Purse String Control Lost, Congress Told

WASHINGTON, April 13—UP—Former Undersecretary of the Treasury Roswell Magill told Congress Monday it has lost control over government spending and will have to take drastic steps to regain its grip on the federal purse strings.

Magill, now president of the tax foundation, made the scheduled statement in testimony prepared for the House Government Operations committee. He supported legislation which would bar the government from spending more than it takes in through tax revenues—regardless of appropriations or commitments.

The legislation sponsored by Rep. Frederic R. Coudert Jr., (R-N.Y.), would set an arbitrary $65 billion spending limit for the fiscal year 1954 beginning July 1.

The Truman administration estimated that spending in fiscal 1954 would total $78.6 billion.

Chairman Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) of the Senate Appropriations committee said in a weekend radio broadcast that he "guessed" Congress will be able to cut Mr. Truman's budget by six to eight billion dollars. He said that would clear the way for a tax cut effective next Jan. 1.

Under Coudert's proposal, which the administration is expected to oppose, the $65 billion limit could be exceeded only in case of a war declared by Congress, a national emergency voted by a two-thirds approval of both House and Senate or in case of a two-thirds vote of both House and Senate specifically adding the extra expenditures to the public debt.

Two Injured When Auto Strikes Cow

Two female passengers in an automobile driven by Neil W. Barber, 23, of Amarillo, are recovering in a local hospital today from injuries received when their car hit and killed — a cow.

Barber's wife, Mrs. Barber, is reported in "fair" condition today after suffering back and chest injuries. Vondell Skaggs, 26, of Mobeetie, received a dislocated right shoulder and is reported in "good" condition.

The black Angus heifer was killed about 9 a.m. Sunday on Farm-to-Market Road 748, north of State Hwy. 152, when Barber's car plowed into it. Hauled back into Pampa, the car is considered a total loss.

According to Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard, Barber was headed south on the farm road when the collision occurred, sending the vehicle on its side, through a fence, into a field — and throwing the two passengers from the car. The dead heifer was found alongside the car.

Exact location of the mishap was ½ mile north of Laketon or 19 miles east of Pampa.

According to Duenkel-Carmichael officials, who sent an ambulance for the two women, Barber tried to hold the women to the seat when he saw the impending collision but was unable to keep them in the vehicle.

Barber's car, they said, landed atop both of them with the majority of its weight on Miss Skaggs.

No charges are expected to be filed, Haggard said.

88 Keys for 132 Hours

CAMBRIDGE, England, April 13 — UP — "Syncopating Sandy" Strickland, 40, played the piano continuously for 132 hours to set a new world's record by two hours. Then he was carried to a couch and fell asleep from exhaustion. His fingers continued to twitch spasmodically in his sleep.

CHERRY BLOSSOM QUEEN — Attorney General Herbert Brownell laughs happily as Janet Kay Bailey, of Akron, Ohio, gives him a big kiss, just after Brownell spun the "Wheel of States," background, in Washington, D.C. The wheel stopped at "Ohio," and won for Janet the opportunity to be crowned the Nation's Cherry Blossom Queen.

POWs May Voice Reds' Propaganda

WASHINGTON, April 13—UP—The Defense Department is trying to prepare the American public for the possibility that some Korean war prisoners may come home mouthing Communist propaganda.

The department has issued an eight-page "fact sheet" describing in detail the techniques the Communists have used to try to win the confidence of captured Americans and "reorient their political sympathies."

Release of the document followed disclosure Saturday that the Army has prepared a program to help returning prisoners get re-adjusted politically and psychologically to the American way of life.

Some officials had previously voiced concern over chances that advanced "brain washing" techniques employed by the Reds might result in some Americans refusing to return home.

Capitalize on Position

According to the Defense Department document, the Reds have capitalized on the "uniquely vulnerable" position of the prisoners to spread propaganda.

Of more than 29,000 letters received in the United States from Americans held captive, "virtually all" have contained Communist propaganda "in some degree," the department said.

This is in addition to the propaganda broadcasts and statements that some of the POWs have been persuaded or forced to make.

"Such captive soldiers cannot be condemned for co-operating with the Communists, at least outwardly for the alternative may appear to be torture or death—or both," the department said.

Devote Four Hours Daily

In some prison camps, it said, "at least four hours daily are being devoted to political indoctrination and discussion." The prisoners are "deprived of any real knowledge of the political and social realities

Slight Decline In Local Job Picture

Though Pampa's job situation was "down a little the past week," the local Texas Employment Commission office this morning had about 20 jobs on tap and three persons waiting to take the new aptitude test.

Reason for the decrease in available jobs— most of them short-term laboring jobs — was the change in weather, according to Bill Ragsdale, local TEC head.

Lee Roy Harris, local test administrator, today was fully trained to process applicants with the General Aptitude Test Battery which was taught him last week by Shelby Cook, Amarillo, Ragsdale said. GATB is designed to indicate not so much what job a person ought to have but rather what field of endeavor he should enter.

Although there were no farm jobs available in the TEC office this morning, there were positions open in clerical, sale and service categories.

"There should be a few farm jobs along pretty soon now," Ragsdale pointed out.

Federal Agents Apprehend One-Legged Fraud Suspect

SUTHERLAND, Neb., April 13—UP—An ex-convict and bankrupt, who once kept $100,000 stuffed in his wooden leg, was in federal custody Monday.

FBI agents Sunday found Clyde C. Winslow, 50, living in quiet respectability here with a woman he said was his sixth wife. He was engaged in oil drilling operations.

Winslow was wanted in California on grand theft and fraudulent check charge and was Missoula, Mont., where he was placed in bankruptcy in 1947 by creditors who made claims of $193,000 on $70,000 worth of assets.

He was taken to North Platte, Neb., Sunday night to await removal to Montana.

Winslow had been the object of a nationwide search since he escaped from a Santa Ana, Calif., jail on Christmas Day, 1950. When he was arrested here he was wearing dark glasses and a moustache.

His Montana associates said that before he went bankrupt while operating a Missoula lumber company he showed friends how he carried one hundred $1,000 bills in his artifical leg. Winslow's left leg has been amputated below the knee.

Federal agents said that Winslow disappeared from Missoula shortly after the bankruptcy proceedings in 1947 and was not seen until his 1950 arrest in California.

The government also wants him on claims that he owes $52,000 in back income taxes.

The FBI said that he has been arrested on such charges as child desertion, fraudulent checks, swindling and disposing of mortgaged property in Colorado, Arkansas, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

'Cost-Price Squeeze' . . .

Farm Income To Be Lower

WASHINGTON, April 13—UP—The Agriculture Department Monday said the "cost-price squeeze" on the nation's farmers will be more severe this year than last, and net farm income will be lower.

It said prices received by farmers the first three months of this year averaged 9 per cent below the comparable quarter of last year.

At the same time, farm production costs, including interest, taxes and wage rates, averaged only 3 per cent below the same period last year.

The report said farm costs are expected to continue "about at 1952 levels" on most items but feed and livestock. Those are expected to go down.

The report made no predictions on what will happen to farm prices this year. They have been moving gradually downward the past two years.

However it said farmers in most areas "are likely to continue production at relatively high levels."

The prospect of bumper crops has already caused Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson to warn that stepped-up price support spending may "wipe out" the $131 million budget reduction he planned for his department in fiscal 1954.

At last count, Jan. 31, the department had about $3 billion tied up in price support operations. About half of the total was on crops put under loan, much of which will be turned over to the government when the loans mature. The rest represented commodities already owned by the government.

Biggest items under loan were wheat, corn and tobacco. Also under loan are stocks of cotton, flaxseed, peanuts, olive oil, tung oil, soybeans, hay and pasture seeds, barley, dry beans, grain sorghums, oats, rice, rye, turpentine, cottonseed, honey and wool.

U.S. Warships Destroy Reds' Chongjin Port

SEOUL, April 13 —UP—The battleship New Jersey and 75 planes from two aircraft carriers Monday destroyed half of the port of Chongjin only 55 miles from the Russian border.

Sixteen-inch guns on the New Jersey rained shells on the vital Communist port and supply center while Corsairs, Panthers and Skyraiders roared in from the Japan Sea to drop bombs.

The jets and propeller-driven planes, from the carriers Philippine Sea and Oriskany, and the New Jersey, dramatically returning to the Korean war, ruined warehouses, power plants and storage areas.

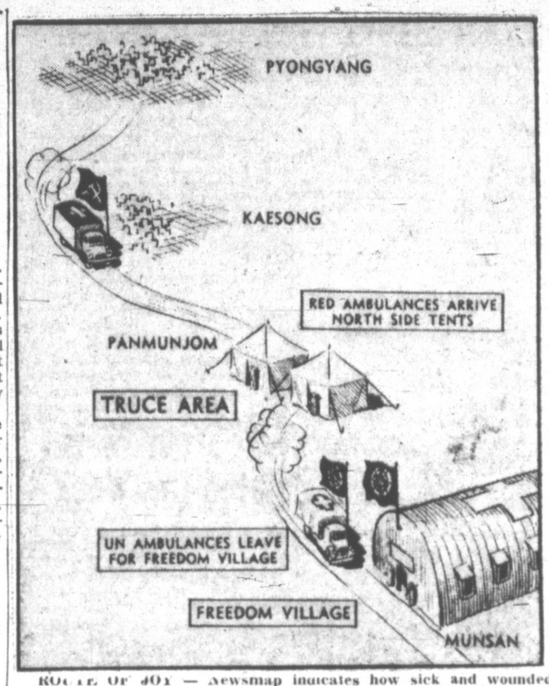

It was the first big attack on the port since March 21 when 175 carrier-based planes dropped 200 tons of bombs on the city.

The Navy reported at Monday afternoon that the attack on Chongjin was "still raging." Two hours later, the Navy said the New Jersey had scored seven direct hits in seven minutes on the Communists' main comunications building, destroying it. Aircraft spotters said about half of the vital communications hub had been blown up.

Farther south, the cruiser Los Angeles worked over supply routes in the battered port of Wonsan.

In the air, Sabrejet pilot Maj. James P. Hagerstrom of Tyler, Tex., shot down a MIG-15. He is now credited with 6½ MIGs destroyed and four damaged.

United States Marines, fighting the Navy's part in the ground war, killed 15 Chinese in 15 minutes near the truce village of Panmunjon in a sharp fight heard in the untouchable neutral zone.

