Kennedy, Nixon Meet In Miami

Session May Heal Wounds

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Winner John F. Kennedy and the presidential election loser, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, met today at a history-making conference which Kennedy hopes will heal the wounds of the campaign.

Victor and vanquished, both smiling broadly, got together at 11:33 a.m. EST, at Nixon's vacation headquarters at this sunbaked island haven a few miles south of Miami.

Nixon, looking trim in a gray suit, was standing in front of the Key Biscayne Hotel when the young president-elect's motorcade pulled up. As Kennedy stepped from his car into a crowd of applauding well-wishers, he and the vice president shook hands heartily.

It was their first meeting since their fourth and final television-radio debate late in the campaign.

With spectators surging all around, Kennedy—in a dark gray suit with a white pin stripe—then walked alongside Nixon for about a block to the vice president's private villa, No. 69.

There, as he and Kennedy entered, the president-elect introduced his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, to Nixon.

Nixon congratulated Salinger on "a good job," during the campaign, and added:

"It's a tough job, isn't it? How do you handle the photographers?"

He made that remark as cameramen crowded in from all sides for photographs of Kennedy and Nixon.

At that point, the two men disappeared inside the Nixon villa. They were alone there — without aides or even Secret Service agents.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said he knew of no plans for the president-elect and Nixon to lunch together. Kennedy planned to return to Palm Beach in the early afternoon.

Nixon had been waiting for Kennedy in front of the hotel's main entrance for about 15 minutes when the president-elect arrived about three minutes late.

While he waited, newsmen asked Nixon whether he would be interested in a post in the new administration. He replied:

"I don't want to say anything now. After I talk with him (Kennedy) I will know what I should say."

Nixon then recalled that he and Kennedy had met at the same hotel four years ago and had breakfast together on the patio.

The Key Biscayne Hotel was a favorite Nixon vacation retreat. If he had been elected, it could have become the Little White House.

The vice president's wife Pat and their two daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12, were on the nearby beach when Kennedy was welcomed by the vice president.

An enthusiastic crowd of Kennedy supporters swarmed past rope barriers at the airport and surged toward Kennedy. A squad of Secret Service men and Dade County deputies formed a flying wedge to get Kennedy to a convertible for his trip to Key Biscayne.

Kennedy, holding only a tiny popular vote margin over his Republican opponent, was accompanied by an old prep school chum, New York advertising man K. L. Billings. Kennedy and Billings attended Choate Preparatory School in Connecticut.

Kennedy got in some tennis Sunday afternoon before watching a movie on the lawn at night.

Kennedy took the initiative in arranging the meeting with Nixon at Key Biscayne in the Miami outskirts where the vice president is vacationing. Nixon promptly agreed.

Plans for the session were disclosed Sunday as Kennedy lined up a busy week of conferences with possible appointees to his Cabinet—and amid reports that he already has decided at least tentatively to pick up Democratic Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina as secretary of commerce.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, would neither confirm nor deny selection of Hodges. He told a news conference Kennedy had informed him he will make no final decisions or announcements regarding any Cabinet posts until after Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24.

Kennedy, resting at his parents ocean-front home here, will make the 65-mile flight to Miami's International Airport aboard his private two-engine Convair and drive from there to Nixon's headquarters at the Key Biscayne Hotel.

During the campaign, Kennedy contended the vice president had helped preside over deterioration of national prestige and security and the communization of Cuba, while Nixon pictured his Democratic opponent as inexperienced, rash and irresponsible.

But Salinger said one of the purposes of today's late morning meeting was to provide Kennedy with an opportunity "to congratulate the vice president on the campaign he conducted."

The president-elect also wants "to resume the cordial relations with the vice president which existed between them during their 14 years together in Congress," Salinger added.

Kennedy has left open the possibility of his asking Nixon to take a position in the new administration. But aides said in advance of the meeting they felt sure there would be no such offer. They expressed doubt that Nixon would accept anyway.

But the primary purpose of the meeting was viewed by those close to Kennedy as an effort to heal the wounds of the campaign.

Kennedy will return to Palm Beach Tuesday to have lunch with Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, a principal adviser during the campaign. Ribicoff is vacationing at Hollywood, Fla.

BYPLAY OF MIDNIGHT WRECK—Ira football star Donnie Dunn was hospitalized from injuries received at midnight Saturday when the car in which he was riding careened off a truck on Thirty-seventh Street, struck the streetmarker at Sunset Avenue and plowed another half a block before stopping. The marker above went sailing into the window of the Grady Sellars home. Gene Sumruld, also of Ira, was driving the Dunn 1960 Plymouth which was a total loss, with damages to the 1956 Halliburton truck driven by William Carey, 3733 Sunset listed as minor. Taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by a Bell ambulance, Dunn was admitted for observation and Sumruld was released after examination.

Negroes Enter White Schools In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — U.S. marshals accompanied four Negro girls into two white schools today, the first Negroes to attend white schools here in almost a century.

White spectators booed as three Negro girls walked into McDonogh No. 19. The few Negroes in the crowd applauded. Another girl entered William Frantz School.

Police stood cautious vigil in front of the schools and ordered people to stay on the neutral ground facing the McDonogh school.

At McDonogh, the only disturbance caused by the entry of the three Negro first graders was vocal. There was no other demonstration.

One white woman yelled out as the Negro girls drove in three automobiles with the federal marshals.

"I'm going in there and get my children out. I'm no nigger lover," she said.

Some white parents entered the building reportedly to take their children out of classes.

As one white man brought three children out of the school a few minutes later, a roar of approval came from the white spectators huddled in front of the building at McDonogh.

At Baton Rouge, there was some indication the legislature — battling to keep the schools segregated despite the federal court order — was ready to give in.

House Speaker Tom Jewell, served with a restraining order to prevent his interference with the integration move, said the legislature would quit work today after a brief session.

State troopers reportedly contacted each school principal telling each one to close the school in line with the legislature's directive. But they reportedly were told that the principals were following the orders of the school board and remaining open.

A caravan of state police officers massed on the fringes of the city, under orders from the Louisiana Legislature to enforce the closure of the city's public schools. At least 75 officers were reported in the group.

At Baton Rouge, Lt. Col. Thomas D. Burbank, assistant director of public safety, said there were 40 officers en route to New Orleans.

Burbank said they were under

Democratic Resurgence Is Noted In Southern States

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The 1960 election brought a Democratic resurgence in the south and little Republican success in extending recent gains, an Associated Press survey showed today.

President-Elect John F. Kennedy polled more votes in the 11 Southern states than any previous candidate.

Vice President Richard Nixon out-did all previous Republican efforts, but his percentage of the two-party vote dropped about three per cent from President Eisenhower's 1956 total. This compared with an eight per cent drop nationally.

A sampling of returns in several metropolitan areas showed that votes against the Democrats were often conservative rather than Republican. The implication is that a conservative third party might seriously erode the Republican's new strength.

Unofficial, nearly complete returns compiled by the Associated Press in the 11 states gave Kennedy 5,041,905 votes, or 52.3 per cent of the two-party vote, to Nixon's 4,602,166, or 47.7 per cent. Independent Democratic electors polled 109,404 votes in Mississippi, and Louisiana's States Rights Party had 169,962.

In 1956 Eisenhower led with 4,214,155, or 50.5 per cent; in 1952 Adlai Stevenson polled 4,428,163, or 52.5 per cent.

Kennedy's percentage would probably have been higher than Stevenson's had it not been for the senator's Roman Catholic religion which hurt him in rural, Protestant areas.

Kennedy had also to overcome the obstacles of his strong civil rights position, dramatized by his phone call to Mrs. Martin Luther King; and the South's strong conservatism.

Countering this, he gained by his selection of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate, by the hard work of many state Democratic officials and by the fact that Nixon was nowhere as personally popular as President Eisenhower.

Kennedy's total becomes more impressive when compared with Al Smith's showing in 1928. Smith, the only other Roman Catholic major party presidential candidate, had only 52.4 per cent of the Southern vote at a time when there was virtually no Republican party organization in several states of the old Confederacy.

The Democrats clearly will not approach majorities such as the late Franklin D. Roosevelt achieved. In 1944, Roosevelt received 73.5 per cent of the Southern vote.

The Republicans held their five house seats in Florida, North Carolina, Texas and Virginia (2). But they ran far behind in every other contested congressional election and in every gubernatorial race, except North Carolina where the Democrats were handicapped by a party split.

Ejection Of Capsule Is Slated Today

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The gold-plated capsule of Discoverer XVII—given an extra day in space for good behavior—should come flying home today when a scientist presses a button.

The satellite, forerunner of a legion of military sky spies, is the first of the Discoverer series to eject its capsule at a ground signal.

All the others have ejected when a timing device within the space package clicked shut on the satellite's 17th pass around the earth.

When Discover XVII neared its 14th trip, the Air Force decided Sunday that it was behaving so well it could stay up a little longer.

Scheduled ejection time was delayed to the 31st pass, about 5 p.m. EST today.

Plans called for the capsule to pop from the 25-foot-long Agena B second-stage rocket as it streaked over the North Pole, headed South. Forward-firing rockets were to slow it enough to permit a parachute to lower it over Hawaiian waters.

Trapeze-trailing Flying Boxcars hoped to snag it before it hit the water—a feat accomplished once in the long Discoverer series. One other capsule was fished from the sea by a skindiver.

The latest Discoverer was launched at this big seaside missile facility at 12:42 p.m. Saturday. The Air Force said the decision to leave it in orbit 18 extra trips was made because "communications with the satellite have been good" and "the vehicle is performing satisfactorily."

Mild Weather Covers State

Above-normal temperatures for most of Texas hit the state Monday and, forecasters said, probably would linger for several days.

Temperatures began warming up Sunday when the maximums ranged from 68 at Del Rio on the Rio Grande to 85 at Childress in Northwest Texas.

Fog and low cloudiness Monday extended from the Gulf Coast northward through most of Texas except the Panhandle and far West Texas. There was some light rain and drizzle in the southern part of the state.

