3 Dead, 32 Hurt As Tornado Rakes Panhandle Community

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A tornado swept down on the West Texas village of Sunnyside Tuesday night and killed three persons and injured 32.

Sunnyside showed the twister virtually swept the community off the land.

But for a woman's warning cry seconds before the twister struck, the toll probably would have been much greater in the crossroads community of Sunnyside, about halfway between Amarillo and Lubbock.

Mrs. C. M. Rogers, wife of Sunnyside's Baptist pastor, spotted the dark and threatening cloud and sounded an alarm.

Nearly 40 men at a meeting in her husband's church scrambled for two storm cellar doors. Most of them made it. Several were too late.

"The men had to put up their arms and hold up the rafters," said Muri Rogers, 10, son of the minister, describing how they kept the roof of one shelter from collapsing on 30-odd persons.

Tornadoes and severe winds blasted a line from West Texas into North Central Texas.

Tornadoes dipped down at Friona and Muleshoe in West Texas. A windstorm carved a path of destruction through Johnson County just south of Fort Worth. Several plate glass windows were smashed in Fort Worth. Two barns and a large chicken shed were destroyed at Blue Vista near Cleburne, while another large shed was blown down at nearby Friendship.

A cow was killed. Several other barns and outbuildings were blown down on the U. R. Owens farm near Joshua.

Sunnyside residents emerged to find the farming community shattered. The writing room levelled their church, store, grain elevator, cotton gin and four or five homes. A half-dozen other houses lost their roofs.

Dead and injured were strewn amid rubble piled up to five feet high in an area 100 feet square.

Thrusting on to the northeast the twister jumped over Amarillo, about 70 miles distant, and also menaced Borden. White Deer and Skellytown in the Panhandle oil fields, the Weather Bureau at Amarillo reported.

Another tornado dipped into the edge of the town of Friona, about 30 miles northwest of Sunnyside, and a third bounced through a farm near Muleshoe, about 30 miles southwest of the shattered village.

The Friona twister rolled a 50-foot house (under 200 feet) trapping Marie Carroll, a public school nurse, in the wreckage. She suffered a severe back injury. Her husband Tom and her brother, Jack Davidson, of Danville, Ill., suffered minor hurts.

At Friona, a train sent water gushing through the streets up to 1 1/2 feet deep for a time. Half the size of, pears pounded the farm country around Sudan.

Killed at Sunnyside were T. E. Hogan, a ginman in the community, Nona Beth Phelan, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phelan, and J. B. Kidd, 35, pianist, a lay leader visiting the Sunnyside church.

Board Takes Action On School Contracts

The Snyder School Board last night moved swiftly through a lengthy agenda that ranged from employment of personnel for the 1960-61 school year to adjustment of boundaries for elementary school zones.

Recommendations of Supt. T. E. McCollum on personnel contracts were approved unanimously by the board.

McCollum recommended that present personnel be extended continuing contracts, with seven exceptions including two teachers who will reach retirement at the close of this school year.

One-year contracts were recommended for Mrs. Annie Taylor, teacher in the Abraham Lincoln School, Byron Taylor, teacher in the junior high school, Herman Friga, principal at Central Elementary School, and Joel Griffin, principal at West Elementary School.

It was recommended that Mrs. Ruth Burchett not be extended a new contract at Snyder School, with the understanding that she would get consideration if she applies for a teaching position elsewhere in the system.

Mrs. Grace Jackson, teacher at Central Elementary School, and West Elementary School, both will reach retirement at the end of this school year.

Stratton Clinches Demo Nomination

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton clinched nomination for a third term today, and Otto Kerner won the right to try tooust him in the November election.

Stratton is the state's No. 1 Republican leader while Kerner has the backing of the top Democratic official, Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

The post-midnight count of unofficial returns from Tuesday's Illinois primary also showed that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, only entrant in the presidential preference feature, drew a complimentary vote that exceeded his 341,463 total in the April 5 Wisconsin primary. But it fell far short of the 781,710 rolled up by President Eisenhower in the Illinois primary in 1956.

Democrats' outpolling Republican in a relatively light vote of about 1,600,000.

Samuel Witwer, Chicago lawyer who was supported by Stratton and most GOP organizations, led the six-man race for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in a close contest.

Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas was nominated for a third term without opposition. In incomplete returns he gathered more votes than Nixon.

Returns from 256 precincts gave Stratton 532,425 and Robertson 237,868.

Kerner, former Cook County judge, swamped State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman and Stephen A. Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman, in their party's gubernatorial test.

Returns from 256 precincts gave Kerner 498,731, Lohman 163,191 and Mitchell 176,983.

Nixon made no campaign, in Illinois and his supporters put on no organized drive in his behalf. His was the only name on the ballot.

Returns from 7,063 precincts gave Nixon 453,827, Sen. Douglas in 6,877 precincts, had 630,367.

The Illinois preference vote is not binding. But unless some competition develops for the GOP presidential nomination, Nixon is expected to receive the state's 60 votes at the party convention.

Witwer, in the scramble for the Republican Senate nomination, was pitted against Warren Wright, former state treasurer; William H. Rentscher, Chicago candy manufacturer; State Sen. John Lewis of Marshall; John Harrell and John Ricker.

Four Persons Are Killed In Plane Crash

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP)—A small private plane disintegrated in flight 20 miles northwest of Mineral Wells today and four persons were plunged to death.

An eyewitness said the plane, a Beechcraft, seemed to have exploded in the air. He said the wings and engine dropped off.

One of the bodies was identified as that of Dr. James William Rainer of Odessa, Tex.

The other victims were reported to be Mr. and Mrs. Purford Freeman, both 45, of Dallas, and Ben Dean Sheets, 34, of Fort Worth.

The crash occurred three miles south of the small Palo Pinto County town of Bradford.

A newsmen of Radio Station KORB, Mineral Wells, said two bodies were found in the main wreckage. The others were found some distance away.

Wreckage was strewn over a 200-yard area.

The plane had taken off from Fort Worth a few minutes before the crash. Dr. Rainer had been in Fort Worth attending the Texas state medical meeting.

Dr. Rainer was piloting the craft.

The doctor's daughter, Miss Martha Rainer, is a junior at Southern Methodist University. She said Mr. and Mrs. Freeman were her grandparents.

She said that at the time of the crash her mother was en route to Dallas to pick her up and take her home for the Easter holidays.

Sheats was connected with a Fort Worth car lease firm, and Rainer en route to pick up a car at Lubbock.

Transit 1B Into Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States launched a navigation aid satellite into successful orbit today.

The space messenger a device with highly important military possibilities, was fired from this missile testing center at 7:03 a.m.

Their in Washington, the Navy announced that a tracking station, at Las Cruces, N.M., had reported the transit satellite passed over that point at 8:36 a.m., in its swing around the earth.

The satellite also was picked up over Austin, Tex., by the University of Texas tracking station.

There had been earlier indications of a successful flight.

While the rocket engines were still pushing the satellite into the sky, tracking stations in the United States, Newfoundland, England and Germany began reporting strong radio signals from the satellite.

Officials emphasized that Transit 1B is merely a test of equipment and theories that may be used in an operation system. Two or three more advanced test transits will be launched later this year, with the first operational payload scheduled for 1961.

By studying signals from the launching platforms.

It will be especially important to Polaris missile submarines and bombers carrying long range Hound Dog and Skybolt air-launched rockets. Quick accurate information on position will be of great value in plotting missile trajectories from these mobile launching platforms.

The first Polaris subs are expected to begin operating late this year. They will be able to use transit satellites to check their ship's inertial guidance system, which must be corrected periodically because of gyroscope drift.

Hound Dog missiles, with a 500-mile range, now are being deployed on B52 bombers. The 1,000-mile Skybolt is scheduled for B52 and B58 bombers in 1962.

From the satellite, scientists also will be able to gain a better idea of the exact shape of the earth and the precise distances between certain points. This would enable American Atlas-based rockets to place the Atlas to zero in more accurately on an enemy target.

Today's satellite is a 36-inch sphere with a double band of solar cell banks around its waist. The cells are to convert the sun's rays to energy to charge the satellite batteries. An antenna was painted as a silver band in a spiral pattern on the surface.

The satellite is expected to remain in space about 50 years. It should pass over all areas of the earth 50 degrees north and 50 degrees south of the equator. This takes in most of the Soviet Union.

The Johns Hopkins University receiving station in Howard County, Md., one of the first to pick up the satellite's voice in its upward flight, got good signals on all four of its frequencies on the first orbital pass.

