Jetliner Carrying 49 Burns After Collision

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A jetliner carrying 49 persons cartwheeled "like a shooting star" into a mountain region and exploded after a collision with a Marine jet fighter. The only known survivor was one of the two crewmen aboard the military plane.

The Sunday night crash of the Hughes Air West DC9 was the worst civilian plane disaster in California history. And it was the first crash in the United States of a scheduled airliner in more than a year.

The radar interception officer of the Marine F4 Phantom jet parachuted to safety after the in-flight collision east of here.

He was the only reported survivor, but a helicopter pilot later reported sighting a parachute which he said he believed to be that of the pilot of the F4. It was sighted near the wreck of the fighter plane.

Nine bodies were spotted in the wreckage of the twin-engine airliner, which crashed into a deep gorge in two pieces and was still smoldering hours after the disaster.

Wreckage was spread over a mile-square, tree-studded area. Fire officials and sheriff's deputies who flew over the wreckage before darkness fell said they were convinced no one aboard the DC9 could have survived.

Garry Butters, 17, a Duarte High School student, rode his motorcycle into the mountain to where he said he could see the jetliner wreckage. He said he saw no signs of survivors.

STILL STRAPPED
"Most of the people were thrown up the sides of the gully, maybe 200 yards from the plane," Butters said, "but some were still strapped in their seats."

A Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team member, Miner Harkness, 41, flew over the crash site in a sheriff's helicopter.

"The commercial jetliner was completely blown apart," he said. "The only thing you could recognize was the tail section. The whole area was on fire—the bodies, the plane, everything was burning."

A thick fog prevented sheriff's search and rescue teams from climbing down a cliff to the airliner or reaching the fighter during the night.

The gorge is too narrow to land a helicopter, officials said. The crash occurred over the mountainous Van Tassel Canyon area of Angeles National Forest. Authorities described the region as "the most rugged area in Los Angeles County and perhaps in California."

The nearest inhabited area is the town of Duarte, about five miles from the crash site and 25 miles east of Los Angeles.

The Air West airliner, Flight 706 carrying 43 passengers and a five-man crew, had taken off from Los Angeles International Airport only 18 minutes before the collision. It was en route to Salt Lake City, Boise and Lewiston, Idaho, and Pasco, Wash.

The F4 was flying from Fallon Air Force Base in Nevada to its home base at El Toro Marine Corps Air Station near suburban Santa Ana.

TYPES OF AIRCRAFT INVOLVED IN COLLISION — A Phantom F4 jet fighter and a DC9 airliner, similar to types shown, collided in flight east of Los Angeles Sunday night. The only known survivor was one of the two Marine crewmen in the Phantom jet. It was the worst civilian plane disaster in California history.

DEATH TOLL HIGH Propjet Rips Through Few Cottages

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An Allegheny Airlines propjet with 31 persons aboard hit a power line, ripped through some summer cottages and crashed into marshland near Tweed-New Haven Airport Monday.

Some reports put the death toll as high as 29.

James Malarky, airport manager, said 29 persons were killed, and Yale-New Haven Hospital said it was certain at least 25 were dead.

The Convair 580 hit the utility line as it approached Tweed-New Haven Airport in hazy fog, according to Malarky. Five beach cottages near the end of the runway were struck, then the wreckage crashed in two big pieces.

Allegheny said 28 passengers, including two infants, and a crew of three were aboard the regularly scheduled flight, which originated in Washington, D.C.

Police said it was believed most of the cottages were vacant.

Allegheny headquarters in Pittsburgh at first said 29 persons were aboard, but the passenger list later was revised upward to include two infants.

The plane was Flight 485, which originated in Washington, D.C., and had flown to New London, Conn. It was to have continued on to Newport News, Va., following the stop at New Haven.

Most of the bodies were found still strapped in their seats in the burned fuselage. Another large piece of the plane was found about 150 feet away.

A spokesman for Yale-New Haven Hospital said two men and a woman were admitted after the crash.

Smith To Ink Ethics Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said today he will sign two of the most controversial bills of the regular legislative session: Ethics and state aid to private colleges.

He called the ethics bill a "real strong bill." "I hope to put it into effect and see if you can make all our state officials honest — if they are not already," Smith added at a news conference.

Only Friday, Smith was calling the ethics measure "rather a weak bill."

The governor said he also plans to sign a supplemental bill, passed in the four-day special session, putting political candidates under the ethics bill's financial disclosure provisions.

Van Heflin Suffers Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Veteran actor Van Heflin, 60, critically stricken by a heart attack Sunday during his daily swimming exercise, was in "guarded" condition today, a hospital spokesman said.

The spokesman would not say whether Heflin had regained consciousness or whether his condition had improved.

A gardener pulled the actor from his apartment pool after finding him clinging to a ladder, his head barely above water.

Heflin, a stage and screen actor for 35 years, portrays a disturbed passenger intent on blowing up an airliner in the current hit movie "Airport."

Rites For 25 Mass Murder Victims Set

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — A community-wide memorial service for this city's 25 mass murder victims is scheduled Tuesday evening at Yuba City Union High School football stadium, a few blocks from the home of the man charged in the slayings.

The Yuba-Sutter Memorial Fund Committee has invited Boy Scouts, parent-teacher groups, service clubs and personnel at nearby Beale Air Force Base.

Juan V. Corona, a 37-year-old farm labor contractor, has been charged in 10 of the slayings which were discovered at the time of his arrest. He pleaded not guilty and faces a preliminary hearing June 16.

The committee says it also has accepted an offer from a Chicago firm to provide vaults and grave markers for the slain drifters or migrant farm workers, and to pay the cost of transporting a body anywhere in the nation for a free burial.

About $400 already has been donated to the committee's campaign to raise an estimated $5,000 to offset all burial costs. Victims who are not claimed by relatives will be buried at the Sutter County Cemetery about 15 miles out of town.

Meanwhile, the search for more stabbed and hacked bodies in orchard graves along the Feather River has ended.

"We don't plan to do any more digging unless something comes from the infrared photographs," Sheriff Roy Whiteaker told a news conference Sunday.

Law Partner Fails To Show At Missing Three Hearing

DALLAS (AP) — A law partner of Leon C. Horton, a controversial figure in the disappearance of three elderly Dallas persons and disposition of their estates, failed to appear today for a court of inquiry into the mystery.

Meanwhile, the lawyer for Horton said his client will refuse to testify under provisions of the 5th Amendment against self-incrimination.

Judge Dee Brown Walker issued a bench warrant for the arrest and return to court of the missing witness, Mitchell Stevens, brother of John Stevens of the Western National Bank of Amarillo. John Stevens approved transfer of some of the assets of one of the missing persons at Horton's request.

Horton contends he possesses a power of attorney. Experts claim the document is a forgery. Horton says some of his papers were stolen when he was hit on the head and knocked unconscious recently.

The court of inquiry was delayed pending the arrest of Mitchell Stevens.

Missing are Robert L. Roberts 85; his aunt, Jessie Forsythe 89, and businesswoman Anna Farley, 72.

The case took a sudden turn of events Friday when, police say, Robert Seanoor, 29, shot himself just hours before he was scheduled to testify. Seanoor was the first to report Mrs. Farley missing in 1969.

The wound near his heart left him in serious condition at a Dallas hospital.

Police said he concocted a story that two well-dressed men with "a contract on his life" had tried to force him to leave his apartment with them. Police quoted Seanoor as saying the gunmen shot him when he refused to leave with them.

Three Cosmonauts Link Up With Russian Space Lab

MOSCOW (AP) — In a step toward building orbital space stations the Soviet Union's manned Soyuz 11 linked up today with the space Laboratory Salute launched seven weeks ago and three cosmonauts went aboard.

The two craft together formed a vehicle 60 feet long and 12 feet in diameter weighing 25 tons, Tass news agency said. Its volume was given as 3,521 cubic feet.

"A Soviet manned orbital scientific station is functioning," the agency reported.

The linkup climaxed a chase through space lasting more than 25 hours. Soyuz 11 streaked into orbit Sunday morning and began pursuing Salute, launched April 19.

KEY JOB
The rendezvous, linkup and transfer was a key maneuver which must be perfected if the Soviet Union is to carry out its high-priority goal of building a permanently orbiting space laboratory.

Soviet space scientists envision a network of such space stations circling the earth and manned by crews which could be relieved by transport rockets.

The rockets would dock with the station, link up and transfer the crews through airtight passageways.

Stations like Salute could serve as the cores of such stations and the transport rockets could link up to them like spokes to the hub of a wheel.

Soyuz weighs 7½ tons and Salute 17½ tons.

Soyuz 11 was the second Soviet spacecraft to dock with Salute. On April 24, three cosmonauts aboard Soyuz 10 linked up with the station for 5½ hours, undocked and returned to earth. The Soviet press reported no attempt to transfer cosmonauts.

Moscow television reported that the first man in today's linkup to make his way into Salute was Viktor Patsayev, the crew's 37-year-old civilian test engineer.

Patsayev is a specialist on the docking mechanisms and systems of orbital stations. He trained with Nikolai Rukavishnikov, the test engineer aboard Soyuz 10. The second man to go aboard, the television report said, was Vladimir Volkov, the flight engineer. At 35, he is the youngest, but most experienced, of Soyuz 11's crew.

