Talmadge To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Ethics Committee is opening its first public scrutiny of a senator's ethics in 12 years by calling former and current employees of Sen. Herman Talmadge to testify.

The proceedings today against Talmadge, who has been accused of financial misconduct, are the first held by the committee since its hearings in 1966 and 1967 that led to the censure of former Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn.

Charged For Assault

HOUSTON (AP)—A Houston man, who shot at his maid and held police at bay for nearly 13 hours, has been charged with aggravated assault. But police say they still don't know what triggered his outburst.

Jerry A. Becker, 38, remained in custody Sunday on $1,000 bond set by State District Judge Joseph M. Guarino.

The maid, Juanita Levy, 48, escaped without injury Saturday and Becker surrendered peacefully after threatening to shoot anyone who tried to enter his house.

More Dirt For Dikes

PEMBINA, N.D. (AP)—Residents of this northeastern North Dakota farming town feverishly "tore up all of south Pembina looking for dirt" to raise their earthen dikes even more in their battle against a sea of flood water more than 10 miles wide.

"We even dug up lawns to get dirt because a lot of splash is blowing over the south dike," said Ed Jundt, 48.

Jundt directs the flood fighting effort in this upper Red River Valley community of 850 persons two miles from Canada.

Found Less Hunger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teams of doctors touring the rural backwaters and urban slums of America found far less hunger there than similar groups encountered 10 years ago, according to a new study.

The Field Foundation report, being delivered today to the nutrition subcommittee of the Senate Agriculture Committee, concluded that the billions of dollars spent in a 10-year federal government war on hunger were largely effective.

The new report says hunger has not been erased and suggests that in terms of jobs, housing and medical attention, "the facts of life for Americans living in poverty remain as dark or darker than they were 10 years ago.

Recession Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)-A government index designed to gauge the nation's economic outlook declined in March for the third consecutive month, providing new evidence the economy may be headed for a sharp slowdown and a possible recession.

Look For Tags

WASHINGTON (AP)—Motorists alarmed about skyrocketing gasoline prices can minimize high driving costs by using new black-and-yellow tags going up on service station pumps.

The new tags show the octane of the gasoline and thus provide a way for the motorist to avoid the common practice of buying a gasoline with an unnecessarily high octane - and price.

"What we are talking about is perhaps a 2-or-3-cent reduction per gallon, which certainly won't offset every ... price increase," said Commissioner David Clanton of the Federal Trade Commission. "But it at least will help."

Attorneys At Rally

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—Volunteer attorneys circulated among anti-nuclear activists, offering advice and helping to keep order as more than 280 persons were arrested in a tightly orchestrated protest at the Rocky Flats nuclear weapons plant.

Draft Loses 1st Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)--A proposed renewal of a limited draft lost its first vote in Congress in a House subcommittee today, but proposed renewal of draft registration for young men was easily approved.

The House military personnel subcommittee rejected 5-4 a proposal by Rep. G.V. Montgomery, D-Miss., to draft up to 200,000 young men a year into the Individual Ready Reserve.

But it approved by voice vote a proposal to require young men turning 18 years of age after Dec. 31, 1980 to register in case a draft is ever reinstituted for a war or other national emergency.

Q--I've been told that there is a "pledge" to the Texas flag. If so, how does it go?

A--Yes, there is such a pledge. It was first adopted in 1933 and was amended in 1965 when it was discovered that the original version had an inaccurate statement. The 1933 pledge to the Texas flag said: "Honor the Texas Flag of 1836; we pledge our loyalty to thee! Texas one and indivisible." Later, someone called attention to the fact that the Lone Star flag of Texas was not formally adopted until 1839. So, in 1965, the pledge was changed to: "Honor the Texas flag; I pledge allegiance to thee, Texas, one and indivisible."

Early Effort On Weevil Control Due

Scurry County cotton producers are making plans for an early boll weevil control effort this season.

Directors of the producers association this morning agreed on plans.

Traps to provide up to date information on boll weevil population were being distributed today.

The producers earlier had agreed to recommend May 14 as a uniform planting date for cotton in the county. If the early control program is followed, cooperation on the planting date will be even more important, it was noted.

Abandon Strike...

Some Teamsters Return To Road

By EARL BOHN
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP)-Some Teamster steel haulers returned to the road today after a month-long strike over a proposed contract and the right to vote on the pact.

