

All About Nothin'

SCATTERINGS — Hale county's quota for Navy recruits in September is 20 men — First norther of fall blew in last Thursday — The U. S. Air Forces is pleading for mechanics of various types to service planes, radio equipment, etc. — Bond buyin' keeps 'em flyin'!

The Panhandle-South Plains Fair held annually in Lubbock has been called off this year due to war conditions.

Fritz Struve is busy making cotton sacks. Hope the weather and labor conditions will let him sell them. — It appeared that an impromptu directors meeting was being held in a car in front of the post office Monday morning when H. H. Anderson, manager, and G. L. Jackson, R. C. Patterson, Sr., A. W. Johnson and C. F. Buske, directors of the Farmers Co-op gin, were in conference. — A bunch of keys which Ray Pinson lost about four years ago were returned to him recently by M. L. Boren, who recovered them for him on a recent trip to Big Spring. A lodge emblem on the key ring was believed responsible for the keys being returned.

If you plan to buy a bond before Sept. 18, you can help the Abernathy Odd Fellow lodge, which is participating in the state-wide I. O. O. F. drive to sell $278,000 in bonds — the purchase price of a 4-motored bomber. See Henry Blalock or Frank Roberts and tell them the amount of your purchase and that you want it credited to the Abernathy lodge in the buy-a-bomber drive. It won't take much effort on your part and it will be greatly appreciated by the lodge. Cooperation of members and non-members alike is solicited.

To forestall possible investigation by the F. B. I., we're giving this explanation of our daughter's saying, "Hell, Hitler!" She listens to the radio and often repeats what she hears over the speaker, and she picked up "Hell, Hitler!" from the series, "You Can't Do Business With Hitler." It's hard to keep a child three years and eight months old from saying the wrong things. We assure you there are no "hellers" in Stone Acres.

FORMER STUDENT NAMED TO TEACHING STAFF HERE

Abernathy school board Monday night named Mrs. Bob Pierce, formerly of Henrietta, to teach eighth grade subjects here. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilce Embry of County Line community, Mrs. Pierce is a graduate of Abernathy high school and of Texas Tech.

Mrs. R. S. Roberson, who formerly taught the eighth grade, is now teaching high school English.

Teachers are needed for high school history and art and health in the grades. Mrs. Edwin Hardesty and Doris Johnston are filling in until instructors can be secured for these places.

To Play Football

Settling the question of whether or not the Antelopes would play football this season, Supt. W. V. Swinburn and Sam Bryan, coach, announced that four games had been tentatively scheduled. The first game will be with Hale Center, there, Sept. 18; the Antelopes are to meet Frenship here, Sept. 25, and they may go to Cooper on Oct. 9. A game is to be arranged with New Deal.

May Have Annual

Members of the Senior class were contacting local business firms this week to see if support would be sufficient to produce an annual this term.

NEED 20 AUXILIARY FIREMEN

J. Boyd Prather, chief of Abernathy's volunteer fire department, announced the need of 20 auxiliary firemen to supplement the 20-man regular department. The auxiliary group would be used in cases of emergency requiring more men than on the regular staff.

Schools of instruction are to be conducted at the fire hall for the auxiliary fire fighters on the first and third Wednesday nights of each month by Alfred Hughes and Lamar McKenzie.

No charge will be made for membership in the auxiliary, and those who will volunteer their services are urged to contact Prather, Hughes or McKenzie.

ABERNATHY, HALE COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPT. 10, 1942

VOLUME XXII, NUMBER 18

Lakeview Sells $5,600 In Bonds

Not content with the commando raid a week earlier, in which the community's participation was very limited, Lakeview staged another raid on the Axis Friday night. It was of large proportions—almost an air invasion—the school house, about 9 miles northeast of Abernathy, being crowded to its capacity.

They came to buy War Savings Bonds and Stamps, and they bought them, principally bonds, only one stamp order being entered. A total of $5,618.15 in bonds were bought and paid for, cost price.

The idea Friday night was, if you bought a bond, you could have one of the delicious boxes of food prepared by ladies of that community for supper. Very few people went hungry.

