Ike Plans Baylor Address On International Affairs

Decline In Polio Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventy-four new cases of polio were reported last week, barely more than half the 146 in the corresponding 1955 week.

A Public Health Service spokesman said, however, that "it is too early" to tell what will happen later.

He pointed out that there were 74 cases in the corresponding week in 1952 but high incidence in July, August and September that year gave 1952 the record high of some 57,000 cases.

Yesterday Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele and Dr. Alexander D. Langmuir, chief of the service's epidemiological branch at Atlanta, both expressed belief the rise in cases this year would be slower than in the past.

"I'll be very interested in what happens in the next four weeks," Dr. Langmuire said. "The incidence shouldn't go up as fast as in recent years."

Today's weekly report showed that there had been 1,370 polio cases reported in 1956 up through April 28, compared with 1,450 a year ago.

There had been 751 paralytic cases, compared with 629; 369 non paralytic compared with 392; and 250 unspecified as compared with 429.

Dr. Scheele said more than 50 million children should be inoculated against polio by Oct. 30.

ACCIDENT ORDEAL—Miss Dorinda Ornelas, 17, of Portland, Ore., grimaces with pain as an unidentified tow-truck operator and ambulance attendant try to free her from an automobile smashed in a collision with a transit coach. The girl suffered a leg fracture and hip dislocation.

Heavy Rain Appears To Be Stopped

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear over much of Texas Thursday but rivers, swollen by heavy rain threatened new flood damage.

Showers fell in South Texas Wednesday night but the forecasts indicated the heavy downpours, that started Sunday and brought some sections their best rains in years, were over.

A warning to remove livestock and portable property along the lowlands of the Sabine River was issued by the Weather Bureau as that stream rose. A crest of 34 feet was forecast for Friday.

The Sabine rose 10 feet Wednesday at Gladewater but was still nearly 10 feet shy of the flood stage of 26 feet.

The Trinity River crested at 29.4 feet in Dallas Wednesday but fell later. Flood stage is 28 feet.

Flooding conditions at Brownwood eased as the depth of water going over Lake Brownwood spillway lessened. Some 200 families still were unable to return to their flooded homes.

In the wake of the four days of turbulent weather with tornadoes, hail, and gullywashers there were many smiles. Lakes dangerously low were swelling with the heavy runoff from rains that ranged up to more than 12 inches.

In many areas, the rains were the best in several years. Agriculture Commissioner John White said that while the drought had not been broken in Texas, conditions were greatly improved in many sections.

High winds, rains and some hail lashed the Rio Grande Valley late Wednesday but no serious damage was reported. Alamo had an unofficial 4 inches in 40 minutes and Raymondville 2.12 inches in about the same time. Lesser amounts fell at Mission, McAllen and Harlingen. Heavy showers were also reported in the Waco area and farmers were warned to remove livestock from the Brazos River bottoms.

Nations Agree To Cease Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold told the Security Council today he has obtained new unconditional cease-fire agreements from Israel and her four Arab neighbors — Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan.

He told the Council in a "progress report" the next step in the uneasy Middle East situation is to re-establish full compliance with other sections of the general armistice agreements of 1949, which ended the Palestine fighting.

There are indications he may return in June to work for such compliance and put the cease-fire agreements on a more solid basis.

Hammarskjold thus completed the first part of the assignment given to him by the Security Council April 4. He filed his report to the Council president, Ambassador Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, from Jerusalem, where he engaged in last-minute talks with Israeli officials.

In a "progress report" requested by the Council, Hammarskjold said he had received assurances from the governments of Egypt and Israel not to engage in hostile activities except in defense.

He said he also had concluded "with positive result" the negotiations with the parties to the other three armistice agreements, specifically Syria, Lebanon and Jordan.

The report was received a day before the deadline set by the Security Council in ordering Hammarskjold to undertake his peace mission to the Middle East.

Influence Attempt Denied At Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Murray M. Chotiner swore to investigating senators today that he never used the name of Vice President Nixon or tried to "use my influence" in dealing with government agencies on behalf of clients.

Chotiner was before the Senate Investigations subcommittee which is looking into alleged graft on military clothing contracts. It decided to call Chotiner on finding he, as a lawyer, had represented some of the garment makers.

Chotiner, of Los Angeles, is prominent in West Coast Republican circles. He was campaign manager for Nixon in 1952.

Chotiner said he had been counsel for Samuel and Herman Kravitz, Atlantic City, N. J., clothing manufacturers, and Joseph (Joey) Abrams, a Brooklyn garment maker.

He told of receiving a total of $6,000 from Herman Kravitz but said he had never received any fee from Abrams.

The Kravitzes, father and son, and Abrams have refused to tell the subcommittee whether they bribed any government officials in connection with big military clothing contracts. They pleaded the Fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination.

The subcommittee had summoned Chotiner for questioning about "the scope of your employment" by the Kravtitzes, Abrams and perhaps other, as Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) phrased it in a statement to Chotiner.

Chotiner was Vice President Nixon's campaign manager in 1952. He has also worked in past campaigns of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) and others.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), had recessed its hearings for a week to await Chotiner's appearance in reponse to a subpoena. Subcommittee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy obtained the subpoena, accusing Chotiner of breaking a promise to come in as a voluntary witness last Thursday.

Opposition To Extension Of NATO Expressed By British

PARIS (AP) — British sources said Britain told the United States today it opposes any extension of the North Atlantic Treaty Organizatin into the foreign aid field for the benefit of the world's undeveloped regions.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had a midday meeting. The British informants said Lloyd told Dulles NATO members should push their aid programs through other institutions. Suggested were the International Monetary Fund, the Colombo Plan for Southeast Asia, or agencies of the United Nations.

West Germany had just agreed with a French plan for linking German reunification to progress in world disarmament which, in turn, would free large sums of capital for investment.

Lloyd and Dulles met for a long discussion of East-West relations and NATO's place in that picture. They continued their talks through luncheon. Dulles followed through with a meeting with West German Foreign Minister Heinrich vor Brentano in the afternoon.

No account of the British sources:

Lloyd told Dulles Britain is willing to expand consultative functions of NATO in the political field, but opposes the creation of a new organization to channel aid to undeveloped nations. He said Britain also opposes using the NATO framework for sending aid to Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

In this, he was joining French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, who said yesterday France opposes using such aid as a weapon in the cold war.

Both Britain and France obviously believe the NATO label would handicap the program in neutralist areas such as India or the Middle East.

Dulles is to present his ideas to the full NATO Foreign Ministers' Council tomorrow.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano and French Premier Guy Mollet and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau conferred on this issue in Mollet's offices this morning.

Pineau, acting as spokesman, told newsmen that he had informed the Germans of the last instructions sent to French delegation in London disarmament talks.

Secretary of State Dulles and other Western foreign ministers prepared for the opening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meeting.

Testimony Begins In Snyder Trial

Testimony got underway this morning in the murder trial of Charles Everett Taylor, 42, indicted in the fatal shooting of his former mother-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Nichols, here.

Mrs. Pauline Taylor, former wife of the defendent, was placed on the stand at about 9:30 a.m. and was still testifying at 11:45, when the court was recessed for lunch.

After three days of examining jurors, attorneys completed that work last night and had a jury of 12 men with one man of the special venire of 80 left over. Jurors are Clyde L. Byrd, E. N. Baker, Lester Gladson, Billy Haggerton, Douglas N. Busby, Raymond Lovell, Preston Morris, Henry C. Lock, R. T. Lovelady, and Ray Campbell.

The trial may last for several days, since there are 42 witnesses scheduled — 22 for the prosecution and 20 for the defense. Prosecutors are Renal B. Rosson, district attorney, and Wayland G. Holt, county attorney. Defense attorneys are Dell Barber of Colorado City and C. E. McGaw of Snyder.

Mrs. Taylor's testimony this morning, as she was questioned by Rosson, had to do with history of her marriage in 1946 to Taylor, their divorce in 1948, and communications since that time.

She testified that after their divorce while she was living at Edna with her small daughter, she heard nothing from Taylor until November, 1955. After their divorce, she and her daughter lived with her mother and step-father at Edna, later Pampa, and then at Snyder, where they moved in February, 1951.

Pauline Taylor's next hearing from her former husband, she said, was through a cousin, whom Taylor had contacted and told he wanted to see his daughter and former wife. She told her cousin she had no objection to his coming here to see them. He had inquired through the cousin, she said, as to the size of clothing worn by the daughter, Linda.

She saw her former husband for the first time since their divorce, she said, last Dec. 2, when he came here to her home. He had bought the daughter some clothes for her birthday. She testified that they discussed the daughter and things which had happened during their marriage. He shared Linda's room that night in the home of Pauline Taylor and her mother, and he stayed through a weekend here, returning to San Antonio, where he was living at the time.

In the weeks that followed, she said, Taylor came here several times on weekends, wrote several letters, and made several telephone calls.

There was some discussion during the visits, testimony showed, concerning possibility of reconciliation of the two, and Pauline Taylor said she told her former husband at the time that if he had changed since their former marriage a reconciliation might possibly work out but that she would have to give it considerable thought.

During the Christmas holidays, Pauline Taylor said, her mother went to Houston for a visit. She said Charles Taylor wanted to visit here on the weekend of Dec. 16, and she added that she told him he could visit but that he would have to stay in a motel, since her mother would not be here. She testified that he said he did not want to come if he could not stay in her house, but later agreed to stay in a motel. During that weekend visit, he visited with his daughter in Sunday school.

Mrs. Taylor said she next saw the defendant on Dec. 23, when he visited for a weekend. She said then that he was working for a geophysical firm in San Antonio.

Later, after he had returned home, she said, he wrote her and expressed a desire to visit here during the New Year holidays, but she told him later by telephone, when he called her, that she had plans for an out-of-town visit, she

Four Bodies Found After Bomber Crash

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A Lincoln Air Force Base B47 Stratojet bomber crashed last night. A state safety patrolman said four bodies were recovered.

Names were withheld.

A B47 normally carries three or four crewmen.

The crash occurred 10 miles northwest of Lincoln and less than a dozen miles from a farm where four Lincoln base fliers were killed in another B47 crash April 6.

Eyewitness said the plane last night exploded after hitting the ground and burned.

Those who witnessed the April 6 crash said they thought the plane exploded in air.

One Candidate Files Demo Committee Fees

AUSTIN (AP) — One of three candidates to announce for state offices yesterday paid his fee raising the State Democratic Executive Committee's filing fee total to $16,300.

William Murray Jr., was the 17th candidate to pay. He will seek reelection to the railroad commission.

"I have finally become convinced that it continues to be my duty to remain on the commission if the people of Texas so chose," Murray said. He was appointed to the $17,500 a year post in 1949 by Gov. Beauford Jester and was reelected in 1950.

Cotton Week Plans Made For Snyder

Plans were taking shape here today for local observance of National Cotton Week.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee met briefly this morning to go over plans for the event, and the Chamber's agriculture committee was to meet at 3 p.m. to discuss its part in the program. The two Chamber committees are cooperating in planning the event.

Garland Drake, manager of Dunlap's, who heads a special subcommittee to plan the National Cotton Week event, presided at the merchants committee meeting this morning.

Plans are to have a cotton style show and a queen's contest. These two highlights, along with other promotions to focus attention upon cotton and cotton products will constitute a major portion of the observance here.