Volkov was one of the "heavenly seven" cosmonauts—as the Soviet press called them—who crewed the multiple Soyuz 6, 7 and 8 missions in October, 1969.

The last man to go aboard was the mission commander, Lt. Col. Georgy Dobrovolsky, 43, a rookie in space.

Tass said the docking took place at 10:45 a.m. Moscow time—3:45 a.m., EDT—during Salute's 789th orbit of the earth.

The agency said the docking was carried out in two stages.

"During the first stage," Tass reported "Soyuz 11 was automatically brought to a distance of 100 meters to Salute. Further approach was performed by the cosmonauts. A hundred meters is about 300 feet.

SPACE STATION
"After Soyuz 11 was docked," Tass continued, "the vehicles were rigidly mechanically coupled and their electrical and hydraulic communications were connected."

Tass added that Salute consists of compartments fitted out with equipment and systems for controlling its flight and position in space. It also contains life-support systems for the cosmonauts.

Dobrovolsky "reported that the cosmonauts feel well and have started fulfilling the planned flight program," Tass said.

The agency called the linkup and transfer of cosmonauts "an important step ... in developing space techniques and manned flights."

"The use of the new space complex—orbital stations with transport ships to service them—opens broad prospects for further studies and the utilization of outer space in the interests of developing science and the national economy," the agency said.

REDISTRICTING RULING FOR TEXANS

Solons Do Not Have To Carve Separate Districts For Blacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held today that state legislatures could use multi-member legislative districts in drawing new apportionment plans based on the 1970 census.

The ruling had been long expected by the Texas Legislature, which ended a regular 140-day session and a four-day special session, June 4.

The Texas Legislature finally approved a state representatives redistricting plan for multi-member districts, despite protests from supporters of single-district plans, mostly from Houston and other big cities.

MINORITY GROUPS
The Supreme Court decision in Washington came on a 5 to 3 ruling in an Indiana case that state legislatures do not have to go out of their way to carve out separate districts for blacks and other minority groups.

Unless there is evidence that slum residents are not participating in the political process they can be lumped together with surrounding white voters in one multi-member district, Justice Byron White said.

The ruling upsets the judgment of a federal court in Indianapolis that the blacks in the city's "center township ghetto" are entitled to have their own state senators and representatives.

White said the Supreme Court has always been alert to the rights of Negroes but could find nothing to show that the blacks in the Indiana city were not allowed to register or vote or to be "equally represented" in the selection of state legislators.

Moreover, White said, since poor blacks in Indianapolis generally are members of the Democratic Party, it is unlikely that the Democratic party "could afford to overlook the ghetto in slating its candidates."

The court's liberal bloc, Justices William Douglas, William Brennan Jr., and Thurgood Marshall, dissented.

1970 CENSUS

Justice John Harlan filed a separate opinion saying the court is pursuing a "will-o'-the-wisp" and should stay out of such apportionment disputes.

Douglas said the city's blacks are surrounded by white voters and "it is asking the impossible for us to demand that the blacks first show that the effect of the scheme was to discourage or prevent poor blacks from voting or joining such party as they choose."

He added: "On this record, the voting rights of the blacks have been abridged, as I read the Constitution."

In another important aspect of the ruling, the court said state legislatures could use multi-member districts in drawing new apportionment plans based on 1970 federal census figures.

White said in theory, at least, voters represented by several legislators have more chances to influence critical legislative votes. And, he said, since multi-member delegations are elected at large and represent the voters of the entire district, they tend to vote as a bloc.

Two Injured In Fight At Wedding

A fight at the GI Forum Ball Room, on the north side of town, early Sunday got out of hand, and all units of the local police department were called to the scene.

The fight resulted from a quarrel between two parties after a wedding at the hall, however, before the affray could be settled a large crowd gathered and started throwing rocks at the officers arriving at the scene, according to police reports.

Pete Rodriguez, Rt. 2, Box 130, and Arnulfo Hernandez, same address, were taken to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. Rodriguez had severe knife cuts on his chest, and Hernandez had several broken ribs and bruises. No report was available on the condition of the two men at the hospital today.

Some of the patrol units were damaged by rocks, but there were no officers injured in the fight. Officers had the crowd under control at approximately 1:30 a.m., however, some of the policemen then had to work traffic jams caused by curious bystanders, police reported. No value of damage to police units was determined.

Bogard Chief's Assistant In Police Reorganization

By BRIAN PEAY

Major changes in the organization of departments and alignment of department supervisors were initiated in the Big Spring Police Department today by Chief Jay Banks.

"We have, this date, instituted changes in our organization which will amount to a realignment of authority and responsibility and tighten control and direction of police operations," said Banks, after formally announcing the changes.

Stanley Bogard, former captain of the detective division, will be advanced to assistant chief and will replace Leo Hull, who will be in charge of the services division.

providing the chief with intelligence information on crime, vice and internal security. He will be in charge of screening and making background investigations of applicants and will enforce rules and regulations by the department and conduct investigations of infractions by employees or citizen complaints against employees.

Bogard returned from a school on police administration in Louisville, Ky., at the Southern Police Institute this week. He has been at the school for the last three months and attended the school on a grant from the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

stemming from a study of the local police organization by police officials, the uniform division, the services division and the criminal enforcement division.

The services division will be under the direction of Hull, former assistant chief, who was moved from the position due to his own request, Banks said. He will now be in charge of all operations assigned to the department including municipal court liaison, communications office, detention facilities, identification and records, building maintenance, maintenance of vehicles and equipment, and the animal warden position.

The second division will be the uniform division under the command of Capt. Robert Dugan. His responsibilities include all uniformed enforcement officers, plan, layout and schedule of all phases of uniform division work, including shifts 1, 2, and 3 and the reserve police force, safety education, traffic enforcement and crime prevention.

Capt. Jack Jones will be the head of the criminal enforcement division. His duties will be to supervise all operations of the detectives, vice control, juvenile control, narcotics, licensed premises inspection and records. Also pawn shop inspections and records, criminal intelligence and liaison with the criminal courts and other criminal justice organizations will be under his command.

Other changes in the department will be the promotion of Sherrill Farmer, detective sergeant, to Lieutenant of Detectives, (acting), and advancement of Richard Cantwell, intermediate patrolman, to detective sergeant, (acting).

"We feel that through this realignment we can create better budget planning, budget expenditure control, eliminate any duplication of efforts and fully utilize the efforts of all employees for better service to the community," said Banks.

The change in organization comes after a special closed personnel meeting of police officials and the city commission and city officials last week.

AFTERNOON GRIEVANCE MEETING County Commissioners Face Routine Morning Session

County commissioners met in a routine session this morning with the grievance by Local 826 of the International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL-CIO) scheduled for 3 p.m.

The grievance, concerning the "forced resignation" of road and bridge department employee Carl Wells, will be presented by Kenneth Howell, business manager of the local union. Wells' resignation allegedly resulted from a misunderstanding of the department's sick leave policy.

In matters before the commissioners this morning, Bill Bennett, precinct 1, suggested that the discussion with O. R. Bolinger, landowner, with reference to right-of-way across his land to construct an extension of Hilltop Road running from Birdwell Lane to FM 700, be tabled until budget-setting time in July.

The suggestion by Bennett came after a report by Commissioner Jack Buchanan and Hollis Randall, road and bridge administrator, that estimated the cost of a caliche road over the land would be approximately $10,000.

"At this time, our budget won't stand $10,000," said County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

WEATHER

NORTHWEST TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy through Tuesday. Slight chance of thunderstorms in east and central portions this evening. Not quite so warm in Panhandle. Low tonight 48 in north west to 48 in southeast. High Tuesday 65 to 65.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS: Fair to partly cloudy and warm through Tuesday. High Tuesday 92 to 102. Low tonight 65 to 75.

WEST OF THE PECOS: Fair to partly cloudy and warm tonight and Tuesday. Slight chance of afternoon and evening thunderstorms over mountains and north. High Tuesday 85 to 102. Low tonight 54 to 70.

County commissioners also approved a right-of-way easement on the Robinson estate north of the Midway Road.

A request by Sheriff A. N. Standard to pay overtime wages to deputies working on Memorial Day triggered discussion by the commissioner on the feasibility of placing sheriff's department employees on a 40-hour work week.

Sheriff Standard said he will make a report regarding the additional number of employees such a plan would take. The matter was placed on next Monday's agenda.

The request for the overtime wages was then approved by the commissioners.

Virginia Black, county auditor, reported that representatives of the Howard County Historical Society had requested the $300 that had been budgeted to their organization.

Commissioner Bennett said that he thought that the representatives of the Society should come before the commissioners court with their request and with an explanation on what the money would be spent for. Judge Mitchell placed the subject on the agenda of the next meeting.

Other matters taken up at this morning's meeting:

- the date for the auction of used county vehicles was set for discussion next Monday.
- commissioners approved a request by the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, represented by Mamie Lee Dodds and Ralph Dowden, to hold the annual patriotic pageant, "La Freedom Ring," on Memorial Plaza in front of the courthouse, at 7:45 p.m., July 3.
- bills presented by the county auditor were approved.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast Monday for much of the Midwest and the South, and parts of the West. Rain is predicted for the Great Lakes area. There will be cool weather in the Great Plains States and warm temperatures in the East.