ROUTE OF JOY — Newsmap indicates how sick and wounded United Nations prisoners will be returned to the United States forces. Communist ambulances from the north will arrive at north side of hospital tents in Panmunjom, unload their sick and wounded, and receive a receipt for them from a UN exchange officer. UN ambulances will then transport the men to "Freedom Village" near Wunsan, and from there they will be flown to hospitals in Japan. If possible, helicopter transport from Panmunjom to "Freedom Village" will be effected.

Allied Troops Rehearse For Exchange Job

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, April 14 —UP— The first of more than 600 sick and wounded Korean war prisoners of the Communists Tuesday were scheduled to start down the long road back home and freedom from Red prison camps.

They were to be loaded aboard red-draped ambulances and trucks at 6 a.m. (3 p.m. est) at Chonman, near the Yalu River for a jolting, four-day, 200-mile trip down bomb-cratered highways to Kaesong, near this truce conference site.

Four days later, on Monday, April 20, the first of the Allied prisoners will be formally exchanged and will pass through Panmunjom's symbolic "Freedom Gate."

United Nations and Communist liaison officers reached complete agreement on the exchange in an "understanding" which did not even require a signature.

Only a few miles away, in "Freedom Village" at the UN base camp of Munsan, troops put on a "dress rehearsal" for Monday's momentous exchange, with Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, watching the exercise.

About 225 United Nations troops acted as prisoners in the dry run. First they played the part of Communists being turned over to the Reds, then of Allied prisoners gaining their freedom.

Each of the sick and wounded men, including 120 Americans, will receive a medical checkup as he arrives at Panmunjom. Seven medics from the 171st station hospital, will give any first aid needed.

Then the medics will determine

Witness Refuses To Answer Questions Of House Panel

WASHINGTON, April 13—UP—Henry W. Grunewald declined to tell House investigators Monday what he did as "confidential secretary" to the late Henry W. Marsh, an insurance executive.

Grunewald, a "mystery man" with friends in high places, last year had declined to talk at all to members of a Ways and Means subcommittee investigating tax scandals. He returned Monday as a witness, under threat of a jail term for contempt of Congress. He was reported ready to talk—and talk he did, but only up to a point.

In a gruff voice that sometimes made his answers hard to catch, Grunewald described himself as an investigator and public relations man. He said he was born in South Africa in 1892 and came to the United States alone in 1906 or 1907.

He said he held a number of jobs including investigative posts for the Justice Department and the old Prohibition Bureau before going to work for Marsh, who headed a large insurance firm.

"What were your duties?" committee counsel John Tobin asked the balding, heavy-set witness.

"To handle his confidential work."

"What was his confidential work?"

"I refuse to answer the question on the advice of counsel because it is not pertinent to the inquiry," Grunewald said.

Tobin commented it was Grunewald's privilege, but warned he would "have to take whatever consequences may flow from it."

Quinduno Review Slated Tonight

Area residents can hear a review of development in the Panhandle's newest oil field Tuesday night when W. D. Blackmon, geologist for Gulf Oil Corporation, outlines work his company has done in the Quinduno Field of Southern Roberts County.

Blackmon is speaker for the first spring meeting of the Panhandle Chapter, American Petroleum Institute, slated for 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Palm Room.

Joe Cronin of Borger is chairman of the Panhandle group and J. W. Graham, division engineer for Kewanee Oil Company, is first vice chairman. L. L. Milliron is second vice chairman while Martin Ludeman is secretary-treasurer.

TWELTH NIGHT — Student thespians from Pampa High School will give a performance tonight of cutting from William Shakespeare's farcial comedy, "Twelfth Night." There is no admission charge for the performance slated in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. (News Photo)

School Board Due To Canvass Votes

Only thing certain at tonight's meeting of the Pampa school board will be the seting of the boards two re-elected members.

Incumbents Herman Whatley and Rex Rose will begin three - year terms, following a canvass of the April 4 vote in which they were returned to office by 3-to-1 margins over a third candidate, John H. Harnly.

Get-together is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the school business office.

Reorganization of the board will follow. Present officers are Raeburn Thompson, president; Whatley, vice president; and Frank Smith, secretary.

Other matters that may come up in April's first meeting include the payment of invoices and the naming of a fifth member to the schools' board of equalization. Already picked are A. B. Whitten, Clarence Kennedy, Aubrey Steele and Skeet Roberts.

Postoffice Slates Sub-Carrier Exams

Examinations are to be held in Pampa for substitute clerk-carrier positions with the local postoffice, according to C. W. Stowell, examiner-in-charge. Vacancies are now open and the postmater will hire only those who pass the examination.

Entrance salary is $1.61½ per hour. Further information and the necessary application blanks can be obtained from the postoffice.

UN Peace Debate Nears Conclusion

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 13—UP—The United Nations General Assembly entered its final round of debate Monday on Poland's "peace" blueprint and set its sights on recessing by the weekend.

The main political committee meeting Monday morning was expected to vote rejection of the Soviet bloc proposition and turn immediately to the last item on its business sheet—Burma's complaint against the presence of some 12,000 Nationalist Chinese troops on its soil.

Because of revived hopes for an armistice in Korea, the Assembly tentatively planned to recess rather than adjourn when it has ratified committee action on the two remaining items, probably Thursday or Friday.

A recess will enable it to re-convene quickly, in case an armistice is concluded, and take up the problem of Korea's political future.

In the Polish debate, Britain was reported considering a counter-resolution for the West to sponsor.

Poland's resolution is a grab-bag of Soviet block measures put forward year after year and consistently rejected. It calls, among other things, for: Withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea in two to three months; a Big Five peace pact, outlawing of the atom bomb; and ratification of the 1925 Geneva ban on germ warfare.

The British have been considering the idea because of concern that the Reds could score propaganda points by playing up the fact that they sponsored the only "peace" resolution and by arguing that they therefore have a monopoly on peaceful intentions.

The British have not revealed their ideas for a counter-proposal. But it probably would be a broadly-phrased resolution re-affirming the West's position on key cold war issues and challenging the Reds to prove their desire for peace by concrete moves toward the Western view.

The United States is reported to feel no counter to the Polish formula is needed, and it is still doubtful whether the British will put forward any resolution.

Pampans Eye Meet On Adult Education

A delegation is slated to represent Pampa at the first West Texas Conference on Adult Education, in Lubbock Thursday and Friday, preparatory to the start of one of the groups here, according to Mrs. Lillian Snow, memer of the Altrusa Club, local program sponsor.

The conference is being held in conjunction with the Texas Library Association Convention.

Heading the local group is Mrs. Flossie Anderson, Altrusa representative.

Accompanying her will be three Pampa librarians, Mrs. Snow, Miss Mary Gordon and Miss Ila Pool. And Mrs. F. M. Culberson has announced intentions of participating.

Mayor Tom Rose said today he tentatively planned to be present to round out the city's part in the new program.

Altrusa Club proposed the adult education group here and has slated a leaders clinic April 20 to enlist local moderators for the project.

Theme of the Lubbock conference is to be "The Place of Adult Education in Your Community."

Chairman is Dr. Per G. Stensland, head of the Adult Education Program Southwestern headquarters.

Resource personnel are R. J. Blakely, Fund for Adult Education; Charles A. Nelson, executive director of the American Foundation for Political Education; Carl Bailey, director Adult Education Center of Lubbock; and Norris Hiett, Division of Extension, University of Texas.

Culminating the conference is to be a "chuck wagon feed" in the O. L. Slaton Junior High School Friday. Square dancing is to be feature entertainment.

Highest Interest Rate . . .

New Treasury Bonds Issued

WASHINGTON, April 13 —UP—The government began borrowing $1 billion Monday at the highest rate of interest it has offered investors since 1933.

The 3¼ per cent interest rate tops even the 3 per cent which owners of the familiar series "E" defense bonds get.

The new series of treasury bonds, carrying 3¼ per cent interest and maturing in 30 years, went on sale throughout the country. While they last, which probably won't be long, orders may be placed at any bank. The minimum denomination is $500.

If you need the money you have invested in one of the new 3¼ per cent bonds, or many other regular treasury issues, you can sell the bond on a bond market, but you must accept the going price. That might be lower, or could be higher, than what you paid in the first place.

These are hazards the treasury feels most small investors will not undertake. Thus it doesn't fear a rush from relatively secure defense bonds to the slightly higher interest rate of the new 3¼ per cent bond. Likewise, it does not feel sale of the new bond now will interfere with the current campaign to sign up self-employed persons for the bond-a-month plan of defense bond buying.

The government will buy a defense bond back from you for its original price after you have owned it 60 days, and pay interest for the time it has used your money. You may not sell a defense bond to anyone but the government.

The treasury thinks its new bond will not have a noticeable effect on the business of savings and loan associations, or savings banks, which are paying their share-holders and depositors less than 3¼ per cent interest. It is relatively easy to withdraw your money from such institutions, and many people feel this offsets the fractional difference in interest.

County Commission Talks $$$$ Today

Money matters that will take most of the day to discuss and pass on faced the county commissioners this morning as they met in the county court room.

Outside of the current bills for each precinct and general operating costs, the commissioners will be asked to pass a resolution approving the sale of Gray County school lands in Gaines County.

County Judge J. B. Maguire said the meeting would be "an all-day session."

Also slated to come before the commissioners again is the controversial "Lewis Problem" which could result in the commissioners finally approving payment of the $400 March salary to Wesley Lewis, discharged manager of Perry LeFors Field.

The commissioners have been holding up Lewis' salary pending an audit of the airport's books. Lewis contends the books have been audited twice and refuses to yield his personal records to the court.

American Colony Protests Criticism

LONDON, April 13 —UP— The News Chronicle said Monday the American colony in Madrid is furious" over a Spanish movie which bitterly criticizes the United States.

The Liberal part newspaper said the movie, "Welcome, Mr. Marshall," deals with U. S. aid to a small village.

Villagers waving American flags go out to greet the aid administrators, but the Americans merely race through the streets in a convoy of limousines. The enraged villagers then throw their American flags into the gutters.

In another sequence a priest reads out the figures for violent crimes in the U. S., the newspaper said.

The Chronicle noted the film was released as U. S. and Spanish negotiators neared agreement on the establishment of American military bases in Spain.