The agriculture committee will plan projects for that week to emphasize National Cotton Week from the standpoint of farming.

The week beginning May 14 has been set aside for the observance, which corresponds with the period established by the Nation Cotton Council.

The Chamber of Commerce committees here plan to use some materials furnished through the National Cotton Council for displays during the week.

Precinct Support Sought By Leaders

By The Associated Press

Gov. Allan Shivers and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, who have been lambasting each other, converged on San Antonio today in their drives for support in Saturday's precinct conventions.

The conventions will be the first test on whether Johnson or Shivers is named leader of the Texas delegation to the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Shivers told a Houston audience Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is backing the senator, were co-chairmen of the 1940 Texas delegation at the national convention when the Democrats "ditched John Nance Garner for Henry Wallace as candidate for vice-president, and who knows what they will come up with this time."

Johnson, who spoke at Waco and Austin Wednesday, urged precinct workers give the state administration of Shivers "a decent and respectable burial at precinct conventions Saturday."

The senator, who called Shivers "a little Lord Fauntleroy with no place to go," said "If he would spend as much time talking about state's wrongs as he does state's rights, he would run the crooks from the temple at Austin."

Johnson challenged Shivers to "call a special session to investigate insurance and land scandals and to take action on interposition."

He accused Shivers of attempting to "deliver Texas to the GOP in the general elections this year" and pleaded for a Texas delegation composed of what Johnson called "moderates who can pick the best Democrat in the nation for the nomination."

WT Labor Talks Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor Department wage officials were to begin questioning West Texas farmers and checking their records today to determine "prevailing wages' for cotton picking last fall.

Sen. Price Daniel said four men comprised the team. They are to spend four or five days checking in Dawson County.

A delegation of West Texas cotton farmers had told the department they computed the prevailing wage last fall at $1.55 a hundred pounds. That was what they paid most imported Mexican cotton pickers, they said.

The department has said the rate should have been $1.75. It seeks to collect the difference.

Rep. Mahon, who took part with Sen. Daniel in the talks, estimated $200,000 would be collected from farmers in a dozen counties on the $1.75 rate.

Meeting Of City Council Is Slated

A brief meeting of the city council is scheduled for 5:30 o'clock this afternoon to consider bids for water mains proposed to serve southeast Snyder.

The mains are to be part of the water works expansion program recently approved by voters of the city.

Approval will be asked for placing $168,000 in U. S. Treasury notes and bonds by the Snyder National Bank to insure a deposit of $460,000 recently made in the bank by the city. The $460,000 was received from bonds sold for improvement programs.

Securing municipal deposits made in banks is required of the banks by the Federal Reserve System, and is a routine requirement.

Degree Will Be Received

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will make an address on "important phases of international affairs" at Baylor University commencement exercises May 25.

Announcing this today, the White House said the President will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree at the ceremonies in Waco, Tex.

"The subject matter of the President's speech will deal with important phases of international affairs," press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen.

The invitation for Eisenhower to speak at Baylor was extended by the university's president, Dr. William R. White.

Eisenhower plans to fly to Waco May 25, arriving at the Baylor campus about 10:30 a.m.

He intends to return to Washington by plane after the commencement exercises which are scheduled to begin shortly after his arrival in Waco.

Hagerty said Eisenhower will speak from a prepared text for about 30 minutes. Since taking office the President has made it a policy to attend commencement exercises of two institutions of higher learning each year.

In reply to questions, Hagerty said Eisenhower quite likely will continue that policy this year, but the press secretary added he did not know which other of several invitations the chief executive will accept.

Hagerty declined to elaborate on the announced theme of the President's address at Baylor, a Baptist school in its 111th year.

A reporter, noting this is an election year and Eisenhower is a candidate, told Hagerty his visit to Texas might be interpreted as having political overtones—that it might be regarded as a Republican effort to carry Texas this year as Eisenhower did in 1952.

Hagerty replied "Texas is the state he (Eisenhower) was born in."

He made no direct comment on the political angle.

Asked whether Gov. Shivers of Texas would be present at the commencement exercises, Hagerty said he did not know and that it was "entirely up to the university."

Shivers split with loyalist Texas Democrats in 1952 to support Eisenhower.

The President will speak at Baylor in the Baptist Church Auditorium on the campus.

Pravda Hits Great Britain Labor Party

LONDON (AP)—Pravda today accused leaders of the British Labor party of picking a quarrel with Nikita Khrushchev in an attempt to head off the formation of an united front.

Khrushchev, head of the Soviet Communist party, got into a row with Laborite leaders last week when he and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin were visiting Britain. The British party leaders suggested that Jews and Socialists were being persecuted behind the Iron Curtain and asked the Communist leader to help free those imprisoned.

Khrushchev angrily brushed aside the suggestions as "nonsense." He said there were no Social Democrats in the Soviet Union, and the fate of any elsewhere were no concern of his.

His reaction was considered here a blow to the Soviet drive for "popular front" alliances with Socialists and left-wing groups in Western Europe.

As quoted by Moscow radio, the Soviet Communist party newspaper said: "The aim of those who organized this anti-Soviet attack was to encourage the enemies of united action and international working class cooperation in other West European countries.

"Such attempts are futile."

British Labor party leaders who attended the dinner with Khrushchev have denied they deliberately baited him. They said they were motivated by genuine hopes that he might do something for Socialists imprisoned in Soviet bloc countries.

Former Girl Friend Runs Over Man, 43

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mack Jernigan, 43, died today after being knocked down and run over by a woman police described as a former girl friend.

The woman, Beatrice Adams, 33, first was held on an attempted murder charge but police said charge would be changed now that Jernigan is dead.

Police said Miss Adams would only say "He took advantage of me." They said the motive may have been a broken love affair because Jernigan had become reconciled with his wife.

Just Trying To Aid Nuns

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Thomas Dawson, 39, says he was only trying to help when he threw a rock at two nuns.

He told City Judge Charles Sneddon he tossed the rock because the women were checking their gas tank to see if it was full and had just struck a match to see better.

"I wanted to warn them of the danger," he said. "It was quite a large rock. It was the only one I could find. It missed the car and struck a man who was quarreling with his wife. The rock glanced off his head and through a grocery store window."

At this, Dawson said, the man got "upset and came over to make trouble."

Judge Sneddon sentenced Dawson to 30 days in city jail on a disorderly conduct charge.

Local Woman Slightly Burned At Her Home

A woman received a slight singeing from a gasoline fire in her home at 2812 Avenue G about 11:30 o'clock this morning, Durward Porter, fire chief, said.

The woman, Mrs. E. L. Schwartz, was washing clothing in gasoline when the fire occurred.

There was only slight damage, however.

Supplies Sent Out For Election Here

Election supplies are going out to the various voting boses for Saturday's local option election in Scurry County.

Voting will be in the 20 precincts in the county.

The election, which was called following presentation of a petition bearing the required number of names, is to determine whether the sale of alcoholic berverages will be legalized in Scurry County.

It will be the first local option election to be held in Scurry County since 1952.

Ruling Given On Strikers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals held today that the National Labor Relations Board cannot penalize strikers who picket peacefully, for the misconduct of others.

The unanimous decision written by Judge David L. Bazelon, struck down an NLRB ruling that peaceable pickets share responsibility if they do not repudiate violence by others.

The court quoted and agreed with an earlier finding by the board itself to the effect its authority to deny reinstatement extends only to strikers "who authorized or participatd in the wrongful conduct and their aiders and abettors."

The labor board's decision grew out of a strike incident to the 1950 campaign of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union-AFL, to organize women employes at the Pascagoula, Miss., plant of the B.V.D. Co.

Operations are to start at once.

J. J. Travis, Trustee, Midland, No. 1 Allie S. Graham, wildcat in South Terry County, has been abandoned at total depth of 10,205 feet.

Operator took a one and one-quarter hour drillstem test from 10,083 to 10,205 feet. Recovery was 279 feet of salt water cut mud, 1,200 feet of mud and 6,020 feet of salt water.

Location was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19, block C-36, psl survey, two miles east and slightly north of the Wellman field and one and three-quarter miles south of the South Brownfield pool.

Would You Like To Win A Cadillac?

Someone in Snyder has an opportunity to win a 1956 model Cadillac, the Eldorado Seville, a limited production model.

It is a contest in which there is nothing to buy, explained Doug McGlaun of the Bud Miller Texaco Service Station, located at 2300 Twenty-fifth Street, who has joined a small group of other Texas service station owners to make the award.

This year marks the first time Cadillac has produced the Eldorado Seville, and when it goes on display here at the Bud Miller station shortly, it likely will be the first of its model ever to be exhibited in Snyder.

McGlaum said he was anxious that the contest winner be a resident of Snyder, and therefore he plans extensive newspaper and other promotions to bringing the contest to the attention of as many as possible. Details of the contest are available at the Bud Miller station.

Cadillac's Eldorado model, which is to be awarded the winner, has an engine that produces 305 horsepower, using dual four-barrel carburetors. A new transmission is designed to take full advantage of the new engine's increased power.

The model is designed to convey a feeling of sweeping lowness, and is identified by highly distinctive exterior styling.

Conference Report Is Given Here

Kiwanis Club members heard a report on the Snyder High School carrer conference at their luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, said that the career conference was well established here as a climactic event for an important phase of the school program. The conference held here last Monday was the fourth of its type in the Snyder schools.

Yarbrough said considerably more attention is given now to providing opportunities for students to select vocations and professions than in previous years. He said that earlier practice was to fit the students to specific fields, but now students have a chance to determine their interests and select their fields of endeavor accordingly.

"For example, we know that a student who has no interest in mathematics and natural science would be unlikely to succeed in the field of engineering," Yarbrough explained.

He said efforts were being made constantly to strengthen the career conference, as well as the curriculum of the Snyder School systm.

Dr. DWane Collins, director of pupil personnel services in the school system, was a guest at the meeting.

said. She testified that he cursed her on the phone and hung up, later calling back to apologize and said he would not come here during the New Year holidays.

She next saw him on Dec. 30, when he visited her at her place of employment, the county tax assesor-collectors office, and both she and her daughter expressed surprise that he had come here that weekend after saying he would not, Mrs. Taylor testified. He told her, she said, that he had come to Snyder to stay.

Taylor moved here to the Bar V Motel, Mrs. Taylor said, and during the following days she saw him several times, both in town and upon his visits to their home. During that time, she said, she told him that she had reached a decision and would not remarry him, but they agreed that they could share their daughter. Mrs. Taylor said that her mother also believed the two could share their daughter.

Later, she said, Taylor secured employment at Holder Construction Co. here. She continued that he had been visiting their home at noon almost every day and on the majority of his evenings. She said that one evening, when he called, she asked him not to come to visit them and that he spoke in angry tones on the phone.

During that same period, he visited their home on one night, she said, and she and her former husband stood on the front porch and talked. The night was cold, and they got into his car in front of the house. During the conversation, she testified, Taylor told her he hated her and that he would kill her or kill anyone else who had anything to do with their daughter or took her anywhere, other than himself. He also mentioned, she said, that "if he had any sense," he would "blow his brains out."

Mrs. Taylor said that their daughter came out to the car while that conversation was in progress and that Taylor sent her back into the house. She came out again later, she said, and Taylor let her into the car and told the daughter that Mrs. Taylor didn't care anything about her daughter and did not want her.

Testimony was halted at that point for the lunchtime recess. The jury was to report back at about 1 p.m.

