

Little Hope Is Seen For Revived Corn

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Last hope that a revived corn crop might ease or remove the threat of less and costlier meat next year all but faded today.

With harvest time approaching, the government's latest forecast of the crop that will largely determine the size of the 1948 meat supply shaved more than 33,000,000 bushels off a yield already rated as the smallest since the disastrous 1936 drought.

The Agriculture Department yesterday put the figure at 2,403,913,000 bushels as of September 1, a 27 per cent drop from last year's record output and the second consecutive decline since July 15.

Officials estimated earlier in the season that a harvest of at least 2,850,000,000 bushels would be necessary to maintain meat production near the present high level.

U. S. Reported Moving For Balkan Action

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 11. (AP)—

The United States was reliably reported today to have formally moved to have the Balkan question dropped from the security council's agenda—a step necessary to permit the 55-nation general assembly to act on the problem.

A spokesman for the American delegation said Herschel V. Johnson, deputy U. S. delegate, has asked that the Balkan issue be put on the calendar of the council's next meeting so that the United States could propose the necessary action.

Under the U. N. charter, the assembly may discuss matters which are under active consideration in the security council but may not make recommendations. The assembly will begin its session next Tuesday at Flushing Meadow Park in New York. No date for the next council meeting has been set.

The American spokesman said the United States was prepared to offer a resolution to meet the charter requirements. He said, however, that it was not yet sure whether the resolution would provide that the Balkan case be dropped outright. It might be possible, he said, merely to declare that the question was no longer under active consideration.

Sixty Veterans Enroll At HCJC

Approximately 60 veterans had taken advantage of the early registration period for classes at the Howard County Junior College through Thursday morning, E. C. Dodd, president has announced.

Veterans may continue registration up to Sept. 15, opening date for the school. Other students will be accepted Friday and Saturday of this week in addition to Monday and Tuesday of the coming week, previously announced as registration days. School offices will be open until 5 p. m. with the exception of Saturday when doors close about noon.

Classes begin at 8 a. m. Wednesday Sept. 19. According to Dodd, class schedules have been arranged so that working students may take all necessary courses in the morning hours.

Enrollment is expected to be about the same as last year.

Jap Is Given 15 Year Sentence

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 11. (AP)—Hiroshi Tsuchiya, former mine foreman, was sentenced to 15 years at hard labor today for beating and abusing allied prisoners of war at Osazawa copper mines.

He was charged with striking one prisoner, Edward W. White, Brooklyn, N. Y., with a sledge hammer, and with beating Willis A. H. Arterburn, (2010 Taylor St.) Amarillo, into unconsciousness.

'DRAFT' CAMPAIGN

Eisenhower Hits Talk About His Running For President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower hit again today at talk of "drafting" him for the Republican presidential nomination, but still left unanswered whether he would accept the nomination if it should be offered.

He told a news conference in New York: "It has been pointed out there is no such thing possible in American politics as a draft unless the draft is an artificial stimulant. I am not going to be a party to any such draft or anything artificial."

visit Columbia University whose presidency he will assume next year when he retires from the Army.

It was the sixth time this year that he has been drawn into direct political comment.

In his fifth comment this year dealing with the 1948 presidential campaign, the 56 year old General told a news conference yesterday he "deplores" the organization of clubs to work for his nomination and hopes "no one will be attracted into spending his hard-earned dollars or time on this."

But when asked what he thought

U. N. Group Adopts Atomic Report

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 11. (AP)—The United Nations atomic energy commission today adopted its second report to the security council by a vote of 10 to 1 with Russia opposed and Poland abstaining. The ballot came after the United States and the Soviet Union bitterly accused each other of impeding the work of the commission.

The vote on the first report last year, embodying the principles of the Baruch plan, had been 10 to 0 with both Russia and Poland abstaining.

There is no vote in the atomic commission but the Soviet Union will be able to kill it with a veto if desired in the council.

Shortly before the vote, Frederick H. Osborn, United States atomic delegate, charged that Russia has consistently attempted to impede constructive work in the commission.

Answering the slashing attack on the United States by Russia yesterday Osborn told the commission that Russia must realize the only atomic control treaty acceptable to peoples of the world "will be one which does away with national rivalries and provides 'real security'."

Osborn said the U. S. approves "wholeheartedly" the second report now before the commission. In direct answer to Russia, he said: "The representative of the Soviet Union has charged that others than himself have stated that agreement was impossible. That is not my view. Such a statement is without foundation in fact, as is proved by the records of this commission; and its committee, which show also that the Soviet Union has consistently, since the beginning of our work on June 14, 1946 attempted to impede the desires of the majority to formulate specific proposals."

In the North Carolina drawing, a Negro who won a Cadillac car was denied the prize on the ground that the lottery was for white persons only. Subsequently, he received a sum equal to the automobile's purchase price.

St. Louis Postmaster Bernard F. Dickman wrote the Star-Times that the newspaper would have been barred from the mails if publication of the story had been noted at the time.

The Star-Times replied in an editorial yesterday that it will continue to publish such reports. The editorial said in part: "It is not a free press when any public agency attempts to tell the newspaper that it cannot inform the public of discrimination against a Negro because of his race."

The Star-Times said the lottery story was broadcast by radio stations from coast to coast and termed it "an absurdity for it to be legal to listen to such news and illegal to read it."

The strike has been effective in nine southern states. The company is now resuming operations, with newly-trained employees.

ROYALTY AT HOSPITAL BOSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Crown-princess Martha of Norway was at the Massachusetts general hospital today where she is to submit to an operation for a back injury.

Authorities in this area were altered today to be on the watch for the driver and his passenger missing from a Sweetwater taxi abandoned near the eastern Howard county line.

The police radio here said no trace of the two had been reported to noon.

A preliminary check indicated tires on the abandoned cab might have produced tracks near a Sweetwater service station burglary sometime Wednesday night.

Fear was expressed the driver, identified as L. V. Smith, might have been compelled to drive the burglar to the station and then to a rendezvous. Merchandise values at $240 was missed.

Police learned of the abandonment of the taxi when it was spotted by L. W. Smith, liquor control board agent, who was on patrol.

U. S. Moving To New Power In Germany

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—The United States appears today to be moving into a new position of power and leadership in western Germany as a result of Britain's inability to pay her own way there.

This developing situation reflects the general growth of American influence throughout the European area due to the need for American dollars to buy the necessities of life to pay for eventual reconstruction.

It appears to result not so much from any deliberate effort by the United States to gain influence for its own sake as from the American attempts to restore conditions in Europe to a point where the nations there can develop as they wish without heavy outside political influences, particularly communism.

Fresh information on the way things are going in the Anglo-American zone of western Germany came to light in connection with the official announcement last night of plans to boost coal production in the Ruhr mines of Germany. Much greater output from these mines if regarded in both London and Washington as essential to economic recovery in Europe.

The coal production program shows that the United States is gaining a greater power of decision in the British zone of Germany.

The new program provides for organization of a joint British-American board to supervise the operation of the Ruhr mines, thus placing the United States in a position of 50-50 responsibility with the British, who now have full say.

The agreement as released here and in London omitted any statement as to who would head the new board, but information from authoritative informants is that it will be headed by an American.

Wainwright Is Reported Boosted For Senate Race

DALLAS, Sept. 11. (AP)—The Dallas Morning News said today that a move has been started to draft Gen. Jonathan Wainwright as a democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate opposing the renomination of Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Late last month Wainwright retired as commander of the Fourth Army, ending 45 years of Army Service, to become an executive of a San Antonio food store chain. The movement is headed by W. H. Reid, Dallas attorney, who "believes Wainwright would have the political glamour to defeat" O'Daniel, the news said.

(Wainwright, in Chicago, could not be immediately contacted by newsmen for a statement.)

The Dallas News quoted Reid as saying the 64-year-old veteran of Bataan and Corregidor would not seek the office but would accept a call if drafted.

Reid was quoted as describing Wainwright as a "candidate who would go down the middle of the road."

AFL Will Make One More Try At Tie-Up With CIO

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—AFL leaders indicated today they would make one more try at bringing about a merger with the CIO, but they held out little hope it would be successful.

President William Green said the 15 man executive council, meeting here, would make another statement on the negotiations toward unity which began last winter.

