Eight In Bar Perish In Fire

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Eight persons were killed and a dozen injured Saturday afternoon when a lighted gasoline can was tossed into a crowded bar, fire officials said.

Earnest James Burton Jr., 24, an employe of the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation, was charged with eight counts of murder, 10 counts of attempted murder and one count of arson, said Dist. Atty. George Joseph of Lehigh County.

SIX CRITICAL

Joseph said Burton walked into a police station six blocks from the bar and turned himself in 23 minutes after the fire started.

Six of the injured were listed in critical condition. The other six, including a policeman and a fireman, were treated for smoke inhalation.

Fire Chief Melvin Keyser said the Caboose Bar, a three-story brick building, was severely damaged by the fire, which was brought under control in 20 minutes.

EJECTED FROM CLUB

Deputy Fire Chief James Thompson said: "From my understanding, it was a firebombing. The man had been ejected from the club, got the gasoline and returned."

Thompson said there were about 20 persons in the bar at the time of the incident.

Police said patrons of the bar fled to the rear of the building when the gasoline burst into flame and were trapped by a door that was bolted from the inside. Firemen had to chop through the door to gain access, officers said.

The World At-A-Glance

GRACEHAM, Md. (AP) — Edgar Emrich enjoyed his first cup of breakfast coffee in months Saturday without the accompaniment of 10 million birds on the wing. Emrich owns the 60-acre pine grove which the blackbirds, starlings and grackles picked for a roosting area in increasing numbers since November. The birds have annoyed this rural hamlet's 400 residents by flocking noisily to the woods at sunset. In the morning they take off en masse to seek food from chicken houses, fields and cattle feeders. Efforts by men and machines Friday night to scare the birds out of their roosts appeared 75-80 per cent successful Saturday. The attack was a mixed display of shotgun blasts, explosive devices, recorded bird distress shrieks and ultrasonic frequency waves.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Mariner 10 space probe, which scouted Venus last month, is about to take man's closest-ever look at small, mysterious Mercury. Hurling toward Mercury at 27,000 miles an hour, the spacecraft should send back thousands of photographs of the planet nearest the sun. It will fly closest to Mercury on Friday, about 540 miles above the surface. The first televison photos were received Saturday at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, control center for the mission. JPL spokesmen said that even at a distance of 3½ million miles, Mariner's first pictures should show much more detail than seen in any photo taken from Earth telescopes.

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle, the former president of the United Mine Workers Union who once testified "I am afraid only of Almighty God," goes on trial here Monday, charged with ordering the assassination of a rebellion union rival over four years ago. The 72-year-old Boyle, who attempted suicide last fall, faces three counts of murder in the shootings of Joseph "Jock" Yablonski, his wife, Margaret, and daughter Charlotte, on Dec. 31, 1969. Eight others already have confessed or have been convicted in the killings.

HERALD WINS FIRSTS — The Big Spring Herald won first place in Texas in the Associated Press Managing Editor's contest for team effort and headlines. Walt Finley, wire editor, who won first in headlines for the second straight year, is shown looking over the picture section of the team effort entry on the storm last September. Tommy Hart, managing editor, Danny Valdes, photographer, and Marj Carpenter, reporter who along with John Edwards, reporter (see inset) worked into the night giving first hand coverage to the local storm, are shown above.

'Team Effort' Wins Awards For Herald In News Contests

Big Spring Herald staffers combined their talents to win one of the paper's biggest prizes in the 1973-74 Associated Press Managing Editor's annual contest Saturday, a first place in "team effort."

The story, headlined "Two Die, 29 Injured By Tornadic Winds," concerned the detailed account the newspaper carried of the Sept. 4 storm which struck here.

In addition, wire editor Walt Finley who, of course, had a role in the reportorial-pictorial-editing job done on the massive storm, also captured first place in headline writing with his March 14 banner, "Nag, Nag, Nag, Day After Day for 3 Years."

EXTRA, EXTRA

It was the second straight year Finley had gained such an honor. In the 1973 contest, his headline, "How High Now, Ground Cow?" claimed a first place. Two years ago, a headline he wrote won a second place.

The Herald staff, with reporters Marj Carpenter, John Edwards and photographer Danny Valdes in the field, working far into the night after the lethal storm hit the Big Spring area shortly before sundown Sept. 4 That particular paper became a souvenir item with many people and caused management to print hundreds of extra papers to meet demands. Even the extras disappeared in a hurry.

WALT'S BAIT

The story with Walt's winning headline was over the following scoop:

Edward Rooney ate horsemeat for three years, thinking it was beef, and loved it. Then he got the news in the morning paper.

"Surprise, Edward, That's Really NOT Beefsteak," read the Portland Oregonian's front page headline.

In the story that followed, Delores Rooney confessed she had conspired with her nine children to make "dad" think those steaks, chops and roasts were beef when they were horsemeat.

SURPRISE

A picture showed Mrs. Rooney buying horsemeat at a Portland market where a reporter interviewed her. Mrs. Rooney said the price of horsemeat is about one-fourth that of beef.

"It was more of a surprise than a shock. The more I thought about it, the less I thought about it," said Rooney, a high school math teacher and basketball coach.

Student Council At Runnels Lauded

Runnels Junior High student council was named the outstanding junior high council in the district at the West Texas Regional Forum held there Saturday. This was the second year in a row that they earned this honor. Andrews High School was named the outstanding high school student council in the district. Runnels also captured the school safety award, with Big Spring High second.

Alpine was elected the president school for next year with Kermit winning vice president; Crane, secretary and Permian of Odessa, parliamentarian.

Tony Ortiz from Howard College gave the keynote address. Close to 400 students attended the all-day event with many favorable comments on the numbers from CR 74 presented in the morning session.

Officers of the winning Runnels council include Steve Cannon, president, Donnie Knight, vice president; Robin Newsom, secretary; Anthony Wright, treasurer; and Jeannie Speegle, reporter. Their sponsors are Mrs. Carlene Barron and Miss Lila Williams.

Officers of the winning Andrews council include Andy Ervin, president; Joe Carroll, vice president and Lee Ann Irwin, secretary. Their sponsor is Michael Fetner.

White House Slaps 'Hush Money' Item

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — The White House indicated Saturday it will not consider surrendering 42 taped conversations sought for the House impeachment inquiry until the Judiciary Committee defines its charges against President Nixon and specifies "what materials are wanted and why."

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler issued a formal statement denying a published report that the White House would turn over tapes of the 42 presidential conversations next week.

"We continue to feel it is essential that the committee first define the charges and be specific on what materials are wanted and why."

Ziegler also assailed a report in the Los Angeles Times, attributed to congressional and other sources, that Nixon's taped conversation with former White House counsel John W. Dean III clearly showed that the President did not disapprove of the payment of hush money to Watergate defendants.

The White House spokesman said "the malicious intentions of the individuals who planted this story are clear" and that the report "cannot help but influence the White House attitude with respect to providing additional materials in the future" to the Judiciary Committee.

A recording of the Nixon-Dean conversation was one of 19 tapes provided to the committee as well as to special prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Ziegler said no decision has been made to provide additional tapes to the committee.

West Texas Water Program Pushed

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe declared Saturday that Texas is "not going to have a state income tax for as long as I am governor."

Briscoe spoke to the '974 meeting of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors and also presented first place awards in the groups' news contest.

Briscoe, who is seeking reelection, also said there will be no new taxes for 1974, reiterating a pledge he made before his first term in 1972.

PAY PENALTY

It is believed his statement on taxes is the first of his current campaign.

The governor also said Texas must achieve a program to provide water for deficient areas of West Texas.

"Not only can we do this but we must do this. We must do it or pay a severe penalty in the not too distant future," he said.

Briscoe's speech was in the format of answers to questions he usually is asked. Some of the questions he used appeared to be similar to ones raised by his Democratic primary opponent Frances Farenthold.

On whether he considers his financial disclosure statement to be adequate, the Uvalde rancher-banker said he does because it disclosed "everything required by the new law to determine if public officials have possible or actual conflicts of interest."

GOOD JOB

Briscoe said, "That is the intent of the law. The intent is not to ascertain a person's net worth, which has nothing to do with his ability to do a good job in public office."

The editors, who adjourned their meeting Saturday afternoon, also heard from U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., who praised the press and pledged to help keep its freedom.

"The things that happened in Watergate are things that might have been swept under the carpet in another country," Bentsen said.

Bentsen has proposed a qualified newsman's "shield" law which he said protects the newsman from forced disclosure of confidential sources except in questions of national security and criminal acts.

John Anderson, managing editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, said the Texas AP editors are fragmented in their opinions about shield laws. Anderson said some want to "stand only on the First Amendment" others want an unqualified shield bill and others endorse a qualified shield bill.

Absentee Voting In Races Drag

Absentee voting for the school board race totaled 24 late Friday with 22 voting in the college trustee election and seven voting in the county school board race.

Absentee voting in these three categories is held at the county clerk's office, and absentee voting in the city council race is under way at City Hall.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

It figured. Spring officially arrived Wednesday, just hours before that zipper from the north that most old timers had feared. Temperatures dipped to the mid and upper 20-s and likely this delt fruit prospects a crippling blow. What accentuated the sharp stab was the unseasonably balmy March readings nearing the 90-mark which set daily temperature records day after day. Nearly everything, except the wiley natives like mesquite, popped out and lawns began to green. This prompted residents here (and in the area) to turn on the sprinklers so that the Colorado River Municipal Water District reported water deliveries for the first half of March were up 46 per cent over the same period a year ago.

China Admits Seizing Crew

TOKYO (AP) — Peking announced Saturday it captured an armed Soviet helicopter and its three-man crew, and charged they were engaged in "espionage activities" on the Sino-Soviet border.

The Chinese also said that Russia made at least 61 "air intrusions" over Sinkiang Province in the past 14 months.

There was no immediate reaction from Russia, which claimed earlier the helicopter was on a medical mission when it strayed over the border in bad weather and ran out of gas.

The latest incident increased tensions along the Communist giants' 4,000-mile common border where Russia and China each are reported to have about a million troops. In 1969 they clashed along the frontier over disputed territories in southern Siberia.

Big Springers Are Gun-Ho!!!

Big Spring citizens are real gun enthusiasts. And by that we don't mean that anybody is plotting a crime wave or a revolution.

We simply mean they are gun enthusiasts. The Texas Rangers in honor of their 150th anniversary have put out sets of commemorative guns and knives.

One of the Texas Rangers specials is a $1,055 Winchester cased "trapper" rifle. There are only 150 of them made for the entire state. Thirty two of them have been sold in Big Spring. Governor Doolph Briscoe has five and the Ranger museum has five, so we would say that Big Spring has far way more than their share.

Mrs. Aubrey Weaver at their pawn shop on Main has sold those 32 Winchesters in Big Spring and also has sold many other Texas ranger specials. In fact Capt. Bill WLilson, who will become the official top ranger on April 1 said that "If we ever name any women rangers, we we'll include Mrs. Weaver."

Among the other items sold have been cased tomahawks, bowie knives, bronze and silver medallion sets, and other guns made especially for the Texas Ranger anniversary.

ONE OHM — This one ohm resistor and standard cell is kept in mineral oil to keep it exact, so that it can be used as a lab standard at PMEL. Lonnie Raney and Lt. Howard Simmons are shown looking at the cell which can be sent off to a higher level lab if necessary without sending all of the expensive equipment in the background.

They Never Catch Up At Cleanest Place In Town

By MARJ CARPENTER

The cleanest place in Big Spring is probably the PMEL Lab at Webb Air Force Base.

It has to be. Even a speck of dust can alter the tests conducted there on expensive testing equipment.

Everybody who enters the lab must wear a sterilized white medical attendant's coat. And they must run their shoes through special equipment that removes all dirt from the shoe soles.

Back in the years before the lab had equipment to clean off the shoes, everybody had to put white cloth cases over their shoes before entering the lab.

WHAT IS IT?

The letters PMEL stand for Precision Measurement Equipment Lab. Equipment worth close to a quarter million dollars when it was purchased, and now probably worth six or eight times that much, is used to test many different kinds of equipment against the National Bureau of Standards.

They check out much of the electronic equipment that supports the aircraft at Webb. In fact, they have a directory that tells them how long each piece of equipment can go without being checked out. Eventually nearly everything is run through that lab for a checkup.

The importance of equipment being set upon a national standard became especially noticeable with the space flights. Labs such as the one at Webb and at air bases all over the country, keep all equipment measured to the national standards up to micro inches and one portion in 10 million in other measuring systems.

RADIO-ACTIVE EQUIPMENT

The lab has a microwave section, and they even have a radio-active section with equipment that measures both gamma and alpha rays. The base radio-active equipment in case of any remote possibilities of nuclear fallout. The alpha radio-active measuring devise is kept in a wooden box since it won't penetrate a normal healthy skin, but the gamma devise is kept in a more protected area.

One area of the lab had a large granite rock which they were checking to be sure it was flat, according to national standards. Looking flat and being flat, according to the standards are two different things. Just a little pressure with one finger can change the status of the slab. This is in a section of the lab where mechanical and dimensional standards are callibrated.

TIGHT SECURITY

To get into the outside office entrance, a person must signal throngh a locked door. Equipment is left in the outer office. To get into the lab itself, there must be special permission and special precautions to be sure no dirt or dust infiltrates the lab.

The need for the complicated labs came about, of course, with the increasing complicatedness of modern day aircraft, its navigational equipment, the land equipment, radio equipment and all other equipment connected with it.

Two military men and four civilians do the work in the lab. At least part of the civilian group are former military and most were trained at the same school in Colorado.

Other military take care of the outside office and security and much bookwork.

There is a section of the lab that tests thermometers, another where gas pressure is checked, and many other highly technical sections.

KEEP AN OPEN BOOK

There are around 1000 manuals listing the procedures that they must use in testing the equipment and the military regulations include a requirement that a manual must be open when conducting the test.

This regulation is because the military knows that nobody could possibly memorize all of the technical manuals and keep them updated in their mind.

The lab has been at Webb since 1959. There are other labs on the base that are easier for the laymen to undersand — such as photo labs and a hospital lab. There is also a base fuel that analyzes all fuel that goes into the jets.

But the most technical lab is the PMEL. It keeps Webb equipment standarized, supports a marine detachment in Midland, and the FAA in the Permian Basin.

Their work is endless. They never catch up. The shelves outside the lab are constantly full of equipment that is waiting for a test. And each test is done with the utmost of human care on expensive and complicated testing equipment.

Safety in today's technical world is not an easy matter. One trip to a lab of this type will point that out.

Bumps, Grinds In Tickey Creek Road May Topple Collin County Government

By JIM BRIGANCE
Associated Press Writer

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — The bone-jarring ruts and holes in Tickey Creek Road are beginning to be felt in the Collin County Courthouse here. Some say the county government may topple.

"It's a goddamned bunch of smoke," shouted County Judge W. G. Proctor, a vinegary, 72-year-old used car dealer. "It's all politics."

This year, of course, is an election year for Proctor and commissioners.

DEATH THREAT

Politics or not, the bumps and grinds in Tickey Creek Road have triggered:

Collin County's first audit;

A death threat against the women who pressed for the audit;

An FBI probe into possible misappropriation of federal property;

An investigation into massage parlor prostitution;

Homeowner suits;

And bitterness.

"I don't know where it (the audit) will lead us," said District Court Judge Tom Ryan. "It was dumped in my lap. There will be an audit."

The controversy in this North Central Texas county began last October when Jo Copmann and Betty Dillingham asked Commissioner Raymond Jenkins what he planned to do about Tickey Creek Road which fronts their homes.

PLOW IT UP

"I'm gonna come out there and plow it up," Mrs. Copmann said Jenkins told her.

Mrs. Dillingham also complained about the corduroy road.

"On Nov. 18 two men came out to my house to measure it for a property re-evaluation," Mrs. Dillingham said.

But, she said, a check with Helen Lawson, the county tax assessor-collector, showed no re-evaluation had been authorized.

Later, Mrs. Copmann said, Jenkins admitted at a meeting that he had compiled an "enemies list" and that re-evaluations were scheduled for those on the list.

Since they said they couldn't get the road repaired, the two women decided to ask for Collin County's first audit to determine if tax dollars were being properly spent on road maintenance.

"We asked the commissioner's court three times for an audit and each time they refused," Mrs. Copmann said.

On Feb. 14 the pair testified before a grand jury which already has instructed Ryan to order an audit.

"The night before we went to the grand jury I got a telephone call," Mrs. Dillingham said. "The woman caller said 'I want you and Mrs. Copmann to be very careful because I have been informed if the commissioners, the judge and the auditor is messed up, you won't be in any condition to get an audit or even live for it. Others have tried. I wouldn't have the guts.' "

Mrs. Dillingham called Sheriff George Smith who escorted the women to the grand jury session the next day. Mrs. Copmann says she now keeps a pistol in her home.

When asked by a newsman why he wouldn't order an audit, Proctor snapped: "What kind of a goddamned question is that? I'm not going to answer it."

OUT OF TOWN

But Proctor did answer that and other questions.

"I've never been opposed to an audit. It's the commissioners. They don't want it. I've never refused to appear before the grand jury either. I'd meet with them right now anytime," he said.

Nevertheless, on the two occasions the jury did ask Proctor to testify he was out of town.

When asked why Collin County has advertised for competitive contract bids, as required by law, only three times last year, despite the multiple thousands of dollars spent on equipment and materials, he waved his hands and said: "It's them. It's the commissioners. That's all their business. I don't do anything but buy a file cabinet once in a while."

"They're stupid," Judge Ryan said. "Just plain stupid. They could have taken care of the audit 90 days ago. It's been dumped on me and I've got enough to do as it is. I don't mind, though. There will be an audit. He (Proctor) is just bullheaded."

'HOT' RECORDS

Ryan said there likely will be a survey audit to determine if Collin County's records are sufficient to audit thoroughly. "We'll just have to see what's there first," he explained.

Recently, however, County Auditor Bill Eubanks had a truck load of county tax records burned. A picture of them being hauled away appeared on the front page of the local newspaper shortly after another published picture of them stashed in a closet at the courthouse.

"I looked at them. They weren't any good," said Mrs. Lawson.

"Well, it was poor timing," Judge Ryan said, "burning records at a time when we're trying to prepare an audit."

Proctor recently had two Dallas television newsmen arrested for filming a commissioners court meeting. They paid $25 fines in the case.

WRONG RUB

When informed of massage parlor prostitution at Renner in South Collin County, Proctor said: "Is that in Collin County? Well, it's none of my affair. That's up to the sheriff. No, I don't plan to say anything to him about it. It's up to him."

State police have launched a probe.

Sheriff Smith said he is working with the district attorney in connection with reports of marijuana at Renner massage parlors. Following an Associated Press story revealing prostitution at Renner he said his office is investigating prostitution also.

SURPLUS PROPERTY

Smith conferred at Tyler two weeks ago with U.S. Attorney Roby Hadden then went to Washington. One source said Smith had said his journey to Washington would "blow the lid of Collin County." Smith said after his return he could not comment on the meetings in Washington.

Hadden confirmed the FBI is investigating the use of federal surplus property in Collin County.

Under law, government entities may purchase surplus property at the Texas Surplus Property Agency in Fort Worth at eight and a half per cent of its fair market value but only for use by the purchasing government body.

Last year, County Fire Marshal-Civil Defense Director Jimmy Belden purchased two surplus military trailers which wound up on the farm of Cimmissioner Jenkins.

Belden denied any wrongdoing or misuse of the property. He said the trailers are "my own personal property that I got through Civil Defense." Belden felt that because he had paid for the trailers with his own money he was authorized to purchase them for his own use.

Jenkins claimed he was caught in the middle. "Belden asked me to pick up those trailers while I was in Fort Worth and I did. He asked me to keep them out at my place because he didn't have any place to store them."

IN MIDDLE

Jenkins denied he had been using the trailers to haul livestock feed on his farm.

"When all that came out (in news stories) I took them back to Jimmy and told him I didn't want them out at my place. I never used them trailers for anything. And that's the truth. You just come to me and I'll always tell you the truth," Jenkins asserted.

GOOD ROAD?

When asked about the confrontation with Mrs. Copmann and Mrs. Dillingham, Jenkins said: "They live in shacks out there on Lake Lavon. They've got a good road. A damned good road. They just want to improve the value of their property."

Mrs. Copmann's husband was a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers officer for 26 years, and their home is in the $30,000 to $40,000 range. Tickey Creek Road is a rutted, potholed washboard road not unlike many others in Collin County.

"You have to have a four-wheeled vehicle to get over a lot of them," Judge Ryan said.

Jenkins seemed unable to say whether he understands Art. 2368a, Sec. 2, the state law governing competitive bidding.

On June 12, 1973 Jenkins sent Spitzer Equipment Co. two $2,000 checks and one for $800. When asked why he had not simply paid the firm one check for $4,300 he replied: "The law won't let you write a check for more than $2,000 without a court order and bids."

"Don't you think you circumvented the law by writing a number of smaller checks adding up to the same total?"

SENT CHECK

"I don't know about that. I don't know anything about the law on that," Jenkins said.

Such entries in the county payout book are common.

IN COLLIN COUNTY PROBE — Collin County Judge W. G. Proctor, left, says he has never opposed an audit of Collin County records to determine if tax dollars were being properly spent. He also commented that he had never refused to appear before a grand jury. District Judge Tom Ryan, right, who has had the audit "dumped" on him, says the audit will be done and they will see where it will lead them.

Pre-Easter Rites By Ex-Newsman

A former newsman, Jack L. Moore, new associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Dallas, will conduct a special series here during pre-Easter services at First Presbyterian at 4th and Runnels.

Services will be held at 7 p.m. from March 31 through Wednesday, April 3. The Rev. Earl Price, local pastor, invites the public to hear "this unusual and interesting speaker."

PEDDLED PAPERS

Moore peddled newspapers on the street corners during the depression, worked as a printer's devil, office boy and reporter for the Jackson, Miss., paper while still in high school.

He worked his way through college as a newspaper stringer and college publicist and in 1949 joined the staff of the University of Southern Mississippi as Sports information director later becoming the director of public relations.

He served in the Marines from 1942-46 seeing action at Guadalcanal, New Georgia and Bougainville. He enlisted as a private and was discharged as a first lieutenant and platoon commander.

