Trio Is Captured After Jail Break

Hillsboro Prisoners Overpower Officers But Are Caught In Less Than An Hour

(By The Associated Press)

HILLSBORO, March 23.—Three men who escaped from jail here after overpowering two officers were behind the bars tonight after less than an hour of liberty.

Raymond Hamilton, tried last week for the slaying of John Bucher, and David Cates and J. B. Stephens, held in connection with robbery of a bank at Covington, Tex., surrendered without resistance when three deputy sheriffs overtook them 12 miles northwest of Hillsboro between Peoria and Bethel on the road to Blum. Kelly Rush, one of the officers, shot the tires off the fugitives' car and the trio was forced to stop.

The prisoners sawed their way out of their cells late in the day and as Quill Pierce and Jim Hawkins, deputy sheriffs, went to the jail to lock up a negro, forced them to turn over keys to an outer door and fled. They obtained a rifle and a shotgun in the jail run-around.

They ran across the street to a filling station, forced O. G. Freeman and Mrs. J. K. Hare from an automobile at the point of a gun and drove away to the northwest at a rapid speed. Mrs. Hare had just had the automobile drained and refilled with oil. The gasoline tank was full.

Hamilton was held in the jail Monday after the jury which had

Beer For Capital Draws Favor Of House After A Session Of Hot Debates

Texas Beer Bill Being Rewritten

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 23. — Texas' beer bill, a proposal to legalize sale of beverages containing no more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol, is being rewritten.

Representatives John M. Mathis of Houston and P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, its sponsors, said it would be made to conform to the law just enacted by congress and signed by the president.

They said it would be ready for committee action by next Monday night. Until the state prohibition laws are amended it will be unlawful to sell the 3.2 per cent beer authorized by congress.

New Beverages Will Be Legal April 7 At 12:01 A. M.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23— Beer for the nation's capital was approved today by the house to end a day's fervid discussion of whether that would mean the appearance of drunken members on the floors of congress.

No sooner had the house passed, 180 to 83, and sent to the senate the bill permitting the sale of "beer, lager beer, ale, porter and other brewed or fermented beverages" containing 3.2 per cent alcohol than Speaker Rainey told newspapermen:

Rainey Gives Opinion

"Since we are proceeding on the theory that 3.2 per cent beer is not intoxicating, I see no reason why we should forbid its sale in the house restaurant."

The bill, hailed in debate as a "model" for state legislatures, carries a provision prohibiting the sale of the new beverages to any person under 18 years old. It assesses $1,000 annual licenses fees against brewers, $100 annual fees against retailers who sell the drinks to be consumed on the premises and $50 annual fees on those whose goods cannot be drunk on the premises.

May Be Sold April 7

It says the new beverages can be sold in the District of Columbia on April 7. Just about the time this bill was passing the house, Attorney General Cummings ruled the national beer-wine act signed yesterday by President Roosevelt becomes effective at 12:01 a. m. April 7.

This means, he said, 12:01 a. m. local time. Previously, Dr. James Doran, industrial alcohol commissioner, had said the beer could be sold at 12:01, eastern standard time

Father Pleads For Ruth Judd

Justice Tempered With Mercy Asked By Aged Man; Three Things To Be Weighed Are Explained To Board

(By The Associated Press)

PHOENIX, March 23—A plea for "justice tempered with mercy" was made by the Rev. H. J. McKinnell today as the final witness for his daughter, Winnie Ruth Judd, who seeks to escape the gallows in the Phoenix "trunk murder" case.

The aged father, in a quavering voice, made a brief statement before the Arizona board of pardons and paroles. Mrs. Judd's fate rests with the board.

Sentenced To Hang

Mrs. Judd is under sentence to be hanged April 14 for the murder of Mrs. Agnes Anne LeRoi. In her story to the board she said she killed both Mrs. LeRoi and Hedvig Samuelson, in defense of her own life the night of Oct. 16, 1931, in a fight in the kitchen of the women's duplex apartment here.

"I had decided not to say anything here," her silver-haired father said, "but on advice of friends, I have decided to say a few words."

Three Things Up

"I do not want to appear as courting personal sympathy."

"There are three things only to be weighed," he said. "Did Ruth Judd kill Anne LeRoi—which is admitted. Was it premeditated or in a fight; if in a fight is punishment deserved and what should the punishment be?"

Wells In East Texas Area To Be Shut Down

Turbulent Field Again Will Halt Activities Under An Order Issued Thursday By Proration Agency

Three Commissioners And Attorney General Allred Are Ordered To Appear In Court At Sherman April 8

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 23—The turbulent East Texas oil field tonight faced another complete shutdown next Monday, as the federal courts and the Texas railroad commission, oil administration agency, reached a "showdown" test of authority.

Repeatedly, proration orders of the commission regulating production in the field, one of the heaviest oil bearing areas in the world, have been struck down by federal court injunctions. Late today, Federal Judge Randolph Bryant, sitting at Beaumont, issued a citation ordering the three members of the railroad commission to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt.

Four Are Named

The order commanded the three commissioners, Lon A. Smith, C. V. Terrell and Ernest O. Thompson, and Attorney General James V. Allred, to give proof before him at Sherman, April 8, as to why they should not be punished for "attempting to evade the orders and decrees of this court by making and putting into effect orders different in form but not in substance" from those recently enjointed by a recent three-judge federal court decision.

The commission issued an order here late today to close the approximately 10,000 wells in the field at 9 a. m. next Monday, the shutdown to be for an indefinite period.

Flow For Two Hours

At the same time, the commission authorized the wells to flow at maximum capacity through tubing for two hours, from 7 a. m. until 9 a. m. next Monday, for the purposes of a test, after which they would remain

Election For Repeal Of Pro Law Is Asked

Anti-Prohibitionists Of Texas Appear Before Senate Group To Ask For Early Action On Repeal Of Law

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 23—Anti-prohibitionists appeared before the senate state affairs committee tonight to ask for a state election this year on the question of ratification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The house had passed a bill by overwhelming vote to provide that delegates to a convention to consider ratification would not be selected until the general election of 1934.

Invasion Of Rights

John Henry Kirby and Mrs. W. P. Hobby of Houston were among those appearing in opposition to the date fixed in the house bill.

Kirby said the eighteenth amendment was an "unwarranted invasion of the rights of states" and should be repealed as quickly as possible.

Mrs. Hobby suggested the election be held in November of this year.

Shows Tenor Of Party

"The promptness of the president and congress in submitting repeal and passing the beer bill shows the tenor of the Democratic party on this subject," Mrs. Hobby said.

She recommended the house bill be amended to permit representatives of both the wet and dry factions to watch the counting of votes in the election. She said anti-prohibitionists were interested in a "fair election."

H. L. Darwin of Paris, a prohibitionist, said drys were willing to "go to bat" this year. He and other speakers said, however, that the election would cost a considerable amount of money and that many persons had not paid their poll taxes this year.

Bill Offered By Arthur Duggan Of Littlefield Is Passed; Salary Reductions To Start On June 1

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 23—The Texas legislature today finally approved a reduction of 31 per cent in the expenses of the judiciary. An appropriations bill which represented a compromise between the senate and the house was made ready for the governor's signature.

The proposal was accepted first by the house, then approved by the senate after that body had tabled a motion to postpone action until Monday. It would appropriate $3,912,675 for support of the judiciary for the biennium beginning next September 1. The appropriation for the current biennium aggregated $5,699,515.

Deepest Percentage Cut

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston told the senate this was the deepest percentage cut in cost of government ever made by a Texas legislature. The bill would reduce salaries of judges from 20 to more than 25 per cent. District judges would be paid $4,000 annually, judges of the courts of civil appeals $5,100, judges of the commissions of appeals to the high courts $5,500, and judges of the supreme court and court of criminal appeals $6,000.

It was the first of the four major money bills to be acted upon finally. The house had passed the eleemosynary bill and the senate had set it for special order next Monday. The house was at work on the departmental appropriations bill. Reductions similar to those in the ju-

Final Action On Bank Bill

Reserve System Funds Are To Be Opened To State Banks Not Members; Regulations Are Outlined

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 23—Congress today completed action on a bill to extend the emergency banking act's lending privileges conditionally to state banks outside the federal reserve system and then recessed until Monday to await formulation of other proposals.

After another day of debate, marked by a warning from Senator Glass (D. Va.) that to open the reserve system funds to non-members without the same restrictions required of member banks would hasten the "wreckage" of unsound institutions, the senate passed the house-approved bank bill with some amendments.

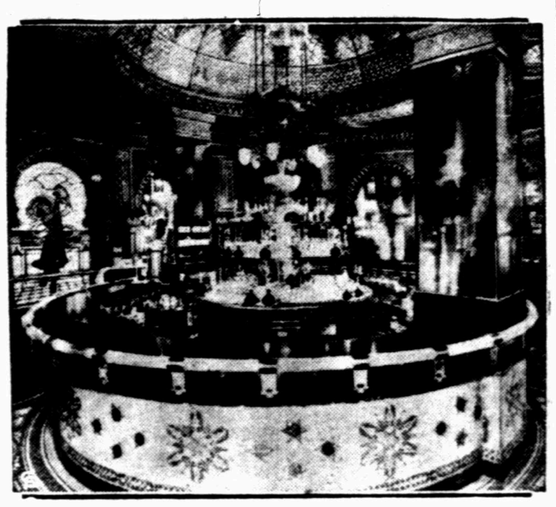

House Concurs

Less than half an hour later, the house, which had been in recess waiting for the senate to act, concurred in the amendment. Both Speaker Rainey and Vice President Garner were authorized to sign the bill during the recess so President Roosevelt might affix his signature before reconvening of congress next week.