That was taken by the Navy, which sponsored the trial as a sign that all the experimental equipment was working well.

The 265-pound spherical payload, called Transit 1B, is designed to study the feasibility of using satellites as global, all-weather navigation stations.

Ships, planes and submarines receiving radio signals from the network of transits would be able to plot their positions to within one-tenth of a mile more simply and accurately than at present.

The two-stage launching vehicle, called Thor-Able-Star, rose smoothly from its pad at 7:03 a.m.

Its second stage engine was geared to be stopped and restarted in a circular orbit about 100 miles high. This is the first such off-and-on engine firing by the United States. The Soviet Union is not known to have used anything comparable in its space shots.

Ten minutes after the launch, scientists announced the second stage had fired successfully. It was to burn 4 1/2 minutes and then coast to a height of 500 miles. Then it was to ignite again and inject the satellite into orbit.

Filing Date Delay Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is still a possibility, government officials disclosed today, that the income tax filing date will be postponed across the nation until midnight Monday April 18.

It was learned today that the coincidence of Good Friday falling on April 15, the tax deadline, has developed a full-blown bureaucratic headache.

The question of postponement has been passed up to Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and argued at numerous conferences of treasury and Internal Revenue Service officials, but still remains undecided.

Anonymous Threat Helps Break Up Negro Sit-Down

A New maneuver—the anonymous bomb threat—broke up a Negro sit-down demonstration against segregated lunch counters in a Nashville, Tenn. department store.

Police and firemen, acting quickly Tuesday after receiving a telephone tip that a bomb was in the building, cleared customers and sit-downers from McLeellans, a variety store. No bomb was found.

The sit-down touched off scattered racial incidents which resulted in the arrest of two white persons and five Negroes.

Negro college students, for the second consecutive day, took seats at eating facilities at several department, drug and variety store lunch counters. None was served.

At McLeellans, hundreds of Easter shoppers jammed the area as the Negroes sat down. A taunting crowd of white persons forced them to move on but not before white youths grabbed anti-segregation signs and pinned a Negro demonstrator. A group of 50 white youths beat a Negro who hurled a drink bottle into the crowd from a second-story window. Policemen dispersed the crowd.

Anonymous threat figured in an incident at Montgomery, Ala.

Pat Patterson, 35-year-old Canadian, was charged with disorderly conduct after an anonymous telephone caller told The Associated Press in New York that bombs would explode in Montgomery high schools.

The tip was relayed to police in the Alabama city and Patterson was picked up at a hotel. He was quoted as saying he made the call out of sympathy for Negroes in the South.

In Little-Rock Ark. Negroes invaded eating facilities at two chain variety stores and two locally owned department stores. There were no disturbances and no arrests.

Blue Streak Missile Project To Be Abandoned By Britain

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON LONDON (AP)—Britain is abandoning her program to build advanced rockets capable of delivering nuclear weapons to an aggressor's soil.

Defense Minister Harold Watkinson told the House of Commons today the military is discontinuing development of the Blue Streak, a 2,500-mile-range missile which so far has cost 182 million dollars. Watkinson said the money thus far invested in the Blue Streak will not be wasted "if it is decided to go ahead with its development as a space satellite."

Britain still try to stay in the world space race, but Watkinson made clear that Britain's strategic bomber force will remain effective for several years as the vehicle for possible delivery of nuclear weapons.

The complete cost of the original missile program of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government would have been between $1,400,000,000 and $1,600,000,000, he said.

Authoritative sources said this country also hopes, wherever possible, to pool its research, development and productive resources with other North Atlantic Treaty powers in manufacturing space mile-range rockets.

The main reasons are advanced by officials for the switch in defense policy.

The costs of the missile program are simply beyond the nation's capacity.

Beyond the mid-1960s, when manned bombers are likely to be outdated, any British nuclear weapons would have to be delivered in a major war.

The program had been largely based on the production of fixed-site rockets which have been outdated by scientific developments.

In particular, Britons consider that the Soviets' recent firing of rockets into the Pacific exposed the vulnerability of fixed-site missile bases. The Soviets claimed to have hit less than 15 miles from their target over a range of 6,500 miles.