Burglar Blamed In $33,000 Fire

FORT WORTH, April 13 —UP— A $33,000 weekend fire was believed Monday by police to have been started by a burglar.

Officers said the two-alarm blaze early Sunday gutted the building housing the Wheelis children's apparel shop in the Westcliff shopping center, and destroyed most of the merchandise.

The burglar stole $385 in cash and checks after smashing a show window with a brick. Police said the blaze may have been set to cover up clues.

Refugees Storm Friendship Meeting In Angry Protest

CHICAGO, April 13 —UP— An angry group of refugees from behind the Iron Curtain stormed a Soviet - American friendship meeting here and turned it into a furniture - smashing, nose - punching melee.

Sixty police reserves sped to the scene Sunday to reinforce a squad of officers already stationed at the hall and rescued some 30 persons attending the meeting.

Sgt. Frank Heimoski, chief of the police industrial detail, estimated that about 1,500 persons milled around the meeting hall on the west side.

Police attempted to arrest some of the crowd, but hooting, jeering sympathizers surged around a paddy wagon and forcibly rescued the prisoners.

No One Injured

Several bloody noses and head injuries were reported, but no one was seriously injured, police said.

The meeting was arranged by the Chicago Council of American - Soviet Friendship as a memorial to the late Josef Stalin and Franklin D. Roosevelt on the eighth anniversary of the late President's death.

A large sign over the speakers' platform read "for international friendship — a meeting between Eisenhower and Malenkov."

Members of the organization said at least 30 persons had entered the hall and more were entering or on their way when the crowd began to gather and picket.

The leaders of the crowd were mostly Ukrainians, Lithuanians and other persons of Slavic birth. Many of them shouted they were refugees from Communist tyranny.

Alex J. Zabrosky said he was the leader of the demonstrators and said they belonged to an organization called "Friends of the Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations." Zabrosky mounted the hood of a parked auto during the wildest part of the demonstration to plead for order.

No Arrests Made

The demonstrators picketed for only a few minutes and then rushed into the building, which was set with 1,000 folding chairs.

Chairs were overturned and broken, a table was smashed and literature in the hall was destroyed.

Capt. Harry Penzin finally promised police would make no arrests if the crowd would disperse. Some of the demonstrators shouted "you are protecting the Communists."

A man presiding over the meeting, identified as a Jack Rossen, was pursued and cornered by a group of irate women. Police rescued him, loaded him into a squad car and released him three blocks from the hall.

The council's meeting resumed for a time after the disturbance while police stood guard.

Two Scout Films Slated This Week

Two training films are on the Boy Scout activity docket for this week.

At 8:3 p.m. today in Pantex' Scout Hall, Phil Pegues, district Scout executive, will show a training film, developed in the Adobe Walls Council to outline the responsibilities of unit leaders, committees and a program of planning.

At 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the city commission room, Dudley Steele, Cub training chairman, will show another training film whose primary target is cubmasters, assistant leaders, den mothers and unit committeemen.

An estimated 50 persons are expected to attend this first of six sessions for training Cub leaders. It will involve 11 Cub packs in the Santa Fe District, Pegues said.

This session is the first "in a series of emphasis on leaders—Cubs, Scouts and Explorers," he pointed out.

Other get-togethers ofr advisors and Scoutmasters are scheduled to follow, he concluded.

Houston Officers Stage Liquor Raid

HOUSTON, April 13 —UP— Three officers, in uniform, followed some customers into the Ambassador Club early Sunday and promptly pinched 24 persons for either selling or drinking liquor after hours.

They probably would have arrested more but they didn't have room for them in two paddy wagons and a squad car. So officers led by Sgt. Dick Schorm turned loose the women to find their own way home.

The men included several prominent Houstonians, among them-Seger Ellis, composer of the song "Little Jack Frost Get Lost" and operator of his own cocktail lounge; Harold Snyder, 32, operator of Snyder's Lounge; a television pianist, a club manager, and automobile dealer and others.

Robert F. Gassaway, 53, operator of the Ambassador Club in the hotel of that name, paid fines totaling $285 for himself and customers.

He said he was holding a "coming out" party because he had recently recovered from an illness but said some others "might have slipped in because I didn't want to make a scene."

Tidelands Foes Show No Signs Of Ending Debate

WASHINGTON, April 13 —UP— Senate foes of the tidelands bill Monday showed no sign of easing up on their prolonged debate to accommodate the Republican leadership's desire for a vote this week.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY.) renewed the battle of words against the administration - backed measure with a lengthy speech Monday. He and other opponents denied they are waging a filibuster but indicated they had a lot more to say before the voting stage is reached.

Senate GOP leader Robert A. Taft said he will do "everything I can to get a vote by the end of the week." He said the Senate will hold "reasonably long" day sessions, and possibly one or two night meetings.

Monday's session was not expected to run late although starting at 10 a.m. cst — an hour earlier than usual. Taft said no attempt would be made to keep a quorum on the floor because many members wanted to attend the season opener baseball game between New York and Washington here.

Beginning Tuesday, Taft said, the Senate will meet from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily. Night sssions may be called Thursday, and Friday with the possibility of a Saturday meeting.

Lehman said opponents of the measure are "gaining strength" and the public is becoming more "aroused" against the bill as it learns what is at stake.

Wednesday Rites For Sarah Doty

Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Sarah Elizabeth Doty, who died here at 5:45 a.m. today while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Carl Deckman in the Sloan Camp, three miles west of Pampa.

A pioneer of Bartlesville and Dewey, Okla., Mrs. Doty was born Aug. 19, 1866, in Dubois, Ill. She moved to Dewey in 1900.

Funeral services are slated in Burts Funeral home, Bartlesville with burial by the side of her husband in Fairview Cemetery, Bartlesville.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. L. A. Parris, Dewey; Mrs. W. H. Kyles, Bowering, Okla., and Mrs. Deckman of Pampa. She also leaves nine grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

The body is being sent to Bartlesville today.

Seventh Burglary Reported By Police

Pampa's seventh burglary in seven days was reported to city police today with the taking of $25 in change from the Rendezvous Club on South Cuyler.

Other break-ins reported in the last week are the Campbell St. Grocery, 857 E. Campbell (April 6); W&G Restaurant, 319 W. Foster (Tuesday); Strickland Grocery Store, 938 E. Frederic (Wednesday); the Smoke House Beer Tavern, 321 W. Foster, the Top o' Texas Realty and Insurance Company, Duncan Building, and the Duncan Insurance Agency, 109 W. Kingsmill (the last three, Saturday).

According to police, the latest break-in was effected by the unlocking of a rear window and screen from the inside.

A steel knife was taken from the kitchen and used on the cash register to get the money, police pointed out.

"This burglary has the same appearance as all the recent ones," Police Chief Jim Conner said this morning.

Work Nears Completion On U.S. 66

Contractors were going into the last lap on the four-lane U. S. Highway 66 this week, with only a shade more than four miles of concrete to pour on the east bound lane.

Paving of both lanes in the city of McLean was completed last week and construction crews moved westward into open country on the east-bound lane. By this morning only 4.09 miles of the concrete ribbon stretching from the Wheeler County line to a point one-half mile west of Alanreed remained to be completed.

State Highway Department engineers this morning said the job is progressing at the reate of about one-fifth of a mile per day. Following completion of concrete pouring operations, laying of shoulders — eight feet on the outside and four feet on the inside — will have to be done as well as running concrete ditch retards.

In the meantime contractors on the five plus mile stretch, running from one-half mile west of Alanreed to the Conley County line, of the four-lane highway were stockpiling construction material before getting down to actual work. According to the contract with the state, the contractors must finish the north lane — the west bound lane — before he present paving can be disturbed. This will permit normal traffic over the highway during construction of the road.

Negotiators Try To Settle Strike At Ford Company

DETROIT, April 13 —UP— Company and union negotiators meet Monday morning in hopes of settling a 13-day-old walkout of a comparatively few Ford Motor Co. employes which threatens to idle 75,000 workers by the middle of the week.

Although only 2,500 workers actually were on strike, a parts shortage created by their walkout had idled an estimated 47,000 workers Monday in 13 Ford assembly plants across the nation. A company spokesman predicted 75,000 would be off the job by mid-week.

Ford officials and representatives of the CIO United Auto Workers have met almost daily since workers walked out April 1 at the Monroe, Mich., factory which makes coil springs, wheels and chrome parts for Ford cars. A 90-minute negotiating session Sunday ended with both sides reporting "no progress."

The workers struck over what they described as "a long list of grievances." Wages were not a factor in the dispute.

The shutdown of the Monroe plant was causing a gradual paralysis of Ford operations. Nearly 50,000 assembly workers in Michigan were expected to be idled by the middle of this week.

Plants already closed by the parts shortage included the Lincoln-Mercury assembly plants at Metuchen, N.J., and Los Angeles, Calif. Officials of plants at Hapeville, Ga., Louisville, Ky., and Chicago said their production lines would halt Monday or Tuesday.

President Takes Time Out For Week Of Rest, Golfing

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON, April 13—UP—President Eisenhower laid aside the job of whittling down the federal budget Monday to concentrate on paring a smaller but equally stubborn figure—his golf score.

He planned to board his private plane, the Columbine, about 10 a.m. cst to fly to Augusta, Ga., for a week's vacation at his favorite golf course, the Ouguasta National.

Except for a long weekend at Augusta late in February, it was his first vacation since he shouldered the duties of the presidency Jan. 20.

To Meet Old Cronies

Waiting for him at the southern resort city were scores of old golfing cronies, including many of the nation's topflight pros who took part in the just-completed Masters tournament.

It has been Mr. Eisenhower's custom for years to go to Augusta just after the tournament. To keep the date this year, he passed up a chance to throw out the first ball at Monday afternoon's opening game of the baseball season.

Accompanying him were Mrs. Eisenhower; her mother,, Mrs. John E. Doud; their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John E. Eisenhower; and grandchildren Dwight David, 5; Barbara Anne, 3; and Susan Elaine 1. Two members of the White House staff, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and Appointments Secretary Thomas E. Stephens, and the inevtiable complement of Secret Service men completed his party.

Taft Gets Invitation

Mr. Eisenhower will interrupt his pursuit of par Thursday long enough to fly back here to deliver a major foreign policy speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

He will leave Washington immediately after the speech to return to Augusta, pausing briefly en route at Salisbury, N. C., to participate in ceremonies marking the 200th anniversary of Rowan county.