India is expected to import more cotton during the current season than last.

Kennedy To Get Chance For Some Hunting At LBJ Ranch

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Big vote hunter Jack Kennedy will get a chance this week at some Texas big game, of the animal type.

By coincidence or otherwise the president-elect is scheduled to arrive at the ranch of Vice President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson a few hours after the opening of Texas' hunting season for white tail deer, Wednesday.

Johnson's ranching spread along the Pedernales River and in the rocky hills of Blanco County has some of the choicest hunting in the state. Herds of 15 and 20 animals including big fat bucks are a common sight at sundown.

LBJ Ranch hands take particular care of the deer and Johnson's big-name guests often get an invitation to sit in one of the cozy deer blind huts placed near paths and feeding grounds.

On his only other overnight trip to Texas, Kennedy slept in Gov. Price Daniel's bed at the state mansion in Austin.

The LBJ Ranch house is placed on a grass covered rise near the banks of the Pedernales. Johnson said the river's name, of Spanish origin, means "little white rocks shining in the night." The entrance to the grounds is across a low water dam and driveway that in flood times becomes impassable.

"I'll see you Saturday if the Lord be willing and the creeks don't rise," Mrs. Johnson often tells invited guests.

The big rambling stone and white frame ranch house is mostly shaded by giant live oak trees. The fortlike stone walls are more than 100 years old. One of Johnson's aunts did all of her cooking over a mammoth fireplace that is now in the house living room. Four big bedrooms in the house and more in a nearby guest house take care of frequent guests. Twenty-eight telephone lines attempt to take care of Johnson's political and business endeavors when he is at the ranch.

Just outside Johnson's first floor bedroom is a big blue swimming pool—with telephone outlets around the edge. Numerous bathing suit conferences with big-name governmental figures have taken place beneath the bright colored beach umbrellas.

"Welcome to LBJ Ranch" is etched in the concrete of a sidewalk leading to the front door. Concrete stepping stones near the pool have signatures from famous figures including one signed by Speaker Sam Rayburn.

In warm weather, Johnson and his family spend much of their time around the pool. There is a big cooler for cold drinks. White-coated waiters serve breakfast or lunch by the pool.

Johnson has a standing warning to news photographers not to take pictures of him or any of the family in bathing suits or shorts. During the campaign, staff members protested if photographers tried to include the pool when taking pictures of the house.

Although 65 miles from the nearest city, Johnson keeps in close touch with the outside world. He always rides in a car equipped with a mobile telephone. About 100 feet from the ranch back door is an airplane hangar and a landing strip that will accommodate all but large four-engine airliners.

Ranch foreman Henry Blackburn says Johnson is as sharp in the stock farm business as in politics. Shortly after being nominated for vice president, Johnson took time out to brag about a good profit he turned on the sale of 270 lambs.

This fall the ranch has about 80 head of commercial cattle and about 35 head of registered Herefords. "As fine a herd of breeding stock as you'll find in the United States," Blackburn says. The breeding stock is grazed along the Pedernales where plantings of coastal bermuda grass and irrigation keeps pastures ankle deep. The commercial animals graze on a separate 1,800-acre holding about 12 miles northwest of the ranch house.

A newsman once told Johnson that he had heard President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg operated at a loss.

Johnson thought a moment and then said: "Well, at the end of this year I think our ranch will show a small profit."

Eiland's Condition Reported Improved

Condition of Bill Eiland, Snyder City Councilman and manager of the Eiland Motor Co., was reported slightly improved at Cogdell Memorial Hospital at noon today from injuries received in a collision Saturday noon at the intersection of Avenue S and Forty-second Street.

Critically injured when his El Comeno pickup was rammed by a 1955 Oldsmobile which shot onto the highway after the brakes reportedly failed, Eiland is suffering from a brain concussion, a broken hip and ankle, plus severe chest injuries.

Injured in the other vehicle were the driver, Mrs. Carol Stevens, 3608 Hill Avenue, who lost several teeth and sustained facial lacerations, and her 3-year-old son Rusty and Larry Rowan, 13, who were bruised and shaken up.

Ike, Anderson Slate Parley

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower will meet with Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson Tuesday for what the White House described as an important conference on foreign aid to underdeveloped countries.

Eisenhower will issue a statement afterward from his vacation headquarters about the pressing need for wealthy Western nations to step up such assistance to impoverished lands.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty in announcing the meeting said Anderson would fly from Washington for what he called a review of foreign aid.

Anderson is due to leave this weekend with Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon for conferences on this problem with the West German government.

Hagerty said that the President and Anderson undoubtedly also would talk over the final budget the Eisenhower administration will lay before Congress in early January.

Administration leaders are reported hoping that the Anderson-Dillon mission will convince Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to increase substantially West Germany's aid contributions to Africa, Asia and the Middle East.

Guatemalan President Says Troops Have Crushed Rebels

By ALVARO CONTRERAS

GUATEMALA (AP) — Paratroops and rocket planes struck at rebel strongholds in northeast Guatemala today as President Miguel Ydigoras, 62, claimed the revolt against his conservative government has been crushed.

A state of siege—modified martial law—was proclaimed in the mountainous Central American republic. Press censorship was imposed.

Ydigoras blamed the attempted coup on low-ranking army officers. He linked the uprising with unrest in Nicaragua and Costa Rica within the last 24 hours and indicated he felt Cuba was behind the plot.

In Havana Fidel Castro's government denied it had meddled in the affairs of the Central American countries.

Ydigoras predicted the last of the rebels would be wiped out today. He flew to the scene of the fighting to take personal command.

An army force of 3,000 and bombers carrying paratroopers were attacking rebel concentrations at Puerto Barrios, on the Atlantic Coast 150 miles northeast of the capital, and Zacapa, 70 miles northeast. Military garrisons at these two cities reportedly were taken over Sunday by rebels.

At Puerto Barrios the commander, Col. Rodolfo Gonzales Centeno, and two other officers were killed. The commander of the Zacapa garrison, Col. Ramon Gonzalez, escaped and fled to the capital to spread the alarm.

A government communique said Air Force bombers destroyed the runways at Puerto Barrios to prevent any attempt at "reinforcements" for the rebel movement that might be flown in from Cuba" a haven for many Guatemalan exiles.

Within a few hours after the revolt broke out Ydigoras claimed that all but 300 of the rebels, including most of the instigators, had been captured. He imposed a 30-day state of seige and called Congress into an emergency session.

In neighboring Nicaragua, President Luis Somoza blamed the revolt in his country that started on Friday on the Cuban government. It apparently failed, but a handful of rebels were holed up in a teachers' school not far from Managua, the capital, and holding the students and local military commanders as hostages.

The Nicaraguan revolt spilled over into adjoining Costa Rica. Col. Alfonso Monge, commander of the Costa Rican Civil Guard, and three of his men were killed in a battle with the rebels.

Costa Rican President Mario Echandi said his country was trying to preserve its neutrality by preventing the Nicaraguan rebels from using it as a base for invading Nicaragua.

New Illness Casts Doubts On Future Of Elizabeth Taylor

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor's new illness cast doubts today over the future of the star and the picture she's in London to make.

"We are expecting something from the doctors before the end of the day," said a studio spokesman, "and until then it's reckless to speculate on what has sent her to the hospital again."

He was asked about the report that the 28-year-old actress may be suffering from meningitis.

"This is a very roundabout rumor. We have been told that a couple of attendants on the ambulance that took her to the hospital said that from the way she was writhing and moaning, meningitis could be behind her new troubles," he replied.

The spokesman added that there was nothing official to back up that speculation. He said "a terrible headache causing almost unbelievable pain" led to her return to the hospital.

The headache hit her about 9 o'clock Sunday night, the spokesman said, and it was "so awful that it alarmed everyone—including her doctors."

Weeping and clutching her head, Miss Taylor was carried from her hotel on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital in an ambulance.

The spokesman said her personal physician, Dr. Carol Goldman and one of Queen Elizabeth II's doctors, Lord Evans, were "worried and puzzled."

Neither would immediately answer reporters' questions.

Both were extremely cautious—for good reasons.

For weeks the actress had been reported suffering from a mystery virus that brought on high temperatures in the afternoon.

Unable to diagnose the cause of the fever at her penthouse apartment in a London hotel, the doctors ordered her into the London Clinic on Oct. 30.

They made several tests on her and she was allowed to leave the clinic three days after being admitted.

The fever still persisted, however.

Last week she complained of a severe tooth ache. X-rays were taken and an abscessed tooth discovered.

A dentist pulled it and her fever went down.

Jubilantly, Miss Taylor's fourth husband Eddie Fisher told reporters that at last the cause of her lengthy illness seemed to be solved.

Miss Taylor's studio, 20th Century-Fox, shared Fishers joy.

The studio is far behind schedule on the epic "Cleopatra" in which the actress plays the vamp of the Nile for a million dollars and a percentage of profits.

NEGROES

orders from the Louisiana Legislature to enforce closing the city's public schools.

The names of the girls—the first Negroes accepted for white schools here since the Reconstruction—and the schools were closely guarded secrets.

The legislature in Baton Rouge Sunday night completed action on three sweeping concurrent resolutions designed to block the integration but U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright quickly enjoined the entire legislature from interfering with the eight-year-old battle.

The legislature, with leaders of Gov. Jimmie H. Davis in complete control, had rammed through resolutions which seized the New Orleans school system, authorized sergeants-at-arms at schools to prevent integration, dismissed the New Orleans school superintendent and school board attorney, and declared today a school holiday.

Both houses of the legislature were to reconvene this morning to await developments or recess until noon Tuesday when the current special session ends.

Davis has called another special session to convene Tuesday.

Demonstrators packed the legislature Sunday. The segregationists waved Confederate flags and waved signs: "Nix on mixing." "Don't call time out for education" and "Please — keep our schools open."

Administration and segregation leaders said an interposition suit would be filed in New Orleans, placing the sovereignty of Louisiana between the federal courts and the New Orleans school system.

