Germans And Austrians At Geneva Weaken On Proposed Customs Union Plan

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The first cutting of alfalfa is now being harvested in Southwestern Oklahoma and in Northwest Texas. The acreage in this crop in Wichita and Wilbarger counties in Texas and in Tillman county, Oklahoma, is much larger than many people know and the first cutting is making a big yield.

By the time the first cutting of alfalfa is out of the way wheat harvest will start and the prospect now is for the biggest wheat yield in this part of the Southwest. The wheat harvest is expected to get under way in about 15 days and at least 60 days will be required to get the wheat cut and threshed.

The wheat harvest will bring to an end the unemployment situation in these parts, for not only will the unemployed local labor be absorbed, but it is probably some labor from the outside will be required.

It begins to look like the period of depression might be ended by the farmer with his bountiful crops this season. The farmer certainly had nothing to do with starting this depression and he ought to be given credit if he starts a revival of business and trade.

Factories may close, transportation lag, trade slacken, finance be depressed, but the farmer keeps at work in his farm factory throughout good times and bad, whether there are markets or not, whether trade is good or bad, and whether he can obtain credit to finance his little factory or not. Lack of finance may handicap the farmer, but it never stops him.

This season's wheat crop is being grown with very little credit or financing and is probably being produced with less money outlay than any crop harvested in a number of years. It is true that the prospect is for a low price, but nevertheless the harvest will employ thousands of laborers and because of economical production the farmer will have a little money left.

In this period of depression the farms of the country have absorbed millions of unemployed from the cities, and if these millions have not found an eight-hour day, a five-day week and high wages in the country they have at least found a haven and have avoided starvation.

James V. Allred, attorney general of Texas, tells home folks in Wichita Falls that lobbies more subtle and powerful than in any state capital in the union wield powerful influence at Austin not only with the legislature, but with departments of the state government. He said that these lobbies must be met and coped with.

All observers know that powerful lobbies flourish at the Texas capital, and that they have more influence than duly elected officials and representatives of the state government. Here and there a voice has been raised against the lobbyists, but these have been as voices in the wilderness. There is resentment in many quarters against these lobbies. Some day this resentment will be consolidated into a tide that will sweep the lobbies out of the state capital.

Not all the lobbies at Austin are maintained by organizations of capital. Mr. Allred did not name any of the lobbies in his talk here. We are told, however, that one of the most powerful lobbies in Austin is that maintained by educational associations.

Wichita Falls is sending a delegation of 150 on a special train to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Lubbock. This is the largest delegation ever sent by Wichita Falls to a convention of the West Texas organization. Wichita Falls is of and for West Texas, and it is fitting and proper that it have one of the largest, if not the largest, delegations at this convention.

OUTBREAK FEARED

AN AMERICAN WONDER OF THE WORLD

THROUGH Japan, Iceland, South America and the Malay Archipelago boast of geysers, the most wonderful and picturesque are found in Yellowstone park. On Firehole river there are about 50 geysers throwing columns of water to a height from 50 to 200 feet, while smaller jets rise occasionally to 250 feet. The famous "Old Faithful" geyser throws columns of water six feet in diameter to a height of 150 feet at intervals of one hour. OPPONENTS OF SCHEME FORCE 'ABOUT FACE'

Chancellor Schober Says 'Way Out' of Tangle Will Be Found

REPROACH IS MADE

German and Austrian Delegations Meet Rebuff From England

By KARL H. VON WEIGAND

GENEVA, May 14. (US)—The German and Austrian delegations to the Pan-Europe meetings which begin here tomorrow are under such a barrage of fire from opponents of the Austro-German customs union scheme that something that looks like a white flag is already materializing out of the smoke of battle.

With the Austro-German pact charged with having "Wilsonized" Foreign Minister Briand of France, and with torpedoing the Anglo-Franco-Italian naval pact and laid a mine under the February disarmament conference, the blame for the blow-up of which both Germany and Austria have to carry, tonight brought indications that Austria is weakening.

Schober Depressed

Vice-Chancellor Johann Schober of Austria, head of the delegation, appeared very depressed tonight as he exclaimed to Universal Service:

"We do not want to die in Austria; that's why we made the pact.

"The crash of the Austrian Credit bank, the enormous losses of which were somewhat lessened by the government's springing to its rescue, is but a lightning flash that illuminates conditions in Austria.

"It was no longer endurable for Austria to come to Geneva again and again, with nothing happening but talk. Everything seemed so hopeless here that we resolved to do something. Now, we find almost a solid front against us, with Germany and Austria seeking a practical way to help each other, since other nations will not help us.

"We are pictured as two arch criminals. But we don't want to upset things at Geneva, and I think some way out will be found."

The "way out" appears to be the submitting of the customs union, together with the new French plan of preferential tariffs for agrarian countries with French credits, to a committee to study both schemes to see if they can be brought into unison.

The German and Austrian delegations met a storm of reproach on their arrival today. Foreign Minister Curtius of Germany arrived at noon and lunched immediately with Chancellor Schober. Schober afterwards called on Foreign Secretary Henderson of Great Britain. The British chief talked strongly and plainly to the Austrian delegate, who returned to his quarters looking very crushed.

There was no meeting of Curtius and Henderson today, since Curtius is startled that the British foreign secretary should have led the fight against them.

The organization will be in convention in Chicago, but President Hoover will talk from his study in the White House over a nation-wide network.

Broadway Mourns

David Belasco, dean of the American stage, died in his hotel suite at New York Thursday at the age of 76.

DEATH CLAIMS DAVID BELASCO

White Haired Dean of Stage Succumbs at 76

By DEMING SEYMOUR

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)—David Belasco died today, ripe with the labors by which for more than 50 years he helped to shape the course of the American stage.

Two months short of his 77th birthday the little grey dean of Broadway succumbed to a heart attack in the hotel suite which had been his solitary home many years. At his bedside were his only child Reina (Mrs. Morris Gest) and his two physicians.

Several months ago an attack of pneumonia caused him to be brought home, seriously ill, from Atlantic City where he was trying out a new play. It was feared he was fatally stricken then, and he missed the Broadway opening of his play—the first he had failed to attend.

Returned to Studio

But he recovered, returned to his studio 73 steps above the sidewalks of Forty-fourth street, and had been active again until this morning. Even until a few minutes before his death at 4:15 p. m. his chance of recovery seemed good and he kept within an arm's reach of the heap of plays from which he hoped to select two or three for production this fall.

The career he chose as a lad of 14, when he wrote and produced "The Regulator's Revenge," he pursued without abating to the last day of his life—and the career outlived its creator, for his 400th-odd and last production, "Tonight or Never," is a current Broadway hit.

Hit Broadway in '70's

Of Portuguese-Jewish parentage, Belasco came to Broadway in the later '70's. A sallow, bashful lad, he was sure of himself and his greatness and fired with a passion for the theater.

Atune with the tempo of that florid and melodramatic day he had not long to wait before New York paid heed to his work. In the decades that followed he became a starmaker and a pace-setter in the theater. He made a star of Mrs. Leslie Carter in "The Heart of Maryland" and "Zaza." His "Darling of the Gods" made Blanche Bates famous; David Warfield was to follow in "The Music Master," and Ina Claire, Fay Bainter, Lenore Ulric, Holbrook Blinn, Wil-

Classes at the university were suspended until Monday and Mayor Tom Bush had asked all Waco business houses to close during the time set apart for the funeral services, in respect to the man who for 29 years was head of the oldest higher learning institution in Texas. Every activity on the campus ceased.

Neff to Preside

Former Gov. Pat M. Neff, who had remained at his friend's bedside to clasp his hand until death came, was requested by the family to preside at the funeral, both because of his official capacity as president of the board of trustees and as the late president's most intimate friend. The body will lie in state in Waco hall, with men from the senior class serving as a guard of honor.

Dr. J. M. Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which Dr. Brooks was a member, will deliver the principal address at the funeral; Dr. J. B. Tidwell, chairman of the Baylor Bible school, will offer a prayer; and Miss Roxy Grove, chairman of the school of music, will direct a brief musical tribute.

Truett Unable to Come

It was announced late today that Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas, would not be able to reach Waco from Birmingham, Ala., where he was attending the Southern Baptist general convention, in time for the funeral. He had been asked to speak at the funeral.

Hundreds of messages of condolence poured into the Brooks home today from all parts of the country as friends of the university and of the Brooks family learned of the president's death.

Survivors include his widow, who prior to her marriage was Miss Mattie Sims of Cleburne, a daughter, Miss Aurelia Brooks, graduate student in Columbia university, New York; a son, Sims Brooks, Waco attorney; a brother, George A. Brooks, professor in the Texas School for Deaf Mutes at Austin; and a nephew, Floyd Miller, of Hinesville, Ga.

Active Pallbearers

Active pallbearers, chosen from the university faculty, included Dr. A. J. Armstrong, Dr. T. D. Brooks, Dr. F. Guittard, Dr. Henry Trantham, Prof J. W. Harrell, Dean Allen G. Flowers and Dr. J. E. Hawkins.

Dr. Brooks was born in Milledgeville, Ga., Dec. 4, 1863, the son of a Baptist minister. The family moved to Texas when the son was 5 years old and settled in Johnson county.

The father later became an invalid and Dr. Brooks provided the living for both by doing farm and railroad labor. It was not until he was 22 that he had gained a common school education. He taught school one year and entered the high school department of Baylor when he was 24. He was graduated with the A. B. degree in 1893, entering Yale where he took another degree in 1894. Returning to Texas, he was called to the history chair at Baylor after teaching school at McKinney for a time.

Re-Entered Yale

Later he re-entered Yale for his master's degree but was called to the presidency of his alma mater before completing his term and took over the duties at Baylor in 1902.

Under his leadership Baylor has become one of the largest educational institutions in the Southwest with the main campus at Waco and medical branches and a hospital at Dallas.

Dr. Brooks was active in promoting general education and was the moving spirit behind the organization of several important southern and southwestern educational organizations.

Dr. Brooks classified himself as a Democrat but was one of the thousands of Texans who supported Herbert Hoover in 1928. He was a leading Texas advocate of good roads and made many speeches in the state in the interest of highway bond issues.

In 1895 he was married to Miss Mattie Sims of Cleburne, a sweetheart from childhood.

WASHINGTON, May 14. (US)—Campaign expenses of candidates for national office would be paid from the U. S. treasury under an unusual plan advocated by Canon William Sheafe Chase today.

'Red'-Royalist Combine Blamed For Church Rioting in Spain

MADRID, May 14. (US)—Provisional President Niceto Alcala Zamora tonight told foreign newspaper men that the anti-clerical riots of the past three days were fomented by monarchists and Communists bent on destroying the month-old republic's peace and credit.

The president received the foreign correspondents as calm, assured by martial law in at least 11 cities, was restored throughout the country. It was his first interview since the outbreak of the riots three days ago.

Unofficial estimates today placed the total of religious institutions, burned to the ground, sacked, or damaged by fire at 65 and the property damage at more than 50,000,000. Hundreds of clerics, among them Cardinal Segura y Saenz, primate of Spain, fled the country to escape mob fury.

The president declared that the republic is now prepared to maintain order by force if necessary. He said: "It is likely that Alfonso was connected with the monarchist agitation," but declined to comment on yesterday's decree ordering all property of the ex-king seized, pending disposal by the courts to be elected in June. He also declined to elaborate on Attorney General Gallarza's announcement that the former monarch's extradition from France would be sought so that he could be tried for his alleged part in inspiring the disorders.

The outbreak of the riots, the president stated, was due to the "coincidence" that both archists and Communists began a simultaneous agitation against the republic.

C-C GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS AT LUBBOCK

Group Conferences Held In Three Divisions Of Chamber

HUNDREDS ARRIVE

Highway Chairman Tells Of Road Construction Work in Texas

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 14. (AP)—Opening formalities out of the way, the 13th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention settled down to business this afternoon in three group conferences that discussed progress and merits of the breeder-feeder movement launched two years ago, improvements of highways and parks in West Texas and the manufacture-at-home, buy-at-home creed now being taught by every chamber of commerce in Texas.

With hundreds pouring into the city from every highway and on every train the general attendance still might not have been as large as at former conventions, but the attendance at the group conferences was larger, in keeping with the business platform of the administration.

Breeder Conference

At the breeder-feeder conference, presided over by Frank P. Holland of Dallas, leader of the movement in the state, resolutions were adopted urging support of the national meat board program, education on quality meat selection, more experimental feeding work by colleges and the federal government, and a continuation of the policies now being followed by the West Texas chamber.

Chairman W. R. Ely of the Texas Highway commission addressed a group of men from the Panhandle, where the state's largest highway building program is under way, and told them that legislators had left the wrong impression with the people by describing the commission as an autocratic body.

Braswell Speaks

Other speakers included Sam M. Braswell, Clarendon, member of the state park board, and Victor L. Minter of Carlsbad, N. M., who told the conference that West Texas was deriving greater benefits from Carlsbad cavern than the people of New Mexico.

The group passed resolutions asking a continuation of the federal aid plan, federal designation of more West Texas highways, final passage of the $25,000 appropriation for the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum at Canyon, and endorsed a program for the restoration and preservation of old fort

CLERK HELD FOR FEE FRAUD

Veteran Gilmer Official Admits Forgeries

AUSTIN, May 14. (AP)—Claude Ray, veteran district clerk at Gilmer, was under five charges of forgery here tonight in connection with the state's sweeping investigation of forged witness fee certificates.

Charges were filed this afternoon after Ray had confessed to Bruce Bryant, first assistant attorney general. He admitted he had been forging witness fee certificates and making claims for fictitious case transcripts for three or four years or perhaps longer.

The five complaints alleged the forgery of certificates aggregating only $256 but Ray admitted false claims totaling considerably more than that amount. Ray confessed to forgeries this year aggregating $858, R. G. Waters, assistant attorney general, said. All the alleged forgeries charged in the complaints occurred this year. Bryant estimated the forgeries over the three or four years amounted to $2,000 or more. This was the third case of alleged forgeries uncovered and the other cases involved a considerably larger loss to the state. The other instances were in Dallas county and in a group of Etst Texas counties around Crockett. One man committed suicide and another was indicted on nine counts of forgery in connection with the Dallas county case. The alleged Crockett forger committed suicide.

In each of these cases the losses to the state were estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. State officials planned to continue their investigation, expressing the belief that other instances might be discovered. The discovery of Ray's alleged forgeries was made by the department of George Sheppard, state comptroller. Ray was arrested at Gilmer yesterday by Robert G. Goss, ranger, and Goss and Sheppard returned him to Austin early today.

250 Students Mix In Annual Fight At High School

Class loyalty reached a climax Thursday night when approximately 250 students of the high school junior and senior classes battled for "possession" of the school flagpole.

After several gang fights, the pugilistic members of the junior class succeeded in lowering the senior class colors, which had been up since Tuesday night.

According to information given late Thurday, this year's war was one of the most spectacular in the history of the school.

Several of the upper classmen were "taken for a ride" by the under-graduates and were dumped into Westmoreland swimming pool to cool off.

