Christmas Greetings-Parcels For Armed Forces Should Be Mailed By November 10

Pack 155 Special Ceremony Held Monday Oct. 26th

Christmas "rush" brings old quote to mind: "Let snow nor rain, nor gloom of night stays our couriers from the swift completion of their appointed errand."

On Monday, Oct. 26th, Cub Pack 155 of the Boy Scouts, advanced several of their members to higher ranks, in special ceremonies.

Receiving rank of Bear was Michael Bowers. Rocky Rodebush and Carey Fisher advanced to Lions.

Silver Arrows were presented to Thomas Doreman, Jr. and Dennis Cox, while Rocky Rodebush proudly received a gold arrow.

Three cubs receiving one year pins were Thomas Doreman, Jr., Kerry Bulce, and Steve Albin.

Lin Salmon was awarded a two year pin.

An adult one year pin was presented to Romeo Leclerc. Scouting helps to build good, honest, capable future citizens.

cuts down the number of times a piece of mail must be handled. This saves time, labor, and money.

He suggests that even if you don't know the code for the addresses of the people to whom you'll be sending cards and gifts, you should use the code on your return address.

Moving the Christmas mail is a hard, tiring job and the twelve local workers who work so diligently during this period deserve all the cooperation they can get.

The postmaster said that shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP Codes will really put ZIP into your Christmas mailings—and give your mailman a hand too.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD MEN . . .

Next Tuesday is Election Day. This is a time of perennial, electric excitement which seems unique only to elections. Also, it is a time of sobering sadness.

Here's why: This year in Texas there are an estimated 5,900,000 people over 21, but only 3,110,000 are eligible to vote. And that "eligibility estimate" takes in everybody: poll-taxpayers, folks who were issued exemptions and those who live in towns who do not require over-age exemptions, and those who registered under the federal provision.

So, right off the bat we lost more than two million potential voters.

Now, some forecasters predict a voting turnout of 2,500,000 Texans. That would be a record, but not a record of which to be proud.

That means only about seven out of ten Texans who are eligible to vote will take time out to do so.

You — and only you — can do something about it. Only you can go to the polls; only you can cast your vote.

It's up to you. You are voting for more than yourself. You are voting for half of Texas which can't vote for themselves.

Revival Services At First Baptist Church Nov. 8-15

A series of revival services will begin November 8 and continue through November 15th. Rev. Robert Woody will be the evangelist and Mr. Don Riddle will be leading the music.

Rev. Woody, pastor of Polytechnic Baptist Church, Fort Worth, was born in Lafayette, Alabama. He received his A. B. Degree from Howard College, Birmingham, Alabama and his B. D. Degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky. He was at one time State Royal Ambassador leader for Alabama.

He served as pastor of churches in Louisiana, Mississippi, and was for seven years pastor of First Baptist Church Corsicana, Texas, before going to his present pastorate at Polytechnic.

Rev. Woody did graduate work under the direction of New York University, Department of Hebrew Culture and Education in Jerusalem, Israel, making a tour of the Middle East and Europe. He later participated in the Japan New Life Movement working specifically in the Iki and Morioka, Japan areas. While there he toured Japan, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Philippine Islands and Hawaii.

He has also served in many capacities in the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Mr. Don Riddle, Minister of Music at Trinity Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, received his education at Carthage High School then at Southwest State College in Springfield, Missouri, graduating with a B. S. Degree in Education and a diploma in Trumpet recital. He later served two years in the armed forces in Japan. After his discharge in August of 1954 he was married and then began his study at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. While attending the Seminary he served as Minister of Music and Youth at First Baptist Church, Cynthiana, Kentucky. He graduated with a Master of Sacred Music Degree. He served as Minister of Music at Emmanuel Baptist Church in Alexandria, Louisiana before going to Trinity Church in Oklahoma City.

You will receive a blessing from hearing these two men November 8-15.

Sunday Services, 10:40 a. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Morning services (Monday through Friday, 10:00 a. m.) Evening Services, (Monday through Saturday, 7:30 p. m.) Nursery open for all services.

Girl Scout Troops Enjoy Halloween Party Thur. Oct. 29

All Girl Scout Troops in the Burkburnett area enjoyed a Halloween party at the new bank building on Oct. 29th.

At the same time tribute was paid to Juliette Lowe, founder of Girl Scouts.

A film about the founding of Girl Scouts was shown, games played and songs sung.