A spot check by The Associated Press with several large steel carriers in the Pittsburgh area revealed that many drivers had decided to abandon the strike.

"Everything seems to be over. We haven't had any trouble overnight and nothing has been reported anywhere else," said a spokesman for [illegible] Nicholas Transfer Co.

"We're moving here this morning," said an official of Lake Shore Motor Freight Lines.

Most affected steel companies said layoffs would continue until truck availability improved and stored steel could be moved out.

The dissident Teamsters for a Democratic Union called for a general return to work on Sunday following an end-the-strike vote by the largest steel-hauling local in the Teamsters union.

"Our committee's advocating that we not make a last ditch stand," an aide to TDU leader Ken Paff said in Detroit on Sunday after the 1,600-member Local 800 voted here to return to work.

The vote came as support for the month-long strike waned in the East, where some non-striking union members had already resumed hauling general freight and steel.

The strike had kept many of the Teamsters' estimated 17,000 steel haulers idle since April 1, and forced the layoff of some 6,000 mill workers because steel shipments were bottled up.

Steel haulers in Youngstown, Ohio, were scheduled to vote on a possible return to work today, TDU said.

Members of steel-hauling Local 92 in Canton, Ohio, voted Sunday to end the strike if holdout companies signed the agreement and agreed to immediate pay for six days' retroactive sick pay negotiated in the proposed agreement.

"In Gary Ind. they'll be in full operation Monday. In Detroit, Cleveland, Canton, Ohio, and Erie, Pa., they don't think they're going to be able to hold up past Monday," on spokesman said.

Boat People Dock In Iowa

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)-A group of 167 Vietnamese boat people who say they "feel like we have been reborn" has traded the steamy tropics of Southeast Asia for the cold prairies of the Midwest.

Many of the refugees wore light clothing and sandals, the children shorts and small tops, as they arrived in 50-degree weather Sunday after a 24-hour flight from Malaysia, where most of them have been living on boats along the coast.

Sullivan Winner In School Race

Lillie Sullivan, who waged a write-in campaign in the April 7 school election here, won a seat on the board Saturday in a runoff with Vera McSpadden, incumbent.

Mrs. Sullivan received 415 votes, while Mrs. McSpadden received 362 votes from a moderate turnout in the runoff balloting Saturday.

The new board member will take her place on the board at the regular meeting scheduled for May 8, following official canvas of the returns from the Saturday runoff election.

Mrs. Sullivan who did not decide to become a candidiate until the filing deadline had passed, campaigned as a write-in candidate and received 300 votes as runnerup to Mrs. McSpadden's 369 in the April 7 voting.

LILLIE SULLIVAN

She will become the second new member of the board. Bill Seale succeeded Max von Roeder after he won a two-man race on April 7. Von Roeder did not seek re-election.

informer methods

The Communist regimes in Russia and China along with nearly all dictatorships rely on informers to gain greater control over the whole population. The method starts first with neighbors and as it grows it even encompasses family members. The idea of squealing as a tool for those in power has human traits working to bring it about.

Just about the worst in human nature can be utilized by authoritarians to enhance their power over the populace. Envy, spite and covetousness are prime motivators for those who can be induced to inform on their fellowmen. Most people tend to abhor the role of informer, but as it is promoted by officials and becomes more prevalent it is accepted or tolerated by those of weak conviction. Christians relate such action to Judas who revealed Christ to the soldiers.

Now we find the Carter administration seeking informers in its feeble attempts to curb inflation. Even if government officials were on the right track to stop inflation, asking Americans to become informers so that their neighbors can be fleeced by regulators is following the path of all dictators.

The call for what was called "public involvement" was issued by Alfred Kahn, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, and Esther Peterson, the White House consumer adviser. It was coupled with an announcement that the administration would publish a monthly pamphlet advising consumers on how to use their buying power to combat inflation.

Kahn called the effort a call to the grassroots for help in monitoring prices "out in the field." He said most of the monitoring would be carried out through a program set up by the AFL-CIO and through a coalition group of organized labor and Ralph Nader-connected organizations.

This should cause businessmen, professional people and thoughtful Americans to flinch. With this bunch acting as informers, people engaged in private enterprise will have about as much of a future as the sheep led by the goat.