Green said that both the AFL and CIO had agreed to work for organic unity when committees for the two organizations met in May. However, the AFL wanted immediate merger on its terms, while the CIO preferred to develop details slowly, while working together for common goals.

JUST PLAIN OLD 'IKE'

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (AP)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, asked today whether he would be known as "General" or "President" when he assumes his new post as president of Columbia University, replied:

"So long as I live, I shall most readily answer to the name of Ike."

SENATORS SAY

Benefits Expected From Price Probe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Senators Flanders (R-Vt.) and Baldwin (R-Conn.), said today they expect the Congressional investigation of rising living costs to bring about some reductions in food and clothing prices.

Neither Senator elaborated at their joint news conference as to how the reductions may be effected, but Baldwin told reporters: "We are hopeful that if it is true there are any unconscionable profiteers they will be warned by this investigation."

Flanders, chairman of a joint Senate-House subcommittee of three senators and three representatives which will open public hearings next Monday, agreed with Baldwin. Baldwin was author of a resolution calling for the inquiry.

AT MARSHALL

Farm Worker Leaders Are Under Arrest

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 11. (AP)—Officials of the Texas A. & M. College extension service were advised today that leaders of eight migratory labor crews were arrested at Marshall as they sought to transport between 300 and 400 Latin-American farm workers from Texas to Arkansas.

C. Hohn, state labor superintendent for the extension service, left immediately for Marshall to look out for the welfare of the workers and to encourage them to stay in Texas where jobs await them.

They were recruited to pick cotton.

A. Adams, radio editor of the extension service, said the service was advised that the crew leaders were held because they were without licenses. He explained that under Texas law such leaders were compelled to register and to have permits before moving workers out of Texas.

He said there was plenty of work for the crews in Texas cotton fields, and that the extension service would do everything possible to encourage the workers to remain in this state.

Many telephone calls were received during the morning offering the stranded crews work.

Sergeant Is Cleared Of Murder Charge

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Master Sgt. George J. Hill of Randolph Field today had been cleared of charges in connection with the death of Miss Marguerite Hancock, of Concord, Calif. The woman died of injuries suffered when she leaped from Hill's moving car on a country road two weeks ago. Hill was not billed by the grand jury.

Subsequent to the tragedy, Hill became father of a 7-pound boy, born to his English war bride at Brooke General Hospital Sept. 6.

Gold Proposal Is Recalled During Speech

Official Says Economic Upset Must Be Righted

LONDON, Sept. 11. (AP)—

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's latest proposal for solving Europe's economic ills is that the United States revive wartime lend-lease.

In a short talk here last night, he recalled his Sept. 3 suggestion that the U. S. redistribute the gold buried at Fort Knox, Ky., where it has stored some $12,500,000,000 of its $21,765,907,000 gold supply.

"I do not mind whether it is lease-lend or that," he went on. "But all I say is this—that you can't get settlement in the world unless we get these economic conditions right."

His lend-lease idea, which he did not amplify was tossed out in an address to Paul H. Griffith, immediate past national commander of the American Legion, and 135 other legionnaires bound for European war cemeteries. The visitors were dinner guests of the British legation.

"The United States have decided," Bevin said, "that we are the junior partner, that we are a third-rate power."

This was an evident reference to recent London newspaper stories that the U. S. state department, in a report to Congressmen now in Europe, has classified Britain as no longer an "equal" in the Big Three.

"Let me say to you, my dear Americans," the Foreign Secretary declared, "we may be short of dollars x x x but we are not short of will. x x x we will win through. We won't let you down."

Washington officials commented that lend-lease could not be resumed without authority from Congress, which is not scheduled for a regular session till January, although talk of a special session now is circulating.

They added, however, that Secretary of State George C. Marshall's plan for aid to Europe, now being elaborated, might turn out to have some resemblance to lend-lease.

Pioneer Suspends Lamesa Flights

HOUSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Pioneer Air Lines announced here today it has been instructed by the Civil Aeronautics Board to suspend operations to Lamesa, effective immediately.

The action was taken, according to Col. Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Air Lines, because the CAB deemed the Lamesa airport unfit for DC-3 planes. "The board," said Smith, "feels that it is in the public interest to avoid the dangers of faulty runways which cause vibrations damaging to equipment and could easily damage a plane."

Smith added that the suspension is temporary and that flight service to Lamesa will be resumed when airport improvements are made.

MALAYA AMBUSH

PENANG, Malaysia, Sept. 11. (AP)—Some 50 handits armed with Sten guns and pistols killed nine persons and wounded 14 yesterday in an ambush of two buses and an escorting police truck near Kilan Itan, mining village close to the Siamese border.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

English Miners End Wildcat Walkout

LONDON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Strikers in the Grime-thorpe, England, coal mine voted unanimously today to return to work Monday, breaking the back of a five-week-old unauthorized coal strike that took 60,000 workers out of Yorkshire pits.

Miners elsewhere in the rich Yorkshire fields had come out in sympathy with the Grime-thorpe workers, cutting Britain's coal production in the midst of an economic crisis in which the fuel was badly needed.

Labor circles expressed belief that all the strikers would return to work with the end of the Grime-thorpe walkout.

The strike developed after the national union of mine workers and the national coal board, which operates the nationalized mines, asked Grime-thorpe workers to work a larger "stint,"—two feet more of coal face—to up boost production. The men said they were already producing to the limit of their capacity.

IMPERIALISM CHARGED

Congressmen Lash 'Exodus' Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (U.S.)—Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) today described the unloading of 4,300 Jews in Germany by the British as "an outrage against the Jewish people which is in the worst traditions of Hitler."

In a separate statement, Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) asked President Truman to deny further economic aid to England until it accepts a recommendation by the United Nations committee on Palestine for admission of at least 100,000 Jewish refugees to the Holy Land.

Bender, too, declared the United States should "announce positive support for the recommendations of the U. N. committee."

The Ohioan said that instead of telling the British to "get out and stay out of Palestine" the Administration "has failed to condemn one of the greatest outrages of British imperialism because we are married to that imperialism."

Secretary of State Marshall disclosed at a news conference yesterday that the state department made a futile attempt to persuade the British not to send the Jews to Hamburg.

He said the British replied that Germany was the only place with housing for the refugees. Marshall remarked that a French offer of haven for the Jews is still open.

The Jews were intercepted by the British while trying to enter Palestine aboard the ship "Exodus 1947."

Sabath wrote to President Truman:

"The incredible, outrageous, and inhumane treatment of Jewish refugees returned by the British from Palestine has aroused the horror and condemnation of the civilized world."

"British Army brutality, not only countenanced but ordered by high authority, has served to focus the attention of people of good will on the abuses of its mandate over Palestine by Great Britain."

Sabath said England's "only excuse for her failure to fulfill the terms of the mandate has been that her interests in the Near East might be jeopardized by literal fidelity to her commitments."

"What is meant is that the powerful international oil cartels in the region might be offended, and that the synthetically-instigated and foreign-financed opposition of the Arabs might be aroused."

State Approves 51 Highway Projects

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (U.S.)—Expenditures estimated at $2,293,707 on 51 projects were approved yesterday by the state highway commission.

About a third of these authorizations were under the plan in which the counties will provide 75 per cent, the commission 25 per cent, of the construction cost.

The commission designated a farm-to-market highway from Refugio to Austwell with the understanding that Refugio county will provide all the cost of constructing a dustless two-lane road. The state will assume maintenance.

TRUMAN SUMMONED BEFORE COURT OF NEPTUNE AS LANDLUBBER

ABOARD THE USS MISSOURI WITH PRESIDENT TRUMAN,

Sept. 11. (U.S.)—President Truman, described in a summons as "a vile landlubber and polliwog," was ordered to report in King Neptune's court today for traditional shipboard ceremonies at the equator.

The Chief Executive was only one of some 1,600 on this battleship who faced the hazing which seagoing men inflict on shipmates who are not "shellbacks," or veterans of a passage over the line.

Each received a mock subpoena saying:

"You will accept most heartily and with good grace all pains and penalties of the awful tortures that will be inflicted upon you to determine your fitness to be one of our trusty shellbacks."