FOUR FROM BURK STUDY CLUB ATTEND SANTA ROSA DISTRICT WORKSHOP

Burkburnett Study Club members attending the Santa Rosa District Federated Workshop were Mesdames Gen Bear, president; Howard Henderson, W. G. Mayberry, Harold Van Loh.

Mrs. Glen Bear, president of Burkburnett Study club attended the Tea Sunday Oct. 25th, for Anna Lee Williams, author of a new Texas book "The History of Wharton County."

An old ailment called "fumble itis", coupled with some untimely interceptions, proved to be the downfall of the Burkburnett Bulldogs in Coleman last Friday night, as they fell victim to the Bluecats, 26-6.

Coleman's Hobby Woodward, figured in two of the Bluecat scores, running for one and taking a pass for another.

The Bulldogs tied the game in the second quarter after Woodward's first tally. Quarterback Bob Hubble hit Danny Parrack for a 35 yard pass and run play to deadlock the score at six-six.

Coleman broke the tie just before the half on a pass from Richie Lee to Woodward. After that, they were never to be headed. Two insurance tallies, in the last half, iced the game away.

Next week, the Bulldogs are at home against the tough Brownwood Lions. Game time is 8 p. m. at Bulldog Stadium.

In order to hope for a victory, the youthful charges of Coach Zac Henderson must assume the roll of giant killers. Let's all go out and back these youngsters.

Mighty Kings Crush Arlington For A 39-7 Victory Sat. Night

The mighty Burkburnett Kings, semi-pro football team, took victory number seven for the 1964 season here Saturday night as they rolled, unchecked, over a fighting but out-classed Arlington Red Raider team for a crushing 39-7 victory.

Led by quarterback, Eugene Guthrie, and flashy scatback, Gerald Combs, the Kings kept the hometown crowd cheering all through the contest. Guthrie passed for 127 yards and three touchdowns. Combs, besides being the receiver for two of Guthrie's scoring strikes, tackled up two markers of his own.

The Kings scored the first time they had the ball. Guthrie hit Combs for a thrilling 18 yard pass and run combo. Wilmer Ingram kicked the PAT to make it 7-0.

Shortly thereafter, the Kings were knocking on the Red Raiders' door once again. Guthrie had the key, in the form of a seven yard touchdown pass to Buddy Meadows. An attempt for the extra point failed. The score read 13-0.

Arlington bounced back in the second stanza, as speedster Jim Campbell romped 21 yards to paydirt. Quarterback Bill Williams, ran the extra point play, to make it 13-7.

Combs gathered in the following kickoff at his own 14 and twisted and turned his way for 56 yards to the Red Raider 25. One play netted one yard, then Combs was sprung loose for a 24 yard sprint and six more points. Ingram's kick made the score 20-7.

The kickoff to start the second half was almost a repeat of Combs' performance. This time Tyrone English returned the pigskin 46 yards to the Arlington 36. One play picked up five, then the "little galloping ghost," Combs, broke loose for 31 yards and the promised land. The conversion try failed and the board read 26-7.

Later, Guthrie and Combs, the "deadly duo," teamed up again for another score. This one consumed 23 yards. The point attempt failed and it remained 32-7.

Reserve quarterback Tom Williams, scored the Kings final touchdown, ripping off 25 yards on a keeper play. Ingram's kick made the final score 39-7.

Outstanding on defense for the Kings were Bill Turnbow, Norman Harris, Norman Jones, Bob Walker and Bob Laurick.

Flower Show School III Starts Thursday At Woman's Forum

Thursday marks the opening day of Flower Show School III according to Mrs. Evelyn Clark, chairman. The school, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Garden Club of the Woman's Forum, features two well known lecturers.

Mrs. Murray G. Musick of Dallas will lecture on flower arranging and Mrs. J. A. Kendall of Arlington will lecture on horticulture and Flower Show Practice. Both women have instructed at previous flower show schools here.

Registration precedes each day's lecture and begins at 8:30 a. m. with coffee. The lectures start each day at 9. The school lasts three days, Nov. 5, 6, 7, but one does not have to take both days lectures; nor do you have to take the examination on the final day.

To be eligible for the Flower Show School, one must be a member of a Garden Club. It is not necessary to have had any previous Flower Show School experience to be eligible to attend this school, Mrs. Clark says.

Registration blanks and reading lists are available at the Woman's Forum. "If you are interested in attending the school it would be helpful to you to do the required and suggested reading beforehand. It not only increases your enjoyment of the lectures but it also would be quite an aid in taking notes," Mrs. Clark advises prospective students.