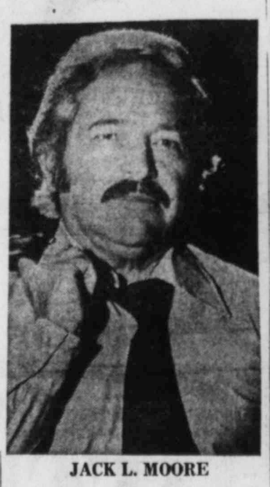

Inactive in church for a number of years he relates, "I came to a deepening meaning of my relationship to God very slowly. I began questing in earnest in the mid 50s and entered the Seminary in 1957."

He graduated from Austin Theological Seminary in 1960 and became pastor of the Alpine Church of Longview. He then served as evangelist for Northeast Texas Presbytery and served as organizing minister of the Ridgeview Church of Dallas, Canyon Creek Church of Richardson and the Masters Church of Dallas. He also organized the John Calvin Church of Metaire, La.

REHAB CENTER

In Dallas, he has been active both in civic work and in church offices in his Presbytery and Synod. He, in Dallas, served six years as volunteer chaplain of the county jail, chaplain for an alcoholic rehab center and was on call as a counselor for Suicide Prevention.

He writes a popular weekly column in the church paper and a monthly column in the Presbyterian Survey called "In a Mirror Dimly."

JACK L. MOORE

Church officers invite the public to share in services conducted by this man.

LOSE A POUND A DAY AND MORE

Vitamin "E" + "C" Discovery Offers Fast Weight Loss

LOS ANGELES (Special) — New scientific discoveries have now produced a Vitamin E Plus "C" diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with glowing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almost as much as you want."

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and even more without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon and eggs and still lose weight.

Full Potency vitamin "E" Plus "C" tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of inggredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wondrous benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

The use of the new Vitamin "E" Plus "C" Diet tablets and foods prescribed in the plan will, through natural action, act to help your body use up excess fat. According to recent clinical tests, a person who is deficient in Vitamin E or Protein "will double the speed of fat utilization" with the use of Vitamin "E" Plus "C".

"E" + "C" DIET AVAILABLE

To get a copy of this highly successful diet and "E" Plus "C" Tablets, send $5.00 for 10 day supply (or $7.00 for 20 day supply or $10.00 for 30 day supply) to: "Diet" 309 N. Kings Rd., Los Angeles, CA 90048 (money-back guarantee if not satisfied). In Calif. add 5% tax. (Advertisement)

Budget Reform Bill Approved In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Friday unanimously passed a budget reform bill completely revamping congressional procedures in an effort to bring federal spending under control.

Sponsors hailed it as one of the most important measures before Congress in years. They said that, under its provisions, Congress for the first time would be able to act on the budget intelligently and wisely.

Some conservatives, however, attacked the measure as weak and largely cosmetic. In four days of debate, they failed in efforts to toughen the new procedures.

CONFERENCE

Senate passage, by an 80-0 vote, sent the bill to conference with the House, which passed its own version last December.

There are differences in the details of the two measures, although each sets up essentially the same framework. But the Senate action virtually guaranteed a budget reform bill will be sent to President Nixon in a month or two.

The bill in effect would require Congress to adopt its own budget each year, setting its own priorities as opposed to what the President recommends. Then there are procedures seeking to guarantee it lives within its budget.

The push for the legislation has come from ever-deepening frustration felt by most legislators in dealing with spending issues in recent years.

FRUSTRATION

The frustration has been fed by the fact that there have been deficits in 16 of the last 20 years, that about 75 per cent of the budget now is considered uncontrollable, that the federal debt has increased $200 billion in the last 20 years with $100 billion of this in the last few years, and that inflation has steadily eroded the value of the dollar.

In Nixon's term of office, open warfare has broken out between the chief executive and Congress over spending issues.

The President has denounced Congress as fiscally irresponsible and has resorted to the wide use of impoundments to enforce his own ideas of priorities.

Congress has charged that the President is seeking to deprive it of its constitutional power to control the purse.

Under its present system, Congress deals with the budget in 14 separate appropriations bills, which are never tied together in any systematic way or related to the expected revenues for the year in question.

The bill would change this drastically.

First, it would provide much more information on spending programs and revenue sources through creation of new budget committees in each branch and a professionally staffed Congressional Office of the Budget, which would serve both sides.

Then, it would set up a detailed new timetable for action on the budget.

SUBMIT DATE

On Feb. 15 each year the President would submit his budget.

On April 15 the Congressional Office of the Budget would make public its detailed analysis of the chief executive's proposals.

On May 1 the budget committees in the Senate and House would send to the floors for debate a resolution that would in effect be a congressional budget.

Abilene Forum Is Held On Proposed 27 Route

ABILENE — Representatives from businesses, education and military bases located along the way gathered here Friday to champion a drive to extend Interstate 27 eastward from Lubbock through Abilene, Houston and Galveston.

Representatives from Austin and Galveston joined Abilene delegates in expressing approval of the proposed route at the Texas Highway Department public hearing.

The Abilene meeting with 300 in attendance was the fifth of a series of public forums sponsored by the State Highway Department to determine the need and the route of an extension of the interstate highway which would connect the Panhandle with the Houston and Galveston area.

The Abilene Chamber of Commerce outlined the reasons it believes the interstate should come through Abilene.

"We must be concerned not with just having a route to move goods," Bob Bailey said, "but we must consider what is happening along the route. Our route will probably reach twice as many towns and people than other routes proposed."

"A prime benefit of this plan," Bailey continued, "is that it goes through Austin. Each city in the state deserves good access to our capital."

The main opposition to the Abilene-Austin route is a route which would follow U.S. 87 from Lubbock through Lamesa, Big Spring, San Angelo and then join I-10 at Junction, proceeding from there to San Antonio to Houston.

This route would not go through Austin.

A spokesman for Dyess Air Force Base outlined advantages of the Abilene-Austin route for the military.

Elwin Skiles, president of Hardin-Simmons, said the Abilene-Austin route would affect 250,000 students along that route — more than on the other major route proposed — as he made note of the colleges and universities from Houston to Amarillo.

ABC Clocks Roy Reeder

A noon luncheon in the Settles Hotel's Crystal Ballroom Friday honored the last charter member, Roy Reeder, of the American Business Club (ABC.)

Some 60 ABC members and guests witnessed Club president Max Green present a clock radio to Reeder and a corsage to his wife, Janie.

Bill Reed, governor of ABC District 6A, also presented a special gift to the founder of Reeder & Associates Insurance Agency.

"We honored a great man. Roy's done many things for our club in many capacities," Green said Friday. Green was also master of ceremonies for the occasion.

Organist Bill Westbrook of Midland entertained the assembly in the ballroom. The ABCs held their charter dinner at the hotel December 2, 1935 and it's now "almost a tradition that we meet there," Green added.

Marie Rowland Real Estate has been contracted to be exclusive brokers in this area for Padre Island Investment Corporation.

'Unknown Doughboy'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — In the dreary, early days of World War II, a spud-peeling buck private refused to pay his $3 income tax. Thirty-two years later, he made amends.

He sent a $10 bill and stamped envelope to the Associated Press bureau here and asked that the money be mailed to the local Internal Revenue Service center.

Signed only "Unknown Doughboy," his letter said the IRA told him in April 1942 that if he didn't pay the $3 they would have to "place me in restraint."

"I wrote back that I was a buck private rear Rank in the 90th Inf. Division, confined to the camp until I lerned the General Orders and pulled KP 15 times. Salary: $21 a month, less laundry and a compulsory 'donation' to the Old Soldier's Home," he said.

He said he wrote, "If you think you can put me in greater restraint than that—HAVE AT IT."

"I regret that I sassed Uncle Whiskers, and herewith is $10 as belated evidence that no fraud is intended."

The AP sent the $10 to the IRS in today's mail.

COFFINS FOR PETS — Isabelle Jennings, secretary and vice president of the Hughes and Chapman Monument Co., Monroe, Conn., holds a coffin for cats and small dogs. The coffin to her left is for larger animals. Mrs. Jennings says she sells about two coffins each week.

Sell Caskets For Pet Birds

MONROE, Conn. (AP) — "Our caskets are pine boxes, with satin-lined foam rubber mattresses, with lace satin blankets and lace covered satin pillows," says Isabell Jennings.

"They serve as both casket and vault, are air tight and water tight and have bronze handles."

And some are only 10 inches long.

For more than a year, the Hughes and Chapman Monument Co. has been selling luxury caskets for pets. The 10-inch casket is designed for a bird.

"If your grandfather died, why would you purchase a casket? Because you love him," said Mrs. Jennings, company vice president. "Our caskets are for pets that are loved."

She said the firm has already sold 170 animal caskets for creatures ranging from caterpillars to dogs, at a cost ranging from $11 to $165.

"We're able to fulfill most requests, but once someone asked for a casket the size of a horse; we couldn't fill that one," Mrs. Jennings said during an interview Wednesday.

She said it's not just the right who bury their pets in caskets, "it's people who love their pets and who don't want them just thrown into the ground."

"I think some people perfer an animal to people," said Mrs. Jennings. "At least an animal doesn't talk back and isn't as much of a headache.

"There was an elderly woman who bought a casket for her dog. It was a poodle. She said the dog was more faithful than both her husbands."

Went 'Beserk' When She Saw 'Husband' Rob Bank

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A Longview, Tex., woman says she went "berserk" when she saw a man she believed to be her husband on television robbing a bank in Memphis, Tenn.

Jim Makarski, 32, an unemployed machinist, was one of two men charged in the Monday $50,000 robbery of a Union Planters National Bank branch.

Mrs. Vicki Makarski said she watched news accounts showing her husband and two men she knew come out of the bank with guns to the heads of the bank manager and two women employes.

DEAD OR WHAT

She heard how dozens of police pursued the getaway car to a department store parking lot, where a TV cameraman sent his car hurtling into the getaway vehicle, ending the chase.

"You turn on your TV in Texas and there's your husband robbing a bank in Memphis," Mrs. Makarski said. "I went beserk. I didn't know if he was dead or what."

ON IMPULSE

Mrs. Makarski said she went to Memphis to investigate with a second Longview woman, Mrs. Nida Jo Aldridge, whose husband Dan, 26, is the second man facing charges in the case.

Police and FBI agents said Clyde Hyde Jr., 43, of Shreveport, La., was the third man involved. When the chase ended, he fatally wounded himself rather than surrender.

CHANGING THE LANDSCAPE — These views show "before, after and success," Chesley M. Wilson, range conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, said. Cleared and seeded land on the left of the road belongs to M. A. Snell and is located north of Big Spring. Cholla cactus, mesquite, Buffalo grass and Tobosa grass were growing on Snell's land, like on the right, before dozing and root plowing. The Carroll Choate place near Signal Mountain illustrates how productive range land can be several years after seeding for native grasses.

Larry Mahan To Curb Rodeo Appearances

DENVER, Colo. — World champion all around cowboy Larry Mahan announced that he is officially "semi-retired" from rodeo, the Roedo Cowboys Association said.

The 30-year-old superstar who last year won a record sixth all around title, and record winnings of $64,447 in the arena for the season, said his rodeo goals have been reached and he plans to embark in other ventures.

"I'm definitely not in the running for a seventh all around," he said. "I'm not sure I could win it if I tried, but I'm not going to try. Instead of going to my usual 120 rodeos, and traveling maybe 150,000 to 200,000 miles this year, I'm only going to enter about 50 of my favorite rodoes."

Mahan said he would like to qualify for the 1974 National Finals Rodeo, if he can win enough money in those 50 rodoes, ,'but I don't think I'll ever win another championship.

"There's no point in going any further," he said. "My original goal was to beat Jim Shoulders' record of five all around titles, and I finally won the sixth last year.

"I'd also like to do a little more rodeo promotion, and now that I'm not going to travel so hard, mabe I'll have more time for it . . . rodeo has given me so much, I feel I'd like to put something back into it."

He already has put a lot into it, an Association spokesman said.

No other cowboy perhaps in the history of rodeo has been responsible for gaining more national attention for a sport that once was considered merely a western pastime. Last year 600 Association-approved rodeos were held in more than 40 states and four Canadian provinces.

Nearly 11 million spectators watched as thousands of pro cowboys won nearly $5 million. Mahan remembers 11 years ago, when he became a full-fledged member of the Association, that prize money was $3.5 million.

"It's still not as rich as it should be, but rodeo is getting better all the time," he said.

Among Mahan's future plans are the completion of an autobiography he is doing with author Doug Hall's assistance, and the producing of a new line of western shirts.

Conviction In Computer Case Reversed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — One of Texas' first convictions for computer crime was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court said Dennis McBride and Verle Byars, convicted by an Abilene jury of conspiracy to commit theft, have the right to a new trial. They had been assessed two-year probated sentences.

McBride and Byers both resigned as employes of Unitab Co. in Abilene on May 30, 1972 and formed their own company in Wichita, Kan., called Air Capital Computing Co. They took some of Unitab's business with them.

Arnold Wagner, a Unitab computer operator, said McBride asked him by telephone on July 15, 1972 to reproduce program decks for customers that had gone over to McBride and Byars and deliver then at a restaurant parking lot in Abilene. Wagner reported the call to his employers, who notified the district attorney, records show.

Meeting Byars at the parking lot, Wagner turned over a box of computer cards and received $40, he testified. Police were signaled and arrested Byars.

Testifying on his own behalf, Byars said there was no conspiracy to steal anything from Unitab. He said McBride merely asked him to pick up an Easy-Code AACLM deck from Wagner.

Texas Ranger Sid Merchant testified that Byars told him he had tried but failed to obtain the cards and other property of customers that had gone over to the Wichita firm.

Merchant's testimony was inadmissible and was grounds for reversal, the court said in its 3-2 decision. It violated Texas' ban of the use of oral confessions in court unless made spontaneously or leading to the fruits of a crime, the court said.

Grass Seeding Sure Makes Sense

"When you consider the cost of land, it is much more economical to apply practices that will help the land produce grass resulting in more pounds of livestock," said Chesley M. Wilson, Soil Conservation Service range conservationist.

"Range seeding has helped many people double their previous carrying capacities," Wilson said.

"Handling and working livestock is easier," Wilson noted.

ROOT PLOWING

"In most instances, seeding of grass is done in conjunction with brush control," Wilson noted.

"Where a dozer has cleared mesquite either by dozing or root plowing, there is a lot of disturbed ground that is ideal to seed grass on."

Grass seed can be broadcast by hand, grass drill or airplane, he said.

In irrigated areas, grasses are seeded in rows where they can be managed for seed production and grazing.

Ninety per cent of the grasses seeded in Howard County are Sideoaks Grama, Blue Grama, King Ranch Bluestem, Switchgrass, Blue Panicum, Green Spangletop and Plains Bristlegrass.

"Adaptation is very important in selecting grasses to plant," he explained.

"Plants that grow in warmer climates do not often survive colder climates, and the opposite also applies."

BIG DIFFERENCE

With some plants, as little as 200 miles can make a difference in plant survival, Wilson said.

"K. R. Bluestem, on the other hand, can be planted in a variety of climates and rainfall patterns.

In Howard County, he said, the necessity of rainfall for seed germination must be considered.

"Controlling weeds that seek moisture out from under seedlings is usually very important to seedling survival. Weeds should be controlled by chemicals," Wilson said.

Move To Ax Airline Suit

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Fort Worth and Dallas Friday moved to dismiss their federal lawsuit to keep commuter flights at the Dallas Fort Worth Airport.

The suit, filed against Braniff, Texas International and American Airlines for $3.5 million, seeks to force Braniff to move all flights back to DFW Airport and to keep Texas International from moving some flights to Dallas Love Field April 15.

American is listed in the suit because the cities claim the company has not paid all its debts to the new airport.

Although a motion to dismiss was filed before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Eldon Mahon Friday, and he is expected to act affirmatively on it Monday, indications are efforts to keep the flights out of Dallas' Love Field will continue.

Dallas City Atty. Alex Bickley has said, "we're going to do everything we can to take care of that situation. I just can't tell you what our plans are."

The airlines had contested the federal court's jurisdiction.

Bickley said the cities "could fight this out for a long time just on the jurisdictional question alone."

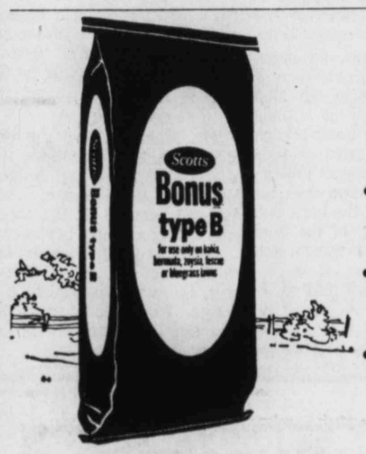

Fort Worth Mayor R. M. Stovall also declined to comment on future court tactics.

He said the decision to drop the suit was made last Monday in New Orleans where Fort Worth City Atty. S. G. Johndroe Jr. argued before the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals against Southwest Airlines. The judge there allowed Southwest to remain at Love Field because it has only intrastate operations.

BLOW WIND, BLOW — Rex Curtis, Springdale, Ark., and four Oklahoma men have developed a car they say could help solve the fuel shortage. The electric car will use a windmill to charge batteries.

'We Go When Wind Blows'

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — Rex Curtis of Springdale and four Oklahoma men have developed a car they say could help solve the fuel shortage. Their slogan is: "We go when the wind blows."

The electric car, which the men said will be ready for trial runs in about 45 days, will use a windmill to charge batteries.

They gave these details:

When the driver parks for any length of time while the wind is blowing, he will pull a lever and a windmill will pop up on top of the car. It will operate a generator to charge the batteries. A small electric motor will retract the windmill when not in use.

A small, lightweight gasoline engine will charge batteries while the car is being driven or when the wind is not blowing.

The car should be able to go about 50 miles without a recharge at speeds of 30 to 50 miles per hour, Curtis and his codesigners said.

Curtis said he and his colleagues plan to manufacture the pop-up windmills to be sold with motors and all other accessories required to convert any small compact car to an electric car.

The Oklahoma men involved in the venture are Everett Wellman of Oklahoma City, a mechanical engineer; William R. Avey of Oklahoma City, owner of a tool and grinding service; Rex Carmichael of Yukon, an automobile dealer and body shop owner; and Marvin McInnis of Oklahoma City, head of an engineering firm.

Death Penalty Bill Vetoed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Milton Shapp has vetoed a bill to restore the death penalty in Pennsylvania.

Shapp acted only 15 minutes before the legislation would have automatically become law Friday night.

Attempts to override the veto will be made in the legislature. Ten days ago it gave the bill overwhelming approval, passing the Senate 44-4 and the House 169-19.

Sen. Robert A. Rovner of Bucks County predicted an override attempt would be successful.

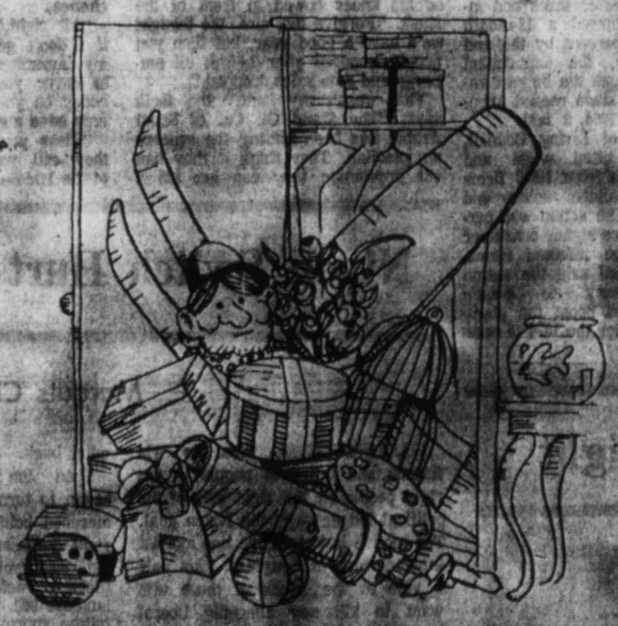

The legislation would require death in the electric chair for persons convicted of murder in nine situations, including the slaying of a policeman or prison guard, killing during a kidnapping, robbery or other felony, and murder involving torture.

Shapp said he would sign a capital punishment bill applying to a more limited set of situations in which the death penalty appeared "the only available effective deterrent" to crime.

But he said the legislature's bill went beyond those criteria, reflecting a philosophy of vengeance.

Disturbing Attitude

An overwhelming majority of high school students in the United States think public officals are dishonest in some way.

This is the disturbing finding of a survey of 74,000 high school students conducted by Scholastic Magazine. The percentage of these young people who believe public officals are in some ways dishonest is a staggering 88 per cent.

The breakdown of that 88 per cent:

A total of 40 per cent believe MOST public officials are dishonest in some way, while 48 per cent think many, but not most, are dishonest. Only a pitifully few 12 per cent feel that NONE are dishonest.

Scholastic's findings were a result of one of the magazine's periodic survey among junior and senior high students.

How do these same students rate themselves on the honesty scale? To quote from the survey:

"When these same students were asked what they would do if they had an opportunity to cheat on an important exam and believed they would not be caught, 45 per cent said they would not cheat in any case, 37 per cent said they didn't know and only 18 per cent said they would cheat.

"On the subject of cheating on income taxes, 48 per cent think it is a serious offense, 33 per cent a moderately serious offense and only 19 per cent view cheating on income tax as a minor offense."

Granted that chicanery and sometimes corruption have been present in the American political system since the founding of the republic — some historians claim the great Daniel Webster was on the take — we must realize that this is probably only an extension of society as a whole. Today's ratio — and we are convinced it is a minor one — is probably no greater, merely subject to far greater exposure thanks to modern media.

The tragedy is that what young people are saying is perhaps a reflection of what their elders are saying. It is a grave mistake to lapse into the easy out of generalizing that dishonesty in public life is inevitable and acceptable, and that no one really can be trusted. Merchants are not dishonest because one here and there cuts a corner; bankers are not dishonest because one out of thousands may defalcate. Although we put great pressures for favor on our public servants, the ratio is probably no greater. We need to reassure ourselves and our young people on this, because we cannot trade idealism for fatalism.

Openness Is Best

About a year ago the House of Representatives decided that henceforth committees must either open their sessions to the public or vote publicly to close a give session. This has had a salubrious effect. The House is now being far less secretive than before in conducting its business. That is all to the good, since the business of the House is in the last analysis the public business.

The Senate rejected this reform at the time the House adopted it and the figures dramatize the consequent difference since the House rules took effect. Last year only 10 per cent of all House committee meetings were held behind closed doors. In the Senate, 25 per cent of the committee sessions were held in secret.

That difference is all the more significant in light of the fact that in the past, the House has tended to be more secretive than the Senate.

