WOMAN 'DRY' MAKES APPEAL FROM PAMPA JAIL

Hunt County Grand Jury Indicts Woman For Poisoning Husband In 1928

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The state supreme court has set the appeal of J. W. Nicholson, deposed Democratic precinct committeeman, for hearing on April 9. This will give time for the court to reach a ruling before the Democratic primary in July. Nicholson and 10 other members of the Wichita county committee were deposed when they refused to sign a pledge to support the entire Democratic ticket. Their plea for an injunction was granted in the district court here but the court of civil appeals reversed the action of the local court and sustained the committee. The case was then carried to the supreme court on a writ of error.

Democrats of Wichita county are pleased that they can expect an early ruling on this question. Until it is passed upon the status of the committee will be uncertain and any ruling that it may make will be subject to question. Fortunately it is not likely to be called upon to pass upon any of the questions that will come before it before the supreme court has had time to pass upon this question, and it is assumed that the court will arrive at an opinion soon after the hearing

In spite of the advertisements of cigaret manufactures which tell us to reach for a cigaret when we are tempted by sweets, the confectioners are predicting a sweet year. A well-known Chicago manufacturer estimates that 800,000 tons of candy will be consumed in the United States this year. Americans are the world's champion nibblers of sweets. They eat candy at the rate of 4,383,000 pounds a day, 182,500 pounds an hour and 3,041 pounds a minute, according to the Chicago manufacturer. The nation's candy bill is in excess of a billion dollars a year.

Carl Livington, explorer and authority on primitive life in the Southwest, is reported to have discovered three new caverns in the mountains not far from Carlsbad, N. M. One of them is said to contain the mummified remains of a most primitive race. Now that the publicity attending the Nicholson expedition has directed attention to New Mexico caverns we can expect a lot of new explorations and probably some interesting discoveries.

Conrad Nagel who ought to have a good chance for observation in Hollywood gives us this thought in Motion Picture Magazine:

"The trouble with modern marriage is not that women want careers. It is not because of women's emancipation from household drudgery. It is not that men are too pre-occupied with business to be good lovers. It is not any of these extraneous, mechanical conditions which are always being trotted out as excuses for the chaotic state of marriage in America. The reason there are so many unsuccessful marriages now-a-days is that people do not care enough about making them succeed. Mostly they don't even try. They stubbornly refuse to admit that marriage is a job—a life job—at which both parties must work with grim, persistent determination if they are to make it go."

There are some who seek marriage for a little new experience, there are many who rush into matrimony for a thrill. These are among the number who help make our divorce records what they are. Matrimony is an adventure; it can be the greatest and happiest adventure of life. But it requires unselfishness, and hardships and patience and "grim, persistent determination" at times, as Conrad Negal says. But does any real adventurer expect the way to be always smooth?

Artist Tells Jury His Affair With Indian 'Professionally Necessary'

Marchand Cheered by Daughter

Henri Marchand, noted artist, greeting his daughter, Henriette, when they met for the fist time since he was committed to the Erie county jail in Buffalo, N. Y. He is being held as a material witness in connection with the murder of his wife for which an Indian woman, Lila Jimmerson, is on trial charged with inciting the slaying.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 27. (AP)—Henri Marchand, artist, testified today of an intimacy without love with Lila Jimerson, Seneca Indian on trial for plotting the murder of his wife.

His relations, he told the jury and a packed courtroom, were established and maintained in the name of "professional necessity," they constituted his method of getting a reluctant model to pose for his Indian museum groups. The method, Marchand testified, had been used with other Indians in other places, notably on a Canadian reservation.

He did not know, he told the court that Lila, disappointed when his attentions ceased, had plotted as charged by the state, to have old Nancy Bowen, Cayuga, kill Clotilda Marchand. He did not know, he testified, that Lila had used letters to convince the Indian the artist's wife was a "white witch," who had placed a curse on Chief Charlie Sassafras, Nancy's husband, and killed him, and would do the same to her.

He did not know, he averred, when he was motoring with Lila Jimmerson, March 6, that old Nancy was at the moment beating down with a hammer and smothering with a drug the woman he had married 33 years ago.

Court adjourned with Marchand on the stand. Throughout his recital of his private life, his four children sat in the courtroom, the two girls with heads bowed, the elder son staring fixedly before him and 12-year-old Henri Jr., sketching pictures on a pad of paper. One sketch made yesterday is a fine likeness of old Nancy Bowen, made as she huddled in the witness chair testifying to how she killed his mother.

Location of the new well is described as 450 feet north and 150 feet east of the southwest quarter of section 157, T. E. & L. survey.

Situated a mile south of the old Mercer pool, the nearest producing area, the well will open a broad stretch of new territory in the Olney shallow field, one of the richest in the state. At Austin it was reported Governor Moody had received a telegram from Miss Allred. The governor was said to have declared there was nothing he could do about the case.

E. A. Stewart, switchman for the Katy railway company was injured when an unidentified automobile beat a switch engine to a grade crossing near the American refinery on the Iowa Park road, by a narrow margin and scraped him from the footboard of the engine.

Physicians said that he was in no immediate danger after an ambulance brought him to a local hospital. He was badly cut across the forehead and received bruises on several parts of the body.

The engineer slowed the locomotive when he saw that the switchman was signaling for something. The automobile crossed without crashing into the engine. The driver of the car did not stop and identification of the occupants was impossible. Stewart resides at 707 Travis street. It will probably be several days before he will be able to work physicians said.

Ontario Premier Invited to Tell 'Dry' Committee About Rum Control

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Government control of liquor in Canada will be defended by Premier George Howard Ferguson of Ontario province, if he accepts an invitation from the wet forces to testify before the house judiciary committee in answer to charges by former Premier E. C. Drury, of Ontario, that the system "is an absolute failure."

Plans to invite Ferguson were announced late today by Representative Linthicum, Democrat, Maryland, in charge of wet witnesses. He also said Pierre S. Du Pont of Wilmington, Del., also would be a rebuttal witness to answer charges of dry advocates who assailed him in the hearings.

This development came after the house judiciary committee favorably reported the first of the law enforcement commission's recommendations to strengthen the dry laws by authorizing the institution of padlock proceedings against speakeasies, night clubs and other places where liquor is illegally dispensed. The measure would authorize absentee service of summons through publication and posting.

The judiciary committee also considered the Stobbs bill to modify

BUREAU SEEKS MODERN HOMES

Needs Outlined at Meeting Of Dealers Here

was concerned with possible methods of financing such remodeling and improvement of homes as might be desired. Speaking for a committee consisting of Solon R. Featherston, W. S. Abbott, and R. E. Huff, Mr. Featherston said:

"Investigations which we have carried on during the past few days have convinced us that money on suitable terms will be available here for all the purposes of this very commendable campaign. It must always be remembered that a property must represent adequate security for any loan advanced to its owner, and that satisfactory considerations must be furnished both parties to such transactions. Generally, second leins will be honored by several local financing concerns provided the unencumbered value of the property in question is reasonably in excess of the loan. We are privileged to announce that the State Trust company, the Commercial Credit company, the Wichita Falls Finance corporation, John Hirschi, Charles R. Daniels, the R F Finance corporation, and Mysinger & Walker will consider applications for money to finance modernization of property in this city.

Scores of property owners already have demonstrated a willingness to make needed repairs and improvements in their homes with the expense of such additions and alterations being financed as the original purchase of the home, according to J. C. Mytinger. The speaker told of this service having been offered more than a year ago to something more than 100 home owners here, with the result that most of them improved their houses, refinanced the proposition, and have manifested satisfaction with the plan used.

Money Conditions Better

Referring to finances for the proposed movement, Mr. Mytinger said, "The money situation here is improving daily. Within 30 to 60 days I believe money for this purpose will be more plentiful than the homes ready for its uses. This modernization campaign will do much to further improve the mental attitude of our citizens, which has already bettered itself greatly in the past few weeks. All we need is some place and some way to start; the movement will move to complete success by its own momentum. Now is the time to begin work."

Other speakers at Thursday afternoon's meeting included J. H. Allison, C. R. Seal, John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce; Fred Elbert, Charles E. Watson, John Hirschi, Ray C. Arnold, and Ray R. Keith. Mr. Allison pointed out that similar plans to that adopted here Thursday are being followed successfully in other cities, and the national building trades' organizations are utilizing like methods.

Mr. Arnold, urging wide publicity for the Home Modernization bureau's program, said: "Every man in Wichita Falls should lend every possible assistance to this movement. Many persons are simply waiting to see what the other fellow is going to do. Once started, this campaign will see a great deal of improvement made in homes without any outside financing. One of the most important phases will be extensive publicity, so that each of us will know that the rest of us are keeping the wheel in motion. It will accomplish wonderful results in the city."

Better Rentals

C. R. Seals, president of the Real Estate board, stressed the importance of home improvement to property owners. Rental properties may be expected to bring from 20 to 25 per cent more income if their condition and appearance is what it should be, he said, while property so improved not only becomes much more readily salable, but will usually return two dollars for every dollar spent in modernizing, refinishing, etc., Mr. Seals said.

The executive committee of the Home Modernization bureau will be called into session as soon as appointed, Mr. Curlee said. The movement for such a bureau was inaugurated recently by the civic improvements committee of the chamber of commerce, of which Mr. Curlee is chairman.

'It Sure Surprised Me,' Says McKinney Tailor

Argotane (Orgatone) Overcoming Trouble of Five Months' Standing

"It's the honest truth, before I had taken this Argotane (Orgatone) a week I could tell it was doing a whole lot of good," said J. L. McCandless, a well known tailor at the Finley Tailor shop, McKinney, Texas, the other day.

"I had a severe case of stomach trouble and kidney disorders," he continued, "that sometimes seemed like they would knock me out. My stomach was in such can awful fix, everything I would eat disagreed with me and made me miserable all the time. My kidneys bothered me a whole lot and I didn't sleep well at night.

"One of my friends had been taking Argotane (Orgatone) and told me that it had done him a world of good, so I got me a bottle to try. Well, sir, it sure surprised me, for I began to feel better after a very few days. I never saw anything in my life before to give such quick relief as this Argotane (Orgatone), and I am more than willing to help other sufferers by telling my experience with it."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Wichita Falls at Allison's Drug store, 716 Indiana Ave.—Adv

LONDON, March 27. Among the cabinet members, diplomats and other distinguished guests whom he greeted with Gregory J. Sololnikoff, Russian ambassador, one of the famous Red "committee of seven" which conspired in 1917 for the establishment of the Soviet union.

As a result of the Soviet revolution, Czar Nicholas, cousin of King George, was slain. When Sokolnikoff arrived in London several months ago he was unable to see the king and so presented his credentials to the Prince of Wales. Today was his first meeting with the monarch.

The British sovereign resumed the old custom of not shaking hands with his guests but of remaining seated while they filed past. It was the first levee held at Buckingham palace since 1923. Levees customarily have been held in St. James' palace, which is now being used by the naval conference.

Sheriff Hunts Rustlers When Park Cattle Are Found in Burk Pasture

Investigations were being made Thursday by members of the sheriff's department here seeking to determine whether the disappearance and subsequent location of about 20 head of cattle indicated a revival of cattle rustling activities in this vicinity.

The cattle were reported stolen late Wednesday night by T. H. Shuler, who lives near Iowa Park. He placed a value of $900 on the stock and offered a reward for their return. Investigations lasting more than half the day Thursday, led by Sheriff W. G. Bralley, resulted in the discovery of the cattle in a pasture south of Burkburnett. The officers would not accept the reward for their work. Mr. Shuler said Thursday he believed the stock had been driven from his pasture by thieves, since the herd would not have wandered such a distance in search of food.

the Jones law by defining misdemeanors and fixing the maximum penalty for first and slight offenses at not more than six months in jail and a fine of $500. The committee will consider several other measures recommended by the enforcement commission to relieve congested federal courts next Thursday.

Appearing for the dry forces yesterday, Drury said bootlegging, drinking in the home, liquor consumption and crime had increased in the dominion under government liquor control. In answer to this, Premier Ferguson said in Toronto, that "the best evidence of satisfaction of the public of Ontario as to the law is shown in the result of the last election."

"The province repudiated Mr. Drury's policy and returned 92 supporters of a government out of a total of 112 members in its legislature," he said.

FERGUSON TO DECLINE BID

TORONTO, Ont., March 27. (AP)—Premier Howard Ferguson of Ontario indicated today would decline if an invitation were tendered him to appear before the judiciary committee of the United States house of representatives in its investigation into prohibition conditions.

"I am sure the committee will realize," he said, "that it is undesirable that the prime minister of this province should attempt to influence the trend of legislation in a friendly foreign country."

Telegraph Suit Again Filed in District Court

A suit for damages was filed Thursday in the 89th district court by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas against the Postal Telegraph company on a claim of $25,800 growing out of the death of their son, Elmer Thomas, formerly a messenger boy for the telegraph company here.

The suit was brought back into state court Thursday after having been first filed in the 78th district court and later in federal district court. The first trial before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court resulted in a non-suit. The case was then filed in federal court but was dismissed by E. W. Napier, attorney for the plaintiffs, when it was found the Postal Telegraph company was a Texas corporation.

The petition alleges the boy's death resulted from negligence of the company in providing proper medical care according to the terms of a contract made between the company and its employes.

house" and added that "from now in this place will be run like a prison and not like a Sunday school class."

Talking Barred

When prisoners filed into the room they were informed they could not speak but must raise their hands when they wanted more food. Heretofore they had been permitted to speak to the man on other tight.

Immediately after the meal the men were marched to their cells and locked in for the night. None will be permitted out of their cells except at meal times until the entire situation is cleared up, Warden Rudolph said.

Twelve men were kept in the prison hospital tonight, the most seriously injured in today's rioting. Among these was Pete Carolla, serving 30 years for banditry from Kansas City, Mo., and recognized as one of the leaders of the unrest.

Mutiny in Factories

The men were injured in a riot which occurred at the noon mess and which followed mutinies in the pants, shirt and chair factories. The 900 rebellious workers in the shops had thrown down their tools and had shouted and screamed "better food, less work and better bosses!" Guards aided by national guardsmen, quelled the men and marched them across the courtyard to the cell houses while officials prepared for a "general revolt" forecast by a trusty. He said it was set for noon when thousands of the prisoners are fed.