Mrs. Kendall will lecture the first day on Flower Show Practice and Horticulture with particular emphasis on roses, Chrysanthemums, African violets, and Rex begonias. On Friday, Mrs. Musick will lecture on monochromatic color harmony and Twentieth Century floral designs.

The committee making the arrangements includes Mesdames Bailey Meissner, chairman; Evelyn Clark, co-chairman; Aubrey Wilson, E. L. Worrell, Frank Keith, registration; and Frank Yeager, publicity.

Mrs. Clark has announced

FROM THE ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC

Hiways from the Atlantic to the Pacific is no new project. The Cumberland Pike running from Baltimore to Pittsburg, was a greater wonder in its day than this new wonder of wonders—a highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. George Washington rode horseback over the route of the Cumberland Pike and twenty-five years afterward when the road was being built, he gave it his hearty support.

In Eighteen Hundred-six, Thomas Jefferson signed a bill authorizing a great national pike, to run from the Atlantic to the Mississippi River. He prophesized that the receipts from the toll gates along the way would more than pay, be more than ample to maintain the road and pay the stockholders a dividend. (Selective writings of Elbert Hubbard, Published by the Roycrofters, NY.)

Hi Way Mess. . .

On page 86 of the Readers Digest, November edition, is an article on today's highway problems that every tax payer should read. Millions and millions are spent on super highways. Just what are we getting for our tax money?

When you go to the local store you insist on getting what you pay for. We should get what we pay for in good roads. Well built by responsible contractors.

Leaves From The Capitalist Book

Is communism turning capitalist in its efforts to spur a lagging economy? Not quite—but more and more reports say that it is taking leaves from the despised capitalist book.

For instance, Time magazine reports: "While Western businessmen are traveling behind the Iron Curtain in increasing numbers, Western ideas are crossing the frontiers with even greater impact—and some of them are stirring up a kind of revolution. Beset by economic problems that stem largely from their doctrine Marxism, the nations of the Soviet bloc are turning to many capitalistic practices that they once roundly condemned."

Chief among these, apparently, are Soviet experiments with something akin to our own profit system. Incentives are being offered to workers who really produce. And plant managers who operations show a profit and an above the norm efficiency are rewarded too—not only with more money, but with such prizes as better housing and motor cars.

Marxist economic theory is far from dead in the Soviet world, but it is taking on a sickly cast. The reason: It just doesn't work.

The Need Is Knowledge

The American Medical Association has been conducting an intensive educational program designed to inform the nation on the health care services that are available to the elderly. In this, the nation's physicians play a key role. And it is to be hoped that the campaign results in the success it so eminently deserves—for reliable studies have shown that the majority of the people just don't know what is offered. This plays into the hands of the proponents of the Medicare plan for fastening, at heavy cost, certain medical services onto the social security system whether or not they are wanted or needed by social security beneficiaries.

Special stress is placed, as it should be, on the Kerr-Mills Act, passed in 1960. This is a joint federal-state program, and most of the states are participating while others are planning to do so. It is an excellently conceived undertaking in every particular. The services provided are broad. They are confined to those who are unable to meet the cost, instead of to an arbitrarily selected age group. And administration is at the local level where local needs are best understood and can be most effectively and effi-

Your special circumstances and family needs may decide whether you buy an automatic or a non-automatic washing machine. which ever type you choose, check these points, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration gent.

Water Needed — This can be important if your water supply (hot or cold) is expensive or limited.

Capacity — Manufacturers describe washers as having a certain capacity in pounds of dry clothes. Most wash better with 3 or so pounds less than capacity.

General Workmanship — Washer should be sturdy, the parts that come in contact with clothes should be rustproof, and tub and motor should be mounted on rubber or springs to lessen vibration and noise.

Tub Materials — Porcelain enameled steel, and nickel-copper are more expensive but most common. Aluminum, stainless steel, and etc are even more expensive.

Outside finishes — Most are synthetic enamel on sheet metal. Porcelain enameled steel is more durable but more expensive.

Motors — These should be shielded from water, grounded, insulated from metal parts, and have a sealed in lubricant that provides permanent oiling.

Responsibility of the Manufacturer — Read the warranty carefully so that you will know what responsibility the manufacturer takes for repairs and replacements. Buy the product of a manufacturer represented by a reliable service organization convenient for your use.

Underwriters Approval Seal — It means that the washer has fulfilled Underwriters' Laboratories specifications for electrical safety, materials and workmanship.

Disposal System — If you have a home disposal system (in contrast to city sewer connection), be certain that it will accommodate the quantity of water from the type washer you plan to buy, as you intend to use it.

