LBJ Asks $800 Million Postal Rate Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked congress today for postal rate increases totaling $800 million and for a three-step pay increase of some $2.5 billion for all federal employes and members of the armed forces.

In a special message, Johnson recommended that the cost of mailing letters be increased by 1 cent. The charge for first-class mail would go to 6 cents and an air mail stamp would cost 9 cents.

The President also called for increases in all other postal rates.

Johnson proposed that the government's 2.5 million civilian employes, and members of the armed forces, be given an average pay increase of 4.5 per cent effective Oct. 1.

In addition, he called for further increases on Oct. 1, 1968, and Oct. 1, 1969, for civilian workers.

Johnson said that would make federal salaries comparable with those in private industry and "with a similar increase for the armed forces, the cost would be more than $2.5 billion per year."

The chief executive talked about the desirability of putting federal salaries on a par with private pay as soon as possible.

He added, however: "In view of today's fiscal and economic conditions, my advisers inform me that a pay raise of this magnitude would not be prudent."

For that reason, he proposed the three-stage increases that would not take full effect until Oct. 1, 1969.

"While inflationary pressures in the economy have lessened in recent months, they have not disappeared," Johnson said. "They could easily recur. We must therefore continue to seek restraint in private wage settlements and to exercise restraint in the operations of government."

Johnson said higher postal rates are needed because the Post Office Departmenet deficit will be about $1.2 billion plus the cost of the pay increase he recommended.

He asked Congress to make a 1-cent increase in letter mail rates effective July 1. He also called for an average increase of 21 per cent for special rate fourth class mail — mainly books and records — on the same date.

The President called for a gradual three-year average increase of 22 per cent for second-class mail — newspapers and magazines — starting next Jan. 1.

As for third-class charges, the chief executive proposed an average increase of 28 per cent. The increase for single pieces of mail would go into effect July 1. On bulk mailings it would be delayed until Jan. 1.

Johnson said he was proposing this delay in recognition of the cost borne by mailers who had to start zip coding and presorting their bulk mailings as of last Jan. 1.

He pictured the proposed rate increases as a necessary forerunner to a modernized postal service.

"We do not have such a postal service today," he said.

He added that many post offices are old and too small, and all must be equipped with modern, high-speed mail processing machines — "the most efficient our nation's technology can produce."

Two Panels Launch Work On Projects

Two more committees of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce have launched activity on their programs of work.

The parks and recreation committee this morning mapped plans for the annual July 4th celebration in Towle Memorial Park, which is the biggest annual project of the year for that committee. Bill Dryden and Guy Sullivan are co-chairmen of the committee and Bob Watlington is serving as general chairman for the July 4th project.

A variety of activities will be planned for Independence Day, beginning with the annual address by a well - known personality, a parade, etc. The opening ceremonies this year will include an organ and soloist to lead the audience in the National Anthem. The opening ceremonies and address will be at the north entrance to the National Guard Armory.

There will be military exhibits, an art show, the Jaycee fishing rodeo, a carnival, helicopter rides, a swimming meet, a tennis tournament, baseball games, etc. Various clubs and organizations will have their usual concessions in the park throughout the day, and the event will be climaxed with a fireworks display.

Watlington, Dryden, Frank Stephenson and Chamber Manager Gene Merrifield were named to a committee to obtain a speaker. Shelby Coker, Bentley Baize and Paul Sizemore form the committee in charge of concessions.

Another general meeting will be held May 4 and a third on June 29 to complete last-minute details.

The agriculture committee, headed by Lindy Clark, met Tuesday afternoon and made plans for several projects. The committee will continue its premium for the first bale of cotton and an "agri-business" dinner is planned for May. Also, the panel plans to arrange a farm tour over the county.

Negro Sit-In Ranks Grow

By LAWRENCE LEE

HOUSTON (AP) — More Negroes poured into the area of the Harris County Courthouse today while three of their leaders remained in jail, unable to post bonds. A week of protest at Texas Southern University set off the demonstration.

Hundreds of workers in the County Building walked past the demonstrators who sat on the sidewalk. Buses brought rested students from the university campus about daybreak. A guard of 20 officers and as many policemen stood watch.

A spokesman for the office of Mayor Louie Welch said that the decision whether to arrest the students lay with the county and that county officials said no arrests were planned.

The sit-in continued to the left of the main entrance to the building, and the students left a strip of the wide sidewalk clear for pedestrians.

As the sit-in went into its 18th hour, approximately 180 young Negroes were counted.

9 Perish In Cornell Fire

By HERBERT G. PELKEY

ITHACA N.Y. (AP) —Eight students and a faculty adviser at Cornell University perished today and 10 persons were injured in a predawn fire that heavily damaged a 15-year-old dormitory.

The dead students were six women and two men. The adviser was male. The injured, eight of them women students, suffered from smoke inhalation. None was considered in serious condition.

Scores of others escaped through windows and doors. Some evidently tried to use sheet ropes, and the sheets were left dangling.

The bodies, found in bedrooms, hallways and a lobby, were taken to a university morgue. They were not identified immediately.

One of the first policemen on the scene told reporters no fire was visible from the outside but "people were hanging out of all the windows."

University Provost Dale R. Corson said the two-story, brick building, on the edge of the city, housed 70 persons, many of them members of the freshmen class of a six-year experimental course for students seeking doctorates. They and faculty advisers slept on the first floor and in the basement. Graduate and senior women lived on the top floor.

Corson said three of the dead —two men and one woman— were in the freshman class. The other five students, all women, were seniors or graduate students at the university.

Corson scheduled a memorial service for 2 p.m., EST, Friday at Sage Chapel. He expressed the university's "shock and grief."

Court Overturns Maiming Conviction

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded today the maiming conviction of Byron L. McClellan Jr., who was given a 7-year probated sentence for allegedly blinding a North Texas State University student in 1965.

McClellan appealed the conviction on the ground "there is no evidence in the case" that he committed an offense.

State attorneys argued that evidence showed McClellan was the leader of a group of four students who entered the dormitory room of Michael Portman at Denton. Portman lost the sight of one eye when he was hit with a bottle.

AGAINST PRESIDENT

Mao Calls For 'People's War'

By EUGENE LEVIN

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's propaganda organs chorused demands today for a "people's war" against "China's Khrushchev" — President Liu Shao-chi.

The Maoists accused Liu and his followers of plotting to take over the government of China, the machinery of the Communist party and the armed forces.

The latest charges against Liu appeared in an editorial in Shanghai's daily newspaper, Wen Hui Pao April 2. Radio Peking broadcast the text today and said it was also carried by People's Daily and the Liberation Army Daily, the military newspaper.

The Maoists admitted that divisions remained in their own ranks and called on the people to mobilize for a "great criticism struggle."

As usual the attack avoided naming Liu directly, referring to him as "China's Khrushchev" and "the top party person in authority taking the capitalist road."

The editorial said Liu tried "to surround and attack revolutionaries, to build up white terrorism, and plotted to defy the tremendous proletariat cultural revolution."

The editorial said the anti-Maoists had "plotted to take over the party, government, and the military, and to revive capitalism in China. These people who brought disaster to the country and harm to the people must be pushed aside."

"China's Khrushchev is the mortal enemy of the people and the party," the editorial said, adding that "we must completely overthrow" him and his followers.

"We must start a people's war and drown them in the great ocean of people's war," the editorial continued. "All factories, farms, units, schools, organizations and shops must join together and all must mobilize to hit at the party's greatest capitalists."

Red Guards were quoted as vowing to fight Liu "until he is thoroughly struck down and discredited."

Water Use For March Sets Record

For the first time in its history, the Colorado River Municipal Water District has hit a billion gallons production in March.

Until this year, the district had never sold as much as a billion gallons of water until May, and that in only three years. Usually it is June or after when this level of demand is reached.

Figures compiled by W. F. Odom, assistant to the general manager, show 1,016,885,956 gallons metered to customers in March, or 8.64 per cent more than this month last year.

The member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder took 633,388,600 gallons, about 36,000,000 gallons or 6.07 per cent more than March 1966. The oil companies required 383,497,356 gallons, some 45,000,000 more or 13.16 per cent over March of last year.

