Demos' Confusion Is Blamed On FDR

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Senator Johnson (D-Col) declared tonight that President Roosevelt, while keeping silent on the third-term issue, had "harpooned and torpedoed" other potential presidential candidates until the Democratic party was "floundering in confusion."

The Coloradan, who is supporting Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) of Montana for the Democratic nomination, added in a statement:

To Go Through

"If the president intends to go through with it and accept the nomination, no one can well complain because smart politics are played in that cold-blooded way; but if at the eleventh hour he should abandon the scuttled Democratic ship, he must accept the responsibility for the disaster which is so obviously and relentlessly bearing down upon her."

Johnson said that the president "is certain to be nominated for a third term unless he positively refuses to accept the office." The "practical, hard-boiled politicians," he added, want the president to run "for the simple reason that he can win."

Favors Third Term

During the day, another Westerner, Senator Schwartz (D-Wyo) declared he favored a third term for the president.

Schwartz, previously silent on the third term issue, told reporters that "in view of conditions throughout the world, I think it highly advisable that the president remain at the helm."

The Wyoming senator made plain his belief, however, that there were other candidates fitted for the presidency who could be called on if Mr. Roosevelt refused to run again.

In Boston, meanwhile, former Governor James M. Curley, one of Mr. Roosevelt's earliest supporters in Massachusetts, declared his support for the presidential candidacy of James A. Farley.

Has Confidence

Curley asserted that Farley, more than any other individual, enjoyed the confidence of Democrats.

The round of political speech-making this weekend included a declaration by Senator Lucas (D-Ill) that Thomas E. Dewey has become "the number one rabble-rouser of the nation."

Speaking before a Philadelphia Young Democrats' meeting, Lucas recalled Dewey's recent charge that

Hunt For Killer Leads Officers Up Blind Alley

BY FRANKLIN BANKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 30. Criminologists investigating the baffling three-day-old sex-fiend murder of chubby Rachel Taylor, 17-year-old co-ed, admitted tonight their exhausting work had led them nowhere but up a blind alley.

Announcing that a suspect who had been questioned for two days had been "definitely eliminated" from the puzzling case, Commissioner Lynn G. Adams of the state motor police declared:

"We are just as much in a fog as ever."

Body Is Found

He said the suspect, who had been nabbed in Philadelphia on the tip of a negro porter, and whisked 200 miles to this excited college community would be taken before a justice of the peace and formally released. This was necessary, the commissioner explained, because the man had been held on a charge of "suspicion of felony."

Miss Taylor, 120-pound, athletic and blonde freshman at the Pennsylvania state college, was slain early Thursday. Her nearly nude body, battered, bruised and mistreated, was found several hours later in the driveway of a nearby public school. Her head had been beaten, possibly with a hammer. Coroner Charles Schechler said the best professional opinion was she had not been criminally assaulted.

Letter Carriers Meet Here Saturday Night

Officials of the Texas and National Letter Carriers associations were speakers Saturday night at a banquet of West Texas carriers in Lubbock hotel.

E. E. Smith of Colorado, president of Texas RLCA, and W. L. Fletcher, jr., of Hamlin, treasurer of the national organization, each spoke briefly. W. C. Hoevet, postal inspector of the Lubbock office, also discussed problems and their correction of the service.

More than 100 persons attended. W. C. Foote of Petersburg was toastmaster.

Other numbers on the program were: tap dance, Jane Powell of Slaton; talk, A. Geue of Austin; reading, Mrs. A. O. Conley of Tahoka; and music, Nina Maud Potts of Lubbock.

Speech Tip Given For Political Aspirants

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP)—This tip for presidential prospects came today from the eastern public speaking conference:

A man who talks with a Midwestern "general American" accent is likely to have a larger voice-appeal than an Easterner or Southerner.

Walter Wilke of New York university said that a survey he made with Joseph Snyder, also of NYU, showed that audiences had a "considerably greater" preference for the Mid-West pronunciation.

"It is," he said, "by far the most widespread type of speech. There are 9 or 10 general American speakers for every one New Englander and every two or three Southerners."

The survey method he used was to record about 50 speech samples and play them to audiences which were asked to state their preferences.

Woman Is Found Dead Saturday

Mrs. L. E. Stotts, 40, of the Shallowater highway died unexpectedly early Saturday morning of a heart attack.

A physician who had attended Mrs. Stotts late Friday night said she had suffered a chronic ailment three years and had complained of pain three days. She apparently died about 4 o'clock. The body was found in bed at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Stotts, the former Mrs. Beryl Quillen, and L. E. Stotts were married March 11. She was a member of the Baptist church. She first moved to Lubbock in 1902 with her family from her birthplace in Versailles, Mo.

Funeral services will be read by Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Christian church, at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Rix chapel. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Surviving are a son, John Louis Quillen, 4; a daughter, Martha Louise Quillen, 2; the husband and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Dale Buckner of 2304 Fifteenth street, Mrs. Lorenzo Wirt of Canyon and Mrs. Cas Jennings of Canyon.

Bearers will be Byron Dickinson, Dr. Marshall Harvey, Don Jones, Asa May, Dr. R. P. Reeds, B. E. Reeves, Claude Roberts and Vanroe Howard.

Rogers' Famous Home Is Sold At Auction

ROGERS, Ark., March 30 (AP) — Rogers' famous Blake home — the big two-story residence in which young Betty Blake was married to Will Rogers, the famous American humorist, 32 years ago—was sold at court auction today to satisfy a mortgage.

The property was bought by the mortgage-holder, the American National bank of Rogers, for $3,052.46 to satisfy a judgment of $3,007.95 plus court costs.

Garner Forces In California Launch Drive

Leader Of Backers Of FDR Says "Hell With" Cactus Jack

(By The Associated Press)

FRESNO, Calif., March 30.—California's "Garner-for-president" forces officially launched their campaign here today while the state's lieutenant-governor, as head and spokesman for another Democratic party faction declared: "To hell with Garner."

"He ought to be over with the Republicans," addad Lieutenant Governor Ellis E. Patterson, whose faction also bolted from the Roosevelt "harmony" slate.

Olson For FDR

The Garner backers, who hoped to win the state's delegation to the Democratic national convention at the presidential primary May 7, were told that President Roosevelt "does not want to be and will not be" a candidate for a third term.

Governor Culbert L. Olson heads the Roosevelt slate.

Another slate of "ham and egg" pension supporters also was seeking a place on the ballot.

The opinion on President Roosevelt's third-term attitude was expressed by W. R. Wallace, jr., co-chairman of the campaign. He said it was based on confidential information he had obtained from political leaders in Washington and New York.

Platform Outlined

Patterson, the nominal candidate of his slate, declared the faction was outlining a platform at today's meeting and would present it to a state convention here in about a week.

"Then," he added, "we will support the candidate at the national convention who will support the platform. It may be Roosevelt. We don't know. We are not for or against any one now—except Garner."

Patterson was expected to appeal to a meeting of labor's non-partisan league executive committee at a meeting here tomorrow for support of his program.

Two Contenders

Wallace told the Garner meeting that the only other Democratic candidates "seriously" in the race were Attorney General Robert Jackson and Justice William Douglas of the Supreme court. "Neither," he added, "can be built up enough to carry the party to victory."

State Senator Peter Myhand of Merced, chairman of the meeting, said Garner, if elected, would "surround himself with the sound minds of business men."

Finnish Minister Is Wed, Leaves On Trip

FAIRFAX, Va., March 30 (AP) — Rjalmar Procope, the Finnish minister, was married today in a quiet home ceremony to Miss Margaret Shaw, daughter of Mrs. James Edward Shaw of Burn Hall Sutton-on-the-Forest, Yorkshire, England.

Immediately after the wedding, the minister and Madame Procope departed for a wedding trip in the south.

Four Burned To Death In Oil Well Explosion

(By The Associated Press)

CENTRALIA, Ill. March 30.—Four men were killed and four other persons were burned seriously today in the worst oil well explosion and fire in the three years of the current Illinois boom.

Seared when a pocket of escaping gas ignited and exploded at the well west of Centralia, the dead were John Smith, about 19 years old, and Dave Hardin, both of Hominy, Okla.; Charles Underwood, 54, of Drumwright, Okla.; and D. E. (Red) Bevan, of Tulsa, all oil workers.

They died in a hospital a few hours after the gas, exploding in "one big sheet of flame," set fire to the well and a house.

Woman Saves Six

The others burned in the sudden intense flash of the explosion were Joe Butrick, of Hominy, and Carl Lycette of Avant, Okla., also oil workers, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stow, formerly of Kilgore, Tex.

Butrick had been employed only this morning at the well, which was being completed in the backyard of the house occupied by the Stows and two other families.

Mrs. Stow saved six persons from injury. Familiar with oil wells, she realized the danger of an explosion when she smelled the escaping gas. Running upstairs, she warned the other families in the house, enabling them to escape.

Before Mrs. Stow and her husband could reach the front door, the explosion occurred and flames enveloped the building. Mrs. Stow's stockings were burned from her legs and her jacket caught fire.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McKee of 910 Avenue X on birth of a daughter weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces at 7:35 o'clock Saturday morning in West Texas hospital. McKee is employed by Clowe and Cowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moseley of Slaton highway on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 11 ounces at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night in St. Mary of the Plains hospital. The father is a salesman.

Hijacking And Shooting Are Reported Saturday Night

Police investigation Saturday night was enlivened by a shooting-cutting family scrape in the Flats after earlier being asked to probe a hijacking near Idalou.

F. B. Whitworth of Azle, Tarrant county, told police Saturday morning he had been robbed of $17 by three men who stopped him three miles west of Idalou.

He said two of the men alighted from the car and rifled his pockets at gun point. The third man remained in the machine.

Dressed In Khaki

Whitworth described two of the men as about 24 years old; one 6 feet tall, the other 5 feet 6 inches. Both were dressed in khaki, he said. He was unable to give a description of the third.

A 45-year-old negro man sought to avenge lacerations of the arm and leg suffered at the hands of his wife, about 28, about 3 o'clock. He unloosed two shots from a .41 caliber rifle through a door the woman was holding.

One of the bullets passed through her body near the shoulder. She was sent home after receiving emergency treatment at Lubbock santiarium.

The husband surrendered at police headquarters and was

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

POST, March 30. — A jury in 106th district court tonight found Drew Enloe, 22, guilty of murder and set his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. Deliberation was brief.

Enloe was charged in the fatal shooting last Nov. 11 of Clen Browning, 29, farmer of the Grassland community in Lynn county. The victim died early the next morning in a sanitarium at Lubbock as the result of hemorrhaging of a wound through both thighs.

Brother Got 8

L. A. Enloe, 23, brother of the convicted man, was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary as an accessory to murder early this month in Tahoka. Judge Louis B. Reed presided in both cases.

The Drew Enloe case was transferred here when it appeared a jury could not be selected at Tahoka. The trial opened Monday. Arguments were completed and the case was handed the jury at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

L. Collingsworth, Southland farmer and ginner, was jury foreman. A verdict was reached about 8 o'clock.

Enloe, formerly of North Carolina, was arrested early the morning

Flood Conditions In California Critical

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP) "The situation is critical"—that was the way a federal meteorologist described flood conditions in the Sacramento valley tonight after a week of pouring rain caused creeks and rivers to run brimful.

"Because of almost record rainfall," said Meteorologist E. H. Fletcher, "a flood of major proportions is rapidly developing on the Sacramento, Feather and American rivers."

The new menace followed by a month of devastating flood that inundated many thousands of acres in northern California, forced 6,000 persons from their homes, and caused damage estimated by state officials at $15,000,000. Nine persons lost their lives in the February flood.

Kennedy, Bullitt Are Accused By German Officers

No Need To Try To Prove Alibis, Says Official Speaker

BY LOUIS P. NOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, March 30—German officialdom, 24 hours after unleashing a diplomatic blitzkrieg of 16 documents about alleged United States pre-war diplomacy, leaned back tonight in gleeful contemplation and promised even more explosive sensations "soon."

"Nobody need try to prove an alibi to the effect he was misunderstood, or that he was misquoted by Polish envoys," said one official, speaking of the documents to come.

No Commitments

Spokesmen would not commit themselves as to precisely what statesmen would be named in the forthcoming release, although one hinted that the German government is in possession of direct communications by the United States ambassador to Paris, William C. Bullitt.

Yesterday's white book, made up of 16 documents said to have been taken as spoils of conquest from the vaults of the Warsaw foreign office, purported to quote Bullitt and U. S. ambassador to London Joseph P. Kennedy at length, the quotes being attributed to diplomatic reports of Polish diplomats in Washington, Paris and London, made late 1938 and the first half of 1

Is "Cheap Wine"

They ascribed to Bullitt the conviction that America would "finish the war on the side of the Allies;" to Kennedy a promise to put pressure on the British to lend money to Poland. President Roosevelt, by indirection, was declared to have fostered an American war psychosis in order to help the Allies in the coming conflict, and to have charged Bullitt to stop any further British attempts at appeasement.

(These reports were wholly denied by official Washington).

Nevertheless, German officials expressed themselves today as completely satisfied with the effects of their surprise move, and let everyone know that, compared to the vintage material that is in the offing, yesterday's white book was "cheap wine."

Recognition Of New Set-Up In China Asked

By CLARK LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NANKING, March 30 — Wang Ching-Wei and his Japanese sponsors made a bid for international recognition of his regime inaugurated here today by declaring respect for the rights and interests of "friendly" nations and an intention to reopen China's "open door" to the peaceful economic activity of powers who "conform to the new situation in East Asia."

In his declaration announcing formal establishment of the Japanese backed regime with himself as provisional president and premier, Wang said his aims included international cooperation against communism and promotion of foreign friendship.

Instructions Given

He declared his Nanking regime to be the only legal government of China and warned foreign powers against interfering with China's internal affairs by continuing active support of Chiang Kai-Shek's Chungking government, which Wang termed "a regional refuge regime."

The Chinese government at Chungking took note of Wang's inauguration by instructing Chinese diplomats abroad to present to the governments to which they are accredited formal denunciations of the Nanking regime.

P. B. (Barrett) Penney Seeks Re-Election To Commissionership Of Precinct No. 1

P. B. (Barrett) Penney, commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Lubbock county, Saturday issued formal statement of his candidacy for re-election as follows:

"In support of my announcement for re-election as county commissioner of Precinct No. 1 of Lubbock county, I promise, if elected again, the same impartial, courteous service in the future that I have given in the past.

"Your commissioners court handles the business end of the county's business and a commissioner supervises the maintenance of the roads in his precinct and constructs any new roads, except designated highways, that need building. It is no little job and the best interest of the people demands the services of a person who is well acquainted with the work generally and all of its details, and who will protect the best interest of the people at all times.

"I appreciate the votes I have received before and the co-operation the people have given me as your servant in the past, and, if you think I am in a position to render efficient service in the future, I will appreciate the vote and influence of every woman and man in Precinct No. 1. I feel that I am in a position because of my acquaintance with the work and my service in the past to do even better in the future than I have in the past.

"I plan to see every voter if possible, yet it will be for your best interest that I stay on the job and give only my spare time to soliciting votes for re-election; in case I do not get to see every voter, I earnestly urge you to accept my request here and now to consider my candidacy and vote for me if you believe your interest will be best served by doing so."

Two New Locations Staked In Hockley; New Major Pool In Crockett County Seen

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

Oil developments this week in Hockley county, sharing with Cochran the distinction of being the most northerly producing county in the West Texas Permian Basin, were topped by the staking of two locations.

The outstanding development in the entire region was the indicated opening by Continental Oil Co., and others' No. 2-B J. S. Todd estate of a major pool in north central Crockett county. The central part of the North Cowden field in Ector county was broadened a quarter mile east and a one mile south by southeast extension to the same pool obtained more pay in deepening.

Ets Starts Another Test

George Ets of Lubbock started No. 2-A J. T. Caddell 1,680 feet north of his No. 1-A Caddell, three-quarter mile northwest outpost to the Slaughter pool in southwestern Hockley county, and 440 feet out of the northeast corner of labor 31, league 59, Maverick county school land. No. 1-A Caddell, which encountered saturated lime from 4,842-52 feet and cemented 7-inch casing at 4,874 feet, was still awaiting standard tools, bottomed at 4,862 feet.

Delta No. 1-B Slaughter, one mile northeast of Stanolind No. 2-B Slaughter, the nearest producer in the Slaughter field, had drilled past 5,109 feet in anhydrite and red shale. It is 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 56-40 Maverick.

Devonian No. 1 L. F. Hudgens, north offset to George P. Livermore No. 1 Glimp, link well between the Slaughter pool and the Duggan field in Cochran county, had passed 4,640 feet in lime. Livermore No. 1 M. E. Jacobson, three-quarters of a mile south and slightly east of Livermore No. 1 Glimp but in Terry county, in the northeast corner of section 6-D11 C&M, had drilled below 2,920 feet in anhydrite.

North Offset Started

Tide Water No. 1 Oran Buckner, wildcat on the south line of Terry county, in the southwest quarter of section 3-C37-psl, drilled to 3,020 feet in anhydrite and cemented 8 5-8 inch casing at 3,017 feet. It drilled plugs in mid-week and drilled ahead.

The Texas Co. started No. 1-E Mallett, a long north offset to Honolulu No. 2-A Mallet in the west part of the Slaughter field. The scheduled 6,50-foot rotary and cable tool test is 1,450 from the south, 1,338 feet from the west line of labor 24, league 59, Scurry county school land survey.

Obtains More Pay

Osage No. 1 Crain, most northeasterly producer in the Seminole pool in Gaines county, in section 16-G-WTRR, obtained more pay without striking water in deepening from 5,330 to 5,348 feet and was estimated good for 500 barrels daily before acidizing. Stanolind No. 1 Edith Johnson, southwest offset to the opener of the Cedar Lake pool, in the northeast corner of section 1-H-D&W, was completed at 4,750 feet, flowing and jetting 580 barrels of oil in 24 hours.

Western & Southern No. 1 R. W. Smith, indicated short east extension to the North Cowden pool, in the northwest corner of section 6-42-2s-T&P, filled 300 feet with oil while drilling to 4,425 feet, was shot and was cleaning out. Rhodes, Tompkins and Richmond No. 1 Johnson, recent one mile south by southeast extension to the same field, in the northwest corner of section 25-43-1s-T&P, obtained more pay in deepening from 4,145 to 4,187 1-2 feet and was testing after being acidized. Cities Service staked a north offset.

Completed On Pump

Landreth No. 2-ATP Land Trust, 1-2 mile southeast extension of the Holt deep Permian lime production, in the northwest corner of section 2-43-1s-T&P, was completed on the pump at 5,196 feet for 51 barrels of oil daily with 42.30 barrels of water. M. A. Grisham and others' No. 1 R. B. Cowden, wildcat northwest of the Goldsmith field, in the northeast corner of section 4-45-1n-T&P, recovered finely porous lime stained with oil in coring to 5,727 feet and cared ahead.

Forest Development Corp. prepared to spud No. 1 Paul Moss 1 1-2 miles south of the Foster pool and one mile east of the Addis field, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 37-42-2s-T&P. Great Western Producers staked No. 1 Johnson, one-half mile south outpost to the Foster pool, 330 feet out of the northwest corner of section 31-42-2s-T&P. Richmond and Hunter No. 1 Uni-

ASKS RE-ELECTION AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY: Burton S. Burks, above, district attorney of the 72nd district composed of Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran and Crosby counties, Saturday issued a formal statement to the voters of the district as follows: "With grateful appreciation for your past support and cooperation, I kindly solicit your vote in the coming primary election. I thank you.

Salute To Lubbock Planned Over Air

Feature of the 266th Employers Casualty company broadcast at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon will be a salute to Lubbock over the Texas Quality network and KGNC, Amarillo.

Musical numbers on the program will include "Castle of Dreams" and "I'll Be With You in Apple Blossom Time" played by the orchestra, and "Ciribiribin," "Lonesome Road" and "The Starlit Hour" sung by the quartet. The company recently opened a branch office in Lubbock in charge of W. A. Black.

versity, southwestern Andrews county wildcat, in the northeast corner of section 21-11-P, shutdown for orders at 5,402 feet in lime, two feet past contract depth.

Continental and others' No. 2-B Todd estate in Crockett county was hailed as the most promising strike in the south part of the Permian Basin since opening of the Yates field in Pecos county in October, 1926, when it flowed 350 barrels of 40.6 corrected gravity oil in three hours with total depth 5,691 1-2 feet, with 2-inch tubing set at 5,677 feet but clogged. Casing pressure both at the beginning and at the close of the three-hour gauge was 40 pounds.

Gauges 87 Barrels Hourly

When the tubing was cleared the well gauged 87 barrels of oil in one hour through a one-quarter inch choke on 2-inch tubing. The pressure was 900 pounds at the start of the gauge, dropped in 15 minutes to 320 pounds and remained at that figure during the rest of the test. Only two 210-barrel storage tanks were available and the well was shut in. Production is mainly, if not entirely, from the crinoidal section of the Strawn, lower Pennsylvania, lime topped high at 5,590 feet, 3,115 feet below sea level, the Simpson, middle Ordovician, only having been reached at 5,690 feet and entered 1 1-2 feet. No Strawn production is magnitude heretofore has been found in the basin, although wells in the Page field in Schleicher county to the east produce from that formation.

The Crockett discovery is 1,980 from the south, 2,010 feet from the west line of section 29-WX-CC&SF, 15 miles northwest of Ozona and the same distance southeast of the World Permian lime field. Three other nearby deep tests were failures. The 4,480-acre block is enclosed by pipe lines and an early outlet was expected. An 1,170-foot east offset, No. 3-B Todd, was scheduled to spud late in the week. Continental Oil Co. owns a 61.58 per cent interest in the well and unit block, Stanolind 25.18 per cent, Superior of California, 4.50 per cent, Standard of Texas 2.50 per cent, Phillips Petroleum 2 per cent, Smith & Ruby 1.81 per cent, Cities Service 1 pe rcent, L. W. Wickes .60 per cent, Texas-Gulf Production .50 per cent and Hanson, Choate & McDonald .33 per cent.

Turkey Agrees To Permit Allies Access To Dardanelles; Blockade Stronger

...eport Of Move Unconfirmed

By ROBERT P. PARKER, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUCHAREST, March 30.—Turkey ...represented in usually well-in...ed diplomatic quarters tonight ...agreed to permit passage ...British and French warships ...ough the Dardanelles to choke off ...many's supply line from Russia ...the Black sea.

...he newspaper Le Moment, re...ed as close to the French em...ssy here, reported moreover, that ...ey had agreed to place her ...n bases at Trebizond, Samsun ...Sinope at the Allies' disposal for ...ure contraband control bases.

No Knowledge Of It

...fficial circles in London pro...ed no knowledge of the proposed ...ement with Turkey. It was ...however, that if it is true, it ...ld be a strong boost to the Allied ...matic offensive in the Balkans ...an important aid to tightening ...Allied blockade of Germany.)

...ervers here reported the ...ish decision was reached at a ...ish - French - Turkish military ...ference a few days ago at Allepo, ...ough such action is contrary to ...Montreux convention of 1936 to ...h Turkey was a party.

...he convention stipulated that ...Dardanelles would be closed to ...ships of belligerent nations ex...t when they were serving under ...ue of Nations mandate or help...a victim of aggression under a ...ual assistance pact concluded ...in the framework of the league, ...ch Turkey was a party.

Green Light Given

...ay for Turkey to get around ...however, was explained by ...ory Petkoff Stainoff of the for...affairs committee of the Bul...an Chamber of Deputies, who ...the Sofia newspaper Slovo that ...key would "let herself be forced ...ove to prevent British warships ...m crossing the strategic Dardan...les."

...e Black sea nation, Bulgaria is ...ely interested in this possibility. ...Turkey might satisfy formalities, ...he persons indicated, by voiding a ...ver against passage of the Al...warships and having this pro...ly filed in the archives of ...League of Nations."

...Parliament stated flatly that Tur...would give the green light to the ...ed warships "so that these ships ...control the traffic of war sup...s from Russian ports to Ger...."

To Respect Contract

...If the Black sea blockade becomes ...ive, diplomats here predicted, ...ll non-German trade will be ...riously respected.

...Foreign premier-Foreign Minister ...ef's reiteration yesterday of ...key's non-belligerency was re...ed in some quarters here as a ...ing sign for any Allied block...in the Black sea.

...In the event Russia remains out ...the European war, which Molotoff ...ested she will do, the Allies ...ld be free from the danger of at...k from Black sea coasts, unless ...ssia herself pushes through ...the Balkans. In that case, the ...ed French armies assembled in ...the Near East, estimated as high as ...,000 men, can start operations.

...The opinion of several southeastern ...ean foreign diplomats was ...ed up by Deputy Stainoff when ...he told Slovo:

..."The war probably will be decided ...in the Black sea area. Oil is vital, ...war without it. Germany can not ...continue fighting. Germany gets all ...her oil from Rumania and Russia ...and all the Russian oil is shipped ...across the Black sea. If a Black sea ...blockade can be made effective, ...France and Britain will win the ...war."

Candidacy For Constable, Precinct 1, Is Announced Formally By L. W. Bell Saturday

L. W. Bell, candidate for constable, Precinct 1, Saturday authorized the Avalanche-Journal to publish the following formal statement of his candidacy:

"In announcing my candidacy for the office of constable, I do so, realizing the responsibility connected with that office.

Due to the fact that a constable of Lubbock will be called upon to face many problems of various nature it should necessarily follow that he should meet some very definite qualifications as to his own personal fitness for the position.

Should Render Service

"The duties of any peace officer are very definite. To keep peace and protect the property and life of citizens. To do this one must have some knowledge of peace officer work, either gathered from experience or by study, preferably both. He should posses a willingness to be of service under any conditions, whether his mission be a dangerous one, or a disagreeable one. Regardless of time, weather or any other cause, his only concern should be to render service.

"To be an efficient peace officer one should be prepared to respect the rights of others, extending to all people their privileges guaranteed them by constitutional rights.

"One must be active physically to better enable him to meet the strenuous problems of working long hours under any conditions and being able to answer calls for assistance to the general public at all times.

"I am 32 years old, graduated from Lubbock High school in 1928. For two and one-half years I have been employed as a special officer for a group of merchants on downtown Broadway.

"I have always taken an interest in my work, taking advantage of every opportunity to gain knowledge that would add to my efficiency as a peace officer. I have acquainted myself with laws dealing with legal rights, of others with whom I might be called upon in the capacity of an officer.

"In order that I might be of better service to my employers and the citizenry of Lubbock. I attended school here conducted by the instructors of the F.B.I., the nations most well trained organization of peace officers. I feel that I received a great amount of knowledge of the problems of the present day peace officers and how best to deal with them and of methods of handling crime problems as have been proven by the best trained officers in the United States today.

"If the people of Lubbock should see fit to elect me to the constable office, I sincerely promise to render them the most efficient serive of which I am capable."

Denison Paper Sold By San Angelo Man

DENISON, March 30. (AP)—J. Lee Greer, publisher of the Denison Herald, today sold the paper he has been associated with for 27 years to Millard Cope, of San Angelo, and associates.

Mr. Greer, formerly with the Dallas Times-Herald, came to Denison in 1913 and worked in the business office as bookkeeper. He had been publisher more than 25 years.

Mr. Cope was publisher of the Sweetwater Reporter for seven years before becoming editor of the San Angelo Standard-Times four years ago. Associated with him in the Herald now are Pat Mayse of the Paris News; Fred Conn of the Marshall News-Messenger; Bernard Hanks of the Abilene Reporter-News, and Houston Harte of the San Angelo Standard-Times.

Student Who Drowned Mother Transferred

DALLAS, March 30. (U.P.)—Arnold Benson, 21, former University of Texas student who drowned his mother in the Trinity river after going for a walk with her a week ago last Sunday, was taken to the state hospital at Terrell today.

Psychiatrists agreed that Benson is a hopeless victim of dementia praecox.

The youth had been under treatment at a private sanitarium, and drowned his mother, Mrs. Albert Deaver, after she had taken him home for a visit.

Farley To Get Big Welcome

MARSHALL, March 30. (AP)—A welcoming motorcade of 100 automobiles will meet Postmaster General James A. Farley next week when he arrives here for the annual convention of Texas postmasters.

B. C. McElroy, Marshall postmaster and president of the association, said Farley would arrive here by motor car from Longview shortly before noon Friday.

To Provide Escort

The motorcade, supplemented by a detail of state highway patrolmen and local police, will escort him into Marshall.

He will be guest of the postmasters at a noon luncheon, and will deliver his address at the city hall auditorium, to postmasters and the public, at 2:30 p. m. The speech will be broadcast over a national radio network.

Leaving Marshall, at the conclusion of his speech, Farley will be escorted to the Louisiana state line by a delegation headed by Myron G. Blalock and Burris C. Jackson. He will then proceed to Shreveport under escort of Louisiana motor patrolmen.

Morethan a thousand Texas postmasters and their wives are expected to attend the convention, which opens Thursday morning. Smith W. Purdum, fourth assistant postmaster general, a former resident of Texas;

Winnie Coleman Announces As Candidate For Treasurer; Has Served As Constable

* * *

WINNIE COLEMAN

Winnie Coleman Saturday made formal announcement of candidacy for the office of county treasurer, subject to Democratic primaries.

"I am taking this opportunity of soliciting your votes and support," she said.

Serving As Constable

"Since Feb. 15, 1937, I have been serving as constable. Since my appointment and later my election to this office, I have tried to fulfill all requirements of a peace officer to the best of my ability. From such experience, I believe I am qualified to render efficient service in the office of county treasurer.

"Th management of our home is my responsibility. My family consists of eight. Two girls and two boys are attending the public schools of this city. I will express my thanks and gratitude to friends and citizens for their making it possible for me to support my family, since the passing of my father three years ago.

"If elected to county treasurer, I will pledge faithful services."

C. J. Taylor, superintendent of railway mail service, of Fort Worth, Mayor Louis Kariel of Marshall, President S. E. Wood, jr., of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce and Fred Massengill, postmaster at Terrell, are speakers on the opening program.

East Texas Family Holds Teaching Record

LONGVIEW, March 30 (AP)—Miss Ethel Kaderli, teacher of English and speech in the Longview senior high school, believes her family holds something of a school-teaching record in Texas.

Her father, N. Kaderli, recently resigned as president of the Martin county school board after serving since its organization in 1915.

J. N. Kaderli, a brother, is superintendent of the Los Angeles Heights independent school district in San Antonio.

A. T. Kaderli, a third brother, teaches Spanish in the high school at Sugarland.

Mrs. R. C. Bostic, a sister, taught school five years before she was married.

A son-in-law and two daughters-in-law of the family were teachers.

NON-FREEZE FIRE

CRANE, Mo. (AP)—The fire of the week was reported at Crane. A seven-day-old pile of ashes suddenly came to life in weather that would have frozen the heart of anything else. It burned the straw-thatch anti-freeze covering from a nearby strawberry patch.