More Fitting Title

LOUISVILLE, K. (AP)—John T. Murley will get a more fitting title than assistant to the president of Louisville Transit Co. The title had become confusing because the firm had been without a president since January 1955. Murley will be called general manager.

Funds Are Okayed For U. S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voicing concern over Russia's growing military might, the House Appropriations Committee voted today to give the Defense Department $33,635,066,000 in new money.

This is $512,784,000 less than the total President Eisenhower asked in his original budget last January and in a supplemental request last month for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

But more than half of the reduction was made up of paper changes which the committee said would not affect specific military programs. The committee said it expects that $276,319,000, of the cut will remain available in the form of foreign currency under mutual defense and occupation agreements.

The amount recommended is $1,741,832,374 more than Congress appropriated for the present year ending June 30.

The recommendations were contained in a bill which the House will consider next week. The Senate will act later.

The committee said emphasis during the coming year will be on airpower and new weapons "being phased in at an increasing rate."

The new money, plus funds carried over, would give the Defense Department 46¼ billion during the new fiscal year. It contemplates military strength of 2,865,200 in mid-1957, compared with 2,820,100 next June 30.

Here's how the new dollars would be shared among the services:

Army — $7,497,582,000, a budget cut of $263,843,000 but $167,629,000 more than this year.

Navy — $9,999,534,000, a budget cut of $48,066,000 but an increase of $871,774,444 over this year.

Air Force — $15,479,125,000, a budget cut of $187,375,000 but an increase of $739,361,830 over this year.

The rest of the money in the bill was allotted to the office of the secretary of defense and to interservice activities, none of which was cut deeply.

Gen. LeMay To Spell Out Defense Need

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said today Gen. Curtis LeMay has promised "to spell out in a complete package" what his Strategic Air Command needs to offset Soviet Russia's expanding air might.

"This will be for the benefit of the Senate subcommittee and will not be cleared through Pentagon channels," Jackson said in an interview. He is a member of a Senate Armed Forces subcommittee studying relative U.S.-Russian air power.

LeMay, cigar - chewing commander of the globe-girdling U.S. bomber force, made it plain in previously censored public testimony yesterday and Monday that he wants more jet B52 bombers as quickly as possible.

Completing more than a week of testimony, he disclosed late yesterday that out of 78 heavy B52 bombers produced to date, only 47 were immediately accepted by the Air Force.

Other Air Force officers said a defect in the bombers' complex electrical system had caused the rejections and grounding of all B52s after a crash last year. LeMay said the defects are being corrected and the jet bombers put into operation.

Jackson said additional B52s are needed to increase SAC's striking power, but he added:

"We must also have trained crews, more bases, additional air tankers, including jet tankers, for the complete program."

Karakul lamb pelts are taken from the animals as soon after birth as possible.

Government Is Defied

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A Utah bank president says he doesn't think the federal reserve system can order his bank to add 1½ million dollars to its capital. He told a news conference yesterday he is going to leave it to the federal agency to try to enforce the order.

Walter E. Cosgriff said the order to raise more capital for his Continental Bank and Trust Co. here came without a hearing and was not based on any legal definition of how much capital is "adequate."

He said he suspected the order was caused by the sale of some of his Idaho banking interests to Transamerica Corp. "As well as other long-standing disputes and differences."

The system, Cosgriff contended, as a record of hostility toward Transamerica, a West Coast bank holding corporation.

But he conceded the order might "simply represent part of a general campaign to force all banking institutions to increase their capital structure." Federal reserve spokesmen were unavailable.

Bank Robbery Try Foiled By Teller

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A woman teller dropped to the floor and foiled the attempt of another woman to rob the downtown Bank of the Southwest yesterday.

The teller, Mrs. Elton Morris, said the woman handed her a note demanding $7,000 and stating that the latter's husband, carrying a gun, was standing in the lobby.

After dropping to the floor, Mrs. Morris handed the note to another teller who spread the alarm. The woman fled.

Book Review Is Given Here By Dallas Woman

Mrs. Sherwood Avery of Dallas, reviewed the book "The Last Hurrah" by Edwin O. Conner, at the meeting of the Snyder Book Review Club Wednesday in the fellowship hall of the Methodist church.

This book is the story of an Irish politican, Frank Skeptington, He announced that he would run for mayor, after having been in that office several terms. He was 72 years old and spoke of retiring to read and think.

He hated Amos Force, editor of the paper, and Amos hated Skeptington. He offerd his services as a lawyer to a mother whose child was drowned and such other kindnesses to bring in votes. He called in two secretaries to write letters to people to secure votes, he received people and entertained them as vote getting tactics.

For a day as mayor, he invited a Jew, Sam Wineburg, to see him give the keys of the city to an overfed Jewish woman.

After much campaigning he lost the last race for mayor, and wondered why. He was angry at the outrome and fell senseless on the stairs, where his worthless son found him. He forgot all the bad things and remembered only the good ones.

Against the doctor's orders he insisted that he must give one farewell speech to his friends. One friend asked him if his life was to be lived over again would he use the same pattern. His answer was "The hell I would."

Anchor For Iron

More effective than molten lead, when it comes for anchoring ornamental iron railing posts in concrete steps, says the American Builder trade publication, is pouring hot melted sulphur in the cavity around the posts. It sets up very hard.

The Sunspot Theory

Some of our friends in the radio-electronics business tell us they've been having Hail, Columbia, Happy Land with "the elements" lately, presumably from extraordinary sunspot activity. Old Sol has been bombarding our little planet with extra large helpings of the stuff the exploding gases on the sun emit, and the gremlins have been messing up radio, television and even wire communications something fierce.

One day last week the aurora borealis was visible in Texas for what someone said was the first time in 25 years, and this type of electrical disturbance always plays Ned with communications.

As you might have noticed the weather has been acting up too. Over the weekend heavy snow visited the upper Mountain states, and freezing temperatures—down to 16 degrees at one place—was commonplace. Wichita Falls reported hailstones as big as tennis balls, later upped the size to grapefruit—probably the Florida variety, not the big old Texas kind. Ten miles south of Oklahoma City hail piled up to a depth of 18 inches.

Menard, Texas, got 3.5 inches of rain, and thundershowers visited many areas. Last week rain up to 10 inches fell in deep South Texas. We'll get ours; we'll get ours.

Dr. Willetts, head of the meteorology department at M.I.T., is the most prominent modern believer in the sunspot theory of weather-making. His recent article in the Satevepost must have been written before the sunspots started acting up with record-breaking performances about a month ago, and the weather itself has been trying to underwrite his general thesis that we're in for wetter and cooler weather for the balance of this century.

Weather people respect the good doctor, though some of them don't go along with his all-out belief in sunspots as the prime weathermaker on our earth. By the year 2000 that theory should be either confirmed or disproved. If you don't mind waiting around long enough to find out, it should be an interesting something to look forward to. Stick around.

Readily Salable Stuff

Texas and ex-Texas scriveners who specialize in finding fault with Texas and its ways can always find their articles highly salable in the magazine and newspaper marts of the effete East. Since a Texan became editor of Harper's—and unfortunately his name eludes us—that magazine has run a number of articles critical of our little old state.

That magazine's latest fault - finding with something Texan comes from one Hugh Russell Fraser, a native of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, N.Y., now described as a resident of San Antonio. Mr. F. opens his opus with this paragraph:

"Do you have an idea that most Texans don't know what is going on in the world? That they are cheerfully unaware of events in foreign parts—an area which includes forty-seven states and all other nations? That they are on the whole, the most provincial people in America?"

And this from a native of a state whose people generally don't know (1) what lies across the Hudson River in New Jersey, much less (2) what lies beyond Pittsburgh, Pa?

It seems Mr. Fraser has been studying the column inches of space devoted by Texas dailies to international subjects in comparison with the space so employed by say, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, for which Mr. F. once worked, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and New York.

He seems to overlook an obvious fact: Many of the big metropolitan dallies maintain large staffs of writers overseas, while no Texas daily maintains even one—with the possible exception of the Dallas Morning News, which used to keep a man in Mexico City.

Pertinent question: Does the spate of foreign news carried by the metropolitan press get itself generally read, even in the big cities, outside of the export-import trade? With large staffs overseas they just can't throw the stuff away.

Tut-tut, Mr. Fraser. As a newcomer you'll find a lot more solid stuff about Texas to criticize. You may in time discover that Texans have seen more of the world than the citizenns of any state in the Union, by and large.

Pioneer Physician Not Interested In Returning To So-Called Good Old Days

By GARTH JONES
The Associated Press

Remember the family doctor who sat at the kitchen table years ago mixing his own prescription powders and adding a pinch of horse sense here and there just to be sure Sister got over scarlet fever?

That's the story Dr. William Crosthwait tells in "The Last Stitch," just published about his life as a Texas country doctor.

At 83, Dr. Crosthwait is still a practicing physician and surgeon in Waco—not quite ready to take that "last stitch."

"It is said a youth must be served.' Why? Isn't there enough to go around?"

That's Doc Crosthwaits attitude toward six decades of doctoring that took him from kitchen-table surgery in remote Central Texas communities to high-powered international medical conferences.

"When I hear people talk about the 'good old days' I wonder just what they mean. I'll take today," says Doc, who at 68 tried to volunteer for war combat service. "x x In my own case, I consider my most fruitful years from age 68 to 78."

Helping Dr. Crosthwait tell this story of a remarkable medical career is a skilled handler of words himself—Ernest Fischer, Associated Press man in New Orleans and former European correspondent.

"The Last Stitch" is the result of a lifelong collaboration—literally. Dr. Crosthwait was the obstetrician when Fisher arrived "a-screaming and a-kickin."

Of his entire career, Dr. Crosthwait says he remembers most vividly a tumor operation he performed at a Texas ranch house soon after beginning practice at Holland, Tex. in 1898. Outside most of the community gathered under a big cottonwood tree.

"One of the toughies, I noticed, had a lariat and was twirling it around rather playfully. x x I heard him say 'if anything happens to Aunt Bess, Doc done took his last stitch.'"

The operation was a success and as payment for the surgery Dr. Crosthwait took a buggy horse and the lariat the cowboy had been twirling.

Dr. Crosthwait was placed in charge of a relief train to Galveston after the 1900 hurricane. Vividly the physician describes the wreckage, the looting, the burial crews, and most of all the lack of organization. Later he compares the Galveston hurricane in 1900 with the Waco tornado in 1953.

"In the Galveston hurricane I am sure that many persons trapped under debris died many hours later without hope of rescue. Rescue was rare, and relief was slow in reaching the island the facilities for taking care of the injured were limited. In Waco the hospitals very easily absorbed all those who needed hospital care. Modern drugs and technique saved many lives."

Throughout the book Dr. Crosthwait recounts a full life. His son, Robert, completed medical school and joined him in medical practice in Waco. A grandson, also Robert, is now a freshman medical student at Baylor.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

PELICAN IN THE WILDERNESS. By F. Fraser Darling, Random House.

Traveling the length and breadth of America as most Americans never get around to doing, another of those British visitors has found a sinister fault in the bright fabric of the land of promise.

The traveler is a distinguished ecologist bent on studying the relationship of man to his environment in this country as he had in Scotland.

The defect he discovered was gross misuse of the land, not only in settled agricultural regions and in grazing areas where once lush grasslands have become deserts, but even in the wilderness where deer herds have multiplied beyond reason through slaughter of predators and application of stringent protetive laws.