Household equipment represents a major investment to consumers, so give it the care and protection it deserves, says Thelma Wirges.

Protect it with plastic covers tailored for individual pieces, such as electric blenders, mixers, toasters, roasters and even washing machines.

Wash equipment after each use, and keep it clean until needed again.

Most homes don't have sufficient cupboard space for everything, so washable dust covers are good insurance for longer equipment life, says the specialist.

Covers made of plastic-coated nylon are inexpensive and can be washed or sponged off with suds.

Mrs. Ralph Swinford is working on home remodeling as a home improvement demonstrator. Kitchen improvement is a part of this work. As well as adding new equipment, kitchen storage will be added to make the kitchen easier to work in. A laundry area is being built behind folding doors so it will be easy to use, yet can be out of direct view.

Too much wax, oil and polish can actually dim the beauty of wood finishes, says Miss Wirges.

Wash it once or twice with a cloth wrung out of warm soap or detergent suds, then wipe all surfaces with a clean damp cloth and rub dry. All wood pieces — modern or antique — thrive on this basic cleaning, as the suds removes various types of soil which are not affected by simply applying another coat of oil, polish or wax.

When all surfaces are thoroughly clean, use any preferred type of finishing touch.

Polishes or waxes applied too often tend to build up a film which red-ns the beauty of the original finish. Authorities recommend that most furniture be waxed only twice a year.

Protecting Rod Handles

To protect cork handles on fishing rods from drying out and splitting, coat the cork with glycerine before putting your rod in lay-away for any length of time. The liquid easily will wash away and your rod handle will be good as new.

ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES RELIGIOUS REVIVAL MEETINGS

Revival, which has had important place in the life of many in the United States, is largely a Protestant phenomenon. It has been noted in some cases by historians, but in most cases by a specialist who came at the request of the local church.

Moody Changed My Life Recently, revivalists have placed less emphasis on the hell, but have stressed the departure into sin of the "strait and narrow." They have called on the "repent of their sins and be born again."

Billy Graham has recently completed a series of revival meetings in Boston preaching to some 200,000 persons in his first sermon he said that we must "be born again." This brings to my mind the revival in Gloucester, Mass. I first heard the Reverend Dwight L. Moody, the most famous of the nineteenth century evangelists preach on the subject. He was assisted by M. H. Munhall. I was won over by his appeal, and walked the aisle and signed a card which was turned over to the church that my family and I were born that day. I left my old way of life and became a Christian in religion, especially in the Christian Endeavor, a group founded by Dr. E. Clark in 1881. The purpose of Christian Endeavor is to tie young people to the church through regular attendance at the church they conducted themselves. I became so sincere in my devotion to Christian Endeavor that when I was to lead a band march of the High School Cadets, I first attended Christian Endeavor meeting. My partner waited with me through many years. I have endeavored COCKTAILS-ON-THE-MOVE - A new Travel Cooler is stealing the show at sporting events, picnics and backyard cookouts. With a unique refrigerant capsule, the cooler chills liquids in minutes and keeps them icy cold for eight to ten hours. Ideal for anything from iced tea and cold soup to wines and cocktails, the cooler, with its black vinyl case, capped decanter and magic capsule in a liner, is available at leading stores across the country.

to carry out those principles, and have participated in the life of my local churches. Moreover, I was at one time Moderator of the National Conference of the Congressional Christian Churches.

Importance Of Spiritual Commitment

Readers will recall that I have pointed out many times that every major depression in this country has been followed by a great spiritual awakening, with one exception. My reason for discussing this subject right now is that Dr. Graham is here in my New England area, pointing the way to a spiritual rebirth for thousands upon thousands who nightly crowd the auditorium and overflow to the grounds outside. From my observation, I feel strongly that this may well be a big step toward that spiritual revival for our nation which it has failed to experience during the many years since the big depression of the 1930's.

Dr. Graham's message is essentially the same one I have tried to hammer home to readers in the past. He points out that the situation in the U. S. today bears the same marks as those which preceded the fall of the Roman Empire; Rising divorce rate, with 12 million children who no longer live with both of their parents; a nation insensibly bent on pleasure; a nation building huge armaments against an outside foe; when the real danger lies within the hearts of its citizens; rising church attendance, but with religion decaying into mere form; high and rising taxes. One of my men tells me that he has been to every one of the Boston meetings. Over all, 7 percent of those attending have signed "decision cards" such as I signed when I went up the aisle in the D. L. Moody meetings. The tenth night of the crusade saw the largest response ever recorded at a regular Billy Graham Crusade meeting in the U. S.—12.5 percent of the audience. I cannot stress too strongly the importance of such a spiritual commitment. I agree wholeheartedly with Dr. Graham that the only way we can remain free and can continue to prosper as a nation is through a great spiritual and moral reawakening.

