Sales Tax elections get voter approval

City passed by 116-39 vote

Voters within Colorado City favored the 1/2 percent Sales and Use Tax proposal by a vote of 116 for to 39 against in last Saturday's election.

Approval was by a 1.3 to 1 margain by the 155 residents who voted in the election.

The additional 1/2 percent tax will begin January 1, 1988. Under the proposal, the total collected from the 1/2 percent levy will be used to reduce the property taxes for next year by an equal amount. The City is already collecting a 1 percent sales and use tax. The new tax added by both the City and the County in the Saturday elections, plus the dincreased state sales tax will bring the total tax to 8 percent on all sales subject to sales tax beginning the first of the year.

County passed by 225-89 vote

Voters in Mitchell County went to the polls last Saturday to approve by better than a 2.5 to 1 margin, the levying of a 1/2 percent sales tax in order to reduce property taxes.

Of the 314 who voted in the County Election, 225 voted in favor of the sales tax, while only 89 opposed the proposition.

The sales tax propositon was voted favorably by all of the six voting precincts which were as follows:

Absentee—9 For, 6 Against
Prec. #1—69 For, 31 Against
Prec. #2—17 For, 14 Against
Prec. #3—77 For, 28 Against
Prec. #4—46 For, 4 Against
Prec. #7—7 For, 6 Against

Collection of the additional 1/2 percent sales and use tax will begin January 1, 1988. Amount collected from the sales tax will reduce ad valorem property taxes by an equal amount next year. With the approval of a similar election by the City, and increase of the state sales tax to be effective this Fall, on January 1 the total sales tax to be collected will amount to 8% on the sales of all taxable items.

Mayor calls Town Meeting on August 20

Mayor Jim Baum advised the City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night that he has called a public Town Meeting for 7 p.m. Thursday, August 20 at the Civic Center.

Purpose of the meeting, he said, is to get some direction and long-range goals, as well as a better feeling for the desires of the citizens for this community. The input will also be helpful toward application for a "Main Street Town" designation to be applied for next year to help remedy the downtown problems. Local citizens are urged to attend the meeting.

Action taken by the Council included amending Ordinance #87-10, the Electrical Code,adopted at the last meeting, to delete "com-

Commissioners approve '88 budget and tax rate

With no one appearing for the Public Hearing, the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court approved its 1988 budget and set the tax rate for the coming year at its regular meeting Monday afternoon.

The final budget approved amounted to $2,702,477.52, which is an increase of $211,494.22, or 8.49% over last year's budget. Most of the increase resulted from a loss of approximately $73,000 in federal revenue sharing funds, $48,000 added through a new contingency fund, $49,000 in salary increases, and an accounting adjustment of $42,000 in state fees.

Prior to approving the budget, County Judge Bill Carter

Band begins selling Record subscriptions

The Colorado High School Wolf Band annual subscription drive for the Colorado City RECORD is now underway, announced RECORD Publisher Earl Flagens.

The subscription drive is traditionally one of the biggest money-making projects for the band, said Daivd Sims, director.

Band members will be going door-to-door selling new subscriptions and renewals. Subscription prices include $15.50 in county, $19.50 in state, $24 out of state and $13 for college. College subscriptions will start Sept. 1.

The band will be given a percentage of each new and renewed subscription, said Plagens.

Persons who wish to renew their subscriptions with the band but are not contacted by a band member can call 728-3413 or 728-3414 and a band member will come by.

Back-to-School issue Sunday

In addition, Colorado City merchants are planning back-to-school specials which also will be featured in the special edition.

Publisher Earl and I attended the enshrinement of Colorado City's Don Maynard, et al, into the Pro Football Hall of Fame and the Hall of Fame game between the San Francisco 49'ers and the Kansas City Chief's in Canton, Ohio last weekend. For anyone who has an interest in professional football, this is an event well-worth attending. It was probably a once in a life-time experience for us. Representing Maynard's "home-town" newspaper, we enjoyed a lot of "extras" like getting up close to take pictures, participating in the press interviews of each of the enshrinees—Larry Csonka, Len Dawson, Joe Green, John Henry Johnson, Jim Langer, Maynard, and Gene Upshaw—and attending receptions where we had the opportunity to visit with and rub elbows not only with them but also many other present and past pro football players and coaches Don Shula, Hank Stram, Chuck Noll, Bill Walsh, club owners Art Rooney and Al Davis, other prominent sports figures and a few movie/TV stars.

