669 Enrolled in Wellington School to Date

The Wellington Schools have enrolled 669 students for the 1969-70 school year, Supt. J. L. Harper announced Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Most of the students were enrolled Thursday and Friday, and the remainder came in Monday morning, he said.

This enrollment includes 284 students in the elementary grades; 164 in junior high, and 221 in high school.

The total is about the same enrollment as at the end of the school term in May.

Dodson School Enrolls 56

Fifty-six students were enrolled in the elementary and junior high grades of the Dodson School through Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 2, according to Principal Joe Lennon.

A few more are expected to enroll.

Work is now under way to integrate physical education and music into the curriculum to give a well-rounded school program, Mr. Lennon added.

This is the first year that Dodson has operated with only the first eight grades.

Mrs. Bill Leach Dies at Houston

Mrs. Bill Leach, a long-time teacher in the Houston schools, was found dead in her home Tuesday morning, Sept. 2. Her death is believed due to a heart attack, according to her son, Billy Leach.

Her husband, Bill Leach, is seriously ill in the intensive care section of a Houston hospital.

Jake Leach, Wellington city superintendent, had talked with his sister-in-law by phone about 11 p.m. Monday, and he said that except for seeming tired she gave no indication she was ill.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday in Houston, according to Jake Leach.

Mrs. Leach was the former Oletha Vaughan, daughter of the late J. W. Vaughan and Mrs. Bertie Vaughan Ward, who died a year ago. She was graduated from high school here about 1929 and began her teaching career in this county.

Survivors are her husband; a son and daughter, Billy Leach of Houston and Mrs. Andrea Priest of San Antonio; and three grandchildren and a brother, John W. Vaughan of Sherman.

Relatives still living here are Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Vaughan and Mrs. J. A. Leach.

A LAKE—12 MONTHS LATER

A year ago this field of grain sorghum was Shelton Nunnelley's lake. Water from July flooding stood for many months in the rich sandy land field. This year he has come back with a crop that promises an excellent yield. The feed is of a loose-headed variety.

Methodist Youth Sponsor Annual Dinner Sept. 7

The young people of First United Methodist Church will hold their annual Youth Dinner Sunday, Sept. 7 at the church dining room, the Rev. R. T. Dyess announced.

This will be served at noon, immediately following the morning worship service.

A free will offering will be taken which will go to the youth fund projects relating to India and Biafra.

The young people also will assist at the evening service, and will present special music. Rev. Dyess will do the preaching.

Injured Farmer Is Improving

C. B. Carter, who was critically injured when he was struck by a car west of Hollis Tuesday, Aug. 26 is improved although his condition is still listed as critical, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Carter, said Monday, Sept. 1.

He regained consciousness for a short time Sunday, then slept naturally, she said.

Surgery will be performed on the knee of one leg which was broken in three places. Mr. Carter also received head and spine injuries.

The accident occurred on rain-slick US 62 west of Hollis near his home as he was assisting at the scene of another wreck. The car which struck him went out of control when the driver hit a sheet of water across the highway.

Look Good in Scrimmage

Skyrockets Showing Strength on Offense

Wellington Skyrockets have turned out unexpectedly strong on the offense but they still need more polishing on their defensive play, Head Coach Thayne Amonett revealed this week.

"We were well pleased with the showing on the offense, but not as pleased with our defense," he said, following the scrimmage with Clarendon late last week.

In that one confrontation, Linemen Danny Watts, Ted McLain and Mark Killian looked good in spite of the heaviest of the trio is a 160-pounder.

Coaches were happy with the backfield performance of halfback Larry Robinson and fullbacks Nicky Watts and Ricky Nall.

"We have pulled Danny West from end to halfback and he looked good," the coach continued.

"The boys have been working hard and we hope to be ready for Hollis on Sept. 12."

This game will be played on the Tigers home field.

Coach Amonett praised the attitude of this year's Skyrockets and their willingness to get down and work hard.

The team is due to scrimmage Paducah this week but Coach Amonett did not announce the date.

Returning to the defensive weakness in the team, the coach said this is partially due to inexperience as well as size. "But we've got to give them experience and coach them," he added.

Approximately 50 boys are out for football on both Varsity and B teams, Coach Amonett said. The teams have been divided about equally for the two teams.

182 Enrolled

Three Teachers Join Norwood Faculty

With enrollment completed for the Samnorwood Schools, Supt. Robert Dwight announced a total of 182 students, more than was expected prior to the opening of school Aug. 25.

Mr. Dwight also announced that the faculty has been completed, new auxiliary employees chosen and new subjects added to the curriculum.

"Our faculty is strong and we should be able to offer a high quality program of instruction this year," Supt. Dwight said.

The school will go into its second year using the levels program in elementary school, whereby children advance at their own pace in each subject.

Mrs. Billie Edmunson comes to Norwood after having taught in the Denver, Colo., schools; Mrs. Judy Oren, who formerly taught in Woodward, Okla.; and Bill Shewmake, a former Amarillo teacher.

Mrs. Edmunson will be remembered by many here as Billie Harp, who grew up at Childress. She will teach high school English at Samnorwood. She holds a bachelor's degree from Texas Tech and a master's degree from Denver University. She has taught several years in both Texas and Colorado. Mrs. Edmunson has two children, both grown and away from home.

Mrs. Oren fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Pete Smith, who joined her husband at Newport, R.I., and will teach fourth year in the levels program. She has her degree from Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla. She is married and has a 4-year-old son, Steve. The family lives in Shamrock and Mr. Oren has farming interests near there.

Mr. Shewmake also is a native of Childress. He will teach social studies on the junior high and high school level and will be in charge of elementary and junior high physical education. A graduate of West Texas State University, he has done graduate work at the University of Texas. Besides teaching he has also been in sales work and was a representative of a technical school.

Mrs. Helen Oldham will be in the school's central office, replacing Mrs. Louise Dwight. Mrs. Oldham grew up in the Samnorwood area and she has been closely associated with the school while her two sons were enrolled theme.

Mrs. Charles Roberts will succeed Mrs. John Pendergraft in the cafeteria. She and her three children are living at Dozier while Sgt. Roberts, an Army career man, is serving in Vietnam.

Trigonometry has been added to the curriculum in the mathematics department, driver education in the physical education department, and business mathematics in the commerce department.

And because the new federal laws rule that there can be no discrimination in classes, the way was cleared for five Samnorwood girls to enroll in vocational agriculture.

