By ULYS YATES
PARIS (AP) — Premier Michel Debre warned Frenchmen today that "all can be lost" if order is not established and maintained in Algeria.

Debre issued the warning in an official statement after his return from a middle-of-the-night visit to Algiers, where French insurgents still occupy the heart of the city.

It was a clear warning to Frenchmen that right-wing extremists are threatening the future of France itself unless they abandon their stubborn uprising.

The insurgent die-hard were reported to have been promised the French army will not shoot them out of their barricades. But Debre declared the policy of self-determination for Algerians stands.

Nothing has happened that will deter pursuit of the aim of President Charles de Gaulle's administration to let Algerians decide their own future, he said.

The French Press Agency said De Gaulle's military commander and civil representative in Algeria had promised the army will not fire on the insurgents.

The agency quoted Echo d'Alger, an Algiers newspaper, as saying Gen. Maurice Challe, army commander, and Paul Delouvrier, the Gaullist representative in the territory, gave the assurance in a meeting with City Council members.

The council members were reported to have asked the two Paris representatives not to use force against the insurgents dug in behind the barricades.

Word of the development came after Premier Michel Debre returned to Paris from a middle-of-the-night visit to Algiers.

Debre — his moves cloaked in secrecy since Monday when President de Gaulle's government dispatched him on the trouble-shooting mission — arrived in the tense North African city Monday night, French army headquarters for Algerians announced.

His plane wheeled him back to Paris again before the sleeping populace was aware of his presence.

The communistic chief Debre had conferred with Gen. Maurice Challe, commander in chief in Algeria, and Paul Delouvrier, De Gaulle's representative in the territory. It was reported he also conferred with 10 Algerian parliamentary deputies.

The 10 Algerian deputies are expected to come to Paris later today to continue the talks.

Meanwhile, both sides — the 1,000 to 3,000 insurgents and the troops who raged them — held their fire in the hope there would be a peaceful solution.

But a crowd of nearly 5,000 massed before a statue of Jean Arc in downtown Algiers early today in a demonstration of their sympathy for the embattled insurgents.

The demonstrators moved out after the insurgents asked for a show of solidarity.

There was no immediate report of disorder, and as the demonstrators did not appear in any but small groups made an effort to break up the crowd.

But the fact that the premier of France had ducked in and out of Algiers without making a public appearance seemed an indication of the public temper in the city where 24 settlers and police were killed and 140 injured in Sunday's

County Will Pay For Moving Lines On Right-Of-Way

REPORT TO PRESIDENT—Philip W. Borsol, right, U. S. ambassador to Cuba, arrives at the White House today on his way to give President Eisenhower a direct report on the Cuban situation. Roy R. Rubottom, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American affairs, accompanies him. (AP Wirephoto)

Scurry County Commissioners Court yesterday agreed to underwrite the cost of laying new water and sewer lines along the right-of-way of Thirty-second Street. The morning session Judge Roberts, District Highway Engineer, outlined any hopes of the lines remaining under the street when the State Highway department widens and repaves it and takes over maintenance of the road under the "farm to market" program.

The court agreed to allow City Manager Roy Dunlap to go ahead with preparation of plans and specifications for bids on the project. Dunlap had told the court that the cost of digging up the old line would be higher than the new line. He also said that digging the old one up would put a good portion of Snyder without sewer and water for over a month.

Roberts agreed that if the old line were abandoned it would meet specifications since there would be no sewage in softening the ground under the pavement.

The court postponed voting on a motion by T. B. Knight (Precinct 1) that the county pay for the new line tentatively set at $60,000 out of right of way warrants already issued, until the legality of using them for this purpose was determined.

The court also postponed action on another motion by Knight that the court buy three houses bordering the Northside Park. They verbally authorized Knight to offer the owners of the three houses a small amount of money.

Pat Moore (Precinct 3) stated that "those houses aren't worth that much to us or anybody, but I'll go along with it, anyhow."

Knight had told the other three commissioners that he felt the reason they did not want him to enlarge the park was prejudice on their part both against him personally and against that section of the county. He stated that he had come along with their improvements in their respective precincts and they should go along with him.