Churchill Sounds Another Stiff Warning To Neutrals

Intensification Of War Planned

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 30—Pugnacious Winston Churchill, Britain's first lord of the admiralty, coupled a new warning of intensification of the war tonight with the significant hint that Britain scarcely could be expected in the future "to take as a matter of course interpretations of neutrality which give all advantages to the aggressor."

The belligerent speech, broadcast to America and elsewhere, recalled the first lord's declaration of January 20 in which he called on Europe's anxious neutrals to join the Allies in "united action" to bring the war against Germany to a speedy end.

Relation Is Seen

It followed closely, too, upon continuing demands from various quarters in Great Britain for a more vigorous prosecution of the war and the disclosure that the Allied navies are determined to tighten their stranglehold on Germany by waylaying Scandinavian ore ships and by greater activity in the Pacific against shipments of raw materials from Mexico to Vladivostok, from where they can find their way to Germany.

Some quarters saw a distinct relation between Churchill's assertion that "time has been on our side but it is a changeable ally" with the treasury's annual statement showing a deficit of 767,685,000 pounds sterling (about $3,071,720,000) for the first fiscal year of the war.

Britain's expenditures for the fiscal year ending tonight totaled 1,816,873,000 pounds sterling (about $7,367,382,000) against revenues of 1,049,188,000 pounds sterling (about $4,196,852,000) despite a 35-per cent income tax and other heavy levies.

E. L. Corley Announces Candidacy Saturday For Commissionership Of Precinct Four

* * *

E. L. CORLEY

E. L. Corley Saturday authorized the Avalanche-Journal to announce his candidacy for the office of commissioner of Precinct 4, Lubbock county and issued the following statement:

"My work as general foreman under the late B. O. Whorter was rich in experience and I feel has fully qualified me to fill the office efficiently. I know it to be an important office and as such requires lots of work and experience. It is not a white collared office position but a real job.

"We spend enough money for good roads, why not have them. I know how and will give them to you.

Should Have Experience

"Did you ever work for wages and did you think if you could just step up in a little higher position, just what you would do? That is just what I am asking you to do for me. If you were going to hire a man to build a house, you would want first to know that he could build it right before you hired him. The same thing would happen if you were going to hire a man for any other job. You would want one with experience.

"For ten years I have done the hard labor on the roads of Precinct No. 4. I know every farm in this precinct and I know how the water runs around each farm, and whether you need the water turned on your farm or taken off. I am familiar with the workings of the courts having met with them hundreds of times in the past ten years.

"If you would elect me your commissioner you wont have to pay for the many mistakes that an inexperienced man would make. I promise to take care of the needs in Precinct No. 4. If elected I will place one machine in Arnett-Benson addition to take care of all roads coming in to Lubbock and one at Monroe to take care of Monroe and Abernathy roads. One at County Line and one at Shallowater to take care of their roads and one at Carlisle. I am also in favor of putting the small graders back on roads and letting the farmer take care of parts of roads."

Phone Service Is Improved

Construction of two new common battery telephone systems, at Tahoka and Levelland, is scheduled to be started within a short time by the Southwestern Associated Telephone company, according to R. B. Fairly, vice president and general manager.

The Tahoka plant will accommodate 800 telephone lines when completed. It will be housed in the company's present location.

To Remodel Building

At Levelland remodeling of the building will be made before the new plant is installed. Later it is expected some new circuits will be built from Lubbock, to accommodate increased toll line calls.

Dial systems are to be installed at Roaring Springs, Lorenzo, McAdoo, Sudan, Muleshoe and Amherst, among other places, during the year, said Fairly. Work has begun at Roaring Springs. At Muleshoe there will be a manual system operated for local calls; at other points operators will be used for toll calls.

Will Build More Circuits

Construction of a three-line circuit from Brownfield to Seagraves to handle increased toll line business is under way. Later more circuits will be built from Lubbock to Brownfield.

Increashed oil field business at Seagraves, Denver City and other towns is anticipated. Recently the company opened a new exchange in Seagraves.

Plains is expected to have a private exchange soon and it will be connected with the toll lines of the company. Recently a new owner took over the Denver City exchange and it has also increased its toll service connections.

J. W. (Big Jim) Robinson Is Candidate For Constable, Precinct 1, Lubbock County

J. W. (Big Jim) ROBINSON

J. W. (Big Jim) Robinson, veteran peace officer of Lubbock county, has announced his candidacy for constable of Precinct 1, Lubbock county, subject to the action of the Democratic voters in this year's primaries.

Robinson has been a resident of the county 37 years and is one of the most widely known men among the old timers of this area. He served as chief of police of Lubbock in 1922 and 1923 and was a patrolman on the force from 1934 to 1937. He was Lubbock county jailer from 1937 until June, 1939.

"I have always stood for law and order and justice," Robinson said, "and if elected constable will continue to do so. I promise the voters the best of my ability in fulfilling the duties of the office if they choose to favor me with their support in the election."

Robinson is noted for his fame as a barbecue man and on numerous occasions has presided over the barbecue events, the most notable of which was the barbecuing of 150 beeves for the Tech celebration here in 1924.

SIR JOHN GILMOUR

British Leader Dies Saturday

LONDON, March 30. (AP)—Sir John Gilmour, minister of shipping, died today.

Sir John, 63, had been prominent in the unionist (conservative) party for 20 years and had held various cabinet posts since 1926.

Death came unexpectedly at his home in London.

Came Under Fire

Sir John had been mentioned as among the cabinet members who might be replaced in a possible ministerial shake-up. In charge of the empire's far-flung shipping interests since October 13, 1939, he became under fire from shipowners as a result of his ruling, effective Feb. 1, requisitioning all shipping.

Sir John was appointed minister of agriculture under the national government in 1931. He was home secretary from 1932 to 1935.

He also was lord rector of Edinburgh university from 1926 to 1929 and lord high commissioner of the general assembly, church of Scotland, in 1938.

His death will necessitate a by-election in the Glascow district he had represented in the House of Commons since 1918. He was a member of parliament for 30 years, having represented another district from 1910 to 1918.

Crime in Italy is decreasing.

Group Issues Spacing Order

AUSTIN, March 30. (AP)—A permanent 10-acre spacing order for Panhandle district oil wells was issued by the Railroad Commission today.

The order adopted a production schedule based 50 per cent acreage up to 10 acres and 50 per cent on bottomhole pressure, effective in three months from April 15.

In the meantime, pending completion of bottomhole pressure tests for all wells in the field, production will be based 50 per cent on acreage and 50 per cent on potential, using potentials as of last January.

Commissioner Jerry Sadler who with Chairman Lon A. Smith signed the order said operators would be required to make bottomhole pressure tests of every well.

The order supercedes a temporary spacing regulation announced recently and was based on testimony taken at hearings in Amarillo and Austin.

Sadler said the permanent order would be submitted to Member Ernest O. Thompson when he returns from North Texas.

Nearly 6,000,000 farmers participate in the federal Agricultural Adjustment Administration program.

U. S. Policy Causes Her To Refuse To Recognize Many Foreign Governments

Stand Must Be Changed Soon

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30—Conquests and changing frontiers abroad are calling sharply to the attention of the United States officials an impasse created by the American doctrine of non-recognition of territory acquired through force.

The doctrine enunciated by Former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson is placing the United States in the position of refusing to recognize an ever expanding portion of the world's area. At this moment the populations of countries—or rather former countries—embraces within the doctrine total around 150,000,000 persons.

List Is Given

Manchukuo, 34,200,000 people.
Ethiopia, 7,600,000.
Albania, 1,003,124.
Poland, 32,347,300.
Czechoslovakia, 14,000,000.
China-under-Japan, 60,000,000.
Six countries, 149,141,347.

(Austria falls into a somewhat different category for two reasons: the absorption by German was voted in a plebiscite; this government was informed formally of the action by the Austrian government for diplomatic associations ended thereupon).

The latest statement of non-recognition is only a few months old. It was made by Secretary Hull in the case of the Russo-German partition of Poland.

Some officials believe this policy cannot go on indefinitely. A more realistic way out will have to be found, they think. An Allied victory, by restoring the independence of several nations, would be a partial answer to their problem but they cannot be sure of an Allied victory. A German victory undermining the independence of the Balkan nations would render the problem more acute.

The United States is the only large nation which has consistently stood by the doctrine of non-recognition.

County Judge J. J. Dillard Issues Formal Statement On Candidacy For Re-Election

County Judge J. J. Dillard Saturday issued a formal statement on his candidacy for re-election. It follows:

"The many duties incumbent upon me as your county judge, I'm emphasizing the fact that it is a physical impossibility to meet all of the voters of Lubbock county and personally solicit their vote and influence for re-election to the office of County Judge without injury to the duties of this important office; therefore, I am making this announcement.

Here Since 1896

"I have resided in Lubbock county since 1896. I am married, have a wife and mother-in-law to support. My mother-in-law is totally blind, 91 years old and an invalid. I need the salary of the office to support my family as well as the high privilege of rendering a greater service to our county.

"I taught school in Lubbock county in its early days. I established the Lubbock Avalanche on May 4, 1900, and published it for eight years. I was in active practice of law for many years and had an average degree of success. I participated in much important litigation in the early development of Lubbock county.

Former State Representative

"You honored me by electing me as your State Representative in 1910 and I served in the 32nd Legislature. I introduced many bills of importance affecting this section of the state. I was co-author of the suspended sentence law, also co-author of the Rural School Aid bill, which became a law during my term of office, and it is the law today. I introduced the bill that created the present 72nd District court, and was co-author of the bill to create the 7th Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, and assisted in much other legislation for the benefit of West Texas. Perhaps the most beneficial law passed during my tenure of office was the establishment of the State Experimental Farm at Lubbock. I also introduced a bill to establish and locate an Agricultural and Mechanical college in my district. The bill was defeated because I stood alone in my fight, but the question of the college thereafter continued to be a live issue, and ten years after my agitation of an A. & M. school, I had the pleasure of seeing the Texas Technological college established at Lubbock.

"If I am elected as your county judge, I will continue to conduct your court in a fair, just and impartial manner. I will dispatch cases with consideration for the claims of the litigants and to the tax payers. As judge, I will be firm, but kind in applying the law to the facts.

Favors Right Of Suffrage

"I favor the right of suffrage being extended to all citizens on the payment of a small registration fee 25 cents in lieu of our present undemocratic requirement to pay $1.75 for a poll tax in order to qualify them for the right to vote.

"I favor discharging our sacred obligation to our old men and women by electing men to the Senate and Legislature who will enact laws to provide funds to pay those Constitutional eligibles unnder the National Security act $30 per month as contemplated by Congress.

"I appreciate all honors given me by the people of this county, and I am soliciting your active support and vote on behalf of my candidacy as your county judge, for which I shall be forever grateful. Lubbock county is the best county in the state of Texas—let's make it still greater."—J. J. Dillard.

McMurry Exes Will Gather On Friday

Founder's day of McMurry college at Abilene will be observed by ex-students of the school in Lubbock and adjacent territory Friday night here.

Highlight of the program will be an address by Dr. Frank L. Turner, president of the school, broadcast over the Texas State network at 8:15 o'clock to ex-students all over the state who will be participating in the observance.

Tribute will be paid Dr. James Winfred Hunt, founder and first president of the college. A story of his life and a sing-song will follow a covered-dish supper.

Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor of St. John's Methodist church here, and Mrs. Kirk will be in charge of the program.

FOUR DECAPITATED

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—Decapitation of four men convicted of treason was announced today.

Judge Pitts To Open Court Term Monday

Judge E. L. Pitts closed minutes on the January term in 99th district court Saturday and will open the April term Monday.

All dockets except the appearance docket will be called at 10 o'clock. Appearance docket will be set Tuesday morning.

An involved verdict was returned in the debt and damages action of J. A. Hodges against L. F. Jordan in 99th court Saturday. Judge Pitts had not filed judgment Saturday night.

At Levelland Judge Daniel A. Blair will conclude his March term of 72nd district court with civil hearings this week.

News Briefs

Invitation to veterans or their dependents to confer with him relative to any claims they may have against the government growing out of military service when he visits Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday was received Saturday from Floyd L. Sloan of Amarillo, field representative of the veteran's state service office. His headquarters will be Allen Bros. post home, 910 Texas avenue.

C. V. Singleton Funeral home ambulance of Seminole Saturday returned to her home in Seminole Mrs. Dewey Davis, wife of the Seminole schools superintendent, and her week-old daughter. Mrs. Davis had been in West Texas hospital. The daughter is named Dewey Carolyn and is a first child. Davis has been in the Seminole system 15 years, six years as superintendent. He has been reelected to a seventh year. Singleton said his new funeral home will be completed in three weeks, one of the most modern in West Texas.

Floyd L. Sloan, state service officer for the American Legion will be in Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday. Those having claims based on service will find him at the legion home, it was announced.

The South Plains artists' exhibit will open in West Texas museum on Texas Technological college campus Monday, under auspices of the Art institute. Approximately 20 paintings were submitted to F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the institute Saturday. The paintings will remain on exhibit until April 25.

Dr. Herbert C. Maxwell of 2417 Broadway has returned from a 12-day vacation spent in Mineral Wells. Summer greenery and temperatures have taken over there, he said, pointing to the famous much-publicized Peach Tree drive near Weatherford that is attracting heavy Sunday and night traffic.

The Lubbock county Interscholastic league debate contest will be conducted at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in room 210 of the Texas Technological college administration building.

At least two groups will hear safety talks by members of the Texas Highway patrol on the South Plains this week. L. W. Wilhite and D. A. McGonagill, patrolmen stationed at Plainview, will address employes of Texas-New Mexico utilities at 7 o'clock Wednesday night in Floydada. Capt. W. W. Legge will speak to school children in assembly at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Farwell High school.

Lubbock representatives of Southwestern Life Insurance company and their wives will attend the 36th agency convention of the organization Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Dallas. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil O. Schwalbe, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Waldrop and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wood.

A nominating commitee, composed of Neil H. Wright, G. W. McCleary and R. W. Wright, is to report a list of proposed officers for the Men of the First Presbyterian church this morning at Sunday School class session. Jack M. Randal is outgoing president.

Sacred Harp singing convention is to be held today at the Primitive Baptist church, 1905 Texas avenue.

J. W. Moore of Ropesville, who fell from a windmill platform March 18, was dismissed from West Texas hospital Saturday.

Slaton Presbyterian Church Is Improved

SLATON, March 30—The interior walls and ceiling of the First Presbyterian church are being repainted this week, according to Rev. Paul Stevens, pastor.

A new roof, recently completed, and this redecorating finish a program of improvement for the year.

This work is being done in preparation for the spring meeting of the Amarillo Presbytery which meets in the Slaton church April 18 and 19.

Japs' Policy Being Aired

By DR. RAYMOND LAWRENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Questions asked last week in the Japanese Diet are producing revelations in regard to Japanese policy. For some time Far Eastern observers have sensed a new diplomatic play but negotiations were hidden by a curtain of silence. Now, to the embarrassment of the Tokyo foreign office, the parliamentarians have produced the key to the situation. It is apparent that the expression of opposition opinion in the Diet is one of the best news sources and, as in the Saito case, the lower house has scooped itself again.

The cat which the interpellators let out of the bag is Japan's situation in regard to the Berlin-Moscow setup. This relation, which has confused observers as much as the molders of policy in Japan, now becomes clarified by indications that Japan will join the Russo-German arrangement. To put it more exactly, Hitler and Stalin are ready to allow Japan a definite role in the international situation. The long-sought link between the war in the East and the war in the West thus is being forged and the two conflicts are about to be merged, with Japan playing a subsidiary part.

Hitler Is Leading

According to a high diplomatic source Hitler is taking the initiative in a scheme that will reorganize the whole setup in Asia. The German stratagem is based on the main war aim: Destruction of the British empire. While the Allies threaten the Reich's flank in the Near East and Balkans, Germany counters with an attempt to open an attack on France and Great Britain through the Far Eastern backyard. To accomplish this objective, Hitler is arranging a multiple deal that envisages the collaboration of Germany, soviet Russia, Japan and China.

The fuehrer is playing the part of the "honest broker" in persuading Stalin to stop exerting pressure on Japan's Northern frontier (Manchukuo and North China). Japan stalemated in China and relieved of a threat in the North, is being encouraged to turn her attention to the Netherlands' Indies, the Malay states and French Indo-China. Such a move necessarily involves the Philippine islands. By giving Japan a free hand in the South, Russia's Siberian flank would be protected and Germany would be inflicting a disastrous blow against the Allies.

With the backing of Russia and Germany, Japan would be at liberty to occupy British and French possessions in the Far East. The advantages of such a carte blanche to Japan are plain. Manchuria and Occupied China have not proved to be the storehouses of raw materials which had been expected. Japan has committed herself to complete industrialization, the needs of which would not be fulfilled even by the conquest of all China. According to the reports of industrial experts, China can never supply the particular raw materials nor the markets to fulfill this ideal.

Essential Material

Materials essential to Japan's industrialization, such as oil, rubber and other tropical products, are available in necessary quantities only in the South. Furthermore, expansion in this direction would largely free Japan from her economic dependence on the industrial nations of the West and in particular the United States. This is the argument that Germany presents.

One difficulty lies in obtaining Chinese agreement to the scheme. According to diplomatic informants, Stalin is supporting the German plan and is using his influence in China to bring about the tacit cooperation of the Chinese government. Manifestly, it is to China's interest to be relieved from the tension of war by the diversion of Japanese energies into other directions. Such an arrangement would allow China to pursue her great internal program of social and economic reconstruction. Japan, of course, would not withdraw completely from the continent. The present military stalemate will be allowed to continue even if it means a slight decrease in the occupied areas; and the Japanese-sponsored puppet governments will attempt to consolidate their positions.

Well Constructed

Diplomatic observers think the scheme is well-constructed and a potentially dangerous strategem, with advantages to Germany, Soviet Russia and even Italy. An attack on the Allies' Eastern empire would remove the threat to Germany's southeastern flank and might therefore strongly influence the Italian attitude toward the European war. Russia, with peace in the East, would devote herself to pursuing European interests.

One flaw in this ambitious plan is the difficulty of proving to Japan that she will find advantages in changing from a military to a naval policy, since the latter is an essential interger in Southern expansion. The failure of Japan to achieve the original objectives in China has considerably lowered the prestige of the imperial army and has incited the naval authorities to demand the opportunity to prove the power and efficiency of the Japanese fleet by embarking on a vast, face-saving Southern program.

Objections Raised

On the other hand, information coming from Tokyo indicates that objections are being raised to the axis plan by imperial strategists. The vulnerability of the Netherlands' Indies, the Malay states and Indo-China is regarded as a complex problem that depends on (1) Japan's striking power and (2) British and French defensive strength in the East. Since these factors fluctuate with European conditions, the experts have no ready answer. Furthermore, the problem is not wholly one for the navy, for that arm could only give access to these areas. Occupation of them is a task for the army. Considering the vast expenditure of man-power and military strength in the past three years, the task is a tough assignment for the generals.

Although Japan's top statesmen are confident the axis will win the war, there are economic advisers who see difficulties in the way of accepting the Russo-German plan. Shipping alone is a serious problem. There is now a shortage of merchant vessels, with a large part of the tonnage being tied up with non-mercantile duty in China. The long haul to the South would necessitate a tremendous increase in cargo ships. If Japan is to get immediate benefits from the Southern venture, a great laboring force will be required to work the mines and wells. A large and trained body of colonial administrators also is indicated. Whether Japan can produce the men needed for these tasks is one of the calculations now being made in Tokyo.

Some neutral sources, however, indicate that Japan is not in a position to make a completely free choice. It is not so much a question of bargaining with the Berlin-Moscow alliance as of taking the best terms Japan can get.

John W. LeMond Announces As Candidate For Constable; Has Served As Deputy

John W. LeMond Saturday authorized Avalanche-Journal publications to announce his candidacy for the office of constable of precinct 1, subject to Democratic primaries. LeMond said:

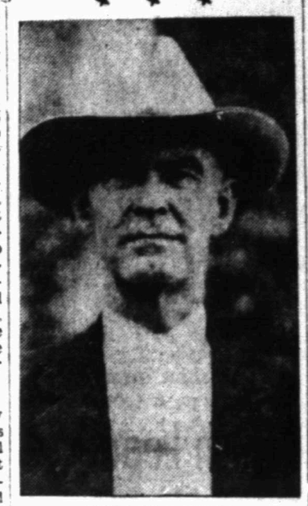

"Since the death of the late J. C. Roberts and the appointment of his daughter, Mrs. Winnie Coleman, to succeed him as constable of precint 1, I have served as deputy.

"Although this office is considered by some people unimportant, I call your attention to the fact that the constable's duties, obligations and authorities are equal to those of sheriff and an unexperienced constable can actually render harm to the community and injustice to the people. Therefore, I consider it of great importance that the voters consider it in the same manner as if it were a major office.

Has Given Cooperation

"It has been my practise as deputy to confine myself to civil process work and I have cooperated at all times with the sheriff's department and city police department. I believe this to be the better policy and the real purpose of the office.

"I have had many years experience in this line of work and feel entirely qualified and it is upon this basis that I am asking you for a job that I can do."

Mississippi Farmers Have Cause For Fear

JACKSON, Miss., March 30. (AP)—Mississippi's truck farmers have a double worry this spring—(1) Their own crops and 30 days late because of the January freeze, and (2) they're apprehensive lest produce from both "early" and "second early" producing states go on markets simultaneously.

Fred J. Hurst, extension agricultural editor, in discussing the farmers' problem, pointed out today that Florida and Texas valley produce usually reached markets and was cleared by the time Mississippi farmers were ready to market their truck.

This year, however, the January freeze "resulted in uniform planting in the two areas," he declared, and a marketing crisis may develop if all truck crops mature at the same time.

Tomato growers are those most worried, he said.

TOOTH OUT AT TEN WEEKS

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Diana Joy Visser was only 10 weeks old when she made her first visit to a dentist. He extracted a premature tooth which was hurting the baby's tongue.

The beaver uses a split nail on the second toe of a hind foot as a comb and toothpick.

Dewey Says New Deal Likes Depression

MILWAUKEE, March 30. (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, campaigning the Republican presidential nomination, declared tonight the New Deal had "a vested interest in continued depression" and did not want recovery.

"It is the first administration in our history which has had a vested interest in continued unemployment," the New York district attorney said in a prepared speech.

Praising Wisconsin as a leader in social progress, he told this state's voters that "the country rightfully looks to you for continued leadership in its fight to win its way out of this New Deal depression."

Copyrighted Bill Is Used By Rep. Derden

DALLAS March 30. (AP) — Representative Albert Derden of Marlin, candidate for governor, today declared Harry L. McKee of Austin, candidate for state treasurer to keep him from referring in his campaign to a bill copyrighted by McKee imposing a procession tax on gasoline. McKee Thursday notified Derden by telegram he would take legal steps to protect his copyright if Derden continued to recommend the gasoline processing tax.

"I hope he does file a suit," said Derden. "His position is ridiculous and untenable. If his contention is correct then every state issue could be subordinated to the will and levy of political opportunists who might copyright them as fast as they come out. There would be no further need for lobbyists."

Boys Held In Slaying Of Woodville Man

WOODVILLE, March 30. (AP)—Two redfoot boys, 14 and 16 years old, were held today in connection with the slaying yesterday of A. B. Sheffield, shot to death when he returned home from his WPA job.

Justice of the Peace H. B. Ogden, who held an inquest, said the boys admitted that Sheffield cursed them for not working as hard as he expected.

The boys said they were in a field when the man came home. When he started cursing them, Ogden said he was told, the young boy obtained a double-barreled shotgun. When the man approached the elder boy took the gun and fired, Ogden said.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Twenty-Two Towns Of South Plains Will Select City Officials This Week

Some Of Races Will Be Hot

City politics will occupy the attention of voters in 22 South Plains towns outside of Lubbock Tuesday as city officials are to be chosen in the regular election.

In some towns the election will be a routine affair, while in other towns hot fights are expected.

Following are the candidates as reported by South Plains newspapers. Candidates are listed as far as announced.

ABERNATHY

Abernathy voters will select a city marshal and two councilmen. O. Rutledge, marshal, is so far unopposed as are H. E. Richter and N. C. Hix. Holdovers are Mayor F. W. Struve and Andy Reid, Herman Schulz and J. C. Hurst, councilmen.

AMHERST

Amherst will select two commissioners and a mayor. Aubrey Loyd is the present mayor.

ANDREWS

Three aldermen and a city marshal will be chosen by Andrews voters. Outgoing aldermen are Dr. J. G. Little, Charles W. Roberts and Frank Price. Candidates nominated include H. M. Lennis, Jackson Parker, G. A. Brasfield and Carl Underwood.

ANTON

A mayor and two commissioners are to be selected by Anton voters.

BROWNFIELD

Clyde C. Coleman, Brownfield mayor, is a candidate for that post as are Tom Cobb and Ike Bailey, incumbent aldermen, who seek reelection.

LAMESA

W. L. Marr, mayor of Lamesa is opposed by L. E. Eager. Vernon W. Bryant is a candidate for re-election as commissioner, with S. F. Reynolds, Roy E. Speck, Leonard Scott, W. G. Weekes, Carl Cox and M. Hatch seeking two places as commissioners.

LOCKNEY

Two Lockney Aldermen, whose terms expire, are candidates. They are Walter Childress and Lloyd Wofford. Mayor T. Z. Reed, Aldermen Jessie Cox, Frank Busby and J. M. Floyd, hold over another year.

MEADOW

W. Avary, mayor of Meadow, is a candidate for reelection. Two aldermen are to be named also.

MULESHOE

A. E. Lewis, mayor of Muleshoe, announced he would not be a candidate again. Two commissioners also to be named.

SNYDER

Snyder voters have but five offices to fill, that of mayor, three aldermen from wards 1, 2 and 3 and secretary-treasurer. Recently the council abolished the offices of marshal, tax collector, recorder and attorney, including the tax work with the office of secretary-treasurer.

Mayor H. G. Towle, completing his seventh term, is unopposed. J. S. Bradbury, secretary-treasurer, is opposed by Edna B. Tinker. A. L. Martin, ward 1 councilman is opposed by Joe Graham; W. D. Harral, ward 2, is unopposed and B. P. Moffett, ward 3 is opposed by Jesse V. Jones. Simon Best is a candidate for marshal, unopposed.

SLATON

Slaton will name two aldermen. J. G. Harper, in ward 4, has no opposition. He was chosen in a special election last year. In ward 2, L. B. Wootten is opposed by K. C. Scott.

CROSBYTON

F. M. Dunn, who has been a Crosbyton commissioner, has announced for the post of mayor. He is opposed by O. C. Moyer. W. H. Nickson, named last year as commissioner to fill a vacancy, and Perry Roberts and Quincy Hames are candidates for two places.

HALE CENTER

At Hale Center Mayor Sam W. Smith is unopposed. Wesley Boone and Al LeMond are candidates for reelection as aldermen and Dennis Scalling has announced. Tom Barbee would be marshal for another term.

MATADOR

Matador officials are without opposition. Candidates are, G. T. Edwards for mayor; Howard Edmondson for city secretary; L. J. Barkley for city marshal and W. N. Pipkin and M. S. Patton for aldermen.

O'DONNELL

W. T. Huff and Fred Henderson, O'Donnell aldermen seeking reelection are opposed by R. O. Stark and Cliff Lambert.

MORTON

H. P. Wood, mayor of Morton, has announced he would accept another term. Two commissioners also are to be named.

RALLS

Ralls will have two candidates for mayor, C. O. Thomas, Santa Fe agent and William McKee, lumberman. For commissioners, Walker, Watkins, Cecil Green, E. King and Oliver Taylor seek places held by Ray Cooper and E. I. Haney. Will Marr, mayor, declined to seek office.

SUDAN

A. Stuart is again candidate for mayor of Sudan. A. L. Robinson and D. L. Brown, commissioners, have been filed as candidates.

PLAINVIEW

Plainview is expecting a record vote as 24 absentee ballots, the most in many years, have been filed. It is believed 2,000 votes will be cast. Two years ago there were 920 votes cast and four years ago 1,620.

Plainview voters will have five places to fill. A mayor, three councilmen and a secretary are to be named. Mayor Tom Shelton is being opposed by W. R. Triplett. L. W. Kiker, E. M. Osborne and L. M. Frogge are councilmen whose terms expire and City Secretary Jack Galloway has no opposition.

ROPESVILLE

Terms of Mayor R. K. (Cap) Lindsey and Otto Sims and Audrey Cate as aldermen of Ropesville expire this month.

SEMINOLE

Seminole voters will have two candidates for mayor to pick from: Harry N. Stone, incumbent and Finley Moore. For commissioners, W. E. Cox, jr., and A. C. Giddings are candidates.

TAHOKA

At Tahoka two aldermen are to be named. Dr. K. R. Durham and N. C. Rainey are incumbents. Miss Rosemary Nelms, city secretary, has no opposition for reelection.

Elections are scheduled at Sweetwater, San Angelo, Childress, Colorado and other West Texas towns.

Formal Statement Of Candidacy For State Senate Issued By Judge Marshall Formby

Charging that the members of the last Legislature had bitterly disappointed the people in failing to solve the old age assistance and other social security problems and in failing to raise the truck load limit law, Judge Marshall Formby of Dickens county, a candidate for the state Senate of the 30th district, Saturday issued a formal statement concerning his senatorial candidacy. Judge Formby, serving his fourth year as county judge of Dickens county, made the following statement:

"Because the people have been promised so much and given so little during the past two years, I hesitate to infringe upon their good nature with a load of promises in order to influence them to vote for me for state senator. However, there are a number of vital questions the people want answered and I submit the following as my formal plea to the voters of the 30th senatorial district.

Cooperation Pledged

"When elected your state senator, I pledge my sincere cooperation to the members of the Senate, House of Representatives and the governor of the state, in helping pass measures beneficial to this district and to the state as a whole. There was no cooperation between the various branches of the government in Austin last year, and believing that only through cooperation can the state's problems be solved, I hasten to pledge my full cooperation to the Legislature and governor.

"I am opposed to a tax on poverty and believe that any needed revenue should be raised by placing taxes on those able to pay, which is, after all, the correct foundation for the assessment of taxes.

"It will be my aim to work toward an immediate solution of the old age assistance and other social security problems. There should be fewer promises and more action in providing for the aged, the blind, the delinquent children and others in dire need.

Cash Basis Favored

"The state government should be placed on a cash basis like any sensible business is run. This can be done through economy in the ination of overlaping governmental agencies. It is foolish business for the state to continue to build up a deficit in the general fund. Business-like methods, the same as we have inaugurated in Dickens county's government, should be adopted.

"The laborer should be given at all times a fair deal and I favor legislation for his protection.