Color Day Nov. 3 At Junior High

Tuesday, Nov. 3, 1964 has been designated as Color Day for Burk Burnett Junior High School. All students are urged to wear the school colors, Orange and black. The Student Council chose this day, because it is the last home game of the Junior High football teams. BJH will be playing Lawton Eisenhower. The seventh grade game will begin at 6 o'clock, the eighth grade game will follow. Everyone is invited to attend and support the teams. John Milton used 8,000 different words in his poem "Paradise Lost."

RESEARCHERS EXPLORE NEW MARKETS for STEEL

New York — (HK) — A band of researchers has ushered in the Second Century of steel by vigorously exploring new and dramatic markets where the metal may replace materials now exclusively in the domain of such products as paper and textiles.

Nobody knows exactly how much all steel companies are spending on research, but based on estimates by the National Science Foundation, the rate of spending is expected during 1964 to reach an annual level of at least $100 million.

COMPANY FINANCED Industry sources say this figure takes on added significance because steel research is almost entirely company-financed, in contrast to many other industries where a major part of research is supported by Government grants.

Since 1952, steel research staffs in the more than 275 companies in more than 300 communities have tripled in size where today some 5,000 persons are engaged in such activities.

In addition, to the research work conducted by individual companies, American Iron and Steel Institute is sponsoring 46 industry-wide research projects in 25 private research and education institutions.

"PILOT" MODELS Experimental work in steel usually isn't of the table-top kind — where the research man has all the tools he needs at his fingertips. Instead, such work in steel often requires the building of huge experimental units or "pilot" models, involving great investments of money and time.

Thomas F. Patton, chairman of American Iron and Steel Institute, said the steel industry begins its Century Two with confidence and predicted that the era of technological change and development will eclipse the vast achievements of the recent past.

He said no one can look ahead for 100 years but conceded that the shape of things in the steel industry over the next 20 or 30 years seems fairly clear.

"In 1964," he noted, "production almost certainly will reach an historic high, perhaps approaching 120 million tons. This record output is but a base for the production needed in the immediate future."

"By the year 2,000 — just a little more than a third of the way through steel's Century Two — a U.S. population estimated at 331 million persons probably will generate the need for steel production in the neighborhood of 300 million tons per year."

"To meet this requirement the industry will have to earn and reinvest billions of dollars in new facilities as the years go by — and today we are proceeding on this course, with capital expenditure of about $1,800,000,000 allocated for 1964 alone."

Patton said that "of one thing we can be sure: the steels of the future will be as different from those of today as today's new metals differ from that first commercial heat of steel produced at Wyandotte, Michigan 100 years ago."

SCIENCE briefs

Seaweed Salad The effects of radioactive strontium in food can be counteracted by eating a certain brown seaweed, claims a Canadian scientist.

Job Hazards A man's occupation may have a bearing on his susceptibility to some types of cancer, a German scientist reports. Metal workers, mechanics, fitters and woodworkers are more likely to get lung cancer than stomach cancer, while the reverse is true among building workers and professional men.

Big Game Russian whalers have been using the South American arrowpoison, curare, on the points of harpoons. The poison paralyzes the whale and causes less damage to the carcass than the explosive charge now generally used.

Reverse Smoking Indians on certain Caribbean islands smoke cigarettes and cigars with lit ends inside the mouth. Despite this practice, the Indians rarely get lung cancer or mouth cancer, a group of Harvard researchers reports.

Nylon Sidewalks By reinforcing concrete with nylon fibers, U.S. Army engineers have produced a substance 27 times as strong as ordinary concrete.

ALONG PARTY LINES

FALL OF AN ELECTION YEAR always sees a bewildering number of political slogans, almost all of which disappear with the election of the new president. But this young secretary used her special Royal electric typewriter to type out in jumbo size what is probably the most long-lasting of American political slogans, although many think of it now only as a typing exercise. The phrase, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party," appeared nearly a century ago as a battle cry during the Ulysses S. Grant-Horatio Seymour presidential campaign. That period coincided with the then newly invented typewriters which stuttered and jumped when a series of unfamiliar words were typed on a line. However, people practicing on an early machine could type neatly when using a memorized sentence. Today's typewriters are so improved that they bear little relationship to those old antiques, but the slogan remains an indelible reminder of an early political campaign.

