NORRIS WEEPS IN WITNESS BOX JIM FERGUSON DENOUNCED IN HOUSE REPORT

USURPED POWER OF WIFE, CLAIM OF EX-SPEAKER

COMMERCIALISM CHARGE IN REPORT; NO ACTION DECIDED UPON

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 21.—Seathing denunciation of the activities of James E. Ferguson during the two year gubernatorial term of his wife, Miriam A. Ferguson, is the dominant note of the report of the house investigating committee made public today.

The report was read Friday to the house in open and regular session by Representative Lee Satterwhite of Amarillo, chairman of the investigating committee, after an unsuccessful attempt by Representative Ruben Loftin to prevent its reading.

Loftin pointed out the report would be printed and could be read by the members at their leisure. Loftin was Ferguson's floor leader in the 39th legislature.

House is Pleased
After hearing the report, the house apparently was a loss as to what to do with it. After some discussion, however, the view of Satterwhite and Teer that no action was needed, since no recommendations were made, prevailed, and the report was ordered printed in the house journal, subject to resolutions at any future time.

The committee of nine was named last fall at the special session of the 39th legislature.

Governor Ferguson's liberal pardon policy was condemned. She granted 2,500 pardons.

Term Called "Disgraceful"
"Not in the history of organized government of our beloved state has there been such a disgraceful disregard for the proper and just punishment of criminals, and the safeguard of the people, and property of this state, as has been shown by the governor of Texas in the past two years by her indiscriminate and super-liberal pardoning policy," the report said.

"We have not been able to obtain the testimony of all the witnesses summoned by this committee for the purpose."

SENATORS TALK OF NICARAGUAN WRANGLE AGAIN

GRAVE DANGER SEEN FOR FOREIGNERS; GUNBOAT ORDERED OUT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Nicaraguan question comes to the fore again today with a meeting by the senate foreign relations committee to consider whether it will make public a "corrected" copy of Secretary Kellogg's testimony before it and to take up the resolutions calling for withdrawal of American naval forces from the war torn Central American republic.

Although it is conceded that there is slender prospect of any of these resolutions being adopted, President Coolidge believes that American marines and blue jackets now in Nicaragua should not be kept there any longer than the situation demands.

Cesar is Accepted
Accepting the credentials of Alejandro Cesar, first minister from Nicaragua under the present Conservative regime of Alfredo Diaz, the president said yesterday that although American forces had been landed, with the consent and at the request of Diaz, in order to protect American lives and property and legitimate interests of the United States, "this state of affairs should not continue longer than is necessary."

The minister told Mr. Coolidge that Nicaragua "looks confidently to the United States for guidance, cooperation and aid."

President Answers Critics
The president further answered critics of his policy in Nicaragua by asserting that the United States "has no selfish ends or imperialistic designs to serve" in that country.

"Least of all," he added in addressing the minister, "have we any desire to influence or dictate in any way the internal affairs of your country."

"The United States," he said, "desires the independence and the prosperity of every Central American republic. The foundations for permanent stability within Nicaragua must, of course, be laid by its own government."

GALVESTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Trial of Captains H. H. Haden and V. C. Amburt pilots, charged with arson in connection with the burning of the tug Mamie Higgins for the alleged purpose of collecting insurance, was resumed in federal court here this morning.

Jenkins, a former member of the Galveston Pilots association, testified to the sale of the Mamie Higgins to the defendants by the association for $5,000. E. A. Lallier testified that Captain Haden had offered the tug for sale for $17,000 while she was still the property of the pilots association. It is charged that the two defendants collected $10,000 insurance on the vessel.

Frank Smith, Illinois Senator-Elect, Is Barred Pending Another Investigation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Denied a seat in the senate to which he holds a certificate of appointment, Frank L. Smith of Illinois, must await another investigation into the financing of his primary campaign last year and a vote on the findings before learning whether he will sit in the present congress.

Smith had no comment to make, but he left immediately for his hotel to prepare a statement for publication. Governor Small, who appointed Smith to serve out the unexpired term of the late Senator McKinley, whom he defeated for the next congress at last year's primary, said at Springfield that he had no statement to make at this time.

