

CITY POLITICAL RACES WARM UP AS ELECTION NEARS

Mayor, Three Aldermen And Secretary Be Named April 2

City politics, although not boiling, is warming up considerably as the date for the city election draws near, and it appears that the interest in this election is going to exceed that of any other city election in recent years.

A chief executive, city secretary, and three aldermen are to be named next Tuesday, April 2. Jack Smith is to be presiding officer for the election, and the balloting will be done at the city hall.

Thos. J. Coffee, local attorney, and Fred Brown, local business man, are the candidates for mayor. Both of these gentlemen were solicited by friends to offer for this place. Qualifications of neither have been questioned.

Thos. J. Coffee was formerly county attorney of Mitchell county and in the Democratic primary last year was a candidate for District Judge. His legal ability is well known. During the World War he was with the legal department of the government overseas, and following the war served as head of the claims department of the navy in London, England. He was highly commended by the chief of the navy legal bureau for his work. He knows law and is considered a very substantial and level-headed man. The citizens could feel safe with Thos. J. Coffee as head of the city government.

Fred Brown, although a young man, is progressive, and reliable and possesses unusually keen judgment in business matters. Having been a student of government affairs for several years and being deeply interested in these matters, he, too, would be a good man to put at the head of the city government, his supporters point out.

The voters have a choice between two good men for chief executive. Friends of each feel confident of victory next Tuesday and are pushing the candidacy of their respective candidates.

In the race for City Secretary, the old wheel-horse, L. A. Costin, is asking for re-election, and two other good men, H. C. Doss and Ocie Green, are seeking this place. With these three men in the race, the voter is able to have some choice.

L. A. Costin has been City Secretary for many years and has always kept the city records in a very agreeable manner. In addition to that, he has worked almost continually to see that the city business kept pace with the growth of the city. In this he has had a hard job at times because of the lack of finances. As general "ramrod" for all the work going on in the city's different departments, Costin has been very successful and has devoted his very life to that work, his friends point out, and therefore they say he knows more about the city's affairs and can better handle its business.

The other men, Mr. Doss, and Mr. Green, have each had considerable experience in clerical work and their ability has not been questioned. Each of them have lived in Mitchell county many years and are well known to the voters of the city. They each have a group of friends who are pushing their candidacy, and if either should be successful in this campaign, the city's business will be well cared for, without a doubt.

In the race for aldermen, where three are to be elected, five candidates have been named, with a possibility of the sixth being placed on the ticket.

Two of the present councilmen are offered for re-election. They are J. Ralph Lee and Geo. B. Slaton. R. O. Pearson, the other member whose term expires this April, will not offer for re-election, we are told.

Dr. C. L. Root, G. W. Whitaker, and Paul C. Teas are the other three men offered for city councilmen.

Any of these five men would make good aldermen and the city's business would be well cared for if any three of the five should be named. Friends of each man are working in his behalf, while none of the candidates themselves seem to be trying to secure the office.

Talk of bringing out a sixth candidate to run on the administration

DEMONSTRATIONS IN TERRACING AT HYMAN NEXT WEEK

DEMONSTRATION WILL BE HELD AT CHURCH FARM SATURDAY

A terracing demonstration will be held at the Joe Church farm south of Colorado Saturday morning at 8:30. A series of terracing demonstrations will be held at Hyman, starting at the Henry Woodard farm at 9 a. m., Wednesday, April 3, and continuing through Thursday and Friday if necessary. Farms will be terraced in the following order: Henry Woodard, I. Smallwood, Sam Nichols, V. O. Pierce and Harry Myman. As soon as work is well started at one farm, the work at the next farm will commence. Several levels will be used so that the work will be completed in the quickest possible time.

Seventy acres were run off on the J. D. Pilkington farm and about 50 acres on the Henry Woodard farm last week.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND BANQUET OF BUSINESS CLUBS IN SAN ANGELO

Professional Women Here Accept Invitation To District Meeting

Because of the movement which is under way in Colorado for the organization of a Business and Professional Woman's club, a group of Colorado women were invited to attend the banquet of the fifth district meeting of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Woman's clubs in San Angelo Saturday night. Miss Abbie M. Sevier, Miss Joe Key, and Mrs. J. E. McCleary were those attending from Colorado.

Mayor W. D. Holcomb of San Angelo delivered the address of welcome at the banquet. Miss Daisy Leake of Temple, State president, made the principal address of the evening.

CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS TAX PLAN MAINTAINING A BAND AND DIRECTOR

At Special Meeting Wednesday $225.00 Month Granted

In future the Colorado Band will be maintained and a competent director employed from funds derived from the city treasury, according to an order passed by the city council at a special meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

The council granted $225.00 per month from general revenues of the city to be for the expense of employing a director and maintaining the band from tax money in compliance with the election held last fall, wherein the proposal to maintain the band by taxation carried.

The band committee, composed of J. Ralph Lee, Ford Morris, and J. Ralph Lee, was authorized by the city council to employ a director and arrange for the reorganization of the band under the financial care of the city.

There has been considerable agitation for this method of maintaining a band for several years and when the election was held last fall it was voted by a majority of three votes.

Last year the city tax rate was reduced to $1.45 on the hundred dollars valuation, 5c below the limit of $1.50, and yet is enabled to set aside funds for maintaining the band without serious embarrassment to other departments or other needs of the city, it is said.

ticket with Lee and Slaton has been heard on the streets, but so far no announcement has been made to that effect.

With this line up for city offices, the city election next Tuesday promises to bring out an unusually large number of votes and doubtless will create more than passing interest

CAMERON McLEAN TO DELIGHT LOVERS OF MUSIC HERE TONIGHT

Scottish Baritone and Famed Accompanist To Appear At Auditorium

Music lovers here are prepared for a special treat at the high school auditorium tonight (Thursday) when Cameron McLean, Scottish baritone of wide note, and his accompanist, Mabelle Howe Mabel, will appear in a concert.

Mr. McLean and Mrs. Mabel come to Colorado fresh from their second tour of points in Texas and nearby States. They were billed for second appearances this year in every place they visited last year, and packed houses greeted them everywhere. Their visit to Colorado is being secured through the efforts of Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen.

A varied program, with selections especially made to please their audience, will be given by the artists in Colorado. Mr. McLean will sing a number of Scotch songs, perhaps in costume, and he will also give a group of sacred songs.

His accompanist, Mrs. Mabel, is almost as famous in her line as he is in his. She has come in for high praise in recognized music circles for her skillful, sympathetic accompaniment to Mr. McLean. It is said that she anticipates his moods and enters into them wholeheartedly with her accompaniment.

Born on the romantic banks of the River Clyde in Scotland, Cameron McLean sang as a boy in the solos in St. Paul's Cathedral in his native town. Later he studied with some of Europe's great masters in the art of singing.

McLean has a voice of wide range and flexibility, according to reports coming to Colorado from authoritative sources, that the rich smooth tones are equal to the long sustained legato and brisk staccato intervals alike. Critics say that he is not a re-production but a re-creation, and that his is the type of singing which lives in the memory long after the curtain has dropped and the lights are out.

Press comments, in praise of Mr. McLean are so numerous that only a few of them can be mentioned here. Following are a few examples of the opinion held of the artist in influential centers of culture.

Chicago News states: "Cameron McLean excels in his ability to create the atmosphere of a song, whether it be humor, pathos, exaltation or classic beauty. This Celt has been able to hold aloof from an ever-increasing materialism and preserved within his soul for himself and us, the finest, the noblest and the best."

New York Tribune stated: "Such an artist is to be hailed with delight. He has the right to sing."

Brooklyn Citizen stated: "He received an ovation from his first number. Created a powerful impression by his masterful interpretations."

Scholastics In District 140 More This Year

Scholastic population of the Colorado Independent School district was found to have increased by 140 over the population for last year, with the close of the taking of the census in this district this week. J. W. Watson was in charge of the census.

This increase will bring the total number of scholastics in the district to 1,325, the largest number ever. The number of whites in the county had increased 150, but the number of colored scholastics had fallen 50, bringing the total increase down.

SCHUMANN-HEINK TO SING IN ABILENE

Madame Schumann-Heink, world-renowned contralto, is to appear at the Simmons University auditorium in Abilene in her "farewell appearance" on Wednesday, April 10, at 8:15 p. m.

Her appearance is to be under the local direction of the Cowboy Band. Prices are $2.50, $2.00, and $1.00. Mail orders are to be sent to G. B. Sandefur, manager, in Abilene.

W. W. CAGLE AMONG STONE COMPANY MEN COMING FROM WEST

Local Manager One of 11 Sons of Collingsworth County

W. W. Cagle, manager of the C. E. Stone Co. store here, was one of the company's store managers whose picture was run in a special Stone section of the Wellington Leader last week in celebration of the opening of the newly remodeled store of the company there.

The section of the paper contained eight pages and carried the pictures of 11 native sons of Collingsworth county who are now managing stores for the C. E. Stone Co.

The company now has 45 stores in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, Cagle says, and is planning further expansion this year.

The Stone firm was founded at Wellington in 1911 by C. E. Stone, who is president of the company.

The Colorado store of the Stone company is located on Second street four doors west of the Colorado National Bank. It was opened last year and has had a wonderful growth in business. The store is becoming one of the leading shopping centers of the city. The firm carries a good quality of merchandise at popular prices and the people are learning they can be depended upon for fair dealings.

SEWER EXTENSIONS SERVE THIRTY BLOCKS IN NORTH COLORADO

Lines To Run From Tenth To Fifteenth And East To Austin Street

The city sewer lines will be extended to serve about 30 additional blocks in North Colorado, according to City Manager L. A. Costin, who says City Engineer Frank DuBoise is making surveys to determine just how the extensions will be laid.

Extensions contemplated are to the City Hall hospital on the alley between Ele and Chestnut, north from Tenth to Fifteenth, east of Locust and between Pine and Hickory and Pine and Cedar, with extensions north of the Hutchinson school to include several blocks.

The extension of the city, with all other city conveniences already.

REV. ASHFORD TO CONDUCT REVIVAL

Advance preparations are being made in the way of publicity and early organization for the meeting which Rev. W. C. Ashford, pastor of the First Baptist church, is to conduct in Sweetwater, beginning April 1 and lasting until April 14.

The song leader for the meeting has not yet been determined, according to Rev. Mr. Ashford. The revival is to be for the First Baptist church in Sweetwater.

COLORADO SCHOOL BEGINS PREPARING FOR MAY FESTIVAL

Nearby Schools Invited To Send Princesses; Queen To Be Chosen

Elaborate preparations are to get under way in earnest in a few days for Colorado's first real May Fete, which is to take place on Cantrill Field at Colorado High School on the night of May 10, and to which Sweetwater, Roscoe, Lorraine, Snyder, Big Spring, Westbrook, Midland and Odessa have been invited to send princesses and escorts to join the court of the May Queen, who is to be chosen by vote from the junior or senior class of the high school. All schools of the county are invited to take some part in the program, and every class in the Colorado schools will have some part in the program.

Dances are to be given by the lower grades, and these will probably include a May-pole dance. The Choral Club of the school, in costume, will furnish part of the entertainment of the Queen's court, and the school orchestra is to furnish music.

The following committees have been appointed to take charge of the Fete: Miss Irene Henderson, director general; Miss Ruth Hightower, music; Mrs. David Russell, Mrs. Floyd Quinney, Mrs. David Wright, dances; Clyde Bennett, grounds and construction; K. L. Carter, Miss Anna Cummings, J. W. Treat, decorations; Miss Mary Davies, costumes; C. A. Williams, queen's contest; Supt. Ben S. Peek, publicity.

Following are the names of all junior and senior girls, from whose ranks will be chosen the queen:

Seniors—Lucile Ashford, Mary Belle Brennan, Ruby Lee Bohannon, Lillian Bynum, Dezzie Carden, Ina Mae Cary, Josephine Chesney, Lenora Cook, Alice Cooper, Irene Dorn, Kathryn Gage, Floy Galey, Macey Galey, Jewell Geiger, Louise Gann, Thelma Harrison, Mary Henderson, Hettie Adelle Hutchinson, Irma Mae Jarman, Marie Johnson, Beola Kirby, Corine Lupton, Margaret Mann, Katherine Price, Lois Reese, Gertrude Sailors, Edna Webb, Nellie Smith, Virginia Webb, Lucile Rose, Mary Louise Campbell, Mary Lee Weaver, Ava Bea King, Margaret McKorkle.

V. Moates, Clifford Morrow, Evelyn Moseley, Jennie Fae O'Neal, Edith Phillips, Juliette Phillips, Fayrel Plaster, Lois Pond, Faye Shelton, Juliana Smith, Alice Spalding, Iris Tunnell, Nellie Watson, Mabel Whitaker, Fanny Faye Womack, Lois Montgomery.

4-H Club Baby Bees Be Shown Here April 6th

Baby bees being fed by 4-H club members will be exhibited at the Price and Whipkey lot in front of the City Hall on Saturday, April 6, from 10 to 3 p. m. At three o'clock the calves will be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

This is the first time baby beef calves have been fed here in a number of years and much interest is being shown in these demonstrations. Only four calves are being fed this year but with net profits ranging from $18 to $24 per head to date, indications are that a larger number will be fed next year.

MRS. HARRY LANDERS, JR. ATTENDS NEPHEW FUNERAL

Mrs. Harry Landers, Jr., of Colorado, attended the funeral services of her young nephew, Arthur Dillard Hamblett, in Big Spring, Saturday. The infant was the son of Mrs. Landers' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hamblett. It died in a Big Spring hospital Friday from pneumonia.

FARMERS TO TRY BALANCED RATION FOR DAIRY COWS

SUCCESS WITH RATION IN PIG FEED INTERESTS DAIRYMEN

Balanced rations for pigs having proven so successful, demonstrations of the value of a balanced ration for dairy cows will be conducted by Leslie Hamilton and R. M. Jones in co-operation with the county agent.

In each case the cows will be continued on the present ration for several days and the milk weighed in order to get the average production per day. Then the ration will be slowly changed and in about two weeks the milk will be weighed again. The cows to be tested have been giving milk for several months, so any increase in milk will be due to the balanced ration.

GENERAL DISCUSSION OF LOCAL PROBLEMS FOR LUNCHEON CLUB

W. L. Doss To Preside At Next Meeting; Quartet To Sing

Music by a mixed quartet composed of Sam Scott, Percy Felts and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams, with general round table discussion of local problems will be the principal program for the next meeting of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club at the Colorado Hotel Tuesday noon.

W. L. Doss will preside and members of the school board and executive board of the Chamber of Commerce will be invited to attend, J. H. Greene said today.

