

Council Approves 10-Million Gallon Sale Of Water Monthly To Col-Tex

Company Planning Long-Time Work

City Council has approved a contract for sale of approximately 10 million gallons of raw water per month to Col-Tex Refining Company.

The water (not treated in the filter plant) will be sold to Col-Tex at rate of 12.5 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Approval for the water deal came Monday night in unanimous vote at the council meeting with Bill Gibson of Big-Spring, utilities engineer for Cosden Petroleum Corporation, representing Col-Tex.

"At the same time, but with one councilman declining to vote, the council awarded a building contract to Root Construction Company at a bid of $1,985.

The company's proposal was $15 higher than a $1,970 bid submitted by John Harvey, another local contractor. However, except for O. L. (Doc) Simpson, who abstained, the council accepted the Root proposal because of the firm's data concerning liability insurance.

Price for the water was recommended by City Manager Rollin K. Sneathen, who studied lake water production costs over a five year period before arriving at the 12.5 cents figure.

The city manager specified that the 12.5-cent price would be for taking untreated water at the filter plant at the end of the city's lake-to-plant pipe line with Col-Tex providing storage so the city could pump water to Col-Tex when the city was ready to deliver.

If Col-Tex provides no storage and the city is required to be prepared to furnish the refinery with water at any time during a 24-hour period, then the price will go up to 14.5 cents per 1,000.

Sneathen also recommended a minimum charge of $100 per month during winter months if the city has to employ extra water department personnel to furnish Col-Tex water.

The water will be provided Col-Tex at rate of 300 gallons per minute, if needed. That would equal an amount of more than 12 million gallons per month.

"But with this water," Gibson said, "we expect to curtail some use of water and not use 300 gallons per minute."

Col-Tex at present is using only 100,000 gallons of city water per month.

Gibson said that Col-Tex will spend about $15,000 to get the lake water to its plant in Colorado City. If storage facilities are constructed by the company, approximately $15,000 more will be required.

The Cosden utilities engineer said Col-Tex figures the Colorado City price of water to the refinery is about 2.8 cents above cost. And his firm considers that a reasonable profit for the city.

"We are looking forward to a long time proposition here," Gibson said, "and we hope that all associations with your city will be as pleasant as this one."

Councilmen, in turn, expressed appreciation to Gibson for Cosden and Col-Tex's cooperation and attitude in working out the deal.

City Manager Sneathen reported to councilmen that the city would deliver more than 10,000,000 gallons of water monthly to Col-Tex under present conditions.

However, if use of water within the city continues to increase, then the increase and the Col-Tex sale will "speed up the time" when the city will have to increase its pipe line facilities between the filter plant and the lake.

The future pipe line improvements will first require that a 16-inch section of the line be increased to 16 inch.

At some later date, if water usage continues to "spiral," then a 14-inch section will have to be replaced by 16 inch.

It was pointed out by the manager that installation of a 16-inch line for the entire distance between the lake and filter plant would cost $1,000,000.

Benson, Seaton Sample Drouth Plan Ideas As Ike Leads Tour

President Eisenhower looked at and listened to the dismal drouth picture on his tour of San-Angelo, Monday.

But probably just as important was the intense interest shown by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson and Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton.

Joe Boatright of the Record and Bill Quimby, Chamber of Commerce manager, who both made the tour, said both Benson and Seaton mingled with reporters of this area to find out exactly what the farmers want.

And the answers they received pointed mainly to more federal aid and relaxed credit.

Both Benson and Seaton frequently switched among the four buses carrying newsmen during the tour to chat with persons from various areas of drouth-stricken West Texas.

The president — with Secret Service agents at his side all time — visited the Wilbert Block farm first, talked to Block and his family, looked at the dry land, watched 16 head of cattle eat prickly pear and inspected the hen house where Block maintains 300 laying hens.

"I'm delighted to see you keeping your chins up," he told the Block family.

Reporters and photographers were allowed to walk from two to three feet behind the President as he toured the farm.

Eisenhower saw his first real demonstration of pear (cactus) burning on the fence row of the 17,000 acre Earl Byrd Ranch south of San Angelo.

This spot on the tour was guarded by Colorado City Highway Patrolmen H. B. Slaughter and Al Chambers. They spent two days in San Angelo, being briefed on security measures. In all, there were 75 highway patrolmen, plus the Rock of Secret Service agents, local police, Texas Rangers and Military police working on the 22-mile tour.

The farm viewed by the President party is probably as dry and desolate as any in West Texas. Total rainfall there in 1956 was slightly over seven inches.

"The cattle feed over which part of the tour progressed sent clouds of billowing dust around the cars and busses, testimony to the land's dryness.

On the last four miles of the tour, persons were allowed to park on the side of the highway to view the caravan. Each car had to be checked by highway patrolman for security purposes.

Several thousand some parking as early as 5 a. m. — wayed to Eisenhower as he passed.

The entire student body of Fairview School turned out for the occasion and displayed a 70-foot banner reading:

Fairview School Says: Howdy, Mr. President.

Ike was his friendly self, shaking hands and giving forth with his big smile.

Right along side of the President during the tour was his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Snyder, and Jim Hagerty, Presidential Press Secretary.

Also standing out in the crowd were Allan Shivers, in his last day as Governor of Texas, and Tad Hutchinson, prominent Republican from Houston.

