Socialists Who Fled Recently When Firing Grew Too Hot Trekking Back As Successes Reward Defense Efforts

(By The Associated Press)

SPANISH belligerents Friday engaged in spectacular air clashes over Madrid while on the ground, the Madrid government asserted, socialist forces drove back the insurgents three miles along the Talavera road.

The government announced six fascist warplanes were shot down in the first of three insurgent air raids in which socialist fliers took the air to give battle.

Roof-top watchers in Madrid saw two of the planes hurtling to the earth.

Lively Dog Fight Results

Fascist fliers escaped their pursuers in a second raid in which they dropped 14 bombs, five of which landed on the Montana barracks.

In a "dog fight" at dusk high over the capital, a socialist plane and an insurgent raider crashed, the socialist pilot taking to his parachute and landing behind the fascist lines.

The government reported a column of its international fighters captured three insurgent batteries near Sumera.

Premier Francisco Largo Caballero inspected the front southeast of Madrid. A number of cabinet ministers and minor officials returned to the capital from Valencia.

Ten men, reported to be the advance guard for an "Irish brigade" organized by Gen. Eoin O'Duffy in the Irish Free State for service with the Spanish insurgents, left Dublin for Liverpool en route to Spain.

In Paris, both socialist Premier Leon Blum and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos announced the French government would remain faithful to the international agreement for non-intervention.

Collection Of Tax Reflects Increase

Tax collections for October for the county, state and common school district showed a substantial increase in comparison with totals for that month a year ago, H .B. Eryan, deputy county tax assessor-collector, reported yesterday.

Delinquent state taxes collected last month totaled $4,029.83, compared with $604.54 a year ago; county delinquent taxes, $4,022.65, compared with $758.03; and common school delinquent taxes, $1,032.18 and $271.87.

Totals for current taxes paid in October, the first month they were collected, showed the following comparisons: State, $5,743.47, against $3,365.56 a year ago; and county, $8,022.68, against $3,812.45.

In addition, $8.233.07 was collected in taxes for rural high school districts, Bryan said.

Popping Of Bullets Breaks Into Popping Of Corks, All Because Of Spanish Rowing

REIMS, France, Nov. 13. (AP) — Champagne vintners today bemoaned a corking bad result of the Spanish civil war.

Most campagne corks are imported from Catalonia and the Spanish Basque Country. As the civil war progresses, Spaniards are demanding cash payment for their corks, a procedure frowned upon by the French finance ministry.

Leftists Swarm Out Of Benches And Climb On Rightists; Madrid Row Lights Fuse

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Leftist and rightist French parliamentarians, shrieking invectives, punched each other in a wild melee which interrupted a session of the chamber of deputies today.

After order was restored Socialist Premier Leon Blum pledged his government to remain faithful to the international agreement for non-intervention in Spain in defiance of the communists.

The communists, however, refused to withdraw their demands that Blum negotiate with Great Britain to raise the "blockade," as they termed it, against the Madrid government.

During the chamber melee, the leftists, spurred by rightist criticisms of the premier and Interior Minister Roger Salengro, poured from their seats and swarmed over the rightist benches. The deputies flung fists right and left before Edouard Herriot, chamber president, restored order, and temporarily suspended the meeting.

When the deputies reconvened, Blum won a vote of confidence, posed by a socialist deputy, by 374 to 201.

Salengro Charge Heard Again

That vote came after the chamber condemned the attacks on Salengro—charged by rightists with being a World war deserter—by a count of 427 to 103.

A military court of honor recently cleared Salengro of the accusations he was a traitor.

The clash broke out after a fiery debate on the rightist charges, presented by Deputy Henri Becouart.

When Blum mounted the speaker's stand, Jean Louis Tixier-Vignancour, a rightist, shouted: "Blum means war!"

Chin And Fist Meet

A leftist sprinted across the chamber and drove his right fist to Tixier-Vignancour's chin.

That was the signal for the general brawl.

For several minutes more than 50 law-makers slugged and kicked each other. Attendants who tried to separate them were bowled over.

The remainder of the legislators either shouted insults across the chamber or stalked out in dignified fashion.

NEW TRIAL TO START

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—Retrial of Mrs. Ethel Johnson of Dallas on a charge of killing her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bernice Blankenship, in Coryell county is scheduled to begin here Monday. A 25-year term assessed Mrs. Johnson by a jury at Gatesville was reversed by the court of criminal appeals.

Turkey Group Charges Will Get Attention

Sen. Connally Says Department Of Agriculture To Send Man To Turkey Belt To Look Into Price Fixing Contention

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. — The office of Senator Tom Connally of Texas said today the agriculture department had decided to send an investigator into the Texas turkey belt to study charges of "price fixing."

Connally's aides said a group of Crawford, Tex., business men had complained they could get only 12 cents for turkeys at the dressing stations while the Chicago market prices posted by several packing companies was 28 cents.

They said the office of Maston White, department solicitor and former Texan, announced John Ruff would be sent to Crawford and surrounding territory from Fort Worth.

Market Official Says Supply Is To Blame

DENISON, Nov. 13. (AP)—Roy M. Finley, of Denison, secretary of the Texas, Butter, Egg and Poultry association, tonight answered protests against Texas turkey marketing with the declaration that the law of supply and demand made current prices to growers logical.

Finley issued his statement after raisers in the Gónzales area refused 12 cents a pound for their birds and kept 250,000 of their flocks on ranges as they conferred with Leonard King, assistant state attorney general, regarding price fixing.

Investigation Sought

The raisers sought an investigation, claiming a "uniform market" and violation of anti-trust laws. A similar request was forwarded to Attorney General Homer Cummings in Washington.

GONZALES, Nov. 13. (AP)—Turkey raisers ignored a 12 cents a pound price here today and kept 250,000 birds on the range while they conferred with Leonard King, assistant state attorney general, regarding price fixing.

Raisers asked the investigation yesterday, claiming a "uniform market" and violation of anti-trust laws. A similar request to U. S. Attorney General Homer Cummings had not been answered.

Though the Thanksgiving market closes Nov. 18, less than 500 birds had been marketed here.

He said the program must reduce expenses and be simplified.

Churchman Of City Honored

Rev. C. E. Hereford Of First Baptist Church Here Named Alternate To Preach First Sermon For Baptists

(By The Associated Press)

MINERAL WELLS, Nov. 13.—The Texas Baptist general convention decried the spread of vice in resolutions as delegates closed their 1936 meeting today.

The convention chose El Paso for its 1937 meeting and set Nov. 9 to 12, inclusive as the date. Dr. E. D. Head of Houston was chosen to preach the 1937 convention sermon with Dr. C. E. Hereford of Lubbock as alternate.

Resolutions urged vigorous campaigns against drinking, gambling and immorality in Texas, following recommendations of the civic righteousness committee.

Sunday Amusements Hit

Dr. John L. Whorton, of Longview, committee chairman, said "wide open" conditions tended to ruin morals of the state's citizens. Dr. Porter Bailes of Tyler urged abolition of Sunday amusements.

The committee report said the state "actually becomes a partner" in vice by licensing gambling devices.

Dr. F. M. McConnell of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard, said a committee of 100 was in process of formation, its object to seek repeal of laws permitting horse race betting.

Missionary Changes Resolved

The convention resolved to choose, in the future, at least five members of the Baptist state mission board from country churches and assign one missionary to work exclusively among country churches.

It further resolved to instruct presidents of Baptists schools to replace all non-Baptist trustees with church members. Discussion indicated only Marshall college at Marshall would be affected.

Acreage Yield In Texas May Near Average

Department Of Agriculture Is Of Opinion Prospective Crop Will Be 91 Per Cent Of 10-Year Normal On Nov. 1

Declines Made Up

Improved Cotton And Peanuts Offset Some Crops; Corn Is Not Up To Expectation, And Sorghums Below Estimate

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. — The United States Department of Agriculture reported today Texas' prospective crop yields per acre for 1936 were 91 per cent of the 10-year average on Nov. 1.

The prospective production based on combined yields of 33 important crops, represented a 2 per cent increase above indications Oct. 1.

The increase was accounted for largely by improved cotton and peanut yields, which more than offset declines for some other commodities, particularly corn.

Cotton Tops Forecast

Improvement in northern and northwestern sections resulted in a cotton production forecast for Texas 90,000 bales above that of Oct. 1. The forecast was 3,005,000 bales, based on an indicated yield per acre of 122 pounds, which was slightly better than last year but far below the 1928-32 average of 4,580,000 bales of 500 pounds.

Corn was not turning out as well as expected and was estimated at 14 bushels per acre. Last month indications pointed to a yield of 15 bushels. In 1935 Texas produced 19.5 bushels per acre, and the 1923-32 average was 16.8.

Sorghums Drop

Grain sorghums production was slightly below that indicated Oct. 1 and was placed at 9.5 bushels per acre, compared with 10 bushels last month, 13.5 bushels last year, and 16 bushels for the 10-year average.

Peanuts promised a yeid per acre of 15 pounds above the indication a month ago, but the forecast of 440 pounds per acre was below the 575 pounds last year and the 538 pound average for 10 years.

Estimates of the citrus crop remained unchanged from those of Oct. 1, for 6,730,000 boxes of grapefruit and 1,435,000 boxes of oranges.

Prospects for other crops also showed little or no change from a month ago.

Police Fear Death May Have Resulted From Idaho Blast

POCATELLO, Idaho, Nov. 13. (AP) —A terrific explosion in the vicinity of the University of Idaho, southern branch, jarred this southeastern Idaho city tonight, breaking windows, shattering chimneys and cracking plaster.

Exhumation Of Woman's Body Likely

Mystery Of Beautiful Widow's Death Deepened; Counsel Of Suspected General Suggests Examination Of Corpse

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 13.—The mystery of how beautiful Verna Carr Taylor was shot to death on a bluegrass countryside road deepened tonight following intimations of counsel for Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, accused of murdering her, that the body may be exhumed for evidence.

A week ago tonight the body of the socially prominent, 40-year-old widow was found in a roadside ditch several miles from La Grange, Ky., her home. She had been shot through the heart. The .45 caliber revolver of Gen. Denhardt, her escort on an all-day automobile trip, lay nearby.

Declines To Testify

The inquest called by Coroner D. L. Ricketts at New Castle yesterday to establish the manner of her death abruptly closed at the outset with the arrest of Gen. Denhardt on a murder warrant sworn to by Dr. E. S. Garr of La Grange, a brother of Mrs. Taylor. The former adjutant general and lieutenant governor of Kentucky, who was the first witness, had declined to testify "on advice of counsel."

Settlement Of Strike Fading

New Walkouts Threaten While Old Sore Spots Refuse To Heal; Violence In Houston Marks Developments

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Another "last hope" formula for maritime strike peace negotiations went into the wastebasket today while new walkout threats developed on both sides of the continent and violence marked picketing on the Houston waterfront.

The seagoing unions offered to negotiate if the employers would grant them control of their hiring halls and accept a modified proposal for penalizing workers violating any agreement to be reached.

Flat Rejection Made

Shipowners rejected it flatly and said the opposing sides were "still as far apart as ever on fundamentals."

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady, who presented the union proposal to the employers, announced the formula would be revamped and resubmitted to the shipowners immediately. He refused to abandon hope.

Although both sides have watched for days for possible signs of White House action in the strike, President Roosevelt said on special federal mediation was planned for the immediate future.

Eleven Other Strikes

A walkout of 600 textile workers from a San Francisco bag company brought to 11 the number of Pacific coast strikes in progress besides the maritime strike. These strikes involved 37,000 maritime workers and about 9,600 other union members.

Philadelphia longshoremen met to discuss a renewal of their strike after shipowners rejected their demands and brought a week's truce to an end.

Sudan Robber Pleads Guilty When Charged

John O. Shackleford Arraigned Before Federal Authority At Wichita Falls; Bond Set At $25,000; Is Held

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 13 — John O. Shackleford, of Littlefield pleaded guilty this afternoon before United States Commissioner Melville Peters of charges of robbing the First National Bank of Sudan, August 27.

His bond was set at $25,000 and he was committed to the Wichita county jail to await trial.

Approximately $3,000 in cash was taken from the Sudan bank, federal officers said. After the robbery Shackleford took a trip to Mexico and lost his loot gambling, he said.

Brought From Big Spring

Shackleford was brought back to Wichita Falls this afternoon from Big Spring, thus ending a tour of West Texas this week in the custody of state and federal officers. He was returned here on complaint of R. L. Newkirk, special federal agent, who with United States Deputy Marshal and a city officer, both of Wichita Falls, went to Big Spring after the man.