Complete program is as follows: Presiding Officer—W. L. Doss, Sr. Invocation—Rev. W. C. Ashford. Music by Mitchell County Mixed Quartet—Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams, Percy Felts and Sam Scott. Miss Ruthie Williams at the piano. Report of Junior College bill, by Wed Reid. Round Table discussion. Those who wish to attend should make reservations with J. H. Greene.

STUDENTS APPLY FOR NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE MEMBERSHIP

Members Debating Teams And Other Public Speakers Are Eligible

Application has been made by members of debating teams of Colorado High School and other public speakers of the school for membership in the National Forensic League as a result of the excellent record which they have made during this year. This League is a national organization that promotes public speaking of all kinds, and membership in it is determined by the number of victories the individuals have won in public speaking contests.

Those in Colorado High eligible for membership in the League are Hoyt May, John Shurtliff, Lenora Cook, Beola Kirby, Juliette Phillips, and Louis Levinson. The first four named make up the boys and girls debating teams of the school, which, having been victorious in the County Interscholastic League meet here last week-end, are to represent the county in the district meeting in Abilene.

These teams have taken part in 19 debates during this year, and of this number have won twelve, lost four, and no decision was made in the remaining three. They have met such teams as Roscoe, Lamesa, Snyder, Sweetwater, San Angelo, and Post.

COMMUNITY BIBLE CLASS AT CONAWAY

Beginning Wednesday night, April 3, there will be a community Bible class at Conaway school house. This class is for the benefit of the community at large. The subject for study in this series of class meetings will be "The Life of Christ." The class will be conducted by Ted Norton. Everyone is invited to attend and study together.

Society and Clubs

MRS. J. G. MERRITT, EDITOR PHONE 144

Hesperian Club

Mrs. R. J. Wallace very delightfully entertained the Hesperian Club. The reception rooms were fragrant with many vases and bowls of yellow roses. The year book committee reported Mrs. Teas added in place of Mrs. D. M. Merritt, and their work was progressing.

Several letters regarding candidates for district and State offices were read.

Mrs. Homsley led the lesson on American Art. Mrs. Millwee took Mrs. W. L. Doss, Sr.'s, place in showing the reproductions of paintings by artists studied, and she made the lesson a most interesting one.

After the questions, the club was treated to a parliamentary drill, the first of the year.

The hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon, composed of cream-oysters in ramekins, molded salad, peas and potatoes, hot rolls and coffee, followed by ice cream, white cake with yellow icing and flower mints.

The meeting this week is with Mrs. Lee.

Luncheon Club

The Luncheon Club met Thursday with Mrs. R. J. Wallace, who had a real Easter party. The house was decorated in yellow roses, with Easter bunnies peeping out of corners. There were three tables of players. Mrs. Sadler and Mrs. Campbell were guests.

From the beautifully appointed tables, a two-course luncheon, composed of city chicken, paradise salad, stuffed potatoes, rolls and coffee, followed by ice cream in the shape of lilies, with white cake and flower mints.

The next meeting is with Mrs. Burrus.

1921 Club Meeting

The 1921 Club had no meeting Friday because of the county track meet, and other school events.

Drama Club

The Drama Club met Wednesday with Mrs. Walter Campbell. Her guests were Miss Mary Davies and Mrs. Thomas R. Smith.

Mrs. Bill Simpson read a very clever play, "Wings Over Europe." This is a very unusual play, the entire cast being men.

The hostess served refreshments, which indicated the near approach of Easter. Mrs. Simpson is the next hostess.

Four Ace April Fool Party

The Four Ace club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Cagle, with the husbands of the members as guests in addition to these she had Mr. and Mrs. Handle and Mr. and Mrs. Sadler.

The party was held in the basement, which had been decorated in Christmas greens and Easter flowers with St. Patrick greens and Fourth of July hunting intermingled.

The tallies and score were Easter favors. Instructions were given for the playing of each bridge hand, which caused much merriment and the performance of many stunts. This April Fool party was one of the gayest and most enjoyable the club has ever held.

At the refreshment hour beautiful ice cream butterfies and cake were served. The next meeting is with Mrs. James Griffin.

Grade P. T. A.

The Grade P. T. A. met Tuesday in the old high school auditorium, with an attendance that was greater than any during the year. The invocation was offered by Rev. A. E. Ewell. Miss Hightower's classes in the first, second, third and fourth grades gave the program. This was a splendidly prepared and presented song and dance number. A total of 439 students took part in it.

The president, Mrs. Walter King, presided. Miss Crosthwaite acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Stewart Cooper. Bro. Harvey led in prayer before the business was begun. The teachers reported much help and pleasure from the books that had been given by the P. T. A.

This was time for election of officers and the following were placed in office to assume their duties in September: President, Mrs. R. D. Lovejoy; first vice president, Mrs. L. C. McCloud; second vice president, Mrs. John Sorrells; recording secretary, Mrs. J. D. Harvey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. C. Melton; treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Hart; delegate to the District P. T. A. meeting to be held in Sweetwater April 9-10 are newly elected officers. The president urged each of them to attend.

The next meeting will be held the fourth Tuesday in April.

Honoring Mrs. Turner

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Lee Jones entertained with a pretty Easter party in honor of Mrs. Edgar Turner of Fort Worth. She had the tables of bridge and two of 42. The house was gay with spring blossoms. The tallies and score pads savored of Easter and each guest was given a tiny Easter basket filled with candy eggs.

At the conclusion of the very enjoyable games, each table was centered with an Easter rabbit, and a lovely salad plate served. The bunnies were cut for and presented as table prizes. The honoree was given a beautiful luncheon cloth.

Self Culture Club

The Self Culture club met Friday with Mrs. Herman Mahon, with a lesson on Great Painters. Mrs. Gordon gave a paper on Michael Angelo and Mrs. Gary and Mrs. J. B. Pritchett discussed Madonnas.

Plans were made for entertaining Mrs. Guitler's Melody Way pupils and the school orchestra at the home of Mrs. John Brown, Friday.

The hostess served sandwiches, punch and cake at the social hour.

Christian Aid

The Christian Aid met Monday in the church, with Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Thomas as hostesses. Mrs. Lee led the devotional. Plans were made for the Easter week of prayer, services being held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at the church.

The Easter baskets that had been made by the Aid were placed on sale at Grissom's and the Elaine Shoppe, a number having been sold before they were taken down-town.

At the social hour home-made cake and coffee were served. The meeting next week is the Missionary Society.

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare club met Friday with Mrs. John Doss. Mrs. Jerold Riordan led the lesson on "Comedy of Errors." Mrs. Doss told of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Mrs. Greene told of the Federal Trade Commission, the subjects being taken from the "American Government" studies.

Mrs. Oscar Price was an enjoyed visitor. At the social hour the hostess served an ice course.

There will be no meeting this week because this is Good Friday, but the club will meet next time with Mrs. Max Thomas.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Bible Study
The women of the Presbyterian church met Monday in the church and had their regular monthly Bible class. Miss Nell Riordan led the lesson on the eleventh chapter of Luke. It was voted to continue Luke throughout the year.

Next Monday will be the inspirational meeting, at which time the new officers for the year will take charge.

D. A. R. Meeting

Mrs. Harry Rathbun entertained the monthly meeting of the D. A. R. chapter Saturday afternoon. Mrs. J. T. Johnson, chapter regent, presided and Mrs. O. Lambeth acted as secretary.

It was voted to pay the ten cents per capita asked for immigrants. A box of embroidered silks and other needle work is to be sent to Ellis Island to be used by the women there. Mrs. Peek gave a very interesting paper on the responsibility of Colonial mothers, which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Hubbard gave a sketch of Deborah Samsen of Plymouth, who masqueraded as a man during the entire time of the Revolution. She was in many battles, undergoing all sorts of hardships, yet no one ever knew she was a woman.

At the social hour the hostess served a salad plate with coffee, which was most appetizing. This was followed by chocolate pudding and whipped cream. The next meeting is with Mrs. McCleary.

Methodist Missionary Society

The Methodist Missionary Society met Monday in business session at the home of Mrs. D. N. Arnett. The devotion, "Water in a Broken Cup" was led by Mrs. Van King. This was the story of the Samaritan woman, John 4:1-26. Mrs. Boyd Dozier gave a very interesting talk on "Mothers and Daughters," the friendships and confidences that should exist between them.

The president reported the Young People had reorganized and would have another meeting Wednesday. Splendid reports were given from Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Connell on the Juniors and Primaries. They have over $16 to send for dues and pledge this quarter. Mrs. Dozier gave a good Social Service report, the committee having done some real constructive work.

The chairman of Home Department reported a number of her "Families" at work and $86 turned in at last meeting on the church fund.

The delegate to annual conference, Mrs. W. L. Doss, Sr., and the Conference superintendent of Social Service, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, leave on Monday for Plainview, for a three-days' meeting.

Mrs. Merritt told some things about the council meeting in Washington. The missionaries who were present, the many calls from both the home and foreign fields, the wonderful music, the great talk on Place, and the noon Bible studies by Dr. Russell on the Beatitudes. She told a little of the beauties and places of interest in the capital city, and how Texas got the next Council. The meeting then closed with prayer.

Methodist Primaries Meet

Saturday afternoon the second division of the Junior Epworth organization—the Primary division—met in the church basement, with Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Connell as sponsors. There were 21 present. Arthur Connell, the president, conducted the devotional. Frances Elliott, secretary, read the minutes and called the roll. $2.50 was paid in as dues.

Mrs. Connell told the story of Betty and Bobby in Mexico. After the business, games were played and punch and cake served.

The Juniors received their gold seal for last year's work. They are sending $20 dues and pledge this quarter and are the leading organization in the Sweetwater district, having carried on every department of work.

Here's Feed for Chicks!

WALK in and let's talk over what to give your chicks to keep them alive and growing. Let us show you a way to raise your chicks to early maturity at a lower cost per chick.

Chicks need cod-liver oil to protect them against leg weakness. They need butter-milk, alfalfa leaf meal, granulated meat, bone meal, wheat germ and other ingredients to make bone, flesh and feathers.

We have all of these ingredients carefully chosen, tested, balanced, uniformly mixed and ready to feed. Purina Chick Startena is the name of the feed. You'll know it by the checkerboard on the bag. The new feeding discoveries that come to you in this year's Startena will give 15 to 20 per cent greater growth than ever before. More than 2,500 hatcheries say, "Feed Startena." So do we. How many bags do you need?

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Baptist Circles

Circle One met with Mrs. Bowen and had a very interesting and informational lesson. They will meet next with Mrs. Lambeth, with Mrs. Lasky as leader.

Circle Two had ten present. The leader, Mrs. Smoot, being sick. Mrs. J. T. Johnson conducted the lesson in Royal Service. They meet next time in the T. E. L. classroom at church.

Circle Three met with Mrs. G. W. Smith, with Mrs. Gustine leading the lesson in Numbers, which proved very interesting. They meet next with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Gary will have the lesson.

Circle Four met with Miss Violet Moeser in the church, with eleven present. They studied, "Christ of the Indian Road," having a very delightful lesson conducted by Mrs. Anna Simon. They are to meet in the church during the next few months.

Next Monday is the regular business meeting of the Woman's Missionary society, and the officers would like each member to be present to hear the splendid reports of all departments of the work and plan for further advances. This meeting will be held in the church parlors.

Easter Party

A beautiful Easter party was given Tuesday by Mrs. Fred Brown and Mrs. Frank Kelley. The Brown home was gay with spring blossoms, the white of plum and pear blossoms mingling with the pink of peach branches. The tables and score pads were Easter ladies with Easter hat boxes. Each player was given a tiny hat box filled with Easter candies. There were 12 tables of 42 and bridge players.

At the conclusion of the very delightful games, each table was covered with cloths in pastel shades centered with violets in silver vases. The napkins were adorned with Easter bunnies and baskets of vari-colored eggs. Pink and white ice cream with squares of yellow cake decorated with purple violets was served.

Mrs. J. B. Mills won high score in bridge and Mrs. Otto Jones high in 42. Each were presented with a beautiful pot of blooming begonias. The violets were cut for as table prizes.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Virgie Sandford of Galveston, and Mrs. Turner, sister of Mrs. Kelly, of Fort Worth.

This was one of the most beautiful and colorful of the many Easter parties given during the last few weeks.

FREAKS OF NATURE

High school students of Colorado will not believe this, but it is a fact attested to by competent men: Bunder Singh of India has a more wonderful memory than any high school student ever heard of. He does not know a word of English, yet he repeated 50 lines of "Paradise Lost" that was read to him, and he did not make a single mistake. This reminds one of "Blind Tom," the crazy negro musician who astounded the world with his musical mimicry. The best musicians would play the most difficult overtures for him and purposely make a mistake during the rendition. Blind Tom would sit down at the piano and play the entire overture with the same interpretation as the performer before him and make the same mistake. Then the negro would rise and assist the audience in cheering by clapping his own hands.

PART OF PINK BOLLWORM BAN IN WEST IS LIFTED

Word has been received in Colorado that Governor Moody has released Brewster county and a portion of Dawson county from the pink bollworm restrictions ordered last April. These counties were placed in the non-cotton zone, and as there were no worms found there this year, they have been released from the stringent quarantine. Inasmuch as no worms have been reported from other restricted counties, it is believed the ban will shortly be lifted on them all.

RURAL TRUSTEES TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

A meeting of the Mitchell County Rural Trustees has been called for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the district courtroom, according to Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent.

LOCAL JUNIOR COLLEGE BILL DIED ON SENATE CALENDAR, REID SAYS

Would Allow Mitchell Co. Citizenship Vote On Establishment

The Mitchell County Junior college bill, drawn by local citizens interested in education, approved by a local committee and sponsored by Ben S. Peek, was passed by the House during the last few days of the regular session, but died on the Senate calendar, according to Wed Reid, representative, who introduced the bill in the House.

A draft of the bill was given Reid here about March 1, after a committee of local citizens met at the Chamber of Commerce and approved the plan as outlined by Ben S. Peek. The bill was re-written to incorporate changes suggested by the attorney general's office, and was adopted by the House during the last few days of the session, but did not have time to be considered in the Senate because of the mass of bills ahead of it on the calendar.

The bill provided that citizens of Mitchell county might vote on a proposal to establish a junior college in the county.

A general bill was passed authorizing districts or counties with a property valuation of $12,000,000 or more to establish junior colleges upon vote of the people.

MRS. G. W. HUBBARD, JR. ARRIVES FROM MEXICO

Mrs. G. W. Hubbard, Jr., daughter-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Hubbard of Colorado, was their guest a few days this week. Mrs. Hubbard recently fled Tampico, Mexico, where her husband is employed, because of the revolution.

Mr. Hubbard is still in Mexico and

Home Economics Department Is Reported Good

Praise was given the Home Economics department of Colorado High School Monday, when Miss Bernice Mallory of the State Department of Education was a visitor in the school. Miss Mallory reported everything in this young department of the school in good order. Miss Mary Davies is head of the department, and it was only begun in the school last year.

