THOUSANDS TO PAY HORN TRIBUTE

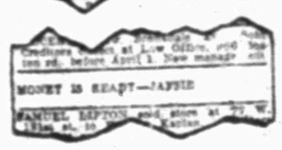

"JAFSIE" IN KIDNAPING CASE

After weeks of mystery as to his identity, "Jafsie", the man who played the role of intermediary between Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and the supposed kidnapers of his child, emerged as Dr. John F. Condon, below, a 72-year-old lecturer at Fordham university. "Jafsie" advertised repeatedly in New York newspapers as he negotiated with the kidnapers. Colonel Lindbergh finally made the ransom payment of $50,000 through "Jafsie's" efforts but the baby was not returned.

LEADERS SEEK BONUS VOTE

SPONSORS STEADFAST IN DETERMINATION FOR LEGISLATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Although they considered the federal reserve board's new plans for expanding credit yesterday, leaders in the move to pay off in cash the soldiers' bonus remained steadfast today in determination to force their project to a vote.

Conferring with federal reserve officials, they came to the conclusion, Representative Patman of Texas, announced, that the board's project for making the banks use more of the credit facilities extended by new legislation would not reach the mass of the people.

Business Aid Seen

Patman and his group base the fight largely on the argument that getting $2,000,000,000 into the hands of the veterans will set as a round swell of new purchasing power to restore business.

With little expectation of obtaining approval of the ways and means committee, the bonus men plan, as soon as the current hearings end, to petition for a vote in the house. They are confident of success and of passing a bill.

Rail Acquisition Will Be Contested

"JAFSIE" ACTIVE BUT NEW KIDNAP LEADS MEAGRE TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 14—A needle-in-the-haystack chore faced secret service men today in the Lindbergh kidnaping mystery.

Persons who executed a $50,000 hoax on Col Charles A. Lindbergh by falsely promising to return his stolen baby already have begun to spend the money. That much is definite——but tracing the cash to the criminals is proving most difficult.

A $20 bill turned over to a mysterious individual in a Bronx cemetery by "Jafsie" came to light yesterday in the possession of David Isaacs, retired clothing merchant of New York. He obtained it from a branch of the East River Savings bank in New York where, it was paid either April 4 or 5, two or three days after the ransom transaction.

Discovery Helps Little

On April 4 and 5 many hundreds of deposits were made at the bank branch—so the discovery of the bill helped little.

"Jafsie"—otherwise Dr. John F. Condon, retired Bronx school master who still hopes to get the baby back from the kidnapers—continued his mysterious movements — and showed signs that the strain is beginning to tell.

Yesterday Col. Henry Breckinridge, closest adviser of Lindbergh, called at Condon's home.

In Norfolk, Dean H. Dobson-Peacock disclosed he had had secret messages from two other Norfolk men acting with him in attempts to recover the baby. The other two, John H. Curtis and Rear Admiral Guy Burrage, are away from home, apparently trying to contact the kidnapers, the dean is hopeful.

Maj. Charles H. Schoeffel, New Jersey state police official who went abroad in connection with the kidnaping, arrived in Vienna, and police there were searching for the missing Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

Fourteen Persons Perish In Fires

EIGHT BURNED TO DEATH AS HOME RAZED

FIVE CHILDREN AND MOTHER KILLED AS MATCH DROPPED

(By The Associated Press)

ALTOONA, April 14.—Seven children and a woman were killed in a fire which shortly before midnight destroyed the home of Michael Dillon at Hensheytown, near here.

The flames wrecked the house while Mrs. Dillion, with her baby, was visiting in a nearby community. A neighbor, Mrs. Goldie Krutner, 29, with her two infants, was spending the night in the house with five Dillon children.

None Is Saved

No one in the house was saved. The dead children are Roy Charles Krutner, 2-weeks-old; Levi Krutner, 3-year-old; Anna Dillon, 10; Lillian Pearl Dillon, 8; Edna Grace Dillon, 6; John Lawrence Dillon, 5; and Minnie Dillon, 3.

The flames were discovered by a motorist. Other motorists joined in efforts to enter the house but the flames thwarted rescue efforts.

Mrs. Dillon reached home half an hour after the fire was discovered. She collapsed and was placed under the care of a physician. Mr. Dillon was at work and was not reached until after the charred bodies of his children had been recovered.

NEW YORK April 14 (AP)—A boy dropped a lighted match into a pan of benzine and six persons—a mother and five children—died as a result.

There might have been more, for the flames ate through the five-story tenement building on the lower east side at supper time last night and trapped several families. Firemen carried 20 persons down ladders after the fire, racing up the stairways, cut off the exits.

Huddle About Mother

They were too late to save Mrs. Celia Sanders, 42, and her five children ranging in age from four to 13. The children's bodies, huddled about that of their mother, were found in a bedroom of their fifth floor quarters.

The fire started on the third floor where Mrs. Esther Skolki, was cleaning with benzine. Her son, William, struck a match, the blazing head of which dropped into the fluid. Flames leaped to the ceiling. Mrs. Skolki's dress caught fire but she rolled on the floor, putting it out. She and her son, 10 years old, escaped down the stairway.

(By The Associated Press)

PLAINVIEW, April 14—The Panhandle-Plains dairy show was brought up town today as the champions and grand champions and some not so fortunate in their rating paraded the business district, ribbons, banners and all.

The annual sale will be held this afternoon, closing the show.

Spectators who watched the parade saw a new grand champion Jersey cow—the highest rating any animal can obtain at the local show, since competition in this division is the strongest. She was You'll Do's Blanchia Gipsy, owned by the Tierra Blanca farms, Canyon, and showing here for the first time.

ADDITIONAL NEWS OF SHOW ON PAGE 12

Other outstanding animals reviewed as they filed down the city pavement included R. C. Buttercup's Raleigh, grand champion Jersey Bull, owned by E. W. W. Watson, Amarillo, set an all time show production record for her class with 2.4 pounds of butterfat in 24 hours.

Class winners and junior champions exhibited by club boys also were an attraction. They included Xenia Rosebud Lady, junior champion jersey, shown by Felix Mote of Tulia, Robert Lee Smith of Lockney and his four-year-old Gambodge Intrinsix Lass who has won her class each year four times in succession, and Lucian Morehead's Fontaine's Alberine of Hale county.

Oklahoma Bank Is Robbed Early Today

MEDFORD, Okla., April 14. (AP)—While one robber held a score of citizens, including a policeman and a deputy sheriff, at pistol point in front of the First National bank of Medford, his companion looted the institution of about $2,500 in currency early today.

The bandits were reported to have escaped southward in an automobile about 5 a. m.

O'Donnell Bank Held Up Today

(Special To The Journal)

O'DONNELL, April 14—Swooping down upon the institution during the lull of the noon hour, three armed bandits today held up and robbed the First National bank of O'Donnell of currency and change estimated to total $700.

J. Mack Noble, jr., manager of a local garage, was acting as cashier of the bank while regular officials were off for lunch. Alone in the bank he looked up from his work to see two armed men, one stationed at the door and the other approaching him behind the counter, and perceived a third at the wheel of a Chevrolet coupe, parked in front of the bank and with motor running.

The bandit behind the counter and the guard at the door levelled pistols at Noble as the first robber scooped up all available currency from the cash drawer and then looted the change rack. The men were not masked.

As soon as he had taken the money, the bandit leader and his door guard attempted to lock Noble in the bank's vault but could not manipulate the vault door. The trio made a quick get-away, headed north toward Lubbock, as Noble sounded the alarm.

Warning calls to neighboring sheriffs and police chiefs were immediately sent out.

PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGES

TWO LUBBOCK MEN ARE NOT SENTENCED IN LOTTERY CASE

Fred Higbee and Alpha D. Williams of Lubbock pleaded guilty of using the mails in promotion of a lottery scheme, in United States district court at Abilene, Wednesday, and Judge James C. Wilson suspended imposition of sentences for two years.

Higbee and Williams were charged in connection with operations of the National Endowment, Birth and Marriage association of Lubbock. Three counts alleging misuse of the United States mails were set forth in each case.

Attorneys and judges alike had been puzzled as to whether operations of marriage and birth insurance agencies were within or without the law, and considerable effort was expended before it was decided to class them as lotteries. Higbee quoted Judge Wilson as saying at the trial.

Hitler thanked his comrades for the "work, discipline and faith" shown during the years the Nazi movement has been growing to its present strength.

PROSECUTION ENDS IN HONOR MURDER CASE IN HONOLULU

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, April 14—Enmeshed by many threads of the prosecution's story of the lynching of Joseph Kahahawai, four persons accused of the killing watched today for Clarence Darrow to go into action for their defense with tactics shrouded in secrecy up to the last minute.

Except for one witness, Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley finished his case yesterday with testimony that broke the frigid composure of the accused society matron, Mrs. Granville Fortescue.

Her shoulders moved expressively when two neighbor women testified to hearing a shot from the direction of her home at 9 a. m. Jan. 8, when Kahahawai allegedly was killed there to avenge a criminal attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie, daughter of Mrs. Fortescue.

Previously she had burst into tears at the mention of Mrs. Massie's name by a jail matron who testified she had asked Mrs. Fortescue if her daughter had recovered from the attack.

