CAR-TRAIN WRECK INJURES MAN

Verne Hines, 54, of 603 Twenty-ninth Street, was injured at 4:30 yesterday afternoon when the car he was driving was struck by a Santa Fe freight train about four and one-half miles north of here. Hines was traveling south in a Hallibruton Oil Well Cemeting Co. car on a county road which turns off the Post highway just north of the underpass. The freight train was traveling southeast down the tracks. The car was knocked about 85 feet by the impact, Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman who investigated, said. Hines received a broken nose and bruises and lacerations.—(Lee Watson photograph.)

Showers Predicted Tonight In This Area; Not Drouthbreaker

By The Associated Press

Drouth-weary farmers and ranchers and crop-conscious Texas business men had three developments Wednesday on which to base a bit of optimism.

1. The entire state was designated a drouth disaster area by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

2. Mexico agreed to release water from its big Marte Gomez reservoir to relieve drouth-stricken growers in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

3. Occasional showers and drizzle — the only relief from the drouth in several months — were expected to recur Wednesday night and Thursday.

Five hundred cubic feet of water per second was expected to reach lower Rio Grande Valley points today. The emergency release was announced Tuesday by the International Boundary Commission. At Brownsville, experts said the additional water, added to the slight flow of the Rio Grande, would take care of municipal needs and help the irrigation problem.

LOANS FOR FARMERS

They added it was not enough to cure all ills.

Members of the Lower Rio Grande Authority Tuesday talked over revision of the irrigation proration schedules. Upper valley points were said to be taking water at the rate of 1.5 second feet per 1,000 irrigated acres.

Under the disaster designation by the Agriculture Department, farmers who suffer crop losses and who are unable to obtain credit elsewhere may qualify for loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

Before Tuesday's USDA action, 97 of the 254 Texas counties already had been declared disaster areas.

Texas weather was expected to warm up Wednesday under increasing cloudiness. Occasional rain was expected Thursday in East Texas and in the North Central portion and in the Panhandle, South Plains and Pecos River Valley Wednesday night.

Temperatures Thursday, forecasters said, would remain mild.

No rain fell Tuesday and the U. S. Weather Bureau doubted that droplands and ranges would benefit much from the light rains expected Wednesday night and Thursday. "Not enough," was the laconic comment.

RAINS NOT ENOUGH

Last week end's rains, farmers said, wetted only the topsoil. Very little sub-surface moisture remained across most of the state.

Kent Wildcat In Salt Creek-Canyon Field

Four and three - quarter miles west of production in the Salt Creek - Canyon field, Paul C. Teas of Dallas has staked location for a 7,500 - foot Pennsylvanian wildcat.

It will be the No. 1 George Beggs, III, and is located 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 53-7-H&TC, about 12 miles west of Clairemont in Northwest Kent County.

The drillsite is on a 320-acre lease which Teas apparently has secured in a farmout from Seaboard Oil Co. of Delaware, which originally had leases on the Beggs ranch. Drilling is to be started by March 14.

AMENDS APPLICATION

American Trading and Production Corp. has filed an amended application to change the name and location of its No. 1 Elmer Howell, Ellenburger project near the Hermleigh - Ellenburger field.

It is now to be the No. 1-A Howell, located 760 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 62-3-H&TC, about 100 feet south of the original location. Operations are to start by March 15.

Humble Oil No. 1 James Davidson, three miles southwest of production in the same field, is drilling below 3,294 feet in lime.

McAlester Fuel No. 1 T. P. Allen, Southwest Scurry wildcat, is drilling in shale below 6,270 feet. It is also projected to test the Ellenburger, with contract depth 8,600 feet.

BORDEN WELL

In extreme Northeast Borden County, Superior No. 6-597 C. D. Jones is shutin for pressure buildups and is then to be opened for more testing. After fracturng open hole between 7,961 - 7,979 feet, the well was opened and kicked off and flowed about 46 barrels of oil in two hours. The flow then died, and operator swabbed four hours. Recovery was 79.85 barrels of oil. It is not known how much of the oil was new oil and how much was load oil used in fracturing.

KENT COUNTY

Stanolind Oil Co. 1 J. J. Emery Kent wildcat about 12 miles northeast of Clairemont, is drilling below 7,705 feet in lime after a drillstem test from 7,600 - 7,635 feet. With test tool open one hour, recovery was 80 feet of slightly gascut drilling mud with a rainbow show of oil. The mud had a salty taste. There were no signs of salt water or oil.

This project was slated to 8,000 feet or commercial production at a lesser depth.

DRILLING REPORT

Shell Oil No. 1 McGettes, Northeast Howard wildcat, is at total depth of 8,075 feet in lime and preparing to drillstem test. An earlier attempt to test the zone failed because of a leak in the drillpipe.

Seaboard Oil Co. No. 1 Turner May, offset to the recently opened Rowan & Hope field in Nolan County, is drilling below 3,640 feet in shale.

Crown Central No. 1 Joe B. York and others, Borden wildcat about four miles southeast of the Myrtle-Pennsylvanian field, is drilling below 6,400 feet in shale.

Still Search Train Wreck

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Rescue workers dug today in the splintered debris of a freak train wreck, fearing the toll of 102 dead will rise higher in Brazil's worst railroad disaster.

About 200 were injured.

The wreck occurred yesterday on a bridge arching the flooded Pavuna River as two trains approached each other on the double track at a combined speed of 100 miles an hour.

Three wooden coaches of one passenger train jumped the rails and swung across the path of a speeding steel-bodied commuters' train. The electric locomotive of the commuter train smashed the coaches into kindling.

Political Campaign In Korea; Rhee Is Not Likely To Return

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—A hot political fight is raging in this embattled Korean republic despite the pressure of a mighty Communist army massed near its Northern frontier.

With a presidential election only three months away, antagonism between President Syngman Rhee and the one-house National Assembly has flared into a running battle.

Political observers here agree almost unanimously that Rhee has little chance for re-election—even if he seeks another four-year term.

The President, although convinced the Korean people will insist that he run, told The Associated Press he had made up his mind "long ago" not to seek another term.

But political intimates of the 76-year-old "Father of the Korean Republic" say Rhee could be induced to run if he thought he would be elected easily.

Under the Korean Constitution, the President is elected by the National Assembly.

In January, Rhee sponsored a proposed amendment for direct election of the President and for a two-house National Assembly.