Interesting to watch at their work were the Secret Service agents. They carefully checked the President's auto before he began the tour.

And according to reports, they were busy for two weeks prior to the tour, checking and double-checking the tour route.

The apartment in which Ike slept at Goodfellow Air Base was left vacant until his arrival in order that Secret Service could see TOUR Pg. 5

FIRST IN A SERIES

Scout Roundtables To Start Jan. 24

First of a series of scouting roundtables in Colorado City is scheduled Jan. 24.

The roundtables for all leaders and adult workers in Mitchell County's Cub Scout and Explorer programs will begin at 7:30 p. m. in Junior.

Other meetings in the series will be conducted the fourth Thursday of each succeeding month.

Purpose of the roundtables will be for adult leaders to keep abreast of all local, district and council scouting activities.

The meetings will feature exchange of ideas, demonstrations, dramatizations and general discussions on pertinent scouting questions.

"This is our first effort to have roundtables here in Colorado City each month," said John T. Merritt, assistant district Scout commissioner for Colorado City and Loraine, "and I believe we will be successful if leaders in the various units will attend and participate."

Named as roundtable commissioners are Jake Garrett, Pat

Shields and C. G. (Skeet) Harrington.

Garrett will direct the Cub leaders' roundtable and all den mothers and committeemen are urged to attend his session.

Roundtable for Boy Scout leaders, including all scoutmasters and committeemen, will be led by Shields, one of the outstanding scoutmasters of the entire Buffalo Council.

Harrington will conduct the Explorer roundtable. His group will include Explorer advisors, elected Explorers in troops and posts.

It was emphasized by Merritt that the roundtables will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. and will adjourn not later than 9 p. m.

Elmer Martin will be administrative assistant district committee and will recruit six or eight neighborhood commissioners for assignment to scouting units.

Merritt reported that scout leaders here are now working toward a Colorado City merchant acquiring the distributorship here for scout uniforms, literature and equipment.

"But with this water," Gibson said, "we expect to curtail some use of water and not use 300 gallons per minute."

Col-Tex at present is using only 100,000 gallons of city water per month.

Gibson said that Col-Tex will spend about $15,000 to get the lake water to its plant in Colorado City. If storage facilities are constructed by the company, approximately $15,000 more will be required.

The Cosden utilities engineer said Col-Tex figures the Colorado City price of water to the refinery is about 2.8 cents above cost. And his firm considers that a reasonable profit for the city.

"We are looking forward to a long time proposition here," Gibson said, "and we hope that all associations with your city will be as pleasant as this one."

Councilmen, in turn, expressed appreciation to Gibson for Cosden and Col-Tex's cooperation and attitude in working out the deal.

City Manager Sneathen reported to councilmen that the city would deliver more than 10,000,000 gallons of water monthly to Col-Tex under present conditions.

However, if use of water within the city continues to increase, then the increase and the Col-Tex sale will "speed up the time" when the city will have to increase its pipe line facilities between the filter plant and the lake.

The future pipe line improvements will first require that a 16-inch section of the line be increased to 16 inch.

At some later date, if water usage continues to "spiral," then a 14-inch section will have to be replaced by 16 inch.

It was pointed out by the manager that installation of a 16-inch line for the entire distance between the lake and filter plant would cost $1,000,000.

See COUNCIL Pg. 5

Price for the water was recommended by City Manager Rollin K. Sneathen, who studied lake water production costs over a five year period before arriving at the 12.5 cents figure.

The city manager specified that the 12.5-cent price would be for taking untreated water at the filter plant at the end of the city's lake-to-plant pipe line with Col-Tex providing storage so the city could pump water to Col-Tex when the city was ready to deliver.

If Col-Tex provides no storage and the city is required to be prepared to furnish the refinery with water at any time during a 24-hour period, then the price will go up to 14.5 cents per 1,000.

Sneathen also recommended a minimum charge of $100 per month during winter months if the city has to employ extra water department personnel to furnish Col-Tex water.

The water will be provided Col-Tex at rate of 300 gallons per minute, if needed. That would equal an amount of more than 12 million gallons per month.

IN AINSWORTH HOME

1921 Club Studies About Older Women in the Business World

"Women in the Business World" was topic of program for the 1921 Study Club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Pete Ainsworth.

In addition to studying about older business and professional women, the club heard a review of the lives of Marianne Runey and Barbara Cohn, who make long-playing records of poets reading their verse.

The general review of women in the business world was by Mrs. M. J. Dawson. Her talk was based on an article from the Saturday Evening Post, dealing particularly with the success of Greenwich House in New York, N. Y., where refresher courses are instructed for older women in typing, stenography and bookkeeping.

Mrs. Ainsworth read the story of Marianne Runey and Barbara Cohn. The review was compiled by another club member, Mrs. P. K. Mackay.

The girls, both recent Hunter College graduates, who had first met at the blackboard during a Creek Class, had nothing to go on but their own love of poetry, as fragile a commodity as has ever been taken into the market place, the club members heard.

"Having selected a product that appeared to be in no public demand," Mrs. Ainsworth read, "the girls picked a label that seemed likely to kill any public interest that might arise."

"They named their firm 'Caelomon,'" she continued, "after the first English poet whose name is known."