DR. GUY LONGBOTHAM IS DEAD, P. E. LITTLE IS HURT IN AFFRAY

(Special to the Journal)

BIG SPRING, Jan. 21.—Frontier days were recalled here this morning and bullets raked a portion of the principal business district when Dr. Guy Longbotham, local chiropractor, and P. E. Little, also a Big Spring citizen, settled a personal feud in a fatal gunfight. Longbotham is dead and Little is in the Mercy hospital, suffering from wounds sustained when his shotgun barrage was answered by the chiropractor's pistol.

According to meagre information Little opened fire on Longbotham as the latter drove up in front of his office, ripping a shotgun charge into his left side. Longbotham drew his pistol and shot Little, one bullet entering his hip and another grazing his neck. The chiropractor died a few minutes after the shooting and Little was taken to the sanitarium for medical treatment.

Sheriff Frank House, of Howard county, told the Journal over long distance telephone this afternoon that while he "knows all about the case" that he would not make a statement. In answer to a question if family trouble was the cause House answered "I think so," but aside from that would make no other statement. He did admit, however, that the shooting had resulted in the death of Longbotham and the wounding of Little.

The jury in the case of M. PASTOR-SLAYER TELLS TALE OF CHIPPS' MURDER

LISTENS TENSELY WHILE LAWYERS LAMBAST HIS ACTIONS

(By Associated Press)

COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 21.—Dr. J. Frank Norris, fundamentalist pastor of Fort Worth, on the witness stand here today, told his story of how he killed Dexter E. Chipps in his church office last July 17.

Weeping and halting over each word, he related how Chipps had come to his office, had demanded that he cease attacks on Chipps' friends, had threatened to kill him, and of how he shot Chipps when he said the latter came at him with his hand on his hip pocket.

Listeners To Arguments
Before giving this part of the story he had heard himself bitterly lambasted and warmly defended by attorneys in arguments over the admission of certain evidence. He sat silently in the witness box for more than an hour listening to these arguments in which much of his past was raked over. The jury was absent during this discussion.

The debated evidence concerned a remote conversation alleged to have occurred between Mayor H. C. Meacham of Fort Worth and Norris, which Meacham admitted to introduce through Norris.

The judge ruled against the defense, but much of the difficulties between Norris and Meacham and the Fort Worth moral and political situation had been aired in addresses by attorneys to the court.

Dayton Moses Talks
The defense said they could link up the remote conversation in a chain of evidence with the killing of Chipps and in supporting this statement, Attorney Dayton Moses of the defense detailed a narrative in which Chipps, Meacham and Norris were mentioned.

JIM FERGUSON

pose of examining into the affairs, policies and acts of the chief executive of this state," the report said, explaining that the court of criminal appeals had held a legislative committee without authority to punish for contempt.

Say Jim Usurped Office
"However, notwithstanding this failure to secure, as we believe, much valuable information connected with the matters under investigation with reference to the executive office, yet we believe that the testimony is sufficient to establish the fact that the power and prestige of the governor's office during the years 1925 and 1926 have been practically usurped and dictated by a private citizen, the husband of the governor, for political favoritism and financial gain, and the fact that he was a private citizen has placed him beyond the pale of the law."

"We therefore now have no law or laws to prohibit such usurpation of power by a private citizen. Otherwise, there is no doubt in our minds but that the investigation made by the grand jury of Travis county and by this committee would have resulted in the return of indictments for criminal offenses. It is our opinion, further, that the only recourse under our existing laws, is by impeachment for the wrongs done to our state by the chief executive under the domination of her husband."

"Commercialism Appalling"
"The growing tendency for commercialism in state and federal government, as well as in the minor divisions of our organized government, is appalling, and reflects upon integrity and justice of a free and independent people."

"No private individual has been permitted to usurp the power and functions of the governor of this state, as no private individual should be granted, or permitted to exercise any special privileges when dealing with those in governmental authority. All should understand and know that they stand upon equal ground, and any attempt to sell or purchase political influence and favoritism should meet with prompt and just punishment."

Members Are Listed
The report was read by Representative Lee Satterwhite of Potter county. Other members: Representative Williamson of Bexar county, Vench of Johnson, Teer of Williamson, Powell of Montgomery, Wallace of Pecos, Fly of Gonzalez, Petch of Gillespie and Montgomery of Hidalgo.