The American Dental Association's Council on Dental Education is concerned.

Tuition and fees for first year dental students at dental schools have increased to an average total of $3,468 a 16.8 percent jump in the last year. As an apparent consequence, there has been a noticeable decrease in the number of applications being received, down 18 to 20 percent. Many able students, the council fears, are no longer considering the profession because of the steep entry fee.

Inflation, it appears, knows no limits. Now it's putting the bite on our supply of future dentists.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

I think it's safe to say that I lusted after a food processor for two years.

I wanted it to give birth to my zucchini, respond to my push-button control and flash those whirling blades just for me.

Being practical, however, I had to justify it. I told my husband the children would make better grades in school if their carrots were sliced uniformly. I told him no one would need glasses if we got the lumps out of the white sauce. And once I got the hang of how to use all the blades, I could take in potatoes to slice for profit.

He bought it. Literally.

The first week I dedicated my life to chopping slicing and grating. I had bags of sliced tomatoes, bags of chopped onions, bags of diced peppers, bags of soups, bags of mushrooms, bags of ground meat, bags of bread dough and if they ever made a pizza the size of the Astrodome, I had the grated cheese for it.

My refrigerator looked like pillow city.

One morning, my husband opened the refrigerator door and shut it quickly. "What's that blob in there?"

"What blob?"

"The one that is restless."

"It's pureed lettuce."

It was clearly time to move on to the next plateau: sauces. I had bags of mayonnaise, bags of hollandaise sauce and bags of white sauce. Maybe it was a coincidence, but in moving a bag of lemon sauce one day I was struck with the similarity to the pouch I was carrying on my hips.

By the time I got to the chapter on breads, cakes, and cookies, I began getting complaints from the family. My husband said to me one afternoon, "I don't know how to tell you this, but I have never trusted anything ground up. Somehow I always feel they are hiding something by giving it another form."

"What are you trying to say?"

"I am sick of sipping salads through a straw. I cannot eat another thing that is chopped, sliced, diced, liquefied, mashed or grated."

"Maybe we could have another baby?" I asked brightly.

"Well, maybe just a little more pureed lettuce," he said, extending his plate.

Plant Site Evaluation Open Record

AUSTIN (AP)-City officials cannot withhold facts in an evaluation report of sludge disposal plant sites once the purchase of the site is completed, the attorney general said Monday.

The request for the opinion came from Houston City Attorney Robert M. Collie Jr. who said the city had been asked for a copy of the report of a private consulting firm's study of possible site locations for the Northwest Sludge Treatment Plant. The city contended the report was excepted from public disclosure under the Texas Open Records Act.

The opinion said the report was prepared in 1975 and one of the sites evaluated was purchased in 1977. No further action has been taken on construction of the plant which is expected to be needed by 1983-85.

The city contends the report should be kept secret because the city has made no formal announcement that it will proceed with the construction at the site.

WASHINGTON (NEA)— There is a real danger, as the lines are drawn for a protracted debate over the SALT II treaty, that both sides will become so fascinated by the trees that they lose sight of the forest.

On a subject as complex as strategic arms control, it is all too easy to become mired in endless argument over details ranging from the heavy missile "gap" to verification problems of telemetry encryption.

But for the Senate, and indeed for the country, only one question ultimately matters. Will the United States be better off— strategically politically and economically - with this treaty or without it?

Even the most ardent advocates of SALT II readily admit it is not a perfect agreement. It will limit the nuclear arms race, but it will not halt it. It will preserve the stragetic balance between the United States and the Soviet Union, but it will not restore the clear superiority this country enjoyed at an earlier stage of the nuclear era. It will keep alive the possibility of further strategic arms limitations but will not guarantee warmer relations with the Russians in other spheres. It is a limited treaty, with limited objectives.

Yet having said all that, it is still difficult to see how rejection of this treaty could possibly enhance U.S. interests.

To reject SALT II would be to snap, perhaps permanently, the heretofore unbroken momentum of arms control efforts dating back to the 1963 nuclear test ban treaty.

That is a dangerous signal to transmit, not only to the Soviet Union but to the rest of the world as well. It would inevitably heighten tensions between this country and the USSR at a period when relations are none too good in any case, and the blame - in the eyes of other nations - would fall squarely on the United States.

