President's Secretary Declares Address Will Answer Completely Questions On Rome-Berlin Axis

Politicians Gather At White House Conference To Discuss Problems Of Gravest Concern To Future Course

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's radio address on foreign policy Thursday night was described at the White House Thursday as one which will be "all covering, and will leave no unanswered questions."

Stephen Early, the press secretary who said this, also declared that the President would devote part of the day to the Russian aid question, receiving Constantine Ouman-sky, the Soviet ambassador, and Secretary of State Hull, and would cancel Friday morning's press conference to hold his first meeting with the American mission to Russia headed by W. Averell Harriman.

As the Chief Executive went over a completed draft of his address with Senate and House Democratic and Republican leaders, Early told reporters the speech "will mean what it says and will be written in English—English that will not need translation. Foreign languages need translation; English not."

The fact Republicans as well as Democrats were at the White House conference was taken as proof that momentous problems were under discussion. Of gravest concern was the future course of relations between the United States and the Rome-Berlin Axis.

Speech Scheduled at 8
Congressional leaders who called at the mansion included Republicans for the first time since the President proclaimed an unlimited national emergency last May 27. From the Senate came Vice President Wallace, Majority Leader Barkley, Minority Leader McNary and Chairman Connally of the foreign relations committee.

The House group included Acting Speaker Woodrum, Minority Leader Martin, Acting Majority Leader Cochran, and Chairman Bloom of the foreign affairs committee. Early would not say whether the address would call for any new legislation, but there were indications in other official quarters that no new legislation would be asked.

The speech will be broadcast from the diplomatic reception room at the White House at 8 p. m. (CST).

Gulf No. 1-B Tubb Makes Good Flow On Casing Gauge

By Frank Gardner
Oil Editor

Short natural gauge through casing of Gulf Oil Corporation and others No. 1-B J. B. Tubb, Western Cran County Ordovician producer linking the Sand Hills pool with its four-mile south extension area, definitely assured being one of the largest wells in the area.

After drilling mud had been displaced with water the well unloaded immediately. On a one-hour and 15-minute test through annular space between 5 1/2-inch casing and 2-inch tubing set near bottom it gauged 38.64 barrels of oil, out 3.4 per cent with sediment and wash water. Operators will let the well run, after tubing then will acidize. Hitherto, acid has worked remarkably on the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, dolomite, from which the well is producing. Casing is set at 5,640 feet and total depth is 5,660.

It is understood that the No. 1-B Tubb will force offsets by Atlantic Refining Company, Shell Oil Company, Inc., C. R. (Smith) Mallison and by Standard Oil Company of Texas. None, however, has yet been announced.

Big Terry Well
Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 10 W. G. Frazier, on the Terry County side of the Slaughter field, rated daily potential of 2,143.68 barrels of 31.8-gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 480-1 after acidizing with a total of 10,000 gallons in pay time from 4,915-85 feet, bottom of the hole.

In the Hockley County sector of the Slaughter, S. E. Cone No. 3 Hensley made 888.72 barrels a day after 4,000 gallons of acid at 4,963 feet, while The Texas Company No. 24 Bob Slaughter block was good for 508.55 barrels of oil, plus two per cent sediment and water, after a similar treatment at 5,015 feet.

Russia Seizes Initiative In Red City War

By The Associated Press

Russia's armies reported Thursday they had driven the Germans back 12 miles on the central front, taken a toll of 30,000 Nazi dead and wounded in 50 days of fighting around Kiev, and seized the initiative in the siege of Leningrad.

Battles were reported raging along the entire 1,200-mile front from the Karelian Isthmus to the Black Sea, with the long dormant Velikie Luki sector, on the north central front, suddenly flaming into action.

German-occupied Norway, seething against Nazi rule, faced a crisis Thursday as Nazi authorities clamped down with the first firing-squad executions there and a state of civil siege proclaimed in Oslo, the capital, was expected to be extended to other areas.

Reports reaching Stockholm, Sweden, said the situation was acute also in the cities of Moss, Frederikstad and Sarpsborg, and that the same iron measures imposed on Oslo probably would be enforced there.

Joseph Terboven, German high commissioner for Norway, asserted the measures were necessary to crush plans for a general strike of Norwegian workers set for Thursday, and Norway's minister of welfare, broadcast this warning:

"I do not dare to think what will happen if there is a new strike. You have seen that the Germans will not stand for any fooling."

The status of the general strike was uncertain, but authorities in Oslo said normal work had been resumed after two days of strikes in the iron and ship-building industries.

Recapture 10 Villages
On the Russian-German war front, Soviet military dispatches reported that Red Army troops had scored new advances as deep as 12 miles on the central front, where the head-long Russian counter-offensive had driven three wedges into the German lines.

The Soviet push, entering around Smolensk in the long quiet sector of Velikie Luki, on the north central front, about midway between Smolensk and Staraya Russa, far behind the deepest German penetration.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, reported fierce battles were raging in the long quiet sector of Velikie Luki, on the north central front, about midway between Smolensk and Staraya Russa, far behind the deepest German penetration.

Communist Calls Churchill 'Blackguard' In Parliament

LONDON (AP)—William Gallacher, the only Communist member of Parliament, Thursday called Prime Minister Churchill a "blackguard" to his face and accused him of "dirty, cowardly, rotten action" in an angry outburst in the House of Commons.

Gallacher later apologized to the House. The incident came over charges that Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, minister for aircraft production, had expressed hope the Russian and German armies would annihilate each other.

Florida and excited, the Communist first told the House that "very deep and bitter feeling exists among trade unionists" over statements attributed to Col. Moore-Brabazon.

He asked Churchill to "clear out of this government anyone who is not 100 per cent for cooperation with Russia."

The Prime Minister replied to this:

Denies Orders Charge
"I do not think I should be prepared to receive guidance in policy or conduct from an honorable gentleman who, it is notorious, has to change his opinions whenever he is ordered to by a body outside this country."

Gallacher retorted that "I have never at any time taken orders from anyone outside this country," and he shouted a demand for withdrawal of the "insulting remark."

"It is a dirty, cowardly, rotten action on the part of the Prime Minister," he said. "It is the action of a blackguard. It is a foul and dirty lie."

The debate thus brought the harshest words leveled at Churchill since he became Prime Minister.

General Brant Will Take Command Of Newfoundland Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major General Gerald C. Brant, commanding officer of the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center at Randolph Field, Tex., was assigned by the War Department Thursday as chief of the Newfoundland base command.

He succeeds Brigadier General Henry W. Harms, who has been commander of the base since July 3. Harms will take command of the air base at Pendleton, Ore.

Brant, a former cavalry officer, has been connected with Air Corps operations for ten years. He has been commanding officer at Brooks Field, Texas; commander of the third wing, general headquarters air force, at Barksdale Field, La., and of the second wing at Langley Field, Va., and commandant of the air corps technical school at Chantilly Field, Ill. He took command at Randolph Field October 4, 1940.

General Brant has many friends in Midland which he selected for the home of the $5,000,000 Advanced Twin Engine and Bombardier Training Center now under construction.

He was an active booster of the program to bring the large Air Corps school to Midland and worked closely with officials here to complete arrangements.

Former Rancher Of Midland, Found Shot, Will Be Buried Here

CRANE (Special)—Funeral services for Joe Bailey Young, 33, who was found shot to death in his hotel room at Moran Wednesday, were scheduled at 10 a. m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church here with the Rev. Phillip Brown, pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery at 4 p. m. at Midland, where Young formerly lived while engaged in ranching.

Young lived at Crane 16 years and recently moved to Moran. He was an independent oil operator. Justice J. J. Hitt of Moran returned a verdict of "death by fire-arms" at the coroner's inquest. A pistol was found near Young's body. A bullet passed through the head, entering the right temple.

Survivors include: His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Young of Crane; the widow; four brothers, Crane County Sheriff Jack Young, I. W. Young of Stephenville, and Bud and Henry Young of Andrews, and six sisters, Mrs. Merle Jewell of Quay, N. M., Mrs. A. W. Paris of Phillips, Tex., Mrs. Dan Couvill of Odessa, Mrs. Joe Poole of Waco, Mrs. John Smith of Stamford, and Mrs. Fay Clayton of Lordsburg, N. M.

