Farmers Vote Soon

Committeemen

Farmers in Floyd county will receive notices within the next few days about annual elections of community and county committees, G. B. Johnston, chairman of the Floyd Agricultural committee said yesterday.

Each of the county's three farming communities will elect three committeemen and two alternates as well as a delegate to the county convention where a three man county committee will be elected.

Mr. Johnston said that approximately 1400 farmers are eligible to vote in the election this year. Eligible farmers are those who are participating or cooperating in any program developed under any of the Acts of Congress and administered during the current calendar year through the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, including an owner tenant, or sharecropper on a farm on which any of the programs are being carried out. Because of the community property laws in Texas the wife may vote if the husband is eligible whether he be landlord, tenant, or sharecropper.

On announcing the elections, Mr. Johnston urged that all farmers who are entitled to go to the polling places in the community and vote. Since the committeemen are responsible for developing, adapting and administering national farm program to meet local problems and needs, it is important that the men elected really represent the choice of the majority of the farmers in the community.

Favorable Bond Sale Made For Water, Park Program

Floydada City council set some kind of a record Tuesday night of this week when they canvassed and declared the results of Saturday's double election in Floydada and contracted for the sale of the bonds thus authorized all at one sitting.

Floydada citizens who voted in the bond elections Saturday will be interested to know that the city council has let no grass grow under their feet in carrying out the wishes of the public as expressed at the ballot box.

Tuesday night the council in their regular session contracted for the sale of both the Waterworks revenue bonds and the Park improvement bonds, apparently an advantageous sale in both instances. Crummer & company, represented by C. M. Smith, was successful bidder for both sets of bonds. For the waterworks 20-year serial type revenue bonds their offer was:

Par and accrued interest and $165 premium, bonds bearing 2 1/2 per cent which mature the first 10 years; and bonds bearing 2 1/2 per cent which mature in the last 10 years. The last of these to mature in 1966 the city having an option to call bonds after 10 years; and

Par and accrued interest for the general obligation bonds totalling $25,000 for park improvements bearing 3 per cent interest maturing serially for 30 years, with no option.

The vote favoring the water works extensions and improvement issue was 287 for; 19 against.

For the park improvements the vote was 179 for, 124 against. Formality of counting and recording the results was done by the city council Tuesday night.

Crosbyton Chiefs Methodists Add

Oppose 'Winds Six Churches to

Friday Night Plainview Dist.

Floydada Whirlwinds will be seeking their sixth conference win and the scalps of the Crosbyton High School Chiefs when they journey to the Crosby county capital Friday night.

Frankly in pursuit of another District 4-A conference championship, the 'Winds' coach, has his boys working on an offense and defense which he hopes will meet the Crosbyton team's style of wide-open play, and this week was not letting his boys be distracted by consideration of what may happen on Thanksgiving day at Spur. One game at a time has been the slogan of the firm of Gresham, and Baker and their wards.

Although weakened by the loss of two mighty backfield men at the opening of the school year by ineptibility ruling, the Chiefs have shown steady improvement throughout the season. They have lost three conference tries while winning two this season.

Have Passing Threat

The Chiefs have a passing combination, when their ground game begins to bog down, that turns the trick for them in both of their winning forays. Theirs is the finest passing team in the district and the Whirlwinds in their Lockney game were scored on three times in this fashion. Fans who journey to Crosbyton thus are likely to see a wide open game when Crosbyton is on the offense, and learn what the Whirlwinds can do about it.

The game will be played tomorrow night on Crosbyton High field and the game will be called at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Gresham has indicated his regular starters will be ready to undertake their assignments. He has some injuries, most of them minor, and Grigsby, McGuire and Carmack have practically recovered from their leg and foot injuries.

Temperature Drops to 28

A temperature of freezing and below for five hours and a half at Floydada was recorded Monday morning, scorching tender plants and trees rather severely to indicate a steady progress toward a colder period of the year and eventually winter.