Shackleford was captured in Childress Monday after he had aroused suspicions of citizens in Kirkland, Childers county, that he was planning a bank robbery there. When captured he was driving a car which had been stolen in Big Spring several weeks ago.

Sheriff F. A. Loyd of Lamb county said at Littlefield tonight he had signed a complaint in the justice of the peace court of J. B. Sykes charging Shackleford with robbery with firearms in connection with the Sudan robbery.

Effect On Another Charge Undetermined

What effect Shackleford's plea before federal authorities will have on the charge filed in Littlefield was not determined last night.

When Sheriff Loyd filed the complaint, he said he was expecting Shackleford to be brought to Littlefield next week for arraignment in justice court. Authorities at Sey-

Federal Grant Provides Fund To Meet Need

Before Authorizing Grant Of $840,000, Social Security Board At Washington Okays New Texas Pension Law

Rolls Will Be Cut

Despite Intention To Reduce List, 1,500 Names Added; 88,000 To Get November Checks Next Week

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 13—Old age pension authorities, advised that the national social security board approved a grant to Texas today for November pension payments, said the checks would be mailed about the middle or last of next week.

They will be nearly three weeks late as they were supposed to have been mailed October 31. The October payments were almost two weeks late.

Orville S. Carpenter, state pension director, said nearly 88,000 persons would receive November checks averaging about $15.75. Fifteen hundred have been added to the rolls since November 1.

New Pension Law Okayed

Before authorizing the grant of $840,000, the social security board approved the new Texas pension law intended to reduce the rolls to less than $85,000. Carpenter advised that reapplications would not be necessary under the new statute.

"We already have received a number of second applications," he said, "which were unnecessary and could not be considered."

The director disclosed that only 25,000 of 212,000 applications so far had been rejected finally.

Examinations will be held soon to fill vacancies on investigation staffs in 10 of the state's 30 districts. They are the districts with headquarters at Texarkana, Lufkin, Beaumont, Athens, Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Houston, San Antonio, and Austin. Application blanks may be obtained at the district offices.

"We wish alert, trained men," Carpenter said, "preferably between the ages of 25 and 45. Women also will be eligible. Applicants must have lived in Texas the past four years."

Three Bound Over After Burglaries

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 13. (Special) —Three Littlefield youths, J. D. Kincaid, Louis McGann and Roy Pritchard, appeared before Justice of the Peace J. B. Sikes at 1 o'clock this afternoon and were bound over to the grand jury on bonds of $500 each on a charge of burglary.

A 15-year-old boy, who is to be charged with burglary in juvenile court, was released to custody of his parents and will appear before the grand jury, Judge Sikes said.

Arrests of the four followed investigation into burglaries of two drug stores, two lumber company offices, one dry goods and one grocery stores here.

Hair Tonic Cocktail To Be Served; Anti-Knock Guy Is Said To Have Discovered It

WORTHINGTON, Ohio, Nov. 13. (AP)—A genuine, aged-in-the-wood, patented, hair-tonic cocktail will be served in Washington to top off a national dinner celebrating the 100th anniversary of the American patent system November 23.

This cocktail was discovered in the patent office records, by Thomas Midgley, the man who invented the first anti-knock stuff for gasoline.

"Its contents proved to be," said Midgley, "good corn whisky, soaked in ripe currants, to which is added port wine.

"It is a great cocktail. It will be served in hair tonic bottles and labeled Frederick Wilhelm hair tonic patent Number 939431."

Little Moses Of Bull Narrative Not Dog-Delivered, Hounded Woman Says

(By The Associated Press)

PEARL RIVER, La., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Louis E. Crawford, 24-year-old wife of a WPA worker, dispelled the mystery of "Little Moses" today by claiming the woodland babe as her own and naming a relative of her husband as the father.

Mrs. Crawford told District Attorney C. Sidney Frederick the child was born in the back yard of her one-room cabin home Sunday night and that she concocted the story it had been carried there by a dog to conceal its paternity from her husband.

Frederick said the man named by Mrs. Crawford as father of the infant vigorously denied her accusation.

Crawford, 44, earns $26 a month as a highway shovel worker.

The Crawford's have two children, Louis, jr., 4, and James, 2. All four live in the cabin far back in the Pearl River woods.

The baby was named "Moses" by Crawford after his wife told of the baby's being dropped into their yard by a "big brindle dog."

Monroe Simmons, St. Tammany parish juvenile probation officer, ordered Moses removed to charity hospital at New Orleans Wednesday. He is being treated there for a cold.

Younger Folk Of Lubbock Are Resting Between Holidays This Week-End

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

IF there's one thing Lubbock audiences could learn from eastern ones it's responsiveness. When the flag of the United States or President Roosevelt's picture is thrown on the motion picture screen east of the Mississippi river there is a full burst of applause; some persons even stand.

Let the same thing happen in Lubbock and you'll hear faint applause, probably followed with hisses of "be quiet!"

Now Weldon Chapman will bear us out that there wasn't much happening out at Tech field last Wednesday afternoon to turn local fans into hilarity, but where we sat only one person seemed exhilirated in the least, and he was terribly drunk. We let the students do our cheering for us.

Time and again at artists' courses we have seen musicians return to make curtain calls to find half of their audience scurrying up the aisles and at least one-fourth getting into their coats or in the act of rising. Seldom is there bursting applause. We wonder what would happen if President Roosevelt should visit Lubbock.

TO CLEAN SIVER

To clean tarnished silevr quickly, pour boiling water into an aluminum kettle, add a teaspoon of salt and a teaspoon of soda for each quart of water. Put silver in and let it boil for four or five minutes. This will remove all sign sf tarnish. The method should be used for plain, unornamented silver.

ON CURING DANDRUFF

It seems to be the season, but anyway we'd had a number of queries as to ways to rid the scalp of dandruff, that foe to healthy hair and good looks. Alicia Hart, NEA staff writer, believes that cleanliness is the enemy of dandruff. She says:

The woman who has dandruff should shampoo her hair at least twice a week and give her scalp a brisk, ten-minute massage night and morning. Absolute cleanliness is the first step toward clearing up the troublesome condition. Stimulation of circulation is the second.

It is a perfectly good idea to use a tonic or medicated pomade, made especially to correct dandruff. However, one of these will be ten times as effective if you put it on, then rub for ten minutes.

If you have ignored the first falling flakes and allowed the amount of dandruff to increase until you have thick, matted-looking patches of it here and there, by all means see a scalp specialist at once. Ignore this condition and you are headed for all kinds of trouble—perhaps even baldness.

Dandruff, like almost any other beauty defect, generally is the result of some physical condition. After a long illness, hair falls and the scalp becomes scaly. The patient should begin at once to wash her hair frequently, massage her scalp and use her hair brush diligently.

If, although you have not been in a hospital, or seriously ill, your hair gets dull and lifeless and your scalp becomes covered with white flakes, perhaps your diet is wrong or maybe you are over-working or allowing your nerves to get the better of you. Any of these reacts on the hair immediately.

Try to get more sleep and rest. See that your diet includes some of the hair health foods, like whole barley, cabbage, onions, pineapple juice, apples, oysters, clams, quantities of fresh vegetables and green salads.

Highlights Of Affairs Seen Is Wedding Today Of Miss Emily Davis, And Parties For Ruth Hutchinson

Resting between Armistice and Thanksgiving holidays, younger folk of the city have few events scheduled for the week-end.

Several Texas Technological college organizations, although fewer than usual, scheduled affairs for last night and tonight. Las Leales, college fellowship club for girls, is entertaining with an annual reception from 7 until 10 o'clock tonight at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton, 1808 Broadway.

Dance Is Tonight

Friday night pledges of Kemas, men's social club, entertained with open house and Las Armonias, mixed club, had a theater party. There will be an all-college dance at the Tech gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock tonight.

Highlight in the social schedule this week-end are the marriage today of Miss Emily Davis to Jim Frank Potts of Boswell, Okla., and parties today and Sunday honoring Miss Ruth Hutchinson, bride-elect of Pete Hudgins of Fort Worth.

The Lubbock Music club will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Mrs. V. L. Doughtie, 2619 Twenty-second street.

Miss Ruth Hutchinson Who Is To Marry Soon Is Honored When Hostesses Entertain In McKeever Home

A buffet dinner was given Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Ed McKeever, 1812 Avenue X, in honor of Miss Ruth Hutchinson, bride-elect. Mesdames McKeever, Zack Tinker, Robert Walker and Miss Beth Wulfman were hostesses.

The meal was served from a table covered with a cloth of Queen Anne's lace and lighted with pink candles in silver holders. A silver bowl of sweetheart roses, sweet peas and fern formed the centerpiece.

Rosebuds were centerpieces for the foursome tables where guests were seated. The place cards were white, with silver beveled edges, and tied with white satin ribbons bearing miniature sterling silver wedding rings.

The honoree was presented with a shower of china.

Guests were Mesdames J. T. Hutchinson, George Langford, Charles C. Watson, Troy Dale, Jimmie Wilson, Aubrey Edwards, Misses Hutchinson, Frances Campbell, Jeannette Jones, Mary Anne Kimble, Charlotte Ratliff, Isabel Warren, Mary Florence Van Horne, Maxine Fry, Eva Mae O'Neal, Judith Stiles, Nannie Margaret Overton and Annette Wulfman.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. McKeever's mother, Mrs. P. J. Quinlan.

Sanders P-TA Group Hears Address By Superintendent

"Character and the Part Honesty Plays in its Development" was the subject of the address that Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer gave at the American Education Week program Thursday night at Sanders school. About 30 parents attended the program sponsored by the Sanders Parent-Teacher association.

A play contrasting the school of Horace Mann's time with that of today was presented by children of the fourth and fifth grades. The last scene showed how many fields of contemporary study are integrated in the classroom.

Attendance prizes went to Miss Beulah Starnes' room on the first floor and Miss Lois Mangum's on the second.

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson For Nov. 15

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor Of Advance

THE title of this lesson is the Heroism of Christian Faith, and no better example of either Christian faith or heroism could be found in life and action than that provided by Paul, the Apostle.

His faith was intense and clear. With great strength of conviction, he had come to believe that the way of life he had attacked as heresy was the true way. The spectacle of Stephen calling upon God to receive his spirit, forgiving those who stoned him to death, had evidently shaken Paul to his moral foundations.

He had come to see that here was something greater than he himself had found, with all his earnestness and zeal. And the more he knew of the Christian way, the more completely was he drawn toward it, until his relationship to the crucified Galilean and his intention to preach the Gospel concerning Christ became the one sublime passion of his life.

From that determination to preach the Gospel, and to build the kingdom of God, nothing could turn him aside. Jesus had said to his disciples: "When they persecute you in one city, flee to another," and Paul fulfilled that counsel with the greatest literalness. His very course was shaped by persecutions. Every form of opposition he took merely as an indication of guidance to preaching and work elsewhere. There was never any thought of abandoning his mission.

NOW, as he was returning from his third missionary journey to Jerusalem, he had stopped at Caesarea on the coast and was warned by the prophet Agabus that troubled days were ahead of him and Jerusalem. In this there was nothing surprising to Paul.

In his farewell address to the elders at Ephesus, he had stated that he was moving into the unknown, with nothing certain but that bonds and afflictions were awaiting him.

On that occasion, he had said, "None of these things moves me. Neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God." Our lesson tells how these predictions and premonitions proved true.

While Paul was in the temple performing his vow, certain Jews from Asia surred up the people against him, accusing him of perverting the truth of the Scriptures, and of bringing into the temple Gentiles who "defiled the holy place."

The uproar was so great that Paul's life would have been in danger if a Roman captain with his soldiers had not interfered. The captain saved him from the mob, but bound him in chains. Thus began a long course of imprisonment that ultimately brought Paul to Rome.

VERSES of the lesson are but a portion of a whole context that must be studied to get the full impression of Paul's faith and courage. Here was a man whom obstacles and dangers seemed only to inspire with a new determination to be true to himself and to his mission. Every difficulty thrust him back upon the resources of divine grace, which, he said, were sufficient for him and for every man.

Faint-hearted people and those of little faith ought to study Paul and get the contagion of his spirit.

Women's Clubs Of State Are In Annual Convention In San Antonio; Mrs. Avriett Is Vice-President

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 13. (AP) — Mrs. Richard J. Turrentine of Denton was elected president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs at Thursday's sessions of the group's 39th annual convention. She was elected by a vote of 246 to 77 over Mrs. C. D. Kelly of Groesbeck after a spirited campaign.

Succeeds Mrs. Taylor

Mrs. Turrentine, retiring president of the federation's fifth district, succeeds Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville, who automatically becomes the state's director on the general federation board.