More Laborers Are Needed Immediately At Sloan Field

An urgent need for more laborers at Sloan Field was announced Thursday by Bill Orr, personnel director for the general contractors, Cage Brothers and F. M. Reeves and Sons.

More laborers must be obtained quickly, Orr said, or work will be slowed on the $5,000,000 project. Both building and common laborers are needed.

Persons desiring work are urged to report at the Texas State Employment Service office at the Midland Baseball Park.

Unless more laborers are obtained in this section, it may be necessary to transport men here from other parts of the state and nation for the work.

More than 400 laborers were at work on the Advanced Twin Engine and Bombardier Training Center Thursday and at least a hundred more are needed.

Orr said more than 500 carpenters were working on the buildings.

Nurses Institute Underway In City

Fourteen health nurses of a West Texas district opened a two-day institute in Midland Wednesday. Miss Helen Leclaire of Austin is conducting the meetings.

She discussed functions of the tuberculosis association in states, municipalities and the nation at the opening session.

A luncheon was held at noon for visitors and an afternoon meeting opened at 1:30 p. m.

Sessions Friday open at 9:30 a. m. and last until 12:30 p. m.

Large Hotel Is Moved To Midland

Work of moving a two-story, 25-room hotel from Goldsmith to Midland, nearly 30 miles, was nearing completion Thursday as the Buckner Hotel was placed on its new site, at the corner of Texas and North Fort Worth streets.

The stucco building is 30 feet wide and 68 feet long. It was moved by motor trucks on the long journey.

Its owners, K. L. Buckner, Jr., and Miss Ione Buckner, hope it will be ready for business in two weeks.

The building was erected three years ago in Goldsmith.

Party Searching For Missing Plane Fails

ENUMCLAW, Wash. (AP)—Colonel Arthur Herold, in charge of a McChord Field search party, returned here Thursday after carving a two-mile trail through the Cascade Mountains woods and reported no trace of the wreckage of a missing Army bomber reported seen by a logger. Public relations officials also announced the clue had proved groundless.

Special Senate Committee Denies Gasoline And Products Inadequate And Requests Restrictions Removed

Investigators Declare Ickes And Aides Are Guilty Of 'Over Enthusiasm' And Creating 'Unnecessary Alarm' Among American Public

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—A special Senate investigating committee reported Thursday there was no actual shortage of gasoline or other petroleum products in the East and recommended immediate removal of existing restrictions.

Accusing Secretary of Interior Ickes, defense petroleum coordinator, and his aides of "over enthusiasm" in creating "unnecessary alarm" among the public, the special committee said that the "shortage, as we see it, is a shortage of surplus—and not a shortage of products or a lack of facilities to transport them."

Texas Company's Price Increase Becomes General

HOUSTON, (AP)—A gasoline price increase, started Wednesday by The Texas Company, became general Thursday as other large oil companies met the boost. The Texas Company's increase was in tank wagon prices, but service station operators said they would add to their retail prices the tank wagon increase of one cent per gallon on third grade gasoline and one-half cent per gallon on premium.

Pure Oil Company met the increase Wednesday afternoon making its tank wagon prices 13 cents, 14 cents and 16 cents a gallon, including a 1 1/2-cent state and federal tax.

Continental Oil Company, through its distributor, H. L. Allen Oil Company, met the increase, effective at 7 a. m. Thursday. Shell Oil Company, Inc., and Magnolia Petroleum Company met the increase, effective with start of business Thursday.

Gulf Oil Corporation met the increase in the Houston area and in a number of other places in Texas, effective at 7 a. m. Thursday.

Texas Company's increase is statewide and other companies met the increase in the Houston territory and other areas.

Start Advance Sale Football Tickets

Sale of season tickets for Midland High School's five home football games started at the Chamber of Commerce office Thursday.

Persons who desire the same seats they had last year are requested to make reservations immediately. Prices are the same as last year.

G. B. Rush, business manager of athletics, announced the sale. Tickets have not arrived, but reservations will be taken and the tickets sent to purchasers as soon as they are received.

He promises plenty of action for football fans at each of the contests and urged persons desiring special seats to make reservations quickly.

Good Roads Drive Opens In Midland

Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce members Thursday opened a campaign to obtain memberships in Midland for the Texas Good Roads Association.

No reports had been turned in at noon, Ed Garland, director of the drive said.

Workers include Garland, Doc Graham, Bill German, Ed Prichard, Delbert Downing, Riley Parr, Ray Gwyn and Cecil Waldrup.

The campaign workers were assigned districts and buildings. Fred Wemple, a vice-president of the association spoke over KRLH Wednesday in opening the campaign.

Krueger Declares Third Army Is Lax

CAMP POLK, La. (AP)—Lieut-General Walter Krueger, addressing about 12,000 officers in a critique here Thursday declared that "laxity of discipline" in the Third Army which he commands "gives me great concern."

* Chairman Maloney (D-Conn.), in presenting the finding to the Senate, cautioned that it was preliminary. He added that the fact finding group would resume public hearings whenever it found them necessary.

The group began hearings August 28 after Ickes and Harold K. Davies, deputy coordinator, had issued a series of public warnings about gasoline and oil shortages along the populous Atlantic Coast. Filling stations and other retail outlets were ordered to close from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. and supplies to retail outlets were cut 10 per cent below July deliveries.

"With proper conservation motorists should find it possible to acquire gasoline and oil products which they need," Maloney told the Senate. "We believe that present restrictions should be lifted, and that the public, with a clearer understanding of conditions, would cooperate in carrying out an effective program of conservation."

Urges Tank Car Use.

Committeemen were reported as "completely satisfied" from the beginning, that there was no shortage of petroleum products.

"Our conclusions may best be summed up, the report said, 'by stating that there is no shortage of petroleum products—nor a shortage, as of this date, of transportation facilities—but that the whole frightening picture, from the standpoint of the coordinator's office, seems to lie in the fact that the shortage which has excited the activity of the coordinator, is really a 'shortage' in a large surplus which is desired."

The report recommended "an immediate increase in the use of tank cars, a constant increase in facilities through the continuing construction of tanks, much help through the improved use of pipe lines now in operation and under construction, the more extensive use of highway oil-carrying motor trucks, and the probable construction of barges; and at the same time an increased efficiency in the use of all forms of transportation in this industry."

All member of the committee, Senators Maloney, Radcliffe (D-Md.), O'Daniel (D-Tex.), Barbour (R-Mj.), and Burton (R-Ohio), signed the report.

Self-Encirclement

One hears the word "encirclement" used very often these days in discussions of the affairs of nations. The Japanese claim they are being "encircled." The Germans, back before World War I, always claimed they were being "encircled." They claimed they were being "encircled" just before this World War II broke out.

What is "encirclement," anyway? Every country in the world is encircled, in the sense that there are other countries around it. Clearly, then, "encirclement" has little to do with pure geography, since in that sense every country is perpetually encircled.

The term must mean more than that.

It means not only "surrounded by other countries," which is true of every country, but "surrounded by other countries with whom it is on bad terms, and from whom it may expect ill will."

The United States does not regard itself as encircled by Canada and Mexico. Japan, in the happy days before it got delusions of grandeur, didn't regard its chain of tin islands as encircled. Switzerland, tiny land in the very midst of Europe, has never had encirclement jitters, though it is completely surrounded by countries larger and more powerful than itself.

No country is encircled unless its neighbors fear, dislike and distrust it. Then they begin to seek ways of combining together to make a joint and effective resistance to possible aggression. And when they do that, encirclement of the distrusted country begins.

In other words, a country is encircled by itself. A country which maintains good-neighborly relations with its neighbors, which has good will toward them and does not covet their lands or goods or position, is never encircled in the vicious sense in which the term is used politically.

There is only one way for a country to avoid encirclement: in time of peace to adopt such policies and attitudes toward its neighbors as to lead them to trust it and co-operate with it. When the reverse policies are adopted, then those neighbors combine, driven by the fear which is the source of all international hatreds.

"Encirclement" is the most false of all excuses for aggression, for no country is encircled save by itself alone.