Thermometers registered the freezing point at 2:30 Monday morning, a drop to 28 degrees for nearly two hours at 5:30, and continuing at 30 or below until 8 o'clock.

Sunday morning the temperature was registered at the freezing point for nearly two hours.

Geo. Sherrill

Palace Owner

George and Mrs. Sherrill have returned from a sojourn of several months at Paris, Texas, and are now not only full-fledged residents of Floydada again but are in a business venture here.

Returning last week, Mr. Sherrill announced that he had bought the Palace Barber shop, located in the rear of the First National bank from W. H. Hilton, and has already taken charge of the business.

Resident here for several years prior to the outbreak of the war Mr. Sherrill spent three years in the Navy service and following his return and discharge last year, spent several months on a traveling job.

The shop which Mr. Sherrill obtains has been popular for more than a quarter of a century under the management of Mr. Hilton. Mr. Sherrill announced that Mr. Hilton will continue to hold down a chair in the shop, as well as Ben G. Morton, and Jack Burleson also is now with the shop personnel.

Mr. Sherrill will be active in the shop. He is mighty glad to be back his mind made up that Floydada is the place he wants to call home.

Many Witnesses Here for Trial of Bill Queen

A host of witnesses, many of them here to testify to the good character and law-abiding attitude of the defendant, are in Floydada this morning for the trial of Bill Queen, charged by indictment with the murder of C. O. Patton last September 22.

Called up Tuesday morning was a panel of 108 special veniremen from which attorneys were to have chosen a jury to try the Floyd county farmer. This panel was exhausted yesterday morning and 20 of 30 talesmen additional were used before the jury was completed late Wednesday afternoon.

Testimony in the case was due to begin this morning.

C. O. Patton, 31, son-in-law of the defendant, was killed in the afternoon of September 22 in a small pasture adjacent to a field which Queen was plowing about 100 yards distance from Queen's residence six miles east of Floydada. Queen's family, including two married daughters were at the home at the time of the shooting but testimony at the hearing indicated none of them were witnesses to the tragedy. Patton's home was near Matador. He had driven to the Queen place the same afternoon. What ensued preceding the shooting and at the enactment of the tragedy has not been revealed. Reportedly there was no witnesses to the shooting other than the two principals.

Both defendants had been residents of this county for several years. C. O. Patton is a son of the late George Patton and his mother is a resident of Floydada. Patton and his family moved to Houston (See BILL QUEEN, back page)

Majority Given Two Sets Bonds In City Election

Floydada property taxpaying voters Saturday gave a top-heavy vote favoring the city council's proposal to issue $85,000 in revenue bearing bonds of the city waterworks department for betterments and extensions and also gave a substantial majority to the proposal to issue $25,000 in general obligation bonds for park improvements. The latter vote favored the construction of a municipal swimming pool, although that phraseology on the ballot was not possible because of legal technicalities.

The vote favoring the water works extensions and improvement issue was 287 for; 19 against.

For the park improvements the vote was 179 for, 124 against. Formality of counting and recording the results was done by the city council Tuesday night.

Campaign for Pool

There was no organized opposition to the swimming pool idea which was advanced more than a year ago by Mayor Frank C. Harmon in response to urgent appeal from youngsters of the community and parents of youngsters. Active support to the proposal was given by Floydada Lions club which printed and distributed advertising and leaflets urging adoption of the measure for the sake of the young people of the community. Numerous conservatives opposed the idea however, and others opposed it as being offered at an unpropitious time.

Duck Hunters in Floyd 'Jumping the Gun', Game Wardens Hear

The open season for duck hunting in the area which includes Floyd county is from November 23 to January 6, according to the nimir calendar, but some of the enthusiasts are over-anxious. The news that these have been crowding the season has gotten around to the State Game, Fish & Oyster department's men, which in short means the game wardens.