Elected without opposition were Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa, first vice-president; Mrs. Lee Morris of Chico, second vice-president; Mrs. John D. Cochran of Sinton, treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph Perkins of Eastland, secretary.

Resolutions Favored

Resolutions given a first reading yesterday and slated for final action today called for use of voting machines in Texas; establishment of a department of fine arts at the University of Texas; more money for state health services; a state department of public welfare; opposition to the use of the Christmas theme in liquor advertising; and a neutrality policy providing adequate national defense, economic neutrality and taking the profits out of war.

The delegates presented a portrait of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin as a tribute to the past president of the state group and the only Texan to serve as president of the general federation.

Lubbock Woman's Forum Is To Sponsor Benefit Party

Lubbock Woman's forum is sponsoring a benefit bridge Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Hotel Lubbock. Members are selling tickets for 25 cents each.

Proceeds will be used for charity tonsilectonies, Mrs. Raymond Marshall, president, said. Table reservations may be made with Mrs. Chester Elliott or Mrs. W. R. Hudson.

An 18-inch penguin can consume five full-sized herrings at a single meal.

Christmas Tree Party Will Be Given By Needle Group

Plans for a Christmas tree party to be given Christmas Eve in the home of Mrs. Glenn Smith were made at a meeting of the Needlecraft club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. M. J. Scott, 1618 Avenue M.

Mrs. Taylor Scott was received as a member of the club and Mesdames Walter Stanley and Everett Price were guests. The next regular club meeting will be with Mrs. Tom B. Cox.

Members present were Mesdames Arthur Wright, Alfred Parrack, Cox, J. Scott Hollingsworth and Smith.

Motto Presented To School By War Veterans Auxiliary

SLATON, Nov. 12. (Special) — "Americanism," a motto, was presented to the Slaton High school by the womans auxiliary to the Tasker H. Bliss camp of the United Spanish War Veterans. It will be hung in the study hall of the school.

Mrs. Blanche G. Niehoff, president, Miss Virginia Lee Davis, treasurer; E. L. Pitts, 99th district judge; J. J. Dillard, county judge, and Floyd Jackson, district clerk.

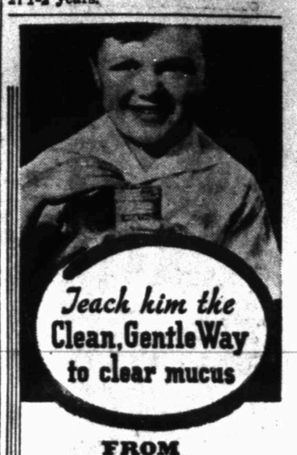

Expenditure Reports Made By Candidates In Election

Campaign expenditure reports for the general election of November 3 had been filed with County Judge J. J. Dillard by 12 county candidates Thursday, final day allowed by law.

Only two, Horace Smith, candidate for justice of the peace, precinct 2, and Robert J. Allen, courty attorney, listed expenditures. The former included in his $27.75 report all his expenses. Allen reported $372.75, presumably covering his entire campaign.

Candidates reporting no additional expenses since the primary campaigns in the summer were: P. B. Penney, commissioner, precinct 1; Ben Mansker, commissioner, precinct 2; T. L. Holt, commissioner, precinct 3, and B. O. McWhorter, commissioner, precinct 4; Ed Allen, county clerk; Dan A. Blair, 72nd district judge; A. B. Ellis, county

The mucous membranes in his nostrils are extremely delicate. He may suffer lasting injury if he keeps on sniffling or tries to blow out the accumulated mucus by brute force.

He will thank you later on if you teach him this much gentler and cleaner method to break up the mucus. Have him insert a little Mentholatum in his nostrils.

It is surprising how gently and quickly Mentholatum breaks up accumulated mucus. The stuffiness is soon relieved, the breathing becomes freer, and comfort is soon restored.

The DOCTOR says:

Do this when you have a HEADACHE

All human impulses center in the brain. So, too, do many ailments effect that source of all feeling. So when your head aches it may be a result of numerous body disorders. It may be from an upset stomach or bad eyes or nervous strain. Whatever is the real cause, you may be sure that no one but a good doctor can tell. Headache-cures only temporarily ease the pain.

When your head aches, have the doctor give you a thorough examination. It's a protective safeguard against all possibilities.

And of course you'll want the doctor's prescription compounded as perfectly as though he himself did the work. So bring your drug needs to this efficient pharmacy.

Metdcs Given More Approval

Slight Change In Business Of Major Establishments Here Reflected, Say Merchants; Some Remain Critical

Both "ayes and nayes" concerning Lubbock's new parking meters were heard yesterday along Thirteenth street where there are no meters.

Some merchants on Broadway and Main street contended the meters would transfer business as well as cars to Thirteenth street. For that reason, several merchants along Thirteenth were interviewed yesterday.

"They're a good thing for Lubbock," Ross A. McWhorter, manager of the Goodyear Service at Thirteenth street and Texas avenue, said. "I don't believe it will hurt the out-of-town trade when people get used to the meters."

Approval Is Heard

"I like the meter system," said Bob Crawford, manager of the parking lot at Thirteenth street and Avenue J. "Naturally it helps my business some, because a lot o' the merchants have been parking their cars here. The farmers hav been here, too. I have heard more approval for the meters the last few days, than I did at the first of the week."

Norton Baker, manager of Baker Furniture corporation, 1107 Thirteenth street, said, "The meters may be good for Lubbock business, but they will ruin out-of-town trade. They are made for cities, and Lubbock is still just a big country town."

Slight Change In Business

Thirteenth street has been crowded in comparison to Broadway and Main during the first week of trial for the meters; however, no definite change has been noticed in the majority of business firms, according to merchants.

"The meters have helped my business to a small extent," said William G. Driggus, owner of the Corner Drug at Thirteenth street and Avenue H. "I see new faces and new cars, however a lot of them are merchants. I believe the meters will be a good thing for Lubbock."

"I haven't seen any change in my business at all," said Jack Barr, manager of Dryer's Master Auto clinic at Thirteenth street and Avenue J. "People will get used to the meters. All new experiments meet opposition at first. I think they're a fine thing."

Half Million See Texas State Parks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—The emergency conservation service reported today nearly 500,000 persons in three months had visited 18 Texas state parks where its CCC work is being conducted in a combined area of 325,000 acres.

Robert Fechner, director, at the same time termed the new Big Bend state park in southwest Texas "one of the outstanding parks in the country, both in area and in natural scenery." It eventually will become a national park.

Fechner listed these other parks where CCC work is being conducted: Balmorhea, Palo Duro, Longhorn cavern, McKenzie, Tyrrell (Beaumont), Garner, Mother Neff, Bonham, Lake Corpus Christi, Goliad, Fort Parker, Daingerfield, Lockhart, Cleburne, Tyler, Paris, and Kerrville.

A jury verdict of guilty without malice and recommending a three-year suspended sentence was returned yesterday afternoon in 99th district court following trial of the case of Arturo Rubio, Mexican, charged with assault with intent to murder.

A 66 per cent gain over the corresponding period for the 1935 cotton crop up to November 1 was the report of A. L. King, special agent for the U. S. bureau of the census, yesterday. More than 32,800 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lubbock county for the 1936 crop, up to this time, Ginnings were: For 1936, 32,819 bales; for 1935, 19,740 bales. The increase was 13,179 bales.

A special musical program is being arranged Monday night at 7:15 o'clock at Southwest Ward school building. Residents of the community especially are invited, said Mrs. Leonard Cole, who with R. L. Burdette, Lubbock High school teacher, is directing the entertainment.

R. A. Smith, 33, of Lubbock, whose automobile struck a culvert in south Ropesville Thursday night, pleaded not guilty Friday morning to a charge of driving while intoxicated at Ropesville, and bond of $500 was set by Justice of the Peace Evans, said City Marshal H. M. Kennedy. Smith said he was blinded by lights of an approaching automobile. He was injured about the chin and forehead.

Volley Of Cheers Heard As Edward Has Rum Ordered

PORTLAND, Eng., Nov. 13. (AP)—Amid lusty cheers, King Edward today finished his inspection of the British home fleet by ordering the signal:

"Splice the main brace."

It meant:

"Serve a tot of rum to all hands."

The king had royal weather for his final day of visiting the huge grey watchdogs of the sea, massed here in Portland harbor.

After yesterday's stormy winds and rain, bright sunshine flooded the waters as the youthful monarch, inspecting the fleet for the first time since his accession, left the flagship Nelson and sped in a fast boat along the line of battleships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

Managing Editors Will Go To New Orleans For Parley

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Associated Press Managing Editors' association voted today to hold its 1937 convention in New Orleans October 7 to 9, inclusive.

The association also decided to make the meeting a three-day event, effective next year. Heretofore it has been limited to two days.

Canada is the most important platinum producing country in the world, with Russia ranking second in this respect.

Housing Plans To Be Viewed

Significance Of President's Visit To Suburban Maryland Area Read; Low Rentals Charged Families

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—A trip by President Roosevelt today to look over a $9,000,000 suburban housing development at nearby Greenbelt, Md., was interpreted here as more than a mere routine inspection journey.

Informed sources believed it might help determine the status of such projects in future unemployment relief programs.

Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, resettlement director, has been pulling for a plan under which the unemployed would be set to work building many such projects.

Demonstration Project

Greenbelt is being built as a demonstration project. One thousand families, with incomes ranging from $1,000 to $2,000, will live there, commuting to their work in Washington or elsewhere. Rents will be limited to 25 per cent of the families' incomes.

Besides the 1,000 houses, there will be a school, community centre, store centre, and other facilities

Harry Edwards, Editor Of Tyler Newspaper, Is Dead

TYLER, Nov 13. (AP)—Harry Edwards, editor of the Tyler Journal, died today after a heart attack.

He was widely known for his weekly newspaper work. His paper won the A. H. Belo trophy several times as the best edited Texas weekly.

School Order Of Purple Cross To Cease Activities

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 13. (AP)—On a promise that the hooded "Purple Cross gang" would be disbanded, Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the University of Wichita, today placed on probation six members of the organization accused of hazing Earl Tipton, freshman student, who suffered a broken nose and split upper lip in the "ceremony."

Police said the six, leaders of the group of upper classmen, told of seizing Tipton at his home Wednesday night as he climbed out of his car and of taking him outside the city where much of his hair was shorn away and where a purple cross was inscribed on his forehead with indelible ink.

Police quoted Preston Clark, admitted ring leader, as saying "one of the members hit Tipton with his closed fist." Tipton, he said, had a club in his hand andprobably was struck because of that.

THE FORD V·8 FOR 1937
The Quality Car in the Low-price Field

V·8
85 HORSEPOWER
Maximum Performance with Good Economy
Bore 3.062 in. Stroke 3.75 in. Displacement 221 cubic in.

Two Engine Sizes - One Wheelbase
AND A NEW LOW PRICE

V·8
60 HORSEPOWER
Good Performance with Maximum Economy
Bore 2.6 in. Stroke 3.2 in. Displacement 136 cubic in.

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is the most beautiful Ford car ever offered. It is built in only one size — with one standard of roomy comfort and modern appearance. But you may have either the improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum performance — or the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum economy. The smaller engine makes possible a lighter car — with lower operating costs.

Improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine — Drive it and watch the speedometer!

When you drive the 1937 Ford powered with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine, you are master of a modern power plant that gives you everything you can possibly demand in speed and acceleration. It is a better engine than ever — with a better cooling system and new smoothness of operation. Yet improved carburetion enables it to deliver its thrilling performance with unusually good gasoline mileage.

New 60-horsepower engine — Drive it and watch the fuel gage!

The new 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine is almost an exact replica of the "85" — except for size, weight and power. It delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness — even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour — with gasoline mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your own needs.

NEW FEATURES OF THE 1937 FORD V·8 CAR

APPEARANCE — A newly designed car—wide and roomy, with a low center of gravity. Distinctive front end, with headlamps recessed in fender aprons. Modern lid-type hood hinged at the back. Larger luggage space. Spare tire enclosed within body. Completely new interiors. The slanting V-type windshield opens in closed cars.

ENGINES — A choice of the improved V-8 85-horsepower engine or the new V-8 60-horsepower engine. More efficient cooling. Quieter performance. New economy.

COMFORT AND QUIET — By every modern standard of design, the 1937 Ford V-8 is a big, roomy car. Extra space is in the body, where you want it — not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Ford Center-Poise Ride is further increased by smoother action of the long-tapering springs, with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.