Caelomon now has 25 titles on its list, the speaker said, including records of playwright Tennessee Williams—the poets, Osbert and Edith Sitwell—the voice of actress Judith Anderson reading poems of Edna St. Vincent Millay, and the recordings of Peter Marshall that have been captured from tapes in his church in Washington, D. C.

Recordings of Dylan Thomas were played by the hostess concluding the program.

Mrs. V. R. Trulock, parliamentarian, presided during the meeting in absence of the president.

Mrs. A. O. Hickman, and vice president, Mrs. J. S. (Jess) Craddock, Sr.

Members attending were Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. E. L. Dorn, Mrs.

W. L. Doss, Mrs. U. G. Hardison, Mrs. W. C. Hooks, Mrs. Lee Lavender, Mrs. Sam L. Majors, Mrs. J. T. Pritchett, Mrs. O. E. Rhode, Mrs. W. W. Rhode, Mrs. C. L. Root, Mrs. Trulock and Mrs. Ainsworth.

Tiller, Smith Tie for Cub Church Honors

Johnny Tiller and Winston Smith tied for church award honors in Den 2, Pack 8 of Cub Scouts.

Cubs read the creation of the world from the first chapter of Genesis. A large picture of the winter sky was studied following the reading. Each cub wrote an original yell about the planets. Robert Martin served cinnamon rolls and soft drinks to Trays Cawthon, Gregory Cawthon, Robert Davis, Winston Smith, Johnny Tiller and Mrs. J. A. Martin, den mother.

IN LOCAL MEETING

Cancer Research Cited by Society

"Real hope for cancer cure is research," Frank Kelley, local Magnolia Petroleum executive, told the Mitchell County Cancer Society at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office, Tuesday night.

Kelley recently attended the State Cancer Meeting in Dallas, representing the local chapter. In Dallas he heard Dr. Von R. Potter, noted biochemist, emphasize that enough progress has been made in cancer control in the last four years to give hope of cure to 33 per cent of victims.

Cancer funds help pay these much needed chemists. The goal is to get 100 top scientists for research on tissues and cells.

Dr. Kenneth Cowan, local physician, discussed cure for cancers easy to diagnose compared to those difficult to find and diagnose.

"Great strides of progress are being made," Dr. Cowan said, "and a doctor who does not keep with monthly developments will find himself behind."

Dr. Cowan paid tribute to the biochemists who are tirelessly working to find cause and cure for the disease.

Dick Simpson, Howard County rancher and civic leader, now chairman of the 21-county cancer division, praised the citizens of Mitchell County and the young Mitchell County Cancer Society for its work.

Simpson has served as Howard County Cancer Unit chairman and as chairman for the Howard County United Fund organization. He pointed out reasons believed, the funds should be separated.

"Cancer funds help pay for research, save lives and provide new educational pamphlets for doctors as well as the lay citizen," Simpson said.

Mrs. John Womack of Cuthbert who also attended the Dallas meet, gave additional sideights emphasizing service that the cancer volunteer workers want to give patients.

Attending were Mrs. Tom Grant, Mrs. Dewey Davis, Mrs. J. Ralph Lee, Mrs. Kirk Taylor.

plant at some future date would have to be followed by increase in filter plant facilities.

Snechen, reported, however, that now the city with present pipe line facilities can furnish water for capacity operation of the filter plant and the ColTex water too.

The prices he outlined for the deal, the manager said, would protect the city and provide a small operating margin, too.

Three bids were received for construction of the concrete block building that will house phone equipment moved from the Shell Recreation Building.

Construction of the building to house the Shell Pipe Line is required in the agreement between the city and Shell Pipe Line that gives to the city Shell's 7,000 square foot building here.

Third bidder was Curtis Carpenter, whose proposal was $2,825.

Councilmen consider the bids for several minutes and then recessed briefly before voting for Root's $1,985 bid over Harvey's $1,970 proposal.

Councilman Jeff Taylor made the motion for Root's bid be given "it specified liability insurance" and Baker seconded the motion. The rest of council, except for Simpson, favored the motion.

TOUR

check every piece of furniture that went into the room.

The 100-odd members of the press who made the tour were composed of top-notch reporters and photographers from every major news source in the country, plus several from the British Broadcasting Co.

Approximately 10,000 persons lined the landing strip at Good fellow Sunday night to welcome the President.

And another 3,000 were there Monday, 10 a. m. when he boarded his personal plane on the second leg of his tour.

The Air Force bands played "Hail to the Chief" as he walked from his auto, the plane ramp. Just as he started up the ramp, someone yelled at him. It was Shivers, who had missed saying his goodbyes.

"The President walked out to shake Shivers' hand, spoke for several seconds and then boarded his plane as the bands played "Into the Wild-Blue Yonder."

The tour must have impressed the President. He will ask Congress for an additional $76 million drought aid.

SEVEN OF NEXT EIGHT GAMES AT HOME

Anson, San Angelo Meet C-City in Cage Tilts Here

Colorado High basketball team began a four-game home stand Thursday night when they met the Anson High cagers in Junior High Gym.

The B game was scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and the A game at 8 p.m.

Friday, the Wolves host the Class AAAA San Angelo High Bobcats, with the same time schedule for the B and A games. Seven of the next eight games on the Wolves' schedule are at home.

Tuesday, Wolves try for their first district win in three starts when they host the Lakeview Chiefs.