Auctioned by H. S. Hilburn, Hale county war bond chairman, the boxes brought varying sums. The lowest was $18.75 and there were two purchases of $1,000. Ed Hall of Lubbock bought to the account of R. B. George Tractor & Machinery Co., a $1,000 maturity Type F bond, and J. B. Cardwell bought a $1,000 cost price Type G bond to the account of the Plains Machinery Co.

Other purchases varied to suit the wishes of the purchasers. Mrs. S. M. Harrison presided at the meeting, while T. E. Lutrick made himself a valuable aid with details. Misses Lillie Marie Seipp and Betty Jane Bowman added a new 200 or so to their list of Plains people who have heard and appreciated their patriotic and popular accordion numbers.

Keynote speaker was Mrs. H. G. Stinett, who was at Lakeview on a request return engagement following the Commando raid.

Citizens of Abernathy, Petersburg and Plainview were in attendance, enjoying the social hour and enthusiastically plunging their dollars into the all-American war effort.

"Hale county is becoming quota conscious," said Hilburn, "People are inquiring more and more about the county quota. Leaders in some of the communities have asked what their community's quota is. Hale county's askings have not been broken down into community quota or an individual quota basis," he said. "Our quota is all that we can and should lend the government. The bonds are the best security on earth, they pay a fair rate of interest, they cushion us in the good times we now enjoy against the harder times that may come. They encourage thrift and savings. They are as liquid almost as a dollar itself, and the government has put a guaranteed value on them, to protect people against such losses as occurred when the Liberty Bonds of the last war sold in the years after World War I at a loss to holders. That can't happen with the guaranteed value war bonds of today."

"Individuals have asked what they should buy. Workers are asked to invest 10% of their income in War Savings Bonds & Stamps. Most of them are doing it. Farmers are asked to put 10% of their earnings in War Savings Bonds & Stamps, just as all the others. We can't afford to think altogether in percentages. Let's think of those men on many battle fronts who are giving their all. Some can't afford to put 10%. They have unusual burdens. Others can afford to put much more than 10%. At least 10% might be a suggestion, but the essence of the thing is for all of us to put all we can spare, even to the point of sacrifice."

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

Lakeview school opened the new term Monday with Mrs. Moss, formerly of Mt. Blanco, as principal and teacher of the seventh and eighth grades. Mrs. Allen, also a former teacher at Mt. Blanco, is teacher of intermediate grades, and Miss Evora Groce of Petersburg is primary teacher.

Gladys Williams of Shreveport is a guest in the S. M. Harrison home this week.

Mrs. T. M. Farris of Waco is visiting in the home of her brother, Bob Littleton.

A MAN IN SERVICE WRITES AN EDITORIAL ..

The following paragraph was included in a letter this newspaper received from a man in the service last week. It tells its own story: "You'll have to be in camp to realize that these guys will be your friends for life if you write them the news from home. Seems like mail, or news from home, is everything to all the guys here — and there are some tough old hombres in the outfit, too; but they are all the same if they get a letter, they're like a kid with a new toy; if they don't, they look like they want to cry. There's no more empty feeling when you answer a mail call and there is NOTHING for you, and the fellows all around you do get mail."

Western Thriller For Free Show

A Western film, "Man From Montana," is the merchants free show Saturday afternoon at Rita theatre. Johnny Mack Brown is featured in the picture.

Local merchants sponsor the free show as a trades day feature. Three programs, to which everybody is invited, will be given. The first show is at 2 p.m., the second at 3:20 and the third at about 4:40.

Farmers Urged To War On Worms

(By County Agent C. B. Martin)

Cotton farmers in Hale county are becoming alarmed over the appearance of cotton leafworms. This pest has appeared in cotton fields in all parts of the county and is slightly damaging cotton in a few places. Farmers are continually coming to the agent's offices in interest of locating the poison and learning how these worms are controlled. As a number of farmers have bought the poison and are ready to poison just as soon as the second crop of worms appears, it is thought that they will not become too bad. Some few farmers are planning to dust while others have made their sprays and are getting ready to spray the cotton. Various kinds of sprayers and dusters have been made. One farmer used a fan off a feed grinder and made a duster that worked very effectively. Others have taken air compressors, fuel pumps and water pumps to make these sprayers. Barrel pumps are very hard to get at this time and our farmers are working and looking for every possible kind of spray.