The general argument that openness serves the public interest is hard to contradict.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

During the past three years of our marriage, my husband has become cold and indifferent to my feeings. What is worse than that he rebuffs all my efforts to clear up whatever is between us. I've asked him to read Ephesians — where it sets out the Christian relationship between husband and wife. He laughs at that. Now there's rumor of an affair. Should we separate? I hate to do it because I love him. T.J.

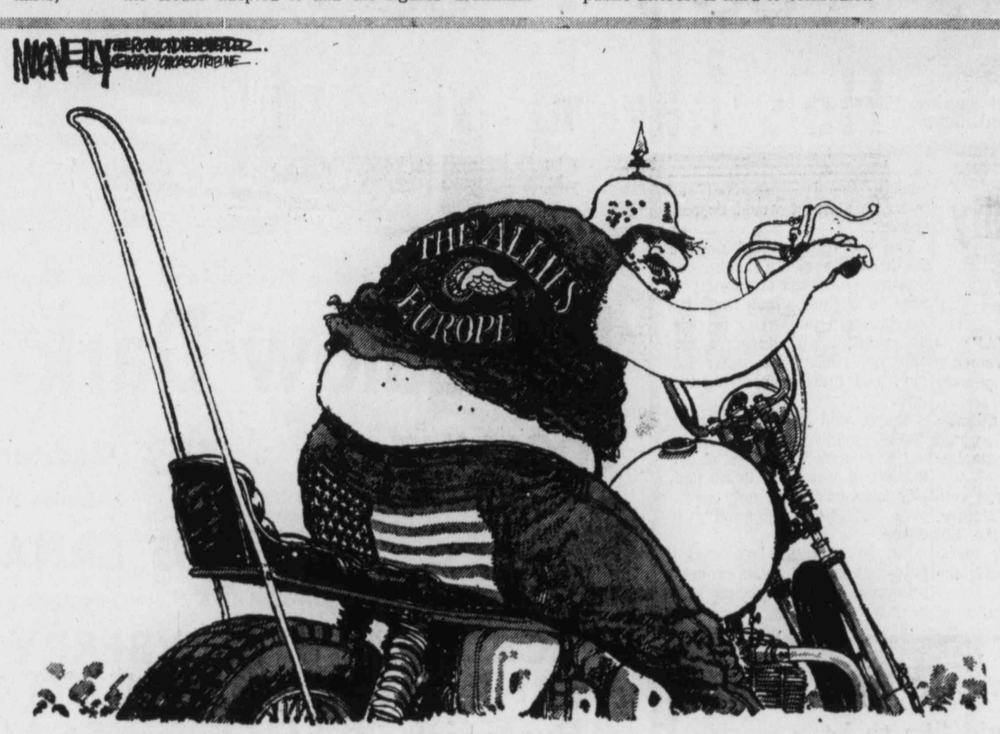

The decision as to whether a couple should separate is something this brief column can't really handle. I can give you, however, some ground rules as the Bible presents them.

First of all, separation is a last resort, not a first. It's a preparatory step to divorce, and should be viewed that seriously. Implicit in separation, however, ought to be the attempt of both parties to see their marriage objectively, and make whatever corrections seems to be advisable for better compatibility.

Secondly, since you used a Bible reference, I assume you're a Christian. That gives you direction and resources others don't have. I like the Living Bible version of 1 Corinthians 7:7, "Living as God intended. . . and accepting whatever situation God has put you into." Be much in prayer about how God's Spirit will lead you.

Thirdly, be anxious to see yourself as your husband sees you. Maybe he's right about all this being due to "things . . . said over the years." I have never heard of marital problems where guilt is all one-sided.

Since you love him, let that love carry you through this difficult trial. Above all, practice Paul's advice in Romans 12:19, "Never avenge yourselves. Leave that to God."

Oil Isn't Only Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—The lifting of the Arab oil embargo was expected by many experts to bring a mixed bag of results, not all good and not all bad.

Those predictions have been holding up in the days since most Arab nations lifted the ban this past week. And those same days have brought reminders that oil isn't the country's only economic problem.

President Nixon eased restrictions on service station operations, but there were warnings that gasoline would still be in tight supply and still be costly.

GAS UNTOUCHED

Gulf Oil Corp. trimmed prices on a variety of fuels, including kerosene and heating oil, but it left the price of gasoline untouched.

Gulf said the cuts were made to make prices more competitive. In conceded that gasoline remained a product with a relatively high profit margin, but it said its gas prices were already competitive and there was no advantage to be gained in cutting them.

38,000 UNLUCKY

General Motors Corp. cancelled scheduled layoffs of 27,000 workers at seven plants over the next two weeks and scrapped plans to shut those facilities down temporarily.

But the company was still left with 38,000 workers due for layoffs during the week of March 25 and 16,600 others the following week.

Consumer prices for gasoline and other fuels accounted for 20 per cent of a 1.3 per cent gain in the cost of living in February, the department said. That put comsumer prices 10 percent ahead of the year-before level, the first double-figure annual gain since January 1948.

But the department said the real villain in the rising cost of living was food, led by a 7.5 per cent gain in the price of beef last month. That was the biggest since June 1947.

The department said its consumer price index stood at $141.50 at the end of February, meaning it took $141.50 at that point to buy what $100 bought in 1967.

Real spendable income of workers—what a wage earner takes home after taxes and inflation — showed a 12-month drop of 4.5 percent by the end of February, the department said. That was the biggest annual decline since record keeping began in 1964, it said.

The Cost of Living Council, menawhile, lifted wage and price controls from 1,223 firms producing canned fruits and vegetables. The action was certain to produce higher consumer prices on the affected items, but the council said the action was necessary to ease shortages and boost the planting of crops for the 1974-75 season.

The Week's Business

At Edge In Rhodesia

William F. Buckley Jr.

SALISBURY, RHODESIA — They will tell you in Rhodesia that the terrorists are under control, and that there is noting to fear. In fact they are not under control and the situation threatens to get worse, as why should it not with the Soviet Union beginning to compete with Red China in sending arms to the terrorists, and with assorted Protestant bishops standing by more or less to baptize a movement that is becoming as fashionable as the Black Panthers and the Viet Cong.

But overwhelmingly the black population of Rhodesia is anti-terrorist. There are complicated reasons for this. The first (and least obvious) is that black leaders do not share the revolutionary turn of mind of the terrorists and their backers. They see no advantage whatever in exchanging rule by a white elitist government headed by Ian Smith, for a black ideological government headed by Peking or Moscow or its surrogates. For another, while they desire — indeed demand — change, they have not, yet, abandoned hope that orderly change will come under the non-violent pressure of the predominantly (95 per cent) blacknative population.

BUT THIS, I am led to believe, must come soon. Drastically compressed, here is the chronology of events, which are racing to a conclusion of sorts.

In 1965, the Rhodesians declared their independence of Britain. Almost immediately, the United Nations voted sanctions, which got progressively more stringent after supplementary resolutions in 1966 and 1968. In 1969, Prime Minister Ian Smith promulgated a constitution which would in effect have guaranteed white supremacy through the century and beyond. In 1971, Smith and British Foreign Minister Sir Alex Douglas Home initialed an agreement calling for constitutional reform and additional opportunities for black political power. The agreement was subject to ratification by the black community which, in the finding of the so-called Pearce Commission the following spring, said No.

Probably it was a mistake not to implement the agreement anyway, for strategic reasons. But this was the electric political moment in Rhodesia, when the blacks would see the papers' headline: Black Rhodesians Veto Westminster Pact. Things would never be the same again.

GRADUALLY it has dawned on the white community that the critical man in their midst is a mild-mannered Methodist bishop, in his early forties, called Abel Mozarewa. He is said to be relatively without guile, and that's not all good — he is a procrastinator, an ambiguist, inexperienced in the unholy ideological ambitions of many of his fellow liberationists.

On the other hand, no one suspects him of corruption of any kind and I accept it as true that he has for the moment the singular power to prevent universal bloodshed in Rhodesia.

For how long? That is the dark question. There are secret negotiations going on at this moment between the bishop and Ian Smith. Smith is a man of quite extraordinary personal valor, who has become the symbol of white supremacy. Actually he is no more a white supremacist than George Wallalce proved to be, when the social attitude changed. He is a good politician but it is feared that at this moment he underestimates the resolve of the black majority to effect substantial change.

Tampering With Height

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband and I both are tall, over six feet, and assumed all our children would be tall.

When our firstborn was about six weeks old her pediatrician said, "Well, when she gets to about 11 or 12 years old I would give her medication to keep her from growing those last few inches."

This doctor since has left, and our children, four girls, are getting to that age. The oldest is 12½. Our doctor doesn't know anything about this procedure and referred us to a pediatrician whose nurse called and said this doctor didn't bother with this area but he had heard of a few cases. The nurse said he didn't want to take the risk but when I asked what risks, she didn't know.

It's confusing to have one doctor suggest it and others either don't know or don't want to handle it. — Mrs. P. D.

It's no crime to be tall, but you imply that a dozen years ago, when you first child was just a baby, you made up your find you didn't want her to be tall.

Why? Was being tall such a psychological handicap for you? How does your daughter feel about it? And your other daughters? It is my feeling that you should get your motives clearly in mind before making any decision and consider primarily what your daughter's wishes are, or will be.

So, you see, I have a rather strong prejudice in favor of letting nature decide such matters as how tall we are.

But at the same time I have to respect your views even if they differ with mine, and I'll tell you what I can about preventing tall girls from becoming tall girls.

It involves some tampering with the endocrine (glandular) system — and I think most doctors will agree that such tampering should not be done except by experts very familiar with the endocrine glands.

Large doses of the female hormone estrogen are given (usually somewhere between the ages of 8 and 12). This is done to close the epiphyses (ends) of the long bones, because that is where growth occurs, and when these ends close — no more growth.

To put it another way, these large doses of estrogen are given before comparable amounts appear normally in the body. You might say it is a way of artificially bringing on physical maturity a little earlier, since growth (height, that is) ceases as one reaches maturity.

Growth has been controlled by as much as two to five inches by this method.

One problem is that such large doses of estrogen may cause uterine bleeding, although this can be controlled with progesterone. Whether the advanced maturity time causes other and different psychological problems for girls of that age is another question. I would suspect that the emotional attitute of the girl would be important, but I cannot give you any very specific information on this or whether harmones produce side effects, because I don't know.

Arabian Know-How

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — By the 1980s, if the predictions come true, the Arab oil countries will have all the money in the world. They will have to invest this money and it is not inconceivable that they could own most of the large corporations in the United States.

LIKE ANY businessmen, they will demand a good return on their money and I can imagine a meeting of the president of the Abu Dhabi General Motors Corp. of America (ADGMAC), a subsidiary of the Abu Dhabi General Motors Corp. International, and the sheik.

The president, a citizen of the United States, has been called back to Abu Chabi to explain why profits have been off.

THE SHEIK is in an angry mood.

"I have just seen the figures for 1982. They're disgraceful. I am the laughingstock of the Middle East Stock Exchange. The Libyan Bell Telephone Co. of America shows a 10 per cent increase in profits. The Saudi Arabian Coca-Cola Co. of the United States is up 15 per cent and the Shah's Sears-Roebuck Corp. is predicting record earnings. What have you been doing over there?"

THE PRESIDENT of ADGMCA is on his knees bowed in front of the sheik. "Forgive me, sire. We thought we'd have a good year, but then you people imposed your 1,896th oil embargo and auto sales dropped."

That wasn't my fault," the sheik says. "The Stand Oil Co. of Saudi Arabia has been putting the squeeze on gasoline. They think if they can cut production they can get $25 a gallon for their gas. But if they don't watch it they're going to get into a price war.

"I'VE ORDERED my Abu Ahabi Royal Shell Co. to hold the line at $23 a gallon. There is no sense driving people away from the pumps. But to get back to your problem. When I bought General Motors two years ago as a present for my wife, I said I wouldn't tinker with management as long as I could get a decent return on my investment. There were some people here who thought I should send over Abu Dhabi tribesmen to run the show. But I said we should give the American natives a chance to prove they could do it on their own. Obviously, I was wrong."

THE PRESIDENT was still on his knees. "Please, sire, we expect a turnaround by the end of this year. The Kuwaiti Chrysler Corp. of America is also in great difficulty and even the Yemen Ford Co. of the United States has shown losses. Rumor has it that Yemem may fire its American manager. Henry Ford."

"I don't want excuses," the sheik of Abu Dhabi yells. "I want results. Thank Allah I don't have to depend on General Motors for my main source of income.

"Please, sire," give me another chance.

"All right," the sheik says. "But if I don't get back 20 per cent on my investment next year I'm going to cover you with sand and pour honey on your head and let the red ants have a go at you."

"Bless you, sire. It;s no wonder they call you the Howard Hughes of the Middle East."

Nixon Switch Hurts

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — How to win friends and influence people — the right people on the right side of the political ledger — is the Nixon goal. The motive is to hold the line against impeachment in Congress. This puts a veto in the hands of those who want to kill any allegedly liberal legislation or appointees who may be suspect by right-wing criteria.

The President four years ago sent an environmental message to Congress — a first for any President — calling for a new national land-use policy. A year later the White House sent up a national land-use policy bill providing aid and encouragement to the states in regulating areas of critical environmental concern.

APPLAUSE CAME not only from conservationists but from the conference of state governors, the conference of mayors, the association of counties and the league of cities. Mild enough in itself here was a measure that would give Federal guidelines beyond the conflicting demands of local authorities and the self-interest groups out to carve up the land for a quick buck.

Then the impeachment screws began to turn. The President having marched boldly up the hill marched right down again. The Senate under the leadership of Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson twice passed the land-use bill. The House interior committee approved it by a vote of two to one.

At this point the forces determined to prevent any interference with the free-wheeling land developers stepped in. The powerhouse was the United States Chamber of Commerce. The instrument was Rep. Sam Steiger of Arizona.

THE ARIZONA identity is the key. Steiger is one of the conservative Republcans in the orbit of Sen.. Barry Goldwater. The Senator who has wavered back and forth over the President's plight in the Watergate briar patch is essential if the line is to be held against impeachment.

Into the breach rushed Rep. John J. Rhodes, another Arizonan. Rhodes replaced Gerald R. Ford as minority leader when Ford became Vice President.

A Devotion For Today . .

My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. (Psalm 42:2)

PRAYER: O Lord, help me to remember that You are the one who can restore my soul. If in my foolishness I forget my need of You, remind me to plunge back into Your love, Your mercy, and Your strength. Amen.

HER LOVE IN BLOOM (ERS) IS BRIEF — Mini-skirted Susan Russell, 23, is shown in London Thursday when she was granted a divorce from her husband, Paul, 24. She said he confiscated her brief panties, locked them up and made her wear long elastic bloomers which she nicknamed 'old bombers." She told the court her marriage broke up one Saturday after her husband accused her of going shopping in a mini-skirt. He said she could wear only trousers.

Texas Land Developers Under Federal Scrutiny

DALLAS (AP) — Some 400 to 500 Texas raw-land developers are under federal scrutiny and Washington officials say developers around Cedar Creek Reservoir south of here will be one of their main targets in a nationwide investigation.

John R. McDowell, deputy administrator of the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration, said four of his investigators will be based in Texas, more thas in any other state.

FAILURE TO FILE

McDowell told a news conference Friday the large number of Texas land developers are being probed because of fraudulent property reports, or failure to even file reports.

McDowell conducted a hearing Friday with management of Log Cabin Estates, a development at Malakoff in Henderson County near the reservoir.

He said the company failed to register all its 1,600 lots and was suspended in 1973 from selling unregistered lots but continued to do so anyway.

Under federal law, developers selling raw land in lots of 50 or more are required to file a property report with the Interstate Land Sales Office.

BAD LAND

"We can't keep them from selling bad land but they must report it if it is," McDowell said.

McDowell said that by "just driving down the road" his investigators at Malakoff found 15 apparently unregistered subdivisions.

He said investigators in Texas "struck a gold mine" of violations in January 1973—some 225 apparent violatons of land laws within a 150 mile radius of Houston.

He said the situation in Texas is acute because of the numerous takes on which land developers thrive.

Developers selling property with houses, or promises to build houses within two years of the land sale, are exempt from the land act.

Penney Plans 2 Structures

J. C. Penney Company, Inc., has announced plans in Dallas to concentrate its Dallas activities in two new buildings scheduled for construction in the Park Central Complex on L. B. J. Freeway.

Representing the company from its New York headquarters, Pres. Jack B. Jackson said that the move will permit the consolidation of 23 different field activities currently located in six widely scattered locations in the Dallas metropolitan area.

Jackson explained that the company has leased 350,000 square feet of space in two adjoining buildings in what is believed to be the largest single office space lease in Dallas real estate history. Penney's will occupy all of a four-level low-rise structure and five floors of a 21-story high-rise structure. The low-rise building will have a Penney designation.

Some 1,000 Penney associates will be involved in the more-in scheduled for late summer of 1975.

Because of the specialized functions being housed in the low-rise building, such as accounting, a date center, credit, and a training center, this structure is being built according to Company specifications.

April 5-7 have been selected as the dates for a cultural festival at Webb AFB.

Cultural fashions, ethnic talent, cultural displays and ethnic food will highlight the festival, according to organizing officials.

Individuals and groups interested in participating in the festival are being sought right now. Plans include Western lore, Mexican, Indian and Afro culture and representatiin from many countries which are represented at Webb.

There are also plans afoot for a dance and specified religious observances.

For more information, the Social Actions Office, 7-2511, extension 2160, may be called.

Sentence Rancher On Aliens Charge

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A Richland Springs rancher who owns land in two Texas counties was fined $1,000 and given a six-month probated jail sentence for transporting illegal aliens.

Mach Maxcey, 33, pleaded guilty before U.S. Magistrate John Giles to a two-count charge.

Giles fined Maxcey $500 on each count and allowed probation.

Maxcey, who was arrested by state troopers on a traffic violation, admitted meeting four aliens at Carrizo Springs and offering them employment on his land in Saba and Maverick counties.

MoPac Is Adding To Its Service

ST. LOUIS — To keep pace with surging demand for rail piggyback services, the Missouri Pacific Railroad System is expanding its fleet of piggyback equipment by 40 per cent during 1974 with the addition of 1,181 new truck trailers.

MoPac recently began placing the first of the new 40-foot trailers into service.

MoPac experienced a 33 per cent boost in its piggyback business in the first two months of 1974.

Parents Of Most Wanted Fem Never Give Up Hope

SUN CITY, Fla. (AP) — It has been four years since Bernard Dohrn and his wife last heard from their daughter, but they never give up hope that one day she will come home.

Bernardine Dohrn, 32, described by the FBI as "the leader of the violence-oriented Weatherman faction of Students for a Democratic Society," disappeared after being named to the agency's 10 most-wanted list in 1970.

NO IDEA

"I have no idea where she is," said Dohrn as he sat at his home in this retirement community 25 miles south of Tampa. "She told us she wouldn't get us involved, and she kept her promise."

Dohrn, 69, and his wife Dorothy moved here five years ago from Chicago where Dohrn was a credit manager for a chain of appliance stories.

BERNARDINE DOHRN

Miss Dohrn's named was removed from the most wanted list last October after the government dropped indictments against her and 14 others in an alleged Flint, Mich., bombing conspiracy.

But she is still wanted on federal warrants charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in connection with a 1969 Weatherman clash with police in Chicago.

GET USED TO IT

"You don't get used to it. The hurt doesn't wear off," says Dohrn. "I hope someday she'll be home. These are our golden years, and certainly we should be able to enjoy our children."

The Dohrns have been reunited with their older daughter, Jennifer, 29.

Jennifer was active in the Youth International Party — Yippies.

Dohrn says that Jennifer, recently married and living in New York, was not seriously involved in the revolutionary movement because she knew that he and his wife were upset about Bernardine.

Cong. Omar Burleson Seeking Re-Election

Cong. Omar Burleson has formally announced his candidacy for reelection to Congress, subject to the Democratic Primary on May 4, and the general election in November. The 17th Congressional District, which he represents, is composed of 33 counties, covering approximately 30,000 square miles. Within this area alive about 486,500 people.

Burleson says, "During my tenure of office I have followed two guiding principles: First, to know the views of my constituents and refect their sentiments to the greatest degree possible in my actions in the Halls of Congress. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect our District, our State and our Nation."

Burleson termed his approach to government as one of "common sense," gained through the years of public service. "I have tried to see that the people's tax money is spent as wisely and as judiciously as you would have spent it had you been in my place," he said.

"The record will show that a greater part of the time I have found myself in the minority in opposing the vast spending program of doubtful vale which have been put into effect in recent years. In every session of the Congress the record will show my votes for expenditures below that recommnded by the Exceutive Department and far less than actually appropriated by the Congress, except in the field of national defense," Burleson said. He continued, "Without meaning to appear boastfull, if the Congress had followed those of us who have voted consistently over the years for fiscal responsibility, our financial affairs would not be in the shape they are today."

"In areas providing for the defense of our Country, I have always supported those things to make and keep our nation stronger than any other in the world," he said.

"I have been discerning in separating those activities which the federal govrnment was not designed to do, from those which are truly its responsibility," he said.

Burleson stated that activities of state and local governments, in acco dance with the Constitution, should not be infringed and encroached upon by the Federal Government.

Burleson is among the senior members of the U.S. House of Representatives in point of service. He was elected to the 80th Congress from the 17th District and has been re-elected to each succeeding Congress. He is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, considered to be the most powerful and prestingious in the Congress.

Burleson is a former county attorney and county judge of Jones County. He was appointed an FBI Agent, and served in a number of assignments over the US. He resigned from the FBI to join the Navy in world War II, and saw duty in both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SEC. B — BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MARCH 24, 1974 — SEC. B

Eldorado Rolls To Belle Title

Eldorado swept to an overwhelming victory in the fourth annual Big Spring Jaycees' Permian Basin Belle Relays Saturday at Memorial Stadium, outdistancing second place finisher San Angelo Lake View 135 points to 82.

Coahoma nabbed third place honors in the 17-team event with 74 markers and Big Spring was fourth with 49, four ahead of Garden City.

Miles, which finished sixth with 41 points, owed most of its honors to Belinda Rowoldt, who won three events and placed second in another to pile up 38 points and claim the high point award. Rowoldt won the 100-yard dash in 12.2, the triple jump with a 33-11 and the long jump with a 16-9 effort.

Chilly weather apparently drove away a would-be streaker, who had pledged to streak across the track during the meet, and it also cut down on record performances. No records were broken and only one was tied, as Eldorado ran the 880-yard relay in 1:49.0, tying the three-year old mark of Abilene Jefferson.