"I favor legislation favorable to agricultural interests believing that only when agriculture prospers in West Texas does the average business man prosper. For the benefit of agricultural interests, I favor revision of the present truck load be worked on the farmer and cattlemen. The truck law limit should be raised to a sensible limit.

"It is unfair for certain counties in Texas to have remitted back to them the state ad valorem tax and I will oppose this special legislation to certain favored counties in Texas.

"Because as a county judge, I have learned the various problems relative to the care of the unfortunates in Texas, I shall fight always for humane treatment and care of the insane, feeble-minded, epileptic, deaf and dumb and blind.

"In order that the average citizen might have his day in court and have his problems solved without having to waste his time and money, I shall favor legislation to speed up civil procedure in the Texas courts.

"It shall be my aim at all times to support legislation favorable to the average farmer, laborer and business man.

Pleasant Weather Is Forecast To Continue

High cloudiness was only part of today's forecast that would hint of weather less pleasant than that of Saturday.

Temperatures were expected to match Saturday's high of 83 degrees, according to predictions. Only two other days have surpassed that heat this season.

Crowds almost comparable to those of the fall cotton picking season swarmed downtown Lubbock streets Saturday afternoon.

Recent cold weather has damaged only a small percentage of fruit trees of the area, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment station, said. Buds still will be endangered by extreme cold, he added.

Six Sweethearts For Roundup Are Named

AUSTIN, March 30. (AP)—Six Southwest conference school beauties, who will be members of the sweetheart's court at the annual round-up revue and ball April 6, were announced by University of Texas officials today.

Honor guests at the annual university homecoming, which will include reunions, a parade, open houses, the Texas relays and "Uncle Billy Disch day," the school sweethearts include:

Betty Gartner of Rice institute, a campus favorite at the Houston school; Mildred Lee Fletcher of the University of Arkansas; Barbara Smith of Baylor university; Virginia Holt of Southern Methodist, a senior major in violin; Ann Hutton of Texas Christian university, the only freshman in the delegation, and Mary Louise Lewis, one of Texas A. and M. college's favorites.

ANDREWS HOME BURNS

ANDREWS—Fire which was believed to have started from burning grass blown underneath the house, destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Smith. Some of the furniture was saved. Volunteers used extinguishers from the high school to no avail. Loss was partially covered by insurance.

Propaganda In "White Book"

BY LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Cable Editor

History has a strange way of repeating itself. To understand the propaganda blast of the "white book" from Berlin and the speech of Soviet Premier Viacheslav Molotov, it is only necessary to look back to the World war.

The German "white book" accuses the United States, through its diplomats, of having fomented the war; Molotov declares that Russia wants peace and accuses the Allies of trying to force the Soviet union into war.

Each Dodged Blame

Henry Wickham Steed, once editor of the London Times and who was "engaged in propaganda in enemy countries in 1918," wrote in the encyclopaedia Britannica something which seems as apt today as when it was written. He wrote:

"In 1914, the chief belligerent countries felt, almost instinctively, the importance of proving that they were guiltless of causing the struggle. Nobod, claimed credit for having planned it or forced it on . . ."

"German spokesmen and agents attempted to throw the blame first on England and then on Russia; while the Allied countries unanimously blamed Germany and Austria-Hungary. By degrees, the conquest of neutral opinion was seen to be almost as important as victory in the field."

Veracity Is Disputed

The "white book" obviously was aimed at neutral opinion in the United States. The veracity of its contents was vigorously disputed in Washington.

Frederick Kuh, diplomatic reporter of the United Press in London, did some inquiring about the origin of the alleged documents — the purported originals of which, incidentally, were exhibited in the form of 16 documents to the foreign press at the Berlin foreign office today.

Polish diplomatic circles in London, while in no way confirming the authenticity of the documents, told Kuh that if the Germans have any Polish documents, they must have been obtained from the Russians.

Lack Of Solidarity

The British press had hailed Molotov's speech as indicating a lack of solidarity in the "Berlin-Moscow axis"; yet if the assumption that Germany obtained the documents from Russia is verified, it would convey the impression that the diplomatic friendship between Moscow and Berlin had reached a greater degree of intimacy than has hitherto been imagined.

In other words, if the Poles are right, Russia had the "dynamite" but cagily refrained from burning her fingers and passed it on to Hitler to use as he saw fit.

The data given by the Poles is as follows:

While the Germans were marching on Warsaw, Polish authorities transferred their foreign ministry archives first to Lublin, where they remained only a day or two, then to Krezemieniec, where they stayed about a week before being moved to Kuty.

Krezemieniec and Kuty are in the eastern Polish sector, on which the red army swooped on Sept. 17 last, and it is believed possible that the Soviet lightning stroke enabled the Russians to seize some of the archives.

The foreign office documents which remained in Warsaw as the Germans hammered at the gates were burned before the Germans entered the capital.

Aid In Development Of Western Texas Projects Sought; Research Is Made

Recommendations for aid in development of several projects in West Texas have been made to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel by J. Doyle Settle, who began duties about six weeks ago as coordinator in the governor's industrialization program.

Commercial possibilities of cotton burrs, alkali salts in West Texas lakes, threshing of castor beans, and development of sugar beets in West Texas were some of the subjects dealt with in reports to the governor.

Has Done Research

The utilization of cotton burrs in manufacture of wall boards and other materials was the subject of a report based on information provided by Dr. R. C. Goodwin, head professor of chemistry and chemical engineering, who has done research work with burrs.

The report pointed out that at present millions of pounds of burrs are being burned on the South Plains each year. A 500,000 bale production on the South Plains would furnish a potential annual supply of 250,000,000 pounds of burrs, the report informs.

Problems include establishment of ownership of the burrs; cost and transportation.

Two Types Possible

Two types of wall board may be produced. One is porous and of the insulating type; the other is hard non-insulating and of the finishing type.

"The finishing type of wall board is strong and wear resistant. A small mounting was made and placed on the floor in front of the stock room window at Texas Tech—a place where hundreds of students walk daily—some two years ago. These blocks show little sign of wear in spite of the fact that they have received no treatment whatsoever. I believe that if properly waxed, this material would make an excellent decorative floor. This material is quite resistant to water and fire. A cigaret may burn out on its surface and leave no scar.

"Since it is a pressed material it may be made up into any ordinary shape and would make excellent material for soda fountain tops, tops for restaurant tables, card tables etc. It may be fashioned into tiles for use in place of ceramic tiles, though at present no attempt has been made to color this material. If necessary, colored commercial plastics may be added for color and decorative value.

"By a different process a black material may be produced which has all the properties of the material just described. It would cost more to produce, but could be fashioned into all sorts of familiar articles such as electrical outlets, telephones, etc."

The work has reached the end of the "test tube" stage, and from the standpoint of development of this area, Dr. Goodwin believes that the cheapest way out on the part of the state would be the establishment on Tech campus of an adequate plant for testing all such possible developments, the report continues. One could be built with an accompanying shop, so that specialized equipment could be made on the spot. Equipment could be of general nature, so it could be adapted for different tests.

The governor's aid in interesting a chemical corporation in developing alkali lakes in West Texas was asked in a report on research done by Dr. W. M. Craig of the chemistry department.

Greater Demand Seen

The kraft paper process requires the use of sodium sulfate or salt cake and has resulted in greater demand and higher price of the product. Dr. Craig has investigated the various lakes as profitable sources of salt cake, visiting and mapping approximately 35 lakes. The American Cyanamid company established two plants for the recovery of salt cake and magnesium hydroxide or milk of magnesia, one located at Frost lake in Dawson county, about nine and one-half miles west of O'Donnell, and the other at Seven Lakes in Terry county, about 10 miles southeast of Brownfield.

A substantial part of the supply of sodium sulfate in this country has been obtained in the past from Germany, where it was obtained as a by-product in manufacture of hydrochloric acid, but since opening of the war the situation has changed and effort is being made to speed up production of plants in West Texas.

Report On Sugar Beets

Based on material provided by Dr. Arthur W. Young, head professor of plant industry at Texas Technological college, a report on sugar beet development in West Texas was presented to the governor.

The report gives detailed information on sugar beet production. "Sugar beets as a crop for irrigated farms in West Texas offer to the farmer an opportunity to diversify and spread his risk. They represent an intensive culture when compared to the cotton, sorghums and small grains generally grown in this region," the "comments" division of the report informs.

"With additional experience and practice in their culture, the returns per acre could be increased above those obtained in the above data."

Recognition Is Sought

Aid of the governor was asked in securing recognition of Texas as a sugar beet producing state and provision for a regular acreage allotment from the United States department of agriculture. Heretofore, Texas has borrowed acreage from Colorado and large scale production has been impossible. "If Texas can secure proper allotment, we can interest sugar refineries in coming into Texas."

"The castor bean as a possible crop for West Texas has been recognized for several years due to their drouth resistance and ability to grow and produce under arid conditions," another report explained.

A machine permitting satisfactory threshing has been developed at Tech.

"Much interest in castor beans is shown by farmers of the South Plains but the rate of increase in their culture is evidently largely dependent upon the development of a market or processing plant near the region of production."

Louisiana Mayor Gets His Hats Mixed But He Doesn't Mind

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 30. (AP)—Mayor J. H. Handley got his hats mixed today.

The mayor, who loves to issue proclamations, a week ago proclaimed that every citizen of Lake Charles should wear ten-gallon hats and Old West regalia to get in the spirit for the Southwest Louisiana Fat Stock show and rodeo here April 4-7.

But yesterday he announced that today would be straw hat day.

The idea of a man trying to wear 10-galloner and a straw katie at the same time didn't bother Mr. Handley whe nit was called to his attention.

ENGLISH GOLF COURSES

England has more than 2,000 golf clubs, with an average membership of 300 each. With each course averaging 70 acres, 140,000 acres of land thus are used for golf courses in that country.

of Nov. 12 by authorities at Slaton. His head had been creased by a bullet fired by the slain man, Charles D. Yates, Slaton constable, said in a report to Sheriff B. L. Parker of Tahoka the day of the arrest.

Testimony during the trial disclosed trouble had arisen between Enloe and Browning the night of the shooting. The convicted man awakened L. A. Enloe and together they went to Browning's home twice before they found him there.

Sentence given L. A. Enloe has been appealed, authorities said.

Child Bride Gives Birth To Daughter

LOGAN, W. Va., March 30. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Mrs. Clifford Atkins, Logan's "child bride" of more than a year ago, smiled today in a hospital bed at her day-old daughter.

The baby was born last night after a Caesarian operation.

Mrs. Atkins, the former Helen Clidas, was married November 10, 1938, to Clifford Atkins, then 22, after the couple had been given the consent of Helen's parents.

They now live at Mud Fork and have been receiving relief.

New York Legislature Favors Pari-Mutuals

ALBANY, N. Y., March 30. (AP)— New York's legislature passed tonight a bill authorizing installation of pari-mutuel betting machines at the state's five horse tracks.

The measure, outlawing bookmakers and estimated to bring the state $5,000,000 revenue by July 1, 1941, went to Governor Lehman for expected approval.

Noted Beauty Expert Of Hollywood Dies

HOLLYWOOD, March 30. (AP) — Montague Westmore, 39, eldest of the family of Hollywood beauty experts, died suddenly of heart trouble in a hospital today.

He was under contract to Selznick studios, where he handled makeup on "Gone With the Wind."

ROCHELLE ANNOUNCED

LITTLEFIELD,—L. D. Rochelle has announced he would be a candidate for state representative from the 120th district. He was a candidate two years ago against A. B. Tarwater, incumbent, who has not announced plans. Tom W. Deen of Floydada has already announced.

You And Your Family Will Be Statistics

You, your wife, junior and all the rest—and don't forget the livestock and the yield of the cowpeas—are about to become official government digits in the greatest census of history.

Enumeration of population, agricultural and housing units will begin Tuesday and be completed within two weeks in cities, four weeks in counties.

Bean Is Supervisor

Robert H. Bean is district supervisor for the "last phase" of the work in the 13 counties of the Lubbock territory—preliminary counting having been restricted to a business census.

For immediate task, 42 enumerators have been chosen and armed with instruction to go out and count all noses in the 60 by 250 miles territory of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb, Hockley, Hale, Lubbock, Floyd, Crosby, Dickens, Kent, King, Stonewall and Haskell counties.

The first census was ordered by the constitution for the year 1790—a full century and a half ago. It had but one major purpose: Determining how many representatives each state was entitled to seat in the lower house of congress.

Need Is Realized

In 1810 a need was realized for counting facilities so as to know requirements for more, so such a census was taken.

Thirty years later farming had become a far-flung American activity, so the census again was extended. The next 50 years found enumerators dipping into social statistics in addition to taking population, farm and factory figures.

The census came to be considered the fact-finder of the nation, its inquiries changing or expanding as the needs of the people changed or expanded, all changes based on constitutional authority by Congress.

Housing This Time

This year, Congress decided to take a census of housing, a subject never covered before. Congress felt that with all the talk that a great home-building revival might be a major step toward prosperity, the nation at least should know the facts.

Thus the census activities have grown in direct response to the growth of America. Through the complex tabulating machinery of the census they pass—employment, unemployment, citizens and aliens, growth of cities, depression on the farms, variety and change in occupations, decline in the birth rate, movements of people from farms to the cities, shifts in industrial centers from one section to another in search of raw materials, increasing average of our population—many other significant long-time movements within our civilization.

Several Enumerations

The bureau is or has been taking seven kinds of enumeration in 1940, the one of most general interest, of course, that of population, Jan. 2, approximately 6,500 persons, well trained, began from 529 districts, with the census of business, manufactures, mines and quarries.

Those beginning Tuesday will be much greater, but completed in a much shorter time. These include the census of population, housing, agriculture and irrigation and drainage.

One hundred twenty thousand persons will take this last phase of the census, nearly half the number of America's regular peacetime army!

In addition, such census will be underway in Alaska, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, the Virgin islands, Guam, Samoa and the Panama Canal zone.

Contrary to some, the government points out, the government is not poking its nose into personal affairs; the questions "are not our questions, but yours. They have been pressed upon us by scores and scores of large and important organizations and groups of citizens, declaring the facts they will develop are vital to the general welfare."

It is compulsory, however, to answer the questions, but they will be veiled from all eyes except the census officials, who will be subjected to drastic penalties should answers ever "get out."

Fire Losses For First Quarter Low

Lubbock's fire losses for 1940 continue at an all-time low.

This was the information given Saturday by Guy Casey, city fire marshal, as he rapped on wood hoping that the last day of March will add nothing to present losses.

If Lubbock can get through today without loss, he explained, it will mean that fire damage in Lubbock for the first quarter of the year will approximate $2,000—perhaps a little more or a little less.

Of the loss, $594.70 occurred in January and $460 in February. He estimated the loss during March at "about $1,000."

The figure compares with a total loss of $5,831.70 during the first three months of 1939. The losses by months were $1,274.32 during January, $243.39 during February and $4,313.99.

The first marshal's fears are intensified, he admitted, by the fact that the season of winds still prevails, creating the worst hazard with which Lubbock has to contend.

Winners Of Contest Honored With Dinner

Mrs. Dick Green entertained the Roosevelt one-act play cast with a Mexican supper Saturday night at Mexican Inn. The play won first place in the county Interscholastic league meet.

Those attending were Sybil Hicks, E. R. Davis, James Alspaugh, Geraldine Miller and Nedra Jane Seagler.

Mrs. A. C. Sanders Is Honored At Party

Mrs. Champ Worrell entertained at her home at 1922 Twenty-fifth street Friday afternoon with a birthday party honoring Mrs. A. C. Sanders.

Attending were Mesdames C I. Kuykendall, J. D. McKnight, R. L. Thurman, Silas Hamilton, W. S. Cathey, Leon Abbott, Worrell and Sanders.

Young Mother Tells Story Of Rescuing Two Children

BELLE ROSE, La., March 30. (AP) —A young French mother who is shortly expecting her third child, saved her two young children in yesterday's storm at Pierre Part by quickly shoving them under the bed just before their tiny house on the bayou was crushed like an egg shell.

The 29-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Edmond Crochet, was hurled into the bayou by the force of the wind and swam out to rescue her children with one injured arm dangling helpless at her side.

Tells Her Story

From her hospital bed here today she told her story. She said she found Iray, 5, standing in water nearly to his armpits, tightly clutching the hand of his 2-year-old brother, Willie. Neither was injured though they were picked up by the wind and dropped near the bank of the bay.

"And yesterday was my birthday, too," said Mrs. Crochet, her hand resting in the gnarled hand of her husband, who stood at her bedside in the overcrowded clinic of Dr. Joseph D. Billeaudeaux.

In broken English and low voice she told her story:

Father Was Away

"Edmond was away from home. The children and I were in the house because it was raining. Then the wind started to blow and it got dark.

"I could see the trees bending and, suddenly, I heard a noise. I was afraid for my babies for the house began to shake. Quickly I grabbed their hands and pushed them under the bed."

She faltered, turning her head to look up at her husband from the bed where she is recovering from shock and contusions of her body.

"With a roar our house was gone. I was in the water; my arm hurt awfully but I made it to the shore. There were my babies."

Crochet, bronzed by his outdoor life as a fisherman-moss picker, said he was out of the path of the storm.

Dazed, but thankful that the lives of his loved ones had been spared, he said there was only splintered fragments of wood to indicate where his home had stood overlooking the bay.

"Not even the floor was left. The whole house was ground up like it had gone through a mill and then dropped into the water," he said.

CANCER MONTH

AUSTIN, March 30. (AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today proclaimed April as cancer control month and urged a united attack on the disease, which is one of the nation's leading causes of death.

Tree Named Judas Is Struck By Lightning

PLYMOUTH, N. C., March 30. (AP) —Plymouth residents point out to visitors 12 trees standing in a churchyard here, and tell this story:

Many years ago each of the trees was named for one of the 12 Apostles. Eleven are still in good condition. But the 12th was struck by lightning several years ago.

The name of that one was "Judas."

Guldahl Annexes Lead In "Land Of Sky" Open

BY BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 30.—Ralph Guldahl, happier over his golf game than he's been in months, shot into the lead today at the halfway mark of the $5,000 "Land Of The Sky" open tournament. The two-time U. S. Open champion combined his own fine 70 with slight wavering on the part of the first-round leaders to gain a one-stroke margin on a 36-hole score of 134.

As it is, the slope-shouldered westerner will go into tomorrow's final 36 holes at the Biltmore Forest Country club leading Ben Hogan, winner of the last two tournaments, and Lloyd Mangrum, "comer" from Oak Park, Ill., by one shot.

Hogan Cracks Par, Again

Hogan, for the ninth time in these last three tourneys, broke par with a 68 to add to the 67 he posted yesterday, when Guldahl, Dick Metz and Mangrum got his 135 total out of a second-round 71.

Metz went up eight strokes to a 72 for 136 at which figure he was bracketed with Lawson Little. Henry Picard, the PGA champion, and Frank Walsh of Rumson, N. J., both went from 65 to 73 and 138.

At 139 Sam Snead was tied with Sam who had the day's finest round, a 67, called the tournament committee's attention to the fact his score yesterday should have been posted as 73 rather than 72. Because he also had a touch of tonsilitis, the big hitter withdrew from the competition.

Jimmy Demaret, Houston, shot a 68-74-142.

Brilliant Cast Is Seen For Relays

By RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, March 30.—The Texas Relays century dash, a 3,000-meter duel high jump, 440-yard, 880-yard and two-mile baton-passing events today appeared shining jewels in a sparkling card for the first major outdoor track and field carnival of 1940 here next Saturday.

Boasting as formidable a set of marks as any collegiate program in the country, the 13th renewal of the Southwest's top meet will draw lean speedsters and burly field men from Ohio to California and back to Louisiana for initial springtime competition.

Williams, Wolcott Clash

Promisingly brilliant, the 100-yard dash, with a record of 9.4 seconds set in 1935 by Texas' Chick Wallender and Tulane's buddy Nougass, will feature Wee Welby Williams, North Texas State Teachers' sophomore flash; Freddie Wolcott, Rice institute's famed sprint and hurdle ace; Billy Brown, Louisiana state's broad jumper and dash expert, and Lonnie Hill, Texas lad who has outrun Wolcott.

Besides these, Earl Witcher, East Texas State Teachers' third placer last year, and Ted Haese of the Southwest Texas State Teachers squad who ran fourth, are expected to line up for the starter.

Lash Defends Record

Don Lash, Indiana graduate, and Wayne Rideout of the crack distance-running Rideout Twins at North Texas, will pace it off in the same gruelling 3,000-meter run which Lash won with a spectacular last-lip burst in 1937. The pair will be special entries. Lash set the Texas relays record three years ago with 8.37.

In the high jump, crane-legged Don Boyston, startling Oklahoma A. and M. sophomore who leaped 6 feet, 8 1-4 inches, and barely missed the world record at Fort Worth recently, will be gunning for the Texas relays mark of 6 feet, 7 inches, set by Jack Ickrey of Texas in 1937. Fifteen years ago, Harold Osborns, competing as a special performer, cleared the Texas Stadium bar 6 feet, 8 15-16 inches.

Relays Exciting

Fleet quarters from Rice, Texas, Louisiana State, Oklahoma and other schools are expected to whip out excitingly in 440 and 880-yard relays, records for which are held by the Rice team of 1939 at 41.4

COLLEGE STATION, March 30 (AP)—Texas A. and M. opened its Southwest conference baseball season today with a double win over Rice institute, copping the first game 10-5 and coming from behind to win the abbreviated 7-inning nightcap 5-3.

The Owls outhit the Aggies 12 to 11 in the first game.

Stevenson and Hiegel went the full route, the former whiffing seven and Hiegel four.

Walter Bass for the Aggies and Ernie Vogt for the Owls started the second game but neither finished.

Lubbock's First Big League Game Expected To Draw Record Crowd At Hubber Park; Time Is 2:30

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

THE most courted object in Lubbock this week will be Mr. Weatherman.

Because baseball players, particularly the major league type, are temperamental fellows and dislike playing in anything except the brightest, fairest, warmest and quietest of weather.

And the big leaguers are coming to town Thursday.

The Chicago White Sox of the American League and the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National are scheduled to clash at the Hubber ball park here Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the first major league attraction ever played within a hundred miles of Lubbock.

With the big league teams will be big league umpires and big league sports writers, and if they play ball as scheduled, there'll be a big league crowd out to watch them. The latter estimation, of something like 5,000, is based on comparison with certain big league crowds in such cities as St. Louis, Philadelphia, and sometimes even Chicago, Boston and Cleveland.

IN THE PICTURES

The White Sox and The Pirates

You Know The Names

In official uniforms of the Sox and Pirates will be such famous personalities as the Waners, Little Poison and Big Poison; Arky Vaughan, Danny MacFayden, Virgil Davis, Lee Handley, Pep Young, Debs Garms, Ted Lyons, Clint Brown, Jack Knott, Thornton Lee, Mike Tresh, Luke Appling, Eric McNair, Joe Kuhel, Frank Metha, Mike Kreevich, Julius Solters, etc.

Also in uniform, and upon whom the majority of eyes will be, in off moments in the playing field, will be such old timers as Honus Wagner, Jimmy Dykes, Muddy Ruel, Frankie Frisch, Jake Flowers.

And there'll be Monte Stratton, the hard luck guy of big league pitching; James Austin, Bernard Kelly, Mace Brown, Max Butcher, Oadis Swigart, Minter Hayes, Robert Kennedy, Harold Cromer, etc. There'll also be a crop of young men having their early flings at major league baseball.

It's to be a gala day in Lubbock baseball history, no doubt.

The White Sox and the Pirates have been doing their spring training exercises in the sunny climes of Southern California for the past four weeks or so. They are heading east to resume the annual pennant races in their respective leagues. To keep fit while traveling, as well as to improve themselves and pick up some extra sheckles to defray spring training expenses, they are playing a regular schedule of exhibition games.

Resume Series Here

The White Sox and Pirates have already played two games this season. They do not play each other any more until they meet in Lubbock Thursday. Enroute to Lubbock, the White Sox are playing the Chicago Cubs at Phoenix today, the Cubs at Bisbee Monday, the Cubs at El Paso Tuesday and Wednesday.

From Lubbock, the Sox and Pirates travel together through Amarillo, Enid, Wichita, Hutchinson, Kansas City, Owensboro, Ky., and Springfield.

Because he has such a fine bunch of youngsters to bolster his established veterans, Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Sox believes he has an American League threat this season. Oh, not enough threat to oust the Yankees from their high standing, but possibly enough to climb up close behind them. "We're starting off and staying in that top division," Dykes has been quoted.

Frisch Builds Up Morale

Frankie Frisch, the old Fordham flash, is at the helm of the Pirates this year, having replaced Pie Traynor. Frisch was out of the game last year, but all fans remember his record with the Cardinals, etc.

Frisch, too, believes he has the Pirates pepped up to a point of wanting to win. Pittsburgh, it is generally agreed, has had a fine team on the field for the last several seasons, but a "defeatist attitude," or something, and Frisch, the spirit of fiery managing and a man who demands an extra lot of hustle in his ball club, thinks he has something this time.

Asked by the Avalanche-Journal to name probable starting lineups, or batting orders, for the Lubbock game, Managers Dykes and Frisch have indicated the following, except that Manager Dykes has said definitely that Ted Lyons, the old Baylor university man who is still a mainstay on the Sox pitching staff, and Jack Knott, the Brownwood, S.M.U. and Dallas giant who is an annual visitor in Lubbock and well liked here, will serve turns on the mound for the Sox.

The probable White Sox batting order for Thursday:

Minter Hayes or Don Kolloway, second base; Joe Kuhel first base; Mike Kreevich, center field; Julius Solters, left field; Luke Appling, shortstop; Taft Wright, right field; Eric McNair, third base; Mike Tresh or Kenneth Silvestri, catcher, and Jack Knott, Ted Lyons and probably Thornton Lee or Clint Brown. Three pitchers probably will be used.

The probable Pittsburgh batting order:

Waners To Start

Manager Frisch also offered an alternative lineup, but failed to name probable pitchers. He has an imposing list from which to choose, such as Russ Bauers, Joe Bowman, Mace Brown, Max Butcher, John Gee, Ray Harrell, Ken Heintzelman, Bob Klinger, Dick Lanhan, John Lanning, Danny MacFayden, Truett Sewell and Oadis Swigart.

Only Box Seats Reserved

Texas Golfers Thump Tech's Squad, 5-1

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 30—University of Texas golfers took five out of six matches with the Texas Tech team here today.

But the No. 1 doubles combination of Audy Chilton and Buck Luce had to shoot a stream of birdies and eagles on the back nine to stop Alec Cooke and J. D. Webster, 3 and 2. Chilton's eagle on No. 18 settled the match after the Longhorns had trailed at the turn by two holes.

Other results:

Chilton defeated Webster 4 and 3.

Luce blasted A. Cooke, 7 and 6.

Tom Taylor defeated Don Donherty, 1 up 20 holes.

Lon Spitzer took Billy Cooke, 5 and 4.

Junior Baseball Boys To Go To 'School' Wednesday

It's a matter of guessing, and in some cases, hoping, but it's entirely possible that a few or several future baseball stars will be uncovered during and as a result of the first "kid" baseball school ever sponsored in Lubbock.

The school starts next Wednesday, at the Fox Recreation Park, and Clarence Fox, the proprietor of the park, himself a former baseball player and a life-time student of the game, is busy getting everything in readiness to take care of approximately 200 boys between the ages of 10 and 17 who are expected to register for the school.

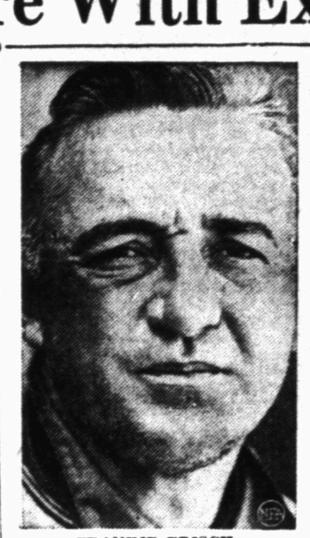

More Than 100 Registered

More than half that number, 118 to be exact, have registered at the downtown registration office, Sherrod Hardware brothers.

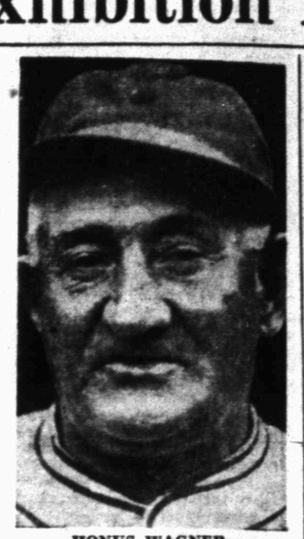

Boys may register there, or at Fox' office at the ball park, near the College Avenue driving range, between now and 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at which time the school begins. Qualified baseball men, such as Sled Allen, Vernon Brown, John King, Clarence Fox and possibly Sam Langford of Plainview, and possibly others, will serve as instructors. The school "squad" will be divided into groups corresponding with the various baseball positions; outfielders, infielders, pitchers and catchers will work seperately.

The school, which is sponsored by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce and which will run for ten afternoons, is free to all boys

About Fish And Baseball
By Collier Parris

* * *

A FISH STORY to make your mouth water and your thumb get a hankerin' for the spin of the spool is being told around town by a quartet of guys who stole a march on the Texas season, took H. Greeley's advice, and went west.

• • •

They brought pictures around to prove their stories, too. In fact, we didn't know they were home until George Box, who struggles in the composing room here at the Journal, dashed in yesterday with a double handful of snapshots. And it wasn't long until we ran into Jake Hancock, the bowling man, and he had some pictures, too. With George and Jake were "Uncle Bill" Humphries and George Turner. They fished for a week on the upper reaches of Lake Mead, on the Colorado river, in the Grand Canyon, of Nevada and Arizona.

• • •

THEY caught a lot of bass, saw a lot of fine scenery, and had a fine time. But they're true sportsmen. They tossed back most of the fish, keeping only enough to eat. Honor of taking the biggest bass went to Hancock. They weighed it, and its fighting weight was 6 and one-quarter pounds—and Jake tossed it back.

• • •

Pictures that George Box showed us yesterday — and they couldn't have been faked—included shots of the big fish, strings of fish, big strings of big fish. "It's a paradise," the boys say, "but a little hard to get to."

Place where the boys fished is some 70 miles upstream from Boulder Dam. The boys never got to Boulder Dam, thus missing a big part of the trip. From their camp, it's about an 18-hour drive, if you can make it by the cops, from Lubbock. It's a rough, wild country —you can still see wild burros and even get pictures of them, from a distance, as George did—but once you get there, it's fine fishing. The boys could see big fish down in the glass-clear water, 20 to 40 feet deep, but they did surface casting mostly, and fought the big fellows as they rose for the lure. "We tossed back anything under 5 pounds, kept only the big ones for picture purposes."