The striking shop workers had been prodded into their cells and the courtyard was cleared for the long lines of fellow prisoners who, still peaceful but sullen, moved into the mess hall at the "zero hour."

Music Played

They moved into the hall under the sights of rifles and machine guns.

The prison band struck up jazz time tunes of "down home in the old back yard" in an attempt to ease the situation.

Suddenly 750 men in the lower mess hall broke into a violent demonstration. Warden Rudolph ordered his men to "go in and bring them out."

The convicts stampeded. They hurled dishes, utensils and furniture through the windows, crashing the panes, and emerged through the battered sills to meet the guards.

The courtyard and mess hall became a scene of confusion. Guards tossed tear grenades into the hall. Other guards struck down the most violent with clubs in the court. In 15 minutes the convicts were subdued.

Leaders were placed in "dungeon" cells of the punishment house. All inmates were locked up and all shops were closed down.

Powell and Wright Cases Set for Hearing

Trial of Tee Powell, alias S. B. Adams, on a charge of swindling over $50 in connection with the alleged obtaining of bank deposit slips under false pretenses and passage of a worthless check in payment for an automobile here, is scheduled for call in the 89th district court Monday, April 14, according to a list of settings released Thursday by George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney.

Powell is at present being held in Lockhart on a charge of swindling there.

Trial of C. A. Wright on a charge of burglary of a private residence is also scheduled for trial the week of April 14. Wright was convicted under the habitual criminal act and setnenced to 10 years in prison at a trial several weeks ago but an opinion of the supreme court held that previous pardons granted him blotted out prior offenses and removed the right to try him on the same offense, one having resulted in a hung jury.

Disbarment proceedings brought by the grievance committee of the Wichita County Bar association and the district attorney's department against E. A. Martin, former Wichita Falls attorney, will also be called for trial during the week. Martin was acquitted on one charge of barratry in the county court at law growing out of an incident also alleged in the disbarment proceedings. Three other similar charges pending against him have since been dismissed. The proceedings are the first of their kind to have been brought in Wichita county within the memory of Aassistant District Attorney Anderson. R. I. Kennedy, charged with perjury at Martin's trial will also be called to trial during the week in the 89th district court.

Other settings for the week were announced as follows: Johnnie Ivey, burglary and theft over $50 in connection with the taking of several cartons of cigarets from the Summers Cigar company here; A. New Judge Obtained In Julian Bribe Case

LOS ANGELES, March 27. (UP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts won his fight to obtain a new judge to try the cases of six men accused of jury bribery conspiracy during the original Julian Petroleum corporation trials when the bribery cases were removed from the calendar of Superior Judge Marshall McComb late today.

The change was made at the request of Judge McComb after two days in which Fitts charged repeatedly the jurist was prejudiced against Jacob Berman, one of the bribery defendants.

Bones Revive Old Ax Murder

Indian Brave's Skeleton Found Near Lawton

LAWTON, Okla., March 27. (UP)—Authorities believed today that eroding flood waters had uncovered evidences of some forgotton murder.

The skeleton of an adult Indian brave was found in a creek bed near here by G. C. Henton and J. B. Ellis. The skull had been fractured. A portion of the jaw had been knocked out. A rusty ax head was found near the bones.

Old residents recalled that two Indians disappeared shortly after the opening of the district to white settlement. It was reported at that time they were killed in a gambling game with a counterfeit gang.

Investigators searched for the remains of the other body.

already had testified that Temple Houston was the son of Margaret Moffett Lea, of Alabama.

Seitz testified today that he derived information used in his article from old copies of the New York World and Sun. Photostatic copies of the newspapers were introduced.

Loren L. Palmer, editor of Liberty said the article "undoubtedly was wrong" in stating that Temple Houston was the son of an Indian squaw.

A pile of Texas and Oklahoma histories were introduced by Mrs. Houston's attorneys. The objections of defense attorneys that authors of histories were no more infallible than the writers of newspaper and magazine stories, were overruled.

Seitz was asked during rebuttal testimony if he had read any correction on the Sam Houston article in Liberty.

"I am not a reader of Liberty," he said.

As soon as the jury returns a verdict on Mrs. Houston's suit the suits of the four children will be started. Each will be tried separately.

BOUND WOMAN ELUDES GUNMEN

Tied to Steering Wheel, She Drives to Safety

DETROIT, March 27. (INS)—Strapped hand and foot to an automobile which she was forced to chauffeur for two gunmen who attempted to kidnap her, Mrs. Elsie Mills, 25, succeeded to elude her captors early today after five hours of driving from Detroit to Bad Axe.

Mrs. Mills was found three miles west of Bad Axe, where she was released from her trussed position by a gas station attendant who summoned the sheriff's department.

Mrs. Mills was trussed to the steering wheel with rope and tape. Her right hand was bound to the gear shift, her left to the steering wheel, and her left foot strapped to the clutch.

According to the story told Sheriff John L. Hoffman, of Bad Axe Mrs. Mills related how she was forced to drive over slippery roads by the two men, each with a gun.

Another man in a second car followed over the entire route, and her escape came when the two guarding her, left her alone to give assistance to their trailing companion who got stuck in a snow bank.

Arthur Mills, the woman's husband reported her disappearance to the police when she failed to meet him at a scheduled appointment. He suspected foul play, he said because he had learned that she received two threatening letters earlier in the day.

The letters gave reference to a court action brought against the Mills by a former landlord in which the Mills were to testify.

Cleveland Pair To Be Apart in Death

VIENNA, March 27. (INS)—Unheeding cabled messages from his deserted wife in Cleveland, Ohio, to observe his wish that his ashes be mingled with those of Mrs. Mary McGranahan, the woman with whom he died in a suicide pact, Dr. Ernest Watzl's relatives arranged today for his burial in Neustift cemetery.

Mrs. MacGranahan's body was being held today for positive identification, upon orders received by the police from the husband she left in Cleveland to elope and become the bigamous wife of Watzl. A friend of Mr. MacGranahan was supposed to come yesterday to identify the body, but did not appear.

The bodies will be cremated tomorrow, but instead of the ashes being mingled and strewn over the Vienese forest, as Watzl had willed, his will be taken to Neustift, and those of Mrs. MacGranahan held at the crematorium until directions for their disposition have been received from her lawful husband.

C. E. Hinkle, store manager, and Tom Briscoe, a clerk, made the identification. George Quinn was arrested today in connection with the case.

Gravity and Electricity Linked In Significant New Einstein Equation

Editor's Note—The Associated Press herewith presents Einstein's latest discovery, his first practical proof of a connection between gravitation and electricity. Its significance is explained by Dr. M. S. Vallarta, Massachusetts Institute of Technology physicist.

BERLIN, March 27. (AP)—Professor Albert Einstein has presented to the Prussian Academy of Sciences a new paper he has written with Dr. W. Mayer on two strictly static solutions of the field equations of his uniform field theory. It connects gravitation and electricity.

Three solutions were described as follows: These feild equations can be rigorously solved in two cases. The first case is that of a spherically symmetrical field in space, for example, the external field of an electrically charged sphere of fixed mass. The other case is that of the static field of any number of uncharged mass particles at rest with respect to one another.

Theory Explained

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 27. (AP)—Einstein's first practical proof of some connection between gravitation and electricity is announced in his new paper.

His discovery of mathematical equations which he said prove that gravitation and electricity are related created a world sensation about a year ago. Some of the great goals of science is to learn the connection between these two universal forces. With light, they affect every moment of human life.

Einstein's first announcement did not attempt to say what the relation is, but only that its existence is demonstrated in mathematical formulae, which he called field equations. These equations, however, failed to work altogether satisfactorily, and their accuracy was challenged. Einstein modified them seeking to eliminate weak spots. The Berlin dispatch indicates success.

Dr. M. S. Vallarta, assistant professor of physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, today explained the importance of the Berlin announcement.

"It means," he said, "that Dr. Einstein has found from his latest equations both the laws of gravity and the laws of electricity. The same equation gives both of these laws correctly. This, at least, is the conclusion to be drawn from the brief description.

"By giving correctly both gravitational and electrical laws the equations seem to verify the existence of a connection between the two fundamental forces. This is the first time that a mathematical solution has worked. It is very important.

"An idea of the first solution—that of a spherically symmetrical field in space—may be obtained from comparison with physical conditions upon the sphere which as conceived in the mathematical solution, is not flattened at the poles like the earth, but is perfectly round. With such a globe the pull of its gravitation would be the same everywhere at a given distance above its surface. The electrical forces of such a globe—assumed to be electrically charged—would likewise be symmetrical. It is to the gravitational and the electrical forces of such a globe that Einstein has applied his field equations.

"The second solution is not so important, being in the nature of a confirmation."

CATHOLIC LAY LEADER DIES

Nicholas F. Brady Decorated By Pope Pius XI

NEW YORK, March 27. (US)—Nicholas F. Brady, millionaire financier and philanthropist and leading layman in the Catholic church in this country, died today at his home here.

Critically ill with arthritis for several days, death came to him near noon while 14 relatives and friends stood at the bedside.

Mr. Brady was chairman of the board of the New York Edison company. He was a director in 46 other corporations.

Despite the prominent position in finance and the church he had held for many years, Mr. Brady was only 51. He was born in Albany and attended Yale university, going directly from college in 1899 to the New York Edison company, in which his father, Anthony N. Brady then held an important interest.

In Catholice circles, both in this country and abroad, he was regarded as the leading layman in the United States. His gifts to Catholic charities were estimated in the millions.

He was decorated with the Ordine Supremo del Christo of the first class by the present pope, Pius XI. The only other to receive this honor during the reign of the last four popes is the king of Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady were duke and duchess in the Vatican state, and he was a close personal friend of Pope Pius XI. Mr. Brady founded the Knights of Malta in the United States.

Two Men Hurt In X-Ray Room Mishap

CANTON, Ohio, March 27. (INS)—Two men were slightly burned at the Molly Stark tuberculosis sanitarium here today while repairing a fuse which had burned out on an X-ray apparatus in the hospital.

Reports that two physicians were burned seriously and that a baby had been blown across the operating room at the institution in an explosion of film, were vigorously denied by hospital attaches.

Both of the men who were burned in repairing the fuse, it was stated at the sanitarium, were able to return to their work immediately.

Since her marriage, two years ago, Mrs. Olds has studied with Bertha Wessel-holfe Swift in Boston, where she spent a year. She is now living in Long Beach where she is studying under Rolla Alford and is a member of the Alford Singers, an acapella choir. This choir is composed of 75 persons who are trained and finished artists usually having an eight-part harmony with no accompaniment.

This choir has given three concerts this season, the last one being presented in February, in which Mrs. Olds took the leading soprano part, singing selections from Mendelssohn.

Mrs. Pearl Talbot McCulley, piano soloist, is a graduate of the New England conservatory in Boston and has done graduate work with Aurelio Giorni in New York. She is the chairman of music for the fifth district of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs and has a wide spread reputation as an accompanist. Mrs. McCulley recently accompanied Paul Althouse in a concert in Brownwood and Mrs. Helen Fouts Cahoon, opera singer of Chicago, when she appeared there. Mrs. Jewel Ray Young, sister of Mrs. Olds, will assist Mrs. Olds in a number of duets. Mrs. Olds and Mrs. McCulley are expected to arrive in Wichita Falls Friday when they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Young until after the recital.

Mrs. J. L. Jackson Jr. chairman of arrangements will take reservations at her address, 1553 Elizabeth or telephone 9333, until 12 o'clock Monday. Nervous Pains Yield To Capudine

To those who suffer from nervousness and pain, such as headache, neuralgia, periodic pains and pains in the back and sides, Capudine offers quick and delightful relief. Being liquid, it acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders. Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves—not by deadening them. Contains no opiates and does not upset the stomach, therefore, is the ideal remedy.

For over 30 years millions have found grateful relief by using Capudine. You, too, will find it a joy and comfort when your nerves are unstrung or when you suffer from pain. At drug stores in 30c and 60c sizes.—Adv.

Denying Home To Wife Sure Way Of Losing Her

The Surest Way for a Man to Lose His Wife Is to Deny Her a Home Of Her Own—Why Some Wives Lose Their Husbands—May a Promise Be Broken?

Dear Miss Dix—When Bud and I were married two years ago we went to live with his family because we did not have enough money to set up for ourselves. But now Bud has a steady job and we have saved up some money, and I am determined to go to housekeeping, but Bud doesn't want to do it. His mother is the finest and most likable woman I know. If she hadn't been we would have been actually fighting long ago, but you know two women can't live together all of the time and get along well, and now his sister, who is a school teacher, is coming home to live, and I think it is time for us to get out, don't you? —NORMA.

Answer—It certainly is, Norma. If, as has been said, no house has ever been built big enough to house two women in peace, be sure that three women would scrap like the Kilkenny cats if they lived together in an apartment with 2,000 rooms.

So follow your hunch and go while the going is good, while you are still on amiable terms with your mother-in-law and you and your sister-in-law have had no words between you. Thus shall you always maintain a pleasant relationship with your husband's family. The reason most in-laws get on each other's nerves is because they see each other too often. It takes distance to give them a perspective on each other's virtues.

I am strong, as I have said a thousand times before, for every young married couple setting up their own home, no matter if it is just in one room and all the furniture is bought on the installment plan. I think that it binds them together as nothing else does, that it enormously increases their chances of making a success out of marriage, that it gives them a purpose in life and makes them a better man and woman and better citizens, and that it is the one greatest single factor in their happiness.

There are endless reasons why it is best that every young husband and wife should build their own nest. One is that if they are alone during the period of adjustment they are much more apt to hit it off together, and compromise differences, than they are if there is an outsider around. Of course they are going to have their little quarrels because no two persons of different sexes, with different characteristics and reared in a different environment, are going to have the same tastes, habits and points of view on the same thing. But when they spat, if nobody is around they will kiss and make it up and no harm will be done.

But far different is the situation if the family is standing around on the sidelines cheering on the combatants, and telling Mary not to be bossed, and urging John to assert himself as the head of the house. Many a tiff that would have ended in a burst of tears on Mary's part and John calling himself a brute grows into an estrangement that ends in divorce simply because Mary and John quarreled in public and their pride forbade a public apology.