Hysteria Relents To New Style Elegance

NEW YORK (AP) — Designers have offered what they call wearable, easy, elegant, sporty, noncostume clothes — the "new classics" — for fall.

Are they civilized or are they dull? Critics say some "new classics" are more classic than new. Others find that the lack of hysteria in fashion and the new elegance are a big relief.

It's likely that many fall collections shown so far will sell well. Women are not likely to complain that designers are playing it safe. Not when a customer will be able to walk into a store and find simple dresses and familiar-looking sports-wear.

On Friday, the Miss Dior collection had the simple dresses, and Kasper offered the sports-wear. Philippe Guibourge designed a number of solid dresses, for Miss Dior, some with culotte skirts. He also showed some funny little bloomer outfits for evening. Kasper mixed and matched plaid blazers argyle-patterned sweaters and suede jeans.

Some are saying — if you've seen one blazer, you've seen them all. But with the layered look and mixed patterns, the trick for designers is to put the right blazer with the right shirt, sleeveless sweater and pleated skirt. Mix the wrong prints, and it's enough to set your teeth on edge for a week.

Pants are back for fall. Designers got bored with the best-selling pants-and-matching-top idea from last year. So they've turned out pants in about 80 different lengths. From the top down:

- Short shorts under long coats at the Donald Brooks boutique.
- Romper shorts for evening at Miss Dior.
- Above the knee shorts with zip jackets at Jacques Tiffreau.
- Below the knee pants or divided skirts at Bill Blass.
- Plus fours at the Beene Bazaar.
- The jodhpur look at Stephen Burrows.
- Paratrooper pants at Anne Klein.
- Long slacks at Valentino, Christian Dior-New York, Oscar de la Renta.
- Take your pick. The difference this year is that the pants are usually shown in mix and match, layered looks, as at Oscar de la Renta.

Coleman Family Has Reunion In Ackerly

A reunion of the family of Mrs. J.L.W. (Martha) Coleman and the late Mr. Coleman, was held Saturday and Sunday in her home in Ackerly. All eight of the Coleman children were present, plus 22 grandchildren.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Witt, Rising Star; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hughes, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Coleman, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coleman, Ackerly; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coleman, Belen, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Coleman, Counselor, N.M.; Mrs. Dean Mess, Las Cruces, N.M.; and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Norman, San Angelo.

Steam Facials Aid Oily Skin

If skin tends to be oily, especially the area around the nose, a periodic steam facial is recommended. Make a tent with a towel and hold the face over a basin of steaming water. Follow with a soap and water cleansing.

After rising, apply witch hazel pads to the area. Witch hazel, a pure herbal extract, acts as a mild astringent and skin toner.

J. Blakes Feted At Farewell Party

KNOTT (SC) — A farewell party for the James Blakes family was held Sunday in the Sands School home economics room. Blake, former head coach at Sands, has accepted a position in Seminole. The family was presented a money tree.

The Leon Riddles have returned from a vacation in Valencia, Ark. They were also guests of the Herchal Romines of Ballavista, Ark., former West Texans.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here is an easy way to cut very fine or silky hair.
The hair usually slips from the scissors, but if the scissor blades are sprayed with hair spray, the hair will not slip.
... Donna

A shoemakers' children may not have shoes, but future generations in your family will have a "lasting" artifact of a by-gone era.
... Heloise

Dear Heloise:
One of the joys of being a grandmother is knitting or crocheting for the younger generation. (Or being talked into it!)
This is fine, if you have time to sit and knit, but as a working, traveling grandmother my time is limited.
To keep abreast with these little garments, my knitting bag is my constant companion in the car.
If I have to wait for five minutes or so, it gives me time to do at least a couple of rows. I always finish the row I'm working on.
While on a trip, my needles keep pace with the mileage and it is surprising how much you can accomplish in 100 miles!
The laundermat is another one of my favorite knitting places, an hour or two can add inches.

Of course, now and then, my husband complains and tells me to "please leave your knitting at home."
... A Reader

Dear Heloise:
Have read your letters with interest for a long time. Today, I read something that brought back memories and also reminded me of something my dad said years ago.
This was about marking eggs with an "X" — I always did that, and, one day while Dad was watching me, he said, "Wish you wouldn't mark those eggs. It makes me think how as a young lad, I had to dispose of setting eggs that 'didn't' hatch."
My grandmother always marked them in case another hen laid a fresh egg in with the setting eggs.
Surprising, isn't it, Heloise, that a small remark will turn back the calendar to the loved ones of another era.
... Dottie

Dear Heloise:
I have found that my kitchen gadgets have many and varied uses other than what they are intended to do.
Have you ever used your egg slicer to slice apples for pies?
It is quick and easy to do. After the apples are peeled and cored, just slice them with the egg slicer. The apple sections are uniform in size and thickness.

A LOVELIER YOU Have Pity On Feet; Keep Weight Down

By Mary Sue Miller — Giddy footwear is not always the reason for aching feet. Some feet are overly tender, owing to a weakness. Too, some women carry more weight than even strong feet can support with comfort.

Serious obesity is capable of crippling results, wherein a person can hardly navigate. So getting excess weight off your feet is just one more reason for weight control. And here, as we all know, control comes from sensible eating habits.

But, given passable weight and well-fitted shoes, easily fatigued feet reflect weakness and need bolstering. Basic remedies aim to firm up foot muscles via exercises such as these:

1. Barefoot, sit with knees crossed. "Count" with toes of elevated foot — point each downward in turn. (At first, some may not budge, but practice bestows limberness.) Now stretch elevated foot downward, clench all toes and hold. Then stretch foot upward, clench and hold. Work for two minutes. Recross legs and continue.
2. Slide to edge of seat, extend legs and rest soles of feet on floor. Arch right foot, and slowly draw it back until only tip of big toe touches floor; by reversing action, return to starting position. Repeat with left foot. Alternating, perform 20 times.

As temporary relief measures, give tired feet epsom baths, massage with chilled rubbing alcohol or foot lotions and sprinkle foot powder under stockings and in shoes. What's more, your next step could well be to a podiatrist.

LEG TRIMMERS
If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, "Legline Trimmers," which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long-stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Pioneer Spirit Hits Fashions

Americans are digging in to a new pioneer spirit that shows in everything from environmental concern to what goes on milady's back. In the fashion world, stores specializing in antique attire, cowboy and Indian clothes or individual handicrafts have taken their place right alongside the chic boutiques. Even the French are in the act. A recent collection featured old-fashioned shawls in challs prints with plenty of fringe.

A lot of Americans are suffering from withdrawal symptoms.

What's wrong?
You're making more money than you ever have.
But every time you plan on putting money into your savings, you end up withdrawing some.
Maybe you're buying too many little things you don't really need. Little here, little there. After awhile it adds up.
You know, that's just the theory behind the Payroll Savings Plan. You sign up where you work, and they set a little aside from each paycheck, and use it to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. You don't really miss the money that way . . . and before you know it, you've got a nest egg that's really worth something.
And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

The Payroll Savings Plan. A great way to save a little here, a little there and end up with a bankroll.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is prepared as a public service in cooperation with The Department of the Treasury and The Advertising Council.

SENATORS CALL SECRET SESSION

What Is U. S. Doing In Laos?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is putting aside its marathon debate on the draft for a secret session to discuss what the United States is doing militarily in northern Laos and why.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., requested the session, charging the United States is spending hundreds of millions of dollars in Laos on military operations "without congressional sanction and outside the normal appropriations processes."

GOOD THING
"It will be a good thing to lay the cards on the table," Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told reporters.

Only senators are permitted at secret sessions. Today's was the seventh in recent years, including two on the Safeguard antiballistic missile and one in December, 1969, just before the Senate voted to bar U.S. combat ground troops from Laos and Thailand.

A provision enacted last year bars U.S. financial support of foreign troops to help the governments of Laos and Cambodia. But the prohibition excepts actions related directly to aiding withdrawal of U.S. forces from Indochina or helping free American prisoners.

The Nixon administration contended Sunday, in a letter from Asst. Secretary of State David Abshire to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that a North Vietnamese conquest of Laos would enhance Hanoi's ability to attack American troops in South Vietnam.

DRAFT LAW
An earlier report by two Foreign Relations Committee staff members, which Symington is presenting at the secret session, details Central Intelligence Agency backing of some 4,800 Thai troops in Laos, as well as other U.S. operations there.

The session interrupted deliberation on some three dozen amendments, many of them relatively minor, to the draft extension bill that has been before the Senate since May 5.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said final congressional action by the June 30 expiration of the present draft law is questionable.

Draft officials have said they could call some of the millions previously deferred, including college students, if necessary to keep manpower flowing to the military after June 30.

Symington said Sunday the secret session on Laos "is being requested in light of the increasingly grave situation in that country, along with the implications of that situation for the United States."

"These implications may not be too clear to some members of the Senate, as our activities in Laos have been carried out largely in secret without congressional sanction and outside the normal appropriations processes," the Missouri Democrat said.

ECONOMIC U.S. AID
The only publicly announced cost of a U.S. program in Laos is $52 million in economic aid, Symington said. "In fact, however," he added, "the cost of United States-supported military operations runs the amount we are actually spending well into the hundreds of millions of dollars."

Kennedy wrote President Nixon April 23 asking the authority for U.S. operations in northern Laos after William H. Sullivan, deputy assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, testified they have "nothing to do with military operations in South Vietnam or Cambodia."