A Reciprocally Sad Feeling

From Vichy comes a plaintive cry that the American newspapers "ain't done right by our Marcel." Criticisms of the Vichy government, its works, and its representatives here are frequent and bitter. Whether certain specific accusations recently made against the Vichy embassy staff are true, we do not know. But in general a free press is surely entitled to view the present French "government" in any way it chooses. They wouldn't understand that at Vichy, because of course no one may write or publish in once-free France without the approval of the gov-

"These (press) attacks cause a sad feeling," adds the Vichy source.

Let them be sure that the feeling in France is no

Defense Bond sales by the Treasury have now passed a billion and a quarter dollars in the first four months.

Let's recall, however, that the buying of Defense Bonds and Defense Savings Stamps is different from the buying of Liberty Bonds during World War I. Then, there were several intensive drives to buy bonds, but no loans between times. Today, the Defense Bond campaign is a continuous performance; the intention is that they be bought regularly as a form of systematic saving which will curtail excess spending today, and form a cushion against the "after-the-war" time in which savings will probably be needed.

Defense Bonds and Stamps are a part of the regular

Behind The Headlines

By DeWitt MacKenzie

Probably all of us are acutely conscious of the nearness of the war-danger as we await President Roosevelt's discussion of the position over the air Thursday night—a talk which cannot be expected to do other than emphasize the gravity of the crisis.

Possibly it is this thought that impelled me to write on the duration of the war, or maybe the impulse came from the fact that the question most often thrown in my direction is how long the war will last—as though I were a major prophet.
Anyway, it certainly is a topic close to all.

MacKenzie

The way the European conflict is going right now I for one shouldn't be greatly surprised if it ended sometime next year.

Now that isn't a prophecy, because we know the war might drag on through the ten years for which the Axis claims to be prepared.

Such duration isn't likely, however, for if the warring continues a decade poor Europe will be a bag of bones.

Hitler Has Good Chance.

The thought that the war might end next year is based on the strong and growing possibility that an already tortured continent won't be able to support the Axis military operations, and may revolt against the terrific burden. Such a thesis presupposes, of course, that the Allies have a good chance to win—a view which this column has previously recorded.

This possibility doesn't condemn Herr Hitler to defeat without further trial. It would be poor judgment to suggest that the creator of the most powerful army in history (paging Moscow on that) hasn't a chance to win, because he has.

We have to know considerably more about the endurance of the Muscovite war machine which has been doing such great things, and which today claims to have mustered the strength to drive a big salient into the heart of the German lines in the Smolensk area, before Moscow. We want a further view of the morale of the civilian population, too.

Legislature Resumes Bond Measure Debate

AUSTIN. (AP.)—The Senate pitched into debate Thursday on the road bond bill embodying the recommendations of Governor Coke R.
Stevenson, but the House, after a 50-minute session, adjourned without clearing away doubt as to the course it would take.

The House printed on minority report by a vote of 99 to 28 a committee approved bill re-enacting the road bond law which expired Sept. 1.

However, this did not clarify the lower chamber's procedural plans materially, because the bill landed on the floor calendar with one substantially the same as that under consideration in the Senate. No attempt was made to start debate on either bill.

Game Secretary Points To Error

AUSTIN. (AP.)—Cautioning hunters, Will J. Tucker, secretary of the state game department, Thursday pointed out an unavoidable error resulted in setting bag and possession limits of mourning and white wing doves at 15 instead of 12 on the reverse side of hunting licenses.

The error occurred, Tucker explained, because state hunting licenses were printed before present state dove laws were approved and at that time the state dove bag and possession limit was 15 instead of 12.

The secretary urged sportsmen to "pass the word around" that the limits announced on the licenses had been countermanded by later law, and urged that this especially be done in the northern counties of Texas, where mourning dove hunting is under way.

Shower Leningrad With Propaganda

BERLIN. (AP.)—German planes showered Leningrad Thursday with pamphlets urging its civilians not to defend the city, and Germans said the Russians must decide whether Leningrad is to be taken as a fairly intact city or as a heap of debris.

An authorized commentator said the Germans were in a position to inflict much heavier punishment on Leningrad but would withhold their full might to give its citizens a chance to reconsider defense tactics.

The pamphlets, he said, emphasized that if civilians resist, the Germany army must regard them as enemies and act accordingly.

They warned that if a civilian house-to-house defense were attempted, Leningrad would be subjected to a more general bombardment.

I Was Underweight Excitable, Nervous

"At 25 I was a nervous wreck," says Mrs. Syble Sharp of 813 Al-bama, Amarillo, Texas. "For months

I could not sleep peacefully. I was underweight, nervous and excitable. I was afraid to eat because of a sour, gassy condition.

"After taking Hoyt's Compound, indigestion is a thing of the past. I eat anything without a trace of gas or bloating. I sleep soundly and am gaining weight. I am happy to say I have no more signs of Malaria Fever!"

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the City Drug Store and by all druggists in this area.

Officials Declare Thousands May Lose Citizenship

By Lloyd Lehrbas

WASHINGTON (AP.)—Several thousand naturalized Americans who have lived in foreign countries beyond the time limit permitted by the nationality act of 1940 will lose their American citizenship unless they return to the United States by October 14.

Officials said Thursday the new law becomes effective on that date and any naturalized Americans outside American territory—unless they are within categories excepted by the act—will automatically forfeit their citizenship.

They said that all of the absent Americans have been warned through United States consulates in European and Asiatic countries of the law's provisions and the consequences of its violation.

Some naturalized Americans, desirous of returning to this country, have been stranded in belligerent territory or other areas which they have been unable to leave, because of war-disrupted transportation facilities.

The state department, which has arranged for the return of more than 50,000 Americans since the start the war, is now intensifying efforts to arrange for their transportation home before October 14.

Aerial Force Of 500 Planes Will Support Gigantic War Battles

WITH ARMIES IN LOUISIANA
(AP.)—An air force of 500 representative American fighting and bombing planes converged on Louisiana and Texas airports Thursday preparing to add realistic air support to the Second and Third armies in their gigantic war games opening Sunday.

Army, navy and marine pilots have been coming from all directions this week to band together into air task forces as they would in the event of actual hostilities.
The group includes 450-miles-an-hour fighters and 300-mile-an-hour bombers. There will be one such force with each of the field armies.

Task forces are organized for a particular job and these—the large-est the United States has ever assembled under a field command—will provide a preview of the recently organized air support commands attached to the nation's four field armies and the armored force.

In the simulated warfare, the Third Army is merely the advance force of a powerful invader and the Second Army, which pushes in from the north, is the "feeling out" force of a larger defending army.

Texas Provides 155 Englanders Shelter

By The Associated Press

Through the generosity of Texans, 155 young Englanders currently are receiving shelter and sustenance in their homeland.

Under the Save the Children Federation's godparent plan, donors have adopted 155 British and war refugee children in England since a call was issued July 27 to place 750 of them under the financial care of Texans.

These 155 children—residents of the oft-bombed British metropolitan areas, such as London, Leeds, Manchester, Liverpool—are finding sanctuary in the remote countryside of England, free from the dismal shriek of air raid sirens and the hammering thud of bombs.

For a contribution of $2.50 a month or $30 a year, Texas individuals and organizations by their financial adoptions have given vital supplemental aid to these children for one year.

Organization of the Texas unit was announced shortly after the national unit had launched a drive to remove 15,000 British children from bomb-swept cities to the safety of the countryside. Dr. George W.
Truett is Texas' representative of the National Save the Children Federation Committee.

Colorful Luncheon And Coke Party Open Clubs

Hemisphere Theme Featured In Motif For Initial Affair

A luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, 1301 W. Missouri, Wednesday at one o'clock, announced the opening of the Fine Arts Club for the new year.

The Club's study will be on "Our Hemisphere" and decorations for the luncheon carried out this theme in the use of the flags of the 21 American republics.

The luncheon was served in buffet style from a table centered with American flags with a Mexican cart filled with tropical fruits.

Smaller tables where guests were seated after being served were laid with linen and decorated with clusters of flags of the republics. Place cards bore a flag design.

Novel note in keeping with the theme of the day was the serving of ice cream molded in the form of red, white, and blue eagles at the dessert course.

Roses, dahlias, and zinnias were used at vantage points in the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. A. P. Shirey, new president of the club, presided at the meeting following the luncheon and brought the president's address of welcome. Mrs. E. H. Ellison, chairman of the yearbook committee, presented the keynote of the year's study.

