Death Of Virgil Stalcup In Chair To Be Asked Monday

Defense Will Ask State To Prove Charges

No Middle Ground In Case And State Will Be Satisfied In Case Of Guilt With Nothing But Death Penalty

Charges Prepared

Clarence Brown In Jail Here Awaiting Trial; Transfer Of Wife To Dickens Saturday Morning Development

BY GORDON WEBB
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

DEATH in the electric chair will be the state's only demand in arguments tomorrow in the trial of Virgil Stalcup, indicted for murder in the slaying of Sheriff W. B. Arthur at Dickens.

The defense will "ask the state to prove its case," Robert J. Allen, a defense attorney, said.

Judge Clark M. Mullican's first draft of a charge to the jury was in the hands of defense attorneys 90 minutes after testimony in the case was completed Friday afternoon. "About 30 objections and requests for additional charges" were made by the defense and returned to Judge Mullican late Saturday.

State Is Exacting

Final draft will be prepared today. Ninety-Ninth court will reconvene at 9 a. m. Monday.

"There is no middle ground in this case," George W. Dupree, a special prosecutor, said. "If the jury finds Stalcup guilty the state will be satisfied only with the death penalty."

Neither length of arguments nor order of speakers had been determined, it was said.

Arguments Take Six Hours

Summation probably will require six hours, three to each side.

Dupree, District Attorney Daniel A. Blair of Lubbock, District Attorney Alton B. Chapman of Spur, Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks of Lubbock, and W. D. Wilson of Lubbock were prosecutors.

By appointment of Judge Mullican, Allen, W. D. Benson, jr., and Hugh Anderson defended the accused slayer.

Case Started Monday

Selection of jurors in the case begun Monday, was completed the next day, and the first witnesses were offered Wednesday. State testimony was given that day, all of Thursday, and Friday until noon. The defense case was presented by

Two Are Arrested In Burglary Case

Two brothers, one an ex-convict, were in Lubbock county jail last night as suspects in the burglary of a Slaton service station Friday night. A stolen automobile was recovered.

The younger of the men and a woman living near San Antonio were arrested about 7 miles southeast of Tahoka by Sheriff Tom Abel, accompanied by Lynn county officers, about 1 p. m. Saturday.

The ex-convict later in the day reported voluntarily to Sheriff B. L. Parker at Tahoka, asked that the woman, his sweetheart be released, and exonerated his brother of the burglary. The woman was released.

The man confessed the burglary and told Sheriff Abel he had sold four automobile tires and several inner tubes at Lamesa.

A 1931 Chevrolet coupe, stolen at Slaton about three weeks ago, was received. It had been used to haul the loot, Sheriff Abel said.

A radio and 13 automobile tires were recovered at the home of the men.

Tracks left by the automobile led to the arrest.

Huey Long's Pretty Co-ed Daughter Given Protection

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 9. (AP)—Miss Rose Long, pretty 17-year-old co-ed at Louisiana State university and daughter of Senator Huey P. Long, never leaves the campus alone, it was disclosed here today.

Precautions, friends close to the family said, were necessitated by the "hatred of the senator's political opponents." On her motor trips to New Orleans to visit her mother, a private police officer is detailed to accompany her.

Hauptmann Trial Brought To Close

State Rebuttal Slashes Into "Fisch Myth" And Into Defense Testimony On Ladder

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 9—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, on trial for the slaying of the Lindbergh baby, wants to make a final, personal appeal to the jury.

It was learned tonight Hauptmann had asked one of his counsel if the court regulations would permit him to address the jury himself. His counsel expressed doubt that the statement would be permitted.

BY JOHN FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 9.—The case against Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the Lindbergh baby murder was completed today, five weeks and three days after it began.

With Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, the baby's grandmother as a witness, the case ended—except for the legal oratory which will last through Monday and part of Tuesday—on a note of sharp contradiction.

The final day's testimony concerned itself not with Hauptmann, the Bronx carpenter accused of horrible crime, but with the memory of two persons dead—the little Isador Fisch and the Morrow maid servant, Violet Sharpe, who committed suicide.

When it was not seeking to show that neither Fisch nor Miss Sharpe had any guilty knowledge of the kidnap murder of March 1 1932, the state in its last day of rebuttal testimony, ripped at the "lumber" evidence which defense had presented.

Hauptmann, never demonstrative, sat through the final day of the trial which may mean his life showing little emotion.

Anne Lindbergh Listens

In contrast with the defendant were Mrs. Morrow and her daughter, Mrs. Anne Lindbergh, who sat through both sessions today displaying keen interest in all proceedings. Mrs. Lindbergh, the baby's mother, was making her second appearance in the old Hunterdon county courtroom. She was one of the first witnesses of the state.

Colonel Lindbergh, on the other hand, has been a constant court attendant, sitting behind the state counsel's table in a position from which he could look almost squarely at the witnesses as they paraded, 141 of them, through 29 days of testimony.

Close Is Abrupt

The presentation of evidence came to an abrupt close at 2:30 p. m. when the state announced it had finished its rebuttal evidence and the defense, headed by Edward J. Reilly of New York, announced it would offer no sur-rebuttal.

Justice Thomas W. Trenchard called a recess until Monday when Anthony M. Hauck, jr., one of the assistants of Attorney General David T. Wilentz who is conducting the state's case, will make the first summation. Hauck will outline the points which the prosecution has made through the testimony of the 88 witnesses it called to the stand.

Hauck does not expect to require

Long-Awaited Gold Decision Still Lagging

For Second Consecutive Week Supreme Court Informs Its Ruling On Gold Clause Not To Be Announced

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—The supreme court's awaited-for-weeks gold decision will not be announced on Monday.

For a second time the high tribunal tonight departed from its usual course to let it be known that its next regular opinion day will pass without the announcement of that tensely awaited verdict.

The ine austere members of the bench met for their customary Saturday consulation. For nearly five hours they were closeted in their closely guarded discussion room.

Tension Is Felt

Then while his colleagues climbed into waiting automobiles, Chief Justice Hughes repaired to his office and summoned the court's clerk, Charles E. Cropley. Their conference was brief.

Cropley returned to his own office, crowded with newspapermen. Sensing the suspense which gripped the group, he leisurely seated himself, lolled back in his chair, and, at last said:

"There will be no statement, but I am authorized to say that no opinions will be announced on Mon-

Kennamer To Relate Version Of Slaying Of John Gorrell

TULSA, Feb. 9. (AP)—Phil Kennamer, under guidance of counsel and before the cross-fire of a state demanding his life for murder, will tell his own story of how and why he killed John Gorrell.

Announcement to this effect was made today by the defense, on the eve of Kennamer's transfer to Pawnee where his trial begins Monday before Judge Thurman Hurst.

STUDENT LOSES EYE

Sleeping Sickness Causes Death Of Man At Anahuac

BEAUMONT, Feb. 9 (AP) — Tucker Mack, 27, who recently moved with his family from Palestine to Anahuac, Chambers county, died in a hospital here early today, a victim of sleeping sickness. His was the first case of the malady recorded here in several years. Mack fell asleep a week ago and never awakened. He was brought here three days ago.

Mack had been engaged in the grain and feed business with his father at Palestine before moving to Anahuac. The body was sent to Palestine for burial.

All Public Land Withdrawn From Use; FDR Issues Order

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP) — In preparation for a nation-wide conservation program, President Roosevelt today withdrew all remaining public land from use.

His order, completing that of last November, affects about 1,200,000 acres, and puts the final touch on withdrawal from settlement, location, sale or entry of the entire 165,-695,000 acres of public domain.

Local Man Who Served On Border Made Ranger

EDGAR T. NEAL, a veteran peace officer, of 2108 Thirteenth street, was commissioned formally as a Texas ranger Friday in Austin by Governor James V. Allred.

Ranger Neal was not attached to a company immediately and remained in Austin for further orders, his wife said here.

He is a former Texas ranger and sheriff. His first training in law enforcement was as a youth under Captain Rogers and Captain Bill McDonald. He served on the border in some of its wilder days.

Neal was one of the rangers whom Governor Culberson sent to El Paso to stop the Mayes-Fitzsimmons fight, just after prize fighting had been banned in Texas.

When three of the "best rangers to be found" were called for by the governor to go with Captain McDonald and John L. Sullivan to San Saba to quell a mob, Neal was one of the trio selected. Dud Barker of Alpine was another.

The mob was broken up and Neal was elected sheriff. The governor asked him by telegraph whether he could maintain order alone.

"If any one man can, I can," Neal replied by telegraph.

The rangers were ordered to return to their headquarters,

Showdown In Austin Likely During Week

Lively Row Over Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes May Climax Warfare Hinging On Appointive Right Of Governor Allred

Methods Fired At

Another Bill Pending Is That To Establish Board To Tie In Recovery Plans Of State And Federal Government

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 9.—Prospects of a showdown between Governor James V. Allred and the senate over appointments enlivened the Texas legislative outlook for next week.

Pending was a bill establishing a planning board to coordinate state and national recovery efforts and an amendment to divide the appointive power between the governor, lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house with the chairman of the board of water engineers as an ex-officio member.

Would Give Allred Leeway

As drafted by Allred and passed in the house the bill would permit Governor Allred to name all members. Opposition to a board controlled by appointees of one person was predicted on fear it might lead to establishment of a political machine. The board would "help" spend $250,000,000 estimated as Texas' share of the national government's public works program.

The governor has strongly opposed the split appointment system, originated during the regime of former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson whose political opponents were unwilling to give her control over any state department.

Hughes Fight Is Climax

"The senate has one half the appointive power when appointments are made by the governor," Allred said, "because they can't become effective until approved by the senate. Appointees of the lieutenant governor and speaker are not subject to confirmation. Under the amendment the executive and the senate would share 2-7 of the appointments while others would appoint a majority of the board."

The fight against confirmation of Allred's appointment of Representative Sarah Hughes, Dallas, as the first woman district judge in Texas faced an early climax. Governor Allred said he was proud of the appointment. Certain senators, including Claud Westerfeld from

Anton Man Injured In Crash Of Auto

When a light coupe he was driving struck the center tier in the Broadway underpass early Saturday, F. B. Stanfield, 52, of Anton suffered a severe laceration of the tongue and lacerations of a lip and the forehead.

Stanfield remained in West Texas hospital, to which he had been taken soon after the accident, as he had internal injuries.

Force of the impact had caused him to lurch against the steering wheel, which broke against his abdomen. Stanfield nearly bit his tongue in two.

Extent of internal injuries had not been determined last night, an attending physician said. His condition was regarded as serious, but the Anton man "was holding his own."

The accident occurred between 5:30 and 6 a. m. Stanfield was on the way to Fort Worth in a 1930 Ford automobile.

Police tentatively attributed the mishap to mist on the car's windshield.

Depopulation Of Rendezvous In Oklahoma To Result Soon

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9. (AP)—The Cookson hills, bandit rendezvous since the days of Belle Starr, train-robbing outlaw queen of the seventies, are to be depopulated by the federal government and transformed into a game refuge.

In a forced migration paralleling the Acadian trek of an early day, the 400 families of the unfertile hills will be moved to a resettlement region in Muskogee county.

PROBE IS ADJOURNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP) — The special grand jury investigation into graft charges in a $4,880,000 PWA poject in Willacy county, Texas, was adjourned today until Monday when three new jurors will be selected.

Rudy Vallee Puzzled Over Income

The crooning business is a profitable one, Rudy Vallee, orchestra leader and singer, admitted on the witness stand in New York Supreme Court during Fay Webb's suit for more alimony—so profitable that he couldn't estimate within $100,000 his income last year. Vallee is shown puzzling over documents.

Road Building Marks Broken

Fourteen Relief Programs And Three Contract Jobs Under Way On Division 5 Sector Of South Plains

By J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

What is believed to be one of the largest road building projects in any division in Texas is that under way in Division 5, the South Plains sector where 14 relief and three contract jobs, representing 275.6 miles of construction is in progress.

George L. Carver, acting district engineer, gave a summary of the status of work as of the close of Thursday, Feb. 7. It shows 134.9 miles are caliche-asphalt surfacing and the remainder grading and drainage. The three contract jobs are surfacing projects.

Asphalt topping will be spread on these jobs as soon as weather permits. Thirteen counties have construction work in progress.

Projects Announced

The jobs represent completions ranging from 10 to 99 per cent.

The following is the statement of condition as prepared by Mr. Carver:

Relief projects:

Castro: Highway 86, Dimmitt to Swisher county line, 18.2 miles grading and drainage, 70 per cent complete.

Bailey: Highway 28, Muleshoe to Lamb county line, 6.5 miles, grading, drainage and caliche base, 30 per cent complete.

Lamb: Highway 7, Amherst to end of pavement, 3.1 miles, caliche base, 60 per cent complete.

Cochran: Highway 24, Morton to Whiteface, caliche base, 12.5 miles,

U. S. Soldiers Released On Bond; Face Smuggling Charge

EAGLE PASS, Feb. 9 (AP)—D. M. McGee and John F. Ray, United States soldiers from Fort Clark, Texas, arrested Thursday night in Piedras Negras, Mexico, on charges of smuggling arms across the border, were released on bond today.

The soldiers, arrested when several boxes of ammunition were found in the automobile they were using, were released after Sergeant Roberts of Fort Clark established the fact that the machine belonged to Fort Clark. Mexican Consul S. J. Trevino effected the release.

Crew Of British Trawler Is Believed Lost Off Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Feb. 9 (AP)—The crew of 14 of the British trawler Langanes was believed lost today when the vessel went ashore on the rocky coast near Dyrafjord.

The trawler Green Howard, reaching the scene in response to an SOS message, found nobody aboard the wreck.

HAMILTON RUMORS RIFE

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 9. (AP)—Sheriff's officers late this afternoon were patrolling the roads west of this city after receiving a report that a man believed to be Raymond Hamilton, in woman's attire, was attempting to hitch-hike out of the city. They found no trace of the outlaw.

Major Shepard Case To Jury

Should Jury Find Him Guilty It Must Decide Whether He Is To Hang Or Whether Life Imprisonment Be Given

(By The Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 9.—A jury slept tonight on the fate of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, facing a possible sentence of death by hanging on the government's charge that he fatally poisoned his second wife to be free to wed a Texas blonde.

The jury retired to study the two weeks' testimony at 7:03 p. m. But Judge Colin Neblett advised the Kansas tradesmen and farmers he would not receive their verdict before Sunday.

"I will be available tomorrow at anytime," he said.

Alternative With Jury

The jury, if it agreed with the guilty verdict returned in Shepard's first trial four years ago, had the added task of deciding whether the retired army tuberculosis expert should be assessed a penalty of life imprisonment or hanging. The previous jury, at Kansas City, Kas., decided against the death penalty.

While the state laws of Kansas forbid capital punishment except in cases of treason, Major Shepard's case came under federal jurisdiction since Mrs. Zenna Shepard died in 1929 on government property at Fort Riley, Kas.

After Shepard's conviction the supreme court granted him a retrial on the ground the trial court erroneously had admitted as a dying declaration the testimony of a nurse attributing to Mrs. Shepard the quotation: "Dr. Shepard has poisoned me."

Evidence in the six-year-old case—based on the government's charge that the 63-year-old defendant sought his wife's death to be free to wed Miss Grace Brandon, 29-year-old Texas stenographer—was completed last night. Today was devoted to arguments.

SUSPECT SURRENDERS

BOSTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Shy Kingston, 21, sought on a charge of murder for the "whisky" death of 6-year-old Charles Edward Ballard last week, surrendered to Sheriff Henry Brooks today. He was held tonight in the Bowie county jail.

Untold Property Damage In East Texas, Louisiana

Terrific Winds Sweep Area From Gulf To Marshall; Negroes Chiefly Represented In Fatalities; Several Caught In Wreckage Of Homes; Woman, Baby Killed By Tree

(By The Associated Press)

GRAPELAND, Tex., Feb. 9.—Tornadic winds, ripping an erratic trail of destruction through East Texas and part of Louisiana last night, brought death to 12 persons, injured more than 70 and caused untold property damage.

A driving rain storm, extending into other parts of Texas and accompanied by thunder squalls, was raging when a funnel-shaped cloud vented its fury on a negro plantation community in the Trinity river bottoms 15 miles west of Grapeland.

Nine negroes, caught in their cabins, lost their lives and 40 others were injured there, some so badly they may die. The community is on the Murray plantation in Houston county.

Twelve Are Killed

The dead:
F. M. Bass, adult.
John Campbell, adult.
Sam Johnson, adult.
Aunt Lissie Murphy, adult.
Cosie Lewis, girl.
Chester Warfield, boy.
Emma Lewis, girl.
Another Lewis child.
Ardell Lewis, adult, died en route to a hospital.

Roofs And Trees Fall

In Reynard community, a few miles away, Ella Hayden was injured fatally, dying today in a Palestine hospital.

Mrs. Guy Parker and her baby were killed when a tree fell on their house at Schwab City in the Livingston oil field. Parker was stunned but children sleeping in another part of the house were unhurt.

Four negroes, crushed beneath the wreckage of their roofs when fierce winds ripped into their tenant houses, were perhaps fatally wounded at Nineveh. A young negro boy and girl, names not known, were reported near death tonight.

Gulf To Marshall Hit

The negroes, tenants on the Dorsey ranch in Leon county, were dragged from their homes. A commissary, five tenant houses, a 100-year-old stone ranch house with rock walls four feet thick and other property was destroyed at Nineveh.

A survey today revealed that the winds struck communities and towns scattered from the gulf to Marshall, hundreds of miles north. At Nineveh, a farming town in Leon county, 15 negro tenants were hurt. Twelve Groveton (Trinity county) residents were injured. Orange, on the coast, reported four injured.

Relief agencies, with the Red Cross sending workers into the stricken area, swung into action to

Rabbits, 50,000 Of Them, To Benefit From Smallpox Edict

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 9. (AP)—Thousands of long eared western Kansas jack rabbits—marked for slaughter in a big drive by hunters in Lane county tomorrow—were granted a reprieve today.

Attorney General Clarence C. Beck telegraphed Sheriff R. C. Wheatcroft not to permit the hunt, because of a smallpox epidemic in the county. About 6,000 persons had been expected to participate in the roundup. The goal was at least 50,000 rabbits.

MERCEDES MAYOR JAILED

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—Mayor W. D. Chadick of Mercedes was in jail here tonight awaiting sentence after a jury found him guilty of evading a federal income tax of $9,030 in 1929. Judge R. J. McMillan deferred sentence.

Not Guilty Is Plea Of Cato; Held In Jail

Counsel For Post Man To Ask Writ Of Habeas Corpus; Any Attempt To Obtain Release Will Bring Fight

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 9.—The sheriff who killed a federal narcotic agent at Post in West Texas Friday pleaded not guilty to federal murder charges here today. The same plea was entered by the veterinarian in front of whose office the shooting occurred, and a Post physician, both charged with complicity in the killing.

The federal agent, Spencer Stafford, was killed by four slugs from a machine gun in the hands of Sheriff W. F. Cato of Garza county, in front of the office of the veterinarian, L. W. Kitchen, where he had been going over narcotic records. The third defendant was Dr. V. A. Hartman. They were brought to jail here from Post today by United States Marshal J. R. Wright.

Government Not Ready

Formal hearing was passed when the government announced it was not ready. Counsel for the defense demanded proof and announced the three West Texans were "not waiving anything."

N. C. Outlaw, Sheriff Cato's lawyer, said he was preparing a motion for habeas corpus to be presented to United States Judge W. H.

Grand Jury Will Be Convened Here

Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd district court will impanel a grand jury at 10 o'clock Monday morning here, he announced yesterday.

Civil non-jury cases will be considered in his court this week, the following three weeks will be set aside for civil jury cases, and the weeks of March 11 and March 18 will be used for trial of criminal cases.

Judge Pharr closed a term of 72nd court at Crosbyton Saturday. He said the criminal docket there virtually was cleared. Only six persons, facing indictments in that county, had not been tried he said. Of that number three had not been arrested.

As a result of the term he concluded there 7 men are in Crosby county jail awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary system. Six other persons, convicted, received suspended sentences. District Attorney Daniel A. Blair and Burton S. Burks, of Lubbock, his assistant, were prosecutors.

Corra Harris, Novelist, Is Dead; Was Prolific Writer

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9. (AP)—Mrs. Corra Harris, the novelist, died of a heart ailment in a hospital here today at the age of 65.

The writer, whose best known work, "A Circuit Rider's Wife," attracted wide discussion through its interpretation in many quarters as an attack on policies of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, had been ill since Jan. 27. She wrote numerous books.

King's Son Aboard Ship Going To Schooner's Aid

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9. — The Duke of Gloucester, third son of Britain's King George, was swept into an unscheduled adventure today when the cruiser Australia steamed for a spot 300 miles north of Tahiti, where the radio Broadcast schooner Seth Parker was battling a storm and apparently riding it out.

The cruiser — a unit of the Australian navy with the duke as a passenger—turned off her course after Phillips Lord, entertainer and master of the widely publicised schooner, sent out a stream of messages saying he believed his vessel in danger because of heavy seas. The schooner, a four-master, did not send out SOS calls, however.

At 1:35 p. m. (eastern standard time) the radio of the Seth Parker was heard to say "Everything O. K. now." It added, however, that the "owner" did not think so. The sender expressed the belief "he (the owner) should go to sleep now. Has been up all night."

An hour later the schooner's wireless reported the situation was the same. This was construed by listeners to mean the ship was considered in no danger

Anglo-French Pact Meets With Accord Of Italian Officials, Says Communique

Sympathy For Attempt Felt

Obligation To Be Assumed By Italy And England Toward Each Other Only Exception To Understanding

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Feb. 9.—An official communique today affirmed the Italian government's adherence in principle to the Anglo-French agreement reached in London, including the air pact, excepting only the obligations to be assumed by Italy and England toward each other.