Eldorado swept all three of the relay events, and also got a pair of firsts out of Wornock, who took the discus and the 880-yard dash.

Big Spring's top effort came from freshman Michelle Couvillion, who placed second in the 220-yard dash with a 27.3, while Helen McAlister was third in the triple jump at 31-4½. Big Spring was third in the 440-yard relay and fourth in the 880-relay.

Coahoma was paced by Lusara Phinney, who won the 440-yard dash with a 62.1.

Shot Put — 1. Braziel, Snyder, 34-8¾; 2. Garlitz, Eldorado, 32-5½; 3. Snell, Coahoma, 32-2½; 4. Johnson, Big Spring, 31-7½; 5. Wilson, San Angelo Lake View, 30-0½; 6. Richter, Coahoma, 30-0.

Discus — 1. Wornock, Eldorado, 92-6; 2. Tomason, Garden City 86-1½; 3. Halfmann, Garden City, 85-0; 4. Garlitz, Eldorado, 77-3¾; 5. Nichols, Sands, 77-0; 6. Wilson, Lake View, 76-0½.

Triple Jump — 1. Rowoldt, Miles, 33-11; 2. Phillips, Lake View, 32-10; 3. McAlister, Big Spring, 31-4½; 4. Joiner, Eldorado, 31-2; 5. Garcia, Eldorado, 31-0; 6. Kashberg, Miles, 30-8.

Wolfpack Jolts Bruins; Marquette In Finals

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina State brought UCLA down to earth after seven straight national championships, beating the mighty Bruins 80-77 on David Thompson's crucial points in double overtime in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball playoffs Saturday.

Inspired by a screaming throng of 15,829 at the Greensboro Coliseum, the top-ranked Wolfpack advanced into Monday night's finals against Marquette. The Warriors earlier beat Kansas 64-51 with a nine-point spree keyed by Wo d Wal on early in the second half.

The game between the Wolfpack and the Bruins, billed as the headliner of the day, was everything that it was cracked up to be between the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 teams.

Wonder-player Bill Walton, who scored 29 points for the defending national champions, had helped the Bruins take a seven-point lead early in the second thrilling overtime period.

UCLA led 74-67 and seemed to have the game sa ed away when the Wolfpack players, with "Pack Power" ringing in their ears, went to work.

Monty Towe, the smallest player on the court at 5-feet-7, triggered N.C. State's rally with two free throws that trimmed the UCLA lead to 74-69. Tommy Curtis scored a free throw for UCLA to make it 75-69 with 3:11 left in the game but that was the Bruins' last hurrah.

Thompson then took over the flow of the dramatic game with a field goal at 2:55 that brought N.C. State within four. The crowd then went mad when Tom Burleson scored a field goal and a foul shot for the Wolfpack, trimming the UCLA lead to 75-74 with a about a minute and a half left.

UCLA's Dave Meyers missed the first shot of a one-and-one free throw situation with 1:16 left, the omnipresent Thompson sucked up the rebound and N.C. State had possession of the ball and the opportunity to end the Bruins' championship skein.

Marquette's irrepressible defense broke open the opener, which was a close game until the Warriors got hot. Trailing 29-26 with about two minutes gone in the second half, Marquette forward Earl Tatum triggered the Warriors' nine-point flurry with a field goal.

The pesky Warriors then drove Kansas crazy, forcing a number of turnovers. Walton, Marquette's standout sophomore guard, took long passes after two of the steals and scored baskets as the Warriors moved to a 35-29 advantage with 14 minutes remaining in the nationally-televised game.

With Marcus Washington scoring two field goals, the Warriors then put the game away with 10 more points in the next six minutes to take their largest lead of the game until that point at 45-35 with 3:40 to go.

The Warriors later improved that margin to 15 points but for all purposes, the game was long over.

Kansas led 24-23 at the half before folding under the Marquette heat.

Utah, Purdue Meet Today In NIT Championship Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Utah waded through Bob Carrington's 25-point scoring barrage in the first half and then, with Mike Sojourner and Tickey Burden providing their own firepower, the Utes earned a lopsided 117-93 victory over Boston College Saturday and advanced along with Purdue into the finals of the National Invitation Tournament.

John Garrett scored 21 and combined with Bruce Parkinson to stage a second-half Purdue rally that downed Jacksonville 78-73 and advanced the Boilermakers into today's final starting at noon, CDT, at Madison Square Garden.

Jacksonville and Boston College will meet in a consolation contest beginning at 10 a.m.

With Utah leading 48-45 at halftime, Burden came out and hit four of the first Utah baskets to move his team to a 58-47 lead. The Utes ran off a 14-2 scoring flurry while holding Carrington to only one basket in the first five minutes.

Meanwhile, Sojourner, who finished with 29 points, and Burden, who had 28, opened Utah leads of as many as 20 in what was perhaps the biggest runaway of this year's NIT.

Boston College was without the full use of Mark Raterink, who fouled out with 5:59 left after scoring 11 points.

Purdue broke away early in the second half from a 36-36 halftime deadlock, and Frank Kendrick put the Boilermakers on top 39-38 with 17:51. Purdue's offense took complete control after that.

Parkinson, who hit 10 of his 15 points in the second half, and Garrett pushed the margin as high as 16 points at 70-54 with about five minutes remaining.

Jacksonville was held to only two baskets in the first eight minutes of play and could get little offensive punch from their center, Butch Taylor, who finished with only nine points and six rebounds. Four of Taylor's points and five rebounds came in the first half.

Purdue took its first lead, 13-12, on a goal by Parkinson at 14:20 of the first half and ran off six quick points to go up 18-12. Jacksonville's Leon Benbow brought the Dolphins back three times and Jimmy Clark put Jacksonville into a brief lead at 36-34 before Garrett hit a jumper from the corner with two seconds remaining to tie the score at halftime.

Jacksonville failed to make it to the free throw line in the first half during which Purdue committed only four fouls.

Benbow finished with 20 points while Henry Williams had 18 for the Dolphins, who finished their season at 20-9.

Kendrick had 15 for the Boilermakers, 20-9 and tied for 18th in The Associated Press national rankings.

Miller Hangs On To Lead

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Johnny Miller suffered a shocking collapse after his hole-in-one but managed to struggle in with a 72 that left him with a four-stroke lead Saturday in the third round of the $200,000 Set Pines Heritage Golf Classic.

Miller, who had a 10-stroke advantage after he holed out the four-iron shot for an ace on the seventh hole, played the back nine in a fat five-over-par 40 and finished three rounds with a 206 total.

That's seven under par on the 6,655-yard Harbour Town Golf Links, a subtly difficult ocean-side layout that ranks with the most exacting the touring pros encounter all season.

Miller, the leader all the way in this tournament and already the winner of three titles and more than $106,000 this season, appeared at one point to be making a one-man race of it.

But his loss of five strokes to par and six shots of his lead over the last nine holes opened the gates.

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Here are the top third-round scores Saturday in the $200,000 Sea Pines Heritage Golf Classic on the 6,655-yard, par-71 Harbour Town Golf Links (a-amateur):

Steers Tie For Third In Canyon Reef Event

SNYDER — The Big Spring Steers got a couple of pleasant surprises Satuday and tied with Midland Lee for third place in the Canyon Reef Relays.

Odessa Permian won the meet with 103 points, defeating a cautious San Angelo team in a meet that featured all of Dist. 5-AAAA. The Bobcats, running without full strength in many events, totaled 88 points while Big Spring and Lee managed 66 apiece.

The surprises for Steer coach Glenn Petty, who was without one of his top point-getters in pole vaulter Sam Dodson, came from Donald Walters in the 440-yard dash and Doug Smith in the long jump.

Walters, a sophomore, ran a 50.8 in winning the quarter, and Smith won the long jump at 19-10 as the top five finishers were within two and a half inches. Smith also was fourth in the 440 in 51.5.

Steer junior Ricky McCormick continued on his unbeaten way, winning the mile run in 4:29.9, seven seconds ahead of the second place finisher in the chilly event.

Bobby Mayo took third in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles in 41.0, and Don Beene, normally a quarter-miler, placed fifth in the 220-yard dash with a 22.9.

The Steer mile relay quartet finished second to San Angelo for the fourth time this year, as the Bobcats won in 3:24.6 and the Steers legged a 3:25.9. Big Spring was fourth in the 440-yard relay with a 44.7.

Frank Myers of San Angelo won both the shot put and the discus and Permian's Steve King took both hurdle events as the only double winners.

Dodson, who sprained his ankle on Tuesday, watched as Cooper's Frank Estes won the pole vault with a disappointing 13-0, ahead of San Angelo's David Dodson and Lee's Randy Lewis.

Next week the Steers enter the San Angelo Relays, and the Dist. 5-AAAA meet is the following week in Odessa.

Racers Blast Track After Revson's Death

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Several Formula One racing stars lashed out Saturday at what they called inadequate or improper safety features at Kyalami Circuit, where American driver Peter Revson was killed Friday.

Graham Hill, one of the first at the crash scene, hinted that the fire engine was tardy in reaching the wreck.

"Even when the fire truck did arrive, the fire extinguishers were not able to put the fire out and the big, high-pressure extinguisher arrived with a knot tied in the nozzle so we could not make it reach the burning car," Hill said.

Denny Hulme, retiring president of the Grand Prix Racing Drivers' Association, suggested that the steel-rail crash barrier which the 35-year-old Revson hit during practice for the March 30 South African Grand Prix was inadequate.

"If this crash had happened at Indy (Indianapolis Motor Speedway) the chances are that Peter Revson's car would have been ricocheted back onto the track. He would have had a severe headache, but he would probably climbbed out of the wreck," Hulme said. The Indianapolis course is surrounded by a concrete crash barrier.

Meanwhil, a post-mortem was held on Revson Monday, but no details of the examination were disclosed. He was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital about 15 miles outside of Johannesburg.

A member of his racing team said preparations were under way to fly revson's body back to the United States on Monday. Funeral services are set for Friday in New York.

And the cause of the accident is still a mystery.

Because Friday's practice session was unofficial, a helicopter normally stationed near the pits on race day and during official time trials to rush any injured to hospitals was not available.

The track was idle Saturday as members of the Grand Prix circuit honored him. But the South African Grand Prix for which he was practicing will take place as scheduled March 30.

The bachelor and jet-set figure from Redondo Beach, Calif., was the nephew of Charles Revson, founder of th Revlon cosmetics firm. Although not an heir to the Revlon fortune, he was wealthy in his own right.

Local Junior High Runners Place In Monahans Relays

MONAHANS — The Big Spring Freshmen finished fourth and Goliad nabbed fourth in the seventh and eighth grade divisions at the Monahans Junior High Track Meet Saturday.

Runnels managed a seventh in the seventh grade division thanks to Eddie Puga, and the Yearlings took eighth in the eighth grade action with 23 points.

Tommy Churchwell won the 100-yard dash in 10.7 and Mike Harris legged a 54.1 to win the freshman 440, while the foursome of Churchwell, Randle Jones, Harris and Hughes won the 440-yard relay in 46.7.

Mark Burris won the eighth grade 330-yard dash in 39.0 and anchored the Mavericks' victorious 1320-yard relay unit, which triumphed with a 2:41.3. Runnels was sixth in the 1320 relay.

Goliad also got second place finishes from Vasquez in the 220-yard dash, Vernon in the discus and Wegner in the pole vault, while Runnels was paced by Sanchez, who took second in the 220 with a 29.7.

In the seventh grade, Puga placed in all five events he entered, taking high point honors with 38, and he also established records in the 330- and 220-yard dashes during preliminary action.

Puga won the 330 in 40.3 after setting a record of 39.3, and finished second in the 220 in 25.6. His record was 25.0. Puga was also second in the 100, fourth in the high jump and sixth in the long jump.

Harris of Goliad won the 1320-yard run in 3:46.3 and nabbed second in the 660 with a 1'36.3.

East Pecos won the seventh grade action, West Pecos took the eighth grade action and Midland Austin nabbed ninth grade honors.

Next week the three teams enter the Snyder junior high event.

Rice Runs Past Tech

HOUSTON (AP)—Shib Simon's 10th inning single drove in the winning run in the second game as Rice swept a Southwest Conference doubleheader from Texas Tech by identical 4-3 scores Saturday.

With the score tied 3-3 and John Jacobson on third base with one on in the final inning, Tech coach Cal Segrist ordered intentional walks given Joe Zylka and Mike Macha to load the bases.

Simon then lined Red Raider reliefer Randy Prince's first pitch into right field for the game winning hit.

Rice took a 3-0 lead in the second game on Ted Nowak's three-run home run in the third inning. Segrist and the Raiders argued without success that the ball bounced over the fence.

Hill Thumps San Jacinto

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Vincennes, Ind., outscored Grand View of Des Moines, 121, in a stretch of the second overtime period late Saturday and gained fourth place in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament with a 95-86 victory.

Hill Junior College of Hillsboro, Tex., paced by Otis Carter, Mike Archer and David Krieger, took fifth place earlier in the day with a 94-89 victory over San Jacinto of Pasadena, Tex.

Northeastern Oklahoma A&M went against Moberly, Mo., for third place and Mercer County of Trenton, N. J., defended its title Saturday night against Chipola of Marianna, Fla.

The Vincennes-Grand View contest was knotted at 71-all after regulation play and 79-79 after the first overtime period. In the first two minutes, 13 seconds of the second overtime period, the Indiana team spurted to a 90-80 lead, then coasted in, banishing the Iowans to seventh place.

Rickey Green of Vincennes had 30 points and teammates Tom Harris and Julius Norman had 28 and 24, respectively.

Hill had a 10-point bulge in the first half and was up 73-59 when Lodell Burnett ignited a rally for San Jacinto.

Minnesota Slips Past Astos, 8-7

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Jerry Terrell's two-run single in the 12th inning Saturday pulled the Minnesota Twins past the Houston Astros, 8-7, in a spring exhibition baseball game.

The Astros had scored five unearned runs in the ninth to send the game into extra innings.

Texas Christian Splits With Bears

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Eddie Sherman pitched a five-hit shutout here Saturday to lead Baylor to 4-0 victory over the Texas Christian University, but the Frogs came back to win the second game of the Southwest Conference doubleheader 8-6 in 11 innings.

Texas Tops SMU Twice

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The University of Texas unleashed its hitting power with five home runs to rout Southern Methodist 22-5 in the second game of a Southwest Conference double header after taking the first game 6-5.

The Longhorns scored five runs in the second inning and eight in the sixth of the nightcap, including four homers—three of them back-to-back. In the eighth they scored seven more runs on three hits.

Keith Moreland, Rick Bradley and Terry Pyke all had three RBIs apiece and Moreland had four hits, including one of the homers.

Gideon was the winner in both games.

In the first game, Mickey Reichenback singled in Rick Bradley to make the difference in the seventh.

SMU's Jim Moffett had hit a solo homer in the seventh to put the Mustangs ahead 5-4.

Aggies Remain Unbeaten, Rip Arkansas In Twinbill

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M baseball coach Tom Chandler picked up his 300th career victory and Clint Thomas narrowly missed a no-hitter as the Aggies shellacked Arkansas 15-0 and 15-1 in a Southwest Conference doubleheader Saturday.

Chandler's milestone win came in the first game where Thomas, a sophomore right-hander from Abilene, went down to the seventh inning before Razorback centerfielder Wally Erwin hit a two-out, two-strike pitch into leftfield for the only Arkansas hit.

Al Thurmond had three hits and John Woods drove in three runs for the Aggies.

Sophomore Perry Arthur allowed three hits and one run in six innings to pick up the win in the second game. David Lockett and Jim Juhl pitched hitless ball in relief for A&M.

The Aggies combined 14 hits with 14 walks to produce the margin in the second game. Second baseman Mike Schraeder had three hits and three runs batted in. Woods and Thurmond also knocked in three runs each.

A&M is now 9-0 in SWC play to lead the league and is 21-4 for the season. Arkansas dropped to 3-6 in league play and 10-11 for the season.

CHS, Mojo Lead League

Abilene Cooper and Odessa Permian remained the only unbeaten teams Saturday after second round action in Dist. 5-AAAA baseball.

Permian knocked off Abilene 10-5 and San Angelo upset Midland Lee 9-8 in the highlights' affairs, while Big Spring evened its mark at 1-1 with a 5-0 triumph over Midland and Cooper dumped Odessa High 5-3.

Lee is now 11-2 on the year after the surprise loss to San Angelo, which banged out 14 hits in the win. Rudy Izzard was the winner for the Bobcats, now 3-4 on the year and 1-1 in district, and Mike Groves slammed a double and a home run.

Don Lawson stopped Odessa on three hits to spark Cooper to its second loop win and fifth season win against seven defeats. Odessa is 0-2 and 5-9.

Alex Kager also spinned a three-hitter at Abilene to spark Permian, which now stands 8-1 on the season. Bobby Inzer tripled in the Mojo victory.

Stanton Wins Cowboy Relays

Stanton picked up six first place finishes in rolling to the Plains Cowboy Relays title, while Smyer won the Borden County Relays and Coahoma finished fourth in the Ozona Relays during schoolboy track action Friday.

David Standefer starred in Stanton's victory, winning both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He toured the 100 yards in 9.8, a new meet record, while his time in the 220 was 23.4, and he also ran a leg on the Buffaloes' victorious 440-yard relay team.

Vernon Brown won the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.0, Bobby Richardson took the high jump with a 5-10 leap and Hernandez won the 880-yard dash in 2:04.6.

Stanton totaled 105 points to outdistance the 12-team field, while Springlake-Earth was second with 64.

Smyer pulled 85 points in nudging Meadow for the Borden County title. Klondike, Borden County, Sands and Forsan were well down the list in the team standings.

In Ozona, Coahoma's top efforts came from Tim Tindol, second in the 100 in 10.6, and third in the 440 in 52.3, and from Putt Choate, who heaved the shot 48-1 for a second place finish.

Alpine won the Ozona affair with 167 points, Ozona totaled 156, Denver City manage 75 and Coahoma came in with 45. Junior varsities from Del Rio and San Angelo trailed the field.

Steers Blank MHS, 5-0

MIDLAND — Big Spring's Steers broke out of their baseball doldrums Saturday and scored a 5-0 Dist. 5-AAAA victory over the Midland Bulldogs.

The victory, only the third of the year for the Big Springers, evens the Steers' district standing at 1-1 while Midland's chances at a second consecutive 5-AAAA title slipped with the team's second defeat.

"The guys played super defense," Coach Larry Horton said after the triumph. "We made nine ground outs without an error — Sammy Rodriguez (shortstop) and John Morelion (third base) really had a good game fielding. We got some people on base and scored early, and that makes a difference too."

John Thomas Smith slapped two hits and drove in two runs and Earl Reynolds limited the Bulldogs to two hits in the more obvious highlights as the Steers raised their season mark to 3-11. Reynolds, now 2-3, walked just one and struck out seven in his best effort of the year. Alan Buonasera, 2-2, was the loser.

The Steers struck first in the second inning when Morelion slammed a leadoff double to right center, Smith beat out an infield single and Billy Don Whittington walked to set up Albert Alvarez's two-run single over shortstop.

The count went to 4-0 in the third, as Reynolds singled and took second on a wild pitch, then scored on Smith's one-out single. Dick Battle doubled to left field to plate Smith.

In the seventh Reynolds got his second hit of the game, and pinch runner Barry Canning stole second. He went to third on a ground out by Morelion, then came home on Smith's second RBI.

Midland, now 5-9, threatened in the fifth with runners on second and third and one out, but Reynolds struck out the next batter and forced a pop out to end the inning.

The Steers return to action Tuesday against Odessa Permian at 4:30 p.m. at Steer Park. It will be the first home district game for the locals.

5-4A GOLF ACTION — Danny Cantu of San Angelo, one of four players to shoot 74 Friday at Big Spring Country Club, strokes a putt as Hilton Chancellor of Permian, Frank Johnson of Cooper and Matt Green of Midland look on. The action came during the third round of the Dist. 5-AAAA golf tournament, won by Abilene Cooper with a 306.

Cooper won the battle, but San Angelo stayed ahead in the war Friday during Dist. 5-AAAA golf action at Big Spring Country Club. Meanwhile, Big Spring's No. 1 unit slipped a couple of notches and now stands ninth in the 18-team field, 60 shots behind the leaders.

The Cougars fired a 396 Friday during windy conditions at BSCC, while San Angelo came in at 307, along with Odessa Permian. The three represent the only real challengers for the title, as two rebounds remain in the 90 hole event.

San Angelo's three round total is 908, Cooper is second at 913 and Permian has a 917 . After that Midland appears to have a lock on fourth place with a 935, and San Angelo No. 2 is winning a tight race for the fifth spot.

The Bobcats' second unit has 962, Midland Lee No. 1 is one stroke behind, Permian No. 3 has a 965, Abilene stands next at 966 and Big Spring No. 1 squad owns a 968. Cooper No. 2, Odessa No. 1, Abilene No. 2, Odessa No. 2, Lee No. 2, Midland No. 2 and Big Spring No. 2 follow in the standings.

Big Spring's Jimmy Stewart was one of four golfers to shoot 74 Friday, as San Angelo's Danny Cantu, Jeff Morton of Cooper No. 2 and Frank Johnson of Cooper No. 1 also tied for the day's low round.

In the medalist standings, 224 is the low score and three players are tied for the lead. Grant Collyns and Danny Cantu of San Angelo and Morton of Cooper No. 2 are the low shooters. Doug Hughston of Midland is next at 225, Price Courter of MHS has a 226 and Big Spring's Stewart is close at 227.

Bennett Robb had an 82 for the Steers Friday, Corky Burchell shot 84, Joe Griffith fired an 85 and Steve Corson blew to a 90.

For the Steers' No. 2 unit, which had a 345 for a 1,029 total, Warren Jones and Steve Sledge were low with 85s, Billy West shot 87, Barry Halvorson managed an 88 and Bobby Waters shot 94.

Steerettes Top Abilene Cooper

Big Spring powered to an easy 15-7, 15-8 volleyball victory over Abilene Cooper Friday in the BSHS gym and pulled to within a game of a playoff for the district title.

The Steerettes jumped their season standing to 18-7 and their district mark to 7-2 with the win, and they close out their regular season Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Snyder. A victory would give Coach Susie Lynch's Steerettes a share of the loop crown and the team would meet Tuesday's Midland Lee-Midland High winner in a one-game playoff.