Easter Services To Mark Season In Churches of City

Special services in all churches of the city will be the main observance of Easter in Colorado. Each pastor in the town plans to preach a Easter sermon, and most of the churches have arranged for musical numbers in keeping with the season.

Children of the town will keep the season in the age-old way, with Easter eggs hidden and waiting to be found in every conceivable place. A number of small Easter Egg hunts are to be given Saturday and Sunday.

LORAINE IS TO HAVE ANOTHER OIL TEST

A contract was signed Monday of this week between F. B. Spence, said to be representing a group of large oil and gas companies, and a number of landholders of Lorraine, for the plans to remain there until forced to leave. Mrs. Hubbard reports that they receive the Record regularly, and praisies it as a link with her home State.

ginning of an oil test near Lorraine within 30 days from date. A block of 4,600 acres has been grouped, all of it lying north and northeast of Lorraine, the south boundary line being the T. & P. tracks, and extending north to about the Lone Star schoolhouse. J. C. Hall, president of the First State Bank, is holding the leases in escrow, with a written contract that if the well has not been spudded in with a National Rig within 30 days that the leases will revert to the owners of the land. Competent drilling contractors have taken over the drilling contracts, and stated Monday that if roads were passable that they expected to have a rig on the ground by the end of the week.—Lorraine Leader.

SOUTHWEST DAIRY PRODUCTS COMPANY BUYS BANNER PLANT

Be Known As Snow White Creamery; Operated In Connections Others

The Colorado plant of the Banner Ice Cream Co. has been sold to the Snow White Creameries, subsidiary of the Southwest Dairy Products Co. of Dallas, according to L. O. Dillingham of Odessa, owner of the Banner company. The change in management took effect Saturday.

The deal involving the Colorado plant also included the Banner plant at Midland. The Snow White Creamery now owns and operates at Weatherford, Stamford, Sweetwater, San Angelo and Big Spring, in addition to the plants at Midland and Colorado just acquired from the Banner company.

N. H. White, Jr., who has been manager of the Banner plant here since it opened last year, will continue to manage the plant for the Snow White company, it is stated. Plans of the new owners are to increase the service of the plant by affording a good market for cream and other dairy products.

FINALS IN VOLLEY BALL AND TENNIS TO BE FRIDAY

Finals in girls' volley ball and senior boys' tennis, both doubles and singles, will be played in Colorado Friday, if the weather is favorable, according to Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent. These events were at first postponed from Saturday, when other athletic events of the County Interscholastic League meet were held, until Wednesday, but were again postponed because of the inclement weather.

Ed Jones, Sr., has been among those sick this week.

District Wins Prize Through Mrs. Garrett

Colorado Woman Wins Conference Banner in Junior Work

Mrs. W. H. Garrett, who has charge of Junior work in the Sweetwater district of the Methodist conference has been notified that she won the banner for the most efficient work. This will be presented at the Annual Conference, which meets next week in Plainview.

Colorado leads the district with their Junior Church, their well organized Primary and Baby divisions, and their gold seal has already been received.

These groups have helped with the Mission church by giving clothes and gifts for the Christmas tree, by helping to clean up the church yard. They are now working on a fund for the new church, at the same time serving in any needed capacity in the Junior church.

N. A. GRACE, FORMER COLORADO BOY, MAKING GOOD IN DALLAS JOB

N. A. Grace, former Colorado boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Grace of Colorado, is another son of the west who is making good in the big city. He is now manager of one of the best stores of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. in Dallas, located on Columbus avenue.

Young Grace formerly worked for the Colorado Spot Cash grocery and the Star Cash grocery here, and has many friends here who will be glad to know of his success and prosperity in Dallas.

The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. owns several hundred stores in Texas, many of which are in Dallas, and owns and operates about 3,000 stores in the United States.

MANAGERS REQUEST PATRONS TO OFFER FRANK CRITICISM

Management of the Palace Theatre announce this week a trial talking picture program at the theatre next Monday and Tuesday, when "The Younger Generation," starring Ricardo Cortez and others, will be shown.

Emphasis is placed by Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dixon, managers, on the fact that this picture is strictly a try-out feature. Although it is a good picture, it is not a special one and is not all talkie, but it will serve the purpose of testing the "Cinevox" talking machine and the acoustics of the theatre. The managers request that citizens attend this showing and give their criticism for or against the innovation frankly. There will be no increase in prices.

If the machine proves satisfactory, a big formal opening will be held later, at which a feature talking picture will be shown.

March Rainfall Unusually Heavy Keathley Reports

Rainfall for the month of March this year has been unusually heavy, according to records kept by Ernest Keathley, Federal weather observer, who reports a total of 3.05 inches during March up to Thursday morning. With one exception, this is the heaviest rainfall here in March since 1905. The one exception was for 1919 when a total of 4.48 inches of rainfall was registered here in March. The 1905 precipitation was heaviest ever recorded in Mitchell county during the month of March when 5.05 inches fell. In 1926 the March rainfall was 2.69 inches.

The largest crop ever marketed in Mitchell county was produced in 1919, when the 4.48 inches of rain fell. The crop in 1926, when only 2.69 inches fell in March, was also a good one. With these past years as a guide, it is pretty safe to predict a bumper crop for Mitchell county this year with 3.05 inches of moisture already in the ground for March.

BAPTIST TEACHERS' MEETING GOOD IN SPITE OF THE RAIN

In spite of the inclement weather, an excellent attendance was registered for the teachers' meeting at the First Baptist church on Wednesday evening. A delicious luncheon was served to 36 by the Philathea Bible class of the Intermediate department.

In the matter of attendance, the Young Men's Baraca class led in the number present, having 13 there. They also made the highest percentage on class work, a grade of 90. The Alathean class was next with 68. The entire organization made 194 visits; 87 phone calls, with a number of letters and cards sent out. There were 83 present for the meeting.

The young men's Baraca class will serve luncheon next week.

FARMERS MEET SATURDAY TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR ANOTHER BULL CIRCLE

A meeting to discuss purchase of registered Jersey bulls will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, according to County Agent Foster. L. S. Coles and other farmers at Valley View have expressed a desire to purchase a registered bull with production records so it is thought that two or three other bulls with good records can be purchased and a bull circle organized. Prices of these bulls will be from $150 to $300, depending on the records and the age.

Several other farmers want to purchase registered Jersey heifers and this matter will also be discussed at the meeting.

GRANDDAUGHTERS OF ARNETTS WIN PRIZES

First prize was won at the South Plains Music Festival held last week in Lubbock by little Miss Ophelia Mae Beall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beall and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Arnett of Colorado.

Entrants in the contest were from 5 to 19 years of age. Ophelia Mae won first prize in ensemble playing of one group and second prize in another.

Little Nell Arnett Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Johnson, and another granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnett, also won a prize in ensemble playing. These tots have been studying music for the past two years.

RURAL TRUSTEES TO BE ELECTED APRIL 6

Election of rural trustees over the county is to take place on April 6, according to Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent. From one to two are to be elected in each rural school district.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Oh, Boy, ain't it a grand and glorious feelin'? When we hear the kale seed drop in the till we get optimistic. Our subscribers are coming in and beggin' us not to cut their heads off, and that tickles us. Blood always did make us sick.

Our old friend, G. N. Solomon of Cuthbert, inventor, farmer and land owner who has a mother pool of oil under his Cuthbert ranch, drops in and gives us a blue check that is a good one and we sure get happy. Not that his blue checks are not always good, but because we know when he signs on the dotted line, we have got the cash in hand.

Dewey Tidwell, one of the best drug clerks in the city, and one of our good friends, comes in and puts down the money to move up his bill. We thank him. If we knew as much about aviation as he does, we would write a book on the subject, but we haven't got much hankerin' to learn that profession now.

W. A. Wilson of Cooper, our old-time black-and friend, dropped in yesterday and plunked down two bucks for the paper. He is a land owner in this county and has the smell of oil when he comes in now. Even his blue check book looked greasy like oil royalty was pushing his bank balance up, and the City bank here keeps it for him, too.

Lovie Dorn, since he got to be a gas well driller, has moved back to Colorado from Big Spring and has his paper changed.

P. G. Fuller of Cuthbert is another good citizen who pays up to save his head and gets our eternal gratitude.

Down at Hyman, Texas, they are having so much oil boom that we look for a daily paper there soon, but J. T. Dawson of that place pays up for another year on the Record and says let 'er come on. He wants the county news and oil news, too. Many other Hyman citizens read this paper and we think lots of them.

J. L. Meadow of Lorraine, another fine east-sider, who wants the county news and pays up to get it. When better papers are printed we will print them and Meadow will get them, too.

Mrs. R. R. Smothers of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma; G. C. Smith of Frost, Texas, are new ones this week and C. D. Kemp of McCauley renew, all of which have our thanks.

Mrs. M. E. Stiles of Ladonia writes to extend her subscription date for which we thank her. She has been reading this paper several years. John Klos of Chicago, a resident of the Windy City who has read this paper for several years, writes: "The service of the Colorado Record has been 100 per cent the past year, and hope it will continue so in the future." He encloses the long green and we promise we will try to increase the service of this paper.

N. A. Grace of Dallas, a Colorado boy who is making plenty of money in that city, gets the right idea by subscribing for this paper. Thank, boy; keep it up. We are for you and believe you will continue to climb.

LETTER ABOUT RED CROSS RELIEF FUND RECEIVED

The following letter concerning contributions to Red Cross funds for recent flood disasters has been received by J. H. Greene, local Red Cross chairman, from Wm. M. Baxter, Jr., assistant to the vice-chairman:

"Distress caused by floods, particularly in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida, is receiving general attention through the press. The Red Cross will be responsible for continuing relief operations.

"A substantial relief fund will be required to assist the population made homeless. A direct appeal for contributions to the relief fund has been made by the National organization to chapters in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida. No general appeal to chapters in other states is contemplated but contributions offered should be received and transmitted to this office.

"In the Midwestern Area local flood conditions have been reported during the last ten days from Illinois, Wyoming, Iowa, Missouri and Arkansas. Where serious distress exists, it is being met by the local chapters with assistance from the National organization, in some instances through provision of emergency shelter, in four instances with trained personnel, and in one instance with an emergency appropriation from National funds. It is assumed at present that relief funds available locally will, for the most part, be sufficient to supply known needs."

MRS. E. W. HINSLEY

Mrs. Vera Baltimore Hinsley was born in Delta county, April 25, 1901. She was married to E. W. Hinsley on July 10, 1922. She had been a Christian and member of the Baptist church for about seven years. She departed this life March 25, 1929. She leaves a husband and two small children. Hers was a beautiful Christian character; she graced their

COMEDY-DRAMA BE PRESENTED FRIDAY BY BAPTIST Y. P.

"TAKE MY ADVICE" TITLE OF PLAY GIVEN AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

A three-act comedy-drama entitled "Take My Advice," to be staged by the young people of the First Baptist church Friday night, April 2, at the high school auditorium under direction of Mrs. Charles Reams Earnest with Mrs. David Wright as leading lady and Pat Whitaker as leading man, promises to be one of the best entertainments ever staged here. Other members of the cast are: A. R. McHaney, Jimmie Logan, Mrs. J. W. Chase, John Pond, A. C. Whitaker. Practically the same group that staged "The Path Across the Hill," and the "Old Fashioned Mother," will be in the cast for this play.

Musical specialties will be given between acts. Admission will be 35c and 25c.

The complete cast is as follows:

John Pond as Bob Mannion, young news editor.

Jimmie Logan as Jimmie Sanson, enthusiastic waker of towns.

A. R. McHaney as Jud Sention, lazy but smart.

A. C. Whitaker as John Wargrin, the power of the town.

Mrs. David Wright as Peggy, new arrival and a mystery.

Miss Mary Louise Campbell as Vergie Mannion, Bob's sister and assistant.

Miss Helen Hamer as Mrs. Nelson Bobbs, chairman of the Uplift Society.

Mrs. J. W. Chase as Marcia Wargrin, self important daughter of Jno. Wargrin.

KUYKENDALL CAPTURES AN ESCAPED CONVICT SUNDAY

Deputy Sheriff Allen Kuykendall, upon information secured through the office here, went to Sweetwater Sunday night and captured Mator Ramoz, convict who escaped from the Blue Ridge prison farm about a year ago.

Ramoz was sent up from Pecos about two years ago on a charge of hijacking and given 12 years in the pen. He was carried to Abilene on Tuesday and turned over to Bud Russell, penitentiary transfer agent.

Kuykendall says Ramoz has been a general bad man in West Texas for several years and had been up before the county court here on several minor charges.

Cut Planting Costs This Spring

JOHN DEERE NO. 660 TWO-ROW LISTER

Do your listing two-rows at a time this Spring! This John-Deere Two-Row Lister will do the work of two one-row listers, and save you the cost of one man and two horses.

On top of this saving you'll get the accurate planting and good work for which John Deere listers are noted. Accurate planting is assured by the famous "999" drop for corn and the John Deere saw-tooth tyre pick-up wheel for cotton. Good work is assured because the No. 660 is equipped with genuine John Deere bottoms that scour and wear well. Seed plates can be furnished for a great variety of seeds.

You can use the No. 660 with horses or tractor. Row-spacing is quickly adjusted from 36 to 38, 40 or 42 inches.

All adjustments easily made from seat. Depth of covering and depth of listing controlled by levers.

LIONS ENTERTAINED BY CHORAL CLUB AT FRIDAY LUNCHEON

BOB STUBBLEFIELD ELECTED NEW MEMBER; SEVERAL VISITORS

The Colorado Choral club, under direction of Prof. Thomas Dawes, entertained the Colorado Lions club with two beautiful numbers at the luncheon at the Colorado Hotel Friday noon. Mrs. Arlie Martin was at the piano and Prof. Dawes directed.

The Lions club members appreciated this visit and splendid vocal music from the ladies, evidenced by rounds of applause demanding encores.

Several visitors were present, among them being Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent; Mrs. Kuykendall, assistant county superintendent, and Miss Abbie Sevier, county home agent. Miss McGill spoke, calling attention to the county interscholastic meeting Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Kuykendall said she was the working member of the office force and left the speaking to Miss McGill.

Miss Sevier thanked the club for the privilege of attending.

Prof. J. W. Cobb, of the high school, spoke of debating and told of the success of Colorado's debating team won 14 of them, Prof. Cobb team won 14 of them, Prof. Cobb said.

Dave Craft, scout, executive, exhibited an Eagle Scout badge that is to be presented to Russell Soper. This is the highest honor that can be presented by the Boy Scout organization, and young Soper is the first to receive such a badge from the local troop.

J. W. McLaren of Abilene was also a guest.

Bob Stubblefield, local manager for the Acorn Stores, was elected to membership in the club and will be initiated next Friday.

