Plane Flights Are Halted; Highway Travel Dangerous

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

Warnings to avoid highway travel and to protect livestock and other property were given today as winter's latest attack on the South Plains lowered the temperature to a minimum of 11 degrees, and resulted in forecasts that below-freezing temperatures will continue until almost Friday noon.

Minimum forecast for Thursday morning by the U. S. weather bureau station is zero to five degrees.

The Texas Highway patrol and the United States weather bureau joined in cautions to motorists, who were advised that not only are highways iced over and slick, but occasional blizzard conditions northward give rise to additional dangers.

Would Risk Freezing

The motorist encountering blizzard conditions occurring at intervals further northward as result of blinding snow, strong wind and low temperatures would be unable to drive and would risk freezing unless a car heater could be kept in operation, the weather station pointed out.

GAS SAVING URGED

Hoping to avert more serious gas conservation measures, the West Texas Gas Co. this morning issued requests to all gas users to "please use less gas now."

The company asked that users shut off and do not heat some of their rooms; keep temperatures only high enough to avoid hardship; not use the ovens in their kitchen ranges for heating; pull window shades down at night; (times when wind is blowing (that will help conserve gas); do no more cooking than really necessary, using as many prepared foods as possible; use only one range burner; postpone laundry work and hot baths a day or two until the weather moderates; not waste hot water by letting the tap run or otherwise.

Conditions in other directions also were described as hazardous.

Capt. E. L. Posey, commander of the Lubbock district of the Texas Highway patrol, had received information highways are covered with ice in every direction from Lubbock. They were iced over as far away as Big Spring, Abilene, Wichita Falls and Vernon and those immediately around Amarillo were covered with two inches of snow and ice.

Livestock Warning

The weather bureau issued a livestock warning. "Protect livestock and other property to withstand zero temperatures" was the advice given.

Airline flights were halted because of icy runways, low visibility and low ceiling and if conditions cleared sufficiently this afternoon for a flight to come in, it was expected to be only briefly.

Temperature this afternoon was expected to hover around 12 degrees, the weatner station forecast. Temperature Thursday is not expected to go above 20 degrees, the forecast stated.

Minimum 11 Here

This morning's minimum of 11 degrees was recorded at 11:30 a. m. The temperature was 12 degrees an hour later.

The anemometer, wind speed indicator, at the weather bureau was not in use because of ice which kept the wind from turning the cups in the piece of equipment and the weather bureau was estimating wind velocity at 26 miles per hour early this afternoon. A new anemometer is expected soon.

To Be Colder Tonight

Mostly cloudy with occasional freezing rain or snow and slightly colder today and tonight was the forecast for Lubbock and immediate vicinity given by Leo W. Weaver, official in charge of the weather station. Cloudy to partly cloudy with not much change in temperature was forecast for Thursday and there was a "slight chance" the sun would shine Thursday afternoon.

Highways are even more dangerous for travel than city streets on which cars were skidding this

Vets To Oppose MacArthur

McGrath Turns Party's Back On Wallace In Hot Criticism

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national committee chairman, last night turned his party's back on Henry Wallace.

Carroll Reece, Republican national committee chairman, speaking with McGrath at the Philadelphia Bulletin forum, said that the "Republican party is a united party. It has no Moscow wing."

Victory Is Predicted

Predicting that "a united Democratic party" would win the November general election, McGrath sharply criticized what he termed "the impractical liberalism" of Wallace.

"A Henry Wallace can condemn the bi-partisan foreign policy and offer nothing more than abject appeasement to the forces of Godless Communism," McGrath said.

"A Henry Wallace can condone the enslavement of a Hungary and a Czechoslovakia, rationalizing the loss of a nation's liberty by a series of words that mean nothing."

Can Deny Facts

"No party bearing the real responsibility of government can flout the national conscience so glibly, can excuse a foreign power so meekly, can abuse it so completely before an alien ideology.

"A Henry Wallace," said McGrath, "can deny the facts of history. He can deny responsibility on the one hand and lay it upon the Democratic party with the other."

Declaring that the United States "must have a united party in control of our government if we are to have a United Nation," Reece said:

Never Been Tainted

"The Republican party has never been tainted by radicalism, as exemplified in Russia today, which makes the individual the slave of the state.

"The Republican party is a united party. It has no Moscow wing. It has no radical wing. It has no Pendergast wing. It has no Jim Crow wing."

The Republican party, said Reece, is determined to reduce taxes, and "despite the reverses sustained last year because of an outrageous misuse of the executive veto, I predict that there will be a substantial reduction in taxes this year."

Will Not Backtrack

McGrath indicated that President Truman had no intention of back-tracking in his civil rights program when he remarked pointedly that Mr. Truman would be returned to the White House in 1948 by voters of "every race, creed and color."

The Rhode Island senator laid the responsibility for inflation in the laps of the Republican majority, declaring:

"Instead of facing the facts they proceeded to speculate in the political future market. They sent the President a completely inadequate bill."

House Group Refuses To Kill Rent Control

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The House Banking committee today rejected a motion to kill all rent control at the end of this month.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) then predicted the committee will approve tomorrow legislation extending the rent law for at least a year. Other committee sources indicated the group will accept the Senate measure to continue controls to' May 1, 1949.

The vote on the motion to kill the controls March 31 was taken behind closed doors and only the result was announced.

German Communists Form New Regime

BERLIN, March 10. (U.P.)—Top German Communists in the Soviet zone met yesterday and formed a new German government called an economic commission, the official Russian news agency ADN said today.

Heinrich Rau, a veteran Communist, was named head of the commission. Four deputies also were named.

The new commission immediately dissolved the central administration of the former zonal governing body and incorporated its functions into the economic commission.

Heroic Mother Rescues Two Children But Loses Own Life In Attic Flames

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 10 (U.P.)—A heroic mother saved two of her three children but lost her own life in a fire that swept the tiny attic apartment she turned to for shelter after a series of evictions.

Mrs. Evelyn McCune, 26, died last night along with her youngest child, Dennis, 2. Sharon, 4, and Wayne, 3, were in serious condition from burns.

The young mother was downstairs when the fire broke out. She raced to the rescue and tossed the three children out an attic window into the arms of on-lookers.

Dennis was burned too badly to survive and the mother also incurred fatal burns before firemen reached her on a porch roof, where she was found holding the family dog in her arms.

PALESTINE AGREEMENT CRUMBLES

New Battle Flares On Partition Plan

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, March 10.—The much-heralded U. S.-Russian agreement on Palestine partition appeared today to be crumbling.

A battle of words outside United Nations chambers yesterday spotlighted their current differences over the political future of the Holy Land. It was the sharpest split on the issue between the two powers since last November when they pushed the partition plan through the U. N. assembly.

Core Of Dispute

The core of the verbal tussle was American insistence on bringing the Arabs, bitter foes of partition, into United Nations consultations. So far the Arabs have boycotted every discussion of the splitup scheme. The Jews accept the plan to create Jewish and Arab nations by next Oct. 1.

The Jews oppose overtures to the Arabs. Russia has termed the moves worthless in view of past failures at conciliation.

A high Soviet source told newsmen yesterday the United States appears to favor re-opening the partition plan.

"Some persons seem to be resistant about carrying out the assembly decision," he said tartly.

Replies Directly

Several hours later Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, took the unusual diplomatic step of replying directly to the remarks of the spokesman. Presumably, Austin's statement carried Washington's approval.

"I regret that the Soviet spokesman has sought to pre-judge the issues before the process of consultation has gotten under way," Austin said in a special statement read to newsmen by an American press officer. Adding that he was

Airman Urges Aid For China

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault told the House foreign affairs committee today that military aid to China would help stop "Russian aggression" in Europe.

The former commander of the "Flying Tigers" said failure to provide aid for China "will inevitably set the stage for World war III."

A Volunteer Force

The "Flying Tigers" were a volunteer force of fliers, mostly American, who fought with China against Japan before Pearl Harbor.

At 57, Chennault is retired from the army and heads a commercial aviation concern in China He flew here to testify at the committee's hearings on the administration's request that Congress vote $570,000,000 for aid to China.

Chennault's 25-year-old Chinese wife accompanied him to the hearing.

Chennault argued:

"China's enormous population could furnish almost unlimited manpower for military operations if properly trained, equipped and supplied. At least the fact that they could not be dominated and trained as slave labor by Russian masters would be of utmost value to us as an asset.

"When these facts are considered and given proper weight as strategical factors in any future war, it is not difficult to understand why Russia would not voluntarily launch an offensive in Europe so long as China remains un-communized. Nor should it be hard to understand why a third world war is improbable if China remains our friend and ally."

Heiress Seeks $100 To Pay Traffic Fine

LOS ANGELES, March 10 (U.P.)—Beulah Louise Overell, 18-year-old heiress to a half million dollar fortune, today tried to dig up $100 to pay a hit-run driving fine.

Miss Overell said she was broke when she pleaded guilty yesterday. But she must pay by tomorrow or go to jail for 10 days.

She drove away from a minor collision shortly after she was acquitted on charges of murdering her parents.

Reds Claim Poison Food Fed To Japs

LONDON, March 10 (U.P.)—Moscow radio charged today that thousands of Japanese have been poisoned by imported American soya bean flour.

The broadcast quoted a Tass agency dispatch from Tokyo which attributed to Japanese newspapers a report that "over 2,000 persons in Tokyo have died as a result of poisoning with American food."

The broadcast said that 23,000 tons of "poisoned flour" are stored in Japanese warehouses.

Ex-Gls Pledge Their Support For Campaign

Group Seeking To Put Damper Upon General's Boom

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, March 10. — Eight veterans announced today that they had formed an organization to oppose the nomination of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for President.

Paul Berger, spokesman for the group, said veterans here and in other cities had been contacted and the "plan is snowballing."

He said "at least 500 former servicemen" had pledged their support within a few hours after the veterans established the organization which will be known as "Veterans Against Mac Arthur."

Aloofness Is Scored

Berger said the group opposed Mac Arthur because "o his general aloofness from the people, his use of violence in 1932 to halt the veterans' march in Washington, his censorship of the press in Japan, and the evidence thi. gives of his anti-Democratic leanings."

He said the VAM "Stands for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in his condemnation of military men who seek public office on the basis of military achievement rather than civilian qualifications."

"We feel that MacArthur will undoubtedly engineer the biggest stampede in Republican party history by a timely 'I-have-returned' arrival shortly before the GOP national conveniton in June," Berger said.

Put Damper On Boom

"We want to put a damper on such a boom."

Berger is 24 and a veteran of the 97th infantry division which fought in Europe and then was transferred to occupation duty in Japan.

He and the other seven founders of the VAM are bachelors who live together in a house they have rented on Chicago's south side. Five are graduate students at the University of Chicago. The other three are employed in the advertising business. All are army veterans.

"None of us have had any previous political experience," Berger said.

Set Up Spontaneously

"Our organization was set up sort of spontaneously. We were talking about Mac Arthur's announcement and somebody said there ought to be a group through

South Wins Round In Poll Tax Fight

WASHINGTON, March 10. (U.P.)—The Senate rules committee, yielding to demands from southern senators and governors, agreed today to defer action on an anti-poll tax bill until after public hearings.

The anti-poll tax bill is one of President Truman's civil rights proposals that have kicked up a full-blown rebellion inside the Democratic party.

Committee Chairman C. Wayland Brooks, R., Ill., said he wanted to emphasize that the decision to hold hearings did not represent a reversal of the subcommittee's approval of the bill. He said it was decided to grant hearings as a result of th request, made after the subcommittee's action.

False Testimony In Federal Trial Sought

Ex-GI Chauffeur Claims Gen. Meyers Offered $2,000 Bribe

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—Calvin Mettee, former G. I. chauffeur of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, testified today that Meyers offered him $2,000 to give false testimony at the general's present federal court trial.

Meyers is being tried on charges of inducing Bleriot H. Lamarre, a former business associate, to lie at the Senate investigation last fall about the general's wartime profits from a plane parts firm.

Meyers is former No. 2 purchasing agent for the army air forces.

Mettee, now a civilian student at Ohio State university, said Meyers paid $100 travel expenses for him to leave school last fall and go to the general's home at Huntington, N. Y.

There, Mettee related to the jury, Meyers coached him to tell investigators that a $3,000 blue Cadillac automobile was a "gift" from the Aviation Electric company, a Dayton, O., plane parts firm.

Lamarre has testified that he was "dummy president" of Aviation Electric but that Meyers actually owned the concern. Lamarre also has said Meyers drew

Stassen Grabs Two Votes In Tuesday Test

Dewey Wins Six; Wisconsin Holds Future Interest

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10. — New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey showed today he still packs a potent political punch by capturing six of eight presidential delegate votes in New Hampshire.

But by taking the remaining two in yesterday's first 1948 primary, former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota kept himself in the thick of the race for the Republican nomination.

Regarded As Standoff

Politicians thus regarded the New England result as pretty much of a standoff. They turned their eyes westward for the next battle—Wisconsin's April 6 primary.

There Dewey and Stassen take on Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who will be testing for the first time his appeal as a positive candidate.

The New Hampshire race long had been billed by Dewey supporters as an indicator of the New Yorker's strength in New England. Gov. Charles M. Dale, one of the six Dewey-pledged delegates elected, labeled the outcome a "flattering tribute" to the governor.

They Are Satisfied

Stassen's supporters on the other hand insisted they were well satisfied with collecting two Philadelphia convention ballots in an area where the middlewesterners was little known in 1944, when Dewey won the party nomination.

They had, however, claimed as many as five places as the campaign drew to a close.

Stassen made three personal, hand-shaking tours of the state, the last one only a week ago.

Dewey put in no recent appearance but depended on a norganization headed by Dale.

Notice Served On Taft

One result of the New England primary was to serve notice on Senator Robert A. Taft that Stassen is to be reckoned with in the May 4 primary in the Ohio senator's home state. The Minnesotan has announced plans to go after

Court Upholds Civil Service

FORT WORTH, March 10. (U.P.)—District Judge Bob Young today upheld the constitutionality of the civil service law passed by the last legislature affecting all cities in Texas of more than 10,000 population.

Fort Worth City Attorney R. E. Rouer said the 48th district court decision would be appealed.

The city had brought suit against the Fort Worth fire and police departments in an effort to have the law declared unconstitutional. Young took the case under advisement after a hearing last Thursday.

Rouer said the case would be taken to the second court of civil appeals in Fort Worth, and if the decision is not reversed in that court, it will be appealed to the state supreme court.

One Provision Cited

Young ruled that the law, calling for local elecitons in cities over 10,000 population to decide whether a civil service system shall be set up, is constitutional except for one provision. That provision allows decisions of civil service boards to be appealed to district courts.

One of the strongest objections put forth by the city was that the law transferred control of fire and police department employes from the city council to district court. It also had been charged that the state legislation unlawfully made changes in city charters.

Tax Relief Urged By Stock Exchange Head

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—President Emil Schram of the New York Stock exchange asked Congress today for prompt tax relief for business.

Reporting an "alarming shortage" of funds for investment, Schram said stock exchange trading is down 22 per cent from last year.

His statement was prepared for the Senate Finance committee, now winding up its hearings on the House-passed bill to cut income taxes $6,500,000,000.

Jan Masaryk Kills Himself

Foreign Minister Leaps To His Death From Third Floor Window Of Office

(By The Associated Press)

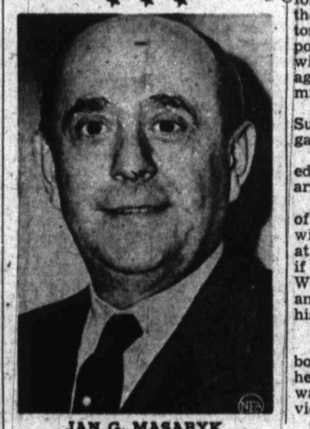

PRAGUE, March 10—Jan Masaryk, non-party foreign minister in the new Communist government, killed himself today in a leap from his third story office, the government announced. He was 61.

(Gen. Lev. Prchala, a Czech resistance leader in London, commented: "Suicide? It is possible.")

Masaryk was the son of Thomas Masaryk, founder and first president of the republic. His death took from the Communists the use of the distinguished name. The controlled radio said Masaryk "must have been seriously aggrieved and wounded by the malicious, tendentious attacks made upon him by the western press."

Officials of the foreign ministry, after a period of reluctance to confirm the report, finally announced Masaryk had died at 8 a. m. The government broadcast at noon officially announced the death. It followed the announcement with the solemn requiem music of Anton Dvorak, the great Czech composer. The government delayed without explanation foreign news agency telegraph circuits for 30 minutes.

ANOTHER TAP IN TEXAS FIELDS

New Gas Line To East Is Proposed

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, March 10.—Texas Eastern Transmission corporation is planning to construct, at a cost of approximately $152,131,000, a new pipe line parallel to its big inch to bring natural gas from the southwest to distributing companies on the eastern seabord and Apalachian area, it was revealed today.

In an application to the Federal power commission for permission to construct and operate the line, Texas said the 26-inch line, which would be larger than the big inch, would be designed to deliver 425,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Of this amount 39,000,000 cubic feet a day would be sold in the Appalachian area and 386,000,000 cubic feet would be delivered for use in the eastern seaboard area.

1,020 Miles Along Big Inch

The proposed line would run 1,020 miles over the big inch right of way to a point about 20 miles east of Wind Ridge, Pa. At that point, it would tie in with the existing big and big little inch lines to carry natural gas to Philadelphia and Linden, N. J., where extensions could be run to the eastern seaboard areas.

In addition, the corporation proposed to construct about 400 miles of 26-inch pipe from Longview, Texas, to gather natural gas at sources of supply; to construct 25 gas compressor stations with an aggregate installed horsepower of 244,840 on the 26-inch line at the present existing compressor station sites of the big inch; and five compressor stations with horsepower of 69,900 on the inch lines between Wind Ridge and Linden and Philadelphia.

Estimated Delivery

The corporation estimated that expected delivery of natural gas through the new line would be about 147,369,000,000 cubic feet a year. It also estimated that these new facilities, together with proposed construction on the inch lines, would increase the eastern's

Search Staged For Hijackers

Three men who allegedly robbed three other men of approximately $300 early today near Littlefield and last were reported seen driving a blue 1946 or 1947 Chevrolet Fleetline automobile westward from Littlefield were sought this afternoon over the South Plains.

Lubbock police received a 2 a. m. report from the Lamb county sheriff's department, asking that a description of the suspects, all of whom were reported armed, be broadcast.

Descriptions Of Men

One of the men was described as 25 to 28 years old, approximately 5 feet 8 inches tall. There was no further description of him.

Another was described as about 40, approximately 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighing approximately 160 pounds. The lower part of his left ear was missing, and he was wearing a white hat. He was described as having dark complexion.

The third man was listed only as having blond hair and being approximately 28 years old.

Clues Are Given

Chief Dep. Sheriff P. W. Graham of Littlefield said this afternoon that investigation had given clues to possible identity of one of the bandits.

Graham said Kenneth Landrum and Onie Bennett, both about 35, and of Littlefield, were two of the victims. The other man, older, had not been named.

The men were in a cafe soon after midnight when two of the bandits entered. One acted drunkenly. Both asked that they be allowed a ride to Amherst.

