Committee votes to donate funds

The Mitchell County Economic Development Committee met on Friday morning, and heard from Gary Parker, president of the Colorado City Industrial Team.

Parker said the Industrial Team is presently attempting to raise funds to assist in some necessary construction for the building which houses Ed Lee's, a truck parts and service business which has recently relocated in Colorado City.

He said donations thus far have reached approximately $3,000, and that the total amount which will be required will be near $10,000.

Parker said that Ed Lee's business will be handling, among other things, DOTD inspections for a large portion of the Sun Oil Company's fleet of trucks, and that the donations should be a very good investment for this area's economy.

Members of the Economic Development Committee voted unanimously to donate $2,500 to the Industrial Team.

Divers Clean water pumps

Jim and Cindy Whitley of JW's Diving, professional divers from Lake Palo Pinto, have been hired by Colorado City to clean silt from the area around the old pumps, in order that new ones may be installed at the water intake station at Lake Colorado City.

The pair, along with city employees Victor Huff and Kenneth Rich, inspected the area on Thursday, and expected to complete the necessary cleaning operation on Friday.

JW's Diving has worked in the area on previous occasions, for Texas Utilities Electric.

Ms. Whitley said that they have done underwater cutting, have worked on traveling screens, and have cleaned debris and Asian clams from the waters on some of those occasions.

Billie and Elmer Martin portray "Aisha" and "Ibrahim" in the native garb of a Middle Eastern nation. The Martins, along with several other area residents, are participating in a study of the Islamic faith being presented Sunday nights at 6 p.m. at First United Methodist Church in Colorado City.

C. City Garden Club hosts native plant landscaping seminar

The Colorado City Garden Club, the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, the Mitchell County Extension Office, the Mitchell County Library, and Neff's Nursery, City National Bank, and Colorado Floral will sponsor a seminar on Thursday, March 7 on "Landscaping With Native Plants."

The seminar will be held at 7 p.m. in the C.C. Thompson Room of City National Bank.

Mary Buchanan, owner and operator of Texas Star Garden, a native plant nursery near Abilene, will be the speaker.

The purpose of the seminar is to encourage greater use of native flowers, shrubs, and trees in private and public landscapes.

This does not refer only to cactus. West Texas has an amazing number of beautiful plants which respond well to cultivation and are suitable for residential and public use.

Some of the advantages of using native plants are that they require less water, less work, less fertilizer and less pesticide. A harmonious effect is achieved as well, from landscaping which blends with the environment.

Ms. Buchanan, who has lived in Abilene since 1972, established her nursery three years ago. She is the director of the North Texas Region of the Native Plant Society.

Military personnel to be honored in parade

Throughout Mitchell County, hearts swell with pride in our citizens, and relatives of our citizens, who contributed to the success of Operation Desert Storm.

To demonstrate that pride, those heroes, and their families, are hereby invited to Colorado City to ride in the Memorial Day Parade on Monday, May 27 at 4:30 p.m.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Colorado City Record, and local citizens, merchants, government officials, and civic organizations, school bands and private clubs, volunteer fire departments and law enforcement agencies from Colorado City, Loraine, Westbrook, and all of Mitchell County will help give the heroes the homecoming welcome they deserve.

Families who have not yet notified the Record that their sons, daughters, grandchildren, nephews or nieces are in the Persian Gulf are requested to do so as soon as possible, so that the Record will be able to honor them by name, along with their comrades pictured in today's issue, and Alan D. Howell, not pictured, and Oren K. Upton, whose picture arrived too late to make this issue.

We know a lot of service members with ties to Mitchell County receive the Record, and we hope that they consider this their first official invitation to come to the parade!

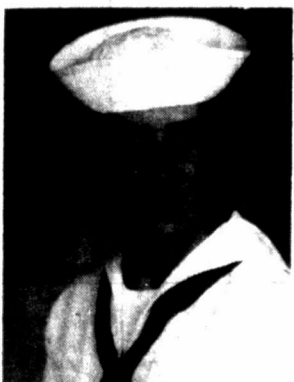

If you can let us know one way or the other in advance, we would appreciate it, but it isn't necessary.