Gene Dow

I said "rub elbows", it was more like rubbing elbows with knee caps of those 6'5", 260 pounders—it's nice to be back home and around "normal" size people again.

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "Monday is a hard way to spend one-seventh of you life"--especially after a Hall of Fame weekend.

Wouldn't it be nice if Colorado City could devise such an annual event! Canton is a town of about 90,000 people and we read where an estimated 1/4 million people were there during the week-long festivities. The Pro Football Hall of Fame is located in Canton for three primary reasons: (1) the American Professional Football Association, the direct forerunner of the NFL, was founded in Canton on September 17, 1920, (2) The Canton Bulldogs were the first two-time champions of the NFL in 1922 and 1923 and the fabeled Jim Thorpe played with the Bulldogs, starting in 1915, and (3) Canton citizens, early in the 1960's, launched a determined, well-organized campaign to win site designation, which was granted in 1961. The Hall was opened on September 7, 1963, more than 4 million have toured through the facility. If you have ever been there or seen a picture of it, you know why it is often referred to as the "orange juice squeezer".

DID YOU KNOW?—Out of the thousands that have participated, only 140 players, coaches and owners have been elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

reminded the Court of a protest received from County Attorney Clay Strange over the reduction in salary of his secretary, but the Commissioners agreed to approve the budget has set in the preliminary hearings.

The Court then voted unanimously to set the tax rate at a total of 39.07 cents per $100 valuation, the same as last year. This is broken down to 29.82 cents for the General Fund and 9.25 cents for the Road Fund. With some $99 million loss in property valuations, it would have taken a tax rate of 49.41 cents per $100 just to generate the same income as last year, which was the established "effective tax rate". With the approval of the same 39.07 cent rate, the tax revenues, fees and interest income is projected to bring in only $2,298,565.40, which is $403,912.12 short of the budgeted expenditures. To make up the difference, this amount will be taken from the County's reserve funds, rather than any increase in taxes this year. In its resolution setting the tax rate, the Court also established a 3% discount for taxes in October, 2% discount if paid in November and 1% in December. Penalties and interest will be added after January 31.

Other matters taken up by the Court, at its regular meeting were as follows:

• Sheriff Wendell Bryant appeared to request the purchase of a new 1988 car to replace a current 1985 model. The Court agreed to accept bids for the new car at it meeting on Tuesday, September 8. Funds are to come from Federal Revenue Sharing monies available in this year's budget.

• Marsha Rickard appeared before the Court to request a relief from penalties and interest and a possible payout schedule on taxes due on property in Loraine where she has established an "Assisted Living" home. The court indicated it would have to check on the legalities involved and what kind of precedent it might set, and consider the request at its August 25 meeting.

• After considering several options, the Court agreed to buy a 1025 Zerox copier, sorter and a 2- or 3-tray feeder for an outright cost of $2,705, plus an full service maintenance contract of $925 per year from Stephens Office Supply of Snyder. The old machine it is replacing is included as a trade-in.

• Joy Piland and Ray Byrd were reappointed to three-year terms on the Mitchell County Library Board.

• To meet requirements of a new state law (HB1504), effective January 1, the Court designated the lobby on the first floor of the Mitchell County Courthouse as the site for sale of any real property, by deed of trust or other contract lien, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on the First Tuesday of a month. For many years, such "Sheriff's sales' have been conducted on the "front steps of the Courthouse".

• The Court canvassed and approved the returns of the County Sales Tax election held last Saturday which received voter approval by 225 for and 89 against, and approved the resolution required to enact the tax to the State Comptroller. County Clerk Joan Beach pointed out that the election cost $1,761.23, or $5.61 per vote, out of the $3,000 that was budgeted for election expense this year.

• Approved payment of current bills totaling $51,826.34 and the regular two-week payroll.

• Judge Carter pointed out several county and district fee options that have been made available by new state statutes, but action will not be required before October 15, to be effective by the beginning of the year.

• Judge Carter also reported that five applications have been received to replace the County Courthouse custodian including one contract offer.

• Regular monthly reports received were also approved.

All Commissioners—Ed Roach, Johnny Shackelford, Paul Hunter and Bill Preston—were present along with County Auditor Georgie Griffith and Treasurer Ann Hallmark.

Felicia Vonne Sanders, assistant girls' coach and biology teacher at CHS; and Sam D. Huffman, counselor. Bill Denson was approved as transportation supervisor.

In addition, Charlie Uselton, superintendent, said that Dixie McLean, a high school aide, has been reassigned to the secretary's position at Hutchinson Elementary.