Abshire's letter said: "If the North Vietnamese were to conquer all of Laos they could divert thousands of their forces now engaged in north Laos to the war against South Vietnam and greatly enhance their position in those areas of Laos bordering on South Vietnam from which they launch attacks on United States and allied forces."

Kennedy said: "The response to my letter is not only inadequate but it also contradicts the testimony of Ambassador Sullivan and by its logic justifies new military ventures by the President anywhere in Southeast Asia."

FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING OFFICER — (AP WIREPHOTO) Alfred B. W. Flint Jr., 25, of Haines City, Fla., arrives for final day of his court-martial Sunday. He was found guilty of killing one of his officers and trying to kill another, and was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment and a dishonorable discharge.

Antiwar Lobby Leaders Wooing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Professional, religious and civil rights leaders open a week of antiwar lobbying here today in hopes of wooing 24 senators whose votes could mean passage of an amendment to withdraw U.S. funding of the Vietnam war by Dec. 31.

Their chances are considered slim by most observers.

The group, known as the Lobby of Americans, also is sponsoring radio and newspaper ads aimed at stirring pressure by constituents of senators who have not pledged support of the amendment.

The week-long campaign was to open with former Sens. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, and Stephen Young, D-Ohio, holding a news conference and rally on the Capitol's east steps.

The lobbying efforts are aimed at lining up votes for the Senate's revived and revised McGovern-Hatfield amendment.

The measure was defeated last year despite a similar organized campaign.

Eighteen of the 24 senators targeted for special pressure are among those who voted against the McGovern-Hatfield amendment last year when it was defeated 55 to 39. Five others are freshmen who have spoken in favor of President Nixon's war policies and one is a senator who neither voted nor stated a position last year.

A showdown vote is expected on the amendment this month but most observers feel the lobbying will not change the outcome.

"I don't think any debate or any pressure is going to change a single vote," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana. "They've got their minds made up."

Officers From 50 States To Discuss Cop Killings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover have called together law-enforcement officers from each of the 50 states to discuss how to stem a rising tide of police murders.

Following up a White House conference which one Justice Department official described as "window dressing," Mitchell and Hoover have set up a two-day working seminar with police officials at FBI headquarters.

technical information on explosives, financial assistance available from the federal government and ways of training policemen to improve their safety.

Despite pleas for help, Mitchell and Hoover have pointed out federal jurisdiction is limited and have restated the administration's opposition to legislation to make killing a policeman a federal crime.

But with the number of deaths rising—the total for calendar year 1970 is expected to be 100 as opposed to 86 in 1969—the administration has announced its support of a proposal to pay $50,000 grants to survivors of officers killed in the line of duty.

Scheduled to attend the sessions beginning today was the top uniformed officer of the New York City police department, which has lost seven men in the past five months. He is Chief Inspector Michael J. Codd.

LEFT OUT
New York Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy, saying he was disappointed and dismayed at being left out of last Wednesday's White House conference, has accused the Nixon administration of infusing politics into the issue of police safety. Murphy, a Democrat, was left off the list by Hoover.

The White House meeting and the current sessions were ordered by Nixon in the wake of killings of two officers in Washington and two in New York.

According to statistics on police deaths compiled by the International Association of Chiefs of Police under a Justice Department grant, 52 officers have fallen in the line of duty since Jan. 1.

The total for the full 11 months since the count began is 100, the IACP says. While most of the deaths occurred while the officers were responding to calls or making arrests, at least 20 are attributed by the IACP to ambushes.

On the agenda for the working sessions are discussions of the types of persons convicted of killing law-enforcement officers. According to FBI statistics for prior years, most such persons have records of previous arrests for violent crimes.

PLEAS FOR HELP
Also scheduled are lectures by FBI and Justice Department officials on plans and tactics of terrorist and extremist groups.

Tickets Sales Aid Retarded Children Here

The Howard County Association for Retarded Children is sponsoring the first annual project to raise funds for helping retarded children, according to Jack Capps, local supervisor.

Volunteers are selling tickets for $1.50 each for a showing of "Heidi" at 8 p.m. June 28 in the Big Spring High School auditorium.

Most Big Spring merchants are buying the tickets and then donating them to local childrens groups, Capps said. Proceeds from the project will be used to help send retarded children to the Prude Ranch, and help the Teens Aid the Retarded organization and establish a fund to build a sheltered workshop here to train retarded children in trades.

Officers of the association are Mrs. Maurice Smith, 4037 Vicky, president; Mrs. Harold Bell, vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Thames, secretary; and Mrs. Arlan Sharp, treasurer.

Guns Nearly As Deadly As Autos Over Weekend

By The Associated Press
Guns were nearly as deadly as cars over the weekend in Texas as weapons played a major part in the carnage.

The Associated Press began its routine tabulation of violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued the grim count until midnight Sunday.

By midnight Sunday, the list of violent deaths had swelled to 46 with 21 dead in traffic, 11 shooting victims and nine persons drowned. The remainder died in miscellaneous incidents.

Two unidentified persons drowned Sunday behind a low water dam on the Brazos River just south of the Waco city limits.

FOUND FLOATING

Another man, unidentified, drowned Sunday east of McPherson's slough on Lake Grapevine in Tarrant County.

A Hillsboro youth, David Covey, 16, drowned Sunday in Lake Whitney, about 12 miles from Hillsboro. Officers said the youth's body was found floating about 100 yards from shore.

The body of two-year-old Alonzo Olvera was recovered from a small creek in a San Antonio park Sunday. The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Olvera of San Antonio.

Joe Garcia, 21, of San Antonio died in a San Antonio hospital Sunday after he was wounded by shots from a passing car. Witnesses said four or five shots were fired.

BROTHER WOUNDED

Elias Trevino, 26, of San Antonio was shot to death Sunday in the bar where he worked. Three other persons including his wife and brother were wounded. Three men were arrested.

Mary Kukkk, 21, and Francis E. Stone, 53, both of San Antonio were killed and another man injured Sunday in a two-car collision at Loop 410 and U. S. 90 West in San Antonio.

Robert Campbell, 30, was killed and Lillian Clark, 22, was wounded in a South Dallas shooting Saturday night. Police sought the unidentified gunman.

Robert Baker Jr., 30, was shot to death in his South Dallas home late Saturday night. Officers jailed a 38-year-old man whom they said fired several shots at Baker.

Billy Roy Castleberry, 23, of Houston and Gene O. Jackson, 25, of an undetermined address were killed Sunday when three vehicles collided on Galveston's picturesque Seawall Boulevard. Dorann Gill Whitford, 31, a registered nurse from Meridian was killed Sunday when her car overturned on U.S. 22 about 13 miles from the Bosque County town.

Sally Speer, 85, died and her sister was in critical condition Sunday after fire swept their Plainview home. Firemen theorized the fire was caused by lightning striking a television antenna.

BOOK WOMAN

William Calvin Dawson, 21, of Grand Prairie drowned Sunday at Lake Grapevine. Dawson had been fishing near the Silver Lake marina north of Texas 121 when the accident occurred.

Two Fresno, Calif., children died late Saturday in a three-car accident on a farm road near Emory in Northeast Texas.

The dead were Kelly, 3, and Clara Cooper, 4. Their parents and two other children were injured.

Gunfire broke out in a Fort Worth bar Saturday night, killing Mary Jones and wounding three other persons, including her husband and another married couple.

Evan Lilienthal, 14, of Irving was found at the bottom of a San Antonio motel swimming pool Saturday night. The Junior Bowling League bowler was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Police at San Antonio booked a 27-year-old woman into jail Saturday night in the shooting death of Billie R. Teague, 32.

Teacher Seeks Fellowship Back

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Betty Duke has filed suit for reinstatement as a North Texas State University teaching fellow.

She also asked for $63,500 in alleged damages.

A July 20 hearing had been set before U. S. Dist. Judge William Justice in Sherman, her lawyer said Saturday.

Justice recently ruled that a permanent injunction banning Mrs. Duke and another former student from the Denton campus was unconstitutional.

North Texas State said she was discharged because of using obscene language and for "conduct unbecoming a faculty member."

True Security For Energy Myth Without Oil Policy?

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of Humble Oil & Refining Co. said today true security in national energy supply is elusive and perhaps unattainable without a vigorous domestic oil effort.

Thomas D. Barrow said a national energy supply must provide an adequate supply of energy for both present and long-term needs at a reasonable balance between cost, dependability, and the protection of the environment.

He said such an approach must provide an adequate supply of energy for both present and long-term needs at a reasonable balance between cost, dependability, and the protection of the environment.

"We have reached that point in time where a more coordinated, consistent approach to energy policy issues is essential," Barrow said in remarks prepared for delivery before the silver anniversary meeting of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

It also should include, he said, the development of contingency plans for disruptions in foreign supply.

Inherent in this latter consideration is the encouragement and maintenance of a healthy domestic producing industry, including a healthy independent sector," he said.

Barrow's prepared remarks made no reference to Friday's congressional message in which President Nixon outlined national energy policies emphasizing nuclear power, offshore oil, geothermal energy, oil shale and coal gasification.

Barrow said, however, the nation will not be able to resolve its energy problems by continuing to manage its individual energy resources each in isolation from the other.