SMITH ATTACK STIRS RANKS OF PARTY

BOTH CRITICISM AND PRAISE GIVEN BY LEADERS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Praise and criticism marked the reaction on capitol hill today to Alfred E. Smith's speech challenging the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In a Jefferson Day address last night, the 1928 nominee quoted from Roosevelt's recent radio speech urging relief for the "forgotten man at the bottom of the economic pyramid," and said:

Promises Fight

"This is no time for demagogues. I will take off my coat and vest and fight to the bitter end any candidate who persists in any demagogic appeal to the masses of working people of this country to destroy themselves by setting class against class and rich against poor."

Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), a supporter of Roosevelt, said Smith's speech was "unworthy of him," and sounded like "the house of Morgan speaking."

Senator Walsh (D., Mass.), a Smith advocate, praised the speech as a "frank and courageous statement of his views on the political questions of the house."

Held Foolish

Wheeler said that "as an ardent supporter of Governor Smith in 1928, I am sorry to see him for his own sake utter such foolish statements as he did last evening."

"It only goes to prove again the truth of the old proverb: 'Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad,'" Wheeler said.

Walsh said he believed the public would welcome "the same frankness that characterized Gov. Smith's speech," from all other political leaders.

MEXICAN BANDITS HOLD OKLAHOMAN

IDABEL, Okla., April 14. (AP)—An appealing letter declaring that Clyde Messer, of Hugo, Okla., is the captive of Mexican bandits who demand $1,000 ransom led today to an investigation on both sides of the international border.

Authorities in border cities were asked by District Judge George T. Arnett of Idabel to inquire into the affair, reported to former Governor William J. Holloway of Oklahoma in a letter from a man who signed the name of Lester Woods, Douglas, Ariz.

The Douglas letter informed Holloway, at Oklahoma City, that Messer had vanished from either Douglas or El Paso, Tex., and was being held by bandits across the river."

HERO OF TITANIC DISASTER TWENTY YEARS AGO IS NOW FRIENDLESS AND ALONE AT POOR FARM IN CALIFORNIA

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA ROSA, Calif., April 14—Twenty years ago Charles Herbert Lightholder, second mate of the liner Titanic when she struck an iceberg and sank with loss of 1,513 lives, was dragged from the chill waters of the North Atlantic and hailed as a hero.

Today Lightholder, friendless and alone, is a patient at the Sonoma county hospital and poor farm, suffering from paralysis which has rendered helpless his right arm and side.

Lightholder was one of the four ship's officers rescued.

He personally directed the rescue of hundreds of men, women and children. After the disaster, Lightholder, a native of Australia, joined the merchant marine and for years was master of ships in that service. Forced ashore by advancing age, he came here three months ago, hoping to make a living by constructing ship models. He was thus engaged when stricken.

Fading newspaper files tell of Lightholder's graphic testimony before the United States senate investigating committee. Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan asked him "what time did you leave ship?" Lightholder replied:

"I didn't leave it!"

"Did it leave you?"

"Yes, sir!"

Lightholder testified he stood atop the officers' quarters as the ship plunged beneath the surface, dived with it, and was blown to the surface, apparently by explosion of the ship's boilers. He came up near a lifeboat.

Lightholder said he filled five lifeboats with women and a sixth with men and women before the ship sank.

The plane that swooped down to the ground bumped just a bit and swerved around. The Tinies hesitated as a queer man jumped right out.

Said Scouty, "Gee, I wonder what he landed for, upon this spot. Shall we run and bravely ask him what it's all about?"

"Why not?" said Windy. "He looks kind and maybe he will help us find poor Duncy, who by now must be just miles and miles from here.

"You see, it may not be in vain if we ask him to loan his plane. If he says yes, I'll pilot it and there'll be naught to fear."

* * *

"Say! That's a grand idea, lad! It is the best you've ever had," said Coppy. "Come, let's waste no time. I'll gladly take the lead."

And then the Tinies promptly ran up to the funny looking man. As soon as Windy reached him he began to talk and plead.

"Please let us use your plane," said he. "We're just as worried as can be about a little pal of ours who disappeared in air.

"He can't be very far away. We'd like to fly to him today, but we can't walk and we feel sure your plane would take us there."

* * *

The man replied, "Well, youngsters, I am tired of flying way up high. You see, I am a sky cop and keep the air roads clear.

"I'm going to rest a while, so you can do just what you'd like to do. Just promise me that shortly you will bring my plane back here."

Then Windy said, "I fly real well, as you can very shortly tell. Don't worry 'bout your plane because I know we won't get stuck."

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

SCHOOLS FOR PARENTS

LAST SUMMER many parents went to school to study ways and means of becoming better parents or to make themselves more useful in parent-teacher service.

Ellen C. Lombard, associate specialist in parent education, of the Office of Education of the United States Department of Interior, has prepared a bulletin on "Summer Session Opportunities for Parent Education." Any reader wishing to have this bulletin may receive it free by writing to Miss Lombard at the address indicated. By virtue of her position and her training, she undoubtedly knows more than anyone else in our country about the sources of information and educational opportunities for parents to improve their parenthood. Thousands of parents write to her for information, and thousands more would do so if they knew about the service she is able and ready to render.

For the immediate convenience of my readers I am listing below the names and addresses of the educational institutions where summer school courses were offered in child development, parent education, or in the educational aspects of parent-teacher associations last summer, and where similar courses will undoubtedly be offered during the coming summer. Most parents will naturally want first to find out about the opportunities offered nearest to their homes.

NEW CHIEF TO NAME FORCE

SEVERAL OF PRESENT OFFICERS EXPECTED TO BE RETAINED

Just how many members of the Lubbock police force, subject to a blanket dismissal effective at 8 o'clock Friday morning, would be retained by Wiley L. Metcalfe, newly appointed chief of police who succeeded John Lemond, remained a matter of speculation today.

Police Chief Metcalfe, who was city fire marshal until his appointment by City commission Tuesday night, did not reveal his plans for reorganization of the department. Several members, and possibly a majority, of the present corps will be retained, it was understood at City hall last night.

Fire marshal the last 18 months, Metcalfe previously had been employed by the city at two other posts, in addition to serving as police desk sergeant about 15 months in 1925-26. He hado been a lieutenant assigned as a bayonet instructor in world war camps.

"I wish him all the luck in the world—he'll need it," Lemond, who resigned, commented Wednesday.

Huston Is Thought En Route To Home

Reported Wednesday as returned and last night as en route here from Phoenix, Ariz., R. E. Huston of Lubbock had not arrived here late this morning, so far as was known at Rix Funeral home, to which the body of his wife, who died unexpectedly Tuesday, had been taken. No funeral arrangements had been made late this morning.

A Mr. Shellabarger, who lives about 25 miles from Phoenix, and to whose home Mr. Huston had gone, told Lubbock members of the family last night that Mr. Huston had left Phoenix, presumably for Lubbock, at about 5 o'clock.

Woman Is Arrested On Fraud Complaint

Irene Haughtaling was arrested by the sheriff's department after a women's apparel store here filed a complaint alleging fraud, in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court, Wednesday, and was released on bond of $1,000.

The store's complaint was that the woman took out a $79 coat and a $27 dress on trial last October, and the clothing was not returned. The woman, however, said she had taken the coat and two dresses, returning one dress after making her choice, and credit was executed her on the two garments she kept, Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, reported.

The Texas company met the increase late yesterday.

Tests Made After Three Hundred Ill

SANTA PAULA, Calif., April 14. (AP)—Health authorities were making exhaustive tests of food and water here today in an effort to trace the source of a mysterious illness to 300 Santa Paula residents, more than half of them children.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14. (AP)—Edward Walsh, 14, was kidnaped by three negroes while on his way to school in West Philadelphia today and was later found by two motorcycle policemen on the South Street bridge over the Schuylkill river, some distance away.

The boy said the men took him in their automobile to an old stable in the city and locked him in, but he escaped by climbing out a window.

Collegiate Probers Are Returning Home

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 14. (AP)—The Commonwealth college delegation that invaded the Kentucky coal fields with relief funds for miners and copies of the Bill of Rights for authorities have started back to Arkansas with their mission unfulfilled.

It was an unsatisfactory expedition that netted the collegians nothing more than bruises and welts they attributed to vigilantes who ejected them on their only attempt to visit the Harlan county, Ky., mines.

Probe Houston Fire For Incendiarism

HOUSTON, April 14. (AP)—A fire which destroyed the young men's christian association club house here was investigated today for possible incendiarism.

BOY IS CHARGED

A boy about 14 years old was charged with theft, in county court Wednesday, and his case probably will be transferred to juvenile court. William H. Evans, assistant county attorney, said the youth was accused of taking a door from a vacant house and chopping it into firewood for the use of a widow woman whose son recently was sentenced to a year in a state reformatory for theft.

Large congregations attended the sermons, which were conducted twice daily for the last 11 days. John T. Smith is pastor.

"Community Organization" will be the subject of a speech by Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station here, at a Lubbock County Farm Bureau federation community meeting at 8 o'clock Friday night at Shallowater.

M. S. Hudson, a farmer living near Hale Center, will speak on "Services of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation." Mr. Hudson is a director of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association. The local program will be directed by R. L. Hooten, superintendent of Shallowater schools.

