Confession In Murder Given

NEGRO PORTER BREAKS DOWN AND ADMITS HIS GUILT; THEFT DECLARED AS THE MOTIVE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. — District Attorney Charles P. Sullivan announced today Major Greene, stocky negro porter, had signed a full confession admitting the bathtub slaying of pretty Mrs. Mary Robinson Case.

The 33-year-old porter broke down and admitted his guilt, Sullivan said, after he had refused for 24 hours to admit complicity in the crime.

Authorities booked him at the Newtown police station in Queens. Greene answered questions amiably when he was being charged.

The district attorney said the porter, who was employed in the Jackson Heights apartment building where the attractive 25-year-old housewife was strangled and beaten with a hammer before her lifeless body was dumped into a bathtub Monday, would be arraigned today in Queens felony court.

"Theft was the motive," Sullivan said in a terse statement. "He was let into the apartment by her (Mrs. Case) on the pretext he was going to wash the windows."

Blood smeared fingerprints on the apartment woodwork and a blood-stained pair of trousers found in an incinerator chute were the clues that led to the arrest of Greene at his Harlem home 36 hours after the killing.

A blood stained hammer, also taken from the incinerator, was established by the police as the instrument with which Mrs. Case's skull was crushed.

One of four suits stolen last July from the Case apartment was found in possession of Henry Greene, Major's brother. He was arraigned yesterday in Long Island City court as a material witness against Major Greene and was held in $25,000 bond.

Also held in the $25,000 bail was Francesco Cataneo, a furnace tender in the apartment house, whose connection with the case was not explained.

Cataneo told police during a routine questioning of building employes that he entered the country illegally in 1930 by deserting a ship on which he was a seaman.

"Hit-And-Run" Picture Record Of Grief And Agony

If you know the hit and run driver whose traffic juggernaut felled 70-year-old Frank Tapedino, show him this picture of the mingled grief, terror and despair that distorts the face of Tapedino's daughter after seeing her mangled father.

Luckily the old man was not killed when the black sedan swooped down upon him as he crossed the street just a block from his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., on his way to work. Pity tenses the face of the youth seen examining the unfortunate's injuries.

Quickly a doctor appears. By the gleam of the policeman's flashlight, he dabs at Tapedino's wounds when the injured man bravely grits his teeth. The torn coat and sweater as well as the gashes in his scalp and bruises on forehead tell of his misfortune.

Up clangs the ambulance, and Tapedino, assisted by doctor and policeman, hobbles to the waiting ambulance for the trip to the hospital. Into the night flees the hit-and-run driver, haunted by memory of a torn body left in the street. Similar scenes—even more tragic ones—attend every hit-and-run accident in Lubbock.

Auto Deliveries Will Be Halted

HEAVY LIST OF UNFILLED ORDERS REPORTED ON HAND; PRODUCTION TO BE DRIED UP

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 14. — Continuance of the present strike situation in the automotive industry will mean a complete suspension of General Motors deliveries to dealers in about three weeks, it was indicated in authoritative sources today.

Heavy demand greeted the introduction of all new models throughout the industry last November. When the strike in General Motors plants developed each of the corporation's units had a heavier bank of unfilled orders on hand than at any time in the last decade with the possible exception of the 1929 boom period.

Far behind on deliveries, General Motors had stepped up production schedules in all its units. It had planned a January output of 224,000 cars and trucks. Instead of this volume the aggregate for this month, said W. S. Knudsen, executive vice-president, will be about 72,000.

"By the end of next week," he said, "production will be entirely dried up."

OPPOSING FACTIONS IN MEETING TODAY

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 14. (AP) — Gov. Frank Murphy's office was the scene today of the first meeting between representatives of General Motors and the United Automobile Workers to discuss "an immediate and peaceful termination" of the strike which has left 114,000 of the corporation's employes idle.

Michigan's new governor has labored more than a week to arrange such a conference. During this time nearly thirty persons were injured in strike rioting at Flint, prompting Murphy to dispatch approximately 2,300 national guardsmen and 50 state policemen to that city.

Those In Attendance

General Motors representatives who attended the meeting were William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president; John Thomas Smith, legal counsel, and Donaldson Brown, head of the corporation's finance committee.

Representing the union are Homer S. Martin, president; Wyndham Mortimer, first vice-president, and John Brophy, director of the Committee for Industrial Organization, which has supported the U.A.W.A. in its strike.

In New York a spokesman for General Motors said that the company considered today's meeting merely a session to ascertain what might be worked out and not a conference for collective bargaining with workers' representatives.

TEXAS BRACES FOR SECOND COLD WAVE

FREEZING WEATHER BY FRIDAY MORNING IS BEING EXPECTED

(By The Associated Press)

A cold northwest wind swept the Texas Panhandle today, forerunner of a second wave of chill which was expected to bring freezing temperatures well into the state's central portion by Friday morning.

Borger thermometers sank to 30 last night and had risen only two degrees at 10:30 a. m. Though a bright sun shown at Plainview, mercuries stood at 38 at 10 a. m., only six degrees higher than the minimum last night.

Cold, Wet Wind

North winds held temperatures down at Amarillo. A cold, wet wind brought a steady, chilling drizzle to Wichita Falls.

The United States weather bureau forecast temperatures between 12 and 20 degrees tonight in the Panhandle. Observers said the chill would spread southward tomorrow.

Rains were expected to augment the cold in East Texas.

Dripping fog blanketed much of the eastern portion of the state.

Amarillo's temperature last night was even freezing. Dallas had a minimum of 58, Del Rio 52, Abilene

PARKING PLAN IS OUTLAWED

FIVE-CENT METERS IN BIRMINGHAM RULED OUT BY COURT

(By The Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 14— The Alabama Supreme court outlawed traffic parking meters in Birmingham today as an "unauthorized exercise of the taxing power" of the city.

The court ruled a Birmingham ordinance authorizing the installation of parking meters on downtown streets was invalid, the decision affirming the judgment of Jefferson county circuit court.

Five Cents For Parking

Under the ordinance, motorists would have been required to pay five cents for using downtown parking zones for a limited time.

Associate Justice William H. Thomas, speaking for the Supreme court, declared parking meters had no relation to the proper regulation of parking but were part of a plan to raise revenue.

Justice Thomas said the parking meter tax was a "super-imposed burden of an insidious, indirect tax or charge . . . . on the right to park."

Italy And Germany Are Friends Again

FRANCE ALSO TAKES STEPS TO DO HER PART IN STRENGTHENING PEACE OVER EUROPE

(By The Associated Press)

Italy and Germany renewed their handclasp today. France, agreeing to meet the nazi reich halfway in solution of their economic and political problems, took steps also to do her part in stopping foreign hands in Spain.

Col. Gen. Herman Wilhelm Goering, the huge and be-medalled man who has the functions of Germany's prime minister, talked in Rome with Benito Mussolini and King Victor Emmanuel.

They told him Italy's friendship for and collaboration with Germany had not cooled because of the Italian agreement with Great Britain on Mediterranean status quo.

Italy, it was intimated further, was taking action to shut off volunteer enlistments in Spain pending a general, workable, international neutrality plan.

France fell in line. Her cabinet decided to ask legislative powers to stop French volunteers from going to Spain, the powers to be used only in collaboration with other nations.

Volunteers Fighting

German and Italian volunteers are fighting with Spain's fascist insurgents; French, Russian and some British zealots are defending Madrid for the socialist government. Britain has invoked an old act to keep her own men at home.

Premier Leon Blum of France also was understood to have agreed to undertake economic negotiations with Germany without first getting political assurances for the reich. That removed the main stumbling block to a Franco-German trade rapprochement.

On the war front, Madrid's defenders, with words of pity, paraded a fascist prisoner through the streets. Noncombatants streamed out of the besieged city. Fascists at the threshold of Madrid reported five French volunteer battalions had been rushed up for a counter-attack by the government defenders.

Two fascist spies were executed by Basques in the north of Spain. German warships freed the crews of two Spanish government steamers, seized as "reprisals" for detention of a German freighter cargo. The ships themselves have been ordered turned over to Spanish fascists.

Spain's government, now at Valencia, worried about the vulnerability of that Mediterranean coast. Valencia and other shore points have been attacked from the sea and air by the fascists.

Weather Prediction In Section Upset

Old Sol this morning prepared to upset a weather bureau prediction of a cold wave, by having the mercury at the state experiment substation one degree higher than Wednesday, with a minimum of 36 degrees. Yesterday the minimum was 35.

Maximum Wednesday was 60 degrees, first time to reach that figure since early in the month.

However, Fort Worth and Denver dispatchers reported 20 degrees at Texline this morning, 22 at Dalhart and 32 at Amarillo. Skies were cloudy.

INEBRIATED DUCK DIRECTS TRAFFIC AND FALLS INTO HANDS OF THE COPS

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—San Francisco police had their duck troubles again today.

There was no question a gander found directing traffic was inebriated. But police disagreed as to how he got that way.

Sergeant Thomas Murphy claimed the duck's breath smelled of Scotch whisky. Radio Policeman Joseph Albrecht insisted it was cheap wine. Officer Keith Griswold said that a "wino or wine bibbler, fell forward from intoxication, while a Scotch imbiber fell backward, and suggested a test.

The duck, placed on his own, promptly sat down.

Sergeant Murphy ordered the bird jailed and booked for drunkenness.

"He was down at an intersection of Bayshore and Oakdale directing traffic," said Griswold who assisted Albrecht in making the arrest last night. "When we told him to move on, he honked at us."

FIRST BATTLE HELD TODAY IN HOUSE

SPONSOR CLAIMS THAT THOUSANDS DEPRIVED OF STATE HELP

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 14.—The first floor contest in the forty-fifth legislature on a major issue resulted today in a defeat in the house of representatives of forces advocating larger old age pension rolls.

Claiming "tens of thousands" of needy old persons had been unable to obtain pensions, Rep. B. F. Cathey of Quitman introduced a resolution requesting state pension authorities to invoke the aid of county commissioners courts in putting all deserving applicants on the rolls.

