Old Man Winter Takes New Swing At Texas

Schools Are Closed Again

The fourth snowfall within two weeks hit the Snyder area early today, presenting traffic hazards and closing schools.

All schools in Snyder were closed today, along with the Hermleigh and Ira Public Schools. Fluvanna Schools were operating, but school buses did not make their runs this morning in the Fluvanna district.

The new snow cover ranged from an inch to an inch and a half in and around Snyder, and the thermometer went into another skid following a warm-up to 52 degrees during the day Thursday. At 7 a.m. today the official reading at the city water plant was 20 degrees.

Cold, cloudy weather was expected to endure most of today as the bitter cold spell gradually moved eastward. Clearing is expected Saturday in western regions of the state.

Freezing rain, drizzle, sleet and snow dampened all of the northern portion of Texas this morning.

Up to three inches of new snow fell on the Panhandle-Plains and Red River Valley points during the morning.

Freezing rain coated streets and highways with half an inch of ice as far south as Abilene. A blinding snowstorm reduced visibility to a quarter mile at Wichita Falls.

At Perryton, where 1.50 inches of new snow was added to the 2 inch cover of last week, the mercury dipped to 2 degrees above zero before dawn. Dalhart had 5 degrees and Amarillo 6.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures would drop to 5 degrees below zero in the upper Panhandle before dawn Saturday. Low of 14 to 15 degrees were forecast for North Central, Southwest Texas and Extreme Southwest Texas, 22 degrees for Northeast Texas, 22 for South and Extreme Southwest Texas, 22 degrees for Northeast Texas, 22 for South Central, and 25 for Southeast Texas.

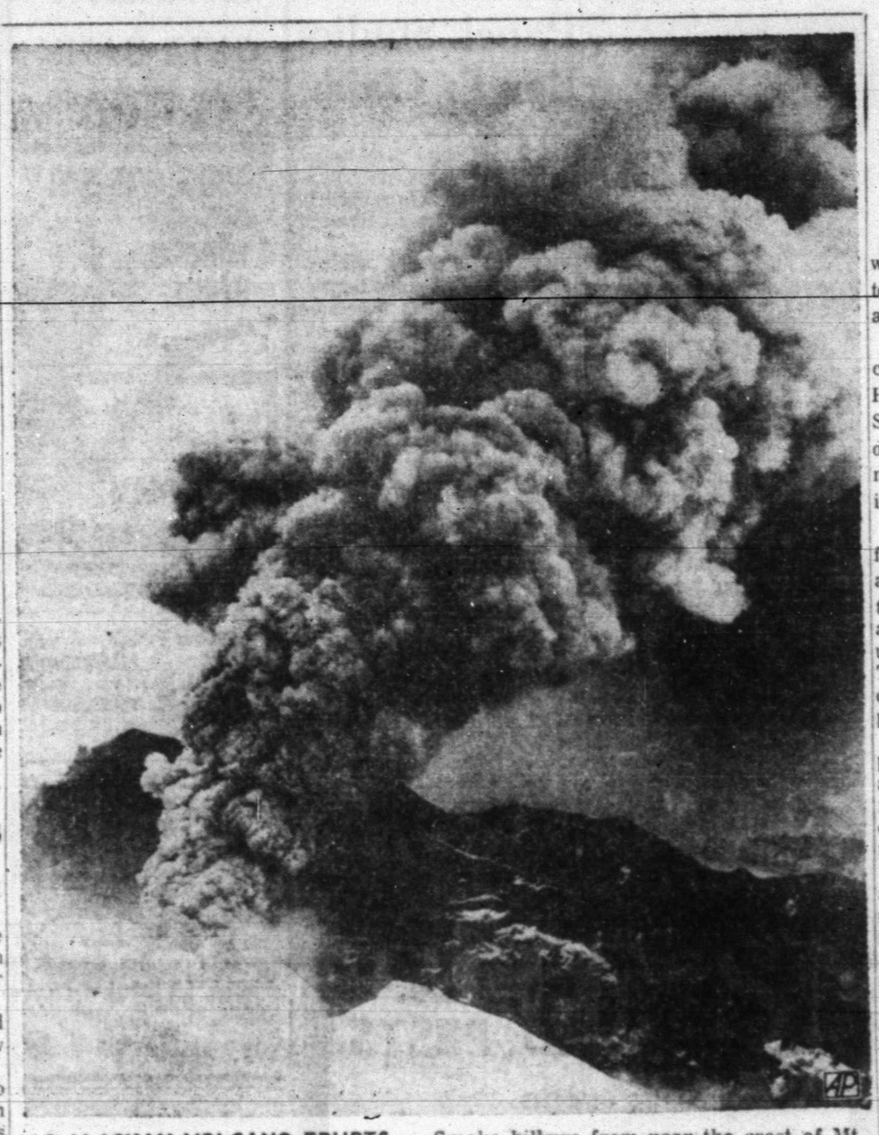

The light rain and drizzle that fell across the central portion of the state during the morning was due to turn to sleet and freezing rain by nightfall, creating hazardous driving conditions.

A steady rain at Fort Worth forced the postponment of an afternoon parade opening the 1966 Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

Seymour reported three inches of new snow by late morning with drifts of 12 to 14 inches. Childress had 2.50 inches. Vernon 2.00 inches and Wichita Falls 1.50.

The storm that pushed deep into Texas also brought near-blizzard conditions to sections of Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Missouri.

The storm was due to move eastward during the night with skies clearing in the western part of Texas. Partly cloudy to cloudy skies were forecast for the eastern portion of the state Saturday.

AS ALASKAN VOLCANO ERUPTS — Smoke billows from near the crest of Mt. Redoubt, about 130 miles southwest of Anchorage, after the 10,198-foot volcano erupted in heaviest display in years. Smoke and ash rose about 15,000 feet above the mountain, darkening snow-covered peaks nearby. Photo from light plane was made by Jon Gardey of the Anchorage Daily News. (AP Wirephoto)

Snyder C-C Banquet Set Saturday

Plans for the annual banquet of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce were proceeding on schedule today, despite wintry weather which descended upon the area this morning.

"We are going ahead with our plans and the banquet will be held on schedule; unless, of course, this weather gets much worse," said Jim Heath, chamber manager.

Gen. Robert F. McDermott, dean of the faculty at the U.S. Air Force Academy, will be the banquet speaker. He is scheduled to arrive here Saturday afternoon.