Rhee argued these would be "more in accordance with democratic principles." Critics said he introduced the measure as a move toward his re-election.

After only two days of debate, the Assembly turned down the amendment by a whopping 143-19 vote. The President suggested that the voters should recall the lawmakers. A "recall movement" sprang up.

Two weeks ago, several hundred people gathered at the National Assembly carrying placards and shouting for recall. Petitions were drawn up.

The assemblymen pointed out that there is no constitutional provision for recall. They also claimed that the "recall move had been carefully planned by Rhee supporters.

Meanwhile, Rhee said he might reintroduce his proposed amendment after the present legislative session ends March 20.

Chamber Board Outlines Plan For 1952, Appoints Chairmen

A 21 - point program for the 1952 fiscal year of the Chamber of Commerce was approved last night by the Chamber's board of directors.

The program, which was prepared by the organization's policies and projects committee, was based on questionnaires submitted by members.

Leon Huff, Jr., Chamber manager, said that out of the 178 questionnaires answered, practically all listed the need for recreational facilities in the city and county as the biggest need.

Other important phases of the program included encouragement of a campaign to beautify the city and county; work with city and county officials and the airport board in providing air transportation at Winston Field, develop acceptance of the city and county as a petroleum center, cooperate with city officials in establishing a city manager form of government, establish an active industrial program in an effort to secure new industries here, continue work and study on needs of a water supply for future expansion and health, concentrate on needs for additional housing facilities, work toward facilities for conventions and large delegations and work toward a city auditorium, and to work with the city and county for better traffic and safety conditions.

The board, which had as guests the county airport board members and County Judge Edgar Taylor, appointed James Rosser, attorney and former Chamber president, as spokesman for the delegation which will present Snyder's case this spring in a hearing before the Civil Aeronautics Board for air service. Huff said that J. J. Dyer, aviation committee chairman, will appoint committee members next week and that the committee and airport board will meet with Civil Aeronautics Administration and Pioneer Airlines officials before the CAB hearing is held.

Dyer and 14 other committee chairmen were appointed for 1952 during last night's meeting.

JUDGES DIFFER

Crime Checks In County Are Slowed By Status Of Juries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. McGrath's national racketeering survey has run into some difficulties as a result of questions raised by U. S. judges on how far federal grand juries can legally go.

Specifically, it is reported that some judges have doubts that a jury convened under U. S. authority can inquire into strictly local offenses.

Others are concerned about possible "runaway juries" which may go far afield in any blanket inquiry such as that proposed into general crime conditions.

Some judges want to know just what and how much of traditionally secret grand jury proceedings may be made public in the form of "presentments," or general statements of conditions.

Presentments are sometimes made by juries by way of a public report on indicated criminal activity on which there is insufficient evidence for indictments. Legal authorities say there is no provision in the law for the "presentment," but that the courts under which the juries function usually permit them to be filed, provided they do not name the persons the jury suspects but is unable to indict.

McGrath launched the nationwide inquiry into organized crime and racketeering activities early in January as a follow-up to the work of the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee.

He called for jury sessions in each of the 93 federal judicial districts.

The objectives, he announced, were to examine law enforcement officials and known underworld characters, to return indictments where warranted, and to provide the Justice Department with data on local crime conditions in order to give "a comprehensive picture of the overall situation in the United States."

McGrath, who said the survey should be an annual affair, asked the district attorneys to get juries organized as early in 1952 as possible.

A check today showed that juries have been convened or called in only about half of the 93 districts. Transcripts of proceedings have been received here from only three.

Panel To Hear Women In Ship Profit Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Olga Konow, whose sleek and perfumed appearance normally would never associate her with the salty U. S. Merchant Marine, goes before Senate investigators today to tell of her role in surplus tanker deals.

The Senate investigations subcommittee called Mrs. Konow as a witness in its quest for evidence of possible influence peddling and tax evasion on huge profits reaped by buyers of war-surplus vessels.

Former Congressman Joseph E. Casey has sworn it was Mrs. Konow who provided a tip that led him and a group of associates to the law offices of corruption sleuth Newbold Morris in 1947. This in turn, he said, led to a $450,000 profit on $1,000 cash invested in a firm which bought three oil tankers.

The subcommittee placed at $1,267,200 the fees and profits collected by or still due to Casey and two companions for lining up a series of ship deals.

The group named the two others as Robert W. Dudley, a Washington lawyer, and Joseph W. Rosenbaum, whose share was received in the name of his Washington law firm. Dudley and Rosenbaum are awaiting trial on perjury charges growing out of a grand jury investigation of alleged influence peddling in government loans.

Dudley, who testified at a hearing yesterday, confirmed the figures.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a member of the subcommittee, told Dudley such fees to lawyers dealing with "harried little bureaucrats" in the old U. S. Maritime Commission seemed to present "an unwholesome situation". Mundt said he wanted more light on what influence was brought to bear on them.

Mother Sues Son In District Court Here To Recover Property

A mother vs. son suit was called to trial in civil district court this morning. Selection of a jury began at 10 o'clock in the case of Mrs. Sallye I. Stephenson vs. Frank Stephenson.

Mrs. Stephenson, a widow, is suing her son for recovery of property in Northwest Snyder which she alleges in her petition was deeded to him by her with the understanding he was to deed it back to her. She claims she deeded the property, her homestead, to him in March, 1949, so that he could borrow money to enter business.

The defendant is the owner of the Frank D. Stephenson Radiator Service, 1105 Avenue T. He is represented by George Killam of Snyder and Carl Anderson, Sweetwater attorney. His mother is represented by Keith L. Merrick, county attorney.

New Mexico Is Trying To Keep Explosion Site

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — New Mexico officials hope to preserve as a state or national monument the place where the atomic age exploded from a dream to reality.

Opposition is mounting to Atomic Energy Commission plans to fill in the great saucer of jade and turquois-colored glass left by the first A-bomb explosion July 16, 1945. The site is located at Trinity, N. M., about 120 miles south of Albuquerque.

Gov. Edwin Mechem already has wired the AEC asking reconsideration.

Mayor Walter S. Mullins of Alamogordo, nearest major community to the desert site, said some form of protest is planned.

"We only heard about the proposal yesterday and are not sure just what we will do about it," he said. "But we are definitely opposed to it.

"Every day people stop to ask about the test site and we think it should be preserved."