Both Brandish Guns

A half mile outside Littlefield's limits, the "drunk" man became "sick." He asked that the car be stopped. When it was stopped, he jumped out, Graham said he was informed, and his companion remained in the car. Both brandished guns.

About that time, the third man drove up in a car. He too had a gun.

Landrum, disregarding commands, ran into a field and es-

U. S. Population Is Set At 145,340,000

WASHINGTON, March 10. (AP)—The United States population reached a new high of 145,340,000 at the start of this year after 1947 proved the biggest single year of growth in history.

The census bureau said today a record number of babies, 3,908,000 were born in 1947.

Continuance of a low death rate and a net immigration of about 215,000 persons also helped the net boost last year.

Lubbock Symphony Scores With Program Of Modern Selections

With Philip Williams of Dallas, violinist, as guest artist and William A. Harrod ruling the podium, Lubbock Symphony orchestra played a well-balanced and inspiring concert Tuesday night at Senior High school auditorium before the smallest audience to attend during the current series.

Inclement weather and conflicting engagements contributed to the cut in attendance but the orchestra has never played better, even if Director Harrod did deem it necessary to explain the reason for the major part of the program being in the modern field, rather than the classical. The musicians had only four rehearsals since the Alec Templeton concert and in so short a time would have been unable to master the work of the masters to suit the director, without being pushed to the point of exhaustion.

Shortly after intermission Conductor Harrod explained their position and said he hoped no one thought the orchestra was gradually reverting to popular music to such an extent that there would be dancing in the aisles.

The orchestra provided fine background for Violinist Williams in the second and third movements of Wieniakski's "Concerto No. 2 in D Minor," and he played with eloquent feeling and brought out dramatic values in this number and in his violin group played following intermission with Aaron Leifer at the piano. The accompanist played with crisply authoritative style and suave efficiency.

Violinist's Work Praised

Williams, who is head of the violin department at Southern Methodist university and who resumed his career after pursuing a course laid out by Uncle Sam for four years, is a top ranking musician. He gave a freshness in his interpretation of "The Flight of the Bumble Bee," Rimsky-Korsakoff that has been the butt of Jack Benny's jokes for too long; lent magic to the fragile "Beau Soir" by Debussy-Heifetz and received such a spontaneous ovation for Bennett's "Jamaician Rhumba" that he repeated it, since he seemed to enjoy playing the light and fast composition as much as his audience enjoyed hearing it. The ever loved "Caprice Viennois" was played with perfect fidelity to composer Fritz Kreisler and his concluding number was Figaro from "The Barber of Seville," which he explained in order for his listeners to watch for the various takeoffs on the opera participants.

The ever loved "Ave Maria" (Schubert) was given as an encore and Williams took several bows, acknowledging the presence of the orchestra seated behind him.

Audience Applauds Program

Judging from the applause that greeted the orchestral numbers, the audience felt that the program was well presented in satisfying proportions. The stringed section was lifted into inspired heights in the moving "Children's Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Haensel and Gretel" and Tschaikowsky's "Humoresque" and Boccherini's "Minuet" were played in appealing fashion.

Three familiar selecttions greeted the audience following intermission: "March Militaire" (Schubert), "Come Back to Sorrento," an Italian folk song that embraced an appealing trumpet solo played by Ted Crager, with the melody echoed by the entreating violins and "Jealousy," a tango by Gade that may have inspired a tap or two of feet throughout the hall.

Concluding selection was a selection from the prize-winning musical comedy of the current Broadway theater, "Finian's Rainbow," with the musicians winding through the appealing melodies, best known of which is "How Are Things in Glocca Morra."

Fifth and final concert of the 1947-48 session will be given April 20, with Frances DeMong, mezzo-soprano, as guest star.

Horticultural Group Holds Meeting Here

Explanation of a lawn fertilizing project and a demonstration of soil testing procedures highlighted a monthly meeting of the Lubbock Horticultural club held in the agriculture building at Texas Technological college Monday night.

Three vocational agriculture students, under direction of N. J. Robnett of Lubbock High school, presented an explanation of the lawn fertilizing project which they are carrying on as a part of their training in vocational agriculture. Following their talk, Robnett addressed the club members briefly on the project.

The second phase of the program consisted of a demonstration of soil testing procedures and an explanation of the limitations of those procedures, by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department at the college.

The horticultural club was organized in September for the purpose of providing an opportunity for men of Lubbock interested in the growing of trees, plants and shrubs to meet and discuss mutual problems and exchange information, Dr. Yocum, professor of plant industry at Texas Tech and president of the organization, said.

Approximately 30 members were present at the meeting. At the April meeting hydroponics, the soilless growth of plants will be discussed, Dr. Yocum stated.

Non-Stickable Stick Of Bubble Gum Gets The Nod; Rulers For Chewers Announced

BY HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Gum is a horrible word, but it's worse on the end of your nose. Particularly bubble gum, which is worse almost anyplace.

NICHOLS

So an outfit in Boston named Gum Products, Inc., got to thinking about it and dreamed up a new kind of chewing wax. A non-stickable stick of bubble gum. It won't get in the hair, eye, ears, nose or throat. And while he was at it, Thomas G Wilder, the gum vice president thought up a set of rules for chewing the stuff.

Tom Wilder got pretty sore about all of the nasty things people were saying about his product. Somebody wrote a song about "I'm Forever Blowing Bubble Gum." That was fine. But at a convention of dentists, one brash molar-yanker alleged that the constant blowing that goes into bubbles causes buck teeth. All of this sort of nonsense, stirred Tom up to the point where he issued a communique. Scoffed he:

"This is absurd. Everybody, including small children, knows that if you huffed and puffed hard enough to extend your teeth, you'd blow very puny bubbles."

All right. So our friend Tom went on from there. He mailed in a set of chewing rules. Viz:

1. Don't chew gum in church. And if you do, for heavens sake, don't blow it!
2. People dread it when you spread it. Keep it to yourself.
3. No parking in public places. Wrap it before you flip it.
4. Nobody likes a "stuck up" kid. Keep it off your face and hands.
5. Dirty paws make dirty jaws. Don't rubble the bubble.
6. Nobody swaps chewed-up potatoes. Why swamp chewed-up bubble gum?
7. Time out. There are 366 days this year, leap year. Don't chew your head off in one day.
8. Schools are the place to learn, not churn. Put stoppers on your choppers. Don't be the teacher's pest!
9. Don't gum up the works.

And He Is Worrying

Mr. Wilder is sitting there in Boston on his fat wallet and viewing with alarm. He understands that a lot of anti-bubble gum cliques have been organized and with that sort of across-the-land lobbying, he can see a fine industry going right out the window.

The gum man admitted he saw the possibility of constitutional amendment No. 22. If the kids don't take well to the etiquette of chewing bubble gum, Congress might get busy and pass some kind of a silly law.

"Kids," said Mr. Wilder in another prepared statement, "have got to start chewing bubble gum, instead of wearing it."

Amen, amen, amen amen!

And Congress, I love you. Get busy.

Texas Women Get Protests

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—The Texas Council of Church Women today felt two repercussions of its approval of six points of President Truman's civil rights program.

The women's auxiliary of St. Matthew's Episcopal cathedral here resigned from the council yesterday, saying the council had entered politics by its civil rights stand.

At Marshall Monday night, 400 women passed a resolution condemning the council's action. It said the council's approval "definitely places the church in politics."

Would Band Together

It called on Texas women "to band together unitedly against the prenicious idea of using the church in politics."

The Texas Council of Church women approved six points of the civil rights program at a meeting here last week.

Mrs. Georgie Starr Hart, Marshall clubwoman and member of the state Democratic executive committee, called the protest meeting at Marshall. The sole object, she said, was to keep the church out of politics.

Mrs. O. J. Van Valin of Dallas, president of the Episcopal cathedral auxiliary, said shortly after the state council meeting in Dallas members of the axuiliary began asking for a called meeting to protect the state council's civil rights action.

Thorough Check Of All Income Tax Returns Found Impossible

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Maybe you're wondering, with the income tax return deadline coming up March 15 on 1947 income:

1. Does the government really check every return?

2. How does the government find out when someone is cheating?

James Marlow

The answer is:

1. Every return is checked, at least to see that the arithmetic is all right and there's nothing obviously wrong or suspicious.

2. But only three out of every 100 returns are thoroughly checked.

And the bigger your return, the closer the look it gets from the Internal Revenue Bureau.

But how does the bureau pick those three-out-of-100 returns for a thorough check? In these ways:

Rings Like A Bell

1. In some cases there's something so wrong on the face of the return that it rings like a firebell.

2. The bureau gets a "tip" on a certain return to watch for it.

3. And those higher incomes get a closer going over.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has only about 45,000 employes who deal with income taxes. And that number includes:

Typists and other clerical help, plus investigators, agents and collectors, such as help you figure your tax when you go into a revenue bureau office.

With that number of employes it's impossible for the bureau to check every return thoroughly.

Explanation Is Made

Following is an explanation of the check made. The figures given are for the returns filed last year. They'll hold pretty true for the returns filed by March 15.

Last year 52,820,000 people filed a tax return on their 1946 income.

Of that number, 51,170,000 had income under $7,000. The bureau checked thoroughly 1.6 per cent. or 830,000.

Another 720,000 made between $7,000. The bureau thoroughly checked 16.7 per cent, or 120,000.

Another 730,000 made between $10,000 and $25,000. The bureau thoroughly checked 20.5 per cent, or 150,000.

Another 200,000 made $25,000 or more. The Bureau put its eagle eyes on them and checked 50 per cent, or 100,000.

When you add all the figures together it comes down to a thorough check on 2.3 percent — or 1,200,000 — of the 52,820,000 returns filed.

A thorough check also means an investigation.

Loss Heavy In Houston Fire

HOUSTON, March 10. (U.P.)—Only charred walls of a soap and fertilizer plant remained today after a three-alarm fire which caused $75,000 damage.

Fire Chief Roy Whittlesey and five firemen were injured in the blaze which lasted two hours late last night. Firemen were successful in preventing the fire from spreading to an adjoining structure and surrounding homes.

Records Are Saved

F. E. Lewis, president of the Mericham company, told investigators the fire started in the rear of the building where two employes were making soap.

Lewis and a bookkeeper, Irene Crosby, managed to save the company's records. Lewis said the same plant was destroyed in another three-alarm fire in September, 1946, causing $50,000 damages.

Chief Whittlesey was injured when several slivers of steel pierced his boot and entered his right foot. He was treated on the scene and returned to direct the 50 firefighters.

Could Cleopatra Drink a Pearl with Stomach Ulcer Pains?

An intriguing story of Cleopatra is the one where an admirer praised the beauty of two of her pearls, whereupon she dropped one into a glass of wine and drank it. Study Club Programs Based On History Of Texas, Books

Book reviews, talks by members and guests and parties were held by women's clubs of Lubbock Tuesday afternoon.

Guests of Athenaeum club at a Tuesday afternoon meeting held in the home of Mrs. T. A. Rogers, 3015 Twenty-fifth, were members of Slide Home Demonstration club and other women invited by each club member. The Slide club has been adopted as the sister organization of the Athenaeum club for the year.

Mrs. C. A. Bickley introduced John Lee Smith, former lieutenant governor of Texas, who traced the history of Texas from the time it was a part of the Republic of Mexico to the present time. Mr. Smith stated that "The geography of Texas reveals and imprint of the Mexican and Spanish history and architecture." He said also that Mexico wants our friendship and that children should be impressed with the idea that Mexicans are fit and worthy neighbors.

During a business session, Mrs. C. C. Coffee was chosen to represent the club as a model at the style show to be sponsored by City Federation of Women's clubs March 25.

Mrs. B. E. Needles presided at the refreshment table which was decorated in a scheme of pink and green, club colors.

TECH PROFESSOR IS SPEAKER

Suggestions for pruning and fertilizing were given by Dr. W. W. Yocum, professor of plant industry at Texas Technological college, when he spoke for Junior Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon at St. John's Methodist church. He told the group, also, that the Fall is the time to transplant and to set out shrubs.

A brief business session was conducted.

Hostesses at a tea hour which followed the program were Mesdames Charles A. Guy, William Evans, George Gray and Frank Ford.

LITERATURE TRENDS ARE DISCUSSED

For Twentieth Century club at First Presbyterian Fellowship hall, Mrs. Allan Carter discussed the trends of modern American literature, tracing the influences which brought about Romanticism, Realism and the present day Naturalism in literature and poetry. She closed her talk by reading Robert Lowell's Pulitzer prize winning poem.

Mrs. Carter was introduced by Mrs. M. C. Butler. Mrs. Leroy Patton presided and Mrs. Howard Hampton was program chairman.

Others attending were Mesdames J. C. Allensworth, A. G. Barsh, J. Ben Cole, jr., H. F. Godeke, James H. Goodman, J. H. Hankins, J. R. Jameson, J. I. Kilpatrick, John W. Lynch, Lee C. O'Neil, Roy Riddel and W. O. Stevens.

GUEST DOCTOR SPEAKS FOR CLUB

A guest, Dr. Joe Webb of Plainview, discussed "Vision" for Progressive Child Study club. He was introduced by Dr. C. M. Neel of Lubbock.

Hostesses at the meeting which was held at Talley Tea room were Mrs. E. C. Hattan and Mrs. Richard Walter.

Twenty-five members were present.

TEXAN'S BOOK IS REVIEWED

The book, "The Ring and The Cross," by a Texas author, Robert Rylee, was reviewed by Mrs. R. S. Williams at a meeting of Sorosis club held in the home of Mrs. T. C. Root, 2629 Twenty-second. Thirteen members and one guest, Mrs. Walter Chalk, attended.

Mrs. J. D. Peters presided at a business session, during which Mrs. Williams and Miss Mae Murfee were named delegates to the District Spring meeting of Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

The club will be represented in the March 25 style show of City Federation of Women's clubs by Mrs. R. T. Campbell.

PLAINS' HISTORY TOLD FOR GROUP

A paper, "Yesterday and Today on the Texas Plains," was presented by Mrs. Charles C. Watson, jr., when Clement-Sorosis Study club met with Mrs. J. D. Sanders, 2828 Twenty-fifth. Her material was taken from Dr. W. C. Holden's book, "Rollie Burns," and she spoke especially of the growth of Lubbock.

Mrs. Ralph Caldwell was cohostess and others attending were Mesdames Herbert Bannister, Vernon Bell, Jerry Brooks, J. D. Hinson, L. D. Marshall, Belverd Needles, Charles Spencer, Clarence Woods, H. J. Steinhoff and Lawrence Glenn.

WOMAN'S FORUM HEARS REVIEW

Meeting with Mrs. W. B. Rushing, 3214 Twentieth, Tuesday afternoon were members of Lubbock Woman's Forum. Appearing on program was Mrs. A. E. Dietering who reviewed "The Years of the Locust" by Loula Grace Erdman.

Mrs. Garland Newsom presided for business and a tea hour was held.

Hostesses with Mrs. Rushing were Mesdames Ray Livesay, Durward Mahon, Douglas Parker and W. A. Pettey.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Family Is Trying To Break Up Romance Between Forty-Year-Old Man And Lonely Divorcee

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Our eldest brother, who is 40, plans to marry a divorcee. We understand she divorced her husband to marry him.

She is in her early thirties and has a teen-age child. She seems like a lovely person. In fact, she is so very nice that if it weren't for the divorce we would be glad to have her in the family; but as it is, we are doing our best to break up the friendship.

Our parents, mother especially, refuse to meet her, but I have met her on several occasions and that's why I know she is nice.

Lately we have been inviting girl friends to our home for Tom's benefit and one in particular is very cooperative in making a play for him. She comes for dinner and spends the evenings. At first, Tom would go out when she was here, but now when she spends an evening with us he stays home, as she shows great interest in his hobby photography.

LOVE IMPROVES MAN'S HABITS

THE DIVORCEE has never been to our home to share this interest of his, and Tom is very proud of his pictures. However, we don't give her the opportunity, as we would rather break up their friendship.

Tom isn't at all good-looking and the divorcee is pretty. He has a good job, but so has she. He drank and smoked a lot in the past, but since he has gone with her he has cut down these habits to almost nothing.

What should we do? Let them continue their friendship and marry this Spring? Or should we persevere in our campaign to try to break it up? Please answer soon, as we are planning to have the other girl here to dinner again next Thursday—if you think we should.

Signed: D. A.

FAMILY PICTURE IS UNWHOLESOME

DEAR D. A.: What woman in her right mind, who knew the details of the family picture surrounding Tom, and who was able to read the implications of human behavior, would waste five minutes on him as a serious suitor or prospective husband?

What do we see here? A 40-year-old "boobus Americanus" (to purloin a term from Henry Mencken), still the infantile-charge of militantly protective mother and sisters, who is per se a foolish caricature of a fellow in the role of Romeo.

You ask, "Shall we let him marry this Spring? Or shall we persevere in our campaign to break it up?"

As to that, if you can sabotage the plan by cajoling him with home-treats, if you can swing him around to betraying his fiancee's trust, by the application of smirking, two-edged prejudice and unscrupulous, meddlesome pressure, you will simply be proving that Tom has no more character, backbone or manhood than a diapered idiot, hence has no business courting anybody.

WANT TO KEEP MAN ON LEASH

THE CARRYINGS-ON of Tom's female kin after getting wind of his intent to marry remind me somewhat of a nest of rattlesnakes assuming defense positions at the sound of approaching footsteps, and though you say you object to Tom's tentative choice because she is divorced, that (to use an Al Smith word) is just so much "baloney." The truth is that the family is dead-set against Tom's marrying anybody, after having him around as a house pet for 40 years.

If I were advising the divorcee, I would tell her to drop Tom like a hot potato and cast her nets for a bonafide man, whose psychological growth hadn't been blocked at cradle-level by matriarchal thwarting of masculine attributes.

So, to sum up, I think your collective behaviour in this instance is infamously wrong i nits bearing on Ton's social history, and I must infer it has always been so, with the result that he is a pathetically warped character and poor marriage risk, and therefore I cannot in conscience wish him on anybody. But if you want to do the decent thing, stop mismanaging his life and let him run it as he sees fit.

M. H.

Patton-Chausse Wedding Read In Borger Church

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Chausse of 2310 Tenth are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Joyce, and Hansel H. Pattn, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Patton of Petersburg which took place in Borger recently.

The bride wore a blue two piece suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage. She is a graduate of Ropesville High school and attended Texas Technological college and is employed by Lubbock National bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton are at home in Lubbock where the bridegroom is in the car business with his father. He is a graduate of Anton High school.

A miscellaneous shower given for Mrs. Patton last week was held in the home of Mrs. C. R. DeArmond. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. S. H. Brooks and Miss Maxine Pearson.

Mrs. J. C. Martin directed games.

OES Past Matrons Pay Tribute To Mrs. Brown

Tribute was paid to Mrs. Willie Brown by each member of Past Matrons club, Order of the Eastern Star, who met with Mrs. H. B. Teal, 2202 Twenty-ninth, Monday night. Mrs. Brown, a charter member of the organization, died last week.

Mrs. Grover C. Mitchell and Mrs. Sallie Monk were co-hostesses. Seventeen members attended.

Musical Tea Held By Club

Las Chaparritas club members of Texas Technological college entertained their patronesses and alumnae at a musical tea, an annual event, given in Yaqui room of Hilton hotel Tuesday afternoon. Approximately 50 persons called between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock.