Under the bill, state banks and trust companies not members of the

Lip Sticks, Coats And Face Powder Blamed By Doctors For Eczema Ills

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 23—Lip sticks, fur coats and face powder are among the most common causes of eczema, Dr. Joseph Jordan Eller, New York dermatologist and son-in-law of General Plutarco Elias Calles, former Mexican president, told delegates to the fourth Pan-American Medical association congress, in session here, today.

"Dermatologists are leaning more and more to the theory that skin diseases are caused from external irritation of some kind, rather than from internal trouble," he said.

"Face powder, rouge, fur collars and certain kinds of growing plants cause irritation of the skin in many instances. This does not mean, however, that the same face powder will affect every skin the same way. Often a skin will become sensitive to a face lotion that has been used by the patient for twenty years previously, without harmful effects.

"There was a noted case of rash on a man's face, reported in Houston. Doctors there were mystified for a long time as to the cause. It finally was discovered that the irritant was his wife's lipstick."

Ten Thousand Jews March In Gotham To Ask For Boycott Of German Goods

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 23.—Ten thousand Jews marched to city hall today to the mournful chant of "El Molai Rachem," dirge for the dead, to protest alleged persecutions in Germany and to call for a boycott of German goods.

The Torah, sacred scroll of the Jews, was carried in its silver case, and the dean of the city's cantors chanted.

Meanwhile, in Berlin, the German government issued a statement which warned that any boycott would affect the United States more adversely than Germany and asked how, if a boycott "agitated by certain American circles" were carried out, "is the question of private debts to be regulated properly?"

As the orderly protest procession entered the New York city hall park shortly after noon, Mayor John P. O'Brien, who previously had said he would not see the marchers changed his mind, reviewed the parade and received a delegation.

They presented a resolution calling upon all New Yorkers to "make common cause with us in a mighty wave of protest to

TROUSERED WOMEN

CONCERNING mannish clothes for women. The opinion of Mae West, who plays the part of "tough" women on stage and screen is interesting, since her beliefs are contrary to what one might expect.

The modern tendency of women to copy the man pattern in styles of clothes is a subject for ridicule, she believes, and she thinks the consequences are apt to be grotesque. "Woman has a very definite identity," Miss West adds. "Why submerge it into an imitative male form, so unbecoming and destructive and detrimental to her own being?"

STATING A POLICY

MISS WEST, by the way, is a director of the Society for the Advancement of Feminism, Inc. There was a day, you know, when women were all agog to ape the men in everything. Pretty soon, if we don't watch out, the women will have gained everything and then the sentiment will be for more clinging vines, more ruffles and more alluring coiffures.

That's just a prediction. And since this columnist is no prophet who is willing to die for her convictions, the policy of promoting the present trend will be followed. This daily harangue will plead for more rights until the table turns and then it will plead for fewer rights. It's easier to follow the changes than cause them.

THE HOMELESS WOMAN

SINCE times grew hard and jobs became scarce several months ago, we have heard a great deal about the wandering men and boys—men who have become tramps forever looking for work or simply aimlessly wandering from one part of the country to another.

Now we are beginning to hear of the women wanderers since many of the leading welfare associations are becoming alarmed at the number of these transients. Out of the estimated 1,200,000 homeless and transient in the nation, approximately 145,000 are women, the Young Women's Christian association reports, and in this group are women with college backgrounds with technical training, with business experience—women who are not ordinarily the class to become tramps.

Most of us who have retained jobs or have had the ordinary comforts have been a bit bland in accepting these wanderers who have called at backdoors for a bite of food. We have offered advice on staying at home where relief is most likely to be proffered. It has been a situation which we have tolerated without knowing a remedy. Now that it has been revealed that there are so many women who have literally become tramps it seems that women's organizations might put on a program to prevent such recurrence in another time of stress.

These 145,000 roving women and girls should not be forgotten when better times come again.

Cattle Trade Leads Sheep

Kansas Cattlemen, Are Now In West Texas Seeking Cattle And Grass Contracts; Many Sales Reported.

SAN ANGELO, March 23 (AP) — Trading in cattle continues to run ahead of sheep over West Texas with prices firm.

Kansas cattlemen are in West Texas now seeking cattle and grass contracts. Jim Cage of San Antonio is reported to have contracted several thousand head of steers in Kansas. He takes from 7,000 to 10,000 head annually to that state James Brooks and Curtis Norman are loading 300 steers from Balmorhea to Kansas.

The Fayette Mayes mixed calves of Reagan county went to John L. Hill of Amarillo at prices of 5 cents for steer calves and 4 cents for heifers.

Calves are arriving over West Texas. The calf crop begins to be born in February with the heaviest arrivals in March, and April.

Out-of-state sheep buyers are remaining in San Angelo, but trading continues at a low ebb. Some ranchmen have listed choice mutton lambs out of the wool at 3 3-4 to 4 cents a pound, but no deals have been reported at this figure.

The Spreen ranch of Ballinger has shorn 1,300 mutton lambs and is holding them for sale.

Movies Select Actor For His Brains Rather Than His Handsome Features

Dr. Metfessel giving Baby Leroy the most difficult of the psychology tests —to reach around a plate glass barrier for an object.

BABY LEROY WEINBRENER

BY ANDREW BOONE
Central Press Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD.— There is something new under the movie sunarcs, after all.

An actor has been selected on the basis of intelligence rather than handsome features.

True, he's only eight months old and couldn't be expected to be an Adonis—except in his mother's eyes—yet he has achieved a starring role.

Psychologist Picks Him

No less a person than Dr. Milton Metfessel, chairman of the department of psychology at the University of Southern California, picked Baby LeRoy Weinbrener from among a thousand tiny applicants for the part.

Three building blocks, the delight of any baby; a square piece of plate glass; an ordinary bell that rings, and a mirror, were the props. Yet they told a scientific story of the child's superior intelligence which, coupled with natural good looks won him a "contract."

Dr. Metfessel built up a tower of blocks as little LeRoy looked on—then the babe tore down the tower. Dr. Metfessel handed the child a bell and he soon was clapping it; the scientist gave him a square of plate glass, beyond which was the bell. The child found it necessary to reach around the glass for the desired object. Finally, in the mirror, the child recognized himself and talked volumes to the image.

Advanced Intellect

All of which proved he had achieved at that tender age an intellect of 14 months.

Scientifically, Dr. Metfessel—the youngest person listed in "Who's Who in America"—determined that LeRoy is superior in social development, motor control, idiational reactions and in manipulation of objects.

Which, in lay terms, means that of all the cute babies considered LeRoy is the cutest.

Gabby Street Worried About Infield; Westerners Enter Amarillo Meet

Cards Lacking Only In Smart Infield Stars

Rogers Hornsby May Help To Ease Pain; Battery And Outfit All That Even "Old Sarge" Would Want

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Grizzled Old Gabby Street must have heard somewhere of the legendary warning — never carry all your eggs in one basket. So it's no choice of his, or the St. Louis Cardinals either, that this spring the old sergeant is lugging around all the Red Bird hopes for another National League pennant in one container — an infield basket.

Gabby Street

Just one bit of harsh or unlucky joggling and the old sergeant troubled as he is will have a humpty dumpty problem on his hands. A fine run of luck, a safe passage, and Gabby is directly in line again for No. 5 in the string of pennants the Cardinals have won in recent years.

Everything But An Infield

Blessed with a great young pitching staff, plenty of outfielders who can hit and go get 'em, catchers of the best and reserves growing steadily all over the finest farm system in baseball, Gabby still faces the toughest problem of any team in spring training—that of satisfactorily filling three out of the four places in his infield.

Gambling absolutely, Gabby will start Rogers Hornsby, now in his 38th year and back to the scenes of his greatest batting triumphs at second base in an experiment that just might click and provide the sensation of the 1933 season.

Rogers Hornsby

Just nine years ago, Hornsby hit .424 to set a modern major League batting record. Two years later he managed the Cardinals into the world championship. Then he went to New York, then Boston, then Chicago. His playing days drifting farther and farther behind as he managed the latter two clubs.

Now he weighs about 185 pounds again after a winter and spring of rigorous training. He has slowed afoot, but he still can hit.

To replace Charley Gelbert at shortstop there is a choice between Gordon Slade, understudy for Glenn Wright last year in the Brooklyn infield, and Charley Wilson, once turned back as not of major league caliber by the Boston Braves, either or both may now be ready. So far Gabby can only hope.

Frisch Hangs Off

Holding out, not too pleased anyway with a shift from second to third, Frankie Frisch has missed most of spring practice already. If he should spring a muscle later, there is only "Sparky" Adams with a tricky knee, to fall back on.

Dizzy Dean

Once past the bogie men that haunt the infield problem, the Cardinal prospects leap straight upward. In Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, Paul Derringer and "Tex" Carleton the Cards boast three of the best young right handers in the league. There is no left handed trio in the circuit to match Bill Walker, Bill Hallahan and Jim Mooney. Jesse Haines, right handed veteran, adds the balance of age. If Dizzy Vance is not traded, little more could be asked in the way of eight hurlers.