Cynthia Dennis was the high point server in the first game with four points, and Lisa Pipes, Debbie Nikolai and Helen Ray played the net.

In the second game, Sallie Graves was tops with five points. Pipes, Dennis and Christine Soldan controlled the net.

The Steerette Junior Varsity picked up a 15-5, 15-11 decision behind a balanced team effort. Susan Andrews, Jodi Grant, Denise Burchell and Julie Hagen each served three points in the opening win and Burchell was also the top server in the clincher with five points. Sherre Spraberry, Janice Banks, Danise Way, Lana Williams and Diana Pipkin also saw action in the victory.

The JVs, 16-5 on the year and 6-3 in district, close out their season at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday against Snyder.

Fierro Captures Racquetball Title

George Fierro won the Big Spring YMCA Racquetball Championship Saturday by defeating Major Richard Breese in the finals 21-17, 21-16.

Alan Chepregi outlasted Bill Arencibia 21-17, 21-15 for the consolation prize. Sixteen players from Big Spring and three area cities competed in the three-day event.

VOCT Class Scores Well In BS Meet

By SHERRY GRIFFIN

Last Saturday at Big Spring, the VOCT boys entered several contests in which many received honors.

In the senior division, Paul Martinez and Darrell Herd placed second and third, respectively, in Job Application. Darrell also won a third in Tool and Material Identification.

Leslie Gilmore copped a second place in Tool and Material Identification.

The Coahoma club won first place in chapter ceremonies and second in parliamentary procedure. The chapter's display claimed a superior rating.

The VOCT chapter officers are Ricky Logsdon, president; Daddy Edens, vice president, Sackie Brite, secretary; Leslie Gilmore, treasurer; Paul Martinez, reporter; Royce Overton, sergeant-at-arms; and Darrell Herd, parliamentarian.

Paula Dodson, president of FHA, and Kim Swann attended the Area FHA meeting in Odessa last weekend. Miss Toffleson was the sponsor.

Last week the junior high school honor roll was announced. Those whose grades were good enough to be included on the list included:

Mitchell Camp, Ron Bans, Melissa Brown, Jim Bob Coates, Vanessa Cooper, Cecilia Drake, Dusty Douglas, Cynthia Freeman, Jana Gilmore, Debbie Kerby, Starla McMurray, Brenda McDonald, Steve Spears, Cherri Welch, Terry Sharp, Bobby Scoggin, Earl Thomas and Kenneth Huckabee.

FORSAN HIGH

Pupils Ready For District

By DOROTHY BANKS

Last Tuesday at 7 p.m., Forsan High School presented a play and several short scenes from other plays.

Featured was the play,, "Say Goodbye to the Clown," which is the one-act play to be presented at contest next Tuesday in Bronte.

Students involved in the play will travel to Bronte Monday for rehearsals and again Tuesday for the competition that night.

Other scenes presented the past Tuesday were taken from "Star-Spangled Girl," "Mary, Queen of Scots," "Oliver," "Miracle Worker" and "Arsenic and Old Lace."

For the next two weeks, students involved in the UIL events will be busy as the date of the contests rapidly approaches.

After the play contest given March 26, the Literary Speaking and Ready Writing events will get under way at Bronte March 29.

The track team will be facing district competition April 5.

The track squad faced competition the past Friday in Gail, participating in the Borden County Relays.

'Let Sunshine In' Theme Prevails

By DRUANNE PRIDDY

The Big Spring High School Student Council hosted the Spring Forum for their district yesterday. The Big Spring High Band provided the entertainment along with the band New Lite. Officers were elected for our district for nexxt year, and discussion groups were held to discuss different school activities. The theme of the Forum was "Let The Sunshine In!"

This past Thursday and Friday, Carol Hart, Cherri Ingram, Kathy Meek and Petti Myers went to the 47th annual State Convention of Interscholastic League Press CLonference. The Conference was held in Austin and the girls returned Saturday.

UIL Choir Contest was held Thursday in Midland at Midland Lee High School. All three BSHS choirs which were entered made a rating of a 1 in concert and a 1 in sightreading; bringing back three sweepstakes trophies.

Seniors are still in the process of getting their sideshow ready for April 4 when it will be presented for the public. Students will be charged 50 cents for admission, adults 75 cents. A meeting will be held this week to put together the show.

Thirty-three students were away Friday from classes to participate in a History and Government Contest at Sul Ross. Dub Martin was the sponsor..

Congratulations to the off season football boys who collected money for the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children. On Saturday, March 9, they collected $999.70.

The high school tennis team placed second in the Andrews Tennis Tournament. Individually, Linda Little and Vicky Murphy won first in doubles, Judy Jordan captured second in girls singles and Hugh Porter and Hayes Stripling claimed fourth in boys doubles.

Congratulations go to Cynthia Standard for being elected Area 2 FHA President for 194-75.

GRADY HIGH SCHOOL

Student Council In Forum Meeting

By TAHITA BLAKE

The girls' volleyball team traveled recently to Union for the District Volleyball Tournament. They were defeated by Wellman in the single-elimination tourney.

The Junior class sponsored a spaghetti supper and bingo game to raise money for the class fund. The supper started at 6:00 last Thursday.

Friday, the boys' track team traveled to Gail for the Borden County Relays. The results will be ready for next week's paper.

Grady High and Grady Junior High Student Council memebers attended the annual Spring Forum meeting of District 8 in Big Spring this Saturday. District 8 is the largest district of the Texas Association of Student Councils. Theme of the year's Spring Forum was "Let The Sunshine In." This theme will emphasize a 'positive' look at the world in which young adults live.

Dr. Thomas T. Salter, president of Howard College at Big Spring, gave the keynote address during the morning session. Also during the morning session, various discussion groups involved students in problems facing their own schools.

Entertainment was provided by the Steer Band of Big Spring High and the New Lites of Big Spring.

The evening session was devoted to electing district officers for the 1974-75 school year, and the re-evaluation of the present constitution. Some 300-400 Student Council members were expected to attend. Attending from Grady include: Shirilla Sawyer, Joanna Sawyer, Mary Helen Rivas, Tahita Blake, Debbie Hildreth, Leza Britt, Leland Key, Daniel Lazano and La Ree Baker.

Tuesday, the Ready Writing contests were held at Dawson for high school students. Mary Helen Rivas and Mrs. Gates will leave early Tuesday for the contest. Thursday, the One-Act Play will be held at Gail.

School will dismiss at 2:00 March 28. March 28-30, the Outsider's Volleyball Tourney will be held in the Grady Gym.

Kim Andrews Is Crowned Spelling Bee Champion

By BECKY RAGAN

In the annual spelling bee, which was held Thursday in room 112, Kim Andrews was named the champion and Paula Witte the runner-up. Paula, a seventh grader, misspelled the word "memoir." Kim spelled memoir correctly and went on to win with the word "rheumatism." Mrs. Janice Rosson, a high school counselor, called out the words for the contestants.

At the choir contest which the Goiliad choirs attended last Wednesday in Midland, the advanced choir was given an overall rating of three; the mixed choir, a three; and the girls' choir, a two. The ratings were based on a one being the highest a school could get and five being the lowest.

In an effort to help beautify the school, the science club members are planning to set up new trash cans and are planning to plant pine trees.

At the library club meeting last Wednesday, Mrs. Essie Person, librarian, showed the aides how to operate a fine computer. This types of computer aids in determining book fines. In the library workroom, shelves have been set up containing research material on various subjects. First period library aids have decorated the bulletin board inside the library with the theme of the arrival of spring.

Ten members were present at last Wednesday's meeting of the Chess Club, spoinsored by Mr. Charles Arnold. The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 13. As his meeting will be the last regularly scheduled meeting this school year, all members are urged to attend. Mr. Arnild reports that a round-robin, five-minute chess tournament is being planned.

The girls physical education classes next week, while the trauurals nxt week, while the boys classes will start track.

BSHS Graduate A Top Scholar

Rebecca Ann Chappell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Chappell, R. R. 1, Alexandria, La., was among students from 30 states and half a dozen foreign countries honored at Anderson College for outstanding scholarship in the fall semester of 1973-74. A freshman majoring in music education at the Church of God liberal arts school in Indiana, Miss Chappell is preparing for a career of private teaching. She is a graduate of Big Spring High School.

Low Bid Accepted On School Bonds

STERLING CITY — Sterling City ISD Trustees have accepted the low interest bid of 4.32 per cent for 10 years by Columbian Securities Co. on bonds totaling $275,000, according to superintendent James Thompson.

Proceeds of the bonds will be used to enlarge elementary classrooms and the lunchrroom, remodel high school and junior high classrooms and hallways, modernize the front of the building and add office space and an entrance vestibule and constrruct a new shop and convert the old one into a science and vocational agriculture room.

In addition, public restrooms will be built in the gym, as will health education and dressing rooms. The breezeway between the school building and the gym will be enclosed to form an additional classroom.

Big Springer Is Tulane Pledge

NEW ORLEANS — Miss Elizabeth Jane Lipscombe, 2404 Allendale Rd., Big Spring, Tex., was recently initiated into Epsilon Beta, Tulane University chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor education scholastic society. Miss Lipscombe is a junior student at Newcomb College, women's liberal arts division of Tulane University.

VALRAE BEST

Coahoma Girl Will Serve As Delegate

Valrae Best, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Best of Coahoma, has been named to serve as delegate to the Bluebonnet Girls' State Meet. She will be sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Valrae was selected from among six candidates by Howard County Legion Auxiliary Post 355. She is a junior at Coahoma High School.

Valrae will be one of 575 delegates from the state of Texas. The program will be held in June at Texas Lutheran College in Seguen.

Bluebonnet Girls State serves to educated young women in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship.

It is a mythical 51st state where the girls elect city, county and state officials. They introduce and debate bills in their legislature and in general and, in general, learning by doing. It is non-partisan but divided into two political parties. This proves to be a very worhtwhile program of citizenship and Americanism.

Girls are selected by their high school faculties to be considered as delegates. They are chosen by character and potential leadership as well as scholastic achievement.

Kathy Meek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek, 2801 Crestline, a junior at Big Spring High School, was chosen as first alternate.

Other candidates, all junior students, were:

Amy Barbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarrell Barbee, Midway Road, student at Coahoma High School; Kathy Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, Sand Springs, Coahoma High School; Carol Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hart, 1750 Purdue, Big Spring, BSHS; Patti Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Topbert Myers, 2206 Cicelia, Big Spring, BSHS.

Girls' state chairman of the local unit is Mrs. Bill Dodin.

GARDEN CITY HIGH SCHOOL

Bachelor Living Class Meets For Cookout

By BECKY SCHWARTZ

Student council met Monday. They decided to let the junior high enter in the intramural track meet. It was also decided to get a 10-year trophy. The winning class each year will get its year engraved on it.

Thursday the choir went to observe the UIL district competition, at Midland Lee High School. They left at 12:00 and returned around 10:00 p.m.

The bachelor living class had a cookout Wednesday morning behind the old gym. Their menu consisted of eggs, bacon, sausage, biscuits, orange juice and coffee. They had two guests, Mr. Herrera, who showed them how to make Dutch oven biscuits and Mr. Bradford, who helped them build the fire. It was very successful.

Mr. Jones attended the TSTA meeting in Dallas last week.

Mark Werst and Becky Hirt will represent Garden City at the UIL typing contest in Bronte April 3. Linda Chandler will be alternate. Barbara Hoelscher and Pam Turner will represent Garden City in shorthand and Becky Robinson will be alternate.

At the track meet at Imperial last weekend that the boys attended, Charlie Puga placed first in the mile run and fourth in the broad jump. Joe Wooten placed fourth in the discus and fifth in the shot put. Stuart Wooten placed fifth in the 880 run and Mark Frysak placed fifth in the intermediate hurdles. The boys traveled to Grandfalls Saturday.

The girls that placed at the Eldorado track meet were Dana Halfmann, she placed third in the discus. Cindy Halfmann placed second in the 60 yd dash, and Linda Chandler placed fifth in the 100-yd. dash. The 380-yd. relay placed fifth and the 440-yd relay placed fourth. The girls traveled to Big Spring, Saturday.

GRADE SCHOOL

Monday and Tuesday the grade school was shown two films called "Hemo the Magnificant".

Friday the grade school UIL meet was held at Sterling City.

This month the grade schoiol elected Gary Halfmann and Denise Schwartz as citizens of the month.

The kindergarden planted pea seeds last week and the second grade planted tomato seeds.

The fifth grade migrant girls are starting a new program Monday called "Reading is FUNdamental." This program is to get the kids to read more. If they read five books from now to the end of school they get to choose one to keep as their own.

Mrs. G. R. Pearce has had surgery and is at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, room 515. We all miss her and are wishing her a speedy recovery.

The girls FHA skit won second place, so this gave them an opportunity to put it on at the area meet March 16.

Forsan Is First In UIL Contest

STERLING CITY — Forsan finished first in the district UIL literary contest held on the elementary and junior high level here Friday, scoring a total of 69 points to 55 for Garden City and 37 Greenwood.

Students from Forsan who received ribbons included: Teresa White, first in story telling; the team of Brent Raney, De Ann Cannon, Isabel Miranda, Rhonda Gaskins and Casey Clark, first in Picture Memory; Vance Stevens, first in Oral Readin (fifth-sixth grades).

RUNNELS JH

Choirs Receive Good Ratings

By JENNIE SPEEGLE

The three Runnels' Choirs traveled to Choir Contest Wednesday, March 21. The choirs received a rating on their contest music and on sight reading. The advanced choir received a one on their contest music and a two on sight reading. The girls choir received a one on contest music and two on sight reading and the boys choir received a two and a three.

The students from Runnels that won on the Vocational contest last Saturday are as follows: Richard Merrick — first place in the use of hand saw, second place in the use of the carpenter's rule and third place in identification of tools and materials. Wesley Coleman — fourth place in the use of the hand saw, Douglas Wagner — fourth place in the use of the carpenter's rule. Trent Fraley — first place in use of the carpenter's rule, and fourth place in tool and material identification.

The Runnels Student Council attended the Spring Forum yesterday. The group participated in group discussions and elections. The council entered a contest for "The Most Outstanding Student Council in the District."

A few members of the student council met after school last week and worked on a sun for the forum decorations. The sun was about fifteen feet by eight feet.

In observance of National Youth Art Month Runnels is participating in an exhibit of student arts and crafts in Highland South Mall, March twenty second through March 29.

Patchwork pillow tops were finished by Mrs. Conley's afternoon class. They are to be judged next week. Prizes will also be awarded.

The chess ladder of the Runnels Chess Club is as follows: 1. Donny Knight, 2 Julian Vigil, 3 Delad Daniels, 4 Kim Daniels, 5. A tie, between Wayne Mayo, Julie Davidson and Tony Lane.

There is one new student at Runnels this week. She is Christine Castaneda, an eighth grader from Saginaw, Texas.

$11,500 Award

District Judge R. W. Caton has awarded A. A. Cunningham, a former employe of Cabot, $11,500 in an appeal from the Industrial Accident Board.

Included in this amount was $2,875 attorney's fees.

Study Tour Is Set June 3

PLAINVIEW — Wayland Baptist College department of history will sponsor its third "Rediscover America" travel-study tour, June 3-23, according to Dr. C. Gwin Morris, chairman of the division of social science and head of the department.

Participants in the tour may take the course for college credit as "United States History to 1865" or "United States Social and Cultural History." The group will travel by air-conditioned chartered bus, which will insure the securing of fuel.

"We feel that the best way to understand the United States is to see it, to visit its battlefields, monuments, historic houses, recreated villages and other sites," Dr. Morris says of the trip. "This is the premise behind our travel-study tours in American history and it is one of the least painful ways of earning college credit in history."

The tour proves to be an ideal situation for graduating high school seniors who face required history credits in college. The trip is designed as an excellent graduation gift.

During the three-week jaunt, the group will tour through Shreveport, La., Birmingham, Ala., Knoxville, Tenn., Charlottesville, Va., Philadelphia and King of Prussia, Pa., Springfield and Boston, Mass., Bridgeport, Conn., New York City, Washington, D. C., Williamsburg and Petersburg, Va., Greensboro, N.C., Atlanta, Ga. and other historical cities.

Person interested in additional information on the tour should contact tour director, Dr. Morris, in the history department at Wayland.

Homemakers Have Roles In Midland Meeting

BY KAY NEWCOMER

The Area II Future Homemakers of America held their annual meeting Saturday, March 16, at Lee High School in Midland. "Impact: FHAs Big Top" was the theme for the meeting. The keynote address was given by Frederick McClure, of San Augustine, who serves as national secretary of the Future Farmers of Amerca. "Friends" was the theme of the speech given by Elaine Martin, outgoing Area II president. Elaine was elected as the state officer from Area II. She will be appointed to an office at the state FHA meeting in April. Kaye Hunt, a sophomore, was elected Ara II parliamentarian for 1974-75.

Participating in the Area Chorus were Kelly Zant and Kayla Gaskins. Rollcall representative was Doris Kay Newcomer, and Voting Delegate was Kayla Gaskins. Other chapter members attending were Patsy McDonald, Essie Cantu, and Lisa Martin, along with Mrs. Donnita Cunningham, advisor. Parents making the trip were Mrs. Rex Zant, Mrs. Earl Newcomer and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin. Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Maxwell attended, with Mr. Maxwell, our superintendent, serving as stage guest.

District One-Act Play competition is Thursday, March 28, at Borden County High School. The play, "Still Stands the House" will be presented at 2:00 p.m. Members of the cast are Danny Gillespie, Elaine Martin, David Zant and Cindy McDonald. The stage crew consists of Marsha Dyer, Kelly Zant and Andy Anderson. Mrs. Donnita Cunningham is the play director. The play will be given for the student body Wednesday morning during 4th period. Anyone who would like to see the play is invited to attend.

The girls volleyball team placed second in district competition at a tournament held last Tuesday at Union Terry. Players on the varsity volleyball team are Gay Mosley and Kayla Gaskins, seniors, Patty Peugh, Cindy Shaw, Elaine Martin, Londa Feaster and Josie Balcazar, juniors; Kaye Hunt, Lynn Hopper, Ann Nichols and Connie Hughes, sophomores; and Rene Roman, freshman. They were coached by Robert Barr and Pam Sikes and Julie Merrick served as managers.

The boys' and girls' track teams participated in a track meet at Borden County Friday and at Big Spring High School on Saturday.

An assembly was held Friday afternoon at 2:00 in the auditorium. The Howard College Fine Arts Department provided the entertainment.

Dabes Is Leaving Sweetwater Post

SWEETWATER — Drennon Dabes, 43, has resigned as superintendent of schools in Sweetwater to take a similar position in the Paris Independent School District. Dabes has been superintendent here for three years.

Dabes will assume a position now held by Tom Linan, who is moving to Woodville.

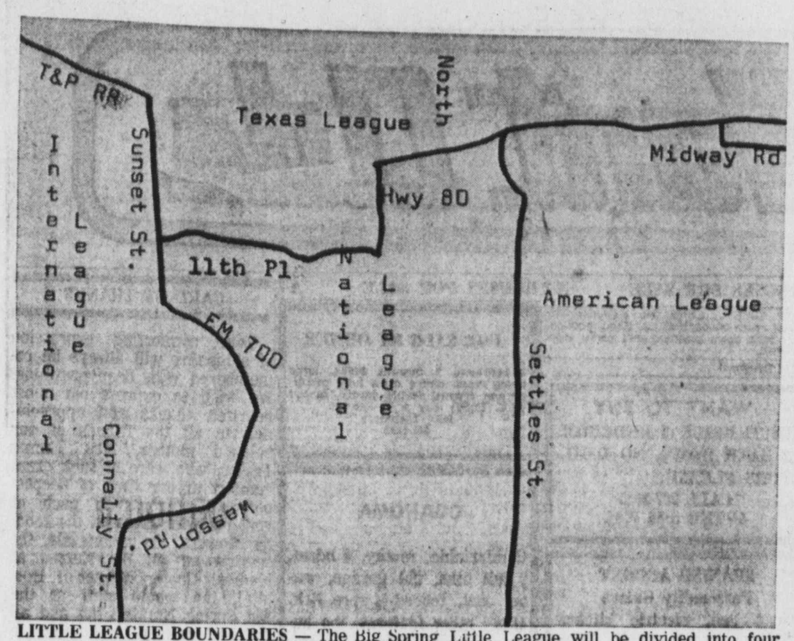

Dabes joined the Sweetwater schoodl system in 1961 as a history teacher and assistant football coach.

At Paris, Dabes will be responsible for a high school, two middle schools and five elementaries. Paris High School moves into a new building this fall.

PRESENT FOR HOME ECONOMICS EC BANQUET — Mrs. Iva Lou Ashley (hands folded), Mrs. Tom Guess, Mary Guess, Tom Guess and Sandra Woolridge (left to right) were among those who attended the Home Economics Cooperative Education Club's annual employer-employe banquet staged last Tuesday in the main dining room of the Brandin' Iron Inn. Entertainment was provided by vocalist Carrie Wheeler, accompanied on the guitar by Angel Pineda. Mrs. John Annen is Area II consultant, Mrs. Iva Lou Ashley the HECE teacher while Mary Guess serves as president. Other officers: Carrie Wheeler, vice-president; Sandra Wooldridge, secretary; Patti Fitts, treasurer; and Vicki Robertson, parliamentarian.

LITTLE LEAGUE BOUNDARIES — The Big Spring Little League will be divided into four divisions as shown on the map, the International, American, Texas and National leagues. Youngsters wishing to play Little League baseball must register within the district of their residence. Registration in all four leagues has been set for Saturday.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Scooping up the junk, as a friend would call it . . .

It looks like Lone Star Conference basketball coaches just got tired of seeing Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston State faces on the All-LSC team year after year. None made the top five this time. Former HC All-American Archie Myers of SFA ranked third in the LSC in scoring, yet wasn't really even a solid second team pick . . .

Archie, incidentally, was also recently named to the NAIA all-district team, which includes all of Texas. Harry Miller, another ex-Hawk who finished at Texas Lutheran, also made the honor squad . . .

* * * * * *

Just got my nifty, handy and otherwise useful 1973 NFL statistics and will pass on the official news about the local folks. Charley Johnson ranked second among AFC passers in yardage gained (2,465), though his point rating was only 75.0, fourth in the loop. The Denver QB did tie for second in interceptions (17), not exactly the type stats he'd like spread around, but he was third in the AFC in completion percentage . . .