"Because of the interrelationship between fuels, it is essential that total energy supply and demand be recognized and analyzed as a single problem," he said.

Flames Kill
AFB Employee; Widow Held

POTTSBORO, Tex. (AP) — A Perrin Air Force Base employee burned to death late Sunday when fire swept through his two-story lakefront home and spread to two nearby cabins.

Some five hours later, the man's nearly nude wife was found stumbling through near-by woods.

Grayson County sheriff's officers identified the dead man as Kenneth Cox, 39.

Officers said two boys in a jeep found Mary Cox, 23, nearly nude and running through a nearby wooded area. The woman was taken to the county jail at Sherman. Officers would not say why she was being held.

The fire completely destroyed the home on Lake Texoma plus a nearby cabin, and gutted a second cabin.

Officers said there were no other injuries in the blaze.

Several witnesses reported they heard what sounded like gunfire and an explosion before the fire.

Charges Readied
Against Fifth
Man In Robbery

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A fifth man was held in lieu of $75,000 bond today on charges in the $27,154 robbery of an Air Force base bank.

Larry Wonston Washington, 22, of San Antonio, was arraigned late Sunday. Officials said he voluntarily surrendered.

He was charged in connection with the robbery of the Brooks Air Force Base Facility of the Brooks Field National Bank, and with knowingly possessing some of the stolen money. U.S. Magistrate Frank Baskin said.

One man was arrested in the case Thursday and three more were apprehended separately Friday. All were jailed in lieu of $75,000 bond. A preliminary hearing for the five will be held Thursday.

Three men robbed the bank last Tuesday. One bandit struck a customer on the head while another held up a cashier. The three escaped in a car, eluding a guard at the gate of Brooks. The police said the car was later abandoned.

Troops Shell Da Nang, Bombard Allied Bases

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces guarding infiltration routes along their northern frontier drove back three North Vietnamese assaults and engaged the enemy in a fourth battle during the weekend.

The allied commands estimated that 298 North Vietnamese were killed in massive U.S. and South Vietnamese air attacks and ground fighting Saturday and Sunday at half a dozen points south of the demilitarized zone. South Vietnamese headquarters said its forces captured 27 heavy weapons and 44 rifles from the battlefields.

Six South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed and 53 wounded in the fighting. No American ground troops were involved, the U.S. Command said.

The enemy shelled Da Nang early today for the third time in nine days. Three 122mm rockets apparently meant for the Da Nang Air Base smashed into half a dozen homes near the base shortly after midnight, killing three Vietnamese civilians and wounding 10, the South Vietnamese Command said.

Three more of the 100-pound missiles fell inside the air base but caused no casualties or damage, the U.S. Command said. The U.S. Air Force has a wing of F4 Phantom fighter bombers at Da Nang flying bombing raids against the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Enemy gunners also bombarded allied positions just below the DMZ for the 17th successive day. About 10 mortar shells hit U.S. troops stationed 4 1/2 miles south of the zone, and the U.S. Command said casualties were light, with at least one American killed.

At the other end of the country in the Mekong delta, the U.S. Command said American helicopter gunships and light assault planes made two attacks during the night on a sampan convoy carrying an estimated 300 troops. The command said at least 11 sampans were destroyed and 22 of the enemy troops killed.

The attacks were carried out in darkness six hours and six miles apart.

Knife Slaying
Laid To Texan
In Switzerland

AARAU, Switzerland (AP) — Homicide charges against a 19-year-old U.S. Army private absent without leave from Mannheim, West Germany, were being prepared by the state prosecutor today following the knife slaying of a Swiss fireman.

Pvt. Paul Wayne Wilson of Mineral Wells, Tex., was arrested early Saturday with his 15-year-old American girl friend, Judy Ann Norris, after a large-scale manhunt in the little town of Brugg.

Fireman Ernst Bingisser, 44-year-old father of three, was stabbed fatally when he tried to stop the young couple as they fled from Brugg police station where they were being questioned. A policeman also was stabbed, suffering serious stomach wounds.

Dr. Hans Mueller, the canton prosecutor, said Wilson would be charged with intentional manslaughter and attempted manslaughter.

The girl is still being investigated. She is the daughter of an American serviceman stationed in Mannheim, but the authorities refused to identify her parents because she is a juvenile.

Wilson and the girl were held as suspects. Under Swiss law, formal charges are filed after completion of the investigation, which could take several months.

Mueller said Wilson told them the girl is six months pregnant and they ran away to Switzerland on a stolen motorcycle after her parents said she would be sent to a home for problem children.

Police picked the couple up near Zurich, where they camped in a forest, allegedly in a stolen tent. Police questioned them about the theft of camping equipment and food.

The police decided to send the girl back to her parents in Germany and let the pair say goodbye in an unguarded room. But the two escaped.

They were caught at a traffic control point at Brugg, 20 miles northwest of Zurich, and taken to the local police station. They broke away again after Wilson brandished the knife and threatened his captors, the prosecutor said.

Pollution Conference To Spark Thorny Gigs?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A federal pollution conference, which could lead to banning of fishing in Galveston Bay and a clash between state and federal pollution officials, opened here today.

The three-day conference, called by the Environmental Protection Agency, could lead to restrictions placed on the growth of the area and law suits filed against cities and industries.

It will investigate source of pollutants dumped into the Houston Ship Channel and other waterways which drain into the bay.

The EPA has recommended in advance of the conference consideration of stopping all commercial fishing in the bay because of pollution.

WASTE LARD
Also coming under consideration is a proposal for an immediate ban on the discharge of any oil, grease or toxic material into the bay and its tributaries.

The conference will also assess the waste load the bay system can safely handle, with possible allocation to individual cities and industries of pro-rated waste quotas "not to be exceeded regardless of further development."

The recommendation would, in effect, require area cities and industries to either clean up its water or stop growing.

Gordon Fulcher, chairman of the Texas Water Quality Board, said the conference "could have very, very serious and far-reaching effects on Texas for a long time to come—not only on economic growth, but on whether the state or federal government is going to run the pollution program here."

BAD SHAPE
Fulcher has charged that the hearing is "unnecessary and uncalled for."

He has said it was called without any advance consultation with the state, even though a Texas visit a few weeks before by William D. Ruckelshaus, EPA administrator, had been viewed as the start of a new era in federal-state cooperation on pollution problems.

The EPA has prepared an impressive report in advance of the conference suggesting that Galveston Bay is in far worse shape than generally believed. Fulcher charged last week, however, that "much of the data is either erroneous or out-of-date." He indicated the data will be challenged by state pollution experts.

The federal report charges that half of Galveston Bay—the most productive half—is now open to shellfish harvesting only because the state has been judging on its samplings for coliform bacteria levels.

It says federal requirements are that the tests be conducted under the most unfavorable weather and pollution conditions.

"If sampling were regularly conducted under these conditions," the report says, "nearly all of Galveston Bay would be closed to shellfish harvesting due to excessive bacteriological pollution."

The report also says that Galveston Bay oysters contain two to six times more oil and hydrocarbons than oysters in West Falmouth Bay, Mass., which was closed to oystering after an oil spill from a grounded tanker. He indicated the data

Puzzle of Saturday, June 5, Solved

Hot Weather Predictions

By The Associated Press
Clear to partly cloudy skies covered Texas today with predictions of more hot weather by afternoon.

Balmy temperatures and clear conditions blanketed the state during the night with pre-dawn readings in the 60s in northern sections and the 70s elsewhere.

The National Weather Service said to expect hot temperatures this afternoon with a few developing thundershowers in the Panhandle and Southwest Texas.

Temperatures soared Sunday, ranging from an 80-degree reading at Lubbock to 93 at Wichita Falls.

Scattered showers fell along the Coastal Plains as Air Force cloud seeders plowed chemicals into the sky from San Antonio to Houston.

Higdon Trial
Summations

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. (AP) — Opposing attorneys in the court-martial of M. Sgt. William Higdon are studying long transcripts of testimony in the four-week trial.

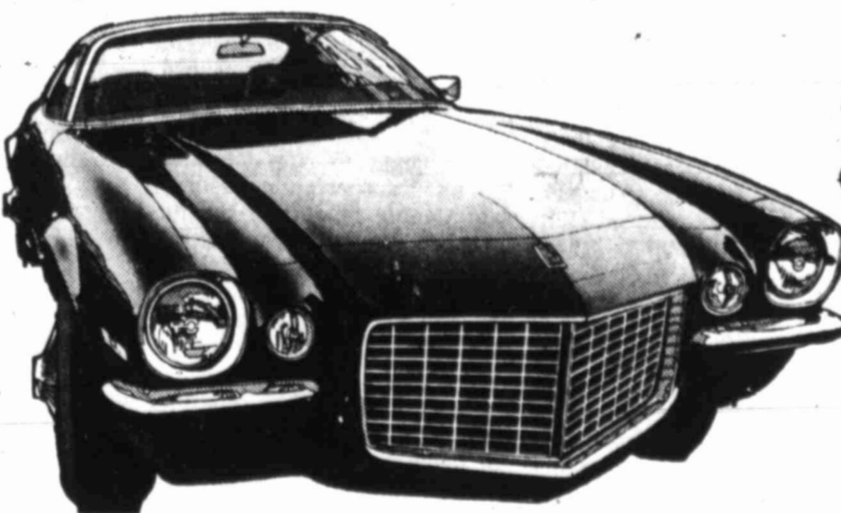

Tuesday they will tell the five-man military court why they think Higdon should be convicted or acquitted of charges of bribery, larceny and graft.