Gov. Mechem wired that "this site ranks historically as one of the century's most - talked - of places" and making it a state or national monument should be seriously considered.

The $23,690 contract for doing the work was awarded D. D. Skousen of Albuquerque. The AEC said its scientific interest in the site is satisfied.

Horace Henning, secretary of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association, estimated the property is worth only 25 cents as range land.

Americans Rushing Aid To Jap Victims Of Earthquake, Storm

TOKYO (AP)—American occupation forces and the Japanese government today rushed relief supplies to victims of an earthquake and tidal waves in snowswept Northern Japan.

Planes, trains and boats carried blankets, medicine and food to stricken areas of sparsely settled Eastern Hokkaido Island and the more populous sections of Northeastern Honshu Island.

Thousands of homeless suffered from bitter cold and driving snowstorms which followed Tuesday's earthquake.

The official U. S. Army estimate stood at 31 Japanese dead and 170 injured. Japanese police announced they have recovered 20 bodies. No Americans were injured.

Kyodo News Agency reported the quake left a fishing village submerged and pushed up a new 40-foot hill. Both were on Hokkaido, northernmost island of Japan.

A Kyodo reporter who flew over Kiritappu reported most of the 1,691 villagers were marooned atop their submerged homes. He said a rescue boat was on its way.

The news agency said the new hill appeared near the village of Nikkappu.

Japanese government agencies reported incomplete surveys showed the quake and 10-foot-high tidal waves caused this damage:

1. Railway tracks were twisted and snarled in places. One section of 500 yards of track was swallowed by the earth.

2. An uncounted number of fishing boats were sunk, 44 damaged and two piers smashed on Northeastern Honshu, main island of Japan.

3. Seven coal miners were killed —two in a mine cave-in and five when their homes collapsed. Coal mining operations in Hokkaido were disrupted by floods and broken power lines.

4. Tidal waves washed away 277 houses in Hamanaka village on Hokkaido, leaving 1,600 persons homeless. Reports from other villages placed the total number of destroyed homes at around 2,500.

Associated Press reporters flew over Kushiro, largest city on Hokkaido suffering from the quake, and reported few signs of damage. The harbor wall appeared to have been battered by the seas. The city appeared to be returning to normal.

Noboru Saito, national rural police chief, credited Japan's tidal wave alert system with holding down casualties.

Acheson Takes Responsibility

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said today he reversed the finding by a State Department board that career diplomat Oliver Edmund Clubb was a security risk.

Acheson told a news conference he took full personal responsibility for the action, which permitted Clubb to retire from the foreign service on a pension.

Clubb resigned the same day, Feb. 11, that the department announced he had been cleared.

Acheson stressed that Clubb was cleared of any reasonable doubt of his loyalty, even though the board had found him to be a security risk.

Clubb was director of Chinese affairs in the department. He said he retired from his $12,400 job because the loyalty-security investigation had "seriously damaged" his future career prospects.

Two Republican senators helped bring to light Acheson's action in reversing the department board.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) had asked Owen Lattimore, a Senate committee witness, last week whether he knew that Acheson had reversed the board. Lattimore said he did not know this. Later, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said Acheson had reversed the board, so Clubb could retire on a pension.

Air Force Asking For Rental Units In Snyder

Leon Huff, Jr., Chamber of Commerce manager, announced today that officials of Big Spring Air Force Base have asked for information on housing facilities in Snyder for their military personnel.

Huff said that Col. Henry S. Taylor, executive officer of the base, wrote him and asked that Snyder provide 50 to 75 houses and apartments for use of Big Spring military and dependents who would commute to the base from here. Tyler said a large increase in personnel is expected there soon.

The Chamber manager asked that owners of rental property who would rent to Air Force personnel call his office and give him information on size, conditions, and amount of rent.

Demand Data UN Has Been Holding

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Communists admitted today they hold unreported prisoners and tried to use them as a club in Korean truce negotiations.

The Reds said they would supply the names of these prisoners "in due time"—but only after the allies furnished data the Communists have been demanding.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby reported sharply that the United Nations Command would furnish additional prisoner data on an exchange basis or not at all.

The Red admission followed a demand by Libby that the Communists account for 174 additional prisoners. Most of these are Americans. Some are British.

This makes a total of 1,621 U.N. soldiers and 50,000 Republic of Korea (ROK) troops for which the U.N. has demanded an accounting. None of them was listed in the original list of 11,500 prisoners of war the Reds turned over Dec. 18.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho referred Wednesday to the 1,500 as "the main list of POWS who we hold in prison."

"As for the necessary supplementary data," he said, "they are now being put in order and we will hand it over to your side in due time. You must give us first the basic data which you have promised to give us."

He was referring to 44,000 Koreans originally listed by the Allies as prisoners but since reclassified as South Korean civilians or ROK troops. Their names were not on the original list of 132,000 the Allies handed the Reds.

Libby said the Allies were ready to exchange complete information on prisoners, including troops captured between the time the original lists were compiled and Feb. 28.

His demand for a report on 174 men was based on names taken from Red broadcasts, letters to families, Communist periodicals and "other sources," presumably secret agents.

The request for names of 50,000 ROKs, whom the Reds say "do not exist," was based on Communist radio boasts of the number of prisoners they had captured. The Allies insist the Reds impressed most of them into the North Korean Army.

Lee repeated today: "We released at the front the majority of prisoners of war whom we captured."

Adm. Libby said none of the day's exchanges makes "any difference in the principle of voluntary repatriation," key issue before the subcommittee. "They won't buy voluntary repatriation and we won't drop it."

Staff officers working on truce supervision met for only 14 minutes. Each side said it had nothing new to offer and there was no point in just talking. Their current stumbling block is Red insistence that Russia help supervise the truce and Allied refusal to consider the Soviet Union.

Both truce groups meet again at 11 a. m. Thursday (9 p. m. EST Wednesday).

Public Opinion To Decide Our Korean Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truman administration has decided against any move to carry the Korean War to China even if the truce talks collapse.

Officials said that is the present basic policy, but how it would be applied will undoubtedly depend on what the Communists do and what the American people think about it.

In the highest levels of the Defense and State Departments it is recognized, officials privately concede, that popular indignation could force the United States in some circumstances to take action which would either contradict or diverge from its present policy.

