JURY SENTENCES PRYOR TO EIGHT YEARS IN PEN

Seven Known Dead In Texas Floods As Some Streams Recede And Others Rise

RAINS CONTINUE TO PLAY HAVOC IN EAST TEXAS

Central Texas Gets Relief But Streams Farther South Are Raging

CITIES ARE ISOLATED

Five White Persons Die In Swirling Torrents; Many Marooned

DALLAS, May 29. (AP)—Seven persons were known to have lost their lives and heavy property damage was caused by floods in east and south Texas which for the last few days have raged after heavy rainfall, reported as high as 12 inches in one locality.

While some sections were being relieved by receding waters, others were assaulted by widespread inundations.

Sections near Austin and Temple, threatened yesterday by high waters from the Colorado and Little Rivers, counted losses as these streams receded today.

Far South Suffers

In far south Texas and some parts of east Texas, however, streams were reported out of banks and still rising.

The most serious situations apparently were in sections around Houston, San Antonio, Victoria and Laredo. The weather bureau at Houston reported the Trinity river out of banks at Long Lake in Anderson county and that it would reach flood stage from there to its mouth. Madisonville, on the Trinity, was marooned, all highways being under water and telegraph service crippled. With the exception of the Galveston highway, Houston also was cut off from vehicle traffic.

At Victoria the Guadalupe river was at a 24-foot flood stage and still rising. Thousands of acres of farm lands along its course had been inundated. Precipitation during the past few days had been 12 inches, five or which have fallen during the last 36 hours.

Motorists Marooned.

A large number of motorists were marooned at San Antonio, all highways out of that place being under water. A number of streams had not reached their crest. Beside crop damages, telephone and telegraph companies were said to

ELECTION DAY

Conservatives Favored As English March To Polls Today

LONDON, May 29. (US)—While the other largest English-speaking nation is making ready for a let-down from business to celebrate Memorial day tomorrow, Great Britain will be busier than it has been for years with the general elections.

On the eve of the elections, the London Stock exchange quotations, which represent the gambling on the outcome, and which, therefore, are uninfluenced by partisan motives, show the conservative party leading. The betting odds favor the return of 268 to 272 conservatives to parliament, as against 244 to 248 for the labor (dubbed socialist) party, and 95 to 100 for the liberals and independents.

NOTED TEXAS SCIENTIST DIES

Robt. S. Hyer, Former S. M. U. Head Succumbs

DALLAS May 29. (AP)—Dr. Robert S. Hyer, scientist and educator generally credited with having sent one of the first wireless messages, died suddenly at his home here today at the age of 69.

Doctor Hyer had served as president of Southwestern university at Georgetown and as president of Southern Methodist university. At the time of his death he was president emeritus of Southern Methodist and he is given much credit for the growth of that institution.

The radio experiment took place at Georgetown and was based on wave calculations made by another scientist. Doctor Hyer set up a high power inductance coil for a transmitter and sent a message heard two miles away through a crude coherer and a headphone. He made no attempt to capitalize this experiment and was content to place all his data before the scientific world.

He was noted as a scientist, as an administrative educator, as a teacher and as a churchman.

"His work in scientific research placed him high in the ranks of American leaders," Dr. J. H. Connell, former president of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college and a close friend, said.

"There was no finer administrative genius to be found in the administration of a great university, and his keen mind and rare devotion to ideals made him an outstanding leader in Methodism."

Doctor Hyer was born in Oxford, Ga., and received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Emory college. Doctors degrees were conferred on him by Central college and Baylor university. In 1882 Doctor Hyer went to Southwestern university as professor of physics, and later became head of the institution. He married Miss Maggie Huggins in 1888 before coming to Southern Methodist university. He is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters.

Discovery of Skeleton Ends Hunt for Slayer

EDMONTON, Ala., May 29. (AP)—Discovery of a skeleton identified as that of Thomas Mund ended a nine-year search for the man, wanted in connection with the slaying of two children. Mund disappeared in 1920 at the time the bodies of Sylvia MacDonald, 15, and her brother, Andrew, 10, were found with the skulls crushed. A bullet hole in the skull indicated Mund had committed suicide. He had been infatuated with the girl.

OWEN D. YOUNG'S ANNUITY PLAN AGREED UPON

Allies Formally Accept American's Schedule Of Payments

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

German Debt Conference Now Sees Chance To Settle Problem

PARIS, May 29. (US)—What the American delegation viewed as the "most important single achievement of the conference," was recorded tonight when the allies formally accepted Owen D. Young's schedule of annuities covering 59 years with a capital value of $9,000,000,000.

The agreement came after 10 days of the most intensive kind of labor to eliminate petty differences which had cropped up in connection with Young's annuity program. Under the plan Germany pays around $500,000,000 each year for 37 years and thereafter around $400,000,000 each year so as to cover the allied debts to the United States plus a small additional margin.

Plan Explained

Explaining the result of today's final discussion of the figures, an American spokesman said:

"Both the creditor and the German experts have heretofore declared themselves willing to accept the annuity figure of 2,050,000,000 marks (about $500,000,000) as suggested by the chairman of the committee. The differences existed on the questions of interpretation.

"These differences have now been removed and a common basis of interpretation acceptable to both the creditors and Germany has been found, subject, however, to the outstanding conditions which still remain for discussion and settlement."

Payments Begin Sept. 1

To reach the accord the allies accepted the proposal already accepted by Dr. Schacht, that the scale of payments in accordance with the Young schedule begin as of Sept. 1, which marks the close of the first "normal year under the Dawes plan."

While there still remain differences relative to the conditions tonight's achievement is generally regarded as marking the beginning of the end of the experts' troubles.

Rozika Schwimmer Declares Allegiance

NEW YORK, May 29.(UP)—Rozika Schwimmer, noted Hungarian pacifist, today said she is willing to unreservedly take the oath of allegiance. BLAST BURIES 18 MEN UNDER MUD AND SAND

Explosion at New Hackensack Bridge Known Fatal to Six

CAISSON IS WRECKED

Many Victims Clutched By Cave-In Hours After Accident

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 29 (UP)—A mysterious explosion in a caisson under the Hackensack river tonight buried a crew of 18 workmen under a suffocating blanket of sand and mud.

Six of the men, known as "sand hogs," were known late tonight to be dead, three more were missing and nine went to hospitals suffering with injuries. Two may die.

The men were working many feet under the surface of the river, laying the foundation of a new bridge connecting with the entrance of the Holland vehicular tunnel, which links New York City with the New Jersey shore.

Rescue workers descending in the wrecked caisson in buckets, pulled some of the men from the mud at the river's bed, but others smothered to death before aid could reach them.

Thomas Jones, foreman of the working crew, was standing on a short ladder, slightly above the others, when the blast came. He was rescued by a workman who was not in the caisson, but who volunteered to descend in a bucket to the spot where the 18 were dying.

The bucket was lowered, Jones was picked up and the two were hauled to the top. Another rescuer went down on a second trip, but was unable to find any of the men.

The air lock at the top of the caisson was blown off without warning, carrying two workmen with it. Both were thrown clear of the heavy steel lid and it crashed down into the caisson.

With the air lock thus blown off, the mud and water at the bottom of the river was permitted to ooze into the compartment where the men were working, covering and smothering them.

Night Crew

The bridge where the explosion occurred is one which the state highway department is constructing to provide a better approach to the Holland vehicular tunnel, which runs under the Hudson river joining New York and Jersey City.

The contractors, rushing the work towards completion, had night construction crews employed at the scene. They could not determine at first what caused the blast.

Fire apparatus from Jersey City was rushed to the scene to aid in the rescue work.

The cause of the explosion was not indicated in early reports.

The men were working in the caisson in the middle of the river when the structure of the bridge was shaken by the explosion shortly after 8 p. m.

A shower of wreckage closed up the entrance to the caisson, cutting off the escape of the men working at its bottom.

SEWER EXPLOSIONS TERRORIZE CITY

OTTAWA, Ont., May 29. (UP)—A series of terrific sewer gas explosions which caused fires in many homes and sent street manholes flying into the air atop pillars of shooting flame, caused extensive damage and wide terror here today.

Starting at noon, the explosions continued intermittently for six hours.

One death had been reported early tonight—that of Mrs. Anna Hayden, 73, burned to death by one of the explosions. Many minor casualties were recorded.

The cause of the explosions was not known but an odor of gasoline was noticed in the fumes that almost enveloped the capitol.

Negro Seeress Leads Futile Search For Boy's Body

Boat Crews Follow Woman When She Tells Story of Vision of Lake Victim; Rescuers to Resume Hunt Today

Baffled by the waters of Lake Wichita after two days of almost continuous searching, rescue crews at the city's lake Wednesday afternoon followed the faltering visions of a negro seeress in a futile attempt to locate the body of George Rockhill, 19, who plunged to his death from a boat at the lake Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

While many of the searchers expressed little confidence in the woman's claims, a crew followed her directions for several hours in the vain hope that some occult power might bring success where more practical means had failed. "Anything's worth trying now," said one man, who had been on duty almost continuously from the time of the accident.

Lake Hides Body.

Shortly before midnight Wednesday night the body of young Rockhill drowned when he fell from a boat while running a trot line in company with Wright Cox, 22, had been in the waters of Lake Wichita for more than 50 hours. Six additional explosions of nitro-glycerine fired shortly before noon Wednesday failed to reveal any trace of the body. Likewise the efforts of scores of searchers, armed with grapnel of every description, had failed to raise the body of the youth. A large motorboat owned by Jim Harrison was brought from Lake Kemp at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning and, aided in the work.

Police Chief Frank Burns and Fire Chief J. L. McClure called a halt to the work Wednesday night shortly after 8 o'clock because of the roughness of the water and the danger of boat collisions in the darkness. The search will be resumed Thursday morning, it was said. A few volunteers continued to drag the lake late into the night but the great majority of the work crews were released for the night.

A woman, known to a number of Wichitans as "Negro Mary," who was to lead one phase of the search, appeared at the lake Wednesday afternoon and insisted she knew the exact spot where the body was to be found. Because of her fear of the water, the woman was first carried by automobile to a point on the south end of the lake where a number of boats began searching.

"Vision" Fails

After an hour and fifteen minutes of intensive work the party gave up the search in that particular locality and returned to the pavilion. When a number of onlookers expressed their disbelief of the spiritual powers of the woman, she finally consented to accompany the party in a boat to a shallow point southwest of a small island which is situated west of the pavilion. After combing the waters in that vicinity for nearly an hour, the workers returned to the shore.

Cox, who was with Rockhill in the boat at the time of the tragedy, remained on the waters until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, and after several hours of rest, continued his vigil in the search for the body of his drowned companion.

Divers plunged into the waters continuously Wednesday in an attempt to determine the condition and course of the channel of the lake. One diver received slight scratches on his arms and legs when he glided over a trot line while under water.

Uncle Keeps Watch

N. H. Martin, uncle of the drowned youth, spent the entire day on the waters aiding in the search for his nephew. Rockhill has been living in Wichita Falls for the past three years, having moved from Clarinda, Iowa, in 1926. He was in the employ of the Texas Electric Service company until the time of his death.

While Motorcycle Officer Homer Bentley was helping in the search Wednesday afternoon for the body of George Rockhill who was drowned Monday afternoon at Lake Wichita, a thief looted his pockets and made away with about $6 in bills and small change.

Bentley's clothing was concealed under the lake pavilion. Other articles in his clothing were unmolested.

'Human Fish' Waits Texas Sheriff

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 29. (INS)—Wanted by Texas authorities on serious charges in connection with a Texas co-ed, swindling, and desertion of a wife and two children, Jack W. D. Griffith, alias "Jack Freith, the human fish," a swimming instructor at a camp at Deep Eddy, near Austin, Texas, today was being held in default of $1,000 bail for the arrival of a deputy sheriff from Austin.

His companion, Miss Fannie Lee Minter, 17, of Austin, was being held in the juvenile section of the jail as a delinquent.

Miss Minter told police that she had accompanied Griffith across the country.

PAJAMA-CLAD STUDENTS RIOT

Many Freshmen Injured By Policemen's Sticks

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 29. (AP)—More than a score of Brown university freshmen were injured by policemens' sticks Wednesday night and two bystanders were shot in skirmishes between police and students after the annual necktie burning ceremonies of the freshmen class.

The condition of one of the victims at the hospital is serious. The other suffered two shots in the arm.

Fronts of several stores and a theater were damaged by the rioting students. Carrying red lights and clad in pajamas, the celebrants stormed the principal streets of the city. Police, armed with night sticks and students clashed frequently, spectators looked on while clubs flailed and fists flew at the height of the celebration.

William Berrarducci of this city, state house page, was shot in the eye by a stray bullet. Whether the bullet was fired by police or student could not be determined. The name of the other victim was not known.

Among the students struck down by police was Sam Fiore, football star. He was rendered unconscious.

Five thousand persons had gathered in or around the campus watching the bonfire into which freshmen tossed their black ties in celebration of their release from "bondage."

ELECTRA MAN CONVICTED ON FIRST BALLOT

Former Constable's Prison Sentence Fixed In 30 Minutes

NEW TRIAL PROPOSED

"Could Be Worse," Says Pryor as Verdict Is Read In Robbery

Ed Pryor, former Electra constable, was found guilty as an accomplice in the robbery of the Jefferson hotel at Electra during his term of office last June and was sentenced to eight years in the state penitentiary by a jury in the 89th district court at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Quick Verdict

The verdict of guilty was reached on the first ballot immediately after the case went to the jury at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to members of the body. Brief arguments settled the number of years of punishment to be assessed, and the verdict was announced at 5:30 o'clock. Because Judge P. A. Martin and other court officials were on their way to their homes, an immediate announcement was impossible, so the jury went to dinner in the interval.

Shields Heyser, counsel for Pryor, announced at once that a motion for a new trial would be introduced. Meanwhile the defendant was housed in the Wichita county jail.

The former officer remained calm under the verdict, although he faced the jury with a lifted chin and a brighter eye than he has displayed during the two days trial. As he was led from the court room, he remarked:

"Yeh, it's bad, but it could be worse. It might have been 15 years."

Accused as Accomplice

Pryor was accused of having acted as the accomplice of Henry Shumate, also under indictment, in the robbery of the Jefferson hotel at Electra on June 19, 1928. Shumate, one of the principal witnesses for the state, testified early in the trial that Pryor and Tom Shook, former Electra police chief, suggested the robbery and met him after its commission to divide the $80 from the hotel clerk. Shumate also asserted that after his own escape from the Wichita county jail following his arrest on the robbery charges, he went to the home of Pryor in Electra for protection. Later, on the night of the jail break, Sheriff W. G. Bralley and other members of the sheriff's department found Shumate in bed with Pryor. Shumate was immediately seized and both Pryor and Tom Shook were later placed under arrest. Shook later escaped from the Wichita county jail and has not been recaptured.