But however far America has to go to develop universal conservation-mindedness, Darling thinks it is moving in the right direction, which is more than he can say for Britain.

Darling made his trip, financed by the Rockerfeller foundation, in 1950. Since then he has made several more, but the book he now publishes seems little more than a diary of that original journey. The technique provides a great deal of interesting and not so interesting trivia but not the polished product of Roger Tory Peterson and of James Fisher, another English naturalist, whose joint effort, "Wild America," has certain similarities to this.

Capital's Best Dressed Women Pick With Care

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The best dressed women in the nation's capital are those who go in for understatement in the selection of their wardrobes, choosing what is most becoming to their particular characteristics rather than the so-called "new looks" dreamed up by style pace setters

Mamie Eisenhower, for instance, follows a new fashion only when it conforms to her knowledge of her own good points, according to one of her favorite dress designers, Mollie Parnis of New York. She never capitulates to the revolutionary trends of each season, however arresting they may be on someone else.

The most photographed First Lady is neckline conscious, Miss Parnis says. She is also fond of full-skirted costumes. Never have I seen her in the sheath - style or contour - fitting dress or coat. She always selects a costume with the elbow - covering three-quarter sleeve. She likes to emphasize her small waistline but shies clear of the popular long - tarso type because she considers herself, regardless of seasonal dictates, too short. Further, she doesn't always have a new dress for every occasion. She has worn a favorite purple-toned taffeta many times over the past three years, though she christened it "Mamie's Folly" when she bought it. She told Miss Parnis she "just knew she'd never have a place to wear it."

Like many another "know your type" woman, Mamie has avoided the extreme new "inverted peach basket" or "lamp shade" hat and sticks to her more becoming small hats. She recently bought seven little hats from Sally Victor of New York. One is a medium-sized, small-brimmed sailor of white straw with tulle - swathed crown and trimmed with a single pink rose, which the President has said he likes best. She has another smallish sailor of white straw with fluted lace - edged brim. New hats include a white cotton lace pillbox on a black velvet base; a white straw cap-shaped number, two four - pointed styles, one in black and white straw cloth, another in black velvet. Recently she wore a tiny hat covered with her favorite sweetheart roses, to match a black silk frock printed with pink rosebuds.

Others who have clung to styles most becoming to their type, regardless of seasonal dictates, are the Baroness Silvercruys, wife of the Belgian ambassador, and hostess Mrs. Morris Cafritz, both of whom recently made Washington's best-dressed list.

Democrats Expected To Open Fire On 'Giveaway' Program Of Administration

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON, May 3 — (AP) — With an assist from ex-President Truman, Democratic orators will soon open heavy fire on the Eisenhower administration as the nation's alleged all-time "giveaway" champion.

This has nothing to do with quiz shows. Its the Democratic charge that the Republicans are handing out natural resources. Democratic national headquarters rate it one of the top issues of the 1956 campaign.

Basically, say the Republicans as they hotly deny Democratic allegations, it's the old fight between public and private development of the nation's public wealth.

Nevertheless, the Democrats can be expected to make it a major political battle cry, much in the manner the Republicans poured it on about "the mess in Washington" under the Truman regime four years ago.

GOP bigwigs, quick to defend the record of their first administration in nearly a quarter century, scoff at the giveaway talk as typical election-year bushwacking.

"Pure political bunk," said Douglas McKay, whose opponents dubbed him the "Giveaway King" before he resigned as secretary of the interior to seek the U. S. Senate seat of his arch critic, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

"The administration," said McKay, "has made a sincere effort to achieve a wise use of our national resources . . . by all of the people. Economic cooperation means withdrawal from activities in which the government has been competing with its own citizens."

As viewed by Democrats, the purported great giveaway includes:

Hydroelectric power sites, such as Hells Canyon in Oregon; oil deposits; forests and grazing lands; wildlife refutes; government-owned rubber and synthetic fuel plants.

Former President Truman Keynoted the power-grab theme in a Portland, Ore., speech last summer in which he declared:

"Selfish interests in this country have been scheming to take away from the people vast public resources. Much has already been lost . . . and I fear vastly more will be taken away.

"By tricky an devious ways, private raiders on public power have been at work. What the administration is really after is a partnership between public and private interests. And what a strange partnership it is, with the people paying for the dam and the private partners taking all the profits."

Truman's speech sparked angry rebuttal from McKay. The cabinet official said that of the 37 government-built dams built over the past 50 years with private leased power privileges, 15 were approved during Democratic administrations.

Eisenhower first spelled out his "partnership in power" policy in a Seattle speech in September 1952, offering it as a counter to what he called federal power domination and galloping socialism.

As an example of alleged GOP skulduggery, Democrats cite the case of Al Sarena Mines, Inc., of Mobile, Ala. a congressional investigation disclosed the company invested $8,045 on 15 mining claims in Oregon's Rogue River National Forest and proceeded to "mine" the land of timber valued in congressional testimony at as high as $638,000—an 8,000 per cent return.

Genuine mining claims on land in the public domain are perfectly legal—if proven underground minerals are the goal—but Sen. W. Kerr Scott (D-NC), chairman of a Senate-House inquiry committee, said a lot of logging but little if any mining was done by the company.

Administration officials, led by McKay, insisted that the Al Sarena transaction was "in full accord with the law." Undersecretary Davis testified that under the law he had no choice but to grant the company's application when it made a showing of mineral discovery.

Democrats have long shouted "giveaway" over the so - called tidelands oil legislation, passed by the GOP-controlled Congress in 1953, granting jurisdiction to the states over offshore oil deposits

Republicans retort that if the tidelands bill was a giveaway, then the Democrats must bear a full share of the blame. GOP lieutenants emphasize that just about as many Democrats voted for the bill as against it and that the party's giveaway charge in this case, embraces nearly half its congressional representation.

In the showdown, the Senate voted 56-35 for state as opposed to federal ownership of the submerged oil deposits, with 21 Democrats and 35 Republicans voting aye. Twenty six Democrats and 9 Republicans voted no. The House voted 203-108 in a similar pa[illegible] bill.

High on the Democratic list of giveaways and attempted giveaways is the controversial Dixon-Yates episode. The Democrats call it an abortive attempt by the Eisenhower administration to kill the government - operated Tennessee Valley Authority by priving a private concern a contract to sell power in the TVA area.

President Eisenhower finally canceled the Dixon - Yates contract at the height of a congressional uproar.

Democratic critics say major giveaways include:

1. The Hells Canyon affair, permitting a private power company to develop one of America's last great unopened power sites.

(The Idaho Power Co. argues that its proposed three small power dams can be built much faster than the federal government could built a single giant multipurpose dam for power, flood control and irrigation. The company says it will thus supply the power-hungry Pacific Northwest's demands sooner and will pay 10 million dollars a year in taxes whereas the federal project would be tax exempt.

2. The Al Sarena case.

3. The leasing of land in the La-Cassine National Wildlife Refuge, in Louisiana, to private oil interests.

4. The disposal of government-owned synthetic rubber plants and oil-from-shale plants.

5. The breaking up of Indian tribal lands, allegedly leaving Indians at the mercy of hard-fisted, fast-talking timber, oil and cattle barons.

6. The leasing of federal timber lands to private companies, particularly in the Pacific Northwest.

John Bull Making A Try For Government Lottery

BY INEZ ROBB

LONDON — John Bull — good, old conservative John Bull — is about to launch a government lottery, if he isn't clobbered first.

In an effort to control inflation, curb the current British buying binge and sop up loose change, Her Majesty's government is proposing to issue new bonds on which the investor stands to win 200 percent or nothing.

Stealing a leaf intact from Norwegian government financing, Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold MacMillan proposes to issue bonds of five pounds face value ($14) which will bear no interest over a ten-year period.

For a nation that supports the largest and most extensive football pools in the world, the Chancellor holds out an irresistable carrot. Hundreds of bonds in this series will be drawn quarterly, with premium payments to lucky bondholders varying from a few pounds to a quarterly prize of 1,000 pounds ($2,800).

To a nation in which the sporting instinct is strong and inbred, it is hoped the bonds will prove such an irresistable lure that they will absorb such excess money as the working, lower middle class and middle middle - classes are now tossing into a runaway consumer's market.

But strenuous opposition to the bond lottery is forming throughout the country. It is lead by the British Council of Churches, which is not bingo-bred as are so many of the churches of the United States.

The Archbishop of Canterbury himself; chairman of the British Council of [illegible] the focal and vocal point of the opposition.

From his imminence as a churchman and from his platform in the House of Lords, the Archbishop has condemned the "gambling bill' in strong terms. In turn, the Archbishop has been soundly castigated in the House of Lords by his peers who favor the lottery bonds, and condemned in forceful terms seldom directed at the primate of all England.

The row is a merry dust-up in the best English tradition, with the government and the bonds the odds on favorite to win by a nose.

However, it is understood that Chancellor MacMillan had a tough time persuading other members of Sir Anthony Eden's Cabinet to agree to such government financing. It is said that only 24 hours before he announced such a plan did he finally ring consent from the Cabinet.

Heretofore, England always has regarded government lotteries as a form of financing suitable only to such excitable Latins as the Italians and the Portuguese. A similar bond proposition, proposed here during the '20s, was scornfully rejected.

But time and taxation march on, and if lottery bonds are good enough for the Scandinavians, they now can be embraced by the British.

There is a real lure in such a lottery, as the prizes would be regarded as captial gains and not subject to income tax. Home government, please copy.

Businessmen Of Nation Reassessing Prospects

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — May finds many businessmen again reassessing their prospects because for some of them April was disappointing.

It has been a year of wide swings in business sentiment. At the start they were cautious about expecting too much of 1956. Then along in March there was a quick shift to swelling confidence.

Now there are some sober second thoughts. April didn't bring the gains that some industries expected.

Some of the big retail chains report a drop in sales. The auto industry is cutting back output still farther as cars fail to move out of the dealers' hands as hoped.

The weather gets much of the blame. In the eastern third of the nation April was unseasonably wet and cold. In other parts of the land there was a disturbing drought.

Farmers, already hit by a drop in prices, now face the chance of a drop in production as well—with government surpluses acting as a ceiling on any substantial price rises.

If May brings better weather, aids the farmers, spurs car buyers, sends more customers into the stores for spring and summer goods, the picture could change to general confidence again.

As it is, many industries are booming while the others falter. Construction totals are up, bolstered by business spending for new plants, new commercial and office structures, as well as a growing total of public construction of roads, schools and hospitals.

Larger and more expensive homes are being built, and better weather may start total residential building on the upgrade again.

The railroads got a freight rate hike in March and start May with increased passenger fares — accounting for the increased interest in rail stocks.

The steel industry continues to operate near capacity — but with sentiment divided as to how much of a letdown, if any, the summer will see.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK — The danger of producing any revival is that it will seem like an old museum piece dusted off for the bored inspection of a later generation.

In lesser hands, Sinclair Lewis' "Dodsworth" mighty easily have appeared a little musty, tired and old hat. After all, the novel was published in 1929. It's an old familiar tale of a middle-aged man fighting to cling to what is true and familiar to him and a wife battling old age so desperately she loses her values and husband in the process.

But there were no lesser hands in the Producers' Showcase version of "Dodsworth' on NBC the other night. From top to bottom it glowed with the talent of old pros and the result was a rich, surprisingly fresh evening.

