Local Boys Rob Grocery Store

Four local boys ranging in age from 13 to 15 years, were arrested by Ed McCreary, chief of police, for breaking into a grocery store last Friday night.

The boys entered the C. & M. Grocery on West Noel, Friday night, by removing the screen and breaking the window. They had two feed sacks full of cookies, cigarettes, chewing gum, leather gloves, shelled pecans and other items. There was no money missing from the store.

The same night they broke into the school house. This was the fourth consecutive night the school house had been entered by them. Things missing from there were the phone out of Mrs. Estes' office, alarm clocks, skates, bow and arrows.

There was a heavy dew Friday night and the boys were traced to their homes by the marks left by their bicycles. After they were found, they admitted breaking into the school house, according to Mr. McCreary. They were put back into the custody of their parents until their trials next week.

Man Found Dead West of Lesley Thursday Morning

Apparently Been Dead Since Monday Night According to Joe A. Merrick, Coroner

Robert Leonard Salter, 68 was found dead in a one-room shack west of Lesley Thursday morning, March 11, about nine o'clock. He lived alone near Billy Salmon and when Mr. Salmon had not seen him since Monday he went to his house to investigate. He found the body and immediately called officers.

According to Joe Merrick, coroner, he apparently died from natural causes. Condition of the body indicated he died about Monday night.

Mr. Salter was born in Panola County, Texas, January 19, 1875. He lived in Memphis several years ago, but had been living in Berger until recently. He had been in the county about four months when his death occurred. Burial was at Panhandle Thursday night where one of his sons, T. J. Salter, lives.

County Rationing Board Announces Meats, Fats Lists

C. L. Sloan, Chairman of Hall County, Explains Simplified Ration Lists

"Simplicity is the keynote of the new meat and fats rationing program just announced by the OPA," said C. L. Sloan, chairman of the Hall County War Price and Rationing Board.

"Housewives will have no difficulty at all in shopping with their red ration stamps in War Ration Book Two when the new program goes into effect on March 29." Although the ration list includes a wide variety of foods, including all meats and many cheeses, as well as shortening and salad oils, butter and margarine, canned fish, and many other items, from the point of view of the housewife who does the shopping, it will really be a simple matter.

"This latest program requires no registration of any kind," added Mr. Sloan. "War Ration Book Two are already distributed anywhere the program goes into effect. Housewives will already have had a full month's experience in the use of their point-ration books in buying processed foods. Neither will consumers be asked to report any stocks of foods they may have on hand."

One of the few differences between the use of the blue and red stamps in War Ration Book Two, is the order in which stamp will be declared valid.

When rationing begins March 29, the first set of stamps, marked A—worth 16 points—will be valid. Beginning April 4, and then on each succeeding Sunday through April, an additional set of stamps will be validated. All of these stamps, from A through E inclusive, will remain in use all month—making a total of 80 points per person for April.

During the week of April 4 to 10, for example, storekeepers may give their customers red 1 point stamps marked A or B in change. Customers are reminded in this connection, that they must use stamps they receive in change by the end of the month in which they are issued and before they expire—just as they must use the stamps in their own books. Sloan explained that "a housewife who comes into the store (Continued on page five)

HOME FRONT

The farmer who sells his surplus butter and an occasional side of beef when he goes into town on market day will collect ration stamps, just like the operator of a super market, after the rationing of meats, fats and oils, cheese and canned fish goes into effect March 29.

By making such sales, he automatically becomes a distributor and must collect either the red stamps in Ration Book 2, ration checks or certificates and surrender the collected points to OPA.

But the forthcoming meat rationing program places no official restrictions on any of the rationed foods raised by farmers if used for their own tables.

Farmers and their families are given a full quota of points, just like the city folks, but the government doesn't expect them to use all the points. OPA is asking farm families to retain the red stamps from their family books equal to the point value of the rationed foods, including meat, produced on the farm and eaten at home.

In other words, farmers are being urged to economize on their consumption of home-produced foods and to limit their purchases of the rationed foods not produced at home. Farm families sharing available supplies with city dwellers, who must buy all their meats, cheese, butter, etc., from stores, will be making a vital contribution to the national welfare.

