Job Bill Kill Was Surprise

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The unexpected defeat of a $5 billion emergency job-making bill may be seized by House Democrats as a campaign isue.

The bill, rushed to a vote by Democratic House leaders confident of victory, was killed Wednesday by a roll-call vote of 206-189.

It would have made available $5 billion in grants to states, communities and rural areas for public works projects, mainly water and sewage plants. Its sponsors said it would have created 500,000 construction jobs, many within 90 days of enactment.

Priority would have been given to economically depressed areas.

Teaming up to kill the bill were 148 Republicans and 58 Democrats. Voting for it were 165 Democrats and 24 Republicans.

The measure was doomed before that , however, by an amendment barring use of any of the money during a fiscal year in which the projected federal deficit exceeded $20 billion. This would have eliminated it for the current year since the projected deficit is $30 billion.

The vote on the amendment was nearly identical to the final vote.

"It was a very short-sighted partisan vote," said Democratic Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana. "Every community in the country desperately needs water and sewage facilities. How can the Republican leadership in the House say it is against pollution? How hypocritical can you get?"

Boggs and other House leaders sped the bill to the House floor confident of enough votes to pass it and perhaps override a presidential veto.

Several Democrats said privately the defeat provided them a good issure for the November congressional elections.

Republicans led by Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan claimed the bill was unnecessary and duplicated existing programs.

Some GOP legislators accused the Democrats of pushing the bill for political purposes.

ACTION PACKED—This bronc-riding performance was one of a number of fine performances in the opening night of the Scurry County Rodeo. The competition was even in practically every contest. The rodeo will continue through Saturday.

Competition Keen In Rodeo's First Night

The opening performance of the 36th Annual Scurry County Rodeo last night was one of the most exciting in the history of the event there, and the individual performances and competition was of such quality that this year's rodeo should be one of the best ever.

A near tragedy occurred when Buck Sitton, reporter for the Snyder Daily News, was injured when hit by a horse. He was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service. He was in satisfactory condition this morning, and apparently had no broken bones.

The rodeo activities got underway yesterday afternoon with the downtown parade, with a number of outstanding floats and riding groups participating. The winning float belonged to the Snyder Firemen's Auxiliary. The first place award among the riding groups went to the Fisher County Sheriffs Posse in the Senior Division, with second place being awarded to the Howard County Sheriffs Posse. The Dawson County Sheriffs Posse placed third.

In the Junior Division the Roby Roughriders won first place and the Abilene Saddle Club, an all-girls group came in second. These girls gave a performance at the Rodeo later on.

The competition at the Rodeo was especially keen because of the large number of entries this year. There are 257 contestants entered, and because of this large number, each contestant will have only one go-around in each event entered. A number of former world champions are entered, with at least one to perform each night. Another factor that helps build an interest here is the large number of local and area contestants who are entered, with a number of them being successful in the first night's competition.

In the Bareback Riding Event, Richard Johnson of Bosier City, La., placed first with a mark of 67, followed by Butch Stewart of Lake Charles, La., who had a mark of 65.

Lee Gann, Crane Texas, led in the Calf Roping with a time of 11.07 seconds. His performance came after the show was over. Because of the large number of entries there is not time for all to compete during the show itself. There were 24 contestants in various events who competed following the activities last night.

Placing second in Calf Roping was Jim Fuller of Snyder, with a time of 11.28. He was a member of the Western Texas College Rodeo Team this past year.

Railroad Dispute Settled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad industry and union officials announced today settlement of what was described as the nation's longest running labor dispute, the one involving appointment of railroad firemen.

The settlement of the dispute, which dates back some 35 years, calls for preservation of the jobs of some 18,000 presently employed firemen and requires all vacancies for railroad engineers to come from firemen's ranks.

The jobs of nearly 20,000 firemen were eliminated over the last eight years under a federal arbitration ruling ordered by Congress.

The industry had long argued there was no need for a fireman in the cab of a diesel engine while the union had contended the engineer needed the firemen for safety reasons to keep watch on the opposite side of the cab.

The agreement affects only firemen on freight and yard engines. The industry had never made an attempt to eliminate firemen from passenger trains.

The dispute, which began in the 1930s when the railroads began switching from coal-fired locomotives to diesel engines, has dragged through federal courts, Congress and the White House for decades.

Senate Rejects Wage Bill 46-47

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today rejected 47 to 46 President Nixon's proposal that the $1.60 an hour minimum wage be raised to $2 rather than the $2.20 supported by Democrats.

The defeated Republican substitute for the Democratic bill also would have eliminated provisions extending coverage of the wages and hours law to 8.4 million new workers.

Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, flew back to Washington from South Dakota to vote against the Nixon measure. His presence contributed to the one-vote margin.

Even though the substitute was rejected, senators opposed to various sections of the bill planned to offer individual amendments to eliminate them or cut them back.

The test came on a Republican substitute for a Democratic-sponsored wage bill.

The Democratic version, approved by the Senate Labor Committee with some Republican liberals backing it, would boost the $1.60 wage floor to $2.20 in a series of steps.

It also would bring 8.4 million additional employes under the act and repeal a series of exemptions which now block overtime pay for various groups of workers.

The other measure sponsored by Republican Sens. Peter H. Dominick of Colorado and Robert Taft Jr., of Ohio would raise the minimum to $2 in two steps, but provide no new coverage. It also would establish a $1.60 differential for many youths.

The Dominick-Taft bill follows the lines of President Nixon's recommendations to the Congress.

Democrats contend the $2.20 minimum is essential to cover increases in the cost of living since the $1.60 wage floor was approved in 1966 and to remove millions to low wage workers from poverty.

Republicans argue that $2.20 will be inflationary and destroy job opportunities or some young persons and blacks because marginal employers cannot afford to pay it.

Democrats made it clear they were engaged in an all-out effort to defeat the substitute in an effort to smooth the ruffled feathers of some labor leaders.

But they conceded the outcome could be very close and predicted Vice President Spiro Agnew would be on hand to put over the substitute if the Senate vote was a tie.

Board Defers Haskell Project

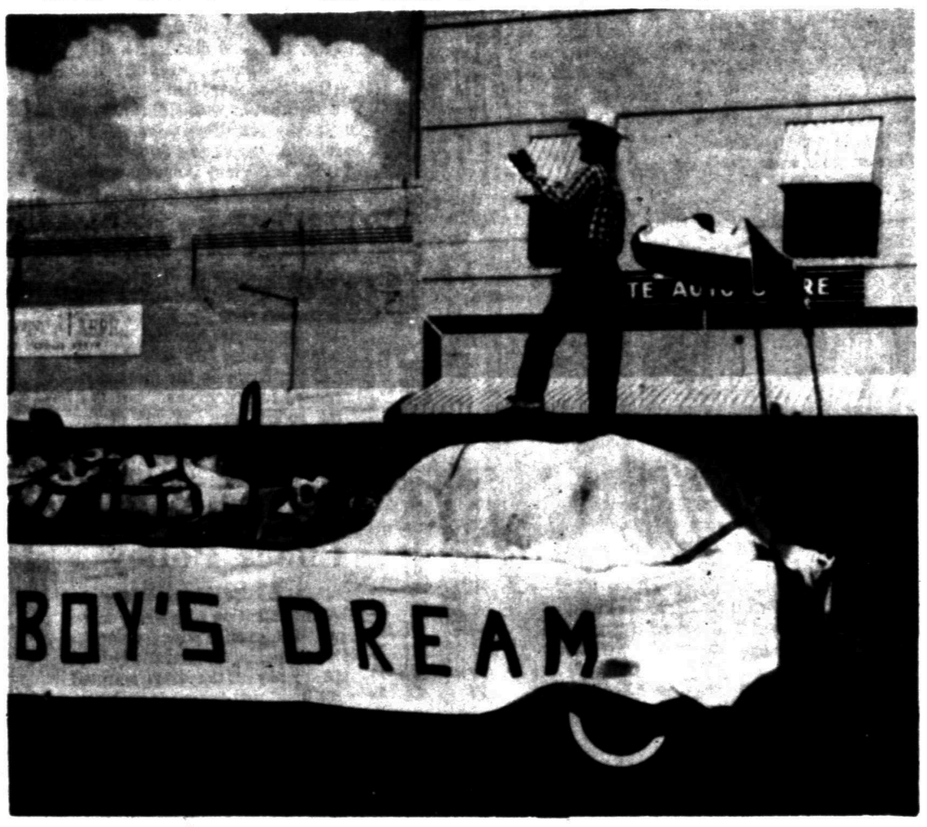

The Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System, in a meeting held this morning in Austin, deferred action on the proposal for Western Texas College to set up a vocational technical program at Haskell. WTC officials were at the meeting and notified the Snyder Daily News about noon today that the proposal was discussed and it was decided to put off any action until the next meeting of the board.

Funds for a vocational-technical project at Haskell were included in the state appropriations bill by the legislature. However, the bill has not as yet been approved in its entirety by Gov. Smith and this might be a partial explanation of the Board's decision to postpone action on the proposal.

Residents of Haskell requested WTC to set up an extension facility there several months ago and studies were conducted by a special committee. WTC officials coopertated with the Haskell delegation in developing the proposal.

If WTC does become involved in some sort of a teaching program in Haskell, Scurry County tax funds will not be used for the project. Any such program would either be self-supporting, or perhaps funded in part by funds allocated by the state.