Then a husband and wife who live alone are thrown on each other for society and amusement and grow much closer together than those who live among other people and are always in a group. All the little intimacy, the talking of everything over is done away with when there are other people around.

Then the home develops the wife as nothing else does. Unless a girl keeps on with her job after she is married she has nothing to do unless she has a home, and Satan finds work for idle hands to do even quicker than he does for men. It is the young wives who are living with their parents, or their husband's parents, who get peevish and fretful and discontented because they have nothing with which to occupy their minds, and nothing to think about except how many things they would like to buy, and how many thrills they could get out of a flirtation with some other man.

It is the homeless, idle young wives who spend their days pricing things in department stores and going to the movies, and who pick up strange men and go joyriding with them. A man who doesn't provide his wife with a home of her own that will keep her busy keeping it, adorning it, planning for it has taken the surest way of wrecking his marriage.

And a home is a good financial investment because it makes a young couple save money to pay for their furniture, and that leads them to saving money to pay for the home itself. It is a common saying, and a true one, that if you never go to housekeeping you never have anything, because the temptation to spend on foolishness is greater than most people can resist. They have to have a definite object for which to save.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Is it foolish to be jealous of one's own children? My wife and I have been married more than 10 years and have quite a large family. She has always been undemonstrative toward me, but she always finds time to love and pet the children, but she never shows me any tenderness. I love her whether she loves me or not, but it hurts and worries me wondering whether she cares for me. —K.

Answer—The French have a saying that some women are all wife, while others are all mother. Evidently your wife belongs to this latter class, and there are very many like her.

There is a large class of women who never seem to think of their husbands as men, but only as their children's father. They never realize that their husbands crave love or tenderness or any attention, or even companionship. They are themselves so absorbed in their children that they think their husbands are satisfied to see all of their kisses given to the baby, all of their interest focused on little Johnny, all of their time devoted to the nursery.

They think that their husbands will not be disillusioned by seeing them go about in sloppy clothes because they don't take time to dress up and fix their hair on account of the babies. They think their husbands won't mind staying at home, or going out alone, because they don't like to leave the children just with a servant.

These women have not ceased to really love their husbands, but the maternal passion is so great it overwhelms everything else in the world, and they forget that they have any duty or obligation to the men they have married, or that their husbands may have just as great need of their petting as their babies.

And that is where women make their most fatal mistake. Most couples are devoted to each other until the arrival of the first baby. Then, in innumerable cases, comes the first breach between them.

Up to then the husband has been the chief concern to the wife. She has devoted herself to him and to trying to please him. She has been tender, affectionate, flattering, but with the arrival of the baby husband's nose is put permanently out of joint. All the kisses, all the attentions are baby's. Mother dresses for baby. Mother spends her evenings watching baby sleep and is actually relieved when husband goes out of an evening so she can perform her acts of child worship undisturbed. And only too often husband finds another lady who is willing to play around with him and pet him, and who holds his hand while mother is holding the baby's hand.

And then wives wonder why they lose husbands.—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a woman 32 years old and have two children, a boy 9 and a girl 6. About two years ago I married a man 24 years old. I am simply wild about him and he is about me. When I married this man I promised to send the little boy to a private school. Now I feel different about it and do not want to do it, but my husband insists upon it and so does his mother. What should I do? I could go back to my first husband. I do not love him, but he loves me and can give me a good home. —M. M. B.

Answer—If you promised your husband to send your boy off to school and he married you with that explicit understanding, the only honorable thing for you to do is keep your bargain. The child will certainly be much better off in a school than with a stepfather who resents his presence and is anxious to be rid of him.

You speak of leaving this husband and going back to your first husband as if swapping husbands was as light a matter as exchanging spring hats. If you have so little sense of the obligations of matrimony, probably one husband looks as good as another to you, and the children would certainly be much better off with their own father. —DOROTHY DIX.

Texas Lawyer Has Best Relief for Headaches

When a man can say that he hasn't missed a day from his work in twenty years, follow his judgment. That's the record of Judge Pete Arnold, Fort Worth attorney with offices at 503½ Main St.

"Well, sir," says Judge Arnold, "the reason I haven't had a headache or indigestion in twenty years is, I know how to keep away all stomach and bowel troubles. In my desk you will find a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). When I feel that something has disagreed with me I don't wait a second to take an NR. I haven't been without them in 20 years."

Your druggist has sold Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) for more than thirty years to many people whose faith in it is just as great as Judge Arnold's. Ask him for the 25c box of NR Tablets the next time you see him.—Adv.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, and channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

CITIZENSHIP PLEAS CALLED

Atwell Sets Hearings In Federal Court

Judge William H. Atwell Thursday announced a naturalization hearing in federal district court at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Only two aliens, both of them women, are scheduled for hearings on their applications to become citizens of the United States, according to Miss Jessie Cowan, deputy clerk of the court.

Jeanette Markowitz, a native of Poland, and Mrs. Nellie Gannon Parks, a Canadian, are the two whose applications have been received.

Only two civil law cases were disposed of Thursday in federal court. An instructed verdict in favor of the government was granted by Judge Atwell in the case brought by Mrs. Grace Leslie on a claim for $13,800 in war risk insurance. It was alleged the woman's husband dropped payments on his insurance and was not disabled at that time. A settlement was announced in the case brought against D. H. Bolin by the Longhart Supply company for debt.

The only case set for Friday is that of Mrs. C. F. Lee, guardian for Jesse Hough and Harold Dewey Hough, on a claim to war risk insurance compensation amounting to $10,000 plus interest. The civil docket calls for civil cases until the latter part of next week, when the court will take up equity cases.

Queer Dizzy Sensation, Due to Constipation, Relieved by Black-Draught

Jacksonville, Fla.—"When I was a little child, my father used Black-Draught in our home, and I grew up knowing what a good medicine it is," writes Mrs. J. R. Wiggins, of 16 West Twenty-fifth street, this city.

"I have always usde it when I needed something for constipation or biliousness," continues Mrs. Willings. "Occasionally I suffer from nervous, sick headaches. Blind spots seem to dance before my eyes and I feel dizzy.

"I find that a few doses of Black-Draught will quickly remove the cause of this trouble, which is constipation. I also find it good for gas on the stomach and spells of indigestion.

"I try to keep Black-Draught in my home. After I have taken a course of Black-Draught, my general health is much better. I feel fresh and have more energy. I can recommend Black-Draught because I have found it such a good medicine for my own use."

At the first sign of constipation, take Thedford's Black-Draught. Costs only 1 cent a dose.

General Greely At 86 Believes World 'Slipping'

WASHINGTON, March 27. (INS)—Tucked in a chintz lounge in old Georgetown, Maj. Gen. Adolphus W. Greely soldier, explorer and author, today received congratulations from the four corners of the world on he occasion of his 86th birthday.

A man of the old school that fought with rifle and saber, and trekked into the unexplored arctic when there was no radio, no airplane and few of the comforts of the modern world, he took a scholarly peek at the world in general and found it no so good as it has been.

With fourscore years and six behind him, he looked out of a window of his quaint Georgetown house and found the times all too tame. He was a real pioneer in arctic exploration back in 1881 before Peary or Scott or any of the others.

Greely was the first private soldier to attain the rank of brigadier general in the civil war. He has laid submarine cables in China, the Philippine Islands, Cuba and Alaska. He has a long list of authoritative meteorological works to his credit, and is a gold medalist of the Royal Geographical Society of England. In 1911 he represented the United States at the coronation of King George V in London.

The first Parisian equivalent of the "five and ten" has been opened here under the name of "Cinq et Dix Francs," and if business keeps up the way it is now, the owners say they will open a chain of them in the country.

BIRD WARFARE

Airships and Eagles Will Battle in Air Above Texas Town

MARFA, Texas, March 27. (INS)—Leroy Cleveland, sheep rancher who lives 40 miles southwest of here doesn't expect to be bothered so much by eagles in the future.

Disturbed because the huge birds carried off several lambs daily from his flocks, Cleveland signed a contract with an El Paso aviation firm which he expects to lead to the eagles' extermination.

Cleveland and his hired airplane will fight the eagle in his own element, the rancher armed with a shotgun. Scores of the big birds are found in this section.

FIRE ESCAPES SAVE PUPILS

475 Children Evacuate Fort Worth School

FORT WORTH, March 27. (AP)—Four hundred and seventy-five pupils of the M. G. Ellis grade school marched or slid down chutes to safety today as fire destroyed the building.

The fire was discovered in the basement. Within a few seconds the blaze spread up a stairway and along a hall on the first floor. Within a short time two sides of the building were in flames.

Principal G. L. Adams sounded an electric alarm bell. Pupils formed orderly lines.

Those on the first floor were quickly out of the building, but those on the second floor found passage blocked by fire and smoke on the stairways. Adams conducted the children to the fire slides at windows and in a few moments the building had been emptied.

Origin of the fire was undetermined.

Less Wheat Being Sown

Legge Reports Progress in Acreage Reduction

WASHINGTON, March 27. (UP)—Reports reaching the federal farm board indicate a sympathetic response by farmers to the board's campaign for reduced acreages of wheat, notwithstanding an apparently unfavorable crop report on this situation by the agriculture department yesterday, Chairman Legge said today.

A reduction in durum wheat of about 15 per cent was shown in the report and this probably will be enlarged by later reports, he added. Farmers planting spring wheat have also indicated an intention ot reduce their acreage somewhat. Legge pointed out the crop report was based on figures six weeks old and did not reflect, therefore, the response of farmers to the board's recent plea for reduction.

TILLMAN FARMS UNDER SURVEY

School Head Checks on Farm Operation

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., March 27.—P. H. Stephenson, head of the farm management department of the A. & M. college, is here with four students in his department to make a survey record of 150 Tillman county farms, half operated by horses and mules and the remainder with tractors and horses and mules or with tractors alone. Mr. Stephenson picked Tillman because it is a leading cotton county. It is possible he will also include Jackson county. Last year he made a similar survey of two wheat counties in the northern or north-central part of the state, Garfield and Blaine.

In those counties his survey showed that farmers using tractors had an average of $1,000 more a year to show for their work in Garfield county and $800 more in Blaine county. This was brought about in great part because an average of 100 more acres are cultivated on farms using tractors than on those having no tractors, Mr. Stephenson said.

The students assisting Mr. Stephenson are Clyde Cyrus, Blackwell; James Salisbury, Drumright; Austin Parker, Hennessey; Burl Baber, Wellston.

Action Without Harm Whenever Constipated

Here's a way to be rid of constipation and its ills—a way that works quickly, effectively, but gently.

A candy Cascaret at night—the next morning you're feeling fine. Breath is sweetened; tongue cleared; biliousness, headaches, dizziness, gas vanish. Repeat the treatment two or three nights to get the souring waste out of your system. See how appetite and energy return; how digestion improves.

The action of Cascarets is sure, complete, helpful to everyone. They are made from cascara, which doctors agree, actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have the 10c boxes.—Adv.

SPEAKER URGES CO-OP UNITY

Larger Units Advised by Farm Board Member

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 27. (UP)—The federal farm board has millions to spend in cooperative work but none to spend in cooperatives fighting one another, W. M. Shilling, representing the dairy industry on the federal farm board, told Oklahoma dairymen in a meeting at the state capitol today.

Shilling urged cooperation but warned against too many cooperatives and cooperatives competing with one another.

The federal farm board has not sent any money into Oklahoma and will not do so until cooperative marketing is established on a safe basis, Shilling said.

He said it is unsafe to establish cooperatives in every town in the state because the town wants a marketing unit. Larger units are more necessary than ever before, he said.

Oklanoma is in the same stage of development of cooperatives that Minnesota was 40 years ago, Shilling said. Shilling was for 12 years ahead of the Minnesota Milk Producers association.

Dairy interests and butter manufacturers held conferences with Shilling this afternoon to discuss their problems.

Milk producers in the vicinity of Oklahoma City will meet at the capitol tonight to discuss cooperative marketing.

THE RETURN FROM MADNESS

Daily Editorial

KING GEORGE has presented each member of the claw-clipping conference with a phonograph record of his contributing address to the opening session. Which will be just about all all the bacon naval reduction experts will tote home from London.

America's flat-footed refusal to adopt the Marseillaise as a national anthem, will soon break up the party. France at last realizes that she can't entice Uncle Sam to paddle an oar in her war-canoe.

The administration's flat delivers a deathblow to Tardieu's hope of a security pact—and that browns an already cooked goose.

Our taxpayers will build more cruisers, battleships and submarines than ever, but the money we pour into enlarged defensive armaments, will be a flea bite as compared with the bankrupting bill which foreign entanglement was conspiring to collect.

The twelve hundred self-promoted captains of public opinion, who lately sent a decoration—fishing cable to Secretary Stimson, will doubtless assail the president's backfire insurance policy. But a hundred million-odd folks, who don't hanker for little legion of honor buttons, and special customs privileges, thank God to find the stars and stripes still nailed to its own masthead.

Mr. Wickersham also does his Boy Scout bit to assure us that democracy hasn't entirely lost common sense. The verdict of the law observance commission on the Jones act indicates a fast turning of the tide against fanatic and intolerant legislation.

The ex-attorney general of the United States, ardent prohibitionist that he is, cannot reconcile his personal or legal conscience to justify a law "contrary to sound legislative policy," or uphold a measure that "subjects at the discretion, or lack of discretion, of the judge, a man who has committed a comparatively trivial offense, to a very severe penalty," unlike any other crime, that he knows of.

EXCESS always spits in the wind. Bigotry, when drunken with triumph, has never yet failed to revolt majority sentiment by some such tyrannical folly. Bishop Cannon and Doctor Wilson should have known better than to press for the enactment of a statute which, overnight, degraded a general social habit into a longterm felony.

The Literary Digest poll, like Daniel of old, points to the handwriting on the wall and warns the 18th amendment of wraths to come, if Volsteadism does not soon mend its oppressive ways.

Mr. Legge, of the farm board, likewise feels called upon to speak up in meeting. Here's a man who knows his European beans as well as every foot of arable land between the coasts.

Twenty years' industrial contact with Europe's political and economic methods, essentially qualify him to conclude that the debenture scheme to drop our excess crop yonder, will simply inspire boycotts and retaliatory embargoes against American farm products.