Jimmy Wilson is the No. 1 catcher with Bob O'Farrell, once manager of the club, still capable of plenty of assistance.

Jimmy Wilson

Similarly the outfield fills every requirement with George Watkins in right field, a .350 hitter from the Texas League, Joe Medwick in left, and either Ernest Orsatti or Pepper Martin, too good a ball player not to return eventually to his 1931 form, in center field.

Frank C. Dailey, Indianapolis lawyer, once lost his fraternity pin in a practice scrimmage on the Indiana football field and recovered the pin from the same field 25 years later.

FRISCH SIGNS CONTRACT

GALVESTON BUCS WEARY

GALVESTON, March 23. (AP)—A three hour practice session left the Galveston Buccaneers limp and weary today. Tomorrow the regulars and Yannigans play a seven-inning practice game.

INDIANS START TODAY

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 23. (AP)—Oklahoma City hurlers were thankful today when the long batting practice was over and thankful they won't have to pitch to "Sock" Johnson and "Red" Harvel during the regular season.

Johnson and Harvel in their second day out, slammed the ball all over and out of the lot.

The only three players not out, Theiler, Moore, and Holley, infielders, are expected to report tomorrow the first day of official spring training.

BUFFS GET HARD DRILL

HOUSTON, March 23. (AP)—Manager Carey Selph gave his Houston Buffs a two-hour batting drill today in preparation for the two-game series with the Detroit Tigers over the week-end.

Ralph Judd, righthander, is to join the Buffs tomorrow. When he checks in the roster will be complete.

STEERS MAKE IT TWO IN ROW

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—The Dallas Steers made it two straight over Southern Methodist university's baseball club today by defeating the Collegians 7 to 6. The Mustangs showed vast improvement over their performance of yesterday, when they fell before the Texas League team, 22 to 1.

Bob Tarleton, business manager of the Steers still was without the services of two veterans, Outfielder Rip Radcliff and First Baseman Zeke Bonura, who are holdouts. Tarleton has given Radcliff until Sunday to report, or face a year's suspension from organized baseball.

It was learned Tarleton is dickering for another first sacker in order to have an experienced player on hand in case Bonura fails to put in an appearance soon. Reports had it Tarleton was trying to line up a deal with the New Orleans Pelicans for the services of Guy Sturdy, big left hander who was with Houston in 1931.

Fast Cattle Buying Is Seen As Topeka Man Gets Going

SAN ANGELO, March 23 (AP)—J. W. Greenleaf, cowman of Topeka, Kansas, recently did some of the fastest buying the West Texas cattle country has ever seen. He arrived in Marfa in an airplane from Topeka at 2 o'clock on a Saturday afternoon and by 2 o'clock Monday afternoon had bought 3,000 steer calves for fall delivery. It was the first bunch of calves contracted for fall delivery this year, and many of those he bought have not been born.

Greenleaf got all the steer calves from the herds of Luke Brite, who operates a 123,000 acre ranch; all the steer calves from Lee Fischer's, Wirt Love's and Buck Clelland's ranches.

Nello Pacetti, blocking back, played 331 out of a possible 360 minutes of conference football competition with Wisconsin, but finished three years in the Badger backfield without scoring a point!

Cawthon Takes Tech Fighters To Tournament

Six Matador Boxers To Enter Tournament Sponsored By National A. A. U. Today At New Mexico Military Gym

BY ED McKEEVER
Tech Sports Correspondent

Coach P. W. Cawthon and five members of the Tech boxing team left yesterday at noon for Roswell, New Mexico, to participate in the New Mexico Military Institute boxing tournament, sponsored by the A. A. U., which will be held today and tomorrow. The tournament will be Tech's first major test in national competition.

Seven schools will be represented: Texas Tech, New Mexico Military Institute, University of New Mexico, New Mexico A. and M., Arizona State, Amarillo College and Texas School of Mines. The boxers making the trip were: Harry Guthrie, heavyweight, undefeated in all his fights this year; Gil Cartier, will box in the light heavy weight division instead of the middleweight. Cartier was the clever boxer who Julie Chiaramonte, champion of the Institute, had such a struggle to cope with, when the Institute met Tech here the 4th of this month; George Lancaster, hard slugging welterweight; Morris Alford, fast and clever lightweight, and Grady Box an experienced featherweight, concludes the list.

The tournament is limited to boxing only, thus depriving the best wrestling team in Tech history from competing.

England's Big Race Is Today

Betting Odds Switch To U. S. Owned Nag In Grand National Today At Aintree; Pete Bostwick To Ride

AINTREE, Eng., March 23. (AP)—A sudden switch in betting odds establishing Heartbreak Hill, American-owned entry, as the favorite in a field of 34 jumpers, tonight added a sensational touch to preparations for the 94th running of the classic Grand National steeplechase. Post time tomorrow is 3 p. m. (10 a. m. E. S. T.)

Odds on the big, eight-year-old Irish-bred mare, owned by Mrs. C. S. Bird, jr., Boston, dropped to 8 to 1 after previous quotations of 20 to 1.

Seldom in the long history of the race over the difficult four and one-half mile course has a favorite come through, but the rise in Heartbreak Hill's stock gave the American contingent here a thrill and displaced the previously favored British pair, Mrs. M. A. Gemmell's Gregalach, a former winner, and Dorothy Paget's Golden Miller. Latest betting figures held Golden Miller as second choice at 10 to 1 and Gregalach third at 100 to 8.

Heartbreak Hill will carry 163 pounds as compared with 175 for Gregalach and 170 for Golden Miller. Mrs. Bird's jumper is by far the outstanding hope in the American list of nine entries. Tonight's call-over rated John Hay Whitney's Dusty Foot, to be ridden by the noted George H. (Pete) Bostwick, at 66 to 1, and Mrs. T. H. Somerville's Trouble Maker at the bottom of the list, at 200 to 1. J. A. Drake's Coup De Chapeau was at 30 to 1 and inside the first ten.

The odds on Gregalach, 1929 winner, increased to 100 to 8 after his jockey, J. Farcus, broke a collar bone in a minor race today. W. Parvin will be astride the big gelding tomorrow.

Death Of Publisher Blamed On Socialists In Germany

WARSAW, Poland, March 23. (AP)—The Jewish daily, "Our Revue," printed a Berlin dispatch today charging that the death last Monday of Louis Ullstein, 70-year-old Berlin publisher, resulted from injuries inflicted by national socialists who broke into his Berlin home.

The assailants, the dispatch said, beat Herr Ullstein and his wife into unconsciousness, then carried them into the cellar, where they were found the next day. Frau Ullstein is still gravely ill, the newspaper said.

The dispatch also charged that Rabbi Berwald of Munich was slain by nazis, and that the German newspapers suppressed both stories.

Gridder Follows Morrison's Order

And Mustang Mentor Directs Spring Training From Automobile As Result Of "Taking Out" Which Injured Ray's Knee

DALLAS, March 23. (AP)—Ray Morrison directed spring football training at Southern Methodist university from an automobile today while he contemplated a knee injury brought about when a blocking back carried out his instructions implicitly.

During routine practice yesterday the coach of the Mustang "aerial circus" told one of his players how to carry out a defensive end. In the next scrimmage a smashing block tore a ligament from his left knee and a doctor told Morrison he would have to stay off his feet probably for three weeks.

At today's practice, however, the coach went to the field in an automobile and was carried from place to place while he called out instructions through a large megaphone.

Morrison, incidentally, called the turn on his own injury. Just before the play began on which he was hurt, he issued this warning:

"Somebody's going to get hurt if you fellows don't get out of the way."

Lieut. John W. Harmony, former West Point boxing captain, is coaching the Maryland fistic team this year for the first time.

Howley Didn't Care For Gleason's Sandwiches, So The Kid Gave Dan Some Pie Instead

By NEA Service

THE roughhouse play of the late Kid Gleason created many humorous situations, not the least of which was the stunt the iron-fisted and soft-hearted Kid pulled on Dan Howley, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, now leader of the Toronto ball club.

Dan relates the incident as follows:

"One holiday we were playing morning and afternoon games. Between games the Kid came into our dressing room with sandwiches for me.

"I told him they looked rotten and I wouldn't eat any. I was at a safe distance when I said it. But he didn't make a comeback. He just walked out the door.

"That wasn't at all like him, and I was afraid he was offended. I had just put on a new shirt and a new tie and I thought I'd go over to Gleason and patch things up as soon as I put on my trousers. Just then the door opened, and I looked up just in time to receive a juicy huckleberry pie right on the chin."

Godwin To Box M. Rosenbloom

Southern Fighter With "Paw" And "Maw" Arrives In East To Challenge Maxie For The Light Heavyweight Title

NEW YORK, March 23. (AP)—Bob Godwin, newest of boxing's southern sensations, comes into Madison Square Garden tomorrow night with his "maw" and "paw," just as Willie Stribling used to do, to fight Maxie Rosenbloom 15 rounds for the world's light heavyweight championship.

Furthermore, the 21-year-old boy from Daytona, Fla., brings with him title claims, awarded him by the National Boxing association, that match Rosenbloom's recognition as champion by the New York State Athletic commission. To the winner will go the undisputed right to the 175-lb. crown, haggled over since the day Tommy Loughran stepped down to fight heavyweights in 1929.