Refuse Consideration

The house voted by a large majority to refuse immediate consideration of the resolution and refer it to the state affairs committee, which won't be appointed until next week.

Governor Allred told the legislators in his initial message that an additional $1,300,000 in revenue would be needed to support the

Rush For Airplanes Spreads Over World

MILLIONS IN UNFILLED ORDERS NOW FACING AMERICAN BUILDERS; OTHERS ARE SOUGHT

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 14—Aircraft makers, swept by a world rush to acquire war and transport wings, have warmed up an improved production machine to handle a big accumulation of orders.

An authoritative trade source estimated today American manufacturers of airplanes and engines entered the new year with a record total of nearly $100,000,000 in unfilled orders.

Much of this backlog was traced to awards in recent months for equipment to modernize and build up the United States air forces.

With European aircraft factories crowded for deliveries on military orders, domestic manufacturers also looked forward to an expanding export market among foreign commercial transport lines.

Moreover, many air men expect additional appropriations in this session of congress for the army and navy to provide more orders.

Leading companies have spent or set aside millions of dollars for new factory and transportation equipment. Growth of air transport in the United States has combined with the military program to revive activity in aircraft plants after slack depression years.

Fight For Business

Expansion in domestic passenger air traffic from about 5,000 to more than 1,000,000 yearly in the last decade has been accompanied by a tense fight for business among the big airlines, resulting in heavy orders last year for larger and swifter transport planes, some costing as much as $110,000 each. Many of these remain to be delivered this year or later.

Unfilled orders of three companies, according to latest available figures, approximated $58,000,000. They are the Douglas Aircraft Co., Santa Monica, Calif.; Consolidated Aircraft Corp., San Diego, Calif., and Curtiss-Wright Corp., with plants at Buffalo, St. Louis and Paterson, N. J.

Mr. Marquart was supervising construction of a school building for Mr. Butler, who had drawn the plans. The architect left for Kellerville soon after receiving word of the death. Mrs. Marquart also was notified. A son, Clarence O., jr. survives.

No details of funeral arrangements have been made.

NEW SCHEDULE TO BE ACTED ON TODAY

ANNUAL SAVING TO BE ABOUT $12,000 FOR USERS IN CITY

City commission in City hall this afternoon was expected to approve a reduced gas rate offered by West Texas Gas company.

The result of negotiations begun late in 1936 by the commission, the proposed rate would save each consumer $2.40 annually. The saving to Lubbock natural gas consumers was approximated at $12,000 annually.

In Effect Jan. 15

The rate, if accepted, will be placed in effect in Lubbock Jan. 15.

The proposed schedule would reduce minimum bills, for the first 2,000 cubic feet per month, from $1.35 to $1.25. The next 2,000 cubic feet would cost the consumer 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet instead of 55 cents.

The monthly saving, therefore, would be 20 cents to each domestic and commercial user of natural gas.

Conference Authorized

City commission last month instructed City Manager W. H. Rodgers to confer with company officials concerning a possible reduction in the gas rate.

Mayor Ross Edwards said today that members of the commission whom he had contacted favored approval of the proposed rate. He expressed appreciation for the reduction.

In a letter submitting the proposal, Ray F. Hinchey, vice-pres-

Mid-Winter Frocks Are Fertile Field For Colorful Vegetable Print Dresses

Stamps And Garden Nosegays Selected

BY MARIAN YOUNG
NEA Service Staff

NEW YORK, — Lowly beets, carrots and radishes from vegetable stand . . . spicy pinks and old-fashioned nose gays from an English garden . . . postage stamps from near and far . . . all-in-all, they make the prettiest, gayest, newest silk prints you ever saw.

Under your fur coat wear a beautifully but simply cut new frock that has a hint of springtime about it. Have it short-sleeved even if your arms do get cold when you take off your coat. Have it sleek and trim and tailored, soft and dressmakery or quaint and peasant-ish with a full skirt, tight bodice and lace edging at the neckline. But have it! And have it of silk — printed silk. This is the month when your spirits as well as your wardrobe need just such a sartorial tonic.

However, a "print for January" isn't an extravagance if you pick one that will be fashion-right all spring and summer. The dark silk crepe, printed with colorful figurines, which is a charming anachronism this time of year, will be a veritable uniform next summer. Put it aside for a few weeks right after you buy your spring suit. Then bring it forth again in all its glory.

Tiny prints are best for daytime. Large, splashy ones for evening. Paisley prints are widely discussed at the moment. But if you want one, buy it immediately before they get too popular.

How about some shiny patent leather pumps and a shiny black patent purse right now? Colored patent shoes are talked about a good deal, too. By Easter, every smart wardrobe will include at least one pair, probably more. They come in such luscious tones as mulberry, slate blue, mustard yellow, raspberry and cherry red, pearl-white (a lovely grayish, off-white shade), moss green, turquoise, rust, salmon-peach.

To give your wardrobe a lift, substitute natural doeskin gloves for the black ones you've been wearing day after day. Your mid-season stockings ought to be at least one shade lighter (golden tan, maybe) than those you bought before Christmas. Wear a frivolous, bright scarf, tied in a bow under your chin.

LEAGUE HEADS ARE CHOSEN

DIRECTORS OF EVENTS FOR LEAGUE MEET SELECTED HERE

Members of the executive committee of the county interscholastic league, in a meeting at the office of the county schools superintendent, Joseph R. Groggs, Wednesday night, selected seven directors for events to be conducted in the annual spring contests.

Since eight voting directors already had been elected by county teachers, complete organization was perfected in the Wednesday session.

Appointed were Mrs. J. R. Lipscomb of Roosevelt school, music memory; Mrs. E. F. Dawkins of Union school, picture memory; Miss Marjorie Scott of New Deal school, shorthand and typing; Mrs. Lillian Butler of Slaton, choral singing; Miss Leslie O'Bryant of Shallowater, story telling, and Dawkins of Cooper school, one-act play.

Jan. 18 Fee Deadline

Choices were made by A. L. Faubion of New Deal school, director-general; K. S. McKinnon of Slaton, declamation; B. M. Keese of Wolfforth, debate; K. T. Miller of Shallowater, extemporaneous speech; W. D. Wilkerson of Idalou, spelling; Griggs, rural schools, and Homer D. Bentley of Posey, athletics. M. L. Kelly of Roosevelt, ready-writers director, did not attend.

All schools will have until Jan. 18 to get membership fees mailed to state offices. All entries for debate must be in the mail addressed to Keese by Feb. 1, and all entries in the one-act play event must be in the mail addressed to the state office by Feb. 1, said Griggs.

Two Meets Planned

There will be two meets, just as last year; grammar school events will be conducted March 19 and 20, and high schools and rural schools will meet March 26 and 27.

All entries must be mailed to the county chairman 10 days before opening of the meets. Each school is asked to send a copy of entries to the respective county directors.

In all contests, constitution and rules of the University of Texas Interscholastic league will govern county events. The league bulletin does not provide for rhythm band and high school choral singing, but those events will be sponsored by Lubbock County Teachers association, and contests will be conducted in April.

Girl Trouble Said Barrier For Tests

Supt. H. W. Jespersen explained it this way to the state pardon board:

"You see, a class of University of Nebraska students, most of them girls, comes out and gives the test to 30 or 40 inmates at a time. Now these boys don't see a girl very often and naturally many of them—probably most of them—don't concentrate on their tests at all."

THE OTHER WOMAN LIVES JUST AROUND THE CORNER

IT may seem unreasonable, but most men cannot understand why a woman who is usually happy and loving should have recurring periods when her whole character seems changed. He cannot appreciate the distress, the discomfort that all women must endure. He does not know what it is to do housework with an aching back and failing energy. All he does know is that other women seem more cheerful by comparison.

Are you such a three-quarter wife?

Don't let the ordeals that all women face cause you avoidable discomfort or endanger your home. Do as so many wise women have —try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Decorated Walls In Mexican Motif

Ornaments, bright paint complete the picture.

The proudest boast of the homeowner today well may be that heretofore useless and wasted space in the basement now can be converted into a game room amusingly decorated to suit the occasions for which it will serve.

The very original one shown takes its cue from Mexico, and is painted buff with a ceiling of sapphire blue. The owner wanted the effect of a patio, so hung orange awnings inside the windows, and added blue window boxes filled with colorful flowers.

The cement floor is covered with blue Mexican rugs, and more blue appears in a wooden cupboard and an old painted chest. Tin lanterns, copied from Mexican originals, can be hung from the ceiling.

SHIP CRASHES TAKE LIVES

ELEVEN PERSONS ARE BELIEVED DEAD IN MEXICAN MISHAPS

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14. (AP)—A report of the third Mexican airplane disaster this week reached here today with indications eleven persons had perished in the crashes.

While six airplanes sought an air liner in Veracrus state with nine aboard, Mayor Adan Galves Perez, a resident of the capital, said he received telegraphic advices from San Cristobal Las Casas that two persons were killed and two injured in a crack-up there.

He also said he had word from Villahermosa, Tabasco, that a third plane carrying two physicians and a pilot had crashed. The pilot, Roberto Navarro, was said to have been badly hurt, but there was no report of the fate of the doctors.

Little hope was voiced in these quarters that the six passengers and three crewmen of the Mexican Aviation company's lost airliner would be found alive.

Economists See Depression Dying With Old Year; Warn Of Another Boom

Prosperity At Hand And Stability Seen

SOME SEE FLAWS IN BUSINESS PICTURE; ARE CRITICAL OF VARIOUS POLITICAL ACTIONS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Nineteen-thirty-six fades into history as a year of striking recovery and 1937 makes its bow with a "flavoring of a boom," a year-end symposium of business comment by leading economists indicates.

Looking backward, economists note: "The worst of the depression is clearly over." . . . "The beginnings of some permanent steps toward stability." . . . "The psychological turn in the depression."

But some see flaws in the business picture and are critical of various political actions for control of economic forces and redistribution of income.

Statements given to The Associated Press follow:

E. E. AGGER, professor of economics, Rutgers University:

"Nineteen-thirty-six is likely to stand out in American history. . . . It marks the psychological turn in the depression. . . . The wholehearted conviction that we were definitely on the upgrade gripped the American people. . . .