Beginning April 1, farmers who slaughter livestock for sale will become subject to the recent order of the Secretary of Agriculture which requires them to get "farm slaughterers" permit from their County War Boards.

To make it easier for them to dispose of their meat when selling direct to a customer, OPA will allow them to collect all of the red stamps required for the purchase even though some series may not have become valid for ordinary use.

For many farmers, the shoe will be on the other foot when he goes to the nearest meat market for a Sunday roast, or a bucket of shortening. He'll have to use the red stamps in his ration Book 2 just like his friend who runs the corner drug store.

But, in patronizing the retailer, he'll have access to an official list of point values, so he can tell how many points he must surrender for each purchase. The store can give him back "change" in ration stamps, too, and if he doesn't want to buy meat, he can use the red stamps for cheese, butter, margarine, lard, salad oil, cooking oil, or canned fish. Any of these can be bought with the basic allotment of 16 points per person.

Have Anti-Freeze In Car Checked

Warning to America's car and truck owners from the ODT: Are you sure that the anti-freeze now in your car or truck contains no harmful salt or distilled petroleum product? You or your service station attendant can make sure through these simple tests worked out by the U. S. Bureau of Standards:

1. Drain some radiator fluid into a glass of water. If it floats on the water, the base of the mixture is a distilled oil product harmful to hose connections and radiators.

2. Drain a small amount of the radiator solution into a clean tin and boil away all liquid. If substantial white or crystalline coating remains in the tin, the anti-freeze you are using contains a salt base highly injurious to motors.

Manufacture of such anti-freeze solutions is now prohibited but some brands are still in circulation. Many motors have been damaged seriously by anti-freeze mixtures containing salt or oil. Safeguard the life of your car or truck motor by using only anti-freeze definitely labeled as containing a safe alcohol or ethylene glycol base.

with 40 points to spend from the ration books of her family, may spend all of them for meat, or all of them for butter or cheese, or she may— if she wishes, divide up her points, and buy butter and cheese—or margarine and meat—or any other combination of food she chooses."

Many farmers, even those who operate on a very small scale—produce some of the foods included in the new ration program for the use of their family, Mr. Sloan pointed out. Although the new plan places no official restrictions on the use of any of these foods at the farmer's own table the government is requesting that farm families retain red stamp in their family ration books in an amount equal in point value to the foods produced and eaten at home.

A farmer who slaughters a pig he raised for the use of his family, for example, is asked to set aside point stamps equal in point value to the number of points he would have to surrender if he bought the equivalent amount of pork and pork products at the store. Similarly, if he makes butter for the use of his family, he is requested to keep in his book, and not otherwise use, the number of red stamps he would need to buy the same amount of butter.

When a farmer sells any of these home produced foods, he must collect ration stamps from his customers—even if they are neighbors—on the basis of official point prices, and turn these stamps in to the Office of Price Administration.

"Farmers in Hall County," said Mr. Sloan, "will be instructed later on just when and how to turn in these stamps."

Points on Sewing Given Homemakers

There is a boom in home sewing in Texas as evidenced by the numerous reports of county home demonstration agents of the U. S. A. & M. College Extension Service.

Homemakers who are turning to this practice can save themselves considerable time by proper preparation for the job, say Mrs. Lora K. Warren, extension clothing specialist. She suggests first, selection and convenient arrangement of a sewing room or "sewing corner." Whatever place is chosen should have proper lighting to prevent eyestrain and speed up the work.

Keeping a well-equipped sewing box also is an aid to sewing and tempers as well. A good sharp pair of scissors and pins should be included in this equipment, the specialist says. She also advises the frequent use of a well-padded ironing board, for "pressing as you sew means better workmanship."

Makin' garments factory style—that is, cutting out at least two at a time, also results in economy. The specialist says this is particularly helpful in the making of garments such as boys' shirts. She advocates use of the button-hole stitch in sewing on snaps and hooks and eyes. This makes them more secure.

HALL COUNTY BOYS WIN AGAIN

THE Hall County boys winning the blue ribbon for having the best fifteen calves entered in the County Division in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show last week shows that the youth is not being neglected in the things they are interested in and should know, in spite of the war and the many abnormal conditions.