Senate Passes Bill to Allow Courts To Give Suspended Liquor Sentences

AUSTIN, May 14. (AP)—Voting 19 to 9 the senate late today passed the Weinert liquor law violators suspended sentence bill.

The bill would allow courts to grant suspended sentences to liquor law violators above the age of 25. The bill was passed by the house. Reported adversely, the bill was brought before the senate this week on a minority report. The senate ordered it printed.

It was the object of a scathing attack in the house and was characterized as "dripping wet."

All hope for passage of the Johnson delinquent tax collections bill were wiped out as the senate refused to reconsider the vote by which it voted down a motion yesterday to print the bill on minority report.

The delinquent tax bill would have eliminated the necessity of court action in making delinquent tax collections and allowed portions of properties to be sold to satisfy delinquent claims against them.

There was more talk about legislative halls about extending the session beyond May 22. Governor Sterling joined in, stating he believed the legislature should remain with its work another week after that date to deal with the redistricting and oil convervation bills. Both houses received reports from the truck control free conferees, but declined to take action on either of the bills. The bills were ordered printed in the journals to be brought up tomorrow for consideration.

GROUP BOARDS SPECIAL TRAIN FOR LUBBOCK

Band and Drum-Bugle Corps to Lead Parade On Arrival Today

GOOD WILL TOURNEY

Wichitans to Give Programs In Six Towns On Return Trip

Wichita Falls' delegation to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention was en route Thursday night to Lubbock.

Leaving here at 11 p. m., 150 of Wichita Falls' business men were aboard a special train which will arrive at Lubbock early Friday morning with the largest delegation at the convention.

The representation left here with the avowed purpose of letting West Texas know about Wichita Falls.

Only after strenuous efforts on the part of "Generalissimo" Albert E. Kelly and his committee was the Wichita Falls delegation raised to a sufficient number to make the trip by special train. Mr. Kelly announced Thursday night before departing for Lubbock that although he was tired, he was happy in the fact that Wichita Falls had succeeded in forming what will be the largest delegation at the meeting.

Parade Friday

The convention special will arrive in Lubbock Friday morning at 8 o'clock, at which time the delegation will leave the train, form into ranks and parade from the railway station through the streets of Lubbock. After breakfast, it was announced, the representation will register and participate in the various sessions and events of the convention.

At noon Friday, the 150 Wichitans, headed by Paul Seeds' Caballeros and 12 pieces of the American Legion drum and bugle corps, will again parade through Lubbock.

Friday night all will be on hand to "root" for Joe Witherspoon, Wichita Falls High school boy, who will compete in the preliminaries of the "My Home Town" oratorical contest. Young Witherspoon was the winner of the contest at the convention last year, and on the Lubbock trip he bore with him the Etheridge cup, which he was awarded as first prize in the 1930 contest. Finals in the "My Home Town" contest will be held Saturday morning, and if the Wichita Falls entry wins out in the Friday night preliminaries, Wichita Falls representatives will again be on hand to cheer for their home town contestant.

During most of the convention the delegates will be at liberty to choose from a variety of entertainment.

Many will attend the various dances to be held every night at Lubbock, and the Wichita group is expected to be on hand during the annual pageant in which young women, representing the various cities in West Texas, will compete for favor. Miss Dorothy Parker will be "Miss Wichita Falls" in the pageant.

Denver Officials Present

Both Miss Parker and Joe Witherspoon preceded the main delegation, leaving here Thursday morning in order to arrive at Lubbock in time for special events to be held there during the evening.

The special train, bearing the Wichita Falls representation, was said to be of the finest equipment afforded by the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad. Composed of eight coaches it was believed to be the largest special train that ever left Wichita Falls. Attached to the special was the private car of Gen. John A. Hulen, vice president of the Fort Worth & Denver, who accompanied the delegation as guest of honor. General Hulen was accompanied by F. D. Daggett, general passenger agent of the line.

O. M. Smith, general agent for the Fort Worth & Denver here, was in charge of the operation of the convention special.

The Hilton hotel will be headquarters for the delegation from

Wichita Falls Thanked

President Hines, the newspapers of the city, the chamber of commerce, the entertaining churches, and all those having a part in the program were thanked by the convention in the following resolution:

"Be it resolved:

"That Brother Harry Hines, as president of the convention and Brother Will Evans, as chairman of the program committee, with their coworkers, deserve praise and gratitude for their ceaseless efforts on behalf of this convention, which has been so fruitful.

"That the newspapers of the city be given special mention for their wholehearted cooperation and courtesy.

"That the chamber of commerce of Wichita Falls be recognized as a special contributing factor toward our attendance and accomplishments.

"That the entertaining churches accept our deep appreciation for their sincerity and lavish kindness for our entertainment and comfort.

"That all those appearing on the program be commended for the fine spirit and high order of their speeches and addresses, with special mention of our guest speakers for their great spiritual and intellectual contributions.

"That we register our gratitude for the musical feasts as lending effectiveness and charm to so great a convention in so great a state."

World Court Approved

A resolution relating to the entry of the United States into the world court, read, in part:

"We record our conviction that further delay of senate approval is seriously detrimental to the cause of world peace and prejudicial to the reputation of these United States for fair and sincere dealing with her fellow nations, and, therefore, we petition the members of the United States senate to cease further delay and to approve the protocols so that our country may lead instead of lag in the great enterprise of furthering world peace."

An emphatic resolution indorsing the 18th amendment was passed unanimously amid applause. The resolution reads:

"Whereas the church was the chief agency in writing the 18th amendment into the constitution of the United States:

"Whereas that previous to the adoption of the amendment the churches carried out a vigorous program of education which brought about its adoption, and

"Whereas that since the adoption of this amendment the churches have sadly neglected such educational program, we recommend:

"1. That the churches adopt a vigorous program of education on prohibition and its accomplishments. That mediums of education be provided through courses of study and articles in the brotherhood papers which will furnish actual facts concerning this vital issue. (Such courses are now available for young people.)

"2. That in all future political campaigns, local, county, state and nation, only dry candidates pledged openly to the enforcement of the liquor law be supported by the Christian citizenship.

"3. That the church members cooperate with the law enforcement bodies.

"4. That the churches give their hearty moral and financial support to the program of the Board of Temperance and Social Welfare, and urge upon all temperance and prohibition agencies a unified program of action.

"5. That we voice anew our faith and confidence in the 18th amendment as written in the constitution of the United States as being the best solution to the liquor problem yet evolved."

Upon the question of war the convention unanimously passed the following resolution:

"This convention affirms its conviction that war is contrary to the mind of Christ and inconsistent with His ideals of the kingdom of God. We recognize that permanent peace depends upon the development of peaceful methods of settling international misunderstandings and securing international justice. We believe that such institutions as the League of Nations, the Permanent Court of International Justice, the Kellogg pact for the renunciation of war, the London treaty and the proposed conference for the further limitation of arms exhibit genuine progress toward the substitution of peaceful methods for armed conflict. We believe that the obligations accepted by the various governments in signing the Kellogg pact for the renunciation of war should be regarded as solemn commitments, and that national policies should be shaped in the light of the obligations accepted."

Security of Workers

A resolution relating to the industrial depression and unemployment reads in part:

"We believe that employment should be stabilized so that the worker con be delivered from the fear of unemployment, and that the industry to which a worker has devoted his life should provide for his support beyond the years of his productivity."

The proposed budget of $25,000 for T. C. U. was adopted, and the 10-year program of $2,000,000 for new buildings and additional endowment was reaffirmed.

The new plan outlined for Texas missions was also adopted, as was the new plan for the creation of a Texas board of religious education.

A program of expansion for the Texas Woman's Christian Missionary society was adopted, and the bicentennial observance in 1932 of the birth of George Washington was indorsed.

B. D. Sartin presided at a temperance luncheon and open forum held Thursday at the Highland Heights church. Judge John Marrs, Judge Irvin J. Vogel and L. V. Abernathy, county attorney, attended and were introduced to the more than 300 persons attending. Dr. James A. Crain of Indianapolis, secretary of the board of temperance and social welfare, spoke.

The needs of Jarvis Christian college, negro school at Hawkins supported by the church, were presented by K. V. Lipscomb, vice president of the board of directors, Mrs. A. S. Latham and J. N. Erwin, president of the college. A mixed quartet for the college sang several numbers.

A short talk on "Benevolence," by the Rev. Graham Frank of Dallas, closed the afternoon program. The benediction was given by the Rev. Glen G. Clark, pastor of the Christian church at Burkburnett.

Offical registration for the convention passed the 900 mark Thursday, and President Hines estimated that there were at least 300 persons in attendance who did not register.

57 Counties Represented

Delegates from 57 counties of Texas, and from the states of Oklahoma, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan and California, gathered at the Wichita club at 6 o'clock Thursday evening for the pension fund banquet.

A. E. Corey, director of the pension fund, presided. Short talks were made by Harry Hines, Edgar DeWitt Jones, Mrs. R. H. Compton, Royal J. Dye, L. N. D. Wells, Stephen J. Corey, Graham Frank, Mrs. Bessie Hart, M. V. Lipscomb, H. T. Wood and Harry O. Pritchard.

"Prohibition is not a political question," declared Dr. James A. Crain in his address Thursday evening. "The church must demand that prohibition be removed from the realm of party politics and placed where Christian men and women, of whatever political faith, can support it properly.

He made the prediction that, "Any party which seeks to make political capital out of the opposition to prohibition is headed for destruction."

Stephen A. Corey of Indianapolis, Ind., spoke on the appeal of world missions.

"The old appeal was the horror that men should die without Christ. We have added to that the higher appeal of the horror that men should live without Christ," he said.

"The church without the mission-passion does not reproduce the spirit of Christ."

Pension Fund

Plans for raising Texas' apportionment of $598,645 in the $8,000,000 pension fund plan of the brotherhood were presented at a conference held Thursday morning. A. E. Corey, director of the pension fund, presided.

The raising of a permanent endowment fund, the furthering of evangelism and the putting into operation of pastoral unities were outlined as the three major lines of work for the Texas Christian Missionary society during 1931-32. Discussion of this three-fold plan took place at the state missions conference Thursday morning, led by Dean Colby D. Hall, Fort Worth.

"Thomas and Alexander Campbell, Pioneers of Christian Unity," was the title of an address by Dr. E. E. Snoddy which closed the Thursday morning session.

DEATH CLAIMS DAVID BELASCO

lard Mack and a score of other stars of plays no less famous.

Yet he was even prouder of his stagecraft than of his stars. He spent $25,000 a year on a laboratory to experiment with stage lighting, and he gave the stage many of its modern electrical refinements, including the "baby spot" which singled out a figure without flooding the stage with light.

Myriad Stories

The stories about him are myriad—how he spent thousands of dollars on some bauble which he needed to lend authenticity to a setting; how he read 12 manuscripts a night for weeks upon end, in search of a new play, then finally threw them all away and wrote one himself, dictating it to a stenographer at break-neck pace and acting it out in detail as he dictated.

He liked to surround his own life with the drama in which he dealt. His cleric's collar was part of his dramatization of himself—he wore it throughout his mature lifetime. He surrounded himself with soft lights in his theater studio, piled high and cluttered with rich relics of the plays he had produced—a lock of Napoleon's hair, a tile from the Alhambra, a ring that belonged to the Borgias.

Montague Pioneer Killed at Belton

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, May 14.—Oscar Holland, 62, Montague county pioneer and for years a leading business man here, was killed in Belton, Texas, Wednesday night, according to a message received here Thursday by his daughter, Mrs. Dick Keck. No details of the death were contained in the telegram. Relatives left at once for Waco to meet the body.

Mr. Holland, landowner and business man, left Montague county 12 years ago for Harlingen, where he has made his home since that time. Members of the Holland family have been significant figures in the development of the county for almost half a century. A daughter, Mrs. John Reeves, lives at Belcherville. A widow and eight children survive.

Mrs. Hoover Places Stone in Cathedral

MASHINGTON, May 14. (US)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover today placed the first stone in the north porch of the Washington cathedral at Mount St. Alban.

The ceremonies were witnessed by more than 1,000, assembled for the annual meeting of the National Cathedral association.

NEGRO HELD IN BURGLARY

A negro was arrested Thursday by city police in connection with the burglary several days ago of a furnished but unoccupied house on Tenth street. Luke Hart and O. A. Roberson, city detectives who arrested the man, said that the owner, the Bolton Furniture company knew nothing of the burglary until several rugs and vacuum cleaner attachments were returned.

JULIAN CASE RE-SCHEDULED

Hearing Continued for New Testimony

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 14. (UP)—The district court hearing to determine whether C. C. Julian, sole trustee of the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties company, a reputed $10,000,000 company, had any property was continued until May 20 this afternoon.

Continuance was granted by Lieut. Gov. Robert Burns, acting as special referee in the case, because H. D. Topp, bookkeeper for the Black Warrior Oil company, a Julian subsidiary, refused to testify without the Julian company's books.

The books could not be produced because they were held under orders of the district court which will hear a petition for receivership against the company Monday.

Lieut. Gov. Burns said that on May 20 he would advise Judge Sam Hooker of the proceedings and that a ruling on the application of John Salsberry, Los Angeles, a former associate of Julian, to attach Julian properties, may be made. Salsberry has obtained judgments totaling $191,000 against Julian in California.

Before the hearing closed, John Head, Julian attorney, testified that he had cashed a $10,000 check for Julian recently but did not know the amount of the oil man's bank account.

When W. M. Cady, a Julian associate, was called upon to testify, he could not be found in the courtroom. Attorneys said he had been in the city two days ago.

U. S. Takes Lead In Building Dirigibles

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP)—The decision of the British government to build no more huge dirigibles places the United States in the forefront as a sponsor of this type of aircraft.

The navy has one dirigible, the Akron, the largest of its type, nearing completion at Akron, Ohio. The last congress made an initial appropriation toward the construction of another, in addition to providing funds for an additional dirigible base to be located at Sunnyvale, Calif.

For some time there was a division of opinion among naval authorities as to the value and practicability of the dirigible in naval warfare and definite decision as to whether to build the second vessel is being held in abeyance pending the acceptance of the Akron atfer tests and trial flights. However, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, has urged the construction of the second ship.

BRITAIN SUSPENDS CRAFT CONSTRUCTION

LONDON, May 14. (AP)—The British government will build no more airships for the present, Ramsay MacDonald told the house of commons today, but the R-100 will be retained as a "sort of experimental ship."

The debate and the prime minister's statement was the first occasioned on which the house had discussed the nation's airship policy since the R-101 disaster. MacDonald prefaced his speech by saying that the catastrophe made it obvious that the policy must be reviewed.

He explained there were three alternatives—to go on building airships, to scrap everything, or to take the middle course by maintaining a scientific experimental interest in lighter than air craft without engaging in new construction.

DON'T GIVE UP; TEST KONJOLA!

Profit by the Experience of Those Who Know of the Worth of This Remarkable Medicine

No medicine ever made good by accident. Surely Konjola has proved its worth when it is a fact that seven million bottles were used in two years.