There is liable to be a backfire to this news and we don't mean it will be a shotgun accident. The information is passed on for what it may be worth to anybody interested.

Many lakes of water, and many flights of ducks make the prospect alluring and what does it hurt, but— Anyway when the season opens on November 23 for ducks, geese, coot and brants, the hours for shooting are from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. A day's bag of ducks will be seven and a hunter may have two day's kill in his possession. For geese the day's kill is limited to two and for coot 25, with 1 day's kill permitted in the possession of the hunter.

Sharp Temporary Drop in Products of Farm is Seen

LUBBOCK, Nov.—A sharp but temporary drop in agricultural prices within the next few months is foreseen by Prof. E. L. McBride head of the department of agricultural economics at Texas Technological College.

This temporary break will probably last only about a year, and will be followed by an economic adjustment period when prices will rise again for several years, McBride predicted, to be followed by a real serious economic depression.

The national income has increased about 250 per cent since 1939 he pointed out, while agricultural production has increased only 25 per cent and industrial production has risen about 65 per cent.

However, production cannot get back in line with demand for a long time, the professor said, predicting that six or more years will elapse now before production exceeds demand, causing a serious depression

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

These news items taken from the Floyd County Hesperian published 14 years ago.

With the exception of one, possibly two, resident property owners within the city limits and a few non-resident line holders, the committee working on highway 28 right-of-way yesterday reported to Commissioner's court that their work is rapidly being completed this week.

The exceptions also must be added some four or five unknown owners whose property must be condemned because they cannot be found.

Fire that originated in the seed conveyor during the process of ginning a bale of cotton did only slight damage Monday afternoon at the Texas Cotton Growers gin plant.

Approximately 5,000 turkeys were marketed at Floydada last week and of this number about half brought the raisers 12 cents per pound and about the same number 10 cents per pound.

Thanksgiving services, in which the whole community is invited to join, are announced for Wednesday night of next week at the First Baptist church beginning at 7:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Fannie Patton, 70, of Lakeview, died at the home of her son Roy Patton, in east Floydada Friday evening of last week at 7:30 after a brief illness and interment was made in the Lakeview cemetery beside her recently deceased husband Miles Patton. Funeral services were held at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

With prospects looming on the gridiron horizon for a district crown of Green and White, Floydada High school will stage a determined invasion of the lair of the Littlefield Wildcats Friday in a game that will send a winner into the final Thanksgiving day.

J. M. Willson of this city, head of the Willson & Son Lumber company with yards in half a dozen cities and towns of this area, last week-end was elected as the representative of the Northwest Texas Conference of the M. E. Church, South, on the board of trustees of Southern Methodist university of Dallas.

Not content with setting a new record low mark for the season of 27 degrees at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning of last week Old Man Winter kept teasing the mercury this week until the skids slipped and Wednesday morning a few shivering early risers or late go-to-bedders saw the indicator hovering around the 19 degree mark.

With pretty weather the past two weeks, except for occasional flurries of cold, cotton has been moving to the gins fast in Floyd county, and this morning's figures on the total number of bales turned out by the thirteen plants of the county are above 13,000 bales. Floydada gins turned out 4,183 bales.

Water Problems Study Is Urged Farmer Group

HOUSTON, Nov. 11—Fearing that the efforts of cities on the plains of Texas are leading to a depletion of irrigation water, a group of landowners, farmers and city dwellers here Saturday urged legislation to control the situation.

The resolution also recommends that the legislature and all other interested parties that no legislation be introduced nor passed which will control the drilling and or pumping of irrigation wells until such time as a thorough study can be made to determine . . . facts believed pertinent to the question of the necessity of control by law of drilling and pumping, and type of legislation which should be passed in event it is determined that there is need for such legislation.

IN MEMORY OF H. C. LOVE

A beautiful life has been transplanted
From our Garden of Life today
To bloom in the Garden of Glory
Beckoning us on that way.