Public Gets Blame For Mental Woes

FORT WORTH, AP—The head of Texas mental hospitals pointed a finger of blame at the public Tuesday for being a crucial factor in the alarmingly high readmission rate of mental patients.

Of 12,000 patients released last year, 4,000 came back, Dr. C. J. Rullmann of Austin told a conference of city and county health officers.

This 4,000 was nearly 1,000 more than the total admission at state hospitals 10 years ago, he said.

The "nearly intolerable ignorance" of citizens about what mental illness really is and the reaction of the mental patient returning to the community were cited as the big reasons for the high readmission rate.

The discharged patient, Rullmann said, is made to stand stiff tests as to behavior that the person who has never been mentally ill.

To Rullmann this doesn't make sense.

"If a man breaks his leg and still has a cast on his neighbors don't expect him to win any track events when he comes home from the hospital," he said.

But for the returning mental patient, similar allowances aren't made, said Rullmann, director of mental health and hospitals of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools.

The discharged mental patient's behavior is scrutinized for the slightest "deviations" by his family and neighbors. At the first slip, he said, the patient is returned to the hospital.

Inquest Asked As Beverly Alters Story

LOS ANGELES, AP—Teen-age Beverly Aadland's admission she lied about a boyfriend killing himself in her bedroom brought angry demands today for an inquest by relatives of the handsomely smiling actor.

However, police say they are satisfied the Saturday shooting of William Stancu was accidental after the 17-year-old ex-mistress of the late Errol Flynn revised her story of his death, and said she had been his lover when it happened.

Stancu was discharged during a nude struggle with him.

She had told police immediately after the shooting that Stancu shot himself in the head after forcing her into a game of Russian roulette.

Stancu died in a hospital Sunday—his 21st birthday.

Reverly, a singer in a Hollywood nightclub, broke down under a lie detector test. However, she stuck to her story that Stancu forced her way into her apartment, forced her to disrobe and raped her at gunpoint.

An attorney representing Stancu's mother and brother said he doubted Reverly's version of the slaying.

George W. Decker said there was no need for Stancu to break into the apartment as he had been dating the leggy singing singer for six weeks and had his own key to her apartment.

The mother, Florence Stancu, and the brother, Kenneth Stancu, said an inquest should be held.

Reverly remained in custody at Juvenile Hall. Police said they will file a petition suggesting that Reverly lacks parental supervision and is in danger of becoming a juvenile delinquent.

Her mother, ex-girlfriend Florence Aadland, who had approved of her daughter's relationship with Stancu, said she had changed her mind.

"I still believe in Beverly's first story," she said. "The police must have worked on her."

Hostage, 10, 'Not Scared'

PULASKI, Va. (AP)—"I wasn't scared." That summed up the reaction of 10-year-old Barbara Hitts to the 30 hours she was held hostage by her brother-in-law. He was routed from a brick bungalow in a quiet neighborhood Tuesday night after standing off police since Monday afternoon.

Dressed neatly in a green dress and brown coat, Barbara talked to newsmen at a hospital where she was taken as soon as 18-year-old Barbara slept during much of the early part of the siege. At one time when Jennings was talking to newsmen, she asked the police if her parents "checked-over" her.

"I wasn't scared," Barbara said. Jennings made no move to harm her and did not terrorize her at any time.

When the final assault was launched with tear gas, Barbara said she "shut my eyes tight."

Despite her precautions, her eyes were red, puffy and watery from the seven tear gas shells fired into the house.

Mrs. E. W. McLeod, program leader for the afternoon introduced the speaker.

The subject for discussion was "The United Nations and World Peace." Mr. Kayser spoke from the standpoint of the "Why" of the organization of the United Nations. He then enumerated the great issues which now confront the UN. He also listed several achievements of the organization in proof that the United Nations has not failed as some have claimed.

His talk was very instructive, most interesting and gave one a feeling that some accomplishment is being made toward world peace.

Mrs. A. C. Martin, president, presided at the business session. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Neva Greenfield to 17 members.

P-TA Units Hold Special Session Here

At a combined meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organizations of Snyder, sponsored by the Snyder City Council P-TA, programs concerning the school curriculum were discussed. The group met in the high school cafeteria for the meeting recently.

Supr. T. E. McCollum gave an overview of the total school curriculum and some of the practices and policies concerning the activity program in the school.

