Truman Is Off On Another Train Trip

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN ENROUTE TO ST. PAUL, Nov. 3 (UP)—President Truman today marked the first anniversary of his 1948 election victory, traveling toward Minnesota to warn the public anew against "reactionaries" of both parties.

The Chief Executive, on his first extensive train trip since the campaign last fall, was scheduled to arrive in Minneapolis at 1 p. m. (CST) today. He will parade through the city and then into St. Paul.

Tonight he speaks from the St. Paul Civic auditorium at 9:30 in words which he said would be nonpartisan and non-political.

When he put the neutral label on his speech yesterday as he left Washington, reporters who had read the advance text chuckled. The President joined in the laugh and pointed out that he would mention neither Democrats nor Republicans in his speech. Nor, he said, would he throw brickbats.

The President made his first rear platform address at Savanna, Ill., at 7:40 a. m. CST. He was greeted by Paul Powell, state Democratic vice chairman, a brass band and a crowd of over 1000.

He recalled his successful year and said he was now dedicated to carrying out the Democratic platform.

At dusk, the presidential special stopped for servicing at Cumberland, Md., where nearly 1000 persons greeted him.

He appeared on the rear platform and as local politicians filed aboard to shake hands, the scene smacked of a hundred "whistle stops" last fall.

Mr. Truman declined to make a speech, saying that if he did it in Cumberland, he would have to repeat the performance at every stop going and coming from Minnesota. He confined himself to waving to the crowd and bantering briefly with a pretty local girl reporter, Pat Fullerton of the Cumberland News.

The occasion for his appearance in St. Paul later today was a "Truman Day," celebration commemorating his election and climaxing Minnesota's centennial celebration.

Before his auditorium address, the President will attend a reception and dinner at the Lowry Hotel. He will leave for Washington immediately after his speech, arriving back in the capital at 10:15 p. m. (EST) Friday.

Newspaper Error Hits At Barkley

A newspaper mistake, which couldn't have been more pointed if it had been planned, appeared on page one of the Wichita Falls Record News this morning.

Three columns on the left-hand side showed Vice-President Alben Barkley smiling contentedly with Mrs. Carleton Hadley of St. Louis and her daughter.

But the shock hit the reader when he began reading the underlines explaining the picture.

"Dog mothers new-born pigs—Buzzie, who recently weaned her own litter, seems perfectly satisfied to take over the feeding of these two young pigs, helping out the mother porker who has nine other small mouths to feed."

Obviously the wrong underlines were put under the vice-president's picture, and no one caught the mistake until at least a few papers were run off.

We reserve any facetious comment, realizing it was a mistake which any newspaper could make. We hope Vice-President Barkley and his lady fair, if they learn of the picture, can laugh it off.

Last Of Seven Millionaire Guggenheim Brothers Dies

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Nov. 3 (UP)—Solomon R. Guggenheim, 83, millionaire copper mining executive and philanthropist died today at his home of a heart ailment.

Guggenheim was the last survivor of seven brothers who developed one of the largest copper mining enterprises in the country. Until three weeks ago, he went daily to the New York City offices of the Guggenheim brothers firm where he was for many years the senior partner.

Members of the family said he had not been bedridden because of his illness but went into a decline during the past few days. He is survived by his wife, Irene, and three daughters.

He died at 1 a. m. CST.

The multi-millionaire copper king was a widely known philanthropist and patron of the arts. The Guggenheim Foundation he established in 1937 was devoted to the promotion of modern art, especially non-objective works, and his collection was considered one of the largest and most complete in the country.

Last Aug. 4, he presented more than 60,000 reproductions of paintings to the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C.

Guggenheim was the fourth son of Meyer Guggenheim, who came to the United States from Switzerland in 1847. In the 1870's, the father became interested in Colorado silver, copper, and lead mining discoveries. His investments soon blossomed into one of the largest industrial enterprises ever developed in the nation.

Copper quickly became the main interest of the firm which exploited finds in Mexico, South America, Alaska, Asia and Africa.

The family credits its bonanza to the settlement of a bad debt owed the father, who took in payment a western silver mine which supposedly was worthless. It became the basis for the Guggenheim mining interests which spread over the entire world.

The Guggenheim brothers soon became one of the foremost producers of copper in the world. At one period the quantity of copper handled and controlled by them was almost one-half of the total annual production.

The family fortune rivalled the wealth of the J. P. Morgan Co. and other Wall Street financial tycoons. In 1929, the firm participtaed with six leading banks of New York to help stem the tide of the stock market crash. They were the only non-banking firm to participate in the financial emergency venture.

The Guggenheim name long has been associated with philanthropic, scientific and cultural foundations. Several of the brothers in addition to Solomon set up multi-million dollar funds for the study of art, music, literature and science.

Solomon's daughters are Gertrude, of Windyridge, near Nutley, England, Mrs. Barbara Ovre, of Monkton, Md., and Eleanor, wife of the Earl of Castle Stewart of Sussex, England.

HOUSTON, Nov. 3 (UP)—The first bus strike in Houston's history ended at noon today, and service was expected to be near normal by 4 p. m.

A Houston transit company wage offer ending the 16-hour walkout was approved 722 to 47 by secret balloting of CIO drivers and mechanics, who left the big orange-colored vehicles at midnight last night.

The new contract would give 1150 union employes a 13-cent hourly wage boost, plus pension and vacation advantages, and possibly another two-cent raise within the next year.

The buses rolled to a halt at the midnight deadline when it was obvious that the Houston Transit Co. would not meet union demands

State Baptists Organize Committee Of Public Relations For The Church

EL PASO, Nov. 3 (UP)—Baptists of Texas today were organized for an active voice in national labor relations, international diplomacy and all other public affairs affecting the masses of the American people.

For the first time in the history of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, it has a public affairs committe with official authority to speak promptly for Texas Baptists on any subject relating to general public affairs.

The three-man committee was named last night by Dr. Wallace Bassett, president of the convention, upon recommendation of Executive Secretary J. Howard Williams.

The committee is composed of Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, Waco; Dr. T. B. Maston, professor of social ethics of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, and Rev. A. C. Miller of Dallas, minister with minority groups.

The convention also adopted a $10 million budget for 1949-1950.

The budget will include $2½ million for use within the convention, $2½million for southwide and southern Baptist convention, and $5 million for the major gifts goal, to be used for buildings and endowment for educational and healing institutions.

New executive board members who will serve a three-year term are J. W. Bruner, Jr., Hillsboro; Raymond Floyd, Decatur; J. P. Lancaster, Granbury; J. No Baptist minister should perform a marriage ceremony for a person who has been divorced, unless the cause was adultery, Maston told delegates to the convention.

Maston warned pastors against placing divorced persons in any position of leadership in the church because of bad example it might set for the young people.

Convicted U.S. Communists Are Freed On $260,000 Bail

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (UP)—The United States Circuit court of Appeals ordered the 11 convicted American Communist leaders freed on $260,000 bail today, pending appeal and they were expected to be released by mid-afternoon.