On the tea table was an arrangement of red roses, flanked by white candles burning in silver candelabra. Serving were Misses Wanda Shoffner, Millie Lipscomb, Billye Saunders, Ann Walker, Anita Oliver and Alice Walther.

Piano numbers were presented by Misses Guida Miller, Evelyn Puckett, Lou Lawson and Mary Lois Blount.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Jess May, club sponsor; Mrs. Charles C. Watson, jr., alumnae president; Mrs. Lawrence Bacon, patroness chairman; and officers of the active club, Lois Jean Weekes, Jayne Thompson, Maye Mitchell and Mary Alice Mitchell.

Y-Teen Representatives Model Original Hats

In an original Easter bonnet modeling contest held by Y-Teens club of Senior High school Tuesday afternoon in the school auditorium, Elizabeth Mitchell was chosen first place winner. Second and third place went to Mona Powell and Pat Bolinger, respectively. Other models, Joy Oglesby, Billie Bourland and Joy Davis received honorable mention.

Charlene Laws, chairman of the club's program committee, was in charge of the meeting and served as narrator. Background music was furnished by Shelley Furr. Judges for the occasion were J H. Penn, high school music teacher, Miss Dorothy Lomax and two club sponsors, Miss Glenys Honey and Miss Edith Caveness. Twenty girls modeled their hats.

Following the selection of Misses Mitchell and Powell as first and second place winners, they described their hats and told how they were made. Chloe T. Dawson, club president, presided for business preceding the show. Miss Mary McElyea is sponsor of the program committee which planned the program.

Woodring Returning From Mystery Trip

WESTOVER FIELD, Mass., March 10 (U.P.)—Former Secretary of War Harry Woodring was schedule dto arrive here today after a two-months mystery visit through six European countries

Accompanied by his personal friend George J. [illegible] Kansas City, Kan., Woodring left Frankfurt last night on an army plane and was due to arrive at Westover field, Mass., at 3:30 p m. EST today.

Woodring arrived in Europe on Jan. 17, traveling on Army department orders, and talked to generals, prime ministers, ambassadors and other officials in Germany, Austria, Italy, France, Belgium and The Netherlands

He refused to discuss the purpose of his visit There has been some unconformed speculation that he would take over in Germany when occupation duties were transferred from the Army department to the State department

County Group Silent On Contract Contest

HOUSTON, March 10. (U.P.)—Harris county commissioners had no comment to make today on a charge that the contract for the $7,500,000 Pasadena tunnel under the ship channel was illegal.

While the commissioners sought to clarify the status of the $3,000,000 supplementary bond issue by holding another election, it appeared that the project was in for more legal complications.

Harold K. Shelton, Houston accountant who challenged the Jan. 31 election in which the $3,000,000 bond issue passed by six votes, said the bonds have "not been certified by the attorney general, which the law requires."

"In addition, the law requires that before a county can let a contract for work, it must have the money on hand," Shelton said. "The county commissioners let this contract for $7,500,000 but only had on hand, legally, $5,000,000."

Shelton declared the commissioners called another election "because they know I've already got them beaten in the law suit." The election has been set for April 10.

State Officials Indicate That Teachers Will Receive Pay Despite Heavy Deficit

AUSTIN, March 10 (U.P.)—State officials indicated today rural school teachers of Texas will be paid this year despite a departmental deficit of $2,225,000.

T. M. Trimble, assistant superintendent of public instruction, said a program was in the "formative stage."

Yesterday L. A. Woods, state superintendent of instruction, conferred with Gov. Beauford H. Jester on the rural aid problem. Later, Woods expressed optimism over the meeting.

Trimble volunteered there appeared to be "very good prospects for a clearing up of the difficulties."

Jester was known to be considering the possibility of private financing of the deficit through banker institutions.

Trimble's comment in this connection was that "it seems the bankers are accepting the program."

Hollywood Economy Drive Moving Along

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 10. (AP) — This is a report on how Hollywood's economy drive is coming along.

I can't show you how much the studios are saving, not having access to and not being an expert on that kind of figures. But, by touring the studios every day, I can see what changes, if any, are being made.

Directors are the keynote to much money-saving, because if they keep their companies moving, fast, economies are made. Many of them are in demand now, not because they are good, but because they are fast. This can also backfire.

Picture Was Bad

A director of a recent topical film endeared himself to the bosses by shooting an "A" picture in 24 days. But the picture was so bad that a couple of weeks of costly retakes were needed. That ain't saving money, brother.

Other straws in the wind: RKO is shooting "The Boy With Green Hair" for $800,000, a record for a color picture. MGM is romping along with "The Three Musketeers," figuring speed will keep the cost down to $3,500,000. At least one major studio is reported to be dropping all players except its stars. Nearly all free-lance actors are working for less.

Writers Unemployed

There are more unemployed writers than ever before. Several films are being made with a week or so of rehearsals before shooting begins.

But even the most amateur observer can see evidence of non-economy. One studio seems to have no qualms about a two-hour lunch period. Another just started a big-budget with half a script.

Maureen O'Hara was complaining to me on "The Long Denial" set that in some quarters she is reputed to be aloof and cold.

"This is a legend that has stuck to me, the same way legends have grown up around Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford and others," she declared. "It probably grew out of some of the stand-offish roles I played in my earlier days. But was I cold in 'The Spanish Main?' Was I cold in 'The Foxes of Harrow?'"

A assured her she wasn't.

Cost Bonus Granted Oil Firm Workers

HOUSTON, March 10 (U.P.) — A new cost of living bonus, retroactive to March 1, was granted today to 125 employes of the Continental Oil Co. in the Houston area.

The bonus, announced from company headquarters in Ponca City, Okla., ranges from $17.50 monthly to $40 monthly.

Charles A. Perlitz, jr., vice president of Continental in charge of the Houston office, said the allowance would be paid to full-time salaried employes receiving $15,000 or less annually.

Safe Crackers Do It Hard Way, Miss Loot

PORTLAND, Ore., March 10 (AP) —Some people do everything the hard way—even safe-crackers.

The Brown Lumber company safe was worked on last night. A combination spindle was punched and hinges battered—but the yeggs failed to break open the strong box.

Patrolman Luther Hall arrived this morning to make a routine check of the attempted robbery. He grabbed the safe door handle, pulled—and the door opened. Inside was neatly stacked $266 in bills.

The number of U. S. school children per teacher declined from an average of about 37 in 1890 to about 29 in 1940.

State Leaders Declare Truman Has Deserted Texas Democrats

FORT WORTH, March 10. (AP)—Neville C. Penrose and Mrs. Bennett Smith, committeeman and committeewoman from Tarrant county to the Democratic state executive committee, in a formal statement today charged that President Truman "had deserted the Democratic party of Texas."

The Democratic party is a states right party, they said. "The people of Texas have demonstrated their loyalty . . . for many years but Texans will not sacrifice their principles to further the political ambitions of any man."

Has Deserted Party

Truman, they said, "has deserted our party by advocating laws detrimental to the welfare of our party and it is mockery to claim any right to party loyalty of Texas people."

Opposition to the President's civil rights program has been voiced by Governor Jester, Chairman Robert Calvert of the state committee, Texas senators and most congressmen, the statement said. "In doing so, they have expressed the will of the vast majority of Texas citizens."

Man Kills Negro In Equality Argument

MOBILE, Ala., March 10 (U.P.)—A 20-year-old white mechanic at Brookley Field army air base here confessed today that he killed a negro employe in an argument over President Truman's civil rights program.

Horace Miller, the mechanic, told police that the negro, Rayfield Davis, approached him and insisted they have a drink together like equals.

Miller said Davis told him "our friend, President Truman, will soon make the negro more important than the white man."

He said he struck Davis several times and kicked him after the negro allegedly reached into his coat pocket. Davis' body was found in a drainage ditch Sunday night. Miller said he did not know the negro was dead till Monday.

Irving Jones Named President Of Rotary

Irving L. Jones, Lubbock shoe store operator, was elected president of the Lubbock Rotary club, in the annual election of officers by club's new board of directors. He succeeds Rex Webster and will take office July 1.

Guy Victory, railroad freight and passenger agent, was named first vice president; Joe H. Bryant, theater and radio station operator, second vice president; W. O. Daniels, furniture store man, secretary and W. C. Cole, bookstore manager, treasurer. The latter two were re-elected.

Previously in the club's luncheon program, five new directors were named by the club membership. They were: James G. Allen, Victory, Walter Clark, Arch Lamb and Neil H. Wright, jr.

An international flavor permeated the luncheon program with six students of Texas Technological college from foreign countries attending as guests and T. C. Root speaking on the Rotary foundation and making a plea for contributions to it.

Chief project of the foundation will be the awarding of educational fellowships to students throughout the world. The foundation has been set up as a memorial to the late Paul Harris, founder of Rotary, and income from it will be used in the fellowships and other projects designed to create better understanding and good will among nations of the world, Root said.

The foreign students who were guests at the luncheon included: Mrs. Vilia Ma, China; Joakuin Bonilla, Costa Rica; Mrs. Ervin L. Blum, France; Guillermo Peres, Peru; Felix Oliver, Puerto Rico; and Isik Pinhas, Turkey. They were introduced by Registrar Warren P. Clement of the college. Other guests at the luncheon included: George Eaton, Amherst; Artir Forehand, Levelland; W. B. Hoosier, Memphis; W. B. Osborn, Lafnesa and Ralph Weise, Lorenzo.

The bandits left in their car, after taking the switch key of the Littlefield men.

The victims hailed a passing motorist and sent word to Graham, who went to the scene to commence his investigation.

Two Men Held

Police said they were holding two men, 42 and 24, one of Columbia, Miss., and the other of Winnsboro, Texas, in connection with an investigation into ownership of the car the Mississippian was driving.

Stopped early Tuesday night when the car was found to have no tail light, police said the driver had no operator's license and no papers to show his title to the car.

Menoras Flores, 28, a Mexican, was fined $25 upon a plea of guilty of theft under $5. Officials said he admitted taking steel dies and selling them as junk. When Police investigators George Hall and Pete Hubbard were investigating the sale of the dies at a junk dealer's the suspect drove up with more metal to sell, they said in their report.

Billy Woods of Amarillo informed police her purse, laid on a table of a dine and dance place here, had been stolen. It contained, she said, $45 and important papers.

Charlie Morris of 2219 Ave. H informed officials a stove valued at $30 had been stolen from the front of a store there. A bike was stolen from Gerald Lokey of 812 Ave. B. from a school.

C. B. Rigney of 3300-block Thirty-third asked police to investigate damage done by boys with air-rifles and a soft drink bottle. Windows, including a plate glass pane, were broken at a place under construction here, he said.

Police said relatives of Ernest Christian, 35, of Lubbock, were alarmed at his failure to reach Lubbock after leaving Fort Worth about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, particularly because of inclement weather and dangerous road conditions.

Christian, it was learned, was driving a 1947 Plymouth sedan, license JN 2663. He drove to a travel bureau office in Fort Worth, but found no passengers for Lubbock, it was said. He had not been reported since.

STOCKS SCORE GAINS

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP) — Stocks scored their first average gain of the week in today's market.

Selected motors and other industrials moved ahead narrowly at the opening. The upswing broadened a bit around noon as rails joined in. Aircrafts enjoyed a final hour flurry. Final advances ranged from fractions to around 2 points, while a few losers persisted here and there. Transfers held to the slow pace of recent sessions at around 700,000 shares.

Dividend news boosted Western Union (on its first declaration since 1945) to a new high for the year, and aided Chicago Milwaukee St. Paul preferred. Others holding advances included Southern Railway, Union Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Allied Chemical, Pacific Western Oil, Texas Co., Sinclair Oil, Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, United Fruit, Electric Power & Light, Kennecott, Deere and Paramount Pictures.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP) — Cotton futures declined in slow dealings today. Washington reports indicating there will be further delay in concluding the Japanese cotton credit program brought in commission house and New Orleans selling. Some traders had expected the Japanese agreement to be signed by the middle of this week.

The market showed early steadiness with gains up to 75 cents a bale on mill buying and short covering, but the advance encouraged increased offerings.

Private forecast estimated an increase of 4.3 per cent in cotton acreage this season.

Ring Of Shoplifting Women Rounded Up

SAN ANTONIO, March 10. (U.P.) —Working on a tip from across the Rio Grande, San Antonio police today nipped a planned sweep of burglaries by arresting an international shoplifting ring of women ranging in age from 19 to 50.

Detectives Joe Lara made the arrests in a downtown cafe soon after the arrival of the women from Monterrey, Mexico. Lara said the ring was making its plans, led by a 19-year-old girl, as he surprised them.

The members were turned over to immigration authorities for deportation.

Jurors Touched By Story Of Desertion

TYLER, March 10. (AP) — The story told by the mother of two small sons during her husband's trial for child desertion touched the jurymen's hearts here.

The 12-man jury assessed the husband a two-year suspended sentence.

Each juryman endorsed his $4 jury service paycheck over to the destitute mother.

Buses Are Running

Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches reported at 1:30 p. m. no bus scheduled had been cancelled.

The temperature will not go above freezing today or tonight, the weather station north of the city reported.

Snow had fallen in varying amounts on the South Plains. After earlier fog in Lubbock and immediate vicinity, drizzle began

OPERA CAST ARRIVES

Members of the North Texas State Teachers college opera workshop Dr. Walter Hordeon, conductor, and Miss Mary McCormic, director, arrived in Lubbock shortly before noon by chartered bus over icy highways from Amarillo where they gave the opera, "Riguoletto," which is to be presented here tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium.

Adult and student tickets will be available at the door tonight, according to Mrs. Elois Elliott, member of the Alberro Music club, sponsors of the presentation. The box office will open at 7:30 o'clock.

at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday night in Lubbock and drizzle began freezing at 11:30 o'clock. Snow began falling at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

Precipitation Light

Precipitation at the weather station measured one-tenth inch at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, the equivalent of about in inch of snow, the weather station reported.

At that time, reports were received from Amarillo and Pampa of snow and drifting snow and Pampa reported four degrees and Amarillo six degrees temperature. Other 12:30 reports included, San Angelo, 28, degrees, freezing drizzle; Fort Worth, 32, light drizzle; Wichita Falls, 18, light snow, .12 inch liquid precipitation, equivalent to at least one inch snow; Big Spring, 21, snow pellets and fog; Abilene, 21, snowgrains; Childress, 8, with moderate, blowing and drifting snow, 100 feet ceiling, one-fourth mile visibility and 22 miles per hour wind with strong gusts Plainview about 11:30 a. m. had reported 10 degrees temperature, 300 foot ceiling and one-half mile visibility.

Lubbock's 12:30 visibility was one and one-fourth miles and ceiling, 400 feet.

To Reach Over State

The Associated Press reported the new Arctic blast was forecast to reach all of the state, except the lower Rio Grande valley, by tonight.

Light snow, pushed by high winds, was general in the Panhandle and South Plains. Andrew Hamrick, U. S. weather forecaster at Dallas, said Pampa, in the Panhandle, was in the grip of a "real, old fashioned blizzard" this morning.

The mercury stood at 3 degrees above zero at Pampa at 1:30 a. m. Snow driven by wind reaching 42 miles per hour in gusts cut visibility there to one-eighth mile.

The cold wave out of Colorado and Wyoming was approaching across the entire breadth of Texas, In mid-morning the temperature at Oklahoma City, in central Oklahoma, stood at 13 degrees. A snow storm was in progress at Tulsa.

Schools were closed today at Texline, Dumas and Lefors, Panhandle towns, because of the storm.

Conditions of Lubbock streets had improved slightly this afternoon, but deceptive patches of ice lined occasional stretches near curbs, and motorists were cautioned to proceed with care.

At least six collisions had been investigated by police since early morning, but none was reported injured. Numerous other collisions that resulted in negible damage were not reported by motorists, police said they believed.

TWO WOMEN ARE INJURED IN FALLS

Two women who fell during this morning's icy conditions were taken to hospitals.

Mrs. G. W. Crandall of 1722 Twenty-sixth entered Lubbock Memorial hospital after suffering fracture of an ankle when she slipped on a curb and fell.

Mrs. C. A. White of 1806-B Ave K was taken to West Texas hospital in a Rix ambulance after she fell at Eighteenth and Ave X early this afternoon. X-ray examination was being made.

Congratulations To

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn O. Harwell of four on birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 7 ounces at 12:43 a. m. today in West Texas hospital. The father is a four city electrician.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kilgore of 113 Ave. W on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 11 ounces at 10:55 a. m. today in West Texas hospital. The father is employed by a drug store.

$150,000 in wartime profits from that firm.

Mettee said that Meyers repeated over and over with him answers he was to give to questions if called at the trial. He was to say, Mettee said, that Lamarre assigned the car to Meyers for the general's use.

Lamarre has testified that Meyers bought the $3,000 blue Cadillac car with Aviation Electric money.

Mettee said that when he went to Meyers' home at Huntington to talk with the general, Meyers had him register at a hotel there under a false name.

Index Of Wholesale Food Prices Drops

NEW YORK, March 10. (U.P.)—The index of wholesale food prices has resumed the decline which began Jan. 13, and which has been interrupted in only one week since that time, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

The firm said that its index, covering 31 basic foods, declined nine cents in the week ending March 9, wiping out the entire rise of the previous week.

The index in the latest week reached $6.61, compared with $6.70 in the March 2 week, and with, coincidentally, exactly the same figure of $6.70 in the corresponding week a year ago.

The all-time peak was reached at $7.28 on Jan. 13 this year.

Inquiry Into Communist Coup Is Sought By Czech Delegate

LAKE SUCCESS, March 10. (AP)—Dr. Jan Papanek, Czechslovak delegate to the United Nations, demanded today that the U. N. security council investigate the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

Dr. Papanek told a hurriedly called news conference at U. N. headquarters that he had submitted to Trygve Lie, U. N. secretary general, a formal demand that the security council consider the Feb. 20 change in the Czechslovakia government.

Dr. Papanek was a friend of Jan Masaryk, who fell to his death in Prague today.

Of himself, Papanek said in an emphatic voice:

"I represented the Czechoslovak government that existed before Feb. 20. I was never a representative of the new regime. I am not resigning my office (as Czechslovak delegate to the United Nations.)"

"It is not upon me to resign," Dr. Papenek said. "It is upon the members of the United Nations to decide whether they will recognize the regime in Prague now or recognize the republic as it was before Feb. 20. But I will not go out and leave the post empty."

People Terrorized

He charged that Soviet Russia engineered the Communist coup. He said the coup had terrorized the Czechslovak people.

Papenek charged directly that Russia had violated the independence of Czechslovakia and that Premier Stalin was personally insincere in going back on promises to President Benes to recognize the sovereignty of the republic.

To All Gas Users . . .

PLEASE USE LESS GAS—NOW!

Effective right now, West Texas Gas Company appeals to you and every other gas user to cut down some in the use of gas.

This is another one of those severe storms which this winter have overtaxed our capacity. Folks are using the gas from our mains faster than our pipe line system from the sources of supply can replace it. Our system does not have enough capacity to supply the demand, if unrestrained, placed upon it during extraordinary weather such as we are having.

If every gas user—homes as well as businesses—will cut down some in the use of gas, we should be able to supply enough to meet the essential needs of all.