The funds in the appropriations bill are part of an amount of $1.2 million designated for four potential vocational-technical projects, one at Haskell, one at Palestine, one at Lubbock and one at Coleman.

WINNING FLOAT—The Snyder Firemen's Auxiliary built the winning float in the contest held in conjunction with the Scurry County Rodeo. The floats wre exhibited in the downtown parade Wednesday afternoon.

McGovern Appoints O'Brien

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today appointed former Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien to head his presidential campaign.

The nominee said O'Brien will be given a role concerned with unifying the support of Democrats and other "concerned Americans."

McGovern said O'Brien will be his "national campaign chairman" and in that role "will be a foremost consultant on the over-riding goal which will be to unify the support of key Democrats across the country."

In a brief interview, just before publicly accepting McGovern's offer, O'Brien emphasized that while he will hold the title of national campaign chairman his role will be essentially separate from the existing McGovern political organization.

McGovern's announcement on appointment of O'Brien came as he prepared to hold a news conference. In advance of that session, there was no immediate word on the role to be played by Gary Hart who has been serving as McGovern's campaign manager.

The senaator said O'Brien will be his liaison with Democrats in Congress, Democratic governors, mayors, and state legislative leaders.

Full Flow Set For 5th Month

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Railroad Commission responded today to buyers' requests by setting the statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent for August—the fifth consecutive month for all-out crude oil production.

The only exceptions to the allowable were the mammoth East Texas field, which will remain at 86 per cent production, and Kelly-Snyder in West Texas, which will stay at 76 per cent.

Written nominations by major purchasers of Texas crude oil totaled 3,701,304 barrels a day for August, the highest on record, and 157,772 more than for July.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast of August demand for Texas crude is 3.6 million barrels daily, an increase of 85,000 from July.

Ten of the 16 big buyers sought more oil in August than this month, six asked for the same amount and none wanted

US Intervenes In Exchange Marts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moving boldly to keep the six-month old international currency agreement from collapsing, the United States has begun intervening directly in the money-exchange markets to prop up the dollar's value.

The Federal Reserve Board, the nation's central bank, started selling German marks and other foreign currencies from U.S. reserves for dollars in foreign exchange markets Wednesday in a sudden departure from its previous monetary policy.

"We are moving to play our part to restore order in exchange markets and to do our part in upholding the Smithsonian agreement as others have done," said a board spokesman in confirming the U.S. action.

Major non-Communist nations agreed on a new set of money exchange rates last Dec. 18 at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, including the first devaluation of the dollar since 1934 and upward revaluation of other currencies.

But that bargain threatened to fall apart in recent weeks because the British government bailed out and cut its pound sterling loose from the agreed upon exchange rate, floating it against other currencies.

The resulting uneasiness overseas put the dollar under new pressure and several foreign governments, mainly West Germany, were forced to buy dollars to protect the value of their own money and support the Smithsonian agreement.

The United States has never directly intervened in exchange markets. It formerly used its gold stock to settle dollar claims, but President Nixon ended that last Aug. 15. Now, the United States has nothing to convert foreign currencies since the gold window will remain closed until a new monetary system is worked out.

The board's gave no estimate on how many marks and other currencies it sold in the first day of intervention Wednesday.

Dallas Fire Set

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas School Book Depository caught fire today and investigators said someone attempted to burn the building from which, said the Warren Commission, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

The fire was extinguished, partly with the help of a fire sprinkler system.

Investigators said gasoline cans were found on three floors of the building and that gasoline had been poured throughout the structure.

Damage was confined to the upper three floors.

It could not be determined immediately whether there was any damage to the sixth floor room from which the Warren Commission said Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots that killed Kennedy.

Cozy threesomes should be foursomes

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have been married one year, but like everyone else who writes to you, I have a problem.

This is my first marriage, but Edwin's second. He was a swinging bachelor for five years before he married me.

Edwin keeps inviting his former girl friends over to our home for dinner. They are all friendly and attractive, but I feel so awkward entertaining my husband and a young woman he has known. None of these ladies ever brings an escort altho I've asked Edwin to please suggest it when he invites them.

They all come alone and stay late. I have even gone to bed and left my husband chatting with the lady guest. (Wouldn't you say 2 a.m. is late enough for the hostess to entertain a dinner guest?)

How do I put an end to these cozy threesome dinner parties? Or am I wrong to feel the way I do?

ONE OUT OF THREE

DEAR ONE: You're not wrong. Tell Edwin that when he invites a former girl friend to dinner, just to make sure everything is "kosher," if she doesn't know a man she can bring, you dig up a fourth.

DEAR ABBY: I am 83 years old, and here is my problem. What if I should win that million dollars on the big contest which pays you $50,000 a year for life, over a period of 20 years? I sure don't expect to live another 20 years, so if I win the money and die in the meantime, what happens to the money?

Could I will the rest of it to someone? Or could I just take the full amount right now?

I may never win, but it could happen.

CURIOUS IN MASS.

DEAR CURIOUS: Does the contest advertise "A million dollars, at the rate of $50,000 a year for 20 years"? Or does it state, "Fifty thousand a year for LIFE"? If it's the former, should the winner die, the balance of the unpaid prize money would become part of the winner's estate.

If it's the latter, only $50,000 a year would be paid to the winner as long as he (or she) lived. For the most authoritative answer, inquire of the sponsors of that contest.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting married soon, and Abby, I am so happy, I could fly. But something is spoiling everything. He is a Catholic and I am a Baptist.

He is not at all strong in his religion, but his mother is, and she refuses to come to our wedding unless it's in a Catholic church.

To make matters worse, altho I am not strong in my religion, my mother is a very strict Baptist, and she says she won't come to my wedding if I don't get married in the Baptist church.

It doesn't make one bit of difference to me where we get married as long as it's in a church. A church is a church, and we all worship the same God, right?

Abby, I just hate to hurt my mother. And he hates to hurt his mother, but we'll do anything you say. Please help us decide.

CHURCH PROBLEMS

DEAR PROBLEMS: The decision should be yours and your fiance's. Since you obviously cannot please both your mother and his, you would probably be wise to select a compromise church, invite whomever you want, and let them either accept or decline.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

NY Power Restored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Blackouts and brownouts affected widespread areas of New York City, Rhode Island and parts of Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. But by early today electrical service was reported back to normal everywhere.

A severe thunderstorm was blamed for the interruption in service throughout New England, while already sweltering New Yorkers were cut off from service by feeder cables that quit.

Wednesday's power loss to 250,000 customers in Brooklyn was traced to four 27,000-volt feeder cables. Con Edison estimated, however, that only 100 of the 250,000 persons affected suffered a total blackout.

Elsewhere in the New York area, some 40,000 residents of the Riverdale section of the Bronx did without power for several hours Wednesday night, and 15,000 persons in Westchester County lost power from early in the afternoon until after 9 p.m.

The power failures in the New York area abetted the weather woes of city dwellers beset by 94-degree temperatures and the fourth consecutive day of a massive air inversion that has created the worst smog of the year.

Strikers Stop Day Shift

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Massed workers, watched by officers wearing riot helmets and carrying night sticks, again prevented any major return to work at the beginning of the 7 a.m. shift at the Marathon LeTourneau Gulf Marine Division today.

Indications were that some negotiations will begin today.

Some stones were thrown at two vehicles which tried to enter but no damage resulted and no one was injured.

Cameron County Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Gatliff told the workers that "We will not interfere as long as there is no violence."

An hour and a half after the 7 a.m. shift normally would have reported, Temple Williams, a management representative, walked to the strikers and talked with them.

Outcome of the talk with Williams was that one representative from each department will enter the plant at some unspecified hour to meet with President Jack Hilder Jr.

Indications were that about 10 persons were able to slip inside the gates about 7 a.m.

Two vehicles sought to enter—a truck and a passenger car. Strikers swarmed over them, finally stopping the truck by tearing out electrical wires. The car continued through the gate, carrying some strikers with it and the strikers walked back outside.

Three persons fell off the vehicles but none was injured.

The strikers maintained that their position that they do not want a formal union—that they want to represent themselves.

The men are demanding better wages and working conditions.

Degree Offered In Agri-Banking

COLLEGE STATION — Two dissimilar subjects; finance and agriculture, are being blended together at Texas A&M university into a new master's degree called Agri-banking.

The degree combines agricultural production and marketing, economics, management and finance, according to Dr. John A. Hopkin of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

Current and upcoming vacancies in commercial banks, Federal Land Banks, production credit associations, credit or finance departments of farm supply and marketing firms and other agricultural institutions created the need for such a degree.

STATE PARTICIPANT—Randy Courtney, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Courtney, is participating in the Texas 4-H Horse Show being held in San Antonio this week. The show was to begin today and go through Saturday. Randy was the only Scurry County youth to qualify for the show. He qualified at the District 2 show in Post last month. He will exhibit his mare, Levis Lis, in halter, western, pleasure, and reigning.

RODEO

the winner for the first night was Burney Johnson of Arlington, Texas, with a mark of 56.

The competition in Steer Wrestling was very keen, and according to the announcer, Jim Miller, the most even he had ever seen. Placing first was Buth Bode of Brenham, with a 6.64, followed by Charlie Battles of Talala, Okla., with 7.82, and Everett Crandall of Henrietta, Okla. with 8.72. Crandall is a former world champion in this event.

Bull Riding was won by Shorty Wood of McAlester, Okla., with a mark of 65. Jack Wiseman, who is a former world's champion from Missouri City, Texas marked 61, which was good enough for a tie for second place with Dale Coleman of Bosier City, La., who also had a 61.