Would you see how Konjola works? Then read the statement of Mrs. Ella Cooper, 509 W. Richmond street, Fort Worth, who declares: "I had neuritis for 15 years, and for several months was helpless. My nerves were shattered and my stomach out of order. I became sick after meals. But almost immediately Konjola began to ease the pain. Today I have no neurities; my nerves are normal, kidneys are fine and I sleep well. Konjola certainly went to the spot. I can eat anything."

Mrs. Ella Cooper

And now read the grateful words of Mr. William Casey, 6600 Washington avenue, Houston: "For 15 years I had stomach trouble, with gas causing pain and heart palpitation. My kidneys were out of order, causing severe pains in my back, which kept me from my work. Then four bottles of Konjola did the work. Stomach and kidney troubles are gone, and I am better in every way."

Mr. William Casey

And see what Konjola did for Mrs. P. F. Cook, 309 Hagerman street, Houston. Read what she says: "I suffered for 15 years with rheumatism in my hips and legs. I was constipated and had dizzy spells, and bloated after meals. But two bottles of Konjola have greatly relieved the rheumatism, and I no longer have any of the other ills. Konjola surprised me; I did not expect such relief."

The same splendid story when Konjola is put to the test, even though other medicines tried have failed. Try Konjola . . . insist on it, and do not accept a substitute. Konjola is sold by all good drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

Galveston Wins Parity On Cotton Freight Rate

AUSTIN, May 14. (AP)—The railroad commission yesterday entered an order permitting Galveston and Texas City to receive the same rates as Houston on cotton shipped there from more than 100 miles from Houston.

The case had been pending for several years.

The commission today reduced from column 45 to column 42½ the rates on oil, water and gas well supplies and pig irons. This was a reduction of 2½ per cent of the first class rate.

Decision on an application for new rates on cotton linters was postponed.

New Round Table Conference Is Set

SIMLA, India, May 14. (AP)—Viceroy Lord Willingdon, responding to Ramsay MacDonald's request that he terminate the continuing uncertainty in Indian afafirs, today convened a miniature round table conference which provisionally agreed upon a date in November for the convening of the second round table conference on Indian affairs in London.

It is likely the federal structures commitete will meet in London some time in September, after the parliamentary recess. Several delegates warned the government today that delay in formulating final plans for the London conference would only aggravate the tension in India.

Southern Stephens County Highway Work Assures Comanche of Roads

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., May 14.—Southern Stephens county is the center of an extensive highway program which will make the city of Comanche one of the bright spots on the Oklahoma road map.

Workmen are putting down five miles of 20-foot concrete slab on Lee highway just east of Comanche, while work of completing a gravel project from the end of the strip being paved to the Carter county line is under way.

The graveling project begins at Walters and extends eastward over the unpaved portion of Lee highway to a point five miles east of the Stephens county line in Carter county. A two-inch coat of coarse gravel has been placed on the unpaved road east of Comanche. A coat of smaller gravel is now being placed on the road and the highway coated with oil.

The gravel road from the end of the payvement west of Comanche into Walters has been completed except for oiling. When the work in Cotton, Stephens and Carter counties is completed Walters will have an all-weather road to the Arkansas line.

When the projects are completed, Comanche will have more highway construction than any city in Southern Oklahoma, and will be outranked by only nine other cities in the state from that standpoint.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Mesquite in green leaf, poppies and larkspur abloom and the mocking birds singing themselves almost into nervous prostration. Birds seem greedy of the spring; I saw a scissorbill in Weeks park carrying a 24-inch long sheaf of grass.

◇ ◇ ◇

"Isn't it a lovely morning?" one heard on every side Thursday. And it is a good thing that people have eyes to see. The May Ladies' Home Journal had a page of sketches by Charles W. Simpson, R. C. A., that doubtless opened the eyes of some native-born Texans.

◇ ◇ ◇

One always dreams of the old Spanish town of San Antonio as a lovely place, but the mention of Dallas and Houston as spots that would entice a member of the Association of Royal Academicians, founded by Sir Joshua Reynolds, into immortalizing scenes in their midst, seems to the native-born busniess-minded person, astonishing.

◇ ◇ ◇

There's a metropolitan skyline of the Dallas business district with all the exquisite glow of coloring that one expects in Venetian scenes. Beauty right at hand is doubly valuable. And though the red bud in bloom at the Dallas Country club might make citizens exclaim, there are few of them who would see the magic in the dredges working where Dallas' new bridges are being built.

◇ ◇ ◇

Mr. Simpson might have painted one more masterpiece if he had come to Wichita Falls and had painted the Wichita Falls mill in the glow of evening light that makes it comparable to European castles. There is a lovely translucent light in the early morning and twilight evenings in Wichita Falls.

◇ ◇ ◇

It would be worth a trip to Houston to see with Mr. Simpson's eyes the entrance to the Rusk settlement house; the sketch makes one dream of colorful old Moorish buildings. And tall Lombardy poplars grace the vistas leading to Rice institute. Even the man-made deep-sea waterway to the gulf is one of man's and God's works of art.

◇ ◇ ◇

Masterlinck gave us the "blue bird of happiness." We fight for it all through life and so often it seems just ahead. And there are so many little happinesses that everyone could grasp. Beauty is one of them. Beauty is a moral and spiritual asset to the world.

◇ ◇ ◇

Wednesday a friend of mine asked if I ever wrote one of my columns on a subject suggested to me. I told him I did if it appealed to me—that suggestion was the parent of them all. He said he would like me to write one on people stealing flowers, and I found that someone had been taking plants from his old home, since his move into a new one.

◇ ◇ ◇

He had my sympathy. Stealing plants is vandalism—though it may be that someone just thought they were taking beauty that had been left to wither. But somehow, seeing a child take flowers—plucking them just from sheer love of beauty, has never seemed like stealing. There should be a comradeship in a love of blossoms—though I admit that even a child should be taught the laws of mine and thine.

Local Members Have National Altrusa Quiz

Miss Ida Catherine Walker had charge of the program in a meeting of the local Altrusa club at the home of Mrs. Edna Vogt on Ninth street Wednesday evening when the Altrusan motto of "Patriotism, Efficiency and service," was stressed in a splendid address by Miss Walker. Following her talk, the speaker gave a quiz arranged by the national Altrusa and answers when checked showed that Miss Eva Wallace, president of the local group, was high in correct answers and Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes second.

Information given in the talk stressed in the quiz was that Altrusa is the first organization of business and professional women and that there are more than 100 clubs. The national emblem and the national song with the colors of navy blue and white will be noted in usage at the national convention to meet this year at Coronado beach, San Diego, Calif. National headquarters are in Austin, Texas, where the president, Elizabeth Gardner lives, and the Altrusan magazine, edited and published in Phoenix, Ariz., goes to each member of each branch of the national organization.

The national service activity, "vocational guidance," has been much stressed in the current year in the local branch. Among well known members of Altrusa are Ernestine Schumann Heink and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, wife of the governor of New York.

In the social hour following the program, Mrs. Vogt served a delicious plate lunch, using spring flowers in pink and green for decorations and favors.

Members of the club present were Misses Mineola Harding, Ida Catherine Walker, Eva Wallace, Frances Brooks, Anna Belle Farquahar, Florence Watson, Mesdames Cathleen Nelms, Wayne J. Holmes, Fleta Woolsey Clark, Leslie Huffhines, F. Humphrey and Mrs. Vogt with three guests, Misses Zula McKay and Cleo Bowers and Mrs. Ed Bunnenberg.

Jackson Farmers Plant Cotton Crop

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., May 14.—Approximately 50 per cent of the cotton to be planted this season in Jackson county is expected to be placed in the ground this week.

Some planting was under way during the past week, but a very small per cent of the farmers entered their fields earlier than Monday, May 11.

Planting is under way this week on practically every farm in the county.

Acreage reduction is estimated at from 20 to 40 per cent, with most persons estimating a reduction of about 30 per cent. A part of the acreage reduction is due to the large amount of land planted in wheat and oats.

Diversified farming is being practiced to a larger extent in the county this year than for the past several years.

Perfume Is 'Soul' of All Flower Gardens, Says Bertha McKee Dobie

Vines, Trees and Flowers Can Furnish Fragrant and Distinctive Odors, Says Writer

By BERTHA M'KEE DOBIE

A garden without perfume is like a beautiful woman without soul: it attracts but does not enchant; its all lies open to a look. The attributes that make flowers pleasing are color, form, substance and fragrance. The rose is queen of flowers because it has all four in high degree. The camellia equals the rose in color and surpasses it in form and substance, but, wanting perfume, it can never take first place in the hearts of men; nor can the faint-scented orchid, though its form has interest as well as beauty and its colorings are fair like dreams. The iris, which in some of its modern varieties possesses delicacy of perfume, alone contests the crown. A disagreeable odor disqualifies a flower; the figurative phrase "in bad odor" has pith of meaning. Before the zinnia emerged from "bad odor" into popular esteem, its bad odor had to be bred out of it. At the time of his death Luther Burkbank was working with selective care to produce a zinnia that should have a really good smell. Had he lived to succeed, the zinnia would have ranked yet higher among flowers.

For Memories

Any sensory stimulus has the power to call up recollections, but only a smell can dissolve the present into the past, can recreate in the flash of a second both vanished scenes and sensations as fresh and vivid as they were long ago. I had not smelled rose geranium for years until one spring day at a house where I had gone to buy some snapdragon plants, I noticed a rose geranium in a pot. I recalled with mild pleasure that we always had one at home. Then I rubbed by finger on a leaf and smelled it. At once, transported more swiftly than Fortunatus, I stood, a little girl, in my mother's kitchen and watched her turn a sponge cake out of a pan and carefully remove a leaf. In the second's pause before I came back to the woman counting out snapdragons I seemed to taste again warm sponge cake flavored with rose geranium.

W. H. Hudson recounts a similar experience, which, with infinite variation of details, must be common to all. Time after time the evening primrose blooming in English gardens carried him far away in years and in space to the waving pampas of Argentina, to the swampy woods and everglades along the Plata river, and to the desert coast of Patagonia where the evening primrose, his favorite flower, blossomed on the sands.

Some flower perfumes are enjoyable to all people; others please one and displease another. I have never known a person who would not stoop to inhale the freshness of a rose. Among roses, La France has the finest perfume; and, inferior though it is in form and substance, most gardens contain a bush or two for its one supreme quality. Next to the rose, perhaps the sweet pea is best liked. Certainly no one flower better expresses the spring, though in Texas no simple perfume has an emotive power equal to the fragrance blended of many species growing wild. The scent of violets is universally enjoyed, as is the yet more delicate aroma of pansies. Mrs. Alice Morse Earle, writing in "Old Gardens Newly Set Forth," surmises that nine-tenths of all who love flower scents would give violets as their favorite fragrance. Mignonette is the essence of old gardens. The scent of orange blossoms is hardly surpassed; it is "quality" among odors. Many people now drive to the Rio Grande valley when the oranges bloom, and people all along the coast plant a tree or two, as much for the fragrance as for the fruit. Mock orange, or philadelphus, is something of a substitute for more northern regions. Lemon verbena has the character of its fragrance expressed in Latin as well as in its common name; the Latin name is Lippia citriodora. Abelia is one of the many white-flowered shrubs that compensate with fragrance for lack of color. A few bushes placed under south windows will perfume a house all summer. To many people lilac is so much the sweetest of garden fragrance that they struggle along with the shrub even in south Texas, where sparse blooms keep hope alive. In North Texas both the common lilac and the fine French hybrids, which are advertised as having a still more entrancing fragrance, do well.

Spicy Odors

Flowers that have the smell of spices seldom cloy. Formerly several flowers—wallflower, stock and carnation—went by the name of gilliflowers, or clove flowers. Today we speak of clove pinks. The fragrance of valeriana is sometimes defined as spicy; the plant, which flowers in rose-tinted white heads, grows like a weed in Austin and San Antonio and doubtless anywhere in the state. A shrub native to East Texas and to many other parts of the United States, Benzoin aestivale, has the common names spicebush and wild allspices, descriptive of its aromatic leaves and stems. Another shrub, Calycanthus floridus, has the most teasing fragrance that I have ever experienced in that it defies analysis or comparsion. It is called strawberry bush and Carolina allspice, in addition to the more common sweet shrub and sweet betsie. Mr. Hottes says that the fragrance of the reddish brown flowers is not unlike that of over-ripe apples; to me it more nearly resembles that of wild persimmons at just the right stage of ripeness. At any rate, it is an aroma of which no one ever has enough. When planted in shade, this old-fashioned shrub thrives in Austin, where the temperature is considerably higher than in its native Carolina mountains.

There are some fragrances of which it is easily possible to have too much. I well remember that when a zealous committee decorated our schoolhouse for commencement with cape jessamines covering all the window and door frames, everybody went home with a headache. The tuberose has a delicious odor, which, however, may surfeit if confined. The same observation would apply to the Grand Duke jasmine if there were every very many of these delicate flowers. Mountain laurel has a fragrance highly oppressive to many people, though Viktor Bracht, a Texas-German, writing in 1841, call its fragrance violet-like. Perhaps this fancied resemblance is responsible for a name gaining some currency of late—"tree violets." But, if we object to the customary name on the undeniable ground that the plant is not a laurel, and if botanical names have no meaning for us, is it not better to use the Mexican name "frijolito," which has flavor? The strong odor of datura, an introduced species of which, Jimson weed—short for Jamestown weed—grows rank and wild in many places though fetid to some people, is pleasing to others. Most flowers springing from bulbs have decided odors if any at all. The perfumes of narcissus and hyacinth often cloy indoors, though in right meas-

Labor Bureau Deputy Visits Wichita Plants

J. R. Smith, of the Texas Bureau of Labor statistics, arrived in Wichita Falls Thursday to commence an industrial survey of Wichita county.

Mr. Smith, who is a special deputy of the department, said that the bureau recently started a survey of the state to determine the natural resources of Texas to obtain statistics valuable to the bureau's work among laborers. Data is compiled concerning the various industries of the state, he said, and is furnished other states and foreign countries interested in the resources of Texas.

Mr. Smith will remain here until the end of the week and plans to visit most of the industrial plants in Wichita Falls.

REDUCE SAFELY
French Doctor Tells How

Some women try to reduce ten pounds a week, and in doing so, lose their pep, become irritable, pale and drawn-looking.

There is a more sensible way to reduce—the pleasant, easy Robex treatment. You can't hope to lose over 3 or 4 pounds of fat a week, but as you lose in weight this gradual Robex way, you gain in energy, beauty and gracefulness.

Doctors retained to examine Robex praise it in highest terms. Dr. Walter Thalmann of Paris, France, says: "I recommend Robex as the wise way to reduce."

Dr. N. Antonius Abdm, formerly of New York City health service, says: "I heartily endorse Robex. It is a safe and effective treatment for obesity."

Beautiful Surprise Shower Honors Mrs. Gose Waggoner

Mrs. Gose Waggoner was named honoree Thursday at a pretty surprise shower at the home of Mrs. Forrest Hunter Williams at her home on Tilden when the house was beautiful in pastel shades of spring flowers, delicate pinks and soft blues predominating. Mrs. C. E. Naylor received with the honoree and Mrs. Williams in the living room and in the dining room, Mrs. John Barker presided over the guest book.