The board was to have interviewed three applicants for the Hutchinson principal's post Monday night, but instead instructed Uselton to proceed with the hiring as he has done in the past. Uselton did discuss the applicants with the board during an executive session but no action was taken. A replacement is being sought to replace Dell Riley who retired at the end of the last school term.

The board opened and approved bids for milk and novelties, bread and bread products and gasoline for the coming school year. Borden's was the low and successful bidder for the milk while Mrs. Baird's Bakery was the low and successful bidder for bread. Billie Brookover (Fina) was the low and successful bidder for gasoline.

The board heard from Rogene Spruell who questioned the district's policy concerning lunches for students placed in in-school suspension (ISS). She said she has checked with the Texas Education Agency and was told that when students are placed in ISS, they lose all their privileges, including free lunches.

When the ISS program was first initiated, students on the free lunch program were brought hot meals while other students had to bring brown bags. Since then the policy has been changed so that all students in ISS have a choice of hot lunches or bringing their own lunches from home.

"I'm not going to let any of them (ISS students) go hungry," said Uselton, explaining that some of the students can't afford lunches.

Mrs. Spruell said that she was told previously that the school's policy concerning ISS lunches was state law and she wanted the board to know that the TEA cannot find "any state law or rule to that effect".

Board president Billy Bruce Bridgford said there is some federal money involved in the free lunch program which would have priority over any state ruling.

No action was taken on the matter.

In other matters concerning the ISS, board member Kathy Bassham polled the other board members about the 20-day ISS rule for students caught with drugs or liquor the first time. Mrs. Bassham referred to a letter about the 20-day rule submitted by Mrs. Gayla Proctor. Mrs. Bassham questioned whether the 20-day rule be changed to a 10-day in-school suspension on the first offense, followed by a 20-day in-school suspension the second time and a complete suspension the third time. Board members responded that the 20-day rule seems to be working effectively and did not see any reason to change it.

In other business, the board:

• hired Joe Morren to conduct the annual audit;

• scheduled a special meeting Aug. 17 to adopt the 1987-88 budget and set the tax rate for 1987;

• approved school board policies including deleting some accounts and adding a CISD educational trust fund account, and;

• agreed to exempt boats from

A school board policy concerning health requirements for students with communicable diseases (including AIDS) was tabled until the administration can study sample policies from the state and other school districts.

pleted operations" coverage requirements, cost of which were found to be prohibitive to local electricians. The $100,000 liability coverage provision is retained, rather than posting bond, as in the past.

The Council also had the first reading of a new ordinance #87-12 which will establish Connect Fees and abolish the present Deposit Fee requirement. This is a new source of revenue and it was recommended that the connect fees—$50 for new connections and $25 for transfers—be placed in a special water improvement fund. Final action on the amendment and recommendation will be taken next month at the second reading.

The Council canvassed the City Sales Tax election returns and declared the measured was approved by a vote of 116 to 39.

Ronald Appling appeared before the Council, representing several concerned citizens, asking the city's help to get local restaurants to set aside non-smoking areas. Council expressed the desire not to pass "another law" but agreed to poll local restaurant by letter to see if voluntary compliance would be acceptable in lieu of a required ordinance.

Certified appraised values established for the City totaled $72,552,866, which is about $700,000 lower than last year. The "effective tax rate" required to bring in the same amount of tax revenue as last year is 64.12 cents per $100 valuation. Action could not be taken until proper public notice is given, but the Council indicated it would probably set the effective rate, which is up from the 60.71 rate set last year.

It was also agreed to accept the one bid of $300 made for two lots in the Waddell-Martin Addition which was offered in the tax lien sale, in order to get the property back on the active tax rolls. Opening bid requested was $1,300 in the delinquent tax suit made jointly by the city and the school

City Secretary Kay Craghead presented the financial report which showed total expenditures in July of $171,232, bringing year to date expenditures to $285,035, or about 12.95 percent of the $2,200,810 budgeted for the year.

Current vouchers approved for payment totaled, $51,064.16.

Council members present were Mayor Baum, Anderson, Hearn, Tom Carlock, Manager Brenda Tarter and Secretary Craghead. Councilmen absent were Robert Hoback, Dan Johns and Don Webb, Sr.

Also arrested and referred to juvenile authorities were a 10-year-old and 14-year-old, said Bryant.