WHAT YOU ARE ASKED TO DO!

1. Shut off, and do not heat, some of your rooms. Keep temperatures only high enough to avoid hardship. Never use the oven of your kitchen range for heating. Pull window shades down at night.
2. Do no more cooking than really necessary. Use as many prepared foods as you can. Use only one range burner.
3. Postpone laundry work and hot baths a day or two until the weather moderates. Do not waste hot water by letting taps run, or otherwise.

WHAT YOUR HELP WILL ACCOMPLISH!

In this emergency, reasonable and neighborly cooperation by all gas users will, barring breakdowns, make it possible for homes and businesses to have gas for essential needs. We ask you to please do your part. Your cooperation will be a service to your neighbor and yourself.

Please cut down on your use of gas immediately.

Please Conserve Gas In Every Way You Can Until The Emergency Is Past

Temperatures Plunge To New Lows Over Parts Of Country

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP) — Severe cold covered the middle west today and plunged temperatures in some sections to new lows for the winter.

The frigid air was moving south and southeastward.

Temperatures of from zero to as low as 42 below were registered from the north and central Rockies and the northern plains eastward to the Great Lakes region.

42 Below Reported

Cass Lake, Minn., had -42, Big Falls, Minn., recorded -38 and Park Rapids and Bemidji, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D., had -37.

Omaha, Neb., had a reading of -2, for the coldest March 10 in the history of its weather bureau's records dateing back to 1873. The history of its weather bureau's records dateing back to 1873. The subzero belt extended as far south as Goodland, Kas., which reported a minimum of one below.

Federal forecasters said the cold would continue tonight throughout the frost belt. There were indications of some moderation beginning tomorrow afternoon in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Light snow fell throughout much of the cold region, extending from the central Rockies eastward through the central plains to the middle Mississippi valley. In parts of Oklahoma thunder storms with snowfalls were reported.

Heavy rains reported in the southeastern states diminished but rain fell today in the eastern Gulf and Middle Atlantic states.

The mercury was below normal in some parts of the southeast in northern Texas and in the Pacific northwest. Readings in most of the New England states were near seasonal levels.

Warm weather was reported in the Florida peninsula and in Southwest Texas. High readings yesterday included 79 at Tampa and Miami, Fla., and 70 in San Antonio, Tex.

Politics

delegates there in a number of districts.

For Dewey the New Hampshire contest was one of three regarded as crucial by his forces. The other two are Wisconsin's battle next month and Oregon's May 21 delegate tussle.

Barring a last-minute change in plans, the Oregon voting will be another strictly Dewey-Stassen race. Friday is the last day for filing, and word from Portland is that the MacArthur camp will not try to enter the general's name.

Results To Settle It

As for the Wisconsin contest, politicians here say MacArthur will have to collar more than one-third of the state's 27 delegates to create the kind of boom his friends think would carry him along in other primaries.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said the Wisconsin results "will settle it one way or the other for MacArthur."

"The general will have to make a pretty good showing there to have much chance," Brewster told a reporter.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), a Stassen backer, said he is glad MacArthur has come out in the open.

"As of today," McCarthy said, "I don't think the general has much chance in Wisconsin. But his friends probably will put on a big campaign for him."

Plan National Drive

Friends of the supreme commander gave clear indications that they expect to base a national drive on the claim that he is the best man to deal firmly with Russia in the present tense situation.

Rep. Miller (R-Neb), who has been plugging for the general for years, said he is "the one man who understands Russia and has been able to tell them where to go when they tried to interfere in Japan."

Miller has contended the general is willing to come to Washington and testify before a congressional committee on Japanese occupation matters.

There were strong hints that MacArthur will come back to this country in the next few months in any event. He would return immediately, of course, if he won th nomination.

But if he is not nominated, or if he withdraws from the race, Tokyo dispatches said the resultant loss of "face" in Japanese eyes might make it impractical for him to remain as supreme commander of the occupation forces.

State Sen. Fred Harris Says Special Session Is Necessary

"I think there ought to be a special session called and it should be called at once for two things, first to meet the emergency in the rural aid schools and second to do something about the prison system," State Senator Fred (Red) Harris of Dallas declared here today.

"We ought to pay the school teachers the amount of money the state contracted to pay them," the Dallas senator said. "A sack of flour costs them as much money as it does you and me; they don't get a 16 per cent discount on groceries.

No Time To Be Foolish

"And I for one will be a very unhappy man if one single institution in the state has to close its doors on account of the shortage of funds, simply because the governor sees no need for a special session," Sen. Harris continued.

"With more money than ever before in the state treasury, this is no time to be penny-wise and pound-foolish.

"As for the state prison system and all the other eleemosynary institutons, something should be done about them now We shouldn't have to wait two more years. The state prison system's conditons stink to the high heavens."

Visits Friends Here

Senator Harris came to town Tuesday for a short visit with friends regarding his possible candidacy for the Railroad commission after having visited at Hamlin, Haskell, Abilene, Sweetwater and Stamford.

Indications were today that West Texans were trying to sidetrack his railroad commission race and get him interested in running for the governorship against Beauford Jester.

Senator Harris would make no comment on this suggestion.

The Dallas senator, delayed by bad weather on his return to Dallas, planned to leave tonight.

Czechoslovaks gathered in little knots discussing Masaryk's death. It was a shock to those who regarded him as a possible balance wheel for the country. It was a blow also to those who believed he might be helpful in getting them out of the closely-guarded country legally. Masaryk once helped 5,000 Jews escape from German occupation forces.

Suffered An Illness

The government announcement said Masaryk had "suffered an illness, coupled with infirmity, and it seems probably that in a moment of nervous disturbance, he jumped out of a window in his official flat in the (Czernin) palace."

"Right to the last minute, he showed no sign of depression," the announcement said. "To the contrary he was full of lively optimism. The circumstances are being investigated."

The government said Masaryk "voluntarily took his life." The foreign minister had suffered from bronchitis recently.

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald made no immediate statement. Nor did ailing President Eduard Benes, who acceded to Communist demands for control.

Speech On Desk

The radiio account said half of the text of a speech Masaryk was to have made tonight to a Polish-Czech friendship meeting was on his desk.

Masaryk's last public appearance was in the old town square Sunday, when he attended a combined celebration of the 98th birthday anniversary of his late father and the 30th anniversary of a battle in which Czech and Russian troops fought side by side.

His body was found in the palace courtyard at about 8 a. m. It was carried away quickly. Neighbors said the lights in Masaryk's offices burned all night.

Had Small Apartment

Masaryk occupied a small and unpretentious apartment in the lavish foreign office-Czernin palace.

His sister, the only survivor of the Masaryk family, lives in a house near the palace.

Masaryk first became foreign minister for the Czech goverpment in exile on July 8, 1940. He returned to Prague when Czechoslovakia was liberated from the Germans in 1945 and kept the foreign affairs post.

Speedy Production Of Autos Promised

CHICAGO, March 10. (U.P.)—Preston Tucker, Chicago automobile manufacturer, said today he will be producing cars at a rate of 20 to 30 an hour by mid-summer.

Tucker, who demonstrated the first assembly line model of the Tucker 48 automobile at the annual stockholders meeting yesterday, said production will reach 20 per hour even if he does not obtain a government-owned steel plant at Cleveland for which he has placed a bid.

Nine of the company's 10 directors were re-elected. Preston Tucker, jr., 25, was named to the 10th directorship, replacing Harry Budds, who resigned several months ago.

Greek Rebels Stage Attacks

ATHENS, March 10. (U.P.)—Greek guerrillas struck suddenly by land today and were reported preparing for sea and air attacks in an attempt to shatter the government's spring offensive before it starts.

Guerilla activity was reported at Katokatisimidi, only 18 miles north of Athens, in the Peloponnesus, the Jannina area and along the Albanian border.

Offensive Is Reported

Guerrilla operations coincided with a rebel radio report yesterday that the Greek army had launched its long-awaited offensive. Greek officials, however, said the offensive still was in the "planning stage."

Police said an unidentified submarine surfaced yesterday off Chalkidiki peninsula, southeast of Salonika. For the past two weeks, newspapers have reported submarines were operating in Greek waters and the navy has ordered warships to sink any vessels which fail to answer when challenged.

Slim Woman Now Can Discard Bustles, Still Have New Look

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, March 10. — The slim-hipped woman can slip back into the straight and narrow skirt today and have the newer look.

Hattie Carnegie said so.

She has had her fun with the bustles (fore and aft), the hip pads and the billowy skirt. The custom-made spring suits Miss Carnegie showed last week are cut to a pencil line.

Most of them are just wide enough to sit down. Some have a few modest tucks from the waistline, making them wide enough for a moderate stride.

Waist Minimizer

Miss Carnegie also has discarded the artificial waist minimizer with the cavalier statement that "women's waists measure less this year than last."

If they don't, they'd better. Many of the Carnegie dresses dispense with belts and hug to the narrow waistline with multiple tucks, released above and below a widish waistline in moderate curves.

Some of the suit jackets have a modest flip over the hipbone, apparently with a light touch of crinoline, but for the most part they're sober and handsome—fitted snugly and usually buttoned to the neck. One, in white linen, has a tiny curved collar, a lazy double-scallop closing line and white silk braid trimmings.

Other costumes do have full skirts, but few concentrate the fullness in bumps. (Miss Carnegie said she'd tried to remove "the weighty, the cumbersome, the beestung" from her "look.")

Silk Shantung Print

A silk shantung dress in what appeared to be the firm's favorite print—looks like polka dots from a distance. It turns out to be hearts, diamonds, club and spades and has a full pleated skirt and a jacket pleated all over to match.

Evening skirts are wide, frequently with bands of brilliants or contrasting color above their hems. There's a new dinner-to-full-dress conversion. A black organza dancing dress, strapless and banded at neck and hem with sequins, has a high-necked, short-sleeved sheer black over-dress which ties and the neck and waist in back and looks as if it belonged. Back-tied jackets do the same duty on other evening gowns.

There are 31 soil conservation districts, covering 8,796,579 acres of land in Minnesota.

Poland Lays Plans For 1948 Business

(By The Associated Press)

WARSAW, March 10—Private enterprise is out to get its share of Poland's trade in 1948.

The Association of Exporters and Importers has drawn up a comprehensive trade program, calling for exports amounting to $42,696,900 and imports valued at $33,685,400.

Listing 181 items of export, the association said it planned to export large quantities of vegetables including potatoes, tomatoes and berries to the United Kingdom, Switzerland, Sweden, France, Belgium and Italy.

Polish hams form one of the big meat export items. Hams, along with tinned meat exports, is valued at $5,000,000. Fresh eggs worth $1,500,000 are to be shipped. The United Kingdom, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia are listed as leading customers for these items.

Additionally, the United Kingdom is to get $1,300,000 worth of bacon.

Export of textiles planned includes $3,000,000 worth of greycloth, $960,000 of shirtings and $1,520,000 of flannel.

The association plans an import of 95 items worth $3,432,800 called "investment imports." These are to include butchers' machinery, milling gauze, automobile tires, papermakers' machinery, motor car workshops, machine tools, agricultural engines and ball bearings.

A total of 502 import items, designed to meet the requirements of private industry and the free market are valued at $30,252,600.

Vegetable imports are to include rice, lemons, artificial resin, prunes, oranges, coffee, tea, cocoa. Dyes and wines also are to be imported. Chemicals and pharmaceuticals embrace 285 items. Imports are to come from the United Kingdom, France, Switzerland, Romania, Italy, the Netherlands and other countries.

Newton Denied Clemency

Jester Rejects Second Appeal

AUSTIN, March 10 (AP)—A recommendation of clemency for Dr. W. R. Newton has been rejected by Gov. Beauford H. Jester for the second time in five months.

The Cameron physician began serving a two-year sentence last July 30 after conviction in Swisher county for assault with intent to murder Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield. The board of pardons unanimously recommended the clemency.

Declined To Approve

Jester said the district attorney in the county of conviction declined to approve the clemency.

The governor, who customarily seeks the opinion of the district judge, sheriff and district attorney involved in the conviction when a clemency recommendation reaches his desk, said he received no response from the judge or sheriff in this case.

Dr. Newton has been credited two months' commutation for blood donations to other prisoners and four donations, 26 days for good time. This fixes his tentative discharge date as next Sept. 6.

The Cameron doctor sought clemency from his sentence before entering prison, but the pardons board turned him down. He was refused a 30-day emergency parole by the governor last October, when he asked a temporary release in order to operate on a woman patient.

Jester yesterday also rejected a clemency recommendation for George Rackley, sentenced to two years in 1947 from Wilbarger county for forgery.

Eisenhower-Farley Favor Is Indicated

TYLER, March 10 (U.P.)—The Tyler Courier-Times said today that a Democratic ticket headed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and James Farley might be given favorable mention at Saturday's meeting of the Texas Young Democrats executive committee here.

The newspaper article said also that controversial topics likely to be aired at the state Democratic convention in May might be hashed out at the Saturday meeting.

Also likely to come up in front of the group, the Courier-Times added, were the civil rights program of President Truman and the question of sending an uninstructed Texas Democratic delegation to the national convention this summer.

The announced purpose of the executive committee meeting is to select a national committeeman to replace Roy Baker of Sherman, national Young Democrats president.

PERCH SHOWS THAT THINGS HAVEN'T CHANGED TOO MUCH

This Fishing Story Is 60,000,000 Years Old

PRINCETON, N. J., March 10 (AP)—Showing that things haven't changed much in sixty years, Princeton University has acquired a petrified perch in the act of swallowing a petrified herring.

The herring is about half way into the perch's mouth, going in head first, and both fish are stone. It happened in Wyoming, about 60,000,000 years ago.

The perch is really an ancestor of present perch. But it is about the same size as today, five inches long. The herring is about three inches long, judging by the stone tail projecting from the perch's jaws.

The fossil was purchased from David Haddenham, of Kemmerer, Wyoming. Dr. Glann L. Jepson, Princeton's curator of vertebrate paleontology and Sinclair professor of geology, says this fish swallowing fossil is probably the only one of its kind in an American museum.

The group came from the Green river formations, near Fossil, Wyo. Both fish lived in ancient lake Gosiute, a large, shallow, fresh-water body that for about six million years occupied the region of the present Green river basin.

MacArthur Claims That Presidential Campaign Will Not Interfere With His Duties In Japan

TOKYO, March 10 (AP)—General MacArthur said today he would not allow the presidential campaign to interfere with the occupation of Japan, indi-cating he intends to remain aloof from campaign issues.

His public relations officer issues a statement that MacArthur's announcement of availability does "not change in the slightest" the operations of headquarters. Requests for a news conference and new, posed pictures were declined.

Col. M. P. Echols, the PRO, said the general has nothing to add to yesterday's announcement, which he made as "a private citizen."

Thus it was indicated that MacArthur probably will go out of his way to clarify his views on subjects other than the international topics he already has discussed. His latest statement on international policy was a recent message supporting military aid to China.

(In Shanghai, China's official Central News agency said in a Tokyo dispatch: MacArthur recently told a high Chinese official his (MacArthur's) election as President "would be the best thing that could happen to Chiang Kai-Shek." This official was quoted as saying the general added, however, his election "would be a miracle.")

There has been no indication of MacArthur's views on any domestic United States problem. Observers said it was unlikely he would permit himself to become involved in domestic issues at least before he returns to the United States.

He has not been in the states since 1937.

The statement issued by Echols obviously came from MacArthur. Correspondents were told that the general would meet them on the same basis as in the past—for off-the-record background conferences on the occupation. Politics are rarely discussed in these meetings.

The general has not been expected to unbend from his position of military commander, even as a potential candidate. Throughout the war period and the occupation, MacArthur has maintained a ramrod dignity in personal appearance and has been generally inaccessible.

Man Given Year In "Draft Dodge" Case

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—John Beach Brockett of Abilene today faced a sentence of a year and a day on conviction of failure to register for the draft.

Federal Judge T. Whitefield Davidson yesterday refused to probate the sentence on pleas of Brockett's brother and mother.

He did, however, remove the fine.

Brockett, who pleaded guilty, said he feared he would be killed if he was taken into the army.

Dangerous Air Flight To Los Angeles Is Set

SHANGHAI, March 10 (U.P.)—Pilot Bill Odom and a skeleton crew of three will begin a hazardous flight to Los Angeles tomorrow in their converted Liberator bomber, "Explorer," which has a leaky fuel system.

Officials of the Reynolds-Boston museum expedition, which planned to explore the Yangtze gorges and the uncharted Amne-Machin mountain range, announced that the heavily-loaded plane would be unable to make the flight between here and Nanking.

Confident Of Success

However, Odom, who holds the record for round-the-world travel, said he was confident that he and the skeleton crew would be able to make Los Angeles. Heavy photographic equipment will be left here with the rest of the party. The expedition will be held up two weeks.

The fuel system leaks approxi mately half a gallon of gasoline per hour," a spokesman said, and needs repairs which cannot be made here. Repairs will be made by an aviation maintenance company in Los Angeles.

Crew members will ride in the front of the airplane during the trip, because gasoline fumes will make the rear section dangerous.

Making the trip with Odom will be Chinese Air Force Lieutenant Chow Liafang and a co-pilot and a radio man.

Fire Wrecks Part Of Winters Grain Mill

WINTERS, March 10 (U.P.)—Damage caused by a fire which yesterday destroyed one of the buildings of the C. L. Green grain mill was estimated at $50,000 to $75,000.

Firemen believed damage would have been greater if a strong northeast wind had not blown the flames from the heart of the plant, saving the main mill and elevator buildings of Winters' largest industry.

The destroyed building housed machinery and stored grain. Three trucks, inside when the fire started, were driven to safety by employes.

Houston Rites Set For Mishap Victim

BURNET, Tex., March 10 (U.P.)—Final rites were scheduled tomorrow for M. M. Atkins, 42, Austin, who died yesterday from injuries suffered when his burning truck was struck by a train March 1.

Funeral services will be held at Houston. Atkins was trapped in the cab of his truck and was rescued by Larry Nance, negro cowhand in the accident near Burnet.

Opera Presentation Is Slated Tonight

Students Of North Texas State Teachers College To Appear In "Rigoletto" Here

With three performances of Verdi's opera "Rigoletto" to its credit, the North Texas State Teachers college opera workshop will appear at Lubbock Senior High school auditorium tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

The presentation in Wichita Falls Monday night was described as a magnificent performance on a professional basis by Mrs. O. J. Dibzun, head of the music department at Hardin college in that city. Mrs. Wallace Glover, president of Allegro Music club which is bringing the opera to Lubbock, talked to Mrs. Dibzun about the performance Tuesday afternoon.

The Wichita Falls woman stated that the presentation of the opera exceeded her greatest hopes with regard to beauty and finesse. Her report of Louise McLane of Tyler, a lyric soprano, who sings the part of Gilda, commended her as being highly absorbed in her presentation.

"She is an emotional artist and is comparable to any Metropolitan artist who has sung the part," said Mrs. Dibzun.

About Marvin Solley of Louisville, Ky., who sings Rigoletto, she stated, "He sings his part with extreme dramatic feeling." Ira Schantz of Lubbock who appears as the Duke of Mantua greatly impressed the audience with the beautiful effect of his high soft notes, according to the Hardin college department head. "He was an outstanding vocal success," she said.