He isn't waving any flags for the powersite grabbers inciting further federal reclamation or irrigation projects either.

Curing the surplus evil by adding still more land to our already cultivated areas, strikes him as a heluva way to remedy the situation. He might have added that the cost of bringing some of these barrens into bearing will reach $230 per acre, at which figure, plus annual water charges, the inexperienced boobs who sink their life savings in the properties, like the proverbial cat in the well, will slip back twice as fast as they make headway.

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who neglects reading loses step with the world's progress."

Everyone should read sufficiently to keep posted on current events and world conditions. It is interesting to anticipate coming events and there is a big kick in being able to say, "I told you so." In olden times such people were called prophets.

A psychologist said recently that men of retiring dispositions who modestly keep in the background are the most pronounced type. This seems to apply everywhere but in congress.

Says a movie actress: "I learned to cook when I was a young girl and I love it." We'd relish her role for the dough alone.

The Odd Mr. Capone

WHATEVER else may be said about it, American civilization of the year 1930 at least furnishes plenty of interesting spectacles.

Not least among these, during the past month, has been the return of Al Capone to his native heath.

Capone spent a year in the Philadelphia jail. Finally, on a bright spring day, he was released. Instantly the attention of the nation was focused on him. He vanished from sight; one would have thought the heir to the British throne was missing. He was reported in Chicago, in Indiana, in Florida and on the high seas. The public could hardly stand it.

Then, after days of almost unendurable suspense, the great man appeared. Straight into the office of the commissioner of detectives in Chicago he stalked, to draw up a chair and hold a lengthy discussion behind closed doors, while the nation waited with bated breath.

It was a peculiar spectacle. In the anteroom, gazing raptly at the glazed door, was the armed might of Chicago, as personified in the sturdy forms of two dozen or more detectives. Mingled among them were reporters and photographers, in equal number. Breath continued bated.

There was a low hum of conversation, but it never lasted long. Someone would look up at the door; others would notice, and all glances would fix on the same objective. And, finally, he appeared. Except for the booming of flashlights, the audience was silent, almost respectful.

Out he went, flanked by two lawyers, to enter an automobile and whirl away. There was something about it all reminiscent of the departure of a presidential candidate from his campaign headquarters, except that there was no cheering.

All of this, of course, derives its special interest from the fact that the center of all of this fuss is—unless everybody is mistaken—one of the greatest criminals ever harbored on the American continent.

The doctor who found a cure for diabetes could come and go without causing a single head to be turned. No living American poet could hope, by the mere fact of his arrival in town, to get front page newspaper space. Photographers do not go out in droves to photograph great scientists or humanitarians.

But Al Capone is one of that select band whose every move is news; a member of a small group which includes movie stars, professional athletes, criminals, and—now and then—real public servants.

You can draw your own moral from all of this, if you like. Anyhow, you must admit that it has all been very absorbing.

What's Your Hurry?

"LAST NIGHT wasn't so heavy; we only brought in eight wrecks during the night." This remark nonchalantly passed one morning this week by a local garage proprietor during the course of a friendly conversation, will startle most of us who don't figure in automobile crashes very often. Eight wrecks brought in during one night—and in answer to the query which that remark educed, he added that "usually it's more than that; the most I recall having in one night was about 30."

Eight crashes requiring pull-in service on one night reported to just one night-and-day service establishment, and about 30 on another night. Eight cases, probably, of being too much in a hurry—for what? To cross an intersection ahead of the other fellow, as a rule, out of a perverted sense of personal right. To pass another car before reaching the end of the block, so that one may slide on screeching tires to stop for the change of a signal. Or, as Will Rogers remarked sometime ago, to rush madly home to find one has nothing to do but sit on the porch and read the evening paper.

These crashes, this garage man said, occasion costs of from $15 to $85 each, as a rule. No one seriously enough hurt to make much fuss about—most of the time. But how many of us would become seized with a needless spirit of speed to get no place if we first thought of that $85, or the chance of more serious injury?

Just eight brought in last night—why eight crashes?

Wool Growers Are in the Saddle

NOW IT IS SAID that the annual wool clip value of America is about $75,000,000 and President L. B. Palmer of the National Wool Marketing corporation, representing the cooperative, says the corporation is practically assured control of the wool of the United States. In other words, the goal of 100,000,000 pounds of wool, or one-third of the annual clip, is assured the cooperatives' marketing organization which will pay 90 per cent of the market value of the wool to the producer on delivery and then store the wool for a favorable price. Payment of the remaining 10 per cent will be withheld until the wool is finally sold. Texas wool growers are said to be enlisted almost to a man for the cooperative plan of storing and marketing. There is a new economic civilization on the way.

The Little Things

A SMALL error can do a great deal of damage, sometimes.

On the outskirts of Chicago a contractor was putting in a big sewer. Huge sections of pipe had to be dragged from a field, where they were stored, across a railroad track to the place where they were to be laid. A wire cable, fastened to a motor-driven drum beyond the tracks, was used to do the job.

At last the cable broke, leaving a section of the pipe on the railroad tracks. Then it developed there was no red lantern available to mark the blocked track until a new cable could be fastened. Before a lantern could be found, a train had crashed into the pipe. It was derailed, and another train plowed into it. The result—one death and 20 persons painfully injured.

A little mistake, of course. But it had big consequences.

Jab

I trust you find the cavalier you seek,
The fair and faithful hero of your dreams;
But lads without a blemish or a streak
Of fickleness are rather rare, it seems;
It's very brave of you to aim so high,
And scorn the lesser gods with feet of clay.
I'd dearly love to make the grade but I
Was born with traits that lean the other way.

Suppose this gay and gallant knight comes by,
Possessed of all the virtues that you crave;
Can you advance a single reason why
He should consent to be your willing slave?
I know you well—and what I'd like to learn—
Is what you have to offer in return?

Reportorial Inaccuracy

We haven't read Rudy Vallee's book, but one of his fans asks if it is true, as the book asserts, that Fred Fisher had his first and last song hit in "Dardenella." Well, no, Fisher didn't write the ditty. It was written by Johnny Black and Felix Bernard. Fisher was the publisher. And Fisher wrote several hit songs long before and after "Dardenella" was born. Those grand songs included: "In Sunny Italy," "Daddy, You've Been a Mother to Me," "Lorraine," "Chicago, Chicago (That Toddling Town)," "Peg o' My Heart" and dozens of other memorable tunes.

In Plain Tukk

Larry Lipskin's contrib for today concerns the little dialectician who was a waiter in a kosher restaurant in the Go-Ghetto District. A customer called him over. "Wot kind a place is diss?" said the man, "you are waiting on everybody else befurr me. Ain't you got no system?"

"Say," was the heeb's reply as he shrugged his shoulder, "if I had a seesystem—would I be a waiter?"

Scene

You discover the most unusual things in this town. The newest wrinkle is the Park avenue speakeasy which has just built a flock of kennels in its basement to oblige several men of the neighborhood.

The innovation is the result of the insistence of wives and mistresses who urged their husbands, or boy friends to "take Fido out for a walk." The men now beg for the privilege of taking the dogs out for an airing, but instead, they frequent the speakeasy. The hoochhouse proprietor decided on the kennels to encourage the extra business. And it is said that the men get so drunk they depend on the dogs to lead them home.

Gag

Frisco tells of the toughest man he ever played poker with, many years ago. He was one of the West's hardest cowboy guys, long mustache, sombrero lid, chaps, high-heeled boots with spurs, and he always featured two long pistols in his holsters. During a tense poker game the bad man suddenly whipped out a knife and plunged it through another fellow's hand, pinning the man's mitt to the table.

Then walking over to the victim the hard guy sarcastically chirped: "Pardner, if the ace o' diamonds ain't under your paw, ah'll apologize!"

Hehehch

Leave it to the free from columnists, comic strips and other doodads N. Y. Times to offer the most amusing paragraph of the week. It concerns an alien who came up for naturalization and when the court asked him to name the president, he replied: "Al Smith."

Several times the question was repeated and the same answer given. Finally the judge said: "Why do you think Al Smith is president?"

"Well," said the alien, "in the campaign the Republicans kept on saying that if Al was elected we'd have a stock market crash, unemployment, bread lines, more prohibition violation and crime waves. We've had them all, so I know Al must be president!"

No Wonder

Among the unfailing attendants at the important first-nights is a Mr. Mayer, an unobtrusive gent who always has an aisle seat in Row A. He has witnessed more premieres than any other person in New York and never mixes with the audiences in the foyer between acts. Naturally there is much curiosity about him. Two critics were wondering about him the other night. "He can't be a critic," gagged one, "because you never see him at the bum shows."

At that remark another person volunteered the information that the man was in the corset business.

"Ah!" ah'd the listener, "no wonder he comes to all the openings. What else has he to do?"

By Way of Report

Among other "breaks" planned for Mr. and Mrs. General Public is one being plotted by a legislator. It will be a bill requiring newspapers to print their retractions in "space identical to and as prominent as the original statement." They say the bill has assurance of sufficient support to make it a law and will slide through the New York state legislature during the last week of the session. In other words, the rag that says in three columns that you stole the money will have to devote three columns to saying that you didn't, when it is established that the theft was committed by two other felons.

The Girl With The Red Hair by Rob Eden

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Pretty Gay Terris agrees to marry her employer, Frank Patterson, whom she does not love, in return for a loan of $5,000 to send her sick mother to Arizona. Fania Crandall, prominent society woman, whom Gay resembles, induces Gay to represent her at the Van Schyler ball, and in return will give her $200. Andy Grant, a friend of Gay, tells her he will be at the ball as press representative. At the masquerade she dances with Mark Loring whom she casually met on another occasion and was attracted to, but she is unable to reveal her identity because of her promise to keep silent. She discovers another costume in Mrs. Crandall's bedroom, which she is certain she saw at the ball, and this arouses her suspicion. A valuable necklace is reported stolen at the ball. Fania learns from Gay that Loring was present at the masquerade, and when Andy Grant interviews her for the paper, questions him as to why Loring's name was omitted from the printed newspaper list. Gay learns Loring is Patterson's nephew. Patterson arranges a dinner party and tells Loring that he and Gay are to be married. Loring is exceedingly surprised and accuses Gay of flirting with him. Patterson suggests to Gay that they be married within a month. Mark Loring is arrested as a suspected thief in the Van Schyler robbery.

CHAPTER XX

"Mrs. Crandall never rises until noon," the butler said haughtily. He was about to close the door in Gay's face when she brushed past him into the reception room.

"Tell her Gay Terris wants to see her!" she demanded.

"She sees no one in the morning," the servant was surprised. He wasn't used to early callers, much less angry ones.

"I must see her immediately. Tell her it's—very important!" She sat down. The man looked at her doubtfully. It was apparent she would see his mistress. With a sigh he started upstairs.

Gay only had to wait a few minutes before he reappeared and said Mrs. Crandall would see Miss Terris. Had Miss Terris breakfasted yet? Too bad. Mrs. Crandall wished her to have breakfast . . .

A pretty, black haired maid met the girl at the door of the sitting room, and led her into the bedroom Gay had peeped into once before. Fania Crandall, yawning, was lying on the low bed, pillows piled around her head.

Gay smiled to herself. Mrs. Crandall had at least awakened to see her.

"I never rise until noon," Fania rebuked. "I can't imagine what you want to see me about." She didn't tell Gay that when she heard from her maid the name of her visitor, she had called Paul Ladishaw at his apartment, also waking him from a sound sleep.

Gay refused the chair the maid brought, and sat on the edge of the bed. When the maid had gone with Fania's order for breakfast, she spoke. "I did you a favor the other night, Mrs. Crandall—and I've been thinking about it a lot since."

"Do you want more money?" Fania interrupted. Her eyes narrowed.

"I didn't come about money."

"Well, then, what did you come about?" Perhaps the girl wasn't as mild as her eyes suggested. Perhaps she would be hard to handle. Fania was studying her closely, trying to read her face.

"I realize now, I never should have gone to the masquerade. But then of course, I didn't think. What you suggested seemed fun—and, well, I did it. I came here this morning for some explanations. I want to know why when you told me you weren't going to the masquerade, when you wanted me to go in your place—why you went anyway yourself?"

Not an eyelash of Fania's quivered. She was too self possessed for that. Her harsh, low laugh rang through the room.

"Of course I didn't go, my dear," her my dear was very patronizing. "How quaint you are! Have you been worrying all this time? Your conscience or something?"

"I'm not joking, Mrs. Crandall. I'm serious." Gay was desperate. She didn't know that Mrs. Crandall had been to the masquerade. All the evidence she had was that dress she had seen on the bed after the ball. The Spanish costume. That and the recollection that she had seen the costume at the ball.

Fania was about to speak when the maid came in carrying a silver tray which she placed on the table near the bed. After she had gone, and Fania was sipping her coffee slowly and daintily eating a piece of melba toast. "Oh, yes, you were saying?" As if she had forgotten the trend of the conversation.

"Mrs. Crandall, I saw you at the ball!" Gay was lying and she knew it, but she was sure that if Fania thought there was any doubt in her mind, she would deny everything.

"You saw me at the ball?"

"You were wearing a Spanish costume, a red skirt embroidered in jewels, a black wig, with a big comb at the top. There was a jeweled rose in the wig—" Gay had no trouble recalling the costume. It was engraved in her mind.

"I never had such a costume—" Again Fania laughed.

"Please don't deny it. I saw it, lying on this bed, too, after the ball—when you were outside in the hall talking to Mr. Ladishaw."

Fania finished her coffee slowly. She should have taken Paul's advice.

The girl was cleverer than she had thought. Paul would gloat over her dismay. He always criticized her methods anyway.

"You can't deny it, Mrs. Crandall."

"Why did you come here this morning?"

"I heard—just a few minutes before I came that Mark Loring had been arrested for the robbery of Lady Agatha Manner's diamond necklace. He didn't steal it!"

"How do you know?"

"I know. That's all."

Fania was cursing Mark Loring in her heart. He was the one who had spoiled her plans. Not this girl.

"What has this to do with me, pray?"

"A lot, Mrs. Crandall. Rather suspicious, don't you think, that you ask me to impersonate you at a masquerade? That you appear there yourself in another costume? If I told the police—"

"My dear child, if you told the police, they would laugh at you!"