The arrests occurred at a residence .6 mile east of Truck Town on the south service road of Interstate 20. The raid was conducted following the issuance of a search warrant by Justice of the Peace Joan Merket. The four adults were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ruby Claxton who set bonds at $5,000 each. They later posted bond and were released from Mitchell County Jail Tuesday afternoon.

The search warrant was executed by members of the sheriff's department, the Texas Highway Patrol and the Colorado City Police Department.

Bryant said information was received from a California agency which resulted in an investigation here.

"We had developed more information locally and were able to obtain a search warrant from the justice of the peace," said Bryant.

Lady Wolves begin

Wayne Alexander and Felicia Sanders, new Colorado High School coaches, know about hard work and it's rewards and look forward to passing along their knowledge to the Lady Wolves.

Alexander, who for the past four years has enjoyed winning ways at Robert Lee, comes to Colorado City to take the job of girls athletic coordinator. He'll be the head girls coach and head the basketball and track coaching duties.

Sanders, whose hiring was just approved by the Colorado Independent School District board of trustees during a regular session Monday night, is already on the job as head volleyball coach and will assist Alexander in basketball.

"I don't really like the title," said Alexander. "I prefer to be called a basketball coach. I've gotten to where I really enjoy track but basketball is my main sport."

Mostly, the title means he won't have anything to do with coaching boys.

At Robert Lee he assisted the football program in addition to coaching girls basketball and track. His four years there are his only experience in public schools but they were four years full of accomplishments.

After a 14-9 record the first year his basketball teams then produced three seasons of 20 or more wins. One season ended with a 26-1 record. The only losses were a practice game against Coleman and a loss in the regional semifinals. In four seasons his teams made the playoffs three years-twice as district champions.

"I guess you could say I've never lost before."

Alexander is not used to losing either as a coach or player. Born and raised in Bronte, Alexander "played everything but track for the Longhorns." As a golfer he made the state tournament three years-taking runner-up medalist honors twice and third once.

He graduated from Bronte in 1975-the year he took third and his team won the state title. From there it was on to two Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association All-Conference golf seasons for the McMurry College Indians.

"I didn't have to pay for any of my schooling. That's the only way to go."

Alexander doesn't pretend to know where Lady Wolves athletics stand but does know establishing a winning program takes time and cooperation.

"I took the job because I knew it would be a challenge," said Alexander. "I felt the program here could really go up."

"It's up to the kids. It's not the coaches, it's the kids that have got to do it. I can't do things for them. At Robert Lee it was the kids' priority to do well."

"They have to learn how to work, attitude and the whole bit. Some people will tell you winning is not the most important thing but that's what coaches are hired and fired for."

Alexander has a wife Beverly and children Jennifer, age three, and Josh, age two. Coach Alexander will also teach World History and Word Geography.

Sanders comes to Colorado City by way of Roswell, New Mexico. What she already knows about Colorado City is what her mother has told her. The former Lavonne Broadwell also now lives in Roswell. "It(Colorado City) hasn't changed that much to her," said Sanders.

Two-a-day volleyball workouts recently started for the Lady Wolves and word has it that Sanders' morning conditioning is more that most girls are used to.

"I like what I see, if they can keep it up," said Sanders. "I don't want them in here only because their best buddy is. Forty to fifty girls have shown up."

The Lady Wolves begin the season with a scrimmage against Abilene High Monday here at "The Pit". Freshman scrimmage at 2 PM, the junior varsity at 3 PM and the varsity at 4 PM.

"We're working basics this week and conditioning. After the scrimmage we'll know what we've got. It's trial and error right now."

Sanders said the key to good volleyball is communication. "I look for setters first then hitters. I believe setters are like quarterbacks and lead the team-if that makes any sense."

Merkel has dropped volleyball-leaving Colorado City and Clyde as the only 5AAA schools competing in the sport. It also means automatic playoff berths for the two teams. Talk of any phasing out "is only an incentive to make it a better program here," said Sanders. "I'm used to 5A schools but that's not to say 3A can't be as competitive."

Sanders is qualified to speak on being competitive.

The 1979 Roswell graduate was named Most Outstanding at the state volleyball tournament and was named Roswell's Most Outstanding athlete. She also received Honorable Mention for New Mexico basketball.

From there she attended Angelo State University on a volleyball/basketball scholarship and went on to play softball for the Rambelles. She was the first ASU woman to letter is three sports as a freshman. By the time she graduated in 1986 she had cut her playing time to only softball-a sport in which she was nominated to play in the Pan American Games.