Commissioner J. C. Massingill (Precinct 4) pointed out that all parks and community centers were in a chronic state of deficit for a year or so they could not be termed personal and that each park center comes under the direct authority of the entire court.

He stated that the park space now that is ever used and I just can't go with spending county funds for any more." Massingill asserted.

Knight agreed that the park is not used much now but added that it would be when Highway 84 came within 300 yards of it and there were signs telling tourists there was a county park.

With Moore and Bill Herring (Precinct 2) agreeing to buy the property if the amount agreed upon was accepted, the court adjourned until next Monday when they hope to meet with the architect, Hayes and Kirby, from Lubbock to discuss the plans for a "courthouse and jail improvements."

Reprisals Against Cuba Are Ruled Out

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today ruled out any United States reprisals at this time against Cuba's Fidel Castro regime.

The President told a news conference the Castro government's anti-American campaign "caused concern and perplexity in this country."

But, Eisenhower added, the American people still have great affection for the Cubans. The United States, he went on, is not going to be a party to any reprisals against Castro at this time, and is certainly not going to intervene in Cuba's internal affairs.

Immediately after the news conference, Eisenhower issued a statement.

The United States government views with increasing concern the tendency of spokesmen of the Cuban government, including Prime Minister Castro, to create the illusion of aggressive acts, and conspiratorial activities aimed at the United States officials or agencies," it said.

Eisenhower called such accusations "unfounded allegations" and said promotion of them can hardly contribute to good relations between the United States and Cuba.

"We believe these charges to be totally unfounded," the President said.

In a TV broadcast last week, Castro accused the U. S. Embassy of working with opponents of his government. He also denounced Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

After this Castro broadcast, the United States called Ambassador Philip Bonsol home for consultations.

Eisenhower dealt with these other matters in his news conference.

"SPACE"—The United States, he said, has no reason to bow its head in shame in any comparison of American and Soviet accomplishments in space exploration.

"This country has a record in the space field which it can be proud the President added particularly when you take into account that the Soviet Union has been working in that field since 1945.

"DEFENSE"—The United States has developed better intelligence methods for evaluating the military strength of the Soviet Union, Eisenhower made that remark when asked for comment on what a reporter called assertions by Gates Jr. that the United States is basing its conclusions on Soviet intentions rather than military capabilities.

Eisenhower replied first of all that he believes the meaning of Gates' remarks has been misinterpreted. Gates can be expected to clarify what he did say, Eisenhower added.

The United States, the President went on, has all the military power to destroy a good many countries, although it has no intention of using such power except in defense.

The "real business of military intelligence is very intricate and complex," Eisenhower said, and you can't take any one aspect of intelligence reports and come to definite conclusions.

As for Gates, Eisenhower praised him as a very splendid civil servant.

"POLITICS"—Eisenhower said he had no comment except laughter for the Democratic attacks on Vice President Richard M. Nixon as a "juvenile delinquent."

This reaction was the same toward other Democratic criticisms of Nixon and the Eisenhower administration.

Democrats Charge Ike Policy Stunts Nation's Growth

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic majority on the Senate House Economic Committee charged today that Eisenhower administration policies had stunted the nation's economic growth since 1953.

Describing them as inadequate to meet the nation's needs, the Democrats said the policies also had led to unnecessary unemployment and price increases.

Republicans on the committee fired back that the majority report was "unbalanced and evasive" and "marred by partisan spite."

The majority said it would not support removal of the interest ceiling on long-term bonds—one of the President's major requests of the session—unless the administration made "major reforms in fiscal, monetary and debt management policies."

This minority report deplored the "looting, but political blackmail."

The majority report was peppered with numerous recommendations for alternative policies to those followed by the administration in the last seven years.

One section recommended that the knotty farm problem be met by direct subsidy payments. It said the public will not endure much longer the present crop price support program.

Other recommendations included a major federal aid to education, help for depressed areas, tax revisions, more liberal foreign trade policies and more vigorous antitrust law enforcement.

The report summoned up the committee members' views on a year-long $200,000 study of the problems of inflation, unemployment and economic growth.