Testifying in his own behalf, Pryor denied all the charges, said he spent the night of the robbery in Childress at the bedside of his sick wife, and charged that the accusations were brought by political enemies trying to prevent his re-election as constable.

Three Indicted

Pryor, Shook and Shumate were all named in indictments charging the robbery of the Jackson news stand as well as in the Jefferson hotel case. Pryor was acquitted of the first charge in a trial here last January. A third indictment, charging him as an accessory in connection with the hotel robbery, will not be tried, Sam Spence, district attorney, announced after the verdict Wednesday.

The case went to the jury Wednesday afternoon after five hours of argument from the opposing attorneys. George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, opened for the state. He was followed by Otis Nelson, associate counsel for the defense. Sam Spence, district attorney, took up the battle for the prosecution early Wednesday afternoon. The fourth plea to the jury came from Mr. Heyser and Fred Weeks, special prosecutor, putting the closing arguments for the state before the jury at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Trial Halted When Judge Fines Lawyer for Contempt

But Napier Explains His Words, and Cook Cancels $25 Levy

Judge W. W. Cook Wednesday morning ordered the suspension of the trial of a damage suit in the 78th district court when E. W. Napier, attorney, refused to accept and pay a $25 fine for contempt of court.

After a conference between Judge Cook and the attorney, in which a misunderstanding of the exact words exchanged between the bench and the counsel is said to have been cleared up, the magistrate allowed the trial to go forward during the afternoon session of the court.

The fine was imposed Wednesday morning while attorneys were selecting a jury for the trial of the damage suit brought against the Fort Worth and Denver railroad by Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Parton.

The incident occurred shortly after Judge Cook had overruled a challenge entered by Mr. Napier against one of the jurymen, according to an account of the proceedings given Wednesday afternoon by Mr. Napier.

"Later," Mr. Napier said, "when Mr. King, the opposing counsel, successfully challenged a juror, I remarked to him across the table, that he could get them disqualified more easily than I could.

"I did not understand the next words from Judge Cook, and I did not know what it was all about when he announced that I was fined $25. I refused to accept the fine and Judge Cook declared that the case would not go on while I was under a fine for contempt.

"In a conference later, we reached an understanding when the judge said he had first asked me what I meant by that remark to Mr. King, and that he had understood me to reply that I meant just what I said. I explained to him that we had misunderstood each other, and the case was allowed to go on, and the matter dropped."

The jury was completed and the first witness was called to the stand late Wednesday afternoon in the suit.

SAN ANGELO-TO-GULF RAILWAY ASKED OF COMMERCE BODY

NEW COMPANY TO BUILD LINE

Gulf and West Texas R. R. Asks Federal Permit

WASHINGTON, May 29. (UP)—Construction of two alternative lines of railroads to serve oil territory in West Texas was proposed to the interstate commerce commission today by the Gulf & West Texas railroad, a new corporation.

The application sought approval for a 113-mile line to extend from Fredericksburg to San Angelo by way of Brady and Eden. An alternative route to extend from Westmore to San Angelo by way of Fredericksburg, Mason, Brady and Eden also was proposed.

PREFERRED STOCK ALL SUBSCRIBED

SAN ANGELO, Texas, May 29. (AP)—"The junior financing of the Gulf and West Texas railroad has been completed to a point where we have little doubt but that all the cities along the line who have not raised their quotas will do so very quickly now," Judge W. C. Blanks, secretary-treasurer of the proposed road, stid today. His announcement followed filing of application for a certificate of necessity and convenience with the Interstate Commerce commission.

"San Angelo and San Antonio have thier preferred stock subscriptions subscribed," he continued, "and I understand that Mason has raised its money. I think there is no doubt that the certificate will be granted immediately."

City Votes Big Bond Issue—Can't Get Money

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 29. (AP)—Though Beaumont has just voted a bond issue of $4,890,000 for public improvements, the city finds itself in a position of being temporarily unable to obtain money to carry out contemplated projects.

Bids were called for on $1,000,000 worth of the securities with the result that but two firms made a bid and the lowest of these asked a bonus of $70,000 to purchase the issue at par and accrued interest. The bids were declined.

FLOODS CLAIM SEVEN LIVES

Texas Streams Swelled By Torrential Rains

have suffered heavy losses. Two of the floods' victims were claimed near San Antonio, Russell Cadwell, 16, and Alex Scott, 43, his uncle, having drowned yesterday while attempting to cross the Frio river. J. T. Terrell, 84, San Marcos; Harry Mike, Lockhart, a small boy at Houston, and two negroes near Luling were the other victims.

For the second time within four days train and bus service out of Laredo had to be suspended today to northern points. At Artesia, two miles north of Laredo, an estimated 12-inch rainfall since Saturday had inundated railroad and highways for several miles.

Sabine Overflows.

Emanual Savala, 22, Mexican, was drowned today why trying to retrieve a bridge that had washed out on Slaughter Pen bayou at Houston.

Other places feeling the effects of high waters are: Nacogdoches, Harlingen, Oakwood, Beaumnot, Luling, Cameron, Corsicana and Greenville.

At Greenville, in northeast Texas, the Sabine river had left its banks and had caused some damage to crops in the lowlands.

At Cameron, six inches of rain in two days brought the Little River and all creeks out of their banks in Milam county, destroying about 200,000 acres of cotton and corn.

Cameron almost was marooned, there being only one highway open, the Buckholts-Rogers road.

The Little River registered six feet late today and still was rising.

Rain still was falling late today and the Colorado river was at a 30-foot stage, residents of low sections of the Colorado were moving to higher grounds.

Families Homeless

Buckners creek, near there, also was on a rampage.

At their highest stage in 40 years, the Guadalupe and San Marcos rivers, which join a few miles above Gonzales had caused great property damage, driven a number of families from their homes and halted highway traffic.

A rescuing party that brought Mrs. R. C. Mann out of her home after she had been marooned made search of the affected area to make sure that others might not have been caught by the waters.

The electric light plants both at Gonzales and at Oak Forest were put out of commission, and a gin and brick plant in a low section here were standing eight feet in water. About 40 families in this section also were forced to leave their homes.

TWO FATALLY SHOT

FORT GARLAND, Colo., May 29. (AP)—Ted Brennaman, 24 years old, today shot his wife to death, wounded his sister-in-law and then killed himself. The murder and suicide was the outgrowth of family difficulties.

As the result of labor agitation and communistic demands, 2,500 rug weavers in Pekin, China, were out of work for three months this spring.

Australia, with an area nearly as large as the United States, now has only 6,300,000 population, which is slightly less than that of Illinois.

WAR!

Battle of the Dinner Seats Flames Anew as Alice Longworth Takes Up The Issue

Just when Washington was believing that the warfare over the social status of Mrs. Edward E. Gann had been settled, it was reported to have broken out anew by Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth (above) challenging the preferred position accorded Vice President Curtis' sister and hostess, who is shown below. Mrs. Longworth, wife of Speaker Nick Longworth and daughter of the late President Roosevelt, is reported to have sent regrets when invited to a dinner where Mrs. Gann was to be given social precedence.

MEDICAL COURSE

GALVESTON, Texas, May 29. (AP)—Recent developments in medical science will be brought out in a series of lecturers and clinics comprising the annual course for practicioners, which will be given by the University of Texas School of Medicine June 3 to 15, inclusive, at the medical college here.

'INSIDE' FACTS ON SENATORS

Texas Senate Manual Gives Personal Glimpses

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—There are 19 lawyers in the Texas senate, including one member who designated his occupation as "attorney," according to the manual of the 41st legislature, just off the press.

Farmers are next in numbers, there being four of these although three of them are hyphenated farmers. Dr. J. W. E. H. Beck of Decalb listed himself as a physician-farmer; Tom DeBerry of Bogata, farmer-cotton buyer; and Archie Parr of Benavides, stockman-farmer. Julian P. Greer of Athens is the only teacher and Carl C. Hardin the sole merchant.

There are two editors Joe M. Moore of Greenville, and Miss Margie E. Neal of Carthage. Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock is occupied as "abstractor, loans, real estate." Dr. B. F. Berkeley of Alpine and Gus Russek of Schulenburg are bankers. W. A. Williamson of San Antonio is vice president and general manager of the Texas Automobile Dealers' association.

The lawyers are: Oliver Cunningham, Abilene; W. R. Cousins, Beaumont; Charles S. Gainer, Bryan; T. J. Holbrook, Galveston; John W. Hornsby, Austin; Julien C. Hyer, Fort Worth; Thomas B. Love, Dallas; Will M. Martin, Hillsboro; W. D. McFarlane, Graham; Eugene Miller, Weatherford; Nat Patton, Crockett; Thomas G. Pollard, Tyler; C. C. Small, Wellington; W. E. Thomason, Nacogdoches; Ed Westbrook, Sherman; A. J. Wirtz, Seguin; Edgar E. Witt, Waco; Walter Woodal, Houston; and Walter C. Woodward, Coleman.

Senator Cunningham is the youngest, 29. Senator Parr is the oldest, 68. Miss Neal's age isn't listed. All are Democrats, except possibly Senators Love and Pollard, who did not indicate their politics.

Senator Love was one of the leaders of the Democratic revolt last November when Texas voted for President Herbert Hoover.

Dallas-Galveston Route to Be Paved

GRAPELAND, Texas, May 29. (AP)—An all-paved route from Houston to Dallas has been assured by the voting of $30,000 worth of bonds by Crockett county for the paving of a 10-mile stretch of state highway 19 near here.

This was the last gap in the 285 miles which had not beeen paved or financed. Two hundred and twenty miles of the route have been paved.

The hard-surfaced road will go north from Houston through Huntsville, Crockett and Palestine, connecting at Athens with highway 40 to Dallas.

DETOUR CLOSED

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—Traffic on sate highway 20 between Austin and Houston, often re-routed because of rises in the Brazos river, no longer will be forced to detour with the completion of a bridge spanning the stream near Hempstead.

ST. EDS ELECTS

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—John Dickmann, Muskogee, Okla., has been elected president of the next year's senior class at St. Edwards university; Harold Jansing, Lott, has been chosen vice president; and John Finn, Denison, secretary-treasurer.

Completion of new motor roads in Africa now make it possible to go from Port Sudan, on the Red Sea, to Matadi, at the mouth of the Congo, in 40 days.

T.-U. Women Athletes Elect New Officers

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—Miss Frances Tariton of Austin has been elected president of the Women's Athletic association of the University of Texas for next year. Other officers are: Emma Glenn Vickers of Seguin, secretary; Marjorie Vogan of Alvin, treasurer; Cora Mae LaFleur of Kinder, La., publicity chairman, and Elizabeth Law of Austin, assistant publicity director.

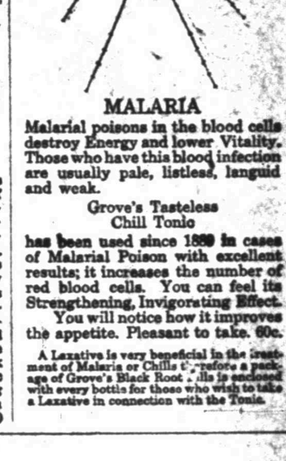

An open-air theatre and recreation park are being included in the national memorial for Dr. David Livingston, the missionary-explorer, at his birth-place at Blantyre, Scotland.

SHE WELCOMES OPPORTUNITY TO TELL OF SARGON

"For five years medicines and treatments failed to restore my health, and I was weak, undernourished and rundown. Then I tried Sargon, and now I feel like myself again. My health is fully restored, and I have gained seven pounds.

MRS. W. L. OLDFIELD

"My stomach caused me to live in misery for years. After nearly every meal I would have a bloated feeling. Acids would form, and I would suffer from sour stomach. I could not relish my food. Then I would have spells of indigestion, and it seemed like what I ate would not nourish me at all. I also suffered from kidney and bladder trouble, and felt bad nearly all the time.

"I thought Sargon would help me, but I never dreamed it would cause me to regain my strength in such a short time. It overcame the bloated feeling after meals, and brought me lasting relief from sour stomach. I enjoy three square meals a day now, and I am not troubled with indigestion. My kidneys never bother me any more. I feel stronger than I have in years, and Sargon has filled me with new energy.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills ended my constipation. They are a mild but dependable laxative, and do not cause nausea or bad after effects. My husband has tried them and thinks they are wonderful. In fact, we both think the Sargon treatment is remarkable, and want other sufferers to know how wonderful it really is."

The above statement was made by Mrs. W. L. Oldfield, 3128 Frazier street, Fort Worth. She is a member of the Christian church and is highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends.

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Renfro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; in Electra from Leagh's Drug store; and in Burkburnett from Burkburnett Pharmacy.—Adv.

COUNTY SEAT FIGHT GOES ON

Hansford County Elections May Not Be Over

STINNETT, Texas, May 24. (UP)—Elections to decide the Hansford county seat, already at least a half dozen in number, may not be over yet as the result of four county residents contesting the recent election moving the seat from old Hansford to Spearman.

It is alleged in the petition that certain persons voted in the election who were not entitled to vote. A list of 197 persons alleged to be disqualified for voting in a county seat election was presented as having voted in the recent election April 20.

All four of the plaintiffs are residents of Hansford. Hearing on their petition has been set for Aug. 19 by Judge Newton P. Willis.

The transfer of the county records to the Spearman city hall was accomplished five days after the election.

Editors of Battalion Selected by Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, May 29. (AP)—L. W. (Stormy) Johnston, Fort Worth, has been elected editor-in-chief, and Lester Hanks, San Augustine, business manager, for 1929-30 season of the Battalion, weekly publication of the students of the A. & M. college of Texas.

J. A. (Hop) Reynolds, Bastrop, was elected chief yell leader for next year.

W. F. (Willie) Bartlett, Marlin, who was captain of the 1928 Texas Aggie football team and a member of the Aggie track team and field team this season, was selected as the most valuable athlete of the college for the present academic year. By reason of this honor, Bartlett received the Norris athletic trophy at A. & M.

All of the positions were filled by a popular vote of the students.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads —Dissolve Them

Squeezing out blackheads makes large, ugly pores. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calomite powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little, will disappear at once.—Adv.

PEOPLE ARE CRITICAL OF A PIMPLY FACE!

No longer do people pity a person with pimples or other displeasing skin blemishes. In fact they are apt to criticize and avoid such a person, because pimples are usually a sign of carelessness and neglect.

If you want to be admired for a clear, healthy complexion ask for Black and White Ointment and use it according to directions. It is pleasant to use, highly beneficial and scientifically safe.

For best results use Black and White Skin Soap with Black and White Ointment. All dealers sell them at small cost.

Sore, Swollen FEET

Bathe them in "Tiz" and get instant relief! "Tiz" draws out the poisons and acids that make feet burn and swell. It restores tired feet and makes them feel willing for life's walk. Get a package today at any drug store and keep your feet sound and happy.