Professional Costumes Used

"Even though the opera was sung by student voices, it was an emotional success," reported Mrs. Dibzun. Costumes worn by the group are from New York City.

The 75 students who are presenting the opera have appeared in Denton, Amarillo and Wichita Falls; from Lubbock they are going to Port Arthur. Also making the tour are Dr. Walter Hodgson, dean of the NTSTC School of Music, who conducts the performances, and Miss Mary McCormic, producer of the opera.

"Rigoletto" is the fifth major opera to be produced by the college opera workshop within three years under the direction of Miss McCormic, former star of Paris Opera-Comique.

Tickets, $1.50 for adults and 60 cents for students, are being sold by Adair and South Plains Music stores and Allegro Music club members.

Sand Hills Hereford Show Opens Today

ODESSA, March 10. (AP)—The annual five-day Sand Hills Hereford show opens here today.

Today's schedule includes a parade and a special judging of 4-H and FFA calves and lambs, plus judging of fat fine wool lambs and registered sheep.

Registered Hereford and club steers will be judged tomorrow. Quarter horses and sale Herefords will be judged Friday. Club Steers, lambs and registered Herefords will be auctioned Saturday.

Lynn Show Is Set Saturday

TAHOKA, Mar. 10. (Special)—More than 100 head of hogs and 35 beef calves are expected to be entered here Saturday at the Lynn County Livestock show, it was announced today by W. B. Griffin, county agent.

The show, sponsored jointly by the chamber of commerce, and the Lynn County Fair association, is to be held at the new show barn recently completed near the intersection of the Tahoka-Lubbock and the Tahoka-Brownfield highways.

Plan Countrywide Fair

The barn, 100 by 100 feet, was built by the fair association, w which has applied for a charter and plans a country-wide fair next fall.

The Saturday show will feature 4-H and Future Farmers of America stock, and $320 in prize money has been posted in the various classifications, Griffin said.

T. L. Leach of the agriculture education department of Texas Tech college, is to judge the show.

Jurors Return 16 Indictments In 72nd Court

LEVELLAND, Mar. 10 (Special)—A 72nd district court grand jury returned 16 bills of indictment here late Tuesday after a two-day session, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin announced.

Two indictments were against Cosme E. Sanchez, 25, Mexican of Waco, one charging murder in connection with the slaying of Santos Puentes, jr., December 7, 1947, at Anton, and the other assault with intent to murder Santos Puentes, sr.

Assault Cases Probed

Two other indictments charging assault with intent to murder were issued, one against Tip Younger, 52, of Anton, in connection with the shotgun shooting of Della Younger, his former wife, Dec. 25, 1947. The other was issued against three Mexicans in the assault of a fourth Mexican at Anton January 31, 1948.

Other indictments included five for forgery, two for swindling by worthless check, two for theft by bailee, one for auto theft, and one for chicken stealing.

Forgery Is Charged

William D. Womack, 19, and James N. Lamb, 20, both of Levelland, were charged with forgery while acting together. Two Patroon, Shelby county, Texas, youth, Jesse Crawford, 18, and Cranford Talbert, 18, were also charged with forgery at Levelland. All four of the parties had been released on bond, the district attorney said.

The grand jury reported to Judge Dan Blair about 6 o'clock tonight. Boyd Rae was foreman.

Stock Grower Assails Cattle Disease Fight, Fears Rapid Spread Northward

VICTORIA, March 10 (U.P.)—An appeal to the department of agriculture to take action before hoof and mouth disease spreads from Mexico to the United States was made today by Claude K. McCan, former president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

McCan, a member of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas, claimed that the destructive disease was understood by only a few people outside the cattle industry.

Travels Like Wildfire

"There is no known cure and no effective immunization," McCan said. "It is the most serious disease known to the livestock industry and it can travel like wildfire from Brownsville to Chicago."

He declared the economy of the entire state was in danger if the agriculture department delayed in using the plan recommended by the sub-committee of the House committee on agriculture.

McCan said if the disease broke out in the Rio Grande valley a quarantine would be thrown around the area and citrus fruit, cotton, and vegetables would not be allowed to be shipped out.

"The place to fight the disease is in Mexico, not in the United States," he said. We can contain the disease south of the border and wipe it out with an intelligent program."

Advocates Program

He advocated a "slaughter and burial" program be put into force under cabable administration.

McCan added that the $36,000,000 already spent "has virtually been wasted because of lack of intelligent planning and failure to appreciate the basic facts of the disease." He emphasized that most of the blame for the failure rested with this country, and not with Mexico.

AFL Finds Trouble In Bucking Taft-Hartley Law Opponents

By FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 10 — Political generals of the AFL have run into complications in their campaign to defeat all congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley law.

Spokesmen for the 48 state federations of labor, part of the AFL, gathering here to plan their political activities, have learned that if they defeat one of the men they have labeled an enemy, they run a big chance of getting a highly unfriendly chairman of the House Labor committee.

Michigan Situation

Rep. Gerald W. Landis (R., Ind), marked for defeat by the Indiana state federation of labor, is slated to become chairman of the committee on the retirement of Rep. Fred A. Hartley, jr., (R., N. J.). If the Indianan is defeated and the Republicans retain control of the House, the labor chairman will be Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, (Mich), who has sponsored measures much more rigid than the Taft-Hartley law.

George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer, admitted today there was "pactically no chance" of defeating Mr. Hoffman.

Mr. Landis joined with the eight other Republican congressmen from Indiana in declaring that the labor campaign against them is led by "a handful of misguided and arrogant leaders." They said they "accepted the challenge" and hoped for the support of "all right-thinking people" because of a fund of $258,000 raised in Indiana to bring about their defeat.

This money, Mr. Landis said, averaged $28,000 for each congressional district, while candidates for the House are limited to campaign expenditures of $5,000 each.

Mr. Meany and William Green, president of the AFL, took part in an all-day meeting yesterday of the executive committee of the new labor's league for political education, which has been formed by the AFL to serve as its political arm. The main business was to authorize appointment of a "deputy treasurer" in each of the AFL's national and international unions to collect contributions of $1 or more from each member.

Voluntary Contributions

"All contributions will be voluntary," said Mr. Meany, "in accordance with the Taft-Hartley law, and they will be used with regard to that law. Of course, if the courts should clarify the law's political section within the next few weeks we likely would have much more freed in our activities."

Mr. Meany said he and Mr. Green would serve as the executive heads of the league until a director is selected.

Meinecke Speaks At Credit Women's Club

A. S. Meinecke, president of the Lubbock Credit Managers club, spoke to the Lubbock Credit Women's club at a meeting Tuesday night at Hilton hotel.

Miss Lucille Coltharp, president of the Credit Women's club, presided. Mrs. Helen McElwee introduced the speaker.

Meinecke reported on the district two meeting of Credit Bureau Secretaries and Retail Credit Executives held in Big Spring last week-end.

Guests Tuesday night were Mrs. A. S. Meinecke, Miss Ann Owens, Miss Wilma Blalock, Miss Maurine Lester and Miss Mary McNeely. A new member, Miss Jimmie Lee Bolch, attended.

NEW DEVICE GIVES ALTITUDE WARNING—Two pilots examine the cigar-like forward antenna, arrow, of a new radar altimeter and warning device being installed on Pan American World Airways clippers. It sends out continuous radar impulses below and ahead of the plane, which are translated into feet-above-ground readings on a warning dial, inset, on the instrument panel. The device offers a virtually foolproof system to warn pilots of altitudes from 2000 down to 300 feet.

Silk Prints, Rustling Taffetas Available With Tags Under $20

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, March 10.—Full-skirted silk prints and rustling taffetas can be found this spring with price tags under $20.

And there's at least one two-top, two-skirt combination in taffeta that could see a gay miss through spring and summer for just about $30.

This costume, displayed by Macy's, has a high-buttoned navy jacket and full flared, high waisted skirt to match. Included for good measure are a cap-sleeved blouse in navy and white checked taffeta and a matching skirt, which doubles as a petticoat.

Silk Turquoise And Polka Dot

A beautifully-styled silk dress in turquoise and black polka dots has an under $20 tag. It comes with brief sleeves, an open shirt neckline with pointed collar and a flared skirt edged with a pleated flounce.

For a similar price there's a brighter print-green, pink, turquoise and white on black—in a slightly dressier mood. Its sleeves are cap, its neckline low and square, its skirt fulled with side front gathers.

For less than $15 there's a slim black crepe with taffeta trimmings for lunch to midnight smartness. The two-piece costume features a snug, midriff-gathered tunic top cuffed in taffeta to match its high, crisp collar. The skirt below is as slim as the lady will allow.

Greek Air Cadets To Train At Randolph

SAN ANTONIO, March 10 (U.P.) —The second half of a group of 50 Greek air cadets was expected to arrive at Randolph Field today for a year's training.

The cadets are being trained under the Greek aid program, the air force announced. The first group arrived yesterday with several English-speaking Greek officers who will act as interpreters.

Hearing Scheduled

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP)—The railroad commission has scheduled public hearing May 5 on the application of the Rock Hill Oil company for discovery oil allowable rights to apply to its Johanna Vogt well No. 1.

The well is producing through perforations at 4,343 to 4,345 feet underlying the R. Manchola survey, West Pridham lake field, Victoria county.

Eight SS Officers Convicted In Trial Of Nazi Genocide Cases

NUERNBERG, March 10 (U.P.) — An American military tribunal today convicted eight SS officers charged with carrying out the Nazi genocide program of mass race extinction.

The genocide program was aimed at strengthening Germany biologically by weakening the 12 European nations overrun by Hitler's armies.

Six others, including one woman, were acquitted of major charges. The five men found innocent of war crimes were convicted of being members in a criminal organization, the SS.

Those Convicted

Those convicted were:

Ulrich Greifelt, Himmler's deputy and main driving force of the entire Germanization program.

Rudolf Creutz, deputy to Greifelt.

Herbert Heubner, staff chief who was active in the forced evacuation and resettlement of foreign populations.

Werner Lorenz, chief of repatriation of ethnic Germans.

Heinz Brueckner, charged with safeguarding German folkdom in the Third Reich.

Otto Hofmann, chief of the race and resettlement office from 1940 to 1943.

Richard Hildebrandt, chief of the race and resettlement office from 1943 to 1945.

Fritz Schnalm, chief of staff of the race and resettlement office.

Georgia Jurist Presides

The judgment was read by presiding Judge H. L. Wyatt, of La Grange, Ga., who termed the genocide program "brutal, vicious, atrocious and criminal."

Among the war crimes charged against them were:

Kidnapping children considered racially pure and bringing them to Germany to be raised as Nazis.

Ordering operations on eastern workers about to bear children considered unfit for Germanization.

Punishing by death non-Germans having sexual intercourse with German women.

Evacuation of enemy populations from their native lands and bringing them to Germany as slave laborers.

State Law Requiring $2,500 License Fee For Out-Of-State Fishing Boats Upheld

AUSTIN, March 10 (AP) — A state law requiring a $2,500 license fee for out-of-state commercial fishing boats was upheld in Supreme court today.

The opinion also in effect approved the state's assertion it held title to fish within its territorial waters.

Texas — in its tidelands dispute with the federal government — likewise claims title to oil and other minerals underlying its coastal waters.

Injunction Dissolved

The Supreme court dissolved a temporary injunction obtained by Vincent Depuglio of Galveston in 94th district court at Corpus Christi restraining the state game commission from enforcing the license law. The trial court judgment was reversed. It erred in holding the licensing statute unconstitutional as applied to Depuglio, the supreme court said.

The opinion said that the conservation of fish owned by the state was a "proper subject" under police powers for state legislation of this type.

Barge Sinks, Crew Of Six Feared Lost

TAMPICO, Mexico, March 10 (AP)—Planes are searching today for the missing crew of a barge loaded with caustic soda, reported sunk Friday in rough weather.

The captain of Pemex Tug 1, who towed the barge told the captain of the port here that he feared the barge's crew is lost. Six men were believed aboard.

The barge left Brownsville for Tampico with caustic soda valued at about 1,000,000 pesos ($200,000). The soda was for disinfection in the campaign against the foot and mouth disease.

Pennsylvania contains more than 130 known caves.

House Group Ponders Dual Defiance Of Subpoenas By Presidential Advisor

WASHINGTON, March 10 (U.P.)—A House labor subcommittee pondered today how tough to get with Presidential Adviser John R. Steelman, who defied two of its subpoenas on Mr. Truman's orders.

House committees can recommend that the House issue contempt citations against persons who fail to answer subpoenas. But Rep. Clare Hoffman, R., Mich., chairman of the labor subcommittee, declined to comment on the possibility of such action in Steelman's case.

Hoffman said the subcommittee would consider the issue at a closed session this morning and probably turn it over to the full labor committee.

Steelman returned the two subpoenas to Hoffman last night with a written explanation that President Truman directed him to refuse to appear before the subcommittee. One subpoena was delivered last Saturday and the second last Monday.

"After the receipt of each of these subpoenas, I promptly informed the President and in each instance the President directed me, in view of my duties as his assistant, not to appear before your subcommittee," he said.

The subcommittee is investigating the strike of the CIO United Public Workers against cafeterias in federal buildings here. Hoffman wanted to ask Steelman whether he had "interfered" in the situation.

A total of 1,685,203 major crimes were committed in the United States during 1946, according to FBI records.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who know me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Light Conditioning Drills Feature Hubber Training

DALLAS, March 10 (Special)—The second day of Spring training for the Lubbock Hubbers in the Dallas Rebels' camp will be held today, weather permitting, with only light conditioning drills on the schedule.

The Hubbers, part of a squad composed of candidates from Dallas, Odessa and Austin, were able to get their first drills yesterday, after damp grounds and cold weather had halted Moday's scheduled work.

The Lubbock players, under the direction of Rebel Manager Jimmy Adair, went through conditioning exercises and general light work, before calling it a day Adair declared that today and tomorrow will be spent in conditioning, with no batting practice being held before Friday.

Light Drills Stressed

The pitchers, with 18-year old Billy George "Cotton" Russell of Fort Worth and the Hubbers among them, will not be allowed to throw before Friday. Adair said that the hurlers would not be in shape before that time.

"When a fellow is out there in the box facing hitters," Adair said, "it is his natural inclination to chuck the ball past his opponent."

"It's the old competitive spirit asserting itself and it's fine for the game. But we can't risk the danger of unnecessarily bad flippers at this stage of practice."

Yesterday's two-hour drill comprised intense calithenics for the entire squad numbering 72 men. Following the limbering up exercises, the squads were sent on several laps around the field and then broke up into fast pepper games. Pitchers were held down to accuracy work, throwing lightly to catchers with an eye toward sharp aim.

Adair hopes to minimize muscular soreness through a gradual process of training.

If the weather remains favorable and players get enough work in the meantime, Adair may order a short intra-squad game Sunday.

Between . . . The Lines

—— By JOE KELLY ——

Bill Serena and Clem Cola, two of the mainstays in the Hubber march to a pennant in the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league, breezed in yesterday on their way to Dallas. The two rugged diamond stars, slightly grimy from a car trip from Alameda, Calif., were cheerful as they sat in Mrs. Sam Rosenthal's office and talked. Both were eager to report to the Dallas Rebels, where they will be given a chance to make good this year.

• • •

The ball players started out from Alameda Friday morning, at 6 in Bill's 1936 Ford and ran into bad luck almost immediately. They cracked the block in the car after 120 miles on the hgihway, but that didn't stop them. They poured in a can of block repair mixture and kept on going — at no more than 40 miles an hour. They took turns driving and keeping each other awake.

• • •

They arrived in Lubbock about 3:50 p. m. yesterday and went immediately to the Hub Clothiers to greet Mrs. Rosenthal. Serena bounced in with his usual cheerful, exuberant manner. Cola followed quietly, the same subdued grin on his face. Both were glad to be back in Lubbock and commented on how much it had seemed to grow since they had been gone. They said it hardly seemed like five months had gone by.

• • •

Serena, as usual, was the more talkative of the two men. He said that he had played about 12 games of winter ball in California and had been "lucky" in one or two. Both he and Cola worked during the winter, one for a steel company and the other for an oil company. They appeared to be in top physical condition and said they were ready to go.

• • •

Mrs. Rosenthal showed Serena a copy of Sporting News, which carried the story of his playing an accordian. He immediately started to read it and then laughed, exclaiming that the part where it said it kept him happy in Lubbock was wrong. When asked if he was carrying an accordian in the car, Bill laughed and remarked, that there wasn't room for it. "The back end of the car has five gallons of, ten gallons of water, clothes, suitcases and other stuff. Where would I put an accordion?"

• • •

Bill and Clem are looking forward to their tryout with the Rebels, hoping to make the grade. Mrs. Rosenthal said that if they couldn't make it, even though she was pulling for them, both of them were welcome back in Lubbock. Bill broke into a laugh and said that he already had told Dallas that he wanted to come back here if he couldn't make it with Dallas. Clem agreed that those were his sentiments.

• • •

Both players regretted that they didn't have time to visit friends, but they were faced with an eight-hour drive before getting to Dallas and they had their first workout for today. Bill kept calling Clem "Roomy" and Cola, for the most part, let Bill do the talking. They were interested in fellow ball players, where they were, what their prospects were and what kind of a club the Hubbers would have this season. Finally, after a short half hour, they got up and left, promising to come back this summer, if they could get away.

THE ROUNDUP: After reading about SMU beating the SMU pros in Saturday's football game, about all we can suggest to Coach Dell Morgan and Texas Tech is: Play the pros instead. . . . Bert Kahn writes from New York that he viewed the Lesnevich-Fox fight from ringside with NBA Prex Abe Greene and Lou Vella, Lesnevich's manager. . . . Kahn says Lubbock fans saw better fight in the Golden Gloves here . . . He also writes that he has almost completed good arrangements for both Bill Henderson and J. D. Kirkpatrick. . . . We wish we had been able to snap up C. T. Childress' plane ticket to New York for the Roach-Cerdan fight. . . . Rosenthal Field improvements will include separate lounging rooms for the umpires. Improvements are coming along in fine shape . . . Also, reserved seat tickets are selling faster each day, with the supply getting down to the limited stage . . . See you at ringside tonight in Sled Allen's arena, with a little salt for the alligator's tail.

Reds Look To Rookie Hitters

(By The Associated Press)

TAMPA, Fla., March 10 (AP) — Manager Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds hopes that rookies Hank Sauer and Ted Kluszewski will supply the extra base punch that has been missing from the Reds' attack for so long.

Both boast excellent minor league records as sluggers and the two have highlighted the Reds' drills with their punch.

Yesterday, each clubbed a homer as the Reds downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 13-3 in the Reds' first exhibition game of the season.

INDIANS PLAN TOUR

TUCSON, Ariz., March 10 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will hold their last workout here today before embarking on an 18-day tour of the west coast.

NATS COUNT ON ROOKIES

ORLANDO, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The Washington Senators, weakest hitting club in the American league in 1947, are pinning their hopes this year on a few rookies with fat minor league batting records.

The Nats are hoping that Southern association graduates Al Kozar and Gil Coan can maintain their .339 and .338 pace in the big time.

BRAVES VS. REDS

BRADENTON, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The Boston Braves open their grapefruit league campaign today against the Cincinnati Reds. Manager Billy Southworth has nominated Jim Pendergast, Al Lyons and Clyde Shoun for mound duty.