We hope to see you, but you will be honored whether you can come or not. Just let us know when you arrive!

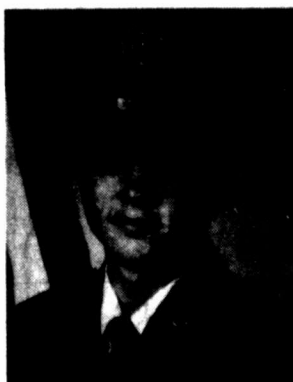

A parade committee will be formed in a week or two, to consist of representatives from participating organizations. Meetings of the committee will be held at the Civic Center, at a date and time to be announced in the future.

For further information, call the Chamber of Commerce or the Colorado City Record.

The other vehicle fire was on FM 1229 North and was the result of a vehicle's failure to negotiate a curve, which failure resulted in a motor vehicle accident.

Family Health and Wellness...

A Major Issue Facing Mitchell County

People are increasingly concerned about their health. Medical research shows that a majority of all and premature deaths are related to the lifestyle choices made by individuals. Ill-health has been directly related to poor eating habits, insufficient exercise, and lack of responsibility for individual health and safety. With this increased awareness of health and fitness comes a public hunger for reliable information pertaining to nutrition, food buying, preparation, and preservation.

Many people are finding themselves placed in special dietary needs situations and often have questions, concerning diet modifications or restrictions, that remain unanswered. On Wednesday, February 20, 1991, Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Nutrition Specialist will be at the Mitchell County Extension Office. Dr. Bielamowicz is a Registered Dietitian and will answer questions concerning special dietary needs. Please call the Extension Office (728-3111), with your questions, prior to February 20 as Dr. Bielamowicz will be in Colorado City for a short time. she will answer as many calls as possible by phone consultation.

The Poet's Corner

Feelings During The Storm

When the line was drawn upon the sand,
Fear grabbed at my heart with a very large hand.
How long will my son be in a land far away?
My God -- how long will he have to stay?

He'll serve his country in Operation Desert Shield,
He'll do his best in the large sandy field.
With no shower to cool his body each night,
Will he suffer from hunger? Will he suffer from fright?

Will this time change my son? Will it make him a man?
If I could only touch his face if I could only touch his hand.
The feelings I have for him late each night,
Are to throw my arms 'round him and hug him up tight.

Operation Desert Shield has turned into the Storm.
God keep him safe! God keep him from harm!
War rages with fury and the sand surely blows,
Planes sound like thunder wherever they go.

His letters have meant the whole world to me.
They're treasured now and always will be.
He doesn't complain of the hardships of life,
My son is in Saudi for the fight of his life.

God grant me one prayer, bring Shane home to me!
For he is my son -- I Love Him -- you see!
He's fought right beside all of the rest,
Please bring them all home for they've done their best.

Linda Ward, Loraine Nursing Home Employee of the Month for the month of December, 1990.

Manuela Sanchez, left, and Sylvia DeLoera, Loraine Nursing Home Employees of the Month for the months of January and February respectively.

Loraine Nursing Home News

By Gloria Lucas, Activities Director

February was an exciting month for us. We decorated all the doors with Valentines the residents made.

The dining room was decorated in red and white streamers. A bake sale was held February 14 to raise money for the residents' council fund.

Residents selected a Valentine King and Queen. The honorees were Antonio Moreno and Audna Lee. Mrs. Lee also celebrated her 95th birthday that day.

Her daughter brought a real pretty cake for her and family also brought her gifts.

Sandra Jones is the only other resident having a birthday for this month.

Staff having birthdays were Jerri Wooddell, Sylvia DeLoera, and Manuela Sanchez.

Alma Welch, a resident, is in the hospital, so be in prayer that she may return back to home soon.

The Loraine Nursing Home has chosen Employees of the Month this past quarter.

Linda Ward was Employee of the Month for December. She is a nurse's aide, and has been with the company for three years.

Manuela Sanchez was chosen Employee of the Month for January. She is the housekeeper, and has been with the company for one and a half years.