A Wonder-land all about you

...to revel in and enjoy

What a wonderland for inlanders is Treasure Isle! Overhead a glint of silent, silvery wings as the effortless gulls lurk above unwary schools of youngster fish that venture too near the surface.

Half-mile out, the satchel-throated pelicans in solemn procession labor along the wave troughs.

Or perhaps you catch a glimpse of a playful porpoise as he somersaults along—his dorsal fin cutting the surface like a knife and streaking the foam out behind.

These marine wonders fascinate you! You sniff the salt air and know why men love the sea. For endless hours, you sit and watch the billows lap the rip-rap—so soothing and tranquil is their effect.

It's worth your trip simply to enjoy this wonderland—and in addition there are scores of pleasant things to do day and night. Come! Enjoy your Treasure Isle!

COMEDY DRAWS PACKED HOUSE

Final Little Theater Show Scheduled Tonight

An audience which filled every seat and lined the walls and passageways at the back of the Episcopal parish house auditorium Wednesday evening responded with a crescendo of enthusiasm to the work of the Little Theatre players in their second presentation of "Three Live Ghosts," the vivacious comedy with which the organization is closing its season. The play is to be offered again on Thursday evening.

Cast Proves Excellent

A rich, deep vein of humor pervades every scene of "Three Live Ghosts" offering a wealth of opportunities which were developed to their utmost in the work of the cast Wednesday evening. The comedy moves quickly, intermissions are short, and the laughter of one hilarious finale scarcely has time to quiet before they are at it again in the following act.

The movement, the humor, the very atmosphere of the play centers in the colorful character of Mrs. Grubbins, a gin-loving, greedy Cockney woman in the London of 1919, brilliantly interpreted by Mrs. W. F. Pagan. The authenticity of Mrs. Pagan's characterization was met with a fine sincerity and finish in the effective work of a supporting cast, Charles Norwood, as Jimmie Grubbins, step-son of the informing spirit of the play, shared honors with her in the principal supporting role, his robust British spirit winning the immediate affection of his audience. Everett Shipp was convincing as "Spoofy," the happy and kleptomaniac victim of shell shock, and George Wright made an impressive plainclothes man from Scotland yard.

The love stories of three ex-soldiers, returned from the limbo of the German prison camps beban their unfolding when Jimmie sought again the arms of his regular gal, Peggy, effectively played by Miss Ella Merle Mathis. It was in the last few minutes of the play, when the unfortunate Peggy told much more than all under the questioning of the detective that Miss Mathis was given an opportunity for exceptional powers at comedy.

Three Romances

The other romances flowered through the clever work of Mrs. Bailey R. Collins, as Rose Gordon playing opposite Trent Hill in an effective characterization of William Foster, American doughboy. Miss Elva Killingsworth made an impressive Lady Leicester. Ted Williams was good a sthe second Scotland Yard man.

Between the second and the third acts Emil Hermann, president, presented F. C. McClung director and producer, to the applause of the audience. An orchestra of violins, piano, and saxophone played an overture and entertained during the intermissions. As the audience left the auditorium slices of ice cream were served by members of the company.

Off stage singers during the first and second acts of the play included Raymond McPhail, Bob Murrell and Orville Medford. The orchestra with Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey at the piano, included Joseph Rabinowitz, De Witt Tanner, William Luther Donnell, Miss Mathilde Donnell, Mrs. F. C. McClung and J. R. Streit.

WICHITA CARPENTER NOW READY TO TALK

Feels Better Than He Has for 15 Years, Says R. D. Hill; Gives Orgatone Credit

Mr. R. D. Hill, well known carpenter, working for Charles Hill, and residing at 1321 North Sixth street, Wichita Falls, says that Orgatone has put him back on his feet after 15 years of suffering.

"I suffered from stomach trouble, indigestion, gas pains and heartburn," he continued, "and would have nervous spells and sick headaches and my sleep at night was always broken up. I was always restless. I also suffered from constipation and had frequent dizzy and bilious spells. My whole system dwindled down to the point where I was in a general run-down condition.

"So many people here in Wichita Falls had been recommending Orgatone that I decided that I would try it and it was certainly a lucky day for me when I did, for it seemed to be the medicine that I had been in search of for 15 long years.

"Since using Orgatone, I have now used three bottles, I am no longer troubled with indigestion and those gas pains have left me. My headaches do not trouble me like they did and those nervous and restless nights are a thing of the past for I go to sleep at night now and sleep just like a baby and wake up in the mornings feeling just as fit as can be. I am no longer constipated and those dizzy bilious spells have left me. Orgatone has built up my system all the way round and I am feeling better than I have in 15 years and on these three bottles I have gained five pounds in weight.

"I do not hesitate to recommend this wonderful medicine to my friends for I know that if anyone suffers as I have suffered they will be more than pleased with the results that may be obtained by using Orgatone and I am only too glad to give this endorsement on Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by Allison's Drug store, under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative.—Adv.

County Officials, Banks and Legion Post to Observe Memorial Day

Memorial Day in Wichita Falls will be observed by the closing of the banks and some county offices, and the decoration of World war veterans' graves by the American Legion, Pat Carrigan post, according to information given Wednesday.

Members of the legion will meet at the Memorial auditorium at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, according to Victor Nobles, commander, to carry flowers to approximately 20 graves of men who participated in the late war.

Offices at the courthouse which will be closed Thursday include those of the county clerk, tax assessor, tax collector and attorney. The county board of equalization also indicated that its work would be suspended until Friday morning.

20 Members Added To New Church

Three additions to the Scotland Methodist church Wednesday night increased the total of new members received this week to more than 20, according to Rev. John E. Wade, pastor of the new congregation and of the Adams street Methodist church.

The revival meetings now being held at the Scotland church are being conducted by Rev. Ben Bell, pastor of the Sibley-Taylor Methodist church. His sermon Wednesday night was on the text: "Where Art Thou?"

"People are not unconscious of God," said Rev. Bell, "they just try to hide from Him. They hide only in the sense that they blind themselves against seeing His glory as revealed in His Son, the Christ. What means do they use? By arguing infidelity in an effort to stifle the voice of conscience; by refusing to read God's word; by purposely absenting themselves from the house of worship; and by endeavoring to pluck the moats from the eyes of others without regard to the beams in their own."

A large number of members of the Sibley-Taylor Methodist church attended the revival in a body Wednesday night. From their number, a trombone quartet composed of Mrs. L. H. McKinley, Mrs. A. W. Ayers, Robert Lowry and Miss Browning playing several numbers.

The special meetings will continue through this week, it was announced, Rev. Bell preaching every morning at 10 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock each night. The church is now meeting in the old Ku Klux Klan hall on North Sixth street.

Catholic Daughters To Convene at Galveston

GALVESTON, Texas, May 29. (AP)—The 1929 supreme biennial international convention of the Catholic Daughters of America will open here July 2, with solemn pontifical high mass, according to Mrs. Louis Poth of Yoakum, state regent and general chairman of the arrangements committee and Mrs. George Sawyer of Galveston, local committee head.

A brilliant reception and banquet function Monday night, July 1, will be the first of a series of elaborate social functions during convention week. Outstanding members of the Catholic heirarchy and international leaders of Catholic women will head the list of speakers on the banquet programs. Addresses and music will be broadcast over an extensive hook-up.

Convention arrangements will be submitted shortly to Miss Mary C. Duffy, Newark, N. J., supreme regent, for approval of the board of officers.

State University Plays 'Landlord' to 130 Families

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—While the University of Texas hardly has "a house to live in" it provides a roof for more than 130 families, for it owns and rents out many residences on its property. The rentals aggregate about $4,000 monthly. Seventy-five lots on the Breckenridge tract of land along the banks of the Colorado river are leased to camp cottagers, these returning another $1,000.

During the past two years, more than 25 of the "town houses" owned by the school have been moved or sold.

About five of the houses were moved recently to make way for the new auditorium-gymnasium, now under construction.

Lodges to Hold Joint Program Friday Night

Members of the Modern Woodmen of America and the Royal Neighbors will hold a joint meeting Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' hall.

ROTARIANS IN ANNUAL BALL

Nominations for Offices Completed

DALLAS, May 29. (AP)—Ten thousand Rotarians, gathered here for the 20th annual international convention of the organization, got the routine business of nominating candidates for office out of the way today and then enjoyed themselves at the biggest Rotary social event of the year, the annual president's ball.

Little competition for office developed and the chief fight appears to be that for the presidency. The supporters of Raymond J. Knoeppel of New York, matched every claim made by those pushing Eugene Newsom of Durham, N. C. The result will not be announced until Friday as it will take some time to tabulate the 5,000 or more votes that will be cast.

Eight candidates were nominated for the five places which the United States has on the board of directors. They are: Claybrook Cottingham, Alexandria, La.; Paul F. Edquist, of Concordia, Kan.; Roy Ronald, of Mitchell, S. D.; David Clask, of Charlotte, N. C.; Dan O'Hern, of Oklahoma City; Clyde Hulsizer, of Des Moines; Charles W. Ackley, of Vineland, N. J., and Arthur W. Lueck, of Beaver Dam, Wis.

The 72 district governors, selected by their districts, were approved by the convention without comment and Rufus F. Chapin, of Chicago, was renominated for treasurer without opposition.

Eastland to Celebrate Courthouse Completion

EASTLAND, Texas, May 29. (UP)—A dinner table 3,000 feet long has been constructed in White Way park here for the thousands of visitors expected by the city Tuesday, decoration day, when the new court house will be dedicated.

More than 4,000 cups of coffee, 10 or 15 barrels of lemonade, and an abundance of ice water will be provided.

The courthouse was recently completed. It was built in memory of the veterans of the world war.

Hodgins to Attend Meeting of Detectives

George H. Hodgins, owner of the Hodgins Merchants Police and Bureau of Investigation and former chief of police here, left Wichita Falls Wednesday for Tulsa to attend the meeting of the World Association of Detectives which will be held in that city Thursday and Friday. There are but seven men in Texas who belong to the association, Mr. Hodgins being one of this number.

MEMPHIS, Texas, May 29. (UP)—Twenty negroes were arraigned before justice of the peace R. N. Gillis for gambling. Nineteen pleaded not guilty without any explanation. One had an explanation to make.

"Yes sah," he said, "I's guilty, and no, I's not guilty. I lost $50 yesterday. If these boys weren't gambling with me, Ah must o' been hi-jacked by 'em.'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 29. (INS)—The Illinois house of representatives today passed a bill fixing the interest rate on call money at seven per cent, making the Chicago rate the same as New York's.

TEXAS TO GAIN 2 CONGRESSMEN

House Expected to Pass Reapportionment

WASHINGTON, May 29. (US)—The 10-year fight to have congress obey a constitutional mandate neared a close today when the senate, by vote of 57 to 26, passed the census and reapportionment bill.

The measure goes to the house where administration leaders are confident they have the necessary votes to have it pass that body.

Final enactment of the measure will permit the federal government to start at once organizing the vast machinery necessary to enumerate the 1930 census.

More than that, it will ensure a re-apportionment of seats of the house of representatives, a constitutional duty which congress has refused to heed since after the census of 1910.

The states which will probably gain seats after the 1930 census follow:

California 6; Michigan 4; Ohio 3; New Jersey 2; Texas 2; Arizona 1; Connecticut 1; Florida 1; North Carolina 1; Oklahoma 1; Washington 1.

These states will lose the following:

Missouri 3; Indiana 2; Iowa 2; Kentucky 2; Mississippi 2; Alabama 1; Kansas 1; Louisiana 1; Massachusetts 1; Nebraska 1; New York 1; North Dakota 1; Pennsylvania 1; Tennessee 1; Vermont 1; Virginia 1.

Boo-Hoo! Reporter Ends Interview in Tears

AUSTIN, May 29. (UP)—Miss Marjorie Lee, reporter on the University of Texas newspaper, went to the cafeteria to get a story from Miss Anna Jansen, an employe. Finally she fled, rubbing her inflamed eyes. Miss Jansen continued to peel onions.

Pecos County Wildcat Shows Oil and Gas

SAN ANGELO, May 29. (AP)—Buell & Hagan's No. 1 university, Pecos county wildcat, ten miles west of Yates field and 35 miles east of Fort Stockton, was reported making a good showing of gas today, estimated at three to four million cubic feet daily.

Junior Forum Series of Summer Teas Begun at Home of Mrs. Hicks

Mrs. T. A. Hicks' home on Filmore was lovely Wednesday with coreopsis, larkspur and shasta daisies placed in every spot where flowers could add to its attractiveness, when she gave the first of a series of summer teas which the Junior Forum will sponsor. The idea is Miss Mary Tancred's and was put into immediate action by the Junior sponsor, Mrs. Hicks. Each member attending, pays 10 cents (or more if she wishes) for the privilege of the summer meetings and promises to give a tea in her turn, with at least 10 guests.

This unending chain of summer teas, they believe, points the new Junior president as a "financial wizard," and the organization hopes to have a liberal sum on deposit when the Forum opens in the autumn.

Miss Mozell Hodge gave a lovely musical program during the afternoon. Miss Jessie Lucile Raley presided at the punch bowl where delicious Virginia punch was served. Mrs. W. L. Bass met the guests at the door.

Among those present were Mesdames Claude Woods and John Tancred, Misses Joline Woods, Moselle Hodge, Jessie Lucile Raley, Martha Ellen Hines, Dell Hatchitt, Mary Tancred, Clarice Robinson, Laura Lee Hampshire, Mary Jean Yeargin, Larue Simmons, Louise Van Emden, Dolores Peavey and Dorothy Reed.

The next tea will be given at the home of Mrs. Ed Peterson by Mrs. W. L. Bass, and will be a garden tea.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, May 30. (US)—A young woman with a small apartment, who works all day as manager of a lingerie department in one of New York's biggest department stores, has found a beautiful new love to fill her life. Something that means so much she goes home for luncheon just to see him so that she can work better through the rest of the day.

He is pale yellow and feathered and he sings like no other canary I ever heard.

"I can let him fly around the apartment at noon for an hour if I go home," she explains, "and he loves it!" she sighed. "You don't know what a relief he is, after listening to a lot of idle, vain, selfish women all day. He's so refreshing."

And I'll bet he is.

I wish someone would diagnose the mind troubles of women living in great hotels on beautiful boulevards, who put at their front windows curtains of vivid hue, purple, lavender, rose, green, so that it break the uniformity of window draping and ruins the appearance of the front of the building. I wonder do they ever think of putting them inside the regular drapes so that they can use their own taste and the hotel can still preserve its self respect?

Saw a vivid purplish lavender one this morning that made cold shivers run down my spine.

Two very haughty yellow girls on a Fifth avenue bus, lips strawberried, hair shined, eye brows drawn high and thin, gardenias on their coats, and if they weren't some of the glorified ones from Show Boat, then they were ladies in waiting to some comfortable keptive. But how could she be comfortable with all that Narcissus perfume around.