In the absence of mutually agreed-upon ground rules, both sides would abruptly escalate the development and deployment of still more missiles and weapons systems.

Merely by continuing their arms buildup at its current pace, the Soviets by 1985 could have up to 3,000 strategic nuclear delivery systems - i.e., missile launchers and heavy bombers - which is more than we could acquire even with a massively expensive crash building program. The United States, according to the Pentagon estimates, would still have more warheads than the Soviets, but theirs would pack greater destructive power.

Nothing in SALT II precludes the United States from the development of new weapons that our military planners consider desirable, such as the mobile MX missile. Yet rejection of the treaty would not speed up production and deployment of such weapons by one day - we're moving as fast as we can already.

Verification - the ability of the United States to monitor Soviet compliance with SALT II treaty provisions and to detect any cheating in a timely fashion - has become a major point of controversy in this entire debate.

But if it is hard to be sure that the Russians aren't cheating under a treaty which specifically prohibits concealment measures, how on earth could we have confidence that we knew what they were up to when there was nothing to preclude concealment of their weapons activity?

With or without a SALT II treaty, this country's basic strategic deterrent will remain adequate for the foreseeable future. That is to say, we could absorb a surprise first strike by the Russians and still retaliate - from our submarines and alert bombers - with enough destructive force to wipe out the Soviet Union as a functioning society.

But the object of SALT II, and the arms agreement which preceded it and hopefully will follow in years ahead, is to make it a little less likely that such a nuclear Armageddon will ever arrive.

SALT II is not the be-all and end-all of nuclear arms control. It is merely one more step along a difficult and danger-packed road. But it is, at least, a step in the right direction.

Your Birthday

May 1, 1979

This coming year you may undertake some creative new projects that will prove both stimulating and rewarding. All the work that you wish to handle will be yours.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Mental work could prove frustrating today, and you run the risk of having to do everything twice. Be careful when using machinery. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 289, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) One of your outside interests is going to cost you a lot more money than you budgeted for. Call things off if find you can't afford it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Competition is running exceptionally stiff today. You'd be wise to retreat and reorganize for another day, when the odds aren't so overwhelming.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're not in the mood to have someone tell you how to think today. Unfortunately, you'll be running into quite a few people who will. Keep your cool.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not a good day to get too involved where money is concerned. Something may go wrong and hard feelings will result.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct 23) It's not like you, but today you may put your interests far above others. If you do, you could be told off in no uncertain terms.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you keep looking for ulterior motives in everything another does, you are bound to find something to cause you undue distress.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Should you see someone coming who has rubbed you the wrong way before, make a fast retreat. You won't have the patience to cope, and sparks will fly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Count to 10 before you say what's on your mind, even if you think you are in the right. Your pride might remain intact, but it'll only put you in the doghouse.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Too many chiefs and not enough Indians on the job today will bring about chaotic conditions. Don't contribute to the disorder.

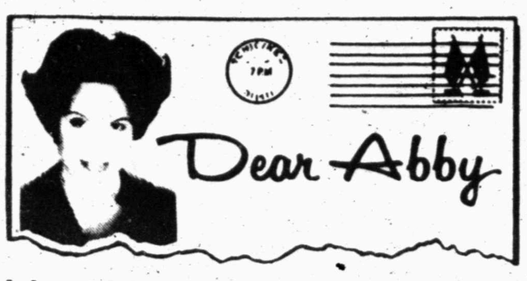

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) All your good resolutions about not spending more than you should could go by the boards today if your "I gotta have it now" psyche takes over.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't take it out on the family if you find yourself in a grouchy mood today. A little patience and cooperation on your part is called for to set thing right.

He Won't Accept Her Gift of Gab

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What's my problem? My husband doesn't want me to talk to him. Gerhard asks me not to talk to him during mealtime because he's "busy" eating. He doesn't want me to talk to him while he's driving because he's "busy" driving. And God forbid I should try to talk to him while he's reading or watching TV!

Abby, this is very hard on me because I come from a large, talkative Jewish family and I love to talk. Gerhard is half Norwegian and half German. (Cold and bossy.)

He calls me from work every day to find out what was in the mail. Then I get to talk.