"The first outstanding and bold effort to commercialize the governor's office came through what was generally known as the 'good will' edition of the Ferguson Forum, weekly newspaper, shown to have been owned, edited and published by James E. Ferguson, his wife, Miriam A. Ferguson, his daughter, Mrs. George S. Nalle, and Miss Dorrae Ferguson, also a daughter," the report said.

The report declared the Ferguson's realized thousands of dollars from Forum advertising, bought by road contractors, railroad corporations, oil companies, bankers, public service corporations, and individuals.

Other Gifts Charged
"At the same time the Ferguson's were obtaining money from the above named persons and corporations in the manner above shown, many of them were collecting thousands of dollars from the tax payers of this state in the way of highway contractors' freights, etc.," it said.

Concerning Mrs. Ferguson's economy acts, the committee said, "we do not believe and we think the testimony in the record will bear us out in saying that this policy cannot be charged to the feminine sympathy of a woman governor."

The limited testimony secured from witnesses, and an examination of the records in the office of the secretary of state show that practically all of the pardons granted were the result of recommendations by James E. Ferguson, who exercised the power and authority of governor of this state, in matters pertaining to pardons, as well as all other matters.

"The testimony shows that in the granting of these pardons that very little, if any, attention has been paid to the merit of the individual cases. Politics Charged Played "In numerous cases, the pardons and request of attorneys who were favorite friends and political supporters of the governor and her husband, and we believe that the evidence, taken as a whole, justifies us in saying that for the purpose of enabling the attorneys to collect fees."

Deiving at length into highway affairs one of the main subjects of investigation the report says "testimony of numerous witnesses, those beyond a doubt that James E. Ferguson absolutely dominated the affairs of the highway commission while Frank

George O'Brien Will Be At Palace Soon

George O'Brien, wearing an old stouch hat and a pair of oil-stained overalls, is seen in an entirely new role in "Fig Leaver," an original story written and directed for Fox Films by Howard Hawks. Olive Borden is cast as Eve Smith in this colorful comedy-drama which begins a two-day run at the Palace theater next Monday.

O'Brien, who is renowned for his clever characterizations in "Nasturtium," "The Iron Horse," "Three Bad Men" and other Fox releases which have had wide appeal, is cast as a stilt-walker young plumber in the Hawks production. This, according to intimate friends who have watched his career with keen interest, is one of the best parts George has had in recent months.

The graceful young star is given excellent opportunity for contrast, for opposed to his role of the plumber is a man designer in the person of Andre de Boranger. This masculine dresser becomes entangled in the domestic affairs of Adam Smith and before the action is ended, O'Brien shows the marvelous use that can be made of muscle.

CLEVELAND STANDS PAT FOR 1927 RACE

TEAM A STRONG RUNNER-UP FOR LAST CAMPAIGN

FIVE RECRUITS WILL BE IN TRAINING CAMP OF JACK McCALLISTER

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 21.—Jack McCallister, new manager of the Cleveland Indians, expects to fashion a winning team for the 1927 pennant race out of the same aggregation that followed his veteran predecessor Tris Speaker to the runner-up position in the American League last year.

McCallister intends to stand pat on the 1926 team. The Indians have made no trades nor any in prospect.

Five Rookies Listed

However, five recruits will join them for the training camp campaign and from this quintet all worthy youngsters who made impressive showings in the minors, McCallister expects to muster enough strength to bolster the team.

The new pilot will have his most trying time in filling the gap in center field left by Speaker's retirement. Speaker's uncanny fielding, his superb throwing and base running ability will not easily be substituted. Homer Summa, Pat McNulty or Freddy Eichrod may get the position or it may be one of the newcomers. The decision hinges on the performance of the aspirants.

Madlin is Praised

Of the five recruits, Willis Madlin, a 21 year old youngster, is not entirely a stranger to the Indians. He was with the tribe for a while last fall and is regarded as a likely candidate for a place on the 1927 pitching staff.

Earl Collins, product of the Three Eye League, is another prospect for a berth as a hurler. McCallister looks upon Lewis Fossaca, acquired from Newark after the close of the last season, as material to fortify the infield.

The other two newcomers are candidates for the outfield. George Gecken was obtained from Decatur and E. J. Webber from Dallas, where he played his first year of professional baseball in 1926.