And Charlie West, though he didn't play much because of an injury, made the list in kickoff returns. West only brought back three kicks, but his average was 34.7. If it makes him feel any better, Minnesota intercepted five less passes (21) in 1973 than they did a year earlier with West in the defensve secondary . . .

* * * * * *

Apparently, Frank Phillips coach Don Loyd was paranoid, curious, nosey or just plain liked to hear peoples' voices all the time. To those who knew the coach, it was a shock this week when he quit his job after four microphones — "bugs," if you will — were found in classrooms and an auditorium at the Borger school, all leading to his office.

Loyd, the Western Conference coach with the longest tenure, came across as a nice, easy-going, hard-to- ruffle guy — sort of square, in fact — and that's not exactly the sort of person who normally goes around listening in on someone's biology class . . .

* * * * * *

The ever-popular energy crisis may be winding toward a slowdown, but someone in Abilene obviously didn't believe in that particular bit of news. Abilene Cooper and Abilene High tracksters traveled to Brownwood Bluebonnet Relays on one bus last week, something of a first, at least in this district. Must have been mighty uncomfortable, in more ways than one . . .

* * * * * *

The state's No. 1 track story is still Woody Lyons, the 5-9 kid from Smyer with a withered leg who has soared over 6-9 in the high jump. Lyons, who has vowed he'll go 7-0 this year, has failed to make at least 6-6 only once this year, at Idalou, and that was because the standards would go just 6-4. His daily workouts are the hottest things in town . . .

And not far behind is tiny Alvin Crenshaw, the 5-4 motor man from Dallas Roosevelt who leads the state in two categories this year, the 220 (21.2) and the 440 (47.5), and is second in the 880-yard dash (1:54.0) . . .

Little League Sets Sign-Up

Boys from eight to 12 years of age will be eligible for Little League baseball registration Saturday when the four local leagues hold their sign-up sessions.

Youngsters interested in playing must be accompanied by a parent or quardian in order to register Saturday, according to Dist. 3 Administrator Jack Barber. All players must compete in the league in which their residence lies.

Registration sites and times are as follows:

American League — Howard College Student Union Building, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

National League — College Heights Cafeteria, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

International League — Airport School and Marcy School, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Texas League — Texas League Park, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Barber said the week following registration would be used to draft players. The season opener is set for April 22.

STANTON SETS SPORTS FETE

STANTON — Abilene Christian College head football coach and Athletic Director Wally Bullington will be the guest speaker Thursday at the Stanton All-Sports Banquet.

The fete, set for 7:30 p.m. in the Stanton Junior High Cafeteria, will honor athletes in all sports who played for the Buffaloes this year, according to Stanton AD Bill Young.

Bullington led his ACC Wildcats to the Lone Star Conference and the NAIA football championship this year, the school's first year in the division. Abilene Christian was 11-1, and led the nation in team offense.

Runnels Tops Goliad Twice

Runnels Junior High closed out its girls volleyball season with a pair of victories over crosstown rivel Goliad Friday in the Goliad gym.

Jeanie Moten was the high point server with 11 points and Rose Majers added nine as Runnels won the A game 15-7, 15-4, finishing the year with a 7-6 mark. Eva Rich, Alisa Zellars, Susie Hernandez and Betty Tate also had big games for the RJHS team.

For Goliad, Karen Tibbs was the top scorer while Johnson and Hansen played the net. Lilly Rhymes helped pace the effort for the Goliad girls, who finished at 1-11.

In the B game, Runnels nabbed 15-11 decision behind the serving of Kim Smith and Rosa Mata and the net play of Rhonda Metcalf. Goliad was topped by Cindy Russell, Page Grisham and Farmer. The Runnels B team had a 2-2 standing.

Seventh grade teams from the two schools will play matches against each other this week. The first game will be Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Goliad gym with two matches on tap, and the final seventh grade game will be Thursday in the Runnels gym.

CARROL RIGHTER

SUNDAY, MARCH 24, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A great day if you now accept a chance to forge ahead in new avenues of expression. Use your best mental qualities to get a better understanding of where you are headed. Study all phases of a new outlet. Use good judgment.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Know what it is you want the most and then take the action necessary to gain objectives. Friends can give good advice. Relax tonight.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Discuss the future intelligently with a business expert. Rely on your intuition. Say nothing that could hurt the reputation of another.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Now you are able to come in contact with persons you admire and gain their backing. A new acquaintance could be of great help to you now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Go straight to a bigwig and get the support you need for furthering your career. Engage in a civic matter that is important to you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have fine ideas that require much data to make them workable. Get into the communications necessary to make your career more successful. Take it easy tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Think of practical ways to increase your income. Show more devotion for mate and improve rapport. Do nothing that could spoil your reputation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talk with a clever associate and come to a meeting of minds where mutual affairs are concerned. Be sure to carry through with civic work.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are in a mood to get much accomplished where work is concerned so get busy on personal projects. Avoid misunderstandings with others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to be with charming persons after you have attended the services of your choice. The evening can be fine socially.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take it easy at home today and make important plan for the future. Look about you and make improvements that are necessary.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Engage in studies that will give you the wisdom you need now. Take time to work on hobby and make life more charming for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You want more of this world's goods and this can be accomplished if you expand your consciousness. Find out how to add to present income.

MONDAY, MARCH 25, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A continuing excellent time to put in action new aims and ideas, but get as much additional data as possible from experts and let them know you will carry through with plans.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Confer with those who can assist you with career or personal interests. Enjoy a group affair. Make the new contacts you need.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Now you have needed information to handle personal or career matters. Ideal evening for romantic pleasures. Avoid one who dosn't respect you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get together with congenials for pleasures that are mutually appealing. Clarify personal desires. Get rid of inner conflict that can be annoying.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Contact those who can assist you with career. Get needed data and use it wisely. Impress a higher-up with your talents.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk over advancement ideas with experts. Do nothing that can hurt you later. Investigate new outlets for more interesting future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find a more modern method of operating. Listen to ideas of mate for the future. Come to a very fine understanding.

LIBRA (Sept. 223 to Oct. 22) Discuss future plans with an associate. One who opposes you may be sarcastic. Avoid one with a strange way of looking at life.

SCORPIO ((Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You accomplish much, but study all aspects before acting. Accept assistance offered by a clever fellow worker. Avoid an untruthful person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have fine creative ideas and impress others favorably. Make new acquaintances who can be helpful to you in the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 21) Get a new slant on your present duties. Take the treatments that give you more energy. Evening favors the social.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb. 19) Express your clever ideas to others without procrastination. Get at all those activities that await you and perform in a fine manner.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Handle duties efficiently. Do something about that plan you have and get trusted adviser to help you. Have fun tonight.

MAZDA

Six Mazdas proved their good gas mileage recently under a variety of road, traffic and weather conditions. In a United States Auto Club certified test using non-professional drivers, the Mazdas were driven from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C., at an overall average speed of 53.5 miles per hour. The smallest Mazda, a piston engine 808, delivered 31.3 miles per gallon. The largest Mazdas, three rotary engine RX-4s averaged over 20 miles per gallon. Of course, the mileage you get depends on the way you drive. For the full story of Mazda's gas economy, see any of Mazda's dealers nationwide.

Easy To Lose Lbs. Fast With New Vitamin 'E' Diet

HOLLYWOOD (Special) — New scientific discoveries have produced a Vitamin E diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with growing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almot as much as you want."

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and evenmore without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists' files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon & eggs and still lose weight.

Chewable (candy-like) vitamin E tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of ingredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wonderous benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

The use of the new Vitamin E Diet tablets and foods prescribed in the plan will, through natural action, act to help your body use up excess fat. According to recent clinical test, a person who is deficient in Vitamin E or Protein "will double the speed of fat utilization" with the use of Vitamin E.

E-DIET AVAILABLE

To get a copy of this highly successful diet and E Tablets, send $5.00 for 10 day supply (or $7.00 for 20 day supply or $10.00 for 30 day supply) to: Vita-E Diet, Dept. No. VI, 11526 Burbank Blvd., North Hollywood, Calif. 91601 (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.)

LET'S GO FISHING

Virgil Ward

GETTING READY FOR THAT TRIP

A fishing trip is much more enjoyable and productive when you have the right gear along and in good working order.

To make sure go through your equipment in a methodical way well before a trip so you have the time to get pieces ready and replace those beyond repair. Equipment in poor shape can ruin a trip faster than almost anything. Some pointers:

Rods — wash thoroughly with soap and water and rinse in hot water; clean ferrules and coat lightly with oil.

Reels — rinse completely in hot water and then oil sparingly; release the drag tension; replace worn or missing parts; cover with a light coat of oil.

Lines — check for cracking, aging, wear and rot and discard damaged lines; periodically reverse ends on the spool to even up use; check for weak spots on monofilament lines; look for dark spots, indicating wear, on braided lines.

Accessories — check hooks and lures and discard badly damaged and rusty ones; note lures you must replace right away; spruce up dingy plug bodies and restore finish on spinner blades and spoons; sharpen dull hooks and coat all hooks lightly with oil; wash landing nets with mild detergent; patch hole and weak spots in waders and boots.

It's a good idea, by the way, to empty your tackle box from time to time. Boxes can get pretty messy during a fishing trip and the only way to know what's been left behind somewhere and what needs repair or replacement is to sort out the contents and look over each time.

In getting ready for your next trip here are some handy items you may not have and should consider:

Fisherman's pliers; jaw spreader; stringer; multipurpose folding knife; file to sharpen hooks; fish scaler; tape measure; compass; flashlight with spar batteries; compact first aid kit; topographical maps of the fishing areas; spare spark plugs for your boat motor; sunburn lotion; insect repellant — something such as Deep Woods Off! that will repel even biting flies; litter bag.

A suggestion: make a master list of items you'll want with you on almost all trips and paste the list on your tackle box. It will serve as a handy reminder to have the right gear along and in good shape.

Proper maintenance of equipment and a habit of checking it over well ahead of a trip help make fishing the fun it should be, to say nothing of extending the useful life of your gear.

Dear Virgil,

I know you've fished for bass all over the country and have caught some shoppers. What do you consider the three most effective lures for bass..

Walter Clarke
Crystal Lake, Ill.

Dear Walter,

Without hesitation I'd say the three most deadly lures, especially for bass, are jigs and eels, spinner lures and plastic worms. Of these three, I think I tend to favor a Bass Buster fiber guard jig with an Uncle Josh black widow eel. This combination is dynamite with big bass. Let it settle to the bottom then raise it about a foot.

YOUNG RESEARCHERS are enjoying their studies on nutrition at Airport Elementary School with the help of albino rats. For the past six weeks the animal feeding demonstration has been used to show students the importance of milk in the diet. At right is Mrs. Miriam Curry of Midland, a representative of Dairy Council Inc., who provided the rats. Standing, center, is the class teacher, Clarence Hawkins, and the students are Junior Viasana, Eva Dominguez and Yvetta DeLeon.

Rats Can Teach Nutrition

Fifth grade students at Airport Elementary School have been learning nutrition by observing rats.

These students, under the guidance of their teacher, Clarence Hawkins, have been conducting an animal feeding demonstration for the past six weeks in the classroom.

The purpose of the demonstration is to show the students the importance of milk in the diet.

Hawkins stressed that this is a demonstration, not an experiment, because "we know what the final results will be. With an experiment, we are not sure of the results."

Dairy Council Inc. provided the school with a pair of laboratory-bred, albino rats from the Sprague-Dawley Laboratories in Madison, Wis.

Rats will eat approximately the same foods that boys and girls do and respond to various diets in much the same way. They have a short life span and grow so rapidly that pupils may observe in a few weeks of rat feeding results that it might take years to observe in humans. The most readily observable difference betwen young rats fed contrasting diets is in rate of growth.

In this demonstration, the rats were fed identical diets with one difference. The control rat was given milk to drink; the experimental rat was given only water to drink. The rats show marked differences in appearance and behavior, as well as in growth rate. The addition of milk to the diet of the experimental rat near the end of the demonstration helps to show that milk makes a difference. This procedure also gives the students the satisfaction of seeing the rat improve in health with the addition of milk.

Dairy Council Inc. is a professional educational organization promoting optimal health through a better understanding of the nutritional value of milk and dairy products. It is sponsored and supported by the dairy farmers in the state of Texas. The Dairy Council program reaches consumers at the community level.

Mrs. Miriam Curry serves as dietitian for Dairy Council Inc., Midland, which serves the West Texas area, including Big Spring and all of Howard County. A registered dietitian and professional home economist, Mrs. Curry serves as consultant on nutrition, health education and the use of milk and dairy products. She works with educators, community and professional groups and consumer leaders for the advancement of good health through better nutrition education.

Mrs. Curry often serves as guest speaker for area home demonstration clubs.

Happy New Year!

Thirty Iraanian students at Webb Air Force Base, under the leadership of Capt. Khosravi Parviz, were hosts for a gala New Year's party Thursday evening in the Officer's Club on base.

An estimated 500 townspeople and military personnel were guests of the student pilots from Iraan who are stationed at Webb AFB under the Security Assistance Training Program.

The formal affair featured champagne, hors d' oeuvres and music for dancing. Highlight of the evening was the welcome extended by Capt. Parviz, on behalf of all the students, to "our American friends". In a brief talk, Capt. Parviz described the beautiful customs that are observed by Iraanians when they celebrate their New Year.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Harmonson, Lubbock, announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula Celeste, to Dave Duncan II, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Duncan, 6 Indian Ridge. The couple, students at Texas Christian University, will be married June 29 in Westminister Presbyterian Church, Lubbock. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha and he is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta and a member of the varsity football team.

Woman Marine Is Judge

"Civilian judges are different from military judges because they are either elected or appointed. But I have often given the idea some thought, and I think I would like being a judge in the civilian world." Maine Capt. Eileen Albertson, certified military judge in the Marine Corps, presiding at a special court-martial.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Miss Judy Ann Mims became the bride of Carl Travis Dean in a ceremony performed Saturday evening by Claude Woods, minister, in the Stanton Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mims, Rt. 1, Stanton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Pauline Henson, 1114 Main, Big Spring.

George Dean was soloist, and the altar candles were lighted by Joanna Haggard. The branched candelabra were flanked by urns arranged with gladioli, carnations and greenery.

FORMAL GOWN

The bride was attired in a formal gown of white bridal satin with a high, stand-up collar and empire bodice banded in Venise lace and ribbon. The full sheer sleeves of silk organza were cuffed with lace. The A-line skirt extended into a chapel-length train, with Venise-lace and ribbon circling the skirt and train. A coif of lace and pearls held her lace-edged veil of illusion.

Miss Jo Mims, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the other attendants were Mrs. Jay Wishkoemper of Lubbock, sister of the bride; and Miss Irma Mashburn. They were identically attired in floor-length dresses of orchid dotted Swiss styled with empire waistline, stand-up collar and short, puffed sleeves. They wore orchid picture hats and carried nosegays of pastel carnations.

BEST MAN

Larry Kelso of Big Lake was best man, and Jack Spears, and Jimmy Dean, both of Big Spring, were groomsmen. Ushers were Joe Dean, brother of the bridegroom, and Billy Howard. David Henson, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The flower girl, Debbie Howard, was attired in a yellow dress.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Cap Rock auditorium, where refreshments were served by Miss Debbie Payne, Abilene; and Mrs. Nancy Howard of Tarzan.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean are graduates of Stanton High School and he is a graduate of Angelo State University.

Quote From Patricia Hearst

"Mom and Dad, I'm okay. I think you can really tell I'm not terrified or anything. These people have been very honest with me ... they are perfectly willing to die for what they do ... I want to get out of here but the only way is if you do what they say, and do it quickly." Patricia Hearst, who was kidnaped on Feb. 4, in a taped message to her parents.

Gardeners View Film On Plants

A film depiciting the problems of growing African violets was shown by Mrs. J. O. Murphy, program leader for Wednesday's meeting of Texas Bouquet African Violet Club. The women met in the home of Mrs. A. C. Moore, with guests being Mrs. Eddie Eastman and Mrs. Larry Willard.

The film shown by Mrs. Murphy demonstrated the planting and are of the plants, which need a humidity of 40 to 50 per cent for good growth. They brought out the fact that one hour in a 200-degree oven will sterilize the clay pot and soil in which the violets are to be grown.

The second part of the program was presented by Mrs. Adren Westbrook who told a legend of the redbud tree.

Mrs. J. F. Sanders, president, reminded the members of the continuing clean-up campaign and the work to be done at Comanche Trail Park.

The next meeting will be at 4 p.m., April 17 in the home of Mrs. Brent Womack.

Club Gets Practical Advice On Ecology

The story of a man "who loved the land and respected the value of it" was related by Mrs. Adrian Randle in a program, "Ecology and the Gardener," last week for After Five Garden Club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Joe Peay, 1213 E. 18th.

In telling the story of her grandfather, Mrs. Randle cited several incidents in his life when he farmed 80 acres in Oklahoma "when the grass was still tall."

"He worked hard to conserve the land by using compost and barnyard manure in his fields", she said. "He encouraged birds to live on his land to control insects and pests, and he planted cluster crops and crops that were beneficial to each other. The crops were rotated each year to enrich the soil, and wine grapes were grown between the cotton rows.

Mrs. Randle suggested the following ecology measures which can be used today:

Spray with a mixture of soap, onion and garlic mixed in a blender.

Plant vegetables and flowers together.

Build compost beds from household garbage, grass clippings and manure.

Use shallow containers of beer in flower beds to control snails.

In conclusion, she challenged the gardeners to grow something new every year and learn to save, not destroy.

The business agenda included discussion of the District 1 convention held Wednesday and Thursday in Amarillo. Mrs. Helen McArmour was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Mrs. J. E. Smith will assign each member blocks to be responsible for in the clean-up campaign being sponsored by local garden clubs. The After Five Garden Club's territory is First Street to FM 700 between Gregg and Johnson streets.

MRS. STEPHEN DALE HOLCOMBE

Couple United In Marriage

The wedding of Miss Donna Lynn Springer to Stephen Dale Holcombe was performed Thursday evening by Dr. Jimmy Law in the Blue Room of Dora Roberts Community Center, with Miss Karen Coffee, pianist, performing nuptial selections. Miss Elizabeth Reed was vocalist.

The couple stood before an improvised altar featuring an archway and basket arrangements of chrysanthemums and greenery.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Springer, 606 W. 6th, and Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Holcombe, 1708 Purdue.

Carrying a cascade of miniature roses interspersed with stephanotis, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white peau de soie, the empire bodice overlaid with Chantilly lace and styled with rounded neckline. Sheer puffed sleeves were cuffed with matching lace and a lace headpiece held her bouffant veil of illusion.

Miss Catherine Allen attended the bride as bridesmaid, attired in a floor-length gown of yellow dotted Swiss. Yellow ribbons adorned her hair, and she carried a single yellow rose.

Ruel Metcalf served as best man, and the ushers were Thomas Owen and Tony Thixton.

Following a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N.M., the couple will reside at 1502 Scurry. Prior to leaving, they were honored at a reception, with refreshments served by Mrs. Wanda Owens and Mrs. Paula Peas.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Neal Nicholson of Novice, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Nicholson, Fort Worth; Mrs. Tom Sims, Bronco; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Buckner, Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Keelling, also of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe are graduates of Big Spring High School. He is employed in the composing room of the Big Spring Herald, and she works at Winchell's Donut House.

NUPTIALS — Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. H. H. Wyatt Jr., Wichita Falls, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bobbie Dee Ann, to James Andrew Bensch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus A. Bensch, Wichita Falls. Miss Wyatt is the granddaughter of Mrs. G. H. Hayward, 502 Hillside and the late Mr. Hayward. The wedding is slated May 31 in Trinity Baptist Church, Wichita Falls.

Art Association Will Sponsor Mall Show

Plans were finalized for Big Spring Art Association's sponsorship of an exhibit of students' art work when the group met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Jerry Harry, 2720 Larry. Drawings, paintings and sculpture done by local elementary, junior and senior students will be displayed in Highland Center Mall during the week of March 25.

Mrs. Dalton Conway was cohostess for the meeting.

The annual spring open show will be held April 27 in the Howard College library.

In other business, Mrs. Bowden Hampton, Mrs. W. H. Crenshaw and Mrs. Gary Grant were appointed to study present by-laws of the club. Named to a nominating committee were Mrs. Dalton Conway, Mrs. J. H. Holloway and Gary Grant.

Announcement was made of the Easter Art Show in Post April 6-7 sponsored by the Post Art Guild.

The April meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Frank Hartley, 408 W. 6th, cohosted by Mrs. M. R. Silverling.

Lord's Prayer Is A Hit Record

"I see Christ as a person with a vision of drawing all people together in happiness and I see my work as part of His vision, to bring people to God through music. I am grateful to God for the happiness and deep understanding I have found in my life." Sister Janet Mead, who sings "The Lord's Prayer" to a rock time on a hit record.

TO BE HONORED — The Rev. and Mrs. Elra Houston Phillips, who were married in 1923, will be honored with a 50th wedding anniversary reception March 31 in the parlor of First United Methodist Church. Calling hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m., and all friends and relatives are invited to attend. Hosting the reception will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin Rodman, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Precious Jewels Should Sparkle

For the nicest glints and gleams in your precious, semiprecious and costume jewelry, take a little time to keep it clean.

Translucent gems—diamonds, emeralds, sapphires, rubies — are generally very hard and can be soaked in a soap or detergent solution to help loosen dirt particles from the settings. Brush gently with a small brush, and rinse in warm water.

Nontransulcent stones — pearls, opals, turquoise—are delicate and easily damaged. Wisk these through mild soap suds, rinse and pat dry with a soft towel.

Gold jewelry without stones should be soaked in warm, soapy solutions to remove any accumulations of dirt. Rinse in warm water and polish dry. Costume jewelry whould be wiped regularly with a soft, damp cloth. Handle all jewelry gently and store without contact with other jewelry.

'Well-Heeled' Gucci Fans Applaud Show

By ANN HENCKEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Well-heeled Gucci fans turned out for a spring-summer show of the latest horse-bit trimmed shoes, skirts, pants and dresses.

Gucci shoes and purses have long been a staple in the wardrobe of a certain kind of rich woman. She's the one with the good skin, simple hairdo, real gold pin and cable-knit sweater. She's usually one step behind the most current fashions, on purpose, and she goes for quality.

In the 1960s, particularly, the Gucci shoe became such a status symbol, it was almost a joke. People referred to the "Pucci-Gucci" crowd.

The look has been imitated, endlessly, in all price ranges, from the shoe with the gold horse-bit across the instep to the red and green striped detailing on luggage and purses.

The shoes are built like bullets, and it's hard to imitate such resilience to wear and tear.