Much of this work is due to the County Agent and the Vocational Agricultural teachers for their untiring efforts and their sincere interest in the boys of the county.

These young men who won prizes in Amarillo and Memphis are typical of the youth of our nation. We read in every paper of some boy or girl or groups of young people who have excelled in one field of work or another. They are interested in learning to do the best things in the best way, and yet, they realize the awfulness of war.

The youth of the nation, in various channels such as the 4-H and F. F. A. clubs, are being taught to be good winners, good losers and above all, to be fair and square. In churches, schools and every day life they are learning sound principles that were discarded years ago in many nations.

It is certainly the youth of this day who will help to straighten out this world in the years to come, so let's take our hats off to them.

There are approximately 15,000 separate parts in a modern automobile, we are told—and we really believe it as there have been occasions when we have heard from each of them.

The trouble with the guy who knows it all is that he never wants to keep it to himself.

A writer complains that nowadays popular tunes get on the wireless, on the gramophone and on the talkies. And, he might have added, on the nerves.

Waking Up

Never before in your time did you see so many people interested in chicks. Old Biddy by the hundreds is setting in old Donley. Hundreds of chicks are being bought from hatcheries. Then too, the Victory Garden idea is growing. Lots of our citizens are planning on canning. Growing meat and vegetables at home this season will help wonderfully these old-timers tell me. They had to do that forty years ago, only they dried it instead of canning. Few knew how to can. Still fewer had anything to use in canning. Member the clay jar with a lid of the same material, and you used sealing wax to seal the lid on. Of course it spoiled, but a lot of industrious women did their best to make a go of it.—The Donley County Leader.

We Wonder

The man on the street is beginning to wonder! Uncle Sam is releasing the 38-year-olds as fast as reasonably possible. Men of the slightest physical defect are being given medical discharges from the service, and yet this week's hottest news had to do with the announcement that draft boards will be ordered to reclassify the 38 to 45 class of so-called overage to serviceable classification. We are making the venture that most able bodied men will be given military training, regardless of immediate service need, before this war is over. The men may be trained a few months and then released. Maybe they will never be called at all. At any rate it is causing some to wonder!—The Saint Jo Tribune.

Have decided to hold a formal opening of my Victory Garden sometime in the immediate future to which the entire public will be invited. You are to bring shovels, rakes, hoes, or other garden implements. Refreshments will be served at regular prices and the proceeds from the sales will go for the purchase of seeds and plants.—The Dalhart Texas.

Newspapers of this country, big and little, have taken a terrific financial pounding during the past twelve months. Revenue that was at one time a substantial contribution to the welfare of all classes of newspapers is now a thing of the past as far as national advertising is concerned. That situation especially applicable to the smaller publications such as this great moral and metropolitan weekly. But not all the troubles are necessarily of a financial nature. Finding—and keeping—trained helpers is almost a situation bordering on the acute stage. Figures recently released showed that more than sixty publications located in Texas had passed on tiredly out of business within the past eight months.—The Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

HIGHLIGHTS OF FORTHCOMING MEAT RATIONING, MARCH 29, LISTED

Here are the highlights of the forthcoming meat rationing program which goes into effect March 29:

1. Beginning Monday, March 29, housewives will use the red stamps in Ration Book Two to get their family supplies of meats, edible fats and oils, butter, and canned fish.

2. Point values will be announced during the week of March 22.

3. These point values will be based on weight primarily, but with differences governed by supply, consumer preferences and the edible content of the various cuts and products.

4. The official table of consumer point values will list 150 meat items.

5. In general, the new rationing program will include:

All fresh, frozen, cured, smoked and canned meats and meat products derived from beef, veal, lamb, mutton and pork, as well as variety meats and sausages. Canned fish and canned shell fish.

Most edible fats and oils, including butter, lard, margarine, shortening, salad oils, and cooking oils, excluding mayonnaise and salad dressing.

6. Retailers will be permitted to give "change" in ration stamps, using only the one-point red stamps.

7. During the first five weeks each holder of Ration Book Two will have a basic allotment of 16 points per week.

8. Red stamps bearing the letter "A" will be valid during the first week, "B" stamps will be used the second week, and so on for five weeks.