Entertainment will feature the Snyder High School State championship stage band, under direction of Melvin Montgomery.

Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of First Baptist Church, will be master of ceremonies for the banquet program. Special presentations will be made by R. C. Patton, former chamber president, and John Jarrell will present the Outstanding Young Farmer Award on behalf of Snyder Jaycees. Bentley Baize, chamber first vice president, will review 1965 activities of the organization, and Bill Seale, chamber president, will discuss "The Year Ahead."

C. T. McLaughlin will introduce Gen. McDermott.

Mrs. Wendell Rehm will present piano music in the high school auditorium as the banquet audience assembles for the progam. Dr. John A. English, pastor of First Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

The banquet meal will be served in the high school cafeteria beginning at 7 p.m. Ralph Wesson will present dinner music at the organ in the cafeteria.

As those attending finish their meal, they will move to the auditorium for the program.

Several hundred Snyder residents, along with scores of out-of-town guests are expected to be on hand for the banquet. Included will be military personnel from neighboring Air Force bases.

Big Spring Cab Driver Is Beaten

Two men were being held in county jail here this morning after a Big Spring taxicab driver reported to officers that he was beaten early Thursday evening.

Howard Lee Little, 33, driver for Yellow Cab Co. in Big Spring, told officers that he was beaten and stabbed after he brought two passengers from Big Spring to Snyder. The incident occurred at about 7 p.m. Little told city police that an argument developed over payment of the taxi fare after he delivered the two passengers in Snyder.

The cab driver said he was beaten and stabbed, but managed to walk to a telephone and call police. He was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bolger Ambulance. His condition was described as good and later Thursday night he was transferred to Big Spring.

Charges alleging assault with intent to murder were filed in the office of Justice of the Peace Cone Merritt against James H. Caddell and Thurman A. Martin, who were arrested at about 11 p.m. Thursday. District Attorney Wayland G. Holt said the complaint would be referred to the grand jury. The two men charged were expected to make bond later today.

Hedy Lamarr Arrested For Shoplifting

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A one-time Hollywood glamour queen, Hedy Lamarr, was arrested on a charge of petty theft Thursday night in the parking lot of a department store, police said.

A store security guard, Helen McGarry, said she watched Miss Lamarr drop clothing and other goods worth $86 into a shopping bag before walking out of the store.

The actress, 51, was later released on bond.

Police said she had in her purse movie checks and personal valuables totaling at least $14,000.

An attorney who helped arrange her bail, Arthur Lawrence, said: "Miss Lamarr had been shopping in the store with a friend and I'm thoroughly convinced this is all a matter of a misunderstanding."

Prince Heads For Australia

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, left by plane today for his new school in Australia.

His father, Prince Philip, and his sister, Princess Anne, saw him off.

The prince, 17, traveling to Sydney via the United States on the longest air journey he has ever had and his lengthiest trip away from home — 3½ months.

He will be an exchange student at Geelong Grammar School, an institution which combines formal education with mountain-climbing and other toughening exercises.

On his return, the prince will complete his course at Gordonstoun, the austere Scottish school he has been attending since 1962.

Subs To Dive For N-Bomb

ALMERIA, Spain (AP) — The United States is reported flying two of its new deep-diving midget submarines to search for the nuclear bomb missing since a U.S. B52 collided with its tanker over the southern coast of Spain last week.

Reliable sources said the 50-foot subs were being rushed from America along with a bathysphere which has been used in deep-sea experiments off San Diego, Calif.

One sub set a new depth record last year with a dive of 6,-wtp feet. The bomb is believed in 1,000 feet of water in the Mediterranean off the southern Spanish coast east of Almeria.

Snyderite Nominee For AF Academy

WASHINGTON — Congressman Omar Burleson has appointed Royal William Connell Jr. of Snyder to a slate of nominees for the U. S. Air Force Academy.

Young Cannell, son of Col. Royal W. Connell Sr. and Mrs. Connell, will now be placed on a slate with four other young men from the district. Col. Connell is now on active duty with the Air Force in Washington, D. C.

Rep. Burleson explained that all young men appointed to the slate of nominess will be subject to further tests, both mental and medical, by officials at the AF Academy, who then will select a principal and alternates in order of merit as determined by the tests.

Allied Forces Push Into Red Territory

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong unleashed heavy small-arms fire today as three Allied drives pushed deeper into the Communist - held coastal plain. It appeared to be the biggest eruption of fighting since the end of the lunar New Year truce on Sunday night.

Helicopters of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division came under intense fire as they landed troops north of Bong Son, a town on Route 1, lying 280 miles northeast of Saigon. Reports from the battle area spoke of repeated skirmishes. No casualties were reported yet.

Two U.S. Air Force Skyraiders were lost. One jet apparently was hit by heavy Communist groundfire on a bombing run in support of Vietnamese troops 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The pilot was presumed killed. Another Skyraider operating in support of the cavalrymen near Bong Son crashed because of engine failure. The pilot bailed out safely.

Since opening Operation Masher three days ago, the cavalrymen have killed 37 Viet Cong and taken six prisoners, but today's action was the first major encounter with the guerrillas, a U. S. spokesman reported. The campaign took the Flying Horsemen out of the jungled central highlands into the rice fields overlooking the South China Sea.

A related operation 20 miles to the south by South Korea's Capital Division continued to smoke out insurgents along Route 1, the country's main north-south highway which the Communists have long dominated. Korean officers reported 69 Viet Cong killed, 61 captured and 137 bunkers and caves blasted.

The U.S. Army's 101st Airborne Division, forming the third Allied spearhead, also encountered heavy Viet Cong rifle, automatic weapon and mortar fire as the paratroopers advanced north of Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

South Korean marines and South Vietnamese troops joined the Americans in the brisk action in Operation Van Buren. The shooting tapered off at noon but continued sporadically.

South Vietnamese forces reported only one minor attack, four acts of sabotage and five harassments by the Reds in the past 24 hours. In Quang Tin Province more than 300 miles northest of Saigon, government troops killed seven guerrillas in a mopping-up operation and took light casualties themselves, a spokesman said.

Johnson, Advisors Study Bomb Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has held another, unannounced meeting with key national security advisers to consider ending the lull in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets — a pause he concedes has failed to produce brighter hopes for peace.

Although it was said no decision was reached, all evidence pointed toward an early resumption of air strikes against North Viet Nam.