The Civil Rights Congress posted bond in negotiable U. S. Treasury bonds shortly before noon.

The 11 Communist national board members were convicted last month of conspiring to advocate and teach that the violent overthrow of the government is a "duty and necessity."

The government had asked for a total bail of $1 million. Today's order directed that four of the defendants—one of whom faces a charge of contempt of Congress and three of whom face deportation rpoceedings—be released on posting $30,000 each. The other seven were ordered released on posting $20,000 each.

The Communist Party announced that immediately on their release, the defendants were due at party headquarters for a con-

Bolivian Pilot Knows He Killed 55; Doctor Says He Doesn't Want To Live

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (UP)—Eric Rios Bridoux has been told that he killed 55 persons in Tuesday's air disaster here and he no longer wants to live, the Bolivian pilot's physician said today.

The doctor, who asked that his name be withheld, said the frightful knowledge caused a relapse whcih brought the stricken flyer near death late last night.

Until yesterday afternoon the 28-year-old South American air ace did not know that his P-38 fighter on Tuesday had sent a packed Eastern Air Lines transport crashing in history's worst civil aviation disaster—a disaster of which he is the sole survivor.

The strictest orders had been issued to keep the grim knowledge from him while doctors fought to save him from the effects of a back fracture and other severe injuries.

Rios knew his plane had hit something and that he had come to struggling in the water. But he was able to tell official investigators and others little else. Civil Aeronautics Board officials hope to learn more from him when—and if—his condition improves.

Just who told Rois what his plane had done was not divulged. But it was one of four or five Bolivian friends admitted to see him yesterday.

The nurses on duty did not un-

Near Freezing Temperatures Forecast Tonight

By United Press

The center of an eastward-bound high pressure area enveloped the northern half of Texas today and near freezing weather was forecast for tonight.

At Dallas, the U. S. Weather Bureau said that low temperatures would be near 32 degrees in East Texas and that frost could be expected in the northeast portion. Subfreezing weather was in prospect for the upper Panhandle.

Forecaster John Zimmerman said that the high pressure area caused slightly cooler air to move over the northeast portion of the state.

Skies were clear throughout the state at midmorning and temperatures ranged from the low 40's in the Panhandle to near 50 elsewhere.

Dalhart was the only station reporting sub-freezing weather early today — 28 degrees. Amarillo, Abilene, Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Lufkin, Clarendon, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Texarkana reported temperatures in the middle and upper 30's. Childress had 37.

The overnight high was 52 degrees at Brownsville.

Austin and San Antonio enjoyed warm weather yesterday with a high of 81. At Guadalupe Pass a low maximum of 61 was reported.

There was no rain in Texas during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. today.

Lewis Pursues Separate Coal Peace; Murray Insists On "Bethlehem Plan"

By United Press

John L. Lewis renewed his bid for a seperate peace with Indiana coal mine operators today, while in the steel strike government officials believed the union's insistence on the "Bethlehem plan" might retard settlement.

Indiana mine operators yesterday rejected Lewis' proposal for separate negotiations in an apparent move to break the industry's solid front and "divide and conquer."

But today, Lewis sent another telegram to Gov. Henry F. Schricker of Indiana, asking him to exert his influence on two "millionaire coal operators," R. H. Sherwood and Hubert Elmer Howard.

He asserted that they dominate other Indiana operators and swayed the decision to reject his peace bid.

The Indiana operators yesterday sent Schricker a counter-proposal that Lewis send his men back to the pits to bring up enough coal to alleviate critical shortages in the Midwest and that they work under terms of the contract that expired last May while awaiting the new agreement.

"It's up to Lewis now," said one management spokesman.

Meanwhile, government labor experts believed that Murray had retarded settlement by demanding that the steel firms agree to give his members the same pension and welfare benefits accorded them under the agreement with Bethlehem, the first of the big firms to settle since the strike began Oct. 1.

Murray announced last night that his union no longer would be satisfied if the firms agreed to meet the proposal set forth by President Truman's fact-finding board for a pension and welfare "package" amounting to about 10 cents per worker per hour. He said that now the union would insist that the entire industry accept a uniform agreement based on the Bethlehem settlement which gave the workers benefits of about 12½-cents.

How Will You Vote November 8?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Childress voters face ten constitutional amendments at the November 8 election — just 4 days away. This is the ninth of a series of articles aimed at explaining each amendment separately in an effort to aid the voter in making his choice on election day. The articles are appearing here in the order they appear on the ballot).

By W. S. Warren

The ninth proposed amendment to the constitution pertains to lunacy trials.

If approved by the voters, it would give the Legislature authority to enact laws concerning persons of unsound mind. These laws may provide for waiver of trial by jury in cases where the person under inquiry has not been charged with committing a criminal offense. They also shall provide for a method of service of notice of such trial upon the person under inquiry, and of his right to demand a trial by jury.

Aim of the amendment is to permit lunacy hearings in private if desired, backers state.

The idea is fine, opponents claim, but tampering with the fundamental right of trial by jury is not.

A person, charged with lunacy, may wish a private trial—one not heard before a jury. This amendment is supposed to provide him with the opportunity of escaping the ordeal of appearing before a jury.

But opponents claim that by the very fact that a person is charged with being out of his mind, throws doubt on his ability to determine whether he needs a jury or not. The point being, in other words, that if a person is of sound mind, he should wish for the protection offered by a jury, and if he is of unsound mind, he stills needs the jury to insure his lunacy is correctly determined.

The opponents have a point when they say that everyone facing the possibility of becoming troublesome to others through the infirmities of advanced age would be menaced by passage of this amendment.

Then, again, a sane person, charged as being insane, might like it kept from everyone.

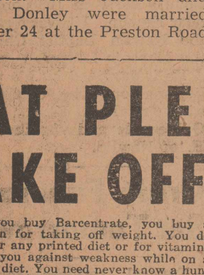

(One of these articles has appeared in The Index each day since Tuesday of last week. They conclude tomorrow with the last of the ten amendments—a proposal to permit women to serve on juries.)

Stettinius Book Points To Soviet Yalta Concessions

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (UP)—Premier Stalin made more concessions at Yalta than the United States and Britain did, and the Russian poliitburo didn't like it former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., said today in a book published three days after his death.

The book, "Roosevelt and the Russians," (Doubleday & Co.) gives a step-by-step story of the Yalta conference of the late President Roosevelt, former Prime Minister Churchill and Stalin, then outlines the breakdown of United States-Russian relations.

Stettinius also took occasion to praise the work at Dumbarton Oaks, Yalta, San Francisco and London of his former assistant, Alger Hiss who goes to trial for a second time on November 17 on a perjury charge growing out of a federal grand jury's investigation of Communist espionage.

"I never heard of any questioning of Mr. Hiss's loyalty from anyone inside or outside of the State Department or from the FBI during my time of service in the department," Stettinius wrote.