The group decided to change the hour of the September 24 meeting from afternoon to 9:30 o'clock in the morning in order that members may attend the club institute at Odessa.

Mrs. Hodge, chairman of the hospitality committee, and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, committee member, served as hostesses for the luncheon, assisted by Mrs. O. J. Hubbard and Mrs. E. H. Barron.

Present were: Mmes. L. A. Absher, E. H. Barron, T. Paul Barron, Tom C. Bobo, L. G. Byerley, Ellison, F. H. Fuhrman, Gilmore, Hodge, Hubbard, J. Webb Miller, W. F. Penn, Shirey, Tom Sloan, R. C. Tucker, Fred Wilcox, E. Hazen Woods, and an associate member, Mrs. W. Bryant.

Mrs. Hitchcock Entertains For Dos Reales Club

One playing guest, Mrs. R. R. Ford, was present when members of the Dos Reales Club were entertained by Mrs. E. S. Hitchcock, 707 N. Pecos, with an afternoon bridge, Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Roses were employed in house decorations.

Two tables of bridge were played with high score going to Mrs. Jerry Phillips, second high to Mrs. Fred Kotyza, and bingo to Mrs. J. A. Jorgensen.

A salad plate was served at mid-afternoon to the guest and the following members: Mmes. Burt Atkinson, H. W. Deax, Jorgensen, Kotyza, F. L. McFarland, Phillips, J. C. Williams, and the hostess.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Jorgensen.

Greasewood Club Rates Six Butter Samples At Session

Greasewood Club met at the home of Mrs. Dick Abbott, Wednesday, for a program on "Dairy Products Marketing."

Six samples of butter bought in a local market and unidentified as to producer were scored by the club members. Graded on a basis of flavor, body and texture, color, salt, and package, only one of the samples was rated good and none was rated excellent.

Two samples of neufchatel cheese and two of cottage cheese were also judged.

Mrs. Tyson Midkiff and Mrs. T. O. Midkiff reported on their trip to Beaumont to the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting, September 3, 4, 5.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Present were: Mmes. T. O. Midkiff, Tyson Midkiff, J. C. Franklin, Arthur Judkins, Warren Skaggs, Cecil Young, M. D. Rutherford, Miss Alpha Lynn, and the hostess.

Mrs. Albert Ravan Hostess To Club Meeting And Shower

Mrs. Albert Ravan, 310 W. Florida, was hostess to Banner Sewing Club and to a pink and blue shower for Mrs. W. C. Ravan, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Sewing and conversation occupied the hours. Gifts were presented informally to the honoree.

A refreshment course was served to: Guests, Mmes. J. A. Andrews, D. Towery, Jessie Strong, Wymer Smith, C. H. Mueller, Dennis Murphy, John Godwin, and Wendell Smith; club members, Mmes. T. J. Robinson, C. V. Shelton, Paul Cole, Albert Ravan, W. C. Ravan, L. V. Bassham, C. H. Brown, and C. A. Brown.

Sending gifts were: Mrs. J. W. Gray, Mrs. S. L. Merrell, and Alpha Dene Merrell, Mrs. Dalton Tuttle, Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. O. V. Kelley, Mrs. T. A. Alterson, Mrs. Skelton, Mrs. Alton Towery, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Lois Lee Clark, and Margaret Nell Merrell.

Next Wednesday the club will meet with Mrs. W. C. Ravan at her home on S. Lorraine.

Prospective Students Should Consult Boards

AUSTIN (AP)—Selective registrants planning to attend college this fall had better consult their local boards before reporting to school in the opinion of State Selective Service Director J. Watt Page.

The director has advised the registrants to learn when they might be called to military duty in order to save time and trouble. General Page said while deferments were granted to some entering national defense occupational fields, there was no blanket deferment for all students.

Leaf Applique

Step into the new season in this irresistible applique dirdl frock with the motif which repeats nature's own theme for autumn—falling leaves. Leaves swirl around the hem of the ripling, gathered skirt and a leaf rests lightly on the quaint high necked basque bodice. The long top feeling is emphasized by darts which fit the bodice snugly through the waistline.

Pattern No. 8026 is in sizes 12 to 20. Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards 39-inch material with short sleeves. The pattern for the leaf applique and directions for applying it with an embroidered stem are included in the dress pattern.

For this attractive pattern, send 15c in coin, your name, address, pattern number and size to The Reporter-Telegram Today's Patterns Service, Chicago 211 West Wacker Drive.

SERIAL STORY

BRIDE FROM THE SKY

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Associate magazine editor Judy Allen finally realizes that she loves flyer Sandy Ammerman when he is downed on a test flight to the west coast. Even though he has not crashed, as she feared at first, she still wishes to join him. Attorney Philip Rogers, also interested in Judy, is surprised that she still wishes to go, knowing Sandy is safe. Judy goes as far as Chicago when she finds Sandy's picture and that of a pretty girl displayed together in a newspaper.

MORE MESSAGES

CHAPTER V

ONLY one moment before Judy had walked to music. Now, as she saw the pictures of Sandy and a girl whose eyes were wide and intriguing, whose hair was a halo of curls, the song went away, the violins died, and she was alone. Alone—and she didn't know why.

YOUNG AVIATOR RISKS LIFE FOR DEBUTANTE

She read the words again and again, frightened to go into the smaller type that told a more complete story. She could not sit there forever, though, with people milling around her.

So she read. And when the tale was done her decision was made. Made in spite of the yellow telegram that was still crushed in her hand. Sandy had made a fool of her. And hadn't cared. He could send his love across the silver wires to her at the same time that he told it to a blue-eyed, golden-haired heiress, whose name was synonymous with glamor in the social world.

Now she recognized that haunting face in the late editions. It belonged to Margaret (better known as Peg) Gordan. She had been voted the most popular, most beautiful, most colorful debutante of the preceding winter.

The story was simple enough. Flying over the Rockies, Sandy had sighted a distress signal. There wasn't much room for his ship to land for the flat plateau was partly occupied by Peg's own ship.

However, he had flashed an answer that he was coming down and proceeded to do so. Something had happened to the ignition in his descent, but beyond some scratches he was all right.

Peg Gordan had put up the signal as an emergency call. She alone was able to fly the airship that had brought the guests to her house party at her father's lodge inside the protected plateau. She had made it in two trips. When she sprained her ankle there was no way out of the hollow unless she climbed, which was now impossible, or caught the attention of another ship.

Fortunately, the report read, Sandy Ammerman had taken the risk of landing. Had the story stopped there, Judy would not have minded. She would have realized that she could not gain entrance to the valley where Sandy had to wait while his plane was repaired. She would have pinned a silent medal on Sandy's jacket for his successful flight to obtain medical aid for Miss Gordan. She would have gone back to her apartment to have the applewood log blazing and the ivory candles lighted when he came running up the stairs.

She would have sat in her snow-white office and talked about styles, creams, a good powder base—why a rose frock allures a man and a black may frighten him. All the time she would have been thinking that Sandy was coming back... Sandy was coming back...

BUT there was another paragraph to the story. Another paragraph where there should have been only a period.

It explained that Sandy and Miss Gordan had known each other for some time; that undoubtedly the young aviator had had a plan in mind in chartering his course to San Francisco; that her signal and his acknowledgment had been a remarkable coincidence.

Judy stood up finally, crossed to the offices, and canceled her reservations.

She refused to return home by airplane. She did not want to ride with the wind and stars tonight. She wanted to crawl into a lower berth and sob until there were no more tears ever. Sob until she would never be sad again. Last tears hurt most, she had read. After them, you moved quietly, head high, eyes shining, and nobody knew if you walked to singing drums or listened to sings forever growing fainter in the distance.

Why hadn't Sandy mentioned Peg? She had told him about Phil. There was a difference, though. She had not taken Phil seriously while Sandy might have held Peg's laughing face, blue eyes, and golden curls in an inner, sacred place.

Some day this would be over. Hearts never broke. They merely ached for a long time. Maybe forever. She could not say. She had not lived forever.