The Barrel Racing was strictly controlled by local contestants, with Marie Voss placing first with a 17.51, followed by Mandy Tubb with a 17.62, and Vicky Johnson with a 17.93. All three contestants are from Snyder.

Jim Miller stated that the competition should be just as keen and top-rated in quality for each of the performances. This is the 5th year for him to serve as announcer for the Scurry County Rodeo. He said that he has cut down on the number of rodeos for each year, but that the rodeo here is one of the better ones, and the type that he

Vets Should Check Policy

WACO, Tex.—The Veterans Administration this week urged all GI insurance policyholders to take a second look at the type of policy pay-off they have selected for their next of kin, Jack Coker, a Regional Director, said today.

VA warned that too many windows of GI policyholders are penalized following the death of their husbands upon learning he had selected small monthly payments over 36 month periods. In some cases, Coker noted, veterans chose smaller payments for life more than 25 years ago, and never updated their policies.

GI policyholders who wish now to switch to lump sum payments should request Form 29-336 from VA and select option No. 1. This would allow widows to select monthly payments should they deem it necessary.

Veterans were urged to mail the form to the VA insurance center where they pay premiums.

Draft Call Set At 4,800

WASHINGTON (AP) — The smallest draft callup since April, 4,800 men, has been announced for September by the Selective Service.

The draft will extend to men with lottery numbers no higher than 75, the same ceiling as in August.

Acting draft director Byron V. Pepitone said Wednesday that sufficient men are available at number 75 and below. They include men classified as 1A and 1AO who recently lost deferments or whose initial postponements of induction expire during September.

Men with numbers through 100 are being ordered for preinduction physical exams, although officials say the ceiling could remain at 75 through the year.

The September callup raises the total for the year to 35,900. The Defense Department has put its 1972 draft needs at 50,000. The Army is inducting all draftees.

Meanwhile, the Army Recruiting Command at Hampton, Va., said June was its best month for male enlistment in nearly three years, with 18,175 signing up. It is offering a $1,500 bonus for those agreeing to go into combat units for four years. The usual enlistment period is three years while draftees serve two years.

Commission chairman Byron Tunnell said Texas' crude oil stocks as of July 14 totaled 97.4 million barrels, a decrease of 1.4 million from a week ago, 6.1 million from a month ago and 6.7 million from a year ago.

Tunnell said oil reserves had decreased by 14.6 million barrels since last month, assuming that the trend of the past several months continued. Despite this, he said, "there are still those in Washington trying to determine if this is, in fact, an energy crisis."

U.S. Asst. Atty. Raul A. Gonzalez said two men have been arrested and charged before U.S. Magistrate William Mallett.

They were identified as Antonio Cavazoz Lopez, 35, and Felipe Barrientos Medina, 42.

Both were charged with possessing and distributing six ounces of heroin and conspiring with others unknown to distribute a quantity of heroin. Lopez was also charged with assaulting the customs agents with a semi-automatic .38 pistol.

Two of the customs agents—Renault Bayhi and Gary Oswell—were taken to Mercy Hospital with unspecified but serious injuries. The third, Larry Chambers, received a flesh wound.

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP) — Police say they have rounded up seven persons thought to be involved in a series of burglaries totaling $173 from a bakery warehouse.

Little Progress In Secret Talks

By DAVID MASON
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam remained split today on the issue of a cease-fire and political settlement for Vietnam despite a new round of secret talks.

There was no indication at the 151st session of the peace conference that the secret rendezvous in Paris Wednesday between Henry A. Kissinger, presidential adviser, and North Vietnamese leaders had made progress in settling the basic issue of who should control power in Saigon.

Debate on the issue of a cease-fire marked much of the argument in the plenary session.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter asked the Communists to say "what is wrong" with President Nixon's May 8 proposal for an internationally supervised cease-fire throughout Indochina.

In another mild speech similar to his new style of last week, Porter asked the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong: "Why not tell us frankly why it is difficult for you to entertain this proposal, which would end the killing promptly?...

"We would also like to hear more from you on the subject of the four-month period we have proposed for the withdrawal of all our forces from South Vietnam once such a cease-fire has begun and the prisoners of war are released. It appears logical to us to create an atmosphere which would facilitate, not hinder, political discussions among Vietnamese."

Speaking to newsmen as he left the session, Porter said: "Today there was perhaps a slight improvement in the tone of the exchanges but nothing discernible of substance."

Xuan Thuy and Mrs. Binh both complained that the United States still has proposed nothing new to the conference.

The delegates agreed to meet again next Thursday.

The Communist held fast to their position that a politics settlement must come with the ceasefire.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, leader of the Viet Cong delegation said the political and military settlements "should be settled simultaneously."

Brother's Pistol Analyzed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A .38-caliber pistol found at the scene of the slaying of a young Massachusetts couple belonged to a brother of one of the victims, police said today.

Lt. Colon Jordan said the weapon belonged to a brother of Thomas Matzilevich, 21, of Natick, Mass., whose body was found Sunday with that of his wife, Kathleen, 18.

Jordan said he did not know which of Matzilevich's brothers owned the pistol, but the Matzilevich family had a record of the serial number.

The pistol is being analyzed by the Texas Department of Public Safety's crime laboratory here.

Asked if ballistics tests were being run to determine whether the gun fired any of the seven shots that struck Matzilevich and his wife, Jordan said: "I imagine they are exploring every avenue."

Bodies of the victims were shipped to Natick today by an Austin funeral home.

Matzilevich was the son of a prominent Natick neurosurgeon. His wife was the daughter of the Worcester, Mass., school superintendent. The couple had been married seven months and were living in Fort Worth, where he attended Texas Christian University.

The bodies, drenched with gasoline and set afire, were found Sunday morning at City Park, 13 miles west of here in hilly country on Lake Austin. A 1968 model car, registered in Massachusetts to a brother of Matzilevich, was blazing nearby.

Guelker, who died of an apparent heart attack shortly after leaving a job near Ira early Wednesday morning, was found in his car about 2 miles east of Ira. He had been on a job for the Newmont Oil Company and was on his way home to Sweetwater when the attack apparently hit him.

He was born May 13, 1930, in San Angelo, and married Nedra Kay Snowden in June of 1955, in Lovington, N.M. He graduated from Sweetwater High School and was a veteran of the Korean War.

Jackson Five Includes Six

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

We went to interview the Jackson 5 one morning and found six.

In addition to Jackie (whose name is Sigmund), Tito (whose name is Toriano), Jermaine, Marlon and Michael, who range in age from 21 to 13, there also was Randy, age 10, a player of bongo drums and sometime background singer.

Michael was wearing a tee shirt with "love" written on it. Jermaine says, "He wears them on every tour. It's his traveling shirt."

Michael has a solo album out on Motown, "Got To Be There." A single from it, "I Wanna Be Where You Are," is No. 8 on the July 8 best-selling list.

We ask him about singing love songs at his youngish age, and he says, "It's not odd for me to sing love songs because I know what I'm singing about." This brings laughs and snickers from his brothers. Jackie says, teasingly, "He gets really deeply involved." Michael defends himself, "There is no age limit to love."

The Jackson 5 has seven albums out, all of which have sold very well, and its singles have done well too. Many of them sell more than two million copies. Since the first single in January 1976, "I Want You Back," some of the big ones have been, "I'll Be There," "Never Can Say Goodby," "Rockin' Robin" and "Got To Be There." On the July 8 chart, the group's "Lookin' Through the Window" is No. 57 on the singles chart and the same title is No. 16 on the LP chart.

As the group talks, an adviser says, "I never saw you guys so quiet." They explain that they have just flown to New York and are still geared to Los Angeles time.

About Randy, Jackie says, "He has been dying to get in. He finally passed the test. He had to get his thing together first before he could join. He is okay now." He adds that the name of the group still is the Jackson 5.

Tito and Jermaine play guitar. Michael mostly and also Jermaine are lead singers. A couple of cousins play organ and drums.

Asked if they ever compare themselves with the Osmond Brothers, Michael says, "There is room for everybody." Jermaine say, "We just compare ourselves with ourselves. We just keep trying to improve."

Jackie says, "There's only one way to go and that is up. We don't think about going down, right, fellas? Right."

There also are three sisters in the family, Maureen, LaToya and Janet. Tito says, "Our baby sister wants in show business." "But no girls in the act," quickly adds Jermaine. "We'll give her a little boost some other way."

The group got its start in Gary, Ind., where the family lived until moving to California three years ago. Jackie says, "We were amateurs. Everybody had groups competing against each other. We won a talent show. The mayor of Gary had Diana Ross for a guest at a benefit show and he invited us to sing. She told us she'd take us to Motown.

"We sang the latest songs that were out, by the Temptations, the Miracles, the Supremes; whoever had a big tune on the charts, we'd sing it. We sang in Berry Gordy's office at Motown."

Marlon says, "When we were amateurs we played at the Apollo Theater a lot. We used to do five or six shows a day. We have spent Christmas at the Apollo." Jermaine says, "Back then, that was what we wanted to do." Jackie says, "We were just getting started so we were quite anxious. Back in '64 or '65 we started as amateurs. Michael is only the first of the brothers to come out with a solo album. He says, "Jermaine is doing his thing. He's going to have a solo album. Everybody is going to have a solo album."