Please put this in your column. Gerhard never misses "Dear Abby," and it's the only way to tell him what I think.

ESTHER IN FLATBUSH

DEAR ESTHER: If this is the only way of telling Gerhard what you think, face it, Esther, your marriage is finished in English, "kaput" in German. "ferdig" in Norwegian, and "in drerd" in Yiddish.

DEAR ABBY: What does a person do when a friend has lost a member of his family by suicide? It doesn't seem right to ignore the tragedy. Yet you can't write a note saying, "I was sorry to hear that your father shot himself." If I said, "shot himself accidentally," would that be better?

R.R. IN S.F.

DEAR R.R.: No. Just offer your condolences and don't mention the circumstances.

DEAR ABBY: We live in a first-class high-rise and pay high rent. We walk as lightly as possible so we don't disturb the tenants below us. We keep the volume on our TV low after 10 p.m., and ask our guests to keep the noise down out of consideration for our neighbors.

Last month a young couple moved in above us, and I've never heard such noisy people! And what sounds like stereo music goes continually—and very loud.

I complained to the manager, and she suggested I speak to them, so I went up and asked in a VERY nice way if they could be a little more quiet. They slammed the door in my face!

Since then, out of spite, they've been noisier than ever. I complained to the manager again. She said she was sorry but there was nothing she could do.

Our nerves are shot. We're not old grouches. We are reasonable people. What should we do? We have another two years to go on our lease.

NOWHERE TO TURN

DEAR NOWHERE: Assuming the apartment manager is not the owner, appeal to the owner of the building. If that doesn't bring results, hunt up another apartment. And about that lease—hunt up a lawyer.

Do you wish you had more friends? For the secret of popularity, get Abby's new booklet: "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Hemorrhoid treatment

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 59-year-old man and have trouble with hemorrhoids. A specialist did a sigmoidoscope examination and checked me out in general. He said to soak my hemorrhoids and stay away from spices, roughage and booze. Whenever I have a bowel movement it hurts and stings for awhile. I have been back to the doctor a couple of times and he said I'm too old for surgery so I'd have to live with it. This doctor is a specialist in the field of rectal problems. Have you any suggestions?

DEAR READER — I think you have misunderstood what your doctor said or misinterpreted his meaning. If at age 59 you're too old for surgery, there are an awful lot of people having surgery who are too old for it. He either thinks your hemorrhoids are of such a nature that you don't require surgery at this time or you must have some rather serious health problems that are not mentioned in your letter.

Hemorrhoids are simply varicose veins of the rectum. The veins become overstretched and dilated. Women are more prone to have them than men because of childbirth. The delivery of the baby's head creates so much pressure on the veins in this area that it often results in hemorrhoids.

That should be a good tip to you that any obstruction or mass in this area which presses on the veins can cause hemorrhoids to pop out. That's why anyone who first develops hemorrhoids should do exactly as you did and go see a doctor. It might not be simple hemorrhoids. There may be something above the hemorrhoids such as a mass or tumor that is causing the problem. The only way the question can be answered is with a direct examination.

Some doctors would not agree entirely with other comments in your letter. The pain that occurs with hemorrhoids during a bowel movement is often associated with hard stools. For this reason stool softeners are often helpful. Some of the bulk expanders work because they keep the stools soft. The water that's trapped in the undigested food residue keeps the material soft.

You need to develop good bowel habits to avoid hard stools that cause problems and to avoid straining. To help you I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Irritable and Spastic Colon and Constipation. It includes information you can use. Others who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Most doctors would agree that spices and alcohol are not good for people that have hemorrhoids. Incidentally, there are a number of minor office procedures which can be done for some types of hemorrhoids. These include such things as tying them off with rubber bands. On the surface that sounds a little wild but it's not and it works very well in some cases. The thing is the doctor has to select the type of case that he can do this type of procedure in. In very advanced cases of hemorrhoids, it won't work or if it does, the procedure becomes as extensive as a standard hemorrhoidectomy.

For Rest Of Year

Iran To Average 3.5-4 Million Barrels Daily

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)-The National Iranian Oil Co. says production of Iranian crude oil will average 3.5 million to 4 million barrels a day for the rest of the year, with a total of 1.05 million barrels daily going to Exxon, Texaco, Gulf, Caltex and Shell.