Friday, Jan. 25, Snyder picked to win the district title comes to Junior High Gym for a district tilt.

Following a game Jan. 26 at Merkel, the Wolves return for three more home games featuring Sweetwater on Jan. 29, Lamesa on Feb. 1 and the high school faculty on Feb. 5.

Wolves with a 7-10 record to the Anson game Thursday have been a traveling team this year.

Of the 17 games played thus far, only three have been on the Wolves' home court.

And as Wolf Coach Ronald Services explained, the Junior High Gym isn't exactly like a home court to his team since they have worked out only three times there this season.

Majority of the workouts have been on D.W. Wallace's court due to the conflict with Junior High team workouts.

The new high school gym, now under construction, will probably not be finished this season.

Services hopes for a better showing from the Wolves in their home stand. Despite the fact that the entire team is composed of sophomores and juniors, the Wolf mentor says the team should have won more games than they have.

A number of contests have been lost at the free throw line and at the same time, several have been won there.

For instance, in the Wolves' last game with Anson, the Tigers outscored the Wolves in field goals—17 to 12—but the Wolves connected on 28 free throws to Anson's three to come away with a 52-37 victory.

But in the two games at the Big Lake Tournay, Wolves failed to connect on a fair percentage at the charity line and lost both games by narrow margins.

When the Wolves host San Angelo Friday night, they will be meeting a team that inflicted a 35-22 defeat on them in the Wolves' first game of the season in San Angelo.

Phil Lane, outstanding quarterback on the Angelo grid team, is the top scorer for the Bobcats.

Leading the Wolves will be Richard Compton, top scorer this season from his guard position.

Forward Barton Smith, and guards Don Black and Jimmy Richardson follow Compton in the scoring.

Lack of rebound power in the last two games against Sweetwater and Lamesa has hurt the Wolves.

Snyder is expected to be big dogs in the district race with a 6-5 center, 6-4 forward, 6-2 forward and a couple of 6-footers at guards.

Both Coach Services and Quarterback Club President Joe Sater have made a plea to sports fans here to back the local team.

"Although we have lost 10 games this year, we feel we have a good team and can provide good competition for any team we play," Services said.

"And we would like the people of Colorado City to help us with moral backing," the coach added.

COMPLY OR LOSE NATIONALS, FARMERS TOLD

Bracero Housing Standards Are Revised, Inspections Scheduled

More specific minimum standards for housing Mexican National workers, effective immediately, have been issued by U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security.

Meyer L. Speary, member of the bureau's staff in Big Spring, was here Monday to publicize the new standards.

The minimum standards have been issued under authority provided by Public Law 78 and the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended.

And Speary, emphasized that it is important that farmers comply with the housing standards.

"Employers who do not meet these amended standards will get no more braceros," he said, "and those who now employ braceros must meet the revised standards within a reasonable time or lose their braceros."

The amended minimum housing standards include some 50 items dealing with six aspects of bracero housing including living and sleeping quarters, cooking and eating facilities, sanitary facilities, lighting, laundry, and general standards.

Regional Director Ed McDonald of the Bureau of Employment Security in Dallas is mailing a copy of the amended standards to all approved employers and associations of employers of Mexican National workers. They are advised that they are responsible for seeing that the amended housing standards are met by all user-members to whom Mexican workers are assigned.

On-the-spot housing inspections by Field Representatives of the U. S. Department of Labor will be made to determine whether employers may keep the Mexican workers they now have, or be eligible for the contracting of Mexican workers in the future.

Speary said additional information concerning the housing regulations can be obtained by farmers in Mitchell County by contacting the Dallas office of Bureau of Employment Security.

Lamesa High Quint Nips Wolves, 76-38

Lamesa High's Golden Tornado basketball team used a lightning fast offense to storm over Colorado High Wolves, 76-38, Tuesday night in Lamesa.

Four of the Tornado players scored in double figures to whip the Wolves in the District 3-AAA encounter.

Wolves stayed within yelling distance of the Lamesa team the first quarter—behind only 15-11. But the second quarter saw the Dawson County crew jump ahead, scoring 21 points to the Wolves' 9, to lead at halftime, 36-20.

Richard Compton, leading Wolf scorer with 16 points, kept the Wolves in the game the first quarter, scoring five points while Don Black scored four.

Compton scored six of the Wolves' nine points in the second quarter while Lamesa's Goolsby whipped eight points through the hoop in the same period.

Wolves really felt of their scoring pace in the third quarter as they tallied only six points to Lamesa's 18.

Compton scored four and Black two points in that period.

C-City improved a little in the final period, scoring 12 points to Lamesa's 22.

Others scoring for Lamesa were Corbin and J. Barr, each 11, and Prather with 12.

Wolves were equally as cold at the free throw line, hitting 12 tries and missing 15.

Coach Ronald Services substituted freely with several of the starters warming the bench for several quarters as the subs tried their luck against the red-hot Lamesa team.

LONE STAR FARMER

State Egg Industry Nearing New Era

By JOHN C. WHITE,
Agriculture Commissioner.

Texas egg production may come into its own during 1957 if the Legislature gives it the needed boost through a uniform grading and inspection law.

Such legal protection, assuring the consumer of good quality by approved standards, should increase considerably the value of the egg on the market shelf. The next logical step for the farmer is to get increased egg production through efficient management.