Boys Club Preps For Friday Night Card

Lubbock boys are going through strenuous drills every day at the Lubbock Boys club in preparation for the club fight night Friday, when 10 rounds of boxing will be offered.

This is the second series of bouts of the current season to be presented at the Boys club and others will be held on succeeding Friday nights. O. J. "Bo" Sexton, veteran referee, again will be the third man in the ring.

A total of 31 boys are working out daily, including the following boys in the 110-pound class, or lighter:

Heavier boys working out include John McWhorter, 149; Lester York, 140; Norman Dean, 177; Ken Aldridge, 138; Gaylen Brand, 175; Bill Pollard, 147; Kelley Dodson, 165; James Ferguson, 125; Robert Ferguson, 152; and Dan Williams, 160.

AMARILLO IN AAU PLAYOFF

AMARILLO, March 10 (AP)—The Graham-Hoeme Co. of Amarillo, champions of the Plains AAP Basketball tournament, will represent the Plains area in the national AAU tourney at Denver.

Graham-Hoeme survived a starting field of 35 teams in the second annual cage tourney.

MILCH HSU TRACK COACH

ABILENE, March 10 (AP) — Al Milch 1946 all-Border conference guard with the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys, and who was added to the coaching staff at Hardin-Simmons this spring as freshman mentor, will serve as track coach for the Cowboys this season.

Five Schools Place Men On Associated Press All-America Collegiate Quintet

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Players from Kentucky, St. Louis, Notre Dame, Iowa and Minnesota were named today to the 1948 Associated Press' first All-America collegiate basketball team.

The team, determined on a point basis by votes from 321 sports editors and writers in 40 states and the District of Columbia, is composed of:

Ralph Beard, 20-year-old Kentucky junior.

Ed Macauley, 29-year-old St. Louis junior.

Kevin O'Shea, 22-year-old Notre Dame sophomore.

Murray Wier, 21-year-old Iowa senior.

Jim McIntyre, 20-year-old Minnesota junior.

Beard Leads Poll

On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two for a second team spot, Beard polled 859 points, better than 53 per cent of a possible perfect total. He received 153 first team votes, 47 seconds.

Macauley was runnerup with 622 points on 112 first team votes and 31 seconds. O'Shea polled 596 points on 100 firsts and 48 seconds; Wier 487 on 91 and 16; and McIntyre 473 on 73 and 54.

Tony Lavelli, Yale junior; Alex Groza, Kentucky junior; Dwight Eddleman, Illinois junior; Arnold Ferrin, Utah senior; and George Kaftan, Holy Cross junior, were named as a second team.

A. L. (Amby) Bennett of the Oklahoma Aggies, was the only other player to receive more than 30 first team votes. He polled 189 points on 31 firsts, 17 seconds and topped a third team.

Third Team Personnel

Dick Dickey (175 points) North Carolina State; Don Forman (166) New York university; George Kok (156) Arkansas; and Bob Cousy (153) Holy Cross, are the other third-teamers.

Of the 239 players who received points, a fourth team was named of Adolph Schayes (150) New York university; Ed Mikan (136) DePaul; Ernie Vandeweghe (133) Colgate; Jackie Robinson (127) Baylor; and Walt Budko (125) Columbia.

Sixty-one players with 124 points down to 25, inclusive, received honorable mention. This group was headed by Slater Martin, Texas.

Rules Changes Are Favored

COLLEGE STATION, March 10 (AP)—Basketball Coach Marty Karow of Texas A. and M. college will present a favorable report to the national rules committee on three contemplated changes in mechanics of the game.

The report has been prepared from the opinions of basketball coaches of Texas junior colleges who used the rule changes in a state-wide tournament held at A. and M. college as one of a series of tests over the nation. They said better basketball would result, the fans would have a clearer understanding of the game and that play would be speeded up if these changes are adopted:

1. Allowing coaches to talk to their players during time-outs.
2. Raising the hand of a player charged with a rules infraction.
3. Moving all jump balls to the nearest of the three circles painted on the court.

Huddle Widely Used

None of the 16 coaches having teams in the tournament passed the opportunity to huddle with their players during time-outs. Most of the shouting from the benches was eliminated. Players received clear instructions when the defense or attack plans were changed. Minor faults were corrected.

The raising of the hand by a player after a foul caused spectators, coaches, players and officials alike to ask: "Why wasn't this done years ago?"

The Aggies could not hit from the field and were charged with 25 personal fouls.

Guard Al Madsen of Texas, sinking nine free throws out of 11, tied Slater Maritn, a teammate, for high point honors with 15. Bill Turnbow's seven were high for A&M.

Longhorns Beat Out Aggie Quint, 54-34

COLLEGE STATION, March 10 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns thumped Texas A&M, 54-34, here last night to close out the Southwest Conference basketball season.

The Aggies trailed, 25-18, at the end of the half.

Aggie Sam Jenkins started the second half with a field goal. It was the last score for the Farmers until the last six and one-half minutes of the game, when Don Volding dropped one in.

Full Awards Slate Set In Tourney Here

Officials of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Invitational boxing meet, scheduled April 1-5 at Sled Allen's wrestling arena, announced Tuesday night that awards will be made to every fighter who competes in the tournament.

All winners in the open division will receive a silver and maroon jacket, according to plans completed by directors, and the runner-up in each open weight class will be awarded a trophy. High school division winners will get trophies and the second place boxers will receive a golden glove. All fighters who enter the tourney will be awarded a silver glove, officials emphasized.

LaVern Roach Invited

O. J. (Bo) Sexton has been invited to referee the bouts and there is a possibility that LaVern Roach, young Plainview middleweight contender, will serve as guest referee for some of the fights.

Proceeds of the tournament will be donated to civic projects, Jaycee officials reported.

Jersey Joe Fights At Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott makes his first ring appearance tonight since losing a split decision to Joe Louis in a 15-round title match at New York City last December.

The New Jersey contender squares off in his Chicago debut against Austin Johnson, Atlantic City heavyweight, in a four round exhibition at the Coliseum.

A catfish stops eating in cold weather, and may remain almost motionless for months.

Roach And Cerdan To Tangle Friday

NEW YORK, March 10. (Special)—Boxing's biggest middleweight bout of the year will come off Friday night at Madison Square Garden and the "Youth vs. Age" match has the boys along Beak boulevard guessing.

European Champion Marcel Cerdan will represent Old Father Time when he battles the promising young Texan, LaVern Roach, who will carry the banners of the younger generation. The bout shapes up as a fistic natural, since it will match Cerdan's experience and power against Roach's speed and cunning.

Frenchman Is Aggressive

Off past performances, the 32-year-old Frenchman will likely go into the ring at the "House that Tex built" as the favorite Friday night. After first gaining international recognition by cleaning up in several Inter-Allied boxing meets in Algiers and Italy following the recent war, he picked up quite an American following in an auspicious debut here in which he whipped Georgie Abrams.

In other American starts, Cerdan quickly disposed of Harold Green, and won a narrow decision over tough Anton Raadik. More recently, he twice defended his European title with quick knockout triumphs over the champions of Poland and Italy, both bouts being staged in Paris.

Constantly aggressive, Cerdan hits hard and often. He goes out to kayo his opponent—and usually succeeds. Against Raadik in Chicago, however, the Frenchman apparently "ran out of gas" in the tenth round, when Raadik decked him three times and had him on the verge of a KO as the fight ended. Only a distinct edge in the early rounds gained the decision for Cerdan.

Roach Managers Confident

It was that closing rush by Raadik that has helped boost hopes high in the Roach camp. The youngster from Plainview, Texas, is conceded to be one of the best-conditioned boxers in the business, and his handlers are confident that his stamina, speed and counter-punching will be too much for the European champ—even though Roach was listed six pegs below Cerdan (who was fourth) in the most recent Ring magazine ratings in the middleweight class.

Roach, an orthodox fighter who packs a solid punch in both hands, has rocketed to the top via 19 successive victories. He moved into boxing's big time on January 10 with a convincing 10-round verdict over flashy Tony Janior of Youngstown, Ohio, at the Garden.

In his last bout, on February 19 at Miami Beach, Fla., the 22-year-old Texan scored at TKO over Al Thornton in seven rounds.

$100,000 Gate Possible

Because both Cerdan and Roach have been extremely popular with metropolitan fight fans, a gate approximating $100,000 would be none too surprising for Friday night's contest. According to the terms of a contract signed some time ago, the Frenchman will receive a 30 per cent cut, with Roach pulling down 25 per cent of the total for his efforts.

While no definite commitments have been made, there is already talk that the winner will be given a top-flight outdoor fight in one of the New York ball parks later this summer — perhaps with Champion Rocky Graziano, providing Graziano's suspension by the New York Boxing commission has been lifted by that date.

Marquis To Join Beaumont At Cuero

Bob Marquis, who led the Lone Star league last year in runs scored and stolen bases, has come to terms with Beaumont of the Texas league and will leave tonight for the Beaumont training camp at Cuero.

Marquis formerly attended Texas Tech. Last year was his first season in professional baseball.

As outfielder for Lufkin last season, Marquis hit .346 and stole 57 bases. Previously, he had returned two unsigned contracts to the Beaumont club. There were indications Tuesday that the 22-year-old ball player might be given a tryout this season at an infield position, possibly first base.

Marquis played with the Sundown semipro nine in 1946. After leaving Texas Tech he attended the University of Texas. He was not a candidate for the baseball team at either school.

Anton Legion Cagers Beat Lubbock Five

ANTON, March 10. (Special) — Ray's Grocery five of Lubbock was edged by the Anton Legion quintet, 51-41, in the championship tilt of the Anton Independent cage tourney here last night.

The Anton five led all the way in the extremely rough game, although the Lubbock cagers nearly deadlocked the count in the third period.

Spade copped third place in the tourney by defeating Muleshoe, 43-38, in the first tussle of the double bill.

New Skipper Taken From Many Askers

By WERNER RENBERG
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, March 10 (U.P.)—Here and there:

More than 100 applicants were considered before Bill Davis was chosen to manage the Odessa Oilers of the Longhorn league. Odessa officials pondered recommendations from major league bigwigs before finally choosing Davis, who piloted the Miami, Okla., club of the Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri league last year. Asked why he only won eight games for Miami, Davis replied that's all the games he pitched. He expects to pitch regularly this summer, however . . .

Twins Sign With Club

It looks like the Sherman-Denison club of the Big State league will have to furnish each of its players with dictionaries. The Twins, you see, signed a working agreement with the Washington Senators. And the Senators have sent some of their Cuban players to Sherman-Denison for seasoning. Seven are under contract already. More are expected to follow. Because of the large number of Cubans, the team also signed a Cuban to be manager so the Latins will know what the score is .

Pitcher "Jittery Joe" Berry has been resurrected from the ranks of free agents. He'll be back with the Tulsa Oilers of the Texas league this year. Berry won 18 and lost eight fo rthe Oilers in 1942. He was a real go-getter then. Following that season, the Texas league folded up for the war. And Joe had to follow the lure of the diamond elsewhere. Since then he was with Milwaukee, Philadelphia Athletics, Cleveland and Oklahoma City. Last year he was signed by the Shreveport Sports and won six while losing seven for the Louisianans. After the season was over he though about giving up baseball. But now we see that Berry, past the 40-year mark, is back with Tulsa. Al Vincent, new Tulsa manager, says the jittery one is jus tthe man he needs . . .

Front Office Shrotage

Look up in the front office.

The shortage of baseball executives is lots greater.

It takes ball players to win, of course, but the white collar workers are needed, too. And the wartime shortage of ball players has brought about a real scarcity of diamond executives. Only a few ball players were developed during the war. Things are just now getting back to normal. But there were much less executives brought up. Some of today's club presidents were taxi drivers or department store clerks just a few years ago. To help cope with this situation, George Trautman, boss of the minors, held a meeting recently to teach the tricks of the trade to executives.

Representatives from all major leagues in Texas attended the Cleveland confab. All were enthusiastic about the clinic's doings. Some of them are highly informed men who've been following baseball since they were big enough to lift a bat. But even they admitted that there were some things they don't know about the sport. And if they learned so much at Trautman's school, think how much the few lectures helped the young executives who are in their first or second years of being presidents.

Tourney Is Battle Of Speed Versus Power

KANSAS CITY, March 10. (AP)—The championship showdown in the six-day national intercollegiate (NAIB) basketball tournament was shaping up today as a battle between power and speed.

But the marathon meet was still without an outstanding favorite.

Sixteen teams, exactly half of the starting field, remained in the running after two days of gruelling competition. The championship contenders were to be cut to eight teams in games today and tonight, to four tomorrow, and two Friday. The title game will be Saturday night.

The lower bracket had a monopoly on power basketball as the second round got underway at noon (CST) with Beloit (Wis) college's big Gold and the Blue Devils of Lawrence Tech, Detroit, playing.

Defending champion Marshall college of Huntington, W. Va., one of the faster teams in basketball, headed the upper gracket of speedy quintets.

Bill Serena, Clem Cola Here Briefly

Two members of the 1947 pennant-winning Lubbock Hubbers of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league, Bill Serena and Clem Cola, were visitors here briefly yesterday afternoon.

The players, on their way to Dallas for tryouts with the Dallas Rebels of the Texas League, stopped off to see Mrs. Sam Rosenthal. They stayed in the city about half an hour.

Serena last year established a new homerun record for the league while playing shortstop for the Hubbers. Cola was a catcher for the Hub City crew and was loaned to Dallas at one point during the season. Serena probably will be made into an outfielder while Cola will be retained as a receiver.

The popular ex-Hubbers left Alameda, Calif., Friday morning at 6 in Serena's 1936 Ford, broke a block 120 miles from home and limped the remaining 1400 miles to Lubbock with a patched up block. They left here at 4:20 to continue their journey to Dallas, where they will report to Manager Jimmy Adair today.

Alligator On Wrestle Card

Rodney the Eighth is reputed to have spent a comfortable night Tuesday.

Rodney's lack of insomnia may not seem important to some people, but there probably will be a capacity house at Sled Allen's wrestling arena tonight, most of whom will be there to view Rodney the alligator. And a good night's sleep will make Rodney all the more agile in the ring with Tuffy Truesdell of St. Louis, who is going to wrestle him.

Highlight Of Card

The wrestling act between Rodney and Tuffy will be the highlight to tonight's card, which starts at 8 p. m. Three regular grappling matches precede the alligator show and the whole card is packed with solid entertainment.

The main event will bring together two men who have been evenly matched in the past and who have been crowd pleasers, with Al Getz of Pittsburgh, Pa., meeting Ace Freeman of New York City. The match is slated to be a best two out of three falls affair, with a one-hour time limit attached.

Getz has been unhappy for the past few weeks, having lost his Southwestern Junior heavyweight wrestling crown in Amarillo recently. But if he tries any rough stuff with Freeman, the Pittsburgh bad man will find he has run into someone with as much wrestling ability and as much ability to dish it out.

Funk Meets O'Dowdy

In the semi-final, Dory Funk of Hammond, Ind., will attempt to pin rowdy-dowdy Pat O'Dowdy. This match between two capable, experienced grunt and groan artists, should be one of the best crowd pleasers of the evening.

The preliminary go will bring together rough Karl Gray and cagy Gorilla Poggi, who knows his way around the ring with his eyes closed.

Tickets will be on sale from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. at Wylie's Drug store, with no advance in prices.

NEW COACH AT VAN

VAN, Tex., March 10. (AP) — James O. Reeves will come here from White Oak to become head football coach of Van High school succeeding Leamon A. Phillips. Phillips is retiring to his stock farm near Corsicana. Reeves has been backfield coach at White Oak the past two seasons.

WYOMING IN NCAA MEET

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP) — The University of Wyoming with a season record of 18 wins and seven defeats today was selected to represent District 7 in the Kansas City N.C.A.A. Basketball tournament, March 19-20.

Girls State Basket Tournament Opens

HILLSBORO, March 10. (U.P.)—Sixteen teams will compete today in the state high school girls basketball tournament with Maydelle and Stanton given outside chances of taking the crown from defending champion East Chambers, the favorite.

Maydelle's gal basketeers will be out to make it a sweep in state honors for the Cherokee county hamlet of 300. The Maydelle boys team won the state schoolboy crown in Class B.

Consolation and winners bracket quarterfinals games will be played tomorrow.

Three games will be played Saturday night — the championship and consolation finals and the game for third place in the championship flight.

Today's pairings:

Upper bracket — Maydelle vs. Cranfills Gap, 1 p. m.; Aledo vs. Friona, 2 p. m.; Gruver vs. West Columbia, 3 p. m.; Stanton vs. Academy, 4 p. m.

Lower bracket — Peacock vs. Yantis, 6:30 p. m.; Mesquite vs. Cotton Center, 7:30 p. m.; Forreston vs. Huckaby, 8:30 p. m.; East Chambers vs. Fredericksburg, 9:30 p. m.

AAU Boxing Meet Slated At Kilgore

KILGORE, March 10 (AP)—The East Texas AAU Boxing tournament begins here tonight, with 45 entrants expected.

The meet will last three days.

Pairings will be made immediately after the fighters weigh-in during the afternoon. The first bout is slated for 8 p. m. in the Kilgore High school gymnasium.

Artie Dorrell, Dallas, former amateur and professional boxer, will referee. Ray Thurmond and Bobby Manziel, both of Tyler, and Bill Stages, Gladewater High school coach, will be the judges.

Hubby Tossed Eggs, Wife Gets Divorce

LOS ANGELES, March 10 (AP) —Mrs. David May was awarded a divorce after telling the judge her musician husband threw eggs at her "if they were just a bit too well done."

As she was going out the door she recalled that she forgot to tell the court "there was a plate wrapped around the eggs he threw at me."

"Sometimes," she testified, "he'd shine the sunlamp in my face and try to make me confess I'd been out with some other man."

19 LETTERMEN BACK

ABILENE, March 10 (U.P.) — Nineteen letermen will be among those reporting for opening of spring football training April 5 at Hardin-Simmons, Coach Warren B. Woodson said today.

Lamesa Signs James Prince

LAMESA, March 10 (AP)—James T. Prince, who was batting champion of the minor leagues for 1947, has signed a contract with the Lamesa Lobos of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Prince, who is from Dallas, will join the local club for the opening of training March 29 at which time plans for a formal presentation of the trophy emblematic of his championship will be announced.

To Get Slugger Award

The husky left-hand hitter will receive the 1947 Louisville Slugger trophy, an engraved full size sterling silver bat.

Prince made his record playing with Midland of the Longhorn league. He was drafted by Lamesa last winter. He is expected to be used as an outfielder here.

Prince got 178 hits, scored 111 runs and drove in 141 more incompiling his record last year. He was in his third season of professional baseball.

Woodruff Boomed For Coaching Job At Louisiana State

WACO, March 10 (AP) — Bob Woodruff, Baylor university's head football coach, refused to comment today on a report he is being considered for the coaching job at Louisiana State university.

(In his column, "Sports Shots," today, Associated Press Sports Editor Harold V. Ratliff mentioned Woodruff as "leading nonalumnus" candidate for the job.)

LSU Coach Bernie Moore recently was chosen Southeast Conference commissioner.