"The record of the conference shows clearly that the Soviet Union made greater concessions at Yalta to the United States and Britain than were made to the Soviets," Stettinius declared.

for a pay increase of 30 cents per hour.

A 20-hour negotiations meeting in the office of Mayor Oscar Holcombe was fruitless. Two previous company offers—one for 10 cents and another for 13 and no other provisions—were refused by the CIO negotiators.

Then, during a stormy union meeting that started at 4 a. m., the new transit company offer was made known. It received prompt endorsement by international union negotiator John J. Ryan and assistant state CIO director Carl A. McPeak.

Ryan told the membership that the new contract would make them the "highest paid" bus company employes in Texas, the 13-cent boost will give them $1.30 per hour for a 51-hour week.

The walkout had turned metropolitan Houston into a mass of traffic tangles, but surprisingly few major accidents were reported.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who presided in their nine-month trial, had remanded the 11 to the federal house of detention after their conviction October. 14 and refused them bail. One week later he sentenced 10 of them to five years in prison and the 11th, a war hero, to three years.

The decision was made by Judges Learned Hand, Thomas W. Swan and Jerome N. Frank, and conveyed to lawyers late last night.

The judges said the bail would be granted because the government "conceded" the appeal raised a "substantial question."

"The prosecution having upon agreement conceded that the appeal herein raises a single 'substantial question' . ..it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that pending his appeal to this court, each of the above mentioned defendants will be released upon posting bond in the sum set opposite his name."

Raisin-Meat Ball Spaghetti

A McCall's Magazine Fail-Proof Recipe

Sauce
1 slice salt pork
1 small onion
1 No. 2½ can tomato puree
2½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt

Meat Balls
1½ lbs. chopped beef
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup cracker meal
¾ cup raisins
2 eggs, unbeaten

Place salt pork in skillet over low heat until fat is melted. Add chopped onion to fat and brown. Mix in tomato puree, water, salt and cook slowly for 15 minutes.

To make meat balls, mix all ingredients together thoroughly and shape into balls. Drop into sauce and simmer 1 hour and 15 minutes in uncovered pan. Serve sauce and meat balls over freshly cooked spaghetti. You'll be surprised at the good flavor the raisins give this recipe, a gift to us from one of our Italian friends. Enough sauce here for 6 staunch spaghetti lovers.

Two Generations To Be Honored At TU Saturday

AUSTIN, Nov. 3 —Representatvies of two generations will be honored at the University of Texas Saturday, November 5.

Hundreds of parents of university students are expected for the "Dad's Day" celebration and some 4200 musicians in 66 Texas school bands will be guests of the University Longhorn Band for the annual "Band Day" observance. Both groups will witness the day's "big show," the annual Southwest Conference football game at Memorial Stadium between the University of Texas and Baylor University.

Festivities activities for Dads' Day include an informal breakfast at 9 a. m. at the University Cafeteria, followed by a morning business session including election of officers of the University of Texas Dads' Association for the coming year.

The organization was formed last year with J. Lee Dittert of Bellville as president, Dr. S. E. White of Port Arthur as first vice-president, M. C. Bradford of Amarillo as second vice-president, Alex E. Cox of Beeville as third vice-president, and Eugene Sanders of Austin as secretary.

University students, through work of the Texas Cowboys, honorary service organization, have been urged to invite their parents to Austin for the Dads' Day celebration.

Band Day activities, with Longhorn Band Director George E. Hurt in charge, will include a parade by the visiting school bands up Austin's main street at 10:30 a. m. to the State Capitol where the young musicians will be greeted by Governor Allan Shivers. That afternoon the visiting bandsmen, and former Longhorn band members who return for their reunion, will attend the Texas-Baylor game.

Forecaster Has Doubts In Charts

PORT ISABEL, Nov. 3 (UP)—A Chicago weather forecaster decided today the Lower Rio Grande Valley wasn't all his maps showed it to be.

After much study, forecaster Carlos A. Lively had deduced the most pleasant place in the country to spend a vacation would be Port Isabel. So he arrived for some fishing and sun-bathing.

And what happened?

The first five days it rained.

The temperature dropped to the lowest mark in recent years.

A norther brought winds up to 50 miles an hour.

Jailbreaker Heads Back To His Cell

EL PASO. Nov. 3 (UP)—Jailbreaker Jack Tatum, under $50,000 bond, was due to be returned today to the Phoenix, jail where he escaped October 22.

Guarded by five FBI agents and two U. S. deputy marshalls and wearing leg irons and handcuffs, the 28-year-old desperado was charged yesterday with violation of the federal escape act. Two prisoners were slain in the Phoenix jailbreak which won Tatum his brief freedom.

U. S. Commissioner Henry Clifton set the high bond upon recommendation of U. S. Commissioner C. B. Wilson of Phoenix.

Tatum was the object of a 10-day manhunt throughout the Southwest. He offered no resistance and did not carry a gun, but he had been billed as "armed and dangerous."

Tatum said he arrived in this border town Sunday after spending part of his 10 days of freedom in Arizona citrus groves eating oranges and grapefruit. He had only 20 cents in his pocket when he was apprehended.

Italy's increase in population is approximately 450,000 annaully.

Wellington, Childress B Teams Play At 6; Kid All-Stars Clash At 7:30

Childress football fans are in for a twin-bill football program at Bobcat Stadium tonight.

At 6 p. m., Coach Vernon Johnson's B team will play the Wellington B forces. Kids, Inc., will stage its North-South All-Star classic at 7:30.

Admission to the grid doubleheader is 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Coordinator Dub Nelson said this morning that the inscribed T-shirt letters to be presented the All-Stars' arrived today. The young gridders will receive their honors in a gala half-time program, which will have complete photographic coverage from Quarterback Club cameramen.

Ralph Smith's 40-piece Childress High School band has promised something altogether new in entertainment during halftime.

The North-South struggle is rated strictly a toss-up affair.

Kids, Inc., football players have been asked to wear street clothes to the game, since they are expected to turn in uniforms immediately after the game.

All proceeds from the game will go toward buying more equipment for the first-year organization. Many youngsters were denied a position on the teams this year because of a uniform shortage.

Monday night at the Bobcat Gym, the Quarterback Club plans to honor the kids. Complete movies of the game will be shown, and refreshments will be served. All members of Kids, Inc., who participated at any time this year will be invited.

Baylor Coach Not Optimistic Over TU Game

By United Press

Coach Bob Woodruff was not too optimistic today over the chances of his undefeated Baylor Bears against the thrice beaten but still ornery Texas Longhorns Saturday.

At least five men were on the doubtful starting list and a sixth, glue-fingered J. D. Ison wasn't feeling too chipper.

Ison, a fast-moving end who has made a habit of latching onto Adrian Burk's dead-eye passes, was favoring a shoulder injury.

At Austin, the Longhorns busied themselves on ways and means to ground the Burk-inspired Baylor air attack. And Coach Blair Cherry had his troubles, too.

Halfback Billy Pyle was limping because of a wrenched knee and apparently was destined to see the game from the bench or a stadium seat. Byron Townsend nursed a bruised hip and it was likely he would play only part of the game.