Johnson met Thursday night with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Director William F. Raborn of the Central Intelligence Agency and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

It was one of a series of such top-level sessions.

The President, it was learned on high authority, has no doubt in his own mind that the 36-day bombing lull has failed to bring any hopeful response from Hanoi.

Moreover, sources said the pause already has lasted much longer than was urged initially by foreign leaders who suggested to Johnson that a temporary halt of air strikes might prompt Hanoi to try substituting negotiations for bloodshed.

It was learned, too, that Johnson, in considering renewed bombing, has been giving greatest thought to timing and whether to escalate air operations against the North.

At the moment, it was understood, the President's principal concern at home was with the more aggressive "hawks" rather than with such influential figures as Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Silver Meteor's Cars Partially Derailed

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — Five Pullman cars and two diesel units of the Silver Meteor passenger train partially derailed on a side track of the Seaboard Air Line in Henderson early today.

None of the cars of the Miami-New York train overturned and there were no injuries.

Seaboard officials said the cause was not determined.

PAT JOHNSTON

Johnston Is In Race For County Clerk

Pat Johnston has announced that he will be a cadidate for the office of County Clerk in the Democratic Primary election May 7.

Johnston was born here and has lived most of his life in Snyder. At present he and his wife, Virginia, live on a farm west of town. They have two children and four grandchildren.

Johnston is a veteran of World War II and is a member of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ. He served as County Clerk here from 1950 to 1954. At present he is employed as a bookkeeper at the Paymaster Gin.

"I feel that the experience in office qualifies me for the job of County Clerk," Johnston said in making his announcement. "I pledge courteous, efficient and prompt service if elected."

J. Cross Enters Plea Of Innocent

AUSTIN (AP)—James C. Cross Jr. pleaded innocent today to charges that he strangled Shirley Ann Stark and Susan Rigsby, two Univesity of Texas beauties, last summer.

Cross was pale from his five months in the county jail as he appeared for his arraignment before Dist. Judge Mace Thurman.

The pleading was a preliminary step to his trial St. Valentine's Day in the slayings of the two 21-year-old Dallas women.

Cross answered in a low but steady tone of voice when asked how he pleaded to the charges.

Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell indicated he would bring Cross to trial first on the charge that he strangled Susan Rigsby.

Cross, dressed in a charcoal brown suit, appeared poised. He lit a cigarette and smiled occasionally as he conferred with his lawyers. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Cross Sr. of Fort Worth, sat with a minister four rows back from the front of the courtroom.

After only a few minutes argument, the judge overruled defense motions to quash the two grand jury indictments on grounds the grand jury report was returned unexpectedly in a deliberate effort to keep the defense from demanding an examining trial.

At an examining trial the state would have been required to produce enough evidence to show it had grounds for holding Cross.

Thurman granted the defense permission to present evidence of the alleged earlier grand jury report after the trial jury is selected, but before the trial starts.

Defense lawyer Perry Jones said the evidence is vitally needed if the case is appealed.

Jones then presented a series of "discovery" motions, asking that the state give the defense certain information about the case.

Without any ruling from the bench, Blackwell gave defense lawyers the official written statement by Cross shortly before he was charged. He also handed over copies of an oral statement he said Cross made and some photographs.

Jury Is Seated In Mossler Trial

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Circuit Judge George Schulz denied defense motions for a mistrial today and selection of a jury was completed in the 10th day of the Mossler murder trial.

Attorneys for both Candace Mossler and Melvin Lane Powers joined in the mistrial motion, charging each other with "prejudicial statement," that they said would make a fair trial impossible.

Judge Schulz turned down this motion and an alternate motion for separate trials.

Henry Carr, one of Powers', attorneys, dictated a mistrial motion to the bench after Clyde Woody, chief counsel for Mrs. Mossler, had concluded an hour-long examination of the 12 men in the jury box.

Carr said Woody's statements to the jury were "tantamount to implicating that Powers is guilty."

Woody responded by joining in the motion. He charged that Powers' attorneys, "in implicating that the codefendants engaged in illicit relationships," deprived Mrs. Mossler of the chance of a fair trial.

Four alternate jury members remain to be chosen.

The blonde Mrs. Mossler stayed in her downtown apartment today after becoming ill Thursday.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a bachelor, 34, and a construction engineer. After six years in the Middle East I have been assigned back to the U.S. I am not handsome, do not own a flashy car, and can't even dance. With these deficiencies one can hardly classify me as a ladies' man. Since returning I have dated many young women, all of them over 21, attractive and from good homes. As a normal male, I have occasionally made "passes" at girls, but have always ceased and desisted when the girl has drawn the line. Now I find no line is drawn. I considered marriage with two girls, but abandoned the idea when I found them so easy. Last evening I was a guest in the home of a good friend. His wife made some suggestive remarks to me, which I took as a joke. When her husband left the room to feed the family dog, she let me know she wasn't joking. I left early and disgusted. Am I oldfashioned? Or in my absence from the States has chastity and fidelity been outdated?

DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: I am sorry, but I must question the veracity of your reporting. Neither chastity nor fidelity has been declared unconstitutional in this country, and both remain solid virtues observed by normal, well-bred girls. There are exceptions, of course, and always have been. Either by luck (bad) or by design (perhaps unconscious), you've met the wrong kind of women. A good engineer ought to be able to figure out a way to meet the right kind.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 15. There is a 16-year-old boy at school who has been coming to visit her. He drives his car into our driveway and races the motor until she comes out. I think this is very disrespectful. Don't you think he should come to the door and ASK for her? Who should tell him? My daughter doesn't have the nerve.

HER MOM

DEAR MOM: Tell your daughter that if she doesn't tell her boy friend to ask for her at the door, you will tell him not to ask for her at all.

DEAR ABBY: My in-laws came to visit us over the holidays because they were "lonesome" for the grandchildren. They stayed two weeks. My mother-in-law arrived coughing and sneezing and complaining about a chest cold she hadn't been able to shake in weeks. I was furious to think she'd come here and expose our five little ones to her germs. She hugged and kissed them all, held them on her lap, breathing into their little faces. I said in a very nice way, "Mother, you really ought to be in bed." It was like talking to the wall. Instead, she went into my kitchen, contaminating everything, cooking and baking as though she were in her own home. Well, the next day the baby came down with a 104 temperature. A few days later the older one followed suit. The whole time she was here, colds were passed back and forth to all the youngsters. How can I be sure that this doesn't happen again? I've had it!