Sylvia DeLoera was chosen Employee of the Month for February. She works in the laundry department and has been with the company for seven years.

Each employee was honored with a $25 certificate and will be taken out to eat by our administrator, Jerri Wooddell.

A big hand to our employees. They have performed a good job.

NURSES -- From left, April Velasquez and Rhonda Roberson of Colorado City were graduated from the Western Texas College vocational nursing program in ceremonies held February 21. Stephanie Dakan, also of Colorado City, was among the students receiving caps. All the students were honored at a reception following the ceremonies. WTC's vocational nursing program is affiliated with Cogdell Memorial Hospital and is approved by the Texas Education Agency and the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners. Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Enough is enough. I am writing this as a parent of children in Loraine Independent School District, and as a person who was at the last nine school board meetings. I think there are a few things that need addressing. Our board adopted a "Discipline Management Plan" many years ago. This plan was designed to be used as a guideline for teachers and administrators alike. Mr. Foshee was reprimanded for not following this plan. What were we supposed to do, look the other way? There are rules we have to abide by. A copy of our "Discipline Management Plan" is in every student handbook. If you don't have one, call me and I will make a copy for you to examine.

As far as Mr. Foshee's contract is concerned, Mr. Foshee has 14 months left on his present contract. If everything goes well, and he wants to remain in LISD, his contract will be renewed in February 1992 with no lapse. The non-renewal clause in a teacher's or administrator's contract protects them from being removed without good cause. Mr. Foshee could continue to do his present job for as long as he likes. What protects the school district. What would happen if our State mandates school mergers, or closers. Would his or other multi-year contracts have to be paid? The system protects the employee. What protects the School District. These are questions you need to ask before jumping to conclusions. Mr. Foshee has not been fired. It was not even discussed at the board meeting.

I feel that the newspaper is not the place to discuss these things,

Superstars named

Coach Susan Anderson has released the names of the Hutchinson Super Stars for the school year's fourth six weeks period.

They are as follows:
In the third grade, from Mrs. Lee's class, Carlos Silva and Brandi Herrley; from Mrs. Dennington's class, Heath McGaha and Veronica Harris; from Mrs. Robinson's class, Cole Wadsworth and Samantha Ramirez; from Mrs. Greenlee's class, Fernando Biramontes and Brittany Powell; and from Mrs. Anderson's class, Leon Molina and Deanna Payne.

In the fourth grade, from Mrs. Perkins' class, Aaron Stone and Sarah Selvera; from Mrs. Eades' class, Anjanette Morgan and Adrian Malano; from Mrs. Chesser's class, Lizzy Rivera and Adam Myers; from Mrs. Waldrip's class, Matt Thackerson and Staci Turnbow; and from Mrs. McArthur's class, Marie Ryan.

but I have no choice. Not one person has contacted a board member who was present at the last meeting to get the facts. These are the facts, not hear-say, I invite any person who would like to know the truth to call me or any board member. We are easy to get in touch with.

As far as a vendetta is concerned, I believe there are people with one, but they are not aimed at our administration. Nuff said.

Mike Gage

Wolf Baseball Team opens 1991 season

The long awaited 1991 baseball season has begun for the Colorado City Wolves as they travelled to Reagan County on Tuesday, February 26. Not only was this game a first for both teams, but "America's favorite pastime" ended in an unusual 3-3 tie in a game of unsettled nerves.

The hooting Owls got a first run of the game, as pitcher Robbie Smith walked his first opponent.

As the batter stole his way to third base, an error by the catcher allowed the only run of the inning with the Wolves trailing, 0-1.

Avan Ceballos got things started for the Pack as he made his way to first base on a walk in the beginning of the second.

Wendell Iglehart then got in the action as he picked a triple and an RBI as he hit a line drive into the outfield allowing Ceballos to score from third to tie up the game at 1-1. Eventually, Iglehart made his way from the third on an error by the Owl catcher for the 2-1 lead.