DORN TAILOR SHOP ROBBERY FRUSTRATED BY POLICEMAN KEY

An attempt to rob the Huron Dorn tailor shop Wednesday night failed when Homer Key, night policeman, found a back window open and entered the building and the would-be robber ran out the front door and escaped across the street, after Key had fired three shots at the fleeing man.

Huron Dorn said Thursday morning that nothing was missing so far as he could tell. Key was unable to ascertain whether the intruder was a white man, negro or Mexican.

Scout Officials To Banquet Here On Friday Night

Scout officials from all parts of Buffalo Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, are to meet in Colorado Friday night for their annual banquet and business meeting at the Colorado Hotel.

This meeting was scheduled to be held in Sweetwater over a month ago, but was postponed because of the illness of the head of the council, Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Colorado.

Officers will be elected for the coming year at the banquet, and other business matters of the council will be taken up, according to F. D. Craft of Sweetwater, Scout executive for the council.

GROUND MAIZE IS PROVEN SUPERIOR IN FEEDING PIGS

VALLEY VIEW BOY'S PIG GOES TO 300 POUNDS IN FIVE MONTHS ON FEED

Threshed ground maize is proving to be far superior to ground head maize for feeding pigs, judging by the record of Garvie Crachad of Valley View who is feeding a pig in the 4-H Club pig feeding contest. The pig is being fed threshed ground maize, pig feed and skim milk and at 5 months and one week old weighs over 300 pounds. The pig is a registered Big Bone Poland China, which weighed only 41 pounds when put on feed at two months of age. The pig was purchased from Lee Cole of Valley View, who says the pig is from registered stock. "It doesn't cost us any more to feed a full-blood one than it does a scrub, so we have been keeping the pure-bred pigs for a number of years," Mr. Cole said. "It takes both good breeding and a proper feeding to make a hog," Garvie says.

Yield Doubled By Terracing Conoway Says

Terracing a fifteen-acre field last year almost doubled the yield, according to J. A. Conoway of the Conoway community, who says the piece of land "never had made a respectable crop" since it was put in cultivation. Last year, which was the first year it was terraced, it produced 238 bales of cotton and 1200 pounds of bollies, which was almost double the yield on similar land in that community.

NON-SECTARIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS FORMED

Announcement is made of the formation of a Non-Sectarian Bible study class for both men and women to meet at the Palace theatre every Sunday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock, beginning Easter Sunday morning, with J. E. Chase in charge of the program. It is planned to study the Bible topically, rather than follow the regular Uniform Lesson series. Several have already signified their decision to attend, and it is hoped that others not actively affiliated will avail themselves of the opportunity this service affords.

You are invited to visit the service and form your own estimate of the value and character of what is offered and then determine if your attendance shall continue.

EAST SIDE SINGING CONVENTION BE HELD AT BUFORD APRIL 7

The East Side singers will meet in all-day singing convention at Buford on Sunday, April 7, according to Wood Waiding, who in behalf of the officials of the east side extends a cordial invitation to everybody to be present. Dinner will be eaten on the ground and everybody is urged to bring a basket lunch. Singing classes and singers from every community are invited and visitors urged to attend, Waiding says.

TESTS DETERMINE VALUE COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS HERE

FARMERS COOPERATE WITH COUNTY AGENT IN EXPERIMENTS

Mitchell county farmers will know the value of commercial fertilizers when the demonstrations to be conducted by J. K. Mahon, H. B. Wilson, W. S. Walker and H. L. Baker in cooperation with the county agent are completed. These men have used commercial fertilizer in the east and believe that small amounts will prove profitable in this section.

Mr. Mahon will use two kinds of fertilizer—acid phosphate and cottonseed meal, which he said gave good results in Louisiana, and some of the 12-4-4 mixture. Check plots will be left to see the difference in the fertilized plots and unfertilized. Another interesting point in regard to this demonstration is that the "plant two skip one" method of planting will be used on this piece of cotton. Mr. Mahon tried this method several years ago and says it gave an increased yield.

H. B. Wilson will use small amounts on two acres of rich low land that produced two bales of cotton to the acre in 1927. He will use acid phosphate straight and some 12-4-4 mixture.

H. L. Baker and W. S. Walker of Longfellow will both use the 12-4-4 mixture. Both of these men are testing the value of barnyard manure on similar land, and the yields of these plots will be compared with the yields of the commercial fertilizer plots.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with deepest gratitude and appreciation that we thank our many friends and neighbors who so generously came to our assistance during the recent illness and death of our companion and daughter and sister. VALUE OF BALANCED RATION PROVEN BY PAYNE EXPERIMENTS

L. C. BURK, PRINCIPAL OF SCHOOL, SAYS GROUND MAIZE BEST FEED

Final weights of the pig feeding demonstration conducted by L. C. Burk, principal of the county school in cooperation with the county agent, show that a balanced ration will even make a badly stunted pig make fair gains.

In this test a 45-pound two-months old pig and a 25-pound stunted five-months-old pig were both fed a balanced ration of ground maize and tankage in a self-feeder for a period of 120 days. At the close of the test last week the good pig gained 202 pounds and weighed 247 pounds, while the stunted pig had gained 172 pounds and weighed 197 pounds.

Both animals had access to the same feed but the good pig gained 1.6 pounds per day while the other gained 1.4 pounds per day.

To make this gain the two pigs ate 100 pounds of tankage which cost $4.75, 855 pounds of ground maize worth $8.55 at $20 per ton, 225 pounds of thrashed ground maize costing $1.25, 111 gallons of skim milk at 2 cents a gallon or $2.22; making a total cost of $19.77. The two pigs made 374 pounds of gain, making the cost of a pound of gain 5.28 cents.

Cost of the good pig was $5 and the stunted pig $3. Total cost $27.77. Their value at 9½ cents per pound is $42.02, which leaves a net profit of $14.25 on the two pigs.

Mr. Burk says the pigs would have made a better gain had they fed thrashed ground maize through at the test instead of ground head maize. He fed the thrashed maize during the last part of the feeding period and says the pigs made a faster gain due to the fact that there was no bulky chaffy material in the thrashed ground maize.

CITY COMPLIMENTED FOR SUCCESS OF WEST TEXAS C. OF C. DRIVE

Less Than One Day Required To Complete Renewal Campaign

Colorado has been highly complimented by officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the success of the annual membership drive of that organization conducted here last week, according to J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce.

E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager, and L. B. Campbell, district manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, were here Thursday and with the cooperation of local business men the campaign for renewal of memberships was completed in less than one day's time. These staff men of the organization say this was unusual for any city, and complimented Colorado highly.

"We have always considered Colorado one of the pillars of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Whitehead said. "We find Colorado business men unusually well informed upon the activities of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and they are well sold on the work of the organization. Almost without exception the memberships were renewed without urging on the part of the committee. It is a genuine pleasure to call on business men of the calibre of the Colorado membership. We have always greatly appreciated the support given the organization by Mitchell county and have done much important work the past year directly affecting Mitchell county. We can be depended upon to help Mitchell county and Colorado in every possible way," he concluded.

Mr. Campbell expressed appreciation for the assistance of J. H. Greene, secretary, and Milburn Doss, vice chairman of the membership committee of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. J. Ralph Lee, J. A. Sadler, W. W. Cagle, Joe Mills and Dr. P. C. Coleman assisted.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they naturally recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts or filthy legstraps are used.

I guarantee to hold the rupture and also the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75 per cent of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Do not waste your money on widely advertised mail order contraptions. You cannot fit yourself.

C. F. REDLICH, Rupture Appliance Expert, Home office, 535 Boston block, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

DRILLING ANOTHER SIMMS GASSER IN

The Simms Oil Company's No. 2 Ellwood, 660 feet north and 330 feet east of their No. 1, in Section 29, block 18, S. P. lands, is being drilled in this afternoon.

The well cemented 8 1/4 inch casing at 570 feet a few days ago and expects to bring in the second gasser this afternoon.

Justiceburg Well Makes 50 Barrels

The Boren No. 4 near Justiceburg in Garza county has settled down to production of about 50 barrels per day, according to report of the Post City Dispatch. The well is to be shot with the hope of increasing the production.

Boren No. 3 will also be shot. These wells are owned by the Emerald Oil Company. Oil men say a real oil field is being opened there by this company.

A new test in the Ellwood field south of Colorado to spud this week is the McGinley-Seigler Corporation's Ellwood No. 1 in the west half of section 36, block 17, Southern Pacific survey. This is to be a shallow test and will be drilled by a spudding machine. Lovie Dorn of Colorado has the contract to drill the test. This well is two miles west of the Simms Oil company's Ellwood No. 1, which blew in several days ago as a big gasser at about 620 feet depth.

The Simms well is now drilling at a depth of about 1,100 feet, having passed through another gas strata at around 900 feet. The well is said to be good for 15,000,000 cubic feet of sweet gas coming from the 623-foot level. At present this gas has been cased off and part of it is being used for drilling purposes.

Much excitement has prevailed following the discovery of this big gasser and many oil concerns have taken leases with contract to drill in that vicinity. Many of these deals are still in the incipency and location and information on the wells has not been made public, but enough facts have sifted out to indicate that a big drilling campaign on the Spade and H. S. ranches is being planned.

The Republic Production company contract for a deep test in section 20, block 17, Southern Pacific Railway survey in Mitchell county, provides that drilling shall start not later than May 29. We have been informed that actual drilling on this test will start in a very short time. This well is about three miles north-west of the Simms gasser and is on the H. S. ranch lands owned by Will and Bob Scott.

The McGinley-Seigler Corporation has leased two blocks from Harry Hyman, just west of the Republic block and will drill two 1,700 foot tests at once. One of these wells will be on survey 91, block 29, of Waco & Northwestern lands, in Mitchell county, and the other will be on a 40-acre tract in section 80, block 29, the same lands just over the line in Howard county. This latter test is near the old Deep Rock well, which picked up a small producing sand at a shallow depth but was abandoned. The test on section 91 is between the Ellwood-Simms gasser and the old Deep Rock well and on a direct line with the Chalk, Settles and Roberts pools in Howard county.

According to Harry Hyman, about five other tests in the vicinity of the Ellwood gas field are to be started within the next 90 days. Deals now pending which have not yet been announced indicate that at least five other new wells will start soon, Hyman said.

Indications are that the Ellwood field is to see the greatest development of any field in this section for the next few months. A large commercial gas field is predicted from the shallow sand struck by the Simms well. Since this gas production is secured at a depth of 620 feet, cost of drilling is comparatively nothing and therefore the field is destined to attract big play, local oil men say.

Most of the land in the vicinity of the present activity is owned by the Spade ranch interests headed by W. L. Ellwood, and by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman and the Scott heirs. The Spade ranch extends about ten miles north from the Simms gasser, and the H. S. Ranch lies directly west of the Simms well. Many blocks for drilling contracts have been sought by oil companies, and several wells are scheduled to begin operations soon, if present deals pending go through, it is said.

A six-section block has been secured by the West-Hyde company, and they have made location in the SW quarter of section 38, block 16, S. P. lands. This location is 4 1/2 miles northeast of the discovery well.

The Simms Oil company has also contracted to start a deep test on sections 32 and 33, block 18, S. P. lands, which they recently purchased. This test will be about four miles east of the discovery well, and will go down seeking heavy oil production. This location is said to be on well defined structure similar to the No. 1 locality. If this well proves up the contention that the gas strata is near a real oil pool, then a real gusher is expected in this well. At any rate it will be watched with intense interest.

PROSPECTIVE BAND DIRECTOR TO BE HERE THIS WEEK JONES SAYS

J. Lee Jones, chairman of the City Band commission, recently appointed by the city council to employ a band director, reports that many applications have been received by the committee.

LeRoy Hester of Mineola will probably be in Colorado Friday or Saturday to talk the matter over with the commission. Hester is recommended as a real band director and a high class gentleman, and the committee may employ him after his arrival.

U. S. IS OPTIMISTIC SALES HEAD FINDS

PONTIAC, Mich., March 28.—Completion of a 16,000 mile trip to America's leading merchandising centers has definitely settled in the mind of W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales of the Oakland Motor company, that the United States has embarked upon what bids fair to prove its year of greatest prosperity.

Particularly is this true of the automobile industry, generally accepted as the most sensitive barometer of business, of which Mr. Tracy said that it shows every promise of eclipsing any previous year by a sizeable margin.

On the road almost continuously for two months, Mr. Tracy visited 150 Oakland-Pontiac dealers in all parts of the country, in addition to nine district and three regional offices, touching at such representative trading areas as New York, Los Angeles, Kansas City, Seattle, Dallas, Chicago, Memphis, St. Louis, San Francisco, and other places. "I have never seen the morale of our dealers so high as at present," said Mr. Tracy. "In the entire country I found no complaints about business and I discovered nothing but optimism."

Small Son—Papa, what are cosmetics? Papa — Cosmetics, my son, are peach preserves.

Mrs. Glantz—My, what a charming baby! And how he does resemble your husband! Mrs. Sprans—Gracious, I hope not. We adopted him.

Mother—Oh, dear, you are letting the sawdust run out of your new doll. Mary—Oh, it's all right, mummie, I'm helping her to reduce so she'll be fashionable.

Our Trial Talking Picture Program

"The Younger Generation"

Starring Ricardo Cortez and others. This picture is not a big special and not all talking, only about half of it is talking but it is a good picture and this is only a trial program for our new Talking Machine, the "Cinevox" but we hope to get a big crowd for this tryout so you all can see and hear just what the "Cinevox" can do. So if you like it and it proves satisfactory we will then book all the big all talking pictures and acts and have a formal opening with the new "Cinevox" with a big all talking picture program. The management of the Palace Theatre expect to give their public nothing but the best and if you are pleased with this Trial performance of Talking Pictures, we hope you will say so and if not also say so. As our main desire is to satisfy you. No raise in prices for this Trial Program and we want you to all to come out and be frank with your criticisms. If you like the Talking Pictures and want them to stay we will then endeavor to give you all the best Talking Pictures and Acts that are made. As stated above this is only a tryout program just to see if the Palace Theatre has the proper acoustics for Talking Pictures and if our public likes and wants them. Ross Dixon, Mgr.

Greene Our Present City
At Luncheon

"Where there is no vision the people perish." Quoting the above words of King Solomon, R. H. Ratliff, speaker at the future of Colorado at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon club meeting Tuesday, said that more vision is necessary for the development of this city in the future.

"We need vision that will cause us to look into the future far enough to secure industries, pave streets, build schools and churches, and accomplish other things that will make this city grow," Ratliff said.

"A cotton mill, salt works, cheese factory, another refinery and other things are within our reach and will be secured if we can only visionize the prosperity and advantages they will bring to us in the future.

