Report Indicates Success And Future Opportunity

An agricultural demonstration report recently released by County Extension Agent Bob Benson indicates annual income for the Rolling Plains area could be increased by more than $66,000,000 through the use of proper programs. This study is made annually by Benson's office using results from experimental programs instituted throughout the year.

Benson notes agriculture in the Rolling Plains, of which Mitchell County is a part, is undergoing changes and to those who lag behind, the future looks dim.

"Opportunities for increased profits exist within the area as set forth in the Rolling Plains Economic Program," Benson said.

"Additional net income can be obtained by those who adapt to changing conditions. Greater returns on investments will be obtained only by those who adjust quickly to change and use agricultural resources efficiently," he stated.

In his report, Benson indicates a rapid adoption of the best known See REPORT Page 6

Olympic "Gold Medalist" Speaks Out On Withdrawal

The effect of politics on the Olympic games is not something unique to 1980, Bob Richards, winner of two gold medals, said during a visit to Colorado City Thursday night.

Richards, who won gold medals in 1952 and 1956 Olympics in pole vaulting, was here to promote a line of cosmetics and household cleaning items. The company, of which he is chairman of the board, is Heart of America. The articles made by his company are distributed here by Hairdressers, 709 E. 6th, owned by Bud and Delores Hull.

Richards explained that during the 1952 Olympics, there were two different camps for the athletes, one for those from Communist countries and one for those from the free world. This was during the Korean War.

Then in 1956, if the Olympics had been planned for Russia, they would then have been boycotted because that was the year Russia invaded Hungary. However, the Olympics were in Australia that year.

The boycott this year of the Moscow games is really tragic, Richards said. When he first heard of it, he was opposed to the boycott, believing the Olympic games to be above politics.

However, after some thought, Richards said he decided it was for the best as Russia has made a mockery of amateur athletics and we used the Olympics for propaganda for 20 years.

He now believes that the United States, along with the more than 40 other countries who have pulled out of the Moscow games, should hold another Olympics this year that would be grand and overshadow the Moscow games.

Richards, who has vaulted more than 15 feet 128 times, said he believes the government should institute See GOLD Page 6

Civil Defense Meeting Is Set

A Civil Defense meeting for all governmental entities, officials from local utility companies and law enforcement agencies is set for Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Civic Center.

R.L. Buckland, of the Texas Department of Public Safety and Regional Director of Civil Defense, will speak at the meeting.

He will create a simulation of disasters, then indicate how each entity and utility should respond to the situation.

City Manager Ray Mason, who will sponsor the meeting, indicated the necessity for See CIVIL Page 6

U. S. Postal Service Prepares For Census

Every Mitchell County resident will receive an official document from the federal government on March 28.

This document will be the 1980 Census form required by the United States Constitution to be taken every ten years.

Postal employees in Colorado City have spent the past week, about 30 manhours, in preparation for the mass mailout of the Census.

The figures from this Census will be used to reapportion seats in the U.S. House of Representatives in accordance with the constitutional purpose of the Census.

The majority of state legislatures intend to rely on 1980 Census statistics as the basis for redistricting also.

Approximately $50 billion annually in Federal program spending is presently allocated to states and communities using the census data.

The successful Census depends, in the final analysis, on a broad public understanding of the Census and a willingness to cooperate.

Persons may be assured that there will be no improper use of the information given in the Census. Answers cannot be released in any way which will harm the individual.

"By law, individual information collected will not be used for purposes of taxation, investigation, regulation or in connection with military or jury service, the compulsion of school attendance, the regulation of immigration, or with the enforcement of any national, state, or local law or ordinance," President Jimmy Carter declared.

"The success of the Census depends on residents returning the documents to the postal service," Wendall Thomas, supervisor of the Colorado City postal office, stated.

The questionnaire provided by the Census Bureau will be printed in two languages, English and Spanish.

The form does not ask for the social security number, thereby eliminating the threat of unauthorized use of the information supplied.

Residents will be requested to fill out the Census form and mail it back in an enclosed, postage-free envelope on April 1.

Households that do not return a completed form will be contacted by Census takers, by phone or in person, to obtain the necessary information.

Record Winner Of Top Honors

The Colorado City RECORD was awarded the News Media Award for 1979 by the Second Texas Conservation Awards Program.

This program is sponsored by Soil and Water Conservation Districts of Texas.

The RECORD was selected out of 52 counties in 42 districts for that honor.