The Texas Association of School Administrators asked the Texas Education Agency for a bulletin of accreditation standards. The commissioner of education, Dr. Edgar, then appointed 11 curriculum committees to study the school program in each area of the academic, fine arts, and vocational fields. These 11 committees submitted reports recommending changes in the school program.

C. D. Henry, director of curriculum, gave a report on the state curriculum commission studies, and how the recommendations of these commissions would affect our present school program. The major changes recommended by these commissions concern the junior and senior high school. The number of academic courses recommended for junior and senior high school would limit the number of elective courses available in the school day.

Henry also gave a brief report to the group on the curriculum for the junior high schools for the 1960-61 school year.

At the conclusion of these reports questions were asked from the floor. Several questions concerning the extra-curricular activities of the junior high school were discussed.

It was the feeling of this group that the junior high school activity program was patterned so closely to that of the senior high school that students were being "burned out" before they reached the senior high school.

Greatest Spring Crop Near Harvest

By HAL BOYLE
CHapel Hill, N. C. (AP)—It's about harvest time in the meadows of learning.

America's greatest spring crop—its college graduating classes—is matured and ready to seek its own place in the golden granary of life. The 1960 crop looks like a record one in terms of both quantity and quality.

Critics of our younger generation might feel better about our nation's future if they would take the trouble right now to go and see how these "hopes of tomorrow" really measure up. I did just that last year during a visit here to the University of North Carolina, which has won over the years an enlarging recognition as one of the great pastures of the mind and spirit.

Chapel Hill has always had a tradition of relaxed freedom and wide culture, and the late Thomas Wolfe was only one of many creative minds that have found inspiration here.

For any middle-aged man his return to a college campus is always a kind of journey into Australia. But it can teach him a few things too.

The campus at Chapel Hill is beautiful. The walks are shaded by trees so old they are like a mixture of many architectures blend in a friendly weathered warmth.

But on this walk upon this day it was the students, not the mellow atmosphere of the campus that kindled in me a reverie of comparison.

One does not like to be unfair to his own youth, but on the other hand it is not wise to get the idea that all that was best in the world died with it.

Looking around at the students I passed, pausing now and then to listen to them, I had the feeling they were superior to the college students of my own generation.

Most Bright Girls Refuse To Outsmart Themselves

By INEZ ROBB

"Girls are just as bright as boys," says a daring publicity puff from Parents Magazine, and adds, "Why, then, are they so afraid to use their brains?"

All of this is a teaser for an article, "The Big Waste of Brain Power: Our Gifted Girls," written by Dr. Elizabeth M. Drews, associate professor at Michigan State University's College of Education.

Now something tells me that Dr. Drews, an associate prof at a big university, can answer the question posed in that lead paragraph just as handsily as I.

But since of Doc Robb can only speak for herself, here goes: Anne Oakley and Ethel Merman, between them, wasted time for all time that you can't get a man with a gun. Experience has proved that he is even more gun-shy of a Ph.D. than 999 girls out of a thousand.

And the nation ought to thank God that this is true, would rather have a husband, children and a happy home than a long string of academic initials after her name. Who wants to be all alone with the telephone with a Phi Beta Kappa key?

The American girl and especially the one with the high IQ over whom Dr. Drews is chucking knows full well that egghead does not of necessity call to egghood. She does not need the Arthur Miller-Marilyn Monroe union to remind her of this fixed axiom.

Marriage is still the ultimate status symbol for the vast majority of my sex. Since this is so, any high IQ Knox enough not to be too bright for her own good. A high IQ and dancing feet are not incompatible, but they seldom go together unless Little-Miss-Einstein can conceal her light under a bushel.

The womanly dreamboat of the But Dr. Drews had better start

Stevenson Is Like A Doctor On Call

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, AP—Adlai Stevenson hovers around the political perimeter like a doctor in the next room. He is available if needed, but he won't come unasked.

He sounded like the Stevenson of 1952 and 1956 Tuesday night in his speech at the University of Virginia. It was a broadside at the Democrats.

Stevenson, a two-time presidential loser who seems perfectly willing to try again if he is asked, used two figures, Thomas Jefferson and President Eisenhower, to make his points: that Jefferson had vision and Eisenhower does not.