Sanders "got a good job offer" after graduating from ASU from a fitness club in Arlington. She stayed there two years before deciding to do her student teaching and get her teaching certificate.

She'll be a rookie at CHS but does have coaching experience as a ninth and tenth grade summer instructor for the United States Volleyball Association. Sanders will also be teaching Biology.

Sales tax payments sent

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday sent checks totaling $31,790 in local sales tax payments to Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook, three of the 1034 cities that levy the one percent city tax.

Bullock said that statewide, the monthly allocations were down 7.4 percent in August compared to the 1986 August allocations.

Colorado City's payment this time was $29,403, compared to $29,114 for the same period last year. The 1987 payments to date total $265,475, down 7.47 percent from the 1986 payments to date of $178,831.

Loraine received a check for $1,519 this period, compared to $962 for the same period last year. The 1987 payments to date total $4,491, down 5.87 percent from the 1986 payments to date of $4,771.

Westbrook received a check for $868 this period compared to $1,017 for the same period last year. The 1987 payments to date total $4,999, down 42.39 percent from the 1986 payments to date of $8,677.

County-wide, Mitchell County is behind some 9 percent in sales tax collections compared to this time last year.

Howard County is also behind in sales tax collections this year by 5.64 percent. Nolan County is down 6.98 percent county-wide and Scurry County is behind 20.91 percent.

August checks represent taxes collected on sales in June and during the second quarter and reported to the comptroller by July.

Chamber-sponsored events studied

Board of Directors of Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce met Monday afternoon to finalize plans for three main events to be held this month, plus reports on past and future activities.

The Chamber's Quarterly Coffee will be held Thursday, August 20, beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Coffee is open to all chamber members, but features new member orientation to the Chamber's projects and goals, and membership involvement. Gary Parker and Lone Star Gas will be the sponsor for the Coffee and will be offering a gas grill as door prize.

On August 21, the Chamber will jointly sponsor along with the Crime Stoppers, KVKM Radio and Wolf Creedk Golf Club, a "Twenty-one and Under Club" event to be held at the Wolf Creek Club House. Young people 17 to 21 years of age are invited to participate in the alcohol/drug-free "night club" atmosphere dance, which will feature the sounds and lights of DJ Roy Miles to be held from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight. There will be a small cover charge and any proceeds will be used to improve the facilities and activities for the event.

The annual Teacher Appreciation Breakfast will be held August 25 at 9 a.m. at the Middle School. This event gives the public an opportunity to visit with the teachers, meet the new staff members and generally show appreciation to the teachers. There will be entertainment and speakers and coffee and donuts served for the event.

The Ambassasors will meet on August 19 to elect a new chairman to replace Carolyn Shaw, who is moving.

Under Tourisism activities, a new Bus Tour Committee, chaired by Billy J. Woods, has been established. Representatives will attend a meeting in Dallas Aug. 30, 31 and Sept 1 to find out how bus tours are handled, get schedules and ways to get included as a stop on a tour.

The Board agreed to buy 1,000 9x12 plastic litter bags printed with the Chamber logo, to be filled with local map, brochures, a Fall Fun Run and 5K Race may be scheduled since these events drew good out-of-town participation.

Robert Alford, reported for Bob Riley, that the recent membership survey response was good and the feedback provided some good ideas and suggestions and criticism that will be helpful to the Chamber.

A new project that is being considered is some type of Industrial and Business Appreciation event.

The financial reports for July showed income of $6,033.48 and expenditures of $4,127.59 leaving a month-end balance of $7,408.51. Total income for the Chamber year-to-date is $17,633.96 toward the annual budget of $36,684.30.

President Ben Lancaster presided at the meeting. Others present were Becky Manning, David Hoover and manager David Janca.

Business Buyer's Guide and other donated items to be placed in rooms of local motels. It was pointed out that the new Buyer's Guides just distributed have been well received and utilized. Everyone who worked on and supported this project was commended.

Also being considered is the establishment of a local Tourist Bureau where visitors can stop and get information about local and area events and happenings. Probable location will be at one of the businesses along I-20.

For other upcoming events, the Chamber and committees are gearing up for the Mitchell County Fair to be held September 30, October 1-3. Ribbons have been ordered, booth reservations are now being taken, judges selected, etc.

Chairman Tim Haynes has reported that the Railhead Arts and Crafts Fair is already full to capacity. However, a Kid's section may still be added if a sponsor is found. The event is scheduled October 10 and 11.