Maybe it is wrong and selfish
To want him back again,
Since he's safe at home in Heaven
Where there is no sorrow or pain.

But the cruelty of his going
Has left our hearts desolate and bare
Like a rose, ruthlessly shattered
So was his life so fair.

He, in his youth, was budding
Into a manhood so gentle and fine,
One felt he was truly living
By the Master's plan divine.

Thus knowing what the Master
Would have him do and say,
His life was a wonderful blessing
To all who came his way.

Oh, may we just as sincerely
Seek ever God's will to know,
As we remain awhile longer
To finish our work here below.

Then Death to us will be
Just as it was to him—
A Gateway to the Garden of Glory
Where God's light never grows dim.

E. C. Carter Has Hospitalization Medical Care

E. C. Carter, a Floyd county boy who has made an outstanding record in the period of a few years as an insurance man, plans to spend the next few weeks in Floyd county presenting a hospitalization and medical care plan, which has the endorsement of local hospitals.

Family group policies which are written by his company, the Great American Reserve Insurance company, of Dallas, are being offered in an intensive campaign which Carter is conducting throughout the county. The plan if followed through he declares will be the solution of the family's financial problems in times of stress when sickness or accidents strike.

Carter, who with his family, makes his home at 516 West California street in Floydada, entered the insurance business with some misgivings some years ago, to become one of the most successful salesmen in the area. He has been cited by the Great American Reserve a number of times for outstanding performances in the field. Last summer he and Mrs. Carter were members of a select group who spent several days at Mexico City on a combination outing and group study of sales problems. His company, an old line legal reserve writes health, accident, hospitalization and life policies.

W. E. Garrett made a business trip to Wichita Falls this week.

Reports Slow on Salvation Army Drive

Floyd county citizens are approximately $700 short in their Salvation Army drive for $1200, reports indicated late Wednesday.

The county's quota was $1200 according to Judge W. E. Grimes county chairman. Assisting Mr. Grimes in the drive, which is the first in 25 years, were Tom W. Deen, J. C. Wester, W. Edd Brown and Walter G. Collins as well as teams named for the various communities.

Several communities have not turned in their reports, making final tabulations impossible.

Funds from the drive will be used by the Salvation Army for building rehabilitation, education readjustments and emergency aid to army and navy personnel.

Fall Treatment For Heel Flies In the Spring

COLLEGE STATION.—Although heel flies, the parents of the cattle grub, do most of their damage in the spring, the first treatment against grubs should be given in the early fall, say entomologists of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Loss of weight is the greatest damage that heel flies do to beef cattle. They lose weight by running from the pests or by refusing to feed and standing in water to protect themselves from the flies. The grubs spend seven to eight months tunneling around in an animal's body. From 10 to 15 percent more feed is required to fatten a grubby steer than a healthy animal, and two pounds of choice meat are lost each time a grub-infested steer is slaughtered. Grubs also ruin hides which are valuable for shoe leather and other purposes.

Most farmers and ranchmen produce their own heel flies, because the flies do not fly over a half a mile, the entomologists say. Therefore, a thorough treatment should rid a farm or ranch of the parasites.

In the early fall, when the cattle grubs are mature and ready to fall to the ground, the first treatment should be given. Rotenone is the most effective insecticide against the cattle grub, and it can be applied either as a dust for small herds, or as a spray for large herds. An effective treatment, say the entomologists, consists of spraying the backs of the cattle with a mixture of seven and a half pounds of five percent rotenone for each 100 gallons of water.

MAN - KILLING RATS

Trypanosaurus, largest meat-eating dinosaur, was big and tough enough to kill everything he met. He did, and starved to death. The two toughest heirs of this rugged reptile are Man and Rat. And Man is trifling with atomic suicide.

But Rat isn't simply waiting. He is doing pretty well with his own brand of bacteriological warfare. Already he has killed more men than all the wars in history. In 300 years from the 11th to the 14th centuries, Ratus ratus (the black, ship or English rat) carried the murderous plague virus to 25,000,000 human victims.