The surge in output boosted the year's deliveries to 2,732,442,370, which gives it a 12.06 per cent bulge for the first quarter.

During March, Odessa drew 356,380,000 gallons, up 8.95 per cent over March of 1966; Big Spring took 216,672,000, up 2.70 per cent; Snyder 60,336,600, up 2.18 per cent.

The system is in order for continued high production, Odom reported. Currently, some preventative maintenance is being effected on the Snyder reservoir, but other than that the district is in position to immediately meet summer peak demands.

Announced Candiates Easy Victors In All City Races

Announced candidates won handily in the city election here Tuesday, despite a vigorous effort on behalf of four write-in candidates.

Results of the election showed that John Thomas, whose name was on the ballot, polled 366 votes for Place 1 Councilman, compared to 112 for Hugh Boren Jr. For the one-year remaining on the term for Place 2 Councilman, Marshall Erwin received 293 votes, Bill King, write - in candidate, received 94, and Wayne Monroney 84. The names of Erwin and Monroney were on the ballot.

For Place 3 Councilman, incumbent R. C. Patton received 366 votes and write - in candidate Bernard Longbotham Jr. 104, while in the race for Place 5 Councilman, Herbert Reed received 366 votes and write - in candidate Herman Doak 106.

There were a few other write-in votes cast and some persons received votes for more than one position on the council. Longbotham and King received five votes each for Place 5; King got nine votes and Hugh Boren Jr. one vote for Place 3; Doak received 6 and Hugh Boren Jr. one for Place 2; Cecil Boren, Homer Godair and Les Francis received one each for Place 1 and Jimmy Melton received one for Place 3.

The total turnout was 484 voters.

In addition to canvassing the election returns, the council in its meeting last night renewed its contract with Edgar Taylor to collect delinquent taxes. Taylor's fee is 15 per cent of the amount he collects.

July 26 was set as the date for the city board of tax equalization to meet.

New High In Viet Cong Desertions

SAIGON (AP) — An all-time high of 5,557 Viet Cong deserted last month and came over to the allied side, U.S. officials announced today.

The record surge of defectors was nearly double the previous record of 2,917 Viet Cong who deserted in February under the South Vietnamese government's open arms program.

The mounting wave of enemy defections was announced as the ground war in South Vietnam simmered in small, scattered patrol clashes and bad weather returned to North Vietnam, curtailing U.S. air strikes after the heaviest raids in five months Monday.

U.S. and allied forces reported killing 75 of the enemy in scattered contacts Tuesday. Men of the South Korean Capital Division claimed 41 Viet Cong killed in the nine patrol skirmishes and said there were no Korean casualties.

In an unusual encounter, a two-man U.S. reconnaissance unit spotted and engaged about 10 Viet Cong troops who were acting as a screening force for a larger enemy unit of about 40 men. The two U.S. soldiers, with help from the rest of their patrol, killed nine Viet Cong in a surprise attack 33 miles southwest of the coastal city of Tuy Hoa, a U.S spokesman said.

South Vietnamese forces reported killing 33 Viet Cong in four small contacts.

Wilson Re-Elected Board President

Snyder School Trustees last night installed one new member, re-elected Kenneth Wilson president of the board and quickly embarked on a four - hour meeting, most of which involved budget studies.

Harold Lacik, winner in last Saturday's election, took his place on the board succeeding Clifford Terry following the official canvass of the election results. The vote count, which was the same as the unofficial totals reported after the election, showed that Max von Roeder with 455 votes and Lacik with 345 votes were elected. Thus, Lacik is the only new member of the board.

Ted Crenwelge was elected vice president of the board and E. D. Flynn, school business manager, was re-elected secretary of the board.

July 25 was set as the date for the school district's board of tax equalization to meet. Reappointed to serve on the equalization board were Leland Herod, S. L. Terry and Amos Joyce.

Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent, was appointed to represent Snyder Public Schools on the Joint Committee of the Region 14 Media Center, which is being set up by the Texas Education Agency.

The board rejected a request for a tranfer of a pupil from one school to another within the school district.

Budget requests for special education and for elementary and junior high schools were presented for board study and administrative personnel, including all elementary and junior high principals, and Jim Erwin, elementary counselor and director of special education, were present and participated in the discussion of their respective budgets.

The board plans to hold a special meeting April 20 to discuss proposed budgets for the senior high school, the maintenance department and the athletic department.

The Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of Avenue D Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Representing the classroom teachers at the meeting were Mrs. Jamie Boren and Mrs. Opal McLeod. Principals present were Jack Gorman, Travis Junior High; R. E. Cooper, Lamar Junior High; Bob Womack, West Elementary; Frank Miller, North Elementary; Silas Devenport, Northeast Elementary; Frank Weaver, East Elementary; Joel Griffin, Stanfield Elementary, and Herman Trigg, Central Elementary.

Compact Eyes Tremendous Offshore Oil, Gas Reserve

By MAX B. SKELTON

The Associated Press Oil Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "While it is difficult to predict the size of the biggest type which is likely to be built in the future, experimental designs of a 500,000 ton type have already been undertaken in Japan and Noway and there is even one shipyard that has made public the possibility of building a 1,000,000-ton type," Izuta said.

E. N. Alikhanov, head of the Soviet Laboratory of Marine Geology, told a panel of offshore experts Russia expects to find oil in a number of water-covered areas.

"Though commercial oil and gas production is so far confined to the Caspian Sea, new valuable deposits will be found within the next few years in the rest of the Caspian waters and in the Black, Azov, Baltic and Okhotsk seas as well as the Arctic Ocean," Alikhanov said.

"The southern part of the Baltic Sea should become a subject of intensive research and exploration. Good results have been obtained during the exploratory drilling in the continental shelf of Japan."

A Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) official said explorations in the Grippsland and Bass basins off the southeastern coast of Australia have confirmed attractive discoveries.

"A number of additional new field prospects remain to be tested, and it seems virtually certain the Grippsland basis will develop into a major hydrocarbon province," said W. E. Wallis, New York City.

Oil explorers from Russia and the United States placed optimistic reports today before the 7th World Petroleum Congress.

A Japanese shipping official also said the international flow of petroleum is expected to increase so sharply that studies already are being made on the advisability of constructing 500,000 and 1,000,000-ton supertankers. The largest tankers today are in the 190,000 to 270,000-ton bracket.

Tomiya Izuta, chairman of the Japan Tanker Owners Association, said 500,000-ton tankers probably will be in operation by 1980.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Will you please answer this quickly? My only son will soon be returning from Viet Nam. He has requested that I let his wife meet his train ALONE. He says he wants just two days and nights with his wife for "the honeymoon they never had."

He wants me to keep their two young children, without telling them that their Daddy is in town. I am just supposed to say that "Mamma went to get Daddy, and will bring him to Grandma's house. After this disgusting two-day sex orgy, the children and I will be allowed to greet him!

I may not like your answer, Abby, but I will abide by it. I think this request is highly unfair to me. JUST SIGN ME

ONLY HIS MOTHER

DEAR ONLY: It is your son's request, Mother. Forget everything other than fulfilling it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I do not care for dogs in my house. This goes for big dogs, little dogs, and even the hairless kind that are not supposed to smell, but do. They are all dogs to me. We reared our children and had dogs for them, but they were never allowed in the house. They slept in doghouses or out in the garage.

My problems: We have relatives who are dog-crazy. They love their dogs more than some people love their children . . . These relatives have visited us, and brought their dogs along — knowing how I feel about them, and have even taken them into their beds! Abby, we have just redecorated out home, installed new carpet, and recovered our furniture, and I do not want dogs on it.

These relatives are coming again. How can I let them know they are welcome but not their dogs, without having them think I am an old crab?

NO DOG LOVER

DEAR NO DOG LOVER: You can TELL them before they arrive that they are welcome, but their dogs are not. But don't be surprised if you get the "love me — love my dog" bit. They WILL think you are an old crab, but you'll have kept the dogs out of your home, and that's the object, isn't it?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The other day I was jolted by a flaw in an otherwise stunning 21-year-old blonde. On my first approach to her, I noticed that her teeth badly needed brushing. I realize that this could happen to anyone occasionally, but with this girl, it is a habit.

The idea of kissing a girl with noticeable food particles between her teeth is utterly revolting. Someone should tell her, but I am not the one. How about you?