A clear indication of the administration's attitude came last night in a speech sent by Assistant Secretary of State John M. Allison to the Philadelphia Bulletin Forum at Philadelphia. It was delivered by his assistant, U. Alexis Johnson, who returned 10 days ago from talks with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and other top U.N. military men in Korea.

"It is our policy," Allison said, "to confine the conflict to Korea. We do not propose to widen the scope of the war. That has been our policy from the start. That remains our policy. It is up to the Communists. If they want to widen the conflict and engulf the world in a terrible world war, then they must be the ones to do it."

Truce talks at Panmunjom are deadlocked now over several issues. Allison and his closest associates as well as military leaders reportedly still believe the odds are at least even on the possibility of agreement on a truce.

They have been considering for many weeks, however, what the United States should do in event of a collapse of negotiations. It is known that consideration has been given to carrying the war directly against China. It is now apparent that the decision has been reached to avoid this if possible.

Hearing Continues On Use Of Martin County Underground Water

AUSTIN, March 5 (AP) — The West Texas court fight over control of Martin County's underground waters went into another round of testimony today.

Three witnesses were heard in 126th District Court yesterday on an application for a permanent injunction to prohibit Martin County from blocking use of her underground water to supply Odessa and Big Spring pending completion of a new Colorado River reservoir.

A temporary injunction was issued last Oct. 29 to the Colorado River municipal water district.

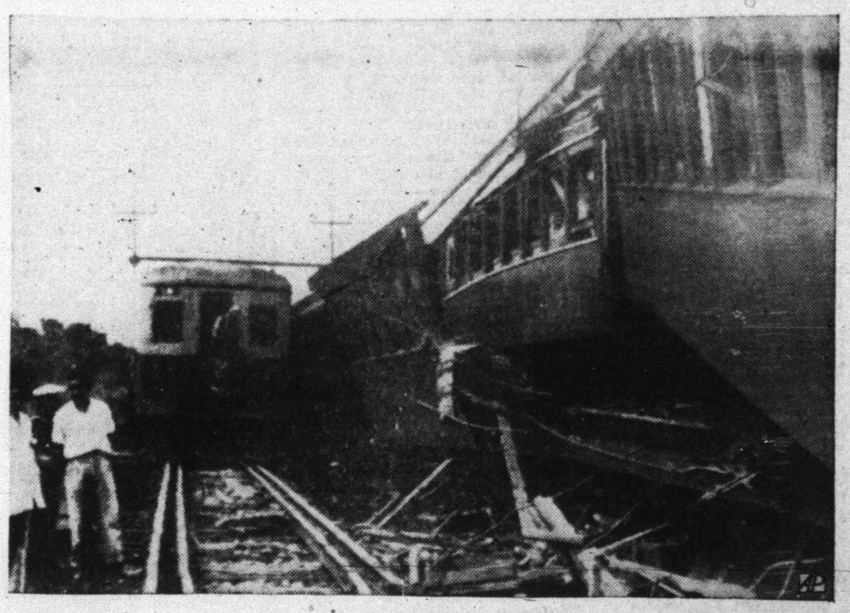

Two witnesses said Big Spring and Odessa face a critical water shortage with the Martin County water field the only feasible solution.

The collision occurred when two electric trains approached from opposite ends of the double-track bridge. Three wooden coaches of one train derailed and swung into the path of the other. # New Financial Corporation Is Granted Here

A new financial institution—the Milburn Mortgage Corporation — has been formed for operation in this section of the state with its principal office in Snyder.

The corporation, with $100,000 capital, is formed by Mark P. Thomas, W. W. Milburn, Donald Ray Scott, J. L. (Broadway) Browning, and Walter Hales and is to make commercial and residential loans.

Robert R. Patterson, attorney for the corporation, said yesterday the charter incorporating the firm was issued by the secretary of state's office in Austin Saturday.

Plans are to open branch offices in other cities in this section of West Texas, but the main office will be constructed in the 3200 block of Avenue S. # PumpOnWater Well Accepted

The city council voted to accept the low bid for a pump on a new water well in south Snyder at its regular meeting last night.

The bid was awarded to the M. B. McKee Co. of Lubbock for $4,567.40. The McKee Co. did not include all items called for in the bids submitted last week and caused all bids to be rejected at that time. Other bids submitted last night were from Clowe and Cowan of Lubbock and G. S. Taylor of Snyder.

The council also voted to accept the paving in Parkway addition. This action was described as unnecessary since the city accepted the paving when that part of town was annexed into the city. However, it accomodated the paving contractor, who said he could not be paid unless the paving was officially accepted. Councilman Jack Contella was the only member who opposed accepting the paving.

Law Officers Give Defense

JACKSON, Miss., March 5 (AP) — Five Mississippi law officers begin their defense today against charges that they handcuffed a Negro to a pine tree and flogged him to obtain a burglary confession.

They are being tried in U. S. District Court on charges of violating the civil rights of Cpl. Murry (Sunshine) Gray. Gray was flown here from Korea, where he was an 8th Army truck driver, to testify.

The alleged beating occurred in July, 1950, when Gray was a civilian living in Magnolia, a south Mississippi town of 2,000.

The defendants are former Sheriff Robert E. Lee; former Deputies Frank Smith and Andrew Jones; County Patrol Officer Nolen Wall, and Constable J. J. Montfourt.

A filling station from which Gray had been fired about a year earlier was burglarized in July, 1950, and Gray was arrested. The alleged beating occurred the next day. Lee said Gray confessed.

Concentration Of Bonds By Insurance Companies Noted

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP) — The growing dominance of the life insurance companies in financing business expansion worries some financial observers who believe it may give the insurance giants too much economic power.

Especially critical are those connected with the traditional security markets and the investment banking houses, who find their competitive position steadily weakened, and who don't like to lose business.

Insurance companies deny, however, that they control business operations simply because they hold corporation securities, and stress the financial aid they have provided for industrial expansion.

This dominant role of the insurance giants is discussed today from two angles — by the head of an investment house, and by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Both agree that insurance companies have the inside track now at the expense of their competitors. Neither discusses the general effect on the economy, however.

Harold L. Stuart, head of Halsey, Stuart & Co., says this dominance has grown out of two things: income taxes have made it no longer profitable for wealthy individuals to buy corporate bonds; and the great concentration of savings in savings banks, insurance policies and pension funds make it possible for these agencies to control the bond market on behalf of millions of small savers. Stuart was testifying at the government's suit against 17 investment banking firms for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York in its March review, out today, notes that insurance companies now hold 40 per cent of outstanding business debt securities, and recently have been absorbing 90 per cent of debenture bonds and notes being privately placed by corporations.