Only two weeks ago, in the same ring, Rosenbloom, most unorthodox warrior of the day and about as difficult as any to beat, slapped out a victory over Adolph Heuser, clouting young German. For tomorrow night Godwin, although he twice has held the slapstick champion to draws while losing one decision, is the underdog at 3 to 1 in very light wagering.

Chapman Squad In Triangular Scuffle Today

Amarillo And Pampa Athletes To Oppose Westerners Today On Amarillo Field; Chapman Takes A Full Squad

Coach Weldon Chapman and his Lubbock High school track and field team journeys to Amarillo today to meet the Amarillo Sandies and the Pampa Harvesters in a triangular meet.

The Westerner mentor will take his complete squad and enter all events.

Amarillo's Sandies took a 59 to 50 victory over Lubbock two weeks ago on the Texas Tech track and field here, and it is for the purpose of avenging that defeat, as well as to meet strong competition before the district tournament, that the Westerners go to the Sandies' lair.

In their meet here, the outcome of the tournament rested upon the final event, the mile relay. Amarillo won, by a scant margin, and took the most points. Lubbock's relay team has worked hard and fast since then and has reduced its time by several seconds. With Joe Nelson, Young, Stone and the fleet-footed Rufus Ryan doing the relay today, the Lubbock hopes for victory in that event are high.

Amarillo defeated Pampa last week by the same margin that saw Lubbock go down for its first and only home defeat, 59 to 50.

Maureen Orcutt Advances To Semi-Finals In Pinehurst Go

PINEHURST, N. C., March 23. (AP) Four experienced tournament golfers today won the right to renew rivalries on the links by advancing to the semi-finals of the north and south open tournament for women.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., the defending champion, and Miss Edith Quier, Reading, Pa., who have clashed five times in their careers, will meet again tomorrow. Miss Quier has won once.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, co-favorite with Miss Orcutt, will meet Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., for the fifth time. The only time the Wisconsin golfer has won was last year when she eliminated Mrs. Hill from the women's national.

Miss Orcutt advanced today with a 3 and 1 victory over Miss Helen Waring, Pinehurst, Mrs. Hill turned back Miss Deborah Verry, Worcester, Mass., 6 and 4. Miss Quier beat Miss Betty Abernathy, Pittsburgh 3 and 2 and Miss Wall conquered Mrs. T. E. Weiderseim, Philadelphia, 3 and 1.

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 23. (AP)—After five successive declines, the stock market succeeded in reversing its downward trend today, though extreme gains of 1 to 4 points subsequently were cut to an average net advance of around a point.

The market made its spurt in the first hour; thereafter it subsided slowly. Trading on this decline was chiefly notable for its dullness and for persistent firmness of rails coincident with a rally in carrier bonds. Wheat was stronger and cotton appreciated moderately, while U. S. government loans received calmly predictions that farm mortgage refinancing plans entailed a large bond issue. Trends in these markets were favorable to sentiment toward stocks and afternoon offerings were light.

Railroad equities are being buoyed by prospects of legislation. Carrier shares held up well against the downward drift of industrials and utilities.

Short coverings swung the market swiftly upward during the first hour. Commission houses viewed the rebound as a natural recovery from recent declines which had strengthened the list's technical status repurchasing orders were expected in a market virtually bare of offerings; when this demand was fulfilled buying power dwindled, but it was apparent there was little immediate desire to sell.

Sales amounted to 979,626 shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 23. (AP)—Cotton continued its moderate upward trend today and although an early sharp bulge was materially reduced, the close was 4 to 10 points net higher. Early firmness of stocks and wheat was a factor in the advance and there was also buying on a more bullish view of the farm relief bill. Trading was in moderate volume.

The opening was firm and Liverpool cables came in fully as good as due. Private cables reported scattered continental buying in that market. First trades here were 4 to 10 points up and the market continued to improve in the early trading as a rather good trade buying and price fixing orders came on the market.

Helped by firmness in stocks and wheat, the market continued upward most of the morning, with May at 6.38, July at 6.55 and October at 6.75 or 15 to 17 points above the previous close. Late in the morning prices eased 9 to 10 points with a reaction in stocks.

After rallying a few points in early afternoon, prices later declined again on lack of buying support and easier stocks, making lows for the day at 6.27 for May 6.42 for July and 6.62 for October or 11 to 13 points down from the highs. There was a rally of 5 to 6 points at the end on covering in a narrow market. May closed at 6.32, or 7 points net higher. July at 6.48 or 10 points net up and October at 6.67, 8 points up.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 to 2 penny points down.

Port receipts 13,849, for week 60,138, for season 7,433,181, last season 5,066,949.

Exports 12,636, for week 77,800, for season 5,956,570, last season 6,561,855.

Port stock 4,373,083, last year 4,493,-682.

Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 112,238, last year 159,306.

Spot sales at southern markets 6,636, last year 11,677.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March. 23. (AP)—Cotton had a further small advance today on a renewal of trade buying and covering. May closed at 6.34 with the general market closing steady at net advances of 6 to 9 points.

The opening was 9 to 13 points higher on trade buying and covering encouraged by the fairly steady showing of Liverpool. March sold up to 6.32 and October to 6.76 on the early demand, making net gains of 10 to 18 points on the active positions.

These prices attracted some realizing. March sold off to 6.25 and October to 6.65, making reactions of about 7 to 18 points, but the dip brought in more trade buying, while no aggressive selling developed.

Closing quotations showed rallies of about 5 or 6 points from the lowest on the more active months, but were some 6 to 10 points off frop the early highs.

Spot people here reported a dull demand but a generally firm basis in the south and a cable from Liverpool said import buying of American there was confined to odd lots as the basis was impossibly dear in most of the southern markets. The futures market in Liverpool was reported steady on scattered continental buying with business quiet. Exports today 14,635 making 6,056,620 so far this season. Port receipts 13,293. U. S. port stocks 4,420,193.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, March 23. (AP)—Receipts of fed steers and yearlings at most points around the eleven market circuit were comparatively light and values held generally steady, but at Chicago where receipts were relatively heavy all grades of light weight steers were considered weak to 25 lower. A few markets recorded 15 to 25 lower prices on fed heifers and mixed yearlings. Good to choice yearlings and light steers at different centers cleared at $.25@6.60. Outstanding Missouri fed steers in Chicago brought 6.75. Receipts of 22,200 cattle at eleven markets today numbered about the same as the arrivals of last Thursday and the corresponding day a year ago.

After yesterday's unevenly lower markets, hogs reacted in today's session to sell at strong to 15 higher levels, a top of 4.20 being paid sparingly in Chicago.

Lamb trade at various markets was slow with values ruling unevenly weak to 25 lower. Desirable fat offerings cleared largely from 5.25@5.85.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 23. (AP) — A buying stampede hoisted wheat 2 1-4 cents a bushel today, chiefly on reports that President Roosevelt would not oppose amendment of the administration farm bill. In some quarters, talk of possible armed conflict between Russia and England was regarded as a contributing reason for the rush to buy.

Word that senate revisions would cut out features of the house agricultural act which the grain trade had looked upon as highly objectionable attracted by far the most attention as cause for the big change in sentiment overnight. Early strength of securities and of cotton added to the impetus of grain price upturns, but profit-taking led afterward to setbacks from the day's top figures.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1 to 1 1-4 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 5-8 up, oats 1-8 to 3-8 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 22 cents.

Tickets For Benefit Play Are To Go On Sale Saturday; 35 Cents Is Cost

Tickets for the comedy the City Parent-Teacher association will present Monday will go on sale at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the John Halsey Drug store, 1115 Broadway.

Advance tickets are being sold for 35 cents each, and can be exchanged for reserve seat tickets, Miss Geraldine Roberts, director, announced. All seats in Lubbock High school auditorium, in which the benefit production will be given, will be reserved. The best seats will be reserved for an additional charge each of 15 cents, Miss Roberts said.

Action of the play, "Henry's Wedding," is wrapped about Uncle Henry, played by H. A. Welmaker, and his bride, Samantha Green, by Mrs. P. A. Kleinschmidt. Dr. Leroy T. Patton earlier had been announced as having the titular role.

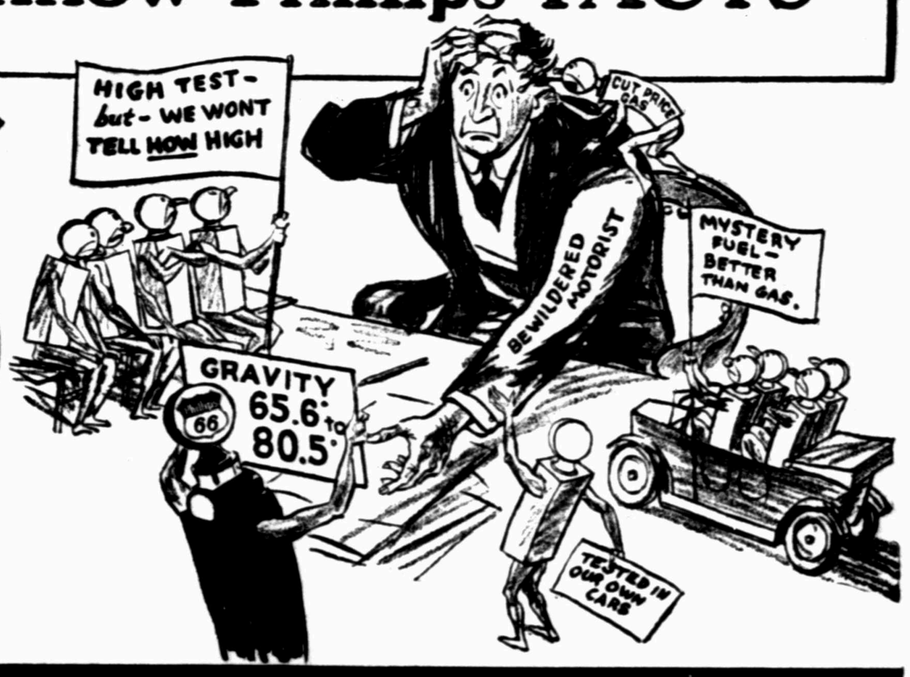

Net receipts will be used by the Parent-Teacher council for child welfare work.