"Responsible Italian circles," said the communique, "have followed with great attention the recent conversations in London between the French and English governments, coversations of which the Italian government has been kept informed.

Sympathy Manifest

"The circles in general look with sympathy upon the final communique of these conversations and believe they contain the possibility of an accord with Germany and therefore the beginning of a period of collaboration among the interested powers.

"With regard more specifically to the air pact of mutual assistance, the position of Italy will soon be fixed in the sense of an adherence in principle, except to consider the special situation of Italy with regard to Great Britain, and visa versa.

"The responsible Italian circles have noted with satisfaction the position assumed by Great Britain with regard to Austrian independence and the Franco-Italian accord of Jan. 7."

The Chessboard

The YMCA Chess club of Dallas is considering Lubbock's challenge to meet in Abilene, for a match, J. C. Thompson has informed Dr. R. S. Underwood, president of the club here.

In addition to plans for the personal encounter, teams of the Lubbock, Dallas, and El Paso clubs likely will play a tri-cornered correspondence match. Dallas and El Paso already have started such a contest.

Personnel of the local team has not been chosen.

The King's Indian defense to the QP game proved satisfactory for Black at the Hastings, England, congress. The positional problems it develops appear to be more difficult for White than for Black. Note how Jose R. Capablanca, former world champion, handled the Black pieces:

(A) Black challenges White to prove that he cannot be so passive. White declines to trust himself with the freedom of 5 P-KB4.

(B) 8 P-KN4, to hinder Black's P-KB4, is interesting.

(C) White blocks his own natural Q-side development. Better is B-N5.

(D) His best winning chance is O-O-O.

(E) 18 QR-K potentially better.

(F) White creates a Q-side weakness, enabling Black to force a win without a K-side attack.

Problem No. 35, from Social Chess Quarterly, is a simple two-mover composed by J. G. Campbell. White plays, mates in two moves.

WHITE—K on KB2; Q on KB6; B on KR7. Three pieces.

BLACK—K on KN5 and P on KN4. Two pieces.

Most persons, advancing a pawn to the eighth rank, make it a queen. But in winning end-game No. 3, presented last week, A. Andersen promoted a pawn to a minor piece. The set-up of the position:

WHITE—K on KR1, Ps on QR6, QB2, QB7, KN4, KR3, and KR5. Seven pieces.

BLACK—K on KR5, B on K8, Ps on QR6, QN5, QB6, KN4, and KR3. Seven pieces.

The solution:

1 K-N2, P-R7; 2 P-B8 (becomes knight!), P-R8 (Q); 3 N-K7, any move by black; 4 N mates.

Oklahoma May Be Given Post

State Would Be Laboratory For EPIC Plan's Testing; Industries Board Would Be Vested With Power

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)—Oklahoma may become the laboratory in which Upton Sinclair's Utopian EPIC plan is tested.

An administration-backed bill creating a new industries board with far-reaching powers is before the Oklahoma legislature.

The bill, of enacted into law, will give the industries board unprecedented power in buying, selling and operating commercial plants both to provide goods for the needy and offer employment.

Appropriation Asked

The measure asks an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the operation of the board until June 30,1936, and provides full authority for the board to borrow funds and issue bonds.

One section authorizes the board to acquire transportation and communication facilities. This provision, while not specifically mentioning gas and electric power lines was believed broad enough to put the state into competition with public service companies.

The bill parallels the Utopian scheme advocated by Sinclair in his stormy race for governor of California in the section dealing with factories and mills. It authorizes the board to operate, construct, buy and sell factories for the following purposes:

Purposes Outlined

"To furnish employment for the unemployed and goods for their maintenance so long as unemployment and human suffering relating therefrom exist in Oklahoma.

"To produce essential supplies and materials for public construction whenever, in the opinion of the board, there exists monopolistic control of the price of these commodities or the state is unable to purchase these supplies and materials at fair prices in the open market.

BUTTER PRODUCTION DOWN

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 9.—(Special)—With approximately 1,150,000 pounds of butter churned in 1934 by Plains Cooperative, Inc., at Plainview and at Portales, N. M., the total was more than 10 per cent under that of 1933, Roy B. Davis, manager, states. The decrease occurred during the last five months of 1934, he said.

Aluminum Report Publication May Reveal Small Concerns' Monopoly Charges

Auto Code To Be Maintained

Expiration Date To Fall On June 16, When Present NRA Code Dies; Corrections Of Agency Are Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. — After putting the automobile controversy into the headlines again with a critical study of conditions in that business, NRA prepared today to publish a report on the aluminum industry.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt took the position that the auto code, under fire by American Federation of Labor leaders, will stand until June 16, the expiration date of the present NRA. He added at his press conference yesterday that further studies would be made in the meantime with a view to making any necessary corrections.

Recommendations Not Included

In renewing the code the president did not include several recommendations suggested by NRA research, but officials held that he did not foreclose future action.

The aluminum code must be renewed before June 16. When it was renewed last time the president pointed out that the NRA study of the code's effect on small industry had not been completed.

It is now finished and NRA is preparing to release it shortly. Small aluminum companies have charged that the Aluminum Company of America, in which the Mellons of Pittsburgh are heavily interested, has monopolized the industry. The report is to make findings on this question.

The NRA report on labor conditions in automobiles, made by the planning and research division headed by Leon Henderson, was seized upon by A. F. of L. leaders as ammunition to continue their fight against the code and the auto labor board headed by Dr. Leo Wolman.

Net Receipts Of Ball Announced

Net receipts from the president's birthday ball here this year were $369.25, W. O. Daniels, general chairman, announced Saturday.

Thirty per cent of the net receipts was sent to a national fund for fighting infantile paralysis and the remainder was deposited in the First National bank here for the Lubbock Crippled Children's council. The contribution to the national campaign thus was $110.78 and the amount retained for use in this territory $258.47.

Gross receipts were $429. Expenses were $59.75.

Watch the Fords Go By

"Five Thousand More Since Yesterday"

EVERY working day, more than five thousand New Ford V-8's roll off the assembly line and into the service of Ford owners.

It has been a long time since people have taken to a new car the way they have taken to the New Ford V-8.

Ford production in January was upwards of 100,000 units. For February it is set at 130,000. There haven't been figures like that since 1930.

That means jobs and wages for increasing thousands of automobile workers. Ford employment in the United States is more than 114,000 — over 74,000 at Dearborn and 40,000 in Ford plants throughout the country.

This activity reaches out to many hundreds of thousands of men in allied industries. They are busy when Ford is busy.

The story of the Ford V-8 is one of progress. Before it came along the V-8 cylinder engine was always associated with high price. It was beyond the reach of the average motorist.

The Ford Motor Company believed this was "the coming car for the majority of drivers." It set to work to build it at low cost. When you give the people something better there's never any question about sales.

It is interesting to note that more than 1,400,000 Ford V-8 cars and trucks have been built in the last three years. Each year has seen a sharp increase — the V-8 production in 1934 being approximately 103% ahead of 1933.

More important than sales, however, is service to owners. What the car does on the road is what counts. Actual use is the true test of an automobile. It has proved that the Ford V-8 engine has distinct advantages in performance and that it is economical too. Fact is, the Ford V-8 costs less per mile than any other Ford ever built. Cost records of owners show that to be so.

Tech Boxers Meet North Texas Aggies Here Tomorrow; Cagers Depart Today

Letter Men Of Grid Teams To Get Spotlight

Varsity And Freshmen Awards To Be Made As Feature Of Fight Program; Aggies To Show Proven Boxers

Local sports fandom's hunger for boxing is due to be appeased Monday night when the unbeaten North Texas Agricultural college leatherslingers from Arlington oppose Texas Tech's fight team at the Matador gymnasium.

The program starts at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, and replaces the usual winter month "fun nite" presentations which have become popular at Tech.

The evening's schedule appeals to the football fan as well as the fight lover. An appreciably sizeable portion of the program will be dedicated to the lads who carried Texas Tech banners through the 1934 gridiron campaign, and to many fans it will present the first opportunity of seeing the gridders at short range—and in their most glorified, if not embarrassing moments.

Sweaters And Blankets

Varsity letter sweaters will be awarded members of the Matador grid team who have lettered for the first time. Gold trophies, bearing proper insignia, will go to varsity players who have earned second or third letters. Senior letter men will receive blankets. Special awards, eight of them, will go to individuals who were outstanding in specific endeavor during the 1934 season. The players who made the most open field tackles, who blocked best in the line, who recovered most fumbles, etc., will receive special prizes for their work.

Freshmen numerals also will be awarded tomorrow night, and fans may obtain an idea of what the 1935 varsity gains from the 1934 freshman Picador team.

Big Event Here

The awarding of letters and trophies to deserving football players always is a matter of great con-

Westerners Lose To Amarillo High Cagers, 27 To 31

AMARILLO, Feb. 9. (Special) — The Westerners of Lubbock High school fought bravely here tonight, but to no avail against the Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo which was seeking revenge for a defeat suffered on the Lubbock court.

The score was 31 to 27. The Sandies had to fight every inch of the way to win the nip-and-tuck battle, a typical conflict between Amarillo and Lubbock teams.

The result moved Amarillo out of a tie for second place with Lubbock in the Panhandle league race, and sent Lubbock to third place.

Shallowater And Foster Win County Junior Cage Tourney

SHALLOWATER, Feb. 9. (Spcl.)—Shallowater boys defeated Liberty, 37 to 12, and Foster girls defeated Shallowater, 39 to 22, here tonight in final games of the Lubbock county basketball tournament for junior teams.

An all-tournament boys team, selected by the referees, consisted of Anderson of Shallowater and Allen of Liberty, forwards; Saunders of Grovesville, center; Exum of Monroe and Wright of Shallowater, guards.

The all-tournament girls team consisted of Allesander of Foster, Spencer of Grovesville and Merrill of Shallowater, forwards; Woodson of Foster, Horton of Hurlwood and Akins of Shallowater, girls. Each member of the all-star team received individual awards. Prizes were given to first and second place winners in both divisions.

Eight-Week Rule Approved By U. S. Tennis Association

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9. (AP)—Approval of the controversial eight-week playing rule was voted by the United States Tennis association today. The association also approved a clarifying rider despite argument that the rule was being approved and emasculated.

The rule, adopted by the international tennis federation, limits amateur tennis players to eight weeks of expenses-paid play each year. The clarifying rider offered by W. Merrill Hall, president of the U. S. L. T. A., exempts participants in national and sectional tournaments from the rule, and discounts traveling time as well.

HIGGINS UNSIGNED

TYLER, Feb. 9. (AP)—Frank Higgins, Philadelphia Athletics third baseman, said here today he had not signed his contract but was not a holdout.

"We just haven't come to an agreement," he said, "but you know you're not a holdout till you fail to show up for spring training."

Asked about a rumor he might be traded to the Yankees, Higgins had nothing to say.

So The Governor Of Alabama Said To The 'King'—

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 9. (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long telephoned Gov. Bibb Graves from Washington today, asking if a series of football games between the University of Alabama and Louisiana State university could be arranged.

"Nothing would suit me better than for Alabama to give L. S. U. a few lessons in football," Governor Graves told the Louisiana senator. "After we have taught them how to play, maybe L. S. U. will be a worthy opponent for other colleges."

Dr. George H. Denny, president of the University of Alabama was in the governor's office shortly after Long called, and said he would take the matter up with Head Coach Frank Thomas when he returned to Tuscaloosa.

Vic Hurt Gets Methodist Job

Former Oklahoma Baptist Grid Coach Selected As Aide To Matty Bell; Freshman Coach And Director To Be Named

DALLAS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Vic Hurt, for twelve years a successful director of athletics at Oklahoma Baptist university today was named assistant football coach and head track mentor at Southern Methodist university.

The veteran coach met with unanimous approval of Head Coach Madison (Matty) Bell and school officials. He will report here for spring football training, tentatively set for March 6. He will serve as a general aide in football, not confining his activities to either the backfield or line, Bell said.

"Every recommendation on Hurt has been an enthusiastic one from every angle," Dr. Charles C. Selecman, president, said in announcing the appointment.

Hurt was hired on the same basis as a professor, which gives him the job on an indefinite time basis instead of a set number of years.

Hurt's Oklahoma Baptists lost only one Oklahoma State conference game on their home field from 1924 to 1930 and have lost only five conference games in five years. His 1934 eleven won the championship.

Track Teams Lead

The Oklahoma Baptist tracksters captured conference titles in 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, and 1932.

A head freshman coach and an athletic director will be named within two or three weeks, Dr. Selecman said. R. N. (Rusty) Russell, veteran mentor of all sports at Masonic Home, Fort Worth, was reported the outstanding freshman coaching candidate. Jimmie Stewart, present assistant director of athletics, is expected to be elevated to the post of director.

Mustang Gridders To Play At Los Angeles Armistice

DALLAS, Feb. 9. (AP) — Jimmie Stewart, assistant director of athletics at Southern Methodist university, tonight telegraphed acceptance of a contract for the Mustangs to meet the University of California at Los Angeles gridders there on Armistice Day, 1935, under auspices of the Los Angeles American Legion.

Signing of the intersectional engagement may cause a one-year lapse in football relations between the Methodist's "aerial circus" and Texas A. and M. Their annual Southwest conference game for many years has been played on Nov. 9 under a two year home-and-home agreement.

The last contract expired last fall and a new one has not been signed. Head Coach Matty Bell said tonight if the Aggies did not agree to Dec. 7 as the 1935 date, an open date for both schools, the game would not be played next season.

West Texas Buffs Win Over New Mexico Normal, 36-31

CANYON, Feb. 9 (AP) —The West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes made a clean sweep of their two-game series with the New Mexico Normal Cowboys here tonight, handing the visitors the dismal end of a 36 to 31 count.

During the first half the New Mexicans tallied but six points, all through the free throw route.

Britt and Boedeker, Buffalo forward and guard, respectively, tied for scoring honors with 10 points each. Burson, Cowboy center, was runnerup with nine points.

One member of each team was ousted from the game because of too many personal fouls.

Dawson County Cage Tourney Set For Tuesday This Week

LAMESA (Special) — A county basketball tournament is scheduled for the high school gym here on Tuesday, February 11, A. G. Bearden, county interscholastic league athletic director, says.

All teams are eligible. Winner will go to the district meet in Lubbock, February 22 and 23.

Rice Owls Win 49-35 Victory Over Steer '5'

Jack Gray Stages Masterful Individual Exhibition But Longhorns Fall Before Owl Attack; Gray Scores 21

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Not even the genius of Jack Gray here tonight could prevail against the determined sustained drive of the Rice institute Owls and Rice gained a well-earned 49 to 35 verdict over Coach Marty Karow's Texas university Longhorns.

Veteran followers of basketball agreed Gray gave the most masterful exhibition ever put on here by a basketeer. Although "Tightwad" Lodge, sensational sophomore, fought his heart out in the effort to stop him, Gray shot nine baskets from the field, and caged three gift shots to score 21 points. In addition, he handled the ball more than any two other players, and hustled hard on defense. The Owls licked the Longhorns, but they didn't come close to stopping Mr. Jack Gray.

Gray Runs 'Em Crazy

Most of Gray's field goals came on one hand "push" shots from well beyond the foul line. But a couple of times he tied the Rice guards into knots with his feinting, and dribbles through to make good crip shots.

Captain Harry Journeay and Floyd Kelly paced the Owl attack with 10 points each. Coach Jimmy Kitts' men experienced little trouble working the ball through or over the Longhorn defense and every Rice player in the game any length of time scored at least one field goal.

District Cage Tournament For Girls Scheduled March 1 And 2 On Wilson Boards

Plans for the District 2 girls basketball tournament, scheduled for March 1 and 2, were discussed here yesterday when nine coaches met at Hotel Hilton.

County champions of 17 South Plains counties are eligible to enter the tournament, which is to be held at the Wilson High school gymnasium. Winners of first round games will be given meals and lodging for the duration of the tournament.

W. A. Smith of Southland was named chairman of the district executive committee, and Miss Naomi Robnette of Littlefield was elected secretary. A second meeting is scheduled at Hotel Hilton here at 1 p. m. Friday, Feb. 22, to which all schools interested are asked to send representatives.

A total of 60 prizes will be distributed at the conclusion of the tournament.

Those attending yesterday's meeting were Jesse B. Leverett of Ropesville, A. L. Faubion of Wilson, Homer Franklin of Meadow, Roy Boyd of McClung, R. L. Hooten of Shallowater, W. A. Smith of Southland, K. C. Cumming of Shallowater, Naomi Robnette of Littlefield and Jimmie Gammill.

A committee consisting of R. L. Hooten, Jesse B. Leverett and A. L. Faubion were named to select referees for the tournament.

Physician Says Joe Firpo Was Drugged Before Fight

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Dr. W. J. Vopata, physician for the Illinois State Athletic commission, today said he was certain young Joe Firpo, Philadelphia middleweight, was drugged last night just before he planned to battle Frankie Seglio of Chicago in a 10-round boxing match at the Cicero stadium.

Firpo collapsed a few minutes before he was to have entered the ring and was taken to the St. Anthony hospital. Dr. Vopata said he was resting easily today and probably would be discharged from the hospital tonight or tomorrow.

LUMBERJACKS WIN

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 9. (AP) — The Lumberjacks of Stephen F. Austin defeated the Eagles of North Texas Teachers college, 39 to 27 in a listless basketball game here tonight. The Lumberjacks led at the half 19 to 14. Williams of Stephen F. Austin was high point man with 14, followed by Cain of the Eagles with 12.

Arkansas Razorbacks Take Sixth Straight Game To Increase Lead In Southwest Conference Cage Race

Baylor Bears Again Victims Of Goal Shooting Hogs

(By The Associated Press)

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 9.—Rangy Ike Poole, sharp-shooting University of Arkansas center, accounted for exactly half of his team's points tonight as the Porkers drove on to a Southwest conference title with a 48 to 30 triumph over Baylor's Bruins and their sixth consecutive victory.

The elongated center went on an uncanny, second half scoring spree to tally 18 points. It was his two field goals in the opening minute that shot the Porkers into a lead they never relinquished.

He quieted down after the opening spurt but Moody, Howell and Newby took up where he left off and provided the Razorbacks with a 21 to 13 half-time lead.

Wolf Concedes Title

The excellent defensive play of Howell, Porker guard, kept Alford, Baylor scoring ace, in check until Howell went out of the game on fouls. Alford, a leading scorer of the conference, finally totaled nine points. Wray, Bruin center, also scored nine points, chiefly as the result of long-range, one-hand shots.

Moody followed Poole in Arkansas scoring with eight points.

"Arkansas should win the conference title easily enough with Southern Methodist and Texas running close for second," commented Coach Ralph Wolf of Baylor, after the game.

Vic Webber To Battle Fenton

Gorilla Pogi Of The Argentine Comes Back This Week; Takes On Dutch Aultman; Fenton In For Bad Night

Vic Webber, the New York German who invaded the Southwestern circuit last spring and proceeded to take all the boys to a cleaning, winning the right to meet Gus Kallio in a world championship match, is headed back toward Lubbock this week.

And so is Rod Fenton. Fenton asked the matchmaker for a chance to come back and make good before the Lubbock fans after dropping a spectacular match to Cyclone Mackey in the main event last Wednesday night.

Picked A Tough One

Fenton would have preferred some opponent other than Webber, who has beaten all the hotshots of this neighborhood. It looks like another bad evening for Lightning Rod, but it should be a fast fight, full of action and all kinds of maneuvers.

Promoter Sled Allen reaches far back into the pages of local wrestling history for another of his attractions this week. Gorilla Pogi, the hairy-chested ape-man from the Argentine, will be remembered as one of the main eventers on the first card Promoter Allen ever staged here, way back in October of 1933. Pogi has been back home to Buenos Aires recently, as well as elsewhere, and is reported to have added considerably to his store of mat knowledge.

Aultman Wants Chance

The "Oi, Oi, Oi" man from South America meets Dutch Aultman, the German who played a losing hand against Joe Kopecky in last week's semi-final. Aultman, who did not register a pleasing impression in his debut, seeks another chance to make good, believing he will give the folks a show they expected from him last week.

O. H. "The Great" Britain, given a lesson last week by Joe Bauer, is to tangle with Rex O'Sullivan in this week's prelim.

EDINBURG IN CLASS A

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 9. (AP) — Notice was received by school officials here today that Edinburg will enter District 16 class "A" football competition next year. The addition will bring the district membership to seven schools, the others being Corpus Christi, Robstown, Kingsville, Laredo, Harlingen, and Brownsville.

Mustang Quint Defeats Aggie Cagers, 44-21

Crippled Farmer Team Unable To Penetrate Pony Defense In Southwest Cage Battle; Wilhite Leads Attack

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 9.—The rejuvenated Southern Methodist Mustangs employed a sparkling passing attack here tonight to smother a crippled Texas Aggie quintet, 44 to 21, in a Southwest conference game.

The Mustangs outclassed their opponents from the start, jumping off to an early lead and adding to it throughout the game.

Briggs, regular guard who had not been expected to play on account of illness, went on the floor for S. M. U. and won second high scoring honors. Wilhite, who took the place of the ailing regular guard Carter, was high man with 12, one more than Briggs scored.

The Man-In-The-Hole

The Mustangs used a man-in-the-hole play effectively for most of their scores. Briggs and Baccus alternated at slipping down under the basket to take long looping passes from down the court.

The Aggies ran into trouble against the St. Clair defense and got few shots from inside the 15-foot line. The Ponies put on a better display of teamwork in passing the ball through the defense.