Annual Bazaar-Luncheon For Senior Junior Forum, Nov. 5

It's Bigger and Better than last year! The Senior-Junior Forum's annual Bazaar and Luncheon, Thursday, Nov. 5, 1964, opens at 10 a. m. at the National Guard Armory, 3701 Armory Road.

Benefit: Northside Girls club, 401 Madison, Wichita Falls. A delightful assortment of sparkling and colorful items for sale: including beautiful Christmas decorations, among Christmas items will be door pieces, tree skirts, tablecloths, centerpieces, elaborate jeweled tablecloths, scrumptious handmade candies. Lovely floral arrangements (many seasons all colors to suit any decor), delicious homemade bakery goods (using many favorite and treasured recipes for bread, cookies, cakes, pies and candies.

Many, many exciting gift ideas, plus door prizes. Lots of "White Elephants." Surprise barrel. Admission, only 25c. Luncheon tickets, $1.00 includes admission fee. Luncheon tickets now on sale by Senior-Junior Forum members at the Woman's Forum, or by mail to Bazaar, 1525 Mesquite, Wichita Falls, Texas.

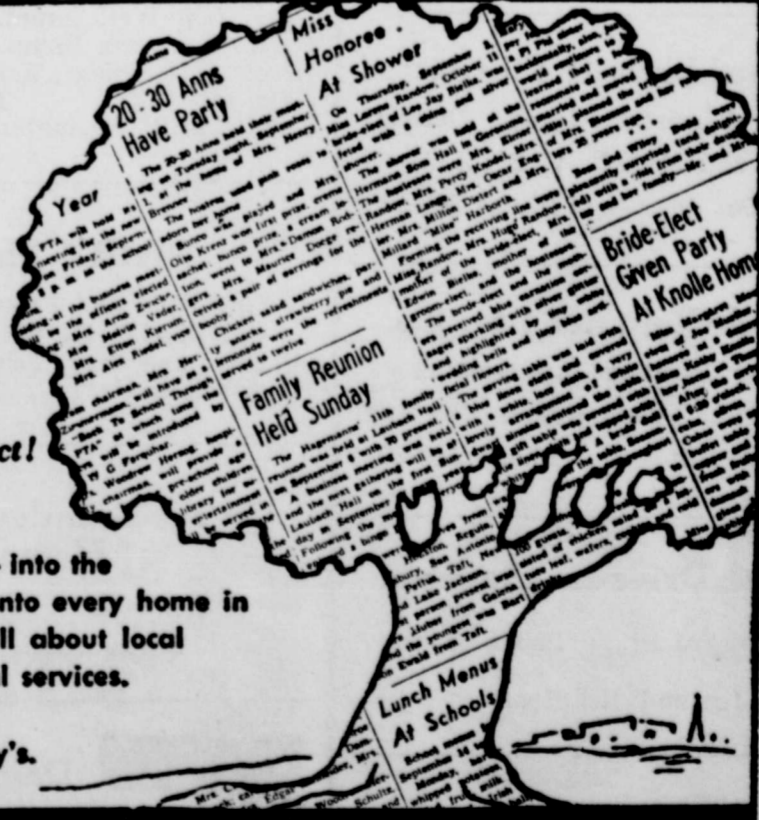

This bazaar is a project of the Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Conrad Grozier, chairman, of the Senior-Junior Forum. Various groups of Senior-Junior members have been working during the summer on many of the items to be sold. In addition, each member is responsible for her individual participation in this bazaar with hand made items and bakery goods, white elephants, etc.

The homemade items include "rag" dolls, baby items, children's gift ideas, doll clothes, pillowcases and on and on. The luncheon meal will please the taste buds of everyone. Girls from the Northside Girls Club are also participating with items, including lovely handpainted nativity figures.

TREASURES

He walked a long time and rang many doorbells and "scared" a lot of people in order to acquire his Halloween treasures. He wants to sleep with his treasures beside him, where he can feel the sack with his hand.

These treasures somehow remind you that one of your responsibilities toward your adorable child is to teach him what real treasures are—friends, country, church, good deeds, family, love of God, and quality of spirit, to name a few.

That "Trick or Treat" bag somehow reminds you of that scripture in Matthew that goes, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth where moth and dust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

You know that the church will help you in this, so you vow again to be faithful to every service, thankful for all the wonderful workers there, asking God to help you and them.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