About 100 witnesses, mostly leading economists, testified in the hearings, filling up 3,700 pages of testimony. Twenty-three separate study papers also were published.

The study was first suggested by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) in a speech in December 1958. It has been described in some quarters as the Democratic answer to the administration's "barbarism at the inflation issue," but Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), the committee chairman, said he did not want to characterize the report in political terms.

The majority and minority reports are considered certain to get much attention as representing Democratic and Republican views on economic issues in the 1960 campaign.

Right-To-Work Is Facing Challenge

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A provision which may get around the right-to-work laws now in effect in 19 states has been written into the new steel industry labor contracts. But it may be litigated up to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Right-to-work laws prohibit any requirement in union contracts that a worker must belong to a labor union to get or hold a job.

The steel contracts require all workers outside the right-to-work states to maintain union membership and pay dues as a condition of their employment. This is the union shop arrangement that has been in steel contracts for some time.

The new provision says that in the right-to-work states employees will be required to pay regularly each month "a service charge as a contribution toward the administration of this agreement and the representation of such employees. The service charge is to be equal to the regular dues payment."

This latter arrangement, known as the "agency shop," allows the worker to avoid union membership but requires him to pay the equivalent of regular dues. If he doesn't he is to be fined.

The Steelworkers Union figures that anyone required to pay equivalent dues as a service charge most likely will become a full union member anyway.

The 19 states having right-to-work statutes or constitutional amendments are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Mississippi, Nevada, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah and Virginia.

The Iron & Steel Institute says that nine of these states — Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, South Carolina, North Dakota, and South Dakota — have no steel operations.

But the agency shop principle, established in so large an industry as steel, is likely to spur similar contracts in other industries in these states.

However, the matter is sure to be argued in the courts.

Colorado Mountain Areas Hit By Snow

DENVER (AP)—Snows up to 6 inches deep fell on Colorado's mountain passes during Monday night.

All major highways were open but the Highway Department today advised chains on passes in the Durango and Alamosa areas. Wolf Creek Pass on U.S. 60 near the New Mexico border had 3 inches of snow. Red Mountain Pass near Silverton was blocked 3 1/2 hours by a blizzard. Light snow there brought the depth on the Mountain Top marker to 46 inches.

Gates Gets Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of Thomas S. Gates Jr. to be secretary of defense without any strength to the conflict over military strategy evaluation.

Gates has been serving as a secretary of defense under a recess appointment pending Senate action.

The nomination, which had been held up at the request of a senator whose name Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) did not disclose, was suddenly called before the Senate by Johnson and approved with only Johnson and Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois present.

Johnson explained that one senator had asked a delay in action on the nomination until he could get some information. Johnson said the unidentified senator now has obtained the requested information and had no objection to action on the nomination.

Big Problems Loom As India Marks 10 Years Of Freedom

By R. SAKAKOPAN
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India celebrated its 10 years of independence today with problems looming at home and troubles lurking over the Himalayas.

It was exactly 30 years ago that Jawaharlal Nehru, then a 40-year-old insurgent, moved the resolution in the Congress party's annual convention declaring India's goal was complete freedom from Britain.

It was Nehru, on the same date 24 years later, who inaugurated a republican constitution. The British had left 31 months earlier, on Aug. 15, 1947.

Today Premier Rajendra Prasad takes the salute at a three-day-long process which will end at the end of the same day which houses the final imperial headquarter ers in India 300 years ago.

Carts drawn by camels, bullocks and elephants will jog along the seven-mile route while jet aircraft swoosh above.

Two thousand schoolboys and girls will march, sing and dance in pageants.

Traditional dances ranging from headbutters of the Northeast Frontier Agency, which Red China claims; to polished classical dancers, will perform.

During the ten years of republican rule the whole country from the Himalayas to the Indian Ocean, has come under one flag with the pensioning of 600 princelings.

India has become one of the most stable nations in Asia. It has conducted two free national elections. A second five-year plan is nearing completion and in 1958

'Opry' Stars Here Tonight Election Control Bill Fades

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to control election expenditures, to which the Senate devoted nearly two weeks, appeared likely today to die a quiet death in a House committee pigeonhole.