This was described as the long-awaited states rights challenge to federal authority, based on the Tenth Amendment which reserves powers to the state not given to the federal government. It is the heart of the Davis-segregationist showdown over school integration.

The restraining order signed by Judge Wright, author of the school desegregation plan, was requested by the Orleans Parish School Board.

"The feeling of the board, as repeatedly expressed is still that it would be in the best interests of the state if schools remain segregated," the board said. "However, after eight years of court proceedings, it (the board) has decided that the schools must desegregate, according to the order of the federal court."

The restraining order named, among others, the governor, State Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell, State Education Supt. Shelby H. Jackson, the 11 members of the State Board of Education, and all 140 members of the legislature.

The order also named Emile Wagner Jr., a member of the school board who has voted consistently against the other four members in steps to comply with Judge Wright's desegregation plan.

Competition Shifts Plants

DALLAS (AP)—The increase in competition from foreign business is having a direct effect on the growth of many American cities, Lee Davis, vice president of the American Electric Power Service Corp., declared today.

United States industries in many cases, he said, are transferring their plants or scheduling expansions to different cities so that they can match their break-even points with lower priced foreign products.

"Industry is therefore constantly on the alert for opportunities to be nearer the center of its markets, to be closer to raw material supplies and to find reasonable labor rates and living conditions for its workers that are as close to a perfect compromise as possible," Davis told the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

He urged underdeveloped communities to prepare through careful planning to take advantage of industrial and population shifts.

Trial Begins For Laborer

HOUSTON (AP) — Clarence (Sack) Collins, 24, a 306-pound Negro laborer, stood trial today for the slaying of Mrs. Wilma Selby.

Prosecutors asked the death penalty for Collins, described as the triggerman in the kill-for-pay slaying.

He is the third person to stand trial for the murder last Nov. 16.

Joseph Selby, 52, an accountant, has been sent to prison for life. He was the slain woman's husband.

Maggie Morgan, 45, a Negro fortune teller, has been sentenced to the electric chair.

Collins, after his arrest, admitted he shot and killed Mrs. Selby in her home.

A fourth defendant faces trial later in the slaying. This is Patra Mae Bounds, 31, one-time massage parlor maid who turned state's evidence in the Selby and Morgan trials.

French Star To London

LONDON (AP) — Oscar-winning French movie star Simone Signoret flew into London at the weekend and spoke of love, her husband, and Marilyn Monroe.

"If Marilyn is in love with my husband it proves she has good taste," she said. "For I am in love with him too."

Simone is married to French actor Yves Montand who recently starred with Miss Monroe in the movie "Let's Make Love."

After making the film Montand was quoted as saying Marilyn had "a schoolgirl crush" on him. Later he claimed he had been misquoted.

Simone ran a hand over lips devoid of lipstick and said news of the breakup of Miss Monroe's marriage to playwright Arthur Miller had distressed her.

"Marilyn Monroe is a warm, delightful person. I lived with her for three months while Yves was filming 'Let's Make Love' but this business could spoil our friendship."

Miss Signoret would neither confirm nor deny that rumors linking Miss Monroe and her husband had caused a rift between Montand and herself.

Ballot Urged By Lumumba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba proposed today that the United Nations end an alleged reign of terror in the Congo by arranging a national referendum under U.N. supervision.

In a letter to Frederick H. Boland, President of the U.N. General Assembly, Lumumba charged that a minority was carrying on a campaign of subversion aimed at controlling the government.

The referendum he proposed would provide for the election of a president by popular vote rather than by Parliament. Both the referendum and a presidential election, he suggested, would be directed by provincial assemblies, but would be under U.N. supervision.

Gursel New Turk Leader

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Gen. Cemal Gursel, 65, emerged today as political leader of Turkey after firing 14 members of the revolutionary government that took over after the ouster of Premier Adnan Menderes last May.

Gursel told correspondents Sunday night the shakeup strengthened the moderate wing of the revolutionary government and "put an end to discord within the country's ruling National Unity Committee."

Heading the list of those dismissed was Col. Alpaslan Turkesh an extreme nationalist who once supported the union of all Turkish speaking people including those living in the Soviet Union.

Hydraulic Pump Is Demonstrated

The Industrial Supply Co. of Snyder Friday sponsored a demonstration of the new hydraulic bottom home pump built by the Fluid Pack Pump Co., showing local operators that pumps which previously had to be sent to California for repairs can now be repaired inexpensively and with much time saved in this area.

Bob Peas, engineer for Fluid, conducted the demonstration with the assistance of the Industrial pump repairman John Shores.

Present for the affair were Reuben Harrel, Eddie Epley, and Norman Dourland of Mobile Oil Co.; Bob Crawford and Jim Mathis of Standard Oil; Fred Wilcox and Rodney Boyd of Perkins and Prothro Co., Jack Garrison of Baker Oil Tools; and Noel Browning of Universal Well Servicing.

Industrial employes present were Leon Reedy, Bill Hanks, Herman Holcomb, John Shores and Wendell Wood.

Weather Delaying Field Work Again

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Generally favorable weather which Texas farmers used to finish harvesting took a change for the worse at midweek and again delayed outdoor work, said Director John E. Hutchison, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He said recent rains continued to improve ranges and small grain grazing. Moisture was very good in almost all areas.

In the Panhandle, cotton and grain sorghum harvest need good weather to speed the job. Wheat was making good growth. Livestock and range conditions were good.

Cloudy weather kept the cotton harvest from moving into full swing in the South Plains. The Oct. 31 frost apparently did little damage to cotton. A week to 10 days of open weather is needed, before stripper harvesting can roll.

Moisture is adequate in all counties of the Rolling Plains. Small grain growth is excellent and furnishing grazing. Replanting, due to army worm damage, was reported from five counties. The cotton harvest was from 35 to 65 per cent complete. Grades have been lowered in a few counties because of the heavy rains.

In far West Texas recent frost did little damage. The cotton harvest continues in full swing. Range conditions are on the upswing with prices for lambs and steers slightly improved.

Moisture conditions are very good in Central West Texas. Small grains are making excellent growth but army worms are causing some damage. Pastures have greened-up and winter prospects are good with some early calves reported in the Llano area. Improved range conditions had slowed livestock marketings.

Some small grains are being replanted in North Central Texas due to army worm damage and cotton stalks are being shredded. Winter pastures were now furnishing some grazing.

Peanut harvesting made progress during the past week and the cotton harvest was nearly completed in Central Texas.

Cotton harvesting is in the scrapping stage; peanuts are mostly harvested and sweet potato digging is progressing in the western counties of the area. Small grains and winter legumes are furnishing grazing but screw worms and flies were bothersome to livestock.

All crop harvesting is over in deep East Texas and moisture conditions are good. Native grasses are green due to the lack of frost and oats and winter legumes are making good growth.

Field work on the lighter soils was resumed during the favorable weather in the upper Gulf coastal counties but heavy soils remained too wet. The rice harvest is near completion and some farmers are now harvesting a second crop. A limited amount of cotton remains to be harvested. Wet fields delayed the stalk destruction program.

Moisture is plentiful, pasture and range grasses are making good growth and the livestock situation is good in South Central Texas, said Joe Glover from Gonzales. Army worms have caused some damage.

Most fields dried out in far South Texas. Farmers stepped up the weed control-efforts and vegetable harvests. Some disease damage to vegetables has been reported due to the cloudy, damp weather. Some replanting of onions and carrots resulted from the recent heavy rains.

Problems Due In Marketing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today the new Democratic administration may run into livestock price and marketing problems next year.

Trouble was forecast in these words:

"In 1961, the prospective increase in marketings of cattle, and sustained or larger hog marketings later in the year, could lead to further decline in cattle prices and possibly a greater than seasonal reduction in prices of hogs in the fall months.

"In recent years, hog production has usually increased for two years before turning downward," the report said. "Should favorable conditions lead to a sharp increase in hog production in 1961 and 1962, pork supplies per person could again be pushed up to the 68-70 pound rate of 1955 and 1959 when prices of hogs dropped to low levels. The danger of overproduction is accentuated by the probable increase in supplies of beef and veal."

World Trade Is Caught In Middle During Changeover

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the thorny problems caught in the middle during the change in administrations is world trade. Where we're hurting and where we stand to benefit will be getting a verbal going over here this week at the National Foreign Trade Convention.

Some 2,000 American and foreign businessmen, financiers and government officials are on hand to thrash it out.

The problems range far and wide—our loss of gold and dollars to other lands, charges of loss of jobs by Americans either because imports cramp our domestic manufacturers or because U. S. corporations rush to put up plants overseas to make goods they once made here for export.

What's to do about seizure of our property overseas, as in Cuba? Or about our exports still running into barriers abroad although the dollar gap is now history? Or about the tax treatment of profits Americans make on their investments abroad?

American exporters will be assessing the competitive threat from the European trade blocs—the Inner Six or Common Market and the Outer Seven or Free Trade Association.

And over all the formal talks and conferences and over the idea swapping in the corridors where the delegates mingle will be the shadow of the hammer and sickle—the threat, real and potential, to non-communist world trade by the Red bloc.

Actually, the Americans engaged in foreign trade can boast of a much better balance in their dealings this year than last. Our exports this summer were running at about $20 billion a year, compared with $15.5 billion in the early part of 1959. Our imports have swung lower. In September we imported $232 million less than in the 1959 month.

The National Foreign Trade Council, sponsor of the convention has predicted that for the year as a whole our exports should top imports by $3.4 billion. It estimates final figures for the year as exports $18.8 billion, imports $15.4 billion.

But Uncle Sam is still running behind in total payment of dollars to foreigners against receipt of dollars from them.

Outweighing the commercial trade surplus are the amounts spent for foreign aid, U. S. investment abroad, foreign travel and U. S. military bases. The deficit may come to nearly $4 billion again.

It is because of this deficit the last three years that foreigners can turn in their growing supply of dollars to buy gold from the U. S. Treasury.