But she went to sleep remembering that she had seven freckles on the bridge of her tilted nose while Peg had a perfect nose and a skin as luscious as Snow White's. Peg had come into the offices of Under Twenty to be photographed a few times. Lying in bed, as the train swept across Illinois, Indiana, into Ohio, Judy wished that she had looked at Peg more closely. She reminded herself that there had been no reason for inspection, though. You only remembered someone who had definitely entered your own life's pattern.

THE train was at Newark when Judy awakened. In the mad scramble to get dressed and ready to leave the train at the Pennsylvania station, she did not think of Sandy. His memory would be there, in the corner of her mind, until she found a ragman to cart it away. Later in the day she would sit down all alone on a red leather seat in a darkened booth somewhere and drink cups of hot tea and think the matter through.

The train was entering the tunnel under the Hudson river when she emerged from the dressing room. Her purple hat sat gaily on her bronze hair. The silver fox jacket looked chic and luxuriant over her purple suit. But her eyes were too dark, too wide in the white oval of her face. Her lips, rouged to a deeper red than she usually wore, were the only winging note.

As she followed the porter with her bag, she stopped suddenly. Someone was hurrying toward her—someone who was lean and tall and broad-shouldered—someone who took both of her hands in his strong grasp while keen eyes searched hers.

"Oh, Phil, I—I didn't know I'd be glad to see you," she heard her husky voice saying. "But how did you know I was coming this morning?"

"Process of elimination, my sweet. You weren't on any plane, either west or east, so I made a bet on this train. You haven't had breakfast, either, have you? Good! How about the Savarin?"

Phil did not mention the trip until she thanked him for relaying her message. "You were sweet to do it. We were flying around on breadsticks, weren't we?" she said, admitting nothing, denying nothing.

In answer he produced three more telegrams from his pocket. "They came to the office, so I asked the switchboard girl to sign for them," he explained.

"Mind if I read them?" she asked. Then she let her breath out slowly, the way air leaves a bright balloon when a string is loosened.

Threaten Reprisals In Iran Expulsions

BERLIN (AP)—German authorized quarters threatened reprisals Thursday if Britain and Russia persist in their demand for surrender and extradition of German nationals in Iran.

"Not only Iranians in Germany but subjects of certain other nations" might become subject to reprisals, they said.

The latest reports from the German legation in the Iranian capital indicated as yet the legation still was officially uninformed concerning the British-Russian demand regarding the German nationals.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Design For Sports

American designers, long way out front in the realm of sport, took another stride forward in the New York openings marking the first anniversary of the U. S. bid for world style leadership. The gray man-tailored, fly-front wool slacks, above, are worn with gold sweater and turban. They were presented by Jay Thorpe, featuring designer Wilson Folmar.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett

One trick every wife should know is how to make her husband seem important.

Here's how one wife, who has succeeded remarkably well, goes about it.

When she lets you know that her husband approves of you she does so in a way that suggests that you are among a chosen few who meet his standards. That not only makes you feel good, it gives you the impression that her husband is someone whose approval is worthwhile.

She is careful that whenever she repeats an opinion of her husband's it is an intelligent enough, witty enough, or original enough opinion to impress those to whom she is talking. A wife can make her husband out as an ordinary sort of fellow if she isn't careful what opinions of his she goes around repeating.

She chooses several of her husband's idiosyncracies and plays them up until they are a distinct part of his personality, instead of apologizing for his behavior whenever she feels it isn't exactly in line with what is proper.

She openly caters to his tastes and comfort. The wife who treats her husband like a poor-paying boarder makes him look like a worm instead of a person who amounts to something.

PROOF THAT HE'S A GOOD FELLOW

You never spend an evening in their home without getting some new proof that he is a pretty smart fellow—she sees to that. Maybe you learn that he is surprisingly well-informed on some subject out of his line of work, or that he is clever at making any kind of gadget, or that he is something of an expert at some skill or sport.

She never cuts down his size by indulging in the wifely game of showing up his small faults to her women friends or using them to prove that men are just small boys after all.

She wouldn't dream of using the pronoun "I" or "my" when talking about their mutual possessions or their plans for the future. With her it is always "our house" and "we plant to—" unless, of course, it is "Joe thinks."

They are little tricks and easily seen through by any discerning person who bothers to figure out what she is doing. But it is surprising how few people ever see anything except what she wants them to see—that—Joe is really a remarkable fellow.

Over Half Americans Drive To Earn Living

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Over half the auto mileage driven in 1940 was "connected with earning a livelihood, or closely related economic pursuits," the California State Automobile association asserts, basing its finding on "recent statistical studies."

Of interest because of gasoline rationing proposals, the association added, is the fact that the average annual mileage for all groups of private owners was 8,139. Commercial travelers averaged 18,791; physicians, attorneys and salesman, 12,000, and farmers 5,700. It was asserted that town and country owners made 200 to 400 trips yearly "for necessary purposes."

NONEGARIAN KNITS FOR AMERICAN WARS

COTTONWOOD, Idaho (AP)—Mrs. N. E. Rooke learned to knit when she was six so she might do her bit in the Civil war. Today, she claims something of a record in having knitted for refugees and soldiers of every war since that first one in her life. At 91, she is turning out a pair of socks a day for the Red Cross and aiming at her record of the last World War when she produced 100 pairs.

ARMY CAMP CONFUSED BY DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UP.)—It was an unusual situation to say the least, when:

Bacon and eggs waited for soldiers who didn't show up. Officers were up an hour before privates.

Some sections drilled while others slept peacefully.

All because an order calling for the camp to go on daylight saving time as Mississippi and a later suspension of that order postponing the time of execution for two weeks had failed to leave things exactly clear.

Great Battle In National League Reaches Another Crisis As Cards Pick Up Two Games Before Series

Experts Select Newell Favorite

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Having established herself as one of those rare sports competitors who refuses to even consider defeat, Mrs. Betty Hicks Newell, the California titleholder, Thursday appeared to be the one to beat as the Women's National Golf Championship entered the quarter-finals stage at the Country Club.

While the tourney has been suffering an unusual number of upsets, Mrs. Newell has managed to survive despite the early odds against her. Wednesday Mrs. H. Warren Beard of Newton, winner of several Massachusetts titles, fired one of the best of the tourney's first-time performances against her, a three-under-par 34, only to stand on even terms when they turned inward.

That nerve-shattering experience so upset the usually placid Bay Stater that she cracked wide open and surrendered by a 4 and 3 margin. Mrs. Newell appeared Thursday faced with an even more difficult assignment, against one of her sectional rivals, the long-hitting Clara Callender of Pasadena, Cal., a semi-finalist last year, who gained the round of eight by dispatching Mrs. Glenna Collett Vane of Philadelphia, a six-time National titleholder, by the one-sided score of 5 and 4.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals open a crucial three-game series in St. Louis Thursday and the nation's baseball fans, a little limp from the frenzied fight that has been going on all summer are expectantly looking for these games to point out the eventual champion.

As a spectacle it will be a magnificent sight to see, but as a test of strength it is likely to be inconclusively simply because the teams appear to be so evenly matched.

They have collided 20 times already this season with St. Louis winning ten, Brooklyn nine and one game ending in a tie after 12 innings. They have played every day for five months and have arrived at this critical point in the schedule with only a single game separating them in the standings.

Warneke Wins Again
The Cubs rammed a dagger in the back of the Bums Wednesday by winning two games 5-4 and 5-3.

The Cardinals met stubborn opposition from the poor but proud Phillies, yet managed to cop their doubleheader 3-2 and 1-0. The Cards were held to six hits in the first game, but one of them was a two-run homer by Johnny Hopp and Lon Warneke and Bill Crouch let the tail-enders have only seven safeties. Then in the second game Harry Gumbert pitched a masterful three-hit shutout.

The Boston Braves beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-1 in 15 innings and the Pittsburgh Pirates outslugged the New York Giants to win 10-7 in the other National League games.

In the American League the Boston Red Sox battered the Detroit Tigers 11-2, the Chicago White Sox crushed the Washington Senators 12-4 for Thornton Lee's 19th victory and the Philadelphia Athletics downed the Cleveland Indians 6-4.

And we protected our prediction with a footnote that every team would lose one tilt, that takes in the Turkey Day Texas-Aggie game on sacred Kyle Field.