Pension funds may challenge this

But in recent years the insurance companies have gained steadily.

"Their ability to provide long-term funds in large amounts has gained for the larger life insurance companies a competitive advantage over other types of investors in securing investments directly from corporate issuers," the bank says.

Business has preferred dealing with the insurance companies for several reasons, the bank notes. "Corporate borrowers apparently have placed a high value upon the convenience of direct borrowing," the bank notes, even "when the interest rate was slightly higher than might have been obtained with a registered market offering" — that is, with notes underwritten by investment bankers, or with securities to be traded on the stock and bond exchanges.

The volume of these direct or private placements of securities—that is, securities sold directly to insurance companies — in recent years has ranged between 2 and 3½ billion dollars annually, or from one-third to more than two fifths of all new corporate security flotations.

SAW

By JOHN M. HENDRIX

The SAW brand was registered in 1885 by A. J. Sawyer and was selected because it was the first syllable of his name. The SAW was of most importance in the year of 1912 when 2,800 cattle ran in Howard and Terry Counties. It is still being run by M. B. Sawyer in Lee County, New Mexico.

The weather on earth is affected by "sunspots", which have been described as great storms on the surface of the sun.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

DICKIE DARE

Young Stanley Clark sits enveloped in an apron made by his mother, Mrs. Lindy Clark, and stenciled with his footprints. This is one of the half hundred articles Mrs. Clark has made for gifts. — (Sue Holmes photograph.)

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Just before Christmas we found numerous young Snyder women who were industriously sewing, painting on textiles, ceramics or what have you to produce handmade presents. But somehow in all the pre-holiday bustle, we missed one young matron — or maybe she was so busy with her paint brushes there was just no way for us to have found her.

She's Mrs. LINDY CLARK who turned out 23 pairs of hand-painted pillow cases for Christmas, plus gifts like her son, STANLEY, admires above. The particular apron is tan broadcloth with Stanley's footprints painted on in washable brown textile paints. It was a gift to Mrs. Clark's grandmother, who has since died.

Some of the pillow cases being made now are lavender with lifelike purple irises stenciled on. And there's a cheery pair of yellow ones with brown binding and a floral design resembling marigolds and sunflowers.

Not all the handiwork is given away, however, as the blue bedroom curtains are appliqued with a white fern leaf design matching the Clark's wallpaper, which incidentally, they hung themselves. And there are numerous trinket boxes of wood which have been carved into expensive-looking designs.

The one-hundredth of a second it took to snap the picture is the longest time Stanley stays still, which makes it a double marvel how much his mother is able to accomplish with a paint brush and sewing machine.

THE STARS

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here's one leading man who admits that bobbysoxers aren't his main following. What's more, he's glad of it.

The actor is Robert Ryan, Chicago-born former boxer and Marine. He is good-looking in a rugged sort of way, but he readily confessed that the teen-age fans don't blow their tops over him.

"They never have," he remarked. "One reason is that I have never played the kind of role that would make the kids mad for me. The sole exception was the picture in which I got my first big break—'Tender Comrade,' opposite Ginger Rogers. That was during the war, when the movies were making a play for the bobbysox audience.

"I probably would have gotten typed in that category, because the studio had four or five scripts lined up for me and they tended in that direction. But luckily I was saved by going into the Marines.

"It was actually a good break for my career. A lot of young guys who were playing leading men in those days and were the rage of the malt-shop set are forgotten today.

"The bobbysox audience is fickle. The kids drop their idols when someone new comes along. Also, they grow up and find other interests. An actor who bases his career on them alone finds himself in trouble when they lose interest in him."

Ryan's theory seems to have been evidenced in recent Hollywood history. Frank Sinatra evoked the most hysterical response from the bobbysoxers, and his later career has failed to maintain the momentum of the war years. Van Johnson was dropped like a hit spud when the youngsters were disenchanted with his marriage. His studio had to cast him in dramatic roles instead of relying on his romantic appeal.

Montgomery Clift was another who hit a let-down. His miscasting in "The Heiress" didn't help his career at all. Even Hopalong Cassidy has experienced the fickle nature of the juvenile audience.

"I can watch it happen with my own little boy, Tim," Ryan continued. "Every week he has a new favorite on television. Just the other day, he asked me, 'Have you ever been a space man?'" I had to admit that was one of the new lines of work that I haven't been in."

The actor added that the bulk of his fan mail comes from adults. "Most of the letters are from intelligent people," he said. "That's the kind of a response that makes the actor think he's doing a good job".

Ryan observed that he would like to pattern his career after that of the late Walter Huston.

"He was a great actor and he did the things he wanted to do," Ryan remarked. "I would like to gradually work into character acting.

Probably caused by exposure to sun or extremes in temperature, for instance you may have washed them in too hot water.

I realize that buying a house is expensive but what is the maximum amount one can borrow to finance a home? Mrs. C.

60 per cent is safe to borrow, the maximum I believe is now 80 per cent (unless you qualify for a Veterans Loan under the G. I. Bill of Rights). Monthly charges, however should not be more than one weeks pay or income. It is advisable to check other sources of information before planning.

Sould a short man wear contrasting coat and trousers? E.

It cuts one's height to wear contrasting coat and trousers. To make the most of ones height, wear one color outfits, at least not sharp contrast.

I want to make a tailors ham. Can you give me directions? Mrs. R.

Nena Roberson, Extension Clothing Specalist recommends that a tailors ham be 16 inches long and 12 inches across (at a point 6 inches from the wide end). It should be covered with wool flannel or similar fabric and stuffed with cotton, tiny wool scraps or a like material, so that the stuffing is smooth and free from lumps.

Party Honors Engaged Pair

Miss Marion Witt and Norris Smith were honored at the Hermleigh Faculty Club party Thursday evening.

Miss Witt received a corsage from the hostess, after which the guests played canasta and with wedding bell designs revealed the engagement of the honor guests.

The party table was centered with a mirror reflector on which was an arrangement of daisies in white satin bow. Flanking the pastel colors in front of a large floral arrangement were white candles in crystal candelabra. Daffodils were arranged in a shadow box.

Superintendent O. B. Paty presented a gift from the faculty. Guest prizes were also given to Miss Witt.