DEAR STUNNED: Since I consider it a kindness to offer constructive criticism, I'll do it: Girls, look at your teeth after you've eaten, and, if necessary, slip away and privately use a bit of dental floss. P. S. You, too fellows.

Liability Bill Studied

AUSTIN (AP) — If the "other guy" that causes an auto accident has no liability insurance, the victim has no protection in most cases, a House Committee heard Tuesday night.

The House Insurance Committee was presented a bill that would require uninsured motorist coverage as a mandatory part of auto liability policies.

Mandatory, that is, unless a driver specifically states he does not want it.

William Hunter McLean, chairman of the State Insurance Board, said mandatory uninsured motorist coverage would cost about a third more than the present $4 annual premium for a one-car family or $7 for a two-car family.

The bill went to a subcommittee for more study.

Railroads Fined For Mail Delays

By STEPHEN M. AUG

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department has fined nine railroads $127,500 since Jan. 1, charging them with delaying the mails, it was learned today.

The fines range from $2,500 against the Chicago & Eastern Illinois to $35,000 against the New York Central. The latest fine was $20,000 against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

A Post Office official said the fines were imposed after the department decided to "take a closer look at train schedules" in an effort to find out whether late arriving passenger trains were slowing mail deliveries.

The official was unable to say how the current fines compare with those imposed in past years because until Jan. 1 the railroads were fined by regional offices and records were not kept in Washington. The operation now is handled at Post Office headquarters.

Thirty-two railroad systems carry U.S. mail. Nearly all the mail the railroads carry is hauled on passenger trains. Railroads have complained recently that the disappearance of passenger train service has been the fault of the Post Office.

The railroads charge that the Post Office has been diverting mail from the trains and transferring it to trucks. The lines say that revenue from mail often means the difference between profit and loss in the operation of some passenger trains.

But the Post Office says the railroads have discontinued passenger trains, leaving it no alternative but to use highway transportation for mail. The department charges that the railroads in many cases have asked the Post Office to remove mail from trains.

To Market Electric Car

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. says it will enter the car manufacturing field next year with a battery-powered, two-passenger vehicle to be known as the Markette.

A model of the Markette, shown here Tuesday, resembled an enclosed Jeep. A spokesman said it was designed for use on streets but not on freeways.

It has a top speed of 25 miles an hour and a range of 50 miles between chargings of its 12 six-volt lead-acid batteries. The batteries can be recharged overnight from 110-volt receptacles, Westinghouse said.

George W. Jernstedt, general manager of Westinghouse's industrial equipment divisions, said the Markette will sell for "under $2,000." The company hopes to begin sales in June 1968.

Alworth Prosperous

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Lance Alworth, leading pass receiver in the American Football League last season, signed his 1967 contract Tuesday with the San Diego Chargers.

Terms of the star flanker's contract were not announced, but sources estimated Alworth will receive about $75,000.

Alworth, who pulled in 73 passes for 1,383 yards and 13 touchdowns in 1966, suffered hairline fractures in both hands and a pulled hamstring muscle during the year.

Experiment Said Success

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Although people "haven't been exactly waiting in line to see me," Sgt. Elmer Knechtel is pleased with the response to Seattle's "floating" police headquarters, established in an area where most of the city's minority groups live.

"There was a feeling that the police were not always available to central area residents," Knechtel said. "This is the result."

Knechtel works out of the first African Methodist Episcopal Church from 4 to 8 p.m.

In the first three days, 11 persons, whites and Negroes, stopped by. The sergeant handled two complaints and interviewed a possible recruit.

Results of the experiment will be assessed after a month's trial.

Four Brothers Die In Tennessee Fire

MILLINGTON, Tenn. (AP) — Four boys, the oldest 6, died Tuesday in a fire at their home near this Memphis suburb.

Their mother, Tassieranne Jones, 38, had gone to a neighbor's home only moments before to borrow a bucket of water. Deputies said she had to be restrained from running back into the flaming house.

Killed were Sylvester Jones, 6; Jerry Louis and Terry Louis Jones, 4-year-old twins; and Calvin Lee Jones, 3. Five other brothers and sisters were attending school at the time.

AUSTIN (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment that could keep accused felons from getting bail if they commit another crime while free on bond was approved Tuesday night for House debate.

The House Constitutional Amendments Committee endorsed the measure by Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin.

Armstrong's amendment would allow judges to deny bail to persons who commit a felony while free on bond in another felony case. A hearing would be required.

Breakthrough Reported In Detection Of Cancer Virus

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A St. Louis scientist reported today he may have achieved an "exciting breakthrough" toward solving the riddle as to whether at least some human cancers are caused by viruses.

Dr. Maurice Green of St. Louis University said he had developed a technique for detecting cancer-virus ghostly "fingerprints" — in the absence of an intact virus itself — when applied to certain animal cancer tissues.

He said he is confident the technique can be used as the world's first direct test to determine whether one or more common disease viruses — such as those of the common cold, smallpox chicken pox or warts — may also be among the causes of cancer.

He told about it in a report to a science writers' seminar sponsored by the American Cancer Society, and he amplified in an interview.

Green said the new virus-testing technique conceivably also could be applied to determining whether certain viruses occurring in animals — such as the SV40 (simian virus) of monkeys — play a role in causing human malignancies.

He gave this background:

Apparent validity of the test was demonstrated by using cancer tissue from rodents in which cancers had been experimentally induced by infecting them with human adenoviruses.

These latter viruses — common causers of severe colds and other respiratory illness in man — were shown a few years ago to be the first human viruses known to be capable of producing cancer, at least in newborn rodents. But as yet there is no proof that any of some 31 known adenoviruses can cause cancer in man. The same is true for all other viruses known to cause other diseases in man.

Green and his coworkers successfully demonstrated in the animal tests that a virus-induced cancer can be present even though the intact, whole virus cannot be detected in the cancer-suspect tissue. They could conclude this because they knew they were working with a known virus-induced cancer.

They found instead that the virus that induced the animal cancer left a kind of chemical-biological "fingerprint" in the form of a particular hybrid variety of DNA and RNA nucleic acids.

Now, in studies of human cancer tissue which began about two weeks ago, Green said, a search will be made for "fingerprints" of a variety of human and animal viruses deemed susceptible to the test.

Room Made Of Baking Pans And Junk

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

How to keep normal in the face of overwhelming odds! It's a thought that occurs to homemakers more and more as they try to cope with new ideas concerning their private castles.

There's that early beatnik movement she didn't quite dig, and there are pop and op art intrusions in decorating. Let the other people be different is the thought that has bolstered her morale as the avant garde continues to make inroads into her domicile.

And now there is a new approach that may increase her doubts as who is out of step in interior design. It's something that might be called Early Ameri-Can, a subtle appeal to the do-it-yourselfer, featured in Esquire Magazine.

After all, can one deny that a room is all bad if it has as its focal point, more or less, bright, shiny aluminum baking tins that are a drawer system? And how about plastic foam cups and balls, oil cans, inner soles, wine bottles, chemical barrels and beer cans as part of a decorative scheme. Good, earthy stuff like that!

A room of such objects has been put together within the pages of the magazine, the brain child of Sam Antupit, its art editor, and designed by Peter Murdoch and Lance Wyman.

The baking tins drawer system comprises 44 pans that fit into a shelf arrangement in a modern pattern. Other shelf space is available for goodness knows that — a priceless collection of prehistoric art or Russian icons, both good!

An oil can well unit is set diamond design with closed ends screwed to the wall, and is supposedly useful for storing such paraphernalia as model cars.

A handing lamp is a sphere of plastic foam cups pressed together and stuffed with plastic fam balls. An 'illumination' wall uses cups pressed together right side up and upside down. (This solves the nagging problem of what to do with two or three hundred cups and balls you happen to have in the closet.)

The next idea will floor you: an area rug of genuine inner soles sewed or stapled together.

There are chairs made from chemical barrels, molded to the posterior by the do-it-yourselfer, on those nights when he is presumably busy emptying wine bottles and beer cans to make tables of them. Ah so!

Invert 19 (empty) wine bottles that have been glued together with epoxy; and guess what—you'll have a low 'table' that will look decorative, even if it proves to be utterly useless.