A woman snake charmer in the East was bitten by her snake and the snake died. This was a week ago.

A few days later, a man snake charmer was bitten by his trained snake, and he died.

Now you know that the female of the species actually is deadlier.

Just took another look at that matrimonal paper on my desk. Hundreds of advertisements from men and women who want an agency to find them spouses!

One woman says she is a "pianist" by profession.

Another wants a man from 38 to 61. Quite a range. She has no objections to "an up-to-date farmer."

One woman wants an "out-of-door sport."

Another says no "divorced men or Catholics need apply."

Another advertises herself as a "good dresser and a Christian."

One ends her descriptions: "Now you men folks, please write."

No end of them say their object is "friendship and results." Some say "mutual results," so if she marries him he will have to marry her, I take it.

U. S. Debt Concession Depends Upon France

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS.)—Any concessions made by the United States in r ducing its own claims to reimbursement from German reparations should be predicated upon French ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt agreement, Senator Borah, republican, of Idaho, declared at the White House today after conferring with President Hoover.

Borah declared he was opposed to making any reduction in the American claims, no matter how slight, until France ratifies the agreement to pay her $4,000,000,000 debt, which has now laid in a pigeon-hole in the French foreign office for three years.

"Any reparations agreement reached now," said Borah, "will be only temporary, anyway, for it would be made under compulsion."

PAL'S HUBBY PAYS COURT

Woman Asks Dorothy Dix How to Stop It

Should a Wife Return to the Husband Who Deserted Her?—How Can a Woman Stop the Attentions of Her Best Friend's Husband?—Family Relations

Dear Miss Dix—I am a woman of 22 and have been married three years. Six months ago my husband left me and I had to go back to my mother, but now my husband wants me to come back to him. He tells me how sorry he is and what a big mistake he made in leaving me, and that I am the only one he loves or ever will love. He wants me to forgive him and take him back and start all over again, but my people are opposed to my going back to him and say that if I do they will be through with me and will never have anything to do with me again. What should I do?

UNDECIDED.

Answer: Of course, this is a matter between you and your own heart and one in which no stranger dare intermeddle, but there are two things which should guide you in making your decision.

The first is, of course, your own feeling toward your husband. Do you love him well enough to forgive him for the indignity he has put upon you and the humiliation he has made you suffer? It takes a lot of affection to make a woman able to forget that her husband has not cared how much he hurt her, nor how much he shamed her.

Will his love make up to you for the loss of your family, who have been good to you, and who took you in and gave you shelter when he threw you out?

The other point to consider is the character of the man himself. Is he weak, or is he strong? Is he trustworthy or vacillating? Is he the sort of man who can stick to a thing even if it is hard, or is he one of the kind who is always changing?

Above all, is he a philanderer by nature, one of the men who always have an eye out for every fluttering skirt? There are men who can make a big mistake and profit by it, men who can learn a lesson from experience, and other men who never change, but who go on committing the same old sins as long as they live.

You should be able to judge to which class your husband belongs and whether he would be liable to repeat his offense and go off and leave you the next time he got bored with matrimony.

Unless you love him so well that you feel that life without him will be cinders, ashes and dust, and unless you feel assured in your own mind that he has enough manhood in him to live up to the obligations of marriage, you will be wise to stay as you are and let well enough alone. For certainly the man who has failed you once is such a bad matrimonial risk that it is almost foolhardy to chance it a second time.

However, there is this to be said in such a case: Very often a man, and particularly a young chap, who marries too early, gets fed up on matrimony. He resents the obligations it imposes upon him. He longs for his lost liberty. He wants to be free to run around and play with the boys and girls and to have his money to spend on himself and his pleasures. He doesn't want to be tied down to one woman, or to have to pass his evenings at home, or to have to spend his money on groceries and rent instead of wild parties.

So he breaks up his home and leaves his wife and after he has rocketeered around a bit he finds out that the gay life isn't so gay as he had thought it was. He begins to contrast the wild women, with their gold-digging and their mercenary kisses for which he has to pay, with the good little wife who loved him for himself and whose one thought was for his happiness and comfort. Even his freedom palls upon him, because the reason that he can go and come unquestioned is because nobody cares where he goes, or whether he ever comes back or not.

So sometimes the prodigal husband does look his folly in the face and repent sincerely the wrong he has done his wife, and if she takes him back he makes her a good and faithful husband. Therefore, perhaps a woman is justified in giving a man a second chance.

But there is no denying it is taking a long shot, because no man ever deserts his wife who is not lacking in moral stamina and utterly selfish and self-centered.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—If you were an unmarried woman about 30 years of age and your best pal was a married woman 12 years your senior, what would you do if, when she is out of town, sometimes for a day or two, sometimes for several months at a time, her husband made dates with you for long automobile rides, phoned you often, brought you candy, dropped in at night to see you, and visited your shop several times a day? If he just hankered after you and got mad and blushed when you did not accept each date he tried to make, what would you do? D. W.

Answer: I would try to practice the Golden Rule, D. W., and do as I would be done by. I would treat my friend as I should want her to treat me. I would be loyal to her as I would want her to be to me. I wouldn't want her flirting with my husband, as soon as my back was turned.

I would try to put the fear of God in her husband's heart and make him realize what a poor, contemptible role a man plays who deceives the wife who trusts him, and who runs around with younger women when she is away from home. I would tell him that if he had ceased to love his wife and was tired of her to come out like a man and say so, and get a divorce so that he would be free to pay other women honorable attentions, but not to go sneaking around pulling the wool over her eyes with one hand and handing out candy to girls with the other.

Nothing is really more disgusting than these old married Lotharios who make love to girls young enough to be their daughters while they are hiding safely behind wife's skirts, and it is strange that any girl is idiot enough to fall for them.

And if I were a woman of 30 I hope I would have enough sense and knowledge of the world not to let myself be compromised by a flirtation with a married man, for it is always a losing business for the girl.

So if I were you, I would simply say "Beat" the next time my friend's husband came around and shut the door on him. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—What do children owe their parents besides the conventional love, honor and obedience? Also, what feeling should exist between brothers and sisters? You will save a youth from gray hairs by answering these questions.

EIGHTEEN.

Answer: The amount of love and honor you owe your parents is a debt that automatically settles itself. You love and honor them if they are kind and tender and affectionate to you, and if their lives are such as to inspire respect and reverence in you, but nobody can expect children to love parents who are cruel and hard to them, or parents who live degraded lives.

Also, the amount of obedience children owe their parents depends upon the justice of the parent's demands. After a child has reached the age of reason he must use his own judgment in obeying his parents. A mother, for instance, has no right to force her daughter to obey her and marry a man she doesn't love, nor has a father a right to expect his son to obey him and go into an occupation for which he has no taste.

So far as money is concerned, it is children's duty to support their parents if they are old or sick and in want.

The relationship between brothers and sisters should be that of affection and comradeship, a sort of superfriendship, because they have not only the tie of association and congeniality, but of blood and a common interest.

When this love exists between brothers and sisters it is one of the most beautiful and satisfying and comforting of all human relationships. DOROTHY DIX.

Olde French Inn Scene of Unusual Artist's Program

Miss Oscar Lillian Bilbro, who through the winter season had charge of the music on children's hour over KGKO, gave an original program with her piano and violin pupils at Ye Olde French Inn Tuesday evening, assisted by pupils from Miss Cato's dancing school.

Mary Louise Johnson and Mary Tom Fuqua, dressed as fairies, opened the program in cabaret fashion, strumming their ukes and singing softly as they moved through the audience.

Piano numbers were given next by Betty Rowland, Ada Ruth King, Beatrice Compton, Mary Elizabeth Kolb, Margaret Bialkowski, Lucille Ramming, Maurice King, and Jennie Robertson.

Mary Louise Yeargin and Beverly Nan Witherspoon gave an original duet dance and Jane Rahl gave two solo dances. Dainty costumes and graceful dancing were said to make these numbers very attractive. Thera Dell Cannon sang sweetly, "Little Mother."

Mildred Richards, Kathleen Shaw, Ruth Mary Connor gave piano numbers and Ruth Mary Connor also gave a reading.

Martha Vick gave a violin number much appreciated by the audience and she and Jack Rudy gave three piano duets. Each gave piano numbers alone. These children have been well trained and their hour over KGKO is said to have given them unusual poise.

Johnny Martin and Lela Tribble were ushers for the large crowd in attendanee. An abundance of cut flowers was used in the Inn, making a lovely setting for an unusual program.

Circle "A" Methodist

Circle A of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. R. Martin on West Harrison avenue. Following the reading of the devotional by Mrs. W. M. Bagwell, a short business session was held, presided over by Mrs. W. R. Martin, in which the financial and social service reports were given. It was also planned to arrange an ice cream social in the near future, to be held on the church lawn. The general topic discussed at the meeting was "Broken Homes" with Mrs. A. C. Rippy and Mrs. W. R. Martin discussing special topics. At the close of the meeting a salad course was served to Mesdames Doc Fisher, J. C. Hubert, W. M. Bagwell, W. C. Martin, W. R. Martin, Clyde Martin, A. C. Rippy, W. M. Austin and E. V. Hallom.

Circle "B" Methodist

Circle B of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. M. Dinsmore on North Wichita street. Mrs. A. G. Basham, leader, presided over the short business session in which several reports were given and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The meeting was opened with the song "Footprints of Jesus," followed by sentence prayers. In the program the following topics were discussed: "Boys' Will," Mrs. J. F. Claypool; "Changes in Family Life," and "Missionary Voice," by Mrs. A. G. Basham; "Broken Homes," Mrs. H. C. Hill; questions and discussion. Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. F. Claypoole, H. E. Anderson, J. W. Dyson, Matie Wolf, C. W. Coffee, A. G. Basham, H. C. Hill, M. Menard, E. W. Gillespie, C. L. Keever, W. W. Woosley, R. E. Goodman, B. M. Dinsmore and Baker.

Circle "C" Meets

Circle C of the Methodist church met Monday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Houser on West Roosevelt avenue. The usual song service was followed by sentence prayer, after which Mrs. S. L. Tennin read the devotional. In the business session the reports were given and minutes of the last meeting read and approved. The missionary lesson, "Boys' Will," was conducted by Mrs. H. E. King, and Mrs. S. L. Hudspeth read a paper on "Broken Homes." Following the social hour refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames C. E. Houser, S. P. Clark, E. L. Blaine, S. L. Hudspeth, W. A. Sandefer, S. L. Tennin, H. E. King and Miss Nell Jackson.

We Women

By BETTY BRAINERD

Enjoying Misery

Sympathy-hunting is pre-eminently a feminine failing.

Most men minimize their illnesses and their ill luck, regarding them as evidences of weakness. But the woman does not live who has not a sneaking fondness for inspiring the pity of her friends and family.

Listen to the conversation of any bridge club or sewing circle. Sooner or later the talk will turn to the subject of operations, in-laws, servant troubles, etc. And each speaker will vie with the last in presenting a picture of unrelieved blackness.

One woman will describe tortures, which belong properly in a section of Dante's Inferno, while another will relate a heart-wrenching tale of trust betrayed.

But their tones and expressions are far from being in keeping with the tragedy of their narratives. They are enjoying misery. It makes them important. By awakening the sympathy of their audience they are amply repaid for the suffering of the past.

This is more or less normal and inoffensive.

It is only when one becomes a chronic and professional sympathy-hunter that the case is serious.

These chronic sympathy-hunters! These connoisseurs of misery! There should be a systematic campaign of extermination waged against them.

Sighs and tears are their weapons. Their weakness is their strength.

Let them get you in their clutches and they will play upon every humanitarian instinct you possess in order to gain their ends—which vary, of course. Some of them are content with murmured "ahs" and "shs" of compassion; others use their tragic predicaments to secure protection and security for many days to come.

The family of one of these sympathy-hunters is torn between a quite real appreciation of the situation and a desire to alleviate it, and the healthy impulse to smite the sufferer a blow upon the head and put her out of her misery forever.

Human nature is perverse. The more our sympathy is sought the less willing are we to give in. And usually the person most deserving of pity is the least inclined to seek it of the world.

Soldiers who went through months at the front seldom talk about the war.

And the woman who has eaten her fill of sorrow's bread is not inclined to dwell upon past miseries.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self addressed stamped envelope to her care of this paper.

Having traveled to South Africa through error, a letter posted in Januury at Plumstead, England, has just been received by the addressee in Eltham, three miles away.

How Famous Model Bleaches Her Skin

Miss Betty Thatcher, well-known artist's model and noted particularly for the pure beauty of her skin, has her own idea of a skin bleach. She buys no ready-made preparation, but "mixes her own." Her recipe, in her own words, is very simple.

"I get three ounces of Orchard White from the druggists and to this I add the juice of two lemons. This makes a full quarter pint of a remarkably effective and at the same time perfectly harmless bleach. Massaged into face, neck and arms it softens and refines rough and coarse skin and bleaches red, sallow and discolored skin to a clear rosy white. It also fades away tan and freckles. Nothing like this wonderful mixture can be bought ready to use, for half of its efficacy is due to the fact that it is used while fresh."—Adv.

Special to The Record News.

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, May 29.—Graduation exercises Thursday for a class of 30 marked the close of a very successful year of work, according to Supt. B. M. Harrison. The baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the class Sunday by Rev. Jack Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lubbock. Pres. P. W. Horn of Lubbock Tech delivered the address to the class. Miss Rose Scheuer was valedictorian of the class and Erle Bell Adams salutatorian. Supt. B. M. Harrison presented the diplomas to the class. The Littlefield schools have made marked progress under Superintendent Harrison, who has signed a contract for another year's work here.

Prohibition Problem Foremost In First Session of Enforcement Body

While No Public Statement Follows Closed Meeting, Main Point of Discussion Is Ascertained

WASHINGTON, May 29. (US)—The subject of prohibition was uppermost in the discussion of President Hoover's law enforcement commission at its first formal session today.

The meeting was executive. There was no public statement. But it was learned in an authoritative quarter that the members considered it of prime importance to decide whether they should not proceed at once to a discussion of the liquor laws and take up other matters later.

Accord Lacking

There was no vote, nor anything which might be considered a division or schism. The members, however, were not in complete accord, except that all agreed that the prohibition law is being flagantly violated.

George W. Wickersham, former attorney general in the Taft administration, and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war in the Wilson cabinet, both regarded as liberals and opposed to the Volstead and Jones acts, held frequent private conferences. Their aim for the moment is to get the commission thoroughly organized, before going into any of the many subjects.

There were, however, many digressions before the commission got under way. One of the leading prohibitionists, whose name was not mentioned, insisted that prohibition was a closed issue and that it only remained for the commission to recommend that the enforcement law be made more severe.

Others Disagree

Others insisted that in spite of the statement of President Hoover to the effect that liquor is responsible for only eight per cent of crime in the country, it still is the most important subject with which the commission will have to deal.