Hitting Sports Highspots With James R. Dow

Well the Matadors have gotten off on the right foot, to say the least of the matter, they trampled the Wayland Baptist college Jackrabbits at the evening's performance with a score of 10 to 16, inability to take advantage of open shots caused the visitors to lose by such a wide margin.

'Buck' Weaver, the husky Matador center, paced the field for high point man, after being sent in as substitute for 'Red' Dean, the Matador's ranga lad, who falls from Sudin. Weaver ranked up six field goals for a total of twelve points.

Wearers of the abbreviated uniforms of Scarlet and Black are somewhat weak in their defense; this is

BILL JAMES

Denial that the Detroit ball club "threw" a series to the Chicago White Sox was made emphatically by "Bill" James, former Detroit pitcher, named by Rishberg and Gandil as the "pay-off man." James said the two gave him money for beating Boston, not for losing to Chicago. This picture was taken as he arrived in Chicago to testify before Judge Landis.

Just the opposite to their football tactics, which are strong in defense, but weak in offense.

'Handsome Ransome' Walker, captain for the Matadors, distinguished himself by chalking up the first point in Tech's new assembly hall.

Coach Grady Higginbotham used thirteen men in the fracas last evening. He sent in a bunch of recruits during the salt intermission and steadily the visiting rabbits brought down the lead until only four points separated them from the total score of the Matadors. Coach Higginbotham then sent in the veterans and soon the lead was regained.

Hunter and Vinzant, Matador defense caps, deserve honorable mention in that they kept the game in high gear throughout the entire program. Along with them the Jackrabbit center, Wilbanks, and Captain Horalson likewise furnished spectacular displays during the contest.

Tonight the Westerners will do battle with the Amherst quintet. This is one of the three games that have been scheduled for this week. Coach L. J. Von Tungeth will no doubt enter a remodeled organization into the contest tonight. The last two games have been defeats for the local high school club and Coach Von Tungeth has been reorganizing the five which will no doubt be an improvement.

Captain Rupert Hays, Westerner leader, will be back in the harness. This addition will greatly improve the High school organization as Hays is a steady player; works well in both the offense and defense department and keeps his teammates on the march during all parts of the game.

Matador Basketeers, With Weaver Up, Open 1927 Court Season With 30 To 16 Win Over Wayland Quint

The wearers of the abbreviated uniforms of Scarlet and Black dedicated their new $12,500 assembly hall by winning the initial basketball game for the 1927 campaign in defeating the Wayland Baptist college quintet last evening before a good crowd by a score of 30 to 16.

Beginning the contest Handsome Ransome Walker, captain of the Matador five, loomed a short shot to establish a lead which, although it was threatened for a time in the second half, was never relinquished. Outstanding from an offensive point, the work of George 'Buck' Weaver, who replaced Dean, the ranga center, was quite noticeable. Weaver ripped the baskets with six field goals and a total of twelve points to be high point man for the evening. As he tossed a seventh counter, referee L. J. Von Tungeth, Westerner mentor, blew his whistle to halt the play.

Baptists Shots Wide Although the "bull-fighting" cages outpolled the visitors from Llanview it was the failure of the Baptists to find success in their attempts on shots that cost them the contest by such a wide margin. Repeatedly during the affair the Baptists worked the ball up the floor only to toss wild and lose all offense control of the ball. Smith, the flashy forward of the Wayland club, led his team in scoring by chalking up two field goals and two free tosses. Alf Jennings and Hunter, Matador guards, flipped two field goals apiece to contribute their share in scoring honors for Tech.

When the first period ended the score stood 17 to 5 with the Matadors possessing the larger end. This was thought to be a comfortable and safe lead for the Blanders and Coach Grady Higginbotham sent in a group of youngsters to finish the contest; during the second half it was found that the visitors had cut the lead down to four points so Coach Higginbotham sent back the veterans, who soon regained the lead and maintained same until the final shot was heard.

13 Matadors Play Thirteen players were used by the Matador coach while 'Gotts' Anderson, coach of the Plainviewans and former Baylor Bear star, used only six of the nine men that made the trip. Both clubs displayed the fact that the season was still young but Referee Von Tungeth, former Oklahoma Sooner, held the players down closely enough to keep from stilling interest and fighting spirits.