"The Colorado salt works, at the time it burned several years ago, was the second largest in the world, and we could have this industry operating again if we would only push the matter," he said. "The present owner of the plant will join the people of Colorado in installing a plant that will work 500 men if about $65,000 is raised.

"The future city of Colorado I can visualize as a city of many homes, with paved streets, beautiful shade trees, parks, and other advantages," Ratliff continued. He urged the establishment of parks and said a system of paved streets throughout the city should be worked out.

Ratliff was the third speaker at the luncheon club meeting. Judge C. H. Earnest, pioneer lawyer and property owner, spoke on the past history of Colorado. He gave a vivid word picture of the city in the early days.

PRESENT MEMBERS SCHOOL BOARD TO ASK RE-ELECTION

FOUR TERMS EXPIRE WITH THIS ELECTION; NO NEW CANDIDATES

Present members of the board of trustees of the Colorado independent school district will serve another term if elected by the voters at the election April 6, according to J. W. Watson, vice president of the board.

Watson, whose term expires this year, expected to retire, and E. H. Winn, president, A. J. Herrington, and Ford Morris did not wish to be re-elected, Watson said, but they were all prevailed upon to offer for re-election and therefore their names will go on the ballot to succeed themselves.

Many citizens have asked three men to serve another term on this board. This is a position that is rarely ever sought by the incumbent, but must be filled, and the present board's success has made it desirable they be continued in office. While there has been considerable talk of electing as many as two women as members of this board, no effort has been made so far to do so, and it is expected that no one will oppose re-election of present members.

W. R. Morgan, secretary of the board, calls attention of this paper to the error made last week, when we stated that three members were to be elected. There are four to be named instead of three.

Methodists Here Are Preparing For Revival April 21

Colorado Methodists are planning for a revival which is to begin on April 21 and continue for not less than two weeks, according to Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist church. The meeting, if weather is favorable, will be held in the tabernacle.

Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor of the First Church of Temple, is to be evangelist for the meeting, and C. G. Spindler of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is to lead the singing.

D. H. Snyder returned Friday from the cattlemen's convention which met in Houston.

TWO ARTISTS KNOWN HERE GIVEN SKETCH IN HISTORY BY MRS. FRANCES B. FISK

There are two links of interest for Coloradans in the "History of Texas Artists and Sculptors," published recently by the Fisk Publishing Co. of Abilene. One of these is a woman who was known here several years ago as Minnie Thornbury, and the other is Miss Alma Phillips, both of whose work and lives are sketched in the history, which is from the pen of Mrs. Frances Battelle Fisk of Abilene.

Mrs. Fisk is a prominent worker in Women's Federated Club circles, being a candidate for the office of Sixth District president for next year. The book she has written is the first of its kind in Texas, and, according to club women of Colorado, it fills a need of long standing.

The one-time Minnie Thornbury, whose life and work is sketched in the history, was practically reared by Mrs. Carrie Gustine of Colorado. She will be remembered by several of those who have resided in Colorado some time. She painted under her married name, M. Hollis Halton. Here is what the history says of her: "M. Hollis Halton uses the etcher's needle, although it is in painting landscapes, wild flowers, and genre, that is common life and its associations, that she excels. Born in Belton, reared in Colorado City, and studying art in San Antonio, she was imbued with the poetry of the open, and the work of man in the Spanish Missions, and the domestic scenes in the Mexican villages, and has interpreted her impressions of these things on canvas. Her parents, J. U. and Ida Shelton Thornbury, now deceased, were pioneer Texans, though her father's ancestors came from England. After finishing her high school in Colorado City, she turned her attention to art, having first instruction from private teachers.

"After her marriage to Charles F. Halton and moving to San Antonio, she had the advantage of study under Rolla S. Taylor, Eloise Polk McGill, and Jose Arpa, winning recognition as a colorist. Her work attracted the attention of the noted Julian Onderdonk, during his life, and Mrs. Halton claims that he gave generously of his advice and encouragement. Mrs. Halton did further work in New York at the Metropolitan Art School, and is now teaching art in her studio at 315 E. Theo Avenue, San Antonio. Her work has been exhibited in San Antonio, Fort Worth, and New York. She is represented in the Main Avenue High School, San Antonio, and in the Colorado High School. (Mrs. Halton donated to the Colorado school the Bluebonnet painting which hangs in the hall of the high school.) She is a member of the San Antonio Art League, the Southern States Art League, New Orleans, and the Women Painters and Sculptors' association of America, New York. In 1926 she was listed in the Art Annual."

So well has Miss Phillips become known to Coloradans as head of the Home Economics department in Simmons University at Abilene, that her talent as a painter has been almost lost sight of by many of them. To those who have never known or have forgotten her skill with the brush, it will come as a surprise that one so proficient along line of domestic science can combine this proficiency with an artist's talent meriting the following report in the History of Texas. Artists and Sculptors, was a popular offering in the West Texas Fair Art department in 1927. She is a graduate of the State University and spent the past summer in New York, doing special work at Columbia. She visited the major art galleries of that city and other points while away. Miss Phillips finds inspiration for her brush in the vicinity of Abilene, and paints many themes of beauty."

Speaking on "Constitutional Americanism," former Congressman Will D. Upshaw of Atlanta, Georgia, delivered a forceful address at the Colorado high school auditorium Monday night to a large and attentive audience. He appeared here under auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas.

The former Georgia Congressman, nationally prominent dry leader, said, "We want the youth of America to say to politicians, 'If you have the smell of outlawed liquor on your breath or your platform, you shall not have the smell of office by my ballot.'"

"Legalized liquor has no governmental right to come back," he said. "For a business that has no economic right, no industrial right, no humanitarian right, no civic and social right, and no political right to exist, should certainly receive no protection from the United States Government—for the preamble of our Constitution declares it to be the purpose and province of our government to 'provide for the general welfare.'"

Stressing the futility of opposition, the speaker said, "I remind you that the Eighteenth Amendment must be repealed by the same process by which it was enacted. Two-thirds of both branches of Congress must be elected with that as the burning issue, who will stand up before the searching eyes of the womanhood of America and vote to re-marry Uncle Sam to the devilish, corrupting liquor traffic; and then three-fourths of the Legislatures of the States must be elected also with that as the paramount issue, who will stand up before the searching eyes of the praying motherhood of America and vote to ratify that unholy compact—and that ladies and gentlemen, will occur one day after the judgement day.

"One great reason for not surrendering to the demand of the outlawed liquor interests to give up prohibition and go back to the old bar-room days, is one that should appeal with tremendous power to every God-fearing American citizen; it is the fact that the eyes of the watching world are on the United States of America as we battle to vindicate the wisdom and righteousness of our national prohibition law.

"They look across the ocean and see us engaged in the greatest internal conflict that any nation has ever known. That conflict is not economic, although the sanest and the

TEACHERS OF COUNTY HELD ANNUAL BANQUET LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Forty-Eight Present From Nineteen Schools
Of County

Holding their annual banquet in connection with the County Inter-scholastic League meet, forty-eight teachers of Mitchell county schools gathered at the Colorado Hotel on Friday evening at 6 o'clock, with Charley Brazil, president, presiding. Invocation was pronounced by G. D. Foster, teacher in Colorado High School. Following this, there was a piano solo by Mrs. Kirk Taylor of Lorraine, and a reading by Mrs. Letty Rowland.

Introduction of the teachers by Benton L. Templeton was followed by the main address of the evening, delivered by Geo. H. Mahon, district attorney, who spoke on the subject, "The Day of Public Speaking Is Not Over."

Guests other than teachers of the county at the banquet were Judge and Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent; Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent; H. E. Blythe, superintendent of Lorraine schools; Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen, and Mrs. Kaykoudall, secretary to the county superintendent.

The following schools were represented: Longfellow, Landers, Dorn, Looney, Hyman, Spade, Conway, Rogers, Lone Star, Fairview, Shepherd, Valley View, North Champion, Bauman, Cuthbert, Lowe, Westbrook, Lorraine and Colorado.

Miss Edna Mae Powell and Don Wallace of Oklahoma University are to reach home Thursday for Easter vacation.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt returned Friday from the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist church in Washington, D. C.

How to Raise Poultry

STRETCHING DAYLIGHT FOR GREAT EGG YIELD

Artificial Lighting by Increasing the Length of Hens' Working Day Brings Greater Egg Production At Times When Prices Are Highest.

If the hens of this country ever manage to start a union, there is little doubt as to what will cause the first strike. The ever growing practice of using artificial lights in hen-houses cannot fail to excite the ire of walking delegates and a demand for shorter hours is sure to follow. However that may be, there is no denying the amazing effectiveness of artificial lighting or turning on bright lights in poultry houses to lengthen the day during the fall and winter when the days are short. It not infrequently increases the winter egg yield from 25 to 50 per cent with a corresponding increase in profits.

It is doubtful whether lighting causes a material increase, if any, in a fowl's total egg yield for the year. There is no question, however, about its causing a decided increase just when an increase is most profitable. There seems to be some misconception about what artificial lighting really accomplishes as such expressions as "making hens work overtime" will show.

A hen eats primarily to keep her own body in proper condition. Certain elements called carbohydrates go into the fatty portions of her body, other elements called proteins make up the lean or muscular tissues, while mineral elements such as lime and calcium keep the bony framework of skeleton in repair. When enough food has been eaten to take care of the hen's body, any surplus, if of the proper ingredients, is converted into eggs. The carbohydrates then become the egg white, the proteins become yolks, and the minerals make up the shell. Mainly, therefore, the more a hen eats of the proper food in excess of what is needed to maintain a healthy body, the more eggs she will lay. Of course this cannot continue indefinitely, as there is a natural limit to the hen's ability to consume and digest food.

Understanding the theory of egg production makes it much easier to comprehend what artificial lighting really does and how. Naturally, after daylight is over the hen can no longer see her scratch grains and mash. Having no incentive for exercising, she does the only other thing she can do, goes to sleep. What artificial illumination does, therefore, is to provide light so the hen can eat and exercise before natural daylight comes. More feeding naturally means more eggs if the right materials are supplied. Furthermore, there is doubtless some truth in the theory that the hen has inherited from her original tropical ancestors a digestive system that is tuned to days and nights of equal length. In the tropics where domestic fowls originated, days and nights are naturally about equal. In temperate regions, however, days are much shorter during fall and winter than nights, so that fowls not enjoying the advantage of artificial lighting are forced to endure unnaturally long waits between feedings. The use of proper lighting, therefore, accomplishes a two-fold result. It lengthens the effective feeding time so fowls can take more nourishing and egg-making foods and it also eliminates the disturbing effects of over long waits between feedings.

To give best results, houses should be lighted as brightly as they are by day. For this purpose, the electric lights are far superior to all other kinds that I hesitate even to suggest that anything else can be used. In a number of cases, farmers get close to regular electric light plants and soon paid for them out of their increased profits. In ordinary houses, 16 to 18 feet deep, one 50-watt bulb every ten feet is sufficient, but in deeper houses a double row is needed.

The Texas Press

The Legislature has quit. The Democrat-Voice and a few other papers helped to keep its actions within the bounds of reason. Moody had some very distasteful experiences, but they were necessary evils. The people are tired of taxes. If they must pay more they want the money where they can get to it. Schools and cities in Texas are growing rapidly and all increases tax payers can stand are being assessed at home.—Coleman Democrat-Voice.

Governor Moody says he will continue the fight for a highway financing system which will take the expense off property and place it directly on those who use the highways. It may not have occurred to the governor that those who own property in the main are the ones who use the highways. How can he shift the burden from these? There are special exceptions, however, in the case of railroads and other corporations. It is often said that it is unjust to tax the railroad to build highways which are in competition with the transportation companies. But if the State will properly regulate buses, then the highways are feeders for the railroad companies, and this being true the railroads should help build them.—Lufkin News.

Well, the big road bond of Governor Moody and the highway commission down Austin way failed to put over the deal, but they lacked only a few votes. We really did not expect it to lack any, as all the populous counties, their representatives and all the big dairies were for it. For the big counties are all heavily bonded and naturally want to get out from under the use of State money. It looks to us like old Texas is making a fair headway toward good highways with the present plan of paying as they go.—Brownfield Herald.

The Morkel Mail hastens to say that just about all the present legislature has allowed Governor Moody to do this session is to name his baby, and thereby the Mail lays itself open for an argument. Who informed the Mail that Dan did the naming of the recent youngster? We'd bet a pint of "whoopie" if we had it that it was the maternal side of the Moody household that slipped the future moniker on Junior.—Terry County Herald.

ing 16 great manufacturing plants in this country, are rapidly approaching the volume of output necessary to meet this year's revised annual quota which calls for the manufacture of 1,330,000 passenger car and truck units.

This was significant last week when W. S. Knudsen, president of the company, announced that March production would reach 140,000 units, an amazing output when it is considered that active production on the new six-cylinder cars has been under way less than three months. Although no definite figures were issued it can readily be assumed that April's schedule will call for an even larger production, and that mid-summer will witness a quantity output in all of Chevrolet's assembly plants never before equalled by a manufacturer of six cylinder automobiles.

Mr. Knudsen related that February production amounted to 121,249 units. With only 22 working days in the month, daily production for the period averaged better than 5,500 a day.

These figures lend further emphasis to the astounding achievement of the company last fall in changing over from production of fours to sixes with only a six-weeks' interim to effect necessary alterations. Upon his return to Detroit a few days ago from a six weeks' trip which took him across the northern part of the country and into the far west, R. H. Grant, Chevrolet vice president in charge of sales, spoke with marked optimism of the prevalent demand for the new six-cylinder cars. Nearly everywhere, he declared, dealers indicated to him that they found an increased market for the new product. The cars, he said, are being delivered to owners as fast as they can be distributed.

MRS. SHERBINO, EARLY RESIDENT, IS DEAD

Mrs. G. W. Sherbino, who will be remembered by several Coloradans who have lived here for some time as the wife of Dr. Sherbino who practiced here in early days, died Monday, March 18, in Los Angeles, California. ed. The most favored time to light up is about 4:30 a. m., and the lights are allowed to remain on until natural daylight reaches full strength. There is, however, a growing tendency to light up from 6 a. m. to full daylight and again in the evening until 6 or 7 p. m. This provides a 12 or 13-hour day and is undoubtedly more convenient when automatic control of lights is not possible. It is believed, however, the earlier morning lighting is best, thereby letting the hens go to roost at their usual evening hour.

When the lights are turned on, the hens jump down from the roosts and begin eating the food that has been provided, drinking and often laying before daylight. An automatic clock-switch can be purchased that will turn the lights on and off at any desired hours.

PRUDENCE PENNY TELLS WHAT SHE THINKS OF WOMEN AS CAR DRIVERS

Everything certainly seems to be coming our way! Car dealers and manufacturers are considering our needs and desires, giving us our favorite colors in our favorite cars, putting in vanity cases, ash trays, everything they can think of that might please us. The woman driver is the queen bee of the whole automotive hive. In the midst of all this popularity, it occurs to me to wonder what we really do to deserve it.