Hosts were Mrs. Vance Clift, Lawrence Boattenhammer and Miss Corinne Self. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paty, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Soules, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bob McMullen, Pat Taylor, Miss Bobbie Kerley, Boots Pfeifer, Miss Bessie Cleveland, Mrs. W. W. Gillum and Mrs. Sarey Gillum.

New Foreman At Telephone Company Here

Irvin Wiseman, six and one-half year veteran telephone worker took over this week at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. here as plant foreman.

Wiseman came here from Lubbock, where he had been construction foreman for two years. He was construction foreman for the firm in Abilene three years.

The new plant foreman began working for the company as a lineman in Fort Worth after serving three years in the Army during World War II. Before entering the Army, he played professional baseball at Alexandria, La., and Oakland, Calif.

Wiseman worked with the firm in Snyder two years ago when Snyder was growing so fast that Southwestern Bell was forced to bring in additional line crews to take care of orders for new telephones. He came here then as head of the crews and worked for eight months.

Planning to buy a home here, Wiseman, his wife, and his 10-year old daughter, Leslie Gail, now live in an apartment on Twenty-eighth Street.

Income Tax Doesn't Bother Wilbur, Tax Men Go Crazy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Horace Barnacle had been working like a maddened beaver all morning at a mass of papers on his office desk.

Suddenly he put his head down on his arms and wailed hysterically.

"Let 'em put me in all! I just can't go on!"

Wilbur Peeble, who sat at the next desk, asked him what the trouble was.

"It's my income tax," moaned Horace. "I just can't figure it out this year. Nobody can."

Wilbur gave him a smile of tolerant superiority.

"It doesn't bother me," he said. "I haven't paid my income tax for years and years."

Barnacle looked horrified.

"Why, that's unpatriotic and dishonest," he objected, "and, besides, they can throw you in prison if your income taxes aren't paid."

"Oh, they're paid all right," said Wilbur. "But I don't pay them."

"Who does—Santa Claus?"

"No, my wife, Trellis Mae."

"I don't get you," said Barnacle, mystified.

"Well, I used to go almost crazy—just like you—trying to prepare my own tax," explained Wilbur. "About 10 years ago I decided it was silly for a man to lose his mind that way. Who knows where the money in a family goes anyway? The husband or the wife? So I turned my income tax problems over to Trellis Mae."

"But legally you're responsible for the accuracy of your tax returns," Horace pointed out.

"Not any more," said Wilbur comfortably. "I went before a judge and had myself declared mentally incompetent to handle my own financial affairs, and had Trellis Mae given power of attorney.

Barnacle thought that over, then shook his head.

"It wouldn't work in my case," he said despondently. "My wife, Desdemona, is even more hopeless at arithmetic than I am. She can't even balance her bank book."

"Grow up, Horace," grinned Wilbur. "That's the beauty of it. No wife can—least of all my Trellis Mae. But no government expert can make sense out of her tax figures either."

"Why, the first time she paid my taxes she spent a whole week arguing with the Internal revenue men. It was all because they wouldn't let her list Murgatroyd as a dependent."

"Who's Murgatroyd?"

"He's our canary. Trellis Mae says that since Murgatroyd is under 18 and dependent on us they ought to allow us to deduct the price of his birdseed. She's been battling them 10 years in that one item alone. Last year the government fellows offered to chip in and buy Murgatroyd's birdseed themselves if she would drop the subject. But Trellis Mae refused as a matter of principle."

"Don't they ever challenge her returns later?" asked Horace.

"Sure, every year," said Wilbur cheerfully. "Once they sent a top specialist down from Washington. He spent four days trying to find out what was wrong with Trellis Mae's report — and gave up. My wife was so mad she immediately filed a revised return demanding a 15 per cent refund. The man couldn't find what was wrong with that one either. He had to pay up."

'DON'T GO CRAZY'

Horace whistled in admiration.

"It sounds wonderful," he said. "But I kind of hate the idea of having myself declared mentally incompetent.'

"Well, all I know," said Wilbur, "is that I feel fine today, but three men in our local Internal Revenue office have had to quit because of nervous breakdowns from dealing with Trellis Mae and Murgatroyd.

"You have to do something in self-defense. If every man let his income taxes drive him crazy, who'd be left to pay them?"

It is estimated that the average U. S. farmer produces more today in one hour of work than the farmer of 50 years ago produced in two.

South And Southeast Sparking All-American Basketball Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The South dominates the 1952 Associated Press All-America Collegiate Basketball Team announced today. Two players from the Southern Conference and one from the Southeastern were named along with one each from the Big Ten and the Big Seven.

Picked as the best all-around players of the season by a vote of 229 sports writers and broadcasters were Dick Groat, Duke; Clyde Lovellette, Kansas; Cliff Hagan, Kentucky; Chuck Darling, Iowa; and Mark Workman, West Virginia.

All have broken school and conference scoring records. In addition, they are wizards at grabbing rebounds and have shown a commendable team spirit in handing out assists. All are equally adept on defense.

Two more players from the Southeastern Conference — Frank Ramsey, Kentucky, and Bob Pettit, Louisiana State — were named on the second team with Bob Zawoluk, St. John's of Brooklyn; Don Meineke, Dayton, and Rod Fletcher, Illinois.

Spectacular shooting little Johnny O'Brien of Seattle (he scored more than 1,000 points this season); Larry Hennessey, Villanova; Bob Houbregs, Washington; Ray Steiner, St. Louis, and Dick Knostman, Kansas State, comprise the third team.

Jim Tucker, Duquesne; Bob Watson, Kentucky; Walter Dukes, Seton Hall; Billy Mulkvy, Temple and Ernie Beck, Pennsylvania, headed a list of 19 additional players who received honorable mention.

Lovellette, a 6-foot-9 rangy 240-pounder named on the first team for the second straight year, and Groat, the smallest at a mere 6 feet, were the two top vote getters. The Kansas star from Terre Haute, Ind., received the most first place votes, 143, but was edged by Groat in total points, 763 to 759.

Groat, a senior from Swissvale, Pa., got 139 first-team votes, but moved up with 34 second-team ballots to Lovellette's 22. Each first-team vote counted five points, a second-team vote, two.

"Dick the Great," as Groat is known on the Duke campus, received a tremendous ovation last Friday when he played his last Duke home game and turned in a 48-point performance against North Carolina.