Honorable mention for the game easily goes to Vinzant and Hunter of the Matadors and to Wilbanks and Haralson, of the visiting crew for the intense interest in which kept the fans with plays that were flashes and spectacular.

The new assembly hall affords the fans of the Matadors excellent opportunity to witness real indoor sport. The floor is large, a very convenient arrangement has been made for the fans, and with the addition of heat will give the "bull-fighters" a good plant in which to display their wares.

The Sul Ross Lobos will be here for a two game series with the Matadors on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Fidel LaBarba

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Elky Clark, bristling little Scotch companion of European flyweights, will trade punches tonight with Fidel LaBarba, king pin of the world's 112 pounders, in the first international title match of 1927. The bout is scheduled for 12 rounds, at Madison Square Garden to start at 10 p. m.

Speed and hitting power have made the 21 year old Californian a 2 to 1 favorite despite Clark's long record of knockouts among Europe's little men. The invader, who seeks world honors in 40 battles staged over a period of five years. Both champion and challenger employ an aggressive style.

AMHERST QUINT MAKES ITS BOW ON COURT HERE

LAMB COUNTY LADS WILL MEET WESTERNERS HERE TONIGHT

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium the Westerner quint will meet the Amherst high school. This is one of the three games that were scheduled for this week and promises to be a closely contested affair. The Amherst team has won several games this season with teams of the northwest portion of the South Plains district and has also been experiencing more knowledge of the game than the local club, in that they have participated in more contests.

In the past few days the Westerners have been defeated twice, by the Slaton and Southland high schools. No doubt Coach L. J. Von Tungeth will send on the floor this evening a new organization, as Captain Rupert Hays, who has been ineligible will be permitted to take part in the contests.

It is not officially known but generally thought that the probable line-up for the Westerners will be: Hays and Beakley, forwards; H. A. Castibevy, center; and Hardberger and Reynolds, guards.

U. S. G. A. HANDS OUT HIGH HAT TO LOWLY PRO

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Is the U. S. G. A. getting high hat?
The annual report of the American golf body has been drawn up. There is a laugh in the listing of the prize winners of the U. S. open at Scioto. The two amateurs who finished with pros have been honored with the prefix "Mister" before their names. It is Mister Robert T. Jones and Mister Charles Evans, Jr.
But the working boys have no such title and their plodding nicknames, "Willie," "Mike" and "Gene," are used.

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN COPYRIGHT 1926 NEA

DR. ATKINS was waiting for them in the foyer of the big hospital building. All his boyish briskness had left him; he look stricken, personally grieved, and curiously apologetic. He went straight to Faith, and she had the odd impression that he would have liked to put his head down on her broad, motherly young shoulders and cry, like a hurt child.

"I want to tell you how it happened," he spoke in a low, almost pleading voice. "We'd taken every precaution to keep her from hearing anything about Cherry—Mrs. Wiley. I don't want you to think, Mr. Lane," he turned to Faith's father and laid a trembling hand on his shoulder—"that anyone in the hospital was to blame."

"Then she found out," Jim Lane said dully, drawing a shaking, snarling old brown hand across his eyes. "Martha died knowing about Cherry."

"What I want to know," Faith found out, "Junior blustered angrily, as an outlet for his grief. 'Who spilled the beans—I mean who went and blabbed to her? I'll kill him!'"