The Wolves final run came by Jeremy Strain in the top of third. Strain kept his eye on the ball as he was earned a walk. He then made his way to third base with steals of his own. Again, thanks to another pass ball error by the Owl catcher, the lead was increased to 3-1 as Strain came across home plate.

As R. Smith's pitching debut looked to finish with a win, he fell into a small yet minor rut in the bottom of the fourth.

Fanning his first two batters, R. Smith then walked the next two. Keeping his cool, R. Smith appeared to have recorded yet another KO, but the Wolf catcher dropped the third strike pitch which allowed the batter to advance to first.

Rushing his delivery, the Wolf catcher overthrew his target at first base allowing the two runners to score which tied up the contest at 3-3.

With five innings left to play, the game was called because the stadium was not equipped with the proper lighting so the contest ended in a 3-3 dead-lock.

R. Smith had a magnificent showing as he KO'd 14 batters, walked 4, and gave up only one hit, and although content with his pitcher, head baseball coach Jerold Epperson was not well pleased with the team's overall performance. "We're going to have to hit the ball better, and work on our base stealing because I like to put pressure on the defense."

Although disappointed, Coach Epperson will not feel completely comfortable until the team gets through its first full nine inning game, until then, the Wolves will concentrate on the certain basics, "We've been using the pitching machine all this week," said Epperson.

"The kids were a little nervous, but we've got one game under our belt, so hopefully we'll be more relaxed for the next game," closed Coach Epperson.

CISD to pilot "I CARE" hotline

During the 1990-91 school year, the Colorado Independent School District will pilot a student-oriented assistance program called the "I CARE" hotline. The program is designed to provide a means for students to obtain help and counseling during times of trouble and crisis. Its goal is increased communication in terms of student responsibility in reporting illegal activities and in seeking help for themselves or for friends who have problems or concerns. Its immediate advantage is the availability of a safe source of counseling, information, and support for students. Hotline counselors are trained to diffuse trouble situations and to refer problems to local counselors and support persons.

Student and staff orientation to this program will be conducted in September, 1990 with the drug prevention committee members serving as contact persons and facilitators for the project.

DARE TO CARE

In this life we live it's hard to know,
And with our wrongs we tend to grow,
There is so much that we can share,
And to you I say dare to care.

I wonder why life is special to me,
I open my eyes and then I will see,
Some things in life just are not fair,
When times get tough, dare to care.

I know my life will slip away,
So I live it day by day,
For friends, they know that I'll be there,
For them I'll always dare to care.

It's hard sometimes to stay drug free,
But if you do you'll be like me,
You know your love was made to share,
No matter who dares to care.

You can't always stay in line,
But don't sit around and waste your time,
I treat everyone right because fair is fair,
When it comes to me, I dare to care.

By Christopher M. Payne

Anyone can be the life of the party - it's your choice!

Even though most states require you to be 21 to purchase alcohol, many teenagers drink. You may see it at parties, when you hang out with friends on Saturday nights or at family celebrations. And you read statistics. Alcohol-related auto accidents are the leading cause of death for people between the ages of 15 and 19. Thousands of your peers die and many more are seriously disabled in drunk-driving accidents each year.

It Won't Happen To Me

Many teenagers think they can have a couple of drinks and then drive safely. But even for those who don't feel "drunk", drinking can alter perception and slow motor skills and reaction time, making it dangerous to get behind the wheel. On an average day, about nine teenagers die in drunk-driving accidents. They, too, thought it would never happen to them. But because they chose to drink and drive they will never graduate from high school, go to college, marry or raise a family. They and the innocent people they've killed are just memories to the families and friends who loved them.

Drunk Driving Can Kill a Friendship

You have great influence over your friends' attitudes and actions. If you maintain a responsible attitude toward drinking and driving, you set a good example for them. Consider these ways to encourage safety behind the wheel among your friends.

When you go out with friends, suggest taking turns being the designated driver. A designated driver is one who agrees not to drink alcohol and to take responsibility for driving everyone home safely.

If a friend has had too much to drink, make certain he or she doesn't get behind the wheel. Find the person a safe ride home.