SAFETY

BRAKES — New Easy-Action Safety Brakes, of the cable and conduit control type. Positive and direct — "the safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Self-energizing — car momentum is used to help apply the brakes. About one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.

BODY — All-steel body construction. Not an ounce of wood used for structural strength. Frame structure is all steel — sheathed with steel panels, top, sides and floor. All are welded into a single steel unit of great protective strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge.

Porkers Steal Aerial Honors Of Conference

Free Scoring Game Forecast At Dallas, Home Of First "Aerial Circus" As Hogs Try For Conference Lead

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Nov. 13. (AP)—Towering Arkansas Razorbacks, selfstyled "Greatest aerial show on earth," steal into the very home of passing trickery to spring their flying football act on Southern Methodist here tomorrow.

Birthplace of Southern Methodist's celebrated "aerial circuses," Ownby Stadium will have 20,000 fans gathered to see a predicted aerial thriller for the only Southwest conference clash of the day.

31 Passes Per Game

Coach Fred Thomsen said before the season started he would dumbfound his opponents with passing. To date they have averaged 31 passes per game, have scored 14 aerial touchdowns and averaged 12 yards on each completed heave.

Jack Robbins, rangy junior quarterback, is the No. 1 chunker on the Arkansas squad while Johnny Stidger, pudgy sophomore quarterback, handles the Methodist air raids.

An Arkansas victory would put the Porkers out in front of the muddled conference race. The Methodists, knocked from their lofty perch of the last two years by the Texas Aggies, 22-6, last weekend, will be gunning for the first triumph in a comeback.

Teams In Good Shape

Both squads reported ready physically, Ken Lunday, Razorbacks center out two weeks with an injured hand, and Fullback Jack Holt, will be back in the lineup. "Jarring John" Harlow, sophomore halfback, has fully recovered and will start with his touchdown twin, Stidger, in the Mustang backfield.

Critics predict a free-scoring battle. Arkansas, mainly through aerial antics, has scored one or more times in its last 20 games while Southern Methodist is second only to them in total points scored this season.

Centenary To Invade Horned Frog Stadium

FORT WORTH, Nov. 13. (AP)—"Slingin' Sam" Baugh and his Texas Christian playmates unloose another aerial barrage against Centenary's Gents here tomorrow before an excited Homecoming day throng of 15,000.

Nine seniors team with a pair of sophomores to form the starting Shristian lineup. Tradition at T. C. U. calls for the starting of as many seniors as possible on Homecoming day. It will be the Horned Frogs' last home appearance of the season.

Baugh, who has tossed six touchdown passes and figured in the other eight tallies the Frogs have chased across this year, will start but may give way to David O'Brien, sophomore mite.

Centenary bouyed up after holding strong Tulsa university to a 3-3 tie last week, but will have but one cripple on the list. Lanford Huddleston, backfield speed merchant injured last week, may out play.

Expect 43,000 For Texas-Gopher Battle

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13. (AP)—The University of Minnesota powerhouse that a week ago overwhelmed Iowa 52 to 0, will unleash its bruising attack against the University of Texas in an intersectional football duel Saturday.

With their consecutive victory string snapped by Northwestern, the Gophers will be out to protect another record of sorts against the Texans—that of never having met defeat in intersectional game under Coach Bernie Bierman.

A crowd of 43,000 is expected for the game, starting at 2 p. m. (cst).

Frenship Beats Petersburg In Final Class C Grid Tilt

WOLFFORTH, Nov. 13. (Special)—Football teams of Frenship and Petersburg ended their Class C schedules for the season here this afternoon, Frenship taking a 19 to 7 victory.

Joe Stokes and J. T. Jones accounted for Frenship's scoring, running touchdowns in the first, second and fourth periods. Stokes caught a pass for one extra point. Paul Reynolds, Petersburg quarterback and star, scored for the visitors in the second period, then passed for extra point.

Roberson, end, and Nail, tackle, were outstanding in the Petersburg line.

Lofland, Welch and Seale were Frenship's star linemen, with McClendon, quarterback, playing good football.

North Texas Teachers Smack Trinity University, 26 To 6

DENTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The North Texas Teachers defeated the Trinity university, 26 to 6, in a non-conference grid battle here today.

Hester of North Texas passed for three of his team's touchdowns, while Meharg passed for Trinity's lone tally. North Texas made 12 first downs to five for Trinity.

Daring Riders Ready For Tilt

Wichita Falls Motor Polo Club Plans To Upset Local Team In Sunday Game At Ball Park Here; Game At 3

Wichita Falls and Lubbock Motorcycle polo teams continued to prepare industriously yesterday for Sunday's game at the local ball park, starting at 3 o'clock.

Word from Wichita Falls indicated that Captain Les Myers' Greyhounds are applying themselves rigidly in workouts this week, determined to be in condition to give the Redshirts some serious competition. Motorcycle polo had been at a standstill here until a few weeks ago, due to lack of serious opposition for Lubbock and to lack of playing facilities.

Meyers Leads Team

Captain Meyers, who plays center for the Wichita Falls team, listed Ed Fry, Corky Benson, Jimmy Smithson and Jack Voss, with himself, as possible starters for the visitors.

Lubbock's team, led by the hard riding Captain Stewart Champlin, probably will consist of Dugan Wheeler, Grisham May, forwards; A. Purtell, goal guard; Donald Nail or Howard Law, rear guard, and Champlin at center.

It is planned to stage at least two regulation small track races between star riders of each team as an added attraction.

Plans Announced For Polo Sunday

Plans were announced yesterday for a polo game here Sunday between a team representing Lubbock and an unannounced opponent. Place of the game is to be determined today, provided plans go through.

Claude B. Hurlbut, local polo enthusiast, said the Lubbock team was hoping that the infield of Lubbock's new race track, at the fair grounds, could be used for a polo field.

"It would make one of the finest fields in the South," Hurlbut said, "and the only one in this section with a grandstand. We hope it will be possible to use the field and build up the game of polo in Lubbock."

Stephen F. Austin, North Texas Aggies In 7-7 Tie

NACOGDOCHES, Nov. 13. (AP)—The Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks and the strong North Texas Aggies battled to a 7 to 7 tie here today.

The Aggies scored three minutes after play opened on a pass from Hickey to Belk. Shaw converted. The Lumberjacks scored in the second quarter when Mills rammed the ball over on a six yard drive. Mills also converted.

Intersectional Games To Draw Record Crowds

80,000 Expected To See Army And Irish At Yank Stadium Today; Alabama Threatened By Georgia Tech

BY ALAN GOULD

CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (AP)—Besides furnishing the two finest intersectional matches of the season, Nebraska-Pittsburgh at Lincoln and Army-Notre Dame at New York, tomorrow's collegiate football jamboree may indicate whether some of the lately-distributed laurel wreaths have been interwoven with a few sprigs of poison ivy.

Northwestern, the nation's current No. 1 team and Big Ten champion, "fears Michigan." While Fordham takes time out in the Rose Bowl debate, Alabama's Crimson Tide is threatened by Georgia Tech. Washington's Huskies, top entry on the West Coast, face the challenge of Southern California's Trojans, with anything likely to happen.

Capacity At Lincoln

Adding impetus to new attendance records for the season, upwards of 80,000 will jam the Yankee Stadium and contribute to a $400,000 "house" to see the Irish of Notre Dame wage their annual joust with West Point. At Lincoln, a capacity throng of 35,650, biggest crowd since the Husker-Notre Dame battle of 1925, will watch Nebraska and Pitt battle it out.

Against a background of tradition unrivalled by any other football series in American history Yale goes Tiger-hunting at Princeton, before close to 57,000 in Palmer Stadium. Duke and North Carolina play for the Southern Conference title at Chapel Hill.

Here's how these and other standout games are viewed from this observation post:

Yale Over Princeton

Army-Notre Dame—The Irish may hit the big town on the rebound after dropping a close decision to the Navy last week. But it's Army's turn for a break in this great rivalry.

Pittsburgh-Nebraska—The Panthers have been blowing hot and cold. Nebraska has been mostly hot. On seniority and a hunch, one ballot for Nebraska.

Northwestern-Michigan — Three cheers for Michigan and three touchdowns for Northwestern.

Yale-Princeton—This is the rubber match between collective Tiger power and Eli alertness. Yale to win.

Minnesota-Texas—Minnesota with touchdowns to spare.

Southern California-Washington—It looks like Washington, by a touchdown.

Tigers Are Picked

Alabama-Georgia Tech—Unless the Engineers are back on the track, this doesn't look too tough for the Tide.

Louisiana State-Auburn—The unbeaten Tigers from Baton Rouge haven't had a let-down since early season. Birmingham may furnish the spot for an upset, but the Tigers are picked regardless.

Marquette - Mississipp — The Southerners are no soft touch but this should be another link in the all-winning chain forged by Buzz Buivid & Company.

Santa Clara-St. Mary's—This West Coast "natural" is on the Sunday program. It's another fine spot for the short-endere but we will string with Santa Clara.

Navy Is Choice

Harvard-Navy — Navy is the choice.

Oklahoma is the choice over Missouri, Michigan State over Kansas, and Kansas State over Iowa State. In the Southwest, Southern Methodist's comeback figures to halt the Arkansas aerial barrage. Utah State, in the Rocky Mountain conference's main event, is a slight favorite over Colorado. On the coast, it looks like Washington State over U.C.L.A., in a hot struggle Stanford over Oregon State and California over Oregon.

Flomot Defeats Lockney In District 4B Battle, 22-0

LOCKNEY, Nov. 13. (Special)—Coach Bill McWilliams' Flomot High school eleven took a temporary lead in the District 4B, northern division, race by defeating Lockney, 22 to 0, here this afternoon.

It was Flomot's third conference win against no defeats. The team played a 7-7 tie with Turkey last week and it is possible that the game will be played over. Turkey and Silverton are to meet in another conference game, and a Turkey victory would throw the race back into a tie.

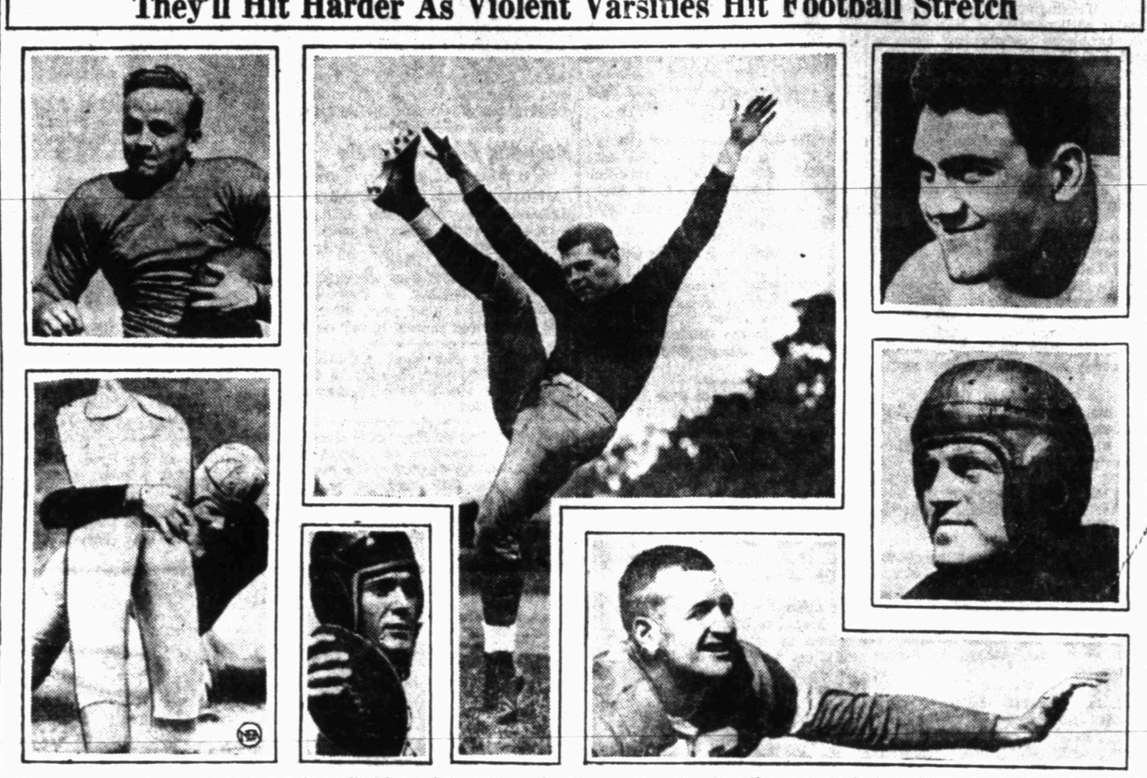

Carl Hubbell, Cy Blanton Enter Basketball Business

SHAWNEE, Okla., Nov. 13. (AP)—Carl Hubbell, ace southpaw hurler of the New York Giants, and Cy Blanton, member of the Pittsburgh Pirates mound staff, head an independent basketball league organized here today.