Reza Azimi, the company's marketing director, told a news conference Sunday nine-month contracts had been agreed on with 35 countries and oil companies. He said the price was $16.57 a barrel for light crude and $16.04 for heavy crude.

Azimi said all the buyers agreed not to sell any of the oil to South Africa or Israel.

Before the revolution that drove Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi from the throne. Iran produced an average of 6 million barrels of crude oil daily and exported 5.3 million.

The head of the Iranian oil company, Hassan Nazih, told the news conference the government is limiting daily production to 4 million barrels for the time being.

"We at this time do not need any foreign personnel at any level," he declared.

Before the revolution, some 600 foreign technicians were employed in the industry by the Oil Services Co., which was owned by 17 foreign oil companies and produced and marketed most of Iran's oil for the national company.

"OSCO is finished," said Nazih.

Azimi said the company sold oil on the spot market in March for $18.70 to $22.20 a barrel and will continue to sell 200,000 to 300,000 barrels a day on a spot basis.

Industry sources expect Iran's daily oil income to average $48 million to $50 million.

Blue Ribbons In Two Events, Second In Another Makes...

Tigers Top Regional Leapers; Three Qualify!

ODESSA—As the spectators squint into the sun trying to study the proceedings in Austin, one can almost hear what they'll be thinking.

"Look there! It's bird, a golden plane! No, it's, it's..."

Chances are, it will be a gold-shirted athlete from Snyder High School, which qualified three pilots to state in the Region I boys track meet here Saturday.

Preferring the airways to the crowded runways, Snyder's trio of state qualifiers all got their glory in field events; the long jump, high jump and pole vault.

Sophomore vaulter Dale Jenkins was the first Tiger to earn a May 10-11 trip to Austin - his second. The lanky lad, known as "The Kid" to coaches and fellow athletes, left the regional opposition behind at 13-6, and went on to clear a disappointing 14-9 before he was through.

Disappointing? "I really wanted to get fifteen feet," he explained of the elusive magic number which has haunted him before this year. "It's still there, though," he added, giving in to the excitement.

Not quite as disappointed was Brad Richardson, another sophomore, who cleared 6-6 to pass up the high jump crowd, and went a record-breaking 6-8 as an encore. His only unhappy moment was failing at 6-9, but that didn't last long.

"I'm kind of surprised I did as well as I did," he smiled after the event was finally over. "I was very, very nervous."

The other airborne qualifier for Snyder was junior Thomas Selmon. He was also having his problems, but hung in there for a second-place ribbon for his effort of 22 feet, six inches. Andrews' Van Pearcy won the event with 23-0.

"I'm just not getting off right," he commented early in the competition, following a jump of 19 feet and some-odd inches. "I took off on that one from behind the board, but that's no excuse. There's no excuse for that."

Like Richardson, Semon's efforts were hampered by a nervousness hard to shake. Pearcy had already jumped what was to be the winning mark, and Lee Malone of Burkburnett was giving the Tiger junior a strong load of competition.

"Well, I think we did real well," said Coach Winfred Shipp after the meet. "Some things we didn't do as well as we had hoped, but we qualified three kids to the state meet. It's a young team. We expect to be a little stronger next year. For starters, these three kids (Selmon, Richardson, Jenkins) will be back."

Senior Ronnie Collins concluded his high school track career with a respectable third place finish in the 100-yard dash. Estacado's Robert Humphrey won the event with a 9.4 district record while Jerry Issacs of Dunbar was second with a 9.6. Collins ran a 9.92.

Lloyd Benson, a junior, finished fifth in the 440 dash with a time of 50.95.

Favored Estacado wound up third place overall when the meet concluded in the early afternoon. The Matadors were disqualified in the first running event of the day - the sprint relay - and were unable to make up the loss of points. Instead, Dunbar took the meet championship with 58 points, while Ector was second with 51½ and Estacado third with 50. Vernon and Andrews were next with 47 and 41, while Snyder took sixth with 38.

The state qualifying Tigers provided 28 of the points, while Collins' third place added 6, and Benson's sprint made up the other four.

Snyder unfortunately failed to garner any points in the 220, mile, 330 hurdles, sprint or mile relay, or with other entries in the long jump and high jump.