Lovellette already holds every Big Seven scoring record, with one exception—the single game of 39 points which he shared with Knostman.

Hagan, the only junior on the team, took up the slack for Kentucky's NCA champs when 7-foot Bill Spivey, top vote-getter on the 1951 All-America, placed himself on the sidelines.

Darling, a 6-foot-8 senior from Dearborn, Mich., is Iowa's first All-America since Murray Weir in 1948. He was the main reason why Iowa was in the thick of the battle for the Big Ten title. He holds just about every Big Ten scoring record.

Because of an injury Workman's play suffered in West Virginia's last few games, but his earlier consistent topnotch performances demonstrated his ability beyond question. He holds all of West Virginia's scoring marks, including a single game high of 50 points.

Lopez Says Improved Fielding Will Win Indians '52 Pennant

By GAYLE TALBOT

TUCSON (AP)—Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians adjusted his sitting stance slightly on a bench in the Tribe clubhouse here and got down to telling why his athletes are going to win the coming American League race—maybe going away.

"I can't think of a reason in the world why we shouldn't win it, and I know plenty of reason why we should," said the smiling senor, who earlier had done a pretty good job of dismissing the current champs, the Yankees.

"We've got the pitching—maybe even better than last year—we've got the fielding and I feel certain in my own mind we're going to get a lot of hitting we didn't get last year from Luke Easter, Larry Doby and Al Rosen.

"Our hitters didn't get the runs they should have for our pitchers last year, that's true, but what many probably don't realize is that it was our fielding in the first half of the season that kept us from piling up a lead that would have clinched the pennant.

"At the halfway point we were seventh in fielding. We made 73 errors in our first 71 games. But at the end of the season we were tied with the Athletics for first place in fielding. The big improvement was mainly at shortstop and second-base.

"Ray Boone at short and Bobby Avila at second started the race a little unsure of themselves. Boone would make two or three errors in a game; and he didn't have a veteran beside him who could tell him to forget them. But about the middle of the race he and Bobby began to click, and they made a sweet pair from there on.

"I would say they're the biggest reason I feel so confident. I've got the double play combination to start with and our pitchers are going to feel the difference. We should get a great start.

"Easter had his knee operated on during the winter and it appears to be in perfect shape. He's taking things easy, on doctor's orders, but he isn't worried about the knee. You'll never know how that fellow suffered most of last year. There were many nights he couldn't sleep because of the pain.

"Doby's legs are in better condition, too. They kept tightening up on him last year and pulling the muscles in his groin. This winter we got Harrison Dillard, the Olympic sprinter who works in our office, to give Larry some exercises to keep his upper leg muscles limbered up, and it seems to have done him a lot of good. Larry runs awfully hard, with his legs spread out like an open field runner in football. You think he's going to change direction any instant.

"The biggest improvement of all is in Rosen. He looks like he did two years ago when he hit those 37 homeruns and led the league. Al is down there again with his eyes on the ball and he's slamming the ball straight away instead of lofting it the way he did last season.

"There's two reasons why our pitching might be even stronger. The truth is that Lou Brissie wasn't in very good shape when he came to us from the Athletics last year. But once he got in condition he was terrific. For one stretch of 31 innings he allowed only one run. He's ready to from the start this time.

"The other reason is this Sam Jones from San Diego. He's been pitching all winter and I'm letting him take it easy for the time being, but it looks like I'm going to have to find a place for him as a starter. It's the kind of problem I don't mind.

Baseball Will Guard Players

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said today that baseball will continue to exercise constant vigilance to prevent gamblers from approaching players, but he denied that a new "police" system has been instituted.

The statement followed a story from Los Angeles quoting Bill Summers, American League umpire, as telling the St. Louis Browns that such a system, designed to keep players from the fans before games to safeguard the athletes from gamblers, would be in effect this year.

"There really is nothing new about it," Frick said. "I have talked to American League President Will Harridge and National League President Warren Giles concerning precautionary measures, and I asked them to caution the players about talking to strangers, but that is all.

"Nothing has come up to arouse suspicion that any tampering has been attempted, but we just want to eliminate any possibility of that happening.

"Sometimes strangers will come and offer to buy players a meal or a drink. We just have to be careful about the players being picked up by men they know nothing about.

"But as far as a 'police' system is concerned, we plan no such measure. We will continue to exercise constant vigilance, that's all."

LaMotta Will Try Once More

DETROIT (AP) — Former Middleweight Champion Jake LaMotta says he is going to put up his boxing gloves for good if he is beaten badly in his bout with Laurence (Silent) Hairston here tonight.

"It should be a good fight with LaMotta rated a slight underdog. Hairston has ambitions of being the first man to knock LaMotta off his feet.

"I'll retire — definitely — if he beats me decisively," LaMotta said. But he quickly added he had no thought of losing.

There also was plenty of confidence in Hairston's corner. His manager, Mike Miele, said, "We're all right. We didn't take the LaMotta fight to lose it."

LaMotta, who now has cast his lot as a light heavyweight, declared he needed only a couple more fights "and I'll be ready for Maxim (Joe Maxim, light-heavyweight champion.)"

The 30-year-old LaMotta will seek to break the longest losing streak of his 12-year professional career. He dropped the only two starts he made last year and lost his initial engagement this year.

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Illinois clinched the Big Ten basketball title by defeating Michigan State, 49-43.

FIVE YEARS AGO — John W. Mauer, basketball coach at Tennessee, was appointed coach at Army.

TEN YEARS AGO—Lightweight Champion Sammy Angott outpointed Bob Montgomery in a 12-round non-title bout at New YORK.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

By The Associated Press

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers cut four players from their squad today.

Pitchers Phil Haugstad, Jack Banta, catcher Dick Teed and veteran outfielder Jim Russell will remain here when a 40-man team leaves Friday for Miami to begin the exhibition season.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees are impressed over the showing of pitcher Frank Shea.

Shea, a bust since his great rookie season of 1947, is throwing his natural slider again, they say.

"This is my last chance and I know it," Shea remarked.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau seems set on his 1952 infield after expressing joy with the way Vern Stephens has been looking both afield and at bat.

Boudreau said his starting infield may have Walt Dropo at first Johnny Pesky at second, Stephens at short and Fred Hatfield on third.

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Although right fielder Vic Wertz is still at work on his switch to first base, Manager Red Rolfe plans to start Ben Taylor at the post in the Detroit Tigers' opening exhibition game.