High egg production, high efficiency and low mortality in the laying flock are going to be related to the bird's comfort. An extra two dozen eggs per layer, a saving of one-half pound of feed per dozen on all eggs produced, and a reduction in mortality of five per cent can mean $120-$150 extra income per 100 laying hens.

One item often overlooked is ventilation. Proper ventilation of laying houses is necessary for providing fresh air and removing excessive moisture. Faulty ventilation can result in wide variations in house temperatures which will affect feed consumption and egg production.

Insulation of the poultry house makes ventilation fairly easy and helps: (1) Conserve heat in winter, (2) Keep houses cooler in summer, (3) Prevents extremes in temperature changes, (4) Promotes better circulation because of temperature difference between inside and outside air.

The tendency is to under-ventilate in cold weather to avoid chilling the birds. Reports from a number of experimental stations show that "comfort zone" of laying hens is between 40-65 degrees.

As a rule, inlets for bringing fresh air in through openings not less than two feet above the floor.

Windows and other openings should be adjusted to protect birds from direct drafts. In general, "top lift" windows are most satisfactory and they should be protected with side shields. Outlets for fowl air should be at the highest point of the ceiling and should be designed to permit closing to stop drafts or excessive heat losses.

Attention to these factors will help realize the goal of a more profitable laying flock.

BIBLE COMMENT

Finest Gift Comes With True Prayer

A too common notion of prayer is that it is a means of method of asking and getting things. Jesus put the emphasis all the other way.

Prayer is a human means of receiving and appropriating what God is waiting and anxious to bestow. The soul that does not ask can hardly receive, but that does not affect or limit God's willingness to give.

The needs that we do not feel are not likely to be supplied. In fact, we might question whether they can be supplied until they are felt, for Jesus is dealing with spiritual, and not with material gifts.

A friend can give us material things, whether we want them or not. But our nearest and closest friend cannot force spiritual gifts upon us or change our attitude or make us more receptive. This change comes from within ourselves.

It is not that God is hesitant or unwilling to give, or that He can be heard or moved by our speaking a great deal. He is all too ready to give, but it is only insistently petitioning souls who are able to receive.

Most of the difficulty people have over prayer, and in understanding the teaching of Jesus concerning it, comes from the obsession with material things, whereas Jesus was talking about spiritual things. He never promised His disciples ease or pleasure or wealth or even health. He

LEGISLATURE GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

House Gives Top Priority to Money Needs As Action Pushed for Controversial Bills

By VERN SANFORD,
Texas Press Association.

Texas' 55th Legislature is down to business with a "first things first" agenda.

House members agreed to Speaker Waggoner Carr's plea to give top priority to appropriations. A $2,000,000,000 appropriation bill is proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. It would require no new taxes. But it does not include such strongly-backed items as the teacher pay raises.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee, headed by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, already have begun their dollar-by-dollar deliberations. Said Speaker Carr, as they began, "You are the key to the whole session."

A host of other controversial problems will be pushing for attention. Among them:

1. Long-range, state-wide water conservation. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Water Resources Committee, is asking for prompt action. Sixteen bills, two constitutional amendments were presented by the committee.

2. School integration. Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs circulated a "Texas Manifesto" which pledged signers to support legislation to help preserve school segregation.

3. Election code revisions. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas proposes a law requiring a run-off between top candidates in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large. He wants it passed on an emergency basis to apply to the upcoming race for Price Daniel's place. Republicans are protesting vigorously.

4. Lobby control and legislative ethics. Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Daisetta says he will introduce a bill requiring lobbyists to file monthly financial reports.

State Capital NEWS

honors, as usual, went to old hands. Sen. Otis E. Lock of Lubbock, veteran of nearly 20 years in the Legislature, was elected Senate president pro tempore. It is the top Senate honor, second in line to the governorship.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is a fourth-term. Rep. Max C. Smith of San Marcos, now in his seventh term, drew the important House appropriations committee chairmanship. Other key chairmen in the House are Frates S. Seelingson of San Antonio, revenue and taxation; W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah, state affairs.

Other returning lawmakers hold remaining House chairmanships. They are: aeronautics, Vernon J. Stewart of Wichita Falls; agriculture, Harold B. Parish of Taft; banking, Thomas R. Joseph of Waco; claims and accounts, W. A. Stromman of San Angelo; commerce and manufacturing, W. W. Glass of Jacksonville; common carriers, J. B. Walling of Wichita Falls; comptroller's accounts, Louis H. Anderson of Midland; congressional and legislative districts, Malcolm McGregor of El Paso; conservation and reclamation, Leroy Saul of Kress; constitutional amendments, Jack Welch of Marlin; contingent expense, Louis Dugas of Orange.

Also: counties, Menton J. Murray of Harlingen; criminal jurisprudence, J. E. Winfree of Houston; education, James A. Turman of Gober; engrossed bills, Herman Yezak of Bremond; enrolled bills, Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham; federal relations, Eligio de la Garza of Mission; game and fish, Cecil Storey of Longview; highways, Jim Moore of Fort Worth; hospitals and special schools, Moyné L. Kelly of Atter; insurance, Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio; interstate commerce, Truett Latimer of Abilene; judiciary, Wade F. Spilman; judicial, Richard C. White of El Paso.