Tito says his will be more blues. Jackie says his will be mostly love songs. Marlon says, "Mine will be something like Michael's."

Right now the Jacksons enjoy motorcycles, except for Jackie who has a Camaro. Jermaine says, "I'll be getting a car soon, too. I don't know what kind."

Asked whether their father is strict with them, we hear both yes and no. Michael says, "We have a tutor that travels with us. When we're at home we go to regular school, private school. Our father travels with us and sees that everything goes right."

Jackie says, "We all have to do our chores around the house, like every other kid would do and we get out once in a while, but, basically everything is like everybody else."

The group sang the theme song for the movie "Ben" and Michael has a rubber rat along with him on the tour. Jermaine says, "He brought Ben with him." There will be a movie made soon about the Jackson 5 and the way they live.

Everybody writes songs but none have been recorded yet. Michael says, "We're working on that. We will be recording it. But I'll take it easy on the Motown writers.

Do they fight? Marlon says, "Michael and Randy fight on the road. Randy is the only person Michael can mess around with that is his size."

Jackie says, "We just like to play. They're brotherly love fights."

Whiskey Tastes Are Changing

NEW YORK (AP) — Where are the tastes of yesterday — Pink Lady, Pousse Cafe, Clover Club, Orange Blossom, the Merry Widow and the Bronx? Gone a long time. Now, according to a research study just released by Barton Brands, the traditional drinks, such as a martini or borubon and ginger, may be following.

After researching the drinking habits of 60,000 people a shift away from bourbon and spirit blends to lighter alcoholic beverages was found. Where these liquor types accounted for approximately 70 per cent of liquor sales in 1954, today they have only a 45 per cent share of the total market, the study says.

When the decade of the '60s opened, distillers could comfortably rely on bourbon and spirit blends to command 57 per cent of the hard liquor market. Then came what distillers call the "trend to lightness." With the arrival of the '70s Scotch, vodka and Canadian more than doubled their sales. Purchases of Scotch alone were 165 per cent above that of a decade earlier.

Overwithheld Taxes Concerning Economists

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The trials of economic planners has been a recurring episode in the drama of government. Like playwrights, they try to move their characters about the stage purposefully, but often what ensues is meaningless.

What happened to Treasury Department planners this year, however, is by no means without significance; it is loaded with consequences for individual pocketbooks and government finances—in the amount of $8 billion.

That is the Treasury's estimate of income taxes likely to be overwithheld from paychecks as a result of changes in the law that were meant, ironically, to make withholding more responsive to reality.

The intention was to correlate withholdings and the actual tax likely to be owed by making adjustments in the deduction formula.

As millions had learned, the old formula often left the taxpayer with either a bill to pay or a bill to receive when the time of reckoning came. Those who wished to avoid a payment on the following April 15 often compensated by raising their deductions.

And so when the forms were adjusted it was found the taxpayers didn't. Many filed the same W4 forms with their employers.

Many people, it seems, view withholding as a method of forced savings. This year $13.579 billion was sent back. And next year, it is feared, the total might be $24 billion.

Even for a nation big as the United States, that's a powerful lot of money. Powerful enough, that is, to probably send the economy off in a direction other than that desired by the planners.

To some extent, something of the sort has already occurred. The plan for early this year was to get consumers back to the market place and thus spur the economy. Instead, consumers stored their money with the Treasury.

How much vigor this took out of the recovery is difficult to estimate, but you may be sure it had some economists in private industry and government very concerned.

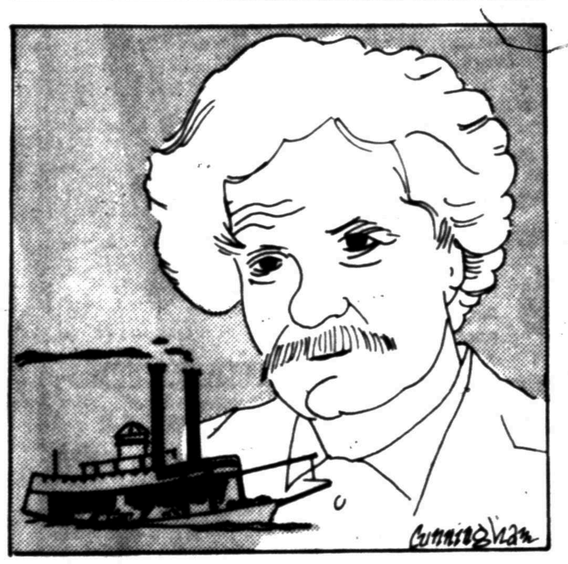

Next year the impact might be easier to measure. Early in the year, it is now widely believed, the government will be seeking to keep spending down because inflation might be reignited as the economy nears capacity.

And that is the very time, you will note, when all those billions of overwithheld taxes will be flowing back into the consumer economy. While some consumers might look forward to this, most planners consider it a diabolical script.

But planners do not give up. The most widely discussed remedy is that offered by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, who suggested to Congress that refunds be in bonds instead of cash.

The idea of this plan is to discourage immediate use of the money by consumers.

Junior Editors' Quiz on SAMUEL CLEMENS

QUESTION: Who was Samuel Clemens?

* * *

ANSWER: Samuel Langhorne Clemens, who lived from 1835 to 1910, was one of the greatest American writers. His pen name was Mark Twain. He was born in Missouri and lived an exciting life, following many different occupations before he settled down to serious writing. He worked on Mississippi river boats, became an apprentice printer, turned to mining, served for a short time as a lieutenant in the Civil War, and then worked as a reporter.

After many experiences and much travel, Clemens started to write under the name Mark Twain. He acquired the name from the Mississippi days. "Mark Twain" was the pilot's call to indicate the water was two fathoms deep. Twain was hailed as a great humorist in his time. Later, critics began to realize that there is great substance to his writings. His masterpiece, Huckleberry Finn, is considered by many the first great American novel and the forerunner of the realistic novel. American literature owes him a great deal. The material for his writing came from the American scene, particularly the South and far West.

Comments To Cut Friends

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you tired of clinging friends? Would you rather have more good, clean-cut 100 per cent enemies who can't stand the sight of you?

Well, this is one of the easiest things in life to arrange. All you have to do is loose the cutting edge of your tongue, and before you know it, it will create enough feuds, vendettas and dislikes to keep you busy for several generations.

Here are a few remarks guaranteed to cut down your number of pals and add to the rankled ranks of those who would be glad to hang you up by your thumbs:

"I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth."

"I know this is Tuesday and that I promised you on my word of honor that I'd pay you back on Tuesday, but I don't have it now, but I'll give you my word of honor that I'll pay you back next Friday."

"Didn't I invite you to the party? I knew there was somebody I missed, but I couldn't think who it was."

"Yeah, it's a sweet new buggy okay, but I know a guy who got the very same model for three hundred bucks less."

"Which one of those kids is yours—not that funny-looking one on the left, is it?"

"You ought to do something about getting rid of that watermelon. It makes you look old."

"I don't know why it takes you so long to do anything. Any other man would have been able to get three taxicabs by now."

"You pay it, Fred. The smallest I have on me is a $20 bill."

"So you want to see my hole card, do you? Well, put another $15 in the pot and I'll let you take a look."

"How can you go around saying you're 6 feet tall, when I'm taller than you are, and I know that I'm only 5 feet 10?"

"He may be bald now, but when we were going to college together his nickname was 'The Hairy Ape.' Tell them about it, Fred darling."

"I like your new hat. Too bad they didn't have one your size."

"I'll tell you where you're wrong."

"You abuse the right of a college graduate to be ignorant."

"The way you eat I should serve you your food in a trough."

"When I married you, I thought that by now you'd be earning at least twice what you are."

"Oh, yes, I suppose I can do without it. That's what I'm used to—doing without the things we really need."

"If you don't like it, you can lump it."

"What kind of a spineless jellyfish are you?"

"God must have been asleep when you were born."

Submerged Range Is Explored

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Robert B. Scott, Texas A&M University geologist is among marine scientists exploring a submerged mountain range in the mid-Atlantic for valuable mineral deposits and clues to earthquakes' origins.

The expedition is part of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Trans-Atlantice Geotraverse project, initiated in 1970 to carry out the first comprehensive study of the ocean bottom across an entire ocean basin.

This year's phase, which began in July, is at the Mid-Atlantic Ridge, part of an undersea mountain range which extends around the world—the largest geographic feature on earth.

Officials said the expedition also will study the continental margin of Northwest Africa to determine the original edge of the African continent which has remained hidden for about 200 million years.

Researchers will be scientists from England, Portugal, Spain and Mauritania, along with oceanographic personnel from the Universities of Miami, Wisconsin and Connecticut.

Texas Leads In Cattle Feeding

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas continues to lead in the number of cattle being fattened for slaughter, according to July 1 inventories by the Agriculture Department.

Texas feedlots held 2,119,000 head July 1, up 25 per cent from a year earlier, followed by Iowa at 1,699,000 head for a four per cent gain. Over-all, the nation's 23 major beef states had more than 12.4 million cattle on feed as of July 1, up 14 per cent from a year earlier.

Texas also led in the feedlot count in June. Last year Texas took over the feed cattle lead from Iowa for the first time in history, but the Corn Belt state later regained the top spot before slipping to second place in June.

Fisk Lifts Sox Past California

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rookie Carlton Fisk's star is on the rise but, unfortunately, it's not an All-Star.