You work on the 125-beer-can table project while your cup foameth over as you connect empties with U-tacks to form the table top.

The beer can table top won't cost you a dime (if you are a man who likes more than one) perpetrators of the idea point out. The pedestal for the table will set you back a few dollars, and matching stools with eight brackets each and foam rubber cushions will run the cost up $6.50 each.

You have nothing to lose on this project but $200 (their estimate); but be careful, it may win you a ride to Alcoholics Anonymous — one never knows how stupefying such projects can become.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures
SID KRONISH

THE 20th CENTURY may some day be referred to as the "century of education." People all over the world, even in the most remote areas, are demanding and receiving better education. This yearning and learning is also noted via postage stamps.

The Territory of Papua and New Guinea has just issued a new set of five stamps to commemorate the commencement of "higher education" in the territory. The stamps — 1 cent, 3 cents, 4 cents, 5 cents and 20 cents — feature fine arts, surveying, civil engineering, science and law respectively. They were designed in symbolic style to highlight the various forms of education indicated.

All of these courses are being given in the newly established university at Port Moresby. The decision to establish a university in Papua and New Guinea, a country in which educational facilities at all levels are limited, is an indication of the urgency of development in this territory and of the speed with which that development is proceeding.

Even in secondary schools there has been notable achievement. Five years ago there were fewer than 2,500 pupils, but this total is now over 9,000 and increasing rapidly. The opening of the new university at Port Moresby with courses leading to ful degrees will help to spur this trend even further.

In answer to many readers, including Jerome Risch of Hay ward, Calif., stamp collections of private individuals should be in good assembled order—either as part of an album or in book form — before being offered for sale. Your local stamp dealer will be in a position therefore to appraise your items or suggest other dealers or specialists who might be interested in the purchase.

• • •

A report from London indicates that the new definitive stamp of Great Britain scheduled for issuance this spring will have distinctive issues for Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Guernsey, Jersey and Isle of Man. The Royal Mint is now working on decimal coinage and the changeover is expected to take place about 1970.

Travel Manners For Today

Each year travel becomes a more important element in our way of life. Whether it's everyday moving about in an automobile or a once-in-a-lifetime trip on a cruise ship, we all need to know how to handle with grace the various situations that are peculiar to a particular method of transportation. To help the traveler handle with tact and grace the various situations that arise, answers are given to such questions as tipping whom and how much; the correct way to address transportation employees; the how of hotel registering; the right ways for looking after arriving and departing guests, and what is the proper seating of passengers in a car.

About train travel: On a train the conductor — the employee who checks tickets, changes accommodations, gives information, and handles emergencies—is addressed as "Conductor." A tip is never offered him. Porters help with baggage, make up berths, and provide other services for passengers in parlor cars, sleepers, and sleeper coaches. Other coaches usually do not have porter services. Porters are usually tipped $1 for an overnight trip or more for a longer one, depending on the amount of extra services. Train stewardesses perform special services for women and children; for a day's travel or overnight, their gratuity should be $1 or more.

Dining-car and club-car stewards are addressed "Steward." In the dining car the waiter's tip should be not less than 15 percent of the total bill. On short trips passengers rarely talk to strangers at the same dining-car table. On long trips, passengers in the dining car and club car usually exchange amenities.

Mr. Mundy Speaks To Altrurians

The theme for the program of the Altrurian Club on Friday was "The American Indian in the Twentieth Century."

The hostess of the day was Mrs. R. L. Gray.

Mrs. Ross Blanchard introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Lester Mundy, who is a teacher in the Fluvanna School. Preceding Mr. Mundy's talk and exhibit of his collection of Indian art, the club members answered roll call with stories and quotations pertaining to the life of the Indian in America.

Mrs. Hugh Taylor brought the following Indian God Speed: "That you may have a safe tent and no sorrow as you travel. That you may have a cache for your food, and food for your cache. That you may not find a tree that does not give sap, nor a field that does not grow grain. That your bees may not freeze in the winter. That the honey may be thick and the comb break like the leaf. That you may keep your heart like the morning and go slowly to the four corners where men say goodnight."

The beautiful war bonnets, bustles, doe skin moccasins, strings of beads, headdresses, dance ornaments of all kinds, examples of silver work, ribbon work and bead designs were a rare treat.

Mr. Munday was dressed in Apache regalia and showed articles of significance used by Commanche, Cheyenne, Kiowa, Osage, Pueblo tribes to name a few. His interest and understanding of Indian culture began when he was a child. His grandmother was a teacher in an Indian school in the Dakotas and he spent much time with her. His research continues in collecting rare pieces of authentic Indian designs.

Variations Of Truism

AMONG THE ANTI-AMERICANS. By Thomas B. Morgan.

Americans like to be liked. In this respect, as has been noted often, they differ from the British, who never thought that world power should be accompanied by world adoration.

Unfortunately, while power may be respected, it seldom engenders love. Morgan's hegira among some of the unconverted confirms this obvious fact, and the book's title is more intriguing than the text.

Author Morgan took a trip to six countries — Brazil, Japan, who, for vrious resons, disliked Kenya, Indonesia, Egypt and France — and talked to people who, for various reasons, disliked the United States. No doubt they are representative of many more. Their views may be informed by Christian benevolence, as in a case of a Brazilian bishop, or by paranoia, as in the case of some Africans, and there's a wide range between.

But was Morgan's trip really necessary? He seems to have gone to much trouble for slender results. The writing is breezy, there are some colorful vignettes — but nothing very coherent emerges. The discussions and conversations are mostly variations on a truism.

While the United States retains her world role, she certainly will not please all the people abroad all of the time, or even some of the time. What she does, rather than what America says, is what counts. The opinions of her detractors will not be changed by public relations gimmickry or even reasoned argument. Maybe these minor insights are a plug for the book. Otherwise, about the only conclusion one can draw from its anti-Americans is that if there is an "arrogance of power" (Sen. Fulbright's phrase), it's often matched by the arrogance of impotence.

Punta del Este Resolution Rebuffs President Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The earth not only didn't shake, it didn't even tremble. What happened Monday may not mean much in the long view of history. But President Johnson was rebuffed, and at an awkward time for him.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee simply questioned his judgment and leadership in foreign affairs, and put a brake on it. That this could happen, in the way it did, shows Johnson no longer waves a magic wand over Congress.

Next week he is going to a summit meeting of Latin-American leaders at Punta del Este, Uruguay. As an encouragement to them in creating a common market, Johnson wanted to take with him a congressional pledge of U.S. aid.

He wanted to avoid being vague; he wanted to be a little definite. But the committee, headed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, decided that being vague was as far as he should go.

This decision has roots beginning in August 1964, when North Vietnamese PT boats attacked American destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin and U.S. planes retaliated by bombing coastal bases of North Vietnam.

Johnson asked Congress then to back him up by approving a resolution giving him a congressional go-ahead beforehand for whatever steps he thought necessary to "repel ... aggression."

Both houses approved overwhelmingly but not before some of the members expressed misgivings about such a blanket endorsement for the future.

The resolution said the power it authorized for the President would last until he had decided peace was restored to Southeast Asia. On the strength of this, and without any formal declaration of war, Johnson intensified the war.

As time passed, and the United States got more deeply involved, some of the misgivings in Congress grew, particularly among critics of the war, like Fulbright and Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat.

Finally, in 1966 Morse tried to get the Senate to rescind the Gulf of Tonkin resolution which Fulbright had helped push through. In 1966 Fulbright said he regretted the 1964 resolution and opposed killing the Morse proposal. But the Senate did kill it, 95 to 5.

In preparation for his Latin-American trip Johnson on March 13 sent Congress a message asking a resolution to strengthen his hand at Punta del Este. He spoke of $1.5 billion additional aid to Latin America over the next five years. This would help the common market get going.

But the proposed resolution itself didn't mention any specific money figure. It would simply have said that Congress "recommends" an increase in Latin-American aid.

In approving the kind of resolution Johnson wanted, Congress would not have been voting any money. Voting money is a separate action — in this case off in the future — and when the time came Congress would decide how much money could be given.

The House, after some bitter disagreements, approved a resolution saying it "supports" additional help to Latin America. But, before the full Senate could vote on it, Fulbright's committee had to act. Fulbright opposed the House resolution, which satisfied Johnson, as a "blank check."