"The erstwhile easy laissez faire assumption that public welfare would be best supervised by allowing the individual, with a minimum of state supervision, to pursue what he regarded as his own interest has yielded to the conviction that the agencies of the government must be consciously and actively employed to eliminate abuses and insure the continuous and equitable functioning of the economic machine." . . .

PAUL H. DOUGLAS, professor of economics, University of Chicago:

"American industry is now faced with an extraordinary paradox. On the one hand, there is real prosperity inside the business system, with manufacturing and production only 10 percent less than it was in 1929. Profits also are high, although building still lags.

"On the other hand, however, there are from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 unemployed who are outside the system and have 'missed the boat' of business prosperity. These unemployed can be brought inside the industrial system and given decent jobs. Unless this is done, there will be great dangers in coming years.

"It is my own belief that the chief force holding back re-employment of these men is monopoly prices, originally confined to industry but extended to agriculture by the AAA and to certain other sections of industry by NRA. These high prices are choking off demand and therefore restricting production and employment." . . .

"The outstanding 1936 events were rapid business improvement and the vote of confidence given President Roosevelt's administration. The rebound of those goods bought directly by the consumer was accelerated, supported by increasing wages and employment and continued large government expenditures. More important, the capital goods industries increased output at an extraordinary rate to make up in part accumulated obsolescence. . . .

"Current improvement in business, enormous liquid funds in our banking system and the prevalent tendency toward speculative buying of some commodities give the 1937 prospects a flavoring of a 'boom.' This would carry within itself the factors leading to a temporary and perhaps sharp decline in business."

WILFORD I. KING, professor of economics, New York University:

"The year 1936 marked the return of the United States to a degree of prosperity high as compared with that found in any other year since 1929. In most ways, indeed, existing conditions are typical of a real boom. In certain respects, however, the present situation differs from that prevailing during past booms. Today, to an abnormal degree, our workers are dependent upon public bounty for support of employment and the national income is well below the level naturally expected in a period of prosperity.

"The existence of these anomalies seems to be explained mainly by the fact that potential workers have been induced to hold out for wage rates too high to be justified by their productivity and the existing price level. This tendency has been greatly accentuated by the action of government in hiring great numbers of people to do useless or semi-useless work while paying rates per hour higher than those received by workers of like skill employed in private industry." . . .

IRVING FISHER, professor emeritus of economics, Yale University:

"The year 1936 is notable in most people's minds for being the year in which recovery from our greatest depression became decisive.

"But a century hence it may well be that economic historians will point to the year 1936 as the decisive year marking the virtual abandonment throughout the world of the gold standard and its replacement by a scientifically managed currency, thereby putting an end forever to all such depressions as that of 1929-36.

"Whether or not this shall turn out to be true, there were in 1936 important signs in that direction. Following the banking act of 1935, the Federal Reserve Board was completely reconstituted and made ready for reviving the 'open market operations' by which Governor Strong of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York had, until his death in 1928 (when his policies were abandoned by the old Federal Reserve Board), given the United States stable money, stable business and prosperity and by which operations Governor Rooth of the Swedish Riksbank, originally trained under Governor Strong, has been doing the same thing for Sweden since 1931.

"Also France, Switzerland and Holland, the last bulwarks of the gold standard, surrendered to the pressure to devalue." . . .

LIONEL D. EDIE, consulting economist, New York:

"1937 opens on a note of optimism. Now optimism has a more tangible basis than did the similar feeling at the beginning of last year. It consists of a substantial backlog of unfilled orders which did not exist a year ago. . . .

"The labor question and other questions involving doubt about the future still give rise to some impairment of confidence. But broadly speaking, confidence has recovered to the point where large-scale commitments in capital goods have been made." . . .

A. B. WOLFE, professor of economics, Ohio State University:

"Recovery and 1936 are almost synonyms . . . unfortunately recovery from depression produces no immunity against getting into another. . . .

"Happily the year has given us beginnings of some permanent steps toward stability and has foreshadowed others. The greatest single gain is that the country has wholeheartedly committed itself to the principle of social security through old-age and unemployment insurance. Almost as important, for future stability, is the awakening to the necessity of a real and vital program of conservation of natural resources, especially farm lands. The SEC has demonstrated its value in providing some protection for the investor and in preventing the shoestring gambling which helps create a runaway market.

"Less tangible, but perhaps most significant of all, there has developed in the minds of many economists and some business leaders some realization of the indispensability of a continuous and adequate flow of consumer income and consumer buying as a prerequisite to business prosperity and stability.

"There is nothing in our economic organization to make this realization effective, however." . . .

ERNEST M. PATTERSON, professor of economics, University of Pennsylvania:

"The worst of the depression is clearly over and presumably the gains will continue for some time to come. . . . In the long run the most serious danger is a world war whose ultimate result can be nothing else than heavy losses worse than those resulting from the last conflict. . . .

"Perhaps more immediate is danger that the present advance may get out of control. The flight of capital to the United States, the unfortunate devaluation of the dollar and the usual excess of savings over investment during the depression have given the basis for an extreme and highly dangerous expansion. There is no reason to believe that the controls in sight, governmental or otherwise, will be adequate." . . .

H. PARKER WILLIS, professor of banking, Columbia University:

"Business, in the technical sense, has made a rapid recovery, measured by prices, volume of production or other quantitative tests. The outlook is favorable for continuance of good business demand and for an increase of production and building. Conditions in trade and manufacturing are hopeful.

"But in the essential particular which had been so greatly emphasized by the so-called New Deal—better distribution of goods—there has been retrogression. It is now clear that the measures of the past few years have been chiefly within the field of organized labor and that the rank and file of workers are still suffering from unemployment.

"The community has built up a permanent problem of dependence and suffering. . . .

"Looking to the future, business must now reckon with the financial dangers wrought by the fiscal management of our government—its banking and borrowing policies too long neglected and still to be rectified. Little as we like it, we have still to reckon with the means of adjusting the banking and business situation to the requirements of safe finance."

Trade Winds Stirring Monotony Of Off Season

SKIOZZLER

by COLLIER PARRIS

HAVE YOU A LITTLE Gelaendesprunger in your home? No? Tsk! Tsk! How unfortunate! How about a little Telemarkist? And no Stemmbogener, either?

Well, we'll have to give THAT idea up. 'Stoo bad; we were thinking of trying to promote a bit of suski, come the next heavy snow.

But if there is such a dearth of individuals hereabout who can do a Slalom, or execute a Gelaendesprung, or Telemark, or a Christiania, a Shuss or a Stemmbogen, we'll have to take up a game with a little less vocabulary and a little more suitable to our gentle landscape.

However, there may be those among us who at some time or other would wander afar—perhaps to the snowy Alps, or to Germany's Garmisch-Partenkirchen, or to the Lake Placid area or to a New York department store, and you would be a wallflower indeed if you did not indulge in suski (ski to you, Cowboy) or at least know something about it.

So, with the help of various references, we shall undertake to dive into the suski subject and come up with a few helpful pointers, the which you may try out on your next ski-ing party.

Beginners generally are first taught how to fall properly. They next get "langlaufing" down pat. That is plain navigating on level ground without getting your skis tangled up in your Swiss yodeler's hat.

Herringbone step for climbing steep slopes.

If you get by the class in "herringboning," which merely is walking uphill with the skis at an angle forming a herringbone (see the accompanying illustration) without winding up in a hospital, you are ready for the "shuss." This is a straight descent usually not wide enough to permit checking by use of turns.

The "gelaendesprung" isn't as difficult as it is to pronounce (see illustration in which the ski-er is sitting and standing on nothing at all). A snowplow (ah, finally a good old American word) is a trick designed to brake speed on downhill runs. It is made by turning in the forward points of the skis and adopting a bowlegged, pigeontoed stance while traveling about 90 miles per hour. The edge of the runners biting into the snow stops the skier (maybe). This also is called the "stemmbogen" (ow, there's that Alpine man again).

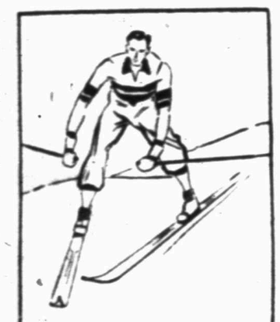

A gelaendesprung is used to clear obstacles.

We now come to the "stemm," the "telemark" and the Christiania, which are technical terms for various turns, twists and takeoffs, all highly essential to the accomplished suski-ist. There turns (and there are at least four varieties of Christianias) are of value in slalom racing, in which the skier zig-zags between lanes of flags.

The "stemm" is negotiated by shifting the weight to the inside ski, bending the knee and sliding the unweighted ski out at a half right angle. By transferring the weight back to the outside ski and sliding the inside runner to the outside, you make a turn. If at first you don't succeed, you generally recover in a couple of weeks to try, try again.

In the "telemark," which is a form of turn (see illustration) the skier, hurtling down hill, suddenly swings the downhill pole forward, goes into a crouch (or an infirmary) and forces the pole into the snow. At the same time he jumps with both skis high and around the pole. When he lands he is facing a new direction on a zig-zag course. (The novice usually is still zig-zagging when he wakes up).

Despite the apparent difficulty of mastering these foreign-sounding maneuvers, the beginner finds the fundamentals of skiing harder than the finer points, our informer points out. A convert must be thoroughly versed in the rudiments before starting to prepare for the 1940 Olympic team.

Telemark turn, with weight on forward foot.

If, by presenting this first lesson in suski, we have accomplished nothing more than fill you with a deeper appreciation of skiing when you see it in the newsreels or read about it in the papers, we shall feel richly repaid.

The newsreels, as a rule, go in stronger for ski-jumping. And maybe you didn't know that a ski jumper, at the moment of take-off into space, travels at between 60 and 110 miles per hour, depending upon steepness of the hill. The height from take-off to landing point varies. At Garmisch, scene of the 1936 Winter Olympics, the height was over 300 feet. The time elapsed from take-off to landing was a trifle more than three seconds.