This discussion took place while the members of the commission were in effect only getting acquainted. The whole committee may or may not proceed into an immediate investigation of the liquor situation as distinguished from other law violations, but at the conclusion of the session today the members were being divided up into committees and it is understood that one of the most powerful committees is to devote its attention to the prohibition act and associated crimes.

BILL WILLIAMS' NOSE FREEZES

Goober Pilot Runs Into Snowstorm

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., May 29. (AP)—Cold and occasional snow flurries in the high altitudes are making it difficult for Bill Williams, the Rio Hondo, Texas, "Goober pusher," to keep his mind on the task of propelling a peanut to the summit of Pike's peak with his nose.

Yesterday Williams made less than a mile over the highway before a snow and hailstorm forced him to transfer operations to the stage of a local theater. Today he was back on the peak equipped with a winter flying helmet and other clothing suitable for extreme cold. He has slightly more than 12 miles to go and 13 days to accomplish the feat.

California Man Buys White Deer Farm

Special to The Record News.

WHITE DEER, Texas, May 29.—L. J. Brown of California has closed a deal with Carl Henderson of this place whereby he has purchased his poultry equipment and a large flock of chickens. Mr. Brown has also leased the poultry farm from Mr. Henderson and will make a number of improvements on this lease. He says on this lease he will engage in raising the very best of poultry, pigeons and will probably raise rabbits.

HOLLIS, Okla., May 29.—Marshal Carrol and O. H. Culpepper, have recently completed their new one-story brick building at Gould which will be used to house the Gould Ford Motor company.

The structure is one of the most beautiful in Gould and is a modern Spanish type, of cream brick and tile roof. The show room is large and has a spacious shop in the rear of the building.

Nine Fined at Quanah For Worrying Firemen

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, May 29.—Violation of the 300-foot parking ordinance at a fire brought fines of $10 and costs to nine Quanah citizens at the fire of the old Hendrix residence a few nights ago. Hindrance to firemen in fighting fires caused this ordinance to be passed about a year ago, but only recently has it been rigidly enforced. Officers state no exceptions will be shown hereafter.

MEMORIAL DAY RITES PLANNED

Frederick, Okla., to Observe Ritual Today

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., May 29.—Frederick business houses have been asked to close Thursday, Memorial day, when an appropriate program will be held at the city auditorium, in charge of John S. Kerr post, American Legion. Rev. William Slack, department chaplain, will make an address. The program will begin at 10:30 a. m. Later legion members and others will visit the city cemetery, where one of the graves of the world war veterans will be decorated, and a salute fired.

A trip will be made to the Davidson cemetery in the afternoon, where similar exercises will be held and taps will be sounded over the grave of a world war veteran. Flags will be placed at the head of all the graves of veterans of all wars at the Frederick and Davidson cemeteries.

Thirty bronze grave markers have been received by the local post and these have been placed at the head of the graves of all known world war veterans in the cemeteries of this county, excepting Grandfield. That town has an active legion post of its own, which looks after this matter.

Fred G. McNeeley, commander of the Frederick post, says more bronze markers have been ordered, which will be placed on other graves of world war veterans when the names of the former service men are learned.

White Deer Increases City Water Allowance

Special to The Record News

WHITE DEER, Texas, May 29.—At a recent meeting of the city council an ordinance was passed increasing the water allowance 50 per cent, at the same time allowing the same minimum charge of $2.50. This is effective June 1. Up until this time the allowance was 2,000 gallons for the minimum charge. Under the new ruling, until Oct. 1, 4,000 gallons will be the allowance. J. C. Jackson, the mayor, states that this step was taken in order to encourage citizens to use plenty of water in beautifying their homes or other places that is necessary.

Road Signs Placed On Carlsbad Cavern Route

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, May 29.—Roadsigns marking distances and left and right hand turns on the Carlsbad-Cavern highway from Oklahoma City to El Paso via the famous Carlsbad caverns have been received here by Carl Guin, president of the Highway association. Lex Hanna of Quanah is in charge of the placing of these markers, and has started putting them up. This road will be so well marked that no traveler need "get of his route," according to President Guin.

Search for Islands Related by Larsen

SANDEFJORD, Norway, May 29 (UP) — A lengthy and thorough search for antartic islands which had disappeared into the desolate waters of the south was described today by Captain Nils Larsen who headed an expedition to take possession Petera I isand on behalf of Norway.

Besides annexing Peter I Islands, which is located at latitude 69 degrees south, longitude 90:50 degrees west, Captain Larsen's expedition attempted to erect a wireless station on Bouvet Island, but found it impracticable and returned to Norway, arriving here yesterday.

Stupid Worship Of Shibboleths Scored

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 29.—(UP)—World peace is delayed and hindered because the two great English speaking nations are bound hand and foot to stupid worship of two archaic shibboleths, Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, asserted here today in an address before a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

HOLLIS PLANS TO FORM C.-C.

Second Trades Day Also Being Discussed

HOLLIS, Okla., May 29.—At a meeting of the business men of Hollis Thursday morning plans were discussed for holding a second Trades day the first Monday in June. They also discussed the possibility of organizing a chamber of commerce and a committee was appointed to meet as an advisory board and was empowered to call on any outside assistance they deemed necessary.

Plans for the second Trades day event are going forward without delay, and the indication is that it will exceed in scope the initial Trades day.

A New Service Policy

Beginning June 1st, the service departments of Wichita Falls Automobile Concerns will be operated on a Cash Basis.

¶ BECAUSE the flat rate basis for service work charges has proven of mutual benefit to the car owner and automobile dealer.

¶ BECAUSE the dealer pays the manufacturer cash for all parts used in service work with no allowance made for losses on open accounts.

¶ BECAUSE the dealer pays the mechanic on a flat scale, weekly cash basis for all labor.

¶ BECAUSE this policy will mean a substantial saving to the car owner and dealer, due to the elimination of bookkeeping expense, losses through bad accounts and collection costs, we the undersigned automobile dealers of Wichita Falls have decided to operate our service departments on a cash basis, beginning June 1st.

¶ THIS MEANS that all work will be paid for upon completion of the job and before the car is turned over to the customer. It will mean a more satisfactory job for YOU and a more efficient system for your dealer in handling your service needs.

This New Policy Effective June 1st at the Following Dealers—

Savagery in the Court

IT IS A bit hard to realize that a 6-year-old Kentucky boy stands today under sentence of 15 years imprisonment for manslaughter.

We are not used to long sentences in this country. They are, most decidedly, the exception and not the rule in our criminal court procedure.

A Sinclair steals a naval oil reserve and gets three months in the workhouse. A Capone, after thumbing his nose at law and order for half a decade, is finally jugged for one brief year for toting a revolver. A Remus kills his wife and spends a few short months in a lunatic asylum.

And then, just as we get used to this sort of thing, we pick up our papers and find that a 6-year-old toddler from the Kentucky backwoods is going to prison for 15 years because he took his father's shotgun and killed a playmate during a row over a piece of old scrap iron.

There is an insane savagery to this business that is almost incredible.

It happened, in case you don't recall the circumstances, in Paintsville, Ky. Carl Mahan, aged 6, found a piece of old iron and planned to sell it to the junk man. Cecil Van Hoose, who was 8 years old and bigger and stronger than Carl, took it away from him.

So Carl, having grown up in a region where passions run near the surface, and where the shotgun is always a good clincher for any argument, went into his house, climbed up on a chair, got down the family shotgun and went out and shot Cecil dead.

Carl went before a jury of his peers—that is, a jury of Paintsville residents, composed of middle-aged mountaineers. It took them just 30 minutes to convict him, and the judge promptly ordered him locked up in the reform school until he reaches the age of 21.

To be sure, it isn't the fault of Paintsville that Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington are unable or unwilling to punish their lawbreakers properly. And it isn't the fault of these cities that Paintsville was so barbaric as to order a 6-year-old imprisoned for 15 years.

Yet, after all, these places are all parts of the same country. The jurors who acquitted Remus and Sinclair were good, sturdy Americans, and so were the jurors who convicted little Carl Mahan. It seems to be a law of our national psychology that we shall be unreasonably sentimental and savage by turns.

What we need, obviously, is not so much a revision of criminal court procedure—though that, of course, would help—as a return of plain, ordinary horse sense. For the conviction of Carl Mahan is just the other side of the picture that shows the Remuses, Sinclairs and Capones getting off unscathed.

As long as we feel that any conceivable good can be done by sending a kid in his rompers to the reformatory for 15 years, we'll continue to make a grand hash of the business of catching and imprisoning the really dangerous crooks.

Moore of Hunt on the Deck

SENATOR JOE MOORE of the Hunt county district is an editor and publisher. He has been camping on the trail of State Supterintendent Marrs for years. He has been camping on the trail of the so called book trust for years. Senator Moore fought the provision of a state board of education bill providing that the superintendent of public instruction be selective and not elective. That is, he demanded the superintendent should be elected by popular vote instead of having the board appoint him. The senate bill declared for the selective method.

Senator Moore was very angry.

He predicted that the house would never agree to the selective method as provided by the senate amendment. Snator Moore must have the gift of prophecy. On the closing day of the special session the house stood pat, the senate surrendered, the board of education bill went over the top, but the people will continue to name the superintendents for at least two years to come.

Senator Moore had been given a hint that Superintendent Marrs would be the choice of the state board of education. Now if Marrs throws his hat in the ring as a candidate for re-election for a fifth term, the senator from Hunt will be a very busy man while the primary campaign is on.

No Cause for Worry

PEOPLE who are afraid that the supreme court's decision in the O'Fallon case may bring about a speedy upward revision of railroad traffic rates are doing a lot of needless worrying.

To be sure, the decision empowers the roads to raise their rates if they wish. But it is a pretty safe bet that it won't be done—except, perhaps, in a few isolated instances.

The heads of our railway systems are shewd business men. In common with all other American business men, they realize perfectly well that the old custom of charging "all that the traffic will bear" is as out of date in modern America as the old-time stage coach. Big profits don't come that way.

For years the railroads have realized that their prosperity lay in giving better service and in instilling greater efficiency and economy into their operations. They have done wonders along these lines. It is a safe bet that the O'Fallon decision will not cause them to abandon this tack.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS — By Fontaine Fox

The Day Book of a New Yorker
Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, May 30.—For some time there have been persistent rumors that New York's financial district—the nation's, for that matter, is going to move uptown, and now a big trust company comes out with an advertisement giving "some reasons why financial New York will remain downtown." This company, by the way, plans to erect a 50-story building in the heart of the district.

The financial district at present is encompassed by a few blocks. Ten of New York's largest banks are included in the list of buildings, not to mention scores of brokerage houses, etc.

When the committee on the regional plan of New York and environs made its report it predicted that "barring such catastrophies (earthquake or a destructive aerial attack) it is not like that the financial district will lose its position as the economic capital of the country."

Yet this prediction was made at a time when the skyline of New York rose in almost isolated grandeur, and when all business was confined to the downtown section. Since then the "mountain range" has extended far uptown.

Perhaps the renewed confidence is given impetus by the report authentic enough, that a group of residential skyscrapers will be erected downtown at the cost of $50,000,000 or so. The buildings will be erected in the district bounded by Battery park, Rector street, West street on the Hudson and Greenwich street—now occupied by straggling office buildings. Certainly would be an improvement.

Some planning experts are alarmed at this project. They say that while it will "spread over" the population and will ease subway traffic during the after-working hours, greater congestion will result during the theater hour when traffic will move northward.

Yet it is not illogical to presume that with the rush of residents toward the downtown section, theaters may likewise be forced to move that way and then, perhaps, people will be saying—not "I can remember when Fourteenth street was way uptown," but "I can remember when Fourteenth street was way downtown."

But in spite of this, residential developments continue unabated in widely separated parts of the city. In spite of denials, public statements and adverse publicity, the lower East Side real estate boom, started a few weeks ago, is a reality.

Six companies are buying property in the much maligned area between Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges and as far back as Cherry street. A railroad terminal may be erected in the vicinity and that would add further stimulus to the building. Prices of real estate have advanced 30 per cent or more.

Over in Brooklyn Heights a great residential development is under way, also.

And what with more and more apartments going up in the uptown area, one wonders who will occupy them all.

It happens quite frequently in New York but still the populace falls for it. The city filled with professional beggars and, in spite of the current legend that New Yorkers are hard-hearted, they seem to make quite a living at their profession.

The other day a woman was arrested as a beggar and when searched $3,000 in bills was found on her. Another "beggar," it was learned had $10,000 in the bank.

Beggars travel up and down the subways, and adopt all sorts of subterfuges to gain sympathy and, which is more important, money.

◆ ◆ ◆

The exposition of the chemical industries here was interesting. Among the novel things shown were a toy train, which starts, stops or backs up in obedience to the spoken word; an apparatus which will make "dry ice" in 30 seconds; a gas mask that may be used to relieve passengers in subways from the aroma of garlic or cheap perfume or cheap liquor.

◆ ◆ ◆

Well, a patriotic citizen wants all the skyscrapers of Manhattan to fly the American flag. He thinks it would provide a thrilling sight for people arriving up the Hudson.

◆ ◆ ◆

Orchard street, the last frontier of the immigrant who goes into business for himself upon arriving in the city, is doomed. That means a picturesque spot in New York will pass. For Orchard street is the street of pushcarts and peddlers—their headquarters.

The Once Over
By H. I. PHILLIPS

WHAT! NO COUPONS?

No more cigar store coupons? What's America coming to? Is the man who flitted with Lady Nicotine entirely for the silver cornet, fishing rod, punching bag, baseball glove, radiator ornament, tire, umbrella, photographic outfit or alligator traveling bag he could get out of her to disappear entirely?

PHILLIPS

"It just don't seem right," moaned Elmer Twitchell, himself as old time coupon collector, today. "When the corner cigar stores cease giving out these little blue coupons something will have passed out of American life. I realize that the modern young man is little lured by an offer of a catcher's mask, sweater, arm chair or fiddle if he saves enough coupons. Even the apprentice office boy makes so much money these days that he can go out and buy an electric piano for cash if he wants to, but when I was a lad the acquisition of an imitation ivory-faced harmonica (60 coupons) meant a sacrifice.

◆ ◆ ◆

"Why, when I got married I furnished up my home through cigar store coupons and the like. I literally smoked myself into my first set of furniture. I had a lot of friends saving coupons for me, too. They were making as much as $30 a week and were too well fixed to stoop to premiums. Why, everything in that first home was indeliby associated with the tobacco industry.

◆ ◆ ◆

"I wore a watch on my honeymoon that I got for 150 coupons and the first luxury my bride had was a Michigan Queen carpet sweeper (260 coupons). Her old man gave us a cut glass pickle dish and sterling silver sauce stand (200 coupons) and my parents gave us No. 1312, a sugar bowl and cream pitcher (350 coupons), thanks to the fact that both our dads smoked.