Bunny Oakes May Take Coach Job At Colorado Vacated By W. H. (Navy Bill) Saunders

DENVER, Feb. 9 (AP) — Semi-authoritative reports today said that on February 22 the University of Colorado will announce that Bernard F. (Bunny) Oakes, former pride of the marines, will take over the football coaching position vacated by W. H. (Navy Bill) Saunders.

The report was neither denied nor affirmed by officials at Boulder, who said that the board of regents following a meeting yesterday had been sworn to secrecy concerning the coaching situation.

Ropesville Girls Win County Cage Tourney At Levelland

LEVELLAND, Feb. 9 (Special)—Averaging better than fifty points per game in a round-robin schedule of 5 games, the Ropesville girls basketball team won the Class A division championship of Hockley county tonight.

Three teams were tied for second place after the round-robin play. They were Pettit, Whitharrall and Anton.

Clauene school girls won the Class B division title, with Smyer finishing second and Cobleland finishing third.

The Ropesville girls were easily the outstanding team of the tournament.

McMurry Beats Southwestern In Texas Conference Tangle

ABILENE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The hustling McMurry Indians defeated Southwestern university, 39 to 31, here tonight in a Texas conference game. It was the third straight loss for the Pirates against Abilene teams.

Frank Ferrell, McMurry center, roped six field goals and three gratis baskets for a total of 15 points to lead the scoring. Barnes at guard starred for the visitors.

HORNBOSTEL WINS

BOSTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—The illness of Elton Brown of Kansas City, probably prevented Indiana's great Charlie Hornbostel from breaking his second world's record in as many weeks in the Boston A. A. game's 1,000-yard run tonight at the Boston Garden. With no one capable of pushing him, Hornbostel broke the tape in 2:14 1-5, two and a fifth seconds behind the mark set by Hal "Flying Parson" Cutbill 13 years ago.

Willie Goggin Rushes Forward To Grab Lead In Caliente Go

Frisco Golfer Posts Sub-Par Round Of 69 For Total Of 215 To Lead John Revolta, Laffoon And Picard

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Feb. 9. — San Francisco's Willie Goggin rushed out of the challenging ranks today to post a par breaking 69 in the mud for a 215 total and the lead at the three-quarters post of the Agua Caliente $5,000 golf sweepstakes.

The rugged, 27-year-old pro failed, however, to turn in the parimutuel winning round of the day.

This privilege went to John Revolta, Milwaukee, who was sinking his putts from far and wide to take a 68, three under par. Johnny was worth the tidy sum of $62.20 on $2 tickets on a day which saw such spirited betting that the "take" was almost as big as that of the first two days combined—$916.

Cox Slows Down

Revolta's fine disdain of the trying playing conditions on the flooded fairways and slow greens put him in a tie for second place with Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., and Ky Laffoon, Chicago, at 216.

The pressure of front running told on Wiffy Cox, defending champion. After hitting par on the first two rounds, he slipped to a sad 76 and a three-way tie for seventh place.

Laffoon, who held top place with Cox and Harry Cooper at the halfway mark, slumped to a 74. Picard, his other contemporary in this bracket besides Revolta, had a 70, one under par.

Revolta's low card for the day was worth $91.60 in added money to him as ten per cent of the coin which went through the pari-mutuel machines. He neglected, however, to place a bet on himself.

The final round will be played tomorrow, with the winner receiving $1,000 prize money.

Other third round results:

Tom Menafee, San Antonio, 155-77—232.

Jim Demaret, Galveston, 146-73—219.

Ed Juelg, San Antonio, 150-76—226.

Hppy Lenz, San Antonio, 172-84—256.

Tony Butler, Harlingen, 169 (withdrew.)

Dudley Bell, Houston, 157-74—231.

Byron Nelson, Texarkana, 143-76—219.

Jack Grout, Fort Worth, 150-74—224.

C. M. Scull of Washington.

But in the Class F race, feature of the opening program, Frank Vincent, also of Tulsa, nosed out Turk by less than a boat length to win each of the five mile heats. The first heat was at 49.234 miles an hour, the second 49.369.

Horse Dopers To Find No Rest At Epsom Downs Track

HOUSTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Trainers who have been suspended for doping horses will find no haven at Epsom Downs, President E. J. Hussion warned Saturday. Three trainers recently suspended at Alamo Downs, San Antonio, for stimulating horses, had shipped their stables to the Houston course. President Hussion today directed racing secretary H. D. (Jim) Monroe to remove those trainers and their horses from Epsom Downs.

By nightfall Sunday each of the offending trainers and his horses will have left the Houston race course, Monroe said. The spring meeting here opens Feb. 22.

Tulsa Lads Steal The Show At Southwestern Boat Race

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 9. (AP) —A couple of boys from Tulsa, Okla., stole the show the first day of the annual Southwestern championship outboard motorboat regatta today, and one, H. H. Turk set up a new world record for Class C. motors.

Turk sent his 0-30 roaring around the Trout river course at 50.223 miles an hour to better the old world record of 49.45 held by

Minnesota Sportsmen Turn Samaritan

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 9. (AP)—Minnesota's army of sportsmen, their guns put away for another year, have dropped the role of hunter and become Good Samaritans.

Alarmed by reports of starvation among the state's pheasants, quail and partridge, sportsmen's organizations throughout the state have established hundreds of feeding stations, trudged throughout miles of snow drifts and braved sub-zero blasts to carry feed to wild fowl.

The heaviest snows in several years, following a drouth that took a heavy toll of water fowl, have covered the natural feeding grounds with a three-foot blanket. Freezing temperatures also have killed many birds.

At Rochester, the Izaak Walton league has established 17 bird feeding stations. Members make daily trips on snowshoes to scatter wheat, oats and barley.

Drouth-stricken western Minnesota is utilizing its rural mail carriers, each whom has been supplied an extra pouch to carry rations for birds along their routes.

In other sections of the state farmers left a few rows of corn in each field to tide wild fowl through the severe winter.

What is perhaps the most ambitious project of all is being conducted by the Minnesota Riverbottoms' chapter of the Walter league in Minneapolis. Nineteen feeding stations were established in one week to bring the total to 29, and a truck was hired to transport a daily quota of feed.

Members report picking up hundreds of dead pheasants which had frozen or died of starvation.

Another group, with a long time object in mind, has prevailed on a state legislator to propose a bill in the Minnesota house of representatives advocating the planting of several tons of a variety of cane in marshlands of the state to provide a permanent source of bird feed.

Matadors Open With Sul Ross At Alpine Gym

Raiders Invade New Mexico For Four Games With Aggies And Loboes; Return Home On Monday, Feb. 18

Coach Virgil Ballard and 10 members of the Texas Tech varsity basketball squad leave early this morning for Alpine where they open a full week's road trip by meeting the Sul Ross Loboes in the first of a series of two games.

The Matadors play at Alpine Monday and Tuesday nights, after which they proceed to State College, New Mexico, for a Border conference series with the New Mexico A. & M. cagers. These games are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights.

In Albuquerque Friday

Friday night will find the Red Raiders in Albuquerque for another Border conference series, against the University of New Mexico Loboes. This is expected to be one of the toughest series on the conference schedule. The Raiders are due home Monday, Feb. 18.

Coach Ballard yesterday announced that a series had been arranged for the Texas Tech court on February 19 and 20 with the Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma.

University of Arizona Wildcats come here March 1-2 for the next Border conference series at home.

Would Clinch Title

Leaders in the Border loop with four straight victories against Arizona teams, the Matadors will virtually clinch their third straight conference championship if they make a clean sweep on the road trip this week.

Leroy Crews, Wilson Gilmore, Larry Priddy, Curly Wilkinson, Lem Weaver, Hugh Snodgrass, Judge Garrett, Robert Hale and J. W. West are members of the team making the trip. Trenton Davis, manager, will accompany the team.

District Tourney Schedule Set For Sixteen Quintets

First round pairings in the District 2 interscholastic league basketball tournament, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, February 22 and 23, have been announced by Virgil Ballard, Texas Tech cage coach and district athletic director.

The schedule has been drawn up on the basis that sixteen teams will participate in the tournament — county champions from fourteen counties plus the two Class A teams of the district, Lubbock High and Plainview High, which are not required to pass county tournament examinations.

A majority of counties in the district conducted county tournaments last week. The schedule lists counties rather than teams, since all returns were not in when the schedule was arranged.

- Lamesa A Favorite

Director Ballard has distributed a schedule which places one prominent team in the upper bracket and at least three in the lower bracket. The toughest competition looms in the lower bracket, where Lubbock High school, Hockley county and Lubbock county champions figure to battle it out for the right to meet Lamesa, the stand out team of the upper bracket and the champion of Dawson county.

Hockley county probably will be represented by Ropesville or Levelland, each of which boasts unusually strong teams. Shallowater looms as the Lubbock county champion, although finals in the county tournament have not been played.

The schedule, as announced by Ballard, calls for the champions of Terry and Crosby counties to start the fireworks at 9 o'clock Friday morning, Feb. 22. Plainview High and the Garza county champions play at 10 o'clock. Continuing each hour thereafter, the first round schedule is:

Dawson county vs. Hale county; Dickens county vs. Lamb county; Lynn county vs. Cochran county; Lubbock High school vs. Floyd county; Lubbock county vs. Gaines county; Hockley county vs. Yoakum county.

Johnny Stewart, Racer, Is Killed In Crash In Florida

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 9. (AP)—A racing driver was killed and five other persons were injured in a crash of five speeding automobiles at the Florida fair today. Three of the injured were school children.

Johnny Stewart, 30, of Atlantic City, N. J., died on the way to a hospital after his car locked wheels with that of Bob Jenkins of Savannah, Ga. Stewart was hurled under his own car and his skull fractured. Jenkins escaped injury but his car was badly damaged.

Bobby Green of Orlando, Fla., and Shano Fitzgerald of Dallas, coming up behind Stewart and Jenkins, hit the wrecked cars. Green suffered a badly bruised right arm but Fitzgerald escaped injury.

Cleanup Drive Planned Here

Lubbock Now Boasts Five Loving Cups For Having Staged Best Drives; '35 Campaign Will Start Soon

Lubbock has participated in a national cleanup-paintup campaign each of the last five years. Lubbock has five silver loving cups won for conducting the best drives of the kind in Texas.

The 1935 campaign will get under way here soon. D. A. Forbess, City fire marshal, appealed Saturday to Lubbock residents to cooperate in keeping the city clean and sanitary.

Eliminate Fire Hazards

Coincident to the cleanup drive, fire hazards will be eliminated, said Forbes, and "merchants must realize the importance of fire hazards and the direct loss to all policy holders from fires."

He asked that yards and alleys be kept clean and that merchants see that trash is placed in cans and packed down so it will remain until garbage wagon crews can remove it.

"The garbage collection department of the city is anxious to remove trash from the alleys as rapidly as it accumulates but does not have sufficient forces to clean the entire alley when trash has been allowed to blow from the garbage containers," Forbes said.

Tech Fighters

tern and an event of pompous proteedings at Texas Tech.

The fights, seven in all, promise to be worth the time and price of admission. The North Texas Aggies boast several outstanding boxers, and Coach Harry Guthrie of Tech believes his lads can give good accounts of themselves.

There will be fights in nearly all weight divisions, from the 115-pound bantamweight class to the heavyweight division.

In the bantamweight division, Joe Lynch of Tech, a Ft. Worth lad, will meet Harold or Carroll Shaw, one of two twin sets on the North Texas Aggie boxing team. Carroll is the lightest man on the Aggie team, at 110 pounds. Harold weighs 118 pounds.

C. A. Gibbs of Sweetwater, represents Tech in the featherweight division. The Aggie squad list does not show a fighter in the 125 pound class, but Harold Shaw may be Gibb's opponent.

Trouble For Matadors

One of the Aggies' most outstanding fighters is James Elder, who meets Bub Nichols of Tech in the lightweight division contest. Elder is undefeated in fourteen fights. Recently he defeated H. J. Francis, state I. M. C. A. champion. He is a football and basketball star.

Tech's fighter in the welterweight class, James McDuff of Ralls, also faces plenty of trouble. He meets Milton Coffey, one of the Aggies' outstanding performers. Coffey has participated in 48 amateur fights, winning most of them, including the last sixteen in a row. He has been champion of Casino Park, Fort Worth, twice, and was tri-state A. A. U. champion in 1933. Several weeks ago he defeated James Matthews, Southern A. A. U. champion.

The presence of Coffey is expected to prove a special drawing card. He weighs 147 pounds. McDuff weighs 145 pounds.

The Tech delegate in the middleweight class had not been announced yesterday. Moseley or Edwin Sweet will meet the Aggie middleweight. Mark Smith, of Cleburne, is to represent Tech in the 165-pound class.

Tech boasts two able boxers in the light heavyweight and heavyweight division. The Aggie roster lists but one 175-pounder, but the report is that Leonard Appleton of Baird, Texas, is good enough to take on both Tech heavyweights at the same time. Appleton won the intramural championship in light heavyweight and heavyweight divisions at Aggieland last year. R. C. Mitchell of Lockney is down as Tech's 175-pound fighter, but if the Aggies do not bring a heavier man, Coach Guthrie may turn Bull Katrola, large football tackle, loose on Appleton. A slugger and a punch-absorber, Katrola is expected to make short work of any man he faces.

Katrola Favored

E. W. Lambert is coach of the Aggie fighters, who were undefeated last year in a full season of boxing. The 1934 Aggie team defeated both the Dallas and Fort Worth I. M. C. A. teams. Coffey, Appleton and the Elder brothers are all veterans of last year's squad.

Texas Tech officials have announced another change in fight night proceedings. Heretofore limited to men only, fight programs in the future, beginning tonight, will be open to women fans. The prices of admission are 40 cents for men, 25 cents for women.

Gold Decision

day."

"Orders" May Result

"That means no opinions of any kind?" a newsman asked.

"That's it."

"How about Tuesday?"

"I said Monday."

Cropley went on to make it plain that he was speaking only of opinions, that "orders" may be handed down, announcing whether other cases will or will not be reviewed by the court.

Just as was the case a week ago, the capital had become keyed up to the expectation of a Monday decision. A short statement by Chief Justice Hughes last Saturday abruptly provided the anti-climax.

Government Action Ready

While the court was meeting today, Attorney General Cummings spent two hours with President Roosevelt going over the plans which have been drawn for immediate action in the event the decision goes against the government. Informed of the court's further delay, he declined to comment.

The government's plans for action, if necessary, were ready a week ago, the product of many hours consultation between treasury, justice department and reconstruction finance corporation experts. The government, it has been made clear, is ready for any eventuality the opinion may produce.

Farmers Of Harris County Prefer Chickens And Crops To Oil Wells

HOUSTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Farmers in the Tomball section of Harris county have hens, crops and oil wells, but prefer the hens and crops.

G. W. H. Marten said he would hesitate no little while before he would consider swapping his 600 white leghorn hens for an oil well. He has two oil wells—good ones—but the hens have been a greater source of revenue the last few months.

"If you should give me the choice between 1,200 hens, which would lay as the ones I have now, and two oil wells, I'd take the chickens," Mr. Marten said. His third well is ready to be spudded in.

Otto Rudel, 65-year-old farmer, has six wells on his 127-acre farm, but plans to plant his usual 45 acres of cotton, corn and potatoes this year.

When asked how it felt to have half a dozen oil wells, Mr. Rudel smiled.

"It's all right, but good heavens, I can't quit my farming," he said. "Do you think a man who has farmed 50 years, as I have, could just snap off from his regular work and play around?

"No, sir. In fact, this farming is my pleasure."

The Tomball field, located in northern Harris county, was discovered in May, 1933, and the proved territory covers over 4,500 acres. The field has 65 producing wells.

Luisa Espinel Will Present Program Depicting Life In Spain On Tuesday

With song, dance and pantomime, Luisa Espinel will present "Cuadros Castizos" (little pictures of Spain) as a college artists course number Tuesday evening in the Senior High school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. The distinguished interpreter of Hispanic folk music will portray the gay, the comic and the dramatic in Spanish and Latin American peasant life.

Costumes which Senorita Espinel will wear are from Spanish countries. She will wear a duplicate of a wedding costume owned by Eugenia Victoria, Spanish queen. The two costumes, identical even in embroidery, were given the queen and Senorita Espinel by a Salamanca woman of noble birth. Another costume, with a skirt of Valencian brocade, which had been in the family of Clotildae de Seroila, famous painter since the 18th century, was given Senorita Espinel by the wife of the painter. Spanish provincial costumes will add color to portrayals of peasant life.

The singer-dancer-actress intends to present not the Spain of music halls and cigar box labels, but the Spain she has known in years of association with peasants of the provinces. She has spent much of her life in Spain.

Martinez Sierra, playwright, said, regarding Espinel, "There is no artist who is more conscientious and more scrupulous in her creations."

Miguel de Zarraga, American correspondent for the A. B. C. newspaper of Madrid, Spain, said: "Espinel imitates no one nor is she a reflection of any artist. She is herself."

Senorita Espinel will appear in a lyceum program in the West Texas State Teachers college auditorium Wednesday evening.

Tickets for the Lubbock program will be on sale Monday and Tuesday at Bowen's Drug store, in the lobby of the college administration building, and will be on sale at the high school Tuesday evening. Admission is 25 and 50 cents.

but that the owner still was worried.

The cruiser, taking the duke to Tahiti from Australia, was about 200 miles from the Seth Parker when she turned off her course to offer assistance.

Naval stations here and at Honolulu intercepted messages which told of a battle with a storm.

There was no mention of injury to any of the 13 persons aboard nor damage to the schooner except that the regular radio apparatus was out of order.

The schooner was built in 1918, at Portland, Ore., and first engaged in Pacific coast trade under the name of Georgette. She is 187 feet long with a displacement of 757 tons, and is fitted with an auxiliary motor. Present owners are listed as the vagabond enterprising corporation.

"It Seems Like A Dream--I Feel Lost"--Anna Hauptmann

"I Sit In That Courtroom And Think I Must Scream; With All The People In The World, Why Must This Happen To Us;" Weary Wife Seems To Be Bluer Than Ever Before

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 9—Mrs. Anna Hauptmann opened the top drawer of her bureau. Inside were bales of letters she has received since her husband's trial began.

Mrs. Hauptmann

"About five of these are from people I know," she said. "The rest are from strangers; and none of them say anything bad to me."

The blonde, weary woman who is the wife of the man accused of murdering the Lindbergh baby, seemed bluer than she has been for days. She sat on her bed and said, "I feel 'verlasse'—lost."

Will End Soon

"In about three days, this will be over; and then what? I keep saying, 'when Richard is back and we are together—I don't dare think anything else. What would life be for me?

"Sometimes," she said, "this seems like a dream. I rub my hands over my eyes and can't believe it. My husband is in jail, the baby is away and I am here in a furnished room. With all the people in the world, why must this happen to us?

"I sit in that courtroom and think I must scream when they keep on saying, 'sie es getan haben, sie es getan haben!'" (You did it, you did it.)

She has made no plans about what she will do after the trial.

Enough Time To Think

"Why think? There will be time enough to think," she said.

Asked if she had had offers for work, she said scornfully, "offers to go in the movies."

A newspaper picture of her husband and a color print of Christ praying at a rock are propped on her bureau. Her bed is covered with a blue-striped spread. She said she comes home from court, lies down and imagines her husband is home, or that he does the same thing in his jail cell.

"People say to me, 'why don't you go to a movie and enjoy yourself?'" she continued. "I would have no enjoyment. I have sewing to do, but can't keep my mind on it."

Dissatisfaction Shown

She showed dissatisfaction with the way the trial has gone—"you can't make things clear in that courtroom." For instance—"about the third shelf in my closet, now, where I didn't see the shoebox." Going to her clothes closet, she opened the door and showed how she could hang an apron on a high hook, and not see the top shelf in one end.

"If I could have said it in German that would be clear," she said.

"And I said I stopped going to Gerta's house 'for reasons.' The reason was, I was expecting the baby. But I could not say that in the courtroom with all those men there. And then they thought I was jealous of Gerta.

"She and I never had a cross word. Her house was on Richard's way to work, and I said to him, 'step in.' Gerta's husband often drank coffee with me—German people think nothing of that. Every time anyone comes you put the coffee pot on.

Painted A Scarf

"She painted a scarf for me the Christmas I bought her the slip." Mrs. Hauptmann opened another drawer, brought out the scarf and showed it proudly.

"Girls liked Richard and I was proud. At Hunter's Island it was 'hello, Dick—hello, Richard.'

"Of course Gerta flirts, but she means nothing by it. She is married seven years, but still a child. After she was on the stand Richard said, 'Gerta is the same big child'."

"I can't be like that," Mrs. Hauptmann said, wistfully. "Gerta is as happy without a crust of bread as with one, but I worry, and I never in my life bought a pair of stockings without having the money to pay."

She said Gerta was too flippant on the witness stand, "and maybe people didn't like it."

Almost 2,000 Students Enroll Friday And Saturday For Texas Tech Courses

More than 1,960 students enrolled for the spring semester at Texas Technological college Friday and Saturday, official registration days. Several hundred students are expected to register this week, according to the president of the college.

Classes of the spring semester will begin Monday morning at 8 o'clock. Last date students may register for this semester, except by special permission of the Administrative council, is February 19. This is also the last date students may add or change a course.

More students enrolled Friday and Saturday than during any other two days since the college opened, according to President Bradford Knapp, but this is an indication of better enrollment procedure rather than an increase of enrollment over other semesters, he said.

Enrollment for the fall semester this year exceeded 2,400. Enrollment during the spring semester has been less than that of the fall semester every year in the history of the college except last year. Total rgistration for the spring semester last year was approximately 2,330.