Ask your parents to sign a pact with you which promises that neither you nor they will drive after drinking. Agree that if you should have too much to drink and drive safely, you will call your parents for a safe ride home and vice versa.

It's Your Choice

Only you can assure that you don't cause a drunk-driving accident. The best way to do that is not to drink. But if you choose to drink, follow these guidelines for responsible drinkers:

*Don't let your friends pressure you into drinking more than you should and don't participate in

DARE program divided in classroom sessions

The DARE curriculum is organized into seventeen classroom sessions conducted by the police officer, coupled with suggested activities taught by the regular classroom teacher. A wide range of teaching activities are used—question-and-answer, group discussion, role-play, and workbook exercises, all designed to encourage student participation and response. Some of the lessons include:

1. Practices for Personal Safety. The DARE officer reviews common safety practices to protect students from harm at home, on the way to and from school, and in the neighborhood.

2. Drug Use and Misuses. Students learn the harmful effects of drugs if they are misused as depicted in the film, Drugs and Your Amazing Mind.

3. Consequences. The focus is on the consequences of using and not using alcohol and marijuana. If students are aware of those consequences, they can make better informed decisions regarding their own behavior.

4. Resisting Pressures to Use Drugs. The DARE officer explains different types of pressures—ranging from friendly persuasion and teasing to threats—that friends and others can exert on students to try tobacco, alcohol or drugs.

5. Resistance Techniques: Ways to Say No. Students rehearse the many ways of refusing offers to try tobacco, alcohol, or drugs—simply saying no and repeating it as often as necessary; changing the subject; walking away or ignoring the person. They learn that they can avoid situations in which they might be subjected to such pressures and can "hang around" with non-users.

6. Building Self-Esteem. Poor self-esteem is one of the factors associated with drug misuse. How students feel about themselves results from positive and negative feelings and experiences. In this session students learn about their own positive qualities and how to compliment other students.

7. Assertiveness: A Response Style. Students have certain rights—to be themselves, to say what they think, to say no to offers of drugs. The session teaches them to assert those rights confidently and without interfering with others' rights.

FHA organization sponsors program for elementary kids

Early this school year, the FHA organization from CISD sponsored a "Dare to Care" program for elementary students. The program taught students refusal skills that can be used throughout life. With the help of Nancy Carroll's 5th grade class, the steps in refusal skills were role played. The skills include the following steps:

1. Ask Questions.

2. Name the trouble.

3. List the consequences.

4. Suggest an alternative.

5. Move it. Sell it. Leave the door open.

6. Say "I'll see you later" and leave.

The FHA organization has set new goals to help support the drug prevention program at Colorado ISD. The FHA will participate in assemblies during Drug Education Week. They also will be passing out refusal skills cards and bumper stickers to students. In addition, the organization will participate in the "Dare to Care" Rally on March 21, 1991.

It is the goal of FHA to expose refusal skills to every student in the community.

Involving yourself in worthwhile activities leaves no time for drugs!

DARE program goals and objectives

GOAL:

To prevent substance abuse among school children.

The DARE Program targets children before they are likely to have been led by their peers to experiment with tobacco, drugs, and alcohol. By reaching children at an age when they are most receptive to drug prevention education,

Project DARE seeks to prevent adolescent drug use and to reduce drug trafficking by eliminating the demand for drugs.

OBJECTIVES:

*To equip elementary and junior high students with the skills for recognizing and resisting social pressures to experiment with alcohol, tobacco, and drugs.

*To help students develop self-esteem.

*To teach positive alternatives to substance use.

*To develop students' skills in risk assessment and decision making.

*To build students' interpersonal communications skills.

Project DARE achieves these objectives by training carefully selected veteran law enforcement officers to teach a structured, sequential curriculum in the schools.

An important by-product of Project DARE is the positive impact of uniformed law enforcement officers, working in classrooms in a non-threatening, preventive role, upon the image of law enforcement in the community.

Over-the-counter inhalants are dangerous

The Texas Attorney General's Office has recently taken action to stop the sales of a dangerous drug, commonly known by its users as "poppers". The use of the drug has resulted in deaths and violent crimes in Texas.