"I don't think so. I don't know that you stole the necklace. I haven't any proof. But I do know that something is wrong—"

"You think I stole the necklace?"

"I told you I didn't know."

Gay was trembling with excitement. Mrs. Crandall hadn't denied going to the ball. If she could help Mark—that was all she wanted. Mark couldn't have stolen the necklace.

"Do you realize, my dear, that if you went to the police with this preposterous story they would arrest you? What were you doing at the masquerade in my costume?"

Gay hadn't thought of that. It would look queer, her being there. And if Fania were mixed up in the robbery, as she suspected, the police would think her, Gay, an accomplice. Fania was smiling at her consternation, as she bit into her toast again.

"The difficulties, you see, are enormous," Mrs. Crandall said softly, still smiling.

"Don't be a fool about this. If your friend, Mark Loring—I assume he is a special friend of yours because you are so anxious about him—if he didn't steal the necklace, well, then, he will be released shortly. You have nothing to worry about."

"He may be kept in jail for weeks—" tears quivered in Gay's eyes, and one dropped on the yellow chiffon coverlet.

"I don't think so. You can't of course, jeopardize yourself with this wild tale of yours. Certainly it would do a great deal of harm to me, too, for the police would be up here in five minutes. I can't afford the scandal, when I'm innocent in this." Fania took a cigaret and drew in deeply.

"Im not so sure you're innocent—" Gay protested.

"But you see the consequences? How would you like to go to jail? Not so pleasant, my dear. Now, why not be a good girl, and forget all this? If you say nothing more about it, there's money in it for you—" Fania was sorry the minute she had mentioned money. She saw the dangerous fire in Gay's eyes, the quick movement of disgust.

Jail. Gay had never been inside a prison in her life. She knew nothing of the police. She could not remember even talking to one—oh, yes, she had, as a child, the policeman on the beat near the Terris' flat was friendly and affable. He always had called her "redhead."

Perhaps Fania Crandall was wiser than she was. There was Frank Patterson to consider, Mark—and her mother. If she were arrested, Mr. Patterson would be furious. She knew his distaste for notoriety. Their engagement wasn't announced as yet. Her prank, for it had been only a prank then, a thoughtless adventure, would annoy him. It would be in all the papers.

Fania might be innocent . . . .

A hundred doubts flooded her mind. Fania was right. If Mark were innocent, and he was, she insisted to herself, he would be released. He might be released now. She would only get herself in trouble with her story. . . .

Besides she had no proof against Fania. Nothing but suspicions.

Hastily she drew the two hundred dollar bills from her purse and laid them on the bed. "I can't keep these." Lucky she hadn't spent them, for she had a thousand uses for them.

"You're a little fool," Fania remarked. "So you are going to the police station after all?"

"I am!"

"Regardless of what will happen—to you?"

"Yes."

"You have my permission." Mrs. Crandall stamped out her cigaret as if Gay were the least of her worries.

The girl looked at her, astounded. She was so cool—

When she left the bedroom Mrs. Crandall was slipping into a satin negligee. She made no move to bid her guest good-by.

Outside the house, walking toward Fifth avenue, she paused. She didn't even know where to go—where the police station was. She would have to ask.

A light touch on her arm and she looked down. A small boy was holding a note. "You Miss Terris?" When she nodded he thrust the envelope at her and ran.

Bewildered, she tore upon the envelope and glanced at the note. "Before you do anything, please see me. I'm waiting in a taxi around the corner. Paul Ladishaw."

It might be a trap—

Should she turn toward Madison or go on to Fifth? And meet Ladishaw?

Tomorrow—A Tip From Ladishaw.

Q. Are there really championship belts for prize fighting? If so what do they cost?—D. B.

A. When boxing appeared to be in some danger of languishing, in 1909, Lord Lonsdale drew up a new scale of weights, and conditions to govern title bouts, and with an idea of adding distinction to the bout, he donated a challenge belt for each weight. These trophies are valued at $2,500 each and consist of leather, gold, and colored enamel. The conditions make it possible for a boxer actually to possess the belt by winning the title three times, not necessarily in succession. Eleven of these belts had been won out right in 1924, and eight were up for competition.

COURT KILLS ELECTION LAW

Speaker of House Fails to Sign Bill

GALVESTON, March 27. (AP)—Bills without the signature of the speaker of the house of representatives are unconstitutional, the first court of civil appeals here held today in effect in reversing mandamus proceedings to compel Galveston county to hold a stock law election.

The enabling act under which the election was to have been held had not been signed by the speaker. The court also held the caption inadequate.

BILL CARRIES MILLER'S NAME

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP)—The bill held unconstitutional by the Galveston appellate court because it had not been signed by the speaker was passed by the legislature last summer restraining stock from running at large. Literary Digest Poll Gets 'Wetter' As Kansas Alone Registers 'Bone Dry'

Postcard Ballots Literally Flood Magazine Offices With "Repealers" Doing Most Voting

Kansas is the only state that is voting "bone dry" in The Literary Digest's nation-wide poll on prohibition, according to the third week's tabulation of over a million votes which will appear in Saturday's issue of the periodical.

Of the 1,244,483 postcard ballots returned, 527,388, or over 42 per cent of the total, vote for repeal of the prohibition amendment, 383,117 favor modification to permit light wines and beers, while nearly 27 per cent of those voting to date, 333,978, urge the strict enforcement of the 18th amendment and Volstead law.

"Repealers Gain"

The returns evidence a slight gain in the ratio of those favoring repeal.

Of the 20 states whose returns are listed in the current tabulations, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota and Washington show more votes in favor of enforcement than for either modification or repeal.

In Missouri, a strong dry vote runs considerably ahead of that for modification, but the "Show Me's" vote for repeal is greater than for either enforcement or modification.

The other 10 states, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and also the District of Columbia, give a vote for repeal greater than for either modification or enforcement.

Georgia Votes Dry

Georgia, the only southern state from which ballots have been tabulated, shows 4,061 votes for enforcement out of a total of 10,885 counted.

An additional 541,548 votes are reported this week over the returns of last week.

North Dakota is the only state that has changed toward a dryer attitude.

Attention is called by the magazine to the fact that "the drys are voting" as evidenced by a substantial balloting for strict enforcement in known arid centers.

The Literary Digest states that its editorial policy of nonpartisanship and its capacity as a gatherer and tabulator only of the ballots, forbids the magazine interpreting the vote as either wet or dry. However, they quote a number of newspapers that maintain the poll shows a preponderant wet sentiment in the country so far as reported.

"Although the wets undeniably have the best of it in this tabulation," the Literary Digest states, "let it be remembered that the poll is still in its infancy. Many states remain to be heard from, and immense dry areas have yet to be given a voice. Mail bags swollen with ballots and letters are being dumped by the dozen in the Digest headquarters. The mere work of sorting the mail is prodigious and time-consuming.

Next Count Uncertain

"No mind can forsee what the next tabulation may disclose, or how soon the drys may turn the tables on their opponents and change the poll into a neck and neck race.

"Kansas still stands like the rock of Gibralatar for prohibition enforcement 'as is.' The imposing mass of its dry vote in ratio to the population of the state, will go far toward squashing any sporadic local rumors that 'the drys are not voting.' For Kansas, the supreme citadel of prohibition, is voting magnificently, and from no state do we receive more heartfelt—petitions for extra ballots in bulk—petitions which we are obliged to deny to preserve the integrity of our system for the impersonal distribution of ballots.

"North Dakota has slipped into a dryer attitude since last week, when its vote for repeal slightly outnumbered its vote for enforcement.

Wets Still Wet

"As for those perennial fountains, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania, they are still spouting the wettest kind of ballots with no sign of a let-up, while sunny California still throws her weight into the repeal column, and further contributions to the dominant repeal total are furnished by Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin."

In the previous but considerably smaller prohibition poll undertaken by the Literary Digest, in 1922, the third week's returns on the same three questions showed the vote as 135,834 for strict enforcement, 145,727 for modification; and 76,039 for repeal.

the JOY of LIVING

is founded on Good Health

Did you know that every cubic millimeter of the normal, healthy person's blood should contain about 5,000,000 red corpuscles?

Your joy may depend upon rich, red-blood-cells

A HEALTHY body is vigorous, strong and sound. It is man and woman's greatest asset. It demands that the red-blood-cells shall not be decreased in number.

The red-blood-cells are its workers—5,000,000 to the cubic millimeter. They give to the blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. Rich, red blood wards off disease. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It promotes healthy body building. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. It is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and is easy to assimilate.

S.S.S.

You will be delighted with S.S.S. blood-building and tonic effects. Take at mealtime. At all drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

The Home as a Health Center

Although people may go to the sanitarium or hospital when they are sick, it is the home which they return to that puts the final polish on the state of rebuilding health. While they may stay at the hospital for a month, they are under the home influence for years. Thus the home becomes the true center of any real health building. It is the spot where health must be built up and maintained, especially for children, and most of the health instruction should be concentrated on the home.

People who live in the sort of home in which food is abundant and wisely prepared and combined—in which there are proper sleeping and bathing facilities, and a constant stream of fresh air at night—where there is an adequate playroom for children—are more likely to have a good chance for health because here in the home all of the main factors for health are met and cared for. On the other hand, if we have the kind of home where the usual meal contains greasy food, or in which the food combinations are entirely incorrect, in which the air supply is poisoned or the bathroom unsanitary, we have a perfect breeding ground for disease.

Many people realize that it is important to have a pleasant place of employment, but they should remember that about twice as much time is spent at home. In fact, the home should be so well kept and pleasant that one would desire to spend more time there than to gad about in the nerve-racking and often unsatisfactory search for excitement and entertainment.

The home life should be adapted to the needs of its members and everyone should have at least two good meals at home, perhaps breakfast and dinner. Then if a hurried luncheon is needed it can consist of light foods, such as salads and fruits.

Every mother should make a thorough study of diet and home culture because a child can have no better start in life than the training he receives at home before he starts out to make his own way in the world where there are not so many opportunities for health building as he had under the loving family care.

It is in the home that the important crop of the country manpower and womanpower is produced. I believe that the mothers of America are to be congratulated for the intense interest that they are taking in the newer discoveries of diet and health regime now offered for babies and young children. They have learned to a large extent how to feed their children so that teething becomes normal, rickets unnecessary, and to avoid more serious complications of children's illnesses. With such a mother in charge of the home as a center of health, the old time fears of rearing children need no longer exist, and the large sums of money ordinarily required for doctors' fees can be turned to some more useful advantage.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Rheumatism

Question—Mrs. G. S. asks: "What is the difference between articular rheumatism and arthritis? Is arthritis of the spine considered more dangerous than any other joints in the body?"

Answer: All forms of rheumatism are caused by practically the same thing—intestinal poisoning. The names of the different types vary according to the region in which the rheumatism locates. Arthritis of the spine is one of the most serious forms of rheumatism, and if the patient finally becomes unable to move about he therefore becomes weaker day by day, as every movement of the spine is painful and induces the patient to stay in one position to avoid the discomfort. It is sometimes necessary to keep the spine immovable for several months, in which event the irritated vertebrae join together.

Tomatoes

Question—Mrs. C. A. S. asks: "Are tomatoes a fruit or a vegetable and may they be eaten with genuine wholewheat bread or biscuits, and may a little honey and cream be used as a dressing on lettuce and eaten with wholewheat products?"

Answer: Tomatoes must be considered an acid fruit and should not be used with bread or biscuits. It is better not to use honey or other sweetings with starchy food, but cream may be used with any kind of vegetables or with wholewheat products.

Lemon Juice

Question—Mrs. A. asks: "Will lemon juice on the face every night tend to dry the skin?"

Answer: Lemon juice added to the water in which the face is washed tends to prevent dryness of the skin because the acid of the lemon counteracts the alkali which is found in so much of the common hydrant water. It is often advisable to also add a few drops of lemon juice to the water in which the hair is washed.

PROSPECT FOR P. O. FUND GOOD

House's Action Thursday Construed as Boon

The long-expressed hope of Wichita Falls for a much needed post-office and federal building is near realization as a result of the action of the house Thursday in approving senate amendments to the Elliott-Keyes $230,000,000 public buildings bill, Orville Bullington, vice chairman of the Republican executive committee of Texas, told The Record News Thursday night.

An appropriation of $500,000 was included in the bill when it originated in the house, Mr. Bullington said, and senate amendments concerned only the language used in providing for condemnation work in the District of Columbia. Associated Press dispatches to The Record News Thursday stated the house had virtually sent the bill to the president's desk by its favorable action and that the measure is assured of speedy reapproval in the senate next week, after which only the president's signature will be necessary to put the bill into effect.

The bill carries authorization for the appropriation of $115,000,000 of expenditure for public buildings throughout the nation and a similar amount for the District of Columbia, the dispatches said. The treasury department has announced it would recommend to congress expenditure of about $35,000,000 in federal building projects within two weeks. The Elliott-Keyes bill provides for starting work on much new construction and doubles the amount that can be spent this year outside the District of Columbia.

Thursday's dispatches stated the treasury department probably would be able to start letting contracts under the new bill during April.

Pension Vote Defeats Ruling Irish Party

DUBLIN, March 27. (US)—The government party of President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free state was defeated in the dail eireann by a vote of 66 to 64 today by the Fenna Fail party of Eamon de Valera, on a question of raising the amounts of old age pensions.

The De Valera party's bill provided an increase in the pension bill which the government opposed. The bill was passed with the aid of the labor and independent partisans.

The cabinet will meet tomorrow to decide whether it will resign. Resignation is reported doubtful by political circles here.

HAWKS TO TRY 10-MILE HOP

Test Today Precedes Flight Across Continent

LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 27. (US)—High above the business center of Los Angeles tomorrow morning, Capt. Frank M. Hawks, transcontinental flying ace, will cut loose, in a motorless biplane dragging the lighter machine.

Then, relying solely on his skill in gliding and maneuvering in air currents, he will make his way to Mines field, a straightline distance of approximately 10 miles.

The exploit will come at the end if an "air train" flight from San Diego. It is part of a dress rehearsal for a Pacific-to-Atlantic glider flight upon which Hawks pruposes to start from San Diego Sunday.