The complete faculty includes in the elementary division: Miss Rama Camp, first year level; Mrs. Velma Hiett, second year level; Mrs. Jack Lowry, third year level; Mrs. Oren, fourth year level; Mrs. J. M. Morgan, fifth year level; Mrs. Selba Rainey, elementary principal, and Mrs. Lois Simpson, teacher aide.

Instructors in the junior high and secondary grades are Mr. Dwight, superintendent and social studies; Kenneth Martin-

First Cotton Spraying Due in County Friday

The first spraying in the 1969 Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program will be Friday, Sept. 5 and this will be followed by three more sprayings at 6-day intervals, according to Cliff Hartman of Wellington Flying Service, which has the spraying contract.

If weather does not allow the cotton to be sprayed Friday, it will be done on Saturday, or the first possible day.

Approximately 6,000 acres of cotton in Collingsworth and Childress County north of Red River had been signed up by Tuesday evening.

This is about twice the acreage covered in the first spraying last year.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has earmarked approximately $20,000 — the exact figure has not been announced — to carry out the diapause spraying program in Collingsworth County.

The four tentative spraying dates announced by Wellington Flying Service are: Friday, Sept. 5; Thursday, Sept. 11; Wednesday, Sept. 17, and Tuesday, Sept. 23. Should the weather cause any of these dates to be changed, all others that follow it will be adjusted, Mr. Hartman pointed out.

Hartman and Duggie Jameson, co-owners of Wellington Flying Service are bringing in two additional agri-spray planes from Borger which will put four in the air. With this, the entire 6,000 acres can be sprayed in one day.

County Agent Don Reeves emphasized again that the cut-off date to sign up is two days before the spraying takes place. Wednesday at 5:00 p.m. was the deadline for the Friday spraying.

Application for spraying is made at the office opened by the Texas Department of Agriculture in the Airpark terminal where Mrs. Art Kane of Dodson is in charge. Office hours are 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

There is considerably more interest in the diapause weevil control program than in 1968, the first year it was carried out here, according to Elbert Watts, president of the Collingsworth County Cotton Improvement Association.

Mr. Watts said that the results of last year's spraying seems apparent and some fields sprayed have had no weevil at all so far. Infestation in the county as a whole is spotted.

Mr. Hartman said that applications have been received from farmers through the Dodson area, a considerable number around Wellington, around Quail, and in the Dozier, Samnorwood and Lutie sections north of Salt Fork.

There is quite a bit of interest in Childress County, they added.

Three representatives of the Texas Department of Agriculture will be here to supervise the spraying Friday.

A similar diapause program is under way in Hall County and the first spraying of 6,140 acres was scheduled for Wednesday.

When the total cotton acreage of the two counties is considered, however, Collingsworth has a proportionately larger acreage covered by applications.

The Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program aimed at killing those weevil that will over-

1st Armored Veterans Meet at Valley Forge

M. W. Paschall of Lutie returned recently from the 22nd reunion of men who in World War II served in the First Armored Division — Old Ironsides — held at Valley Forge, Penna.

He served as a member of the resolutions committee for that national organization and with the other members present participated in placing a plaque and planting an oak tree at Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge.

Ken Wells II, vice president of Freedom Foundation, welcomed the men and tribute was paid by Major General John K. Boles, Jr., commanding general of the 1st Armored Division, Ft. Hood.

Approximately 500 men and their families attended this reunion of the First Armored Division Association. It is the ninth that Paschall has participated in.

The First Armored Division, the Lutie man reminded, was the first armored division to go overseas. It was the first to engage the Germans in North Africa and it trounced Rommel across those sands, then went ashore at Anzio, and was the first division to go into Rome, then on to the Po Valley.

The wartime strength of the division was 15,000.

One night they looked at movies of the 1st Armored in action in Africa and Italy — and Ike Paschall saw himself as a soldier nearly 25 years ago.

They were commanded by Major General Orlando Ward, now of Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Thomas Returns Home

Mrs. J. W. Thomas, who was critically injured in a tractor accident Aug. 5, returned to the family home south of Samnorwood Sunday afternoon, Aug. 31.

She is able to be up part of the time and will return to Shamrock for medical checkups each Tuesday and Friday.

Mrs. Thomas received a punctured lung and had all ribs on the right side and five on the left side broken. The accident occurred while she was accompanying Mr. Thomas to change irrigation pipe. Getting off the tractor she tripped, throwing it in gear. She fell under the wheels, which went partially over her before it could be stopped.

Mrs. Don Rummell of Lubbock and her two daughters were with her parents until early this week. They have returned there recently from College Station to make their home.

Mrs. Thomas' sister, Mrs. Rabon Balch of Gatesville has retired from teaching and will come Monday to stay with them. Another sister, Mrs. Ted Martin of Denton was here until recently.

YH Urges Acreage

Quail Alfalfa Meeting Called Monday Night

Quail Young Farmers will seek to promote alfalfa production in Collingsworth County in an open meeting they are holding Monday night, Sept. 8 at the vocational agriculture building.

The meeting will start at 8:00 p.m., according to Doyle Messes, Quail-Hedley vocational agriculture instructor.

Melvin Boothe, Hedley banker, will be the speaker, and Clyde Hoggard, extensive alfalfa grower in the Hedley area, will discuss the subject.

Quail Young Farmers are trying to promote more alfalfa in this area because they feel there is a market for it, just as there is a market for milo and cotton.

If sufficient alfalfa acreage can be grown, terminal facilities will be available, possibly at Hedley, Mr. Messer said.

Stressing that this is an open meeting, Mr. Messer urged that anyone in the Collingsworth area interested in alfalfa attend.

Collingsworth is one of the most favorably situated of all counties in the Panhandle for alfalfa growing and the increase in livestock feeding in West Texas is skyrocketing the demand for this hay, it was pointed out.

He warned, however, that alfalfa should be seeded during September, and he urged that farmers, especially those in the Quail area, give it serious consideration.

Mrs. Lucy Green Breaks Leg

Mrs. Lucy Green, who is in St. Anthony's Hospital for treatment of a broken left leg, was able to be up in a wheel chair Monday, Sept. 1, a niece, Mrs. B. M. Sims, has reported.

Mrs. Green received the broken leg a week earlier when she fell while trying to pull down the garage door at her home. The bone was broken between the knee and hip. Surgery was performed and a pin inserted to hold the bone.

She is in room 422 at St. Anthony's.

Among those who have been with her in Amarillo are her sister, Mrs. Bill Sims, Mrs. Clarence Littleton and Miss Lena Ball.