At College Station, a game Texas Aggie squad concentrated on a defense it hoped would halt the Southern Methodist Mustangs Saturday.

Dick Gardemal looked outstanding on offense during yesterday's session, displaying the same form that geared A&M's touchdown drive against Arkansas last week.

The Mustangs were prepping for the game at College Station with the same enthusiasm that will precede their final against Notre Dame. The favored Ponies worked on both offnese and defense, taking nothing for granted.

Brad Rowland Tops Gridders In Texas Conference

ABILENE, Nov. 3 (UP)—McMurry College halfback Brad Rowland stands in a class by himself in the Texas Conference. He is the leader in rushing, total offense, punting and scoring.

Rowland added to his gridiron laurels last week end by picking up 150 yards rushing, 131 passing, scoring three touchdowns and passing for two others as the Indians defeated Austin college, 34-19.

His total now is 1053 yards rushing on 117 carries, a total overall gain of 1,325 wards and 96 points in seven games. He has averaged 38.5 yards on 27 kicks.

McMurry's fullback, Floyd Sampson, is runnerup in ground gaining with 622 yards. Al Langford of Howard Payne, the league's top passer with 983 yards on 66 completions in 144 trys, ranks second in total offense with 1,148 yards.

Howard Payne's Frank Barnett set the pace for pass receivers with 345 yards on 20 catches.

Search Party Looks For Flyers

LIBERTY Nov. 3 (UP)—A search party of 25 men on horseback was ready to move into Liberty County woods today in search for two Texans who have been missing 12 days on a flight from Tulsa, Okla., to Houston.

Capt. Glen Rose of the Houston district of the state highway patrol organized the search.

Search planes criss-crossed the woodlands yesterday. Ten planes from Connally Air Force Base at Waco and Civil Air Patrol planes participated in the hunt.

Aboard the missing maroon Navion plane, which took off from Tulsa the evening of Oct. 21, where George Harrington, 38, a prominent geologist Orvile Sweitzer, Jr., 34, his pilot.

Bobcats Primed For Conference Tilt Against Winless Electra Team Friday

The Bobcats came out of a bristling scrimmage session yesterday unscathed. They appeared in near top condition for their conference fray against the Tigers in Electra tomorrow night.

Game time will find the Childress eleven in an unfamiliar position. They'll be rated from one to two touchdown favorites over their winless opponent.

But Coaches Don Ezell and Ralph Porter have warned against overoptimism, and Coach Vernon Johnson, who scouted the Tigers, claims the young Electra team has plenty of latent power.

Electra is still smarting from last year's 7-38 loss to the Bobcats.

Rip Flusche, Electra's first-year mentor, uses the TCU spread formation a great deal. Sub quarterback Don Ray, 153-pounder, does most of the club's passing. Against Graham he completed a 51-yard touchdown aerial.

The two clubs will be about even in the weight department.

The Bobcat line may boast a slight advantage since 205-pound Herbert Reavis has moved up to a starting tackle position.

Billy Marshall, fast little 137-pounder, is the regular Tiger quarterback, while 163-pound Glen Hixon and Joe Green are due to open at teh halves.

Bob Penn, 157, and Tracy Phillips, 155, give the Tigers speed at the wings. Carter McHaney, the biggest starter at 178, and 174-pound Bob King, are due to open at the tackles. At the guards, J. A. Hilly, 148, and Ray Hutsead, 158, will probably start. Dick Doores, 160-pound center, is rated a fine defensive player.

The starting Childress backfield of Joe Powell, Kenneth Buckley, John Baker and George Crews will be functioning at full strength for the first time in several weeks.

Senior Kenneth Bearden, a defensive standout against Vernon, and R. D. Bradshaw will start at the wings. Reavis and Ray Howard, who is shaping up as a first-class linemen, will open at tackles, and Billy Don Hall and Sid Holland will man the guard slots.

Jack Owens will start at center and alternate with Jimmy Price.

Wellington Plays LeFors In Title Tilt Friday Night

Wellington's Skyrockets play Le Fors Pirates in their last home game Friday night in a battle that should help decide the District 2-A championship.

Wellington has one district loss, the Pirates none. But the Rockets will be at top shape for the first time in two weeks.

Grocers Set For Expected Rush Of Coffee Buyers

DALLAS, Nov. 3 (UP)—Texas grocers are prepared for an expected rush of coffee buyers.

With the price of the national drink already on the increase, there was little or no surplus in reserve, a survey showed.

Most grocers said they expceted the big rush early this week, and were surprised when it failed to develop.

The crisis in the coffee supply developed when South American growers announced that dry weather had cut the crop short.

Only the Tom Thumb Chain here appeared to show that a crisis in coffee was in existence. Prominently displayed in all its stores were signs saying: "Only one pound of coffee per customer."

Quickest clue to the possible shortage, however, was a price-per pound raise on all brands. Last Monday, most stores raised the price two cents per pound. They red-penciled the new price over the old tag listing.

The A&P spokesman said his stores did not have a "large "excess of coffee on hand, but he thought Texas stores "could handle a mild rush of buyers without losing face."

"We don't want a rush," he said. "Coffee business is like the banking business. You can go so far with supplying buyers in a rush."

A&P stores were selling their best brands for 51 cents today. Other popular brands were going for 10 cents more, up two cents from a week ago.

The spokesman predicted another two cent hike this week.

"Prices go up with a shortage," he said. "There's nothing you can do about it."

Negro School May Soon Have Band

DENTON, Nov. 2 — Fred Moore School, Denton's new Negro institution, may soon have a band as a result of an idea of a North Texas State College janitor.

Clarence Jackson, colored janitor at the college, got the idea of a band at the open house held recently at the Negro school. He began his drive for funds at NTSC and it has spread throughout the city.

Clarence's contribution will be two instruments. The NTSC School of Music has promised to support the project, and other county schools and local merchants will be asked to help.

The man leading the drive is noted for his consistency. Clarence has worked at North Texas State under the administration of three college presidents.

Deans' Jobs Vary But Little, Says Dean Of Women

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 3 (Spl)—The work of deans of men and women are quite similar, varying only in details and methods said Dorothy Gebauer, dean of women at the University of Texas.

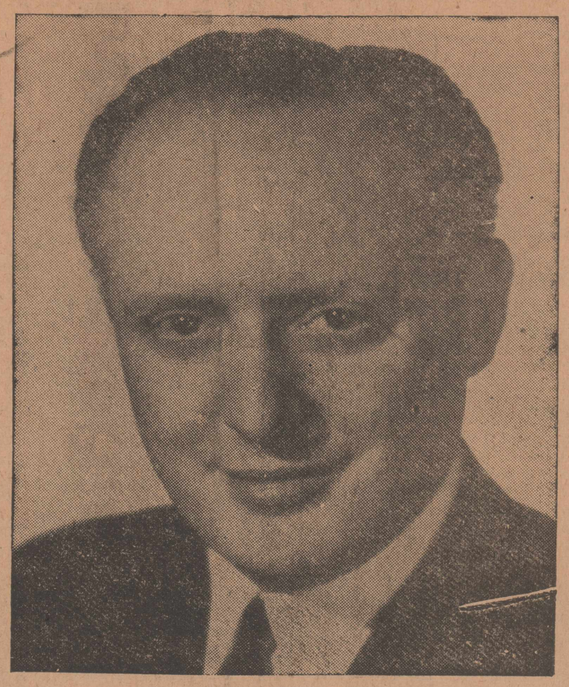

Dean Gebauer was speaking on the subject, "If I Were Dean of Men," before the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Deans and Advisors of Men at Texas A. and M. College.