"The first arm chair we ever had in the house was a premium and I nearly smoked myself into consumption trying to get enough coupons for a set of dishes. After we got the dishes the bride wanted a set of silver knives, forks and spoons with carving set No. 7865, and by the time I got it I had a dry cough that was alarming.

◆ ◆ ◆

"Next she asked for a hall clock—No. 5782. It took 657 coupons and by the time I got it I had smoker's heart and the worst inflamed throat in our town. I was in pretty bad shape and planned to cut out cigarets. But suddenly she begged me for a cabinet phonograph. This meant 1,250 coupons and I knew it might kill me, but I went after it and the darned thing arrived the same day I was put to bed by the doctor and ordered to lay off tobacco for a year.

◆ ◆ ◆

"By that time the house was pretty well furnished, so it didn't matter. Those were the days. And now the coupons are to be discontinued, eh? Nobody bothers to save 'em any more. Well, furnishing up a home today can't have the thrill it used to have."

Health And Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper

Curing Constipation by Stuffing

There are no healthful foods which can be said to be strictly laxative. Those who are troubled with constipation should remember that as far as food is concerned in the cure, it is necessary to use limited amounts of starchy foods and to eat large quantities of the bulky green vegetables, even what might seem excessive amounts, at least for a short time.

Peristalsis of the intestines can be encouraged by using this large amount of green vegetables containing so much cellulose. My readers know that I very seldom advise overeating, but I do believe that for a limited time it is of value in the cure of constipation, providing the stuffing is done on the leafy green vegetables.

In starting the cure of constipation, it is well to live for four or five days on different kinds of fruits, using such fruits as apples, oranges, pineapples, grapes, apricots and peaches. Just take as much as you want of any one of these fruits during the day, eating some every hour or two if you desire. After perhaps the fifth day of this fruit fast, start on this diet:

Breakfast: One egg, prepared in any manner except by frying, three or four muffins made of real whole-wheat flour, a dish of prunes, figs, raisins, apricots, applesauce or baked apple. Also, one good sized dish of one of the cooked non-starchy vegetables listed as follows: celery, spinach, small string beans, asparagus, summer squash, cucumber, eggplant, beet tops, turnip tops, small beets, carrots, parsnips or turnips, pumpkin, lettuce, okra, chayotes, oyster plant (salsify), mallow, kale, zucchini, and vegetable marrow.

During the morning, drink at least one quart of water.

Lunch: Choice of any two of the non-starchy vegetables listed for breakfast. Also a choice of one or two of the following uncooked salad vegetables: celery, spinach, asparagus, cucumber, parsley, small beets, small carrots, small parsnips, lettuce, oyster plant, mallow, endive, avocado and ripe olives.

During the afternoon again drink at least one quart of water.

Dinner: Use a selection of the same vegetables as at noon, with the addition of one kind of protein, such as beef, mutton, chicken, turkey, rabbit, fish or nuts. In addition to this, use a dish of stewed fruit, as at breakfast.

It is advisable on this regimen to eat as much as possible of the vegetables listed, even using two or three servings of the same vegetable. This "stuffing" on the vegetables should continue for two or three weeks and then the amount gradually reduced as the bowels begin to move more easily.

Take the "setting-up" exercises at least twice daily.

Go to the toilet after each meal, whether there is a desire or not. Walk from three to five miles daily.

During the stuffing process take only small enemas if any are necessary. Take these while sitting on the toilet, using only about one pint of water.

Within two or three weeks after starting this treatment the bowels should move two or three times daily. If they do not, you may be sure that there is some mechanical obstruction such as would be caused by kinks in the colon, or adhesions. In that case, manipulative treatments to the abdomen will assist in bringing about a cure.

Dr. McCoy will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet addressed to him in care of The Record News. Enclose large self addressed envelope for reply.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Alkaline Urine)

Question: U. S. writes: "I have a weak back, aching continually. Recent urine tests showed an alkaline urine. Is it advisable to take citrocarbonate?"

Answer: Normal urine should be slightly acid and yours will become so if you will learn to live on a well balanced diet, such as I recommend in my weekly menus. I do not advise nor is it necessary for you to take an medicinal preparation to remedy this condition.

(Cactus as Food)

Question: Mrs. D. W. writes: "I have been told that the fruit of the cactus can be eaten and I have, in fact, tried it and found it palatable. However, the chief difficulty seemed to be with the prickly thorns. Were it not for these, I would enjoy eating the fruit. Is there any method of removing the thorns so that it can be more easily eaten?"

Answer: The best method of removing the small prickly spines is to impale the fruit upon a stick and whirl it about in a flame so that the thorns are burned off. After this, the cactus pear may be handled as any other fruit. The skin should be removed. The kind most frequently found in the United States is known as the "prickly pear" and is quite abundant in the southwestern part of the United States, and may vary in size from one ounce to a pound or more in weight. The fruit is eaten raw as a rule, but it is sometimes pickled with lemons or other fruit. The seeds are sometimes so abundant as to be unpleasant, although they may be eaten without harm. In Mexico, a syrup is produced from this fruit known as Tuna honey. They are also made into a thick paste similar to plum jam. The fruit contains about 1½ per cent protein, a similar amount of fat, about 11¾ per cent carbohydrate, principally sugar, and 2 7-10 per cent mineral matter, the remainder being composed of water.

Rains Prove Great Benefit to Grains

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., May 29.—Recent rains have proved of great benefit to small grain, according to W. E. Smith of near Chattanooga, who was a visitor here Monday. Smith has 170 acres of wheat, some of which he says looks like it will yield 20 bushels to the acre. It will be ready to cut in about 10 days, he believes.

Rains caused the oats to put on a greener color, but his oats is not extra good, he claims.

JOE MARTINA HURLS FIVE-HIT, 4 TO 2 WIN IN EIGHT INNINGS

SPUDDERS PLAY 2 TILTS TODAY

Galloway's Men to Open Series at Fort Worth

Special to The Record News

DALLAS, May 29.—Ancient Oyster Joe Martina limited the Spudders to five hits today and the Steers evened the two-game series by taking an eight-inning contest, 4 to 2. The pastime was halted in the eighth after both clubs had tallied a run in that round, and with the Steers at bat, a runner on second and two out.

Dallas pounded Ed Taber off the hill in the fifth inning, scoring two runs with the aid of seven hits off the leisurely southpaw. Chick Galeria hurled the rest of the route, and gave up the other runs and two blows.

Brick Eldred and Benton got two hits.

Randy Moore clouted three

knocks, including a double, and Morse and Vick had two hits each. One of Vick's smashes went for three bases.

Fast fielding by Bud Stapleton was a feature.

The Spudders tallied their first run in the second inning. With one out, Stapleton went all the way to second when Morse threw wild to first on a grounder. Eldred singled to center, scoring Stapleton.

Dallas tied the count in its half. Jefferies singled to left after one was out and scored on Vick's triple to right center.

Steers Score in Fifth.

The Steers scored again in the fifth. Flaskamper led off with a single to right. Morse singled to left, advancing Flaskamper to second. Rosenthal fouled to Stapleton. Moore singled to center, scoring Flaskamper.

Their third run was registered by the Steers in the seventh. Morse started it with a hit to left. Rosenthal sacrificed. Crouch to Stapleton. Moore singled to center, scoring Morse.

Galloway's men play a Decoration day double header tomorrow at Fort Worth and one game Friday. Then they move on to Shreveport before returning home Monday.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

THE BABY SHOES of his child will again guide Pete DePaolo, the young American-Italian veteran of the speedway, as he roars over the bricks today at Indianapolis. Successor to his uncle, Ralp De Palma, to the mantle as king of speeddom, DePaolo for several years was the dominating figure in the sport hazardous. An accident from which he miraculously escaped with his life, was followed with the announcement that DePaolo had retired from the game. But the lure of speed has proved too strong to resist, as in many previous cases, and Peter DePaolo again will strive for further glory and shekels that goes to victors in the 500-mile grind.

Fastened on the front of his ricing creation in early days of his success, were the shoes of Peter DePaolo's baby, talisman of good luck and guide to safety. And in every race in which he drives the little shoes have pointed the way. All racing enthusiasts who know the gentlemanly, sportsmanlike little Pete DePaolo, hope that those shoes continue to bring him through triumphantly—and safely.

A SPEEDWAY race is colorful and has its thrills. The ever-present danger of mishap and the joust for position while traveling at near 100 miles an hour is a memorable spectacle. Death rides constantly with these intrepid knights of the roaring oval. They know and take their risk, not only for the financial remuneration and fame it brings, but for the sheer life of speed. They are queer birds, these speedway drivers.

A majority of them, practically all of them for that matter, are highly intelligent fellows. They are expert mechanics and many of them could derive comfortable livelihoods in automotive factories. As indeed some of them do. As a class, I believe speedway auto drivers are among the best educated and intelligent of men engaged in sport.

THEY ARE quick thinkers, of course. Only those of lightning-like brain and coordination of mind and muscle can drive on the speedway, and survive. I recall an incident that shows how rapidly they think, and act.

Harry Hartz, one of the foremost drivers, was tearing along the back stretch down at the Miami speedway four winters ago, in a 300-mile race won by DePaolo. Hartz was at that time waging a battle to pass Benny Hill and my glasses were centered on the pair. Suddenly Hatz' car skidded. Three times his mount whirled around, and then dove through the fence. And during those few second that his car was whirling, Hartz, gripping the wheel with one hand, had snatched off his goggles.

Unhurt in his plunge through the fence, Hartz guided his crippled car back on the track, slowly wheeled back to his pit, where repairs were made, and nonchalantly resumed the race—to finish in the money.

Stanford Defends Track And Field Championship

PHILADELPHIA, May 29. (UP)—The Stanford track and field squad arrived tonight to defend its 1927 and 1928 championship at the annual I. C. A. U. A. meet at Franklin field Friday and Saturday.

Most critics favor the squad to repeat its success this year, and many feel that Penn has the best chance of halting the westerners with Barney Berlinger, its all-around star.

Slim Love's Success In Southern Debated

DALLAS, May 29. (AP)—Fuel has been heaped on the controversy between Texas league and Southern association fans over the respective strength of their circuits by the imposing record being run up by Edwin "Slim" Love for Birmingham.

The former Dallas hurler who was not effective in the Texas league the last two seasons, has won four out of his first five starts for the Barons this year and is batting around .350.

33 DRIVERS AWAIT STARTING BOMB FOR 500-MILE RACE TODAY

WOODBURY AND DURAY CHOICE

DePaolo's Record of 101 MPH Is Threatened

By BERT DEMBY

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29. (UP)—With every car having qualified at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour and the mechanism thoroughly tested, 33 of the world's fastest automobiles tonight were in readiness for the start of the annual 500-mile Memorial day speedway race here tomorrow.

The fast qualifying time made by several of the entrants led race men to believe that tomorrow's race would see some thrilling driving and possibly a new speed record. The present 500-mile mark is held by Pete DePaolo, who drove in the 1925 race at an average of 101.130 miles an hour.

Leon Duray's remarkable record of 106.199 for the first 100 miles of the distance also is in danger of being surpassed, it was predicted tonight. The first hundred miles are the most closely contested and furnish most of the thrills for the spectators.

Lap Prizes Valuable

In that period all drivers endeavor to get the lead because of lap prizes which give the winner of each lap $100. A driver who maintains the lead for any length of time in the earlier part of the race wins several thousand dollars. Leon Duray, Cliff Woodbury and Ralph Hepburn are expected to stage a neck and neck battle in this lap competition.

Woodbury won the hole position with a speed of more than 121 miles an hour in the qualifications. Duray's speed was about a mile under that of Woodbury.

Track followers believe Duray has the fastest car in the race and it would not be surprising if he took the lead away from Woodburry. The possibility of this gave promise that the race fans would see a great duel between two of the gamest drivers on the track.

Duray is known as a "wild man" on the turns and Woodburry never has been outgamed.

Thirty-three cars will start in 11 rows of three.

Hepburn in First Row

With Woodbury and Duray in the first row will be Ralph Hepburn and the other races will take positions corresponding to their qualifying speeds.

To qualify for the race it was necessary to go ten miles at a speed of more than 90 miles an hour. Thirty-five cars measured up to the qualification tests but the American Automobile association rules allow only 33 to start and the two slowest were eliminated. Nine others which did not make qualifying attempts were ruled off today because of tardiness in placing their cars in readiness.

The town was filled with visitors. It was impossible to obtain a hotel room, without previous reservation. Cars were here bearing license tags from California to Maine and the overwhelming number of visitors led many to believe a record crowd of 150,000 would see the race.

Drivers and Cars in Speed Race

Several Texas League Umps Former Players

FORT WORTH, May 29. (AP)—A majority of arbiters now in the Texas league are former players. Ziggy Sears only last season closed a 15-year career on the diamond. Harry Kane was a southpaw pitcher with Fort Worth and other clubs in the Texas circuit.

Hunter Hill is remembered as a player and manager of the Texas league, and Cecil Griggs trod the outfields of this league before donning the blue. Donnelly is another player who turned umpire.

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—The University of Texas football team will play five of its nine games for the 1929 season in Austin. Dr. H. T. Ettlinger, director of athletics, announced. It will open with St. Edwards university, Austin, on September 28. The Longhorns will play Centenary of Shreveport, La., here on October 5.

The conference schedule will begin with the Texas-Arkansas game at Fayetteville, Ark., on October 12.

Remaining games will be as follows: October 19, Oklahoma university at Dallas; October 26, Rice institute at Austin; November 2, Southern Methodist university at Dallas; November 9, Baylor university at Austin; November 16, Texas Christian university at Austin; and November 28, A. & M. college at College Station.

Sonnenberg Beats Piestina

BOSTON, May 29. (AP)—Gus Sonnenberg's famous flying tackle proved too much for Marin Piestina of Chicago, and the former Dartmouth football player retained his wrestling title by pinning the "trust buster's" shoulders to the mat twice after almost an hour of wrestling here tonight. The first fall came in 45 minutes and the final in 10 minutes and four seconds.

Song of Dead Soldiers
Memorial Day, 1929

March while the bands are playing,
Cheer while the bugles sound;
And keep the flowers spraying
Their blooms above each mound;
but when the day is over
And the long night is deep,
Remember, under clover,
The dead are still asleep.

Lost winds from home have found us
Through fields of poppy stain;
They whisper all around us
Of lovers in the lane;
Of twilights far behind us
That held June's ancient vow,
They brought old dreams to find us—
As if it mattered now.

Our crosses lean together
With each far wind that blows,
The same in summer weather
As in the winter snows;
And no one may remember
The snowdrift on the sun,
Where June and bleak December
To us are always one.

The bugles still are calling
As marching lines swing by,
And maybe tears are falling
For those who came to die;
But when the first red ember
Of starlight drifts and gleams,
Remember, oh remember,
The dead are lost to dreams.