In 1949 the Treasury had $24.6 billion in gold, at the end of 1957 it had $22.9 billion, and today just a little more than $18 billion.

Washington holds that the most promising way to correct the deficit in the balance of payments will be to increase our exports still more. Those at the convention will be discussing ways and means.

A big topic will be the growth of American private investment overseas, which has played its part in the total flow of dollars abroad. The Department of Commerce says U. S. companies will put $3.85 billion into plants and equipment outside this country this year. Canada will get $1.23 billion of American investments, West Europe $1.1 billion, Latin America $874 million, and other regions the remainder.

But a major cause of the flow of dollars abroad that set off the flurry in the London gold market—the price rose for one day to nearly $41 an ounce, against the legal price here of $35—has been a rush of short-term investment funds from this country to foreign money markets where interest rates are higher.

This problem involves the political and economic question of tight or easy credit, dear or cheap money. And back of that is the further situation of business slackness in the United States while Western Europe has been booming. Interest rates have been eased here to fight the slackness and raised abroad (until recently) to control the boom.

The 2,000 at the world trade meeting will have plenty to talk about.

"APPLE PANDOWDY," extolled in song, was one of the many robust dishes served at barn-raisings in the apple country of old Virginia. Whole Virginia apples, stuffed with a tasty combination of butter sugar and spices are baked under the flaky biscuit crust.

Apples Can Now Be Prepared In Many Holiday Fashions

Few cooks in modern kitchens would want to make three gallons of applesauce for a barn raising.

Yet cooks of another day did just that, without modern conveniences. In addition, they provided 115 lemon pies, 500 doughnuts, 15 large cakes, 3 gallons of rice pudding, 3 gallons of cornstarch pudding, 16 chickens, 3 hams, 50 pounds of roast beef, 300 light rolls, 16 loaves of bread, 6 pounds of stewed prunes, one large crock of stewed raisins, a 5 gallon stone jar of white potatoes and the same amount of sweet potatoes, to feed friends and neighbors who came on one occasion to help build a new barn.

This list of food for a barn raising was discovered in a quaint old hand - written recipe dating back to great grandmother's day. She estimated that it would feed the 175 men expected. And she must have prepared every bit of it in her own old fashioned kitchen.

Barn raisings used to be quite an event in the apple - growing section of Virginia. Barn risings are a thing of the past now, but the apple orchards are bigger than ever and produce some of the finest - flavored apples in the world.

Apples, of course, were the principal ingredient of many a simple yet distinctive dessert enjoyed by our forefathers. But today, where will you find such vigorous old fashioned delights as apple pandowdy, apple roll - ups, or fried apple pies?

If you would discover what you've been missing in an age of packaged mixes and "convenience foods" try this old recipe.

Virginia Apple Pandowdy

Butter a deep earthenware baking dish. Pare and core apples enough to fill it. Do not slice the apples, but place them whole in the dish. Fill the holes in the apples with sugar, sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with butter.

Add one - half cup of water for every 6 apples and a small pinch of salt. Cover with a rich biscuit crust rolled out about one - third of an inch thick, pressing the edges to the edge of the dish to make a tight seal. Cut several slashes in the center of the crust to let out the steam. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees, and bake about 45 minutes more.

Old fashioned cooks used to bake this confection overnight in the hearth oven, then its crumbly buttermilk biscuit crust was cut into the pie, which was served with rich cream.

Be sure to use a rich biscuit dough with twice the usual amount of shortening. A recipe calling for 2 cups of flour will cover a casserole holding 6 - 8 apples.

Versatile Time-Saving And Tasty

If you like really good food but think creative cooking won't fit your time budget, take a tip from the experts and give yourself a head start. The experts in this case are the home economists, and the head start is refrigerated biscuits. They're versatile, these ready to bake fresh - doughs — and they're real time - savers when it comes to, say, turnovers. Yes, you can even turn out turnovers with these biscuits.

Just roll two of the biscuits to a seven inch circle. Fill with tuna, fold over and bake for a main dish of distinction. Or use blueberry pie filling and fry the foldovers for a dessert course as delectable as it is quick to fix. Nice ideas for Sunday night supper or bridge club treats or something good whenever you have unexpected company. You'll notice even the toppings are effortless — Cheese Mushroom Sauce for the turnover is based on a can of soup, and the whipped cream to top your fried pie comes out of another can these days. Feeling creative? Then here are more details on how-to-eat-well - thoughhurried:

TASTY TUNA TURNOVERS

1 can refrigerated biscuits
1 can (6½ oz.) tuna, drained
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons pickle relish
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper

Combine tuna, mayonnaise, relish, pimiento and green pepper. Press 2 biscuits together on well-floured surface. Roll to a 7-inch circle.

Place about 3 tablespoons filling on half of circle. Moisten edge and fold other half over, sealing edges by pressing together with fork. Prick top. Repeat with remaining biscuits.

Bake at 425 degrees for 8 - 10 minutes until golden brown. Serve hot with Cheese Mushroom Sauce. Makes 5.

Cheese Mushroom Sauce

Combine 1 can (10½ oz.) cream of mushroom soup, 1-3 cup milk and ½ cup shredded American cheese. Heat thoroughly.

Blueberry Fried Foldovers

1 can refrigerated biscuits
1 can (1 lb.) blueberry pie filling
Whipped cream

Roll each biscuit to a 4-inch circle on well - floured surface. Place 1 tablespoon filling on each circle. Moisten edge, fold in half and seal by pressing together with fork. Prick top.

Fry in ¼ inch hot oil (375 degrees) about 4 minutes on each side until deep golden brown; turn only once. Drain. Serve warm topped with sweetened whipped cream. Makes 10.

A small amount of frozen raspberries or strawberries (thawed) may be added to a creamy vanilla cake frosting. Add the drained berries first, then as much of the juice as is necessary for good consistency.

Murphy H-D Club Hears Snyderite

Mr. Arthur Blanchard Jr. explained the main points of the Constitution of Texas to a group of ladies of the Murphy Home Demonstration Club recently. Guests were Mrs. A. C. Floyd and little granddaughter Sharon, and Mrs. Lem Gresham.

Among many other things he said the document contained 27 large finely, printed pages, some of which laws were entirely out dated, having been written in the year of 1876.

He also told how a bill becomes a law, and what great influence the lobbyists, have in that field. "This made me feel like we farmers and ranchers and plain statesmen should put a lot of lobbyists in Austin and in Washington to represent our wants," said Mrs. J. E. Sorrells.

Private Collection Of Odd Happenings During Campaign

By ED KOTERPA

WASHINGTON — Now that it's all over, here's my private collection of "now - it - can - be - told" tales. . . .

The first occured at the Los Angeles convention. Sen. Jack Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon Johnson were locked in a battle of anything goes — "all's fair in love and politics."

So at the height of the free for - all, a deliveryman dropped off a huge consignment of campaign literature at Johnson's Biltmore Hotel headquarters.

It was Kennedy literature.

The Johnson staff quickly carted it away. They stored it for Senator Kennedy — in the dark recesses of an abandoned hotel storage room.

Later, the Johnson people found out what happened to their campaign material which was taken by the same deliveryman to the Kennedy office by mistake.

Now it can be told why Richard Nixon did not have New York State "delivered" to him by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Republican campaign headquarters in Washington dispatched its all - important "Citizens For Eisenhower" list of New York people to the Rockefeller office for immediate processing.

As it turned out, that list could have just as well been sent directly to the Dead - Letter Office . . .

Now it can be told that Sen. Wayne Morse (D., - Ore.) plans to turn himself into Kennedy's most annoying roadblock this coming term.

Morse had confided that Kennedy double - crossed him last spring by promising not to oppose Morse in the Oregon primaries, then reversing himself. Morse was caught unprepared — and took a shellacking.

One of Morse's dominant fears: that the United States will now be hit with a national sales tax . . .

There's a mutual interest in birthdays between President - elect Kennedy and Senator Johnson's family doctor, Dr. Billy Bailey of Austin, Texas, and the man from Massachusetts were born the same day — May 29, 1917. Dr. Bailey's wife headed the Texas women stumping the country as "Ladies for Kennedy and Johnson." . . . .

The reason John Kennedy won the Presidency was that he had the longest last name. Ever since 1916, victory has gone to the nominee whose surname carried more letters or syllables.

In that year, Wilson defeated Hughes. Then, Coolidge won over David. Next, it was Hoover over Smith.

Roosevelt won over Hoover, Landon, Willkie and Dewey.

Then Truman took it from Dewey. Twice, Eisenhower won over Stevenson.

Finally, it's Kennedy over Nixon.

There must be a moral in this some place. I suppose the Rockefeller followers will try to find it in 1964.

Monkey Has A Holiday

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Josephine, a two-year-old spider monkey, escaped her cage in a department store Sunday night and entertained window shoppers for nearly two hours.

Every time Josephine threw a potted plant to the floor, the crowd that had gathered outside laughed. Josephine tried to please. Every laugh brought more smashed pots, 45 in all.

Somebody called the store manager and police when Josephine started throwing pots at the crowd. She took one look at store manager Bill Secrest and started swinging through the store via light fixtures.

Police tried bananas for a lure, but Josephine threw them back. Finally Lois Boyer, assistant manager, coaxed Josephine back into her cage with woman talk.

Absentee Votes In Alaska Decisive

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Some 4,000 absentee ballots will decide who gets Alaska's three electoral votes.

With unofficial returns in from 250 of the state's 300 precincts, Vice President Richard M. Nixon had 27,312 votes to President-Elect John F. Kennedy's 26,798.

This gave the Republican candidate a margin of 514 votes. The absentee ballots can't be counted until Friday under Alaska law.

Cotton Bowl Foe Uncertain

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—More than the usual uncertainty cloaks the Cotton Bowl this week but one thing likely to be definitely established is that the game will not be an Arkansas-Mississippi rematch.