Under Fulbright's leadership his committee boiled the juice out of what Johnson proposed and said no more than that the United States should give "due consideration to cooperating" in agreements on a Latin-American common market and other programs.

This infuriated the White House. Fulbright cited the Tonkin Gulf resolution as one of the main reasons for his opposition to the Johnson resolution on Latin America, saying the President used the 1964 resolution to justify increasing the war in Vietnam.

Man Spends Life Waiting For Women

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals to men is waiting for women.

It is particularly to husbands, who sometimes figure they spend the greater part of their married life waiting for their wives to do something or to get ready to go somewhere.

Actually, however, it isn't that bad. If a man is kept waiting by his wife for an average of only an hour a day, by the time of his golden wedding anniversary he will have wasted only two full years of his life in this manner.

Of course, a fellow could get a lot of constructive things done in two years. For example, he could:

1. Read the Harvard five-foot shelf of books forwards—and backwards.
2. Build a houseboat in the back yard.
3. Take a correspondence course and fit himself for a better job.
4. Learn how to become a pool shark.
5. Raise enough chinchillas in the basement to make his wife the most expensive fur coat in the neighborhood.

But since his waiting is spread over so many years, it usually results in nothing more productive than an ulcer.

The whole situation has its odd aspects. If a guy is courting a dame and she is late for a date, she apologizes all over the place.

And she doesn't keep him waiting the least bit, ordinarily, when he proposes. Her "yes" comes with such a breeze that he is likely to catch a cold.

But once women get married they start playing the waiting game. Not just this wife. Not just that wife. Not some wives. All wives.

They seem to feel that every time they keep their husband waiting it wins them another merit badge in heaven. Either that or it's their subconscious revenge on him for waiting too long to propose.

If you are going to the supermarket for a wife, she will keep you waiting while she mulls over whether you should get two cans of dog food or three.

If you are supposed to meet her at a downtown corner, you can wait through three changes of climate before she shows up, cheerful as a guilt-free cherub.

If you are ready to go to a party at 7 p.m., she is still daubing goo on her face at 8 p.m.

If you are ready to leave the party at 11 p.m., you are still holding the door open at midnight while she and her hostess exchange goodby gossip.

There is simply no limit to the ways a wife can keep a husband waiting. Even if she tells him he is going to be a father, he must wait for the better part of a year for her to make good on her promise. A mother kangeroo can perform the same feat in less than six weeks, a mother raccoon in two months, a mother rabbit in a month, and a mother opposum in 12½ days.

No matter for what reason a wife keeps her husband waiting, there is no way for him to hurry her up, though he whine, plead, groan, grovel threaten or just sit there and sigh and whimper.

A Junior Editors Quiz About RIVER NILE

QUESTION: What is the longest river in the world

* * *

ANSWER: You have probably guessed the answer from looking over our picture: it is the Nile of Africa. This king of rivers rises in Lake Victoria, in Kenya. It flows northward as the White Nile through the Sudan; then, at Khartoum, it is joined by the Blue Nile. From here, simply called the Nile, it flows, with one large bend, northward, and passes through Egypt, to the city of Cairo. After this, it breaks into several branches, the delta of the Nile, which all empty into the Mediterranean Sea. The huge length of the Nile is dramatically shown in our black silhouette of the U.S.A. If the Nile were layed cross-ways, the big river would almost stretch from Pacific to our Atlantic coast. But the Nile is as great in history as it is in actual size. Every year, enormous amounts of mud are carried north as the river floods, and this is spread out along banks of the river. When the ancient Egyptians discovered they could grow enormous crops in this mud, they built cities along the river; thus, Egyptian civilization began. Since we owe much of our culture to the Egyptians, we should be very grateful to Old Father Nile.

GOLDEN TWIRLS 2-HITTER

Tigers Trip Cubs In 3-AAA Opener

Snyder's Rob Golden and Brownfield's Ruben Garcia hooked up in a sparkling mound duel here Tuesday afternoon and the Tigers emerged with a 2-0 triumph in the first District 3-AAA baseball clash of the season for both teams.

Rob hurled a 2-hitter, giving up a single to Gary Baccus in the 5th and another one-base-hit to Raymond Pickett in the 6th. He struck out seven without allowing any free passes.

Garcia was tagged for three hits, and he fanned four. A lefthander, Ruben had a touch of wildness. He walked four, hit one batsman, and was charged with a wild pitch.

Mickey Almond collected two of Snyder's three hits, driving in David Cadena with a double — the only extra-base hit of the game — in the 3rd frame. Cadena drove in Rob Golden with a single to centerfield in the same frame.

The inning opened with Buddy Powell going down on strikes. Golden walked, stole second, and then Steve Moffett drew a free pass. Then Cadena delivered his timely hit. Golden scored, but Moffett was thrown out at third. Almond then smashed a Garcia offering over the third baseman's head, bringing in Cadena.

Snyder put men on base in every inning except the 5th, and the Tigers threatened in the 1st. Cadenna walked, took second and third on passed balls and tried to score when another pitch got past catcher Pickett, but he was thrown out at the plate in a close call.

Golden was never more effective. The Cubs were able to put men on base in only the 1st, 5th and 6th frames and only one runner reached second. Rob was a last minute starter when Roy Hunter developed arm trouble just prior to game time.

Both teams did a creditable job afield. Mickey Almond was outstanding on defense at his third base position.

Snyder will host Levelland at 2 p.m. Saturday in its next district game.

OLD PRO KNOWS

Fame Is A . . . . Sometime Thing

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The lonely little man crouched unnoticed on the practice green, stroking putt after putt.

The gallery rushed and eddied around him, flowed over the Augusta National course to gain a glimpse of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

And he was alone again.

His only gallery was a vast sea of backs.

A little more than a decade ago crowds by the thousands hung on his every shot. The putter in privacy was Ben Hogan, winner of four Opens, two Masters, two PGA's, the Britsh Open and the unchallenged emperor of all golf.

Now the crowds stomped after new kings.

Hogan kept putting, trying to sink dinky little putts most other pros don't worry about.

"I worry about 'em all," Hogan said, and he has reason to.

"I just can't get the ball in the hole anymore," the 54-year-old Hogen added. "It's my nerves, that's all."

He putted again. It was almost embarrassing to watch the three-foot try fall short. Hogan shook his head, grimaced and tried again.

Another miss. Hogan looked up at the sky, despairingly. Then he sank a shorhone, and he grinned, his teeth gleaming in contrast with his tanned skin.

Hogan tried a longer putt, missed and returned to his three-footers.

Hour after hour the balding old champon kept putting, but his accuracy didn't improve.

Finally he quit and said "I don't think it would make any difference if I hit a million balls. I just can't seem to do anything about it.

"I've tried about everything and it doesn't help," he added. "But all I can do is keep trying.

"My legs were too sore for me to play today, so I just putted, but it didn't do much good."

Hogan played a practice round Monday and the rolling Augusta National layout took its toll of the once-feared Hawk, who hasn't been in a tournament since the U.S. Open nearly a year ago.

Hogan rarely plays anywhere anymore, partly because he is almost ashamed of his putting.

He once said that sometimes he worries so much about his putting that he is afraid he'll freeze in front of a big gallery, unable to even hit the ball.

Hogan didn't have to worry about that Tuesday. There wasn't any gallery.

McClanahan, Posey Win Club Shoot

Two matches were held at the Canyon Gun Club range Sunday afternoon. One was for hunting rifles with 10 shots at 100 yards. The other match was for pistol shooters with 10 shots at 25 yards.

Winner of the hunting rifle match was Bud McClanahan, 316 Thirty - fourth Street. Winner of the pistol match was Gene Posey of Sweetwater.

McClanahan socred 100 with eight bullseyes. He shot a 6mm Remington. Second place went to John Wright, 3710 Highland, who tallied 100 with seven in the center of the target. He fired a .243 Winchester. Bill McLennan of Route 1 took third with 100 and seven in the center. He fired a .250 Savage. Eighteen contestants were entered.

Posey's score was 80x100. Second place in the pistol shoot went to Charles Hough of Friona with 69x100, and third place was won by Ken Armstrong of Route 1 with 68x100. Seventeen contestants participated.