"We are the most copied people in the world," said Dr. Aldo Gucci, a senior member of the Italian-based firm, adding that his customers are not always happy to see those inexpensive imitations.

In fact, down the street from the St. Regis Hotel, where the show was held on Tuesday, Gucci-looking purses were selling for $6.99. Real Gucci purses run from $60 to $220. Women's shoes go from $39 to $59.

However, Dr. Gucci says the firm's business has increased 25 times over in the last five years. At this point, Gucci has 16 stores in various countries and 42 franchises in the United States and Europe.

Although other companies are constantly changing styles in a frenetic search for something new, Gucci has continued to carry the horse-bit shoe for the last 30 years, along with other up-dated styles.

The best looks in the show were the simplest, neat pants with knit tops and leather jackets. The worse were the ones with a few too many stripes, pockets or bits of gold.

Colors were soft salmon, lapis blue and gold. "Born free" animal prints of ostriches and zebras turned up on sweaters and blouses.

Women's leather costs run $595. A man's wool V-neck cardigan sweater is $145. An ivory linen shirt is $75.

At these prices, no wonder Gucci is a status symbol for some people.

Help Control Plant Diseases

Five basic principles to control disease in the home garden are sanitation, exclusion, eradication, protection and resistance.

Sanitation, as aptly described by Prof. R. Kenneth Horst of the New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, simply means providing good environmental conditions.

Destroy plant debris and other materials in which disease-carrying bacteria and fungi lurk dormant through winter. Get rid of old plant parts and weeds in fall to prevent trouble in spring.

Exclusion means keeping out disease-causing organisms by buying healthy seeds, cuttings or plants.

Eradication is done by removing and destroying infected plants, which serve as reservoirs for disease organisms. Pesticides, which are preventive tools, help. In short, start your control program before disease is evident.

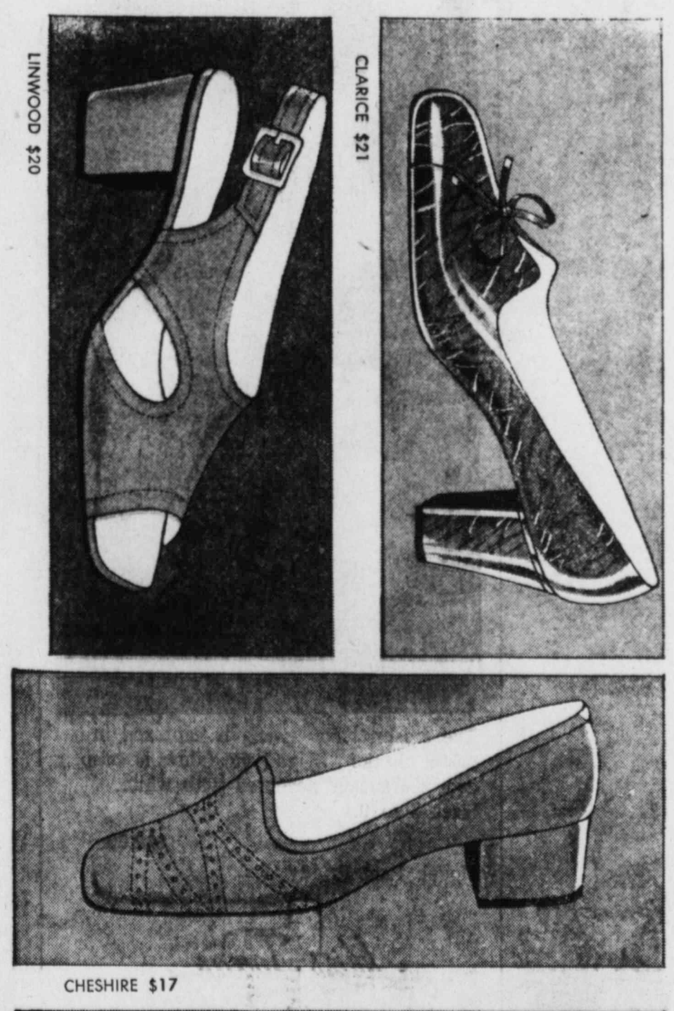

Crop rotation is another preventative, especially if soil becomes infected. Use resistant seed varities.

Don't Wait

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have just received a letter from our daughter informing us that she is three and a half months pregnant. She and her boyfriend want to wait "a few months" before getting married as they are both in college and it's not convenient for them to come home now.

Our daughter says she wants a big church wedding and asked her father if he would give her away.

My husband feels they should get married right away. We do not want to be subjected to the embarrassment of inviting our friends and relatives to a big church wedding "in a few months" when the bride will be noticeably expecting. Also, should a father be expected to give away what has obviously been taken?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Tell the lovebirds that if they want a big church wedding they should fly home at once. And the sooner the better. If they decide to wait a few months, an intimate family wedding with a minimum of hoopla would be in better taste.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I haven't been able to sleep very well. You see, I did a little creative bookkeeping on my income tax by way of "deductions." Any suggestions?

INSOMNIAC

DEAR IN: Send the internal revenue department a check for $500. And if you still can't sleep, send 'em the balance.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has been widowed about a year. (I am also a widow.) Bernice is very attractive and good company and she is not hurting at the bank, but she has one hangup which I think is ridiculous. She refuses to go anywhere without a male escort.

There are places where single women go together — concerts, dinner and the theater — but Bernice says she would stay home than be seen with "the girls." She claims it is bad for her "image." She seems to think if she's seen in the company of other women she will give the impression that she can't get a date.

Do you believe if a woman is seen with other women it will hurt her chances for getting a man? What's the matter with Bernice? Or am I wrong?

BERNICE'S FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Bernice should be less concerned with her "image" and more concerned with her future. If a woman wants to get into the social swim and doesn't have a date with a man, she should go with the girls. She won't meet anyone sitting at home, and besides, one of the girls may have a brother.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I work in my husband's office, as a corporate secretary. I am expected to sign legal papers I know nothing about, type up and sign minutes of meetings that never took place, and just be there when I'm needed and then disappear.

I am never included in financial meetings, but I must cosign all notes and legal papers. When businessmen come to the office, I am not even introduced, and when my husband takes them to lunch, I am not included.

I know I am needed because I keep the records, do the payroll, write and sign all the checks, and do many jobs that would be costly to hire someone to do. I work for no pay!

We've had to give up most of our social life because we both work all the time. I don't know how long I can continue living in this pattern. We have a fantastic business, but what good is the money if all we do is work! You once said: "No one can use you for a doormat unless you lie down."

Well, it's not all that easy to get up without destroying more than you care to give up.

NO NAME

DEAR NO: Collar your husband and state your complaints. Don't expect to improve your lot by complaining to ME!

BRIDE-ELECT — Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Tindol, Coahoma, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Denise, to Anthony G. Goeke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Goeke, Corpus Christi. The wedding will be June 15 in Berea Baptist Church with the Rev. Gary Higgs officiating.

'Cigar Box' Gardens Planted

Twenty-one students in the Individualized Program at Moss Elementary School participated in planting cigar-box gardens at the school Thursday afternoon. The children used small mirrors to resemble ponds and planted gardens around them using assorted plant materials.

Working with the students on this project were Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. M. C. Stulting, Mrs. D. Gordon, Mrs. Paschal Odom and Mrs. Henry Schaedel, all of the Oasis Garden Club.

On April 18, Mrs. Albert Hohertz, Mrs. Stulting and Mrs. C. V. Wash will take the children on a field trip to view and discuss wild flowers.

The Oasis Garden Club is also planning to assist the children at West Side Community Center in planting a garden at the center.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Gals:

'tis time I teach you something that my daughter-in-law taught me. The only difference might be that this time I listened! Imagine that!

It's about putting on foundation cream makeup. Many contain a moisturizer nowadays, but sometimes they are hard to smear on.

The secret?

Water!

Yep, Just plain old water from the tap. Before applying the cream, hold your hand under the cold water faucet and use a wet hand to wipe all over your face.

Then dip into the jar and dab the cream in places on the skin. Take your hand and start spreading away. It will go on ever so even and sorta melt all over the skin. It's scrumtious. Really!

I didn't know foundation moisturizers had water in them. I also had been rubbing my skin for a hundred years. This pulls in wrinkles, gals . . . you can only stretch skin so many times before it forms a wrinkle. Think that one over.

Remember how pretty our tummies looked before we had those babies?

If you wet your face first, and when you feel a slight pull on your skin, slightly dampen your hand again. You will be amazed at the difference it makes when it dries.

It takes only a few minutes and puts new, glossy, dewy-fresh look on my skin, because since I have learned this I have quit wearing powder altogether.

You don't have a thing to lose. No money involved. Try it a week and then send some kisses of thanks to my daughter-in-law. Promise I will forward all your letters.

Love "youth" with all my heart!. . .Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

In my job of contacting people, I travel quite a bit.

I have a heater in my car that can be set for the hot air to blow down. As I'm traveling in areas where the weather is cold, I turn my car butler around so that the sandwhich tray is close to the heat.

I take the paper wrapper off the can of soup I want to warm up and lay it lengthwise in the tray. The hot air blowing on the can warms the soup (or anything you just need to heat and serve). Solid food takes a little longer time to heat.

Your food can be heating as you drive along the highway. This saves the time you would spend in a restaurant waiting for your order to beo served.. . .A Reader Fan

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I have several household cleaning jobs that I do about once a month.

In order to remember to do them, and to keep track of the last time they were done, I always do them at the first of every month.

These jobs include such things as cleaning blinds, scrubbing woodwork, cleaning baseboards . . . things that I don't normally do every week.

This method has worked very well for me. . . . Mrs. S. Newberry

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I would hate to have to cook without my "butter flavoring."

I add a few drops to my regular package cake mixes. I also use it in instant mashed potatoes, muffin batter — in fact, I use it in anything that might be perked up by the butter flavor.

If you don't already use it — give it a try. Just use your imagination and I think you will be glad you did. . . . Joline Boudreau

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I use clothespins to pin up the bottom of my drapes when cleaning the carpets.

It keeps the drapes out of the way and eliminates any danger of spotting them. It's such a simple matter. . . . Mrs. W.E.N.

Workshop, Luncheon Held By Elbow Club

An all-day workshop and covered dish luncheon was held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jack McKinnon for members of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club and their guests.

The guests were Mrs. Ted Delapass, Mrs. Oscar J. Cadena (who joined the club), Mrs. Rufus Rogers, Mrs. Tom Ambrose and Miss Sherry Mullin, Howard County home demonstration agent.

The two part program featured demonstrations on crackle art by Mrs. Jean L. Bowersox and the preparation of fresh vegetable juices by Mrs. W. L. Brown.

Mrs. R. B. Covington Jr. presiding, reminding members of the district meeting here April 18 in First United Methodist Church fellowship hall.

The attendance prize went to Mrs. Delapass.

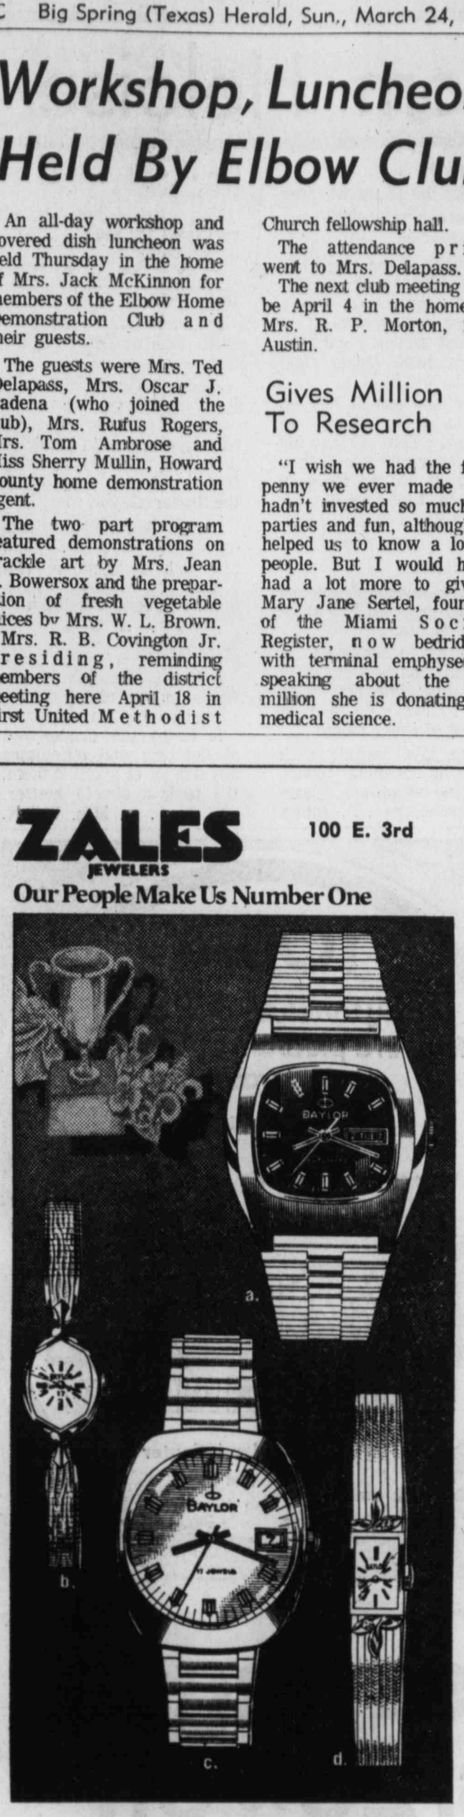

The next club meeting will be April 4 in the home of Mrs. R. P. Morton, 2303 Austin.

Gives Million To Research

"I wish we had the first penny we ever made and hadn't invested so much in parties and fun, although it helped us to know a lot of people. But I would have had a lot more to give." Mary Jane Sertel, founder of the Miami Social Register, now bedridden with terminal emphysema, speaking about the $1 million she is donating to medical science.

Dr. Spence To Assume Editorship

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Dr. Janet T. Spence, University of Texas professor of Psychology and educational psychology, has been named the first woman editor of Contemporary Psychology, one of the major journals of the American Psychological Association.

She assumes the six-year editorship with the first issue of 1974, having previously served as associate editor.

Contemporary Psychology is the sole APA journal that carries reviews of psychology books. It has a circulation of about 15,000.

Dr. Spence succeeds as editor another UT psychologist, Dr. Gardner Lindzey, UT Austin vice president and dean of graduate studies.

Dr. Spence also was accorded another honor recently by being elected secretary-treasurer of the Psychonomic Society, an office she will assume in the fall of 1974.

The Psychanomic Society is composed of academic psychologists who are active and experienced in the field of scientific-experimental psychology.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN T. MASTERS

Reception Today To Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Masters will be honored at a reception today in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. The affair will be held from 3 until 5 p.m. at 801 Marcy, Apt. 33, the home of their son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Masters were married March 22, 1924 in Stanton, with the late Judge Atchinson performing the ceremony.

Mr. Masters was born in Nobility, Texas, and moved to Big Spring in 1905 with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Masters. A veteran of World War I, he received his 50th year certificate from the American Legion in 1969. Upon returning from France after World War I, he was employed by Texas and Pacific Railroad for several years and the Santa Fe Railroad in Amarillo. In 1923, he returned to Big Spring and worked again for Texas and Pacific Railroad, as a blacksmith, and spent his spare time buying and selling livestock. In 1928, he left the railroad and devoted his full time to stock farming and ranching. Mr. Masters played a small role in the movie, "Midnight Cowboy," part of which was filmed in Big Spring.

Mrs. Masters is the former Helene Carol Stutes, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stutes. She was born in Big Spring where she has resided all her life. She says her earliest memories of the city are of the board walks, watering troughs and hitching rails. She attended Big Spring High School and Yates Business College.

Mr. and Mrs. Masters are the parents of five children, one (Don Wayne Masters) deceased. The children are Mrs. W. H. (Lenora) Smith, Big Spring; Mrs. Leo B. (Deede) Vollmer, Highland, Ind.; John W. Masters and Marion N. Masters, both of Odessa. There are eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The Masters' are of the Baptist faith.

For the reception, Mrs. Masters will wear an off-white spring wool dress with buttons etched in gold. She will be presented an orchid corsage and Mr. Masters will receive a gold boutonniere.

The table will be laid with gold lame cloth, overlaid with white lace. Placemats will be gold, and punch will be served from a gold punch bowl. The tiered cake, white with gold trim, will be topped with a miniature bride and groom. The granddaughters will preside at the guest register.

TELLS PLANS — The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Irene Paredez to Sgt. Daniel L. Arellano, Webb AFB, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eusebio V. Paredez, 709 N. Gregg. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Narciso V. Arellano, Pueblo, Colo. The wedding is scheduled June 29 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with the Rev. James Delaney officiating.

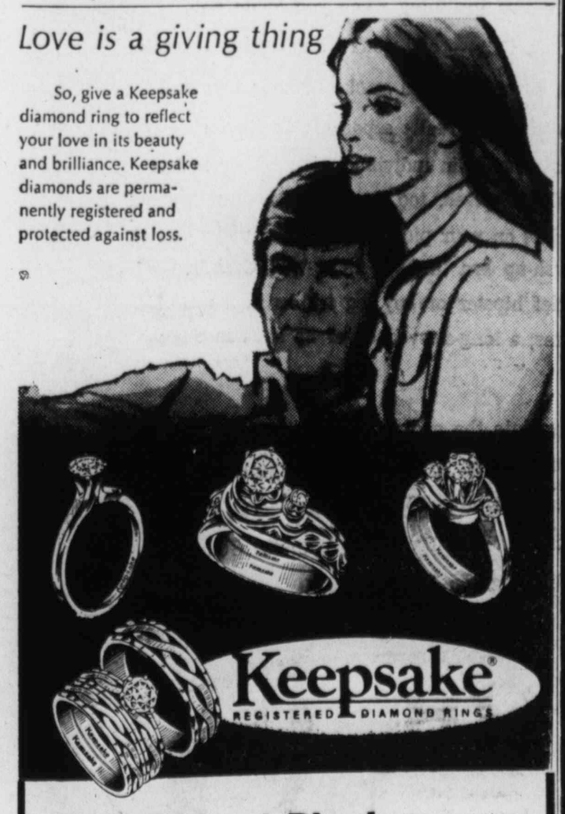

Daughter Born To Local Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rock, 4007 Wasson Road, announce the birth of a daughter, Tasha, at 6 a.m., March 23 at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital, weighing 6 pounds, 10 ounces.

The Rocks are parents of three other children, Barry, 22, Lana, 20, and Tonya Jane, 3½. The maternal grandparents are Mrs. Josephine Thompson, Benton, Mo, and the late Earsel Thompson, and paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rock, Fayetteville, Ark.

Brownies Plan Trip To Camp

All Brownie Girl Scouts in the Big Spring, Coahoma and Stanton areas are invited to attend Brownie Play Day at Camp Boothe Oaks located near Sweetwater on April 8, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The day will include hikes, discovering nature, games, songs, learning of some camp skills and exploring the camp grounds.

Brownie Play Day is a special day set aside for Brownies to see and explore their camp. Brownie Girl Scouts are not allowed to use their camp until they have passed the third grade. However, since they participate in the Girl Scout Cookie Sale that actually pays for the camp, this is a chance for them to visit the camp.

Interested Girl Scouts should contact their troop leader for more information or call the Girl Scout office at 263-1364 for more information. Parents are also asked to join in the day of fun and help with transportation. There will be several troops needing car pool arrangements. Persons who can help are asked to call the Girl Scout office.

Beauceants To Host Banquet

The 14th anniversary of the chartering of the Social Order of the Beauceant will be observed here Monday evening with a banquet in the Masonic Temple, 221½ Main.

Hosted by members of the Beauceant, the dinner will have as guests Sir Knights of the Masonic Lodge. Mrs. Lee Porter said all members and Sir Knights are urged to attend, and Beauceant members are to bring salads. The event will begin at 6 p.m.

BETROTHED — Mr. and Mrs. Elton A. Weaver, Coahoma, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Wanda Jean, to Robert C. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Turner, 2901 Lawrence, Big Spring. The couple plans a June 15 wedding at Cedar Ridge Church of Christ.

Coffee Held For Gold Star Moms

Mrs. Felton Smith hosted a coffee for members of Gold Star Mothers in her home, 1409 Runnels, Thursday.

During a brief business session, the women planned a workshop in June when they will make needed items for patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. This includes bibs, slippers and lap robes.

Delegates to the 21st national convention April 7 in Corpus Christi will be Mrs. T. D. Peacock and Mrs. Truett Thomas.

The next club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., April 10 in the home of Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington Blvd.

A LOVELIER YOU

Here Are New Facts About Dental Care

By MARY SUE MILLER

From recent dental research many new facts about the care of teeth have surfaced. Those of special interest to the feminine set are sketched below. Have a look!

●In dental development, genes, hormones and nutrition are among factors athat play vital roles. (How well balanced is is your diet, milady?)

●At some time in life most people suffer from one or more painfully sensitive teeth. The condition was treated in a dentist's office with silver nitrate or formalin. Results were often of limited value.

●A Polish lady dentist studied the effect of nonradioactive strontium chloride on teeth. The Warsaw lady found that strontium chloride changed soft teeth to hard and smooth teeth, especially at the point of undeveloped enamel.

●A 10 per cent formulation of strontium chloride, combined with other compatible ingredients in toothpaste, blocks the pain of dental hyper-sensitive in 9 out of 10 patients. (Have you checked in at your dentist's lately?)

●The toothbrush used affects dental decay and gum diseases. ..It is believed that gentle brush with round-end bristles satisfies the need for cleansing and massage. A short, narrow head makes it easier to reach all areas and to brush properly. (If unsure about brushing methods, ask your dentist.)

●Special to lady football teams: Teeth that are knocked out can often be replanted. The sooner a tooth is replanted, the better the chance of its taking root.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Everything you need to know about deodorants, anti-perspirants and depilatories is contained in my leaflet, "Strictly Personal." All doubts are cleared up about why, what, when and how to use these safeguards of femininity. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Mr. & Mrs. Victor G. Brown, Midland, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Alice Ann to Michael Jay Cunningham, son of Mr. & Mrs. Jay Cunningham, 2324 Brent, Big Spring. The couple will be married June 22 at the First Presbyterian Church, Midland.

Speciality Items Are Needed For 'Shine On Big Spring'

The next Heritage Museum exhibit, "Shine on Big Spring," needs an old sheriff star badge, a barber pole, hanging oil lamps and belts with guns and holsters to complete the display. Call or drop by the museum 9-5 p.m. if you can help.