Woodruff was hired last spring by the Baptist school here to succeed Frank Kimbrough. His contract has two more years to run.

Wayland And Sayre Open Tourney Play

AMARILLO, March 10 (AP) — Wayland college of Plainview, and Sayre Junior college of Sayre, Okla., meet here tonight in the opening game of the southwest regional basketball tournament.

Amarillo college meets the Oklahoma Military academy of Claremore in the other game on the night's bill.

The two games touch off a 14-game eliminaton series, including both night and afternoon games. The tournament ends Saturday.

The winner and runnerup teams of the tournament qualify for the National Junior College Athletic association championship March 23-27 at Springfield, Mo.

Other teams in the Amarillo tournament include the Murry Aggies of Tishomingo, Okla.; the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla.; the Eastern Oklahoma Aggies of Wilburton, Okla.; Blinn of Brenham, Tex.; Lon Morris of Jacksonville, Tex., and Tyler Junior college of Tyler, Tex.

Lubbock And Breckenridge Head List Of Entries In Abilene Invitational Meet

Breckenridge and Lubbock head the incomplete list of entries in the first annual Abilene Invitational track meet scheduled Saturday, officials reported Tuesday night, with most of the top track squad of West Texas slated to compete for championship honors.

Strong Odessa, certain to be the meet favorite, is expected to file an entry blank before the deadline and teams from San Angelo and Big Spring are assured. Numerous Class A and B schools have reported that they will compete in the contest.

Preliminaries will get underway about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, with finals starting at 1:30.

Illness hampered the Lubbock Westerner cinder squad in workouts Tuesday afternoon, with sprinters Don Decker and Malcolm Young out of uniform as a result of colds and influenza. Several other members of the squads are doubtful starters Saturday, including strong contenders in field events.

Coach Marlin Hayhurst said last night that the squad was making satisfactory progress, however, and that he believed the squad would be able to make a strong race against the Odessa and Breckenridge teams for championship honors.

Relay Team Promising

Three Westerner sprinters, Charley Williams, Earl Hutcherson and Decker, and ace quartermiler Jim Johnson will spark the Lubbock entry. Charles Curry, Norman Dean and Dick Schmidt are rated as three of the best weight contestants in West Texas, and Bob Schmidt is expected to pick up some points in the high hurdles. The crack mile relay quartet could top the field in that event.

If Odessa enters the meet as planned, Byron (Santone) Townsend and Gerald Campbell will be the point-making specialists of the Bronco squad. Townsend is a fast dash entry and a brilliant high-jumper, as well as a better than average discus threat and low hurdler. Campbell has placed in the state meet in the low hurdles for two consecutive years and is a capable dash contestant.

A&I To Maintain Scholarship Plan

KINGSVILLE, March 10 (AP) — Texas A. & I. college is greatly interested in entering conference competition in sports but does not intend to cut out its athletic scholarship program to do so, officials said today.

This was the sentiment voiced by President E. N. Jones, Coach Dewey Mayhew, and Dr. George W. McCulley, chairman of the faculty athletic committee, following an organization meeting of the proposed Pioneer Intercollegiate conference in San Antonio Friday.

Representatives of 10 Texas colleges agreed generally upon competition in speech, journalism, and fine arts but did not agree on the practicality of "simon pure" athletics.

Foreigners Coming Into U. S. At Rate Near High Of 1930s

By ROGER STUART
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 10 — Immigration to the United States, blocked during the war years, is back in full swing. The number of aliens crossing American borders, both legally and illegally, is greater than at any time since the 1930's.

More than a half-million foreigners legally entered the country in the last fiscal year. Approximately 366,000 were listed as temporary visitors—the greatest annual total since 1913. And 147,292 came as permanent-resident immigrants.

Illegal Entries Unknown

How many others came illegally, nobody knows. The immigration and naturalization service estimates there were not more than 2000. Yet 200,000 illegal entrants were sent back across United States borders to adjoining countries in 1947 alone, according to Watson B. Miller, immigration commissioner.

More than 76,000 of the immigrants admitted last year, official records show, came from countries not bound by our quota system adopted in 1924. But the number may have been much greater, judging from Mr. Miller's testimony before a congressional committee.

"We know the number of non-quota immigrants who are in this country," he said, "only by reason of departure information."

Check On Departures

The system of checking on departures, as the commissioner explained it, operates this way:

"If a visitor is supposed after six months' permission to visit here, to go away in August, a red tab springs up in July, so we can write this person at the address that we have and ask him in a polite way to give us the time of his departure, the mode of his departure, and the place of his departure. This is not always perfect, but it is as good a check as we can devise."

Commissioner Miller conceded that one of the immigration service's "uncertainties" concerns "the number of persons who have got in here in devious ways."

Investigation Service

As for the service's investigation of aliens who overstay their leaves, officials admit they still are behind with their work. This, according to Joseph Savoretti, assistant commissioner, is due to shortage of personnel.

Citing last October as a typical month, Mr. Sacoretti told Congress there were 163,000 aliens to be investigated at that time. Seventeen thousand investigations were completed that month, but an additional 18,000 cases were received in the same period, making a total of 164,000 uninvestigated cases at the end of the month.

Doll With Realistic Burp Is Now Offered

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—The great-granddaughter of the old rag doll was presented today to childhood society.

She burps.

That, says her inventor, the Eugenia Doll company, is her chief qualification as a child's companion.

Sound engineers probed her interior and endowed her with a genuine-sounding burp when she is laid across the shoulder and her back pressed.

It's the latest achievement in the effort to meet childrens' insatiable desire for completely life-like dolls, a company spokesman said.

The burping doll's mother was a drinking-wetting doll and her grandmother a crying doll. Her great-grandmother, bless her memory, was the old rag doll.

LONG TO SHORT

Iowa has become the state where the short corn grows. Ninety-nine per cent of the state's corn acreage now is planted to short-stalked hybrids.

U.S. buses, subways, and streetcars carried 13 billion passengers in 1940, 18 billion in 1942 and 23 billion in 1945.

SAFETY FIRST — To avoid prosecution under Paris law, dog owners who take their pets for a stroll are usually followed by an attendant armed with a pan and a whiskbroom. Heavy Bombardment Group Is Activated

FORT WORTH, March 10 (AP)—Activation of an air force reserve very heavy bombardment group at Carswell air force base here was announced yesterday.

Col. Jack B. Jaynes of Fort Worth commands the unit, the 446th bomb group. Headquarters will be at Carswell Field.

The unit includes four B-29 squadrons, the 704th and 705th, here, and the 706th at El Paso and the 707th at Lubbock.

A pursuit outfit, the 56th night fighter squadron, will be based at Waco. It will be equipped with P-82 double Mustangs.

Lt. Col. S. C. Taula of Fort Worth will command the 704th squadron, Maj. Jack Murphy of Fort Worth the 705th, Lt. Col. Robert De Bord of El Paso the 706th, Lt. Col. R. C. Johnston of Lubbock the 707th, and Maj. Clinton Breeding of Waco the 56th.

Western Europe Nations Plan Efforts To Help Themselves

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Let's continue to bask while we can in that little burst of sunshine which we conjured up yesterday out of western Europe's efforts at rehabilitation.

DeWitt Mackenzie

Take the Brussels conference among Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, which already has laid down the political and legal basis of a western European economic and military union.

There are of course many implications in this development but to me the most important is the tacit recognition that self-help must be the essential feature of peace and plenty.

This recognition perhaps has been a bit slow in coming to some countries which had been hard hit and hoped that the U. S. A. would put them on their feet. However, there now seems to be a general understanding that, while America may be expected to play its part, yet in the long western Europe can survive only through its own efforts. Uncle Sam has no intention of playing Sinbad the sailor to an economic old-man-of-the-sea.

Several Things Help

Several things have helped bring about the realization that self help is the real answer to the problem. One is the growing fear of the westward advance of Communism which can best be combatted by economic rehabilitation. Another probably has been the stern scrutiny which the United States Congress has been giving foreign aid proposals. Then recently a fresh element of hope has been injected into the situation by an improvement in crop prospects, after last year's disastrous harvests.

One of the hardest hit of all the countries is England, and she has taken the realistic attitude that while she must have outside help yet recovery must depend mainly upon herself. Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, has kept hammering it home that the country must pull itself up by its boot-straps, the measures inaugurated by the Socialist government have been truly Spartan.

See Further Evidence

Yesterday we saw further evidence of this determination. Cripps summed up Britain's outlook for the coming year in a white paper which made it clear that the already hard pinched public would have less to eat and wear. However, while "the year is bound to be one of great anxiety, . . . we can help to make it the first year of a great upward turn in the European economic recovery." The chancellor continued:

"This year will beyond doubt be dominated by the decisions of the U. C. Congress on the grant of aid to Europe for reconstruction. Without further substantial external aid, we can have no hope of recovering equalibrium at a reasonable standard of life within the next few years."

ITCHING

Tormented by itching of dry eczema, simple piles, common skin irritation? Soothing, medicated Resinol Ointment is a proved reliever of such distress. Its ingredients, often used by doctors, act gently to give lingering comfort. Well worth trying.

Plans Outlined For Bluebonnet Relays

BROWNWOOD, March 10 (AP) —John A. Houston, Brownwood High school athletic director, is making plans for the Bluebonnet relays, which will be held here March 27 after a lapse of six years.

He said 33 high schools already have filed entries. Deadline is March 20.

Earle Meadows, 1936 Olympic pole-vaulting champion who is a stronger contender for a place on the 1948 U. S. team, will appear in exhibitions during the relays.

HOUSTON COACH NAMED

HOUSTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—Elmer Simmons, Oklahoma High school coach, today was named chief assistant to Clyde Lee, new football coach at the University of Houston.

BELGIAN DIVORCES

BRUSSELS, March 10 (AP) — Divorces are breaking all records in Belgium, the official bulletin of statistics tardily discloses. Recorded divorces in 1946 totaled 5,653 against the average figure of 2,537 for previous years.

FEATURED PERFORMERS—The Hartleys, artists of the rolling globes, will be one of the featured performers of Clyde Bros. Circus, which is to show in Lubbock, March 12, 13, 15 and 16 under sponsorship of the Lubbock Optimist club. The Optimists' proceeds from the sale of tickets will be put into the Junior Optimist club capital fund to be used for expansion of the boys' club building in the 2400-block on Second street. The circus will be presented in seven performances Friday through Tuesday at Nineteenth and Taylor avenue. Tickets may be obtained from Optimist club members and will go on boxoffice sale Friday morning at Wylie's, Mark Halsey No. 3, Clark's Drug store and the College Bookstore.

Are Fleas Allergic To Radioactivity?

Lady, Canine Survivor Of The Bikini Blast Never Scratches

ST. LOUIS, March 10 (U.P.) — Lady, once the queen of Bikini atoll, is a lady. She never scratches.

The reason, said Coxswan James Nestor, 19, who addpted the frisky black-and-white terrier that survived the atomic experiments at Bikini, is that "all her fleas must have been blasted away by the bomb."

Lady is believed to have been the only dog on Bikini to pull through the double blast in the atoll's lagoon. One year after the experiments in 1946, she was found running about one of the sand spits by an advance group of Seabees searching for signs of radio-activity.

She was taken aboard the transport U. S. S. Chilton by the Seabees and turned over to Nestor.

Under Observation

When the Chilton docked again in the United States, Nestor asked if he could take Lady to his home in St. Louis. Navy officials assented on the condition that the dog undergo extensive observation.

Lady spent a month under the care of Navy scientists at San Francisco, who feared she might have been affected by the atomic blasts or radioactivity. What happened to her there hasn't been disclosed, but she was returned to Nestor with a clean bill of health.

"She hasn't a scar of any kind," Nestor said when he turned Lady over to his parents here. "She's a little near-sighted, though. But no fleas. Hasn't had any since we found her."

Lady Well-Dressed

Lady, after her life in the tropics, doesn't care much for cold weather. On chilly days she wears a natty blue topcoat bearing the insignia of amphibious forces with the one chevron and crossed anchors of a coxswain.

Nestor believes Lady was left on the atoll before the bombs were exploded by some unit that forgot about her in the rush to evacuate. When the Seabees discovered her she was wild and apparently enjoying her freedom.

A rabbit trap baited with a hambone was her undoing.

Local Man Enters Motorcycle Races At Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Mar. 10. (Special)—The American Motorcycle Association's national championship races here Friday and Saturday will have one entry from West Texas, Lee Christian of 1713 13th street, Lubbock.

Christian, a mechanic for the Lubbock Motorcycle company, is one of 13 Texas drivers to enter this annual race, considered the "Kentucky Derby" of the motorcyclists. The Lubbock entrant will ride his bike in the expert division over the new four-mile beach and road course here.

35 States Represented

Thirty-five states, the District of Columbia and Canada are represented in the entry list submitted so far, with every rider aiming for a lion's share of the $7,500 purse.

Among the various types of motorcycles to be used in the competition will be 64 British made machines, 92 Indians, 164 Harley Davidsons and one German made BMW (Bavarian Motor Works.)

Director Bill France, after glancing at the entries in the race, declared. "There's no doubt in my mind that the record of 86 miles per hour will be broken and a new speed record of well over 90 miles per hour will be achieved.

Christian has entered the expert race, which will be over the 200-mile course, the toughest race of them all. He will have as opponents such outstanding men a Forrester Wilkinson of Compton, Md., J. B. Jones of Anderson, Mr. and Ted Boy of Baltimore, Md.

Other Texans Entered

Other Texans in the 200-mile event are Bill Anderson, W. J. Landry, Morris Legg and Eugene Warnell of Houston; Les Meyers and Glen Patton of Wichita Falls; Muriel Pitcox and Francis Wood of San Antonio; Claud Dawson and Bill Meador of Waco; Alpheus Town of Tyler; and Cowboy Ranstead of Corpus Christi.

BOWLING TOURNEY SLATED

AMARILLO, March 10 (AP) — Borger will be host to the fourth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling Association's tournament April 23-25, May 1-2 and May 8-9. Prize money estimated at $3,750 will be awarded.

New Gadgets To Make World Interesting, And Dangerous

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10. — The world of tomorrow will be interesting—and at the same time dangerous.

It will be exciting because of the new gimmicks science is cooking up. One will sizzle a steak "medium-well" in 10 seconds; "well-done" in 15. Another, an electronic dust collector, will suck in 99 per cent of the dust, lint and pollen in the whole house. Mama won't have to swing the dust rag more'n once a month. She won't have to wash the curtains but once a year. White ones, even.

The dust collector, science says, also will sound the death knell of the common cold, since while it is snuffling in all of the dust it will snuffle all of the stray germs at the same time.

No Buttons To Push

In the future, the lights will go on in a room as soon as you cross the threshold, and flick off automatically when you go out. No hands. Modern man is to busy to go around pushing buttons.

It'll soon be possible for one family to sit at home and do the baby sitting for the whole neighborhood, thanks to a little gadget that operates on the principle of the inter-office communication system.

The kids down the block get into a pillow fight and on goes a light in the sitter's home, telling which house the scrap is in. All of the dope except the name of the kid who started it. That may come later.

The mechanical "sitter" is so smart that it even picks up the babies' breathing, so that if one of them breaks out with the croup, the daddy in the sitter family can put on his rubbers and run over with an inhaler, and a hot water bottle.

Wrist Watch Radios

Before long, you'll be able to walk into a drug store and come out with one of those two-way wrist watch radios like Secretary of Commerce Harriman gave Mr. Truman for Christmas.

So much for the interesting part of life.

For the dangerous part. For that you can blame a handsome gentleman named Gordon Volkenant, who calls himself a "short hair" scientist. He works for Minneapolis Honeywell and goes around the country making lectures on how simple electronics are.

Mr. V., a fine father and a family man, was very proud of a new invention he and his colleagues had thought up. So he tucked one under his arm and took it home to show to the little woman. He shouldn't have.

It's called a "husband detector." You hide the thing behind a drape or a radio or something and when somebody walks through the front door, it buzzes—like a five-alarm fire, as they say in Chicago. Day or night.

Mrs. V., being a woman who likes to play guinea pig to her husband's inventions, tried it out at night.

Mr. V., found that his gadget worked too well. Far too well. He came tip-toeing up the steps that first night, shoes in hand, and lifted the latch. Being an inventor, he had himself a non-creak door. It didn't creak, but the husband detector was on the job. It went off and his wife came looping down the steps to greet him with one eye and look at the clock with the other.

It was 3 in the a. m.

The darn thing probably will be on the market before our inventor friend gets out of the doghouse.

Vet's Wrist Watch Still Chasing Him

SAN JOSE, Calif., March 10. (AP) — Someday Lt. C. J. Middleton may catch up with his wrist watch.

In November, 1943, the air corps pilot left it for repair at a Norwich, England, jewelry shop. Three days later, he was shot down and interned by the Germans. Liberated, he couldn't remember the jeweler's address.

Three months ago, Middleton met a man from Norwich. When the Englishman returned home, he advertised for the watch in a Norwich newspaper. The jeweler saw the ad and mailed the watch to Middleton's home here.

Middleton's in Japan now.

Tech Judgers Third In Oklahoma Show

The Texas Technological college junior livestock judging team was ranked second in the judging of sheep and horses and finished third in a field of 12 teams at the Oklahoma Fat Stock Show in Oklahoma City Monday, according to information received at Texas Tech Tuesday.

Clinton Ritter, of Lawn, placed third in the judging of sheep and fifth in cattle and Robert Cox, of Lubbock, placed fifth in the judging of horses.

Team scores for the first four places are as follows: Oklahoma A&M, 4,594; Texas A&M, 4,531; Texas Tech, 4,508; and Kansas, 4,506.

Members of the Texas Tech team other than those mentioned above include Jack Burkhalter, Seymour; W. D. Hancock, Jayton; Ed McLeroy, Brownfield; and Robert Mims, San Angelo. The team is coached by R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, who accompanied it to Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Nobody With Brass Has New Outlet

Press Agent Will Help Marry Off Daughter To Rich Hubby

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP) — Snaring a rich husband is a highly developed art in New York, and smart mothers now are hiring press agents to get their debutante daughters married.

Here is the way it works;

Mrs. Maggie Nobody is a social climbing widow of middle age. She has a little money, a daughter and more brass than a shell factory.

The only object Mrs. Nobody has in life is to muscle her way into what passes for society here—it is sometimes called "chaos with class"—and marry off her empty-headed kid into a family with big dough.

Meet Right People

Some time back Mrs. Nobody forked out a considerable number of dollars to an improverished lady of quality with lots of social entree but little cash. This hard-up peddler in lavender and old lace saw that little Gladys Nobody went to the right schools and met the right people.

She also superintended the coming out party at which Gladys was formally introduced to society. About half the Social Register guests who were invited showed up. They didn't care much for Mrs. Nobody but after all their kids had all gone to the same school and anyway the champagne was free.

Gladys looks like twelve miles of broken road before she puts her makeup on. But she's been taught how to wear expensive clothes and talks a smart hard patter.

Now On The Market

Everyone in their circle knows that Mrs. Nobody has now put Gladys on the matrimonial market and is looking for a sucker.

Dipping again into her slender resources, Mrs. Nobody hires a press agent to advertise her product. He may line up Gladys a job as a society model—as everybody knows the rich young boys like to date glamorous models.