In the Class A finals, held in conjunction with the AAA meet, Rotan's Freddie Acorn won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes to qualify for state. Acorn - a defending Class A champion - turned in respective times of 9.65 and 22.09.

Snyder Dominates Pump Jack Meet

Bill Moss and Ronnie Huckabee carded a 66 on Saturday and a 65 Sunday to grab a victory in the Pump Jack Golf Tournament held at Snyder Country Club over the weekend.

Moss and Huckabee, a pair of Monahans natives, shot a total 131 to win the Championship Flight by five strokes over Larry Anderson of Snyder and Irving's Don Copeland (136).

The final round, Championship, First and Second Flight Sunday, concluded the two-day tournament, which actually got started with some contests Friday.

"It all went real well," commented a tired Don Bryant, local golf pro and course manager. "I think we impressed a lot of people, especially those from out of town. They couldn't say enough about the greens. I had to agree with them though. The greens were in fantastic condition."

A new irrigation system is partly responsible. Give credit too to Bryant and his help. "All my crew did a great job. Boy, the help I got!"

Snyderites dominated the tournament, winning the First, Second, Third and Fifth flights.

Jerry Jackson and Rick Rose fired a 69-75 for a 144 total to turn low team in the First flight.

The Second flight resulted in a tie, with Dan Gallagher and Larry Hildreth of Snyder shooting a 75-75 and Clyde Hall of Snyder and partner Rick Hall of Denver City carding a 73-77.

Bear Hardin and Don Sealy won the Third flight with a 149 total (70-79), and Bill Winborn and Ray Browning of Pampa won the Fourth flight with a 155 (74-81). Another tie in the fifth flight split the honors between Bryce Booker and Rod Waller of Snyder, 80-87, and John Risenhoover of Snyder and Joe Melton of Midland, 81-86.

In the close to the pin contests, Moss drove 8 feet, 10 inches from No. 9, while Dick Hammett drove 5-5½ from No. 5. Both won trips to Las Vegas.

The next two major events on the Snyder Country Club schedule will be the Raggedy Ann and Andy Couples Invitational on June 2-3, and the Earl Fish Invitation on July 10.

Says Texaco...

Tougher Than Ever To Continue Operating

By Kathleen Carroll
Associated Press Writer

Big oil companies are reporting soaring profits as gasoline prices skyrocket, but many Texaco service station operators across Texas say for them, it's tougher than ever to stay in business.

Texaco retailers complain they are having to pay higher prices for their gasoline than competitors, and some say only customer loyalty keeps them afloat in the face of the added problem of rising rents and allocation cutbacks.

"Texaco is plumb out of the ballpark," said Dave Cook, who runs a Texaco service station in Lubbock. "Their gas is so much higher, I've got a competitor who pays eight cents less a gallon than I do. I'm lucky he's a small station.

"The only people who are sticking by us are the true-hearted Texaco customers plus those people who don't have much choice. Like when I'm the only station open," Cook added. "Why should they pay more for self-serve than they can for full-serve down the street? They drive on through, and I don't blame them.

"A lot of dealers figure Texaco is the first to go up and the last to come down."

Last week, Texaco reported a first-quarter net income of $137.27 million, a profit increase of 81 percent over last year.

Texaco wholesale distributor Thomas "Buck" Abraham agreed the situation isn't good, but he says customers don't always give the dealers a fair break.

"I don't know why everyone has to put a black hat on everybody in the oil business," he said.

Dale Maron, who runs a Texaco in Tyler says he's paying more for gasoline, but his regular customers keep him going.

"My prices are high, I'll be the first to admit it," he said. "But I've got to pass it on to the customer.

"And I'm still below ceiling."

Texaco spokesman Tom Norwood in Houston admitted the company is higher in price than many competitors, but said the increases are legitimate.

"I can appreciate that they (the dealers) are unhappy," he said. "We are unhappy with the situation in that we are having to allocate our product and all the while costs are going up continually."

"It's a bad deal for all of us," said Barney Crawford, another Tyler station operator, saying he has been stung by escalating lease prices. "I signed a 3-year lease 18 months ago and it really jumped then. Before then, I paid rent according to the number of gallons I pumped. It was an incentive to stay open 24 hours. But now, if I don't get but 20,000 gallons a month, I still gotta pay the same rent."