Charles Kirkham, vice-president of the senior class, and Doyale Avant Jr., cadet colonel of the cadet corps, A. and M. College, gave talks on the same subject.

Tracing the history of counseling back to the Civil War, Dean Gebauer mentioned that college presidents did most of the early counseling. Then, with the coming of heterogenous groups, some who were rich and some who were poor, it became necessary to increase the counseling service.

The office of the dean of men was first set up; later a dean assistant or matron was hired to handle women students' affairs.

She said that deans of men and women are still trying to live down the idea that they are "keeper of morals." She emphasized that the modern deans merely offer the necessary responsibilities to students so that they could discipline themselves.

Experiments On Cotton May Hike Its Durability

AUSTIN, Nov. 3 —If University of Texas cotton researchers are successful in their experiments, John and Mary Public may find their cotton shirts or blouses wearing as long as their suits.

"The secret for reaching this goal lies in finding a way to stop the degrading effect of fungi, bacteria, and ultraviolet rays of the sun on cotton fibers," Dr. Vernon L. Frampton, university cotton researcher, reports.

University scientists are experimenting to determine just how, when, and why that degradation takes place. Then they will try to develop resistance in or on the cotton fiber to such action.

Strangely enough, a rotted canvas shoe found on a Bougainville beach at the end of the 1943 Solomon Islands campaign may provide the answer to the fungi-bacteria part of the problem.

The shoe was found by the army quartermaster corps and sent to its Philadelphia laboratory because the foot-piece contained powerful fungi which excreted enzymes that were rapidly eating cotton fibers.

A culture of the fungi was sent to the university's cotton research laboratory for study. Scientists here will try to counteract deterioration in cotton fabrics caused by fungi and bacteria by studying this particularly-destructive culture and developing a resistance to it in the cotton fiber.

In another project, the researchers are studying ways the sun's ultraviolet rays break up the cotton fiber's molecular chain into grape sugar molecules, causing it to degrade.

If they succeed in their dual efforts, cotton clothes will not rip with an elbow bend after three—or six—years.

Other churches represented are Episcopal, Lutheran, Church of God, Christian Science, Jew Greek Orthodox, Nazerene, Mormon, and Jeehovah Witness.

There are 172 ministers, 100 special service students, 56 missionaries and 32 religious education directors, enrolled in classes.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Q. How can an employer stop the social security administration from sending letters requesting correct names or social security numbers for his employees?

A. Report each employee's account number and name on the quarterly tax return exactly as they appear on his card.

Q. If an employee uses a different name from that on the social security card, what should an employer do?

A. Request the employee to write the social security office for a card bearing the new name and the number he has always used. Until the duplicate card is received, continue to report the employee under the old name as listed on his card. When the card bearing the new name is received the employer should change his records and report the employee under the new name and same number.

Q. If an employee has lost his card what should be done?

A. Tell the employee to obtain a form from his local postmaster and request a duplicate card immediately.

For further information write the Social Security Administration Field Office, Amarillo.

Round-World Air Passenger Leaves London

LONDON, Nov. 2 (UP)—Milton Reynolds of Chicago left at 3:15 p. m. (9:15 a. m. CST) today for Brussels and points beyond on an attempt to fly around the world in record time by commercial air lines.

He was more than seven hours behind schedule because of a delay at Shannon Airport in Ireland while waiting for fog to lift from the London Airport.

Reynolds left Los Angeles yesterday in an attempt to break the record of six days, three hours and 15 minutes set by Edward P. Eagen chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

He planned to stop at Brussels, Istanbul, Damascus, Karachi, New Delhi, Calcutta, Hong Kong, Guam and Honolulu, among other places.

Reynolds said he would inspect his factories in Europe and Asia.

Teachers Given Voice Training

AUSTIN, Nov. 3 —Remember a teacher whose voice made you cringe or whose mannerisms distracted you from learning your arithmetic lesson?

Future teachers are being trained by the University of Texas Speech Department so they will have pleasant voices, better posture and more classroom poise. These assets will be among the job qqualifications of students graduated from the university's College of Education under the vocal self-improvement plan with the speech department.

Students planning to teach in elementary schools are required to take a fundamental speech course designed to correct their defects and to give them pointers for helping pupils' speech, said Assistant Professor G. A. Fuchs who teaches speech for prospective teachers.

Grid Prowess Not Needed Now On The A&I Campus

KINGSVILLE, Nov. 1 (UP)—Remember when you had to be a football hero or at least a class president to be the darling of a college campus?

Texas A&I College is changing that pattern and turning its rodeo stars, farm boys who don't know much about pigskins but plenty about pigs, into 1949 glamour boys.

A year ago, the college refused to recognize the rodeo club.

Now it's doing everything it can to help the organization of bronc-bustin' students build a $10,000 rodeo arena on the campus in time for the South Texas Fair November 8-13.

The $10,000 figure is not exactly accurate. Materials going into the arena would cost that much on the market today but enterprise is far from dead amidst the A&I student body.

Rodeosters and their girl friends begged most of the lumber from local firms and between classes and after school, they pitch in for extra-cirricular construction sessions. The rodeo club produced volunteer workmen with a definite preference for hammers and saws over books and classrooms.

During the annual fair, the club will be host to dozens of steer-ropers from other colleges where A&I rodeo stars used to perform by cutting classes and traveling at their own expense.

Club President F. A. (Deedee) Falton of Comfort will be in charge of this year's rodeo, an intercollegiate, all-collegiate affair with cowboys and cowgirls direct from study halls of Southwest colleges and universities.

Even some faculty members admit that Chaucer and Socrates must take a back seat for the next fortnight to the cowboy-booted blue-jeaned, be-Stetsoned college cowpokes, some of whom even strum guitars to add the proper Hollywood touch.

Mrs. Hadley After Trousseau, Veep Makes A Speech

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1 (UP)—Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley set out today to shop for a trousseau while her future husband, Vice-President Alben Barkley, went to Washington, Pa., to fulfill a speaking engagement.

Yesterday, the couple, whose romance has captured the heart of the nation, went shopping for a wedding ring but couldn't find one they liked.

They were disappointed, too, in their quest for luggage for their honeymoon and finally turned to plain window-shopping.

The announcement of their marriage came Sunday night, to climax a romance that began early last summer on what the Veep called "a lovely cruise down the Potomac."