WORN OUT

DEAR WORN: You can't—unless you promptly rush the contagious one off to isolation and keep her there until the danger has passed.

CONFIDENTIAL TO R. R. IN BALTIMORE: You must be kidding! It is highly improper for Bev and her boy friend and her boy friend's mother to sleep in the same bed. I don't care WHO sleeps in the middle!

Would Raise Children In Institute

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Michigan State University psychologist says some children may be better off if they are raised in an institution rather than in their own homes.

The observation was made by Dr. Albert Rabin, MSU professor of psychology, who compared at first hand the personality of children brought up in Israeli Kibbutz cooperatives with children reared at home.

In Kibbutz communities, Rabin told a seminar of science writers this week, children generally are turned over to a cooperative nursery shortly after birth, with a nurse in charge of each group of four or five children.

Parents visit the child frequently, and as he grows up the child visits them — but does not live at home.

Rabin said his studies of the Kibbutz-reared child alongside the Israeli child reared in the conventional family setting showed that from the age of 10 through adolescence and then army life, those raised in the cooperative displayed higher intellectual development.

Hearing Set On Weapon

DALLAS (AP)—Federal Judge Joe E. Estes will hear Feb. 21 the government's claim on the weapons used by Lee Harvey Oswald in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In setting the hearing date Thursday, the judge also denied a motion by John J. King, Denver, Colo., oilman, to dismiss the government's case.

King contends he paid Oswald's widow $10,000 as part of an agreement to purhcase the weapons, a 6.5 Italian rifle used to kill the President and a .38 caliber revolver which killed Dallas police officer J. D. Tippit.

The government said it has the power to confiscate the weapons because they were purchased by Oswald in violation of federal firearms laws.

Panel Studies Bond's Claim

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A three-judge federal panel begins today to consider whether Rep.-elect Julian Bond is entitled to his seat in the Georgia House of Representatives.

Bond, 26, a Negro, was refused the seat when the Legislature convened Jan. 10 because of his support of statements opposing U.S. policy in Viet Nam as aggression and urging men to seek alternatives to military service.

The three judges named to hear evidence and arguments are all veterans of military service.

They are Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Circuit Judge Griffin B. Bell and District Judge Lewis P. Morgan.

Miss Walker To Compete In Midland

Miss Molly Ann Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Walker, 3003 Forty - second Street, will audition in Midland Saturday, Jan. 29, for the Fourth Annual Young Artists Competion, with Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Lara Haggard.

First prize is $300.00 plus two performances with the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra March 29-30, in each town respectively.

Molly is 15, and a sophomore student at Snyder High School. She is a pupil of Mrs. Wayne Bethel, 3773 Sunset, who will be accompaning her on another piano, doing the orchestra's part. The concerto Molly will play is "Concerto in D Minor for Piano and Orchestra" by Johann Sebastian Bach. This will be entirely by memory and she will be competing against 14 other students in the piano section.

Molly has served as organist for Trinity Methodist Church for the past two years, a member of Superior Honor Roll, Science Club, Snyder High School Black and Gold Band, and pianist with Stage Band. She is also serving as president of the Vivace Junior Music Club, affiliated with the Texas Federated Music Clubs.

Miss Walker began piano at age 9 with Mrs. Giles Bowers and also took from Mrs. Jack Patchell. She has a sister, Amber, 10 and a brother Jimmy, a junior at the University of Texas.

Molly plans to further her musical education in college.

The "Three C's of Milk Care": Keep it Clean, Cold and Covered. Wash off the bottle top before you store it. If milk is served in pitchers, don't pour it back into the battle, but refrigerate it, covered, in another container. Store it in the coldest part of your refrigerator to retain the excellent flavor it has. Keep it away from bright light or sunlight that will destroy milk's precious vitamins and minerals.

Interesting Points Brought Out At Meet

The Zeta Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, International Honor Society for women teachers, met in the home of Mrs. Silas Devenport on Monday night, January 24. Mrs. Roy Carter, president, conducted the business meeting.

The Constitution Committee reported by asking each member present to answer roll call with a section from the Delta Kappa Gamma Constitution.

Virginia Grove reported that a religious book was being placed in the library of Trinity Methodist Church in memory of Mrs. D. M. Cogdell, Sr. The Society voted to participate in the Mother's March of Dimes on Monday night January 31.

The program topic "Fostering Creativity in Education" was presented by the Professional Affairs Committee. The program was presented as a panel with Virginia Grove the moderator, Evelyn Boone and Mrs. M. L. Galloway as members. Virginia Grove began, "We, of the Professional Affairs Committee, are ask the question 'How can we foster creativity in education?' but, really to me it might be more fitting to ask 'Who doesn't foster creativity in the classroom?' What really matters when creativeness is added to competence in teaching: Children matter, a creative teacher enjoys and appreciates students, not only as individuals, or any specific kinds — but all kinds. Learning matters, for a creative teacher knows learning can take place only if individuals are members of an interacting not merely a listening group. And teaching matters, for a creative teacher realizes that teaching is a lifelong source of enriching experiences. In fact, it has been said a creative teacher is an artistic creation whose strengths must be discovered, nourished, and highlighted in such a way that a weaknesses are unimportant. Yes, the process takes a lifetime."

Two questions were ask of the panel members. Evelyn Boone gave an emphatic "Yes" to the first question "Can Creativity be Developed". "Parents can develop creativeness in their child by taking time to read, to tell stories and listen to their children as the child grows. The schools, the teachers, and the community develop creativity by having an atmosphere of understanding and providing proper tools to meet the needs of individual children as well as for the group."

Mrs. Galloway answered the second question, "Can Creativity be Measured." She reported that the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, in 1961, gave forty - five scholarships to unnamed individuals who showed great potential in creativeness but were not outstanding in all academic fields as we think of the National Merit Scholar. Many tests are being formulated to seek out the creative child, but outside the creative art and creative writing fields, the elementary schools are slow to find way to measure the creativity among public school children. In most studies, it was pointed out that high intelligence and creativity are not synonymous. She added, "The real measure of creativity is the joy and appreciation of the immeasureable creativity of God who created it all."

Hostesses were Mrs. Silas Devenport, Mrs. Joyce Gorman, Mrs. Glenn Holladay, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, and Evelyn Boone. Twenty-three members were present.

EXPECTING A LOT OF THE GOLDEN GOOSE!