Snyder Girls 2nd In Volleyball

Lamesa's girls won the district volleyball championship with Snyder finishing as runner-up following a tussle in the Tiger gym here Tuesday.

Lamesa won the varsity match, 4-15, 15-5 and 15-4, although Snyder took the "B" battle, 15-10, 13-15, and 15-7.

Helen Rios and Gracie Hill tied for scoring honors in the varsity games, tallying 7 points apiece.

Pam Cumbie scored 12 points, and Beverly Neeper notched 8 for the "B" girls.

KO Stops Besmanoff

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Beefy George Chuvalo is waving a new three-round knockout under Cassius Clay's nose in a bid for a rematch with the heavyweight champion.

Chuvalo, 217-pound Canadian, chopped down Willie Besmanoff Tuesday night about as soon as he could catch the 198-pound German-born ring veteran, trying a comeback.

Besmanoff kept out of reach in the opening round and scored with several light jabs. But Chuvalo, bent on winning his 11th straight bout since a loss to Floyd Patterson, sent Besmanoff reeling midway of round two with combination punches.

Early in the third round a sweeping left hook sent Besmanoff down for an eight-count. He got up and was able to weather another barrage before a right felled him again for the full count.

About 3,000 fans saw the bout at Miami Beach Auditorium.

Chuvalo, of Toronto, said after his victory that he wants another shot at Clay, who outpointed him in 15 rounds in their first meeting. If he can't get Clay, he said, Chuvalo would like to meet Henry Cooper for the British heavyweight crown.

Chuvalo's record now is 45 wins, 12 losses and two draws. Besmanoff, who makes his home now at Indialantic, Fla., has won seven and lost two since launching a comeback last summer.

John (Mike) Travers, Penn State freshman basketball player, is the son of John Travers, veteran sports reporter for the Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot-News.

MAKES CATCH — Snyder's Steve Moffett races in to catch a fly ball during the Tiger-Cub baseball thriller here Tuesday. The Bengals host Levelland at 2 p.m. Saturday in their second district outing.

Giants Look Like Class Of National

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League looks like a wide-open scramble again this year with the San Francisco Giants the pick in this corner to win over the favored Pittsburgh Pirates and the Atlanta Braves in another tight finish.

If there is any firm conviction about what is to be expected in October, it is the notion that the Los Angeles Dodgers will not repeat without Sandy Koufax. If Walter Alston does it again, he should be named manager of the century.

Juan Marichal figures to be Mr. Big of the pitchers, with Koufax in the television booth, and Willie Mays appears headed for a super season. The Giants just missed last year, losing to the Dodgers, but they beat out the Pirates by 1½ games and took their season series 11-7.

Granted that the addition of Maury Wills, Juan Pizarro and Dennis Rbant should improve Pittsburgh, the Pirates still do not have a solid pitching staff. Atlanta closed with a rush in 1966, but their pitching also is questionable.

The Braves have the power to blast the league apart and the Pirates have the steady hitting and necessary tight defense, but pitching still is the big thing in baseball.

Back of the front three, we would toss St. Louis, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Cincinnati in a hat. Take your pick. Houston, Chicago and New York are the "other league" of the National altbough the Astros could get tough.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. San Francisco
2. Pittsburgh
3. Atlanta
4. St. Louis
5. Philadelphia
6. Los Angeles
7. Cincinnati
8. Houston
9. New York
10. Chicago

It will be up to Marichal, Gaylord Perry, Bobby Bolin, Lindy McDaniel and possibly Ray Sadecki to pitch the Giants to the pennant despite a weakness at shortstop. Mays and his younger outfield mates, plus Willie McCovey, Jim Ray Hart and Tom Haller must provide the bang.

If Wills can regain his old Dodger form and avoid leg injuries, he will make the Pirates' attack even more formidable. With Maury on base and men like Willie Stargell, Roberto Clemente and Donn Clendenon to drive him around, Pittsburgh should score plenty of runs.

The trick will be to keep the other club away from the plate. Much depends on the development of Tommie Sisk, Steve Blass and Woody Fryman. Pizarro, only 8-6 with the White Sox, could be the key.

Atlanta has the home run boom in Joe Torre, Hank Aaron, Mack Jones, Rico Carty and Felipe Alou. If Denis Menke and Woody Woodward firm up as a solid short-second combo, it will be easier for pitchers like Tony Cloninger, Ken Johnson, Denny Lemaster and the youngsters.

Without Koufax the Dodgers are just another ball club. They scramble for runs and should get more with Bob Bailey added to the attack. But they no longer have that big man to act as a stopper every fourth day.

Jr. Team Tips S'Water

SWEETWATER — Snyder defeated Sweetwater, 6-3, in a dual tennis match here Tuesday.

In the No. 1 boys singles, Art Kidd defeated Louis Patton, 6-1, 7-5. All of the Snyder boys won their matches.

Other results in the boys competition: Tom Boren defeated Steve McGinley, 6-0, 6-1; Bobby Weaver defeated Robert And, 6-0, 6-1; Scott McCaleb defeated Jerry Ausburne 10-8, 6-0.

In boys doubles, Boren and Weaver defeated McGinley and And, 6-0, 6-0.

The only Snyder girl who won was Wayla Walton. She beat Lila Zimmerman, 7-5, 6-1.

Other girls results: Kathy Martin lost to Kay Feagan, 6-0, 6-0; Mamie Braziel lost to Brigette Feagan, 6-0, 6-0; and Vonee Reneau lost to Cindy Dinsmore, 7-5, 7-5.

Next Tuesday, Snyder will host Sweetwater here in a rematch.

Elam To Kilgore

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — John Elam, 31, was appointed head football coach and athletic director at Temple High School Tuesday. He was given a two-year contract at $10,000 annually.

Elam was head coach at Bishop High School the last three years. His teams won 30 and lost 5 games and captured two district championships.

Raiders Rip Aggie Streak

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (AP) — Texas Tech spotted Texas A&M all its runs in the first two innings, then came back for a 6-4 victory Tuesday and end the Aggies' four-game baseball winning streak.

Righthander David Callerman of Tech gave up only two hits after the second inning. The Aggies' three first-inning runs were unearned.

Callerman yielded six hits, the same number Tech got off three Texas A&M pitchers.

John McIntyre hit a home run for Tech in the fifth inning. The Raiders clinched the game with three runs in the sixth on four hits and three bases on balls off reliever Tommy Patrick.

It was Tech's first victory over a Southwest Conference team this season. It has lost seven. Tech does not compete for the conference baseball title.

Snyder Invitational Slated Here Friday

There's gonna be a real interesting track meet here Friday with the high-stepping Snyder Tigers hosting teams from McCamey, Lake View, Crane, Brownwood, Lamesa, Sweetwater, and Midland Carver. These teams will comprise one division of the meet.

The other division will have Howard County Junior College, Abilene Christiah College freshmen, Odessa College, Lubbock Christian College and Cisco Junior College.

In addition, the Abilene Track Club will stage a exhibition with their girls running teams. Also, three Junior High teams — Lamar, Travis and Crane — will vie for honors in a Junior division.

The Meet, dubbed the Snyder Invitational, begins at 4 p.m. Friday with the finals to get underway at 7:15 p. m.

This first annual Invitational shapes up as a grudge match in the junior college division inasmuch as Howard County previously edged ACC, Odessa and LCC. The difference between the first and fourth place teams was a mere four points.

Coach Burl McCoy of ACC states that he is in the driver's seat as two of his top boys have recuperated from injuries. Howard County appears to be improving by leaps and bounds, and Odessa is ready to get back into the win column after a smashing victory at the Border Olympics.

Lubbock Christian has had a string of bad luck through injuries, but is coming on strong. Little is known about the Cisco Wranglers, but with Coach Joe Turner at the helm, they'll be plenty tough. The junior college entries are among the strongest in the Southwest in field and track.

The high school division includes McCamey, the top team in Class AA with five major meet titles under its belt. Snyder, with strength in the relays and several outstanding individual performers will be favored for team honors. Rocky Woods, Lake View's outstanding athlete will be competing for individual honors.

Trophies will be given to the first place winners in each event.