A telephone connection which will be used on Hawks' flight from San Diego to New York was established today between the glider and an airplane when Hawks talked to a newspaper man in a towing plane.

Captain Hawks was alone in the "Eaglet," a motorless ship of the cabin type in which he will take off from Lindbergh field here Sunday on the proposed trip to New York.

J. D. Jernigan Jr., was at the controls of the plane, which will tow Hawks' craft on the transcontinental trip.

Ground Broken For New Hospital Unit

Work of surveying and breaking ground for construction of the two new buildings at the Wichita Falls State hospital was begun Thursday and actual structural work will get under way probably about April 15, it was announced Thursday by C. M. Kitchell, Wichita Falls representative for J. E. Morgan of El Paso, to whom the contract for general construction was let.

The new ward building will be of the typical construction already adopted at the state hospital, two floors in height and with a capacity of about 200 beds. The other building will provide on the ground floor storeroom space and on the second floor a dormitory for men employes of the hospital, Mr. Kitchell said.

Contracts for plumbing and heating and for electrical work were let to Charles D. Hughes and the John Oechsner Electric company, both of this city. The total cost of the work will be $156,487.

GOODRICH ENDS SERMONS HERE

Shreveport Pastor Recalled To Home Pulpit

Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, pastor of the Shreveport, La., First Methodist church, chose as the subject for his final sermon in the revival services at the First Methodist church here Thursday night, "The Finality of Jesus." The revival services will continue through next Sunday, Dr. Goodrich having been called home by the death of a prominent member of his congregation.

"Man comes into the world only to set about finding ways to improve the world he finds," Dr. Goodrich said. "He no sooner arrives than he reveals his dissatisfaction with it. Other creatures all seem to find a finality in the world and do not try to make it better. Not so man. He seems to be born with the intuition that life on earth is a long series of progressions and advancements

Progress Shown

"His dissatisfaction is seen industrially, for instance, in our progress from canoe to the great steamship, from the ox cart to the airplane. It is shown socially in the growth of the family into a community, into a state, into a nation and finally into a league of nations. It is shown intellectually by the contrast of the barbarian who struggled to count his fingers and toes with the great scientist who measures the very sun with his instruments.

"But we have come to the end of the world in some of our journeys. Mathematically we have come to the end in some respects at least. Architectually there are branches where the end has been reached. In music I do not hear of anybody wanting to revise our octave. And then there is the rainbow. Nobody ever dreams there will ever be any more colors that are not found there.

"Undoubtedly we have that hungering after the finality of things in the realm of religion. Not one of the prophets was ever considered a finality. The world still crys for the finality of truth. People are hungering ror finality in the spiritual truth. I say unfalteringly that we have come to the finality of truth. It is all fulfilled in Jesus Christ. Jesus considered Himself a finality. When He spoke to the woman at the well, He said: 'I that speak unto thee am he.' The revelation of the character of God as revealed in Christ is a finality. He gave his only begotten Son. The last prayer of Christ was for mercy for them that nailed him on the cross. Christ is a finality of God to man."

McKenney to Preach

In the absence of Dr. Goodrich, Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the church here, will preach Friday morning at 10 o'clock on the subject, "In Christ Jesus." A "Family Night" service will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night when Dr. McKenney will take for his subject, "Justification by Faith."

Will meet you at the Kay Bible class Sunday morning, March 30, 9:30. Baseball day.—Adv.

Cotton Exchange Rules Not Violated, Is Claim

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—The board of managers of the New York cotton exchange today decided no evidence had been submitted to it so far to support the report circulated in the cotton trade that an interest in contracts in certain months was held in excess of that permitted by the rules of the exchange.

The reports were that some members of certain cooperative associations were "long" on the May positions above the 200,000 bale limit of the exchange and above the 150,000 bale limit in the July position and the apparent strength of them led to an investigation.

AFTERNOON FATIGUE AVOIDED

Energy Can Be Quickly Restored By This Simple Method

Eating between meals is often prescribed by doctors especially for those working at high speed in offices and stores.

Energy food, in compact and inexpensive form, is easy to get for such "snacks," at news and cigar stands. The popular candy bar and the little packets of sweet cookies are outstanding examples of what is offered. Then there are the soda fountains where milk drinks and carbonated beverages can be enjoyed.

Doctors and food chemists who have given candy or flavored drinks to workers have discovered that these foods restore energy quickly. The fact that the tests have been made in the late afternoon when vitality is low, makes the results more significant.

Sugar, in addition to supplying energy, can help in promoting a more satisfying diet. Those foods rich in vitamins, roughage and minerals can be much improved in flavor by adding a dash of sugar in cooking or when serving them. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

TAX ESTIMATES ABOUT REACHED

Income Payments Total $542,432,341

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Receipts from the first quarter's payment of the tax on 1929 incomes were shown today to have reached $542,432,341 on last Tuesday.

This was taken at the treasury as an indication that the estimates of the department of a total of more than $550,000,000 for the month would be borne out.

The collections March 25 were $9,783,624, which left the total $36,000,000 less than collected in the same number of days in last March and the indicated aggregate for the month approximately $50,000,000 less than the $601,000,000 collected in March of last year.

At the time the tax reduction was decided upon treasury experts predicted there would be a surplus of $225,000,000 at the end of the 1930 fiscal year. The tax reduction, however, was estimated to amount to $160,000,000, half of which would come out of the 1930 fiscal year and the other half out of the 1931 fiscal year. This left an indicated surplus of $145,000,000, since then the farm board has been given $100,000,000 but there is a possibility that this money will not be expended until after next June 30.

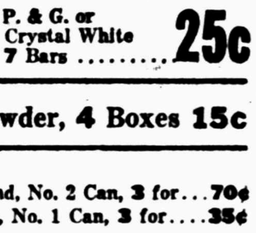

Wets and Drys Both Face Committee Probe

WASHINGTON, March 27. (AP)—Methods employed by dry and wet organizations in supporting or opposing prohibition, together with the amount of money expended, will be investigated by the senate lobby committee.

Chairman Caraway of the committee said today the inquiry would begin as soon as the Muscle Shoals investigation is completed. W. B. Bell, president of the American Cyanamid company, who has been called for Tuesday, is expected to be the last Muscle Shoals witness.

TONY'S YANS MAKE GREAT EFFORT BUT LOSE TO VETS, 7-2

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

This department again lays claim to immortality on the strength of a pome submitted to us today by a young lady whose mission in life commands that she attend each and every civic club meeting in the city. The poem is cheerfully published herewith:

CLUBBED TO DEATH

(Or the tragedy of a young maiden who is slowly being tortured to death by horrible methods.)

On Monday it's Kiwanis and rare steak,
And usually a talk that's not so wise—
And married men, bald-headed ones, remark
About the color of my hair and eyes.

On Tuesday, Ad club, and the steak is done.
We talk about prosperity in our city.
(I've heard the self-same song so often now
That I think I've really memorized the ditty!)

The Optimists beam forth on Wednesday noon,
Male Pollyannas whose chief creed is "Smile."
The steak is doused in gravy by this time
And dry potatoes are again in style.

Chop suey covers up the now-hard steak,
When Rotary club rotates each Thursday noon,
With high ideals to help their fellowman—
(Here's one who'll need their service very soon!)

And so life seems a sort of mixed up hash
Of too-done steaks and half-done speeches and stale pie.
If all us bored ones could be laid out end to end,
How much more pleasant it would be to die!

Wichitans will have the opportunity of seeing one of the country's best polo'sts, Capt. John Smith of the United States army, in action on Clinerowe field Sunday afternoon. Captain Smith plays No. 4 position on the Kelly field team from San Antonio, which will clash with the Wichita Falls team in the first of a series of matched games.

Captain Smith is a poloist of international repute, having been a member of the United States international polo team in 1927. He is rated with a four-goal handicap.

Captain Boyle, and Lieutenants Craw and Beverly, other members of the army team, are also experts at the game, Lieutenant Craw carrying a three-goal handicap, and the others carrying two each. The game with the Wichitans ought to be a thriller.

It takes much money to play polo, and the high cost of the game restricts the number of teams in this section of the country. However, this city has one of the best teams in the Southwest. There is an ever increasing attendance at the games played here, and it appears that at last the man in the street is beginning to appreciate the worth of our poloists.

Recently a new playing ground, Clinerowe field, on Lake drive just south of the country club, has been made ready for the approaching games the Wichita Falls team has scheduled. In order that more improvements may be made on the field an admission charge of 25 cents per person will be made for the Sunday afternoon game. It seems that the charge is more than reasonable, and no one should object to paying such a small sum to watch two teams of such reputations in action.

You can't wear these Spudders down, it seems. After a hard day's work on the lot, what do you think Outfielder Nebel, Catcher Baxter and Pitcher Waggoner do? They go up to the Spudder alleys for an hour or two of bowling "to keep in condition." Many other players go up there too, either to bowl or to lounge around. Athletes, it seems, are never content unless in an athletic atmosphere.

Jack Kloza, the towering hard-hitting outfielder, is now known as "Muscles" Kloza. He received a letter so addressed, and the handle stuck. Take a look at him some time and you'll see that it fits.

The changes in the weather are going hard with the Spudders. Several have complained of colds the last few days, and rasping coughs are beginning to be heard in the club house. The latest victim was Skipper Carl Williams himself. Carl came off the lot Wednesday afternoon complaining of a sore throat which needed doctoring.

Suggestion for opening day slogan: "Thanks, boss, for the day off!"

Baseball, apparently, is the only sport which has escaped the mandlin movies. The pastime of course, has figured in a number of films, but so far as we know there has been no movie picturing sweating Harold pitching a no-hit game for the glory of old Trenton, while he hums a theme song of love for some sweet, wide-eyed, dimpled thing swooning away in the grandstand.

And to Allah we send our humble prayers that the present state of things continues for ever and ever, amen.

Cleveland Shortstop May Go Under Knife

NEW ORLEANS, March 27. (UP)—John Goldman, whose shortstop play has been one of the bright spots in Cleveland's training this spring, had to leave practice today to submit to an examination for appendicitis. If the diagnosis calls for an operation, Goldman will be lost to the Indians until after the opening of the season. The Indians will play New Orleans tomorrow.

NEW HURLER COMES TO LOT

Afton B. Gomillion Arrives To Start Grind

By FRED D. THOMPSON
The Record News Staff

Tony Defate kept on prodding his yannigans Thursday, and when they had scored one run in the first it looked like they were off to win a ball game. But Fitzgerald's regulars came from behind in the fourth, bunched five runs and held the rookies at the bottom of the ladder for the rest of the game. The final score was 7 to 2.

The game, scheduled to go the nine-inning route was called after the first half of the eighth on account of increasing cold.

New Pitcher Arrives

There was a newcomer on the lot Thursday who probably will be in uniform Friday. He is Afton B. Gomillion, the boy with the red hair and towering height, who comes from the brush country. He was piloted to the lot by Guy Airey Spudder secretary, who made a special trip to Mission, Texas, to get the rookie. President J. Alvin Gardner went to the valley with Mr. Airey.

Gomillion is a pitcher who became the property of the Spudders in 1927 in the same deal which brought Garland Orr, outfielder, and Gaudy Guerra, catcher, to the Wichita Falls club. Orr is in camp at present. Guerra, a first rate catcher, was subsequently sold to Tampa, Fla.

Gomillion was placed on the voluntarily retired list of the Spudders after his purchase in 1927, in order that he might develop. This he sought to do by playing semi-pro ball in the country near the Rio Grande. This year the Spudder powers decided to see what they had purchased, and Gomillion was brought to the home of his owners. He will be turned over to Skipper Carl Williams immediately, Mr. Airey said.

Gomillion, in addition to having red hair, stands six feet three in the showers, and weighs 205 pounds which might mean just anything. He hurls from the south side.

Cold, Cold Game

The squad shivered in the path of a merciless cold wind Thursday afternoon, but Skipper Carl put the boys through the paces just the same. The game got off to a start after the regular fielding and batting practice. Dick Florrid and Ed Ellis hurled for the winners, while Russell Cromer and Kowalik tossed for the yans.

It was Baxter, the catcher, who made the yannigans feel so good in the first by chalking up the first tally. He got a base hit to third and went to second on Euller's wild throw to first. Allday, second up, flied out to left. Hooten got a base hit to right field, scoring Baxter, but tried to make second and was thrown out, right field to first to second. Bettencourt finished the frame by flying out to center.

The next two innings were happy ones for the yans. They didn't make any runs, Florrid holding them to not a single hit; but neither did the vetrans get a run off Cromer. But the fourth saw action.

Burns Scores Pair

Fitzgerald, first up, ankled to first. Kloza singled to center, advancing Fitzgerald to second. Burns singled to right, scoring Fitzgerald and Kloza. Orr singled to right field advancing Burns to third, and Euller sent another one to right field—a grounder this time—scoring Burns and advancing Orr to third. Butler then hit a fast one past third base for a hit, scoring Orr and advancing Euller to second. Euller stole third. Butler stole second. Florrid struck out and Euller scored on a passed ball. Levey struck out, and Storti popped to third to close the inning.

In the next frame the yans made their second and last tally. It was made by the indefatigable Tony. Tony was first up. He got to first on Euller's bad throw to the premiere sack. Pratt grounded to first and an attempted double play, second to short to first, failed, leaving Tony safe on second but throwing Pratt out. Tony stole third on the pitcher. Harris then singled to left, scoring Tony. Cromer popped to right field for the second out. Harris stole second. Baxter walked. Allday grounded to short, and Baxter was thrown out at second, closing the inning.

Regulars Score Two

The regulars made their last two tallies in the seventh. Levey, first up, singled to right field. Storti sacrificed to second, advancing Levey to the keystone sack. Levey went to third on a passed ball and scored on Fitzgerald's single to center. Kloza then hit a mighty double to right field, advancing Fitzgerald to third. Then followed some sensational playing. Burns clouted one to the pitcher, who cornered Fitzgerald and touched him out at third. Meanwhile Kloza started running from second and Burns started from first. The ball went hither and yon but never to the right place, and Kloza got home in the melee, and Burns got on third. Orr walked, and Euller popped to second to close the inning.

Another practice game likely will be played Friday afternoon as a final workout before meeting the St. Paul Saints here Saturday and Sunday.