To register late, students must report to the registrar's office in the administration building and go to heads of departments of various subjects which they wish to take.

Tornado

provide shelter for the hundreds of homeless and medical treatment for the injured.

It was found that about 50 families were made homeless in the negro community west of Grapeland, where the destructive disturbance took its heaviest toll.

Weather observers said it was probable that a number of separate tornadoes formed during the night, dipping down to cause devastation and casualties at the widely-separated points. Tornadoes are an annual menace to this part of Texas and usually travel from the southwest to the northeast.

Winds Strike Quickly

"It just dropped down, then was up and gone," was the way Nat Hayden, one of the 19 injured negroes brought to a Palestine hospital, described the disaster.

"Everybody was sitting at home and a heavy rain was falling. All of a sudden the wind started blowing and before we knew what happened, the storm had struck."

Piles of debris were all that remained today of 31 tenant houses wrecked there. One house caught fire when a falling roof upset a stove. The occupants managed to escape.

Planes Destroyed

At Marshall, a "twister" struck a hangar at the municipal airport, destroying two planes. The hangar was moved off its foundations and pushed 50 feet. A propellor was shoved through an iron door.

Miss Edith Hennessey, field representative of the Red Cross in Dallas, left for Grapeland an hour after learning of the disaster. Meanwhile, ambulances carried the injured over muddy roads to hospitals and relief agencies collected clothing and bedding in Grapeland and Crockett for the care of the needy. Doctors from these two points went to the hard-hit negro community and treated many who had been taken into homes that escaped damage.

Louisiana Suffers

De Quincy, La., suffered damage estimated at between $10,000 and $20,000 when a tornado lashed that town. The Phelan Grocery company's building was damaged extensively and the Kansas City Southern freight warehouse was blown from its foundation. The Missouri Pacific shops were damaged considerably. Garages, outbuildings and roofs were damaged.

Four persons were hurt when a tornado touched the southern part of Orange, wrecking ten buildings. The Lutcher and Moore Lumber company, the Texas Creosoting company and the Weaver ship yard were among those affected. One derrick was blown down in the oil field eight miles west of Orange.

Communications Damaged

Tornado damage, but no casualties, was reported at Elysian Fields, a town 10 miles from Marshall. Telephone lines were blown down. The wind also leveled telephone and telegraph lines in the area where the destruction was heaviest, embracing the adjoining counties of Leon, Houston nad Trinity. However, communications were quickly restored.

In the Reynard community of Houston county, the Beasley cotton gin was ruined, as was the Beasley and Smith store. The home of Herman Beasley was left facing in another direction.

Roofs were blown from many homes and plate glass windows were shattered at Groveton. Corrigan also suffered some damage.

The 4,600 acre cotton plantation of A. E. Murray was a scene of devastation today, water-soaked and strewn with the wreckage of homes and barns. Many structures were blown completely away. Murray estimated his loss at $45,000.

There were about 70 negro families living in the plantation community, in some cases more than one family to the house.

Man Sawed In Half

When the tornado struck, one negress was carried 400 feet from her residence by the wind. A negro was thrown against a barbed wire fence and sawed in half.

Murray, his wife and three children—one a 6-months old baby—were eating last night when the wind began to howl and the house to shake. They rushed into a room on the east side of the house and stayed there until the disturbance abated. That was the only part of the house which wasn't wrecked and they came through unscathed.

Several Freakish Expressions

In a barn, Murray had 62 mules. The wind lashed the structure to kindling but only one mule was killed. Two may die.

The storm slashed a path of destruction a mile wide through Murray's plantation. He carried no insurance against such a disatser.

Dwellings were unroofed at Hearne. The Catholic church was blown off its foundation blocks and a negro school was practically wrecked. Trees suffered heavily.

The winds cut a wide swath through the forest south and southwest of Nacogdoches, shearing off trees as large as two feet in diameter.

Stalcup Trial

the 14 witnesses in quick succession Friday afternoon.

Both sides contended that Sheriff Arthur, shot in the escape of Stalcup and Clarence Brown from Dickens county jail, Oct. 27 was slain with a weapon smuggled into the jail. The state had three witnesses who testified they had seen a gun in Stalcup's hand immediately after the shooting.

Gun Plays Big Part

Defense attorneys, by their questioning, sought to show that the gun, a rusty 45 caliber revolver, was in the jail before Stalcup was incarcerated and that another inmate did the shooting. They did not indicate whom they thought fired the shot.

Crowds which overflowed the courtroom attended all sessions during the giving of testimony. Many persons were turned away each day.

Stalcup's Calm Unshaken

Stalcup, carried to and from Lubbock county jail handcuffed to an officer, outwardly was unmoved by the state's efforts to have him electrocuted. His wife, to whom he was married in 1928, and their 5-year-old daughter were in the courtroom much of the time.

Brown is in jail here awaiting trial for murder in the same case. His wife, Mrs. Thelma Brown, has been charged as an accomplice in the murder. Arrested at Snyder, her home, a week ago yesterday, she was held in Lubbock county jail until Saturday morning when she was transferred to the Dickens county jail.

Witnesses used by the state to show that Stalcup and Brown were arrested in Houston returned there late Friday. Only one of the group, Mrs. Irene Colston, was a prisoner. She had been charged with harboring Stalcup.

In the group of Harris county witnesses were J. M. Anderson and Joe Trapolino, deputies sheriff, who arrested Stalcup.

Abduction Victim Of Texas Desperado Will Resume Trip

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 9 (AP)—In his new coupe, slightly battered but running well after being abandoned by two fugitives, Edward Hewett Davis, 20-year-old George Washington university law student and agricultural adjustment administration clerk, prepared today to continue a trip to Austin, Tex., to visit relatives.

After being abducted at Gulfport, Miss., Wednesday night by two men, one of whom Davis identified as Raymond Hamilton, Texas desperado, the youth was held prisoner in his own car throughout a wild ride through Mississippi and finally put out of the vehicle near here Thursday afternoon.

Sheriff Cato

Atwell in an effort to obtain bond. Clyde Eastus, district attorney, said he would resist bond for any of the men.

Self Defense Claimed

Sheriff Cato has limited himself to a declaration that he fired only in self defense. He has referred questions on other points connected with the shooting to his attorney, who declined to talk.

Eastus said efforts had been made to intimidate certain government witnesses, and announced that persons making such attempts would be prosecuted. "We are not going to stand for that sort of thing one minute," he said.

Post Citizens Follow

The prisoners, brought here by automobile, were followed not only by Outlaw, but by a number of leading Post citizens as well. The delegation, offering aid to the three men, included Giles Connell, president of the First National bank of Post; J. T. Herd, vice-president; and Ira L. Duckworth, cashier; D. K. Allison, rancher; O. D. Cardwell, merchant; and J. B. Slaughter, rancher.

Allison said Sheriff Cato was serving his eighth term and described all three prisoners as of high standing.

New Postponement Possible

United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith, over defense protest, announced that a further postponement of the hearing would be granted Monday if the government could show it necessary.

Walter Scott, Fort Worth attorney, was in conference with other defense counsel but said he had not been retained.

Cato, 46 years old, was calm but taciturn through the hearing. Dr. Hartman, 50 and bald headed, wisecracked with spectators and took the proceedings in high good humor. Dr. Kitchen, 50, appeared nervous.

Jurisdiction Studied

Defense attorneys said tonight they were studying the constitutionality of the act under which the trio were accused. It was passed by congress after the Kansas City Union station massacre, to give federal courts direct jurisdiction in the killing of federal agents in line of duty.

Outlaw said he had witnesses whose testimony would show that if the sheriff had been a split-second slower in firing he and not Stafford would have been killed.

Joe Hardy Jones, assistant United States attorney, and other federal agents including J. J. Bigger, department of justice agent sent from Washington, were investigating the case at Post.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED

MARSHALL, Feb. 9 (AP)—Barney Blackshear, three times sentenced to death for the murder of Mrs. Viola Brimberry near Arp, was refused a new trial today by Judge W. H. Strength in 71st district court. His attorneys filed notice of a new appeal.

Dupree Is To Make Address

Lubbock Attorney Is Principal Speaker On Program To Be Given By Ralls Chamber Of Commerce Tuesday

RALLS, Feb. 9. (Special)—With the principal address to be given by Hon. George W. Dupre, Lubbock attorney, the annual banquet of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce will be held in the city auditorium Tuesday night, February 12. Several hundred people from the town and the surrounding teritory are expected.

M. G. Hargrave, former president, will be toastmaster. Following is the program:

Crosby accompanying at the piano; reading, Miss Mildred Robbins; address, George W. Dupree; benediction, R. L. Travis.

Hauptmann Trial

more than an hour and a half.

Reilly, for the defense, will follow. He is expected to require most of the remainder of the day. Wilentz will speak for the state Tuesday, and the case should go to the jury of eight men and four women by mid-afternoon of that day — Lindbergh's birthday. The charge is not expected to require more than 45 minutes.

Mrs. Morrow was the last witness, a tragic touch to a trial that has attracted attention around the world. She testified, however, not as the grandmother of a baby murdered but as the employer of an English servant girl whose name had been repeatedly drawn into the case as having possibly had guilty knowledge of the crime.

Miss Sharpe Defended

Mrs. Morrow, widow of a Morgan partner who also was an American ambassador, testified that the servant, Violet Sharpe, was at the Morrow home in Englewood the night of the kidnaping up to about a quarter of 8 o'clock, and that she returned to the home about 11. The kidnaping was from the Lindbergh home at Hopewell, many miles distant.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Morrow's testimony, the defense moved for a direct verdict of acquittal, which Justice Trenchard promptly denied.

Jury Addressed

Chief Counsel Reilly said: "So that the jury may thoroughly understand this procedure now, I understand that Your Honor holds (in denying a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal) that it is a question of fact to be determined by them."

Justice Trenchard: "That is it."

Just before court adjourned Justice Trenchard addressed the jury, and for the first time requested them not to take their usual week-end bus ride. He said:

Bus Ride Banned

"Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, I wish that you would not go out either today or tomorrow on a bus ride. I wish that you would not do that, and please do not do it, nor undertake to do it.

"Of course, there is no reason in the world why you should not take appropriate exercise in the custody of your officers, either on the hotel veranda or on the pavements, if the pavements are fit to walk on. I haven't been out through the village myself, but if the pavements are nice to walk on, you may very well like to walk, and I would think it might be rather a good thing for you, so with that admonition I will say to you that you may now retire and come in at ten o'clock on Monday morning."

There were other witnesses.

First Lady Tries To Abet Employment In Hyde Park

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt returned to her home town in the role of a neighbor today to take part in combatting unemployment among Hyde Park's 3,000 citizens.

The first lady, who already has aided in the establishment of a furniture factory for jobless and encouraged metal working for skilled unemployed youths, will attend a town meeting tonight where a general economic rehabilitation plan will be discussed.

Man Killed When Fleeing With Empty Whisky Cartons

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—A shabbily dressed man gazed at a liquor display in a west side tavern window today, then smashed the window, seized two whisky cartons and fled.

Policeman Theodore Pierce pursued. An order to halt was ignored. Pierce fired. The man fell dead, a bullet in his head. On the bottom of the two cartons was printed: "Dummy Cartons For Window Display Only."

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FRANK MacMILLEN
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—Stocks paused for a breathing spell today, after yesterday's recovery, but bonds continued to press higher.

Wall Street could not glean much in the way of fresh clues from week-end business reports, and while pressure of idle funds was still evident in the investment markets, there was little inclination to follow up the advance in common shares.

An impressive assortment of preferred stocks moved up a point or two, along with bonds, but the Associated Press average of 60 common stocks showed a gain for the day of only 0.1 of a point, at 38.7, which was where it was a week ago. The turnover for the two-hour session was only 203,300 shares.

Cotton backed up 10 to 35 cents a bale today, but wheat gained 3-4 to 1 5-8 cents a bushel and corn 3-8 to 3-4 of a cent. Commodities such as rubber and cocoa, recently unsettled by the failure of a couple of London houses, also continued to recover.

Weekend reports indicated further gains in automobile production. Cram estimated this week's output at 78,453 units, compared with 73,527 a week ago, and 65,143 the same week last year. Steel quarters thought the striking rise in steel production the past two months had levelled off, and that operations might not be boosted much further, if any in that industry for a week or two anyway.

U. S. Steel, as expected, reported the best January shipments since 1931.

Retail trade reports were fairly favorable for the season. Some wholesale centers noted a lull, but this was thought to be due both to weather and to the late date of easter this year.

Tahoka Wildcat Drilling Ahead

TAHOKA, Feb. 9. (Special) — Excellent progress is being made on the Hart wildcat oil test 10 miles southwest of here, with a total depth of 2,144 feet. Drilling for the past 10 days has been in hard lime, as a result but 434 feet was drilled in a little more than seven days.

Considerable interest is being shown in the development. The operations have attracted scores of people daily. The test is on the T-Bar ranch of Cass O. Edwards.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9. (AP)—The cotton market was very quiet in today's short week-end session. Uneasiness over the decision in the gold case restricted trading and induced a slightly easier feeling despite the fact that outside markets were steady. Most of the little trading in evidence was evening up of commitments.

Although cables were weak the market opened comparatively steady and even gained a few points in the first hour, but eased off towards the end, losing 4 to 7 points from the highs with October showing the most weakness. There was a slight rally at the end and the market closed steady with prices showing net declines for the day of 1 to 6 points.

March closed at 12.39 and May at 12.45, down 1 point net for the day, July closed at 12.46, down 2 points net and Oct. at 12.34, down 6 points net.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—After holding steady during the greater part of today's session, cotton turned slightly easier just before the close. The market ended steady at net declines of 2 to 7 points.

The market worked up a point or two during the middle of the morning on continued trade buying and covering. The latter was promoted by yesterday's rise which some traders regarded as indicating that the market had been pretty well prepared for the pending gold clause decisions.

March sold at 12.42 and October at 12.40 making the general list about unchanged to 2 points higher, but this gain brought in some realizing which became more active during the last half hour. March sold off to 12.37 and October to 12.35 and closing quotations were within a point of the lowest for the day.

The amount on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 74,000 against 161,000 last year.

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Highest prices of the week prevailed in the wheat market during today's final transactions, with numerous traders showing greater confidence relative to monetary matters in general.

Wheat closed firm, 3-4 to 1 5-8 above yesterday's finish, May 97 3-8@97 1-2, corn 3-8 to 3-4 up, May 85 1-8@85 1-4, oats 5-8 to 1 cent advanced, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a gain of 7 cents.

Reversing yesterday's action, wheat displayed more strength today than corn did, wheat climbing to within a fraction of the price that prevailed when the gold clause first became a market factor. This behavior of wheat was the more impressive because of being in the face of somewhat improved moisture conditions for the domestic winter crop southwest.

Corn and oats, although inclined to lag, were responsive to wheat price upturns. Provisions ruled irregular, governed largely by the course of the hog market.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9. (AP)—Demand for grain at Fort Worth as the week closed was moderate with receipts very light. Estimated arrivals Saturday were: Wheat 1 car; corn 19. Prices quoted:

Wheat Number 1, hard 1.11@1.12. Barley Number 2 nominally 90@92; Number 3 nominally 89@91. Sorghum Number 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 2.15@2.18; Number 3 nominally 2.13@2.16. Number 2 kafir nominally 2.00@2.05; Number 3 kafir nominally 1.98@2.03.

President Extolls Scouting In National Radio Broadcast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Boy scouts throughout the country heard their organization extolled last night by President Roosevelt as a valuable adjunct to government.

Speaking over a nation-wide radio hook-up, Mr. Roosevelt, who also is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, chose the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization to stress its voluntary character and added:

"We as a nation are proud of the fact that in addition to our splendid system of education and other services made available through funds secured by taxation, there are in each community so many well-organized and efficiently administered agencies which supplement the work of government and make available additional opportunities which strengthen the best objectives of the home, the church and the school."

The president formally invited the scouts to Washington to attend their first national jamboree next August, asserting that arrangements had been made to care for the 30,000 honor scouts expected to attend.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9. (AP)—Cattle receipts at 11 midwestern markets totaled 152,500 compared with 177,767 last week and 161,737 the corresponding period a year ago. Although total supplies show a slight decrease the offering of good and choice steers and yearlings was comparatively light resulting in a further advance. Better grades generally ruled 25 or more above last week's late prices with other steers and yearlings fairly steady. The more desirable fed heifers and beef cows cleared steady to 25 higher while lower grade heifers went unchanged, and in between and cutter grades of cows moved at weaker prices. Cattle returning to the country continued to find an outlet at firm prices except at Kansas City where a more liberal run of the plainer kinds cashed at lower figures. At Chicago choice medium weight steers made a new top of 13.90 with best 946 lb. averages at 13.50. At river markets most stocker and feeder sales ranged from 5.00@7.25. Choice yearling stockers reached 7.60 at Kansas City.

A decline of 25 to 50 or more was reported in fat lamb prices. Sheep sold steady to strong. Feeding lambs were quoted strong to higher at Chicago, around 25 lower at Omaha, and unchanged at other markets. Selected lambs scored 9.25 early in the week higher at Chicago, around 25 lower at Omaha, and unchanged at other markets. Selected lambs scored 9.25 early in the week at St. Louis with the week's bulk at 7.75@8.75. Best feeders made 7.50 at Omaha and Chicago.

The hog run numbered 291,000 against 341,512 the same week last year. At Chicago and St. Louis markets that were relatively low last week showed an upturn of 25 to 40 with other points strong to 10 up. A top of 8.30 was registered at Chicago.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9. (AP)—Hogs 600 including 440 directs; truck hogs steady to weak, quality considered; top 7.50 paid by packers for good grades butchers; most offerings mixed lights and butchers selling from 6.00@7.25; packing sows steady 6.75@7.00.

Cattle 200; calves 200; today's trade nominal. For week: Slaughter steers and yearlings quotably around 25 cents, fat cows and butcher grades strong to slightly higher; general market active. Bulls unchanged; stockers scarce; slaughter calves steady to 25 cents higher. Week's tops: weighty fed steers and steers and strong weight yearlings 1,000; grass slaughter steers 7.00; few fat cows up to 5.00; bulls 3.75; veal calves 8.00. Bulk prices: grass slaughter steers 7.00 down, better grades fed yearlings 8.25@9.60; butcher sorts under 6.50; good fat cows 4.00@4.50; few stock steer calves 4.75@6.00; heavy fat calves mostly 5.50 down.

Sheep 100; today's trade nominal. For week: Killing classes steady; feeder lambs around 25 cents lower; good wooled fat lambs 6.50@7.50; shorn fat lambs up to 7.00; fat yearlings 6.00@6.25; good shorn aged fat wethers mostly 4.50; feeder lambs 5.00@6.00; early week's top feeder lambs 6.25.

Man Charged With Holdup Of Station

SEAGRAVES, Feb. 9. (Special)—Bond of $5,000 set following examining trial of Charles McKay, Rotan, charged with holdup of the Humble Service station at Seminole, February 1, had not been made a week later. He was being held in the county jail at Seminole.

According to evidence at the preliminary hearing, a man entered the oil station the night of February 1, about 10:45 o'clock, just as the attendant was closing up for the night and, covering him with a gun, took about $15 and fled. Officers were notified and several hours later a man was captured.

Sixteen Meetings In Two Days Keeps Salvation Army Man, Captain Churchill, Busy

Comes now Captain John G. Churchill, of the Salvation Army, with a record of seven meetings attended one night.

"I attended seven meetings, all pertaining to army affairs, between 6 and 11:30 Friday night," he said Saturday. "I have attended six meetings so far today and expect to attend three more tonight."

Big Crowds Nightly Attend Revival Of Salvation Army

Big crowds have attended the revival at the Salvation Army corps hall, 708 Thirteenth street, and the meetings, under direction of Rev. J. N. Churchill, Burnie, Mo., will continue all week. This was the announcement of Captain John G. Churchill, commander and son of the evangelist.

There will be a special morning service at 11 o'clock and also tonight at 8, he said. Night meetings will be at 8 p. m. each night. The hall has been filled.

Reorganization of the string band and the songster's brigade, subsidiaries of the Army, were completed as a result of the meeting. Both groups are furnishing music nightly.

Long Is Taken To Task For Dawes Charge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Senator Lewis, whisker-bedecked Illinois Democrat, took Senator Huey Long (D-La.) to task for what was interpreted as a reflection on former Vice-President Charles G. Dawes.

Lewis protested when Long said the Dawes' bank in Chicago had "backed its wagon up to the treasury for a $90,000,000 loan which it hasn't paid back and knew it never would be paid back."

"I call the senator's attention to an RFC report showing the loan is practically completely paid," said Lewis.

Long said he meant no reflection on General Dawes, adding:

"He's a good man, about as decent a Republican as I ever met."

Duggan's Bill Being Watched

Sterilization Of Defectives In Texas Would Lessen Load Carried By Eleemosynary Institutions

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (Special)—Designed to lighten the burden of state support of eleemosynary institutions and to prevent propogation of children by those physically unfit for parenthood, a bill was submitted to the legislature by Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield.

The act provides for eugenics sterilization of inmates of state eleemosynary or penal institutions in certain cases and prescribes methods of procedure for officials. It is emphasized that the operation carries no stigmatization, is a protection rather than a punishment, does not unsex the individual, might permit return to normal life of many persons who would otherwise be confined in institutions for years.

Defectives Increase

According to recent report of the state board of control, the number of inmates in Texas eleemosynary institutions is 17,308, an increase of 526 over last year. The approximately 5,500 convicts in state penitentaries make a total of 22,808 wards being supported by tax-payers, the report shows, at a cost of $5,994,732 annually.