The basic play drawn from Lewis' novel was written by no less a craftsman than the late Sidney Howard. It was adapted for TV by David Shaw and directed by Alex Segal, two of the new medium's brightest talents. It starred Frederick March, Claire Trevor and Geraldine Fitzgerald. Between them, they gave an adult story an adult treatment.

All the actors were extremely effective but this viewer couldn't keep his eyes off March. I kept wondering, is there anything, any role, any scene, any emotion, this man can't play?

In bringing to life, big, bluff, spontaneous Sam Dodsworth, retired auto magnate, March covered a broad emotional field with vibrant integrity—as an unabashed American tourist jumping with a small boy's excitement over such attractions as the Tower of London; as a deeply understanding husband tolerating his wife's phoney sophistication and slackening the marital lines as she tries to "find' herself; as a man profoundly hurt, trying to hide his loneliness under a pretense of being drunk or being annoyed with petty details; and, finally, as a man who learns all over again to be true to himself.

The morning after the show, I checked the files on Frederic March and was surprised on two counts. He has been doing movies and plays for almost 30 years. His days as a leading man go back to Greta Garbo and Norma Shearer. He has made more than 60 movies and won only two Oscars—he should have won 20.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

SNYDER AND VERNON baseball teams have certainly had a time in getting together for games this spring.

Not only have the Tigers and Lions been forced to postpone both original playing dates, the postponed games have also been postponed.

The first game between the Tigers and Lions was slated to be played at Vernon, April 21. This game was postponed three times before it was finally played. Vernon asked to have the original date changed to avoid conflict with the regional track meet that fell on April 21, as some of the Vernon baseballers were also members of the Lion track team.

The game was moved up to April 19 and to be played at Snyder. Vernon wanted the game for the 19th but the Tigers couldn't go to Vernon that day because of the Senior Play here that night. Some of the Tiger baseballers were in the Senior Play cast.

The year's first rain here, though, fell April 19 and caused the new date of the first game between the two to be postponed. Coach Speedy Moffett of the Tigers and Vernon Townsend of the Lions then agreed to re-schedule the game for May 8 at Vernon.

District Chairman Intervenes

However, Esco Webb, chairman of District 4-AA, informed the two schools that the rules state that a postponed game prior to the final week of the season must be made up within a week if at all possible.

This necessitated a third change of the original date of the first game between the Tigers and Lions. The game was finally set for and played on April 26 at Vernon, the Tigers winning, 7-2.

That takes care of the first game. Playing of the second game is becoming just as complicated.

The original date for the second game was May 1 (last Tuesday). As you know, a heavy rain washed out Tuesday's game. It was reset for Wednesday (yesterday) but once again it was postponed because of rain.

Then Moffett and Townsend agreed on Friday (tomorrow) to play the game. But the postponement of the Abilene - Wichita Falls game Tuesday threw a monkey wrench into the Tiger - Vernon plans of playing the game Friday.

Vernon had been tentatively slated to play Wichita Falls in a make-up game today. This had to be changed, though, when Abilene and Wichita Falls re - scheduled their Tuesday game to today, moving the Vernon - Wichita Falls game up to Friday.

So now the Tigers and Lions are going to play today. But I wouldn't bet on it.

Tiger Grid Slate Shaping Up As 'Rugged'

Some "bad news" have been creeping into this office the past few days in regards to next year's Tiger opponents in football.

First, coach Johnny Hickman of Levelland comes out with this statement:

"On paper I've got the best material since I came here."

Then the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, quoting either Pat Gerald or Elwood Turner or both, immediate past and present Sweetwater coaches respectively, says the Mustangs will field their best team in five years next fall.

If this isn't enough to add a few grey hairs to Tiger coach John Conley's collection, word has leaked out of Breckenridge that the 1956 Buckies whipped the "tar" out of the "Exes" in their spring training windup.

The Tigers will meet Levelland there, Oct. 5; Breckenridge here, Oct. 12; and Sweetwater there, Nov. 2. Fortunately, though, only one is a conference game—Sweetwater.

Tech Appears To Have It Made-HVR

The Associated Press

As time nears for the spring meeting of the Southwest Conference many are speculating on the chances of Texas Tech not becoming a member instead of its chances of finally making it.

The reason is obvious. It has been more difficult to forecast what the conference will do in its legislative program than who's going to win the football championship. Things often are quite different in the committee room than in a hotel lobby.

When Baylor said it would submit the University of Houston for membership along with Texas' announcement that it would put up Texas Tech, the talk started. Backers of Tech said the issue again might be clouded, with two schools being considered for membership, and it might result in the same situation that prevailed several times in the past—the conference would just say it either was tabling the motions or that it wouldn't want to expand at this time.

The fears apparently are groundless. This is nothing new. Baylor has submitted Houston before. It did so last winter when Tech drew ive votes. Houston got no votes except Baylor's, in fact there wasn't even a second to bring it up for a vote.

Baylor would like to have Texas Tech in the conference but also would like to have Houston. So there appears little chance that bringng up Houston will hurt Tech's chances.

Plenty of signs are that Tech will make it this time. Five schools are definitely on the line for the Red Raiders. Five schools already have scheduled Tech on a permanent basis in football and another, Arkansas, is holding open Thanksgiving week for a game with Tech when and if the big West Texas college is voted into the conference. Rice is publicly opposed to enlarging the conference but if Tech is voted in will put the Raiders on its schedule as soon as possible.

Best indications are that the vote will be 5 to 2 next week when the faculty committee of the conference brings Tech up for membership consideration. Arkansas hasn't said which way it will vote and the general experience with when they won't say then they are going to vote against something. The vote may out of the committee room as unanimous, however. There would be no point in Rice and Arkansas opposing Tech when it already had made the grade.

Houston would be a good member of the conference but there is small prospect it will get enough backing to even bring it up for a vote. Houston is a different situation from Tech. It is the same city as a member of the conference—Rice. Tech isn't even close to one.

Another thing against Houston is the round-robin football schedule which Baylor has ascertained will be continued by the conference. Six of the seven members have said publicly they will want to continue this system whereby each member plays every other member. Bringing in Houston would make eight conference games per school and that's too many, cutting out some very lucrative intersectional games.

It appears here that one of the soundest bets a man could make is that Texas Tech will become a member of the Southwest Conference at Fayetteville May 12.

Ernie White, new manager of the Nashville Vols of the Southern Assn is putting in his 20th season in organized baseball. Only one of his teams has finished in the second division.

Hank Sauer Badly Hurt

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"The bat just slipped."

This was all Walker Cooper could bring himself to say in explaining the freak accident which felled veteran Hank Sauer of the St. Louis Cardinals before last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The 37-year-old auer suffered a severe brain concussion, a three inch cut of the lip and his left ear was almost torn off by the flying bat which struck him as he stepped out of the batting practice cage.

Dr. I. C. Middleman, club physician, said he took 12 stitches in Sauer's lip, "about 50" on the ear. He also did plastic surgery on the ear.

Middleman said preliminary X-rays indicated no skull fracture but Sauer will remain in the hospital for observation.

It was a typical pregame scene. On the first pitch, Cooper's bat slipped and struck Sauer in the head. The angular 6-foot-4-inch slugger collapsed.

Lincoln In Benefit Tilt

A benefit basketball game between students of Abraham Lincoln School and adults of that school's area is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Lincoln gymnasium.

Daniel Johson, principal of the school and coach of the boys team, said the game was schedule to help raise funds for the Esther Gift scholarship fund. Miss Gift, graduating with honors from the St. Peter Claver Academy in San Antonio is making plans to attend college, probably at Texas Southern or Prairie View. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students.

The student lineup will be J. B. Archie, A. C. Thompson, Robert Cobbs, Lloyd Hood, Randolph Williams, Tommy Davis, James Choyce, W .C. Stilwell, Gene Autry Taylor and Jack Newsome.

Names on the roster of the adult team are Charles Collins, Otis Archie, Johnnie Walker, Stanley Cobbs, Jr., Alvin Selman, James Sneed, Johnny Walker, Felton Wallace, Jerry McClain, and Wilbert Walker.

The Associated Press

Benching the team's star slugger may not sound like good managerial strategy, but it's worked wonders for Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Ever since big Ted Kluszewski was benched, the Redlegs have been on a diet of home runs and victories, with five roundtrippers coming last night as they blitzed Brooklyn's faltering Dodgers 10-6 for their sixth successive victory. The skein has lifted the club from the basement to a 7-5 mark with the leaders of the scrambled National League race.

Wally Post, the major league leader with 8; George Crowe, big Klu's "temporary" replacement; Ray Jablonski and Gus Bell were the home run heroes last night as the Redlegs ran their record to 17 homers in their last six games.

The modern Murderers' Row stole the headlines from the New York Giants' 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in 17 innings, on Daryl Spencer's sacrifice fly, and a 10-9 victory over Pittsburgh that sent the St. Louis Cardinals to the top of the National League. Cincinnati and Milwaukee trail by a half-game and the Dodgers and Giants by a full game. Philadelphia and Milwaukee were not scheduled

In contrast, pitching was the password in the American League with a pair of youthful right-handers, Detroit's Frank Lary and Tom Brewer of Boston supplying all the answers.

Lary knocked the New York Yankees out of first place and blanked the New Yorkers until the ninth inning, coasting to an 8-1 victory behind a 15-hit attack.

Brewer went Lary one better as he shut out Kansas City in hanging up a three-hit, 2-0 victory.

The Chicago White Sox, whose 5-2 record gives a better percentage (.714) than the Yanks .692 were rained out at Baltimore and Ceveland was washed out in Washington.

The Giants established a record when they sent 25 men into actor against Chicago. The old mark of 24 players was set by Pittsburgh against Boston in 1940 and tied by Brooklyn against New York April 21, 1948.

The Cubs threw 23 men into the fray and the combined total of 48 also was a major league record.

Spencer was the big man for the Giants as he tripled and scored one run, blasted a two-run homer and sent home the winner with his fly.

Stan Musial bagged a grand slam home run for the Cards, but it was a squeeze bunt by light-hitting Alex Grammas that eventually won for the Red Birds in the tenth over Pittsburgh.

Ernie White, new manager of the Nashville Vols of the Southern Assn is putting in his 20th season in organized baseball. Only one of his teams has finished in the second division.

Tigers Meet Lions In 'Must' Game Today

The Tiger baseballers were to have taken on the Vernon Lions in a District 4-AA game here today, starting at 3:45 p.m.

Ronnie Baker, Tiger lefty, was slated for starting mound duty for the Tigers. Baker owns a 5-2 record for the season an 1-0 in 4-AA play. In his only 4-AA start, Baker decisioned Wichita Falls, 5-3.

Jerry Phillips was expected to be the starting hurler for Coach Vernon Townsend's Vernon Lions. Phillips, although he is 0-2 in district play, is one of the district's finest moundsmen.

Only last week Phillips went the route in Vernon's 5-2 extra inning loss to Abilene. Through the regulation seven innings of play, Phillips allowed the heavy - hitting Abilene nine on four hits and two runs.

The Vernon - Abilene regulation game wound up 2-2 with Abilene putting together three singles and a walk for three runs to win the game in the eighth.