"HIGHEST TEST"
at the price of ordinary gasoline

Today there is one big, outstanding topic of discussion whenever experts talk about gasoline.

At the conventions of petroleum technicians . . . in the meetings of automobile engine designers . . . in almost every issue of the magazines devoted to the oil and gas industry . . . the subject that comes up over and over again is VOLATILITY.

Everywhere, there is greater recognition, than ever before, of the fact that volatility is the most important property in gasoline.

You may not care for technical details. You may not know that volatility is defined as "the ability to evaporate and become vapor." But since high volatility (high test) gives truly startling improvement in performance, you can't help being vitally interested in the fact that Phillips 66 has 78% more volatility than any other leading gasoline.

This is a powerful, outstanding fact. It tells you why Phillips 66 saves you money. Every gallon, every drop of this greater gasoline has more volatility, has higher gravity, is higher test.

Right now, Phillips 66 gravity ranges from 65.6° to 80.5°. And it does not cost 3¢ extra per gallon. No, sir! As the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline, Phillips can afford to give you amazingly high gravity gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel.

The very first time you try a tankful, your engine quickly tells you that this high test and high anti-knock gasoline IS different. You actually feel the added power and snap, the new speed of get-away and smoother running. You get more miles to the gallon and . . . the fastest cold weather starting you have ever experienced.

What is CONTROLLED VOLATILITY?
Everyone knows that weather affects ordinary gasoline, that temperature affects engine performance. Obviously the weather cannot be controlled; so Phillips insures perfect performance by CONTROLLING the VOLATILITY of the gasoline. Phillips pioneered this scientific method of matching gasoline to driving conditions. Always, it makes full allowance for differences caused by climate and geographical location. Whatever any engine in any city needs, to attain maximum efficiency and ideal performance under its climatic conditions, is exactly what Controlled Volatility puts into Phillips 66.

Higher test (more volatility) is the quality in Phillips 66 which brings you this wonderful combination of motoring improvements. And this high test is yours, without a single penny of higher price, at every Orange and Black 66 shield. For the gas that is easy on your engine and your pocketbook, Phill-up with Phillips 66 . . . and don't forget, when you drain—refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil, the new scientific lubricant which offers the same extra value always given by Phillips 66 gasoline.

Phillips ETHYL — Also Phillips 66 Ethyl at the regular price of Ethyl Gasoline

UNIQUE — A gasoline of U. S. Motor grade at a competitive price

Phillips MOTOR 66 OIL — BIG NEWS! This oil lubricates perfectly.. even at 62° below Freezing

Uncle Andy Comes Home

It is never the wish of The Morning Avalanche to cause any reader to break down in tears, but never-the-less we cannot help passing this sad word on to you:

Andrew Mellon is arriving home from England today but he's not nearly as rich as he was when he accepted the ambassadorship to the Court of St. James.

No, sir. Poor, old Uncle Andy is in hard shape. The business enterprises controlled by himself and his family now have assets of only three billions of dollars. Ain't it terrible the way things have declined in value since 1929?

It wrings our heart to hear of the Mellon losses.

To imagine the once proud financier now cut down to holdings of a mere three billion is almost more than we can bear without emitting heavy sobs.

Welcome home, Uncle Andy, welcome home!

But don't blame us for your losses. Blame the GOP, the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill and the resulting depression!

GETTING THEM AT HOME

We congratulate the administration of Lubbock Public schools on the choice of 1933 commencement week speakers. With Rev. Joseph O. Haymes as the baccalaureate sermon preacher and Dr. Bradford Knapp as commencement address principal, Lubbock High seniors are in line for two good programs.

It is not necessary to reach out hundreds of miles away to secure a pastor capable of preaching a baccalaureate sermon.

Neither is it necessary to go to another neck of the woods for a man capable of giving sound, interesting advice to the boys and girls who are about to complete their secondary learning.

Rev. Mr. Haymes and Doctor Knapp can get the job done to the satisfaction of all concerned. It is a mistake for any community to get the idea that the seat of all wisdom and ability is somewhere else.

REDISTRIBUTION BY LAW

Those who have been clamoring for redistribution of wealth may get just what they want—albeit, in a manner they least expected.

The news isn't generally known down this way yet, but advices from the money marts of the east are to the effect that many court suits are being filed as the aftermath of the sale of bad bonds and securities. Legal action is being taken against the suave gentlemen who, in the palmy days of pre-depression, sold everything they could think of, at out-landish prices, to a gullible public.

It is a question of law whether or not the suits will stand up but if they do, look out!

Talk about a redistribution of wealth! It might be just that.

PARITY OF VALUES

Restoration of the gold standard through the world looms as the most urgent piece of business to be transacted at the coming world economic conference. It is the first matter on the order of business and the matter uppermost in the minds of most of the statesmen.

Particularly anxious for a return to the gold standard by those nations which have gone off that standard during the depression are the United States, France and Italy. And the two great nations they most desire to restore to the gold standard are Great Britain and Japan.

As long as one-half the world is on the gold standard and the other half off there will be financial chaos and confused world trade. Commodity prices in all countries tend to seek the level of commodities valued in depreciated currency. Countries with debased currency can flood with cheap goods those lands which have preserved the value of their money.

Many remedies have been proposed. Countries off the gold standard would be appealed to to avoid competition in debasing their currency to gain trade advantages, and to curb speculation in foreign currencies. Nations still on the gold standard would pursue liberal credit policies, maintain open markets, permit sound foreign investments and do nothing to hinder the free flow of gold.

Parties on the basis of real value must be re-established if the gold standard is to be restored. No advantage will accrue from trying to invest any currency with a value it does not have.

The happiest man is the one who has reconciled himself to his own bad habits.

Game conservation came too late to save the lame duck extinction.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.—I. John 3:8.

Roosevelt Is Misjudged

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23. — Character analysts win few prizes for their pre-inauguration estimates of the personality of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

These gentry visted the New Yorker (he was quite accessible) in a stream of steadily increasing volume, from the time he began to develop prominence as a presidential prospect. They studied him and broadcast their conclusions. There can be no question as to the heavy preponderance of their judgment that, while evidently an individual of fairly liberal sympathies and excellent intentions, he manifestly was temperamentally timid and irresolute, weak and vacillating.

President Roosevelt

Well, we have seen what we have seen since he has been in the White House.

Capitol Is Breathless

Not only have his instant readiness of decision and chilled steel nerve simply flabbergasted Washington statesmanship; Capitol Hill is literally breathless from the speed with which he recognizes each advantage he gains and the rapidity of his follow-up system, to consolidate it and gain another one.

The succession of his demands is so swift and staccato that his legislative lieutenants figuratively are kept falling over one another in their hurry to execute orders.

Simultaneously such opposition as may raise its head is kept similarly "rattled", to the extent of inability to put up the resistance it might otherwise conceivably offer.

This was notably demonstrated in connection with the peremptory presidential call for beer legislation, in the midst of the senate controversy over the administration's economy program.

A Strategic Move

The White House plan of retrenchment, for budget-balancing purposes, was particularly distasteful, for obvious reasons, to the veterans and to organized labor. The protests of these two elements were overborne without much ceremony in the house of representatives; in the senate a more formidable fight was encountered. While it still was raging, the president's urgent summons for beer liberalization (upon which organized labor and the veterans have been especially insistent) was tossed, like a bursting bombshell, into the middle of it.

The effect naturally was to interrupt, divert and scatter opposition to the economy measure by concentrating its opponents' attention upon another administration recommendation to which they were strongly favorable.

This psychological aspect of a situation is something with which the new White House chief plainly reckons fully, and with profound understanding.

The Bank Crisis

His handling of the banking crisis was equally, in a different way, in point.

After all, a considerable number of banks did close to stay closed indefinitely.

In Washington, as an illustration, 20 reopened after the moratorium, but 12 are in the hands of what are euphoniously termed "conservators"; one lapsed into an outright receivership.

Had 13 banks out of 33 been forced to suspend without camouflage, it is easy to imagine the panic which must have ensued. Yet the danger was so met and counteracted that the capital's financial status has been strengthened by the shake-up.

And all this under the auspices of a man whom experts pronounced "timid and vacillating."

WHITE HOUSE SERVANTS

Considering that the lower floor of the White House is almost as public as the National Museum or the Corcoran Gallery, and has to have attendants to look after it; considering also the abnormal sort of lives its tenants have to lead and their constant flow of visitors, one realizes that the executive mansion's staff of 23 persons (cut from 32 in the Hoover's day) does not mean the employment of anything like so large a number to wait on the presidential family.