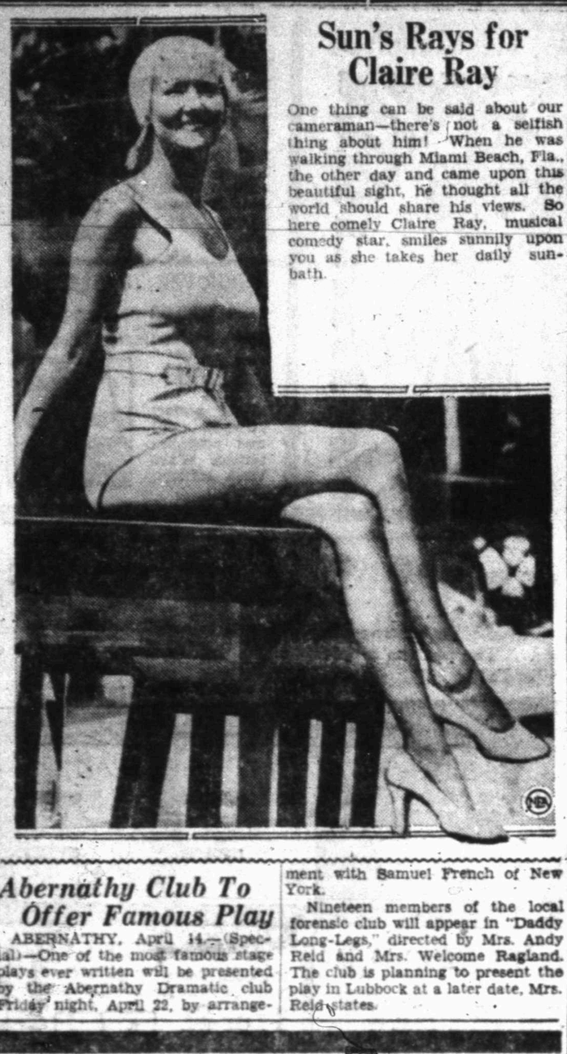

Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 are being offered for the best local program at these community meetings. J. H. Brock, of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, District Attorney Durwood Bradley, and Mrs. A. Payne, 1310 Avenue Q, are the judges in the contest.

"The other communities are going to have to do mighty good to beat Hurlwood," H. J. Bower, secretary of the Farm Bureau organization, said Wednesday. "Hurlwood gave an excellent program with 62 participating and 286 present."

Abernathy Club To Offer Famous Play

ABERNATHY, April 14.—(Special)—One of the most famous stage plays ever written will be presented by the Abernathy Dramatic club Friday night, April 22, by arrangement with Samuel French of New York.

Nineteen members of the local forensic club will appear in "Daddy Long-Legs," directed by Mrs. Andy Reid and Mrs. Welcome Ragland. The club is planning to present the play in Lubbock at a later date, Mrs. Reid states.

SHELTON FORGOT TO MENTION FEW OF MANY JOBS

After all, J. E. Shelton of Brownfield forgot to mention some of his jobs—seven of them—when he reported he had 22. That is his reply to the most-jobs championship claim entered by A. J. Payne, chamber of commerce secretary and what-not at Slaton. Payne listed 26 jobs. Now, Shelton uncovers jobs he says he had not intended to mention.

Treasurer of the chamber of commerce; bookkeeper for the chamber of commerce, director of a highway association not mentioned previously; acting county agent, "with no salary and no authority from A&M," stenographer for South Plains coaches No. 2; stenographer for Black Fox stages; elder in the Presbyterian church.

The Brownfield CC secretary who started the ball rolling here by pooh-poohing the Geneseo, Ill., clerk who claimed 15 jobs, darkly hinted he still has a deck of high cards in his cuff.

"I notice also that friend Payne mentions numerous chamber of commerce committees that he either heads or of which he is a member. I want to warn him that he had better not start on that line because I happen to be directly included in every committee of that nature, that ever occurred to the mind of mortal man," said Shelton.

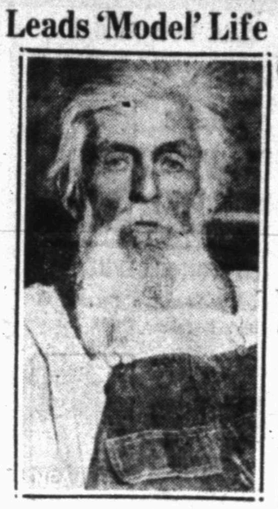

Shelton blamed the Geneseoan and Payne for bringing church affiliations into the controversy. "I might say that my wife undertook to keep me from mentioning my church affiliations, as she knows what they are, but I informed her that I was not going to let my rivals get by with any stuff like that, because they are not jobs. I am an elder in the Presbyterian church, not very active and should be fired and would be except that the church rules forbid it."

Shelton indicated he might be a little worried about getting some more jobs, for

"A citizen of this town called me up and wanted to know if I represented the Red Cross. I hope that they are not going to shove that off on me."

Leads 'Model' Life

In real life he's John P. Dalton, retired cider merchant of Walpole, Mass., and one-time fighter under General Custer in the Indian wars. But painters of Biblical subjects depict him as John the Baptist, Simeon, and even the thief of the foot of the Cross. Dalton has been a famous model for years.

HOLLAND FILM TO BE PRESENTED TO RALLS ROTARIANS

(By Staff Correspondent)

RALLS, April 14—Because of the interest the Ralls Rotary club showed in a film depicting Holland customs, the picture will be presented here for the first time in the United States. Showings will be Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday afternoon.

The film, "The Industrial, Artistic Customs and Inner Life of Holland," sent out by the Netherlands Association of Amsterdam, was held up by the customs officers because of the heavy duty. At the intervention of the Amsterdam Rotary club and Rotary International, the picture was admitted free. At the request of the Amsterdam unit, the American premiere of the film was booked here.

All Rotarians will be admitted without charge, and as the local unit is observing boys' week, the youngsters will be guests, too. The Ralls club has completed its 135th consecutive week with 100 per cent attendance. Only two other United States clubs have better records.

Has Dry Plan

Representative Thomas R. Amlie, Wisconsin, shown here, a newcomer to Congress, has evolved a novel plan for tackling the prohibition problem. Amlie would modify the Volstead Act so it would not apply to any individual complying with the law enforcement acts of his state, and thus the Volstead Act would be legally inoperative in states which have no prohibition laws of their own.

L. S. U. Reinstates Dismissed Teacher

BATON ROUGE, La., April 14. (AP)—Dr. John Earle Uhler, associate professor of English dismissed by Louisiana State university for writing the novel, "Cane Juice," which the supervisors charged reflected on the institution, has been reinstated.

The novel purported to tell the story of a Louisiana "cabin" youth's progress through the state school and it was attacked bitterly by the Rev. Monsignor P. L. Gassler of Baton Rouge as a reflection on Louisiana's creole population and the L. S. U. co-eds.

Roy Johnson, Tigers—Touched Wes Ferrell for home run and three singles in six times up against Cleveland.

Dick Porter, Indians—Made three hits against Detroit and scored winning run in eleventh.

Pat Malone, Cubs—Held Reds to six hits and fanned five in mound duel with Ownie Carroll, winning 3-2.

"QUEEN HELEN" NAMED CAPTAIN

NEW YORK, April 14. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, who was just beginning to win international tennis laurels in 1923 and who helped inaugurate the Wightman cup matches against the leading women players of Great Britain, will engage in her eighth international team struggle this year as captain of the American team.

Mrs. Moody has missed only two of the nine matches and has suffered only two singles defeats in the international series.

"Queen Helen" will lead a veteran team against the British stars June 10 and 11. The three other players named were Mrs. Anna Harper of San Francisco, Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., and Sarah Palfrey of Boston. With Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, donor of the cup, this quartet made up last year's team which defeated Great Britain to take a 5-4 lead in the series.

SEEDED PLAYERS STILL IN MATCH

PINEHURST, N. C., April 14 (AP)—With only seeded stars remaining, play in the men's singles of the annual North and South tennis tournament entered the quarter-final round today.

Principal interest centered in the match between Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Calif., national champion, who arrived only yesterday to stroke his way through three matches, and Berkeley Bell, of New York, who has steadily mown down all opposition in the first four rounds.

Others paired today, all save one seeded at the outset, were John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, and Gilbert Hall of East Orange, N. J., Frank X. Shields of New York and Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J.; and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, and Dr. Eugene McCauliff of New York.

Veterans Shine, Where Recruits Starred In Camp

ESTABLISHED PLAYERS SHINE IN OPENING DAYS OF CHASE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Where the rookies were shining in baseball training camps a few days ago, the old established players are shining now in the first days of the major league campaign.

Monday at Washington it was Heinie Manush, in his tenth season in the American league, who took the honors. Tuesday Babe Ruth, a man of 18 big league summers, was the star, and yesterday Manush was back in the limelight along with other veterans.

Others In Spotlight

The other "big guns" included Frank Frisch, Pat Malone, big pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, an established star who is not far short of 30 years old, Al Thomas of the White Sox, who has been around a few years longer, and Lloyd Waner, somewhat younger but a veteran of five campaigns.

Manush gave Washington a 7 to 6 victory over the Boston Red Sox. He hit a home run in the ninth inning with two on base to top off a four-run rally.

Frisch hit a double with two on to provide the champion St. Louis Cardinals with the runs that beat Pittsburgh, 9-8. The Cards had to score five times in that final rally after Pittsburgh had made three runs in the ninth.