Rain Cancels Steers' Contest With S. M. U.

Chick Promises Spudders Big Year

Chick Galeria, the nimble southpaw pitcher, is one athlete who doesn't look like a professor, even if he does wear glasses. Well, neither does Eddie Ellis, either, for that matter—and he's another hurler who is bespectacled. Chick, after these many months, is rounding out into good form in the Spudder practice games, and he promises the fans, and the team, a big year this season. Un-professional Chick was here at the first of last season, with Abilene and Springfield, Mo., of the Western association thereafter, and following the close of the Westerners' season he came back here for the closing games. He spent 1928 with Abilene.

Billy Disch's Nine Appears to Be on Way to It's Annual Championship

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP)—The University of Texas, under the guiding hand of Coach Billy Disch, appears to be in line for its annual Southwest conference baseball championship. Advance dope indicates the Longhorns will receive their greatest competition from the T. C. U. Frogs and the Texas Aggies.

The Longhorn machine boasts, perhaps, the best pitching staff in its history. It includes Johnny Railton, southpaw and leading conference hurler of last year, and Peoples, Hunt and De La Fuente, a trio of good right-handers. Lefty Robertson is another southpaw twirler that should cause the opposition considerable worry.

The Texas outfit has lost both its exhibition games to the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox but managed to give the big leaguers a hard tussle in each instance.

The Baylor Bears, in past years one of the most serious threats to the Longhorns, have not made an impressive showing to date. Lack of capable pitchers appears to be the chief worry of Coach Jennings of the Waco institution.

The Texas Aggies have one of the best teams in years and will make a determined bid for the crown. The Aggies have a fine pitching staff built around Tommie Mills, last year's all conference pitcher. They also loom up as the strongest outfit with the bat in the conference and should make the going hard for many of the pitching aces.

T. C. U. comes out of Fort Worth with a well rounded aggregation and, with a schedule favoring them, they may have a good chance at the conference gonfalon. The team is practically the same as last season, with the addition of several promising sophomores.

Hopes of the Rice Owls are hitched to Ables and Keith, hurlers, although their team has a fair infield and outfield. The team lacks an experienced catcher.

The Mustangs of S. M. U. are an unknown quantity in the race. The team has an exceptionally strong array of material from last year's freshman team and it is not believed likely that the Dallas boys will finish in the cellar again. Their main hope is pinned to Lyle, slow ball twirler de luxe.

Arkansas university has dropped baseball from its athletic schedule.

Out-of-Town Fans Equal Wichitans' Interest in Spudder Slogan Contest

The opening day slogan contest goes on apace, with slogans from out-of-town fans about equaling in number those submitted by residents of the city of the Spudders.

To the winner of the contest, which closes at midnight April 4, six box seats to the opening game April 9 with the Shreveport Sports will be presented. The contest is sponsored by the athletic committee of the chamber of commerce and its goal is to stimulate attendance at the opening game. Cities supporting Texas league ball clubs have been divided into two groups, and the city in each group having the largest attendance opening day will be given $250 in cash by J. Alvin Gardner, president of the league. The funds will revert to the community chests of the winning cities.

Send Yours In!

If you have an idea for a slogan, send it in to The Record News or Daily Times. The best slogan will be chosen by judges selected by the chamber of commerce committee.

Among the slogans sent in Thursday were the following:

Dr. C. E. Bailey: "Let's win Gardner's prize."

Charles Dana Butts, 1604 Fillmore: "Don't scratch your chin, come on let's win."

DALLAS GIRL CAGERS WIN

Texans Beat Birmingham In Quarter Finals

By J. H. ANDERSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

WICHITA, Kan., March 27. (AP)—The Dallas Cyclones, runners-up in the national tournament a year ago, played in a manner indicative of their name to sweep aside the Birmingham, Ala., Western Unions tonight in the first quarter-final game of the fourth annual national A. A. U. Girls' Basket Ball tournament here. The score was 40 to 17.

There was nothing in this battle of two scrapping sextets, clad in shorts, to recall the mildly-played game of the "Bloomer" girls of five years ago. One girl went out with injuries. Time was called once to revive an Alabama player who was groggy after a spill with a Cyclone cager.

As the game ended two rival players were ready to mix with fists, but teammates intervened.

$50,000 Gate Expected At McLarnin Bout

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, scalling Irish kid with a clout that is deadly in earnest, and Black Jack Thompson, no mean hitter himself, completed their chores today and rested for 10 rounds of battling in Madison Square garden Friday night. They will fight at 147 pounds.

While the young sockers finished work, garden box office men neared the limit, too. So brisk has been the demand for tickets that the 18,000 seats around the famous battle pit probably will be sold by tomorrow noon. A gate of about $50,000 is in prospect.

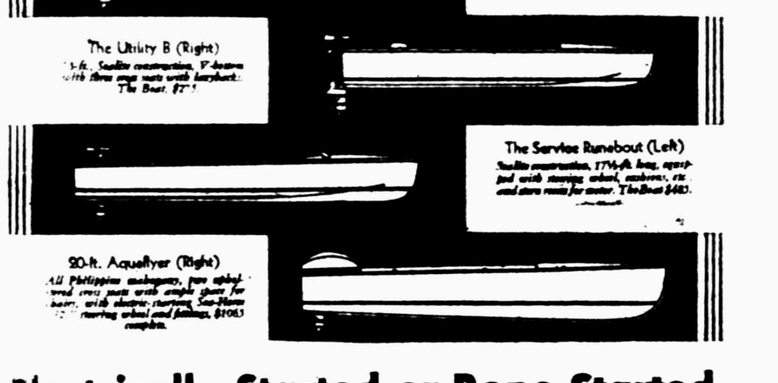

Indians' Game With Giants Rained Out

SAN ANTONIO, March 27. (UP)—Although rain prevented the New York Giants from meeting the San Antonio Texas league club in their scheduled exhibition game today, Manager John McGraw managed to squeeze in a workout at Exposition hall, a covered shed on the outskirts of this city.

The Giants will break camp here tomorrow night with every player available for duty, including Fred Lindstrom. Outfielder Ed Roush, however, has not reported.

WICHITA COUNTY MEET AND TEXAS RELAYS SCHEDULED TODAY

AUSTIN EVENT DRAWS STARS

Electrans Favored to Win At Burkburnett

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, March 27.—Track and field stars from six schools will battle for honors Friday and Saturday in the annual Wichita county interscholastic league competition here. Literary events will be held at intervals during the two days.

Electra, winners of recent county track and field meets, are favored to repeat this year, but strong teams entered from Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Cashion, Fairview and Weith promise to make the Tigers exert every muscle in the contests.

All arrangements for the meet have been completed, according to N. P. Craig, county athletic director. The athletes are scheduled to be on hand Friday morning for the first of the contests.

Finals in the boys' tennis singles tournament, postponed from last week, will be played Friday afternoon, it was announced. Roy Curfman of Electra and Alfred Ragsdale will duel for first honors.

RELAYS THREATENED BY BAD WEATHER

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP)—Presaged by lowering temperatures, high winds and a cold driving rain, the sixth annual running of the University of Texas relays, scheduled for tomorrow, may be held under unfavorable conditions. The temperature, which usually hovers around 70 at this season dropped to 35 tonight with little relief predicted before tomorrow.

The meet will be the largest in the history of the school and has attracted 1,000 athletes from 90 colleges, universities, academies and high schools.

May Hinder Stars

Although many of the premier track stars of the nation have been entered in the meet, prospects of establishing new records diminished on account of the weather and the heaviness of the track due to the rains.

A number of world, national, conference and sectional champions have been entered. The list includes Bert Nelson of Butler university, holder of the world's title for the indoor high jump; Sentman of Illinois, holder of the 75-yard high hurdles; Todd of Indiana, last year's all-around champion of the Texas relays; Nelson Greer, former Rice institute star and holder of the national A. A. U. 440 meter title and 880-yard junior champion of the United States; Robert Greenwade of San Antonio, holder of the Swedish record for the 300-yard dash; Tom Warne of Northwestern university, holder of the national pole vault championship and several other ranking cinder path artists.

The greatest interest probably will be attached to the 100-yard dash which will feature Cy Leland of Texas Christian university and Clyde Bracey of Rice. Bracey is the holder of the Texas relay record for this event with 9.5 seconds, defeating Simpson of Ohio State, world champion, and Leland in a sensational match last year. Leland, however, has improved greatly since last year and recently defeated Bracey in a special exhibition match at Fort Worth.

Exhibition Race

A special 660-yard exhibition race will see Greenwade, Greer and Clyde Blanchard, Los Angeles Athletic club and former captain of the University of Arizona track team in action. Blanchard won second place in the national A. A. U. meet in 1928 and missed making the Olympic team by one point.

Competition also is exceptionally keen in the pole vault class. The Texas relay title now is held by Canby of Iowa and Warne of Northwestern, both of whom are entered this year. In addition to these two stars, Illinois has entered McDermont who has consistently topped the bar at 13 feet, 4 inches as compared to the relay record of 13 feet, 3¼ inches.

The Western conference will be represented by five teams—Indiana, Illinois, Chicago, Wisconsin and Northwestern—while the Missouri conference also has entered several teams. Every school in the Southwest conference has entered. The list of entries includes schools from 17 states.

University Events

The following events will be run in the university class: Quarter mile, half mile, mile, two-mile, four-mile, and medley relay, 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles, shot put, discus throw, javelin throw, high jump, broad jump, pole vault and 3,000 meter run. Three special events will be run in the college division, the medley, half mile and mile relays while the mile and medley relays will be staged for high school entrants. Four other events will be held especially for the high schools, the 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles, shot put and high jump. A 100-yard dash and 120-yard high hurdles will be held for junior college and academy entries.

Boston Braves Defeat Philadelphia A's, 5-3

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 27. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics bowed to the Boston Braves 5 to 3 today. For six innings Harry Seibold held his own with Lefty Grove, "A" hurler. Then Grove wilted and singles by Sisler, Moore, Berger and Maguire produced three runs. In the seventh the Braves added two more. In the ninth, Chick Galloway made his first appearance in a game in two years. He batted for Rommel of the A's and bounced to the pitcher.

Jacksonville Stars Defeat Yankees, 4 to 3

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 27. (AP)—Rube Marquard's Jacksonville stars rallied in the ninth to defeat the New York Yankees, 4 to 3, today.

Herb Pennock, starting Yankee hurler, was nipped for two runs before he gave way to Henderson, who finished the contest. The Yanks have lost eight of their 14 exhibition games.

Browns' Former Pilot Promises Reds Will Hustle This Season

(Note—This is one of a series of first hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.)

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

ORLANDO, Fla., March 27.—The Cincinnati Reds do not believe in signs reading "Walk, Don't Run." They plan to do a lot of running during the National league race and have started their program with a rush.

Dan Howley, new manager, has had his pitchers running mile after mile around the big practice field and when the games start the order will be "run in and run out" for everybody.

To Repeat Tactics

Howley brought the St. Louis Browns from seventh place to third in the American league by running and he believes the same tactics will be effective in the senior circuit.

"If you are hustling every minute you will get a break," says Howley. "So we will run in to hit and run out to field, no matter whether we are a mile ahead or a mile behind."

There seems to be no question that the current edition of the Reds, under new management with Sidney Weil as president, offers a stronger front than that presented by the seventh place club of last year.

Power has been added in the big bats of Harry Heilmann and Bob Meusel and the defense was strengthen when Leo Durocher, a sensational fielding shortstop, was imported, also from the American league.

Plenty of Reserves

The Reds will be able to put practically two teams in the field, one boasting a big punch and the other carrying a sensational fielding edge. If the powerful guns of the offense pile up a lead, the defensive stars can be rushed into the game to hold it.

The new manager is feeling his way cautiously at first, but every indication points to a startling outfield lineup of Meusel in left, Evar Swanson, one of the game's fast runners, in center and the clouting Harry Heilmann in right. This trio will be supported by Ethan Allen, Curtis Walker, and perhaps Earl Webb, the former Chicago Cub.

George Kelly, first baseman, not so fast as he was but still a long distance hitter and great thrower, has no opposition. Hughie Critz, one-two-three in any rating of second basemen, is again available, with a capable substitute in Tony Cuccinello, the Columbus recruit.

Horace Ford, who played shortstop last year, will start again at the position, but with Durocher ready to dash in on a moment's notice. The third base competition between "Jersey Joe" Stripp and Charlie Dressen may continue some time.

Pitchers Uncertain

The pitching rests in the hands of the baseball fates. There are an even dozen in the camp and every one has a chance, although only 10 can be retained after June 1. Fred (Red) Lucas, one of the best pitchers and all round performers in either league, will head the right handers and the accomplished but outlucked Jakie May is a capable left-hander.

With this start, Manager Howley will have to select eight others. Pete Donohue, a veteran with nine years service in the team behind him although he is not 30 years of age, is 22 pounds heavier this year than ever before and as he has never carried the weight his 6 feet, 2 inches demanded, this should make him a better performer. Eppa Rixey, approaching 39 and with 17 years in the National league, may not start many games, but he will be in at the finish of a number.

Doug McWeeny, a big fellow with a fast ball, who did Brooklyn little good last year, is a good prospect, as are Benny Frey, up from Nashville, Silas Johnson, who spent last season on option at Columbus, and Archie Campbell, purchased from St. Paul. Campbell has had two American league trials and shows promise.

Two Good Catchers

Ray Kolp, who is seldom at a loss for something to say, Marvin Gudat, a left-hander, Ken Ash and Rube Erhardt were members of the pitching staff of last year but were not called to the mound so often as the other fellows. They may see more activity this season.

The Reds have only two catchers, Clyde Sukeforth and Johnny Gooch, but both are good offensively and defensively. A third will be added before the season starts. Sukeforth hit .354 last year, his first season as a regular. Gooch, formerly with Pittsburgh and Brooklyn, will share the burden with his younger colleague.

Howley makes only one promise: "We will run," he says.

Fred Walker Voted Raise In Salary

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP)—The University of Texas Athletic council has voted to recommend to the board of regents that the institution's contract with Fred Walker, head basket ball coach, be renewed at an increase of salary of $200, making his annual stipend $4,800. The hatchet was in a fair way of being buried, after a heated internal controversy in ranks of the Longhorn coaching staff, when Clyde Littlefield, football coach, and William J. Disch, baseball coach, congratulated Walker and wished him well.