If the official part of the establishment could be eliminated, the best available estimate is that the Roosevelts' domestic retinue would shrink to about half a dozen.

HOOVER'S ERROR

According to politicians who were close to the last administration, President Hoover believed the depression had hit bottom in July, and confidently expected an improvement before election day.

"HYSTERIA"

Despite returning beer, Congressman Blanton of Texas is trying to get a resolution adopted denying drinks to Washington's diplomatic corps. Senator Tydings, of Maryland, advised of this, issued a one-word statement—"Hysteria!"

AIR MAIL CONTRACTS

Homer T. Bone, new senator from Washington, has joined critics of Uncle Sam's ocean mail carrying contracts. Illustratively, he denounces $117,000 per pound of letters, which he says the Export Steamship company is getting, as excessive.

REPUBLIC DOOMED?

If anyone doubts that Germany is reverting to royalty, Dr. Friedrich von Prittswitz's resignation as ambassador here may convince him. The doctor, who should know his fatherland, is above board in stating that he, a republican, cannot conscientiously represent a pro-Hohenzollern government like Herr Hitler's.

M'FADDEN SPURNED

The "money changers" are not too disorganized to have triumphed over their arch-foe in congress, Louis T. McFadden. The party caucuses choose their respective lists of committee members early in each session. From the G.O.P. representatives' banking committee list, just completed, McFadden's name is missing, though he was the old committee's senior Republican and foremost financial expert.

What Other People Think

I am interested not only in 3.2 per cent beer, but in a good drink of whisky.—Representative Claiborne of Missouri.

I think we shall all agree that there was never a time when the power of Christ was more needed in the world than it is now.—Bishop William T. Manning of New York.

Decentralize wealth is the command of the Lord. See Leviticus, Chapters 24 to 27; St. James, Chapter 5. —Senator Long of Louisiana.

There is now a feeling throughout our associations that the number of roving women and girls is decidedly on the increase.—Miss Genevieve Lowry of the Y.W.C.A.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

EYE SQUIRTING:

Benjamin Frye of Bucksport, Maine, puzzled his townsmen on many occasions by actually forcing streams of water from his eyes a distance of 20 feet.

The explanation for Mr. Frye's unique ability is that since there were no outlets to the tear ducts in his eye sockets, they would fill until it was necessary to press the water from them for relief.

In my search for the unusual I have come across one other such case in Detroit, the story of which is in my second Believe It or Not book.

TOMORROW: "THE PROBLEM OF AN ALIENIST."

SPOTLIGHT

by H.W. CORLEY © 1933 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SHEILA SHAYNE, dancer, refuses to marry DICK STANLEY, son of wealthy parents, who is in New York trying to learn to write plays. Sheila's idea of marriage is a cozy little home far from Broadway. Although she has spent all her life on the stage she would be glad to leave the theater.

She secures a part in a road show and in a little midwestern city meets JERRY WYMAN, who seems to be a hard working young man with little money. Sheila does not know Jerry's father owns the factory where he works. For a time Jerry is attentive and Sheila falls in love with him. Soon his affection seems to cool. He writes infrequently and this makes Sheila unhappy.

Back in New York, she gets a job in a fashionable night club. She sees Jerry there with some friends. He tells her he has tried to call her but she does not believe this and refuses to make an engagement with him.

She joins another road company and after several months they play in Jerry's home town. Each day she hopes to hear from him but no word comes. Finally she telephones to him. Jerry comes to see her and at first is casual, then becomes the affectionate suitor again. He promises to come to see her the following Wednesday in a nearby town. Jerry does not keep his promise. Weeks pass and Sheila has no word from him.

The tour ends and the company returns to New York. Sheila meets JAPPY, a chorus girl, who tells her that Jerry Wyman has married a girl in his home town.

NOW GO ON WITH THE SOTORY

CHAPTER XXXV

The waitress brought the coffee and set it before the two girls. Coffee in green cups on a silver tray.

"But you mustn't take it that way!" Jappy said anxiously. "You mustn't! Why, Jerry Wyman isn't worth your little finger. Please, Sheila—!"

"I'm all right." Sheila said. But her face was pale, her lips trembling. "I'm—I'm perfectly all right Jappy." Her hands, beneath the table's edge, were gripped together. That seemed to help her steady herself.

"Drink your coffee!" Jappy urged. "I didn't mean to shock you like that. Only—well, he is married! And he was engaged to that other girl all the time. The one you saw with him at the night club. That's why he didn't introduce you. Don't you see? A man would have been glad to introduce his sister to the featured dancer in a place like that but not the girl he was going to marry. He couldn't do that very well."

"No — I suppose not. Under the circumstances—"

Jappy's quick look was a question, unspoken. Sheila laughed bitterly.

"I wasn't engaged to him. No. But he had talked about marriage. We both talked about it. Oh, how melodramatic that sounds! But he had and, Jappy, I believed him. I thought—well, that he was different from the other men I know."

Jappy nodded wisely. "Sure. I know. It's because of this idea of yours about leaving the stage. You thought Jerry Wyman was different because he came from a small town and worked in a factory. Then when you knew he had money you were still sure he wasn't like the rich men in New York. But, Sheila, there are plenty of others. Better men than Jerry Wyman! Why, for half the devotion Dick Stanley has showered your way I'd dance the length of Broadway with hand springs thrown in!"

"But, Jappy. I love Jerry."

"He's not worth it!"

They finished their coffee in silence, then rose, paid the check and went out on the street. It was the same street, familiar, noisy, cluttered with little shops, old houses with grimy stone fronts that had at one time housed the city's social elite. Taxis, trucks, private cars milling in the street. The curb was crowded with hurrying men and women, laundry boys, messengers with hands in pockets, whistling. The world was just as it had been, but for Sheila how different!

She walked slowly, her eyes blurred with tears.

"There isn't anything you can do about it," offered Jappy uneasily. "I wouldn't have told you but I was afraid someone else would. The bunch were talking about it at Frances Barton's. Frances used to live in Spencer. She knew Jerry Wyman when she was a kid. She thought you had been getting a rotten deal."

The hot color flooded Sheila's cheeks. So the "bunch" had been talking about her feeling for Jerry! Sheila herself had not discussed it except with Jappy and Tillie Samper. Tillie, in love with Jim Blaine, had been an interested listener. Girls in love have to talk about the objects of their devotion. Many an evening, curled up on her bed, Sheila had confided to Tillie. She had told her about the color of Jerry's hair, how blue his eyes were, how sunburned he was and how becoming was that tanned skin. But she had never repeated to Tillie the precious things Jerry had said—words which now she knew had meant less than nothing to him.

Jappy went on trying to make things easier. "Listen, honey," she said. "You weren't Jerry's kind. Oh, I know that you belong to one of the best families in the theater. You're artistocracy of the stage and all that. But in a town like Spencer people wouldn't understand about that. They think every girl on the stage wears too much paint and is not better than she should be. Can't you see how Jerry's parents would feel about his marrying a dancer? Jerry isn't to blame for everything, dear. He's been raised that way. There's a big difference to him between a girl who lives at home with her parents and is protected, and a girl like you or me."

"He did respect me, Jappy."

The other girl considered this silently. Then she said, "Are you coming with me to Tommy Sloan's? I wish you would. I hate to leave you feeling the way I do. Maybe I'd better call Tillie—"

"No, don't bother." Sheila interrupted quickly. "Shes working somewhere anyhow. I'll go with you to Tommy's and then when I'm

Letters To The Editor

Sunday School Worker Is For Prohibition Laws

Editor, The Avalanche: There recently appeared in the "Brewery Industry", published in New York, a statement which throws light on the pending repeal movement and should occasion alarm and indignation on the part of parents and teachers. The quotation follows:

"The expected market for beer does not exist today. When beer comes back, what is the first step brewers will take to restore temporate drinking among the youth of the land? It is a responsibility the brewers must assume under the new order, probably their most important responsibility. Also it is essential in restoring beer to its former popularity. Obviously, there must be a campaign of education, and the one field in which this can be conducted is, fortunately, the most important of all for immediate and future business—the colleges.

"While the influence of the college undergraduate dominates youth in all activities, it is most powerful in beverages. Before prohibition, beer was regarded as a concomitant of a college career. Now not one-tenth of one percent of the youth in college know what really good American beer tastes like. To them it is little more than a name, simply because they do not know how to use it, or have not acquired the taste. Beer can be restored to its former favor in colleges, which means the youth of the land, but it cannot be done over night.

"So it seems that elemental reasoning makes it plain that the brewers should begin their publicity campaign in college newspapers as soon as it can be prepared. It should be a cooperative campaign for good legal beer before it can be supplied to them, and to make them have an eager appetite for it. It is one of the few instances where it is wise to create a demand that cannot be supplied. Then when the law makes beer legal, the individual brewers can sell their particular products."

Liquor interests have never been noted for their cooperation with the homes and schools of any country for the best interests of the youth. It is a high tribute to the effectiveness of the Eighteenth amendment that the above article concedes that ninety-eight and one-half per cent of our youth do not know the taste of beer. A while ago they were saying practically all of them were drinking. Now it is about to become the most important public responsibility of the brewer to restore temperate drinking among the ninety-eight and a half per cent of our youth who have not learned the taste of this "concomitant of a college career."