Hubbell, whose home is at Meeker, ten miles north of Shawnee, was named president of the league, and Blanton, who lives here, was selected vice president.

Hubbell will manage a team sponsored by the Shawnee News-Star while Blanton's team is backed by a Shawnee bank.

They'll Hit Harder As Violent Varsities Hit Football Stretch

Here are some of the principal stars in sectional and intersectional headliners, Nov. 14, when the nation's football teams reach the head of the stretch. In Minneapolis, the University of Texas will find Rudy Gmitro, upper left, of Minnesota one of the fastest backs it has met so far. Cliff Macomber, lower left, Army tackle, demonstrates how he'll hit Notre Dame ball carriers in Yankee Stadium. Princeton banks on the toe of Charley Kaufman, shown kicking in center, to keep the Yale wolf from the door at Princeton. Auburn will keep an eye on Cotton Milner, insert at left, Louisiana State sophomore back, in Birmingham. The fellow with outstretched arms is Dick Taliferro, Duke end, who intends to stop North Carolina thrusts at Chapel Hill. Tony Matisi, upper right, figures to run plenty of interference for Pittsburgh against Nebraska in Lincoln. Fritz Waskowitz, below presents one of the numerous University of Washington problems to Southern California in Seattle.

No Applicants For Texas Job

Longhorn Coaching Post Not So Desirable, According To Applications; None At All After Three Days

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—University of Texas grid fans who had found the Minnesota trip too expensive for their pocket books, wondered here today just how desirable the Longhorn coaching job was.

J. C. Dolley, chairman of the athletic council, said not a single application was received up to the time of his departure for Minneapolis, where Texas plays Minnesota tomorrow.

Three days have elapsed since Coach Jack Chevigny announced his retirement on the expiration of his contract Feb. 1.

Most were of the opinion that the salary inducement was too low to interest many already employed members of the coaching fraternity. Chevigny is said to receive $5,000 a year.

Littlefield "Trying To Lead Honest Life"

AUSTIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—Clyde Littlefield, freshman football and track coach at the University of Texas, was seen in Governor Allred's reception room.

"Going to apply for Chevigny's job?" a friend asked.

"'taint so," laughed Littlefield. "Don't mix me up in athletics. I'm trying to lead an honest, upright life."

Littlefield was head coach several years ago.

Houston Alumni Are Circulating Petition

HOUSTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—Houston ex-students of the University of Texas began circulating a petition over the state today requesting the athletic council to get a coach of the "highest type" to replace Jack Chevigny, resigned.

In a resolution drawn up at a meeting of Texas former students, headed by Alva Carlton, president of the Houston alumni organization, the group recommended hiring a man of the type of "Andy Kerr of Colgate, Howard Jones of Southern California, Wallace Wade of Duke or Dana Bible of Nebraska."

Among those attending the conference, and who drew up the resolution to be sent to all former students with a request for signatures of endorsement, were Lester Settegast, Joe H. Russell, Dr. W. W. Ralston, Fred W. Moore, George Heyer, Dr. Ghent Graves, W. B. (Tillie) Ferguson, Richard Burns, C. C. (Pig) Ditmar, Joe King, Judge Walter Montheith, Palmer Bradley, Kraft Eidman, and Lloyd Gregory.

The petition was addressed to the athletic council and the board of regents of the university.

Tech 'Funeral Train' Is Due Home At 9 Today

Disappointed Raider Players And Fans Leave Pacific

The Texas Tech "funeral train" from California, bearing the blighted hopes and disillusioned fans of Red Raiders football on the West Coast, is scheduled to arrive at the local Santa Fe station at 9 o'clock this morning.

It is the same train which pulled out so merrily nearly a week ago, carrying a few hundred fans, students and the Texas Tech band to Los Angeles. It was the "Tech special" then, third of its kind. It returns today as it has returned twice previously, its passengers lamenting a third straight defeat by Loyola's Lions.

Coach Pete Cawthon and his team were to be extra passengers on the homeward trip. The Raiders went to the coast by regular train, stopping enroute to workout, but it is believed they'll be aboard the special when it pulls in this morning.

West Is Injured

As customary, students and fans are invited to turn out for the welcome, though a sad one it will be.

Besides having lost the ball game, 26 to 7—worst defeat a Tech team has suffered since 1931—the Raiders have lost the services of at least two stars, injured in battle. Extent of their injuries was not readily learned here, but it is believed J. W. West, regular right end, is the most serious casualty.

Meanwhile tickets are on sale for Tech's next and last home game of the season, next Friday's third straight tilt with the DePaul Blue Demons of Chicago. The ducats went on sale yesterday, and early buying was slow.

It is believed that fans will recover from the shock of the Coast defeat and turn out in large numbers for the final home game. The Raiders take to the road again after that, going to New Orleans to play another Loyola team on Thanksgiving, from there to Tucson for the annual Border conference tilt with University of Arizona on Dec. 5.

Roaring Springs Wins From McAdoo In Class C Contest

McADOO, Nov. 13. (Special) — The Roaring Springs Yellow Jackets, led by Aubrey Davis and T. O. Sanders, roared to a 28 to 6 victory over McAdoo in a Class C conference game here Wednesday.

New York Commission Seeks Braddock-Joe Louis Battle

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Joe Gould, manager of James J. Braddock, has been asked to appear before the New York Athletic commission next Wednesday and discuss a proposal to have Braddock meet Joe Louis of Detroit in a 12-round no decision bout at Atlantic City next February.

Members of the commission did not discuss the matter formally and would not indicate what their attitude would be.

ACC Breaks Long Losing Streak In Beating D. Baker

ABILENE, Nov. 13. (AP)—Abilene Christian college's Wildcats, never the winners in eleven games played since October, 1935, came out of the Texas conference cellar here this afternoon to defeat Daniel Baker's Hill Billies, the conference's undefeated, untied leaders, 13 to 7.

Thus, this Friday the thirteenth ruined the Brownwood team's title chances after they were considered "in" and virtually cinched it for their fellow townsmen, the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets.

The Wildcats drove 48 yards in the first quarter and 56 in the fourth for their touchdowns. Two sophomore backs, Jake Miller and Henry Bennett, pranced over for the winners. Skipper Howard, the Billies' sensational triple threater, plunged a yard for hi team's counter.

Texas Golfers Lead Ace Race

Linksmen Of State Fire 109 Holes In One So Far This Year To Give Texas Title In National Rivalry

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Barring an unexpected windfall of aces from other regions, Texas is the hole-in-one capital of the United States for 1936.

As cold weather forced golfers off the links in the northland and the supply of holes-in-one dropped perceptibly, Texas apparently clinched the ace title with a collection of 109 over the year. The total number of prize shots registered in the Associated Press national Hole-In-One club reached 1,216 with still a month and a half to go. Thus, better than one out of every 12 aces reported was scored by Texans.

Floydada Defeats Matador, 18 To 0

MATADOR, Nov. 13.—Displaying a powerful and deceptive running attack, the Floydada High school eleven defeated Matador 18 to 0 here this afternoon.

While a large crowd looked on, Baker, slippery Floydada halfback, scored twice on reverse plays, once in the first quarter and again in the last.

The Matador squad threatened to score twice, when W. J. Bryan, halfback, broke loose only to be stopped within the twenty-yard line. Slipping off tackle, Bryan raced to the Floydada 8-yard stripe. The ball went over on downs.

Matador was outplayed throughout the contest. They made 5 first downs to the victor's 20. Baker and McClung were outstanding for the visitors. Bryan and Campbell stood out for the losers.

Sixto Escobar Successfully Defends Bantamweight Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Sixto Escobar, world's bantamweight champion, stopped Indian Quintana of Panama in the first round of their 15-round title battle in Madison Square Garden tonight. Escobar weighed 118 and Quintana 117 1-2.

A hard right hand smash to the jaw finished Quintana in exactly one minute and 35 seconds of the opening round, almost before the crowd of 7,000 had settled in their seats.

Supporters of the popular Escobar gave him a rousing ovation. Several fist fights broke out in the galleries. Police used their clubs freely to quell the celebrants.

Tech Picadors Lose, 28 To 7 To Altus Team

Huffman's Team Outplays Bucs On Ground But Glen Bufkin Passes Nicklaus' Team To One-Sided Victory

(Special To The Avalanche)

ALTUS, Okla., Nov. 13.—Glen Bufkin, former Amarillo High star, lashed out with his mighty passing arm here tonight to carry the Altus Junior college Pirates merrily on their winning way with a 28 to 7 victory over Texas Tech's freshmen.

The Pirates met more than their match on the ground, but Bufkin hurled seven completed passes out of eleven attempts and climaxed his brilliant exhibition with a sixty-yard touchdown pass to Cannon in the fourth quarter.

Tech Fumbles Hurt

Altus scored in the first eight minutes of play when Jim White, Picador halfback, fumbled on the Tech 34 and Bufkin recovered. Bufkin passed to Hanna for 21 yards and on the third play Hanna went over from the one-yard line.

The Pirates struck again in the second period when Young intercepted a pass on the Tech 45-yard line and after a series of plays, including a 13-yard pass from Bufkin to Hanna, Bufkin passed over the goal line to Hanna from the 9-yard line.

Led by big Gene Boswell, the Picadors rolled up yardage opening the third quarter and Boswell went over for Tech's lone touchdown from the one-yard line, climaxing a 55-yard drive. Boswell drop-kicked the extra point.

Bufkin's Arm Hot

J. W. Goodwin, alert Pirate center, jumped on Dwight Lindsey's fumble of a punt a few minutes later on the Tech 30-yard marker. Wayne Smith carried the ball to the 10-yard line on a fake reverse and then took a pass from Bufkin to score.

The final counter came when Bufkin faded from his own 45 to his 30 and whipped a mighty pass into the arms of Cannon on the Tech ten. Cannon went over untouched. Smith accounted for three extra points and Cooke for one for the Pirates.

Tech Gains 309 Yards

The heavy Tech wall held the Pirates to only eighty-two yards from scrimmage while Boswell and company were piling up an even three hundred. Twice, however, the Picadors wilted inside the Altus 10-yard line. Tech made fifteen first downs to 6 for Altus.

About 3,500 persons saw the Pirates take their eighth win and keep this year's record clean.

The starting lineups:

Tech Picadors—End, Webb and Gonzales; tackles, Davis and Steitle; guards, D. White and Wilkins; center, Haile; quarter, Lindsey; halfbacks, J. White and Walthal; fullback, Calhoun.

Altus Pirates—Ends, Cannon and Young; tackles, Walker and Skidmore; guards, Scott and Cooke; center, Adams; quarter, Morrison; halfbacks, Bufkin and Smith; fullback, Hanna.

In Jealous Rage, West Coast Man Kills Woman And Himself

Studio Worker Then Bludgeons Woman's Mother And Pots At Divorcee's Son; Couple Had Quarreled Over Men

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 13. (AP)—Running amuck in a jealous frenzy, a film studio worker killed his divorcee landlady, bludgeoned her mother, attempted to shoot her young son and then committed suicide, police reported today.

Two days of kuarreling, Detective Lieutenant William G. Marr said, ended in a blood-stained scene last night when Mrs. Ruth Chamberlain, 30, was shot down by Dan J. Richards, 34, her boarder, as she started to accompany him on a walk

Ten feet from the door Richards pulled out his revolver, the detective said, and fired twice at Mrs. Chamberlain while she hid her face in her hands.

Man Goes Berserk

Mer mother, Mrs. Emma Levy, 55, visitor in the house for the evening, and Jay Clifford Chamberlain, 9, her son, screamed in terror.

When he turned the revolver on Mrs. Levy, she struck at it. Richards then knocked her unconscious and chased after the boy, who fled to a neighbor's home.

Detective Marr said the frenzied man fired twice at the youngster, but the bullets wert wild. Richards ran into a bedroom and put a bullet through his own head.

Couple Had Quarreled

A frequent escort of Mrs. Chamberlain, Richards objected violently when she went out with other men, the detective said his investigation disclosed. Their last quarrel, Marr said, started after Richards hit a parked car Wednesday night and Mrs. Chamberlain pleaded with him to drive more carefully.