The Boston Red Sox catcher is tearing up American League pitching with a .307 batting average and .631 slugging average but he finished with 223,349 votes, fifth in the balloting for the All-Star Game July 25 and 544,189 votes behind Detroit's Bill Freehan, batting .263.

If Fisk hasn't completely convinced the fans he's ready for the annual classic, he's already done the job on California Angels' General Manager Harry Dalton.

"If he played all the time against us," said Dalton, "he'd be in the Hall of Fame five years before he retired."

The 24-year-old backstop blasted a three-run homer as Boston whipped California 8-2 Wednesday. The circuit was his 15th of the season and his fifth in the last nine games.

In other AL baseball games, Cleveland whipped Kansas City 6-1, Chicago edged Detroit 3-2, New York thumped Minnesota 13-3, Texas trimmed Baltimore 3-2 and Oakland beat Milwaukee 9-6.

Fisk, who also is in the top five in both doubles and triples in the league, wasn't scheduled to start for Boston this season, but when Duane Josephson was injured and Bob Montgomery had throwing problems, Manager Eddie Kasko turned to his rookie.

The victory was Boston's fourth straight. Tommy Haper and Doug Griffin each hit two-run doubles to join Fisk in helping Lynn McGlothen, 3-2, get his complete-game triumph.

Cleveland's Gaylord Perry won his 16th game to tie the Tigers' Mickey Lolich for high in the major leagues. Perry gave up seven singles. Frank Duffy drove in two Indians' runs with three hits while Perry, with two hits had two RBI.

Rick Reichardt slammed two homers and drove in all three Chicago runs. The victory snapped a six-game White Sox losing streak. His second blast broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning. The loss was only the second for Detroit in its last 11 games.

Tiger shortstop Eddie Brinkman set a major-league mark with 57 straight errorless games. His flawless streak began May 21 and has included 261 chances.

Ron Blomberg and Roy White each hit two-run homers as the Yankees pounded Minnesota for 12 hits. New York erupted for seven runs in the fourth, including two driven in by Celerino Sanchez' double. Five Twin pitchers were used while Mike Kekuch, 9-8, was the Yankee winner with help from Fred Beene.

Dick Billings' single with two outs in the eighth provided the Rangers with the tying and winning runs against Baltimore. Oriole starter Mike Cuellar, 8-8, gave up two walks and committed a throwing error to load the bases for Billings' safety. Ted Ford's eighth homer gave Texas its first run.

Reggie Jackson stroked a bases-loaded, three-run double in Oakland's six-run seventh inning. He finished the game with four RBI as Blue Moon Odom, 9-2, was the winner of his sixth straight. Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the ninth, including two on Mike Ferrero's homer. Ollie Brown also hit a two-run circuit for the Brewers.

Rebs Challenge Dodgers Tonite

The Rebels completed the first leg of their quest to overtake the Dodgers in the Junior Teenage League with a narrow 2-1 win over the Buffs last night. The Rebels had a tough time of it however, squeezing by with runs in the late innings to overcome the two hit pitching of Buff David Mays.

Mays duelled with Dennis Young of the Rebels for six innings before either team would give up a run. The Rebels threatened four times in earlier innings, twice in the opening frame, but the Buff defense was quick to cut the runners before they could make the complete tour.

Young, who allowed only three hits in the game, let seven Buffs reach base in the first five innigs, four of them made it to third before the Rebels sent them to the dugout without passing Go, collecting $200, or scoring a run.

In the sixth inning Young opened with a long fly to center that was misplayed, allowing him to advance to second base. Mays struckout the next two batters, but Young advanced to third, and scored on Steve Green's single, the first hit against Mays. The Buffs came back in the seventh when Doug Nall walked and Ronnie Payne singled to advance him to second. Harvey Waller followed Payne with another single to send Nall in and tie the score, sending the game into extra innings.

The Rebels ended it in eight when Young singled and then scored on Greg Gafford's fly to deep right field that was missed.

The Rebels are still trailing the Dodgers, but are scheduled for the crucial confrontation today in the last game of the season. If both teams play up to par, it should be a thrilling conclusion to an exciting season.

Westerner Club Meets Tuesday

There will be a reorganizational meeting of the Westerner Club Tuesday, July 25 at 7:00 a.m. in the Steak House announced Sid Simpson, athletic director at Western Texas College.

The purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers for next year and begin a drive for new memberships. All members of the Westerner Club should attend, and all persons who are interested in supporting the WTC athletic teams are invited and encouraged to attend.

Blue Missing From All-Stars

BOSTON (AP) — Oakland's Vida Blue, the American League's most valuable player and Cy Young Award winner last year, will be among the missing for the All-Star Game next Tuesday in Atlanta.

Manager Earl Weaver bypassed Blue Wednesday in naming a nine-man staff, headed by southpaw Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers and right-hander Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians.

Also chosen were left-handers Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox, Ken Holtzman of the Oakland Athletics and Dave McNally of the Baltimore Orioles, and right-handers Jim Palmer and Pat Dobson of Baltimore, Nolan Ryan of the California Angels and Jim Hunter of the A's.

Blue, a young sensation last year, got into a bitter salary dispute with Oakland owner Charlie Finley this spring and was a stubborn holdout. He finally agreed to terms in May, but has not been effective, struggling along with a 2-5 record.

Lolich, edged by Blue for top league honors last year, sports a 16-6 record in helping the Tigers in their challenge to Baltimore in the East Division race.

US Boxer After Gold

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Duane Bobick thinks gold every time he draws back his big right fist.

He dreams about the Olympic gold medal and the golden purses that will eventually await him in the professional heavyweight ranks.

"It seems inevitable that I will turn professional," Bobick said Wednesday night after demolishing Clifford Stephens of the U.S. Army with a crunching right at 1:01 of the first round in the U.S. Olympic boxing trials.

Bobick said he isn't going to turn professional just for peanuts.

"I'm talking about a lot of money," said the 205-pound Bobick, who has the good looks of a Hollywood movie star. "Not $100,000 ... I'm talking millions."

Bobick, a two-fisted bruiser from Bowlus, Minn., is following in the footsteps of former American Olympic boxing champions turned professional such as George Foreman, current heavyweight champion Joe Frazier and former champion Muhammad Ali.

The 21-year-old Bobick, a U.S. Navy quartermaster 3-C whose tour of duty ends in October, was the 1972 national Golden Gloves champion and the 1971 gold medal winner in the Pan American games. He hasn't been beaten in 56 bouts.

Bobick is currently on the cover of True Magazine and is hailed by some boxing experts as the best white amateur heavyweight in years.

Richard Pettigrew, Bobick's trainer, said "I guarantee you he is better at this stage of his career than either Frazier or Ali."

Bobick is already thinking ahead of his professional days, saying "I'd like to be under some organization like Cloverlay."

Cloverlay is the group which has stock in Frazier.

Bobick coldly analyzed his thunderclap knockout of Stephens Wednesday night.

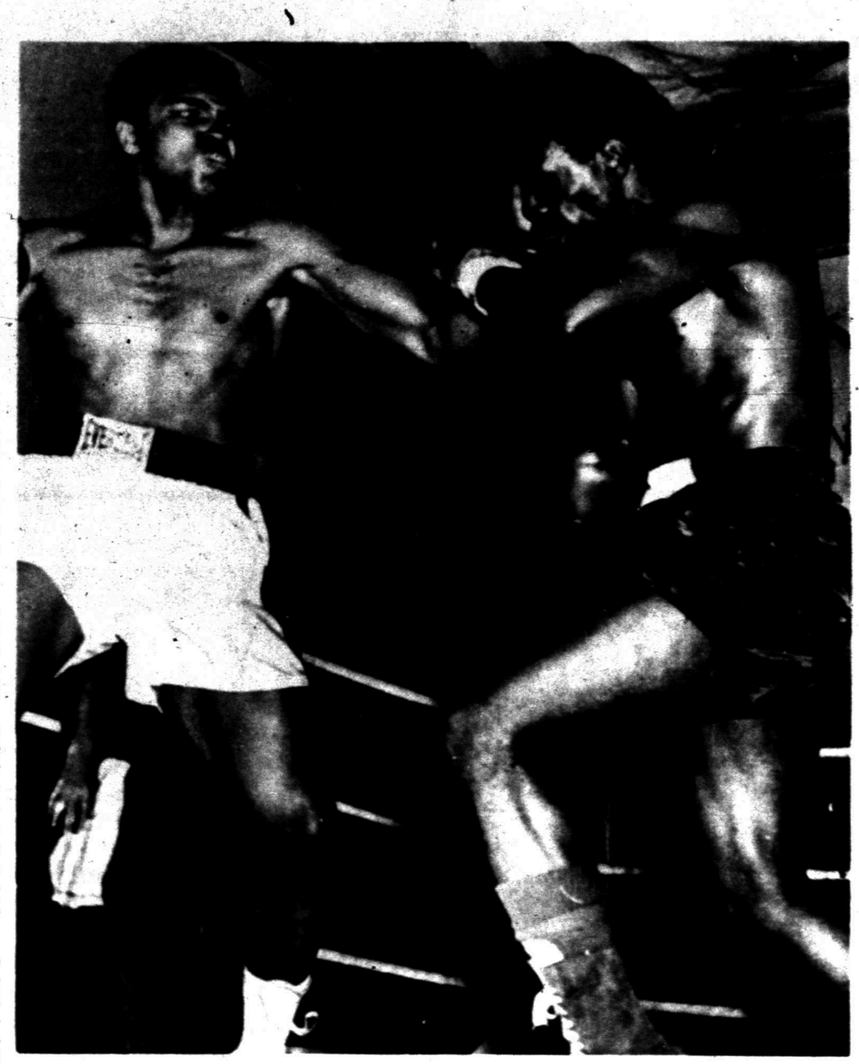

"He was coming in with his left hand low — I slipped in a quick right hand and it couldn't have been more than six or eight inches," the heavyweight said.