The biennum budget calls for no development and additions to the state educational system; asks for one million dollars over normal expense for needed buildings and improvements at eleemosynary institutions.

"Cost in money is trivial compared with the crime, heartache and horror that find origin in these defectives," Senator Duggan indicated. "Anything, sanctioned by common sense and good morals, which can prevent this accumulation of human misery and degeneracy, should be done."

Would Establish Board

The bill also provides for establishment of a state board of eugenics to pass on applications for and to keep records of sterilization operations. The state health officer, chairman of the board of control, and chief of the division of child welfare will serve as members of the eugenics board.

Procedure for institution officials is detailed, briefly, as follows:

"Superintendents of eleemosynary or penal institutions, when it appears that a patient or inmate will likely, if released, procreate children who would have tendency to serious physical or mental deficiencies, may after medical consultation, submit to board of eugenics a recommendation that the surgical operation of sterilization be performed upon the patient for prevention of parenthood." The operation, the bill says, shall "be vasectomy for males, salpingectomy for females, or some similar operation that will not unsex the patient."

If the eugenics board approves the recommendation of the superintendent it will authorize the operation. The patient, or his representative will have the right to select a competent physician of his own choice. Written notice of the order of sterilization will be served on patient and to nearest relative, telling why sterilization is desirable and notice of patient's right of appeal to courts.

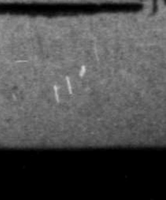

Red Shield Athletic Group For Boys Is Organized Here

Organization of the Red Shield, an organization for boys connected with the Salvation Army, has been completed Captain John G. Churchill, officer in charge, announced Saturday.

There will be two divisions, for boys 10 to 15 years and for young men, 15 to 25 years. Groups within the divisions will sponsor boxing wrestling, basketball, baseball and other athletics. A president and other officers will be named this week. Twenty-four boys attended the organization meeting.

Boys To Meet In This City

Tentative Plans For Northwest Texas Older Boys Conference Laid; 100 Towns Likely To Be Represented

Tentative plans for the coming Northwest Texas Older Boys conference, scheduled for Lubbock on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 22, 23 and 24, were outlined briefly by Grover C. Good, Dallas, associate secretary of the State Y. M. C. A. and executive secretary of the conference. He was here Friday for a meeting with local leaders, adult and boys.

"We are working hard in about 40 towns for this conference," he said. "We really expect 100 towns to be represented at this conference.

Marks Ninth Year

"This is the ninth year we have had this group type of older boys meetings. The older boys movement in Texas is 25 years old. I came on the job nine years ago and we changed the plan to five such conferences.

"The boys do the work themselves. Marvin Collie, Amarillo, Northwest group leader, has arranged for Secretary Kenneth Mauldin, Dalhart, to lead one of the devotionals. Ikard Smith, vice-president, also will lead a devotional.

Speakers definitely secured include: Herbert Carter, Denver; Pat Henry, T. C. U. Fort Worth; J. H. Heifry, state Y. M. C. A. secretary; C. G. Fairchild, general secretary Fort Worth Y. M. C. A.

Expect Big Attendance

An attendance of 300 to 400 boys from this section of the state is expected, according to the executive secretary. The territory includes from Fort Worth north to the Red river, west to Wichita Falls, south to Abilene and west to San Angelo and all the Panhandle-Plains territory.

Unorganized towns, where there are not Hi-Y clubs in the senior High school, are included as well as organized clubs. Forty key towns in this territory, with organizations, are planning a drive into surrounding schools to interest boys in the movement.

"The Hi-Y boys at Amarillo are much interested in the meeting here," said Mr. Good. "Those boys made a trip to Dalhart, Hereford, Canyon and other towns, advertising the meeting. A rally was held in Amarillo Thursday attended by boys from those three towns and from five Amarillo schools. The Wichita Falls group has gone out into Graham, Olney, Vernon and other towns around there, for this conference."

Theme of Conference

"Sharing Others as Christ Did," is the theme for the Lubbock gathering. Marvin Collie, Amarillo, is president; Ikard Smith, vice-president; Kenneth Mauldin, secretary and Milton Boswell, congress president. Clifton Oliver Amarillo, is state congress president.

"Last year the five divisions of the state group had 2,860 boys attending. Four hundred churches were represented."

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Southern plains and west gulf states: Fair first part of week, cloudy, probably rain about middle of the week. Somewhat warmer at opening of week, followed by seasonal temperatures.

Dire Need Of Orphanage In Lubbock County Is Told By Mrs. W. T. Milam

BY EVELYN BABB
Avalanche-Journal Staff

An investment in humanity, Mrs. W. T. Milam calls it, Lubbock's dire need of an orphanage.

Lubbock county's orphan problems have been the personal concern of Mrs. Milam, assisted by Mrs. Tom Foster, during the past six years. She is the recognized leader of all Lubbock charity-minded organizations, it being her self-appointed duty to make inquiries as to the urgent needs of not only orphan and underprivilaged children in this county but of adult poor folk as well.

Cares For Children

Mrs. Milam, with the assistance of clubs, church societies and private donations, has been instrumental in caring for—she has no idea how many—children of this county during her residence here. She has arranged for adoption of more than 120 children.

More than five years ago she began agitation for a maternity hospital for unmarried mothers. The hospital, through organized and private donations and constant surveillance on the part of its originator, was a success within an astonishingly short period.

"All mothers, except three," Mrs. Milam regretted, "were orphans." She was speaking of the total number of maternity patients during the past five years.

Organization Needed

"What Lubbock county needs," she explained, "is organization." She said that Lubbock clubs and church societies had been generous, during her crusade, in responding to the needs of unfortunate children of the county. But, because organization is lacking, the children had continued to suffer, the year round, except during those times when the societies were responding to her especial requests. In other words, Lubbock charity has been spasmodic, responding cheerfully and unanimously to whatever needs as have been pointed out.

Should Lubbock county have a home to care for children until their original homes can be re-established or until they can be adopted, the state will pay a certain portion of their maintenance and local charities and private donors will cooperate is assisting the county in supporting such an institution, Mrs Milam believes.

Three Types In Area

There are three types of underprivileged children in this section of the county, she explains. First, this is the last port of conquest for the transient cotton-picking element of Texas. These people begin with the opening of the Rio Grande valley season and work westward until all hope of further employment is gone. The season over, they spend the winter here—disillusioned as to possibilities of this small metropolis—as guests of relief offices and other charity-minded societies.

The second class consists of unfortunate urchins whose parents are divorced or separated. These children are the most difficult to place in homes, Mrs. Milam explains, because once the children are situated in harmonious homes and their foster parents have their life-long dreams fostered around the unfortunates' futures, it often happens that the original parents patch up their difficulties and claim their cast-off children.

The last class is those most pitied offspring of folk whom the powers above see fit to leave parentless, regardless of the futures.

Free Medical Clinic

Mrs. Milam's hope is that should such a project as an orphanage for these types of children be adopted by the county that a place be included for a free medical clinic for the benefit of unfortunate children of the county who can be diagnosed for their physical irregularities and corrected.

Her idle dream is that a "Christian woman" may be chosen as matron and that this woman may play the part of a mother, "God's angel guardian pro-tem," over these unfortunate waifs until such a time as their welfare can be cared for in a normal family manner.

She suggested that the children be transported by bus to the public schools in order that their school and social life may be more akin to that of other normal children.

Lubbock Attorney Believed To Have Reached Destination

W. D. Benson, Lubbock attorney who left recently with a party of South Plains men for Honduras, on a gold mining expedition, was to have sailed from Acatulco, Mexico, on the extreme end of the gulf coast, for Honduras, on February 2, his daughter, Mrs. Floe Swenson, said yesterday.

Mrs. Swenson said she expected her father by this time had reached his destination. The party had made the trip by automobile and the natives around Acatulco said it was the first auto they had seen in many months. Mrs. Swenson received a letter from Mr. Benson several days ago.

Five Lots Are Purchased By Posey School For Playground

Five lots, located west of the Posey school, were recently purchased by the trustees of the district and will be made into a playground unit for the building, J. T. Singleton, superintendent, states.

A baseball diamond and a track for field athletics will be made on the lots. A frame structure is to be remodeled later and used as a teacherage.

Military Committee Stamps Endorsement On New Move To Fortify Pacific As Aid To Defense Units

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—The house appropriations committee was advised today by Chairman McSwain (D-SC) that his military committee had endorsed an $11,000,000 appropriation for an air base in Hawaii.

The money for the base is to be tagged in a $300,000,000 appropriation proposed, with the approval of the president and budget bureau, for normal government construction expenses not included in the pending $4,880,000,000 public works-relief measure. The latter is intended only for emergency purposes.

The war department's share of the $300,000,000, McSwain said, also would include about $2,00,000 for strengthening sea coast and harbor defenses and $8,000,000 for building quarters and barracks at army posts.

Three Parties Are At Church

Primary, Junior And Married People's Unions Gather In Church Parlors Friday For Valentine Socials

Three societies of the First Baptist church entertained with valentine parties at the church Friday evening.

The young married peoples' union of the Baptist Training union met for games under the direction of Mrs. W. I. Pittman. Hot chocolate and a valentine decorated cake were served.

Attending were Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. O'Connell, Eugene Bute, J. W. Mallory, J. V. Jones, E. R. Allen, Gradie Bownds and Pittman.

The primary union of the B. T. U. played games, under the direction of Mrs. John King.

About 15 boys and girls of the Junior Baptist Young Peoples society enjoyed a social. Decorations were in valentine motif. Refreshments were served.

Christian Society To Hear Pastor Discuss Education

The Rev. W. R. Vivrett will speak at a meeting of the First Christian Women's Missionary society at 3 p. m. Monday at the church regarding a school of missions to be conducted at the church, beginning the last of February. He urges that all women of the church, who can, attend.

Cantata Practice To Begin Monday

Initial rehearsal of the Easter cantata, "The Seven Last Words" (Du Bois) will be conducted Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Room 312 of Tech administration building. Director Julien Paul Blitz has announced.

Choirs of Lubbock are invited to sing in the choruses, Mr. Blitz said.

The oratorio will be presented on the Wednesday evening preceding Good Friday, which will be April 17.

Parties This Month May Have Variety Of Motifs

Valentine Entertainments, Colonial Teas, Balls And "Hatchet" Socials Hold Sway

BY OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

THAT worn-out expression, "There's nothing to do," should be obsolete this month.

Merry making permeates the month of February, in which we honor George Washington as the father of his country; Abraham Lincoln, the man who freed the slaves, and Dan Cupid, the little fellow said to make the world go 'round.

No other month offers such colorful possibilities for entertaining. All occasions lend themselves plasticly to cleverness in decoration and menus.

Costumes Are Popular

Masquerade balls are a favorite type of February entertainment. The festive air of valentine dances is heightened by gay and frivolous costumes while the dignified air of Washington birthday celebrations is usually carried out with colorful apparel.

Several Colonial teas and balls are given in Lubbock on Washington's birthday.

Attractive menu and table decoration possibilities prompt dinners this month. Fried chicken, sweet potatoes, hot biscuits and other Southern dishes are often included in menus for Washington dinners, while favors and centerpieces may carry out the cherry tree and other such themes associated with the occasion. One might place a tree limb on which are candied cherries in

Spring Costumes About To Blossom

New Creations To Be Suggestive Of Romantic Periods

The groundhog to the contrary, spring can't be far away. Here are some of the advance signs of the coming season, revealing how picturesque details are influencing the mode creators. At left is an unusual evening gown by Shiaparelli combining encre de chine taffeta and pink "glass fabric," with a dramatic pink lei of camelias. Above, the broad brimmed white Panama bonnet gives a romantic touch to the beach outfit in delft blue percale. The belt is of white patent leather.

Indian Scenes Lend Interest To Decoration

Doctor Holden Presents Girls From "Ancient Kiva"; Grand March Follows; Prelude Is Interesting Feature

BY EVELYN BABB
Of The Woman's Staff

ELABORATELY presented mid Indian scenery, typical of early New Mexico, were eighteen pledges of Ko-Shari, women's social club at Texas Technological college, Saturday evening at the Auditorium. The occasion was the annual formal presentation dance.

From an improvised chamber, fashioned after the ancient ceremonial kiva at El Rito de los Frijoles, near Santa Fe, N. M., Dr. W. C. Holden acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the neophytes and their escorts. As a prelude, Mrs. W. B. Stephenson of Amarillo, wearing native costume, sang three Mexican songs.

Four Lead March

After the presentation was a grand march led by Miss Lorene Childers, president, escorted by Tom Holden of Sierra Blanca, Miss Frances Mayhugh, vice-president, and Bruce Zorns.

Ned Bradley's orchestra played.

Miss Helen Hollingsworth, escorted by Jack Fox, was the first pledge introduced. She wore white satin with silver accessories.

Escorted by Carl Harper, Miss Natalie Crosby wore a dress of pink hammered satin and silver accessories.

Miss Idyll Glenn Abbott wore silver brocaded satin with accessories of the same color. Harry Blocker, jr., was her escort.

Blue And Silver

Wearing blue crepe and silver accessories, Miss Elizabeth Prince was presented with Harold Coffman.

Miss Elise Tucker, who wore a dress of pink net and gold accessories, was escorted by Mike McCormick.

Swishing in white taffeta was Miss Doris Jobe, escorted by Travis Westmoreland, and radiant in gold taffeta and accessories was Miss Ruby Doris Johnson, escorted by Lewis Kerr.

Miss Mary Bender sparkled in a dress of silver metallic cloth and saphire blue accessories. Her escort was John Hinchey.

White, And Green

White taffeta with dainty green net muff and accessories of the same color were worn by Miss Margaret Mayhugh whose escort was Jim Vowell.

Miss Dorothy Walker, escorted by Kenneth Woodward of Amarillo, wore ashes of roses satin and crepe with gold accessories.

Dressed in white moire taffeta with sparkling silver accessories, Miss Mary Jane Weathers was presented with Maurice Wiginton.

Valentine Party Is Given For Carlisle Community Residents

The Woman's Angle

BY MARGARET TURNER
Woman's Editor

LUBBOCK Garden club members in making their annual pilgrimage last summer visited the home of Mrs. E. D. Farris, 1312 Eighth street, and admired her yellow roses. Mrs. Farris promised them cuttings from the little flowers.

The bushes are ready now and Mrs. Farris has forgot who wished for the shoots. She has asked that those who want the roses come for them soon.

MILADY'S SPRING GARB

WELL dressed women will wear suits this spring if the annual spring style show of the Interstate Merchants' council now in progress in Chicago is any indication. The suit coats will be Norfolk and belted, their coats full backed or caped, their skirts slit. Colors will be blue, from powder to navy, and yellow.

Many dinner and cocktail dresses were among the creations introduced. In these, sleeves were voluminous, fabrics were sheer, backs were slit from neck to waist, and the color was generally black.

WHAT A CONTRAST

AMONG the more formal gowns a group of gray organdy was outstanding. One, based on the Quaker woman's dress, had a Quaker collar of white pique, against which came the startling contrast of a bare back! In another, wide bands of black lace were inserted in the flowing skirt, on the sleeves and high De Medici collar.

One interesting triology shown was the presentation of betrothal, wedding and anniversary groups with appropriate costumes for each. A new color note was introduced into weddings in the purple taffeta sashes worn against the white net afternoon frocks of the bride's attendants.

HOW IT STARTED

FAR back in folk and village customs the festival of February Fourteenth originated. No one knows precisely how. No one knows its real significance. Lillian Eichler writes about it in her book, "Customs of Mankind." Most authorities agree that Valentine's Day is named in honor of a Christian bishop who suffered martyrdom under Emperor Claudius on February 14, 271 (A. D.).

"The story is that Emperor Claudius, at Rome, issued a decree forbidding marriage. Married men were loath to leave their families for war, and they did not make good soldiers, according to the emperor's notion. Since good soldiers were needed, he decided that marriage must be abolished.

"The good priest Valentine heard and was sad. He invited young lovers to come to him and secretly married them. The emperor learned of this and had Valentine dragged to prison. There 'the friend of lovers' languished and died, a martyr to love. St. Valentine's Day came to be known as 'the day for all true lovers'."

FROM THE MAIL

"DEAR Miss Turner: Some few weeks ago you gave us a powder base, which you said could also be used as an astringent consisting of glycerine, rosewater, and tincture of benzoin and a little witch hazel. Can you give the proportionate amount of each? Would appreciate getting same." Mrs. Lena J. McCarroll.

Mrs. McCarroll we talked to a druggist who suggested that you combine equal parts of glycerine, rosewater and witch hazel with a small amount of tincture of benzoin. The proportions depend on how much you intend making at one time and also on your skin.

For instance, benzoin is unusually strong and would burn a sensitive skin. There are dry skins and oily skins and thick skins and thin skins. Your druggist will be glad to help you in combining the parts. Glycerine is potent enough to penetrate the most hardened complexion. Write to us again, please.

"DEAR Miss Turner: I like the little squibs you sometimes use in your column. I am suggesting some you have overlooked! They are: Franklin Brown's brilliant eyes, James H. Goodman's Hollywood eye lashes, Claude Huribut's marble skin, Brooks Penney's moving picture policeman type, Hunter Bryan't moving picture taxi driver type, C. H. Grollman's gentle smile, Bill Tolbert's Clark Gable dimples, Bob McCall's clean, fresh appearance, Stanley Wright's youthful, platinum curls."

Shirtwaist Type Becoming To All

You May Wear It And Wear It Some More And Never Get Tired; For All Seasons

Here's one of those useful shirtwaist type dresses that you may wear and wear and never grow tired of.

It's a dress that's smart for immediate as well as for spring and summer, as the original in navy blue and white crepe print with plain white and plain navy trim.

The back of the dress is as interesting as the front. Inverted plaits of the slim skirt, permit of comfortable walking freedom.

In summer fabrics, as plaided gingham, plaided or striped seersucker, striped foulard, natural linen, etc., it makes up most attractively.

Style No. 2801 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 5-8 yards of 39-inch material with 3-4 yards of 39-inch contrasting.

Fourth Quilt Show Planned

Entries May Be Made During Week Of February 18; Ten Classifications Arranged For This Year

Quilts may be entered in the Fourth Annual Quilt show sponsored by Hodges Bros., and the Avalanche-Journal February 18-23. Entries will be of ten classifications this year, rather than two—unique and antique, the classifications last year. Rules have been announced.

Miss Mabel D. Erwin, head professor of clothing and textiles at Texas Technological college, selected the ten divisions and will classify quilts which are entered. The classifications are: pieced quilts, applique quilts, plain top comforters tacked or knotted, quilts for child's bed, quilts for baby's crib or bassinet, silk quilts, embroidered quilts, combination of pieced and applique quilts, quilts made before 1885, quilts of one color and ivory or white.

Prizes will be announced later. Eight prizes were given last year. At least ten, one for the winner in each classification, will be given this year.

Exhibitions of entries will be open to the public at Hodges Bros., store, 1115 Avenue G, February 25-March 8. Entries will be judged and winners announced Thursday, March 7. There will be several judges.

Only one quilt may be entered by a person and quilts which have won prizes at previous Hodges Bros.-Avalanche-Journal quilt shows will not be accepted. There is no entry fee.

The number of quilts entered in the third annual show was 135.

Festive Month

the center of the table, with a hatchet carrying out the traditional story.

The Heart Theme

Appropriately romantic decoration for a valentine entertainment would include hearts, of course. Favors might be placed in a heart shaped box in the center of the table, with streamers extending to each place. Cupid dolls or other novelties are often given as favors.

As for menus, heart shaped sandwiches, ices in heart molds, heart tarts, creamed chicken in heart ramekins, jellied chicken in heart moulds and oysters on heart shaped toast are among popular additions.

Programs of clubs this month often include histories of the lives of Washington and Lincoln. Many clubs choose this month for their teas, luncheons and musicales for, while these may be given any day of the year, seldom may the spirit of the occasion so delightfully be expressed!

Bruce Collier Of Plainview And Miss Jayne Sampson Of Winnetka, Illinois Are Wed

Names In Hollywood Confuse Even Steady Movie-Goers; Records Hard To Keep

BY ROBBIN COONS
Associate Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9—Keeping the record straight in Hollywood is made no simpler by the similarity of names.

You can remember that Betty Compton is not a Hollywood actress but the wife of former Mayor James J. Walker, that Betty Compson is the veteran movie actress, that Juliette Compton is the slithery screen vamp and that Joyce Compton is a red-headed movie ingenue but that's just it—you must remember.

BETTY COMPSON

A lot of fans, reading those names in news dispatches, have to think twice. It was a break for Betty Compson that Betty Compton didn't come to Hollywood. She got enough fan mail concerning news about Betty Compton as it was.

Sylvia Sidney and Sidney Fox cause no confusion to zealous movie fans, but there are occasional moviegoers who to this day can't distinguish between them in conversation. And there are the Fords—Wallace, the talkie actor, Francis, the co-star of Grace Cunard in old serial days, John, the director, and Eugene, also a director, but he spells it Forde.

Laughton And Lawton

Charles Laughton and Frank Lawton are both Englishmen and both actors, although as different in personality as Mae West and Shirley Temple. But their surnames are pronounced as Frank's is spelled, and if you don't know your movies you can find yourself asking questions about Chubby Laughton's work in "David Copperfield" or Slim Lawton's performance in "Sign of the Cross." Some confusion is bound to result, too, from "Ruggles of Red Gap," in which Laughton plays the title role and Charles Ruggles is a leading character.