9. Consumers will not be asked to declare the amount of the newly rationed foods on hand. This exemption includes fresh meats in frozen lockers.

10. Consumers will have complete freedom of choice in using their red stamps to buy any one of the rationed foods.

11. Retailers will collect points from the outset of the program, March 29, but will not give up points to their wholesale supplier until April 1.

12. The two-week "point holiday" extends all through the meat trades, permitting both wholesalers and retailers to maintain sizeable inventories and build up a "working capital" of points.

13. Wholesalers and retailers will register with local board during the period May 3-14, and will be given an allowable inventory stated in points.

14. A separate table of "trade" points will be used by the retailer, with lower point values which allow for trimming, waste and shrinkage depending upon the type of meat.

15. Cuts having a large amount of bone and fat will have lower point values than those which are more completely edible.

16. Point values of brains, kidneys, hearts, etc., also will be lower because these parts are more perishable.

17. The meat rationing program makes no provision for pet rations.

18. At least one official list of point values must be posted at each store. In addition, point values must be posted at or near the place where ration items themselves are sold.

Axis cuts your driving - Terrorizes your engine with ACID

Every time short rations keep your car idle it's really like the Axis trying to dose your engine with acid. All the Axis needs is the acid products of combustion always left in your engine when it stops. This unavoidable acid wasn't so bad when cleaned out pretty well, several times a day, on fast runs that warmed the engine completely. But now with slow short runs often keeping the engine too cool, acid's chance has increased to corrode metal.

To keep your tools from corroding you apply oil—again and again. In your engine you can have a more lasting preservative. It's designed to combat internal acid corrosion.

It's surfaced to metals as closely as any protective plating. That's why this inner engine preservative—made possible by the quick, simple, economical change to Conoco Nth motor oil—is known as OIL-PLATING.

Conoco Nth—patented—brings you the special synthetic invented to make metal surfaces cover themselves with OIL-PLATING. It may be quite a while "between coupons" now. But you needn't give hungry acids all that while to gnaw at your engine, which the Axis won't let you replace yet! OIL-PLATE it now. Change to Conoco Nth for Spring. Continental Oil Company

Farm Leaders Get Non-highway Gas Applications

Applications, New or Old to Be Referred to County Transportation Committees

Uninterrupted farm production during 1943 keynotes the move which transfers non-highway gasoline applications from county war price and ration boards to county farm transportation committees.

Under the new order which became effective March 1, all applications, whether on a new or renewal basis, will be referred to Texas' 254 county farm transportation committees for analysis and recommendation.

Later, applications for tractor fuel oil in these cases where the ration board feels adjustment is required also will be referred to farm transportation committees for recommendation.

Objective of the Office of Price Administration move is to insure farmers receiving sufficient supplies of gasoline and other tractor and engine fuels for 1943 production, B. F. Vance, chairman Texas USDA War Board, said.

Excessive as well as inadequate rations are equally undesirable and county transportation committees should not hesitate to ask the community transportation leader or the community AAA committeemen to check for them the equipment and needs of the applicant, Vance said.

AR NO GESTAPO!

not even the Nazis themselves, are safe from the menacing Gestapo. A knock at the door in the night—feet in the house—a woman's scream—these are the signals of another "arrest."

is the Adams family, let us say, quietly spending an at home somewhere in the United States—comfortable, safe. Then . . . someone taps at the door . . .

stealthily hand turns off the radio, nobody screams, there are no harsh commands. Instead, one of the children the door—to a smiling neighbor, dropping in for a chat . . .

the kind of America we love and want to preserve, then ever be forgotten that somewhere in the world today are forces of evil that seek to destroy forever this kindly, spirit. American boys are fighting, dying, to destroy to preserve the freedom of privacy—of initiative—of and religion, and the many other sacred traditions of that now are ours.

as you return from work to your family, think how you are to be an American, living in this country. Rest happy, secure in your own little "castle"—your home. Gestapo—this is America!

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smearing and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

When life hangs by a wire!

IN HOSPITALS throughout West Texas (and close up to battle lines all over the world) a blue-white light blazes down on the tense little group. . . . A suction machine hums quietly. . . . Skillful fingers poise an electric knife. . . . A human life hangs on the smooth, even flow of electric power.