One of the troubles facing Stevenson or any other Democrat running for president this year—when he starts condemning the Eisenhower administration for lack of performance—is that the Democrats have now had control of Congress since 1954. When blame is being handed out they must be given their share.

If Eisenhower lacked vision or failed to produce or push a program, the Democrats had the numbers to come up with some of their own. But they haven't justified any stitches thinking big either.

Stevenson can still turn a phrase, but to this writer, who wasn't down at Charlottesville, Va., to hear his written speech sounded tired and pretty much a rehash of what he had said over and over long ago.

If he doesn't get the Democratic nomination this year again he will like all the other also-rans: he has become a minor figure in American history. Nevertheless, because he had eloquence, scholars will re-search his speeches.

His ideas and his views about the world and Eisenhower—whom historians have the benefit of the hindsight which comes with passing years—can then be measured in perspective against the Eisenhower record or lack of it.

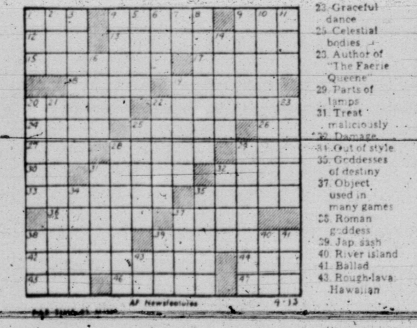

On one point he hit a note which by now is pretty commonly accepted: that this country's foreign policy has been pretty much defensive.

Stevenson insists he is not looking for the nomination this year, although he says he won't duck if it's offered. But he couldn't have made a more political speech if he had been on the stump for the third time.

Still, while this speech may have found a hearty response in the central air of the University of Virginia, it still hardly the kind that enthuses the voters.

Cards Trim Bulldogs In Picking Up Title

The Hermleigh Cardinals successfully defended their District 15-B track title here yesterday, but it was by no means the hair of their chinky-chinchies, as a determined band of Loranze Bulldogs thimble-dame within an ace of upsetting the Redbirds. Final tabulations showed Hermleigh with 136 5-8 points to Loranze's 133 1-3. Ira ran third with 112 5-8, while Westbrook and Fluvanna were far away with 25 and 19 points, respectively.

Loranze gained some consolation by copping the elementary division of play, however, and by losing out in the 100-yard dash for high race by a scant two points.

Rickey In Reiterating Mood For '61

A host of records fell by the wayside during the all-day meet which was held off on a windy Tiger Stadium oval. Four marks were eclipsed in the high school division with Hermleigh's Mickey Winter shining brightest by establishing new records in both hurdle events. His 16.9 second skip in the "high" bettered his own previous low of 17.3 in that event.

In addition, Ira's John Sanson easily lowered the existing 300 run record of 2:29.0 with a brilliant 2:17 churning, while teammate Travis Alexander completed the record onslaught with his heave of 41'5" in the shot, it topping the old 39'7".

Four junior high marks went under and a trio of elementary records breathed their last during the tenure of the meet. Possibly

Montreal In Big Playoff Lead At 3-0

TORONTO (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens are on the verge of winning the Stanley Cup for the fifth straight year, an unprecedented feat in the National Hockey League.

The took a 3-0 stranglehold on this year's cup by outclassing the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2 Tuesday night. They are to sweep the best-of-seven final playoff series by winning the fourth game here Thursday night.

The scoring explosion by the Canadiens' almost-forgotten third line of Phil Goyette, Andre Promont and Marcel Pronovost, and the solid work of goalie Jacques Plante stymied the Leafs' desperate effort to get into series contention.

Goyette, with two goals, was a standout on offense. Don Marshall and the dynamic Richard Brodeur—Madrice and Hertz—go the other Montreal goals.

Guthrie And Jones Lead Tigers To Win

LEVELLAND—A sparkling two-hit pitching job by Ronnie Jones combined with a big bat as wielded by third-sacker Jerry Guthrie to give the Snyder Tigers a 12-3 victory over Levelland's Lobos here yesterday, the win being the second in as many tries for the Bengal nine over that 3A non-district foe.

In waiting to the victory, his third as against four defeats, south-paw Jones aided his own cause by doubling in the first inning and marking up a pair of hits in the afternoon. Lobos batsmen were almost completely stifled by his two-hit spinning, and he issued only four bases on balls in going the route.