The award is given for the greatest contribution to the program of the Conservation District, through programming, announcements, interviews, tours, features and general news reporting.

A plaque denoting the honor will be presented to Publisher Mac McKinnon during the Annual Soil and Water Conservation District's Banquet to be held May 13 in San Angelo.

Also receiving an award from Mitchell County was David Stubblefield, who won the title of runner-up for resident conservation farmer, rancher.

86,935 Bales Ginned As Harvest Nears End

The 1979 cotton harvest is finally winding to an end with only one gin, Buford Co-Op, still processing.

Several records have been broken by this year's cotton crop including the length of ginning season.

The total harvest figure has risen to 93,235. About 86,935 bales of that figure were produced in Mitchell County. An estimated 1,000 bales is all that remains on the yard at the Buford Co-Op Gin.

A breakdown of each gin is as follows: Buford Co-Op Gin reported 12,100 bales processed and 1,000 bales on the yard.

China Grove Co-Op Gin reported they have completed ginning with 12,600 bales ginned. Of that figure an estimated 6,300 bales were produced in Mitchell County.

Colorado Gin Company reported 4,951 bales processed. They are finished for the year.

Farmer's Gin reported 7,243 bales processed. They have completed ginning for the year.

Co-Op Gin of Loraine reported 19,000 bales processed. They have completed ginning.

Mitchell County Gin reported 12,059 bales processed. They are through for the year.

Westbrook Gin reported 10,657 bales processed. They have no more bales to gin.

Producers Co-Op Gin reported 14,225 bales processed. They are finished for the year.

Arson Suspected In Multiple Fires

A recent rash of fires along Front and College Streets has led Fire Marshall Mike Mikle to the conclusion an arsonist is at work in Mitchell County.

About nine grass fires and one building have burned in the vicinity of Front and College Streets in the past three weeks.

All nine fires are believed to have been ignited by a person or persons using incendiary devices, according to Mikle.

We first became suspicious of the manner in which these fires started when calls came in of fires along the railroad tracks and there were no trains passing during that period to set them off," Mikle noted. Mikle reported at one point the department had been called out at 11:50 p.m. for a fire on Front Street near the tracks and while putting out that blaze five other See FIRES Page 6

Carlock Declines To Run

Ray Anne Carlock has withdrawn her name from candidacy for the Mitchell County Hospital Board of Directors.

Mrs. Carlock indicated the state law regarding nepotism (patronage bestowed in consideration of family relationship and not of merit) as her reason for withdrawing her candidacy.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS FUND DRIVE will kick off Monday as "Walkers" begin knocking on doors, seeking pledges. Red Cross packets have been issued to area "Walkers" who will work in designated sections throughout the County. Mrs. Jan Lemons (second from right) receives her packet from Drive Chairman Roger Wells (center) while Beeman Dockrey (right), president of the American Association of Retired Persons, Mrs. Jene Rowe, a "Walker" (left) and Bobby Lemons, vice-president of City National Bank look on. Loraine Awards Contract Loraine Independent School District Board of Directors met in special session Thursday to open bids on school renovations.

Six sealed bids were opened including bids from: Area Builders, Inc., of Odessa, $498,950; D.L.S. Contractors, Inc., of Abilene, $512,000; Owens Brothers Construction of San Angelo, $527,000; Rose Construction of Abilene, $493,400; Rose and Sons, Inc., of Abilene, $484,200 and Tilley and George Construction of Big Spring, $505,397.

The board elected to award the bid to the lowest bidder, Rose and Sons, Inc.

Three Are Indicted By Jury

The Mitchell County Grand Jury handed down three indictments Friday afternoon.

Two of the indictments were sealed and one was a indictment of a Lubbock man, Gabriel Gonzales Torres, who is 30 years-of-age.

Torres was originally extradited from Washington on the first indictment for passing a forged check for $214.57 on August 12, 1978.

My Expectations

By Lulu Turner

As an active member of the local sports groups, I have recently become aware of several inequities in the use of the sports facilities in Colorado City.

CISD facility rates are Middle School gym-$25; Hutchinson gym-$25; High School gym-$50; Wolf gym-$65; Wallace Center gym-$15; football field-$150 and baseball field-$50 plus custodian rates, of time and a half, on all facilities. When asked why the rates are so high, there was a reply, "I don't know why they are so high...but compared to Snyder, they are cheap."