Despite Senate passage Monday by a 59-22 vote, the political fate of the bill was all against the measure.

Every member of the House, except those voluntarily retiring or seeking other offices is a candidate for re-election this year. Though the bill wouldn't become operative until next year, it would affect House members who must carry another campaign in 1962.

The bill is the first major congressional effort in 35 years to revise substantially the Corrupt Practices Act controlling the conduct of campaigns for federal office. It goes to the House Administration Committee headed by Rep. Omar Burton (D-Tex.).

A fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, already has lashed out at one of the measure's principal provisions to extend federal regulation to primaries as well as general elections. Rayburn says control of primaries is a matter for the states.

The current outlook for the bill is that it may be given some hearings by the House committee and then be dropped, or be toned down and allowed to expire in a Senate conference committee.

The bill would tighten control on financing elections of federal officials, principally members of Congress. The Senate voted to extend it also to candidates for president and vice president. It would require more detailed disclosure of sources of campaign financing and how the money is spent.

The Senate defeated proposals to require primary elections for nomination of congressional candidates and to invalidate any primary nomination if a federal court found that qualified voters had been denied a chance to vote.

Death Ends Tragic Struggle Of Diana Barrymore At 38

NEW YORK (AP)—A 38-year-old actress, Diana Barrymore, who made her name in a tragic struggle to fulfill the mythical promise of her name, died Monday.

Her nude body was found lying face down in bed by a maid at her fashionable West Side apartment.

Her physician said she died of a heart attack but he refused to sign a death certificate because Miss Barrymore had "no history of heart trouble." Police started an investigation.

Authorities said there was no indication of suicide. Miss Barrymore, who was trying to make a theatrical comeback after a life of alcoholism, degradation and broken marriages, had once made a suicide attempt.

She told her story in the best-selling autobiography, "Too Much, Too Soon." She was the daughter of the late John Barrymore, whose swashbuckling off-stage matched anything he did on stage, and the late Blanche Oelrichs, who wrote plays and poems under the name Michael Strange.

Her aunt was Ethel Barrymore, and her uncle was Lionel Barrymore. Her theatrical ancestry went back four generations in this country and England. Diana Barrymore's name opened for her every door in show business, but when she made headlines, it was seldom in the critics' column.

In her book, she wrote: "The fact that I came from a long line of Barrymores isn't going to make me feel that I must always keep striving to live up to their accomplishments." But she did keep striving.

In 1938-39, she was New York's "Personality Debutante." Her smiling, young face was photographed in all the fashionable night spots with cafe society escorts. Encouraged by her father, she launched a theatrical career in summer stock and quickly moved on to Hollywood.

Miss Barrymore's movie failures led her to excessive drinking. As a young woman, she moved swiftly through two unsuccessful marriages, first to Bramwell Fletcher, an actor, and then to John Howard, a professional tennis player.

By 1947, her reputation for drinking and belligerence had closed all doors her name had opened. During her third marriage to Robert Wilcox, she and her husband were arrested for stealing food from a supermarket. One day Miss Barrymore swallowed 27 sleeping pills with whisky as a chaser. She was found in time to be saved.

After the death of Wilcox in 1955, Miss Barrymore began the long uphill struggle for a comeback. She wrote her book, including the sordid details of her dissipation. She licked her drinking problem.

DALLAS (AP)—Grady Parkerson, 50, appeared before the U.S. Commissioner here Monday and posted $500 bond on an indictment of aiding and abetting James Cook Evans in the misappropriation of $250,000 from the First National Bank of Dallas.

Parkerson was one of five businessmen named in secret indictments in the case. Three others posted similar bond Friday. A fifth man, still unidentified, was to make bond in Fort Worth. Parkerson, who was a broker for feed mill machinery and equipment, now lists his occupation as an insurance salesman.

Dallas Man Held In LA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Smolenski, a Dallas surveyor, was held on a vagrancy charge today while police investigated his story of being beaten, robbed and forced to accompany a sailor and two women to the West Coast.