Jack Stults, a Dallas dealer said his rent "jumped from $1,300 to $1,800 a month."

Eagle Forum Sponsoring Luncheon

The local chapter of Eagle Forum is sponsoring a luncheon in conjunction with the Washington D.C. movement on May 1, "America Under God."

It is expected that 100,000 people of all faiths will be participating in a day-long, peaceful demonstration in prayer and song at the Capitol, White House, Lincoln Memorial and The Washington Monument.

Snyder is cooperating in the local sense by extending a special invitation to all ministers and their wives to be special guests at a luncheon on Tuesday at the First Baptist Church from noon to 1 p.m. Eagle Forum members are asked to be there also with a large dish of food.

In Texas Legislature...

Home Mortgage Rates Issue Burning Again

AUSTIN (AP)-Home mortgage interest rates - an explosive legislative issue that had been defused - apparently is burning again.

With only four weeks remaining in the 140-day regular session, the legislative pace was certain to speed up.

An indication of the Legislature's staggering work load before adjournment May 28 was the listing of 30 bills on the calendar of the Senate Economic Development Committee for today.

The committee agenda usually has 10 bills at the most.

Gov. Bill Clements apparently had shut off a proposal to raise mortgages rates from 10 to 12 per cent by stating he would veto the bill.

Interest was revived, however, when the Federal National Mortgage Association announced Thursday it will no longer buy mortgages in Texas that exceed the 10 per cent maximum. Mortgage bankers at a Houston convention unanimously urged Clements to reconsider his position.

They say the Texas usury ceiling of 10 per cent makes it unprofitable to do business in the state.

The mortgage rate bill is on organized labor's "10 Most Wanted Bad Bills," list and also is opposed by Texas farmers and the Texas Consumer Association.

If Senate sponsor Bill Meier, D-Euless, can get 21 votes to bring the bill up for debate, a filibuster is almost certain.

Delaying tactics also might be used in the senate against bills to lower usury penalties, provide employer self-insurance against workers' compensation compensation claims and make changes in the consumer credit code.

A controversial presidential primary bill could face its first floor test. Sen. Jack Ogg, D-Houston, wants to hold a March 1980 presidential primary separate from general party primaries in May.

State chairman of both the Republican and Democratic parties criticize Ogg's bill as an invitation to crossover voting.

Senate debate is expected soon on a proposed tax relief bill that would provide homestead exemptions for some elderly and disabled Texans and establish a special taxation formula for farm, ranch and timber land.

The Senate Finance Committee should get more exact figures this week on its proposed $20.9 billion state budget for 1980-81. The senate committee proposal is $600 million higher than the budget adopted by the House last week.

The Oaklawn Park racetrack in Hot Springs, Ark., calls itself the No. 1 tourist attraction in the state.

Baker To Run On GOP Ticket For President

WASHINGTON (AP)- Senate Minority Leader Howard Baker Jr. has all but made it official.

Baker said Sunday he is a candidate for the 1980 Republican presidential nomination. But, in an interview on CBS' "Face the Nation," he said he would formally announce his candidacy later at a "media event." The Tennessee Republican said that while he plans to hold onto his Senate leadership post, he will let Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, assistant minority leader, assume most of his duties. Baker has made no secret of his presidential ambitions, but it was his strongest statement to date on his plans.

CIA Better After Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)- CIA Director Stansfield Turner says the CIA is a better organization now, after having gone through the recent period of changes.

In an interview with U.S. News & World Report, Turner agrees that the changes were unsettling, but he said there is "no question it's been worth it, in my view." He said there have been some morale problems in the intelligence agency because of the frustrations caused by the changes.

Cowgirl Hurt During Rodeo

Linda Grabiel, a Sul Ross student participating in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, was injured in a fall from her horse Saturday night.

The cowgirl reportedly sustained a jaw injury. She was picked up by Galyean Ambulance Service and taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released.

The accident occurred during the barrel race when her horse overshot a barrel, came too close to a fence and shied, throwing its rider.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap

A minor traffic accident was investigated by city police Sunday afternoon.

The collision occurred at College Ave. and Towle Park and involved a 1979 Chevrolet driven by William Sterling Jennings and a 1967 Plymouth driven by Jesus Guerra.

It was reported at 3:35 p.m.