The figures on typhus deaths are nearly as high. And U. S. Public Health Service also lists infectious jaundice (Weil's disease), rat bite fever (main victims, babies), trichinosis, rabies, spotted fever, and perhaps polio as other rat-borne diseases.

Attack. Rat has a flourishing offensive afoot now. U. S. P. H. S. warns, Wild (field and water) rodents have raised an army in the West and are invading the East armed with plague. Their horde has reached Kansas.

Federal public health officials are stepping up the slaughter of eastern city rats, trying to kill them before they pick up the infection. In 110 major cities in southeastern states U. S. rat-killers are working.

St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Portland (Me.) are doing the job themselves. But the rats can take it. Litters of six to 10 arrive several times a year. Rat's gestation period is 21 days.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service developed 1009 (sodium fluoracetate), the most effective rat poison yet. Last year they distributed 639,535 pounds of this and other rodent bait (red squill, zinc phosphide, thallium sulfate and ANTU).

Toll. At least $2 billion is the annual global bill for rat damage. In New Orleans, a half-million lbs. of sugar were destroyed in three months; in Kansas City 13,500 lbs. of flour in one mill in one day. In Paris, 10,000 miles of telephone cable insulation were eaten.

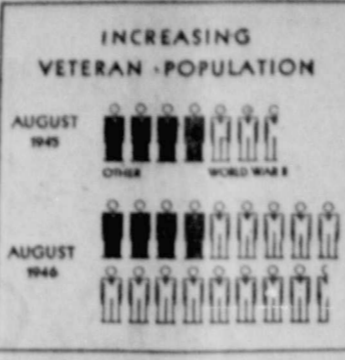

Brightest spot in the Rodent War is Baltimore, where Dr. Curt P. Richter, Johns Hopkins, is using psychological warfare. Although Rattus is smarter than Homo sapiens about poisons (including alcohol!) he has agorophobia (fear of the open). Dr. Richter threw all his wares into exterminating one city block of rats at a time. It worked. Pathfinder Magazine.

YOU'LL SLEEP IN PAPER

Some day people will buy bed sheets, washable towels, bath mats and underwear—all made of paper. They'll be just as pliable and absorbent as fabric ones, and cheaper too, according to Pathfinder News Magazine.

This "wet-strength" paper, as tradesmen call it, is not entirely new. Women have used it in dusting rags, curtains, face cloths, disposable diapers, potato bags and frozen food wrappings.

But that's only a taste. The paper's spectacular success in war service has caused expansive minds to think up more than a hundred possible uses for it.

Each figure in the above Veterans Administration pictograph represents 1,000,000 veterans and illustrates how the load has increased during the one year following V-J Day—from 6,777,000 to 17,452,000.

HOW AMERICANS EARN A LIVING

Freedom to hire, work, produce, buy, sell, make profits, and invest them in business in a free economy controlled by a free price, is the only way this country knows how to earn its living and keep its living standards the highest in the world, according to Professor of Marketing F. A. Harper of Cornell University.

Professor Harper points out that this has been forgotten, or intentionally denied, in favor of alien "control techniques" that are bound to defeat their officially professed purpose because they penalize production, employment and profits.

Controlled prices, he maintains are false indicators that hide the truth about loss of quality, substitutions, black market dealings, subsidies and all the rest.

We know that prosperous business makes a prosperous community—which, in turn, helps to maintain business prosperity. It stands to reason, then that the sooner we get away from government controls, subsidies and orders, and return to competitive free enterprise, the better it will be for us all.

BUSINESS CAN HELP AGRICULTURE

There are four ways in which business men can help maintain good agricultural conditions. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said in a recent address. There are:

(1) Help improve the distribution system by taking part in the new Congressionally sponsored scientific approach to problems of marketing transportation, processing and distribution in order to reduce costs narrow the spread between producer and consumer prices, improve diets and health, and develop new and wider markets.