Personally, we'd prefer the telemark or gelaendesprung to a 300-foot ride through space with nothing more than a pair of bed slats tapered up at the end as a means of locomotion and braking. But a lot of boys and gals do it and survive.

SPORT GOSSIP AS GATHERED IN NATION

LOS ANGELES RUMORED AS NEXT ENTRY IN PRO FOOTBALL

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—If anybody in New York has more friends than Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants, it'll take Sherlock himself to find out. . . . At the dinner the baseball writers gave proceedings were thrown into something of a riot by reading this wire, supposedly from F. D. R.: "Congratulations. . . . Glad you didn't run on Republican ticket last fall."

Jint fans would rather read about Bill Terry buying catchers than cows. . . . Red Grange is telling the boys on the coast Los Angeles may get a franchise in the national football league next season.

Attention sports writers: Deadline for your Cooperstown baseball hall of fame nominations is January 15. . . . The Phillies seem to have grabbed off one of those jack-of-all-trades in William Andrus, rookie from Little Rock. . . . He can pitch, catch and play the infield and outfield. . . . So Manager Jimmy Wilson will just park him on the bench and wait for something to happen. . . . Since giving old King Levinsky a good going over on the coast the other night, Maxie Rosenbloom wants to be known as "Jewish heavyweight champion of the world."

The Detroit Tigers have ordered Hank Greenberg to lay off handball. . . . Frank G. Menke has decided not to issue his entertaining all-sports record book this year. . . . Friends are trying to persuade Tony Canzoneri to forget that comeback stuff, but no dice yet. . . . The big gun behind the Joe Louis retirement talk is Mrs. J. L. . . . Freddie Steele is the first coast born fighter to hold a ring title since Jim Corbett's day.

BOY LEGISLATOR IN MITT MEET

GEORGE HUNT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—George Hunt, 23-year-old Oklahoma state legislator, floored his colleagues with a constitutional right in announcing he would enter the Golden Gloves boxing tournament here, February 11-15.

Hunt, now serving his second term as a representative, has had considerable experience in amateur boxing at Southeastern Oklahoma teachers college, where he still is working toward his degree.

The boy legislator, a welterweight, believes his experience in the political arena will give him an advantage.

"How can I lose?" he demanded. "What could be better training than an intensive course in pounding home facts, sparring for time and dodging issues?"

He was a bit out of breath from a strenuous workout with an old windbag.

"I plan to use a technique new to the ring, known as 'spellbinding,'" he explained. "It has been my observation that this is a most effective method of putting an opponent in a coma and keeping him there.

"Besides, if I don't get a decision I can always demand a roll call."

LIONS ARE VICTORS

COMMERCE, Jan. 14. (AP)—The East Texas Lions, paced by McKee, who scored 20 points, overwhelmed the Texas Wesleyan cagers 55 to 15 last night. The Lions held the Rams to three points in the last half.

PLAYER DEALS REPORTED IN BIG TIME

MUNGO AND NEWSOM IN THICK OF TALK IN BASEBALL CIRCLES

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Reports of three possible baseball player deals went the rounds today, thereby saving this especially dull hot stove league season from taking a dive into its own cracker barrel for want of something to talk about.

The trade talk, such as it is, revived speculations that:

1. Van Lingle Mungo will go from the Brooklyn Dodgers to the Chicago Cubs.
2. Buck Newsom is headed from Washington toward Detroit.
3. The Giants will land a catcher from Cincinnati.

Damper Clamped On

For a while it looked as if the Boston Red Sox might lure Moose Solters from St. Louis or Joe Vosmik from Cleveland. However, Tom Yawkey put the damper on such goings-on yesterday by explaining he has learned the "for sale" sign was definitely in mothballs so far as these two are concerned.

The Mungo-to-Chicago rumors have been turned on and off like a faucet. Recently there was talk the Cubs would get him, Brooklyn's classy third baseman Joe Stripp, and Pitcher Paul Derringer of the Reds in some sort of three cornered trade.

Persona Non Grata

Ever since Newsom let off steam against the Senators in the public prints some weeks ago, he is said to be persona non grata with Washington big-wigs. That was the starting point for reports he would do his pitching somewhere else this year.

The Giants are in dire need of another catcher. They can't expect Gus Mancuso to do again the work-horse act of last season. The Reds have a corner on the catching market at the moment, with Ernie Lombardi, Spud Davis and Gilly Campbell on hand. Bill Terry has been buzzing around Cincinnati like a bee around honey, but the Reds want more than he will put up.

Sage Advice Given To Baseball Rookie

AVOID REPUTATION OF BEING A CONSTANT UMPIRE FIGHTER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Spring training being just around the corner, Ralph "Babe" Pinelli, National league umpire, issued some sage advice to rookies breaking into the majors for the first time.

Rule No. 1, said Pinelli, is to avoid a reputation of being an umpire fighter.

Don't Raise Howl

"Don't kick if you're wrong," the "Babe" advised, "for umpires want to be friends, and quite frequently can aid a player by pointing out his mistakes at the plate or in the field."

Pinelli, who as a player never hesitated to speak his mind when he thought the decisions were wrong, advises players to show their aggressiveness by protesting what they think are bad decisions.

"But have your say and walk away quickly," he said. "Don't linger."

Bartell Is Model

The curve ball is the rookie's greatest worry in the majors, thinks Pinelli.

"They'll try to get you in a position for a curve by attempting to make you offer at bad balls.

"Don't be afraid to let them go by—big league umpires don't call them strikes."

LIVELY MATCH IS STAGED

WALTER STRATTON IS VICTOR LAST NIGHT OVER TREMAINE

Strong man Walter Stratton finally got the best of clever Andy Tremaine in the local wrestling ring, winning the first and third fall of last night's main event but having to call upon all his muscular courage and mental prowess.

Tremaine disputed the third fall count which gave Stratton the match, claiming his shoulders were not pinned flat enough and long enough. But the fans and the referee overruled the objection with yells and official declaration.

Clements Is Loser

Referee Clements, who "called a nice game" last night, wasn't in much of a shape to do a lot of counting or stalling around as the third fall ended. Tremaine had aimed a vicious flying tackle at Stratton. Walter ducked, and Tremaine sailed on, colliding with the referee and putting him down for the count. It was a block that would have tickled any football coach, but Stratton was up and on Tremaine. They rolled around, with Stratton winding up on top, and the third and deciding fall was over in something like 7 minutes.

It was a grand exhibition of wrestling for those who like that kind of wrestling. And a slightly-less-than-average crowd, some 1,200 fans, seem to like that kind of wrestling. They cheered, not wildly, but appreciatively at the demonstration of speed, science, skill and strength. And both gladiators had a lot of each last night. They swapped holds faster than it takes to tell. There was a lot of good defensive wrestling, but they held nothing back on offense.

Stratton won the first fall in 32 minutes. For the first thirty minutes it was a repetition of their half-hour draw last week, then Stratton, who had pinned Tre-

CRACK NETMEN ARE TO PLAY NEXT MONTH

NORTH SIDE COACH IS RUMORED AS LIKELY CHERRY SUCCESSOR

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Jan. 14. (AP)—Pro netters Fred Perry and Ellsworth Vines bring their tennis feud into Texas in mid-February. . . . Definitely booked into Fort Worth on Feb. 12, the troupe probably will play Dallas the following night. . . . Promoter Bill O'Brien's net carnival carries its own collapsible rubber floor, nets and all necessary equipment to assure normal playing conditions.

Rumors say Herman Clark, the North Side high coach of Fort Worth, may get the Amarillo job if Blair Cherry pulls out for collegiate atmosphere. Waco's Jinx Tucker, however, wants to be on record as saying he believes Carroll Wood of Cameron will land the post.

Let Him Fight

Quoting Vin Burke, of Beaumont's Enterprise: "Said Hank Greenberg to Jack Zeller in Detroit recently: 'You fellows quit touting Rudy York for my job, with me moving to the outfield. . . . I want to play first base. . . . I had to fight for my job; let York fight for his."

Youthful Adolph Kiefer, University of Texas swimmer who holds world's backstroke records in all but one event, tries for that one at the university's swimming carnival tomorrow night. . . . It's the 440 and he's been training to crack it.

Critics say Frank Carswell, the clever Jeff Davis forward of Houston, has the "deadest" eye in high school basketball. . . . He recently fired 15 times at the mesh in a San Antonio tourney and looped nine baskets. . . . All his shots are from lengthy distances. . . . He is small and wiry and hard to guard—because he shoots from the center of the court and makes them! Sad note . . . Carswell will be ineligible after mid-term because of the eight semester rule.

Kirksey Is Named

A. H. Kirksey of Waco has been appointed Texas commissioner of semi-pro baseball for 1937 by Hith Commissioner Honus Wagner, the old Pittsburgh Pirate coach. . . . The 1937 semi-pro tourney will be held at Waco in mid-July. . . . Mount Pleasant won the title last year.

For the sake of accuracy: Beaumont never heard of one Johnny Saxon, recently advertised as the "clouting Beaumont, Texas, boy" matched against world's shotput record holder Jack Torrance in his second pro ring scrap. . . . They say Charley Hill, Wichita Falls' sidesteppin' quarterback will twist his hips for Louisiana State and Quarterback Garland Terrell of Childress will carry on at Rice institute.

Athletics Facing Political Career

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 14. (AP)—The Colorado Springs Gazette says today a bill which Sen. John Nolon will introduce into the Colorado legislature would give a state commission dictatorial powers over athletic schedules of state-aided colleges and might block a break-up of the Rocky mountain conference.

Nolon, the newspaper said, admitted the conference split, to start after next football season, was one of the factors which caused him to feel a need for such a commission.

Colorado college, one of the five small schools left out of the proposed "big seven" to be formed, is in Nolon's district.

The newspaper said Nolon's plan would embody a non-political, non-salaried commission.

Longhorns Defeat Their Aggie Foes

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 14. (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns overcame an early deficit last night to defeat the Texas Aggies 23 to 14 in a Southwest conference basketball game.

Both teams showed flashy work on the court but neither was able to score consistently. Each quintet had 34 tries at the basket, the Steers making good nine times and the Aggies five.