Removal Writ In Conspiracy Denied

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 13. (AP)—Judge Robert N. Pollard, jr., of the U. S. district today denied a federal removal order for Rep. John H. Hoeppel, of California, and his son, Charles, who are under conviction in Washington, D. C., for conspiring to sell an appointment to the U. S. Military academy at West Point.

The order was denied, Judge Pollard ruled, because attorneys for the California congressman and his son had noted an appeal from dismissal of the writ of habeas corpus. Judge Pollard said said he did not think he should relinquish custody of the prisoner from this district until after the appeal.

He then began hearing a petition to release the two men on bail.

X Crosses Good Record And Fred Now "Ex" Trusty

Fred Perdue became an "ex" trusty at Lubbock county jail yesterday.

Under indictment for forgery, Perdue, given trusty duties, Thursday night skipped the jail, took a 1928 model coupe owned by C. Covey, doing jury service in 99th district court, and visited relatives south of Lubbock, officers said.

The automobile theft was charged in a complaint filed with Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg. Perdue was found in the car about 15 miles south in Lynn county.

His forgery case will be called Monday in 72nd district court, said Sheriff Tom Abel, who had planned to suggest leniency in the case.

Test At Seminole Set This Morning

SEMINOLE, Nov. 13. (Special)—Tubing in the S. L. Averitt No. 1-A three miles northwest of Seminole was to be rerun Friday morning preparatory to making a test about 9 o'clock, it was reported here tonight.

Down 5,022 feet after striking what was said to be a "rich" sand strata at 4,873 feet, the well has been flowing 2 1-2 barrels of oil hourly. Drillers reported considerable gas pressure.

Fills delayed a production test tonight at the location, section 228, block G, W. T. railroad survey. Drilling is by Amerada Petroleum corporation at an offset to Walsh and Adams No. 1 Averitt, which came in last spring as a gasser.

Long Battle Over Magevney Millions Is Concluded, Barring Court Appeal

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 13. (AP)—Barring an appeal, the long legal battle over the Magevney millions was at an end today.

The dispute, revolving about the adoption of a child three decades ago, came to a close, temporarily at least, when Chancellor Lois D. Bejach ruled the Sacred Heart academy of Galveston, Texas, and heirs of the late Eugene Magevney were entitled to the last $1,000,000 of the Magnevney estate.

Mrs. Blanche Hamilton Karsch, adopted by Magevney's daughter, Mrs. Kate E. Hamilton, opposed the claim of the convent and Magevney heirs. The claim was based on a will of sister Mary Agnes Magevney, founder of the academy and sister of Mrs. Kate Hamilton.

Mrs. Karsch previously had won title to $1,500,000 of the Magevney personal estate and $1,000,000 of the real estate.

Mrs. Hamilton adopted Mrs. Karsch in 1897 after failing heir to the bulk of her father's estate. She died in 1930 without leaving a will and the legal complications arose.

Next of kin and blood heirs-at-law of Magevney and Mrs. Hamilton failed in an effort to have the adoption of Mrs. Karsch declared null and void. Instead, chancery court held Mrs. Karsch the legal heir of Mrs. Hamilton and entitled to the entire estate of $3,500,000.

A supreme court ruling, however, declared Mrs. Karsch entitled to the personal property and half the real estate, or $2,500,000.

The convent will receive about $600,000 in real estate and the heirs about $400,000 under the terms of an agreement between them.

Not All The Old West Gone

EASTERN city slickers who like to say that the West has grown effete and soft and that the oldtime sharpshooting gunmen of this section are all under the sod, must have gotten a severe jolt yesterday from a news story from Ft. Worth.

While the men handling the pistols were officers, instead of desperate bandits, no criticism can be given the marksmanship of Cowtown cops who, in an 85-mile an hour chase of a law violator, shot holes in the tires of the fleeing man's car and brought him into camp.

"Wild Bill" Hickok, "Billy the Kid" or old Bill Tighlman never did any better shooting than the Ft. Worth officers did in bringing their quarry to custody. In fact, it is doubtful if any of those famous lead slingers ever had a target as difficult to hit as did the officers in the city "Out Where the West Begins."

Anyone who has tried to hit a loping jackrabbit with an automatic or a six-shooter can imagine what a task confronted the policemen when, in a speeding car of their own they had to hit flashing tires, only partially visible, on a car going 85 miles an hour.

That's shooting in anybody's language—shooting that the wiseacres of Broadway, Park Avenue, Boston's Back Bay and Chicago's Gold Coast can't laugh off. Maybe our bad men aren't as bad as they used to be, but at least some of our officers are fully as potent as ever.

DIAGNOSING NOISE

Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, professor of psychiatry at Northwestern university, has delivered his opinion of the automobile driver who toots his horn in protest when delayed in traffic. Dr. Neymann says noise is produced unnecessarily only by morons, imbeciles and idiots, and offers a medical campaign slogan:

"Be an imbecile and you can be noisy."

Tooters of automobile horns in traffic delays have no friends except fellow-members if fthe Society fofr the Propagation of Unnecessary Noises. So there will be little protest against Dr. Neymann's animadversions. But why single out the Unnecessary Tooters? This is a general election year. Hasn't Dr. Neymann heard sounds other than auto horn tooting to support his theory of the ratio between noise and mental capacity?

AKOUN OF THE SQUAT

John Granger of Minneapolis now more than 50 years of age, has been actively engaged in health promotion most of his adult life. In 1907, at the Battle Creek sanitarium, a deep knee bending contest was held, meat eaters versus vegetarians. It was witnessed by a group of health specialists, among whom Coach Alonzo Stagg of the University of Chivago. Granger performed his test in the nude, and during the contest lost 6 pounds in weight, though he did not perspire a single drop. His 5,002 deep knee bends were timed at exactly 2 hours 19 minutes.

SALUTE TO Love

by Rachel Mack

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATE and CAROLINE MEED live on a farm, Meed Meadows, with their lovable, indolent grandfather, MAJOR SAM MEED, and two old Negro servants, ALTHY and ZEKE. Kate is engaged to MORGAN PRENTISS, who neglects her for beautiful and wealthy EVE ELWELL.

Major Meed loses the farm to JEFF HOWARD, a bitter young mountaineer. Kate hates Jeff for taking their home. Morgan tells her they can be married at once if she will "ditch" her family. Kate is torn with indecision.

Meantime, Eve Elwell make a stronger play for Morgan and persuades him to jilt Kate. Kate realizes that she loves her family too much to mistreat them. She drives to town to reject Morgan's offer, finds him with Eve and tells him how she feels. Eve tells Kate, spitefully, that Morgan was on the point of jilting her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX1

After the break with Morgan Prentiss, a peace that was something like happiness came to Kate.

She said to Caroline, "These last few days have been what I needed. The torture about Morgan is over. I feel as if I'm floating on my back in a quiet pool. Only last week I was churning about in a river full of rapids and undertows. That's what being in love is like—swimming in a treacherous river."

"Not always," Caroline observed. "Only when you're in love with somebody who's not worthy. Somebody not to be trusted. Listen, honey, don't ever regret Morgan! You're lucky you found him out in time."

"I shan't regret him ever!" Kate assured her. She had not told Caroline what had led her to break the engagement so suddenly. She only told her of impulsively returning his pin and letters that evening and of finding him with Eve Ellwell, of her discovery that Morgan was on the point of jilting her for Eve. Caroline had been shocked and indignant. Disappointed, too, for she had quite unselfishly wanted this prosperous marriage for Kate.

Caroline asked now, "Does Grandad know about it yet?"

"Yes," Kate said. "I told him that night. I told Althy and Zeke, too. The funny part is, they all seemed glad. That's funny, considering Morgan was what you'd call a good catch."

Caroline said, "Old folks and colored people don't think things cut. They seem to feel them in their bones. Why, don't you remember how even Shep always disliked Morgan and growled when he came?"

Shep, hearing his name, raised himself from the porch floor and thumped his heavy tail. In the twilight he looked like a wolf, grown tame and benevolent. Kate scratched him behind the ears. "Want to go for a ride, Shep?"

Shep knew what she meant—to run beside Brown Boy while she rode. The plumed tail thumped more violently.

"Don't tease him. You know you can't ride until morning."

"I'm going to ride right now," Kate declared, "because I think that's Mr. Grayson's car coming down the road."

"It is!" Caroline groaned. "And he's stopping! Please don't leave me, Kate. Please!"

Kate laughed heartlessly and got up. "Listen, honey, I've stayed around every time that man's been here. I can't keep it up forever. Let him propose and get it over. Then you can refuse him and he'll quit coming. The trouble with you is, you've no backbone—"

She was quoting Morgan, she realized with a shock.

When they reached the crossroad, Brown Boy turned in, of his own accord. Kate gave him his head. "This road's easier on your feet, is it fellow? All right. Have it your way."

Only two miles through to the State Pike, and there, looming white in the gathering darkness were the stone gateposts of Meed Meadows.

Brown Boy stopped near the entrance. Horse, girl and dog looked toward the house. . . . A voice from the darkness said "Good evenin'."

It was Jeff Howard, leaning against the fence. Kate could just make him out. He had a pipe in his mouth, and his white shirt was open at the collar. He seemed to be wearing riding breeches, caught into boots.

"Good evening, Mr. Howard," Kate said crisply. She thought, "I'll talk to him—anything to keep from thinking of Morgan and Eve somewhere together."

"Were you comin' to call?" Jeff Howard asked with biting humor.

"No," she answered. "Why should I?"

"We're neighbors," he stated. Was there loneliness in his voice? While she was wondering, the pause grew long. "How was your hayride? Right damp, wasn't it?"

"Who told you I was having a hayride?"

"Your grandfather. I saw him one day at the mailbox. He told me."

"Oh." Kate threw her leg over the saddle. She let Brown Boy lower his head and graze. The dog went and lay down near Jeff Howard's boots.

"I go to town that way sometimes," he said. "It's a change from the main road. Have you been diggin' any more lately?"

"If I have I don't care to discuss it."

"I took your spade back, so your career wouldn't be interrupted."

"Thank you!" Presently she asked, "Do you know anybody in the country? Have you any friends around here at all?"

The man stiffened to attention in the darkness, hating her for what he thought was cool insolence. He supposed she was reminding him that, though he now had a fine big house, he had no friends to fill it. He did not suspect that she had spoken to him out of an impulse of loneliness as keen as his own. . . . "I don't want friends," he lied boastfully "I'm enough for myself."

"What wonderful self-sufficiency," Kate drawled. Why had she suspected this conceited clod of wanting companionship! She righted herself in the saddle and drew up Brown Boy's head. "Goodnight, Mr. Howard."

"'Night to you, Miss Meed." He remained slouched against the fence while the girl and the horse and the dog disappeared in the darkness.

Perhaps the most foresighted thing the Major had ever done was to have the tenant house garden planted, suspecting that the tenant house would be their home before the summer was over. Once planted, however, it had been neglected in the urgency of other things. As a result, the garden was now as sorry a vegetable patch as could be found far or near, afflicted by blights and choked with weeds. Kate and Caroline, who had counted on selling vegetables, could make very little out o it, though they struggled valiently.

Another disappointment was in store for them. Kate had invested as much as they could spare in Plymouth Rock chickens, in the anticipation of selling eggs to customers in town. Going out to feed them one morning, she found the cream of her crop missing. Shep was missing, too. Hours later they found him tied to a fence down the road, hungry and thirsty and very much outraged in dignity.

Kate was so overjoyed to find the beloved old dog all in a piece that she declared the chickens didn't matter. But when the same thing happened a week later she feared that her venture was doomed.

We're too close to the road," the Major said regretfully. "A tramp can look over the fence and get the place."

"It's gangsters traveling in trucks," Caroline ventured.

"I don't think so, from the clews," Kate said. "Men like that would have killed a dog without hesitating. It would have been easier than luring him down the road and tying him. This time there was even a bone left for him to knaw on, and a tin can of water. That points to someone who knew Shep and could't bear to hurt him."

"Poor share-croppers, probably," Major Meed speculated. "Most likely colored. Nobody else wuld be tender hearted enough to feed and water a dog while they were robbing the chicken roost!"

"The kind of thieves we'll have with us always," Kate said.

It was true. The depredations continued on a smaller and smaller scale until Kate's stock was depleted and the chicken business was a lost cause. They would do well, the Meeds decided, if they could keep a few scraggly hens.

Meanwhile Kate and Caroline were taking turns looking for jobs. Only one of them could be spared from home. That one would be "whichever finds the job."

Shelby yielded nothing. There were no stores that needed clerks. The town and county schools had a waiting list of qualified teachers with state certificates. They turned, then, to Louisville, and late one day came home with the announcement that she had been accepted at one of the dime stores. The Major blinked in dismay and said nothing.