Capt. Verdel Masten

But More is Needed

Clothes from County Aid Vietnam Orphans

Gifts of clothing sent by Wellington people have clothed children at the orphanage of An Khe, Vietnam, where Captain Verdell Masten is Intelligence and Civil Affairs officer.

"I only wish the people that gave could get the same warm feeling as I do when I take these things out to the orphanage," he wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Masten.

"I wish I could express the thanks as well as the 3-year-old did when he came up to me crying and happy at the same time and said 'Thank you. This is my first pair of shoes.' "

Capt. Masten's letter was to "thank you and all of the wonderful people of Collingsworth County for the two boxes of clothing I have received and distributed."

The young officer is due a rest and recreation leave in Hawaii the week of Oct. 20 and his wife and their 3-year-old daughter, Paula Mae, of Novato, Calif., will join him there. He will celebrate his 31st birthday and the couple their 8th wedding anniversary while they are together.

"It makes you realize the heart-felt thanks and is a reward for such little effort. Everyone has clothing now at the orphanage but they still need changes. I wish I could express the thanks, the happiness, and security that these children receive when we give them the things you send.

"The monsoon season is here and it's raining most of the time now. This disables a lot of the aircraft and the enemy situation precludes the use of the roads. So we do go a day or two without mail then get it all at once. . . . I think that the air force is doing a real great job and would hate to think that there wasn't any mail service. One of the biggest morale factors we have is the mail; without it morale would be at the lowest.

"I wish I could send some of the rain that we have been having in your direction. It rains on the average of 4 to 5 inches in a 24- to 48-hour period. I even think that my Never-enough-rain Daddy would holler calf rope over here. Wet and muddy all the time but we do see the sun quite a bit each day. The temperature is on the rise and with all the humidity it gets a little warm. The average temperature runs about 80 to 95 or so. Not near as bad as down south but still hot.

"I am glad that you sent the article to the paper. It was real nice and I hope that it brings a lot of results. Not only the orphanage but I am sure that I could use a lot of clothing for the area of pacification.

"I have been flying around the country a lot lately. We have been conducting command inspections of all our units. I have in the past two weeks been to almost every location we have all over the country: A Btry at Tuy Hoa; B Btry at Pleiku; C Batry at Bong Son; and D Btry at Enari. I have also been down to Phan Thiet and Phudc Vinh which are down around Saigon.

"We have units which operate in the I Corps, the II Corps and the III Corps every day. I think we are the only Battalion that can make the claim of three corps on a daily basis. We have a real great unit and I am glad that I was assigned here.

"There are only three units that you can actually work in an air defense role. And I was lucky enough to get one of the units.

"Things are picking up as far as enemy activities. We have been fighting real hot and heavy for the last two weeks and it looks like there is more to come. We have lost eight men in the last two weeks, but we have been credited with 58 enemy killed in action. So that is a real good ratio. We have had several wounded in action but most were returned to duty. It's a real bad thing (War) but better here than somewhere closer to home. I think that Nixon's efforts are going to help the Americans here but I don't think that it will help the country unless we give them material support."

Services Held Thursday for Ben H. Brewer

Funeral services for Ben Brewer were conducted at 2 p| m|. Thursday, August 28 at First Baptist Church with the Rev. Leroy Gaston, pastor officiating.

Mr. Brewer died in St. Joseph's Hospital early Wednesday, August 27.

Pall bearers for the service were nephews; Orville Vaughtn, K. K. Bratten, Ernest Nipper, Johnny Carwford, Clyde Ingram, and Milburn Gibbs.

Born in Cave City Arkansas on January 24, 1889, Benjamin Harrison Brewer came to Collingsworth County with his parents in 1902.

From that time on, this was his home, and he farmed all of his adult life until the time of his death except for one season a few years ago when his health was bad.

He was married to Miss Mittie L. Ingram on December 24, 1913, and she preceded him in death January 29, 1969.

Survivors are two daughters Mrs. Robert Strong of Amarillo and Mrs. Ray King of Guymon, Oklahoma; three sisters and a brother; Mrs. W. F. Vaughan, of Wellington, Mrs. L. Bratten of Hollis, Mrs. N. B. Coughran of Abilene, and Millard Brewer of Pampa.

Comanche Leaders Map Scout Member Drive

Boy Scout leaders of the Comanche District laid plans for this year's membership round-up when they met for a picnic at Samnorwood Community Park Thursday evening, Aug. 28. Robert Dwight, district commissioner, was the official host.

Dave Agnew, district executive, called it the best kickoff roundup that has been held in the district in several years.

Jim Colvin of Shamrock, Comanche District chairman, presided at the business meeting and program, during which Mr. Dwight issued a challenge to leaders to get more boys into Scouting. He showed slides he has made of various activities illustrating that boys now in Scouting are doing things.

"There can be more boys doing more things if we will work at it," he sold the group.

Jim Colvin Jr., showed a series of slides made on his Canadian Canoe Trop this summer.

Frank Phelan, of Clarendon, vice president of the Adobe Walls executive committee reviewed the membership goals for the first quarter of the Scout year which begin Sept. 1.

Mr. Agnew issued enrollment material and guides for enlisting boys in the various units.

Two follow-up meetings were set up, both to be at the fellowship hall of First Christian Church in Wellington. The district meeting for Cub Scout units will be Tuesday, Sept. 9 and that for Boy Scout and Explorer leaders on Thursday, Sept. 11.

Mr. Dwight pointed out that anyone interested in Scouting is welcome to attend these and especially is anyone interested in working in the Scouting movement invited.

Linda Gaston Weds Lorentz Larsen In Ceremony at Fort Worth Saturday

The Rev. Weldon Leroy Gaston officiated at the wedding of his daughter, Miss Linda Marie Gaston, and Lorentz McKay Larsen at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, August 30, in Birdville Baptist Church, Fort Worth.

The bride who lives in Fort Worth is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Gaston of Wellington while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Larsen of 612 Woodcrest, Hurst.

Church decorations were an arch of foliage and lilies of the valley, with an arch candlelabra and topiary trees accented with white doves. At center was a prayer bench with an eternal candle.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Lauris Wright, vocalist and Larry Clark, organist, both of Fort Worth.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Larry Wayne Gaston.

Her formal length wedding gown of white silk organza was made with capelet sleeves and scooped neckline. The A-line skirt fell from an empire bodice which was appliqued in Chantilly lace. A pattern of trellised lace accented the skirt front. The train, attached at the back waist by tiny rolled organza flowers, also carried an applique of lace.