A Belt Buckle sale will be scheduled in the near future to clear out the few remaining Colorado City belt buckles.

Under past events, Tandy Curley reported that the "War on Weeds" and the recent community-wide clean-up campaign made some progress and efforts would be continuing.

It was reported that all the events connected with the Fourthfest proved successful and all would be repeated next year. Also

More lands added for public hunting

AUSTIN - Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro announced a joint project with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the Texas General Land Office to set aside 66,000 acres of public land to provide for low-cost, family-oriented, hunter access to many diverse units of public land scattered throughout Texas.

The Land Office addition to the program will bring the total land set aside for public hunting to 413,000 acres, Mauro said. Half of the acreage is in East Texas timber lands, 160,000 acres are in the Trans Pecos and 28,000 acres are in the Panhandle. The acreage is composed of 47 different "units," each comprising of several tracts.

The Parks and Wildlife Department is marking each unit with 10"X10" diamond-shaped, chrome-yellow signs with the legend "Posted No Trespressing - Hunting by Permit Only".

The Type-II Permit for these public hunting grounds costs $35 a year and will go on sale at the Austin Parks and Wildlife headquarters for a two-week trial period beginning Monday, Aug. 10. By Sept. 1, the permits will be available at 28 Parks and Wildlife field offices across the state and the Austin headquarters.

Savings and loan legislation OK'd

WASHINGTON--The Congress has overwhelmingly approved U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm's urgent legislation to protect depositors in savings & loan institutions and to launch a "self-help" program for troubled S&Ls.

"Depositors all over the country can now be confident that those deposits are good up to the full insured limit," Gramm said during the final Senate debate on the bill.

The "Thrift Industry Recovery Act" rebuilds the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp.'s funding and offers individual thrifts a chance to "revitalize themselves through a self-help program," Gramm said.

The bill was passed on votes of 96-2 in the Senate and 382-12 in the House. President Reagan is expected to sign the bill into law shortly.

The Congress approved the addition of $10.8 billion--all provided directly by the thrift industry and with no taxpayer financing--to the insurance fund to protect S&L depositors.

"I insisted on a self-help program with no taxpayer funding and I am particularly pleased that we won on this issue," Gramm said.

More than 50 such troubled S&Ls exist in Texas alone, Gramm noted.

Stanleys visit in Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Stanley just returned home from a two weeks visit to Illinois.

While there, they attended three reunions, one being a church reunion. It had been 25 years since all had gotten together. Time was spent looking at old pictures and taking new pictures.

They also visited with Mr. Stanley's mother, two brothers and sisters and Mrs. Stanley's two sisters, and a brother and families.

On their way home, they stopped at Exotic Animal Paradise, near Springfield, Missouri and spent a day. It is 9 1/2 miles long and a 400 acre ranch containing wild animals from all areas in their natural habitat. It takes 2-4 hours and was very enjoyable, and interesting, as they have become tame (most of them) and you feed them out of your window.

Most interesting to them were the Sililin donkeys which when grown, are small and the babies are real small.

It was very humid and hot and they were glad to get back to any and hot weather.

Woods host annual reunion

Wes and Barbara Woods hosted the annual Claud Woods Reunion during the second weekend of July at their home in Loraine.