Bobick says that only Nick Wells, the Air Force champion from Fort Worth, stands between him and the trip to the Olympics in Munich, Germany.

"Wells will be my toughest competition but I'm confident I'll win," he said.

Bobick knocked out Wells the last time they met.

Bobby Lee Hunter, the light flyweight who is serving a manslaughter sentence in South Carolina, makes his debut tonight against unheraled Tim Dement in the feature bout.

Ali Misses Knockout

By NOEL HUGHES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — It won't go into the record book as another famous long count—like the one in the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney title fight in 1927—but the Muhammad Ali camp claimed today a mixup in timing saved Al "Blue" Lewis from a fifth round knockout.

Ali, the former world heavyweight champion from Cherry Hill, N.J., stopped Lewis of Detroit in the 11th round Wednesday night for his seventh straight victory in his comeback campaign, but the fight had looked over in the fifth.

A short right from Ali travelled no more than eight inches and laid Lewis in a twitching heap on the canvas in outdoor Croker Park. The bell sounded the end of the round when the count reached nine.

Later Ali's trainer, Angelo Dundee, claimed that the count actually had lasted for 22 seconds according to his own timepiece.

Dundee made no formal protest, but indeed the timekeeper had found that two of his watches had stopped during the first round and he had to borrow another.

Lending further credence to Dundee's contention was that no exact time was given when referee Lew Eskin of New York stopped the fight in the 11th. It was estimated at 1:15 of the round.

It was the only knockdown of the fight before an estimated crowd of 22,000 as Ali overcame the affects of a heavy head cold that has troubled him for days for his TKO triumph in Ireland's biggest boxing show in years.

"I think I'm fighting far too much and getting a bit stale," said the former champion who is pointing for a return title bout with champion Joe Frazier.

Lewis looked dazed in the dressing room and didn't want to talk with newsmen, but he said "I was pleased with my performance and I would like to fight Ali again."

Ali said he was very pleased with the reception given him by the Irish. He was feted wherever he went. Thirteen newspapers devoted whole pages of coverage of the event.

Ali, who weighed 217½ pounds to Lewis' 223½ for the scheduled 12-rounder, is scheduled to meet Floyd Patterson, another former world champion, in New York on September 20.

Co-promoters Hal Conrad of New York and Bucky Sugrue of Dublin guaranteed Ali $200,000 and Lewis $35,000.

Joe O'Brien last year became the third driver in harness racing history to win more than 3,000 races.

Cincinnati Has It All, Leads West

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tired of hearing about the Big Red Machine? Pete Rose isn't tired of talking about it.

"We've got the name," says the Cincinnati Reds outfielder. "We've got guys who can hit the ball out of the park. We hit and run, we steal ... we've got pitchers who can pitch and we've got a bullpen."

Because of all those things, the Reds also have the lead in the National League West. They fattened it to six games Wednesday after whipping the Chicago Cubs 6-1.

Despite all the recent success, though, Cincinnati isn't a replica of the well-known "Machine" that won the league pennant in 1970. That version ran on pure power while this year's model is built for speed.

In the other National League games, the Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the Atlanta Braves 8-3; the St. Louis Cardinals stopped the Houston Astros 6-0; the Montreal Expos trimmed the San Francisco Giants 3-2; the Philadelphia Phillies took a 3-2 decision from the San Diego Padres in 11 innings and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 5-0.

Bobby Tolan, one of the heroes in Cincinnati's pennant-winning season two years ago, delivered a tie-breaking single with two out in the sixth to help Wednesday's triumph. Tony Perez, also a member of the 1970 blasters, drove in two runs with a single and double.

"We got it all," said Rose, with obvious visions of pennants dancing in his head.

The East's version of the "Machine"—the Pirates—meanwhile, continued to hit on all cylinders. Gene Alley, Willie Stargell and Richie Hebner each drove in two runs to lead their triumph over Atlanta and build their East lead to six games.

Somewhat overshadowed in the show of Pirate power was Hank Aaron's accomplishment. The Braves' fine outfielder smashed his 659th career home run to tie Babe Ruth's record of most homers with one organization.

Jury Acquits UT Regent, Erwin On DWI Charge

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — A Bell County Court at Law jury found Frank C. Erwin Jr. of Austin not guilty of driving while intoxicated after deliberating about 30 minutes Wednesday afternoon.

Erwin sat at the defense table for a moment, then rushed to the other side of the courtroom to shake hands with the three-man, three-woman panel.

Then, smiling broadly, the University of Texas regent sought defense attorneys, prosecutors and Judge Stan Pemberton to shake their hands.

The three-day trial went to the jury at 4:25 p.m. The panel sent word that they had a verdict shortly before 5 p.m.

The defense had ended testimony by bringing seven character witnesses to the stand after Erwin testified in his own behalf Wednesday morning. All seven witnesses said they would not hesitate to believe Erwin, either under oath or not under oath.

Erwin recounted events beginning with an early morning flight from Austin to El Paso Dec. 17, 1971. He said he conferred with UT-El Paso officials about campus student disturbances and attended the Sun Bowl game Dec. 18.

Erwin recalled catching a flight returning to Austin about 6:10 p.m. El Paso time and arriving in Austin shortly after 8 p.m. Austin time Dec. 18.

The former UT regents chairman said he drove from the Austin airport across town to the apartment of Jimmy Crouch on North Red River Avenue. He arrived at Crouch's apartment about 8:45, he said, and the two then went to the Headliners Club in downtown Austin with Erwin driving.

Erwin said he instructed the head waiter to serve Crouch and his date, who had not yet arrived, "anything they ordered" and left about 9:15 for the Tarry House.

Erwin said he arrived at the West Austin club at about 9:30 and talked with several friends that at the club's annual Christmas party, had one scotch and soda and left about 11 or 11:15 p.m.

From the Tarry House, Erwin said, he drove to the 40 Acres Club at 25th Street and Guadalupe Avenue. He estimated his arrival at 11:30 p.m.

Erwin then told the jury that he and Dr. Gerald Center talked at the club until after midnight and left after he was unable to persuade Center to accompany him for a late dinner.

Erwin said he was arrested in the parking lot after driving from 25th Street to 30th Street up Guadalupe. He said he heard a police siren while he was driving but he did not think the siren was for him until he got out of his car and saw a police car parked at his car's rear bumper.

Prosecutor Gerald Brown then asked Erwin if he was sure if he didn't have more than one drink.

The jury was sent out and Brown argued that he should be allowed to introduce a statement made the night of Erwin's arrest which Brown said was inconsistent with Erwin's testimony on the stand.

Chief defense counsel Roy Minton argued that Texas law requires any statements made by an arrested person to police must be reduced to writing and objected to Brown's attempt. The judge sustained Minton's objection.

After the verdict, Minton said disagreement between the prosecution's witnesses statements on the stand was the vital factor in Erwin's acquittal.

Brown said the main element was the defendant. "The jury was either going to believe him or not believe him," he said.

Vehicles Banned In NM Parks

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Motorcycles, dune buggies and other land recreational vechicles have been banned from all but improved roads in New Mexico State Parks.

The State Park and Recreation Commission adopted the regulation Tuesday. It also requires the vehicles to be "properly muffled" and prohibits their use at night.

State parks Director Richard Mutz said there have been several serious accidents involving such recreational vehicles, in addition to incidents of annoyed park visitors.

SAYS KLEIN

Policy Changes Hurt McGovern

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern has created a credibility gap that will beat him in the November election, White House aide Herbert Klein said Wednesday.

Changes in the South Dakota senator's policy statements since the primary campaign began will be a "big issue" in the election, Klein told newsmen.

Since his homination, Klein said, McGovern has been "developing a major credibility problem" over his changes on such matters as the economy and peace policies.

"First McGovern said he wanted to withdraw all troops from Vietnam when he was trying to get the liberal vote during the primaries," Klein said, adding:

"Now he says he would leave the naval forces in Vietnam and leave forces in Thailand. His position changed drastically during the convention and I think it's changing now. And it will be interesting to see his final position on the $1,000 giveaway program."

The latter was a reference to McGovern's welfare proposals.

Klein, director of communications for the federal executive branch, was here as President Nixon's representative Wednesday for a ceremony transferring three historic buildings and two acres from the federal government to the City of San Antonio.

Today, he was due in Waco, Tex., for ceremonies transferring federal property to the cities of Waco and Killeen for park and recreation use under the President's Legacy of Parks program.

Discussing Nixon's Southeast Asia withdrawal policy, Klein said he thinks the United States "will continue to remove troops. But the President has proclaimed he will not have the Americans leave Vietnam before we know that the prisoners of war are leaving with them. His offer differs from that of McGovern."

In his speech Wednesday, Klein said the United States is "taking world leadership towards peace" and is making progress ranging from health to the environment.

In the last three years under the Nixon Administration, the nation has accomplished more in such areas as environmental protection than "perhaps in all the rest of the history of the nation itself, a nation now reaching its 200th anniversary," Klein said.