Bill Baxter, Longhorn forward, was high scorer with eight points. Forward Paul Evans paced the Aggies with four.

BEARKATS UNDEFEATED

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Sam Houston Bearkats remained undefeated today after a 46 to 31 triumph over the West Texas Teachers quintet last night. Butler, West Texas guard, topped the scorers with 13 points.

An airtight Bearkat defense limited the Buffs to three field goals in the first half.

Dartmouth grid team seniors of 1936, in their careers at Hanover, hung up three victories over Harvard and two over Yale.

Cooper Favored In Oakland Tournament

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 14. (AP)—Golf's professional legions gathered here today for final practice preparatory to the start tomorrow of the 72-hole medal play $5,000 Oakland open tournament.

Harry Cooper of Chicago, winner of the recent Los Angeles open, became the pre-tournament favorite.

A sprinkling of outstanding amateurs of this section rounded out an entry list of some 175 players.

TO DEFEND TITLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Freddie Steele, the middleweight champion, agreed today to defend his title against Eddie (Babe) Risko of Syracuse in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden, February 19.

Steele won the title from Risko in Seattle last July.

Doubleheader Held On Lorenzo Court

LORENZO, Jan. 14 (Special)—Basketball fans here were treated to lively basketball activity last night when the Draughon's Business college team of Lubbock divided a double header with local teams, losing the first to Lorenzo High, winning the nightcap from the local Independent club.

Using only five men for the entire game, the business college team held a one-point lead over the high schoolers until the final minute of play when Gray of Lorenzo sank a field goal then made a free shot, giving the schoolboys a 30 to 28 victory.

The same five men returned to play the second game, got off to an 8 to 2 lead early in the game and held it to win, 26 to 13. Sears of the Lubbock team was high with 8 points.

Hitt of Draughon's led the scoring in the first game, with 12 points, ten of them coming in the first quarter.

CAGE TOURNEY TO OPEN ON FRIDAY

DICKENS, Jan. 14 (Special)—High school officials here have bracketed sixteen teams which are to start a two-day boys basketball tournament Friday.

The first session will be held Friday afternoon, with the Patton Springs team playing Dumont, Patton Springs "B" meeting Ralls, Girard standing against Kalgary and Roaring Springs clashing with Crosbyton.

Four Friday night games are to see Jayton play Whiteflat, Valleyview meet Dickens, McAdoo battle Spur and Guthrie against Aspermont.

A special and added attraction will be a game between the all-stars of the tournament and one of the stronger teams entered. It is expected to be interesting to watch a team of boys who have never played together before battling a season-drilled quintet.

Captain George Lawrence of the California water polo team has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society.

SECURITY ACT TALKED HERE

BOB CROSIER SPEAKER BEFORE GATHERING ON WEDNESDAY

About 350 persons Wednesday afternoon in Hilton hotel heard Bob Crosier, field representative of Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, discuss unemployment compensation as it affects employers and employes.

R. B. Anderson, executive director, was unable to attend because of illness, said A. B. Davis, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce manager, who introduced Crosier.

The meeting was called by Lubbock Retail Merchants association, the chamber of commerce, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and the Plains Ginners association. Crosier attended Texas Technological college in 1927.

To Open Office Here

Opening of an informational office, by the commission, in the chamber of commerce offices in City hall late this week was announced.

"Social Security is here," the field representative declared. "It is no longer a theory. Our problem is not to debate its desirability, but to accept it as it is and make of it the most.

"I am authorized to tell employers our spirit will be one of cooperation," he continued. "We'll resolve every doubt in favor of the employer. We are compelled to beg of you your understanding and cooperation."

Questions Are Answered

After explaining the essentials of the state act, Crosier answered questions put by members of his audience.

Some questions indicated state unemployment compensation and federal old-age benefits had been confused. Crosier explained the two were separate, old-age benefits being conducted solely by the United States government.

The state act cost nothing additional either to employer or employe, Crosier said. Title 9 of the federal Social Security act imposes a tax upon all employers of eight or more persons, except in a few excluded occupations. In states without an approved unemployment compensation act, the entire assessed tax is collected by the United States government. Employers in states with approved unemployment compensation act (the Texas act became effective Oct. 27, 1936) are permitted to deduct 90 per cent of the assessed tax and remit it to the state. The other 10 per cent is paid to the federal government.

Unemployment compensation, the speaker explained, is not a "dole."

"It is a small sum of money which employes receive when thrown out of employment for a short time," Crosier said. "The purpose of the tax is to build up a reserve fund to prevent a recurrence of the catastrophic conditions of several years ago."

Definitions, vital to an understanding of the act, were given. They included:

Employer—Any person, corporation, firm, or company which on each of some 20 days during the taxable year, each day being in a different calendar week, employs eight individuals.

Wages—Any remuneration for employment, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash.

The Unemployment Compensation commission has computed cash value of certain forms of remuneration. Included are: House rent, $4 weekly; full board and room, $5 weekly; meals, $3 weekly; meals, 50 cents per day; lodging, $2 weekly; lodging, 30 cents per day.

Excluded occupations include: Agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, service performed as an officer or member of the crew of a ship, service performed by an individual in the employ of a close relative, service performed for the government or any governmental agency, service performed in the employ of an organization operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes.

Graduated Taxes Listed

The graduated taxes were listed by Crosier. He said that for 1936 the tax was .9 of one per cent to the state and .1 of one per cent to the federal government; for 1937 the tax is 1.8 per cent for the state and .2 of one per cent for the federal government; for 1938, 1939, and 1940, 2.7 per cent to the state and .3 of one per cent to the federal government. The percentages refer to total payrolls of employers as defined in the act.

The 1936 tax will become delinquent after January 25. Taxes in other years will become due monthly. In other words, the tax for this January will become due February 1 and will become delinquent if not paid on or before February 25. Crosier explained that the commission, however, has announced February and March taxes would become due April 1 and would be delinquent if not paid on or before April 25, this year.

Merit System Stated

The merit system, in which employers whose labor turnover is small will pay a smaller tax, will be effective after Jan. 1, 1941.

Because the majority of persons attending were employers, Crosier briefly discussed payment of unemployment compensation. No benefits will be paid until Jan. 1, 1938. Maximum weekly benefits paid to jobless persons will be $15 weekly. The minimum will be either $5 weekly, or three-fourths of the weekly salary, whichever is the lesser. Length of the period in which unemployment insurance will be paid depends on the length of time a person was employed prior to becoming jobless. Maximum period of payment of unemployment compensation is 25 weeks.

"The longer a person has had work, the longer he will draw benefits," Crosier said.

Other Details Explained

Unemployed persons must wait two weeks before drawing any compensation. Persons who deliberately leave a job must wait five weeks before receiving weekly payment. Persons discharged for misconduct must wait nine weeks.

If tips constitute a portion, or all, of wages payable to an employe, the reasonable average of those tips will be calculated in determining the employer's total payroll, it was explained.

Crosier explained employers should remit their state tax payment first and then make payment to the federal government. The commission will certify to the federal government that the employer has paid 90 per cent of the assessment, as required.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Creosote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creomulsion in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creomulsion top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Creosote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creomulsion right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

RHEUMATIC PAIN GOES; LUBBOCK MAN PRAISES GREAT VAN-TAGE RELIEF

Mr. Scales, Of Ave. M, Suffered or 3 Years Due To Sluggish Kidneys That Caused Agonizing Rheumatic Attacks—Now Relieved By Van-Tage, He Says: "The Results Are Amazing!"

Never before in local history, say some of the Leading Druggists of this city, has any medicine created sich a sensation in this section as has Van-Tage. This is the "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents" now being introduced to crowds daily here in Lubbock, at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway. All over Lubbock and throughout Texas, people are praising this Remarkable Compound and are saying, "I never saw anpthing like Van-Tage. It certainly gave me relief and I want others to know it!" For instance, just a few days ago, the following sincere testimonial was received from J. D. Scales, of 1409 Ave. M, Lubbock. Mr. Scales is a Widely-Known Local Man with friends throughout this whole region. Let him tell you how he found relief from his ailments.

MR. J. D. SCALES, Prominent Local Man, Says: "It Is Almost Unbelievable the Way VAN-TAGE Went to Work on My Kidneys."

Discouraged By Awful Rheumatic Pains

"For the last three years, says Mr. Scales. "I had suffered something awful with rheumatic attacks. My kidneys were sluggish and got me up at all hours of the night so that I got very little real rest. This ailing condition filled my system with contaminating poisons and brought on agonizing, stabbing, rheumatic pains all through my arms and legs. These torturing pains kept getting worse and worse until I hardly knew what to do! I was so tired and worn-out that I was no longer able to work and I was just about as discouraged as a man could be.

Amazed At The Great Van-Tage Relief

"I had tried all kinds of medicines and treatments, trying to get relief from my suffering, but nothing did me any good. Then a friend of mine told me what wonderful results Van-Tage was giving to other suffering people, and suggested that I try it. It is almost UNBELIEVABLE the way this medicine went to work on my kidneys! From the very first bottle I felt myself improving, and last night I got up only once. The rheumatic pains are leaving my legs and arms, and I feel so much better that I cannot help praising this Great Compound. I hope everyone who suffers as I did, will hear about Van-Tage and try it, for I know from experience that the results are simple AMAZING!

21 Great Natural Herbs In The Van-Tage

VAN-TAGE contains 21 Herbs and nearly a dozen Other Splendid Ingredients. So it is like 4 or 5 medicines in one and accomplishes several things at the same time. It acts as a carminative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic, thus helping to cleanse the bowels, bringing forth gas and bloat from stomach, assisting Nature to flush the kidneys and helping to clear away liver bile and waste, and daily miserable people write us they feel different all over as a result of this cleansing and invigorating action of Van-Tage.

VAN-TAGE is now being introduced and explained to crowds daily at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway, Lubbock.

ABOUT the worst thing that can happen to the peace of mind of most of us is to run across some sort of a publication dishing up news of our old schoolmates.

Turning idly through the pages of the alumni publication of his dear, old Alma Mammy, The Plainsman was slapped in the eye time and time again by the glowing account of some long-lost-track-of college acquaintance who is now in the money, with skies all sunny, etc., etc., and etc.