Malone got the better of Owen Carroll of Cincinnati in a mound duel and gave the Cubs a 3 to 2 victory.

Hurls Steady Game

Thomas performed less sensationally on the mound but he pitched a steady game and received some great support from the White Sox both at bat and in the field. Although outhit 12-9, the Sox made it two straight over the St. Louis Browns 7 to 3.

Wesley Ferrell pitched eleven innings in weather so cold it held the attendance at Detroit to 15,000 and came out ahead, 6 to 5.

Cold weather stopped two games in the National league, where the Phillies were scheduled to play the New York Giants and Brooklyn was to play host to the Boston Braves, and one in the American which called for the New York Yankees to play the Athletics at Philadelphia.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Dr. Paul Horn was one of those extraordinary good fellows whose earthly life did not have to end before he received flowers of tribute. It is not the purpose of this humble one, then, to shower his memory with bouquets. He was recognized far and wide as a leader, a person of kindly benevolence, long before the beckoning. We are only one of an army which has extolled his virtues and conceded him his place. He will be sorely missed.

* * *

Other columns have told of his life's work, his scholarly genius, as an educator. He must have filled that role excellently. But he stepped further than do most college presidents and educators in that he kept an interested, vigilant, helpful eye on his athletic department. It is with the latter that we are privileged to deal.

* * *

Head Coach Pete Cawthon, to whom unbounded credit has gone for his work in raising Texas Tech athletics to the present, and ever-rising standards, will tell you that Dr. Horn himself was largely responsible for the results which have been noted, that Dr. Horn was the recognized and accepted power behind the throne, the source of inspiration and the helpful hand. Something more than faculty relationships existed between the two men. Since he was in the fourth grade at a Houston grammar school, Cawthon has been under the guidance of Dr. Horn. Through high school and college days, at Houston and Georgetown they grew to know each other, and when Dr. Horn was ready for an athletic head in whom trust could be placed he called Cawthon, gave him a free hand, the right to pick his staff, told him he need not exert himself, to take his time, four or five years, if necessary, in building up a strong athletic unit.

* * *

"I have never worked under a man more helpful, who gave me a greater sense of security, than Dr. Horn," Cawthon said yesterday. It was but a repetition of what he had said several times before in the presence of this scrivener.

* * *

We recall most vividly two of several personal contacts with the late president. Both were in the fall of 1930, when Cawthon was doing his first year as coach at Tech, and having a tough time. Dr. Horn was doing everything possible to encourage the mentor. Several games had been lost; interest was dragging. Tech went to Brownwood to play Howard Payne. Money was scarce and the thought of a special student train was buried before it was voiced. Tech had little chance to win, but Dr. Horn was the first to board the special railroad car and accompany the team to Brownwood. The ensuing conversation between us was one we'll never forget.

* * *

The other time was out at the Tech Field press box. The Matadors were going wild to trample the A. C. C. team in the most decisive victory Tech had ever won. The score was 50 to 6, or something like that. Two weeks earlier Buddy Brothers had booted a field goal which defeated McMurry, 10 to 7. A freak touchdown had tied the score earlier. Our comments on that game smacked of "the good luck Tech experienced" in beating McMurry. Dr. Horn approached the coop on the day of the Tech-A. C. C. game, called us out and, between touchdowns, pointed out that the Matadors were actually winning a game, and how! "And that, my boy, is not just luck!" he commented. "Please see to it that Coach Cawthon and his assistants get a lot of credit for doing that." We did and they did.

* * *

To whomever succeeds Dr. Horn as president of Tech goes a responsibility the importance of which cannot be overemphasized. Naturally, we are interested in athletics, and we sincerely hope that the succeeding prexy pays a lot of attention to sports at the college. Dr. Horn was an exception to the general rule in that he was deeply interested in and contracted a fundamental knowledge of sports. It is a lot to hope that the next president will be as observing, but he can do a lot for himself while doing a lot for Tech's athletics in the future. Dr. Horn started a great piece of work; it is to be hoped that his successor will carry on.

Charity Program To Feature Bowie Race

BOWIE, Md., April 14 (AP)—Its regular eleven-day meeting ended, the Bowie race track today threw open its gates for an extra charity program.

A regular seven-event program was arranged, with one purse of $1,200 and six of $1,000 each. Unlike the five charity days of 1931 the "cut" or "take" of the track will be five per cent. Last year it was eight per cent but experts have claimed that the smaller cut will produce more wagering through the pari-mutuel machines.

The feature will be the welfare mile for three year olds.

LOCAL MEN TO GO TO AKRON

EIGHT LEAVE HERE TO REPORT IN CENTRAL LEAGUE CLUB

A division of baseball players left Lubbock this morning bound for Akron, Ohio, and the Central League. The exodus of the cream of West Texas' baseball crop began before daylight when eight former local and sectional players departed in two automobiles.

The troup will report to J. J. (Honest John) McCloskey, manager of the Akron club, on Monday.

Raymond Marshall, Ed Hambright and Red Gaither, outfielders of former amateur and semi-pro clubs; Pitcher Lowell Dobbs of Amarillo, Pitcher Willis Knight and Catcher Dick Ratliff of Littlefield, First Baseman Bailey White of Lamesa and Second Baseman Jim Ballard of Lubbock and Hale Center have signed contracts with the Akron club and are to report next Monday.

Fifteen Men Signed

According to reports here, McCloskey has signed only fifteen men to start the training season. Central League clubs are allowed to retain fourteen, including a bench manager, and five rookies with no previous professional experience. McClosky has intimated that he means to incorporate the South Plains men in his regular lineup. He was here last summer to take the lead in the formation of a Panhandle-Plains league, which failed to get started, and spent several weeks looking over the ivory in this unorganized section. He appeared pleased with the work of the above listed men but did not indicate then that he would call them.

After a lay-off of one year the Central League opens again this season with 8 clubs. All but one club—Erie, Pa.—will play all home games at night, which will be in line with the experience gained by the players here last season.

Pays $250 Per Month

Salary limit of the Akron club is to be $250 per month with a team total of $2,500. The season's schedule begins on May 4.

Hambright, Marshall and Gaither have been main stays of the Lubbock club for the past several years, following an annual return from professional training camps. Last year they helped the Hubbers to set an unprecedented winning record. Hambright led the Hubbers hitting with an average well above .350 per cent, with Gaither running a close second.

TEXAS LEAGUE OPENS PENNANT RACE

FIRST BALL IS PITCHED BY STERLING

SHREVEPORT, DALLAS, BEAUMONT, HOUSTON WIN OPENERS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Aided by Governor Ross S. Sterling, the Texas league started its 40th annual pennant race yesterday with the usual pomp and tradition that goes with opening games.

Just to give the league a substantial start, Governor Sterling put on a baseball cap, wound-up and threw a perfect strike at the opening of the Fort Worth and Dallas game at Dallas. George Murray, veteran Steer right hander, picked up where the governor left off and proceeded to tame the Cats, 12 to 4. The highly touted bombarding of the Steers broke in all its fury to drive Stoner and Terry from the mound. Bonura, Holman and Murray hit home runs for Dallas.

Sports Down Spuds

George Sisler, making his bow in the Texas league as manager of the Shreveport Sports, went hitless yesterday but nevertheless his men beat Wichita Falls, 6 to 4. Van Lamm, a University of Texas product who had played only college and sandlot baseball until yesterday, collected three hits and drove in three of the Sports runs.

Conlan started for the Spudders and McPhaul for the Sports but both were routed.

At Beaumont Buck Marrow of the Exporters beat San Antonio, 12 to 1. He allowed 11 hits but he kept them scattered and was double tough in the pinches. Cy Smith and Jerry Mallet toiled on the mound for San Antonio and called it a bad start when they allowed the Exporters 14 hits.

In a night game, Houston played great ball to beat Galveston, 3 to 2. George Payne, whose almost unbeatable pitching aided Houston to a pennant last year, was nicked for nine hits but the veteran had the stuff in the pinches to barely nose out Henry Thormahlen who pitched a fine seven-hit game until the 7th inning when Fausett batted for him.

Discovery of America cost about $7,000, in terms of our present money values.

Chapman Signs Local Contract As Grid Mentor

LUBBOCK HIGH COACH AGAIN TO DIRECT WESTERNERS

Superintendent M. H. Duncan of Lubbock public schools announced this morning that Weldon Chapman had signed a contract to serve as head coach at Lubbock High school for another year.

Although it had been in his hands since January, Coach Chapman had until today refused to sign the contract. Superintendent Duncan said that the salary of the head coach had been reduced by the school board, but that the athletic council had awarded Chapman a bonus which would more than take care of the salary cut. The cut was in accordance with the general slashing of teachers' salaries.

To Pay Tuition

Superintendent Duncan also said that the high school had agreed to pay the tuition for both Coach Chapman and Assistant Coach Burl Huffman to the Texas Tech coaching school this summer.

"I am the most grateful man in Lubbock this morning, in view of the agreement between Coach Chapman and myself," Duncan stated early today. "Chapman is one of the finest fellows with whom I have ever worked, and I say he is the best high school coach in Texas!"

Huffman previously had signed a contract calling for his services as assistant coach. Both Chapman and Huffman will start their second year as Westerner coaches this fall.