A search for the Texan started after his car was found abandoned near Tulsa Sunday. He walked into a Los Angeles police station Monday. Police said he had 45 cents in his pocket.

Smolenski said he had taken his wife to Detroit and was returning to Texas when he picked up a sailor known only as "George." He said the sailor hit him over the head with a gun and when he awoke he found two women in the car with them. He said the sailor switched to another car and forced him to accompany the group to California.

Smolenski said he was forced at gunpoint out of the car when it neared Los Angeles.

Fluvanna's FFA Winning Awards

FLUVANNA — The Fluvanna High School Future Farmers of America are marking good marks in livestock shows so far this year. Their latest activity came at the Sweetwater Livestock Show last weekend when all but one of 13 animals entered by Fluvanna FFA placed.

Moreover, two Fluvanna FFA members copped two of the four showmanship awards at the Sweetwater show. Jeff Martin was judged the best showman in the calf division while Bill Kingston was top showman in the lamb division.

Martin's two calves placed first and second in the lightweight calf division of the show. Eleven lambs were entered by Fluvanna FFA group, and 10 of them placed. Ronny Beaver had the third place heavyweight fine wool lamb, while in the lightweight crossbred class of lambs Bill Kingston placed 2nd, Charles Berryhill 4th, Wayne Green 7th, Rodney Summers 9th, Wayne Green 11th, Royce Summers 18th, Charles Berryhill 19th, Harvey Boulware 20th, and Royce Summers 23rd.

There were 58 entries in the lightweight crossbred class. The Fluvanna FFA chapter then exhibited its top 10 lambs against similar groups from other FFA chapters and 4-H Clubs in the district. The Fluvanna group placed third in that contest.

Ray Herring is the Fluvanna vocational agriculture teacher and FFA sponsor.

Satellite To Flash Light

NEW YORK (AP)—Coming up a twinkling satellite. It will flash a light on and off as it sweeps across the sky in a polar orbit.

More easily visible and tracked, it will help scientists measure the shape of the earth and distances on earth, and perhaps aid ships and planes in getting accurate navigational fixes.

It is one of a cloud of new scientific satellites planned in the next few years by the United States. John F. Clark of the National Space and Aeronautic Administration, reported today.

A major American target in space is to learn more about the curious and profound effects of the sun on the earth and its people. Clark told the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

This will be in addition to programs to put a man in space, and set up weather-watching and communications satellites for more immediate practical benefits, he said.

The sun influences strongly the entire gamut of human activities, Clark said, and four to six satellites will be shot up annually for years to come to learn what the sun does, and what man can possibly do about it.

General Fund's Deficit Increases

AUSTIN (AP)—State Treasurer Jesse James estimated the state's deficit stood at $78,647,301 as of last Friday.

James said the deficit in the general revenue fund, which pays for most of the cost of state nine million dollars in the past two weeks.

The report shows that receipts have totaled only $2,177,714 since Jan. 8 while $10,939,171, has been paid out of the fund.

James said some warrants issued before Sept. 30 remain to be paid.

Ike's Belated Aim To Shave National Debt Gets Support

By INEZ ROBB
For the past 10 years I have been talking at the top of my typewriter on (1) the necessity of paying off the public debt in these prosperous times, (2) the responsibility of Congress to administer the public's money with stringent economy and more recently (3) the unsubsidization of everyone, whether farmer or veteran with no more service-connected disability or illness than I.

The result of 10 years of such talk has been a steadily mounting public debt, more water in every appropriations bill and increased subsidies for all the powerful minorities of which Congress lives in such holy fear. The result has also included a drain on Fort Knox, weakening of the American dollar abroad and a widespread belief in Europe that the dollar must inevitably be devalued within the coming five years.

So it seems to me that nothing could give our morale at home a bigger boost or our prestige abroad a better lift than President Eisenhower's request that the $4,104,000,000 surplus be applied to whittling down the national debt. The mortgage is already eating us out of house and home. The biggest item in the budget, aside from major national security, is payment of interest on the colossal national debt. That sum, in the current budget, is $9.5 billion, or about 12 per cent of the budget.