Also: labor, Scott McDonald of Fort Worth; liquor regulation, DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi; livestock, A. J. Bishop Jr. of Winters; local uncontested bills, Robert W. Slack of Pecos; penitentiaries, Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth; elections, Carlton Moore of Houston; public health, J. Edgar Wilson of Amarillo; public lands and buildings, Bob Wheeler of Tilden; public printing, Charlie Heitman Jr. of Nacogdoches; representation before legislature, Reagan R. Huffman of Marshall; rules, R. H. Cory of Victoria; school districts, Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

Secretaries will be heard, but not seen, this session. This and a number of other innovations are being tried out by the 55th Legislators.

Formerly the lawmakers' secretaries, usually including many University students, were on and off the floor all during sessions. House members' secretaries had no desks of their own.

Now the house secretaries have basement offices. Their employers have new private telephones to call their secretaries, other lawmakers' desks and outside. But banished secretaries can console themselves with pay raises—up from $9 to $10 a day in the House, from $12 to $14 in the Senate. Both are paid seven days a week.

Even so, many observers deplored the passing of the "Secretariat Beauty Parade."

House members also voted to permit radio and television broadcasting of their sessions.

Seek Speakership
Campaigning for Speaker of the House in 1959 already has begun.

Candidates are Reps. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, Ben A. Glusing of Kingsville, Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and Will Smith of Beaumont.

Decision will not be definite until after the 1958 elections.

Shivers in Business
Gov. Allan Shivers steps out of the Capitol into multiple private business activities.

He will continue to live in Austin where he will serve as chairman of the board of Western Pipe-Lines, Inc. He also will oversee his farm and ranch property at Woodville and the Shary estate in the Valley.

His family moves from the mansion to a large rented home while remodeling of their next home, the 100-year-old Pease Mansion, is completed.

In his farewell address to the Legislature, Governor Shivers urged an unemotional approach to segregation problems. He gave his backing to a primary in the special senatorial election.