It is estimated that 110,000,000 people speak German.

FARMERS ONCE TURNED UNDER SUDAN GRASS, AGRICULTURE CHIEF STATES

Recalling how farmers, except near the Lubbock and Temple experiment sub-stations, turned under sudan grass which had sprung from seed they had planted, Dr. B. Youngblood here Tuesday told the story of the introduction of the new crop on the South Plains.

Dr. Youngblood, a representative of experiment stations of the United States department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., was director of state experiment stations when he sent 100 pounds of sudan grass seed to the sub-station here in 1912. He is making an annual tour of experiment farms in this section.

Each sub-station, on receiving 100 pounds of seed, distributed it to farmers, Dr. Youngblood recalled. Most planters plowed it up because it looked so much like Johnson grass.

"The Lubbock farmers realized about $40,000 from the crop—sudan grass seed was very valuable then—and those at Temple about $30,000. It proved the most valuable crop they had had, and encouraged them to look toward agriculture development.

"The people of a semi-arid section are resourceful, and courageous."

To Help Farmers

The object of the experiment farms, as explained by Dr. Youngblood, is "to help the farmers get the information they need when they need it."

He pointed out that the stations in Texas have been promoting drouth resisting, high-yielding grains since 1914. "At that time," he said, "we didn't think sorghums were as good as corn to feed out livestock, but now we have proved that they are. There is no estimate on the value the sub-stations at Spur, Lubbock and Chillicothe have been to this section, in agriculture and in the feeding and breeding of livestock."

Must Live At Home

The former director had a word about side-tracking depression.

"The only insurance against depression is to live at home," he declared. "The people will have to relearn some of the things their fathers knew, and which have been forgotten. The farmers of Texas—with their meats and vegetables—are doing this."

Dr. Youngblood marveled at the development of civilization on the South Plains. Twenty-one years ago he came to Lubbock from Spur.

"At that time, the only convention you could have assembled in Lubbock was one of cowmen. When I reached Lubbock this time I found a Lions club convention which drew business men from the Plains," he said.

Growth Is Described

"Then, I found only a few farms—near Crosbyton and one hog farm east of Lubbock—between here and Spur. We followed the ranch roads. The experiment station house here was on a bald prairie and only a few trees—as ornamental shrubs—had been put out.

"Now, there are trees 16-inches through at the farm, and it is a beautiful spot. The experiment farm also proved that the South Plains can be made beautiful by trees, and has helped farmers and others to live—to do more than make money.

"In 1908, when I was connected with the farm management division of the department of agriculture I sent a man through this section. In his report to me, he declared this section would develop into a great grain sorghum and stock-raising section. He didn't foresee the cotton, but just now this section is starting what this federal man saw possibilities of 24 years ago.

Must Learn Feeding

"The South Plains must learn to feed out its stock on the feed it produces. You have the finest cottonseed meal and sorghum grains equal to corn. The South Plains must learn mixed farming, must make livestock, grain, pasturage and cotton all money crops.

"I marvel at the development here. It has taken courage and confidence and—" he chuckled—"I'm pretty confident that that first crop of sudan grass, which then was the most promising crop, provided a lot of that confidence and enthusiasm."

Dr. Youngblood, H. W. Marston, also of the experiment stations office, A. B. Conner, director of Texas experiment stations, and A. D. Jackson, extension publications editor, of Bryan, visited the experimental farm east of Lubbock yesterday. The party was to leave today for Las Cruces, N. M.

Thought For Today

Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.—Psalms 23:4.

This book of stars (the Bible) lights to eternal bliss.—George Herbert.

Refreshing Comment

An exceedingly interesting comment on the way in which those eastern college students were checked by local authorities when they tried to enter Bell and Harlan counties, in Kentucky, recently, was furnished the other day by H. R. Giles, city commissioner and prominent merchant of Middlesboro, Ky.

Declaring that County Attorney Walter B. Smith had a regular army of deputies out to stop the students, Mr. Giles remarked:

"If that gathering of around 2000 hecklers and ruffians from three counties—including many of the worst characters, who had been deputized, filled with liquor and armed to the teeth—constituted law and order and Kentucky bravery and chivalry, then I don't know what rank cowardice and lawlessness is."

It is encouraging to find that there is at least one prominent resident of the Kentucky mine war area who is willing to speak out against the unAmerican practices of the officials there.

Clowns In Russia

A campaign was begun in Moscow the other day to abolish clowns in all circuses which give performances within the Soviet union. Clown performances, it is explained, are incompatible with proletarian principles and do very little to advance the five-year plan or build up a strong Communistic regime. Hence they must be cut out of the picture.

This, of course, is just another of those things that make one wonder what has happened to the Russian's sense of humor—if he ever had one. But it serves, also, as a reminder that some of the most pleasant things in life are absolutely and unashamedly useless.

Circus clowns don't advance the cause of Communism? Well, they don't advance the cause of capitalism, either. They don't advance the cause of anything—which is why we like them. And a society that has no use for anything useless must be an uncomfortable sort of place to live.

Strange Comfort

It is interesting, and vaguely comforting, to learn that Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, received no fewer than 600 votes for president in the recent German elections.

Most of us had supposed that the voters of the United States had a monopoly on the hair-brained custom of voting for such impossibles as clowns, athletes and comic strip characters in national elections. That was a saddening thought, for it made it look as if American voters were less intelligent than the voters of other lands.

Now, however, Germany comes to the rescue. The German voter, it develops, can play that game, too. In one of the most momentous elections in her national history, Germany managed to dig up 600 citizens who could see nothing wrong in voting to put Schmeling in Von Hinderburg's place.

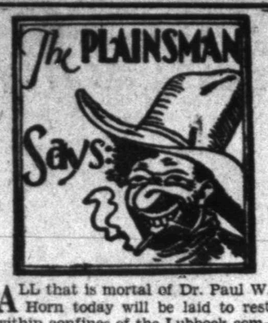

Buy an automobile, says President Hoover. He's changed his tune. Three years ago he told us to buy two automobiles.

Now they're making rubber out of sagebrush. If the price of rubber keeps on dropping, they're going to start making sage brush out of rubber.

A professional says the chin is 25 per cent of golf form. It's nearer 90 per cent for most golfers we know.

Another proof that things in South America are different: the new president of the Peru is only a colonel.

Soviet wages have been increased 11 per cent. That gives the workers enough to buy butter for their bread on alternate Wednesdays.

ALL that is mortal of Dr. Paul W. Horn today will be laid to rest within confines of the Lubbock cemetery, but his memory goes marching on.

Like many another citizen of Lubbock, The Plainsman feels that in the death of Doctor Horn he has lost a friend, a wise and generous counsellor. For that reason this column today refrains from its usual frivolities and offers for the records an appreciation of a man who was great.

* * *

On October 18, 1929, The Plainsman commented at length upon the man whom Lubbock and Texas mourn today.

The day after that comment appeared, Doctor Horn paid the writer a personal visit, expressing appreciation for the remarks and characterizing them as "the greatest compliment ever paid me in public print".

Because The Plainsman knows Doctor Horn was sincere in his appreciation, he is reprinting here today that comment, which first found its way into type in this column on October 18, 1929. Then it was 'Flowers For The Living,' today it is all the more appropriate because Doctor Horn has gone from our midst.

The Plainsman finds solace in being able to repeat today that which he wrote nearly three years ago; he feels it is a more fitting tribute to a friend who is gone than anything which might be submitted as written after his death.

* * *

"THE more The Plainsman sees of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, the more impressed he is with the man who sits at the helm of the great educational institution within our gates. The most outstanding thing about Doctor Horn, as a man, is the fact that despite his education, despite his years spent in academic teaching, he has what we ordinarily refer to as 'horse sense'.

* * *

"As has been previously and often noted in this column, The Plainsman is quite an admirer of Doctor Horn. The cause for this present comment, however, can be traced back a couple of nights to the Lubbock Rotary club's annual Inter-City Rotarians meeting, at which the college president made the principal address. This column believes, without fear of contradiction, that every man of the 200 or more who heard the doctor, not only appreciated his remarks to the fullest degree—but were likewise pleasantly surprised at the parallel which he drew.

* * *

"TO be brief about it, Doctor Horn took the Philadelphia American league baseball club—which everyone knows is now champion organization of its kind in the world — and compared with it the spirit of Rotary, and of West Texas. The talk was to the point, practical and couched in terms which even a small boy could grasp without any difficulty. After having heard a thousand speeches based on West Texas spirit, The Plainsman breaks right down and confesses that Doctor Horn's talk was the best he has ever heard along that particular line.

* * *

"There he stood, a learned man—holder of several college degrees—talking to a group of business and professional men. But instead of waxing over-eloquent, as many lesser speakers would under similar occasions—instead of making an effort to impress his hearers with the broad vocabulary and general knowledge which are undoubtedly his—instead, if you please, of using a lot of 'three dollar words'—President Horn chose to express himself in a common-sense way before common-sense men and a fine address was the ultimate result.

* * *

"THE fact that Doctor Horn is intensely human, as well as intellectual, is no new thing to the Plainsman. It has been this writer's good fortune to make several short trips with the Tech's president, has been his experience to be associated with him in business as well as in a social way, and Doctor Horn has never yet failed to 'come through' in fine style, no matter what job he has been set to. It is with these things in mind, accelerated by the Rotary meeting address, which have set this column to doing some thinking.