DIXIE LEE

And consider those Lees! Billy, Davey, Dixie, Dorothy, Gwen, Laura, Lila, Rowland V. and Sammy. Billy's a child actor, Davey was Al Jolson's "Sonny Boy," Dorothy attained Wheeler and Woolsey fame, Gwen used to decorate M. G. M. features, Laura came from musical comedy to play opposite Joe E. Brown, Lila is the child-star who played leading ladies and kept on playing them. Dixie is the blonde Mrs. Bing Crosby, active again in films, Rowland V. is the director, Sammy the dance director. But don't forget Jocelyn Lee, actress and recent bride.

Unscrambling Browns

The Moores are equally numerous, the better known being Colleen, Grace, Victor, Matt, Tom and Owen, and young Dickie. But unscrambling the Browns is the biggest assignment for the casual moviegoer, who can probably identify Johnny Mack, Joe E., Clarence and Tom, but there are besides Charles D., Harry Joe (Sally Eiler's producer-husband), Hiram S., Joe, Mary Ellen, Melville, Russ and Irene Browne and Lucille Browne.

DICKIE MOORE

It would be simpler if producers made it a rule to give movie jobs only to people with distinctive names like Heather Angel.

Mady Christians had sixty hours of thrills—returning from New York to the M. G. M. studios by plane during the heavy storms. She wants to do it again.

Three Great Stars Together; Comedy, Mystery During Week

"Rocky Mountain Mystery" On At Lindsey; "Laughing At Life" At Lyric And "Evelyn Prentice" At Texan

TEXAN — Thursday: "Marie Galante" (Fox). Spencer Tracy, Ketti Gallian, Ned Sparks and Helen Morgan.

Mystery, intrigue and drama strengthen the romance of a girl who sang and danced by night and wept by day—and the men who coldly used her loveliness to lure out sinister secrets.

PALACE—Friday and Saturday: "The Gilded Lily" (Paramount). Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland, C. Aubrey Smith.

Frothy comedy of a pretty stenographer who is dead set against marrying a millionaire. Her idea of connubial bliss is a husband who is poor and struggling, someone whose hardships she can share.

BROADWAY — Friday and Saturday: "The Silver Streak" (RKO - Radio). Sally Blane, Charles Starrett, Hardie Albright and William Farnum.

A young college engineer finds railroading in a bad way. He has ideas to put the industry back on its feet. He is rejected time and again but struggles on.

LINDSEY—Friday and Saturday: "Texas Terror" (Lone Star). John Wayne and Lucille Brown.

History of a man who has suffered at the hands of fate and has fallen to the lowest depths. A spark of courage still burns, however, and he stages a comeback when he rescues the daughter of a dead friend from a gang of outlaws.

LYRIC — Thursday, Friday and Saturday: "Our Daily Bread" (United Artists). Tom Keene and Karen Morley.

Striking drama of present times dealing with the poor, the rich, the working man and the New Deal.

TEXAN—Friday and Saturday: "The Westerner" (Columbia). Tim McCoy and Marion Shilling.

Color and dash of a real western rodeo, combined with the suspense of a mystery and breath-taking action of an adventure story. A broncho-busting cowboy fails to break a wild horse and loses his friends. Western battles with rustlers plentiful.

Crosby Beats Fields To Gun On 'Pun' Gags

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 (Special)—W. C. Fields and Bing Crosby were having words on the "Mississippi" set at Paramount. It was, of course, about their respective golfing ability.

Fields—See here, Crosby. You prevaricate. And I don't like men of your ilk.

Crosby—That's O. K., Bill. I'm not an Ilk—I'm a Mason.

Mickey Rooney's Leg Is Shattered

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9.(AP)—Unlike the contracts of some grown-up players, young Mickey Rooney's doesn't say anything about avoiding dangerous sports. Rooney will be unable to play the entire role of Puck in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" because he went tobogganning. The toboggan went off the track, hit a tree and the impact broke Mickey's leg.

George Breakston, who played the role on the stage, is batting for Rooney. The long shots will be of Breakston, but the closeups (to be taken when he has recovered) will be of Mickey.

Ricardo Cortez and Jean Muir are the stars of "The White Cockatoo," which starts at the Palace on Wednesday.

Truck Driver Harbored Dreams That He Might Become An Actor; His One Big Chance Came But Floated Away

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9. (AP)—Len McKnight is a truck driver who, for seven years, has harbored ambitions to become an actor. Len isn't a bad-looking guy, either, being square-jawed and red-headed and rugged. No Gable, of course, but a type anyway. Yes, sir, a type, as they say.

Len drives a truck for a studio and you'd think, being virtually under directors eyes almost every day for seven years, that some of them would give Len a tumble. But none ever did and Len never got up courage to ask for a job of acting.

Anyway, he might have lost caste with his fellow drivers, who pretty generally look upon acting as a necessary evil.

Then opportunity reared her lovely head and smiled on Driver McKnight. A very sizable truck on which to build a modernistic bus body was required. And since Len was keeper of the newest and biggest truck on the lot, he was sent to a body factory with his truck. And told to supervise construction.

The truck was converted into something resembling a cross between a streamlined train and an airplane. The driver's compartment was moved up into the very nose of the body. The gear shift rod had a 12-foot extension put on it and the steering wheel was raised eight feet. So were the hand and foot brakes and the clutch extended.

When they got the thing together, no one but the supervisor of construction could drive it. Since the truck is an important prop in Ben Bernie's "Stolen Harmony," and since it must be driven, it looked like Len McKnight was really to become an actor.

But somehow it didn't occur to the casting director to let the only man who could drive this elongated gas burner be its driver for pictorial purposes as well.

Len McKnight will have to be satisfied with just being a double. A driver in the person of Duke York, a comedian, will be in the close-ups. But the bus will be driven by McKnight because he is the only man in town who can manage it.

Carol Ann Beery Keeps Own Books

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 (AP)—Carol Ann Beery is only a tot, but she manages her own bookkeeping.

The first Saturday of each month she goes to the bank and cashes her allowance check. And she has learned already, says Wallace Beery, a fond father with ideas about training children, that if she spends it all the first day there about 29 other days of penury to come.

"I want her to learn to be able to stand on her own two feet," explains Papa Beery, who does not like spoiled, pampered children. Already Beery avers, Carol Ann has a sense of pride that does not permit her to indulge in fits of childishness. If she falls, she does her own retrieving.

"And if I happen to be around," beams Wally, "she'll go off in a corner and cry by herself rather than let me see her."

Chick Talcott And His Band Are To Play At Auditorium

Featuring Miss Laurette Du Rose, entertainer, Chick Talcott and his band will play a dance at the Auditorium here next Friday night, from 9 until . . . !

Talcott carries his own amplifying system and eleven versatile entertainers. Jack Newlan also is a featured vocalist with the organization.

Society Girl Is Sensation

Attractions Of Garbo, Crawford, Dietrich And Shearer Combined In Rosamond Pinchot; Has Personality

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 (AP)—Like Garbo, her eyes tear down the barriers of ordinary horizons.

Like Crawford, she has sparkle and vivacity.

Really Like Nobody

Yet Rosamond Pinchot, latest Hollywood recruit, really is like nobody—except Rosamond Pinchot. She is a personality entirely new to the silver screen.

In all probability, you are not unfamiliar with Miss Pinchot's face. She was the nun in "The Miracle." As an actress, her picture has appeared frequently in newspapers and magazines. But until the release of "The Brave Live On" late this winter, she will remain an unknown quantity as far as motion pictures are concerned.

Role Wins Her Over

It was the leading role in this film, a war story based on the work of Florence Nightingale, that finally won her over to the movies.

Prior to her recent arrival here, the young society actress had repeatedly turned a cold shoulder to film overtures. Suddenly she decided one morning to take a fling at the celluloid game. That night she was en route to Hollywood—and a place in the cinema heavens.

Those Eyes, Those Eyes!

On meeting, one first is struck by Miss Pinchot's eyes. They are a deep, deep blue and fringed with extremely long lashes. In them kindles a fire, an intensity, a penetrating power which seems to see right through, over or around any obstruction.

There is a certain aristocracy in her manner which seems to seek honest friendship while repelling familiarity. When she walks, it is with a rhythmic gliding motion. And she speaks in a rich, cultivated voice.

Sure Of Her Ability

With her initial appearance before the cameras due any day now, there is only one thing which bothers Miss Pinchot.

She is perfectly sure of her ability to make good as an actress. But the continual reference to her position as a society girl annoys her no end.

"That's one thing I can't stand," she declares, clinching her well-shaped hands. "The fact is I am more professional than I am society. I have a great deal in common with theatrical people and have passed most of my life in their company.

"I've worked like a Trojan since the day Max Reinhardt put me in 'The Miracle.' And now that I'm in Hollywood, I'll work even harder if necessary. But I'm going to be known as an actress!"

'National Save Your Vision Week' To Be Observed In Nation Feb. 10-16

Altered Service Being Demanded By World Today

Optometry Of Yesterday Wholly Inadequate And Modern Ways And Means Are Essential To Civilization; Profession Is Coming To Aid In Order For The World To Advance

THE public is demanding a wholly altered service. Before each patient, at the end of an examination, should be laid a definite graph of the visual fatigue problem of that individual. The Optometrist of today knows from his graphing of fatigue tolerances, lowering of reserve from fatigue, alteration of play between functions, variations from the normal association of functional activity just what is wrong and just what must be done to re-adapt that individual.

Let us realize that the Optometry of 1920 is hopelessly inadequate. The text-books of yesterday, which treated the eye, is a problem in Physics belongs with the antedated and out-moded books in medicine whose sole value lies in their quaint conceptions.

Optometry has changed as completely as did medicine when the understanding of the role of Bacteria finally dawned. Men had carried on successful practices as surgeons before that time. They had observed and considered right and proper the formation of "healthy pus." Then suddenly came this new concept that threw their cherished methods and plans into the scrap-heap. Did they accept it immediately? Indeed not.

The literature of Medicine of that time is filled with the indignant rejection by the authorities of the new and impious suggestions and ideas. They hailed the prophets of the new order as upstarts and impostors. Truth prevailed. Either they belatedly caught the step or they became antiquated and embittered.

Change Not Hesitant

Dentistry has completely changed over in the past fifteen years. Nor have they hesitated over it. THEY CHANGED. The flexibility of mind in the dental profession is one of the factors in their rise of their present place in the corrective world.

So Optometry has changed. Not "is changing." Has changed. Men still rebel. So did the old surgeons. Those who carry the message and methods of the New Optometry are excoriated. That was to be expected.

Think! We have a nation of 126 millions. These people are born with a certain "brain pattern" of utilization of eyes. They grew from babyhood to childhood, using their visual apparatus as did all their savage forbears. They build their cortex-association between energy requirements.

Millions Are Handicapped

Then suddenly we place them in school, pouring the long hours over a desk, using the visual apparatus and the higher nervous centers as they have never in the history of the world been used by the millions. The result is that millions of unadapted eyes are handicapping their predecessors. Many, probably all, of these are perfectly good eyes in every minute of their construction.

What is the trouble? A varying tolerance of fatigue that sets up definite disturbance. In the eyes? Certainly in the visual apparatus. Here is the new unexplored and scarcely touched field for the Optometrist of today. The re-adaptation of the eyes of the millions who are "blind but yet do see perfectly." They may see normally—even better than normal—they may suppress some of the visual acuity, the problem remains essentially of the same.

Is Absorbing Agent

The Optometrist today thinks of the "eye" as an absorbing agent. Its sole value to the modern is the ability to absorb from print, desk, machine, graph, report — all the varied activities of modern life. No matter how well it sees at far—that is small help to the varied fatigues, insupportable at near.

Not defective eyes but "unadapted eyes." No "correcting refractive errors" but "re-adapting brain patterns to individual requirements." Modern Optometry is an essential to civilization. This modern world cannot advance as it should unless Optometry comes to its aid. The public is demanding this change.

Protection Is Common Today

Idea That Eye-Glasses Mark Advancing Age Is No Longer Accepted; Skilled Optometrists Aid Everyone

A half-century ago, eye-glasses were a mark of advanced age. Today glasses are common at all ages and are becoming more and more common among school-children. Of course, the increasing use of eye-glasses is a natural result of this age of prevention and of the development of optometric knowledge, technique and devices. But even with this increasing prevalence of eye-glasses, many eyes remain uncorrected, thereby imposing still further handicaps on human seeing-machines which, when they possess normal eyes, are already struggling against unnecessary odds.

Eye examinations and coordination of statistics pertaining to defects involve the question, when is an eye defective? Obviously there are all degrees of departure from the normal and there are all combinations of different kinds of defects. Optometry recognizes hundreds of measurable and correctable degrees and combinations of different kinds of defects. When a group of persons is examined for eye-defects, the skill of the examiner, the refinement of the method employed, and the time available for each examination determine the accuracy of the measurements and, therefore, determine the percentage of defective eyes as a skilled optometrist who has time to do a thorough job in his office.

Formerly surgery was employed to correct imbalance of eye-muscles, but now optometrists often correct the trouble without resorting to such drastic measures. If your eyes do not both look straight ahead when they are at rest, we urge you to consult your Optometrist about a course of orthoptic training.

Sergeant—"Did you shave this morning, Jones?"

Recruit—"Yes, Sergeant."

Sergeant—"Well, next time stand a bit closer to the razor."

Definite Need For Optometry Is Being Met

Needs Of Particular Individual Are Met; Old World Of Pioneer Has Changed Into Machine And Desk Age

Optometry exists because of a definite need. The world altered from an agricultural and pioneer world into a machine and desk world. Man had a visual apparatus—note that we do not say 'eyes'—developed through the ages for the needs of a hunter.

Suddenly he became aware of the fact that the visual appartus with which he was attempting to function was inadequate. Not defective—inadequate. Any eye that can see is a good eye. Many eyes that cannot see are, in so far as their histological and anatomical make-up are concerned, perfectly good eyes.

Un-Adapted Eyes

They are simply un-adapted eyes. Visual apparatus, of which constant near-point concentration was demanded over the long hours. The tolerance of fatigue in the various factor of the whole apparatus were adjusted to this need. Discomfort resulted—not from a "defective" eye but from a disturbance in the minutely adjusted association of many factors in the higher nervous centers.

The world flocked to obtain glasses for this visual aid. Rushed and pushed and bustled to meet this great need a nation of 100 millions demanding surcease from ocular discomfort. The Optometrist of yesterday determined the lens the patient would accept by looking at a distant chart and maintaining that image clearly.

Today, the modern Optometrist is interested in determining the fatigue tolerance of the various functions, ascertaining what must be done to bring about an equal tolerance of fatigue and so adapt that whole visual apparatus to the needs of that particular individual.

Reading Is To The Mind What Exercise Is To The Body

Reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body. As by the one, health, is preserved, strengthened and invigorated: by the other, virture (which is the health of the mind) is kept alive, cherished and confirmed.

The man who does little or nothing worth while himself, is usually found to be the severest critic of everyone who tries to accomplish things. The critic is the man who has not tried or has failed.

President Issues A Proclamation

Eighth Humanitarian Effort To Render All Seeing People A Great Service; Debt To All Humanity Is Being Paid

I HEREBY proclaim that the week of February 10-16, 1935, will be known as "Save Your Vision Week".

Once more the American Optometrist association will endeavor its its eighth humanitarian effort to render all seepeople a service by bringing to their attention the great necessity of caring for their seeing facilities and thus conserving their energy and living more comfortable lives.

The common tendency of individuals to abuse this most important of all their possessions has a far-reaching effect upon us as a nation. It handicaps the student, interfering with the obtaining and retaining of the knowledge taught. It develops criminals; it reduces happiness; it prevents working with comfort; it robs pay envelopes and it costs every industry and our government many millions of dollars a year. In fact, the results of uncared for seeing defects is one of our greatest enemies.

It is essentially Optometry's work to make the public aware of this condition and to inform them of the need of and how to property care for the malfunctioning of the visual system, and the fact that Optometrists only are properly educated and qualified to care for this condition.

It is the debt that we owe to humanity and although we attempt once a year to concentrate our efforts in this particular direction, we are remiss in that we do not continue it until such a time as this common enemy shall have been conquered.

Walter Irvin Brown, Opt. D.
Pres. American Optometric Association

Optometrist Is Trained To Recognize Any Eye Defect

The optometrist is trained to recognize any departure from the normal and since some serious systemic conditions early manifest themselves in the eye it has often fallen to his lot to refer to the physician people who were ill and did not know it. Dental infections frequently have their ocular manifestations. Scholarship may be retarded by visual disturbances. Cases of truancy and juvenile delinquency have been traced to errors of refraction. Eighty-seven per cent of all eyes have a measurable error of refraction. The remaining thirteen per cent will doubtless benefit by visual assistance as they advance in years, thus it will be seen that the Optimetrist is the natural ally of the social worker, the physician, the dentist, the educator, the industrialist and of mankind in general.

Optometry is regulated by law in every state in the Union, in the District of Columbia, in the Canadian Provinces and in many foreign countries, it is taught in a number of our leading universities.

The Optometrist realizes the importance of good eyesight more fully than do others, because every day he examines the eyes of men, women and children who have been fearfully handicapped in everything they have attempted simply because they are not able to see normally.

The teacher was drilling her class in the principles of subtraction.

"Now, if you subtract 25 from 37, what's the difference?"

"Yeah, that's what I say," answered one of her pupils. "I think it's the bunk, too."

Great Improvements Can Be Made In Factors Of Seeing

Great improvements can be made in all the controllable factors in seeing, of which there are many. Often great improvements result from simple expedients and any person can do much to help himself to conserve his resources if he develops a seeing-consciousness. He owes it to himself, his family and his associates in the work-world. There is a great need for improvement of seeing conditions everywhere and there can be no more important ideal where the efficiency, welfare and happiness of human beings are concerned. Emancipation of human eyes and human seeing-machines, enslaved and unnecessarily penalized by civilization, is a worthy cause in which everyone can enroll selfishly and generously.

Thorough Test Of Eyes Often Reveals Causes Of Weaknesses

A thorough test of the eyes often reveals the fact that many cases of nervousness, headaches, irritableness, insomnia and unexplainable fatigue are caused by eyes that need glasses.

It's good to have money and the things that money can buy, but it's good,too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy.

Optometry offers dependable, scientific and economical service in matters pertaining to the correction of defective vision.

Bad Eye-Sight Is Blamed For Many Failures

Large Number Of Students At U. S. Naval Academy Dropped Because Of "College Myopia" Which Is Prevalent

That "college myopia" (near-sightedness) is responsible for many failures in the Naval Academy was the opinion expressed today by Dr. Henry H. Sadler, well known optometrist of Annapolis, who claims that this near-sightedness is causing students to fall below the visual requirements and in consequence be dropped from the academy even though their grades be high.

Entering Annapolis, each candidate must present absolutely normal vision and must maintain same during his academic career as well as at graduation if he hopes to become an officer in the navy. Yet many boys who have normal sight upon entering find themselves falling below the standard and forced to leave the academy. A midshipman's career is just as dependent on good eyesight as mental equipment.

But Trouble Develops

Records which Dr. Sadler has compiled show that a large majority of these "college myopes" were actually far-sighted upon entrance, and their eyes had to accommodate to register the normal 20-20 vision necessary to pass the examination. Trouble developed when these students settled down to intensive study of six to eight hours a day, for the muscles of the eyes which hold the eyes in focus at the reading distance were forced to hold that focus for long periods and consequently were subjected to great strain.

"College myopia" is probably no more prevalent at the Naval Academy than in other colleges, but it assumes greater proportion there because a midshipman cannot continue with his studies without normal vision, no matter how brilliant he may be," Dr. Sadler said.

Little Attention Paid

"In other colleges little regard is paid to a student's vision just so long as he has a workable pair of eyes. Even West Point makes a certain allowance in uncorrected vision, but only a very slight deficiency in vision is allowed an officer in the navy.

"Much of this near-sightedness can be reduced by adequate illumination. "College myopes" usually show pupils about twice the size of those in a normal eye, which dilate to such an extent only in a dim light. The result is that the muscles which cause the pupil to dilate become over-developed in opposition to the sphincter muscle which constricts the pupil and permits of clearer vision in bright light."

"Progress of this type of myopia would be checked and sometimes eliminated," Dr. Sadler says, "if preventative measures are taken in time." The three months' midshipman cruise, which means the students use the eyes for little else than distance vision, is always helpful, but corrective measures should be applied for the reading distance, where the trouble originates. Scientific eye exercises for developing lax muscles are miracle workers in such cases, and if a midshipman can get to sea before the near-sightedness becomes too advanced, his normal vision, Dr. Sadler declares, will in many cases be automatically restored.

Releases Are Cited

Dr. Millard F. Swart, local Optometrist, would call to your attention two releases that were sent out in former years, one of them prepared by Dr. Edwin H. Silver, chairman of the Motor Vision Commission. That release was entitled, "State Officials Responsible for Auto Deaths." With this release was a mat showing the nerve reaction from the eyes to the brain. Another mat showed a young lady driving a car. In this picture showed the nerve reaction from the eyes to the hands and feet. Another release that was sent out to every part of North America we are going to give you here so that if it did not appear in your own paper you may see it.

Dr. M. F. Swart Announces Plan For Observance

Special Emphasis On Preservation And Improvement Of Eyes Placed During This Period; Many Vital Reasons Offered And Methods To Be Followed In Correction Explained

FEBRUARY 10th through 15th has been set aside by the American Optometric association as "National Save Your Vision Week." During this time each year for the last eight years, optometrists have paid special emphasis on the preservation and improvement of vision. Not only is the observance attentive to fitting of glasses, correction of vision with individuals, but considers the condition under which people live and work.

Is the light in your home what it should be- Are you reading under a lamp of sufficient wattage for maintaining your present vision? How are your working conditions? Are you laboring under adverse lighting conditions in your office? These are some of the reasons for observing "National Save Your Vision Week." Then, too, HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF THIS?