In comparison with other towns in Mitchell County—Loraine gym-$10 and football field-$25 and Westbrook gym-$10 and baseball field-$25, they are extremely high. Another point is that some people have been shown partiality in the use of these facilities with non-school related activities.

I understand paying for the use of utilities but we, the taxpayers, are paying twice to participate with other individuals in our community paying the same taxes. Most of the time, only Mitchell County residents are using these facilities.

Various clubs, organizations and individuals have publicly questioned these rates but no one does anything about the problem. They are told "that's the way it is."

The Boys' Club, an organization that helps keep our kids off the streets, paid nearly as much for the facility as they cleared; the Optimist paid $150 for use of the field and custodian fees and Church League had a short season due to these rates. These are not organizations trying to raise money for personal profits, but to better our community and all that live here. I think there should be some consideration for these groups.

I understand the system is trying to protect these facilities but this is our community and our taxes and we need these organizations that give children, as well as adults, the time and place to exercise and have fellowship with others in our community.

I think it's time we stop saying, "that's the way it is" and change it to suit the needs of local people.

With the sun shining, flowers blooming, birds singing and grass sprouting, many people are getting that "Spring Fever." Have you ever noticed how enthusiastic and energetic people get when the whole world starts looking alive. Actually, it would be hard not to do so.

Softball season is beginning pretty soon, so you better start digging out your gloves and dirty old tennis shoes.

I am really glad we have the Girls' Softball Association, because I know that someday we will have more women softball players. It really is disappointing to see only three or four women's teams in the Church League play, when the men have such good participation.

I would like to encourage the women in Mitchell See COLUMN Page 6

T.V. AND THEE

Rev. Harold Davis
Pastor
Oak Street Baptist Church

Scripture: Philippians 4:8 "Finally brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

It has been known for a long time that we all become what we think about. Even Solomon said: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." (Proverbs 23:7) Added to this is the truth that whatever we see or hear normally determines what we are going to be thinking about. Apply this to the music you listen to and to the television programs you watch and listen to. These programs form and mold your thoughts, and your thoughts make you into the type of person you actually are.

Television certainly is not producing the types of viewing which will lead to healthy thoughts and noble character in its viewers. Immorality and violence is rampant. Bad and wrong, evil and sin, are commonly portrayed as being right. Goodness and virtue are normally laughed at and made light of. For instance, how is sex normally portrayed? It is portrayed as sex either outside of or prior to marriage. How long has it been since you viewed a television program which upheld God's standard for sex as being right only within the bonds of marriage?

Take this and multiply it by the fact that 90% or more American homes have television sets, multiply it also by the fact that the average American watches television six and a half hours daily. The result leads one to say, no wonder we are in trouble morally, no wonder family life is falling apart, no wonder there is an increasing absence of devotion to God.

In Philippians 4:8 the Bible has a verse which is a good guide for your television viewing. Read this verse and apply its directions to your television viewing. The programs you watch and allow your children to watch, do they reflect Truth? Honesty? Fairness? Purity? Things that are lovely? Goodness? Do they portray virtue? Are they programs which you can praise to others? If they are not then most likely you need to stop watching them.

Mark it down. Either you control your television or your television controls you. Romans 14:12 teaches us that one day each one of us is going to be required to give an account of our television viewing unto God. You are responsible for what you watch and listen to. Make sure that it is of such a quality that you can glorify God through it.

What Is An Uninsured Motorist?
I Thought Every State Required
Some Basic Car
Insurance Coverage.

Most states have laws requiring proof of financial responsibility, but not all drivers comply. Uninsured motorist coverage was developed to protect the victim of an accident caused by a driver who has no insurance. It may also cover you if you are the victim of a hit-and-run type of accident. Damage to your car is not insured unless you carry collision insurance.

Baptist Circle Meets

Baptist Women's Night Circle met in the home of Mrs. B.B. Hardee Monday at 7:30 p.m. Earline Sellers called the meeting to order by asking Betsy Aycock to say the opening prayer. Among business discussed was plans to work in the Church's Crisis Closet on March 22, also the monthly offering for the "Feed A Child In India" program was taken. Anna Staats presented the Home Mission Program which coincides with the yearly Annie Armstrong Easter Offering taken in most Southern Baptist Churches. The offering is a mission offering which supports home missionaries and their work. The "Home" refers to the United States of America.

Mrs. Staats stressed that money alone is not enough but there is an overwhelming need for prayer support for our missionaries.

A study reveals that Southern Baptists are basically reaching white middleclass families.