Senate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft has been invited to join Mr. Eisenhower at Augusta next weekend. The President plans to return to the capital on April 20 or 21.

Labor Troubles Cause Shootings

OAKDALE, La., April 13—UP—State police Monday reported two more ambush shootings in two paper mills' labor troubles here and a sheriff warned "someone" might get killed if the strike is not halted.

Capt. Jerome Haas, head of a state police detachment here, said shotgun blasts riddled one worker's car and struck the home of another Saturday night. He said no one was hurt in either shooting.

Sheriff Ralph Thomson said 10 state troopers and 10 of his deputies have been patroling this community since the seven months old strikes recently erupted into violence.

"Someone is going to get killed down here someday," he said. "It's a miracle that we haven't had a killing before."

Thompson said there have been other ambush shootings and 65 dynamite blasts since two AFL unions went on strike against the Calcasieu Papaer Mill and Sotuhern Industries, Inc., at nearby Elizabeth.

He said almost all residents of this comumnity in which most employes of both mills live carry either a pistol or a shotgun in their automobiles.

Mrs. Hardy H. Hicks Is Honored At Woman Of The Year Presentation Tea

Mrs. Hardy H. Hicks, 1953 Woman of the Year, was honored with a tea given by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Sunday afternoon in the City Club Room. Approximately 120 guests attended the presentation of Mrs. Hicks.

In the receiving line were Mmes. Martin Stubbe, president of the Sorority, Micks, Rufe Jordan, 1952 Woman of the Year, Ralph Esson, Norman Fulps, Ken Reeves and Elmer D. Young.

Miss Betty Wells presented programs to guests and Mrs. Ken Meaders presided at the register.

A spring motif was carried out in the decorations with arrangements of pastel flowers. The serving table which was covered with a yellow linen cloth was centered with a fountain surrounded with jonquils and lilacs. Mrs. Bob Quick presided at the silver coffee service. Refreshments included pastel finger sandwiches, tea cakes decorated with flowers and coffee.

The program included piano selections by Mrs. Roy Johnson. She also accompanied Roy Johnson who sang "The Song of Songs" and "Let My Song Fill Your Heart." Lowell Stark, accompanied by Miss Ann Jordan, played two cornet solos. They were "Blue Moon" and "It Had To Be You."

Rev. Dick Crews, minister of the First Christian Church, gave the invocation and benediction. Mrs. Stubbe welcomed the guests and introduced former Women of the Year, Mmes. Dick Hughes, Arthur Teed, Huelyn Laycock, Jimmy Massa, Rufe Jordan and W.R. Campbell.

Mrs. E. W. Henshaw told of highlights in the life of Mrs. Hicks and presented her a certificate of recognition. Mrs. Jordan handed Mrs. Hicks the traditional bouquet of yellow roses. Mrs. Hicks will be sponsor of the Sorority and Mrs. Jordan will be a director.

Attending the annual affair were Mmes. Thurman Cline, M. K. Gurley, Ray M. Wells, W. R. Wanner, A. B. Carruth, Elmer Francis, J. Holley, D. C. Ash, M. McDaniel, Walter Purviance, Edwin S. RUTH MILLETT

"I like to see a big dog sleeping on a living-room carpet. It shows the house is a man's home as well as a woman's," says an observing male.

There are other indications that a house is a man's home. For instance:

Big, serviceable ashtrays that are usable instead of tiny and decorative.

Big easy chairs. When living-room chairs have obviously been selected for looks alone, with no thought of comfort, you can be pretty sure Mama went furniture-shopping without taking Papa along.

Magazines and books that are easily accessible. If the magazines and books are hidden you know who hid them.

Where Newspaper Is Found

The morning or evening paper lying beside a mans easy chair is a good sign because no man who has his wishes respected lets a newspaper be thrown away the day it arrives.

A six-foot divan reveals consideration for the husband. The living room that doesn't have a place where a man can stretch out to read, listen to the radio, or watch television obviously wasn't planned with the man of the house in mind.

Furnitiure that isn't too fine and delicate to be used and looks as though it is used every day, seems to say, "He lives here too."

Yes, it's usually easy to tell with just a gance at the living room whether it is a man's house as well as a woman's house.

When Papa has no say at all about his own home the living room usually bears silent witness to the fact.

HOW TO AVOID CRIPPLING DEFORMITIES

An amazing newly enlarged 44-page book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it.

It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proven successful for the past 33 years.

Satisfied patients proclaim the modern methods outlined in this Book:

• Wisconsin Man states "used crutches, barely able to walk—now can climb ladder and paint.

• Iowa farmer writes "I realized great relief from arthritis and can now work every day."

• "For over 5 years I suffered such intense pain it seemed unbearable. Was becoming deformed. Now am practically straight and normal" says Montana man.

• "Arthritis gone" is report of Ohio man.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 2348, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

A coat of shellac on the interior of kitchen cabinets not only provides protection from the steam and moisture that are always present in the kitchen, but keeps the wood surfaces of the cabinets from deteriorating.

MATURE PARENT

Esther was just 10 when her father told her mother that he wanted a divorce to marry someone else.

This news was a great shock to Esther's mother. She gave her husband his divorce — but was furiously angry at having to do it. Unfortunately, this anger didn't match the role of gentle victim suggested to her by her sympathetic family and friends. So this angry emotion expressed itself in heart palpitations and much talk of poor Esther's "loss."

Now Esther is herself a mother. She is a very anxious one. Let Jimmy get a sniffle — and she prepares for high fever. Let an unexpected bill come in — and she at once assumes that she's been overcharged. Let her husband suggest new slip covers — and she envisions a disaster that will require the money.

Loss so pervades Esther's expectations for herself that she can't be out of the house 10 minutes without beinning to wonder if she locked the back door securely.

When Esther recounts her troubles to her mother, her mother is deeply sympathetic. If her daughter doesn't call to report what has gone wrong every day, she telephones to find out herself.

Esther's mother, of course, has never recovered from her anger.

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Big Job Ahead

The Ides of March are past, but the national headache that occurs each March 15 when the income tax falls due lingers on. At the present time, even the smallest taxpayers (in the under-$2,000 bracket) must pay more than a fifth of their taxable income to the federal government. In the rarified air of over $200,000 the federal tax begins taking a whopping 92 per cent. And you don't have to be rich to be in the group that pays half its income to the federal treasury — the 62 per cent rate is reached when your taxable earnings pass $20,000 and it goes up exceedingly fast from there. The many state income taxes take a slice of what's left in addition to property taxes.

This fiscal year the federal tax take is expected to total almost $69,000,000,000, of which half will come from individuals and the rest from corporations and indirect sources. A great many of us are wondering just where all that money goes.

Here is what happens to each tax dollar: Armed forces, 58c; interest on the debt, 8.7c; foreign aid, 7.7c; to veterans, 6c; social welfare, 3.4c; stockpiling and related security activities, 2.9c; public works, 2.9c; atomic energy, 2.7c; to farmers, 2.6c; other purposes, 5.1c.

These, of course, are general classifications. For instance, the government payroll is $18,700,000,000 a year, with civilian workers accounting for a little more than half of it. The states are given grants of $1,300,000,000 as part of the public assistance program. The Post Office Department is currently spending $666,000,000 more than it is taking in. The Navy is getting some new ships — bill, $900,000,000. Military airplanes are a much bigger item — $7,400,000,000 this year. Collecting taxes is a costly business in itself — the Bureau of Internal Revenue's budget is $273,000,000. Crime is another substantial expense to you, the taxpayer — the federal prisons cost $29,200,000 and the FBI $70,300,000.

The Eisenhower Administration is committed to going over all of these expenses with a fine-tooth comb, and reducing them whenever possible. It must pare billions just to balance the budget, much less to start slicing it. It's a whale of a job — but a job that practically everyone is convinced must be done.

It is likely that fairly substantial reductions will be made in the public payroll — there seems to be a great many cases where two or more people are now doing work suitable for one. Some water will probably be squeezed out of the public assistance set-up — various investigations indicate there has been much waste here. There will be a paring of work which can be abandoned or postponed, or which can be done by local government or private enterprise, such as electric power projects.

Spending for the armed forces, which accounts for much more than half of your tax dollar, will be scrutinized with extreme care. This doesn't mean that there will be blanket cuts — reports indicate that the President feels that outlays for certain military purposes must be increased rather than decreased. But it is believed that the forces have gone in for some extremely expensive and unnecessary frills. It is also believed that there has been some bad management in the Pentagon. As an example Congress was strongly upset by General Van Fleet's report that there had been ammunition shortages during the whole time he commanded in Korea.

The overall goal is to balance the budget, and then start working on tax reduction.

Older Workers Hurt

Employes' retirement pension plans and other such benefits are the biggest barrier to the older job-seeker in his search for employment.

Plain arithmetic is the main reason for this. With retirement pensions beginning usually at 65, it takes four times as large a contribution by both employer and employe to build the same size pension fund if the employe starts with a firm at the age of 50 as is necessary if he starts at age 25. Insurance losses are much heavier on older people, so costs go up unless average levels are held down.

Some firms let older applicants waive pensions and other privileges, but encounter considerable dissatisfaction when those employes reach retirement age and cannot claim the same benefits they see their fellows enjoying. Most firms having such programs — which means most of the big concerns — simply refuse to hire older applicants.

Red Fashion Plate

We note that Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, chief of staff of the Soviet armed forces, has been named one of the 11 best-dressed men in the world by the British magazine, Tailor and Cutter, male fashion authority.

Looking at pictures of Sokolovsky's gleaming chest, we can conclude only that this recognition comes after long and patient lobbying by the button and medal division of the garment trades.

However it came about, this honor is not likely to fall upon a Russian soon again if the new Soviet premier, Malenkov, has any influence upon Russian style. There are sack suits and then there are just sacks. The uniforms which envelope Malenkov's pachydermal frame could hold a lot of potatoes.

No, Malenkov never will be a fashion plate, even if he should try. But he might get somewhere in one of those "do it yourself" contests. Any one of his outfits could be Exhibit A in "How to Make the Most of an Old Bedcloth."