The products are advertised as room odorizers and liquid incense, but have a putrid scent. They contain a chemical -- butyl nitrite or isopropyl nitrite. A spray product, marketed as Ethyl Gaz and Medusa, contains ethyl chloride, and has no scent.

These items are sold in sexually-oriented businesses and "head shops" under names such as Black Jack, Cobraroma, Blast, Bullet, Cum, Rush, Locker Room, Hardware, Thrust, Double Eagle, Quicksilver and Texas Gold.

These products are sold for one purpose only -- to be inhaled and supposedly to get high and to increase sexual pleasure. However, the advertising doesn't tell you that these products have caused a number of heart-related deaths and cancer.

In Austin, one young State Capitol employee was killed in an automobile accident while using ethyl chloride. It has caused others to act violently and commit murder.

The Attorney General's Office has notified one California manufacturer that the company will be sued under State and Federal laws for distributing the product in Texas. And further action has been taken to halt the sales of these products in Dallas, Houston, McAllen and San Antonio.

The actions were taken pursuant to the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act because of the misleading labeling of these products. If the intended use was listed on the item, it would be banned under the Federal Food and Drug Act.

The Attorney General's Office is warning all manufacturers, distributors and retailers of products containing derivatives of alkyl nitrites, or ethyl chloride or ethylene chloride to remove these products or face litigation.

Inhalant abuse of products with legitimate purposes -- such as spray paint, glue and typewriter correction fluid -- is also increasing. As with the "room odorizers," these legitimate products can produce a cheap high and have led to death and violence.

In 1988, for example, nine men, ages 12 through 30, all high on solvents and typewriter correction fluid, burglarized and beat to death an 86-year old woman in her Austin home.

Inhalants are cheap and easily available to youngsters with limited resources. But the results of inhalant abuse are not cheap. As growing statistics indicate the cost is very high.

Possible early warning signs

Certain behavior may indicate a child is involved with drugs or alcohol:

- Abrupt change in mood or attitude
- Sudden decline in attendance or performance at work or school
- Impaired relationship with family or friends
- Ignoring curfews
- Unusual flare-ups of temper
- Increased borrowing of money from parents or friends; stealing from home, school, or employer
- Heightened secrecy about actions and possessions
- Associating with a new group of friends, especially those who use drugs

March 4-8 is Drug Prevention Week

The week of March 4-8 is NATIONAL DRUG PREVENTION WEEK. The Colorado Independent School District will be involved in promoting drug prevention during this week.

The theme for this year is DARE TO CARE. Each campus will be involved in different activities to stress the importance of drug prevention. Examples of these activities include the following:

1. Contests
2. Assemblies
3. Speakers
4. Lessons

During this week, teachers will be strongly encouraged to include at least one lesson on drug prevention.

The DARE TO CARE week will be, hopefully, fun as well as educational for all students and teachers.

STEPS IN REFUSAL SKILLS

2. Name the trouble.
3. List the consequences.
4. Suggest an alternative.
5. Move it. Sell it. Leave the door open.

CMS implements P.A.L. program

Colorado Middle School has implemented a new program known throughout the state as P.A.L. (Peer Assistant & Leadership). The PAL program involved the selection of 26 students by peers and faculty members. Once the students were selected they began the training for the program. The curriculum for the PAL course has included instruction and training in the following essential elements as:

*Role of the peer helper.

*Confidentiality,

liability issues.

*Group dynamics.

*Listening and communication skills.

*Peer tutoring.

*Decision-making, problem-solving skills.

School districts throughout the state are faced with a host of problems, which include dropouts, low achievement and drug and alcohol abuse. Many schools have concluded that a peer helping program such as PAL is one of the most effective and cost effective strategies available for addressing them.

Project DARE - substance abuse prevention education program

Project DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) is a substance use prevention education program designed to equip elementary school children with skills for resisting peer pressure to experiment with tobacco, drugs and alcohol. This unique program, which was developed in 1983 as a cooperative effort by the Los Angeles Police Department and the Los Angeles Unified School District, uses uniformed law enforcement officers to teach a formal curriculum to students in a classroom setting. Project DARE gives special attention to fifth- and sixth-grades to prepare students for entry into junior high and high school, where they are most likely to encounter pressures to use drugs.