If Arkansas beats Texas Tech Saturday, and it is an easy favorite to do it, Arkanas will be host team in the Cotton Bowl. It would get the spot whether it won the Southwest Conference championship or was tied for it by Rice since Arkansas beat Rice during the regular season.

But if Arkansas is in the Cotton Bowl Mississippi undoubtedly would be removed as a prospect for visiting team since the two already have played this year, with Mississippi winning 10-7. Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas disputed that a last play field goal had actually been scored.

Orville Henry, sports editor of the Arkansas Gazette at Little Rock, had still another version—he said Arkansas wouldn't agree to a rematch mainly because the teams are meeting in the first game next fall.

Cotton Bowl officials are not saying that Mississippi would be dropped as a prospect but it has been indicated in several important places that such would be the case.

That would leave six teams still in the running for the Jan. 2 bowl game — Navy, Duke, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee and Pittsburgh. Navy and Duke are considered the leaders although the Cotton Bowl has been wondering if it should wait for those teams to finish the schedule or take somebody else right now. Navy (8-1) can't give a decision until it plays Army Nov. 26. Duke (7-1) still has North Carolina and UCLA to play, running until Dec. 3.

Florida, with a 7-2 record, has only Miami left; Alabama, 6-1-1, has Tampa and Auburn; Pitt, 4-2-3, has Penn State next Saturday, and Tennessee, 5-2-1, winds up with Kentucky and Vanderbilt in two weeks.

The Cotton Bowl selection committee will meet some time this week for a new look at the situation and decide whether to take immediate action or wait until all the prospects have finished their season. Chairman Jack Lowe says he thinks the chances are overwhelming that they will wait.

After Saturday there might be a different situation anyway. Should Arkansas falter and Rice rush in to win the conference championship, Mississippi would again be in the picture since the Owls haven't met the Rebels. But that might eliminate Florida as a prospect since Rice already has played that team and beaten it 10-0.

Great Season Due For Deer Hunters

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What is expected to be the greatest deer hunting season in history opens in Texas Wednesday.

Experts forecast a record number of deer with the largest antlers will be fair game for hunters half an hour before sunup Wednesday.

About 250,000 Texans will take part in the hunting season which ends, in most cases, at sunset Dec. 31, said Henry Le Blanc of Port Arthur, president of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas.

One of the best known hunters may be President-Elect John F. Kennedy who is to visit the Lyndon B. Johnson ranch near Johnson City Wednesday.

E. A. Walker, chief of game restoration for the Game and Fish Commission, said the kill is likely to be in excess of the 155,000 shot last year, the biggest haul in the nation.

Deer are reported to be in fine condition due to heavy rains.

The biggest kill is expected in Llano County, 14,000, where there still was deer overpopulation despite the 9,220 deer harvest last year. The figure includes 4,009 anterless animals.

In the 104 counties under the Game and Fish Commission regulatory authority, no hunter will get in trouble this year by shooting a spike buck.

Llano—Turkeys as well as deer are on the increase, but not excessively so.

Fredericksburg — Ample game with fine antlers have been reported.

Kerrville — Tremendous and "best in years' was the deer crop report. A plentiful supply of turkeys is forecast.

Mason—the best supply of deer since 1953 awaits hunters.

Menard—The best season in recent years with bigger deer and bigger antlers.

Graford—A lot of big deer have been killed on highways by cars and a deer season as good as last year is expected.

Paris—A deer supply as good or slightly better than last year is expected.

Centerville—Banner hunts are expected in Leon and Freestone Counties.

Hearne—Deer are generally in good condition and the prospects are good for this season.

Alpine—The largest and best mule deer hunt ever staged in the Trans-Pecos will be held here Dec. 1-8.

N. M. State Near Title

PHOENIX (AP)—New Mexico State is only two games away from erasing years of football frustration with an undefeated season and the Border Conference championship.

The Aggies meet weak and winless Hardin-Simmons this weekend at Las Cruces and are favored to win their ninth game of the year and 13th in a row. A Nov. 26 clash with Texas Western closes out the season.

New Mexico State put on one of their typical last quarter surges Saturday to crush a stubborn West Texas State 35-15.

Arizona State University was boosting Border prestige with a 25-22 victory over North Carolina State.

Arizona crushed Texas Western 28-14 and Hardin-Simmons lost to Trinity University 43-12.

This week Arizona State and West Texas State are idle while Kansas State visits Arizona and powerful Bowling Green is at Texas Western.

SHORT GAIN—Pitt's Fred Cox is about to be driven out of bounds by guard Mike Casp of Army after a three-yard gain in the first quarter of the game at Pitt Stadium in Pittsburgh, Penn. Cox carried to the Pitt 46 yard line. (AP Wirephoto)

CAUGHT FOR A LOSS—Texas Christian University back Harry Moreland (22) is caught behind the line of scrimmage in action of the game with University of Texas at Fort Worth. Coming in to make the tackle is Texas guard David Kristynik. Also in on the play is back David Russell (40) of Texas. (AP Wirephoto)

Only Half Of Playoff Berths Filled In AAA Football Race

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five teams remain undefeated and untied, and eight playoff berths have been filled as the Class AAA division of Texas schoolboy football moves into its final week.

Monahans, Jacksonville, Bay City, Seguin and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo reign as the elite quintet with unmarred records. Of the five, only Seguin has not clinched a playoff berth. McKinney and Carrollton have not as yet met defeat, but both have been tied.

Other teams with playoff berths assured are Brownwood, Huntsville, LaMarque and Port Lavaca.

Several teams meet this week in showdown battles for their respective championships. Carrollton encounters Fort Worth Castleberry for the Dist. 4 title, Corsicana engages Mesquite for the Dist. 8 crown, Cleburne clashes with Lavega for the Dist. 9 pennant, and Seguin tackles New Braunfels to decide the representative of Dist. 13.

Dist. 1 is in a three-way deadlock with Dumas, Levelland and Littlefield sharing first place. Levelland, however, plays Littlefield this week. Colorado City, Snyder and Sweetwater are in a similar position in Dist. 3. McKinney and Greenville are tied in Dist. 6 with McKinney still facing Mt. Pleasant.

Uvalde can nail the Dist. 14 trophy by turning back Del Rio.

This week's schedule by districts (all Friday games and district games):

1. Littlefield at Levelland, Phillips at Dumas.
2. Kermit at Monahans, Andrews at Pecos, Brownfield at Odessa Ector.
3. Sweetwater at Lamesa, San Angelo Lake View at Snyder.
4. Graham at Vernon, Brownwood at Weatherford, Mineral Wells at Breckenridge.

Class AA, A Set To Start Playoff

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They start playing for the championships this week in the lower classes of Texas schoolboy football with Olney and Stinnett still favored to win the titles but facing some serious contenders down the line.

Olney, the top favorite in Class AA, tackles Azle at Weatherford Saturday night. Olney is unbeaten and untied but Azle has dropped one game.

Stinnett, the No. 1 team of Class A and also undefeated and untied, has Lefors in its first game out. Stinnett beat Lefors 33-0 in midseason.

Brady, the defending champion of Class AA, faces a tough one as the Bulldogs start their search for another title. They meet undefeated, untied Gatesville in the first round. Brady has lost only one game—that to Stamford, which isn't competing for the championship this year.

Stamford beat Brady in last year's finals but got its title taken away and became ineligible to compete for it this time because of a recruiting violation. Brady thus won the title by default.

Three games in the two classes match unbeaten teams. In AA, Hooks meets Daingerfield and Bellville takes on Crockett, while in Class A Alto faces Shelbyville.

Tech, Hogs To Clash In Crucial Tilt

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference football race winds up this week for Arkansas and Texas Tech and their game is one of the most important of the year.

It means a possible championship and a certain Cotton Bowl bid for Arkansas, which has reached the final lap with a 5-1 record. If Arkansas wins it, which it is favored to do, it will gain at least a tie for the championship. And the only team that could tie Arkansas is Rice, which has a 4-1 record and games with Texas Christian and Baylor left.

But should Arkansas and Rice tie, Arkansas would get the Cotton Bowl host spot because it beat Rice in regular season play.

However, defeat for Arkansas could give Rice the other two teams. Only that could give Baylor the Cotton Bowl spot because it would get it by having never been in the Dallas football classic.

Arkansas clung to its lead in the conference race by whipping Southern Methodist 26-3 last week. It kept SMU winless and on its way to its worst season since 1916.

Rice held the pace with a 21-14 victory over Texas A&M and Texas knocked Texas Christian out of the running by edging the Horned Frogs 3-2.

Arkansas, Rice, Texas (4-2) and Baylor (3-2) still are in the race but all others have been eliminated.

The conference wound up its intersectional schedule by splitting even in two games, Baylor trouncing Southern California 35-14 but Texas Tech taking a 10-7 trimming from Wyoming. It gave the league a record of 10-8-1 for the season.

Rice and Texas Christian battle at Houston Saturday while Baylor and Southern Methodist tangle at Dallas. Texas and Texas A&M rest preparing for their Thanksgiving Day struggle at Austin next week. That will wind up the season for the two, barring a bowl bid for Texas, which will finish with a 7-3 record if it licks the Aggies.

Wyoming Gridder Is Traffic Victim

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — The traffic death Sunday of Bill Bolick, a University of Wyoming guard, cast a shadow over Wyoming's 10-7 football victory over Texas Tech Saturday.

Halfback Sandy Meggert, 21, was seriously injured in the same wreck.

Bolick, 24, a 190-pound junior, was killed instantly when a car hit a bridge on U.S. 287 about 26 miles north of Fort Collins, Colo.

Meggert is in serious condition with a fractured pelvis, internal injuries and multiple cuts and bruises.

Bolick died of a broken neck.

Wyoming Coach Bob Devaney said the two had borrowed the car to drive to Boulder, Colo., to visit Meggert's sister, a University of Colorado student.

The Wyoming team returned from Lubbock by plane Saturday night. Both men played most of the game at Lubbock.