Since that time, Barkley made sly non-committal references to the progress of his wooing and kept the nation guessing while he visited frequently here with Mrs. Hadley and her two daughters, Anne, 17, and Jane, 14.

The President's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, said, however, that Mr. Truman faced important affairs of state on November 18, but might get to St. Louis if the wedding was held early in the day and the weather permitted him to make a fast flight.

Lone Star Steel Plans Expanding Texas Steel Mill

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (UP)—Lone Star Steel Company will release to prospective bidders soon plans for a $52½ million steel mill in East Texas.

Lone Star spokesmen disclosed that the mill will include four 188-ton open hearth furnaces, with an annual ingot capacity of 500,000 tons.

Also there will be a 110-inch slabbing mill, a 72-inch reversing hot strip mill, and a line to manufacture 350,000 tons of electric-weld pipe, of diameter up to 16 inches, annually.

E. B. Germany, Lone Star president, said the company had a commitment from Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a first mortgage loan of $36 million toward financing the project.

Financing of the mill will require some $8 million in new equity capital, Germany said, and stockholders are being polled informally now on how much they wish to subscribe.

What the present stockholders do not subscribe, he said, will be offered otherwise.

The completion of the mill at the Daingerfield plant of Lone Star will bring the company's book value to an estimated $90 million.

Texas Hereford Gets Show Honors

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (UP)—A 14-month-old Hereford steer from Texas yesterday took grand champion steer honors at the 1949 Grand National Livestock Exposition.

To Return, a 900-pound animal owned by Roy Largent, Merkel, had already won the championship in the summer yearling and Hereford classes.

At the rodeo championships last night, Shoat Webster of Nowata, Okla., won the roping contest and Elmo Favors won the cutting horse contest on a pony named Jesse James. E. P. Waggoner of Fort Worth owns the horse Favors rode.

Judging of purebred cattle, sheep and swine continued today as the 10-day show reached the halfway mark.

Rio Grande Dam Said Nearer Reality Today

FALCON, Nov. 2 (UP)—The dream of a $70,000 dam across the Rio Grande was one step nearer reality today.

Project attorney James F. Jackson of the Laredo office of the International Boundary and Water Commission said the U. S. government will file a court suit for condemnation of 86,000 acres of land in Zapata County before January 1.

The government has already acquired 4900 acres for the dam in Starr County. It will be built jointly by the U. S. and Mexican governments.

Improved Cotton Classing Being Evolved At TU

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 —Improved methods in cotton classing are being developed in a new laboratory of the cotton research committee just completed at the University of Texas. Work done in the laboratory will help meet the inroads synthetic fibers have made in the domain of King Cotton.

The new laboratory is equipped with instruments which measure length, length uniformity, strength, fineness and maturity of cotton. All measurements will be made under controlled conditions.

The air-conditioning system designed for the laboratory is so equipped that it will be possible to stimulate various weather conditions, which will make it possible to observe the effect of differences in temperature and humidity on the cotton fiber.

Instrument measurements of fiber properties will supplement existing ways of grading cotton and make it possible to utilize properties of the cotton fiber not heretofore employed in manufacturing.

By so doing, it will be possible to create greater values in cotton to the advantage of all interested in the cotton industry.

'Desperado' Jack Tatum Meekly Surrenders To FBI In San Antonio

EL PASO, Nov. 2 (UP)—Gunman Jack Tatum, touted as one of the toughest outlaws in the Southwest, surrendered meekly when FBI agents seized him in downtown El Paso, government officials said today.

Tatum, who broke out of a Phoenix jail two weeks ago, was recognized on the street yesterday by an alert federal agent despite the fact that the bandit was thin from undernourishment.

The 28-year-old fugitive was unarmed. Warnings spread throughout southwestern states had urged officials to use extreme caution in attempting capture because he was "believed armed and dangerous."

He offered not the slightest resistance as he was arrested. Office workers hurried past him on the sidewalk, scarcely noticing the little drama in which one of the most hunted outlaws in the nation was returned to justice.

Tatum was neatly-dressed but his pockets held only 20 cents. He admitted that he had been hungry almost continuously since the jailbreak.

Four other prisoners attempted to break loose with Tatum but two were killed by a courageous crippled watchman and two others were recaptured before they could get out of the Maricopa County Courthouse.

Tatum said he spent four days and nights in a citrus grove near Phoenix, living solely on oranges and grapefruit.

Then he hopped a freight train, he said, for Tuscon, staying one day and night in a hobo camp. Last Sunday, he arrived in El Paso on a bus and checked into a second-rate hotel, registering as "Joe Parker."

Since his escape Tatum had lost 13 pounds from his normal 158-pound weight. He said he ate only a sandwich during his 48 hours of liberty here.

The FBI said he apparently was prowling El Paso streets at the time of his arrest, searching for an empty car which to steal to drive to Oklahoma. He was born at Poteau, Okla.

Tatum had been held at Phoenix for driving a stolen car across state lines.

His prison record includes terms for burglary, violation of postal laws and violation of parole.

Labor Troubles Face Farmers In South Texas Area

LAREDO, November 2 (UP)—New labor difficulties faced harassed Laredo area farmers today on the heels of federal notification that most of their "wetback" laborers were illegally at work.

The farmer said they would need at least 5000 extra field hands later this month for tomato harvesting and onion transplanting. But they did not know where they would obtain them.

Only yesterday, federal authorities notified Laredo-Zapata County growers that four-fifths of their applications for employing "wetback" labor had been disapproved.

C. D. Ochoa, of the Texas Employment Commission, said the farmers were told they must pay a minimum wage of 40 cents per hour--in cash.

Growers had thought the 40-cent minimum could include room and board furnished more than 2000 alien workers. They, therefore, had included the room and board figures in teir applications for federal approval.

The workers, meanwhile, continued to toil in the sun-baked fields as farmers prepared new applications for submission to Washington.

"Wetbacks" labor the year around in the lush Rio Grande area.

They technically are illegal entrants into this nation, but have enjoyed comparative immunity from federal supervision until recently.

The government, in a "crack down" order, ruled that all "wetbacks" must be registered and paid at least a minimum wage of 40 cents per hour.

The order has brought forth a rash of indignant statements from Rio Grande residents.

Austin Correspondent's Funeral Is Held Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 2 (UP)—State officials and fellow-newspapermen attended funeral services today for William M. Thornton, "dean" of the Texas capital's correspondents.

The 70-year-old reporter, Austin correspondent for the Dallas Morning News for half a century, was buried in Mount Calvary Cemetery here following rites at St. Mary's Catholic cathedral.

He died at his home yesterday after suffering a chronic heart ailment for several years. Only the day before he worked at his office.

Prison Escapee Back In Cell After Bit Of Freedom

ANGLETON, November 2 (UP)—Roy Lee Auten, 32-year-old Oklahoma badman who has sneaked out two state prisons, was back in again today after slipping into his old routine for a few hours yesterday.