Next day Kate caught an early

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has been subjected to terrific pressure by ship operators who want him to intervene in the seamen's strike on both coasts. Demands that he virtually force arbitration have sharpened since his reelection boosted his prestige.

The employers have submitted two alternatives—privately, of course. The first is that he frame a specific program of settlement and toss it upon the table. The second is that he authorize naval and military forces to protect crews and longshoreme nwilling to return to work if their safety is guaranteed. Mr. Roosevelt hesitates at personal intervention lest it establish a precedent in the event of serious iridustrial wars in other industries. His advisers warn against executive entanglement.

His official spokesmen seem powerless. Operators are suspicious of Secretary Perkins because they resent her apparent favoritism toward the strikers. Mediator Ed McGrady has the confidence of both sides, but he must take orders from "Miss" Perkins. Maritime commission members lack both experience and authority. So the President may have to step in eventually—probably before he leaves for his southern cruise next week.

ALLIANCE: A spokesman for the du Pont brothers—"cleaned out" politically on November 3—has notified Washington associates that they are quitting politics and going back to work. That means fairly immediate liquidation of the Liberty league and its subsidiary anti-New Deal agencies.

The du Ponts, like numerous others who financed so-called "educational" movements, concede that their experiment in enlightening the people was a failure. Henceforth, so the message from Delaware said, they will turn their attention to "educating" business men and manufacturers. They have seen the light so clearly that they will enlist in the campaign to establish relations between economic royalists and economic politicians.

Washington even looks forward to the exchange of friendly handshakes between President Roosevelt and his most belligerent batch of enemies—the du Ponts, Messrs. Raskob, Smith and Shouse. It may occur when, as reliably reported, a son of the President marries a daughter of a du Pont. Unofficially it is understood that the son-and-daughter development has softened tempers on both sides of the Delaware River.

WARNED: President Roosevelt's first major clash with his erstwhile enemies—the budget-balancers and tax-cutters—is scheduled for late in January. It will be staged over his request that Congress appropriate new funds to finance WPA until close of the current fiscal year—June 30, 1937.

Harry Hopkins is betting down to the bottom of his barrel. It is doubtful if money on hand will last through January. With relief costing approximately $170,000,000 a month—more in the winter months—the President may have to ask for an additional $1,000,000,000. That will boost the figure for the current fiscal year to $2,425,000,000. Funds for beyond June 30 will be provided in the regular appropriation measure.

Unpublished figures reveal that about 2,100,000 still need federal aid—a drop of 1,400,000 from a year ago. Classes losing out in the reemployment rush are women, white-collar workers and youngsters fresh from school. The President's justification for new expenditures will be that business and industry have not borne their share of the burden, as he warned in his famous "message on the state of the union."

LEWIS: Democratic politicos are speculating on President Roosevelt's successor—if any—even before all the 1936 ballots have been counted. Although still listed only as an indoor sport, their talk reveals where their minds turn.

There is some suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt may seek reelection as leader of a new liberal party. The argument is that 1940 conditions may justify violation of the third-term tradition. Barring that prospect, it is conceded that he could choose his heir if he quits the White House in a blaze of economic glory—if prosperity has really arrived.

Secretary Wallace heads the list of most likely choices at the moment—largely because of his attitude toward both labor and agriculture. Secretary Hull has backing, but he may be judged to be too old. One who cherishes hidden ambitions is Attorney General Cummings, but his aspirations are not taken seriously except by his friends. Few insiders put much stock in the chances of Mine Leader John L. Lewis, figuring that his appeal and strength are too restricted. Next to the President, however, his may be the dominant voice in 1940 convocations and elections. He's knocking his big fist against the political door.

SANITY: Certain business men and students of politics have proposed revolutionary changes in the presidential calendar. The idea is to minibize the expenditure of money in the quadrennial campaign to restrict the period of business uncertainty and strip the contest of its ballyhoo aspects.

What they suggest is that both parties hold their national conventions in September rather than June. The campaign rarely gets under way until the first week in September now, and they argue that six weeks would offer plenty of time for development of the issues. Today's more complete newspaper coverage of the candidates, more rapid distribution of newspapers and the radio permit every interested voter to acquaint himself with the candidates and platforms.

In the last campaign the two parties probably spent a total of $15,000,000 without influencing a single vote. A shorter period between nominations and elections would cut political expenditures in half. Most important of all, it would permit America to give more time to baseball—and business. You'll hear more of this idea before long.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

A GROUP of business leaders most of whom have been violently anti-New Deal, sat in solemn conference one day last week to determine what course they should follow. There was quite a bit of sentiment—especially among those noted for their rabid conservatism—that the thing to do was to send a delegation of repentant sinners to the White House, beg forgiveness for the past and in effect offer a blanket pledge of docility for the future.

This rather abject proposal was blocked, ironically, by the strenuous protests of men who have kept friendly channels to the White House open right along and have by no means been as bitter-end in their criticisms of the New Deal as their panicky brethren. They persuaded the latter that such an obvious gesture of surrender would be more likely to arouse the contempt than the gratitude or respect of President or public.

So the gesture didn't come off—but the serious discussion of it tips off the nervous frame of mind prevalent in some high quarters.

REBELS: Failure of the widely-heralded "peace negotiations' between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization confirms the prediction made in this column on several occasions that John Lewis would never agree to peace except on his own terms. There is news behind the news in the recent relationship between Lewis and some of his own followers.

Talk of patching up the breach really originated with certain of Lewis' lieutenants who began to get jittery about the harm the split might do to organized labor as a whole. They felt privately that their chief had perhaps been too stiff-necked and that some sort of compromise to unite the warring wings of labor could and should be worked out. So they went ahead on their own responsibility to create an atmosphere favorable to talking things over. President Bill Green of the AFL and most of his associates jumped at the chance to meet them half way. But the would-be peacemakers reckoned without John Lewis himself. Lewis has been charged with many sins, but never with running away from a fight.

He refused point-blank to be wheeled or stampeded into a compromise. He would not dicker with the enemy unless the latter surrendered unconditionally first. His firm insistence on this condition nearly brought some of his associates in the Committee for Industrial Organization to the point of rebellion. For the proverbial two pins they were ready to walk back into Brother Green's arms.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 96

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"March! March!" Tarzan urged his warriors, "as if they demons were after you!" That was not difficult for his black cohorts to imagine, for they were now in the domain of the fiendish Leopard Men, who combined the traits of demons, monsters, and men.

After a long while, the little army came to a clearing, in the center of which loomed a tall and formidable stockade. "That," said the Jungle Lord, "is the village of the Leopard Clan warriors. We must overwhelm it before we can enter the tunnel to the temple."

"The palisade is strong and high. We can never enter the village," one of the warriors objected. "I am Muzimo the spirit," the apeman answered solemnly. "I will open the gates. Then you must enter and fight. I, Muzimo, will lead you in victorious battle."

While the warriors gazed in astonishment, Tarzan raced across the clearing on quiet, flying feet. Suddenly his body rose like a bird. His hands gripped the top of the palisade. Thence he looked down and saw a sentry—but there was another he did not see!"

WHAT IS PUPIL DILATION AND HOW IS IT PRODUCED? Nature provided muscles to regulate the size of the pupil to control the amount of light entering the eye in proportion to the intensity of the light. Excessive light is very injurious. Reaction of the pupil is to contract, reducing the amount of light entering the eye. Light of less than normal intensity necessitates more light entering the eyes, to maintain normal or near normal vision. These muscles act involuntarily.

Fixed abnormal pupil dilation is produced by a drug instilled into the eyes which paralizes the muscles hence Nature is interferred with, preventing the regulation of the size of the pupil as required by light stimulation. In this condition, eyes cannot be used for near work. Remember this, no drug can refract light or the human eye. Our Modern Scientific Optometrical Eye Examinations Are Safe and Free From Pupil Dilation.

Third Victim Of Shots Dies

Constable Ed Chapman, 60, Is Unable To Survive Blast Of Lead Fired Armistice Night At Stockman Dance

CENTER, Nov. 13. (AP)—Constable Ed Chapman, 60, died in a Timpson hospital today of wounds suffered in a shooting at Stockman, near here, Armistice day.

Alvin Gillespie, 52, a justice of the peace, and Alcus Lilley, 36, a farmer, were slain in the shooting, which occurred outside of a school gymnasium where a dance was in progress.

Witness Explains

I. M. Moore, an eye witness, told the district attorney Lilley shot Chapman and Gillespie as the constable sought to disarm him. He said Chapman, although mortally wounded, fired the shot which killed Lilley.

Sheriff J. B. Sample said Lilley was under bond in justice Gillespie's court on a charge of hog stealing.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13. (AP) — Grass slaughter cattle found an indifferent demand at prices steady to easier, as compared with Thursday's slow trade. One load of well-conditioned 1442-lb. South Texas Brahmas of common to medium grade sold at 6.50, and four loads of slightly better quality, due to a sluggish demand, were taken off the market. Good fed western steers this week cashed upward to 10.00, with majority of common to medium grassers and short feds from 5.50@8.50. Colorado grass heifers cashed up to 6.50, and a few relatively high dressing cows of the same origin made 5.75@6.25. Majority of grass cows ranged downward from 5.00, with lightweight low cutter cows frequently having to sell under the 3.00 mark. Stocker and feeder steers bulked at 4.75@7.00. Fleshy yearlings up to 7.65, and light weight feeders at 8.00. Choice stock steer calves reached 7.50, with comparable quality heifer calves at 6.50.

Today's hog market was fairly active at prices about steady with Thursday's average trade. Shipping demand, however, narrow. Choice medium weight butchers sold up to 9.40.

In the sheep market, killing classes were fully steady. Choice native and range lambs sold up to 8.75, and range ewes brought 3.15@3.75.

FORT WORTH REPORT
FORT WORTH, Nov. 13. (AP)—Hogs 900; top 9.35 paid by small killers; packer top 9.25; packing sows steady. 8.25@8.50.

Cattle 1,800; calves 1,200; load good fed 1,078 lb. steers 8.25 and two loads yearling steers 7.75; bulk of beef cows 3.50@4.25; good slaughter calves 4.75@5.50.

Sheep 400; receipts mostly lambs selling steady; fat lambs 7.50@8.25; feeder lambs 6.00@7.00.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Further rough weather was encountered by the stock market today and many recent leaders were taken down for losses of fractions to 2 points and a few much more.

A smattering of specialties, including merchandising and amusement issues, managed to weather the gale but most of these were barely hanging on the rail at the close.

While extra dividends and favorable earnings statements were again plentiful, brokers said that, with the "good news" out in respect to the majority of important corporations, traders were inclined to stand aside and wait for fresh portents in the speculative skies.

Word from President Roosevelt that authorities were studying the possible need of new legislation to control foreign buying of American securities, which has been occasionally large in the past several weeks, also was thought to have promoted some selling from those who saw unpleasant implications in a potential dumping move from abroad.

As it was, the market stuttered from the start and was generally incoherent throughout the session. A heavy selling wave in the final hour put the ticker tape about 3 minutes behind floor transactions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .7 of a point at 71.2. Transfers totaled 2,482,250 shares against 2,581,710 yesterday.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13. (AP) — A last minute advance in prices brought the cotton market up to close at net gains of nearly 50 cents a bale today.

The upturn took place after options had held lower for most of the day under active selling of distant months. The December position was an exception to the trend, holding higher and ending with the best advance, a gain of 9 points. This position finished at 11.59. March closed at 11.55, while May at 11.51 and Oct. at 12.06 bid showed smaller gains.

Strength in near positions gave the market a jagged appearance. There was little activity, however.

There was a dearth of news that could directly be interpreted as a cotton price making factor.

Weather was almost ideal for harvesting the remnants of the crop. Temperatures were higher, and aside from scattered rains in the eastern part of the belt where the cotton has already been picked there was little unfavorable precipitation.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 13. (AP)—Cotton turned steadier today as liquidation moderated and the market responded to an improved technical position.

March rallied from 11.53@11.63 but met increased hedge selling and closed at 11.56 with final prices generally net unchanged to 7 points higher.

At the highs, the market showed net gains of 8 to 12 points except next October, which was 2 higher. Final quotations were off 2 to 7 points from the best.

Exports today 50,428, making a total of 1,915,613 for the season.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, Nov. 13. (AP)—Wheat rose 1⅛ cents a bushel maximum today, and held most of the gain.

Probable curtailment of Australian wheat production is figured at 10,000,000 bushels compared with a year ago.

