articles for sale. The whole student body appreciates this aid from the mothers more than we can express.

We would appreciate it if you would go down and look over the things for sale and we are sure you will not go away without purchasing something. The main thing is that when you do this you not only get something for your money but you have the satisfaction of knowing that your money goes for a worthy cause, not as a donation, but as money well spent for a good cause.

Buy an annual.
The Freshman class is improving in their work toward the annual very much. They wish to continue doing so, but need the help of the parents. You should have an annual in your home for your children and yourself as well. Some day you may forget your friends and the good times you had in high school, but if you have an annual to look at you can look through it and find your friends pictures; then you will be very glad to have one. People, buy an annual, and remember your friends. You won't regret.

Class Farm Management has Lesson on Labor Saving Machine

T. C. Thompson, of Thompson Hardware Co., gave a lecture to the class in Farm Management of the Normal High School yesterday. The class had been studying labor saving machinery under Mr. Phillips and came to the store to get first hand information about machines. Mr. Thompson told the boys that the function of labor saving machinery was to cut down the cost of production; that when the cost of production was cut down it meant clear profit to the farmer. He illustrated the labor saving office of machinery by comparing the advantage of the reaper over the cradle; the harvester over the reaper; and the combine over the harvester. He stated that with the combination thresher three men could do the work of four with the header and eliminate the loss of grain between header and thresher; eliminate fire risk, and time. He stressed the fact that modern machinery was becoming more standardized; that parts of machines were being made interchangeable with other machine parts; especially bearings, and illustrated this fact by pointing out to the boys the difference in preparing farm products for market.

Gas Tractors Improve
Mr. Thompson expressed the belief that tractors had been improved fifty per cent in the last five years. He said that the substitution for coal oil for gas had done wonders in this line. The new International fourteen shovel cultivator for preparing land for seeding and forming dust mulch was demonstrated before the class. This is a new machine which has been tried out six years in Canada and which is now available for the farmers of West Texas.

According to Mr. Phillips, many other mornings are to be spent with the business men doing lecture-work before the boys. He thinks that this is one of the best means of getting the students to realize the value of every day problems.