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Speakers Selected By School Administrators

Since the American Association of School Administrators thought so much of an address made by Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer before their convention at Atlantic City that they printed thousands and thousands of copies for distribution, I want to quote further from this address, which was reproduced in full in the National Education Association magazine.

If you really want to know what the public school administrators think, you better write to the National Education Association News, 1201 Sixteenth Street Northwest, Washington 6, D. C., and get a free copy of this. If you read this, you will better understand what kind of men are selecting the teachers and textbooks for your children.

Mrs. Meyer condemns as strongly as she knows how Senators McCarthy and Jenner and Congressman Velde. She opposes their investigation of the schools. She quotes socialists and taxi-cab men to prove that they are dishonest. She doesn't even name the taxi-cab man that she quotes to prove that Jenner "has no more reputation for honestly than a Communist."

Mrs. Meyer emphasizes the belief that most school administrators seem to have—that they must have the final say as to what is taught in the schools. They are willing to take advise from parents, but the local boards of education and the state boards of education must have the final say as to what is taught and who does the teaching. They must do that even if the parents are paying the bills and are responsible for the education of their children.

What To Have Exclusive Right

Mrs. Meyer expresses it this way:

"They (the people) have the right and the duty to make recommendations and criticisms on technical questions but not the right to dictate. Thru friendly conferences the school administrators should make it clear to citizens associated with their schools just what they can and cannot do to be of service in expanding and improving the school system."

That is telling the parents in plain English that it is none of their business how the state educates the youth of the land.

And the trouble is that most of the parents have been trained in tax supported schools and have become so confused that they do not let the school administrators know that school administrators are their servants and not their masters, as the school administrators seem to think.

Mrs. Meyer contends that Congress Velde has a low I.Q. because he introduced a bill ordering the Library of Congress to mark all subversive matter in the Library of Congress. She writes:

"Yet in the hands of such people as McCarthy, Jenner and Velde, if this latest investigation of theirs is allowed to go on, lie your reputations and those of your fellow-educators."

Then she says:

"But it is McCarthy who is the most dangerous of them all."

Another place she says:

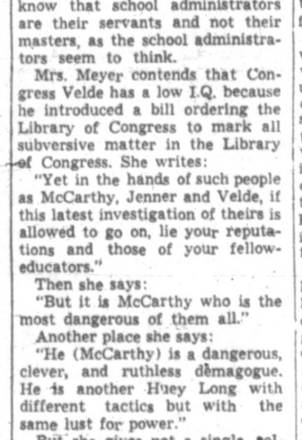

"He (McCarthy) is a dangerous, clever, and ruthless demagogue. He is another Huey Long with different tactics but with the same lust for power."

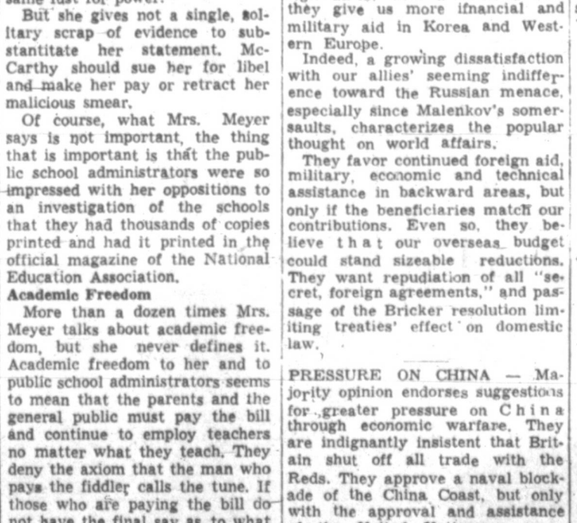

But she gives not a single, solitary scrap of evidence to substantitate her statement. McCarthy should sue her for libel and make her pay or retract her malicious smear.

Of course, what Mrs. Meyer says is not important, the thing that is important is that the public school administrators were so impressed with her oppositions to an investigation of the schools that they had thousands of copies printed and had it printed in the official magazine of the National Education Association.

Academic Freedom

More than a dozen times Mrs. Meyer talks about academic freedom, but she never defines it. Academic freedom to her and to public school administrators seems to mean that the parents and the general public must pay the bill and continue to employ teachers no matter what they teach. They deny the axiom that the man who pays the fiddler calls the tune. If those who are paying the bill do not have the final say as to what should be taught, then they become slaves to the state and not the masters of the state.

Congressional Surveys Show U.S. Nationalistic In Thinking

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Congressional surveys of popular sentiment during the Easter vacation ending today disclose that the American people have become more economy-minded and nationalistic in their thinking than they were when they ousted the Truman administration last November. In a "charity begins at home" spirit, they are more concerned with domestic than foreign problems, save for the war in Korea.

From their fence-mending talks with constituents over the holiday week, as well as from an unusually heavy flood of correspondence, House-Senate members' samplings show the following questions to be uppermost in the voters' minds, in this order of importance: voGernment spending, control of communism, taxation, the size of the public debt, the Korean War and means to end it, defense and preparedness, inflation and the cost of living.

DISSATISFACTION WITH ALLIES — With a few minor exceptions, these canvasses reflect general approval of the Eisenhower administration, although there is some concern that he is too easy-going. They want him to act even tougher toward our foreign allies, with a demand that they give us more financial and military aid in Korea and Western Europe.

Indeed, a growing dissatisfaction with our allies' seeming indifference toward the Russian menace, especially since Malenkov's somersaults, characterizes the popular thought on world affairs.

They favor continued foreign aid, military, economic and technical assistance in backward areas, but only if the beneficiaries match our contributions. Even so, they believe that our overseas budget could stand sizeable reductions. They want repudiation of all "secret, foreign agreements," and passage of the Bricker resolution limiting treaties' effect on domestic law.

PRESSURE ON CHINA — Majority opinion endorses suggestions for greater pressure on China through economic warfare. They are indignantly insistent that Britain shut off all trade with the Reds. They approve a naval blockade of the China Coast, but only with the approval and assistance of the United Nations.

They advocate formation of a Pacific defense alliance similar to NATO. But they vote overwhelmingly against further U.S. financing of the French in Indo-China. They do not agree with Eisenhower that this offensive and the Korean conflict are an "interdependent operation."

They are strong for national defense. Although urging cuts in nondefense spending, they oppose any weakening of the armed forces. They overwhelmingly favor expansion of the Air Force to 143 wings and all-out development of our atomic arm. Although the vote is close, they want adoption of universal military training at the expiration of the draft system.

DOMESTIC INTERESTS — On domestic matters, they seem to be in greater agreement with the general White House program.

Strangely, they follow Eisenhower in opposing tax cuts until the budget has been balanced. But they say "no" to increased taxes, even if they seem necessary to bring federal income and outgo into balance.

They demand return of federal gas taxes to the states for construction and maintenance of highways. They insist on reciprocal trade agreement reservations, permitting cancellation of concessions if they imperil domestic interests. They ask extension of old-age insurance coverage, and repeal of the provision limiting beneficiaries' earnings to $75 a month. They generally oppose 90 per cent farm subsidies or federal financing of agricultural exports.

They line up against Taft-Hartley repeal. They favor federal aid to schools, elimination of all wage, rent and price controls, return of tideland properties to the states and statehood for Hawaii.

In short, they seem to be antagonistic toward "big government" at home and further expansion of our overseas establishments, unless it proves advantageous to Uncle Sam. They don't want the old gentleman to be played for a sucker.

Rosemary — I wouldn't want you to say anything to my folks about it, but I don't think they know very much about bringing up children.

Baby-Sitter — Where'd you get that idea?

Rosemary — Well, they make me go to bed when I'm wide awake, and they make me get up when I'm awfully sleepy.

Jones — My wife isn't very affectionate towards me. Is yours?

Bones — Gosh, I don't know. She never even mentions your name.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

A particularly interesting subject is brought up in today's first letter.

Q—Please discuss hiatus hernia. Will it eventuallly take my sister's life? Mrs. J. L.

A—Readers of this column already know that ruptures or hernias are most likely to occur in places where the muscular wall, which is supposed to keep certain organs in place, is particularly weak. One such place is in the muscular diaphram, which separates the chest from the abdomen at the point where the digestive tract—in this instance the esophagus — passes through the diaphram. Rupture, when it occurs here, is hailed hiatus hernia.

Hiatus hernia is most common as an inborn or congenital affliction or as the result of injury. Its symptoms vary but may closely resemble those of an ulcer of the stomach. Some physicians recommend that in mild cases it be treated medically, but general surgery is the best form of treatment, as it is for most other ruptures. It is generally a highly successful operation. The condition should not take the life of Mrs. L.'s sister, providing she has proper treatment.

Q—I was under the impression that Sprue was curable. Has some vitamin been found to help this condition? H. S.

A—Sprue is likely to be a chronic, may be a recurring disease and there is no single treatment that brings about a cure promptly in all cases. Treatment is variable from person to person but ordinarily consists of a good diet, rich in animal protein and vitamins, and low in fats and starches. Frequently liver extract or vitamin B-12 are given by injection and another vitamin-like substance [illegible] folic acid may also be given by injection or by mouth. The disease is fortunately rather rare in North America.

Q—I have trouble keeping my legs still. It bothers me and keeps me awake nights. Would you discuss this? Mrs. C. R.

A—This condition could be what has been called "restless legs." According to published reports in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the most characteristic symptoms are a feeling of weakness in the legs and a sensation of cold in the feet. Disturbance of sleep is common.

For relief, people move their feet continually or get up and move about. Massage has no effect. The unpleasant sensations appear only when the person is at rest, as in sleep or at the movies. The cause or causes is not understood. There is some reason to believe that the cause is in the nervous system, and other reasons to suggest circulatory disturbances.

Q—My three-year-old son cannot say a word, though his hearing is perfect and he understands everything that is said to him. Please advise. —Margaret

A—If the child's hearing really is perfect the chances are that he could talk if he wanted to. Probably he will start suddenly and jabber away like anything. If he does not start soon, however, the problem should be taken up with the child's pediatrician.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Paul—They laughed when you sat down at the piano?

Saul—Yes. I forgot to pull up the stool.

Mrs. Jones—The Coal Retailers' dinner is next week. What color dress are you going to wear?

Mrs. Smith—Well, we are supposed to wear something to match our husbands' hair, so I'm going to wear black. What will you wear?