THAT THE South Plains will be represented on the Lubbock professional baseball club this summer is indicated by the signing of Ed Altman, former Littlefield, Enoch and Amherst pitcher, by Joe Brown, business manager of the Hubbers.

• • •

Altman, a big lefthander, was so strongly recommended to this department by Durwood Howell, of the Enochs Howells, now of Littlefield, that we fired a wire to Charley Engle, manager-elect of the Hubbers, suggesting he give the big boy a chance. Altman was willing to go to the Jonesboro, Ark., camp at his own expenses for a try-out. Engle forwarded the telegram to Billy Webb in Chicago, head of the White Sox farms, and Webb ordered Brown, who'll manage the business for the Hubbers here this season, to sign the boy up and send him to Jonesboro. The signing has been done, and Altman leaves early today for Dallas to join Engle and several others who'll go to Jonesboro, where spring training starts Wednesday.

BILL AND A BASS—Its one of those big fellows hooked by W. S. (Bill) Humphries while fishing on Lake Mead with George Box, George Turner and Jake Hancock.

We recall having seen Altman pitch several innings a few seasons ago, when he was but about 17 or 18 years old, and he looked pretty good. Durwood Howell, who is a pretty classy baseballer himself, says Altman is as big and as powerful as Jerry Blanchard, and that Ed has a helluvalot more control. Blanchard had everything but control.

So Altman is going to get his chance, and you may be assured that Manager Engle will take particular pains with the boy, with the hope of bringing a "native son" back to Lubbock. And here's a big hope that Altman makes good.

BROWN has signed up two other players for the Hubber team since he has been here this week. One is Max Hilton, originally from Claremore, Okla., but who worked around here last year and who went to Longview to try out with the Hubbers. He was a third base candidate, but there was Johnny Taylor, so Max was cut off. He was promised a return try, and it will not be surprising if Hilton turns up as the Hubber third baseman. He's every bit as good a fielder as Taylor, and maybe better because he's a better hustler. He was a little weak with the willow, but a year makes a lot of difference with kids his age.

Westerners Cop Third Place In Caprock Relays

Activity around the cinderpath and over the turf at Chapman Field are due to be accelerated considerably this week as Coach "Goober" Keyes' Lubboc': High track machine "steps on the gas" in preparation for a defense of their District 3 Interscholastic league crown at Tech Stadium Friday and Saturday, April 12 and 13.

Three times champions of the best the South Plains has to offer in the way of track and field aggregations, the Black and Gold iron men are in a fair way of becoming titilists for the fourth consecutive year.

Meet Here Friday

Such a triumph would increase the Westerners amazing string of district pennants to an appreciable and impressive number, considering that the Black and Gold has dominated district competition in football, basketball and track for the past two years—gaining state—and even national :ecognition doing so.

Friday afternoon, Coach Keyes has planned an invitation meet, to be conducted at the Westerners' layout. Starting time will likely be about 3 o'clock and a list of teams to compete will be completed early this week, Coach Keyes said.

Amarillo Wins First

Coach Keyes and his charges returned early Saturday morning from their first test under fire—the Caprock Relays at Memphis, in which 20 high school track and field teams of the Panhandle participated.

Showing up in fine fettle, the Westerners, with a skeleton crew, came home with third place honors, trailing Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm and Claude High in that order.

Redwine Cops Century

Frank Redwine, remembered for his service at a terminal post during the grid campaign, flashed down the century path in :10.1 seconds, a new meet record for the Caprock event. The triumph was Lubbock's only first place trophy, but enough points were garnered in other divisions to sove the Westerners into a third place finish.

In the 200-yard dash, Redwine came in fourth in a fast field. James Barker, veteran in the business, came around in the 880-yard run, finishing a close second on a final spurt. The combination of Miller Thorne, Aubrey Thompson, Leete

Michigan Crew Sets World's Swim Mark

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30 (AP)—Michigan's powerful 400-yard relay team broke the listed world's record for the distance tonight in winding up a successful defense of its National collegiate swimming championship. The time of 3:31 was more than a second better than the former mark, made by the New York A. C. last year.

The Wolverines, composed of Ed Hutchens, John Gillis, Charley Barker and Gus Sharemet splashed their way to a two-foot triumph over Yale, which was the runner-up for team honors. The relay victory gave Michigan 45 points, three more than the Blue.

INTRAMURAL CAGE CHAMPIONS—Court rulers of intramural cage competition at Lubbock High school are these two aggregations. CATS ON RAMPAGE

FORT WORTH, March 30. (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats scored their second victory of the exhibition season over the Dallas Rebels here today 12-3 when the Dixie champions went on a batting rampage.

Sixteen hits including Walt Cazen's home run, were made off the pitching of Earl Overman and John Pintar.

ACC Drops Tech Netters, 6 To 1

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, March 30. — Abilene Christian netters defeated Texas Tech six matches to one here this afternoon, losing only their No. 1 singles. In that match Tech's Sidney Moore rallied to beat Joe Taylor 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Other results were as follows:

Murray Marshall, ACC, defeated Jack Shanks, 6-3, 6-2.

Joe Elrod, ACC, defeated Harold Beckmeyer, 6-1, 6-2.

J. W. Elrod, ACC, defeated Buster Houston, 6-1, 6-3.

Max Munn, ACC, defeated Lloyd Brunson, 6-1, 6-3.

Marshall and Joe Elrod, ACC, defeated Moore and Shanks, 6-4, 6-2.

REDS RELEASE HINRICHS

TAMPA, Fla., March 30. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds released Pitcher Gene Hinrichs on option yesterday to Indianapolis of the American Association. The 24-year-old left-hander, with Henderson, Tex., last year, was one of 91 players cast into free agency by Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis early in January.

Hedges Show Up As Olton Wins Lamb Pennant

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LITTLEFIELD, March 30—Faced by the Hedges twins, Olton High school amassed 72 1-2 points to capture the Lamb County track and field diadem. More than 2000 fans witnessed the gala affair which was concluded under the lights at high school field here tonight.

Littlefield finished second to Olton with 34 5-6 points, followed by Sudan with 16 tallies. Spring Lake, Amherst and Spade trailed in that order with 14, 8 and six markers. The Hedges duo accounted for 32 of Olton's 72 1-2 points in the 14-event meet.

McKnight Top Scorer

Maxie McKnight, Littlefield's red-headed all-around athlete, definitely stamped himself as a favorite to cop district laurels by placing first in five events. In scoring all but 9 5-6 points for Littlefield, McKnight turned in a 15 3-8 high hurdles mark and leaped 20 feet six inches for the broad jump record.

Officials of the meet were E. J. (Pinky) Lowrey, head starter; Bill Amo, James Barker, Elmer Moore and Joe Harlow. Bill Sanders, Littlefield high school athletic head, directed the games.

The summary:

120-yard high hurdles — Maxie McKnight, Littlefield; Givens, Olton; Jackson, Olton; Walthal of Olton and Bradley of Littlefield. Time—15.8 seconds.

180-yard dash—Willis Hedges, Olton; Willard Hedges, Olton; Elliot, Amherst; Blanchard, Sudan. Time—10.4 seconds.

440-yard dash—Willard Hedges, Olton; Elliot, Amherst; Black, Littlefield; Cunningham, Littlefield. Time—58 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—McKnight, Littlefield; Willis Hedges, Olton; Black, Littlefield; Jackson, Olton. Time—26.6 seconds.

220-yard dash—Willis Hedges, Olton; Williams, Olton; Hall, Olton; Black, Littlefield. Time—23.5 seconds.

High jump—McKnight, Littlefield; Trull, Springlake; Jackson, Olton; Lyle, Sudan. Height—5 feet, 8 inches.

Javelin—Cook, Spade; Dutton, Sudan; Seymore, Sudan; Quails, Amherst. Distance—132 feet, 9 inches.

Discus—Lyon, Olton; Willard Hedges, Olton; Givens, Olton; James, Littlefield. Distance—109 feet, 4 inches.

Long-Delayed Tribute To Be Poured As Toasts To Texas' Uncle Billy Disch Thursday

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUSTIN, March 30—College baseball' old silver fox, William J. (Uncle Billy) Disch, sits down at the banquet table here next Thursday night to hear 40 years of his fabulous past poured into brief, long-delayed tribute.

Old Uncle Billy, wrinkled and snowy-haired but still as solid at 65 as any youngster who steals second base on his University of Texas teams, will be circled by the greats—some of those he saw blossom in 30 years of tutoring the Longhorns.

Has Fashioned Majors

Not many college coaches have had longer continuous careers than Uncle Billy.

Over his hawk-nose and through squinting eyes he has watched such lads as Frank (Pinky) Higgins, Bib Falk, Ernie Koy, Oscar Eckhardt and others jump from his school to major league stints. Baseball knows no craftier man than the lovable old fellow who is content to take 'teen age kids in the plastic years and shape them into some of the finest college baseball units the nation has ever known.

Celebrities Galore

Uncle Billy starts on his twenty-fifth Southwest conference campaign favored to win his twenty-first title. The banquet is just the "kickoff" to another conceded pennant. Celebrities by the hundreds will be there.

Maybe they'll tell the story that goes back almost to the turn of the century, when Uncle Billy was coaching at St. Edward's university in Austin. Some of the old-timers swear it's true.

Several Pros Played

The yarn concerns a game University of Texas played St. Edward's. Seems as if the St. Edward's team, not bound by any league rules, had several players slightly on the professional side. Such names as Bill Killefer, the old big league catcher; Cavanaugh, reputedly a Washington Senator shortstop; a fellow named Walsh, a St. Louis Brown pitcher; Fred Schatzke, supposedly manager of the Galveston Texas league team, and a few other "seasoned" players were on the St. Edward's nine.

Texas was trailing in the late innings, but managed to crowd three runners across the plate. Catcher Killefer, with a deft movement, made an attempted play at third base and threw a big, round Irish potato into left field!

So They Hired Him

Texas runners started streaming in while the fielder juggled the potato. One by one, as they crossed the plate, Killefer slyly tagged the runners with the ball, which he had fished out of his pocket.

But be it said for Uncle Billy, he waved the Texas runners back to their bases when the potato act was uncovered.

The regularity with which Uncle Billy whipped Texas finally caused them to enact the old—"if you can't beat 'em; join 'em" act. Uncle Billy was hired as Texas coach along about 1911.

Manager Too

Between his St. Edward's and Texas jobs, he played and managed Fort Worth and Galveston in the Texas league. Furthermore, he was one of the "roughest, hardest hitting, 135 pound halfbacks I ever saw wrapped in a football uniform," one of the old-timers said recently. He played at Et. Edward's.

Uncle Billy's greatest thrill? Intimates say he got it when Howard Fitzgerald, a lusty hitting outfielder who later played with Philadelphia, stood up at the plate some 20 years ago, worked things along to a three-and-two count, two men out, and belted the next pitch for a home run that beat Baylor and won Texas the Southwest conference title in the last game!

The opposing pitcher? Oh—it was Teddy Lyons, the grand old man still hurling for the Chicago White Sox.

Sweetwater Tourney Opens Golf Season

SWEETWATER, March 30 (Spcl.)—Preparations are underway for West Texas' first golf tournament of the 1940 season, the fourth annual invitation of the Sweetwater Golf association, to be played over the 18-hole grass greens course at Lake Sweetwater April 18 through the 21. Lonnie Wendland of San Antonio is the defending champion and he has indicated he will be here to defend the title.

More than $300 in prizes will be awarded the winners and runners-up of each flight, winners of consolation flights, medalist, winner of the long driving contest and winners of team play.

Qualifying scores are to be recorded by 6 p. m. opening day, to be followed by the long driving contest, a barbecue and the Calcutta pool.

President Paul Comolli announces appointment of the following committee chairmen: Entertainment, O. O. Harris; Ladies Entertainment, Mrs. Bill Sheridan; Registration, Henry M. Rogers; Prizes, Rigdon Edwards; Rules, Guy Wilson; Pairings, R. R. Lacy; Calcutta Pool, L. M. Watson; Publicity, George D. Barber.

Tech Gridders Face Skirmish Saturday

Day by day Texas Tech's spring football practice sessions are getting just a little longer and a bit harder. But the past is nothing compared to the work the coaches have planned for their gladiators this week. In fact there will be blood on the football moon in ye old stadium this week because the boys have only six days to get themselves ready for the first scrimmage.

Coaches have warned the boys that they'll all get an opportunity to show their ability in the scrimmage and that they had better be in top condition for the head bumping.

Yesterday's practice saw the various candidates going harder, particularly the backs who are "catching on" to their assignments and have started going the right instead of the wrong way. C. L. Storrs, Milton Hill, Bill Brown, Rusty Johnston, Norman Kingsbury and Charles Dvoracek were some of the backs who turned in creditable workouts yesterday and announced themselves ready for next Saturday's scrimmage. Once again the backs worked on their speed, kicking and passing. Roger Smith looked exceptionally good tossing the ball around.

Linemen Get Works

Line Coach "Dutcy" Smith gave some of his better forwards a real workout yesterday in blocking assignments. Some of the boys who seemed to please Smith were Newman Ledbetter, tackle; Eddie Saliba, tackle; Lonnie McCurry, guard; Will Allbright, guard, and Wayne Pipes, center. Marvin Shields, a transfer from Miami Junior College, although new to the Notre Dame system, revealed that he is going to give some boy plenty of competition for a regular tackle berth. Shields, a fine looking 196 pound boy, tears into practice like he really loves this game of football.

Westerners Cop Third

Relay Team Promising

And in the mile relay, a department in which considerable attention is focused at the District meet because it carries some undefinable sort of prestige it seems, the Westerners finished fourth, looking good doing so. The quartet was composed of Redwine, Joe Tyson, Jimmie Williamson, and Barker.

Other events found: James Kelly taking second in the 120-yard low hurdles and L. A. Storrs topping the timbers in the same event in fourth place; Williams speeding over the wood in the 220-yard low hurdles race in second position; third in the discus was won by Jackson, an impressive toss at that; and John Perry came through with third place points in the javelin.

seconds and Texas of 1936 at 1:25.6.

Gunning for the two-mile relay mark of 7:47.6, set by Drake university runners in 1937, will be California's George Pepperdine university specialists and a quartet from Indiana, home of numerous distance performers including Lash.

Louisiana State Threat

Brown is favored to win the broad jump for L. S. U. and may set a new record since the 24 feet, 8 inch, standard held by Jud Atchison of Texas, is within his range.

The Louisiana State mile relayers, anchored by Frank Church and intact to defend its 1939 championship, may wipe off the oldest record in the relay books—3:18.4, established by the University of Chicago in 1929. Last year the Tigers were clocked in 3:18.8.

Texans Are Entered

Three of last year's hurdles placers will be back, headed by Wolcott who in 1938 set the brilliant Texas Relays record of 13.9 seconds. Pete Owens of Howard Payne and Ed Driess of Texas A. and M. finished three-four last year. Boyce Gatewood of Texas, who has pushed Wolcott to records, also is entered.

Preliminaries will be necessary in the 100-yard dash, the high hurdles and the high school mile relay. One final event, the high school medley, also will be run off in the morning. Finals are slated for 2 p. m. with several field events getting under way half hour earlier.

week is Ed Patrow, an infielder from St. Paul, who wants to take his chance in spring training.

• • •

The three signed by Brown last week brings the total Hubber spring training roster to a flat 40. This number, however, includes the reserve players from last year, nearly all of whom will get a trial with Waterloo, Iowa. Georga Amthor, Clovis Bridwell, Walter Gorski, Lee Harris, Mel Kramer, Andy Sandretto, Ray Sparr, Boyd Watkins, Matt Zorko, Doc O'Neill, all are included in the list, but of this number, only four are expected to play for Lubbock. They are Engle, who'll manage the club and play shotrstop if necessary; Andy Sandretto, a pretty fair left-handed pitcher; O'Neill, an outfielder, and possibly Kramer, whom you know as the scatterbrain pitcher of last season.

• • •

SOME names on the possible Lubbock roster: August Schoppman, second baseman from Centerville, Ia.; George Costa, catcher from Staunton, Ill.; Loe Bougie, pitcher from Muskegon, Mich.; John Hyma, pitcher from Muskegon; John Wadzita, pitcher from Chicago; Nick Pesut, catcher from DeKalb, Ill.; Joe Shonts, first baseman from Centerville, Ia.; Gene Schlereth, outfielder from St. Louis; Walter Slonski, shortstop from St. Louis; Julius Czajkowski, pitcher from Route 2, Armond, Wis.; Roy Finocchiaro, pitcher from St. Louis; Robert Comyn catcher from Chicago, and Vincent Castino, catcher from Chicago.

• • •

Looks like an "all-American" team for Lubbock this season, especially if Matthew Zorko and Walter Gorski of last year's staff return, along with Sandretto.

But if they can play ball, that's all we ask, and as many pennants will fly from the center field flagpole, come (what) May.

Each boy is expected to attend each day, and at the end of the school he will receive a merit badge or "diploma." Also, he will be eligible to play in the "all-star" game which will climax the school. Two picked teams will play a regular game at the Fox park at the end of the school.

Following the Chicago White Sox-Pittsburgh Pirates game here Thursday afternoon, certain members of each of those big league teams will be invited to address the youngsters attending the school. Such big league men as Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pirates; Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Sox; Jack Knott and Ted Lyons, famous pitcher with the Sox, will be invited to meet with the Thursday afternoon class.

Texas Girl Selected Queen Of National AAU Cage Tourney

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 30. (AP)—Lucille Moore, 17-year-old senior on the Wayside, Tex., High school basketball team, tonight was revealed as the queen of the 1940 National AAU women's basketball tournament.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore and was selected Wednesday night by Perry Pipkin of Memphis, Tenn., National president of junior chamber of commerce, and Fred Gardner of Lincoln, Neb., a past national director of the same organization.

Miss Moore, a distinct brunette, is one of 11 girls in the Wayside High school, 10 of whom play basketball and came here for the National meet after winning both the Texas prep title and the Lone Star AAU laurels.

Wayside High has but 25 students and is located in the heart of the Texas wheat belt, 22 miles from a paved road. Wayside's population is approximately 40.

Throughout her high school studies Miss Moore prepared herself for a business career and this summer will join the clerical staff of the American National Insurance Co., of Galveston, Tex., and continue her basketball with the Anicos of that city.

Indiana Stops Kansas For NCAA Cage Title

KANSAS CITY, March 30 (AP)—Jay McCreary, a gum chewing blond midget in a forest of physical giants, poured in 12 points tonight as Indiana university defeated the University of Kansas, 60 to 42 for the basketball title of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

The Hoosiers, only second in the Big Ten conference but winners of the recent Eastern NCAA playoffs, replace the University of Oregon at the top of the collegiate cage heap. Kansas, representing the area west of the Mississippi, shares the Big Six conference championship with Missouri and Oklahoma.

It took Indiana eight minutes to get its first goal but they learned the trick well and after that there was no stopping them. By intermission time they were out in front, 32 to 19.

Conger Is Sensation Of Detroit Hurlers

LAKELAND, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The six foot son of a Los Angeles policeman, playing his first professional baseball, is the pitching sensation of the Detroit Tigers training camp this spring.

Richard (Dick) Conger has pitched 15 consecutive scoreless innings for Detroit in the "Grapefruit league" against Brooklyn, Boston, Cincinnati, and St. Louis of the National league and Washington of the American league.

Until the Reds scored two runs against him Friday only five batters had hit safely and only two had managed to reach third base.

Aggies, Steers Meet In Boxing Contests

COLLEGE STATION, March 30. (AP)—The state's most ancient athletic rivals, Texas and Texas A. and M., finally will go at it with their fists.

On Saturday, April 17, the Texas and Aggies boxing clubs will hold team matches in the Aggie gym.

Boxing is not a recognized Southwest conference sport, but some of the best fighters of the two schools have organized clubs. The fights may lead to long-awaited intercollegiate boxing in the conference.

FLOYDADA, March 30. (Special)—Bill Scott was chosen president of the newly organized Meadowlake Golf club by directors, J. C. Gilham was chosen secretary. They with Lindsey Graham, Bill Sharp and Aubrey Stewart are the directors. Jim Curry was employed as caretaker.

Committees Appointed For Southern Tourney

FORT WORTH, March 30. (AP)—Committees to have charge of the Women's Southern golf championship event here May 20-25 were named today.

Mrs. Walter B. Stark heads the tournament committee with Mrs. Van Zandt Smith, Mrs. Ellison Harding, Dr. Alden Coffey, J. Mac Thompson and Morris E. Berney as members.

Archibald's Feather Lid Lifted By NBA

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP)—The National Boxing Association today withdrew featherweight title recognition from Joey Archibald, Pawtucket, R. I., for failing to defend his title within six months, as required by the N.B.A.

GRAHAM WINS TITLE

OLNEY, March 30. (AP)—Graham High school won the Young county Interscholastic track meet here today with Olney placing second and Newcastle third. George Wilde was high scorer with 21 1-4 points.

First Issue Of School Magazine Here Is Dedicated To The Late Roscoe Wilson

It is significant that this first issue used a Texas theme, for the late Mr. Wilson was born in Brazoria, Texas, in 1881. He came to Lubbock to make his home on July 4, 1909. These and other facts about Mr. Wilson are printed on the dedication page of the magazine, which has a printed picture of the man for whom the school was named.

Finnish Runner To Try 3 Miles Tonight

NEW YORK, March 30. (AP)—The trails of the world's two greatest distance runners come together at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night when Taiso Maki, Finland's successor to the great Paavo Nurmi, and Notre Dame's Gregory Rice clash at three miles in a seven event all-star track and field meet for the Finnish fund.

No man has ever run three miles as fast as Maki's world outdoor record of 13 minutes, 42.4 seconds. Rice in February lowered the indoor mark for the distance to 13:55.9. The only question is whether Maki is ready for his best effort. Nurmi, coach of the young Finn, insists his protege is, though he has dropped two of his five races at other distances on his nationwide tour.

Horner Hurls Froggies To Win Over Ponies

FORT WORTH, March 30 (AP) — Durward Horner, veteran right-hander, bested SMU's young Jimmy Tyler, 4-2 in the second game of the Frog-Mustang series here today.

The victory gave the Purple an even break, the Mustangs having won yesterday's opener.

Tyler, a sophomore, allowed only seven hits but all of the Frog runs were earned. Horner gave up six blows, was steady in the pinches and was given good support.

Sooners Are Defeated By Longhorns, 8 to 6

AUSTIN, Mrch 30. (AP)—Texas outlasted Oklahoma in a long, weird baseball game of 23 hits and seven errors here today, winning 8-6.

Although the Longhorns' last two scores came home on an error, the big bats of Bobby Moers and Pete Layden were deciding factors. Moers clipped two doubles and a single, while Layden blasted a two-bagger and a towering home run.

GIANTS 5; DODGERS 2

AMERICUS, Ga., March 30. (AP)—After 20 scoreless innings in three games New York Giants pitching allowed an opposition tally today but nevertheless downed the Brooklyn Dodgers 5 to 2.

BROWNS WIN AND LOSE

SAN ANTONIO, March 30. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns' regulars eked out a 6 to 5 victory over Toledo in a morning game today, but the American Leaguers' "B" squad suffered a 7 to 0 shutout at the hands of Tulsa in an afternoon contest.

SENATORS TAKE BEES

BRADENTON, Fla., March 30. (AP)—An excellent six-inning pitching stint by Joe Sullivan went for naught today when the Washington Senators fell on the offerings of Dick Errickson and Bill Weir to slam out a 6-2 verdict over the Boston Bees.

Woman Lawyer Turns To New Profession

HOUSTON, March 30. (AP)—Five years ago Miss Leone Flanz made a resolution.

"I resolve to change my profession from lawyer to perfumer."

That resolution told the story of the victory of femininity over early ambition.

She transformed her law office into a laboratory, where she blends fine perfumes out of ingredients imported from places as distant as Abysinnia and Tibet.

Miss Flanz spent several years of hard study to earn an LL.M. degree, awarded her in 1934. She was a court reporter for a while, sold some law books, probated a few wills and did other jobs that most lawyers do in their first struggling years.

But soon law books were forgotten for books on perfumery, and an interesting hobby became a profession.

WEEK ENDS GOOD

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Fresh war buying entered the stock market today and enabled the list to finish a generally satisfactory week on the upside.

Steels, aircrafts and specialties took the lead in the selective advance which put many leaders up as much as a point or so with one or two isolated issues climbing around 4. Profit taking occasionally halted the march but favorites generally closed near the day's best. Utilities, coppers and oils were narrow.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .2 of a point at 50.3, with a net gain of .8 on the week. A month ago the composite stood at 49.4 and a year ago at 48.8. While the ticker tape was never pressed, the turnover was the largest for any Saturday since Dec. 30, last, amounting to 571,880 shares against 392,470 in the preceding short session. The week's volume of 4,837,558 shares compared with 2,782,049 the previous week and was the biggest turnover for any week since last November.

Lockheed paced the aircrafts with a gain of more than a point at a new 1940 top. Loft made a new high but slipped at the finish. Prominent on the pusswing were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Curtiss, Chrysler, Monigomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Western Union, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Pennsylvania, McKesson and Robbins common and prferred and Coca Cola.

In the curb Aluminum of America ran up 4½ and lesser improvement was had by Bell Aircraft, Brewster Aro, American Gas, Gulf Oil and American Cyanamid "B."

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The splash of buying that ripped textile markets late this week spread quickly to the cotton futures ring today where prices advanced 3 to 7 points.

Domestic mills fixed prices more actively and some short covering appeared following news from Worth street cloth markets the week's sales of print cloths and related items totaled between 28,000,000 and 30,000,000 yards. For the first time since December, according to estimates, sales outstripped current mill output.

Foreign offerings came into the market, together with hedge offerings and liquidation, but the pressure was easily withstood.

Traders also paid considerable attention to reports of heavy rains overnight in the East and Central parts of the Southern belt. In view of the general deficiency of sub-soil moisture, most traders said the rains should help the crop.

Equally cheering to cotton men was the news cloth sales had been made at steady to firm prices. Many brokers forecast a rise in quotations if present fast demand carries through.

Exports Friday 3,151 bales; season so far 5,429,648. Port receipts 18,570; port stocks 2,909,544.

Only Public Officers Can Use WPA Labor

LAS CRUCES, N. M., March 30. (AP)—U. S. District Judge Colin Neblett peered sharply today at John B. Reidlinger, who pleaded guilty to diverting services of a WPA stonemason at State Teachers college, Silver City.

"How did you think you could get away with this?" he demanded of the silent defendant.

"You are not a mayor, or a member of a town board—why are you diverting WPA labor? I thought that was a privilege of public officials."

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP) — The wheat market made feeble rallying attempts today due to clearing southwestern weather and international political developments but after advancing about ½ cent prices fluctuated nervously.

Reports of diminished selling of loan wheat tended to strengthen the market at times but hedging of this grain continued to be felt on the selling side. Crop advices from the southwest remained pessimistic but the week's rains were reported to have improved moisture conditions in the spring wheat zone.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ½ cent higher than yesterday, May $1.04⅝@1.04½, July $1.03⅝@1.03¼; corn unchanged to ⅜ up, May 56⅜, July 57⅝-57¾; oats unchanged to ¼ lower.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 30 (AP)—Moderate demand for grain was reported here today. Estimated receipts were: wheat 5 cars, corn 2, oats 2, sorghums 1 and cane seed 2. Cars manifested Friday were: wheat 10, corn 4, oats 7, and sorghums 1. Prices quoted by the grain and cotton exchange, based on bids, offers and actual sales to midday ranged as follows, basis carloads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to Texas Gulf ports, domestic rate, on Texas common points:

Soghums No. 2 yellow milo pe 100 lbs. nom. 1.28@130; No 3 milo nom. 1.25@1.27. No. 2 white kafi nom. 1.23@1.25; No. 3 kafir nom. 1.20@1.22.

Former Football Man Slain; Officer Held

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., March 30. (AP)—Archer Moore, 22, of Ashland, Ky., former football player at Western Kentucky Teachers college, where he was enrolled as a senior and a former professional grid player with a Cincinnati team, was shot and killed early today.

Police Chief R. E. Monahan said M. P. Raney, 40, special officer for the Louisville & Nashville railroad, had been charged with murder.

Sam Jones Leaves To Return To Louisiana

TUCSON, Ariz., March 30. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Jones, tanned and rested, left today for Louisiana to get ready for spring house cleaning — governor-nominate Jones at the Capitol and Mrs. Jones in the governor's mansion.

They said three weeks here visiting Mrs. Jones' relatives had given them zest for the task, but Jones added:

"No governor has ever faced a harder job than I will face after May 14 when I go into office."

The Lake Charles attorney who overthrew the Long machine in the Democratic runoff election said social security, relief and WPA problems would be among the many he would tackle.

Mrs. Jones said she would clean up the mansion while her husband tackles the political situation. She plans to make a "real home of it."

Dairy Show At Fort Worth May Be Held

FORT WORTH, March 30. (AP)—An annual southwestern dairy and poultry exposition to be held here during the fall became a possibility today when officers and directors of the Texas Dairy Products association unanimously indorsed such a plan at a meeting here.

With hopes that the plan might be worked out in time for the first exposition to be held this fall, a committee was appointed to contact the poultry and allied interests in the Southwest.

Attorney General Jackson And J. Edgar Hoover Defend Justice Department

Police School Is Concluded

BY ALLEN C. DIBBLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and Chief G-Man J. Edgar Hoover united today in declarations that there is no basis for fears that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is becoming an OGPU or a Gestapo.

They asserted in speeches before the National Police academy that law enforcement in the United States is essentially a local problem and any attempt to organize a nationalistic police would not be consistent with our system of government.

Students Graduated

The academy, sponsored by the FBI, graduated 36 state and local officers from its training school.

"In the United States," the attorney general said, "the primary burden of crime control must be carried by local municipal, county and state police forces. There is no purpose to be served to build up a national police force to supersede, rival, or even relieve local law enforcement agencies in the enforcement of local law.

"I can well understand that the terrible persecution of policing powers in some countries of Europe has made many Americans, whose sincerity and intelligence I deeply respect, sensitive about police activities here. Certainly, however, nothing in the general picture warrants fears that it (the FBI) is perpetrating in this country like an OGPU or a Gestapo.

Hoover criticized recently by congressional liberals who contended he has overextended the authority of the FBI asserted that "we are and have been thoroughly opposed to centralized dictatorial police power no matter under what name or guise it may be camouflaged."

Defending his bureau against charges of "third degree tactics," he said the record of the FBI against marauding gangs and kidnapers "could not have been achieved had America, and illegal methods been used."

He said that although 52,000 persons have been convicted because of FBI investitgations, not a single conviction had been overturned by a court of justice because of the use of "third degree" tactics.

Walter Davies Announces For Reelection As Justice Of The Peace In Precinct 1

* * *

Walter Davies, justice of peace in precinct 1, place 1, authorized Avalanche-Journal publications Saturday to announce him for reelection to his office, subject to Democratic primaries.