The biggest noise in the batting order was Guthrie, however, who slammed a home run and a double in four frames to the plate, driving in three of four runners in the process. His round-tripper was a bases-empty affair in the third frame, while his two-bagger followed in a wild fourth inning which saw the Tigers platter seven runners in putting the game on ice.

Snyder picked up a total of eight hits during the game with Franklin Moore getting two-for-three and Steve Fere clipping of two-for-four. Each also had a single RBI for his afternoon's effort.

The Tigers will be idle for the next several days, their next action being the district opener against Colorado City. That game will be held off in Snyder this coming Tuesday on the Towle Park diamond, with Norman Gladson the tentative chucker.

The line score:

Snyder 102 700 2-12
Levelland 100 200 0-3

Cuban Students Are Taught to Hate U. S.

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP)—"Tomorrow," says the teacher, "the class will..."

Allegedly the student, although he may be years overage for the school, if his assignment is the provinces, likely he has been sent by Havana. He is the local leader of the Student Union, and in effect directs the school. He can tell teacher or principal whether there will be classes on any given day. He can, when and if he chooses, declare a holiday.

If students do not like what the teacher is saying, or do not agree, they should be down. The student leader usually is in the forefront of this curious activity. Some teachers have stopped fighting—resigned rather than go on under such conditions.

Gomez, or his counterpart anywhere in Cuba, is the representative of ambitious, opportunistic Rolando Cubela, a brown-haired, good-looking former revolutionary army major who resigned the promising job of deputy interior minister to take over the presidency of the Union of University Students. He is Prime Minister Fidel Castro's agent in the important field of direction and propagandizing of students. Many support him, but a large number of students—and teachers—detest him.

Under Cubela, all levels get an indoctrination in hate, principally for the United States. It reaches all the way down to the ranks of children just learning to read. And there is indoctrination in a cult of Fidel.

Children now sing songs these lines: "Si las cosas de Fidel son Comunistas que me pongan en la vista, pues yo estoy con el." It means: If the things a student sees Fidel doing are Communist.

'60 Year Of Crisis, Says Stevenson

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, hitting at what he calls the "lassitude" of the Eisenhower administration, says 1960 is a year of crisis and the dangers of "government by concealment" must be ended.

What this nation needs, he told a receptive University of Virginia audience Tuesday night, is a president who understands that the presidency "is a position of moral leadership" and who will act accordingly.

"Our own leaders have deceived us by underrating the magnitude of the crisis," of the Communist threat, the defeated Democratic presidential nominee of 1952 and 1956 said in the annual Founders Day address to more than 3,500 people crammed into the university's gymnasium.

The overflow crowd gave him standing ovations at the start and end of his 45-minute address: He was interrupted a dozen or more times by laughter and applause.

Stevenson, speaking on the birth of Thomas Jefferson's 217th birthday anniversary, strongly criticized the nation's leadership since 1952.

"These have been years of 'truth-trifling and misrepresentation,'" he said, in which the Jeffersonian principle of trusting in "the good sense of the people" has been "ruined by...smoothing assurances rather than candid communication."

As a result, he said, this nation has lost ground in its fight against world communism.

Stevenson mentioned no names for the role of Democratic presidential nominee this year.

Only One Hurt In Six-Car Accident

NAMPA, Idaho (AP)—James Agnew, 73, tried to pass another car which was making a left turn.

His car struck the fender of the other vehicle, sideswiped a third car, bounced off a pickup truck, ran through a hedge over a small irrigation ditch and ran into a parked car, showing it into another one.

"I was afraid I kept hitting things. I'd get hurt," said Agnew.

Only one person was hurt—slightly—in the six-car accident on U.S. Highway 30.

Snark Misses Its Target By A Month

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The Snark ICBM may be accurate up to 5,000 miles, but one missed its Chattanooga target by a month.

Due to a mixup in plans the 69-foot Air Force giant arrived Tuesday on the right date, but in the wrong month for an Armed Forces Week display in May.

Michie of Charlottesville, Va., at Monticello — the home of Thomas Jefferson — where Stevenson was guest of honor at a dinner. # British Walking All Over U.S.

By HARRY JUPITER
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The British are walking all over the United States.

Two snappy-striding sergeants started it Tuesday, on a 3,032-mile hike from San Francisco to New York.