Hawaii's official bird, the Hawaiian goose or nene, has been saved from extinction largely through the efforts of rancher Herbert Shipman. There are about 100 of the gray-brown geese in captivity.

Missouri Tigers This Week's 'Sitting Duck'

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's ahead for those surprising Missouri Tigers?

Maybe top national ranking, the Big Eight championship, the Orange Bowl, a perfect season—or disaster this week at the hands of the Kansas Jayhawks.

Each is a possibility and the way heads are rolling among the top teams lately, the latter could almost be labeled a probability. Latest case in point: Minnesota, a 23-14 loser to Purdue Saturday after its amazing football resurgence earned it the top spot a week ago in The Associated Press poll, and had everyone talking Big Ten title, Rose Bowl, undefeated season and national championship.

Now Missouri, which soundly laced Oklahoma 41-19 over the weekend, faces a similar situation. With the Tigers it is all-or-nothing proposition. Currently ranked second with an 8-0 record, they seem almost certain to be the No. 1 team in this week's poll.

Kansas, which ironically has lost its only games to teams ranked No. 1 at the time (Syracuse and Iowa), is banned from post-season play by the NCAA. But the Jayhawks, which walloped Colorado 34-6 Saturday, have a 5-0-1 Big Eight record compared to Missouri's 6-0. To the winner go the conference spoils, and Mizzou also get a choice bowl spot, probably the Orange Bowl.

Minnesota, while wounded, is not yet dead. The Gophers can still get a piece of the Big Ten title—and perhaps the nod to go to the Rose Bowl — by beating Wisconsin this week. Iowa ranked fifth, is assured of part of the conference crown after it demolished Ohio State (No. 3) 35-12.

Iowa winds up its 1960 campaign this week against outsider Notre Dame (1-7). A Minnesota victory would match Iowa's 5-1 conference mark. But the Gophers 27-10 win a week ago over Iowa puts them in the fore if any bowl possibilities raise.

If the Rose Bowl is the place for the Gophers, then they can look forward to meeting Washington, which clinched its second straight Big Five title by beating California 27-7. The sixth-ranked Huskies beat Wisconsin 44-8 in the last Rose Bowl.

Also very much alive in the Southeastern Conference, not to mention the national picture, is Mississippi, fourth-ranked a week ago. Ole Miss can clinch the SEC title and a spot to defend its Sugar Bowl title by beating Mississippi State this weekend.

Also ready to go a-bowlin', with perhaps one exception, are the other four teams in the select top ten. The exception is eight-ranked Navy, which must beat Army Nov. 26 before it is free to accept any postseason bids. The Middies (8-1) ran Virginia's losing string to 25 with a 41-6 victory.

Duke (No. 7), which clinched at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference title by beating Wake Forest 34-7, is prominently mentioned for the other spot in the Orange Bowl. The Blue Devils play traditional rival North Carolina Saturday to wind up conference play and a win, or loss by second-place N. C. State, gets the title.

Arkansas (Mo. 9) needs only to beat Texas Tech this weekend to nail down at least part of the Southwest Conference crown. The Razorbacks have a 5-1 mark after beating winless Southern Methodist 26-3. Second-place Rice must beat Texas Christian this week, then Baylor if it hopes to gain a tie for conference honors.

Auburn, ranked tenth, once more relied on Ed Dyas' trusty toe for three field goals in a 9-6 victory over Georgia. Dyas now has 12 for the season and 26 for his career, both national records. Auburn and Florida (5-1) are tied for second. In the SEC Florida finished league play with a 21-6 victory over Tulane and received a bid to the Gator Bowl. It will decide after its game with Miami Nov. 26.

There is unfinished business elsewhere this weekend. Yale can cop the Ivy League crown and its first unbeaten season since 1910 by beating Harvard. The Elis crushed Princeton's title hopes with a 43-22 drubbing to run their record to 8-0, and 6-0 in the Ivy.

Utah State, 9-0 over-all and 6-0 in the Skyline Conference, can win the title by beating second-place Utah, 6-1 in league ply. State easily handled College of the Pacific 45-6.

New Mexico State (8-0) can gain at least a tie for the Border title if it whips Hardin-Simmons after beating West Texas State 35-15.

Ohio University, the nation's top-ranked small college team at 9-0, nailed down the Mid-American Conference by shipping previously unbeaten Bowling Green 14-7 while Virginia Military won the Southern Conference with its 20-6 triumph over The Citadel.

Perkins Is MV Leader

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Texas State fullback Arthur Perkins poses as a threat to the Wichita Shockers' hopes of winning the Missouri Valley Conference football championship.

Wichita can win the title outright by beating North Texas State at Wichita Saturday. With their 2-0 Valley record and 6-2 mark overall, the Shockers are favored to beat North Texas, (0-2 and 2-5-1) but they'll have to deal with Perkins.

A 210-pound junior from Fort Worth, Perkins took over the conference rushing lead with a 4.7 yard average although his team was beaten 12-8 by Tulsa Saturday. Perkins has 405 yards on 87 carries.

Tulsa is idle Saturday, but will be pulling for North Texas to beat Wichita. In that case the Hurricane would share the title with the Shockers.

Tulsa, 2-1 and 4-5, completes its schedule at Houston Nov. 26.

Wichita beat Drake 32-7 in a non-conference game last Friday.

Cincinnati, a 33-13 winner over Marquette, will close with Miami (Ohio) in Cincinnti Saturday.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONEY

this entitles the bearer to collect Fifty Cents Issued by order of QUESTION: What is a "shinplaster"?

• • •

ANSWER: During the Revolutionary War, paper money was mistrusted. In 1775, for instance, the Continental Congress issued paper money which dropped in value to a point where people began to refer to anything of small value as something "not worth a Continental." Various kinds of paper money were in circulation. Some had face values as low as 25 cents or 50 cents. These small denomination bills were printed crudely on cheap paper. The people began to call them "shinplasters" because they had little confidence in the bills. At that time, it was common to treat a small cut or scratch with paper soaked in arnica. The wound would be covered with this paper. The feeling among many people was that the 25 cents and 50 cents bills, as well as other paper money, was of about the same value as any piece of paper that would be used to treat a cut. And so the term "shinplaster" arose.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: You can see some of this "shinplaster" money today in most museums of historical societies. If there is no such place near you, illustrations of such bills can be seen in various history books.

Sammy Davis Jr. Weds May Britt

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Negro performer Sammy Davis Jr. wed blonde Swedish actress May Britt Sunday—with the help of friends and celebrities ranging from the sister of President-elect Kennedy to the Duke of Bedford.

Miss Britt, a statuesque blonde from Stockholm, almost missed her wedding when a severe attack of intestinal flu with a 103-degree fever, bedded her hours before the ceremony.

But she made it to the Jewish rites held under a bower of white chrysanthemums in the living room of Davis' home high above Hollywood's Sunset Strip.

"I felt a little woozy," the bride confessed, "but I was able to get through with it because of the excitement of marrying the man I love."

Later Davis said it was his 26-year-old bride who first mentioned marriage.

"She was the one who popped the question," he said.

Miss Britt, wearing a sheath champagne dress with short veil, was given away by her father, Hugo Wilkens of Stockholm. He and the bride's mother flew in specially for the ceremony.

"Sammy is a wonderful personality," said the bride's father in halting English. "I'm happy that my daughter has married him."

The Jewish rites—both bride and groom are converts to Judaism—were performed by Rabbi William M. Kramer of Hollywood's Temple Israel.

Frank Sinatra was best man and Mrs. George Rhodes, wife of Davis' musical arranger, was matron of honor.

As the groom crushed the wine glass under his heel in the traditional Jewish rites, the solemnity of the service was broken by a loudly played record at a party in a neighbor's house. The recording: Sinatra's "Making Whoopee."

After the rites, the bride went to bed. Davis went solo to a reception at the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

There he greeted such famous guests as Janet Leigh, Barbara Rush, Milton Berle, Mrs. Dan Martin, Diana Dors, Jack (Maverick) Kelly, Peter (Lawman) Brown and Louis (77 Sunset Strip) Quinn.

Then he was spotted by Pat Kennedy Lawford, sister of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

"How do you feel, chicky baby?" asked Mrs. Lawford as Davis bussed her on the cheek.

Said Davis: "Man, I feel electric."

He was next greeted by the Duke and Duchess of Bedford.

"I bring you greetings and congratulations from England," said the duke.

Davis at first demurred at kissing his bride for photographers.

"There are enough haters in the world already who are waiting for that shot," he said.

Later he relented and kissed her on the cheek.

Miss Britt said she would resume her career whenever 20th Century Fox asks her to do a picture, but added: "First, I'd like to start a family."

The marriage was the second for each. Davis was married to Loray White, Negro singer, in 1958. They were divorced after two and a half months of marriage.

Miss Britt, once touted as a successor to Marlene Dietrich, was married to Edward Gregson, a Stanford law student three years her junior. They separated Sept. 8, 1959.

Death Toll For Weektnd Up Sharply

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The violent death toll over the week end in Texas rose sharply Sunday to 26 with 21 deaths in traffic alone.

T. L. Adams, 34, of McAllen died Saturday night when the small Cessna 172 he was flying crashed eight miles northeast of Van Horn in far West Texas.

Donnie Colquitt, 41, Houston Negro, was killed Sunday night when two cars struck him as he walked along a Houston expressway.

Shiu Hing Ree, 24, of Houston was killed Sunday when thrown from his car in a two-car accident in Houston.

Three persons were killed and five injured in a head-on collision on State 146 five miles south of LaPorte Sunday night. Killed were Rudolph Ourso, 47; his wife Ruby, 47, and her son, Jimmy Elliot, 11. They lived near Baytown.

Mrs. Joel Wetsel, 56, wife of a farmer, died of gunshot wounds at her home near Roby Sunday.

Ronnie Wolfe, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wolfe of Fort Worth, was killed Sunday when he was run over by a car on State 199 west of Fort Worth.