* * *

"Perhaps, after all, it is the underlying human element which makes Doctor Horn the outstanding educator which he has become. Perhaps it is that talent, which, during his many visits to Texas municipalities, has made, in large measure, the success of the new school here. Perhaps, in being different in demeanor from other academics, Doctor Horn is showing that regardless of a man's calling, the human factor is not to be denied.

* * *

"DOUBTLESS there are assistant instructors in Texas Technological college who, had they been placed in Doctor Horn's shoes Wednesday night, would have struck a pose of altruistic dignity, of academic fervor far more awe-inspiring than that adopted by their chief. And maybe that's the reason that Doctor Horn is president of Texas Tech. Maybe it's because he not only knows what to do at the right time—but does it!"

While Statesmen Bellow On Capitol Hill, Downtown Of Washington Still Echoes With Sound Of Police Clubs

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 14—While statesmen bellow on Capitol Hill, downtown Washington still rings with the echo of the police clubs which rained down on the heads of Communists who recently attempted to demonstrate in front of the Japanese embassy.

Dutcher

The newspapers and newspapermen generally are sour on the tactics used by the police. General Pelham D. Glassford, police chief, has advised the American Civil Liberties Union that newspaper accounts were "immensely exaggerated" and the newspapers have answered with editorials, eyewitness stories and photographs to prove that the accounts were true.

• • •

Sound Not for the Weak

I happened to be approximately in the middle of the one-sided struggle between the Communists and the cops and was impressed mainly by two facts.

First, some Communists are willing to face cruel clubbings and blackjackings in the face of quite hopeless odds, rather than submit tamely to police orders.

Second, the sight and sound of those clubbings is not for weak stomachs such as mine. (The sound, if you haven't heard it, is exactly like that produced by the harsh impact of a bat and a baseball.)

The Communists had sought to parade on the sidewalk in front of the embassy, bearing placards protesting Japanese actions in China and one or two other matters. The cops, acting without any request from the embassy, said they couldn't.

• • •

Billies Come Out

The Communists insisted on their right to demonstrate and both plainclothes and uniformed men proceeded to grab the banners and arrest bearers.

Billies and blackjacks came into play when the Communists began to resist, some attempting to dash through the lines and up the sidewalk. I saw several men beaten up, but apparently only when they attempted to pull a cop off a comrade or tried to wrench themselves from a cop's grasp, as they often did.

The Communists who demonstrated actively after the disturbance began were simply "beaten into submission." If one remained motionless he appeared to be safe from brutality. The cops were simply acting like cops, with orders from Glassford to use no more violence than "necessary." It often seemed to take the combined clubbing of three or four cops to effect the desired result.

• • •

A Great Little Fight

Other reporters saw a motorcycle cop run down a fleeing Communist and, driving full tilt, knock him under a car. I didn't see that. I spent much time watching Joan Hardy, a tiny tigress, tussling with a big, old sergeant and others in a remarkably game fight. Some reports said she was finally knocked out by a policeman's fist, but I didn't see the blow, if there was one.

The big sergeant tripped and fell on her. She lay on the sidewalk three or four minutes, moaning and gasping, apparently semi-conscious but perhaps only getting her breath so she could fight those cops again.

Anyway, she jumped up again and flew furiously at that sergeant. Finally enough cops got firm grips on her to hold her until the patrol wagon came.

• • •

Girls Make Threats

Three other girls and 15 or 16 men were by that time being held. Some of the men were bleeding from head and face wounds and one cop was bleeding. The demonstrators were all taken away for sentences or fines running as high as $300, some being charged with assaulting cops. One of the girls was a slender, pretty 18-year-old blond, with rosy cheeks, who had taken no part in the fighting.

Two of the girls, though held fast, wore themselves hoarse in speeches accusing the cops of being drunk and promising what would happen to them "when the workers get control." None of the 60 or 75 cops seemed drunk, although the embassy served sandwiches, coffee and chocolate cake prior to the demonstration.

After it was all over, one middle-aged cop was rubbing his hands and explaining to another:

"Best time I've had in 20 years!"

SYMPTOMS OF ILLNESS

THERE IS no use in arguing that love is not a form of sickness. Of course it is. The symptoms are anorexia, dyspnoea, tachycardia, exophthalmos, wasting, and cerebral disorientation. You will find those words in any medical dictionary. They are well known to be signs of disease. And when you put them all together if that doesn't make a disease, what does, for heaven's sake?

Dr. Clendening

If you haven't a medical dictionary, handy, anorexia means loss of appetite, dyspnoea means the breath comes in short gasps, tachycardia means the heart pounds rapidly and heavily, exophthalmos means staring eyes fixed on vacancy, and cerebral disorientation means a total lack of appreciation of the realities of life—a disregard of the meaning of rent, of the cost of food, clothes and baby carriages.

While the disease does not occur exclusively in the spring, its severest ravages are observed at that time. It is then that it is most likely to strike down the flower of the land—the young, the strong, the beautiful.

The cause of the affection differs in different cases. As a rule the cause is a mystery to the outsider but seems to be perfectly plain to the victim. The germ theory of its origin has had to be discarded.

The most plausible theory of the cause is that the disease is due to a chemical change—that the brain entirely dissolves and becomes gaseous and permeates all the tissues of the body.

While no age is exempt it is most likely to afflict the young. But when it fastens itself upon an individual over forty, the severest forms of the disease may be studied. The victim sits with a fatuous smile while his children, grandchildren, business associates and lifelong friends, argue with him by the hour.

As to sex, it is notable that women have a natural immunity and the disease seldom affects one of them in the aggravated or pernicious variety.

The latest psychological theory of the nature of love is that advanced by the current hot shot among the psychologists, Robert Briffault. He says that it is a reversed nutritional urge. Just like the appetite for food, except the victim wants not to eat, but to be eaten. He points as proof to the female spider who in the act of love eats the male spider. So that peculiar look on the face of the young man next door is just a yearning to be made into a fricasse or a pousse cafe. These modern psychologists say the darndest things.

The disease ordinarily does not yield to palliative measures of treatment. Persuasion is simply a waste of time. The only permanent cure known is marriage. Of course, that is like saying to a person with indigestion, "The only thing is for you to go under the knife." It is drastic, but it is final. Permanent cures have also been reported by having the victim play three rubbers of bridge with the object of his desires. The love light fades during the first rubber, flickers during the second, and goes out during the third.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

M. C.: "Does epsom salts taken every morning in a small glass of water, used to get thin, effect the heart or health? I am told that it is a good way to reduce. What is your opinion?"

Answer: My opinion is that this medicine will not affect the heart or impair the health, except that it might make an irritable colon. However, I do not believe that it will reduce weight.

Those City Slickers

NEW YORK, April 14—Well, fellow cut-ups, if you're interested in following the fun fashions set by the playful city slickers of Manhattan you'll run right down to the nearest toy shop and get yourself a false mustache and perhaps a set of whiskers.

Few public and private events in New York are now complete without a couple of big town boys giving an imitation of Jack Dalton or a circus ringmaster.

• • •

It started one night during the winter months when four tuxedoed gents walked solemnly down the aisles of a theater and took seats in the first row. When the curtain went up, the actors had to call for help to keep from getting stitches in their sides. For the four were wearing trick foliage. Within a few days, tables at the swanky night spots fairly sprouted with toy-store fringe.

Since that time, this little sport has been added to the rules of "how to be the life of the party." Hawkers sell them at the commutation train stations; sidewalk peddlers peddle them in mid-Broadway and a number of cigar stands in the swanky hotels carry them in stock.

• • •

Speaking of Whiskers

Just the other night, the dignified Horace Green, publisher, changed the game slightly by greeting his guests at a home party while hiding about four inches of the walrus variety, to say nothing of a beard that would have made any member of the late Czar's guard envious.

Which reminds me that a town wit raises the question: if all the New York doormen really were members of the Czar's bodyguard, how did anyone manage to get to him?

Green, by the way, recently discovered that his Murray Hill residence was the former home of P. T. Barnum. So he served pink lemonade, pop-corn and peanuts to his guests.

• • •

Madam X to the Rescue

All of which, somehow, recalls the tale passed on by Ethal Jones about a friend, a lawyer, who recently was named to a New York judgeship. In the rush of clearing up his legal business, the new judge forgot about getting the severe black robe worn on the Manhattan bench.

Almost on the eve of being sworn in, the judge called upon Jones for help. Nowhere, it appeared, could one find such a robe in the stores or shops. Finally a theatrical costumer was located who happened to have a grand silken garment left from the courtroom scene in "Madame X."

A hurried visit to a cleaners—and the judge was somberly arrayed for his oath.

The Pipes o Scripps

Another odd search was that staged the other evening by Robert P. Scripps, of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. It seems he wanted a bagpipe, and he wanted it in a hurry, for he was getting ready to leave for a week-end with friends in the country. His host was a gent who had long boasted of his prowess as a bag-piper. Scripps had decided to call his bluff. It was not long until train time, and no bagpipe was on hand.

He called in Bob Garland, the drama scribe. Bob made a hasty closing-time visit to two big music stores. Yes, they had bagpipes, but the manager had to admit, the instruments "had to be conditioned." They would not recommend any for "moment's notice" use. There were no pipers at the local theaters, and members of a Scotch society regretted that their pipes were going to be in use.