The decorative motif was beautifully stressed in the pink snapdragon and blue cornflowers used on the dining table, tall pink tapers in silver holders adding their gleam to the table covered with a handsome filet cloth.

Mrs. Ann Barker, dressed as an old negro mammy, brought in a laundry basket of pretty gifts and presented them to Mrs. Waggoner with a clever original dialect poem in her honor.

A delightful refreshment plate with tiny nosegays stressing the chosen colors was served to Mrs. Gose Waggoner, the honoree and to Mesdames Merle Waggoner, Lester Jones, J. F. Husbands eat out of hands that make jam cake!

JAM CAKE

½ cup Crisco
1½ cups brown sugar
2 eggs
⅔ cup strawberry or blackberry jam
⅔ cup chopped nuts
⅔ cup seedless raisins
2⅔ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
⅔ cup milk

Blend Crisco, sugar and eggs in one stirring. (This quicker method is possible because Crisco comes to you already creamed.) Add jam, nuts and raisins. Sift together dry ingredients. Add alternately with milk. Pour into Criscoed tube pan. Bake in moderate (350° F.) oven about one hour. Cover with following icing:

2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups granulated sugar
½ cup red currant jelly
2 tablespoons cold water

Mix jelly, sugar, water. Cook slowly (238° F.) until syrup forms a soft ball in cold water. Pour slowly over stiffly beaten salted egg whites, beating until of consistency to spread.

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL—Recipes tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. Crisco is the registered trade-mark of a shortening manufactured by the Procter & Gamble Co.

Women look a cake up and down severely to see whether it's even-textured and light. Not men. They judge only when they taste. That's why they ask for a second piece of jam cake!

Every tender crumb of jam cake keeps its promise to taste jammy. And it's pretty, too. The jelly makes the icing look so pink and fluffy!

So I'm hoping that both sides of the family will be pleased when you try this jam cake.

If you trust the richness of your cake to a cheap pail-fat, I'm afraid you'll be disappointed. Against a strong-tasting or tallowy fat, the jam flavor won't have a chance to speak up!

I always cotton to Crisco because it's so sweet and fresh-tasting—yes, as newly-churned, unsalted butter. And it stays that way through the hottest weather without ice-box help.

Crisco blends its sweetness right in to bring out a cake's full flavor.

And mighty easy it is to blend fluffy Crisco in, too. No creaming and fussing! Crisco comes in its nice air-tight can, pre-creamed. That's why you can put Crisco, sugar and eggs into the mixing bowl at one time. Just a few brisk stirs will blend them perfectly!

Easy as cake-making is with Crisco, we can't always find the time for it. My, how handy a baker's cake comes in! It's nice to know that good bakers' cakes taste so good, because they're made with Crisco.

STUDY OF RINGWORM SHOWS WAY TO STOP "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

Perhaps you are one of the ten million people in America today who are victims of the infection commonly called "Athlete's Foot"—and don't know what ails you!

Known by several different names, this vexing disease is an insidious form of ringworm. When first contracted it produces a general itching condition. The toes blister, the skin between them turns red or sometimes white. It may become moist and thick or develop a scaly dryness.

If you notice any of these symptoms, take no chances of serious infection. Apply ABSORBINE JR. at once and freely, as recommended by specialists.

For after careful tests of this strange disease, a famous New York laboratory found that this mild, soothing, yet powerful, antiseptic is especially deadly to the tinea trichophyton germs which cause "Athlete's Foot."

It is wise to use ABSORBINE JR. after every exposure to wet surfaces—in public places and even in your own bathroom. For the tiny parasites breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. At all drug stores, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

sites and other points of historical interest in the territory.

Although Texas leads in the production of 31 commodities, it ranks 39th among states of the nation in capital wealth, Col. William E. Talbot of Dallas said in addressing the conference on industrial development.

"We have raw materials, power, fuel, factory sites and everything but the will to buy at home," he said. He explained the movement that is under way to encourage the buying of Texas-made products. Colonel Talbot was wearing the first pair of dress shoes made in Texas, he said.

Oil Fight Looms

Lucius Wilson of Austin, representing Progressive Texans, Inc., outlined the policies of his organization in spending $100,000 a year for the next three years to advertize Texas-made products.

Oil men here today predicted a bitter fight over the proration issue in the group conference on oil and gas problems tomorrow.

W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls president of the organization last year and chairman of the oil and gas committee, said the chamber would continue in its support of proration. He said the East Texas situation was presenting the greatest problem ever known in the oil industry in Texas, and that speakers on tomorrow's program would show what the results have been in West Texas.

Other conferences will discuss the production loan situation, and agricultural development. Many prominent speakers are scheduled for these meetings.

Tax Policy Scored

In the president's annual address, Judge Charles E. Coombes digressed from his report long enough to flay the state's policies toward industries.

"Texas is making it impossible for industries to come in because of its policies on taxation," the speaker said. "We have had instances during the past year where plans for the establishment of industries in Texas fell through because of the attempted passage of taxation measures that would make their operations unprofitable. If some of these measures had passed, every corporation in Texas would have become bankrupt.

"Industries should get together and work out a uniform tax measure for presentation at the next session of the legislature. If they don't somebody is going to be injured. The legislators are groping in the dark, surrounded by lobbyists, and they are lost for a uniform plan."

Bootleggers to Pay $140,000,000 Bill in 1931

WASHINGTON, May 14. (US)—Bootleggers and other dry law violators will lose about $140,000,000 this year in direct and indirect penalties for law violations, the department of justice estimated today.

It is estimated that fines alone will total about $5,500,000. The total of jail and prison sentences will reach about 17,500 years. Assuming each violator jailed could earn $2,000 annually, this means another loss of $35,000,000.

Physicians said he has a chance to recover.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., May 14. (UP)—The fourth marital venture of Mrs. Mary Ella Stolbert, 76, and third of J. J. Ashline, 10 years her senior, began jointly here late today.

Rev. D. C. Doten performed the ceremony at a private home.

Three times Mrs. Stolbert married a minister. Her fourth selection is a civil war veteran, whose home is in Lawton, Okla. She first did the Lohengrin march 58 years ago. That husband died in 1914. Ten years later she was again married. No. 2 died within a few months. The third survived their nuptials in 1926 two years.

Ashline, who served with Grant's army on the Potomac, first married in 1888, and again in 1914. He was divorced from the first wife, and the second died.

The couple met last summer in Lawton, where Mrs. Stolbert was visiting friends. They will live there.

BAPTISTS LAUD HOOVER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 14. (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention went on record today as endorsing a world peace program and adopted resolutions commending President Hoover's efforts for law observance and enforcement and reduction of naval and land armaments.

Cleveland Utility Plan Cited as Model System

WASHINGTON, May 14. (US)—Competition by a municipally-owned power company, strict rate regulation, and a hard but fair supervision by local utilities authorities have wrought for the city of Cleveland a virtually ideal public utilities company, the federal trade commission was told today.

J. C. Dickerman, commission investigator, testified today in hearings on the North American company, that the Cleveland situation exemplifies what can be done by privately-owned public utilities companies in the way of honest public service when they are forced to do so by outside influences which they cannot evade.

LONDON, May 14. (UP)—The sympathy of the nation went out today to Philip Snowden, elderly crippled chancellor of the exchequer, who has suffered a setback after recuperation from a recent serious illness.

HEAD ACHE

When you feel a headache coming on, it's time to take Bayer Aspirin. Two tablets will head it off, and you can finish your shopping in comfort.

The remedy is rest. But immediate relief is yours for the taking; a pocket tin of Bayer Aspirin is protection from pain wherever you go.

You never know when these tablets may save the day, avoid breaking an engagement, spare you from a miserable evening or sleepless night.

Get real aspirin. Look for Bayer on the box. Read the proven directions found inside every genuine Bayer package. They cover headaches, colds, sore throat, toothache, neuralgia, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, muscular pains—and other suffering which need not be endured.

These tablets do not depress the heart. Nor do they upset the stomach. They do nothing but stop the pain. Every druggist has Bayer Aspirin in the pocket size, and in bottles. If you wish to save money, buy the genuine tablets by the hundred. It doesn't pay to experiment with imitations at any price!

KEEP KISSABLE

. . . WITH OLD GOLDS

OLD GOLDS were created to give you THROAT-EASE . . . as well as a more delightful tasting cigarette. But the makers also considered your breath, your lips, your teeth, as well as your THROAT.

They created a pure-tobacco cigarette . . . free of coriander and other greasy artificial flavorings* that burn into clinging, staining, breath-tainting vapors.

To avoid unpleasant aftermaths, smoke pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS. Their clean, sun-ripened, natural-flavored tobaccos will be like honey to your THROAT. And they leave no objectionable odors either on your breath or clothing, or in the room.

HERE'S THE PROOF*

Open up a pack of OLD GOLDS and smell the tobacco. Do the same with any other cigarette. Judge for yourself which has the natural, pleasant, all-tobacco aroma. It's a favor to your family and friends, as well as to yourself, to smoke NATURAL-FLAVORED, pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

(But which you knew all along!)

That actors are called "hams" because they couldn't afford cold creams with which to remove their make-ups. So they always carried around a piece of ham to remove the facial stains.

That five months before their marriage, Arabian femmes are stuffed with fattening foods. The fatter they are, the more beautiful.

That shows in Spain commence at 10:30 p. m.

That the word doctor was first used in 1769. Previously, doctors were known as "chiraregons."

That when you walk "tip-toes"—you don't.

That the White House in Washington, D. C., is a copy of Mansion House, which is in Dublin, Ireland.

That Shearer street in Montreal is named after Norma Shearer's pop, whose large lumber business is located on it.

That the term "Flying Frenchmen" as applied to "Les Canadiens," World's Hockey Champs, is accurate as was "fighting Irish" to Notre Dame." Of the six Canadian regulars, Hainsworth is British, Burke is Irish, Mantha is Italian, Morenz and Joliat are Swiss, while Gagnon is the only Frenchman. (That's one for the scrapbook!)

That the first things printed were not books. Playing cards!

That the Dyaks think it is quite proper to eat humans, but they are terribly shocked by a liar amongst them. He is ostracized!

That according to Hoyle, the undisputed authority, a poker deck offers 2,598,960 different poker hands.

That Harper's History of the U. S., states that Buddhist priests discovered America in 458 A. D. (Is Columbus' face red???).

That Dr. I. P. Thomas of 2025 Bway, here, says that "Eli, Eli" is not a hymn or a prayer and doesn't belong in a house of worship. That it was originally written for a Jewish stage play called "Brucha." "Since," he writes, "it was originally written for the stage, why cannot it continue to be used here?" (Sokay by me!)

That Canada has not had a bank failure since 1923 when the Home bank folded. The Gov't, however, paid depositors 60 per cent.

That there is a magazine published here with a staff who hate each other so—they haven't talked (socially) for years!

That in the summertime, the heat within the clothing is more dangerous than the outside heat.

That a guy named "Justice" built the first electric chair in a midwest prison and was the first to fry in it.

That Scotsmen were once sold into slavery at 60 cents per doz. After Cromwell made them prisoners in his Scottish victories.

That when your nose "goes to sleep" after a few drinks there is wood alcohol in your laughing soup.

That waving a black flag at a bull is as effective as a red one because the animal is color blind and sees both as black.

That army regulations provide that "extreme ugliness" shall be a cause for rejection of an applicant for enlistment.

That 22,000 people live on the Rock of Gibraltar.

That local police estimate that New York City has 50,000 insane men and women at large. (So that explains why you read this!)

That gobs call "dishing the dirt"—"chewing the breeze."

That in New York at 185 W. 135th St., there is a Doctor Nurse, and in Darien, Conn., an undertaker is named Geo. Coffin.

That Theodore Metz, now 86, who wrote "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" fifty years ago, said in a recent interview that he was ashamed he had written it. A big hit, but no royalties.

That the famous Dr. Charles Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., says the average human being is sick 30 times in a lifetime.

That at the Harbor Sanitarium, a hospital on Madison Ave., here, there are two nurses, named Miss Amos and Miss Andy.

That if you do not think the show is shot to youknowhat see that "short story" in the N. Y. Times want ad columns of April 3, to wit: "Stage Director will exchange lessons in acting for stenographic work. W 245 Times." (Now are you stage struck?)

That all Shakespeare's male characters, with the single exception of Falstaff, are marrying men.

That is was George Eliot who hit it on the conk once by saying there are two things not to be hidden—love and a cough.

That Hugh Wedlock Jr., says there is a sign in a downtown restaurant which reads: "If our steak is too tough for you, then get the hell out! We have no use for weaklings!"

And that the Friars club has expelled from membership all midgets to save them from being devoured by hungry actors.

Generosity in Dollars

WHEN a generous gesture is made with dollars, instead of words, it deserves to be listed with noble impulses. There are entirely too many cases of sticky sentimentalism for which laurel wreaths are plaited and press notices are given. But when you get a green-back version of unselfishness it is fairly reliable.

Last year a bank in Vineland, N. J., failed. School children lost $37,000. The money which they had earned in mowing lawns and shoveling snow and wiping dishes vanished. The round silver dollars that were special birthday gifts, and the quarters that had been saved when they wanted to see a movie and didn't were completely gone.

Col. Evan O. Kimble, the head of another financial institution in the same city, knew what the reaction of those youngsters would be. They would decide that you couldn't trust savings accounts. They would buy caramels and gumdrops and go to movies and ball games whenever they had any money. They would come to the decision that the wisest thing to do is to spend your money before something happens to it.

Colonel Kimble realized that boys and girls who held this attitude couldn't train for the best citizenship. Therefore, from the coffers of his own bank, he dragged out the money bags and restored to each child the sum that he had lost.

Certainly the children who had preferred another bank to his didn't expect such largesse. But they are going to remember it. They are going to realize that fair play and generosity still make up a big part in life, or else a benefactor would not have made such a gift.

There are those who will say that the bank acted as a benefactor because it is counting on the profits which will accrue from the new accounts that will be opened. But such accounts will be small, at best. It will be a long time until the boys and girls will be making noticeable sums of money. The money which the bank could have loaned would have done more for it financially than the new accounts can do.

Colonel Kimble is representative of the type of business men who are putting a conscience in their work. He realized that it is just as important to teach future citizens that the financial backing with which they deal is secure as it is to encourage them to send their coin to India's starving millions.

Colonel Kimble made a solid contribution to citizenship. He deserves to be mentioned.

Eyes on the Goal

DETERMINATION and painstaking care with which the I. O. Boosters club is formulating its plan for establishing here a public retail market for farm produce augurs well for success in a project which has failed often of completion in the past.

Primarily, of course, the purpose of such an establishment is to provide a ready and fairly profitable outlet for produce now being grown by farmers in this community. But underneath the plan for a public market is even a more important objective. It is a purpose to induce not only the growing of much more produce than the community shows now, but to induce a more effective and serious attitude toward agriculture in the irrigated valley.