In spite of lack of zeal in many churches, the Home Mission Board personnel, with help, in large cities such as Houston, develop long range planning for churches to keep pace with growth in the cities, stated Mrs. Staats. Refreshments of butterscotch pie, coffee and tea were served to the following attending: Barbara Uselton, Billie Roenfeldt, Earline Sellers, Francis Cooper, Betsy Aycock, Anna Staats and Joy Piland.

Danger Lurks...Prevent Poisoning

GENERAL FIRST AID ACTIONS

THE FOLLOWING FIRST AID ACTIONS APPLY IN MOST CASES OF POISONING AND SHOULD BE TAKEN UNTIL MEDICAL TREATMENT CAN BE OBTAINED. IF POSSIBLE, BEGIN FIRST AID TREATMENT WHILE ANOTHER PERSON CALLS.

- Loosen tight clothing and be sure that airway is clear.
- Remove or rinse out mouth.
- Apply artificial ventilation if breathing has stopped. Keep airway open if unconscious.
- Keep victim warm (cover with blankets) but don't overheat.
- Do not give alcoholic or carbonated beverages or any drugs in any form.

IN ADDITION TO THESE ACTIONS, OTHERS TO BE TAKEN AS DETERMINED BY TYPE OF EMERGENCY APPEAR BELOW

SWALLOWED POISONS

If a petroleum distillate product is swallowed, eg. furniture polish, lighter fluid, kerosene, IMMEDIATELY CALL A POISON CENTER, PHYSICIAN OR THE EMERGENCY ROOM OF A HOSPITAL FOR FIRST AID INSTRUCTIONS.

DO NOT INDUCE VOMITING IF VICTIM:

- is unconscious.
- is having convulsions.
- has pain or burning sensation in mouth or throat.
- has swallowed a corrosive poison (see below).

IF VICTIM CAN SWALLOW AND IF POISON IS AN ACID OR ALKALI CORROSIVE, eg.

- acidic (sulfuric, nitric, hydrochloric, phosphoric) or other irritant (caustic of styptic pencils).
- calcium hypochlorite (chlorine bleach).

OR AN ALKALI CORROSIVE, eg.

- sodium or potassium hydroxide (lye drain cleaner).
- sodium carbonate (washing soda).
- ammonia water.
- sodium perborate (bleaching powder).
- dishwashing machine detergent.

- Give milk or water if victim is conscious, alert and can swallow.
- Suggested dose: 1 to 5 yr.—1 to 2 cups (250-500 ml); 5 yr. & older—2 to 3 cups (500-750 ml).
- Do not use activated charcoal.

IF POISON IS A NONCORROSIVE SUBSTANCE:

- Give water—1 to 2 cups (250-500 ml).
- Physician may tell you to induce vomiting if handy, use 2 tablespoonsful (30 ml) of Syrup of Ipecac. (Ask physician if this is a prescription item in your state.) For children use half adult amount. Follow with at least 1 cup (8 oz or 250 ml) of water.
- If victim does not vomit within 30-60 min., repeat dose. If vomiting still does not occur after repeat dose, bring victim to hospital, emergency department or physician.
- If you do not have Syrup of Ipecac, try inducing vomiting by placing your finger or handle of spoon at back of victim's throat.
- When vomiting begins, have victim stand or sit up and lean forward. This prevents vomitus from entering the lungs.
- Save vomitus and give to physician for examination. Physician may tell you to give activated charcoal (if available) after vomiting ceases.

INHALED POISONS (gas, fumes, smoke, etc.)

- Move victim to fresh air immediately. Cover if in rain or wet weather.

GENERAL FIRST AID ACTIONS

- Stop visible bleeding if possible.
- Save and give to physician whatever caused the poisoning (eg. remaining medicine, plant material, household agent) plus its container and label.

FOR POISONING BY SMOKE, CHEMICAL OR GAS FUMES

- Do not attempt rescue alone. Use "buddy system" and lifeline.
- Stay close to ground or crawl to rescue victim from gas fumes, smoke.
- Do not enter superheated areas unless you are wearing an independent air supply.

EYE INJURY CAUSED BY CHEMICAL AGENT

A DELAY OF ONLY SECONDS MAY GREATLY INCREASE EXTENT OF INJURY.