IT IS YOUR MONEY

You have a right to know these facts

You spend a lot of money for auto insurance. You have read wild statements about insurance costs and companies. If you would like some plain talk, here it is.

They say . . . Auto insurance companies are guaranteed a profit.

FACT: Before insurance companies can make a profit they have to first pay to have wrecked cars repaired or replaced, pay hospital and doctor bills for folks injured in auto accidents, pay for stolen or stripped cars, pay for cars damaged by hail, fire, wind or flood waters, pay wages or commissions to 95,400 Texans who give service to policy holders in every county in the state, pay taxes and operate their companies. If there is anything left after all these payments have been made, it is profit.

They say . . . Texas auto insurance rates need to go up 11.4 percent.

FACT: The evidence is very clear. Accidents are up. Medical costs are up. Repair costs are up. Auto thefts and vandalism are both up. All this forces rates upward. Facts and figures prove that a 17 percent increase is needed now.

They say . . . Labor costs are a small part of auto insurance costs.

FACT: Labor costs make up the major part of auto repair bills and in some parts of Texas labor costs for auto repairs have increased in recent time by an amazing 40 percent.

They say . . . Auto insurance companies make too much money.

FACT: Look at this listing of the earnings by major industries in the United States as published by the First National City Bank of New York and as republished in the study developed by the Arthur D. Little Co., an independent research organization then judge for yourself:

	Profit in Relation to Net Worth
Common Carrier Trucking	22.9%
Air Transport	27.5
Miscellaneous Transportation	16.5
Electric Power	11.4
Iron & Steel Mfg.	9.5
Telephone & Telegraph	10.0
Auto & Truck Mfg.	22.8
Automotive Parts Mfg.	13.4
Fire & Casualty Insurance	2.8

They say . . . There is nothing you can do to lower your auto insurance costs.

FACT: You can't lower labor and medical costs. You can't lower automobile and parts costs. You can help reduce the number of traffic accidents and crimes against automobiles. The accident that doesn't happen does not boost the cost of auto insurance. The car that isn't stripped or stolen does not increase the cost of your auto insurance.

Let Governor Smith, your Mayor and your County Officials know that you want a stop put to Texas' growing traffic accident and crime tolls . . . that you want the law enforced. Good law enforcement can reduce accidents and crimes against cars.

Lower accidents and crime rates can mean lower auto insurance rates for you. Isn't this worth a little effort on your part?

Those attending the reunion were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Smith, Alexa and Frances Ann of Sweeney.. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bairfield of Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Alexander of Paducah; Mrs. A. B. Smith and Miss Frances Smith of Borger; Mrs. Bryan Mitchell of Dallas; Miss Nancy Alexander of Canyon;

Satellite May Search for Oil

You can be sure "something" up there is watching. Satellite-borne "sensors" (powerful cameras and infrared sensing devices) operating miles high in space, now can pick out people walking on earth-bound streets, spot specially marked automobiles on expressways, and even find pools of water 50 feet underground.

Could these sensors also help find oil deposits? Scientists believe the chances for this development are good. Certainly the need is great. The demand for petroleum in the United States is expected to double before the century is out.

President Once Pumped Gasoline

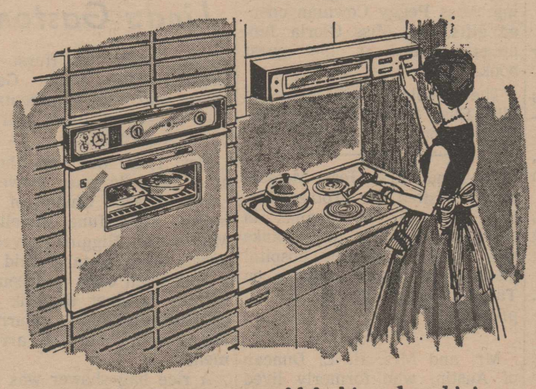

Like many a young man, the President of the United States once had a job pumping gasoline. Petroleum Today says that back in the 1920s, Mr. Nixon worked as an attendant in his family's service station in Whittier, Calif.

The only thing that hasn't changed much since then is the price of gasoline, the magazine reports. Today it is only about 3¢ a gallon more (not counting taxes) than it was in 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Drake and Will of Houston have been the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drake. Will remained for a longer visit while his parents went on to Boulder, Colo.

Modern Home Makers Cook Better in a Total-Electric
KITCHEN OF CONVENIENCE

There's a modern twist to old-fashioned cookin'... those wonderful electric appliances which let the home-maker do more things...better...and quicker!

An electric range, for example, takes the guessing out of good cooking. Once you establish a superior recipe, you can repeat it time after time because an electric range lets you select the "just right" temperature for every dish. Many new ranges have automatic timing devices which "watch" the meal while you are doing other things with your family! And very importantly, an electric range is safe because it's flameless. That makes it cleaner, too.

Think of all the other wonderful electrical appliances that make the home-maker's day easier and more efficient. Dishwashers take the drudgery out of that unpleasant chore... today's models hold all the dishes and utensils for family-size meals. An electric disposer unit enables you to "wash" the majority of your kitchen garbage down the drain.

Electric appliances make it simple to prepare special treats. Mixers are in daily use for a wide assortment of jobs from preparing your favorite cake to whipping potatoes. Tired of trying to cut meats with a dull knife? Try an electric knife sharpener or an electric knife... you'll soon be using it every day. An electric toaster? Why, does anyone still burn toast by using the oven?

Add all those wonderful electrical appliances together and you'll understand why you live better, thanks to low-cost rural electric power.

DROWNINGS UP IN TEXAS

AUSTIN.— Summer is the time of the year when many Texans take to the water. And unfortunately, it's also the time of the year when the water takes many Texans.

The Texas Safety Association reports that 426 persons drowned last year in Texas, most of them from accidents in summer water sports. That was 50 more than in 1967.

Preliminary reports indicate that there have already been more than 370 drownings this year—with about half of the summer yet to go.

This sharp increase in drownings can be stopped if the following safety rules are observed:

Stay in shallow water unless you can swim, tread water and float.

Don't panic. The fear of real or imagined danger is a leading cause of drowning.

Never swim alone.

Don't swim if you are chilled, overheated, overtired or in a storm. Cold or tired muscles cramp more easily.

Wait a couple of hours after a heavy meal before swimming.