Johnson Stirs Controversy With 4 Year Term Plug

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson may not have helped the cause of longer terms for House members by urging it so strongly.

A determined backstage effort to extend the present two-year terms to four years was nearing success in the House without much interest being shown in it until Johnson spoke out.

But ever since he plugged the four-year term in his State of the Union address on Jan. 12, the issue has been caught in the glare of controversy and its fate is now in doubt.

To win congressional approval, the proposed amendment must win passage in both the House and Senate by at least a two-thirds favorable vote — not just a simple majority. Then three-fourths of the state legislatures — 38 — would have to ratify it for the proposal to become law.

For the first time, mail is coming to Congress on the subject, much of it opposing the longer terms. Newspapers and magazines are taking editorial stands. Voters are discussing it.

All this was much different last year when Rep. Frank Chelf, D-Ky., was quietly, but effectively lining up support for a four-year-term constitutional amendment.

By is own count Chelf wrote more than 8,000 letters to his 534 colleagues in the House and Senate with arguments in support of longer terms. He talked about it at every opportunity, got dozens to introduce amendments.

Working through his fellow members of the House Judiciary Committee he finally pressured Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., an unyielding opponent of the amendment, to hold hearings. Nearly 50 members appeared to sing the praises of longer terms, none in opposition.

Celler couldn't find anyone who would testify against it and he was finally forced to move the amendment to the top of the committee calendar, ready for almost certain approval at the start of this session. Then the President spoke out.

Celler has no lack of members and outside witnesses who now want to testify against the amendment and he is preparing to renew the hearings.

The awakened interest in the four-year term also has caused members who thought they favored it to look more closely at what is at stake. Some are having second thoughts.

They don't like Johnson's proposal that the four-year terms coincide with the President's, fearing loss of independence to the executive branch. With a Democrat in power Republicans are particularly opposed to this feature.

Those who favor dividing the House and staggering the terms so half the members run every two years don't have the answer to the technical problem of how to deal with automatic reapportionment of the House after the national census every 10 years.

Few like the concession forced on Chelf by the Senate — and now embraced by Johnson — that would deny a House member serving a four-year term the chance to run against a senator unless he resigns from the House.

Chelf, an untiring optimist, has not eased up in his efforts to get an amendment approved and on its way to the states. But what seemed within his grasp a few weeks ago will now be harder to obtain.

Guidelines To Recognize Middle Age

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Middle age is getting popular.

It must be—because more and more people are becoming middle-aged.

As a matter of fact, some young folks show signs of being prematurely weary of the problems of youth today, and plaintively wonder when they, too, can enjoy the advantages of middle age.

But they are interlopers.

Only those who have put in the necessary apprenticeship by actual living should be allowed to dwell in the silver pastures of middle age.

Here are some guideposts. You undoubtedly are middle-aged if—

You are too old to dance the frug and too young to get medicare.

Your appetite is great. You are now able to eat with relish any kind of food put upon your plate which the doctor says is bad for you.

During the day you catnap, but at night it is impossible to sleep eight full hours at a stretch. You invariably wake up in the morning before the alarm clock goes off.

It bothers your conscience to look out the window and see your wife shoveling snow. You even consider going out and helping her—but think better of it.

You talk to yourself as you shave, because you realize you probably won't have such a sympathetic audience the rest of the day.

It is necessary to send flowers so often to hospitalized friends that you open a charge account with the florist.

When you read a gossip column, you don't recognize the names of eight of 10 of the people being gabbed about—and don't really care what happens to the other two.

At a party you find it much easier to make conversation with women wearing bifocal glasses. They seem to have so much more common sense.

The world is in a mess, but you aren't sure it is worth the bother it would take to unscramble it.

Half your working day is spent doodling on ways you can possibly retire ahead of time without starving.

You get more cautious. You gulp a couple of antacid pills before—not after—eating cabbage or brussels sprouts.

If someone gave you a free roundtrip ticket to Tahiti, you'd sell it. What's in Tahiti for you?

You begin to believe that real estate is the only safe investment—so you make the down payment on a cemetery plot.

That's middle age. With benefits like these accruing, you can see why everybody's trying to get into the act early—instead of waiting his turn.

The first five Ladies' PGA golf tournaments this spring were won by five different girls. They were Kathy Whitworth, Jo Ann Prentice, Mickey Wright, Betsy Rawls and Marilynn Smith.

Junior Editors Quiz on LOONS

QUESTION: Can a loon walk on land?

ANSWER: Karen Kronman, who asked this question, added: "It seems you never see a loon walking about on shore." Change "never" to "rarely" and this would be true. The reason is that the loon has adapted itself to life on or under the water so completely that it hardly ever needs to go ashore. Loons live by catching fish underwater. Their short, strong legs are set so far back on the smooth streamlined body that they suggest twin screws on a steamer—like the steamer's screws, they supply strong propelling force. Using his bed webbed feet, a loon can swim up to eight miles an hour underwater. Study the picture of the standing loon, and you will realize why these birds are almost helpless on land. The elder duck to the right has his legs nicely balanced under his body, so he can walk very well. But the loon's legs are so far back that if he tries to waddle too fast, he will fall down on his chest. Female loons must come on shore to lay their eggs, but they nest as close to the water as possible, often in a hollow in the sand. If frightened on land, loons use their wings like legs to help them get back to the water. They also beat the water with their wings while taking off into the air.

FOR YOU TO DO: Other strange habits of these odd birds are the way they can swim with only the head showing and the wild screaming call they give, leading to the expression 'crazy as a loon.' Cut out this article to paste in your nature scrap book. 1-28

(Karen Kronman of Hibbing, Minn., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper.)

Bengals, Chiefs Vie Here At 8

Wintery weather made the local scene white again for the second weekend in a row and the snow wreaked havoc with Snyder Junior High basketball schedules.

Coach Ned Underwood's varsity quintet will go ahead and meet Lake View's Chiefs in the Tiger gym as scheduled. School officials learned the Tribe had left San Angelo by bus at noon today and would try to get here in time for the 8 p.m. District 3-AAA encounter.

The Bengal mentor listed probable starters (in the event the tilt gets underway) as Bill Blum and Tom Bullard at guards, Bobby Clardy and Eldon Woodward at forward, and Ronnie Laster at center.

The scalping party from Lake View can counter with four returning starters from last year. The Chiefs currently are 4-2 in the district for a second place spot behind Lamesa and Levelland.