Electric equipment of many kinds serves the modern hospital. Busy doctors and nurses use it every day for diagnosis and treatment, without even pausing to think of the constant supply of electricity that keeps it operating.

But electric power didn't just happen. The hard work, training and experience of West Texas Utilities men and women have made it dependable.

They've made it plentiful, too—so that West Texas communities have not been hindered by any power shortage while joining in the Nation's war effort. And they've made it cheap—so that the average West Texas home enjoys over twice as much electricity for the same money it paid about fifteen years ago.

These are the results of practical business management under public regulation—part of the system of business freedom in which millions of Americans have put their faith and their savings.

RATION CALENDAR

Meats, fats, cheese—New program starts March 29 with red stamps in Book Two to be used.

Sugar—Coupon No. 12 (5 lbs.) valid March 16. Must last through end of May, or 11 weeks.

Coffee—Stamp No. 25 (1 lb.) expires March 21.

Tires—Class A—First inspection deadline March 31.

Meats, edible fats and oils, including butter, cheese and canned fish were added by OPA to the list of rationed foods, with rationing to start Monday, March 29. In the first month, each holder of War Ration Book 2, regardless of age, will have 16 points a week to spend. The red stamps in Book 2 will be used. The official list of point values will be published during the week of March 22. Included in the new rationing program are all fresh, frozen, smoked, cured, dried and canned beef, veal, lamb and pork, and variety meats and sausage; all canned fish; butter, margarine, lard, shortening and cooking and salad oils; and cheeses.

Replacement Rules Issued

With a warning that it is up to the individual to take the best possible care of his ration books, OPA issued uniform regulations governing replacement of lost, stolen or mutilated books 1 and 2. Anyone desiring to replace a ration book or coupon sheet must apply to his local ration board on Form N. R-194. Ten days after submitting his application, the book owner may report to the ration board, which will examine the facts and, if satisfactory, may issue the replacement. Where ration books are lost or stolen, the board may require the applicant to report his case to the police.

Point Values Cut

Effective Saturday, March 13 point values of dried and dehydrated prunes and raisins, and of all edible dry beans, peas and lentils were reduced by OPA. Point value of prunes and raisins was lowered from 20 to 12 points per pound. Point value of edible dry beans, peas and lentils was reduced from eight to four points per pound. In addition, dates and figs not hermetically sealed were removed from the current list of rationed foods and the basis for computing point values for other dried fruits adjusted to place these fruits on the same basis as dried prunes and raisins.

Seeds Not Rationed

Peas, beans and lentils when labeled as such and bought exclusively for use as seed are exempt from the processed foods rationing program and do not require the surrender of either point stamps or ration certificates.

Certificates to Farmers

Farm families who have enlisted in the huge 1943 food production program will be awarded certificates of Farm War Service signed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, in recognition of their work. It will be presented by County USDA war boards as soon as possible after the completion of the 1943 Farm Mobilization drive.

Increase Cotton Acreage

Farmers will be permitted to exceed their 1943 cotton acreage allotments by 10 per cent, but cotton marketing quotas will be retained. Farmers may plant this 10 per cent excess acreage without loss of agricultural conservation program payments, without being liable for cotton marketing quota penalties, and without forfeiture of cotton loan privileges. They will receive no payment for acreage planted in excess of the allotment, and the 10 per cent increase in no way relaxes the provision pertaining to achievement of war crop goals.

STREUSEL-FILLED COFFEE CAKE
1½ cups sifted GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Enriched Flour... 3 tsp. Baking Powder... 1 Egg... ¼ cup Sugar... ¼ cup Shortening... 1 Egg... ½ cup Milk... 1 tsp. Vanilla
Sift the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together, and cut in the shortening with the fingers or a pastry blender (or rub it in with the fingers) until the mixture is like fine meal.
Then, blend in the well beaten egg, mixed just enough to mix well. Then pour half the batter into a well-greased-and-floured heavy baking pan (8" square or 6" x 10"), and sprinkle with half the streusel mixture (recipe below). Now add the remaining batter and top.