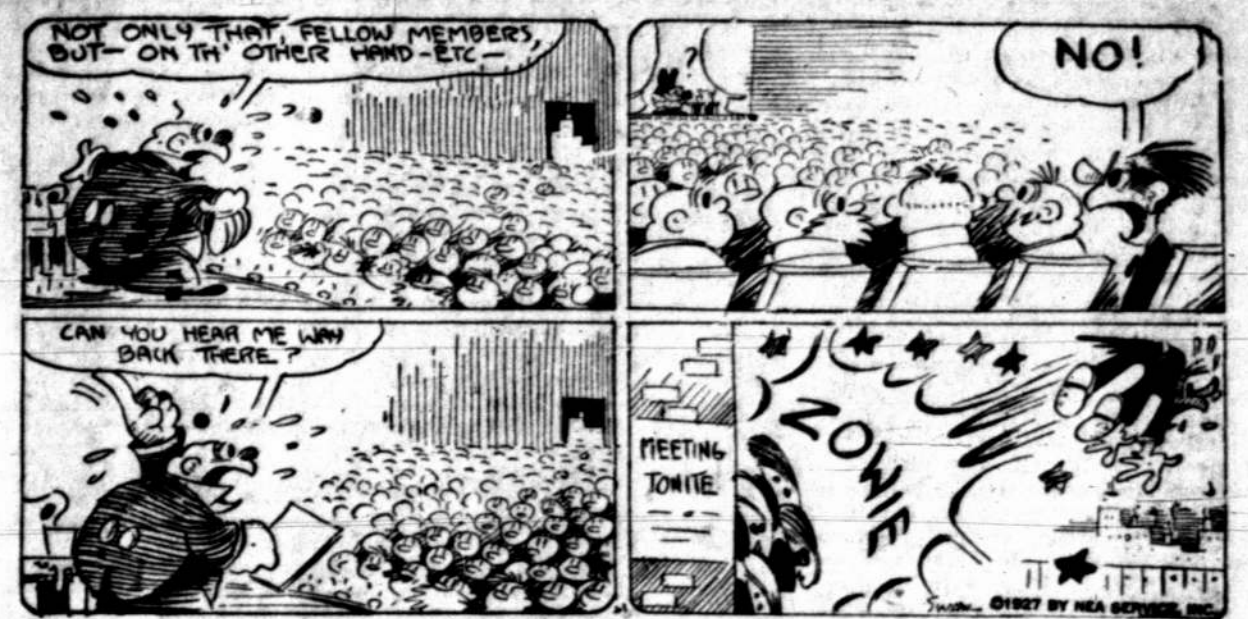

"I'm afraid you can't, Long," Dr. Atkins spoke with sorrowing respect, not with impatience. "It was a woman patient who accidentally gave the whole thing away. She's a wheel chair patient, been here for two years, and she's given a good deal of freedom, as the chronics always are. Her husband—though of course we didn't know all this till later—came to see and brought a copy of the extra carrying the news of Cherry's indictment."

He flushed as his small, grief-stricken audience winced at his words. "He gave his wife the paper without mentioning the Cluny case. In fact, the paper was folded. He stuck it through the arm of her wheel chair and hurried away to his dinner. Mrs. Jost—that's the woman's name—wheeled herself down the third floor corridor past your mother's room. He was speaking to Faith again, holding her hand in a tight grip, but glancing occasionally at Bob Hathaway's set, white face."

TIME GIVEN IN DILLON'S CASE

Third Request For Continuing Case Is Granted By Judge Clark M. Mullican

J. W. Dillon, whose trial charging violation of the prohibition law, was called in criminal district court here Friday morning, was granted continuing and until next week, after the third motion seeking continuance of the case was granted by Judge Clark M. Mullican.

A motion asking for continuance due to absence of material witnesses for the defense was overruled by Judge Mullican, and a second motion asking that the indictment be quashed also was overruled. At this point a roll call of defense witnesses revealed that not all were present. But defense counsel, Pearce and Triplet, then filed a continuance motion, holding on trial of the case until they can secure from the state department a certified copy of the statute governing disposition of extracts around which charges were filed against the defendant.

Dillon is charged with sale for beverage purposes of ginger, and due to technicalities surrounding the statute prohibiting sale as a beverage, a hard legal skirmish is anticipated in the trial.

Burch Case Lapping

Following continuance of this case, efforts were started toward trial of Grady Burch, local youth, on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, but state's counsel said it would be practically impossible for the state to try the case today. Burch also is facing trial on a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with an attack of two youths last fall. The companion case to the latter affecting S. A. Hamilton is set for trial this week, but court officials said today it would not be taken up.

Court attaches said this afternoon that the case of M. C. Nevels, who is facing a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, probably will be called Saturday morning.

A cargo of bees, some 18,000,000 in number, believed to be the first consignment of its kind, in transit from Porto Rico to Dayton, O., was handled recently without a single person getting stung.

Mother's Advice

LOS ANGELES—There may have been a mere coincidence in connection with a mother's advice to her boy, who has suddenly won fame and potential wealth. "Read your Bible and remember your prayers every night," wired Mrs. Jennie Young, the winner of the big swim carnival, the telegram when he was visiting movie studios.