Coach Clark numbered his Bulldogs and here are the jersey numbers, so that you will know who's who at Ysleta and thereafter: Hall 8, Lester 22, Foster 11, Kelly 20, Wheeler 18, Davidson 16, Sevier 21, Leftwich 7, Estes 25, Lee 33, Noyes 13, Watson 5, Bird 14, Richards 2, Whitmire 23, Taylor 17, Graham 10, Welch 9, McMillan 6, Tisdale 3, Roy 4, Parks 4, Hobbs 12, Kidwell 26, and Chancellor 24. And the boys really scrap over those numbers.

Hall got his favorite 8, others had no choice and some yelled violently for a favored number, Jack Noyes took 13 with a grin; Tisdale laughed at his 2, saying "not much is it"—Clark quipped him with "make it something."

REMINDER: Midland should go "all-out" for the big "Pigskin Preview" next Thursday night at Lackey Field. It's all free, and a party for the fans to ogle pretty strutting major-ettes; hear and see the Midland high band; get a look at the coaches, the players; in fancy-free figures to foster interest in the season's gridiron wars.

A few of the reasons why Sweetwater was picked by rival coaches to cop the district flag: Seven returning lettermen and such weights as (Sweetwater figures, mind you): Wilkinson 157, Eberle 207, Mays 170, Hawley 160, Swain 169, R. May 165, L. D. Nunn 192, Gill 160, Flanagan 158, Young 147, Hedrick 149, Fitzgerald 166, Swain 166, etc.

ROUNDING UP THE STRAYS:
Clifford Gillan, 179-pound Midland back is out of the Ysleta fracas with a busted hand. . . Windell Williams, visiting in Odessa, saw two end both tip the beams at 200 and over and the beef there is in that proportion, says he. . . Don Oliver and R. O. Smith are looking for somebody to beat "Fat Boy" Willis in ping-pong. . . They can't. Somebody tell us, did Jay Francis, ex-Midland ace, drop out of Tulsa U. or not. . . G. B. Rush, athletic director of MHS is an all right guy. . . Selman Cooke, big tackle of the Bulldogs, was just 13 days ineligible or born 13 days too soon if you'll have that way. . .

One of Big Spring's regular backs this season will be Frank Barton, who played softball in Midland this summer and he looked pretty foxy. . . Watch out for these Midland coppers, Frank Manning and G. B. Hallman, are ex-football players. . . G. B. once cavorted for Rice. . . Tom Sealy, lawyer and Texas ace, a smart sportsman. He already has his tickets ordered for the SMU-Texas game in Dallas this year, slated to be the outstanding set-to of the year. . . All-district in September, crazy isn't it, but watch White of Lamesa; Hall and Wheeler of Midland; Evans of Odessa; Allen of Colorado City; Bostick of Big Spring; Brennan and Bennett of Abilene; Chase of San Angelo; Foster of Midland, And that's thirty for long and tall forecasting.

SPORTS TO PLAY
Game At Tulsa
By The Associated Press.
The Shreveport Sports moved to Tulsa Thursday to make what may be their last try in the Texas League. The Sports are now in the Tulsa Oilers at Shreveport Wednesday night. The Sports were unable to stand up before the brilliant pitching of Earl Kuhn, Oiler right-hander, and dropped the contest by the score of 2 to 0.

At Houston rain forced postponement of an attempt by Dallas to make it two in a row over the Buffs. The game will be played Thursday night and the teams will move to Dallas for the third contest Friday night.

The Oilers lost no time in launching their offensive against Shreveport Wednesday night. Moore walked the first inning and was driven home by a log single into right center off the bat of Platt. In the second inning Waitkus hit sharply through the pitcher's box, moved up on Zelasco's single and then trotted home on Hernandez's triple to deep right center.

Golden Cranes Open Grid Wars With Buffaloes

CRANE (Special)—Coach A. V. Patterson's Golden Crane gridsters fly into action at 8 p. m. Friday night when they meet the Stanton Buffaloes here.

Describing his prospects, Patterson said "We have good material with sufficient weight, but lacking in experience to develop them for a successful season this year." Norman Brunette, captain, is the sole two year man, the others having no more than a year's experience. Captain Troy Langford has one letter.

Big Spring Wins Second Game 8-0
BIG SPRING (AP)—The second victory in a row over Clovis in the West Texas-New Mexico league final playoff went to the Big Spring Bombers Wednesday night by the score of 8 to 0.

The Bombers staged a seven-run attack in the seventh, aided by two errors and a base on balls. Ramsdell pitched four-hit ball.

Big Spring and Clovis won their way into the finals by defeating Borger and Amarillo.

Twenty-Six Bulldogs Depart With Coaches For Ysleta; To Work Out At Field And Continue To El Paso

The Midland high Bulldogs, 26 strong, Coaches Earle Clark and Lywood Dow, Selman Cooke, declared ineligible, and Student Manager J. L. Robinson left at 8:30 a. m. Thursday for Ysleta for the opening game of the season Friday night.

Making the trip were players: Tom Tisdale, Robert Wheeler, Bill Richards, Charlie Kelly, John Guy McMillan, Mal Kidwell, Clifford Gillan, Bill Chancellor, Bobby Welch, L. C. Hobbs, Jimmie Watson, Buddy Davidson, Wilford Lester, Junior Bird, Gene Estes, Hershel Parkis, Ben Sevier, Red Roy, Pete Lee, Jack Taylor, Jack Noyes, J. W. Leftwich, Marshall Whitmire, Keith Graham, Ivan Hall, and E. G. Foster.

The team was scheduled to take a brisk workout at Ysleta Thursday and go into El Paso to spend the night, moving back to Ysleta Friday for a night tilt. They will stay in El Paso Friday night and return Saturday.

Practice Kicks
Clark and Dow put the finishing touches on the gridlers Wednesday in two workouts, one at night under the lights at Lackey Field.

The afternoon session consisted of kicking off and receiving for two elevens. Wheeler did the booting for the first string. Hall looked good returning kicks.

The boys came through physical examinations in good shape, and only minor injuries were showing before the opening fracas. Gillan, a back, has a broken hand. Leftwich, regular guard was limping Wednesday.

Scouts, if any at Ysleta, won't get much data on the Bulldogs, because Clark plans to change the offense after the opening tilt.

A starting lineup was not named before the team left, but all eleven coaches have consistently drilled all week was expected to get the nod. It is Davidson, le; Leftwich, lg; Sevier, lt; Noyes, c; Lee, rg; Estes, rt; Lester, re; Foster, blocking back; Hall, tailback; Wheeler and Kelly, wingbacks.

Little is known of Ysleta's power but they have a dozen returning lettermen.

El Paso Elevens Fire First Shots In Grid Campaign
By The Associated Press.
Another schoolboy football campaign slips quietly into Texas Thursday with two El Paso teams firing the opening shots.

A schedule of 20 games is served up to the fans but none of the so-called big four—Amarillo, Masonic Home, Paris and Tyler—is involved. These are the teams generally picked as outstanding tilt contenders in the Texas Interscholastic League's twenty-second annual race.

The first game matches Austin El Paso against Cathedral of El Paso, a non-league member.

Friday night finds 26 of the state's 106 class AA teams swinging into action, the top game being between Mineral Wells and Sweetwater.

Six Other AA Games
These two schools are ranked high in their respective districts—Sweetwater as favorite in No. 3 and Mineral Wells among the leaders of District 9.

Six other games are between Class AA teams with Olney playing Plainview, Cisco clashing with Burk Burnett, Midland meeting Ysleta, Sweetwater, Tahoka at Lamesa; Arlington playing Ennis and Kilgore tackling South Park of Beaumont.

The week's schedule by districts (all games Friday night unless otherwise stipulated):
District 1—Olney at Plainview; District 2—Cisco at Burk Burnett, Quana at Paducah; District 3—Coleman at Odessa, Mineral Wells at Sweetwater, Tahoka at Lamesa; District 4—Midland at Ysleta, Bowie (El Paso) at Carlsbad, N. M., Austin (El Paso) vs. Cathedral (El Paso), Thursday night; District 6—Sherman at Greenville; District 9—Gorman at Ranger, Stephenville at Hico; District 10—Hillsboro at Mart, Groesbeck at Mexia, Arlington at Ennis; District 14—Kilgore at South Park (Beaumont), Leesville, La. at Port Arthur, Vinton, La. at Orange; District 16—Mercedes at McAllen, La Feria at San Benito.