After the defense completed its case Thursday, Judge Kenneth Howard gave both sides until Tuesday to prepare their summations. The judge is expected to give his instructions late Tuesday and the deliberations probably will begin the next day.

The Army claims that while Higdon was operating Army clubs in Long Binh, South Vietnam, in 1967-68, he received kickbacks under aliases, and stole $7,200 from cigarette promotion funds. The prosecution contended Higdon demanded $25,000 as a condition for approving a contract with Universal Consultants, Inc.

Attorneys for the East Point, Ga., soldier said the funds he is accused of taking as graft actually was money stolen by a Universal vice president from the firm's president.

Save yourself from spending too much money by spending some time here.

Camaro

Chevelle

Chevrolet's Summer Sale on all Chevelles and Camaros.

Chevrolet's Summer Sale ends the end of June. It's a sale on every model of our mid-size Chevelle and sports-size Camaro.

It's a simple sale to help you save money. Simply order your Chevelle or Camaro with four features we think you'd want anyhow.

They are white stripe tires, the deluxe seat belts, a set of wheel covers and an AM/FM radio or any stereo equipment. (Stereo available only on Chevelle.)

By buying the package, you start summer by getting a great deal on America's most popular mid-size car or the one the readers of Car and Driver magazine picked as 1971's Best Sporty Car—the Camaro. Which, you've got to admit, isn't a half bad start.

Impala. The big family car a family man can afford.

Impala delivers you and your family more standard equipment than any other car at its price.

Turbo Hydra-matic transmission with any V8 and power steering are now standard. And that's not all.

It has built-in power front disc brakes, a built-in power ventilation system, a built-in double-panel roof that's stronger and does a better job of absorbing sound.

It has built-in side-guard door beams, built-in steel cargo guard in the trunk and more built-in room than any other car in its field (so says Automotive Industries magazine).

Not only is Impala traditionally America's No. 1 seller, it's traditionally high in holding its resale value.

See the U.S.A. in comfort, and at reasonable prices.

Nova. Mechanics say it has the "least mechanical problems."

Or how about a Nova? You know, a lot of people talk about how trouble-free and economical their cars are. But Motor Service and Service Station Management magazines asked garage owners and mechanics what they thought—which ones really have the least mechanical problems and are easiest to maintain.

Nova came out on top, right at the very top. Nova is small enough to fit neatly into garages and tight parking spaces. Big enough to seat five in the coupe, six in the sedan.

It's economical in city driving; yet hefty enough, with standard Six or V8 engine, to give you a solid ride on any highway.

Remember, buckling your seat and shoulder belts is an idea you can live with.

Now, have a great summer. Chevrolet

A New Approach

Gov. Preston Smith is expected to sign a bill which will for the first time permit the state to contribute toward the tuition of students attending private colleges and universities.

This is almost on an experimental basis, because only $1 million is appropriated for the first year of the biennium and $3 million for the second. Based on the maximum of $600 per year ($300 per semester), this can be translated at 1,000 students the first year, 5,000 the second. This volume is hardly tantamount to opening the flood gates, but it is sufficient for a test of the program.

More importantly, this represents the establishment of a new principle with capability of expansion.

For instance, the bill (if signed) is now based upon the economic need of the student. Assuming that the program works, the next step would be to appropriate enough to care for the bulk of those who can qualify under the need guidelines to be set by the State Coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities. It is not improbable that ultimately that the program will be broadened to include tuition aid to all who prefer to attend fully accredited private colleges and universities.

At first blush this may seem a formidable goal, but by making this applicable to all (state and private with a certain basic deduction), the state could, by raising its tuition rates, be recapturing a good part of the tuition aid paid to students attending state schools. In other words, their position would not be materially different than it is now, but the student attending private schools would be helped substantially.

But what is the justification for this? Simply that by helping the student preferring the private college, the state will be relieving itself of a vastly more expensive burden of carrying the full cost of educating that student. It would be much like the current junior college and the senior college ratio whereby the state can educate students the first two years in a junior college at about 40 per cent of what it costs the state to educate them in a state-supported senior college. The hard fact is that ultimately, if there is not financial aid forthcoming, the private colleges one by one will founder and close or turn their assets and facilities over to the state, which will find itself picking up the entire tab.

Idea With Possibilities

Now that summer is here, there seems to be no surcease from the parade of special weeks. Thus, we propose an additional one — National Respite Week.

This could be an occasion for observing no weeks. The idea has unlimited possibilities. Why not observe a moratorium on meetings in general. And come to think of it, why not take off the summer. The more we think of it, the better it gets.

The Red Gestures

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON — Ever notice how we stumble over ourselves when a phony smile or a limp handshake is offered from our foes? The least gesture from Chou En-lai of Red China or Soviet boss Leonid Brezhnev seems to set us off as if we were going down the trail to meet the returning Prodigal Son.

Of one thing we can be certain — the Communists' leaders are nobody's fools. Unfortunately, they may be getting us in the position of being exactly that. They may have us sized up better than we have ourselves.

THEY SEE diminishing American power and influence in Asia gaining momentum by the day, week and month. In addition to the withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam, Thailand, Korea, Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines, they see the abandonment of interest in the affairs of that part of the world.

They observe the increased pressures in this country for a similar retreat from Western Europe. They are well aware of the moves in the United States Congress to immediately end the war in Vietnam without conditions attached, to abolish the draft, to limit the war powers of the President, to cut off money for defense preparedness and otherwise withdraw into isolationism.

THEY KNOW the implication of America's retrenchments. With Great Britain out of the Far East and Japan limited in military capabilities by WW II treaty, there would be little to stand in Red China's way.

If the U.S. departs Western Europe, NATO would likely dismantle itself. Given time there is serious doubt the nations outside the Iron Curtain would maintain a collective strength to counter Russia.

IN ONE WAY or another, the countries of the free world have long looked to the United States for assurances. If and when their confidence of reliance is shaken, they likely will adjust themselves to a new reality and make the necessary accommodations with the power existing in their part of the world.

So, it should not be surprising that the leaders in Red China and Moscow are coming up front and center, with what appears to be conciliation, even if it's only a Ping-pong match or a vague Russian promise not to point any more missiles at us than is necessary to destroy us.

CHOU EN-LAI, with a kindly smile over the Ping-pong table may well have Communist China on its way into the United Nations without even subscribing to its charter of purpose.

Soviet Boss Brezhnev appears willing to negotiate a "balanced and mutual reduction" of forces in Central Europe. He advances support of limiting strategic nuclear weapons, but proposes no reduction in capabilities, superior in some respects to that of our own.

IT IS NOT a matter of being the world's policeman or of supporting every government around the globe. We've done too much to that — and, incidentally, with the support and gung-hoism to this policy by most of those who now would have us fold our hands in pious good hopes and do nothing. Rather it concerns what is best for the safety and protection of our future. If we, as a nation, allow our disillusionment, disappointments and discouragement with events in Southeast Asia, to break apart U.S. Military alliances in Europe — to let our national defenses deteriorate — then the price and tragedy of Vietnam is many times multiplied.

In these matters it can be well assumed that the Chinese and Russian leaders know how to appraise this world situation, both long and short range. The awful question is, do we?

Candidates Busy

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Nearly a dozen Democrats are being mentioned as prospects for the presidential nomination in 1972, and several of them are already working within various states to line up delegate support at the national convention which is more than a year away.

THE BIG question is how much do the people really know about any of the would-be candidates? They read their speeches and are familiar with their views on some of the controversial subjects of the day. When it comes to their qualifications to serve in the highest office in the land, however, there is not much evidence from past experience of how much the presidential aspirants know about directing such a huge apparatus as the executive branch of the government. There is no one in the group who has had the experience with White House affairs that Hubert Humphrey obtained in his four years as Vice President.

MR. HUMPHREY is not as spectacular as some of the other candidates, but he is certainly more restrained and cautious in his statements generally than are his competitors. He managed in the 1968 election to gather 43 per cent of the vote while his opponent, Richard Nixon, got 43.5 per cent. George Wallace of Alabama obtained 13.5 per cent, and nobody knows how much of this was derived from the Democratic and how much from the Republican side. Certainly a large portion of it came from the South.

Mr. Humphrey's standing with the electorate is, therefore, something that cannot be brushed aside as inconsequential.

THE DEMOCRATIC party is, of course, not united. It is torn apart by "left-wingers" who are advocates of the extreme measures which some of the would-be candidates in the field have championed. But the Democratic organizations in the various states are not going to become identified too much with radicalism. For one thing, the money for the expensive campaign that is bound to be needed in 1972 is not going to come from people who favor radical viewpoints. Money-raising will depend to a large extent on the kind of platform and the nature of the nominee who is chosen at the convention.

THE OUTCOME of the election itself will depend on the economic conditions that prevail in America during the summer of 1972. For if substantial recovery has not been achieved, the Republicans will be blamed for the unemployment and the failure of the wheels of business to turn more rapidly.