Elsewhere on the local scene, Travis Junior High was to be the host for a 9th grade basketball tournament involving teams from Lamesa, Post and Sweetwater as well as Lamar Junior High.

Tournament officials expressed doubt the tourney could be held today and Saturday, but hoped it could be re-scheduled again for next weekend. The tourney originally had been scheduled a week ago, but was postponed due to snow and ice on the roads. Unless the teams can get here, this will be the second postponement.

GUN MATCH — The first scheduled match of 1966 will be held at the Canyon Gun Club range Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The match is a .25 caliber and up with 6 power maxium, with 10½ pound limit. The range is located southwest of the City, across from the old Lemons Camp. Everyone is invited to attend.

Tech Fans '... Worst'

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — "I don't want to get a controversy started," said Texas Tech basketball coach Gene Gibson, "but we haven't had much complaint about them (Tech crowds)."

The Red Raider mentor gave that reply to sharp criticism from University of Texas coach Harold Bradley that Tech "has the worst crowd in the United States."

The Raiders drew about 10,000 fans for each home game.

Bradley said he had no hard feelings about ehe Tech administration, coaches or players "but when a crowd wants to win so bad and does the things to influence officials that they do, it's something that we have to recognize."."

Bradley made his remarks Thursday to Austin American sports writer Fred Sanner.

"All of our officials are honest," the Texas coach said, "but they're bound to be swayed by a fanatical crowd yelling 'Watch that charging' and 'Watch that three seconds in the lane.' "

The two teams play at Tech Feb. 5. Tech has a 2-1 Southwest Conference record and Texas stands at 1-4 so far.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the conference, said his office had received no complaints about Red Raider crowds.

Travis Splits 2 Tilts In Lamesa

LAMESA—Travis Junior High School split a twinbill here Thursday with the 8th grade winning, 44-34, and the 9th grade losing, 52 - 44, in contested basketball games.

The 8th graders fashioned victory behind the shooting of Wesley Bishop in the second half. He dropped in eight field goals in the last two periods and finished overall with 27 points.

Dub Minnix won high point honors for Lamesa's 8th graders, and he was the only host boy in double figures. He scored 14 points.

It was an exciting clash with Travis holding a 9-5 first quarter margin before falling behind, 23-14, at halftime. The Snyder lads rallied for a 27-27 tie in the third quarter, then outscored Lamesa, 17-7 in the final quarter.

The 9th graders couldn't quite fathom Lamesa's use of the zone press and fell behind, 21-23, at halftime after leading 7-6 in the first quarter. They never regained the lead, although they stayed in the game despite some cold shooting from the floor.

Lamar Socks Two Stamford Quintets

Lamar Junior High basketball teams overwhelmed two Stamford quintets Thursday night, with the Texan 8th graders surgin to a 54-23 decision and the 9th graders following up with an 84-43 triumph.

Four of the Lamar 9th graders scored in double figures as the Texans grabbed an early lead and extended it almost at will. Steve Holder accounted for 18 points to pace the scorers while Mitch Rambin got 15, Leland Herod 13 and Jodie Williamson 10. In all, nine 9th grade Texans contributed to the scoring.

The Lamar 8th graders had an equally easy time of it in the opener. Lee McNair was top scorer in the 8th grade game with 36 points, although no less than 10 of the 8th grade Texans hit the scoring column.

SWC Fives Break Even

By The Associated Press

Southwestern Conference basketball teams won a game and lost one Thursday night in intersectional play.

J. D. McConnell scored 18 points to lead Arkansas to its ninth success in 13 starts with a 69-61 victory over Mississippi State.

Four University of Houston players hit in double figures as the Cougars outclassed Texas Christian 100-79.

The Razorbacks journey to Georgia Tech in the only SWC action tonight.

The between - semester lull will be broken Saturday as two conference games are on tap: Texas Tech at Rice and Texas Christian at Southern Methodist. Intersectional play will match first - place Texas A&M and Houston.

The Aggies lead the conference with a 5-0 mark. TCU and Tech are tied for second at 2-1. Next come Arkansas and Baylor at 2-2, Southern Methodist at 1-2, Texas at 1-4 and Rice at 0-4.

Houston nipped Baylor 93-91 Wednesday. The Cougars have who seven straight.

Arkansas never trailed Mississippi State, and held 11-point leads several times. High Porker scorers after McConnell were Wally Freeman with 13 and David Self with 12.

Houston led by 25 points once in its lopsided victory over the Horned Frogs.

TCU's Gary Turner was high point man of the game with 34, but none of his teammates could manage as many as 10. Houston's leaders were Elvin Hayes 33, Joe Hamood 20, Don Kruse 14 and Leary Lentz 11.

Ponies Kick Six Gridders

DALLAS (AP)— Six football players — three sophomores and three freshmen — have been suspended by Southern Methodist for one semester as penalties for participating in a Jan. 13 fight on the campus.

The Dallas Morning News said the six are fullback Jim Hagle, halfback Mike Livingston and tackle Walter Weaver, all sophomores, and Bruce Butler, Jim Adams and David Morgan, the Freshmen.

The fight between the athletes and three other students, including one member of the Mustang band, took place after a near collision of cars occupied by the two groups that night.

None of the three in the other party was assessed penalties.

The News said Weaver and Butler already had become scholastically ineligible for 1966 football.

Cards Upset Buffs, 81-72

HERMLEIGH — Hermleigh's Cardinals sung a victory tune here Thursday night after they upset favored Fluvanna, 81-72, in a District 70-B basketball contest.

The Cards shaped the upset with a 21-point production in the opening stanza. Danny Peterson paved the way, ringing the hoops for 20 points. Bobby Hall took high point honors of the night for Fluvanna with 28 points.

The win left Hermleigh with a 3-3 mark in district action while Fluvanna was suffering its first loss in six league outings.

In the girls game, the visiting Buffs claimed a 49-44 triumph with Rinda Bruner popping the nets for 27 points. Sandra Fritz shot in 16 for Hermleigh.

HERMLEIGH (81) — Crewell 6-4-16; Hudgins 6-5-17; Chorn 5-1-11; D. Peterson 9-2-20; M. Peterson 7-3-17; totals 33-15-81.

Braves Still Have Hopes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves, caught between two state court injunctions, are going ahead with plans to play their 1966 home games in Atlanta.