He later told newsmen from this largely Mexican-American city that Nixon "is going after the support of the Mexican-Americans than any other Republican candidate."

He said the Nixon Administration has improved conditions for the Spanish speaking by placing them in high federal posts, and through federal programs to "increase the economic position" of the Spanish speaking.

Shriners Give $565,000 Check

DALLAS (AP) — The Shriners of North America will contribute $565,000 to their favorite charity—the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children—Thursday.

The check is to be presented by potentates of four Carolina Shrine temples to Harvey A. Beffa, past Imperial Potentate and board chairman of the hospitals, to commemorate the Shrine's 100th anniversary "Shrinetennial."

It was the largest, but by no means the only check presented for the Shriners' main philanthropy. Officials estimate that contributions to be presented this week will total between $1 million and $2 million.

The Shriners operate 22 hospitals for crippled children, including 13 burn institutes, in various parts of North America.

The four Potentates presenting the big check were A. DeLeon Gray, Sudan Temple, New Bern, N.C.; Joseph J. Gillis, Omar Temple, Charleston, S.C.; Robert C. Lake Jr., Hejaz Temple, Greenville, S.C.; and Walter J. Black Sr., Oasis Temple, Charlotte, N.C.

The Shrinetennial meeting, the 98th Imperial Council session of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has brought to Dallas 100,000 Shriners from every part of North America. Represented are 176 temples.

James N. McMahon of Moslah Temple, Fort Worth, was elected president of the Shrine Chanters Association of North America today. Other officers named include H. Deacon Russell of Murat Temple, Indianapolis, first vice president; Harold T. Gerlach of Ismullia Temple, Buffalo, N.Y., second vice president; Dean Chuxton of Orak Temple, Hammond, Ind., third vice president; R. Curtis Williams of Khedive Temple, Norfolk, Va., secretary, and H. Nelson Holgate Sr. of Medinah Temple, Chicago, treasurer.

The Shriners will install their new Imperial Divan of officers at a public ceremony Friday morning.

Henry B. Struby of Hadi Temple, Evansville, Ind., will succeed C. Victor Thornton of Moslah Temple as Imperial Potentate.

Newest member of the Imperial Divan, elected Thursday, is Randolph R. Thomas, past Potentate of Morocco Temple, Jacksonville, Fla., who was elected Imperial Outer Guard.

The Shrine traditionally elects each year one of its members to the lowest rung on the official ladder and each year advances him until he becomes Imperial Potentate.

Man Gets 90 Years

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A Waco jury has assessed a 90 year prison sentence against Willard G. Christopher, who pleaded guilty to the slaying of Malone City Marshal Milton Boortz.

According to police, Christopher admitted he was the one who shot Boortz, 32, after a car containing three men was curbed by the marshal following a liquor store holdup.

Boortz and Fred Beall of the Department of Public Safety followed the car after one man emerged from a liquor store. The officers did not know that the Little Herman's Package Store had been robbed of $600.

Christopher once escaped from the Hillsboro jail but was recaptured in Houston.

Also accused in the slaying are Benny Walker, 22, of Dallas and James W. Hughes, 31, both of whom have yet to be tried.

Doors Closed On Probe

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal grand jury that was empaneled in May will go behind closed doors again next month to resume an apparent probe in connection with George B. Parr, once the political kingpin of four South Texas counties.

The longtime Duval County political boss apparently has not appeared before the panel, which heard testimony from at least eight witnesses Tuesday and Wednesday.

Two bank officials and a school board president from San Diego, Tex., in Duval County were among those testifying Wednesday before the grand jury was released.

The panel was instructed to return here Aug. 8.

One witness scheduled to appear at the August session is D. C. Chapa, president of both the Benavides, Tex., School Board and the Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District.

Although grand jury proceedings are secret, court records indicate the probe involves Parr, long known as the "Duke of Duval," and other persons.

The investigation evidently began in the spring.

One of the witnesses appearing Tuesday was granted immunity. She was Laura Taylor, identified as a sister of Bryan Taylor, school superintendent at San Diego.

The grand jury called at least four witnesses Wednesday, including B. O. Goldthorn, an officer of the First State Bank of San Diego, and Karl Williams, an official of the bank.

Also testifying were Dan Tobin, identified as president of the San Diego School Board, and Leo Sepulveda of San Diego, office manager of the Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District. Both also testified Tuesday.

Last week, the government won court permission to examine fully the records of the San Diego Bank in connection with the San Diego and Benavides school districts and the Duval County Conservation District for 1966-69.

Mrs. Estes Urges Vote For Nixon

DALLAS (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Sen. George McGovern is going to revitalize the party by having much more grass participation than ever before, his top Texas campaigner says.

Mrs. Sue Horn Estes, of Arlington, Texas coordinator for McGovern, says that conservative Texas Democrats may be making a big mistake if they don't back the South Dakota senator.

"If they are not careful they may find themselves sitting on the outside looking in," said Mrs. Estes. "I'm not saying this is a threat. I'm saying if they don't participate they may find they have lost whatever power they have."

Mrs. Estes served as a McGovern floor leader at the Democratic National Convention. She speculated that McGovern's Texas campaign will be "low keyed because George McGovern is a low-keyed kind of person."

"It will be McGovern talking to people on the street and not this flashy Madison Avenue stuff. It's really going to be a different kind of campaign for Texas."

She said she did not know how many trips, if any, McGovern will make to Texas during the campaign.

Fischer's Demands Rejected

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — The Icelandic Chess Federation rejected a list of 13 demands from Bobby Fischer today, raising the possibility of a new hitch in the world chess championship match.

Fischer and Boris Spassky, the Soviet world champion, were scheduled to play their fifth game at 1 p.m. EDT today. The score is now 2½-1½ in Spassky's favor, the fourth match Tuesday having ended in a draw.

Gudmundur Thorarinsson, president of the host federation, said Fischer delivered his list of new demands Wednesday night. He said they had "not been met."

Thorarinsson said the American challenger, who is a late riser, was still asleep and had not been told of the refusal.

The Rev. William Lombardy, Fischer's second, said he could not say whether Thorarinsson's refusal would jeopardize the game today.

Although many of Fischer's demands were trivial, such as exclusive use of the swimming pool at his hotel, he also asked for "written authority to have film cameras removed from the playing hall" if they disturbed him.

Fischer objected during the first game to the three cameras that were to film the match for American promoter Chester Fox. He boycotted the second game because the chess federation would not order them removed. No filming was permitted for the third and fourth games, and Fox has said he would not let his contract for movie and TV rights jeopardize the match if Fischer persisted in his opposition.

Lothar Schmid, the West German referee of the match, said the organizers of the match would do all they could to meet the American's demands.

"But under the rules," Schmid added, "if he had objections, he had to present them to me within six hours after the last game. He did not do this."

Sophia Named Macaroni Woman

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Actress Sophia Loren has been named "Macaroni Woman of the Year."

Robert M. Green, executive secretary of the National Macaroni Manufacturers Association, told the group's 66th annual convention Wednesday that the Italian actress is a dazzling representative of women who eat macaroni.

Connally Talks 'Beef'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John Connally talked beef while he sold cattle here Wednesday, predicting Americans can expect high beef prices for the next two years.

The former Texas governor said he foresees high prices because there is a demand for beef, wages are high and people are putting their money in savings.

"The same thing is happening in the rest of the world," said Connally, who completed a 15-nation tour at President Nixon's request last week.

Visiting San Antonio's Union Stock Yards to sell cattle for the second time this week, Connally told a newsman that "from what I hear, there is a world wide shortage of beef caused by increased demand."

He said the decision to lift import quotas on beef entering the United States probably will not result in any significant increase in the amount of imports because foreign beef is not available, for one reason.

Also, he said, the European Common Market and the United Kingdom offer markets that are as attractive or even better.

On another subject, Connally said he does not expect any rigid price controls over farm products in the near future. However, he pointed out that anything was possible in that respect.

The only Democrat in President Nixon's Cabinet until he resigned recently, Connally visited the stock yards to watch the sale of 182 cattle from his ranch at nearby Floresville. He also came to the yards Monday to sell cattle.

Connally said he believes there will be some fluctuations in beef prices, but added:

"I believe we're looking at strong prices for the next two years."

Liger Dies At 120

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The world's only know liger — half lion, half tiger — died Wednesday at the remarkable age of 120.

Shasta, the rare female feline, apparently was a victim of kidney problems and arthritis.

"She helped build the zoo into a popular attraction because visitors would come from all parts of the United States and foreign countries to see this rare animal," said LaMar Farnsworth, director of Hogle Zoo.

He said that since lions and tigers usually live to be only 13 to 15 years old, Shasta's age was the equivalent of 120 years in humans.

Shasta had been the key attraction at the zoo since her birth May 6, 1948.

Farnsworth said the offspring of a male African lion and a Bengal tigress had been taken off display because of poor health. Shasta had weighed more than 300 pounds but was down to 90 when she died.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q. My mother-in-law receives Social Security benefit payments. Will this have any effect on whether I can claim her as a dependent next year?

A. Yes. Although the Social Security benefits are not taxable to her, they must be included in determining the amount of support she furnished herself if the benefits were spent on support items, such as food, lodging, clothing, medical care, etc. She must meet the other dependency tests and you must have furnished over half of her total support. Thus, if the Social Security benefits were the only support furnished by your mother-in-law or anyone else, you must have spent more than that amount on her support in order to claim her as a dependent.