THE ELECTORATE has been taught to believe that an administration can bring "prosperity" and, conversely, that the elected officials in the national government are responsible if times are bad. An incumbent president has a hard time winning re-election when an economic recession is under way. It is expected that the Vietnam war issue will have been cleared up by next summer, but unemployment and a lack of expansion in industry could be the main complaint against the party in power and a strong issue working for the Democrats.

If, on the other hand, "prosperity" is well on the way back and inflation has been curbed, Mr. Nixon will get the benefit of the "pocketbook" issues.

STRANGE LAND OF LILLIPUT

Rail Industry's Proposals

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The two major problems of railroads are regulation and money. The first, though not unique, has a peculiar application to railroads. The second is common to all industries in very serious trouble.

The first problem, as seen by the industry, is in order to abandon unwanted, parallel lines, a railroad must petition the Interstate Commerce Commission and the state public utilities commission, a process that can consume six to eight years.

Even to lower fares, a rare occurrence, as much as three years is needed. Less regulated competitors, such as trucks, can lower rates immediately and take away business.

Furthermore, the government heavily subsidizes the routes on which the truck, barge and air-freight operators move their cargo.

The second problem: Because the railroads are unprofitable, they are forced into greater unprofitability. That is, since they seldom can borrow at prime rates they cannot fix their equipment to operate at maximum efficiency.

This cycle is having inevitable consequences. The rate of return on investment dropped to 1.76 per cent last year, the third lowest in 50 years and the worst since 1938. Four lines are bankrupt, a dozen more close to it.

These are among the arguments presented in Washington these days by representatives of the industry, once powerful and arrogant, now weakened, frustrated and fearful of its life.

"We ought to stop subsidies for all transportation modes," said George Smathers, the former U.S. senator from Florida, and now general counsel for "America's Sound Transportation Review Organization," Acronymed ASTRO.

But Smathers qualified his statement. "It ought to stop," he said, "but if the taxpayer is going to slide him into to subsidize airlines, trucks and barges, why not do something for the railroads?"

Such a fund the railroads could use in order to upgrade their roadbeds and terminals. "The maximum package needed to bring them up to par would be $500 million a year for 10 years."

As subsidy? "Some would be repaid. Some of it would be in the form of a subsidy. It ought to be stopped when it is evident the railroads can make a profit."

Regulations. "We don't advocate total deregulation. But we want to be able to raise rates up to 6 per cent a year, which then could be turned back after ICC hearings."

Smathers also advocates legislation that would permit lines to quickly lower rates to meet competition, but no so low as to be low cost.

Hal Boyle

Highest Paid Athlete?

By FENTON WHEELER (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

MADRID (AP) — His publicity man calls him the highest paid athlete in the world. His critics call him a disgrace. Palace insiders call him Gen. Francisco Franco's favorite bullfighter. And the impresarios call him money in the bank.

Whatever the reaction, adulation or hatred, Manuel Benitez Perez, 35, professionally "El Cordobes," stacks up as a genuine phenomenon in the cynical, cruel and complicated world of bullfighting.

He is part boy, part killer, part clown; a mixture of the old and the new in Spain, the Muhammad Ali of the bull ring, a success-story without an end and the No. 1 tourist attraction in a country where tourists will soon outnumber the residents.

He also is the No. 1 bullfighter in the world, an unofficial title he intends to scatter around as much as possible on June 13 by appearing in the first closed circuit telecast by satellite from Spain.

On that date, a Sunday, El Cordobes will join two other Spanish matadors in the small southern town of Jaen to fight and kill six bulls in bloody living and dying color.

"I am not going to have bad luck," says El Cordobes as a handler raises him off the floor to slide him into his skintight bullfight pants.

That is the hope, too, of Management Television Systems Inc., promoters of the Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali fight. The organization says El Cordobes and the "national fiesta" of Spain will be beamed into 52 U.S. cities, Japan, Italy, West Germany and much of Latin America.

Like the Frazier-Ali heavyweight title bout, El Cordobes' encounter is being billed as "the bullfight of the century." It hardly will be that. Several "bullfights of the century" have preceded El Cordobes.

Great matadors like Manolete of Joselito made bullfight history in the surest way a bullfighter can — by dying on the horns of the bull. El Cordobes seems unlikely to do that and fans of the classic performer shudder at the suggestion of putting mop-haired, unconventional El Cordobes in that category even if he were to die in action.

A full-fledged matador for seven seasons now, El Cordobes has risen literally from rags to riches, earns more than $1 million annually, has piled up other millions of pesetas, a ranch, a hotel, an airplane a fleet of flashy cars and a reputation with women.

He has fought and killed hundreds of bulls, been gored seriously a half dozen times, protected by police after a bad showing and prosecuted and fined for not fighting when he was supposed to.

Pitching Pennies

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another: Mike Royko, the acid columnist for the Chicago Daily News, suggests that pitching pennies has to be the world's greatest sport and, for that reason, is organizing a Penny Pitching Open Championship tournament in his community. The idea may spread.

ROYKO strongly recommends penny pitching because it, in no sense, builds character — football and boxing build character, he points out; and look at the scandals those sports have had. Character-building athletic endeavors, he adds, cause injuries to the players or make them punchy. About the only injury in the history of penny pitching occurred, Royko recalls, when one of his friends accidentally stepped on his own thumb while he was picking up his coin.

WHEN A CRITIC admonished Royko for not recommending that people do something constructive, Mike replied that the ambition to do something constructive leads to most of mankind's problems. Nobody has ever declared war from a hammock.

Answering the charges that penny pitching interests only bums and street toughs, Royko said it was a cruel stereotype. Had such a charge been made against the type he pitched pennies with, he pointed out, most would have been so offended they would have stomped the accuser and taken his wallet.

PITCHING PENNIES, Royko

contended, is one of the few activities that has been unaffected by inflation because there is no expense involved, unless there is betting on the side.

Is pitching pennies a safe sport, Mike was asked. Proof of this is the fact that Vice President Spiro Agnew never hit anybody in the head with a penny.

Royko said the tournament winners might even go to Red China. If an invitation wasn't forthcoming, he allowed as how the participants might send out for egg roll and choy-suey.

I ASK YOU now, if your friends brought back all your books, where would you put them?

Chances are you'd have to buy another bookshelf, and your wife says the family scatter is too cluttered, as it is.

Of course, you might create the room by returning all the books you borrowed.

I HAD IT explained to me one time but I'm still not sure I understand it.

Fire engines are always red. Why? Well, to begin with they have four wheels and eight men. Four and eight are 12. Twelve inches make a foot. A foot is a ruler. Queen Elizabeth is a ruler. The Queen Elizabeth is (or was) the largest ship that sails the seven seas. Seas have fish. Fish have fins. The Finns fight the Russians. The Russians are Red. Fire engines are always rushin'. Therefore, fire engines are always red.

Next question.

High Society

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Recent events in the capital's salons and saloons have engendered a widespread feeling that Washington's social life shortly may be recognized as every bit as exciting and soigne as that of Broken Leg, Utah.

THE SOCIETY PAGES are crammed with reports of yummy activities, from J. Edgar Hoover's display of boyish animal spirits at an American Newspaper Women's Club soiree to the mob scene put on by the Beautiful People at the Kennedy Center's preview gala. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Martha Mitchell and Ethel Kennedy are everywhere at once. There are even observers who murmur that some of these boozefests auger well for a revival of the art of duelling.

Indeed, Atty. Gen. John Mitchell all but called out AP reporter Janet Staihar — when, at the newshens' drinking, she asked Hoover if he had any retirement plans.

"YOU'RE SO FAR off base, I'm going to belt you one," said Mitchell menacingly. The Attorney General explained almost immediately he meant he'd pour Miss Staihar a drink, but a bystander thought it prudent to hold Mitchell's arm.

Otherwise, the evening was marked by J. Edgar's display of virtually non-stop repartee. Society writers reported breathlessly that he declared "Excellent, excellent!" after taking his first sip of Jack Daniel's Black Label, which is not a trade name for orange juice. He also remarked that "I stay up waiting" for a midnight phone call from Mrs. Mitchell, and — referring to a cartoon showing him in a dictator's robe — explained "We emperors do have our problems; my Roman toga was not returned from the cleaners."

A DEMOCRATIC SPY, said to be close to Sen. George McGovern, went about whispering into guests' ears that an FBI agent had worked all the night before thinking up spontaneous witticisms for his boss. But this had a ring of sour grapes. Jack Daniel's can make a Bob Hope even of a cop, and besides Hoover's best lines were pure Hoover.

FOR EXAMPLE, he used one of his favorite words in describing some critical columnists as "jackals." He also called them "scavengers." Non-partisans were quick to recall that one of Hoover's trademarks is his use over the years of the kind of horse-whipping language employed in olden times by Southern politicians in encounters with unfriendly newspaper editors.

It was even more fun at the Kennedy Center gala, where the VIPs paid $100 a body to see and be seen. (Nobody could be heard over the din after the first 30 minutes.) Mrs. Pat Kennedy Lawford was accused of snubbing Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, and vice versa. A male tried to take a punch at Mrs. Mitchell.

ADMITTEDLY, one week does not a season of Roman orgies make, and most Washington parties are still mostly enlivened by remarks on the weather by a third assistant attaché at the Ivory Coast Embassy to the wife of a realtor from Duluth. But the signs are there for the cognoscenti to ponder. If J. Edgar Hoover can live it up in black tie, the time may not be far off when Henry Kissinger (today's BEST BET) will be discovered gulping champagne from some chateau's slipper.