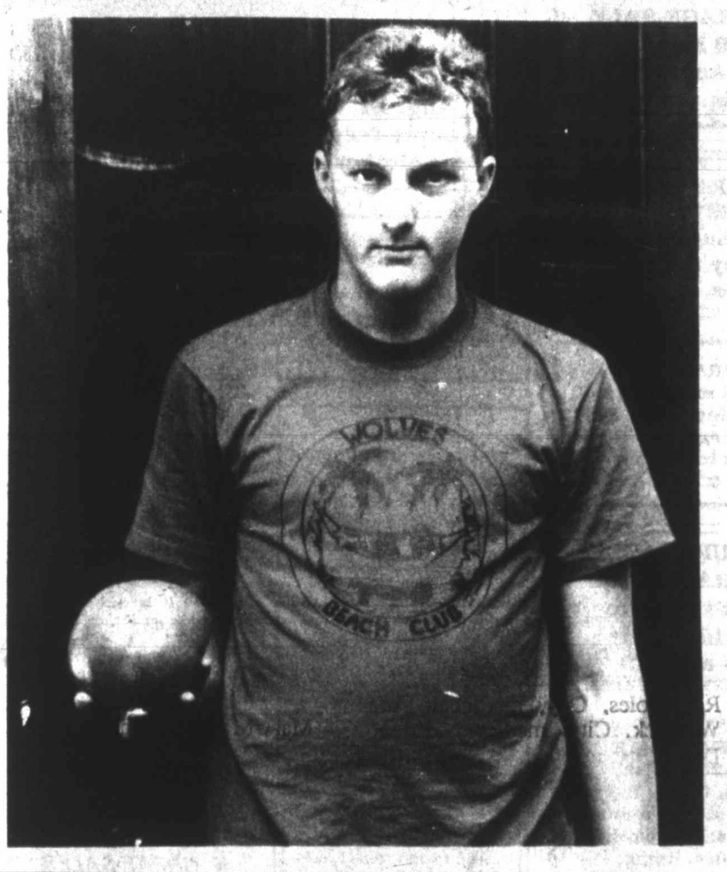

Those attending were Jerry and Leah Woods, Becky and Joshua Beights, all of Fort Worth; Laddie, Sandy, Melissa and Chris Woods of Monroe, La.; James, Carol, Brian and Gina Woods of Carrollton. Also Mrs. Beatrice McCreless of Stanton.

Thursday and Friday were spent visiting and relaxing as all the guests arrived.

Saturday, the younger of the group spent time at Lake Colorado City.

Sunday, the traditional "under the trees" church service was held. The lesson was delivered by James Woods, assistant minister at the Farmers Branch Church of Christ in Farmers Branch. When the morning worship service concluded, there was an appreciation message and song presented by Leah and Gina Woods.

All the guests departed on Sunday afternoon after plans were made to have the reunion in Monroe, La., next year, hosted by Laddie and Sandy Woods.

The wedding will take place Saturday, Aug. 22, at 6 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Loraine.

'Rural TV' package explained at meeting

"Rural folks have a right to the same quality of life as people in the city--especially when that right is denied by a few corporate muckety muchs in New York City," declared Jim Morriss, executive vice-president of the Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives (TEC).

Morriss, speaking before 675 electric cooperative managers, directors, and guests at the organization's 47th annual meeting August 3-5 in Austin, denounced the programming executives responsible for scrambling TV satellite signals and blacking out rural dish owners.

Bob Phillips, chief executive of the National Rural Telecommunications Cooperative (NRTC), keynoted the meeting and indicated that the recently formed nonprofit telecommunication co-op is making great strides toward bringing affordable satellite television to all of rural America.

He announced that two more television programming companies have joined NRTC's television package, called "Rural TV," and several more stations are "very close" to signing contracts.

The television package is to be offered to satellite dish owners through participating electric cooperatives beginning in Spetember in some parts of the country, although it will take time to determine the demand for the service in specific areas.

The new channels are ESPN, a sports channel that will begin broadcasting NFL games this fall, and CBN, the Christian Broadcasting Network.

For about $10 per month, NRTC will market the basic package which also includes Cable News Network and four superstations -- WPIX (New York), WGN (Chicago), KTVT (Fort Worth-Dallas), and WOR (New York), all of which are presently scrambled.

Rural TV also includes channels that will be scrambled in the near future such as The Nostalgia Channel, Country Music Television, The Learning Channel, Hit Video USA, The Nashville Network, and Home Sports Entertainment (which broadcasts Houston Astros and Texas Rangers baseball).

"This is already one of the best packages on the market today, if not the best," Phillips said.

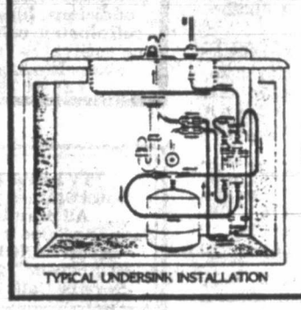

He reported that "Lifetime," a health and lifestyle oriented station, "The USA Network," a music and entertainment channel, "WTBS," the Ted Turner superstation, and an agriculture information network will probably be added very soon.

Phillips expressed concern in July that stations such as the Disney Channel were not negotiating with NRTC. That has changed, he said. Disney is now "showing strong interest" in joining the package.

HBO is still reluctant to talk to NRTC, but Phillips said he is considering signing a contract with another premium movie channel, "Select TV."

Phillips also described other services that the telecommunications co-op may eventually be able to provide for electric co-ops such as electronic billing through the consumer's television set and meter reading from the co-op office.