Don't Doubt It

NEW YORK—Alcohol made in Germany from garbage is much better than that drunk in this town, according to a recent study by Major Chester P. Mills, prohibition administrator, says the German product is excellent. It has not appeared here because other methods are cheaper. For instance, he says, some druggists make 600 per cent profit bootlegging.

Riding The Fence

ATLANTIC CITY—Soft drink bottlers are finding business so good that they have been cautioned not to offend either wets or drys. As explained by Louis Steinberger of Jersey City, president of the state organization, the factors in the big business are demand for things to make high balls with and demand for soft drinks due to inability to get any other kind.

Sounds Good

ALBANY, N. Y.—The best way to real happiness and satisfaction is observance of all laws, in the opinion of Governor Smith. So says his proclamation of the coming Sabbath as law and order Sunday.

Gold Diggers

NEW YORK—Regardless of the deficiencies of blacksmith's hammers and shoemaker's children, persons sometimes known as gold diggers are able to save money. J. J. Roberts, a banker, says that in 9,000 savings accounts in a branch bank in the theatrical district chorus girls are well represented.

Money Wasted

NEW YORK—They seem very anxious in London to learn the Slackbottom. It cost a London school $425 for a lesson by telephone from New York. The tuition was $50.

Unnamed Man Pays Off In 'Swindle'

A man, about middle age, said to be from Wichita Falls, whose name police have withheld, was released here last Thursday on $5,000 bond with an alleged swindle recently when a local bank was swindled to the extent of about $200. The man paid off, police said, although, throughout questioning on the case, he pled innocence.

He surrendered to police here Thursday morning, saying that he understood they were hunting him, but according to police, said several different stories concerning his actions regarding the transaction about which he was questioned. He denied all guilt, however, and said that he would rather pay off the amount involved in the transaction than to have any trouble about it.

Others elected are: Frank Robinson, of the chemical company; Pat Hood, of the hook and ladder company; J. M. Phipps, of the hose company; and Guy Casey, of the engine company. Alternates for the latter four respectively, are Mark Long, Luther Bynum, W. A. Hood, and Robert Ellison.

Selection of officers will be the principal business before the regular weekly meeting of the Lubbock Real Estate Board tonight in the office of G. C. "Doc" and Bill on the north side of the square.

The realtors also will discuss contemplated additional paving in the residential sections of the city, and hope to have every street between 9th and 19th paved in the immediate future.

Merrill Hotel To Get Improvements

Extensive improvements in the Merrill hotel, one of Lubbock's leading hostels, was announced here late Thursday by H. G. Seitz, manager of the hotel, the first step in which is opening of the remodeled and refurnished dining room, work on which has been under way for some time.

NORRIS CASE

Meacham and Norris frequently came into opposition with each other. Norris sat erect and still while attorneys for the state referred to him as "this fellow" and spoke of all he has alleged to have done on Fort Worth citizens from his pulpit. His face was tense.

the latter's office last July 17. Dr. Norris coughed considerably holding a handkerchief to his mouth frequently. "The Norris how old are you?" his attorney, Dayton Moses, asked. "Forty-nine." "Born in Alabama?" He said he was born in Alabama. Moses asked if his parents were living and an objection by state that it was immaterial was sustained.

with you at that time?" "Yes. It was on the street near Meacham's store." "Did you know at that time a man by the name of Mott, and Mrs. Mott?" "Yes. Mrs. Mott was employed by Meacham." "State the conversation in reference to Mrs. Mott?" "State objects," said McLean. Question was withdrawn.

ARBITRATION IS NOT YET BEGUN

Both U. S. and Mexico Are Agreeable To It To End Oil Lands Muddle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—While neither country has as yet approached the other officially on the subject of arbitration, the prospects of that principle being adopted in an attempt to settle the American-Mexican oil and land law tangle at least have advanced a step with the announcement by the Mexican foreign office that the Calles government accepts arbitration in principle.

Scott and Sayers to prosecute you?" "E. C. Meacham." "Did you ever hear Meacham say how much he paid?" State's objection sustained. "Jury is instructed." John Shelton, special prosecutor, asked that the jury be instructed to give no attention to the testimony and the judge so instructed.