Don't try to show off.

Don't swim too far — your stamina may not be what it once was, and unused muscles cramp more easily.

Never dive, swim or wade into strange waters. The water may be more shallow or deeper than you think.

Learn the depth, tides and currents where you swim.

Closely supervise children playing in the water. Be sure the bottom has a gradual, even slope. Empty portable pools at night.

Build a fence with a gate that can be locked around your home pool or any farm pond used for swimming. Mark any unsafe places in the pond, and clean rubbish from the bottom.

If you get tangled in water weeds, don't thrash about. Move gently, shaking your arms and legs clear of the weeds.

If you cannot buck a current, swim diagonally across it, moving with the flow.

If you fall while water skiing, recover the skis. They will help keep you afloat. Also, if your boat capsizes, hang on to it if you can't right it. The swim to shore is usually longer than it seems. Besides, the boat is easier to spot than a lone swimmer.

If you have cramps, don't panic. Keep calm. Fear most often causes cramps to be fatal. If you're in deep water, take a deep breath, assume a face-down position, seize the cramped muscle with thumbs and fingers of both hands, and squeeze with all your might—then stretch the muscle for relief. As quickly as possible, go ashore and massage it.

Remember, if cramps cannot be broken, you can swim in a cramped position if you do not get excited.

If you follow these simple water safety rules, you can be assured that all your summer water fun will be accident-free.

Modern Youth Fears Adulthood

COLLEGE STATION, --What is adulthood, anyway?

When this question was put to a roomful of 18-year-olds recently by a sociologist at San Jose State College, their answers revealed mixed emotions relating to adulthood. Disdain and fear of becoming an adult were revealed by the young people, says Mrs. Patsy Yates, Texas A&M University Extension specialist in family life education.

Dr. Mervyn Caldwallader, a sociologist at the California college, said answers he received after hours of discussion may explain the disdain and even fear that many young people display for adulthood.

The young people he questioned thought "an adult is someone who no longer plays, who is no longer playful." While the teen-agers didn't want to remain children, they would like to remain youthful, playful, free of authority, and also free of responsibility, the study revealed.

"These young people viewed adulthood as a very narrow, meaningless world where nothing really happens. It's small wonder that many young people view adulthood as an evil day to be postponed as long as possible," says Mrs. Yates.

Texas Looks at Its Roads During Highway Week

Governor Preston Smith has designated the period September 21-27 as "Highway Week in Texas."

Gov. Smith set aside the seven-day period for annual tribute to the State's highway builders and its superb 69 thousand-mile highway network.

Theme for Highway Week this year is "Highways Bring Better Living."

The observance in Texas is sponsored each year by the Texas Good Roads Association in cooperation with the Texas Highway Department and the highway-building industry. Chambers of commerce and city, county and State leaders organize community programs for the Highway Week observance.

Other Editors Say . . .

A Relative Term

Poverty is a relative term. What one person calls poverty, another would consider abundance. U. S. Rep. Olin E. Teague of Texas calls attention to some interesting figures. A survey of one of the poorest regions of the U. S., where 8 out of 10 families live on less than $3,000 a year, showed that 37 per cent owned washing machines, 48 per cent owned cars, and 52 per cent had television sets.

Representative Teague points out that a major portion of the so-called poverty-stricken class of America enjoys fruits of affluence which the middle classes of Europe cannot afford—not to mention the rest of the world. He believes, "The core of the poverty problem often is psychological, not physical. We should be fighting human attitudes that cause poverty . . . We should replace the ethics of slavery—the brazen demands that 'somebody do something' and the slogans that 'the government owes it to us'—with the ethics of self-reliance." Money alone will not teach people that a balanced diet is more important than a shiny new car.

Points made by Rep. Teague are well taken. They harken back to the fate of the "poverty-stricken" Indian tribes of long ago who sank into oblivion, not from poverty, but from the misuse of the tools and luxuries of the white man.

Soaring Crime Rate

The campaign oratory surrounding the issue of "law and order" which we heard last year seems to have died down and instead we have a series of statistics which indicate that this is the day of the criminal.

A news release out of Austin this week shows that the crime rate in Texas for the first six months of 1969 is 7.7 per cent higher than the same time last year.

The only bright spot in the report of the Department of Public Safety is that Texans, at least, are not killing people as fast as they did a year ago.

The crime categories of murder and homicide dropped by 8.8 per cent.

But the robbers and the burglars are getting bolder and more numerous. Robbery crimes were up 31 per cent last year, aggravated assault up by 20 per cent, auto theft up 14 per cent and burglary up 10 per cent.

In Texas, where we think we have a peaceful situation compared with New York and Chicago, there was a major crime committed every one and one-third minutes during the past six months. There was murder every eight hours, a rape every 4½ hours, and a burglary every five minutes.

The burglar is playing the percentages because only one fourth of the burglaries are solved.

All size cities had an increase in crime, with the fastest rate of increase shown in the small towns of 2,500 to 5,000 population where the rate rose 18 per cent.

Cities the size of Perryton, between 5,000 and 10,000 had a 12 per cent decrease.

All the signs point to a rise in violent crime, and at a time when the politicians want to take away the decent citizen's gun!

Calamities

"Death," some wag once said, "is nature's way of telling you to slow down."

To be sure, nature deals in cataclysmic finalities. But neither a heart attack nor an earthquake occurs out of the blue, uncaused. Both are the end results of a long string of causes and effects, though, we in or limited knowledge, may see only the final effect.

We know that the body does not wear out all of a sudden. We know the earth will not, either, despite our fondness for the kind of sudden flare-ups of the sun or runaway asteroids and the like. Nature is patient and works slowly. It has many ways of telling us to slow down, if we but have the wisdom to read the signs.

State Capital NEWS
By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN.—With the first special session of the Legislature a failure, Gov. Preston Smith called lawmakers back for a second try at writing a biennial budget and a balancing tax bill.

Midnight gavels fell Aug. 26 with neither task completed after tax conference committees were unable to break a stubborn deadlock.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes blamed the first session impasse on House refusal to place beer and liquor under the sales tax. House Speaker Gus Mutscher said that was a "smokescreen" masking other reasons for the Senate's refusal to come to terms with the Representatives.

A Senate proposal to place food under a 2.5% (reduced rate) sales tax was batted down unanimously by the House. Thereafter, negotiations never budged beyond that point.

In calling for the second session, Gov. Smith laid it on the line.