(2) Help develop demand-booster programs along the lines of the new National School Lunch Act for use in the "inevitable periods when demand begins to slump off."

(3) Give to agriculture understanding and support in working out ways to adjust production from the wartime to the peacetime pattern without attempting to reduce total output, which is now much greater than prewar. Further development of the price support systems to help make necessary production adjustments is a "definite need."

(4) Do everything "humanly possible" to maintain full employment and fair wages.

SHORT CUT TO UNDERTAKER

Nearly 40 years ago doctors found a way to produce a small, controllable fever at selected points inside patients' bodies. Painlessly they could summon a blood congestion to carry off poisons, soothe irritated nerves and muscles.

It was diathermy, a mild, high-frequency electric current. It oscillated rapidly enough not to short-circuit nerves or produce "shock" sensations.

Two-Bit Therapy? This "electric massage" was useful—applied with care. But when a New York firm last week announced a 25c self-service, coin-operated diathermy machine, it begot no pleasant glow among medics.

Their feelings were phrased by the elderly, semi-retired expert to whom Washington officials take their electro-therapy problems: "It's a good way to cook your brains," he snorted. "A short cut to the undertaker."

COMPETITION SETS PRICES

"The prices of petroleum products have always depended upon the cost of production and the ceaseless competition between oil companies.

"The past performance of the American petroleum industry is raising the price of its products is the best assurance the public can have that those services will continue.

Prices of gasoline and oil products have always been determined by costs, by free competition among hundreds of the active and efficient oil companies. The oil industry believes that more production, more efficient distribution, and better products held the key to American prosperity.

"This basic fact is not changed by the ending of OPA. Prices of petroleum products, whether gasoline, motor oils or the multitude of fine products manufactured by the industry, will not be changed because of the ending of OPA.

Under normal conditions costs vary and prices vary with costs. If we all work together, in due course not only can product prices be held but in many cases they can be reduced as full production and efficient operation are achieved by the effective cooperation of companies employees and the public."

That statement comes from William R. Boyd, Jr., president of the American Petroleum Institute. It should be an effective answer not only to OPA bureaucrats who predict dire results if they do not continue in control of this nation's

Shortage of Men Cuts Chances of Girls' Marriages

With a shortage of 1,000,000 marriageable males in the United States between six and eight million American girls will have to go through life without a husband, according to the latest martial statistics.

Reduced to the figure that really means a lot to the average American girl, one girl in every seven will have to live alone whether she likes it or not, according to an article in Good Housekeeping magazine.

But there is a happy solution for girls with the martial urge who don't mind a spot of travel. All they have to do is take the advice which Horace Greeley gave young men some years ago and go west. Tops in the happy hunting ground for husbands is Alaska where it would be awfully difficult for a girl to miss catching a husband as there are 45 men to every girl.

Next most lush spots are Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho, California, Arizona, Montana, Washington and Oregon.

Rhode Island is the toughest state in the country for husband hunting with Massachusetts, North Carolina, South Carolina and in fact, most of Dixie close behind.

Cities which afford the best prospects for getting a husband are Gary, Ind., Detroit, Mich., or San Francisco.

Undermanned and stocked with pulchritudinous feminine competition are Richmond, Va., Atlanta, Ga. and Nashville, Tenn.

Statistics show that marrying between 30 and 34 offers the best chance for happiness. Second best is between 24 and 29. Chances are slimmest when the girl is under 24.

After marriage the chances are one in six that you'll be divorced and the most perilous years are the third fourth and fifth.

Incidentally the chances of eventual divorce are higher if you make your home in Chicago, Los Angeles or San Francisco, for instance, it's only three to one you'll stay married and in Los Angeles and San Francisco only slightly better.