76ers, Warriors Seek 3 Straight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Philadelphia and San Francisco in a commanding position to win their divisional playoff titles in the National Basketball Association this year, the league begins to look ahead, scheduling an expansion draft to fill two new teams and the regular draft of college players.

The 76ers and Warriors, both 2-0 in their final divisional playoff series, will be trying for three straight tonight, Philadelphia against Boston at home and San Francisco at St. Louis.

The best-of-7 series winners then clash in the championship playoff to determine the league champion.

The NBA announced Tuesday that the special draft to stock the new San Diego and Seattle clubs, which enter the league next season, will be held in New York May 1.

Both clubs will be entitled to a total of 15 players from the existing clubs, which can protect seven of the players on their rosters. No team can lose more than three players to a new club.

The regular draft of college players will be held in New York on May 3, with a toss of the coin determining whether Detroit or Baltimore, the two cellar dwellers, get the first choice.

In another NBA development Tuesday, the New York Knicks rehired Coach Dick McGuire, who led the team to a playoff spot for the first time since 1959.

McGuire, who reportedly received a $5,000 increase over his $20,000 salary, said the team would make a strong effort to sign Bill Bradley, the former Princeton star who completes Rhodes scholarship studies at Oxford University in England this June.

Polo Team Wins

The Snyder Polo team trounced Spur, 12-9, here Tuesday.

Cecil Lankford sparked the Snyder offense with 9 points. Dwaine Davis added 2, and Willis Cumbie scored one.

The next match for the Snyder team will be here Wednesday, April 12 with Lamesa providing the opposition. Game time is 7:30 p.m., and there is no charge for admission.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Question — Is everything I paid for Medicare deductible as a medical expense?

Answer — The $3 monthly payments for supplemental medical insurance are deductible as medical expenses. However the increase in Social Security taxes withheld to fund this program is not deductible.

Remember that for 1966 taxpayers 65 and over may deduct their medical expenses without regard to the 3 percent limitation which applies to taxpayers under 65. Also taxpayers who have a dependent parent 65 or over may deduct in full all medical expenses paid in 1966 on the dependent's behalf.

Question — Where should I send my tax return — to the district office or the service center?

Answer — No 1966 income tax return is required to be sent to the service center. However, if you are expecting a refund, check page 10 of the 1040 instruction booklet to see whether you have the option this year of sending your return directly to the service center. IRS can process returns faster and more economically when they are mailed directly to the service centers.

Question — State income tax was withheld from my pay last year and I also had to pay $45 when I filed my 1965 state return last April. Can I deduct on my federal return what was withheld in 1966 and what I paid in 1966?

Answer — Yes, both the amount paid last April are deductible if you itemize.

Question — Too much was withheld for Social Security last year. Can I get that back?

Answer — If more than $277.20 was withheld for Social Security in 1966 because you had two or more employers, you may take a credit for the over payment against your income tax. Line 1 on Page of Form 1040 should be used for this purpose.

Question —I was sick several times last year. Do have to observe a waiting period for each illness before I can take the sick pay exclusion?

Answer — The waiting period requirement applies each time you were off the job. Details on this provision of the law are given on page 6 of the 1040 instructions.

Question — I have a company pension. Is it taxable?

Answer — The full amount of pension received is taxable if you did not contribute to the cost of the pension. If both you and your company contributed to the pension, that portion paid by the company will represent taxable income to you.

The instructions for Schedule B (Form 1040) explain how to handle pensions.

Question — My son just turned 19. Does that mean we will lose our dependency exemption for him?

Answer — As long as your son still qualifies as your dependent you may claim his exemption. Age is not a determining factor unless he earns $600 or more.

Question — Is interest on a bond taxable?

Answer — Interest from U. S. savings bonds and from bonds issued by private businesses is fully taxable. No tax has to be paid on interest from state and municipal bonds however.

Question — If you drive your car to a doctor's office or hospital can you deduct anything as a medical expense?

Answer — Transportation costs to obtain medical care or treatment are deductible if you otherwise qualify for a medical expense deduction. You may deduct 5 cents a mile for this purpose when you drive.

Note that the deduction is only allowed to obtain treatment. You don't get this deduction if you are going to visit someone in the hospital or if your doctor has advised a change of environment for you.

Question — I filed for my refund in January. Shouldn't I have received my refund by now?

Answer — Claims for refunds filed in January are processed in 4 to 6 weeks. Within a short time, you should either receive your refund or a letter from IRS telling why it is delayed.

Some refunds are delayed because of errors taxpayers have made. If you forgot to list an accurate Social Security number, did not sign the return or have your wife sign it if it was a joint return, or forgot to enclose all W-2 statements your return will take longer to process.

Some returns are also selected for audit before a refund is issued.

Japanese Scientists Eye Southern Yam

TIFTON, Ga. (AP) — Masashi Kobayashi, a Japanese research scientist working at the U.S. Department of Agriculture station at Tifton, says the Japanese want to put more starch in their sweet potatoes and the answer may be in the yam, long a staple in the South. He said most of the yams grown in Japan are used by industry in making starch and that only about 15 per cent of the crop is used as food.

Carson's Resignation Seen As Move For Renegotiation

By JOHN VINOCUR

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Carson's resignation from the "Tonight" show apparently is a move to set up renegotiations of his $500,000-a-year contract with NBC, network sources indicated today. They said, "It seems like a question of more money."

The sources discounted reports that Carson, who quit Tuesday, claiming NBC breached his contract in the midst of a performers strike against ABC, CBS and NBC, wanted to abandon the program for personal appearances.

"That's not likely to be the issue," they said. "He's making plenty of personal appearances. It just seems he wants to renegotiate for more money." Carson was not available for comment.

Carson charged through his lawyer that NBC violated his contract by broadcasting reruns of his late-night shows since the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists struck the networks eight days ago. NBC countered that the contract permitted the reruns.

Negotiations to end the walkout remained at virtual standstill. The strike involves demands by AFTRA that base pay of more than 100 local newscasters at network-owned stations be increased to $325 weekly and that they receive higher commercial fees. The weekly base pay now is $300.

Carson, who has backed the strike, has three years to run on his contract.

A Carson tape was on the air again Tuesday night, but the chatter was about events on a Friday — the kind of out-dated references that the star has complained about in the reruns.

NBC acknowledged today, after announcing it "looks forward to Johnny's return," that it had signed comedian Bob Newhart to a long-term contract. He has been a frequent vacation substitute.

"Newhart's ratings were exceptionally good when he filled in," a network spokesman said, but he would not comment on the possibility he was being considered as replacement for Carson.

AFTRA's attempts to convince network craft unions to respect its picket lines gained some success Tuesday as Teamsters Union truckers refused to make deliveries at the networks' offices here.

The networks' motion picture cameramen voted Tuesday night to seek authorization for a sympathy strike from their international union, the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employes and Motion Picture Machine Operators. A spokesman said the membership was "unanimously prepared to stop work immediately."

The strike has clouded the fate of the telecast of the Oscar awards of the Motion Picture Academy, scheduled for ABC Monday night.

A decision will be withheld as long as possible but the academy's president, Arthur Freed, indicated the ceremony probably would be postponed unless the strike is resolved.

Freed said April 17 and April 24 were under consideration as alternate dates. "Under no circumstances would we expect anyone to cross a picket line," he told newsmen in Hollywood.

Bob Hope, often master of ceremonies of the Oscar show, said he would not perform if the strike continued.

Recalling the days when the awards were made at a banquet without radio and television, the comedian joked: "They'd announce the name of the winner and the losers would get up and get sick. It ruined everyone's digestion."

HE PAYS TAXES, TOO — Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Sheldon Cohen goes over his 1966 Federal Income Tax return in Washington before mailing it. Cohen said he was applying for a small refund due to the graduated withholding tax, but said his return is subject to the same audit as all others. He said he listed his occupation as a government official, and not as IRS commissioner. (AP Wirephoto)

Embassies Close

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian Foreign Office announced today it has closed down its embassies in Denmark, Mali and Sudan because there was no money to maintain them. A spokesman said the closure had no political implications.

66 Scouts Attend 'Advance-O-Ree'

Sixty-six Boy Scouts and their leaders went to Wilson's Indian Spring Ranch, located on the banks of Indian Spring Creek, over the weekend for an "Advance-O-Ree."