"We have been treated to a spectacle of petty quarreling, jealousies between houses, obstinate and self-serving positions, demagogic rhetoric, childish personalities and undue interference from the lobby," the Governor said. "I believe the people of Texas are sick and tired of it. I know I am."

Smith warned that every function of state government would be "paralyzed or thrown into a state of uncertainty and confusion" if the new session failed to come up with a certifiable revenue appropriation by Sept. 1.

Legislature responded by banging through emergency 60-day budget proposals which would operate the state government through Oct. 31 while the members sought to reconcile differences over long-range finances.

Safety Plan Resubmitted

Texas failed to meet federal requirements with its traffic safety program, but a new plan now has been submitted.

Highway Safety Bureau of the U.S. Department of Transportation is reviewing the second effort.

Gov. Smith was notified by Robert Brenner, acting director of the bureau, that the plan presented last December, before Smith took office, was incomplete.

Comments on the new plan are encouraging, says Smith, but final action is not expected until fall.

Meanwhile, said the governor, safety efforts are continuing through the Texas Education Agency, the State Highway Department, the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Department of Public Health.

Crime Rate Up

Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, says Texas' crime rate for the first six months of 1969 was 7.7% higher than the comparable period in 1968.

Major crimes increased in all categroies except murder and homicide, where the rate declined by 8.8%.

Greatest increase was in robbery . . . up 31.2%. Aggravated assaults increased 20.9%, auto theft 14.8%, burglary 9.7%, rapes 7.2% and thefts 3.9%.

Urban areas experienced the greatest increase—8.5%. In rural areas, the average hike was less than one percent. In cities over 100,000, the increase was almost 9%. In those from 50,000 to 100,000, increase was 7.1% and in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, 18.8%.

Crime clearance rates for the period was 27% . . . the same as 1968, Clearance rate for murders was 84%, for rapes 66% and robbery 39%.

DPS noted that statistics show a major crime for every one and one-third minutes during January-June.

Late Hours Permits Issued

Texas Liquor Control Board now is issuing special late hours permits for taverns and private clubs in wet areas.

A new law, effective Sept. 1, provides that late-hours establishments can serve alcoholic beverages until 2 a.m. However, the statute is effective only in counties of 300,000 or more population (based on the 1960 census) and those where commissioners courts or city councils specifically approve.

State fee of $100 is collected from taverns selling wine and beer until the new curfew hour. Private clubs which want to stay open until 2 a.m. must pay $500 for a permit. State Liquor Control Board must issue the permit or license.

Sadler Censure Refused

After lengthy debate, House of Representatives rejected a proposed resolution reprimanding Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for failing to cooperate with lawmakers.

Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi introduced the resolution (and resubmitted it to the second called session) charging that Sadler misled the House committee inquiring about his handling of salvage operations on ancient Spanish ships which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Sadler, appearing before the House rules committee, admitted his original testimony on the issue was evasive and misleaded. However, he claimed his tactics were necessary because of the delicate nature of the subject under inquiry.

Attorney General Speaks

Sale of any alcoholic beverage in Calhoun County Precinct 3 is prohibited under local option vate, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in opinion requested by County Attorney William M. Day.

In an opinion for the guidance of Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, Martin clarified securities authorized for school depository funds.

In a third opinion, Martin said that a new law does not define the practice of psychology as a brance of the healing art.

Road Program Approved

State Highway Department has approved a $52 million highway safety and farm to market road improvement program for 1970.

Projects include construction work on 6,373 miles, to cost $51.2 million; and right of way and relocation assistance totaling $94.7 million. Some $871,000 was reserved for later assignment.

About 55% of the work will be on State- and U.S.-numbered highways. And 45% is assigned to Texas' farm to market road system.

Most of the work will serve to increase safety on the highways, and a large portion will go to reconstruction.

Interscholastic League

That "no transfer" rule of the University Interscholastic League will be the subject of an interim House study. During the first special session of the Legislature, Rep. Bill Swanson of Houston gained passage of a resolution calling for the study.

Swanson said the UIL also thinks there should be some appeal of the one-year bar for athletes who change schools, so the committee will look for an acceptable means.

Short Snorts

• Agriculture Department has given Rio Grande Valley cotton farmers in Cameron, Willacy and southern parts of Hidalgo and Starr counties until Sept. 15 to clear fields of stalks under the pink bollworm control program.

CROSSROADS REPORT

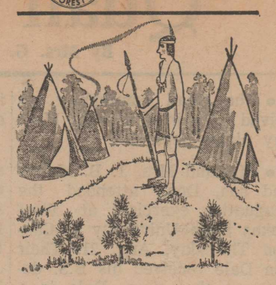

The Nixon Welfare Reform Program calls for getting people off the welfare rolls and on payrolls when there is "suitable" employment for them.

But who decides what is a "suitable" job? Mr. Nixon probably thought working a gas station was a suitable job for him as a youth, but many welfarers now sneer at such work as menial labor and offensive to their dignity.

Shortage of sweat laborers these days may be due to today's youth wishing to start big. But if a boy wants his first job out in the world to be U. S. Senator or Attorney General, he will probably have to change his name to Kennedy.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

Around the year 1000 A.D. the Mound Builders planted corn on an area near Alto in Cherokee County now used by the Texas Forest Service as a forest tree nursery. Indian Mound Nursery, as it is called, gets its name from the mound that is on the nursery area. Today, eight million pine seedlings, one-half million cottonwood, and other hardwoods are grown annually in the nursery to provide trees needed by Texas landowners for reforestation and windbreak purposes.

Peanut Men Vote in Check-off Referendnm

AUSTIN.—Ballot for the Texas peanut growers check-off referendum have been approved for the Sept. 24 crop assessment vote, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced today.

Peanut growers in Collingsworth will participate.

Peanut farmers will be asked to complete three major sections of the ballot, White said. The first proposition is a vote on the self-assessment provision. Candidates for the Commodity Producers Board which will administer the check-off funds are listed in the second section of the ballot. The third section provides a space for the grower to indicate his last year's production in pounds on the ballot form.

New growers who had no production during the last crop year are still eligible to vote, White pointed out. However, they must certify on the ballot that they are new producers.

The Southwestern Peanut Growers Association at Gorman is the official body conducting the referendum. Information relating to production is available at all County ASCS offices.

Commissioner White pointed out that all peanut growers are eligible to vote on candidates for the Commodity Producers Board regardless of whether they vote yes or no on the referendum proposition. Decisions of the elected board members will affect all peanut growers if the referendum is approved.