The West Texas Cottonmill in Plainview is shipping in calcium arsenate and distributing it to the farmers throughout this territory. Farmers are cautioned to be on the alert for the second crop of worms which will come within 18 to 21 days after the first crop webs up. As a general rule the second crop of worms comes in more destructive numbers and County Agent Martin urges that all farmers be ready to poison when they make their first appearance.

Those who desire information on this subject are asked to come to the County Agent's office and receive mimeographed sheets of various formulas for poisoning the cotton leafworm.

The sprays most commonly used are: Calcium arsenate and lead arsenate.

The following poisons may be used according to directions:

Calcium Arsenate

It is recommended that this poison be used as a dust at the rate of 5 to 7 pounds per acre.

Calcium arsenate may be used as a spray as follows: 3 lbs. calcium arsenate with 50 gallons of water.

Lead Arsenate

This poison may be used as a dust at the rate of 5 to 7 lbs. per acre. Lead arsenate kills more slowly than calcium arsenate. When used as a dust lime, talc, or clay may be added to improve the dusting quality of the lead arsenate.

Lead arsenate may be used as a spray as follows: 2 lbs. lead arsenate with 50 gallons water.

RULING SET FOR SCHOOL BUSES

In session Monday night, Abernathy school board set the following ruling on school buses: when the buses do not make their routes in the morning they also will not run in the afternoon of that day.

Parents have been bringing their children to school in cars on mornings when roads prevented buses from running and depending upon buses delivering them home in the afternoon. Usually when roads will not permit operation of buses in the morning they are still too muddy for them to run that afternoon.

★ THE BOYS Write Home

Dear Buford,

Just a few lines to let you know I still enjoy every word of the Review. I always get it on Monday here. I will be out of radio school in a short while. I don't know where I will go from here, but I'll let you know my new address as soon as possible. Don't mail any more papers to this address after the Sept. 10 issue.

We are on field operations now, listening to dots and dashes 7 hours a day. We drill for two hours in the afternoon, and 5 p. m. until 9 p. m. is our free time. And during our free time, we have to shine shoes, polish brass, clean and mop our floors, and do our writing, if we have time for it. Thanks for the paper. Sincerely, Herbert Hardin, Ft. Knox, Ky.

Hello, Buford,

How are you, I'm OK I hope. Say, Buford, I heard before I left there that the boys in the service get the Review free of charge. So, if that is right, I'd like for you to send it to me.

I had to volunteer to get what I wanted, so I just went ahead in order to get into the air corps, and I like it fine.

I don't know of much that you would be interested in, so I will close, hoping I get a paper this week so I can find out what is going on around Abernathy. A friend, Pvt. Harold Raley, Sheppard Field, Tex. (Editor's note: The Review is on its way to you and your address is in our mail.)

New York, N. Y.
Sept. 1, 1942.

Dear Buford,

I thought I'd drop you a letter and my address, so I can get my news from Abernathy. I just finished my preliminary training at Norte Dame U. which was a pretty place and I liked it a lot. We left there and came to New York, via Detroit, and into Windsor, Canada, and on by Niagara Falls into Rochester, Utica and Syracuse, N. Y. We followed the Hudson river into this place. We are in a former girls' dormitory on the Columbia U. campus and will be for our midshipman training for three months. There were 1,350 in my class with every state in the union represented, Texas being second to New York in number. I roomed with two boys from Maine and one from Wisconsin at Norte Dame. Here, I drew another from Maine. These yankees are suckers for Texas stories and I hold my own. Most of the Texans were sent to Northwestern U., but I was unlucky.