- Forcibly hold eyelids open and immediately rinse eyes and face with gentle stream of warm running water from face or by pitcher for at least 15 minutes and then take victim to the emergency department of a hospital or ophthalmologist (MD specializing in care of eyes).
- Do not use eye cup.
- Remove contact lenses when present if you know how. Do not gently slide lenses into white of eye using eyelids.
- Do not use eye drops, drugs or ointments. They may increase extent of injury.

BITES AND STINGS (spider, scorpion, snake, marine life, bees)

- Identify source (in snakebite, type of snake or bite).
- Make victim lie down and immobilize limb as soon as possible.
- For snakebite, flush with water and apply a constricting band between bite and heart ONLY when bite occurs on extremity. Band should depress skin only slightly. Pulse in vessels below band should not disappear. Do not band produce throbbing sensation. You should be able to slip your finger under band when in place. DO NOT APPLY ICE OR ICE PACK TO SNAKEBITES.
- For bee stings, remove sting carefully with flicking motion of thumb and finger. DO NOT USE TWEEZERS. Soothing skin ointment may be applied to skin if severe allergic reaction results (ie. difficult breathing or extensive swelling at site of sting). Victim must have medical attention at once.
- Ice or ice packs should be used at sites of all bites except snakebites.
- Transport victim to physician or hospital immediately. Do not let him walk.
- Black widow and brown recluse spider bites require medical treatment. Transport victim to a hospital immediately.

NOTE: Human bites are dangerous. If skin is broken, wash with soap and water and call a physician.

SKIN INJURY (plant poisoning)

- Drench skin with plenty of running water (shower, hose, faucet).
- Immediately cut away contaminated clothing and remove jewelry.
- Wash skin with soap and water to reduce extent of poison absorption and injury. Repeat several times.
- Cover injured area with loosely applied, clean cloth.
- Do not apply ointments, greases (including butter or margarine), powders or drugs to affected area and do not administer drugs of any kind unless recommended by a physician.
- See a physician if blisters appear on skin.

technology provided by research and by results of actual demonstrations is essential for more bountiful harvests.

Areas reported on are: the use of technology in water utilization and management; brush control; range management and crop production.

In his report, Benson states there are 590,000 land acres in Mitchell County. There were 75,420 of those acres planted in cotton in 1979 with 73,000 of those acres harvested.

For the purpose of the report, an estimate of 78,000 bales of cotton were produced on those acres although the actual count has reached 86,935 bales.

A total of 20 demonstrations were set up throughout the country and included a cost of production study, dryland cotton varieties, irrigated and fertilized cotton varieties, dryland grain sorghum variety, Estrous Synchronization in Beef Cattle, Wagon Wheel Grazing System, cotton insect pest management, monitoring boll weevil population and grasshopper control in cotton.

Benson's report indicates moisture conditions were extremely poor in the last three months of 1978. The total rainfall reported in the county for 1978 was 17.07 inches.

Conditions continued dry until May of 1979. Then, 12.46 inches of moisture fell between May and July.

By August, Benson's report shows the rainfall had almost stopped with only 1.88 inches falling in August.

Total 1979 rainfall equaled 20.41 inches. The average annual rainfall in Mitchell County is 19.6 inches.

"The dry, hot fall months of September, October and November were extremely beneficial for cotton maturity and especially for the late planted cotton," Benson noted.

"Cotton module builders and rickers were a life saver for cotton producers in 1979," Benson said.

In cotton demonstrations, tests over a period of several years provide a more reliable basis for variety selection than one or two years of test results, Benson noted.

Cotton variety demonstrations for 1979 were figured at 55 cents per pound.

Dryland cotton demonstration figures for Casco B-2, planted three miles northeast of Colorado City, indicated net returns of $263.20 per acre planted two and two.

An estimated 941 pounds of lint was produced per acre and 82 ton of cottonseed was produced per acre.

Variable costs were estimated at $69.94 per acre and harvest costs were estimated to be $180.44 per acre. Fixed costs were estimated to be $184.14, giving a total cost factor per acre of $364.58.

Other cotton demonstrations grossed returns per acre from $127.60 to $745.25 depending on variety, location, planting date and harvest date.

Dryland grain sorghum variety used for demonstration grossed per acre returns ranging from $48 to $68 depending on variety, location, planting and harvest dates.

A beef cattle demonstration indicated figures using 21 cows to demonstrate estrous synchronization.

Each cow was injected with Prostaglandin and artificially inseminated when they showed signs of heat two to three days after injection.