"It is essential that growers indicate their last year's production in pounds on the appropriate section of the ballot," White said.

Ballots must be mailed to the polling site before midnight, Sept. 24, 1969. Votes will be counted by a committee consisting of a County Judge for the area affected, a representative of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture, observers from the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, and other persons deemed necessary. Election procedures must be approved by the Commissioner of Agriculture.

Prairie Chicken Hunt Promises to Be Good

SAN ANGELO — The October 11-12 prairie chicken hunt in the Texas Panhandle promises to be as good or better than last year's, says Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The spring booming ground was approximately five per cent greater this year.

The season will be open in Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hemphill, Ochiltree, Roberts, Lipscomb, and Wheeler counties, with a bag limit of two per day and a possession limit of four birds, after the first day. Prairie chickens may be taken with shotgun or bow and arrow, and must be checked through Department check stations in the towns of Canadian, Wheeler, Higgens, Allison, and McLean.

Some areas of the Panhandle have been badly in need of rainfall for some time, other sections have had rain and have deep moisture. A good grasshopper crop is feeding the birds presently, and the range appears to be in fair condition with ample food to support the birds throughout the season.

Chemicals Good Weed Fighters

Chances are very good there will be a plentiful supply of grass and weeds in many cotton fields due to the favorable soil moisture situation in most areas of the state. Fred Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, says chemicals have proved themselves as weed and grass fighters. Weed control, when done by correctly applied herbicides is easier, cheaper, faster and better than hand labor. They have added materially to reduced production costs, he noted.

July Bond Sales $5,624

July 1969 sales of United States Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Collingsworth County totaled $5,624, according to a report from John Forbis, Chairman of the Collingsworth County Savings Bonds Committee. January thru July sales totaled $ 3,549 and this is 34 per cent of the 1969 goal of $100,000.

"Bond holders should be aware of two facts and give consideration before redeeming for non-emergency or planned purposes;" Chairman Forbis stated.

"One - accrued interest on bonds must be declared on Federal Income Tax returns in the year Bonds are cashed and, two, the Department of the Treasury has proposed to Congress a new higher rate of 5 per cent on both E and H Bonds retroactive to June 1, 1969. The 5 per cent rate would also apply to all outstanding bonds" Mr. Forbis said.

THE BANK OF THE MEDICI

For three centuries banking was the profession of the Medici family of Italy.

The first of the family to win fame was Giovanni de Medici. He was born in 1360.

Giovanni rose to wealth and power. He conducted his banking business from a palace in Florence. He also established branch banks in a number of Italian cities.

In 1429 his estate included 180,000 gold florins. At that time such a sum represented enormous purchasing power.

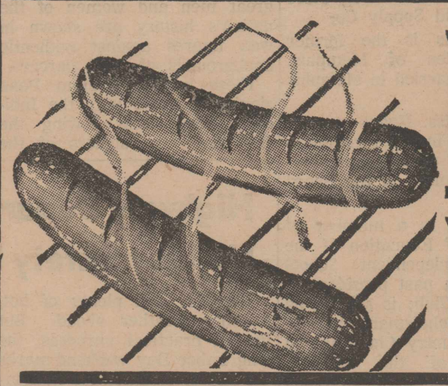

When he died, his son Cosimo took over. Cosimo increased the bank's holdings considerably.

In 1449 Cosimo's son Lorenzo was born. Called "Lonrenzo the Magnificent," he became a great patron of the arts.

Two centuries after Lorenzo's death the family withdrew from banking.

Hembree Retires from WTU; Evans New District Manager

The retirement of a veteran employee of West Texas Utilities Company in Childress, and the promotion and transfer of Cleve Evans of Memphis was announced today by District Manager J. C. Randel of Childress.

W. J. Hembree, employed by WTU for 31 years and District Sales Manager for the company's Panhandle District since 1954, retired on Sept. 1. Cleve Evans, a merchandise salesman in Memphis for the past 5½ years, has been transferred to Childress and promoted to sales manager for the Panhandle district.

W. J. Hembree joined West Texas Utilities Company in January 1938 as a salesman in Paducah, and worked in that area until 1941 when he moved to Ballinger to begin his new duties as sales manager for the company's Ballinger District. Nine years later he was transferred to Quanah where he served as district sales manager of the Quanah District until 1954 when he began his 15 years service as sales manager in Childress.

Born in Cottonwood, Texas in 1904, Hembree attended the public schools in Cross Plains where his father served as postmaster until the Hembree family moved to Abilene in 1919. He attended Abilene High School and was a member of the 1923 Eagle Championship football team.

While attending high school, Hembree worked for Texas Coca Cola Bottling Co.; worked as a tool dresser in the oil fields near Strawn; and spent one summer working in the copper mines near Santa Rita, N.M.

Following graduation from Abilene High School in 1924, Hembree attended Simmons University for two years. He was a member of the Cowboy football team in 1924 and 1925.

Mrs. Hembree is the former Elsie Jones of Jayton. They were married in Spur in 1925, and are the parents of one son and one daughter.

The son, Richard D. Hembree has been employed for the past 20 years by Humble Oil Co., in Midland.

The daughter, Mrs. Curtis Davenport, resides in Abernathy, where she is serving as a math teacher in the Junior High School of Abernathy. Her husband, Curtis, is principal of Abernathy High School.

Cleve Evans, a WTU merchandise salesman in Memphis since 1964, began his new duties as merchandise sales manager for WTU's Panhandle District on Sept. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Evans and two children, Pamela Annette, 6, and Paul, 3, moved to Childress last week and have purchased a home at 1305 Avenue K, NW.

Evans was born in Memphis in 1938, and has spent the greater portion of his life in the Memphis area except for the 2 years he served in the U.S. Army.

Following graduation from Memphis High School in 1956, he attended Clarendon Junior College for two years. Before joining WTU, Evans was employed at Fowler's Drug Store and Household Supply Co.

Mrs. Evans is the former Bettye Gidden of Memphis. They were married in Memphis in 1960.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans are active workers in the First Methodist Church where he is serving as a member of the Board of Stewards.

Mr. Evans is a member of the Board of Education of the Memphis Independent School District; is a past president of the Booster Club; is serving as tournament chairman at the Memphis Country Club; and is a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Memphis Lions Club.

Sims Home from Colo., Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Sims and sons, Richard and Randall, have returned from a vacation to Creede and Flatora, Colo., Santa Fe and Taos, N.M.