Chicago's wheat futures closed firm, ⅝ to ¾ above yesterday's finish. Dec. 1.15⅞@1.16, May 1.13½, July 98⅞@1.00, corn unchanged to ½ higher, Dec. 1.02¾@1.02½, May new 85⅞@86, July new 92⅝@92¾, and rye unchanged to 1⅛ up. Dec. 89. The provisions outcome was 5 to 10 cents bulge.

Corn, oats, rye and provisions all borrowed strength from wheat, despite liberal receipts of corn here, 162 cars today. Some buying of corn was due to reports of Ohio distillers competing with Chicago for corn at Ohio points.

December rye advanced to a new top for the season. Chicago dealers made efforts to purchase Canadian rye, and found practically none for sale.

FORT WORTH REPORT
FORT WORTH, Nov. 13. (AP)—Demand for grain continued fair here today. Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 1.34½@1.35½; barley No. 2 nom. 96@98; sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom. 1.80@1.85; No. 2 white kafir nom. 1.78@1.80; corn, shelled, No. 2 white 1.15½@1.17½; oats No. 2 red 34½@35½.

Rumania Fears Armament Plan

Statement Announced From Dual Monarchy Powers Initiates Misgivings Of Transylvania Annexation Demand

VIENNA, Nov. 13. (AP)—A frank tri-power statement of Austro-Hungarian "right to rearm" stirred uneasiness today in Rumania.

Rumanians, hearing the news that the countries once ruled by the dual monarchy had entered the ranks of rearming nations under the protecting influence of Italy, showed concern lest Hungarian remilitarization might not be a prelude to a demand for re-annexation of some sections to Transylvania.

(This former principality, eastern part of the Austro-Hungarian empire, was made a part of Rumania after the World war.)

percent in wholesale prices for dressed turkeys, compared with prices a year ago, featured trading on the New York market today," Finley said.

"Prices for No. 1 top grade southwestern dressed turkeys are from 21 to 22 cents at New York," he said. "A year ago they ranged between 27 and 28 cents, setting a new high for five years. The Texas market last Thanksgiving was from 17 to 18 cents to producers. This year it is from 11 to 12 cents.

Supply Too Great

"The increase in the consumer purchasing power this year over last year was more than offset by the large supply of marketable birds on southwestern ranges and in other turkey growing sections. The large supplies of chickens and other meats also affected the prices of turkeys."

Finley also said the production forecast issued by the United States Department of Agriculture Oct. 28 reflected in the wholesale prices of turkeys on the New York Exchange.

Last year, he said approximately 15,000,000 turkeys were produced in the United States and this year the government estimates more than 20,000,000 turkeys would be raised.

Rebels Beaten Before Madrid

Strong Air Force Encounters Insurgent Bombers; Several Planes Shot Down; 70 Ships Hidden By Socialists

to earth in the first insurgent aerial attack of the day, the government announced.

In swift retaliation, the insurgent bombers reloaded, darted back on Madrid and bombed the Montana barracks, housing thousands of troops.

Then they blasted a long line of fortifications.

Fourteen large bombs streaked to earth in the second raid, five of them crashing through the barracks buildings.

Sky Fight Spectacular

Ten speedy government pursuit ships took the air against the invaders—three bombers and six fighting ships—and drove them off after a spectacular dog fight.

The earlier aerial battle left the government leaders exultantly proclaiming they at least had "supremacy" in the air.

A dozen fascist attacking planes, apparently intent on repeating previous deadly bombardments of Madrid proper, suddenly ran into a roaring formation of nine government ships.

Every Trick In Lexicon

Throttles open, the opposing pilots dived, barrel-rolled, and fought it out thousands of feet over the heads of gaping Madrid citizens. Observers who knew something about flying were agreed that just about every trick known to fighting pilots had been used.

Clipping volleys from machine guns in the government ships brought down two fascist planes in full view of the house-top watchers.

Out of control, with motor still snarling, one of the fascist planes crashed in flames in the courtyard of the government barracks in Rosales street.

Running Fight Results

The government announced that their pilots pursuing the fleeing fascists dived on the tails of four other ships, and shot them down behind their own lines.

REGULARITY

Your carrier boy buys his papers wholesale and sells them at retail. His earnings depend entirely on collections. You can help him by paying him promptly each week.

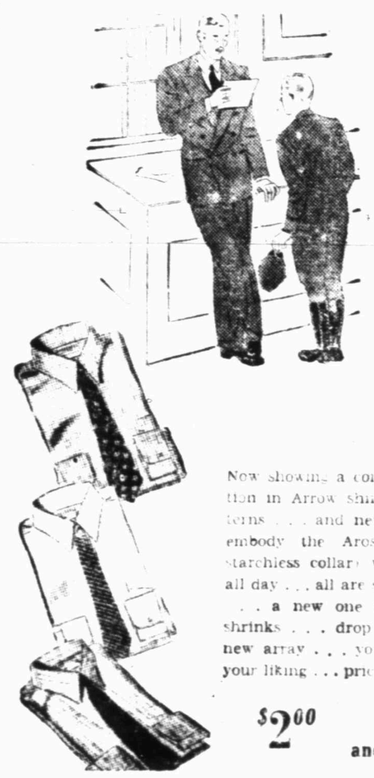

PUNCTUALITY is an important part of the training that your carrier boy is undergoing. Both in his school work and in his task of delivering your daily paper regularity is emphasized and required. This boy is one of 588,000 boys in this country who are engaged in the sale and distribution of newspapers. Their task requires less than an hour and a half a day, but in it they are receiving training in the fundamentals of business.

The newspaper boy of today is receiving an education plus. His task and his school work go hand in hand, supplementing each other and developing him along the lines that will be most beneficial to him in the future. It has been found that the close co-operation which now exists between newspaper and educational authorities is a most efficient and effective means of producing boys of the highest character and intelligence.

Grange Offers 4 Suggestions

Program Would Include Uses Of Education, Build Rural Organizations, Seek Greater Income, Secure Justice

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13. (AP)—A four-point program through which he said farmers could achieve by their effort improved rural conditions was presented today by L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange.

Speaking to farmers of the country over a national radio hookup as well as members attending the organization's 70th annual meeting, Taber urged farmers to:

"1—Use the power of education and research to understand our problems.

"2—Build rural organizations sufficiently strong to defend the interest of agriculture.

Constructive Program

"3—Through collective bargaining and cooperative marketing bring to agriculture its share of the consumer's dollar.

"4—Secure legislation and economic justice in the essentially American way, through orderly processes, democratic institutions and control."

The Grange, Taber said, will demand a larger share of the nation's income, a price structure that will enable the farmer to pay his debts, to buy the supplies of city and town and to enjoy a standard of living equivalent to that of the rest of the land.

bus to the city. That night she came home looking wilted and perplexed. She had realized in the course of that jumbled day behind a counter of crockery that, after paying bus fare and buying luncheon for six days, there would be practically nothing left of her meager salary. It was a sign of her intelligence that she quit the job at once, leaving it for a girl closer at hand.

"We'll try to sell more pies and cakes to the Exchange," she told Caroline. "And I'll work up a cottage cheese route!"

The latter venture proved promising. After a day of canvassing friends and acquaintances and even strangers in town, Kate came home with the good news that she had orders for 23 pints and 5 qaurts of cheese to be delivered every Saturday.

"That's wonderful," Caroline said. "Was it awfully hard, Kate, asking people to buy?"

"I haven't much pride left," Kate andswered. "If our troubles have taught me anything, they've taught me the cheapness of false pride. But one thing I couldn't do, Caroline. I couldn't sell or deliver stuff at the Prentiss and Elwell back doors."

"Well I should say not!" Caroline exclaimed, all sympathy. "I'd rather see you peddling at Meed Meadows!"

"There's an idea!" Kate said with a sharp laugh. "Why not take on 'Jeff, the Surly Mountaineer' as a customer! He has to eat."

"Why, yes," Caroline agreed. Kate was always amazing her.

Journalism Fraternity Holds Convention In Dallas Friday

DALLAS, Nov. 13. (AP)—Carl P. Miller, president of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, emphasized the growing importance of the organization in its field here today.

Miller condemned unionization of editorial employes and said the Sigma Delta Chi is forming principles governing employment conditions of journalists but should not seek to "choke those principles down anyone's throat."

All 39 undergraduate chapters of the organization had delegates present. Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university, welcomed delegates.

Corsicana Sheriff's Office Gets Check For Citation 23 Years Following Execution

CORSICANA, Nov. 13. (AP)—Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse received a check from a Galveston attorney today for $1.50 in payment of the serving of two citations in Navarro county by the sheriff's office, April 15, 1913, more than 23 years ago.

W. L. Pevehouse of Blooming Grove, father of the present sheriff here, was sheriff of Navarro county at the time and coincidentally, was here today when the check due him arrived.

Rural Electrical Plans Bolstered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—Rural Electrification Administrator Morris L. Cooke announced today allotment of $2,739,500 for rural electric line construction in nine states.

The funds will be used to build about 2,400 miles of line to serve approximately 9,000 rural customers in Oklahoma, and Texas.

The allotments included:

Texas—$256,000 to city of Bryan to extend present municipal system by about 260 miles for 850 customers; $80,000 to cooperative Panola and Harrison counties to build 84 miles to serve 322 customers.

Buildings weighing 4000 tons and having five stories have been successfully moved.

BLACK-DRAUGHT HIGH IN QUALITY WITHOUT BEING HIGH IN PRICE

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packaged and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow to the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted, with out real loss of good medicinal quality.

For a good, purely vegetable laxative, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package.—Adv.

Nominees For ABC Are Put

Junior High School Group Is Guest, And Negro Singers Appear; Carroll Thompson, School Principal, Talks

Candidates from whom members of the American Business club Friday will name officers for the coming term, were selected yesterday by the club at its regular session at noon. A report of the nominating committee was accepted.

Several musical numbers were presented by choruses of Junior High school. A group of 21 boys, under the direction of Miss Frances Clark, music teacher, sang. Eight other boys, with Mrs. M. E. Ware, teacher, sang and a chorus of 23 girls appeared in two numbers. Miss Clark was pianist.

The nominating committee report was made by Clarence Wiginton, W. L. Hester and Dr. M. M. Ewing, all past presidents.

Nominations Made

Nominations were: for president, M. M. Ewing, J. D. McPhaul and Hugh Anderson; first vice president, William Collins and Russell Redding; second vice president, H. B. Bryan and J. C. Maisen; secretary-treasurer, Leland Payne; sergeant-at-arms, John B. Rountree and Truman Meinecke.

Carroll Thompson, principal of Junior High, told of the work his school is attempting this year. The school, which has sixth, seventh and eighth grades, is affiliated with the state department of education. "Education," he explained "is the development of the better nature of the child."

The greatest waste in the world, Thompson said, is "ignorance."

A negro quartet from Lane college, Nashville, Tenn., sang.

New Process For Recovering Invaluable Metal From Big Texas And New Mexico Beds Explained By Scientists

BY STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13. — A new process for recovering potash—vital constituent of explosives and fertilizers—from domestic resources abundant in Texas and New Mexico was reported today to the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

In a group paper four chemists described the method as "flash evaporation" of a mixture of polyhalite through which they said potash supplies are readily available.

Deposits In Texas Rich

Polyhalite, a mineral, occurs in great quantities in the Southwest. The authors were Joseph P. Creagh of South Charleston, W. Va., Joseph H. Koffolt and James R. Whitrow of Ohio State university, and A. C. Fieldner of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The work they declared, constituted a further step toward the dependence of the United States on its own natural resources should other countries of the world continue their trend toward economic nationalism.

Manganese Discovery, Too

The opposite course, it was pointed out, is the tendency toward free world trade as embodied in the reciprocal tariff agreements now being promoted by the United States to encourage mutual inter-course between nations.

During the World war and before, the United States obtained its potash from foreign sources, Creagh and his co-authors said.

Other engineers added that another process had recently been devised by the bureau of mines for producing manganese, a metal vitally necessary in producing modern alloy steel, from low-grade manganese deposits in western states. Manganese formerly was imported from foreign countries, particularly Russia.

Perhaps it's Foot Saver's finer workmanship that gives your foot a smarter, younger air . . . perhaps it's their Shortback fit (heels that cling glove-like while toes are comfortable) . . . perhaps it's the restful support they bring your arches. Personally, we think it's the combination that gives you the most joyous shoes you've ever worn . . . FOOT SAVERS FOR FALL!

An Ordinary Shoe . The toe may be roomy but the heel gapes at the back and sides. Hard on your foot—and your stockings.

Shortback Foot Savers Cling like a glove to your heel and instep without heel pads or special fitting. Yet your toes are comfortable!