The creek, with an abundance of wildlife and water, made an ideal camp site for the boys.

The Advance-O-Ree was a camp-out for six Snyder Troops to provide the boys with an opportunity to work on their first and second class advancements with unit leaders and commissioners serving as event directors.

Elmo Weyel, Lone Buffalo District Chairman, served as director of the camp. Ted Zeck, Scoutmaster of Troop 27, served as director for map-making and compass work; Bill Hartsfield, Scoutmaster of Troop 177 served as instructor in signaling and star study; B. J. Bartels directed and nature wildlife station.

Floyd Allmand and Norman Clement Sr. directed the trailing, tracking and stalking events; John Abernathy, Scoutmaster of Troop 123, served as director of the knife and axe events; Billy Campbell served on the tracking event and was in charge of locating the camp site; Harley Clay served as leader for Troop 133. Other leaders helping were Jack Chastain, Harold Kornegay and Bill Sikes, serving as assistants to the Scoutmasters, Delbert Hirst and T. V. Early, representing the District Commissioner's staff.

All boys and leaders participated in a campfire program Saturday night. Church services were conducted Sunday morning by B. J. Bartels, who presented an inspirational talk on "The Handiwork of God."

Asks Drug Law Review

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur says a study is needed to determine if Texas narcotics laws are consistent with modern theories.

Weldon told the House Public Health Committee Tuesday that his measure would create a narcotics and dangerous drugs interim study committee, which would report to the 61st Legislature in 1969.

The study committee would consist of members of each branch of the legislature and would investigate the problems of drug addiction and resulting law enforcement and social problems.

The resolution was sent to a subcommittee.

Other measures sent to subcommittee would require eating establishments and places of public amusement to maintain sanitary toilet and lavatory facilities.

Earth Work On New Dam Moves Along

In terms of dollars earned, progress has levelled on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's dam above Robert Lee. However, the volume of earth being moved has stepped up.

At the end of March, approximately 14 per cent of the project had been earned in work complete. This will pick up, however, as the spillway begins to hit stride and as the contractor, Clement Bros. of Hickory, N.C., swings to two shifts per day.

Last week, said O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD, the dirt hall to the dam embankment reached 20,000 cubic yards per day. Near the river, the embankment has now reached a height of approximately 30 feet, and the contractor is carrying the gravel blanket up with the slope. The area for rock rip-rap has been cleared and this will be carried up with the slope, too.

Meantime, Terry Bros. of Greenville, S. C., the spillway sub-contractor, has started the concrete pour for two parts of the service spillway. Footings are down for part of the wing in the stilling basin below the dam. Forms are in place and the pour about ready for a foundation for the huge morning glory of the spillway.

ART MALONE

Thomas To Bring Safety Program To School Here

The nationally acclaimed Champion Highway Safety Program will be presented in Snyder High School here on April 13, by Indianapolis racing veteran Art Malone. Malone, whose appearance was arranged by Thomas Chrysler-Plymouth, is a two-time competitor in the Indianapolis 500 mile race.

The program, now in its 12th year, has been presented to over ten million teen agers throughout the U. S. A. and has brought numerous awards to its sponsor, Champion Spark Plug Company. Among these are three National Safety Council Public Service awards and the Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. Award for outstanding service to highway safety. Other citations have come from United States Auto Club, Continental Casualty Company and the Public Relations Society of America.

Each of the eight driver lecturers carries the same basic message to his audiences: one which draws comparisons between driving on the speedway versus the highway.

"We emphasize the three main factors which account for the relatively safe driving conditions on the track," says Malone. "These are mental alertness, courtesy to other drivers and the safe mechanical condition of the car.

"The risk we take on the race track is a carefully calculated one," says the 12-year veteran of automobile racing. "The measures we take to minimize the risk are the most important part of our message. Without preaching, we try to impress on these young drivers that the common-sense practices of racing can and should driving.

"They seem to pay close attention."

Malone gained his reputation in automobile racing in the drag racing field. He has broken the world's record six times. In 1963 he won titles at Bakersfield, Calif., the national meet of the American Hot Rod Association at Green Valley, Tex., and the northern California championships. Last year he won the AHRA Summernationals at a speed of 216 MPH in 6.96 seconds.

He began his career in 1954 at the age of 18 but was unable to compete in sanctioned automobile racing on the nation's tracks until three years later. In 1961 he became the first driver to average 180 miles an hour on the two and a half mile Daytona International Speedway.

In 1963 he made his first appearance as a rookie at Indianapolis and qualified for the race, driving the Novi, one of the most famous cars in the history of Indianapolis. Mechanical difficulties forced him from the race early. In 1964 he again qualified a Novi and drove it to 11th place in a skillful exhibition.

Dairy Bill Approved

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill which a House member said amounted to a milk price fixing act was approved by a Senate Committee Tuesday night after a 2-½ hour hearing.

"All it is is price fixing," Dallas Rep. John Field told the Senate Public Health Committee.

The bill, by Fort Worth Sen. Don Kennard, sets up a nine-member Texas Dairy Commission which would establish regional production marketing areas in which it would set minimum prices processors would pay dairy farmers for raw milk.

Production stablization plans would be issued on approval of two-thirds of the dairy farmers in a production marketing area.

Distribution marketing areas also would be created, with uniform prices for milk and milk products. The Commission would be required to provide automatic changes in the prices of packaged dairy products to coincide with changes in raw milk prices.

"We are trying to protect the finest food mankind can have," testified James Alexander of Harlingen, who favored the bill.

Veteran Asks Return Of Citizenship

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An American who remained in Cuba after fighting the Spanish-American War is trying to get his U.S. citizenship back. He would like it as a gift on his 100th birthday next week.

"This is my country, and I want to die as an American," said Charles L. Leuthold.

Leuthold's daughter, Frances, who cares for him, asked President Johnson to speed his citizenship. Ordinarjly it takes five years to become a citizen.

Miss Leuthold wrote the President Tuesday: "Since he is old and feeble, I would like to ask you if citizenship could be restored in time for his 100th birthday, April 14. That would make him very happy."

Leuthold declared: "I'd go to Cuba again to help free the country a second time. I think the United States should send soldiers again. That man Castro and communism must go."

Leuthold and his daughter left Cuba five years ago. Recently he was permitted to change his status from refugee to resident in three days. The process normally takes four months.

"There is no freedom in Cuba, that is why I left," said the slender white-haired man. "I'd like to go back, but not under communism."

Leuthold, born in Baar, Switzerland, came to the United States at the age of 2. He grew up in Tipton, Iowa, and operated a photo studio in Fort Worth, Tex. He enlisted in the Army in 1898 at the outbreak of the war that led to Cuban independence of Spain.

"I liked Cuba, the people, the climate, everything," he explained. "So I remained."

Leuthold married a Cuban and opened a photo studio in Cardenas, Matanzas. He became a Cuban citizen. His wife, Delores, died in 1958, a year before Fidel Castro's takeover.

Pedestrians To Undergo Blood Tests

LONDON (AP) — All pedestrians killed by cars on British roads are to be examined to find out if they had been drinking, the Home Office announced Tuesday night.

Last year the Home Office asked coroners to order blood alcohol tests on motorists and motorcyclists involved in fatal accidents.

RUDYARD KIPLING

25 YEARS OF Star-Spangled Security FOR AMERICANS 1941-1966

Rudyard Kipling appreciated better than most the making and meaning of a man.

And if he were alive today, he'd undoubtedly have applied the famous quote above to America's newspaperboys.

By faithfully delivering the news day-in-and-day-out, fair weather or foul, a newspaperboy learns responsibility at an early age.

He learns enterprise. Dedication. Dependability. How to fill an important place in the community.

And he learns the value of money and saving, too . . . and of looking ahead to the future. That's why many a newspaperboy develops the habit of buying U.S. Savings Bonds regularly. Maybe to help put himself through college someday.

More than that, newspaperboys have done their communities and their nation a real service since 1941, not only by buying Bonds themselves, but by helping to promote and sell Savings Bonds and Stamps, too.

The nation's brothers and dads in Viet Nam thank you. The Treasury Department and Uncle Sam salute you. And someday, when you're a Man, my son . . . you'll thank yourself for having been a newspaperboy.