Despite a really golden decade just past, with only minor business setbacks, the national debt kept pace with the steadily rising gross national product and the rising personal income of our citizens. Far from disciplining ourselves as a nation to pay-as-we-go and put a little something aside to reduce the mortgage we spent far beyond our means, piled up $42-gering deficits and merrily boosted the national debt.

Despite a little uneasiness in the financial markets and some downright pessimism at the moment, the great majority of voters past the sixties as far more golden and glittering than the fifties. We are approaching a millennium of civilian in every pot, to hear 'em tell it, and three cars—one foreign—in every garage.

Will we, I wonder, show any more willingness to knuckle down, adjust the flesh pots and tackle the huge national debt in the decade just beginning? I doubt there is any particular magic in numbers, or that the 'sixties can do the job unless the nation is willing to hit the savadist trail.

In the meantime, interest on the national debt mounts steadily thanks to the increasing cost of financing it. Nothing induces hysteria in the average American quicker than suggested raise in taxes. I certainly agree that the first order of business in putting our house in shape is to force Congress to administer our blood money economically and sanely.

In an election year, the taxpayer can only expect to be socked with the book in behalf of every powerful, vocal minority already leeching on the body politic. This will serve notice that I am an ardent supporter of the belated Eisenhower aim to cut the national debt. And that I am shopping around for Presidential candidate who will promise to do likewise. (Copyright, 1960, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Cloudy Picture Of Military Status

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The year 1960 started off with a grand snafu on how this country counts its military might with the Soviet Union. It probably is the result of a not-too-clear explanation by Thomas S. Gates Jr., secretary of defense.

Gates and the Eisenhower administration, after his testimony before several congressional committees, were accused by critics of trying to paint a too-rosy picture of American defenses in this election year. What Gates actually meant to say seems to come down to this: Although the Soviet Union is working hard on intercontinental ballistic missiles, the administration doubts the U.S.S.R. would start a war because this country's own defenses are strong enough to discourage an attack. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate's Armed Services Committee, after listening to Gates and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said last week: "At present I think we are strong enough to prevent any attack, except by a madman."

A novice in defense matters, in order to understand what the present fuss is about, must keep a certain distinction clearly in mind: The difference between space development and military

Brothers To Help Many With Returns

NEW YORK (AP) — "Paying income taxes doesn't have to be a painful ordeal," said Richard Bloch. "It can be enjoyable even fun—if you know how to make it so."

This year Bloch, 33, and his older brother, Henry, 36, will help some 200,000 Americans pay their annual tribute to Uncle Sam as painlessly as possible. They are pioneers in a mushrooming new field—the field of tax consultation for the masses.

Shortly after World War II, the two brothers launched an accounting firm in Kansas City, Mo. It prospered. One of the services they now offer their clients was assistance in filling out their income taxes. This began to take more and more of their time.

"One night we got to wondering who helped ordinary Americans fill out their income tax returns and whether there might not be a mass market there," said Dick. The brothers checked and found perhaps some 200,000 tax consultants helped part of the 40 million plus U.S. taxpayers prepare their returns. But they ranged, from book-keepers to lawyers to high-browed, druggists and barbers who charged $2 a fee.

In 1955 they launched what is now the country's largest chain-store-type of income tax consultation. Today they have 1,000 employees who man 108 offices in 46 cities and gross two million dollars annually. Their goal is 1,000 offices.

Their clients include housewives, retired doctors, airplane pilots, small-businessmen, and "a tremendous number of Internal Revenue Service workers. Their fee depends on the complexity of the return. The highest fee is $500. The average is $75 to $100, and the average is less than $10.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

When Paul Pender, 24, was a high school senior, he was Joe Page's reliever for the Yankees. In at least one respect, Pender was at one time a real dyed-in-the-wool fireman, you see, while Page has often been referred to as stame.

Of course, the fires which fireman Joe quelled so professionally were lit by Yankee opponents, as Joe would come in from the bullpen to extinguish said "fires", his being so all-fired successful in the handling of the flares that an affectionate press nicknamed him that.