A REBEL GOES NORTH

Sidney Lanier unveiled a new bronze bust in New York University the other day, marking the inclusion of his noted grandfather—that gentle, manly Confederate poet of the same name—as 77th member in the Hall of Fame.

The Georgia-born writer learned to play musical instruments almost as soon as he could toddle. But he hesitated to make music a career. So he became a college tutor just before the Civil War.

Spark of Life. Army life and prison left him with tuberculosis which killed him at 39. "Pretty much the whole of life has been merely not dying," he once said of the poverty-stricken years after 1865 when he clerked, taught and helped in his father's law office to make a living for his family of five. (Ironically, his grandson and namesake is vice president of J. P. Morgan Co. world bankers.)

But Lanier had the spunk to turn from being "a third-rate lawyer" to poetry, writing, among others, his famous poem, "The Song of the Chattahoochee." The immortal spirit of artists like this, said a speaker at the Hall of Fame dedication, is "the light we call America."

economy, but to those rearsome souls who have lost sight of the fact that our high standard of living is the direct result of the American system of free competition.

Germany Afraid United States Will Pull Out

Germany is mortally afraid that the United States will pull out of Europe and leave the country at the mercy of Russia. This is the opinion of the German people, according to an article in the New York Times.

Germany beyond the widest night-mare of 1918 and 1945 would be left to follow such an American withdrawal and the country would be under the direct influence of the United States. The article in the Times, according to an article in the New York Times, is that it is only the Germans who are afraid of the withdrawal of the United States, but also our victorious occupation forces, who see at first hand the dangers inherent in such a possibility.

They are both afraid the people of the United States, who twice in the last century have invested in Europe a vast amount of blood and money to buy peace and stability for themselves and the world, may once again be tempted to abandon their investment in all that it cost," the article says in part.

The leaders of the American people in Germany are afraid that they and indifference back home will make impossible the job handed them after V-E Day; to punish, then re-educate, and finally re-habilitate the German people to self-governing democracy.

A large part of the economic, political and moral confusion which grips Central Europe today is the result of this common fear, according to the article.

Despite the current bleakness of his existence the average German perceives at least a ray of hope for eventual betterment of his status if the United States holds to a steadfast policy in Central Europe but sees nothing but worsening of his status in prospect if the United States abdicates.

"He isn't alone in his confusion," the article states. "There perhaps is not a single person in all Europe who can assess with certainty the status of the American investment in Europe today, let alone predict its future. You can reach some conclusions, but just as many times you will fall victim to the same bewilderment that begets the soldier and the civilian."

FOOTBALL SLAVE MARKET

Alumni have a way of perishing their college faculties—especially in things athletic. But not at American U. in Washington, D. C. They failed to convince President Paul P. Douglass and American's board of trustees that football—dropped in 1941—should be restored in 1946. Instead, Douglass reiterated his 1941 stand, promised to use the $50,000 a football team would cost to expand the art and music schools.

College football, explained Douglass, is no more than a black market of rank professionalism.

Said: "A human slave market," he said, "extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Canada to Alabama. Day by day the young men come to the auction block for sale to the highest bidder. The bidding is bitter, determined, violent and unscrupulous.

"The country is ridden by scouts directed by coaches, who receive salaries higher than university presidents. Their purposes are wholly unrelated to educational ideals."

Few American U. students were surprised at the decision. More alumni were disappointed. —Ex.

Republicans Poll Forty-Five Votes in Floyd County

Canvas of the results of the general election last week by the Commissioners court on Monday gave complete official figures confirming the unofficial report of The Hesperian last Thursday that:

Republicans mustered only a handful of votes in the county; the ratio of Democrats to Republicans being 16 to 1, with a final total of 700 cast for Tom Connally and 45 for Sells in the senatorial race. Jester's majority over Nolte was even more pronounced—716 to 30 and Temple made even a poorer showing against George Mahon for congressman of the 19th district.