It sure is a rap for smug complacency!

One guy who was a senior law student when The Plainsman was a freshman now has a nice soft seat in the United States Senate and already they're talking about him as a possible nominee for the vice-presidency.

Another fellow, who ran for business manager of the yearbook on the same ticket your humble servant ran for editor on, is being boomed for a federal judgeship and it looks like he's going to get it.

Various and sundry other sweeping successes in lines covering everything from Hollywood to belles lettres were listed and The Plainsman got so dizzy reading them that he was almost ready to apply for admittance to the nearest poor farm. Darn if it didn't appear as if Parker Prouty, Bill Chesher of Littlefield, John Edmisson of Lamesa, Ves Terry, of Sudan, Syrian Marbut, Paul Lockner and The Plainsman—who comprise the alumni list of here and about—are the only people who ever came within a stone's throw of the Athens of Oklahoma without since turning the world upside down!

BUT the prosaic existence of a country editor is not without its good points. Josh Lee, the United States Senator, to hold his job has to be nice to a lot of people he'd really like to kick in the pants. Royce Savage, who is likely to become a federal judge, will have to quit doing a lot of things he likes to do in order to keep the dignity of the lofty position on the bench. The guys who have gotten rich probably have dyspepsia, the gout or high blood pressure, and those who have written books and plays have probably been so many places and done so many things that they have nothing left to look forward to.

Without honors, money in the bank, or listing in "Who's Who", The Plainsman has a good time mingling with the folks of Lubbock and environs, going to bed early nights with copies of the latest detective story magazines, enjoying the daily association with a lot of fine people here where the best small city newspapers in the country are made.

And that makes for something a lot of the big-timers haven't got—peace of mind!

Lewis Price, over at Hemphill's, was approached the other day by a little boy who said he wanted to buy "a soft man's collar".

Several customers giggled at the way the little boy put his request and Lewis, pointing to his own collar, asked "you mean you want one like this?"

"Naw," said the little boy disdainfully. "I wanna clean one!"

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says they must call 'em "stag parties" because so many guys come staggering home from 'em.

* * *

All of which reminds us of a story they were telling down at El Paso when The Plainsman was down there just before the first of the year.

An elderly cowman from the Arizona range, his wife and a boy of about 14 stepped into one of the numerous El Paso saloons and bellyed up to the bar.

"A couple of whiskies, straight," ordered the old man.

"What's the matter, grampaw?" the kid spoke up. "Ain't grammaw drinkin'?"

SOMETIMES it's pretty hard to see where the world—meaning the people in it—is improving any.

In spite of inventions, of the advances of science and the arts, of industry and commerce, it appears that because the human race is bound down by old beliefs and inhibitions we don't get ahead very much.

Yet every once-in-awhile something bobs up to prove to us that we're throwing off some of the old fogeyisms which too long have kept men tied and have been allowed,

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: In order to save herself and her sister Gladys from starvation or worse, Laurie Moore has pretended to her employer, Mark Albery, that she is Rex Moore's widow. But Moore, the airplane pilot, is not dead, and after two years he returns to London. It becomes necessary that Laurie and Rex continue the deception to enable Rex to hold his job. They are about to move into a flat lent them by Albery, for whom Rex also will work.

Chapter 10
NEW JOB

The morning after Rex Moore and his wife dined with him, Mark Albery discovered that young Mrs. Moore had come back to work, and sent a message to ask her to come to his office.

"I said you were to stay away until you were settled," he told her in the smooth, autocratic voice that went with his Oriental type.

"I am quite settled, thank you, Mr. Albery. It was easily done yesterday. Everything in the flat is so convenient and so beautiful. You have been so very kind to us."

"Not at all. I wanted your husband near by. He and I have some very important plans to make. And the flat was empty. I took it for my young cousin when he came into the business, but he has gone over to the United States for six months. You are more than welcome, Mrs. Moore."

He was thinking that she did not look as happy as she ought to. Last night, at dinner, he had thought how beautiful she was. But very quiet. Of course, it must have been a great shock to her. And, though joy doesn't kill, it may frighten a sensitive nature.

Rex Moore he had not understood at all. He could make no contact with him. The young man seemed entirely withdrawn; his eyes, his words, his very self. He evidently would not speak of his experience after his crash.

To his wife he seemed abrupt, though friendly—so friendly as to be almost artificial. But, alone with Albery, he was full of plans, bursting with energy and ambition. And what a hard bargain he had driven for his exclusive services! The fellow had seemed to think of nothing but the money. Not a bit like Rex Moore of the old days.

Albery was more and more driven to the conclusion that his accident had caused a slight kink in his mind.

Albery felt his own dislike of the airman growing, as he watched him with his wife. The scene came back to him when, on that first night, he had broken the news to him of his wife being in London and employed by the firm.

How incomprehensible he had seemed. How offhand his manner had been, almost inhuman. Thinking it over, he wondered if Moore was disappointed to find she was in England. It almost looked like it. Perhaps he would rather she had been in Australia. Perhaps he had formed other ties. Two years was a long time for a man to live alone.

And how excessively anxious he had been to avoid all publicity!

Albery looked now at Laurie's pale, expressive face. Her eyes were shining, but they did not look like the eyes of a happy wife. His own dark ones glowed with sympathy.

"You were determined to come back to work?" he asked. "Your husband was not sure about it."

"Oh, yes, Mr. Albery! I couldn't give up my work." As Laurie spoke, she became at once her animated, interested business self.

"I am glad of it. I think you are wise, too. After all, Moore will be away a good deal. That's inevitable in his job. And I'm happy to find he's as keen as ever, Mrs. Moore. I have a proposal to make to you, if you agree, it will work in very well.

"Miss Dixie came back too soon, I'm afraid. Her illness has left her hearing impaired. I sent her to a specialist, and he has ordered a cure and a complete rest. It will take about three months. So I wondered if you would care to take her place again. It would suit me very well indeed. Your work was most satisfactory. What do you say?"

"Oh, Mr. Albery!" Laurie was taken aback. Of course, it was a rise, a big rise in the office. And she had found it most interesting. But she was of two minds.

A little voice deep inside her said —"No, don't take it on!" She had not the remotest idea why. Except that, perhaps, she had at times felt slightly uncomfortable when she was with Mr. Albery. But that was ridiculous.

Her business mind pushed the doubt aside and grasped eagerly at the chance. "I can't say how proud I am that you should find me suitable," she said in her warm, throbbing voice.

"That's settled, then. You'll begin tomorrow, please." He was strictly business-like. No one would imagine that his heart was beating fast and the blood pulsing in his veins. Not even his own secret mind admitted that he was in love with this girl and was determined to take her from Rex Moore, in one way or in another, sooner or later.

"It will be suitable in several ways," he added kindly. "Doing my personal work you will be more in the zone of your husband's job. All his work with me is entirely confidential. So we shall in a way all three be working together."

It was a wonderful piece of luck, and yet Laurie was in the grip of an uncomfortable mental depression, like a vague premonition of evil, as she went back to her own office for the last time.

That evening, when she left work, she collected the last of her personal belongings from her little flat, telling the landlady that she would come in now and then to see that everything was all right.

The good woman was naturally excited and bursting with curiosity, which Laurie could not satisfy. It had been enough to say that her husband, the famous airman, had come back from the dead, and that they were moving temporarily into another flat, as hers was not large enough when her sister came home. But was keeping it on as it was for the remainder of her lease.

She hailed a taxi and was driven to the new flat in Chelsea, not on the Embankment, but in a pleasant side street, with trees on either side, and with a view of the river from a bay window in the big front living room.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

MARK THIS NAME: ROBERT W. CALVERT

Mark you well the name of Robert W. Calvert, of Hill county, Texas, elected hands down the other day as speaker of the House of Representatives. You'll be hearing more about him as the years roll on.

Young Mr. Calvert, who bounded into the House from a law course following his graduation from an orphans home, is going somewhere in Texas politics. If he doesn't "stub his toe" he may some day wind up behind the big desk in the tastefully furnished office now occupied by a Mr. Allred. For "Bob" Calvert has a lot of sense, a lot of friends and a whale of a lot of "political it".

The Journal thinks well of young Bob Calvert and well of his prospects to climb to the top of the political ladder some day.

Texas needs more bright young men of his caliber in public office: more "political career men", if you please, to take up the burden of administering to the people in the years to come. And Hill County's Mr. Calvert, who started at the bottom and has been "studying his way up", is so far a fine example of the type we'll be needing further down the line.

Aside from a good personality, a nimble brain, the right kind of ambition and the sense to spend his leisure time in improving himself, Speaker Calvert has a lot of friends and comes from the part of the state where there are lots of votes.

If he handles himself rightly and doesn't push his opportunities too rapidly he'll go places in Texas public life.

A THOUGHT

Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.—Micah 7: 5.

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14—Some of the flicker barons have been bewailing an exodus of talent to the Broadway stage. They seem more insulted than injured, for they can't understand why any player should turn his back on the Gold Coast and gamble on the whims of audiences in the flesh-and-blood theater.

The producers are growing vaguely alarmed, though, lest activities of the eastern playmakers develop into a genuine talent raid.

For three or four seasons Hollywood has held the upper hand, and has allotted its contract luminaries to the stage much as a major league baseball team farms out its youngsters for experience or discipline. But recently more and more screen players have been insisting upon contracts permitting them to spend a number of the valuable winter months on Broadway.

Margaret Sullavan is the star of "Stage Door"; Katie Hepburn soon is to open in "Jane Eyre" for the Theater Guild; Leslie Howard is touring his "Hamlet."

Fredric March wants to do a play with his wife, Florence Eldridge. John Halliday is top man of the hit, "Tovarich." Burgess Meredith has been starring in Maxwell Anderson's "High Tor."

Ruth Chatterton is going back, and Tallulah Bankhead still appears in "Reflected Glory," despite her flurry of tests for a filming of "Gone With the Wind."