Are we playing the game on the great highways as squarely as the men do? Do they really like to encounter us in traffic when we are at the wheel of our own cars? Are we as good drivers as the men, and if not, why not?

Honestly, I do not believe we are, or perhaps ever will be, as good drivers as men are, average for average. We have not the sheer physical strength nor the physical training. And our nerves are uncertain in tight places. We have not played ball in our childhood, as little boys do, and learned to gauge speeds and distances.

On the other hand, we've a lot more caution—we have to have. As yet we are not so competitive. Men instinctively lay back their ears when anyone else tries to pass them. At least we don't have the urge to startilly-races for no reason at all.

But, seriously, I'd like to see us influencing the driving of cars as much as we do their enamel and upholstery. What about acquainting ourselves with the traffic laws, for instance, and obeying them?

The men have certainly done their utmost to make cars safe for us to drive. If women drivers did as much for safety, we'd get along very well indeed! The new Oakland-All American Six, for instance. They have thought of everything—even a foot button controlling the tilt-ray headlights, so that you can dim for an approaching car without taking a hand off the wheel even for an instant. There's an instrument board devised especially so that you can take in everything at a glance and have the controls all at your finger tips. And even the coupe has an adjustable seat, so that small women drivers are never handicapped by not having a good strong pressure on the pedals—and yet their taller husbands are not cramped.

There was an Oakland that I felt was my affinity, because it just matched my new winter coat. "But certainly," said the salesman, "didn't you know that General Motors has stylists in Paris who get advance news of the smart colors from the great costume houses, and then develop the car designs accordingly?" Imagine it.

HOOVER DECLARES HE WILL CONSERVE OIL

WASHINGTON, March 12.—President Hoover today declared that his administration will adhere strictly to a policy of rigid conservation of the oil resources of the country. In response to questions from the press, the President stated:

"There will be no leasing or disposal of oil lands except under those required by the mandate of Congress."

"There will be complete conservation of oil in this administration," the president added.

The president's declaration attracted considerable attention in official circles because of its suddenness.

Mr. Hoover's statement was received generally as the first official declaration of the president's attitude toward the oil leasing policies adopted during the Harding administration.

Following is the official text of President Hoover's statement in response to a question from the press relative to oil leases:

"There will be no leases or disposal of government holdings or government control except those which may be mandatory by Congress. In other words, there will be complete conservation of government oil in this administration."

Miss Abbie Sevier, Miss Jo Key, and Mrs. J. E. McCleary attended a business woman's banquet in San Angelo Saturday evening. They report a delightful occasion.

STATE BOND ISSUE TO FIGURE IN NEXT GOVERNOR'S RACE

R. S. Sterling Probably Be Candidate on "Bond Platform"

By R. W. BARRY

Associated Press Staff Writer
AUSTIN, Texas, March 25.—Texans seem to be in for what may develop into an extraordinary campaign over the proposition of issuing State bonds in an effort to obtain a connected system of State highways. The pro and con sides are apt to be pre-tently evenly balanced and "the people" importuned by a flood of arguments for and against the innovation.

Sterling May Run

Action of the recent legislature in refusing to submit the constitutional amendment, under which authority to issue State securities would be dele-

HOUSTON, March 23.—John Henry Kirby, millionaire Houston lumberman, probably will be a Democratic candidate for the governorship in 1930, it was learned here today.

Asked to confirm the report, Mr.
Kirby said: "It is true my present inclination is to respond to solicitations of numerous friends that I offer my services as chief executive to my native State."

gated to the lawmaking body, served only to add fuel to the flames.

R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the highway commission, who initiated a campaign to build State highways with proceeds from a bond issue some months before the legislature met, has stated that he has "just begun to fight."

This might be taken to mean that Mr. Sterling will become a candidate for governor early next year so that he might better advocate the plan.

Whether Mr. Sterling becomes a candidate or not, the bond issue suggestion is almost certain to be one of the principal planks in somebody's gubernatorial platform.

This surmise brings to the surface the activities of Lynch Davidson of Houston, former lieutenant governor, one of the most uncompromising opponents of the Statewide bond issue.

Mr. Davidson has had an ambition to serve as governor. He was a candidate four years ago and again two years later.

This speculation brings Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller into the picture. He is regarded as a sure entrant in the gubernatorial marathon next year, and if he has any decided views as to whether Texas should or should not issue bonds for building highways he has not paraded them in public.

A TRAGIC JOKE

In a brief editorial entitled, "This Is a Joke," the Cordell, Oklahoma, Beacon recently said: "Many states have laws regulating the sale of revolvers and pistols. Others require that a person possessing a pistol should be licensed. Both regulations are for the purpose of preventing murder."

"The up-to-date gangster buys a sub-machine gun. With these new instruments of death he is efficiently armed. Besides they can be bought without red tape and no permit is necessary."

Such a condition as the Beacon describes is disheartening proof of the futility of attempting to dispense with murder and crime by prohibitory legislation. It is almost unbelievable that many otherwise rational people cherish the delusion that by making it a crime to carry a concealed weapon, criminals who almost daily commit far more serious offenses will be immediately reformed.

As long as our legal system is burdened with technicalities and red tape, and the handling of the criminal is guided by inexperienced reformers, we must bow to the inevitable and accept our place as the most lawless civilized nation in the world.

The big crooks are now after big money and they are not going to use little weapons to obtain it, if they can get quick action with machine guns. Pass a law to stop the sale of machine guns and the gangsters will find some other engine of death that will be even more powerful. Most of the big crimes in America are committed by foreigners, and it looks as if the only way to control them is through stringent immigration laws.
The smuggling into the United States of the very scum of the earth in the way of human beings is doing this country more harm than any other one thing. Most of them come into America in violation of law, and they have an utter disregard of this country's laws as long as they stay here.
You cannot legislate obedience into them, and even hanging their comrades does not serve as a brake on their depredations. Uncle Sam's "melting pot" has been contaminated by trying to Americanize such trash, and the quicker they are deported as so much "dross" the better it will be for this country.

London Paper Says World Oil Trust Be Formed

LONDON, March 23.—The Daily Mail says Saturday that the world's oil "kings" at a forthcoming meeting in New York expect to make arrangements to enable them to control the output and price of gasoline throughout the world.

The Mail says: "The object of the conference is to establish in fact if not in name a world oil trust. This scheme has been made possible by the recently concluded agreement with the Reds at Moscow which, at the expense of the consumer has eliminated for the benefit of the petrol combine competition of cheaply marketed oil from the confiscated oil fields of Russia."

The Mail says the affair really began with a mysterious meeting at Achnacarry Castle in Scotland last year of the three oil men, Sir Henri Deterding, Walter Teague and Sir
John Cadman.

"The oil emperors met to protect their empires from the inroads of the Reds and they decided that in the first place settlement must be made with Moscow and then steps should be taken to perfect an organization which would permit control of the world supply, the paper says."

"It was decided that Sir Henri De-terding and Sir John Cadman should consolidate the European oil interests while Mr. Teague should return to America and arrange for the formation of an oil export association. The two organizations would agree upon a common plan of action as far as the world oil resources and supplies were concerned."

The Mail says the success of this plan depended upon an agreement with Moscow which was achieved at the end of February.

LOCAL DELCO LIGHT DEALER LEADS ENTIRE SOUTHWESTERN DIST.

FORT WORTH DISTRICT LED IN SALES IN UNITED STATES
JANUARY-FEBRUARY

W. B. Schley, local dealer for Delco-Light electric plants, led the southwestern district in sales for the months of January and February, according to report issued by P. M.
Bratten & Co., Fort Worth distributors. Schley sold more Delco Light equipment than any other dealer in the Southwestern territory.

The report, published in the official organ of the Bratten company, says the Fort Worth district, composed of West Texas, led every other district in the United States in point of sales.

BAPTISTS OVERSUBSCRIBE FUND FOR STOLEN MONEY

DALLAS, March 12.—Various budget matters of the Baptist church in Texas were discussed at a meeting here today of the executive board of the denomination.

Dr. Forrest Smith of Fort Worth, chairman of the board, presided at the meeting, which was attended by 100 members.

Recommendations by a special committee that Baylor College for women at Belton be allowed to inaugurate a building fund campaign for $100,000 for the replacing of the dormitory destroyed by fire recently was approved by the board.

George J. Mason of Dallas, treasurer, reported that Texas Baptists had oversubscribed their quota in the campaign for funds to replace those defalcated from the treasury of the Home Mission board at Atlanta, Texas' quota was $50,000. The amount which had been collected on March 1, he said, was $53,042.40.

A TAX WARNING

President Coolidge points out in a recent statement that after eight years of applying business methods to the Federal government, extravagances and useless expenditures have been eliminated, to the extent that three reductions have been made in tax rates and nearly $7,000,000,000 has been cut off the national debt.

"It would be a great mistake," he said, "to suppose that we can continue our national prosperity without the attendant blessings which it confers upon the people, unless we continue to insist upon constructive economy in government. The margin between prosperity and depression is always very small. A decrease of less than 10 per cent in our national income would produce a deficit in the present budget.

"The costs of State and local governments are rapidly mounting. From $3,900,000,000 in 1921, the National Industrial Conference Board estimates that they reached $7,981,000, 000 in 1927. This is such a heavy drain on the earnings of the people that it is the greatest menace to the continuance of prosperity. It is a red flag warning us of the danger of depression and a repetition of the disaster which overtook the country in the days of 1920."

DETOUR TO WESTBROOK IS IN BAD CONDITION

Frequent complaints are heard about the condition of the south detour to Westbrook, by way of which all west-bound traffic is directed by signs leading from the city. The road is said to be so rough in places that cars are forced to barely creep along. This detour is exceptionally bad in wet weather, owing to the clay formation, and is almost impossible in places.

Latan Flats has also afforded pretly rough traveling, but was being gone over with road drags last Saturday and Monday.

CHRIST THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD—John 9:5
—Jesus said: I am the light of the world.
John 12:46-47: I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness. And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not; for I come not to judge the world, but to save the world.

LAWYERS IN THE LEGISLATURE

The bar as a whole is composed of gentlemen of the highest character. Many who make a specialty of defending criminals, however, have acquired the habit of resorting to any kind of tactics necessary to win. The more successful they are in keeping their clients out of the penitentiary, the greater their reputation as criminal lawyers and hence the bigger their fees. They, therefore, oppose any reform in procedure that prevents delays, destroys loopholes for the criminal, and makes the administration of justice more prompt and certain. That is why the ordinary criminal lawyer in the legislature fights all measures designed to improve procedure. Some of the proposed measures, possibly, are without merit, a few of these may be foolish; but there are quite a number of vital and highly meritorious measures that should be adopted. Excuses by the criminal lawyers in the legislature, who have thwarted these reform measures, are vain. The press of the State should give all possible publicity to their records. Patriotic lawyers and laymen alike should announce the attitude of these friends of the crooks who cling the wheels of justice in the courts and who range to death every reform measure introduced in the legislature. Too many criminal lawyers in the body.—Lynn County News.

Right! You hit the nail on the head that time, Bro. The experience gained at one session of the legislature the writer can say that you are knowing that you are a lawyer, we are free with you. The law profession is a noble and a necessary adjunct to our life, yet it is certainly true that there are a few lawyers in the legislature, and in the B. R. are the type of men described in the B. R. Of 31 members in the Senate, 19 are B. R. Of 150 members of the House, 63 are B. R. People realize that fewer lawmakers are needed business men should be sent to the B. R. problem of law enforcement and law is largely solved. The writer can say that knowledge that many lawyers in the legislature ways of protecting their clients and laws that will better enable the lawyer to convict the criminal instead of the lawbreaker. A certain committee which had to pass all the bills affecting criminal procedure, a certain committee stated many of the bills were passed protecting the clients of the B. R. He went so far as to state that the B. R. against the officials instead of the B. R. words, the laws should curb the B. R. every bill that came before the B. R. not leave some loophole for the B. R. afford a splendid chance for the B. R. clear the criminal of any charge of B. R. was either amended to do so, or B. R. These are facts. You are right, the too many lawyers in the legislature many members who are seeking some B. R. We all know that when a B. R. a utility company, an insurance B. R. a machinery house, a railroad, other concerns, that he is going to B. R. at Austin that would be to the B. R. and is going to try and kill every B. R. advantage of his company, and we B. R. the interests of the general public these concerns is usually at variance B. R. and enforcing laws of regulation. Doubtless no remedy will ever be B. R. that no man should be permitted B. R. Legislature if he draws one dime B. R. remuneration from any industry actually serving in the session, B. R. by with any individual or organization are greatly in the majority B. R. an, they are not the only ones B. R. with the idea of enhancing their B. R. interests.

MANY TOWNS ARE SO CLOSE TO THE PICTURE THEY CAN'T SEE THE FRAME

The town that cannot be improved upon just isn't! Yet in every community there are "acres of diamonds" that have never been mined.

Mr. Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, says: "The advantages of a community for both business and residence are often lost sight of by its natives. The very obviousness dulls their perception by becoming contemptuously familiar."

It is only natural that to that with which we are most familiar we pay the least attention. A stranger notices the growth of a child much more so than do its parents; candy is no treat to a confectionery store clerk, and a rose in your own front yard is much more attractive to the man in the next block. The grass on the other side of the fence always looks the greenest; the other fellow's business appears to be a "snap"; some other town offers greater possibilities as long as you stand so close to the picture of your town, your community or your neighborhood that you cannot see the fullness thereof.

"Contemptuous familiarity" works both ways and therefore we have sickly cities, callous communities, tired towns, haggard hamlets, and hundreds of vanishing villages, the citizens of which go on about their daily tasks apparently totally unaware of their condition.

The old saying that "There's a little bit of bad in the best of us and a little bit of good in the worst of us," applies to towns and communities as well as to individuals.

What is good about the community where you live? What is bad? What is there that invites? What repels?

No town can be all good or all bad; therefore, recognize that which is good, and capitalize on it—recognize that which is bad, and personally do something to eliminate it!

Don't think that what you do won't make any difference for it will! Everybody doing something gets things done; sitting back "letting George do it" never gets anything done. Your town is your business. Whoever you are—whatever you do—it's good business on your part to do every little thing you can to make your town and community a better place in which to live, work, play, and make money. It's poor business to become oblivious to anything that invites business or repels it.

You can't make money unless your neighbor does; you can't get an increase in pay unless the firm does more business; the firm can't do more unless the community grows—progresses with the times—and prospers.

WEST TEXAS NEEDS SPANKING, EH?