The MacClean R.O. Drinking Water System is based on the same process used by laboratories, hospitals and electronic manufacturers to produce "pharmaceutical" quality water (very high purity). In household use, water pressure forces the water through a semi-permeable membrane. The membrane is so fine that on average 90% of all dissolved solids are removed. The result is cleaner drinking water for the whole family.
Another approach to better quality water to purchase bottled water. This, however is not only expensive, but also inconvenient and messy.
The MacClean Drinking Water System is ideal for low sodium diets. Coffee and tea will taste better. Food cooked in MacClean R.O. water will have improved flavor. You'll also have quality water for steam iron, car batteries and humidifiers-all from our MacClean Drinking Water System.

Don Maynard, six others are inducted into Hall of Fame

In the sports world, there is the long-standing axiom that, if you want maximum recognition of your talents, you must play for a team that calls New York home.

Don Maynard, a 1953 graduate of Colorado High School, was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame last Saturday in Canton, Ohio. Maynard is the only former Wolf athlete to receive such high honors. He played in grand style for 13 seasons with the New York AFL team, known first as the Titans and then the Jets after 1963. Although he ranked as the leading pass receiver in pro football history when he ended his career in 1973, Maynard had experienced an unbelieveable lack of recognition in a town where the heroes are usually hounded by press and fans alike around the clock.

Maynard's Hall of Fame election, in the eyes of many as long overdue, came last January.

There may be some factors other than gross indifference on the part of Big Apple sports observers that could explain why Maynard did not attract super-star attention. His pro football career started inauspiciously with the 1958 New York Giants, shifted to the Hamilton TigerCats in Canada in 1959 and then brought him back to New York with the Titans of the newly-founded AFL in 1960.

The Titans and later the Jets struggled for several seasons before they attained a level of respectibility.

Until Namath came on the scene in 1965, Maynard had little chance to work closely enough with any one quarterback to develop the necessary rapport for an effective pass-catch duo. Up to that time, no less than 25 quarterbacks had played with the Titans-Jets. For the remaining eight seasons of Maynard's New York tenure, the No. 12 to No. 13 passing connection was one of the most dangerous in pro football.

There can be no argument that the free-spirited Maynard was productive, even from the first game of his AFL career. He caught 72 passes in his AFL rookie season and, in 10 AFL seasons, finished second only to Denver's Lionel Taylor with 546 receptions. When Maynard retired after a brief stay with the 1973 St. Louis Cardinals, he had 633 career catches and the No. 1 all-time ranking. He also held the record with 11,834 reception yards, a mark that stood for 13 seasons. His 88 touchdown catches still rank him second only to the immortal Don Hutson of early-day Green Bay Packers fame.

While Maynard never led his league in receiving in any one season, he is one of only five players to record more than 50 receptions and more than 1,000 receiving yards in five different seasons. He also had 100 or more yards receiving in a record 50 games.

Maynard was at his absolute best in the 1968 campaign that eventually wound up with the Jets upsetting the Baltimore Colts in the classic Super Bowl II showdown. Maynard went over 100 yards on receptions seven times that year and topped the 200-yard mark twice. In the famed "Heidi" game against Oakland, he caught 10 passes for a team-record 228 yards.

Maynard was at his best in the AFL title game against the defending champion Oakland Raiders. The Jets were 17-point underdogs but Maynard still recovering from his injury, led his team to an upset with six catches for 118 yards and two touchdowns. His 14-yard grab in the first period gave the Jets the lead. In the fourth period, Namath connected on a 52-yard bomb to his favorite receiver at the Oakland six and then hit Maynard on the next play for the winning touchdown.

"That is the one I'll never forget," Maynard said. "If we hadn't won that day, there would have been no Super Bowl III for us."

Born Jan. 25, 1937, in Crosbyton, Texas, Maynard attended eight grade schools and five high schools before settling at Colorado City high school his junior and senior years. He lettered as a halfback in football, a guard in basketball and a hurdler in track.

Maynard received a football track scholarship to Rice, but transferred to Texas Western after one semester. There he was an all-Border Conference halfback for two years. He also starred in track in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes and in the low and high hurdles. Since Maynard had gotten married after his junior school year and because Texas Western did not offer scholarships to married students, he played senior season without financial help. As a result, he began his pro career the next year

Maynard has earned two masters degrees in art and education and now is an investment counselor in El Paso. During the off seasons of his playing career, he dabbled in such pursuits as teaching high school mathematics and industrial arts, running a butane business, a golf cart business, a credit card business and promoting a cleaning fluid called Swipe. He even is a licensed plumber.