Davies, former architect's representative on some of the largest construction projects in the Southwest and a carpenter since 1908, has been guided in office by the dictum that "it's better where possible to let the convicted pay their fines on the outside, rather than send them to jail.

"Better for the county, which would have to foot the bill, and better for the convicted, whose livelihood is summarily cut off."

Keep Families From Suffering

Naturally, he explains, there are some who must be sent to jail, but, "by and large, misdemeanor assessments can be satisfied in the majority of cases by allowing persons charged to continue their work so that their families will not suffer while they satisfy their obligations to society."

"And it is better for the man convicted," he points out, "inasmuch as he, convicted of a misdeanor offense, does not have to feel like a felon."

Davies, who supervised construction on the great courthouse that rises from the Winkler county desert, the Scharbauer hotel in Midland, a seven-story building at Brownwood, two school buildings at Eastland and others, has lived in Lubbock since 1924, in this section since 1899.

Savings Were Wiped Out

He moved to Garza county, then to New Mexico, was a sheep rancher in Crosby county and New Mexico four years beginning in 1915, but saw his savings wiped out by the hard winter of 1918, when lambs were dropped—frozen stiff a brief few minutes later.

"At that time," he said, "a big New Mexico sheep outfit offered to pay $1 a ton a mile for hauling feed—its own feed." He said that since feed had to be taken 33 miles it cost $33 to send a ton of hay by Mexican burros.

Davies returned to his carpentry. The depression hit and he gave up building.

"I have much appreciation for consideration of the voters in the past and again solicit its support," he said, "promising to continue discharging duties of office with fairness, consideration and honesty."

Sons Of Legion To Receive Free Fees

Enrollment fees for all members of Lubbock squadron of Sons of the American Legion desiring to participate in the kids' baseball school starting Wednesday will be paid by Allen Bros. post of the Legion, according to announcement Saturday.

Furthermore, the first 20 members of the squadron who enroll will be given passes to the Chicago White Sox-Pittsburgh Pirates baseball game Thursday.

These were the announcements of members of a committee of Allen Bros. post and are directing a membership drive for the squadron. Members of the committee are Harlie D. Woods, Grady West, O. A. Terry, A. C. Jackson, H. H. Griffith and W. M. Peticolas.

Woods, chairman of the committee, reminded that all boys eligible for membership in the sons' organization are invited to attend a meeting in Allen Bros post hall Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Those invited, he added, are the sons or adopted sons of World war veterans.

ONCE A SCURVY PREVENTATIVE

Originally, lemon sherbet was made as a preventative of scurvy. In an effort to make this antiscorbutic more attractive to patients, a pharmacist of Florence, Italy, froze lemonade in 1660.

DRINKING ANCIENT WATER

HOUSTON, March 30. (AP) — The water Houston residents drink may be 2,640 years old.

J. B. Dannenbaum, chief engineer of the Houston water department, said the water probably fell as rain near Hempstead about 700 B. C.

"Our geologists tell us," he said, "that in this artesian basin the rate of flow from the outcrop of the sands near Hempstead toward the Gulf is about 100 feet per year.

"An underground trip from the Hempstead neighborhood would require some 2,640 years."

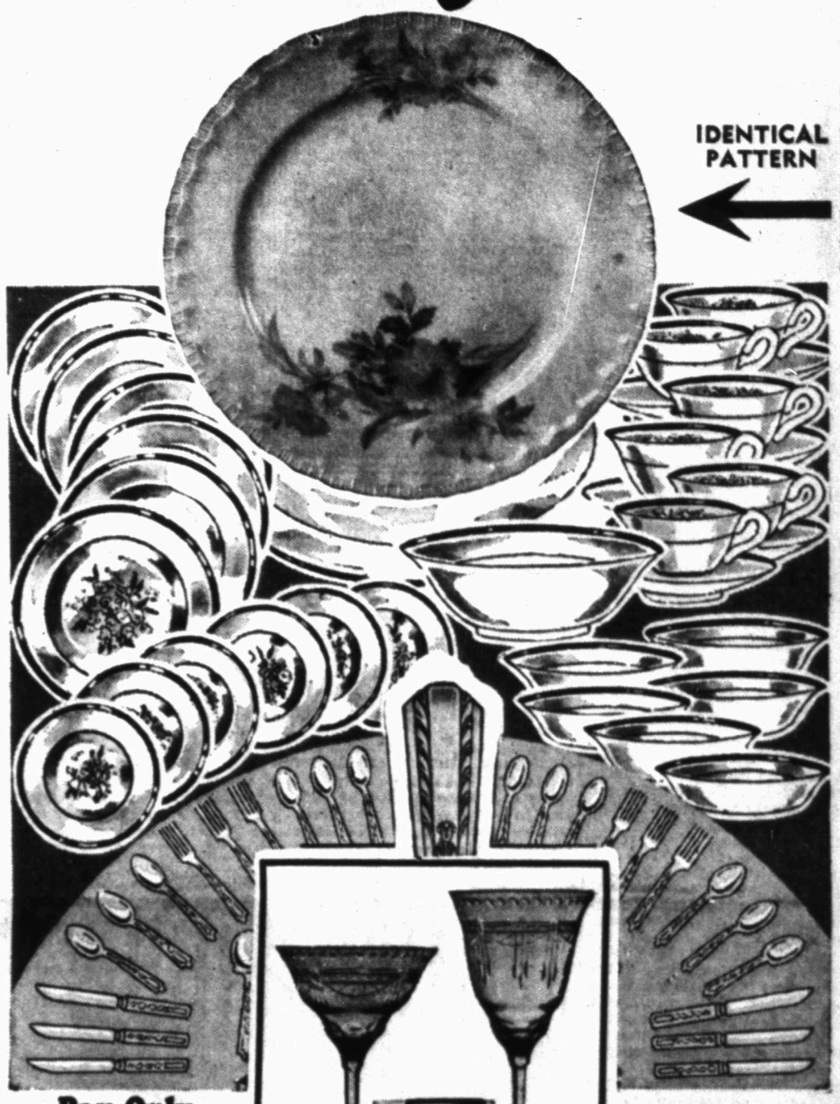

COUGHS UP HIS FREEDOM

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—When U. S. marshals took Paul Cretzer, bank robber, from his cell for a visit with his wife they didn't like the looks of his mouth. Insisting that their prisoner "spit it out," they obtained a key fashioned from a spoon. It fitted the handcuffs he was wearing.

Hull Says United States Refuses To Recognize Jap-Sponsored Government

Jap-Sponsored Set-Up Rapped

WASHINGTON, March 30. (U.P.)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull again condemning "acts of aggression" which rob people of their political independence, made it plain today that this nation will not recognize the new Japanese-sponsored Chinese government established at Nanking.

Hull issued a formal statement declaring that the United States has ample reason to believe that the national government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek at Chunking "still has the allegiance and support of the great majority of the Chinese people."

Driven From Nanking

The U. S., he said, recognized the national government of the Republic of China 12 years ago, and continues to recognize it. This is the government now established at Chungking after being driven from Nanking.

"In the light of what has happened in various parts of China since 1931, the setting up of a new regime at Nanking has the appearance of a further step in the program of one country by armed force to impose its will upon a neighboring country and to block off a large area of the world from normal political and economic relations with the rest of the world," Hull's statement said.

"The development there appear to be following the pattern of other regimes and systems which have been set up in China under the aegis of an outside power and deny to nationals of the United States and other third countries enjoyment of long established rights of equal and fair treatment which are legally and justly theirs.

Statements Noted

"The government of the United States has noted statements of high officials of that outside power that their country intends to respect the political independence and freedom of the other country and that with the development of affairs in East Asia this intention will be demonstrated. To this government the circumstances, both military and diplomatic, which have attended the setting up of the new regime at Nanking do not seem consistent with such an intention.

"The attitude of the United States toward use of armed force as an instrument of national policy is well known. Its attitude and position with regard to various aspects of the situation in the Far East has been made clear on numerous occassions. That attitude and position remain unchanged.

Reason For Action

"This government again makes full reservation of this country's rights under international law and existing treaties and agreements.

"Twelve years ago the government of the United States recognized, as did other governments, the national government of the Republic of China. The government of the United States has ample reason for believing that that government, with its capital now at Chungking, has had and still has the allegiance and support of the great majority of the Chinese people.

"The government of the United States, of course, continues to recognize that government as the government of China."

San Antonio Florist Has Greenhouse Full Of 1,200 Orchids

SAN ANTONIO, March 30 (AP)—Twelve hundred orchids, delicate exotic blooms having value estimated at from $10 to $1,000, flourish in one Bexar county greenhouse. They include specimens from Singapore, Hawaii and Africa, from remote isles of the South seas, and from the forests of the Amazon.

Glenn W. Russ stocked the greenhouse. He was a forester for 10 years with the territorial government of Hawaii, where he ran up a collection of 400 specimens from the gift of a common white orchid. Moving to New England, Russ increased his collection by breeding and exchange, and this spring moved his 1,200 plants to San Antonio.

Russ says that what breeders in this country know of orchids they have learned individually by trial and error, and that patience is the biggest element of success. Artificial pollenation is required and seeds are kept for practically one year in chemical solution. It usually is seven years before the seed becomes a bloom.

Orchids require soil that lacks the usual elements of fertility and grow best in osmundine, a fern root that is replaced each two years. In greenhouses orchids grow best at sustained heat of 55 degrees, and when they begin to bloom the more perfect blossoms are used for pollenation to develop hybrids with still greater perfection, tinting and value.

The antecedents of each plant is kept and many go back through 12 or more generations, since commercial growers, an exclusive fraternity, tend to exchange their varieties.

Russ says the ordinary commercial orchid usually retails for $12 and is pure white. Most of the plants bloom once a year and hybrids are developed to blossom at Christmas, Easter and other holidays. An orchid, he says, should survive four weeks after being cut if liberally sprinkled with water and kept in an ice box.

ABOUT BANANAS

Bananas were an oddity in the United States less than 70 years ago. Crowds of curious visitors were attracted when first they were exhibited at the Philadelphia Centennial of 1875. Today, more than 63,000,000 bunches of bananas are shipped to this country annually, largely from Central America.

Hugh Anderson Seeks Promotion To County Attorney After Serving Assistant's Post

HUGH ANDERSON

Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney of Lubbock county, is seeking to be elected county attorney and Saturday authorized the Avalanche-Journal to publish the following formal statement on his candidacy:

"You who have known me during the 14 years I have made Lubbock my home I trust will bear with me as I detail briefly my qualifications and life history for those whom, unfortunately for me, I have not had the opportunity to meet and know personally.

"My early life, from birth, was spent on a farm in West Texas. After two years devoted exclusively to farming after graduating from high school, I came to Lubbock to attend Texas Tech, working to pay my expenses during all the time that I attended college. After financial difficulties forced me to withdraw from Texas Tech in 1928, I taught school and began to study law at home. The Supreme court of Texas on Oct. 28, 1932, found me qualified to engage in the practice of law, and since that time, I have practiced law in Lubbock county.

Appointed Assistant Twice

In 1934, after I had been engaged in the private practice of law for two years, the then county attorney appointed me as his assistant, and I served in that capacity for one year. In 1935, I re-entered the private practice of law, and continued until Jan. 1, 1937, at which time I again was appointed assistant county attorney, and have served in that capacity since that date.

Through my experience as assistant, I have learned that the county business is a vast and intricate one involving many legal problems concerning large sums of money, and that the county officials who govern the business affairs of the county must look to their county attorney for legal service.

Office Requires Cooperation

"I have also learned that the fair administration of justice in the criminal courts requires that all persons be treated alike, and that there is no safer place in which to trust a man's liberty than a jury composed of six good citizens of this county. I have also learned that the proper enforcement of the criminal laws requires the cooperation of the county attorney with all law enforcement agencies, and that the county attorney must be willing to cooperate with all the officials for the general good of the county.

"My experience in teaching children in public schools has proven valuable to me in the juvenile cases that come before the courts.

Desirous Of Promotion

"I assure you that so far as the administration of the criminal law is governed by the office of county attorney, that I have no friends to shield and no enemies to prosecute, naturally being dead set on justice for the poor and common man because I have been one of them all my life.

I am now 31 years old, was married in 1933, and have remained a single man since the death of my wife in 1937.

"My desire and aim for promotion at your hands is based upon almost eight years of experience as a practicing attorney and a thorough knowledge of the particular laws governing the business affairs of our county and the criminal laws of our state. Upon this basis I earnestly solicit your vote and your influence in this campaign."

Rev. Henry Francis Is Taken By Death

ABILENE, March 30 (AP)—The Rev. Henry Francis, 65, died here this morning four days after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage. He was stricken at Nugent, Jones county, where he was operating a grocery business. He went there last year from Bangs. He was a retired Methodist minister and had held pastorates in a number of Central Texas towns. He was the father of Bruce Francis, city editor of the Abilene Reporter-News.

All-Night Party Fatal For Girl

DETROIT, March 30. (U.P.)—An 18-year-old girl died today after what Deputy Coroner Noble Larkins described as a night of revelry aboard the naval training ship Dubuque in the Detroit river.

The girl, Charlotte Mary Cranson, was dead when taken to a physician's office by two sailors and another woman who said she had been with them during an all-night, unauthorized party aboard the ship.

Gave Her Chloroform

Larkins said the sailors, John Kianauskas, 20, and Robert Newman, told him they had taken the girl to a cabin during the revelry and each had twice been intimate with her. Later when she complained of being ill, Larkins said the sailors told him, they gave her chloroform.

The girl was found later lying in a pool of blood in the mess hall. Larkin reported there were teeth marks on her neck, a bruise on her nose and scratches on her face.

In the girl's handbag was a notebook containing the names and telephone numbers of men. There also were cards indicating she had attended an Epworth league meeting and services at two churches. Another card indicated she was a student at a beauty college in Highland Park, Mich.

Telegram From Mother

A telegram from her mother, who apparently was visiting in Los Angeles, was dated March 27 and said: "What's wrong. Send money right away by Western Union. My bus leaves tomorrow 11 a. m. No delay. (Signed) Mother."

Kianauskas, caretaker of the training ship during its winter tie-up in rear of Detroit's naval armory, Newman and their companion, Marjorie Smith, 19, were held at police headquarters for questioning.

Dr. Coletta Swaney, the physician to whose office the body was taken, said there was no apparent cause of death. A post mortem examination was ordered for tomorrow.

FIRST PAPER MAKER

The first sheet of paper is said to have been made by Ts' Al Lun, who lived in China about 180 A. D. He beat such fibrous materials as bamboo, old fish nets, and inner bark of mulberry trees into pulp, mixed it with water and lifted the fibers by means of a sieve. The wet sheet thus formed was put into the sun to dry.

More than 4000 termites have been counted in a cubic foot of wood.

PAULETTE GODDARD

* * *

Paulette Goddard Picked For Most Beautiful Body

HOLLYWOOD, March 30. (U.P.)—Six artists today chose Paulette Goddard, brunette actress, as the "girl with the most beautiful body in the world."

Jefferson Machamer, creator of the "Machamer girl" and chairman of an artists' committee, announced the selection.

"Artists have sought the ideal model through the ages, and rarely have found a perfect combination of face and figure in the same person. Miss Goddard has such a combination, and also has a vivacious personality that is rare indeed," he said.

Boyish Figure To Be Memory

He said the curves will continue to be assets and the boyish figure will become only a "memory." Although Miss Goddard has a rounded figure, she weighs only 110 pounds, in contrast to the 138 pounds Venus supposedly weighed, the artist said.

Other members of the committee were Dan Sayre Groesbeck, Gladys Parker, Lyle Wheeler, Walter Alexander Bailey and Helen Carleton.

Crossing Crash Fatal For Boy

KERSEY, Colo., March 30. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy was killed and his mother was injured critically when their light truck and the Union Pacific streamliner, City of Denver, collided two miles west of Kersey today.

The truck was hurled into a pit and caught fire. The boy, Mahlon T. Netterfield, jr., of Keenesburg, died soon after he was pulled, his clothing aflame, from the wreckage.

His mother, Mrs. Margaret Netterfield, about 35, suffered fractures of both legs and internal injuries. Her hair was blazing when Milton Buck, a farmer living near the crossing dragged her from the splintered cab.

Floyd Young Demos Will Meet Tuesday

FLOYDADA, March 30 (Special)—Members of Floyd county's recently organized Young Democrats chapter will convene at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday night in county courtroom, Walter Travis, president, has announced.

The group, organized two weeks ago, is planning a membership drive. Twelve charter members took part in the initial program. Application for a charter has been given Calvin Hazelwood of Lubbock, president of West Texas Young Demo club.

Other officers here are Clint Wakefield and Richard Stovall, vice presidents, and Clement McDonald, secretary-treasurer.

Seminole Residents Return From Florida

SEMINOLE, March 30 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Doss have returned from Florida, "where we could have a fire in the house."

Tourists left for their colder climate homes, since Florida, not expecting such weather, was scarcely prepared for heating home adequately, said Mr. and Mrs. Doss.

Wisconsin Is First Vote Battlefield; Primary Tuesday Will Test Presidential Party Strength; Changes In Trend Seen

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Right after April Fools' Day the Battle of the Ballots begins to get hot.

Primaries in Wisconsin on April 2 and in Illinois and Nebraska April 9 will usher in the real shooting on the presidential front. Ever since it is now has been a skirmish.

The first Tennessee, where a gentle dash of TVA benefits has been flank for years, has voted and it's a tough term for President Roosevelt.

New Hampshire has picked a slate of Democratic delegates pledged to Roosevelt. But the Democratic primary between the Republican candidates was a matter of election time.

• • •

Wisconsin First Battlefield

THOSE were skirmishes. First real battle will be in Wisconsin. Here voters will choose between Roosevelt and Garner and between Dewey and Vandenberg.

Importance of the primary lies in whether the Democrats or the Republicans poll the highest vote. It is presumed that Roosevelt will beat Garner easily among the Democrats, since the "progressive" wing of the Democrats and the La Follette Progressives can scarcely vote for Garner.

There are two distinct Democratic Roosevelt slates, an official party one and another "maverick" progressive Democratic group.

The interesting point will be how big a total will these two Roosevelt, the Garner and the Progressive votes run up? And will that total be bigger than the total for Dewey and Vandenberg?

In short will Wisconsin's recent leape back into Republicanism at the last state elections carry over into the national scene?

• • •

Youth Backs Dewey

DEWEY seems to have the inside track among the Republicans. His delegates are active, and the New Yorker plans to stump the state just before the primary.

Younger Republicans generally support Dewey as the more progressive of the two, while the older guard is for Vandenberg. The latter, despite his comparatively progressive record in Congress is tagged as a Hoover holdover.

There is a definite "stop-Dewey" element in this election. Frank Gannett, not even entered in the Wisconsin primary, plans to stump there against Dewey.

Bob Taft, the Ohio hope is not entered either. He is expected to make his big drive later, remaining content for the present to pick up delegates here and there in a quiet but effective way.

In Illinois on April 9 the vote for Roosevelt might possibly be the deciding factor on whether or not he runs for a third term. Here the President is opposed by his vice president John Garner whose workers have been very active and aggressive.

• • •

Scandal Threatens In Illinois

THERE is a deep dissatisfaction with the Kelly-Nash machine and the strange death of F. Lyndon Smith, right-hand man for the ill and ineffective Governor Horner, seems prelude to a first-class scandal.

Smith found dead in a hospital bathtub was officially dead of natural causes, but suicide rumors flew wide and will not be silenced. As custodian of the state Democratic organization's campaign chest, he was called "The Man With 10,000 Secrets."

Rumors of graft and gravy still cluster around the state and Chicago Democratic machines which are the most active proponents of a third term.

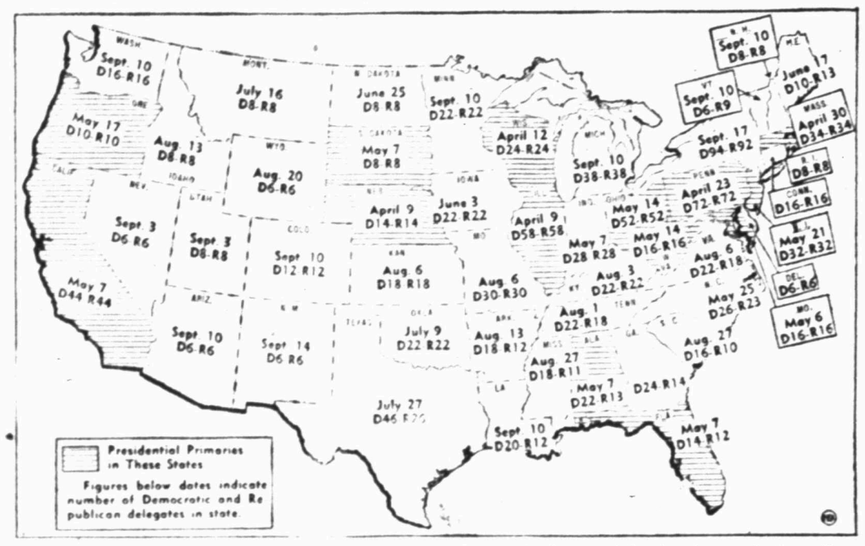

• • •

Garnerites Might Shift

DEWEY is unopposed on the Republican ballot, though both Taft and Vandenberg are working to line up the Illinois delegation.

Garner workers have no illusions that they will win in Illinois. They hope to show that a third-term nomination would be poison and to suggest that however many votes Garner gets those votes would go to any Republican nominee at the election rather than to Roosevelt. Garnerites have campaigned largely on that specific issue.

Scattering potshots of the early primaries will thus turn to the steady roar of serious campaigning when Wisconsin and Illinois begin firing April 2.

Election year turns the country into a jungleland of primary elections, and here's when and where they are to be held. In states not having presidential preference primaries, assorted gubernatorial, senatorial and congressional contests will be decided.

Murals To Grace Walls Of 15 New Texas Postoffices; Scenes To Be Typical Ones

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 30. The Public Works Administration reports that mural decorations for public lobbies of fifteen new post offices in Texas now are in various stages of completion and that some will be installed this summer.

Artists painting the murals, Edward Bruce chief of the PWA's fine arts section said, were chosen for their ability and for their particular understanding and appreciation of the colorful subject matter the state offers.

Design Is Described

Ward Lockwood, chairman of the University of Texas art department, was cited as an example in the report of PWA officials. Commissioned to paint the Edinburg (Hidalgo) post office panel, Lockwood described his design this:

"The Lower Rio Grande Valley is one of the garden spots of the country. Grapefruit, oranges, lemons, eggplant, cabbages, onions, squash and many other kinds of fruits and vegetables grow there in great abundance."

Throughout Texas there are many open-air markets which display these products the year round. One of these local stands containing a colorful display of products of the valley with the portrait of the gas attendant becomes the simple subject of the mural.

Buffalo Hunting Chosen

The subject matter chosen for Livingston, Polk county, is "Buffalo Hunting." The contract for $750 was awarded to Theodore Van Soelen of Santa Fe, N. M.

Walls of the Odessa, Ector county, federal building are to be decorated by Tom Lea of El Paso, whose portrait of Lone Star state pioneers adorns the walls of the Benjamin Franklin postoffice at Washington. Sketches for the Anson, Jones county, building depict a gay joe of the cowpunchers' life. Title of the mural will be "cowboy dance," the artist, Jennie Magafan.

The PWA report stated that as is usual with most federally-commissioned artists, Julius Woelz, who won in special competition to decorate the walls of the Amarillo post office, is living in that city in order to be in constant contact with persons volunteering aid in historic detail for five panels. "Coronado's exploration party in Palo Duro canyon," "local industries," "cattle," "oil" and "agriculture." As a runner up in the Amarillo competition, Edward Chavez of Colorado Springs, Colo. was awarded the contract for the Center, Shelby county mural.

Other Murals Listed

Other new murals for Texas include:

Rockdale, Milam county, "Farming and mining in Texas," by Maxwell B. Starr, Lampasas, Lampasas county, "Afternoon on a Texas ranch," by Ethel Edwards of New Orleans, La.; Wellington, Collingsworth county, "Settlers in Collingsworth county," by Bernard Arnest of Denver, Colo.; Houston, a painting depicting the Houston ship canal, by Jerry Bywaters of Dallas, who also has been invited to submit suggestions for the Farmersville, Collin county, postoffice; Rosenberg, Fort Bend county, by William Dean Fausett of New York; Corpus Christo, by Howard Cook of Taos, N. M.; Robstown, Nueces county, by Alice Reynolds of Albany, Texas; Brownsville, Cameron county, by Frank Mechau of Redstone, Colo.

Clinic Building To Be Erected

Although the way now has been cleared for the erection of a clinic building for Lubbock sanitarium, it will be "several months at the earliest" before actual construction will get under way.

This was the statement Saturday of C. E. Hunt, superintendent of the sanitarium. Drs. J. T. Krueger, J. T. Hutchinson and M. C. Overton are to be associated in building the clinic.

To Proceed Slowly

The plan, as outlined by Hunt, will be to "proceed slowly and surely, to make certain that the clinic, when completed, will be the very last word in such structures."

It is now possible, according to information given at the sanitarium, to go ahead with the development of definite plans for the building which, with equipment, is expected to represent an investment of more than $200,000. The way for the working out of definite plans was cleared with the final adoption by the city commission Friday of an ordinance to permit the closing of an alley between the clinic site at Thirteenth street and Avenue M and the sanitarium building.

To Inspect Others

Before plans are developed in final form, it was explained, inspections probably will be made of the most modern clinic buildings in Texas and perhaps in other states. After that has been done, final plans for the building here will be drawn.

"It may be a year before the building is started, but I don't believe it will be that long," said a spokesman for the sanitarium.

About the only phase of the plans upon which there has been decision, it was said, is that the building will be three stories in height, the same as the sanitarium, will harmonize architecturally with the present structure, and will be set back sufficiently far from property lines to permit front landscaping.

Houston-Port Arthur Road Will Be Asked

AUSTIN, March 30. (UP)—Largest delegation scheduled to appear before the Texas highway commission here tomorrow will be from Harris, Jefferson and Chambers counties, asking for construction of state highway 73, a short route between Houston and Port Arthur.

A group of citizens and officials is expected from each county, headed by County Commissioner Henry Mills of Port Arthur.

State Sen. Allan Shivers, Port Arthur, was here today and is expected to remain for tomorrow's hearing.

Wealthy Oil Man Who Figured In Marital Mixup In Houston Marries Wharton Girl

WHARTON, March 30. (AP)—Pierce Withers, wealthy oil man and descendant of Shanghai Pierce, famed old Texas cattleman, was married here last night to Miss Sue Hudgins, daughter of Mrs. Bessie Hudgins of Wharton.

Bride In Twenties

Withers is about 45. His bride is in her twenties.

Withers figured in a bizarre marital mixup in Houston a little over a year ago when he climaxed a New Year celebration by marrying Melba Guthrie, 19-year-old harvest queen from Oklahoma.

According to Miss Guthrie, Withers met her on the morning of January 1, 1939 and whirled her off her feet with his impetuous protestations of love.

She told of a champagne dinner, orchids from Withers and a marriage by a Harrisburg minister on that night.

She said that the next day ers asked for an annullment of marriage.

Asked For Annulment

Withers' request was followed January 4 by a legal application annulment of the marital tie the grounds that he had drinking heavily, that he was capable of judgment and did not derstand what he was doing."

Miss Guthrie contested the and the application was dism in Harris county.

A short while later the annul was granted by a Galveston c

Advocates Of Wright Patman Chain Store Tax Bill Continue Their Attack

Charges Of Dishonesty Hurled At Companies; Communities Robbed

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP)—Proponents of the Puttman chain store tax bill continued their attacks on the chains today, denouncing them as "dishonest" and "vicious."

They testified before a House ways and means committee on a bill introduced by Wright Patman, D., Texas, to tax chains up to $500 per store where chains have over 500 outlets.

Ben Du Bois of Sauk Center, Minn., secretary of the Independent Bankers association, declared that chain stores "take the profit" from the communities in which they operate and give little in return. Chain store managers have recently been ordered "to become rather active in local affairs," he said, "and this activity must always be on the popular saide and move with the parade."

Du Bois said chain stores and chain banking are "birds of a feather," and part of a system of centralization that is resulting in "the fast disappearance of our economic freedom."

Future Jeopardized

Unless the Patman bill is enacted, he declared, the future of the independent banker as well as the independent merchant will be jeopardized.

George Schulte, St. Louis, publisher of the Interstate Merchant, accused the chain stores of "stealing from their customers through overcharging, shortweight, and other sharp and destructive profides."

He said they make up for low prices on "loss leaders" by charging higher prices on other products. He read a letter which he said the Kroger company sent to its store managers, instructing them to make up losses in this way.

Should Be Extended

He later said, however, that "this stealing from customers" is a "result of the system and not the policy of the management at the top."

He denied that the chains eliminated the middleman function since they have warehouses and distributors of their own. The chains "force down wages to get a better net profit," Schulte declared. "Paying low wages to the great bulk of their employes and big salaries to a few officials."

He said he based his testimony on Federal Trade commission surveys made in 1931.

He said he thought the Pitman bill tax should be imposed on chain theaters and restaurants as well as store retailers.

Don't Laugh When Grandpa Says His Leg Promises Rain

BOSTON, March 30. (AP)—Don't scoff at grandpa when he says it's going to rain because his leg hurts.

Dr. Lloyd Brown, orthopedist of the Harvard medical school, told the eastern convention of health, physical education and recreation last night that persons who have chronic diseases are very likely to be affected in arms or legs or some other part of the body by a change in the weather.

Negro Elevator Boy Is Unusual Artist

GALVESTON, March 30. (AP)—For years it has been the custom of the negro elevator operators at the Union Depot here to mount a cigar box in the corner of their cars around Christmas time — a mute plea for holiday donations.

Back in 1935, Frank Sheinall decided to paint an oil picture as an attention-getter atop his box.

Miss Madge Claiborne, a stenographer in the building and an art student, saw the box and passed around the word that Sheinall possessed unusual promise.

Established artists became interested in Sheinall, who had operated his elevator for 20 years.

He was commissioned by Paul Quinn college to do a portrait of a negro educator, N. L. Anderson. The work was exhibited at the Texas Centennial observance at Dallas and now hangs in Prairie View College for negroes.

Frank's studio is in a storage space on the tenth floor of the depot building, and when he has a few minutes' off from work, he goes there and paints the scenes he loves.

Out the window he can see the freight yards, grain elevators, docks and ship channel, and watch freighters, tramp steamers, yachts, tankers, cattle boats and other vessels make their way into the gulf.

Nearly 20,000 Acres In Dawson Terraced During The Winter

LAMESA, March 30.—Nearly 20,000 acres of land in Dawson county have been terraced during the winter of 1939-40 F. A. Vestal, superintendent of the Soil Conservation Service camp here announces.