A ducking tank and paddles were in plain sight last night when Davy Jones, representing the mythological Neptune Rex, came aboard through a hawse-pipe to call the polliwogs for trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman wore bakers caps as the only article of the uniform customarily required of polliwogs. Others in the presidential party went all out, including daughter Margaret, who appeared in a sou'wester hat and raincoat.

Secretaries Matthew J. Connelley, Charles G. Ross and William N. Hassett, Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman, and Stanley Woodward, state department chief of protocol, were on deck in bakers hats, wearing ties, shirts and trousers backwards, in mismatched socks and with only one shoe.

Mr. Truman gave the crews of the Missouri and escorting destroyers a "well done" yesterday for their conduct in Rio De Janeiro. He said "not a single discreditable incident occurred" and that the men had helped further the "good neighbor policy."

Installation of a four-inch water main on the northern slopes of the city is now well underway. The line, an extension rather than a replacement, is designed to service the new addition east of the elevated storage tank and along NE 10th street, said City Manager H. W. Whitney. Army Training Plan Announced

Announcement of a War Department program, effective Sept. 15, to give high school graduates the opportunity to attend specific Army schools, other than Army Air Forces, was made today by Capt. Roy W. Gedeboer of the Big Spring U. S. Army recruiting station. In general, the program will allow high school graduates to apply for and be authorized to attend specific Army schools at the completion of basic or refresher training. Applications will be monitored by the recruiting service and forwarded to the appropriate Training Division, where assignments will be made for the various schools.

Besides being a high school graduate, applicants must obtain a recommendation from a reputable citizen attesting to his reputation and character, must enlist in the Regular Army unassigned for not less than a three-year period and must be otherwise eligible and qualified for enlistment under existing regulations.

Navy Reservists In First Session

Fourteen were present at the initial meeting of the new Navy Civil Engineer Reserve Battalion 8-32, held at the courthouse Wednesday night with Neel Barnaby ChCarp, in command.

Victory medals were issued to seven of the men present. A navy training film was shown, and an open discussion held on future plans for the unit. The CEC unit will hold regular meetings, studying a course as laid down by the Naval Reserve. All navy men who were in the Seabees are eligible for membership in the battalion.

Hereford Breeders Begin Fall Tour

Annual fall tour of the Howard County Hereford Breeders association began Thursday with members and other interested individuals inspecting herds north and east of Big Spring.

Friday the second leg of the tour will be conducted, with stops at ranches south and west of the city. There are upwards of 30 members affiliated with the local association, one of the most active in West Texas. The practice of semi-annual tours was inaugurated several years ago in order to permit members and businessmen to see what others were doing in the field of improving Hereford cattle in this section.

Sterling Well Continues Test

Further attempts to squeeze off water will be made on the Plymouth Oil No. 1 Georgia Frost, north-central Sterling county Ellenburger discovery.

The well swabbed 110 barrels of oil and 112 barrels of salty water in 24 hours ending Wednesday morning. The test was through perforations from 8,353-78 feet, and it is probable that more cement will be squeezed through perforations up the hole to halt influx of water, thought to be coming from the barren Mississippian. Location is 11 1/2 miles north and slightly west of Sterling City and in the C NE SW 39-1 H&TC.

Humble No. 1 F. M. Weaver estate, slated for 5,500 feet on the northwest edge of Lamesa, was reported taking a drillstem test to 4,580 feet in the San Andres section. It is located in the center of the NE SE 68-35-6N, T&P.

King, Warren & Dye, southeastern Martin wildcat, was shut down for orders after treating a Grayburg section of the San Andres from 3,615-78 feet with 3,000 gallons of acid. After the acid load and residue were recovered, the test swabbed at the rate of 10 barrels of salt water per hour with no appreciable shows of oil or gas. It is located three miles east of Stanton, and is in the center of NW SE section 9-35-1S, T&P. Testing was after plugging back 3,707 following barren drillstem testing of the lower San Andres.

Also shutdown for orders was the A. M. Lacey No. 1 P. M. Buchanan, section 29-31-1N, T&P, three miles north of the Corden refinery east of Big Spring. Formation was listed as brown lime, in which the test had been for more than 200 feet but no shows.

Twenty Attend Chlorination Training Here

Enrollment in the two-day chlorination school, being conducted at the city's filter plant in southeastern Big Spring, rose to 20 today. Certificates will be presented to those completing the course this afternoon. Under the sponsorship of the Permian Basin Water Works and Sewage association, the course is made possible through instruction from the state foundation on water and sanitation research. Instructions deal with theory of chlorination, analysis of trouble and maintenance of chlorination units.

Transportation Needed For Trip By High Schoolers

Transportation for high school band members to Abilene Monday is needed urgently, J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, said today.

While some cars have been promised, the number is short of the needs to take the band members to Abilene where they will participate in the parade marking the opening of the annual West Texas Fair at 10 a. m. Monday. Those who could furnish an automobile are urged to call the chamber of commerce.

Markets

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Stocks generally resumed the recovery move in today's market although some leaders failed to respond.
Short covering and quick-turn buying, based on the idea that a further technical advance was in the cards, served to prop individual issues. Speculation in commodities will overshadowed the share division. Many customers held short or trimmed commitments because of apprehension regarding business in the light of soaring living cost.
Assorted rails improved at the start as the I.C.C. granted a boost in interstate commutation fares. Dealings tapered after an active opening but gains of fractions to a point or so predominated near midday.
Bonds improved and cotton futures were steady.

LIVESTOCK
PORT WORTH, Sept. 11.—Cattle, 2,400; calves 1,200; mostly active, mostly steady; better fat calves strong; common to medium steers, yearlings and heifers 13.00-22.00; few good, light yearlings 23.50; medium to good fat cows 14.00-17.00; bulls 11.00-16.00; good and choice fat calves 18.00-21.25; common to medium calves 13.00-18.50; stocker calves, yearlings and steers mostly 16.00-21.50; one load feeder steers 22.50; stocker cows 13.50 down.
HOGS 400; slow, butcher hogs mostly 40-50 cents higher; top 65 cents higher at 29.00, new record at this market; most good and choice 26.00-27.00, 28.75; other weights 28.50 down; sows 20.00-25.50; pigs 20.00-25.00.
SHEEP 2,700; active and steady; medium and good slaughter spring lambs 20.00-23.00; few common and medium yearlings 12.00-17.00; medium and good aged sheep 7.50-8.50; stocker lambs 18.00 down with good kind scarce.

COTTON
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Cotton futures at noon were $1.85 to $2.10 a bale higher than the previous close, Oct. 31.84, Dec. 31.64 and March 31.65.

Can Now Fish Again, Says Fort Worth Man

"I am 77 years and 7 months old today and can truthfully say that after taking one bottle of Merton Compound, I have been so benefited that I don't feel like the same person," says Mr. A. F. Martin, 912 N. Riverside Drive, Fort Worth, Texas. "All the soreness and tenderness has left my muscles and the kidney trouble which bothered me for so long has entirely cleared up. Before I commenced to take Merton Compound, I was so sore and 'stove' up in my muscles that I could hardly get around. But yesterday, I spent all day on the creek fishing, getting up and down constantly and thoroughly enjoyed having the full use of myself again. I heartily recommend Merton to anyone who would like to feel younger, happier and healthier, even at seventy-seven."

Merton can be obtained at all drugists. Be sure that you get the genuine Merton. Don't be switched.

U. S. Navy Plans Additional Firing Of Rockets At Sea

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Vice Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, deputy chief of naval operations, said Wednesday the Navy plans to hold additional rocket-firing tests at sea similar to the launching of a German V-2 from the aircraft carrier Midway last Saturday.

of the V-2 caused the rocket to explode three or four miles above the sea and some six miles away from the carrier.

Sherman, who witnessed the test, said the rocket was supposed to attain a height of 75 miles and a range of 200 miles. He blamed unburned fuel for the explosion, since the 14-ton rocket carried no warhead.

An earlier Navy announcement did not disclose any malfunctioning of the rocket.

U. N. Education Head Asks For Volunteer Help

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Millon S. Eisenhower, head of the U. S. national commission of the United Nations education, scientific and cultural organization, today declared that the commission's aim is "the formation of voluntary UNESCO councils x x x until the UNESCO idea has a living, breathing active body in every community in America."

Eisenhower, president of Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science, in an address prepared for the commission's third meeting, added:

"If the people are indifferent, governments will do nothing about the present (world) situation. It is with the people x x x that our greatest hope for peace now lies."