Men Stirred To Action

It is wonderful what a name can do to stir men to action. February is a notable month because of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln on the 12th and George Washington on the 22nd.

There could not have been a better month than February for "Save Your Vision Week" if the thoughts of these illustrious men will us to do something for humanity.

The department of Public Information has sent out releases on eye care to all of the principal newspapers in North America. Watch your paper this week for these articles on eye care.

Eye Troubles Cause Concern

Other Parts Of Body Stronger With Proper Use And Eyes Should Be No Exception To Rule; Badly Penalized

One can scarcely be satisfied to concede that eye-defects are a necessary result of using the eyes. Other parts of our bodies, for example, arms and legs, develop normally with ordinary use. They get stronger by proper use; and they weaken and atrophy by lack of use. Why should eyes be an exception? Certainly every philosophical consideration says they are being unnecessarily penalized; analysis of statistics and general seeing conditions support the conclusions of common sense.

The increasing prevalence of eye-defects should be a matter of concern to every owner of eyes, to every parent, employer and others who have supervision over owners of eyes. The responsibility for the welfare of the human seeing-machine begins with it's most important parts, the eyes. Such concern is worth while, even if it is merely a selfish one. No matter how broad or how narrow the interest, concern over eye-defects affects the future of human beings as well as the present welfare of individuals. One who studies the deleterious results of prevailing poor conditions for seeing can readily visualize human beings inheriting half-seeing eyes through abuses now unnecessary. Certainly, the effects of such abuses must eventually be inherited by future generations.

Optometrist Claims Scientific Examination In Natural State

The optometrist contends that a more scientific and more satisfactory examination of eyesight can be made while the eyes are in their natural state, than can be made while they are under the influence of drugs that temporarily paralyze the muscles of accommodation. Instead of using drugs in examining eyes the optometrist makes use of precision instruments.

Careful And Regular Eyesight Treatment Is Aid To Old Age

In order to be fit at fifty—in order to have comfortable and efficient vision, every man or woman who has reached middle-age should give eyesight and eyesight needs careful attention. A thorough and complete examination of the eyes should be made at least once each year.

"What did they teach you at school today, sonny?"

"Oh, teacher told us all about Columbus who went 2,000 miles on a galleon."

"She did, did she? Well, don't believe all she tells you about those American cars, my boy."

An eyesight examination costs little. It may mean much to the future welfare and happiness of your child.

—ADV.

"Send The Whole Child To School," Is Motto Of Modern Optometry; Importance Of Eyesight Cited

With the rapidly advanced type of education and the environmental conditions under which children exist today "send the whole child to school" means far more than sending a complete body. In order that children may benefit by the education taught them, they must have a mental faculty that can understandingly absorb and store away this knowledge. Investigations at Harvard university, department of psycho physical research under Dr. Dearborn have shown that disturbances of visual system functioning greatly impair a child's efficiency, actually causing an inability to obtain the marks in their studies that their intelligence tests show that they should be able to obtain. Eighty per cent of all knowledge is obtained through the visual system; and, if this does not function with the normal expenditure of nervous energy, a child's whole nervous system is constantly irritated, and resulting conditions mitigate against the average evolution of life.

Modern Optometry is the only known method of accurately determining the existence of this condition. The future of our country depends upon the youth of today. Parents should let nothing interfere with their determination to see that their children get a "square deal". In fairness to your child— when he or she brings home a poor report card, have the eyes examined before being too critical of his or her scholarship. If you child is experiencing difficulty in keeping up with the rest of the class, perhaps he or she is being handicapped by defective vision. An eye examination will answer this guestion and perhaps save your child from failure and discouragement which may last throughout an entire life. Your child's vision should be examined if he or she has headaches, reads in abnormal positions, squints, holds book too close, reads poorly, is nervous, irritable, has crossed eyes or poor distance vision.

What is more important to happiness and success than good eyesight. To those who have been born with even fair vision it is safe to say that ninety per cent of their accomplishments and even more of their pleasures are tied up in this sense of vision. In the sciences that have progressively developed in the last few decades, that of optics without doubt has distanced all others.

Conservation Vital

IN considering the huge expenditures proposed by the Roosevelt administration, it is necessary to distinguish, between those which are aimed directly at the current depression and those which would be advisable even if the depression should end tomorrow morning.

The vast public works and work-relief schemes, of course, fall in the first class. They are emergency measures, pure and simple.

However useful some of their tangible fruits may be, they are designed chiefly to stimulate lagging industry and to give jobs to men who won't get jobs otherwise.

But the long-range program for conservation and development of our national resources is something else again. For the most part it has no relation to the depression. The president envisages it as a continuing thing which should be carried on over a 20-year period, with ultimate expenditures at the rate of $500,000,000 a year.

A PROGRAM of this kind requires us to visualize the whole country as a unified social organism—a society which must pay as a whole for loss or waste suffered in any of its parts, and which eventually will benefit as a whole through prevention of any such loss or waste. We must, as President Roosevelt says, take notice of the losses that unrestrained exploitation has caused—

"Of the cutting of our last stands of virgin timber; of the increasing floods; of the washing away of millions of acres of our top soils; of the lowering of our watering tables; of the dangers of one-crop farming; of the depletion of our minerals—in short, the evils that we have brought upon ourselves today and the even greater evils that will attend our children unless we act."

Millions upon millions of cubic feet of natural gas are being wasted daily in the Panhandle and East Texas oil and gas fields. A program of conservation of this natural resource is of vital importance, especially to people living in this section. We need the gas for fuel for years to come and owners of the land will need the revenues from it. We should prepare our farm and pasture lands from wind and water erosion.

There must be some method or program of conservation devised.

ALL this ought to be a reminder that we owe a very large part of our commercial and industrial greatness to the fact that we built up our society in the midst of natural resources of unparalleled richness.

We had everything a land could desire—tremendous forests, enormous deposits of mineral wealth, millions of acres of fertile soil. We have built upon that foundation.

It ought to be obvious that if we dissipate those resources—if we heedlessly destroy the last of our forests, delve for minerals wastefully, and permit our farm lands to deteriorate—we are simply knocking out the foundation on which the whole structure rests.

After we have done whatever is possible to beat the depressoin, we shall still be under the necessity of preserving this foundation. If we fail, we shall eventually enter a depression from which there can be no full recovery.

$45 A PAGE

Early in this session of congress, Senator Fletcher (Fla.) mildly pleads with his fellow Senators to exercise restraint when asking that speeches made outside the Senate, and rafts of outside written comment and argument besides, be printed in the Congressional Record.

"It costs $45 a page," he said in the Senate. "This is very costly and often does not do any good."

But—before and after he spoke, more requests to have more stuff printed were made and granted! Members of the House, outnumbering Senators nearly four to one, in a larger way add to the printing bills.

There is no prospect of changing the old practice, under which courtesy permits any member of either House or Senate to have such printing done, but the formal order which appears over all the matter printed could be amended. Our idea of a suitable amendment is herewith added to the usual text of the order:

"There being no objection, the address is ordered to be printed at a cost to the public of $45 a page."

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

THE 74th house of representatives is still jumping through the flaming hoop held up by the White House. If President Roosevelt can continue to keep control of those things dearest to the politician's heart—cash and patronage—the lads from the hustings probably will continue to jump. After all, they will be up for reelection next year and riding on his coat-tails just as they did last fall.

Yet it is worth the price of admission to make a circuit of the house office building and listen to some of the private remarks leading Democratic congressmen are making.

Some of them are pretty mad at the New Deal. The only trouble is they don't dare say so publicly.

GAG: Not an inconsiderable number of House members will tell you in the privacy of their offices that Speaker Joe Byrns really owes nothing to Mr. Roosevelt. This is based on the premise that Byrns got himself elected to the speakership on his own merits whereas a coterie of New Dealers originally had set out to elect Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Others might point out that FDR finally ordered his lieutenants to stay out of the battle entirely, thus giving Byrns and his seniority a sure win.

Meanwhile Byrns has been playing the game. He has run administration legislation through the House with an iron hand. Gag rule has been the order of the day. Rep. William Bankhead of Ala., elected majority floor leader, has never been able to take over his job because of illness, and Byrns has had to double in brass each time the going got tough.

RUNAROUND: A considerable number of House members are frothing at the mouth because of rough treatment they think they have received at the hands of three of Mr. Roosevelt's agents. Reading from left to right these three are Postmaster General Farley, Democratic national chairman, Emil Hurja, Farley's assistant chairman, and Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, who had a lot of jobs to distribute but didn't parcel them out according to the Democratic Hoyle.

Farley's latest suggestion—that state chairmen take over original sponsorship for all job-holders—has the Hon. Representatives talking to themselves. They foresee that they won't even be able to pick the postmasters in their own districts any more.

A lot of the boys are concealing a knife for Hurja. They complain he is giving them the complete run-around without even saying beg your pardon.

1936: This is the background which would indicate a serious revolt against the White House. Calculus and the law of averages point otherwise. Many a brave man says things in his office he wouldn't dare say on the floor.

This doesn't stop house leaders from urging one point on the White House, on Farley, and on Hurja—without publicity, of course. They are trying earnestly to convince the New Deal that it is necessary for them to have patronage in their own districts in order to build up a political organization which will carry the New Deal on.

No word is forthcoming officially from the White House but the way things stack up it looks as though Generalissimo Farley and his side-boys are building up a 1936 Roosevelt organization all their own.

TOUGH: Reports that plans are afoot to unseat Comptroller J. R. McCarl because of his latest decision denying the right of the president to raise pay in the federal emergency agencies can be discounted.

McCarl was appointed by Warren Harding for a 15-year term which expires in May, 1936. He has been railed against ever since 1921 because of his numerous decisions, but best White House information is that he will serve out his term.

Several thousand temporary employes lost about $3,000,000 pay on McCarl's last ruling but only subordinate officials seem to be trying to stir up trouble. Luther Steward, president of the National Federation of Federal Employes, says the fault lies with congress. McCarl should be called in to pass on draft legislation before it becomes law.

FDR likes a good tough, honest guy — and McCarl fates.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE chief concern of utility holding companies at present is not whether they'll be put on the spot—but how. Their scouts report two schools of thought in Washington—one favoring the guillotine and the other slow starvation.

The first would operate through such drastic taxation on the dividends paid by operating subsidiaries as to mean almost instant death for the top companies. If the measure is enacted on these lines its application will be postponed two or three years—thus giving the condemned time to commit suicide gracefully. Advocates of starvation prefer milder taxes applicable immediately. These would presumably have the same result in the end but would take longer to get there.

Power men would favor the latter alternative if they had the choice. They would have better prospects of proving that such specialized taxation was unconstitutional before it had fatal effects.

Insiders understand that Congress itself has some doubts on that score. But word is that a federal licensing law for holding companies will also be enacted in order to take no chances that the power pyramids might escape their destined fate.

DREAM: You may have wondered why the Federation of Labor wants to force the majority rule issue in the motor industry when the workers enrolled under their banner are obviously such a small minority. The answer ties in with one of the Federation's hottest grievances against the Wolman board—the fact that it permitted voting employes to register themselves as unaffiliated.

This was the last kind of an election the Federation wanted. Their idea of proper procedure was to force the voters to choose directly between Federation unions and company unions—all other alternatives barred.

On that basis they might have captured a few plants (even though the workers might have preferred no union at all). In such cases majority rule would have given them full control.

And what a help that would have been to the recruiting campaign! They'd have been swamped with new members who wanted to be in right with the only official bargaining representatives. But alas, Wolman's realism punctured this rosy dream.

STEEL: The two largest steel companies have greatly improved their operating efficiency in the past year. U. S. Steel's operating profit jumped from $18,000,000 in 1933 to $35,000,000 in 1934—Bethlehem's from $11,500,000 to $21,000,000. Neither is getting its full share of the current improvement. With the whole industry running around 56 per cent of capacity U. S. Steel is only at about 44 per cent and Bethlehem about 40 per cent.

But both managements can point with pride to the fact that there has been no serious impairment of their cash position despite a series of whopping deficits.

CONSISTENT: New York gets an ironic chuckle out of Senator Borah's interest in Mexican internal affairs just after he led the fight to lick the World court because it would involve us in foreign entanglements. He's called as consistent as the cornet player who complained about his neighbor's canary.

SIDELIGHTS: One of the important air lines is seriously thinking of shutting up shop. . . . The put-and-call boys are out on a limb . . . They want the Securities and Exchange commission to tell them what they can do and the commission is too busy.

Ellis Island Chief Gives Innumerable Stories Of Human Drama Of Famous Entry Into America; Douglas Freeman Publishes Two More Of His Volumes Of General Robert E. Lee

"IN THE SHADOW OF LIBERTY," by Edward Corsi; (MacMillan, New York):

PLYMOUTH ROCK is famous because the daring immigrants from the Mayflower used it as their stepping stone to America; but Ellis Island, infinitely less romantic, actually played a far greater part in the development of the country.

Before you reply "What of it?" to that profound sentence, let me say that it is simply my way of telling you that Edward Corsi has written a book about Ellis Island. His book is called "In the Shadow of Liberty," and it is a fine, interesting story of a place which has seen about as much human drama as any spot on earth.

Went Through Himself

Mr. Corsi himself went through Ellis Island as a child in 1907. He was one of more than a million immigrants who came through the gateway in that one year.

Nearly a quarter century later, President Hoover put him in charge of the place—thus bringing to the job a man who had seen the great immigration station from the underside and knew how its wards felt about things.

He did his job admirably, and he not only tells about it in this book, but relates innumerable stories about the exciting, humorous or tragic events that the island has seen.

Unforgettable Biography

"R. E. LEE," volumes 2 and 4, by Douglas Southall Freeman; (Scribners, N. Y.)

IT IS a pleasure to record the triumphant close of Douglas Southall Freeman's effort to say the last, and definite, word on Robert E. Lee. The third and fourth volumes of "R. E. Lee" are now out.

If possible, they are more likable as reading matter than the first two, partly because they record the gradual decline of the Confederacy and of Lee's military hopes, and there is always something affecting about the chronicle of a losing cause. But there is this in addition: The fourth volume includes a detailed account of Lee's last years, and without this account one cannot understand Lee.

Begin With Gettysburg

The two last volumes begin with Gettysburg, and progress through the Wilderness campaign in defense of Richmond to Appomattox and its crucifixion. There follows a period which should have meant rest to Lee, but which actually was harassing in the extreme. Lee was ruined by the war, and until he was called to the presidency of Washington college he saw no clear road ahead of him. His friends believed he should not accept, but wait for a more important opening. Lee believed he had a priceless opportunity to contribute toward the rebuilding of the South, and took it.

He was right. To a modern, his course through the perplexities of a college president's life must seem curious. But it was precisely the course he took through the war; he did all he could, did everything as well as he could, and accepted the result and the responsibility therefor. He was no mdre remote from the student body than he had been from his commanders in the Wilderness, where his men again and again were compelled to beg Lee not to lead charges personally, sometimes even seizing Traveler's bridle and turning the horse around by force.

Mr. Freeman calls Lee "a simple gentleman." It is because he recognized Lee's breeding and his true simplicity that Mr. Freeman has written this unforgettable biography.

Hard-Boiled

"CRISS CROSS," by Don Tracy; (Vanguard, N. Y.)

DON TRACY gives us another of his hard-boiled novels about hard-boiled people in "Criss Cross," and once more he has done a pretty fine job.

He tells this time about a young chap who works as guard on one of those armored trucks which carry payroll money from banks to factories. The lad used to be a fair sort of prize fighter, before the depression ruined the fight game, and he's one of those rough-and-tumble lads who take things as they come and never spend much time on introspection.

Girl Friend Changes Him

But his girl friend changes all that for him, and leads him into a tangle so deep that when the book ends he is still trying to figure it all out.

She turns him down to marry a flashy gent who turns out to be a stickup man. Having married him, she shines up to our hero, and before he quite realizes what is happening he finds himself involved in a frameup by which her husband is to stick up his truck and lift out a payroll.

Husband Double-Crosses

Then, when the holdup is staged, the husband double-crosses him by shooting to kill; and he, thus double-crossed, supplies a further cross by shooting back and killing the holdup artist.

Recovering from his wounds, he finds himself a hero and an honest man, and he winds up as a big-shot supervisor for the company which he had plotted to defraud.

And the rest of the book is an interesting study of the psychological effect which this dizzy chain of circumstances has on him. It makes good reading.

Bids For Abernathy Sewer System To Open On Feb. 26

ABERNATHY, Feb. 9. (Special)—Bids for completion of the Abernathy sewer system, under a PWA project, are to be opened February 26, it was announced here.

An error in a previous out-of-town newspaper advertisement caused the former bid opening to be set aside by the PWA. The Panhandle Construction company of Lubbock was the low bidder.

The city council recommended to PWA officials that the low bid be accepted.

In Sweden, an inexpensive cash register has been developed that requires little space and enables each employe of a store to ring up his own receipts.

Ford Madox Ford, Britisher, Explains Hauptmann's Look

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

THE vacant look in Hauptmann's face as he sits in court, the central figure in the most sensational crime of the day, has attracted more than one commentator. There is nothing evasive about it. It isn't particularly withdrawn. It's empty, unfeeling, as thought the man's windows open on nothing. Some have wondered if his is a callowness beyond the average range.

Helen Welshimer

But Ford Madox Ford, noted British author, has explained that look most aptly. He, too, says that Hauptmann seems beyond this world of ours and beyond our hopes. But he gives a reason. The carpenter went to war with the German troops when he was only 17. Lots of other boys did, too. Sensitive, half-frightened lads, seared to the soul with the grim reality of the horrors that their young eyes beheld. They had seen life so briefly, their background of experiences was so small, that the tragedy was more than they could bear, more than they could put aside when peace came at last.

WAR WARPS OUTLOOK

MR. FORD says that when he heard that Hauptmann was one of the youthful soldiers, and that he had been gassed and slightly wounded, he knew at once what separated the man from normal mankind. The British author, who conducted the escort for German prisoners in Flanders in 1917-1918, believes that no boy who there formed his first conception of life could be or ever become quite normal.

In the revelation of that experience it is not difficult to understand why Hauptmann's eyes show an inability to feel acutely the stigma that is branding his name. It is almost as though his soul has withdrawn. But it hasn't. It can't feel any more.

IDEALISM WRECKED IN WAR

WHEN we have walked with suffering, crime, baseness, seen them in their stark reality, and comprehended them, there can be no lesser tragedy that will ever again hurt. True, there are those who walk among graves untouched by death. But when once comprehension has come the harm is done. When sensitivity has burned itself out in a spiritual crucifixion the soul can't respond again, for the recurring pain, though monumental to others, will be as pin pricks, vaguely felt on a hardened surface, to the one who has left no emotional response.

As a lad of 17 Hauptmann saw wholesale brutality in a world dedicated to death and pain. He saw it and comprehended it with frightened young eyes—calloused eyes now as he sits in court. He fought his way through that terrified Gethsemene that laid waste France and Germany and Belgium only a score of years ago. When the war was done, so was idealism. Burned out. Died in the smoke and cannon roar. The boys who could never be men in spirit came home.

TORTURED SPIRIT NEVER RECOVERS

AND thus we see so easily how the man accused of the heartless kidnaping has not grasped the horror of his plight. It does not affect his innocence or guilt. But it explains his reaction alike to enormity of the crime, if he did commit it, and to the great injustice done him if he didn't. He has been in Hell before. The present one cannot wound him.

So it is with any great experience in life, which is comprehended with heart and soul as well as body. "The heart once broken is a heart no more," Edna St. Vincent Mallay writes in a deathless sonnet.

The spirit tortured till it crumbles is never well and complete again.

South Plains Semi-Final Cotton Report Shows Ginnings 18 Per Cent Short

Lamb Leading County Parade

Total Of 90,563 Bales Given For 18 Counties; Lubbock Last Year Was In Front Of Production For Area

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Semi-final cotton ginning report for the South Plains, for 1934, issued by the bureau of the census as of January 16, shows a total of 90,563 bales turned out up to that time, which is slightly under 18 per cent of the 504,842 bales turned out for the previous year's crop.

Nine counties on the plains had ginned over 5,000 bales each, two of them over 10,000 bales; with Lamb leading by 12,088 bales and Terry a close second with 11,101. For the corresponding report for the previous season, seven counties had turned out more than 30,000 bales each, four of them more than 50,000 and Lubbock county a few less than 80,000. This year Lubbock ginned 5,377 bales, or less than 7 per cent of last year at this date.

Terry county this year had ginned only 1,060 bales under that of a year ago, Lamb county had ginned 12,000 bales as compared with 51,000 last year.

County rankings for 1934 season were: Lamb, Terry, Scurry, Lynn, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Dawson, Bailey, all with 5,000 bales or more.

Last year's ranking were: Lubbock, Lynn, Crosby, Lamb, Dickens, Floyd, Scurry, Hale, and Garza.

With reports from most counties indicating gins were closing down for the season, consensus is that the final report, to be taken early in March, will not show a material increase in bales. The gain over the December report was from 9,000 to 10,000 bales. This was due largely to counties resuming ginning after stopping cotton picking to harvest grain sorghums.

Only 16 counties are shown in this year's report. Swisher was eliminated because only one or two gins operated there and the government policy is not to disclose individual ginnings. Yoakum and Borden counties do not have gins. Gaines this year also is not show in individual reports, because of the few gins operating there.