Negro Fights Archibald For Featherweight Title

Sports Round-Up

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.
NEW YORK (The Special News Service)—The week's best quote: Just before he left to see the Dodgers tackle the Cards, Larry MacPhail remarked, "I don't see how our experienced club can blow a three-game lead." . . . Anyway, he can't claim the Cubs were playing favorites. They said they'd treat the Dodgers the same as the Cards, and they did just that.

when it hurt the most. . . A couple of days ago "Skid" Skiddy of the Syracuse Herald-Journal picked 21-year-old Clara Callender as a likely winner of the women's golf. He can take a bow after that easy win over Glenna Collett Vane. . . Down in Dallas they're staging an official weighing-in for high school footballers to put an end to arguments about how the boys are listed. . . Del Miller, the youngster whom trotting-horse drivers pick as their coming champion, isn't wasting any time getting there. He drove at the Reading (Pa.) fair last Monday afternoon and at Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island that night. . . Morris Siegel quit a job as assistant sports editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch to join the navy. So what do you suppose he's doing now? Writing sports copy in the publicity dept. at the Norfolk naval base.

Today's Guest Star
Dominic Pepp, Watertown, (N. Y.) Times: "The National Boxing Association's convention action in condemning the exploitations of boxing is superficial. Boxing, both professional and amateur, has long been recognized as a game of commercialism. The NBA designates its champions and the New York Boxing Commission approves another set. The victim of the 'champion' system is, as usual, the public."

Independents Forfeit And Mackeys May Get Title Without Series
Independents forfeited their game in the scheduled city softball championship series to Mackey Motors Wednesday night and the Macks may be declared winners without further play.

The Indies could muster only seven players for the Wednesday night game while Mackey showed up with 15.

The first scheduled game was rained out Monday night. League officials left it up to the managers whether a game would be played Friday night. Officially, the Macks must show up for the game Friday with a full team to be declared winners. Managers may decide that such is unnecessary.

The Independents ran into more hard luck Wednesday with Hart, a regular, ill, and Curt Inman, pitcher, unable to play because of business reasons, Barton and Savage. Big Spring players, signed with the Independents, notified the team too late they would be available. Shorty O'Neil, second baseman, had broken his ankle in the final game of the schedule.

Wink Wildcats Open With Jal
WINK (Special)—The Wink Wildcats start the tough 1941 season here Friday night against Jal, N. M. with new Coaches Henderson and Denny at the helm.

Led by a new-found star in the backfield, Max Alberding, 165-pound halfback, the Cats are out to retain their past leadership in Class-A West Texas football.

United States May Fight To Keep Line Of Supplies To Siberia Open From Axis Group

By Thomas M. Johnson
NEA Service Military Writer

WASHINGTON. — Siberia stands today as "another Iceland" in the eyes of military strategists here. New, decisive—and imminent—American moves in the field of foreign policy may be based upon the assumption that Soviet Asia is the United States' frontier in the Pacific much as Iceland is a defense outpost in the Atlantic.

Military opinion in Washington holds that our line of supply through eastern Siberia, notably Vladivostok, must be defended and kept open.

SPRINGBOARD—OR DEFENSE OR OFFENSE

It is pointed out from eastern Siberia, Russian bombers—or American—can bomb Japan's paper-and-amber cities. From eastern Siberia, an enemy could spring to nearby Alaska—whose westernmost island is but four miles from Siberia's easternmost. There is increasing evidence that the American government is grimly preparing to keep enemies from jumping by keeping them off the springboard—even if it has to be very tough.

It can be predicted that if either Germany or Japan tries to prevent us from using Vladivostok as a means of supporting the Red Army, there will be, if necessary, shooting. The U. S. government is not going to see the Japanese Army join a victorious Reichswehr in Siberia—bringing the war to our back door.

What steps the United States may take in Siberia largely depends on the outcome of the German-Russian struggle now going on along the seemingly distant Leningrad-Moscow-Dnepier River line. If the Red Army in Europe let the Germans cross the Volga River, and if the Japanese carried out their long-standing plan, to thrust towards a meeting with the Nazis at Lake Balkal, cutting off Vladivostok from the U. S., Siberia might fall.

The nearer the Germans and Japanese come to Siberia, the more Russia is going to need our help. The U. S. S. R. has not completed the vast job of re-arranging its war industries to make its production invulnerable to German-Japanese attack. When it started, nearly 15 years ago, 80 per cent of Russian production was in the third of the country nearest Germany, the southwest—notably the Ukraine and the Donetz basin.

The Five-Year Plans provided a strategic retreat of war industry to points safer from attack or air raid by developing two new centers: one about an iron ore mountain in the Urals, one in the Siberian Kuzbass, "world's largest coal field," connecting with others strung for instance, to Vladivostok, intended to support the Far Eastern Armies against Japan.

Purchase Fulton, Boone Homesteads

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—The historical value of Pennsylvania has been increased considerably with the purchase of the homestead and birthplace of two famous Americans—Daniel Boone and Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat—under legislation enacted by the 1941 session.

Gov. Arthur H. James approved a bill appropriating $25,000 for the purchase of Robert Fulton's birthplace, which still stands in Fulton township, Lancaster county. Another $3,000 was appropriated to the Pennsylvania Historical Commission for administration and maintenance of the 127-acre site for the next two years.

The other bill appropriates $35,000 for purchase of the Daniel Boone homestead near Birdsboro Berks County.

News Picture Shows Son Is Still Alive

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A news picture showing British defenders in besieged Tobruk brought Mrs. G. S. Humphries, San Francisco, the first word of her 36-year-old son, Thomas Humphries, since he landed in Cairo with New Zealand forces months ago.

Humphries enlisted in a New Zealand army unit at Wellington and left for an unknown destination

Easy Way to the "One Hot Dish"

SUMMERTIME with its varying temperatures and many activities offers an excuse for serving very light repasts. But with cold foods such as salads, fruits and frozen desserts, it's nice to have one hot dish. By far the easiest and quickest way to prepare that dish is to toast open-face sandwiches in the broiler of your modern gas range which will broil and brown evenly a full score of a time, in ten minutes or less according to the type of sandwich.

Invents Chemical To Put Out Bomb Blazes

SCHEENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—A chemical mixture resembling thin flour and water paste developed by Leonard Gibney, a General Electric Company employee, may be Britain's chief weapon against the scourge of incendiary bombs.

The new chemical formula has been submitted to Washington officials and according to Gibney "has proved successful in preliminary tests."

The mixture is thrown on magnesium fires and within the space of a few minutes the conflagration is extinguished.

Arrested and Fined, Man Invents Gadget

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—A speeding arrest and subsequent fine has caused Julian Frank Pace to invent a gadget which he hopes will save himself and other motorists many trips to police court.

Pace was driving home to get his wife when a policeman overhauled him. He had pushed his speedometer up to 35 miles an hour and received a $16 fine for violating the city's 30-mile-an-hour speed law. To him it was just absent-mindedness, but to the city authorities it was speeding.

That set Pace to thinking. "The average motorist doesn't intend to violate the law," he mused. "I'll make something to help him to remember not to exceed the speed limit."

Pace is an automobile salesman and controlling the speed of machines naturally appealed to him.

Finally, he hit upon the idea of a lever with a spring attachment, that fits under the foot throttle. The spring is set so that the throttle will push down only far enough to give a speed of 23 miles an hour.

September Brings New Vegetables That Are Healthful

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer

A new month calls for some new vegetable recipes, and every day, according to the official yardstick of nutrition, calls for liberal amounts of green and yellow vegetables in the diet. Try these for September good eating and good health.

Stuffed Cucumbers Au Gratin (Serves 6)

Three large cucumbers, 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce, 1/2 cup grated cheese, 1 1/2 cup flaked cooked fish, pepper and salt, 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Cut cucumbers in half lengthwise, scoop out centers but do not pare. Parboil 10 minutes. Mix white sauce, cheese and fish, add seasonings and fill cucumbers. Toss crumbs in melted butter and sprinkle over top of stuffed cucumbers. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes.

Baked Stuffed Squash (Serves 6)

One large patty pan squash, 1/4 pound ground boiled ham, 1/2 clove garlic chopped fine, 2 tablespoons olive oil, 3/4 cup dry bread crumbs, salt and pepper.