Walter Huston is scheduled for "Othello," and Helen Hayes is in her second year of "Victoria Regina." Jimmy Durante is hotcha-ing in "Red, Hot and Blue," so is Ethel Merman.

Other names temporarily lost to Hollywood are Helen Gahagan Onslow Stevens, Rosamond Pinchot, Rosemary Ames, and Phillip Reed.

Hollywood Haters

You may have noticed, though, that not a single one of those names is that of a player initially identified with Hollywood. They were stage people originally, and only about four of them ever have achieved screen stardom in its full sense.

Helen Hayes says she never will return. Walter Huston dislikes Hollywood almost as intensely as does George M. Cohan. Miss Hepburn, of course, dislikes everything.

The fact is that, notwithstanding talent raids back and forth, the stage and screen remain alien mediums and have separate sets of stars. The biggest movie stars, who draw the most customers to the nation's box offices, are for the most part persons who have had little or no stage training.

Look at Robert Taylor, who never set foot on any professional stage. Likewise Errol Flynn. Ditto Gary Cooper. You don't hear anything about them wanting to dash eastward to tread the hallowed boards.

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers were dancers before they came to Hollywood, but nobody guessed they could act. Clark Gable wasn't what you'd call a seasoned actor during his precarious times behind the footlights.

Norma Shearer never has been on a stage in her life, and neither has Jean Harlow, except for a few personal appearances.

Schooling For Stardom

Joan Crawford danced in musicals. Janet Gaynor has been a screen star for 10 years, and she still knows nothing of the stage.

Greta Garbo danced, too, and Marlene Dietrich sang in music halls, but their dramatic experience has been exclusively in celluloid.

Myrna Loy appeared in some stage prologs at Grauman's Chinese Theater, if you call that experience. Nobody heard of Queenie Thompson until she got into the movies and became Merle Oberon.

Carole Lombard had no stage experience, wants none, needs none. Bing Crosby never did a stage play.

Harold Lloyd and Charlie Chaplin were stock company troupers. William Powell stayed behind the footlights 10 years, but never was in danger of becoming a Broadway star.

Miss Hepburn had only three bit roles to her credit before she landed the lead in "The Warrior's Husband" and was persuaded to come to Hollywood. Even then you'd scarcely have called her a seasoned stage actress, as the critics pointed out when she returned to star in that ill-fated production of "The Lake."

Flouts World Law

The immediate practical effect of the law is to bust contracts between American citizens and the duly constituted Spanish government, with which this country theoretically has friendly relations.

That reverses precepts of international law, yet it unquestionably will be satisfactory to the overwhelming mass of American citizens who want no part of the Spanish mess.

But the question why the law wasn't written to apply to Germany, Russia, Italy, France, Portugal—nations in the Spanish war up to the neck—and other countries which may or may not be pouring arms into Spain presumably is best known to manufacturers of munitions, who are doing a thriving export business.

Sales of planes and parts to Germany for the first six months of 1934, the last reported period, were $1,445,000—and then on the increase.

Hardly any of the members who voted for the bill knew where it came from, so they might as well be told. The measure was concocted in the State department, where the dominating clique is largely pro-Fascist.

Picks On Spain Only

Instead of making the existing neutrality act applicable to all civil wars, the new law merely picks on Spain. The president remains free to permit shipments to any other nation where there may be a civil war, regardless of whether those who benefit most therefrom are government forces or rebels, Fascists or Communists, Norwegians or Senegambians.

Also, American interests may still export oil, copper and similar materials of war to Spain or anywhere else. These materials can be just as useful to a belligerent nation engaged in murdering persons as actual ammunition, sometimes more so.

And the traffic would be just as likely to get us into war. The State department opposed embargo on oil to Italy during the Ethiopian war on the ground that this would have been an unfriendly act toward Italy—Ethiopia being inaccessible to our oil.

Too Much Steam Roller

The leading advocates in Congress of real neutrality—Senators Bennett Clark of Missouri, Gerald Nye of North Dakota, and Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, and Representative Maury Maverick of Texas and several of the Progressives and Farmer-Laborites from Wisconsin and Minnesota, respectively—joined in urging general legislation which would apply to all nations and thus cover all those now unofficially at war in Spain.

But the steam roller ran right over them and even the insurgents didn't care or dare to vote against it.

The same group will be watching for the White House-State department permanent neutrality proposal—like so many hawks. But the obvious likelihood is that whatever is proposed will go through.

The State department crowd has never indicated a desire for "neutrality" legislation which would do much more than allow it a chance to play favorites in the international chess game.

Break-Neck 'Neutrality Bill' Just A Lot Of Melarky, Is Dutcher's View; The Inside On Peace Plans In Congress

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—In ordinary times it would be almost impossible to pass a bill providing that all members of Congress be painted with red and green stripes and paraded down Pennsylvania Avenue in that costume. But these are not ordinary times.

All you need do to insure victory for such a proposal is tag it "neutrality legislation."

Never was there such a popular issue in the Capitol. It was so popular that the Senate voted 80 to 0 and the House voted 406 to 1 to embargo arms, ammunition, and implements of war to Spain, though members had no printed or mimeographed copies of the bill before them, no committee had considered the measure, and many members voted aye while holding their noses.

The administration's steamroller tactics, Roosevelt's eagerness to make a witch-hunting grandstand play to American peace-lovers over export of an admitted pile of aerial junk by one Mr. Cuse, the alacrity with which Congress jumped through the hoop at the magic word and the actual source of this piece of legislation—all these factors combine to make it seem increasingly likely that the permanent neutrality legislation promised for this session will be by no means the McCoy, insofar as it pretends to guarantee keeping us out of war.

DISLIKED PICTURE

Dear Plainsman: It's a cinch we have to read newspapers to get the news but I think it is ridiculous at some of the pictures that are being shown in them during this modern time.

For instance, the front page picture that you ran on the date January 11th. Who cares for pictures of that kind? I don't and I'm sure I can vouch for thousands of people who think the same way.

Also, I see so many pictures of dead people being shown. Why not give us cheerful news instead of sad news? Thanks.

Very truly,
V. V. Smith,
Hobbs, N. M.

(Dear Mr. Smith: Thanks for your letter. I am sure you are talking about the picture of the woman kissing, in last farewell, the husband she killed on a New Year's eve party. Charles Caldwell Watson, jr., The Journal's news editor, picked out the picture for Page 1 run, basing his choice on its being unusual. He showed it to me before running it and I am at fault if it offended. I considered the picture grotesque but not offensive, but in fairness to you I will admit that I have had several criticisms on it in addition to yours. There are two schools of thought among newspapermen in regard to pictures of that type and I have many times heard the question argued by editors. One school feels that any picture which makes readers look, read and think is a good picture, the theory being that an editor's job is to make his paper read, not to shed sweetness and light. The other school does not consider such pictures in good taste. I must admit that I have leaned toward the school which seeks to interest readers rather than to make them happy. For that reason I appreciate your letter and its frank criticism. We make better newspapers when we learn from our readers what they prefer. Very truly yours, The Editor.)

According to oculists, six or seven persons in every ten need corrective eye treatment, but only about two in ten obtain it.

ROAD PROJECT IS PLANNED

EARLY COMPLETION OF PAN-AMERICAN ROAD TO BE SOUGHT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14. (AP) — Motorists of the United States may be able within a few years to drive their automobiles to South America.

Officials of the United States, Mexico and Central American countries gathered today at the convention of the American Road Builders' association and voiced optimism for early completion of the Pan-American highway linking the two continents of the western hemisphere.

Question Of Finances

Edwin W. James, chief of the division of highway transport of the United States bureau of public roads, in charge of Latin-American work for this country, said the "entire question is one of finances."

Vicente Cortes Herrera, undersecretary of communications of Mexico, said a hard-surfaced road has been completed and has been in use for some time from Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City and a short distance beyond.

The remaining stretch to the border of Guatemala will be completed within the next four years, he said.

WRESTLING

maine for a count of two more than a dozen times, finally fixed his "bear hug," whirled Andy around and flattened him out.

Tremaine won the second fall in 8 minutes with a series of drop kicks to the Stratton chin. The first came as a surprise, and stunned Walter rather sadly. He couldn't get out of the way of two others, and was pinned in a crab.

George Bennett pained his followers for 15 minutes, then tore loose against Sailor Moran in their repeat performance to whale thunder out of the tough sailor. But Moran recovered and paid it back with interest. Clements offered Bennett the fall on a foul, but George refused, just as the final gong sounded. It was a draw, with plenty of action.

Olaf Hanson, short, stocky, strong youngster from St. Paul, took charge of things at the start, pleased the crowd with the manner in which he handled Joe Bauer, finally pinning the big, comic German with a series of "somersault" slams, winding up with a double arm stretch, in 13 minutes.

Guilty Pleas Are Made By Brothers

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 14. (AP) —L. B. and Jack Holtkamp, brothers, pleaded guilty today to federal mail fraud charges accusing them of operating an eye-specialist racket among the aged and infirm persons in rural districts of Boone and Newton counties.

Judge John E. Martineau deferred sentence until Friday.

The Holtkamps and a man described as J. C. Murphy were arrested in Fayetteville last June, after which Murphy was returned to Waco, Texas, to face similar charges in that state.

The government charged the Holtkamps visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pancher, near Capps, 10 miles west of Harrison, May 18, 1936, and represented themselves to be physicians and eye specialists.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Bert Acosta and Gordon Berry, ace American aviators who fought for the Spanish government forces in the civil war, today were served with subpoenas to appear before the federal grand jury when they returned aboard the French liner Paris.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14. (AP)—An excellent consumption report from the census bureau failed to lift the cotton market out of its narrow trading rut today and prices made but nominal advances in early dealings.

March opened 2 points higher at 12.41 but May at 12.33, July at 12.26 and Oct. at 11.87 were net unchanged.

Bearing out the very bullish preliminary estimates the census bureau estimated that 692,921 bales of lint and 61,936 bales of linters were consumed in December. This compared with 626,695 bales in November and 499,773 bales in December, 1935.

The trade bought a few contracts at the first; sell while hedge selling supplied most of the offerings. There was no speculation of public interest to speak of.