Not so Paul the Pender. For he used to fight real fires back in his Brookline, Massachusetts hometown before entering the boxing profession. Not any longer, though.

Pender Surprise Upender

PENDER WAS A 1-5 UNDERDOG going into the bout, and even though he failed to gain any rave notices on his performance—nevertheless gained the split decision and the dinky crown which goes with it. Robinson, an old man at 39 as far as boxing is concerned, hadn't defended his title in 22 months, but came out of hibernation just in time to get his aging propp knocked out from under him. The fight took place in Boston, and ranks as one of the bigger events of the past few centuries for that staid metropolis, along with the Tea Party, stacked back in revolutionary days and the hanging from the newstands of "My Friend Flicka".

Naturally, talk of a rematch has come to the fore, and with it lots of jumbled words on the subject. The Robinson camp isn't too happy over the prospect of gracing the Boston Garden, site of the past bout, in a return. In fact, they contend that the sole decision as to the site of the match rests with them.

Steer Likelihood Down To Three

PARTING GASP: According to reports skittering in from Big Spring, the new coach prospects were recently narrowed down to three, that trio being Bob Robenhamer (Lawton, Okla.), Emmet H. McKenzie (Nederland), and Johnny Hickman (Lubbock). Friday night, casual activity found Pete Cimino of Bristol (Pa.) High School scoring 114 points in his team's 134-86 victory over Palisades. In the process he hit 44 of 79 free goals, 23 of 29 in the second half, and 26 of 29 in the first. Oh, yes, he had been averaging only 23 points per game going into that Big One.

Then Buckley, with the attitude that he has the tiger by the tail and is on a downhill drag, further stated: "We've got Fullmer over the barrel. We've got a contract for a 16-round title bout with him, that must be honored before he can fight here (Boston) or in New York. Where else can he fight and get any money?"

Shucks, Johnny, Fullmer's got 46 more states to choose from than you do, so you'd best watch your tongue.

Spikes Day Preparations Picking Up

Preparations for the Jack Spikes Appreciation Day fête have picked up tempo of late, with word coming in that the Frog Club of Fort Worth is planning to schedule a special fight for its members who would like to come for the event.

Other sports figures other than main speaker Abe Martin who are planning to be here include Dutch Meyer and Allie White of TCU and Texas Tech assistant coach Beattie Feather.

Also, they may be purchased at Phillips Hardware, and from Doc Weaver or any member of the Quorierback Club.

Cincy And Bradley Rank 1-2 In Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

The lack of action on college basketball courts last week was reflected in the halting today as the list of the top ten teams in The Associated Press ranking poll remained unchanged.

The sports writers and broadcasters again picked Cincinnati as the No. 1 team—overwhelmingly on the basis of first-place votes—but made the Bearcats' only competitor, Bradley, a close second.

Junior High Fives Slap Big Spring

A pair of thrillers were in evidence on the junior high basketball scene yesterday evening, as Lamar three together a big score to down Big Spring Runnels, 19-16, after which the 8th grade Blue Devils followed up in another close-but-behind effort to down the Runnels lads 33-31 in overtime.

The Lamar victory left a large crowd limo, as Coach Bill Hartfield's quint trailed by 1-6, 7-12, and 13-14 at the end of the first three quarters.

However, Jay Williamson sunk a free throw with only a half minute remaining to put his mates out of reach and win the hard-fought contest.

Lamar's Drew Bullard topped all scorers for the game, tallying 8 points.

Other Lamar scoring was turned in by Williamson, Jerry Vestal, and Tom Kincaid, each of whom dropped in 3, while J. N. Wall had 2.

Bob Gettiss was tops for Runnels with 5 points.

In the Blue Devil games, the local crew found itself on the short end of 47-39, 42-49 and 19-24 quarterly scores, but bolted to the front in the final stanza to tie the game at 31-31 on Benny Minor's field goal.

Minor also dropped in a pair of charity tosses in the overtime session to bring about the victory, the team for the year.