Braves' President William C. Bartholomay said individual game tickets will go on sale Monday. Advance season ticket sales are nearing $1 million.

Bartholomay's remarks came Thursday despite a ruling by a Wisconsin judge minutes earlier that the baseball team must play its 1966 season in Milwaukee.

"The Braves," Bartholomay said, "will open the 1966 baseball season in Atlanta Stadium on April 12, 1966."

Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller of Milwaukee ordered the Braves to prepare to play their home games in Milwaukee this year until league expansion takes place with the city gaining a replacement franchise.

Opposing Roller's order is a temporary injunction issued Dec. 17 by Atlanta Judge Sam Phillips McKenzie ordering the Braves to fulfill a contract calling for home games in Atlanta.

Bartholomay noted both rulings and said McKenzie "has already ordered that the contract entered into by the Stadium Authority and the Braves is valid and binding.

"The Braves fully intend to honor our contract with the Stadium Authority and all our larger obligations to the citizens of Atlanta, of Georgia, and of the entire southeast, as the Braves have always honored our agreement with the county of Milwaukee."

"Until the Milwaukee order is reversed," Bartholomay said, "the Braves may be faced with the regrettable necessity of choosing which court to obey.

"It has always been the stated intent of the Braves to honor any and all orders issued by courts properly having jurisdiction to issue those orders.

"To play 1966 home games at any place other than Atlanta Stadium would be a direct breach of the order entered by the only court which has before it the Braves, the National Baseball League and the Stadium Authority."

Economists Assure Johnson Defense Will Get Priority

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic advisers have assured President Johnson that the peacetime allocation machinery will suffice to give military orders priority over civilian production during the $15- billion Viet Nam buildup.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers submitted a study showing that the planned outlays for Viet Nam will have far less economic impact than outlays during the Korean War, which created some civilian shortages.

Johnson sent the council's report to Congress Thursday along with his annual economic message. The findings indicated that the White House will not seek added control powers when the Defense Production Act comes up for renewal this spring.

Although the business stimulus resulting from Pentagon spending will be felt throughout the economy, the council said, total defense outlays will claim only 7.6 per cent of national output in fiscal 1966 and 1967.

That is only a shade more than the 7.5 per cent in fiscal 1965. By contrast, defense spending tripled in the two years after the Korean War began in 1950, climbing from less than 5 per cent of national output to over 12 per cent in 1952.

Largely because of the vast expansion of the nation's industrial capacity since Korea, the council said, it will not be necessary to fortify the present Defense Materials System.

The DMS is the allocation program for basic metals. It has been ticking along since the Korean War, routinely assuring that defense contracts get priority over civilian orders for materials and plant capacity in case of any conflict. DMS is managed by the Commerce Department's Business and Defense Services Administration.

With industry operating at rates well below capacity, the allocation system has proceeded "without bumping private demands to any noticeable extent," the council said.

It went on: "With (industry's) operating rates now higher than before, there may be some cases where the execution of civilian orders will be somewhat delayed.

"However, these will be exceptional, and will not be such as to require alteration in our present machinery for materials priorities and allocations."

Neither will there be extreme demands on any individual industries, the council said, even though textile producers and some others which are getting new military orders were already operating at high rates because of consumer demand.

Oilmen Lay New Plans To Stimulate Summer Motoring

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even as the snow flies, oil men are laying plans to stimulate motoring come spring and summer.

The American Petroleum Institute, which represents all segments of the oil and gas industry, is so pleased with results of a three-year-old campaign to promote automobile travel that it plans to expand the program.

The API's marketing division handles the program. One feature is newspaper advertising recommending "close-to-home" tours of scenic and historic points in the particular area. The advertisements usually describe the points of interest and include a simplified map with a suggested loop route for the round trip.

This year's advertising, now being worked up, will include 11 market areas not heretofore covered. These will include New York, Chicago and Los Angeles and raise to 63 the number of key areas to be covered in 1966, compared with 16 when the program was initiated in 1963.

In addition to its own campaign, the API is a founding member of "Discover America, Inc.," a new privately financed organization of oil, automobile, rubber, hotel and motel, airline, railroad, bus and other industries.

Backing up President Johnson's plea for Americans to travel at home—and thus reduce the flow of dollars abroad, the organization has adopted a slogan and trademark which will soon become much better known and recognized: A red, white and blue weather vane with an arrow, and the slogan "Discover America."

The API, headed by former Texas Congressman Frank Ikard, will be a bit more specific in its advertising with the slogan: "Discover America best, by car."

The Independent Petroleum Association of America reports total U.S. oil demand for the months of February through April should average 12,150,000 barrels a day. This would be 147,000 barrels, or 1.2 per cent higher than for the same months in 1965.

The association also reports total petroleum inventories at the end of December were about two million barrels above those of a year earlier. Refined products were up 11 million barrels, crude oil down nine million. Residual fuel oil stocks were up more than 16 million, reflecting an actual decrese of some six million barrels in levels of products other than residual.

Actor Is Not Always TV's Illya

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It seemed like a case for "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.": How does a Scottish actor named David McCallum escape from the undercover agent Illya Kuryakin?

The plot is complicated because McCallum and Kuryakin are one and the same, as every well-informed American teenager knows. McCallum plays the Russian-born agent of the United Network Command for Law and Enforcement in the popular NBC series.

McCallum is no prefabricated teen-age idol. He came to U.N.C.L.E. with a growing reputation as one of England's most accomplished young actors on the basis of such films as "Freud," "The Great Escape" and "The Greatest Story Ever Told"

Like most British actors, McCallum was classic-trained. Hence he seems out of place in the company of rock 'n' roll stars, as he was in the current teen-age musical spectacular, "The TNT Award Show."

Yet McCallum is that rarity: A contented TV series star. He is not at all concerned that his dramatic career will be overshadowed by the irrepressible Illya.

'You see, I am Illya only when I appear on 'The Man From U.N.C.L.E.,'" he explained. "When I appeared on the Roger Miller TV special, I was not Illya, nor did I do a satire of a spy show. I am not Illya on my Capitol record album, 'Music — A Part of Me.' Nor was I Illya in the TNT film.

"All this is part of a design to avoid being overly identified with the role I play on TV. It extends to the films I do when the series is not in production."

Black Knights Deployed

DA NANG, Viet Nam (AP)—Fighter Attack Squadron 314 of the U.S. Marine Corps has been deployed in the Da Nang area of South Viet Nam.