In his other 4-AA start, Phillips limited Wichita Falls to four hits before retiring after four innings of work. Shoddy fielding enabled the Coyotes to chalk up a convincng 13-2 win over the Lions. Seven of the 13 Coyote runs were charged to Phillips but only three were earned.

The Tigers need today's game to stay in the thick of the 4-AA title chase. Coach Speedy Moffett's Bengals are currently tied for first place with Abilene who meets Wichita Falls today at Wichita Falls. The Tigers and Eagles own 3-1 district records.

Both district games today were originally scheduled Tuesday but were rained out. In other games this week, Vernon goes to Wichita Falls tomorrow and to Abilene Saturday while the Tigers trek to Wichita Falls Saturday. Barring bad weather, the 4-AA race will end this weekend.

In the first Tiger - Vernon game, the Tigers won 7-2.

CLUTCH HITTER—Milton Ham, above, Tiger first baseman, has been one of the Tigers' best hitters in the clutch this season. Ham is shown selecting a bat he hopes will help the Tigers down the Vernon Lions here today. Ham currently is the second leading Tiger hitter with a .349 average. (Lee Watson photograph)

City League Opens Tomorrow Night

The lid will be blasted on the 1956 City Baseball League season tomorrow night when Sun Oil takes on Snyder Furniture in the league opener.

Game time will be 7:30.

The other two teams in the City League, Ira and Hermleigh will clash Saturday night to round out the first week of play.

All City League games will be played on the County Memorial diamond in Towle Park where the Snyder Pony League will also play its games. This week's games, as will the remaining league games, will start at 7:30 p.m.

Regulation time for City League games will be seven innings.

In tomorrow's opener, "Junk" Bowers is expected to start on the mound for Snyder Furniture with either Don Ballard or Wayne Whiteside due to go for Sun Oil.

Sun Oil is the defending champion.

Following is next weeks schedule:

Monday — Hermleigh vs. Sun Oil.

Tuesday — Ira vs. Snyder Furniture.

Friday — Sun Oil vs. Ira.

Saturday — Snyder Furniture vs. Hermleigh.

3 More Put On Probation

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Auburn, the University of Florida and the University of Louisville are planning to adjust their athletic programs to the probationary status imposed on them yesterday by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Auburn's probation is for three years, the longest period ever handed out by the NCAA. Florida and Louisville are on probation for two years.

For the first two years, Auburn's athletes will not be allowed to compete in bowl games or any invitational event that supports the NCAA enforcement program. Florida received the same penalty for two years.

Louisville's probation applies only to its basketball team, which won the 1956 National Invitational Tournament.

Dr. Ralph Draughon, president of Auburn, probably summed up the feelings for all concerned when he called the probation "rough stuff."

The head of the Southeastern Conference school added, "I said we'd accept and live by it when the SEC penalized us and we'll try to do the same for the NCAA. We're going to do everything we can to restore the good standing of Auburn."

The University of Louisville vice president, Woodrow M. Strickler, said the school "will make every effort to take whatever steps are necessary to follow the regulations of the NCAA."

He said he thought the probation is "a little bit heavy for the violation we committed."

Since the start of the NCAA enforcement program in 1952, 17 colleges have been put on probation.

Rod Hundley set a two-year scoring record for West Virginia by making 1,509 points. Hundley is the first collegiate in basketball history to tally more than 1,500 points his last two seasosn.

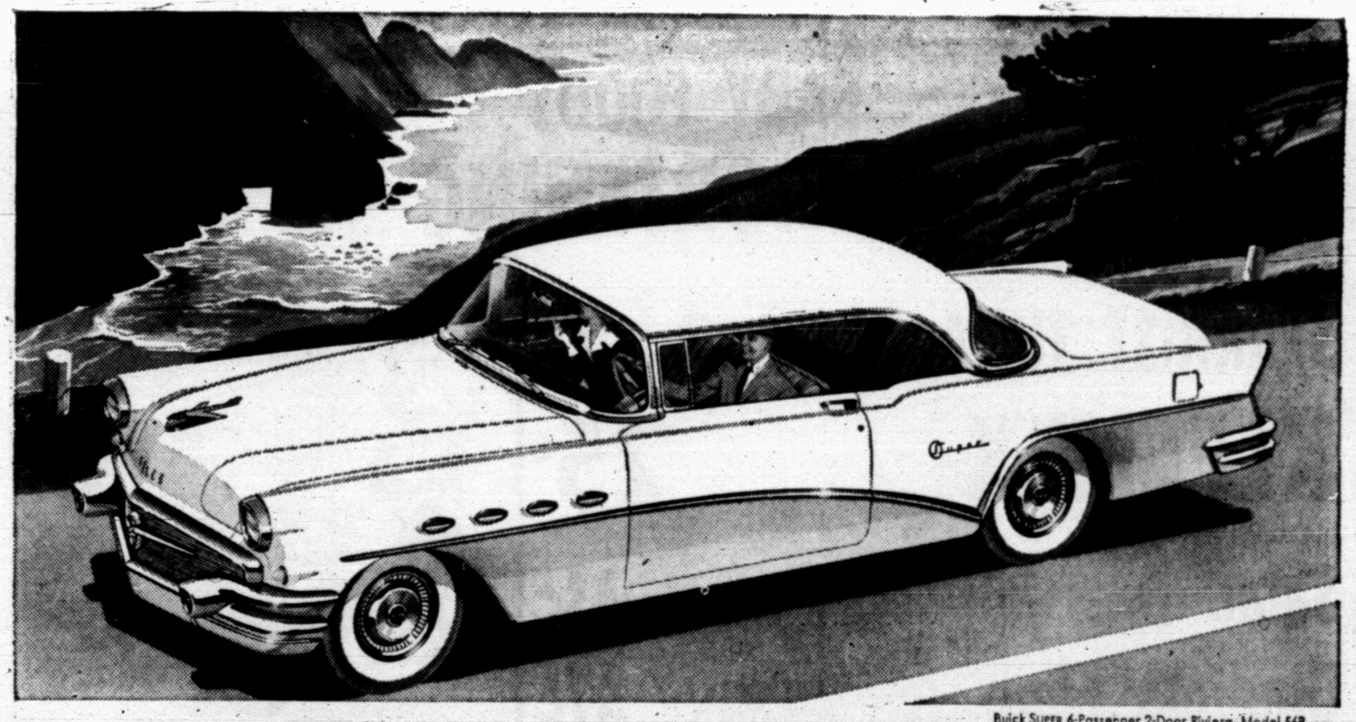
Sure starts a lot of Torque—



Buick SUPER 6-Passenger 2-Door Riviera, Model 56R

even before you Switch the Pitch

TORQUE is for take-off—and there's plenty of it here.

You just apply a puny bit of pressure on the pedal—and you're off and away. Never has such quick acceleration been so smooth.

It's the newest step-up in Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—and it gives a double-barreled thrill.

First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.

The second is for real zoom service. Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflow serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing—and add new safety to it.

But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.

There's Buick styling. Its flair and sweep alone have started many a conversation. On lines that are daring, but not reckless. On colors and interiors that are gay and stunning, but never garish.

And there's the Buick ride. Unlike any other. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.

A whole group of unseen marvels screen you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels. And there are new stabilizers and a new torque tube, to snub out any swing or sway

In short, there's so much excitement from stem to stern—in any Buick you can buy—that Buick owners have a whale of a lot to talk about.

So why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? Don't say you can't afford it until you hear us talk price. We're ready whenever you are.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

UP IN TIME—This Navy helicopter was a lucky bird for after developing machanical trouble and its crew ready to abandon the craft—the submarine USS Corporal surfaced and provided a risky but effective landing space. The incident took place off Key West, Fla., late last month and is believed to be the first time in American naval history that a helicopter has made a successful emergency landing aboard a submarine. The sub hauled the "copter" back to Key West for repairs.

Church Hits Blow At Racial Issue

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The world's largest Protestant denomination—the Methodist Church—today begins closing ranks against racial segregation.

Delegates to the church's quadrennial general conference set forth a three-pronged program yesterday condemning segregation, making integration possible in the church structure and studying new ways of bringing Negro and white members of the congregation more closely together.

The conference sped through action opening the door to full integration in the church, urging abolition of discrimination or segregation and setting up a commission to study ways of developing 'greater interracial brotherhood."

The conference's first action was to amend the church constitution to pave the way for all Negro church units to move into the regular organization framwork.

The plan, which still must be ratified by two-thirds of the voting delegates in 132 conferences, permits individual Negro churchs, or entire conferences of Negro churches, to transfer into regular "white 'administrative units.

Such action would be on a voluntary basis and could be undertaken by two-thirds vote of the regional groups involved.

The jurisdictional action by the conferences was hailed as a "miracle' by the Rev. C. Cooper Bell of Lynchburg, Va., and the "fastest and longest step' the church can now take to wipe out racial barriers by Leonard D. Slutz, a Cincinnati attorney, who presented the program.

Abolition of discrimination or segregation "by any method or practice, whether by conference or otherwise" and with reasonable speed was called for by the delegates in a resolution.

Offered as guidance, but not as a legally binding measure, the resolution called on Methodists to "actively work" to end racially discriminatory practices in their churches and community life.

The delegates voted overwhelmingly in favor, and with little discussion, of a plan to set up a commission that will undertake a four-year study of racial problems.

Coming as a supplementary move, the program for a 70-member lay-clergy group will serve to bring the results of a thorough study of the church's jurisdictional system back to the 1960 conference.

Light Lunch Ordered

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two detectives entered a short-order restaurant and asked for light lunch. They weren't talking about franks and beans or ham and eggs. They weren't offered them either. So the owner, James Kondelis, 58, and his son Gus, 28, were charged with bookmaking. Light Lunch was a nag running in the third race at Laurel. Came in fourth.

Fire Destroys Big Building

DETROIT (AP)—A million-dollar fire destroyed a six-story building in the downtown business district last night.

Three firemen were injured fighting the four-hour blaze.

The 80-year-old building on Woodward Avenue housed the main store of the Fred Sanders Co., Detroit's largest confectionary chain, and a dress shop. Adjacent buildings suffered smoke and water damage.

About 100 persons were in a basement cafeteria when the fire was discovered. All were evacuated safely and without panic.

Fire Marshall Matthew H. McNally estimated the loss. He said the fire broke out about 6 p.m., apparently on the fourth floor where the Eaton ready-to-wear dress ship stores its packaging material. The cause was not determined.

Within minutes flames had enveloped the top three floors of the building and then spread rapidly to the basement.

CHICKEN POT PIE WITH PEPPER BISCUITS FOR TOPPING
... ground white pepper flavors biscuits.

'Bake It' Motto Becomes Cook's Labor Saving Device

"Bake it" has long been the slogan of many a busy housewife. Almost, but not quite, as good as a cook, the oven keeps tabs on the baking food and allows the housewife-cook time to be party-goer, baby sitter, or scrub woman.

PEPPER BISCUITS TOP CHICKEN POT PIE

1-3 cup chicken fat
1-3 cup flour
2½ cups chicken stock
¼ cup diced celery
½ cup cooked peas
½ cup cooked sliced carrots
2½ cups diced cooked chicken
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon celery salt
⅛ teaspoon onion powder

Baking powder pepper biscuits

Melt butter, margarine or chicken fat in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Stir in chicken stock and cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add vegetables, chicken and seasonings. Turn into a 2-quart casserole. Top with baking powder pepper biscuit. Bake 45 minutes or uhtil done in a preheated very hot oven b)425 degrees F.). Serve at once. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

PEPPER BISCUITS

Sift together 1½ cups sifted all purpose flour, 2¼ teaspoons double acting baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, and ¼ teaspoon ground white pepper into a mixing bowl. Cut in 3 tablespoons shortening to cornmeal consistency. Gradually stir in enough milk to make a soft dough, about ½ cup. Knead about 20 seconds on a lightly floured board. Roll ½-inch thick. Shape with 1½-inch biscuit cutter. Arrange over pepper pot chicken pie. Yield: 16 to 18 biscuits.