Auten, a handsome brunet doing a 75-year stretch for robbery by assault, was found last night only three miles from Retrieve Prison Farm near here.

Baying bloodhounds came across his scent just nine hours after he managed to "walk away" from a work gang that was unloading cotton.

Auten had hid deep in a thicket and surrendered calmly, although prison officials had spread a warning that he was "dangerous."

He was jailed here in August of 1948 for the kidnap-robbery of grocer Sam Hardee, who lost $9,000 in the holdup. A month later, Auten impersonated another prisoner whose name had been called for bond and calmly walked out of the Harris County jail.

Back in 1944, Auten escaped from the Oklahoma State Prison in McAlester.

His crime career dates back to 1933, records show, and includes sentences for auto theft, horse theft, embezzlement, violating the national transportation act and the current charge.

Childress Business & Professional Review

PRESENTING EACH WEEK NEWS ABOUT LIVE, PROGRESSIVE FIRMS AND INDIVIDUALS OF CHILDRESS

DOWNTOWN DOIN'S

NEWS OF THE MERCHANTS

By Stanley Bohenek

This week at Childress' most celebrated daily newspaper—the only daily newspaper serving the entire Southeastern Panhandle—the old army game came into play. There was a gay old passing of the buck—which wasn't the green stuff, by the way.

Kind and cunning Frank G. Hatt, one of the top pigeons in The Index roost, dumped his "Downtown Doin's" into the lap of his kindly, but also lowly, protege—Stanley Bohenek.

The new duty came as no surprise to the former sports scribe of The Index ,and originator of "Bo's Banter," that scintillating feature of bygone Index sports pages.

So resigned to my fate, cruel tho it may be, yours truly will do his utmost to keep up the glories and traditions of "Downtown Doin's."

An unattentive papa cost Saied's Dept. Store $100 last Saturday night. Alex Saied reported that a man came into the store with a little girl, and while the man was inspecting merchandise, the girl climbed into the show window. She knocked over a form, which fell into the window and broke it.

The man grabbed the girl by the arm and left in a hurry, not even stopping to say, "I'm sorry."

Ernest Arocha, a native of Galveston, is a new addition to the sales force at the Jackson Tire Store. Arocha is married to the former Eula Faye Murphy of Childress. They met while he was stationed at CAAF.

Loretta Dannelly reports plenty of interest in the new Toni Doll. The doll has nylon hair which can be shampooed and set by the little make-believe mother.

Cost of doing business, at least the part that is done over a cup of coffee, may take a boost soon. The skyrocketing price of wholesale coffee has some Childress cafe men considering raising the price of a cup to ten cents. Nothing, however, has been decided soon.

Ira Hutchens at Western Auto Associate Store has ordered some new shotguns and more ammunition in preparation for the duck and goose season. The duck season opens at noon Friday and continues until November 21 when the ducks get a break until December 21, the opening date of the second half of the season.

A "Gossip Table" advertised by John's Furniture yesterday, created quite a stir among local housewives. It may be a bride table, a dinner table, or what have you. Gordon Gravley can and will tell you if you ask.

Christmas merchandise is being displayed by Childress merchants, and many already have put up their holiday decorations. The holiday season will officially get underway with the 14th Annual Treasure Hunt, slated for Thursday, December 1st .

Soft Water Has No Substitute, Johnston Says

There is no substitute for soft water. And soft water can be yours by going to the phone and calling 1021, the Culligan Soft Water Service Company, 102 Second Street Northeast.

The Culligan Soft Water Service Company can provide your monthly soft water service for your home. They install the equipment, which requires only a small space, and exchange the softener periodically, thus maintaining soft water in your home through a monthly service charge, which runs about $2.85 a month for the average size home.

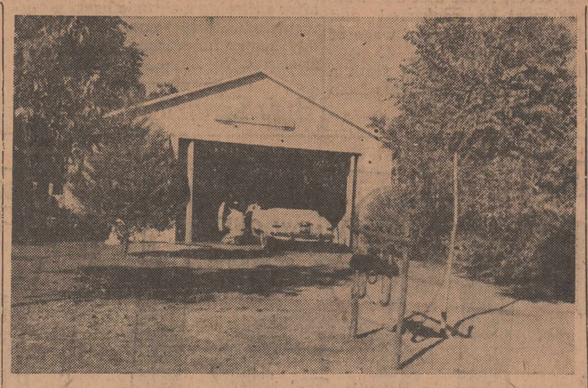

The Culligan way of soft water is the most sanitary and has the greatest capacity of any like service available. Each tank will make available a minimum of 1,700 gallons of soft water. The equipment carries the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval and the Parents Magazine Seal of Commendation.

Soft water for all your household tasks not only gives you results in the laundry, but also gives you extra benefits in bathing, shaving, shampooing, skin care, cooking and canning, and saves repair expenses in plumbing.

You can have sparkling 100 per cent soft water at the turn of the faucet without any investment or any attention from anyone in the household. A telephone call to Culligan Soft Water Service Company is the answer.

Wallpaper Store Sets Anniversary Friday, Saturday

The third anniversary of the Childress Paint and Wallpaper Store will be celebrated with a sales event Friday and Saturday.

J. F. "Pete" Scanlon, owner and manager of the store, said he deeply appreciated the patronage of customers during his first three years of operation.

The entire stock of last year's wallpaper has been greatly reduced for the event, selling for half price and less, Scanlon said.

Also greatly reduced is linoleum, in both medium weight—6-foot rolls and inlaid patterns.

Custom picture framing is done with special equipment at Childress Paint and Wallpaper. You may come in and select the type of frame wanted and have it made to order at a saving.

Scanlon said that his new stock of wallpaper and his line of BP'S paints would also be sold at low prices during his anniversary event.

Bartlett Offers Feed To Bring Egg Production

With eggs at record high prices for this season of the year it is time to feed your flock "egg production" feed.

James Bartlett, Childress feed dealer and hatchery operator recommends Chic-O-Line egg mash or pellets for heavy egg production.

Chic-O-Line egg mash is especially manufactured to help Southwestern poultry raisers to benefit from high eggs production while making use of farm grains.

Chic-O-Line provides the protein, vitamin and mineral values so often lacking in straight grain feeding.

Bartlett is not now operating his hatchery but he has a limited number of baby chicks in stock for immediate delivery.

Largest bell in the world is that known as the Great Bell of Moscow, which weighs 220 tons.

Rucker Brothers Offer Sky Ride Star Tires Now

Your car is ready for a surprisingly smooth ride when you have Rucker Brothers put on a set of Sky Ride Star tires.

Star Sky Rides are now manufactured exclusively of Cold Rubber, the sensational new rubber that gives 30 per cent more wear. Cold Rubber is stronger, tougher than the best grade of pure rubber treads and gives longer and safer driving.

Sky Rides are low pressure tires that eliminate shocks and jolts. You actually float along the highway, and more important, you get positive braking action.

A written, unconditional 24 months' guarantee accompanies each tire against all road hazards, such as blow-outs, rim-cuts, stone bruises, faulty brakes, etc.