Eisenhower, a brother of General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower, said the job of the United States commission is the integration of America's "enormous cultural power" into other countries.

First Helicopter Rescue In Far North

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—The first rescue by helicopter in the Far North, in which a marooned Alaskan trapper was plucked out of a tough situation, was reported by the Army Air Forces.

A 'copter piloted by 1st Lt. Charles O. Weir of Bloomington, Ind., member of the 10th rescue squadron, flew recently to the interior of Alaska to bring out George Plucinski, who due to a series of misadventures had been living on a diet of berries and small animals for two weeks.

Four out of every 10 youths leave school for lack of money. Most of them want and need—all the education they can get.

Now, Let's See ...
Where Shall I Go to College?

WHERE I go to College will be my biggest problem about 15 years from now—not whether I go, but where.

You see, Daddy and Mother have already determined that I am going. They assured that with a Southwestern Life Educational Policy. It guarantees that I'll get to finish High School, as far as money is concerned, and then go on to a College of my choice.

It provides funds for my College tuition; for my College books; for my clothing, room, food, and incidental expenses, too. Every bit of that is taken care of in my Southwestern Life Educational Policy. So I don't have to worry about that. All I have to worry about is where I shall go to College ...

College training prepares a boy or girl to think ... equips them with the know-how they will need in business, in a profession, or in the home ... gives them a chance in the future. Through Southwestern Life Insurance, you can guarantee your youngster a real opportunity in life. Whatever your income, there's a Southwestern Life plan to fit your needs. Start your youngster on the road to opportunity today.

NEW STATE CODE

Rights-Of-Way Are Clearly Defined In New Traffic Laws

(Herewith is the third in a series of articles prepared to help acquaint Big Spring and Howard county motorists with revisions and amendments to the state traffic code, which went into effect Sept. 5).

Rights-of-way, and the conditions under which persons are entitled to use them, are clearly defined in the new traffic and safety act voted into law by the last legislature.

The specific right-of-way sections of the new laws include the following:

Drivers must stop before entering or crossing a through highway or street and shall yield the right of way to other vehicles on the throughway which are close enough to constitute an immediate hazard.

Once a vehicle is in a through highway, other approaching vehicles must yield the right of way until it crosses.

Motorists approaching an intersection must yield the right of way to a vehicle which has entered the intersection from a different highway or street.

When two vehicles enter an intersection from different highways at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the

Pioneer Suspends Lamesa Operation

Regularly scheduled air transport service to Lamesa has been suspended by Pioneer Airlines.

Robert J. Smith, Houston, president of Pioneer, said the suspension was pursuant to instructions from the Civil Aeronautics Board for immediate halting of flights because examiners had ruled the Lamesa airport was not suitable for use by DC-3 aircraft.

The Pioneer head looked on the suspension as temporary, adding that "when airport improvements are made flights will be resumed." He said that the board had informed Pioneer that "it is in the public interest to avoid dangers of faulty runways which cause vibrations damaging to equipment which could easily damage a plane."

Since service was instituted with the granting of a feeder line certificate to Pioneer in the spring, Lamesa was given its first airline connection. Use was made of the airfield some eight miles north of the city and which had been used originally as a primary field for glider and liaison pilot training. Because the field functioned largely under contract, it was not taken over and improved by the army.

Suit Filed Against Glass Companies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—The justice department announced Wednesday it had filed a civil anti-trust suit at Toledo, O., against three leading glass manufacturers charging "conspiracy to monopolize" the production of glass fibers in the United States.

The Owens-Illinois glass company and Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp., both of Toledo and the Corning Glass Works of Corning, N. Y., were named as defendants.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Ellen Darnell Wheeler won a divorce from Wilbert Wheeler and was granted custody of a minor child in 70th district court proceedings Wednesday.

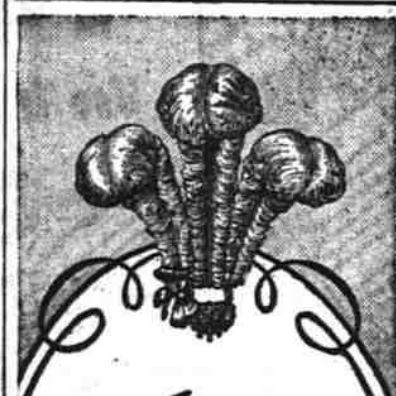

right shall have the right of way until it crosses.
A driver making a left turn shall yield to any car already within the intersection and then may proceed, and other cars approaching the intersection must yield the right of way.

Driver of a vehicle about to enter or cross a street or highway from a private road or driveway or an alley must yield the right of way to all approaching vehicles.

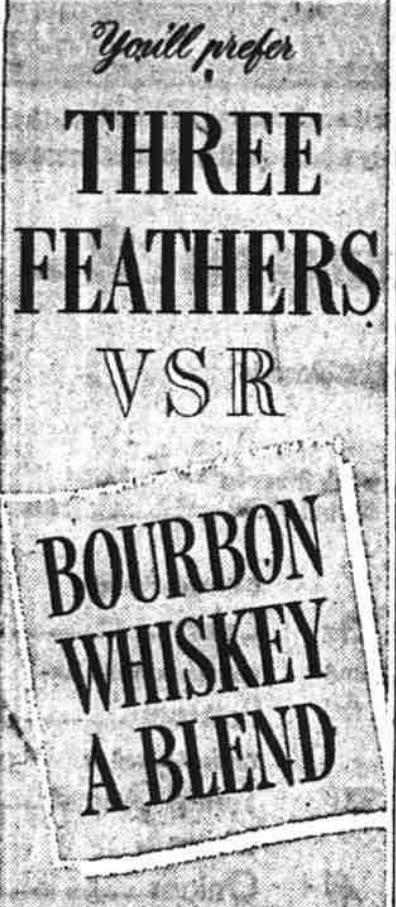

When emergency vehicles (e. g., fire engine) approach with a red light showing or a siren, bell or whistle sounding, other vehicles should immediately drive to a position parallel, and as close as possible, to the right curb or the edge of the highway clear of any intersection. They shall remain parked thusly until the emergency vehicle passes, or until otherwise directed by a police officer.

Drivers of emergency machines, however, will observe due caution and when approaching red or green safety signal shall slow down as necessary for safety but may proceed cautiously past such signal.

No driver authorized to pilot any emergency vehicle shall assume any special privilege under the act except when such vehicle is operated in response to an emergency call.

Soil Conservation News

Planting Of Winter Cover Crops Will Start This Month

Planting of winter cover crops will start this month on farms of Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District cooperators. Seed for the crops including abuzzi rye, hairy vetch, Dixie Wonder and Austrian winter peas and hubam clover, has been obtained and farmers are waiting for suitable moisture to get the seed in the ground. Early planting is recommended to insure a good growth of these crops to protect the land from wind and water erosion and build up the land.

Dr. Lee O. Rogers plans to plant 80 acres of abuzzi rye and hairy vetch on his farm north of Stanton and fertilize the crop with 100 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate per acre. Rogers prepared his land by chiseling and cross plowing with sweeps which put the field in good shape to drill the rye and vetch. He will inoculate the vetch seed with "Nitragin" C before mixing with the rye seed to insure a good growth of the soil building legume.

Rogers also plans to plant 15 acres of Dixie Wonder peas in 20-inch rows. The seed will be inoculated with "Nitragin" A. This crop is an improved strain of Austrian winter peas used for winter cover and soil building.

Lauren S. McDowell, cooperating with the district on his ranch 15 miles southwest of Big Spring, will plant 300 acres of abuzzi rye and hairy vetch on his farm land for winter cover and grazing. SCS technicians will help McDowell inoculate his vetch seed and get started with his planting.

N. H. Reed will plant 30 acres of hubam clover on his ranch in the Vincent Ranch group. Reed obtained his seed from Willis Winters who harvested 200 pounds per acre from his clover crop planted last spring.

Planting of improved pasture grasses for irrigated pasture started Monday on the Joe B. Calverley ranch 9 miles northwest of Garden City. Calverley is seeding his irrigated pasture with a mixture of perennial rye grass meadow fescue, orchard grass, hairy vetch, hubam clover and alfalfa. Marshall Cook and Steve Currie, cooperating with the North Concho soil conservation district on their ranches near Garden City, will also plant irrigated pastures as soon as their land is prepared for irrigation.