In addition 14,000 more acres are to be terraced this spring and plans call for 26,000 acres during the year.

Work has been done by the camp, by Dawson county and by Higginbotham and Harris, owners of a large farm.

Winter terracing by the camp was 10,000 acres or 400 miles of terraces; by the county, 8,000 acres or 320 miles and by the land owner, 1,500 acres of 60 miles, a total of 19,500 acres or 780 miles.

Spring terracing will include, CCC camp, 10,000 acres or 400 miles; county, 2,000 acres or 80 miles and land owner, 2,000 acres or 80 miles land owner 2,500 acres of 100 miles, total 14,500 acres or 580 miles.

During the next summer the camp plans terraces of 20,000 acres or 800 miles; the county 4,000 acres or 160 miles and the land owner, 12,000 acres or 480 miles, a total of 36,000 acres or 1,440 miles.

Approximately 125 applications representing 1,000 miles of terraces have been listed for future consideration.

DANGEROUS COLLEGE DAYS

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—Butler University found it necessary to ban gun totin' on the campus in 1876. An ordinance in the catalogue for that year says, "Students may not bring nor use upon said premises any firearms, dirks, bowie knives, or other kinds of deadly weapons."

Tokio 4-H Club Girl Wins Scholarship

COLLEGE STATION, March 30 (Special)—The highest honor that can come to a Texas 4-H club girl goes this year to Nina Ruth Higdon, of Harlingen. Miss Higdon will receive the Texas Home Demonstration association's $300 scholarship. She is a student at Texas A. and I. college at Kingsville.

Redell Parks, Tokio, Yoakum county, and Virginia Robinson of Gainesville will each receive $250 college scholarships given by the State Fair of Texas.

The announcement was made by Onah Jacks, state girls' club agent of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service. The selection was made by a committee of the home demonstration staff of the Extension Service, which visited the girls in their homes to observe the effects of their work.

Recognition for outstanding achievements went to 11 other girls: Mildred Haude and Allaire Beinhorn of Harris county; Ruth Ostermann, Galveston county; Lillian Steck, Jefferson county; Myrhl Emanuel, Liberty county; Vivian Wiggins, Polk county; Marie Phaup, Smith county; Joe Nell Barnett, Hunt county; Mattie Rae Spivey, Clay county; Polly Thompson, Kent county; Anita Everitt, Taylor county.

FSA REGIONAL HEAD—Wilson Cowen above of Amarillo, formerly of Dalhart and until recently associate director of the FSA rural rehabilitation division in Washington, is acting director of region 12, which includes the South Plains area. He succeeds L. H. Hauter, who was transferred to Washington. Cowen was Dallam county judge before going with the federal agency. He begins his work Monday.

Sam R. Pangburn Candidate For Justice Of The Peace In Precinct 1, Place 2

* * *

Sam R. Pangburn today makes formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of justice of peace for precinct 1, place 2, subject to Democratic primaries.

Pangburn lives at 1914 Avenue P with his wife. His son, Edward, member of the first graduating class in the present Senior High school building, has been in the navy 10 years.

Lived Here Since 1925

Since 1925, Pangburn has lived in Lubbock, where he maintained headquarters in his capacity as a traveling salesman for interior steel, such as fall equipment, safes and such.

"I have had several appointive, but no elective political connections," he said.

"If elected I pledge to handle the office to the best of my ability, with fairness dictated by the oath of office. I will appreciate your consideration at the polls."

Ray Stannard Baker, the author, first attracted attention by his reportorial work on the march of "Coxey's Army" in 1894.

Police School Will Be Held

AUSTIN, March 30. (AP) — State police today completed arrangements for their annual Texas police academy, April 15-27, with Lieut. Franklin M. Kreml, famed traffic expert, as principal instructor.

Fred Hickman, assistant director of state police, who will head the academy for traffic officers, said about 50 men had been selected for the short course and a number of others were expected to register within the next week.

Mississippi Sends Men

Three members of the Mississippi highway patrol will be among the students. The Mississippi force was organized and schooled under the direction of Col. Homer Garrison, jr., director of the Texas department, two years ago.

Every phase of traffic control will be studied. Instructors, in addition to Lieutenant Kreml and his assistant, A. R. Forster, both representing the Northwestern university traffic institute, were selected from local and state police organizations.

Danger In Early Grazing Is Cited By Soil Conservation Engineer In Lamesa Area

LAMESA, March 30—Spring is just around the corner. Pastures and range land soon will become green and farmers and ranchers may be eager to allow their livestock to graze upon the tender, young grass. Therein lies a grave danger, for the early grazing of grasses often results in serious damage to the grass and presents an erosion hazard, according to C. W. Firestone, engineer of the Soil Conservation Service, located near Lamesa.

When grasses begin to grow in the spring, food supplies stored in the roots during the previous year are used. The roots are weakened until the plant has made enough leaf growth to provide its own food and to build up the roots again.

Weakened By Grazing

Early grazing may cause the grasses to be weakened by not permitting them to build up a store of food in their roots. When grasses go into the hot summer months in a weakened condition, the frequently are killed.

"It's the pasture that can be depended upon every year that is an asset to the farm," Firestone declares. "Farms with such pastures make for the cheapest production of livestock and livestock products."

Deferred grazing or protection of the grasses in early spring months is cited as a precaution that greatly aids in erosion control. Where there is a good grass cover farmers and ranchers are finding that there is little or no soil movement when either wind or water erosion. When grasses are protected from early spring grazing and are not overgrazed later in the season, the land is likely to be well protected.

Carrying Capacity Increased

Experimental results show that grasses not grazed closely in the spring usually yield more livestock food than do those closely grazed and that protection is afforded against soil losses by erosion.

The famous "Long Parliament" in England met on Nov. 3, 1640, and was finally dissolved by Cromwell April 20, 1653.

K. O. G. SIGN

IN PLACE of the familiar, blunt "Keep Off the Grass" sign, Fort Tryon park in New York City has a sign post which bears the more subtle legend:

"Let no one say, and say it to your shame,
That all was beauty here, until you came."

PROGRESS in science has led to vast improvements except where some people's dispositions are concerned.

SCATTERINGS

EVERY TIME you go to the movies and see an MGM picture you see and hear Leo, the MGM lion. And right above him as he growls at you, turns his head and threatens to growl is a Latin motto: Ars Gratia Artis." Do you know what that means? "It's "Art for Art's Sake." . . . A friend calls to suggest that Lubbock is large enough for a League of Women Voters to be organized. We'd like to hear opinions. As we understand it, the purpose of the League of Women Voters is the education of women concerning the functions of government in order that they may participate with intelligence in the affairs and other government functions.

A NEW STYLE of drinking is springing up over the country. You order up to a bar and order your milk straight or as buttermilk, but not as a milk flavored beverage. There are said to be 1,000 such places in England. For the builder-uppers there is rich, creamy milk and for those inevitable fat women skim milk is available. . . . According to the American Spice Trade Association the United States spice bill for $12,000,000 last year, which is a lot of flavoring in anybody's pumpkin pie. However, this included many flavorings, pepper and mustard, favorites, leading by bringing in nearly $2,500,500. . . . The black and white pepper were imported at the rate of 56,000,000 pounds and hot dogs and other mustard absorbing goods accounted for 21,000,000 pounds of mustard. And if you aren't bored by these statistics, we'd like to add that cinnamon, third in American seasoning favor, reached apple pies and other foods to a total of over 10,000,000 pounds.

NOTHING BETTER than hot tea with lemon and a cinnamon stick. . . . We didn't enjoy the Texas Centennial celebration any too much. As we recall it, the time was a long quarrel over West Texas thinking East Texas discriminated against them in the matter of getting memorials, etc. Anyway we're looking forward to going over to Albuquerque late in May to join the New Mexicans in celebrating their Coronado Cuarto centennial. Whoop-em up cowboys, bronzed Indians, land of enchantment, of sun-drenched prairies and rich folk lore, those things are to our taste. Everything points to a grand celebration. . . . Someone suggests Great Britain's King George has gradually tended to get away from the term "my people," while Hitler is using it more and more up to and including the Austrians, Czechs and Poles. . . . A young man asks us to tell him the proper place to eat pop corn. He says he doesn't dare eat it in the picture show, that if he buys a sack to eat at home it is soggy and tasty by the time he gets there and if he eats it when he is walking down the street people look at him like they thought he was a fool.

REVLON has two new nail enamels on the market: Pink lemonade and red punch and they are just the colors you think of when those delicacies are mentioned. . . . Tuesday we begin our seventh year as columnist for The Lubbock Morning Avalanche and our only hope is that the past has been no more painful reading for you than it has been painful writing for us. It's a safety valve that helps one retain her perspective. . . . A feast for the eyes will be the costumes for the "Pied Piper" play. The costumes are being arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. C. C. Schmidt assisted by Mesdames A. H. Haas, Townsen Waddill and O. T. Ryan. Mrs. Schmidt's daughter, Elizabeth, also is on the committee and is going to exercise some of her artistic ability as "top decorator of accessories."

ESSAY ON MAN

HERE is a little treatise entitled "Man Is What Woman Marries" that was left on the desk by one Royal Purgeson. You may have it for what it's worth. Personally we're surprised Royal would have had it treasured so carefully:

• • •

MEN HAVE two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives, but never more than one collar button, or one idea at a time. Like Turkish tobacco, men are all made of the same material—the only difference is that some are better disguised than others. Generally speaking, they are divided into three classes—husbands, bachelors and suspicion. Husbands are of three varieties—prize, surprise and consolation prize. Making a husband out of a man is one of the highest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires science, sculpture and common sense, faith, hope and charity—mostly charity. It is a psychological marvel that a soft, fluffy, tender, violet-scented sweet thing like woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, stubby-chinned, tobacco—and—bayrum scented thing like man.

IF YOU flatter a man, it frightens him to death, and if you don't, you BORE hime to death. If you permit him to make love to you, he gets tired of you in the end, and if FEDERATION OFFICERS TO VISIT HERE—Three outstanding club women of Texas are to be in Lubbock next week-end and will attend a semi-annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's club at Shallowater Methodist church. Pictured above at the left is Mrs. J. M. Rutherford of Chillicothe, president of the seventh district of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs; at the upper right is Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, president of the T. F. W. C., and below is Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, past president of the district and candidate for state president. They will speak at the federation meeting which will be in the nature of a Golden Jubilee.

Texas Music Festival Will Bring Hundreds Of Pupils Here Next Week-End

ANNUAL meeting of Texas Music Festival in Lubbock Thursday, Friday and Saturday will bring hundreds of music pupils and their teachers to Lubbock. The young musicians will be presented beginning at 10 o'clock each morning and the programs are free and open to the public.

One of the examiners, making her first visit to Lubbock, will be Mrs. Dorothy Gaynor Blake, composer and music educator of Webster Groves, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis. Paul van Katwijk, dean of music at Southern Methodist university, Dallas. Miss Pauline Brigham of West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon and Mrs. Gladys M. Glenn of the Musical Arts Conservatory at Amarillo, who have been here on other occasions, also will serve as examiners.

Miss Mary Dunn is state chairman of the Festival committee. The South Plains Music Teacerers association is serving as local host.

Mrs. Blake will be speaker at a reception honoring teachers and Festival guests Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Tech women's dormitory.

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock Dr. van Katwijk will listen to solos played by 17 year old pupils and Miss Brigham will listen to scales. Eight year olds will play before Mesdames Blake and Glenn at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and at 4 o'clock eleven year-olds will perform. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock 14-year-olds will play before Mrs. Blake. These appearances will be at the school auditorium.

Mrs. Blake entered a kindergarten at the age of two years where her mother headed the musical department. At the age of four when she entered the first grade, she was able to read music, play the piano, improvise original melodies and carry any part within the singing range in a quartet of voices. Mrs. Blake, at 14, accompanied her mother to Berlin where she studied voice with Mme. Ida Lurig and composition with Rudolph Ganz for three years. Her first writings were songs and later she became interested in writing pieces for younger children.

Her first book was an immediate success and she now has operettas, many piano books and other compositions to her credit.

She married at the age of 18 and is the mother of three sons who are in their middle twenties. From 1929 to 1933 Mrs. Blake held the post of educational director of the student concerts of the St. Louis Symphony. She is a frequent lecturer on musical subjects.

Pledges Are Named At Gaucho Club Dance

The Gaucho club entertained with a dance at Billy Nation's studio Friday night from 9 to 12 o'clock. New pledges were introduced. Approximately 50 couples were present.

The plot is five by 27 feet and is planted with onions, English peas, lettuce, radishes and spinach. Two rows of tincans are used for sub-irrigation tile

V. McLean Is Honored

Miss Virginia McLean who is moving to Longview was complimented with a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Jack M. Lewis from 8 to 10 o'clock Friday night in the basement of the First Presbyterian church. Approximately 150 guests were present.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Young greeted guests at the door and presented them to a receiving line composed of Doctor and Mrs. Lewis, Miss McLean and Mrs. Margaret Bradley.

Superintendent of the departments of the Sunday school and others were in the house party. They were Messrs. and Mesdames A. W. McKee, H. S. Weiss, L. C. Ellis, C. C. Galbraith; Mrs. Ed Ainsworth and Mr. Ray C. Mowery.

In House Party

Miss Margaret Huff presided at the register. Mrs. W. L. Hester, president-elect of the womans' auxiliary, and Mrs. J. A. Pressley, vice-president, poured punch. They were assisted in serving by Misses Mary Louise McDonald, Frances Wilson, Margaret Simmons, all members of the young people's council and Miss Jacquelyn Lewis and Mrs. R. C. Douglas, Jr.

Yellow and pink were carried out in the decorations. The hall was decorated with redbud forsythia. The table centerpiece was decorated with snapdragons and calendulas and tapers. Mints and cookies were in the same color scheme.

Dr. J. M. Gordon presented the honoree with a gift from the church and Mr. Mowery presented her with a gift from the Sunday school.

Mrs. Franklin To Speak At Community Center

The Community Center will meet this afternoon at the Congregational Methodist church at Avenue C and Fifth street to hear Mrs. R. F. Franklin, wife of the Nazarene pastor, speak on "God Is Able." The children's program will be at 3 o'clock and the regular program at 4 o'clock.

Birthday Party Given For Sue Stewart

Mrs. J. R. Stewart entertained with a birthday party at her home, 2013 Fifteenth street, to honor her daughter, Sue, who was seven years old recently. Twenty guests were present. Games were played and ice cream and birthday cake served.

Club Program Will Be Presented By Band

The Band Boosters club of Senior High school will meet Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Senior High school auditorium for an election of officers. The Junior High band will present the program.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins Will Visit County Federation Meeting Saturday

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

FEATURING a semi-annual meeting of the Lubbock County Federation Saturday at the Shallowater Methodist church will be the first official visit of Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. This will be a Golden Jubilee celebration. The program will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and is to continue through mid-afternoon.

Mrs. Perkins is to arrive in Lubbock Friday and will be the house guest of Mrs. H. F. Godeke, 3001 Twenty-first street.

The program will be continued in the afternoon after a covered dish luncheon. Theme for the day is to be built around the history of the club movement. Pioneer clubs and pioneer women will be honored and clubs are being asked to report members who have been affiliated with the federation for 25 years or more.

Mrs. S. H. Robinson of Shallowater is chairman of local arrangements and Mrs. Godeke, program chairman of the county federation, has announced the following program:

Reports To Be Given

Invocation, Rev. E. H. Coston of Shallowater; Opening patriotic ceremony and salute to the flag of the United States, Lubbock Girl Scouts, directed by Mrs. Sam Newman; welcome, Mrs. Robinson; response, Mrs. W. R. Lovett of Slaton; introduction of honor guests; roll call, items regarding General and State Federations and Golden Jubilee (one minute each); reports of outstanding achievements of club year (2 minutes); address, Mrs. J. M. Rutherford of Chillicothe, president of seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs; community singing; reading, Katherine Reese of Shallowater; chorus, home demonstration club members, directed by Miss Elizabeth Brooks, assistant Lubbock county home demonstration agent; address, Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, candidate for state president.

Luncheon; reading, Nina Wright of Shallowater; address, Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins; vocal solo, Mrs. Raymond Marshall, accompanied by Mrs. Chester Elliott; pageant, Levelland Study club, Mrs. Otis Burson, president, six episodes from cavewoman to club woman; characters, reader, Mrs. D. W. Sherrill; pianist, Mrs Carl Ratliff; cavewoman and child, Mrs. Randall Alexander; medieval woman, and page, Mrs. O. L. Watson and Joan Ross; pilgrim women, Mesdames H. W. Walker, J. M. Barnhart and P. B. Shannon; colonial women, Mesdames J. T. Brown, R. H. Hester and Cliff Brown; women of the Gay Nineties, Mesdames Ray Ross, H. E. Gillespie and Douglas Pounds; modern women, Mrs. T. M. Lumly, Perry Smith, Weldon Johnson, Tom Gordon and Burson; accordion solo, Nina Ruth Todd of Shallowater; business session.

Officers Are Listed

Every woman in Lubbock county who is a member of a federated club is invited to attend the meeting. Mrs. W. H. Crosby of Slaton is president of the federation; Mrs. Godeke, first vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Hardberger of Lubbock, recording secretary; Mrs. J. H. Barnett, treasurer, and Mrs. R. C. Hall of Slaton, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Perkins, who is rightly considered one of Texas' most interesting women, is the mother of two daughters, Betty, who is married and lives in Fort Worth and Dorothy, who is in high school and a son, Robert, a freshman student in Texas Technological college who is interested in geology, probably because his father is a geological engineer. She formerly was Emily May Gleason of Gleasondale, Mass. She attended the New England Conservatory of Music and was graduated from Boston university in 1917, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Inherited Musical Talent

The Perkinses moved to Eastland from an eight years' residence in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Perkins has for many years been an active member of the Methodist church, teaching a Sunday school class and singing in the choir. She inherited her musical ability from her mother who has played the pipe organ for 53 consecutive years.

Mrs. Perkins has been a member of the executive board of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs during the administrations of Mes-

Mrs. Perkins To Be Guest

Honoring Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, the Twentieth Century club is entertaining with a dinner in the Hilton hotel Chimayo room Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Presidents of Lubbock federated clubs, officers of district seven and district chairman are invited to make reservations for the dinner with Mrs. A. W. McKee. Others on the committee on arrangements are Mesdames H. F. Godeke, and J. H. Murdough.

Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, past president of the district, have been invited to attend an annual spring tea the Lubbock branch of the American Association of University Women is giving Saturday afternoon. The occasion will honor senior girls at Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college and will be held between 4 and 6 o'clock in the lounge of the women's dormitory at the college.

The recent graduate group of the A. A. U. W. will be in charge of arrangements.

Courtesy On Saturday Honors Mrs. Morris

A coffee honoring Mrs. Paul Morris of Houston, formerly of Lubbock, was given Saturday morning by Mrs. Wright Kerr and Mrs. Fenner Tubbs at the home of Mrs. Tubbs, 2205 Twenty-eight street.

Plate favors were peach blossoms. Name of the honoree was printed on the napkins.

Guests were Mesdames M. C. Butler, G. C. Turner, F. W. Zachary, M. T. Hill, Maple Wilson, Sam Hildreth, C. E. Davis, Joe Kennedy, Hiram Parks, Thurman Whitis, C. R. Woolsey, Joe Nislar, Otis Taylor, jr., G. W. Parkhill, G. W. Cochran, M. T. Taylor, O. J. Sexton, J. R. Farmer, C. C. Caldwell, Kirk Dean, Misses Josephine Looney and Opal McMahon and the honoree.

Mrs. Morris will visit here about two weeks. She moved to Houston from Lubbock in December.

La Docena Club Meet Is At Sanders Home

Mrs. J. D. Sanders, 2603 Twenty-third street entertained the members and a guest of La Docena club Friday afternoon. Mrs. L. E. Grimes was the guest. Members were Mesdames Carl Armstrong, Emerson M. Blake, J. I. Farmer, Herman Fink, N. H. Holt, Earl Hunt, W. L. McAfee, H. G. Urguette and Cliff Widener.

National Legion Auxiliary Head To Visit Lubbock April 17

MRS. WILLIAM CORWITH of Rockville Center, N. Y., national president of the American Legion auxiliary, is to visit the Lubbock auxiliary April 17, it was announced this week-end. She will be guest of honor at a banquet that night at 7 o'clock in the Hilton hotel ballroom and will speak at a joint meeting of the Legion and auxiliary at 8 o'clock at the Legion hall.

Reservations for the banquet, also a joint meeting of the men's and women's organizations, may be made with Mrs. S. H. Bain, 910 Texas avenue.

Mrs. George S. Berry, state president, and Mrs. R. J. Watson left Friday for Taylor where they attended the funeral of Major E. H. Roach Saturday morning. Mrs. Roach was state auxiliary president in 1932-33.

This week-end the Lubbock women are attending the 21st district convention which is being held in Del Rio. Monday they will spend at the state headquarters in Austin and Tuesday they will be entertained with a luncheon at the Veterans' hospital in Waco where 1,000 veterans are patients.

Next week-end Mrs. Berry is to appear before the executive committee of the American Legion to give a report on the work she has done thus far this year. April 8 she will be in Dallas for a fifth district meeting of the auxiliary.

A Capella Choir Is To Sing Thursday

Texas College of Arts and Industries A Capella choir, directed by Paul M. Riley, head of the fine arts department of the institution, will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday night at Senior High school auditorium, under the sponsorship of St. Paul's Episcopal auxiliary. Tickets are 25 and 35 cents and may be purchased at the door that night or from principal's offices in the Lubbock Public schools.

The A and I A Capella concert choir is chosen from a large campus choir and consists of 33 voices, most of them students who have been outstanding in music circles for several years. The campus choir, numbering more than 60 voices, is made up of various choral groups on the campus. Extended tryouts select the outstanding singers for membership in the concert choir.

Honored Two Years

Last year the choir sang before the National Conference of Music Educators in St. Louis. Members have been invited to appear before the same group this year in Los Angeles and are one of two choirs in America to receive the dual honor.

Although a large part of the program is from sacred music, since most of the finest a capella (unaccompanied) music has been written for the church, the concert program has been arranged to appeal to a wide public, ranging from prayers to spirituals and folk songs. No instrument is used at any time during the program.

The program offered by the choir this season is as follows: Prayer (Kountz); Today There is Ringing (Christiansen); The Lord's Prayer (Cecil Forsyth); Let Thy Blessed Spirit (Norden); Glory to God in the Highest (Jones); Ezekiel Saw de Wheel (Noble Cain); De Gospel Train (Cain); Gloria Patri (da Palestrina); Ava Maria (Rachmaninoff); Thy Promised Land (Riley); Salvation Is Created (adapted by Norden); Benedictus (Wetzel); Lost in the Night (Christiansen); Beautiful Savior (Christiansen); Music of Life (Cain).

Miss Viola Dickinson Is Guest Speaker

"Negro Dialect Stories of the Old South," a program of folk tales presented by Miss Viola Dickinson of San Antonio, will feature a program for the Beta Sigma Phi sorority meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night in the Aztec room of the Hilton hotel.

Miss Dickinson has given a series of the dialect stories over radio stations in Washington, D. C., and Houston. She is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. B. Powell, 2306 Sixteenth street, and her niece, Miss Josephine Powell, president of the sorority.

At the business session plans for the sorority program for the next year will be outlined. "Paths of Loveliness," a study of cultural arts, will be the theme for the year.

Carter P-TA Subject Is Social Health

Mrs. F. B. Malone will talk on "Social Health" at a meeting of the K. Carter Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the school.

Children from rooms taught by Miss Josephine Davies, Miss Lena Belle Brown and Mrs. Iris Bergholm will present a program.

Donald Henry Weds In Philadelphia

Relatives here have received word of the marriage of Donald Henry of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stockton Henry of Lorenzo, to Miss Charlotte Thompson of Chicago and Philadelphia, Pa.

The wedding took place Saturday afternoon in a historic church in Philadelphia where the bride's parents had been married 28 years before.

Several friends of Mr. Henry's accompanied him from Washington. A reception was held in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle.

Mr. Henry is a graduate of Texas Technological college where he majored in government. He was the first man from the south to receive appointment to study in the National Institute of Public Affairs. He is associated with the treasury department in the capitol city.

The couple will be at home at Arlington, Va.

Informal Reception To Be For Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Porter are to be hosts this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at their residence, 2305 Seventeenth street, with an informal reception as a courtesy to Mrs. Frank D. Doepke and her infant son, Douglas, who are visiting here from Colorado Springs, Colo. Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Doepke are sisters.

The house party is composed of Mesdames M. D. Temple, C. E. Maedgen, George Walton, R. C. Harvey and Miss Aldine Swepston. Approximately 60 guests are expected to call.

Piano Recital To Be Given Tuesday Night

Miss Mary Dunn is presenting Donald Beal Kleinschmidt in a high school credit piano recital, assisted by Richard Paul Kleinschmidt, grade school piano student, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at her studio, 1811 Ninth street.

The program is as follows: Bouree 1 from third Cello Suite and Bouree 2 from third Cello Suite (Bach); Gigue (Arcangelo Corelli); Sonantina — Ops. 36 No. 5 (Clementi); Minuet (Black); Sonantina—Ops 36 No. 2 (Clementi); Venetian Boat song (Mendelssohn); Sonata — Ops 49 No. 1 (Beethoven); The Avalanche (Stephen Heller); Somersault (Dorothy Gaynor Blake); The Irishman Dances (Henry Crowell); Nocturne (Adele Sutov); Little Nigar (Claude Debussy); Chanson Triste (Tschaikowsky); May Night (Palmgren); Alla Tarantelle Op. 39 (MacDowell).

Missionary Alliance Will Begin Meeting

Christian Missionary alliance will begin a meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Asbury Methodist church annex, Avenue T at Twentieth street lasting through Saturday, said Rev. Robert Rich, pastor.

Paul T. Carlson, a missionary to Equador, is to speak each night. He will illustrate his talk with slides from pictures taken there. Rev. P. R. Hyde of Dallas, a well known evangelist, will speak each night and Miss Betty Boyle of Uvalde will be in charge of the music. The public is invited to attend, said Rev. Mr. Rich.

Keeping Up With Comings, Goings And Doings

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: I promised to let you know about the secret weddings. Two of them have been announced. George Markham and Lady Jo Humple and Bill Williams and Dorothy Leonard said vows in Portales, N. M., in November. But I still know of two more couples who are married secretly.

One of my friends commented on the fact that several weddings were taking place in the Wranglers club of Tech. He suggested that there would be two more bridegrooms from that club before next Easter. The boys' first names begin with "A."

Young Lady To Wed

I wouldn't mention any names for anything but if you know a young lady whose name begins with an "M" ask her if she is making wedding plans. If she blushes that is the one.

I only was told that July is the date for the wedding of Miss Milton Joyce and the boy back home.

Word has come over the grapevine about two former Tech journalism students. Johnny Wells is working for a Pampa radio station. He is planning a visit to Lubbock soon, according to information received. The other is Jim Lindsey who is doing well on the San Angelo Standard-Times. Incidentally, he is not married.

• • •

MOST of the news I know this week has been obtained "on the air." I have seen the lovely diamond ring that Wilma Milburn is wearing though. She says that she will teach a year before planning a wedding.

Chandler Mathis, former student at the college, has been transferred to Salem, Ore., to the Magnolia company home office. He has been working in Dallas.

Mrs. C. C. Caldwell and Mrs. Hiram Parks gave a party for Mrs. Charles Bucy last week. They gave her an apron for each day of the week with clever verses pinned to them. (Mrs. Caldwell's idea.)

For instance, on Saturday's apron, "This is no pun, 'A Woman's Work Is Never Done,' your kitchen duties you can't shirk so tie this on and get to work."

Paducah Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Combest of Paducah and Mrs. Dawson Reid also of Paducah are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ralls. Mrs. Combest is Mrs. Ralls' sister.

You will be glad to hear that Bobby Ray Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Weiss and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Weiss is home from the hospital. He is recovering from a serious illness.

The Band Boosters club is going to sponsor a rummage sale next fall but Mrs. W. M. Pevehouse and Mrs. W. H. Edgett are willing to take any old clothes you are going to pack away for the summer now. If you will call them they will come by your house and get the garments and keep them until the sale.

• • •

Poetry always comes out in the spring. The Sans Souci girls at the college entertained with a gypsy dance Saturday night. The cleverly designed invitations with gypsy girl and club crest on them read: "At their camp at the Hilton, the gypsies will play, from 9 until 12 on next Saturday. Just tie a sash 'round you, from bright colors spun, and come join the Soucis for tentfuls of fun. So drop all your cares, and then steal away, and we'll tell your fortune on this holiday."

If you are going to any of the spring conventions let me know.

Love,
Lou.

Woman's Angle

you don't, he gets TIRED of YOU in the BEGINNING. If you wear gay colors, too much rouge, and startling hats, he hesitates to take you out. If you wear a little brown toque and tailor-made suit, and he takes you out, he STARES at a woman in gay colors, rouge and a startling hat all evening.

IF YOU are the clinging-vine type, he doubts whether you have a brain, and if you are the modern type, and are advanced and independent, he doubts whether you have a heart. If you are silly, he longs for a bright mate, and if you are brilliant, he longs for a playmate. If you are popular with other men, he is jealous, and if you are not, he hesitates to MARRY A WALLFLOWER. If you please him, he seldom mentions it, but if you displease him, he NEVER, I say, NEVER fails to tell you about it, especially if you are his wife or girl friend.

Pythian Sisters Will Sponsor Fun Carnival

The Pythian Sister Temple is to sponsor an April Fool carnival Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the K-P hall at 1107 1-2 Avenue K. Knights of Pythias, their families and friends are invited.

Admission is free. A small fee will be charged for entrance into booths, refreshments, games and other entertainment.

Proceeds will go to the fund to send a representative to grand lodge meeting in May.

Mrs. Melvin Bray Has Recent Party Honor

Honoring Mrs. Melvin Bray, a party and shower were given recently in the home of Mrs. A. B. Cockerham, 223 Paris avenue.

Safe Easy Way To Lose Fat

How would you like to safely and harmlessly lose some of that ugly fat in a few weeks? How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and abdomen and along with it get the increase in energy and improvement in health which so often accompanies excess fat reduction?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys. Cut down your caloric intake. Eat wisely and satisfyingly—there need never be a hungry moment.

Then after 30 days, weigh yourself again and just see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Refuse imitations. Demand and get the genuine Kruschen made right here in the U. S. A.

A jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. Money back if not joyfully satisfied. Mark Halsey Drug. Adv.

Second Anniversary Of Frome Murders Finds Case Still A Baffling Mystery

Narcotics Gang Said Involved

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, March 30—Two years ago today, Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, were brutally murdered on the West Texas desert between Van Horn and Balmorhea.

Why they were slain and by whom is a mystery as deep as the grim silence of the waste country.

Theory Is Followed

But from the welter of theories and clues has come one that fits logically into the facts at hand.