Those who are giving their effort to the new project declare that farming and truck growing still are considered minor sidelines to the community's principal industry of oil production and refining. Proponents of the public market are at the same time advocates of extensive colonization of the irrigated valley lands with owners of small farms, and exponents of general agriculture and dairying as the most important future industries in the Wichita Falls area. They would have the fertile valley lands intensively cultivated by men whose chief interest is in crop production, instead of being merely occupied by families of men who expect to eke out a bare existence by occasional day-labor jobs in the community.

Plans now in process of formulation for a public market are designed to expedite such a development here. Transformation of the industrial status of the irrigated valley, and the multiple increase of produce from it, are regarded as vastly important objectives to be approached through the provision of a satisfactory local market for what is now being produced.

The community will do well to give the cooperation which is being asked in this new effort to complete a constructive piece of community building.

When Mellon Talks He Controls Fortune The War on Noise No Official Bird

By EMILE GAUVREAU

In times of depression men who can be depended upon for sound and sober advice on financial problems usually say little. George F. Baker, full of years and experience, saw the bottom fall out of Wall street without saying a word. Bear in mind that shouts about prosperity being right around the corner do not come from men such as Baker, who, like old sea captains, can see far ahead.

But when a Mellon talks, listen. He is the ideal conservative. Solicitious for the common weal, he is never moved by popular clamor. Schwab may sing, "Happy Days Are Here Again," one or two cabinet members may paint rainbows, but as the months go by and business slumps, you may draw your own conclusions about them.

Here is what Mellon, who talks little, has to say about the present situation:

"The troubles which all of us face at this time cannot be cured by any quick and easy method, or at someone else's expense, and it is well to face that fact. A balanced condition must be restored and this may be done without a general reduction in wages. Every man that can be kept at work or put back into employment adds to the nation's buying power and so stimulates further production. The high standard of living must be maintained at all costs."

These words indicate that fortune and good luck did not have much to do in making Secretary Mellon one of the richest men in the world. He occupies the office he does because of what he is and what he has accomplished. "Great men," said Napoleon, "are those who can control good luck and fortune." Mellon controls both, not only for himself; he seeks to control them for the whole country, for their own good.

In line with the sane endeavor to rid big cities of unnecessary noise, a ban has been put on honking autos in New York's theatrical areas. Commissioner Mulrooney promises the cooperation of the police department in curbing the menace. Chauffeurs who enjoy making a racket will be warned and even arrested.

Noise is the modern Medusa whose snaky head must be cut off if we are to be saved from mental disaster. People who live in cities live in a state of nervous tension, which makes them hyper-sensitive.

When we realize that the bursting of a blown-up paper bag raises the pressure of the brain higher than either morphine or nitroglycerin, the two most powerful agents known for raising brain pressure, we can form some idea of the havoc that is being wrought by the screeching sirens of commerce.

This column doesn't often give advice. If everybody followed advice there probably wouldn't be any column.

But we can't resist advising every father in the land to see that moving picture, "Skippy." We hear much about improving the youngsters, but what we need as much is improvement of the parents. Young tragedies happen when parents fail to understand the terrifying miniature griefs of their children. Skippy's dad didn't understand about dogs and his Shantytown pals—so Skippy suffered.

Incidentally, it would help a few big sisters and brothers to see it. And it proves that it is not necessary to kill a racketeer in every three feet of film to make a great motion picture.

It will come as a surprise to many to learn that New York has no "official" bird, although 26 other states have. Charles Bowman Hutchins, naturalist, reports 515 species as natives of the Empire state. The problem will be to chose the most representative.

The scarlet tanager, the chewink, the American crossbill and the indigo hunting birds have been suggested. Our vote goes for the scarlet tanager, which has both a pleasing song and glorious make-up. It is small and shy, too, as birds should be. And the scarlet tanager goes well with the rose, New York's official flower.

Q.—Who was called the pipe man of the United States?—N. T.

A.—Edward Hen, who before 1860, was almost the only importer of note of the more expensive pipes, was thus known. William Demuth began the making of pipes in this country in 1861.

Q.—Should the Olympic games be called Olympiads?—L. S.

A.—There is a tendency on the part of some modern writers to employ the term in this way. It is an erroneous use of the word, since it refers to a certain space of time at the end of which the Olympic games were held in celebration.

Q.—Is it customary for a man who is to be married to provide himself with a complete new wardrobe of clothes?—N. E. D.

A.—It is not customary. A bridegroom should see that his clothes are all in good order and replenish his wardrobe if necessary so that he will have sufficient for all probable occasions.

Q.—What state has done the most to reduce illiteracy within its borders in the last 10 years?—A. C.

A.—Georgia stands first among the 20 states for which census returns are now in. In 1920 there were 328,838 over 10 years of age, who could not read or write. In 1930 only 210,736 were found to be illiterate.

Q.—What is meant by a shop right in an invention?—H. A. K.

A.—A shop right is the right to use an invention which is automatically created on behalf of the owner of the shop, when the invention is developed in such shop by an employe who uses the time and equipment of the shop for producing the invention. Such shop rights are non-assignable and apply alone to inventions pertaining to the employer's business.

Q.—Why did France sell Louisiana to the United States?—D. E. C.

A.—Napoleon offered to sell Louisiana to the United States primarily for two reasons. He feared that England might in case of war land an army on the coast of Louisiana and hold the territory by right of conquest. He had planned to colonize Louisiana, but after losing two or three good armies in Santo Domingo, he found it difficult to carry out his project in the lower Mississippi valley. Besides he needed money. The offer of sale was made to Livingston. The price asked was $20,000,000. Livingston and Monroe had been authorized to offer as much as $10,000,000 for west Florida and New Orleans. At length the bargain was made by which the United States was to pay $15,000,000 for the entire territory. One-fourth of this was to be paid to Americans holding claims against France, while the remaining three-fourths was to be paid in six per cent bonds. The famous treaty was signed April 30, 1803.

SENATORS TO MEET SUNDAY

Letters Call Solons To Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 14. (UP)—Two meetings of state senators will be held here Sunday.

More than 10 senators were at the capitol today.

Several admitted receiving letters to attend a session here Sunday to consider Gov. W. H. Murray's suggestion for a two-year term for senators. Only administration senators are expected to attend this meeting.

Others said a meeting had been called here to demand that the governor reveal the name of the senator he said approached him with the proposition "the supreme court would uphold his planned removal of Lew Wentz from the highway commission if he would appoint a certain gentleman to the commission."

It was understood this meeting would be Sunday. Senator Alvin Moore yesterday told The United Press he would sponsor such a movement.

"The Big Swing Is to U. S. Tires"

Durnal-Jones Tire Company to Observe Eleventh Anniversary

Celebration of the 11th anniversary of the founding of the Durnal-Jones Tire company of Wichita Falls, will be observed Friday and Saturday.

The company was organized May 15, 1920 by J. H. Durnal who conducted the business until 1926 when an interest was sold to Joe H. Jones. The firm is exclusive dealers for United States tires and tubes, also for Sinclair refinery products.

"We have long sold products of the United States Rubber company and are glad to announce that this year 71 per cent of all new automobiles manufactured in the United States are equipped with tires made by the United States Rubber company," said Manager Durnal.

"Recently we adopted what is known as the complete one stop service facilities, and are now in position to give motorists the best of service. This service includes tires, tubes, gas and oil, washing and lubrication. Ours is strictly a home institution and we have faith in the future of Wichita Falls else the recent expansion program would not have been undertaken."

Saturday to every customer, and those in the automobile, will be given a free dish of Wilson's frozen custard with every purchase amounting to a dollar or more. The firm will have extra attendants employed at the service pumps and tire departments, so that motorists can be waited on quickly.

Actors Fined For Employing Juveniles

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 14. (UP)—Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson, vaudeville performers, were fined $50 each in police court today on a charge of permitting juveniles to appear in their act. The fines were suspended.

"We found the children hungry and not attending school and really did them a favor by providing employment," Johnson told Judge Clayton Parks.

Judge Parks said the state industrial commission "evidently was too hasty" in ordering the vaudeville players arrested.

RECIPES

Anchovy Celery Appetizers

Tie celery in bunches large enough for individual service and about three inches long. Cook until tender in chicken broth. Let cool in the broth. Arrange celery on lettuce leaves with two strips of fillet of anchovy and a strip of pimiento. Cover with dressing made of aterragon vinegar, whole black peppers, olive oil and salt to taste.

Savory Roast Beef

Wipe the roast with a damp cloth and compute the time for roasting. For a rare roast, allow 20 minutes to the pound; for a medium roast, 25 minutes; and for a well-done roast, 30 minutes to the pound. Place the roast on a trivet in an uncovered roaster and spread the entire surface liberally with prepared mustard. Put it in a hot oven (500 degrees F.) At the end of 15 minutes reduce the temperature to 350 degrees F. or a medium oven and continue cooking the required length of time. A steak spread with mustard in the same way before broiling has a slight gamey flavor.

Glazed Carrots

Drain cooked carrots thoroughly. In a skillet melt three tablespoons butter with three tablespoonfuls sugar. When well blended and bubbling add carrots and cook until nicely browned and glazed, about 25 minutes. Shake pan frequently during the cooking as the sugar carmelizes. A border of glazed carrots and onions surrounding a broiled steak or baked slice of ham makes a good vegetable garnish.

Lemon-Apple Pie

Beat together the grated rind of one lemon, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one cupful of sugar and one egg yolk. Add one tablespoonful of melted butter and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Beat well. Add one-fourth cupful of hot water, and when well mixed two apples peeled and grated. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of egg. Line a dish with flaky pastry and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 10 minutes to set the pastry, then reduce the heat to 325 degrees F. for about 30 minutes, or until set.

Liver and Oyster Loaf

A pound of liver, salf's or lamb's or pig's, is parboiled lightly and then chopped fine in the old-fashioned chopping-bowl-and-knife fashion. Mix with it a dozen broiled oysters, cut in quarters, a pint of soft crumbs pressed out from hot stock or oyster liquor and mixed with two ounces of bacon fat, one-half a teaspoonful of pepper, a wee pinch of cayenne or one-fourth teaspoon of paprika, one-half a teaspoonful of celery seed, and additional salt if needed. Add three beaten eggs, combine all well, and pour into a well greased bread tin, place this on six thicknesses of paper in a pan of hot water, and bake for an hour at 350 degrees F. This loaf may be served hot, with an oyster or a mushroom sauce, or it may be chilled, sliced and served with pickles or sour jelly for a luncheon dish.

Toasted Cheese Rolls

Mix the following ingredients into a smooth paste: Two cupfuls soft sharp cheese, one-half teaspoonful salt, speck cayenne, one teaspoonful prepared mustard and three tablespoonfuls cream. Remove the crusts from a fresh loaf of break and cut in lengthwise slices one-fourth inch thinck. Butter the large slices with a small amount of butter and spread with the cheese mixture. Roll the slices lengthwise like a jelly roll. Wrap the rolls of bread and cheese firmly in a damp cloth and place in the refrigerator for several hours. Just before serving cut the rolls into one and one-half inch lengths and toast in the broiling oven or on the electric grill. If cut small, these rols are delicious served with soup or salad or make a hearty sandwich for Sunday night tea.

Strawberry Shortcake

Two cupfuls flour.
Four teaspoonfuls baking powder.
One-third cupful milk or cream.
From one-third to one-half cup sugar.
One-third cup butter or Crisco.
One egg.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One quart strawberries, sweetened to taste.

Mix and sift twice, flour, baking powder, sal and sugar. Work in shortening; beat egg until light and combine with milk, add this to dry ingredients to form a soft dough; knead likhtly and quickly for four or five seconds. Turn on a board and roll out to one-fourth inch thickness; cut with a biscuit cutter; place two biscuits together after dipping one side of top biscuit in melted butter; put buttered side next to bottom biscuit. Bake in a quic koven about 450 degrees F. for 15 or 20 minutes or until brown. Separate biscuits when ready to use and put sweetened berries between and on top. The berries should be cut and allowed to stand for an hour with about one cupful of sugar. Garnish with whipped cream and whole berries. This makes 10 or 12 servings according to the size of biscuits.

Strawberry Tart

Add one tablespoonful gelatin to two cupfuls milk and scald in a double boiler. When gelatin is dissolved, add one-half cupful sugar and pour over two beaten eggs, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook until the mixture coats a spoon. Remove from double boiler at once. Add one-eighth teaspoonful salt and one teaspoonful vanilla. Chill. When stiff enough to mold as it is dropped fro a spoon pour the custard mixture into a baked pie shell. Cover with hulled, sweetened strawberries and garnish with whipped cream just before serving. Serves six.

Pineapples

Pineapples are found on the market the greater part of the year but during April, May and June they are most plentiful and are at their best.

Most of the fresh pineapples that are sold in this part of the country are of the Red Spanish variety and are shipped from Porto Rico, Cuba, Florida and the Hawaiian Islands. Occosionally the Sugarloaf variety may be obtained. It is much larger and has fewer spines than the Red Spanish.

Pineapples are easy to select for they have fe wdefects. The quality does not vary much between sizes and pound for pound one pineapple yields about the same percentage of edible flesh as another. A thrifty housewife buys the one which is cheapest on the basis of weight. Shape should also be considered as a per-shaped pineapple has more waste than one that is plump all the way up.

Pineapples are at their best when they are of a uniform golden orange color, have a rich aroma and are slightly soft. Another fair test of maturity may be made by pulling leaves from the crown of the fruit. If they are easily removed and are white for some distance up from the base, the pineapple is likely to be in good edible condition. Pines begin to soften noticeably when overripe and over mature fruit may be detected by pressing it. As warm weather approaches, black rot becomes troublesome and one should always look for it at the base of the fruit, where it usually starts.

Pineapple prices are ordinarily at their lowest level the latter part of May and for this reason many people purchase them at this time by the crate for canning and preserving. Apples absorb the flavor of pineapples when they are cooked together, and are often used as a filler as they are ordinarily inexpensive.

Pineapples may be prepared in several ways but the following method is perhaps the easiest: Cut the fruit crosswise in slices from one-half to one inch thick; then place the slices on a board or platter and cut around them just inside the skin. Very little of the fruit is wasted if this method is used as the depth of the skin can be carefully watched. If the fruit is to be served in slices trim the edges neatly—reserving the trimmings for combination salad or conserves and remove the hard center with a small round cutter. If it is to be used in cubes, remove the centers from pared but untrimmed slices and cut in pieces. This method dispenses with the tedious removal of eyes and reduces waste.

The simplest way to serve pineapple is to shred it and sprinkle it with sugar. To shred pineapple, pare and cut out the eyes with a sharp-pointed knife. Then pick off pieces with a silver fork, continuing until all the soft part is removed. It can be made to look more attractive, however, by serving in other ways. 1—Cut a slice from both the top and the bottom of a large pineapple, then cut off the rind in four pieces, leaving a pyramid. Cut the pyramid in half-inch slices, crosswise, leaving it in its original shape. Serve with sugar. 2—Pare and remove eyes from pineapples. Then cut in half-inch slices crosswise. Remove the hard centers, using a small biscuit cutter, thus leaving the fruit in rings. Arrange rings, overlapping each other, in a round serving dish, and sprinkle with granulated sugar. Leaves from the top of the pineapple make an attractive garnish. One may be slipped through each ring with pleasing effect. 3—Pare and remove eyes from pineapple. Then cut crosswise in slices one inch thick. Cut these slices in halves and arrange them on a serving dish, straight side down, radiating from a bunch of mint. 4—Clean thoroughly a selected pineapple. Each eye has a distinct outline, about an inch in diameter. With a sharp, pointed knife, cut on this outline toward the center of the fruit and with a fork detach and remove the cone-shaped pieces. Arrange pieces on individual plates around mounds of sugar. They may be eaten easily with the fingers, as the outside skin remains on.