Q. I know that I am entitled to a deduction of up to $400 a month for the expenses of child care services performed in my household while I am out working. But would I still get a deduction if I paid a neighbor to take care of my children in her own home?

A. Yes. Expenses incurred outside the taxpayer's household for the care of dependents who are under 15 are deductible to the extent the expenses in any one month do not exceed: $200 in case of one such individual; $300 in the case of two; and $400 in the case of three or more. Of course, the expenses are deductible only if they enable the taxpayer to be gainfully employed.

For more information on the deduction for household and dependent care expenses, see IRS Publication 553, "Highlights of 1971 Changes in the Tax Law." It's available free by dropping a postcard to your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. I'm planning to sell my house next fall. Does the IRS have any publications on the tax effects of selling my home?

A. Yes. Write your Internal Revenue district office and ask for a free copy of IRS Publication 523, "Tax Information on Selling Your Home". This booklet will tell you how to report gain or loss on the sale of your residence and under what conditions you may be able to postpone the tax on any profit from the sale.

Q. I take and develop photographs as a hobby and occasionally earn some money from it. I know I have to report the income but may I deduct the expenses of my photographic hobby?

A. From your hobby income, you may deduct items that are ordinarily deductible, whether incurred in a business or nonbusiness activity. Examples of such expenses are interest and taxes. Under proposed rules, if your income still exceeds these expenses, you may deduct other related expenses from the excess income in the following order: 1. other business expenses that do not involve adjustments to the basis of property; and 2. depreciation and other such deductions that involve adjustments to the basis of property.

In the event that your expenses for taxes and interest exceed the hobby income, that excess may be deducted on Schedule A if you itemize deductions. Losses sustained in pursuing the hobby are not deductible.

Clark For Nixon, Tower

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former ambassador to Australia Ed Clark, who refers to himself as a "Lyndon Johnson Democrat," says he is supporting the re-election campaigns of Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and President Richard Nixon.

Clark, who says he has voted solidly Democratic since 1928 and has been friends with Johnson since 1934, told a news conference Wednesday he will vote for Democrats this year—except in the Senate and presidential races.

An Austin lawyer, Clark said, "the whole McGovern fringe which has taken over the national party has left most sincere Texas Democrats no other place to go in the national elections."

He said he had known Tower since he was born and he is putting together a statewide group of Democrats for Tower at the senator's request.

Clark was ambassador to Australia from 1965 to 1968 on appointment of Johnson. He later was executive director of the Inter-American Development Bank in Washington, D.C.

Cairo And Moscow Are Bickering Again

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Cairo and Moscow have feuded bitterly in the past and now they're bickering again. This time it could mean that chances for a dangerous new Middle East explosion have been lessened.

Egypt's President Anwar Sadat has said the trouble with Moscow is that it wants neither war nor peace in the sensitive, strategic area. Sadat professes to find this intolerable. He had promised the Arabs that they would see victory over Israel in 1971, had seen that deadline go by and had set a new one for April 1973.

Sadat now finds it expedient to bow to home pressures from those who distrust the Russians. He has told the Russian military advisers and technicians to go home. What happens now to Sadat's dream of Jihad — holy war — against the most hated enemy? His expulsion of the Russians suggests he has scant hope of their encouragement in any such venture.

The Soviet-Egyptian alliance often has seemed a quarrelsome, unhappy union, but it was a marriage of convenience and neither side had been in a position to call it quits. The Egyptians have been feuding with their Soviet benefactors, off and on, ever since Moscow thrust a military boot in the Middle East door 17 years ago.

The Arabs welcomed Soviet aid but never trusted Soviet communism.

The Soviet arms deal with Gamal Abdel Nasser in 1955 was the prelude to a series of crises in the area, beginning with Suez in 1956 and continuing into mid-1958.

Despite significant Soviet military and economic aid to Egypt, Nasser became deeply suspicious of Moscow in 1958 when the Russians indicated displeasure at Egypt's merger with Syria in the United Arab Republic. When the union fell apart in 1961, Nasser gave Soviet and Communist sabotage a large share of the blame. That summer, as Nasser cracked down on local Communists, a propaganda war raged between Cairo and Moscow.

But Moscow smoothed over that feud, stepped up shipments of war material to Egypt, went ahead with building the first stage of the Aswan High Dam and undertook other economic aid.

In June 1967, the six-day war with Israel erupted. Egypt and the Arabs were humiliated. Israel occupied huge chunks of Egyptian and Arab territory. Billions of dollars worth of Soviet equipment was down the drain.

Moscow rearmed Egypt but this time seemed interested in having a measure of veto power over how — or whether — Egypt would use the arms. In 1970, swarms of Soviet advisers arrived in Egypt.

Nasser died that September, and Sadat succeeded him. Soon the Egyptian-Soviet alliance came under another strain.

Flood City Has Renewal Spirit

By GERALD STORCH
Associated Press Writer

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The dust, the dirt, the filth are still everywhere.

Walk in any low-lying area of this hilly city of 60,000, and you get a choice — depending on whether it's dry or raining — between becoming engulfed with dust that mixes with sweat and pastes clothing to skin, or being slopped with mud.

A full month after one-third of this eastern Pennsylvania city was inundated by floodwaters from tropical storm Agnes, the community retains the appearance of a disaster area.

Lawns, sidewalks, shrubs, walls and just about anything else left standing are blanketed with a coat of tannish grime, the residue of 20-foot flooding by the Susquehanna River.

In the city's well-to-do residential section along Riverside Drive, homes lie scattered. One house sits in the middle of a street, swept there by the waters. Others tilt precariously, their foundations and plumbing innards exposed.

The hub of downtown, a grassy diagonal known as Public Square, is filled with information trailers and Salvation Army food trucks. Of some 50 retail establishments that surround the square, just two — a newsstand and a drug store — have reopened. Heaps of boards, rubble and slime adorn the curbsides.

No doubt about it, Wilkes-Barre looks awful.

And yet ... amidst all this, a bustling spirit of renewal is undeniably in evidence.

A lot of the city's dirt, for example, is encrusted on the arms and faces of people who have determinedly shoveled four to six inches of mud from their floors.

You see the spirit of renewal in the eyes of people like 81-year-old William Jayne, hosing down an old American flag that was defaced when three feet of water lapped into his second floor bedroom on the flood night of June 23.

You see it as well on scores of homes and stores bearing signs that vow, "Rebuild We Will."

Indeed, Nicholas H. Souchik, Luzerne County's executive director for civil defense, says the flood-stricken sections of the city are now 70 to 75 per cent back onto their feet.

"Not as nice as before," he remarks, "but we're recovering."

Souchik gave this status report:

HOMELESS—The biggest problem. Temporary Red Cross shelters are accommodating about 2,300 persons, with perhaps double that number staying with relatives.

ELECTRICITY—Restored to about 25 per cent of flooded homes.

TELEPHONES—About 75 per cent back.

WATER—Some reports of low pressure, but otherwise not a major problem.

SEWAGE TREATMENT—Still completely out. Sewage is going straight into the river. But tons of mud have been removed from the city's treatment plant, and it should be operable in another 30 days.

Kissinger Encouraged By Talks

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger, back from his 14th private session in Paris with Hanoi negotiators, apparently feels encouraged to hold more talks.

Kissinger, who met with the North Vietnamese in the French capital for six and one-half hours, returned Wednesday night to Andrews Air Force Base, and drove straight to the White House to report to President Nixon.

That Kissinger found some grounds for at least modest optimism was suggested by White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

"Further meetings will be announced as they are held," said Ziegler, indicating Kissinger envisioned further Paris sessions.

The president's assistant for national security affairs left for Paris Tuesday but his mission was announced a day later.

Wednesday's meeting was a long one—perhaps further evidence that the negotiations were taking a serious turn.

Sitting down with Kissinger were Le Duc Tho, a leading member of North Vietnam's politburo, and Xuan Thuy, Hanoi's chief negotiator at the more formal peace talks that were resumed last Thursday after having been suspended more than two months.

Kissinger's meeting with the North Vietnamese was his first since the United States broke off formal talks in early May. Within days, the United States mined the harbors of North Vietnam.

Before going to Paris, Kissinger told reporters he saw some reason to believe that Hanoi might be willing to take a new approach to the peace negotiations.

Kissinger said at the time the United States would prefer to reach an agreement that would halt military activities in Indochina, leaving ultimate political solutions to be negotiated by the Vietnamese themselves.

Funds Set For Freeway Facelift

HOUSTON (AP) — The new manager of Houston's freeway design and construction says the Texas Highway Department has received informal word that almost $25 million in federal funds will be available for a major facelifting of the Gulf Freeway.

Bill Ward said the project approval came after many years of convincing the Federal Highway Administration that renovation is needed.

The $27 million project would be 90 per cent funded through the Highway Trust Fund.

It would widen the most congested area of the freeway between downtown and Gulfate to eight lanes and widen the median and emergency areas.

8 Killed In Week's Action

SAIGON (AP) — American casualties in the Vietnam war last week included eight killed in action, five dead from nonhostile causes, 14 missing or captured and 26 wounded, the U.S. Command announced in its weekly summary today.

This compares to four killed the previous week, five missing and 18 wounded. But officers said the increase was not necessarily significant because the totals included delayed reports from previous weeks and changes in status from missing to dead.

South Vietnamese losses were put at 837 killed, compared to 661 for the previous week, and 2,367 wounded, compared to 2,585. The number of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed dropped from 3,320 to 2,871.