Mrs. Jones—Gracious me! I don't think I'll go.

Artist — This is my latest painting, done in the realistic style. It's called 'Men at Work.'

Buyer — But nobody's working in the picture.

Artist — Ah, that's the realism.

LOOKING SIDEWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Once more the boys who lock themselves up in hot rooms for a week and emerge with the Ten Best wearers of clothes carefully listed and segregated as to sex, have issued their annual cataloguing of the dudes and I regret to report that, as usual, I can go on slouching around. I am not named as an international fancy Dan. My bride hasn't been tapped for any of the distaff rosters, either, and I am afraid this is less than crushing to her.

Except for the summer when I was 17 and went in for two-tone shoes and some neckwear offensively described as Piping Rock bows, with naturally the customary garments in between these extremities, I was never one to sit down and decide what to put on as eye-catching. I have worn brown shoes with blue serge, black loafers with copper-green tweeds and once, in a dilemna without a front door to it, I put one tan shoe lace in a black oxford that had to go with dinner clothes. But I had turned 50 at that point and was put down by the Rotary Club I addressed as an amiable old eccentric.

Some pretty fly dressers have come my way, first and last, but none of what they knew about clothing the male form rubbed off on me. I hobnobbed around for eleven years with a renowned clothes horse named Adolph Menjou and for nine years was on first-name terms with another nobby dude named Clark Gable. Menjou, a candid fellow given to frank discussion of what is wrong with his fellow man, minced no words with me: he said I looked like an educated bum. It made me feel good, however, to be recognized as educated.

Another natty boy afoul of my life and times was a dressy lad named Lucius Beebe. Mr. Beebe could have been caught asleep in a fire in a 50-cents-a-night hotel and, probably emerge in gleaming silk topper, striped pants and a Prince Albert, complete with smoked pearl stick-pin and fawn spats. Beebe has retired to running a rural newspaper in Nevada now, but I'm willing to give eight-to-five that he has his jeans tailored and his mackinaw has beaver collar and cuffs.

I have no beef, but my bride has. She has a right to scream with a shrill, piercing note. In the 10 years I have known her, and out of her own noggin instead of at the ministrations of a professional crystal gazer, she has been eight months ahead of the fashion parade right along the line. She wore bangs long before any other celebrated girls made Page One with them and she has a hank of hair you could tie a horse with which makes me believe that next Christmas long, luxuriant hair will be back in style. Her skirt lengths and widths have led the mode almost a year ahead for as long as I have known her, but this hasn't pinned her name on a single Ten Best Dressed Dames list, which is a crying shame. Except that she doesn't cry about it.

She was a nice, fat seven months ahead of Dior's revolution, was wearing designs that Balenciaga foisted ten months after she discarded them, and was leading the outfit in sandal wearing at least two years before shoe manufacturers began getting women to put their feet in sandals.

Two years ago she had shirts made with short-tabbed collars of the shape that changed men's wear six months ago. I could go on like this for miles. And she still hasn't got the nod from a phony fashion roster.

It must be because she doesn't spend $20,000 a year on clothes. And that must be because we haven't $20,000 a year to spend on anything.

But I'm going to get her on one of those lists if I have to forge one.

CLARIFYING EDITORIAL ENDS McCARTHY SUIT

(Editor & Publisher)

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — The "Post-Standard" published an editorial retraction on Sunday, March 15, thus ending a libel suit which U. S. Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin had instituted in October, 1951.

Two days earlier, Senator McCarthy had announced in Washington that an agreement settlement had been reached. The amount of the settlement — he had sued for $500,000 — was of less importance, he said, than the clarification of the facts.

Trial of the action was to have begun Monday. Several months ago Senator McCarthy underwent lengthy pre-trial examination.

Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the Post-standard, a Newhouse newspaper, declined to amplify the statement made by Senator McCarthy and referred to the Sunday editorial, the text of which follows:

CORRECTIVE EDITORIAL

"An editorial published in this space Oct. 19, 1951 has been the subject of a suit for libel by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin. Since publication of this editorial the statements therein have been subjected to careful study in the light of all the facts now available.

"The Post - Standard in the light of all the pertinent facts wishes in fairness to its readers to correct certain statements that were written in good faith and in a sincere belief in their truthfulness but which have nevertheless proved to be untrue and unfair to Sen. McCarthy.

"The editorial had criticized Sen. McCarthy because of certain testimony given in a Swiss court by a Charles E. Davis. The Post-Standard relied on this testimony and on that basis felt that Sen. McCarthy had merited severe criticism. The Post - Standard has since gone further into the record and finds that Charles E. Davis has been convicted of forgery and is beyond belief and that Sen. McCarthy had not committed any act deserving of criticism in connection with that matter.

"The editorial of Oct. 19, 1951, also imputed to Sen. McCarthy responsibility for a photographic 'framing' of Sen. Tydings of Maryland. We are now satisfied that Sen. McCarthy was not responsible for this act and the record shows that responsibility has been clearly fixed on another individual who had no connection with Sen. McCarthy.

"The editorial of Oct. 19, 1951, also criticized Sen. McCarthy for a financial transaction with the Lustron Co. The facts in this case are these:

"Sen. McCarthy had prepared a book advising veterans how they could finance home purchases and obtain full advantage of all helps and provisions of federal housing laws. He entered into an agreement with the Lustron Co. whereby they undertook to publish and distribute 100,000 copies of this book, to pay him 10 cents a copy for these and 5 cents a copy thereafter. This agreement was entered into after Sen. McCarthy's party, the Republican Party, had been defeated in the 1950 elections and had lost control of Congress and Sen. McCarthy was very unpopular with the Truman Administration. It is not possible therefore that Sen. McCarthy could have been useful to the Lustron Co. with the Truman Administration.

"Lustron at that time was about to embark upon a large scale production of homes. There was no public indication that the RFC was about to foreclose. There has never been evidence presented before any committee or elsewhere that Sen. McCarthy in any way attempted to intercede on behalf of Lustron. The Post-Standard is therefore convinced that Sen. McCarthy's part in this transaction was on the same plane as the common practice among legislators of accepting fees for speeches and earning other fees from legitimate services.

"The Post - Standard's editorial of Oct. 19, 1951, was in the nature of an omnibus attack on Sen. McCarthy provoked in the mind of the writer by the Charles E. Davis testimony in Switzerland. The nature of this testimony predisposed the writer to think adversely with respect to Sen. McCarthy and to give credence to other allegations that have since been disproved. The Davis testimony on its face appeared to warrant our sharp editorial comments. Inasmuch as Davis on the basis of his record is unworthy of belief we are happy to make these corrections in fairness to Sen. McCarthy, our readers and ourselves."

McCARTHY STATEMENT

Following is the text of Senator McCarthy's statement:

"Senator McCarthy met with the publisher of The Syracuse Post-Standard and agreement was reached to settle the libel suit which McCarthy had against the newspaper.

"Because it became apparent in the course of the conversation that the publisher had not been motivated by malice and that the editorial had been based upon misinformation on which the editorial writer had relied in good faith, the settlement was a friendly one.

"The amount of settlement is therefore of less importance than the clarification of the facts, which the Post - Standard has agreed to publish in its editorial columns.

"The settlement was facilitated by the publisher's complete willingness to correct misstatements that his paper had published as the result of reliance upon information that was in error."

Majors Open '53 Campaign Today

NEW YORK, April 13—UP—It's a new administration handling the opening day pitching chore in Washington but the same old story of "stop the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers" Monday as major league baseball launches the 1953 pennant races.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, substituting for President Eisenhower, was scheduled to throw out the first ball at Washington's Griffith Stadium and then watch the Yankees attempt to make the Senators their first victim en route to an unprecedented fifth consecutive American League pennant.

In Cincinnati, meanwhile, Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio was scheduled to make the first toss before the Milwaukee Braves attempt to celebrate their debut in the National League with a victory over the Reds.

The weatherman predicted cooperation in both cities and a crowd of 30,000 was expected to be on hand in Washington, with a crowd of 34,000 predicted for Cincinnati. The other teams swing into action Tuesday with a total of 231,000 fans turning out to view openers in eight cities.

Nixon, heading a long list of high administration officials, occupies the center of attraction in the pregame ceremonies. His pitch—whether it proves to be one of the best or worst of the season — will mark the first by a Republican in 20 years. In addition, Nixon officially goes down as the seventh vice president to make the toss since William Howard Taft inaugurated the custom in 1910 and, of course, the first relief pitcher of 1953.

Nixon, in keeping with GOP tradition, has promised to make the pitch right-handed but is seeking bi-partisan support for his effort by making the throw a "blooper"—a pitch invented by Bobo Newsom, one of Democratic South Carolina's most solid citizens.

Then, with the hoopla over, the Yankees send 20-game winner and World Series hero Allie Reynolds to the mound to face ex-teammate Bob Porterfield, a hard-throwing right-hander who had a 13-14 record last season.

Only the Giants of 1921-22-23-24 and the Yankees of 1936-37-38-39 ever have won four straight pennants but the baseball writers and the professional odd-makers have made the Yankees overwhelming favorites to set a new standard. A total of 88 of 117 writers picked the Yankees to win and a Reno turf club established them as odds-on 4-5 favorites.

Manager Casey Stengel expressed confidence that the Yankees would achieve the unprecedented, claiming he saw no problems in his outfield, infield or catching departments and "more depth" in pitching. Stengel's opening day lineup included the eight regulars who played against the Dodgers in the World Series last October.

After Gov. Lausche's initial toss, Manager Charley Grimm of the Braves sends Max Surkont, veteran right hander, to the mound against Cincinnati's surprise selection, Clarence (Bud) Podbielan. History will be made with the first pitch of the game for it will mark the formal entrance of the first new franchise in 50 years into the National League.

Tuesday's openers have Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, New York at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Milwaukee and Cincinnati at Chicago in the National League and Philadelphia at New York, Chicago at Cleveland, Washington at Boston and Detroit at St. Louis. The larges crowd is expected at Cleveland where the prediction is for a turnout of 55,000.

Mat Tickets Go On Sale

One of the most promising cards held in Pampa this year, a 6-man tag team match, headlines tomorrow night's wrestling program at the Southern Club arena.

Tickets for the show will go on sale tomorrow morning at the Sportsman's Store. There will be no advance prices in the ticket sales.