My Answer

Billy Graham

The Bible says: "Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate." Does this mean that we are to avoid people who do not know Christ?

F.M. The Scripture you refer to is found in 11 Corinthians 6:17. But, in no way does it mean that we are to "highhat" the unsaved, draw our righteous robes around us, and avoid the lost. In the 13th verse of the same chapter, Paul says, "Be not unequally yoked together with unbelievers." Some interpret this to mean that we are not to mingle socially with non-Christians, but I do not believe that the Bible teaches a "holier-than-thou" attitude. Jesus himself dined with publicans and sinners, but He did not compromise His convictions. He mingled with them in a helpful, redemptive way. To win the lost we must go where they are. Jesus even said, "Make ye friends with the unrighteous mammon." When Paul used the words, "Be not unequally yoked together," he meant that we are not to become saturated, or tied to the spirit of unbelief which is found in unbelievers. But nowhere in the Scriptures are we forbidden to mingle with those who do not believe. In fact, one of the weaknesses of the church today is that we confine it to four walls on Sunday morning, and fail to make an impact upon our friends, neighbors and acquaintances. When Jesus said, "Go ye unto all the world," He meant that we were to share His love and good news with those who are in darkness.

A Devotion For Today

"Our Father who art in heaven . . ." (Matthew 6:9, RSV)
 PRAYER: O God, help us love others even as Christ loved, May we live together as brothers in mutual acceptance. In Jesus' name. Amen.

It's Her Business

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter (I'll call her Cindy) has just graduated from high school, and for years she has been waiting until this summer to get her nose fixed. Everybody says Cindy would be a beautiful girl if it weren't for her nose, which has a large bump on it.

The other day Cindy's best friend was over and I heard the two talking. This friend, who is a natural beauty, was telling Cindy that the "natural" look was always best, and nobody liked "phony" people who tried to be something they weren't, so Cindy would be making a big mistake to get her nose fixed.

Later, I told Cindy I heard the conversation and I tried my best to convince her that there was nothing "phony" about improving one's appearance. Cindy became very defensive about her nose and her friend, so I just gave up.

Now Cindy doesn't want to have her nose fixed. How should this be handled? CINDY'S MOM

DEAR MOM: Keep your nose out of it. What Cindy's friend is trying to accomplish is as plain as the nose on Cindy's face. And unless all Cindy's brains are in her nose, she will realize that her girl friend doesn't want any competition. And so far, the natural beauty is ahead — by a nose.

DEAR ABBY: This is something that has been bothering me for a long time. My daughter's boy friend came home on leave. They stopped to see me for an hour, then they and her sisters and her brothers and their wives went to a nice restaurant and had dinner. I wasn't invited along. I mentioned this to another daughter, and she said they didn't want "old" people along.

I'm not that old, and I have nice clothes and have my hair fixed. I don't expect to go along everywhere or too often, but I think I could be asked when it's only for dinner with my own children. I am a widow.

I had them all for Christmas dinner, and on New Year's they all went out to dinner and left me home.

Am I wrong for thinking I should be included in these family get-togethers?

HURT FEELINGS

DEAR HURT: No. And now that one of your daughters knows how you feel I hope your feelings will never be hurt this way again. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: I heard a good one the other day and would like to share it with you: A hippie couple were walking down the street. They both had long hair and were dressed in typical hippie attire, complete with beads, sandals and Indian headbands.

"The fellow said to the girl: 'I'm going over and pick up my unemployment check. Then I'll drop in at the university to see what's holding up my check for my federal education grant. After that I'll pick up our food stamps. Meanwhile, you go over to the free clinic and check your tests, pick up my new glasses at the health center, then go to the welfare department and apply for a nother increase on our eligibility limit.'

"Then I'll meet you at 3 o'clock at the federal building for the mass demonstration against the rotten Establishment."

OVER THIRTY

DEAR OVER: Thanks for sharing. And now I'll share it with a couple million of my dearest friends.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Can't Drink Milk

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son suffered stomach pains and loose runny stools. Tests and X-rays showed nothing. Out of sheer desperation I took him off milk. He immediately improved.

Later I tried him on half milk, half water, but this made him ill. The same with skimmed, powdered, or 2 per cent milk.

What should I give him to supplement the milk? He has eaten cheese until it is running out his ears.—Mrs. S.F.

Poor kid! But some youngsters just can't tolerate milk, and you have to find other ways of giving them what they need. This, fortunately, can be done.

Cheese is a good source of two of the valuable items in milk, protein and calcium, but enough cheese is enough cheese, no doubt.

Soy bean milk or products made with it is a pretty good substitute when there's an intolerance to cow's milk. Soy beans contain a good deal of calcium, although not as much as in cow's milk. Still, he gets calcium from other foods: cereals, fruits, vegetables. Usually milk substitutes also have calcium added. If necessary, your physician can recommend calcium preparations that can be taken by mouth.

The other ingredients of milk can also be made up from other foods, but the calcium is the big item.

You've been very logical in giving him cheese, but don't push the cheese so rigorously that he can't stand the sight of it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please clear up a question for me. Food experts advocate drinking milk, and they emphasize calcium and protein.

Most vitamins are destroyed with heat, so what happens when milk is pasteurized? I was told that the protein is still there but there was no mention of calcium—E.R.

The calcium and protein both remain in full quantity.

As to vitamins, I wouldn't say that "most" are destroyed by heat. Some are; some aren't affected.

The principal vitamins in milk are some of the B group, C, A, and D.

True, the heat destroys vitamin C, but that is readily available from citrus fruit or juice, tomato juice, and other fruits and vegetables, and milk just isn't a significant source of C.

The B vitamins, present only in small amount, aren't affected.

The A and D vitamins in milk are lost not from pasteurization but from being removed — if you are drinking skim milk or 2 per cent milk. Much of the cream (the fat) has been removed, and that was where the A and D vitamins lodged.

Therefore a skim or 2 per cent milk, 400 units of vitamin D are added per quart. And as for vitamin A, other fats in the diet (plus yellow vegetables) provide ample amounts for all of us unless we have some need for extra quantities. That can be given in capsule form if need be.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart." Enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Nixonites Open Campaign To Save Lockheed Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — On a collision course with congressmen who accuse it of undermining free enterprise, the Nixon administration is opening its campaign to convince the Senate to save Lockheed Aircraft Corp. from bankruptcy.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., widely credited for persuading the Senate to end federal subsidies for a supersonic transport plane, is leading opposition to the Lockheed aid plan. He contends it is "bad economics, bad public policy," and, if it sets a precedent for the administration's plan to grant the aerospace giant a $25-million loan guarantee.

BAD NEWS
 Sens. Lowell Weicker Jr., R-Conn., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, contend such federal aid would be a repudiation of the free-enterprise system.

El Paso Sheriff Leads Attack On Metro System

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — A group of West Texas county officers, headed by El Paso Sheriff Mike Sullivan, has begun an organization aimed at stopping unification of city and county governments under a proposed metro system.

four regions, with the 16-county West Texas segment organized last week. An organization meeting will be held in Dallas for that area June 12.

Owens told those meeting here that the solution would be to work for stronger county governments. He called the metro plan a dictator type.

Mariner Zips Toward Mars

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 9 cruised smoothly toward Mars today as scientists decided whether to give the spacecraft another gentle course correction.

The correction would be a short burst from the craft's small rocket engine to fine-tune the space ship's course to Mars.

A 51-second rocket firing Friday lined up Mariner with the red planet. A spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, which is controlling the flight, said scientists were checking Mariner's trajectory to determine if another maneuver is needed to insure the craft swings into orbit around Mars.

The APHA said Sunday that the short wool coats, which sell for about $35, contain 7.5 percent asbestos. The asbestos content is listed on the label.

Asbestos fibers in the coat allegedly may enter the lungs of the wearer, where they remain. High rates of lung cancer have been noted among men working with asbestos over long periods of time.

Plane Dive Kills Family Of Five

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — A Colorado couple and their three children were killed Saturday when their light plane apparently broke up while in flight and crashed into a farm field.

The dead were identified as Joseph W. Leeseberg, 33, the pilot, of Colorado Springs, Colo., his wife, Mary Anetta, 32, and their children, Joseph W., 8, Christine M., 7, and Michele Ann, 3.

Here's One Way

LONDON (AP) — The best way to reduce Britain's population growth is to expand women's educational and employment opportunities, says a labor party research report.

"Once women can achieve satisfaction and status outside the home equally with men, many women who are temperamentally inclined to be childless will feel less pressure to have children," said the report.

'New' Val Doonican Show Stereotyped

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Val Doonican Show" on ABC used the old basic recipe for summer variety shows in its premiere: Take a couple of guests, a lot of light music, a bit of dancing, stir well with informal chatter and add a comedy spot.

The result Saturday night was a bland 60 minutes, so stereotyped in outline that it blended in familiar television scenery as if deliberately camouflaged.

Asbestos Coats Warning Voiced

NEW YORK (AP) — The government has ignored warnings that asbestos in 100,000 to 200,000 women's coats poses a health hazard, the American Public Health Association says.

The APHA said Sunday that the short wool coats, which sell for about $35, contain 7.5 percent asbestos. The asbestos content is listed on the label.