Willis Winters will plant blue grama and Buffalo grass this month on about 15 acres of land retired from cultivation on his farm in the Vincent conservation group. Winters will broadcast the seed and harrow with a spike tooth harrow.

Stock tanks were completed last week on the farm of W. J. Rogers and B. R. Cline in the Fairview conservation group, and the ranch of L. M. Anderson in the County Line ranch group. Anderson also started construction on another 3000-cubic yard tank. The stock tanks will improve the watering facilities for livestock.

OKAY FOR GI BILL

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—All courses presently offered at the new Texas State University for "groes at Houston have been approved for veterans educational benefits under the G. I. bill of rights, according to Charles B. Cox, director of the state approval agency for veterans education.

SURPLUS PROPERTY SALE

The Poyle Army Air Field is conducting a small lot surplus property sale Monday through Sept. 19 between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Offered at building 7-206 are such items as office furniture, blankets, radio parts, airplane parts, fire extinguishers, comforters and other things.

SUN WRECKS DISPLAY

HAGERSTOWN, Ind. (U.P.)—A drugstore display window was burned when the sun shining through a glass cooking utensil set fire to a wood panel.

HOODED MAN LEAVES CAPITOL—A man attired in white robe leaves the Capitol grounds after being escorted away by police who escorted him from front of the UN American activities committee room. L. L. Marlan Wilson of the Capitol Police said he identified himself as Statelton Kennedy, 39, of Jacksonville, Fla. (AP Wirephoto.)

Amvet Leader Hits Justice System In Army

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 11. (AP)—Ray Sawyer, national commander of the Amvets, said today that what he called the failure of the Army to improve military justice has made it "virtually impossible" to obtain Congressional approval of a universal military training program.

"The high command," Sawyer said in a statement, "is still prone to protect and whitewash fellow brass while GI's—the men in the ranks—are subjected to an autocratic system of regulations, government and punishment."

The veterans organization headed by Sawyer has endorsed passage of universal training legislation. Sawyer said the Amvets have concluded, however, that "it is virtually impossible to sell it to Congress until important changes are made in the conduct of the military itself."

NAZI U-BOATERS ARE CAPTURED

BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 11. (AP)—World War II is over at last for five members of the Nazi U-boat fleet.

The Netherlands Army announced Wednesday that five members of the German Navy were captured yesterday at Nongkadjadjar, East Java. They were reported unofficially to be former submarine crewmen who were stranded in Java by the German surrender and hid out in the Indonesian Republic.

Personal Incomes Reach New High

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Personal incomes reached another new high in July, equivalent to an annual rate of $197,000,000,000, the commerce department reported Wednesday. The department said this was almost $2,000,000,000 above the previous peak, established in June.

State Comptroller's Brother Is Dead

ABILENE, Sept. 11. (AP)—Miles Burton Sheppard, 82-year-old brother of State Comptroller George H. Sheppard, died here last night. Sheppard, one of the organizers of Coke county, was son of the late A. M. Sheppard, the first postmaster at Shep, and for whom the town of Shep was named. Prior to his retirement in 1924, when he moved to Abilene, Sheppard lived on a ranch west of Robert Lee in Coke county, where he reared his family.

Houston Home Sold

HOUSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—W. A. Paddock, cattleman, land and oil properties owner, has purchased the home of the late John Henry Kirby, lumberman, capitalist and political figure. The home once was valued at $375,000. The widow of Kirby, who died in 1940, occupies the home at present. Sale price was reported to be between $125,000 and $200,000. Paddock did not disclose his purpose in buying the property.

COLT SHOW

MARFA, Sept. 11. (AP)—The annual Highland colt show and rodeo will be staged here this week-end with rodeos on Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon, and colt show judging at 10 a. m. Saturday.

BRITISHER WON'T VISIT TEXAS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Lord Inverchapel of Great Britain said today he will be unable to make a contemplated visit to Texas A & M College next month. "It is with real regret that I have decided that I must postpone the visit which I had intended to make to Texas this October," the British Ambassador here wrote Rep. Teague (D-Tex). The Congressman had invited him to visit the college.

Experiments Planned On Highway Marking

AUSTIN, Sept. 11. (AP)—The state highway commission today authorized $48,000 for experiments with a new center-stripe marking system on seven Texas highways. The new system calls for long white dashes lines to separate traffic lanes. An auxiliary solid line of yellow on the driver's side will indicate where passing is prohibited. The method has been adopted as standard by the American Association of State Highway Officials. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said.

August Air Gains

New high in passengers carried was reached in August, according to Pioneer Air Lines monthly summary. The figure was 6,472, a gain of 614 passengers, or 135,029 passenger miles gain. Mail dropped off by approximately 1,000 pounds or about three per cent, while air express increased. New airfreight started on Aug. 1 totaled 1,963 pounds for the month.

A watch worn constantly will keep better time than one worn irregularly.

Green Vegetables In The Daily Diet

Green vegetables are nutritious and oftentimes they add variety of flavor in the meals when cooked. Green leafy vegetables should be served every day, and here are a few tips on how to prepare them.

(Recipes Serve Four)

EGGPLANT CASEROLE

1 large eggplant
1/2 cup pecan meats, toasted
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon allspice
Salt
Pepper
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup top milk or cream
Slice eggplant in half lengthwise. Sprinkle with salt and set aside for an hour. Rinse in cold water. Roll the pecan meats (with a rolling pin) very fine. Add bread crumbs, flour, allspice. Sprinkle eggplant slices with salt and pepper and then dip them in the nut-crumb mixture. Place slices in a buttered dish, dot with butter or margarine and bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until slices begin to brown. Add milk or cream and continue baking for an additional half hour, or until all the liquid is absorbed and eggplant is tender.

STUFFED CABBAGE LEAVES

1 head cabbage
1 cup cooked beef
1 small onion
3 sprigs parsley
1/2 green pepper
1 cup cooked rice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon fresh ground pepper
1 carrot, sliced
1 cup stock
4 slices bacon
Remove eight large cabbage leaves from head. Wash thoroughly and cover with boiling water. Cook gently for ten minutes. Put through food chopper the beef, half of an onion, parsley and green pepper. Add the cooked rice, salt and pepper. When blended place a heaping tablespoon of mixture on each cabbage leaf, roll and fasten with toothpicks. Place the remaining half of onion and carrot in a casserole. Lay the stuffed cabbage leaves on top and add the stock. Cut bacon in thirds and lay on top. Cover and bake one hour at 350 degrees.

BUTTERED BROCCOLI

1 bunch broccoli
3 cups boiling water
Remove outer leaves of broccoli leaving stalk whole. If the stalk is large, cut in half lengthwise. Wash clean and cook uncovered in boiling water for 20 minutes. Drain and serve with melted butter.

Finale For Fall Meals

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

You've probably been having mostly fresh fruit desserts all summer—and good they were, too. Now that fall is coming on, though, it's time to dress up the end of the meal a bit. Here are a few suggestions.

Orange Cheese Cake

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup orange juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1/3 cup honey
1 cup orange juice
1 cup cottage cheese, put through sieve
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup cream or evaporated milk

Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup orange juice. Beat egg yolk slightly, add honey, salt, and remaining orange juice. Cook egg mixture in top of double boiler until of custard consistency, stirring constantly. Add softened gelatin to hot custard and stir until dissolved. Add cottage cheese, lemon juice, and grated rind. Stir until well blended. Cool, and when mixture begins to thicken fold in whipped cream or whipped evaporated milk and stiffly beaten egg white. Make crumbs for bottom and top of cake as follows: Crush nine slices sweetened Zwieback, or 1 cup of cornflakes or graham cracker crumbs. Mix thoroughly with 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Place part of crumbs in bottom of small glass casserole which has been rinsed out in cold water. Turn in cheese filling and sprinkle remaining crumbs on top. Chill thoroughly until firm. When ready to serve, unmold onto serving dish and garnish with orange segments. Note: Milk may be used in place of orange juice, white corn syrup instead of honey, and grated lemon rind in place of orange.