ReAllocation Majority Big

In the tax re-allocation vote final figures made official by the canvas of the court were 579 for and 104 against. The court had asked taxpayers of the county to make this change in the interest of economy in the face of fast-increasing costs of local government.

Figures in the re-allocation vote by precinct as officially declared by the court were as follows:

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world... getting a new house or car... wearing fancy clothes... or dining on cold pheasant and champagne...?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk—that's worth a fortune, after all!

Whirlwinds-Bull Dogs Still Tied For League Lead

Floydada's Whirlwinds and the Spur Bulldogs continue in a first place deadlock in District 4-A grid standings this week after the Whirlwind 40-0 romp over the Matador Bullfighters Friday night.

But this coming Friday night both get a real test. The Whirlwinds will take on the Crosbyton Chiefs at Crosbyton and the Bull Dogs will just with the Paducah Dragons Spur last Friday night went outside of the conference and lost a game to the Munday 11-A district champions.

Carmack Sparks Winds

In addition to calling a game indicative of good generalship, Glenn Carmack, the "Winds" right half back, did much of the ball carrying and scoring for the team over the Matadors. He passed for the first touchdown to Bill Womack right end, and then carried one over on a five-yard plunge for the second. Bruce Womack converted both of these to make the score 14 to 0, where it remained until the end of the third.

Floydada got its second break toward pay dirt in a high scoring fourth quarter when Amburn intercepted a Matador pass. Kelly Hagood ran around left end 20 yards for a touchdown, followed shortly by a pass, Hale to Bill Womack (and a 30-yard run by the latter). Carmack made the last two scores, both on plays through tackle. Bruce Womack kicked for extra point on two of the four fourth quarter touchdowns, making his total for the evening four out of a possible six.

Praises a Sterling Line

Coach Gresham gives credit to Assistant Coach Baker and a sterling line for the fact that the backfield of the "Winds" got a chance to execute their plays in such excellent fashion against the alert Matadors. He still has the squad working hard on line work as well as timing.

Rails, winner of its first conference tilt last week, goes against last place Petersburg, and Lockney tackles the Matador Bullfighters at Matador to round out the league schedule.

FORESEEN NEED FOR EXTRA PROTECTION IN NEW ERA

WANTED — Two-car, burglar-proof garage with living quarters above equipped with machine gun turret. In connection will want bomb-proof, feather-proof chicken coop.—The Republicans are coming back.

The "Gimme" boys have been feathering their nests for 12 years and will probably want to continue to do so. Some of them have succeeded in getting new cars and the rest will no doubt want one.

Am rather skeptical regarding the Two-car, Two-chicken proposition

A discussion of the problems faced by the District in getting soil conservation on the land was held along with the discussion of what the District has achieved to date.

Mr. Mahon did not make a formal speech but did commend the District on its progress to date.

R. G. Dunlap was elected to serve as board chairman during the coming year. Other officers elected were W. F. Ferguson, vice-chairman; John Belt, secretary; and W. H. Nelson, treasurer.

Mr. Dunlap was also elected as delegate to the state convention of supervisors of Soil Conservation districts, which will be held in Austin in early December. All the local supervisors indicated they plan to attend.

W. D. Nance, a District cooperator who lives in the Lone Star Conservation group has up to a stand 20 acres of hairy vetch which he recently planted. The planting was made to provide a cover and soil builder on a piece of land that slopes into a lake.

Chester Mitchell, a District cooperator who lives in the Pleasant Valley Conservation group has contour-chiseled 40 acres of native grass land. Chisel furrows were made on 38-inch spacings. The purpose of the chiseling, according to Mr. Mitchell, is to hold more rainfall on the slope instead of letting it run into the lake, thus permitting a good cover of grass to again become established.

H. A. Tardy, a District Cooperator who lives in the McCoy Conservation group, recently planted four acres of a mixture of grasses and legumes for pasture. He says his stand is doubtful since one of the recent rains packed the ground making it hard for the small plants to get through.