Shean Moore, 4, son of El Paso contractor and Mrs. Sam Moore, was killed Sunday when a driverless station wagon pinned him against a stone fence near his home. Police said the car's brake had been released by the boy's brother as they were attempting to move the car to play basketball.

Mrs. Rebecca Mosley, 55, a Negro, was killed Sunday when struck by a car on State 92 in Hamlin.

Joe Collom, 58, Aspermont farmer and rancher, was shot to death at his home Sunday. Sheriff Charles Gibson of Stonewall County said Mrs. Collom was being held without charge.

Airman Woodall Koblin, 19, Chicago Negro at Matagorda Air Force Base, was electrocuted Sunday in Victoria when a television aerial fell into a 7,200-volt power line.

Alton Pruitt, 33, of Muleshoe, died Sunday when his motor scooter and a pickup truck collided near Muleshoe.

Jenny Knappick, 15, of Devine, died Sunday in a one-car accident near Kyote in South Texas.

Electoral College Has Its Problems

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—It seemed like a good idea back in 1788 to have the president of the United States chosen by an electoral college.

The idea was to have the best people in each state get together and pick the best man in the country to run things. It worked fine as long as George Washington was around.

Washington won the unanimous vote of the electors in 1789 and 1792, but never again did the system work the way it was supposed to. The grit of politics got in the gearbox.

Once the people began to have a say as to who were the best men in each state and rival parties started pushing rival candidates, the whole idea of a genteel aristocracy tapping one of its members as president collapsed.

But despite its failure and the repeated attacks on it, the system is still with us and the antiquaed machinery will have o be cranked up on Dec. 19 to make the election of John F. Kennedy official.

On that day the electors will meet in their respective states and confirm what the voters did last Tuesday. Each state gets as many votes as it has members in Congress.

Originally the electors in most states were chosen by their state legislatures but now they are picked by party leaders in each state (although Alabama picked them in a primary). This slate of electors is what the voters choose, not a presidential candidate. The vote is recorded in the candidate's name, however, and as the system has evolved, the electors' votes in almost all cases belong to him.

Fourteen unpledged electors in Alabama and Mississippi will be free to vote for anybody they want on Dec. 19, but their votes can't change the result as it now stands.

Considering the potential for trouble in adhering to such a system it is remarkable that only four elections in the nation's history have been snagged in it.

In 1800 Thomas Jefferson organized his followers so well every one of his electors named him and Sen. Aaron Burr of New York. The plan was for Burr to be vice president, but the Constitution merely says the top man becomes president and the runnerup vice president.

The less well-organized opposition split its votes so Jefferson and Burr tied for first. The House of Representatives had to untangle the snarl and chose Jefferson, who promptly put through a constitutional amendment calling for separate ballots for president and vice president.

In 1824 Andrew Jackson topped four other candidates but fell short of an electoral majority. One of the candidates was Speaker of the House Henry Clay. When the House was called on to act again Clay threw his support to John Quincy Adams, who became president. Clay became his secretary of state.

In 1888, Grover Cleveland won a majority of the popular vote, but lost on electoral votes (233 to 168) to Benjamin Harrison. Cleveland got even in 1892 when he beat Harrison to win a second—and non-consecutive — term as president.

But the worst mess was in 1876 when Democrat Samuel B. Tilden won the popular vote but fell one vote short of an electoral majority due to conflicting electoral counts in three Southern states. The House was Democratic that year and the Senate Republican. Neither would let the other act.

Finally a commission of five senators, five representatives and five Supreme Court justices voted on the rival claims and by a 8-7 vote awarded all the disputed votes to the Republican candidate, Rutherford B. Hayes. He was named president just two days before Inauguration Day.

Texas Solons To Advance In Rankings

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The turnover of congressmen last Tuesday will elevate a few Texans in their committee rankings, but leaves most in the same position on the seniority ladder.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough will become the fourth ranking Democrat on the Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

He goes up two rungs, due to the retirement of Montana's Sen. James Murray and the resignation of Sen. John Kennedy. Yarborough's seventh place position on the Commerce Committee and third place on Post Office and Civil Service remains unchanged.

In the House, Rep. Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls goes up one place to ninth among Democrats on the powerful Ways and Means Committee. Dallas' Republican Rep. Bruce Alger remains eighth among GOP members.

Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana goes from third to second position among Democrats on the House Banking Committee with the retirement of Rep. Paul Brown of Georgia.

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson goes to third place among Democrats on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, up one position because of the defeat of Rep. A. S. Carnahan of Missouri. Burleson continues as chairman of the House Administration Committee.

If Rep. Morgan M. Moulder, D-Mo., is defeated by his Republican opponent in a race still undecided, Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa will go up from seventh to sixth place on the House Commerce Committee. Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen would go up from 16th to 15th position on the same committee.

Rep. Bob Casey of Houston goes up two notches to 17th position on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

Two Persons Killed In Bus-Car Crash

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—A small bus filled with Sunday school children and a car spinning crazily out of control collided near here Sunday. One child and the bus driver were killed; 17 were hurt.

"One of the worst I've seen," reported highway patrolman Edward J. Slepicka. "The car looked like a train had hit it."

Killed in the crumpled bus were the driver, Walter Roeben, 50, and one of his 16 passengers from nearby Goshen, Henry Gadbury, 11.

Slepicka said the car hit a water puddle left by recent rains. The crash threw out both occupants and trapped most of the screaming children inside the bus.

Oilmen Are Advised To Move Slowly

By MAX B. SKELTON

CHICAGO (AP)—American oil operators were advised today not to rush to Washington and press the new administration and Congress for quick solutions to problems.

Frank Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute (API), suggested oilmen first permit President-Elect John Kennedy and the new Congress to get their feet on the ground.

"This, in short, is a call for fair play," Porter told the annual meeting of API, unofficial spokesman for the domestic oil operator.

Politics and general election results dominated informal discussions as over 7,000 oil and gas operators began the three-day meeting.

Porter, an Oklahoma City oilman, said the industry has its share of problems but has no reason for feeling depressed. Current operations, he said, are on a high plateau.

"But even a plateau can be a discouraging place when you're used to soaring," he said.

Porter acknowledged that high gasoline taxes and renewed attacks on the industry's 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance are major problems that must be faced in Washington.

Porter suggested API, through its 150 committees and subcommittees, develop a grassroots program for the coming year and approach its problems calmly and with objectivity.

He said the United States no longer is the center of gravity of the oil industry and that API may need to broaden its objectives. He said it may be time for API to give a world approach instead of a domestic approach to many current problems.

The United States' share of world crude oil reserves has dropped from 32 to 11 per cent since 1945. Its share of world crude production has dropped from 66 to 40 per cent.

Porter attributed much of the boom in foreign oil operations to the success of American oil companies in locating foreign supplies.

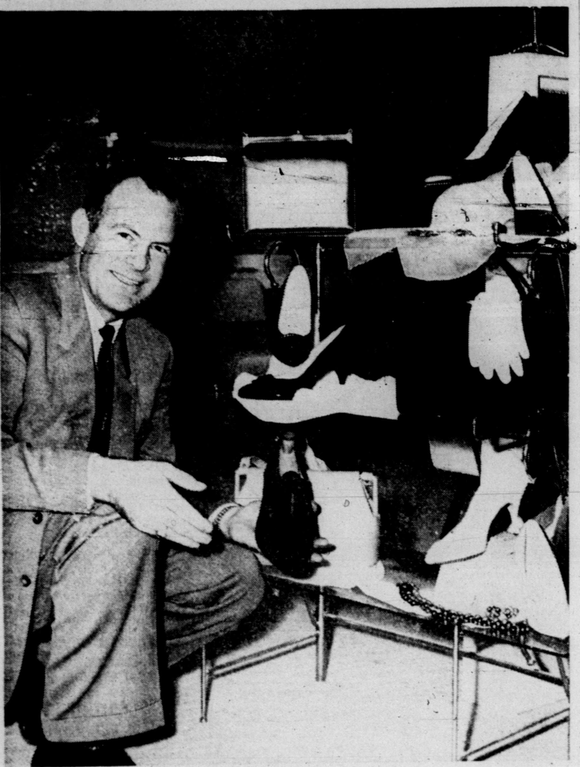
SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS



NEW HEAD OF ROGERS SHOE DEPARTMENT—Cliff Hale, who recently took over the shoe department of Rogers Inc. on the west side of the Snyder square, is shown above as he arranged a new display of the new look in shoe fashions which this spring are moving into pleated vamps in the new shades of coffee cream and graham cracker with the ever popular blacks. Hale is holding the latest shoe in lighter, more flexible comfort-the Walkover Zephyr for men with the snug grip boxer top.

Rogers, Inc., Features All That's New In Elegant Shoes

A special delicacy of the Italian nation is the toasted periwinkle snail. Served with these ticklers of the gourmet taste is a pointed instrument resembling the American toothpick with which to pick particles of the winkles from between the teeth.

These "winkle pickers" have inspired designers of milady's footwear to new lengths in new styles for spring-the more extreme the point, the higher the fashion.

The new "winkle picker" shoe is of particular interest to Cliff Hale, the new Shoe Dept. manager of Rogers Inc. on the west side of the square, who has just returned from a style show for spring fashions in Dallas. Hale has been to Italy and picked winkles with a winkle picker.

Of the new looks in shoes, Hale found that both women's and men's shoes are going further in the long sleek streamlined look in more delicate and foot-flattering styles for the ladies and softer, lighter, more flexible shoes for men.

Destined to be the most popular fashion shoe in this area is the modified winkle picker, the triple needle toe- in -heel heights from dress flats for the young to needle heels and the stacked heel which continues high on the parade of fashion and gets even higher and slimmer this year.

Rogers shoe department features every style to complete your wardrobe perfectly-the basic tailored daytime shoe, the dressy afternoon shoe and the sophisticated, elegant cocktail and evening slippers.

And let's not forget the get-up-and-go soft, comfortable medium heel for living, the "fun shoes" for fall play and sport clothes, and those important at-home shoes for leisure.