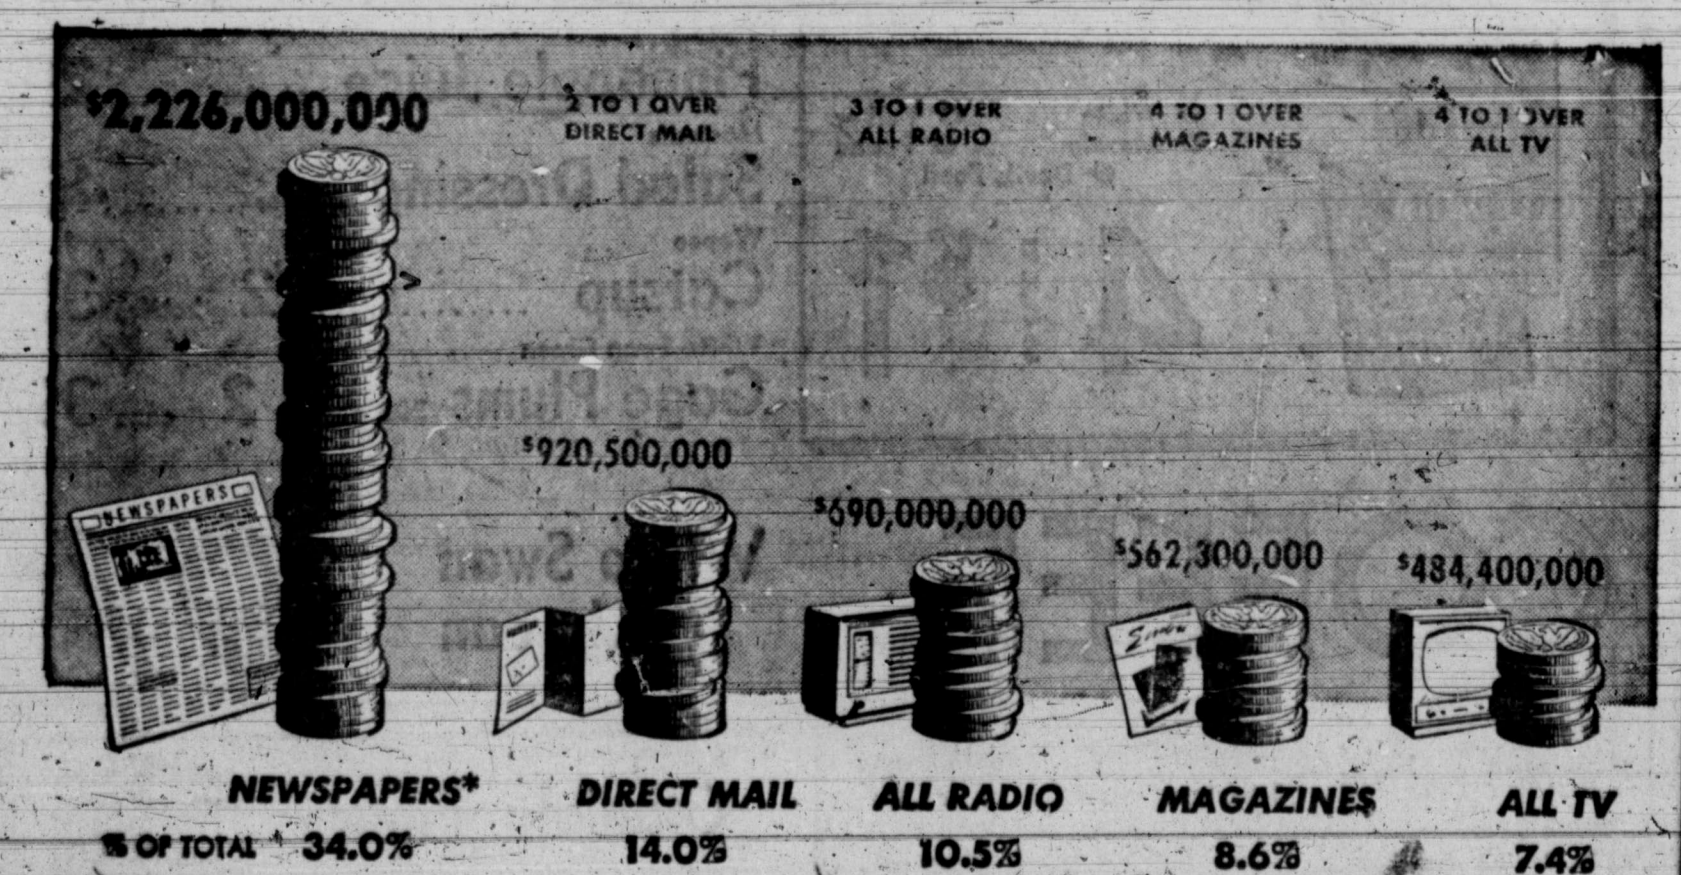

His departure closes a spectacular public career begun 22 years ago as a state senator from an East Texas district.

Dan Moody Jr., son of the former governor, now is parliamentarian of the Texas Senate. John Davenport, former executive assistant attorney general, now is general counsel to the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

OVER ANY OTHER MEDIUM!

It takes a lot of confidence and all kinds of people to spend 2 1/2 billion dollars on advertising.

It takes everybody from big VPs to housewives with rooms to rent. It takes chain-store executives and neighborhood merchants.

It takes local business people—those who spend only their own money for ads, and those who also spend the important money contributed by manufacturers.

But most of all it takes an advertising medium that can do the job: NEWSPAPERS.

If you're a retailer or wholesaler, demand newspaper advertising before you place an order.

If you're a salesman or district manager, ask your management for newspaper advertising to move out the products you sell.

And if you're a manufacturer, remember this: IN 1951 ONE-THIRD OF ALL U. S. ADVERTISING DOLLARS WENT INTO NEWSPAPERS.

Just what is an all-electric HEAT PUMP

...and how can it add to home comfort?

The Heat Pump is a compact completely self-contained year around central air conditioning unit that heats in winter, cools in summer, and comfort-conditions the air in every season—all automatically.

What makes the Heat Pump different from other all-year heating and cooling units?

Principally this—the Heat Pump is ALL-ELECTRIC, using only air and electricity. It's a dream of electrical living come true—clean, modern, convenient.

How does the Heat Pump operate?

To cool your home, the Heat Pump operates on the same principle as a conventional window-type air conditioner. It extracts heat from indoor air and discharges it outside. To heat, it automatically reverses itself. It actually extracts heat from cold outdoor air (even when it's below freezing) ... raises its temperature ... and uses it to heat your entire home.

Do I have to "tend" the Heat Pump?

No! Once you set the thermostat for the temperature you like, there's no need to touch it again. The Heat Pump both heats and cools from the same unit. In changeable weather, it switches automatically from heating to cooling or back again as needed, without attention on your part.

Can it be installed in existing homes as well as new homes?

Yes. Particularly if the home is properly insulated.

Have Heat Pumps been tested for use in this area?

Yes. Heat Pumps have been installed and are operating efficiently in this part of Texas. Although relatively new, many are installed in homes and businesses in Texas and elsewhere throughout the country, and are providing practical, dependable air conditioning 365 days a year.

What about installation and operating costs?

In the average size home, the cost of a Heat Pump installed is about the same as the cost of a medium priced automobile. Operating cost in a home built and insulated for air conditioning is comparable to that of other heating and cooling systems. In new homes, savings in construction costs can be made because of flexibility of design possible with use of the Heat Pump.

For additional information, phone, write or come by for your copy of the free booklet, ELECTRIC HEATING TODAY. It tells about the Heat Pump and gives helpful information about all types of electric heating.

Gloves Are Dressed Up With Accessory Trim

BY EDNA MILES

GLOVES for holiday wear offer accessory lure in the way of exceptionally pretty trim: jeweling, pleating, fur, beading, paillettes. The long white glove gloves have both overlays and underlays in pale pastels. For the longer shorties, there are tucks and pleats, draping and shirring. Tiny designs in embroidery look fresh and new on both glove and suede. The silk knit lining is a new way for glove gloves to offer both warmth and the slim look. Then there are crocheted backs coupled with palms of glove or do-skin. There's another way with embroidery for dressy holiday gloves: It's used on one or more fingers rather than on the back. Generally, gloves for late-day wear rise far above the elbow. They hug the arm smoothly through use of vertical rows of elasticized stitching. Jeweling is used in two ways: Massed at the wrist to simulate a bracelet, or in floral patterns on the back of the glove.