Today Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, the Russian-born wife of a British sculptor, follows 'em down the pike, or rather up U.S. 40.

"And I'll pass them, too," she says.

The reporters and photographers who met Dr. Moore at San Francisco airport Tuesday night had few doubts the sturdy vegetarian would do it.

She was wearing a bright red wool suit and a red kerchief when she got off her plane.

"I want people to be able to recognize me," she explained.

She put on her black sweatshirt and red leather jacket for photographers.

"My hiking outfit," she said. "I'm anxious to get these off and start walking."

"Barefoot?" asked a newsman.

"Oh, no," said Dr. Moore. "I have 13 pairs of walking shoes."

She was indignant there was no one but newsmen and photographers to meet her.

She said the Hotel Corp. of America promised to furnish a truck to accompany her on the transcontinental hike.

"I need the truck to carry my juices and my extra shoes," Dr. Moore said, "and I don't even know where I'm to spend the night."

She was standing next to five cases of juices—fruit, beet, carrot and tomato.

A young woman reporter invited Dr. Moore to spend the night at her apartment.

"Thank you, young lady. That's very nice," said Dr. Moore.

The soldiers were together to talk to reporters had to job alongside them as they strode at 75 paces per minute toward Cordelia, where they spent the night.

Cordelia, about 45 miles from here, is halfway between San Francisco and Sacramento.

RAE Sgt. Patrick Maloney, of Kilmallock, County Limerick, Ireland, and army Sgt. Mervyn Evans of Wales wore khaki field uniforms and berets.

They said they hoped to reach New York within 70 days. The record for the stroll set 34 years ago, is 79 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes.

How long will it take Dr. Moore? "I'm not certain," she said, "but it'll be faster than those two sergeants. I'll probably pass them."

"I can't spend all my time walking around the United States," Dr. Moore said. "I've got commitments for a walk across Australia in June and for a walk from Miami (Florida) to Toronto in August."

Crude Nominations For May Decline

AUSTIN (AP)—Major oil buying companies have submitted purchase nominations for May totaling 62,833 barrels a day less than in April.

Total nominations submitted yesterday to the Texas Railroad Commission total 2,437,459 barrels compared to 2,520,117 barrels for April.

The commission will fix the May allowable at its prorated bearing April 20.

Nominations dropped in all but two districts: District 3, East Central Texas, was up 70 barrels daily and District 7-B, West Central Texas, was up 1,432 barrels a day. Current production is 2,583,000 barrels.

I am with him.

New textbooks, required for primary schools, have been published. These make an undisguised attempt to focus young hatred on the United States.

One such book is "Geography of Cuba," by Antonio Nunez Jimenez, rebel army captain who now, as executive secretary, heads the extremely powerful and often oppressive National Institute of Agrarian Reform.

On page 16, he writes: "In 1898, Cuba was able to gain her independence in the struggle which began Feb. 24, 1895. Then the North American soldiers disembarked at Santiago de Cuba and the United States took over the country, seized the sovereignty, won in struggle and sacrifice, and later imposed the Platt Amendment on the newborn republic, meaning the right of intervention."

The Platt Amendment was abolished 25 years ago. But Nunez says it really was in effect all the time until January 1959 when Cuba, for the first time, won economic and political liberty.

He suggests, echoing the current official line that the United States itself sank the battleship Maine in 1898 to provide an excuse to declare war on Spain and seize Cuba.

This book tells children the United States plundered Cuba for half a century in a manner typical of colonialism throughout the world; if Cuba is under-developed now, that is the United States' fault. All Cuba's troubles are blamed on Washington and "Yankee imperialism."

History is being rewritten industriously. Writers support their theses by the texts of Jose Marti, Cuba's George Washington, quoting his criticisms but never his appreciations of the United States.

In Camaguey province, a cartoon book is being distributed under the title, "Cuba, a Heroic People." The cover shows an octopus wearing a dollar sign, its tentacles labeled "traitors" and "monopolies" being cut off by the machete of a heroic-looking revolutionary.

The cartoon story goes back to the discovery of Cuba and the conquest of the Indians by wicked Spaniards, overlooking the obvious fact that today's Cubans are of Spanish—not Indian—descent. It jumps to the Spanish-American War and depicts the United States as seizing Cuba, saying "The people began to be enslaved again." The face of Fulgencio Batista, the former dictator who