Comparative reports for the two seasons, 1933-34 and 1934-35 are as follows:

County—	1934	1933
Bailey	5,076	19,476
Briscoe	1,267	11,569
Castro	975	5,327
Cochran	1,441	3,764
Crosby	4,871	55,967
Dawson	5,295	8,310
Dickens	4,170	34,563
Floyd	2,866	34,091
Garza	1,976	20,762

Higginbotham-Harris, well known Dawson county ranch and farm owners, has about 200 head of cattle on feed in Dawson county. They recently sold 82 head. The Higginbotham family have about 154 farms in the county and they are using feed from these farms, coming as rent, for their operations near Lamesa and also at Syemour and other towns.

Farm Leaders Are To Gather

Thirty-Five County Meetings In This District Arranged By Tumlinson; Two Sessions To Be Held Daily

O. G. Tumlinson, district county agent leader for district No. 2, Texas State Extension service, has arranged 35 county meetings in his district to contact farm association executive committees on AAA work for 1935.

Two meetings will be held by Mr. Tumlinson daily, one in the morning about 9 o'clock and the other at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Each county agent has been advised of the date for his county and has been asked to notify those interested.

All-Day Affair

Lubbock's meeting will be an all-day affair as far as Mr. Tumlinson is concerned, he having planned to spend the day here.

Meetings with county farm association executive committees are scheduled for 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., as follows:

DISASTROUS SEASON

FLOYDADA, Feb. 9.—(Special)—The three gins here have closed their season, said to have been the most disastrous for gin owners in more than 20 years. Approximately 775 bales were ginned this season. For most of the season only one gin operated at a time.

Walks Jail Term

A 1,440-mile hike was the sentence Edward Foster 16, of Alexandria, Ind., chose in preference to a three-year reformatory term for the admitted theft of 20 pounds of merchandise from an Alexandria store. Judge Charles E. Smith let him choose and here he's shown "doing his stretch." For 60 days he must walk 12 miles daily—no hitchhiking—carrying around his neck bricks weighing the same as the stolen goods. (Associated Press Photo)

Chicago Woman Emulating Ancestors By Raising Sheep, Spinning Clothes

BY RUTH COWAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—A Texas-born Chicago woman is emulating her pioneer ancestors by raising sheep, carding wool, spinning yarn and then weaving and knitting it into clothing for herself, her husband and three-year-old child.

Mrs. William F. Conlon has just tailored a winter coat for which she spun and wove the material from the natural brown fleece of Caracul sheep. Six yards were used in her coat, and the remainder of the 11 yards she wove in a year and a half is going into a topcoat for her husband.

Masters Spinning Technique

She has knit blankets, sweaters and sleeping garments for her little daughter, Ellen, and among her own knitted things is a white wool evening gown. Her yarns are undyed. She gets color and contrast by using different shades of fleeces—white, cream, brown, black and the grays.

All her husband's wool socks are made of yarns she spins and knits.

It was through her activities in the Daughters of the American Revolution that she became interested five years ago in spinning. Brought up in Manchester, Ind., where her mother, Mrs. Sara Robertson, still lives, Mrs. Conlon inherited a sheep ranch.

Accustomed to doing research as a candidate for a Ph. D. degree, after study at the University of Manchester, University of Wisconsin, University of London, and Northwestern university, she mastered not only the spinning technique of early American women but of many foreign lands.

Mrs. Conlon was born in Waco, Texas, and through her mother she traces her family to Gen. Jerime Bonaparte Robertson, who fought to free Texas from Waco. She is the niece of Judge Felix D. Robertson of Dallas, who several years ago unsuccessfully opposed Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor.

San Angelo Elevator Man's Salary Figures $6.15 Per Mile; He Has Other Duties

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 9 (AP)—The mileage fees collected by state officials are minor compared to the "mileage" that the elevator operator at the San Angelo federal building receives when his salary is figured on that basis.

His "fee" is $6.15 per mile.

The elevator was placed in operation Oct. 7, 1933, its installation being one of the features of the extensive remodeling and enlarging of the building. The elevator's measuring since it went into service has clocked 254 miles up and down the three-story and basement shaft.

The operator, A. M. Blakeway, receives a salary of $1,260 a year. Long division gives the answer of $6.15 a mile.

There has been an average of about 15 "rides" daily but when the internal revenue agents (occupants of the third floor) are out of town there may be only three or four "ups and downs." When federal court is in session there are often more than 100 trips a day.

The "catch" to the story, however, is that the operator has janitorial duties in addition to the "lift" work.

Randall County Agent Moves Into New Office; Work Brisk

CANYON, Feb. 9 (Special)—Randall County Agent W. H. Upchurch has moved into his offices in the court house.

The former office of Mr. Upchurch has been completely remodeled and repainted. Another room has been added which will greatly relieve the congestion that has existed in the past during rush hours.

The furniture has been refinished, together with all woodwork, walls, ceiling and floor of the offices, and several new pieces added to take care of increased work transacted under direction of the agent.

March 15 To Open Fort Worth Show

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9—Letters and other information being received by the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show indicate that there will be many livestock buyers present when the sales are held in March. Considerable interest is being shown in the feeder cattle division of the exposition. The Fat Stock show will open Friday night, March 15, and continue until Sunday midnight, March 24.

There has been an increase in cash awards in many departments of the exposition. Several new classes have been added to the horse show which will be held matinee and night in connection with the rodeo.

Arrangements are being made by Manager John B. Davis to present a spectacular floor show and free outdoor acts. The program of entertainment will be arranged so that there will be something for the visitors to enjoy day and night.

Immediately after each matinee rodeo and horse show, the free midway entertainment will be offered. Then Rainbeau garden with its floor show, dance orchestra and supper and night club features will open.

BIG BARN IS BUILT

SEMINOLE, Feb. 9.—(Special)—One of the largest ranch barns in Gaines county was recently completed by Dr. E. H. Jones, of New York City and Seminole, on his ranch northwest of town. The building is 32 by 54 feet, with a 90 foot shed on one end and a 70 foot shed on the other. Dan Cobb was the contractor. B. B. (Buck) Curry is foreman of the ranch, well stocked with registered Herefords.

Assistant County Agent Of Dawson County Is Announced

LAMESA, Feb. 9.—J. B. (Buster) Worley, Wellington, A. and M. graduate, has been named assistant county agent of Dawson county and is in charge of cotton adjustment work, Joe Williams, county agent, said.

Mr. Worley succeeds Glen T. Hackney, Texas Tech graduate of the division of agriculture, who was transferred to Stonewall county. He will be an assistant to another Tech graduate J. W. Botts, county agent.

SIX DEMONSTRATIONS

AMHERST, Feb. 9.—(Special)—In six terracing and contour demonstrations G. H. Schumann, assistant county agent, covered 1,900 acres. Eighty-one farmers attended the six meetings.

PLAN TO BUY GIN

ANTON, Feb. 9.—(Special)—Farmers of this section have banded together to purchase a gin here. The Hogan gin can be bought, it is said, if the money is raised. The Houston Bank for Cooperatives is to be asked to finance 60 per cent of the cost.

But He Doesn't Know
HOW RICH HE IS!

Nature endows one with eyes unknown to eyestrain. The least effort in seeing is required of a baby whose eyes are focused only on distant objects. The dangerous age for eyesight comes when eyes begin to look at things closely—on letters, words and pictures instead of looking at distant objects vaguely. This seeing will be done by eyes indoors that were made for outdoor vision.

It is said that twnty children in every hundred leave school with defective vision. These rules for sight-saving have been prepared by the General Electric company in the belief that every parent will be interested:

1. Have your child's eyes examined regularly during the school years. Defective vision in early childhood may often be overcome if diagnosed in time.

2. Never permit a child to read in poor light. Twilight, the light from a distant fixture, the light on the floor, the child's own shadow—all these are unsafe conditions for close seeing. Teach him to read with head upright and with plenty of light coming over his shoulder.

3. Provide him with a good reading lamp, and see that he does all his evening reading under it. A new lamp has been especially developed by the illuminating Engineering Society in the interest of better sight. It is called the I. E. S. Better Sight Lamp—and you can identify it by the I. E. S. Approval Tag which it carries.

ENJOY MODERN LIGHTING

Ever since electricity was discovered, engineers have ben improving upon its uses. In the field of home lighting such has been the progress that you are not getting all the enjoyment possible out of your home unless your lighting is modern and up to date. New fixtures have been designed that spread light evenly through the rooms—fixtures that are beautiful, that blend harmoniously with the decorative scheme. You owe it to yourself to see the new pleasures and new beauty modern lighting can bring.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION, No. 43

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan carried the dead Bolgani in the direction of the building he had seen from the valley's rim. Curiosity overcame his natural caution. Traveling up wind, his nostrils soon told him he was approaching the habitat of the Bolgani. Taking to the trees to avoid discovery, presently he saw just ahead a lofty wall. Beyond that, the weird architecture of a mysterious pile whose outline suggested the buildings of another world, so unearthly were they.

Strange, too, were the odors wafted to his keen smell-sense. The odor of the Bolgani was mingled with the scent-spoor of Numa, the lion, and the heavily sweet scent of burning incense. From his high vantage point, closer, the ape-man could see over the top of the wall. Rich and barbaric with ornamentation rose the main structure, reached by a wide staircase and covered with age-old ivy. Built of polished granite, it was set with intricate designs of gold and diamonds.

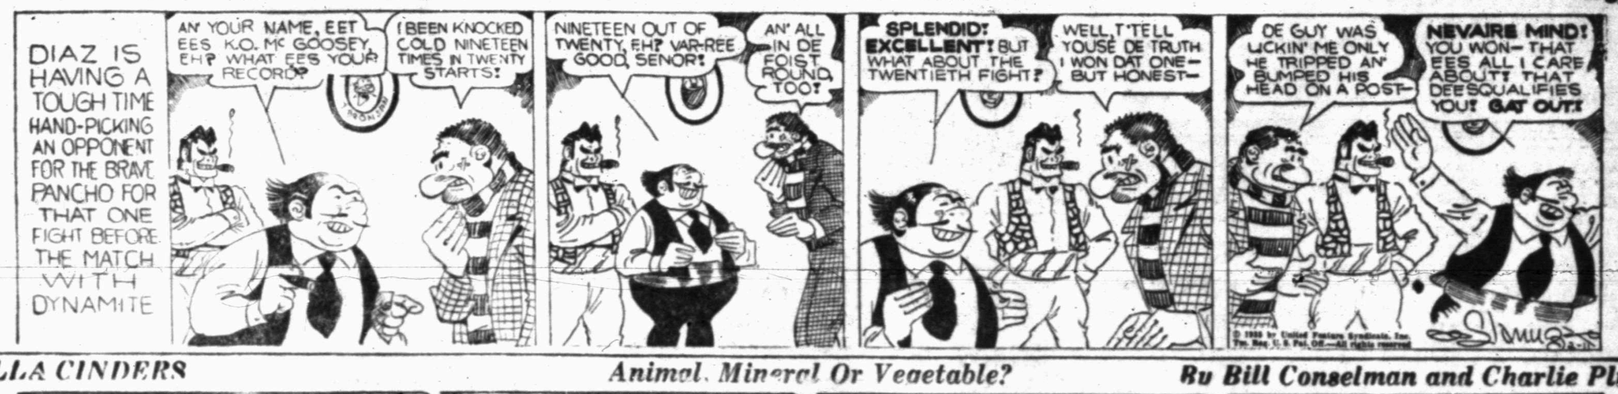

Glittering stones in countless thousands scintillated from facades, minarets, domes and towers. A vast garden surrounded it, in which worked blacks, men and women, like those in the valley where he had had left LA. Among these were several gorilla-like creatures such as the slain one now resting in a tree crotch behind the ape-man. These were doing no work but, haughty and brutal, appeared to be directing the tasks of the black natives.

As Tarzan watched with interest, two Bolgani emerged from a huge portal. They wore head bands supporting white feathers. Standing before the entrance and cupping their hands before their mouths, they gave voice to a series of shrill cries that bore marked resemblance to trumpet calls. Immediately the blacks ceased work and hastened to the foot of the stairs that led down from the terrace to the garden. They ranged themselves on either side, forming a living aisle.

Brief Bits Of News About Autos And Auto Dealers

BUSINESS SHOWS GAIN

SALES and orders picked up on Lubbock's Auto Row last week, but there still was difficulty in filling orders due to tardiness in wholesale shipments.

Scoggin-Dickey Motor company reported disappointment in failure to receive new Pontiacs. Kuykendall Chevrolet still awaits the Master Chevrolet, and Bowen-Ratliff Motor company has received no more Oldsmobiles, although one was brought in, "special delivery" last week and immediately delivered to a buyer.

ESTABLISH NEW AGENCIES

Organization and establishment of six associate dealers in the territory occupied the time of Shaw Motor company officials last week. Indicating a "return of prosperity" movement, six new De Soto and Plymouth agencies went in over the South Plains, each an associate of the Shaw Motor company here.

The new companies are Barker Brothers at Floydada, Shyrock Motor company at Sudan, Cross Motor company at Post, Gamble Motor company at Tahoka, and Scudder Motor company at Slaton. Each division expects to be stocked with cars for early delivery to purchasers in the outlying territory.

Shaw Motor company moved 10 used cars last week.

Cutting Down Of Record Votes Is Saving Proposal

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—Representative Lon E. Alsup of Carthage believes if the house of representatives would forego unnecessary record votes the state would save $10,000 each long session.

Every time three members demand the "ayes and noes" on a question the state spends about $5.50, Alsup calculates.

"Often seven or eight roll call record votes are demanded on minor and unnecessary amendments," Alsup said. "I guess there are 2,000 to 3,000 useless record votes in a long session." Elimination of record votes on trivial motions and amendments, he contended, would not only save money but a lot of time for the house.

To correct the condition he has planned a rules amendment to require a record vote on demand of nine instead of three members.

"Triple the number and it ought to reduce roll calls one-third," he opined.

Record votes in the house cost $5.50, he said, because in the electric voting machine a picture must be made of each and the 150 names printed in the journal. Films, paper, labor and printing costs make up the cost, he said.

LOAN OFFICERS NAMED

MULESHOE, Feb. 9.—(Special)—L. W. Harden was named president of the Muleshoe Farm Loan association at the annual meeting of directors. Whitson West was named vice-president; A. P. Stone, secretary-treasurer; D. C. Stovall, J. T. Gilbreath and W. M. Pool, jr., loan committee members.

Rock Ledge Aids Canyon Building

CANYON, Feb. 9 (Special)—Discovery of a ledge of rock west of Canyon, almost like granite in hardness and in appearance, has greatly benefited the relief projects under way at the West Texas State Teachers college.

160 men are working on the campus. Forty men are at work getting the rock and the remaining 120 are busy either at hauling or building with the stone. The major project at the college is that of constructing a rock home for athletes, which includes a general recreation hall for boys. The boys' home, to be known as Buffalo courts will when completed consist of an apartment court built in a U-formation about the recreation hall.

Other campus works include replacement of the board fence around the Buffalo stadium with a stone wall, improvements in Burton gymnasium, repairs on the indoor swimming pool, and laying of a protective sand covering on the soil about the campus trees.

HOTEL REMODELED

QUANAH, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Quanah hotel, one of the oldest structures in this city, is being extensively remodeled with the object of restoring the early-day appearance of the three-story building erected in 1890. In its day it was one of the show

Duggan Seeks Business Aid

Legislative Bulwarks To Aid Merchants In Fight Against Itinerant Merchants Who Roam Over State

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (Special)—Legislative bulwarks against itinerant and irresponsible merchants who prey on Texas cities during busy seasons were sought in the senate.

Protection of legitimate home merchants and provisions for issuing of state and local vendor's licenses are contained in measures of a bill sponsored by A. P. Duggan of the 30th senatorial district.

Wandering retailers, setting up temporary business establishments in towns, must, according to the terms of act, deposit $500 with the secretary of state, this to constitute a special deposit subject to attachment by creditors. A state license fee of $25 will be required for operation places of Northwest Texas.

Twice tornadoes ripped off the roof and once a gas explosion caused some damage. The hotel long ago shed its picturesque second-story balcony that extended the full length of two sides.

Bond Election Meeting Set For Abernathy On March 9

ABERNATHY, Feb. 9. (Special)—An election for patrons of the Abernathy Independent school district to vote on issuance of bonds for erection of a new gymnasium, has been called by the trustees for March 9, it was announced here. Amount of the issue would be $15,000.

H. Schulz presented a petition to the board asking for the election. It was signed by 60 residents, more than necessary.

of the store for one month. Municipalities may, also, by proper ordinance, fix a license for itinerant merchants. If the merchant operates the store for a longer period than six consecutive months, he will not thereafter be required to pay the license fees.

Residents Not Included

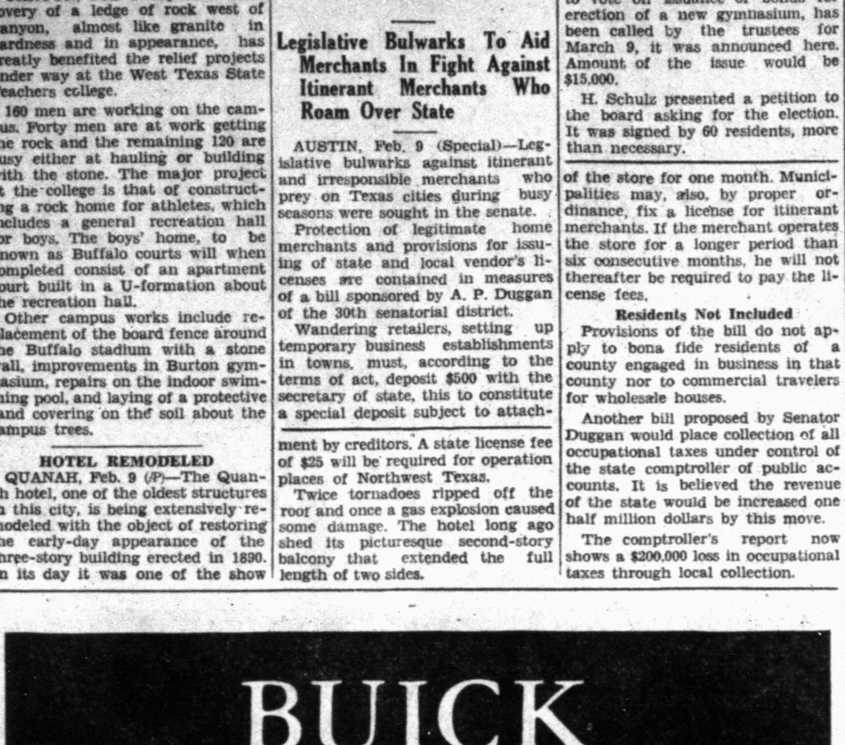

Provisions of the bill do not apply to bona fide residents of a county engaged in business in that county nor to commercial travelers for wholesale houses.

Another bill proposed by Senator Duggan would place collection of all occupational taxes under control of the state comptroller of public accounts. It is believed the revenue of the state would be increased one half million dollars by this move.

The comptroller's report now shows a $200,000 loss in occupational taxes through local collection.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

by WILLIAM FERGUSON

CAMELS

ARE FOUND TODAY IN INDIA, ARABIA, AND WEST THROUGH THE DESERTS OF AFRICA.

THERE ARE TWO SPECIES OF CAMELS NOW LIVING.... THE ARABIAN, OR SINGLE-HUMPED, AND THE BACTRIAN, OR TWO-HUMPED! THE HUMPS ARE RESERVOIRS OF FAT, FROM WHICH THE ANIMAL DRAWS SUSTENANCE.

CAMELS ALWAYS KNEEL TO ALLOW THEIR RIDERS TO MOUNT AND DISMOUNT.

IF NECESSARY, A CAMEL CAN GO SEVERAL WEEKS WITHOUT WATER, BUT HIS EFFICIENCY DECREASES AFTER ABOUT FIVE DAYS.

MATURITY IS NOT REACHED UNTIL THE SIXTEENTH YEAR.

CURIOUSLY, THE EVOLUTION OF THE CAMEL RACE WAS ACCOMPLISHED IN NORTH AMERICA

THE CAMEL CAN TRAVEL THROUGH SAND WHERE HORSES AND AUTOMOBILES ARE HELPLESS! IT CAN CARRY A LOAD OF ONE TON.... SOMETIMES MORE

TODAY THE FEARLESS FRED LINK IN PERSON

GOSH, I WANTED TO HEAR FRED LINK TELL ABOUT HIS EXCITING EXPERIENCES!

GEE, SO DID I!

MAYBE WE COULD WORK, OR SOMETHIN', AND GET IN FOR NOTHING!

LET'S GO BACK AND ASK THAT FELLA!

NAW, I AIN'T GOT ANY JOB FOR YOU... NOW, BEAT IT, BEFORE I CALL A COP!

HELLO BOYS! MY NAME IS FRED LINK! I KNOW HOW MUCH YOU WANT TO HEAR MY LECTURE. HERE'S A COUPLE OF PASSES! THEY'RE ALL I HAVE!

GEE, MR LINK... THANKS!!

WELL, WE DREW STRAWS TO SEE WHO GETS THE TICKETS, OSSIE! TOO BAD YOU LOST! SEE YOU LATER!

STAGE ENTRANCE

YEP!

SUDDENLY I LOOKED UP! THERE, BEFORE ME, STOOD THE KING OF THE JUNGLE... NUMA, THE LION! HE OPENED HIS CAVERNOUS MOUTH AND LET OUT A ROAR!

HE SAID A ROAR, HERMAN!!

BEEP

HERMAN, HE'S COMING TO THE MOST EXCITING PART, NOW! AND WHEN IT'S TIME, YOU MAKE THAT HORN ROAR, OR I'LL HAVE TO PUT YOU OUT OF THE BAND!!

THEN, AS I TURNED, I HEARD A SPINE-TINGLING ROAR....

RRROOOH

THERE! WAS THAT ANY BETTER?