Kislav's white fur-lined gloves, imported from France, are for holiday wear. Fur is white rabbit, length is the longer shorty that covers the wrist bone.

FOUR FUTURE FARMERS

Boys Enter Lamb, Calves at El Paso

Four members of the Colorado City Future Farmers have listed entries in the Junior Division of the 28th Annual Southwestern Livestock Show in El Paso, Feb. 4-10. The show will be held in conjunction with the World's Championship Rodeo, Feb. 6-10, and the first Annual International Range Rodeo, Feb. 7-10, at the El Paso County Coliseum Fair Grounds. Under the direction of James Trammell, vocational ag instructor, the Colorado City FFA has entered one lamb and three calves. Listed are Dwayne Carpenter, 1 Hereford; Mickey Cooper, 1 Hereford; Richard Moseley, 1 lamb; and Charles Northcutt, 1 Hereford.

They will be competing for a portion of auction sales proceeds of approximately $50,000, and numerous premiums and ribbons. R. E. (Bob) Post, director of the Agricultural and Livestock Division of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, manager of the show, and former vocational ag instructor at Colorado City High School, estimates that 1,600 head of livestock, including lambs, swine, calves and junior breeding sheep, will be entered in the exposition.

Last year 713 exhibitors entered 1,538 animals.

Nationally famous acts, clowns, band and announcer have been contracted for the rodeo, and the champion cowboys of the nation will get their usual running start at El Paso in the Rodeo Cowboy Association standings for 1957.

The first annual International Range Bull Sale, arranged because of El Paso's geographical location on the border between Texas and Mexico, already is up in the big-time class the first year with a huge total of 309 range bulls entered for auction. Twenty noted breeders from five states—Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas—have listed bulls in singles and pen lots from two to 15. The bulls range in age from eight to 30 months.

The auction is scheduled in the Coliseum ring, Feb. 7, beginning at 10 a. m. Judging is slated the preceding day at the same time.

SECRET 'BOMARC'—Artist's sketch, above, interprets the "Bomarc" IM-99 guided missile, now in the process for the U. S. Air Force. Boeing-built pilotless interceptor is very much under wraps, but experts estimate its top speed to be in the 2,000-mile-per-hour range. Bomarc could be fitted with different warheads, and could intercept enemy aircraft many miles from their proposed targets. Left, a 'USAF Martin B-57 Canberra jet bomber is used as a device for testing the Bomarc nose piece.

Higher Tax in Effect for Social Security

Tax rates under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Social Security) and filing requirements under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, have been changed by recent amendments to the law. According to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office.

New F. I. C. A. rates on wages paid in effect as of Jan. 1 are 2-1/4 per cent each for employers and employees, a total of 4-1/2 per cent, Fogle said.

The changes in the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, he explained, provides that employers who had four or more employees on at least one day of each of 20 calendar weeks during 1956 will be required to file Form 940 by Jan. 31, 1957.

The filing of Form 940, Annual Federal Tax Return of Employers, was formerly required of employers who had eight or more employees.

Fogle said that copies of this return have been sent to most of the employers in this district. However, he suggested that employers who have not received this form obtain copies from the revenue office at Abilene.

SAFE DRIVERS SAVE $...if a bill now before the Legislature is passed. That bill is a flexible rating law for casualty (including automobile insurance).

Many economically-operated insurance companies are in a position to charge rates substantially lower than those of companies with more expensive types of operation.

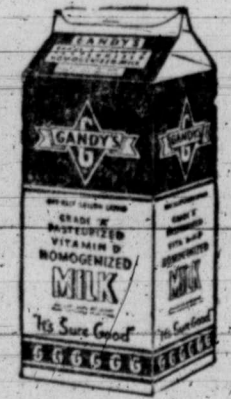

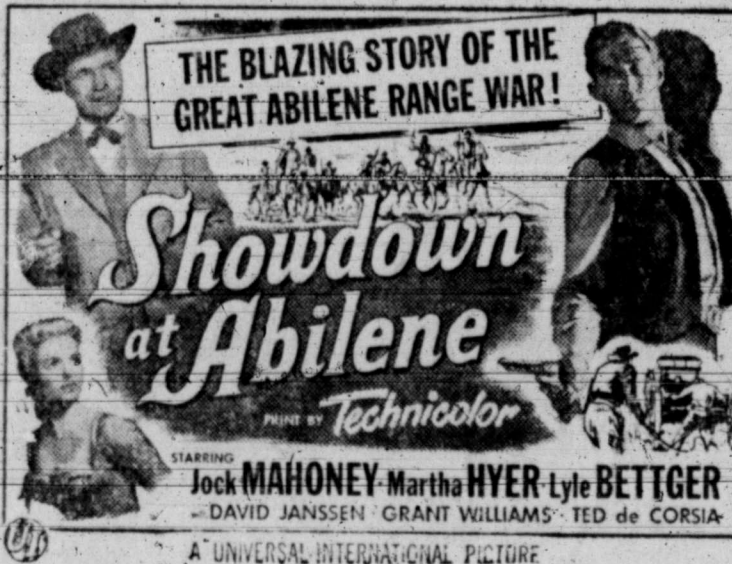

Thus, it will mean that the insurance buyer can shop around and get the best buy for his insurance dollar—something he cannot now do.

More importantly, it will mean that the careful drivers will no longer have to subsidize the careless driver.