Yes, summer crowns the mountains,
Where moon light seeks the plains;
There's music in the fountains
That leap to summer rains;
The dogwood blossoms scatter
Their snowdrift through the glen,
For us it doesn't matter,
And never will again.

For you the rose entwining
May climb the garden wall;
For you soft eyes are shining
Where summer dusk-winds call;
But what if June has found us
Who may not ever know
If poppies bloom around us,
Or drifts of winter snow?

Deep where the darkness stifles
The dreams that seek our rest,
The rust is on our rifles,
The flag is on each breast;
But through each gray tomorrow
Where care and trouble creep,
Shut off from strife and sorrow
The dead are still asleep.

Baldwin Enters National Meet

Leo to Carry Texas Colors In Chicago Games

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—One representative, probably two, will be sent by the University of Texas to the national track meet in Chicago on June 7 and 8, according to Clyde Littlefield, track coach.

Leo Baldwin, Wichita Falls, will be entered in the discus throw and shot put events and it is likely Texas men will compete in the quarter mile and high jump, he said.

Either Milon Perkins of Bastrop, or Walter Howe, of El Paso, will enter the high jump, with Wilbur Westerfeldt, of Cisco, or M. L. Daniels, of Cleburne, in the quarter-mile event. Daniels participated in the national meet last year. This is Perkins' first year on the track team, while Howe is completing his eligibility. Perkins and Howe have made better than six feet in the high jump this year.

Littlefield will represent the Southwestern conference at a meeting of the rules committee of the track division of the National Athletic association.

The university has been sending representatives to the national meet for the past seven years, placing in at least one event each year and winning several firsts.

In 1924, Jim Reese, of Comanche, ran first in the mile; in 1925, Rufus Haggard, of Gustine, set the world's collegiate record in the high jump with a distance of 6¾ feet, and in 1926 Garland Shephard, of Cisco, won first place in the high jump with a record of six feet five inches.

Last year Baldwin placed in the weights; Ralph Hammonds, of San Antonio, who now holds the Southwestern conference championship in this event, placed in the pole vault, and C. B. Smith of Rotan, track captain, placed in the broad jump.

STATE TENNIS TOURNEY HERE

Amateur Federation Meet Set for August 16-17

More than 200 entrants are expected to compete in the annual tennis championships of the Texas Amateur Athletic federation, to be held here Aug. 16 and 17. Six new courts nearing completion at Wichita Falls Junior college will be the scene of play.

Victors in elimination meets throughout the state will compete in the tournament. Dates of the elimination trials for the Wichita Falls district will be announced later.

C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, will be in charge of the tournament.

Down town headquarters of the tournament will be at the Kemp hotel.

TILLMAN OPENS GRAIN HARVEST

Grandfield Promises Large Wheat Yield

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., May 29.—Harvesting of Tillman county's 1929 crop of wheat has begun in the country southwest of Grandfield, where several farmers have their crop in the shock, and others are making preparations to begin the cutting of their small grain.

It is believed that wheat in some parts of the county around Grandfield will yield 20 bushels or more to the acre, while other fields will average only about 10 bushels. The wheat in the Grandfield section is in better shape than that of any other part of the county, according to people who have made a survey of the crop conditions.

It is not expected that the harvest will be in full swing for at least a week and harvesting will probably not begin near Frederick for 10 days.

Most of the wheat will be harvested with combines this year due to the shortness of the stalk.

'Straight Hole' Secrets Revealed

TULSA, Okla., May 29. (AP)—Six factors, all within the reach of every contractor, are all that is required in "straight hole drilling," Fred M. Allison of Corsicana, Texas, told the American Petroleum institute, division of production and drilling, meeting here today. Close attention to these factors, he said, would avoid "crooked holes" which have been so costly to the oil industry.

A crew with ability and "sold" on the drilling of straight holes, is the first factor, he said. A straight start, a small amount of special equipment for preventing side-sway proper thickness of mud, proper weight on the bit at all times, and proper speed of rotation are the others.

Hamilton Calls Bureau Meeting

W. B. Hamilton, chairman of the oil and gas bureau of the West Texas chamber of commerce has called a meeting of all members of the bureau to meet in Big Spring Thursday.

"This is an important meeting," Mr. Hamilton stated Wednesday, "and is for the purpose of a general discussion of problems confronting the oil and gas industry in West Texas. The meeting is being held in Big Spring as the most convenient place for the greatest number of members, and is the first formal meeting which has been called in some time. We are expecting a good attendance, and hope to accomplish some worthwhile things during the session."

Thousands of Permits For Oil Are Cancelled

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur announced today the general land office had cancelled 5,544 applications for permits to prospect for oil and gas and 2,596 permits heretofore issued have been revoked.

COTTON NOTES

NEW YORK, May 29. (UP)—Fashions will probably favor cotton dress goods, resulting in a greater use of cotton yarn, according to Herbert W. Lee, chairman of the Fine Cotton Spinners & Doublers association of Manchester.

Reports from Charlotte, N. C., indicate the crop in that vicinity is growing and looking well although there is still some planting and replanting to be done. Earlier planting show particularly good, although cool nights have caused poor germination in the late plantings.

In order to prevent further accumulation of cotton goods, the cotton textile institute will probably recommend stopping 25 per cent of the machinery or reduce working hours the same percentage, it is indicated in reports from Charlotte, N. C.

DRYGOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, May 29. (AP)—Cotton goods quiet with prices on gray goods unchanged. Worsted suitings continued of interest for all.

F.W. WOOLWORTH COMPANY

Five-Years' Record

The chain of stores controlled by the F. W. Woolworth company is the largest of its kind in the world. The concern operated 1,725 five and ten cent stores in the United States at the start of this year. An English subsidiary has 343 stores and a German company has 26 with sites to be opened this year. Since the company was organized, gross earnings have advanced 400 per cent and net income has reached six times the initial figure.

In 1928, sales volume totaled $287,319,000. Net income was $35,386,000. This compared with $35,350,000 in 1927 and $28,205,000 in 1926. The company is in a strong financial position. Funded debt totals $8,500,000 in purchase money mortgages and bonds of real estate subsidiaries.

Capital stock outstanding consists of $97,500,000 in shares of $25 par value. The entire issue of preferred was redeemed in 1923 at $125 a share and accrued dividends. Dividends are being paid at the rate of $6 a share annually. In 1927 there was a 50 per cent stock dividend.

As of Dec. 31, 1928, total current assets were $53,154,808. Current liabilities were $3,325,197 and net working capital was $49,829,611. Book value applicable to the capital stock amounted to $37.57 a share. The company started with good will placed at $50,000,000. This has been written off to $1. Real estate holdings have a book value of $16,455,000 although nothing was carried for lease holds. The company has entered on a national advertising campaign this year. The cost of this will add to expenses but it is believed it will stimulate business to a remarkable degree.

FARMERS SOW FEED CROPS

Wheat and Oat Land Goes Into Sorghums

Much land on which wheat and oats failed to develop satisfactorily during the spring is now being plowed and planted to cane and darso for feed purposes, according to local seed houses, as an accompaniment of constantly increasing numbers of dairy cattle.

Preparatory to feeding in connection with a business in buying and selling cattle, Ed Kuykendall and E. B. Morris are planting several hundred acres to sorghum, about four miles southeast of the city. Four thousand pounds of seed was being transferred to the field Wednesday and the sowing is well under way, it was said.

In the poultry market, eggs remained steady, wholesalers offering 22 cents on fertile and 24 cents on infertile stock. The number of broilers being marketed has increased rapidly during the last week, but are still bringing the grower 25 to 28 cents per pound.

During the last two weeks there have been large numbers of turkey hens sold. More than 100 were handled at the Wichita Poultry and Egg company's plant Tuesday, it was reported. Practically all young gobblers were sold during the fall and winter holiday seasons. The marketing of numerous hens now marks the close of the spring brooding season, and promises a large crop of young birds for the coming fall trade.

Six tons of tail and wing feathers plucked from the thousands of turkeys killed before Thanksgiving and Christmas last year were shipped to St. Louis from the Wichita Poultry and Egg company Tuesday.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 29. (AP)—Unfavorable weather and crop news was reflected by early advances in cotton, but failed to stimulate general aggressive buying and prices later weakened under pre-holiday realizing or liquidation. October sold off from 18.74 to 18.48 and closed at the lowest, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 12 to 25 points.

The opening was steady to a decline of 2 points to an advance of 3 points. Heavy rains in Texas caused quick buying.

Liquidation of July contracts and some selling of July against purchases of late months supposed to be for trade accounts had a tendency to unsettle the late market.

Three private reports were issued on acreage prospects, one of which pointed to an increase of 2.6 per cent, while another made it 3 per cent and a third placed it at 3.2 per cent.

Private cables reported covering and some trade calling in Liverpool supplied by realizing.

Exports today 12,939, making 7,664,805 so far this season.

Port receipts 4,156.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 29. (AP)—After an early advance of 6 to 9 points cotton turned easy later today on a bearish view of the weekly weather and crop summary and selling pressure on the July position in New York, which exerted a sympathetic influence here. The lows of the day were reached in late trading when October sold at 18.42, compared with 18.66, the day's high and 18.58, yesterday's closing quotation. The option closed at the lowest with the general market closing steady at net declines of 14 to 21 points.

The market opened steady despite lower Liverpool cables than expected.

In late trading the market weakened in sympathy with the decline of the July option here.

Late Selling Puts Halt to Stock Market Recovery in Quiet Session

By DROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 29. (US)—Late selling halted the recovery in stocks in very quiet trading today. Durant brokers were most active in the offerings which appeared to be in the form of lightening of some heavy accounts. The strength afforded by new buying and short covering was welcomed by those interested but as soon as their unloading was noticed they met competitive offerings from professional bears.

Chrysler reached a new low for the year with a drop of 2¼ for the day. Montgomery Ward lost 2½ more, Can 1½, Radio 1¾, Packard 2½ and other active Industrials from one to two points.

Railroads were in good demand with Central gaining 2½ and others benefitting from a fraction to over a point. Atchison met profit taking.

Commonwealth Power gained over six points in a generally strong Utility group. Coppers and Oils were quiet but fairly firm. The turnover totaled less than 3,000,000 shares while the call rate was held at six per cent throughout.

Maintenance of the rediscount rate at five per cent was no surprise. In view of the board's refusal to permit an advance in the rate last week and the extent of further correction of the stock market since that time, any change in the rate would have been a shock to both the stock market and business. There is a growing feeling that the rediscount rates may not be raised at all, now that the stock market evidently is on the road to substantial correction. Of course, there is no means of telling what is in the minds of reserve board governors. If further reduction in brokers' loans is experienced between now and the mid-June treasury financing, however, the board may decide against any change in rate at that time. Brokers' loans figures for the week ended Wednesday are expected tomorrow and it is generally estimated that decline of from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 will be shown.

Strength of the Utility and Power shares reflected the quiet but steady accumulation that has taken place during all the unsettlement in the general market. Buying has been in knowledge of important developments in the affairs of respective companies, several of which are expected to be announced soon. Split up of Commonwealth Power shares is one, and similar happening is looked for from American Water Works. It is believed also that control of American Water Works will pass to either the United Corporation or the North American Company. Electric investors scored the most outstanding advance under influence of developments told of here some time ago. It is interested in several companies in which recapitalizations and other activities promise better things for stockholders.

The Railroads are in somewhat similar position to the Utilities. Since the supreme court decided that valuation for recapture purposes was to be based on replacement and not cost value of property there has been good accumulation in Central, Atchison and other "gold-plated carriers" which is reflected whenever the market's technical condition brings general recovery. These roads have been named the "gold-plated carriers" because of the huge amount of earnings put back into property or otherwise camouflaged, due to the fear that the recapture decision of the court might be averse to the roads. Now the managements are in a position to fully reveal earning power and there are some highly pleasant surprises in store for stockholders of many of the roads.

The six per cent call money rate of the last few days showed that manipulation alone was responsible for advances at the time of dividend and interest payments of May 15 and May 1. Interest and dividend payments scheduled for Saturday are twice as large as the last two payments. If it were necessary to call funds in preparation for the May disbursements the banks would have had to call in a large amount of loans over the past two days. It it likely that the June 1 dividend date will give the bankers a chance to put a higher rate into effect over the week-end, however.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 29. (AP)—Limited receipts of cattle and calves.

Trade in all classes about steady. Some grass slaughter steers brought $10.25 and $10.40 and handy weight cake-on-grass steers in the native division moved at $11.25. No business of consequence in slaughter yearlings. Few good cows sold up to $9.50. Low cutters from $5.00 to $5.50. Some bulls at $8.75. Few good stock calves and stock yearlings, $11.00 to $15.00.

Better grades of slaughter calves, 25c higher, others selling mostly steady.

Hog trade appeared steady to 15c higher, demand fairly active.

MIDWEST LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, May 29. (AP)—Cattle trade around the 11 market circuit was marked by a fairly broad demand for the better grades of fed steers and yearlings at steady to 25c higher prices. Kansas City received a shipment of South Texas cows and calves but majority of the cows were in cutter flesh. Choice 1,340 pound steers in Chicago scored $15.10; choice yearlings in Omaha and St. Joseph realized $14.50.

Further price declines were enforced on fat lambs with losses of 25c or more at most points around the loop. Choice Idaho springers scored $16.25. Wooled skins brought $14.50 and choice shorn lambs $12.75.

Hogs moderately active outlet at steady to 15c higher values.

CHICAGO, May 29. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 20,000; steady to strong; top $10.90 for 155 to 220-pound weights; packing sows $9@9.65.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 29. (AP)—Slow demand was reported for all grains on the Fort Worth market Wednesday with the exception of sorghum heads which were wanted by dealers.

Wheat—Slightly higher; mills bidding basis delivered Texas common points: No. 1 ordinary hard milling $1.02½@1.04½; 13 per cent protein $1.04½@1.05½; 14 per cent $1.08@1.09; 15 per cent $1.12@1.13. No. 1 soft red mixed, delivered gulf, around $1.02@1.03.

Corn—Unchanged. No. 2 mixed delivered Texas common points 93@94c; No. 2 white 99c@$1.00; No. 2 yellow 99½c@$1.02½.

Sorghums—One cent off; No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds delivered Texas common points $1.39@1.40; No. 2 kafir $1.29@1.30.

Oats, sorghum heads and cane seed unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 29. (AP)—Export buying that totaled more than 3,000,000 bushels, and included hard winter wheat from the United States, helped to lift wheat values today. The maximum advance for future deliveries here was 1⅛c a bushel, but exforts to realize profits on the bulge in prices wiped out most of the gain.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ½c higher. Corn closed unchanged to ⅝c down, oats at ⅛c decline to ⅛c gain, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 17c.

Assisting the climb today of the wheat market here were Washington reports that the debenture plan would be eliminated from farm relief measures, and that a settlement of the reparations question at Paris was expected momentarily.