Big Train Clements, after a long absence from the Pampa arena, returns to captain one of the teams in tomorrow's match with Polo Cordova to captain the other.

Teaming with Clements will be Jack O'Reilly, and Benny Truddell while John Henning and Johnny James will team up with Cordova.

Three matches of 1-fall 15-minute time limit will precede the tag match. The prelims will pit Trudell against James, O'Reilly against Henning and Clements against Cordova.

Preview Of 1953 Major League Season

NEW YORK, April 13—UP—A preview of the stories which will make headlines during the 1953 baseball season:

April 13: Bobo Newsom sees a "fine future" for Richard M. Nixon after inspecting the vice president's opening day "blooper pitch."

April 18: Fire engines summoned to Ebbets Field, discover it's only the new Russ Meyer burning up after a defeat.

April 30: Frankie Baumholtz leads the National League in batting.

May 1: Milwaukee wins its first big league game in 51 years.

May 5: Fred Hutchinson of the Tigers surveys the American League race and asks: "Which way did they go?"

Thorpe Burial Set Today In Oklahoma

SHAWNEE, Okla., April 13—UP—The body of 64-year-old Jim Thorpe, hailed by millions as the greatest athlete in the world, will be buried Monday in the scrub oak country of eastern Oklahoma where he was born.

Catholic funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. at St. Benedict's Church. Following the funeral, the body will be placed in a mausoleum at Fairview Cemetery until a $100,000 shrine in his honor is completed.

Thorpe, who clambed to Olympic fame from humble beginning as a Sac and Fox Indian tribesman, died two weeks ago at his home in Lomita, Calif., following a heart attack.

The Sac and Fox tribes took his body Sunday night to pay homage in their own way at all-night tribal ceremonial grounds north of Shawnee.

Thorpe's widow and family, who came here for the services, received thousands of messages of condolence. One came from President Eisenhower, who played football against Thorpe more than 40 years ago.

CAREER MAY END — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, flanked by her nurse Bette Walles and her husband wrestler George Zaharias, smiles from her hospital bed at Hotel Dieu in Beaumont where she is undergoing medical tests which indicate her fabulous athletic career may be at end. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Hogan 14-Under In Winning Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 13—UP—Ben Hogan, who believes golf is 70 per cent brains and 30 per cent execution, came as close to the perfect 100 per cent blend Monday as the game has ever seen with his 14-under par triumph in the Masters Tournament.

No man has duplicated Bobby Jones' title exploits because Jones remained an amateur until he won them all. But Hogan, an ex-caddy who had to scramble for his fortune, has set sensational records in the two greatest medal play titles in his country if not the world—the U. S. Open and the Masters.

In both events, Hogan cracked the marks set by Ralph Guldahl, the brilliant pro who flashed fleetingly across the record book in the 30's.

Oliver Second Again

Guldahl set the Masters record in 1939 with a 279 for the four rounds. In 1937 he shot a 281 to win the open.

Hogan blasted Guldahl's open mark in 1948 just before Ben's bad auto wreck and nobody has threatened that score. Sunday, he came home in a 69 for a 274 total to trim Guldahl's Masters mark by five strokes and win the 17th Masters Tournament by the same margin over ill-starred Ed (Porky) Oliver, the perpetual runner-up.

"Yes, this was the best I've ever played," said the 40-year-old Hogan who has laid off the circuit tournaments since last summer.

He was receiving congratulations in the trophy room at the Augusta national club, where President Eisenhower arrives Tuesday for his own week of golf, Boby Jones and such other great past champions as Horton Smith, Craig Wood and Gene Sarazen were standing around as golf's new all-time scoring champion reviewed his historic performance.

He called his 270-yard tee shot on the 13th hole of the final round the greatest shot of his career. The curving wallop took him around the angle of a dogleg and enabled him to go for the green and get a birdie to send him under par for the first time in the final round although he had cancelled two birdies on the way out.

"I figured then I was in," he said.

Outdoes Himself

He wasn't content, however, merely to beat Oliver and set a new record. He set one to stand against time by birding the 15th and unbelievably birdied the 18th with a 10-foot putt to go himself one better. There was nobody else to shoot at.

Hogan had some good news for his links rivals, though—he said he would plague them in only four more tournaments this year.

The bantam Texan said the only other tourneys he will appear in this year will be the Pan-American in Mexico City in May, the Greenbrier Tournament in West Virginia, the Colonial Invitation in Fort Worth, Tex., in May, and the U. S. Open at Pittsburgh in June.

Meeks Big Winner In Auto Races

Leland Meeks of Pampa walked off with top honors in yesterday's auto races held at the Drag Strip here, Meeks captured first place in both the Hot Rod and Sports Car races.

Herman Watkins of Pampa won first in the Modified Hot Rod division while Jerry Wright, another Pampan, won in the Modified Stock Car.

About 75 races were held during the three - hour show. The races, which opened the season in Pampa, was witnessed by an estimated 500 fans.

The races will be held each Sunday.

Harvester 9 Hosts Dalhart Tomorrow

Four games are on tap for the Harvester baseballers this week, the first of which will be against the Dalhart Wolves at Oiler Park tomorrow.

The Harvesters then will embark for Lubbock Friday for a three game series with the Westerners. A single game is carded for Friday afternoon with a doubleheader to follow on Saturday.

Tomorrow's game with Dalhart will begin at 3 p.m. The Harvesters will be seeking revenge from a 20-8 licking handed them by the Wolves earlier in the season at Dalhart.

Ed Dudley is due to get the starting call for the Harvesers in the Dalhart clash.

Despite losing a three-game series to Amarillo last week, the Harvesters retained their third place standing in the District 1-AA race. Amarillo leads he race with a 6-0 record, followed by Borger with 5-1, Pampa 1-5, and Lubbock 0-6.

Borger won three straight over Lubbock last weekend ot keep hot on the trail of the Sandies Borger and Amarillo clash this week in a 3-game series at Borger which will go a long way in determining the district champ. They meet in a single game Friday and a twinbill Saturday.

SMU 9 Leading SWC Race; UT Drops To 3rd

By UNITED PRESS

Strange things are happening in Southwest Conference baseball circles.

Perennial champion Texas is in third place in the standings, while Southern Methodist's unbeaten Mustangs were the lone unbeaten outfit and Baylor was close behind.

But, before the week is out the old order might emerge again since SMU must play Texas twice on the Longhorns' home field as well as hurdle an improving Texas A&M team.

SMU vs Aggies

SMU, which shut out Rice 10 to 0 and 3 to 0 last week, takes on the Aggies in Dallas Monday, then moves into Austin Friday and Saturday for the crucial series as it seeks to improve its 4-0 loop record.

Baylor, which boasts a 4-1 mark after splitting with Texas last week, plays only one game—against Texas Christian at Waco Saturday.

Texas, beaten by Baylor 10 to 9 after downing the same club 6 to 5, now has a 2-1 league mark and rests until its SMU series.

Rice and TCU, tied for the cellar with no victories in four starts, play at Fort Worth Monday, then Rice tackles Texas Monday, then College Station Saturday.

Texas Had Best Record

The Aggies beat TCU 3 to 1 and 4 to 3 in last week's other conference contests.

Outside the loop, Texas broke even with Oklahoma, winning 18 to 8 after losing 3 to 1; TCU beat Oklahoma 17 to 16; Baylor lost to Nebraska 8 to 1 and tied the same club 8 to 8; Rice lost to Sam Houston 7 to 6, and the Aggies beat Bryan AFB 4 to 0 and lost to Sam Houston 6 to 1.

Texas' 8-2 record was the best over the full season, but SMU was close behind with a 9-3 mark.

Idaho State Wins NCAA Boxing Title

POCATELLO, Idaho, April 13—UP—Host Idaho State College came through with three individual champions here Saturday night to win the 1953 NCAA boxing title from defending champion Wisconsin, which had two weight winners.

Runnerup Wisconsin nudged Louisiana State University into third place as none of the Southern school's three finalists won titles.

In fact, LSU had a one - point lead over Idaho State going into the finals. But Vic Kobe, Paddy Garver, and Elsworth Webb, snared victories Saturday night for Idaho State, while all three of LSU's finalist contenders lost.

Cold Weather Cancels Oiler Tilt With Borger

SWEETWATER, April 13 — (Special) — Cold weather cancelled the Pampa Oiler-Borger Gasser exhibition tilt scheduled for Sweetwater's Sportsman Park here Sunday.

A high wind that brought the cold wave into Sweetwater Saturday night continued throughout the day here Sunday.

The Oilers for the first time since spring training started here, didn't take the field for a workout Sunday.

Next on tap for the Oilers will be a tilt against the Borger Gassers at Fredricksburg Thursday night.

The Pampans will then round out their exhibition slate this weekend by meeting Lamesa at Lamesa, Friday night; Plainview at Plainview Saturday night; and San Angelo at Sweetwater, Sunday.

Sports Take Early Lead In TL Race

By UNITED PRESS

The Shreveport Sports, playoff champions in 1952 and the hottest team in the league in the closing weeks of the campaign, rested atop the standings of a brand-new season Monday with three straight victories.

In a tight 13-inning contest Sunday, the Sports polished off Beaumont 2 to 1 before a local opening crowd of 5,015 chilled fans.

The Louisiana entry displayed strong pitching last season and Sunday's victory indicated they will be strong in that department again as former big-leaguer Doyle Lade set the Exporters down with one run in 12 innings. The Ships managed only four hits off Lade and Bill Tremel, who pitched the 13th.

In other games, Oklahoma City's Indians grabbed their first Texas League victory of the season Sunday with a 2 to 0 win over Dallas.

The Tulsa Oilers remained undefeated in the early season as they defeated Fort Worth 6 to 3 before 3,561 Fort Worth partisans. Rookie Bill Elbert held Houston to five hits as San Antonio handed the Buffs their third straight Texas League loss 3 to 0 as 5,411 local onlookers cheered the Mission's triumph.

Righthander Ernie Groth, Oklahoma City pitcher, held the Dallas Eagles to four safeties as he grabbed his first win of the season.

It was Tulsa all the way over Fort Worth. The Oilers grabbed two runs in the second inning, one in the fourth, and a three-run outbreak in the sixth while three Oiler hurlers held the Cats to five hits.

Houston, highly touted before the season opened, remained the only team without a win in Texas League competition. A sixth inning homer by Mission Outfielder Jim Fridley gave San Antonio the winning tally.