Don't let anyone gripe about Abernathy, they just ought to be cramped up in New York. I don't believe they made such a good buy when they bought this land from the Indians for that cheap price. Sunshine and fresh air are unknown objects here. We take 14 different courses and all require studying galore. Everything about this is strictly business. The New York Yankees baseball club plays within 15 minutes trip by subway and free admission to service men. That is a treat to me.

Well, I hope to hear from Abernathy through the paper and that you have had enough rain and not too much. Sincerely, Jay Olin Reed.

Mr. Dwinell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Dwinell of Windsor, Colo. He is attending officers training school at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he is to graduate on Sept. 12 as a lieutenant in the army. After his graduation, the couple plans to take a belated honeymoon trip to Chicago, and probably will visit here later, it was reported.

LOCAL L.O.O.F. COOPERATING IN STATE-WIDE DRIVE TO BUY BOMBER WITH BONDS

Henry Blalock, head of Abernathy Odd Fellow lodge, announced that the local chapter is co-operating in the state-wide drive being staged by that organization to sell enough War Savings Bonds to purchase a four-motored bomber. Before the drive ends, on Sept. 18, a total of $273,000 in bonds must be sold in order that a bomber be purchased and carry the inscription, "I. O. O. F. of Texas," on its sides.

Residents of this area who desire a part in the drive may have their bond purchases credited through the local lodge by contacting Blalock, Frank Roberts, or any other member.

PLANT QUALITY WHEAT VARIETIES TO INSURE MARKET DEMAND

Mill Experience Gives The Following Variety Quality Classification:

EXCELLENT — Tenmarq — Turkey — Kanred.

FAIR — Standard Blackhull — Cheyenne.

POOR — Chiefkan (often called Beardless Blackhull and Slick-head) — Red chief — Early Blackhull — Superhard Blackhull.

The varieties listed as excellent are the varieties recommended by the U. S. D. A. and State Agricultural Experiment Stations as those best suited for Texas wheat farms. Limited amounts of Standard Blackhull are acceptable but are of no special credit to the Texas reputation for high quality wheat.

Communities known to be producing poor wheat have lesser demand for their wheat than communities producing high quality wheat. This year certain communities experienced loss of storage and markets for their poor quality wheat making for lower financial returns. Poor quality varieties in a community cause market discriminations detrimental to all wheat farmers.

Your county agent, local miller, or elevator manager can tell you where you may secure good seed of the recommended varieties at reasonable seed prices.

ADMIRAL NIMITZ ASKS
PARENTS TO USE "V-MAIL"

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Texas born Commander in Chief of the Pacific fleet, has issued an appeal to families of service personnel to use the new, fast V-Mail system for correspondence from the Mainland to forces afloat and afield. Pacific fleet V-Mail authorities pointed out that speed, privacy and economy should make use of this microfilm service attractive to the armed forces.

Whereas regular air-mail from the Hawaii area to the Pacific coast often takes many days — even going by convoy when mails are unusually congested — V-Mail to the coast averages only four days. V-Mail for East Coast points takes only six days from the time of posting to arrival at its addressed destination.

In the fleet, mail clerks have been supplied with special V-Mail forms.

Letters written on these blanks and posted for censorship are not read again until they reach the addressees.

Hawaii area V-Mail is photographed on 16-millimeter microfilm, similar to amateur motion picture film, in Honolulu. The rolls of film, two of which contain as many letters as an ordinary mail pouch, go to the mainland by the first available air transportation. They rate highest priority; they go immediately.

By fast mail train, completed V-Mail is then sped to recipients, who get 4x5 1/2 inch enlargements of the tiny negatives in official envelopes, at no charge. Mainlanders corresponding with men afloat or afield may obtain their V-Mail blanks from any post office. Full instructions appear on each form. Letters are sent to the nearest V-Mail center for forwarding by air to the soldier, sailor or marine concerned. Again, days are saved; and valuable plane space is conserved for vital war goods.

It is urged that service users of V-Mail request their correspondence addressed to them be sent this way, a faster, economical way. V-Mail is now going to Great Britain, Australia and to intermediate island bases.

Cynthia Struve, who is attending business school in Lubbock, spent last week-end here.