Creede, famous as the mining town "too tough to die," has long been known for good fishing but it is making a comeback as a tourist center by retaining its early day atmosphere. Drama students of the University of Kansas are presenting repertory theatre this summer and the Sims family attended four performances.

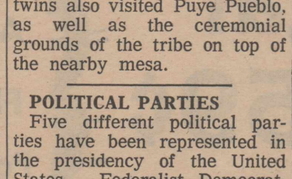

In Santa Fe they stayed at the same motel as a motion picture company headed by Anthony Quinn, which is filming a production at one of the Pueblos nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims and the twins also visited Puye Pueblo, as well as the ceremonial grounds of the tribe on top of the nearby mesa.

Lewis Morrises Return from Tour, Visit in Pennsylvania

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris returned recently from two weeks with their son, Capt. and Mrs. Darryl Morris and two children at Folcroft, Penna., just outside Philadelphia.

They included much sight-seeing during the visit and some of the high points have been described by Mrs. Morris, principal of the Quail School.

One day's visit in Lancaster County took them to the center of the Pennsylvania Dutch country where many of the Amish still live and operate their fertile farms.

In a 10-room house now open to the public, they saw how the Amish live, for here was their furniture and items of their religion and way of life.

Crops of corn and tobacco were lush with most of the corn used for silage.

On another day they took the Liberty Walk in Philadelphia, visiting the historic buildings of Independence Square.

One of the most impressive and the least known in this area is the American Wax Museum where more than 100 great men and women of the nation's history are shown in wax figures against authentic backgrounds of their careers.

These include William Penn signing a treaty with the Indians; Betsy Ross sewing the first flag; the signers of the Declaration of Independence. The entire history of the United States is covered, including such contemporary figures as Jack Dempsey, Charles Lindberg, Alfred Einstein and Astronaut John Glenn.

The couple saw their first major league baseball when they attended two games of the three-game series between the Houston Astros and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Near the end of the visit Mr. Morris and his son went deep sea fishing off the coast of New Jersey.

An Army career man, Capt. Morris is presently attending the University of Pennsylvania, working toward his master's degree.

Highway Department Issues Holiday Safety Message

There is still plenty of hot, summer weather ahead. But for all practical purposes, the long Labor Day weekend marks the end of summer for millions of Americans.

Many of them take to the highways, off to the final summer outing before school begins. For their safety and convenience, some 69,000 miles of superb Texas highways lay before them—modern travelways to every part of the state.

To maintain easy access to almost everywhere, the Texas Highway Department must continually improve and upgrade highway facilities. In fact, on any given day of the year, there are some 1,000 miles of highway facilities under construction.

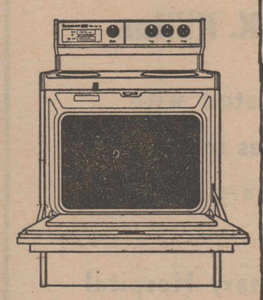

Construction areas, however, pose special problems to travelers, even though the Highway Department makes every effort to move traffic quickly and safely through and around construction areas.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Texas Fire & Casualty Companies have launched an intensive advertising campaign on accident prevention as related to the cost of auto insurance. The emphasis is on safer driving and stricter law enforcement. The theme of the series is that lower accident and crime rates can mean lower auto insurance rates. This reasoning makes sense; but no mention is made of defective automobiles and other vehicles.

★ ★ ★

A safety inspection once a year does not mean that the brakes, steering gear and lights will be safe the next month, or even the next day. That responsibility rests with the driver or owner. Far too often a driver discovers a fault in the car and puts off the repair with the thought "the old crate is good for one more trip. I'll get it fixed when I get back." Sometimes he does and sometimes he does not get back.

★ ★ ★

Another cause of accidents could be the built-in safety defects. Manufacturers have recalled 12,600,000 cars in the last three years. If you buy a secondhand automobile, how do you know you are not getting one of these recalls? If you know the former owner or buy from a dealer who knows the history of the car you are on fairly safe ground. It is an argument for trading with your local dealer. That money you thought you saved at the "hail sale" or the overstocked car lot might cost you ten to one.

People cause most wrecks. but not all and the number resulting from other hazards is significant. You can't eliminate people. Defective vehicles, poor driving habits and dangerous road hazards can be corrected or controlled to a noteworthy extent and this could be an important factor in saving lives and money.

Here is a letter from Chas. W. Ferguson of Dallas. He is a retired insurance man who continues to take an active interest in civic affairs and government and does something about it. His letters follows:

Dear Editor Wells:

Just a note for you to see, that at least some of your good editorial efforts do strike a bit of fire. From the attached, you will see that Mike Kingston of our Dallas Morning News, memorialized that blast of yours recently against those vested state officials such as Sadler et al.

But of course, there is small reason to clamor against those officials. The true sinners are the citizenry that recurringly and witlessly keep them in office. Such is typical of an essentially one-party state as Texas has been for much too long.

I'm an old retired character, with a lot of time to read the news and such, but there is nothing like going down to Austin, as I do several times a session of the legislature, just to watch & listen. Such is as you can well imagine, far more disheartening, than mere reading about same.

I just wish that I had a paper, such as your Leader from which I could tell my story to a wider readership than the individual letters, such as this. But I did want to add my small voice to Kingston's in praise of what you are trying to do. I hope you will write him your appreciation of his recognition.

Yours, Most Cordially
Chas. W. Ferguson

Otto Russell has installed an old school bell in his back yard with the assistance of Ollie Wilson and Cicero Gulley. Otto and Ollie were stuck with the bell half way to the top when Cicero came to the rescue. Noting the commotion, I walked over to observe the performance. They wanted me to help with the lifting; but I told them I needed to keep my hands free in order to take notes for the story.

James Sullivan has the old bell that once rang at the East Ward School in his back yard. To the present generation a school bell might mean a buzzer that sounds when it is time to change classes. To an older group the words school bell bring haunting memories. There is nothing like the sound of a bell coming clear and melodiously through the crisp morning air.

Vines Visit Mexico Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Vines and daughters, Barbara and Pam, spent the Labor Day holiday at the Tesquesquite Ranch at Albert, N.M., where they formerly lived.

The ranch, owned by the Albert J. Mitchell family, is one of the largest in New Mexico and more than 100 years old. Albert, once a thriving place and one of the oldest settlements in northeast New Mexico, is now a ghost town with only a Catholic Church left. However, it still has a post office, which was in one room of the house in which the Vines family lived.