The exhibit's committee is Lorin McDowell, (chairman) Roy Peet, Craig V. Fischer, K. H. McGibbon, Bill and Faye Reed, Agnes Currie, Tom Adams, Joe Heddleston, Ellen Ezzell and Gerri Atwell.

More membership renewals — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reed, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lomax and Mr. and Mrs. Toots Manfield are the latest — have been coming in.

Also, Pauline and Howard Duff have produced and given the Museum reproductions of six Caylor paintings, including "After Roundup X Ranch," "Indian Weaver," "The Contest" and "The Challenge" — the originals of which all belong to Mrs. P. J. Pealer of Fort Worth. The original of "Fight To A Finish" copy belongs to Mrs. J. M. Barns of Dallas and "Beer at Lunch" to the parents of Mrs. Gen Schafer of Big Spring.

PATRICIA TUTTLE

Lecture Open To Public

What builds a spiritually satisfying life style? A Christian Science lecturer and practitioner from San Francisco, Calif., will discuss this question here Tuesday when she speaks at the Christian Science Church at 1209 Gregg. The Lecture is open to the public without charge to hear her talk, "A Lesson from a Bridge."

"All of us," according to Miss Patricia Tuttle "are engaged in the enterprise of living. We want to construct a life-style that has beauty and usefulness. We want it to withstand the storms of fear and destruction; and the currents of unhappiness, sickness, and sin. And most of all, we want the life-style we build to be satisfying, unique, individual, not patterned after someone else but original in design."

Miss Tuttle is a native of Los Angeles and is a graduate of California State University at San Diego. She served as a Christian Science minister for the Armed Services and as regional assistant for the Christian Science college organizations in Europe. In 1969, Miss Tuttle became a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, which is made up of some 30 lecturers who give more than 4,000 talks and lectures on Christian Science on six continents each year.

Prior to entering the public practice of Christian Science healing in 1964, she was active in education.

NOSTALGIC TRIP

New History Of Dallas

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, The Deciding Years—A Historical Portrait. By A.C. Greene. The Encino Press, Austin, Tex. 186 pages. $12.50.

A.C. Greene probably knows as much about Dallas as anyone. He was a newspaperman for years and after he forsook that craft for book writing, he managed to circulate well.

And he must like the place. With no visible ties, he remains.

So he was the ideal person to write a new history of Dallas—a man with a powerful leaning toward history yet a man who an write a readable story.

About a quarter of the handsome, oversized book is devoted to Green's history.

The remainder is composed of photographs of the early days with the finest reproduction of pictures we have seen anywhere. This probably is due to the skills at Encino Press in Austin where attractiveness is the mark of its products.

Histories must stop somewhere, otherwise a history would become your daily newspaper, and Greene stops this one at some indefinite point before World War II.

And he then adds some paragraphs bridging that period to today that make you want to read still more, such as his bare mention that 20,000 attended the funeral of Bonnie and Clyde of outlaw fame.

There is a strange fascination in the past of Dallas as there is today in the Trinity River which is not much good to anyone this far upstream.

The river determined the location of John Neely Bryan's home and store and of a great many other things.

So far no one has been able to navigate the river with any consistency. But that may come in time.

The book is like a great nostalgic trip.

A sponsor of the book is Eanger-Harris, a pioneer department store marking its 100th anniversary.—The AP (REF).

OF EARTH AND TIMBERS MADE, New Mexico Architecture. By Bainbridge Bunting. Photographs by Arthur LaZar. The University of New Mexico Press, Albuquerque. 85 pages. $6.95 paperback.

This is a collection of photographs of some of the best elements of early-day New Mexico houses, churches and corrals.

The aim is to show sometimes the beauty and sometimes the building detail of these structures, largely made of adobe and wood.

Some still are handsome homes. Most of the less pretentious structures have fallen into disrepair.

The author notes that many of the older buildings are being remodeled—not restored—and without expert work are being destroyed as far as their ancient charm is concerned —The AP (REF).

SAN JOSE DE GRACIA, Mexican Village in Transition. By Luis Gonzalez, translated by John Upton. University of Texas Press, Austin. 362 pages. $12.50.

San Jose de Gracia now is a town of 8,000 directly west of Mexico City and some distance away.

It has a very minor place in the history and economics of Mexico and that was why it was picked for this in-depth study.

It once was an area of huge ranches but now has been broken into smaller ranches and farms. It went through all the trauma of revolutions, military and social, without ever being noted in the history books.

Fans Soak Up Sounds, Sun

What did you do last Sunday?

Go to church. Read the newspaper. Sit around the house and watch old movies, ice skaters and car races on television.

Several thousand young persons who gathered in a park by Turtle Creek in Dallas spent theirs a little differently. They lay in the sun, dance, clapped and listened to a free rock concert.

Hoping for a repeat engagement, the band asked the crowd not to smoke marijuana or drink beer. And the group requested listeners take their trash with them.

Someone had plugged his electric hair equipment to a tree outlet and trimmed girls' hair.

A robed man with a shaved head passed out popcorn advertising sunrise service for some Eastern religion.

A "straight" looking man gave printed cards promoting a dinner club where you "praise the Lord." A girl with a jar full of money soliciated for the "marijuana defense fund."

And as the day wore on, one group offered free sandwiches to the hungry.

How are you spending this Sunday?

Dope Arrest In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — George Garcia Leyva, 37, was arrested early Friday in connection with what federal agents said was the sale of $100,000 in high quality heroin.

Leyva, jailed in lieu of $250,000 bond, is a cousin of Rosa Gomez Carrasco, wife of a former reputed South Texas dope ring leader now imprisoned at Huntsville, police said.

Hum Of Tractors Working State Fields Widespread

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The hum of tractors working the fields became widespread in Texas as farmers pushed cultivating and planting in the favorable weather last week.

The planting season is off to a good start, said Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, he noted that rain is still needed in all but the eastern part of the state for young crops.

GOOD PROGRESS

Planting of cotton and sorghum is 75 to 85 per cent complete in South Texas, and sorghum and corn planting are past the halfway mark in a number of counties in South Central and Southeast Texas. Cotton and rice planting is active in the Coastal Plains. Corn and sorghum planting is also making good progress in the blackland counties of Central Texas.

Recent scattered rains in the High and Rolling Plains and in Southwest Texas brought some relief to small grains that were suffering from lack of moisture. South Texas also received valuable moisture. Cattle are being moved from fields where a grain crop is intended. Grazing is generally good in eastern counties and in the Coastal Plains, Hutchison said.

Planting of spring vegetables gained momentum, especially in the High Plains and in East Texas. Tomato plants are being set out in Central and East Texas. Home gardening is continuing at an active pace in all sections.

NEED RAIN

Livestock over the state are in fair to good condition with feeding still active in many counties due to lack of forage. Ticks and lice are a problem in much of East Texas.

District Extension agents reported the following conditions:

SOUTH PLAINS: Recent rains should help dryland wheat, pastures and ranges. The moisture will also help farmers prepare seedbeds. Commercial potatoes and onions are being planted. Alfalfa is making good growth. Many fruit trees are in full bloom.

ROLLING PLAINS: The soil moisture is somewhat improved but more rain is needed. Small grains are responding to recent moisture. Land preparation, herbicide and fertilizer application, and preplant irrigation are active. Potato planting is still underway in Knox County. Home gardens are being planted. Livestock feeding is still active.

WEST CENTRAL: Land preparation continues, but moisture will be needed for planting. Home gardening continues to increase. Rutabagas are being harvested in Schleicher County. Potato planting is active in Mason County. Grazing is below average. Livestock feeding continues. Predators and grass fires are problems.

Puppet Show Next Friday

Sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi, a musical adventure into the Land of Oz, awaits the youngsters when the Nicolo Marionettes appear next Friday, at the Municipal Auditorium.

Technically, this is one of Nicolo's most ambitious efforts in many years of producing for Children's Theatre. The marionettes articulated to provide a human flexibility and stylized to fit the elements in the story of the Wizard of Oz, give a sparkling performance.

The heroine, Dorothy, and her dog Toto travel through the Land of Oz to meet a Lion who can roll his eyes, a straw man who takes off his head along with his hat, and the Wizard who has a scientific control panel capable of producing thunder and lightning at the twist of a dial and many others.

The audience will see a huge mask floating in space, 24 feet of moving scenery and a tornado in turbulent action.

Admission cost will be 75 cents. Performance time is 4:30 p.m. Reservations can be made by phoning 263-6950 or 263-0667.

To Continue Pumping Gas Taxes Into Road Building

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Constitutional Convention delegates beat back two attempts Friday to loosen the $750 million highway fund's apparently secure place in Texas' Constitution.

Delegates voted 89-75 against a proposal to allow future legislatures to allocate any gasoline tax increase for state expenses other than highways.

FINE PEOPLE

The highway fund is financed primarily by revenue from Texas' 5-cent-a-gallon gas tax. Three-fourths of it goes to building and maintaining highways and one-fourth goes to public schools. It has been part of the constitution since 1946.

By 109-50 the delegates defeated a proposal to permit the legislature, by two-thirds, to use the highway money for other expenses.

Rep. Bill Sullivan, D-Gainesville, complained that the Texas Good Roads Association was using "fine people as pawns" to lobby for the highway fund, which is so important to the "construction interests and big money people."

Some of those "good people," he said, "don't know their posterior aperture from a terrestial excavation about the construction of highways."

'ENERGY CRUNCH'

"God himself can't touch this fund unless he destroys the state of Texas," said Sullivan, the sponsor of the proposal which would free gas tax hikes from the fund.

He said the state highway department claims it spends less than $200 million a year on maintaining highways, which leaves "more than $500 million a year to pave Texas. Let's put a lid on here."

Rep. Frank Calhoun, D-Abilene, said Sullivan's amendment would "wreck" the fund. He said the "energy crunch" has resulted in a decrease in motor fuel taxes that support the fund, and that it might need the additional revenue from a gas tax increase.

The 5-cent tax, he noted, is the lowest state gasoline tax in the nation.

OUT OF BUSINESS

A proposal to delete a new constitutional provision on mass transit systems failed, 72-88, although Rep. Ray Hutchison, R-Dallas, warned it could put bus service in Dallas out of business.

The provision requires local voters to approve taxes and bond issues for "mass transportation purposes." Hutchison said the Dallas bus system operates at a deficit and the difference is made up by the city, without voter approval.

BCSA To Meet Here March 30

The newly formed Big Country Shorthorn Association will hold its charter night in Big Spring March 30. The Holiday Inn of Big Spring has been selected as the site of this historic event.

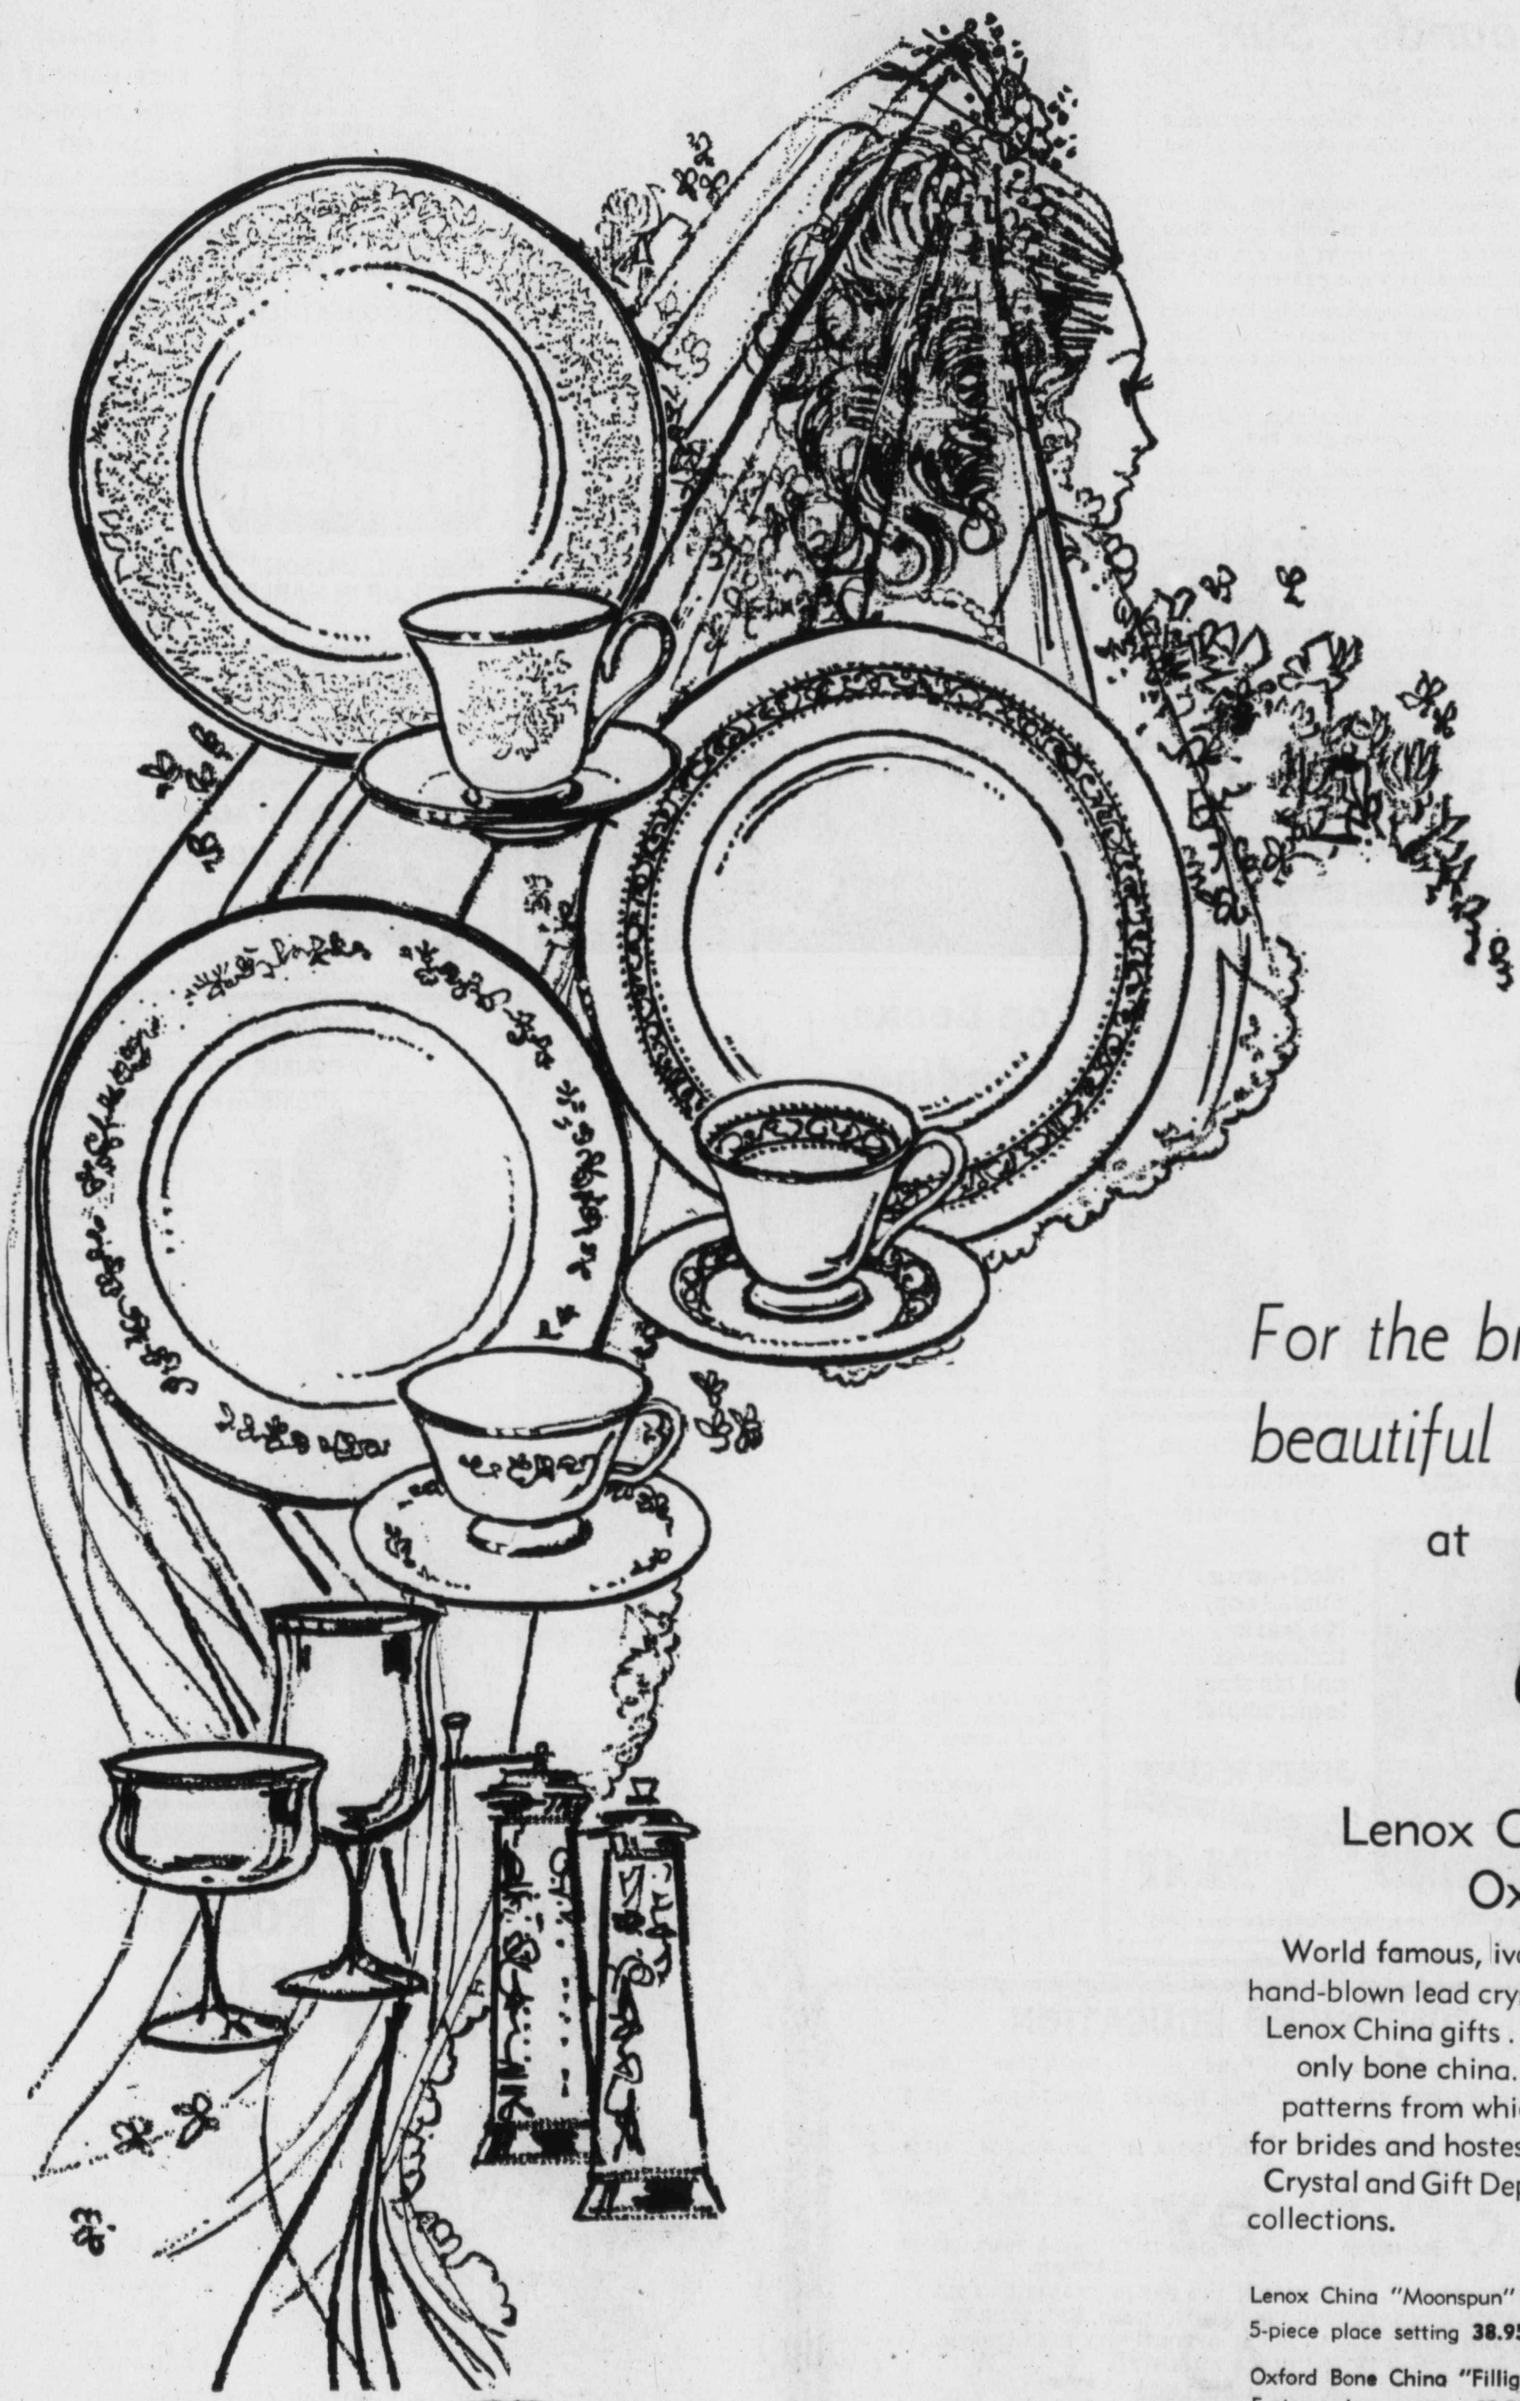

George Inness of Galesburg, Ill., American Shorthorn Assocation president will be on hand to help celebrate the occasion.

Lester Adams of Big Spring is president of the Big Country Association. Henry Parmenter of Garden City is Secretary-Treasurer.

Nuns' Bar

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — A community of nuns is managing Ireland's newest bar. It's also the country's first bar in a hospital.

"Medically, I think it is a good thing to have a bar in the house," said Sister Theophane Collins, the spiritual director of the new 150-bed hospital near Newmarket-on-Fergus, in County Clare.