Johnny Rucker, manager of Rucker's O. K. Rubber Welders states that your old tires are worth more at his shop. Visit him soon at 101 Commerce Street.

Robbins Suggests Checking Your Air Conditioner Now

Don't neglect your air-conditioner during the winter months. Let Robbins Electric mechanics clean and oil your unit for storage during the winter.

Red Robbins, owner of the shop, points out that if cooling units are uncared for they may deteriorate while not in use. An airconditioner properly cared for will be in good shape when needed next summer.

Only a small service charge is made for this job, and it will be money well spent. Robbins also does all kinds of electrical repairs and installation. All work is guaranteed.

Futuramic Olds Is Equipped With New Transmission

As Oldsmobile moves into the eleventh year in which the General Motors division has built Hydra-Matic Drive cars, latest production reports show that more than nine out of ten 1949 "Futuramic" models are equipped with the famous automatic transmission.

In releasing these facts at Lansing, Mich., S. E. Skinner, vice-president of GM and general manager of Oldsmobile, stated that more than 820,000 Hydra-Matic equipped Oldsmobiles have been built since August 1939 when the company introduced the drive.

"So far this year, more new Oldsmobiles have been equipped with Hydra-Matic Drive than in any other complete production year," said Skinner. "Public acceptance of the drive extends beyond the Series '88' and Series '98' models, on which Hydra-Matic is standard equipment, to the lower-priced Series '76' models, on which it is optional equipment. 79.6 per cent of '76' buyers have specified Hydra-Matic on their orders since the introduction of the 1949 models."

The record of Hydra-Matic Drive acceptance shows a steady climb upward, Skinner declared. He said that the ratio of Hydra-Matic equipped cars between the fall of 1939 and the end of new car production in 1942 was approximately five out of every ten. During the first year of postwar production the ratio went up to seven out of every ten. Subsequently the ratio kept on climbing.

As an example of the growing acceptance of Hydra-Matic Drive, Skinner pointed out that only 18,773 of the 250,000 Oldsmobiles built so far this year were equipped with the standard synchro-mesh transmission.

"Today the motoring public regards the automatic transmission as the accepted thing," said Skinner. "Their preference for the modern driving device has caused more than half of the automobile manufacturers to offer an automatic transmission as standard or optional equipment. This ratio of automatic transmission cars will be much greater next year."

New 1950 Studebaker passenger cars await shipment from a lot near the main plant in South Bend. In response to an unprecedented demand, the automobiles are being transported by rail and haul-away as rapidly as possible. For the month of September the company attained new peaks in both production and sales. At the end of the first week in October, Studebaker's domestic dealers in 1949 had delivered at retail a greater number of passenger cars and trucks than in the full year 1948, best year in the company's history.

Singleton Given Production Head Of Ford Plants

William D. Singleton, manager of the Ford assmebly plant at Chseter, Pa., has been appointed production manager of all assembly plants of Ford Motor Company's Ford Division under M. L. Wiesmyer, manufacturing manager, L. D. Crusoe, vice president and general manager of the division, announced today at Dearborn.

William B. Smith, who has been assistant manager of the Chester plant, has been named acting manager there, Crusoe said. Both appointments are effective immediately.

Singleton joined Ford in 1931 as a maintenance helper at the Dallas plant. Later he was transferred to the Kansas City plant as assistant maintenance foreman. In 1934 he returned to the Dallas plant and in 1935 he was promoted to general body foreman at Ford's Memphis plant.

Singleton served with the Army's Armored Corps from 1941 until his discharge with the rank of lieutenant-colonel in 1946.

Returning to the company he was appointed equipment engineer for the office of Ford assembly operations at Dearborn. On February 1, 1948, he became manager of the Chester assembly plant.

Smith joined Ford in 1933 at the Chester plant. In 1937 he became assistant chief inspector there, a position he held until 1941 when he was sent to San Diego to study inspection methods of the B-24 bomber. He was later transferred to Ford's Willow Run plant where he was in turn assistant general inspection foreman and assistant inspection superintendent.

In 1945 Smith returned to the Chester plant as chief inspector and in 1947 was made production superintendent. He became assistant plant manager there in February 1948.

Carswell Base School Needed, Survey Shows

FORT WORTH, Nov. 3 (UP)—Erection of a new school plant near Carswell Airforce base has been recommended to a congressional subcommittee.

The school would be built with federal funds and operated by the Fort Worth Independent School District.

Lt. Col. L. R. Mapes, who represented the air force at the subcommittee hearing, said the new school would be needed because of the concentration of school-age children in housing projects on or near the B-36 base.

Elden B. Busby, assistant superintendent of Fort Worth schools, said federal funds would be needed to build the school because "we have made no provisions for such a project.

The House subcommittee met here during a tour in which it is tackling the problem of the amount of aid the federal government owes to school districts in which military installations are located.

Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey of West Virginia, committee chairman, said the committee would not act on individual cases, but would gather facts for presentation to Congress in an attempt to gain a permanent solution to the problem.

French Cutie's Low Necklines Shock Hollywood

By Virginia MacPherson

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1 (UP)—Denise Darcel, the buxom French cutie who's shocking the town with her "low-and-behold" necklines, said today she wears her curves out in the open because she "jost loffs to please everybodee . . . especially ze mens."

"Wherever I go," she dimples. "zey make weez ze wheestles and ze screams and ze looks. Ooooh, la la! I loff zose zeengs."

Miss Darcel, who was "the most beautiful girl in France," a few years back, is not one to hide her charms beneath a high decollete.

Wherever she goes, shopping, out to lunch, out to the studio, or out to dinner, she promptly stops traffic with her necklines. They are about as low as they can get and not be a waistline. And, with a girl of Darcel's structure, that leave plenty to behold.

"Do I shock you?" she asks. "After all, I am a woman, no? Eef I 'ave pretee laigs I wear short skirts. So?? I am a 39 . . . I wear plonging necklines.

"I want to look good, always. And low decollete, eet ees good for me. I say to myself, 'Densie, try to please everybodee . . . especially ze mens.'"

She's got another reason for those "I dare you" outfits she pours herself into.

"Ze boys, zey are always saying: 'Are you real?' Zees way, zey know for sure eet ees. So now I do not get so many of ze . . . 'ow you call it? . . . peenches . . . rough stoof.

"From far away I can be seen. Babee . . . I loff eet. Eet ees my life!"

When she first hit Hollywood, fresh from a triumphal season in Paris, the wolves fell over each other scrambling to her doorstep.

"I change my telephone call a dozen times," she breezed. "I go to all ze clobs. And I wear my low necklines. Ze men like eet . . . and so do ze womens. Zey say: 'Denise, where you get zat gown? I want one like eet.'

"Bot now . . . I stay home by my fireside wees my boy friend."

But the rest of the bachelors needn't feel so bad. There are plenty more at home like Denise. She has four sisters and she says they're all as "healthy looking as me."