With short skirts giving American women the "leggy look" it's more important than ever to have just the right shoe for foot and costume flattery. Shape up your basic shoe wardrobe and sprinkle it with shoes of highest fashion at the shoe department at Rogers. Let Cliff Hale help you choose the exact type shoe to bring your clothes and accessories together in the rightness of calculated simplicity.

Men's shoes are in the news, too, with their lo-seam line and the newsmaker in men's shoes-the snug grip boxer top for a perfect fit in the heel.

The ultimate is the Walkover Zephyrs designed to look right with up-to-the-minute continental fashions, designed of the finest imported and domestic calfskins with unlined or completly lined styles for lighter weight and more flexible wear.

With special velvet finish, extra unlined insoles and chrome treated outsoles, the Walkover Zephyrs are lighter but longer wearing with even more comfort.

For the youngsters or for the adults in your family, shop Rogers shoe department where you can depend on getting shoes of quality and fashion that are sure to please.

When you "shop shoes" at Rogers, you can be sure you will be "walking right" wherever you go.

Election Puzzle To Soviet People

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

If the Soviet man-in-the-street tries, on the basis of what he has been told officially, to figure out what happened in the U. S. election, he is going to be a mighty bewildered citizen.

Throughout the campaign Ivan's newspapers told him Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon were Tweedledee and Tweedledum. The American voter, he read, had no choice at all. Both candidates, said the Communist press, served exactly the same interests and had the same predatory imperialist aims.

Even when it was over, a typical official press comment was that "it is impossible to see without a magnifying glass any marked difference between the Republican leader, Nixon and the Democrat leader, Kennedy."

But then Ivan also was told that the election was a repudiation of the Republican party. For Ivan, there was no explanation of how the American voters could repudiate a policy if there was no difference in policies.

Nor did his press attempt to explain to him why an American electorate could repudiate a political party while a Soviet electorate could never hope to do so.

"Millions of Americans," Moscow radio told its home audiences, "have given their reply to the arms race, to military provocation and to the aggravation of the cold war which was the foundation of the Eisenhower administration policy."

The election, continued the broadcaster, expressed the people's "profound disapproval of the political course of the U.S. government."

Puzzled Ivan may have wondered:

How come Americans get to express profound disapproval of their government? Could Ivan do likewise? And if both Democrats and Republicans represent "big monopoly capital," how can the American people repudiate an arms race by electing one or the other?

If both parties are, as the press has told Ivan, incurably imperialist, how can Comrade Khrushchev expect President Kennedy will represent "the people" any more than President Eisenhower did?

Wasn't President Eisenhower once described by Comrade Khrushchev as a man of peace? And when President Eisenhower succeeded President Truman, who until then had been the main devil in the Soviet press, didn't Ivan read that the Americans elected a Republican as a repudiation of the Democrats and of warmongering and arms-racing?

If an imperialist president is such a menacing dictator, oppressing the American people, how come they can remove him?

Ivan tends to shrug his shoulders, defeated by his puzzlement. Those Russians who do otherwise just get more bewildered, like a fellow I met in a Moscow department store seven years ago.

Sizing me up as an American, he sidled up and demanded: "Is it true all Americans have automobiles?"

I nodded and he squinted suspiciously. "Then tell me this," he pursued. "Why does Truman have aggressive designs on the Soviet Union?"

"Just a minute, I said. "Truman's not president now. Eisenhower is."

He gave me a grin and a knowing wink and said: "Yes but you know, and I know Truman's still the boss."

Poster Girl For Campaign Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Linda Gail Breese, born crippled, will be pictured on the 1961 March of Dimes posters.

She is 4 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean E. Breese of suburban Upper Arlington. The couple has three other children, one of whom, Ronnie, 12, is a victim of cerebral palsy.

The March of Dimes campaign will be held in January. Linda's likeness will appear on millions of posters and in thousands of newspapers and magazines, plus network television.

Linda still uses crutches but has been able to discard her leg braces. She wants "to be a mommy" when she grows up.

An English sailor, James Bartley, was reported to have been swallowed by a sperm whale in 1891 and found alive 24 hours later when the whale was cut open. Biologists are dubious.

Planets May Harbor Some True Sandmen

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There may be true "sandmen" on some yet undiscovered planets, a team of University of Pennsylvania scientists said today.

The sandmen were envisioned as living creatures having silicon—an essential constituent of sand and rocks—as their basic component, instead of carbon. The latter is the key element in the chemistry of all life on earth.

The researchers told about it in a report prepared for the opening of the autumn meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

The team, headed by researcher M. Abedini, also envisioned that some day vitamins and hormones, for use in medical fields, might be prepared from sandy substances.

The Penn researchers said that for the first time they have prepared new, simple silicon-containing compounds which are closely analgous in both chemical and physical properties to a number of familiar compounds based on carbon.

One of them is a silicon-based "ether" which is the exact counterpart of the widely known pain-killing compound—except that it contains atoms of the element silicon instead of the usual atoms of carbon.

The scientists said: "At the present time, our knowledge of these simple silicon compounds is at the stage where carbon chemistry was 150 years ago.

"Since all living substances contain both simple and complex carbon compounds, it is somewhat fascinating to wonder whether silicon compounds will, within the next 150 years, be introduced into living substances in place of analgous carbon compounds."

They added: "It is possible that living 'things', with their chemistry based on silicon instead of carbon, may exist in some of the billions of yet undiscovered planets having an atmosphere of different composition from that on earth."

29 Governors Are Guests In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Twenty-nine U. S. governors and their wives today started their second round of sightseeing as official guests for the 150th anniversary of Argentina's independence.

President Arturo Frondizi headed the group of Argentine officials who greeted the governors Sunday. U. S. Ambassador Roy Rubottom provided them with a private briefing at the beginning of their eight-day tour through this country.

There was reportedly much discussion between the Argentine officials and their guests of the need to increase trade between the United States and Latin America and otherwise improve relations to offset the Communist influence in the Western Hemisphere represented by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban government.

Early their first day the governors placed a wreath at the Buenos Aires monument to Argentina's war of independence. They went on to hear a lecture on the economy and culture of Argentina and to take a yacht trip through the canals of the delta of the Plata River.

Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado brought a message from President-elect John F. Kennedy. He said Kennedy told him by telephone he wanted Latin Americans to know he is "looking forward to a vigorous re-establishment of the good neighbor policy as it was understood under the terms of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Diem Cabinet Due Shuffle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP — President Ngo Dinh Diem, may shake up the South Viet Nam Cabinet as a result of the abortive paratrooper revolt against his government, reliable sources said today.

Although Diem crushed the rebellion and emerged in a strong position, sources said he may make his Cabinet the scapegoat for the unrest and dissatisfaction that led to the attempted coup.

Rebel leaders charged Diem with running a "family dictatorship" that divided and weakened the military and the rest of the country in the fight against the Communists.

The bachelor president also has come under sharp criticism for restricting freedom of the press and crushing all political opposition.

Agents Break Art Smuggling Ring

By HAL MCCLURE

NEW YORK (AP) — Treasury agents have smashed a nationwide art smuggling ring and seized more than $400,000 worth of Chinese art objects brought illegally into this country from Communist China.

The investigation took agents half way around the world and to at least six cities in this country.

The most valuable item recovered was an 800-year-old scroll painting of magpies and butterflies attributed to the artist Emperor Hui Tsung of the Sung dynasty. It was valued at $65,000.

Another smuggled scroll, the Treasury Department said Sunday was a 12th century painting, "Birds and Flowers," sold to the Boston Museum and valued at $25,000.

Agents said other smuggled objects were found in the Cleveland Museum and the Sreer Gallery, Washington, D. C.

Dealings with Red China are forbidden under the Trading with the Enemy Act.

The biggest haul was at the Ct. loo Galleries, in midtown Manhattan, where paintings, screens and other objects, including the $65,000 Hui Tsung scroll, were recovered. The objects were valued at $282,000. The gallery is owned by Frank Caro, 56, a native of France but now a naturalized American.

He was described as one of two major dealers who had cooperated in the investigation.

Agents said the government got onto the smuggling operation some time ago when a Treasury agent learned that a millionaire Hong Kong dealer and collector, J. D. Chen, was involved in transactions that brought ancient art objects from Red China to this country.

Tourists or immigrants from Hong Kong brought in the objects as personal effects. Sometimes the items were concealed in luggage.

Chen began selling the objects to American dealers, particularly the Loo galleries and Charles L. Doue, a Berkeley, Calif., dealer.

The search led agents to the Boston Museum, where an examination of records indicated that the "Birds and Flowers" painting came from a Los Angeles dealer, identified only as Yang.

In a Los Angeles bank vault the investigators found a $50,000 bronze turtle dating to the 6th century B. C. and two screen paintings worth $8,000 each.

Yang was arrested on charges of smuggling and violating the Trading With the Enemy Act.

Agents then were led to Duoe, who allegedly had $70,000 worth of smuggled goods, and to the Loo Galleries in New York.

E. E. Minskoff, chief of enforcement for the Treasury Department's foreign assets control division, said the seized contraband will be sold at auction.

No charges have been filed against Caro or Doue.

Think Skeleton Is That Of Skindiver

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Authorities think a skeleton found in 80 feet of water may be the remains of a skindiver killed by a shark in 1959.

Three geologists found the skeleton 650 yards off La Jolla Sunday while diving for the Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

The remains were tentatively reported to fit the description of Robert L. Pamperin, 33, who was last seen being pulled down by a big shark June 14, 1959.

Prince Charles Has 12th Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Flags rose around Britain today to mark the 12th birthday of Prince Charles, but it was no holiday for the boy who is first in line for the throne.

It was lessons as usual for him.

Queen Elizabeth's eldest child is a student at Cheam Preparatory School in nearby Buckinghamshire.

Safe Cracker Has Rough Technique

He tried to open the Southwest Supply Co.'s safe over the weekend by ramming it at full speed with a fork-lift truck.

The safe was only dented.