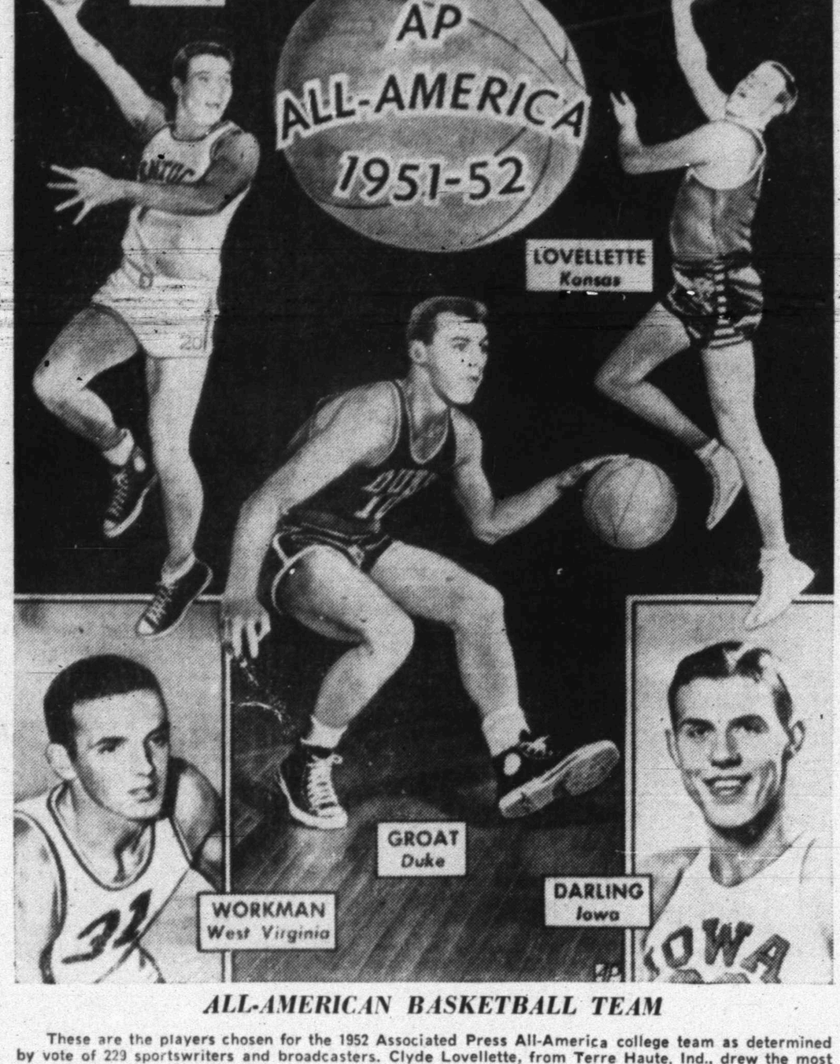

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Dick Wakefield, who says he will "do anything to stay with this ball club," is getting a tryout as a catcher with the Cleveland Indians.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Kenny Raffensberger, the Cincinnati Reds' sparse haired "old professor," had the batters chopping at empty air with that down-swooping curve of his in a training session yesterday.

Raffy took time out after the workout to express the hope that there isn't anything to the tradewinds making the rounds that he will be offered to the Brooklyn Dodgers in exchange for infielder Rocky Bridges.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Bill Meyer, Pittsburgh Pirate manager, got out the welcome mat today for outfielder George Metkovich.

Metkovich received permission to report late so he could finish some movie work—an off-season sideline.

ALL-AMERICAN BASKETBALL TEAM

These are the players chosen for the 1952 Associated Press All-America college team as determined by vote of 229 sportswriters and broadcasters. Clyde Lovellette, from Terre Haute, Ind., drew the most votes, Dick Groat, Swissvale, Pa., was a close second. Others, in order of choice are Cliff Hagan, Owensboro, Ky.; Chuck Darling, Dearborn, Mich.; and Mark Workman, Charleston, West Virginia.

C & S Downs Chuck Wagon In Close Game Here Last Night

Four of the top teams in the city basketball league will be playing tonight in the high school gym for the higher spots in league standing.

Scheduled for the first game at 7:30 o'clock is a meeting of the Chuck Wagon and D & H Food, now tied for second place with 4-1 records, while C & S Sporting Goods, still undefeated in five games, will defend its place against Wade Pipkin Motors.

The C & S squad, made up of high school exes, barely edged out a win over the Chuck Wagon last night, playing a close overtime battle to a 46 - 44 score. The Chuck Wagon five led off the scoring, moving out in a 9 point lead at one time. During the last half of the regulation game, C & S held the Chuck Wagon to a minimum of scoring and finally tied up the game in the final seconds. Bill Voss, Robert Minton, and George Richardson went to work during the three minute overtime to turn the decision to C&S.

In last night's final game, D&H Food, which has lost only to C&S, whipped Sunray.

Only four more league nights remain on the schedule before a tournament is held to determine league championship.

REMAINING SCHEDULE

Thursday — Pan American vs. Wade Pipkin Motors.

Chuck Wagon vs. Sunray.

Friday — Jaycees vs. National Guard.

Gator Bowl Playoff Brought Big Amount

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 5 (AP)— The Gator Bowl playoff for Clemson and Miami was $57,105 each.

The executive committee's financial report yesterday showed that amount was paid the teams plus $5,700 commission to the Ray McCarthy organization for executive and publicity activities.

If the atmosphere did not rotate with the earth there would be a constant westerly wind of 795 miles an hour at 40 degrees latitude.

First Round Match Today

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 5 (AP) — Marjorie Lindsay, medalist in the Florida East Coast Women's Golf Tournament, met Barbara Kilgore of Atlanta in her first round match today.

Miss Lindsay yesterday shot 73, one over men's par for the 6,367-yard Ponce De Leon Course Tuesday.

Her 73 was five strokes better than any others in the field of 40. Ellen Gery of Barrington, R. I.; Kathy McKinnon of Lake Worth, Fla., and Bonnie Randolph of Columbus, O., had 78 each.

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"
. . . says MORRIS SAPIR
Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California

"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.
"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."
WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?
First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.
Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packin', easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.
Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.
Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. Big power gives you pull and speed that save time.
Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load condition—with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up on toughest service.