RECIPES

Pineapple Cocktail

Cut pineapple in one-quarter to three-eighth inch cubes, add sugar to give the desired sweetness. Allow one-third of a cupful of fruit for each serving, and for every serving add three after-dinner mints broken into small pieces. Let stand covered in a warm place for an hour, then chill well before serving. Place the pineapple in the glasses with some juice and garnish with a little sprig of fresh mint or, if this is not available, with three mint-flavored preserves green grapes.

Shrimp and Pineapple Salad

One and one-half cupfuls canned or fresh cooked shrimp.
One cupful canned or fresh diced pineapple.
One-eighth teaspoonful paprika.
Two sprigs chives, chopped.
Six tablespoonfuls French dressing.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
Lettuce or romaine.

Combine the shrimp, pineapple, salt, paprika and chives. Chill thoroughly and just before serving pour over the French dressing. Toss until well mixed, then arrange on crisp lettuce and serve. Serves six.

Pineapple and Cherry Preserves

One pound pineapple.
One-fourth pound white cherries.
One and one-fourth pound sugar.

Cut the pineapple in thin slices. Wash and stone the cherries and add the pineapple. Add the sugar and cook until mixture is thick and syrup is jelly-like.

Pineapple Preserves

Pare and slice pineapple; remove eyes and hard center; cut in dice or quarters and weigh. To each pound of fruit, allow a cupful of water. Place pineapple and water over the fire and boil until fruit is tender and clear, drain thoroughly. Add a pound of white sugar for each pound of fruit to the water in which the pineapple was cooked; stir until it is dissolved; then put in the pineapple cubes; cover the kettle and let them boil gently until transparent. Drain the syrup from the pineapple, cool, and pack it in jars; let the syrup boil or simmer gently until it is thick and rich, and when it is nearly cool, pour it over the fruit. Let them remain open over night and then seal.

Pineapple Frappe

One cupful sugar.
Juice of three lemons.
Two cupfuls ice water.
One can grated pineapple or one pineapple shredded.

Make a syrup by boiling water and sugar for 15 minutes; add pineapple and lemon juice; cool, strain, add ice water, and freeze to a mush, using equal parts of ice and salt. If fresh fruit is used, more sugar will be required.

Looking to Wichita Falls' Future

The "Municipal" Is Planning for a Greater Wichita Falls

"FAITH" is an appreciated word of meaning to all Wichita Falls. It is the foundation on which rests Wichita Falls, the great, "The City That Faith Built."

Wichita Falls has "FAITH" in her future and if we can look upon the physical power as the measure of a greater population, within time we will have as the result an increased population in the irrigated valley a hundred fold greater than those employed by the Pharoahs on the Nile.

The "MUNICIPAL" is looking ahead for Wichita Falls' future, employing every building method possible to assure our city the comforts and conveniences never dreamed of by maintaining a dependable gas supply, a service that can carry on and help build Wichita Falls.

The "MUNICIPAL" has a dependable reserve, something of a real value, a supply tested and proven to carry on and build Wichita Falls for years to come. Twenty-two big trunk lines supplying the "MUNICIPAL" mains is a reserve of dependability.

Perfume Is 'Soul' Of Flower Garden

ure they delight the sense. Some of the fragrant lilies of fairly easy culture are Lilium regale; L. auratum, or gold-banded lily, "with a fragrance so strong," says a dealer, "that a bouquet will fill a large church with their odor," L. candidum, ascension or mandonna lily; and L. sargentiae, milk-white, with yellow throat and exterior of deep reddish brown.

Native Plumes

It is good to pick and smell a flower; it is better to breathe in perfume from the intangible air. The chief sources of a pervading perfume are trees and vines. Huisache time is just past—for Southwest Texas the most beautiful and the most fragrant time in all the year. Never were the trees more golden, never was the fragrance richer. Though said not to be native to the state, huisache now pushes its way to the limits set by climate. Magnolia and sweet bay are rich perfume to East Texas. The chinaberry, another exotic that has made itself at home, and the black locust perfume whole towns. Cultivated plums have fine fragrance, but not so fine as the native plums, both tree and bush.

Honeysuckle Leads Vines

Among vines that perfume a garden, honeysuckle comes first. Perhaps the most cherished season in my own garden is that when a tangle of honeysuckle and chinaberry lavishes its mingled fragrance upon the air. Carolina yellow jessamine and the white Confederate, or star, jasmine, the one native, the other an import from China, are forever associated with the South. For fall there is Clematis paniculata. A fragrant vine that I have never seen, Akebia quinata, with purplish flowers, is recommended for all but the tropical parts of the state.

The best times for fragrance in the garden are late evening and night. Some fragrant flowers do not open earlier and others give out more essence. Among these plants that make the close of day sweetest are 4 o'clock, which the English call marvel-of-Peru and the French belle-de-nuit; the hybrid nicotianas in white, pink and red; petunia, which is so nearly allied to tobacco that it takes its name from the Brazilian word for that plant; moonflower; evening primrose of many species—a flower we do not half appreciate because we see it growing wild; and tuberose.

Many fragrant flowers that might be grown in Texas are seldom seen. Among these are three very old-fashioned ones—wallflower, sweet william and heliotrope. All these do well here. Occasional crabapple trees are a sight for a whole town, and the fragrance of them is unmatched for delicacy. There is an apple-scented geranium, one plant of which will perfume a house. The Peruvian daffodil, ismene, is so beautiful and so fragrant that it should be tested for our climate. Those seeking something new in shrubs may like to try one of three especially recommended for the odor of their blossoms—Daphne odora, Bouvardia humboldti, and Boronia elatior.

Oklahoma Acts on Texas' Motor Truck Practice

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 14. (UP)—The attorney general's office started an investigation today of charges that Oklahoma truck drivers were being illegally penalized in Texas courts.

Atty. Gen. J. Berry King had received a letter from L. L. Humphreys, Duncan bank president, which said drivers of his community complained about arrests and fines on charges of overloading made by Texas patrolmen. He cited one case in which the driver was fined $200 without a fair test of the law.

King said his department would investigate.

DEEP TEST SPUDDED

Archer county's newest deep test, the Deep Oil Development No. A-5 L. F. Wilson, located 600 feet west of the No. 1 Deep Oil-Lindsay deep produucer in block 76, A. T. N. C. L. survey, is rigged up and spudding in Friday. The test which is to be drilled by E. C. Norwood of Wichita Falls is using a heavy dreadnaught type of rotary and will drill to a depth of 3000 feet, later the hole will be finished with standard tools to the contract depth of 6000 feet.

SOUTH OF OETH

After testing the upper sand at 700 feet which showed dry, Lee-Brashear and others No. B-3 Jeffery in section 42, T. E. & L. survey, Young county, drilled deeper. At 749 feet another rich sand was encountered, and after drilling one foot into began flowing natural at an estimated rate of between 300 to 350 barrels. The well is a south offset to No. B-2 Jeffery in the same survey.

NEARING THE CONTRACT DEPTH

The Deep Oil company No. 1 John Hirschi, located in the David Cowan survey, and the deepest test in North Texas, is drilling at a depth of 5810 feet in a hard lime formation. The contract depth of the test is 6000 feet but plans may be made to drill deeper.

FEDERATED VS. SINCLAIR

Judge Randolph Bryant of Sherman federal judge for the eastern district of Texas, Thursday granted the Federated Oil company of Wichita Falls a temporary injunction restraining the Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., from using artificial means, or gas lift, in its production of crude from the W. SUIT SEEKS TO BOLSTER PRICE

East Texans Go to Court In Royalty Dispute

HENDERSON, Texas, May 14.—A suit has been filed here by Orr Brothers against the Petroleum Marketing corporation praying for full posted prices for their royalty oil taken from the A. J. Deason and D. F. Deason land, where they have extensive royalty interests.

Plaintiffs also ask for a receiver to take charge and operate the property of the Petroleum Marketing corporation for the "benefit of all concerned."

Alleging that the corporation has taken a certain amount of oil belonging to them and refused to pay the fair market or posted price therefor, the plaintiffs gave notice through their attorneys, Allred & Brown, that depositions will be taken locally and from certain parties in Houston to determine the contents of the various contracts existing between the Petroleum Marketing corporation and the various purchasers of the oil the corporation has been taking from their holdings.

This is the first legal action to be taken by royalty owners in protest against "arbitrary prices being proffered."

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that Allison's Drug Store says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.—Adv.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Buerger's Disease

Question: E. A. D. asks—"Will you please give me some information about Buerger's disease? What are your methods of cure? After advanced stage, can anything be done?"

Answer—Buerger's disease is a form of gangrene of the extremities, usually affecting the toes and fingers, caused by an inflammation and obstruction of the veins and arteries to the limbs. This disease is very difficult to cure, but some benefit may be derived from following my cleansing diet course which would help to reduce the inflammation of the arteries. It would probably be necessary to repeat the fast about once a month for awhile until there is an improvement. It would also be a good plan to use hot baths, massage and exercise. Osteopathic treatments should be helpful. Even though the case is quite far advanced it may be possible to stop its progress.

Oranges and Rheumatism

Question: Mrs. I. B. asks—"When I use an exclusive orange diet for as long as a week I suffer with attacks of rheumatism. Why is this?"

Answer—The orange juice fast sometimes causes a greater elimination of toxins than when using other fruit, which makes the pains a trifle more irritating for a time, but this clears up after the toxins are eliminated. If you will use the orange juice alone the rheumatism can not become worse.

Weeping Eye

Question: Mrs. I. K. H. asks—"Will you tell me the cause of my eye continuously weeping? I have used boric acid and witch hazel, also had my lenses changed, but this eye weeps just the same."

Answer—The cause of the eye weeping may be due to inflammation of the tear glands, and I would suggest cold wet compresses. A fasting and dieting regimen should prove beneficial, as it will remove from your system any toxic material causing the irritation.

INDIAN SKIPPER ATTACKS HILLIN TO CLIMAX SPUDDER VICTORY

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Well, Prexy Huff's announcement Thursday that the Spudders will get Walter Euller back from the Milwaukee club on option finally ended a hectic period of speculation about the club's infield. It also gave poor sports scribes a little peace of mind.

The Rambler got inside information from Milwaukee several weeks ago that Euller was going to return, and printed same in no uncertain terms. Fans started buzzing about it and wondering when he would show up.

Then Prexy Huff a few days ago announced conclusively and definitely that the deal was all off, that Euller would not return.

This was followed Thursday by the conclusive and definite announcement that he WOULD return.

Now I don't know what to think. I believe I just won't think, but wait until I actually see Walter Euller in uniform at Spudder park before I thoroughly believe that he is going to play with us this year.

What will happen to little Debs Garms? This throws me into deep gloom. Little Debs has made his share of errors so far, but as far as the old spirit and determination and willingness to work goes, he's one of the best little infielders that has ever played with us. And his hitting has come to be nothing less than sensational. Stanton and Gullic have been alternately hitting and slumping, but little Debs manages to get on base via the hit route practically every game, and sometimes more than once or twice each game. The little fellow is a hustler, all over, and dawgonit, we like him.

What will become of him in case the conclusive and definite announcement that Euller will return turns out to be actually conclusive and definite?

The San Antonio Indians had plenty of war paint on during the series here, and proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that they are a better ball club than they were last year. But after all, they are the same old second division outfit, and the final tabulation of standings will find the Spudders far ahead of them, in our humble opinion. The Spudders' pitching these days is just a little short of being terrible, but the Indians' hurling is abysmic. Lefty Stein is going to win a few ball games this year, and Cy Smith is going to win his share, and the others will contribute one or two or maybe three or four, but their pitching staff, it seems to me, is worse than the Spudders, if such a thing these days is possible.

They have a few wicked hitters, but the Spudders, when they finally get out of this old slump, and when Ted Gullic gets around to his duties of knocking a home run every day, will hit them ragged. They haven't a hitter on the club as good as Buck Stanton. They haven't got an infield half as good as our dear old Spuds. Scharein is a hotter specimen of a shortstopper than De Viveiros, the guy with the unspellable name; Debs Garms can field third base any day in the week better than Hamilton; Mr. Allday is far, far superior to Mr. Flaskamper; and Stanton—well, he's the best first baseman in this league, old timer, and you can take my word for that.

Chubby Orr got a gobble of base hits off the Giants down in the spring training camp at San Antonio with the result that the Giants bought him, but that doesn't mean he can cover as much territory in left field as the red-head Badgro; and it is positive that Orr is not the hitter Badgro is. Edwards in center field must go to school a lot longer before he can hit and throw as well as Mr. Gullic, and Bob Fuss and his whale of a throwing arm is a demon in right field, whereas Mr. Sanguinet is far from gianthood.

Hard on the Tribe? Well, maybe; but I'm just convinced that regardless of the punch the Indians showed in their series up here the Spudders are superior to them. Wait until the Spuds get to hitting with regularity instead of every other day or so, and then they'll show you I'm as accurate as an adding machine.

Social Department

R. S. Greene of Memphis, president of the Green Belt Golf association whose annual tournament opens next Monday at Clarendon, writes extending an invitation to The Record News and Daily Times to send a staff man to Clarendon to cover the spring event, stating that "Al Parker and the Wichita Falls Record News and Times have become a part of the Green Belt Golf tournament."

These newspapers are grateful to Mr. Greene for his invitation and we certainly will take advantage of it. For years Mr. Parker, my rival on the afternoon newspaper, has made the pilgrimage to the shrine of Green Belt association golfers and has always returned with glowing accounts of the hospitality proffered him and the fine spirit of fellowship he encountered at each of the meets. In addition Mr. Parker is no mean golfer himself, even if I do violate all journalistic principles and compliment my rival, and he was able to bring to his task of covering the Green Belt meets a thorough understanding. Consequently, the job has always been a pleasure to him.

As aforesaid, he always returned to the print shop here with glowing tales of the great tourneys, and frankly, and confound it, the Rambler got jealous and I applied for the job of covering this year's tournament myself. My petition, I am glad to say, met with approval.

Whether the Green Belt Golf association will go into ecstacies over the prospect of having the Rambler write about their tournament is thoroughly doubtful, and will be more uncertain than ever when I admit, with bared heart, that I am a total and uncompromising flop once I get into plus fours and grab a driver. However, the Green Belt didn't invite us to play, but to write. In that department the Rambler will strain to produce his best efforts.

ROW FOLLOWS HIT BATSMEN

Ash Holds Tribe to 5 Hits And Wins, 6 to 3

By FRED THOMPSON

The Spudders defeated the San Antonio Indians, 6 to 3, here Thursday, but that was only half of the show.