CORN MEAL BISCUITS COVER VEAL BAKE

¼ cup shortening
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon marjoram
1½ pounds veal
½ cup sliced onion
1 six-ounce can mushroom caps
1 cup bouillon
2 cups tomato juice

Melt shortening in large frying pan. Combine flour and seasonings and roll veal in this mixture. Brown meat in hot shortening.

Sprinkle remaining flour mixture into pan, stirring to blend with the meat drippings. Add onion, mushroom caps, bouillon and tomato juice. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes.

BISCUIT TOPPING

¾ cup corn meal
1½ cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
½ cup shortening
¾ cup milk

Preheat oven to 425 degrees F. For biscuit topping, sift together dry ingredients; cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, all at once, mixture lightly only until mixture is dampened. Drop by spoonfuls on top of hot veal mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

ALMONDS COMPLIMENT CHICKEN CASSEROLE

3 cups cooked rice
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
½ cup milk
1 can boned chicken
1 cup cooked peas
1 cup shredded cheese
1 teaspoon grated onion
¼ cup diced pimiento
¼ cup toasted almonds

Drain the hot cooked rice. Blend with remaining ingredients, reserving half of almonds; sprinkle remaining almonds on top. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. 6 generous servings.

SOUTH OF BORDER PIE BLENDS CHILI BISCUITS

2 tablespoon shortening
2 pounds round steak
½ cup chopped onion
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 teaspoon chili powder
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
3½ cup cooked tomatoes.

Melt shortening in large frying pan; brown meat cubes in hot shortening. Add onion, seasonings and tomatoes to browned meat; cover and cook on low heat about 30 minutes.

BISCUIT DOUGH:

1½ cups cornmeal
3 cups sifted flour
5 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 cup shortening
1 1-3 cup milk

For biscuit dough, sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, stirring lightly only until mixture is dampened. (Add a little more milk if necessary to make a soft dough.) Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Divide dough in half and roll each half to form a circle 10 inches in diameter. Place circles on separate cooky sheets. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes.

To assemble chili pie, place one of the large biscuit circles on platter and pour about half the chili mixture over it. Place other biscuit circle on top of chili and pour remaining chili mixture over top. Cut in pie shaped wedges.

FAMILIAR MEAT BALLS BECOME OVEN DISH

1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoon rice cereal
1 pound ground beef
1 egg, beaten
1 teapoon minced onion
½ cup catsup
1 tablespoon water
1 teaspoon gravy seasoning

Place water, salt and pepper in saucepan over moderate heat. Bring to boil and sprinkle in rice cereal so that boiling does not stop. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick, about 1 minute. Lower heat, cover and cook, stirring frequently, for 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat and let cook, covered, to room temperature. When cooked rice is cool add ground beef, beaten egg, minced onion and mix well. Shape mixture lightly into 8 balls and place in shallow baking dish, about 8x10 inches. Mix catsup, water and kitchen bouquet and top each ball with about 1 tablespoon of this mixture. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until done, about 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

FILLETS, VEGETABLES MAKE FISH SCALLOP

2 tablespoons butter
1 medium size onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 (3-ounce) can mushrooms
2 tablespoons pimiento
¼ cup flour
½ to 1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
1 pound haddock fillets
¼ cup bread crumbs

Melt butter in large skillet, add chopped vegetables and saute until onions are golden brown and tender. Blend in flour and salt. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Place fish fillets in 1½ to 2 quart casserole. Spread vegetable mixture over fish. Sprinkle fine bread crumbs evenly over casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes or until bread crumbs are browned and fish is tender.

What A DRY VOTE Will Mean

To Vote Saturday AGAINST The Legal Sale Of Alcoholic Beverages Will Be:

1. A vote for the teachings of the Holy Bible which condemns the use of intoxicants. The word intoxicated means "being poisoned."
2. A vote against legalizing poison in Scurry County. The Pageant Magazine (Feb. 1956) has a scientific article on "The Big Lie About Moderate Drinking." On page 150 the question is ask "What is alcohol?" The answer is given: "Alcohol is actually a poison in the same way that ether and chloroform are poison. Yet 54 percent of all adult Americans drink it. We are poisoning ourselves just for pleasure."
3. A vote to encourage soberness instead of drunkeness.
4. A vote to make our highways safer.
5. A vote to keep another temptation away from our youth.
6. A vote to keep down juvenile deliquency.
7. A vote against the divorce evil. Strong drink is a great contributing factor in broken homes.
8. A vote to keep Scurry County a good place to live.
9. A vote against crime. Crime is greater where strong drink flows freely.
10. A vote for the physical, mental, moral and spiritual protection of our fellow citizens.
11. A vote against drunkennes—consequently making our county a safer place to live. In November 1955, Gov. Allen Shivers said, "Approximately 50 percent of all fatal accidents on rural Texas highways involved drinking drivers."
12. A vote to help the right kind of businesses in Scurry County.

Does the sale of alcohol help business? Statistics show that cost of law enforcement and court costs in wet areas are over 50 percent more per capita than in dry areas. Figure it any way you like—A WET COUNTY OR CITY COSTS MONEY, HOMES, AND LIVES.

BEVERAGE

For each serving . . .
1 medium-size baking potato
1 tablespoon hot milk
1 tablespoon butter
Salt and white pepper
1 slice bacon
Paprika

RECIPES:

BACON-STUFFED POTATOES:
Bake potatoes; cut a sliced of skin from the top the long way; scoop out insides and put through ricer. Beat in milk, butter, salt and pepper to taste. Meanwhile, cook bacon until crisp, drain and crumble into potato mixtures; spoon back into shells and sprinkle with paprika. Reheat in hot oven just before serving.

SPINACH RING:
3 cups cooked spinach
1 cup white sauce or cream of mushroom soup (undiluted)
3 eggs, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Chop spinach fine. Combine with white sauce, add eggs, salt and pepper, and pour into greased ring mold. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 40 miuntes. Serves 6.

FURR'S

SEES HIS CHILDREN FOR FIRST TIME— War veteran, Bernard Hreha, 34, of Cleveland, O., blinded in an accident eight years ago, has an affectionate reunion with his wife and two small children in Philadelphia whom he had never seen, after an operation restored the sight of his right eye in Veterans Administration Hospital in Philadelphia. The children are Carol Jane, 18 months, and Peggy, 3, at right.

Target Date Set In Algerian Row

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The French administration in Algeria has set itself a target of five months in which to restore order and regain the confidence of the Algerian people, a well-placed official said today.

The period — expiring about Oct. 1 — would coincide with the end of the good weather for troop movements in the mountains. It would also give the authorities the benefit of at least two or three months to build up military strength.

French Premier Guy Mollet has refused to say how many more troops he plans, but the total based in Algeria is expected to rise to 400,000 or 500,000.

In addition, the Oct. 1 date would be well before the opening Nov. 12 of the fall session of the United Nations General Assembly, where strenuous efforts to bring up the Algerian independence issue for discussion are expected from the Asian-African bloc.

"What we want to do is to produce a revolution — but it must be our revolution, not the rebels'," the official said.

Resident Minister Robert Lacoste and his staff are working to spur public works construction, to relieve unemployment, to hasten land reform, to raise workers' wages and to give more Arabs government jobs. Officials believe they have already made a start in turning the tide.

As an example, they say tipsters on rebel activity are beginning gain to volunteer information. This source of intelligence had been practically cut off.

More and more villagers too are reported asking the French forces to defend them. This can be a source of embarrassment, however, for if a village asks for help and then is later attacked successfully by the rebels a real loss of confidence results.

Trio Nabbed For Sterling City Holdup

STERLING CITY (AP) — Three men were arrested yesterday a few hours after the First National Bank here was robbed of nearly 8,000.

An abandoned car containing $7,725 was found near Water Valley, 25 miles away. A few minutes later pursuing officers arrested the three.

Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes said the men gave the names of Charles Peebles, 33; Percey Warren, 30; and Pete Moulton, 34, all of San Angelo.

W. R. Brooks, a teller, said two men came into the bank in this West Texas town of about 1,000 at 1:25 p.m. He said both carried guns but were not masked.

The bandits ordered Brooks, vice President J. S. Cole, Mrs. Nan Travis, a clerk, and Hubert Williams, a customer, into the vault and made them lie on the floor.

When Cole was slow in obeying, a shot was fired that missed Cole by about 15 inches.

The gunmen then made Brooks get off the floor and open the vault. They put $8,000 or so into sacks they were carrying.

Brooks said they used a telephone in the vault to call police. He opened the vault with a special safety device.

Paraguay Needs Roads, Railroad

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP) — Imagine a landlocked California virtually without highways or railroads. That's the republic of Paraguay today.

Like the California of 100 years ago, Paraguay has a tremendous potential. The land is fertile, virgin timber awaits the ax and there are grazing lands that could support millions of head of cattle.

But Paraguay, the size of California, has only 78 miles of paved highways, 720 miles of roads all told, and a population of 1,530,000.

The primary job of Paraguay's new economic czar, Gustavo Storm, president of the government's Central Bank of Paraguay is to improve the situation.

"It's depressing," he declares, literally throwing up his hands. "With things the way they are now, we can't move. We can't develop our land, and that is exactly what we must do."

Storm, son of a German immigrant, has initiated — on paper — a four-year plan for increasing the highway network to 1,800 miles. It calls for completion of four major highways.

The most important highway under construction runs from Asuncion to Foz do Iguacu, Brazil, on the border. The total length of 207 miles, 123 still must be built and there has been little construction since 1943. A Brazilian road now extends from Foz do Iguacu to Paranagua on the Brazilian coast. This would be a free port for Paraguay and would give this landlocked country a second outlet to the sea.

Now Paraguay's goods must travel 1,000 miles down the Paraguay River to Buenos Aires to reach international markets. Goods are shipped at about $25 per ton. This compares with $5 per ton for the same distance down the Mississippi River in the United States.

More Polio Shots Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 50 million children should be inoculated against polio by Oct. 30, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele says.

He told a news conference yesterday sufficient Salk vaccine should be available for that program Addressing a closed meeting of doctors and health officers, he urged that immunization be continued during the summer months.

The meeting did not express any view on the summer program. Scheele reported. Some doctors have heretofore favored discontinuing shots during the summer, when the incidence of the disease normally is highest.

Scheele said promised increases in vaccine production will be sufficient to provide two or three shots for all the 53 million children under 15 and for pregnant women who want them. Officials estimate that about 20 million of the women and children already have received one or more shots.

Employers' age policies are the cause of 56 per cent of U.S. retirements, one survey indicates

New Rocket Tests Planned

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—Disappointed Navy scientists, despite a fizzle on their initial try, are planning another attempt at a new rocket altitude record next week.

The first production model of the Aerobee-hi plunged to earth in the southern New Mexico desert yesterday after its main motors failed to fire.