The cost per head to inject the chemicals was estimated at $5. Five of the cows were injected and inseminated twice. Estimated cost of the semen was $9 per head.

A wagon wheel grazing system demonstration was also reported on, indicating a nine pasture system on 405 acres.

Management practice costs included rootplowing, $26 per acre; chopping and seeding, $10 per acre and seed costs of $10.20 per acre.

Other costs included grass seed, pipeline, storage trough and fencing.

Thirty-two cows and calves were put on the grazing system and rotated every seven days at first and every five days later.

This was done to maintain adequate grass coverage. This nine pasture system allows 60 days rest for a pasture between grazing periods.

Benson reported 1979 as a favorable year for cotton production in West Texas and noted disease problems were exceptionally light.

He expressed the opinion that Verticillium Wilt will appear in crops in 1980 and his office has prepared a list of cotton varieties and their reaction to this disease.

Boll weevils and diapause information is also available in Benson's office along with test results from 1979.

a first degree felony punishable by a term of from five to 99 years in the penitentiary, Mikle noted.

"Besides that," he said, "all the expense of fighting these fires is chargeable to the city. We send out one to three units and 10 to 17 men for every fire. These men have to leave their jobs everytime that whistle blows."

"These arsonists are burning up their own money because the taxpayer has to foot the bill," Mikle said.

Mikle explained at one time the department had tried to determine what type fire was burning before calling in the volunteers. He explained that had proven not to be practical because reports were wrong and the lost time resulted in a greater property loss.

"The police department is assisting in this investigation and when the arsonist is apprehended, he will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law," Mikle stated.

"One time during this period, the department was out fighting a blaze when a second call came in that a hot one was starting at the low water crossing on First Street under the railroad trestle," Mikle recalled.

"The grass and weeds were five feet tall and cinder dry. By the time we arrived the fire was very hot. We had to go around the backside to the low water crossing in order to get to the flames. The fire got so hot we had to keep moving our vehicles back. We fought the fire for an hour and a half before we managed to contain it," Mikle said.

"It looked for a time as though it might spread and cross under the trestle. If it had, it could have taken most of the homes on Front Street with it," Mikle stated.

"I just don't believe these people (arsonists) really understand what they are doing," Mikle reiterated.

Arson is a second degree felony punishable by up to two to 20 years in the penitentiary and, or a fine, not to exceed $10,000. If a personal injury results from an act of arson, it becomes

Woman Reports Assault

Colorado City Assistant Police Chief Jerry Cowin reported a simple assault charge was filed against Johnny Lee Warren, 23, of Colorado City Friday.

A Colorado City woman reportedly was assaulted in the 700 block of Hickory at about 5:30 p.m. Thursday. She contacted police about 7:53.

She reportedly was beaten with fists, scratched and kicked by her assailant.

She was apparently suffering from multiple bruises and scratches at the time of the report.

Police have issued a warrant for Warren's arrest.

County to try and participate this year. It's a lot of fun and it's a nice way to meet others in your community that you never really knew. To me, being involved in the community means meeting and getting to know the people around you—your neighbors.

It really doesn't matter if you don't know much about softball or maybe that you haven't played in quite a while, just look at it as an adventure, an experience that you will remember until next year or the rest of your life.

I've seen quite a few people at the tennis courts lately. It's getting to be that time again. I understand that there are some plans for some more courts to be built.

That will be a nice addition to our town, considering that the interest in tennis seems to be increasing every year among adults. People who have never played in school are buying tennis racquets and taking lessons.

Fire Tip

Keep air filters on your car carburetors clean. This is a good protection to prevent a fire in case your car should backfire.

Accident Victims Are Hospitalized

A near fatal accident, two miles east of Colorado City, resulted in the hospitalization of two persons late Friday evening.

Peter John Becker, 40, of Grand Prairie, and Marynell Blanton, 29, also of Grand Prairie, were traveling west on Interstate 20 when Becker apparently lost control of the 1977 Datsun, hitting the median on the left side of the highway. The car then crossed back over the westbound lane and went off the highway and across the north service road, according to Highway Patrolman Tracy Tipton.

The Datsun rolled several times and came to rest on its side. "Both occupants were trapped in the car for a time," Tipton reported. "The Colorado City Rescue Service was notified and responded immediately. Using the 'Jaws of Life,' they were able to pry the pair out of the vehicle," Tipton said.

"They really did a fine job. The man had deep, multiple lacerations on his head. The woman also had multiple lacerations on her body," he said.