The contest, a bitter, and hard-fought one, was climaxed by a clash between Ash Hillin, tall right-handed Spudder pitcher, and Uncle Robby Robertson, San Antonio skipper and veteran of many a baseball campaign.

The scuffle came in the ninth inning. The cause of it all was that Hillin had hit a couple of Indian batsmen.

Hillin had pitched a three-hit game until the ninth, when he weakened, allowing a double and single, and then hit Edwards, batting for Stein, the Indian pitcher. That loaded the bases. Then Hillin hit Flaskamper, Indian second baseman, to force in a run. Earlier in the game Ash had hit Sanguinet, bringing a storm of protest from the Indian dugout, and when Hillin hit the two men in the ninth Robertson rushed to the mound and attacked the Spudder twirler.

Hillin did not fight back, but held the diminutive Robertson at arm's length and the San Antonio skipper presented the ludicrous spectacle of waving his arms about wildly in an attempt to punch Hillin on the nose. Finally, seeing Hillin was too big and had such long arms that he could never get in reach, Uncle Robby adopted kicking tactics before players from both sides swarmed about and separated the pair.

Smiles Through It

The old question of whether a pitcher intentionally hits a batsman, or does it accidentally, was, of course, the real point at issue. Uncle Robby, after it was all over, said "You never can tell when a pitcher is hitting players intentionally or not." Hillin told The Record News after the game that he did not hit any of the batsmen intentionally, and that he was doing his best to pitch a good ball game.

"Anybody with common sense should know that a pitcher doesn't want to dust a batter off with the bases loaded," Hillin said. About the assault made on him Hillin said: "The San Antonio team had been 'on' me from the very first of the game, trying to get me out of there, and I had held on, so when Robertson came out and wanted to fight I just made up my mind I'd control my temper. I didn't even swing at him, and didn't want to."

Robertson was on the coaching line when Hillin hit the first man in the ninth, and the skipper then assailed Hillin verbally. When the next man was hit the verbal encounter got warmer, and finally Robby's ire was such that he wanted to fight.

Hillin was calm, and even smiling through it all. He did not answer the veteran's attack and never struck a blow, and due to his lengthy arms came out of it with only a few scratches on the nose, which Robby finally reached with his finger nails.

All grew quiet for a time after Robby and Hillin had been forced apart, and Pressnell went in to finish the game for Hillin. Press found the bases loaded but retired the next three batters, allowing only one runner to score. The game over, fans in the stand, who got a huge kick out of the physical encounter, started a razzberry session with Flaskamper, one of the hit batsmen, as their victim. Flaskamper answered these attacks heatedly, telling one woman, who had joined the others, to "go home and do your cooking!"

The scuffle between Robertson and Hillin was the first case of the season to come under the new league rule which President Gardner sponsored this year. The new rule states players who come to blows shall not be ordered from the park. Neither Hillin nor Robertson were ousted, and neither was subjected to any other penalty.

Hillin pitched a fine ball game, holding the Indians hitless for the first five innings and allowing only one hit in each inning thereafter until the ninth, when they got their other two to make a total of five. Meanwhile the Spudders connected for 11 hits and generally had a hitting feast the entire afternoon. The Spudder victory gave them the series, two games to one.

Today the team goes against the Galveston team, which will remain here three days.

Gets Chubby Out

Flaskamper and Orr hit on their first trips to the plate the first two games of the series, but they didn't Thursday. Flaskamper was called out on strikes as the game opened and then Garms and Scharein turned in some spectacular fielding to retire Orr and Sanguinet in order. Little Debs ran far down left field foul territory near the stands to catch Orr's hoist and Scharein raced square into left field to take Sanguinet's fly in that direction.

The Spudders threatened in their half when Garms walked and took third on Stanton's hit through the box after Allday had popped up to the catcher. Gullic, however, hit into a double play, third to second to first.

Two walks cost Hillin a run in the first of the second. Stebbins and Hamilton, first up, both drew passes. They advanced on Nash's sacrifice to Stanton and Stebbins scored from third when De Viveiros grounded out to Stanton unassisted. Heath then lined out to Garms for the third out.

Badgro walked when the Spuds came up to pave the way for some scoring. Fuss singled to right and Badgro slid into third safe. Scharein grounded out, pitcher to first, Fuss taking second. Bryant delivered a single to left center, scoring Badgro and Fuss. Hillin flied out to center and Bryant was thrown out stealing, catcher to short, to close the frame.

The Tribe was impotent in the first of the third. Stein grounded out Stanton to Hillin, who covered first; Flaskamper grounded out Scharein to Stanton and Scoop Scharein stabbed Orr's line drive. The Spudder half opened merrily. Nash misjudged Garms' fly to right and it went for a triple. Allday, however, forced Garms at the plate, short to catcher. Nash was better on Stanton's hoist to center, and he caught it. Gullic singled past the third baseman, Allday taking second. Badgro then doubled down the left field foul line, scoring Allday and Gullic. Fuss ended the festivities by grounding out, second to first.

Hitless Again

Hillin pitched his fourth consecutive hitless inning in the next go-round, Sanguinet grounding out Allday to Stanton and Stebbins and Hamilton popping up to Scharein and Stanton, respectively. The home half was featured by some not very inspiring base running. After Scoop Scharein had strolled Bryant lined out to center. Then Hillin flied out to left. The ball looked like it was in there and Scoop took out for third, but Chubby Orr caught it and Scharein was doubled off second, left field to short to second.

Old Ash got into a hole the first of the fifth but came out of it like a master. He walked the first two up, Nash and De Viveiros, but Heath flied out to Gullic. Badgro backed up almost against the left field fence to make a daring catch of Lefty Stein's high one, and Flaskamper flied out to Gullic. Scharein, grounded out pitcher to first to open the home half. Allday walked and went to third on Stanton's hit to right, but Gullic hit into a double play, third to second to first.

Hillin showed he had the stuff of which good pitchers are made in the first of the sixth, when he retired the Tribe scoreless after they had packed the sacks. Orr grounded out Allday to Stanton. Hillin hit Sanguinet to get the first Redskin on base. Stebbins hit a double play ball to Scharein, who could have completed the play had he thrown hard to Allday, but he tossed it easily instead and Stebbins was safe at first. With two out, Hamilton got the first San Antonio hit of the day, a scratch single to third, Stebbins taking second. Nash walked, filling the bases, but De Viveiros grounded out Hillin to Stanton to retire the side.

Spuds Increase Lead

The Spuds added to their lead with an unearned run in the last of the sixth. Badgro singled to center. Fuss singled to center and Badgro was thrown out at third, center to third, Fuss taking second on the throwin. Scharein flied out to right, and when Sanguinet threw the ball in the Spudder dugout Fuss scored. Bryant grounded out, second to first, to retire the side.

The Indians got another single in the first of the seventh, but that was all. Heath got the blow, a clean hit to right but Hillin fanned Stein and fine fielding got rid of the next two batters. Badgro made a sensational run to catch Flaskamper's foul to left and Allday made a quick play on Orr's slow grounder. Stein walked Hillin to open the last of the frame. He never got further, however, for Garms was called out on strikes, Allday filed out to right, and Stanton lined out to second.

The Indians' third hit came in the eighth. Sanguinet struck out and Stebbins registered a single to center. Hamilton popped up to Bryant and Nash filed out to Gullic. Gullic opened up the Spudder half with a double to right center. They finally got Badgro out, Red popping up to second. Fuss hit to center, scoring Gullic. Scharein grounded out, third to first, Fuss taking second. Bryant popped up to second for the last out.

The Big Rally

The Tribe started a rally in the last frame when DeViveiros doubled against the left field fence. Heath lined one through Garms' legs for a base hit, sending De Viveiros to third. Walker went in to run for Heath and Edwards batted for Stein. Hillin hit Edwards on the elbow to load the bases. Hillin weakened again and hit Flaskamper on the hand, forcing in De Viveiros. Robertson's scuffle with Hillin followed. Pressnell relieved Hillin on the mound. Orr popped up to Scharein. Sanguinet filed out to Gullic and Walker scored, Edwards taking third. Stebbins grounded out, Pressnell to Stanton to end it.

He Held His Temper

From the time he pitched his first ball in the game against San Antonio yesterday until Uncle Robby went on the warpath young Ash Hillin was under verbal fire from the Indian dugout and coaching lines, but he controlled himself and turned in a sweet five-hit game to down the Tribe. And when Uncle Robby wanted to fight Hillin again held his temper—and also Uncle Robby, who wasn't big enough to get around Hillin's long arms.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)—Rallies from an early decline in cotton today were followed by renewed weakness.

July contracts closed at 9.69, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 11 to 15 points.

The opening was steady, in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables, the lower opening of the stock market, and report of improving weath in the South. The decline seemed to bring in some trade buying at these prices as well as covering, and the market steadied up when the official forecast for fair and warmer in the South failed to materially stimulate offerings.

The market weakened again in the late trading in sympathy with the grain and stock markets. October declined 10.03 and December 10.26 and the close was at the lowest of the day of most positions.

The report of the census bureau placing domestic consumption for April for 508,714 bales, compared with 490,586 in March was a shade under expectations but apparently without much effect on the market. Liverpool cables said that liquidation in that market had been absorbed by covering, promoted by the reduction in the Bank of England rate, but that Manchester was unsettled with the decline in cotton checking business in goods.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 14. (AP)—Trading was moderate in cotton today and prices fluctuated without any real definite trend. After opening easier on poor cables prices eased off on good weather in the belt and lower stocks, losing 10 to 11 points in early trading. The market later rallied on the fairly bullish census report on April domestic mill consumption, the lowering of the Bank of England money rate and the increase in Liverpool spot sales to 12,000 bales. Shorts covered and there was some trade buying, prices recovering 11 to 13 points from the lows. The market was slightly easier after mid-session losing 4 to 5 points from the highs. The market eased off sharply in the late trading owing to a break in stocks and the active months declined 13 to 16 points from the highs to new lows for the day. The close was steady and a shade above the lowest showing net losses for the day of 10 to 13 points.

The census bureau made April consumption by domestic mills 508,000 against 495,586 in March this year and 532,911 in April last year.

Liverpool came in 4 to 5 penny points worse than due and private cables stated that there was local and foreign liquidation, but shorts covered on the lowering of the Bank of England's rediscount rate from 3 to 2½ per cent. Manchester cabled that the cloth and yarn markets were unsettled, the reduction in raw cotton prices checking business and stocks accumulating.

July closed at 9.71, down 10 points net for the day and October closed at 10.03 down 13 points net.

Stocks Hit New Low Prices With Rails Leading Downward Move

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 14. (US)—Stocks slumped to new low prices today especially in the railroad department. Action of the market was similar to that on the previous day, with persistent pressure against various leading industrial stocks and sharp recessions, on light volume, in the rails.

All in all, offerings again were on rather limited scale yet among a large number of stocks the net setbacks for the day were sizeable. Public utility shares joined the rails and industrials in their recession.

There was no surface news to account for the steady yielding of prices, but there was throughout the day an undercurrent of nervousness. Pool managers engaged in constructive attempts were very wary of opposing the general trend.

Once again it was Steel common which had to bear the brunt of pressure. This stock sold down an additional three points to a new low for several years and closed at the botton price of the day. The yield on steel is now about 6.6 per cent and obviously is discounting possibility of a dividend reduction, although it is known that the directorate is sharply divided over the advisability of lowering the yield.

With the leading industrials steadily yielding into new low price territory, it was difficult for the remainder of the market to oppose its movement, although again today it was evident that several issues were free of urgent selling.

Yet, attempts to frighten the shorts in such issues as Westinghouse and Case Threshing hardly were successful, although the former yielded only a small fraction on the day.

Lack of success in such operations is due primarily to general recognition that an occasionally overcrowded short interest furnishes principal basis for any constructive operations in such issues at present.

Declines in the railroad shares were substantial and spread throughout the group. Some stocks are back to the lowest levels in a decade and most of the railroad shares have suffered cancellation of their entire advance during the 1924-1929 bull market.

New York Central broke under 90, Atchison sold down 3½ points to a new low, Union Pacific broke five points, and among the lower-grade bonds declines were as large or greater.

Missouri Pacific preferred was down 6½ points, Rock Island 5⅝ points to below 40, at which the yield approaches 13 per cent, and tells an obvious story concerning the $5 dividend. Other rail shares were in supply at or below previous lows for years.

Throughout the day supposedly best-informed sources were avoiding the buying side of the market. In these circles, where underground information is usually best and quickly obtained, chief interest centered around Washington meetings which, it is understood, involve the most important economic-governmental decisions since the now-famous and futile conferences of late 1929.

There is no hiding, in important banking quarters, the impression that far-reaching decisions pertaining to wages and corresponding subjects must be reached in the near future.

The American Federation of Labor public pronouncement and the very apparent position of the railroads combine with the every-day news of prevailing conditions to emphasize the importance to the industrial outlook of a definite decision on the wage problem.

Until this is achieved, the most important factors in the stock market apparently are disinclined to undertake large-scale constructive operations.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 14. (AP)—Cash grain demand, fair.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard 81¼@81¾c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 66½@67½c. No. 2 white 70@70½c; No. 2 yellow 70@70½c.

Oats—No. 2 red 35@36c.

Barley—No. 2 55@56c.

Sorghums—No. 2 yellow milo per 100 pounds $1.36@1.38; No. 2 white kaffir $1.25@1.26.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 14. (AP)—Parallel with the stock market, grains took a downward path today, and suffered two cents or more a bushel tumble in wheat and corn. Stop-loss selling was accelerated by prediction of showers in the Canadian drouth section and by large Russian exports of wheat, whereas North American export demand was slack. Offerings of new 1931 domestic winter wheat on a low basis at Texas points were announced.

Wheat closed nervous at almost the day's bottom figures, a shade to two cents down, corn ⅝@2¼c off, oats showing ¼@⅝c decline, and provisions varying from five cents setback to a rise of two cents.

Extremely optimistic reports regarding the outlook for the 1931 United States winter wheat harvest were current, and messages were received saying dealers in Texas were contracting for new wheat on the basis of 40 cents a bushel at country points.

Selling from northwestern sources was a late feature in wheat. This selling was ascribed to likelihood of rain in Alberta and Saskatchewan provinces, Canada, the largest wheat producing section of the dominion. Earlier, the Canadian forecasts had pointed to unabated drouth.

Auspicious weather for the planting and growth of corn added to the burden of selling in all cereals. Shipping demand for corn was sluggish. Oats gave way with corn.

Provisions averaged lower, responsive to action of hog values and of grain.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, May 14. (US)—A good share of the selling in wheat was attributed to sacrifice of lines to protect margins on securities. Several reactions in stocks have had a similar effect on wheat several times recently after the leading grain had made stubborn advances.

No rains were reported in Canada, but the prospect for moisture was sufficient to scare weather bulls in a market already weakened by adverse speculative influences.

Nat C. Murray figures the average Canadian seeding date is April 21 and the average date of cutting Aug. 19, the average growing period being 121 days. Normally a little more than 50 per cent of the yearly precipitation occurs in this period. Timely rains in this period, he says, can still overcome much of the present deficiency, but it will require better than normal conditions in the future to produce normal yields.