Almond Prune Pie

3 1/2 cups cooked prunes
1 cup chopped blanched almonds
Baked pastry shell (10 inch)
1 cup liquid from cooked prunes
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/3 cup granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 egg whites
1/4 cup granulated sugar for egg whites

Sift prunes down one side and remove pits. Sift each prune with chopped almonds. Place stuffed prunes in pastry shell. Combine liquid, cornstarch 1/3 cup sugar, salt and orange rind in a saucepan and stir to blend. Bring to a boil and cook and stir until cornstarch is cooked (about 2 minutes). Pour over prunes. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Add 1/4 cup sugar, a small portion at a time, beating well after each addition. Spread over pie. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool before cutting.

Avocado Simplicity Whip
1 cup avocado cubes
1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin

1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Few grains salt
1 cup whipping cream
Cut avocado in halves, remove seed and skin. Cut into small cubes. Measure carefully so as not to mash fruit. Dissolve gelatin in hot water, add cold water, lemon juice, and salt, and chill until almost firm. Beat with rotary beater until light. Whip cream until thick but not stiff. Fold into whipped gelatin. Add cubed avocado carefully. Chill and serve.

Salmon Bisque

(Recipes Serve Four)
1 tablespoon diced celery
1 tablespoon diced onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
3 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup light cream
1 cup salmon, flaked small
Salt and Pepper to taste
Cook celery and onion in butter or margarine slowly until tender. Place over hot water. Add flour and blend well. Add milk and cream gradually, stirring constantly until thickened. Stir in salmon gently. Season with salt and pepper. Add a little salmon liquid if too thick. Serve immediately.

We Have An Answer, But No Solution

Voters defeated both the tax rate and bond proposals of the Big Spring Independent School district at the polls Tuesday.

The question uppermost in the minds of many people at the moment is: "Where do we go from here?"

As of now, the answer is simple. We go on just as we have been. As of tomorrow, the answer is not so simple. And it is of tomorrow, even more than today, that the Herald had taken pride in supporting the issue.

A majority—the barest majority—getting to polls did not agree. We bow to the majority—the majority of the minority which had enough interest one way or the other to cast ballots. Board members are to be commended, we believe, in quickly making the canvass official without resorting to possibilities of recount and challenge on the strength of two votes. Such action might have changed results, or it might have strengthened the margin, but however it went, not one whit as much could be accomplished as by a clear cut decision at the polls, regardless of the result.

Perhaps if more had understood—ah, but this is vain thought. We doubt that if those few who accused the school of sinking tax money into athletic plant knew that no tax money goes into that program, not many would have been changed. They had their reasons for voting no, and we defend their right to them with as much zeal as we supported ours. We simply disagree. This is no time for hot-headedness, for we are persuaded, that the problem still remains and demands cool consideration.

Right now, parents will have to reconcile themselves to double-day sessions in more than two score instances. This is inconvenient to many; it deprives children above the first grade of their share of classroom time—as much as 324 hours per year for those in the third, fourth and fifth grades; it calls for education under pressure, a condition which seldom is satisfactory even among adults much less children.

It is entirely probable that those who graduate from the high school next spring will be as though the school had never had a single affiliated credit so far as college entrance is concerned. It will not mean they will know one iota less, but that they will be required to stand examinations in order to continue their education.

This is the problem which we may well have to face this year. Next year? Frankly, the Herald believes that it will be much more vexatious. For one thing, enrollments likely will be up again. For another, a $45,000 surplus used as a cushion in order to post an $1,850 minimum salary will be exhausted. Without being alarmist but seeking to be realistic, the only course then would be for trustees to cut salaries by about $300 per annum. We can wait until then to see what will happen. However, we can use our imagination now as to our own reaction were we confronted with 15 per cent cut in income.

So it is that we believe that at this moment we have an answer but no solution.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

British Position Is Desperate

Britain's economic crisis has reached such a grave state that the London Daily Mail in editorializing on the disastrous Yorkshire coal strike declares it must stop because it could well lead to the complete economic collapse of the country.

That's a blunt but unexaggerated summary. The situation is so bad that it might well be described as "desperate" if that expression didn't connote despair—an emotion with which John Bull isn't familiar.

It is six months ago that the socialist government made its historic appeal to the country for further sacrifices to meet a catastrophe which was without precedent in modern English history. The appeal declared that unless Britain concentrated on the really important things "we may never restore the foundations of our national life."

Since those dark days the situation has worsened greatly. However, the government has kept reforming its battle lines, and a month ago the war-time leader, Winston Churchill, who is the conservative anti-thesis of socialism gave and comfort to political enemies by declaring that the British people would come through the crisis, no matter what the difficulties might be. Then a few days since, Foreign Secretary Bevin, in appealing for further efforts by workers, scored countries which "imagine, now and again, we are no longer a great nation," adding dramatically: "Let them live in their fool's paradise. We are great. x x x I will not allow myself to believe that this generation is going to fail."

Are Churchill and Bevin justified in their optimism? Certainly they find much support among economic experts the world around. The general view seems to be that Britain will surmount the crisis. However, there is a qualification to the estimate (at least among foreign nations) and this is that while she will regain prosperity, she never again will return to the economic heights which she held half a century ago.

She scarcely can expect to rule the waves as she once did.

But as the fighting Bevin said, Britain remains great.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

Population Predictions Revised

By MAX HALL

(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The nation's population predictors are revising their forecasts.

On the basis of the 1940 census, they thought the United States population would climb to a peak of 161,385,000 in 1985 and then start downward.

Now they are talking about a higher peak—164,585,000 in 1990.

There's an "if" with those forecasts. Both were made on the assumption that "medium" estimates concerning birth and death rates will turn out to be correct, rather than "high" or "low" estimates.

Until now the most widely-accepted forecasts of U. S. population were contained in a book by Warren S. Thompson and P. K. Whelpton of the Scripps foundation for research in population problems.

They developed the complicated "Thompson-Whelpton method" of predicting population and published their last estimates in 1943, basing them on the 1940 census.

Now, probably sometime in October, a revision will be published. It was written by Whelpton in collaboration with Jacob S. Siegel and Hope T. Eldridge of the U. S. census bureau, and is based on the 1945 population as estimated by the census bureau.

The new report will boost the forecasts all along the line. For example, the first report said that—assuming "medium" birth and death rates—the population will probably have fallen to 159,420,000 in the year 2000. The new report changes this to 163,312,000.

(The census bureau says the population was about 142,656,000 on Jan. 1 of this year. The 1940 census showed a population of 131,669,275.)

The main reason for the revised forecasts is the surprising behavior of the birth rate during the war.

Population experts, judging by the First World War, had expected the birth rate to drop during wartime. Instead, it went up. This was true not only in America but in England and France.

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Film Reporter Must Get Around

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—In these days of limited picture-making, a Hollywood reporter has to get around. So hop aboard my jet job and we're off.

First we arrive at Paramount, where Bob Hope and Jane Russell are making the lot's only picture, "The Paleface."

We track down Bob and find him peddling his bike down the studio street. We trot alongside as he tells a joke he wouldn't be able to recite on the air. When we reach the stage, he greets his producer, Bob Fellows, with the cryptic remark, "get out of the Sacred Cow, Margaret, I'm off to Hollywood." Fellows laughs sheepishly.

Inside, Bob tells the story. It seems he has been fighting to keep any "outside" gags (for instance, about Crosby and his horses) out of the frontier picture. So in retaliation, Bob suggested having a dance hall pianist turn out to be President Truman. "Harry would do it for me," said Bob, and the producer didn't find out till later he was kidding.

"I'm getting more like a fish every day," says well-gilled Esther.

Then we're off to Beverly Hills where "Frenchie To Night" is shooting in the high school pool and gym. We are told the awesome news: "Zachary Scott is doing his own swimming." And he does.

He comes dripping out of the pool (not being as piscatorial as Esther) and adm- s this is good work for a hot September afternoon. He recalls that during the last hot spell he was in ski clothes for "Cass Timberland." He joins Cesar Romero in a card game called Oklahoma rummy. Romero is not in the picture; he has merely dropped by to see how pictures are made.

ALL 18 Feet Of Your Skin Hates Humidity

MINNEAPOLIS (U. P.)—The "it's not the heat, it's the skin, plus humidity," says Dr. Waldo H. Kliever, research director of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co.