DARE lessons focus on four major areas:

- *Providing accurate information about tobacco, alcohol and drugs

- *Teaching students decision-making skills

- *Showing students

how to resist peer pressure

- *Giving students ideas for alternatives to drug use.

This innovative program has several noteworthy features:

- DARE targets elementary school children. Junior high and high school drug education programs have come too late to prevent drug use among youth in the past. Therefore, substantial numbers of young people have reported initiating use of alcohol, tobacco, and marijuana by junior high school.

- *DARE offers a highly structured, intensive curriculum developed by health education specialists. A basic precept of the DARE program is that elementary school children lack sufficient social skills to resist peer pressure and say no to drugs. DARE instructors do not use the scare tactics of tradition approaches that focus on the dangers of drug use. Instead, the instructors work with children to raise their self-esteem, to teach them how to make decisions on their own, and to help them identify positive alternatives to tobacco, alcohol, and drug use. The curriculum addresses learning objectives in keeping with those of state departments of education and conforms with health education standards.

- *DARE uses uniformed law enforcement officers to conduct the class. Uniformed officers as DARE instructors not only serve as role models for children at an impressionable age, but also have high credibility on the subjects of drug use. Moreover, by relating to students in a role other than that of law enforcement, officers to develop a rapport that promotes positive attitudes toward the police and greater respect for the law.

- *DARE represents a long-term solution to a problem that has developed over many years. Many people believe that, over time, a change in public attitudes will reduce the demand for drugs. DARE seeks to promote that change. Equally important, DARE instructors help children develop mature decision-making capabilities that they can apply to a variety of situations as they grow up.

For those interested in learning how to bring this novel program to their community, the Bureau of Justice Assistance has also published Implementing Project DARE: Drug Abuse Resistance Education, an implementation manual which provides a step-by-step description of how to implement Project DARE as well as model forms and other materials.

The manual is available from: Dorothy L. Everett, Bureau of Justice Assistance, 633 Indiana Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., 220531 (202) 272-4604.

drinking or "chugging" contests.

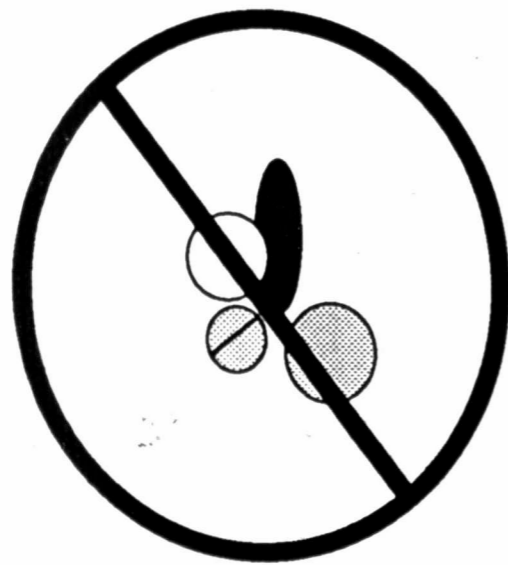

- *If you must drive after drinking, don't exceed one drink per hour. One drink equals one 12-ounce beer, one five-ounce glass of wine or 1 1/4 ounces of hard liquor.

- *Switch to non-alcoholic drinks at least one hour before driving.

- *Never drink on an empty stomach. Food slows the absorption of alcohol into the bloodstream.

Service Center to offer session for families

The Region 14 Education Service Center and Colorado ISD are offering a session for parents of CISD children titled "Building Self-Esteem in Children of All Ages." The two-hour session defines the origins of true self-esteem, and describes adult behaviors which contribute to development of self-esteem in children. The session will begin at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 9, 1991. We urge all interested parents to attend. There is no cost for this session.

What America is facing...

Here is a look at the drug problem facing the United States.