That is wholly irrelevant," said Attorney Sam Sayers. "What if he talked with someone in Europe? It wouldn't be relevant." "Did you receive any information as to threats made by Meacham against you?" State objected, but Norris had answered "yes" and the judge cautioned him not to answer when the lawyers objected.

Difficulties Recited. Attorney Moses recited a long list of alleged difficulties between Norris and Meacham in which Chipps also was said to be involved, and argued that the Mott conversation should be let in as one link in the chain.

Suit Once Urged. The special prosecutor said that Meacham several years ago asked McLean's law firm to sue Norris and McLean said he advised Meacham to forget it because Norris lives on a territory and the suit, will only feed his notoriety.

Norris Faces Lawyers. Norris faced the lawyers from the witness stand listening to them harrass and defend him by turns. Martin pointed Meacham as the friend "who so loved a friend that he goes down into his pocket and pays to have Chipps' slayer prosecuted" and he referred to Norris as the "man who threatened to hang the hides of these lawyers for the state on his radio towers above what he chooses to call his House of God."

Another Talk Excluded. Mr. Moses then wanted to know if the ruling excluded a certain conversation between Norris and Mrs. R. B. Ridgway about a remark Chipps is alleged to have made concerning hiring a law firm to defend him if he got into trouble with Norris, but the judge excluded this.

The jury was recalled. "When did you receive information about threats by Chipps against you?" asked Moses of the witness.

"I received the information from Fred D. Holland the day before the tragedy." "Did you preach a sermon the Sunday before the tragedy in which you mentioned Meacham?" "Yes." "Before you talked to Holland?" "Yes, sir."

Norris Tells Of Warning. Norris then related what Holland had told him about an alleged threat Chipps had made the night before. "Holland told me he heard Chipps say 'I'm going to kill the —'." Holland said he meant me (Norris). "I asked Holland if he had ever had trouble with Chipps and he told me of a fight he had with Chipps. He told me Chipps had a long police record and was a heavy drinker. He told me of several instances of trouble with Chipps, one of which was when Holland said Chipps had tried to break into an apartment house to see a woman. He also told me Chipps had been blacklisted at the Texas hotel for trying to kill the manager."

Nutt Came In. "In a few minutes, Mr. L. H. Nutt came into my office and I asked him he knew Chipps. He told me he had seen him at the bank." "Why didn't you tell Mr. Nutt of your conversation with Chipps?" "I was intending to leave as soon as my sermon was ready."

He Knew Nutt. "Chipps walked up to Mr. Nutt and said 'I know this man. I've seen him at the bank.'" "He sat down on the settee. He clenched his fist toward the jury." "He said, 'I've got something to say and I'll say it to you. If you say another word about my friends, Meacham, Carr and Roach I'm going to kill you.'"

Bermon Already Published. "He looked very angry and said he was going to kill me if I preached that sermon. I said, 'the sermon is already published. You are making an impossible demand. I don't want any trouble with you.'"

Pleas Self-Defense. After a long pause, Norris said: "Because I thought he was going to kill me." "Would you have killed him if you had not thought he was going to kill you?" "No."

Norris' face was white and his eyes red. "How many times did you shoot?" "I don't know." "Why don't you know, doctor?" "I was too excited." Dr. Norris said he then called his wife on the telephone. He said he was overwhelmed by the tragedy. The witness told of his movements immediately following the tragedy. He said he went to the district attorney's office and gave himself up.

This is the Master Ray-O-Vac Heavy Duty 45-volt "B" battery No. 9303 recommended for 4 or more tubes

Now they last still longer

EXCEPTIONAL staying power has always been a most important quality in Ray-O-Vac batteries. Now a new type of construction makes these long-life batteries last from 10% to 15% longer yet!

This new construction does away with the pitch-filled top, making the 45-volt heavy duty battery four pounds lighter. Short circuits are practically eliminated, and each cell gives all its strength in service.

Ray-O-Vac batteries are also famous for their low internal resistance. In "B" batteries this means less distortion in signals and therefore better reception.

There are twice as many radio owners who know these facts, using Ray-O-Vac batteries, as there were a year ago. Leading radio dealers everywhere handle Ray-O-Vac batteries. If you have any difficulty getting them write us.