Cut off top of squash and scoop out center. Parboil shell in boiling salted water. Mix pulp from center, discarding seeds if large, with ground ham, garlic, olive oil and 1/2 cup bread crumbs. Season with salt and pepper. Refill shell with this mixture and top with remaining crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until tender, about 40 minutes.

Broiled Vegetable Casserole (Serves 4)

One cup string beans, 1 cup peas, 4 small white onions, 2 cubed potatoes, 1 diced carrot, 1 cup water in which vegetables were cooked, or tomato juice, salt and pepper, 4 slices bacon.

Cook vegetables in boiling salted water until tender. Put in 4 shallow baking dishes, adding a little vegetable water to each dish. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Top with 1 or 2 slices of bacon. Place dishes on broiling rack and broil about 3 inches under flame for 10 minutes, or until bacon is well browned. Leftover cooked vegetables may be used for this dish.

MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, scrambled eggs, bacon, toast, jam, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast chicken, gravy, brown rice, baked stuffed squash, lettuce and green pepper salad, fresh peach ice cream, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Puree of onions on whole-wheat toast, sliced tomatoes, coconut cake, tea, milk.

Natives Leave Movies; Didn't Like Kissing

DARWIN, Australia (UP)—Twenty Arrhem natives walked 400 miles to see their first moving picture at Darwin, but they became so disgusted at the love scenes that they left the show before it was finished.

Darwin police said none of the natives wanted to see another movie. They didn't like the kissing.

Filipinos Expect Little Relief In Political Change

MANILA (UP)—The November elections in the Philippines will usher in the last phase of President Manuel L. Quezon's administration.

The forthcoming administration—a Nacionalista party clean sweep of the elections is a foregone conclusion—will see the closing six years of the 10-year Commonwealth period, which was designed to prepare the country for independence.

Indicating the course of action Quezon's next administration would take, the Nacionalista platform said:

"We decline the unflinching determination of the Filipino people to attain their independence. The date of independence has been set. We will countenance no move to alter or postpone it. We shall continue every effort to prepare the nation adequately for independence, to prevent the dislocation of the national economy as a consequence of that status and to establish proper safeguards to insure our continued existence as an independent state."

Market Outlook Dark

The Filipinos hope for the best, but they know their country's outlook is far from bright. Wars abroad eliminated what little foreign markets the islands had and made Philippine economy more linked with that of the United States. Manila is endeavoring to obtain congressional legislation to suspend diminishing quotas and graduated export taxes on Philippine products entering the United States, which were fixed by the independence act. The Commonwealth also is asking the United States for a substantial loan to be used in tiding over the present economic emergency.

The forthcoming administration will find the Philippines farther from economic independence from the United States than when the Commonwealth was inaugurated on Nov. 15, 1935.

GIRLS GO TO HARVEST

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (UP)—Five teen-age girls have gone to work on farms in the Saint John district. They'll spend the rest of the summer helping farmers harvest their crops and the only pay they will get will be free board.

• MCKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority.

Does a good rubber bridge player make a good tournament player? In my opinion, yes, though a good tournament player is not always a good rubber bridge player. In tournaments there is no stake except the championship, while in rubber bridge, a mistake has to be paid off in cash.

Mrs. Mae Rosen of New York has always been a good rubber bridge player. I was not surprised when she crashed through at Asbury Park recently to win the National women's pair championship with Mrs. Edith Seligson.

A rubber bridge player will always put up the best style of defense, as Mrs. Rosen did on the hand shown today. When the dummy went down, she saw the defense could probably win two spades besides the ace of trumps. The hope of a club trick looked remote.

She overtook the spade queen with the king to lead her singleton diamond. Then when she got in with the ace of hearts, she led a low spade. East won with the jack and returned a diamond for Mrs. Rosen to ruff, setting the contract.

Middies To Use Strong Air Arm

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Navy will depend on its air arm this fall to negotiate a tough nine-game football schedule climaxed with the all-important tilt against Army.

The U. S. Naval Academy's passing game began to show promise last fall against Notre Dame when the losses of Howie Clark and Sammy Boothe enabled the Middies to lead the favored Irish until the last few minutes of play.

Both Clark and Boothe, a left-hand passer, are back and in Capt. Bob Froude at end the Navy has a peerless receiver.

Navy expects to have considerably more than a pass and prayer, however. Although graduation and the three-year rule took 12 letter-men from the squad, the returning Middies have size and experience and the sophomores show promise above the average.

Also working in Navy's favor is nearly a month's advantage on other eleven in conditioning. The Middies began taking limbering up exercises early in August and started actual practice on Aug. 18.

City Officials Will Hold Chilean Meeting

By The United Press

The second Inter-American Congress of Municipalities will meet at Santiago, Chile Sept. 15, for a six day session.

Although this conference will not be attended by foreign ministers or other high governmental officials with treaty-making rights or powers to pronounce declarations that will commit their governments to specific international policies, it nevertheless is of wide importance. It will bring together mayors and councilmen, municipal social administrators, tax, sanitation, engineering and city planning experts.

The agenda of the conference is largely composed of political, or-

GAR Refuses To Stop Encampment

COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — The Grand Army of the Republic is feeble but it still "is good enough for a few more national encampments," Miss Lida S. Lucas, Ohio departmental secretary of the G. A. R., believes.

"For 10 years everybody has been talking about the G. A. R. being a relic of the past, but one important thing is the 'general discussion of what the municipalities may do for deepening devotion to democratic principles and advancing the standard of living of the peoples of the cities, and promoting international goodwill.'" saying each national convention was the last," Miss Lucas declared. "But don't you believe it. The comrades will hold on as long as there is a one left."

An estimated 400 to 500 veterans of the Union Army are scheduled to meet here Sept. 14-19 for their 75th national encampment — their diamond jubilee.

Miss Lucas admitted the Columbus encampment might be "among" the last national conventions but she hesitated to say when the last national G. A. R. meeting might be.

"There has to be a last convention sometime," she said, "but I don't believe this year's will be it. The Grand Army isn't dead yet by a long shot—and it doesn't like to read its obituary."

Florida City Claims First Harbor Patrol

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—This Gulf Coast city claims organization of the first defense unit of its kind in the United States — a volunteer harbor patrol.

The 356-man patrol maintains a 24-hour-a-day watch over the city's waterfront, cruising in its own launches among the piers and shipping, alert for any possible attempt at sabotage.

Their activities are sanctioned by local, state and federal authorities, and the men are empowered to board and search any vessel. They carry guns to back up their authority.

Canadian Prisoners Don't Work Too Hard

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (UP)—Canadian prisoners of war in German prison camps are not over-working themselves, according to a letter which a royal navy engineer of this city slipped through the Nazi censor by using Canadian slang.

Leonard Gates, who was rescued at sea by the enemy after they had sunk his ship, wrote from Germany:

"We go out and saw wood all day here, but there is one thing about it, we don't hurt ourselves. And we get paid for it, too."

This postcard bore the stamp of the censor, who probably interpreted "we don't hurt ourselves" as a rather odd way of complimenting Nazi captors for their fine treatment.

British Cure Shock By Blitz Recording

LONDON (UP) — Cases of shell-shock in Britain are being cured by a new method—"blitz recording."

Men from Dunkirk and badly-bombed areas were taken to the hospital where the idea originated. Doctors realized that they would never recover in the quiet atmosphere, so they decided to try "sound inoculations" with real air raid noises.

A small siren and tins and sticks first were used. When the patients became accustomed to these, records of a real air raid were repeated from three to seven times at each treatment.

Many who have undergone this treatment have recovered from serious nervous symptoms in less than a week.

CCC Program Adopts Vocational Training

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—The army is not the only organization to undergo mass revitalization since the emergency began.

The Civilian Conservation Corps also has been brought up in line with the nation's preparation. Its course, heretofore pointed toward agricultural and forestry conservation, now includes the port-of-call for vocational training for defense jobs.

The Arkansas CCC, with its more than 5,000 young men, is engrossed in a training program which takes in radio communication, auto mechanics, metal work, wood work, elementary electricity, a various other lines of endeavor that will prove valuable in filling vacancies in defense industries.