Federal narcotics agents here are known to have followed this theory for some time but have made no announcement of it publicly:

Rival narcotics smuggling gangs were operating along the Mexico-Texas border. One was bringing narcotics across the Rio Grande at Juarez. The other was lending its efforts largely toward hijacking the rival band of its contraband.

The smugglers were known to use women, posing as tourists, to get the narcotics across the border. The idea was to fool the opposition and also make it easier to bring in the narcotics without detection by customs officials.

Mrs. Frome and her daughter, prominent citizens of Berkeley, Calif., were on the way to South Carolina to visit Mrs. Frome's other daughter. They had stopped at El Paso and had gone across to Juarez for dinner.

The theory is that the smugglers saw them, thought they were working for the rival band and followed the women next day when they left El Paso. They ran the Frome car down and killed the two women after torturing them unmercifully in an effort to make them tell where narcotics they were believed to be carrying were hidden.

Spare Tire Slashed

Further lending credence to the theory of mistaken identity was the fact that a spare tire on the Frome car had been slashed, apparently in a search for narcotics believed secreted in the casing.

Bodies of the two women, each almost nude and bearing burns from cigars and cigarets, were discovered on April 3. Both had been shot after undergoing the torture and Nancy had been cruelly beaten. Neither had been robbed nor criminally assaulted.

Their automobile was found abandoned near Balmorhea.

The agents' theory is that the women were stripped of clothing in the search for narcotics.

The agents believe the case will be cracked some day by the simple process of making a narcotics smuggler talk.

Given Severe Grilling

Every time a person is arrested in connection with narcotics law violations he or she is given a severe grilling regarding the Frome murders.

Solution of the crime will not only be a feather in the cap for the man who breaks the case but there also is the matter of a $9,000 reward.

The narcotics agents are confident that when the slayings are solved, the theory of mistaken identity by a narcotics gang will be upheld.

Robert J. Allen Is Candidate For County Judge; Issues Formal Statement Saturday

* * *

Robert J. Allen, present county attorney of Lubbock county, announced his candidacy for county judge in a formal statement to the Avalanche-Journal Saturday. His statement follows:

"In announcing my candidacy for county judge of Lubbock county, I fully realize the responsibilities that must be assumed by the county judge in a progressive and fast growing county such as ours. I am now serving my second term as county attorney. The experience I have gained as county attorney has made me familiar with the duties of the county judge and the conduct of that office.

"If the people of Lubbock county elect me their next county judge, I will discharge the duties of that office legally, economically and in a business like manner to the best of my ability. If my service as your county attorney has been satisfactory to you, I will appreciate a continuation of your confidence in me by helping elect me your next county judge."

Mrs. Henry, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the class by Mrs. Fred Litton.

Others present were Mesdames Jim Bledsoe, J. G. Wilkerson, V. B. Thompson, Dewey McNeil, Ralpn Burdett, M. H. Adkisson, L. D. Casey, H. K. Brown, Elmer East, Max T. Davis, Charles Blandford and M. M. Ewing.

Glancing Backward

News Notes Taken From Files Of The Avalanche-Journal

April 4, 1912—Don't know exactly what was the matter with the Ralls Banner this week, but it came to our desk with the front page printed on the back, and the back on the front and the two inside pages upside down.

April 6, 1924—The fairy operetta, "Midsummer Eve," which was presented the last day of the spring musical festival under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Robertson will be presented again this week.

April 7, 1929—Wayne Prather was host to a few friends with a hay ride and weiner roast Friday evening.

April 8, 1934—K. N. Clapp, commander of Lubbock commandery, No. 64, of Knights Templar and Robert H. Hester, Robert L. Stephenson and Rev. Dr. Jack L. Lewis, grand prelate of the grand commandery of Knights Templar of Texas, will attend an 81st grand conclave of the state commandery Tuesday in Dallas.

April 3, 1930—A series of spring entertainments given by Mrs. R. P. Reeds and Mrs. R. C. Harvey Friday and Saturday reflected an atmosphere that only the current season can lend to a party: fruit blossom time.

Fraternity Plans For Initiation

Those initiated were Betty Savage, Christine Hopkins, Lucille Loyd, Juanita Meyers, Louise Ohlenbusch, Roxanna Ruth Ford and Mrs. Neva Bavousette.

Peach blossoms decorated the table. A program was based on the theme "Seven Phi U's are Born" and included: "A Young One Responds," Miss Savage; "Lullaby to the Sibblings," Mrs. Bennett C. Benson and Miss Louise McCrummen; "Phi U's Grow in College," Miss Christine Henslee; "After College What?" Miss Lila Alred; compulsory edication, the initiates; fraternity hymn.

Miss Reynolds Is President

Other members were Misses Maretta Holloway, Annie Faye Miller, LaVerne McWhirter, Alma Rhea Eades, Fern Smith, Alice Rorex, Marie Shook, Dorothy McCuistion, Geraldine Conner, Mary Eleanor Diggs, Helen Lytle, Hazel Ann Wilson, Mary Katherine Gunter, Ernestine Storey, Argen Hix, Mary Etta Vernon, Mrs. Agnes Hicks.

Miss Martye Poindexter and Miss Vivian Johnson, honorary members, Miss Verna Crump and the advisory board also attended. In the latter group were Misses Jonnie McCrery, Margaret W. Weeks, Mabel Erwin and Geraldine Ctewell.

Stokes Formally Announces Race

Newton Stokes of Shallowater Saturday made formal announcement of his candidacy for commissioner, Precinct 4, Lubbock county. His statement handed to the Avalanche-Journal follows:

"If given this office, I shall stay constantly on the job and shall work for the best roads possible for all in the precinct. I shall try at all times to work for the best interests of the taxpayers of the precinct.

"I have the sincerest appreciation for all the help and encouragement already given me; and you may be sure that each thing said or done in my behalf in the remainder of the race will be truly appreciated."

LAMESA ROTARIANS ELECT

LAMESA.—M. C. Lindsey was selected president of the Lamesa Rotary club to succeed W. B. Collins July 1, by directors. Homer St. Clair was named vice president; G. M. Roberts, renamed secretary-treasurer. Directors are, besides the four, J. E. Barron, Morris Beavers and Charnell Jobe.

PLAN IMPROVEMENT

Becton Parent-Teacher association is planning to sponsor a civic improvement day Thursday at the school. Patrons are invited to bring hoes and rakes and to assist in setting out grass and shrubs.

Snails, because of their ability to undergo long fasts, are taken along on safaris by African natives as a source of fresh food.

Applications Taken On Wheat Payments

Lubbock county has 364 farms with wheat allotments, he explained, representing more than 16,300 acres. County wheat average is estimated at 8.1 bushels per acre and parity will be 10 cents per bushel, or an average of 81 cents per acre.

POST CLUB TO ELECT

POST—Post Rotary club will elect officers Tuesday at a luncheon here, said J. E. Parker, president. Three directors are to be named to succeed M. L. Penn, T. L. Jones and Glenn Leonard.

GARDEN PLANTED

Wanda Jean Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gardner, and member of the Senior Girls' 4-H club at New Deal planted her frame garden about three weeks ago. Half of the garden is planted in sweet peppers, spinach, radishes and lettuce which are already up. The other half is planted in strawberries. She made the garden out of old plank and covered it with old screen doors to keep chickens out. The garden which is four by 12 feet is irrigated with an underground system.

Seafood Scarce In Corpus Area

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 30.—Corpus Christi and the Gulf coast, home of seafoods, is in the midst of a seafood famine.

One commercial fisherman who has been here 22 years said it is the worst in the history of Corpus Christi. Shrimp, ordinarily plentiful went with the north wind that struck Corpus Christi bay Jan. 18.

Soft shell crabs have disappeared entirely from Corpus Christi bay and connecting waters, and veteran fishermen fear the crab will become extinct in these waters before many seasons have passed. A. M. McDaniel, who has been a commercial fisherman for 18 years, declared the crab gradually is disappearing.

Large Flounder Gone

Large flounder, once common in waters of Corpus Christi bay were absent last season, and fishermen are recalling the dearth of other common fish in the bay and Laguna Madre.

Whether the salinity of the Laguna Madre, which saw two years ago the greatest destruction of fish in recent years, has caused Corpus Christi bay to become empty of game fish, only another fishing season will tell, McDaniel said. Fishermen were inclined to believe drilling for oil and "shooting" of subsurface stratas in the bay had something to do with game fish deserting regional salt waters.

"This is the poorest season we have ever had in Corpus Christi bay," McDaniel said.

Twenty-Three Church Of Christ Ministers To Be Heard In Programs At Abernathy

ABERNATHY, March 30.—Twenty-three members of the Church of Christ are on a program for young preachers that will begin Sunday night in the local church and close Friday night.

The ministers come from 21 cities said Clarence C. Gobbel, local minister and host. Three services daily are planned.

Following is the program: Sunday night, W. L. Wharton, jr., Plainview; Monday morning 10 o'clock, Waymon D. Miller, Petersburg; 2:30 o'clock, Grady Pricer, Tulia; 7:45 o'clock, R. P. Drennon, O'Donnell and Arley E. Moore, Tahoka.

Tuesday, 10 a. m., Liff Sanders, Lubbock; Richard Robbins, Crosbyton; 2:30 o'clock, A. M. Lemmons, Idalou; 7:45 o'clock, James F. Black, Brownfield and Le Moine Lewis, Snyder; Wednesday, 10 o'clock, W. T. Garnett, Levelland and Raymond Boyd, Canyon; 2:30 o'clock, Shelby Sanders, Muleshoe; 7:45 o'clock, S. A. Ribble, Meadow; Thursday, 10 o'clock, T. F. Shropshire, Andrews and Ernest McCoy, Slaton; 2:30 o'clock, Choice L. Bryant, Floydada; 7:45 o'clock, Albert Smith, Lubbock and C. B. Middleton, Hobbs, N. M.; Friday, 10 o'clock, D. Lee Hukel, Rotan and M. M. Young, Swenson; 2:30 o'clock, Guy N. Woods, Wellington; 7:45 o'clock G. C. Brewer, Lubbock.

Dr. Thomas Taylor Will Speak Today

Dr. Thomas Taylor, president of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, will speak at the First Baptist church today at both services and will teach the Downtown Bible class at 9:40 o'clock in the Palace theater.

Widely known throughout Texas, Dr. Taylor is often called "the Will Rogers of Texas." He is speaking in the absence of Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the church, who is conducting a revival in Houston.

Assistant Pastor For Church Here Planned

Called meeting of the First Presbyterian church will be held at the close of this morning's service to call an assistant pastor for the church.

W. Jack Lewis of Austin and San Angelo, a senior in the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Austin, who preached recently here, has been recommended for the post by a committee for the session. He is to graduate this summer.

Sunday night three members of the board of deacons, recently elected at the annual congregational meeting, will be installed. They are Ray C. Mowery and H. S. Weiss, who are to be ordained and R. D. Moxley, a former deacon, installed.

Average Gain In U. S. Is Factor

By L. T. EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Texas is expected to show a large increase in population when the census is taken there this spring, but in the opinion of the state's only representative on the House census committee it probably won't mean any additional Lone Star congressmen.

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco reached this conclusion after deliberating with others of the census committee and reporting favorably a bill to amend the present law regarding apportionment of seats in the house.

House Said Large Enough

The proposed changes in the law will not disturb the size of the House, which has had 435 members since 1910. Since 1930, when the census last was taken, the seats have been allocated approximately one to each 269,000 persons. For thirty years all have agreed that the House is large enough, if not too large, so when seats are next reapportioned it is expected to be one to approximately 300,000 persons.

"That means a state must have shown a substantial increase in population in the past ten years to keep its present number of seats," commented Poage. "Certainly Texas has increased sufficiently to retain all 21 seats it now has, but in order to take a seat away from another state the increase must be far greater than the national average."

Becomes Duty Of President

Under existing law the president sends to the second session of each fifth Congress (every 10 years and immediately after the census enumeration), the results of the new census so that the legislators may themselves reapportion seats if they wish. The law was enacted before the "lame duck amendment" which changed the opening dates for Congress. The second session of the 76th congress began Jan. 3, and is expected to be over before the census enumeration is completed. The bill reported by the census committee provided that the president send the census results to the first session of the 77th congress, meeting next January. Then, if Congress that session fails to redistribute seats itself, it becomes the duty of the president to do so after they have adjourned and to send to the governor of each state a certificate specifying the number of seats his state shall have in the house.

"You can rest assured that Congress won't reapportion the seats," Poage continued. "Certainly a state delegation would fight passage of a bill that would force one or more of its own members to retire; so the duty is expected to fall on the president some time in 1941."

Much Confusion Can Result

Much confusion in the election of a state's congressmen could arise if the census resulted in a change in the size of the delegation, explained the Wacoan, who as a state senator when the 1930 census was taken served on the legislature's conference committee that had to redistrict Texas to make room for more congressmen. Discussing what could happen in Texas, he said:

"Suppose the state were to lose a seat. By the time the president would have notified the governor the state legislature will have met and undoubtedly adjourned. Unless called back into special session, since it meets only once every two years, the legislature could not redistrict the state before the congressmen again came up for election. Consequently all 21 seats would have to be filled by candidates running for Congress-at-large and representing the entire state.

"If the state gained a seat in Congress, only the one additional place would have to be filled by a candidate running for representative-at-large."

Remembers Own Experience

Poage could see no liklihood of Harris county, which includes Houston, Bexar county including San Antonio, or Dallas county ever getting more than one representative in Congress even though their respective populations might be double the average of a congressional district. The seats are certified by the president en bloc to the states and it is the work of the state legislature to apportion them by counties.

"Judging by my own experience when we redistricted Texas after the last census," he added, "I am sure no one county will ever get more than one representative.

"The job of redefining the districts is a difficult one, when we last redistricted, we started in at the northwest corner of the state—Wright Patman's district no. 1 up by Texarkana and worked on across to El Paso, in some instances taking three or more counties off the one side and adding one or two on the opposite.

"This procedure was necessary in order to work in the three new seats. Any change in a district naturally affects an incumbent congressman for he may have long built up his political strength in the very counties he loses."

Ed D. Allen Announces Formally Saturday As Candidate For Re-Election As Clerk

"In again asking that you elect me county clerk of Lubbock county, I wish to thank you for the many courtesies extended our office and the consideration shown me, at each and every election in the past.

"Believing that experience is a great teacher, and that by virtue of the experience gained in the office, I am better qualified to render you the type of service to which you are entitled, I am again asking you to elect me your county clerk. I promise you the same untiring service, and it will be a pleasure for us to serve you in the future, as it has been in the past."

Sweeping Changes In U. S. Agriculture Indicated In USDA Planting Survey

Four Big Crops Reduce Acreage

By FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 30—Agriculture department reports of planting intentions of farmers this year reveal several interesting and significant shifts in American agriculture.

Most of the changes are attributable to loss of export markets but others were caused by weather conditions and increased use of farm power machinery in the place of horses and mules.

Cotton acreage has been slashed approximately 40 per cent—from an average of 44,000,000 acres in the 1925-1930 period to an average of 25,000,000 in the past three years. Low prices caused by loss of exports was the principal reason.

Corn Down 20 Per Cent

Corn acreage has been cut from an average of 110,000,000 acres in the 1930-33 period to an estimated 87,770,000 this year, a reduction of about 20 per cent. That was due partly to improved yields per acre and partly to low prices as well as fewer grain-consuming work animals on farms.

Farmers boosted their wheat acreage during the World war and thereafter planted from 65,000,000 to 80,000,000 acres annually. Because of the fall drouth which has forced abandonment of an estimated 15,000,000 of winter wheat, the 1940 harvest is estimated at about 46,000,000 acres.

A 21.5 per cent slash in tobacco acreage—from 1,942,000 to 1,524,000 acres—this year is directly attributed to the European war and the virtual shutdown of exports caused by the British embargo on American tobacco.

Oat Acreage Up

Acreage of oats this year will be slightly larger than last, but 3,000,000 acres below the 1929-1938 average. Farmers will plant 4,000,000 fewer acres in barley than they did in the 1929-1938 period, but about the same as last year.

Flaxseed acreage will be 15 per cent larger than last year; rice acreage will remain about the same, but plantings of cowpeas and peanuts will be about 5 per cent smaller this year than last, the department said.

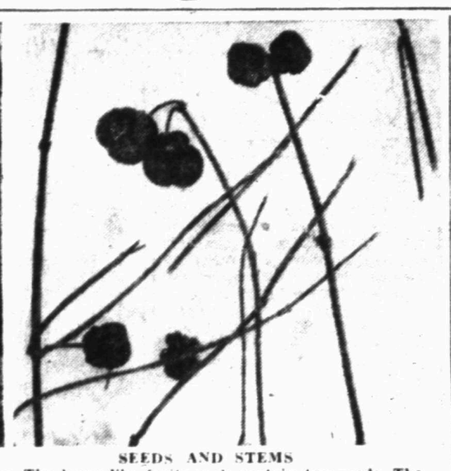

One of the most marked increases has been in the plantings of soybeans. That crop has sprung from a few thousand acres 10 years ago to the seventh largest farm crop, with an estimated 10,610,000 acres this year.

Not only has there been considerable changes in national acreage of the principal crops, there have been even greater state changes. Several dry years in the South Great Plains have resulted in a sharp reduction in corn acreage and a shift to grain sorghums, which are more drouth resistant.

Nebraska corn acreage has declined from a 1929-1938 average of 9,334,000 acres to 6,831,000 estimated for 1940; Kansas from 5,707,000 to 2,984,000 acres and South Dakota, from 4,483,000 to 2,836,000 acres.

PLANT

SEEDS AND STEMS

Mature ephedra forms a sod, needs little attention. The berry-like fruits each contain two seeds. The drug is extracted from the stems.

Ill War Wind Blows U. S. Farmers Good; Medicine Plant From China May Become Cash Crop; It's A Drug--Ephedra Sinica

Associated Press Feature Service

BROOKINGS, S. D., March 30—As a result of the Sino-Japanese war America's farmers may get another cash crop—ephedra sinica.

Ephedra is a Chinese shrub whose stems yield an alkaline drug ephedrine which is used in the treatment of such respiratory ailments as hay fever, bronchial asthma and head colds. The war cut off America's supply of the crude drug.

Dr. L. D. Hiner, professor of pharmacy at South Dakota State college, who has been experimenting with the plant, first brought a dozen seeds here in 1929 to investigate the shrub's possibilities as an anchor for wind-swept soil.

Test plots were planted and it was discovered that with proper care plants could be developed to furnish ephedrine in usable quantities. It was found that naturalized plants could produce as much as 1.64 per cent ephedrine as compared with the Chinese-grown shrub content of 1 per cent.

Though known in China for thousands of years as Mahuang the plant and its drug were scarcely known here 10 years ago. It is a large species of nearly leafless desert shrub found only in a wild state on the dry plains of China. It grows low to the ground and is harvested in much the same manner as hay.

Department of Commerce statistics show that imports of ephedra sinica in crude drug form reached nearly 2,000,000 pounds annually before 1937. It formerly sold for 2½ to 3 cents a pound, but in 1939 was listed as being worth 10 to 13 cents in bulk form.

This year, a Federal research grant was made available for further work with the plant. Several acres will be planted at the South Dakota experiment station. Seeds grown there will be slowly introduced among farmers.

The project is not a "get rich quick" scheme, Dr. Hiner declared, but should provide an adequate income for families on inferior prairie land. He estimates that at prices obtaining prior to the Sino-Japanese war, ephedra sinica may be worth an average of $75 per acre. The best yield on test plots was 10,101 pounds of crude drugs per acre.

Ephedra is grown from seeds or runners and can be transplanted to fields after three years, when the shrubs reach maturity. Tests are being made by Dr. Hiner to determine the exact toxic effect of the plant so that it will be known whether livestock must be tightly-fenced where it is grown.

Because drug prices are continually changing and because creation of a new source of supply will alter prices still further, Dr. Hiner says crop values are difficult to determine. He believes, however, that the demand will increase when a domestic supply is available.

Besides its medical worth, ephedra sinica has an additional value in that it is a perennial that grows in dry areas. So it may help solve the problem of holding down soil on wind-swept fields.

Sheep Shearing Is Under Way

Professional shearers generally use power machines where they can get current from rural electric high lines. Most of the professional men come from down state, in the sheep country. Mexicans from deep south Texas as a rule use hand machines.

Tom Stevens of Eldorado, has a five-drop shearing machine. Others do not have as large. A San Angelo crew is at work in this section and also one from New Mexico.

Most of the sheep are in Hale, northern Lubbock, Swisher, Castro, Floyd, Crosby, Hockley, Lamb and Bailey counties. Lynn, Dawson and Garza also have increasing numbers of small flocks.

A fleece weighs seven or eight pounds or more, depending on the size of the animals. Generally shearing is delayed until danger of cold has passed, as there is a heavy loss if shorn sheep are subjected to severe cold weather or a blizzard.

Treatment Of Seed Increases Yield Of Cotton Over Texas

COLLEGE STATION, March 30—(Special)—Chemical treatment of cottonseed might bring Texas farmers an extra 320,000 bales of cotton in 1940.

In four year tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, treatment increased the yield by an average of 25 per cent at College Station; 12 per cent at Temple; 9 per cent in the Brazos Bottom; and 4 per cent at Lubbock, or an average of 12 1-2 per cent.

This average, if applied to the entire Texas crop, would raise the state yield of 162 pounds per acre (for the past two years) by 20 pounds.

The treatment used by the experiment station was an organic mercury dust, known as 2 per cent ceresan, at the rate of three ounces to the bushel. A new improved ceresan is now available, and recommended treatment is one and one-half ounces per bushel.

Increased yields, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, come because of higher germination. It has been found that the treatment is most effective in unfavorable seasons.

The chemical also reduces loss from seed-borne diseases, such as sore shin, or damping off, bacterial boll rot, and angular leaf spot.

Extensive Terracing Program Is Planned

LAMESA, March 30—Higginbotham and Harris, of Dallas, owners of a large ranch and farm property in Dawson county south and west of here plan to terrace 16,000 acres this year.

Already 1,500 acres have been terraced. 2,500 more will be this spring and 12,000 acres this summer.

The company purchased a caterpillar tractor, with a 14-foot blade and they have begun work. Two former enrollees of the Civilian Conservation corps camp here were employed to construct the terraces, representing 640 miles. A former SCS employe was hired to do the engineering work.

John M. Steele Announces Formally As Candidate For Lubbock County's Attorney

* * *

John M. Steele, Lubbock attorney, Saturday announced formally his candidacy for the office of county attorney of Lubbock county. His statement follows:

"It is a real privilege to announce my candidacy for the office of county attorney of Lubbock county. It will not be possible for me to do much expensive advertising but I hope to see most of the people of this county during this campaign.

"The office of county attorney is an important one and the people of this county want a man who will devote his entire energies and thought to making a good officer. In the prosecution of criminal cases within the county court's jurisdiction, the people want a man who will make a thorough investigation into the case before he allows the accused to be placed in jeopardy, and after such investigation, to prosecute the case with zeal and fairness, let the chips fall where they may. My experience in criminal cases qualifies me for this task. In addition to his duties in the prosecution of criminal cases, an energetic and able county attorney can save the county many times his salary by correctly advising the commissioner's court in civil matters. It is my ambition to stake my entire future on my success in making the people of this county an outstanding county attorney.

"For the sake of those I will be unable to see and talk to, I wish to give the following brief history to acquaint them with me: I was born and reared in Rule, Haskell county, and educated in the schools there, and received my college education at Southern Methodist university and the University of Texas, being graduated from the University of Texas Law school in 1937. I am a member of the Methodist church and the Horn Bible class. My family lives on a farm three miles north of Lubbock.

"With deep humility I want to say that it will make me very proud to be able to serve you as county attorney, and I will endeavor to serve in such a manner that you will be equally proud to say that you voted for me."

New AAA Committee For Gaines Selected

SEMINOLE, March 30 — Gaines county farmers at a meeting in district court room here selected a new Agricultural Adjustment administration committee.

T. O. Hunt of Loop was named chairman; Paul Stewart of Williams community, and W. L. Bullington, Loop, committeemen; Mr. Stroub, Sawyer and James Taylor, Cedar Lake, alternates.

In the county there are approximately 500 work sheets. In a previous election, held in December, the state AAA committee ruled a mistake was made and called for another election.

The Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, weighs 2,080 pounds.

J. Edd McLaughlin To Visit Rotary Sessions

J. Edd McLaughlin, Ralls banker and a director of Rotary International, for the first time in miss a district 127 convention to held in Sweetwater April 28-30. may attend, however, by flying fr Chicago.

McLaughlin was formerly distr governor, being the first for the d trict which was formed out of old 41st district. He will begi tour of conventions this week.

Schedule is as follows: Memp Tenn., April 4-5; in Chicago f board meeting, April 9-10; Cof ville, Kansas, April 14-15; Springs, Ark., April 18-19; Wat loo, Iowa, April 23-24; Chicago a committee meeting April 27 and Colorado Springs, May 5-6.

Claude Denton Of Lubbock Gives Statement On Commissioner, Precinct 4, Candidacy

* * *

CLAUDE DENTON

"When I served you as county commissioner several years ago, I took office by virtue of appointment on account of a vacancy which had occured. The appointment had been offered to others, but they refused to accept. It paid but little and there was much work to be done. My friends urged me to accept it, and I did, and it was not the small salary that caused me to do so, but roads needed to be built and I wanted to serve the citizens of my precinct. Not only was the salary small, between $500 and $600 per year, and I had to furnish my own car.

"There were but few roads in the county and they were in bad shape. New highways had to be laid out, and deep grades and fills constructed through lakes. Money was scarce and the machinery we had to use not much more than a makeshift. We had then one engine and an old grader.

Tax Rate 85 Cents Then

"During this period your county tax rate was 85 cents, and when I left the office, this rate, through the fine cooperation of the other commissioners with whom I served, had been reduced to 58 cents by reason of a reduction in valuation which amounted to more than $2,500,000. This reduction also cut my own salary around $200 per year. As stated, then there was work and lots of it that had to be done, and we did it under very trying circumstances.

"My sole ambition that now prompts me to again offer my services as commissioner of Precinct 4, is to render you, the voters and taxpayers, a service based upon seasoned experience, that will be of lasting good. I shall endeavor to bring about a proper adjustment of county taxes. There is more money available now, chiefly because of the large sums annually collected from our licenses, which we did not have available a few years ago. I believe I know the needs of the taxpayers, and it is to serve their needs that I offer my candidacy. My friends know my qualifications, and it goes without saying that now I should be better qualified in view of past bitter experiences in helping pave the way for the development of the best county in Texas.

Believes Better Prepared

"When I was in office, I worked all the roads in the different neighborhoods of my precinct without special favors, and I propose to do the same thing again, if elected.

"In view of the present conditions existing in this county—better equipment, and in general first class machinery, and adequate finance—I honestly believe that I am prepared to render you a far better service than it was possible in former years under the bad conditions which then existed. Again I say that I did not take this office before because of the salary, and it is not the salary alone that prompts me to again offer my services.

L. D. Rochelle Enters Representative's Race

LITTLEFIELD, March 30—L. D. Rochelle, well known Lamb county resident and former county school superintendent, has announced his candidacy for representative from the 120th district.

The place is now held by A. B. Tarwater, Plainview, serving his fifth term, who has not announced his plans. Tom W. Deen, former Floyd county judge, is a candidate and L. G. Matthews of Floydada, an attorney, recently announced.

Cochran, Yoakum And Terry Vote May 25 On Soil District

Farmer land owners of Cochran, Yoakum and Terry counties will vote May 25 on the proposed formation of a soil conservation district in compliance with the state law.

The election was called recently by the state Soil Conservation board as one of 35 districts in the state, for May.

Several months ago farmers of the three counties met and after discussing formation of a district, voted to ask the state board to call an election.

Water facilities would be set up through federal agencies. Recently other districts were approved by voters in this section.

Plainview Flying Club Moves Hanger, Field

PLAINVIEW, March 30 — The Plainview Flying club, owner of a plane, has announced removal of its flying field and hangar from its present location on the Albert G. Hinn land five miles south, to a quarter of a mile west of Finney switch, five miles north.

Mrs. W. E. Settoon of Plainview owns an 80-acre tract there. The land is sodded. The hangar is built in sections and can be easily moved said T. S. Meinecke, vice president, who made the announcement.

Hugh Tull, jr., is club president. The club has a score of members.

INCOME FROM CHARMS

The sale of charms is one of the principal means of income for Chinese priests. One of these charms consists of a drawing of a horse on a sheet of yellow paper, sold to parents who have sick children.

Sheriff Tom Abel Asks For Re-Election To Office In Formal Statement To Voters

* * *

TOM ABEL

Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock county, in a formal statement to the citizens of Lubbock county Saturday asked for re-election to that office. His statement follows:

"In announcing for re-election for sheriff of Lubbock county, I do so with full realization of the debt of gratitude and appreciation that is due the citizens of this county for the splendid support and cooperation given me and my department in the past. I have tried to show my appreciation of this support and cooperation by giving you the very best service that the whole department is capable of.

"It is my belief that the best insurance the property owners and tax payers of any county can have is an efficient, honest and industrious law enforcement department. I ask you to be the judge as to whether or not my department has been conducted in this manner during my tenure of office, and I promise you that so long as I am your sheriff I shall continue to give you the same kind of service.

"I have a personnel of honest, conscientious, hardworking deputies whom you all know. We need no introduction to you. You know me and you know my deputies; you know what we are and what we stand for, and that we can be depended upon at all times to do our duty. We are here to serve you, and hope to continue to serve you so long as we can do so with mutual benefit to you and ourselves.

"If you feel that we have given you good service and good enforcement in the past, and you want a continuation of the same kind of enforcement in the future, then we solicit your support in the coming elections."

Enlistments Total 873 In 9 Years Here

During the nine years from 1931 to January 1, 1940, total of 873 men have been enlisted in the U. S. army through the Lubbock recruiting office, records of Sgt. Ernest O. Slater, recruiting officer, show.

Enlistments were actually during 88 months. The office was closed for recruiting 23 months in that time.

In 1931 the office was open three months, closed the same, 33 men enlisting; 1932, open three months, closed nine, enlisted 36 men; 1933, open 10 months, closed two, enlisting 75 men; 1934, open 11 months, closed one, enlisting 151 men; 1935, open nine months, closed three, enlisting 78 men; 1936, open all year enlisting 105 men; 1937, open all year, enlisting 87 men; 1938, open seven months, closed five, enlisting 70 men; 1939, open all year, enlisting 238 men.

November, 1939 was the largest month, 67 men enlisting.

The office was opened first in 1923. No records prior to July 1 1931 are available.

Latin Not Impractical Subject, Texan Says

AUSTIN, March 30. (AP)—If Latin is a "dead" language, then six-tenths of the words we use today are in the same condition, says Dr. Harry J. Leon, University of Texas associate professor.