By Richard H. McCarty in The Albany News
The West Texas crowd have been quite wrought up this week down at Austin. To start with, Governor Moody vetoed their pet bill and then some one told them they could not secede from Texas without a real reason. If there is any bunch in Texas that are spoiled, it is the West Texas crowd. They are fine fellows, they have some wonderful organizers in charge of their work, some of the best executives in the State, but sometimes we feel like they need a good spanking, like the spoiled boy, and put to bed without their bottle for one night at least.—Richardson Echo.

The above clipping is from the facile pen of the Hon. Sam P. Harben, editor and proprietor of the Richardson Echo and secretary of the Texas Press Association. He is large mentally as well as physically. Yes, some boy, but he has stirred up a hornet's nest and he's going to get his feet wet when he jumps on West Texas. O yes, he says that West Texas needs a spanking, but what we want to know, is who in the hell is going to do the spanking—Says that we were mightily wrought up about Governor Dan Moody vetoing that land bill—Well, boy, did you notice how we spanked the red headed governor of Texas, yes, just as soon as the giants came down from the west to storm the State Capitol, to register their protest, and the doggoned law makers dove tailed, fell into line, and gosh we swamped that red headed governor of Texas—O yes, it was a regular land slide, passed it over his veto, and West Texas got what was coming to her—Be it said that it has ever been thus. West Texas has had to scrap for what she wants, and by gosh we know how to strike back—Of course you durn "fellers" down there in the sticks think of West Texas as a waste, howling wilderness, inhabited by wild animals, rattlesnakes, mule-eared rabbits and mottle cottontails and long-horned cattle—And they think that just because we wear ten-gallon hats, bell-purses and leather leggings that we are wild and wooly and simple. But get this, boy, when West Texas puts on a show, they rush the ticket office for front seats in the grand stand—Actors? Why Lordy yes—Did you notice that Simmons Cowboy Band in the tour of the Eastern States?—Why doggone, they like to have stamped the inauguration proceedings, and Washington City declared a holiday to flirt with these Western giants—Put on a show, why bless your soul boy, we went after Herbert, wanted to fetch him west and show him a sure enough to God country—Why, yes, we bait our hooks for big fish, and by gosh he said he would come—Yes, captured the President of the United States, general of our armies and the Admiral of our navies coming west to be our guest this coming May at El Paso during the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the largest regional commercial body in the world, and think of it, the Commander-in-chief of the armies of the greatest Republic on earth has sat up and taken notice, and agreed to visit this Great Empire, Spank West Texas, eh? Why, boy, she is a giant, and if you ever undertake it you will be sure to get stung. Stuck up, hey? Why, hell, who wouldn't be stuck up living in a country like this, some five or six hundred miles across it from east to west, and about a thousand miles long, play snowball up in the northern part in the early morn, hop across this vast domain, and lunch on oranges and grape fruit in the Magic Valley at noon, and bathe our feet in the Gulf of Mexico at even-tide—And here comes you "fellers" from down in the sticks" and talk about spanking West Texas and putting her to bed without her bottle—Yes, we are sassy and stuck up, have a right to be, living in the greatest country on earth, and with our varied interests out here, we have a right to some of the rich, ripe political melons being cut down there at the State Capitol. Spanking West Texas eh? Roll up your britches and wade in boys, the water is warm and the swimming is good. Shed your duds and get in, the franks is on—O yes, it's a great country, Sam, and the richest in the world—Its white-faced cattle, Jersey cows, sheep and goats, copper mines and oil wells, fertile valleys and undulating hills, green grasses and babbling brooks, fructified breezes, where the ozone puts kick in the blood and takes the bile out of your system—Pretty women and handsome men—And scrappers did you say? Come on, you durn fellers down there in the sticks and put on that spanking stunt. Eh?

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Mitchell, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Vera Williams Wilson, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Mitchell at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas, on the Twentieth Monday after the First Monday in January, A. D. 1929, the same being the 27 day of May, A. D. 1929, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 22 day of February, A. D. 1929, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 5101, where in A. D. Wilson is plaintiff, and Vera Williams Wilson is defendant.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: Plaintiff resides in Mitchell county, Texas, and defendant's residence is unknown; that on or about 12 day of May, 1928, the plaintiff was lawfully married to defendant in Mitchell county, Texas; that defendant was then living with one L. K. Hughes; that two days after their said marriage the defendant registered at the hotel with the said Hughes as L. K. Hughes and wife and spent the night with him as such; that defendant did not marry the plaintiff in good faith but as a ruse to get possession of a sum of money in the possession of the plaintiff; plaintiff alleges that defendant's actions and conduct toward him generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable, the premises considered. Plaintiff prays for citation, for judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between the plaintiff and defendant, for costs of suit and for general relief.

Herein fall not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Colorado, Texas, this the 22nd day of February, A. D. 1929.

J. LEE JONES, Clerk, District Court, Mitchell Co., Texas, 4-19c.

MARKET: a topic for conversation

TEXAS is the heart of a six billion dollar market. Texas industries have a market for their products within overnight shipping distance, comprised of 12,000,000 people. This population is rapidly increasing. The wealth of people in the Texas trading area is growing more soundly and more steadily than that of any other section of the country today. Natural resources are just now entering a period of intensive development. Texas industries thrive because they have a sound and growing market for their products.

1928 COTTON CROP IS 4,937,455 BALES GOVERNMENT REPORTS

Exceeds 1927 Crop More
Than 700,000; West
Texas Fair

The 1928 cotton crop of Texas exceeded that of the previous year by more than 700,000 bales, according to report of ginning figures issued by the department of commerce through the bureau of the census at Washington.

The total Texas crop for 1928 is given at 4,937,455 bales, compared to 4,229,367 bales for 1927. Ellis was the banner producing county in 1928 with 122,923 bales. Williamson was second with 111,995 bales.

The Mitchell county crop exceeded that of the previous year by a small margin.

Figures for West Texas counties in the vicinity of Mitchell are as follows:

County	1928	1927
Brown	12,956	7,581
Callahan	10,542	7,975

—SNYDER IS AGAIN—

D. H. Snyder, Mitchell county cattleman, was made a member of the executive board of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association for the thirteenth consecutive year when that association met in its annual convention in Houston last week. Snyder was the only cattleman attending the meeting from this section.

Snyder reports an unusually good convention, with more than 5,000 cattlemen and their wives in attendance. The meeting next year goes to San Angelo.

PAINS

In Side and Back

"I HAD BEEN miserable for a long time. My health was poor, and I suffered a lot from weakness. At times, my strength was so little that I could not stand on my feet. I would have to give up and go to bed. My sides and back hurt dreadfully.

"I grew discouraged, for I could do so little. I worried about myself, and almost gave up hope of ever being strong and well. I could scarcely lift a bucket of water. My house work went undone, for I was not strong enough to do it.

"After I had taken Cardui for a little while, I began to feel better. I grew stronger, soon found that I could do my work with less effort, and the pains in my back and sides left me. I think Cardui is a wonderful medicine. My health has been excellent since then."—Mrs. D. L. Beckner, W. Main St., Salem, Va.

CONGRESSMAN UPSHAW GRIPS AUDIENCE WITH MASTERFUL ADDRESS

soundest economies are bound up in its solution; that conflict is not industrial, although no great industry can properly function whose manpower does not sustain the right relation to this question; that conflict is not agricultural, whatever you may know and politicians may say about the troubles of "Uncle Reuben" that conflict is not political, from a partisan standpoint, although the peace and bravest politics—non-partisan politics—must be dedicated to the solution of this vexing problem and the winning of this great unfinished fight. This battle is a fight for the soul of the nation—it is a fight for the very ideals of this Republic; it is a fight to prove to your children and mine, whose intelligent loyalty now make of our Constitution more than a "scrap of paper" and our flag more than a beautifully decorated rag to be given to the breezes on July 4 and February 22; it is a fight, I say, to prove to them and the eyes of the nations that watch us from the galleries of the world across the seas, that America is gladly capable of enacting a great moral principle into law and then demonstrating to the upward march of humanity that the enactment of that law was not a mistake, as the "wet" leaders still glibly declare, and that the vindication of that law—the triumphant coronation of that law—is not a national tragedy and an international farce."

The speaker was frequently interrupted by generous applause from the packed auditorium.

The former Georgia congressman was introduced by Rev. W. C. Ashford, pastor of the First Baptist church. Other pastors of the city occupied the platform.

Prior to the address, Miss Beulah Ashford gave a beautiful violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Guitart at the piano.

The High School Eight, composed of Curtis Shurtliff, Marion Watson, Lester Haines, Baz Jones, and Misses Lucille Ashford, Ernestine Jones, Fannie Fay Womack and Iris Tammell sang a song written for and dedicated to Congressman Upshaw for his international fight for prohibition.

"There were no hotels and few houses here then. Most of the people were living in dug-outs, many of which were flooded that night by the heavy downpour of rain. I was directed to the Walker saloon, practically the only dry place in town. It stood just west of the present Colorado Hotel. I was almost broke but I proceeded to the saloon to warm up." Here the judge digressed long enough to explain that he was warming up by a red hot stove, and not with hot liquor. "The next morning I replenished my wardrobe by purchasing a new tie and a pair of socks. That was about all I could buy with the money on hand."

"There was a general store owned by Dunn, Walker & Co., somewhere east of Walnut street. First street, alongside the railroad, was the only street here then."

"The first sermon I ever heard preached in Colorado was delivered by Rev. Rogers, father of Mrs. Jim Smith, who preached a good sermon in a new section house near Line Wolf creek. I sat outside on a pile of lumber."

Mrs. Smith says Rev. Rogers organized the first church in Colorado. There were eight members, including the pastor's family. The church was organized in a tent near the present yard of Burton-Lingo Co.

Judge Earnest also called attention to the rumor that a certain citizen, now a retired merchant, who came from Alabama in the early days of Colorado, had changed his name from a Hebrew to Gentile accent; also another citizen who now goes by the name of Root who was known in New Orleans as Borekai.

Greene Talks on Present
J. H. Greene, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, talked on the present Colorado, telling of the refinery, feed mill, oil mill, compress, laundry, sand and gravel plants, and other industries that afford a payroll. He also called attention to our schools, churches, and many business enterprises, and the splendid city we have today.

Next week similar prices will be awarded to three pupils from grade schools for themes on the same subject.

M. Levinson and Miss Joe Key were the other guests.

Next Tuesday's luncheon will be presided over by W. L. Does, pioneer druggist, and a miscellaneous program will be had.

Tahoka Invites Coloradoans To C. of C. Meet

Coloradoans have a special invitation to attend the South Plains district meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Tahoka on April 24, according to a communication received in Colorado this week from C. C. Williams, secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

J. H. Greene, Judge C. C. Thompson, and several others will likely attend.

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE KILLED OR INJURED IN TEXAS DURING 1928

From the Texas Council of Safety comes the report that there were 11,948 people injured and killed in accidents in Texas in 1928. Of this number 6606 were injured and 902 were killed in automobile accidents, while airplanes contributed 32 injured and 45 killed during the year, 412 were injured and 156 killed in home accidents, and 416 injured and 165 killed in industrial accidents.

An analysis of accidents from Sept. 1, 1927, to Dec. 31, 1928, shows 289 killed and 2608 injured in auto accidents.

More people were injured by cars passing around cars ahead and skidding into the ditch. 118 were injured and 16 killed in this way during the four-month period.

A number of collisions were caused by cars passing around from the rear and turning into the road too soon.

Sixty-seven were injured and four killed by cars being ditched to avoid collision.

Possible carelessness in driving on wet pavements caused cars to skid and resulted in 8 deaths and 70 injuries.

Collisions on curves claimed 7 victims and injured 47.

Striking loose gravel and soft dirt was responsible for 67 injured and 9 deaths.

Meeting cars on the wrong side of the road caused collisions with 52 injuries and two deaths.

Other injuries and deaths were caused by cars being parked in the road without lights, meeting cars with glaring headlights, no lights or insufficient lights while driving, defective brakes, defective steering gears and drivers intoxicated.

Other causes of accidents, and the toll taken were:

Railway trains, injured 408, killed 182; interurbans, injured 33, killed 15; street cars, injured 89, killed 27; other vehicles, injured 257, killed 50; falls, injured 547, killed 129; burns, injured 351, killed 194; drowning, injured 34, killed 105; firearms, injured 256, killed 83; other causes, injured 1027, killed 212.

Four hundred forty-one children under 15 years of age were injured and 140 were killed in accidents of all kinds, the most of which were auto accidents. Half the number of accidents charged to railroads were with autos at crossings.

Twenty-five people were injured and one died from dog bites, while bites of snakes is given as 3 injured and three deaths.

ABILENE, March 28.—Lack of bidders for $275,000 worth of Taylor county road bonds at 4½ and 4¾ per cent caused the county commissioners Monday to postpone the sale until Saturday, when the bonds will be offered at 5 per cent. Unsettled condition of the bond market was given as the cause. The bonds were a part of a $1,000,000 issue of October, 1927.

Lesson for March 31

THE FUTURE LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 24:1-12; John 14:1-6.

GOLDEN TEXT—Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Glad Resurrection Day.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Glad Resurrection Day.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Living Here and Hereafter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Ground of Hope for the Future.

1. The Resurrection of Jesus Christ (Luke 24:1-12).

The resurrection of Christ is the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. It matters little what Jesus said and did while alive if His body remained in the grave. If He did not come forth in triumph from the tomb, then all His claims are false.

1. The empty sepulcher (vv. 1-3).

(1) The coming of the women (v. 1). As an expression of affectionate regard for the Master, they came with spices for His body. If they had believed His words, they would have known that His body could not be found in the sepulcher.

(2) What they found (vv. 2, 3). When they came to the sepulcher they found the stone had been rolled away, but they found not the body of Jesus. For them to have found His body in the sepulcher would have been the world's greatest tragedy. The empty tomb spoke most eloquently of the deity and power of the Son of God (Rom. 1:3).

2. The message of the men in shining garments (vv. 4-8).

(1) "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" (v. 5).

This question, uttered by the angels, has been reverberating through the centuries.

(2) "He is not here, but is risen."

Jesus had told them that the Lord must be betrayed and crucified and that on the third day He would rise again. Had they given heed to His words they would have been relieved of their perplexities.

3. The women witnessing to the eleven (vv. 9-11).

Their thrilling testimony concerning the empty tomb and the words of the angels appeared to the apostles as idle tales and they refused to believe.

4. Peter investigating (v. 12).

While the testimony of the women seemed as idle tales, Peter was not of the temperament to dismiss the matter from his mind, therefore he ran unto the sepulcher. Upon investigation he found the linen clothes lying in such a way as to prove the reality of the resurrection.

II. Jesus Preparing a Place in Heaven for His Own (John 14:1-3).

These last words of Jesus were words of comfort. The hopes of the disciples were utterly shattered when Jesus told them about the cross. He consoled them by pointing to the reunion in the heavenly Father's home.