Minor was top hand in the point-making, also, as he looped in a total of 12 points, followed by Billy Stewart (6), Edward Schulz, Roy Rice, and Jackie Stewart (4 each), Jimmy Wilson (2), and Gail Potter (1).

quorum, Bradley, a close second in the point totals. About the only differences noted among the top ten were minor changes in the point totals.

Georgia Tech, the only team among the first ten to lose a game last week, retained its sixth ranking but its margin over seventeenth-ranked Utah was trimmed to a mere 26 points.

Villanova, the only two-game winner in the group, strengthened its hold on eighth place but couldn't overtake Utah.

The ratings are based on games through Saturday, Jan. 26.

Travis Home, Threesome Is Abroad

Three Snyder cage quintets travel to Sweetwater this evening for game three, while the Travis 7th graders remain at home to entertain Roscoe's 8th graders.

Lamar 7th (2-3), an early-season victim of the Sweetwater drive by a 19-11 score, will tangle with that team at 5 o'clock here.

That will be followed at 6 o'clock by the 7th grade clash and the Freshman game between the two schools.

The local 8th grade team is currently riding high, having won 4 in a row, including a 33-31 overtime triumph yesterday over Big Spring Runnels. They are 9-3 for the season, and defeated Sweetwater by a 30-24 score in their only previous meeting.

The Snyder Freshmen seem to have Sweetwater's "number" as they have been successful in whipping that team three times this season without loss, and currently hold an 11-4 record for the year.

In the only "home game" of the day, Travis 7th goes up against Roscoe in an attempt to make it 8 wins in a row. Travis dropped its first 3 games of the season, but have since gone undefeated, having won the Lamesa Tournament this past weekend to add to its laurels.

This game will be run off in the Travis Junior High gym starting at 5 o'clock. Coach Bob O'Day announces that it will be free to the public.

Junior Editors Quiz on EXPLOSIONS

QUESTION: What was the greatest natural explosion in the world?

ANSWER: Once there was an island in the East Indies called Krakatoa. It was about 18 square miles in area and rose to 1,400 feet at its highest point. On Aug. 26, 1883, almost the whole island of Krakatoa exploded with a roar that was heard nearly 3,000 miles away. The center of what was once an island became a hole in the ocean floor 1,000 feet deep. An estimated 36,000 people were killed, most of them dying in the huge tidal waves that swept the nearby islands. Dust from the explosion floated around the world, making sunsets red everywhere. Krakatoa is still an active volcano. The last time it was active, between 1927 and 1929, it created a new island known as Anak Krakatoa, or 'child of Krakatoa,' which rises about 265 feet out of the sea.

FOR YOU TO DO: Usually a volcano like Krakatoa is thought of as being merely destructive, but in some parts of the world they have been put to use for the benefit of mankind. See if you can find out why a volcano is useful in Larderello, Italy. (Ray Fuller of Davidsonville, Pa., wins $10 for this question. Send your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. If duplicate questions are received, Mrs. Higgins will select the winner.)

Was Carole A Witness Against Self?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was Carole Tregoff a witness against herself the day she was charged with murder? Her defense attorneys are trying to prove it—in hopes the Fifth Amendment may help them win the Tregoffs' case. Miss Tregoff, a first receptionist at a wealthy physician and later his mistress, was arrested July 29 after she told a preliminary hearing her story on the night the doctor's wife was killed. Carole, 23, and Dr. Bernard Finch, 42, are on trial on charges of murder and conspiracy for the July 29 death of Barbara Jean Finch, 36. The prosecutor, who is seeking to prove her guilty took the stand for the state Monday to tell about Miss Tregoff's arrest. Under searching cross examination, Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whitehead admitted that at no time at the preliminary hearing had Miss Tregoff been informed of her constitutional rights. Whitehead said he didn't consider the Miss Tregoff a suspect when the preliminary hearing commenced. Whitehead also testified that she was arrested during a recess. She was arrested when she finished testifying. Defense attorneys have battled bitterly against every attempt to introduce Miss Tregoff's earlier testimony into evidence. They claim the portion of the Fifth Amendment which bars a person from being a witness against himself was violated.

Well-Known Surgeon Dies