He also will see to it that Gladys is mentioned frequently in the society news and that she goes to the fashionable places. Any lad who takes Mrs. Nobody's filly out for the evening had better count on spending at least $50 She doesn't think it's cute to go to those funny out-of-the-way spots where people drink beer.

Mama Does Her Bit

Mama Nobody does her bit to keep her daughter before the public, too. She has an arrangement with a gossip columnist whereby she relays bits of social scandal to him and in return he mentions Gladys in the paper—favorably of course.

How will it all end? Well, the field is cluttered with brittle dowryless daughters being pushed by conspiring mothers. The chances are that Gladys will marry some equally brittle young man who lives on his prospects rather than by his sweat.

When Gladys discovers her Prince Charming is a glossy pauper and the young man discovers that Mrs. Nobody's kitty is about empty, they will probably quarrel and nag their way into the divorce courts.

Cabbie Keeps Two Wives Three Years

GASTONIA, N. C., March 10. (AP)—A 28-year-old taxi driver testified in superior court today he maintianed two wives only six miles apart for three years. The driver, Monroe P. Adams, pleaded guilty to a bigamy charge.

He said he explained to his wife in Gastonia that he worked nights, and that he told his wife in Cramerton, six miles away, that he worked days.

Judge George Patton gave Adams a suspended five-year prison sentence, fined him $200 and court costs, and ordered him to return to his first wife and their two children.

New Farm At Tech Planned

Leveling of 160 acres out of native sod on the Texas Technological farm was begun Tuesday for the purpose of establishing an agronomy farm for the study of a series of long-range crop rotations and soil treatments, according to Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department at the college.

Plans call for the development of two irrigated rotations and a plot of 40 acres to be terraced for the carrying out of a dry land rotation, Dr. Young said.

To Include Alfalfa

The first irrigated area will include alfalfa and extend over a period of 12 years with the rotation of crops in the following order: Alfalfa, cotton, grain sorghums, small grain, then back to alfalfa.

The second irrigated area will be used for the rotation of cotton, grain sorghums, small grain, a clover crop, then back to cotton and will extend over a four year period.

The dry land plot will be used to rotate cotton, grain sorghums, small grains and fallowed land.

Intensive Study Planned

The 40 acres will be divided into five plots of eight acres each with the crop on each being different and managed in such a way that each lot will grow the same crop and lie fallow for two years in succession. On the dry farm an effort will be made to determine the chemical changes in fertility on each lot during the rotation and this information will be used for experimentation and class work.

"We will fertilize the irrigated areas but not the dry land farm due to the fact that since water limits the growth of plants, no advantage could be gained from fertilizing dry land," Dr. Young said.

The type of irrigation system to be used has not been decided upon pending receipt of further information on the various systems, the professor stated.

Best Simile of the Week: As necessary as a juke-box to a teen-age hangout.

* * *

TEXANS recently learned plans of the State Prison board for reorganization and modernization of the state's penitentiary system. More will be heard about these plans as time rolls along and informed citizens will commend the program, long overdue.

But as the state moves slowly toward solution of its long pressing prison problem, it is time, we think, that similar attention be paid our system of reformatories, if, indeed, what we have can be called a "system."

That segment of our youth which annually falls into the toils of the law long has been poorly administered to. Reorganization of reformatories is a "must" in the minds of those who are even so much as slightly informed regarding the subject.

* * *

Not long ago, Miss Katherine Yenroot, chief of the U. S. Childrens bureau in Washington, paid a visit to Texas. In addition to surveying the state's reformatory situation, she made some recommendations to the Texas Training School Code commission.

Among other things, Miss Lenroot suggested more careful segregation of children in reformatories—separation, especially, as to age groups and degree of anti-social outlook. The Children's bureau chief also contended for more and widely scattered reformatories in a state the size of Texas, so incarcerated youngsters could be kept in institutions closer to relatives and friends where advisable.

Another point made by Miss Lenroot, and a well taken point it is, was development of a program which will tend to keep any committed child from believing that "all is lost." She feels, rightly, that every effort should be made to impress youngsters in reformatories with the fact that they can be straightened out and go back into the world with as good a chance as any other individual.

* * *

OUR reformatory set-up in Texas remains archaic to this good day. We have only three institutions, one at Gatesville, for boys; one at Gainesville for white girls; another at Brady, for negro girls. A state as large as Texas, from standpoints of population and area, needs more reformatories. It needs, too, institutions differing in approach, so they may better serve the requirements of the youngsters committed to their care.

The trouble with old style reformatories is that too many of them are nothing more than "finishing schools" from which inmates "graduate," later, to penitentiaries. Whether new style reformatories can better this condition may be questionable, but a change to them certainly is worth trying.

The Texas Training School code commission at this time is readying reformatory improvement suggestions which will be laid before the Legislature when next it meets in January of 1949. Sound citizens of Texas will do well to watch the program and lend their support to any and all parts of it which auger for improvement in our reformatory set-up.

HIZZONER Mayor Bestwick is an automobile man in his spare time, hence may be considered to know more about cars and driving them, than the average individual.

Therefore, when Hizzoner comments on cars and driving, he speaks with the voice of some authority.

The other day some of us were talking about break-neck automobile jaunts over the country, and knocking off 700 to 1,000 miles from "kin see to-cain't see." The mayor put in his thoughts on the subject.

Said he:

"When a man reaches his middle years he should limit his driving to 400 miles per day and give himself enough time to make that 400 miles so he won't have to run over 60 miles per hour."

Pretty sound advice, it seems to us.

* * *

The mayor went on a little further, too.

"A man can drive a car 1,000 miles in a stretch, or 1,500 miles in a couple of days of hard pounding, and it won't hurt the car.

"A good garage can change the oil, put on a grease job and the car will be ready for another grind.

"But cars are tougher than men—espeically men grown past their youth. It takes more than a figurative change of oil and a grease job to bring the man back to where he can take another beating."

The mayor "has something there," and men might do well to realize it.

EITHER President Truman has decided to go down fighting,

BY DREW PEARSON: THERE'S NOTHING STAGNANT ABOUT FLORIDA'S POLITICS

Southerners Are Resentful Of Truman "Setback"

DELAND, Fla.—Every newspaperman who takes a winter trip to Florida thinks he has to justify the jaunt by writing a powerful "think" piece on the political, economic and social future of that state—plus whether Sen. Claude Pepper will be re-elected.

PEARSON

I am going to vary the technique somewhat by writing first about a fisherman. Then, if we have time, I'll take up Claude Pepper, the race problem, and the high cost of suntan cream.

The fisherman's name is Tom Flowers, and I consider him something of a miracle man. He's the only person in history who's been able to make me catch fish.

Ever since I used to try to entice catfish out of the Neosho river at the age of ten back in Kansas, I have aspired to be a fisherman. It remained an ambition not even remotely achieved. In pursuit of this ambition I have fished in all sorts of places and under all sorts of conditions, from the Virgin islands to Maine and from the Bahamas to the Chesapeake. From our front porch in Maryland I can almost drop a line into the Potomac, but I can fish there for a full day at a time—and no luck. Other people in the same boat can haul them in, but there seems to be something allergic about my line as far as fish are concerned. When they see my bait they split their gills laughing. You can even see the water rippling with their mirth. In fact, the only time I have had the remotest luck in catching fish was tossing hand grenades into the rivers of the Balkans.

Therefore, when Mr. and Mrs. Morris McGill of Cassadaga, Florida, said they were going to take me fishing, I was polite but that was about all. I could easily have predicted that I would catch nothing, and would have been sure the prediction would boost my 83 per cent average.

That, however, was before I had met Tom Flowers.

Hull Fished Here

Tom, I was told, had fished with about every important nabob in the U. S. A and quite a few outside the U. S. A. Cordell Hull once came down from Washington to fish with him, as did the editor of Field and Stream, while one man wrote all the way from South Africa to ask for a date on Tom Flowers' fishing calendar. In fact, Tom has so many fishing customers that he's booked up weeks in advance and it's about as hard getting a fishing date with him as it is getting a haircut at the millionaire's barbershop in Palm Beach.

But despite this advance buildup, I remained unimpressed. However, being the perfect guest, I went fishing. I even got up at 4:30 a. m. and drove with Tom about 25 miles up into the jungles of the St. Johns river, arriving there before dawn.

Tom Flowers, I began to realize, was not one to take fishing preparations lightly. The time had to be right. The place had to be right. The bait had to be right. After that if you didn't catch bass, there just weren't any bass around to be caught.

I asked Tom Flowers what was the secret of his ability to catch fish. He said it was the fact that in the days when he was catching fish for his wife's market, he had to catch 'em or not eat. Fishing, said Tom, is not always a sport. It can be a grim business.

Tom has been to a lot of places, including a day shown around Washington by the then Secretary of State; but he says he would rather live in his bungalow on the banks of the St. Johns river and do what he wants to do than swap places with a newspaper columnist or Claude Pepper, or even the Secretary of State.

Probably he's right.

Oh yes—I almost forgot the point of the story Under Tom Flowers' tutelage, I finally cast off my fishing jinx by catching eight black bass, the legal limit under the game laws of Florida.

SOUTHERN politicos say they are sore about the Truman civil-rights message because they had just begun to make strides to put their own house in order. . . Gov. Shrom Thurman of South Carolina went all out to prosecute the white taxi-drivers who lynched a negro near Greenville . . . Georgia, under Ellis Arnall, had abolished its poll tax . . . South Carolina was getting ready to abolish its tax . . . Now, say political leaders, this progress will be reversed . . . Young southerners don't seem worried about Truman's civil-rights program.

Students at Stetson university, plus young reporters on various newspapers said they thought it was a political tempest-in-a-teapot . . . Karl Bickel, who retired as head of the United Press because he wanted to take life easy, is now busier than ever running the town of Sarasota, plus the Ringling museum, plus the Florida historical society, plus any other enterprise that helps the community. Regarding race relations, Karl says: "The thing that will solve the negro problem is high wages for field hands. When they get paid well they want to buy things They not only improve themselves, but they also help business."

Florida Merry-Go-Round

Don't say Florida isn't broad-minded. The John B. Stetson university even welcomed this Lee hat man . . . In Florida they say that everyone is against Senator Pepper except the voters . . (Even those who don't like Claude admire his skill and courage). Prediction: Pepper will keep right on being senator from Florida as long as he wants to run . . . Healthy signs of the times: Students at Stetson university are already jumping into politics. One law student, Dick Cooper, an ex-G. I., is running for governor; John Hathaway is running for the state legislature; Douglas Senstrom is running for judge of Seminole county . . . Cooper, 27-year-old candidate for governor, never misses classes, has a high scholastic record, stumps the state during week ends. He begins his speeches this way: "I'm the only candidate frank enough to admit that he has no chance of being elected." (Cooper is making a good impression, may make the grade in some future race) . . . Most southern Democrats are cussing out Truman, but Daytona Beach Democrats decided to do more than cuss. They are organizing to instruct Florida's delegation to the Philadelphia convention for Henry Kaiser. He once worked in Daytona . . . When Ed Lagron, a Daytona Beach veteran, was ruled out of placing insurance on a city hosptial because he was away at Guadalcanal, and when vet Phil Wagner couldn't get any Coca Cola for his new restaurant because he hadn't been around to keep up his soft-drink orders, they and some other vets organized the Veterans' Business Men's club. They stick together to see that veterans get their share of business.

"What A Clumsy Operator You Were!"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WANT to cut down on your social blunders? Then avoid doing or saying any of the following:

Broadcast all your dislikes. You can never be sure when you are saying "I hate so-and-so" and "I can't understand why anyone would waste money on such-and-such" that you aren't ridiculing the taste of someone in the group in which you are holding forth.

Make a derogatory remark about any religious group, even when you think you are among persons who won't be touched by it.

Think you can tell a damaging story about a person, if you don't mention the person's name. You'd be surprised how many people can put two and two together and come up with the right answer. And it's still bad if they put two and two together and come up with the wrong answer, if they are sure it is right.

THE ADJECTIVE EVIL

MAKE a habit of describing people in uncomplimentary terms —as "a little runt of a man," "sloppy fat," etc. Do that long enough, and some day you'll be embarrassed in the middle of a sentence.

Repeat gossip that comes to you fourth or fifth hand. Some day you'll get called for that.

Make a practice of telling elaborate social lies, just to make turning down invitations a little less painful. You'll get tripped up sooner or later.

Some social blunders can't be avoided. But most of them result from just such stupid practices as the ones listed here.

"Try And Stop Me"

AS A PRIZE example of how the whole course of world history is determined by ridiculously trivial happenings, G. M. Gilbert, in his absorbing "Nuremburg Diary," quotes verbatim the following decoration, made by Herman Goering in his cell a few weeks before he committed suicide:

"You can't fathom your fate. It depends on such little things. For instance, the little thing that prevented me from becoming a Freemason. I had a date to meet some friends to join the Freemasons in 1919. While waiting for them, I saw a pretty blonde pass by, and picked her up. Well, I just never did get around to joining the Freemasons. If I hadn't picked up that blonde that day, it would have been impossible for me to get into the party, and I wouldn't be here today."

Today's Journal Editorial

COMMON JUSTICE PREVAILS

The House Appropriations committee took a proper action when it rejected promptly the recommendation of a subcommittee the other day that federal grants be refusedstates which do nto conform to bureaucratic ideas as to racial equality of opportunity in employment and education.

The committee as a whole apparently recognized, as the sub-group failed to do, that taxpayers in individual states provide the money which makes all federal grants possible. One might have concluded from the statement of Rep. Frank B. Keefe, author of the recommendation, that a state gets something for nothing when it receives U. S. funds. Any state receiving such a grant merely gets back some of the money it has paid in.

True, some states get much more than others in proportion to their payments. Doubtful states politically always ge the most when federal politicians have money to throw around. The aways-Democratic South invariably gets the least and this resolution unquestionably was aimed at cutting the South off entirely, not from payments, but from grants.

Common sense and common justice prevailed in this instance, however, and the subcommittee received a richly deserved rebuke when its brazen proposal was tabled with little ceremony

WATCH WHEN YOU WALK!

Pedestrians Are Often To Blame For Fatal Mishaps

(This is the second of a series of 10 articles on street and highway safety, written by nationally recognized accident prevention specialists and presented by The Journal in the interests of greater traffic safety in Lubbock and over the South Plains.)

BY JULIEN H. HARVEY

THE time has come when all communities need laws to control pedestrians as well as automobiles. All of us are pedestrians most of the time. Therefore we feel more in our own element when we are walking, and as a group we fail to understand the limitations of the automobile. Even experienced drivers forget these limitations when they become pedestrians.

Year after year the records continue to show that nearly three out of every four pedestrians killed in motor vehicle accidents were either committing an unsafe act or violating a traffic law. Crossing against a signal was reported in approximately 18 per cent of the accidents involving adult pedestrians. Playing in the roadway and crossing between crossways accounted for three fifths of the child pedestrian accidents. Unless we mend our ways, the same traffic story will be repeated in 1948.

* * *

Here Are The Rules

An effective solution to the problem of pedestrian accidents can only be attained through firm use of the three E's of safety: namely, education, engineering and enforcement. Pedestrian laws should be designed not only to control the walker, but to inform the automobile driver as to his area of responsibility. They should provide for the following:

1. Crosswalks should be clearly defined at all intersections in urban areas and pedestrians prohibited from crossing streets between crosswalks or, where traffic signals are in operation, against the signal.
2. Walking in the roadway in both urban and rural areas should be prohibited when sidewalks are provided.
3. Walking in the roadway while under the influence of intoxicants should be prohibited.
4. When it is necessary to walk in the roadway, because of the absence of sidewalks, pedestrians should be required to walk facing traffic.
5. When it is necessary to walk in the roadway at night, pedestrians should be required to carry a light and walk facing traffic.
6. Crossing highways on which there is heavy traffic should be permitted in rural areas only at points where the pedestrian has a clear and unobstructed view of the highway for 300 feet in either direction.
7. Pedestrians crossing intersections at designated crosswalks under appropriate signal, if provided, or where no signal is in operation; should have the right of way over automobiles turning right or left.

The final criterion to be used in judging whether or not pedestrians should dispute the roadway with an automobile is this—there is no equal competition between a 150-pound pedestrian and a 3,000-pound automobile!

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY
The Knights of Pythias Lodge is the owner of Lots Five (5) and Six (6) in Block 164, Original Town of Lubbock, 1400 Block on Avenue K on East side of street, dimensions 82 feet by 125 feet. The Lodge is interested in conveying the lots to a suitable party who is willing to erect a two-story building thereon free of all liens, and under an agreement giving the Lodge ownership of the second story to be used for Lodge purposes, and the remainder to be owned by the other party. It will probably cost between $50,000.00 and $60,000.00 to construct such building according to the Lodge's requirements. The estimated value of the lots at the present time is from $20,000.00 to $25,000.00. Anyone interested contact Hub Lee or Victor H Lindsey.

Oil Workers To Vote On Strike

FORT WORTH, March 10 (AP)—Members of the Oil Workers International union employed by the Sinclair Refining company today were backing up wage demands with a strike vote.

O. A. Knight of Fort Worth, president of the union, ordered the nation-wide strike vote yesterday among the union's 10,000 employes of the company.

Results of the election will be announced in mid-April.

To Terminate July 1

Knight wrote a letter to company officials saying that the present working agreement would be terminated July 1.

Demands for a wage increase of 30 cents an hour to oil workers were made last Feb. 9.

Knight said the strike vote order went out after negotiations on a new contract broke down last week in New York City.

Tractor School Is Scheduled At Tech

A two-day tractor maintenance school for 4-H club leaders and county agents from 21 counties of the South Plains area will be held at the Farm Shop at Texas Technological college, starting at 10 o'clock this morning.

Members of the Texas Extension service who will conduct the school are Willie L. Ulich, agricultural engineer; W. N. Williamson, district agent; and D. W. Sherrell, Lubbock county agent.

Other Schools Set

The purpose of the school, Ulich stated, is to educate county 4-H club leaders and county agents in methods of taking better care of farm tractors, with the hope that they will pass that information on to 4-H club members in the various counties. The school is not a repair course, he emphasized.

A. R. Johnson, a representative of Standard Oil and Gas company which is sponsoring the school, and C. N. Hinkle, also of the Standard company, will be in charge of classroom work. Representatives from various implement companies of the 21 counties will assist in the laboratory work. Tractors will be furnished by local implement dealers.

The school is one of five to be held in Texas during the next three weeks, others to be conducted at Stephenville, Sherman, Wharton and Alice.

In similar schools to be held in individual counties, one outstanding 4-H club member will be awarded a medal and given the opportunity to compete in a state tractor maintenance school. The state winner will be awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H club congress held in Chicago each year, Ulich stated.

Man Seeks Return Of $100,000 In Gifts

LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—Andrew Norman, 64, wealthy cosmetics manufacturer, opened a court battle today for recovery of $100,000 worth of gifts he says he gave a 26-year-old blonde before she married another man.

Norman's attorneys told the court that the blonde, Mrs. Dorothy Burks Stoner, promised to marry him and that he gave her a $75,000 home, an $18,000 engagement ring and other presents.

In an opening statement, Norman's lawyer said that although the manufacturer still is married to Merle Norman, he was estranged from her in 1946 when he and Mrs. Stoner, now the wife of an automobile distributor, agreed to marry.