The booster mechanism blasted the research vehicle to only 18,000 feet before it turned its nose down and hit the ground just a mile from the launching tower.

John W. Townsend, Naval Research Laboratory scientists in charge of the launching, said pending analysis of yesterday's failure, the Navy still plans to fire an identical rocket here next Tuesday.

He indicated that next week's shot might lose its connection with the earth satellite program. He said he will consider removing from the rocket's instrument layout a preliminary version of the so-called Mini-track transmitter which will be used in radio tracking of the satellite when it is launched during the International Geophysical Year starting in 1957.

The scientists said he may consider removing other instruments to "get all there is to get" out of the firing.

Just what caused the failure will not be known until after a close inspection of the rocket. Townsend said the main rocket motor never did start and preliminary examination of debris indicated there may have been a failure in the fuel system. He said more research and better design obviously are needed.

Cost of the abortive shot was estimated at $100,000.

Officers To Get Aid With Their Spelling

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Jefferson County Police Department will get three dictionaries to help officers in their spelling.

Fiscal Court agreed to the expenditure after Chief Walter Layman complained some of his men coudn't even spell Oak Street.

Because of bad spelling, he said, reports from district offices are hard to read.

A member of the court first suggested providing the oficers with county maps listing streets and roads.

County Road Engineer W. Price Lane said that wouldn't do because "some of the roads are spelled wrong there too."

There can be more than 50,000 earthworms in an acre of soil.

Psychiatrist Reports On 'Hidden Epilepsy'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A psychiatrist says 20 per cent of the U.S. population may be suffering from "hidden epilepsy."

Many persons who have momentary mental blackouts or dimouts may be suffering from the disorder, Dr. Charles L. Yeager of the University of California said.

Fidgety children and adults who complain of nervous disorders are likely to have the ailment, he said. Mostly it is nondisabling, but in some instances it can develop into little attacks of real epilepsy, he told the California Medical Assn.

Brain wave recordings can disclose the condition, he said.

THRICE-CONDEMNED MAN FREED—Flanked by his attorneys, 55-year-old Camilio Leyra, former New York bartender, walks away from the gray walls of Sing Sing Prison after four years and nine months in the death house on three separate convictions of murdering his elderly parents. Three times appeals courts reversed the convictions and finally the courts ordered him freed. At left is Osmond K. Fraenkel and right is Fredrick W. Scholen, who represented Leyra in his long fight.

Sainburg Cleared Of Kidnap Charge

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Frank P. Sainburg, charged with twice kidnaping his son from the boy's mother, was acquitted last night.

Two other defendants tried with Sainburg also were found innocent of charges against them in Tompkins County Court.

Sainburg, 38, of Big Spring, Tex., was accused of taking his son Philip, now 5, from the home of his former wife Doris Blanchard of Ithaca Jan. 19, 1954. Another count charged him with taking the boy Nov. 14, 1955, from St. John's Nursery School here.

The physician was also acquitted of a charge of third-degree burglary.

George Varris, 38, New York City, was accused of illegal entry and third-degree assault. Murray Morton, 32, Hollywood, Fla., was charged with illegal entry. Varris and Morton, private detectives employed by Sainburg, were accused in connection with the 1954 incident.

The jury of seven men and five women returned the verdicts after five hours deliberation.

About 50 persons in the courtroom greeted the last verdict with cheers and handclapping. Mrs. Connie Sainburg, the physician's present wife, wept.

Miss Blanchard was not present.

Woman Is Held For Murder Of Husband

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 65-year old woman is held on suspicion of murder in the hammer killing of her crippled husband.

Police said Mrs. Agnes Leslie told them she suddenly decided yesterday to kill her husband Charles, 60, "because he needed to be waited on all the time, and I'm going blind and couldn't help him any more."

Officers said Mrs. Leslie slashed her throat and wrists with a razor and was found wandering outside their apartment by a neighbor. Doctors said she probably will recover.

Indications Of Inflation Are Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Board Chairman Ray D. Murphy of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York said today, "Typical storm signals of inflation are flying."

Urging government action to hold down rising prices, Murphy suggested in an address prepared for the final day of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce's annual meeting that Congress should arm the Federal Reserve Board with standby power to control consumer installment credit and home mortgage terms.

"We are in a course of rapidly growing country, but the performance in 1955 represented more than normal growth," he said. "It was achieved by going heavily into debt."

He said mortgage debt increased by 15 per cent and consumer debt by 20 per cent last year while total spending exceeded the amassing of new capital by nearly three billion dollars. The 1956 outlook is for a further boom in plant and equipment spending, a sharp rise in steel prices, and higher prices for oil and other commodities, he added.

"Industrial management still seems to find it easy to pass on to consumers wage increases in the form of higher prices," he said.

He praised what he termed efforts by the Treasury to keep federal monetary operations noninflationary as well as the "vigilance and courage" of the Federal Reserve Board in five times raising the interest rate at which banks borrow from the reserve system, to discourage inflationary credit expansion.

He asked why direct controls over consumer and residential mortgage credit would not be better than such indirect methods, and he added:

"If the reserve system is granted such standby powers, to use as they deem necessary, they will be able to cope with any future serious expansion in credit."

Man Is Fined For Airliner Accident

DENVER (AP)—A 21-year-old motorist who drove through the whirling propeller of a parked airliner last March 11 was fined $200 in Traffic Court.

Bryce L. Bredehoft, a civilian clerk at Lowry Air Force Base, was convicted of reckless driving and destroying city and private property.

Police said he ran his car through a fence surrounding Stapleton Airfield and onto a runway where a giant Trans-World Airways plane was warming up. The propeller cut huge slices in the car but Bredehoft emerged with only head cuts.

He testified he had attended a party and remembered nothing of the incident.

Most Rome Stores Start Summer Hours

ROME (AP)—Most Rome stores go on summer hours today to allow for the customary Italian hot-weather siesta.

Opening at 7 a.m., the shops will be closed from 1:30 p.m. to 5.

It's not so good in winter. The noon interval then is only from 1:30 to 4.

Hero Of Tarawa Is Picked To Head Marine's Training

WASHINGTO N (AP)—The Marines have picked as new boss of their recruit training a hero of bloody Tarawa, Maj. Gen. David M. Shoup.

Shoup's job will be to make boys into Marines without hazing—and without endangering their lives.

He also will have the job of curbing some of the old disciplinary practices of the Marines' noncommissioned officer drill instructors without undermining their authority or wrecking their morale.

Shoup's appointment as inspector general of recruiting was announced yesterday by Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant, in the aftermath of an investigation into the April 8 fatal march at Parris Island, S.C.

In that march at the recruit depot six "boots,' as the Corps calls the untrained, were drowned. Their platoon had been ordered into a tide-swept creek by a drill instructor "to teach them discipline."

Shoup is a tough man. On occasion, the full-necked product of a farm near Battle Ground, Ind., has been known to use language which any old salty-dog, type Marine could admire.

The 52-year-old graduate of DePauw University — he went to school on a scholarship and was an A student—is also a fighting man.

As much as any man he has been credited with the U.S. victory at Tarawa. After those bloody 72 hours in November 1943 in which the Marines suffered 3,166 casualties, Shoup was awarded the Medal of Honor.

"Although severely shocked by an exploding shell . . . and suffering serious leg wounds which had become infected," the citation read, "Shoup fearlessly exposed himself and . . . rallying his hesitant troops by his own inspiring heroism, he gallantly led them across the fringing reef to charge the heavily fortified island and reinforce hard-pressed, thinly held lines."

After the initial assault wave hit the beach they were clobbered. Some units had 70 per cent casualties.

Offshore in a landing craft, Shoup ordered his reserves into the desperate fight and then led them in the sweep inland. By nightfall he had set up his command post—15 yards from the water.

As the senior officer ashore, Shoup, who had received a field promotion to colonel only a couple of days before, directed the entire operation.

"By his brilliant leadership, daring tactics and selfless devotion to duty," the citation read, "Col. Shoul was largely responsible or the final, decisive defeat of the enemy."

In World War II Shoup also collected two Legions of Merit, a commendation ribbon and assorted campaign ribbons for servce in the Guadalcanal, Saipan and Tinian operations in the Pacific.

Shoup signed up for the Marines in 1926, underwent training as a second lieutenant and subsequently served in China and at sea.

The new recruit chief, who is answerable directly to Pate, is married to the former Zola De Haven of Covington, Ind. They have a daughter, Carolyn, 22, and a son, Robert, 18.

Old Engineer Is Retiring

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP)—Robert T. McMillan, the nation's oldest railroad engineer, who spent 66 of his 83 years with the Illinois Central Railroad, retired yesterday.

He became an engineer in 1899 and guided everything from wood-burning locomotives to deisel electrics over more than three million miles of rails.

His last run was Feb. 8 in the cab of the City of New Orleans from Centralia to Cairo, Ill., a distance of 110 miles. He had been off the job since after an attack of pneumonia.

He started his career with the IC as a machinist apprentice in Centralia and became a fireman in 1894. Five years later he was promoted to engineer.

McMillan is one of three living members of the Casey Jones Fellowship, founded in 1950 on the 50th anniversary of the famed engineer's death. The others are Casey's widow and his fireman Sim Webb.

At Illinois Central headquarters in Chicago, a spokesman commenting on McMillan's age at retirement, said some employes, including company officers, are compelled to retire at 70 but retirement of craft workers is governed by their unions.

Postmen Try Defense Against Dog-Biting

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The best protection against unfriendly dogs, reports Postmaster Kenneth R. Hammaker, is a bigger dog.

He said Sacramento postmen, victims in 96 biting cases last year, are trying the system.

"They make friends with the biggest dog in the neighborhood and get that pooch to go along on their route," he said. There's a lot of barking, but no bites.

Strange Car Sound

BOSTON (AP)—Ernest Russo, 27, stepped on the starter of his car and heard what he described as the darndest sounds. He opened the hood and found a cat caught in the fan. The animal ran off, apparently not seriously hurt.

Senate Race For Governor Dewey Talked

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House aides were reported active today in efforts to persuade former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Ambassador John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky to run for the Senate.

There is no evidence President Eisenhower himself has taken a hand as some GOP sources say he did in nudging former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay into Oregon's primary race.

But some party strategists said they have been approached by Eisenhower associates with suggestions that Dewey might be convinced he ought to undertake the New York senatorial race if certain conditions were met.

One of these was said to be assurances from members of the old Taft wing of the party that Dewey would have their support if he ran and that he would not be relegated to a back-seat Senate role if he won.

Dewey generally is credited with helping engineer Eisenhower's defeat of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

Rep. Taylor (R-NY) has predicted Eisenhower may ask Dewey to seek the GOP senatorial nomination. Dewey said he hadn't heard of it. So did White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty. Dewey has insisted he has no plans to get back into politics.

McKay has said pressure for him to get into the Oregon Senate race came from GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant Sherman Adams. Philip Hitchcock, who declined to withdraw when McKay suddenly entered the race, is credited with giving McKay a stiff battle for the Republican nomination to oppose Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse.

Wife Gets Tired Of Hubby's Judo

DETROIT (AP)—Her husband's judo got to be just too much for Mrs. Barbara Clark.

In her divorce suit, she said her husband Walter didn't practice on her but grappled with unsuspecting guests.

"After our friends were thrown to the floor several times, they would leave, never to return," her petition stated.