For proof he cites one million high school students studying Latin in the nation's schools. This exceeds the combined enrollment for all other alien languages, a recent survey discloses.

Further proof of the liviliness of Latin, he adds, is a statewide Latin tournament sponsored by the Texas Classical Association April 6 at Brownwood, San Angelo, Borger, Longview, Dallas, Port Arthur and Cleburne. Every high school in the state that has Latin courses is eligible to enter students.

Houston Symphony To Play In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, March 30. — The Houston Symphony orchestra will close the season of the West Texas Concert association here with a concert in the Municipal auditorium Friday night, April 5.

Although the Houston orchestra, with a membership of 80, has been well received at concerts this season in New Orleans, Austin and San Antonio, this is the first time it has appeared so far west. It is the only symphony orchestra scheduled for this section of West Texas this season.

Ernst Hoffman, now in his fourth season as conductor, has announced a program including Tschaikowsky's "Fourth" Symphony,, Enesco's "Rumanian Rhapsody No. 1"; Mendelssohn's overture to "Ruy Blas," Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor" and the "March of the Sirdar" from "Caucasian Sketches" by Ippolitov-Ivanov.

FIRE DAMAGE

Centuries must pass before the scars of great forest fires are obliterated. The raging fire of 1894 ravaged 2,500 square miles of forest in Minnesota, 4,000 square miles in Wisconsin and 60 in Michigan.

SWASTIKA NOT NEW

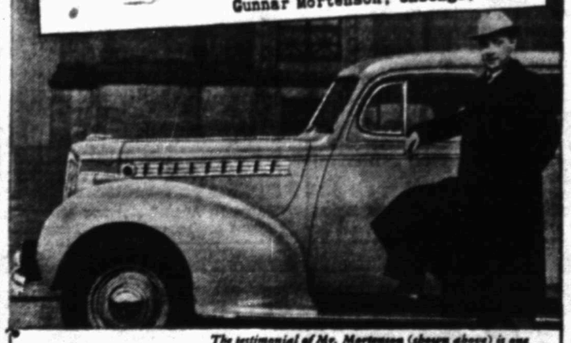

The swastika originally was used some time before the 13th century, B. C., by a country in Asia Minor. This sun symbol is variously named "Fly-Foot-Cross," Svastika," and "Gammadion."

Hollywood On The Loose..

Stars Balk At Trip To Europe To Help In Freeing Assets

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 30 — Short takes: The studios were a little premature in celebrating a scheme to use up their frozen foreign assets. They were going to spend the money producing pictures abroad and then bring the films back to America, but now it seems that Hollywood stars and featured players want no part of the plan. Most of 'em get seasick just at the thought of the submarine and mine-infested Atlantic. They doubt, too, that London and Paris will be especially pretty in the spring.

A few actors and actresses have offered to go for double wages and all expenses. Lots of faded stars and second-string players would be glad of the jobs at any decent figure. They may get the chance, too.

• • •

THE secretary of Mike Curtiz swears it's true: The other day, as he was leaving his office for lunch, she reminded him of an important appointment at 1:30. The director said, "Okay—if I come back before I return, hold me until I get here."

• • •

Fake Phone Listings

TO AVOID nuisance calls, nearly everyone of any importance in Hollywood has an unlisted telephone number. A few have telephones under their butlers' or even their dogs' names—anything that may be familiar to a few close friends. Howard Harty and Charles Koren, two Metro writers who share a house, took a telephone under the name of Z. Z. Zzyrz. All their pals need to remember is that it's the last listing in the book. . . . Some samilar gag, I suspect, was the listing of the Motion Picture Studio Horses' Guild. Whoever or whatever it was must have been pestered to death by curious people. When I telephoned, the number had been disconnected.

• • •

Bette Davis wants Frank Capra to direct her in a comedy. . . . It's odd that the two biggest picture successes, "Gone With the Wind" and "Grapes of Wrath," would be better named if they switched titles. . . . I hear from Ray Milland, who ought to know because he played the lead in it, that "French Without Tears" will be pretty weak fare when shown in America. Made and acclaimed abroad, it's now being slashed and changed to please our purists.

• • •

Shearer And Raft

THAT'S all publicity nonsense about Norma Shearer and George Raft making a picture together. . . . Another of Mickey Rooney's ex-girl friends, Jewel Hart, this time, is engaged to somebody else. He gets 'em in the mood, anyway . . . Dorothy Lamour has to lose her tonsils and is scared silly that her voice may change. . . . Orson Welles finally shaved off his beard, and a considerable hunk of chin along with it. He's still ducking photographers.

No picture about Abraham Lincoln ever made money, but the best of them all, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," is likely to end up with a $500,000 loss.

HEN IS REVIVED

McCAMEY, March 30. (AP)—A. M. Page, meterman for a utilities company, made his nightly trip to the barn to milk the cow. There he found a "dominicker" hen drowned in the water trough. He fished her out—dead as a doornail—and took her in the house where he applied the prone pressure method of resuscitation learned in a first aid course.

The hen revived.

Laugh Riot Is On At Lindsey

ONE OF the best comedy musicals of the new season opens today at the Palace theater with two of the leading male exponents of radio song and comedy, appropriately assisted by Dorothy Lamour, teamed together for the first time on the screen.

Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Miss Lamour are the top trio in the production, "Road To Singapore."

Plenty Of Entertainment

There'll be plenty to entertain even the most exacting, what with the singing of Bing and Dorothy and the topnotch gagging of Bob. And there is an excellent supporting cast which includes Charles Coburn, Judith Barrett, Anthony Quinn and Jerry Colonna.

The boys, just returned from a sea voyage, get into romantic trouble. An old girl friend gets after Bob and Bing is approached by his fiancee and his father who wants him to go to work. They have different ideas however, and flee to the South Seas where they contemplate the wind in the palms and contrive to go broke without much effort.

Forget Their Woman Hating

All their woman hating comes to naught when they visit a local joint, and there meet Miss Lamour. The boys dispose of her pest who is her late mother's dancing partner and, after the riot, wake up to find her taking over the duties of keeping house for them.

Meanwhile Bing's father and fiancee get a line on him and they arrive just as the trio are taking part in a native festival just to get something to eat. Ensuing romantic complications find Bing faced with the necessity of returning home or else.

Three Stars In Picture

Jean Arthur, Fred MacMurray and Melvyn Douglas are starred in the film, "Too Many Husbands," a story of a merry and mad marital mixup.

Miss Arthur, in contrast to the dramatic roles which she has had in recent films, employs to the full her gift for light comedy.

As the lonely wife suddenly "blessed" with two husbands, she delightedly expresses her appreciation of the flattering circumstance, as well as her perplexed and fearful recognition that its outcome might well mean prison for her.

MacMurray and Douglas extract the last ounce of mirth from their roles as her husbands. When MacMurray is reported drowned at sea, Jean finds comfort and love with Fred's business partner and best friend, Douglas, who is as staid and conservative as MacMurray had been wild and irrepressible. They are married, and then Jean discovers that business affairs are keeping her new husband away from her.

MacMurray suddenly returns — one husband too many. And the complications which arise from that point make "Too Many Husbands" a laugh from start to finish.

Minor players include Harry Davenport, Melville Cooper and Dorothy Peterson.

It is a story of comedy and pathos and expresses them to an exemplary degree with Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland as the youthful stars.

The production tells simply of the unsuccessful comeback attempt of a group of vaudeville oldsters and the success of their youngsters in a musical comedy.

Supporting Rooney and Miss Garland are Charles Winninger, Guy Kibbee, June Preisser, Grace Hayes, Betty Jaynes, Douglas McPhail, Rand Brooks, Leni Lynn, John Sheffield, Henry Hull, Barnett Parker, Ann Shoemaker, Margaret Hamilton and others.

"Babes In Arms," starring Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland is the current attraction at the Texan.

"Judge Hardy And Son" Will Bring Laughs At Broadway

Kay Kyser Is Back At Lyric

LEWIS STONE, Mickey Rooney and the rest of the Hardy family are back in the city today at the Broadway theater with more laughs in "Judge Hardy And Son."

This time, instead of traveling, the family works out its destinies at home in Carvel. Mickey becomes involved in complications with three new charmers and his sweetheart, played by Ann Rutherford. When the mother of the family becomes ill and is close to death, he turns from boyhood to manhood, inspires his worried father with a new courage, dares a raging flood to bring his sister to her mother's bedside, and figures in gripping dramatic moments.

Stone and Mickey have some of the most dramatic lines of their career and Cecilia Parker acquits herself perfectly as the daughter. Fay Holden is the lovable mother who won't give up life and desert her brood. Sara Haden as the aunt has interesting moments with her young nephew.

Three new charmers enter Mickey's life in the persons of June Preisser, Martha O'Driscoll and Margaret Early.

Starring Kay Kyser with his orchestra and Adolphe Menjou, the picture breaks sharply away from the conventional boy-meets girl success story theme on which most band leader films have been based.

The story deals with the hilarious but futile efforts of a big Hollywood film company to make a picture with Kyser and his band. Kyser and his boys portray themselves throughout and Menjou has the role of the luckless producer.

At first, Kyser and the boys are enthusiastic and proceed to "go Hollywood" in a big way. Menjou tries to get Kyser to break his contract when a story for him appears hopeless. The batonist fights back, his maneuvers speeding up the film furiously to a hilarity-packed climax. Lucille Ball is excellent in the role of the glamor girl and May Robson furnishes fun as Kyser's redoubtable grandmother. Edward Everett Horton, Roscoe Karns, Dennis O'Keefe and Moroni Olsen, along with Kyser's solists, Ginny Simms, Harry Babbitt, Sully Mason and Ish Kabibble also are featured in the film.

"Sidewalks Of London" Tops Tech And Arcadia Program

Great English Stars Together

GREAT as Vivien Leigh's present success is, after her unforgettable performance in "Gone With The Wind," she will not be known for this one characterization alone.

Hardly have Lubbock theatergoers had a chance to catch their breath from her outstanding portrayal of Scarlett O'Hara than they have a chance to see her again, this time co-starred with the great Charles Laughton in a new comedy drama, "Sidewalks of London," showing for the first time in the city starting today at the Tech and Arcadia theaters.

Latest Role Is Natural

The boundless energy, audacity and fire which have characterized Miss Leigh's work so far make her latest role a natural. She, as does Laughton, plays a "busker," a pictoresque entertainer who sings, dances and clowns on London streets for pennies tossed by passersby.

She scraps like a tigress one minute and makes love the next. She defies Laughton shamelessly in order to further her own career, yet remains loyal to him in a strange way. Failing for a handsome young man about town, she makes him fall in love with her by stealing his cigaret case.

Miss Leigh's portrayal of the temptestuous "Libby" in "Sidewalks of London" seems destined to rank alongside the screen's best remembered women roles.

Laughton A Great Actor

Laughton received the year's most enthusiastic compliment for doing the worst piece of acting of his career. The event took place in the picture.

Laughton's director called him to do the world's "hammiest piece of acting" for a scene in which he imitates a London sidewalk entertainer doing a job on Kipling's "If."

Laughton recites "If" when his former sweetheart, Miss Leigh, after becoming a great stage star, succeeds in getting him auditioned by a group of London's leading producers. The street clown renders the Kipling poem with all the melodrama and pathos of his profession. It also succeeds in getting a laugh out of the producers and convincing the loyal Miss Leigh that her old friend must remain a "busker."

Here is lovely Vivien Leigh who will be starred with Charles Laughton in "Sidewalks Of London," showing both at the Tech and Arcadia today through Wednesday.

Charlie Ruggles, Richard Denning and Martha Raye will be seen in "The Farmer's Daughter," starting at the Palace Wednesday.

Deadline For AAA Applications May 31

COLLEGE STATION, March 30—No more applications for agricultural conservation payments or for range conservation payments under the 1939 AAA program can be accepted after May 31.

This deadline is final, according to a ruling of the state Agricultural Conservation Association committee, which declared that "no exceptions will be made."

May 1, deadline for filing application to participate in the 1940 range and agricultural conservation programs.

Your Screen Test

1. What was unique about three of the major awards for acting made this year by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences?

2. About how many feature-length films are produced annually by American companies?

3. What short subject was banned recently by a Canadian official on the ground that it was "blatant political propaganda" for a rival Canadian political figure?

4. (a) Name the three documentary films produced by agencies of the United States government that were seen by the public generally. (b) Which is the most recent? (c) Define the term documentary film.

5. (a) What young singing and dancing star (pictured here), although born on the West Coast followed a circuitous course, including musical stage appearances in New York and stage and film work in London, before she returned to the West Coast to make pictures? (b) What is the name of the picture in which she will shortly be seen?

(Answers on Page 14)

Willy Castello and Constance Worth will be seen at the Lyric, starting Tuesday, in "The Wages Of Sin."

Wallace Beery At His Best In Cactus' Thunder Afloat

Story Of War On Seas Told

And with Beery appears a capable cast including Chester Morris, Virginia Grey, Carl Esmond, Regis Toomey, John Qualen, Clem Bevans, Douglas Dumbrille, Jonathan Hale, Charles Lane and Phillip Terry.

At His Blustering Best

As the tugboat captain who joins the navy and wants to fight the war single-handed after an enemy submarine has sunk his craft, Beery is at his blustering best.

The role is not all bravado, however. It permits him to prove himself the versatile veteran that he is, schooled in every art of the screen.

Esmond Is "Menace"

The action thrills, filmed at sea off the Atlantic coast with the remnant of the subchaser fleet of World war days, and off the Coronado islands on the west coast with the United States submarine Sturgeon, often come near stealing the picture from the principals.

The White House was the first public building erected in Washington.

Be Sure To Vote In City Election Tuesday; Democrats Said Facing Licking

Large Vote Is Important

Dangers Of Initiative Elections Cited

SINCE none of the candidates has opposition, it may seem a waste of time to vote in Tuesday's city election here.

However, there are reasons of importance and concern to every citizen in Lubbock why the vote should be large.

One reason is that if the vote is small, it will be an invitation to selfish groups to wage last-minute write-in campaigns in behalf of some candidate whose name they would not dare to submit to the people as a whole. Probably no such thing will happen. But they have happened in other cities. They could happen here.

Then there is this important consideration: For two years the city commission will be compelled to call any bond or charter change election asked by any petition bearing one-tenth as many signatures of qualified electors as there are votes cast Tuesday. Recall elections can be forced by petitions bearing 30 per cent as many signatures. Thus if only 100 votes should be cast, it would mean that 10 malcontents could force the city to the expense and inconvenience of holding an election on any crack-pot idea they might have.

Thirty such malcontents with personal grudges against this or that official might subject him to the humiliation of facing a recall election even if everyone knew that 99 per cent of the people endorsed the conduct and acts of that official. And Lubbock is like other cities in that it possesses a certain number of people who are mean enough and who care so little of the community's opinion of them that they might be willing to sponsor such an election solely for reasons of spite.

A visit to the city hall to cast your ballot likely will require only a few minutes. That is very little to ask, and to expect, of those who want to do what they can to insure orderly city government during the next two years.

None More Worthier

ALTHOUGH the lavishness with which an election-conscious Congress is approving appropriations may justify fears among those who realize that a day of reckoning must come, there is this to be said of spending policies of the present congressional session:

If the members are going to increase appropriations for any of the alphabetical agencies, then none are worthier than the Civilian Conservation corps and the National Youth administration. Substantial increases above the allocations asked by the President have been proposed for both the CCC and the NYA.

The CCC has been subject to less criticism, probably, than any agency which has been he outgrowth of the new deal. There is every reason why it should become permanent in its endeavor to assist young men of limited opportunities through the most critical period of their lives. The NYA attempts to render a similar service to both young men and young women. Furthermore, the total appropriation proposed for the NYA is so small in comparison with the vast sums expended for other new deal purposes that it represents no more than a drop in the bucket in aggravating the problem of governmental extravagances. On the basis of the same comparison, proposed CCC appropriations are not large.

When the time comes that Congress is forced to the realization that economy must begin, then the CCC and the NYA must expect to retrench along with other agencies. But since the congressional keynote seems to be one of wild spending, certainly the CCC and NYA are worthier of greater liberality than almost any other federal agencies.

The One-Minute Sermon

Now therefore behold the king whom ye have chosen, and whom ye have desired! and, behold, the Lord hath set a king over you.

If ye will fear the Lord, and serve him, and obey his voice, and not rebel against the commandment of the Lord, than shall both ye and also the king that reigneth over you continue following the Lord your God:

But if ye will not obey the voice of the Lord, but rebel against the commandment of the Lord, then shall the hand of the Lord be against you, as it was against your fathers.—1. Samuel 12; 13 through 15.

American Doctor, In Far-Away Siam, Believes He Has Found A

Sure Cure For That Dread Leprosy

From an obscure medical outpost in Siam, an NEA correspondent today brings first word of a possible new cure in the treatment of leprosy which, if verified, will be one of the outstanding medical discoveries of the decade. American experts on leprosy as yet have not had a chance to check the purported discoveries, and declare it might be years before they can be verified. The story was written by George A. Fitch, fareastern Y. M. C. A. official and a director of the Chinese Mission to Lepers. Dr. Fitch was the first westerner to get the story and pictures of the new Dalai Lama in Tibet, released last year through NEA Service.

BY GEORGE A. FITCH
NEA Service Correspondent

EN ROUTE Bangkok, Siam, to Penang, Malaya, March 30—Amazing results of leprosy treatment experiments carried on by an American medical missionary in Siam indicate he may have discovered both a cure for the disease and a prophylaxis against infection.

The missionary who revealed his findings is Dr. Douglas R. Collier, graduate of the University of Colorado Medical School (1923) and fellow in the American College of Surgeons. For nearly 16 years he has been a man of medicine in Siam, practicing lately at McCormick Hospital and the leper asylum at Chiengmai.

Dr. Collier revealed his work in a report before the Thailand (Siam) Research Society.

Here in northern Siam is located one of the most progressive leprosariums in the world, one that serves its own 500 patients and conducts clinics for lepers in many surrounding towns. Founded by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, it has the support of both the American Mission to Lepers and the government of Siam.

SCIENCE BAFFLED IN SEARCH FOR CURE

FOR centuries this dread disease of the ancients has baffled attempts of science to find a cure. Now claiming some 3,000,000 victims throughout the world, leprosy thrives best in tropical lands, like those where Dr. Collier has conducted his experiments.

Dr. Collier began his experimental work about a year and a half ago. It was then that a German doctor, now in the submarine service, came to Siam from Africa with the theory that the eating of taro, starchy tropic plant, and other sapotoxin-containing foods weakened the resistance to infection of leprosy. He had observed that a tribe that ate the tuber root had a much higher incidence of the disease than one which did not.

In Chiengmai, it is claimed, leprosy was first produced in animals when monkeys and pigs, fed on taro and inoculated with leprous material, took the disease. Results were also obtained by inserting nasal secretions from one infected animal into the nose of another, and by transplanting material from a leprous nodule.

Short wave radiation (diathermy) was applied to the backs of a number of patients in the asylum as a second experiment by Dr. Collier. He found this treatment brought many beneficial results.

• • •

DIPHTHERIA ANTITOXIN RELIEVES MANY PATIENTS

DIPHTHERIA antitoxin was then used as a treatment for lepers by Dr. Collier starting a year ago. He operated in the belief that there might be something more than an analogy between the established attempt of the body to form antibodies against diphtheria toxin, a disease which attacks the adrenal glands, and the absence of such action in leprosy.

Startling results brought about the use of diphtheria toxoid and antitoxin together, until now Dr. Collier has more than 150 cases under treatment and observation. Beneficial effects have been found in all stages of the disease as skin lesions, lepromatous patches, plaques and thickenings are reduced, painful nerves are relieved, nerve function is improved, and in some cases there is a return of sensation in former areas of anesthesia.

"We feel," says Dr. Collier, "that in the use of toxoid and antitoxin we have a treatment which far exceeds any method yet known. Results are obtained in a few weeks which formerly were seen only after months oftreatment of chalmougra oil."

Dr. Collier refuses to state that he has discovered a permanent cure—another year of experimentation is necessary—but he has undoubtedly hit upon a superior method of treatment, one that should bring some measure of relief and happiness to thousands of unfortunate lepers.

Dr. Collier covers his practice on a Chinese pony.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

AMERICAN business and industry will hit a post-depression low in March and April. Business is bad, despite all attempts to conceal the economic doldrums.

The production index figure, which reached the all-time high of 128 in December, has slumped to about 100 for the current month. Except for such specialties as airplanes and machine tools, there is no foreign buying. Domestic unemployment, despite columnists' arguments, still amounts to nine million or ten million people. Obviously American business and industry are suffering, despite almost eight years of New Deal reforms.

Washington's most expert economists are privately predicting a serious summer slump. They would not be surprised if the production index figure dropped as low as 90 by June—38 points below the December high. Under such circumstances the Democrats, whether led by FDR or somebody else, face a licking in November.

• • •

ROBOT: America's feverish rush to produce planes for the Allies has resulted in the manufacture of faulty accessories and engines. The army and navy have had to reject thousands of dollars' worth of material which did not meet specifications.

The shortage of airplane mechanics is chiefly responsible for army-navy difficulties, and for the rejection of the product of the inexpert. The lack of trained craftsmen is the principal bottleneck, and that defect cannot be remedied for a long time. It takes three or four years to train an airplane mechanic.

Uncle Sam has tried to meet this technical shortage. Factories making planes for the Allies have streamlined their production plants. The individual workman does not turn out an engine all by himself; he only handlea a single gadget of the engine which slides past his post. In short, he has become a robot.

• • •

SAFE: Bob Taft is quietly corralling more residential delegates than the political layman realizes. As of today, the moonfaced Ohio Senator has a commanding lead over his rivals.

Bob, to be frank, is not an attractive personality. He is a dull and unimaginative. His greatest asset is Mrs. Taft, who is a charming person and campaigner. Nevertheless, he is making headway here, there and elsewhere. He will probably show up at the convention with more delegates than Messrs. Dewey and Vandenberg—probably 300. Nobody else will equal that total. The GOP convention is still three months off. But if you feel inclined to make a little bet, lay a few nickels or bucks on Bob Taft of Ohio.

• • •

SIGNIFICANT: President Roosevelt has mobilized every ounce of power and prestige a Chief Executive commands in order to defeat three bills designed to clean up American politics and wash up administrative agencies.

FDR has sent word to House leaders that the broadened Hatch act must be killed. He has also ordered that the Walter-Logan act, which curbs the New Deal commissars, should be smothered in committee. Likewise he has instructed his Capitol Hill friends to spike the Barden amendments weakening the Wage-Hour law.

In view of the Presidential intervention, the behavior of Congress will be worth watching. If the boys and girls buck and defeat FDR on these three labor issues, it will signify that FDR is, in the opinion of practical politicos, a "back number."

• • •

INDICATION: The Republicans' confidence that they will capture the House next November has already precipitated a sharp clash for the majority leadership. The GOP-ers, like the Roosevelt-Garner Democrats, are warring among themselves over an office they may miss.

The principal warriors include Rep. James W. Wadsworth of New York, young Charley Halleck of Indiana, Harry Englebright of California, Representatives Tom Jenkins and John Taber, an extreme conservative from northern New York. Although still a Congressional youngster, the most likely winner is the smart and cagy Hoosierite—Mr. Halleck.

Farley Democrats scoff at suggestions that the Republicans will carry the House. But the GOP's card index, which tabs Democratic House members who won by 5,000 or less, and who are therefore vulnerable, points toward Republican control of the lower chamber.

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

OBSERVERS who recently left the Reich have amazing information that is barred from all press stories. They report, for example, that hardly a day passes without the reception by Wilhelmstrasse authorities of from one to a dozen peace emissaries from all parts of the world. So many are the volunteer middlemen that the task of giving each an audience has been divided among Nazi underlings as part of routine duty.

One of these—our informant—who was a schoolmate of the editor of one of Berlin's leading dailies, listed over 40 such attempts at negotiation of which he has authoritative knowledge. The peace tries of record, which remain the secrets of the higher-ups, are estimated at least three times that many. One of the most significant facts in this connection is that European banking groups head the list; the financiers of Sweden, Belgium and Holland have journeyed to Berlin at least once each 30 days since the beginning of the war. Private bankers of England and France have made independent attempts through representatives to evolve a formula which might be submitted to Whitehall.

Thereafter the list of would-be mediators is of every variety. Minor Catholic prelates acting independently, in fact against Vatican injunction, have represented South America. Only minor religious sects have failed to send agents or delegations. The same source estimates as at least 20 the private attempts of U. S. citizens to swing the diplomatic coup of the century. Our informant concludes that what annoys Berlin most is the positive assurance offered in each case that the mediator will answer for his country's backing in any settlement offered.

HABIT: New York bankers have reason to think Philippine President Quezon is playing tag with Congress. One of the most violent speeches recently declared that whatever the menace of conquest by Japan, Philippine independence must be accomplished.

The backstage picture of island politics as presented to New York's oriental bank is somewhat different. Hemp, sugar and mining interests in the Philippines continue to pay five-figure salaries to a group of high pressure lobbyists who do nothing but caution against relinquishing the islands. The Washington contingent is known to every Congressman concerned with insular affairs. The New York agents have the run of every financial house, import company and shipping line with a stake in the Orient.

As these men propound the cause, the political situation in the Philippines is clean-cut. The independence movement had such a downhill start it has become the permanent plank in all platforms. It survives as a mental habit with the natives, has been abandoned by most industrialists and politicians who will not yet risk saying so to the voters. The swing away from the independence plank must be pushed gradually, is none the less the political goal of those who figure the Japanese thrust is not far away.

"Native Son" Is Powerful Story Of Negro

Story Of Bigger Thomas Not For Squeamish Readers

"NATIVE SON," by Richard Wright; (Harpers, New York).

THE power and drama and truth of Richard Wright's "Native Son" will keep the tragedy of Bigger Thomas alive in your memory long after you have turned the last page. long after the echo of a clanging steel door has died away.

Wright has brought Bigger Thomas to life, the life that too many American Negroes must face. It's not pretty—this life of hate, of poverty, of bewilderment and of passion—but it is devastatingly real.

Sounds The Overtone

From the moment Bigger Thomas awakens in his wretched tenement home, kills a huge rat scurrying across the floor, Wright sounds the overtone of Bigger's inevitable end. An innocent victim of a system he can neither conquer nor understand, the cards are stacked against Bigger.

Bigger was a "bad nigger." He was naturally lazy; he envied white folk; fought with his Negro companions. He stole when he thought it necessary. Then Bigger got a job with the Daltons.

The Daltons were people who believed in the advancement of the Negro, as a generality, contributing ping-pong tables and recreation centers; yet the Dalton wealth was refined in a "black belt," charged high rents for rat-infested homes.

Shines Of His Picture

Wright shines in his picture of Mary Dalton and her Communist lover, Jan, trying to fraternize with Bigger, taking Bigger to eat and drink with them, filling him with empty phrases of an equality he knows does not exist. Even Bigger cannot willingly accept their overture.

There is a killing. Carrying the drunken girl to her room, Bigger smothers her to escape detection. His efforts to hide his crime, his flight, a second killing and Bigger's capture are graphically pictured.

The story of Bigger Thomas is not for squeamish readers. Wright has wasted no time trying to make his story a pleasant one. But it smashes through from one climax to another, never losing speed.

Thumbnail Reviews

THE last week or two have produced an extraordinarily large number of novels, and a good many of these have been tops in their respective fields. One has been Zsolt de Harsanyi's long, meticulously written story of Galileo called "The Star-Gazer." This has been in type for nearly a year, awaiting book club decisions and such. This reader found it many months ago a rich and meaty historical novel considerably overwritten in spots, and sees no reason to change that feeling now. (Putnam.)

• • •

THE week produces also a good new Jeffery Farnol story called "The Happy Harvest," Farnol has adopted as his own literary playground the England of the 19th century—the current volume returns wordy Jasper Shrig, some other old friends, and some new ones as well. It is the well known Farnol combination of slightly archaic flavor with mystery and (as Walter Winchell says) "Lahve." (Doubleday, Doran.)

Highway Department Advises Texans To See Texas First

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—See Texas first—then America.

Such is the advice of the state highway department which has just issued for free distribution the spring edition of the 1940 official highway map.

The map is a literal invitation to tour the state and the travel-minded person probably could plan enough tours to last a lifetime. Road conditions are corrected to Feb. 15. For aid in navigating the larger centers of population are inset maps of the larger Texas cities. An innovation is the spotting of Texas oil fields.

Beauty as well as utility is served in the new edition. The front cover features a four-color picture of an oil field, the back an idyllic scene in McKittrick Canyon. On the reverse side of the map are pictures of administration buildings of most of the state supported colleges and fine reproductions of Texas missions. The whole is trimmed with colored drawings illustrating typical beauty and activity in various sections of the state.

Then too, there's a capsule geography lesson. You learn, for example, Texas occupies 265,896 square miles, including 3,498 of water. It's 894 miles from El Paso to Orange but only 877 miles from Orange to Jacksonville, Fla. Similarly, you discover a resident of Texline would travel 917 miles to reach Brownsville, yet his journey to Salt Lake City, Utah, would be only 812 miles.

The map informs you Texas' mean annual rainfall is 31 inches with El Paso county at the bottom of the scale with 9.16 inches and Newton county on top with 55.31 inches. Star county has the highest mean average temperature—74 degrees and Dalhart the lowest—54.2 degrees. In Texas rainfall increases from west to east and temperature increases from north to south.

Other features:

...old Weather Brings ...familiar Birds To ...outh Texas Areas

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 30 (AP) Unusually cold weather brought many unfamiliar bird species to South Texas during January and February.

Robins winter in Corpus Christi, but never in such numbers as flocked here in the past few weeks. The cold waves also brought a big colony of sparrows, including the Eastern never seen here before, and the White Crowned, so called because of the brilliant black and white plumage of the adult bird.

Among other species that flew in were the Eastern Bluebird, distinguished by bright blue feathers set around a bronze breast. Starlings, with green and purple feathers glinting in the sun, descended upon Corpus Christi in flocks and in late February continued to quarrel and flutter in the foliage. Another rare swimmer seen was the Eastern Cowbird.

Mrs. Jack Hagar, reporter for the United States Biological Survey, said killdeer, which feed chiefly on small marine life, had been reported dying because of ice on their feeding grounds.

Mockingbirds and cardinals, regular winter sojourners in Corpus Christi, were joined by the Eastern Goldfinch, Towhees, Cedar Waxwings, red-shafted and golden-shafted Flickers. The Goldfinch, which like a canary, has a body of red or yellow and black wings. Towhees, here for the first time, have black heads and back, white breasts and brown underwings; and the Cedar Waxwing have a spot on each wing resembling a drop of red sealing wax, together with grey-brownish cheeks and black masks.

Citizens living here in 1897, when the section had similar sub-freezing temperature, said the bird migration was the largest in 43 years.