1. He asked them to trust in Him, even as God (v. 1).

Faith in the God-man, Christ Jesus, will steady the heart, no matter how intense the grief, or how great the sorrow.

2. He informed them that He was going to the Father's House in heaven to prepare a home for them (v. 2).

He assured them that there was abundant room there for all. He said, "there were many abiding places." Heaven is an eternal dwelling place for God's children.

3. He assured them that He would come again and escort them to heaven (v. 3).

Jesus will not depend upon nor wait for His own to come to Him, but will come and call forth from the grave those who have died; transforming living believers, and take them all together to be forever with Himself in the heavenly home.

III. Jesus Christ is the Way to the Heavenly Father (vv. 4-6).

Jesus informed the disciples that they knew the place to which He was going, and the way. To this Thomas interposed a doubt, in answer to which Christ asserted that He is:

1. The Way (v. 6).

Jesus Christ is more than a mere guide to God. He is the way itself.

2. The Truth (v. 6).

He is not merely the teacher, but the Truth incarnate. In His incarnation the spiritual and material worlds were united; therefore every line of truth, whether spiritual or material, converged in Him.

3. The Life (v. 6).

Christ is not merely the giver of life, but He is the very essence of life. Only those who receive Christ have life in the true sense.

Fifteen years of development —but an overnight popularity

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

Wherever you go you hear people praising the General Electric Refrigerator. Almost overnight it has taken a prominent place in the thoughts of homemakers.

One hears of its remarkable simplicity. That it has a single belt, fan or drain-pipe. That it hasn't a bit of machinery under the cabinet—or in the basement. That it never needs oiling. There are many, many comments on the quietness with which it operates. There is much enthusiasm for the extreme roominess and the splendid strength of its gleaming, up-on-legs cabinet.

Overnight, it seems . . . but for more than fifteen years the vast laboratories of General Electric have been busy with the development of this truly revolutionary refrigerator. Will you not come in and see the various models? Time payments can be arranged, if you prefer.

TWO ARE HURT IN BUS CRASH NEAR SWEETWATER

Two men were seriously injured and several others sustained minor injuries when an eastbound West Texas Coach crashed with a Dodge touring car three miles west of Sweetwater at midnight Thursday night.

The injured men are Cleve McCormack and T. H. Keaton, both living near Roscoe. McCormack, a farmer living southwest of Roscoe, sustained a dislocated left hip, a bad gash just under the left knee cap, necessitating a dozen stitches, a gash above the left eye and one on the lower lip.

McCormack was driving the Dodge. He has a wife and six children.

T. H. Keaton, 19, sustained a number of cuts and injuries but he was able to leave the Sweetwater Sanitarium for his home near Roscoe this morning.

The bus, heavily loaded with passengers, had just passed a truck on the highway and turned back to its own side of the road, according to reports of those who were in the accident. Reports differ as to just what positions the bus and car were in relative to the right and left sides of the highway when the crash occurred.

The Dodge was almost completely demolished but the bus was able to come on in to Sweetwater on its own power. None of the passengers was seriously hurt, although several of them received minor hurts requiring medical attention.

The bus, an A. C. 20-passenger outfit, was driven by B. Smith, the same driver whose bus was burned on the highway between Sweetwater and Abilene three weeks ago. He was on the run between Big Spring and Cisco. A. L. Biles, local bus agent, was the only Sweetwater man on the bus.—Sweetwater Reporter.

FIRST NEW FRIGIDAIRE
RECEIVED IN COLORADO

The first of the new Frigidaire machines with the Cold Control attachment has been received by the local office this week. The cold control on an automatic refrigerator, according to W. S. Schley, local dealer, can be compared to the gear-shift on the automobile. Freezing of desserts, etc., can be speeded up by the moving of a small dial.

A great many other improvements have been added to Frigidaire this year, finer cabinet and porcelain work, more quiet operating machines, and a number of features that are very pleasing to the user. The sale of Frigidaire has been in excess of 25 per cent more this year so far than for the corresponding time of last year. The first carload was received last week at Big Spring, and another carload will be in within the next ten to fifteen days.

METHODISTS HERE
REMAIN IN LEAD

Losing to Sweetwater on only one point, Colorado Methodists maintained their small margin of lead over the Methodists of the neighboring town last Sunday.

Sweetwater was ahead of Colorado last Sunday on new pupils, the Methodists of that city having 26 new pupils to Colorado's 14.

Rev. Roy Cline and family from the Vernon district, were guests of Rev. Mr. Cline's parents' home last week.

Roy S. ... were guests of ... Big Spring Saturday and Sunday.

C. S. Lambert and family went to Jetan Sunday, where a reunion of the Lambert family was held at the home of Mr. Lambert's mother.

R. E. Garber and family were week-end guests of Mr. Garber's parents at Crosbyton.

Marcus Woodall was host at an Easter party at his home Saturday afternoon, where a jolly good time was had hiding Easter eggs and playing games, at the conclusion of which peanut butter sandwiches and red soda pop were served.

Mesdames Burr Brown and A. W. Mixon were in Sweetwater Monday. Miss Gladys Webb of Colorado visited friends here Saturday and Sunday.

The Missionary Society met with Mrs. Boston Monday, with twenty present, including one visitor and one new member. After an interesting lesson on Mission study, the society was invited to the school cafeteria, where the Epworth Juniors served delicious refreshments of punch and marguerites, during which time they rendered a very interesting program of readings and short talks concerning their work. Of all the good things the Missionary society has done during the past few years, we have never sponsored a move that we have been quite so proud of as that of the Epworth Juniors. They are carrying on all the different phases of the work. They are rehearsing a play that will be rendered in the near future.

A revival meeting will begin at the Methodist church on Sunday, April 7th, with Bro. Dwight Hanks of Sweetwater as the preacher. The presence and cooperation of everyone is earnestly solicited.

The Westbrook Tourist camp, of which Mrs. W. L. Cope is owner, is now nearing completion. This camp will be quite an asset to Westbrook, as it is equipped with all conveniences that the town affords.

Little Junior Oglesby was taken suddenly sick Sunday afternoon and rushed to the hospital at Colorado, where doctors diagnosed the case as pneumonia. He is reported getting along as well as could be expected.

CARD OF THANKS
We take this means of thanking all who so kindly administered to us during the recent illness and death of our friend, generally known as "Uncle John," and who for the past year made his home with us. May God's richest blessings be yours.

Baptist Church News
A "Father and Son" banquet was held March 11 at the Baptist Tabernacle, with Mr. Herrington as master of ceremonies. The following inspirational program was rendered:

The Relationship of Father and Son, by Mr. Powers. Mr. Ramsey, Mr. Hines and Mr. Oglesby gave some splendid remarks on the History of the Sunday School. Mr. Baston gave an interesting talk on the building of the Sunday school.

After enjoying a bountiful feast, all sang "Ready for Service."

We especially urge the men to attend these good meetings.
Bro. McDermott delivered a wonderful message Sunday morning on "The Home, Church and Heaven," Scripture, Ephesians 1, 10-11: "God has gathered together in one all things in Christ in whom we have an inheritance. The home is God's gift, or rather God's plan for man, where husband and wife dwell together. The church is the plan of God for the home of the believer, the dwelling together of the saved and Saviour. Heaven is the home eternal, the house of God and His family. The combination of the contracting parties and the place of dwelling together—home and church have an earthly likeness in that interest is mutual and purpose is perpetuity by obedience to God who gives the increase. Heaven is God's home ideal, and man's by inheritance through Jesus Christ. The husband is the head of the home, and husband and wife the necessary inmates—children to the will of God. Christ is the head of the body—the church—and the necessary inmates are Him and those wedded in divine love to Him, children increase, or I might say converts are the fruits of obedient communion, the gift of God, the inheritance according to His will, the Holy Trinity. God the Father, the Son and God the Holy Ghost is to make up the heavenly home. The increase is the children of God. The inheritance is eternal life in perfection.

The W. M. S. met with Mrs. Munn at the Magnolia camp, with thirteen present. Subject, "The American Negro." The hostess served punch and sandwiches.

Hyman Happenings

We are all very happy over our modest success at the Interscholastic League meet. Everyone who went enjoyed the different contests. We won a few honors, and the entire community is proud of each contestant who represented our school.

Farmers are elated at the sight of so much green grass. And, too, the rest of us welcome weather that brings out our last year's straw sombrero from the moth balls, and although we might have imagined that the days of sunbonnets were over, our school campus is beginning to blossom forth in an epidemic of colorful headpieces. Girls must take care of their complexions.

And, of course, it's none of our business but it seems to the girls that the boys are helping Spring brighten this sad old world by their colorful shirts in a way that rivals the girls' Easter regalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lowry are now owners of a new six automobile.

Miss Virginia Welch spent the week-end in Colorado with her sister, Mrs. C. P. Gary.

Miss Fay McDonald spent the week-end with her mother and father at Wingate.

Miss Ruth Esby, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Roach, has returned to her home at Eldorado. Mrs. Roach accompanied her, but returned early in the week.

Elsie VanZandt is unable to attend school this week, and she is greatly missed.

There will be services at the church Sunday morning, with the Methodist pastor officiating. Let us all be present. There will be Sunday school in the afternoon and B. Y. P. U. in the evening.

Cub Wheeler of Colorado stopped over at Hyman last Monday in the interest of an oil lease on the H. S. Ranch, in which he is interested. He went from there to San Angelo to close the deal.

Messrs. Isaac Smallwood and A. J. Roach went up near Ira last Saturday and bought some Jersey cows.

Miss Bougie Scott returned Sunday to her home in Colorado, after spending the week-end at Hyman visiting her grandparents and Miss Margie Roach.

Burl Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor of Hyman, is in a Big Spring hospital suffering with double pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left for that place Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Black, Mrs. Marvin Meredith and little daughter were visitors in Big Springs and Colorado one day last week.

Marvin Meredith is painting the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman this week.

Mr. Salley of Spade is in Hyman this week building an addition to the store—the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roach.

Payne Notes

This school is proud of the places we won in the county track meet on Saturday, March 23. Edward Morra won first place in the shot put, throwing the ball 33 feet and 9 1/2 inches. We also won second place in the 440-yard relay. The senior boys won third place in the one-mile relay. Nelson Bassham won fourth place in the broad jump. We are proud of our boys.

Wedding bells rang in four homes of our community last Saturday night. Mr. Charles Williams and Miss Linnie Hammons surprised many of their friends when they were quickly married in Colorado. Also Mr. Neely Phillips and Miss Eva Hays were married at Bethel church. We wish these people many happy years together.

Mrs. W. A. Fuller and Mrs. M. M. Miles spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Morgan of Looney.

Mrs. E. S. Miles and Hascal spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hall of Loraine.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen spent Sunday with relatives at Sweetwater. Robert Earl Wulfjen spent Sunday with his cousin, Vista Wulfjen, of Seven Wells.

Miss Faye Shelton of Colorado spent Friday night and Saturday with her sister, Mrs. E. S. Miles.

Leslie York and mother spent Sunday with J. G. Grissom and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burk and baby visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roach and family at Seven Wells. Mr. and Mrs. Roach are now enjoying the comforts of their new home recently built.

Ollie Jackson returned home Sunday from Coahoma, where he had been visiting relatives.

Bruce Brown spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. K. Jackson.

Brother Parks of Roscoe filled his place Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Seventeen people of our community went with Rev. Parks to Bethel Sunday to a B. Y. P. U. program.

Mr. and Mrs. Fields of Colorado visited Mrs. G. W. Williams Sunday.

"Aunt Em" Snellgrove, who has been making her home with Mrs. G. W. Williams, is visiting in the Cuthbert community this week.

NON-SKID TIRES ARE SPEEDING UP TRAFFIC

"Desirability of the new General Dual-Balloon '8' as the correct automobile tire for modern driving was seen as further emphasized last week in a statement by Alfred J. Mills, United States government and traffic road expert, who voiced the opinion that good nonskid tires from this year on will be a most important factor in the study and correction of traffic problems in cities. With most automobiles equipped with nearly perfect braking systems, etc., Mills believes that the automobiles which may be counted upon most to keep traffic moving at today's fast pace, will be those equipped with the most effective nonskid rubber. This is in line with conclusions arrived at by engineers of The General Tire & Rubber company many months ago," according to Ed Womack of Colorado, Texas, distributors of The General Tire in Mitchell county.

"The General Tire & Rubber Company two years ago anticipated the tire requirements for today's automobile, and as a result were able to bring out last year the remarkable Dual-Balloon '8' tire—an improved new product, superseding and advancing beyond all former standards of nonskid design. The Dual-Balloon '8' tire is regarded by motorists and rubber experts alike as the greatest single achievement in the history of The General Tire & Rubber company. Sales on the new tire have confirmed this, reaching last year the greatest volume in the history of the General Company.

"The new Dual-Balloon '8' is being manufactured by The General Company as a perfect long mileage nonskid tire, without compromising in the least the well known balloon comfort qualities of former General tires. This tire, larger and carrying considerable more air, has admirably combined greater nonskid mileage with regular low pressure," says Ed Womack.

"The ending of winter and coming of spring driving weather without question will see the new Dual-Balloon '8' tire an overwhelming favorite with motorists the country over," concluded Womack.

What sort of roads do you usually travel?

Among many car owners comfort is more desired than any other single feature of tire service. The maximum cushioning is necessary, too, from the standpoint of lower car maintenance expense.

These advantages have now been obtained, for the first time, through General's singular success with its new Dual-Balloon principle.

Until now, the efforts of the industry to equal General's modern records of big mileage have led to increased air pressure and away from the true purpose of the balloon idea.

It has remained for General to again lead the way with regular balloon low-pressure.

Now, for the first time, the greatest possibilities in mileage and full efficiency in lower pressure have been brought together. Only the new Dual-Balloon principle has made possible this double accomplishment.

For those who travel the long road, day after day, the Dual-Balloon brings the ideal combination of a longer-lasting tire that is good for any distance, at regular balloon low-pressure. Over all roads, whether you travel with light or heavy loads, it means the limit of luxury in riding comfort—a full day's run with never a tiring mile.

Larger, Roomier and Faster
With Distinguish Quality,
Through and Through

Examine the outward beauty of Dodge Brothers new Senior, or investigate its structural goodness—the conclusion is inevitable—a car of distinguished quality, through and through!

Every part reveals traditional Dodge quality—the foundation of dependability and long life. Every line, sweep and curve reflects the genius of motordom's style creators, guided by Walter P. Chrysler.

The new Senior is larger and more roomy than its splendid predecessor—and Senior performance today is still more impressive.

The new Senior line of eight beautiful body styles presents an unusual opportunity for the exercise of personal tastes. Satin-finish hardware, specially designed for this great Six, is but one important item of the Senior's complete appointments.