Both victims were rushed to Root Memorial Hospital where it was reported they are in good condition.

Baumann Club Has Meeting

Mrs. Lynne Compton gave the council report. She reported a drive for new members all over District 7 was not being promoted. Each club member all over the United States are asked to give one penny which would be put in the national treasury, hundreds of dollars which will be used for underprivileged in other countries.

Nine members of the club plan to attend the District meeting in Llano on April 3 if a bus is provided for the trip for county members.

Mrs. Willis Cornutt will be the next meeting on April 1.

Refreshments of strawberry shortcake, nuts, candy and cokes were served to Mmes; Pauline Griffin, Vada Preston, Charlie Harris, Cornutt, Bernice Hallmark, Harvey Leach, Compton, L.E. Crutcher, Gladys Payne, Thomas Vest, Mable Givens and Smiley.

Colorado City School District To Consider Improvement Plan

Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees will have a special meeting at 7 p.m. Monday to hear a report on improvements to school facilities.

The board met last Monday with a representative of an engineering and architectural firm and heard that cost estimates on heating and cooling cafeterias at Kelley and Hutchinson Elementary and building four tennis courts at Colorado High would cost in excess of $250,000.

The board asked if the costs could be trimmed down to closer to the amount of funds the school district has available for improvements.

Also, the board will decide on whether or not to let County Entomologist Bill Jany use the gardening plot at Wallace Center for gardening demonstrations this summer.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

My topic is health care—specifically the rising costs of health care services. This is a subject of great concern to Federation members and to people throughout the United States.

America devotes more of its national income to health care than any other industrialized country. In 1979 health care expenditures in the United States approached $200 billion—compared with just $12 billion in 1950. Eighty percent of this amount was spent on personal health care services—as opposed to research and health education.

Is the money well spent? It is difficult to say. After 50 years of steady improvement the country's overall death rate has not changed significantly since the early 1960s. Against this background there is growing concern that the nation is allocating too much of its income to health care services. This concern has led to a variety of suggestions to change the nation's health care delivery system.

Essentially these recommendations fall into three categories:

1. Proposals to increase community planning of health care facilities.

2. Plans to establish some form of national health insurance and

3. Encouraging competition and incentives to save through private sector efforts.

I would like to briefly discuss each of these recommendations.

Many experts feel that better community planning is necessary because there is excess of hospital beds in the United States. The occupancy rate in our hospitals is only 74 percent. This means that each day there are 240,000 empty hospital beds—and it costs from $10,000 to $20,000 per year to maintain an empty bed. Congress has enacted legislation to require regional planning of health care facilities. It is too soon to judge the effectiveness of this legislation.

Proposals to establish national health insurance are basically of two kinds. One group, essentially the Carter plan, would continue and possibly expand Medicare and Medicaid and provide catastrophic coverage for the entire population.

Another group, exemplified by the Kennedy bill, would provide cradle-to-grave coverage to all, regardless of need. It is difficult to estimate the costs of these proposals. One estimate, however, projects increased federal outlays of $18-$24 billion the first year under the Carter plan and $28-$40 billion under the Kennedy proposal.

Nongovernment approaches to reordering America's health care system generally focus on encouraging competition and revising the payment mechanism to make patients, hospitals and doctors more aware of costs. Prepaid health care plans, walk-in surgery and substituting nursing home or home care for hospitalization are examples of measures to increase competition and cut costs.

The General Federation of Women's Club favors the third approach. The Federation believes that the American people should depend on the public sector to provide health care and to administer health insurance plans. A resolution adopted by the membership at the Federation's 1979 convention states, "The General Federation of Women's Clubs opposes any increase of the federal government's role in providing health care for the nation. I concur in this belief."

Cotton Pest Management

'Let's Talk Weevils'

Bill Jany

Do you remember those green cotton bolls that you dumped on your turnrows last fall? Well, they could be mighty important to you this spring! Mandie Armstrong, Bi-county Entomologist and Tom Fuchs, Area Entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, report that a number of live boll weevils were found in "boll piles" just last week.

"If they made it through that last cold snap, I don't know why they wouldn't make it until spring," warned Fuchs. Both agreed that burning boll piles would be the best solution. It's not a very comforting thought that you might be creating your own boll weevil problems right on your own farm.

Remember the 1st annual Post Management Bar-b-que on Tuesday, March 25 at 7 p.m. in the Colorado City Civic Center. Please send in your reservation.