The market did not move more than 5 points in either direction during the morning and the volume of business fell off almost to the vanishing point.

The decidedly bullish report showing that consumption thus far this season was 700,000 bales ahead of last season failed to induce any important activity.

March sold at 12.24 at noon, May at 12.33, July at 12.26 and Oct at 11.90. The market dropped back into the exceedingly dull rut which characterized dealings last summer with the administration's forthcoming sale of loan cotton a depressing factor.

Foreign markets also were in the doldrums.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 lower to 3 up with higher Liverpool cables and large consumption figures partly offset by liquidation. Jan. 12.37B; March 12.44; May 12.35; July 12.31; Oct. 11.90; Dec. 11.91.

A domestic December consumption of 692,921 bales exceeded expectations and attracted widespread favorable trade comment. The figure compared with 626,695 bales consumed in November and 499,773 bales for December, 1935. It was the largest monthly total since June 1933, when 697,261 bales were consumed.

Trade buying developed earlier but liquidation appeared as March approached within a few points of 12.50.

March recovered from 12.44 to 12.48 and was selling at 12.47 late in the first hour with prices generally 1 to 4 points higher.

A report by the crop reporting board estimated cotton bale weights this year at an average of 509.9 pounds was calculated here as pointing to a cotton crop of 12,166,000 running bales based on the December forecast for a crop of 12,407,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Liverpool reported trade and Bombay buying meeting profit taking at the advance.

The market was quieter late in the morning with narrow price changes. March liquidation, partly against purchases of later months, accounted for a slight narrowing of near month premiums. At midday March was net unchanged at 12.46, while other positions were 1 to 5 points net higher.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — Automotive shares flooded the ticker tape with rallies of 1 to 3 points in today's stock market as prospects improved for settlement of the General Motors strike.

Offerings were plentiful in many other departments of the list, however, and near the fourth hour trends were rather uneven.

With a conference under way between General Motors officials and union representatives to seek means of effecting a peaceful conclusion of the present labor impasse, Wall street sentiment appeared to be substantially improved.

The activity was pronounced at times although there were a number of lulls in the proceedings when trade stopped to catch their breath.

There was a heavy turnover of low-priced utilities but most of these failed to duplicate their Wednesday's forward shove. Selected steels followed the motors. Sugars were in supply. Some of the merchandise issues lost ground. Specialties were still favored.

Bonds and commodities shifted in varying directions.

Conspicuous shares on the recovery were Chrysler, General Motors, Hudson, Studebaker, Packard, Reo, Mullins Mfg. Kelsey-Hayes, Stewart-Warner, Murray Corp., Electric Auto-Lite, Hayes Body, U. S. Steel, General Electric, Du Pont, Crown Cork, Newport Industries, Container Corp, Omnibus Corp., Celotex and Loews.

The majority of the rails were unchanged to a shade advanced. Prominent on the downside were Fajardo Sugar, Great Western Sugar, Holly Sugar, American Sugar Refining, South Porto Rico, American Telephone, North American, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Woolworth, Macy, Sears Roebuck and Douglas Aircraft.

He was carried to safety by Mrs. Nina Williams, a neighbor, who discovered the flames when she let her pet cat outdoors for an early morning airing.

The father, operator of a small restaurant and taxi business, had gone to work when the fire started.

Firemen said they discovered Mrs. Petrillia delirious, outside her home, unable to explain how she escaped.

ident and general manager of West Texas Gas company, wrote the commissioners:

"We respectfully call to the commission's attention that in December, 1935, we complied with the order of the railroad commission of Texas reducing the minimum bill, which included the first 2,000 cubic feet from $1.50 to $1.35, and reducing the next 2,000 cubic feet from 67 1-2 cents to 55 cents, and the next 46,000 cubic feet from 67 1-2 cents to 50 cents which resulted in a large saving to domestic and commercial users of gas. The new rate offered will be the second reduction of gas rates within a year and will mean an additional saving to our customers."

The proposed rate was listed as follows:

First 2,000 cubic feet per month, 62 1-2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

All over 500,000 cubic feet per month, 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Next 2,000 cubic feet per month, 55 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

AMERICAN ACTRESS PICKS THE BEST IN CULTURAL SPHERES OF PAST YEAR

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Jane Cowl, eminent American actress, partaking of the diverting New Year custom of picking "top" in various fields during the last twelvemonth, named some superlatives herself today.

The star of the comedy, "First Lady," picked what she believed were "best stories," or highlights of the last year in cultural spheres. Her selections included:

The theater—John Gielgud's "Hamlet," Burgess Meredith's performance in "Winterset" and Mme. Alla Nazimova's revived interpretation of Ibsen's "Ghosts."

Books—"The Last Puritan" by George Santayana, "Man The Unknown" by Alexis Carrel, and "The Diary of Nijinsky."

Opera—Rosa Ponselle's "Carmen," the voice of Kirsten Flagstad, the administration of Edward Johnson as head of the Metropolitan opera of New York.

Motion pictures—Acquisition "of a certain suavity they never had before."

To consolidate and increase their recent gains "they must make very swift tracks to improve because the public is becoming more discriminating. Even the lowbrows are getting wise to the formula movies. Maybe they don't know why they don't like the banal things, but the dislike is unmistakable."

The "John Doe" warrant sworn to by U. S. District Attorney J. Charles Dennis, charged the unnamed man with kidnaping under the "Lindbergh" law, using the mails for extortion and conspiracy to kidnap and extort. People Blamed For Crimes In Country

TEXAN SAYS CITIZENS FAIL IN DUTY TO HALT OUTRAGES

DALLAS, Jan. 14. (AP) — Crimes like the Mattson kidnaping will continue to be committed in the United States so long as its citizens remain unwilling to pay the price for crime prevention, Albert Sidney Johnson, chairman of the Texas public safety commission, said today.

"Such crimes do not happen near so often in other countries," he said. "They happen here because we are not a law abiding people.

"When we are chosen on juries we lose all reason and common sense and give ridiculously light penalties or acquit defendants who should receive severe punishment. We will not go to the inconvenience of testifying in cases where we would be valuable witnesses. We let politics control our selection of law enforcement officers and we are not willing to pay sufficient salaries for enough officers really to give us police protection."

Check Of Schools In District Opens

G. D. Holbrook, state deputy schools superintendent, this week began an annual check of schools in the 16 counties of district No. 2 for state aid purposes, and in February he will check the schools for accrediting purposes.

The check is made so that salary aid for teachers may be determined or the current school term prolonged. All schools in this district will have at least an eight-months' term, Holbrook said.

Several schools are applying for additional credits.

The surveys are required by the state department of education.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Too Much Haste

CLEVELAND—Patrolman Robert Adams arrested John Whitlow, jr., 21, charging him with driving 52 miles an hour.

Whitlow's companion, Ralph Brumby, 19, offered to take the car and obtain a bail bond.

Patrolman Frank Gabriel arrested Brumby a few minutes later for passing a red light in his haste—and took Brumby to jail, too.

Fines Her Boss

GOSHEN, Ind.—Many employes would have liked the chance Mrs. Helen Farbaugh had to get even with her boss.

After finding his automobile tagged for overtime parking, Justice of the Peace Charles P. Fribley appointed Mrs. Farbaugh, his secretary, as a special court to hear his case.

She fined him $3.50, the customary amount.

Environment

MORAGA, Calif.—James Butler, from the tropical island of Guam, and Pete Barrows of Juneau, Alaska, both St. Mary's college students trudged 13 miles through the snow when they missed the last bus from Oakland.

Arriving at school, the youth from the tropics attended classes in shirt sleeves. The boy from the frozen north was sent to bed with a cold.

Prophet

BERKELEY, Calif.—United States Weather Prophet Thomas B. Reed predicted snow. His children were skeptical.

So he took them for a ride in the Berkeley hills to prove his forecast was correct. It was. So correct, in fact, that his car stalled on a slushy road.

An irate highway patrolman, coming to the rescue, told Reed in no uncertain terms what he thought of people who don't read weather forecasts.

Happy Landing

ROCKFORD, Ill.—Elmer Hodapp was certain he had a lucky star. His truck plunged 100 feet to the bottom of the city quarry when a ledge on which it was parked gave way. Elmer was in it. The machine landed right side up after turning over twice. Its owner emerged with only a slight bruise on the forehead.

Boy Confesses He Planned Extortion

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—A tearful, penitent school boy explained to Police Captain Harry O'Connell today that he sent a $30,000 extortion note because he didn't like a neighbor girl, 10-year-old Shirley Pedott.

Capt. O'Connell questioned the boy, Marion Ruminski, 12, and his brother, Stephen, 14, after schoolmates told Shirley's mother, Mrs. Meyer B. Pedott, that Marion admitted the hoax.

The gripping organs of the cat's claw creeper grow in all directions, and sway to and fro in an ever-widening arc, until they come in contact with nearby tree trunks. The claws enter the bark, develop roots and then send out new, clawed creepers.

"Gly-Cas, Greatest System Purifier"

Declares Mr. Jacobs: Had Suffered With Stomach Disorders For Years Unable To Find Relief; Gly-Cas Amazes; Nauseating Spells, Dizziness, Nervousness Ended Too

"Sufferers of today need not experiment any longer since Gly-Cas can be had so easily," said Mr. L. E. Jacobs, R. R. No. 4, Waco, Texas. "For years I had been miserable with stomach trouble and nervousness. I could hardly eat anything without severe suffering. All foods I ate soured on my stomach, bloated and had such dizzy spells I could hardly walk. Then too I became nauseated, my appetite left me entirely, had no desire for foods and lost weight continually. I became terribly discouraged, lost my faith in medicines in general as everything repeatedly failed to help me—but once Gly-Cas was given an opportunity to prove its merit my health troubles were over.

MR. L. E. JACOBS

"I have never seen a medicine do its work as well before," he continued. "My stomach and bowels began functioning normally and I now eat the foods I wish, enjoy a full night's restful sleep, have new strength and energy and feel fine. Even my nerves are quieted, dizzy and nauseating spells gone, appetite restored and I cannot say half enough in praising this most remarkable of all medicines—Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.