The average human being has 18 to 19 square feet of skin surface which acts as an evaporative cooling system, he says, and if surrounding air is extremely moist this action is restricted.

Dr. Kliever said automatic controls now being developed are expected to make it possible to control humidity in homes and factories within a fraction of one percent of the desired level.

Men's Style Change

BY ARTHUR EDSON (FOR HAL BOYLE)

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Women always seem to be halleluaballooning about fashion.

What's wrong with us pokey old men?

Why don't we battle over the basting in our bustles? Why don't we holler about the hitch of our helmets? Why don't we pout over whether we should pad our pants?

Seeking an answer to these tremendous problems, I put on, among other things, my best celluloid collar, my checkered vest, my pegleg trousers, and my high button shoes. And then I pranced around to Gerald Grosner's to ask why men's fashions never change.

Men's fashions are Grosner's business. For the past ten years he's been chairman of the style committee for the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furriers.

Well, it turns out men's fashions change, too.

But whereas women's change in a matter of weeks, it takes from five to seven years to get us men in the mood. Even then, the change rarely is revolutionary.

"I don't know why men and women are so different in their approach to fashion," mused Grosner.

"But one man in three who comes into a store to buy a hat wants one exactly like his old one."

"Imagine what would happen if a clerk dared show a woman a hat like the one she had on! She'd scream—and run right out of the store."

Since men's fashions do move, in their own creaky way, let's look at what's in store for the well-dressed male.

To begin with, the three-button coat is the thing. Oh, definitely. It's vented in the back, which means it's slit so that it has coattails. The body lines are looser, and there's not much padding in the shoulders.

Shirt collars are spreading, and some button down. Ties, particularly knitted ones, will be tied in larger knots.

Among college boys—and old goats who like to act like college boys—the cardigan coat is here to stay.

Never heard of the cardigan? It's built without collar or lapel. Very snappy, says Grosner, when worn with open necked sports shirts.

And now, let's halt an awful rumor.

A story out of New York the other day said that men's pants are going up, thereby exposing a hunk of shank between shoe and trouser cuff.

Nonsense, growls Grosner.

He doesn't want to get involved in any controversy, but this short pants tip came from dress institute.

Looking around, to make sure no lady spies had slipped in, he disclosed the horrible truth.

"Dress institute," he whispered, "specializes in women's clothes."

Broadway—Jack O'Brian

Why Restaurants Grow

NEW YORK—A gentleman who knows his way around a Broadway kitchen told me one day

A. M. in Lindy's, as some of the gathered dilettantes marveled at the tremendous business

Leo Lindy seems to be able to attract constantly without a band or floor show: "You'll notice that night clubs almost immediately attain a high popularity or else close in a hurry."

This seemed pretty logical.

We'd been talking of the swish demise of such clubs as "The Vanity Fair," "The Mardi Gras," "The Aquarium" and a few others. We also took up the matter of "The Zanzibar," which was a skyrocketing success once it opened, but which, after a gradual decline, also did the accordion act.

"Now," went on my venerable saloon expert, "take the case of restaurants."

"Lindy gathered his crowds over a long period, first in a small place, then in a larger one, and now in this big joint, Toots Shor started from scratch, and he didn't have it easy at first. Jack Kreindler, who just died, became a millionaire by starting at the bottom and fighting for patronage with good food and pleasant surroundings."

"The ratio, then, for restaurants as compared with night clubs is a completely inverse one. Night clubs start out at a height of popularity, and gradually decline."

"Restaurants start out with nothing and gradually climb. Believe me, that's the best way. I have no better justification for my beliefs than the fact that Sam Salvin is opening a restaurant instead of a night club for a change."

Ears cocked at the mention of Sam Salvin, for he is one of the big names along Broadway, kitchen-wise. He's credited with being one of the master minds of "the back of the house," meaning kitchen and purchasing of foodstuffs, assembling of staffs and the complex culinary logistics.

SAM indeed is quitting night clubs. His last was the Monte Carlo, which he operated magnificently for the real estate interests which own that luxurious property. He was owner or operator of the original Palais Royale, and Montmartre, the exclusive Patio and Colony in Florida. He found so many heartaches in the night club end of the business that he actually had a heart attack last year. Fed up with dine-and-dance joints he started planning a new restaurant, a riot of oyster gray and tan, with a special room for steak customers done in masculine decor, at the corner of 57th and Park Avenue, as chi-chi a location as any cafe socialite might wish. He's going after comfort and a permanent clientele. In a building which easily might accommodate 1,000

Sam is fixing his seating arrangements for 400. And you couldn't get Sam back into a night club, except as a customer, for love or money.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Ed Pauley Establishes Himself

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—It now looks as if charming, go-getter Ed Pauley, the California oil man who has long aspired to be undersecretary of the Navy, is about to slide into an even better job.

No man in all the turbulent days of Trumanism created such a rumpus as Ed Pauley when, last winter, his naval ambitions were abruptly stopped by "the old curmudgeon," Secretary of the Interior Ickes. It caused Ickes' exit from the cabinet and Pauley's name to be withdrawn.

The Republicans, however, were extremely happy. They were able to hold their noses over the smell of oil, and point to the fact that Democratic Treasurer Pauley had raised several hundred thousand from oil men to elect Truman. Also they were able to block Truman's reward to the man who not only raised money, but ran back and forth like a squirrel between the platform and the floor of the Democratic Chicago convention buttonholing delegates for Truman.

Pauley's pal who sponsored him for undersecretary of the Navy was the secretary of the Navy himself, Jim Forrestal. Today Forrestal sits at top dog over the entire Army and Navy. So the ways are all greased for Ed to slide into the new national defense setup. In fact he has already started sliding.

Pauley has now been given a quiet job alongside Secretary of War Kenneth Royall. Very little is said about it, but the oleaginous Ed has an office close to Royall's and is doing part of the work ordinarily done by the undersecretary of war.

Furthermore, the new undersecretary of war, Gen. William Draper, is handling the job of the assistant secretary, not the undersecretary. And since Draper is a Dillon, Read banker—the firm once headed by Secretary of National Defense Forrestal—it should be an easy matter, when the time is ripe, for Forrestal to shift Draper back to Wall Street, and Ed Pauley in as undersecretary.

Pauley's present assignment is informal, does not need Senate confirmation. But after he has been there a few months, Senators are likely to be lenient toward a man who is on the job and can say that he is working his way up.

Moral: In politics the hand is sometimes quicker than the eye.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The admirals are up in arms over plans of Defense Secretary Forrestal to move the Navy into the war department's pentagon building. It means they will have to commute all the way to Virginia, and many of them live on the other side of town in Maryland. . . . Virginia real estate is booming as a result. . . .

Sec. Forrestal's office in the Pentagon building will be that of the undersecretary of war. Alongside it is Gen. B. B. Somervell's old office. But the irreverent Forrestal is now transforming this plush inner sanctum into a kitchen (he calls it a "galley"). There are about a dozen other private kitchens in the Pentagon from any one of which Forrestal could get his food, but he is having his own kitchen built instead. . . .

Jimmy Roosevelt and Henry Wallace hatched private political medicine at an off-the-record luncheon this week. . . . Washington society is amused and fascinated by Helen Lombard's book "While They Fought" telling what the womenfolk did while their husbands were away.

EISENHOWER BOOM BOOMS

Two interesting things are happening to the presidential boom of General Ike Eisenhower:

1. Ike himself is still playing down the boom, accepting no bows, refusing radio hook-ups;

2. Despite this, more and more big politicians are getting on Ike's bandwagon.

Eisenhower is scheduled to speak at the University of West Virginia in Morgantown, on Sept. 23, and President Irvin Stewart offered him a national radio hook-up to carry his speech to the country. Ike, however, refused. Then President Stewart proposed a local West Virginia radio broadcast. Again the chief of staff declined.

idly climbing aboard the Eisenhower boom.

But whether he likes it or not, various political bigwigs are rapidly climbing aboard the Eisenhower bandwagon. Originators of the Eisenhower boom were ex-candidate Alf Landon of Kansas and retired Roy Roberts, asst. editor of the Kansas City Star.