The search ended, of all places, in the offices of Attorney Frances X. Hennessy, with whom bag-piping is a hobby.

TEACHERS' SALARIES AND UNEMPLOYMENT ARE DISCUSSED BY READERS IN LUBBOCK

TEACHERS' SALARIES

Dear Plainsman: I have just finished reading your comment regarding the cut in school teachers' saleries. May I say that the Lubbock teachers at the present are very much in need of a champion?

In reading the letter quoted from a Lubbock citizen printed in your column, it occurred to me that he probably did not understand the condition of the teachers' cut at this time.

Early in the fall, when the teachers realized that the school finances were in a strenuous condition, they signed a paper offering to do their part in relieving the situation. This paper offered to the board the willingness of the teachers to accept a ten percent cut in this year's salary on condition that next year the salary standard remain the same. Every teacher understood this to mean that if the school board accepted the offer the salaries would not be cut next year. Recently, they were informed that they were to be given a ten percent cut for the coming year and also were to receive the cut for the past year. This cut offered in the paper is all to be taken out of the last month's salary. They were also given to understand that they could either accept or 'get out'. This last statement takes quite an advantage of a teacher considering the fact that practically all schools have already elected their teachers and there would certainly be very few jobs available.

The teachers of Lubbock are perfectly willing to take one of these cuts and to take the one the board thinks best, but they do not feel that they are being treated fairly as the situation now stands.

This is written in hopes that something may be done or at least to acquaint the citizens with the conditions as they really are. It does not seem fair that the teachers receive any criticism under the conditions.

I am not signing this—not from any fear of persecution of myself, but because it might hurt others who know nothing of its being written.

A Lubbock Citizen.

(Dear Citizen: I don't know anything about what the paper, to which you refer, said but I am in accord with upholding teachers' saleries to the point where Lubbock can be assured good teachers. Thanks for your letter. The Plainsman.)

ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Dear Plainsman: I am writing you on an aged question—the unemployed. Many solutions have been given but not many of them will work.

I have an idea that won't cure the situation but might help. It is this: By law a firm is not allowed to work a woman over 54 hours per week. Why not have the same law apply to men also? This would cut out these 12-hour days and put someone on part time work and also help out very much in these depressed times.

If you publish this I will read your opinion in The Journal.

Yours truly,
R. B., Lubbock.

(Dear R. B.: I am in favor of anything to reduce working hours—I put in 15 hours yesterday, myself! However, I'm afraid your plan would have tough sledding in the legislature—although something like it would certainly, as you suggest, reduce unemployment. Thank you for your letter. The Plainsman.)

IRREGULARITIES ARE ALLEGED IN CHICAGO VOTING

CHICAGO, April 14. (AP)—A charge of widespread voting irregularities in Chicago was made today as returns from Tuesday's primary election continued to pile up pluralities for favored candidates of both parties.

Although trailing United States Senator Otis F. Glenn by about 150,000 votes, Newton W. Jenkins of Chicago, candidate for the Republication nomination for senator, issued a statement predicting ultimate victory for himself by 50,000 votes and charging fraud in the election.

Meanwhile, tabulation of votes in downstate districts added hourly to the pluralities of the nominees for governor, Republican Len Small and Democrat Judge Henry Horner.

Both parties apparently expressed satisfaction with Illinois' delegation to the national house of representatives. With but few exceptions incumbent congressmen were renominated.

One of the exceptions was Congressman Carl R Chindblom of Evanston, Republican. Another was Congressman William E. Hull, Republican of Peoria, defeated by Everett M. Dirksen. Among the Democratic congressional losers was James T. Igoe of Chicago, whom Thomas J. O'Brien, a veteran of the state legislature, defeated.

INDIANAPOLIS MAN TALKS TO KIWANIS

Basing his remarks on the story of the Good Samatarian, John H. Booth of Indianapolis, Ind., secretary of missions for the Christian church, declared that the world is dominated today by pagan philosophy and that there must be a change in the present industrial and economic systems in an address before the Lubbock Kiwanis club today noon in Hotel Lubbock.

Tribute to President Paul W. Horn was paid by the club at the opening of the program, Dr. Jack M. Lewis giving an inspirational prayer.

Mr. Booth appeared before the club without an introduction from President G. P. Kuykendall and members didn't know his name until after he had left the room and they had inquired of Mr. Kuykendall.

"It's time that men were thinking seriously about our crime conditions," Mr. Booth said as he cited the philosophy of the robbers—"What's yours is mine and I'll take it if I can". The criminal reasons this way: that big fellow yonder is getting his through manipulation or protection of the law so why can't I get mine. And He's doing it at the risk of his life. I feel that our present forms have got to be radically changed. It simply can't go on. Our industrial and economic systems have been weighed and found wanting. The present order of things is based on this pagan philosophy. When four per cent of the population own and dominate about 90 per cent, there's something wrong."

And then he cited the two men who passed the wounded man by, their philosophy was "What's mine is my own and I'll keep it," he said that philosophy was being carried out too much today and declared that the darkest chapter in American history was the last year of the Wilson administration and the first of Hardings when the American isolation policies were put into effect.

"What's mine is yours and I'll share it if you need it" was the policy of the Good Samatarian, he said, and one that is needed more than ever today to save mankind.

Mrs. Jerome Merrell and Miss Louise Garrison gave accordion selections at the close of the talk.

D. T Simon of Fort Worth and Dr W P Garvin of Canadian were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 14 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady today with fairly active trading. First trades showed losses of one point although Liverpool was much lower than due. Prices rallied slightly after the start on some short covering and on fairly good domestic consumption during March. The consumption total for March was 488,655 bales against 450,018 bales during February. Prices rallied 2 to 3 points right after the start, but as the stock market opened easier and the textilee statistics for March proved bearish the market soon eased off with July dropping to 6.35 and October to 6.58, or 5 to 7 points below the previous high and 3 to 4 points below yesterday's close. Sales of cotton goods during March proved to be only 58.1 per cent of production while the unfilled orders at the end of March had decreased 26.4 per cent. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and at the low.

The market continued to ease off slowly most of the morning because of selling induced by weakness in stocks. May dropped to 6.16 and October to 6.56, or 6 to 7 points below the early highs and 4 to 5 points below yesterday's close. Near noon prices rallied with improved stocks and made new highs on both months, May trading to 6.23 and October to 6.64. The July position did not quite reach the early highs, trading only at 6.41, a recovery of 6 points from the lows. Around noon the market was steadier and somewhat more active.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, April 14 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. May 6.22; July 6.38; Oct. 6.60; Dec. 6.79; Jan 6.87-B; March 7.01-B

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 7 points on covering and scattered buying. May sold up to 6.25.

The English market following earlier declines, rallied quite sharply before the local opening and houses with Liverpool connections were moderate buyers while there also was some trade demand and covering. Buyers were supplied by southern selling and liquidation however, and offerings increased right after the call as if influenced by the action of the stock market. May sold off to 6.17, while October reacted from 6.67 to 6.60 with active months ruling within a point or two either way of yesterday's closing at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported local and continental selling in the early trading there and said sales of cloths and yarns were below production.

The early decline extended to 6.16 for May and 6.58 for October, or about 1 to 3 points below yesterday's closing quotations on the active positions. Volume then tapered off and the market later was quiet and fairly steady on some further trade buying and covering. At midday prices showed rallies of 2 or 3 points from the lowest.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Cotton opened steady, May 6.25; July 6.44; Oct. 6.67; Dec. 6.82; Jan. 6.89; Mar. 7.01.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 14 (AP)—Wheat prices rose early today, influenced by failure of expected rains and by reports that the condition of domestic winter wheat crops southwest was deteriorating daily. Further stimulus to buyers resulted from announcement that Italy would raise her wheat import quota 10 to 25 per cent beginning April 26. Opening unchanged to ½ higher, wheat afterward scored an all around advance. Corn started unchanged to 1-8 off and subsequently tended upward.

STOCK MARKET

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 14 —(AP)—The stock market danced about rather erratically today.

A sharp slump at the opening, suggestive of forced liquidation such as selling out of bank loan collateral, carried prices into new low ground for the circle, but pressure abated toward midday and a flurry of short covering erased most of the loss. A few small gains appeared.

The recovery was marked by a runup of more than 7 points in Peoples Gas, accompanied by a similar jump in Commonwealth Edison in the curb. American Telephone dropped 4 points then recovered. Early losses of 2 and 3 points in Santa Fe and Union Pacific were replaced by gains of about a point. U. S. Steel recovered an early decline of 1 5-8. Standard of N. J., a soft issue yesterday rose a point. Lambert got up 2 points. General Motors and General Electric were stable from the start.

THOUSANDS TO PAY TRIBUTE TO HORN IN SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

the entire southwest, were completed this morning. Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, is to be in charge.

Burial Plans Changed

Burial will be made in Lubbock cemetery and not on the campus as originally planned Wednesday. Objection of a member of the board of directors to the campus burial caused the change in plans last night.

Students and faculty members were filing by the bier at the residence this afternoon from 1:30 to 2:30 to get a last glimpse at their beloved leader.

Plans for the services call for the departure of the funeral cortege from the president's residence at 4:45.