HOW MANY

Some 72 million Americans 37 percent of the population age 12 or older, have used illegal drugs at least once.
An estimated 14.5 million people had used illegal drugs within a month of being asked last year. About 21 million have tried cocaine; 3 million use it occasionally & 1 million report being heavy users.

WHO

About 75 percent of illegal drug users are white.
Women constitute 41 percent of drug users, including 5 million women of childbearing ages. Eleven percent of babies born last year were exposed to illegal drugs during the mother's pregnancy. More than half those arrested for serious crimes in 14 major cities, and who volunteered for drug testing, were found to be drug users. In Philadelphia the figure was 82 percent.

THE COST

Cocaine induced deaths totaled 1,696 last year, up from 604 in 1984.
Hospital emergency rooms treated 46,200 cocaine users last year, up from 8,831 in 1984.
Drug-related absenteeism and medical expenses cost businesses about 3 percent of their payroll. More than 6 million are estimated to need treatment for drug problems, including 1.3 million intravenous users.
The Justice Department charged that a group of banks involved in laundering money for drug dealers was sending $1.2 billion annually to Colombian drug traffickers. The Drug Enforcement Administration, however, says no estimate of the total value of the drug trade has been made.

THE DRUGS

A California survey found that the purity of cocaine sold on the street increased between 29 percent and 73 percent between 1982 and 1984 and has remained at the higher level since then. The price has gone down in the meantime to under $100 per gram of the deadlier drug. Today's marijuana is reportedly as much as 10 times stronger than the weed popular in the 1960s.

AT SCHOOL

During the past year, 8 percent of high school seniors and 10 percent of college students said they had used cocaine.
Occasional drug use by college students has declined from 17 percent 2 years ago to 10 percent now. A survey of 9th and 10th graders in poorer Washington, D.C., neighborhood schools found that 28 percent carried a concealed weapon and 13 percent admitted selling drugs.

AT WORK

Employers report that as many as one worker in five has either an alcohol or drug abuse problem. About 3 percent of workers ages 20 to 40 report using cocaine.

Project DARE evaluated

Evaluations of Project DARE in Los Angeles reveal great enthusiasm for the program among school principals and teachers who say that DARE students are less accepting of substance use and better prepared to deal with peer pressure as a result of the DARE lessons. Moreover, these educators find that, because DARE students get to know police officers in a positive, nonpunitive role, they have a greater respect for both the law and law enforcement personnel. Beyond that, students receiving the DARE curriculum in elementary school show greater improvement, compared with non-DARE students, in grades for work habits and cooperation during their first semester in junior high.

A short-term evaluation for the National Institute of Justice also demonstrates the impact of Project DARE on the knowledge, attitudes and self-reported behavior of seventh grade students who received DARE in sixth grade. These students, compared with those who had not had DARE, indicated significantly lower substance use since graduation from the sixth grade. Moreover, DARE students, when asked to imagine friends pressuring them to use drugs or alcohol, were significantly less likely to indicate acceptance of the offer than were non-DARE students. DARE students were also more likely to use effective refusal strategies emphasized by the DARE curriculum.

In 1985, Los Angeles initiated a seven-year study of DARE and non-DARE students to assess the long-term impact of the program on students' knowledge, attitudes, and self-reported drug use.

DARE TO CARE program set

On Thursday, March 21, Colorado ISD will be hosting the DARE TO CARE program. This program will include performances from students from every campus in the district, school employees and others interested.

We are looking forward to having a fun night and at the same time stress the importance of prevention in the area of drug abuse.

There will be a special tribute to those who are in the military serving in the Middle East from our community.

The DARE TO CARE program is to begin at 7:00 P.M. and will last for about one hour in the Middle School auditorium.

This is the first year we have attempted such a program. We hope you can attend. We appreciate your support.

THE MOST IMPORTANT LETTERS WHEN IT COMES TO DRUGS

Teaching your children the ABC's is fine, but you also need to teach them about drug abuse and the special importance of the letters "NO." Teach them the drug alphabet early in life, and help them from becoming another statistic in America's fastest growing disease--drug and alcohol addiction. Let them learn their ABC's in school, but teach them their "NO'S" at home.