Today, various other GOP big shots who don't like Dewey and who are afraid Taft has killed himself with the Taft-Hartley Act, are looking toward Eisenhower. Latest is the Sun Oil Company's Joe Pew of Pennsylvania, who has never liked Dewey, and who has just commissioned Ex-Congressman Charles Hawkes of Wisconsin to take a political scouting tour. Hawkes has been ordered to talk up Eisenhower to GOP leaders throughout the country and start a grass-roots movement for the general.

Note—Only trouble with Joe Pew's support is that he's never picked a winning candidate yet—not even in GOP conventions. No wonder Eisenhower is playing it modest.

WALLACE PLEDGE

Henry Wallace's latest third-party scare coincided with a strong backstage bid for liberal support. His former associate, C. B. Baldwin, circulated a form endorsement among liberal Senators and Congressmen, urging them to sign on the Henry Wallace bandwagon. Strongly worded, the mimeographed pledge declared:

"You (Wallace) are the true spokesman for the millions of liberals who are now uniting to demand a return to the program of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. . . . you are the logical leader for the new grouping of liberals which is now taking place spontaneously, whatever its eventual form may be. We pledge our support to you in the effort to restore liberalism to the domestic and foreign policy of the United States."

At the bottom was a blank line for the endorsing signature.

Even the most liberal Senators and Congressmen, however, are not biting. Most are ignoring Baldwin's letter or else returning the forms with a polite refusal.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Bob Hannegan recently told his old political enemy, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, that Snyder's treasury department has cooperated better with the Democratic national committee than any other agency in Washington. . . . one ex-bureaucrat doing an A-1 job is Josiah Du Bois, now handling the I. G. Farben trails in Germany. Lawyers describe Du Bois' opening statements at Nuremberg as historic. . . . Able Crookmore, Faith has quit the Democratic national committee to practice law in Texas. If Congressman Lyndon Johnson moves to the Senate, Faith will run for his seat. . . . Secretary of National Defense James Forrestal has a special electronic machine that signs most of his personal letters.

Rainmaking Born In Arizona

Rain making is so much in the news these days that maybe you'd like to hear about what may some day be known as the Hiroshima of man-made rains.

The first southwestern target, test and outcome.

That, and a few legal aspects of rain making.

The dry ice idea really started in the East. Vincent J. Schaefer, research scientist for General Electric, experimented and found the plan feasible.

The Arizona Republic, a progressive newspaper published in Phoenix, brought the thing to a head. Arid Arizona needs water as badly as many Texas points, where a good rain means the difference between beefsteak or going barefoot.

Managing Editor Harvey Mott of the Republic and Amos Hoff, Phoenix Junior College professor, went to New York to talk to Schaefer, came home with facts, figures, and a lot of enthusiasm.

On July 16 they made their first test. That might be called the Hiroshima of the Southwest, that flight in which Lee Ackerman, aviation editor of the Republic, dropped 50 pounds of dry ice on a cloud which ran 3,000 feet deep. The ice was in pellet form, about the size of peas.

And it rained.

Observers said "thousands of tons" of rain fell. The shower lasted half an hour.

David Rasco of the Amarillo Globe-News went to Phoenix to witness experiments. He said every time ice was dropped, it rained, although the moisture varied.

Then came the big experiment—with 500 pounds of dry ice. This large-scale attack on target clouds produced a major rain.

"The very first cloud into which dry ice was dropped boiled, flattened out, and poured out a characteristic black curtain of water, silhouetted against the bright white of more distant cum-ulus clouds," Mott wrote.

"The complications? Well: Rasco reported that lawyers already are hinting at an "interstate cloud commission" to regulate this Buck Rogers type of cloud busting. Who is going to get whose moisture? Can Texas bust Arizona clouds? Who owns the air above a given piece of property? What amount of water may be taken from the clouds in equity to other potential rain-recipients? Can moisture in the air be owned?

These are a few of the questions that must be answered once rain making becomes simple and practical.

The big thing, though, is rain. West Texas says let it rain, then fight out the legal problems later.

Giles Makes Estimate

Decision On Tideland May Be Worth Half Billion Dollars

By PAUL BOLTON ...
AUSTIN Sept. 11. — It was potentially a half billion dollar decision which Attorney General Tom Clark made in Washington when he advised that a law would be necessary before the Federal government could lease tideland areas in Texas.

Any guess as to the value to Texas of the tideland areas which—under the California decision—may belong to the Federal government must be highly speculative; but Land Commissioner Bascom Giles advances the half-billion dollar figure on that basis. Giles thinks that's a fairly reasonable guess for the production from the 3,250,000 acres which the state claims out to three marine leagues, and 38,500,000 acres claimed out to the continental shelf.

So far, only four wells have actually been drilled in the Gulf of Mexico as distinguished from bays and inlets. The Gulf wells are two operated by Stanolind Oil and Gas Company in the High Island field, producing 180 barrels of oil daily; and two operated by Sun Oil Company in the Capitan field, producing 30 barrels daily.

However, the submerged wells in bays and inlets total 194. From these wells the state collected last year—in one-eighth royalty, rentals and bonuses—approximately $6,450,000 a substantial portion of the $14,000,000 collected from all school lands.

Involved in the lease-extension program—which will be before the School Land Board in a public hearing set for September 15—are even more submerged wells; a total of 299 drilled on 33,022 acres. Included are some upland wells.

These include wells in riverbeds, lakes, bayous, etc., as well as those in salt water. Under the former law, these areas could be leased for only 25 years; now, they can be leased for the life of production.

The law requires that at least an additional $2 per acre be paid on these lease extensions. Here are the facts about those 25-year leases:

The new law will affect leases to 247,115 acres of land, of which only 33,022 acres have been productive. It is divided into 585 leases, of which 109 are productive.

A total of 299 wells have been brought in on these 109 leases. The land was leased for cash bonuses of $5,872,224. It is interesting that the bonus paid on the productive land—that already proved—amounts to only $2,445,054, indicating that much of the remainder has not yet been drilled. On the leases that have been proved productive, some were sold for a bonus to be paid out of the oil and gas—to the amount of $3,743,810. So far, these particular leases have brought in $706,143 in this type of bonus.

Royalties paid up to July 1 amounted to $10,481,046, on an estimated production of 33,000,000 barrels of oil.

EXIT FROM THE RUNNEME PARK — British troops carry a protesting Jewish refugee across the deck of the transport Runneme Park at Hamburg as they forced the last of the Exodus 1947 passengers back onto German soil. Chinese Reds Release Marine TSINGTAO, China, Sept. 11. — Chinese communist forces have released a marine pilot forced down at Goosepoint, Shantung province, Aug. 27. He arrived here today unharmed.

The American flier was forced to land on a beach at Goosepoint, 50 miles northeast of Tsingtao, during stormy weather. A landing party went ashore several days later but was fired upon by "hostile guerrilla groups" described by the U. S. Navy as presumably communist. The marines returned the fire, destroyed the plane and withdrew without casualty.

The pilot's name was not announced immediately.

State Head For Pythians To Be Here Friday

A special meeting of the Knights of Pythias Frontier Lodge No. 43 has been called for 7:30 p. m. Friday on the occasion of a visit by Jack Pope, grand chancellor of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

The meeting is scheduled to be held in the home of H. M. Rainbolt, 207 Owens. Also here for the meeting will be Theo Yarbrough, Weatherford, grand secretary. Officials urged all local Pythians and visiting knights to attend.

Initiation and conferring of ranks of page and esquire on 11 new members from business and professional ranks was held Tuesday evening. Degree teams from the Tom Green lodge at San Angelo and the Lamesa lodge conducted the ceremony, followed by a social hour.

Among out of town visitors were John T. Agee, Dr. A. M. Simpson, R. A. Pruitt, I. L. Ashley, John B. Hurley, Tom Davis, Jr., Leonard Scott, and Oscar Eudy of Lamesa; P. K. Holloway, S. E. Jackson, Ellis L. Kiksey, John R. Ellis, John M. Hobaugh, George Smith, Shell Barth, James W. Cobb, O. W. Bryner, E. E. Edington, C. H. Taylor, S. H. Harris, C. R. Barcar, James White, Hobby Smith, H. N. Patton, Keith Arnold, Glenn Ray, and Donald L. Smith of San Angelo; J. E. Moore of Pampa.

The Big Spring lodge is a reactivation of the Pythias, which dates back to 1885 when the first charter was presented. The order became inactive here in the mid-thirties.