...a change for the best

Lawyer: "You'll have to shave more carefully, young fellow, if you want to succeed in this office."

Clerk: "Careful? I went over my face today several times—but the blade slipped over the whiskers."

Lawyer: "You're guilty of bad blades—change to the Gem! It gets every hair the first stroke."

We base our case on your face. Shave it with a Gem Blade—if it doesn't look cleaner, if it doesn't feel more comfortable—but it will, so what's the use of "iffing"? A jury of millions of satisfied shavers says, "The Gem Blade is efficient." Uniformly keen, it never needs an alibi. And remember the economy of genuine Gem Blades:—you get more shaves per blade.

Turn this package over and read the back

THE WORDS on the back of the package still mean what they say. No "extras," which do not contribute to the quality of the smoke, are included in the price of Camels. Just the utmost smoke-enjoyment that modern science can put into a cigarette.

That statement was on the first package of Camels manufactured and has been on every one of the billions of Camel packages sold from that day to this. When it was first written, other cigarette manufacturers were giving away flags, pictures of actresses, pictures of ball players—almost anything that would make the smoker think he was getting something extra for his money. The makers of Camels believed the smoker wanted a cigarette sold strictly on its merits, with all of its cost put into quality—a cigarette made of such excellent tobaccos—so perfectly blended—so mellow—so fragrant—that it would win its own way.

The vast popularity of Camels is a tribute to that four-square policy.

CAMELS for pleasure

Don't look for premiums or coupons, as the cost of the tobaccos blended in CAMEL Cigarettes prohibits the use of them.

Bear Pressure Brings Irregularity On Quiet Market as Money Tightens

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 27. (US)—Tighter money and heavier professional pressure in anticipation of another increase in loans enhanced irregularity in a less active market today. Declaration of the regular Anaconda dividend sustained sentiment to some degree while the consistent good support to standard industrials and Oils as well as continuation of important buying of utilities offset bearish influences to a goodly extent. Steel lost fractionally while Anaconda jumped 3⅛ and other Coppers gained over a point on the average. General Electric finished a point higher. Public Service gained 1⅛, and Baltimore & Ohio advanced 1 point. Radio lost 1, Gillette 1½, Bethlehem 1, Electric Power & Light 1, Consolidated Gas 1⅛, Vanadium 3½, Briggs 1⅛ and United Aircraft 2 points. Call money advanced from renewal of 3½ to 4 per cent. As banks called loans to take care of April 1 interest and dividend payments. Volume dropped to the 4,600,000-share level.

Every means possible was used to get General Motors under way. The operation is presumably sponsored by western interests who have an important voice in the management. They are said to recognize that a good market in the stock will do more to improve business of the corporation than anything else. Just at present earnings are under the $130,000,000 annual basis necessary for dividends. Chevrolet is bringing in most of the income. The same situation applies to other motor stocks but the insiders in Chrysler and a few more express strong hopes for material improvement over the next few months. No matter what improvement is experienced it is likely that some disappointing dividend news will be received from the motor companies in April.

Radio showed more effect of bear pressure than it has in any time in two months. The bad report for 1929 is expected to be made public on Monday. The very well known industrial magnate and financier who reputedly cleaned up a huge fortune by financing professional bearish operations in the October-November market is reported heavily short of Radio with an average of about 35. Simmons, Montgomery Ward and the other favorites of the bearish clique showed no signs of that real support that would mark the end of bearish activity.

Good buying continues in Earnsdall although merger negotiations with Sinclair are off temporarily. They are expected to be resumed within 10 days or so. Indian Refining selling was attributed to Danforth, et al. Bankers in the stock claimed that trader and his friends were taking profits. With the payment of the Anaconda dividend there was report that the price of Copper would be held at 18 cents until the summer at least and by that time it was hoped there would be considerable improvement in demand for the red metal. Electric Bond interests again were most responsible for strength in National Power, Electric Power, American Gas and other utilities. Electric Power stock eventually is expected to be exchanged for Electric Bond shares. Quiet absorption of American Sugar were reported. It is learned that an important investment trust is holding a substantial block of Lehman corporation.

The "little giant" of the utility industry, Nicholas F. Brady, died today. He was director of 50 corporations, friend and associate of the most powerful banking and business leaders, chief layman of his church throughout the world and active guardian of the affairs of numerous charities. Some sentimental selling of Consolidated Gas and other stocks resulted but it can be stated definitely that none of the "Brady stocks" will be subjected to serious pressure. The affairs of the huge Brady estate and the affairs of associated trusts will be administered by one of the best known business executives in the East.

The decrease of $21,000,000 in brokers' loans is rather a pleasant surprise in view of the advance in the market and the larger trading in the period reported on. Current tightening of money is not regarded seriously. The April 1 payments of interest and dividends find their way back to the street quickly so that low rates are in prospect for the latter part of next week.

Sterling and other exchanges remained irregular in quiet trading. Cotton sold off as traders took profits and week-end evening up started. Wheat and other grains felt the effect of continued professional pressure.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 27. (AP)—Wheat was lower with little demand on the cash grain market here today. Trade continued nervous about the future, and few mills and elevator interests were anxious to take on stocks. Mills were nominally bidding $1.08@1.09½ for No. 1 ordinary hard, delivered Texas common points. Sorghums were in active demand and corn, oats and cane seed fairly well taken.

Bids and offers on coarse grains, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed, 93@94c; No. 2 white or yellow, 97@98c.

Oats—No. 2 red oats, 55@56c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points, 54½c.

Barley—No. 2 barley, 62@63c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds, $1.70@1.72; No. 2 kaffir, $1.48@1.50.

Cane Seed—Bulk country run red top, per 100 pounds, $4.00@4.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 27. (AP)—Led by wheat, all grain prices turned downward today toward the last after scoring early gains. Reserve buying power flattened and values gave way under larger selling to realize profits on bulges. Export developments as to North American wheat were disappointing, and farm board advices that United States spring wheat acreage probably would be reduced more than department of agriculture figures indicated failed to act as a counterbalance.

Wheat closed at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅛c lower. Corn closed unchanged to ⅛c off, oats ¼-½c down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5c.

Corn and oats were swayed almost together by the action of wheat.

Provisions responded to fluctuations of the hog market.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, March 27. (UP)—Crop news was not colorful enough to cause any great change in wheat sentiment, with the result that locals sold on the early bulge, looking upon the market as a trading affair.

Although traders are very friendly to corn, the erratic action in wheat continues to dampen bullish enthusiasm sufficiently to prevent aggressive activity on the constructive side. Trade is not broad enough to sustain advances in the face of the disposition to accept moderate profits.

Black sea wheat shipments for the week were 600,000 bushels of which Russia furnished 224,000 bushels.

Cables from Europe say that weather is mild and winter grains have come through with the minimum of damage, but good rains will be necessary in most countries.

No. 1 Manitoba wheat F. O. B. New York for nearby shipment is quoted at 11 ¼c over Winnipeg May, says Broomhall. No. 2 is 9½c over, No. 3 is 7¼c over and No. 5 is 3½c under. Seaboard today said there was a good demand for No. 3, 4 and 5.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, March 27. (AP)—A fair amount of inquiries is being received on foreign wools. Sizeable orders have been booked on Australian 64s 70 wools for import. Brokers are able to buy small quantities in the primary market against these orders. Small orders are being received for South American cross bred wools for import but little has been purchased against these orders because holders in the primary market do not appear interested in the prices offered.

'Flying Duchess' To Make Cape Town

LONDON, March 27. (INS)—England's 65-year-old "Flying Duchess," Mary Du Caurroy, is planning to fly from London to Cape Town, South Africa, a distance of 12,000 miles.

She expects to start within the next few weeks and will be accompanied by Capt. C. D. Barnard, a former ace of the royal air force.

If the flight is successful, it will be the second epochal air journey that this elderly woman has made. Last year she created a record by flying from London to India and back in seven and a half days.

Born the daughter of an English archdeacon, she married the Duke of Bedford.

At the age of 62 she took up flying and became so enthusiastic that a year later she set out on a long distance flight to India. This failed owing to mechanical trouble en route, but the attempt brought her the neckname of the "Flying Duchess."

JURY AWARDS YOUTH $15,000

Boy Given Damages For Death of Mother

Damages amounting to $15,000 were awarded by a jury in the 78th district court Thursday afternoon to J. D. Greathouse, 7, at the completion of the trial of the suit brought in his behalf against the Fort Worth and Denver railway on a claim for $27,250 damages growing out of the death of Mrs. Thomas Greathouse, his mother who was killed in a crossing accident at Iowa Park in November, 1928. The youth was represented by E. W. Napier, local attorney.

The jury received the case Wednesday afternoon and after more than 24 hours reported to Judge W. W. Cook Thursday afternoon they probably could not reach a verdict. They were ordered to continue their deliberation and the verdict was announced shortly before time for court adjournment. H. L. Hunter, guardian for the youth, brought the suit. Attorneys for the railway stated they would file a motion for a new trial.

The jury report Thursday invalidated a settlement for $1,500 previously made with Mrs. Lizzie Greathouse, grandmother of the youth, by agents for the railway. It was the second time within two weeks, a jury in district court here held the Fort Worth and Denver railway negligent for allowing a train to pass through Iowa Park at the rate of 50 miles per hour. A jury in the 89th district court last week made a like report in the trial of the suit brought by dependents of Mrs. Avo Davis, who was killed in a crash at the Iowa Park crossing. The crash in which Mrs. Davis was killed also claimed the life of J. J. Cobb and that in which Mrs. Greathouse was killed also claimed the lives of Lee Haggleseine and Raymond Parton, 14.

Rotarians Hear Talk By Chicago Member

Wichita Falls Rotarians were given intimate glimpses of the private and professional life of Paul Harris, founder and president emeritus of Rotary International, when Hubert Bebb of Chicago, law partner of Mr. Harris, spoke at the weekly luncheon of the local Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

Mr. Bebb is junior member of the firm of Harris, Rhinehart & Bebb, and is a brother of Edwin A. and Kenneth Bebb of this city. He has been in Wichita Falls several days on a visit with relatives.

R. E. Shepherd led the membership in a singsong Thursday, and Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, president, welcomed the guests. Fred Couper introduced Robert A. Wolf as a new member.

Damages of $22,540 Asked in Woman's Suit

Damages aggregating $22,540 are asked in a suit brought Thursday against Mike Levine by Mrs. Clara Trammell, who claims she was permanently injured through the alleged severe language of Levine last month when he demanded rent on the house which she and her husband were occupying.

Her petition alleges Levine talked to her on two occasions, the last of which resulted in a complete nervous breakdown and physical injuries from which she will not recover. At that time Mr. Trammell was in Oklahoma City where he had not yet received his first pay check with which to pay the rent, the petition states.

STRAND: "Vagabond King," with Dennis King, Jeanette McDonald, Warner Oland, O. P. Heggie and Lillian Roth. Dimming all other screen suns. Sound news.

MAJESTIC: "Loose Ankles," with Doug Fairbanks Jr., Loretta Young and more important comediennes. "Summer Time," novelty. Sound news.

STATE: "Hell's Heroes," with Charles Bickford, Raymond Hatton and Fred Kohler. Big, strong prospectors who finally hit. Comedy. Sound news.

GEM: Tom Tyler in "The Phantom Rider." "Her Gift Night," comedy. Chapter 2 of "Final Reckoning."

One who recently had seen "Vagabond King" with Dennis King and Jeanette McDonald was asked to appraise it. To his questioner he replied: "You have seen the Grand Canyon of the Arizona? Can you describe it?" Which succinctly ranks the gorgeous production which opened at the Strand Thursday night among musical creations for the sound screen. To enjoy a marked superiority over others of its kind implies extraordinary qualities in a picture now; for to say the least, the technique of play reproduction through color and sound photography has improved so rapidly, yet so gradually, during the past two years that the change has been generally unnoticed.

This dashing young Englishman, tall, fair-haired, blue-eyed and of imposing physique elevates the rogue Francois Villon to an heroic and lovable idol of Paris during the latter years of Louis XI—15th century. Dennis King's magnificent voice is not his only charm; he has a bearing suggestive of John Barrymore, with dramatic finesse equally authentic. Virility is the essence of his action, tenderness the sum of his love-making, and vibrant feeling the soul of his voice. His genius is spirit-brother to those of Rupert Brooke and Joyce Kilmer who, like Dennis King, plunged into the war in France 16 years ago, but who lie in battlefield graves today while the romantic brilliance of King returned to "the pleasant habits of life."

The play constructed for Dennis King and Jeanette McDonald musically is a masterpiece among those thus far cinematized, for its score was supplied by Rudolph Friml—one of the brighest lights on the current musical horizon. It is not entirely natural—mob scenes and tavern filth in strictest reality hardly can be reproduced,—and who would demand it? But its story is sufficiently authentic so far as the Paris of Louis XI is concerned to lend surprising reality to the extravagant sets. The staging is magnificently done, and new perfection in techni-color photography is a noticeable feature. "Vagabond King" eclipses any other musical picture production thus far seen here.

"Loose Ankles" at the Majestic through Friday; of which title they ask here and there, "What does it mean, and why?" To which any well-bred European could readily answer, with authority, that titles really don't mean what they once did. Even so is it in the talkie world. In this case, however, the title fits naturally. The title has no sense. So has the picture; admirably so. Even the naming of two young stars for bally-hoo purposes didn't mean anything, for Douglas Jr. and Loretta Young really have little to do with the picture. They personify the two nice looking brackets on which is spun the hilarious comedy of Louise Fazenda, Ethel Wales and Eddie Nugent.

"Loose Ankles" follows as a light and harmless chaser to the groggy dramatic content of "Street of Chance." It carries the resourceful Louise to heretofore unequaled extremes of burlesque—there are a few moments of slapstick. All this represents "Aunt Sarah's" surrender to the punch served in a whoopee parlor—the get-up for the role being just what the name "Aunt Sarah" implies. Incidentally, the background supplies an interesting set, and a brief injection of acceptable dancing. The picture is constructed entirely for the foolish giggling mood, and fits the pattern almost too perfectly.