Few friends were left to corn at the close today. The market appeared to receive little support aside from short covering and purchasing by holders of the privileges and with cash demand light, the movement increasing and weather favorable for farm work there appeared little incentive for buying.

Friday's Schedule

Texas Electric vs. Noble-Little.

The Banks took over an undisputed league leadership in the Commercial league Thursday afternoon on Debus field by nosing out the Malones Beauties, 4 to 3. It was a tight pitchers' battle all the way, with errors playing a big part in the scoring. The Banks collected only four hits off Geyer, half of which went to Red Thurman. Jack Doyle, Rabbit Gordon and Jewel Sisk poled out a pair of bingles to get six of the Malones nine hits.

Rook played a sensational fielding game in center field for the Bankers. Gordon, for Malones, and McGregor, of the Banks, also turned in some dazzling plays on the defense. It was a tough game for Geyer to lose, and was by no means his own fault. His defense cracked behind him in the pinches, and the Malone bats were silenced with men on the bases. Geyer fanned five men, four of them in succession, the last man in the first and all three in the second. Score:

PRESBYTERIANS BEAT DIXONS

The First Presbyterian church baseball club of the Commercial league scored a 7 to 4 victory over the Dixon Sign company team Thursday afternoon on Harrison field to tie the Sign Painters for fourth place in the league standing. Larry Robertson was the hero of the day for the Churchmen, going to the relief of Mitchell Scarbrough in the second inning to pitch hitless baseball the rest of the way. Only one man of the last 18 to face Robertson was able to get on base, and this was a walk to Dutch Chatterton. Robertson worked five and two-thirds near perfect innings to be credited as the winning pitcher. Score:

Wichitans Ride 237 Miles Per Hour In Demonstration of New Plane Here

Wichita Falls aviation enthusiasts received a new thrill Thursday afternon when a group of them were given a ride at the maximum speed of 237 miles per hour in a new $25,000 Lookheed Orion plane of the Bowen airlines.

P. F. Hotchkiss, pilot for the Bowen company who received his training at Kell field several years ago as a student of the Lone Star Aviation company, was flying the big speed ship on a good will tour of Texas cities and landed here about 4 p. m.

The Bowen company now operates two airlines, linking San Antonio and Tulsa and Houston and Oklahoma City. The lines cross at Dallas. J. Glenn Groves, with offices in the lobby of the Holt hotel, is local representative.

The new Lockheed planes have a low wing connecting with the bottom of the fuselage and are powered with a 460-horsepower Pratt-Whitney-Wasp air cooled radial motor. There is room for six passengers besides the pilot in the low barrel-shaped cabin. The wheels and landing gear fold up into the bottom of the fuselage when the plane is aloft. The mechanism for raising and lowering the landing gear is operated by air pressure and red lights on the dash board flash a warning that the landing gear is raised. These lights change to green when the gear is lowered preparatory to landing.

The pilot sits in an open cockpit in front of the main cabin and has an isinglass cover which can be pulled over his head to shut off wind or rain.

Mr. Hotchkiss said that the Bowen company was planning to use these new fast cabin planes on both of their Texas-Oklahoma airlines.

When certain airline schedules are changed next Sunday it will be possible to fly to San Antonio from Wichita Falls in three hours and to Houston in two and one-half hours. This can be done by catching a Mid-Continent plane for Fort Worth at Kell fi eldat 3:45 p. m. A switch will be made in Fort Worth to a Bowen plane and the landing time will be 6:45 p. m. at San Antonio and 6:15 p. m. in Houston.

Mr. Hotchkiss took up two loads of passengers for trial trips over the city Thursday afternoon. In the first grou pwere included Dr. L. Mackechney, Mrs. J. E. McKanna, Joe Carriga, G. L. Coffey, William N. Nichols and Louis T. Hamlett, of the Times-Record News staff. The second group included Perry Wright, Tom Noble, C. H. Booth of Taylor, Texas; L. R. Stringer, W. M. Neely and Fulcher Armstrong, president of the Wichita Falls Air Transport company and manager of Kell field.

Government to Supply Vaccines For Battle Against Five Dread Diseases

Medical Society Here to Join in Program; Free Service For Those Unable to Pay and Physician's Fee Only for Others

Wichita county physicians, assembled at the General hospital in special called session, Thursday night completed organization for offering typhoid, smallpox, diphtheria, meningitis and tetanus immunization to every man, woman, and child in the county.

Beginning June 1, the United States government will furnish free the preventive vaccines for each of the five diseases. The materials will be distributed through County Health Officer Dr. M. A. Beckman to every member of the county medical society. The immunization treatments will be given free to all applicants unable to pay a reasonable physician's fee. Applicants able to pay will be charged for the doctor's treatment only, materials for all being supplied by the government without cost.

Society Pledges Support

The materials will be available in the offices of all members of the society and applicants are urged to call for treatments at the earliest possible date.

The society in its meeting Thursday night pledged its wholehearted support to the movement as a step forward in preventative medicine.

Dr. F. R. Collard, president of the society explained that the dangers of typhoid epidemics are especially acute during the summer months and pointed out that every individual requires immunization every two years. He emphasized the danger to the entire community in the existence and spread of the disease and urged every citizen of the county to take advantage of the unusual opportunity for preventative treatment at a small cost.

The availability and the necessity of the vaccines will be explained to every school child and to members of the Parent-Teacher associations before the close of the school term. It was explained that the administration of toxoid early in the summer will free a school child of danger from diptheria, the physicians said, and a child treated early in June can return to school in the fall in security.

Government Vaccines

Teachers have been asked to cooperate with the physicians in urging children and parents to take advantage of the combined service of the government and the medical society.

Dr. Beckman said Thursday night that the preventative program as outlined will save the county thousands of dollars by preventing disease which would have to be treated through public funds. It was said that the epidemic of typhoid fever in Burkburnett two years ago cost the county in hospital, physicians, nurses, and corrective costs approximately $20,000.

Enough of the vaccines will be sent to Wichita county to treat every resident of the county and the entire medical fraternity is ready to make them immediately available, Dr. Collard said.

AUTOS STRIKE TWO CHILDREN

Boy and Girl of 5 Escape Serious Injury

Two children escaped serious injury here Thursday when struck by automobiles.

George Rice Jr., 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rice, 2212 Jasper street, was bruised when he was struck by a machine driven by Charles L. Mendenhall of Archer county late Thursday afternoon in the 2200 block on Holliday street. Witnesses to the accident told Earl Brooks and Herbert Pogue, motorcycle officers, that the child ran from the side of a building into the street and into the path of the car. The boy was carried to the Wichita General hospital, but was released after an examination.

Donna Phillips, 5, was attended at the Wichita General hospital shortly before noon for minor injuries after she had been struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. J. H. Hall, route No. 5, near the intersection of Elm and Mississippi streets. Several children were playing in the street, according to the report of Fred Fountain and Bob Miller, city detectives, the Phillips child running into the path of the automobile.

OFFICERS RAID LIQUOR PLANT

200-Gallon Still and Mash Seized

A huge still, with 1,200 gallons of whisky mash, was seized and three men arrested near Iowa Park late Thursday by Ben Smith and Curley Kincaid, deputy sheriffs.

The still, with a capacity of 200-gallons, was in full operation when the officers appeared on the scene, it was reported. The mash, which was ready to be run, was contained in 24 barrels.

The whisky plant was located in a pasture eight miles south of Iowa Park, the officers said, and is possibly the largest to be seized during the administration of Sheriff Browning.

The three operators of the still were lodged in the county jail to await the filing of charges Friday.

Georgia Crackers Revive Memories Of Weaver Boys

"Unusual entertainment" is the term with which Victor B. Lowrey, manager of the Majestic theater, describes the act of George Stanley and his Georgia Crackers, who appear for a week, starting Saturday, at the Majestic.

Folk songs and a type of wit peculiar to the hill country of Georgia compose the act, which is presented by five men and a girl, all natives of the state whose rural characters they portray. Song and dances of the group are of a primitive type found in the "backwoodsy" sections of Georgia. The offerings of the Georgia Crackers, Mr. Lowrey said, have a freshness rarely found in vaudeville and a humor lacking in the usual comedy.

Comparison of the Georgians act is made with the presentation of the Weaver Brothers here some time ago. An attendance record was made with the appearance of the Weaver Brothers, Mr. Lowrey declared, but the quaint rythmic mountain tunes and the hill-billy wit of the Georgia Crackers are expected to create a new attendance mark during their showing at the Majestic.

The screen attraction will be Ramon Novarro in his latest success, "Daybreak."

STRAND: "Seed" with John Boles, Genevieve Tobin and Lois Wilson. Short subjects and sound news.

MAJESTIC: Jack Oakie, Mitzi Green, Eugene Pallette and Stuart Erwin in "Due Ranch." Musical and dance novelty, Bimbo cartoon and sound news.

GEM: "Riders of the North" with Bob Custer. Chapter No. 3 of "King of the Wild." Fable comedy.

"Seed" is said to be one of these controversial things, and this paper has been buffeted about in the birth control and divorce scuffles quite enough for this season. All that is said about it, therefore, will refer to the acting, casting and directing. Charles G. Norris will not be reprimanded or defended for writing the book.

◇ ◇ ◇

Just to be perfectly frank, it sounds just a little tantalizing, probably because there is no press sheet or advance advertising out on it. It is so new (being shown here before release date) that there are no glamorous reviews from other cities. It has no reputation to live up to. Whatever Wichita Falls thinks about it will be based on the exact opinion of the audiences.

◇ ◇ ◇

The Strand manager, who supposedly gets his instructions from some super-manager, advertises that it pictures the rivalry of a woman with five children and one who has as many novels for the affections of the children's father. It is noticeable that the advertising never indicates which one of the two wins, but I'd like to have three guesses and use the first two of them on the Spudders. Virtue always triumphs and the movie idea of virtue never varies.

Dallas Pastor to Speak At C-C Luncheon Today

Dr. L. N. D. Wells, pastor of the East Dallas Christian church, will deliver the principal address on the program of the Junior chamber of commerce luncheon to be held Friday noon at the Wichita club, it was announced Thursday.

Honor guests at the luncheon will be Mrs. R. R. Fisk, woman's state golf champion, and Mrs. F. C. Rochon, putting champion.

Special entertainment will be provided by Miss Katherine Sue Ralston, Iowa Park blues singer. Dinner music will be played by Miss Pauline Fulcher.

The speaker will be introduced by the Rev. J. E. Montgomery, new pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church.

Temple Shell, first vice president of the Junior chamber of commerce, will preside in the absence of T. J. Waggoner Jr., who will attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Lubbock.

Services Today For S. C. Estes

Funeral services for S. C. Estes, 59, father of A. C. Estes of Wichita Falls, will be held from the First Baptist church at Vernon Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body will be returned to Wichita Falls for burial in Riverside.

Mr. Estes died Wednesday night at his home in Vernon. He had been a resident of Vernon for the past five years, and prior to that period had resided in Burkburnett.

Surviving are the widow; one daughter, Miss Mary Estes, of Vernon; and four sons, J. K. Estes of Amarillo, A. C. Estes of Wichita Falls and H. D. and Douglas Estes, both of Vernon.

The Merkle Undertaking company is in charge of arrangements.

JURY AWARDS WOMAN $1,000

Verdict Returned in Suit Against City

Miss Louise Lipscomb was awarded a judgment for $1,000 against the city of Wichita Falls by a jury which returned its verdict late Thursday afternoon before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court.

The plaintiff's action was based upon injuries alleged to have been sustained on Jan. 29, 1930, when she stepped upon a meter box between the sidewalk and the curb in front of the William Mary hotel at Tenth and Travis streets. The covering of the receptacle was said to have been loose, allowing the plaintiff's foot to drop partially into the opening.

Luther Hoffman and Otis E. Nelson represented the plaintiff, while Thelbert Martin conducted the defense for the city. The suit was brought for about $5,000.

Katy Employes To Meet Here Today

Trainmen and road service men of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern branch of the M-K-T railway will meet in this city Friday morning at 10 o'clock for their monthly safety and fuel oil economy meeting, according to A. Hallman, Katy trainmaster.

Aside from the current study of safety methods such as is pursued by employes of practically all large industries, it was stated, employes of the railroad apply themselves persistently to the development of greater economy in fuel consumption. Constituting one of the chief items of expense for railways, the factor of fuel has become in recent years the field for keen competition between various railway systems. It was said that in December of 1930, the M-K-T railway ranked first among all No. 1 rail systems of this country in fuel economy.

Plans for an unusually large assembly at the next monthly meeting, June 19, are already being made, it was stated. Several officers of the railroad company, including safety officials, are expected to be present. It was predicted that more than a score of employes from the Wichita Falls-Forgan, Okla., branch would be in the city Friday for the May meeting.

Property Renditions To Close Late Friday

The final extension for renditions of city, school and irrigation taxes will close Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, it was announced by W. Ralph Hyer and W. C. Martin, city and irrigation tax collectors.

The renditions were to have closed May 1 but through the courtesy of the two officials the time was extended until May 15.

Persons who have not yet made their renditions of personal property were urged by Mr. Hyer to get them in before the deadline in order to avoid confusion for both the tax payer and the tax office.

A short talk was given by Will H. Evans, organizer and past president of the Rotary club at Sherman. The president's table was used Thursday for seating past presidents of the local club. Mr. Estes announced the receipt of a new gavel, made by Ed Bebb from native mesquite, and a second sent from Wallingford, Vt., birthplace of Paul Harris, president emeritus of Rotary International.

The season's record for warm weather was broken here Thursday when the thermometer registered 84 degrees, according to information furnished by the Texas Electric Service company weather bureau.

Officers Seize Beer And Mash in Raid

Another source of beer for thirsty Wichitans was choked off Thursday afternoon when deputy sheriffs raided a crude brewery located in a creek bottom eight miles south of Iowa Park.

Deputies E. L. Kincaid and Ben Smith arrested three men at the plant, seizing 250 bottles of beer and 24 barrels of mash.

The evidence will be placed before federal authorities Friday morning, the officers announced.

NEW PRODUCE FIRM FORMED

Company to Buy Cream And Poultry for Swift

A new market for poultry, eggs and cream will be available to producers here Monday when C. Y. Elliott and D. W. Ray open the Elliott-Ray Produce company at 1511 Lamar street.

The new concern will represent Swift and company here, the latter firm to be used as an outlet for produce purchased in this section, Mr. Ray said Thursday.

Eggs and all kinds of poultry will be purchased, it was announced, although cream will be the only product purchased in the milk class. Whole milk will not be received, it was said. A schedule of prices to be paid will be announced before the market opens Monday for business.

The building at 1511 Lamar is now being prepared for occupancy and equipment is being installed.

1827 Expense Still Rules

At an inquest at Omagh, Ireland, Coroner W. H. Fyffe protested against the inadequate expenses he was allowed to pay witnesses attending from a distance. All he could pay a witness who had come from Newtonstewart was 50 cents. This amount was fixed in 1827 and had not been changed. The matter may be placed before the next legislature.