Are fathers and mothers, teachers and ministers, professional and business men and women, all lovers of youth, the manhood and womanhood of the future, going to sit idly by while these nefarious plans are carried out by avarice and greed? I think not. We will never sanction so base and shameful a retreat.

Respectfully,
G. D. Robison,
1907 Tenth Street,
Lubbock.

Judiciary Cut Gets Approval

Reduction Of 31 Per Cent In Expenses Of The Judiciary Favored; Is A Compromise Of Two Branches

diciary bill were in prospect.

The senate voted 16 to 10 to print the house deficiency judgment bill on minority committee report. The bill, by Representative Harlee Morrison of Terrell, was designed to give relief to debt-burdened farmers and home owners.

The proposal would not prohibit foreclosures but it would protect debtors from the issuance of deficiency judgments against them in addition to the loss of their homes and farms.

The house foreclosure moratorium bills were referred to a senate subcommittee for rewriting. A substitute bill was expected to be reported out of committee Monday. Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman said he would ask the sub-committee to provide individual relief where needed rather than prepare a general moratorium proposal.

Bill Is Engrossed

The house engrossed the governor's $200,000 deficiency appropriations bill, already approved by the senate. However, proponents did not muster a majority sufficient to pass the bill finally. Most of the $200,000 was used for keeping national guard troops in the East Texas oil field.

The house gave much time to the deficiency appropriation bill and a bill to provide money for cattle fever tick extermination in East Texas. The tick bill was engrossed, but support was weak and no effort was made to place it on final passage.

The governor's deficiency appropriations bill carried, besides the East Texas martial law item, $4,000 for the School of Mines at El Paso, $2,500 for the livestock sanitary commission and $3,500 for the Texas College of Arts and Industries.

Duggan Bill Passed

The senate passed a bill by Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield to repeal a law making it an offense for automobiles to pass each other on a highway at a rate of speed greater than fifteen miles an hour.

A bill to reduce the pay of all county officers was given a favorable report by a senate committee.

The Parr-Puri bill to eliminate voting by affidavit was passed by the senate. Under its terms, persons exempt from paying poll taxes would be required to obtain exemption certificates before February 1.

The senate engrossed a proposed constitutional amendment to provide that the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general would be elected for four year terms and would not be eligible for re-election.

The senate also engrossed a bill to provide that the salary reductions for judges would become effective June 1, instead of September 1 as provided in the appropriations bill.

Side Glances At The Crowd Here For Meat Show

LANE STEPS HIGH

Grady I. Lane, county agent from Dickens county, was stepping high yesterday. He brought up nine of the best calves in the county, with C. B. Middleton, vocational teacher at Spur, handling the majority. "We had nine, 'Mid' bringing eight of them and the sifting committee passed us like a West Texas rain blows by," said the agent. "We feel proud that all of our calves got by."

HAS SIX GRADS

Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of home economics at Tech, has six graduates of the school who went into demonstration work. "Five of them are still in the work and one married," Miss Weeks reports.

TAYLORS ARE HERE

The Crosby county Taylors were here for the show yesterday afternoon. W. C., vocational teacher at Crosbyton, brought 17 of his vocational boys while J. H. of Ralls, brought 20. Both men, no relation by the way, had calves on feed but because they did not think their animals good enough to compete in the show this year, did not enter.

EATON IS ON HAND

D. F. Eaton, former county agent here, who is now holding forth at Shackelford, came up from Albany to see the show. It was his first show here since he came to the Plains in 1924 that he was not an active participant. Just a lot of his old friends here came up and talked with him and Mr. Eaton had more time to enjoy his wide circle of friends, he said, than at any previous show or fair. "I met a lot of old friends and I enjoyed every minute of my stay," he added.

MEATS BEING BOUGHT

Local business men were rather heavy buyers of cured meats at the show. Henry Sammonn, Plainview; I. V. Fent, Amherst; R. L. May, Amherst; V. L. Cade, Union; D. O. Williams, County Line and others, assisted in wrapping the hams, shoulders, bacons and other articles sold. Don L. Jones, show superintendent and Roy Snyder, judge, were busy explaining the fine points of curing pork to interested farmers.

MISS MURRAY BUSY

Busiest woman on the place yesterday was Miss Myrtle Murray, district leader of the "home demmers." Miss Murray hardly had time to sit down and enjoy the program, for county agents, farm women and club girls were constantly calling on her to answer this or that question.

WORK IS PRAISED

Agents were warm in their praise of the work of Miss Isla Mae Chitwood, Lubbock county agent and her corps of club women who handled the details of the canned meat show. Miss Bess Edwards, assistant state leader and Miss Lola Blair, superintendent and judge, said they had never seen a better example of cooperation among women than was seen at the local show.

FOLLOW THE CROWD

Following the crowd: Ray Dickson of Spur and Dean A. H. Leidigh of Tech recalling days down at A. and M.—H. W. Stanton taking a bird's eye view of the calf parade—E. C. Kuykendall, Denver general agent at Plainview looking after business—Mrs. Don Jones, a former home demonstration agent, acting as judge of the team demonstrations—the peanut and popcorn vendor who has made every show here for years—Dr. I. E. Barr in consultation with several cattle buyers—Don Jones and Fred Hale giving the hog exhibit the "double O."

W. L. Stangel, calf show superintendent and George Barnes, the "Mutt and Jeff" of the show—Uncle John Gist telling a story to a group of interested club boys and girls—Millie Halsey, former agent here, talking to some of her club women—A. R. Bateman, down from Plainview, trying to tell Ray Mowery he would be here Monday for the vocational show—A. B. Davis trying to be in three places at the same time—four or five pretty 4-H club girls giving their pet calves a last minute curl—A. L. Ward taking some pointers for the Fort Worth show—many dads acting as "herd boy" for their son's exhibit—Cliff Day of Plainview slipping off from the ham show to watch the calf parade—Julia Kelley receiving compliments from her fellow agents—D. C. Williams, County Line farmer, selling some dams—Jim Potts chasing D. F. Eaton for an hour and always ten minutes behind—the horse bunch slipping off to the stables between events to look at the fine horses of Joe Bowman, Dr. Standefer, A. B. Davis, Chas. A. Guy and others.

Oil Field

closed until ordered opened by the commission.

R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the commission's oil and gas division, said the wells might be closed "an hour or a week" depending on the commission's decision in the matter.

The present proration order, permitting a field output of 400,000 barrels daily, was issued only a few days before the three-judge federal court decision held the previous order invalid. That order, issued January 1, had permitted a field allowable of 290,000 barrels daily, based on a per well quota, bottom hole pressure and acreage factors. The present order allotted production according to sand thickness and bottom hole pressure.

The commission shut down all wells in the field several weeks ago, to gauge bottom hole pressures, then permitted reopening under a new order.

Beer For Nation's Capital Favored By House After Fervid Floor Debate

simultaneously throughout the country, but the Cummings ruling supplanted this.

May Advertise Product

Cummings also ruled brewers can advertise in newspapers before April 7 if the advertisements contain no intimation the beer is for sale at once.

The question of congressional drinking resolved itself into an amendment offered by Tarver (D., Ga.), which he said would have prevented "opening a saloon under the dome of the capitol." The amendment was thrown aside 121 to 72.

In its final form, members disagreed as to whether the bill would legalize wines. Palmisano (D., Md.), author of the measure, attempted to amend it to name wines specifically, but his amendment was rejected 60 to 20.

Rules Are Outlined

Under the house beer bill, applications for licenses to draw or sell beer must be filed with the commissioners of the District of Columbia, who serve just like a city council. Each applicant for license must be 21 or over, a citizen of the United States and must never have been convicted of a felony.

By a 129 to 88 vote, the house also eliminated a provision in the bill that would have forbidden the licensing of persons previously convicted of prohibition or gambling law violations.

"Taking that out," said Black (D., N. Y.), "means that a bootlegger could be licensed, but only if the commissioners of the District of Columbia decided he was a man of good moral character."

Prohibitive Sale Described

The provisions prohibiting the sale of the beverages to youths, sponsored by Blanton, says:

"It shall be unlawful to sell at any licensed place any of the above beverages to persons under 18 years of age. Any person who violates this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not exceeding $100, or imprisonment for six months, or both."

The places that may obtain licenses for sales on the premises are only "bona fide restaurants, incorporated clubs with annual dues of at least $15 or hotels."

Celler (D., N. Y.), supporting the $15 annual dues proviso, said that would keep "saloons from opening and charging 10 cents or a quarter for membership and then selling beer."

The "on sale" licenses in this classification may serve beverages to their guests only at tables or in hotel rooms. Each licensee must pay to the District of Columbia a tax of $1 for each 31 gallons of the beverage sold.

The penalties for sales without permits could be fines of $1,000 or a year's imprisonment or both.

Two Amarillo negroes, who were arrested by Santa Fe railway officers in possession of 39 cartons of cigarets stolen at Sweetwater, were transferred to county jail yesterday. Sheriff Tom Abel said no charges had been filed against the pair. The sheriff said Santa Fe special officers told him 89 cartons of cigarets were stolen recently at Sweetwater. The cartons recovered were in a small steamer truck, which they virtually filled.