Selling of corn against purchases of wheat depressed the corn market. Besides, high temperatures over the corn belt were regarded as favorable for germination. Oats were kept easy by month-end liquidating sales of May holdings.

Provisions firmed up.

CHARLIE CURTIS IRKS SENATORS

Vice President Wields Gavel Too Freely

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—Vice President Curtis' zeal to manitain order in the senate has begun to wear on the nerves of its members.

Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida, was talking when Curtis began hammering with his gavel to maintain order. The pounding gavel drowned out Fletcher's words as well as the conversational side talk.

"I don't see why I can't talk without being hammered down like that," Fletcher protested to the vice president. He showed his irritation by giving up the floor. Other senators nodded their approval of his action.

Kansas-Okla. Flood Cooperation Assured

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Active cooperation with people in Southern Kansas and Northern Oklahoma in meeting flood problems in that area has been assured by Major General Jadwin under the 1928 Mississippi valley flood control bill. This was announced today by Col. Clarence B. Douglas, Tulsa, Okla., president of the Arkansas Flood Control association, and Representative Sproul, Republican, Kansas, whose district covers southeastern Kansas counties.

Lower Grain Rates Asked by N. Dakotan

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—An argument in favor of lower rates on grain and grain products in North Dakota, Minnesota and Montana, was made before the Interstate Commerce commission today by S. B. Houck, special assistant attorney general of North Dakota. He appeared before the commission in its investigation of grain rates in the territory west of the Mississippi river under provisions of the Hoch-Smith resolution.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, May 29. (AP)—Cotton prices displayed moderate strength in early trading but the government weekly weather report, while unfavorable, was discounted earlier. Prices eased off after the first hour of trading and closed barely steady, 1 to 23 points net lower. With cables 2 to 3 American points lower than due, opening prices here were from 1 point lower to 3 points higher.

Friberg Society

Special to The Record News

FRIBERG, Texas, May 28.—Mrs. Johnnie Lovell was hostess Thursday afternoon to the members of the Friendship club at their regular semi-monthly meeting. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Harry Geyer, during which plans were discussed for a moonlight picnic to be held on Tuesday evening, May 28. Place of meeting to be announced later.

The feature of the afternoon was a miscellaneous shower of beautiful and useful gifts presented to the hostess Mrs. Lovell, who is a recent bride, by members of the club. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Those attending were: Misses Katheryn Singletary, Maurice Leister, Thelma Lovell, Annie Zefutski, Agnes Krejca, Ollie Rodgers, Millie Roediger, Catherine Geyer, Annie Bryan, Mae Jones, Bernice Geyer and Mesdames Bruce Perkins, Harry Geyer, Frank Lovell, Needham Thornton, J. R. Snarr, Albert F. Hensel, Casper Geyer, J. W. Lovell, and Johnson Lovell.

Geyers Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Geyer entertained with a slumber party at their home Sunday evening for the boy friends of their son Byman in honor of his 12th birthday. Those enjoying Byman's hospitality were: Messrs Edward Lee Singletary, Melton Little, E. O. Bryan, Keith Reuel, Earl Lamb, Clifton Little, and Wilbert Bryan.

Personals

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Snarr of Elgin, Okla., are the guests of Mrs. Snarr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lovell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barker and daughters, Misses Ruth and Grace Barker of Frederick, Okla., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Dubbalds and family on Sunday.

Miss Carrie Jones left Saturday morning for Oklahoma City for a week's visit and will attend commencement exercises at the Oklahoma City university. Miss Jones was accompanied by a party from Wichita Falls.

Homer Donald Bishop of Wichita Falls was a recent guest of his grand parents Mr. and Mrs. Ben Roediger and family.

The SIGN of the MODERN Apartment

There is a twentieth century method of locating desirable rental properties—apartments, houses or office quarters—and this method is through the easy Classified way.

People who KNOW consult Daily Times-Record News Want Ads FIRST when they decide to seek a location. Wichita Falls property owners recognize this fact—that's why their announcements always are found in our Classified Section.

So now we find Mr. and Mrs. Jones looking for a house (or apartment). No, they haven't tramped endless miles, dragging weary feet up and down the boulevards looking for the "FOR RENT" signs in the window. The sign they have followed is the "sign of the times," the convenient Daily Times-Record News Classified Rental listing—the method which saves time and money—and has made house (or apartment) hunting a pleasure instead of a tiresome task.

At their convenience, Mr. and Mrs. Jones have picked up their favorite newspaper, Daily Times or Record News, consulted the rental offerings in the Classified Section, under "Houses for Rent," SELECTED the value which appealed to them—then got in touch with the property owner. If YOUR property had been listed THEY might have been interested, so don't you think you'd better get REPRESENTED NOW?

WHO SAYS THAT MODERN TWENTIETH CENTURY METHODS ARE NOT BEST!

MAY LICENSE DEMAND DROPS

Expected Rush to Altar Fails to Materialize

Although the new Texas marriage license law with its additional restrictions goes into effect within two weeks, the month of May this year has seen a decided slump in the number of licenses issued, according to figures compiled Wednesday by Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk.

Only 68 couples have called for the licenses since May 1, Miss Hall declared, against a total of 76 who made applications during 1928. The new law, which requires a wait of three days between the issuance of the license and the ceremony, and which calls for a certificate of health from the groom, will go into effect on June 12. Miss Hall believes the change will also involve an additional 50 cent charge, but she has not yet received official confirmation of the price.

A sudden activity in the marriage license department two weeks ago was believed to have presaged the heavy business expected before the introduction of the new regime, but a subsequent slump equalized the demand. Miss Hall and other county officials are nevertheless primed for a last minute rush, both in licenses and in hurried ceremonies in the offices of the justices of the peace.

Wisconsin Abolishes State Enforcement Law

MADISON, Wis., May 29. (UP)—State prohibition enforcement passed out of existence in Wisconsin today when Gov. Fred J. Kohler signed the repeal bill introduced by Assemblyman John W. Grobschmidt of Milwaukee. The measure, passed by the legislature following the state-wide referendum in which the proposal to repeal the state dry law was given approval by a majority of 142,000, places enforcement responsibility upon federal and local officials.

Weldon to Assume Post as New Archer County Auditor June 1

Edwin Weldon, recently appointed auditor for Archer county, will assume the duties of his office in Archer City Saturday, June 1, according to announcements made Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Weldon, assistant county auditor under E. P. Walsh here, will succeed John P. Moore, retiring Archer county official. The new auditor was appointed by Judge Allan D. Montgomery, as judge of the 30th district court for Archer county.

Jos. C. Gowdy, a member of the Mr. Walsh's staff for several years, will take the place left vacant by the appointment of Mr. Weldon, according to announcement made to members of the county commissioners court. Permission has been granted by the court for the employment of a young woman assistant in the office. The present Wichita county auditor is to be succeeded on July 1 by Paul Barnett, chief clerk of the city water department, appointed to the position a month ago by the three district judges having jurisdiction in the county.

RALEY TO ASK COURT VERDICT

Collector Claims $18,000 Under New Law

Claiming that the passage of a new law by the state legislature has settled every question not answered in the partial verdict of a jury trying his suit against the county two months ago, Guy C. Raley, county tax collector, announced Wednesday afternoon that he would enter a motion for judgment on the basis of the trial already completed.

The motion, unique of its kind in the legal history of the state, will ask for $18,000 from the county, claiming that amount as a refund on delinquent tax commissions alleged to have been turned into the county treasury.

Seeks Fees

"The jury agreed on every issue except those bearing on the question of limitations," Mr. Raley explained. "And this new law bars the county from pleading limitations in this suit. Our motion will plead that every issue now admissible under the law has been answered in our favor and that we are entitled to judgment."

A mistrial was declared when the case was tried first early in April, the jurors failing to agree on several of the many issues involved. Mr. Raley will claim that the jury decided in his favor on the question of whether the money was earned, collected and turned into the county, and on whether all the necessary technical requirements were met.

The suit originated after the supreme court early in 1929 ruled that a law repealing the 5 per cent commission granted tax collectors on delinquent collections is invalid, and that the old law is the governing act for the years covered. Mr. Raley claims to have turned his commissions into the county under the law now held invalid.

Gov. Dan Moody two weeks ago affixed his signature to a bill which allowed commissioners' courts to meet claims similar to those brought by Mr. Raley, granted collectors permission to bring suit, and which barred the counties involved from pleading the statute of limitations.

Tittle Wins Case

M. L. Tittle, former tax collector was recently awarded a $13,000 judgment on a similar case. The case is on appeal.

Wayne Somerville, county attorney, has announced that the county will continue to fight the cases, claiming that the new law violates the state constitution.

T. R. Boone, counsel for Mr. Raley, said Wednesday afternoon that he would present his motion for judgment to Judge W. W. Cook within the next few days and would ask that a date for a hearing be set.

ELECTRANS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Band to Feature Vaudeville At Park Tonight

A varied program of band selections, readings, songs and vaudeville turns has been announced for presentation at Bellevue Park Thursday night by a large number of performers from Electra, according to information given to C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent.

The outsanding feature of the entertainment, it was said, will be the Electra Municipal band, directed by Ira C. Johns. Reports from other cities in this section in which the Electra musicians have appeared recently promise a concert of unusual merit.

Compositions and arrangements of the director will be included in the selections by the band. The program will open with the march, "Electra," dedicated by Mayor George Ragland, which will be given its first public performance. Mr. John's arrangements of a waltz in modern style and Kreisler's "Liebesfreud" appear later in the program.

The closing number to be given by the band will be one of the most popular compositions for such instrumentation in America, John Philip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Vaudeville numbers will include a musical act by Misses Eloise and Letrice Wofford, singing and dancing by a chorus of girls, featuring Margaret and Doris Owens, and a blackface skit by Russel Austin and George Asbill.

The program will be given in the following arrangement:

March. Electra (dedicated to Mayor George Ragland; first public performance) Johns.
Overture: Orpheus in der Unterwelt—Offenbach.
Sunshine Girls with Margaret and Doris Owens—special act.
Katinka selection—Friml.
Marjorie Beasley, reading.
Joe Turner, song.
Cleopatra suite: (a) Cleopatra's barge; (b) Anthony's love song; (c) Egyptian dance; (d) Cleopatra's death.
Russel Austin and George Asbill in blackface act.
Waltz in Modern Style (first public performance)—Johns.
Liebesfreud (arranged for band by Ira C. Johns)—Kreisler.
Letrice and Eloise Wofford—special act.
The Wedding of Home and Katherene—Alford.
Stars and Stripes Forever—Sousa.
Star-Spangled Banner.

Maskat Temple Greets San Antonio Shriners

More than 60 men and women representing Maskat Temple greeted and served cold drinks to about 125 persons from Alzafar temple, San Antonio, whose special train stopped at the local depot Wednesday afternoon enroute to Los Angeles, where the imperial council will meet on June 4, 5 and 6.

Plans to entertain the visitors with a musical program by Maskat temple organizations had to be abandoned because the train was four hours behind scheduled time for its arrival here.

Prominent among the San Antonio representatives were Henry Hirshberg, potentate; Transportation Chairman Hy Rabe, Assistant-Recorder George Vernon; Ralph Edison, president of the band, and Mr. Rush, conductor; Lawrence Steedman, captain of patrol, and Walter Dunham, in charge of the chanters.

Marshall Franklin, Sid Gaines, J. M. Williams, Dr. J. H. Fletcher, Joe Bailey and D. R. Taylor headed the crowd which exchanged greetings with the South Texas party.

Jones Named To Attend Oil Parley

Roy B. Jones, president of the Panhandle Production and Refining company, was one of seven men named Wednesday to represent the American Petroleum Institute at the oil and gas conservation conference to be held June 10 at Colorado Springs, Colo., according to Associated Press dispatches from New York, where the board of directors were in session.

The committee will be headed by the president and vice president of the institute, the remaining five members constituting the organization's committee on world production and consumption of petroleum.

The Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association will hold a meeting early in June at which time representatives to the Colorado Springs conference will be selected, according to information received at the offices of the Panhandle company here Wednesday.

NEW SERVICE STATION

The property at the corner of Bridge and Jefferson streets, which has been known for years as the Cowart corner, is the site of a new filling station erected by E. Vandeventer, which is to have its formal opening Saturday, June 1.

The building includes quarters, facing on Jefferson street, for an auto repair and paint shop. J. S. Gerock will be manager of the filling and service station; F. D. Gray will be in charge of the repair shop, and J. H. Martin will handle the paint shop.

BRANIFF OPENS NEW SERVICE

Through Trips Provided To Kansas City

Extension of daily passenger service beginning Sunday, June 2, to Fort Worth and Dallas on the south, and to Kansas City by way of Wichita to Topeka, Kansas, on the north, was announced Wednesday by the Braniff Airlines of Oklahoma City.

The planes connecting Oklahoma City and Tulsa with Fort Worth and Dallas will operate through through Wewoka, Okla., located about half way between the two Oklahoma cities. The route bringing Braniff ships through Wichita Falls connects this city with San Angelo, Abilene, Breckenridge and Duncan, Okla.

The service inaugurated between Oklahoma City and Kansas City will run its trunk lines through Ponca City, at which point planes from Tulsa will transfer Kansas City passengers. The tentative schedule calls for departure from the Oklahoma terminal at 7:15 a. m. with arrival in Kansas City at 11:30 a. m. Returning, the ship will leave at 2:45 p. m., arriving at its Oklahoma destination at about 7 p. m. At Kansas City, connections will be made with Universal Airlines, of which the Braniff system is now a part, to any of the larger cities in the North or East.

Six-passenger cabin planes, with "Wasp" motors, with cruising speed of 120 miles an hour, will be used in the new service, it was announced. Rates from Wichita Falls to Ponca City will be $24; to Wichita, Kansas, $30; to Topeka, $45; and to Kansas City, $51.50.

Jury Disagrees In $35,000 Libel Suit

The jury trying the $35,000 libel suit brought by A. M. Flournoy against J. L. Story, local photographer and Flournoy's former employer, was dismissed and a mistrial declared Wednesday morning after the foreman reported the body to be in hopeless disagreement. The case, tried before a special judge in a section of the 78th. district court, went to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

The jurors stood deadlocked on a vote of 6 to 6 on most of the issues involved, the court was informed. The plaintiff was seeking damages on a contention that letters written by Mr. Story had injured his reputation for business integrity.

RAIL SUIT ON TRIAL AGAIN

$25,000 Asked in Crossing Crash at Iowa Park

The second trial of a $25,000 damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Parton against the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, in connection with the death of their son in a collision in Iowa Park last November, got underway before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court Wednesday afternoon.

A former trial several weeks ago resulted in a hung jury. The petition of the plaintiffs alleges that their son, Raymond, a 14 year old boy, was killed when the car in which he was driving was struck by a Fort Worth and Denver train at a railroad crossing in Iowa Park. Mr. and Mrs. Parton are represented by E. W. Napier, attorney.