Opening the services under the cloisters will be a prayer by Dr. John C. Granbery, head of the department of history and a long-time friend of the president.

Rev. E. E. White, former pastor of the First Methodist church here and now presiding elder of the Plainview district, is scheduled to read a brief scripture lesson after which Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman of the college's board of directors, will make a brief address.

A song, "Abide With Me" by the college girl's glee club and male voices will be given at the close of the short service.

Seats will be provided for more than 500 people on the college lawn but the remainder of the crowd will have to stand during the services, officials announced this morning.

The cortege will then move from the campus down Broadway to Avenue Q and then south to Sixteenth street. Reaching Avenue H, it will proceed to the cemetery.

Motet Is Arranged

A motet, "I Heard a Voice From Heaven," written especially for the services by Prof. W. R. Waghorne, head of the college's music department, will be given by the faculty double quartet in the committal services at the grave. Members of the quartet are: Edgar Shelton, Seth Cummings, W. P. Clement, J. H. Murdeugh, C. D. Eaves, R. C. Mowery, P. A. Kleinschmidt and H. F. Godeke.

Pallbearers are: Directors Clifford Jones of Spur and Roscoe Wilson of Lubbock, Deans J. M. Gordon, A. H. Leidigh and O. V. Adams, Registrar E. L. Dohoney, Business Manager W. T. Gaston and C. A. Sanford, long-time friend of the president.

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a funeral in Lubbock is expected at the college this afternoon. A large number of business houses in Lubbock are to be closed for the services to allow employes to attend. All offices in the courthouse were closed at noon today and will remain closed throughout the afternoon.

Members of the college cadet corps will handle traffic at the college grounds and assist in parking of cars so that congestion may be avoided.

Former Students Here

Besides hosts of Lubbock citizens, a vast number of South Plains residents including hundreds of former students and graduates of the college will be present. Numbers of those students were arriving in town at noon today.

Messages of condolence and respect continued to be received by members of the family and officials of the school today from friends of the president all over the nation.

Floral houses reported large orders for flowers and a profuse floral offering will adorn the casket at the services.

College officials made an appeal this morning to citizens with cars who are planning to attend the services at the grave to allow students to ride with them. A majority of the students desire to attend the services at the cemetery as well as those at the college, they said.

Change in the plans for the burial came after it was learned that although other members of the board had agreed to original suggestions that the noted educator be buried on the campus, scene of some of his most distinguished work that John W. Carpenter, Dallas utilities magnate, had voiced objection.

Carpenter eulogized Dr. Horn as one of the outstanding educators of his time but said he opposed, as a matter of principal and precedent, the burial of anyone within the college boundaries.

DUNCAN SAYS PUBLIC SCHOOLS LOSE FRIEND

Public school teachers, from whose ranks the late college president rose to fame and affluence in the field of education, today paid tribute to the life and work of Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn, first president of Texas Tech.

Pointing out that in the death of Dr. Horn the public school teachers of Lubbock have "lost a wise counsellor and a warm personal friend," M. H. Duncan, superintendent of local schools, issued a formal statement this morning for himself and his teaching staff.

Statement Is Quoted

"In the death of President P. W. Horn, Texas Technological college has suffered an irreparable loss. During the seven years of his service in that institution he did a work that few could have done. In fact, we do not know of a school that has made such progress in such a short time, and this has been very largely due to the tact, good judgment, and leadership of its president. Assembling a faculty of such splendid men and women and creating the efficiency and good will to attract more than two thousand students is an achievement that very few men in the educational world could have accomplished. Lubbock and Texas are greatly indebted to him for what he has done here.

"It was in 1907 when he was superintendent of public schools in Houston that I first met Dr. Horn, and since that time I have been a close observer and admirer of him and his work as an educator. He was one of the greatest teachers I have ever known and I have always felt that he was most at home with public school teachers. I know of no man who could touch the heart of the work of the classroom teacher just as clearly and forcefully as he could. Every year for the past seven years he has talked to our teachers and he never failed to give us a new vision of our work and to lift us to a higher plane. He was to have addressed our teachers last Saturday at the last teachers' meeting for the year, but was prevented from doing so on account of his illness. In his death, the public school teachers of this city have lost a wise counsellor and a warm personal friend. We extend to his bereaved family and friends our deepest sympathy."

Economy Discussed By President Today

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—Business and governmental economy occupied the president's attention today in two early morning conferences.

He talked first for half an hour with Secretary Mills, Charles G. Dawes and Eugene Meyer, the latter two president and chairman of the board of the reconstruction corporation.

A few minutes later, Director Roop of the budget, who has acted as spokesman for the president on the pay cut issue before the special house economy committee, was called in. The president and the committee have conferred twice over plans to reduce governmental expenditures.

SCHALL ELECTION GETS CHALLENGE

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—Einar Hoidale of Minneapolis today challenged the election of Senator Thomas D. Schall (R., Minn.) in a petition submitted to the senate for him by Senator Walsh (D., Mont.) charging violation of state and federal corrupt practices acts.

Hoidale was the Democratic candidate for senator in 1930. His petition cited that Schall received 293,626 votes against his 282,018 and alleged there were irregularities in some precincts, with the vote for Schall larger than the total cast.

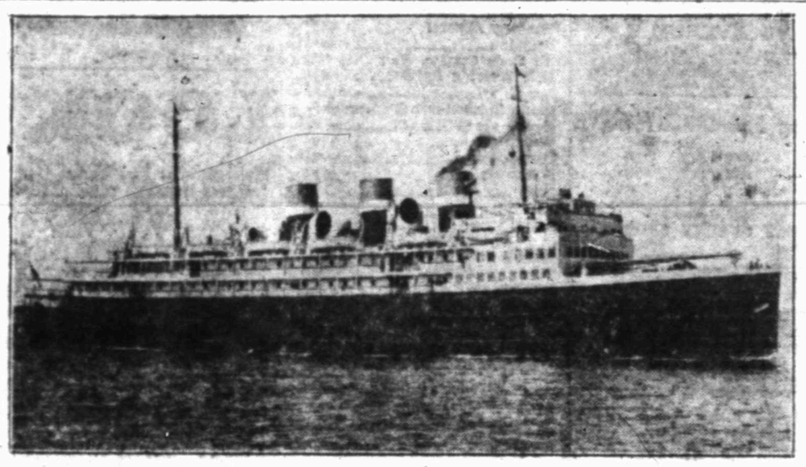

The petition was referred to the elections committee.

Democrat Declared Elected To House

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—A house elections committee today voted to disallow a recount asked by Charles O'Conner, Republican, and declare Wesley E. Disney, Democrat, elected as a member of the house from the first Oklahoma congressional district.

NO VERDICT RETURNED

SAN ANGELO, April 14. (AP)—The jury, before which Charles Fuller is being tried for the murder of Hugh Rutledge at McCamey in 1929 came into the courtroom at 10 o'clock this morning and asked a certain portion of the testimony be read. There was no report as to how it stood.

1932 PROCLAIMED DEMOCRATIC YEAR

LINCOLN, Neb., April 14 (AP)—Nebraska's Democrats today proclaimed 1932 "a Democratic year" as, elated over the results of Tuesday's primary, they pointed out that three-fourths of the vote cast in the expression of presidential preference was Democratic.

The sweeping victory of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as the Democratic presidential preference and the nearly two-to-one victory of Gov. Charles W. Bryan for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination pleased the partisans most.

Gov. Roosevelt's lead mounted higher and higher as the last scattered precincts reported. From 1,893 of the 2,049 precincts the vote was Roosevelt 85,414; Speaker John N. Garner of Texas, 25,548; Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma, 22,876.

Bryan, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee in 1924, had 81,462 votes, compared with 47,506 for William Ritchie, jr., in the Democratic gubernatorial race.

The Republican contest for governor remained in doubt, but Dwight Griswold still held the edge.

MANUFACTURE OF ILLICIT BEER IS ASSAILED TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The senate finance committee was told today by a representative of the near beer industry—Levi Cook of Washington—that manufacture of illicit beer running into "millions of gallons" annually threatens to put makers of legitimate cereal beverages out of business.

Cook urged a heavier tax on wort which he described as one of the principal ingredients in the beer he said was being made by "alley brewers."

"There has grown up in this country," Cook said, "particularly along the Great Lakes, in Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo, and elsewhere, in Missouri, Pennsylvania, some in eastern New York and some on the coast in California, the practice of making this brewers' wort and selling it to alley brewers who mix it with yeast in barns, stables or anywhere they can place a tank."

Cook said he represented brewers who had turned from making beer to near beer on the advent of prohibition.

He testified that their business had "fallen off two-thirds in the last ten years."

WE

Are firmly convinced that the people of Lubbock and the South Plains WANT QUALITY WORK . . . and we know that, although they are interested in buying any commodity as cheap as possible, that they well realize that it is cheaper to pay just a little more, and get QUALITY WORK.

Bray's are cleaning and pressing clothes, at an alarmingly low price, but they have not cut their QUALITY, and they will quit, before they SACRIFICE QUALITY for PRICE . . . With the large volume of business that we are doing, we are giving the same HIGH QUALITY as always.

FREE

—with every man's suit or overcoat sent to us, we will clean and press a coat FREE, and with every lady's dress or coat sent to us, we will clean and press a dress FREE.