A U.S. Military spokesman said Friday the outfit, known as the Black Knights, is commanded by Maj. Gen. Charles A. Sewell of Gainesville, Tex.

Sewell is a veteran of previous duty in Viet Nam with another Marine Corps fighter squadron.

The Black Knights left California for duty in the Far East last August but only recently reached Viet Nam. They are now taking part in attacks on Viet Cong targets inside Viet Nam.

Eastland Rancher Is Found Innocent

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP)—Ivan J. Allen, 73, prominent Eastland County rancher, was judged innocent of murder charges Thursday by jurors in 91st District Court.

The state had asked the death penalty in the Nov. 7 shooting death of Allen's nephew, Dr. Albert Reidel, a Dallas psychiatrist.

Allen took the stand late in the four-day trial and testified that the shooting was an accident.

State's witnesses testified that the defendant had chased pecan pickers from his ranch with a rifle on the day of the shooting.

"Wherefore look ye so sadly today?" Genesis 40:7.

The melancholic mind finds joy
in being sad,
And in every simple pleasure,
senses something bad.

Doughboy 'Fesses Up

SAUMUR, France (AP)—It took 48 years, but a Fort Worth man has finally 'fessed up.

Lon D. Minier wrote the mayor of Saumur this week admitting that he stole the key to the local chateau while he was a World War I doughboy in 1918.

Minier explained that he took the key while on a visit to the chateau Feb. 10, 1918, for a souvenir.

He added that he took it "with the intention of bringing it back because I wanted to return to France."

But the years went by and Minier never made the trip.

Mayor Lucien Gauthier said Minier offered to return the key and asked to whom it should be sent.

The mayor said that if Minier brought it back personally, the town council would make a festive occasion of the visit.

Wagon Greasing Time!

One morning thirty years ago my father started out to electioneer. He said "Son that wagon has been squeaking a long time, run grease it". I got in a hurry and pulled the wheel out too far and it dropped on the ground, nearly hitting my foot. I called my father to change his clothes and help me. No, he just stood there and told me how.

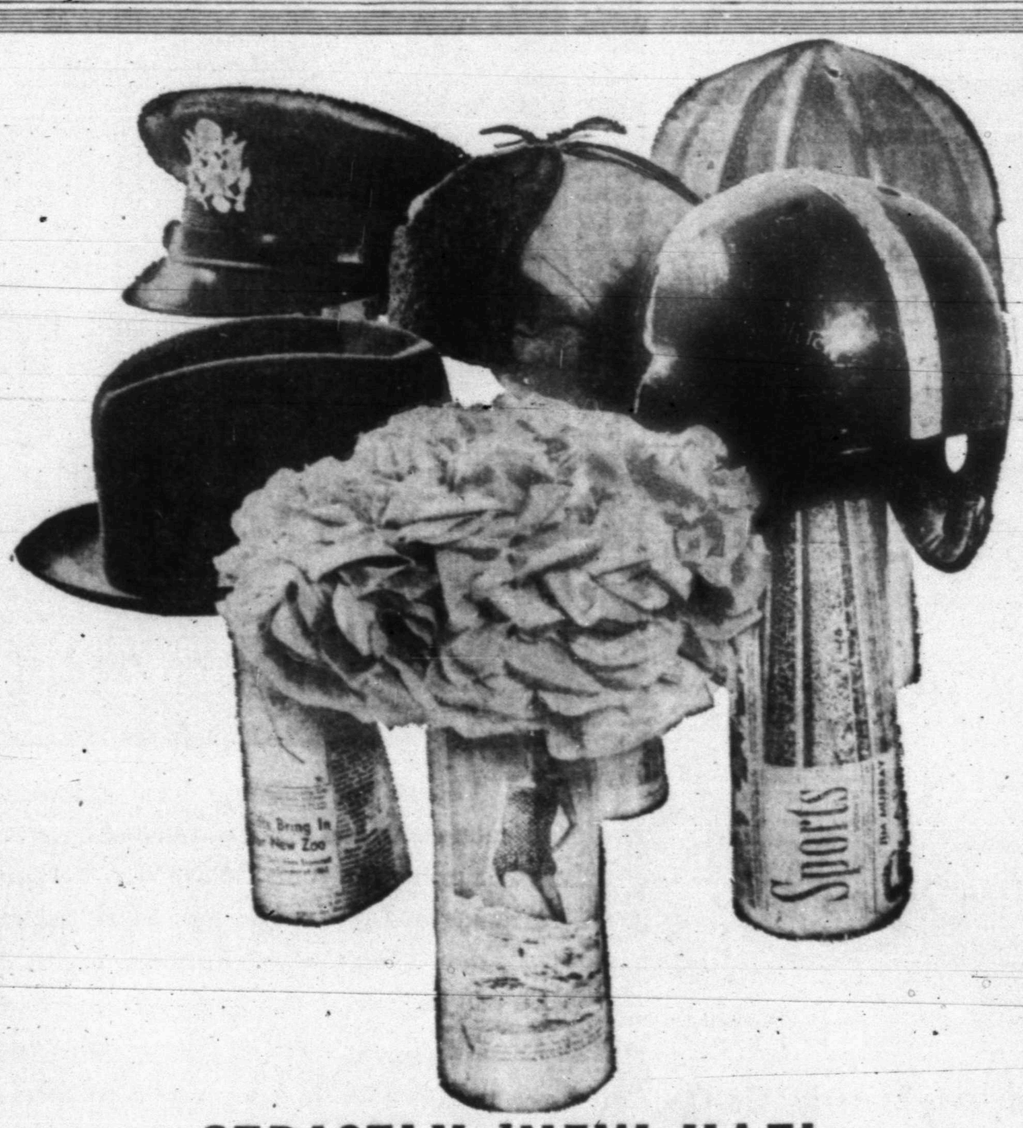

Now I can put on a wagon wheel. But my father never told me how to electioneer, and that was thirty years ago.

TIME RUNNING OUT!

New Year's Eve and four minutes 'til midnight. It is time to total your failures, to calculate your successes, and to make bonafide resolutions. Did this year bring a spiritual surplus for you? Do you have a clearer view of destiny? Do you know more of the meaning and purpose of life? Have you had time for God? If not, it will be a terrible day, when God has no time for you. As the New Year dawns, we know God is in front. He will be in all the tomorrows. Happy New Year!