The score by innings:

Houston	000	000	000	0	5 1
San Antonio	000	002	10x	3	11 1

Wooldridge, Clear (7) and Mancuso; Elbert and White

Local Trapshooters Win Over Amarillo

The Pampa trap shooting team, sponsored by Addington Western Store, defeated Eelectrolux team of Amarillo Sunday in a Holland League shoot held at Amarillo.

Ted Eads led the Pampans with a score of 42. Other scores for the winning Pampa team were Lewis Bonny, 39; C. B. Homer, Jr., 38; Red Roach, 36; and Paul Nash, 35.

Eads also won the registered Handicap Tournament held in conjunction with the league shoot.

The Pampa trapshooters will meet Tent and Awning of Amarillo in another Holland League shoot here next Sunday, starting at 1:30 a Recreation Park.

There will also be an open trap shoot held at the same time with local merchants donating prizes. Everyone is eligible to enter this contest.

Don't Trust Russ, Rep. Rogers Says

Don't trust Russia and scrap the defense program simply because that country has made some peace moves.

That, in effect, was the advice given the people of the 18th Congressional District by its congressman, Walter Rogers.

"Vigilance on the part of this country has never been more necessary than now. The peace moves by Russia can be fully explored, but this country must not drop its guard for one second. We have not forgotten that Japanese peace envoys were in Washington supposedly negotiating peace terms when Japanese planes attacked Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. The defense program of this country cannot and must not be curtailed in the least. The aggressive action of Russia did not stop with the death of Stalin. If we permit ourselves to be lulled into a false sense of security by the same people that we erred in trusting immediately after World War II, we have no ont to blame but ourselves," Rogers said.

Tree Limb Offered To Locate Water

DALLAS, April 13—UP—A Dallas man and his mother offered Monday to use their peach tree limb divining rod to aid the North Texas town of Byers in finding a good water spply.

Byers officials drilled a well on a spot last week located by a minister with a metal divining rod, but the well hit salty water. Bulldozers have built a dam to catch water from a farmer's spring, but even that wasn't enough to fill the city water pipes.

C. R. Whitus, 53, of Dallas, said he and his mother had used a green peach tree limb several times to find water, and have a good well on their place to prove it works.

Whitus said the preacher's divining rod was good for locating salt water, minerals and perhaps even oil, but said his own peach tree limb would point out nothing but good, usable water.

He said he and his mother would be glad to go to Byers if that city would furnish them transportation. He said that was all they would ask for their assistance.

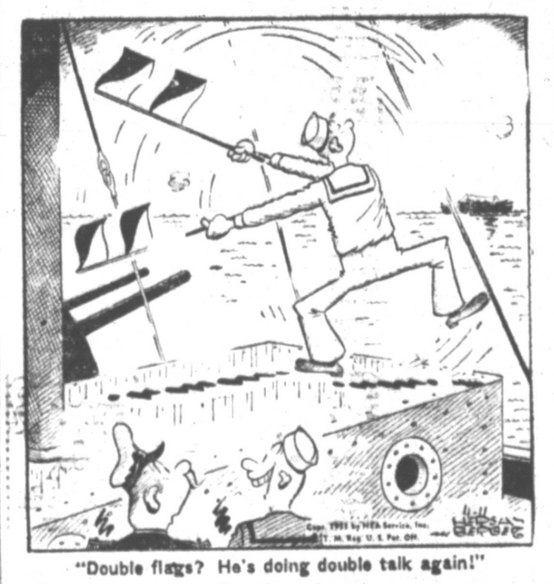

ANYTHING GOES—Proving that a woman will put anything on her head, Pat Behan of San Francisco shows off her zany spring hat. It consists of a colander, a pie pan, a cocktail glass and other bar accessories.

When the arm of this doll is touched, the sucker is automatically removed and doll cries.

"Grandma says happy marriages depend on a good disposition, not good looks—she told me you'll do!"

"Double flags? He's doing double talk again!"

"Well, well, you've stayed within your budget this month! You haven't been gambling, have you, Pet?"

YOUR LAUNDRY HELPS WITH SPRING CLEANING

THOROUGH CHECKUP — You can get a thorough checkup for your car at Cornelius Motor Co., at 315 W. Foster. You can get the safety lane test for your brakes, lights, windshield wipers, horn and various other requirements. Stop in at the Motor Co., that features nothing but the best of mechanics and equipment with which to repair your car. You can depend on getting the best because of the many years of experience the mechanics at Cornelius Motor Co. have. Don't depend on a half-way job, when you can get the best at Cornelius Motor Co.

Have Your Car Safety Checked At The Cornelius Motor Co.

Does your motor cough and wheeze? Does your car use oil? Does it seem to drink gasoline? If it does, bring your car into Cornelius Motor Co. for a complete checkup. Your car will be right from end to end. From taillight to bumper, your car is right and ready to roll, when Cornelius Motor Co.'s top flight mechanics complete their work, their men the inexperienced but leave it with years of experience standing behind their workmanship. Don't leave your car in the hands of the inexperienced but leave i twith folks you can depend on.

For the safety lane checkup, you will want the dependable workmen at Cornelius Motor Company to give your car a thorough safety checkup. Brakes, wheel alignment, lights, horn, windshield wipers and many other safety musts can be checked speedily and thoroughly.

The nationally famous Bear Wheel Alignment method is also used at Cornelius Motor Co., located at 315 W. Foster. You can rest assured that your wheels will truly be in line when they are lined up by the Bear system.

They also have a machine known as the Sun machine that gives a complete motor analysis. It helps to tune up the motor, shows the timing, carburetion, points and distribution. With this valuable machine, your motor will receive a perfect tune-up. Drop in and let the experienced workmen and helpful mechanisms give you reliable service on your automobile. Nothing is so aggravating as an automobile that gives incomplete service. Let Cornelius Motor Company, located at 315 W. Foster, take care of your motor needs.

The Van Norman brake machine grinds and trues your brake drums, so that you'll have a safer ride all the way around. Your life is in danger when you travel or operate an automobile without proper brakes. With the Van Norman brake machine at your service, you can rest assured that you and your family will have the properly trued brakes.

Remember, stop in at Cornelius and let really friendly people help you with your motor and brake problems. They are completely prepared to take care of any kind of trouble that may arise with your car. Their mechanics have had years of experience and are capable to give you the most dependable service you could ask for. Remember, the Cornelius Motor Co. is located at 315 W. Foster, conveniently located in downtown Pampa. Bring your car in to have a safety check while you shop or take care of other business matters.

Girl Feigns Sleep As Intruder Prowls

HOUSTON, April 11—UP—A pretty, 21-year-old secretary awoke Saturday to find a prowler rifling her dresser but she feigned sleep until he left.

She reported his total loot was seven cents.

Miss Betty Metz told police she awoke when a drawer in the dresser squeaked. She saw the prowler in the shadows. Though shaking with fear, she said she acted as if she was asleep until the prowler came to the bedside, stared at her and a roommate momentarily, then left.

The roommate, Joy Clary, 22, didn't awaken during the episode.

EXPERIENCED DELIVERYMEN — Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners feature a free pick-up and delivery service for their customers. All you need do is pick up the phone and call 675 for a courteous employee of Your Laundry to be right out to pick up your cleaning and washing. You can get family service in any way that you wish. You can either get wet washing, laundering without ironing and many other useful ways of obtaining perfect service. Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners also feature a perfect cleaning plant that has many years of experience in cleaning those favorite garments. There's No Comparison Of Service At Your Laundry

There is no comparison to the perfect workmanship your clothes and household items receive when you let Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners do the work for you. They have the very latest in equipment and modern cleaning methods to give you the utmost quality work. White shirts are finished perfectly. There is nothing that completes a man's suit like a perfectly laundred white shirt. Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners are experts in turning out fine finished work.

To keep your clothes and accessories clean for immaculate grooming, let Your Laundry & Dry Cleaning, located at 309 E. Francis do the job for you. They also have a free pick up and delivery service that will save you time and money. All you need do is pick up the phone and call 675 and let a courteous driver stop by and pick up your cleaning and laundry. He will return it looking like new for a low moderate price.

They give you the very best service possible for the least in cost. Not only do they specialize in this field, but they add to the life of each individual garment they renovate.

Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners has been located in Pampa since 1928. That's a long time to be in business, but to be in that business serving the Pampa area, is something else again. When a firm has been established a long time, they can naturally give you quality service you otherwise wouldn't get. It gives them a certain amount of experience that can only be gained by time and practice. You don't want to trust your favorite dress or new coat to an inexperienced cleaner. The best thing to do in that case, is call 675 and let Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners take care of those favorite clothes.

Everyone knows that good grooming begins with clean clothing, and Your Laundry & Dry Cleaning is just the firm that can fill that spot perfectly. When you step out for an evening or to work in the morning, you need to look your very best, and you can with Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners.

Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners also feature a special family service. In that particular service, you may get your weekly washing either washed and ironed, or washed without ironing or any way you wish. You can also get it back in record time. Save worry with the weekly wash, or if you happen to have let it stack up on you, get rid of it by letting Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners wash it for you.

Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners specialize on any type of fine fabrics. Woolens or pure silks, in either luxurious suits or frilly formals, you can rest assured that they will be cleaned to perfection. Your lovely woolen blankets will be cleaned with the best of care, ready to be put away for the summer. And the color will stay longer when you trust your personal items with our Laundry & Dry Cleaners.

Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners has approximately 85 employees who are experienced to give you only the best in cleaning work. They have a good many trucks on routes that pick up your laundry and Dry Cleaners if you want call 675. Remember Your Laundry and Dry Cle ners if you want deluxe service with minimum amount of expense. You will find courteous personable personnel to help you with your laundry and cleaning worries. Don't let cleaning laundry be a worry to you, call 675 and let them do the worrying for you.

Remember, you can get quality laundry and cleaning service for less money at Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners, located at 309 E. Francis. You can also remember, that many years of experience that Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners has means that you get perfection in laundering and cleaning of your clothing and household items. Don't have your favorites ruined by inexperience. Let a qualified firm do the job for you in the best way possible. You have only to pick up the phone and call 675 for free pick up and delivery. You'll have those clothes back looking just like new, with no extra bother to you of having to pick them up and return for them.