Leo Lynch, convicted of burglary, has been returned to Lubbock county jail following an operation for appendicitis at West Texas hospital. Fearing Lynch would attempt to escape, Sheriff Tom Abel Wednesday night posted a guard in Lynch's room at the hospital.

considered his case four days failed to agree. An effort was planned to have him tried again next week. Bucher was shot and killed nearly a year ago as he wrapped up a package of guitar strings at his combination filling station and store here. Mrs. Bucher at the trial testified she was making change for a $10 bill at a safe and had her back turned to the two men who entered the store to make the purchase but said she believed the shot was fired from where Hamilton stood.

Hamilton was taken to Hillsboro for trial after he had been sentenced at Dallas to 25 years for a packing house robbery and 30 years for the holdup of the Cedar Hill State bank in Dallas county. His trial for robbery of the Carmine, Tex., State bank in November had been set for May 8 at La Grange.

Gene O'Dare was sentenced to life imprisonment for the Carmine robbery. He and Hamilton were arrested in Bay City, Mich., last fall and were returned to this state by four deputy sheriffs. Hamilton was to have been tried with O'Dare but always obtained a severance.

Three Fire Alarms Are Answered In City Thursday But Damage Is Light

Knights Templar Officials To Hold Inspection In City

William J. Rhea, eminent grand generalissimo of the grand commandery of Texas, will inspect Lubbock commandery No. 60 of Knights Templar here tonight. The inspection will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Thomas M. Bartley, grand commander of the grand commandery, of Waco, also will be in Lubbock. Mr. Bartley formerly resided at Tahoka. Omar E. Redford, a grand commandery officer, of Abilene may be here also. Dr. Millard F. Swart is commander of the Lubbock unit. Dinner will be served.

Fire department members answered three fire alarms between 1 and 4:53 p. m. Thursday, but total damage was slight. Trash fires and a leaky gas connection were causes of the blazes.

Feed stacked at the rear of a residence at 1811 Sixteenth street was destroyed in the first fire, started from burning trash. J. H. Heffington is resident of the house there.

A small barn, owned by Leroy Davis of 2435 Twenty-Third street, and some feed were destroyed in a blaze at that address at 4:35 o'clock. Damage approximated $50 or $60, it was said.

The third run was made to 1714 Avenue A, in The Flats, negro quarter, where a leaking gas connection caught fire from a stove. Amanda Maxshul is occupant of the resident.

We Know All These Hosiery Values Are Unusual----Test Them For Yourself!!

We are definitely "out" for new hosiery customers. We have never offered such values. If you have experienced "difficulties" with hose of late purchase your "week-end" supply from these offerings as a test. Every weight, type, color, size and price preference is represented by an outstanding number—

Chiffon Hose at . . . 69c

A popular price for utility wear—a hose that is much finer than the usual 69c value. In chiffon weight—liberal length—firmly twisted threads for added service. All the new shades for navies, greys and sport tones.—Just try a pair—priced per pair ---------- 69c

Hose at a Price You Most Prefer . . $1.00 Pair

Three outstanding numbers—every one of them a leader, are offered at this price—2-thread extra sheer fine dress hose. Fine sheer 3-thread dress stockings for most every dress occasion—slightly heavier four-thread hose for dressy service—all in every preferred shade—all of finest all-silk construction—pair ------- $1.00

Chiffon Hose 49c

For the first time we offer this season a hose at this low price. We have seen to it that the value is especially unusual—all silk—chiffon weight—liberal length and every new shade, only 49c

Hose Priced Only 89c

"In between" hose—two styles—one in a fine chiffon weight, the other in sheer service weight—both in all the new colors and both outstanding—two values that equal the usual $1 values—both priced 89c

Hollywood Economizes As Huge Salaries Finally Are Reduced

Hollywood, long used to huge salaries, is economizing with a smile these days, its most brilliant stars adjusting their private lives to meet temporarily reduced pay checks. Sylvia Sidney, Fredric March and Adrienne Ames have moved to smaller residences. Automobiles of Lilian Harvey, German importation, and William Powell have been placed in storage. Wynne Gibson and Frances Dee have taken up sewing. Charles Ruggles now rolls his own cigarettes and Jack Oakie no longer sends flowers to his girl friends. Helen Twelvetrees is doing her own marketing and Claudette Colbert has cut down on buying books.

Here's A Recipe Of Wedded Bliss

By NEA Service

BOSTON, March 23.—Unhappily married women, who are at the point where they would do anything once, should try Mrs. James E. Scott's recipe for wedded bliss.

Mrs. Scott, 81, who, with her husband, recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary, gives the following advice:

"If women did less bridge playing and more dish washing there would be fewer divorces and more happy marriages," she opines.

"A woman should have an interest in her home and family. I have always made it a point to go where my husband did. We have lived together always."

The couple have four sons, a daughter, ten grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Collier Named Tariff Member

James H. Hanley Is Selected To Radio Commission; Term Of Mississippi Man Is To Expire In 1937

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP) — President Roosevelt today appointed former Representative James W. Collier of Mississippi to the tariff commission and James H. Hanley of Nebraska to the radio commission.

Collier, head of the house ways and means committee last session, was named to fill the commission vacancy caused by the failure of the senate to confirm the appointment by President Hoover of former Representative Charles Crisp, of Georgia.

The term expires June 16, 1937.

Collier did not run for re-election because of a supreme court decision which upheld Mississippi's reapportionment law. The veteran representative had failed to enter a primary because a lower federal court had ruled the Mississippi law invalid and it was too late for him to run after the supreme court decision.

Hanley is a prominent lawer of Omaha, Nebraska, and is vice chairman of the Democratic state committee.

He has been active in Democratic circles in Nebraska for years and was at one time secretary to the late Representative Lobeck (D. Neb.)

His term on the new position expires in February, 1936.

Rail and boat shipments of fresh fruits and vegetables this year were the smallest in 11 years, says the department of agriculture.

Death Claims Two Children

Two Small Girls Drowned In Cistern On The Grounds Of Kindergarten; Covering Of Hole Gives Way

DALLAS, March 23 (AP)—Two small girls, Gregoria Sanchez, 7, and Anita Sosa, 6, lost their lives here today when they fell into a cistern on the rounds of the Mexican Presbyterian kindergarten, which they attended.

The accident occurred when the wooden covering over the old cistern gave way, throwing the children into about four feet of water. The girls, with several companions, had been engaged in carrying bricks from the abandoned hole.

At first the Sanchez child was believed to have been the only pupil drowned, and it was an hour after her body had been recovered before the second child was missed and her body located.

SPOTLIGHT

H. W. COOLEY

feeling more like myself I'll go home.

A few days later Jappy heard the whole story from Frances Barton. "You see it was this way," Frances said. "I've known Jerry ever since I was a kid. He was nice enough but when my folks couldn't afford to send me to private school Jerry stopped inviting me to his parties. Marcia, his sister, never even knew I was alive.

"Later I joined a show and when we played in Spencer there was Jerry anxious to be seen with me, to show his friends that he knew a girl in the show. Maybe he really was in love with Sheila but he's been engaged to Jean Morgan for years. I guess the match was arranged when they were in their cradles. The Wymans and the Morgans are mixed up together in business. The Morgan girls and their set are the only ones who count according to the Wymans. The rest of us who work for a living simply don't rate. We're not important enough to be considered. And as for marrying one of us—well, that would be completely out of the question!"

"I think Sheila's pretty hard hit," Jappy told her.

"Maybe she deserves a little punishment for the way she treats that nice Stanley boy."

"What's she done to him?" Jappy's tone became instantly defensive.

"Youre asking me?" Frances laughed. "When Sheila first met Dick he was a regular play boy. Everybody's friend, always out for a good time. Now you never see him anywhere. They say he's working—trying to write plays or something. Nobody even knows where he's living."

"And he's writing a play?"

"Well, so they tell me. They say he gets only a small allowance from his family, keeps himself shut up somewhere in an out-of-the-way place banging away at a typewriter."

"I suppose Dick was in love with Sheila," murmured Jappy.

"He is and always will be," the other girl assured her. "And that's why I think Sheila's such an idiot. Wasting her time thinking about Jerry Wyman when she could have Dick!"

Jappy considered this. Fond as she was of Sheila, she saw no way that she could do anything more to help her.

It was a few nights later that Tillie and Jim Blaine, on their way to see a new musical comedy, urged Sheila to come along with them. Jim was resting between engagements. The other four Sumper sisters were appearing together, giving Tillie a free evening.

Sheila, wearing a blue Chinese mandarin coat, was comfortably curled up on the living room divan. She smiled but shook her head. "Run along. I'd rather stay here and be lazy."

They could not persuade her to join them.

"Just bring me some salt water taffy," she called after them. Her voice sounded cheerful but when Tillie and her handsome young husband had departed Sheila turned her face against the pillow and lay silent for a long time.

"I think we'd better whisper a word or two into Dick Stanley's ear," Tillie was saying as she and Jim boarded a downtown bus.

"I don't," Jim objected.

"But, darling, Dick loves her!"

"Of course he does. And Sheila loves a poor sap answering to the name of Wyman. If we let Dick know she's blue and he rushes in and wins he'll always have the sneaking feeling that she said 'yes' on the rebound. Let them alone, Tillie. I believe in fate. Dick will find Sheila if it is to be that way just as I found you."

"Maybe you're right," Tillie admitted finally.

And perhaps he was. At any rate what was to happen shortly could scarcely be ascribed to anything but fate.
